Ready Soap Box Derby

Cars that run without motors are "tuned up" as best they can be for 51 boys who will race for top honors Sunday in the third annual Clinton County Soap Box Derby.

Only the weatherman can hope to dampen the enthusiasm of the youngsters and the organizers of the race, who are looking forward to a full half-day of racing excitement and pageantry.

Upwards of 5,000 people are expected to gather along the three blocks of Clinton Avenue to share in the excitement.

Seventeen first-round heats are scheduled, and in all, 48 heats will be run before the winner is determined. Up to the semi-finals, all heats will have three cars. The semi-finals and finals in both the consolation and winner brackets will have two cars.

ALL BOYS will have an opportunity to race at least two times, Derby Director Bernard Feldpausch and Asst. Director Jerry Shoemaker pointed out. Race Director Robert Prowant and Heat Director Roger Freeman set up a schedule that allows for winning and consolation brackets. The four finalists in the consolation bracket will come out with seventh, eighth, ninth and 10th place prizes.

All 51 boys will be shooting for the top prizes in the Derby race, a $500 savings bond, a handsome trophy and an expense-paid trip to Akron, Ohio, later in the summer for the All-American Soap Box Derby.

OTHER PRIZES include a portable TV set, Polaroid automatic camera, two wrist watches, transistor radio, spinning rod and reel and an instamatic camera, among others.

For the boys, the racing will be the main event of the day, as it will be for most of the spectators. But a myriad of other activities is scheduled by the Derby sponsors, Bee's Chevrolet-Olds and the St. Johns Jaycees. It includes a 30-minute parade, crowning of the Soap Box Derby Queen, Gloria Jean Muckle, the annual Oil Can Race, a balloon ascension and parachute jump, appearance of Dizzy Trout, former Detroit Tiger pitcher, and Detroit Lions players Daryl Sanders and Bob Whitlow, and the Derby banquet.

ALL THE events will start at 2:30 p.m. with the exploding of aerial bombs. After the invocation, flag raising and national anthem, flyer Manfred Patrick will make two passes over downtown St. Johns in his airplane.

Next will come the crowning of the Soap Box Derby queen, after which a 30-unit parade will move up Clinton Avenue from north of the railroad tracks.

AT THE PARADE'S conclusion about 3 p.m., Ed Idzkowski, Federal Mogul plant manager; Larry Sexton, Sealed Power plant manager; and Russ Allman, manager of Saylor Beall, will race for the oil can trophy. The usual comic antics from the drivers and their cars are expected.

Then the boys will take over for the 48 heats of racing that race officials plan to run off in rapid-fire order.

AT THE CONCLUSION of the races, about 5 p.m., veteran balloonist Ted Sweet will fill a bedsheet balloon with hot air from a trench fire near the Grand Trunk depot and ascend about 1,500 feet, from where Dave Monroe of Lansing will make a parachute jump.

At 5:15 p.m. the Derby timetable calls for the boys in the Derby, plus their parents, to attend the banquet to be held this year at St. Joseph Social Hall, where the awarding of prizes will take place.

Talks will also be given there by the famous personalities attending the Derby.

Gloria Jean Muckle, daughter of Mr and Mrs Charles A. Muckle of 407 S. Morton Street, will be crowned "Miss Soap Box Derby" on Sunday just prior to the start of the Soap Box Derby parade.

Gloria won the queen competition on the basis of collecting the most votes — at a nickel each for a total of $68.50 — in stores around St. Johns and from personal contacts.

IN TOTAL, 10 girls who ran for "Miss Soap Box Derby" in the last four weeks collected $300.50, all of which will be donated by the sponsoring St. Johns Jayceettes to the Michigan Assn. for Emotionally Disturbed Children.

