This is the frame house at 4729 N. East Street (US-27) in DeWitt Township where Clark L. Dimde and Isabell Dorin died in a fire early Sunday morning. The fire was believed to have started around the furnace under the living room floor. Another man escaped from the flames about 6:30 a. m. Sunday.

City ready to file for renewal study funds

A resolution requesting $77,879 from the federal government for use in studying St. Johns' downtown renewal project was passed last Thursday evening at a special meeting of the city commission.

The resolution, coupled with a report by engineers Villlican-Leman and Associates, Inc., on the possible scope of the project, will soon be forwarded to the Housing and Home Finance Agency in Chicago.

THE HHFA likely will approve the project study, but it could pare the amount of funds it will provide, according to Ed Hostels of Villlican-Leman. He said the $77,879 was close to what such a study was expected to cost, but he said the HHFA may figure differently. A decision on the use of the money is not expected before about three months.

Should an amount of money be approved by HHFA, it will be turned over to the City of St. Johns for conducting various, detailed appraisals of all property in the project area and a study of the impact of such a renewal program, the problems of displacing and relocating businesses, etc.

HOSTELS estimated last month that such a study would take about seven to nine months to complete. The city commission would then use the material collected in the study as a basis for deciding whether or not to proceed with the urban renewal program.

The money, in whatever amount the HHFA finally decides, will be a federal grant and will not have to be repaid even in the event the city decides to drop the project because of problems the study may show.

THE PROJECT area to be studied includes the six blocks in the central business district, bounded by State, Brush, Spring and Railroad streets.

Villlican-Leman, in its report on the urban renewal area to be submitted to HHFA, had these comments:

"This area was selected as an urban renewal project on the basis of a demonstrated need to improve the physical condition of, and provide necessary facilities for the city's primary shopping area.

"THE CENTRAL business district is characterized by aging and obsolete buildings. Many of the older buildings have been allowed to deteriorate with little or no maintenance, and have fallen into sub-standard condition. Other structures are blighting influences on the primary shopping area due to mixture of land use, incompatible land uses or overcrowding of structures on the land.

"Since the business frontage is completely built up, and the rear lots are largely developed with industrial buildings and residences, off-street parking is extremely inadequate. This has caused congestion on the CBD streets, conflicts between through traffic and pedestrians on Clinton Avenue and an overflow of parking in adjacent residential areas, which in turn is a blighting influence on them.

"THE unattractive appearance of many buildings, the lack of pedestrian convenience, the traffic congestion on adjacent streets and the inadequate off-street parking facilities have caused many shoppers to turn to outlying shopping centers and other commercial areas with the modern shopping conveniences (i.e., adequate parking, modern and attractive stores and separation of vehicle and shopper). This has resulted in a declining economic vitality of the central business district which is so essential to the community.

"If the primary shopping area is to satisfy the needs of the community and is to grow in economic vitality, thus contributing its share to the financial stability of the city, a program must be undertaken to improve the physical condition of the central business district and to provide the necessary facilities to attract the shopper to it.

"DUE TO THE size of such a program and the limited funds of the city, only with federal fi-

200 supervisors expected here for conference

Over 200 supervisors and board of review members from seven area counties are expected in St. Johns Friday for the District 6 conference of the Michigan State Assn. of Supervisors.

Clinton County Clerk Paul Wakefield is in charge of arrangements. The meeting will be held at Smith Hall in the St. Johns City Park. Registration starts at 9 a. m. The Michigan State Assn. of Supervisors and the 6th District Assn. are jointly sponsoring the conference.

financial assistance can the city undertake a program to clear substandard buildings, rehabilitate deteriorating structures and provide off-street parking and other facilities necessary to make the central business district viable again."

The report went on, noting in general terms these environmental deficiencies: 1) overcrowding or improper location of structures on the land; 2) obsolete building types; 3) detrimental land uses or conditions; 4) unsafe, congested or otherwise deficient streets; 5) inadequate public utilities or other community facilities.

THE PROJECT area for the proposed redevelopment is predominately non-residential, with 98 per cent of the area, excluding streets and alleys, in non-residential use, the report said.

Proposals for the urban renewal project, as advanced in January, would include demolition of some buildings and the improvement of others. Just how extensive the final project will be won't be known until after the city commission receives and studies the findings of the survey for which they are now asking funds.

IT WILL BE probably about a year yet before the survey is completed. Public hearings will then be held, at which time facts and figures on prices, marketing of land, impact of new buildings on other stores in town, etc., will be presented.

The city commission would then make a decision on whether to proceed with the project. If it was decided to do so, it would probably be May or August 1966 before contracts for the work would be signed.

THE PLAN under study, which could involve total clearance of two blocks, would cost an estimated $2,132,149. Sale of cleared land would leave a net cost of $1,772,000, three-quarters of which would be paid by the federal government.

Hostels said last week that more detailed studies of the project proposals shows the city's cost would be about $434,000, instead of $443,000 previously considered.

HOSTELS' presentation last week was to the city commission, the city planning commission and members of the Mayor's Downtown Committee, meeting jointly at the city building. The commission passed the resolution at that meeting.

Man, woman die in residence fire

A fire in a frame house on US-27 just south of State Road in the southern part of the county took the lives of a man and woman early Sunday morning.

The victims were Clark L. Dimde, 47, and Isabell G. Dorin, 50, whose bodies were found in the ruins of the home at 4729 N. East Street (US-27).

A THIRD person in the house, Chester W. Albers, 40, of the same address, escaped out the back door after flames blocked him from getting out the front way.

The fire was discovered about 6:20 a. m. by a motorist, who stopped at a motel across the highway. The owner, Leonard Collins, summoned DeWitt firemen.

THE BLAZE is believed to have started a round a basement furnace, according to a report of the state fire marshal. The living room is immediately above the furnace, and the floor of the room collapsed into the basement.

Albers, the survivor of the fire, said he was awakened by some one yelling that the house was on fire. He tried to make his way out the front door but was blocked by flames. He backtracked and managed to get out the rear door.

MOTEL OWNER Collins, after sounding the fire alarm, ran to the residence. At a rear bedroom window he said he heard a groan. He got a bucket of water and threw it on the fire, he told officers.

Two pumps and a tanker from the DeWitt Fire Department bat-led the blaze, but it was some time before the bodies of the victims could be removed from the charred frame building. An autopsy showed the victims died of smoke inhalation.

MR DIMDE was born March 25, 1917, in Detroit, and he was an employee of Fisher Body maintenance division for the last 14 years. His only known relative is an aunt, Mrs. Clark Selley, whose address is unknown.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the Vincent-Rummell Funeral Home in DeWitt, with the Rev. Lavern Bretz of the Valley Farms Baptist Church officiating. Burial was in DeWitt Cemetery.

MISS DORIN was born Oct. 19, 1914, in Ionia and attended Lowell schools. She moved to Lansing about 15 years ago from Lyons and was employed as a domestic housekeeper.

Her body was moved from the Vincent-Rummell Funeral Home to the Estep Funeral Home in Muir Monday afternoon, and private funeral services were to be held Wednesday at 10:30 a. m. with burial in Muir Cemetery.

SURVIVING ARE her parents, Ray and Gertrude Dorin of Lyons; a sister, Mrs. Larry Lamphere of Muir; and a brother, William, of Lake City, Fla.

CARL NOBIS

Elect Nobis to head ABA

Carl Nobis was elected president of the Clinton County Animal Breeders Assn. at a recent organizational meeting of the board.

Firemen off, running in just 30 seconds

St. Johns firemen were johnny-on-the-spot when the fire whistle sounded last Wednesday afternoon, and trucks were rolling within about 30 seconds after the siren started up.

Several of the firemen, including Chief Clare Maier, were at the Municipal building working when the alarm came in at 5:05. Even folks who are used to watching the firemen get fast starts exclaimed at the speed. Two trucks left the fire hall at about the same time; the third was only a minute behind after other volunteers arrived.

The fire was at the J. R. Ritter home at 710 E. Higham Street where an oil stove overheated. There was no fire damage and only a slight amount of smoke damage, according to the fire report. Firemen were at the scene about half an hour helping clear the smoke from the house.

4 villages have vote contests

There'll be opposition to some degree on village election ballots in Maple Rapids, Ovid, Elsie and DeWitt March 8 as a result of caucuses during the last week.

In the other four villages—Hubbardston, Eagle, Westphalia and Fowler—the one list of candidates will apparently have no opposition.

Monday night saw the final round of caucuses as candidates were nominated for the various village offices.

DeWitt held its caucus, however, a week ago on Feb. 8, and Fowler's was Saturday night.

THE MOST clear-cut contest will be in DeWitt. Although only one general caucus was held, two candidates were selected for the offices of president and three trustees. Named as candidates for president were William Buck and Robert Ballard.

Marilyn Coin was the only nominee for treasurer. Six candidates for the three trustee posts were nominated: Lloyd Berkimer, Paul Mulford, Gerald DeLine, Lawrence Keck, Stanley Tenney and June Lankford.

A RACE HAS shaped up in Ovid between candidates of the Peoples and Citizens parties. The Peoples Party selected Harvey Darling as their candidate for president, Arlene Irner for treasurer, Larry Martin, Cliff Saxton and Lawrence Woodworth for trustees and Duane Chamberlain for assessor. They did not nominate anyone for clerk.

The Citizens Party named Paul Nemanis as village president candidate, Clara Tubbs for clerk, Audrey Bancroft for treasurer, Richard DePond, Edgar Kelly and Larry Byrnes for trustees. They named no one for assessor.

THE CITIZENS Party and Peoples Party at Elsie named the same persons as candidates for president, clerk, treasurer, one trustee and assessor. They were Kelly Carter for president, Alice Blunt for clerk, Orpha Clement for treasurer, Robert Blunt for trustee and Stanley Loznak for assessor.

The Peoples Party also named

Merle Baese and Oliver Darling for two other trustee seats, and the Citizens Party nominated Leslie Sturgis and Don Brewbaker.

PRACTICALLY the same thing resulted at Maple Rapids. Both the Progressive and Peoples parties named Elton Hicks candidate for president, Helen Howe for clerk, Marjorie Rumsey for treasurer and William Aldrich for assessor.

There is competition, however, for four trustee positions. The Progressive named Rowland Lowe, Albert Brunner and George Abbot Sr. candidates for a two-year term and Terry Speer candidate for a one-year term to fill a vacancy. The Peoples Party named Nina Freed, Robert Stephens and Lewis Britten candidates for two-year terms and Virgil Halsted candidate for one-year term.

IN EAGLE, Fowler, Westphalia and Hubbardston only one caucus was held and there will be no opposition on the March 8 ballot.

Saturday the Citizens Party, the only organized group, met at the village hall in Fowler and nominated Martin Edinger for president, Mark Fox for clerk, Charles Halfmann for treasurer, Earl Frechen for assessor and Roman Simon, Bill Braun and Ray Armbrustmacher for trustees for two-year terms.

AT WESTPHALIA the Republican Party nominated Gregor Thelen for president, Donald Schafer for clerk, Harold Wieber for treasurer, Aloysius Droste for assessor and John Lehman, Gerald Miller and Harold Schmitt for trustees. They will all be unopposed in March.

The March 8 ballot at Hubbardston will contain these names as a result of Monday night's caucus: Albert Cunningham for president, Virgil Taft for clerk, Manual Cuckack for treasurer, James R. Mc-

WILLIAM C. ROBERTSON

Robertson promoted by F-M-Bower

William C. Robertson, formerly of St. Johns, has been appointed general manager of the Bearings Company of America Division (BCA) of Federal-Mogul-Bower Bearings, Inc.

Robertson, who has been manufacturing manager for the company's Federal-Mogul Division since 1963, succeeds James A. Graham, who has resigned to accept a position with Standard Pressed Steel Co.

ROBERTSON joined Federal-Mogul as a machinist in 1937 and has held several key manufacturing management posts with the company, including manager of the Cleveland, Ohio; St. Johns and Greenville, Mich., plants of the Federal-Mogul Division. He attended the University of California.

The Robertsons, former St. Johns residents, now live at Rochester.

Ginn for assessor, Harold Cunningham, Gilbert Wohlert and Clifford O'Grady for three two-year trustee terms, and Joe Burns for a one-year term as trustee.

JOHN SMITH is the candidate for president of the village of Eagle. Other candidates named Monday night are Mayme Smith for clerk, Kay Mominnee for treasurer, Elva Smith for assessor and Ronald McCrumb, Elaine VanDriessen and Margaret Fish for trustees.

2 from St. Johns get all-A record at Michigan State

Brooks P. Jones, son of Jesse H. Jones, 208 S. Lansing Street, and Janet F. Kloeckner, daughter of Martin Kloeckner, R-4, St. Johns, has been honored by Michigan State University for earning all-A records during the fall term.

Buehler brothers buy Owosso Eberhard store

Two former St. Johns brothers, Paul W. and Robert Buehler, have purchased the Eberhard supermarket on East M-21 in Owosso.

The store has opened under the new name of "2 Brothers, Inc.," and a grand opening celebration is in progress. The store will be managed by the owners.

PAUL, 29, AND Robert, 24, are the sons of Mrs. Gertrude Buehler of St. Johns and the late Paul D. Buehler, though born in Owosso, they both graduated from Rodney B. Wilson High School (Paul in 1953 and Robert in 1958) in St. Johns and they both hold Michigan State University degrees in food market management.

Paul has worked for the American Stores food chain in New Jersey and the Byerly Stores in Michigan and has managed Wrigley stores in Michigan. He and his wife, Joyce, and two children are now living in Owosso.

ROBERT HAS worked for Byerly's, Wrigley's and Eberhard's. He was manager of the Owosso Eberhard's before buying it with his brother. He and his wife, Shirley, and their two children have a house in neighboring Corunna.

Two other Eberhard stores in Owosso were sold in recent months.

No major structural changes in their store are planned by the brothers.

The peninsular position of Michigan virtually removes it from the usual interstate drainage basin involvement. With the exception of the surrounding Great Lakes, almost all of Michigan's water rises and flows within the state's boundaries.

Water, Water, Water from Melted Snow Floods Roadside Along Clark Road

High temperatures early last week resulted in fast melting of snow cover around Clinton County, and a lot of it formed huge ponds on roads and in fields. This was off to the south side of Clark Road and stretched across two small pastures up to near the George A. Perry home immediately west of the Gunnisonville School. Numerous roads in the southern part of the county were closed in places because of huge puddles caused by melting snow.

Merchants plan Red Tag Day

The first of a series of sales events by St. Johns merchants during 1965 is scheduled for Friday, March 5. St. Johns Business Unlimited members are planning Red Tag Day for that date.

This will be a first of what is hoped to be an annual sales event. Participating merchants will put large red tags on merchandise items which have been marked down in price for Red Tag Day.

HUGE RED tag posters will be displayed on the windows of stores participating. The tags are being supplied to St. Johns merchants by Sears and are available to merchants from Charles Pearson at the Sears Catalog Store.

Jerry Knupp, chairman of Red Tag Day, also has a supply of them at the J. C. Penney Co. store.

MERCHANTS HAVE promised a large selection of specially-priced merchandise. They'll be advertised in the next few weeks on a special Red Tag page in the Clinton County News.

CMU dean gives talk to MABC

Dr. C. Milton Pike, dean of students at Central Michigan University, spoke on "Education and the Future" at the annual meeting of members of the MABC recently at Smith Hall in St. Johns.

He drew on his farm background as a youth to point up the fact that jobs that existed then or even today will not exist in the future, and he said a student planning his future today must prepare for jobs yet to be created.

BOB JANDIK, an Ovid FFA member told of his experiences at a citizenship seminar at Camp Kett. His trip was sponsored by the Clinton County MABC.

During the business meeting, Nobis of St. Johns, Robert Reese Jr. of Lansing and Lawrence Cobb of Elsie were elected to the board of directors. Other directors are Mohnke, Baird, Loren Lietzke, Glenn Webster, Leonard Puetz and Joe Bower.

