Lovely Miss Gail Auten, 16, a junior at St. Johns High School was crowned "Miss St. Johns" Monday night at the Mayor Exchange Banquet.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Auten of R-4, St. Johns.

The excitement leading up to the announcement of the winner caused the queen to burst into tears when visiting Mayor Ward Hillman of Deckerville opened a sealed envelope and read her name.

MAYOR HILLMAN then placed a sparkling tiara on the head of the queen and planted a kiss on her cheek. Her mother pinned a white sash with the words "Miss St. Johns" to the queen's dress.

The queen was chosen last Wednesday night by a team of three out-of-town judges, but her name was not released until Monday night. All seven finalists were at the banquet with their parents.

The other girls were Sue Allan, 17; Jane Leslie Morriss, 16; Jean Valyer, 16; Mary Ann Petrick, 16; Shirley Louise Daman, 16; and Rebecca Ann Bradley, 16.

MRS. BETTY Jane Minsky, Chamber of Commerce secretary-manager, presided over the queen-naming ceremony, one of the features of the Mayor Exchange Banquet Monday night. She said the girls sold $450 worth of Chamber of Commerce booster buttons in 10 days preceding the judging dinner with the judges last Wednesday.

Those proceeds will go toward meeting the expenses of the queen as she represents St. Johns and the Chamber of Commerce at various area and state functions during the coming year.

MISS AUTEN, who hopes to become a cosmetologist, has interests in bowling, horseback riding, dancing and sewing.

Soil Stewardship observance planned

"Challenges of Growth" is this year's theme for the annual observance throughout the nation of Soil Stewardship Week, a hitherto rural activity that is going to town.

Special services in churches of varying faiths in this area Sunday, will open the week. Other observances will take place on the following Sunday, May 30.

CHAIRMAN Robert Moore of the Clinton County Soil Conservation District Board explained that this year more than ever the Booklets and other materials for the week's observance are being provided by the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation District, Moore said. The association has the help of an advisory committee of churchmen representing various denominations in developing the materials, he added.

OBSERVANCE of Soil Stewardship Week usually is in the form of sermons of mankind's divine obligation in the use of the soil and its related resources, Moore said. However, visits by pastor groups and members of their congregations to see conservation work are becoming more and more frequent.

(See related article in farm section.)

responsibility of the town and city dweller is being emphasized in the annual observance.

"It is not an idea for farming areas alone," he pointed out. "Our neighbors in town have a great stake in what happens to the land that sustains us, and it is a stake that will grow in importance as our national family grows and producing acreages become less."

MOORE SAID the present abundance in food and fiber is a blessing that we can't expect to last year after year but that conservation use of our resources now can mean a dependable agriculture for generations.

Rural DeWitt man hurt in car crash

Jerry A. Olin of rural DeWitt received chest and leg injuries early last Thursday when his car struck two trees on Francis Road near Clark Road. He was taken to St. Lawrence Hospital in Lansing.

THAT WAS more than enough signatures required by law, and the board has placed the issue on the June 14 ballot. The same issue was turned down when the main $2.6 million bond issue was passed March 2. But the margin of defeat—only 41 votes out of 2,100 cast—was so slim that a petition campaign was started immediately to get it back on the ballot.

Approval of voters this time, which would seem assured if all who signed the petition vote yes, would mean the construction bids for the swimming pool and outdoor recreation facilities could be figured with the main school job.

THE OVID-ELSIE board recently was notified by the state that the $2.6 million bond issue has been approved. The next steps include selling of the bonds, getting bids on construction and then the breaking of ground.

State park gets official 'go' sign

The Sleepy Hollow State Park project, proposed for a Clinton County area southeast of St. Johns, got the green light from the Michigan Conservation Commission last week.

The commission enthusiastically endorsed plans for the 2,700-acre park and 550-acre lake when they met last Thursday.

Their action was in effect a "dedication" of the project so that department personnel can proceed with land acquisition.

The Clinton County Board of Supervisors endorsed the plans at their April 22 meeting, and the resolution by the board was read to the state commission last Thursday. Further endorsement and support for the park was received from James Hall of the East Michigan Tourist Assn.

The Sleepy Hollow State Park would be built in Ovid and Victor Townships southeast of St. Johns and would contain 2,698 acres of land, including the 550-acre lake. An estimated $1 1/2 million would be spent on park facilities, including a dam, new bridge structure for Price Road, and the park equipment.

ACQUISITION of the land involved is expected to cost another $656,000. The park would be bounded on the north by Taft Road, on the west by Shepardsville Road. The southwestern part of the park would stretch south of Price Road. The eastern boundary would be between Upton and Hollister Roads.

The Conservation Department plans to develop a first-class fishing lake for bluegills, largemouth bass, northern pike and possibly muskellunge. This would be done by damming up the Little Maple River after the large impoundment site has been extensively shaped and deepened to insure high quality water.

COMPLETION of the park is expected to take several years.

The lake will be planted with rainbow trout in its first year, however, but will be intensively managed as a warm water lake for the other fish mentioned.

A northern pike spawning marsh is planned as part of the project to maintain reproduction of this choice game fish species.

Bordering the 550-acre lake will be the Sleepy Hollow State Park, featuring a 210-site campground with modern sanitary facilities and electricity, picnic areas, two 800-foot swimming beaches with adjoining parking lots and a beachhouse, and two boat launching sites.

ALSO proposed for the park is a network of winding nature trails and a wildlife preserve. Together, these facilities will serve an estimated 7,000 recreationists at one time.

Price tag on the project is over $2.1 million, including the land acquisition. Money for the developments would come from state appropriations and federal matching funds. No local funds would be used in the construction of the park.

THE CLINTON County park is the first one proposed by the Conservation Department in its 10-year, $10 million plan of parks expansion in southern lower Michigan. A similar recreation area, containing 3,400 acres southwest of Ionia along the Grand River, has also been proposed, and it, too, got the green light from the Conservation Commission last week.

Possible name changes for the two parks projects are being given some thought by two different groups. The Conservation Commission has asked the conservation staff to come up with a more colorful name for the Ionia.

THE OVID Village Council, meanwhile, wants to change the name of the Clinton County project from "Sleepy Hollow" to "Ovid State Park." A resolution to that effect has been sent to the Conservation Department and state legislators who represent Ovid.

The council's reasons for changing the name were several:

— The name "Sleepy Hollow" doesn't pin-point the location for tourists. The name Ovid State Park would definitely locate the park on the map.

— OVID VILLAGE is the nearest incorporated community and would be the logical place for tourist shopping, Ovid merchants contend.

— A large part of the park would be in Ovid Township. The mailing address for most of the park area is R-2, Ovid.

— The name "Ovid" is easier to remember than "Sleepy Hollow," the council felt.

THERE WAS no comment on the suggested change from the Conservation Commission or Department.

In another regional development, the Conservation Commission also approved the purchase of 112 1/2 acres of additional land for the Portland State Game Area. The land, offered by Charles B. Kenyon and Cora L. Kenyon of R-1, Grand Ledge, is situated in Danby Township of Ionia County.

THE TRACT will provide easy access to existing state-owned river frontage and will, under proper game management measures, provide good food and cover for rabbits, squirrels, raccoon, deer and pheasants. The purchase will be financed by federal aid and matching state game monies.

Richards, Beach elected to Clinton hospital board

Trustees of Clinton Memorial Hospital at their annual meeting last week elected two new members to their board of directors.

Chosen for two-year terms on the seven-member board were William Richards Sr., St. Johns dairy manufacturer, and Dr Robert C. Beach, Ovid veterinarian.

DR ROBERT C. BEACH

F. Marzke of St. Johns. He succeeds Paul F. Jopke, St. Johns.

REPRESENTING the hospital's annual financial report, William Barber, a director, disclosed that the institution operated "in the black" for the year ending Dec. 31. Net income, including endowment income, totaled $22,991.04.

The net figure was down about $5,000 from 1963, but did not reflect an approximate $10,000 final payment from endowment income on the hospital's indebtedness for construction of a north wing.

Barber presented the statement on behalf of Judge Corkin, association secretary - treasurer, who was detained in Ithaca because of a circuit court trial in progress.

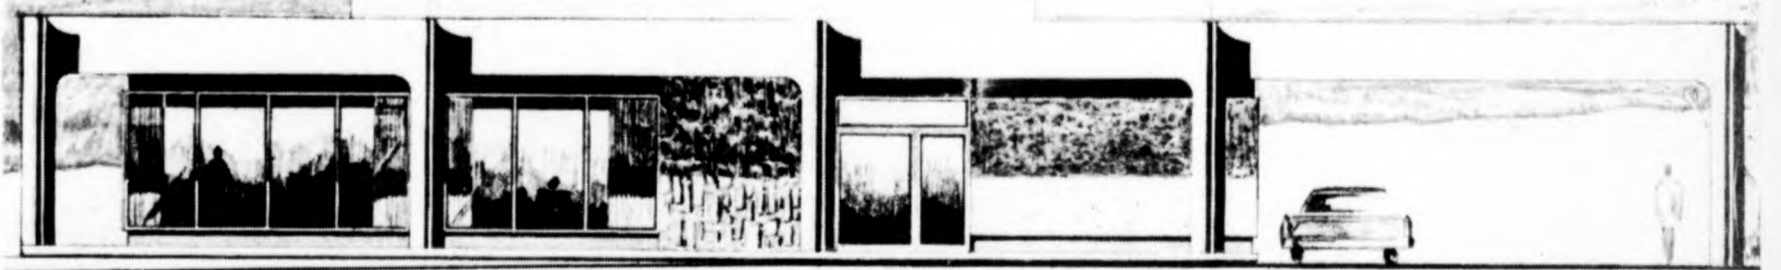

INK WHITE, board chairman, reported that plans are progressing for a proposed east wing of the hospital and for the updating of existing facilities.

WILLIAM RICHARDS SR.

Continuing as members of the hospital's board of directors are William Barber, Roy F. Briggs, Robert A. Conn, Judge Corkin and Ink White, all of St. Johns.

New Bank Building to be Erected at Corner of Walker and Spring Streets

Construction to start on new Central Bank

Central National Bank's new building on the northeast corner of Spring and Walker streets was expected to be started this week with the excavation of earth for the foundation of the structure.

The building of modern architectural style will be a one-story structure, featuring drive-in facilities on the east end of the building, a large interior banking lobby and a basement area that includes a spacious auditorium for public gatherings.

ARCHITECTURAL drawings of the building are on display in the windows of the Central National Bank's Clinton Avenue office.

The building will sit on a podium, with an open colonnade flanking its south, west and east sides. Sculptured, exposed concrete members will surround the building and will extend to the east, framing a roof covering the drive-in banking area.

BEHIND THE colonnade will be large panes of clear insulating glass and porcelain enamel panels in color which contrast the bold white of the pre-cast concrete of the building. The exterior walls at the east end, under the drive-in bank roof, and wrapping around the north and south ends, will be of pre-cast concrete panels with a dark surface.

Entrance to the main floor of the new bank building will be through a glass-enclosed vestibule into a large, central open bank lobby. A raised ceiling, consisting of a "checker-board" pattern of skylights for natural light and recessed fluorescent lights, will be featured.

THIS PART of the bank is designed for general public circulation and the carrying on of normal bank business. Exhibits and items of general interest will also be displayed on occasion.

Surrounding the bank lobby will be private offices with glass walls looking onto the lobby as well as the out-of-doors. In the same manner, a cashier's counter will extend the length of one side of the lobby, and there'll be an officers' area and the bank vault on adjacent sides.

THE BASEMENT area of the new bank building will house a spacious auditorium for general town gatherings, civic meetings, etc., and will command a view of a sunken landscaped court through floor-to-ceiling glass.

Also viewing the sunken court through sliding glass doors will be an employee lunch room with small kitchen. Included also will be a directors' meeting room and other allied facilities for the bank employees and its patrons.

ARCHITECTS for the new Central National Bank Building are Burgess, Stevens and Associates of Chicago. Details of the plans of the bank were released last week by the bank's president, W. J. Buescher, and by Executive Vice President Robert L. Leonard.

Visiting Mayor's Party Greeted at Dickinson Airport

St. Johns hosted Deckerville's President Ward Hillman on Mayor's Exchange Day Monday, and a city delegation was on hand when the Deckerville folks arrived by plane at 10:40 a.m. at Dickinson Airport. Left to right are James McKenzie, Clinton County Chairman of Michigan Week; Mayor Hillman and his wife Joyce; Mrs. Frances Norton and George Norton, a Deckerville councilman; and Commissioner Ray Kentfield Jr., the city's official greeter.

St. Johns, Deckerville people get acquainted

Cordiality, laughter, good times and better understanding were evident Monday during Mayor's Exchange Day as Michigan Week in St. Johns and Clinton County got off to a good start.

President Ward Hillman of Deckerville was in St. Johns, while St. Johns Mayor Jack Smit was visiting the Sanilac County community.

ACCOMPANYING Hillman to St. Johns were his wife, Joyce, and Mr. and Mrs. George Norton. Norton is a Deckerville councilman. They all flew to St. Johns in Hillman's plane, landing at Dickinson Airport southwest of St. Johns about 10:40 a.m. Monday.

After a stop at their motel here to freshen up, the group was shown about the city by Michigan Week Chairman Jim McKenzie, City Manager Ken Greer, Assessor Don Clark, and Commissioner Ray Kentfield, who acted as the official greeter.

THEY TOURED the city building and downtown area during the morning, stopping for a time to look at the industrial displays by St. Johns industries in the Timothy Green Building on Clinton Avenue.

After a noon luncheon at Daley's Restaurant, the women were entertained by Mrs. Greer, while the men took a closer look at St. Johns' water and sewage plants. Deckerville is presently undergoing improvements in their systems, and the workings of the St. Johns plants were of special interest to the Sanilac County visitors.

MRS JESSIE Finch, St. Johns city clerk for 24 years, was honored at the luncheon upon her retirement from the position. Mayor Hillman presented her with a framed certificate of appreciation from the City of St. Johns for her 24 years of service.

Hillman, at age 32, is serving his third year as president of Deckerville, a village of over 800 persons located in Sanilac County in Michigan's "Thumb" and about seven miles west of Lake Huron. Highway M-51 goes through the town. He said he knows of no better way to become interested in a community than to serve as a public official, and he said his time as president has been rewarding.

HILLMAN IS owner and president of Dott Manufacturing Co., Inc., maker of automotive interior decorating fixtures. His plant employs 72 persons.

He and his wife have three boys, Alan, 12, Curtis, 11, and Todd 4.

Hillman painted a wordpicture of Deckerville for the approximately 30 persons at the luncheon and again Monday evening for the 70 persons at the Mayor's Day Banquet at the Clinton County Country Club. He admitted Deckerville was no comparison to St. Johns in population or size of industry, but he said his community was growing and had a lot to be proud of.

BESIDES HILLMAN'S own Dott Manufacturing Co., there are five other industries in the town, employing in all about 400 persons. These include Midwest Rubber Co., Deckerville Die Form, Clements Manufacturing Co., Squire - Dingee (a subsidiary of Beatrice Foods), and DeWar Manufacturing Co.

Deckerville is presently completing a new water system, with hookup to a new well field a mile outside the village anticipated in about six weeks. Hillman said the new system was necessary when the village "ran out of water" last year.

HE SAID THE community had considered getting water from Lake Huron seven miles away, but a more immediate answer was needed; thus the new wells. But he said a joint effort by a number of communities in the "Thumb" may materialize in the form of new pipelines from the lake to serve all the towns. Cost was prohibitive for any one town to take on such a project.

Deckerville has a new sewage system plan, a new $245,000 school gymnasium, "a fine school system," a 12-bed hospital to which a 10-bed addition is presently being made, and "very active" civic organizations. He said an election is forthcoming on a new building to replace an old school structure. All other school buildings there are less than 10 years old.

HILLMAN admitted Deckerville has about exhausted its labor supply, but he pointed out they have a well-rounded economy and are continuing to grow.

Hillman had lots of words of praise for St. Johns, too, and he called the current construction boom here "fabulous." He said Deckerville's improvements were small by comparison, "but whether big or small it all helps."

