1 Driver Injured Slightly in Head-on, Jackknife Crash

The driver of this jackknifed semi-trailer truckload of farm machinery escaped with not-too-serious leg injuries after the truck collided almost head-on with a milk tanker truck driven by Floyd Cook, 53, of R-1, Saranac, last Wednesday. William D. Greiner, 31, of Sigourney, Iowa, was treated by a Fowler physician. The accident occurred about a mile west of Fowler on M-21 about 12:30 p.m. when Cook started to pass another truck, apparently not seeing the oncoming semi. The two hit nearly head-on, with the semi partially off the highway. Both lanes were blocked for a time until a wrecker moved the semi to one side. It was not until about 4 p.m. that both lanes were opened to traffic. Cook was going west on M-21 toward Fowler; Greiner was traveling east. Deputy Sheriff Hilary Hafner (second from right), ticketed Cook for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Area study planned of post-high school needs

Plans for the creation of a Vocational-Technical Area Study Shilawsee and Clinton Counties were set in motion at a meeting held in the American Legion home at Owosso last Thursday evening.

THE ESTIMATED $15,000 cost of the study will be financed in part by a $7,500 Federal grant. The remaining $7,500 will be solicited from interested persons and agencies in the two-county area.

Sub-committees chosen to work during the next nine months are those involving fund raising, youth and adults, public information, business and industry and growth and development.

The study of possible needs for post-high school training in the area is under the general chairmanship of Alvin M. Bentley of Owosso, former Congressman in this district and recently chairman of Gov. Romney's Blue Ribbon Committee on state educational requirements.

Central purpose of the study, said John R. Francis, superintendent of the Shilawsee Intermediate School District, is to ascertain the kinds of programs warranted and reach a sound basis for future action.

Clinton people invited to the first session and assigned to sub-committees are:

The 60-member study committee, headed by Bentley, includes representatives from both Clinton and Shilawsee communities.

Principal speaker at last Thursday's meeting was Dr. Raymond Young, professor of education from the University of Michigan. He has played a role in the development of several community colleges in the state.

Gayle Desprez of the Clinton National Bank, St. Johns; Francis Johnson, Michigan Milk Producers Association, Ovid; Jack Walker, St. Johns attorney; Joseph Kurka, Elsie farmer; Robert Gill, Sealed Power Corp., St. Johns; Richard Semans, Ovid farmer; Robert Shinabery, milk plant worker at Ovid.

Heart surgery blood collected

Last week's special blood collection for open heart surgery proved to be successful, with the necessary 22 pints being taken between noon and 2 p.m. last Thursday.

IN SESSIONS if sub-committees later in the evening, Shilawsee representatives pointed out that establishment of an area community college was not necessarily in line with their thinking. "We are keeping an open mind in this respect," said Alvin M. Bentley, chairman of the study group.

The A-positive blood was used next morning in open heart surgery in Ann Arbor, with the operation reportedly successful. The name of the patient and the donors were not disclosed by the Red Cross.

Supt. Francis outlined three possible choices which the study committee might consider:

THE COLLECTION was the first outside the Lansing Region-Blood Center headquarters in Lansing for use in open heart surgery, and the procedure was an experiment that apparently worked satisfactorily. Another such collection of A-positive blood will be made next Thursday in Laingsburg during the regular visit of the Bloodmobile there.

1. Establishment of a vocational-technical training program for post-high school youths.

Blood for open heart surgery will be collected between noon and 2 p.m., with regular donations being taken during the regular hours of the bloodmobile visit. Mrs. John Schocke is in charge of Laingsburg.

2. Establishment of a community college-type facility which offers both academic and vocational courses.

2 represent FB here on trip

Mrs. Dorothy Ward of R-1, St. Johns, and Mrs. Bernice Rice of R-2, St. Johns, represented the Clinton County Farm Bureau on a three-day tour of the nation's capital the first part of this week.

Fifty farm leaders representing 25 county Farm Bureaus throughout the state flew in to Washington, D. C., Sunday for the visit. The group visited with Michigan congressmen from both political parties to discuss various issues, including local re-appointment, lack of export quotas for Michigan white wheat and other farm-related problems.

A FULL-TIME director will be employed to organize the area study. Target date for its completion is Dec. 1, 1965, said George L. Kallos, director of special education for Shilawsee County.

Call sewer bond issue election

A special election has been called in DeWitt Township on a $730,000 bond issue to acquire and construct a sanitary sewage disposal system in the township.

The special election will be April 12.

The disposal system would consist of a treatment facility and interceptor and lateral sewers. The $730,000 in bonds for which approval is being sought would pay part of the cost of the system.

Greer talks on zoning at Rotary Club meet

City Manager Kenneth Greer of St. Johns discussed the city's proposed new zoning ordinance in a talk to members of the St. Johns Rotary Club Tuesday noon.

He was introduced by W. F. Graef, chairman of the city planning commission and program chairman for the Rotary meeting.

Traffic injuries fatal; victim's mom also dies

The fourth traffic fatality of 1965 in Clinton County was recorded Sunday when Lawrence E. Pouillon, 49, of Lansing, a long-time former Ovid resident, died of injuries received a week earlier in a crash at Round Lake Road and US-27 in DeWitt Township.

Less than 24 hours before he died, his mother, Mrs. Daisy Pouillon, 77, of Ovid, died en route to a hospital after suffering a heart attack. Double funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Houghton Funeral home in Ovid, with burial in Maple Grove Cemetery. The Rev. George W. Rogers officiated.

THE ACCIDENT which proved to be fatal for Mr. Pouillon occurred early Sunday, March 7, when Pouillon's car collided with one driven by Norman J. Ance, 25, of Wheeler, just south of the Round Lake Road intersection with US-27.

Mr. Pouillon suffered severe chest injuries. Ance and two

Auction day will change to Wednesday

Beginning April 7, auction market day at the St. Johns Stockyards will be Wednesday rather than the present Friday sale day.

Announcement of the change was made this week by officials of the Wolverine Stockyards Co. here. The new schedule will also affect the Carson City sale which will be held on Tuesday rather than Wednesday, beginning April 6.

STOCKYARDS officials say that the change in day for the St. Johns auction will provide a better market for area livestock sellers.

The Friday sale sometimes entailed holding livestock here over the weekend and buyers took this extra feeding cost and increased shrinkage into account in their bidding.

The local yard will continue to operate a six-day market as they have in the past. Auction markets at Lake Odessa, Lapeer and Clare will continue on their present schedule.

Burglars get $3,890 at DeWitt

DeWITT— One of the biggest burglaries in recent months was discovered Sunday morning at Reed's Thrift-Way Market in DeWitt where apparently professional thieves got $3,890 from a safe.

Store owner Kenneth Reed discovered the burglary about 7 a.m. Sunday when he went to the store to do some work. Police figure the theft took place between 4 and 6 a.m.

THE THIEVES wore gloves and left no fingerprints. They knocked the combination off the safe and pried the door in what DeWitt police Chief Charles Anderson said was a real fast job. "They certainly knew what they were doing," he said.

The loot included about $3,890 in cash and checks, but mostly cash, from the safe and cash register and drawers. A quantity of cigarettes and some whisky were also reported stolen. The safe was in the office at the front of the store.

ENTRY TO the building was made by prying open a steel rear door. It was done sometime after Anderson made his rounds past the store between 3 and 3:15 a.m. The DeWitt policeman, Deputy Sheriff Bruce Wilcox and state police are handling the investigation of the burglary.

Woman injured as car swerves, hits utility pole

MISS THELEN's car failed to straighten out after she swerved around the front of the other auto, and it hit a utility pole at the southeast corner of the intersection.

Miss Thelen was taken to Clinton Memorial Hospital.

Cobb named to state GOP unit

Andrew Cobb of R-1, Elsie, has been named representative of the Third Congressional District to the budget and finance committee of the Republican State Central Committee, according to Republican State Chairman Mrs. Elly M. Peterson.

Cobb will attend the Republican State Central meeting in Detroit Friday and Saturday.

Chamber secretary to start March 29

The St. Johns Chamber of Commerce's new secretary, Mrs. John Minsky, will assume her duties here March 29, according to chamber President Bernard Feldpausch. Mrs. Minsky and her family are still looking for housing, however.

Annexation vote list numbers 29

Voters in three more area school districts will go to the polls this Saturday to decide on annexation to the St. Johns School District.

Richmond, French and Plowman districts will be on the fourth, fifth and sixth of a growing list of districts which will submit the same question to their voters.

As of Tuesday, 29 of the 32 rural districts being sought for the annexation had set election dates or had held elections. Only Krepps, Stoney Creek and Kincaid have yet to set dates.

Richmond and French districts, in Greenbush Township, and Plowman in Riley Township will vote Saturday from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the schools.

THE LATEST two elections were held last Wednesday, and annexation was approved almost unanimously in each. In the Marshall School District in Greenbush Township, district patrons voted 16-1 for annexation and 15-2 for acceptance of a 4 1/2 mill for school operations.

Rowell District voters in Duplain approved annexation 37-2 and the millage 36-3, with one ballot spoiled on each issue.

ELEVEN DISTRICTS set up their election dates within the last week and a half, bringing the total number to 29. In some districts, there is still time to register for voting in the election.

Today (Thursday) is the deadline for Parker district voters, and these are the other final registration dates: Friday in Bengal

March 20—French, Richmond and Plowman.

March 27—Sherwood and Sage.

March 30—Gardner.

April 3—Eureka, Price, Church and Harper.

April 10—Greenwood, Frink, Chapman and Jason.

April 17—Bengal Center.

April 22—Olive Center.

April 24—Union Home, Cramer, Serviss, Lamb, Merrihew and Page.

April 27—Parker.

May 4—County Farm.

May 8—Cedar Lake and Merle Beach.

SUPT. OF SCHOOLS Earl Lancaster pointed out some time ago in a letter to the various rural school boards that elections on the annexation question must be held before May 12 to comply with state law.

If the elections are not held before that time, the St. Johns school board will need to start the procedure of resolutions for state approval of the elections all over again.

THE ST. JOHNS board has resolved not to accept any high school students after July 1 from districts not annexing to St. Johns.

William Richards Jr., operator of Richards' Dairy in St. Johns, has bought out the stock of the Matthews Stores, Inc., long-time local manufacturers of ice cream.