Making up the queen's court were four other girls who collected votes totaling between $40 and $58 each. They are Carol Flegler, 14, daughter of Mrs Alice Argersinger of 205 N. Ottawa; Barbara Maier, 12, daughter of Mr and Mrs Clare E. Maier of 504 E. Higham Street; Chris Kus, 14, daughter of Mr and Mrs Charles Kus of 1005 E. She will be crowned Sunday by Jaycee President William McCarthy, and Mrs William Warstler, president of the Jayceettes, will give her a bracelet and charm engraved with "Miss Soap Box Derby 1965" and "Jean," which is the name the queen is best known by. Miss Gall Auten, "Miss St. Johns of 1965," will present her with roses on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce.

THE CROWNING will take place near the Derby finish line shortly after the 2:30 p.m. start of events. After the brief ceremony, the queen and her court will ride in a convertible back to near the start of the parade line. The five girls will ride on the Jaycee float, which will be huge Soap Box Derby racer.

Incumbents fall in school vote

The upset of two incumbent members on the St. Johns board of education, the approval of bond issues at Ovid-Elsie and Ashley and approval of extra millage in several districts were highlights of the results of school elections in Clinton County Monday.

Donald Bast and Alden Livingston won seats on the St. Johns board of education by beating incumbents Ken Munger and Bill McCarthy in a turnout of 981 voters.

The Ovid-Elsie bond issue for $200,000 for a swimming pool and outdoor recreation facilities at the new high school passed overwhelmingly — 836 to 329 — after the same issue failed by a narrow margin last year.

Ashley voters approved a $215,000 bond issue for a new grade school. In votes for extra millage, a three-mill proposal for Pewamo-Westphalia was approved, as were a 3 1/2-mill issue at DeWitt and a 16 1/2-mill issue at Valley Farms.

A 15-MILL proposal for operational purposes at Sheridan Road School was turned down 101-93.

Bath and DeWitt voters also approved annexation to the Lansing Community College District and a 1-mill tax levy connected with the annexation.

Bast, Livingston win with rural strength

In the St. Johns district, Donald Bast upset 10-year member Kenneth Munger by a total vote of 496 to 472, and Alden Livingston defeated Bill McCarthy, who had been on the board only six months filling a vacancy, by a vote of 594 to 376.

Bast's term is for four years; Livingston will serve for two years to fill out the unexpired term.

MUNGER AND McCarthy carried Precinct One, which included the City of St. Johns, but the margin was not strong enough to offset an overwhelming margin for Bast and Livingston in the four rural precincts. Munger carried precinct one 327 to 213 and McCarthy had a 301- to 241 edge in precinct one. (A precinct tabulation of votes accompanies this story.)

Nine hundred eighty-one votes were cast in the election, the first election since the annexation of 32 rural school districts. The two winners in the election had previously served on rural school boards. Bast was on the East Essex board for one year, and Livingston had been on the Greenwood School board 25 years.

Both precincts favor Ovid-Elsie bond issue

Passage of the Ovid-Elsie $200,000 bond issue will make it possible for the swimming pool and outdoor track and baseball facilities to be incorporated into plans for the new Ovid-Elsie High School.

was approved by a vote of 256 to 148 Monday. The extra millage will be used for increase operational expenses.

Charles Hengesbach and Gerald J. Thelen were elected to the board of education. Hengesbach drew 266 votes, Thelen 262 votes and Eston Beachnaut got 179 votes. Some 404 persons voted, which school officials described as a "real good" turnout.

DeWitt votes extra millage, annexation

At DeWitt, there were plenty of issues on the ballot. A 3 1/2-mill tax levy issue to bolster teachers salaries was approved by a vote of 205 to 128. Transfer of funds left in a 1961 bond retirement fund to building and site use was approved 295 to 37.

By a vote of 229 to 103, voters agreed to join the Lansing Community College District, and the one-mill tax levy for the community college to help with capital outlay and other expenses was approved by a vote of 196 to 136.

MAURICE BECKER with 220 votes and Lloyd Ballard with 123 votes were elected to two vacant seats on the board of education. The three other candidates and their vote totals were: Robert Taylor 111, Robert Hawker 110, and Robert Richmond 57.