AT THE MAYOR'S Exchange Banquet Monday evening at the country club Hillman and his wife were presented with a number of gifts from the community and its industries. Michigan Week Chairman McKenzie made the presentations. Hillman expressed his appreciation to the city and its people for the warm welcome he, his wife and the Nortons had received from everyone.

He was also presented with an engraved gavel, marked for the occasion, and a check for 19 cents — his pay for one day's work. Manager Ken Greer, serving as toastmaster, pointed out to the Deckerville visitors that this was the amount Mayor Jack Smit and other St. Johns city commissioners get in the form of pay for their public services.

HILLMAN "EARNED his pay" by giving the audience the word picture of his community and also by crowning Miss Gail Auten as "Miss St. Johns" (see additional story).

Councilman Norton of Deckerville also had a few words for the audience, and he echoed the mayor's invitation for St. Johns people to visit Deckerville when they get an opportunity. Norton is in his 13th year as a village trustee.

The two Deckerville officials said they had very much enjoyed their visit. They stayed overnight Monday in St. Johns and then flew home Tuesday morning.

MEANWHILE, other area towns were playing host to mayors and village presidents from other parts of the state.

Michigan Week activities did not end Monday, however. Tuesday evening the FAFM Bureau-sponsored Rural-Urban dinner was held at Smith Hall on the occasion of Hospitality Day. Wednesday, "Our Livelihood Day" was highlighted by the industrial displays that will be up all week. The Senior Citizens District 4 Get-Together was held here that day.

TODAY (THURSDAY) is "Education Day," and Friday will be "Our Heritage Day." Saturday, "Youth Day," will be featured by a fun and work bee at the city park. Youngsters, under the direction of Boy Scouts from the St. Johns troops, will pick up stones, brush and other refuse.

Year's final concert is Tuesday

To top off their busy school year, the vocal music students in the St. Johns Public Schools will go before the public next Tuesday evening for their spring concert, "Music in the Air."

The program will include more than 26 numbers sung by all age groups in the school system. "Chim Chim Cheree," a favorite from the movie Mary Poppins, will be sung by the elementary choir, and the spiritual "Ezekiel Saw the Wheel" will be one of the numbers by the junior high choir.

CHORUS I AND II will sing a number of show tunes and spirituals, including such songs as "Climb Every Mountain." The concert choir's folks music medley will include, among other songs, "He's Gone Away," "Poor Wayfaring Stranger," and "I've Been Working on the Railroad." Some of the year's outstanding soloists will be featured.

The Wilsonaires will sing such songs as "Love," "Gone with the Wind," and "That Old Gang of Mine," with guitar, piano, string bass and drum accompaniment.

THE "MUSIC IN the Air" performance will start at 8 p.m.

Sheridan Road School transfer vote Monday

Sheridan Road School District voters will decide Monday on whether or not the southern, Ingham County portion of the district shall be transferred to the Lansing School System.

The election on May 24 was authorized by the Sheridan Road Board of Education and will carry out the vote on the transfer authorized last year by the joint intermediate boards of education of Ingham, Eaton and Clinton Counties.

THE ELECTION will directly affect only the Ingham County half of the Sheridan district, the same half that voted last April to annex politically to the City of Lansing. Since then Ingham residents in the district and Lansing school officials have urged the Ingham portion to become a part of Lansing's school district.

The Lansing board asked in a recent resolution calling for the election that, if the transfer is approved, the Sheridan district lease the Lansing system space in the Sheridan Road School for next school year. This would give the Lansing district time to provide classroom space of its own for the students by 1966-67.

EFFECTIVE DATE of a transfer—if it's approved by the voters Monday—will depend on a later ruling from the State Board of Education.

Hospital

Cost estimates for the proposed construction work range from $500,000 to more than $600,000, White said. The latter figure would provide a three-story addition with new kitchen, obstetrical department and 16 new patient beds.

A Federal grant would pay part of the construction cost, White pointed out, but at least half of the total must be financed by the hospital through earnings and private subscription.

REPORTS WERE also heard from Hospital Supt. Harold B. Reed; Dr. J. M. Groat, chief of the medical staff; Mrs. R. L. Wohlers, president of the Women's Auxiliary; Mrs. Esther Hendershot, treasurer of the Women's Auxiliary; and Mrs. Cecil Boak, chairman of the Red Cross Gray Ladies group.

In addition to their customary fund-raising activities this year, the Auxiliary has sponsored the formation of a Candy Stripper unit of teen-age girls from county high schools. These young ladies have volunteered their service in doing numerous routine hospital chores, Mrs. Wohlers reported.

THE AUXILIARY'S sewing committee has accounted for a total of 3,328 hours of work in making new articles for hospital use and mending present linens. The women have also organized the preparation of favors for patient trays throughout the year and have made puppets and slippers for the children's ward.

The hospital's 36 Gray Ladies have given 3,534 hours of volunteer service during the year, Mrs. Boak reported. She indicated that a new training class would be started whenever additional volunteers are available.

5 Rotarians win new cars

Five St. Johns' Rotarians won new Fords—for a week—at Tuesday noon's meeting of the club. The award of the use of a 1965 model to each of the five men was made at the conclusion of an address by Robert Novotny, car marketing manager for Ford's Lansing branch.

Winners of the cars were Robert S. Gay, Dwane Wirick, Earl Lancaster, John Rumbaugh and Dr. H. L. Oatley. The automobiles will be on loan to them for a week from the Egan Motor Sales Co.

Michigan is unique in wheat production although it stands only 11th among the producers. The state produced last year 39 million bushels of wheat worth $51 million. But within this production was two-thirds of all the eastern white winter wheat raised. When made into flour this is used for pastry, crackers, cookies and as a blender for other flours. A little is exported. When you hear about wheat surpluses, it isn't this wheat that is in surplus.

Athletes honored at P-W banquet

WESTPHALIA — A banquet honoring athletes at Pwamom-Westphalia Community Schools was held Sunday evening in the high school cafeteria. Included on the program were two speakers from Michigan State University and introduction of the new coaches for the next school year.

The Bartlett is the chief commercial variety of pears although several other varieties are also to be found among the nearly 2 million bushels of pears Michigan produced in 1964 for a grower value of more than $3 million. Here again Michigan stands fourth in national production.

Thinlies tie Charlotte

St. Johns and Charlotte track teams tied at 54-54 last Wednesday in the most exciting local track meet of the season. The meet was run as part of a conference dual meet at Ionia.

In an effort to get more balanced scoring and with quartermiler Doug Lundy still sick, several Redwings were switched to different events and all came through with fine performances.

DAVE DeGEER led the scoring with firsts in the 100- and 220-yard dashes and a second place in the broad jump. He also anchored the winning 880-yard relay team, which also included Randy Humphrey, Tom Helms and Alex Luci.

Randy Humphrey had second place finishes in the 100- and 220-yard dashes to be next in line in scoring. Tom McKenzie won the quarter mile in 54 seconds flat and ran the anchor leg of the winning mile relay team. Other runners in that event were Bob Showers, Don Hungerford and Dan Hynes.

AL KOENIGSKNECHT was first and Clark Berkhausen third in the mile run, with the winning time being 4:38. Duane Downing and Dan Hynes placed second and third in the half-mile. Showers took a third place in the quarter-mile and a third in the broad jump, in addition to running on the mile relay team. Bob Lundy took third in the high hurdles and second in the low hurdles.

Roger Parsons took a second in the shot put with a toss of over 40 feet, and Al Anderson was in good form when he cleared 5 feet 7 inches to place third in the high jump.

THE OUTSTANDING Redwing performances made it possible for St. Johns to snap back from their Alma defeat and hold Charlotte to a tie. Charlotte had previously beaten Alma.

P-W edges Fowler, St. Pat in triangular

WESTPHALIA — Fowler's Jon Thelen was the standout individual performer in a triangular track meet at Pwamom-Westphalia last Wednesday, but host P-W won the meet with 59 1/2 points to Fowler's 50 1/2 and Portland's St. Patrick's 27. Thelen had first place finishes in the 100- and 200-yard dashes, a second in the shot put and ran a leg on the winning 880-yard relay team.

Perry thinlies blast Laingsburg, Bath

LAINGSBURG — Perry High School won a triangular track meet with Laingsburg and Bath last Wednesday, scoring 90 points to Laingsburg's 32 and Bath's 14. The Wolfpack's Dave Carroll was a double winner, placing first in both the 100- and 200-yard dashes.

Portland edges Big Reds, Ovid

OVID — Portland won a triangular track meet with Ovid and Elsie last Wednesday, with the Raiders getting 57 points to 44 for Ovid and 38 for Elsie.

Frank Gazda of Ovid was the high individual scorer with first place finishes in the high hurdles (time of 16.4 seconds), pole vault (11 feet 6 inches) and broad jump (20 feet, one-half inch).

Jim Horak of Elsie had a first place in the 220- and 100-yard dashes, and Pat Ackles had a first in the shot put with a toss of 50 feet 1 inch. Riley Quinn of Portland won the 880-yard run with a fine time of 2:04.

Wings trip Alma netmen

Previously unbeaten Alma fell hard on the tennis courts Monday as St. Johns whipped them 5-0 and put the Redwings solidly in the driver's seat in the West Central tennis race.

Alma had a 10-0 record going into the match, which had been postponed from May 6. But the Redwings were "on," and the match was over in about one hour. The Redwings swept Alma with no trouble.

IN SINGLES, Kurt Acton won 6-0, 6-3, Al Werbish won 6-4, 6-2, and Tom Danley was victorious 6-2, 6-2.

In doubles, Bill Serrine and Jim Cronkhitte won their match 6-2, 6-3, and Dave Pocus and Bob Vollbracht rounded out the day with a 6-1, 6-3 decision over their opponents.

The Wings have matches with Lakeview here today and at Ionia next Thursday.

Wings miss qualifying for state

Twelve members of the Redwing track squad took part in the Class B regional meet last Saturday at Lansing Waverly High School. The team trophy was won by Albion's well-balanced team which scored 44 points to runner-up Haslett's 25 1/2.

The first five finishers in each event won medals, but only the top three qualified for the state meet at Ann Arbor this Saturday. That did not include any of the Redwings.

DAVE DeGEER came close to qualifying. He won a fourth place medal in the 880-yard run with a fine 2:04.0 timing on a wet track. Marshall's half-mile had the winning time of 2:01.9.

The mile relay was run in three heats, with the St. Johns entry of Bob Showers, Dan Hynes, Tom McKenzie and DeGeer winning the second heat in 3:35.7, less than two seconds off the St. Johns school record.

IN THE THIRD and fastest heat, Marshall and Haslett tied for first with identical times of 3:30.6, while O'Rafferty had 3:35.6. This was just one-tenth of a second faster than St. Johns, which resulted in only a fourth-place finish and medals for the Wings.

Golfers back in stride after 19-stroke defeat

St. Johns golfers, "teed off" after a 19-stroke defeat at the hands of Hastings last Monday, May 10, rebounded to defeat Charlotte and Alma on consecutive days.

The loss at Hastings was the first in the conference for the golfers, and it came to the score of 177-158 with Hastings on the low, winning end. For St. Johns, Dennis Hankey shot a 40, Gary Becker and Dick Creese 45 apiece and Ted Bedell 47. Hastings, meanwhile, was coasting in on scores of 40, 38, 38 and 42.

BECKER SHOT the low round of 41 last Tuesday as the Wings defeated Charlotte 173-178. Hankey had a 46, Creese 42 and Ortwain 44. Hankey got back in stride last Wednesday at Alma with a low round of 39. Becker had a 43, Creese 47 and Bedell 48 as St. Johns nipped Alma 177-178.

The varsity record after the three matches was 7 wins, 2 losses and 1 tie. The conference record was 4 wins 1 loss.

THE JUNIOR varsity won one match and lost two in their competition with the same three teams last week. They lost to Hastings 210-188 as John Ricker shot 49, Bob Ortwain 51, Tom Pautke 54 and Ron MacLuekie 56. They scored a 207-220 win over Charlotte, with Bedell getting a 48, MacLuekie 49, Ricker and Pautke 55. At Alma they lost 220-193 as Ortwain shot 49, MacLuekie 54, Ricker 59 and Pautke 58. The JV record stood at 4 wins and 5 losses after the three matches.

Golfers eighth in regional play

St. Johns placed eighth among 23 Class B schools in the regional golf tournament Friday at the Burrough's Golf Farm at Brighton.

The Redwings had a total score of 347, well behind the 323 score shot by Okemos, the top winner. Okemos, Jackson St. Mary and Jackson St. Johns, who finished 1-2-3 in the tournament, will go to the state tournament at Swan Valley in Saginaw this Saturday.

ST. JOHNS had shot a 325 score during practice rounds on the Burrough's course May 7, but last Friday the shots didn't fall the same. Dennis Hankey, who fired a 77 on rounds of 37 and 40, missed the class B medalist score of 75 by only two strokes.

Other scores for St. Johns were Gary Becker 41 and 41, Dick Creese 49 and 44, and Bob Ortwain 49 and 46.

Redwings improve play but lose twice in 3 games

The St. Johns Redwings played some of their best baseball of the year last week and early this week, but they wound up losing two of their three games. One of the losses was in eight innings, their fifth extra-inning game of the year.

Last Wednesday the Wings journeyed to Alma and lost 7-2. The following day they invaded Charlotte and took out their vengeance on them 16-1. Then, in extra innings Monday, they lost to a good Mt. Pleasant team 2-1.

COACH BILL Smiley said the Mt. Pleasant game was probably the best his team played all year, despite the loss, and the Mt. Pleasant coach called St. Johns the best team they've come up against. Mt. Pleasant's record is now 11-1.

The Redwings scored their only run in the second inning on back-to-back singles by Gary Crawley, Bob Krumm and Lee Hill, with Crawley scoring on Hill's hit. And they still led 1-0 with two Mt. Pleasant men out in the seventh inning.

THEN LOSING pitcher Dennis Springer yielded a single, and that man scored when a sky-high popup behind third base was dropped. That tied the game up, and Mt. Pleasant went on to win in the eighth on a single, stolen base and another single.

The two hits in the eighth accounted for half of Mt. Pleasant's total for the day off Springer. St. Johns got six, including two each by Crawley and Krumm.

LAST WEDNESDAY at Alma, the Redwings got behind 7-0 after three innings and were never able to recover. Gene Rademacher was the losing pitcher, hurling two innings, with Gary Boyce finishing up the game. The Wings scored their pair of runs in the seventh inning when Ivan Sperry walked, Rod Hayes singled and Boyce scored them both with another single.

ST. JOHNS got six hits during that game and played flawlessly on defense.

THURSDAY the Wings unloaded their heavy artillery on Charlotte. They knocked out 15 hits, including a pair of home runs by Rademacher and one by Boyce. Rademacher and Boyce each got three hits in the game, while Jim Pope, Bob Every and Sperry had two apiece.

Panthers win title in baseball

DeWITT — The DeWitt Panthers won the Central Michigan C baseball title for the first time last week when they defeated Pwamom-Westphalia 4-2 Thursday behind the four-hit pitching of Roger Coryell.

The Panthers got some help from Perry, however, when Perry Hurler Bump Lardie tossed a no-hitter to upset Ovid and let DeWitt clinch the title.

DeWITT PITCHER Coryell struck out 16 Pirate batters in recording his sixth victory against no defeats. Larry Pasch led the Panther hitting attack with three hits in four times at bat.

Lardie was near perfect in hogtying the favored Ovid Romans. He allowed no hits by the Romans and also led the Perry hitting attack with a pair of singles and a triple. The final score of that game was 8-0.

IN ANOTHER Central C game, Portland High's Fred Reahm hurled a one-hitter in beating Bath 7-2. Reahm had 19 strikeouts while Dennis McCrumb led the Portland offense with a homer, triple and double.

Bridgeville By Mrs Thelma Woodbury

Mr and Mrs Glen McComber Sr. were Sunday dinner guests of Mr and Mrs Eldon Rohn and son of Stanton.

Mr and Mrs John Woodbury called on Mr and Mrs Roy Hyke Sunday afternoon.