JACK SEILER, MABC field man, and Dale Anderson, state director, explained the new Instamatic Sire Selection Guide, available to all MABC members to help them in improving type as well as production in their herds. They also informed members of the reasons for an increase in service cost

3 injured, driver fined for collision

Three persons suffered minor injuries Saturday in a two-car rear-end collision on M-21 in Fowler, and the driver of one of the cars was in jail Monday on a charge of reckless driving.

The accident occurred at 7 p.m. just west of the Main-M-21 stoplight in Fowler. Luke E. Becker, 41, of Fowler, reportedly had his turn signal on and was slowing down for a left turn onto North Main Street when his car was struck from the rear by another.

THAT WAS driven by Alfred N. Johnson, 37, of Newberry.

Becker and his wife, Joan, complained of pains as a result of the crash and were taken to a doctor. Also hurt in the same way was Clifford Davis, 20, of Flint, a passenger in Johnson's car.

Johnson and another passenger were unhurt.

DEPUTY SHERIFF Hilary Hafner ticketed Johnson for reckless driving. He appeared Monday before Municipal Judge Alba Wert in St. Johns and was fined $50 plus $19.90 costs, with an alternative of 30 days in jail. He was still in jail Monday.

2 fined, jailed on driving, liquor counts

Two young Lansing men will be spending some time during the next month as residents of the Clinton County Jail.

Anthony J. Burtovoy, 19, of 1707 Herbert Street, Lansing, was arrested Saturday in Elsie and charged with reckless driving and being in possession of beer. Richard A. Bedlek, 22, of the same address, was charged with furnishing to minors.

BURTOVOY WAS fined $100 plus $19.90 costs and sentenced to 90 days in jail on the reckless driving charge, with 60 days to be suspended on payment of the fine. He was also fined $25 and $19.90 costs on the liquor count.

Bedlek was fined $50 plus $19.90 and sentenced to 15 days in jail. He paid the fine.

THE TWO were arrested Saturday by Deputy Sheriff Ramon Terpening. Justice of the Peace Gordon Willyoung heard the cases.

MMPA meeting draws 330

The annual meeting of the Ovid local of the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. was held Monday at Smith Hall in St. Johns. Three hundred and thirty members and guests enjoyed a ham dinner at noon. Dinner music was furnished by Mrs. Howard Woodbury at the organ.

Jack Barnes, general manager of MMPA, spoke to the membership on problems of marketing milk. Barnes stated that on June 3 of this year Michigan Milk Producers Assn. will celebrate its 50th birthday.

HE ALSO SAID that on Sept. 1, 1965 the Ovid processing plant will no longer receive milk in cans. Imlay City will be the only MMPA plant in the state receiving can milk.

Guest speaker was Dr. Clint Meadows of Michigan State University. He gave a humorous message on the ancestry of the cow.

DIRECTOR George Austin and Market Committee man Glenn Webster gave reports on the recent price bargaining sessions in Lansing.

Election of delegates was as follows: Leonard Koenigsnecht, chairman; Carl Nobis, vice chairman; William Parker, secretary and treasurer. Other delegates were Frank Rivest, William Mayers, Lee Ormston, Neil Harte, Ernest Jackson, Francis Dershem, Ronald Spitzley, Oscar Simon, Russell Ormsby, Raymond Stewart, and Wayne Peck. First alternate is Kenneth A. Thelen.

US-27, M-21 crash hurts 3

Three persons were injured, though not seriously, Friday morning in a two-car collision at the corner of US-27 and M-21 in St. Johns. They were taken to Clinton Memorial Hospital for treatment.

City police officer, James Stifler said a car driven by Jeanne W. Burnham, 71, of Carp Lake, was turning east onto M-21 and pulled into the path of an oncoming car driven by Vernon L. Underhill, 49, of 2812 Taylor, Lansing.

THE BURNHAM car was spun around by the impact and it finally stopped facing west.

Underhill complained of pains in the crash, and his son Timothy, 12, suffered cuts. Bethany Underhill, 9, was unhurt. Lyna M. Burnham, 68, of Carp Lake, a passenger in the other car, also complained of pains.

Autos top sales tax collections

Automotive sales again accounted for the highest single source of sales tax revenue in Clinton County on November retail sales. Sales tax collected on that item amounted to $40,118. Food accounted for $38,254 in sales tax.

Sales tax collected on other major categories include: building materials $19,337, general merchandise $4,352, apparel $2,705, furniture $6,778, and miscellaneous retail $6,601.

NON RETAIL sales brought in $8,455 in sales tax, and $4,904.52 was collected as use tax during November by merchants. A total

Silent film series continues Sunday

"Orphans of the Storm," one of D. W. Griffith's greatest silent screen triumphs, will be shown in the Henry Ford Museum Theater in Dearborn, Sunday, at 2 and 4 p.m. Lillian Gish stars in the film.

This is one in the current Famous Early Movies series scheduled at the Henry Ford Museum each Sunday through April. On Sunday, Feb. 28, the Marx Brothers star in the 1938 film comedy, "Duck Soup." The featured film for Sunday, March 7, is the great 1920 classic, "The Mark of Zorro."

Tells of impact of automation

Automation and its impact on education and our social structure was the topic of a talk Tuesday to the St. Johns Rotary Club.

The speaker was Harold W. Phend, assistant to the director of admissions at Michigan State University.

He discussed the obsolescence of traditional skills in today's automated processes and the rising importance of a social group who are educated and knowledgeable, yet neither bosses nor workers.

A MAJOR problem accompanying increased automation, Phend said, is the possible destruction of creative ability.

"We must strive for balance in our handling of this new and important contribution to technology," he said.

The speaker was introduced by Kurt J. Becker, program chairman for the meeting.

Explorer Scout Welsh spends day with Brown

Explorer Scout James Welsh of 801 E. McConnell, St. Johns, was one of 10 Eagle Scouts and Explorers who took part in the annual Boy Scout Day in State Government Tuesday at the state capitol in Lansing.

Welsh, of Post 401, sponsored by the VFW, spent the day with State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown.

The annual Scouting observance has the two-fold purpose of spotlighting Boy Scouting in Michigan and giving a representative group of Scouts an opportunity to see the inner workings of state government. The program for the day included attendance at the regular meeting of the State Administrative Board, luncheon at the Roosevelt Hotel and a visit to the department of the state officer the Scout was accompanying.

Youngster 'de-parks' car, it hits another

Leonard Kanaski, 9, got behind the wheel of his mother's car Saturday while it was parked in the municipal lot next to the A & P store. When he pulled on the gear shift, the car went out of parking gear and rolled back wards out of the lot and across Walker Street, hitting the side of a parked car owned by Raymond Parr of 207 W. Cass Street.

Leonard and a brother in the car were unhurt. His mother, Mrs. Rosalind Kanaski, of 700 S. Clinton Avenue, had pulled into the lot and parked while she did some shopping.

House being torn down burns

An old house in the process of being torn down burned down instead last Wednesday afternoon at Park Lake, but high winds that fanned the flames caused some concern to Bath firemen.

The house has been vacant for several years. No damage estimate was made because the house was being torn down, though some salvagable lumber was lost.

THE HOUSE was located on the east side of Park Lake and up on a hill, and Bath firemen worked successfully to prevent it from spreading to other nearby buildings.

One of the Bath trucks broke down temporarily at the fire, and the DeWitt department was called to assist. But the Bath truck was put back in operation before DeWitt arrived.

C of C-farmers meeting tonight

The annual St. Johns Chamber of Commerce Town and County meeting will be held tonight (Thursday) at 7 o'clock at St. Peters Lutheran Hall in Riley Township.

Indications are that a good crowd is expected. Chamber members buy two tickets for the dinner meeting, one ticket being for them and one for a guest from the area where the meeting is being held.

JUD MARZKE is chairman for the meeting. Jerry Anderson of Anderson Archery has been lined up as a speaker and has reportedly planned a dynamic presentation of hunting and fishing in Alaska.

The ladies of the Lutheran Church will serve an old-fashioned country style supper.

THE MEETING is held regularly to help foster a "genuine friendly feeling" between farmers and chamber of commerce members. Members who haven't gotten tickets should contact the chamber office at 222 N. Clinton Avenue.

3 county men at fertilizer workshop

Don Bast and Robert Ebert of Clinton Crop Services, St. Johns, and Pat Foran of Elsie Elevator Co. are in Lansing this week attending a Smith-Douglass sales workshop at the Jack Tar Hotel.

Purpose of the meeting is for the men to learn more about soil testing and fertilizer needs of crops grown in the Clinton County area. The men attend a Smith-Douglass workshop each year to keep up-to-date on fertilizer, in order to recommend programs to area farmers that will grow more profitable crops.

Herb on His 86th Birthday

Herb Rummell, a long-standing resident of St. Johns, celebrated his 86th birthday Monday, Feb. 15. Rummell was owner and operator of the news stand in the St. Johns bus station for many years. For several years following his retirement Rummell was a contract carrier for the Clinton County News.

Elsie PTA devotes time to bond issue

ELSIE—Since March 2 is an important date for the Ovid-Elsie Area School District, the Elsie PTA devoted its entire February program, Monday night to explanation and discussion of the $2.6 million school bond issue and others to be voted on that date.

Robert Bloomer, chairman of a special public information committee for the Ovid-Elsie Area Schools' bond election and several members were present to assist in the program.

THE COMMITTEE is composed of Supt. Robert Beauchamp, Ovid and assistant Supt. Earl Seybert, Elsie; Don Thayer, Mrs. Vera Trembly, Mrs. Jane Beach, Clare Crawford and Edgar Kelley of Ovid; and Robert Moore, Mrs. Jack Kelley, Blaine Lentz and Pat Foran of Elsie. Bloomer introduced the speakers.

The program opened by the Cub Scout Den 3with leader, Mrs. Earl Clark and members Greg Seybert, Jimmy Clark, David Heinze, David Dunham, Roger Kelley and Jan Blunt presenting the flag ceremony.

GEORGE KECK presided for the brief business session when recommendations of the previous executive board meeting were accepted. Announcements were made concerning the annual Hobby and Talent Show scheduled for Saturday, March 27.

Mrs. Lyle Acre of Ovid, and Mrs. Raymond Stewart of Elsie will make arrangements for the hobby displays and ask that they be registered as soon as possible in order to reserve sufficient space.

Mrs Baker hosts WSCS meeting

ELSIE—Mrs. William Baker was hostess for the February meeting of the Methodist WSCS, Mrs. Alpha Grubaugh and Mrs. Lyle Dunham and daughter Sharon presented the lesson on "The American Mother—Who is She?" as a part of the study "Summoned to a New Age." Devotions were given by Mrs. Duane Green.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Charles Kridner appointed Mrs. Durward Conklin to represent the Society in the Friends of the Library organization.

To hold school of instruction

Nine members of Chapter 88 of the Blue Star Mothers were present for the meeting at the Municipal Building Tuesday, Feb. 9.

A letter was read from Mrs Charlotte Wedell, state secretary of the Blue Star Mothers, thanking the chapter for inviting the Southwest District to hold their school of instruction in the Municipal Building on March 25.

Letters were also read from the National Headquarters on the yearbook, Americanism, the hospital, and Blue Daisy work.

PLANS WERE made for the Holden-Reid Hostess Day, to be held on Good Friday, April 16, when the local mothers will be represented by two members.

A report was given by Mrs Edna Eldred, who represented the mothers at the meeting of the recreation board. The report included plans of activities and entertainment for all age groups in St. Johns.

The mystery package was won by Mrs Eldred.

Plan dairy tour this Friday

A dairy tour to the Garrit Potgetter farm near Grand Rapids is planned for Friday, and all dairymen in the Clinton area are invited to join. The group will be leaving from the east side of the Clinton County courthouse at 10 a.m. Friday.

The Potgetter dairy herd of 38 cattle has a DHIA herd average of 693 pounds of fat, second highest in the state. They are in a loose housing barn. Dairymen will be interested in seeing the cows and management that makes such a herd average possible, according to Leon Miller of St. Johns.

Silver anniversary observed by couple

BANNISTER— Mr and Mrs Julius Remenar Sr. were honored on their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday at the Slovak Hall in Bannister.

A potluck dinner was served to 160 guests present from Detroit, Pontiac, Empire, Ohio; Flushing, New Lothrop, St. Clair Shores, Perrinton, Ithaca, Owosso, Allen Park, Durand and the Bannister area.

AN ANNIVERSARY cake that was made for the occasion by Mrs Allan Oberlin centered a round table in the hall. It was cut and served by a sister of Remenar, Mrs Ed Sumnera of New Lothrop.

Mrs Jim Bearup arranged a silver tree composed of round silver "flowers" and green "leaves" which were attached by many ribbons. Anne Remenar attended the guest book. Mrs Remenar's brother-in-law and Mr and Mrs Lyle Silvernail of Owosso, assisted the children of the couple as host and hostess. The flower centerpiece on the main table was a gift of the Silvernails.

SILVER streamers, bows, candles and a large silver "25" decorated the table where the honored couple and their six children sat, the three girls on her right and the three boys to his left according to ages.

They are: Mrs Dan (Agnes) Barton, Anne, Rosemary, Frank, Julius Jr. and David. Their only grandchild, Teresa Barton, was also present.

Special guests were his mother, Mrs Pauline Remenar, Father Smolinski and the couple's attendants of 25 years ago who were presented corsages and boutonnières. They are Mrs Mary Federpiel, Joseph Krajcovic, Emil Remenar, Mrs Ed Sumnera, Mrs Lyle Silvernail and Mrs Al Mousigian.

MRS RANSOM A. BRIGGS

Ransom Ahr Briggs weds Carol Hokanson

Candelabras flanked the altar and baskets of white carnations and mums decorated the side rails in the Michigan State University Chapel for the wedding of Carol Suzanne Hokanson and Ransom Ahr Briggs.

The double ring service of Carol Suzanne, daughter of Mr and Mrs Allen H. Hokanson of 510 Fairview Ave. in Glen Ellyn, Ill., and Ransom Ahr, son of Mr and Mrs Roy F. Briggs of 511 South Mead in St. Johns, took place Saturday, Feb. 6, at 1:30 p.m. with Rev Mr Gardner officiating.

ESCORTED TO the altar by her father, the former Miss Hokanson wore a gown of peau de soie, styled with long lace sleeves and a lace bodice and featuring a chapel train. Her head piece, a crown of seed pearls and crystals, secured a shoulder-length, illusion veil. White orchids and roses formed the bouquet that she carried.

The maid of honor, Miss Nancy

Louise Hokanson of Glen Ellyn, Ill., and the bridesmaids, Miss Cheryl Weill of Birmingham, Miss Carole Mason of Home-wood, Ill., and Miss JoAnne Leyden of Maywood, Ill., were clad identically in sleeveless, floor-length gowns of coral brocade. Their headresses were bows of the same material as the dresses with matching veiling. They carried bouquets of white mums and red carnations.

THE BEST MAN was John Sandham Briggs of Mishawaka, Ind. Groomsman were Melvyn Blackman of Detroit, Ken Black of St. Johns, and John Weisbruch of Benton Harbor. Seating the guests were John Stone of St. Johns and Edward Zalewski of Grosse Ile.

Mrs Hokanson wore, for her daughter's wedding, an embroidered, two-piece dress in lime green with matching accessories. The mother of the bridegroom wore a two-piece dress of beige brocade with matching shoes and gloves and a green net hat. Both wore corsages of tiger orchids.

RALPH RENWICK played traditional wedding music on the organ for the ceremony.

At the reception, held in the Alumni Chapel Lounge immediately following the wedding, special sorority songs were sang by the Alpha Delta Pi girls in honor of the newlyweds. Miss Brenda Burroughs of Muskegon and Miss Karen Steadman of Alpena served the cake and Miss Alice Modre of Niles and Miss Geraldine Kaczmarek of Chicago, Ill., poured.

