County board meeting today to finish busy April agenda

The Clinton County Board of supervisors was scheduled to be in session today (Thursday) to wind up business undertaken at last Tuesday's organizational meeting.

Chairman Almond Cressman of Olive Township is expected to name his committees for the coming year.

Early state history depicted in pictures shown to Rotary Club

"When Michigan Was Young," first of a series of three films depicting the state's history and development, was shown to St. Johns' Rotarians Tuesday noon by W. R. Carlyon of Lansing, district manager for Consumers Power Co.

The film tells the story of Michigan from the ice age to the end of the 18th century. Future productions will continue the state's history to the present, Carlyon said.

The Consumers Power manager was introduced by Robert S. Gay, program chairman for the meeting.

To tour shelters

Persons attending tonight's (Thursday) meeting of the civil defense fallout shelter manager's course will tour several proposed shelters in St. Johns. Eleven persons were at the managers course meeting last Thursday.

WHILE SPENDING most of last Tuesday in reorganization and hearing of the plans for the new state recreation area in the county, the board handled a number of other items of business, and it was not until after 6 p.m. that they finally adjourned until today.

In one action, they rescinded a motion made at a previous meeting in which they assumed the responsibility of fire runs to the county infirmary on County Farm Road in Bingham Township.

CITY MANAGER Ken Greer of St. Johns, a former supervisor, wrote a letter to the board in which he objected to this procedure. "If the county governing body is going to agree to pay Bingham Township for any fire runs made by the city fire department to the county infirmary, then what about an agreement with the City of St. Johns for fire runs to all the various county properties located in St. Johns?" Greer asked in the letter.

He requested that the board either rescind the action granting Bingham Township financial relief with county funds or grant the same relief to all other political subdivisions in the county. The board's reaction was to rescind the previous motion.

IN OTHER business: —The board approved extra depth of foundation on the north 16 feet of the east side of the new courthouse wing and 12 feet on the north side of the wing to prepare for future use of the area under the patio for a civil defense operations center.

—An expected resolution requesting the State Tax Commission and Legislature to take "appropriate action to restore uniform practices and procedures" concerning depreciation of personal property, was passed by the board. The resolution stated that the STC regulations "cannot be made without great expense and inconvenience to local units because of limited time permitted." Several Clinton townships applied and were granted relief from following the STC's new schedule this year.

—THE ZONING commission was authorized to study the present zoning ordinance and report to the board its findings.

—A resolution was passed authorizing the county treasurer to transfer to the Clinton County

Public Improvement Fund all fees not assigned for other purposes and also a sum equal to that amount of county tax equal to .025 mills of the state equalized valuation of Clinton County. "These said monies shall be so transferred for the first quarter of 1965 and each succeeding quarter of 1965."

—SALARIES OF two night deputy sheriffs were raised $100 and $500 to make them equal.

—Rezoning of two parcels of land were approved. One in DeWitt Township was rezoned from Zone D, agricultural, to Zone B, residential. The other in Bengal Township was changed from Zone D to Zone C, commercial.

Name St. Johns man to new county equalization post

Appointment of Richard Kerr of 404 Wight Street, St. Johns, as equalization director for Clinton County was made by the county board of supervisors last week.

The post is a new one created by the board in advance of a state requirement for such an office by 1968. Kerr's job will be to keep as equal as possible the assessments of property in Clinton County.

KERR, 31, HAS been employed for the past three years at Federal Mogul in St. Johns as a class A floor inspector. His college background of four years at Michigan State University, with a bachelor of science degree in residential building, was felt by the board to be excellent qualifications for the new post.

RICHARD KERR
Kerr's appointment to the new post was recommended by the

Raise speed limit on city US-27

The speed limit on a half-mile section of US-27 at the south city limit of St. Johns has been raised from 45 to 55 miles an hour, the State Highway Department reports.

Other speed zones on US-27 within the city limits remain unchanged.

SPEED LIMITS and zones in St. Johns are:

—55 miles an hour from the south city limit at Townsend Road north to a point one-half mile south of Baldwin Street.

—45 miles an hour from that point north to a point 400 feet south of Baldwin Street.

—35 miles an hour from that point north to Steel Street.

—45 miles an hour from Steel Street to the north city limit at Walker Road.

THE INCREASE was recommended after a radar check by state police, the chief of police and city manager of St. Johns and the district traffic engineer of the State Highway Department.

State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs and Howard E. Hill, acting director of the State Highway Department, have signed a joint order establishing the new speed limit. It will go into effect when speed-limit signs have been changed.

Orchestra in concert Tuesday

The St. Johns High School Symphony Orchestra will present its second annual spring concert next Tuesday, April 27, at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The orchestra will feature Andre Lewis playing the first movement from the Vivaldi, A-minor violin concerto. Andre, a freshman, is concert mistress of the orchestra and leader of the string quartet.

OTHER NUMBERS on the concert program include "Plink, Plunk" by Leroy Anderson, "Canon on a Ground Bass" by Purcell, "In Balladenton" by Grieg, "Unfinished Symphony" by Schubert, "Secret Marriage Overture" by Cimarosa, "West-side Story" by Bernstein, and "Rhythm Ride" by Whitney.

The symphony orchestra will be under the direction of Robert Cox. Tickets are available from any music student, Morning Musicale members or at the door Tuesday night.

county board's special equalization committee, and the recommendation was accepted. The committee had studied and interviewed over 15 applicants for several months before making their recommendation.

IN DOING SO, the committee pointed out to county residents that "equalization is NOT a vast reappraisal designed to raise taxes. It's purpose is to be sure that everyone is equally treated and that their property valuation is based on the same set of values as others."

The office of equalization will be made mandatory by the State of Michigan on Jan. 1, 1968. The duties will be to implement and sustain equalization, the county

See tax hike in new city budget

A budget of $1,410,249 has been proposed by the city manager and was presented to the St. Johns City Commission for study Tuesday evening.

Included in the proposed budget are expenditures of more than $700,000 for improvements authorized on the city's water system and $92,000 for public street and utility improvements.

The budget plan calls for raising some $232,000 in taxes for the general fund, resulting in an increase in the property tax rate from $25 to $28.30 per thousand of assessed valuation.

An alternate budget proposal is for $1,424,003, with the extra $13,754 earmarked for a capital improvement fund. That would present a tax rate of $30 per thousand of assessed valuation.

EITHER BUDGET figure is lower than last year's adopted budget of $1,464,200. The tax increase proposed would be necessary, however, to cover a larger general fund budget.

Last year's general fund budget was for $464,200, and spending for the current year will without a doubt exceed that amount. The general fund budget for 1965-66 has been set at $480,175, or the alternate of $493,929.

CITY MANAGER Ken Greer presented the main budget proposal and the alternate to the commission at its regular Tuesday night session, pointing out that the final budget must be adopted on or before June 1, with a public hearing to be held before the final adoption.

The $232,000 necessary in taxes for the general fund budget would be roughly 48 per cent of the city's total revenue. State-collected and locally shared funds account for another 26 per cent, and the balance (26 per cent) will come from numerous local fines, fees, special assessments and services, he said.

"THIS BUDGET, other than our water project, does not propose any large expenditures or unusual projects and in reality is rather conservative as is demonstrated by the $92,000 public works improvement figure," Greer told the commissioners.

The budget, Greer pointed out, is merely a guide for proposed spending and is not necessarily followed to the letter. Overall spending during the current fiscal year 1964-65, for example will not come close to the budgeted figure of $1,464,200, because much of the water project costs that were budgeted last year have not had to be paid. But they're included in this year's budget.

"PART OF THE financial problems of our community are similar to those of many of our citizens," he went on. "The difficulty of trying to live within our income.

"In 1960-61 we spent $27,182.19 more than we took in; in 1961-62 we took in only $7,009.48 more than we spent; in 1962-63 we took in only $3,563.58 more than we spent; and in 1963-64 we spent $35,593.36 more than we took in.

"THIS WOULD leave a net deficit of $52,202.49 in the past four years," Greer said, "and it is estimated at this time that our audit will show expenditures of $30,000 or more this past year (1964-65)

Parker barely OKs annexation

School voters in Bengal Center and Parker districts approved annexation to St. Johns District Saturday, but by only the narrowest of margins in Parker.

Parker approved annexation itself by a 25-7, but the 4-1/2-mills tax assumption issue passed by only 17-15. In all the annexation elections, both the annexation and the millage issues must be approved for annexation to take place.

IN BENGAL Center, the vote was 14-1 on annexation and 13-2 on millage.

This coming week will be about the biggest in regard to number of annexation elections. Olive Center district in Olive Township will have its election today (Thursday).

SIX OTHERS are scheduled for Saturday. They are Union Home in Greenbush Township; Cramer and Lamb in Bingham Township; Serviss in Ovid Township; Merrifield in Olive Township; and Page in southern Gratiot County.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the schools in each district.

Sheriff keeps licensing job

Driver licensing will remain under the jurisdiction of the sheriff in Clinton County, the board of supervisors decided last week.

Rooms in the courthouse which previously housed the zoning administrator's office and the civil defense office will be used for driver license purposes, the board said. They decided to equip and staff the office there rather than turn the licensing business over to the secretary of state.

THEY authorized the salary and clerk hire committee to hire one additional person to man the office. Remodeling of the office is under way in preparation to handle a camera which will be used to take photographs of all licensed drivers.

The state will provide the camera and the cost of processing, but the county would be obligated to otherwise equip and staff the office. The camera will be installed as soon as possible; Secretary of State James Hare has said he would like to have the photographic plan functioning by May 1, but there was no indication whether that date would be possible here.

UNTIL OFFICIAL announcement of the change is made, driver licensing will continue to be handled in the sheriff's office in the jail building back of the courthouse.

Director

board committee reported. "By naming our equalization director now, we can get in on the ground floor and have our office going full tilt by 1968."

KERR WILL start work for the county May 1, working closely with the H. L. Yo Co. during the remaining stages of its reappraisal of county property. The timing of Kerr's appointment was purposely designed so that he could work with the reappraisers and get full working knowledge of the program by the time the Yo Co. is finished.

The Yo Co.'s job, which started last August, is to put a fair cash value on each property as an aid to supervisors in making their annual assessments in each township.

THE NEW POST will not make the individual assessors' job obsolete. They will continue to do their own assessing and will fill out their assessment file cards in the same way as they have been doing.

Kerr's job will be, in general terms, to constantly check his copies of the assessment records and compare them with similar properties and his own idea of what such property would be worth. Whenever he finds an assessment that he thinks may be too high or too low, he will make his own spot check of that property, doing his own appraisal.

IF HIS AND the assessor's appraisals vary, they will get together and see why. The equalization committee of the county board may also be called into the discussion.

"But I'll have no authority to change any assessments," Kerr pointed out in explaining his job. "Only the boards of review and the assessors at assessment time will have the right to do that."

And, beginning next year, assessors will have to notify property owners of any change in their assessments. This hasn't previously been law.

MUCH OF KERR's duty will be concerned with paperwork. There are some 20,000 parcels of property in the county now, each with its own assessment file that will have to be kept up-to-date. Kerr will have to make changes on his files and see that addressograph plate changes are made whenever property changes hands. The register of deeds will keep him supplied with such changes.

But he'll also be out of the office much of the time, making as many spot checks on assessments as possible to know that the whole county is being assessed equally. He'll also be assisting local assessors in learning the method of assessing from the manual of the State Tax Commission.

"IN SHORT, the office of equalization is here to see that a fair and equitable assessment is made for each and every parcel of real estate in the county," Kerr said.

Kerr is a native of the Clinton area, being born Sept. 9, 1933, at Ashley. He graduated from Rodney B. Wilson High School and attended Michigan State University.

His BS degree in residential building included courses pointing to a thorough understanding of house building, design and estimating.

KERR received an honorable discharge from the US Army in October 1956 after 21 months of service in the military police.

He and his wife Mary Jean have a daughter, Barbara Jean, age 3.

Recreation director Kowalski to leave

Roger Kowalski, St. Johns recreation director since Aug. 1, 1963, will leave the city soon to take over the directorship of the recreation program of Ferndale in the Detroit area.

His letter of resignation as director of the St. Johns program was presented Tuesday night to the city commission, and efforts are already under way to secure a new director here.

KOWALSKI will be Ferndale's first full-time recreation director. The city of 33,000 population

KOWALSKI HAD a similar situation when he came to St. Johns in 1963. He set up a full-time city-sponsored recreation program, replacing one that had been run jointly during the summer only by the school and the city.

The St. Johns program has been expanded since to encompass the whole year. Playgrounds have been expanded from one to two sites and from three to five days a week. All adult recreation programs are new, and a theater group that now numbers over 100 members was started during the year and a half Kowalski has been in St. Johns.

HE IS A graduate of Michigan State University (1963) and was playground director and athletic supervisor in his hometown of Lansing before coming to St. Johns. He was also affiliated with the YMCA staff there.

Kowalski will begin work in his new position as recreation director at Ferndale May 3, even though he may not have moved by that time. He and his wife Susan and sons, Stewart 4, and Robert, 2, now live at 400 E. Sturgis Street.