The change in ownership will mean no change in the production or personnel of the Matthews Stores, Richard said, and the Matthews name will be retained with the business.

WALTER NICKEL

Walter Nickel, principal at Central School for 10 years, will assume his new duties as assistant superintendent in charge of rural schools beginning May 1. He was appointed to that position last November. His job will be to coordinate the rural districts and keep them running as individual districts until a building program can be devised to house and educate all the grade school children involved. Samuel Serrell will take over as Central School principal.

Town, Country meeting set

Another in a series of Town and Country dinner meetings sponsored by the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce will be held next Thursday evening at the Price Methodist Church at the corner of Price and Chandler roads southeast of St. Johns.

The meeting is with farmers from that area. Chamber members buy tickets for themselves and a guest from that area. Tickets are available at the chamber office on Clinton Avenue.

Drive-In to open

The Family Drive-In on North US-27 is planning to open for the season the weekend of March 26-28 if weather permits, says Howard Kortez, owner. Definite announcement of the opening date will be made next week, he says.

Richards buys out Matthews Stores

William Richards Jr., operator of Richards' Dairy in St. Johns, has bought out the stock of the Matthews Stores, Inc., long-time local manufacturers of ice cream.

The change in ownership will mean no change in the production or personnel of the Matthews Stores, Richard said, and the Matthews name will be retained with the business.

THE BUSINESS transaction, completed last week, involved the purchase of stock in the company from James C. Matthews of 701 S. Mead, St. Johns, and his mother, Mrs. J. G. Matthews, 510 S. Mead. Richards also bought the stock of seven other persons who owned smaller numbers of shares.

The transaction includes the Matthews Stores' ice cream manufacturing plant in St. Johns and three retail outlets in Jackson. Only the business, equipment and supplies were involved. Buildings occupied by the Matthews Stores will continue to be used on a lease basis, Richards said.

THE MATTHEWS Stores have been in business here since 1929, and last May they celebrated their 35th anniversary.

"The Matthews Stores has made a good name for itself in the ice cream business," Richards said, "and we would like to continue to take advantage of it. We contemplate no change of name for the business."

The Jackson retail stores of Matthews Stores are a major sales outlet for Richards' Dairy products, and Richards said this was one of the factors that led to the purchase of stock. Richards' Dairy also manufactures an ice cream mix, making the merger of the two firms all the more natural.

JIM MATTHEWS, now vacationing in California, said he wished the new owners well. "I'm glad we are being succeeded by another independent business firm," he said.

Richards started in business here in 1946 when he and his father, William Richards Sr., purchased the dairy business at 308 Brush Street from the former Blanding Dairy.

Spring concert Tuesday to kick off week of musical presentations

Area people who appreciate good music will have two events coming up within the next two weeks that should please them.

Next Tuesday the St. Johns High School Music Department will present its annual spring concert at 8 p.m. in the auditorium at the high school. Organizations involved will be the concert band, the Wilsonaires and the symphonic band.

DIRECTOR WALTER Cole and Asst. Director Robert Cox promised a varied and interesting concert with music that will have "lots of audience appeal."

"Part of the budget of the music program is supported by the concerts presented during the year," Cole pointed out. "Your active participation in attending is encouraged in order to have our musical ensembles active in the community."

A WEEK FROM Sunday, on March 28, 96 bandsmen from 22 schools in District 5 of the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Assn. will present an all-star concert at St. Johns High School at 3 p.m.

Many of the best musicians in Gratiot, Clinton, Shiawassee, Midland and Isabella counties will comprise the membership of the all-star band. The bandsmen are selected by a committee from those sent to tryouts by each director in the district.

TRYOUTS AND rehearsals for the all-star band concert will be held this Sunday afternoon at the high school here.

District 5 has many of the finest bands in the state of Michigan, Cole said, "which should insure us a fine all-star organization. I'm sure you will be thrilled by the fine sound and the overall musicianship of the band."

Can take tax refund in savings bonds

Ink White, Clinton County savings bonds chairman, has reminded taxpayers that the Treasury Department once again is offering the opportunity to take income tax refunds in US savings bonds.

The savings bonds option, introduced in 1963, is in addition to the two standard options of taking tax refunds in cash or applying them to next year's tax.

"When a taxpayer elects to take his refund in series E bonds," the county savings bonds chairman said, "his money goes to work immediately on two jobs. It begins to build his financial security. At the same time, it contributes to our country's economic strength."

CD unit balks, but courthouse wing contracts signed

Contracts were signed Friday for the new $162,467 courthouse wing while the board of supervisors' civil defense committee continued its efforts to get a CD emergency operations center worked into the plans.

Work on the new wing on the northwest corner of the courthouse will get under way reportedly as soon as weather allows. Preliminary work began Tuesday.

THE CONTRACTS were signed by Board Chairman Charles Coletta of St. Johns and County Clerk Paul Wakefield in what Coletta said was an expression of the wishes of the board. The supervisors voted 14-5 earlier this month to accept the low bids and have the contracts signed.

Supervisor John Setterington of Essex Township, one of the five supervisors who voted against the proposal March 1, is chairman of the civil defense committee of the board. He, Supervisor Fred Culy of DeWitt and Almond Cressman of Olive went to civil defense headquarters in Battle Creek last Thursday with County Civil Defense Director Charles Frost to check on some points brought up by the board at its March meeting.

ARCHITECT St. Clair Pardee of St. Johns, who designed the new wing, recommended that the civil defense project be a separate one. The civil defense committee and Frost had sought to have the operations center built beneath the courthouse front patio as a part of the wing project.

Even if the operations center were to be delayed, they said, the east foundation of the new wing could be built deeper and thicker to comply with civil defense regulations, so that that much foundation would be in when the center project was undertaken.

Setterington said that it was the opinion of Rudolph E. Palonen, regional engineer of Region 4 in Battle Creek, with whom the committee met last Thursday, that a separate project could not be accomplished without staying five or six feet away from the foundation of the new wing.

SETTERINGTON said a completely separate CD unit under the patio would have to have two outside entrances, which would not be desirable or efficient.

The civil defense committee, still working on the operations center plan despite their defeat by the board, met Monday afternoon with members of the building and grounds committee and Martin Wendt, another CD regional engineer. Another such meeting is scheduled for this Monday, and the whole question likely will come up before the board at its April meeting.

8 find law, drinking don't mix

The perils of drinking were all too evident to eight Lansing men and boys over the weekend when they found themselves at odds with the laws of Michigan. They were arrested at various times over the weekend on charges of minor in possession, driving while intoxicated and being drunk.

Raymond H. Salisbury, 18, of 922 N. Larch Street, Lansing, was fined $35 plus $19.90 costs and sentenced to 15 days in jail by Justice of the Peace Gordon Willyoung after he was found guilty of being in possession of beer. His penalty was more severe than others arrested over the weekend on the same charge because of a conviction last month on a similar charge.

SALISBURY WAS arrested by Deputy Sheriff Ramon Terpening in the Valley Farms area. Arrested at the same time and on the same charge were David A. Keener, 19, of Charlotte, and Richard J. French, 20, of 633 W. Howe Avenue, Lansing. Both were fined $25 plus $19.90 costs and sentenced to two days in jail. Justice Willyoung heard those cases, too.

Three other youths escaped with lesser fines and no jail time on the same charge of minor in possession.

IN ANOTHER case involving drinking, Russell L. Benhan, 41, of 1715 Fidelity Road, Lansing, was fined $25 plus $10.90 costs after his arrest by state police who charged him with being drunk. The arrest was made in DeWitt Township.

Benhan was still in jail Monday, unable to pay his fine. He could spend 20 days in jail for non-payment of the fine.

ROMERO M. Berlanzo, 37, of 1004 N. Larch Street, Lansing, was fined $75 plus $19.90 costs for driving while intoxicated Sunday evening. Berlanzo was involved in an accident during the evening Sunday when his car rammed a utility pole on Wood Street near State Road. State police said the car traveled about 1,000 feet along the edge of the road before hitting the pole. Berlanzo suffered hand and face cuts in the crash.

Church Council president slated at Lent service

Union Lenten services continue this Sunday in St. Johns with the appearance of Bishop Reuben Mueller, president of the National Council of Churches, as speaker.

This Sunday's service will be at the First Methodist Church and will start at 7:30 p.m. The Rev. Norman Crotser, pastor of the Bingham and Bengal EUB Church, will be the presiding minister.

BISHOP MUELLER'S sermon topic will be "At the Crossroads." The scripture reading may be the story of the wilderness temptation, as recorded in either the fourth chapter of Matthew or the fourth chapter of Luke, taking just that portion of the chapter that deals with the three-fold testing that took place in the wilderness.

The bishop is a minister of the Evangelical United Brethren Church. He was licensed as a preacher in 1916, was ordained a deacon in 1922 and ordained an elder in 1924. He began preaching under appointment in 1920 and has been pastor of churches in Minneapolis, Minn., South Bend, Ind., and Indianapolis, Ind. He now lives in Indianapolis.

HE WAS district superintendent of the Indiana Conference of Evangelical Church from 1937 to 1942; general secretary of Christian education in the church from 1942 to 1946; executive secretary of Christian education and associate secretary of evangelism in the church from 1946 to 1954; and bishop in the church since then.

Bishop Mueller is president of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the USA and chairman of its executive committee. He is also a member of numerous national church organizations, in which he is extremely active, and of many civic and fraternal groups.

HE IS THE author of several books, including "Becoming a Christian," "One Body, One Spirit," "Motive in Christian Teaching," "Renew My Church," and "The Living World."

The First Methodist Church choir will sing at Sunday evening's Lenten service, the third in a series of six union services each Sunday until Easter. The Methodists will also have charge of the coffee hour following the service.

IN CHARGE of hospitality will be Mr and Mrs B. Stanley Pocol of the First Methodist Church and Mr and Mrs Jack Hudson of St. Johns's Episcopal Church. Charles Cramer will be usher, assisted by Jack Hart, George Brenner, Henry Dellar, Robert Peck and Elzie Exelby.

Firemen called out 2 times

Two fire calls answered by St. Johns firemen last week proved to be of little consequence. Even the more serious of the two caused no damage.