Pohl, Mrs Spicer, Pohl win at Fowler

Norbert Pohl with 172 votes was elected to a one-year term on the Fowler board of education. He was unopposed. In a contest for two four-year seats, Mrs John Spicer with 117 votes and Linus Pohl with 100 votes were the winners, while Gerald Wieser got 97 votes and Floyd Meiber 65.

Fletcher wins Bath school board race

Bruce Fletcher with 111 votes defeated Kenneth Munson with 90 votes in a close race for the vacant seat on the Bath Community Schools Board of Education.

Voters also approved by a 139 to 61 vote annexation with the Lansing Community College District. The one-mill tax connected with the annexation passed by a vote of 124 to 73.

Sheridan voters reject extra mills

Sheridan Road School's appeal for 15 additional mills for operational purposes was turned down by voters Monday. The vote was 101 to 93 against it. In a four-year race for one vacant seat on the board of education, Charles F. Mann was the victor with 57 votes. Dale L. Watros with 56 votes, Barbara M. James with 47 and Ruth E. Miner with 33 votes were the other candidates.

4 named to board in Hurd district

Four seats on the Hurd School District board of education were filled Monday evening at the annual school meeting. Henry Mahlow was reelected for three years and Mrs Bertha Crane was reelected for two years. Morell Hatt was named to a three year term, and Ray Drake was elected for one year.

Valley Farms votes to renew 16 1/2 mills

Valley Farms voters approved the renewal of a 16 1/2-mill tax levy for operational purposes by a vote of 77-26. The levy is for one year. In a three-year race for two vacant three-year terms on the school board, Mrs Rhoda See ELECTIONS Page 2-A

Derby Sidelights

DERBY OFFICIALS and boys in the race will give more than just a casual glance at the weather Sunday morning. Last year St. Johns was deluged with 3 1/2 inches of rain in an hour-and-a-half period of the original Derby day, forcing its postponement for one week.

HERE ARE THE ADULTS who will be supervising the Soap Box Derby this year under sponsorship of Bee's Chevrolet-Oldsmobile and the Jaycees. Bernard Feldpausch, director; Jerry Shoemaker, assistant director; Don Bast and Leon Brewbaker, parade directors; Roger Freeman, heat director; Bob Prowant and Bob Cole, race directors; Lee Hansen, inspection director; Jack Downing, starting line director; Gene Downing, finish line director; Jerry Green, photo finish director; Sam Sample, float director; and Bill McCarthy, Jaycee president and banquet toastmaster.

ABOUT 30 OF THE BOYS in the race attended the first trials and Derby inspection of cars last Saturday afternoon. Railroad Street was blocked off so boys could test their cars on a straight, downhill course. The cars were also checked for weight, height, design, brake and other safety requirements. The final inspection was to be Wednesday night. Cars were then stored under lock and key until Sunday.

"DIZZY" TROUT, former Detroit Tiger pitcher who will put in an appearance at the Derby festivities, will be welcomed to town by the Chamber of Commerce Queen, Miss Gail Auten and her court, who will greet him south of town in convertibles about 1:15 p.m. and escort him into town. The Chamber queen and her court will ride on a float in the parade, and the girls will throw wrapped candy to youngsters along the parade route.

THE SARANAC JUNIOR Historical Color Guard, consisting of 11 boys, will participate in the Derby parade and at the banquet following. The boys, aged 8 through 12 years, are sponsored by Mrs Kenneth Shaler and Mrs Robert Sprague and are patterned after the famous Saranac Senior Historical Color Guard. The uniforms were designed, cut out and sewed by the two women and other Cub Scout den mothers at Saranac. The Junior Color Guard has been an active organization, leading the May Day Bust parade in Saranac May 1, the Scout-O-Rama parade May 14, the Junior Olympic Championship parade at Ionia, June 5 and marching in the Saranac Memorial Day parade. They are scheduled to march in the Portland parade, Ionia Free Fair parade, Belding Labor Day parade and numerous others throughout the summer.