Among the 160 persons which attended the reception were guests from Midland, Jackson, Albion, Plymouth, Wyandotte, Mount Clemens, Flint, St. Johns, and Lombard and Glen Ellyn, Ill. Special guests were Mrs John F. Reed of Highland Park, Ill. and Mrs Claudius Tobiasson of La Grange, Ill., grandmothers of the bride; Mrs John Sandham of Cass City, grandmother of the bridegroom; and Mrs Angus MacPharl of Cass City and Mrs W. H. Moreton of Detroit, great-aunts of the bridegroom.

THE NEW MRS Briggs, a 1962 graduate of Glenbard West High School, is a senior at MSU, majoring in medical technology, and a member of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority. Her husband is a 1959 graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School, graduate of MSU, where he was affiliated with Phi Sigma Kappa Fraternity, and is presently a second lieutenant in the Signal Corps. He will leave for active duty in the army on March 1 and his bride will remain at MSU until June graduation.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Northern Michigan.

Speak nuptial vows in evening service

MAPLE RAPIDS— A double ring ceremony united in marriage Miss Joan Marshall, daughter of Rev and Mrs Roy W. Marshall of Spring Lake, and Rodney D. Schmidt. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr and Mrs John D. Schmidt of Maple Rapids.

For the 6 p.m. ceremony which took place in the First Presbyterian Church in Alma Saturday, Feb. 8, the bride wore a wool and knit suit of antique white, accessorized with gold. Her corsage was a single white orchid. Rev

Marshall, the bride's father, officiated at the ceremony.

THE former Miss Marshall's college roommate, Miss Barbara Dimpfl of Rochester, N. Y., wearing a blue and brown tweed suit and a white orchid corsage, was the maid of honor.

The bridegroom's college roommate, David A. Hostettler of Cass City, was the best man.

Following the ceremony, the bridal party and the immediate family were served dinner at the Embers in Mount Pleasant.

A RECEPTION in their honor was held Sunday, Feb. 14, at the Maple Rapids Methodist Church.

About 50 guests from Lansing, Cedar Springs, St. Johns, Eureka, Elsie, Perrinton, Middleton, Fowler, Alma, and Maple Rapids, were served pieces of a four tiered wedding cake iced with white frosting and featuring white sugar bells on top and on the corners of each tier. Red roses, red carnations, and lily of the valley were used between each layer.

Mrs Cuthbert hosts Altar Society Guild

St. Rita's Guild of St. Joseph Altar Society met Thursday evening, Feb. 11, at the home of Mrs Ronald Cuthbert with Mrs Bernard Eisler as co-hostess. Mrs Joseph Miller led the rosary to the 14 members and four guests present.

A business meeting followed after which a demonstration party was held as a group project. Prizes which were awarded by the demonstration dealer, Mrs Marvin Haar, were won by Mrs Leo Calder and Mrs Bernard Eisler. Refreshments were then served.

The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs Thomas Faltvor.

AFTER THE FIRST piece was cut by the newlyweds, Mrs Orri-son Bailey, the bridegroom's aunt, cut and served the cake. Punch was served by Miss Sue MacIntyre and the coffee poured by Miss Dimpfl.

Attending the guest book was the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs Selina Bailey.

Gifts were registered by Mrs Daryle Stanley.

THE NEWLYWEDS are at home at 233 Lincoln Street in Alma while both continue their studies at Alma College.

The bride is a 1963 graduate of Grand Haven High School. The bridegroom graduated from Fulton High School, also in 1963.

Winter beauty leaves floods

ROCHESTER COLONY—Many passersby stopped at the North Watson Road bridge, between East Colony and Hall Roads, last week to view the scene.

The ice-break in the Maple River and its tributary streams caused sheets of ice, upended by the rivers current, fallen tree limbs and other debris, to take on various formations. As the formations rounded the bend of the river and neared the bridge, they presented a picturesque scene.

Tuesdays high temperature and rain caused the river's rapid rise, which resulted in overflowing, flooded basements, and flooded roads.

State fishermen follow history in ice fishing

When Michigan's lakes and rivers freeze over and the ice becomes thick enough to hold the weight of a man, an increasing band of hardy fishermen follow an example set by area Indians many years ago, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

The Indians were motivated by the need to survive during the winter months. Most of them hacked a hole in the ice to spear their dinner but there were those who used handlines much as today's fishermen.

FROM THESE, the Indians developed the first crude tip-ups, a device which allowed one person to tend several fishing holes at the same time and relieved the tedium of long, unproductive waits in sub-freezing temperatures.

The tip-up is essentially two crossed sticks resting above the fishing hole with one acting as a balance or axis. The fishline is attached to one end of the other stick and a signal device such as a small flag is fastened on the other end.

WHEN THE FISH strikes, the axis stick turns, popping the signal device into the air and the fisherman scrambles to set his hook.

Tip-ups have become much more sophisticated over the years and many fishermen now use bells, lights, underwater reels and other gadgets designed to improve efficiency.

The Tourist Council points out that the rules for ice fishing are simple and it is up to the fisherman how much comfort he wants.

THERE ARE as many ice fishing rigs as there are fishermen, but one thing that all agree on is the need for warm clothing.

Arctic research conducted by the US Defense Department has produced a wide variety of lightweight, wind-resistant, insulated clothing, boots and other cold-fighting devices. With this equipment the fisherman can brave zero temperatures in relative comfort.

Windbreaks are handy, too, as an added protection against the frigid breezes that sweep across the stretches of frozen lakes. These may be either a single or multiple wall or a small, enclosed portable structure known familiarly and fondly as a fishing shanty.

THIS IS home for the winter fisherman and, depending on his budget, can be outfitted as elaborately as he may want.

Portable heaters or stoves, with the bases off the ice, provide home-like warmth that makes for pleasant fishing.

Most shanties are about five feet square and about six feet high. A half-floor is constructed which supports the fisherman, keeping his feet off the ice, and the opening in the floor is placed over the hole through which he can fish or spear.

FOR CUTTING through the ice, spuds, awls, chisels and axes are still used, but this process is time consuming especially when the ice is thick. Hand operated augers have reduced the cutting time, but now the quickest method of getting to clear water is with a powered ice drill. With such a machine a 24-inch hole can be drilled in a few seconds.

Even though a potential ice fisherman may not own the proper gear, it costs relatively little for a trial. Many boat liveries on popular ice fishing lakes maintain shanties and the necessary equipment may be rented. Ice drilling service is also available.

WINTER FISHERMEN coming to Michigan have a wide variety of fishing sites from which to choose. More than 11,000 inland lakes as well as over 3,000 miles of Great Lakes off-shore sites offer great winter sport.

The current Michigan Fish Law Digest includes information for ice fishermen and is available free of charge from the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing.

Fowler surge falls 2 short

WAVERLY— A powerful Fowler surge in the last quarter fell just short of overrunning Potterville in a Central Michigan D contest Friday night. The final score was 57-55 in favor of Potterville.

The Eagles were down 11 points with just two minutes to play, and their late rally had Potterville reeling.

POTTERVILLE led throughout the game, steadily building up their lead from 19-11 at the end of the first quarter. The score was 31-24 at the half and 47-36 at the end of three quarters, despite the fact Fowler had tied the score at 34-34 with a burst in the third period.

Roger Conley led Fowler's scorers with 18 points, while Luke Koenigsnecht had 16 and Jim Koenigsnecht 10. Also scoring were Jon Thelen, Lee George and Jody Wohlfert with 3 points each and George Spicer with 2. Dave Joseph led Potterville with 21 points.

Fowler scored 22 field goals and 11 of 17 free throws.

Fete Caren Dietrich at birthday party

Miss Caren Lynne Dietrich, daughter of Mr and Mrs Jack Dietrich, whose eighth birthday was Friday, Feb. 12, was guest of honor at a birthday party Saturday, Feb. 13, with 12 of her second grade friends present.

Games were played and refreshments served.

Junior high tourney set at Fowler

FOWLER —Fowler High School will host the annual junior high school basketball tournament, which opens Saturday evening. Eight teams are entered, with championship, runner-up and consolation trophies to be awarded.

Saturday's opener will find Webberville and Ashley playing at 7 p.m., with the Fulton-Portland St. Patrick clash immediately following. Sunday Fowler will meet Potterville at 3 p.m., and Pewamo-Westphalia will play Morris as soon as the first game is over.

NEXT WEDNESDAY, Feb. 24, the semi-finals will be held, with the winners of the Saturday games playing at 7 p.m. and the winners of the Sunday games playing at 8 p.m.

The losers of those same first-round games will meet in the semi-finals of the consolation bracket at 7 and 8 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 27.

THE FINALS for both brackets will be played Sunday afternoon, Feb. 28. The consolation game will be first at 3 p.m. and the championship game will be at about 4:30.

The tournament is sponsored by the Fowler Varsity Club, according to Coach Larry Churches. The drawing for the tournament was done Feb. 8.

St. Johns frosh lose to Owosso

The St. Johns freshmen basketball team dropped a 51-42 decision to Owosso last Thursday night. A bad first half accounted for the deficit.

St. Johns was outscored 14-10 and 15-6 in the first two quarters. Each team scored 14 points in the third period, and St. Johns rallied in the fourth by outscoring Owosso 12-8.

STEVE GREGORY, who scored 16 points for the game, got 12 of them in the second half in leading St. Johns' mild rally. Other scorers were Tom Rademacher 6, Bob Cochrun 2, John Selami 9, Mike McKay 7 and Bob Lundy 2. Frank Russell led Owosso with 12 points.

P-W thumps Elsie 78-54

PEWAMO - WESTPHALIA — Elsie High School's only basketball victory of the year was against Pewamo-Westphalia earlier this season, and the Pirates didn't forget that as they coasted to a 78-54 revenge victory over the Big Reds last Friday night.

Pewamo - Westphalia held a quarterly scoring advantage in each eight-minute period. They led 18-13, 38-23 and 56-38 at the end of the first three periods.

WERNER and Norenberg were the big guns for Pewamo-Westphalia, scoring 24 and 22 points respectively. T. Vance also added 6, Barker 4, Irner 6, May 2, Noeker 3, Schafer 1, L. Vance 2 and Thelen 9.

Tom Micka took game scoring honors with 25 points, while Loyne had 3, R. Jones 6, Seybert 4, L. Jones 10 and Wagner 5.

Ovid nips Perry 58-57

PERRY— The Ovid Romans moved just far enough ahead of the Perry Ramblers in each quarter Friday night to withstand a Perry rally in the last quarter and win 58-57. But then it took some heroics.

Ovid's Mike Hawley dropped in a 10-foot jump shot with 10 seconds left to play. Seconds before Frank Gazda had made two free throws to pull the Romans to within a point of Perry.

OVID'S VICTORY tied the Romans with Perry for second place in the league. Ovid has games remaining with Pewamo-Westphalia and Laingsburg.

Ovid held scoring margins of 11-10, 16-15 and 17-15 in the first three periods but then lost the lead temporarily in the fourth period as Perry rallied.

Hawley led Ovid's scorers with 12 points, while Frank Gazda and Leonard Huyck had 9 each. Others scoring were Dennis Love 8, Lee Woodworth 8, Bob Gazda 6 and Ray Chamberlain and Mike Martinez 3 each.

Proper skiing clothing important on slopes

Head for the hills, men! Snow is on the ground, the mercury is down and the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear observes that the burgeoning hordes of winter sports enthusiasts are gathering their gear and trekking to the slopes.

Recent surveys indicate that skiing is the fastest growing sport in the United States.

With the increased enthusiasm for skiing and its attendant winter sports, there has come an increased awareness on the part of the participants of the "right look" of his skierwear.

IN SKIING, as in most active sports, the "right look" is predicated upon practicality "plus." The plus in skierwear is color and pattern supplemented by the "in look" for the after-ski fun-filled evenings.

There are three elements in a winter vacation wardrobe: Travel clothes; active skiwear; and after skiwear.

GETTING TO the ski resort and the return trip calls for a casual sports outfit, parts of which can also be worked into the after-ski evenings. A good choice of a sport jacket would be a blazer, a boldly plaided shetland or tweed jacket in a good beefy winter weight. Full-weight flannel or bedford cord or whipcord slacks team-up well with the plaid coats.

Ski resorts are not dressy places so there is little need for dress shirts and ties. However, sport shirts both knitted and cut-and-sewn, ascots and an extra sweater or two are "musts."

WARM GLOVES and socks are needed, too. Top all of this off with a good outerwear garment such as a warmly lined wool, shearling or windproof cotton coat in knee-length or three-quarter-length and, of course, a Tyrolean hat on which you can sport your ski badges.

For wear on the slopes regulation ski pants (most are now made of stretch fabrics) are by far the most popular. However, these are supplemented by ski knickers and by the racing-stripped ski pants that are quite a bit snuggler than the regulations to reduce "flutter" for expert racers.

THE "LAYERED look" is both practical and "in" for the skier. For instance, a lightweight wool or cotton turtle-neck sweater worn under a heavyweight sweater topped off by a quilted nylon ski jacket is a popular combination. The "pro look," hip-length quilted nylon coats, some plain others belted, is on the upswing, too. Reversible ski coats and ski

2 boxers district champs

St. Johns had two champions in the Lansing district Golden Gloves competition this year, but the district is as far as they went.

Last Wednesday night before a record crowd at the Lansing Civic Center, Pat Pohl, 160-pounder in the open class division, scored a quick, first-round technical knock-out of Floyd Brandt of Caravan Center.

Dave Vellin, sub-novice boxer was weighed in at 135 pounds, won a decision over Henry Lerma, also of Caravan Center.

POHL advanced to the State Golden Gloves tournament at Grand Rapids Saturday night where he lost in the semi-finals on a first-round knockout. Vellin, as a first-year boxer, was not eligible to advance to Grand Rapids.

As a team, St. Johns finished third in the Lansing district with the two champions and 31 points. Dimondale was first and Portland second.

POHL, eliminated in the semi-finals of the district tournament last year, took his time in his bout with Brandt at Lansing Wednesday. Brandt seemed to be in control early in the round, but when Pohl found an opening he connected with three strong uppercuts. Two went to Brandt's body and the third to the chin, and Brandt was done.

Flint's Robert Tucker, last year's 147-pound champion, eliminated Pohl at Grand Rapids with a first round knockout Saturday.

Fulton falls 82-72

FULTON — Powerhouse Blanchard led all the way against Fulton High School Friday night and handed Fulton its sixth loss against seven wins. The final score was 82-72.

Jerry Drummond, Bill Cartwright and John Roberts led Fulton's scoring with 16, 10 and 11 points respectively.

League wrestling meet this Saturday

There'll be practically a full day of wrestling at St. Johns High School this Saturday as the Redwings host the West Central Conference meet.

Weigh-ins for the preliminary matches if from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. Preliminaries and semi-finals will be run off in the gym from 1 to 5 p.m. and the finals and consolation matches will be at 7:30 p.m.

SCHOOLS participating will be those in the West Central Conference—St. Johns, Lakewood, Alma, Greenville, Hastings, Charlotte, Grand Ledge and Ionia.

Meet Manager Dwane Wirick, St. Johns High School athletic director, said there'll be lots of wrestling for spectators to watch. During the preliminaries three matches will be going on at one time. They'll be run according to the following weight classifications: 95 pounds, 103, 112, 120, 127, 133, 138, 145, 154, 165, 180 and heavyweight.

Fowler defeats Ovid, 63-54

FWOWER — Luke Koenigsnecht scored 26 points during the evening to pace the Fowler Eagles to a 63-54 victory over the Ovid Romans last Tuesday night in a non-league contest.

Ovid took command of play in the first quarter and led 15-9 after it was over. But Koenigsnecht scored 10 points in the second period and Fowler rolled up a 20-12 scoring margin and took a 29-27 halftime lead.

OVID WAS never in contention again. Fowler outscored them 22-11 in the third period with Koenigsnecht adding nine more points.

Roger Conley added 13 points for Fowler to be the second high scorer for the Eagles. Mike Hawley topped Ovid's scorers with 20 points.