Thursday morning the fire department was summoned to Dr. Nelson Howe's residence at 903 N. Clinton Avenue where the chimney got extra hot. No damage resulted.

Friday afternoon employees at the J. C. Penney Store in downtown St. Johns smelled smoke and called the fire department. The smoke was finally located coming from next door where workmen were cleaning out the Hafner building. A smoko rag was the culprit.

Clinton Soil District enters national contest

The Clinton County Soil Conservation District has entered the 19th annual Goodyear competition to select the nation's top 53 conservation districts, according to Robert Moore of R-2, Elsie, district chairman.

Activities of the district will be weighed against the performance of other districts in the state in determining the outstanding district in the annual event sponsored by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. of Akron, Ohio.

THE CLINTON County Soil Conservation District has taken part in the competition five times in the past and was named the state's top district in 1962-63. District supervisors are Keith Wright of R-1, Fowler; Clarence Manning of R-1, Eagle; Loren VanOstran of R-1, Bath; William Moore of R-2, St. Johns; and Moore.

Moore said the district's outstanding cooperators will be selected from among the 670 farm operators enrolled in the district program. Nationally, almost 2 million farmers in over 2,950 districts have signed cooperative agreements with local soil and water conservation districts.

KEY AGRICULTURAL leaders will serve as judges and will select the state winner. Soil conservation efforts from Jan. through Dec. 31 this year will be considered.

Grand award for the 53 districts selected nationally will be an expense-paid, work-study trip to Arizona in December 1966 for one member of the district governing body and the outstanding farmer-cooperator in each winning district. The 106 men selected will be guests at Goodyear Farms, a 14,000-acre general farm operation near Phoenix.

TIMOTHY M. GREEN

Green new associate city judge

St. Johns attorney Timothy Green has been named associate municipal judge for the city and is now hearing municipal court cases while Judge Alba Wert is on vacation.

Green, who is also probate judge for Clinton County, was appointed to the position by the city commission last Tuesday night at a special meeting. Ordinance 179, passed as an emergency measure to take effect immediately, governs the appointment.

THE NEW OFFICE of associate municipal judge has the same necessary qualifications as the office of municipal judge, and the associate judge is appointed and elected in the same manner and for the same term as the municipal judge.

The special meeting of the commission was set up to discuss with the city library board its library problems. No definite conclusions were reached or plans made, but the commission and library board agreed that the fire hall would be the logical place for any future library expansion.

THE ST. JOHNS library has been beset for some time with the problem of lack of space, and the two governing groups have talked for some time, too, about solutions. Last Tuesday's meeting was the first time in a long time the two groups have met together.

There is 1,800 square feet of floor space in the present library, and the upper and lower floors of the fire hall would provide about double that space. But there are no plans yet for a new fire hall, and thus the library expansion plans are also only in the consideration stage.

THE BOARD and commission also discussed the use of state penal fines which the St. Johns library receives on a pro-rated basis.

Derby racer clinic Saturday

The "how to" of Soap Box Derby racer construction will be explained to entrants in the 1965 Clinton County derby in a series of design and construction clinics starting March 20 at 2 p.m.

Derby officials announced the schedule for the clinics, which are held to inform derby hopefuls about the rules and recommended procedures for building a coasting racer.

MEMBERS of the clinic committee and derby inspection committee will cover the major rules and some ideas for design of a soap box derby racer at the first clinic which will be held at Bee's Chevrolet. Future clinics will cover specific construction steps, by showing slides, explaining car construction and offering tips of All-American Soap Box Derby headquarters.

There will be refreshments, so all interested boys in the eligible age bracket from 11 through 15 years are urged to attend the clinics with a parent and friends.

DERBY officials expect a record field of cars for the Clinton County race to be held June 20. The race is sponsored by the local Chevrolet dealer, St. Johns Chamber of Commerce and the Jaycees.

The champion will receive a $500 savings bond, a trophy and an all expense paid trip to Akron for the 1965 All-American Soap Box Derby. In Akron, he will compete with approximately 250 other local champions from the United States and several guest nations for $30,000 in college scholarships.

200 at dinner

An estimated 200 persons attended the St. Patrick's Day Dinner last Saturday evening at the St. Joseph Social Hall. Father Hugh Michael Beahan of Grand Rapids was the speaker. He talked about St. Patrick and kept the audience laughing with anecdotes.

SLAVERY

There is no tyrant like habit, and no freedom if the stranglehold is not broken.

American Legion Post Commander Dale Robinson (left) presents a life membership in the Edwin Stiles Post to Jim Brill Saturday night at a Legion 46th anniversary party. It was only the 12th life membership ever given by the local post.

Legion celebrates birthday

American Legion members and their Auxiliary in St. Johns celebrated the 46th anniversary of the Legion Saturday evening when about 100 persons gathered at the Legion Hall for a dinner party.

Life membership in the Legion was awarded to Jim Brill, who lives near DeWitt. He has been active for many years in the Legion and 40 & 8. The life membership was only the 12th given by the Edwin T. Stiles Post 158 in its history.

PETER J. WELTER, sargeant-at-arms of the post for 32 years, was awarded a district sargeant-at-arms cap for his service. Local Legion officials are trying to determine if the length of service in that duty might be a state, or even national, record.

Honor Society tutoring service aiding students

Fifteen high school students at St. Johns are already taking part in a tutoring service provided by the National Honor Society at the high school. Help is offered to students by other students in the fields of math, science, foreign language and English.

"It is an excellent service which benefits the teacher, the earnest student and the honor society member," teacher Robert LaBrie, sponsor of the service, pointed out.

STUDENTS IN all of the high school grades take advantage of the service, meeting several times a week in 30-minute sessions. Materials for study are taken from previous assignments or subject matter, but homework for the coming day is never discussed.

That's because the purpose of the service is to bring about an understanding of a subject rather than sheer acceptance of a principle, the honor society reports. Understanding is believed to be the key to better grades, thus resulting in an increased interest in classes and a will to learn.

STUDENTS on both the giving and receiving end of the tutoring find the service helpful. One student on the receiving end said it

Save This . . . . . Fight Dirty Water

Michigan, so rich in water quantity, faces a crucial test in its fight to maintain water quality. For the state's eight million people, the stakes run high: Clean water is basic to their daily needs, their work and play. The struggle for pollution control is sometimes one of life-or-death importance to waterfowl and other wildlife. Note the heap of oil-soaked ducks killed by pollution (bottom right photo). Thanks to the watchdog efforts of the Conservation Department, the Michigan Water Resources Commission, and State Health Department, gains are being made in combatting pollution. However, with the state's population boom, new problems are surfacing, calling for increased vigilance and new techniques of waste disposal by industry and municipalities. The job ahead is going to take a lot of hard work and money to "Fight Dirty Water," the slogan of this year's Mar. 14-20 National Wildlife Week.--Mich. Dept. of Conservation

Romans fall 64-61 in regional

BIG RAPIDS — The Ovid Romans had a third-period slump that proved fatal last Tuesday night in the opening round of the Big Rapids regional basketball tournament. The five-point advantage for Grand Rapids Lee High School in that period led to the Lee team winning the game 64-61.

The Romans finished the year with a record of 13 wins and 7 defeats. Coach Jerry Meredith's boys had advanced to the Big Rapids regional by winning their first district championship in 30 years in St. Johns the Saturday before.

THE ROMANS held a 29-27 lead at halftime after erasing a 15-11 Lee advantage at the end of the first quarter. But Lee bounced back after the half, outscoring Ovid 21-16 in the third period to hold a 48-45 lead.

Ovid rallied in the last eight minutes and tied the score at 57-57 with 1:17 to go in the game, but after Ovid missed a free throw on a one-and-one situation, Lee scored five straight points to wrap up the game.

THE ROMANS had a balanced scoring attack, similar to their pattern all year. Frank Gazdala led the way with 17 points, while Bob Gazda scored 14, Dennis Love 12 and Mike Hawley 11.

Werbish, Berkhausen get Wirick trophy

The Jack Wirick Memorial Trophy, awarded each winter to the outstanding athlete at St. Johns High School, was presented Monday night to Clark Berkhausen and Al Werbish, the one-two punch of the conference champion Redwings.

It was the first time since the trophy was established in 1959 that co-winners were picked. Berkhausen and Werbish set the pace for the Redwings all year, both averaging over 20 points per game.

THE TROPHY is presented each year in memory of Jack Wirick, son of Athletic Director Dwane Wirick and Mrs. Wirick. Jack, a promising and talented athlete at St. Johns High School, was killed in a ditch cave-in in 1958 just before he would have started his senior year in school.

St. Johns businessmen donated toward and set up the trophy procedure. It is inscribed each year with the names of the winners, and it is displayed permanently in a lighted window at the north end of the gym. The conference flags which line both ends of the gym were also purchased as a part of the Jack Wirick Memorial.

THE TROPHY was presented Monday night at a private basketball team dinner.

Berkhausen and Werbish both fell just short of West Central Conference scoring records, but Werbish managed to set a new record for number of field goals in a season, and Berkhausen came within one of tying the old record.

Berkhausen scored 111 field goals, just one shy of the old record of 112. Werbish eclipsed that mark, however, with 115 field goals.

THOUGH the basketball season is over now, other new statistics continue to pop up concerning the campaign that just ended with a fine 16-3 record. Statistics include both personal marks and team records.

In field goal shooting percentages for the full 19 games that the Redwings played through the tournaments, Werbish connected on 157 of 296 shots for 53 per cent. Berkhausen hit 154 of 314 shots for 49 per cent.

Other regulars include Jim Leonard 20 of 36 shots for 55 per cent; Doug Lundy 43 of 99 shots for 43 per cent; Bill Sirrine 29 of 83 shots for 35 per cent; and

Clinton County News SPORTS

Al Anderson 49 of 89 shots for 55 per cent.

FOR THE conference season the St. Johns team scored on 354 of 752 field goal shots for an excellent 47 per cent shooting record. For the regular season they hit 409 of 875 shots for 46 per cent, and for all 19 games they hit on 488 of 1,022 shots for 47 per cent.

From the free throw line, the Redwings were 62 per cent during the conference games, making 235 of 382 shots. For the regular season, they were 61 per cent on 271 of 444 shots, and for the 19 games they made 317 free throws out of 525 attempts for a 60 per cent average.

