Hart, Idzkowski, Stachel figure in F-M shuffle

Kermit M. Hart, Federal Mogul plant manager in St. Johns, has been named manufacturing manager of the entire Federal-Mogul-Bower Bearings, Inc.

In his new position, Hart will direct the manufacturing operations of F-M's five plants at St. Johns, Greenville, Ann Arbor, Cleveland, Ohio; and Mooresville, Ind.

Announcement of Hart's new responsibilities followed the appointment last week of William C. Robertson as general manager of the company's Bearings Company of America Division, Robertson, a former St. Johns Division manager, was manufacturing chief of the F-M Division.

PROMOTION OF Hart was accompanied by a shuffle in management at the St. Johns Division and the appointment of Edward A. Idzkowski, 42, plant engineer here for the past 12 years, as manager of the local operation.

Idzkowski's successor as plant engineer is Charles Stachel, 34, who has been associated with the engineering department at St. Johns since 1959.

Tribute to Hart

Kermit M. Hart, departing manager of the St. Johns Division of Federal-Mogul, is featured in Once Over Lightly on Page 2-B.

While Hart's new work will eventually take him to the Detroit area, the family plans to make their home here until June or later. Mr and Mrs Hart live at 804 W. Park Street. They are the parents of two sons, Dale, a dental student at the University of Detroit, and Dennis, a 6th grader in the St. Johns public schools.

HART'S successor as St. Johns Division manager joined Federal-Mogul as an aide in the Standards Department in 1951. He became an engineering assistant a year later and was named plant engineer in 1953.

He is a native of Gary, Ind., and served for three years in the U. S. Air Force during World War II. He was awarded his engineering degree from Michigan State University in 1950 and worked briefly with the Emco-Berrick Equipment Co. at Houston, Texas, before coming to St. Johns with Federal-Mogul.

Ovid-Elsie bond issue election Tuesday

Voters in the new Ovid-Elsie Area Schools district will decide Tuesday on two bond issues for construction of new facilities and on another two issues for mutual assumption of debts.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesday at both district precincts. Voters in the old Elsie district and in the former Bannister district will vote at the Elsie High School; those in the old Ovid district will vote at Ovid High School.

THE BIG ISSUE is a $2.6 million building program issue that would provide for the construction of a new high school, additions to the E. E. Knight Elementary School in Elsie and the Ovid Elementary School, construction of a new elementary building in Ovid and conversion of the present high schools in Ovid and Elsie for use as junior highs.

That is on one ballot. A second separate ballot is for a $200,000 bond issue for construction of swimming pool and for grading and laying out of a football field, baseball field, two softball fields

EDWARD A. IDZKOWSKI New St. Johns Manager

CHARLES A. STACHEL Named Plant Engineer

The Idzkowskis live at 1497 Wildcat Road. They were married in 1951. She is the former Jane Anderson of Stambaugh, Mich. They have five daughters — Christine, Barbara, Joan, Elizabeth and Rebecca. The last two are twins, born seven minutes apart on Feb. 9 and 10 of this year.

DAUGHTERS APPEAR to be ascendant in the Federal-Mogul local management. There are also five in the family of Plant Engineer and Mrs Charles Stachel — Rachel, Jeanne, Lisa, Mary and Caroline. They live at 609 S. Kibbee Street.

Both parents are natives of Lansing. She is the former Mary Margaret St. Pierre and they were married in 1952, shortly before he began a two-year hitch in the US Army Artillery. He continues to be a Captain in the inactive Army Reserve.

Stachel graduated from the MSU school of engineering in 1952. He worked for Reniger Construction Co. and Oldsmobile in Lansing before joining Federal-Mogul's engineering department in 1959.

Cooper nominee

EAGLE — John Cooper was named candidate for village president of Eagle at the village caucus Feb. 15, not John Smith as reported in last week's paper. William Monmie also was named as candidate for trustee instead of Elaine VanDriesen.

CLINTON'S NINE delegates to the convention were divided between the caucuses of the 3rd and 6th congressional district. Mrs Delores Warner of DeWitt was chosen as secretary of the latter district caucus.

The Clinton delegation supported Gov. Romney in his successful effort to block a movement which would have put Republicans on record as unfavorable to a state income tax without a statewide referendum.

Mr Elly Peterson of Charlotte was elected Republican state chairman at the convention. She succeeds Arthur G. Elliott of Bloomfield Hills. Chosen as state vice chairman was William McLoughlin of St. Clair Shores.

THE 2.6 mills would be assessed for only one year, however.

THE NEW high school, the big project, will be located at the corner of Colony and Hollister Roads in Duplain Township, about halfway between Ovid and Elsie.

Approval of all four ballots would result in a total tax levy for debt purposes of less than eight mills, school officials said.

Her book, "Gimmicks Make Money in Retailing," was published by Fairchild Publications in 1963 and reprinted in 1964. Among Fairchild papers she has written for regularly during the last six years are Supermarket News, Footwear News, Women's Wear Daily, Daily News Record, Metalworking News, Electronic News, Home Furnishings Daily and Drug News Weekly.

HER WORK HAS appeared in magazines such as Ford Times, and Popular Gardening and in newspapers including the Bay City Times and the Milwaukee Journal. Syndicates using her articles include Central Press, UPI and Religious News Service.

In addition to her writing during her spare time, Mrs Minsky and her three oldest children have modeled for trade and fashion magazines. Last fall she did considerable modeling for an agency filming the 1965 line of cars for a leading automobile manufacturer.

Cobb on State Central group

Andrew W. Cobb of Elsie was named to a two-year term on the Republican State Central Committee at last weekend's state convention of the party in Lansing.

Cobb was chosen as one of four members of the state committee representing the 3rd congressional district. He is a former State Representative and is chairman of the Clinton County Republican Committee.

Co-op directors attend institute

Clyde Pearson, R. G. Hyde, Don Puetz and Warren Coffman, board members from the St. Johns Co-operative attended the Cooperative Directors Institute at Chesaning.

A training program for directors, the Institute is sponsored by the Michigan Assn. of Farmer Cooperatives in cooperation with Michigan State University. Directors for Michigan's 300 co-operatives, serving more than 240,000 members were invited to attend.

Cheboygan woman new C of C secretary

The St. Johns Chamber of Commerce has hired Mrs John Minsky of Cheboygan as its secretary, filling a vacancy of over three months.

Mrs Minsky is presently secretary of the Cheboygan Chamber of Commerce, a post she has held there for three years. She will start work here about April 1.

CHAMBER President Bernard Feldpausch, in announcing the appointment of Mrs Minsky, noted that she is the author of a number of books and magazine articles concerning promotional work for businesses, business organizations such as the chamber of commerce, and other groups.

Her book, "Gimmicks Make Money in Retailing," was published by Fairchild Publications in 1963 and reprinted in 1964. Among Fairchild papers she has written for regularly during the last six years are Supermarket News, Footwear News, Women's Wear Daily, Daily News Record, Metalworking News, Electronic News, Home Furnishings Daily and Drug News Weekly.

In addition to her writing during her spare time, Mrs Minsky and her three oldest children have modeled for trade and fashion magazines. Last fall she did considerable modeling for an agency filming the 1965 line of cars for a leading automobile manufacturer.

UNTIL HER resignation from the Cheboygan Chamber of Commerce, Mrs Minsky served as vice president of the Cheboygan County Community Chest, secretary of the Cheboygan Industrial Action Committee and secretary of the Cheboygan County ARA Committee.

She was a member of the Cheboygan County Safety Council and the Cheboygan Industrial Prospect Finding Committee, which works with Central Michigan University's Department of Economic Expansion.

She is a member of the Chamber and Association Executives of Michigan. She was also a 4-H Club leader and secretary-treasurer of the Cheboygan Robinhood Club, an archery club.

HER HUSBAND has taught for

MRS JOHN MINSKY Coming from Cheboygan

the past three years at Mackinac City High School. Prior to that he was a cost accountant for Charmin Paper Products. He owns and operates "Archery-Land," a summer tourist target range and shop at Mackinac City.

The Minsky's have four children, Gregory 10, Jennifer 8, Kenneth 7 and Jack 3. Mr and Mrs Minsky reportedly plan to work toward master's degrees at Michigan State University by attending night classes.

THE ST. JOHNS Chamber of Commerce has been screening seven applicants for the job, which opened up when former secretary Percy Abrams resigned the first of November. Mrs Minsky and her husband are presently looking for housing. They plan to move here the latter part of March or the first part of April.

Girl Scout cookie sale starts Friday

Girl Scouts in the St. Johns area will be conducting their annual cookie sale starting this Friday.

Mrs John Paradise of St. Johns is in charge. She said girls from 11 troops in St. Johns, Maple Rapids and Eureka will be making house-to-house calls and offering a selection of five different kinds of cookies.

PROCEEDS WILL go toward providing expense money for operating three Girl Scout camps — Wacousta, Camp Deer Trails at Harrison and Camp Hunter Lake at Greenville — as well as several day camps. A total of 18 3/4 cents of each box will go for this purpose.

Another 2 cents per box will remain with the local troops.

$2.75 millions for project at St. Johns plant

A $2.75 million expansion program for the St. Johns plant of Sealed Power Corporation was announced this week by Paul C. Johnson of Muskegon, president of the company.

An addition to the east of the present factory structure on West State Street will nearly triple Sealed Power's present floor space and provide eventual employment for an additional 100 people, Johnson said. The company presently supplies jobs to 171 in the community.

Construction is scheduled to begin about April 1 and is to be completed by late summer. Equipping the new plant space will extend into 1966, says Lawrence G. Sexton, manager of the St. Johns operation.

When the program is completed next year it will provide a 25 per cent increase in piston ring production capacity.

SEALED POWER'S expansion comes only eight months after the $3 million plant addition announced last June by Federal-Mogul-Bower Bearings, another of the city's major industries.

The F-M plant is nearing completion and should be ready for occupancy by late spring. It is estimated that new employment there will reach 100 or more.

Sealed Power's announcement was hailed by community leaders this week who saw in it another boost for the local economy. "We're grateful that Sealed Power has chosen St. Johns for their expansion. Management and employees can be assured of our continued cooperation and good will," said Mayor Jack Smit.

Bernard Feldpausch, St. Johns Chamber of Commerce president, expressed the appreciation of his organization to the company. "It's great news for the future of the community," said Feldpausch.

Sealed Power built its original plant here in 1946 and constructed major additions in 1956 and 1961.

THE NEW expansion to the local plant calls for the erection of 61,000 square feet of space, adjoining the present structure to the east. A loading dock will project from the northeast corner of the new building and will be serviced by a roadway along the east property line.

Parking area for employees' cars will be provided on property owned by the company, west of the factory building, just across the city limits in Bingham Township.

When the proposed addition is completed the factory building will cover 93,700 square feet. The addition will encompass the latest designs in modern manufacturing construction and will blend in well with the present structure, says Lawrence G. Sexton, plant manager.

FIRST DEFINITE word of the St. Johns expansion was revealed in an advance news release of the company president's annual report to stockholders.

The report shows 1964 net sales totaling in excess of $41 million, up more than 10 per cent over the previous year. Earnings reached $3,666,907, exceeding last year's record high by 34 per cent. Per share earnings were $2.85 for the year as compared with $2.19 in 1963, adjusted for a 3-for-2 stock split in 1964.

St. Johns says thanks

Business, professional and industrial firms in St. Johns express their appreciation for Sealed Power's confidence in the Clinton area in an advertisement on Page 1-B. See Page 2-B for editorial comment.

Company President Johnson said that largest sales gains for the year were made in the original equipment market. "The major portion of this improvement reflects the further adoption of our stainless steel oil control piston ring by automobile producers on additional engines and makes of cars," Johnson said.

SEALED POWER first introduced this patented oil ring to the trade in 1956. It was installed in more engines for passenger cars than all other oil rings combined in 1964, Johnson reported.

The company's replacement sales reached an all-time high

LAWRENCE G. SEXTON Local Sealed Power Manager

for the 10th consecutive year. This market accounted for approximately 55 per cent of Sealed Power's dollar sales volume in 1964, according to the report. The company now has 7,792 outlets selling their products in the United States.

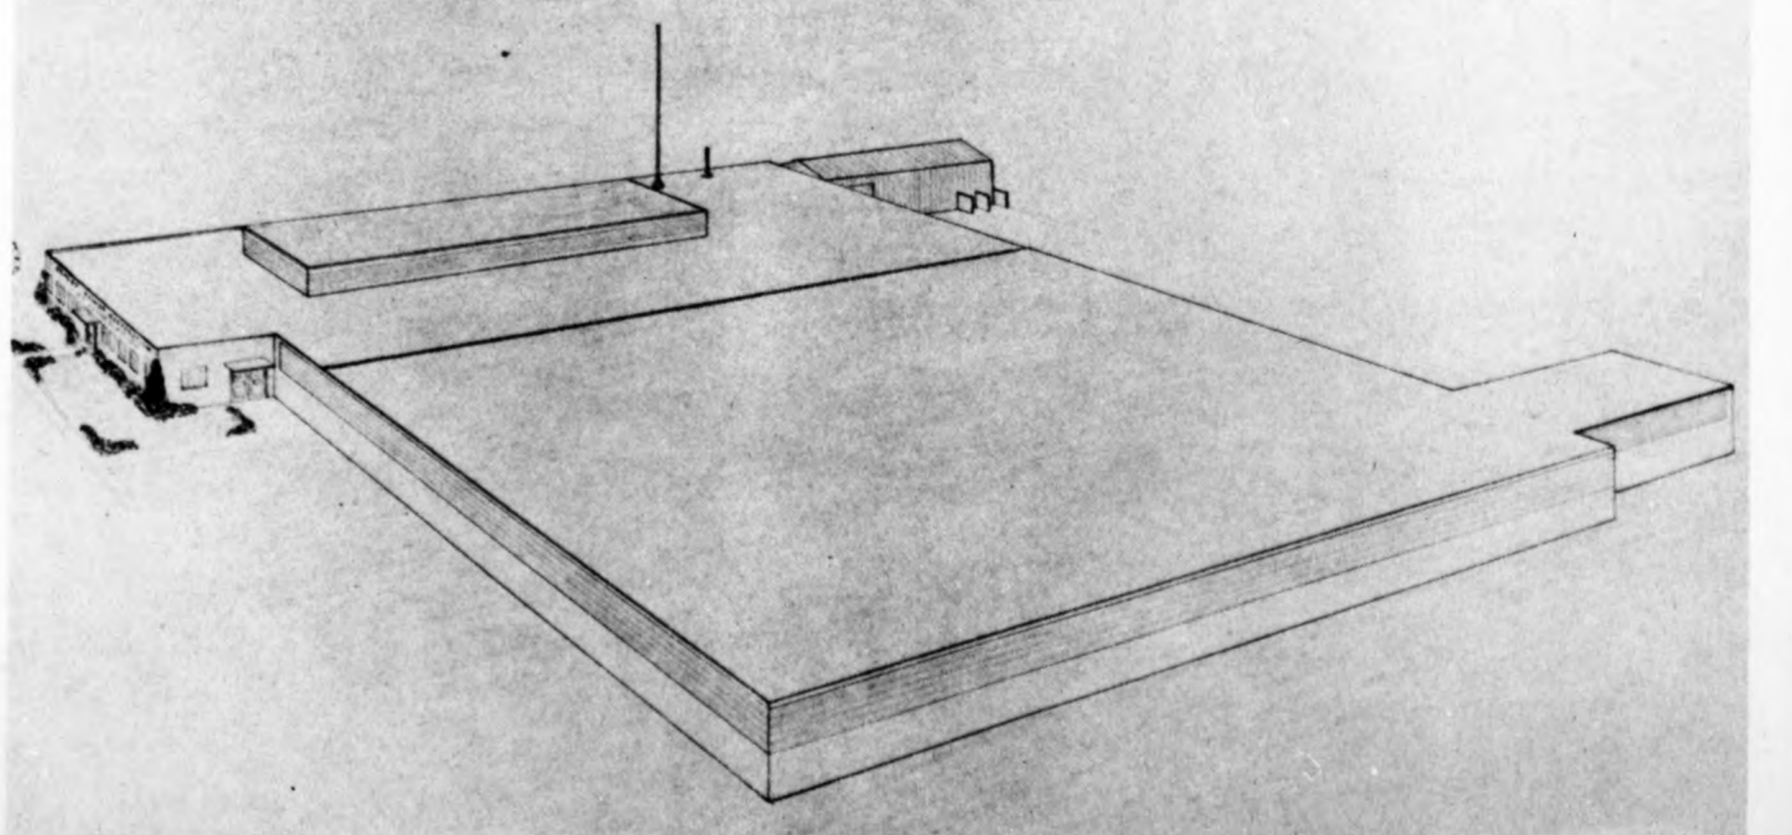

Operation of the company's subsidiaries in Canada and Mexico account for about 10 per cent of total sales and earnings.

THAT SEALED Power has enjoyed its cordial relationship with the Clinton area was revealed in a statement from Paul C. Johnson, company president, in announcing the proposed expansion.

"Although this portion of our increased production needs and expansion plans logically belongs to St. Johns, we are happy to make this additional investment in your community for other reasons as well," he said. "We are most appreciative of the cooperation we have received from the community as a whole, and our employees in particular."

Inspector begins fire checks

Paul Bishop of 1011 Church Street has been appointed St. Johns Fire Inspector and has begun work on a part-time basis. City Manager Ken Greer announced the appointment last week.

Bishop, who works at Federal-Mogul, is also a member of the St. Johns Volunteer Fire Department. He will be paid on an hourly basis as fire inspector.

GREER AND Bishop asked for the cooperation of St. Johns businessmen when Bishop calls to check a building for fire hazards. Greer pointed out the inspections are for the good of the building owner and for his neighbors and the entire city.

Bishop will check several buildings each week, with plans being to cover all those in the downtown area first and then the outlying commercial buildings. When all buildings have been inspected, the cycle will be started again.