Jeffery and Marty Jon Hulbert spent Saturday with their grandparents, Mr and Mrs John Woodbury.

Mrs Ethel McComber spent the weekend with Mr and Mrs Alden McComber at Marysville.

Meantime, pitcher Dennis Springer was hurling a one-hitter at Charlotte, allowing only a single in the fourth inning. He walked only two batters and struck out eight. Only two other batters reached base on St. Johns errors.

THE REDWINGS got most of their runs early. They collected four in the first inning, four in the second and six in the third. Coach Smiley inserted a fresh team in the fourth inning, and the

Offer advance tickets here for Buick Open golf tourney June 3-6

Advance tickets for the $100,000 Buick Open Golf Tournament next week at only $1 each have been put on sale at Cain Buick-Pontiac in St. Johns by the Warwick Hills Golf and Country Club Tournament committee.

The advance sale will close at midnight Sunday. Gate price will be $2, compared with as much as $7.50 for comparable golf tournaments. All tickets provide free parking for as many as 11,000 cars.

THE $1 ADVANCE tickets are good on any of seven days of the PGA golf on the following schedule: PGA practice rounds Monday and Tuesday and the qualifying round at the Flint Golf Club; fourth annual Pro-Am tourney Wednesday; first 18-hole round Thursday; second round Friday; third round Saturday; and the final round for the championship Sunday.

EARLY INDICATIONS were that galleries would set a new all-time Michigan golf tournament record, now held by last year's Buick Open at 48,595.

One of the hottest golfers in the Buick Open tourney history is Dave Ragan—the only man to win money every year at the Warwick Hills course at Grand Blanc.

RAGAN's young Florida PGA pro, just 29, never a Buick winner but twice a serious challenger. His seven appearances brought him $10,150.63, and he is outdone on the tournament's all-time money list by only eight pros.

THE PRIZE increase to $100,000 this year is added incentive for the pros to maintain such records. First prize is worth $18,000, more than doubled the $8,177.42 Lema took home last June.

Wings did not score again until the top of the seventh when they added their last two markers.

Charlotte scored their only run in the fourth inning.

Rademacher and Boyce continued to lead the team hitting, with both batting about .450 after Monday's game with Mt. Pleasant.

The Redwings' record for the year is now 4 wins and 5 defeats.

Ahead of him are Tony Lema, 1964 winner, defending champion and reigning British Open champion; and the six other past champions—Julius Boros ('63), Bill Collins ('62), Jack Burke Jr. ('61), Mike Souchak, ('60), Art Wall ('59) and Billy Casper ('58).

AHEAD, TOO, is Dow Finsterwald, the Buick's perennial runner-up. He's finished second three times for a record of his own.

Ragan had good shots at the Buick championship in 1961 and 1962 when he finished fourth and second respectively. Last year he tied for 13th with a one-over-par 289 and the 72 holes. His best scores were three-under-par 285's in 1961 and 1962.

ALSO consistent money winners at Warwick Hills are Mason Rudolph, George Bayer and Gardner Dickinson, who have played in six tournaments and won money every time. Finsterwald, Bob Goalby, Doug Ford, Collins, Don January, Johnny Pott and Bob Rosburg have been in the money six times out of seven Buick Opens.

Finsterwald, Goalby and Rudolph have been in the money the last six years. Casper and Paul Harney, no longer a PGA tour regular, have been on the prize list five out of five times.

If you were one of Michigan's many taxpayers who were faced with paying additional tax with your 1964 federal income tax return, now may be the time to review your 1965 tax picture. R. I. Nixon, Detroit District Director of Internal Revenue Service advises.

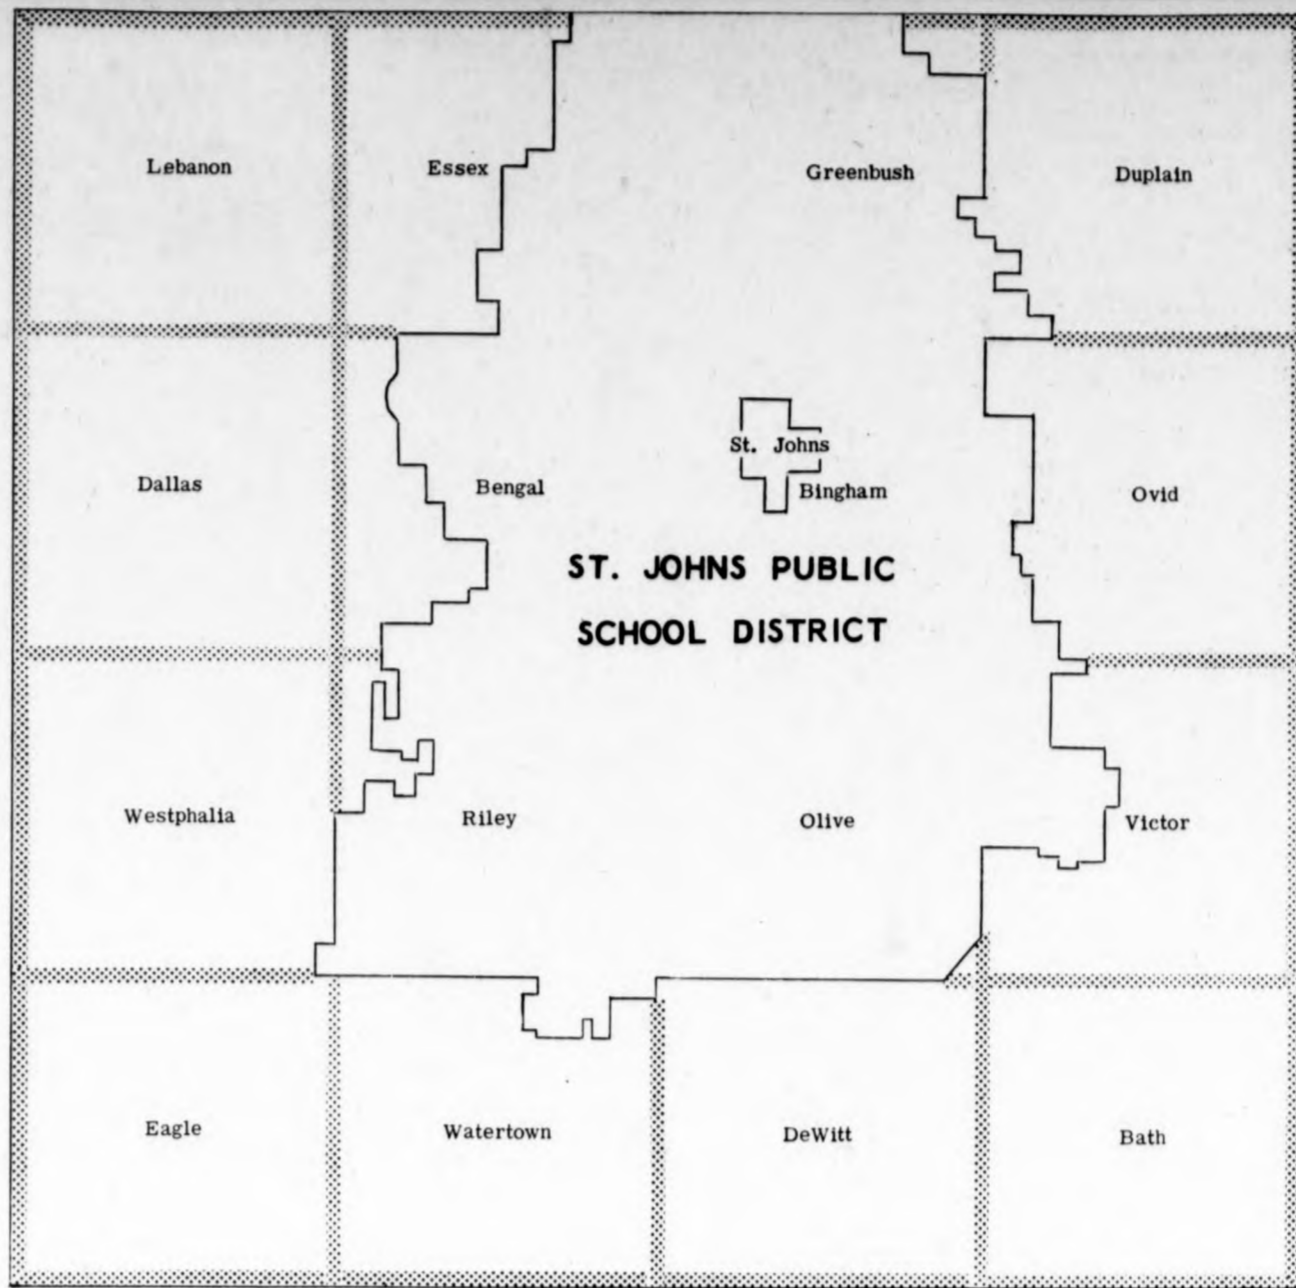

come or deductions, you can, by using the new lower rate tables, get a good idea of what your 1965 tax liability will be.

BASED ON THIS computation, you may wish to change your present withholding schedule, authorize an extra deduction to supplement the amount now being withheld if your exemptions are now zero, or consider filing a declaration of estimated tax and make quarterly prepayments. Taking this action now may eliminate the need for having to pay an additional amount of tax when filing your 1965 federal tax return next year, Nixon said.

A copy of Publication 465 may be obtained by mailing a request addressed to District Director, Internal Revenue Service, P.O. Box 84, Detroit, Mich. 48231, or by visiting one of the 30 Internal Revenue Service offices located throughout Michigan.

The lower tax rates and tax tables which apply to 1965 income are listed in Internal Revenue Service Publication 465. Assuming that your income and deductions will be the same this year as they were last, or if you can estimate this year's in-

Social security notable in role of senior citizens

Every 20 seconds another American becomes a senior citizen, joining the nearly 19 million men and women now over 65. Each year this total increases by 1 1/2 million people.

May has been designated as Senior Citizens Month by President Johnson to recognize the accomplishments and needs of this rapidly growing segment of the population. W. Scott Hamlin, social security district manager in Lansing, reported.

SOCIAL security has been instrumental in helping to meet the needs of this group, Hamlin continued. More than nine of every 10 persons now reaching 65 can expect to receive social security monthly benefits.

For the past 25 years, since January 1940 when monthly benefits were first paid, social security has been providing a base upon which senior citizens could build to insure financial security for themselves after retirement.

SOCIAL security monthly benefits play a considerable part in maintaining the economic stability of the community.

Studies show that senior citizens spend the greatest part of their social security check in the community for food, clothing, and housing, Hamlin emphasized.

ANY PERSON over 65 who has never filed application for social security benefits were invited by Hamlin to come into the social security office for a complete explanation of the law. The manager suggested that it may be advantageous for senior citizens to file an application even though they are still working.

Possibly, some benefits may be payable in spite of a person's earnings. Then, too, the application could be processed in advance of a person's retirement so that payments could start promptly when he does stop working.

ANYONE WISHING more information about social security should get in touch with the Lansing social security district office, located in Room 200 of the Federal Building 216 Townsend Street. The telephone number is 372-1910, Extension 581.

Says children's feet should have regular checkups

"Children's feet need regular checkups," states the American Foot Health Foundation. With a good percentage of America's youth suffering from a variety of foot ailments, the Foundation emphasizes the need for both preventive care and daily maintenance.

"When foot problems become evident in the child, early professional care should be sought," according to the organization's president, Dr H. Arthur McAninch. "This is important in order to keep the disorders from developing into lasting, painful deformities by the time he or she becomes an adult."

"THE BONES in the feet (there are 26 in each foot) take almost 20 years to develop completely. But enough damage can be done during the first six years of a child to cause him distress for the rest of his life. Socks that are too short, shoes that are not properly fitted, and garments, such as leotards, that bind the feet are contributing factors to breakdowns in foot health—for they cause undue pressure and resulting trouble."

Dr McAninch urges parents to check their children's feet on a regular basis. He suggests looking for cracks in the skin, especially between the toes; blisters; ingrown nails and warts—and watching how your child walks—often the first sign of foot trouble.

HIS COMMENTS were made in connection with Annual Foot Health Week, May 14-21, sponsored by the Foundation.

Members of the Clinton County Artists help the president of the organization, Mrs Jerold Tiedt, right, decide which of her works she should display at the art exhibit to be held this weekend in St. Johns. Offering their opinion are, left to right, Mrs Geraldine Niergarth, Mrs Robert Williams, Mrs Lester Lake and Mrs Helen Judd.

Annual Art Exhibit planned for weekend

Professional artists, experienced art critics and, mainly, interested spectators will gather at the Hicks Building on North Clinton Avenue this weekend for the annual art exhibit, sponsored by the Clinton County Artists.

up still lifes or a model and then giving them advice.

The extent of their comprehension and talent will be on display, alongside the work of many other area artists, this weekend.

All area artists, whether members of the club or not, will display charcoal drawings, water color and oil paintings Friday, May 21, from 2 to 9 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday, May 22 and 23, from 2 to 6 p.m.

THE FIRST exhibit in Clinton County was held in 1958 by the Art Guild, a group of women who organized for the purpose of painting or learning how to paint. It has been held every year since.

Some of the members of the original art group are now members of the Clinton County Artists. They, along with new members, meet every other Wednesday. The meeting is a time away from families and ordinary interruptions, that they can devote strictly to painting.

SOME OF THE beginning artists have to start from scratch, learning about the equipment and the basic rules of perspective. Once beyond the beginner's stage, the women rely on their own creativity and look to one another for suggestions and friendly criticism.

On occasion they have been visited by a Michigan State University graduate student in art, James Dulemba, who helped them with particular problems, setting

Green thumb tips

Most seeds do not come up overnight, although a few, like beans, seem to. The seeds of most flowers take between a week and three weeks to germinate, so don't be in a rush to replant a row. The precise length of time it takes seeds to sprout depends on many conditions such as air, temperature of the soil and moisture in the soil. All of these must be just right.

DO YOU know the secrets of growing beautiful morning glories? There are two. Nick the seeds with a file before you plant them and select a place with poor soil to do the planting. Good, rich soil makes the plants grow vine and leaf rather than produce flowers.

BECAUSE IT always seems such a shame to spoil the garden picture by cutting flowers, the house often goes unadorned. Consider this year having a small cutting garden—a few rows of annuals planted just for cutting and indoor use. The kinds of annuals will depend, of course, on your likes and dislikes but the flower colors of the varieties you grow should be selected to blend or contrast with the color schemes of the rooms in your house.

Homemakers to meet in MSU classrooms

BY BETTY KETCHAM
County Extension Agent
Home Economics.

Michigan State University's classroom doors will be opened again this summer for all homemakers. Regardless of age or interests, every woman will be able to find things to interest her during College Week for Women at MSU.

Draw a big red circle around the days of July 27 to 30. Plan now to stock up the freezer and let the family take over for three days or make arrangements for someone to stay with your family. No one should miss such an excellent opportunity to recharge their batteries.

THIS YEAR'S theme, "Today's Home Shapes Tomorrow's World," is designed for women interested in exploring areas ranging from individual and family concerns to national and international problems.

Dr Zilma George, former US representative to the United Nations, will be a special speaker. Her topic will be "Change and Conflict Around the World."

SPECIAL 3-day classes will give those attending a chance to study two subjects, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. There will also be an opportunity to select other classes and attend special events and general assemblies.

Some of the classes that will help a woman as an individual include: Music for Family, Understanding Contemporary Art, Thinking of Future Employment, The Family and God, Hands Across the Seas and Picture Yourself as a Politician.

IF A WOMAN happens to be an officer of a club and wants some extra training—special classes will be held on leadership training. These are meetings that will help all officers, regardless of the organization.

Thursday has been set aside for mothers with children under 8 years old who can only attend one day.

IF ANYONE would like programs or more information about College Week for Women they should contact the County Extension office or write to—College Week for Women, 108 Agricultural Hall, Michigan State University, East Lansing.

NOEL D. BRYAN-JONES

The power of God and its effects on man will be explored at a one-hour public lecture at Owosso next Tuesday evening. Noel D. Bryan - Jones, of Worthing, Sussex, England, will speak on the subject "God Omnipotent Makes Man Triumphant" at the 8:15 p.m. service in the new Owosso High School. He'll be sponsored by the First Church of Christ Scientist of Owosso.