Dr Howard A. Smith, pastor of the First Methodist Church of St. Johns for three years, has received the appointment of district superintendent of the Grand Traverse District of the Michigan Conference and will be leaving St. Johns by the end of next week.

DR HOWARD A. SMITH

The appointment was made by Resident Bishop Dwight E. Loder at the Michigan Annual Conference of the Methodist Church June 9-13 at Albion College.

DR SMITH'S replacement here will be the Rev Keith A. Bovee of Lowell.

Dr Smith's appointment as district superintendent is for a six-year term. He will oversee 65 churches and 40 preachers in the Grand Traverse District, which includes the area of the Lower Peninsula of Michigan north of a line from Marion to Clare and west of US-27.

DR SMITH and his wife will reside in a new home in Traverse City, a home built especially for housing the district superintendent. It was occupied only about three months by Dr Heath T. Goodwin, the current Grand Traverse district superintendent. Dr Goodwin was assigned to the position of executive secretary of the board of education of the Detroit Conference.

"This will be a very challenging assignment," Dr Smith said of his new duties. "More than half the preachers in the Grand Traverse District are supply preachers, who are not fully trained. They will be expecting and asking for a lot of help in their duties.

"WE REALLY hate to leave St. Johns," he went on. "We've liked the community and had looked forward to living and serving here for many years."

Dr Smith said he did not seek the appointment and was surprised as much as anyone when he was asked to take it.

He came to St. Johns in June 1962 after serving 10 years in the conference office at Albion. Dr Smith received his bachelor of Arts at Detroit Tech in 1937 and got his seminary degree from the American Bible College in Chicago in 1940. He received his doctorate at Adrian College in 1957.

DR SMITH has been in the pastorate 25 years. He started out in Montana but transferred back to Michigan after four years in the West. He was at Remus for four years before being assigned to the conference office in Albion.

The First Methodist Church in St. Johns now has an enrollment of about 750 members, up slightly from when Dr Smith assumed duties here. The church was completely renovated during his first year here.

HE HAS BEEN president of the St. Johns Ministerial Assn. for the past two years, giving up the post recently. The Rev Hugh Banning, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, is now president of that group.

Dr Smith is also a member of the St. Johns Rotary Club.

LAST SUNDAY was his last day on the pulpit at the St. Johns church, but he said he probably would not be leaving town until the end of next week.

Project Head Start to deal with physical, mental preparations

The question "What is Project Head Start?" being asked in the county these days has prompted Clinton County School Supt. Carl Bates to explain the program in more detail.

Project Head Start is a program for the child who will enter kindergarten this fall, and as the title implies, it is an opportunity for the slow, shy, the immature, or the underprivileged child to get a head start in regular school experience and thus gain the security and confidence that he needs when he starts school for the first time, Bates said.

PROJECT HEAD Start will offer opportunities for a child's growth and development along the lines of education. The Head Start program will deal with the whole child, educationally and physically. Each child will receive vision, dental, and health examinations. There will be no expense to the parent. Federal funds have been provided for this purpose. Bus transportation will be furnished.

Project Head Start has aroused enormous interest throughout the nation. Although the program is designed for families where the income is $3,000 a year or less, this does not necessarily exclude other students. Others may participate where it is found possible to do so. Admission to the program is not based on race, religion, national origin, or color.

CHILDREN living in poverty are subject to various risks to their health, education, and welfare, Bates pointed out. "Poverty has its impact on the growing child from the time of conception. During the pre-school years the toll becomes more apparent. Health services are usually inadequate, immunizations are incomplete, and physical problems may go uncorrected, thus handicapping the child in his adaptation to school.

"In addition to physical problems, children of the poor often show learning and adjustment difficulties as they approach the school age. Because their experiences have been limited, they often are handicapped in their ability to communicate - especially through speech.

"THEY MAY be lacking in knowledge of the world about them. Often they have had little opportunity to learn to enjoy art, music, and reading. In addition they may see people outside the family as strange and threatening. By the time they have reached school age, the repeated failures they have experienced may cause them to lack confidence and self-worth. Motivation for learning is often limited."