BISHOP will leave with each building owner or proprietor a copy of his check list, on which will be noted any violations of the city's fire prevention code that were found. The owner will be expected to see that any violations are taken care of before the next visit.

Another copy of the check list will go to Fire Chief Clare Maier.

65 city's new retirement age

The St. Johns city commission passed a resolution last week making age 65 the mandatory retirement age for employees reaching that age on or after July 1.

By passing the resolution, the city took an option in the state law that gives cities the choice of setting the retirement age at 65. The state mandatory retirement age is 70.

Persons whose continued employment would be regarded as being in the best interest of the city can be retained after age 65 by passage of individual resolutions.

Sealed Power honors 14

Sealed Power Corp. honored 14 local employees Feb. 13 at a service award dinner at Walker's Cafe. The 14 were honored for 10 and 15 years of service to the company.

Honored for 10 years service achieved during 1963 were James Salters and Charles Fox; and for 15 years service during 1964 were John Fedewa, Kenneth Speerbrecker, Robert Wilbur, Henry George, Donald Messer, John Swanchara, Lyman VanSickle, Donald Findlay and Stella Ostrowski.

HONORED FOR 15 years service during 1964 were Max Barrett, Keith Kimball and Joseph Plaza.

The awards were made by Gordon E. Reynolds, Sealed Power executive vice president, and Larry Sexton, St. Johns plant manager. Guest speaker for the dinner was Frederick M. Lewis, St. Johns attorney.

Toastmaster was Robert Gill. Sexton made introductions and Reynolds made several remarks before the awards were made. The Rev. Gerald Churchill of the St. Johns Congregational Church gave the invocation and benediction.

Believe 2 car fires arson jobs; man arrested

Two car fires near Park Lake early Saturday morning were believed to have been deliberately set, according to state police.

Police controlled a blaze in the front seat of a car owned by Donald B. Redmond of 15207 Rickard Lane, Bath, which was parked near Park Lake. Bath Township Firemen arrived and put the fire out. A cement block also had been thrown through the rear window of the car. Fire damage was concentrated around the driver's seat. The fire was reported about midnight.

ABOUT TWO hours later, the Bath department was called again by James McAttee, when the car at his home at 6550 Jackson Court was discovered afire. Again, damage was mostly to the driver's seat.

Later Saturday state police arrested Jerry A. McAttee, 23, of the same address on a charge of arson in connection with the fire in Redmond's car.

McATTEE WAIVED examination before DeWitt Township Justice of the Peace Gordon Will-young and was bound over to Clinton County Circuit Court. He was being held in Clinton County Jail in lieu of $1,000 bond.

The same mode of operation was used to set fire to two cars last November in the Park Lake area, police reported.

Wheels in motion on final phase of city water program

The wheels are well in motion on the last phase of St. Johns' $850,000 water improvement program. Bids were opened last Tuesday on three separate projects in connection with a water treatment plant north of the old water tower.

The bids were taken under study by the water project engineers, Ayres, Lewis, Norris and May. They will report with their recommendations to the city commission at its March 2 meeting.

THE engineers told City Manager Ken Greer the bids seemed to be very good, and low bids totaled out to between $34,000 and $53,000 less than earlier estimates of the cost.

The low bids were $433,566 for the plant (an additional $19,000 if extra automated equipment being considered is added), $31,832 for water mains from the wells to the plant and a sludge line out of the plant, and $38,231 for a 400,000-gallon ground-level storage tank at the plant site.

THE LOW bids totaled $503,629, or $522,629 if the extra equipment is added. Original estimates on the cost of the work was $556,000.

Feb. 27 deadline for buying plates

Late license plate shoppers—those who still don't have 1965 plates—will be able to shop until 8 p.m. this Saturday (Feb. 27) or until everyone in line has been served.

Secretary of State James M. Hare has informed the more than 200 branch offices of the secretary of state that Saturday is the deadline to buy plates, and to stay open late for the convenience of last-minute plate shoppers.

The 1965 licensing year becomes official on Monday, March 1, and all cars must show new plates. Hare reminded motorists that they can bring either their titles or prior year's registration when they buy their plates.

Water consumption in St. Johns reached an all-time high of 408,815,300 gallons in 1964. With the exception of 1950 and 1962, every year showed an increase over the previous one. Industrial consumption hit 181,662,200 gallons in 1963 and then backed off a bit last year. Its biggest jump was from 40,676,200 gallons in 1959 to 113,526,100 gallons in 1960.

There is no problem with either of these wells being able to deliver this designed figure. Testing of the gasoline (emergency) engines showed an ability to pump up to 700 gallons per minute and easily able to deliver 450 gallons per minute.

"Our engineers are well pleased with these test runs, and first samples show little, if any, well sand in the water. Samples have been taken and submitted to the State Health Department. Once they are tested for bacteria and approved, these wells can be used as needed.

IF THE commission approves any of the bids March 2 after hearing engineers recommendations, construction at the plant can probably begin by the first of April.

Other phases of the water improvement program have been the construction of a new water tower, installation of some new mains and drilling of two new wells. The wells, located on West Gibbs Street, were tested about two weeks ago and were satisfactory to engineers.

Electric motors will be used to pump the water, and the tests showed they were capable of delivering the 450 gallons each per minute that specifications called for.

"TESTING UNDER prolonged runs will be made at a later date," Greer said, "but our engineers in 1964 the total was 408,815,300. The daily average in 1946 was only 280,379 gallons; in 1964 the average was 1,120,041 gallons.

Industrial consumption was 26,266,100 gallons back in 1951, and it has increased to 174,964,500 last year, although it was 181,662,200 in 1963. Industrial consumption varied in percentage of the total pumped from 20 per cent in 1951, 1955 and 1956 to 52 per cent in 1963. It was 43 per cent last year.

The accompanying table shows the relative increases.

Cass water main hearing held

Necessity hearings for water main in the 700, 800 and part of the 900 block and sanitary sewer in the 800 and 900 blocks of West Cass Street were held at the city commission meeting last Tuesday.

The commission then directed the assessor to prepare an assessment role for such a project. A public hearing on the assessment role will be held when it is completed. No date was set.

THE assessment resolutions passed in connection with the projects calls for the city to absorb 20 per cent of the cost of the projects. Assessments against property owners may be paid in three yearly installments at a 6 per cent interest rate.

In other business at the city commission meeting, the city rejected several bids for a new end loader and decided instead to have the present one repaired.

Arrangements have been made with the Motorola Radio Co. to move the city's fire radio transmitter and antenna from the old water tower to the new one as soon as weather permits. The move will be done in one day to avoid any long interruption in the vital service.

Girl hit by car on way to school

Katherine Ann Miller, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Miller of R-1, St. Johns, was released from Clinton Memorial Hospital last Friday after a day of hospital care for injuries received when she was hit by a car on her way to school Thursday.

She suffered a cut over the left eye and a bump on the head when she ran from her mother's car into the path of another car driven by Bernard Feldpausch, 40, of R-3, St. Johns.

THE ACCIDENT happened in front of the St. Joseph Catholic Church rectory at 109 Linden Street. Feldpausch had just delivered his children to school there and had started to drive north toward State Street. Katherine got out of her mother's southbound car, crossed in front of it and ran across the street toward the school and into the path of Feldpausch's car. Feldpausch was absolved of blame.

Katherine's injury was the second to a pedestrian in St. Johns in the last three weeks.

Plan dinner to tell of program for retarded

A special informational meeting concerning the program of work at the Woodhaven School for mentally handicapped children will be held Tuesday night, March 2, at the Waverly Junior High School, 3131 W. Michigan Avenue in Lansing.

ularly invited are legislators from Ingham, Clinton and Eaton counties, which are served by the schools. Boards of supervisors and other elected officials at the local level are also especially invited.

"There is a need to involve county officials, boards of supervisors, local agencies and organizations in obtaining strong local support," Mrs Lear said in a letter to Watertown Township Supervisor Ernest Carter.

The Woodhaven School, formerly the Grove School, is located on Stoll Road west of Grove Road in Watertown Township.

MRS GEORGE Lear, executive director of the Greater Lansing Assn. for Retarded Children, issued the invitation to any persons who are interested. Partic-

Camporee slated at Bath in June

"Follow the Rugged Road" will be the theme of the big Chief Okeanos Council Boy Scout Camporee June 4-6 at Priggooris Park north of Park Lake in Bath Township.

All seven districts of the council will be participating in the "show-type" event. Lewis Moldenhauer of St. Johns is the Chipewewa District camporee "chief."

THE CAMPOREE has three objectives. First, it will provide an adventuresome activity for the boy, an exciting adventure he would not ordinarily experience camping with his patrol, troop or district alone.

It will also stimulate adult Scouters to maintain the highest quality program of camping in preparation for and during the camporee and to help the troop prepare for summer camp. It will also help interpret the program of Scout camping to the public, meaning parents and chartered institutions as well as the public outside the ranks of scouting.

The meeting next Tuesday night will be of an informational nature. It will start with a Bohemian dinner at 6:30, with the program to start at about 8 p.m. Persons are invited to attend the program if they cannot make it to the dinner. Melvin Deekman, director of special education for the Lansing Public Schools, will be moderator.

RESERVATIONS FOR the dinner may be made with Mrs Earl Frederickson, 2823 Cynwood, Lansing. Her Lansing telephone number is 485-9917.

Aging sunlight

Sunlight appears to be a dominant factor in the aging of human skin, says University of Rochester scientists, although declining production of certain hormones also is involved. A study shows that changes induced by the sun on the skin of young people who work outdoors are nearly identical to those associated with aging.

District Supervisors Register for Conference in St. Johns

Some 250 supervisors and board of review members from seven area counties attended the District 6 conference of the Michigan State Assn. of Supervisors in St. Johns Friday. Here some of the latecomers make registration at Smith Hall while the crowd in the background listens to one of several speakers. Almond Cressman, Clinton County supervisor from Olive Township, was in charge of the meeting.

Tryouts set next week for First Nighters play

"The Man Who Came To Dinner" will be the St. Johns First Nighters' second production, and Director Mrs Hila Bross has set next Monday and Wednesday for tryouts for the play.

Tryouts are open to the public, regardless of whether or not persons are members of the First Nighters. Anyone interested is urged by Mrs Bross to be on hand.

TRYOUTS WILL start at 8 p.m. Monday, March 1, at the Senior Citizens Drop-In Center on Railroad Street. On Wednesday, March 3, they'll be held at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the St. Johns Municipal Building. Other dates may be set as the turnout warrants.

"The Man Who Came To Dinner" will be presented May 7 and 8 at the St. Johns High School Auditorium.

THE MALE LEAD for the play is the part of Sheridan Whiteside, a middle-aged, sophisticated

"gentleman" of the world. Other male parts of medium length include: Richard Stanley, a young man in his 20s; John, a middle-aged servant; Mr Stanley, a middle-aged businessman; Dr Bradley, a small-town physician; Bert Jefferson, a small-town newspaperman in his early 30s; and two male character parts, Beverley Carleton, a sophisticated English theater personality in his middle 30s, and Banjo, a Hollywood comic of any age.

Other male parts of shorter duration include those of Westcott, the radio director; Professor Metz, complete with Teutonic accent; two tough convicts; a prison guard; expressman; radio technician; two deputy sheriffs; plainclothesman; and Sandy, the daughter's fiance of about age 20.

THE FEMALE lead is Maggie, a well-turned-out, efficient secretary-type in her 30s; Mrs Stanley, middle-aged "hovering, ineffectual" type; Miss Preen, dedicated frightened nurse; Sarah, the middle-aged servant-type; Lorraine Sheldon, ageless glamorous actress type; June Stanley, about 20, the daughter; Mrs Dexter and Mrs McCutcheon, typical small-town social climbers; and Harriet Stanley, mysterious, wrathful, middle-aged sister of Mr Stanley.

3 youths jailed on liquor, driving, theft charges

Three youths were arrested by county sheriff's Deputies Ramon Terpening and Stanley Kajdas Friday and charged with several liquor and theft violations.

The officers stopped a car driven by Gary L. Fletcher, 19, of 3730 N. East Street (US-27), Lansing, and charged him with being in possession of alcoholic beverages and driving a car on a suspended license.

TWO PASSENGERS, Larry Lee Sampson, 18, of 630 S. Francis, and Jerry Wallace, 17, of 1134 N. Pennsylvania, both of Lansing, were charged with minor in possession and larceny. They were accused of taking two walki-talki units from Tonnemacher's Clark Service Station at the south edge of St. Johns.

Sampson and Wallace waived examination in municipal court on the larceny charge and were bound over for arraignment in circuit court at 1:30 p.m. yesterday (Wednesday). Bond was set at $5,000 each.

MUNICIPAL Judge Alba Wert fined Sampson and Wallace $15 plus $15 costs and sentenced them to two days in jail on the minor in possession charge.

Fletcher, who reportedly was in the car when the theft took place at the service station, was not charged with larceny. He pled guilty to the liquor and driving charges, however. For driving on a suspended license, he was fined $50 plus $19.90 costs, sentenced to jail for two days and placed on probation for one year in the custody of his employer. He was fined $50 plus $15 costs on minor in possession and sentenced to five days in jail. The jail terms ran concurrently.

Calls school expansion 'imperative'

FOWLER — Expansion of Fowler High School is "imperative if we are to accommodate projected enrollment and maintain an adequate curriculum and accreditation," Fowler school Supt. Donald Smith told a public meeting last Thursday night.

The meeting had been called to answer questions concerning an election March 6 when voters will decide on a proposed $270,000 expansion of the high school. The same proposal was turned down 179-169 at the polls last Aug. 29.

THE ADDITIONAL space would provide for enlargement of special areas such as shop, home economics, science, commercial and library, Smith said. In addition, counseling facilities, adequate classrooms, restrooms and storage areas would be made available.

Smith said the existing high school, while designed for 175 students, presently has 190. He said enrollment in 1970 will reach an estimated minimum of 276.

SMITH SAID a $270,000 addition would represent between $2.48 and $2.71 per $1,000 state equalized valuation to finance it. Total millage needed to retire current indebtedness and the cost of expansion would be less than 6.5 mills, based on existing district valuation, Smith said.

Clintonaires plan spring activities

The Clintonaires, Clinton County's Extension Chorus, met Monday evening, Feb. 15, with Mrs Al Northouse of 608 West Walker.

Plans were made for the spring activities of the club, which include a program for a Lenten service to be given April 4 and Spring Achievement for the Home Study groups of Clinton County.

After a social hour a dessert luncheon was served by the hostess.

Plan testing of DeWitt siren

DeWITT — DeWitt's new triple-toned fire, civil defense and tornado warning siren will undergo testing the latter part of this week, civil defense Director Charles Frost announced.

Wiring is reported nearly done as of Tuesday. Reinforcing of the siren tower and raising of the siren into place on the tower remained to be done.

Testing of the siren was expected the latter part of the week.

Hold pair on burglary charges

Two Lansing men are being held in Clinton County Jail after being charged with burglary of the Walter Eaton home at 6110 Coleman Road in southern Bath Township.

Alexander Lambo, 37, of 709 W. Saginaw Street, and Robert J. Darcy, 27, of 515 S. Clemens Avenue are scheduled for examination before DeWitt Justice of the Peace Gordon Willyoung Friday at 9:30 a.m.

THEY HAVE been in Clinton County Jail under $10,000 bond each since last Wednesday night when they demanded examination. They are charged with the theft of $2,000 worth of cameras and uncirculated coins, plus a revolver, from the Eaton home Wednesday morning.

Lambo was also charged with possession of marijuana, which was found on him when his car was stopped for speeding on I-96 near Williamston. State police who stopped him searched the car when they heard a police radio broadcast concerning a car, matching the description of Lambo's, which was wanted in connection with the burglary.

Announce 26 nursing stipends

The Michigan League for Nursing has announced 26 competitive nursing scholarships for 1965 high school graduates.

Applications have been sent to all senior high schools throughout Michigan. Funds for these scholarships are contributed by Michigan Hospital Service (Blue Cross); Department of Michigan, American Legion Auxiliary; Medical Arts of Grand Rapids; individuals and foundations.

Encourage use of state products

In an extraordinary move the Michigan Legislature has passed a resolution encouraging the use of Michigan farm products.

The resolution, co-sponsored by Representative Blair G. Woodman (R-Owosso-87th District), passed unanimously after a suspension of the normal rules. In part it asks "that all Michigan citizens be reminded of the great value of Michigan grown farm products, and encouraged to take advantage of their unmatched flavor and nutrition."

ACCORDING TO Rep. Woodman, "Farming provides employment for a third of our state's citizens and we should do everything possible to encourage the use of outstanding Michigan farm products which include cherries, navy beans, sugar beets and eggs."

"The state can do its part, too, by promoting the purchase and use of these products in state-owned facilities," Rep. Woodman added.

A lie, turned topsy-turvy, can be prinked and tinselled out, decked in plumage new and fine, till none knows its old carcass. — Henrik Ibsen Plates were cleaned up fast and with real gusto last Thursday night at the Chamber of Commerce Town and Country Dinner at the St. Peter's Lutheran Hall in Riley Township. Chicken, the main course, disappeared fast, and the 100 farmers and businessmen enjoyed conversation over the table.

Orientation, testing for rural 8th graders set

Rural eighth graders who expect to attend Rodney B. Wilson High School next year are invited, along with their teachers and parents, to participate in a preliminary orientation meeting at St. Johns High School March 6.

The meeting will be held in the auditorium at 9 a.m. Upon arriving at the high school, all persons are asked to meet in the auditorium for a welcoming by B. Stanley Pocus, high school principal. Announcements and directions for the rest of the morning will be given at that time.

STUDENTS WILL then go to the study hall for about two hours of testing with an abilities test and a reading achievement test designed to give school counselors information to help guide the students in their course selections in the coming years.

During the testing period, teachers and parents are free to do what they wish, but Pocus will be on hand to answer questions about the school and school program and to conduct a tour of the school facilities.