Three-fourths of all drugs, antibiotics and vaccines in hospital use today were unknown 10 years ago.

has been operating recreation programs in connection with the schools there, and Kowalski has been hired to set up a new full-time program for the city in all phases of recreation that are not school-oriented.

Kowalski said he would have a budget of about $52,000 to work with, if Ferndale's proposed budget is accepted. He will have a full-time assistant.

A Lot of Sculpturing Went Into Rabbits Saturday

Keith Thornton, 20, of R-1, (Island Road), Elsie put in a lot of hurried work Saturday morning turning an unwanted snowfall into these works of art. Thornton's two rabbits, "father" and "son" no doubt, got lots of comments from the folks in that area. They were the only good to come out of the four-inch snowfall. Thornton is the son of Mr and Mrs Earl Thornton.

Clinton, Eaton chosen for pilot program of medical self-help

A pilot program for a statewide medical self-help plan is being set up in Clinton and Eaton counties, and the first meeting is being scheduled in St. Johns for May 10.

The project is being arranged through Clinton County Civil Defense Director Charles Frost and the Eaton County CD director. The object is to obtain volunteer instructors to teach others, beginning next September, the techniques of medical self help.

OTHER PRIMARY objectives are to establish community and county-wide support, endorsement and assistance for the medical self-help program, and to obtain active support of professional and community organizations to provide administrative and promotional assistance.

Frost said representatives will be invited to attend the May 10 meeting from groups such as the Cooperative Extension office, USDA, service clubs, veteran's organizations, Grange, Farm Bureau, schools, woman's clubs, fire departments, law enforcement agencies, PTAs, Medical Society, Nurses Assn., Red Cross, Safety Council, industry and County Assn. of Osteopathic Physicians.

AN ADVISORY board for the medical self-help program will be chosen from those attending and interested. At the May 10 meeting the program and problems involved will be explained, and definite approaches to recruiting of volunteer instructors will be discussed.

"Training of instructors hopefully would be accomplished prior to Sept. 30 this year," Frost said. "Promotional programs would begin in September and continue until June 1966. Classes would be organized and held in each section of Eaton and Clinton counties between September and June."

THE ADVISORY council has also been asked to provide support for the inclusion of medical self-help training into the high school curriculum.

No definite site for the May 10 meeting has been announced, but it will start at 8 p.m., and Frost has promised it will be completed by about 9:45. The site of the meeting will be announced later.

A PANEL discussion will be part of the program for the May 10 meeting, along with the showing of a film, "If Disaster Strikes." Members of the panel will include Robert Lara-way, health mobilization consultant for the State Health Department; Cpl. William Voigt, civil defense coordinator for the Michigan State Police; Lester Bollowahn, rural defense educational coordinator for the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service; and two or three local persons yet to be named.

The medical self-help program, being promoted by the Public Health Service, is planned to help people help themselves and others in case they have to face serious health problems with no doctors around to assist. This might be if you are vacationing in an isolated area, or faced with a natural disaster, or even a nuclear attack, Frost said.

"IN SUCH circumstances, the medical self-help training course will give you a greater capacity to survive; it might mean the difference between life and death," he said.

The formal training course, which would be held between September and June if the organization of it in May is successful, will consist of 16 hours of instruction divided into 11 separate lessons. They'll deal with such topics as radioactive fallout and shelter, healthful living in emergencies, artificial respiration, bleeding and bandaging, fractures and splinting, transportation of injured, burns, shock, nursing care of the sick and injured, infant and child care, and emergency childbirth.

"AT LEAST one member of every family should be trained in medical self-help," the Public Health Service urged.

The number of births in hospitals declined from 3,857,626 in 1962 to 3,784,666 in 1963, reflecting a nationwide lowering in the birth rate.

2 girls hurt in crash in DeWitt

Teresa Maurer, 2-1/2, of 9002 Norris Road, DeWitt, was released from Edward Sparrow Hospital in Lansing Monday following several days of treatment for severe head lacerations suffered in a DeWitt auto collision Saturday afternoon.

Teresa was one of three passengers in a car driven by Judith P. Maurer, 24, of the same Norris Road address. According to DeWitt Police Chief Charles Anderson, she was unable to stop in time to avoid a left turn by a car she was passing.

THE OTHER car was driven by Russell Higbie, 56, of 703 W. Main Street, DeWitt, who was turning into his driveway. He told the policeman he did not see anything in his rear view mirror and started his turn.

Mrs. Maurer said she was even with the rear bumper of Higbie's car and didn't have time to avoid the collision.

PENNY Stanton, 10, of Eaton Rapids, also a passenger in the Maurer car, was treated for knee injuries. Mrs. Grace Higbie, riding with her husband, complained of pains.

David Pocus of St. Johns entered this scientific display on ultraviolet rays. It can be seen at the Clinton County Talent Exhibit in St. Johns Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

2nd Derby clinic this Saturday

The "how to" of soapbox derby racer construction will be explained to entrants in the second clinic Saturday at 2 p.m. in the social hall of the St. Joseph Catholic School.

Members of the derby clinic committee will cover the design and construction of a soapbox racer from start to finish so that all phases of car construction will be covered.

THE CLINIC will last approximately one hour, after which refreshments will be served. Any boy can register at this time.

Derby officials urge all eligible Clinton County boys who took part in previous derbies to register now for their copies of the 1965 rule book. While some previous derby drivers will build new cars in their quest of the championship, many will enter the 1965 race with modified versions of last year's racer. Regardless of whether they will have new cars or last years, the boys are urged to start working immediately. They should register now if they haven't already.

DERBY HISTORY shows veterans have a better chance of winning the championship than boys racing for the first time. The 1964 All American Soap Derby champ, 14-year-old Gregory Schumacher of Tacoma, Wash., had been a runner-up the year before he won his local race and went to Akron to take the top title. However, every boy, newcomer or veteran, has a chance.

Four 11-year-olds racing for the first time have won the All American. All boys 11 through 15 will find the derby an adventure in accomplishment and a bid for honors.

THE CLINTON County derby will be held June 20 under the sponsorship of the St. Johns Jaycees, Chamber of Commerce, and Bee's Chevrolet. Winner of the race will get a $500 savings bond, a trophy and an expense-paid trip to Akron to try for $30,000 in college scholarships offered by Chevrolet, the events national sponsor, to the top finishers in the finals.

Digest article confuses local bank depositors

Clinton area residents have been reassured by local bankers that money in jointly-held bank accounts is immediately available to survivors. This is true of such funds on deposit in all Michigan banks.

Local bankers report they have received a number of inquiries since the appearance of an article in the current issue of Reader's Digest which suggested banks are required to impound joint accounts upon the death of one of the parties.

THIS DOES not apply in Michigan, according to legal counselors. Money in accounts—both checkings and savings—with right of joint survivorship is available to the survivor.

Lawyers describe the Digest article as "dealing with a subject of great importance to everyone." They observe, however, that unless clarified, certain parts of the article tend to mislead residents of Michigan and might cause them unnecessary concern.

Stolen car rolled

State police discovered a stolen car rolled over in a ditch on Round Lake Road near Chandler Road in Victor Township early Friday. It had been stolen from Lawrence H. Miller of Lansing Thursday night. A motorist who told state police about the car said he saw two boys walking nearby shortly after midnight Thursday.

Scout first aid meet Saturday

Boy Scouts from the Chippewa District will have four different first aid problems to meet Saturday afternoon when about 50 of them gather to participate in the district first aid meet.

It will be held starting at 1 p.m., according to Walter Russell of St. Johns, who is in charge. Contests will be held between patrols of the district, which includes all of Clinton County and Portland and Danby Townships in Ionia County.

St. Johns firemen will act as judges on the first aid problems. Civil Defense Director Charles Frost will demonstrate mouth-to-mouth resuscitation methods by using Resuscit-Anne.

Chamber plans Michigan Week queen contest

The St. Johns Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a Queen's Contest, which will be open to all girls 16 or over attending St. Johns High School. Girls will compete by selling Chamber of Commerce booster buttons, with the top seven sellers eligible for the coveted Queen's position.

The contest opens April 30, and girls will sell until noon, Monday, May 10, at which time Chamber Manager Betty Jane Minsky will check them in at the high school and determine who the top sellers are.

THE SEVEN TOP sellers will then be hosted to a dinner during that week at which time three out-of-town judges will select one of them queen, giving their selection to the chamber in a sealed envelope.

On Monday evening, May 17, all seven girls and their parents will be guests of the Chamber of Commerce at the Michigan Week Mayor's Exchange Dinner. A highlight of the evening will come when visiting Mayor Ward Hillman of Deckerville opens the envelope and announces the Chamber of Commerce queen, who will become "Miss St. Johns, 1965."

HE WILL THEN place a rhinestone tiara on her head and present her with a satin sash on which will be lettered in gold, the words "Miss St. Johns, 1965."

The remaining six girls will then comprise the queen's court for the balance of the year.

The Chamber expressed thanks to B. Stanley Pocus, principal of the high school, who is cooperating in the project by announcing rules of the contest and distributing entry forms so that the girls can enter at the school.

THE CHAMBER of Commerce hopes to make this an annual event, which will allow them to tie in with Michigan Week and Mayor's Exchange Day. They will also use the girl selected as queen to represent the chamber at its programs and festivities in the future. Plans are also being made to enter the queen in other contests around the state, which will bring publicity to St. Johns.

Income derived from the sale of the buttons will be used to defray the cost of the queen's promotion, not only during Michigan Week but for the balance of the year.

Chamber gets maps, brochures

The St. Johns Chamber of Commerce has ordered a large assortment of literature for distribution to local residents or tourists who may desire it.

Although only a few items have been received at this time, additional pieces are expected in within the next week.

"At present we have the new 1965 Michigan State Highway maps in and brochures on the Detroit zoo and childrens zoo on Belle Isle which will be helpful to those planning trips there this summer," Mrs Betty Minsky, secretary said.

"WE ALSO have a supply of booklets entitled 'What Every Boater Should Know'. This is a 32-page booklet designed to be of help to boaters and we would be happy if those residents who own boats would stop in and pick one up. All of the booklets are free."

The St. Johns Chamber of Commerce has authorized Mrs Minsky to immediately prepare a new brochure about St. Johns so that it will be ready within a few weeks for distribution to Michigan State Highway Information Centers, auto clubs and travel agencies, as well as for distribution by other Chambers of Commerce.

AT THE PRESENT time the Chamber is located at 222 North Clinton Avenue, in Jim's Insurance Agency Building. At its recent meeting, the board of directors authorized a Chamber of Commerce sign which will be mounted on the building.

Dean Cronkhite, 4, gets his kite, with a safety message on it, from his dad, Richard Cronkhite, who works for Consumers Power Co.

Consumers passing out safety notes with kites

A thousand kites soon will be soaring over the areas served by the Lansing Division of Consumers Power Co. St. Johns is the headquarters for this area of the Company.

Consumers, which has more than 50,000 electric and 70,000 gas customers in the Greater Lansing area, isn't flying kites to promote the sale of stoves or refrigerators. However, the kites will be a messages from the company to the children and other kite flyers. They will be messages of safety.

THE KITES will be in the hands of the children of the Lansing division's more than 600 employees, and Lansing Division Manager William R. Carlyon says the distribution of free kites is just one more step in the company's continuing kite safety program.

Besides the free kites, this year the company's Lansing Division has distributed more than 1,200 kite safety posters free to area public and parochial schools.

*THE KITES are our way of telling the children that we don't object to the sport at all," Carlyon said. "But we want it done safely. We list some basic rules for kite-flying fun, and all we ask is that the children heed them," he added.

The rules are: Never fly kites in wet weather; never use metal string or metal braces on the kite; never climb a tree or pole to rescue a kite; keep off streets and highways, and keep kites away from wires, antennae, aerials and similar structures.

Tracksters fall to O'Rafferty

In their first complete track meet of the season, the St. Johns Redwings lost to Lansing O'Rafferty last Wednesday afternoon by a score of 64-36.

Although the Wings captured four firsts in individual events four firsts in individual events — high jump, broad jump, half-ferry's sweep of the shot put and both relays, plus their strength in the sprints, hurdles and mile run, gave the Lansing team ample points to win.

THE MEET was held at Lansing Sexton's field, and the track was in good condition for so early in the spring. Neither team entered contestants in the pole vault, but all other events were held, with the Wings winning points in nine of them.

Al Anderson and Doug Lundy placed first and second in the high jump, clearing 5 feet 8 inches. Lundy was first in the broad jump with a 17-foot 11-inch leap, and Dave DeGeer's 11-foot jump took third place.

JIM LEONARD had second in the high hurdles, and Tom McKenzie took second in the lows. DeGeer's 4:58 mile took second to O'Rafferty's 4:50 timing. Al Koenigsnecht won the 880-yard run with a 2:08 clocking.