ON THE backboards throughout the 19 games, the Wings pulled down 782 rebounds, an average of 41 per game.

While the Redwings took the conference title by storm in the last part of the season, they had to finish second in offense and defense. In the 14 conference games, the Redwings scored 943 points, an average of 67.3, second to Hastings which scored 960 points and averaged 69 per game.

DEFENSIVELY, Greenville was first, holding their opponents to an average of only 57.2 points per game, but St. Johns was a close second by allowing only 58 points per game.

The Tractors defeated Sealed Power by forfeit because of an ineligible player, and Miller's romped over the Bumble Bee's 92-71 last Wednesday night.

SHOULD MILLER'S win the playoff game, they will own the City League title outright, since they also won the first-half standings. But if the Tractors win, a best-two-out-of-three series will be played next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings between the same two teams.

Both finished the second half of the year with records of 5-1. Miller's had a perfect 6-0 mark the first half.

ASC PROGRAM

Feed grain participants have edge on others

W. M. SMITH
County ASC Manager

Growers who participate in the 1965 feed grain program will have a definite advantage over growers who elect not to participate. First, the diversion payment earned for reducing the farm's 1965 acreage of corn, barley or grain sorghum assures the participating producer of a substantial income from the diverted acres, regardless of drought, flood, insects, hail, or crop disease.

This is also true of the price-support payment which is made on the acreage planted in 1965 to one or more of the three feed grains. No matter what disposition is made of the crop, the price-support payment is assured.

AND, THIRD, price support is available through loans and purchases on the participating farmer's entire 1965 production of the three feed grains.

Furthermore, if the farm operator requests it, an advance payment of one-half of the estimated diversion payment will be made at the time of signing up or as soon as possible after that time.

PRODUCERS take part in the feed grain program by diverting at least 20 per cent of the farm's feed grain base acreage into an approved conserving use and carrying out other provisions of the program. If more than the minimum acreage is diverted, a higher rate of payment will apply.

Maximum diversion is 50 per cent of the farm's feed grain base of 25 acres, whichever is larger.

The minimum rate of payment is based on one-fifth of the county's total price support rate (the county loan rate plus the price-support rate). A higher rate (one-half the total price support rate for the county) applies to diversion between 20 and 40 per cent of the base. If 40 per cent or more of the base is actually diverted, the higher rate applies to the entire acreage diverted.

WE URGE feed grain producers to come to the Clinton ASC county office to have the feed grain program explained as it will affect their 1965 farm income.

Our office is located at 100 S. Ottawa Street, St. Johns. The regular office hours are from 8 to 12 and 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. We will be open the same hours on Saturday, March 20, to accommodate those who can not get in during the week.

The signup period extends through March 26.

Eagle

Mrs Charles Higbee

EAGLE —It was reported that the village of Eagle closed its fiscal year in the black. Improvements made in the past year, according to the Clerk, Mayme Smith, were: replacement of 2500 lumens in the street lamps with 6000 lumens; installation of new over-hanging type lamps; replacement of two blocks of sidewalk; completion of a drainage structure; and rebuilt sidewalks where the trees had damaged old ones.

Civil War officer's diary tells of recruiting at St. Johns

Union Captain Ralph Ely and the three Michigan volunteers on his reconnaissance mission, still a half-mile from their escape boat, fled from a full company of Confederate cavalry.

CAPT. RALPH ELY

Ely, an ingenious officer of the Eighth Michigan Infantry, halted his exhausted men at a bridge, ordered them to face the enemy, and loudly commanded, "Attention battalion! Take arms! Load at will! Forward, march!"

CALMLY doffing his hat, Ely invited the surprised Confederates forward. Instead, they beat a quick retreat. Ely and his men ran for their boat and departed before the sheepish rebel unit charged to the river bank.

Out of rifle range, Ely and his Michigan soldiers cheered lustily and saluted their foe, singing "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, the Boys are Marching," and "Old John Brown."

THROUGHOUT this and other Civil War engagements, Ely kept a day-to-day diary of his life with the Eighth Michigan, in which he rose from the rank of captain to brigadier general.

The diary, edited and with an introduction and footnotes by Dr. George Blackburn of the Central Michigan University history department, was issued Feb. 26 under the title, "With the Wandering Regiment: The Diary of Captain Ralph Ely of the Eighth Michigan Infantry."

THE BOOK is published by Central's Clarke Historical Library to which Ely's diary was donated by his grandson, Admiral (retired) Donald Royce of Riverside, Conn.

Through Ely's notes, the book follows the Eighth Michigan from the time it was assembled in the spring and summer of 1861 until the diary abruptly ends on April 1, 1864.

During that time, the Michigan Volunteers saw action in South Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, Kentucky, Mississippi and Tennessee. They took part in engagements including as the second Bull Run campaign, the Battle of South Mountain, Antietam, Vicksburg, the Siege of Knoxville, and the lengthy Wilderness campaign.

ELY'S NOTATIONS begin with his efforts to form a company with men from Alma, Ithaca and St. Louis, and include comments on his trips to Flint, Detroit and St. Johns before the company finally left for its first encampment at Camp Anderson in Grand Rapids on Aug. 22, 1861.

Blackburn, in his introduction to "Wandering Regiment"—the name by which the Eighth Michigan became known—traces the scant information available on Ely's personal life.

A PIONEER of Gratiot County who platted the original village of Alma, Ely erected the first saw and grist mills and engaged in extensive lumbering and farming operations there before his enlistment during the early stages of the Civil War.

After helping to organize the Alma Company, he was elected captain and progressed rapidly through the ranks until in 1865 he was commissioned brigadier general for "conspicuous gallantry."

HE RETURNED to Gratiot County in 1869 to resume his lumbering and farming career, but soon was engaged in politics.

the Eighth Michigan seemed about to disband in late 1862 because of low morale. A year later, with Ely as commander, the men were anxious to re-enlist as veteran volunteers if Ely would agree to remain with them.

Blackburn believes it was Ely's personal demeanor which contributed most to his leadership ability.

"HE DOESN'T seem to have been a strict disciplinarian," the CMU professor points out, "and this would have appealed to the largely civilian outlook of Civil War soldiers. He also possessed a love of living and displayed the personal bravery under fire which was essential to Civil War leadership. He was the kind of officer who got out in front of his troops and literally led them into battle."

Printing of "Wandering Regiment" was partially financed by the Central Michigan University Development Fund. It will be sold through the Clarke Historical Library and the University Press, both located on the Central campus. John Cumming is director of the Clarke Library.

Road Commission Weekly Report

The 50th annual Michigan Road conference is being held at Grand Rapids this week, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Attending from Clinton County are Paul Nobis, commission chairman; Bernard Zeeb, commissioner; Les Drago, road engineer; Don Ewing, road clerk, and George Moore, chairman of the road and bridge committee of the board of supervisors.

The program is a combination of looking back and looking ahead. Transportation planning and future highway needs, trends in highway design, new methods and materials and future highway and equipment needs are the topics to be discussed.

ONE SESSION is to be devoted to highway environment as it affects traffic accidents and the impact of inter-state highways on local road systems.

The business meeting of the County Road Assn. will be held Thursday morning. Also on these three days the Michigan State Highway Dept. is conducting a school for soil density inspectors. Ron Cantwell will attend this school from the Clinton County Road Commission.

THE BOARD of Clinton County Road Commissioners will hold their regular meeting at 2 p.m. today (Thursday). They expect to hold a special session Friday to complete all necessary business. The late start on Thursday is due to the Grand Rapids meeting that morning.

Items to come before the commission are the decision on the purchase of two dump bodies and two underbody scrapers, a county line agreement with the City of Lansing, approval of State Highway future planning on the relocation of US-127, future road and bridge construction plans, and the serious spring breakup.

MOST local roads are rough, badly rutted and impassible in spots. The high moisture content and constant freezing and thawing make it difficult to correct

Bannister

By Mrs Elmer Leydorf

Friends honor Casler family during dinner

BANNISTER — The belated family night for February was held Thursday evening at the Bannister Methodist Church following the regular choir practices.

A buffet style dinner of pork and chicken pie was served with the entertainment following. Mr and Mrs Tom Moore were in charge of the evening.

A piano and organ duet by Mrs Edward Tillitz and Mrs Elmer Leydorf started the evening's entertainment followed by a contest game with several young couples participating. After a humorous monologue by Jeffrey Leydorf, the Bud Casler family was surprised by being honored. Original gifts were presented to the four Caslers who are leaving the Ovid community.

Don Hinkley then auctioned off several cakes for the Methodist Youth Fellowship with the proceeds to go for carpeting. The MYF has undertaken the project of carpeting the rostrum to match the runner they had previously had put down.

Mrs Frank Leydorf was surprised Friday afternoon when 20 friends dropped in with birthday presents and refreshments to commemorate her 81st birthday which she celebrated on Sunday. All were members of the Crescent Club of which Mrs Leydorf has been a member for several years. She has been confined to her home most of the time for over a year.

Mr and Mrs Ivan Hofferbert returned last week from several days in Los Angeles, Calif. and Enunclaw, Wash., where they visited their daughter and husband, Mr and Mrs Dale Hambleton.

The problem. Light snow over the weekend only added to the difficulty. We can only hope that weather conditions make it possible to work on these roads soon.

Treasurer reports on '64 receipts

Receipts of $438,843.04 for the county general fund were recorded through Treasurer Velma Beaufore's office during 1964, she said in a recent report to the board of supervisors.

Much of the money, however, such as justice court fees, were returned to the same agencies which reported it, resulting in a much smaller amount of money actually in the general fund at any time during the course of the year.

THE GENERAL fund balance at the end of the year (Dec. 31) was $111,550, and payment of salaries and other expenses since the first of the year has cut the balance roughly in half. Mrs Beaufore said the balance will naturally get smaller until the receipt of tax money this spring.

Besides the $438,843.04 that came in through the treasurer's office during the year, these other amounts were reported from other offices: county abstractor, $26,727.35; county clerk, $5,147.27; Department of Social Welfare, $831; friend of court, $1,925; county health nurse, $66; probation officer, $2,724; probate judge, $11,531.51; register of deeds, $18,864.50; county sheriff, $2326.50; and zoning administrator, $4,933.