TO COMPLETE the morning, the students, along with parents and teachers, will complete pre-enrollment forms so the students can be enrolled in high school for next year.

"It is hoped that all rural students who anticipate coming to Rodney B. Wilson High School will be present," Albert LeFevre, head counselor, said, "because this orientation helps bridge the gap between eighth grade and high school."

BULLETINS ON the courses of study and requirements for graduation have been sent to the rural schools and will be brought home by individual students.

Mrs. George W. Black will enter Maryvale Hospital in Phoenix, Ariz. this week for surgery. Her room number is 126. The Blacks are spending the winter at the I.D. Trailer Court in Apache Junction, Ariz.

C of C-farmers dinner attended by 100 persons

Nearly 100 St. Johns Chamber of Commerce members and Riley Township farmers got together for a dinner and social evening last Thursday at St. Peter's Lutheran Hall in Riley.

Women of the Lutheran Church put on an old-fashioned country style chicken dinner at 7 p.m. The men then went upstairs in the hall to see a movie on bow and arrow hunting in Alaska.

JUD MARZKE, chairman for the program, had the chamber of commerce members introduce themselves and their Riley guest. Chamber President Bernard Feldpausch spoke briefly on behalf of the chamber, and Leon Schumaker spoke for the Riley men.

Feldpausch recalled the days when farmers were thrashing, and noted the "pushbutton" changes that have occurred in recent years. But he said farmers are still dependent on each other, despite those changes, and city people and farmers are also still dependent on each other, "perhaps more than we've ever been before."

JERRY ANDERSON of Anderson Archery in Grand Ledge was the main speaker, and he talked about bow and arrow hunting. He showed a movie concerning two archery trips to Alaska for hunting the Alaskan brown bear, or Kodiak bear.

After the movie he demonstrated modern archery equipment.

Hospital auxiliary hears MHA director

The Clinton Memorial Hospital Auxiliary Board met Wednesday night, Feb. 17. Roger Busfield, public relations director of the Michigan Hospital Association, gave an address concerning hospitals.

"There are 283 hospitals in Michigan in which over 82,000 persons are employed," he said. "Sixty-seven cents out of every dollar of the payroll stays in the community, and there are 2-1/2 employees for each patient." The hospital is dependent on persons, not machinery, Busfield said, and that beside the paid employees, there are a large number of volunteer workers.

"The volunteer hours, in one year, given by adults, is equivalent to 511 years," he said, "teenage volunteers, 79 years, and auxiliaries 7.80 million hours and over $500,000 to the hospitals in Michigan." Each patient would have larger bills without volunteer labor and volunteer labor is a fringe benefit to a hospital patient, Busfield said.

Family night's speakers named by commission

Wednesday evening family nights during Lent are being planned by the Membership and Evangelism Commission of the First Methodist Church.

A potluck supper will be served each Wednesday at 6:30 p.m., followed by a program. All meetings will close at 8 p.m. or before.

Plans are being made for the pre-school and primary children by Mrs. Carl Bair and for the junior age group by Mrs. Leonard Puetz. The Senior MYF will make their own plans. A nursery will be provided for the very young if it is needed.

Local ministers who will be guest speakers are Rev. Peter Nieuwkoop, March 3; Rev. Gerald Churchill, March 10; Rev. Bruce Srigley, March 17; Rev. Duane Brewbaker, March 24; Rev. Eldon Raymond, March 31; Rev. Hugh Banninga, April 7; and Rev. Norman Crotser, April 14.

Members are urged to bring a friend or their families, especially new families or less active ones.

MR AND MRS RICHARD A. FOX

Donna Rae Piggott, Richard Fox marry

FOWLER—About 400 persons attended the wedding and reception of Donna Rae Piggott, daughter of Mr and Mrs Ronald Piggott of R-1, Fowler, and Richard A. Fox. Mr and Mrs Robert Fox Sr. of R-2, St. Johns, are the parents of the bridegroom.

Rev Edwin Palmer officiated at the double ring ceremony in Holy Trinity Church Saturday, Feb. 6, at 10:30 a.m.

Escorted by her father to an altar which was decorated with pink and white mums, the bride wore a lace gown with a full-tiered skirt which flowed into a tiered chapel train. The gown featured lace, cathedral-slim sleeves. A bouffant veil fell from her French-braid crown adorned with borealis crystals. Her jewelry consisted of a cultured pearl pendant and ear rings, which were gifts from the bridegroom. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

The maid of honor, Janet Biergens, and the bridesmaid, Mrs Charles Howard, sister of the bride, were dressed identically in floor-length gowns of azalea-pink taffeta. Their headdresses consisted of short circular veils secured by cabbage roses and they carried pink and white roses.

The flower girl was Miss Pamela Piggott and ringbearer was Rodney Melvin.

Assisting as best man was a cousin of the bridegroom, Mark Armbrustmacher. The bridegroom's brother, Robert Fox Jr., was groomsmen. Charles Howard, brother-in-law of the bride, assisted in seating the guests.

Mrs Piggott wore a dress of blue lace over taffeta with black accessories to her daughter's wedding. Wearing a blue knit dress with matching accessories was the mother of the bridegroom. Both wore corsages of blue and white carnations.

The Holy Trinity Adult Choir sang during the service, accompanied by Bernita Halfman on the organ.

Following a reception in the parish hall, the newlyweds left on a Northern Michigan wedding trip, for which the bride chose a going-away suit of blue with navy accessories and a white rose corsage.

The couple will reside with the bride's parents.

The bride is a 1964 graduate of Fowler High School. The bridegroom graduated from St. Johns High School in 1963.

Harry L. Pattersons married 60 years

Mr and Mrs Harry L. Patterson of 8249 North Scott Road were feted at a dinner at their residence Sunday for their 60th wedding anniversary which was Thursday, Feb. 18.

Present were their sons and families, Mr and Mrs Dorrence Patterson of St. Johns, and Mr and Mrs Gordon Patterson and Mr and Mrs N. C. Patterson of Bannister.

Harry Patterson was born and raised on the centennial farm where they now reside.

Mrs Huhn hosts Extension Club lesson meeting

Mrs Arnold Huhn entertained the Friendly Neighbors Extension Study Group at her home Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 17, with seven members present.

Chairman, Mrs Lloyd Hopp, conducted the business session. A report was given by council member, Mrs Walter Marten. She said that Achievement Day will be held May 4 and the speaker will be Art Mott.

Mrs Ray Moore and Mrs Wayne Rossow reported on the special interest lesson in zippers and buttonholes. They explained the basic technique in applying zippers and brought a sample of the piped Texas buttonhole.

THE PROJECT lesson on buying and alterations of ready to wear clothing was presented by Mrs Maynard Marten and Mrs Wayne Rossow. In buying ready to wears be sure the garment is cut on the straight grainline of the material, they said and that there is plenty of ease built in the garment for body comfort and movement.

Mrs Earl Flegler and Mrs Carl Light will present the project lesson, Slim and Trim, at the next meeting on March 17. Mrs Ray Moore will be hostess.

MRS JACOB PAUL EAGER

Speak marriage vows in Westphalia rite

WESTPHALIA—Miss Barbara Ann Smith, daughter of Mr and Mrs Leonard J. Smith of Westphalia and Jacob Paul Eager, son of Mr and Mrs Frank Eager of 433 North Homer in Lansing were united in marriage Saturday in a 10 a.m. ceremony at St. Mary's Church in Westphalia.

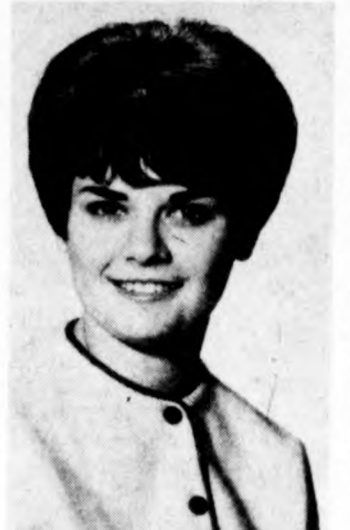

The bride wore a floor-length gown of satin faced peau de soie for the double ring ceremony. Bead work accented the bodice and an empire midriff topped the sheath effect skirt that flared to a fullness in back. A full bouffant veil fell from a butterfly bow which was trimmed with seed pearls.

FLOOR - LENGTH gowns of turquoise peau de sole were worn by the maid of honor, Miss Marie Smith, sister of the bride and the bridesmaids. Misses Gladys Smith and Pamela Eager, sister of the bride and of the groom, respectively. The sheath skirts were designed with empire midriffs, accented by bows. Two floating panels accented the back. Their headdresses were matching pillboxes.

Wayne Casler of Lansing served as best man and the groomsmen were Michael Eager, brother of the groom and Norman Smith, brother of the bride.

ST. MARY'S Parish Hall in Westphalia was the setting for the afternoon reception.

Pomona Grange favors Bow Bill

Clinton County Pomona Grange met with Banner Grange in the Municipal Building in St. Johns Wednesday, Feb. 17. At the morning session several letters were read from senators and representatives, and the State Tax Commission in regard to the resolutions sent them.

Worthy Master Clarence Hill recommended the Bow Bill for medical care for the aging in place of the medicare bill which is tied to social security. Under the Bow Bill everyone over 65 years of age is eligible and it would cover millions not covered by social security now.

AFTER THE report of subordinate granges, Clyde Anderson, an archaeologist of St. Johns, gave a talk about his archaeological collection. He is a member of the Archaeological Society of Ohio and a member of Michigan State Historical Society. He is interested in Indian lore and said that Arizona is the center of this culture.

Pomona Grange will meet with DeWitt Grange Friday, March 26, with a potluck at 7:30 p.m.

Pieter (left), Ann and Herman Verdonk told of some of the differences in Dutch and American customs last week. They are the sons and daughter of Mr and Mrs Remmelt Verdonk of 501 Oak Street, St. Johns.

Ex-Dutch students here compare school life

"Schools in America are different than in Holland," Pieter Verdonk, an Indonesian-born Hollander, said. He spoke quietly as he told about the school in Holland.

"We go for 11 months of the year, six days a week, with Wednesday and Saturday afternoons off. The students are dismissed for four weeks vacation in the summer."

IN HOLLAND, THE students go to grade school until they are 12, then to high school for two years. In high school the students take 18 subjects.

Pieter added, "You can quit school at 12 and go to work or to a trade school. High school there is just as hard as college is here."

Pieter, his sisters Eleanor 8 and Ann 15 and his brother Herman 14, recently moved to St. Johns with their parents, Mr and Mrs Remmelt Verdonk, from Ovid. They live at 501 Oak Street.

THEY LIVED IN Indonesia, where their father was a soldier. There Pieter and Ann were born. But because Mr Verdonk was a soldier, "Sukarno," Ann said, "kicked us out."

Water problem is main theme of Farm Bureau

The increasing problem of a clean and adequate water supply for domestic, agricultural, recreational and industrial uses was the discussion topic led by Byron Kissane at the February meeting of Parker Center Farm Bureau. Mr and Mrs Robert Kissane were hosts for the meeting.

A legislative report by William Kissane included information on proposed legislation on meat inspection, right-to-work laws, and state income tax. Various items on taxes, accidents, traffic jams, gas tax refunds for farmers, and the Michigan Elevator Exchange were given by Lee Ormston in his report. Mrs. Wilbur Brand summarized the activities of the county Farm Bureau women.

Mrs. Lee Ormston conducted a recreational stunt in which all participated, followed by lunch which was served by the hosts.

The next meeting will be held on March 10 at the Albert Schaefer home.

Wedding renews old friendship

ROCHESTER COLONY — Mr and Mrs Jay Dee Washburn and family attended the Hulliberger-Lathrop wedding, Feb. 13, at Grace Brethren Church in Lake Odessa.

During World War II, the groom's parents, Dr and Mrs Lathrop, opened their home in Carlsbad, N. M., to entertain service men. On many occasions Washburn, an officer in the U.S.A.F., was a guest, and a friendship developed between the two families.

After the war, Washburn lost touch with the family and appealed to Washington for information of the family's whereabouts, only to learn that Lathrop had been killed in a plane crash.

Recently a letter was received by the Washburns from Mrs Lathrop informing them of the approaching marriage of her son Robert Henry to Norma Jean Hulliberger of Lake Odessa, and requesting their attendance at the wedding. An acceptance was sent and an old friendship was renewed.

BOWLING

News from Around
St. Johns Area
Bowling Leagues

The Hillbilly 4 and the Bowl-ettes are tied for the lead in the Coffee Cup League after last Thursday's bowling, and they're both 10 full games ahead of the third place Pin Pals. The Saucers had the best day in the league last Thursday, rolling a 602 game and 1675 series. They're in last place, incidentally, but didn't look like it that day. Doris King had the best individual game and series with scores of 193 and 473.

In the Tea Time League, Dorothy Neller had the high single Dan Boncha had 225 and 573 for high game and series for the men, while Harriett Cornwell had a 200 game and Dorothy Hart a 487 series for the women. Other 200 games were rolled by John Petro 221, Ray Peck 204, Elmer Feldpausch 203 and Dick Kuhns 201.

Rose Johnson, Seamstress, has a 2 1/2 game-lead again in the Westphalia Women's League. Frankenmuth Beer had 755 and 2155 game and series to top team scoring last Tuesday, while Flo Lawrence had 179 and 484, best individual scores. Splits didn't seem to be too much of a problem for the Westphalia girls, with four being converted. Marilyn Thelen got the 2-5-7, Ann Pline picked up the 3-5-10, Karen Smith converted the 5-7-9, and Sue Lipinski picked up the 3-7-10.

THE AMERICAN Legion Club rolled the high team game of 861 in the Night Hawk League last Tuesday, but Beck's Farm Market had a 2445 series. Both teams are tied for first place with 66 wins and 34 losses. Harold Benson had a 247 high individual game, while Stan Bunce and William Elliott tied for series honors with scores of 545. Hank Schmid had a 203 game and Bunce had a 214 score.

H and H Lounge has a one-game lead over Jim's Insurance in the Night Owls League. H & H had an 811 high game last Thursday, while Advance Castings rolled a 2317 high series. Jo Rogers' 205 game was high, and Rosie Nuser bowled a 560 high individual series.

THE CREDIT BUREAU team rolled the best game and series—807 and 2199—in the First Nighters League Monday. Carleen Eaton had a 187 high game and a 507 series. Mary Sparks had a 502 series. The Independents and Hub Shopping Center are tied for first place, with Heathmans only a game behind.

Strohs has a big lead over Frechens Tavern in the Capitol League. Strohs had the best game and series Monday with scores of 939 and 2576. Charles Stoddard rolled a 253 high game, and Bill Nelson had a 629 series.

A & M's LEAD THE Kings and Queens League after Sunday. The Pin Missers didn't miss many and took the high game honors with a 725 score, while A & M's had the best series, 1950. For the women, Grace Masarik had a 221 game and 541 series. For the men, Vern Lance rolled 226 and 575.

Valleyside Dairy remains atop the Commercial League after last Tuesday's bowling. Roadhouse, in second place, rolled a 984 high team game and 2841 high series. Bud Warren had a 259 high game, and Ray Peck had a 632 high series. Warren had a 610 series, and Merlin Durbin rolled 617.

BEECHLERS LEAD Houghtons by three games in the Industrial League. Goods rolled a 904 high game and Beechlers a 2534 high series last Wednesday. Tom Beechler had a 223 high game, and Ed Stambersky had a 579 series.

Bee's Chevrolet and Olds has a two-game lead over Dick's Barber Shop in a tight race in the City Classic League. Dick's Barber Shop rolled a 1019 team game, and Cowan's Mercury had a 2836 high series last Thursday. Charles Edwards had a 266 game, and Paul Heller rolled a 608 series. Close behind were Ken Penix with a 604 series and Joe Greer with a 600 series.

JACK PURVIS had high individual game and series with scores of 182 and 466 in the Junior High League last week. The Red Raiders had the high game with a 677 score, and the Munsters rolled a 1718 high series. The Alley Cats are still in first place.

Julie K remains in the lead in the Ten Pin Keglers League. They rolled high game and series with scores of 813 and 2362. Elsie Dickinson, a member of that team, had the high individual series with 561. Iva Kees had the best game with a 207 score, while Shirley Batley picked up a 200 game. Miller's, Tractors post wins

Miller's Tavern and Clinton Tractors posted victories in City Basketball League games last Wednesday night, Miller's by a convincing 97-60 score over Sealed Power and the Tractors by a 66-61 margin over the Bumble Bee's.

Seven players hit in double figures for Miller's a team still unbeaten this year. Clair Fox led the scoring with 20 points, while Bill Werner had 18, Larry Theis 13, Vern Sillman and Jim Farley 12 each and Dan Fox and Bruce George 11 each.

MILLER'S HELD a scoring advantage in each quarter in coasting to their fourth victory in the second half of the season.

Sealed Power got balanced scoring, too, with Hilary Stump hitting for 25, Jerry Stump and Jerry Proctor 12 each, and Jim Proctor 9.

Clinton Tractors rallied in the last quarter of their game with the Bee's to pull out the victory, even though they led much of the way. They led 35-30 at the half but then fell behind in the third quarter.

LYNN SHAFLEY and Doug Japanga scored 13 points each to pace the Tractors, although all the team players scored. Tom White scored 27 and Hub Waite 17 points for Bees.

Score by quarters:

Millers	23	15	31	28	97
Sealed Power	14	13	13	20	60
Tractors	23	12	13	18	66
Bee's	19	11	21	10	61

City Schedule

FEBRUARY 24 — Clinton Tractors vs Miller's Tavern at 8 p.m., Sealed Power vs Bumble Bee's at 8:15.

MARCH 3 — No games scheduled because of high school district tournament.