In the quarter-mile run, the time of 55.1 by Lundy gave the Redwings a first, while Bob Showers' 55.8 was good for third. Randy Humphrey and junior Tom McKenzie were clocked at 1:41. The mile relay team of Don Hungerford, Bob Showers, Doug Lundy and Dave DeGeer was timed at 3:48.

ALTHOUGH BOTH St. Johns relay teams were beaten, the turned in creditable performances. The 880-yard relay team of sophomores Alex Luci, John Cleveland, Randy Humphrey and junior Tom McKenzie was clocked at 1:41. The mile relay team of Don Hungerford, Bob Showers, Doug Lundy and Dave DeGeer was timed at 3:48.

Cemetery markers—the latest dating back to 1883—show the location of the small graveyard next to the Greenwood School on North DeWitt Road at Banner Road. Though fenced in to prevent excessive traffic of little feet, the plot is part of school property, now annexed to the St. Johns District. St. Johns must maintain the cemetery.

St. Johns School District becomes new 'sexton' of Greenbush cemetery

Operation of a cemetery is now part of the duties of the St. Johns School District.

It's not a big cemetery, really, but the small plot next to the Greenwood school in Greenbush Township must be maintained by the school district operating the school. That's the provisions of the deed.

THE CEMETERY plot—four by five rods in size—contains 12 identifiable graves, the latest dated 1883. The long-ago date on the last grave is one main reason why the school obtained the land of the cemetery from Greenbush Township 11 years ago.

The present cemetery area was originally part of a six by 11-rod township cemetery just to the north of the school property. The township decided to sell the land because it was not being used further as a cemetery. The Greenwood School bought it with the provision that it fence and maintain in a dignified manner the small area containing the graves.

THE PROVISIONS of the deed were to apply to all future owners of the property. When Greenwood voters approved annexation to St. Johns School District April 10, the job of maintaining the cemetery was also transferred to St. Johns.

The purchase of the cemetery land on July 10, 1954, prompted still further changes in the boundary of the Greenwood school property. In order to square off the school's land, the northernmost two by 11-rod area of the cemetery land was sold to Fred and Mary Sykora. They, in turn, deeded to the school a four by 3 1/3-rod parcel of land to square up the northeast corner of the school property.

THE accompanying map shows the growth of the Greenwood School property from 1857 when it first leased a four by five-rod plot for a school. The present school building was erected about 1907.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Miller and Herm Hoerner were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Schutt and family in Lansing.

Window box flowers for young gardeners

Spring is here . . . that wonderful time when all the flowers that hid during the long winter now burst into bloom. It's the time to plan your very own garden, one that sits right at your bedroom window.

Use a small window box (your local hardware or dime store carries them) and fill it 3/4 full with soil. Buy two or three packets of fast sprouting seeds at the dime store, and plant them in the soil. Your seeds should take only a few days to sprout and within two to three weeks your flower garden will be in full bloom. (Don't forget to water the seeds each day after you plant them and at least every other day after they have sprouted.)

YOU CAN grow a lovely vine to border your window by placing a sweet potato in a jar of water. All you need are the potato, some toothpicks, and a tall glass or wide-mouthed mason jar. Fill the jar with water. Spear the potato with toothpicks around the middle. Now suspend the potato in the jar, so that only one tip is in the water (the toothpicks will sit on the mouth of the jar and hold the rest of the potato high and dry).

Keep the plant at your window and, as the vine begins to grow, tack a few strings to the window-sill for the stems to climb on. (Check with your mother first.) In about two weeks you'll see it begin to sprout . . . then watch those vines climb! You'll soon have a pretty vine border for your window.

Happy planting!

The cotton plant occurs in five distinct species, some of them perennial.

Put food in freezer for busy days ahead

BY BETTY KETCHAM County Extension Agent Home Economics

April showers promising May flowers will be just part of the picture. We can look forward to increasing quantities of rhubarb, asparagus, and pineapples. If you are planning on pineapple for the freezer—they hit their peak during May. You'll be hearing more about pineapples for the freezer a little later.

WHEN YOU are cleaning kitchen cupboards—don't forget the spice cabinet.

After a year in the spice cabinet spices lose much of their flavor. Improvements are being made in spice containers. If your spices are stored in glass containers with tight lids or metal containers with tight plastic cover lids your spices will keep their flavor a little longer. As spices grow old they lose some of their flavor—some lose almost all and others develop a strong off flavor.

ARE YOU trying to put extra food in the freezer for busy days that will follow? Don't forget cakes. Most cakes freeze well. Few frostings do.

Frostings containing egg whites are entirely unsuitable for freezing. They dry out and become crystalline.

Whipped cream fillings are also unsuitable. For best results, top your to-be frozen cake with an uncooked frosting made of confectioner's sugar. The fat will keep it moist and creamy for 4 to 6 months.

Here's another freezing tip. There's no reason why you can't freeze fresh, chilled poultry in the same wrapper in which you buy it, say poultry specialists at the US Department of Agriculture. Just be sure it is tightly wrapped and there are no tears.

Own scent may lure carpet beetle from rugs

The carpet beetle, a pest well known to many housewives, may be lured away from carpets by some of its own scent.

University of Wisconsin insect specialists R. J. Dicke and Wendell E. Burkholder have found a chemical in the female carpet beetle which attracts males and may be used to control these pests sometime in the future.

CARPET beetles damage mainly rugs, clothing, fur and feathers. On occasion they are serious pests in dried milk, grain and flour.

The scientists searched for the sex attractant in carpet beetles since many other insect species secrete a special chemical which attracts the opposite sex in great numbers. A few of these insects are the gypsy moth, silkworm, pine sawfly, and American cockroach. Since some of these species are somewhat related to carpet beetles, the scientists tried the same techniques on them.

THEY RAISED carpet beetles in the laboratory and then divided them into male and female when they were in the pupal stage. The researchers observed the attraction of one sex to the other when the insects emerged from the pupae.

They found out that beetles secrete an attracting chemical about 24 hours after emergence.

THE SCIENTISTS gathered the sex attractant by running air through a container where the female beetles were confined and filtering the air after it passed through. Then they tried the material for its attraction of other beetles. By counting the number of males attracted to a disc saturated with this chemical, they could get some idea of its power.

When male beetles got the scent they made many of the mating movements and crawled in a zig-zag course toward the female attractant. One of the responses to the attractant was a movement of the antenna, which made the researchers think, that antennae are part of the sensory equipment. When they remove the antennae from some of the males, these males weren't attracted to the female scent.

ALTHOUGH THIS looks like a promising technique to control

The coin shortage is nothing new. In the mid-19th century, coins were so scarce in the rapidly growing United States that many private firms began producing coins. This was tolerated by the federal government until 1864, when private coinage was forbidden.

Township Association honors 6 for service

Six county township officers and representatives were honored by the Clinton County Township Officers Assn. last Tuesday night for their long and faithful service in local government.

Over 75 persons witnessed the presentation of certificates at the association's monthly meeting in the circuit courtroom at the courthouse in St. Johns. The awards were made by Joe Parisi, the group's legislative counsel in Lansing.

"THIS IS for a good job," Parisi said as he presented the framed certificates to T. B. Thompson of Bath for 10 years service; Mrs Alice Heibeck of Bingham for 13 years; Fred Mohnke of Bengal for 14 years; Charles Higbee of Eagle for 18 years; Verne Higbee of Eagle for 20 years; and Andrew Cobb of Eisie for 14 years of representing all the townships of the county as state representative in Lansing. Ernest Trofatter accepted for Thompson.

"I'm honored to be able to help recognize people who share their time, talents, fortunes and sacrifices above and beyond the call of duty," Parisi said in congratulating the six persons.

AT ITS organizational business meeting the same night, Verne Upton, clerk of Essex Township, was elected president of the county association. He replaces Robert Law of Riley Township.

Vice president is Donald Harper, treasurer of Bengal Township. Relected secretary-treasurer was Vincent George of Fowler, clerk of Dallas Township.

Meeting night of the association was temporarily changed to the second Thursday of each month.

PARISI WAS the main speaker at the meeting, giving the 71 township officers and other guests an idea of how various legislative bills will affect local government and how those bills are getting along. On apportionment of supervisors by population, he had these remarks:

He predicted the Legislature would not act to apportion by population, but that the courts will do it and will carry it all the way. He professed that the courts do not have the right to do something of a legislative nature.

"THERE are three alternatives under their ruling," he said. "We can leave the number of supervisors as it is and give every supervisor a different number of votes—even fractional votes—but then this destroys the committee system.

"We could forget political boundaries and set up equal population districts, or we could reduce the county board in size and have each supervisor represent a different area."

This particular discussion had to do with a recent ruling of a Grand Rapids judge that the Kent County Board of Supervisors would have to be apportioned on a population basis, rather than by township basis. Parisi said he expects a legal fight all the way to the Supreme Court before the issue of supervisor apportionment is settled.

IN GENERAL, he said he expects township government to fare fairly well in this session of the Legislature.

Entertainment was provided by the Fowler 4 singing group consisting of Al Thelen, Herm Schmitt, Don Schmitt and Hilary Schmitt. Special guests at the meeting was John West of Genesee County, president of the Michigan Township Officers Assn. Coffee and donuts were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Quartet to sing

The Jubilaires gospel quartet of Holland, Mich., will be featured Saturday evening at the monthly holiness meeting of the Gratiot County Holiness Assn. at the Pilgrim Holiness Church in Rhaca. The program will start at 7:30 p.m. The event is sponsored by the Ola Camp-Meeting Assn., and the public is invited to attend.

New records being set in feed grain signup

We have just received an announcement from the US Department of Agriculture that new records are being set in the 1965 Feed Grain Program. In signing these applications, the farmers agreed to divert 744,446 acres of land from production of feed grains in 1965.

The signup for this year, compared with 1964, shows an increase of over 23 per cent in the number of applications signed and an increase of over 19 per cent in the number of acres to be diverted.

A TOTAL OF 1,173 feed grain farmers in our county signed applications to divert 20,600 acres this compares with 820 farmers diverting 15,600 acres in 1964. A large number of farmers participating this year requesting an advance payment of half of their total of 44,227 Michigan farmers signed applications to take part in the 1965 Feed Grain Program. In signing these applications, the farmers agreed to divert 744,446 acres of land from production of feed grains in 1965.

The present feed grain legislation does expire with the 1965 program; however, the president, in his proposed legislation to Congress, is recommending another two-year extension.

WE BELIEVE the results to date, in meeting the objectives of the program of depleting government surplus of feed grain in storage and reducing the cost of government farm programs to taxpayers, do justify further extension of the program.

diversion payment. To date, we have paid out approximately $282,468.97 to these farmers.

Assembly of God begins Sunday School campaign

The St. Johns Assembly of God has announced a seven-week Sunday school emphasis which was launched on Easter Sunday. Its purpose, according to the Rev Joseph F. Eger Jr., pastor, is to increase loyalty of Sunday school members to their church.

The activities of the St. Johns Assembly of God are geared with a denomination-wide emphasis known as the "Loyalty Campaign" which traditionally began Easter Sunday and continues for the seven following weeks, ending on Pentecost Sunday.

THE CAMPAIGN will be directed by the pastor, assisted by Claude Barrett, general superintendent of the Sunday school.

Members will be urged to chalk up perfect attendance records during the campaign and to enlist new members in the Sunday school. This is the first year the local church has participated in a loyalty campaign.

Currently there are 71 members enrolled in the St. Johns Assembly of God Sunday school. An attendance goal of 90 has been set for the campaign. The church is located on South US-27.

DeWitt annexation beaten

Three proposals which would have resulted in annexation of the Hurd school district to the DeWitt district were turned down by Hurd voters in a special election last Tuesday.

Hurd has no junior or senior high school, and the election was on a proposal to bring their grades into the DeWitt district. The first proposition asking for annexation was defeated 162 to 112.

TWO OTHER proposals linked to the first were also defeated. The second one, asking Hurd residents to accept DeWitt's 27-mill school tax was defeated 166 to 108. The third proposition asking Hurd to accept DeWitt's $961,000 bonded debt was defeated 169 to 93.

Most of the bonded debt by DeWitt is wrapped up in its new high school on Herbison Road, scheduled for completion next fall at a cost of $750,000.

HURD OPERATES two schools in southern DeWitt Township. One is for kindergarten and the other for elementary grades through the sixth grade. Total enrollment in the two is 176; another 108 secondary students attend Lansing high schools on a tuition basis.

The Hurd district is one of three near Lansing that has asked to be considered in an Ingham County school reorganization study that could lead to an eventual vote on merger of Hurd with the Lansing School District. The rejection of the DeWitt annexation proposal appears to strengthen that possibility.

Regional meet set by Senior Citizens

The Clinton County Senior Citizens' Rhythm Comedy Band was invited to entertain, on Friday evening, April 9, at the Pilgrim Congregational Church in Lansing, the Sojourners' Club, one of several senior citizens clubs in that city.

Twenty-five band members attended.

Following a potluck and business meeting, some members of the group put on the skit, "Wanted A Wife." The entire band then played several selections.

The regular meeting of the organization was held at the VFW Hall on April 13 with 72 persons present. It was reported that there were 42 persons at the card party the previous evening.