THE ALLEY Cats' lead on first place in the Junior High League is now only three points. Robert Cartwright had high game of 147 and Jan Fowler high series of 377 last week. The Red Raiders had the high team game with a 611 score, and the Rolling Stones rolled a 1724 series.

Colony Sportsman had a 912 game and the American Legion Club team a 2459 series to lead the way in the Night Hawk League last Tuesday. J. Brandt had a 227 high game, and Bob Cartwright had a 577 series. Cartwright rolled games of 208 and 213, Clint Adams had a 206, Rex Turner a 212 and Bernard Neller a 215. Beck's Farm Market and the American Legion Club are tied for first place.

Bath scares Portland before losing

BATH — The Portland Red Raiders clinched their second straight Central Michigan C basketball title Friday night but not before they had some anxious moments at Bath High School.

The upset-minded Bees held a 28-24 halftime lead and were as close as 52-56 in the last two minutes before the Raiders poured on the coal and won going away, 65-52.

CHET MCGONIGAL and Bruce Miller were the Bees' early workers and they finished the night with 19 and 17 points respectively. Miller had 11 of 12 free throws in his total output.

Riley Quinn engineered Portland's second-half face-saving comeback with 8 points in the third period and 12 in the last period. He ended up with 23.

Other Bath scorers were Jim Sober 8, Terry Wood 6 and Rusty Woolfe 2.

Score by quarters:
Bath 12 16 15 9 - 52
Portland 15 9 20 20 - 64

BOWLING News from Area Bowling Leagues

THE BOWLETTES lead the Hillbilly 4 by one point in the Coffee Cup League. The Cool Cats had a 564 high game, and the Hillbilly 4 put together a high series of 1662. Rose Ritter had the high individual score with a 189 game and 540 series.

THE TEA TIME League had six 500 series last week. Jeannie Amos was high with a 213 game and 541 series. Others were Rosie Nuser 517 with a 201 game; Esther Stoller 511 with a 202 game; Elsie Dickinson 508 with a 200 game; Connie Cronkhitte 510 with a 210 game; and Dorothy Neller 505. She had no 200 game, but her series score was 136 pins over her average. High team series of 2356 was bowled by Central National Bank. They tied with Federal Mogul No. 1 for high team single game with scores of 787.

Dan Boncha rolled 184-200-212 for a 596, high in the Industrial Mixed League Friday night. Vicki Peck with a 193 game and Maude Walker with a 459 series were high for the women. The 4 K's team with 643 and 1878 had high team honors. Dick Lance had 204 for the only other 200 game in Friday night's action. The 4 K's are leading the league with 55 points, followed by the BBC team with 51 points.

EBERHARDTS rolled a 734 game and 2102 series Monday night in the First Nighters League. Sue George got a 192 high individual game and Cecile Ritz bowled a 483 high series. Mary Crosby picked up the 6-7-10 split. The Independents lead Hub Shopping by two points and Heathman's by three.

The Capitol League still has Strohs as the league leader after Monday's bowling. Moorman's Feeds had the best game, however, with a 922 score, and Frechen's Tavern had a 2635 series score. Marty Markman was the best individual bowler with a 245 game and 616 series.

MOBIL GAS rolled a 919 game and 2635 series to pace the Twin City League team last Wednesday, and the scores kept them one point ahead of South Riley Grocery. Wayne Rossona had a 214 high game and 570 high series.

Lake's Jewelry had a 982 game, and Rhyndards put together a 2797 series last Thursday in the City Classic League. Dick Urban's 245 game was high, and Leo Brunner had a 623 series. John Kurcz had a 610 series. Pohl Brothers leads Dick's Barber Shop by three games.

THE FEARLESS Four lead the A & M's by a game and a half in the Kings and Queen's Sunday league. They had the high team game and series Sunday with scores of 694 and 1933. For the women, Jan Woodbury had a 194 game and 523 series. George McQueen had a 218 game and 574 series for the men.

Beechlers leads Houghtons by one game in the Industrial League. Saxtons had a 958 high game and Beechlers had a 2615 series. Andy Hatta rolled the best

Wings near league title

St. Johns 73, Greenville 64

The St. Johns Redwings got some unexpected help from Alma Friday night and are now on the verge of claiming the West Central Conference basketball championship.

The Redwings defeated Charlotte 64-62 Friday night and Alma upset second-place Lakewood 75-60. That chain of events knocked Lakewood a game and a half back of St. Johns, and the late-season "clock" is now ticking in favor of St. Johns.

THE REDWINGS were to play Greenville at St. Johns Tuesday night, and a victory then would assure them of at least a tie for the conference title.

St. Johns must meet Lakewood at Lakewood this Friday, but then they'll entertain last place Ionia in the season finale here Feb. 26.

THE VICTORY at Charlotte Friday night was a big win, but then as Coach Bill Swears pointed out, they're all big games now. St. Johns needed the scoring of their one-two punch—Al Werbish and Clark Berkhausen—however, to get revenge for their earlier loss to Charlotte at St. Johns. (The Orioles won 61-59 on Jan. 8)

Werbish scored 24 points and Berkhausen 23 to lead the Redwings Friday. Berkhausen got his

In consistent form—7 in the first quarter, 6 in the second, 4 in the third and 6 in the fourth.

WERBISH WAS held scoreless during the first eight minutes, then scored 6 in the second period, 14 in the third and 4 in the fourth. He got seven field goals in the big third period, as the Redwings erased a 27-26 halftime deficit with a 24-17 scoring edge.

That gave them a 50-44 lead going into the last eight minutes, and it proved barely enough. Charlotte came back strong, but the Wings were able to maintain a four-point spread throughout most of the quarter with the aid of a semi-stall that helped eat up the clock.

THE ORIOLES outscored St. Johns 18-14 in the period, but they could get no closer than the final two-point spread.

The Redwings had another fine night from the floor with their shooting, and they made 26 of 51 shots—a .509 percentage. Free throw shooting was cool—only 12 of 22 or .545 per cent.

CHARLOTTE hit 25 of 60 shots from the floor (.416) and 12 of 16 free throws (.750).

Werbish paced the Redwing rebounders with 9, while Al Anderson and Jim Leonard each picked off five. Anderson added 10 points to the Wings output, while Bill Serrine had 2, Leonard 4 and Doug Lundy 1.

Dick Lux had 19 points to lead Charlotte, while brother Bob had 16 points.

Charlotte rally nips JVs 53-49

Bill DeGroot scored 15, Gary Boyce 12 and John Wilson 11 points Friday night but the St. Johns junior varsity basketball team lost out to a Charlotte rally, 53-49.

After an even-seven first half which ended in a 25-25 tie, the Junior Wings, paced by Boyce's 8 points, hopped out ahead 41-36 at the end of the third period.

But St. Johns could score only 8 points in all of the fourth period, and the onrushing Charlotte JVs passed them up to win 53-49.

Randy Humphrey scored 7 and Phil Anderson 4 to round out St. Johns' scoring. Rochester led Charlotte with 17 points.

Wolf pack ends DeWitt win streak

LAINGSBURG— The Laings-Wolfpack put an end to DeWitt's late season rush by clipping their winning streak at four games with a 59-53 victory over the Panthers.

DeWitt led 13-11 at the end of the first period, but Laingsburg grabbed a 27-25 halftime head and then took command with an 18-11 scoring spree in the third period.

FOUR players scored in double figures to spark Laingsburg. Bob Kruger led the way with 16 points, while Bill Antcliff had 12 and Clyde English and Norm Wurm 11 each. Also scoring were Don Brown 4, Tom Wilson 3 and Jeff Veth 2.

Jim Dalman's 19 points topped DeWitt, while Bill Watson had 15, Roger Coryell 7, Parker 2, Pat Weston 7 and Lenny Ward 3.

Individual game and series with a 235 and 606.

COLD STREAM has the lead over Richard's Dairy by a half-point in the Mixed League. The fifth place KP's had a 666 game and 1923 series to pace the teams Friday. For the women, Helen Dunckel rolled a 189 game and 504 series. William Ashenfelter had a 218 game and Terry Reese a 542 series for the men. Bill Burnham had 204 game.

The Rose Johnson, Seamstress, bowlers have a bit more breathing room this week and lead Drewry's Beer by 2 1/2 games in the Westphalia Woman's League. Freund Lumber had a 729 and 2144 game and series last Tuesday. Bonnie Rademacher rolled a 187 game, and Aggie Stump and Marilyn Plime tied for series honors with identical scores of 483. Sherry Freund picked up the 4-7-9 split and Marie Arens got the 5-7-9 split. Both bowl for Freund Lumber.

These St. Johns bowlers got some high-ranking scores in the Michigan State Bowling Assn. tournament over the weekend: In doubles, Ted Silvestri and Richard Kuhns rolled an actual 1178, got a handicap of 153 and ended with a total of 1331 pins. Dewey Custer and Ed Martis had 1087 and 174 for 1261 David Mohnke and Dick Urban rolled 1044 and with a 207 handicap got 1251; Edward Kaminski and Lawrence Kuhns had 1160 and 144 for 1304; and Gene Downing and Joy Tait had 1027 and 228 for a 1255 series.

ALAN WEBER rolled 596 and with his handicap of 54 pins got a 650 series in singles competition.

Tractors rally by 17 points, then win double overtime thriller over Sealed Power

A double overtime thriller was the highlight of City League basketball last Wednesday, with Clinton Tractors emerging the winner by an 85-81 count.

Miller's Tavern defeated the Bumble Bees 82-69 in the second game.

The Tractors - Sealed Power game was the first overtime encounter this year. The score was tied 71-71 at the end of regulation play, and both teams scored six points in the first overtime.

THE WINNERS staged a big fourth quarter rally, coming from 17 points behind to tie the game. Sealed Power held a 21-16 lead at the end of the first quarter, 40-27 at the half and 60-43 at the end of three periods.

Steve Spicer scored 12 points in the big fourth quarter, and Doug Japinga had 8. The Tractors outscored Sealed Power 28-11 in the last period.

JAPINGA LED the Tractors with 23 points, while Spicer had 19, Dale Knight 17 and John Werbish 12. Randy Ott and Hilary Stump each had 25 for Sealed Power, while Jerry Stumph had 14.

The second game was more passive, and Miller's held quarterly advantages of 15-12, 21-13 and 29-21 en route to victory. Bee's rallied somewhat in the fi-

Tourney time draws near

With the regular high school basketball seasons drawing to a close, many players and lots of fans are already looking forward to the state tournaments.

Call goes out in Michigan Week product, agriculture contests

The call is out to community groups throughout the state to help find Michigan's product of the year and Michigan's agricultural development of the year.

Directing the search is the Product and Agriculture Awards Committee of Michigan Week, headed by Wallace Machesney, district manager of Westinghouse Electric Corp. at Detroit.

THE COUNCIL endorsed the use of returnable, deposit-required beverage containers and pledged wholehearted support of the objectives and programs of Keep Michigan Beautiful, Inc., designated by Governor Romney as the official coordinating agency for anti-litter programs.

In a resolution, the council pointed out that litter of all types is not only unsightly but greatly detracts from Michigan's waters and scenic beauty.

Michigan anti-litter laws prohibit littering of all public and private property and water-including the ice above these waters in winter-all highways, beaches, parks, residential and farm land, and forests.

IT ALSO authorizes enactment and enforcement of local ordinances, with fines up to $100 for control and elimination of litter.

The Michigan State Highway Department reports that it spends about $1,000 a day to pick up litter along state highways.

"Michigan must put its best foot forward to enhance its position as one of the nation's leading travel-recreation areas. One good place to start is with elimination of litter."

The children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren came, Feb. 7 with filled baskets for a birthday dinner in honor of their father and grandfather, Jesse Perkins.

Mr and Mrs Nelson Ketchum and sons of Wacousta were recent guests of his parents, Mr and Mrs Ray Ketchum.

Mr and Mrs Sidney West and sister Pearl of Elsie were Thursday evening callers of Mrs Eda White.

Mr and Mrs Gerald Barrett entertained their Pedro Club Saturday evening. High prizes went to Irene Upton and Howard Dennis and low to Eda White and Herbert Stichter.

Mr and Mrs Frank Weston of Lansing and Edward Sleight of St. Johns spent Sunday with Mrs Eda White.

Mr and Mrs Edgar Dean of Saginaw spent Sunday afternoon with her brother, Howard Dennis, and his wife.

cial efforts to bring out a large number of agriculture entries.

Machesney announced the following schedule for the two-contests: April 12-Deadline for entries in county contests; April 17-County judging must be completed; April 26-deadline for entries in regional contests; April 28 - Regional judging must be completed; May 6-Deadline for regional entries in state finals.

AN ENTRY IN the product-of-the-year competition must be a consumer product and the entry must be made by a company not an individual.

MACHESNEY IS asking Chambers of Commerce, trade associations and civic groups to comb every area for good entries. He is asking the county cooperative extension directors to assist in special efforts to bring out a large number of agriculture entries.

Following is the committee's statement of criteria for the two contests:

PRODUCT OF the year: "Significance-The product must be a relatively new or recent consumer product, represent a technological breakthrough, an unusual development or design, or a totally new invention. The more unique, the better!"

"Success-The product should have already proved its acceptance in the marketplace, and should further demonstrate significant sales potential. The product must have wide state, national or international distribution.

"Community Impact - Although the product can represent any industrial field, it must demonstrate employment potential or some similar outstanding contribution to the economic welfare of the community."

AGRICULTURAL Development of the Year: "Significance-The

"Potential - The entry must demonstrate excellent future potential for the further development, expansion or diversification of the agricultural industry in Michigan.

"Community Impact-The entry must show evidence of its contribution to the economic betterment and stability of the community, the area, and the state; and should, for example, be able to attract favorable attention or investment in that phase of the industry it represents."

'Let's go back to Bach!'

BY PATRICIA HOLMES

The popularity of the piano among the younger residents of St. Johns has put an unusual demand on music teachers in the area.

The instrument's popularity, credited to the prosperity of today as opposed to the age of depression, a generation ago, has all but filled the schedules of private teachers in the St. Johns area, some of which have up to 40 students a week.

THE AFFLUENCE of the modern family, coupled with an appreciation of the benefits derived by a child who knows a musical skill has led parents to encourage their children to start music lessons and to encourage them to practice and stay at it.

Mrs Earl Haas of 500 East Higham has a 10-year-old son, Bruce, who has taken piano lessons for 2 years.

"I THINK music is a wonderful background," Mrs Haas said. "The piano will always be a nice hobby, if nothing else, and the child learns perseverance when he has to sit down and practice."

Mr and Mrs Wayne Ward of 501 West Baldwin encouraged their oldest son Jim, 13, to start piano lessons when he was 6 years old. Two other children, John, 10, and Wendy, 9, made up their own minds to start.

"WE HAVE a lot of classical records at home," Mrs Ward said, "and the children are able to enjoy them more because they are exposed to that type of music in, at least, short excerpts that they encounter in their lessons."

The music teachers, who have watched their young music friends or their pupils go on to highschool and in some cases even college, agree that a musical skill, learned as a youngster, will enrich the persons adult life.

MRS R. JAMES Williams of 105 South Prospect, who formerly taught piano in public schools and is now a private music teacher, said that, as a youngster, music lessons will help an individual learn to budget his time. As an adult, the individual will tend to be more active in such civic affairs as church programs and plays, she said.

One problem that usually confronts a parent contemplating to start his child in music lessons, for which he will pay anywhere from $1.25 up for one-half hour, is determining the proper age at which they should start.

WHILE THE music teachers agree that there are exceptions, they all feel that average children should be about 8 years old.

"It is the exceptional child that will do well before the age of eight," said Mrs H. W. Lundy of 201 East Clark, piano and church organ teacher.

Mrs Williams prefers that girls be 7 years, boys, 8. She chooses these ages because these are the ages at which children are usually able to read.

"BOYS ARE slower with coordination, however," she said.