Fowler upsets St. Pat, 57-53

FOWLER—Roger Conley and Luke Koenigsnecht each had 20 points Friday night as the Fowler Eagles flew to a 57-53 upset of Portland St. Patrick that dropped the Shamrocks into a final tie for first place in the Central Michigan D Conference.

St. Patrick took a 19-12 lead into the second quarter and was hanging on at 30-29 at the half as Fowler began its rally. The Eagles held St. Pats to only four points in the third quarter and took a 43-34 lead.

CLAIR Armbrustmacher scored 9 points, Jim Koenigsnecht 4 and George Spicer and Lee George 2 each to round out the Fowler scoring. Schaffer scored 24 to pace Portland St. Patrick.

Fowler had an 8-7 over-all record after Friday's game, with their final regular-season game to have been played Tuesday night against Fulton.

Big 2nd period boosts Romans to win over P-W

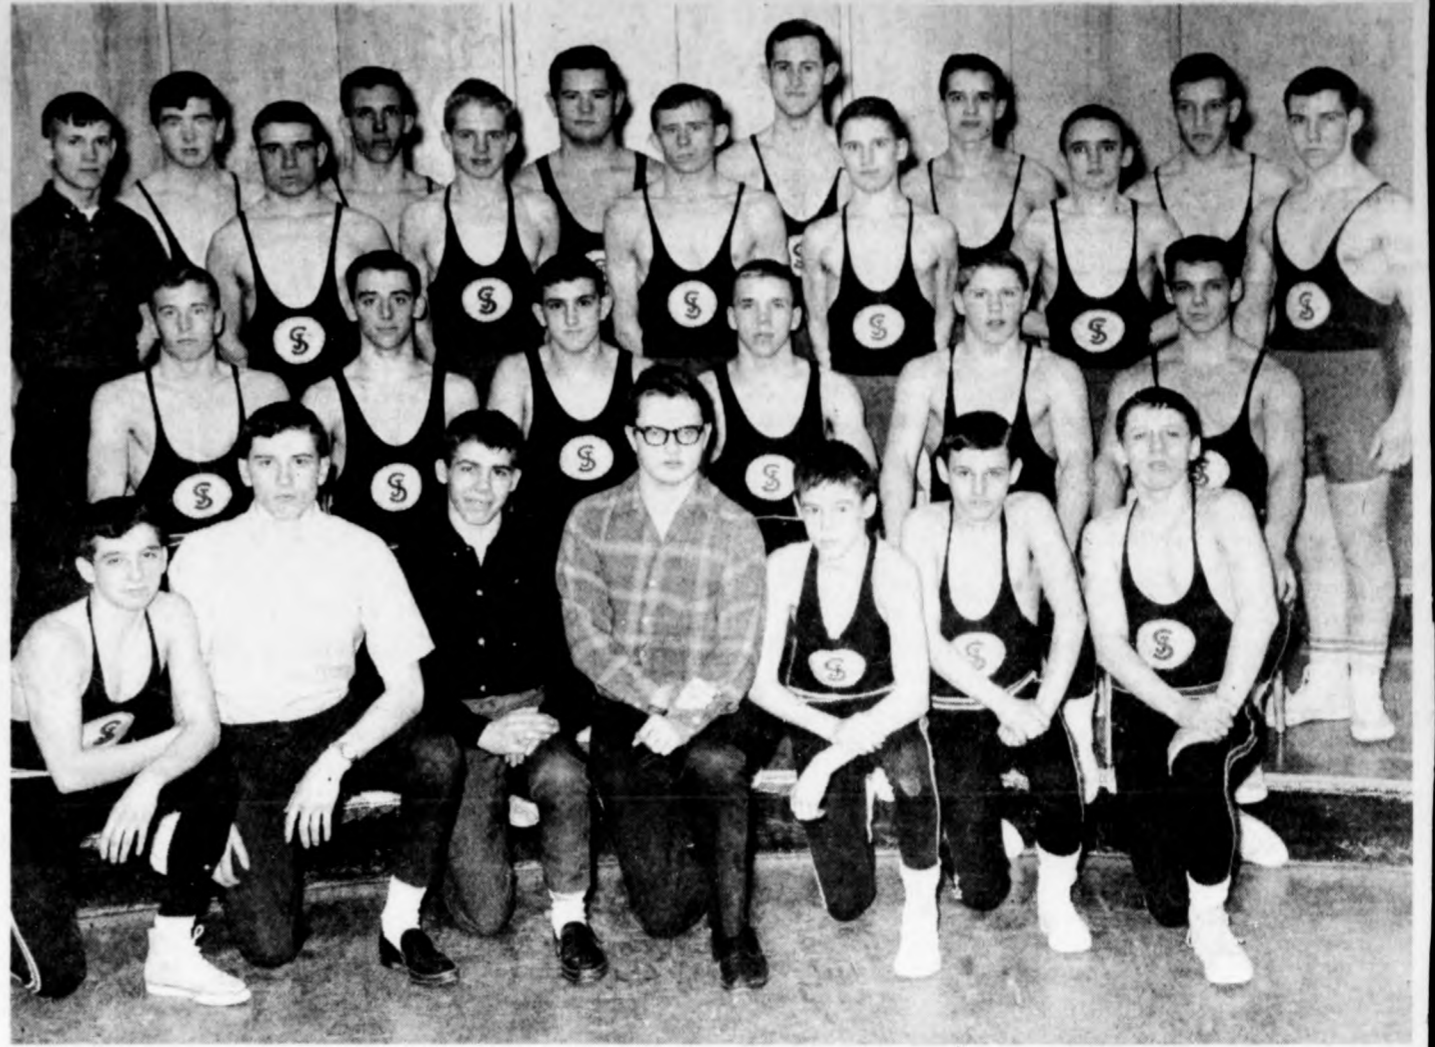

OVID—Ovid rolled up 29 points in the second quarter to take command of their game with Pewamo-Westphalia Friday night, and the Romans wound up the victors, 86-68.

The visitors held a slim 11-10 lead going into the second quarter. Frank Gazda scored 12 of his 14 points in the second period to spark the rally that put Ovid ahead at the half 39-20. Pewamo-Westphalia was cold in that period, hitting on only three of 17 shots.

OVID BUILT up their lead by outscoring the Pirates 23-17 in the third quarter, and then P-W rallied in the final eight minutes to outscore Ovid 31-24.

Dennis Love's 19 points was high for Ovid as five men scored in double figures. Frank Gazda had 14, Mike Hawley 13 and Bob Gazda and Leonard Huyck 10 each. Also scoring were Lee Woodworth 6, Doug Behrens, Mike Martinez and Dick Hall 4 each and Ray Chamberlain 2.

IRRER LED Pewamo-Westphalia with 20 points, while Nurenberg had 17, Werner 11, Barker 9, Vance 4, Thelen 3, Noeker 2 and Schafer and L. Vance 1 each.

Matmen 5th at league meet

West Central Conference wrestlers still have not succeeded in breaking the hold Grand Ledge has on the conference wrestling championship.

The Comets had four individual champions at the conference meet in St. Johns Saturday and walked off with their fifth straight title with 94 points.

ST. JOHNS finished in fifth place with 46 points.

In between were Charlotte, second with 76 points, third place Hastings with 69 and fourth place Greenville with 60 points. Following St. Johns were Lakewood with 30, Alma with 15 and Ionia with 1.

Grapplers finish with 8-6 mark

ST. JOHNS won its last wrestling match of the regular season last Tuesday night and finished the year with an 8-6 won-lost record. Mt. Pleasant was the victim Feb. 16 by a 27-21 score.

TOM HARPER (103 pounds), Marv Dollarhite (145) and John Sickles (154) scored pins on their individual opponents, while Gary Wood (95), Charlie Fisher (112), Lonny Beeman (127), and Terry O'Connell (138) won by decisions.

RONNIE DUSH (120) and Charlie Smith (133) lost decisions, and Mike Stoddard (165), Rodger Speidel (180) and Paul Speidel (heavyweight) were pinned.

ST. JOHNS won the reserve match 29-8.

Okemos defeated St. Johns 32-11 about a week earlier.

the afternoon and evening, winning all three matches.

FIRST HE pinned Rick Terwillinger of Alma in the opening round and then took on Bruce Wasilewski of Greenville who had drawn a bye in the first round. He won that, and in the finals Saturday evening Fisher defeated Greg Johnson of Charlotte, who had won his first two matches. Wasilewski finished third by winning the consolation round.

Other individual champions in the conference meet were Tom Gleason (95), Will Traschel (133), Jay Webber (165) and Bob Jorgenson (heavyweight), all of Grand Ledge, Bob Wood of Greenville (103), Jack Parish of Charlotte (120), Terry Keller of Hastings (127), Don Maxwell of Lakewood (138), Dennis Bodell of Charlotte (145), Charles Myers of Hastings (154), and Tom Gibson of Hastings (180).

HERE'S HOW other St. Johns wrestlers fared in the meet:

Gary Wood, 95 pounds, pinned Phil Arnold of Hastings in the preliminary round and then defeated Jim Bennett of Charlotte to gain the finals, where he lost to Tom Gleason of Greenville. Mark Bell of Alma was third.

Tom Harper, wrestling in the 103-pound class, drew a bye in the first round and then lost to Jim Andrews of Hastings. Harper then defeated Dennis Ash of Lakewood to gain third place behind Wood of Greenville and Andrews of Hastings.

RONNIE DUSH, a 120-pound wrestler, lost to Jack Parish of Charlotte in the preliminary and to Jim Farnen of Lakewood in the consolation. Parish went on to become champion in his weight class.

Lonny Beeman, 127 pounds, lost to Terry Keller of Hastings in the first round and to Ron Howard of Charlotte in the consolation. Keller also went on to win the 127-pound championship.

IN THE 133-pound class, Charlie Smith of St. Johns defeated Jack Archer of Lakewood in the first round, then lost to Dave Spotts of Charlotte. Smith then defeated Bob Husted of Alma to win third place.

Wrestling at 138 pounds, Terry O'Connell defeated Ed Laarman of Ionia in the first round and then dumped Keith Keeler of Greenville in the semi-finals. O'Connell was beaten by Dan Maxwell of Grand Ledge for the championship. O'Connell finished second, and his first-round opponent, Keeler, finished third.

MARV DOLLARHITE, at 145 pounds, drew a bye in the first round and then lost to Ross Satter of Charlotte. He drew a bye in the consolation round, but then lost to Schofield of Greenville in the battle for third place in the division.

place in that weight division.

John Sickles wrestled for St. Johns in the 154-pound class. He defeated Dave Jonas of Grand Ledge in the first round, but lost to Jim Wickham of Lakewood in the semi-finals. He also lost to Harold Woodworth of Charlotte in the consolation round. Woodworth finished third.

MIKE STODDARD, 165 pounds, lost his first round match with Jay Webber of Grand Ledge, who went on to win that weight class championship. Stoddard also fell to Walt Essex of Alma in the consolation round.

In the 180-pound class, Roger Speidel was pinned by Brad Gillespie of Lakewood in his only match of the day.

PAUL SPEIDEL, wrestling as a heavyweight, defeated Bill DeLand of Lakewood in the first round and then lost to Jim Pitcher of Charlotte. He drew a bye in the consolation round, but then lost to Schofield of Greenville in the battle for third place in the division.

It's over! Wings win West Central title

12-point explosion in last 2 minutes trips 'Jackets

Erasing a 10-point deficit at the half, the St. Johns Redwings capped a steady rally with a 12-point explosion in the last two minutes to defeat Greenville 73-64 last Tuesday night.

The victory clinched at least a share of the conference title.

Junior Jim Leonard, who came from the junior varsity only Feb. 5, proved to be the catalyst as he hit for three straight baskets to ignite the explosion.

ST. JOHNS HAD a 6-2 lead early in the game, then lost it and managed only to keep even with the Yellowjackets, and the quarter ended in a 15-15 tie. Greenville got the first two baskets of the second period and led throughout most of the rest of the game. They scored the last eight points of the first half and left the floor with a 34-24 lead.

The Wings could get no closer than four points until just over four minutes left to play in the game. Then Al Anderson copped a rebound shot, and Clark Berkhusen tied the score at 57-57 with a layup. Leonard came to the fore and dropped in a jump shot with 4:07 left that put St. Johns ahead 59-57.

GREENVILLE WAS still not ready to give up, and three free throws gave them a 60-59 lead. Leonard scored on another jumper with 2:51 left. Greenville's Dave Balcone countered at 2:05 and Greenville went back ahead, 62-61.

With 1:45 left in the game, Leonard came up with a rebound and banked a shot into the net, making it 63-62, St. Johns. That was all Greenville could take. In quick succession, Berkhusen hit two free throws, then stole the ball and scored a layup. Anderson scored a layup and was fouled, and he made the free throw. Berkhusen scored on another layup off a fast-break pass, and Anderson added the last free throw with 11 seconds left in the game.

THAT MADE the score 73-62, and in the last seconds Dan Plank sank two free throws for Greenville to round out the scoring.

The finish was the most explosive of the year for the Redwings. It could be seen developing, however, and the only question was one of time. Greenville had managed throughout most of the game to keep the Redwings bottled up.

The Yellowjackets employed a three-man zone defense and had their other men covering Al Werbish and Berkhusen on a man-to-man basis. Greenville controlled the backboards throughout the game and had a 22-8 edge in rebounding by halftime. Werbish scored but one basket the first half and Berkhusen had three.

ST. JOHNS HAD a 6-2 lead early in the game, then lost it and managed only to keep even with the Yellowjackets, and the quarter ended in a 15-15 tie. Greenville got the first two baskets of the second period and led throughout most of the rest of the game. They scored the last eight points of the first half and left the floor with a 34-24 lead.

Although the Wings hit only two of 15 shots in the second period, they ended the night with a 50 per cent average — 27 of 54 shots. They had seven for 10 in the first quarter, eight of 16 in the third and 10 out of 13 in the last. From the free throw line they scored on 19 of 26 tries for a .730 mark.

BERKHUSEN LED St. Johns' scoring with 21 points, while Anderson had 18, Werbish 12, Leonard 10 and Bill Serrine, Doug Lundy and Gary Becker 4 each. Coach Bill Swears called it the best team effort of the year, with each player taking nearly the same number of shots.

Werbish and Anderson each had seven rebounds.

Greenville was led in scoring by Balcone with 21 points, while Jerry Fuller had 19 and Plank 14.

Big Reds upset Wolfpack

ELSIE —The Elsie Big Reds poured on the coal Friday night and smashed Laingsburg 71-52 in a Central Michigan C upset. Elsie had won only one game previously; they are now 2-12, while Laingsburg is 6-9 for the season.

Tom Micka charted the way for the Big Reds with 36 big points as Elsie held a scoring advantage in every quarter. It was 19-12 at the first stop, 33-24 at the half, and 50-38 at the end of three quarters. The Big Reds had a 21-14 advantage in the last quarter.

MICKA SCORED 13 points in the first period and 8 in the second.

Loynes and Reed added 10 points each to the Elsie scoring, while Melvin had 5, Carter 6 and Horak 4. Antcliff and Kruger each had 12 points for Laingsburg, while Wurm had 10, Wilson 7, Brown and Beavers 4 each, English 2 and Veith 1.

Lakewood victory is clincher

About the best way a team can win a conference title is to defeat the only other team that has a chance. And that's what the St. Johns Redwings did Friday night.

They fought their way to a 74-63 victory over the Lakewood Vikings at Lakewood, thereby clinching the West Central Conference basketball title. Lakewood was the only team that had a chance to share the title with St. Johns.

THE WIN was extra sweet for St. Johns because it reversed an earlier defeat at the hands of Lakewood in St. Johns. The Wings have only one more game left this season, a conference match with last place Ionia at St. Johns Friday.

The Redwings never trailed in the Lakewood game. Clark Berkhusen scored a layup on a fast break off the opening tip-off and the Wings were flying.

THE GAME was tied four times, however, during the second quarter. St. Johns led 15-9 at the first stop, and after Jim Leonard opened the second eight minutes with two free throws, Lakewood scored eight straight points to tie it up 17-17. The teams traded baskets, the score being tied also at 19-19, 21-21 and 23-23 before consecutive baskets by Al Anderson and Al Werbish put the Wings ahead to stay.

Although they muffed several layups and close-in shots, the Redwings held a 36-29 halftime lead. St. Johns held leads of 15 points on several occasions in the third quarter as Berkhusen, Werbish, Anderson, Gary Becker and Doug Lundy continued to hit.

LAKEWOOD warmed up from the free throw line after a mighty-cold first half and they cut the margin to 57-46 at the end of three quarters.

It got even closer in the last quarter. With Gary Becker and Al Werbish fouling out midway through the period, Lakewood scored six straight points and trailed by only five points—63-58—with three minutes to go.

Doug Lundy fouled out at that point, but then the Wings rallied. Dennis Springer Lundy's replacement, hit a jump shot, Bill Serrine copped a rebound shot and Berkhusen scored on a rebound shot and two free throws. That made it 71-58.

LAKEWOOD scored five more points in succession, but Berkhusen scored another free throw and Jim Leonard added two to tie the game. Berkhusen was dribbling away from Lakewood defenders when the game ended.

A lot of good under-the-basket shots were missed by the Wings, but they closed out the night with a fine 42 per cent shooting average anyway.

Berkhusen led the scoring with 25 points, while Werbish had 18, Anderson 7, Becker 10, Serrine 2, Lundy 6, Leonard 4 and Springer 2.

Hamp was Lakewood's top pointman with 18 to his credit, and Hewitt had 12.

District tourney pairings listed

Drawings were held Tuesday afternoon for pairings in several area district basketball tournaments which will get under way next Monday.

This is how the teams lined up:
 CLASS B, at Alma—St. Louis (7-8 for the year) drew a bye; St. Johns will play Alma (7-8) at

Wilson's 23 paces JVs to 61-40 win

John Wilson's 23 points paced the St. Johns junior varsity to a 61-40 victory over the Greenville JVs last Tuesday evening. It was their seventh victory against eight losses.