FOLLOWING the dinner, Roger Kowalski, city recreation director, announced that the Senior Citizens Regional Get-Together would be held at Smith Hall in St. Johns on May 19. The region includes the counties of Eaton, Ingham, Livingston, Clinton and Shi-

Plan expansion by Consumers

A formidable expansion program, involving expenditures of almost $400,000 for every working day for the next five years, was announced last Wednesday by Robert P. Briggs, executive vice president of Consumers Power Co., at a regional meeting of shareholders in Lansing.

Briggs said a substantial portion of this expansion would be spent in the Greater Lansing area, where Ingham County alone has a projected growth of 26 per cent from 1960 to 1970.

IN ALL, he said, the company expects to spend at least $500 million in the five-year period 1965-1969 to meet ever-increasing demands for electricity and natural gas in 66 of the 68 counties of Michigan's Lower Peninsula. Consumers Power now serves 1,600,000 customers, including 932,000 electric customers and 668,000 gas customers.

awasee. It will be an all-day meeting from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. A family-style chicken dinner will be served by the Rebekahs. Awards will be presented to the oldest man and oldest woman and there will be entertainment.

The price of the tickets, including everything, will be $1.80. Reservations must be made not later than May 7. No tickets will be sold at the door. Reservations from members of the local group should be sent or handed to Carmen Tranchell, secretary. Mrs Elzie Exelby was appointed chairman of the committee on table decorations and Carmen Tranchell is in charge of hospitality. Each chairman will appoint her own helpers.

THE GROUP voted to furnish a float for the Annual Soap Box Derby parade which will be held on Sunday, June 20.

Following the business meeting, entertainment was furnished by the band. It was a dress rehearsal for the mock wedding skit which they will put on at the state meeting of nursing home administrators to be held at the Jack Tarr Hotel in Lansing on May 4. Mrs Beatrice Rivard is directing the program. There was also a hymn-sing and reading appropriate to the Easter season.

Chairman Hill received a call from Saylor Beall who would like to have a man to work in the yard, he said.

Special ed teacher at meet

ELsie — The Elsie Parent-Teachers Assn. heard an interesting and informative talk by Mrs Rita Cox, teacher-counselor for the handicapped children of Shawassee County, at the regular meeting in the school cafeteria last Monday evening.

Mrs Cox is well known in educational circles of this area. Although living in Bannister, she has been identified with both Gratiot and Shawassee counties special education departments since 1958, first teaching the homebound and now serving as teacher-counselor.

AMONG HER students are those suffering from a hearing loss, cerebral palsy, muscular coherency, epilepsy, cardiac and visual handicaps.

Mrs Cox described her work and how she tries to help them. For example, twice a week, she picks a student at 6:45 a.m. in his home to work with him before he leaves for classes at school.

There are many new techniques for teaching this group which are being investigated and tried, she stated, and in many instances she contacts a trained physician for advice. Mrs Cox was a teacher at the Bannister School for many years before entering the special education field.

GEORGE KECK directed the business session, which included election of officers. The following were chosen: Lyle Acre, president; Mrs Robert Moore, vice president; Mrs Raymond Stewart, secretary; and Mrs Alpha Grubaugh, treasurer.

It was reported that $90.30 was netted from the recent Hobby and Fun program sponsored by the P.T.A. It was decided to plan next year's entertainment and hobby exhibits for two separate events to allow visitors more time for each.

COFFEE AND cookies were served to the group by Mrs Philip West and Mrs Mildred Chapko. They were assisted by Tony Fabus and Mrs Louis Palus furnishing homemade cookies.

The next executive board meeting will be Monday night, April 26.

Michigan's population will be over 10.5 million in 1975, the Bureau of the Census reports.

Homemakers elect officers

ELsie — The West Elsie Homemakers Study Club met at the home of Mrs Howard Whitaker for their April 14 meeting. Chairman Mrs Charles Fizzell brought the meeting to order by reading the article on "Good Friday" from the Upper Room magazine. Roll call was answered by the 11 members present with diet hints.

Council member Mrs Whitaker gave a report to all homemakers of the trip, April 6 to Michigan State University campus home-making centers. The group was made up of the county council members and one guest each.

THE ELECTION of officers saw a few shifts of duties and resulted as follows: chairman, Mrs Charles Fizzell; vice chairman, Mrs Wayne Peck; secretary-treasurer and reporter, Mrs George Blaney; council member, Mrs Howard Whitaker; leaders; Mrs Burton Tabor and one other to be selected for each lesson; safety chairman, Mrs Archie Saxton; health, Mrs Ward Lewis and Mrs Louis Hehrer; citizenship, Mrs Russell Rivest and Mrs Dale Levey Sr.; historian, Miss Lula Knight; and international chairman, Mrs Milford Clark.

The leaders for the day, Mrs Wayne Peck and Mrs Milford Clark, discussed the study topic "Slim and Trim." How to "Take off pounds sensible" sums up the discourse.

Chamber warns against photo men

In a warning today concerning photography schemes, the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce emphasized that in recent years the photography field has been invaded by a small group of fast buck operators who have swindled the public out of millions of dollars and who have cast an unwarranted stigma upon the honorable business men dealing in photography.

Among the many schemes currently used in the photography field is the album - certificate deal.

BETTY Jane Minsky, chamber manager, stated a case is before the Federal Trade Commission involving misrepresentation in this relatively new "Album-Certificate" deal. In it salesmen contact mothers at their home, using a smooth approach on the subject emotionally close to them — their children.

According to the trial examiner in the case, a salesman would tell the mother she had been "specially selected to receive an album as a free gift. Then she would be told that she could purchase a certificate entitling her to a certain number of pictures over a certain period of time, at a promotional or reduced price.

ACCORDING to the FTC examiner, the fact was that the mothers were not "especially selected," the album was not free but was included in the price quoted for the pictures.

Mrs Minsky also noted that in August of 1962, Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley issued an article concerning photography fraud in which he said his Consumers Protection Division had had numerous complaints from Michigan residents who had unhappy and unfortunate experiences with some sales crews.

He suggested, among other things, that Michigan residents know who they are dealing with and also the firm and that if and when a family decided on a photo plan, they should understand the terms and know when and where the pictures would be taken. He also warned residents not to be "high pressured" into photograph plans which are beyond your needs and financial ability.

THE CHAMBER of Commerce also went on to warn residents to make certain that they know where pictures will be taken from transient salesmen there is no photo studio in the immediate area who is affiliated with the sales firm. It then becomes necessary for the people purchasing the "albums" to travel many miles away in order to receive the photos.

"Several years ago in a National Better Business Bureau survey of public complaints directed against the entire field of door to door selling, photography ranked third in volume," Mrs Minsky said.

"Therefore, the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce urges residents to know whom they are buying from and to deal with photographers known to you by experience or reputation as being reliable."

The chamber supports the Better Business Bureau's advice to "be wary of 'free' offers. They usually are offered strictly as 'bait' to pave the way for high pressuring you into buying photographs."

Our Bement Library is now 25 years old

Every spare inch of space in the Bement Library is packed with good reading. There aren't many more inches available as this interior picture shows. File cabinet at the right is where all the library's books are indexed to help in locating them.

Library wasn't first here Mrs H.F. Millman retiring after 15 years as librarian

The Bement Library, when established in 1940, ended a "pught" of about 23 years when St. Johns was without its own public library.

Mrs Harold F. Millman, who has served as librarian of the Bement Library for the past 15 years, has resigned her position effective July 1. She acted as assistant librarian for four years before taking over following the resignation of Miss Minnie Barrington, first librarian of the Bement Library.

"The library has grown tremendously in the past 15 years," said Mrs Millman. "It has grown to the point that we are bursting out at the seams. Space that was meant to accommodate 7,000 volumes now houses twice that much material. Daily circulation has doubled as well as registrations."

MRS MILLMAN was born in Elsie and moved with her parents to St. Johns in 1913. She graduated from the St. Johns High School and went on to continue her education at the Michigan State Normal College in Ypsilanti, later teaching school in Monroe, Mich.

During World War I, Mrs Millman worked in the War Trade Bureau in Washington, D.C., until the war ended. In 1918 she was married to Harold Millman, a native of St. Johns. The early years of their married life were spent in Rahway, N. J. where Millman was employed as a chemist with the Merck Pharmaceutical Co. Here two of their three sons were born—John and William. They returned to St. Johns in 1921 when Millman took over the drug store formerly operated by his father, John T. Millman. A third son, Richard, was born to them in 1925.

The three sons are now the parents of eight children. Mrs Millman has six grandsons and two granddaughters. John, the eldest, lives in South Bend, Ind., William in Moline, Ill., and Richard in Athens, Ohio.

"I HAVE enjoyed every minute of my years as librarian. I have always loved to read, and have been able to pursue that hobby to my heart's content during my years here. Keeping up with the latest in books has kept me young, so that I really didn't believe it when they told me I had reached retirement age."

"Librarianship as a career is most rewarding. I should like to see many more young people take it up. Libraries are becoming more and more important in the educational world, and there is a great need for trained library personnel."

MRS MILLMAN's successor to the job of librarian will be Mrs Hila Bross of St. Johns, a resident here most of her life. She graduated from Rodney B. Wilson High School.

She has been active in the Woman's Club here and the State Federation of Woman's Clubs. She is a member of the First Congregational Church, several musical circles and is a member of the First Nighters.

HER HUSBAND, Dr. H. M. Bross, is an optometrist, presently working in Battle Creek.

Mrs Bross has done work at Michigan State University and plans in the fall to enroll in several library courses at Lansing Community College.

ASSISTANT librarian at the Bement Library is Mrs Laurita Allison of 606 S. Clinton. She has been handling that duty since 1950 and during morning hours does work in the elementary school libraries of the city.

Entrance to the Bement Library can be made through the main door on the east side of the Municipal Building on Spring Street or through the main building entryway on Walker Street.

No book fines next week

Overdue books are librarians' biggest headache. Each month reminder cards are mailed to delinquent borrowers, followed by letters and more cards. The cost of these cards could be put to better use, librarians point out.

When these overdue notices are ignored month after month, some librarians resort to desperate means. To dramatize the problem, librarians have built a wall of books in front of the library using the same number of books that were overdue.

ANOTHER called in police who rounded up the delinquent borrowers and hauled them off to jail. They were forced to pay a big fine for their release, added to the one already owing the library. These seem like rather extreme measures, but they do express something of the exasperation felt by librarians everywhere when needed materials are not returned. Much money that could be used for new books must be used to replace this material.

"Being in a softened and forgiving mood due to our age (the library is a quarter of a century old this month)," St. Johns Librarian Mrs Elizabeth Millman said, "we are giving you a chance to return any of these forgotten books fine-free during this Silver Anniversary Week—April 25 to May 2. This is also National Library Week."

"This is your opportunity to ease your conscience with no pain to your pocket book. Bring back those overdue books this week!"

PLANS FOR expansion of the library, possibly into the upper and main floors of the present fire hall, are being discussed, but no definite decisions have been made nor timetables set.

THE CLINTON County Republican-News of April 1940 carried the story of the opening: "Bement Library, located in a part of the new Municipal Building of St. Johns, will open its doors to the public April 13, 1940. Miss Minnie Barrington, formerly connected with the St. Johns Public Schools, will be in charge . . ."

The Bement Public Library was made possible through a bequest from Mrs Louisa Bement. It was given to the city of St. Johns as a memorial to her daughter, Jennie Louise Bement. Jennie Louise was a gifted young woman who died at the age of 25. Her interests were academic, and her family felt that a library of the original members, Mrs DeWitt and Mrs Merrill are still devoting their time to the library board as members. Mrs Merrill has been secretary for all the 25 years, and Mrs DeWitt has been president for the past 10 years.

FOLLOWING the death of Mr Buck, Edward Fehling was appointed to fill his place. Interested and able in the duties of the board, he remained on it until his death in 1957. Mrs Beulah Ballantine was appointed to fill the place of Miss Daboll in 1952. Joseph G. Matthews replaced Mr Fehling in 1957 and remained on the board until his death in 1962.

The present board consists of Mrs Lee DeWitt, chairman; Basil A. Diebert, vice chairman; Mrs Robert J. Merrill, secretary; Mrs Beulah Ballantine, treasurer; and Mayor Jack Smit, commission member.

IN ITS EARLY days, the board spent much of its time in collecting books, helping get them ready for the shelves and in interesting organizations of the city in the new library. The board now meets quarterly for decisions on matters of policy.

Miss Minnie Barrington, the first librarian, had been a teacher in the St. Johns Public Schools for 40 years before starting her new career as librarian. She built the library from its small beginnings to a collection of 8,000 volumes at the time she retired in 1950. She was lively and vivacious, and a great favorite with children, who called her "Aunt Minnie."

IN 1946, MRS Harold Millman was chosen to act as assistant librarian and to be trained to take over when "Aunt Minnie" decided to retire. In 1950, Mrs Millman did become librarian, with Mrs Laurita Allison as her assistant.