Baptismal gown worn 71 times in one family

A baby in a delicate white christening dress was baptized in Westphalia 60 years ago. Since that time the dress has been worn by 70 other members of a large Roman Catholic family.

Worn most recently on Sunday, May 2, by three-week-old Ann Marie Genord, daughter of Mr and Mrs Paul Genord of St. Clair Shores, the tucked batiste frock, which has become a tradition among the descendants of the late Theresa Fedewa, was originally hand-made by Mrs Fedewa for her first child, now Mrs Peter J. Fox of Detroit.

SIX MORE of Mrs Fedewa's children were to wear the gown before it was passed on, to be worn by her 36 grandchildren and 28 great-grandchildren, becoming a little more tattered and cherished with each use. Of the 71, only one is dead.

Among the members of the original family who wore the dress is Mrs Allen Weed of 105 North Emmons in St. Johns. Mrs Weed's children, Allen of Lansing, Mrs Cynthia Tiedt of St. Johns, and Kathryn, Janet and David, all at home, were among the descendants of Mrs Fedewa who were gowned in the heirloom for baptism, the first special event of their lives. Her grandchildren, Krisan Weed and Craig and Scott Tiedt, also wore the baptismal gown.

SINCE THE family is scattered throughout Michigan in Westphalia, Grand Ledge, Portland, St. Johns and Ionia and in California and New York, the dress has traveled frequently, mostly by mail.

Mrs Weed's niece, Mrs Ivan Ley of Portland, who is "due any day," is next in line to receive the dress.

Between christenings, the dress is carefully wrapped in blue paper and boxed.

The family worries about how to preserve the dress for future babies but since no one wants to break the tradition by buying a new christening dress, they'll carry on as long as the dress holds together.

Auto, food sales pace tax receipts

Automotive sales and food sales again took the lion's share of sales tax collections in Clinton County, according to figures on the March collections.

According to the Michigan Department of Revenue, automotive sales accounted for $37,710 in sales taxes during March. Food sales brought in $35,809. The total sales tax collected in Clinton County in March was $113,564.80.

OTHER CATEGORIES brought in these amounts in sales tax:

Building material $12,694, general merchandise $4,354, apparel $1,923, furniture $5,559, miscellaneous retail $5,766, and non-retail $9,746. Total use tax collected during the month amounted to $3,574.36.

'Get-acquainted' night Saturday

The Clinton County Republican Women's Club will sponsor a get-acquainted night Saturday at 7 o'clock at the St. Johns Municipal Building, with all county and township officers invited. The public is urged to attend, also, so that they might meet their elected officers.

A potluck dinner will be held, with persons being asked to bring table service and a dish to pass. Coffee will be furnished. The program being planned will be entertaining and informative for both men and women, club officers promised.

Daggett district annexes to Ashley

ASHLEY—One of the last primary school districts in southern Gratiot County, the Daggett School District, recently voted 30-8 to annex to the Ashley Community Schools.

FIRST to wear baptismal dress was this Westphalia baby, now Mrs Peter J. Fox of Detroit.

SEVENTY - FIRST was Ann Marie Genord, held here by her mother, right, and grandmother, Mrs Fox.

Two new potato salads feature dill, avocados

Potato salad comes in many versions and styles. This one combines the simplicity of a well seasoned corn oil and vinegar dressing with an extra fillip from the dill. Use fresh dill weed if your garden affords it, or dry from your spice shelf. The warm potatoes absorb the flavors, and the lettuce supplies the added greens.

DILL POTATO SALAD

3/4 c. water
1 envelope onion soup
3 pounds potatoes (about 9 medium or 12 small)
1/4 c. corn oil
2 tbsp. vinegar
1 tsp. light corn syrup
1 tsp. tarragon leaves, crushed
1 tsp. dill, fresh or dry
3/4 tsp. celery seed
1/2 tsp. salt (about)
1/4 tsp. pepper
lettuce

Pour water over soup mix in bowl. Let stand while preparing other ingredients. Cook potatoes in boiling water until tender. Combine corn oil, vinegar, corn syrup, tarragon, dill, celery seed, salt, pepper and soup mixture. Pare and slice potatoes into large bowl while still warm.

Shake dressing well to blend, then pour over warm potatoes. Toss lightly. Chill at least 3 hours, overnight if possible. Serve on lettuce. Makes 10 servings.

POTATO SALAD and picnics are almost synonymous and Avocado Potato Salad is the newest in a long line of potato salad specialties.

Cubed potatoes and avocados are tossed with celery, cucumber, onion, crumbled bacon and other zippy ingredients, then garnished with avocado slices and chilled for a hearty picnic treat. Frankfurters on buns would be excellent with it.

Summer varieties of avocados are thicker-skinned than the winter fruit, so use gentle, but firm, pressure when you cup them in your hands to see whether they "give." If they do, or if a toothpick poked into the stem end glides in easily, the fruit is ready

Breakfast opens Green Tee golf

Thirty-four members opened Green Tee golf Wednesday, May 12, with a breakfast sponsored by the board members, Mrs Oliver Montague, Mrs William Smith, Mrs Herman Bushman, Mrs Fred Gutshall, Mrs Lester Lake and Mrs Charles Dickinson.

Later that day, golf prizes were awarded to Mrs Hazel Allaby for low putts, Mrs Earl King for high putts, Mrs Herman Bushman for coming closest to the hole on the approach of the ninth green and to Mrs George Judd for having the score closest to 64.

FOLLOWING lunch, 4 tables of bridge were in play with prizes going to first, Mrs Julius Becker; second, Mrs Kenneth Munger; third, Mrs S. R. Russell; fourth, Mrs Carl Bancroft; and fifth, Mrs Oliver Montague. Mrs Charles Dickinson won low.

The women will play on the home course Wednesday, May 19.

Neighbors and passersby watch flames eat away at a pile of straw after destroying most of the rest of the Gordon Matter barn at 2605 S. Williams Road last Thursday afternoon. Shortly after this picture was taken, the frame of the barn collapsed. No one was hurt.

Fire destroys barn at Gordon Matters'

A fast-spreading fire destroyed a storage barn on the Gordon Matter farm at 2605 S. Williams Road last Thursday afternoon. The barn was leveled. No official cause has been listed.

Mrs Matter, home alone at the time of the fire about 1:15 p.m., discovered it when she noticed smoke. She went outside to check and then discovered the flames. She released the family's dog tied up in the barn and then called the fire department.

THE FIRE spread rapidly and firemen had no chance whatever of saving the barn. Smoke poured in to the sky and flames were visible from the Southgate Shopping Center when firemen passed ed there on the way to the fire. That distance is about two miles.

Only the frame of the barn was left when firemen pulled into the yard, and they concentrated their water streams on the Matter home, less than 100 feet north-west of the barn. Mrs Matter said she believes the presence of a tree between the barn and the home prevented the spread of the fire to the house before firemen got there.

NO ANIMALS were lost in the fire. The barn contained only some straw stored there by a neighbor, some ladders, tools and lawn equipment. The car, which normally is parked in the garage, was out at the time.

A strong wind fanned the flames, but for most of the time it blew the flames away from the house. The frame of the barn collapsed about 20 minutes after firemen arrived.

Cause of the fire is undetermined, but wiring in the barn is suspected as the cause. A fuse did blow, but other than that there is no evidence as to what started it. No estimate of damage had been made by Matter yet Monday.

fatal and otherwise, reveal the fact that in the majority of cases, regardless of the speed of the vehicles involved, one or both drivers was, at the time of occurrence, performing some act clearly in violation of existing law or rule of good driving.

Mothers honor Jessie A. Finch at surprise tea

At the May 11 meeting of the Blue Star Mothers, delegates were chosen to attend the state convention, to be held at the Bancroft Hotel in Saginaw June 6, 7, 8 and 9.

Chosen were Mrs Rudolph Masarik and Mrs Joseph Orweller with Mrs Farin Eldred and Mrs Dorothy Steves as alternates.

An invitation was read and accepted from the Maple Rapids chapter to attend a 20th wedding anniversary supper which was to be held May 19 at 6:30 p.m. at the Congregational Christian Church.

A MYSTERY package was won by Mrs Dorothy Steves.

Following the meeting, a surprise tea was held to honor Jessie Finch who retired as city clerk. She was given a ride in a wheel chair and then presented with a booklet which contained a poem, written especially for her, and autographed by all the members that were present. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

Road Commission Weekly Report

Les Drago, county road engineer, attended the Michigan Traffic Engineering Seminar at East Lansing recently, and came back with a lot of new information.

The meeting covered traffic safety from all angles—roads, drivers, signs, signals and most of all, speed limits.

IT WOULD certainly be of interest to all drivers to read the principals of speed control, as established by the most recent studies. They are as follows:

1. Without the immediate presence of an enforcement officer, the actions of motorists are dictated by the conditions encountered in a particular area. These conditions are: type and physical characteristics of the roadway; traffic volumes; parked vehicles; pedestrians crossing or walking along the roadway; weather conditions; ice or snow on the pavement; and visibility during day and night.

2. IN THE ABSENCE of enforcing personnel, the above driving characteristics prevail irrespective of the presence of speed control signs or the numerical speed designations thereon.

3. The majority of motorists drive with due care and consideration. And this majority has been estimated to be somewhere in the vicinity of 90 per cent.

4. SPEED control zones carrying a reasonable numerical limit are much more readily respected and obeyed than are those with unreasonable limits. Unreasonable restrictions foster a general disrespect for all laws and regulations instituted for the protection of the public.

5. Speed control zones without adequate enforcement reduce neither the average speed or vehicles nor the accident rate, all other conditions being equal.

6. IT IS impracticable to set a speed limit in an area which can be considered safe under any and all conditions. Therefore, the "reasonable and proper driving" law in effect in Michigan is applicable, irrespective of the presence of speed control signs.

7. Reports of accidents, both

Keeping the teakettle whistling

Halt! Who goes there?

The password is "teakettle." For a very good reason. I cremated one and don't intend to do the same thing with this one.

From now on I'm going to pause on the threshold to see if that merry little kettle is on the stove . . . then proceed outside if it isn't. Never again will I cross over that slab of wood dividing the inside from the outside without checking.

ONCE I get outside wanderlust takes hold . . . and no telling where I'll wind up, or when. Even going to the mailbox, which is a rather short and one-would-think free-of-temptations trip, is full of adventuring prospects. The outdoors at this time of year does something to me.

First it was the bloodroots down the road . . . were they out yet? Looks like it! So off I went. My, but they were thick and SO good to see.

WELL, MY bright little teakettle lost its whistle as a result of that extended mailbox trip. Also some of its brightness. (Some folks hadn't liked its whistling anyway.)

But I felt sad about it. Sally got it for me for Christmas. I'd never had a whistling one but secretly wanted one. I liked the idea of Sally getting it, too, because SHE liked a whistling teakettle. That made two of us in the family. (Of course, it isn't absolutely essential to have everyone like the same things that you do . . . but isn't it more fun to get a gleam of understanding or acceptance of some of your ideas?)

IN THIS case it looked as though the "whistle" had taught me a lesson even though it had to be sacrificed in doing it. So it wasn't a total loss. How we rationalize . . . or make excuses for ourselves.

Alas! It seems that I did not learn a lesson from that kettle after all. I was in a hurry to get some mail in the box one morning last week so I dashed out.

The trip "to" the mailbox was uneventful. Coming back was a different thing. All thought of being in a hurry was forgotten.

THERE, ON ONE side of the driveway, in the ditch the water was much higher than it was on the other side. What was the matter with it? It seemed to be clogged with leaves and sticks. That could not be . . . could it? So I got a stick and poked around. A stick was not the thing to ditch with. A hoe and shovel would be better. I became a ditcher.

It was kind of a challenge to see if a passageway could be made through that unseen tunnel under the driveway. That finally happened as a little trickle started on the other side. I stood watching fascinated by it and enjoying the sight of seeing water run.

SOON THE other side began to Mason Co., Sealed Power Corp. and Federal-Mogul Corp. are open to the public all through Michigan Week this week in the Timothy Green Building adjacent to Jim's Insurance on Clinton Avenue. The displays give a good indication of the world-wide importance of St. Johns in the manufacturing fields. The Chamber of Commerce also has a display of St. Johns and Michigan travel information.

Vocal music in action— lesson in appreciation

Singing is the basic part of the elementary program. In tune or out of tune, most children like to sing and enjoy the wide variety of songs, such as folk songs, humorous songs, lullabies and especially singing games which move to music.

Listening to musical stories, playing rhythmic and melody instruments, singing rounds and identifying note names and rhythmic symbols are also a basic part of the elementary music program which covers grades one through six.

ONE OF the highlights of the year for many fifth and sixth graders is the thrill of being a part of the elementary choir. This is a select group of boys and girls from the schools in town. In order to be a member they must be able to sing in tune and meet after school once a week.

This year they will be performing in the spring concert with the rest of the choirs. They are directed by Mrs Wanda Humphrey. She is assisted by Vocal Music Director Gordon Vandermark and Miss Mary Witt a senior who is doing a fine job with the top voices.

THE GENERAL music program in the Junior High School is offered to nearly every student. This year eighth graders have had a seven-week course, and seventh graders have the general music class for a 12-week period.

This is a course designed to give the students a broad view of music and to provide an opportunity for exploration of the many aspects of the field of music, singing, playing, listening, rhythmic participation, composition, etc.

THE STUDENT is acquainted with musical development and changes from the pre-classical era to the jazz and modern music of today. Folk music of America and other lands, famous composers, instruments of the band and orchestra and musical art forms, are some of the specific areas that are concentrated on. Students are encouraged to do outside projects, notebooks, and reading from the library on the various areas of music.

The junior high school choir, organized in January of this year, consists of an enthusiastic group of seventh and eighth grade boys and girls who have a desire to sing. They rehearse during their free time at noon on Monday, Wednesday and Friday for 30 minutes.

THE CHOIR is divided into four sections — soprano, alto, tenor and bass—singing four-part music, which is a new experience for many of these "Junior Highers." The students have shown a great deal of interest for this type of activity and Vandermark hopes it can be continued and may some day find its place in the basic curriculum of the junior high school.

The junior high choir has performed for a junior high assem-

"The study of music is a vital part of the public school curriculum in St. Johns. In a civilization stressing scientific achievement, material wealth, and specialization, music contributes greatly toward the maintenance of a proper cultural balance.

"Our primary objective in the music program is to make available to our students the opportunity to understand and appreciate music as an art. We hope to provide an opportunity for recognition, satisfaction, and enjoyment through a worthwhile experience of participation in one or several music activities.

"Our program begins as soon as your child enters school, is required in elementary and junior high school, and offers a variety of activities and classes in the high school."

—GORDON VANDERMARK
Director of Vocal Music

bly, the Central School PTA meeting in April and will be participating in the vocal music spring concert next Tuesday.

CHORUS I AND II classes are the next step in the development of a student's vocal music ability. They are offered to any student who desires to sing in a vocal group; no requirements are necessary except interest.

Chorus I and II, prerequisites for the concert choir, are designed to help the members develop the basic concepts of vocal music, good tone production, elementary theory, rhythmic skills, (such as coordination of eye and hands) correct breath control, an understanding of the styles and form of music and a feeling for the words and emotion found in choral literature.

EACH MEMBER is encouraged to be an individual performer through individual class participation, singing part of a song alone or with another student in the group. He also learns to participate as a part of an ensemble to improve the group as a whole.

"It is our desire to develop every student to his fullest ability," Vandermark said.

This year these groups sang at the Junior High Thanksgiving Assembly and will participate in the spring concert.

THE CONCERT is a select group of students. To be a member of this group the student must first spend at least one year in Chorus I and then pass a singing proficiency test. The choir studies and performs from 20 to 30 pieces of music a year, produces a musical comedy, develops sight-reading techniques and continues the study of theory which was presented in Chorus I.

These students are encouraged to begin solo and small ensemble work. From this effort comes such groups as the Wilsonaires, Wilsonettes, Four-Fifths and soloists, all of whom are available for entertainment at club meetings and community functions.

