'New Arrival' in City Park Deer Herd

The first of a number of expected "arrivals" at the St. Johns City Park zoo is this little fawn, born about 5 p. m. last Thursday. Photographed about 16 hours after birth, the little tyke was induced by park personnel to wobble around the pen, but like all babies, he was anxious to get some more sleep after mom made sure he wasn't harmed by the outsiders. Another mama deer in the park's herd of six deer had a baby Friday but it died. This one, dubbed "Albert" (?) is doing fine.

Sheridan hepatitis outbreak blamed on standing water

Requests for the closing of Sheridan Road School because of a hepatitis outbreak were rejected Friday after inspectors for the Michigan Department of Health found the school's maintenance "exceptional."

Eight verified cases of the virus, which attacks the liver, were reported by county health officials, but not all were school children. The cases were all confined to a small area immediately northwest of the school at 3701 N. Cedar Street.

THE HEPATITIS cases include four children, three parents and one teacher. LaRue Miller, chief of the section on environmental health for the State Health Department, said the fact that adults, too, were coming down with the disease indicated the cause of it was not at the school.

The outbreak of the cases was called to the Health Department's attention about last Thursday, and the department was requested by a number of parents to close the school. Frederick B. Kellow, sanitary engineer with the health department, visited and inspected Sheridan Road School. He reported the school being kept in a high state of cleanliness.

MILLER SAID all indications were that the cause of the disease was not in the school. Most likely, he said, it was from standing water that had become contaminated.

The incubation period of hepatitis is from 15 to 45 days, he said, which would coincide with a period of heavy rainfall in mid-April that left water standing on the ground and possibly contaminating wells with septic tank effluent.

THE SCHOOL district area north of Sheridan Road does not have sanitary sewers or a water system. Each property is serviced by its own well and own septic tank. The possibility of contamination has been brought up many times in the past, and an attempt was even made several months ago to form a sewerage district in that section of DeWitt Township to alleviate the problem.

Voters soundly rejected the proposed bond issue to finance the system, however.

"SEWERS IN the area definitely would help," Miller said Tuesday. "As far as a water system is concerned, there is not too much evidence that hepatitis is a water-borne disease. But we know that it can be spread by water."

"The environment here means a lot. When you have small lots, clay soil and a high ground water table you're pretty well licked. You can't put in wells and septic tanks and be safe."

DALE Chapman, Clinton County drain commissioner, confirmed health department reports that tests of water taken from open drains running through the small infested area indicated the presence of raw sewage. "We know we've got sewage in the area and plenty of it," he said.

There is a county drain in the southern DeWitt Township area, and also an inter-county drain, but neither is extremely close to the Sheridan Road school area where the hepatitis outbreak occurred.

INFECTED WATER appears to be the cause. Miller said it might likely have been contacted by children playing in standing water that was contaminated by sewerage that had come to the surface. He said that after a winter of being cooped up, children naturally would play in ponds such as those that occurred after the heavy rains.

Also pointing to the contamination as a probable cause, Miller said, is the fact that across Sheridan Road to the south, where public water and sewer systems are in operation, only one case of hepatitis—additional to the others—has been reported.

HE ALSO pointed out that the Sheridan Road School, although north of Sheridan Road, is serviced by public sewer and water. This was another factor in the health department's recommendation that the school not be closed.

"The cause of the outbreak just does not appear to be focused in the school," he said.

WHILE HEPATITIS is serious enough, Miller said the conditions are the same that could cause typhoid fever if there were enough carriers. But he said typhoid carriers are so few in number this possibility is very remote.

Hepatitis is not new to Clinton County. In the last year, several communities and areas in the county have had a number of cases, including only three in St. Johns this spring.

KELLOW, THE health department's sanitary engineer, said the health department refused to approve the use of septic tanks for FHA homes in the Sheridan Road area about 15 years ago because of the soil conditions. Approval was obtained, however, from the township health officer, he said.

Zoning Administrator Gerald Walter said his office looks after the permits for septic tanks and wells. He said they are now making pre-construction and percolation tests of the soil of each property under saturation conditions to determine how much of a septic field each property must have.

"THAT'S THE best test available now," Walter said, "and until we can come up with something better this will have to do."

County Health Nurse Mrs. Luelia Canfield said medication against hepatitis was given to all teachers and custodial personnel at Sheridan Road School Monday and Tuesday as a precaution.

She said the original number of 11 hepatitis cases did not hold up and that one of the youngsters returned to school Tuesday with a report from his doctor that what he had had was not hepatitis.

Retailers closed here Monday

Retail merchants of St. Johns will be closed all day next Monday, the day after Memorial Day.

Merchants are reminded that because of the closing, advertising deadline for the June 3 issue of the Clinton County News will be this Friday.

Rev Nieuwkoop to leave St. Johns

The Rev. Peter Nieuwkoop, pastor of the First Baptist Church of St. Johns since September 1961, will leave St. Johns after June 6 to become director of Christian Witness to the Jews, based in Detroit.

The organization is a Baptist mission to bring the message of the Messiah to Jewish people. The Rev. Mr. Nieuwkoop has been associated with the group for eight years as a member of its board of directors.

FOR THE last five years he has been president of the board of Christian Witness to the Jews and has been serving as its acting director since last October.

In his new position, the Rev. Mr. Nieuwkoop will be doing a lot of traveling about the state in deputation and Bible conference ministry. His base of operations will be in the three-story Elam House in the James Couzens and Six Mile Road area of Detroit.

HE AND his wife Vivian will reside in a second-floor apartment there. The other parts of the building are used for other activities of the Baptist mission.

The Rev. Mr. Nieuwkoop has been in the ministry 28 years and served Baptist churches at Port Huron, Kalkaska, Zeeland and Northville before coming to St. Johns in September 1961 after 10 years at Northville.

CHURCH membership here has about doubled in the years he has been pastor, and average attendance is now well over 200 every Sunday. A new church on South US-27 and the new two-story parsonage at 503 E. Buchanan (Cir-

REV. PETER NIEUWKOOP (left) have been built during his pastorate.

When he came to St. Johns in 1961, the Baptist Church was located at the present site of the Parr Building at the corner of West State and Ottawa streets.

THE PASTOR'S last Sunday will be June 6, and he'll start his new job the following day. No replacement for him here has been named, but several guest speakers have already appeared at the church, and others will be scheduled. Pastor Roger Harrison of the Enslay Center Baptist Church at Sand Lake will speak June 13.

The Rev. Mr. Nieuwkoop's popular weekly column on the Clinton County News Church Page will be continued under his authorship until a permanent pastor is chosen here. He has written a weekly church column for newspapers in the communities he's served since 1945.

DeWitt has full slate for charter election

DeWITT—Residents of DeWitt will have a full choice of candidates for the new council when they go to the polls June 7 to vote on the proposed city charter.

Passage of the charter is expected without much difficulty. Should it be defeated, however, the election of the new council and mayor would be voided and village officers would continue to hold office.

MONDAY WAS the deadline for filing for a place on the ballot for the city offices, and Village Clerk Ray Price reported a contest for the offices of mayor and councilmen.

William D. Buck, present village president, is running for the mayor position under the city charter, and he'll be challenged by Robert E. Ballard.

THREE COUNCILMEN will be elected for terms of 1 1/2 years. The candidates include Bruce A. Dalman, Gerald DeLine, Allen (Jim) White, Lloyd Berkimer and Lee Rummell.

Firemen answer 2 calls during week

St. Johns firemen answered two calls during the past week, both of relatively minor nature. Last Thursday at 6:05 p. m. they sped to the Wilbur Barnes farm 6 1/2 miles south of St. Johns on US-27 where a tractor had caught fire in a field. There was no damage reported.

Sunday evening about 7:10, firemen were called to extinguish a fire in a car driven by Frank L. Benedict of Flint. That was four miles west of St. Johns on M-21. About $150 damage resulted.

Teen drinking crackdown set

Mandatory jail terms of at least three days have been established by all county law enforcing agencies and courts in an attempt to curb a wave of teenage drinking.

The mandatory jail or juvenile home sentences will be given to all youths found guilty of being in possession of intoxicating beverages.

The new ruling will go into effect this Friday, May 28.

Probate Judge Timothy M. Green announced the new rule last week.

"IN conference with Circuit Judge Leo Corkin, Municipal Judge Alba Wert and all active justices of the peace in the county, we have agreed to the new sentencing procedure in an effort to reduce the drinking problem among teenagers," Judge Green said.

"We have set Friday, May 28, as the date for starting this procedure in order to give young people proper warning," he said. "After that date, all youths under the age of 21 found guilty of being in possession of intoxicating beverages will get at least three days in jail or the juvenile home."

JUDGE GREEN said he had written to all high schools in the county asking them to pass the word to the student body.

The teenage drinking problem has become more severe in Clinton County, and most everywhere, in the last year. Some youths have drawn only fines, while others have had short jail terms of two days, depending on the circumstances of the case.

THERE HAVE been many cases. Records at the county sheriff's office show 71 convictions on minor in possession since Jan. 1. Seven of the cases were heard over the past weekend.

The offices of clerk, treasurer, assessor and planning commissioners will be appointed by the mayor and city council.

The election June 7 will be the culmination of a lot of effort by village officials who voted last November to seek incorporation as a city. A charter commission was elected and the charter drawn up. It was published in full in the May 13 issue of The Clinton County News.

COUNTY Prosecutor Norman White, who is cooperating in the crackdown on the teen drinkers, warned that any youth who is in a car where beer is present can possibly be charged with being in possession.

"But just because he is in the car doesn't mean they're guilty or will be prosecuted," he said. "It depends on the circumstances of the case."

THE LIGHT jail sentences and fines which have been imposed in the past are not always deterrents for further violations of the minor-in-possession law, Judge Green said, and upon agreement of all the law enforcement agencies and courts in the county, the new, stricter sentences are to be put into effect.

The mandatory three days doesn't mean a youth found guilty of being in possession of beer cannot receive a heavier sentence than that. Many times heavier sentences are even now imposed when a second offense is involved or a youth refuses to tell where he got the beer.

SIX OF THE seven minor in possession cases over the past weekend were for the second offense. St. Johns Municipal Judge Alba Wert handled the following cases over the weekend:

Gary A. Weber, 18, of Kinley Road, R-1, Fowler; Steven Robert Motz, 19, of 530 N. Main Street, Fowler; William G. Wohlfert, 19, of Fowler; and Lawrence J. Wieber, 20, of 622 N. Main Street, Fowler, were all found guilty on minor in possession after their arrest by state police last Thursday on Wright Road in Dallas Township.

ALL OF them had previous convictions for minor in possession. Judge Wert assessed each of them a fine of $50 plus $19.90 costs and sentenced each to 15 days in jail.

Motz was also found guilty of reckless driving and was fined $75 plus $19.90 costs and sentenced to 15 days in jail on that charge.

TWO ST. JOHNS youths also ran into trouble on the same drinking charge and on their second offense. They were Ronnie D. Atkinson, 19, of 500 Euclid, and Johnny Villarreal, 20, of 630 W. Gibbs. They were each fined $50 plus $19.90 costs and sentenced to 15 days in jail.

Each was also found guilty of a separate charge of drinking on a public highway and fined $15 plus $19.90 costs on that count. The two youths were arrested by sheriff's officers on M-21 in Ovid Township Saturday.

ALSO JAILED for being in possession of beer was Terry L. Mead, 19, of 16815 DeWitt Road, Lansing. He was arrested last Wednesday by both St. Johns and county officers and was fined $50 plus $19.90 costs and sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Memorial parade Monday

St. Johns' annual Memorial Day Parade will be held this Monday at 10:30 a. m. along the usual route to Mt. Rest Cemetery where services will be held.

Richard Cornwell, parade marshal, said all service units that will march in the parade are to form at the Grand Trunk Depot on Railroad Street at 10 a. m. All ex-service men, Scouting units and other service groups are invited to participate.

AT 10:30 A. M., the parade will move up Clinton Avenue to State Street, then east to US-27, north to Steel and east to the cemetery. The high school band will participate in the parade.

The Veteran's Honor Guard, under the direction of Commander Tom Beecher, will conduct the firing ceremony at the cemetery. The Rev. Gerald Churchill of the First Congregational Church will deliver the Memorial Day address.

THE ANNUAL parade is under the auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 4113 and See PARADE Page 2-A

Anchors Aweigh — They're in the Navy Now

Chief P. A. Noland, Navy recruiting officer at Owosso, talks with four St. Johns boys who are among six going into the Navy soon on that service's 120-day delay enlistment program. With him are Charles Huntington, Joe Martinez, Ken Crowell and Ernest Kuhns. They were to take physicals Tuesday but will not report for training until later. Huntington will report Aug. 31 and the others July 19. Others unable to make the picture were Roger Speidel and Ralph Moeggenberg. Crowell and Kuhns and Martinez and Moeggenberg are signed up on the buddy program also.

Clinton Avenue vanguard in $40,000 paving program

A $40,000 street paving program—including Clinton Avenue in the downtown district—and extensive seal-coating of other streets is proposed for this summer and will get under way shortly.

The first job to be undertaken will be the Clinton Avenue repaving. City Manager Ken Greer said a representative from Spartan Asphalt Co. is expected next week to plan out the work, which should get under way very shortly after. The Clinton Avenue job will be done in time for the running of the Soap Box Derby June 20, he said.

THE THREE blocks of downtown Clinton Avenue will have a new one-inch mat put on and will cost about $7,200.

Another $32,000 will be spent for paving and hot patch work needed on the following residential streets, listed by the city manager in the approximate order of their importance to the community as a whole:

LINCOLN from Clinton to Oakland; SPRING from Steel to Gibbs; STURGIS from Wight to Church; RAILROAD from US-27 to Kibbee; ROSS from Clinton to Ottawa; CLINTON from Sturgis to last house; SWEGLES from Sturgis to Lambert; MORTON from Walker to Vaucausant; HIGHAM from Traver to Kibbee; KIBBEE from State to Cass; CASS from Traver to Kibbee; BAKER at the south end; TRAYER from Baldwin to points south, and TRAYER from Kibbee back north to the last house; BUCHANAN from

Wight to Clinton; WIGHT from Clark to Buchanan and PROSPECT from Higham to the railroad tracks.

The city commission, on the recommendation of the manager, agreed to delay paving of seven other blocks that have new curb and gutter but are still not fully developed with houses. The delay was made to prevent the necessity of having to make cuts in the pavement for hooking up new water lines and other utilities later.

THE STREETS involved in this delay are LANSING from Sickles to the curb end; CLINTON in the last block on the south end; and SWEGLES from Lambert to the curb end.

Eight other blocks with new

To close Clinton

All three blocks of Clinton Avenue in downtown St. Johns will be closed off next Tuesday for repaving, starting at 6 a.m., the city has announced. Should weather or mechanical problems prohibit this, the work will be delayed until the following day. Under no circumstances will the street be closed Friday or Saturday next week.

curb and gutter will also be delayed, but for different reasons. These streets have had insufficient travel to properly compact them. They include:

LINCOLN from Oakland to Mead; MEAD from Steel to Lincoln; CIRCLE DRIVE; ELM from Oakland to Swegles; and LANSING from Sturgis to Sickles.

THE TOTAL tonnage of paving material needed for the streets that will be done this year is about 3,500 tons, costing roughly $30,000. There will be a need of about $2,000 in hot patch work to do.

Another $22,000 would be tied up if the other streets listed were or could be paved.

In addition to the $40,000, in paving work, the city plans to do extensive seal coating of present paved streets. This seal coating program will, of necessity, Greer said, include the following streets which he again listed in order of importance to the community.

CLINTON AVENUE, portions from Railroad north to US-27, LANSING from railroad tracks north to Walker Road; OAKLAND from Elm south to Townsend Road; MEAD from Gibbs to Oakland; SICKLES from Lansing westerly into the park; and the park roads, except for the back road.

Many other individual blocks need a single seal or the intersection sealed and repaired, and this will be done, Greer said, but no particular order of need can be established.

THE CITY'S new budget, adopted last Tuesday night, will allow up to $55,000 for paving and seal coating, Greer pointed out. Some $40,000 of that will be spent on the new paving.

The city commission last week accepted low bids for the paving and seal coating. For the bituminous paving, Spartan Asphalt Paving Co. was the low bidder with bids of $8.88, $13.75 and $20 per ton for three different grades of asphalt necessary in the paving.

The Hicks Co. of Alma was low bidder on the seal coating with a bid of 20 cents per square yard for seal coat double and 9 per square yard for seal coat single.

Parade

Edwin T. Stiles Post No. 153, American Legion.

The St. Johns Chamber of Commerce will participate in the Memorial Day Parade Monday by having its queen, "Miss St. Johns," Gail Auten, and the members of her court riding in decorated automobiles.

Chamber of Commerce members in the auto business have donated convertibles to the girls for the parade.

IN ADDITION to Miss Auten, who will be in the CC's lead car, others participating will be Shirley Daman, Jean Valyer, Jane Morriss, Mary Ann Petrick and Sue Allen. Because of conflicting activities, another member of the Queen's Court, Miss Becky Bradley, will be unable to participate Monday.

Mrs Betty Jane Minsky, Chamber manager, had praise for the girls and the fine job they are doing to prepare the cars for the parade. The girls have worked several nights after school lettering signs which will be on the red, white and blue bunting decorated autos.

Tachometer stolen off car's dashboard

David Cleveland of 204 Floral Avenue reported the theft of a tachometer from the dashboard of his car sometime Friday night.

Result of Collision on Baker Street Monday Morning

The overturned car belonging to Donald Matice of 408 S. Baker wound up that way on his neighbor's lawn about 2:30 Monday morning after it was hit from the rear by one driven by Jerry G. Bunge 21, of 802 E. Cass (shown in inset). The accident happened on South Baker where Matice's car was parked. Charles Magsig, 20, of 506 S. Baker, a passenger in Bunge's car, suffered head lacerations but was described as in general "good" condition Tuesday at Clinton Memorial Hospital. Bunge was also injured but was released from the hospital Tuesday. He was ticketed by city police for reckless driving.

City's tornado sirens silent during debate on jurisdiction

The status of St. Johns' five tornado and air raid warning sirens seems to be a matter of contention these days, with the city and the county civil defense director at odds as to who's in charge of them.

Civil Defense Director Charles Frost contends the sirens are in charge of the city and that the city should maintain and regularly test them. He said his job is to merely coordinate the efforts throughout the county.

THE CITY, through Manager Ken Greer and the commission, contends the testing should be carried out by the civil defense director.

The question came up last Tuesday night when Frost appeared before the commission to ask if testing could be carried out, not only to keep the citizens of the city informed as to what the sirens sound like but also to make sure the warning horns are working properly.

The horns in St. Johns are located on the courthouse, hospital, Federal - Mogul plant, Sealed Power plant and on Hettler's Garage.

HALF OF THE original cost of the horns was reportedly paid for by federal funds. Frost said the horns are under the jurisdiction of the civil defense department, but he wants and needs the cooperation of the city in actually testing them.

Karber, city agree to discuss block plant industrial zone move

No action was taken by the city commission last Tuesday on an "ordinance to supplement the zoning ordinance" that may have provided a means for Karber Block and Tile Co. to use its residentially zoned property for storage of cement blocks.

But owner Larry Karber agreed to meet with the commission to discuss the possibility of the city helping him move from his present location on South Church Street to an industrially-zoned area where he can expand the business.

THIS AGREEMENT came after commissioners told him his business definitely was an asset to the community, particularly if it was in a properly-zoned area.

The "supplement" to the ordinance was drawn up by City Atty. Harold Reed at the request of the city commission two weeks earlier, but he said he didn't know whether it would "hold water" under the present zoning ordinance. And, it was pointed out, the proposed new zoning ordinance would void any such "supplement" anyway.

COMMISSIONERS appeared to be against any such expansion of Karber's business into residential areas, and if a vote on the supplement had come up it likely would have been beaten.

ing the horns once the date and procedures for the test are set up.

He said the horns should be tested once a month and that a common national time is on the first Saturday of each month.

"IF THE HORNS are there they should be tested," Frost said.

City commissioners agreed, but they said no tests had been carried out because there had been no definite plan for use of the sirens passed on to them by Frost.

Frost later said a "communications fanout" plan was in effect whereby warning of tornadoes approaching could be spread to residents of the area. He said the weather bureau was to call, with actual warnings, the county sheriff's office during the day or the city police department during the night.

FROM THESE points, the warning would go out to other communities and to Clinton Memorial Hospital. During the day city offices would be called, and the warning would be spread from there to industrial centers, utility companies, firemen, schools and to the actual blowing of the warning siren.

No test of this "fanout" system has been carried out, Frost charged, because of a lack of cooperation from the city.

The commissioners were, however, in sympathy with Karber's situation in that he cannot legally expand his growing business. "We can't build loopholes in the ordinance," Commissioner Charles Coletta told Karber, "but we realize you're stuck within the boundaries you've got. I think it's the obligation of the city to get you into an area where you can grow."

HE WAS referring to an industrially-zoned area. Karber agreed to meet with the commission to discuss that further. Possibilities could include a special assessment district to raise the money to move the business from its location on South Church Street to an industrial zone.

Paul Merritt wins Methodist scholarship

Paul William Merritt, son of Rev and Mrs O. L. Merritt of 8 Markris Drive, Hillsdale, and formerly of St. Johns, received the National Methodist Scholarship at the annual Honors Convocation Friday in Dawson Auditorium at Adrian College.

Merritt, a junior at Adrian College, is majoring in mathematics and science. He was one of five students to receive this honor given for high academic achievement.

Man found in yard dies of injuries

Lansing detectives are continuing investigation of a suspect in the death of a Lansing man who was found beaten and lying in the yard of a Park Lake home early last Saturday morning.

Charles E. Brown, 44, of 546 Isbell Street, Lansing, died shortly after admission to Sparrow Hospital. State police found Brown in the front yard of a residence at 15408 Park Lake Road after receiving a call that there was a "drunk" lying there.

THE CASE was turned over to Lansing police after it was determined Mr Brown had been injured in a fight outside a Lansing tavern and then taken to the Park Lake home.

Coroner Jack B. Holmes said Mr Brown died of shock incurred from neck and head injuries suffered from a blow or a fall. A man who was questioned in the case was released to the custody of his attorney Saturday, Det. Capt. Elwyn Groat of the Lansing police said.

MR BROWN, a veteran of World War II, had been a Lansing resident 18 years, moving there from Mancelona.

He is survived by four sons, Michael, James, David and Thomas, and two daughters, Patricia and Judy, all of Park Lake; his father, Thomas Brown of Mancelona; seven brothers, Arvid and Robert of Bath, Bruce and Wayne of DeWitt, Denver of Lansing and Calvin and Raymond of Chicago; and two sisters, Mrs Arbutus Wright of Mancelona and Mrs Mildred Calvin of Muskegon.

Funeral services were to be held from the Miller Funeral Home in Mancelona.

Fined for recklessness

Ailing water well to get $2,000 cure

Major repairs will be made to St. Johns' Water Well No. 5 after engineers last week reported that dynamiting and cleaning should bring the ailing well back to its capacity.

The city found out two weeks earlier that the well was producing only about one-quarter the amount of water it produced three years ago. Chlorinating failed to improve it, and the engineers—Ayres, Lewis, Norris and May—recommended the cleanout.

work to be done on the well by Layne-Northern Co.

When questioned by the commission about the large amount of expenses on existing wells recently, Ray Smit, engineer for Ayres, Lewis, Norris and May, admitted there had been a great amount in the last few years. "This is probably because of the constant pressure of the need for extra water as the city has grown in the past few years," he said.

HE NOTED that water pumpage is up 10 per cent over the same time last year and that figures for most other time periods show a similar increase. He said the wells and the pumps have had to bear the pressure of the peak time of water use as well as the low times.