Under Mrs Millman's administration, the library has continued its growth. In 1953 a children's room was opened in the basement of the Municipal Building. It was furnished in child-size furniture, and school girl help was hired to assist in the room. The children's room has been extremely popular with the small fry, and circulation of children's books increases every year.

EACH SUMMER a reading club project is begun for children in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. Diplomas are given to the young readers who complete the program and money prizes to the best book reviews handed in from each grade.

A story hour conducted by Mrs Beatrice Cook last summer attracted many small listeners.

The Bement Library has been well supported by the people of St. Johns and the area. The early library board felt, and decided, that no charge would be made to rural borrowers, though that was the practice in most of the state's libraries.

ST. JOHNS is a shopping center for the county, and free library service was felt to be a friendly gesture toward the rural readers. Registration of rural patrons now numbers about as many as city patrons.

THIS gives each participating library a share in a book grant from federal funds and the benefit of interchange of books among libraries in the system.

The Bement Library in St. Johns' Municipal Building was 25 years old April 13, and the library is planning an open house this Sunday afternoon to celebrate the occasion.

The open house was delayed to correspond with the opening of National Library Week, which runs from Sunday through May 2. The week is featured each spring, with libraries around the country using it as a way of rousing the public's interest and pointing up their services and needs.

"YOU ARE all invited to come to the library open house Sunday, or at any other time," Mrs Elizabeth Millman, librarian, said this week. "This is your library, and by your interest it will grow and become more useful to you. A good library is essential to a good community."

The open house will be from 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

The usefulness of the library Mrs Millman spoke of has been evident down through the 25 years, with the number of volumes, patrons and books distributed showing a steady and enlightening spiral upward.

IN JULY 1940, three months after the library opened, 723 books were distributed, with 381 patrons registered. In July last year, by comparison, 3,605 books were circulated, and 4,312 registrations were on file.

There were 500 books on the shelves of the library when it opened in 1940. It was planned to accommodate 6,000 to 7,000 volumes, but it now houses twice that many books. This has called for the addition of many more shelves until now all available space is taken.

PLANS FOR expansion of the library, possibly into the upper and main floors of the present fire hall, are being discussed, but no definite decisions have been made nor timetables set.

The main library room, in the northeast part of the Municipal Building, is 40 feet long by 30 feet wide. Along the sides of the room and between and under the windows are book shelves of various heights. Made of wood and adjustable, they provide space for more than 6,000 volumes. Other books are located on shelves placed around the center portions of the room.

MRS DEWITT

Mrs Lee A. DeWitt, a member of the library board for the 25 years it has been in existence, has been president of the group for the past 10 years.

MRS MERRILL

Mrs Robert Merrill has been a member and secretary of the St. Johns Library Board since it was formed in January 1940.

Since the decision of the Michigan Supreme Court regarding the distribution of penal fines to public libraries, the Bement Library has shared in this fund. The money is being set aside to provide an addition to the present library quarters. The library has also shared in the state aid fund administered by the Michigan state library.

MRS MILLMAN has noted many changes in the types of library patrons and the use they make of the library.

"Originally the library was mostly a reading library," she recalled. "But now the majority come from the school-age group, and the library has become more and more a study hall, both after school and on the evenings it is open."

"Students of high school and the elementary schools flock in to gather material for lesson assignments. Teachers now-a-days are asking for more and more outside reference material to augment the textbooks."

IN 1961, ADDITIONAL hours were added to the library's schedule so that more students could be accommodated. Library hours are now like this: 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Monday, Thursday and Saturday; 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Wednesday.

Student use of the library has been enhanced by the library's excellent shelves of late editions of encyclopedias, dictionaries and other reference material. It has most of the late fiction, and for many years it has subscribed to the American Lending Library, a rental library that helps keep a good supply of mysteries and light romance.

A TEENAGE corner affords good fiction and sports stories for its younger readers.

The library's record collection, consisting mostly of classical recordings, is loaned on the same basis as the books.

The library has always subscribed to a large number of periodicals and to the Reader's Guide and Periodicals Index. As many of these are kept on file as space permits, Mrs Millman said. A recent federal grant to libraries is now supplying all the periodicals listed by Reader's Guide, so the Bement Library's supply has been greatly increased in number and variety.

DURING THE past year the library board voted to become a part of the library system which includes the Ingham County Library, the East Lansing Public Library, the DeWitt Public Library, the Maple Rapids Library, and the Charlotte, Windsor Township and Benton Township Public Libraries in Eaton County.

This gives each participating library a share in a book grant from federal funds and the benefit of interchange of books among libraries in the system.

MISS BARRINGTON

Miss Minnie Barrington was first librarian at the Bement Library, serving from the time of its opening in April 1940 until 1950 when she retired.

Adults find the Bement Library has as much to offer for them as it does the children. These women made use of the library last week. Newspapers in the background and magazines foreground attest to library's versatility.

JACK SMIT

Mayor Jack Smit is the city commission's representative on the library board, which is appointed by the commission.

The St. Johns Library Board decides the policy of the Bement Library and charts its course. Left to right are Mrs Robert Merrill, secretary; Mrs Lee A. DeWitt, president; Basil Diebert, vice president; and Mrs Beulah Ballantine, treasurer. The city commission member of the board is Mayor Jack Smit.

Our library completes 25 years of service

St. Johns' Bement Library in the Municipal Building takes note of the 25th anniversary of its founding with an Open House Sunday, April 25, from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. The affair is timed to coincide with the opening of National Library Week which continues through May 2.

Few communities of our size can boast of such splendid library facilities and service. Like most worthwhile institutions, the Bement Library reflects the unselfish and dedicated interest of public-spirited people.

Through the years the City of St. Johns has helped to support the project with its tax dollars and city-appointed board members, serving without compensation, have guided its affairs.

TWO OF THE present board members, Mrs Lee A. DeWitt and Mrs Robert J. Merrill, were on the first governing group named a quarter of a century ago.

The community is grateful to them, as well as to countless others who have helped to improve the library through their gifts of time, money, books and subscriptions to periodicals.

HIGH ON THE LIST of those who should be accorded recognition for the library's successful operation are the late Miss Minnie Barrington, who was librarian from 1940 to 1950, and Mrs Harold F. Millman, who has presided so capably in that position for the past 15 years. A faithful assistant librarian for the last 15-year period has been Mrs Laurita Allison.

So, take a few minutes Sunday afternoon to stop by the library and say Happy Birthday. The library board and staff will be looking forward to your visit on their 25th anniversary.

New site, Sunday hours for annual Youth Show

The annual Clinton County Youth Talent and Hobby Exhibit opens in St. Johns this Friday afternoon and there have been some changes made from previous years—

First, the show has been moved from its usual location on the second floor of the Municipal Building to a ground-floor site in the spacious Hicks Building in the center block of Clinton Avenue.

Second, the displays will be open for inspection on Sunday afternoon for those who find it impossible to view the work of our talented young people on weekdays.

THREE DAYS have been designated for the public to see the show. Friday and Saturday doors will be open from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. The Sunday hours will be from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. and organ music will be provided.

It's possible that many Clinton area people will combine a visit to the Youth Talent show with their attendance at the Bement Library Open House Sunday afternoon.

Take it easy with your spring burning

It's been a long time coming this spring, but the grass fire season is with us once more and local officials are pleading again with Clinton area residents to take it easy with their burning.

Each year, it seems, the cost of fighting grass and brushfires in the rural area soars higher. Much of the problem could be eliminated by a little better judgment on the part of those who are anxious to clean up accumulated brush and trash.

BEFORE YOU start a blaze, remember to get a burning permit from Conservation Officer Earl Goff or from your local fire department. This is a requirement of state law.

The exercising of a bit more care this spring will save grass and trees for summer enjoyment and help stop the needless waste

With the approach of Michigan Week in mid-May, we get to searching for material about our state, county and communities that will be of interest to use here at home and to people outside our state.

Drawing from the Atlas of Michigan by Earl J. Senninger Jr., here are some facts about Clinton County that may or may not mean anything to you:

WE ARE IN the general categories of from 580 to 1,000 feet above sea level, with the area around DeWitt and south generally higher than the rest of the county. Our generalized bedrock geology is Pennsylvanian.

We are in the Grand River drainage basin, with our water drainage eventually winding up in Lake Michigan. Our average annual temperature is 48 degrees; in the southeastern part of the county it is 49. The average January temperature is 24 or 25; in July the average is 71 or 72.

THE average annual growing season is 140 days in the northern part of the county, 150 in the central and 160 in the southeast. Annual precipitation averages 30 to 32 inches, with the 32 being in the southwest. Average snowfall is 40 inches.

Again, these are all general figures and categories, but they give you an idea of what Clinton County has been like in the years 1930 to 1960. Here are some other general figures for different recent years.

SUGAR beet production falls between 1,650 and 10,600 tons, the third highest grouping in the state. Dry bean production falls between 147,000 and 306,000 hundredweight. Winter wheat production is between 1,046 and 1,695 thousands of bushels. Corn production is between 3,002 and 4,529 thousands of bushels.

Soybeans total between 440 and 868 thousand bushels. There was no reported mass potato production in 1963. Our farmers produce 76 to 125 thousand tons of hay a year. Our dairy products are valued at between 3,179 and 5,390 thousands of dollars.

WE HAVE less than 20 per cent of our land in forest. United Airlines and North Central Airlines have routes over Clinton County. The Grand Trunk, C & C, and New York Central have railroads running through the county. There are two petroleum pipe lines through the county and six natural gas pipelines.

We produced between a half-million and a million tons of sand and gravel in 1962. There's a peat pit located on the east side of the county. Ten million or more dollars was added to the value of the county by manufacturing in 1958. There are three meat-packing plants listed in the county. There's one chemical plant.

CLINTON has a population density of between 50 and 174 persons per square mile. Population in the county rose somewhere between 15 and 30 per cent between 1950 and 1960. We had a per capita income of between $1,391 and $1,660 in 1959.

The Grand River Indian trail passes through Clinton County.

I HOPE you don't ask for exact figures and locations, because with most of it I won't know. But it has been interesting just finding out about our county in general.

Last Laugh for Taxpayers

(From The Lapeer County Press)

With $15,000 of Federal aid, Lapeer County will have a fallout-proof Civil Defense shelter in the basement of the jail. There'll be room for all the county officials and the State and Federal men who work around here.

No doubt it's a good idea. For a reasonable investment, we are providing a small amount of protection so that our government may carry on.

BUT PICTURE THE officials climbing out of the basement, after the air clears, to face a scorched earth, barren of even one eeny little taxpayer.

Can you think of a more fitting irony as a curtain closer on this tired, old earth? The taxpayers may not have the last breath but at least they can look forward to the last laugh.

Bogged down in gobbledygook

LANGUAGE HAS always been an interesting study to me . . . and I suppose this is true with most people in a business like ours which constantly deals with words and their use.

I don't pretend to any excellence in the matter of language and grammar. In fact, unless I comb this column a couple of times after it's written each week I find glaring errors on casual observation after it's in print.

I admit these personal weaknesses but, in so doing, I feel free to take a whack at the gobbledygook that quite apparently is regarded as good language by business people, educators, government officials and others.

GOBBLEDYGOOK is the art of saying obscurely in long words what is best said simply in a short one. Business executives don't start anything; they "initiate action." They don't feel the market's pulse; they "trend" it. They don't complete plans; they "finalize" them.

To the social worker, people in a slum aren't poor; they're "disadvantaged."

The Army doesn't buy showers for the use of workers who spill rocket fuel on themselves; it buys "rocket propellant personnel neutralizers." A four star general isn't gloomy about matters, like the rest of us; he has a "low confidence factor."

FOR TOP DRAWER, Grade A, superbly incomprehensible prose, however, the educators remain unchallenged. James A. LeSure has gathered some of the foggier gems into a book entitled "Guide to Pedagogue."

He offers this example: Child X, who is "producing minimally for his peer group," is an "underachiever." His "grade achievement under the multiple track plan reflects his predisposition to those factors frequently associated with late bloomers lacking the developmental key of meaningful motivation and without the felt need to effectuate the tasks involving the learning process."

Roughly translated from the pedagogue, this means that Child X is doing rather poorly compared with others in his age group. It isn't that he's stupid; apparently he just isn't interested in learning.

It occurs to me, as it may to you, that the trouble could be with his teacher who speaks pedagogue.

THERE IS ANOTHER extreme so far as language is concerned and it can be observed just now in a government publication about the great outdoors issued through the US Public Health Service. This 134-page booklet is designed to set you straight on your plans for outdoor recreational sites.

It is filled with nuggets of information and advice.

Here is one: If you lay out a camp site, you should provide a drinking fountain, taking care that "the height of the fountain at drinking level . . . be such as to be most convenient to persons utilizing the fountain."

Here is another: If your recreational area has a bath house intended for use by both men and women, it "should be divided into two parts by a tight partition."

THESE PROFOUND observations, however, are overshadowed by the booklet's comments on wild life. They're enough to scare the dickens out of a city feller and keep him from spending his dough on trips to our north country.