THE Wilsonaires, an ensemble consisting of 16 students, has been a long-time tradition at Rodney B. Wilson High School. These students are members of the concert choir and are selected for membership in the group because of their excellent musicianship and their desire to do something beyond what is offered in a large organization such as the choir.

This ensemble practices during noon hours and after school. They travel to special festivals for small ensembles as well as doing many performances in the community.

BECAUSE OF the demand within the community, more groups will be formed to offer a larger number of students this type of opportunity (if they so desire.) The newest of these organizations is the Wilsonettes—six girls who are working hard and will be available for entertainment soon. Another such small ensemble just starting is a group of six freshmen girls from Chorus I. They will all be ready to perform by the time the school bells ring next September.

A new enrichment in the vocal department this year is the opportunity for a few students to attend summer camp with the marching band.

Vandermark directs the high school concert choir in a practice session. The concert choir is the top rung in the student's climb up through the vocal music groups.

FOCUS ON EDUCATION Part II: Vocal Music

Vandermark gives junior high school boys some of the special attention they need at the time of their life when voice is changing.

Diana Sillman and Pat Harper (left) explain the theory of minor scales to the satisfaction of Vocal Music Director Gordon Vandermark.

The Wilsonettes, one of the new singing groups at the high school, is made up of, left to right, Christine Light, Bonnie Ordway, Pat Kridner, Karen Rumbaugh, Kathy Marten and Gloria DeGeer.

Mrs Wanda Humphrey teaches these children in the first grade at Perrin-Palmer School the singing game, "Four in a Boat." Games of this nature are used to create an interest in singing in the youngsters.

Director Gordon Vandermark gives some individual help as students in Chorus II work on their scales theory lesson for the day. Individual help often heads off group problems.

Annexation votes only the beginning of job

It speaks well for the reputation of a community, we think, when it is able to accomplish in a period of 64 days the annexation of 32 neighboring rural school districts.

This is the record which the St. Johns school district has made for itself since last March 6 when the first of the 32 rural areas voted to join St. Johns in a mass annexation which set a Michigan precedent.

During the 64-day period, 31 other districts approved annexation and accepted the additional operating millage which the local district requires.

IT'S SIGNIFICANT that not a single district voted unfavorably on the proposals. Overall the affirmative vote for annexation was about 4-to-1 and extra millage was approved by more than 3-to-1.

There are so many people to whom special credit for this accomplishment belongs that we are reluctant to attempt to name them. The preliminary discussions occupied many months and involved participation by past and present St. Johns school board personnel as well as school patrons in the rural districts.

Coordination of the effort was in the capable hands of St. Johns School Supt. Earl R. Lancaster, who had the delicate task of being reasonably aggressive without offending a sensitive citizenry.

ALL OF US are aware that the annexation voting is actually only the start of the job ahead for the newly-enlarged district.

School patrons will be called upon in the months ahead to study and discuss new construction plans and work out the administrative details of this improved educational complex.

We have confidence that the unity and understanding so clearly demonstrated during the 64-day annexation campaign will carry over into the important deliberations and decisions to come.

Thanks to them for long service to our hospital!

The community owes its sincere thanks to two St. Johns men who retired this past week from the board of directors at Clinton Memorial Hospital after long years of dedicated service.

Conrad Seim, Jr., has been a member of the board for 18 years and was its chairman for several terms. Kenneth Munger has put in 10 years as a board member and was vice chairman at the time of his retirement.

Both men continue as trustees of the hospital and Seim remains as second vice president of the hospital association.

ASSOCIATION WITH the management of a community hospital can be a source of considerable personal satisfaction, but the work requires more than casual attention. Service as a director of Clinton Memorial involves much more than mere attendance at regular meetings.

Interested directors find themselves giving many hours of their time to study, consideration and discussion of the increasingly complex problems that arise in the medical and administrative aspects of the modern hospital.

The Clinton area has been fortunate to have the Messrs. Seim and Munger willing to devote their time to help assure the continued well-being of our community hospital.

We've appreciated their most competent work

Two of our favorite people—and they're women—are leaving responsible positions in St. Johns local and school government on June 30.

Formal announcement of the retirement of Mrs. Cerelda Hicks, business manager for the St. Johns schools, and Mrs. Jessie A. Finch, St. Johns city clerk, was made in last week's issue of The County News.

Mrs. Hicks has been on the job for 39

MICHIGAN WEEK

RAMBLIN' with Rink

BY LOWELL RINKER

Last night I sat down and talked to myself. My little conversation came at the end of an evening of dull television in which I accomplished little other than to waste time.

This lamentable condition has been going on for too long now. The television is on practically every evening I'm home, usually with me plunked down on the couch staring red-eyed at the tube. There's very little education in this, I told myself last night, and not a great deal of real entertainment either.

I FEEL RATHER inspired by my little talk with myself. So inspired am I, in fact, that I am led to make what may now sound like rash promises that will never be faithfully carried out. This remains to be seen. But I feel that with the public eye on me and watching to see if I keep that promise, I may just do it.

My "fiscal year" begins June 20, and during the 27th year of my life I shall do the following things:

1) REFRAIN from addicted television watching. I retain, however, the right to watch the Dick VanDyke show on Wednesday nights, to condemn any show that replaces the Dick VanDyke show for even one night, to watch "The Fugitive" when I'm so inclined, and to watch occasional sporting events and, occasionally, to watch a program or two.

2) Read more. Last night I began reading a book, the first one I've set down and read for over a year. I'm enjoying it. A visit to the Bement Library during their open house got me interested in the particular book, and I plan to read many more.

3) WORK TOWARD completion of my education. For three years I have lacked 12 hours of credits for graduation from Bradley University back in Peoria, Ill. Through correspondence courses, perhaps I can finish up soon.

4) To carry out these and other personal promises.

I still have a month to go before my "fiscal year" begins, but I intend to use that time in hardening myself to combat the temptations of the television tube that I'm sure will present themselves. Our TV will not be permanently unplugged, however, since other members of the family use it for entertainment, too.

BUT MY wife has long known how to control TV watching, so I'm sure I'll get some help in my "cure."

(Anybody seen the TV Guide?)

Tragedy, excitement at Straits

RELAXATION AND a little change of pace was in my mind last week when Barbara and I took a few days off to do some chores around our cottage up at the Straits of Mackinac.

Actually, it turned out to be a sort of "postman's holiday" for a newspaper guy. On the morning of our first day in residence, a Norwegian ship and the freighter Cedarville collided a few miles out from our front yard.

Ten seaman on the ill-fated Cedarville lost their lives and the search for them continued throughout our six days at the cottage.

COAST GUARD vessels, private craft, helicopters and airplanes combed the Straits area. The tragedy of the accident and the excitement of the search gripped residents and visitors alike.

Quite naturally the accident became the principal topic of conversation. Few people were willing to assess blame for the collision in the fog-shrouded Straits until after all the facts had been established in Coast Guard hearings.

There seemed to be general agreement among experienced seamen, however, that there is likely a need for native pilots aboard foreign vessels while they're traveling through congested areas like the Straits. Such guidance is required along the Detroit and St. Clair rivers, but the regulation has not been extended to include the Straits.

MY EXPERIENCE along the Great Lakes is pretty limited. I have previously been a small lake and stream enthusiast, but I'm finding a fascination about the bigger waters that is far different from anything I've ever known.

From our place at the Straits the big bridge, nine miles west, is plainly visible night and day when the weather is clear. Mackinac Island and Bois Blanc island loom up in front of the Upper Peninsula coastline across the way.

With a pair of binoculars, a fella can while away a lot of time watching and attempting to identify the scores of ships that pass along the channels past our place.

WEATHER IN the area is a strange phenomenon. It's either bad or good—there's no middle ground. When it's bad, it's just plain lousy and you might as well get inside by the fire. But when it's good—which is the usual fare—you'll never know clearer, brisker, sunnier days.

Fog is likely to shroud the water many mornings this time of year while the shore is clear and sunny.

It was early Spring in the north country last week. The lacy, delicate green of poplars and maples was in striking contrast to the deeper hues of the pines and cedars and hemlocks. Shad was in bloom. Kids were netting suckers out of the roadside ditches. Perch and trout were biting. Mushroom pickers were numerous.

Barbara kept me busy with the paint brush, the screens and so on . . . but it was good to be alive.

Letters to the Editor

Rep. Todd comments on press agency

I GREATLY enjoyed reading your editorial on "Press Agents in Government." I think you put the problem very well, and touched both the practical problems of putting material in the newspaper and the news problem of determining what merits printing.

We have actually come to the same conclusion you did while serving at the Constitutional Convention. The importance of the news media in enabling the citizens to understand and evaluate the issues of the day is huge, and I believe that to a very large extent good government is dependent upon a good and responsible press.

YOU ALSO realize how much material of substantial interest to the general public comes out of political activity and legislative bodies, and one of our problems has been to balance our time between doing things and keeping people informed of important activities. Very often the activity precludes taking the time to say anything about it.

If you have any suggestions as to how we might improve our communication with you or make any of our press releases more valuable to you or to your readers, I would certainly appreciate receiving them.

With all best wishes, I am
Sincerely yours,

Be a little polite, quiet, reader urges

RECENTLY I WENT to the Music Festival and Kindergarten graduation program at Maple Rapids. It was a very nice program—what I could hear of it. There was so much noise made by the little kids who were fussing and the grown-ups who were catching up on the latest gossip that you couldn't hear the school kids perform.

In my own personal opinion, I feel that people should leave their little kids home with a babysitter where they can fuss all they want to and not bother others. The enjoyment parents would receive from being able to hear would more than pay for the babysitter.

ALSO, THE grownups could wait until afterwards to chat with others about what this persons said to that person and what so-in-so did with what's-his-face.

Naturally, there was a lot of mosquitos, and it would be quite disturbing trying to keep from being bitten, but even so, you could still hear above this noise.

I DON'T KNOW if anyone else agrees with me or not, but I think if people would do this, the evening would be much more enjoyable for all.

Motive?

By W. E. DOBSON

In any pert discussion
On topics of the day,
Opinions vary widely
And it's bound to be that way.

If and when there's disagreement,
Must it be that mine prevail?
Could my evidence be faulty—
Have I only half the tale?

Can I assume monopoly
Of all the worth-while facts?
Or would I view it differently
If in some one else's tracks?

In matters legal, if we seek
Support for our own view,
We first establish motives,
For what people say and do.

Now take this matter of cigarettes
That we everywhere debate—
Do we follow out this practice
With regard to what folks state?

Is the medical profession
That were trusted facts to find
Merely seeking easy answers?
Have they any axe to grind?

Would they in their shops and clinics
With the public health at stake,
Be so callous or neglectful
As to dare a big mistake?

Can we say the opposition
Is impartial in their stand?
Or is profit in their venture
Apt to hold the upper hand?

If the health of all our loved ones
Is admittedly our goal,
To whom should we go for guidance,
'Ere we chance a final poll?

Should it be the family doctor
Who has counseled all the way?
Or the man who seeks to profit
By his sales from day to day?

Michigan ranks high in getting anti-poverty funds

BY ELMER E. WHITE
Michigan Press Ass'n.

Action and research programs on poverty have brought Michigan well into the top 10 among the states in receipt of federal funds for the war on poverty.

Latest figures indicate the Office of Economic Opportunity, which runs the nationwide anti-poverty program, has firm plans to spend well over $18 million in Michigan on various projects.

This gives Michigan a per-person average expenditure of $2.31 to rank fifth among the states, and Michigan rates third behind only California and Kentucky on the total figure.

MANY LOCAL projects are under way with previously received federal funds, and several regional or statewide plans are at various stages of progress.

Three grants have been received, for example, for work being conducted by the Detroit group calling itself "Total Action Against Poverty."

Colleges and universities in Michigan have come into more than $500,000 for study and work projects this spring. Regionally and statewide, $1.3 million was received for programs to aid migratory workers.

AN EXTENSIVE urban job corps center at Fort Custer appears to be the biggest state project envisioned to date. Having already received about $7 million, several more millions are promised from federal sources if the program is effective.

Effectiveness of all these programs is still to be proven. If results can be seen in terms of improved living standards and decreased unemployment rolls, there would be few who would criticize the funds spent for the total program.

ESCHEATS WAS an uncommon word to the public eye until just a few short years ago.

to collect escheated funds—that is moneys left unclaimed for seven years or more. It was just within the past four years, however, that the state attorney general started an active campaign to spend money to get these dormant funds.

Now the state is planning to go a step further. A new bill passed this year and given immediate effect allows the state to go into the area of escheated life insurance death benefits, checks and wages.

THESE FUNDS previously were barred from collection under the state escheat law. Companies which had unclaimed insurance benefits, checks and wages just kept them in a fund and accumulated interest on them.

Legislators this year decided the state should rightfully collect these funds since it already was getting money from the sale of property and other amounts through the escheat process.

THE ESTIMATED amount of unpaid insurance benefits, wages and checks was a big factor in legislative determination to change the escheats law.

One estimate, from the assistant attorney general who specializes in escheats, is that the state would collect from $30 - $40 million initially under the law. After the first windfall, Asst. Atty. Gen. Irving Feldman said the amount would average $5 - $7 million annually.

SOME CONFUSION still can be seen at store counters as the result of Michigan's nearly year-old sales tax collection schedule. Most customers and some clerks still are not used to it.

When the four per cent sales tax was enacted, no state policy was set for collection by merchants. As a result more than one schedule was in use in various sections of the state.

Some merchants, particularly in the dime stores and other businesses with many small sales, complained that the schedule in use locally put them at a disadvantage.

THIS LACK OF uniformity resulted last year in legislative enactment of a sales tax bracket system calling for no tax on sales up to 12 cents, a penny on 13-21 cents, 2 cents on 32-54 cent purchases, 3 cents on 55-81 cents, 4 cents on 82 cents to $1.08, 5 cents up to $1.35, and 6 cents up to $1.62. A penny is added thereafter for each 25 cents or part of it spent.

"MICHIGAN: DYNAMIC IN WORLD PROGRESS"

This is the slogan chosen for Michigan Week, which we are now celebrating. Michigan Week objectives are to give Michigan citizens greater knowledge and appreciation of their state; to brag a bit about the state's assets and resources for industry, business, education and recreation; and to bring to the world a better realization of Michigan's many advantages. Also, it's to foster a spirit of cooperation among Michigan's citizens so that all will work together to make our state even more livable and attractive.

THOUGH Michigan is most famous throughout the country and even the world for the automobile, it is the duty of all of us to tell the world about some of Michigan's other advantages. It was one of the first to establish colleges and provide for them. It has a fine network of historical museums which are part of its educational system. Historical restorations in Upper Michigan focus attention on its colorful past.

And, of course, Michigan is outstanding in its recreational facilities. Almost surrounded by the largest fresh-water lakes in the world as well as having hundreds of smaller lakes in its boundaries, there can be no better place for year-round fun than in our own state.

CULTURAL opportunities are plentiful as well as many in the field of organized sports. Throughout the years Michigan has excelled in these and won national attention.

The Bement Library has many books on its Michigan shelves that will give you the true story of our great state. Come to the library during Michigan Week and read.

New books that have appeared in recent months that have Michigan as their locale are "American Chrome" by Edwin Gilbert, "Forgotten Yesterdays" by Merritt Greene, and "The Only Thing Worth Finding" by Arthur Pound.

"AMERICAN CHROME" is a novel based on the automobile industry in Detroit and on the families who gained great wealth from that industry.

"Forgotten Yesterdays" by Greene is a novel written about the exile of the Indians from Michigan, a lamentable chapter of the state's past.

"The Only Thing Worth Finding" gives the life and legacies of George Gough Booth, which has enriched the lives of many Detroit and Michigan citizens.

COUNTRY FLAVOR

Shining hours of spring reflect tide of green

HAYDEN PEARSON

It is glorious time of year and the heart lifts to the shining hours that give us a flowering world. At dawn when the light rays paint pictures on the hills and robins carol from the old orchard behind the barn, you can see, smell and hear the promise that has never failed.