Smit said the extra storage of the new system (the 500,000-gallon elevated tank and a 400,000-gallon ground level tank at the new treatment plant) will take the pressure off the wells in the future. He said the amount of water in the tanks will be drawn off during times of peak use, thereby reducing the amount the pumps will have to provide at any one time.

SMIT DISCLOSED that as of last Tuesday the old water tower was closed off and all pressure is now coming from the new tank on South Oakland. He said the new tower will provide seven pounds more pressure because of the extra height. At the present time, however, the water level in the new tank is being kept low so that the extra pressure possible will not cause sudden leaking of service lines all over town.

He said the level of the water will be raised—with the pressure increasing the same—gradually over the next few weeks.

THE COMMISSION set a ceiling of $2,000 on the amount of

Sheridan votes down transfer

The southern part of the Sheridan Road School District will not be annexed to the Lansing school system—at least not for a while.

Sheridan Road school voters who Monday rejected the transfer proposal by a vote of 251 no to 108 yes.

THE RESULT was apparently favorable to the Lansing Board of Education, which had urged a "no" vote on the proposal. At the same time, the Lansing board agreed to break a long-standing policy and accept the entire Sheridan Road district despite the fact only the southern portion of it is politically a part of the City of Lansing.

The Lansing board had requested in April that the transfer proposal be placed on the ballot, as authorized last summer by the joint intermediate boards of education of Clinton and Ingham counties.

THE BOARD'S reasoning behind the later request that the transfer be turned down seemed to revolve around a need for housing the Sheridan students who might be transferred to the Lansing system. That includes a reported 330 Sheridan students.

Had the transfer issue been passed, Lansing would have had to either negotiate a lease for continued use of the Sheridan Road School—located in Clinton County—or provide transportation to get the children to schools in other parts of the Lansing system where there was room. The use of portable classrooms was even mentioned as a possibility.

change of policy on school annexation without political annexation, the next step will apparently be another election for the annexation of the whole Sheridan Road district. It has a census of 1,018 and membership of 626 students. Valuation of the district is $5,142,664.

The Lansing board last Thursday passed a resolution saying that the board would "act favorably" upon a petition for annexation of the entire Sheridan Road district whenever such petitions are received. There would be no mutual assumption of debt in the proposed merger.

THE RESOLUTION further stated that the defeat of Monday's proposal "will expedite the immediate annexation of the entire Sheridan District to Lansing and assure adequate elementary facilities for all Sheridan students next fall."

Rotary honors its departed

St. Johns Rotarians gathered at Mt. Rest cemetery following their Tuesday noon luncheon to honor the memory of 31 deceased former members of the local Rotary Club.

William Richards Jr. spoke briefly calling attention to the contribution which the former Rotarians had made to the community and suggesting that the current membership point their activity in a similar direction.

The memorial program concluded with a benediction by the Rev. Gerald R. Churchill, minister of the First Congregational Church.

FORMER Rotarians memorialized at the special program were:

Glenn B. Danley, Walter A. Scott, John C. Hicks, Coleman C. Vaughan, Roswell C. Dexter, Otis Fuller, Aden J. Manly, William M. Smith, William Gay, William J. Black, Kelly S. Searl, Frank P. Buck, Roy G. Beechler, George E. Judd.

Hunter, Ralph E. Wisner, Arthur E. Wilson, Schuyler L. Marshall, Joseph G. Matthews and Henry W. Raymond.

Car hits, kills cow

A cow belonging to William Rice of R-1, St. Johns, was hurt, and later killed, when it was struck by a car driven by Keith D. Norman, 18, of R-1, Blanchard about 12:15 p.m. last Wednesday. He was going east on Maple Rapids Road when he hit the cow just west of Grove Road in Essex Township.

No mail delivery planned Monday

Regular holiday schedules will be observed by all Clinton County post offices Monday, a federal holiday by virtue of the fact that May 30—Memorial Day—falls on a Sunday.

No delivery services, except special delivery, will be provided. Street mail collections will be made on a normal holiday schedule, and outgoing mail will be dispatched at St. Johns.

The St. Johns post office lobby will remain open Monday, however, providing access to lock boxes and mail deposit slots, Postmaster J. D. Robinson said.

East Hubbardston

Mrs. Mamie O'Connell Telephone 981-2374

Irvie and Gladys Lattimer of Jackson Heights, N. Y. expect to be at their farm home early next month. They are currently on a 21-day tour of Russia.

Word has been received of the marriage of a former Hubbardston resident, Chauncey W. Smith, to a resident of Florida.

They are building a new home near Deerfield Beach. Charles Smith of Lowe District called on the C. S. Langdons Saturday.

The C. S. Langdons are on the mend after being in and out of St. Johns' hospital for two weeks. They called at the Middleton Methodist Church Sunday, to help the Glen Langdons celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary.

Tender succulent spears of asparagus are the first of the vegetables from Michigan fields each year. The crop is an abundant one; 7,550 tons in 1964 brought growers nearly $2 1/2 million. Michigan stands third in asparagus processing.

Postal display recalls role of Osgoods, Estes here

The history of the St. Johns post office is featured in a current display in the Centennial Room at the Clinton National Bank and Trust Co. Old pictures, stamp collection, and notes on the history of the postal service are included.

Lending some importance to St. Johns' role in national postal history is the fact that former Postmaster George Osgood is a direct descendant of the United States' first postmaster general, Samuel Osgood.

SAMUEL OSGOOD lived from 1748 to 1813. He graduated from Harvard College in 1770 and studied theology. At the beginning of the Revolutionary War, he was elected a member of the Provincial Congress and appointed to the board of war.

He was a member of the State Convention to frame the Constitution in 1779 and was chosen a member of Congress and one of the Commissioners to manage the treasury of the United States.

UPON THE organization of the government in 1789, Osgood was appointed postmaster general by President George Washington.

George Osgood was postmaster in St. Johns from Nov. 1, 1953 to Nov. 30, 1958, immediately preceding the present postmaster, J. D. Robinson. Osgood's brother, William, was assistant postmaster here before he died in 1935.

Another postal employee in St. Johns—Olney (Sonny) Estes, is a direct descendant from St. Johns' first postmaster, George W. Estes was one of the earliest settlers of the St. Johns area and sold the first property to John Swegles for the purpose of forming the village. He was the father of the first male child born in St. Johns Oct. 23, 1855.

ESTES is also the great-grandfather of Olney Estes.

Back in 1852 the first post-office in the township of Bingham was established and located at the home of George W. Estes, who was appointed postmaster. When Estes moved from the village of St. Johns in 1854 he carried the office with him and kept it until 1856 when Timothy Baker received the appointment upon Estes' recommendation.

It is related that the first mail brought to St. Johns was carried in the mail rider's hat and that the first postmaster kept his office in a cigar box, but these stories are purely pure imagination, according to the "History of Shiawassee and Clinton Counties," published in 1880. At any rate, to the time of the completion of the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad (now the Grand Trunk) to St. Johns, mail was received over the route from DeWitt to Rochester Colony over the State Road.

IN 1905, ST. JOHNS set a national record. The five rural carriers at the St. Johns post office brought in 1,100 money order applications, more rural money orders issued than at any other city or village in the United States, with the exception of Westminster, Md., where there were 23 rural carriers.

According to the "History of Clinton County" in 1906, "Since the inauguration of county delivery in Clinton County, the 15 carriers from St. Johns have been bringing in money orders at the rate of over 3,000 a year, and this will doubtless show during the next fiscal year that St. Johns has written far more rural delivery money orders than any other city or village in the United States."

COMPARATIVE figures on receipts in the first quarter of 1880 and 1965 show the growth of the St. Johns post office. In 1880, receipts for stamps, envelopes, etc. was $1,064. In 1965 it was $25,124.36. In 1880 there were $4,171.95 worth of money orders issued, and in 1965 it was $56,919.93.

There were 143 registered letters in 1880, actually 10 more than in 1965, but Postmaster Robinson points out that certified mail has replaced registered mail to a large extent, and no record is kept of the number mailed.

Storm or attack warning system available to all towns, CD chief says

Severe weather, tornado possibility and enemy attack warnings are received by county law enforcement agencies and are available to any community, Civil Defense Director Charles Frost said this week.

Such calls are received by the sheriff's office during the day and the St. Johns city police during the night. Any community can receive the information by establishing a 24-hour service to receive the call and an alerting capability properly publicized so that residents know what the signal or signals mean, Frost said.

"STANDARDIZATION of signals for a county or nation, so everyone might recognize the sound, would be expensive, though desirable," Frost said. "Encouragement should be given communities to use the equipment they have.

"Fire sirens may be used by manually operating to create a distinct series of blasts. Air horns that have only one tone—usually "take cover"—can be used. Very few communities—and DeWitt is one of them—have three-toned sirens with standard CD signals."

FROST LISTED the following recommendations for signal testing and for public action:

"March and April usually find us approaching the tornado season. This may continue through October. So that the public may become acquainted with the sound of impending danger, siren tests (at least three) should be conducted on the first Saturday of each month at 1 p.m.

"COORDINATION of testing time will aid in getting the notice before the public by public service news media. While no testing is intended without resident population being forewarned, malfunction or human error might trigger a siren.

"Public response should be the same—take cover. This gives an opportunity for a family to check its survival plan.

"KNOW THE signals. Take cover and take a radio (preferably battery type) with you. Tune to a local station. They will tell as best they can what is happening. If they are not on the air tune to another.

"Cover should be your safest place in your home. The south-west corner of the basement for tornado protection is usually best.

"NEVER BLAME anyone if nothing happens. Just thank God and the people who are on the lookout for you.

"A good sound plan based on 24-hour service organizations and utilizing existing equipment most likely can give your community an alerting system. If you are in a community that has these capabilities, and don't have an alarm system setup, ask the council or fire chief if it can be arranged," Frost concluded. "Public acceptance is up to you.

"A GOOD weather warning plan will serve as well in the event of an enemy attack. Criticality of the national situation would serve to differentiate the conditions. Personal and family survival plans might be different, but at the sound of the alarm, action would be the same: TAKE COVER.

Further information and plans are available from the civil defense office or Cooperative Extension Service. If help is needed to coordinate community plans, Frost invited those communities to call his office in St. Johns at 224-4050.

Fowler seeking St. Johns firm

The Village of Fowler is making a bid to obtain the St. Johns Tool and Die Co., it was learned this week.

The business is presently located at the rear of 108 E. Railroad Street in St. Johns and is owned by Dale Hardman. The Clinton County News has learned that no decision has been made to move the plant to Fowler.

ST. JOHNS TOOL and Die Co. employs 10 persons.

The tool and die firm reportedly is seeking space to expand. The Fowler Industrial Corp. has already embarked on a fund-raising project to provide a new building for the firm, possibly on the industrial site west of Fowler.

"It will cost about $20,000 to build, including the cost of the lot, plumbing, wiring, etc.," Industrial Corp. President Roman Thelen told 24 persons last Tuesday evening.

"WE HAVE checked into the company and believe they are a good company and have a good future. It is the best we have found since starting the development corporation some nine years ago."

The development corporation is reported to be putting additional stock on sale in an attempt to raise enough to finance construction of the building. It would then be leased or sold to the company.

THE ST. JOHNS Chamber of Commerce is aware of the possible move and has conferred with St. Johns Tool and Die Co. about it. "We are attempting to help them with the problems, among them the need for a larger building, and we hope to get some solution to keep them in St. Johns," the Chamber said.

MR AND MRS ROBERT VITEK

Double ring rites join Flegler, Vitek

A double ring ceremony united in marriage Miss Cynthia Sue Flegler and Robert Lee Vitek Saturday, May 15, at St. Joseph Catholic Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Francis Flegler of 600 North Clinton in St. Johns and her husband is the son of Mr and Mrs Alex Vitek of R-2, St. Johns.

Rev Matthew Fedewa, assisted by Rev Sylvester Fedewa, read the service which united the couple, before an altar decorated with white and pink gladioli. The brothers of the bridegroom, Richard and Larry Vitek, served as altar boys and music during the service was played by Mrs Herman Smith.

THE BRIDE chose a gown of silk organza over taffeta which was styled with a full skirt which extended into a chapel train and trimmed with lace. Her head-dress was a lace rose from which fell an illusion veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink cymbidium orchids and snowflake mums.

Miss Dolores Vitek, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Maureen Flegler, sister of the bride, Miss Judy Hopp and Mrs Milo Maneval. Another sister of the bridegroom, Miss Jane Vitek, was junior bridesmaid. Their silk crepe dresses with bell shaped skirts were designed and made by Mrs Jerry Pung, sister of the bridegroom. Their headresses, designed and made by the bride, were bouffant veils, secured by peau de soie roses. The maid of honor carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses, white carnations and white mums. The other attendants carried similar bouquets of red roses.

THE BRIDEGROOM'S brother, Raymond Vitek, was best man. Another brother, John Vitek, was a groomsman, along with Dale Martens and Dennis Koening-knecht. Gerald Pung and Vernon Bandt ushered.

Following the service, the wedding party and the immediate families of the newlyweds were served a wedding breakfast at the VFW Hall where, that evening, 350 persons attended a reception.

Among the special guests were the bride's grandmother, Mrs Eleanor Flegler; the bridegroom's maternal grandmother, Mrs Elizabeth Fedewa; and his paternal grandparents, Mr and Mrs Paul Vitek.

THE GUEST book was in charge of Miss Agnes Vitek, sister of the bridegroom, and gifts were opened by Miss Wilda Shipley, Miss Connie Crowell and Miss Patricia Heibeck.

Serving were Mrs Jerry Pung, Mrs Vernon Bandt, Mrs David Jacovac, Miss Bernadette Smith and Miss Druella Henning.

The couple left on a 3 week wedding trip to California and Mexico and for traveling the bride wore a pink linen suit, white accessories and an orchid corsage.

THEY WILL be at home at 108 1/2 South Morton, after June 7.

Both are graduates of Rodney B. Wilson High School. The bride is employed at Clinton Memorial Hospital and the bridegroom at Oldsmobile.

MR AND MRS PAUL R. BECK

Miss Sherry Jones weds Paul R. Beck

Miss Sherry Ruth Jones, daughter of Mrs Evan R. Jones of Crosswell Road in St. Johns and the late Evan Jones, and Paul Roy Beck, son of Mr and Mrs Paul R. Beck of Ashley were married Saturday, evening in the First Methodist Church by Rev Ralph Conline.

The bride approached the altar, which was decorated with vases of white gladioli, in a dress of empire style of organza and Swiss lace. Her bouffant veil of illusion was held by a cluster of organza lilies of the valley. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, lilies of the valley and English ivy and her only jewelry was a gold heart pendant, centered with a diamond, a gift of the bridegroom.

THE MAID of honor was Miss Brenda Beck of Patterson, Calif., sister of the bridegroom. Bridesmaid was Miss Carolyn Allen of Bay City. They were identically dressed in sheath style gowns of azure blue nylon chiffon and wore small flower hats with veiling to match their gowns. Each carried a semi-cascade bouquet of large white daisies and lilies of the valley.

Child Study Clubs to explore theme of better families

The Child Study Club of St. Johns held its last meeting until fall on May 19 at the home of Mrs Lloyd Ford.

The candlelight ceremony of installation of the 1965-1966 officers of the club was conducted by Mrs Lawrence Helbeck and Mrs Lloyd Ford, both past presidents. The 10 members and guest, Mrs Benjamin Walker, heard the annual reports of the officers and the reports of the spring convention delegates. The theme for the 1965-1966 child study clubs is "Better Families — As Key for Tomorrow."

Mrs Lyman Struble, the club president, thanked her committee members and accepted her office for another year. Mrs Glendon Fitzpatrick will be the vice president; Mrs Gerald Roberts, recording secretary; Mrs Rolland Ritter, corresponding secretary; and Mrs Frank Swagart, treasurer. Hostesses for this evening were Mrs Lawrence Helbeck and Mrs Lloyd Ford.

Urbanites hold final meeting

The Urbanites Extension Group met last Thursday for their last meeting of the season with a noon potluck at the home of Mrs Erwin Self of Midland.

Mrs Glendon Fitzpatrick and Mrs Marion Walling presented the lesson on "Foods and People of the Far East," accompanied by colored slides and narrations. Several of the Far Eastern foods were features of the dinner.

St. Mary's Guild

St. Mary's Guild of St. Joseph's Catholic Church held its last meeting of the year at the home of Mrs John Mankey last Thursday night.

Following recitation of the Rosary, a short meeting was held. Mrs Agatha Mankey won the door prize.

After a social hour, refreshments were served by Mrs Mankey and co-hostess, Mrs Marvin Harr.

ceremony was provided by vocalist, Mrs Robert Sirrine and organist, Mrs Duane Davis, both of St. Johns.

Douglas Hyde of Ashley was best man. Groomsman was John L. Bancroft of Freepork and bearing the rings on white satin pillows were Nolan and Terry Beck, brothers of the bridegroom. Seating the guests were Robert Beck of Eureka, Douglas Greer of St. Johns and Gary Snyder of Maple Rapids.

Mrs Jones wore a mint green, silk shantung suit with green and white accessories to her daughter's wedding. Mrs Beck, was attired in a cerulean blue, two-piece sheath and white accessories. They wore white, single orchid corsages.

IMMEDIATELY following the ceremony, a reception for 250 persons was held in Niles Hall. The bride's cake was cut and served by the bride's aunt, Mrs Jay McNitt of Lansing, assisted by Miss Sharrill Williams of Stanton. Mrs Malcolm Smith served the bridegroom's cake. Miss Carol Boots and Miss Beth Smith poured.

On June 1 the newlyweds will be at home at their Ashley apartment, following a wedding trip to Mackinac Island and other points in northern Michigan.

The bride, a 1964 graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School, attends Northwood Institute in Alma. Her husband attended Ashley High School and graduated from Ferris State College in 1964.

Mrs Cook speaks at DAC luncheon

Mrs Leo K. Pouch and Miss Shirley Pouch were hostesses to the Coureurs de Bois chapter of the Daughters of the American Colonists on Saturday, May 29.

A luncheon was served at 12:30 p.m. then Miss Pouch, vice regent presided over the meeting, in the absence of the regent, Mrs Tom Hancock of Lansing. The chaplain, Mrs George H. Brooks, gave a meditation and prayer in observance of Memorial Day.

The first project to be tackled this year will be the marking of a historical spot, the Indian signal tree, which stands in front of the Marble School on Hagadorn Road in East Lansing.

Mrs Olive Cook of Lansing, former national chaplain, gave a report of the National Assembly in Washington. She said that a $10,000 gift was made to the college for the Ozarks for scholarships to boys and girls in that area.

She also told about the national home on Massachusetts Avenue in Washington, D. C.

A letter of appreciation to Mrs Laughlin, retiring genealogical librarian at the Michigan State Library, for the help that she has given everyone who needed it through the years, was voted to be sent to her and also to the board of the Michigan State Library. Mrs Laughlin will join the staff of the Michigan State University library on June 1.

The next meeting will be a picnic at the home of Mrs John F. Brisbin on Grand River Road.

JANICE LIETZKE

Mrs Nettie E. Lietzke of Lansing has announced the engagement of her daughter, Janice, to Jerry L. Hopp, son of Mr and Mrs Lloyd Hopp of DeWitt. The wedding date has been set for July 10. The bride-elect is a senior at Walther Memorial Hospital School of Nursing. The prospective bridegroom is a graduate of Concordia Teacher's College in River Forest, Ill.

Masonry, Steel Goes Up as New DeWitt High School Begins to Take Shape

Partially completed masonry work on the southwest corner of the new DeWitt High School is contrasted by the darker steel framework of the gymnasium portion of the structure. Masonry work all around the sprawling building is now to a point where it gives a good indication of the size of the new school. It's located on Herbison Road. (Additional picture on Page 1-B.)

'Quiet streets' a danger

The quiet residential street is actually more dangerous to drive on than the busy expressway, a safety expert has contended.

"High speed and heavy traffic contribute to the high rate of accidents, but carelessness and complacency are also important factors," pointed out R. W. Weber, regional manager of the Allstate Insurance Companies. "Some drivers fail to stay alert on side streets because they aren't expecting trouble."

MANY SIDE street accidents occur at intersections or at entrances to main streets. Other dangerous points are streets that lack control devices where motorists must fight for the right-of-way.

Blind corners, densely parked cars, children darting from between parked cars and narrow streets make driving more dangerous on side streets than on main ones. On high speed expressways many road hazards have been engineered out, and main streets have reduced them.

SIDE STREETS parrelling busy ones are especially dangerous. Motorists use them to escape the congested main arteries and a high accident rate may result.

The Allstate spokesman offers drivers these tips for driving on side streets:

- 1) Slow down near parked cars and drive near the center of the street for more maneuvering room.
2) Drive slowly when children are present and watch out for children behind your car if you back up.
3) Even if you're driving on a one-way street, watch out for oncoming cars. Slow down when you come to a blind intersection.
4) Always use a major street in preference to a side street. Although more crowded, they are designed for greater safety.

Morrow, Mrs Richard Tittus, Mrs Vaughn Montgomery, Mrs Lewis Babbitt, Mrs Alfred Patterson and Mrs Howard Beagle attended the Clinton County OES Assn. meeting Tuesday in St. Johns. Mrs Howard Beagle was installed as first vice president of the association. The 1966 meeting will be held in Wacousta on May 6.

4 Elsie Scouts to take coveted Philmont trip

ELSIE - Ronald Sills, Dennis Mead, David Williams and Bobby Bloomer of the Elsie Boy Scouts will attend camp at the Philmont Scout Ranch in northern New Mexico July 10.

This announcement was made at the Boy Scout Court of Honor held in the American Legion Hall last Wednesday evening following a potluck supper with the scouts and their parents, numbering 60.

THE PHILMONT Scout Ranch near Cimarron consists of 127,000 acres that is maintained for Boy Scouts since the death of Waite Phillips, formerly of Phillips Petroleum Co. who willed it to them.

Since 1941 this Rocky Mountain tract has been used by the Boy Scouts of America, who have back-packed and burro-packed over the rough trails, fished its frigid mountain streams, camped and hiked over its 200 square miles.

THE LOCAL Boy Scout Troop No. 76 is under the jurisdiction of the Chief Okemos Council in Lansing, so the four boys will travel to Philmont in new Vistacruisers through the courtesy of Oldsmobile in Lansing.

The Court of Honor was directed by Keith Thornton, assistant Scoutmaster, who has reactivated the troop during the past few months. A candle-lighting ceremony was performed by the entire troop. Led by Ronald Sills, it presented the Scout Law, which is the foundation on which the whole Scout movement is built. There were 12 candles lighted for the 12 ideals of the Scout Law.

THORNTON explained the requirements for Scouting, the various trails to becoming a tenderfoot, second class, first class Scout and finally the requisites for a Star, Life and Eagle Scout. It has been many years since the Elsie Troop has had an Eagle Scout. William Tompkins and Richard Robinson are the only boys on record from Elsie who have attained the rank of Eagle.

Thornton stated that the local troop was recently divided into two patrols, the Wolf and the Senior, with David Williams and Dennis Mead as their respective leaders.

Senior patrol leader Ronald Sills and assistant Bobby Bloomer are directly responsible to Thornton and work with both patrols.

PATROL BADGES were presented to all the boys and leaders by Thornton. Other badges given out were: Senior stripes, Glen Finch and Bobby Bloomer; tenderfoot to Lon Buchele, Jim Collins and Douglas Richards; second class rank, Johnny Dunham; and merit badges David Williams, Bobby Bloomer, Ronnie Sills and Dennis Mead and Star Scout rank to Bobby Bloomer.

A new award "Puddles," a duck decoy, which will be a traveling trophy for the most advancement, was presented by Thornton to Bobby Bloomer. At the next court of honor it will travel to another Scout who accumulates the most points. Names of each winner will be painted on "Puddles."

ALSO on display was the "Little Brown Jug" another trophy that had traveled to spring and fall Camporees for 10 years and won by the Elsie Troop so many times that it became permanently located here. It is now well covered with dates and events of the past.