St. Johns led most all of the way during the wild, scrambling contest. The score was 12-10 for St. Johns at the end of the first quarter, 33-24 at the half, and 53-28 at the end of the third period.

THE GREENVILLE JVs put together a string of 16 straight free throws during the second and third quarter. They scored only four free throws in the third period as St. Johns held them without a field goal.

Besides Wilson's 23 points, Randy Humphrey scored 11, Bill DeGroot 9, Gary Boyce 6 and Phil Anderson and Brian Swatman 4 each. Dave Skinner led Greenville with 13 points, while Del Cory had 11.

7:30 p.m. March 1; Clare (2-12) will play Central Montcalm March 2 at 7:30 p.m.; Ithaca (12-3) drew a bye. St. Louis will meet the winner of the St. Johns-Alma game March 3 at 7:30, and Ithaca will play the winner of the Clare-Central Montcalm game March 4 at 7:30. The finals will be March 6 at 8 p.m.

Bath evens series with DeWitt

BATH —The Bath Bees evened their series with DeWitt Friday night by handing the Panthers a 65-59 defeat at Bath. Bath is now 5-10 for the year and DeWitt is 8-8.

The Bees blew a 12-point halftime lead and then had to rally to pull the game out of the fire. Bath held a narrow 13-12 margin at the end of the first quarter, and then exploded to take a 36-24 halftime lead.

DEWITT BOUNCED back with a 21-11 margin in the third quarter to trail by only 47-45, even though they led by two points at one time in the period. Bath held an 18-14 margin in the last quarter.

Both teams had four men scoring in double figures. Chet McGonigal led Bath with 18 points, while Jim Sober had 14, Bruce Miller 13 and Rusty Woolfe 11.

JIM DALMAN led DeWitt with 13 points, while Roger Coryell had 12 and Pat Weston and Lenny Ward 10 each.

DeWitt accident series hurts 7, confuses police

County police are still a bit confused about a series of accidents early Sunday morning on US-27 just south of Round Lake Road. And they'd like to find one of the cars that was involved.

They all happened just about 2:30 a.m. Sunday, but in what order no one is sure. But it brought injuries to a pedestrian and to six others in one car and the arrest of a second pedestrian.

IT SEEMS Ronald F. Groulx, 27, of 602 Cedarwood, DeWitt, a pedestrian, stepped onto the highway to help another man, James D. Wisner, 18, who had fallen down in the center (left turn only) lane of the highway about 200 feet south of Round Lake Road.

Just as Groulx got to the other man, he got up and took off on the run. An unknown vehicle then struck Groulx, knocking him to the pavement and injuring him. The unknown vehicle did not stop.

IT IS BELIEVED to be the same one that hit the rear of a car driven by Nancy E. McMann, 18, of Haslett at about the same time. Miss McMann told Deputy Sheriff Gaylord Foote she saw a pedestrian in the left turn lane and was going to stop and see if he needed help. But as she pulled on past him, the unknown car hit the rear of hers and continued on.

Miss McMann and five passengers in her car complained of pains as a result of the crash.

JOHN COSTELLO, 24 of 545 Valley Street, Lansing, and his wife, Charlotte, 21, told Foote their car, in the same area, was also hit from the rear by a car which continued on toward Lansing. Costello said he pursued the car but lost it in Lansing.

A short time later, another driver stopped and picked up Wisner. The driver stopped Foote who was investigating the accidents, and told him about the man. Wisner was then seen running from the driver's car and falling into a ditch. When the officer and several others hauled him out of the ditch and rested him on the ground, he became belligerent and reportedly had to be restrained with handcuffs.

MEANWHILE, Groulx had been taken to St. Lawrence Hospital by Vincent-Rummell ambulance. He was in "satisfactory" condition Tuesday with numerous cuts and an eye injury.

Wisner appeared before Justice of the Peace Gordon Willson Monday and was fined $10.70 and $19.90 costs on a charge of being drunk and disorderly.

The driver of and identity of the unknown car are still unknown.

To start civil defense course

A radiological monitoring course for instructors will begin March 3 at Michigan State University, Charles Frost, Clinton County civil defense director, announced Tuesday.

The 32-hour course is designed to qualify selected individuals as radiological monitor instructors and to provide technical background necessary for advanced training as radiological defense officers.

APPLICANTS should have a current or indicated future assignment as an instructor, radiological defense officer or assistant officer, and some training or equivalent experience in college-level general or physical science and a working knowledge of college algebra.

Training or teaching experience is also desirable but is not essential.

PERSONS interested in the course should contact Frost at his county office in St. Johns or call or write the State Civil Defense Training Program, Continuing Education, Kellogg Center, Michigan State University.

The course is sponsored by MSU and other colleges and universities in cooperation with the Michigan State Police (Civil Defense Division) and the office of Civil Defense, Department of Defense.

Urbanites plan year's program

The Urbanite Extension Club met Thursday, Feb. 18, with Mrs. Ivan Parrot. Her co-hostess was Mrs. Allen Going. There were 13 members and one guest present.

A discussion on program topics for the coming year brought the following suggestions: cleaning rugs and carpets in the home successfully, caring for silver and pewter, correct accessories, and learning to paint on soap.

Mrs. Clyde Peck gave the lesson on buttonholes and "Fit for Fashion." To successfully install a zipper in a garment, she said, one must stitch from the bottom up. She said that to achieve harmony between figure and fabric, use the components to fit to relate the two.

Mrs. John Hannah will host the March 18 meeting. Mrs. Clyde Peck will be her co-hostess.

Lundy Puts Up Shot Against Lakewood

Doug Lundy (31 in red) puts up a shot against Lakewood Friday night. Al Werbish (53) comes up for possible rebound and Al Anderson (41) waits for the same thing. St. Johns won 74-63 to clinch the West Central Conference championship.

JV rally short, they lose 46-41

St. Johns spotted Lakewood three good quarters Friday night and then found it was too much to overcome, and the Junior Redwings lost a 46-41 ballgame at Lakewood.

The JVs were outscored by margins of 11-8, 12-9 and 12-9 in the first three periods. They rallied in the last quarter and outscored Lakewood 15-11, but it was not enough to pull out their eighth win. Instead they lost their ninth game.

Bill DeGroot led the St. Johns scoring with 14 points, while Gary Boyce had 11, John Wilson 10, Brian Swatman 3, Randy Humphrey 2 and Phil Anderson 1.

Road Commission Weekly Report

The Board of Clinton County Road Commissioners held their regular meeting on Thursday, Feb. 18, and opened bids on 1965 requirements of bituminous materials. There four bids rejected and seven accepted.

The seven successful bidders were: American Bituminous Co., Bituminous Materials Co., Allied Materials Co., Great Lakes Asphalt Co., Leonard Refineries, Industrial Fuel and Asphalt Co. and Seneca Petroleum Co.

THE BOARD made a short inspection trip on some spring break-up damage to blacktops and returned for a conference with representatives from Bengal, Dallas, Riley and Westphalia townships.

The commission discussed 1965 plans for road and bridge construction and needs for new equipment. The next regular meeting will be Wednesday, March 3 and bids to be taken at that time include the 1965 requirements for corrugated metal pipe, salt and calcium chloride. March and April requirements for gasoline will be opened and also bids for two scraper trucks, two dump bodies, two scrapers, and three pickups.

LES DRAGOO, county road engineer, and your road clerk attended the accounting session of the Southern Michigan Road Commission Clerks Assn. at Mt. Clemens last week. This was the annual meeting and your Clinton County road clerk was elected president of this organization for the coming year.

Load limits are now in force on all state and county roads. State trunklines in this area are all-weather roads and are not affected.

Frosh lose to Comets, then beat Vikings

St. Johns' freshmen basketball team split a pair of games last week, leaving them with a 3-7 won-lost record. They were to play their last game of the season Tuesday night against Greenville at St. Johns.

Grand Ledge defeated the frosh 45-39 last Tuesday, and then on Thursday the freshmen defeated Lakewood 61-46, revenging an earlier defeat at the hands of the Vikings.

ST. JOHNS led briefly against Grand Ledge, but the Comets caught up and led 21-19 at the half. After an even third quarter, Grand Ledge outscored St. Johns 12-8 in the final period to win 45-39.

Steve Gregory led the scoring with 22 points, while Tom Rademacher and John Selami scored 6 each, Mike McKay 3 and Bob Cochran 2.

ST. JOHNS led all the way over Lakewood last Thursday, holding quarterly scoring advantages of 16-15, 12-8, 16-13, and 17-10 in recording a 61-46 victory. Lakewood had won an earlier game 46-39.

Gregory led the scoring again with 21 points, while Don Palmer had 13, Salemi 11, Rademacher 8, Bob Lundy 4, John Markman 3 and Cochran 1.

Softball managers meeting March 10

Time to check children's eyes is early, parents told

Children must rely on adults for good sight. The reason is simple. By himself, the young child has no way of telling whether his vision is good or defective. He does not know how well he should be seeing. A lot may have blurred vision or use only one eye to see, and still not complain because he doesn't realize it should be otherwise.

Crossed-eyes: Children do not outgrow crossed eyes. If this condition is not treated early, the sight in the crossed eye may fail to develop fully, and the youngster will grow up with no useful vision in the eye. If he receives treatment while still young, the vision damaged by crossed eyes can usually be restored, and the eyes brought back to a normal position. Methods of treatment may differ, but for best results crossed eyes should be treated before the age of four.

unduly sensitive to light; has red, swollen or encrusted eyelids; recurring sties; or inflamed or watery eyes.

LAZY EYE Blindness: Known medically as amblyopia ex anopsia, this condition is one in which an eye that appears to be healthy actually has low or poor vision that cannot be helped with eyeglasses. Many people do not realize that humans have two types of vision, side vision and acute vision, each vital in its own way. Without side vision we would be constantly bumping into things or be unaware of things approaching from the side. Without acute vision, we could not read, do close work, or see clearly at a distance.

SIGNS OF eye trouble to watch for in children: Attempts to brush away blur; blinks more than usual; rubs eyes frequently; squints when looking at distant objects; frowns excessively; stumbles over small objects; is

The story is told of the first-grade child in a southern school who, after her eyes were examined and glasses prescribed, went to the movies with her mother. "Why, mommy, she exclaimed on looking at the screen through her new lenses, 'they're people.'"

There are now more than 20,000,000 youngsters in the United States under five years of age. The ultimate goal of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness would be a complete eye examination for each of them before entering school and regularly thereafter. Until this because a reality, the society will continue its pre-school and school vision screening projects that check thousands of youngsters annually for signs of eye trouble. But there is still much that can be done by the individual parent.

THE BEST of schools will be of little value if your child can't use it to best advantage. A child relies on his sight for nearly all he learns. Vision difficulties can often lead to school study problems and emotional troubles as well. More than 11,600,000 school children, or about one in four, needs some form of eye care today. Is your youngster one of them?

Loznaks feted by open house on anniversary

ELSIE—The family of Mr and Mrs Frank (Fritz) Loznak honored their parents on their 25th wedding anniversary on Valentine Day at the American Legion Hall. A potluck dinner was followed by a reception and open house. The 150 guests from Rockford, Lansing, Grand Rapids, Flint, Prudenville, Port Huron, Mount Morris, St. Johns, and Owosso were registered by Miss Raelene Loznak.

The wedding cake, made by Mrs Carl Winans, was topped by silver bells and white hearts. It was served by Mrs Charles Loznak. The coffee was served by Mrs Melvin Tucker.

The table for the honored guests was centered with a valentine arrangement of red roses and white snapdragons. The guests at the table included Mr and Mrs Steve Bakita who were best man and matron of honor at the wedding 25 years ago and also served as host and hostess at Sunday's affair. Others seated at the wedding table were the couple's children: Mr and Mrs Roland Thornton (Sharon) and family, Mr and Mrs Fred Fatura (Renee), Raelene and Terry Loznak.

The Elsie High School Concert Band will present its winter concert Sunday, Feb. 28, at 3 p.m. in the high school gymnasium under the direction of John W. Beery.

Postmarks to carry ZIP codes

Postmaster General John A. Gronouski announced Tuesday that ZIP Codes will be imprinted on postmarks identifying more than 30,000 post offices that individually serve one ZIP Code area.

All but 1,710 of the nation's 33,895 post offices, the postmaster general said, will eventually carry the ZIP Code number in the lower portion of the familiar circular postmark.

THE 1,701, Gronouski explained, represent post offices in the larger cities serving more than one ZIP Code area.

With the above exception, the new procedure will be adopted in all classes of post offices throughout the country, whether they use a steel die or rubber stamp to imprint the postmark.

"THIS WILL help tremendously," the postmaster general said, "as we move into mass pre-sorting and ZIP Code distribution of volume mailings."

"To the volume mailer, with a large customers' list, it will offer the most accurate, up-to-date record of each customer's address. The mailer can add the address to his ZIP Coded files without going to the trouble of checking and re-checking the correct ZIP Code address."

"TO THE individual, the postmark will serve as a constant reminder of the importance of this program in expediting the huge flow of mail—72 billion pieces annually—that must be processed by our post offices."

The addition of ZIP Code in the postmark raised a space problem which the department solved by abbreviating the states to two letters. Henceforth, for example, Alaska will be identified as Ak., Hawaii as Hi, Idaho as Id, Iowa as Ia, Maine as Me, Ohio as Oh and Utah as Ut.

THE POSTMASTER general estimated the total three-year cost at a little over $200,000. But this would be more than offset, he said, by the benefits to the mailers, which in turn will produce greater savings to the department and the taxpayer.

High school musical play ready

"Check Your Worries" is the title of a musical play being presented tonight (Thursday) and Saturday night by students at Rodney B. Wilson High School under the direction of Gordon Vandermark.

There will be no Friday performance because of a home basketball game with Ionia.

THE PLOT centers around the high school press which campaigns to do away with Founder's Day. Playing the main roles will be Phil Anderson as Chester, Betsy Hufnagel as Paula, Monica Hatta as Maxine, Sandy Dershem as Susan, Lorraine Anderson as Alvira, Kurt Acton as Arthur, Cayle Beagle as Benson, Terry Foote as Frank, Ted Lietzke as Myron, Doug Schafer as Thompson and Charles Caudy as the mayor.

Vandermark will direct the play, and Mrs Robert Cox will be in charge of dramatics.

STUDENT DIRECTORS will be Maureen Flegler and Barb Deibert. Members of the high school dance band will perform in the pit under the direction of Walter Cole. Concert choir members will be in the chorus.

Curtain time is 8 p.m. Thursday and Saturday nights.

Public attitude is an important consideration

"You'll find your happiness lies . . . right under your eyes . . . back in your own backyard."

These were the old song lyrics that went through our mind the other day when we first heard the announcement that Sealed Power Corporation has determined to spend nearly $3 million here during the next two years in expansion of their present manufacturing facility and bring employment to an additional 100 people in the Clinton area.

This was the second such pronouncement from a major St. Johns industry in the past eight months. Federal-Mogul started the ball rolling with construction of a huge addition which is nearing completion and will provide another significant increase in job availability here.

ANY COMMUNITY OF our size would move heaven and earth these days to help bring about job expansion such as Sealed Power and Federal-Mogul have announced, almost as routine matters. Chambers of Commerce and industrial committees would spend hundreds of dollars and countless man hours in an effort to entice such manufacturing operations.

We don't mean to indicate that the Clinton area doesn't deserve these new plant additions. We do. And we've helped bring them about by being constantly aware of the importance of the well-being of our existing plants.

WE'RE SURE that co-operation of an appreciative community and a loyal group of employees are chief among the items that Sealed Power and Federal-Mogul give consideration in planning new factory structures. Proximity of markets, community facilities, tax rates and all the rest are important . . . but the nature of the people who live in the area is a deciding factor in their deliberations.

St. Johns hasn't attracted and kept good industries by flamboyant promotion. They come here, stay and expand because we look upon them as good citizens, treat them well and make a continuing effort to meet their reasonable requirements in public and private utilities.

"May their tribe increase!"

Both viewpoints need complete explanation

A prominent American scholar has written a book on conservatism in politics but has had difficulty in finding a publisher for it. He is told that the overwhelming Johnson victory in November indicates that there is little interest in the United States in the question: "What is conservatism?"

We believe that this is a wrong assessment of American feeling. We believe that there is a continuing interest in what is loosely termed "conservatism," and that it will always be important in American political and economic life to understand as far as possible what constitutes both the liberal and the conservative philosophy.

IN AMERICA, as in Britain, conservatism and liberalism provide the rhythm of our political system. The counterplay of these two great forces is what has made for reasonable and orderly national progress.

Each is vital to the other. Without conservatism the national train might jump the track. Without liberalism it might stall at the station.

PERHAPS BY its very nature conservatism has been less easy to explain than liberalism. The demand for change, even for unjustified change, tends to look more dynamic than does the more cautionary stance of the conservative.

Yet history has shown that neither liberalism nor conservatism can be termed the more important and that in any orderly society they complement rather than contradict each other.

THERE IS, however, too little understanding of either outlook. This is shown in the unworthy insults which liberals and conservatives so often trade. Charges of being "pie in the sky" and of wishing to provide "something for everyone" are often thrown against the liberal, while the conservative is accused of "putting property rights before human rights" and of upholding "the dead hand of the past."

Such charges have never advanced intelligent political or economic argument a sixteenth of an inch and have only driven conservatives and liberals farther apart.

WHAT IS NECESSARY in any successful modern society is for a large body of public opinion to be intelligently informed on the arguments on both sides. It is for this reason that we feel it a serious mistake to believe that there is no need today for a broader exposition of the conservative position.

We hope that this position, as well as the liberal position, will be fully and fairly explained to the American people. If it is not, the country will be the loser.

Michigan vs Florida

One of the Michigan Dobsons answers a verse from his brother Dobson who is a permanent resident of Winter Haven, Fla.

By W. E. DOBSON

Brother mine, your greeting noted
And each word was scanned with care,
Think I sort of get the context,
Of your spoutings on the air.