THIS IS THE "Growing Rain" month, and open lands and woodlands respond to the Master Plan. Along country roads the fiddleheads unroll; cinquefoil blossoms are golden dots on grassy pasture knolls; violets reflect the blue of the sky on creek banks; and peonies beneath farmhouse windows push glowing brown-gold heads above dark soil.

Spring's green tide sweeps over the meadows and valleys; it climbs upland fields and covers pasture hillsides. Each shining day one can see the welcome change as the sun climbs higher and blossoms and leaves tell us a new season is coming with a rush.

Warblers return from the southland and orioles sing from high elms; ovenbirds call "Teacher" from the woods; black crows survey the fields that men are plowing for the season's crops and the wood peewee's plaintive calls echo through the day.

IT IS SHINING world of gold and green. For a few poignantly beautiful days, the soft colors of starting leaves on the hillsides remind one of a misty Corot.

Each day the sun climbs higher; each day the countryman savors the fragrances and beauty of the fifth month. To him who is sensitive, the shining hours of May also mean a glow in the heart.

Change in family size influences egg-using habits

Change in family size and age is the main reason why people change their egg-buying and egg-using habits. This is the conclusion of J. M. Skala, University of Wisconsin poultry specialist, from a survey conducted among a sample of about 600 women living in the nine major cities of Wisconsin. The same presumably would apply in Michigan.

About half of the women said they changed their level of egg use in the preceding year, and about three-fourths of those who changed reported an increase in use. When asked if they had read or heard anything about fats and cholesterol in foods, a big majority said they had. But only a very small percentage—3 per cent—cut down their egg use because of this.

THIS WISCONSIN finding is somewhat different from that obtained in a national study carried out in 1958. Nationally, fewer people were aware of the relationship between health and the use of eggs, and more of them were influenced in their egg-eating habits by information they read.

Skala says that "these relationships received considerably more treatment in the scientific and popular press between the time of the national study and the presently reported one."

THIS COULD explain to some extent the fact that in Skala's study, more people knew about this relationship but fewer considered egg consumption as possibly harmful.

Other results of the survey indicate that frying and scrambling were the most frequently used methods of preparing eggs, while poaching was not used by almost half of the respondents.

ACCORDING TO Skala's study, the most important characteristic looked for by people when buying eggs is freshness, although shopping convenience appears to be an influence. People will consider, for example, how conveniently located a store is (as well as freshness of the eggs) when making a purchase. The majority of women bought eggs by the dozen and at least once a week. The most frequently purchased size was large.

Finally, as far as complaints by consumers are concerned, Skala found that people who complained were concerned with freshness, blood-spots, off-flavor and off-odor, broken shells and egg size. But only one-sixth of the women in this survey registered complaints about recent purchases.

Cites need to cultivate attitude of conservation

By D. A. WILLIAMS
Administrator
Soil Conservation Service

Our imagination leaps to engage more profound mysteries.

It is imperative, in the face of this remarkable boldness, that we pause with each unfoldment to understand our role and its meaning.

WE ARE stewards of what we survey. Whatever we may chance to discover about our world, or worlds beyond, we are privileged by a Higher Authority than ourselves. The rewards of this privilege are accompanied by serious obligations. Nowhere will we be more constrained to meet our responsibility, to honor our trust, to discharge our obligation as stewards, than on earth with its soil and water resources, the stuff on which, after all, our lives depend.

We have learned from bitter experience the price of disregard for those obligations. Where we misused and abused the land we reaped subsequently the floods and dust and utter desolation.

WE, IN America, have survived those mistakes. We are earnestly endeavoring to husband and develop our soil and water resources—to heal the scars of our land. In this effort there are yet too many who believe the problems of soil and water to be problems only for the land owner and operator. They must be impressed with the meaning of stewardship.

They must come to know that although our resources to meet present and future needs are adequate, they will remain adequate

With dominion over the earth and the fullness thereof, man bears a great responsibility to his Maker, to himself and to all the living world around him—a responsibility for maintaining and developing the natural endowments with which he co-habits the earth.

Each year we give recognition to an important part of this responsibility in observance of Soil Stewardship Week. We do so this year from May 23 through 30 with the theme "The Challenge of Growth." We acknowledge man's dependence on the soil and his duty to care for it. We have come to know that a land of conservation is a land of plenty.

OUR conservation responsibility is a product of the growth that characterizes the United States, and growth presents a challenge that becomes more demanding with time.

Midway the decade of the Sixties, as we venture into the total and awesome universe, we are fast becoming aware of an extension of man's responsibility. There dawns upon us the realization that, bit by bit, man is slipping his veil of ignorance and misunderstanding, sweeping aside the aged shrouds of timidity and fear, to approach new horizons of human achievement.

IN THE laboratory, on the soil, beneath the sea and into space, our forays into the unknown in search of the "whys" and "hows" bring us always closer to truths we have only vaguely suspected.

Narrow rows hike pickle yields Call 4-H meeting on entomology

Cucumber production can be increased as much as 88 per cent with narrow row planting, reports a Michigan State University horticulturist.

Clark W. Nicklow says experiments in the Thumb area of Michigan showed an average of 88 per cent increase in yields from plots with 24-inch spacing between rows compared with plots with 60-inch spacing.

A SPACING of 42 inches between rows resulted in an average of 68 per cent increase over the 60-inch rows.

Standard spacing used by growers in this area is 56 inches. Plant spacing within the rows had little effect on yields.

A meeting for anyone interested in entomology, particularly designed for 4-H project members and leaders, will be held at Smith Hall next Wednesday, May 26, at 8 p.m.

Basic information on insect collection, identification, mounting, life-cycle studies, plastic embedment and other pertinent information will be presented.

Mrs. Clyde Peck, chairman of the county entomology project committee, will be in charge of the two-hour session. She will be assisted by those who attended the leader training meeting at Camp Kett and other resource people. Dr. Al Dowdy of MSU's entomology department will also be present.

Dow Anhydrous Ammonia: Lowest cost form of nitrogen in the field.

The reason is, anhydrous ammonia gives you far more nitrogen per pound than any other nitrogen fertilizer. Which means it takes far less Dow ANHYDROUS AMMONIA to do the job than it does with any other form of nitrogen fertilizer. If you're planting corn on corn, it will take 150 to 200 pounds of nitrogen per acre to decay the old stalks and still have the nitrogen you need for high yields. Supply this nitrogen with Dow ANHYDROUS AMMONIA and you may save $6 to $8 an acre. And boost crop yield quality and feed grain protein content while you do it. It's so long-lasting one application is all you need. See us today for details. And save some money for a change.

Cattle manure lagoons tests show favorable results, but use limited

Will manure lagoons come to the cattle business? Very possible, if University of Wisconsin research results continue favorable. But use probably will be limited to specialized livestock and poultry farms in congested areas where manure can't be spread on the fields, say agricultural engineers.

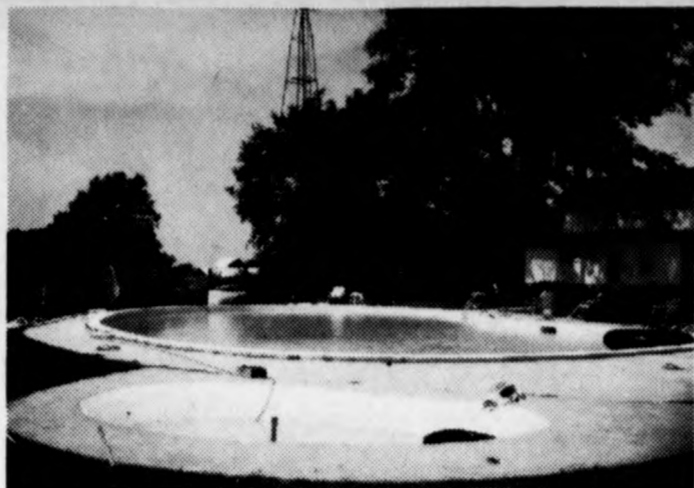

The researchers found bacteria in the lagoon dominated by the type that break down proteins and nitrogen compounds. One decomposition product is ammonia which makes the lagoon alkaline. Most bacteria thrive in these conditions.

They also found high populations of bacteria that break down cellulose, sugar and pectin, the high fiber materials in the manure. Many of these are anaerobic—they work in the absence of oxygen. Anaerobic bacteria are often putrefactive, producing methane and hydrogen sulfide gas, but almost none of these types were found in the lagoon. So, there was no bad odor such as swine and poultry lagoons often have.

The different bacteria found in the lagoon seem to be ideal to decompose cattle manure effectively. The researchers calculate that the bulls produced 16 tons of manure on a dry matter basis in a year. Bacterial decomposition reduced this to about 500 pounds of sludge in the pond, indicating that more than 95 per cent of the manure was digested.

Liquid manure (animal wastes diluted with from three to 10 parts of water) piped into a lagoon for disposal must meet several sanitation and engineering requirements. It must decompose without objectionable odors. If there is overflow, the liquid residues remaining must not carry bacteria that will pollute surface waters. Manure lagoons must be constructed with a tight soil to protect ground water from pollution.

Farm swimming pools may no longer be considered a luxury. They are now being recognized as an excellent water supply in case of fire in rural areas, and the majority of pools hold more than enough to meet these demands.

Farm swimming pools valuable in fighting fires

During 1963 farm fire property losses amounted to $191 million—up 9 per cent from 1962. One-third of all fire and lightning damage in 1963 was to barns and their contents. Livestock ranked high in these property losses.

Farm fires inflict six times as much damage as city fires. The major reasons for the difference are the relative isolation of farms, lack of fire-fighting equipment, unavailability of water, and—in some cases—less rigid standards for wiring and Water entering the lagoon also had some streptococci organisms common to the digestive tract. These populations were smaller but still could be dangerous in ground water. Their numbers decreased rapidly in the lagoon, however.

THE RESEARCHERS also report algae present in the upper few inches of the lagoon. Algae probably aren't important to decomposition itself, but they in-construction. Fire and lightning hits two out of every hundred farms each year.

THERE ARE many means that farmers can use to protect their property from fire losses. Carefully located fire extinguishers, fire cisterns or nearby ponds—even swimming pools—can be used to reduce the severity of farm fires.

Swimming pools are increasingly recognized as sources of emergency water to fight farm fires. Records of rural fire departments show that 3,000 gallons of water are adequate to control most farm fires. Since most swimming pools hold at least 4,000 to 6,000 gallons, they are more than adequate as a ready source of water.

A HYDRANT should be installed to tap into the swimming pool water if it is needed to combat a fire. So a swimming pool—long the symbol of fun—can more than pay its own way. It is a means of fighting farm fires as well as a place of relaxation.

Forage Day set for May 26

Farmers in the southern and western areas of Michigan can get first hand reports on forage research and the latest hay harvesting equipment next Wednesday, May 26.

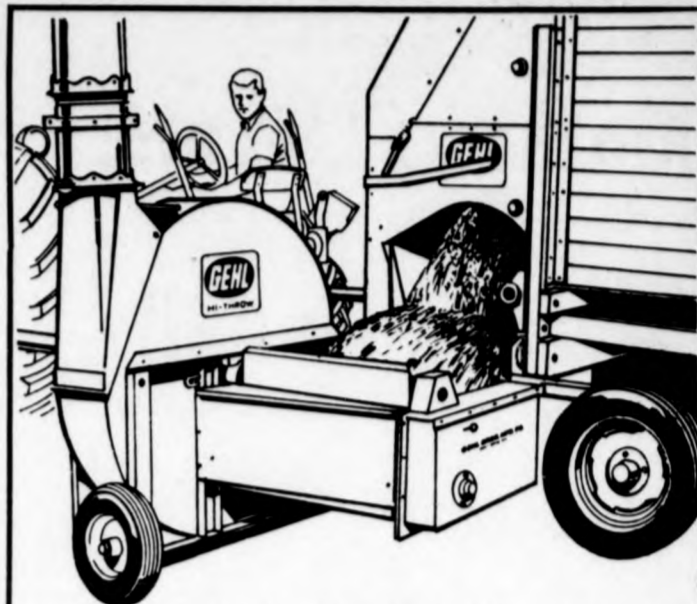

That's the date Forage Day will be held at the Kellogg Biological Farm at Hickory Corners. The event will get under way at 9:30 a.m. and continue until 3:30 p.m., says Vernon Hinz, Kalamazoo County Cooperative Extension Service director.

ALL TYPES of forage harvesting equipment—including mowers, windrowers, conditioners, choppers, balers, tractors, rakes forage wagons and blowers—will be on display throughout the day. Demonstrations of mowers, conditioners and windrowers will be held at 10 a.m.

Tours of demonstration plots showing forage variety trials, various seeding rates and chemical weed control will start at 11 a.m. Demonstrations of chopping and silo filling equipment will get under way at 2 p.m.

Consider long-range costs of fence posts

Farmers sometimes don't take all costs into account when buying and using fence posts. Too often they base their choice only on low initial cost. But this choice doesn't necessarily mean farmers are using the most economical posts, says T. A. Peterson, University of Wisconsin forestry specialist.

They should pay more attention to heartwood volume and durability when using fence post material from the farm woods, Peterson advises. A highly durable post can spread the initial cost over a longer period of time, reducing the average cost per year.

FENCE WIRE lasts 20 to 25 years, he says. If wooden posts can be made to last that long, instead of requiring replacement every three to seven years, the farmer saves both labor and cash outlay.

The heartwood of native trees is usually darker in color than the outer sapwood zone, Peterson points out. Some species have a more durable heartwood than others. Non-durable species, such as aspen, birch, hickory, maple and pine, generally last only about three years. Moderately durable species used for fencing include elm, tamarack and red oak. They last about seven years when not treated.

DURABLE WOODS of white and red cedar, burr and white oak give a service life of 12 years as untreated posts.

Peterson points out that you can expect any species well treated with a good wood preservative to give a service life of 25 years. This more than equals the service expected from steel fence posts.

The initial cost of untreated seven-foot wooden posts of any species is 40-60 cents per post. An average service life of three years for non-durable species gives them an annual cost of 13 to 20 cents. Moderately durable woods, averaging seven years of service, bring the cost down to 6 to 9 cents per post a year. The 12-year service life of durable species reduces their yearly cost to 3 to 5 cents.

PRESERVATIVE treated posts generally last somewhat longer than steel, and are less expensive, he points out. Labor costs involved in setting posts are higher than for steel. Treated wooden posts set in place cost 75-90 cents, as compared to $1 for a steel post of the same height. Average life for the wood post is 25 years; for the steel post, 20 years. This puts annual costs for the wood post as 3 to 4 cents, Peterson says. Annual costs for the steel post average 5 cents.

He points out that unless you have naturally durable species for posts, preservative treatment is the answer to fencing economy. Pressure-treatment usually gives the longest service life. However, this requires an immediate cash outlay, which you may not be able to afford at the time. Peterson suggests treating your own posts by one of several home-use methods as an economical alternative.

GOOD preservatives and effective treatments are available. The one you choose depends largely on the wood species available and local situations.

Di-Syston now available in a special bean fertilizer.

For effective protection against Mexican bean beetle (larvae), leaf hoppers, aphids, mites and thrips.

Davison Chemical Division of W. R. Grace & Company through arrangements made with Chemagro Corp. will be mixing Di-Syston in a 10-20-10 Wonder Gro with 2 per cent Manganese, 1 per cent Zinc, and .4 per cent Di-Syston per ton. This fertilizer is specially prepared to apply at the rate of 250 pounds per acre at planting time.

Di-Syston is a systemic insecticide entering the plant by absorption through the roots. The insecticide placed near the roots is translocated to all parts of the plant and kills sucking insects feeding on the plant. The active ingredient is released slowly, giving long protection during the plants susceptible early life.

Consider the convenience of a complete bean fertilizer with Di-Syston. Easier to handle, one trip over the field and the job is completed. Safer to handle as less concentrated.

New chemicals kill elm disease

Chemicals can be injected into trees to kill the elm bark beetle which carries Dutch elm disease. But the chemicals may injure or kill the tree if they aren't applied by a careful technician.