"Insects crawling into the ears of outdoorsmen," the book says, "sometimes create painful conditions that require surgical procedures for removal."

Moreover, "visitors are sometimes bitten or attacked by large animals such as bears, or snakes." Or if not by them, by mosquitoes which "may cause so much discomfort in some recreation areas that these areas are not used."

FRANKLY, I WON'T pass an opinion on which is worse—the gobbledygook described earlier, or the inanities of the recreation area booklet.

All I know is that neither makes much of a lasting contribution to our knowledge and somebody's wasting a lot of our time and money.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

State education board facing first big challenge

BY ELMER E. WHITE Michigan Press Ass'n.

An important challenge to the authority of the new State Board of Education has come early in the unit's existence.

A number of important decisions awaited the formal organization of the eight-man unit.

APPARENTLY leaning toward the recommendations of several studies that Michigan's future expansion in higher education should be in the form of new, autonomous colleges, the board said the U of M should meet its present commitments at Flint, but initiate no more.

Behind this decision and the forthcoming results of it lies the question of whether the board will really be an effective unit as created by the Constitution.

The Constitution gives this board power to serve as the "general planning and coordinating body for all public education, including higher education . . . but sets some limitation on this power.

POWER TO advise the legislature "as to the financial requirements" in connection with higher education is given to the board.

In the one-paragraph section creating the unit, however, the Constitution exempts higher education institutions from the board's control of "leadership and general supervision" over public education.

Another portion of the document gives the various boards of the separate colleges and universities "The power . . . to supervise their respective institutions and control and direct the expenditure of the institutions' funds."

INFLUENCE on legislative budgeting then appears to be one of the only areas in which the state board might be effective in getting its decisions followed where higher education is concerned.

As one observer of the Flint situation noted, cooperation among the state colleges will usually be weak where the interests of one is at stake.

The Michigan-Flint decision by the board will be closely watched by officials of other institutions facing similar policy questions in board consideration.

THE SEARCH is on for a successor to State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

His retirement this summer is of his own doing. It was he who set 56 as the mandatory retirement age for state police officers.

A SUCCESSOR for the soft-spoken, calm-appearing Childs apparently will be somewhat unique among state departments in the past few years.

Gov. George Romney has indicated he will rely on the battery of top-ranking officers now in the department to replace Childs.

With responsibilities in fire prevention, civil defense, and civil and criminal processes as well as the all-important traffic law enforcement, the department is an important one to have an experienced, well-qualified man at its top.

AGREEMENT between the chiefs of the two major political parties in Michigan is rare at best. On one important question, however, they recently expressed basically a single idea although the conclusion was based on different reasoning.

Republican State Chairman Mrs Elly Peterson and Democratic chief Zolton A. Ferency both feel that Gov. George Romney should seek a third term in Lansing next year rather than run for the US Senate as has been mentioned a possibility.

The governor's chair would be a more logical position from which to seek higher, national office in 1968. As a junior senator, Romney would be just one of many novices who might have higher goals.

DIFFERENCE between reasoning by Ferency and Mrs Peterson comes in their views on whether the governor's chair should be a stepping stone for Romney or simply a place to be.

Ferency contends Romney, soon to be 58, started his political life too late to be realistic about presidential aspirations. Mrs Peterson says the governor has been successful in many fields and therefore has the qualities necessary for the nation's top officer.

Long before Paw or the kids reached the kitchen door they started whistling. They could smell the delicious aroma way out in the yard, they said. They came in with smiles wide on their faces.

IT WAS fresh strawberry jam and homemade bread waiting out to them . . . a perfect combination, it seems, to make one's family love mom. (That's a military secret of mine that I don't mind sharing with you . . .)

The reason for switching seasons on the family and coming up with fresh jam at this time of the year is double-purposed. We were so rushed last summer to make all of it and jam tastes better made now when there is nothing on the landscape that looks "edible." It's pure refreshing to smell jam . . . sort of a bit of June in the air!

THE STRAWBERRIES were frozen in gallon jars in the freezer. Blessed freezer! How we'd hate to part with it! It makes homemaking more interesting. At the drop of a hat a menu can be brought forth to make a banquet. Notice it is menu . . . NOT meal. It takes longer planning for that, many of us have had to learn. Hot biscuits and maple syrup--fine meal topping

HAYDEN PEARSON

It may be that in future years man will live on scientifically concocted pills and nutritious canned liquid. It will, of course, make life easier for housewives and provide more meeting time for clubs, societies, associations, PTA's, Cub Scouts and the Tuesday Afternoon Culture Group.

Meanwhile, if women folks can conclude their afternoon bridge sessions in time, we hope more of them will make hot biscuits for supper and serve them for dessert doused with fresh maple syrup. The biscuits must be brown-crusted and fluffy hearted; they must be well soaked with butter or margarine.

GRANDFATHER, who brooked no nonsense from his women folks, wanted biscuits and syrup for supper until rhubarb was ready for pies. He wanted two biscuits opened in a soup plate and plenty of golden-amber syrup poured over them. He ate with a dessert spoon and a daughter and granddaughter had no influence. Grandmother had long ago learned to live with her husband.

We enjoy the magnificent colored food pictures in the magazines with their spectacular creations. Women folks and etiquette authorities proclaim the esthetic necessity of colors and the graciousness of high level living.

BUT AT this season of year, Grandfather, his son, and grandson all agree. It may not be high level, but for dessert on April evenings, biscuits in a soupplate with plenty of Nature's sweetness is a satisfying way to end a meal.

Letters to the Editor

KKK not in good standing: Herbert

BOB WARD SAYS the KKK is at present in good standing. Let's see the facts. First it made headline news in Communist China newspapers.

The Ku Klux Klan is the name of two secret societies. The first was organized in the South directly after the Civil War. The second organization was started on Stone Mountain, Ga., in 1915 by a man named W. J. Simmons, and it had the same aims as the original society—the punishment of lawlessness.

BUT IT ALSO had the added purpose of directing an anti-Jew and anti-Catholic campaign. The movement spread quite rapidly between 1920 and 1926, playing an important part in politics in many elections.

They played upon the intensely superstitious characteristics of the Negro, frightening them with night rides, mysterious language, eerie disguises, (mostly white robes, white skulls and masks), silent parades muffling the hoofs of their horses.

BY THESE and other methods they were able to scare the Negro away from the polls and prevent their taking advantage of the privilege of franchise. They used more drastic measures in retaliating on the scalawags and carpetbaggers and often went so far as to whip and tar and feather the Negro.

The organization did its most effective work in keeping the Negroes away from the polls, but its doom was spelled by a Force Bill of 1871 protecting the franchise right of the Negro, and shortly after its passage the plan dissolved.

IN 1952 FBI investigators brought about the arrest and convictions of a group of former Klan members, who received fines and prison sentences for flogging incidents. Would you still say KKK is in good standing?

Michiganders down south returning home

ANOTHER winter in the South has nearly come to an end. We would appreciate having our paper sent to our home address in Bath, after having received it here for the winter. We do enjoy getting the local paper during the winter, for while we enjoy the lack of snow, ice and freezing winds, we miss the friends, neighbors and relatives in our home community and like to read of their doings.

This has been an especially good winter, weatherwise, with less cold winds and storms than usual. The vegetation has completely recovered from the bad freeze of two years ago, and trees, shrubs and flowers are more beautiful than ever.

WE HAD ONE rather gusty storm in March, which was a bonanza for the beach combers. Every variety of sea life, shells and driftwood, vegetation and even some fish were to be found on the beaches.

We were shocked and distressed by the tornadoes which took the lives and property to our not-too-distant neighbors in Michigan so recently.

Sincerely, MRS ROSCOE WITCHELL Sarasota, Fla.

Allen's constituents favor tax revisions

State Representative Lester J. Allen of Ithaca (88th District) has reported on the results of his questionnaire printed in the Clinton County News March 11.

Over 150 answers were tabulated at last report, with others being received later.

"ABOUT A third of those participating in the poll did not fill in the section relating to Michigan's tax structure and possible solutions," Allen reported. "Those who did indicated a general feeling that personal property assessments should be removed from tax rolls and replaced by a tax on income so that non-property owners pay their fair share toward financing education, government, state services, etc."

Tabulations completed showed these results:

TWENTY-FOUR favored lowering the voting age to 18, but 120 were opposed; 38 felt greyhound dog racing with pari-mutuel betting should be legalized, and 104 were opposed; 41 approved and 102 disapproved of legalizing lottery sweepstakes for revenue purposes.

Forty believed fox bounties should be abolished; 86 did not. There were favorable opinions on these proposed changes: requiring annual motor vehicle safety inspections, 92-48; raising minimum age for getting drivers licenses from 16 to 17 years, 89-48; automatic consent to undergo blood tests if suspected of driving while drunk, 115-27; property tax relief for senior citizens over 65, 84-43; and revision now of Michigan's tax structure, 97-22.

OF THOSE WHO answered yes to the tax revision question, there were the following answers to sub-questions about what was wanted in a tax reform program: personal and real property tax reduction, 88 yes, 14 no; flat rate personal income tax, 21 yes, 45 no; graduated personal income tax, 49 yes, 24 no; sales tax increase, 17 yes, 78 no; and sales tax reduction or exemptions, 51 yes, 46 no.

Of those answering no to tax reform, 27 favored reduction or elimination of certain state services.

COMMENTS received along with the questionnaire included these: "Welfare recipients should be compelled to work if able to do so." "Social aid and welfare agencies should adopt more liberal programs by which birth control and family planning information and guidance can be initiated for the benefit of underprivileged and needy families."

"Favor taking traffic violations by minors out of juvenile court." "Prefer increase in sales tax to any type of income tax." "Sales tax is the fairest tax we have today. Included on food, everybody has to help a little, which is as it should be." "Eliminate duplication of county and state police departments." "Believe in legalized betting so the state can benefit instead of the underworld."

Silage corn yields increased by 5 tons per acre with Atrazine.

Growing clean silage corn with Atrazine gave an average yield boost of five tons per acre. This average is based on 258 yield comparisons between Atrazine-treated fields and untreated fields in the same areas.

Why the yield increase? One spray of Atrazine at planting controls most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses for the entire season. So corn does not have to compete against weeds for moisture and soil nutrients. The result is a higher yield. And the 258 yield checks show an average yield increase of five tons per acre.

Make sense to use Atrazine in your silage corn? You bet it does.

Farm pond versatile farm aid

A pond built on a farm can be the source of good fishing. Most farm ponds that have been constructed in Clinton Soil Conservation District have been stocked with rainbow trout, providing recreation for the farmer's family and their guests.

In addition to the fishing fun, farm ponds result in a reduction of sediment in the streams below the pond. These ponds assist in recharging the ground water. The rain-water stored behind a dam assists in flood prevention in the stream below the dam.

THESE AREAS of water improve wildlife habitat with resulting increase in wildlife population.

The following land-owners have constructed dam type ponds:

R. G. Hyde (now leased to Sleepy Hollow Conservation Club); James Glass, David Swanson and Edward Ryan. These ponds represent a total water area of 11 acres and control the water from 78 acres of watershed. Our muddy rivers tell us more land owners could join the dam pond club.

AN SCS technician, on request, will discuss what is involved with a land-owner such as suitability of the land for a pond, the conservation practices needed, etc. The farmer must determine if he is going to have the pond constructed. SCS does not make this determination.

Floyd Bulock of R-5, St. Johns, was elected president and Joane Kowalk of R-3, St. Johns, was reelected secretary-treasurer of the Clinton County Pleasure Riders at a recent meeting of the group at the home of Jack and Kate Miller in Elsie.

An individual activities chairman was not elected, with the club instead deciding to have each member responsible for one month's activity per year. The summer activities were scheduled as follows:

MAY, RAY and Nancy Thomas of Laingsburg; June, Jack and Kate Miller of Elsie; July, Floyd and Cathy Bulock of St. Johns; August, Don and Leitha Bashore of St. Johns; September, Clyde and Onley Manville of Elsie; and October, Earl and Dorothy Andrus of St. Johns.

The first ride for the club will be held May 16 with Ray and Nancy Thomas at Laingsburg. Anyone who has horses and is interested in joining the club is invited to call Floyd Bulock for information.

IN ADDITION to the election of officers, card games were played and a lunch was served by the Millers at the recent meeting.

Corn silage best bet on top land

On the best corn land, it is usually most profitable to maximize the use of corn silage. On less productive land, it usually pays to produce and feed a combination of corn silage and alfalfa, particularly on dairy farms.

These are the conclusions drawn by C. R. "Ray" Hogle, Michigan State University economist, regarding the efficiency of silage and hay storage systems.

"THE TONNAGE of corn silage harvested in Michigan has more than doubled in the past 10 years," he says. "And studies have showed us that concrete silos are the most economical for storing this silage when silos are filled no more than 1.5 times a year and when storage losses are no more than 5 per cent lower for gas-tight silos."

The MSU agricultural economist also points out that concrete silos can be more efficient for storing haylage alone or a combination of corn silage and haylage—but only under certain conditions. Gas-tight silos can become more efficient if the farmer fills them at least one-half times more per year... and if nutrient losses are 10 per cent higher in concrete silos.