The great majority of children who lack the opportunity of social experiences enter school fearful of the idea of "school" because they know so little about it, Bates said. Project Head Start will show them that school is fun and that they can do things and be successful.

"STUDY after study reveals that this poverty of environment and this fear of failure are responsible for the growing number of dropouts. A mass of data also shows that the deprived child soon becomes adjusted to failure. After a year or so of failure to "pass" or be "promoted" to the next grade, the child soon accepts the idea he can't do it and then he does not attempt to try.

Particularly important are the environmental factors of the earliest years from 3 to 8. Psychologists have concluded that a major part of the growth in intelligence takes place between birth and the age of 5. The importance of having a background of educational experiences cannot be over-emphasized. Project Head Start will add greatly to this background of experiences.

PROJECT HEAD Start program in Clinton County will begin July 6 and will continue to Aug. 13. Classes will meet from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Each of the 15 classrooms will have a certified teacher and two assistants. Each room will have a quota of 15 children, and some of the rooms are already filled.

Parents interested in having their 5-year-old child obtain this seven weeks of summer educational experience and fun should call their local superintendent of schools and enroll the child immediately.

Classes will be held in the following areas: St. Johns, Ovid-Elsie, Bath, DeWitt, Pewamo - Westphalia, Fowler, Sheridan Road and Valley Farms.

Interest shown in forming local tornado warning net

Some 48 county persons attended a meeting on community action against tornadoes at St. Johns last Tuesday evening, a meeting almost postponed because of tornado forecasts for the area.

A. H. Eichmeier, meteorologist in charge of the US Weather Bureau station at Capital City Airport, was the main speaker. He noted that the tornado forecast of that afternoon came at a good time to enrich interest in the meeting and that the forecast was lifted just in time to allow the meeting to go on.

THE PERSONS attending the meeting showed considerable interest in a local system of tornado warning, with many indicating a strong desire to see the warning system put into effect.

The lack of a warning system in St. Johns seemed to be the focal point of attention for the audience. One resident, formerly from "tornado alley" in Kansas, said he had never lived in a town where the people seemed to be so unconcerned about storms as they were in St. Johns.

LT. GLENN Dafeo, acting commander of the operations and communications bureau of the Michigan State Police, explained that the state police worked closely with the weather bureau and that storm warnings were issued through state police.

He said that when the East Lansing headquarters is notified of tornado forecasts—the possibility of tornadoes in a given area—all 21 state police posts are notified of the forecast simultaneously. They in turn, contact sheriffs' offices and the news media.

IN CLINTON County, the warning network seems to break down at this level because, County Civil Defense Director Charles Frost contends, there are not a sufficient number of cooperating units to make further calling of any public value.

He acknowledged that tornado sirens at Elsie, DeWitt and Bath have been used when those communities are called. Calls to the city of St. Johns for the sounding of its five sirens are not made, he said, because he has not been able to get cooperation from the city as the next fanout step on the warning system.

EICHMEIER POINTED out that it was up to communities to form their own warning networks. He said the weather bureau would be glad to aid in such a venture, but because of lack of manpower it could not go out and do the actual organizing.

He said the Clinton County area

A. H. Eichmeier, chief meteorologist at the US Weather Bureau station at Capital City Airport is shown explaining weather bureau forecasting methods relating to tornadoes when he addressed about 48 persons at Smith Hall last Tuesday night. Standing at right is County Civil Defense Director Charles Frost, who is preparing a slide projector for use.

is well-covered by radar for spotting tornadoes (stations are located at Detroit, Grand Rapids and Muskegon). While radar does show the buildup of a storm, it does not always pick out the tornado cloud itself. Therefore, he said, some local observation system and warning system is a good precaution.

HE NOTED that in the Plains states, where tornadoes occur much more often than in Michigan, communities often have volunteer spotters located every two miles to keep a lookout for the twisters during forecasts and to then warn communities in its path.