This is the problem being worked on by Dale Norris, University of Wisconsin insect specialist. Norris has been testing systemic insecticides for a number of years trying to find one which can be injected into the tree to kill the beetle without harming the tree. He's making progress in this direction.

IN THE LATEST testing Norris has found several chemicals which give 100 per cent kill of elm bark beetles feeding on young twigs within 24 hours after injection.

These materials have a common chemical structure which accounts for their action. This seems to give them greater solubility in the tree sap and makes them easier to be moved within the tree from the point of injection to where the beetles are feeding. This particular phosphate structure is the key to new insecticides which may be effective in the fight against the elm bark beetle and other insects that attack inner bark of trees.

ONE OF THE big problems, says Norris, is that all of the materials tested may be toxic to certain elm trees. Incorrect dosage may make a tree drop all its foliage, and even kill the tree within a few weeks after injection. A material called Bidrin seems to be the least toxic and injured only 5 to 20 per cent of the foliage of the trees tested.

Systematic control of the elm bark beetle seems to be the best prospect for success in controlling Dutch elm disease. Systemic chemicals are injected using sealed capsules attached to the trees.

MOST OF the materials that Norris has used have killed beetles within one day. The materials decompose and become ineffective after a period of time. Norris found in earlier research that the elm bark beetle does its most destructive feeding on the young twigs of elm trees for about 30 days in the spring. He makes the injection of the chemical at this time for the most effective kill.

Michigan's egg production isn't figured in millions; it's in billions—1.316 billion last year. The value to the producer was $34 million. This huge egg volume is a trifle under half of the state's egg consumption. Michigan is 22nd in national standing in egg production.

Farm wife who helps with chores has bigger voice in farm finances

The farm wife who helps with chores and drives the tractor is likely to have a bigger voice in buying equipment for the farm than her house-bound counterpart, says E. A. Wilkening, rural sociologist at the University of Wisconsin.

He based this conclusion on interviews with more than 500 operators and their wives around the state of Wisconsin. Some characteristics of the farm, the husband, and the wife make it possible to predict how much voice the farm wife will have in management and financial decisions.

THE FARMER who has had education and agricultural training, who operates a large farm and who married a girl from town is more likely to make the big decisions by himself on buying land and equipment.

The farmer with a lot of experience, higher education and a higher farm income is also likely to make the farm decisions, though he may discuss them with his wife.

BUT WHEN YOU consider a farmer who works off the farm at a town job, road work or custom work, the wife is more likely to have a bigger say in the operation of the home farm.

Farm wives' involvement in management depends on how big the family is, how many children are at home, and the stage of the family life cycle. Wives who have a number of young children at home are less likely to be involved in the big farm operation and farm credit decisions.

WHEN THE farm wife is the main record-keeper and bill-payer for the farm, who also has more say in land and equipment buying and farm operating decisions.

Wilkening also found out how husbands and wives make household and family decisions. The more educated wife on a big farm with good income is more likely to make independent decisions about food and family entertainment.

THE HUSBAND who works off the farm often becomes less involved in making household decisions as well as farm decisions. But if the wife works off the farm, she is likely to make the main decisions about home furnishings, maintenance, food and entertainment.

The more social activity the farm wife has the more likely she is to take the initiative at home on her family food and entertainment decisions.

THIS STUDY is a part of a long range one to find out how the farm family is involved in various decisions and duties on the farm and in the home. Wilkening has found that farm wives are involved in many farm operations and that farm children start helping with farm chores at an early age.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

Michigan is dynamic in world progress! The days of isolationism in the American Midwest are long past—if our people were as isolationist as they were said to be. Today our citizens are vigorously aware of being an important part of an interdependent world.

The St. Lawrence Seaway, for example, affords direct service between Michigan ports and every other deep-water port in the world—with over 700 vessels a year passing through the Seaway.

In 1963, Michigan's gross state product totaled over $26 billion, an amount exceeded by the gross national product of only 10 countries. In that year Michigan exported $1.36 billion worth of goods and imported more than a billion dollars worth. Our principal export, of course, is transportation equipment, over a half billion dollars worth; and our second largest export is machine tools, nearly $300 million in 1963.

From the outside point of view, Michigan has much to offer the investor: an abundance of raw materials, excellent land, a diversity of transportation, a vast and highly skilled labor force, and more than 200 research centers. Why, in 1963 more than $600 million was spent on research and development in Michigan.

THIS PROGRESS is continuing. The 1964 total for new plant expansion was a record $1.6 billion. Already expenditures of more than $616 million for new plant facilities have been announced by Michigan companies during the first three months of 1965.

But our most important resource is our human resource—we have great people. Studies have shown our workers to be among the most productive in the world. We have been blessed with many responsible leaders in all fields of endeavor as well as innumerable active, concerned citizens. We can also point with pride to the contributions Michigan people have made and are making in communities around the world—helping other people to help themselves.

I AM PROUD to be from Michigan—a state "Dynamic in World Progress." And I hope that Michigan Week 1965, coming on the eve of our summer tourist season, will serve as a reminder to all of us to demonstrate to all visitors the hospitality and friendliness that is inherent in the "Spirit of Michigan."

Measles not just a minor disease

Measles isn't minor, according to State Health Commissioner Dr Albert E. Heustis, who said that the childhood disease was responsible for 11 deaths last year and 27 the year before.

"That's 38 tragic deaths which could have been prevented, because vaccines to protect against measles were available," he said.

WHILE THE killing and crippling diseases such as polio, diphtheria, and whooping cough were stalking the land, killing thousands of infants and children each year in Michigan, little attention was focused on measles, which was generally considered to be more of an inconvenience than a threat to life, the commissioner said.

"But now that immunizations have brought the main killers under control, measles can be seen in its true identity as a potential killer."

MEDICAL SCIENCE has recognized it as a disease responsible for hundreds of deaths each year in the United States as well as a suspected high incidence of hearing, vision, and mental impairment, and has taken great strides in the development of effective vaccines.

However, the public attitude towards measles is not changing as rapidly—at least not enough to prompt a demand for the vaccine similar to the rush for Salk vaccine when it was first introduced," Dr Heustis said.

ABOUT 90 PER CENT of the children get the disease at one time or another before they reach 15—usually at a most inconvenient time from the parents' standpoint, according to the commissioner. It is a leading cause of school absenteeism, primarily in the early grades.

He said that most of the cases occur around the age of four, while most of the deaths occur under two years of age. Secondary infections, such as pneumonia, occur in about 20 per cent of the cases, and encephalitis in about one case in every thousand.

"DEATHS DUE to measles have declined markedly since the introduction of antibiotics to control secondary infections, and the use of gamma globulin to modify the effects of the disease itself," Dr Heustis said, "but the element of risk is still present.

"The odds are about one in two thousand that your child will die if he gets measles, and the younger the child, the greater the risk.

"WE ARE RIGHT in the middle of the measles season," Dr Heustis said. "If your children have not had the disease yet, I urge you to consult your family physician about protecting them with measles vaccine."

In 1964, Michigan produced almost 55 million pounds of cottage cheese to place fifth in production among the states. Nearly 30 million pounds of the American-type cheese, and more than 4 million pounds of Italian-style cheese were produced. It placed 10th in the production of the former and placed seventh in production of the latter cheese.

Healing... Will God Answer?

Please excuse this personal matter, but I'm slowly dying... three to six months at the most to live. I'm 34 years old... Thus wrote a young man to a church magazine recently. The case was touching and immediately made you ask, "Wouldn't God heal that person?"

Opinions differ as to whether God will heal today or not. He did heal when he was on the earth but some people believe this was part of His earthly ministry which ended with His ascension. "The day of miracles is over," these individuals contend.

The prophet records in the fifty-third chapter of Isaiah, "But He (Jesus) was wounded for our transgressions. He was bruised for our iniquities; the chastisement of our peace was upon Him; and with His stripes we are healed."

God's Word outlines conditions for every blessing. If we want healing we are told (among other things) to confess our faults (James 5:16), pray through to real faith (Hebrews 4:16 and 11:6), read God's Word (Romans 10:17) and forgive those who have wronged us (Mark 11:25, 26).

Perhaps you are ill and need a touch from God, or you may have friends who need supernatural help. Write for additional information on how you can receive healing from God.

The Church of Your Choice

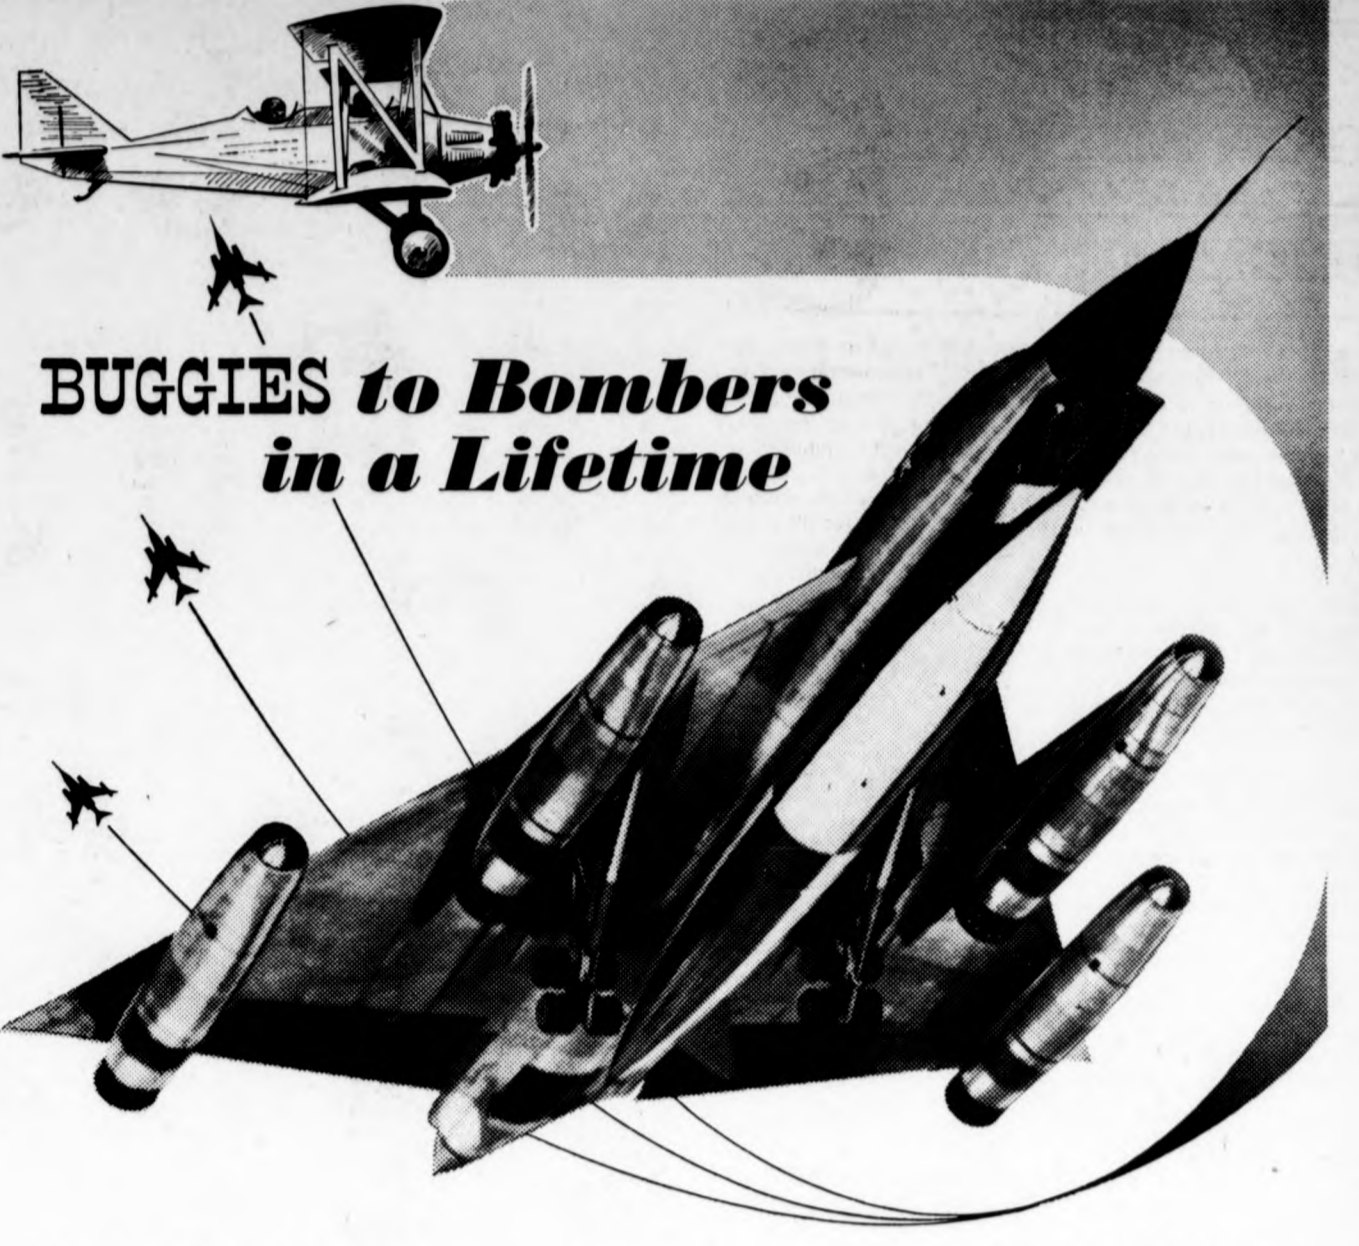

With few exceptions, all pagan nations have interpreted calamity such as famine, pestilence or defeat in battle, as evidence that their gods were displeased with them in some respect. It is little wonder then that when our nation gets into another brush war with Vietnam or a civil revolution breaks out in our own nation, that some pious pagans begin to beat the drums and keep the gods in good humor by getting a number of people to attend the church of their choice. Some have hoped somehow that if enough people would take out one hour of their time for worship on Sunday morning then God would be pleased enough with their sacrifice to lend a helping hand. Might I suggest that God would be much more pleased if men would repent of their cursing, would close their liquor joints and their Sunday sports events, in moral movies and the like. If men would set themselves against popular sins and accept Jesus Christ as the Lord and Saviour of their lives there would be rejoicing in heaven. The sorrows of this rebellious world are exactly as the Bible said would come. Attending the church of your choice is not enough—repentance and faith are desperately needed. This would be BIG MEDICINE indeed!

BUGGIES to Bombers in a Lifetime

The other day Grandad read an account in our newspaper about the miraculous speed of a B-58 bomber. He contrasted this accomplishment with the experience in his youth when he spotted his first airplane five miles outside of town—and then rode a bicycle into town in time to see the plane circling the capitol building.

It seems incredible the technological advances mankind has made in the past fifty years. Men who rode to Sunday School by horse and buggy as boys, today follow the flight of astronauts on TV. Their wives do the family laundry with the twist of a dial, and their grandchildren learn Algebra from programmed textbooks.

One unchanging fact remains. Man still needs God as the center and circumference of his life. And the Church, as God's expression, remains constant in the teaching of His Truths.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Mothers' party set in Japanese motif

ELSIE— The Woman's Literary Club devotes one program each year to the older women of Elsie. This year's program was held Tuesday evening in the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church as a post-Mother's Day Party.

The table settings were in a Japanese motif with a miniature rickshaw and umbrella marking each person's place for the fruit and rice dessert that followed the program.

Larger umbrellas, Japanese lanterns and cherry blossoms centered the tables and colored slides were shown of such cities as Yokohama, Tokyo, Kyoto and Nikko.

The pictures were taken by Lynn Peltier, son of Mr and Mrs Howard Peltier, while with the USN and stationed, for nearly 3 years, in Japan. Lynn, a graduate of Elsie High School and Michigan State University, has a BS degree in engineering and a master's in business administration and is now in statistical analysis at MSU.

HE TRAVELED to various parts of the four islands of Japan during his stay. For the program, he chose only the slides that showed the Japanese people in their native dress, customs, and work and play.

The slides included Buddhist temples and Shinto shrines, centuries-old, Fyjiyama, Nara's 13-foot bell in the world's largest wooden building, named Dai-butsu-den, the Japanese Alps, Nikko National Park, Chinatown section of Yokohama, and the Oriental gardens.