Now remember I'm not claimin'
All the answers to this strife,
But it could be you are missin'
Some important facts of life.

As I write (now after New Year's)
Temperature's around Six-0
Purty good fer spots that's featured
As a land of ice and snow!

Those 'air pheasants are still crowin',
Even though the ground is bare,
'N preferred to turkey buzzards
Hoverin' lifeless in mid-air.

As fer crops of "yoller punkins"—
We still harvest in the fall,
What they look like after freezin'
Doesn't interest us at all.

Seems I have heard they play football,
Down there, but I sort of doubt,
They kin really play fer pantin';
With their tongues a hangin' out.

As fer fish maybe I'm dreamin'
But not all kinds qualify,
As fer me I'd pick a bluegill
'Stead of a Sheepshead to fry.

If you're soundin' off on sweet corn,
My eddycation's not complete,
But the kind of which you're boastin'
I find isn't fit to eat!

Now on citrus I'm admittin'
There's an item that we lack—
An' I grant they're pretty growin'
Till a sneak frost turns 'em black.

Travel is a broadenin' process,
(Broadenin' kin be overdone)
Pick yer point 'n shuffle over,
Pay yer money 'n have fun!

P.S. Taking my own advice I'm driving South in February.

He carved a niche in our hearts

St. Johns is about to lose a leading citizen and a real nice guy. I refer, of course, to Kermit Hart, Federal-Mogul Division manager, who is going on to bigger things with his company and must necessarily move his residence to the Detroit area.

Kermit stepped into big shoes here back in 1958 when he followed such capable men as Bob Klare and Bill Robertson in local division management.

Those who have watched him know that he felt his way carefully, accepted counsel thoughtfully, worked man-killing hours and has become the sort of "take over" fellow that distinguishes today's top managerial breed.

WHILE BLOOD, sweat and ability to reach proper decisions quickly are important ingredients in managerial success, they aren't the whole story. There has to be a certain humility, a knowledge of human nature and, above all, a sense of humor.

His friends know that Kermit qualifies in all these respects and, quite obviously, his corporation superiors and associates recognize it.

The sense of humor is particularly refreshing in his case. The lengths to which he will go to participate in a good-natured prank are a legend in the company and in the community. And in conversation, as well as public utterance, his spontaneous wit is a real joy to behold.

ST. JOHNS WILL be everlastingly grateful to Kermit for his determination and untiring efforts in bringing about the addition to Federal-Mogul's plant here which is now in progress. It's no great secret that this facility was originally scheduled for erection in a neighboring state.

Kermit and his fellow-workers in the St. Johns Division wanted it here. They set out to prove their point to top management through months of effort which involved countless charts, plans, graphs and no small amount of persuasive argument.

The result is $3 million in new factory construction for the Clinton area and the promise of another 100 or more jobs for our people.

HART HASN'T been one to confine all of his efforts to his own business. He has realized that representatives of his organization must take responsibility as good citizens of the town.

He has often led the way in this area of community relations through his acceptance of posts in city government and in civic and social groups. His example has inspired others to do likewise.

I'm sure he hasn't regarded this kind of service as just a business-connected chore. He's done it because of his genuine fondness for St. Johns as his adopted home town.

KERMIT CONFESSES that he is not anxious to leave St. Johns, but the challenge of a bigger responsibility as general manager of all five of Federal-Mogul's plants is one that no young man on the rise could sensibly resist.

The Harts won't be leaving town until summer, after school is out. The town will miss not only Kermit . . . but his wife, Dorothy, and their two offspring—Dale, a dental student at the University of Detroit, and Dennis, a 6th grader in the local school system.

All this effusiveness about Kermit's impending departure by no means is intended to detract from the good things the community knows about his announced successor, Ed Idzowski. Ed and his fine family have been an integral part of the community for more than a decade. The whole town joins me, I'm sure, in wishing him the greatest success and pledging continued co-operation.

RAMBLIN' with Rink

By LOWELL G. RINKER

There is nothing quite so disconcerting as the hiccups. They arrive at the most awkward times and for no other apparent reason than to harass and embarrass.

Hiccups come in varying degrees of seriousness. Some produce only a silent jerk in the chest others produce only a timid little "hic." On the other hand, there is the deep-seated "hiccough" which is noisy and strong. I have had some that pack so much power I swear they will bounce my stomach out of my body or bounce me out of my chair.

IT IS embarrassing to make a telephone call and then discover you have the hiccups. They don't usually bother you when the other person is talking and you can cover the mouth-piece of the phone. You always "hic" when you're talking.

In the last several years I have gained much experience in hic-talking and I have about succeeded in cutting out the audio portion of the hiccup. But I have not been able to avoid the sudden breaking off of words that is just as revealing as the sound of "hic."

WHILE I haven't done any late research on the hiccup for purposes of this column, I don't believe science has yet come up with an answer as to what causes them. My folks always used to tease us and tell us it was caused by bad beer. But since I don't drink, I discounted that reason early in life.

Do you know what a hiccup actually is? I hadn't really thought about it before, but today I looked it up in the dictionary.

"HICCUP, HICCOUGH . . . a sudden, involuntary contraction of the diaphragm that closes the glottis at the moment of breathing in." The diaphragm is the partition of muscles and tendons between the chest cavity and the abdominal cavity; the glottis is the opening between the vocal cords in the larynx.

That means if you don't breathe in, you won't have the hiccups.

WHILE THEY apparently begin at random, there is a certain pattern in which series of hiccups occur—at least for me. If I have the hiccups early in the day, say before 10 a.m., I'm almost sure to have them again in the late morning, early afternoon and early evening. If the first case of hiccups comes later in the day, it may be the only one I have.

There seems to be only one sure cure for the hiccups, and that I mean mentioned earlier—don't breathe in. But since this is not conducive to longevity, there are a number of other "cures" that may or may not work.

Home for governor plan to get some more study

BY ELMER E. WHITE
Michigan Press Ass'n.

Several years ago then—Gov. G. Mennen Williams suggested the state should have an executive mansion. Many states already provided a residence for their governor, he said.

He then proceeded to have a study drawn up to determine what such a mansion should include.

SERIOUS THOUGHT and considerable time went into the Williams-initiated study. Included in the results were recommendations that it be near the capitol, contain for large groups and overnight accommodations for visiting dignitaries.

Not wanting to appear selfish in his motive, Williams shelved the study recommendations until after he announced in 1960 he would not seek another term.

He then brought it to the Legislature's attention but nothing was done with it. Austerity was too important at that time.

CONSTITUTIONAL Convention delegates in 1962 decided maybe the former governor was right. Michigan should provide its chief executive with a home.

With a provision for a governor's mansion written into the new Constitution, the mandate went to the Legislature. Last year a committee studied what such a building should include.

Lo and behold, the recommendations presented to the Legislature this year are basically the same as those of the Williams study. But now, with the change in legislative power, some say further study will be required before any formal proposal is forthcoming.

NO DOUBT, STUDIES of proposed legislation of such lasting import are required. It would appear, however, that the governor's mansion proposal, like a number of other matters, could be studied to death.

It is difficult to decide whether legislators have an innate distrust of their predecessor's abilities or whether each group of lawmakers just wants to take full credit for accomplishments.

The mansion question seems to be one in which the lead of former Gov. Williams might have been followed with little or no complaint in later years.

ONE AREA OF taxation is almost a certainty for action in the current legislative session. This is the often-proposed tax relief for senior citizens.

Living on relatively low, fixed incomes, many thousands of Michigan citizens over 65 years old have drawn sympathy from both parties in recent years.

All agree these citizens have contributed to Michigan's growth and they deserve special consideration. Methods proposed to demonstrate this consideration varies.

PROPERTY LEVIES generally have been the target in the past, and again in bills presented this session, for senior citizens exemptions. Some propose eliminating property taxes to older landowners with low incomes.

Others would give tax relief on only part of the assessed value. Most plans have been proposed by Democrats.

GOV. GEORGE Romney proposed a method in 1963 but was rebuked by Democrats, whose support he needed, because his plan called for deferment of property taxes rather than a full exemption. The deferred levies he proposed be paid from the person's estate after death.

This year it appears the governor and Democratic legislators will make a more intensive attempt to agree on a plan for providing this relief.

STATE AGENCIES are fully geared to seek a share of the federal anti-poverty funds expected to pour out of Washington in the next few years.

All agencies were asked by the governor last fall to become fully familiar with the program to determine how the state could benefit from it.

In addition to his broad request, a coordinating committee was created, and officials in various departments were delegated with responsibility in specific areas covered by the federal program.

PRIMARY agencies concerned with the program include the Youth Commission, Employment Security Commission, Departments of Public Instruction, Social Welfare, Agriculture, Economic Expansion and Mental Health. But all others are keeping tabs on provisions of the federal program.

Pearl S. Buck has been interested in the problems of children all of her life. She has raised five adopted children in addition to her own. In 1949 she established Welcome House, Inc., an adoption agency that finds permanent homes and parents for children of mixed Asian-American heritage. In her new book, "Children for Adoption," she discusses the problems of the helpless and unwanted children, fathered in many cases by American soldiers stationed in remote parts of the world.

In this book the author gives much information of the operations of black markets that operate in this line. She discusses the difficulties of adopting parents and the often heartbreaking problems of the adopted child. This is the first book to give complete information of this subject of great importance to the world.

MRS BUCK has won many honors for her novels. Her book, "The Good Earth," published in 1935, was judged the best American fiction of the time. For it she was awarded the Nobel Prize for Literature, the first American woman to be so honored.

"The Ordways" written by the author of "Home From the Hill" is set in a small Texas town on the frontier. It follows the Ordway clan through four generations. The themes of the book are the passage of time, the stubborn pride of the Southerner and family ties and are brought out vividly. William Humphrey has written many short stories besides his successful novel, "Home From the Hill."

"DAILY AND Sunday," by Richard Powell is an exciting story of a big city newspaper. The author draws on his own experiences as a Philadelphia newspaperman to give the reader a view of how a newspaper comes into print each day. The story has to do with the appointment of a top executive and the reader gains an understanding of the behind-scenes maneuvering that takes place.

The author has many popular novels to his credit.

"LAY THEM Straight," is a light-hearted novel. It is a spirited story of a young man who wants to arrange his own life but who has too much help from his wealthy family. Many hilarious situations make it a very funny book.

Hand baling not a favorite task for a lad back in 1910

HAYDEN PEARSON

Half a century ago if you asked a 14-year-old farm lad to list the tasks that did not appeal, high on the list would be hand baling hay. Solid farmers in the 1910 area figured on good timothy and clover to sell along in the winter and early spring when prices were high.

The Kenwood Hand Hay Press was a simple enough machine and it did a good job. But that wasn't the point on a Saturday morning when Father said as he finished breakfast with a piece of apple pie, "Son, why don't you bale from the south scaffold today?"

THE MAIL order catalog was exuberant in its description. "This is one of the greatest money makers and money saving devices every invented. No farm can be considered complete without it. It is cheap, it is compact, it is powerful, and above all, it is practical. The work can be done at odd times, and by a boy."

There are men in city offices who know the truth of the last sentence. It was monotonous and uninteresting work. The hay was pitched down from the scaffold; it was forked into the pressing chamber with a plunger at the highest point. The plunger was released by a foot lever and allowed to fall on the hay. This process was repeated until the chamber was full and a bale ready to remove.

THE CATALOG said that a boy could easily press a couple tons a day, but a farm lad was not interested. He worked along until early afternoon when Father appeared and said, "That's a pretty good job. Why don't you knock off and take Shep and go down to the swamp and see if you can get a couple rabbits so Mother can make us a rabbit pie tomorrow?"

Bred ewe flock needs special winter rations

A minimum of feeding labor, strong healthy lambs and economical feeds are objectives of winter rations for the bred ewe flock.

Legume hay is the preferred roughage and should account for at least one-half of the roughage ration, according to Graydon Blank, Michigan State University sheep specialist. Grass silage, corn silage, bean pods or beet tops can account for the remainder. Roughage should be increased in both quantity and quality during the last half of the pregnancy period. Four pounds of legume hay per head daily should be adequate for the roughage portion of the sheep ration.

EWES SHOULD start receiving grain four to six weeks before lambing. Equal parts of corn, oats and wheat by weight make an excellent ration, adds the sheep specialist. The grain should be started at one-quarter pound per head daily and increased to one pound. Addition of wheat to the ration helps prevent white muscle disease.

Blank points out that pregnancy disease or lambing paralysis can result when daily intake of nutrients by a ewe does not meet her heavy requirements during the last weeks of pregnancy. The disease not only hits thin ewes, but can also be severe with fat ewes that were well fed too early.

A LACK OF iodine or vitamin A can cause weak or premature lambs. A vitamin E deficiency in the ewe's ration may cause stiff lamb or white muscle disease in the lambs.

New soils zinc test developed

The trace element zinc gets more important every year in the fertilization of agricultural crops. One reason is that high crop yields are increasing the amount needed. The small amounts of zinc occurring naturally in the soil will support corn yields up to 100 bushels per acre. Higher yields require added zinc.

University of Wisconsin soil scientists J. A. Stewart and K. C. Berger have just completed tests using a new laboratory method to determine available zinc in soil.

THEIR ZINC test is based on use of magnesium chloride to extract the zinc from the soil in the laboratory. Most plant foods are taken out of the soil solution with hydrochloric acid. The amount extracted from the soil with hydrochloric acid does not correlate as well with that removed by plants as does the new method. A good laboratory method must extract as much in a few minutes as a plant does during the growing season. The method, however, should not extract more than the plant does.

The scientists checked their laboratory tests by growing a crop of millet and measuring the actual amount of zinc it took from the soil. They compared this amount of zinc with the zinc extracted from the soil with magnesium chloride in the laboratory.

THE ZINC extracted from the soil in the laboratory tests correlated almost 100 per cent with that taken up by the crop. Hydrochloric acid and dithione extraction methods rated farther down the list than magnesium chloride in accuracy.

Stewart and Berger believe that the new zinc test is more accurate than any present tests, yet it is simple and straightforward enough to be adapted to routine soil testing laboratories.

Trained help available for dairy farmers

Part of the large demand for qualified dairy farm hands is being solved by a special training course under way at Michigan State University.

A total of 17 men will wind up an eight-week course consisting of 100 hours of lecture and 220 hours of laboratory and practical dairy experience on March 5. Participants in the first of two specialized dairy short courses taught under the Manpower Development and Retraining Act studied milk handling, nutrition, records, calf management, milking practices and other dairy practices.

THE COURSE, supervised by the MSU agricultural short course department, was taught by staff members of the MSU dairy department. Assistance in coordinating the activities was provided by the Michigan Department of Vocational Education. The Michigan Employment Securities Commission obtained and screened applicants for the course through its statewide offices.

A similar eight-week dairy short course for 20 students starts on March 15. Applicants meeting the qualifications will be paid a subsistence and maintenance wage while attending the course.

FULL INFORMATION regarding needed qualifications is available from Michigan Employment Securities Commission offices.

Best-yielding corn hybrids in '64 state trials named

The highest yielding corn hybrids in the 1965 Michigan corn performance trials have been named. They produced 16 bushels more per acre than the average of 182 hybrids tested throughout the state.

"The differences demonstrate that corn yields can be markedly increased by growing the highest yielding hybrids," reports E. C. Rossman, Michigan State University crop scientist who conducted the trials.

"THERE IS no added cost for

Farm labor called easy to waste

Nothing you use on your farm is likely to be utilized as poorly as the labor, according to a University of Delaware farm management specialist.

W. T. McAllister, extension agricultural economist, said this applies to the labor of the farm operator as well as to the labor of the hired hand.

"LABOR," he projected, "cannot be stored for future use. Either you use it when you have it, or it is wasted."

"Take time to think about how to do your work efficiently," he told a Michigan Farm Labor Management Conference at Michigan State University. "Working by habit can be a big waste of time and energy. Just because you have always done a job a certain way, is not a good reason to continue this method."

"IN FACT, it is a good indication that not much thought is being given to improving the job—habit is being substituted for thinking."

In dealing with people, McAllister suggested the manager hire capable, dependable help; provide adequate instruction, training and supervision; be fair and consistent; make criticism constructive; reward a job done well; provide opportunity for advancement, and treat others as he would be treated.

"A GOOD boss creates a wholesome attitude, a desire to work and a pleasant but businesslike relationship between himself and his employees," McAllister concluded.

the extra bushels since seed of the high yielding hybrids generally does not cost any more than seed of the low-yielding hybrids. Thus, a farmer should use performance records—not "guesses"—when choosing his seed."

Rossman also points out that there were significant differences in moisture and stalk breakage among the hybrids tested. The driest hybrids at harvest contained 7 per cent less moisture than the average. And the most resistant hybrids averaged 6 per cent less breakage.

"WE FOUND," says Rossman, "that it is not necessary to grow a late maturing hybrid to get good performance. The best early maturing corn will yield as much or more than late maturing hybrids."

"Furthermore, early planting is one form of frost protection. The early varieties can be harvested sooner when weather is more favorable and harvest losses are lower."

The hybrid corn trials were conducted at 13 locations in Michigan by the MSU Department of Crop Science in cooperation with seed companies.

A DETAILED report of the 1963 and 1964 trials is presented in Extension Bulletin 431, "Corn Hybrids Compared for 1965," available at the Clinton County Extension Office.

Listed below are the highest yielding hybrids from the 1964

Reduces Erosion

"Plant-plowing," a type of minimum tillage, reduces soil loss from erosion to 60 per cent of that from conventionally tilled land, according to Michigan State University crop scientists. Plow-plant is plowing followed by immediate planting without subsequent tillage.

CONCRETE MASONRY

"Grade A" sanitation is easier. A concrete masonry barn is simple to keep spotless, ready to pass any inspection. Hard-surfaced walls wash down easily. The barn stays draft-free and dry in all kinds of weather.