Prizes were given to Glen Finch, Johnny Dunham and David Darling for earning the first three places in ticket sales for the pancake supper given the first of the year.

THORNTON commented on the large percentage of Scouts who now have complete uniforms. He expressed his appreciation for the cooperation of the parents.

McGonigal Corners

By Mrs John McGonigal

Monday, May 24, at 1 p.m., the senior class left the school by bus for a week's stay at Gay El Rancho, near Gaylord. Boating, water sports and horse riding are among planned activities.

Mrs Fern Johns is at home after undergoing major surgery, and a month's stay in the hospital. No company is allowed until further notice.

Mr and Mrs Harold Roberts and children, Jennifer, Kimberly and John and Mr and Mrs Clarence Sklapsky of Grand Ledge were guests of Mr and Mrs William Sklapsky of Webster Road in Bath Sunday evening. The Roberts family had motored from La-Canada, a suburb of Los Angeles in a camper, stopping at the Grand Canyon, and other points. Mrs Roberts was formerly Miss Janice Sklapsky of Bath.

The Memorial Day Parade at Bath, Monday, May 31, will leave Memorial Hall at 10 a.m. for Pleasant Hill Cemetery. The American Legion will be first in the formation, followed by the school band, boy scouts, cub scouts, girl scouts and brownies. Several floats will be in the parade.

Robert Bloomer, on behalf of the parents, responded with thanks to Thornton and the Council for their efforts in rebuilding the troop and providing an opportunity for the boys to become the kind of citizens our country needs.

Thornton will meet with the troop officers and committee chairman Wednesday night to plan a weekend northern trip to Baldwin about the middle of June.

THE PRESENT officers and chairmen are: Gilbert Fett, Scoutmaster; Robert Bloomer and Keith Thornton, assistant scoutmasters; troop committee—Gordon Mead (chairman), Ira Finch, (secretary), Frank Bernath (treasurer) Howard Peltier, Stanley Kidas and Gary Bensing; Harold Heideman, neighborhood commissioner; C. H. Sills, advancement committee chairman; Myron Tethal, outdoor committee chairman; and Oliver Darling and Glen Williams, transportation committee.

The troop committee meets once a month to discuss finances, camping plans and special events in the Scouting program.

THE LOCAL Boy Scout troop is sponsored by the American Legion Post No. 502 and the institutional representative is Emerson Dunham.

Man's wardrobe is best friend

Man's best friend—particularly in business—is his wardrobe. How's yours? Is it big enough? Your clothes will last longer if you can give them a rest from time to time. Is it varied enough? It should be able to dress you correctly for every occasion—work and play.

Avoid extremes in your clothes—the latest style may not necessarily suit you. Don't be afraid of color, but don't go wild. Color, the right color for you, can work wonders. Blue-gray and gray are, for instance, right for the man whose hair is graying. Always avoid tight-fitting garments. Don't let your pockets bulge, and keep all your clothes pressed.

WELL-FITTED suits are basic to any good wardrobe. Watch the following points when you buy your new suit: 1. The jacket collar should allow a half-inch of shirt collar to appear. 2. The jacket sleeves should allow at least a half-inch of shirt cuff to show. 3. Avoid too much fullness in the trouser seat. 4. The trousers should just brush the tops of your shoes.

Take time to remember with a few lines on Rytex-Hylited Informals personalized with your name. Here are those lovely little note sheets that make keeping posted a pleasure. Just a few minutes for a few lines and your thank you notes, informal invitations, get-well wishes and thinking-of-you notes are written. 100 informals 299 100 envelopes. Very smart with your name Rytex-Hylited in black ink in choice of styles shown. Finest quality, smooth, white paneled stock. Elegantly boxed for gifts. Boxes are covered in white duralon embossed with silver filigree design.

Pool to open June 14

The St. Johns Veterans Memorial Swimming Pool will open for public swimming June 14. The hours for swimming are 1-5 o'clock and 7-9 o'clock every day, including week-ends.

The price of admission will remain the same: 10 cents for those who are not out of high school, except for the evening sessions and Sunday, when the price is a quarter for everyone. The price is 25 cents for those out of high school for all sessions.

THERE WILL be two sessions of children's swimming lessons. These sessions will last for three weeks and will be held in the morning, as usual. Registration for the first session will be on Wednesday, June 16 and Thursday, June 17, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

The second session will begin July 19. In each case only children from the City of St. Johns can register on the first day. All children have to be 9 years old in order to receive lessons.

THOSE surrounding villages which bus children in can register their groups at 9:00 a.m. on the second day of registration providing there are still openings. The representatives of these groups should bring with them a list with the names, addresses, phone numbers, and level of swimming class for each child. In case there is a lack of space beginners will be given priority.

The fee for lessons is $1 for those living within the city of St. Johns and $5 for those who live outside of the city limits.

Tennis reserves beat Lakewood

The St. Johns Redwings, using a new unit of tennis players, easily defeated Lakewood last Thursday by a 5-0 score to enhance their West Central Conference tennis championship.

Tom Danley played No. 1 singles and he defeated his opponent 6-0, 6-0. David Poculis won 6-2, 6-0, and Terry Green won 6-0, 6-0. In doubles, Jeff Blackman and Terry Cornwell defeated their opponents 6-0, 6-2, and Bill DeGroot and Al Werbish won 6-0, 6-3.

Graduates honored at church service

BANNISTER —The Bannister Methodist Church honored eight graduates and their families at a dinner, following church services on Sunday.

Following the dinner, a skit by Sharon and Phyllis Stewart opened the program. The skit revealed little items of interest about each graduate. Mrs Walter Miller played piano selections of "Autumn Leaves" and "Deep River." Mrs Edna Nowlin read a poem, which she composed, to salute the seniors. Marcella Peck gave the benediction. During the church services, each graduate was presented with a New Testament.

Those graduates being honored were Howard Kremer, Judy Goldman, Rick Moore, Mike Cole, Carl Moore, Maureen Peck, Mary Sue Skaryd, and Patricia Dunay.

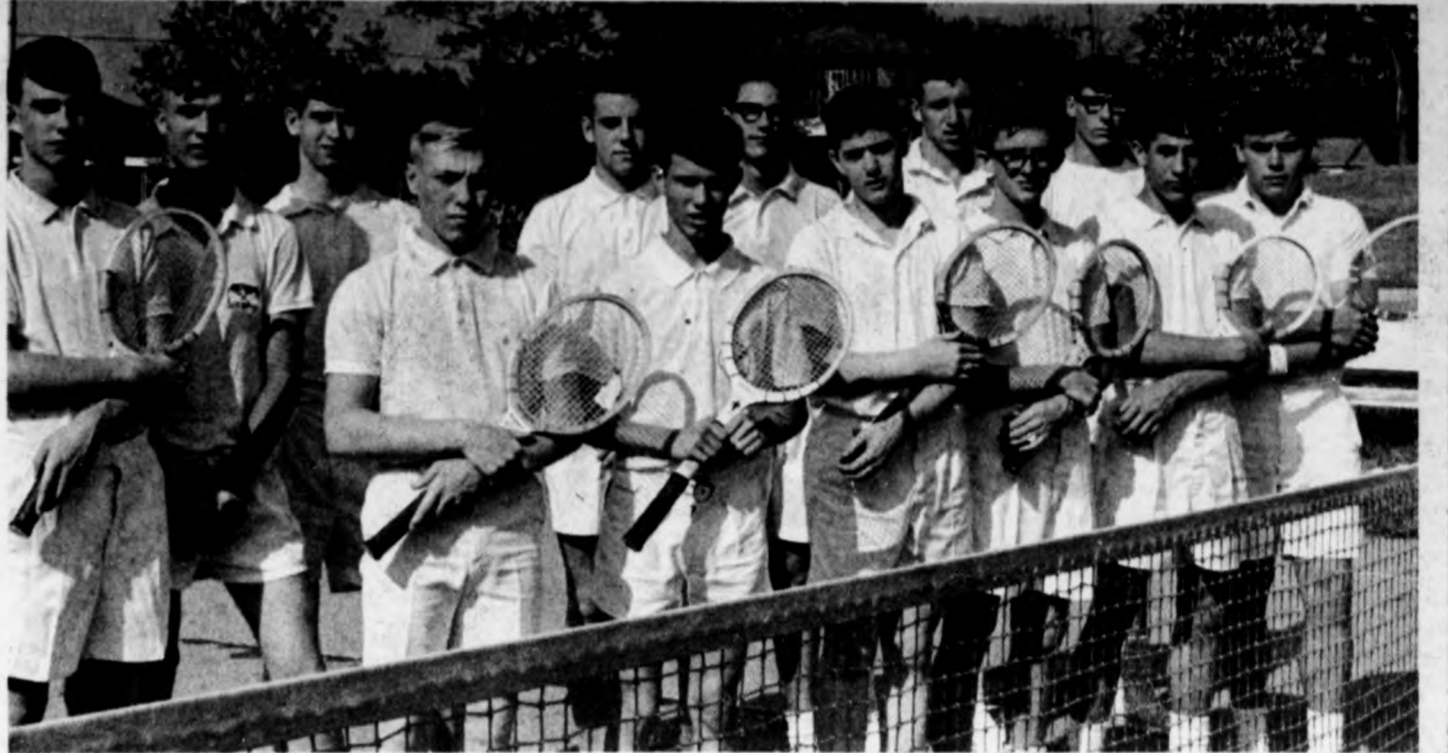

Mr and Mrs Bud Casler were surprised last week as 35 members of the Bannister Methodist Senior Choir and their families gave them a house warming at their new home in Ovid. During the evening, graduation gifts were presented to two members, Mary Sue Skaryd and Maureen Peck. The senior choir will not meet again until fall.

Father Clarence Smolinski of St. Cyril's Catholic Church was injured in a tractor accident on Friday. He is in St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw.

Mr and Mrs Joe Korienek II, Mrs Joe Korienek III and Cathy, Mrs Albert Ensign, and Mrs Carl Cox traveled to Grand Rapids on Wednesday to attend an open house at the Kendall School of Design where Joe Korienek III is a student.

The Annual WSCS Conference meeting was held at Kalamazoo on Wednesday. Those attending from Bannister were Mrs Thomas Bradley and Ramona, Mrs Raymond Stewart, Mrs William LeClear and Mrs Edward Tillitz. They stopped at the home of Rev Ernest MacDonald in Battle Creek before returning home.

Mr and Mrs Walter Miller and Mr and Mrs Robert Valentine visited Miss Jean Valentine at the Sparrow hospital in Lansing on Sunday afternoon.

AL KOENIGSKNECHT

In the long jump was his best this season but it was second to Ionia's Newman. In the shot put Roger Parsons took third place.

New mile record, but Wings lose

Although the St. Johns track team finished second to Ionia's team last Wednesday evening in a triangular meet, the Redwings had outstanding performances on several events.

Ionia won the meet with 62 1/2 points to 42 for St. Johns and 32 1/2 for Lakewood.

THE FINEST performance of all for St. Johns was a 4:41.8 timing in the mile run by Al Koenigskecht. It snatched a school record established last year by Clark Berkhausen at 4:44.

Redwing Rick Liszowski also broke 5 minutes in the mile and was good for a third place behind Lakewood's Johnson.

Golfers walk past Lakewood

The St. Johns golf team walked past Lakewood in a West Central Conference match last Thursday to the tune of 165-192.

Dennis Hankey fired the low round of 37 for the Redwings and was medalist for the day. Gary Becker had a score of 40, while Dick Creech and Bob Ortwein had 44 each.

The Wings' record overall is now 9 wins 2 losses and 1 tie, and in conference play they have a 5-1 mark. The last match of the season was scheduled for Wednesday afternoon at Ionia against a team that beat Lakewood by only two strokes recently.

A crowded field of mile runners leaves the starting lines at the second annual county track meet in St. Johns Monday evening. Ron Thornton of Elsie won the race with a record time of 4:42.6.

Ovid wins county track meet

A strong Ovid track team scored 64 points Monday evening to de-throne defending champion St. Johns in the second annual Clinton County Track Meet, sponsored by the St. Johns Lions Club.

The meet, which was held at the city park in St. Johns, attracted a crowd of enthusiasts from all parts of the county, with six high schools participating.

ST. JOHNS finished second in the meet with 43 points, while Elsie had 40 1/2, DeWitt 17 1/2, Pewamo-Westphalia 15 and Bath 3.

Six meet records were broken. Ron Thornton of Elsie ran a 4:42.6 mile, bettering his last year's performance by 1.7 seconds. Dave DeGeer of St. Johns lowered his half-mile winning time by 1.1 seconds with a 2:06.

Doug Lundy bettered his 1964 record time in the county meet by a tenth of a second when he won the 440-yard dash in 53.8. Three field events records were also broken, producing three new champions. Taylor of Ovid won the shot put with a toss of 49 feet 5 inches, beating Tom Ackles of Elsie who also broke his own record of a year ago.

OTHER NEW record holders are Al Anderson of St. Johns with a jump of 5 feet 7 inches in the high jump, and Frank Gazda of Ovid with a pole vault of 11 feet 4 inches.

Gazda also ran the low hurdles in a time of 16.6 to tie the meet record.

Gazda was the star of the meet, winning 19 points with wins in the pole vault, long jump and high hurdles and a second place in the low hurdles. Hall, who scored 10 3/4 points in four events, Huyck and Taylor were next in Ovid's scoring.

ELSIE'S LEADING scorer was Jim Horak, winner of both the 100- and 220-yard dashes, with 11 1/4 points. Kerry Reed had 7 points and Ron Thornton had 5.

Bill Watson of DeWitt scored in three events to lead his team with 8 points. Paul Dinstbier, winner of the low hurdles, had 5 points.

Pewamo-Westphalia's points were a team effort, with 10 squad members producing a total of 15 points. Smith and Curtiss led the group with 4 and 3 points. Bath's scorers were Barry Waite in the 220 and Deward Christmas in the 440-yard dash.

DOUG LUNDY led the St. Johns Redwings with 9 points, followed closely by Randy Humphrey, DeGeer, Al Koenigsnecht, Anderson, Tom McKenzie and Clark Berkhausen. These seven, four of whom are seniors, accounted for more than 40 of the St. Johns total of 43 points.

Wings win 2 games, move into 3rd place

St. Johns won two baseball games in the last week and suddenly moved up into third place in the West Central Conference. Victims were Lakewood 5-4 last Tuesday in nine innings and Greenville Monday 13-6.

Dennis Springer was the winning pitcher in both games.

AGAINST LAKEWOOD, Gary Boyce with three hits and Lee Hill with two were the leading batters as the Redwings came from behind to win the game in extra innings. They got 10 hits all told.

The big power play came in the fifth inning when the Wings got three runs to take a 4-3 lead. Singles by Boyce, Gene Rademacher, a walk to Pope, a single by Bob Every and an infield out accounted for the three runs.

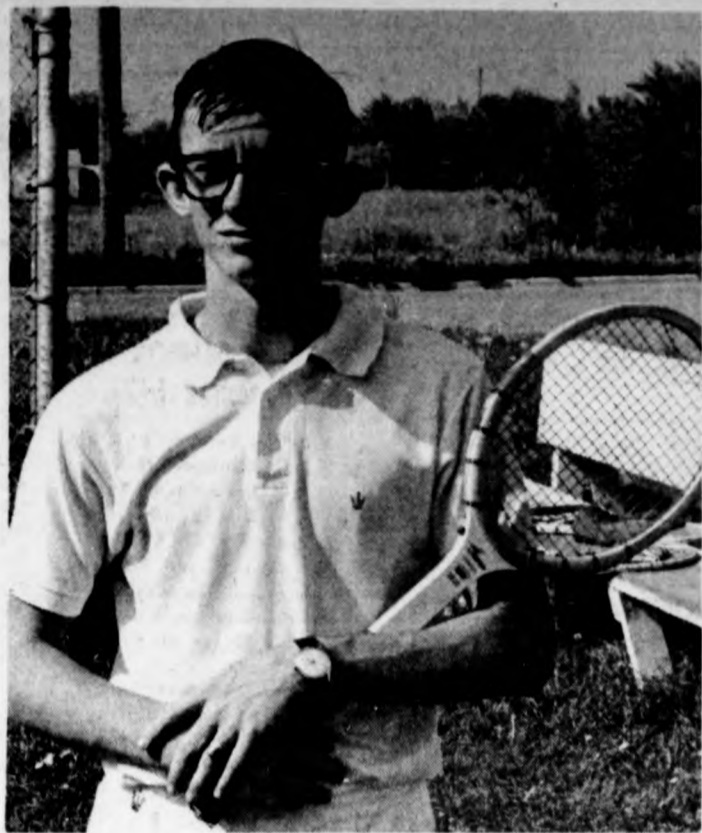

THEN IN THE ninth, Lee Hill led off with a bunt single and went to second on a wide throw. Boyce doubled to score Hill with the winning run.

St. Johns spotted Greenville three runs in the first inning and one in the second before going to work to win the game with ease. They got five runs to go ahead in the second inning on bases on balls to Krumm, Dave Hill, Lee Crawley and Boyce plus three singles by Lee Hill, Every and Rademacher.

THE BIG blow came in the fourth inning when Rademacher led off with a single, Pope followed with a triple, Every walked and Dave Hill socked a three-run homer. That accounted for four runs and broke Greenville's back.

The Redwings got 11 hits against Greenville, led by three by Every and two each by Lee Hill and Rademacher.

Score by innings:
Lakewood 2 0 0 1 0 1 0 0 0 - 4
St. Johns 0 0 1 0 3 0 0 0 1 - 5

KURT ACTON

3 netmen advance to finals

Kurt Acton, Al Werbish and Bob Vollbracht of St. Johns' tennis team qualified for the state tennis tournament at Kalamazoo June 4 and 5 by winning or being runners-up in the regional tournament at Flint last week.

3-6, 6-4 and 6-4. Strait had beaten Acton the week before in an invitational tournament at Lansing.

In doubles, St. Johns had two teams in the semi-finals. Jim Cronkrite and Bill Sirrine lost to Mason's Leo Bateman and Gary Blood 7-9, 3-6. Werbish and Vollbracht, however, defeated the Mason No. 2 doubles team 4-6, 6-2, 6-0.

In the finals, however, Blood and Bateman defeated Werbish and Vollbracht 9-11, 6-4 and 6-3. On the prior weekend, the results of the finals in the invitational tournament between the same two doubles team was the opposite.

ACTON BEAT Mike Bostrum of Holt 6-4, 6-3 in the semi-finals Saturday and then went on to upset Bill Strait of Mason

All-sports dinner set for Tuesday

Vincent J. Carillot, defensive backfield coach for the Michigan State Spartans, will be guest speaker at the annual St. Johns High School All-Sports Banquet next Tuesday evening at Smith Hall.

Some 250 persons are expected for the event, sponsored by the St. Johns Jaycees, who cook and serve the meal, provide the program and award trophies.

A HIGHLIGHT of the dinner will be the awarding of trophies to the most valuable player in each of the Redwing sports. Past President William McCarthy of the Jaycees will make the presentations.

Also on the program will be the Wilsonaires and introduction of the coaches and guests.

THE MAIN speaker, now in his fifth year with the Spartan grid coaching staff, is a former MSU football player who has coached the defensive backs three years.

Carillot joined the Michigan State staff in December 1959 as assistant backfield coach. He came to MSU after a six-year tenure at East Lansing High School where his teams ranked among the best in the state.

HE IS A native of New York City, born there March 25, 1927, and attended Commerce and Washington high schools. He spent 33 months in service with the Navy during World War II. He then came to MSU, and received the BS degree in 1950. He followed up with an MA degree from State in 1958.

In high school Carillot lettered in football, baseball, and swimming, and at Michigan State he was a member of Biggie Munn's Spartan football squad. His first coaching position was at Concord (Mich.) High. He then moved to Battle Creek Central as an assistant for one year, and then took the East Lansing position.

VINCENT J. CARILLOT

TICKETS for the dinner are available at Parr's, Dean's Hardware, Jim's Insurance, and Benson's Plumbing and Heating.

Golfers win 10th in downing Ionia

The St. Johns golf team won their 10th match of the season Monday when they defeated Ionia 165-171.

Dennis Hankey shot a 40, while Gary Becker had 42, Dick Creese 35 and Ted Bedell 48. Creese was the medalist for the day.

The golfers' league record is now 6-1, while overall they are 10-2-1.

Side-banded phosphate boosts cucumber yields. To grow more cucumbers, apply phosphate in bands two inches to the side and two inches below the seed level at planting time.

A pair of Michigan State University scientists found that total cucumber yields increased an average of 22 bushels per acre with each 20 pounds increase in phosphate side-banded at planting time. First picking yields increased 1.3 bushels per acre for every 10 pounds increase in the level of phosphorus tested in the soil.

THE scientists, John Downes and Robert Lucas, noted that these increases were consistent over a wide range of soil test phosphorus levels.

They also noted that potash fertilizer increased yields—but that this nutrient should be applied broadcast. Their experiments showed production increased an average of 28 bushels per acre for each 32 pounds increase of soil test over a range of 104 to 232 pounds of soil potassium per acre.

FINALLY, they noted a soil build-up of both phosphorus and potassium resulted from fertilizer application at rates commonly used for vegetables.

Soil test phosphorus was found to average nearly 24 pounds per acre for each 300 pounds of phosphate applied over a six-year period. Soil test potassium increased 44 pounds a year for each 300 pounds of applied potash.

Ovid youths join exchange program

OVID— The Youth For Understanding Teenage Exchange Program is sending 594 young persons abroad this summer, to live with families in countries of their choice. They will go over in 6 flights from Detroit Metropolitan Airport, beginning June 11, and will return on 11 flights, ending Aug. 31.

There are five phases of the program: a year long program for international students to the USA; a two months summer program of American students to Europe, Mexico, South America and Japan; a 14 month study program abroad; Michigan Youth Chorale, 7-week concert and family living; and the Mexican Exchange, December and January.

This program is related to and cooperates with the Michigan and Ann Arbor Council of Churches. It is one of five teenage exchange programs recognized by the US State Department. The program is both interfaith and interracial. Its purpose is to develop international understanding through living experiences with a family in another country. Over 2,000 students are involved in the entire program, which in turn is closely related to the local community. One of the goals of the program is to have a local sponsorship for each student and a cooperative relationship with the school and the student council.

There is a high degree of supervision of the summer program when students are sent overseas. Home calling is an important part of the program. Every country and counselor is on call to help both families and students. The same close supervision is in effect for the European students who spend a year in the US. National and local committees carry responsibilities for the screening and recommendation of students to the central office, for the screening and recommendation of host families, and for the supervision of program within their assigned area.

To date, three Ovid students have participated in the summer program, Ardis Green, Germany; David Richards, Holland; and Jack Bates, Holland.

This summer, Jerry Yerrick will be in Germany, Ellen Radke is here on the full year exchange program. She will return to Germany in July. Her host family is the Oren Semans. The Yerricks will have a Swedish girl with them this coming year. She will arrive in August.

Deadline for US host families is June 15 and one more host family is desired in Ovid, for a student from Europe.

The local committee is made up of Dr and Mrs Jackson Bates, chairmen, Mr and Mrs Thad Flaucher, Mr and Mrs Oren Semans and Mr and Mrs Richard DePond. For further and more detailed information they may be contacted.

Preference is given to students finishing their junior year in high school but a limited number of sophomores and seniors are accepted. A meeting of the committee and all interested persons will be held in August, at which time Mrs Agatha Kynast, area representative, will be present to answer all questions.