These amounts represent the total over the course of the year 1964 and are not the balance in each of the accounts at the end of the year.

Bath Legion plans big birthday

BATH — Ray Barker Post No. 412 of the American Legion and Auxiliary at Bath are planning a big birthday celebration in conjunction with the Legion's 46th anniversary March 15-17.

The participation of the Legionnaires and Auxiliary of Post No. 412 in this year's anniversary celebration will add to the festivities of some 16,000 community organizations of the Legion throughout the nation and in several overseas countries and territories, to make the observance the world's largest birthday party.

THE AMERICAN Legion was founded in 1919, in Paris, France, shortly after the close of World War I hostilities, by representatives of the various outfits which made up the American Expeditionary Force. The organization now consists of Veterans of World War I, World War II, and the Korean War.

Highlighting the observance will be a social get-together honoring the past commanders of the Post, Friday at 7:30 p.m., at Bath Memorial Hall, Commander Lawrence Hensen said.

AS PART of its preparation for the gala birthday observance, the local Legion post is putting the finishing touches on its 1965 enrollment drive.

"Our membership workers have been working very hard to contact the veterans of World War I, World War II, and the Korean War who are eligible to be Legionnaires," Commander Hansen declared. "Any veterans in this community who has not been contacted by one of our enrollment members are urged to contact me or Donald Richey."

Last year's brides today's homemakers

BY PATRICIA HOLMES

With the hustle and bustle of their fashionable wedding's in the past, last year's brides turn their thoughts to the future. Uppermost in a new bride's mind are thoughts of decorating her first abode, whether it be a home she and her husband are buying or renting or an apartment.

What influences the new bride's choice of decor? The ingredients influential to her decision might consist of a gift from her family, a prized possession or her individual tastes or needs or those of her husband. Sometimes a single item can do a big job in starting a new couple on future furnishings.

The limited budget of newlyweds often calls for the use of ingenuity and imagination on the part of the bride. By exercising her talents she can make their first home "his castle."

Use new cleaning methods on new materials in home

March has arrived and soon every woman's fancy will be turning to thoughts of spring house cleaning. During the past few years a multitude of new and unexpected materials have been added to home furnishings. More than not, these materials require conventional cleaning methods. Some do not. Reading the tags carefully helps. In addition, here are a few tips for the care of five types of surfaces.

etc, should be removed before waxing. If this doesn't remove all the stain, bleach with an application of hydrogen peroxide to which a drop or two of ammonia has been added. To remove marks which have been etched into the polished surface by alcohol or acids in fruit juices, sand gently with fine sandpaper. The rub with polishing putty (tin oxide) on a damp soft cloth. Tobacco stains may be bleached out with an application of hydrogen peroxide.

sagging seat taut again. After drying for several days, the seat can be shellacked if desired.

4. PLASTIC UPHOLSTERY: Sponge the surface often with warm soap or detergent suds and rinses, completing one section of the furniture at a time. Little water is needed in washing, since soil remains on the surface of non-porous plastic, and woven plastic upholstery simply sheds the surplus water. Never use a wax coating on plastic upholstery. The wax does not penetrate the surface and some excess might later rub off on clothing.

5. PAINTED OR ENAMELED: This furniture can be kept clean by applying "dry" soapsuds, made by beating a handful of soap with a little water to produce a stiff, meringue-like lather. Simply sponge the furniture with this, rinse-wipe several times with a damp cloth and dry with a clean cloth. Then wax or polish may be applied, if desired.

1. MARBLE: Because marble is of limestone formation and porous, it absorbs alkaline solutions such as soap or detergent suds. To clean safely and provide protection, use a cream furniture wax, particularly for white, rose and beige marbles. For additional protection on black and porous travertines, follow cleaning with a light coat of paste wax and polish thoroughly while the wax is moist. Oily stains made by butter, salad dressing, cream,

2. METAL: Finger marks and smudges on any metal are removed quickly with a gentle cream wax, and it will provide a sparkle that will resist water spotting. Wax all metal trim on cabinets and furniture as well as small appliances, decorative articles, and stainless steel work areas.

3. CANES: To keep rattan, cane, reed and rush chair seats clean, simply sponge the surface with warm soapsuds and rinse. This also helps to "shrink" any Planters used as room dividers or as decorating accessories are often far from a window and the foliage plants you put in them suffer from insufficient light.

The result is long, spindling plants that aren't very attractive. You can, however, get these plants to grow successfully in dim light. It just takes a bit of adjustment.

PLANT scientists at the US Department of Agriculture suggest these tips for growing foliage plants in dim light:

— Water the plants to saturation but only often enough to prevent wilting. To condition the plant to dry-soil, start watering to saturation as usual, then gradually water less often. Don't be alarmed if some of the older leaves fall off. This is part of the readjustment. Just be sure the plant doesn't wilt.

— Fertilize the plants more sparingly than normal. Use only about a third as much fertilizer as recommended for plants growing in strong light.

— TURN THE thermostat down to 65 degrees F. whenever you can—at night and when you're away from home. If you can add moisture to the air, do so.

— Provide additional lighting with fluorescent tubes. Regular incandescent lights or reflector floods can be used for spot lighting but they are too hot for the plants when used in the amount necessary for growing. For best results, put two 40-watt fluorescent tubes, one cool white, one Gro-Lux, no farther than 36 inches from the plants for 16 hours a day. For flowering plants, grow them no farther than 12 to 18 inches from the lamps.

CHILDREN love to be surprised. Write them an invisible message on an egg.

This would also be a good way to remind a member of the family to bring home a loaf of bread or a box of salt. Send an invisible message in the lunch box.

Breakfast could be a fun time, too. Write a secret message on hard cooked eggs. Messages that appear only when the egg is shell-

First look to see if you have any left over pickling supplies. You'll need alum and vinegar. If you can't find alum at home or at the grocery store ask your druggist.

Dissolve an ounce of alum in a half pint of vinegar. An ounce of alum is about 2 tablespoons.

DIP A small pointed brush in the solution and start writing. Or, if your children are young, draw funny faces.

Let the solution dry thoroughly. Then cook eggs in simmering water—you never BOIL eggs—just SIMMER.

Try one egg first. Some eggs are now oiled and while this seals in freshness, it seals out the alum-vinegar solution and the message won't appear.

ONLY A small percentage of eggs get this treatment so if you are unable to cast a magic spell the first time try it with eggs from another source.

You can't see the writing on the outside of the shell, but surprise! A written message or design will appear on the egg when it is peeled.

Children should eat at least five or six eggs a week. With invisible writing it should be a cinch. But, if it isn't, there are other ways to feed eggs to your children. Puddings and custard type desserts are excellent ways to add milk and eggs to the diet.

Feature onions in main course of your meals

Since dry onions are plentiful in March it is a good idea to feature them, not as seasoning only, but with the major courses of your meals. Try a main dish of fried liver and onions and surprise your family with a dessert of onion pie.

FRIED LIVER AND ONIONS

Peel and slice medium sweet onions. Cook in hot bacon fat until golden. Cover and cook slowly until tender. Season with salt and pepper. Remove to warm plate and keep warm while frying liver.

Dip 1/2 inch thick slices of calves or baby beef liver (allow 1/4 pound per serving) in flour. Brown in hot fat. Season. Cook over low heat 10 to 15 minutes, turning once. Serve hot, topped with onions.

ONION PIE

Butter Pastry (below)
8 slices bacon
2 c. coarsely chopped onions
3 eggs
1 c. commercial sour cream
1-1/2 tsp. salt
1/8 tsp. pepper
1-1/2 tsp. chopped chives

Heat oven to 475 degrees. Prepare pastry, roll out and line 9 inch pie pan. Flute edges; prick with fork. Bake 8 to 10 minutes.

Reduce oven temperature to 300 degrees. Fry bacon until crisp; crumble. Saute' onions in 2 tbsp. bacon fat until tender. In bowl, beat eggs slightly; stir in sour cream, salt, pepper, chives, onion, and bacon. Pour into baked pie shell. Bake 40 to 50 minutes or until knife inserted 1 inch from edge comes out clean. For BUTTER PASTRY stir 1-1/4 c. unsifted flour and 3/4 tsp. salt together in bowl. Cut in 1/4 c. each of butter and soft shortening. Sprinkle on 2-1/2 tsp. milk, stirring until all flour is moistened. Gather into a ball.

Soaking laundry

Years ago, presoaking clothes to be laundered meant soaking overnight and usually resulted in graying. With today's detergents and laundering appliances, no more than 15 minutes of soaking is required to prepare wash for laundering.

Dampen evenly

Clothes too dry for easy ironing can be evenly dampened by being put in a dryer with a few moist towels or sponges for about five minutes on a cool setting.

Car inspection won't stop highway slaughter

Compulsory inspection of all cars is proposed by Gov. Romney. There are many other things that would do more to make our highways safer.

Compulsory inspection is nothing new. Some states have had it for 20 years. Michigan Legislators have debated it annually.

The auto manufacturers and the parts suppliers are for it. Is it coincidence they are the people who would profit most from periodic inspection and the periodic sale of new parts?

THE SHERIFF'S Association and the Automobile Club of Michigan oppose it.

Defective equipment, according to State Police records, accounts for only 2% of the accidents.

To have fair and honest inspection, it must be done by a state agency—an expensive proposition.

THE STATES that have allowed gas stations to make the inspections found that regular customers had an easier time getting their stickers. And the stations that were named inspection agencies all of a sudden increased their sales of parts, because if a car needed something, it was usually installed at the station.

If the inspection is held annually, or semi-annually, the time span is so great that many of the deficiencies would cause accidents long before time for review.

The money spent for inspection might better be spent for more police officers and more road patrol. Authority for these officers to make spot inspections should be sufficient.

SIXTEEN-year-old drivers should be subject to the point system and to regular traffic court. If they're old enough to drive a car, they're old enough to pay the penalties for bad driving.

The maximum fine for drunk and reckless driving should be more than $100. This maximum is a holdover from depression days. Particularly for repeated offenses, the present maximum is far too low.

Stricter licensing is needed. Too often, friendly sheriffs or deputies give licenses to people who should not be behind the wheel.