Miss Mayme Fedewa of 410 South Oakland, a teacher of piano to 40 children, said that she has given lessons to 5-year-olds. Six, 7 and 8 years of age are better for the average student, however, she said. If they start older they can still do well, she said, for the older children progress quickly.

Miss Fedewa also feels that an average child that has someone to help him at home, whether it be the parents or a sibling, will do better.

THE EAR of a child is sharpened when he's heard someone else play, said Mrs Williams. If more than one person in the family plays they will tend to help one another, she said.

John Ward, who is 10 years old, began taking piano lessons from Mrs Williams at the age of seven. He, like his sister, made up his own mind to take lessons. He still practices one-half hour each day and still enjoys playing.

The Lester Biled family of 810 West Park has three children at home, all musicians. Linda, who started piano at kindergarten age now plays the flute in senior band and the banjo. Denise, 12, started piano at 10. She also learned to play the flute in band and is now playing the bassoon. Still another child, 9-year-old Bruce, plays the piano.

THEIR MOTHER credits singing in a church choir and attending workshops in which they learn to criticize one another with keeping their musical ambitions alive.

"I don't expect them to ever go professional," Mrs Biled said, "but they derive a great deal of personal pleasure from playing. The children often hold jam sessions. All like folk music."

If you're afraid that a musical background will make another Beethoven out of your child, don't worry.

MRS WILLIAMS said that, occasionally, a student will express an interest in playing popular music. She advises them to try it if they have finished practice on their required material and permits them to bring the music to class if they have a problem.

Because of the difficult rhythm, they usually put it aside with a new respect for popular music and a satisfaction for what they are doing, she said. She said that after one young lad tried popular music, he said, "Let's go back to Bach!"

Suzy Moorehouse, 11, had trouble learning notes when she started playing the piano one year ago. When she tried the second time, last December from the same teacher, Mrs Ernest Hauser of 7501 Church Road, she picked it up quickly.

Nine-year-old Wendy Ward began taking piano lessons from Mrs R. James Williams about a year ago. Having two older brothers who play, Wendy made the decision on her own to begin the lessons. Now, Mrs Williams holds Wendy's attention by approaching her other interest, dancing.

Take the guesswork out of buying eggs

BY BETTY KETCHAM
County Extension Agent
Home Economics

You can't tell an egg by its shell. You have to know what's inside—and that takes peeking.

You can't do it. But Federate grade graders can—and do.

Their impartial ratings, which include candling for quality, take the guesswork out of buying eggs. You simply buy by their grade ratings. The grades are Fresh Fancy or AA, A and B, and they are applied to eggs of all sizes, and both white and brown.

THE BEST eggs have a small bread when broken out. The white is thick and high; the yolk firm and high. These bear a US Fresh Fancy or Grade AA label.

An egg that rates US Grade A has a little more spread and a white that's not quite so thick and high.

Grade B eggs have a widely spreading white and a rather flat, enlarged yolk.

WHICH eggs you choose will depend on what you want to do with them. Fresh Fancy, AA and A are ideal for any purpose, but are especially good for frying, poaching and boiling where appearance is important. Grade B eggs are fine for general cooking and baking.

If your electric bill is higher in the winter, fewer daylight hours are one reason, the US Department of Agriculture reminds homeowners.

Using five 100-watt bulbs for two extra hours a day will up your bill slightly, but it's the other electrical units you use in winter that account for most of the increase.

THE BLOWER on your furnace probably uses about 40 kilowatt hours a month and its electric control another 8. And if you use a 1200-watt electric heater, you will be adding on another 200 to 400 kilowatts.

Now that the weather keeps you indoors, you're probably spending more time watching television. An extra hour of television viewing each day might consume an additional 100 kilowatt hours a month.

OPERATING your oven during the day and electric blankets at night will consume even more electricity in the winter months.

All of this could increase your electric bill as much as $7 a month, December through March.

Initiative does it—the only opportunities some self-made men had were home-made.

Scores highest in Fowler High homemaker test

DENISE HAFNER

FOWLER— Miss Denise Hafner, daughter of Mr and Mrs Joseph Hafner of Fowler, has been named Fowler High School's 1965 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow. She scored highest in a written homemaker examination taken by senior girls on Dec. 1 and is now eligible for state and national honors.

Besides her academic studies at Fowler High, Miss Hafner is president of the Girls Varsity Club and a member of the girls basketball team. She plans to attend Lansing College this fall and to begin her training as a practical nurse.

She was selected by the Fowler High School faculty to attend the session of Wolverine Girls State last summer at Ann Arbor.

Vary the shapes and sizes of biscuits

Though biscuits are traditionally round, why not cut them into other shapes, as well? After rolling out the dough, use a sharp knife to cut it into squares or diamonds.

There's no waste when you cut biscuits this way because you use every bit of the dough. It's a good trick to remember when you're in a hurry, too—really faster than using a cutter.

To stop-leaks in vases or bric-a-brac, pour melted paraffin over the leaky spot and let it harden.

Tips for starting seeds in the home

Many a window sill or table in home, school and office soon will be sporting seed starters of one kind or another. For seedlings will grow under the artificial light of fluorescent lamps as well as, if not better than, with natural light from the sun.

Each light source offers advantages but each also requires special knowledge. Thus, if you are starting seeds on the window sill, be sure it is one that receives maximum sun.

SET THE seed starters as close to the glass as possible but, if a cold night threatens, slip a piece of cardboard between planter and window to keep the cold radiated by the glass from freezing the seedlings.

Under conditions of natural light, the seedlings will sprout and grow best if the day temperature is 65 degrees, dropping to 55 to 60 degrees at night.

WHEN STARTING seeds under artificial light the lights may be placed within a few inches of the planters at first, but must be moved further away as seedlings grow. Remember that seedlings need more light than the mature house plants you may be growing under fluorescents.

Although plants will tolerate higher temperatures than under fluorescent lights than they will under natural light, the differences are not great. 60 to 65 degrees at night and up to 75 degrees during the daytime are the limits above which plant growth deteriorates.

WHICHEVER method you use to start seeds, there are three factors which remain the same; water plants only when growing medium becomes dry on top, use a nutrient solution to fertilize plants as vermiculite or milled sphagnum moss, and be certain that you do not start the seeds too early.

If you do not know the proper time for setting young plants in the garden in your area, find out. Then figure backwards from that date 8 to 10 weeks (depending on the rate of growth of the kind of plant involved). Start the seeds at the time indicated so they will be the right size for transplanting when frost-free time arrives.

High level concern for rural area problems

Did President Johnson's "mandate for moderation" — as it was widely interpreted — extend to his handling of rural problems? He seems to think so, to judge by his farm message to Congress. Yet we wonder if something more decisive is not called for.

The President plans "a fundamental examination of the entire agricultural policy of the United States." This will be welcome. It should not become an excuse for undue delay in meeting requirements already made apparent by the changing rural situation.

REMOVAL OF PRICE and income supports, if sudden, probably would have the "catastrophic" effect on farm income predicted by the "independent studies" cited by Mr Johnson. The average farm family already is earning substantially less than the average nonfarm family.

But a considerable body of thought believes that, in the long term, a freer farm market would produce greater efficiency. The present system of controls and supports, indeed, appears to work primarily to the advantage of farms in a category that would be profitable anyhow.

Mr Johnson's moderation in calling for reappraisal of these things may not be enough.

HIS MODERATION HAS a more positive sound in his continuing and expanding the "rural renewal" efforts impelled by the Kennedy administration. His message spoke eloquently of the problems of those living in the country but not benefiting from the farm. He rightly emphasized "local leadership and initiative" in combination with government technical and financial assistance.

He showed an awareness of the tendencies of multiplying bureaucracy in seeking not to keep adding new agencies but to encourage present agencies to be sure rural as well as urban communities are being fairly served. With legislative reapportionment likely to reduce the political weight of sparsely populated rural areas, this high-level concern for them is welcome.

SO IS THE President's intention to recommend a cropland adjustment program along the lines of that suggested by the National Agricultural Advisory Commission last fall. By turning excess land to recreational and other worthwhile uses, a double purpose can be served.

Mr Johnson seems alert to the necessity for rural improvement. In important respects he has set the stage. We hope the curtain will go up at a faster than moderate pace.

Many farmers' sons stay on the place

The Census Bureau made an occupation survey recently. More than two million farmers were included and one of the questions they were asked was: What did your father do for a living?

The Bureau was startled to learn that 85 per cent—some 1,758,650—were the sons of farmers. No other occupational group came close to even half that proportion of workers engaged in their fathers' trades.

WITH OTHER questions the Bureau learned that sons of farmers begin more often as farm laborers than as farm operators or managers. No more than 11 per cent started "at the top," Census officials added.

The Bureau's figures do not give the answer to how you are going to keep them down on the farm. But, some 1,758,650 farmers seem to have found the answer.

RAMBLIN' with Rink

By LOWELL G. RINKER

Since youngsters today are growing up in an entertainment world dominated by TV, they, too, will have favorite programs to remember and recall in the years to come.

We didn't have TV in our home when I was growing up, but we had other forms of entertainment that still stick in my mind.

FOR INSTANCE, my brother and I used to contribute substantially to the income of the Princess Theater at Farmington, Ill., when our family lived there between 1944 and 1948. I can still remember those Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Back in those days it was profitable to have Saturday and Sunday matinees in the small towns. Kids flocked to the show. Things always started out at 2 p.m. with advertisements being flashed on the screen. Then would come applause and verbal cheers from the kids as the first of maybe two animated cartoons was shown.

NEXT WOULD come another exciting chapter — about 15 minutes worth — of a movie serial. I can remember two—"Frank and Jesse James" (they were built up as the hero type, clean-cut, honest, fair, good-looking guys who somehow managed to get on the wrong side of the law) and "Superman."

STICKING POINT

(From The Record-Eagle, Traverse City)

Gov. George Romney has proposed a practical solution to the dispute about educational standards observed by the Amish sect at Camden.

He would simply exempt the Amish from the accredited teacher requirement, which has been the sticking point between the Amish and education authorities.

LEGALLY, SCHOOL OFFICIALS are right in noting that the law does not permit hiring of an uncertified teacher with no more than an eighth grade education. But the law should not be so rigid as to override moral questions of religious liberty and freedom of conscience.

It is a poor comment on our free society when a people of such obvious worth in thrift, industry, and deportment, as the Amish, are hounded out of the state because of educational intolerance.

THE SUPREME court's decision banning compulsory prayer in public schools is in strange contrast to this effort to impose a reverse wrong—intrusion of the state in what is essentially a religious area.

The latter attitude is perhaps a logical development from the growing dependence on government as the chief moral source, but the Amish and other religious groups, by their exemplary way of life, are in an excellent position to challenge its validity.

Someone has said that the measure of a free society is the latitude it gives nonconformists. The Amish case should cause us to ask how well we are measuring up.

Free Press columnist coming

MOST SUCCESSFUL CITY newsmen I've known have confessed to a secret desire to quit eventually the hustle-bustle and settle down to the "relaxed" life of a rural publisher.

"You've got it made," they tell me . . . seldom listening to my protestations that 12-hour working days and a rapidly-increasing investment are required to keep a country weekly going properly these days.

JUDD ARNETT

One city fella who needs no such convincing is Judd Arnett, the popular Detroit Free Press columnist, who will speak at the annual Ladies' Night dinner of the St. Johns Rotary Club next Tuesday evening. Judd has owned three weeklies (in Ohio, Illinois and Florida). He knows that all is not sweetness and light in the non-metropolitan newspaper field.

JUDD WENT into the newspaper business at the age of 12 when an uncle taught him to operate a type-setting machine. Following a hitch in the Navy during World War II, he and his wife, Fern, bought their first newspaper in the small Ohio town where she had been born. "We borrowed $3,000 from the bank, which was all that institution could loan," he recalls. "Then we borrowed $3,000 more, and so on, through eternity, or so it seemed."

The Arnetts sold out in 1950 and moved to Illinois, where they bought another newspaper and went through the same process—"only that time the legal borrowing limit was somewhat higher," he confides.

IT WAS IN 1956, when Judd was approaching middle-age (just past 45 to those of our generation) that he decided he wanted to spend the rest of his life as a "writer." So they sold out again and Judd has been "writing" ever since.

He worked for the St. Petersburg, Fla., Times and served as editor of the Savannah, Ga., Morning News before he joined the Free Press in 1959. His daily columns, usually on the back page, are widely read in Clinton County and elsewhere in Michigan.

Although he's a native of Kentucky, Judd has spent most of his life in the Midwest. He has traveled extensively while on his present job—through 16 nations of Africa with former Gov. G. Mennen Williams; in Europe, where he wrote a series on West Germany; throughout Canada; to our Southland on several occasions; and to many, many points in Michigan.

JUDD SITS ON the editorial board of the Free Press and it's my assumption that his moderating influence is often reflected in that newspaper's editorial opinions.

Politically, I would tag the guy as a sort of "Republicrat," a term he has sometimes used to distinguish those of us who are conservative by nature and upbringing, yet liberal enough to recognize that nothing is quite so inevitable as "change."

HE CONCLUDES A recent note by mentioning that he has belonged to three Rotary Clubs, the Kiwanis, Lions, Elks, Moose, Masonic Lodge, American Legion, VFW and Methodist Church.

"None of this has helped my golf, which is what I would really like to do for a living," he says. "I have never honestly won a golf trophy in all of my born days. My club gave me one a year ago to shut me up."

Arrangements for his talk to the Rotary Club and their ladies next Tuesday were made by Dr Jim Grost, committee chairman. He tells me there's a sell-out crowd.

Welcome to St. Johns, Judd.

Believe It or Not

By W. E. DOBSON

It takes a bunch of farmers
 To be a bit unique,
 To manage little differences
 In the way they act and speak;
 For instance there's our Farmers Club,
 That's known as L.F.C.
 Whose term of life now numbers
 A full quarter Century.

It's not just that we've managed,
 To keep wolves from our door,
 For all these five and twenty years,
 And hope for many more;
 It's not just our form of meeting—
 Many others have the same—
 It is no feat of magic,
 Concerned with place or name.

It isn't just the members
 Though we frankly claim the best,
 Not here lies the whole secret,
 Not just here our laurels rest;
 It is not alone our programs,
 However well they rate,
 Not this all our claim to glory
 Not these alone make great.

Not for our chosen charities,
 Though these we view with pride.
 Not for our sociability,
 Though this be ne'er denied;
 We have not gained the dizzy heights,
 To which some might aspire,
 Content to follow steady course—
 We've set no worlds on fire.

An aid in farm programming
 Has been our steady aim,
 And we would not be selfish
 Nor over-rate our claim;
 By questions put and answers made.
 We stir ourselves to thought,
 Combining truth and pleasure
 In a program thus self-taught.

One claim to greatness we can make
 In hectic times like these,
 When everything is up and up,
 In prices taxes, fees;
 When all else seems inflated,
 We have cause to enthuse,
 In five and twenty years of life
 We've still not raised our duet!

Fifty pieces of Clinton County property were "knocked down" to the highest bidders on the opening day of the "scavenger" sale of tax-delinquent property Tuesday. Bids totaled $9,065, with $4,890 paid down in cash.

Sponsored by the Retail Division of the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce, a Double Dollar Day will be held in this city Friday and Saturday.

If it comes to the attention of the Clinton County Social Welfare Board that any person receiving welfare aid in any form is using intoxicating liquor (be included), that person will be held not in need and will be dropped from the relief roll. The same goes for card playing in a public card room.

The Travis Drug Co. recently received a wallpaper order for three rooms from Belmont, Mass. It is said that the price there is double the price asked here.

At a banquet of the Sixth District Dental Assn. held in Lansing on Wednesday night, Dr. Thomas S. Mann of this city was elected treasurer.

"Get ahead of him, quick... he's marking up prices!"

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Public sentiment swinging in favor of income tax

Public sentiment appears to have turned full circle in Michigan where income tax is concerned, if organizational voices are any true indication.