HOGLE NOTES that substituting haylage for hay becomes profitable when dairy herds number 40 or more cows and when 10 to 12 per cent more feed nutrients can be preserved as haylage.

"Investments to store 200 tons of hay as haylage are increased by $14 per ton," he says. "But, because of reduced nutrient losses, annual costs are reduced by $2 a ton when haylage is stored in concrete silos."

The average cost of the short-term general hospital for each day a patient spends in the hospital is $38.91. For that sum, the hospital provides the complete treatment, bed, food, and nursing service around-the-clock.

"AS SIZE OF beef feeding or dairy operations are increased, harvest and storage costs per ton are reduced for both corn silage and haylage," concludes Hogle. "Annual costs of storing one ton of silage are reduced from $1.75 per ton for 300 tons to $1.30 when 700 tons are stored."

"Perfect" government dairy program called impossible

There's little point in searching for the perfect government dairy program, since there is no such program, according to a University of Wisconsin agricultural economist.

Truman Graf says a hypothetically perfect program in dairying would lower government costs, lower food prices, bring higher farm incomes, increase sales, and reduce excess production without production control. Graf feels simultaneous achievement of all these objectives is impossible.

INSTEAD, HE says, it would be better for the dairy industry to unite on one or a combination of dairy programs, which have the capacity to increase farm income by reducing excess milk capacity, and which would not be opposed by the majority of producers. However, it must be recognized that any workable dairy program will hurt some producers or industry groups, so complete agreement on desirable dairy legislation is impossible.

Graf feels the current government program supporting milk at 75 per cent of parity with unlimited production is in danger because of its cost, although it will be continued for at least another year. In 1964 the federal government spent in excess of $450 million on dairy price support and related programs. The average has been $475 million annually for the past five years.

THERE IS intense pressure to hold governmental expenditures in line, and therefore attempts to cut government costs in the dairy program will be an important factor in the future. As a result Graf feels it is important to examine the feasibility of alternative government dairy programs.

THERE IS intense pressure to hold governmental expenditures in line, and therefore attempts to cut government costs in the dairy program will be an important factor in the future. As a result Graf feels it is important to examine the feasibility of alternative government dairy programs.

Graf has analyzed a series of proposals for alternative dairy price and income programs including (1) Class I base program in Federal Milk Order Markets, (2) voluntary supply adjustment, (3) federal milk order for manufacturing milk, (4) direct payment butterfat subsidy, (5) decreased support price for butter with increased support price for non-fat dry milk, and (6) mandatory national supply management.

GRAF says of the dairy programs currently being discussed, either a Class I base plan, or a composite Class I base plan and voluntary supply adjustment program come closest to having the combination of provisions that have a chance to be most effective. This assumes they are operated to encourage adjustment to production to commercial demand, without restricting the movement of milk or the mobility of producers.

The Federal Order Class I base programs would discourage surplus production in Federal Milk Order markets. The focus is therefore on about half of the total milk supply which is regulated by Federal Orders.

THE PLAN would tend to slow the expansion of milk supplies in markets where adopted but would not bring as great a drop in the national supply as under other proposals. Neither would it substantially affect government costs or national dairy farm income.

Nevertheless, Graf says it is a valuable proposal since it would discourage further increases in surpluses in particular order markets at no added cost to the government. The major argument against the plan has come from manufacturing producers who fear the plan could be used to restrict entry of producers into markets that have adopted it.

VOLUNTARY milk supply adjustment programs are based on the theory that it is better for the government to make payments of $1 to $2 per hundredweight to discourage production of milk than to spend $4 to buy and handle surplus milk. Graf says government costs of getting farmer participation would likely offset much of the savings in buying products. However, current problems of storage and disposition could be reduced.

Neither producers nor Congress have thus far demonstrated any great degree of enthusiasm for these voluntary adjustment programs because of low income benefits to farmers if government costs are to be kept low.

HOWEVER, if the present program were removed or curtailed, because of budgetary considerations, indications are that a significant number of dairy farmers would accept voluntary control programs with payments, provided that they were free to choose the option of reducing or not reducing production.

A Federal Milk Order for manufacturing milk would apply the classified pricing system to manufacturing milk. Manufacturing milk used commercially would be priced at one level, and milk used for products eligible for sale to the government as surplus would be priced at a lower level. Higher commercial prices for manufactured products and hence higher producer incomes could be achieved at no added cost to the government.

HOWEVER, Graf doubts these increased incomes could be long maintained without production quotas and tighter import quotas. Production quotas would undoubtedly encounter strong opposition from producers. Tighter import quotas would receive opposition from foreign countries and the US State Department.

Unless producers were willing to accept quotas, increased production and marketings by present dairy farmers and shifts into dairying by non-dairy men would likely dissipate the initial advantages of the manufacturing milk federal order plan. Dairy producers have thus far shown little interest in mandatory production quotas, so programs involving them would probably be very difficult to enact at this time.

THE BUTTERFAT subsidy program would provide for direct payments by the government to farmers, and therefore would permit a reduction in the prices of dairy products. This would increase commercial sales of milk fat significantly and therein cut government purchases of dairy products. However, because of an elastic demand for butter and other dairy products, Graf feels the subsidy to maintain producer incomes would more than offset savings in cost or acquiring products.

Consumers who buy butter would benefit because of lower retail product prices. Higher government costs would be covered by taxes against all consumers. Thus the net tax cut to all consumers and the net total cost to some consumers would increase under this program. Opposition on this basis could be expected.

LOWER SUPPORT prices for butter with increased support prices for nonfat dry milk would enable butter to compete better with margarine. However, government costs could increase dramatically under this type of plan, because the reduction in government support costs on butter would be more than offset by increased costs on skim milk powder.

For example, if butter prices were cut 34 cents per pound, estimated costs to the government would increase $400 million a year. This increased cost coupled with the concerted drive to reduce government costs, probably means this program has little chance for enactment at the present time, according to Graf.

ALTHOUGH the mandatory milk supply management program offers the most effective means of increasing incomes to dairy farmers, Graf feels it is not a feasible alternative program at this time because of dairy producers' objections to mandatory production controls.

This program would control the amount of milk a farmer could market and it would tend to freeze existing patterns of resources on dairy farms. The increase in dairy producers gross income is predicted at about 1 per cent and Graf says this is probably not enough to encourage support by producers. Dairy farmers have generally indicated they would not accept mandatory milk supply controls, at least as long as the present dairy price support program exists.

REGARDLESS of which program is finally adopted, the Wisconsin economist maintains that the dairy industry will still need some kind of governmental program. Complete elimination of the dairy support-purchase program now in effect would cut gross dairy farm income $760 million the first year. This is almost twice what it costs the government to maintain the present program, and equivalent to two-thirds the net income dairy farmers would receive if the current program continues.

He says since the level of government costs will undoubtedly be a major factor in deciding on dairy legislation, it is imperative that only costs associated with agricultural support be charged to the agricultural side of the programs, and that costs associated with purchase of dairy products for welfare and foreign aid programs be identified with those programs.

Says jobs, people must match

By GEORGE McQUEEN
County Extension Agent

It costs all of us money when jobs and people don't match—when there are not enough trained people to fill available jobs or when people lose jobs because automation has made their know-how obsolete.

If human beings do not adapt to the changing job market and the changing tastes of the American public, they lose. We all lose.

WE LOSE through:

1) Higher costs we must pay for goods and services.

New technology may mean an older worker must learn new tricks if he's to be useful on the job. Or, changes in industry may mean a worker must move to another part of the country. If workers do not make these changes, everybody loses, because industry cannot produce as cheaply and efficiently as it might. And consumers must pay more.

2) INCREASED costs of social welfare programs.

Lack of education and training results in unemployment. Unemployment results in higher welfare costs. And this cost comes out of the pocketbooks of all of us. It's in everyone's interest that the uneducated become educated, that the untrained receive training.

"Society's investment in education and training reduces welfare costs and permits people to have a more satisfying life and to make a greater contribution to economic growth." So says Fred A. Mangum Jr., North Carolina economist and author of a study leaflet being used in the statewide discussion series, "Developing Human Resources."

MANGUM PREDICTS that if federal welfare spending continues to increase at its present rate, it could be the most expensive item in our federal budget—except for defense spending—by 1980.

Loss of productive resources that are unemployed or underemployed workers represent. Idle labor can make little contribution to the economic growth of our country.

Tourist horizon broader this week

Tourist and sporting activity picks up this next week around the state. These are some of the scheduled events listed by the Michigan Tourist Council:

Walled Lake Art Exhibit through Saturday at Walled Lake; National Trout Festival at Kalkaska Friday through Sunday; Maple Syrup Festival at Verontville Saturday; opening of trout and walleye pike fishing seasons on inland waters Saturday; Shiawassee River Canoe Race from Holly to Fenton Sunday; and Science Fair at Kalamazoo next Monday through Thursday.

Dow Anhydrous Ammonia: Lowest cost form of nitrogen in the field.

The reason is, anhydrous ammonia gives you far more nitrogen per pound than any other nitrogen fertilizer. Which means it takes far less Dow ANHYDROUS AMMONIA to do the job than it does with any other form of nitrogen fertilizer. If you're planting corn on corn, it will take 150 to 200 pounds of nitrogen per acre to decay the old stalks and still have the nitrogen you need for high yields. Supply this nitrogen with Dow ANHYDROUS AMMONIA and you may save $6 to $8 an acre. And boost crop yield quality and feed grain protein content while you do it. It's so long-lasting one application is all you need. See us today for details. And save some money for a change.

Notice of Adoption of Plat Ordinances in 12 Clinton County Townships

To the Residents and Property Owners of the Clinton County Townships listed below and to all other interested persons:

An Ordinance to regulate the subdivision and platting of lands within the Townships listed below to provide minimum standards therefor, to provide penalties for the violation thereof, and to repeal all Ordinances or parts of Ordinances in conflict therewith.

The Township Boards of the Townships listed below, Clinton County, Michigan, ordain:

1. NAME: This Ordinance shall be known and cited as the Township Plat Ordinance.

2. REGULATIONS:

(a) Whenever any land in these Townships is desired to be platted into lots and the plat thereof recorded, the proprietor of such plat shall, before making final plans therefor, file a preliminary proposed plat with the Township Board for recommendations and preliminary approval by the Township Board. Such preliminary proposed plat shall contain the name and address of the proprietor, the general location of streets and size of lots and streets within the plat, and the type of street construction and drainage structures to be constructed in the plat and plans for development of adjacent area. Preliminary proposed plat to be accompanied by a topographical map with contour lines shown.

(b) The proprietor of any land within these Townships desiring to have a plat of the same given final approval by the Township Board, shall deliver to the Clerk of the Township five (5) true copies of the plat conforming with "The Plat Act of Nineteen Hundred Twenty-nine," as amended, of the State of Michigan (hereinafter referred to as the "Plat Act"), and with the requirements of this Ordinance together with the sum of $200.00 as a fee for the inspection and examination of the lands and plat by the Township Board. Also a traverse computation sheet shall be submitted with the plat. After a plat has been approved by the Township Board, said plat shall be presented at least 5 days prior to the regular meeting of the Clinton County Road Commission for their approval or rejection.

(c) In the event a proposed plat submitted to the Township Board is rejected by the Township Board because of an error in survey of greater than one (1) foot in three thousand (3,000) feet, or because of failure of compliance with the "Plat Act" or this Ordinance in other respects, the platter shall pay to the Township such additional sum as is necessary to cover the reasonable additional expense incurred by the Township in such inspection and examination.

(d) No lot within a plat or subdivision of within these Townships presented for the approval of the Township Board from and after the effective date of this ordinance, shall be less than the following dimensions:

(1) If rectangular in shape, not less than 100 feet in width along the street line and rear line and 150 feet in depth along the interior side line and along the other side of a corner lot.

(2) If said lot is irregular in shape with straight or angular sides rather than curved sides, it shall be not less than one hundred (100) feet in width at a distance of forty (40) feet from the front lot line or street line and contain not less than fifteen thousand (15,000) square feet of overall area. Except in the case of lots which diminish in width from the street or lot line to rear, the said lots shall not be less than one hundred (100) feet in width—fifty (50) feet from the street line or lot line, and shall contain not less than fifteen thousand (15,000) square feet overall.

If said lot is of a shape other than heretofore set forth, the minimum front or street line shall be in the discretion of the township board, provided it approximates the minimum size for rectangular or irregular lots and contains fifteen thousand (15,000) square feet of overall area.

(3) The results of a standard percolation test should be made at the center of each lot by a registered engineer or a professional engineer. The percolation test shall show a drop of at least six inches per hour. In the event such test shows a drop of less than six inches per hour, the lot size shall be increased 2,000 square feet for each inch of drop less than six inches per hour. No permit shall be issued unless the foregoing requirements are complied with, and no permit shall be issued regardless of lot size if the percolation test shows a drop of less than one inch per hour.