Today's concrete masonry has new versatility. It is made with a variety of aggregates and, for decorative uses, there are new shapes and patterns. Construction is quick, too, with concrete masonry. Every time a block is laid, nine-tenths of a square foot of wall is built.

Moderate in initial cost, concrete masonry lasts a lifetime with little upkeep. It's easy to insulate. There is no rust, no rotting. Weather, rodents or termites can't hurt it. And there's extra fire safety.

More pigs per litter. A concrete masonry farrowing house is the modern pork producer's maternity hospital. It's easy to sanitize and keep disease-free.

Corn silage nutrients valuable

Corn Silage, haylage or a mixture of the two will produce the highest yield of nutrients of all crops, according to a Michigan State University dairy specialist.

Depending on the soil and distribution of work load, you can go to a complete silage feeding program without handling any hay, reports Dr Donald Hillman of the MSU Department of Dairy.

"ON PRODUCTIVE corn land, corn silage produces the highest yield of nutrients of all crops and the lowest cost per 100 pounds of nutrients," Dr Hillman told a silo manufacturer's conference at Michigan State Jan. 11.

"On land that is better adapted to alfalfa-brome, corn silage may still produce the most nutrients per acre, but the cost per 100 pounds of nutrients with haylage may be comparable."

HE SAID recent experiments indicate cows produce as much milk when corn silage is fed as the only roughage as when hay is included in the ration.

Dr Hillman added, however, that rations must be balanced with adequate protein, energy, calcium and phosphorus. He said supplemental Vitamin A may be desirable, although the evidence here is inconclusive.

CONCERNING haylage, he reported that evidence indicated haylage is a very satisfactory substitute for hay in dairy cattle rations when properly processed.

"A combination of corn silage and haylage is desirable for most farms to use all land to its best capability, to distribute the work load, to minimize risk from low yields of either crop and to maximize the mechanization of handling," he concluded.

Freeman comments on world wheat prices

W. M. SMITH
County ASC Manager

"US wheat export price adjustments made last week reflects a drastically changed supply and demand picture from a few months ago," Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said on Feb. 4., in commenting on the world wheat situation and on reactions to US wheat pricing policy.

"The 1964 world wheat crop was a record and considerable higher than the 1963 crop. In contrast, current world wheat trade is estimated some 15 per cent less than during the 1963-64 year."

"THIS imbalance between supply and demand has put tremendous pressure on world wheat prices. Other exporting countries with supplies considerable in export demand have been offering wheat substantially below prices at which competing wheat from the United States could be purchased. As a result, the US share of world commercial trade has been declining this year.

"Current US prices more fully reflect appropriate competitive relationships with wheat being offered by other exporting countries. The maintenance of this relationship should permit the United States to obtain a more equitable share of world commercial markets."

"IMPORTERS have been anticipating adjustments in world price levels as the result of the exceedingly heavy supplies in exporting countries. These adjustments have now been made.

"We see no reason for world wheat price levels to decrease further. The United States has always taken a leading role in working with exporting countries to maintain stable prices. We continue to have a major interest in promoting price stability, and will cooperate with other suppliers to attain that objective."

MICHIGAN farmers produced an estimated 40 million bushels of wheat in 1964, practically the same as the 1963 crop.

Normal domestic usage of white wheat is 20 to 22 million bushels per year. This leaves a balance of 18 to 20 million bushels for which we must use over and above domestic milling. For 1963 crop year, 18 million bushels were sold into the European market, including Russia. Total exports of 21 million bushels allowed Michigan to balance over a surplus.

IT APPEARS as though only about half of the white wheat produced in Michigan is consumed here in the United States. We should also remember that in 1964 Michigan farmers diverted 93 thousand acres from the production of wheat to conserving practices.

It is early to tell if very much of the 1964 crop is being fed to livestock. As of this date there is little hope that the price of wheat will advance very much.

See better feeder cattle prices, but no big changes in coming year

Cattle feeders will find the price situation improved somewhat during the coming year, but farmers shouldn't look forward to large improvements.

Fed cattle prices will probably follow the pattern of 1964, but should level out before reaching the lows of last year, say Vern Schneider and Dick Vilstrup, University of Wisconsin livestock marketing specialists.

A BRIGHT spot in the picture is that the buildup of cattle numbers slowed considerably last year as a result of a large increase in slaughter plus a decrease in the imports of live animals.

The inventory of cattle and calves on Jan. 1 was up only slightly from the 106.3 million head at the beginning of last year. This is considerably less than the 3.7 per cent and 2.7 per cent increases made in 1962 and 1963.

LOOKING back on 1964, the marketing specialists note that fed cattle prices went up about $6 a hundredweight during the summer, but weakened in September. Reasons for the summer upsurge in prices were strong consumer buying power, reduced average slaughter weights, seasonally low supplies of pork, reduced beef imports, increased exports, and government buying.

Feeders cannot expect to move out of the beef price doldrums this year, the specialists say. Major reason is that the cattle feeding industry seems to have temporarily over-expanded. This will result in price and production problems until increased population demands materialize. Careful buying, feeding and marketing will be necessary to make 1965 a profitable cattle feeding year, says Schneider and Vilstrup.

THE SPECIALISTS point to a number of factors that could affect prices in the coming year. Price prospects for fed cattle in the spring of this year will depend largely on the number and weight of cattle and calves placed on feed last fall and winter. The favorable price relationship between fed cattle and feeder cattle encouraged increased placements at that time. This buildup will probably depress prices during the spring.

Five per cent more cattle available for feeding this year than last might also spell trouble—especially if producers feed to heavier weights. Stiff competition can again be expected from poultry, with production prospects for turkeys up 4 per cent and broilers up 5 per cent.

PORK supplies are increasing seasonally but will likely be down 5 or 6 per cent in 1965. This could help beef sales. Consumer buying power is expected to increase, but may be slightly less than in 1964. The foreign trade situation has been more favorable, but prospects for sales in this area will depend largely on competing markets in the western world, the marketing specialists say.

New recommendations for field weed control

Several new recommendations for weed control on field crops have been unveiled.

The new recommendations include herbicides or herbicide combinations for weed control in corn, field beans, sugar beets and potatoes.

FOR CORN, the combination of atrazine plus linuron (Lorox) and one pound of active ingredient of each per acre is being added to the recommended list. This combination must be applied pre-emergence.

The atrazine plus linuron combination reduces the possibility of soil residue problems with atrazine and also reduces the possibility of damage to corn with linuron.

IN RESEARCH plots, the combination has given weed control equal to that obtained with atrazine alone at two pounds of active ingredient per acre.

The atrazine-linuron combination is not available commercially as a mixture; therefore, the materials must be mixed in the sprayer by the applicator.

FOR FIELD beans, a combination of CDAA (Randox) plus Amiben and two pounds of active ingredient of each per acre is recommended.

This also should be applied pre-emergence. No soil incorporation is necessary.

Growers should try this combination on limited acreage only in 1965. Again, these materials are not available commercially in a mixture and therefore must be mixed in the sprayer.

FOR SUGAR beets, a combination of pyrazon (Pyramin) at four pounds per acre plus TCA at eight pounds per acre has given good control of annual weeds in sugar beets.

For potatoes, linuron (Lorox) is recommended for 1965 at the rate of two pounds of active ingredient per acre. This should be applied late pre-emergence, after weeds have emerged but before potatoes emerge.

Busy business
Farm cooperatives do more business every year, although their numbers are dwindling. In 1963, there were 1.5 per cent fewer cooperatives than the year before, but sales were 6.3 per cent higher. Economists say this is because small cooperatives are merging into larger enterprises.

Approve feed grain payments

Advance payments again this year are available to growers signing up to participate in the feed grain program, Frank Light, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, announced today. Similar payments were available under the 1964 program.

Referring to the 1964 program, Light said "There were 34,663 Michigan farmers enrolled in the feed grain program in 1964 who diverted 599,334 acres from grain production. The feed grain program reduces over-production and places additional Michigan land in soil conserving practices and in natural wildlife habitat."

ACCORDING TO Chairman Light, the advance payment will represent one-half of the estimated total diversion payment to be earned under the 1965 program. The rest of the diversion payment and all of the price-support payment earned under the program will be made next fall.

The 1965 feed grain program again covers corn, barley, and Zebras graze on an open plain in Africa in one scene from Larry Linnard's "African Wildlife in Action" film scheduled for next Wednesday evening in St. Johns. Several rhinoceros are visible in the background.

African wildlife film next in Lions' series

African animal life will be shown in the fifth of a series of Lions Club travelogues next Wednesday evening at the Clinton Theater.

Larry Linnard, explorer, engineer, landscape architect, conservationist and lecturer-photographer, will present his all-color adventure film "African Wildlife in Action."

THE SHOWING, at 8 p.m. sharp next Wednesday, March 3, is part of a "Travel and Adventure Series" of films and speakers scheduled through the winter. The last of the series is set for April 14. Local proceeds go toward Lions Club charities. Tickets are available at the door or from Lions Club members.

Realizing that the African animals are apparently doomed to extinction within the next few years, according to the best known authorities, Linnard camped for months in Uganda, Tanganyika and Kenya while photographing elephants, hippos, rhinos, lions, leopards, hyena, wildebeestes, zebras, giraffes, impala and many varieties of gazelles, antelopes, greater kudu and other lesser known varieties. HE HAS created a priceless record treasure for Americans to enjoy of a fast vanishing world of nature.

grain sorghum. Participants in the program may qualify for a payment for diversion of eligible cropland to approved conserving uses, and also for a price-support payment on the normal production of the 1965 feed grain acreage. They will also be eligible for price-support loans on their entire production from the feed grain acreage.

EACH FARM has a total feed grain base, representing the combined acreage of the three feed grains grown on the farm. A producer may divert one or more of the feed grains, and his diversion payment will be based on the per-acre rate which applies to the grain diverted. Minimum diversion under the program is 20 per cent of the total feed grain base; maximum diversion is 50 per cent of the base or 25 acres if this is more.

While participation in the 1965 feed grain program is voluntary, Light pointed out, the price-support payments and loans, as well as the diversion payments, will be available only to growers who sign up and carry out the program's provisions.

Signup for the program started Feb. 8 and will continue through March 26.

Henry Wohlerts leave farming after 44 years

GUNNISONVILLE — The auction at the Wohlert farm at 15860 Wood Road Tuesday, Feb. 16, ended an era of 44 years of dairy farming for Mr and Mrs Henry Wohlert.

Wohlert has lived in Gunnisonville since he was 12 years old, attended the little red brick school and at the age of 16 went into dairy farming with his father, Fred Wohlert Sr. He and Mrs Wohlert have lived in their present farm home for 38 years.

After all the years of farming Wohlert said he wonders what he is going to do with all the free time he has. He and Mrs Wohlert have joined the Retired Senior Citizens and this summer, when Mrs Wohlert's health improves, they plan to travel throughout America.

Mrs Henry Wohlert returned to her home on Wood Road last week, after spending the most of the past two months in Sparrow Hospital. A host of neighbors and friends have called on her since her return home.

Mr and Mrs Hugh Heinze of Beulah, were Monday overnight guests of Mr and Mrs Ernie Fritz.

Hundreds of people, mostly farmers, attended the all-day auction sale on the Henry Wohlert farm Tuesday, Feb. 16.

Elsie area residents pushing library plan

ELSIE —The Elsie community is proud of its public library and concerned for its future. This was evidenced as 32 men and women representing area organizations and churches met with the library board of trustees and the librarian, Mrs Orpha Clement, recently.

It was not necessary at that time to point out the crowded facilities as they heard Mrs Lawrence Hess, chairman of the board, review the history of the library and its steady growth. It opened in August 1943 after many civic-minded people had spent two years cleaning, sorting, discarding for salvage, accessioning and arranging on the shelves the hundreds of books that have been purchased and donated.

THIS WAS done under the supervision of the late Miss Constance Bement from the Extension Department of the Michigan State Library in Lansing.

Now, more than 22 years later, the library services have expanded and churches met with the library board of trustees and the librarian, Mrs Orpha Clement, recently.

Realizing the potential force of the public library in their community, the men and women resolved to form a "Friends of the Library" group to aid the board of trustees in promoting the welfare of the library.

PAT FORAN was elected chairman of the group with Mrs Albert Ensign of Bannister as secretary. Committees are being selected and possible solutions to the problems are being investigated. The next meeting is scheduled for March 29 (place to be announced later) when other interested people are expected to be present.

Meanwhile, various committees will be at work to report their findings and in addition, plans for small community libraries will be on display from the Michigan State Library. Their architect, Clarence Walters, recently met with the board and other interested persons to offer possible solutions to their future needs.

THERE ARE many "Friends of the Library" groups dedicated to furthering the interest of their libraries by providing larger and more suitable quarters, furnishings and numerous services through their contributions of time, talent and money.

The local library is a neighborhood institution and everyone is asked to offer suggestions on how to enlarge the present facilities and thus better the community. Many people have given much time by serving on the board of trustees, conducting "story hours," donating books and periodicals, furnishings educational displays and encouraging others to utilize the wealth of materials crowding the shelves.

THE ELSIE Library is supported by annual appropriations from the Elsie Village Council, which has borne the major operating expenses; Duplain township; book fines; and donations from individuals and organizations. The Woman's Literary Club has long been a booster of the library, providing a considerable amount from its library benefit held annually.

Last May, the local library became eligible, for the first time, for a share of the penal fines, which they are now putting to good use. A portion has been spent for repairing and replacing many favorites in popular and classic books worn from years of usage, new reference books, a large dictionary and the World Book Encyclopedia so that the others may be released for withdrawals. The board has also purchased a mobile cart for books, and new filing cabinets are on order.

THE LIBRARY is also used as a meeting place for the village council, township board, board of review and for holding village elections.

Friends of the Library groups believe in a vital, modern library and in its widest possible use. They believe that a community in a democracy must provide for its children and its young people a center of cultural and intellectual resources.

To this end, they ask interest and support to see that these objectives become a reality.

THE PRESENT board of trustees of the Elsie Public Library are: Mrs Lawrence Hess, Mrs B. M. Wooley, Mrs Lloyd Craven, Mrs R. P. Lannen and Mrs Everett Rule.

March WSCS meet at Beery residence

ELSIE —There has been a change in the place of meeting for the March 3 Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church. It will be held at the home of Mrs John W. Beery on Church St. instead of Mrs Lyle Dunham, whose home was badly damaged by fire recently.

The lesson, "Serving the New Age: Opportunities in Outreach," will be presented by Mrs A. W. Cobb with Mrs Frances Pearl leading the devotions.

March 5 will be World Day of Prayer at the church and March 12 will be a Day Apart service at the Greenbush Church.

DAR Essay Contest Winners

These three youngsters were winners in the American history essay contest sponsored recently by the River Wabways in chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Left to right are Richard Zapoli, son of Mr and Mrs Richard Zapoli of 5083 S. Francis Road, a fifth grader who wrote on Daniel Boone; Martha Mihalyi, daughter of Mr and Mrs William Mihalyi of 407 S. Prospect Street, who wrote on Mormons Move West; and Lynn Riley, daughter of Mr and Mrs Edward Riley of 608 W. Baldwin, who wrote on the Lewis and Clark expedition. Lynn and Martha are both sixth graders. Lynn won first place, Martha second and Richard third in the essay contest.

Dormans provide Lions' program

ELSIE —Monday evening was Ladies' Night at the regular Lions Club chicken supper. There were 36 people present.

Music was furnished by a cornet trio from Elsie High School—Janice Kelley, Matthew Courter and George Keck—who chose "Romance" for their selection. It was the number for which they received a No. 2 rating at the District Solo and Ensemble Festival in Perry last Saturday.

MR AND MRS James Dorman displayed their many exquisite plaques of copper tooling and other unusual creations and told of their work. The small tools with which they work were designed by Dorman and were also on display.

During the brief business meeting with Jack Hawes presiding, plans were made for a fish supper, March 12. The proceeds will be used toward the purchase of a whirlpool bath for Helen Blakely, 7-year-old daughter of Mr and Mrs Norman Blakely, who has undergone much surgery and been confined to many casts and braces since birth.

Husbands guests at Valentine WLC dinner

ELSIE —The Woman's Literary Club members entertained their husbands at Valentine dinner and social time last Tuesday evening at the Masonic Hall. A chicken dinner for more than 50 people was prepared and served by the ladies of the Eastern Star Chapter with Mrs Myrtle Cook acting as chairman from the Woman's Literary Club.

THE TABLES were decorated for the occasion by Mrs James Dorman and Mrs Keith Conklin. Mrs Ruby Parks and Mrs Vina Smith were in charge of arrangements for the progressive cards that followed with nine tables in play.

High scores were won by Mrs Russell Bouck and Robert Bloomer while consolation went to Mrs Duane Green and Leroy Vincent.

The WLC will hold its annual meeting March 2 at the high school homemaking room.

Mrs Celia Mitchell recently slipped and fell in her home breaking her kneecap. She was taken to the Clinton Memorial Hospital Feb. 7. Later she was moved to Sparrow Hospital in Lansing and underwent surgery Thursday, Feb. 18. Her room number is 512.

Eldred Waters had the misfortune to fall from a ladder while working at Clark's Service. He sustained a compound fracture of the leg and injuries to the ankle. He was taken to the Owosso Memorial Hospital.

A son, Douglas Allen, was born to Mr and Mrs Herb Betts, Jr., on Feb. 15 at the Clinton Memorial Hospital in St. Johns. Mrs Betts is the former Jane Mead.

Mrs John Phelps entered the Owosso Memorial Hospital Tuesday for surgery.

William Wilson was returned to the Owosso Memorial Hospital Tuesday for treatment. He will remain for some time.

Eastern Stars hold meeting

ELSIE — Mrs R. D. Martin and John Hall presided for the regular OES meeting at the Masonic Hall Wednesday evening during the absence of the worthy patron and matron who are vacationing in Florida. Several other officers were absent due to illness and many sick calls and cards were reported. The financial success of the two dinners served this month to the Woman's Literary Club and the Commercial Club was also reported.