Mr and Mrs Gustus Wittenberg and two daughters of Cement City, Mrs William Duse of Detroit, Mrs Tillie Rook of Battle Creek, Mr and Mrs Ernest Englehardt of Kalamazoo, Jack Englehardt of Battle Creek, Mr and Mrs Robert Thens of Detroit, Mr and Mrs Al Duckworth of Kalamazoo, Mr and Mrs Stuart Baker of Troy, Mrs Christina Mattison of Monroe, Mrs Carrie Willing of Monroe and Mrs Mae Wittenberg and Mr and Mrs Harold Bredwell of Lansing were in Ovid Saturday to attend the Hildebrandt-Wittenberg wedding.

Miss Irene Fink of Royal Oak spent the weekend with Mr and Mrs Harold Fink.

Mr and Mrs Joe Wonsay and seven daughters were in Detroit Sunday where they attended the 50th anniversary open house of Detroit Edison Connors electric generator plant on Lycaete Street. Edison's have always called this plant their seven sister plant. They sent out a call on WJR radio asking families with seven sisters to attend. They were escorted through the plant and were one of many seven sister families to receive an electric blanket, corn popper, transistor radio, tooth brush, alarm clock, lamp and barbecue electric lighter. They spent some time visiting other points of interest in the city.

Mr and Mrs Clyd Pinney, Mrs Nina Hume and Mr and Mrs William Gabriels of Owosso, Mr and Mrs Clyde Schoch of Grand Ledge, Mr and Mrs Mark Schoch and Mrs Norma Tubbs of Detroit, Mrs Henry Seneff of Toledo, Ohio, Mr and Mrs Eugene Edgecomb and son of Rockford and Rev Lester Thomas of Grand Rapids were in Ovid Saturday to attend the graveside services of Mrs Litta Taylor.

Sp. 1c 5 Charles Angell and family came from Germany and are spending about 3 weeks with Mr and Mrs Malcolm Angell and family. He will then report to an army base in Maryland for further study. Mrs Virginia Angell and children of Corunna and Mr and Mrs Douglas Angell and Kevin were Sunday guests. They all spent the afternoon at Bunker Hill near Jackson.

Mr and Mrs Leon Hooker of Livonia were weekend guests of Mrs Aphra Pixley.

Dr and Mrs B. R. Elliott left Friday on a 3-week trip through the western states.

"Fabulous" construction boom in St. Johns

Mayor Ward Hillman of Deckerville, who was exchange mayor of St. Johns for a day last week, was favorably impressed by the large amount of construction taking place in the city. "Fabulous" is the term he used for it.

Pictures on this page show the progress of St. Johns' "fabulous" construction boom, which is both private and public. And there's a lot more of it going on and in the planning stages than meets the eye of those who casually tour the town.

Nearest to completion is Federal-Mogul Corp.'s new $3 billion plant expansion that will add 120,000 square feet of space, nearly doubling the size of the plant. About 100 extra jobs will result when the addition is complete.

The huge new section is close to completion. It has been enclosed for many weeks and much of the machinery is already in place. New office facilities at the front (east) end of the building are now being prepared, and exterior work is also in its final stages. Concrete drives for the loading docks were poured last week, and big earthmovers were leveling off the parking area north of the new building.

OUT AT THE west edge of St. Johns, the $2.75 million expansion of the Sealed Power Corp. plant is well underway. A new parking lot on the west side of the building has been in use for several weeks as the construction of the new 61,000-square-foot building started.

Most of what is visible now is the foundation work that hints at the size of the new addition. About 100 more persons will be employed by Sealed Power as a result of the expansion.

TWO PUBLIC construction projects are moving right along too. Most noticeable is the new addition to the Clinton County Courthouse. Masonry work is already going on on the second floor of the building, which will be even with the main floor of the present courthouse.

And in the northwest part of town, the St. Johns Water Treatment Plant is beginning to take shape. Forms are up for the main building, with the second major pouring of concrete due about next week. A huge pile of dirt and a big hole in the ground for the 400,000-gallon storage tank are the main features of the project now.

OUTSIDE OF St. Johns, the DeWitt High School project typifies the similar building boom in all parts of the county. Located on Herbison Road southwest of DeWitt, the new high school now includes a large amount of brickwork completed and steel framework for the new gymnasium.

The "Fabulous" construction boom in the area will likely not end with these projects. Coming up will be an addition to Fowler High School, construction of a brand new high school and several other buildings in a $2.6 million Ovid-Elsie Area Schools program, probably construction of a new school in St. Johns and several others in the rural portions of the St. Johns District.

start of construction of the new Central National Bank at the corner of Spring and Walker Streets in St. Johns. That start is expected any time now.

RESIDENT ENGINEER Dave Griffith, working on the water treatment plant facilities, reported that all water mains from the wells are completed to the new treatment plant site and that 50 per cent of the sludge lines are completed. He said if construction of the water plant continues at the present rate, workmen should be inside on interior work by fall.

MORE IMMEDIATE will be the Workmen tidy up after a fresh pouring of concrete on the ramp for one of Federal-Mogul Corp.'s new loading docks in their new addition. Curbing leading into the giant parking lot is also in.

The big pile of dirt in the background came from the big hole in the foreground as work progresses on the new St. Johns Water Treatment Plant off Lansing Street between Lewis and Gibbs Streets. Forms for the plant building itself rise at the right center of the picture.

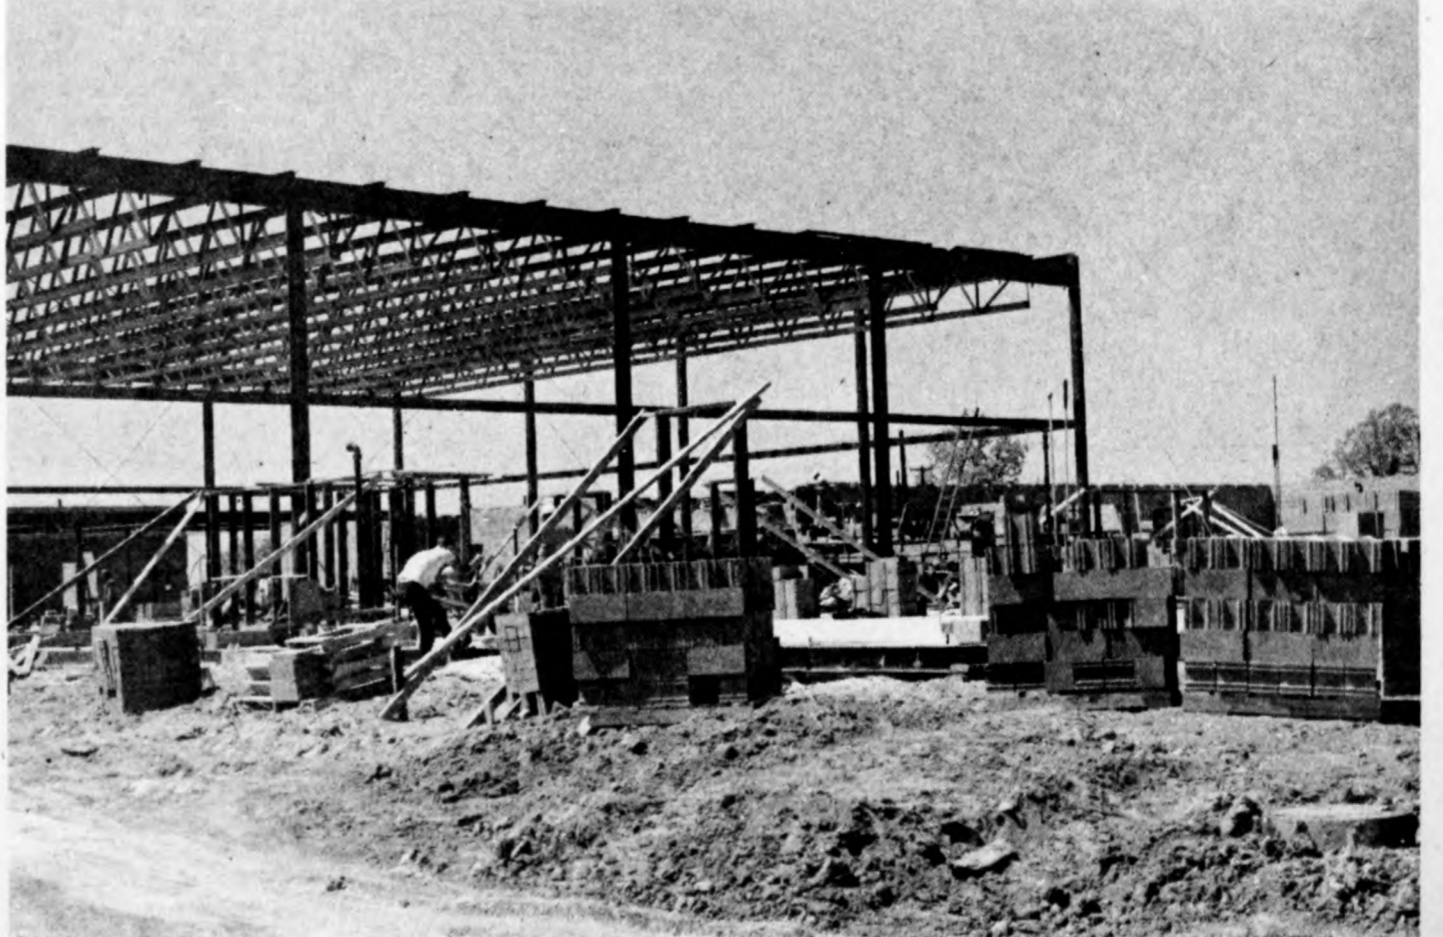

Main foundations and manhole silos are about all that's visible above ground at the site of the new Sealed Power Corp. addition. Much more will be visible in the next few weeks.

A big earthmover scrapes up dirt from the future Federal-Mogul parking lot next to the new addition. The lot has been leveled off in preparation for use of the lot.

Bricklayers, bricks and scaffolding are the common sights at the Clinton County Courthouse these days as the walls rise higher.

Steel framework for the new gymnasium rises above workers and the walls of the rest of the new DeWitt High School on Herbison Road. A lot of the brickwork is up on the west side of the new school.

Road Commission Weekly Report

The Board of Clinton County Road Commissioners held their regular meeting last week. Two members of the Supervisors' Highway Committee attended. They were Willard Krebel of Riley Township and Claud Underhill of Victor Township.

The road commission discussed specifications for a new trailer to haul heavy equipment, listened to a complainant and talked about processing gravel. They voted to take bids for a new trailer and for processing and stockpiling 50,000 yards of gravel. The bids will be taken June 3, the next regular meeting date. The Board discussed the shortage of gravel, especially in the southern part of the county.

ANYONE WHO has possible gravel deposits, south of M-21, and who would be interested in selling gravel, is asked to contact the Road Commission office.

The commission then took up a petition, from certain land owners in Victor Township, asking for the closing of a part of Jason Road. June 21 at 8 a.m. was set as the hearing date on this proposed abandonment, hearing to be held at the Road Commission office.

THE BOARD agreed to talk about certain emergency measures with the Clinton County Civil Defense director, Charles Frost, and ask him to come to the June 18 meeting.

Your road clerk made a trip last week to Washington, D. C., to visit a new grandson. We drove about 1,400 miles in five states, and found as always, that the highways that are best built, maintained and signed are in Michigan.

Students entertain at piano recital

GUNNISONVILLE— Mrs Allen Cable held a piano recital at Gunnisonville Community Methodist Church Thursday evening, May 20.

The following students were presented, each playing four to six selections, including duets: Jim Walker, Coleen Walker, Carla Sue Siebert, Nancy Hartman, Jeannine Seeger and Sarah Seeger, Mrs Cable and her sister, Mrs Paul Seeger, also played a duet.

Mrs Ralph Green and Miss Susan Green served refreshments.

SUPER-MAN The fellow with foresight can figure out what he should have done tomorrow yesterday.

Worthy grand matron here for OES fete

A visit by Mrs Shirley Jones of Grand Rapids, worthy grand matron of the Grand Chapter of Michigan, Order of Eastern Star, was one of the highlights of the Clinton County Assn., OES, annual meeting last week.

The meeting was held Tuesday, May 18, at the St. Johns Masonic Temple, and was hosted by Radiant Chapter No. 79.

OTHER GRAND officers attending were Alice Vollink, associate grand matron, and Jack Kaatz, associate grand patron.

After several musical numbers by Violet Pope, past matron of Radiant Chapter, Dolores Barrone, worthy matron of the host chapter, opened the meeting. Escorting Marshal Ella Irner presented county officers President Hazel Wright of Maple Rapids, 1st Vice President Helen Hoag of St. Johns, 2nd Vice President Althea Beagle of Wacousta; Secretary-Treasurer Rose Gardner of Ovid, Chaplain Florence Martin of DeWitt; and Marshal Gathal Martin of Elsie.

ALSO INTRODUCED were the worthy matrons of Clinton County: Julia Smith of DeWitt No. 30, Gladys Hall of Elsie No. 69, Doris Hicks of Maple Rapids No. 76, Martha Shipman of Wacousta No. 133, and Mary Lott of Ovid Morning Star Chapter No. 279.

Fund, which is one of the chief projects of all worthy grand matrons and is a means of helping young people studying for the ministry or missionary work. Anyone who needs help may apply to a chapter of OES and get help for furthering their studies along these lines.

THE WORTHY grand matron also said that in the new addition being built at the Masonic Home in Alma, plans call for a room to be used as a second beauty shop for members of the home. They did this in the hopes that Grand Chapter would establish the second beauty shop as they have the first so that they might better serve the women in the home.

The new officers were installed by the following: Mrs Jones, installing officer; Mrs Vollink, installing marshal; Mrs McInally, installing chaplain; and Evelyn Jones of DeWitt, past matron, installing organist.

MRS HOAG, as new president, thanked all for coming and asked for continued "peace and harmony" within all chapters and the county association.

Wacousta Chapter No. 133 formally invited the county association to hold the next annual meeting in Wacousta May 6, 1966.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

REP. LESTER J. ALLEN of Ithaca, 88th District

The Legislature is now almost constantly in session, albeit belatedly, is an attempt to beat the deadlines for bill passage. The House calendar is 7 pages long containing over 200 items of unfinished business.

This last-minute logjam does not permit sufficiently thorough study or consideration of the numerous bills and amendments before us. This situation could easily have been avoided if the majority party leadership had insisted that committees begin serious deliberations early in the session. Instead, slow organization and unnecessary delay in getting down to work resulted in committee failure to give adequate consideration to the majority of bills.

SUDDENLY faced with deadlines, bills were hurriedly reported out of committee without adequate study and placed in the hands of the entire House membership. Now, the House, approaching its own deadline, is in the same predicament and legislation is passed with breakneck speed and very little thought. The Legislature is currently experiencing a plight closely akin to a complete breakdown of the normal legislative processes.

Most bills passed by the House so far are in the category of minor business. Such measures range all the way from providing for licensing of farm labor contractors to establishing the Petoskey stone as the state stone and allowing the Conservation Department to regulate the hunting of wild turkey.

HIGH priority measures still awaiting consideration include appropriations, reorganization of the executive branch, fiscal reform and traffic safety measures.

There are, apparently, some legislators who feel they are not paid enough despite the big salary boost they received beginning this session. Recently, there was a move in the Senate to double lawmakers' pensions and lower eligibility requirements for receiving retirement benefits. This follows closely on the heels of a workmen's compensation bill covering public employees and, presumably, legislators.

PROBABLY the next thing we know, someone will be proposing unemployment compensation benefits for those legislators who fail to be re-elected. Proposals of this kind are certainly unwarranted—not only in the light of the recent salary increase, but because the state will have a hard time making ends meet to pay for the all-time record spending spree embarked upon by the majority party this year.

Republican hopes for fair apportionment of state legislative districts were given a slight boost recently as the State Supreme Court listened to oral arguments on an appeal from the earlier decision which created the present grotesquely gerrymandered districts. There is no doubt that if the court sees fit to allow for a fair apportionment plan, the current imbalance of political party strength would no longer exist and the minority party would win a more equitable proportion of legislative seats.

AMONG THE bills passed last week was H. B. 2035 to set rules to register and regulate water well drillers and water pump installers; H. B. 2091 providing for proration of general taxes on real property acquired for public purposes; H. B. 2269 allowing any registered elector who is 70 years of age or more to cast an absent ballot; H. B. 2619 allows illegitimate child the same status as one born in wedlock upon marriage of the child's parents; H. B. 2783 which requires at least one bridge or culvert across a drain connecting a highway with a farm entrance; H. B. 2095 makes it an unfair employment practice to discriminate against prospective employee because of age; H. B. 2494 requires annual assessment of property beginning Dec. 31, 1968, to be made by a supervisor or assessing officer certified as qualified by the State Tax Commission.

Rivard Residents Display Their Handiwork

Residents of the Rivard Nursing Home have been enthusiastic about the diversionary activities program being carried on recently, and last week they put out these samples of their handiwork—wastebaskets, "pussywillows" wicker baskets, ceramic pieces and bright-colored dusting gloves. Left to right around the table are Ella Pinkney, Cedella Guernsey and Jess Guernsey. In background are Margaret Goldsmith, Gouldie Wygant and Herbert Rummell.

Diversionary activities popular at nursing home

Since last March 17 when it first started, the diversionary activities program for residents at the Rivard Nursing Home in St. Johns has been gaining more active participants.

Purpose of the program is to get the residents out of their beds wherever possible and get them interested in various activities. The program is catching on with the folks there, and Mrs Beatrice Rivard, the owner of the nursing home, the staff, and the program instructor Mrs Susan Kowalski are excitedly happy.

"WHEN WE first started out we had only one person," Mrs Kowalski said. "Now there are 15 who are actively participating in the work, and a lot of others get up to come down and sit and watch."

The products the elderly residents make serve purposes other than to while away their time. Some of the products include small wastebaskets made of large fruit cans covered with a montage of magazine pictures and illustrations; dusting gloves made of multi-colored yarn; small wicker baskets, placecards; and other such items.

SOME OF the work was displayed in the lobby at the First Nighters' last play, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," May 7 and 8. Some was also displayed at the Michigan Nursing Home Assn. meeting, and many of the folks received awards for their work.

Mrs Kowalski, the wife of St. Johns' former recreation director, has supervised the program since its start and is enthusiastic about its continuing. But she will be leaving soon to join her husband at their new home in Ferrisdale, and she "hates to think of this program being allowed to lapse."

PERSONS interested in helping continue the program of diversionary activities at the nursing home are urged to contact Mrs Kowalski or Mrs Rivard.

Self-help meeting Tuesday

More decisions on the planned autumn courses in medical self-help will likely be made Tuesday evening at a meeting of a steering committee for the program.

The group, headed by Dr William Jordan of Fowler, will convene at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the community room at the Clinton National Bank.

OTHER MEMBERS of the committee are Earl Haas, county Extension director; Mrs Dorothy Ward of the Farm Bureau Women's Committee; Mrs Ray Hamer; William Smith of the ASCS office and County Defense Board; Dr R. L. Wohlers representing the Seventh Day Adventists, Exchange Club and St. Johns Chamber of Commerce; and the Rev Hugh Banning, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, representing the St. Johns Ministerial Assn.

Dr Jordan represents the osteopathic physicians of the area and the Fowler Jaycees.

PURPOSE OF the meeting Tuesday night will be to find out how the medical self-help course in the fall will be implemented, with consideration being given to materials and manpower that will be available. Robert Laraway, health mobilization consultant for the State Health Department, and Charles Frost, county civil defense director, will be present.

Interested members of the public will also be invited.

MRS ALAN G. THELEN

Fowler couple wed in morning service

Nuptial vows were spoken by Miss Theresa Ann Simon and Alan G. Thelen Saturday at 10 a.m. at Holy Trinity Church in Fowler. Rev Albert Schmidt officiated at the double ring service. The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Gilbert A. Simon of Fowler and her husband is the son of Mr and Mrs Julius A. Thelen of Fowler.

The former Miss Simon, accompanied by her father, approached the altar in a gown of rice paper silk and Chantilly lace, styled with a basque bodice which was trimmed with seed pearls and a full skirt, ending in a Watteau lace edged chapel train. A lace crown held her veil and she carried a bouquet of red sweetheart roses, lilies of the valley and white carnations with ivy. White gladioli and pink peonies decorated the altar.

MISS MARY Ann Simon was her sister's maid of honor. Attendants were Miss Susan Simon, also the bride's sister, Miss Karen Thelen and Miss Jean Thelen, sisters of the bridegroom. Their matching princess style dresses were of powder blue peau de soie and white lace. They wore identical headresses and carried bouquets of pink carnations and white snowflake mums.

Bruce Thelen, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Grooms men were Lawrence, Theodore and James Simon, brothers of the bride. Luke Weber and Eugene Simon seated the guests.

A WEDDING dinner was served in Holy Trinity Hall after the ceremony, followed by a reception.

The newlyweds will make their home at 232 North Maple in Fowler after their return from a honeymoon to Niagara Falls and Washington, D. C.

Both are graduates of Fowler High School. The new Mrs Thelen is employed by the state and her husband, by Oldsmobile.

City to buy VanBrunt property

The city of St. Johns will purchase the former VanBrunt property on Spring Street for $11,770, with plans being to turn it into a parking lot.

The decision to purchase the property was unanimous in the final count, but it wasn't until after Mayor Jack Smit threatened to resign if the deal wasn't carried out. He said he had been authorized some time ago by the commission to work out a deal and that he had made a commitment then with the owners that the city would buy the property.

SMIT SAID he wasn't going to back down on his commitment, and if the commission was, he was going to resign. Commissioners Ray Kentfield Jr. and Charles Coletta had opposed the purchase, but they finally voted to make the deal.

Coletta had been against it because there was no money provided for it in the city budget. The purchase amount, he said, would have to be taken from the public improvement fund, which was about the only padding for emergencies there was in the budget. Such an amount would reduce that "padding" to just over a thousand dollars, putting city spending on an extra-tight schedule for the whole fiscal year, he said.

KENTFIELD HAD expressed opposition on the grounds that the property undoubtedly would be taken for the same parking purposes under the proposed downtown renewal project and would be partially paid for by federal funds.

But Smit won out by sticking to his ultimatum, saying the city had made a promise to buy the property.

The property, at 105 Spring Street, is located adjacent to Dr R. L. Wohler's office, and has been owned jointly by Roy Briggs, Ken Munger and William Barber. They purchased it several years ago and reportedly are now selling it to the city for the amount of money they have tied up in it.

Masons honor R.G. Clark, Lee DeWitt

More than 50 years of active work in Masonry by two well-known St. Johns men was recognized Tuesday night by members of the St. Johns Masonic orders.

R. G. Clark, 80, of 200 W. Cass Street, and Lee A. DeWitt, 79, of 308 S. Oakland Street, were presented with 50-year pins by the members. Both have been in the organization, however, since 1907.

DeWitt RECALLS that Bill Smith put both of them through Masonry, the chapter, Commandery and finally the Shrine in Grand Rapids. He said he joined Masons at the age of 21 and "went through as fast as I could."

DeWitt was warden in Commandery, the only office in Masonry the two men held. But both have been active in the organizations with their time and interest.

THEY joined Blue Lodge April 12, 1907, and progressed through the Chapter, Royal Arch and were both knighted in the Commandery No. 24 Knights Templar April 22, 1909.

"I was a member as long as my suit fit me," is the way Clark recalls his membership. "I was only a member and was never an officer. But I was active and attended conventions and other gatherings. I was active as long as I could be."

ILL HEALTH in recent years has forced Clark to cut down on his activities somewhat, but the well-known former clothier still gets around a good deal and is as bright and chipper as ever.

Clark was co-operator of Clark and Hulse Clothiers for many years, with the store located where the present Holden-Reid store is now. Clark inherited his share of the business from his father, and his partner, Harry Hulse, bought out his two brothers after they got their part of the business from their father, M. A. (Dart) Hulse in about 1921.

CLARK RETIRED from the clothing business in 1951 and became vice president of the State Bank of St. Johns, which he served until the merger with St. Johns National Bank.