Peltier also commented on the Japanese souvenirs that were arranged to supplement his program. Among the items were a yakata (black cotton robe), geta (wooden cloggers), 50 yen note and 5 yen piece, and a hand-made fan.

MRS LUNSFORD Melvin who introduced the speaker was assisted in program arrangements by Mrs James Collis.

Vocal music was presented by Ovid High School girls under the supervision of James Keating with several selections by the following groups: Diane Hiller, Shelley Hall and Marie Huss; Carlene Craig, Charlene and Valerie Sexton; and Nancy and Paula Darling.

Mrs Durward Conklin announced that the final meeting at the Elsie High School Home Ec room would be held Tuesday evening, May 18.

The following committees were in charge of the Mothers' party: hostesses, Mrs Leroy Vincent, Mrs Blanche Bates, Mrs Russell Bouck, Mrs Duane Green, Mrs Leon Williams and Mrs B. M. Woolley; decoration and table arrangements, Mrs Myron Tethal, Mrs Nellie Spiegel, Mrs Merle Green and Mrs Woodrow Basher; invitations, Mrs R. C. Parks and Mrs C. S. Goodrich; and refreshments and serving, Mrs Everett Rule, Mrs Garth Brewbaker, Mrs Jack Hawes, Mrs Ouida Smith, Mrs Lewis Carter and Mrs Stanley Kidas.

Job becomes party for Elsie woman

ELSIE— Mrs Gerald Carroll accompanied her husband to the Robert Justice home in Elsie Saturday evening with plans to help install a new window.

She was surprised to find 40 relatives assembled for a party in observance of her birthday.

Games and visiting provided entertainment, after which Mrs Justice, Mrs Edna Hehrer and Evelyn Hehrer served a buffet supper. A birthday cake, decorated by Mrs Justice, centered the table. Guests were present from Grand Rapids, Owosso and the Elsie area.

Hugh McCullough returned to the hospital after being home for a few days.

Mrs John Phelps returned from the Owosso Memorial Hospital following major surgery.

Weekend guests at the home of Mr and Mrs Loyal Hinkley were Diane Gahan of Grand Rapids, Julane Jose of Houghton and Nancy Bird of Roseville, roommates of their daughter, Dolores, at Central Michigan University.

EHS installs PTA officers

ELSIE— Retiring president, George Keck installed Lyle Acre, new PTA president, and Mrs Robert (Doris) Moore, vice president, and Mrs Raymond Stewart and Mrs Alpha Grubaugh renewed their pledges as secretary and treasurer at Elsie High School Monday evening.

Keck expressed appreciation for the cooperation of the officers and members.

Among the other officers named to the executive board were: Mrs Jeanne Temple and Mrs Leota Kidas, representing the Knight Elementary School; Mrs Charles Kridner, the rural schools; Mrs Richard Sturgis, Mrs Eugene Stauffer and George Keck, parents; Mrs Ray Peck and Mrs J. D. Washburn, membership; Mrs Sidney Keys, publicity; and Mrs Blair Daley, Mrs Gordon Mead and Mrs Don Brewbaker, refreshments.

DURING the meeting, suggestions were offered and discussed for next year's programs as this was the final meeting before recessing for the summer vacation.

A program of mat tumbling, balance and free form exercises was presented by physical education students under the direction of Mrs Jerry Ann Beaufore and Mrs Sue Cerny. Formations and exercises were demonstrated by Celeste Buck, Betty Farr, Beverly Streeter, Vicky Cerny, Kay Ladiski and Susan Farr.

Following the exhibition, there was a social hour with refreshments served by Mrs John Hibbler and Mrs Alfred Heath with 7th grade mothers furnishing cookies.

Acre announced that the next executive board meeting will be held Aug. 23.

Elsie meetings

ELSIE— The Women's Christian Society of Service of the Elsie Baptist Church will hold a rummage sale at 135 East Main Street on Friday and Saturday, May 21 and 22.

The Band Boosters will hold a special meeting Monday, May 24, at 8 p.m. in the EHS band room. This is the final meeting of the season and future plans will be made for the summer events and there will be a discussion on next year, covering the time before merger of the high schools of Ovid and Elsie.

Charles Kridner underwent major surgery at the Carson City Hospital Thursday.

Church members fete 11 seniors at buffet here

ELSIE— "Do your best in all things. You cannot do more. You should never wish to do less" was written in gold letters on a white cake that centered the guest table in Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church Thursday evening.

These words were the EHS senior class motto and together with a miniature diploma, mortarboard and a white carnation, the class flower, decorated the cake made by Mrs Harold Hehrer of rural Elsie.

The occasion was a buffet supper and program honoring the church's eleven members of the graduating class. They were: Randy Buckner, Ross Carter, Glen Geiger, Donna Grubaugh, Michael Hinkley, Lissa Knight, Betty Lytle, Larry Melvin, Kerry Reed, Penny Sturgis and Marsha Smith.

Principal Ralph Stull gave the invocation, followed by Barbara Warner and Kathy Melvin singing "Bless This House" and "Graduation Day."

Rev Walter S. Easton gave a few remarks pertinent to the future of the seniors and the continuation of their spiritual training.

Penny Sturgis, president of the Methodist Youth Fellowship, introduced her fellow classmates, who in turn presented their parents and related their plans after graduation. All of them expect to work this summer. In the fall eight will enter college, two will join the US services and one will continue working.

Jennifer Keys played a piano arrangement of "Tonight" from the West Side Story musical production.

Mrs Lawrence Hess, on behalf of the WSCS, presented each graduate with a Bible.

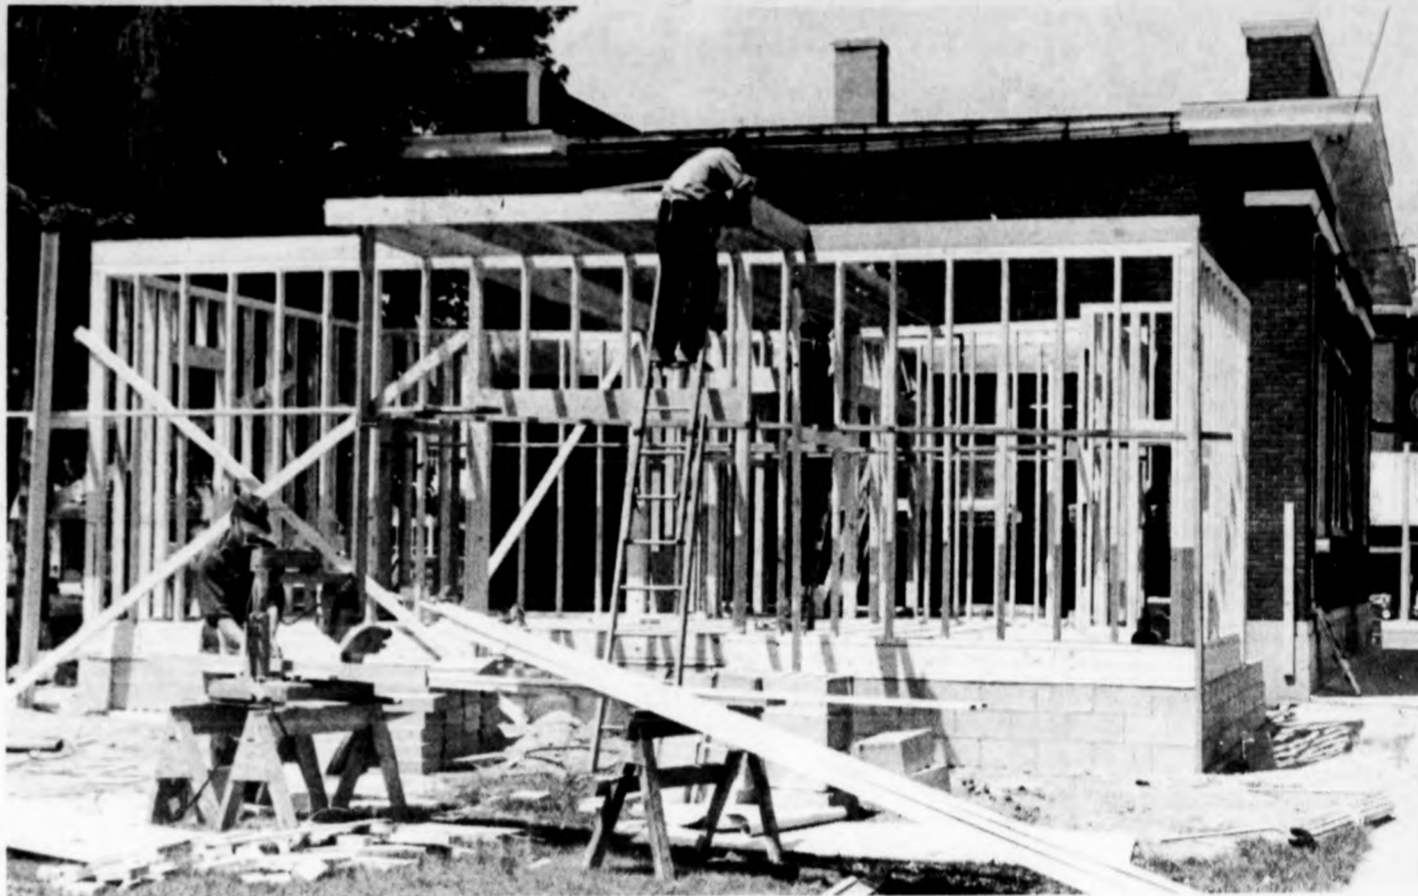

The Marie Circle served as kitchen committee while Mrs Lawrence Hess and Mrs William Baker headed the dining room and program committee. The table centerpiecees were placed through the courtesy of Mrs Boyce Woolley.

MORE ELSIE NEWS ON PAGE 11 C

Elsie taking on fresh, advancing look

A new addition to the rear of the Clinton National Bank building in Elsie is representative of the construction going on around Elsie this spring. The old clock at right on the front of the building was formerly on the St. Johns bank building.

ELSIE— There has been much activity on Elsie's Main Street the past few weeks. Cement bases for the street light poles were recently constructed and last week installation of new steel poles with boulevard type fixtures was begun. There will be additional poles, all relocated for better distribution of light, in the business district.

Several businessmen have installed larger water lines and drainage pipes before the resurfacing of the streets. New matting will be laid on Main Street from Ovid to First streets to eliminate the parking problems of the winter months.

NEW SIDEWALKS and curbing on both sides of the street will be constructed, including the north side of Main from Williams' Hardware to Bensinger's Barbershop.

The Lee Barthel Constructing Co. of Northville has the contract for this project. All of the improvements have been in the planning process for nearly three years. Last year, engineers drew up the specifications. Village President Kelley Carter and the council have worked toward this realization of the projects.

SEVERAL merchants are in the process of remodeling store fronts and other facilities. Sills' Party Store has an all plate-glass front, installed about a week ago, and other major changes have been taking place in the interior of the building.

Debar Chevrolet Co. is undergoing several changes with an enlarged show room, private offices, parts and service areas.

A drive-in entrance and window at the rear of the Elsie office of the Clinton National Bank and Trust Co. will facilitate more efficient service to the bank's patrons. The foundation has now been completed.

OTHERS are cleaning, painting or fixing-up to improve the all-over picture of Main Street.

Several new homes are under construction in the village, and 100 young trees have been set out this spring. The latter project included a free Crimson King Maple by the village to those who purchased similar trees to plant.

Traveling is topic of Homemakers Club

ELSIE— Mrs Russell Rivest was hostess in her rural home for the May 12 meeting of the West Elsie Homemakers Study Club.

The business section was presided over by vice-chairman, Mrs Burton Tabor. Tips on packing for traveling and favorite vacation spots were the subjects for roll call.

It was voted to send a check to the county nurse, Mrs Luella Canfield, for the purchase of diapers for the county. The group also planned a miscellaneous auction for their June meeting.

The study topic, "When the Family Decides to Travel," was discussed by Mrs Wayne Peck, Mrs Howard Whitaker and Mrs Burton Tabor.

Mrs Tabor brought pictures of places her family had seen and photographed on their trips over Michigan.

Two guests, Mrs George Lowrey, a former member and Mrs Fred Grubaugh who accepted the group's invitation to join, were present.

The next meeting, June 9, will be in the home of Mrs Burton Tabor. "Puppets" will be shown to the group at this time.

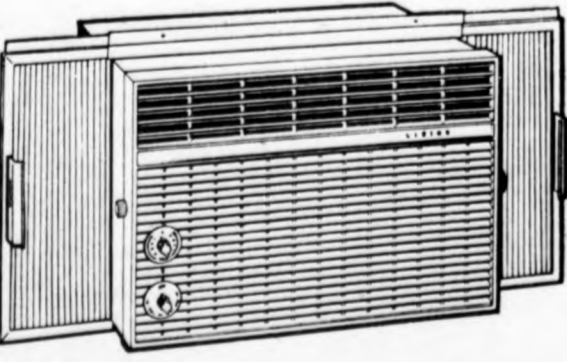

A workman tends to his cement work on new curbing in the Elsie business district Friday. Other visible signs of Elsie's springtime improvements are a new sidewalk on the south side of the street and new boulevard-type street lights in the business district. The new lights are already in use.

The St. Johns Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion and their auxiliaries will be selling buddy poppies on the streets of St. Johns this Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Linda Hallead elected queen

ELSIE— New officers were elected at the Monday night meeting of the Ovid Job's Daughters.

Linda Hallead of Ovid was chosen honored queen; Patricia Kridner of Elsie, senior princess; Gwenn Baker of Webberville, junior princess; Karen Hallead of Ovid, guide; and Gloria Richardson of Laingsburg, marshal. Other officers will be selected by Linda Hallead.

Cheryl Watson, past honored queen, presided in the absence of Honored Queen Patricia Dunay who was attending the FHA Banquet in Ashley High School, where she is a senior.

Plans were completed for the reception honoring Sarah Lott, past honored queen of the Ovid Bethel, present 5th messenger of the Michigan Grand Bethel. It will be held Saturday evening in the Ovid VFW Hall and invitations have been sent to various Masonic-related organizations in the state.

Proficiency tests were held for Kathy Rummell, Karen Elrod and Joy Miller.

Miss Watson announced the following schedule of events: installation ceremonies at Lansing and Alma, June 5, Highland Park, June 11, Owosso, June 12, Ovid and also Corunna, June 19; and Grand Session Silver Anniversary at Grand Rapids, June 24, 25 and 26.

Two carloads of persons from the Ovid Bethel attended Royalty Night at the Belding Bethel on Friday evening. This was one of the only three held in the state.

Mrs Dale C. Levey entered Sparrow Hospital in Lansing Friday afternoon and underwent major surgery Saturday morning. Her room number is 123 E.

We Take A Back Seat To No One!

Michigan is a great industrial state. True. But don't forget about us. Who are we? We're farmers. Michigan farmers. And we're part of the largest industry in the United States. Agriculture. Fact is, American farmers buy more, sell more, create more jobs than any other industry. Why, in "industrial" Michigan alone, annual cash receipts from farm marketing amount to over $750 million. Dairying—Michigan's largest single farm activity—accounts for 27% of that total. Over $200 million.

So you see, in Michigan, no one has to take a back seat. Industry and agriculture ride side by side. And we're going places!

- Spring concert includes opera
 A St. Johns audience was entertained with songs ranging from grand opera to popular last Thursday in the auditorium of Rodney B. Wilson High School.
 The spring concert which featured Brunetta Mazzolini Graham of San Francisco, daughter of Mrs Bruno Mazzolini of 407 South Clinton Ave., was sponsored by St. Joseph's Altar Society. Accompanist was John Irwin, music professor at Michigan State University.
 DURING the first part of the concert, Brunetta entertained the audience with arias from such operas as "The Marriage of Figaro," "Falstaff," "The Masked Ball" and "La Boheme."
 Following intermission, her vocal selections were from the modern era and included tunes by Gershwin, Niles, Lara, Wright and Forrest, and Rogers and Hammerstein.