THE FOLLOWING announcements of Clinton County Friends' Nights were made: March 6, Initiation at Elsie; March 16, Fun Night program at Wacousta; and April 10, Initiation at Ovid Morningstar Chapter.

An invitation from the Lansing OES was read for a reception honoring Vera Nye, Grand Organist of the Grand Chapter, on Feb. 24 at the Masonic Temple in Lansing.

A social hour was enjoyed after the meeting with Mr and Mrs Stanley Loznak, Mr and Mrs Leroy Vincent and Miss Erna Vincent as the committee.

A patriotic as well as Valentine theme was used for the table decorations and refreshments.

Drop-outs discussed by future teachers

ELSIE — The Kate Finch Future Teachers Club held a potluck dinner Wednesday evening in the homemaking room of Elsie High School. Sponsors, Mrs Thelma Rule and Mrs Sue Cerny, were present.

Drop-outs at EHS were discussed by Carol Prousky and Becky Ballanger from charts kept since 1956. Cindy Kelley and Kathy Robinson gave a skit about drop-outs.

Penny Sturgis was in charge of the business meeting, when plans were discussed for a trip to Lansing to visit the School for the Blind, Michigan State University and Lansing Business University.

Mary Helene Vleck was named to the Dean's Honor Roll at Nazareth College for the fall semester. She is a liberal arts freshman.

Mr and Mrs S. J. Keys and family were hosts to Mrs Dorothy Kaspar of Detroit, Mrs Margaret Edwards of St. Johns, Don Willard of Ovid, and Mary Slagh for Sunday dinner. Mrs Kaspar is spending a few days here with her sisters.

Lahana-Flanner rites

ELSIE —Miss Zafero Lahana of Athens, Greece, and Lewis W. Flanner were married Feb. 7, 1965. Lewis is the son of Mrs Cassie Flanner of Elsie and is stationed with the US Navy in Greece.

The newlyweds will be back in the states in March of 1966.

Try cabbage rolls, salad, or with beef

Although the month of February is nearing an end cabbage is still plentiful and still a good buy. Look for cabbage that looks fresh, is well trimmed and heavy for its size. After you've made your selection try one of the tempting recipes below.

Stuffed cabbage is an old world dish that has many variations and many names, from the Russian "Golubtsi" to the Swedish "Kaldolmar." In this particular version, the cabbage rolls are stuffed with tuna and cooked in a sauce made creamy smooth with mayonnaise.

TUNA CABBAGE ROLLS

Favorite tuna salad, made with 2 cups (two 7-ounce cans) tuna 10 cabbage leaves 1-1/2 c. milk 1 c. mayonnaise 1/2 tsp. salt 1/4 tsp. pepper 1/4 tsp. powdered dill 3/4 c. shredded Cheddar cheese

Cook cabbage leaves in boiling water until slightly tender, about 15 minutes. Drain well. Place about 1/4 c. tuna salad on each leaf; fold top over, and sides in; roll tightly. Place in 2-quart casserole. Blend milk into mayonnaise in saucepan. Add salt, pepper and dill; cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, until slightly thickened. Add 1/2 cup of the shredded cheese; stir until cheese melts. Pour sauce over cabbage rolls; sprinkle with remaining cheese. Bake in 350 degree F. (moderate) oven until sauce bubbles, about 20 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

NOTE: To separate leaves from head of cabbage easily, hold cabbage under cold running water.

CAPTURE all the full sassy flavor of winter vegetables in delectable Perfection Salad. Chopped vegetables—cabbage, celery and pimientos—are encased in shimmering fresh lemon gelatin. To unmold, dip mold in warm water to the depth of its contents. Run paring knife around rim, top with serving dish, and invert. Repeat if necessary.

PERFECTION SALAD

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin

1 c. cold water 1/2 c. sugar 1 tsp. salt 1-1/2 c. ice water 1/2 c. vinegar 2 tbsp. lemon juice 1-1/2 c. finely shredded cabbage 1-1/2 c. chopped celery 2 pimientos, cut in small pieces

Sprinkle gelatin over cold water in saucepan. Place over low heat; stir constantly until gelatin dissolves, 2 to 3 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in sugar and salt. Add 1-1/2 cups ice water, vinegar and lemon juice. Chill until mixture mounds when dropped from spoon. Add remaining ingredients and turn into 4-cup mold or individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish plate with salad greens.

YIELD: 6 servings.

OR YOU might want to try a New England Boiled Dinner.

3 to 4-lb. corned brisket of beef 8 small onions 8 whole carrots 4 potatoes, halved or quartered 2 turnips, cubed (if desired) 1 green cabbage, cut in wedges

Place beef in heavy kettle. Cover with hot water. Cover tightly and simmer 3-1/2 to 4 hours, until tender. About 35 minutes before meat is done, skim off excess fat and add onions, carrots, potatoes and turnips. Cover and cook 20 minutes. Add cabbage and cook another 10 to 15 minutes. Makes eight servings.

Mayonnaise sauce

To prepare a cupful of hot mayonnaise sauce for serving on cooked vegetables: combine 1/2 cup each mayonnaise and milk; whip together with rotary beater and season with 1/4 teaspoon salt and a pinch of pepper. Cook over very low heat just 3 minutes, stirring constantly. Serve at once over asparagus, brussels sprouts, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, green beans, peas or boiled onions.

Empty sweeper pan

Empty the carpet sweeper pan after each use. Over-stuffing accounts for the dirt and lint that drops back to the floor.

The Karbers of 817 Church St. do not have any pets, so when Button, a hound dog belonging to a friend, paid them a visit Johnny was thrilled. Fortunately Button didn't mind Johnny's method of coaxing him nearer by a friendly tug on one of the dog's long floppy ears. In fact, Button rewarded Johnny with an affectionate "lick" at which time Johnny lost interest.

10-month-old Karber baby still center of attraction

BY PATRICIA HOLMES

Outside of an occasional visit from one of the neighbor's pets, John William Karber of 817 Church St. and "adopted baby" of the Clinton County News, at the age of 10 months, is still the center of attraction in his family. Johnny stole the spotlight from his 2-year-old sister Janis, who never-the-less adores him, when he was born last April 27.

In addition to Janis, Johnny has another sister, Sharon, 5, and a brother, Dean 3. Johnny's mother, Mrs. Karber, said that the other children never seem to tire of him, adding the reservation, "Except when they're watching cartoons on television and Johnny decides to take over the controls." BUT WHO could tire of an increasingly active baby? Only last month Johnny crept by the push and pull method. That is, he would pull himself forward with his elbows while pushing with his hands. Now, only a month later, Johnny is creeping on his knees. This new method of maneuvering makes it possible for Johnny to go anywhere in the Karber home except upstairs and he must be thinking about it.

"I've caught him going up the first few stairs," Mrs. Karber said, "at time when the other children have been playing up there."

WHEN A BABY can crawl as well as Johnny and the baby disappears, no place is too unlikely to consider looking for him.

One evening when Johnny's absence from the family circle became particularly conspicuous, Mrs. Karber began to look around. Her search took her as far as the kitchen where she saw kitchen utensils out of the cupboard—and Johnny in it. Visible only was his face on which he was wearing a proud smile of accomplishment.

Another activity which occupies a certain amount of Johnny's time is standing-up by the window and watching the children play outside. When he does this Mrs. Karber has few doubts that she will have a busy summer

Recalls slower pace of 80 years in past

BY FAYE HANSON

DeWITT—One of the truly "grand ladies" of DeWitt observed her 95th birthday on Monday, Feb. 22.

Mrs. Mary Havens, who maintains her own apartment, walks to the Community Church each Sunday and to the post office each day, was born in Iowa in 1870 and said that she doesn't remember her own parents. She was raised by Mr. and Mrs. William Swagart in Bengal Township, who took her into their home when she was 8 months old.

She was married at 16 to John Padgett and they lived on a farm in Bengal.

MRS. HAVENS has witnessed many changes over the years but, she said, she thinks that families had more fun when they lived at a slower pace. She recalls rolling back the rugs for a square dance, sugaring-off parties at home, spelling bees, box socials at the local country schools, and big Fourth of July celebrations with parades. The Fourth of July does not seem to mean as much to people now as it did 80 years ago, she said.

WHEN ASKED to what she attributed her long life, she said: "I have always worked hard and never smoked." She said she thinks one of the biggest hazards in today's homes is mothers who leave matches and cigarette lighters within children's reach.

"We always kept matches on the top shelf of the cupboard and out of the children's reach," she said.

Raisin Coffee Cake Teenagers Choice

Recipes like this appeal not only to teenagers but also to new brides. Start with versatile California raisins—which are always ready to use instantly from their carton or pouch—and biscuit mix. It takes little time to put together and comes out of the oven fragrant and flavorful. A brown sugar streusel mixture is layered with the raisin batter to give it extra richness.

QUICK RAISIN COFFEE CAKE

3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1/2 cup brown sugar (packed)
2 1/2 cups biscuit mix
3/4 cup dark or golden raisins

1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg
1/2 cup milk

Combine melted butter, brown sugar and 1/4 cup biscuit mix until crumbly. Set aside. Combine raisins with remaining 2 cups biscuit mix, cinnamon and sugar. Add lightly beaten egg and milk. Stir to blend. Spread half of batter in greased 8-inch round baking dish. Sprinkle half of crumbly mixture evenly over batter. Repeat layers. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 35 minutes. Cut into wedges and serve hot. Makes 1 (8-inch) cake.

FORGOTTEN ANYTHING

No, not a single thing! Mom always shops carefully for her family. She watches their health. She makes sure they have a clean, comfortable home. She sees that they get practically anything they want. What more can she do?

Well, how about their spiritual well-being? A family needs a religious framework in which to develop moral responsibility and steadfast faith. If Mom and Dad set a fine example of Christian love and regular church attendance, the family cannot help but be influenced. Today's young people, strengthened and inspired by Church teachings, are the leaders that our country will need tomorrow.

Remember, Mom . . . "Man's life consists not in the abundance of things which he possesses." Don't deprive your family or yourself of the many precious values the Church can give.

2 Arbor Days set again in '65

Hearing the approach of springtime, Gov. George Romney has again this year proclaimed two Arbor Days for Michigan—April 22 in Southern Michigan and May 6 in Northern Michigan. Because Michigan has so varied a climate that earliest tree planting time comes variously in the Lower and Upper Peninsulas, the Michigan Association of Nurserymen recommended the two Arbor Days.

A tree on the state capitol lawn April 22, but this year it will be a flowering crabapple instead of Michigan's official state tree, the White Pine. Members of the Legislature, as last year, will find potted blue spruce trees on their desks. Before that they will pass a concurrent resolution calling upon the people of Michigan to plant trees on Arbor Day to stimulate restoration of Michigan's forest heritage and keep Michigan beautiful in urban as well as rural areas.

The Michigan Education Assn. is cooperating with the nurserymen by urging all school superintendents to hold tree planting programs on their school grounds. Municipalities and service organizations are being urged to participate. The five regional chapters of the Michigan Association of Nurserymen with headquarters at Detroit, Lansing, Saginaw, Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids will aid groups and individuals with their programs. For further information they may contact MAN headquarters at Lansing, PO Box 5367.

"IT IS FITTING that Michigan should lead in the observance of Arbor Day since the founder was J. Sterling Morton who was raised and educated at Monroe, Mich., some 130 years ago although he moved to Nebraska where the first Tree Planting or Arbor Day was observed April 10, 1872," said Henry J. LaBrosse of Lansing, Chairman of the MAN Arbor Day Committee.

"Further more Michigan has more tree seedling growers and produces more seedlings than any other state in the union."

Measles is dangerous disease, doctor warns

Far from being a harmless disease, measles is dangerous to children, Oliver B. McGillicuddy, MD, president of the Michigan State Medical Society, warned in launching the society's extensive public service campaign for immunization against the widespread childhood illness.

The intensive statewide campaign, starting March 1 and running for six weeks, will inform parents of the dangers of measles and encourage them to consult their physician regarding measles vaccination for their children.

"The eradication of measles is now one of the prime targets of the medical profession," Dr McGillicuddy said in announcing the war against measles.

Exploding the widespread myth that measles is a harmless disease of childhood, Dr McGillicuddy pointed out that practically every child is susceptible to measles by the time he is nine months old, and nine out of 10 will have measles.

"IN FACT, OF those who suffer," he stated, "one child in six will develop a secondary reaction, and, in one case out of 1,000, measles triggers the dreaded encephalitis, inflammation of the brain, and in some cases it even kills.

"This situation can and should be corrected," Dr McGillicuddy emphasized. "Measles can be virtually wiped out by use of vaccines available to physicians.

"WITH the likelihood that 1965 will be another year in which measles are widely prevalent in Michigan, we urge all parents to take advantage of the vaccines now available for immunization of their children.

"We have the means of wiping out measles almost completely," Dr McGillicuddy added. "But this is possible only if susceptible children are vaccinated."

Altar Society plans festival

PEWAMO—Forty members of the Altar Society met Tuesday evening in the parish hall to discuss the summer parish festival which will be held on June 13.

All women of the parish were asked to embroider pillowcases if possible, or to sew to the amount of two. The Altar Society will have a supply of stamped pillow cases at the next meeting in March for those who can embroider an extra pair. The fancy work booth will be one of the main attractions.

A lunch of sandwiches and coffee followed, served by Mrs. Ardis Ludwick, Mrs. Edmund Miller, and Mrs. Reynold Miller.

The entertainment committee was Mrs. Ferd C. Bower, Mrs. John Blauwink, and Mrs. Joseph Bower. Point Euchre with Leaping Lena was played. High scorer was Mrs. Tony Theise. She also received Leaping Lena. Consolation went to Mrs. John J. Fox. The mystery prize was received by Mrs. Roman Hafner.

The next meeting will be held March 16. Father Kersjes opened and closed the meeting with a prayer. Special guest at the meeting was Mrs. Mary Cummins of Edmore.

Mrs. Louis Fox spent the past week at the home of Mr and Mrs Dick Fox of Ionia caring for her grandchildren while the Fox's were vacationing in Florida.

Mr and Mrs Herman Simon and son Charles, spent Tuesday afternoon with Mr and Mrs Charles Martin.

Mrs. Clara Caston was hostess to her Pedro Club Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 23.

Mr and Mrs Oscar Cook accompanied Mr and Mrs Alvin Thelen of Fowler to visit Mr and Mrs Bob Weber of Midland Sunday. Fredrick Wood was admitted to Carson City Hospital Sunday afternoon and submitted to surgery Monday morning at 9:30 a.m. He expected to be home Saturday, Feb. 20.

Sunday guests of Mr and Mrs Larry Kieffer of Carson City were Mr and Mrs Clare Schneider and family and Mrs. Michael Schneider Sr. of Pewamo.

Frank Heckman came home from St. Lawrence Hospital in Lansing Friday, Feb. 19.

Former Pewamo man dies in Portland

PEWAMO—George Bower, 84, former Pewamo resident died unexpectedly at his home in Portland. At the time of death he was watching television.

He is survived by his wife, Bessie; three sons, Lawrence and Louis of Portland and John of Lansing; a daughter, Lucille of Santa Ana, Calif.; a brother, Ferd of Pewamo; a sister, Rose of Alma; and several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at St. Patrick's Church in Portland Monday at 10 a.m. Burial was in Portland Cemetery.

Blue Star Mothers hosted by Mrs Cook

PEWAMO—The Blue Star Mothers held their meeting at the elementary school Wednesday evening, with 18 members present. In the absence of the chaplain, Mrs. Donald Wood gave the prayer.

The mystery prize went to Mrs. Donald Wood. Homemade cherry pie and coffee was served by the hostess, Mrs. Oscar Cook and co-hostesses Mrs. Robert Spitzley and Mrs. Donald Wood. Pedro was the evening's entertainment, Mrs. Clara Caston being high scorer and consolation going to Mrs. Joseph J. Fox.

The next meeting will be March 17 with Mrs. Arnold Fedewa.

Mr and Mrs Tony Halfman and Mr and Mrs Albert Witgen of Westphalia were visitors at the home of Mr and Mrs Leo Cook Wednesday.

Kelly Ludwick submitted to a tonsillectomy at Ionia County Memorial Hospital during the past week. Kelly is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Peter Ludwick.

Mr and Mrs Charles Martin and Mr and Mrs Tony Halfman were visitors of Mr and Mrs Oscar Simon.

Mr and Mrs Louis Thelen accompanied their daughter Bonnie, senior daughter's of the American Revolution representative for the Pewamo-Westphalia High School to a tea Saturday, Feb. 20, in Ionia. The tea was sponsored by the local chapter of the DAR.

Mr and Mrs Kenneth Cummins had as their guest the past week their mother, Mrs. Mary Cummins of Edmore.

Area credit union assets set record

Assets of the 38 credit unions in the Lansing area reached an all-time high of $41,500,000 during 1964, Adolph F. Miller, chairman of the Lansing Chapter of Credit Unions, has announced.

Miller, who is president of Lansing Automakers Credit Union, said membership in the area credit unions had increased from 50,000 to 56,000 during the past year. The Lansing chapter area covers Clinton and Ingham counties.

Savings are also at the record high of $38,100,000. Dividends on savings and interest rebated on loans which were returned to the membership at year-end amounted to $1,900,000, Miller stated.

Mrs. George Miller entertained her euchre club Saturday evening. Miss Angles Reust of Fort Wayne, Ind. spent the weekend with her sister, Mrs. George Miller and her brother, John Reust.

Red Tag Day only week away

Red Tag Day, a promotion of St. Johns Business Unlimited, is only a little over a week away.

many, many items marked down in price for the March 5 event, the first sales event of the new year. Big red tags will be placed on the special items, and red tag posters will be placed in the windows of stores. Jerry Knupp is Red Tag Day chairman.