(e) No lot of a plat approved by the Township Board from and after the effective date of this Ordinance, and no lot complying with the provisions of this Ordinance on such effective date, shall be further subdivided in violation of the Plat Act or the provisions of this Ordinance. This provision shall not, however, prevent the enlargement of building sites by the addition thereto of fractions of contiguous platted lots. No building shall be done on any lot until said Plat has been approved and recorded with the Register of Deeds.

(f) Before approving a proposed plat, the Township Board shall be satisfied that the lands are suitable for platting, that the streets and private roads are properly gravelled and drained or adequate security has been provided for such improvements and that the highways, streets, and alleys conform to the general plan of development adopted by the Township Board for the width and location of highways, streets, and alleys in the Township.

(g) No plat shall be given final approval by the Township Board until working drawings have been submitted to the Board, showing grades, drainage structures and road construction plans for roads within and adjoining the said plat, and the same are found by the Board to conform with the minimum requirements of the Township Plat Ordinance and with the requirements of the Clinton County Road Commission. All grades shall not exceed a 5 per cent grade. Ditch grade shall not be less than 0.2 per cent grade except upon special approval of the Township Board upon recommendation of the Township Engineer and/or the Clinton County Road Commission. All grades in excess of 4 per cent shall require installation of curb and gutter. All road ditches that exceed 2 per cent shall be sodded.

(h) All road rights-of-way within plats hereafter recorded shall be at least 66 feet wide, with the improved portion thereof constructed with at least a bituminous surface approved by and constructed to the minimum specifications of the Clinton County Road Commission in force and effect on the date of the adoption of this Ordinance.

(i) All surface waters shall be adequately drained within each plat by a separate system of drainage structures or through the connection of such separate system to an adjoining system.

(j) No plans for proposed subdivision drainage will be accepted by the Clinton County Drain Commissioner unless an adequate outlet is provided.

Drain easements shall be a minimum of 30 feet (15 feet either side of centerline) for construction and maintenance of drainage.

All subdivision drains shall be located inside the street boundaries and shall be placed on the East and North side of streets. The Drain Commissioner shall be furnished a complete set of plans for the proposed drainage construction. The plans shall include a map of the entire drainage area showing the boundaries and total number of acres inside the boundaries. A plan showing the location of the drain, location of manholes and catchbasins and other pertinent information, including the profile of the drain and per cent of grade, hub, grade elevations and cut per 100 foot station. Semi-permanent Bench-Marks shall be established at various locations, witnessed and noted.

All construction shall be under the supervision of a competent engineer and shall be so constructed to the accepted engineering standards as to shaping the bottom, tamping, backfilling, etc. Placing of backfill material shall be subject to Clinton County Highway Commission requirements.

All drains shall be designed to carry a runoff of not less than 4 acres inches per 24 hour from the proposed development and 1 1/2 inches per 24 hour from the entire drainage area. No tile smaller than 8-inch diameter shall be used.

The tile drain shall be designed as A.S.T.M. Strength specifications. Tile crossing roadways shall be of a strength of C-200 if Vitrified or Tongue and groove reinforced if Concrete. All tile joints shall be tightly sealed. The drains shall be designed for a depth of which will permit adequate footing and basement drainage for all dwellings. Manholes shall be constructed at all street intersections, entrance of branch drains, angles in drains, change in size of tile, change of grade and located not more than 300 lin. feet apart. Manholes shall be precast, circular cement block or brick construction and plastered inside and out and shall be a minimum inside diameter of 48 inches. Cast iron rings and covers shall be placed on all manholes. Manholes on hard surfaced streets shall be brought up to the finished grade of street.

Catchbasins shall be located at all intersections of streets and other locations as required to admit surface runoff. Catchbasins shall be of precast, circular cement block or brick construction or other suitable material equal to M.S.H.D. specifications, and shall be plastered inside and out and have a minimum sump of 1.0 ft.

The platter may enter into an agreement with the Drain Commissioner for the construction of such storm water improvements within a reasonable time and post a surety bond for the faithful performance of the agreement. In its certificate of approval, if granted, the governing body shall specify that the plat as approved complies with the provisions of Section No. 560.19A, P.A. 1961.

(j) Permanent dead-end streets shall be prohibited except upon prior approval of the Township Board and the Clinton County Road Commission, to be granted only where the topography of the area, rivers, streams, other natural conditions or the prior development of the area prevents a through street from being constructed. Permanent dead-end streets shall be provided at the closed end with a turn-around having an outside improved diameter of at least 80 feet and a street property line diameter of at least 132 feet. Temporary dead-end streets shall be provided at the closed end with a turn-around constructed to the full width of the right-of-way and in accordance with County road specifications. Plats shall be developed to provide for the continuation of existing major thoroughfares in adjoining areas and for the projection of the same into other undeveloped areas adjoining said plat. Such provisions may be made through out-lots within recorded plats over which rights-of-way are granted to the County of Clinton. The continuation or projection of existing and proposed streets and the determination of what streets are major thoroughfares, however, shall be in absolute discretion of the Township Board and the Clinton County Road Commission. All outlots in a Plat shall be dedicated for what purpose (recreation roads, etc.)

(k) No plat shall be finally approved by the Township Board until the roads and drainage structures within and contiguous to the same have been constructed in accordance with this Ordinance, or in lieu thereof, a copy of a certified check or escrow agreement in the amount of at least 150 per cent of the cost of the unconstructed balance of the total proposed construction of the improved road has been filed with the Township in favor of the Clinton County Road Commission, conditioned upon the construction of said roads and drainage structures in accordance with the Ordinance and with the requirements of the Clinton County Road Commission.

(l) The within Ordinance shall apply to all plats hereafter recorded unless special permission is granted by both the Township Board and the County Road Commission to deviate from the terms thereof, to be granted only in hardship cases or where roads have been substantially completed at the time of the adoption of this Ordinance in accordance with a pre-determined plan of road improvement, acceptable to the Clinton County Road Commission.

(m) Nothing herein contained shall be construed to eliminate any additional requirements of the Clinton County Road Commission or Clinton County Drain Commissioner for road construction or drainage structures nor any such additional requirements imposed by the statutes of the State of Michigan.

3. PENALTIES FOR VIOLATIONS

Any person, firm or corporation who violates any of the provisions of this Ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $100.00, or by imprisonment in the County jail not to exceed 90 days, or by both fine and imprisonment. In addition to the imposition of the foregoing penalties, the Township may proceed at law or equity with such other additional remedies as the Township Board may deem appropriate and in accordance with the law and statute provided.

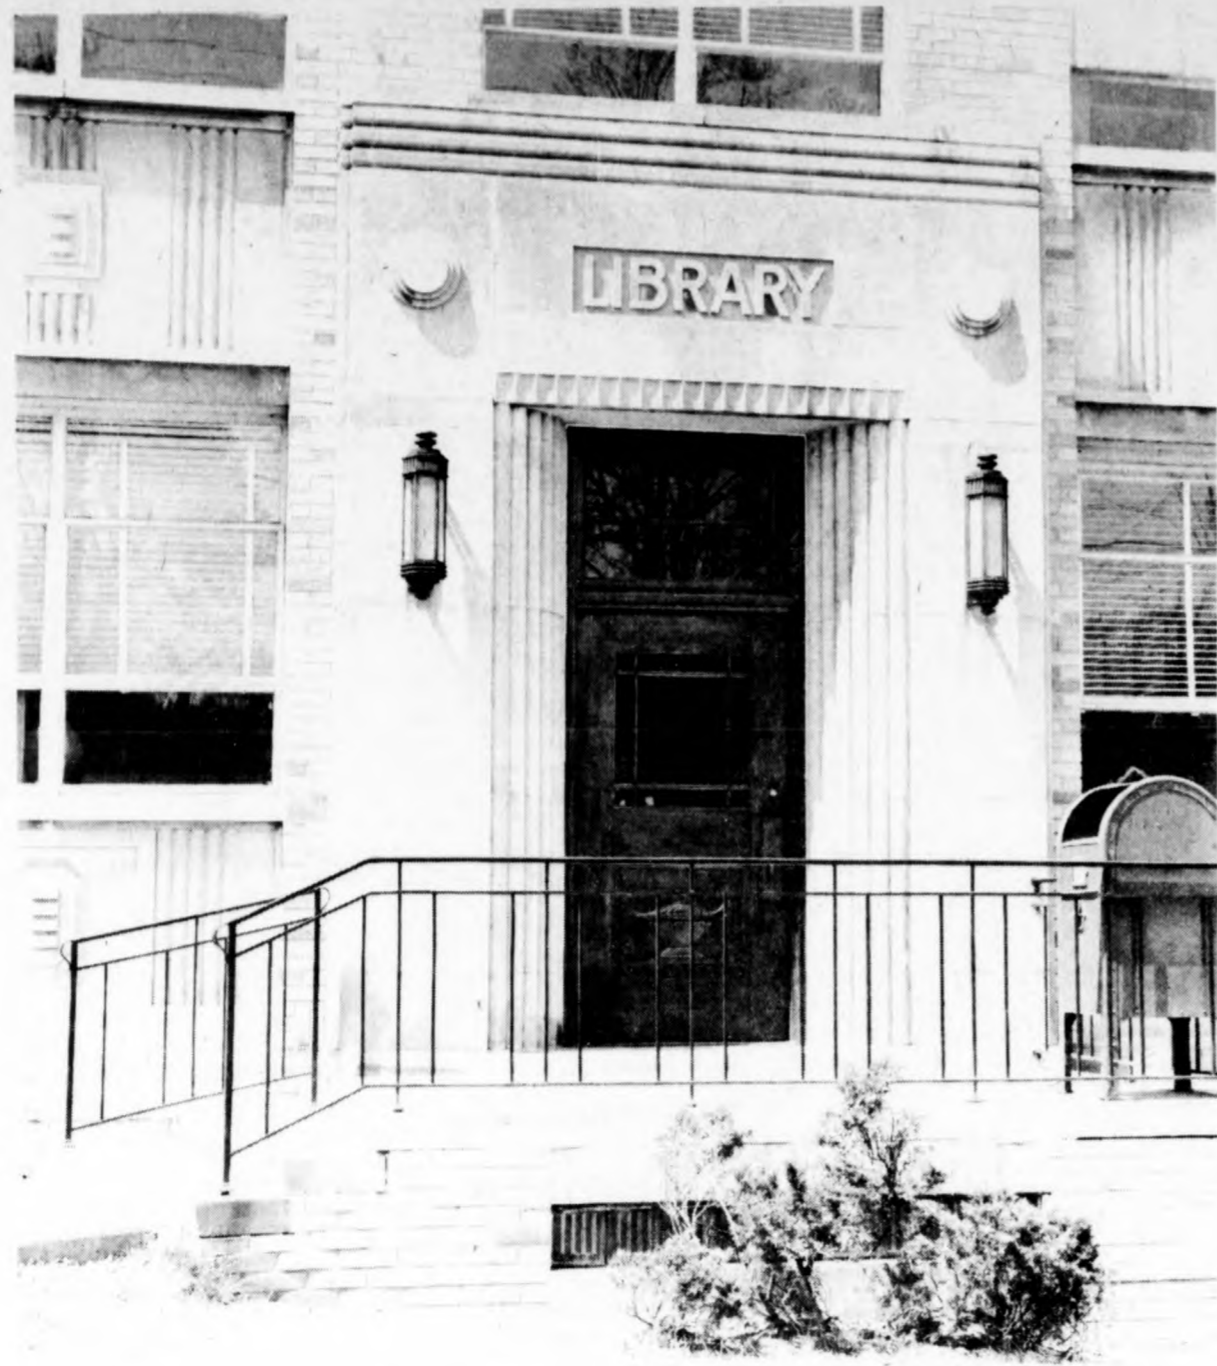

4. VALIDITY

Should any section, clause or provision of this Ordinance declared by the courts to be invalid, the same shall not affect the validity of the Ordinance as a whole or any part thereof, other than the part so declared to be invalid.

5. EFFECTIVE DATE

This Ordinance shall take effect in each of the Townships listed below on the 24th day of May, 1965. All Ordinances or part of Ordinances in conflict with any of the provisions of this Ordinance are hereby repealed.

Eternity... Saved or Lost?

"I just don't know. I hope I am all right." This answer is often given by individuals approached about salvation. Yet, your relationship to God is so important it should not be left to "hope so." You can know the reality of salvation. Though sin separates from God, Jesus has said, "... Him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out (John 6:37). All have sinned but there is no problem too difficult for God. The Bible says, "... Though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow..." (Isaiah 1:18). Sin is a load to the mind as well as to the heart. Many individuals suffer depression and guilt, and some even seek the help of physicians when only God can "cure" a sin-sick soul. The Bible says, "If we confess our sins, He (Jesus) is faithful... to forgive us..." (1 John 1:9).

Maybe you have gone deep into sin—or you may not have considered your soul's future. You make provision for living, for comfort, and for convenience, but these things will pass away. The soul will live on in eternity—in heaven or hell. How much more important to plan for the future life.

Write for additional information on how you can know your sins are forgiven.