His interest in outside activities is evident in the fact that he was president of the Clinton County Country Club from 1927 to 1937, during the time when the first clubhouse was built out of an old barn.

HE IS presently a member of the board of trustees of Clinton Memorial Hospital and last year was honored as the oldest trustee.

DeWitt is well known for the wholesale grocery business he and his brother Mark operated in St. Johns. His father started the business in the basement of an old wooden building where the Clinton National Bank is now located.

They later bought the present Paul Automotive Building at the corner of Clinton Avenue and Railroad Street and operated there until moving to the Southwest corner of Brush and West Higham Streets. The business was sold in September 1954. At that time DeWitt was doing $2 million in business. In September 1954. At that time DeWitt was doing $2 million in business.

HE GRADUATED from St. Johns High School in 1905 and attended Detroit Business University. He came back with his father in 1907 and led the growth of the business.

But his business wasn't DeWitt's only concern. He was president of the St. Johns National Bank for 25 years, retiring nine years ago at the age of 70.

Besides his active participation in Masonry, he also found time to be an alderman for three years, a member of the school board for three years at the time the new school was built and president of Clinton Memorial Hospital for 15 years.

WHILE TUESDAY night's dinner was planned to honor DeWitt and Clark for their years in Masonry, it was also a tribute to their years of service to the growth and prosperity of St. Johns.

The 50-year award dinner was served by the Order of Eastern Star. The speaker's table was golden and the others red, all decorated with flowers.

Call meeting for June 8 to explain tornado roles

A meeting of representatives of city and villages in the county, along with members of the press, school personnel and amateur radiomen has been called for June 8 for an explanation of tornado formation and weather bureau forecasts and warnings.

The meeting will be held at Smith hall at 8 p.m. A. H. Eichmeier, meteorologist in charge of the US Weather Bureau station at Greater Lansing Airport will be one of the speakers. Lt. Glenn Dafoe, acting commander of the operations and communications bureau of the Michigan State Police, will also be present.

A FILM, "Tornado," will be shown, along with pertinent slides. The topic "Community Action Against Tornadoes" will be discussed. Lt. Dafoe will explain police responsibility and dissemination of information in the event of a twister.

A similar meeting is scheduled for tonight (Thursday) in civil defense center in the basement of the Eaton County Jail at Charlotte. The meeting will start at 8 p.m.

Archery shoot held at Elsie

ELSIE— The Ovid-Elsie Archery Club which started a few years ago as the "Missing Arrows Club" held its annual tournament shoot May 16. All archery clubs belonging to the Central Michigan Archery Assn. participated.

The following members of the Ovid and Elsie Club who participated were Jim Doten, Wesley Bush Jr., Lowell Lockwood, Jim Hurst, Dick Morley, Mike Lewis and Doug Angell. Those winning ribbons for first and second place in their class were Dick Morley, Mike Lewis, Jim Doten and Wesley Bush.

The shooters, numbering nearly 80 from all parts of central Michigan, registered from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. with coffee and donuts being served by the hosts. The wives of the club members prepared a dinner which was served by Mrs Richard Morley, Mrs Jim Betts, Mrs Doug Angell, Mrs Lowell Lockwood, Mrs Don Huguélet and Mrs Duane LaRue.

This was the first time that the clubhouse, which was built last fall, had been used for a tournament.

The Club is located two miles south and a half mile east of Elsie on ten acres of land.

The officers are Jim Hurst, president; Jim Doten, vice president; Jim Betts, secretary and treasurer; Duane LaRue, field captain; and Richard Morley, assistant field captain.

Library board, friends raise building funds

ELSIE— Clarence Walters, building consultant from the Michigan State Library, was a guest speaker at the Monday night meeting of the Friends of the Library and the board of trustees at the Elsie High School.

Walters complimented the local groups on their plans for the library and offered some pointers. A question and answer period brought up public relations, choosing a site, financing the building and planning the expanded services for the library.

Mrs Rex Waggoner, Kelley Carter and Dr. G. W. Bennett reported on progress of the brick sale which will start early in June. They displayed posters, made by Keith Thornton, that may be used in the drive for funds.

ATTENTION was also directed to a doll exhibit at the Elsie Public Library that will be won by someone at the Community Library Auction to be held in the fall.

The doll and complete wardrobe were made and donated by Mrs Robert Moore to help the fund for a new building and was seen by 313 children who attended open house during National Library Week.

A map is being prepared to show the areas now serviced by the local library. Recently, several Friends of the Library and board members visited new and remodeled library buildings at three other villages. Mrs R. P. Lannen reported on the visits.

Included were the new library at St. Charles, one converted from a fire hall at Merrill, and another that is a room in a remodeled theater which houses the civic center at Breckenridge.

Travel studied by homemakers

ELSIE— The Green School Homemakers' Club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs Raymond Thornton with Mrs Kenneth Munson as co-hostess. There were 12 members present to hear the study topic discussed, "When the Family Decides to Travel." They responded to roll call by telling of a trip they would like to take.

It was decided to hold the annual potluck picnic, Sunday, July 11, with the husbands and families as guests.

They talked about making a trip to St. Charles to visit a former member, Mrs Clyde Lutz. Mrs Milson Young drew the mystery package.

The June 10 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs Leone Pittman with Mrs Young as co-hostess. "Food and People of the Far East" and exchange of recipes will be featured in the program. Homemade ice cream and cake were served by the hostesses.

Mrs G. W. Bennett, Mrs Richard Conklin and daughter, Sheryl, spent Monday with Miss Helen Bennett in Detroit.

Set recreation youth program

Summer is just around the corner and with it comes the annual youth recreation program.

Parents and youngsters assembled Tuesday evening in the Elsie High School gymnasium to complete registrations, pay insurance fees and take a poll of the teams present.

Final count found over 300 boys and girls registered as ten little league teams, five Babe Ruth; four little league girls' teams and two major league girls' teams.

Gene Stauffer is chairman; Jim Collis, vice chairman; Pat Foran, treasurer; and Mrs Geraldine Graham, league secretary.

Practice will begin this week and the first game is scheduled for June 7. They will play five nights a week with two games each night at 6:30 and 8:15 p.m. The teams are larger than last year so vacations will not interfere with the schedules.

The boys and girls were issued boxes of candy to sell. Proceeds will help support the youth program.

Valuable players named at banquet

ELSIE—Coach Mark H. O'Donnell was presented a trophy for outstanding work in football by the Varsity Club at the annual Athletic Banquet in the Elsie High School gymnasium Monday night.

Mike Seybert gave the invocation and Kurt Coon served as toastmaster, following the ham supper attended by the boys and their parents.

O'Donnell presented the football and track letters, bars and inserts and named Kerry Reed, Tom Micka and Jim Horak as the most valuable football players and Jim Horak for track.

Kerry Reed and Jim Horak gave a few remarks concerning their respective sports.

Coach Keith Sheldon presented the basketball and baseball awards and named Tom Micka and Gary Bashore as the most valuable players in basketball and baseball, respectively and films of the Elsie-Portland football game were shown.

There are 15 juniors to continue in sports next year: Tom Bakita, Gale Bensinger, Jerry Bernath, Ron Bush, Frank Dukes, Ron Fizzell, Joe Guysky, R. J. Jones, Herm Kaufman, Terry Loznak, Charles Rigby, Dean Schultz, Kenn Sperl, Bill Streeter, Ron Thornton and Ken Waggoner.

Four sophomores, Mike Lewis, Mike Seybert, Mark O'Donnell and Jim Welch and freshmen, Cesario Garcia and L. D. Jones, are also expected to participate along with the hopefuls from junior high.

Ovid Bethel hosts Supreme Guardian

ELSIE—The Supreme Guardian of the International Order of Job's Daughters, Mrs. Grace E. Becker of Chicago, Ill. shared honors with Sarah Lott and Mrs. Rose Gardner of the Ovid Bethel at a reception at the VFW Hall Saturday evening.

Mrs. Becker, recently returned from fraternal visits to Alaska, The Philippines and Australia, included the reception in her itinerary. She extended greetings from the Supreme Bethel and an invitation to attend the Supreme Session of Job's Daughters in Chicago next August.

Sarah Lott, past honored queen of the Ovid Bethel and present Grand Bethel fifth messenger, was guest of honor and Mrs. Gardner was feted for six terms as guardian of the Ovid Bethel and as a member of the Grand Bethel Fraternal Sunshine committee.

Robert Darling, past associate guardian of the Ovid Bethel and past grand associate guardian, served as master of ceremonies of the program that followed the reception line of special guests.

Linda Hallead and Gwen Baker presided at the punch bowl and cookie arrangements, provided by the Elsie and Laingsburg members.

The hall was decorated with baskets of lilacs and tulips, intertwined with purple and white crepe paper ropes. A silver inscription of Sarah's name on a pink banner formed a background for the stage where several special guests were seated. Richard Sherman of Detroit, brother of Sarah Lott, opened the program with the vocal selections, "I Walk Alone" and "How Great Thou Art," with Jennifer Keys as accompanist.

Debbie Morgan and Peggy and Kathy Rummell presented a comic skit on driving a car and Sarah's favorite song, "Moon River," was sung by Patricia Dunay and Gloria Richardson with Gwen Baker at the piano.

An original salute to Sarah was given by five of her Bethel's daughters, Beverly Mead, Jo-Ellen Chaffee, Sue Besko, Debbie Watson and Rita Spayde.

Jennifer Keys played "Malaguena" and responded with an encore, "Tonight," from West Side Story.

Patricia Dunay of Ashley, honored queen of the Ovid Bethel, presented a memory box to Supreme Guardian, Mrs. Becker. It included souvenir programs and pictures of the local Bethel officers and Sarah.

The closing part of the program featured an accordion duet by Sue Besko and Debbie Watson, a flute solo by Karen Elrod, vocal duet by Gwen Baker and Jennifer Keys and a piano arrangement of "Exodus" by Gwen Baker.

Polly Wilcox, West Branch honored queen of the Grand Bethel, introduced her fellow officers of the Grand Bethel.

Honored queens present for the festivities were Jackie Miller, Corunna; Bonnie Begeman, Lansing; Marilyn Conrad, Walled Lake; Shirley Wright, Ionia; and Patricia Dunay, Ovid.

Sarah Lott introduced her parents, Mr and Mrs Orley Lott of Ovid, who head the Ovid OES Chapter. Mrs Lott presented her daughter with a grand Bethel doll, dressed in a pink and silver formal, identical to those worn by the 12 grand Bethel officers. She was assisted by Javene McGinn of Owosso in preparing the gift doll.

Richard Sherman brought the program to a close by singing "The Lord's Prayer."

Luncheon was served by the Ovid OES women with Mrs Margaret Potter, Mrs Norma Darling, Mrs Christine Snyder and Mrs Daphne Teal in charge. Mr and Mrs Robert Darling served as host and hostess for the evening.

The serving table was centered with a tiered cake, decorated in purple and white and topped with praying hands to honor Sarah Lott. On both sides were open book cakes to welcome Mrs Becker and to honor Ovid Bethel's guardian, Mrs Gardner.

Cutting the cakes were Mrs Clarence Darling and serving the coffee and punch were Mrs Robert Darling and Mrs Harry Elrod.

The decorations were planned by Mrs Henry Besko, Mrs Alex Dunay, Mrs Richard Hallead and Mrs Gardner. Karen Hallead and Beverly Mead attended the guests books which registered the 210 guests from Masonic-affiliated organizations in Davison, Dearborn, Redford, Mount Morris, Quincy, Holt, Bancroft, Milford, in addition to the previously named cities.

Prior to the reception, Mr and Mrs Robert Darling of rural Owosso were dinner hosts to Mrs Becker, Mrs Ricka Shipman, Mr and Mrs Charles Peterson and Mr and Mrs Orley Lott and daughter, Sarah.

2 Elsie girls are initiated

ELSIE—Sharon Schultz, daughter of Mr and Mrs Cayle Sloat, and Janice Hovey, daughter of Mr and Mrs Carl Hovey, both of Elsie, were initiated into Kappa Phi, a national sorority for university Methodist women at Central Michigan University last Sunday.

Sharon was president of her pledge class while Janice was the vice president. The initiation ceremony was held at the McKenzie Memorial Chapel in the Methodist Church of Mount Pleasant. The pledge class had as its activities a service project and a work project both for the benefit of the church and the Wesley Foundation on campus.

Following the initiation ceremony, a banquet was held for the pledge class. At this time Sharon received the best pledge award for outstanding leadership and service as a pledge. The installation of next year's officers finished out the festivities.

Attending the initiation ceremony and banquet from here were Mr and Mrs Cayle Sloat, Gary Schultz, Mrs Albert Schultz and Mr and Mrs Carl Hovey and daughter, Mary Jo.

Janice is a freshman majoring in elementary education, while Sharon is a senior in home economics.

Couple celebrates golden anniversary

ELSIE—Mr and Mrs James Stanley of Elsie observed their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday when their son-in-law and daughter, Mr and Mrs C. H. Sills of Elsie, were hosts at a dinner at the Doherty Hotel in Clare and at an open house for relatives and friends at the home of Mrs Sill's aunt, Mrs William Stevenson of 307 East 5th Street in Clare.

The Stanley's lived in Clare and Harrison for most of their married life, later moving to Flint and then to Elsie where they have had an apartment for the past 3 years in the Sills' home.

Mrs Sills is their only daughter. They also have a grandson, Ronald Sills of Elsie.

Guests were present from Houghton, Detroit, Flint, Harrison, Clare and the Elsie area.

Dean Acre elected 4-H club president

ELSIE—The first summer meeting of the Brush and Halter 4-H Club was held at the home of Rex Ballantine last week with the following election of officers: Dean Acre, president; Carol Lewis, vice president; Margaret Thornton, secretary; Randy Shea, treasurer; and Johnny Dunham, news reporter.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Raymond Thornton Wednesday, June 9, from 8 to 9 p.m. Refreshments were served by Mrs Ballantine.

Make reservations for school reunion

ELSIE—The All-School Reunion on Sunday, June 6, at Elsie High School will feature a buffet dinner and class meetings in the afternoon. Several out-of-state persons have made reservations.

The reservations committee, Mr and Mrs Henry Howard and Mr and Mrs Tom Winkler, report close to 400 reservations received as of the deadline, Saturday, but added that a few more days will be allowed for local people to make theirs.

This will be the last opportunity for former teachers and students to tour the classrooms.

The old, upright part of the school is scheduled to be torn down to make room for a new elementary school after the new Ovid-Elsie High School is built.

THIS TWO-story building was constructed in 1903 at a cost of $15,453.30. The first principal in the new school was R. C. Blank, followed by Miss Maudie Newton, Spencer Kelley, Jim Jamison, Floyd Dockery, A. D. Lyons and E. E. Knight.

Knight was initially responsible for placing the school on a high educational level and served the district long and faithfully. Then followed superintendents Ernest Knirk, Russell Burtraw, Rex Myas, William Beach, E. Lyle VanDeventer and Earl Seybert Jr.

Some of the secondary teachers in the new school have been Kate Finch, Ivy Kelley, Emma Bagley, Irene Sikkels, Blanche Bates, Helen Carter, Bethel Engbreton, Wilda Dodge, Verna Litchfield, Sarah Snelling, Esther Dorman, Mae Goodrich, Beulah Bates, Carl Bates, Glen Levey, C. K. Richards, Beulah Onstott, Thelma Rule and Carolyn Godreau.

As a token of respect and esteem for these educators, several memorials have been established.

THE KATE Finch Future Teachers Club was named to perpetuate the memory of Miss Finch who taught the 7th and 8th grades for many years.

Recognition for his valuable contribution to education was given Ernest E. Knight when the new elementary school was named in his honor in 1956.

A plaque at the Knight Elementary School was unveiled to honor Mrs C. S. (Mae) Goodrich, kindergarten and music teacher for many years.

The two story brick building was provided a gymnasium and home economics room in 1936. A frame building was also constructed to take care of the machine and carpentry shop work.

TWENTY YEARS later it was expanded again because of the growing school registrations and educational demands. Several classrooms were added to the old high school at the same time that the Knight Elementary School was built.

Mrs Sidney J. Keys and Mrs George Libey are collecting pictures, yearbooks, diplomas, souvenir programs, letters, newspapers and anything that will bring back memories of "those good old years."

They will be on display in the EHS home economic room for the reunion. All who have such memorabilia to loan for the exhibit may contact either Mrs Keys or Mrs Libey or leave the items at the Keys Gulf Station as soon as possible after Memorial Day.

Eastern Stars meet in Elsie

ELSIE—The charter was draped in memory of Clarence S. Goodrich at the meeting of the Elsie Order of Eastern Star Wednesday evening.

Goodrich became a member of the OES Chapter in 1919, six years after becoming a member of the Elsie Masonic Lodge. He was worshipful master in 1929.

It was announced that initiatory degrees will be conferred at the June 16 meeting and practice for officers on June 11.

Secretary, Mrs John Hall, gave a report on the Clinton County OES Assn. meeting at St. Johns when Worthy Grand Matron, Shirley Jones, was guest speaker. Elsie Chapter was in charge of the flag presentations and Mrs George Blayne was selected as chaplain for the County Assn. for the ensuing year.

The Sunshine committee reported that congratulatory cards were sent to the following 1965 graduates living with Eastern Star families: Patricia Dunay, Janice Levey, Ross Carter and Tom Ebert.

Mrs Malcolm Lusk successfully completed proficiency tests.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by Mr and Mrs Ward Lewis and Mr and Mrs W. S. Lusk.

Roger Wickland addresses Lions

ELSIE—The project, "Sleepy Hollow State Park," provided the program for the Lions Club meeting, Monday night, at the American Legion Hall.

Roger Wickland, habitat management expert with the Fish Section of the State Conservation Department, was guest speaker.

By means of a map, Wickland pointed out the tentative boundaries of the park.

He described the proposed lake, beaches, dam construction, campsites, picnic area, hiking trails and scenic spots of interest.

The new lake will be planted with rainbow trout, he said, the first year and northern pike, bass, bluegills and muskellunge after the second year.

If all goes well, the first trout could be biting by the summer of 1968, he said.

A question and answer period followed and group singing followed the barbecue chicken dinner with John Beery directing and Jennifer Keys at the piano. Jack Hawes presided over the business meeting.

Mr and Mrs Harold Dunham, Mr and Mrs Asa Stewart, Mr and Mrs Clifford Dunham, Mrs Luman Hall, Mrs Rolland Hankey and Mr and Mrs Dale Sheldon attended the funeral of their aunt, Mrs Minnie (Sheldon) Fressler in Montpelier, Ohio, on May 17.

Seek female labor force for possible new industry

The St. Johns Chamber of Commerce is attempting to determine the female labor force that would be readily available to work in a new industry the Chamber is endeavoring to bring into St. Johns.

If the industry locates here, it would employ 200 people with 140 of them women. The firm could be in operation yet this summer.

*AT THIS time we are competing with several other communities who have current statistics on their labor force available," Mrs Betty Jane Minsky, Chamber manager said. "We do not have this information, so it is necessary for us to have the cooperation of all women who would be interested in employment, of a 'light industrial' type, in a clean, new building, to fill out the 'Application for Employment forms' appearing in today's paper and return to the Chamber immediately.

Mrs Minsky stated that in addition to obtaining the approximate number of women who would be available, the forms might also be used by the firm as applications, if they locate in St. Johns.

"THIS WILL also be of considerable help to us in future industrial development work as labor force figures are always a necessity," Mrs Minsky said.

She asked women not to call the Chamber of Commerce office for additional information about the firm, stating that if the name of the firm or the type industry it is were to become known, still other communities would also begin competing for it.

"Besides, this firm has asked us not to reveal its identity at this time," she explained.

APPLICANTS need not necessarily live in St. Johns. Women residing outside of the community who could drive in to work should also apply as should those who are working out of town but who would prefer to work here in St. Johns.

"At this time we wish to assure this firm that we do have an ample labor force to fill their needs. To do so, we need the help of all area women," Mrs Minsky said.

AS THE Chamber must present labor force figures to the firm by June 10, women are urged to get the applications forms in immediately.

All applications will be kept confidential, with only Chamber of Commerce personnel and this new firm having access to them.

Used in many ways, the onion crop was worth $7.4 million to Michigan growers who harvested more than 2 1/3 million hundred-weight in 1964. Some found sale on the European market. Counties where production is centered are Newaygo, Allegan, Ottawa, Ingham and Jackson. The Michigan crop was the nation's fourth largest.

Navy plans new recruit company

Commander H. D. Knosp, USN, officer in charge of Navy recruiting in Michigan, has announced the formation of a special company of recruits to be known as the Tiger Baseball Company.

Navy recruiters throughout the state are accepting applications of young men between the ages of 17 and 31 who are interesting in enlisting in this select group.

THOSE WHO are enlisted in this company will be sworn into the Navy in a special ceremony at Tiger Stadium prior to an afternoon baseball game with the Washington Senators on July 19. The company will be presented with a Tiger pennant and will remain to watch the ball game prior to departing for the Naval training center at Great Lakes, Ill., to begin their seven weeks of basic training. They will remain together as a company until the completion of their recruit training.

For further information, young men are urged to see their local navy recruiter.

Growing deer herds big highway problem

The increasing deer herd in the Lower Peninsula is an increasing worry for state officials.

Statistics show 4,146 deer killed on all Michigan highways in 1962. The figure jumped to almost 5,000 in 1963 and reached 5,979 in 1964.

Lower Peninsula statistics show an increase from 3,180 in 1962 to 4,739 in 1964. This year, more than 4,700 motorists in the Lower Peninsula alone will see deer—and collide with them.

CONSERVATION Department officials estimate the deer herd in the Lower Peninsula is increasing at the rate of 14 percent per year. Low winter kill, abundant food supply from farms and highways and favorable habitats contribute to the herds' development, they said.

Highway officials are frankly worried—and frustrated. They have no practical solution, and to make matters worse, every mile of highway built creates more favorable conditions for increasing the deer census.

"WE SPEND time and money developing grass-covered medians for highway safety and beautification," a highway maintenance official said. "The deer seem to think it's just for their benefit. They jump the four-foot boundary fences to eat the green grass and clover and then seek shelter on the state's right-of-way."

"In winter, we spread salt to melt road ice and this attracts them. Thus, some of the things we do for safety seem to encourage the deer population and then it becomes a traffic hazard," he complained.

THE HIGHWAY Traffic Division recently installed two five-mile sections of mirrors on road reflectors on US-127 north of Jackson and on the I-94 business loop west of Battle Creek. These are designed to reflect headlight glare at right angles to the highway and theoretically blind the deer. It has been tried in other states but results in Michigan won't be available until fall—and the mirrors won't work during the day.

State Highway officials offer the following advice to motorists who will be involved with deer in 1965:

- SLOW DOWN if animals are in or by the road.
- Sound your horn; they probably will scatter.
- Don't fix your eyes on one only - there may be others around.
- Don't swerve at high speeds in attempting to avoid an animal.
- And remember drivers can read the "Deer Crossing" signs - deer can not.

While raspberry production figures are not available, Michigan in 1964 processed 5 1/2 million pounds, nearly all black varieties. They were valued at more than $1 1/4 million. Both red varieties and black varieties are produced, and Michigan ranks among the national leaders in the production of this bramble fruit which is delicious regardless of how served.

Spring flowers enhance inside Clinton homes

BY PATRICIA HOLMES

Flower gardens are budding all across Clinton County and women are having fun arranging the blooms all about the house.

May flowers are being brought into homes and being placed in everything from everyday dishes to prized antiques.

Use a prized cup that lost its saucer, a seldom used tea pot or a wooden bucket. Float blossoms in a bonbon dish, fancy ash tray or other unusual container. For conventional arrangements of cut flowers, anything with a wide top will work for it will let the air in.

NO MATTER how cheap, or expensive, the container, blooms that are picked and arranged properly, can add beauty to any part of the home.