THERE SHOULD be some sort of compensation for innocent people who suffer injury from uninsured drivers. If compulsory insurance is not the answer, there should be a study of other methods.

There's a lot that can be done for highway safety. There are matters far more important than compulsory inspection.

—From the Lapeer County Press, Lapeer.

Churches can play a role in this important effort

An outdoor writer said in a recent article that he had never known a man with a deep feeling for the beauty and wonder of the natural world who yet was an atheist. Others have made the same observation. It does seem that appreciation of nature inspires or strengthens a sense of the presence of deity.

This has a bearing on the current effort to enact a program for preserving America's natural beauty and repairing some of the damage man has done. For this drive, if presented to the American people as persuasively as it deserves, may enlist mass support exactly because of the feeling mentioned in the first paragraph above.

Conceivably a large number of religious organizations and individual churches might also be drawn in as champions of an effort to maintain our natural surroundings more or less as they were created.

THIS SHOULD NOT be misread as a matter of pleasant sentiment. Keeping our environment clean and free of man's ugly ravages wherever possible is vital to the spiritual wholeness of the American people, and will become increasingly so as our population rises.

It Must Be Spring

To be able to look upon the uncluttered countryside without having to travel long distances will become an increasingly cherished right in years ahead.

It is thus eminently practical to suggest that churches and religious groups take a leading part in the campaign for more natural beauty. Few investments of their time would pay handsomer dividends in terms of making this a world in which the spirit can flourish and look up.

RAMBLIN' with Rink

By LOWELL G. RINKER

One of the truly enjoyable changes of pace we have at our house is listening to records. We actually don't do this too often, but when we do it acts as a change-of-pace pepper-upper.

Most of the music we have been listening to lately is the mood music type—music that you can read a book by or put together a jig-saw puzzle by. But once in a while when there's nothing good on TV and we don't feel like putting together puzzles, we play music from sound tracks and stage plays.

THESE ARE almost without exception lively pieces that leave a person feeling gay. Many of our records are from movies or plays that we have seen. Playing them brings back memories and brings to mind some hypothetical questions.

When I was younger, I never liked the idea of going to a musical movie. I always preferred the western, or a mystery or a comedy—never a musical. And even today, when there is a choice I probably would go to the other rather than a musical if all other circumstances were equal.

BUT I MUST confess that the movies which have lingered the longest in my mind are musicals. I remember one back in the early 1950s when, on a Sunday afternoon, the only movie on at the theater in Hart was a musical, "Hit the Deck." Those were the days when civilian defense lookouts were stationed in town to watch the skies for unidentified airplanes.

I had accompanied my mother to the lookout post, which was on top of a building up the street from the theater. There was a direct view of the theater, and the longer I looked at it the more I wanted to go to a show—but not that show. In the end, I gave in and went with my brother. I can still remember some of the actors in it and what it was all about.

I GUESS THE reason musicals never appealed to me then—and even to a certain extent yet—is that they are so unreal. Give me the down-to-earth realism of the cowboy movie and the Bowery Boys, I used to say. Musicals are just a lot of people running and jumping around, singing at each other.

Musicals haven't changed much—they still dance around and sing at each other. But my attitude toward them have changed. They are still unreal (do you know any couples who frequently sing about their troubles or have you seen the governing body of the town or county really "in tune" when discussing the issues of the day?). But wouldn't it be kind of nice if the world and individuals in it spent a little more time singing at each other and jumping around in dance?

INSTEAD WE go around growling at each other, getting into wars and making a general mess of things. I have always thought there were far too few people who smile, and now I'm beginning to think there are too few who sing.

I don't suppose it will ever come about, but can't you visualize that life would be much smoother and nicer if:

—You whistled more.

—YOU SMILED and burst into songs of greetings when you meet people on the street.

—The city commission, board of supervisors, state Legislature, Congress and the United Nations were in literal harmony as they went about the business of government.

—Etc., etc.

SINGING IS great for morale; it's too bad we're too inhibited to sing and dance unless it's in an organized group fashion.

We're being wooed by neighbors

Clinton County school districts are in the uncomfortable position just now of being wooed from at least two sides by larger areas interested in bringing us into some sort of joint higher education set-up.

Lansing Community College is making overtures from the south and Shiawassee County beckons from the east.

The Lansing situation is more familiar to most of us. The Community College there is a going concern with more than 3,000 students, including well over 100 from Clinton County. An enrollment of nearly 10,000 is forecast by 1970.

THE SHIAWASSEE post-high school training program is still in the study stage, but there is good reason to believe that some sort of two-year academic or vocational school project will get under way there by 1966.

I've been reasonably close to the people involved in both the Lansing and Shiawassee planning and I would be hesitant at this time to choose one over the other.

In its Community College, Lansing is making an effort to combine the academic with the vocational. They are offering two years of college training from which a student may transfer to one of the state universities. They are also offering numerous vocational courses of a terminal nature which prepare a student to perform competently in a skilled or semi-skilled job.

THOSE INTERESTED in the Shiawassee project have as yet made no decision as to the direction they will go. At a meeting of a 60-member study group, representing both Clinton and Shiawassee communities, three avenues for exploration were suggested:

1. A community college designed to perform much the same function as that operating in Lansing.

2. A purely vocational-technological training program to serve the 60 per cent of our youth who are not interested in further academic courses.

3. A possible decision that no post-high school program is needed in the two counties since Shiawassee could be served by Flint and Clinton by Lansing.

THE STUDY group meeting in Owosso last week agreed to make some determination in the matter by Dec. 1 of this year. Research into community needs will begin immediately and will be financed by a $15,000 fund. Half the money will be supplied by a Federal grant.

Probable needs of the two-county area will get a thorough going-over and from the data assembled the citizenry will have a basis for reaching a sound decision.

Quite obviously whatever we do is going to cost us money in one way or another. While state and Federal support for post-high school training will be available, you can bet that a sizeable share of the cost will come from local tax sources.

THE NEED for education beyond high school has become pretty much unquestioned these days. Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz was quoted last week as saying:

"The machine now has a high school education in the sense that it can do most jobs that a high school graduate can do, so machines will get the jobs because they work for less than a living wage. A person needs 14 years of education to compete with machines."

The trend toward more school after high school has this year reached the point where, for the first time, the span of education of the average US jobholder tops 12 years, but automation and technology are rapidly making that level inadequate.

AT THE SAME time, job competition is soaring swiftly. A million more 18-year-olds will enter the nation's labor market this year than last. In Michigan alone, the number of kids turning 18 this year will rise to 157,000 as compared with 102,000 last year.

How to meet this problem that we parents have created is a challenge to the thinking and the pocketbook of every concerned person in the Clinton area. Clinton County News personnel will make a real effort to give complete coverage of all the current studies of interest to this area.

We hope our objective reporting will help Clinton residents to determine what is the best course for us to follow.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Concern over cigarette hazard dying officially

Both official and public concern over cigarette health hazards has died down considerably since the 1964 US surgeon general's report. Some lamented and some were relieved by the change.

The adjustment in official concern involved somewhat of a paradox.

On the one hand the governor appointed a special group to study the health report. This unit recommended the State Health Department "explore, promote and develop programs for the reduction and the ultimate elimination of cigarette smoking."

SITTING opposite, or perhaps adjacent, were much of state government and the local school districts. They depend in large part on cigarette tax revenues for operating costs.

The study group's recommendations and several made subsequently by the Health Department have not been implemented in any way. The legislature has sidestepped any action in this area.

Cigarette sales are big business in Michigan. Preliminary figures indicated 1964 was the third consecutive year in which more than a billion packages were sold in the state.

IN TERMS of money to operate government units, the sales meant more than $20 million for local public schools and more than $48 million for the state. This was in 1963.

Last year the revenue was expected to have increased despite a sharp drop in income during the month immediately following release of the surgeon general's report.

The tax on cigarettes is now seven cents per package. With two cents of this going into the school aid fund, legislators would be hard pressed to find a replacement for this income if a strong anti-smoking campaign was effective in Michigan.

ties have one constitutional change in common on their lists of legislative goals.

This is the lowering of the voting age to 18. If approved by the legislature this year it presumably would be on the ballot at the 1966 general election.

In the past, Democratic governors and a scattering of legislators have supported such a proposal. It was also considered during the constitutional convention but lacked sufficient support.

STRONG support for the idea has now been voiced by Gov. George Romney and Democratic legislative leaders.

"Our young people arrive at a peak of public interest at that age," contends. "I am unqualifiedly for the 18-year-olds and above having the right to vote."

Democratic Senate and House leaders Raymond Dzendzel and Joseph Kowalski, both of Detroit, agree. They included it, along with revision of voter registration laws, as one of three major goals in the elections area.

TEENAGERS in the Central Michigan area formed a campaign group last year urging the legislature to put the voting question on the ballot.

The movement spread to a few other areas through school groups but failed to gain much attention in the quarters where it would count.

Legislative approval of a vote on the question would undoubtedly bring forth formation of a similar group on a statewide basis. Its size and enthusiasm could have great impact on the outcome of a vote.

AS SURELY as Spring arrives in mid-March, so does Michigan Week follow closely behind in May.

The 12th annual brag week has occupied many individuals and committees since the 1964 event ended last May 23.

BY ELMER E. WHITE Michigan Press Ass'n.

The format this year will be much the same as in the past. As each of the previous ones, it, too, will be aimed at bigger and better achievements in promoting the state at home and afar.

EACH DAY of Michigan Week, to be observed May 16-22 this year, has a special designation.

"Spiritual Foundations Day" officially starts the observance in church services and other public gatherings across the state.

The majors' exchange, paired already, is the big feature of "Our Government Day," always set on Monday.

THE REMAINDER of the week is set aside daily to turn the spotlight on Michigan's hospitality, means of livelihood, education, heritage and youth.

Again the goal is to make the six to eight months of work fruitful by involving as many of Michigan's populous in the observance as is humanly possible.

By Elizabeth Millman

For the benefit of the young and enthusiastic "First Nighters," two new books on the stage have been added to the library. One, "A Primer of Stagecraft," by Henning Nelms, gives many helpful directions on building, assembling and changing scenery. It gives many directions for successful scene design and lists of materials needed.

The other book is "The Last Word in Make-up" by Dr. Rudolph G. Liszt. This gives detailed directions on ways to achieve almost any effect. It even tells you how you may make-up to look like Abraham Lincoln or any number of other famous characters.