Several groups, most notably perhaps the state Farm Bureau, are now supporting and even urging enactment of a statewide tax on incomes where in previous years they were the loudest opponents of such an idea.

On the local front, the recent favorable vote on the Saginaw city income tax was urged by nearly every major civic organization there.

IN THE Saginaw case, as is being discussed in the capitol chambers, the tax was coupled with a fiscal reform program. Some other area of taxation was removed or reduced.

Whether the Republican governor and the Democratic Legislature are able or willing this year to agree on a fiscal reform program including a personal income tax remains to be seen.

One thing is certain, however. Legislators and an increasing segment of the general population have become aware that the surplus-deficit ups and downs will continue under the present tax structure.

DEMANDS for and the rising costs of expanded state services are not likely to end in the future. At the same time, existing forms of taxation are not likely to meet the built-in rise in spending.

With farmers and school officials lamenting that property tax rates have reached beyond reasonable limits and businessmen claiming an unfair method of taxation in the business activities tax, the group supporting tax reform via income tax grows larger almost daily.

If a tax revision program ever reaches the floor of the Legislature in the present two-year reign of the Democrats, it can be expected that many Republicans previously opposed to it will be voting in favor of it.

RELATIVELY little is ever seen or heard publicly about one division of the State Department of Public Instruction, perhaps because it serves a comparatively small portion of citizens.

The vocational rehabilitation division provides both the mentally and physically handicapped with diagnosis and treatment to remove or reduce the disability.

Most of the persons in the division's programs are adults.

Diagnosis and counseling for appropriate job goals, retraining for a skill, job placement and follow-up are other functions of this government unit.

AN AVERAGE of 4,400 individuals a year are being restored to productivity under programs of the division. Spokesmen say this number is only about one-quarter of those who could be served, if funds were available.

Department officials say around 12,000 persons 16 years or older are newly disabled or reach this employable age with prior disabilities each year. Lack of funds has resulted in an additional accumulation of a backlog of disabled persons in the state.

Department spokesmen contend that full use of federal funds, which are available on a modified matching basis, would enable this division to serve all the annual new cases and cut into the backlog.

COMPULSORY motor vehicle inspection is once again before the Michigan Legislature.

BY ELMER E. WHITE
Michigan Press Ass'n.

Opposition to it in the past has seldom been made clear, but the proposal has failed to gain sufficient support in several attempts. Now, as public officials urge trying anything and everything to reduce the constant increase in traffic accidents, this aspect would appear to bear watching.

A national survey has shown about one car or truck in six in use is unsafe. Michigan officials say the state's various voluntary vehicle safety check programs indicate a similar rate here.

UNSAFE VEHICLE tallies in states where the inspections are required have been known to run as high as 40 per cent. It appears the people who conscientiously keep their cars in good condition are also generally those willing to volunteer for safety checks.

Voluntary safety inspection programs were carried out last year in about 130 communities.

The mechanics of operating a compulsory program have been one deterrent to legislative approval in the past, but the near future may bring about a comprehensive plan to overcome this objection.

Bement Library Book Shelf

By Elizabeth Millman

Periodicals are a major source of new ideas, and the "Readers' Guide" is the index to the material to be found in them. Under the Library Services and Construction Act of 1964, all the periodicals listed in the Readers' Guide are now subscribed to for the libraries of the country. In Michigan this fund is administered by the Michigan State University.

This program began in January of 1965.

Libraries in the smaller cities are given the periodicals on the abridged list which includes 38 magazines. Files of these are kept—or at least as many as space warrants. Any articles that are not available in local libraries may be obtained from the State Library in Lansing. They will be mailed directly to the person requesting the service.

THE BEMENT Library has long had a magazine file of many of the Readers' Guide listed periodicals, but now hopes to find room to house many more.

Harry Golden has written another of his amusing commentaries on the American scene in his new book "So What Else is New?" In this combination of seriousness and fun he comments on Getting Old, Medicare, The New York World's Fair, The Beatles, Classroom Prayers, and many other subjects of interest to every American.

THIS IS A book for relaxed reading pleasure. The author's good humor, his easy style and his wide range of experience make "So What Else is New?" an ideal book to spend an evening with.

COUNTRY FLAVOR

Winter season wears on, despite man's impatience

HAYDEN PEARSON

The countryman always feels better when he takes the first sheet from the big feed and grain store calendar on the kitchen wall. A man appreciates that February is still winter even if the poet can see morning in Year's eyes. The second month is the shortest but it can bring blizzards and below-zero spells. Winds swirl dry snow over the fields; they pile drifts in the roads. A farmer casts a calculating eye at his scaffold and woodshed.

But it is February. Each day the sun climbs a higher arc and the rays reflect jewel gleams from granular snow. Because human nature is impatient, this is a waiting month. When a mild spell sets in and water drips from roofs, and the snow shrinks below the tops of fence posts and walls, one is impatient for winter to end.

IT IS THE Moon of Hungry Foxes, and the snow and ice-covered countryside is bleak and stark. On still, cold nights when the moon sails serenely among the stars, owls' soft hoots sound from the woodland and foxes bark from the pasture ridge. Creeks and brooks are covered and the music of their slow-moving water is muted beneath the cold covering.

It is a bit early to look for the pussy willows' furred noses, but by the middle of the month a mar feels certain the lilac buds by the kitchen door are just a trifle larger. Days plod by and winter wears on. Snow banks by the roadside are smudged, but there's a hint of spring in the colors at dawn and in the sunset pageant.

SOMETIMES we forget that our year requires four seasons to complete the life cycle. In man's life and in nature the process is orderly and cannot be hurried. He who feels in tune with the verities knows that winter is part of life.

State's poultry industry has lots of room to grow

Michigan's poultry industry is on the move.

"This is a $42.5 million business, and its potential for expansion is excellent," claims Howard Zindel, chairman of Michigan State University's Department of Poultry Science. "Michigan poultrymen are producing only 60-65 per cent of the eggs, 2 per cent of the broilers and 50 per cent of the turkeys consumed in the state. This leaves plenty of room for this industry to grow."

ZINDEL points to research as one of the best means for spurring this growth.

"Science has helped us to extend the productive life of our birds and increase efficiency. I can remember when one man would have his hands full trying to handle 1,000 laying chickens and growing their replacements. Today, this same man can handle more than 20,000 laying birds and have plenty of spare time."

Controlled environment housing, better nutrition and improved vaccines and preventative medicines have been particularly helpful to the industry. They have helped to keep production high while the number of farms and birds has been decreasing across the state.

THEN, TOO, Michigan poultrymen have become more specialized. The result is what Zindel calls a "new" poultry business.

"Until about 1957, a farm-family used to keep less than 1,000 birds," he says. "Today, they seldom handle less than 5,000."

"In the egg business, this has meant almost a complete change of operation. The present poultry setup is made up of two kinds of operators: those who stayed in the business and then expanded, and those who are brand new to the industry."

"GENERALLY speaking, poultrymen no longer do the complete job of raising layers and their replacements. They either buy the birds ready to lay and/or concentrate only on growing pullets to sell to egg producers."

Zindel attributes much of this change to larger, better constructed poultry houses.

"These houses have been springing up rapidly all over Michigan," he notes. "In the Grand Traverse area, for example, there wasn't one large poultry house in 1958. Today there are approximately 57, each having a capacity of 3,000 birds or more. In the Huron County area, 30 to 40 new houses—enough to handle 300,000 birds —have been built in the past three years."

POULTRY housing research has also produced changes in space recommendations for the birds. Experiments show that egg production doesn't suffer, even when space per bird is cut less than 1/2 square foot in a cage operation and 1-1/4 square foot in a floor operation. Early recommendations used to call for as much as 3-1/2 to 4 square feet per bird.

Further tests will be run to see if housing space can be even further reduced. In one of these experiments, two birds will be raised in a cage eight inches wide and 16 inches long and 21 birds will be kept in a space three feet by four feet.

"MSU SCIENTISTS" pioneered many of the latest advances in poultry housing, says Zindel.

"In 1956, J. M. Moore of our department and Merle Esmy, MSU agricultural engineer, designed a poultry house which was built at the Ray Spencer farm at Attica. It's still one of the best ever built."

"We were able to control temperature at 35 degrees throughout the winter of '56 to '57 without use of any artificial heat. All we used was a combination of the body heat of the chickens and the building's proper insulation."

ZINDEL POINTS to the MSU Experiment Station at Chatham in the Upper Peninsula as one of the nation's leading centers of poultry housing research. "That experiment station has done more for improving poultry housing than any other place in the country," he says.

The Chatham buildings were only the beginning of a series of technological developments which have helped to mold Michigan's new poultry industry. Mechanized feeders, gutter cleaners and egg gathering mechanisms have greatly improved poultry management efficiency.

New vaccines and improved feeds have also appeared on the scene. They have brought poultry health and feed conversion to an all time high.

3 Smith cows complete testing

Three registered Guernsey cows in the herd of George E. Smith of St. Johns recently completed top official DHIR actual production records, according to the American Guernsey Cattle Club.

Wilgeo Sentries Falita, a seven-year-old, produced 14,460 pounds of milk and 703 pounds of butterfat in 294 days. Wilgeo Counts Annette, five years old, had 11,690 pounds of milk and 607 pounds of butterfat in 305 days. Wilgeo Wistars Sunrise, a junior two-year-old, had 10,850 pounds of milk and 507 pounds of fat in 305 days.

All cows were milked two times a day. The testing was supervised by Michigan State University.

Report Elsie cow's lifetime production

Lifetime food production careers for 18 Registered Holstein cows in Michigan, including one from Elsie, have been recorded in the official testing program records of the Holstein-Friesian Assn. of America. Green Meadow Susan Sovereign, owned by Duane and Velmar Green of Elsie, has compiled a lifetime total of 163,775 pounds of milk and 6,466 pounds of butterfat.

Addition of 10 pounds of urea per ton of corn silage was recommended by 20 dairymen who successfully used the practice in 1963, says Don Hillman, Michigan State University dairy extension specialist. Economic advantages of using urea far outweigh the disadvantages when protein supplements are costly.

New DeWitt CD, Fire Siren Arrives

DeWitt's new triple-toned fire, civil defense and tornado warning siren arrived last week and was uncrated Thursday morning by these men. Left to right are Ward Kyes, township clerk; Louis Nebbefeld and Art Newman, assistant fire chiefs; Robert Richmond, fire captain; Charles Frost, Clinton County civil defense director; and Fred Culy, DeWitt Township supervisor. The siren will be mounted atop the Municipal building and will replace the old siren. The new instrument will have a separate tone for fire, civil defense and tornado warnings. It will be about the first of March before it is installed, wired and ready to go. It cost a total of $2,300, half of which will be paid by the federal government.

Special license sale scheduled at DeWitt

A special sale of license plates is scheduled for today (Thursday), Friday and Saturday at the DeWitt Fire Hall No. 2 in an effort to help check the outflow of dollars from the county in the buying of license plates. The special sale will be from 1 to 8 p.m. today and Friday and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

AGRICULTURE in ACTION

by M. L. Woell
MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

It is a foregone conclusion that this 73rd session of the Michigan legislature will be of special interest to Michigan farmers. In the words of one veteran lobbyist, the November election, based on the new state apportionment, has caused "fruit-basket upset."

More than 80 out of the 140 members of House and Senate are new this year to the seats to which they have won election. A few members of the House have moved over into the Senate, and several former members of the legislature will be returning this year after periods of absence.

TO ADD TO the confusion, two members of the legislature have died since the election. Both men, Republican Senator Paul Chandler and Democrat House member Walter Hyso, are from Wayne County. The seat of another member of the House, Representative Daniel West, is being challenged by officials who are checking his background and qualifications.

What about the outlook for farm legislation? Some farm leaders have predicted that the increasing "urban orientation" of the legislature will cause difficulty for farmers in promoting legislative programs.

DAN REED, long-time legislative counsel for the Michigan Farm Bureau, has said that farmers must be much more alert and more complete in their explanations of the need for certain bills and requested actions.

"I can remember the time when any farm issue would cause ears to pick up all around the House and Senate," Reed said, indicating that those days are gone. "That was back when these people were well acquainted with farm life."

IN CONTRAST, the new Michigan legislature will be composed of a majority of people who know little about farming from first-hand experience.

This means the farmer's job will be mostly one of education and information to help these men and women understand. Farm leaders will have to work hard at this job. They will have to be careful and sharp in presenting their facts.

This is the architect's sketch of what the proposed new Ovid-Elsie High School will look like as it faces Colony Road. The site picked for the school is at the corner of Colony and Hollister Roads in Duplain Township. Voters will decide on the project at a bond issue election March 2.

4 ballots face school voters at Ovid-Elsie election March 2

Ovid and Elsie voters who go to the polls March 2 to vote on the new school bond election will have four ballots to mark. Approval of all four would result in a total tax levy for debt purposes of less than eight mills, school officials said.

The first ballot concerns the approval for the issuance of bonds in the amount of $2.6 million to provide for the construction of a new high school, additions to the E. E. Knight Elementary School in Elsie and the Ovid Elementary School, the construction of a new elementary building in Ovid and the converting of the present high schools in Ovid and Elsie for use as junior highs.

Ballot No. 2 concerns the issuance of bonds in the amount of $200,000 to provide for construction of a swimming pool, or natatorium, and for grading and laying out of a football field, baseball field, two softball fields and an all-weather track.

SCHOOL DISTRICT officials pointed out that construction of a new gymnasium at the new high school is part of the total package on Ballot One, not a part of Ballot Two as some district citizens apparently believe.

Ballots three and four refer to the same problem, but it is necessary for both to pass if either of them is to be put into effect. No. 3 asks the voters of the district to approve mutual assumption of debts—that is, all the debts of the former Ovid and Elsie districts.

BALLOT 4 asks the approval of a tax rate of 2.6 mills for two years to pay off the existing debts of the two former districts.

Tests available to cattle owners

Testing of beef cattle for anaplasmosis, a sometimes fatal bovine disease, will be available free to beef herd owners who request it. The survey tests will begin in the immediate future, State Agricultural Director G. S. McIntyre has announced.

Within recent years the disease has been found in some Michigan herds, but is not extensive as in the major beef producing states.

THE SURVEY testing will be under the direction of the Michigan Department of Agriculture's Livestock Disease Control Division, headed by the state veterinarian, Dr. J. F. Quinn. The tests will be conducted in conjunction with brucellosis testing. If herd owners wish the free anaplasmosis survey test, they must give their approval in writing.

The disease was found in only 10 herds in the state in 1964. All but four herds have been cleared up without deaths from disease. Anaplasmosis is chiefly a beef cattle disease, although it sometimes is found in dairy herds. This is rare, according to Dr. Quinn.

THE AILMENT is mainly a blood disease that causes listlessness, anemia, and loss of weight in animals. It is thought to be carried from diseased animals to healthy ones by biting insects. Cattle owners who suspect presence of the disease in their herds should consult their local practicing veterinarian, Dr. Quinn advised.

Originally thought to be a disease prevalent only in hot climates, anaplasmosis has spread northward and has been found in at least 32 states. With the low known incidence in Michigan, livestock disease officials believe eradication of the disease is a distinct possibility in the state with voluntary testing programs a step in this direction.

Predicts less cows, more milk

Michigan's total milk production is expected to continue its yearly 1 to 2 per cent increase during 1965.

Higher production per cow is more than offsetting a 1 to 2 per cent annual decline in cow numbers, according to Richard Heifner, Michigan State University agricultural economist. And these trends are likely to continue during the next few years.

MICHIGAN DAIRY farmers average $4.10 price for milk during 1964, five cents higher than in 1963. Prices should average about the same during 1965.

Heifner adds that the dairy picture brightened in 1964 as commercial demand in the United States kept pace with production and the CCC reduced inventories sharply through domestic donations and export programs.

POOR PASTURE conditions in several major dairy producing areas have restrained production. Export demand, although a relatively minor outlet for dairy products, increased sufficiently to have a small effect on domestic prices in 1964. Although this expanded export demand may continue into 1965, it is not expected to be a long run development.