If you cut the flowers with a sharp knife or scissors at a cool time of day, early in the morning or after sundown, and put them in tepid water for about an hour before arranging them in a container of cold water, they'll keep much better. Cutting away all foliage below the water level will help too.

Flowers can be arranged professionally by using a few simple tools and following the rules of Nature.

WITH needle and wire holders you can secure the heaviest branches in the latest containers. Some molding clay will keep these holders in place and a few large stones, 2 to 6 inches across, will conceal the holders.

Mrs. Lyle Fenner of 2821 Centerline Road, a professional flower arranger, said that in constructing an arrangement, women should study nature. Flowers seldom grow to the same height outdoors, she said. Therefore, in arrangements, flowers should not reach the same height.

HARMONY and color contrast can be attained by alternating the leaves and the flowers in various groupings and one part of the arrangement should dominate the whole.

To keep the arrangement fresh and lasting, keep it in a humid room, away from direct sunlight and recut the stems and change the water daily, if possible.

The nation's second biggest producer, Michigan harvested 3 million bushels of peaches for an estimated grower value of more than $6.3 million. The experimentation station at South Haven is the home of some of the most popular peach varieties grown today throughout the world. They are delicious—fresh, canned or pickled.

Make homemade jam from spring fruits

BY BETTY KETCHAM
County Extension Agent

Homemade jams and jellies are always something special and you will be too, if you're the one who's made them.

Even if you've never canned a thing in your life, think seriously about making a few jars of jam this year. There will soon be a abundance of supplies of fresh fruits on the market—blueberries, raspberries, strawberries, cherries, grapes—all wonderful for jams and jellies.

HERE'S a recipe that combines two early spring fruits—rhubarb and strawberries—into a tart-sweet jam that's unusual enough to draw comments from your family and friends. It comes from the food laboratories of the US Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Service.

RHUBARB-STRAWBERRY JAM

- 1 c. cooked red-stalked rhubarb (about 1 pound rhubarb and 1/4 cup water)
- 2 1/2 c. crushed strawberries (about 1 1/2 quart boxes)
- 6 1/2 c. sugar
- 1/2 bottle liquid pectin

Wash rhubarb and slice thin or chop; do not peel. Add water, cover and simmer until rhubarb is tender (about 1 minute).

Ladies' Circle holds May tea with daughters

On May 13 the Ladies Missionary Circle of St. Johns Baptist Temple met at the church for their monthly meeting. There were 12 persons in attendance and the Book of Proverbs, chapter 22 and 23, was read by Mrs. Alice Richmond.

A discussion was held about the father and son banquet to be held on June 18. Further discussions will be given on June 10 when the women meet at the home of Mrs. Dottie Snyder. The meeting will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. with Mrs. Snyder and Mrs. Joan Smaltz in charge of the refreshments.

FOLLOWING collections, refreshments were served by Mrs. Ethel Green, Mrs. Fern Halner and Mrs. Diana Hunt. The women then worked on decorations for the mother and daughter tea which was held on the following night.

The tea began with a luncheon, after which a program was presented.

Mrs. Ethel Green was toastmistress for the evening. She read a poem, then introduced Mrs. Diana Hunt who gave the tribute to the mothers. Mrs. Alice Richmond gave the tribute to the daughters.

A DUET was given by Mrs. Lois Green and her daughter, Barbara, and a solo by Miss Margaret Lougheed who was accompanied at the piano by her mother, Mrs. Helen Lougheed, both of Flint.

The speaker of the evening was Mrs. Helen Lougheed who spoke of mothers and daughters. The final event of the evening was the presentation of gifts and corsages by Mrs. Marian Orweller.

Tempting echo of spring

Trees shoot forth delicate sprouts, gardens display color that's a promise of brilliance to come—all about us Nature Blossoms forth in splendor. And the gaiety of spring-into-spring is echoed on our tables.

Lemon Asparagus Mold with Curry Dressing is a salad triumph that emphasizes the glorious sunshine and carefree spirit of the season. Its glamorous appearance earmarks it for entertaining, as well as family meals though it is simplicity personified to make. The mold of asparagus in bright pimento bits, while a smooth dressing with illusive undertones of curry highlights the refreshing flavor of the shimmering salad.

LEMON ASPARAGUS MOLD WITH CURRY DRESSING

- 2 3-oz. pkgs. lemon flavored gelatin
- 1 1/2 c. boiling water
- 1 1/2 c. cold water
- Hard-cooked egg wedges
- Pimento
- Cooked asparagus spears
- Lettuce

1 c. salad dressing
1 tsp. curry powder

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water; add cold water. Arrange egg wedges and chopped pimento in bottom of 1-quart mold. Add enough gelatin to cover; chill until slightly thickened. Arrange asparagus and strips of pimento around sides of mold; add remaining gelatin and chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce. Serve with Curry Dressing made by blending salad dressing and curry powder.

THE LEMON Asparagus Mold or any other favorite salad will be all that you need to accompany this flavor-rich and savory

Green Tee golfers play in St. Johns

Thirty women teed off at the Clinton County Country Club Wednesday, May 19, for Green Tee Golf.

Low score with a handicap went to Mrs. Hazel Allaby, best "poker hand" to Mrs. Kenneth Mungler and low on the third hole was won by Mrs. Lester Lake.

LUNCH WAS followed by bridge and Mrs. Arden Cook won high with second high going to Mrs. Paul Stoller. Mrs. Howard Woodbury and Mrs. James Meuser tied for third and Mrs. Roy Briggs received low.

The women will golf in Grand Ledge on May 26.

asparagus. Sprinkle herbs over chicken. Stir flour, baking powder, and salt together in mixing bowl. Beat eggs, milk, and cheese; add to flour mixture. Beat batter well and pour over chicken, spreading evenly. Bake 25 to 30 minutes. Cut into squares and serve hot with Cheese Sauce. SAUCE: Melt 2 tbsp. butter over low heat in heavy saucepan. Blend in 2 tbsp. flour, 1/4 tsp. salt, 1/8 tsp. pepper, and 1/4 tsp. dry mustard. Cook over low heat, stirring until mixture is smooth and bubbly. Remove from heat. Stir in 1 cup milk. Bring to boil, stirring constantly. Boil 1 min. Blend in 1/2 c. Cheddar cheese (cut up or grated). Stir until cheese is melted.

Bath Delegates to Boys' State and Girls' State

Bath seniors win scholarships

BATH— Bath High School has five senior girls that have won scholarships. The winners are Mary Black, Gloria Horn, Sheryl Swart, Susan Schaibly, and Sally Weaver. All are members of the National Honor Society.

Mary Black won a scholarship from the Michigan Higher Education Assistance Authority to Michigan State University. The scholarship is for $328 per year. She also won a $150 Trustee Scholarship from MSU with a $300 loan. Her activities have included being band president, a member of the glee club, National Honor Society secretary, and work on the school yearbook and newspaper. She plans to major in music therapy.

Gloria Horn received an MSU Trustee Scholarship worth $324. She plans to major in executive secretarial administration and hopes eventually to become a foreign service staff officer. Gloria is a member of the band, glee club and senior play cast, served in the student council during her senior year and was the yearbook business manager.

Sheryl Swart, class salutatorian, has obtained a $500 per year scholarship from Western Michigan University. Her major will be elementary education and her activities include membership in the Girls' Athletic Assn., and Future Teacher's Club and served as senior class treasurer.

Susan Schaibly won a Trustee Scholarship from MSU for $324 and a loan of $210. She represented Bath last summer at Girls' State and edited the school paper. She was a cheerleader for three years and senior vice president. Her goal is to teach secondary school art.

Sally Weaver, valedictorian, acquired a $300 Trustee Scholarship and plans to major in veterinary medicine at MSU. She has been secretary of the senior class and student council. Her other activities include cheerleading and membership in the junior and senior play cast.

Set starting time of Memorial Parade

BATH— The Memorial Day Parade, sponsored by the American Legion of Bath, will start at 10 a.m. on Main Street in Bath. Line up time is 9:30 a.m. in front of the Memorial Hall.

Any organizations wishing to participate are invited.

New Lutheran pastor named

William Luecht, chairman of the St. Johns Lutheran Church announced last week that the Rev. Theodore Moeller Jr. has accepted the call to be the pastor of the church.

The congregation has been without the services of a resident pastor since Feb. 1, when the Rev. Fred Rutkowski was granted a release. Rev. Mr. Rutkowski is now pastor of Bethlehem Lutheran Church at Carson City, Nev.

The St. Johns congregation has been served under a modified program by Rev. Elmer Schiefer, pastor of St. Peter Lutheran Church in Riley Township southwest of St. Johns.

Luecht announced the decision of the church council that the Rev. Mr. Moeller would be installed as pastor in a special service at 8 p.m. Sunday, June 13.

Church women plan clean-up

At the spring meeting of the Episcopal Church Women it was announced that Saturday, June 12, has been set for volunteer clean-up of the church dining room, kitchen and choir room. Work will begin at 9 a.m.

Mrs. T. E. Corkin led the devotional period and Miss Florence Dexter introduced the program, a presentation of slides of South America taken by Mrs. George Judd.

Coffee was served from a table centered by an arrangement of tulips, made by Mrs. C. O. Hendershot. Mrs. Earl Lancaster was the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Jack Danley, Mrs. Lynn Woodbury and Mrs. L. B. Campbell.

Girl bruised as car backs into her mom's

Beth Ann Cowan, 2, of 507 Kibbee Street, suffered bruises Saturday morning when the car driven by her mother, Mrs. Elisabeth Cowan, was stuck in the side by one backing out of a driveway at 105 S. Whittemore (US-27).

The car was being backed out of the driveway by Mrs. Julia Walton of 105 S. Whittemore. Neither she nor a passenger, Mary Walton, 80, were hurt. Mrs. Walton was ticketed by city police Officer Robert Ott for improper backing.

The Cowan car was traveling north on US-27 at the time of the accident.

FRANCIS ROSSOW

Rossow new associate prof at Concordia

Prof. Francis Rossow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman F. Rossow of R-2, St. Johns, has been advanced to the rank of associate professor of English at Concordia Senior College, it was announced by Dr. Martin J. Neeb, president of the college.

Prof. Rossow is a graduate of Concordia Junior College, Fort Wayne, and of Concordia Seminary, St. Louis. In 1959 he received the MA degree from Michigan State University.

FOLLOWING HIS graduation from Concordia Seminary in 1948 he became pastor of the Crosby-Fortuna - Wildrose Parish in North Dakota. In 1949 he accepted the call as associate pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Saginaw, Mich., and served in that capacity for 10 years. He joined the faculty of Concordia Senior College in 1959 as assistant professor of English and resident counselor.

Prof. Rossow is married to the former Eunice Bernthal of Saginaw. They are the parents of five children - three girls and two boys.

School board vacancy for 2-, not 3-year term

A change in the length of the term of office for which two men are running for the St. Johns school board was announced last week by the school administration.

An error in reading the dates for the expiration of the term of former member Lorenz Tiedt was made, and the candidates for that seat—William McCarthy and Alden Livingston—will be running for a two-year term instead of three-year term.

THE TERM will expire July 1, 1967, rather than July 1, 1968, as was previously thought.

A four-year term being sought by incumbent Kenneth Munger and Donald Bast will be unaffected by the error on the other term.

Mesick is located at the junction of Rts. M-37, M-42 and M-115 about 18 miles northwest of Cadillac. It's population is just over 300 persons.

They were showered with gifts, taken on a tour of the area and treated royally with meals and overnight accommodations. The Joraes stopped into the village for lunch Tuesday, inquired about overnight accommodations and were selected by a village committee to be the guests of the village on Hospitality Day of Michigan Week.

THE RETIRED couple were on a pleasure trip through northwest Michigan and had never been in Mesick before, they said, although they had been in the general area.

After selecting Mr. and Mrs. Joraes as their guests, committee members took them on a tour of the area, including stops at the wild life sanctuary at Glengary, the Mesick Trailer Park and Hohenpyle Dam. Wednesday they took a fishing trip, the primary purpose of the Joraes' visit.

GIFTS TO the visiting couple from the people and businesses of Mesick included an overnight motel room, lunch, chicken dinner, a full tank of gasoline, sun glasses, a boat cushion, a blue spruce tree, a road atlas, a picnic cooler, commemorative Life has loveliness to sell! That makes a refrain through my head this morning, going over and over, yet getting just that far. What IS the rest of it?

It's enough! It's a complete thought so right for this day.

I awoke early when Pete shunt the little back door with its jingle of bells as he went to milk. At the same time there came a merry tinkle with the fragrance of lilacs. Through the open window it came and went with the breeze. Oh, was there ever a more pleasant way to awake?

SQUIRMING DOWN into the warm covers I thought... THIS is going to be a glorious day! NOTHING can mar it. I will hold this day high and put all of my being into making it perfect. Trying to live one day consciously the best that I am capable... perhaps a day to remember all of my life!

Perfect? What makes a perfect day?

Have you ever asked yourself that? Of course, it would not mean the same for everyone.

WELL, TO BEGIN with, mine would include lying in bed briefly for the most luxurious of feelings. Can anything compare to the comfort of a person's very own bed, be he a baby or a very old person? It's just about the most obliging thing there is conforming to your own bones and weight and YOU. (If anyone doesn't have the utmost in a comfortable bed it's too bad... nearly a third of a person's life is spent in it. Seems as though he would invest in that above all else.)

This may be a lazy part of me but I love to wake up early just to lie in bed... and often set the alarm a few minutes earlier than actually intending to get up to enjoy this time. That's a secret time learned early in life that no one or nothing can rob me of, or make me feel guilty in what is done with it. It's mine!

THIS MORNING I took no more time than ever... just enough to think a bit and know how very lucky I am.

Then down on my knees for another secret learned in childhood. To start out the day thanking God for the restful night and his help to meet the trials and duties of this day... to have faith in Him and my fellowman and confidence in myself... "to study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed."

I STAYED longer on my knees this morning than usual. A special day would include that for me.

Now here you are, Day in May. What do you have in store for me besides a comfortable bed, fragrant lilacs, my prayer to be approved unto God and such happiness that my heart is skipping fast?

Will I be able to sing... "When you come to the end of a perfect day... tonight?"

100,000 pounds of milk produced

Lifetime milk and butterfat production totals exceeding 100,000 pounds have been credited to Registered Holstein dairy cows in herds from this area. A large crowd of some 235 senior citizens from Clinton, Ingham, Eaton, Livingston and Shiawassee counties attended the District F Get-Together at Smith Hall in St. Johns last Wednesday. The group will return for their spring gathering again next year.

235 at Sr. Citizens district meeting here

About 235 senior citizens from five surrounding counties held their District F annual Get-Together in St. Johns last Wednesday with a program lasting from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Smith Hall.

The program included a noon luncheon, playing of cards and other games, presentation of awards, community singing, entertainment by the First Nighters and dancing, games and cards.

SENIOR CITIZENS were present from Clinton, Ingham, Eaton, Livingston and Shiawassee counties. The oldest woman present was Mrs. R. P. (Margaret) Canning of 202 W. Cass Street, St. Johns, who is 93 1/2. The oldest man was Edward J. Fox of 1011 N. Clinton Avenue, St. Johns, who's 83. They were given ribbons honoring them on the occasion.

Registration for the annual Get-Together was at 11 a.m., and a noon time chicken dinner was served by the Rebekahs of St. Johns. Invocation at dinner was given by Clarence Hill of St. Johns.

PAUL BENNETT, recreation director at Howell, was master of ceremonies. Greetings were presented by Roger Kowalski, former St. Johns recreation director who has a similar post at Ferndale. Mrs. Betty Jane Minsky, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the group. Novelty gifts donated by members of the Chamber were at each place on the tables for the visitors.

Awards and drawings were given and conducted by Mrs. Margaret Whitehead, assistant recreation director of Lansing, Vicki Rowell and Eugene Livingston presented a First Nighter's production of "A Pair of Lunatics," directed by Terry Foster.

FOLLOWING dancing, games and cards, the meeting broke up about 4 p.m.

The planning committee for the annual Get-Together consisted of Margaret Whitehead, Joan Adleman and Helen Naylor of Lansing, Paul Bennett and Polly Murningham of Howell and Roger Kowalski of St. Johns and Ferndale, the chairman.

THE CHAMBER of Commerce invited the group back for its spring Get-Together next year, and the invitation was accepted.

The 56 representatives from the Clinton County and St. Johns senior citizens group was the largest number from one group. Other senior citizen clubs represented included those at Williamston, Howell, Fowlerville, Grand Ledge, Bancroft, Lansing (five different clubs) and Brighton.

Michigan has more than 150 waterfalls. The Tahquamenon Falls, near Newberry in the Upper Peninsula, is America's second largest east of the Rockies.

Big Boy Scout camporee nears

Scouting units throughout the Chief Okemos Council of Boy Scouts of America are organizing and being organized for the big council-wide camporee at Priggooris Park south of Bath June 4, 5 and 6.

All seven districts of the council will be participating in the "show-type" event. Lewis Moldenhauer of St. Johns is the Chippewa District camporee chief. Theme for the event will be "Follow the Rugged Road."

PRIGGOORIS Park is located at the southeast corner of Webster and Drumheller roads between Bath and Park Lake.

More than half the troops in the Chief Okemos Council have entered the camporee and more are expected. Purposes of the event are to provide an adventuresome activity for Scouts, stimulate adult Scouters and to help interpret the program of Scout camping for the public.

8 complete CD shelter management course

Eight persons have completed the Civil Defense-sponsored shelter management course held weekly during March and April. A number of other persons attended on just certain nights. Another series of classes on shelter management will be held in the fall.

Straits massacre reenactment set

There'll be reenactments of the Fort Michilimackinac massacre Saturday and Sunday at Mackinaw City, the Michigan Tourist Council advises would-be travelers. Also scheduled on those days is the 4D Ranch Rodeo at Ann Arbor.

There are 300,000 automobiles in Milan, Italy.

Farm Bureau Conference in St. Johns

High-ranking Farm Bureau leaders confer briefly at Smith Hall last Tuesday evening before the start of the Rural-Urban Dinner during Michigan Week. At center is Allan B. Kline, former president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, who was the main speaker. He is conversing with Elton Smith, left, Michigan Farm Bureau president, and E. J. Bottum, president of the Clinton County Farm Bureau. (Additional story on Page 2-C.)

Chamber has 1st defense bulletin

The St. Johns Chamber of Commerce recently contacted all local industries offering their services in securing copies for them of a new monthly periodical published by the secretary of defense and entitled "Defense Industry Bulletin."

Betty Jane Minsky, Chamber manager, said the bulletin is new and was established by the secretary of defense as a communications link between them and defense contractors with the purpose of keeping American industry abreast of department of defense plans, programs and policy changes.

THE ST. JOHNS Chamber has in its office the first bulletin, issued in January. It has written for the February, March and April issues, and Mrs. Minsky stated that the St. Johns Chamber would be on the mailing list to receive all future issues.

In the Chamber's letter to area industries it offered to secure bulletins for those industries who were desirous and to make sure they will receive them monthly.

Miss Nickel performs at Albion program

Music by Mozart, Brahms and Bartok was featured by six performers, including Carolyn Nickel of St. Johns, at "An Evening of Chamber Music" Friday at Albion College. Miss Nickel, playing the piano, is a junior music major at Albion and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nickel of 502 E. Sturgis.

The average US miner produces 15.19 tons of coal per day.

The Chamber stated this was just one of its plans to aid existing local industry.

Mrs. R. P. Canning of 202 W. Cass, at age 93 1/2, and Edward J. Fox of 1011 N. Clinton Avenue, at age 83, were the oldest woman and man present at the Senior Citizens District F Get-Together last week.

Go Ahead... Go Cadillac!

Before you buy any car at any price, consider a Cadillac first of all. New or previously owned, a Cadillac is the one way to be sure your investment will buy the most and last the longest.

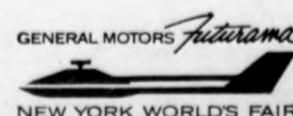

Whatever you have budgeted for your next car, your Cadillac dealer has a Cadillac to fit your plans. Naturally, if your choice were unrestricted, you would prefer a new 1965 Cadillac like the Sedan de Ville in front. Next best would be a late-model, previously-owned Cadillac such as the black 1963 Sedan de Ville, above. A well-maintained, one-owner used Cadillac is actually the only real rival of a new Cadillac. Because of the popularity of the 1965 model, your authorized dealer is the one logical place to go for the best selection of fine used Cadillacs.

The Tongues Movement Real or Fake?

Statistics indicate there are more than 3,000 languages and dialects spoken in the world today. The Bible gives the source of these languages. Following the flood, the surviving generation wanted to build a tower "...whose top may reach unto heaven." God saw the wickedness of their desire and confounded their language so no tribe understood the other (Genesis 11:1-9).

Languages, for a different purpose, are mentioned in Acts 2, 10, and 19. The experience described has been real to many Christians for years. But more recently a renewed general interest in "speaking in tongues" has developed.

The first record of "speaking in tongues" after the time of Christ, is in Acts 2. This signaled the initial infilling of the Holy Ghost as promised to believers. However, there have been similar outpourings recorded in almost every century since.

For many, the baptism with the Holy Ghost is misunderstood, and often confused with salvation. But is the experience for Christians today and does it follow salvation? Do people speak in languages never learned?

Write for scriptural answers to these and other questions on the experience.

Peace, Freedom, Faith are Memorial Day goals

A lot of stirring speeches and solemn tributes have been uttered on Memorial Days gone by. There is little left in words or phrases that have not already been said in tribute to those who didn't come back.

Regardless of the war they fought in . . . regardless of the battlefield they died on, the circumstances and conditions were not of their doing. None wanted to die and yet few wanted to live under the tyranny which defeat would have meant.

Their contribution to victory was death. Our contribution must be gratitude and a determination to preserve through responsible leadership and citizenship that which they dreamed of.

IN THESE days of sophistication some term it "corny" to be patriotic. Some consider it boring to give thought to the individual sacrifices that have been made in the building of this Republic of ours.

Some feel sort of foolish to wave a flag or get excited over martial music. Some would rather stand on the sidelines as remote onlookers, or devote their entire thoughts to less serious and less responsible things.

Certainly false patriotism is wrong. Certainly dwelling on past sorrows is not constructive. Certainly artificial feelings and actions are meaningless.

BUT SO IS indifference . . . so is irresponsibility. If we are to salvage anything from our experiences in war, if those who have died are not to have died in vain, we have a duty to think and to be stirred.

Peace is our goal on this Memorial Day and peace can not be lasting without serious reflection on the horror and the uselessness of war.

Freedom is our goal on this Memorial Day and freedom can not be fully attained until all of us believe in the dignity of mankind.

Faith is our goal on this Memorial Day and faith can not be meaningful without a firm belief in the righteousness of our principles and ideals as a people and a nation.

The words may seem worn, the goals may seem idealistic, but we owe it to those who have gone before and those who are yet to come to make these words fresh and these goals real.

Dams in Grand Canyon rob natural splendor

The dam builders are at it again. The Federal Bureau of Reclamation is seeking authorization from Congress to build two huge hydroelectric dams on the Colorado River in the Grand Canyon, one in Marble Gorge, one in Lower Granite Gorge.

Neither dam is necessary, according to Prof. Richard C. Bradley, a Colorado College physicist and well informed conservationist. "Both would be wasteful and destructive," he writes in the winter issue of "The Living Wilderness."

OUR NATIONAL park areas are intended to be preserved unimpaired for future generations. There are other means of providing electricity to the people of the Southwest—and they would be cheaper, too, according to Bradley.

But once these beautiful natural areas are inundated they will be lost to all of us forever.

As transportation becomes simpler and quicker and our population expands, our parks and national monuments and lakes become increasingly more important. Can we dispose of them so carelessly?

Can we cheat our grandchildren just so a few people can have electricity—which fossil fuels or nuclear power could give them just as well?