Good fiction just received in our rental library includes "Women, Women, Everywhere," by Gene Markey; "The Slender Reed," by Noel B. Gerson, and "American Chrome" by Edward Gilbert.

"WOMEN, Women, Everywhere" is the story of a young and wealthy American who travels around the world to learn about women—and he does. The book is hilarious and wordy, witty and wise.

Edwin Gilbert's novel, "American Chrome," is the story of American life among the automobile families of Michigan. It takes the reader to the country houses and country clubs of Detroit's elite. It contains a number of well-known vivid characters and a real insight into one of Michigan's greatest industries.

"THE SLENDER Reed" is a biographical novel about James Polk, 11th President of the United States. Only in later years has the true greatness of Polk been realized. It was he who declared war against Mexico over control of Texas and won that territory

Letters

Bob Ward writes again — wondering

MY READERS may have been looking in vain for my letters the last two months, so here goes for one last try. It has done me good to read the letters of mine the editors have rejected, which they thought too wild or worthless.

I am writing this in red ink because most of my financial affairs wind up that way. Do you have trouble that way? My assets are nil—no money in the till.

I MOSTLY write for free, but recently I got a small check from American Fruit Grower for an article I wrote. So I hope to see my name in that fine paper. I assure you the Clinton County News does not pay either Fred Ferris or myself. Keep it up, Fred—everyone likes your letters.

What ever became of Farmer Pete's wife? Did she get tired of writing without pay?

Now about W. E. Dobson—What a fine job he does each week? Wish I had saved all his poems. He should publish them all. Many are similar in style to the late Edgar A. Guest's poems and, I think, as fine.

EVER HEAR of a former student of Ovid High School by the name of David Pino. He recently graduated from MSU and won high honors with his composition "Andante and Scherzo for Clarinet, Cello and Piano." He has been invited to the state meeting of the National Federation of Music Clubs at Interlochen in May. He is a distant cousin of mine.

What do you want me to write about next, if they publish this? I have lots of good ideas but, mostly, they won't work.

Mystery sleep of animals nature's phenomena

HAYDEN PEARSON

Man is searching the secrets of outer space and delving into the dark abyss of the ocean; he probes the power of the atom and combines chemicals to fuse material objects that make life easier. But the secret of life eludes him and its manifestation in various forms is a mystery that the wise man accepts on faith.

Hibernation is a part of the total scheme and fits into the overall plan that governs animal life in our climate. Who is man to take pride in material accomplishment when a queen bumblebee, sole survivor of the season's colony, crawls beneath a log and survives far-below zero temperature? How can a woodchuck live with a body temperature of 40 degrees and a pulse that functions 12 times an hour?

IN BURROWS and caves, in the mud banks of streams, swamps and ponds, uncounted millions of life forms are sleeping time away until Earth once more turns its northern face to the life-awakening sun. In silken cocoons on twigs and branches, pupae of moths endure bitter cold and howling tempests and wait for the time of birth. Squirrels and skunks sleep for long periods in the coldest weather. Bats hang head downwards and sleep the weeks away.

Why do animals not freeze to death? How can a queen bumblebee hold the spark of life?

THE MYSTERY sleep is one of Nature's phenomena. Man, being man, and dedicated to solving problems, will search for the answers. But even if one does not know the how and why, he can feel the mystery, and in that feeling glimpse the faith-foundation of his own experience.

4 new booklets aimed at helping corn farmer

Corn is Michigan's most important field crop. And corn growers are becoming more efficient all the time.

In fact, today's corn acreage has increased over 300,000 acres from the 1941-50 average. Yields during the same period have increased from an average of 36 bushels per acre to over 65 bushels.

EARLY plantings, new varieties, and better weed and insect control are in part responsible for this remarkable record. However, some growers have failed to take advantage of new ideas. This has resulted in lower yields and often lower quality grain than their neighbors.

To help this harassed farmer, the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service has developed four new publications aimed at helping achieve maximum yields.

These bulletins are available free of charge from the Clinton County Extension Service office located at St. Johns.

Just ask for bulletin:

—No. 431 Corn Hybrids Compared 1965

—No. 436 Hybrid Selection and Cultural Practices

—No. 438 Michigan Corn Production Weed Control

—No. 439 Michigan Corn Production Insect Control.

Literary Club reviews book

ELSIE — A book review, election of officers, selection of new members and the Spring Trading Post formed the agenda for the Woman's Literary Club meeting on Tuesday evening for 32 members in the homemaking room of Elsie High School.

What every young cat should know or "The Silent Miaow" by Paul W. Gallico and Suzanne Szasz was reviewed by Mrs Leroy Vincent, homebound teacher of Shiawassee County and a member of the local club.

In the annual election, Mrs Paul Platner was chosen to serve another year as president. She will be assisted by Mrs Earl Seybert, vice president; Mrs Garth Brewbaker, secretary; and Mrs Woodrow Bashore, treasurer.

Mrs Platner presided for the business meeting and appointed Mrs Howard Peltier, Mrs Merle Green and Mrs Loyal Hinkley to set up rules for the remembrance of members who are ill.

"HYBRID SELECTION and Cultural Practices" are the subjects of a bulletin written by three MSU crops and soil scientists. They explain how to select corn hybrids and compare crop rotation practices, planning dates and many other areas of soil preparation.

MSU crops scientists compared hybrids available to the farmer for many characteristics in all parts of the state, and results of these trials are presented in "Hybrids Compared 1965."

"WEED CONTROL" and "Insect Control" were both prepared by MSU crop scientists and entomologists to give the most helpful methods for controlling these problems. Practical tables outlining weeds and insects that affect corn production—giving the most effective way to cope with these—are presented.

An amendment was voted to Article 2, Section 1, of the club's constitution that "members shall consist of women of Elsie and immediate vicinity" instead of the "married women only" which was written more than a half century ago.

Program chairman, Mrs Durward Conklin announced a change for the April 13 meeting when the women were scheduled to visit the new home of Consumers Power Co., in Owosso. Since the building will not be completed at that time, the date has been changed to May 18.

County OES hosted by Elsie Chapter

A social hour followed with Mr and Mrs A. W. Cobb, Mr and Mrs Archie J. Moore and Mr and Mrs Hal Smith in charge. Refreshments served from tables decorated with the St. Patrick's decor.

ELSIE — The Lion's Club is sponsoring a fish supper Friday, March 12, and its entire proceeds will be used to help pay for the whirlpool bath recently installed in the home of Mr and Mrs Norman Blakely for use by their seven-year-old daughter, Helen.

The Methodist Men's Club of Chapin are donating their services in frying the fish for the supper which will be served from 5 to 8 p.m. in the Elsie High School gymnasium.

The whirlpool bath was secured three weeks ago and placed in the Blakely home by the local Lions Club.

Mrs Daffie Hyde recently fell at her home and fractured a leg. She is confined to the Owosso Memorial Hospital. Her son and daughter-in-law, Mr and Mrs Charles Hyde, have been spending two weeks here but plan to return to their home in Jonesville.

GERALD WALTER

Dwelling permits up 38%

A total of 553 building permits were issued during 1964 by the Clinton County Zoning Administration, according to a report made to the county board of supervisors.

Gerald Walter, zoning administrator, said total fees collected were $4,993. Sixty-seven trailer permits were issued during the year, and he noted an increase of about 38 per cent, over 1963, in the number of dwelling permits.

DWELLING PERMITS totaled 250, and there were 131 permits issued for additions and alterations to privately owned houses or apartments.

Other permits included nine for additions or alterations to buildings other than houses or apartments, five for structures other than buildings, three for stores and other mercantile buildings, three for two-family dwellings, six for other non-residential buildings, 77 for garages and carports, and one each for industrial buildings and offices.

FIVE ZONING commission meetings were held during the year, Walter said. Eleven appeal board meetings were held, with 29 appeals being heard. Twenty-one appeals were granted and seven were denied. One was not acted upon.

The zoning administrator and his deputy traveled about 50,000 miles during the year making inspections and following up complaints.

MEMBERS OF the county zoning commission are Lyle Brook of R-1, East Lansing; Alden Livingston of R-3, St. Johns; Gerald Shepard of Bath; Max Loudenbeck of R-1, Fowler; and Clyde Morrill of R-2, Ovid.

The appeal board was recently increased from three to five members and includes Roy Davis, George Baird, H. L. Brook, Victor Hopp and Clarence Mead.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

BY REP. BLAIR WOODMAN of Owosso (87th House District)

Two significant actions were taken in the Michigan House of Representatives last week.

Governor Romney's bills were killed Thursday afternoon. These bills were the result of six months of work by the administration and were scuttled by the Democrats in about one week's time. No hearings were held and no meaningful debate on behalf of the majority party was heard. The doors are open now for spending programs that may well take Michigan out of the black and hasten the need for additional taxes.

ON THE same afternoon, the long-standing West case was settled. It will be remembered that Mr West was denied the oath of office as a member of the House of Representatives on Jan. 13. He was elected from the 24th Representative District. He was not given the oath of office because of questions concerning his present residence and place of residence in 1964, whether he caused to be printed and published certain election materials making statements concerning his background, education and qualifications to the public office.

The question of Mr West's background, education and professional status was generally whether he had, over a period of years, made false representations to the public concerning his background and education. In its final report the investigating committee stated that it believes that the deliberate, long-continued fraud engaged in by Mr West disqualifies him to sit in the House of Representatives and therefore recommends that he not be seated.

BY A 19 TO nothing vote the House voted not to seat Mr West. Other legislation enacted by the House last week included passage of HB 2101 which provides for the payment of prevailing wages and fringe benefits by the state or subdivision of the state where state monies are involved. It authorizes the commissioner of Labor to determine prevailing wages and fringe benefits.

HB 2093, which passed the House of Representatives, permits school boards to designate some one to sign teacher contracts for it or the president, secretary or superintendent.

THE HOUSE laid on the table a bill to permit banks to open for business on Washington's birthday, Lincoln's birthday or Veteran's Day when these days fall on Friday and Monday.

Probation officer addresses Exchange Club

Gordon Iacovoni, probation officer for the 29th judicial circuit (Clinton and Gratiot counties), spoke at the noon dinner meeting of the St. Johns Exchange Club last Thursday.