7.78 mills first-year tax if Ovid-Elsie bond vote OK'd

The Ovid-Elsie school board, in anticipation of the bond issue election March 2 for the new school construction program, has released pertinent data on how the bond issue will affect taxes.

There's money involved on three of the four ballots voters will be given March 2. Ballot One is for $2.6 million bond issue for site acquisition of a new high school, new junior high schools and additions to present schools. Ballot Two concerns $200,000 for a swimming pool at the high school and outdoor athletic facilities. Ballots Three and Four are linked together and provide for the mutual assumption of debts and the levying of a tax rate of 2.6 mills.

THE 1965 TAX year would require a total of 7.88 mills for debt retirement. Ballot One would be for 4.9 mills; Ballot Two for .38 mills; and Ballot Four 2.6 mills.

In 1966, the rate would be 7.75 mills, including 7.19 mills for Ballot One and .56 mills for Ballot Two. The 2.6 mills for Ballot Four would be collected only one year, even though legal requirements make it necessary to vote on it for two years.

THE 1967 TAX year requires: 6.95 mills for the provisions of Ballot One and .57 mills for Ballot Two. This would make a total debt retirement millage of 7.52 mills.

In 1968, the levied debt retirement millage would be 6.5 for the provisions of Ballot One and .5 for the provisions of Ballot Two, making a total debt retirement millage of 7.0 mills. For the years following 1968, the levy will also be 7.0 mills.

Here are some hypothetical cases:

IN DUPLAIN Township, $2,500 valuation must first be multiplied by the Duplain conversion factor of 2.14. Thus, the taxable valuation is $5,350.00. For 1965 debt retirement taxes, this multiplied by the 4.9 mills for Ballot One would mean a cost to the property owner of $26.22. For Ballot Two at .38 mills the cost would be $2.03 and for Ballot Four at 2.6 mills the cost would be $13.91. The total cost on an assessed valuation of $2,500 for debt retirement purposes would be $42.16.

In Ovid Township a $2,500 valuation must be multiplied by the Ovid conversion factor of 2.21. Thus, the taxable valuation is $5,525.00. For 1965 debt retirement taxes first multiply by the 4.9 mills for Ballot One; this would mean $27.07. For Ballot Two at a millage rate of .38 mills the cost would be $2.10. For Ballot Four at 2.6 mills the cost would be $14.37. Total debt retirement cost would be $43.54 on an assessed valuation of $2,500.

THE TWO major townships of the district have been used as examples. The school district also extends into 10 other townships. Conversion factors for state equalization vary from township to township. In some cases the cost will be slightly less. This is true in the following townships: Chapin, Elba, Victor, and Washington. In Fairfield, Middlebury, Owosso, and Rush and Sciota townships the cost will be slightly higher. In Greenbush Township the conversion factor is higher than that of Duplain Township and lower than that of Ovid Township.

The Public Information Committee for the Bond Election recently distributed to all property owners a brochure containing a page with the necessary information that will allow each individual to compute his own debt retirement taxation.

Warns farmers to look close at rural recreation

A recreation economist suggests that farmers look before they leap into the growing farm recreation business.

There is no sense losing money if it can be avoided, according to William F. Krause, recreation consultant for Recreation Ecological Research, Inc., of Muskegon Heights.

FURTHERMORE, Krause says, a farmer's chances of getting loans from leading institutions are enhanced if an advance look at profit possibilities has been taken.

Krause handed out tips at the annual meeting of the Michigan Association of Rural Recreation Enterprises (MARRE) at Michigan State University earlier this month.

Krause advises farmers to undertake an economic feasibility study before developing recreation enterprises on their land.

SUCH STUDIES determine whether a proposed recreation enterprise will be profitable. Krause lists three key elements of feasibility studies:

1) How suitable is the land for particular enterprises? 2) Where will the people who will pay fees to use the recreation facilities come from? and 3) How many will there be?

RECREATION enterprises are usually part-time occupations for farmers, according to Krause. He says farmers should weigh the profits which will come from recreation against income from other uses of their time.

Estimates of demand for particular developments, Krause comments, most often are a result of studies of how successful similar enterprises have been.

PROCEEDINGS of the St. Johns Board of Education

The regular monthly meeting of the board of education of the St. Johns Public School District was held Wednesday evening, Feb. 3, 1965, in the office of the superintendent of schools. Present: Members Munger, Meyer, Parr, Richards, Schumaker and McCarthy; Superintendent Lancaster, Principal Poculis, Assistant Principal Wirick, and Ceelda Hicks. Absent: Member Gallagher.

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by President Munger. Minutes of the January meeting were read by secretary. There being no additions or corrections, the minutes were approved as read.

CURRENT operating bills in the amount of $10,646.35 and payrolls amounting to $26,855.68 were approved.

The mid-year financial report, showing receipts and expenditures to date, compared with budget estimates, was presented and reviewed in detail.

A bid on Workmen's Compensation Insurance was presented by Jim's Insurance Agency in the amount of $1,444.44. It was voted to accept the bid.

MR LANCASTER reported that meetings had been scheduled with rural districts as follows: Merie Beach, Feb. 10; Rowell, Feb. 24; and Harper and Lamb, March 4.

Mr Lancaster then discussed the situation in connection with Lansing Community College, and stated that because of its increasing enrollment, the college is suggesting that in the future it may be necessary to exclude students who do not live in a participating district. Because St. Johns now has about 70 students enrolled in the college, this action would work a hardship on the education of many of our graduates. It was suggested that a study of the situation be made and some plans laid for the future in connection with possible participation in the College.

MR LANCASTER reported that because of a petition from a group of parents of Central School area to the office of the state fire marshal, it had been necessary for the fire marshal to make a complete inspection of the Central School building. He outlined the items covered in the report, indicating changes that would have to be made.

It was felt that because within two or three years the entire function of the building would be changed, and also because of the fact that finances are not immediately available, it was agreed to proceed in an orderly manner so as to complete all requirements within a three or four year period. Mr Lancaster was authorized to write the fire marshal to that effect, stating that changes would be made as they were found necessary.

IT WAS VOTED to have Mr Nickel start his job as administrator in charge of rural schools as of May 1, and also to have Mr Serrell take over as junior high principal at that time.

The board then took under consideration the administration contracts for the 1965-66 school year. Contracts were tendered to Mr Poculis as high school principal, Mr Wirick as assistant high school principal, Mr Nickel as administrator in charge of rural schools, and Mr Serrell as junior high principal.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,
RAYMOND G. PARR
Secretary

Plan 2-day swine short course

A two-day Swine Short Course will be held at Smith Hall in St. Johns next Monday and Tuesday. Sessions will be held from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. both days.

Material and discussion will center around three main areas: Breeding and gestation period, farrowing and suckling period, and growing and finishing period. Problems associated with management, economics, nutrition, housing, equipment and disease control will be discussed for each area.

COUNTY Extension Director F. Earl Haas said the program was organized to provide an opportunity for informal discussion of every-day production problems facing individual hog producers.

Other objectives are "to report on up-to-date research findings which affect production and management practices and to assist producers with the identification and application of scientific facts and sound business principles necessary for a successful swine operation."

INSTRUCTORS from Michigan State University will include Ed Miller, animal husbandry; Dr. Fred Bohmker, veterinary medicine; Charles Spillman, agriculture engineering; and William Tinsley, agriculture economics.

There will be a $5 course fee to cover the meals, notebook and handout material. Lunch will be served at Smith Hall.

Plan Jehovah's Witnesses confab at Lansing

Raymond Parker, presiding minister of the St. Johns congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, reports final arrangements have been made to attend a three-day Bible Convention at Lansing Friday and Saturday. Local Witnesses and their families will comprise part of the 800 delegates expected at the semi-annual event.

All attending delegates will spend some time in the public door-to-door ministry work, discussing scriptural information from the Bible and encouraging local residents to attend all convention sessions which are open to the public and free of charge.

J. W. FILSON, district supervisor and convention coordinator from Brooklyn, N. Y., will open the session Friday evening at 6:45 with an address of welcome on the theme: "Willingly Fulfill Your Ministry."

A model ministry school will be held, followed by a program under the direction of Circuit Supervisor E. W. Tymkovich, stressing the theme "Watch Yourself For You Are Being Watched."

SATURDAYS activities will include a baptismal discourse at 1:30 p.m. Highlighting the convention Sunday at 3 p.m. will be the extensively advertised Bible lecture "The Moral Breakdown—What Can Be Done About It?" by Filson.

1965 feed grain signup off to best start ever

W. M. SMITH County ASC Manager

More than 231 feed grain producers in our county have signed up to participate in the 1965 Feed Grain program as of Feb. 12. This is far ahead of any other year's signup for the same period.

THE BIG CHANGE is reduced livestock or no livestock feeding to cash crop farming.

The county committee will accept conserving acreage appeals through March 26.

We have received authorization extending the time the ASC County Committee can accept appeals from feed grain producers who wish to have their conserving acreage reduced so that they can participate in the 1965 feed grain program. A number of farming operations have changed since the base period of 1959 and 1960.

Many feed grain producers are requesting an advanced payment. This payment is half the amount they will earn by participating in the feed grain program.

WE RECEIVED authorization Feb. 12 to make advance payments. Producers who requested advance payments have been mailed their payments. Feed grain producers are urged to call at the ASC office and have the program explained to them as it will effect their 1965 operation.

I want to remind wheat producers who signed up to participate in the 1965 program that they have until March 26, 1965 to request a change in their intention if they wish.

Flute duet— Linda Blied and Margaret Cortright; drum duet —Richard Creese and Mike McKay; drum duet—William Besko and Richard Creese; clarinet solo —Carla Motz; clarinet quartet— Elaine Blackman, Carol Eisler, Diane Salter and Jane Taylor; brass sextet—James Cronkrite, Bruce Campbell, Ted Rahl, Alan Davis, Ted Halitsky and Terry Green.

THE following received second division ratings:

Piano solo— Alan Davis; flute duet—Charlene Rus and Linda Botimer; flute duet—Jean Lewis and Diane McQueen; french horn quartet— Carol Sibley, Kathy Salter, Sid Lounds and Ted Rahl; trombone quartet—Alan Davis, Carol Jacoby, Shirley Ashenfelter and Elliot Smith.

Those receiving first division ratings will advance to the state solo and ensemble festival March 20 at a site to be announced.

ANY OF THE ensembles are available to perform for local clubs or organizations. Arrangements should be made with the Music Department of the St. Johns Public Schools.

These girls will be representing St. Johns Girl Scout troops at the Lansing "Look Wider Still" project displays Feb. 20 and 21. Anne Barber and Mary Lou LeFevere of Troop 142 do a little dance to portray their project while Lynn Richards and Marsha Stevens (seated) of Troop 461 and Janie Thrush and Janet Barnes of Troop 522 look on. Lynn and Marsha have weed displays in front of them, while the little hand puppets on the table are projects of Janie and Janet.

Set Girl Scout project show

Girl Scouts Present "Look Wider Still," a council-wide event presented by the Michigan Capitol Girl Scouts serving Ingham, Eaton and Clinton counties, is to be presented at the Lansing Civic Center Feb. 20-21.

Troops are presenting projects to enable the public to understand the Girl Scout movement through demonstration and exhibits of the redesigned program. Scouts throughout the area will have an opportunity to participate in illustrating the theme, "Look Wider Still."

HIGHLIGHTS of the event will include divisions on the home, international friendship, the outdoors in action, and the arts. Other fields of interest are demonstrations on the Brownie, Junior, Cadette and Senior levels of scouting.

A colorful opening at 3 p.m. Feb. 20 will feature a flag ceremony using all the flags in the free world and a welcome by Miss Monna Heath, executive director, and Mrs Dale Granger, Council president.

SALLY Jane Noble, Miss Michigan of 1964, will preside over the event on Sunday, Feb. 21. Mrs John Collins of Lansing is the general chairman.

Voluntary donations will be taken at the door. This money will be used to help defray expenses for sending the senior Scouts to the 1965 National Roundup in Idaho.

Pictures are the projects of the Brownie Scouts going to the "Look Wider Still" project displays. "Framed" are Kathy Murray, Cindy Calkins and Barbara Moon of Troop 577, while Senior Scouts Shirley Johnson and Mary Ann Kanaski of Troop 272 lend a hand in positioning the frames.

High school students stage musical comedy next week

"Check Your Worries," a musical comedy hit especially written for high school production, will be staged in the St. Johns High School auditorium next Thursday and Saturday at 8 p.m.

There will be no Friday performance because of a home basketball game with Ionia.

The production will be under the direction of Gordon Vandemark, with Mrs Robert Cox in charge of dramatics. Walter Cole will be in the pit to direct the dance band. The play will feature members of the concert choir on the stage in the dramatic and singing roles.

THE STORY deals with a situation that develops when the local high school press criticizes the town's founder, Elmo Pendleton Hart, and organizes a campaign to "do away with Founder's Day."

The town of Hartsville is rocked, and the battle line becomes more heated as the adult citizens rally to the support of the school newspaper. But all ends happily, and the simple solution of everyone's problem will have the audience smiling for weeks.

CAROLYN SEXTON has been named student director of the senior class play, "Pioneer Go Home," which is set for March 19 and 20. She will receive help in her duties from assistant director, Shirley Steinhardt.

Cathy Salters and Jean Lewis will assist the directors and take charge of the prompters. Producer Pat Heibeck will have charge of the production of the play.

THE WILSON Torch, the school's bi-weekly newspaper, will be entered in the Central Michigan Journalism Awards Program, sponsored by the Lansing State Journal and Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism society.

Evaluations will be in two major areas: school newspaper as a whole and the work of individeach go against each other every Monday at 4 p.m.

The Redwing bowling team has bowled against Portland and Ithaca. They defeated Portland 7-1 and lost to Ithaca 5-3. Acton said he hoped to schedule a meet against Ionia and Ovid sometime this month.

A number of awards are given to the more outstanding bowlers locally. Trophies are given for high game, best series, highest average and the winning team. Winners of the single and doubles competition also will receive trophies.

OVID— At the United Church annual meeting last week the following officers were elected to serve for 1965. Willard Barthel, chairman of the Official Board; Maylon Waite, vice chairman and lay leader; Mrs Harvey Darling, clerk; Mrs Willard Barthel, treasurer; and Mrs O. E. Smith, financial secretary.

Chairmen of the commission are Earl Fisher, education; Mrs Maylon Waite and Mrs Harold Frisbie, mission; Mrs Frank Hall, membership and evangelism; and Clare Crawford, finance and stewardship.

Committee chairmen are: Chauncey Green, pastoral relations; Chauncey Green, social concerns; Robert Parmenter, building and grounds; Mrs Frank Hall, memorials; Winfield Aldrich, parsonage; and Mrs Irene Reed, communion.

Mrs Arza Parker is church school superintendent. Mrs John Owen and Paul Meder are auditing committee.

A daughter, Shelly Rae, was born Sunday to Mr and Mrs Robert Boyd in Flint Osteopathic Hospital. Mrs Boyd is the former Dawn Darling, daughter of Mr and Mrs Robert Darling.

Rhonda Sue, 6-month-old daughter of Mr and Mrs Ronald Nethaway is in Owosso Memorial Hospital with pneumonia.

Mrs Bernice Millard is convalescing in Owosso Memorial Hospital following surgery.

Named as delegate to US fashion show

OVID— Mrs Anna Mae Thornton of Ovid was named as a delegate from the Owosso Affiliate 221 of the Michigan National Hairdressers and Cosmetologist Association to the North American Beauty and Fashion Show to be held Feb. 12 to 16 in the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel in Detroit.

The show will feature Buddy Walton, a salon owner from St. Louis, Mo. He has been the team manager for the 1965 USA, hair-styling olympic team, which placed fourth among 30 nations in the recent competition in Europe.

Russell Mikesell, son of Mr and Mrs Arthur Mikesell, who is attending Lansing Community College, recently was named to the Dean's List for last fall term.