RAMBLIN' with Rink

BY LOWELL G. RINKER

Saturday evenings during the last few weeks have been filled by that agile sport of dancing. This has long been a favorite pastime for my wife and a drudgery for me.

The drudgery has stemmed from a rather unorthodox style of footwork which I have not been proud of. I had never had any formal dancing lessons; during high school I was too shy, and during college I was not intending to show my ignorance. Besides, I was putting on a little weight then (believe it or not), and with my clumsy footwork I didn't want to be known as "Crusher Rinker."

MARRIED LIFE brought a number of changes in my habits. One was in the field of dancing. Ann liked to dance and every once in a while she would talk me into going to a dance someplace. This has practically always met with grumbling from me and persisting by her.

Being an amiable sort of person and not wanting to put my foot down to prove who the boss in the family was, I frequently relented and took her dancing. I always had a good time.

MY WIFE MANAGED to show me a few simple steps and we usually danced the simple numbers only—the slow pieces that I could shuffle through. But Ann's love for other dances, particularly the polka, recently led her on a campaign to improve my life through dance.

The current series of dance lessons under the auspices of the St. Johns Recreation Department came at the opportune time, my wife says, and I guess she's right. We have been to four lessons so far and I must admit I'm learning.

THE RUMBA, cha-cha, fox trot, swing and even the waltz—which we just started—are beginning to come through. At times I even think I dance like Fred Astaire, but I realize now those are just delusions of grandeur coming at moments of extreme fatigue.

Actually, I still am no "twinkle toes," and my size 11's can do more damage to a feminine foot than you can imagine. That my wife can still walk is through the grace of God, certainly not through my grace on the dance floor.

MY VERSION of the "cha, cha, cha" more closely resembles a "ha, ha, ha." But my wife seems to think I'm making progress, and the instructor, Roy Brisendine, has not yet tossed me out as incurable. So, maybe there's still a chance for me.

The idea of going dancing still does not appeal to me, but I find that now that I can stumble in the same pattern all the time, I do very much enjoy it once I get on the dance floor.

Memorial Day

By W. E. DOBSON

We call the day "Memorial" That we commemorate, And quote off from the founders Of this old Ship of State; A day we strive in justice To our heroes of the past, To revere and to make sacred, That their memory shall last.

We, who are of the living Do well not to forget The elements of greatness That made for strength—and yet— We need to guard our thinking In the light of a new day, Against a type of smugness, That could lead us far astray.

We did not—do not—earn our place On history's highest scroll, Except through holding purpose true From pettyness of soul; Let us give honest honor due To patriots true this hour, While ever seeking to restrain Excess of pomp and power.

The flowers that we spread today For loved ones gone before, Shall serve to keep us conscious Of the burdens that they bore; Not just "another holiday" To debase and desecrate— High purpose true, we need renew, Once more re-dedicate!

432 of us had a dandy time

IT'S MY GUESS that newspaper people attend more banquets, meetings and such than most folks. Not because we like to, necessarily, but because it's part of our job.

I'd be less than honest if I didn't confess that there are dozens of nights in the year when I'd rather sit home than drag myself off to some affair that should be "reported."

Once in a great while, though, comes an occasion that's worth all the previous punishment . . . that compensates for other less interesting evenings . . . and makes me glad I've had the privilege to be in attendance.

SUCH AN AFFAIR was the Rural-Urban banquet at Smith Hall in St. Johns last week. The dinner was sponsored by the county Farm Bureau and 432 of us—farmers, business people and our ladies—gathered to eat good food, visit a little, sing some songs, enjoy talented entertainers and get inspired by a truly glorious speaker.

The fellow who did the talking was Allan B. Kline, highly regarded Iowa pig raiser, who is a past president of the American Farm Bureau. With mannerisms somewhat reminiscent of Sen. Dirksen, Kline drills home his message in such a conversational way that he appears to be speaking "off the cuff."

Individual freedom is his general theme and he gets around to applying it more specifically to the Farm Bureau's interest in a freer market for agricultural products, the Taft - Hartley law's "right-to-work" section, and the current rural - urban struggle over apportionment of state legislatures.

ALONG THE WAY this scholarly Iowan throws in references to the Ptolemies of ancient Egypt, the Age of Pericles in Athens and the writings of Alexis de Tocqueville. Yet he does it so casually that there's no appearance of "talking down" to his audience.

Ernie Carter of Watertown remarked to me afterwards that Kline talked in simple terms "you can understand." That was the ultimate in compliments, I'm sure, because Kline is a professional who must pride himself on his ability to size up an audience and tailor his presentation in a way that will best influence their thinking.

He was at his best the other night and it's a pleasure to hear a man go about a speaking chore in such a workmanlike manner.

THE SPEAKING wasn't all that was superior. Vivacious Sandra Dershem, St. Johns high school vocalist, entranced the banquet crowd with her selections.

I don't know anything about music, but this gal sounds real good to me. She looks good, too, and she's got poise like you seldom see in an amateur entertainer. There was hardly a dry eye in the hall when she trilled out those high notes of "Climb Every Mountain."

Scott Heibeck preceded Sandra with three accordion numbers that drew hearty applause.

DAVE MORRIS, Eagle farmer and district Farm Bureau director, presided as master of ceremonies and kept the program moving swiftly along. E. J. Botum, county Farm Bureau president, introduced guests. Mrs Wilbur Brandt led community singing and brought extra spirit into the Michigan Week crowd with her choice of "Michigan, My Michigan."

Elton Smith, state president of the Farm Bureau, was on hand to introduce the evening's principal speaker. The Rev Gerald Churchill of St. Johns spoke the invocation. Accompanists for musical numbers were Mrs Lewis Babbitt and Miss Delia Davis. Organ music during dinner was provided by Lloyd Welch.

Among our tablemates at the banquet were pretty Barbara Gould of Wheeler who is Gratiot County Bean Queen this year and Bernard and Donna Feldpausch of St. Johns. Bernie convulsed us with his story about their nanny goat who recently surprised them with twins. "We didn't even know she was married," he said.

10 YEARS AGO From the Files of May 26, 1955 The DeWitt Elevator Co.'s elevator burned to the ground with an estimated $35,000 loss early Saturday morning in a fire of undetermined origin.

Bengal Township farmer Herman F. Mohmke and his oldest son, Herman L., 18, were killed by lightning Tuesday afternoon as brief but violent electrical storms lashed across the state and tornado funnels danced menacingly in the skies.

Last weekend saw the St. Johns Junior Chamber of Commerce members in Saginaw advertising the community of St. Johns and successfully pushing their candidate, James B. VanderKelen, patent attorney from St. Johns, into the second highest of Jaycee posts.

25 YEARS AGO From the Files of May 23, 1940 Driven indoors by rain and wet grounds, Clinton County's first Citizenship Day lost part of its pagentry but none of its significance when held Sunday afternoon, May 19, in the St. Johns High School auditorium. High praise for the event, held in honor of all new citizens in the county, was voiced by visiting dignitaries and the capacity crowd.

Circumstances over which city officials exercise no control have shrunk the value of taxable property in St. Johns to the tune of nearly $68,000 this year. The drop in valuation was revealed

Monday when City Assessor Frank L. Thome submitted his assessment roll to the board of review. Mr Thome's figures put the value of all real estate in the city at $2,298,350 compared to $2,288,550 in 1939. While this represents a gain of $9,800, the personal property valuation is only $508,900 as against $586,638 last year, or a drop of $77,738, making a combined decrease of $67,938 for both types of property.

50 YEARS AGO From the Files of May 27, 1915 Businessmen on East Walker Street want the boulevard lights extended to Spring Street. It was expected that these lights would be put in long before this. Mr H. W. Morris is taking the lead in the matter and hopes for favorable action on the part of the board of public works soon.

Seventy years ago a small company of Christians in Victor Township, feeling the need of a church home and the influence emanating from a church organization, met at the home of Henry D. Post of the farm now known as the Gibbard place and instituted the first church in Clinton County. On Sunday last, the 70th anniversary of the organization was very fittingly observed, many of the former members going back to the home of their early years to attend the services commemorating the birth of the first Christian society that had continued a permanent organization.

Letters to the Editor

Corrects wording, meaning in NFO story

I WOULD like to have the opportunity to send in a correction on the write-up you had about the Clinton County NFO beef supper. Somewhere along the line an error was made.

It states—"If the farmer does not get collective bargaining in the next three to five years he will be forced into it." It should read—"If the farmer does not get collective bargaining in the next three to five years he will be forced into collective begging."

Every farmer who has production to sell is invited to join NFO but we will not and cannot force anyone to join NFO. We feel that anyone who understands the NFO program and its objectives will be happy to join.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Olivet shows a pathway to economic development

BY ELMER E. WHITE Michigan Press Ass'n.

Economic development as a field of state government activity is relatively new in Michigan, but many local groups have been active in this area for well over a decade.

Although communities were concerned with the lack of industrial growth, they were looking for assistance and advice from the state before Lansing officials were fully prepared to give it.

In Olivet, for example, an official now notes it was nearly 15 years ago that a few community-minded residents formed an industrial development corporation.

FORTY DAYS after incorporation, a plant was built and ready for occupancy by an enterprising group of young men experimenting with the possibilities of fabricating steel tubing.

From a 4,000 square foot building leased by the industrial development corporation, these men expanded their business and others followed suit to give the community group some 70,000 square feet of space now in use.

Space involved, however, is not the real factor notable in the activities of the Olivet group and others like it. In Olivet, this idea 15 years ago has resulted in new employment for about 200 people, new product sales, plants and substantial other side-returns on a substantial investment base.

A SKELETON staff from two state agencies was able to give some advice to the Olivet group 15 years ago, but theirs was relatively a pioneer effort.

Olivet, Jackson and several other communities started in this field long before the present Economic Expansion Department had gained enough legislative recognition to have the substantial budget and work force it has today.

Since the pioneer corporations of this type began, the state has provided communities with some tools to more easily do the job. Laws now allow for such things as large scale financing for industrial housing by municipalities and extensive funds for new product research.

COMPETITION IS now much keener than it was 15 years ago. Communities still face problems finding ways to locate attractive industrial and manufacturing operations.

What an Olivet official calls "attempts of piracy by desperate communities" has made the job tough for industrial development groups.

One of the main pirate tactics is offers of free rent for a limited period or delayed tax assessments on industrial property. The Olivet group decided against adopting any such tactic and apparently has been successful in offering only the good will and cooperation of the community and keeping taxes at an equitable level for all businesses.

RENEWAL OF a quota system for admitting Michigan State University students from certain Eastern states recently raised many eyebrows about the reason behind the quota numbers.

As was explained, the states involved provide little in the way of publicly-supported higher education and thus Michigan gets a heavy influx of students from these states.

Therefore, MSU officials decided a quota system was needed to keep a good distribution of students from many other states rather than being loaded with enrollees from these few.

MICHIGAN IS listed in these Eastern states, and in others which do provide substantial public education facilities, as a state with an excellent and extensive state-supported college system.

Our state ranks second only to California in the proportion of students attending public colleges and universities, and Michigan's percentage continues to climb.

Three years ago 77.9 per cent of the Michigan college students were in public institutions while 22 per cent were in private schools. Last fall the public school enrollment was nearly 80 per cent of the total.

DESPITE MICHIGAN'S No. 1 ranking as a highway construction leader, the state imposes a gasoline tax lower than 24 other states.

The highest state gas tax is in Alaska where motorists pay 8 cents on every gallon. Washington state collects 7 1/2 cents and 22 other states have gasoline taxes in the 6-7 cent range.

Michigan is one of 22 states which levy a six-cents-per-gallon tax on gasoline purchases.

More than 4.2 million motor vehicles were registered in Michigan in 1964.

Chamber to operate stand

A contract between the city of St. Johns and the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce has been signed, providing for the operation of the city park concession stand by the Chamber.

Two local high school girls have been employed to work in the stand, and they will be under the direct supervision of Mrs Betty Jane Minsky, Chamber manager, and James McKenzie, a member of the Chamber board who is chairmaning the project.

COUNTRY FLAVOR

Old fashioned hammock can beat modern devices

HAYDEN PEARSON

We are not opposed to new-fangled contraptions that experts are constantly devising. Since ancient days men have been contriving chairs and beds to induce relaxation and to restore a feeling of tranquility.

Today one can purchase chairs that rock and roll, jiggle, shake and shiver. A small electric motor will furnish the power. You can hitch a motor to a bed and receive a muscular message that supposedly induces sleep. All these devices have a place and are good for business.

BUT WHAT this nation really needs is a renaissance of old-fashioned hammocks in which a man can take his 40 winks after a hearty dinner. The place for the hammock is between the maple tree and the south corner of the farmhouse. The hammock one needs is the Damask Pattern Tufted Pillow Hammock. In the days when men lived instead of rushing through life, it cost $2.75.

"Made in full fancy color," the catalog said. "Has a strong spreader and detachable tufted pillow, with a full deep valance at the sides. It is large, has fine, fancy colors, with a deep fringe. A wonderful bargain."

A COUNTRYMAN can relax in that kind of hammock. It fits the contours of the body and a man does not need an electric motor to roll and rock him to sleep. A crusader has a difficult time among intransigent peers, but he will continue to advocate old-fashioned hammocks to help alleviate the flummoxings of modern life.

Guard unit to use park again

St. Johns will be host again this year for an overnight stop at the city park by members of the 151st Infantry unit of the Indiana National Guard on its way to Camp Grayling.

Some 60 vehicles will arrive in St. Johns around 6:30 p.m. Saturday, June 12. The city has granted permission for the use of the city park and 4-H grounds for parking of the vehicles and an overnight bivouac site.

CITY POLICE will provide traffic control for the unit's turn off the highway that evening. They'll do the same during the guard's departure from St. Johns onto the highway at the north side of town.

"We are also hoping that the same arrangements can be made with personnel at the park refreshment stand so that our ration of 'C' rations can be augmented with their bill-of-fare," Capt. William S. Zimmerman, adjutant, wrote in his letter to the city.

The Indiana Guard unit will be making the trip to Camp Grayling June 12 and 13.

The book takes its title from the final battle in Malory's story of King Arthur, and the author has used this legend as a basis for his book. It is narrated by a young Union officer who leads his men into battle in the state of Tennessee. Romance is also skillfully woven into this story of war.

In his new novel, "Fruit of the Poppy," Robert Wilder has written of the men of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics and the relentless war they wage against the underworld and the people who constantly seek new ways of smuggling narcotics into the United States. This is a stirring novel of the men who devote their lives to the welfare of their fellowmen.

Be Prepared for Emergencies!

'Be prepared' goes for farms, too

The old Boy Scout motto "Be Prepared" should also be that of farm people. The farm and its family are particularly vulnerable to emergencies whenever they happen. Farms are mechanized, making use of much equipment not used in other homes.

Distances to communicate to get help are greater. The help, when contacted, takes longer to arrive—the doctor, the fire department, law offices, even the neighbors.

IT IS WELL to set the conditions so that things are as ready as possible when emergencies come. A big part of the problem is knowing what to do to get ready properly.

This was the topic of discussion at the Farm Bureau Women's Spring District meetings during April as Lester Bollwahn, Rural Defense Office, Cooperative Extension Service, stressed with importance of emergency preparedness.

Farmers over barrel on proposed farm bill

The present version of the administration's farm bill puts both farmers and consumers over a barrel, E. J. Bottum, County Farm Bureau president states.

"Proposals in this bill, now before Congress, would raise the price of wheat and rice products to the consumer. It masquerades under the banner of shifting more toward an emphasis on the market system, which, in fact, it does not.

"ACTUALLY, it would be very destructive to the market system," Bottum said. "The new proposal would use a processing tax to raise prices to our consumers. It would use government surpluses to fix ceilings on the market prices received by farmers. It would make farmers dependent on government payments and would permit the secretary of agriculture to determine support prices, payment rates, and the percentage of the crop that is to be eligible for payments.

"Consumers are being asked to pay $300 million in higher bread and rice prices in order to continue a program of regimentation that makes farmers subject to the whims of the secretary of agriculture," Bottum said.

"CONSUMERS should not be misled into thinking that his is a new approach to the farm problem. There is need for action to help farmers get better prices in the market place, but it is quite another thing to ask consumers to pay higher food prices to continue a program aimed at keeping producers dependent on government handouts," the local Farm Bureau leader concluded.

To pick youths for seminar plan

Clinton County Farm Bureaus participating again this year in the Young People's Citizenship Seminar being held at Camp Kett. The Citizenship Committee composed of Mr and Mrs Lewis Babbitt, Mr and Mrs Levi Blakeslee, Mr and Mrs Leon Garlock and Mrs Oral Rice have been contacting persons from agri-business throughout the county asking that they help sponsor two young people from the county for the all-expense-paid week at the northern Michigan camp near Tustin.

Last year Mrs Betty Feldpousch of Fowler and David Jandik of Ovid were winners, selected from other participants in an essay contest held in the two high schools. Their essays were judged best by the committee who asked them to write why they wished to attend the seminar.

THIS YEAR'S winners will be selected from Grand Ledge High School and DeWitt High School.

Major issues to be covered at the camp include an "Interpretation of American Principles," by Dr Clifton Ganus of Harding College, Searcy, Ark., a review of communism, its history, principles, leaders and objectives with emphasis on its clash with American ideals, by W. Cleon Skousen, author of "The Naked Communist"; a look at private capitalism, as a way of producing goods and services and also some contrast to "socialist systems," by Dr Lewis Lloyd, economist for Dow Chemical Co.; and last a look at politics in America, how it operates and how young people as citizens can and should participate by D. Hale Brake, Michigan State Assn. of Supervisors.

THE PROGRAM will be well diversified and will be made interesting through the use of film, talks, discussion groups and even a mock county political convention as a demonstration project.

List top legislative business

Several key bills supported by Farm Bureau have now been reported out of committee and will require Farm Bureau member support for passage. Some of the bills now ready for Legislative action are:

H. 2165, Dairy Unfair Trade Practices, would be controlled by regulations to prevent below-cost selling of dairy products and "under the table" practices which in effect tend to eliminate competition and lead to monopoly. Numerous studies by legislative committees, plus the most recent study by Governor Romney's special committee have shown the size of the problem.

TESTIMONY AT a public hearing brought out the fact that during the past three years, 50 dairy processors have gone out of business, nine of them bankrupt, or nearly so, owing dairy farmers through their Co-op $136,455.

Practically every unfair trade practice listed in H.2165 is now a violation of federal laws if it

Meetings help chart FB future programs

A series of three meetings beginning with the state-wide presidents conference at Camp Kett in February and ending with an open meeting for the county membership brought out through discussion between the members what they felt the Farm Bureau should provide for the members in future years.

After a meeting of leaders in late March the entire membership was sent notice of the meeting and its purpose. David Morris, district director of the Michigan Farm Bureau Board, and E. J. Bottum, county president, were discussion leader and chairman for this meeting.

THOSE PRESENT began by naming many areas of service to farmers and accomplishments by the Farm Bureau since its organization. Among them were the organization's legislative program, which has included gaining in the past and guarding each year from those who would pass bill to change, the sales tax exemption on production supplies, and the 15 mill limitation on property tax.

Farm Bureau offers an insurance package tailored to farmers' needs which was begun by action taken by members. The direct delivery of petroleum products to the farm is provided through Farmers Petroleum Co-op at large savings. Farm Bureau offers to member families the only group Blue Cross-Blue Shield coverage available to farm people. Farm Bureau offers marketing programs, has recently organized MACMA—the Michigan Agricultural Marketing Assn.—working with processors and producers.

FARM BUREAU worked to help pass Michigan's new constitution in 1962. A very complete information program is carried on keeping farmers abreast of the times both at home and abroad. Community groups offer a chance to get together with neighbors and discuss problems, take action and have a voice in the organization's policy. Farm Bureau offers high analysis fertilizer, feeds and certified seeds. The Women's program offers educational and social activities for the farm wife.

Other programs are designed for the young people; there are citizenship activities such as the Freedom Conference and the farmer-clergy conferences. Educational programs such as an economic seminar at Olivet College are provided for interested persons. These are but a few of Farm Bureau accomplishments which the members felt were still necessary and should be continued or expanded.

GROUP DISCUSSION was held concerning other areas in which they felt their organization should be working. These were labor procurement, wholesale buying for members, zoning (use of best agricultural land for agriculture only, and expanded legislative staff, marketing to increase prices received by farmer for his products, rules on grading of wheat and other commodities, investigation of questionable practices in competitors' advertising, help for the farm drop-out (scholarship and job procurement), management services, farm analysis, income tax assistance, work for tax relief (income tax earmarked for schools, property tax no longer reasonable measure of ability to pay).

By resolution of the voting delegates at the Michigan Farm Bureau annual meeting last November, a study of Farm Bureau's program was requested. Suggestions were reviewed by the county Farm Bureau executive committee and sent to the State Farm Bureau relationship committee as was done in all counties throughout the state.

PROGRAM IN the Farm Bureau in the future will be designed along the lines of what the members want as brought out in these discussions. Again Farm Bureau has turned to the grass roots of the organization for their wishes, what they want from their organization and what they feel Farm Bureau should strive to be in the future.

Twisters bring re-evaluation of insurance needs

Following the financially-crippling tornadoes of April 11, many Farm Bureau members throughout Michigan are re-evaluating present insurance protection on their homes, household, contents, farm buildings, and farm personal property.

Farm Bureau Insurance offices (especially in the stricken areas) report an increasing volume of inquiries from policy holders wishing to update and increase amounts of insurance.

A GREAT NUMBER of the tornado victims found themselves woefully under-insured. In the case of total losses, many Michigan farmers will be forced to bear financial burdens running up to tens of thousands of dollars. Some will leave farming because of inadequate protection.

Farm Bureau insurance experts recommend that members consider their insurance needs in light of actual replacement costs of property and belongings—less depreciation. The insurance buyer is cautioned to allow for constantly increasing property values. Coverage that was adequate

'Peace in our time'?

By DON KINSEY
Coordinator Education

"Peace in our time."

That was the promise that Chamberlain brought back from Munich to the English people. It gave Hitler assurance that he could plan his attack without interference.

US foreign policy has adopted the appeasement approach 25 years later. In the early '60's our military leaders were placed under censorship. No anti-communist speeches!

AMERICAN diplomatic representatives abroad have been handled and attacked. The incidents are played down to the American public, or hushed up entirely. "Don't start a wave of anti-communist propaganda!"

We soft-pedal our part in little wars along the communist front. Viet Nam—even the people for whom we fight say that America has to accept their insults and still deliver aid. So the insults pile up.

Feeble and conciliatory negotiations are made to recover American citizens arrested and made prisoner by Communist countries.

The outcome of such a policy has been that every little nation in the world feels free to slap the face of the United States with impunity. We have not "made friends," but we have influenced people—the wrong way. All over the world, American embassies are attacked, stoned, wrecked.

THE POLICY we have been following moves from a position of weakness. It is the surest way to war when we declare that attacks can be made without retaliation. It is the reverse of Teddy Roosevelt's "Speak softly, but carry a big stick!"

Now there is talk of withdrawing from Viet Nam—which is the equivalent of leaving it to the Chinese Reds. When and if this is done, the United States will not have any face left to save.

The PEOPLE CAN HAVE A FINAL "SAY-SO"...

URGE YOUR U.S. REPRESENTATIVE and SENATORS TO SUPPORT A CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT PROVIDING FOR APPORTIONMENT OF STATE LEGISLATURES—SUBJECT TO A VOTE OF THE PEOPLE IN YOUR STATE

Let people decide on 1 man-1 vote

By DAN E. REED
Legislative Counsel
Michigan Farm Bureau

"Let the people decide" how one house of their state legislature should be apportioned, say supporters of Congressional action to amend the federal constitution. Why spokesmen for "one man - one vote" are unwilling to let the people vote on this issue can be understood when the record is reviewed.