Iacovoni showed color slides and used tape recordings showing the Department of Corrections facilities and procedures for rehabilitation. In a question-and-answer period, he said he presently had 69 probation cases in the two counties, with only 24 of them being in Clinton.

HE POINTED out there are three possible phases of penal correction. One is probation and the others are incarceration and parole. He said his job deals strictly with probation—control of persons whose crimes were judged not serious enough for imprisonment. Boys in the age group of 18 to 22 years make up the biggest percentage of the 69 cases he now has.

The Exchange Club meets every other Thursday noon at Walker's Cafe. Vice President Charles Huntington was in charge last week, and Iacovoni's program was arranged for by program chairman Robert Wood.

New freeways are expensive. In Michigan they cost up to $15 million per mile. But they carry so much traffic, reports the Michigan Highway Department, that the cost per vehicle is far less than on many smaller roads and streets. And motorists, they say, save money driving on modern highways—at least one cent per mile.

Rivals!

It has often been said that the only logical substitute for a new Cadillac is one that has seen previous service. Whatever you plan to invest in your next car, above all consider Cadillac.

If you are like most people, you hope someday to own a new Cadillac motor car. For Cadillac's continuing greatness in design and engineering has made it one of the world's most desirable and sought-after possessions. But if a new Cadillac is not presently feasible, you should consider the pleasure and satisfaction that would be yours with a late model, previously-owned Cadillac. Your dealer currently offers an unusually wide selection of fine used Cadillacs at a cost in line with that of many new cars of far less stature and quality. These fine Cadillacs are all in superb condition, and many offer features not yet available on other makes. And from a standpoint of investment, remember that a Cadillac traditionally returns more of its cost at resale than any other car at or near its price. So visit your authorized Cadillac dealer, and let him show you a Cadillac—new or used—that will fit your budget. Your visit will be the wisest motoring move you have ever made. Why not make it this week?

Shelter course to start

Fallout shelter management for eight St. Johns shelters is the topic of a shelter management course which will run for five Thursdays starting March 25.

The course will begin at 7:12 p.m. next Thursday at the County Road Commission building on West State Street. R. Donald Ewing, county road clerk, and Charles Frost, civil defense director, will be instructors.

ability to carry out effectively their shelter responsibilities and duties. It has an additional purpose of giving shelter management and their staffs sufficient information for them to assist local officials in organizing, preparing, stocking and equipping shelters.

The course will provide information on nuclear weapons effects and protective measures, the National Civil Defense Program, community and shelter organization and staffing, shelter operations, living in the shelter and emergence from the shelter.

PERSONS WHO would be interested in taking the course may call Ewing at the Road Commission office or Frost at his courthouse office.

Frost said he was asking that each of the designated shelter areas in the city be represented in the course with several people. The shelters include St. Johns High School, St. Joseph School, Methodist Church, St. Johns Municipal Building, courthouse, Clinton Memorial Hospital, county welfare building and county juvenile home.

The course will include eight hours of formal classroom instruction during the five Thursdays, plus a shelter stay. The course will be limited to 30 persons.

FILM STRIPS will be used to augment the oral presentation. Film titles include "About Fallout," "Protection Factor 100," "Public Shelter Organization and Staff," "Planning for Public Shelter Entry," "Public Shelter Supplies," "Operations in Public Shelter," "Public Shelter Living—Story of Shelter 104," and "Planning for Emergence from Public Shelters."

The start of every new day tends to make a man realize that his days are numbered.

Plan Cub award for planning summertime fun

A national summertime pack award will recognize Cub Scout packs that plan summer activities for boys who are eager for summertime fun and the adventure of Cub Scouting.

The summertime recognition program has been adopted by the Chief Okemos Council, Boy Scouts of America, and will be presented to Cub Scout leaders at the council's district roundtables in March, according to James Wilkinson, chairman of the council camping and activities committee.

A FULL-COLOR certificate from the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be presented to packs that plan and conduct pack activities in June, July, and August, and average at least 50 per cent of their Cub Scouts in attendance.

A den ribbon is also offered to all of the dens in each pack that have at least 50 per cent of their Cub Scouts in attendance at the three summer pack activities.

A PREVIEW of the suggested themes for June, July, and August list backyard adventure with outdoor fitness activities; Cub Scouts on wheels to give Cub Scouts the fun of building and using skate boards, Cubmobiles, and scooters; and summer theater when old-favorite stunts and skits are revived to produce a neighborhood show for parents and friends.

Wilkinson pointed out that summer provides the time for Cub Scouts to satisfy their natural urge to do things, make things, and to visit and explore, and that Cub Scouting provides a lively program for boys who are 8-, 9-, and 10-years old.

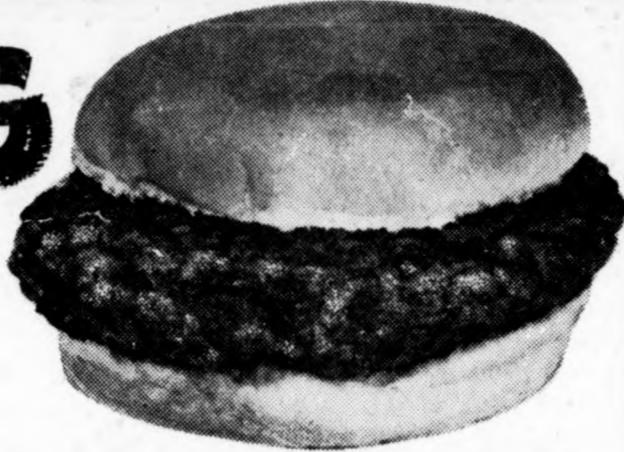

Eric is the Scandinavian form of Henry.

The ancient Greeks and Romans knew that cleanliness is next to godliness. In their mythology, the gods kept their immortality by bathing in ambrosia.

Regular Zoning Commission Meeting

The Clinton County Zoning Commission will hold a regular meeting in the Court-house, in the city of St. Johns on

Collections and Handiwork are Displayed at Non-competitive Hobby Show

Parents, students and teachers displayed such collections as arrowheads, stamps, coins, thimbles, salt shakers, and antique table spoons and such handiwork as knitting, painting, ceramics, flower arranging, quilting and photography in a non-competitive hobby show at the Parent-Teacher Association meeting at Gunnisonville School Tuesday night, March 9. Mrs. Paul Stimson of Clark Road was in charge of the show, which featured a Bath resident, Gerald Miller, of the Lansing Hobby and Craft Guild as speaker. He was assisted by Mrs. Lois Johnson, president of the P.T.A. Mrs. Stimson said that the show was prompted by the hope of stirring interest in the children to enter the Youth Talent Exhibit and in order that the adults might become better acquainted by learning what each other's interests are.

Center—David Gladstone, 5-year-old son of Mr and Mrs Ervin Gladstone of 15291 Pinehurst Drive in Lansing, is pictured in a quarter midget, a hobby shared by David and his father. Quarter midgets are driven by boys and girls from 4 to 15 years of age on a 1/20 mile track. Racing them, for trophies only, teaches the participating child sportsmanship and safety. The child must wear goggles, gloves and other safety equipment. The hobby is considered as one which brings the family together since it is common for father and son to share mechanical work on the vehicle. David is preparing to enter his first race this summer.

Bottom—Displaying just a few of the dresses they wear when square dancing are Mrs. Gard Kent of 15272 Yorkleigh Drive in Lansing and her daughter Sheri. Mrs. Kent has about 12 dresses which she uses constantly and Sheri has as many skirts and blouse outfits. Mr and Mrs Kent, Sheri and her brother, Greg, often attend square dances sponsored by the Teen Twirlers to which both children belong. Sheri is also a member of a square dance group, the Kalico Kids. This summer Mr and Mrs Kent are planning to dance at Atlantic City, N.J. with a group headed by Gings Sam Mitchell, a national square dance caller from Lansing and they hope to dance at the New York World's Fair.

Bingham Church holds banquet

BINGHAM—Youth Sunday was held March 7 at Bingham Church with the senior youth of Bingham and Bengal churches taking part and making up the choir. Jerry Meadows, a youngster from West Virginia presided over the service and Bob Nebins of Nebraska gave the sermon. Douglas Peck received the offering and Kathleen Cornell read the scripture.

Two ambassadors attended the youth banquet at Bengal Church Thursday.

AN ANNUAL Father-Son Banquet was held Saturday, March 6, at Bingham Church.

A Mexican theme was used and slides of Mexico were presented by Robert LaBrie. The highlight of the evening was the breaking of three pinatas by the children.

BISHOP Mueller will be the guest minister at the morning services at Bingham and Bengal churches on March 21. He will also speak at the evening Lenten Service at the First Methodist Church.

The WSWs meeting was held at the home of Hazel Pearson.

A little theoretical wisdom sometimes turns into a mass of practical folly.

Register of deeds' work load increased during '64

The year 1964 was a busy one for the office staff of the register of deeds in Clinton County, with all types of paper work showing a definite increase over 1963, Register of Deeds Marie Belknap recently told the county board of supervisors.

MARIE BELKNAP

Fifteen plats were received during the year, and there were approximately 3,000 deeds, probate papers and death certificates and 2,800 real estate mortgages and discharges handled, all a definite increase.

IN ADDITION, there were 6,740 financing statements—formerly called chattel mortgages—and 391 terminations. This amounted to an increase of more than 1,400 statements handled over 1962. Some $396.96 was collected for copies and searches made through the mail.

“As the work increases, we receive more demands over the counter for searches, for which we charge no fee,” Mrs Belknap pointed out.

DURING THE year, the register of deeds' office turned over to the treasurer a total of $18,864—a clear profit over expenditures of $7,461, Mrs Belknap said. In 1963, the amount turned into the treasurer was only $15,847.30, showing clearly less business in 1963 than in 1964.

“You will note the increase in the work of the office, probably because of the subdividing of property to satisfy needs of small purchasers,” she said. “Each new piece is supported by some form of paper that is recorded and each new sale means new records.”

Local Tops Club

At the March 11 meeting of the St. Johns TOPS Club, having a contest with another club was discussed. The losers would have to have a party for the winners. Mrs Charleen Bellingar was queen for the week.