Ardis Green started school at Western Michigan University this semester.

Mr and Mrs Gerald Shaw, the former Carol Mudge, of rural Ashley are the parents of twins, born recently.

James Saxton, son of Mr and Mrs Donald Saxton, left Lansing by plane Saturday to report to his Naval Base at San Diego, Calif.

Fined for speeding

Thomas W. Shellito, 28, of 631 Chilson, Lansing, was held in jail Monday in lieu of $55 in fines and costs assessed against him for speeding and having no operator's license. He was arrested by state police earlier in the day. The $35 fine and $20 costs were assessed by Justice of the Peace Gordon Willyoung.

Penny collection sent to missions

COUNTY LINE— The second unit of "The Christian Mission Among New Nations in Asia" was the lesson given by Mrs Peter Hankey, Friday evening at the February meeting of the County Line EUB Women's Society at the home of Mrs Maynard Beck. Devotions were given by Mrs James Fisher. The Lincoln penny collection was taken and proceeds will be sent to buy Christian literature for overseas missions and $25 will be sent to World Clothing Service for use in home missions. Co-hostess was Mrs Donna Smith.

The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs Joe Purvis with Mrs Peter Hankey as co-hostess.

Mr and Mrs Harry Patterson spent Thursday with Mr and Mrs Gordon Patterson of rural Ashley.

Mr and Mrs James Fisher called Thursday afternoon on their parents, Mr and Mrs Carl Fisher of rural Ithaca.

Mr and Mrs Phillip West and daughters of Elsie spent Sunday afternoon with Mr and Mrs Harry Patterson.

DAVID SWANSON

RAYMOND BRADLEY

Moore SCD chairman

Robert Moore was elected chairman of the Clinton County Soil Conservation District board at an organizational meeting of the directors last Thursday.

Keith Wright was named vice chairman, Bill Mayers secretary, Loren VanOstran treasurer, and Clarence Manning chairman of the watershed committee.

Wright and Mayers were named to the board at the annual district meeting Feb. 6.

WRIGHT HAD served on the board since last October, when he was appointed to fill out the term of office of David Swanson, who resigned. Swanson was editor of the district newsletter and served on the watershed committee, as well as acting as district secretary while a director of the district.

Mayers replaced Raymond Bradley, who did not seek reelection Feb. 6. Bradley served the Clinton district from 1956 to 1959 as treasurer and then as publicity chairman. The first pump drainage in Clinton County was installed on his farm. He also conducted several ditch brush spraying demonstrations.

FOR THE PAST four years Michigan Agricultural Nitrogen Co., owned by Bradley, has sponsored the Future Farmer Soil and Water Conservation exhibits at the district's annual meeting. Many other districts in Michigan are copying this contest, according to Harry E. Nesman, advisor of the Michigan Association of FFA.

Sentence man in grain case

Hugh Francis, operator of the Francis Elevator, Inc., at Elsie was ordered to serve a year's probation and make restitution of $1,063 on two counts accusing him of overcharging the Commodity Credit Corp. on corn storage.

Federal Judge Noel P. Fox made the order last Wednesday in Grand Rapids.

FRANCIS had pleaded guilty Dec. 29 on two counts, one involving his claims that he stored 440,322 bushels of corn pledged to the CCC during a period ending Sept. 30, 1961, for which he submitted a $10,929.19 bill. The government said he was due only $10,568.23 on 426,478 bushels.

A claim he submitted March 31, 1952, for 131,135 bushels of corn and storage charge of $4,366.81 was also discounted by the government, which said he stored 114,533 bushels and was due only $3,664.30.

SEVEN OTHER counts against him were not prosecuted. He had originally pleaded not guilty when indicated by a federal grand jury Sept. 19, 1963, but he reversed his plea in December.

Woodman on House Ft. Custer committee

State Rep. Blair G. Woodman (R-Owosso) has been appointed to serve on a special committee of the House of Representatives to investigate the recovery to the state of 14,000 acres of land at Fort Custer near Battle Creek, declared surplus by the federal government.

According to Rep. Woodman, these lands formerly belonged to the state and are now in jeopardy of being lost. The special committee will investigate all facets of the problem with particular emphasis on three possibilities: 1) continued provision of a children's home; 2) establishment of a National Cemetery on part of the land; and 3) reservation of the remaining for a public recreation area.

Rep. Woodman will serve along with six other House members. He represents the 87th District which is composed of all of Shiawassee County and part of Clinton County.

Road Commission Weekly Report

The Board of Clinton County Road Commissioners will hold their regular meeting Thursday, Feb. 18. They will open bids for the 1965 requirements of bituminous materials. The board also expects to discuss damage problems and spring load limits.

Three new trucks of the 27,000 GVW class that were ordered in early January were received last week. They were sent out to have the bodies installed. We expect them to be put in service by this weekend.

FINAL ACCIDENT reports for 1964 were received last week. Clinton County had a larger increase in traffic deaths than the national and state averages. Our county showed 12 fatalities for 1964 and seven for 1963.

There were 2,114 killed on Michigan Highways in 1964, or 247 more than 1963. There is no measure for human life and suffering but the actual dollar cost of the state's traffic accidents are now more than $1 million per day.

LAST WEEK the big maintenance problem was with water and washouts. High winds over the weekend brought some trees and limbs down into roads. Freezing temperatures brought a temporary end to water and spring break-up problems.

Some load limits were put on a few county roads and thawing weather would bring on a general application of limits to all county roads.

Pre-sorting by ZIP code still 2 years off for bulk 2nd, 3rd class mailers

Bulk second and third class mailers will have nearly two years—until Jan. 1, 1967—before they are required to be pre-sorting their mail by ZIP Code, Postmaster General A. Gronouski has announced.

Regulations requiring pre-sorting by bulk mailers were first established nearly 40 years ago. The application of ZIP Code to these regulations is the first ma-

For change since the regulations were established.

THE NEW ruling covers newspapers, magazines and periodicals in the second class category, and advertising matter, books and certain types of merchandise in third class.

A total of 275,000 mail users fall into these two categories. Combined, they generate annually more than 27 billion pieces of mail—39 per cent of the 70 billion pieces processed during the past fiscal year by the Post Office Department.

PURPOSE OF the ruling is twofold, the postmaster general explained at a Washington Conference of the Direct Mail Advertising Assn.:

- 1) To eliminate the sorting that otherwise would have to be done at the post office of origin.

Virtually all of this mail will flow into the postal stream without entering the originating post office.

"Today the motto is, 'serve yourself.' Now people select their own food in supermarkets, flock to self-service department stores and drug stores, park their own cars and operate their own elevators.

"THE DAYS of the carriage trade are over. The age of self-service is upon us.

"Today, the revolution of self-service has caught up with the Post Office Department, and the decision is mine whether to ignore it or to accept it as a welcome opportunity. "Either way the decision must be made—and it must be made now."

IF THE Department failed to take this step, Gronouski said, service would deteriorate and rate would climb drastically.

"In other words," he said, "you, the American mailer, would be paying more and enjoying it less.

"I cannot allow this to happen. If I did, you would be the first to say I had failed in my public trust—and you would be right. My responsibility is to provide the best possible service at the lowest possible cost, and I intend to fulfill that responsibility."

MANDATORY pre-sorting by

ZIP Code for second and third-class mailers is being accomplished by administrative action. Gronouski said the department is drafting legislation to require pre-sorting by all large volume mailers, including first-class.

"We will be in a good position," he said, "to handle any volume of business mail this nation can generate—and handle it speedily, efficiently and economically."

The family black sheep was at one time the petted lamb.

Name 2 to Vets' trust fund unit

Forest Conley Jr. of Fowler and Timothy Green of St. Johns have been appointed as representatives on the Clinton County Veterans Trust Fund Committee.

Annual Tax Sale

SCHEDULE "A" Taxes for 1962 and Prior Years

STATE OF MICHIGAN, In the Circuit Court for the County of Clinton

In the Matter of the Complaint of Billie S. Farnum, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

On reading and filing the complaint of the Auditor General of the State of Michigan praying for a judgment in favor of the State of Michigan, against such parcel of land hereinafter described, for the amounts therein specified, claimed to be due for taxes, interest and charges assessed thereon, and that such lands be sold for the amounts so claimed by the State of Michigan.

It is Ordered that said Complaint will be brought on for hearing and judgment at the March term of this Court, to be held at St. Johns, in the County of Clinton, State of Michigan, on the 8th day of March A.D. 1965 at the opening of the Court, and that all persons interested in such lands or any part thereof desiring to contest this hearing, should appear by the State of Michigan, for such taxes, interest and charges, or any part thereof, at the hearing in said Court, and file with the clerk thereof their objections thereto on or before the first day of the term of the Court above mentioned, and that in default thereof the same will be taken as confessed and a judgment will be taken and entered as prayed for in said Complaint.

It is further ordered that in pursuance of the Michigan Tax Code, interest and charges thereon shall be made, will be sold for the several taxes, interest and charges thereon as determined by such judgment, on the first Tuesday of said March, beginning at 10 o'clock a.m. on said day, or on the day or days subsequent thereto as may be necessary to complete the sale of said lands and of each and every parcel thereof, at the office of the County Treasurer, or such convenient place as shall be selected by him at the county seat of the County of Clinton, State of Michigan, and that the sale then and there made will be a public sale and each parcel described in the judgment shall be separately exposed for sale for the total taxes, interest and charges, and the sale shall be made to the person paying the full amount charges against such parcel, and accepting a conveyance of the smallest undivided simple interest therein, and the person who will pay the taxes and charges and take a conveyance of less than the entire interest, then the taxes and charges shall be offered and sold if any parcel of land cannot be sold for taxes, interest and charges, such parcel shall be passed over for the time being and shall, on the succeeding day, or before the close of the sale, be re-offered, and if, on such second offering, or during such sale, the same cannot be sold for the amount assessed, the County Treasurer shall set off the same in the name of the State.

Witness the Honorable Leo W. Corbin, Circuit Judge, and the Seal of the Circuit Court of Clinton County, this 8th day of January A.D. 1965.

LEO W. CORBIN, Circuit Judge.

Countersigned, Paul Wakefield, Clerk.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, In the Circuit Court for the County of Clinton

In the Matter of the Complaint of Billie S. Farnum, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Clinton:

1. That he is the Auditor General of the State of Michigan, and files this Complaint under the provisions of Act No. 236 of the Public Acts of 1951, amended by Act No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1953 as amended.

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county for the years mentioned therein, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said County heretofore sold for taxes assessed thereon, and the name of the person to whom the same were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the description of all lands in said county which are delinquent for any installment of taxes due thereon, and the provisions of the act last above mentioned.

3. That extended separately in said schedule against each parcel of land the total amount of delinquent taxes, interest and charges thereon, and the amount of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, the interest, computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, to a collection fee of four per cent on the total amount of taxes, interest and charges, with the provisions of the act first above mentioned.

4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges and delinquent and unpaid and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize the sale of the same provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which such taxes, interest and charges extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the non-payment thereof, and the interest, computed thereon, and the expenses and costs extended in said schedule against each parcel of land described therein, constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which said taxes, interest and charges may be enforced as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your plaintiff prays:

a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and adjudge that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges, and valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended.

b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final judgment in favor of the State of Michigan, for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest and charges, and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land.

c. That said judgment provide that in default of the payment so ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said land in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest therein as may be necessary to satisfy the amount adjudged against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides.

d. That your plaintiff may have such other and further relief as the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable.

And your plaintiff will ever pray, etc.

Dated: December 31, 1964.

BILLIE S. FARNUM, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

Riley Township Supervisor Willard Krebel shakes hands with Lt. Gov. William Milliken at a reception for the state official preceding the Lincoln Day Banquet last Thursday evening at the Congregational Church in St. Johns. Mrs. Milliken stands next to her husband, and Andrew Cobb of Elsie is at right.

Milliken speaks at GOP banquet

With his forecast of Republican gains in the 1966 Michigan elections, Lieutenant-Governor William G. Milliken received an enthusiastic response from Clinton County GOP faithful at their annual Lincoln Day Dinner at the First Congregational Church of St. Johns last Thursday night.

Milliken paid tribute to Abraham Lincoln as "a man of good will" who had the capacity to "think anew and act anew" in times of change.

He said Republicans must base their coming efforts on these principles:

1. DIGNITY of the individual, regardless of race, color or creed.

2. Recognition of individual initiative and responsibility.

3. Fiscal integrity and efficiency in government.

4. The inherent capacity of local government to solve community problems wherever possible.

LAWRENCE G. Sexton, St. Johns, served as toastmaster for the banquet and program which attracted nearly 200 people. Guests and party officials were introduced by Andrew W. Cobb, Elsie, new Republican county chairman.

Mrs. W. F. Graef, president of the Clinton County Republican Women's Club, spoke briefly thanking her associates for their help in staging the Lincoln Day affair.

Two vocal solos were sung by Mrs. Theresa Sisson, accompanied by Mrs. B. A. Diebert.

SPECIAL presentations were made to Mrs. Leo W. Corkin, retiring vice chairman of the county Republican Committee and a former member of the Republican State Central Committee; to Mrs. Ink White, wife of the former county chairman; and to Ink White, retiring county chairman.

The Clinton County GOP Girls were assistant hostesses for the meeting. Miss Christine Zeebled the pledge of allegiance and Mrs. George Brooks was accompanist for the singing of the national anthem.

The Rev. Gerald Churchill, minister of the First Congregational Church, said the invocation and the benediction.

Senior citizens will discuss service goals

About 60 persons were present at the meeting of Senior Citizens, Feb. 9.

The group went on record as favoring the Bow Bill for medical care for the aging in preference to the Medicare Bill which is tied to social security. Under the Bow Bill everyone over 65 years of age is eligible and it would cover millions not now covered by social security. Each person would receive a certificate worth $150 with which to buy any form of insurance they desire, in any company they prefer.

Miss Betty Ketcham made an appearance and announced that at the meetings on March 9 and 23 a representative from the National Heart Association will be present to explain to older persons with heart trouble how to take better care of themselves.

THE FEB. 23 meeting will be important as Floyd Wallace, field administrator of the Michigan Commission on Aging, and Arden Peterson, Michigan State University's 4-H director, will be present to discuss the Senior Service Corps' goals, among which are to make better use of senior citizens' abilities and, in turn to provide better service for every older person. They would like to use St. Johns as an experimental laboratory, using the university staff and facilities to help plan more and better programs throughout the state.

An invitation is extended to members of the board of supervisors, their wives, and anyone else interested in the program.

The meeting will be held at the VFW Hall with potluck at noon. Bring table service and a dish to pass.

Driver educators ask 17 as minimum driving age

A resolution to raise the minimum driving age to 17 has been passed by the Michigan Driver Education Assn., a department of the Michigan Education Assn. In passing the resolution, the MDEA, whose members are high school driver education teachers, stated that 16-year-old drivers cannot be expected to cope with the complexities of present-day driving conditions.

In conjunction with the resolution, MDEA is also backing a move to teach driver education classes in the 11th grade instead of the 10th grade as is currently being done.

THE MDEA also went on record as favoring a state requirement that students who have completed driver education courses drive with a parent or guardian for at least three months before receiving their permanent licenses.

In addition, the association has endorsed the recommendations made by Gov. George W. Romney's Special Commission on Traffic Safety. These recommendations include: requiring all begining drivers, adults as well as youths, to complete a driver education course; adding 200 troopers to the staff of the Michigan State Police; increasing state payments to schools for driver education courses; raising driver license fees to pay for the increase in school payments; and requiring all driver education teachers to have at least 20 semester hours of college training in special driver education courses.

OTHER recommendations affecting driver education programs include: a provision that driver education for students under 18 be provided only in schools offering a high school diploma program and conducting a driver education course approved by the State Department of Public Instruction; that driver education courses include 40 hours of classroom instruction plus six hours of actual driving instruction; and that the State Department of Public Instruction employ special consultants to evaluate driver education programs taught by schools.