In Michigan, in 1952, the people, on the basis of one man-one vote, said they wanted a legislative apportionment that gave balance. In 1962, they adopted a new constitution which provided for balanced representation in one house of the Legislature.

THE BATTLE cry of "one man-one vote" has a hollow ring when tested against the unwillingness of its supporters to "let the people decide."

There is renewed interest in Washington in action to permit the states to apportion at least one house of a bicameral legislature on factors other than population. Senate Joint Resolution 2 and House Joint Resolution 2 propose an amendment to the federal constitution which would assure the voters of each state of this right. If passed by two-thirds of the members of each house, the proposed amendment would require ratification by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states before coming effective.

SENATE JOINT Resolution 2 was introduced by Senator Everett Dirksen and has bipartisan support. Farm Bureau has testified in favor of the measure. Also testifying were 14 US senators, four members of the House, three governors and nine members of state legislatures, as well as the American Bar Assn. and the US Chamber of Commerce.

The promoters of the one man-one vote slogan have testified against the measure but, in a way, have been making a case for the amendment since it provides for the opportunity for voters, each after casting one vote, to make the decision.

SENATOR ICHORD (D) of Missouri has declared that the issue resolves itself into the question of whether the Congress or the Supreme Court is to legislate on matters of state apportionment.

Michigan congressmen and our two US senators should hear from every Michigan citizen who believes that the people should decide how one house of the Legislature should be apportioned.

NOW IS THE time, Michigan's

Have we become addicted to socialism?

Socialism is like wine or the effect of a narcotic. The immediate effect seems pleasant. But to satisfy the craving that is created, larger and larger doses become necessary.

Again, like the effect of a narcotic, the "honeymoon period" begins to wear off after a time. People begin to wish they could shake off the curse of it. But the shaking is not easy. The people are caught in its coils. The bureaucracy that gains power through the deception of giving people "what they want" fights to retain and expand that power.

SOCIALISM starts with government control of the means of production. But the movement extends itself to the control of the goods and services themselves.

The rich are heavily taxed at first. But soon there are no more rich to tax, and everyone must pay the freighted costs of the elaborate bureaucracy that has been built. The incompetent are subsidized, the efficient penalized. All fall short of their urge to help to produce a Great Society.

THE PURCHASING power of the man on the street erodes away. Discontent and revolt begin to appear. The economic system weakens from dry rot at the core.

But, once an addict of the system, it is hard to escape and to restore personal initiative and the rewards of constructive effort in its place.

gerrymandered apportionment of the Legislature, forced on our State by the Michigan Supreme Court through the door opened by the US Supreme Court decision, is evidence of what can happen without the protection of the proposed federal constitutional amendment.

The 1965 Michigan Legislature seems to be in the process of proving the need for the passage of such an amendment.

Have you written your Congressman and your Senators?

New grazing restriction follows use of pesticide

A recent change in pesticide use regulations makes it illegal to graze dairy cattle on 2,4-D treated pastures for seven days following application of the weed-killer. The announcement came recently from the US Department of Agriculture.

Ron Doersch, University of Wisconsin weed control specialist, says that the labeling change alters recommendations made by University agronomists during the past year regarding the use of 2,4-D on pastures.

THE RESTRICTED grazing period affects only dairy cattle grazing. Beef cattle may still be grazed immediately following the application 2,4-D.

As an added precaution, Doersch also recommends that farmers do not graze dairy cattle on grass pastures treated with MCPA for seven days following applications. MCPA is a chemical weedkiller similar to 2,4-D. MCPA has frequently been used in grass pastures where buttercup weed is a problem.

BEFORE the labeling change was announced, university agronomists said that it was permissible to graze dairy cattle on grass pastures treated with 2,4-D immediately after spraying. The only restriction was that farmers should wait a week to 10 days before grazing cattle on treated pastures if there were poisonous weeds or weeds high in nitrogen present.

LEGISLATIVE . . .

occurs in interstate commerce. H. 2165 would provide similar protection within the state. It is reported that similar legislation is now working in Wisconsin.

H. 2049, UNIFORM Meat Inspection, has been released from the Agriculture Committee and is now in the Ways and Means Committee. The entire livestock and meat industry supports this bill. Supporters also include the governor and leaders of both parties.

All agree that the administration should be in the Department of Agriculture. The only opposition is from the employees of a few local health departments. The bill provides, however, that local inspection can continue under the uniform regulations.

H. 2980, AS reported out of committee, would amend the minimum wage law to exempt fruit pickers working on a contract basis. This is an important bill which may have an effect on other labor laws affecting farmers.

Brucellosis, a contagious and costly disease of cattle, is being steadily eradicated in the state. The Michigan Department of Agriculture reports only 50 reactor cattle in February 1965, compared to 2,000 in a single month nine years ago.

Pesticide labels often not understood, study shows

People who use pesticides or chemicals are constantly cautioned to "read the label." This is good advice, but two University of Wisconsin researchers say that some people won't understand many things even if they read the label.

THE AGRICULTURAL students were tested on their understanding of 29 insecticide terms. Eight of the 29 words were not understood by 40 per cent of the students. The farmers were tested on 25 words and five words were missed by 40 per cent or more of their group.

Glenn Frederick and Richard D. Powers, agricultural journalists at the University of Wisconsin, conducted a preliminary test on understanding of insecticide terminology as a part of a long-range project on safety in use of chemicals.

THEY ASKED several groups if they understood certain words found on 48 labels of common insecticides used on farms and in homes. They tested a group of farmers, a group of students and a group of housewives.

The housewives generally understood insecticide instructions and terminology better than the students or farmers interviewed. But none of the groups in the study really understood the terms well enough to make chemical manufacturers feel very comfortable.

The housewives were tested on 23 terms and only one word was missed by 40 per cent or more of their group.

FREDERICK and Powers then made an analysis of total understanding based on the answers of the students, farmers and housewives.

What words did the group have the most trouble with?

They found that the term "wettable powder" was missed by nearly half of the students and over half of the farmers. About half of the students and two-thirds of the farmers couldn't define the word "fungicide." Likewise the word "herbicide" was not missed by the students, but three-fourths of the farmers got it wrong.

"ANTIDOTE" — the treatment to use in case of poisoning—is a crucial word on labels. However, nearly half of the students did not have a correct definition for it.

Roughly 20 to 40 per cent of the farmers, students and housewives interviewed didn't know the correct meaning of the words "residue," "toxic poisoning," "Residual spray" and "fumigant."

TERMS WHICH were missed by less than 20 per cent of the people were "diluted," "larvae," "germinate," "agitate," and "contaminate."

The two researchers don't imply that this test means that the people interviewed did not know the meaning of many of the terms on insecticide labels. There is much room for misinterpretation in a test such as this. However, they emphasize that these results give the chemical industry reasons to put more thought into labels and directions for use of farm chemicals.

THIS IS a preliminary phase of a long-term study, and many more results and recommendations will come out of future work on this project.

Liquid manure systems are increasing in popularity for livestock and dairy producers. One of the greatest advantages is convenience. Cleaning and waste removal can be done in less time and at the convenience of the producer.

Liquid manure systems can save time, labor

Time and labor for livestock manure removal and spreading can be drastically reduced by liquid manure systems. Livestock and dairy yards can be scraped and cleaned with high-pressure water hoses in minutes. Underground storage tanks, equipped with agitators and non-clog pumping systems and spreader tanks for field distribution make liquid manure handling practical and efficient.

ump in the floor of the tank for removing manure.

SAVING THE LIQUID portion of manure is particularly important. It contains nearly half of the nitrogen and three-fifths of the potassium in animal waste. According to a leading agricultural college, values for manure ranged from $8.95 per ton for poultry manure to $2.73 for dairy cattle manure. These values mean that, in most cases, manure is a valuable by-product of livestock that is well worth saving.

Liquid manure systems and sound manure storage facilities make it possible. Perhaps the most important feature of a liquid manure storage tank is convenience. Farmers can store or spread animal wastes when they want to—at times when it is most convenient to their operations.

Haylage harvest management called important

The farmer has several equipment options for producing haylage. But no matter which one he chooses, good management techniques are extremely important.

Robert White, Michigan State University agricultural engineer, noted that there is "no way to improve haylage quality over what is taken from the field."

"OUR MAIN aim, then, is keep as much of the quality during harvesting and storage as possible."

He said farmers planning to produce haylage should keep chopper knives sharp, keep the length of cut short (about 1/4 inch), and keep moisture between 30 and 55 per cent.

"You can run into a gumming condition in your forage blower pipes if this moisture gets a little low," he noted. "To correct the situation, you can run a trickle of water into the blower. Or, you might adjust the moisture level by reducing the wilting time, and chopping more quickly after mowing and conditioning."

WHITE noted that several types of equipment are available for mowing and conditioning hay to be harvested as haylage.

One of these is the conventional cutter-bar mower, and hay conditioner with windrowing attachments. "When making haylage, all three of these operations should be done at once, if possible, to save time," said White.

Another possibility is the self-propelled windrower in which the farmer can mow, windrow, and condition his hay in one operation.

SEVERAL relatively new machines are on the market to help speed up the haymaking chore. One of these is a rotary flail type mower that comes in 7, 8 and 10-foot cuts. This mower, conditions and windrows in one operation. It's especially good for high yielding, tangled and down hay, reported White.

A new piece of equipment which shows possibilities for simplifying hay harvesting has a cutter bar with conditioning rolls right behind it. It is also equipped with a finer-type reel to help straighten and untangle down hay, and feed it into the cutter bar. The reel also assists in feeding the hay into the conditioning rolls.

Puerto Rico harvested 10,123,000 tons of sugarcane in 1963.

Find forage enzyme causing cattle bloat

Scientists at the University of Wisconsin have pinned down the enzyme in forage which is responsible for cattle bloating. R. E. Nichols and Dawson Deese are studying this enzyme which is called pectin methyl esterase (PME).

The enzyme is found in large amounts of alfalfa and other legumes which are the most common causes of bloat. The enzyme works this way:

IT REACTS with pectin, a common material in forages, and changes it to pectic acid and alcohol. Pectic acid reacts with calcium or related elements in the rumen and produces a sticky substance. The sticky material traps carbon dioxide and other gases that are formed in digestion, and as gas accumulates, the rumen swells and the animal starts to show the typical swelling of bloat.

The more PME in a forage, the more likely it is to cause bloat. Nichols and Deese tested alfalfa, grass and alfalfa hay to find the difference in amount of PME. The amount of pectin methyl esterase was the lowest in grass of any of the three forages tested—as might be expected. Alfalfa hay contained about four times as much PME as grass.

FARMERS have long observed the bloat is more likely in fields after a frost in the fall, so the researchers tested bromegrass, birdsfoot trefoil, and alfalfa after it had been frosted at a temperature of about 27 degrees F. Here again they found that there was a great difference in the three kinds of forages.

Bromegrass again showed the lowest content of PME, and birdsfoot trefoil contained 10 times as much of the material. Alfalfa which had been frosted contained 16 times as much of PME activity as bromegrass. These results agree with the usual occurrence of bloat on frozen forage. Bromegrass almost never causes a problem, birdsfoot trefoil is said to be nearly bloat-proof, and alfalfa is sometimes dangerous.

NICHOLS has been doing bloat studies for many years and has some methods and materials under test which can delay the activity of PME in the rumen of cattle and thus prevent bloating.

ASC PROGRAM

Diverted acreage term defined by ASCS office

W. M. SMITH
County ASC Manager

Diverted acreage is a term used to identify acreage removed from the production of wheat and feed grains by participating producers in the 1965 wheat and feed grain programs.

Land to be eligible for designation as diverted acreage must be crop-land which was intensively cultivated during at least one of the four years immediately preceding the current year, tilled in a manner which is generally accepted in the community as an approved tillage operation of the land for use in the production of a small grain or row crop, or devoted to a hay crop for hay, green chop, silage or pasture during all four years immediately preceding the current year in a normal rotation pattern and is at least equal in productivity to the average land on the farm.

THE FOLLOWING land is not eligible for designation as diverted acreage: Land which a crop is harvested from this year, turn rows, drainage ditches, wet, low-lying areas, droughty knobs or banks, other areas which normally would not produce a crop and strips of less than four normal rows in skip-row planting patterns, land which the county committee determines the producer reasonably could not expect to use for wheat or feed grain production in the current year because of its physical condition, or other reasons such as being subject to zoning or other legal limitation on its use, land devoted to non-agricultural use on or before Sept. 30 of the current year, land devoted in current year to asparagus, strawberries, or bush fruits.

THE DIVERTED acreage cannot be grazed during the period between March 31 and Oct. 1. The diverted acreage may be summer followed and planted to a fall crop such as rye or wheat.

Remember, the final available date for price support on 1964 crop corn in June 1, 1965.

Food and People was the title of the project lesson presented to the Friendly Neighbors Extension Study Group by Mrs Ray Moore and Mrs Earl Flegler Wednesday, May 19.
They passed out bulletins and showed colored slides in order to explain about the food and customs in the Far East.

The Hostess was Mrs Glenn Hopp, Chairman Mrs Lloyd Hopp, conducted the business session with eight members telling something about Michigan. Mrs Lena Whitefield joined the group and Suzanne Sillman and Linda Davis were visitors.

Refreshments of Chinese and Korean dishes were served, in keeping with the project lesson.
THE NEXT meeting will be a family picnic and Mrs Carl Light will be hostess on June 16.

NOON by the Chapel Clock

One . . . two . . . three.
Four years Connie and I have listened to that deep, resonant chime counting off the hours of our college days. Sometimes it was just part of the setting at State — like the Commons, and the Quad, and Moonlight Walk. But often it called us to high moments of worship and thought and prayer.
Four . . . five . . . six.
Today we pause, and count! Exams are over. Trunks are packed. Books are on their way back to the Library. Tomorrow — Commencement.
Seven . . . eight . . . nine.
Again we're reading each other's thoughts. Let's walk once more through that graceful arch, hand-in-hand and smiling. Let's kneel together in the sacred stillness, breathing our thanks . . . our hopes . . . our needs . . . our dreams. For life and love await us. And these we will share with God! It is Noon by the Chapel Clock.
Ten . . . eleven . . . twelve.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Smoking films shown by WCTU

Mrs Gordon Salisbury opened her home Monday evening, May 17, to members of the Mary Smith Union, WCTU.

Donnah Hampton, president, conducted the meeting, which was opened by Rev. E. R. McLaughlin. He used as his text Daniel 1:1-15 and Ephesians 2:1-13.

During the meeting, a report was given on the films which were shown in public schools. "Tale of Three Squirrels" was shown in elementary schools. "Cancer by the Carton" was shown at Central Junior High School and "One In 20 Thousand" was shown at high schools.

A READING, "Alcohol, a Habit or Disease?" by Donnah Hampton was also given, followed by "Am I My Brothers Keeper?" by Mrs Agnes Wells. In closing, Mrs Wells asked each person present to tell what WCTU meant to them. A dessert was served by the hostess.

RHUBARB

An unusual crop? Yes, but not in Macomb County where hot-house rhubarb is produced in especially-constructed cellars and harvested between January and April. It's about a $2 million business, and Macomb accounts for nearly 75 per cent of the national hot-house rhubarb crop.

Regional home surveys showing travel patterns

The Tri-County Regional Planning Commission recently announced the initial results of its Home Interview Survey now underway in Eaton, Clinton, and Ingham counties.

The survey will provide information for use in projecting future travel in the tri-county region. The data, along with information from other sources, will form the basis for preparing a regional development plan to guide future growth in the region.

OVER 1,700 interviews have been completed throughout the region at the rate of 56 interviews per day. An additional 3,300 interviews will be conducted during the next few months.

The survey revealed that members of an average household are making better than nine trips per day. Of these, six are classified as drivers of automobiles, while the other three are as passengers in automobiles, buses, taxis and trucks.

representing the firm of National Analysts, Inc., will be conducting the survey through July. They have indicated the overwhelming support and cooperation of the citizens throughout the region in this effort.

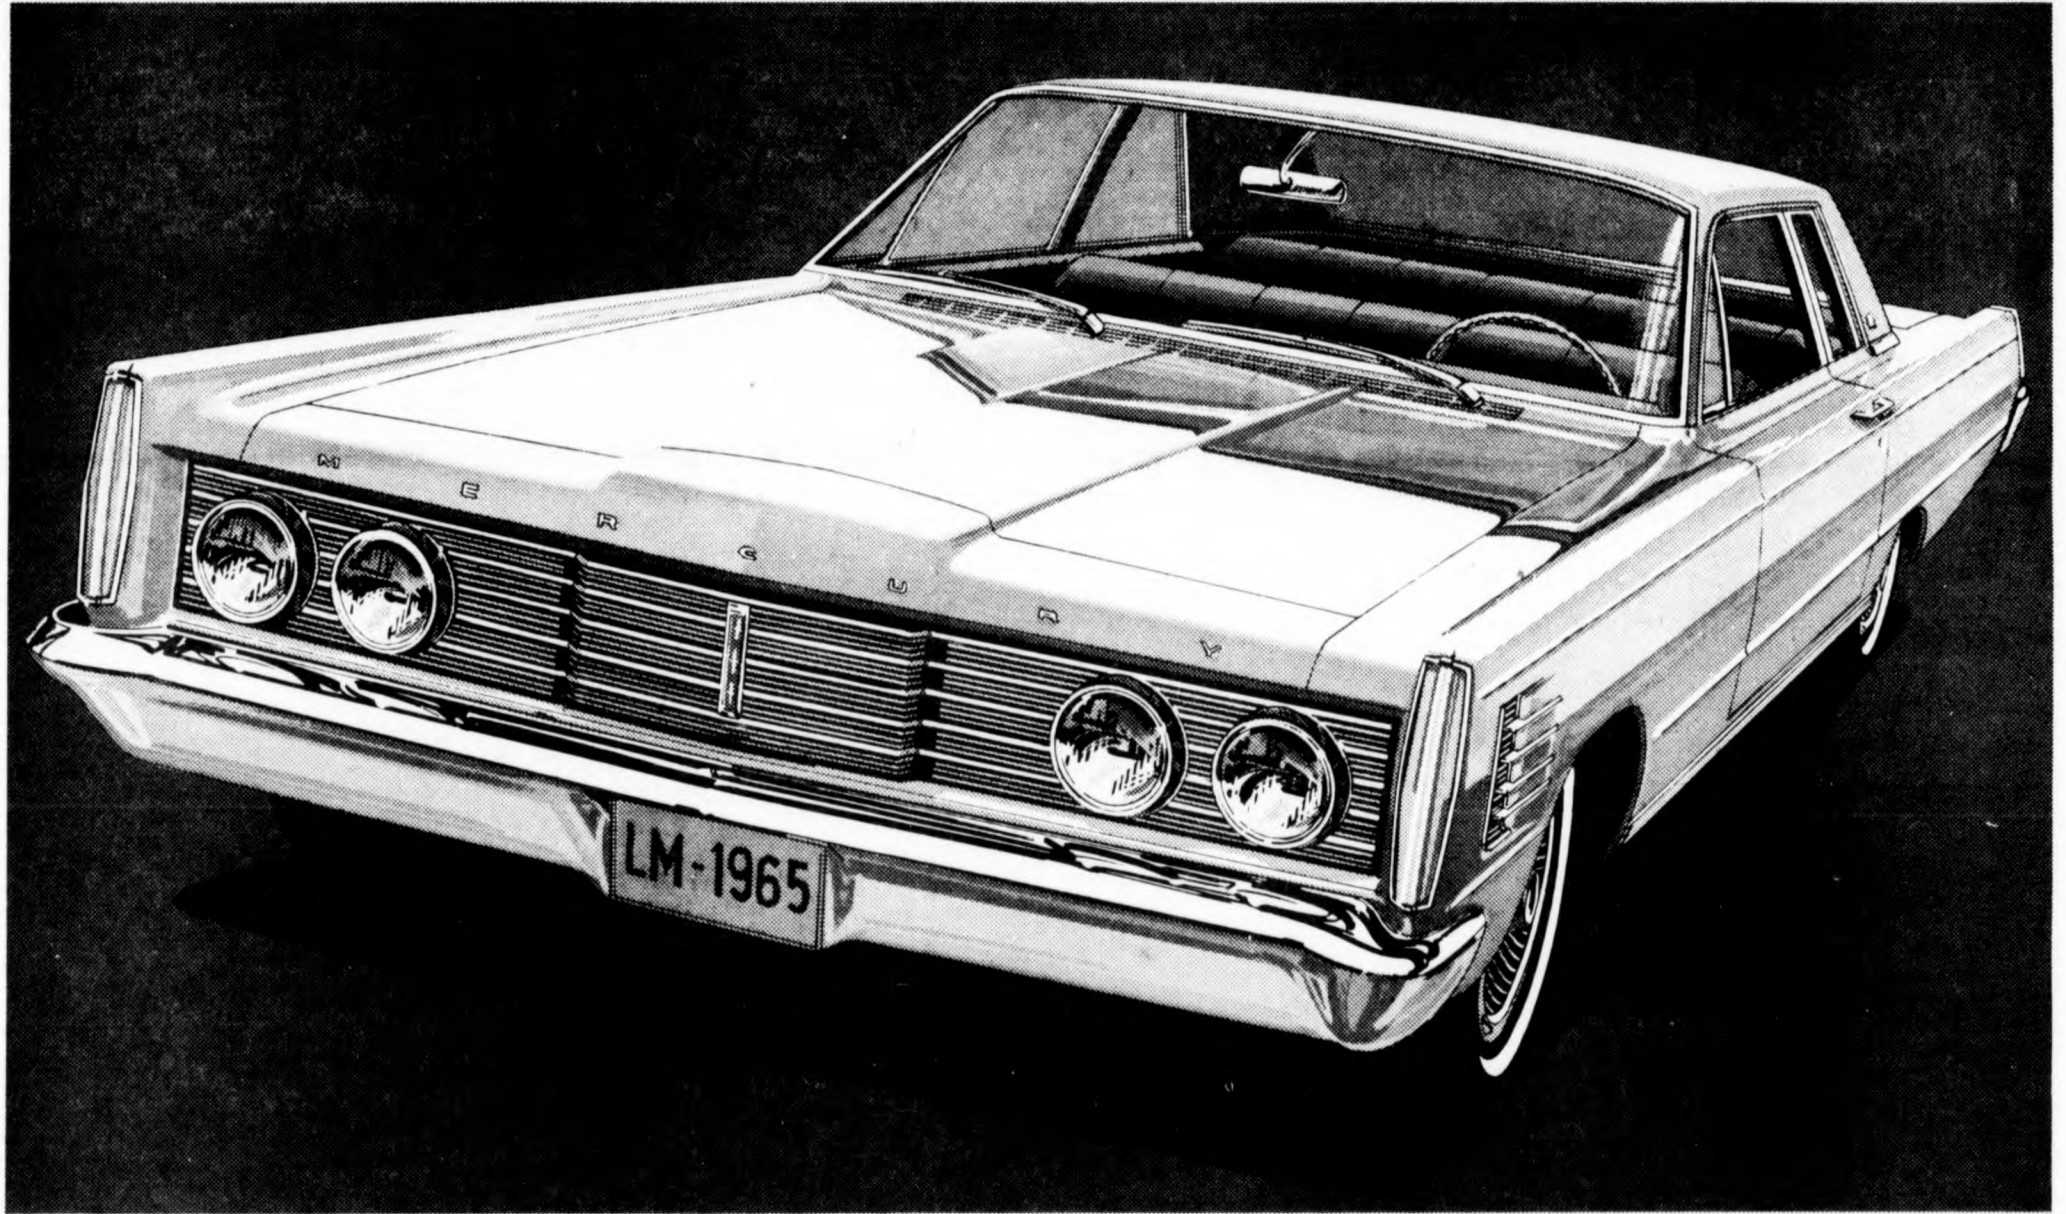

Michigan ranks second among the 14 leading industrial states in manufacturing productivity as measured by value-added per employee.