This is a good idea, he admitted, but it is more difficult to implement in Michigan because of the lesser frequency of the storms and lesser interest. And tornadoes in Michigan often occur in violent thunderstorms where they are more difficult to spot than in the Plains. Many times tornadoes have to be "spotted" by the roaring sound they make, rather than by visual sightings. The roar is often audible for two or three miles.

PERSONS SPOTTING a tornado should call their nearest law enforcement agency, Eichmeier said, not the weather bureau. The law agencies are the natural ones to spread the warning, and they'll also notify the weather bureau.

Eichmeier showed a short motion picture in which several actual tornadoes were caught on film, showing the audience what they can look like, sound like, and can do. "It's the most violent storm on earth," he said.

MOST TORNADOES in Michigan occur during the mid or late afternoon when the sun has provided the energy to set up the storm conditions. He cautioned people that many clouds look funnel shape, but unless they have the spinning motion to them they are not tornadoes. The spinning sets up wind speeds believed to be from 300 to 500 miles an hour.

The time for use of the warning sirens, Frost interjected, is when the warning has been received of the approach or extreme probability of a tornado. The warning system of sirens is needed, he said, to warn those who may be asleep or working and who have no other way of being warned (such as by radio or television).

EICHMEIER SAID such a warning was issued about eight minutes before the Palm Sunday tornado hit south of DeWitt. "But we can't always warn people directly in its path," he said. "After all, it has to touch down first somewhere, and wherever it does the people there could not possibly have any advance notice."

The community action meeting was held at 8 p.m. last Tuesday at Smith Hall for representatives of governmental and school units in the county and anyone else interested.

Veteran teacher retires from St. Johns system

Miss Evelyn Putnam pins a note on kindergartner Diana Sue Estes, a member of the last class Miss Putnam taught before her retirement Friday. Diana Sue is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Herbert Estes of 311 South Ottawa. Also pictured is Diana's classmate, John Buggs, son of Mr and Mrs William Buggs of 804 South Lansing Street.

By PATRICIA HOLMES

A veteran of the St. Johns School System, Miss Evelyn B. Putnam, retired Friday, after 38 years of teaching in the area.

Miss Putnam, who most recently taught kindergarten in Swegles Street School, was honored at a tea by the Parent-Teacher Assn. there Tuesday, June 8.

The tea table was presided by Mrs Robert Rand and Mrs James Matthews. They were assisted by Mrs Gordon Iacovoni, Mrs Harold Shane, Mrs Paul Hurst and Mrs Clyde Hurst. Mrs Leo Maki presented Miss Putnam with a gift of money.

A LONG-STANDING resident of St. Johns, Miss Putnam, who lives at 304 East Walker, graduated from high school here and received a life certificate to teach from Michigan State Normal College which is now Eastern Michigan University.

She taught school for two years in Ypsilanti before receiving her bachelor of science degree from Central Michigan University by attending night school and weekend classes.

She then taught school in Otsego for three years before coming to St. Johns where she remained until the present time.

ALTHOUGH SHE has taught through the fourth grade, Miss Putnam said that she spent most of her years with kindergarten children, the age group she enjoys most.

"I also feel privileged to have taught in two new schools in the system," she said.

While Miss Putnam taught in all of the St. Johns elementary schools, she was on the faculty of Perrin-Palmer School when it was built and has been a teacher in the Swegles Street School since it was new.

"BASICALLY," Miss Putnam said, "children are the same. They all 'raise Cain.' But they are smarter today than they used to be and they should be. They have more opportunities."

Miss Putnam has worked to increase their opportunities.

As a member of the First Methodist Church, she organized the beginners department in Sunday School which consists of tots 3 and 4 years of age. She has worked in the Daily Vacation Bible School and holds membership in both the Michigan Education Assn. and the National Education Assn. and in Delta Kappa Gamma, a teacher's society.

MISS PUTNAM was also a member of the church choir for several years, treasurer of the WSCS and a member of the church board.

She holds membership in Eastern Star, is a past matron of Radiant Chapter No. 79, a member of Mary-Martha Circle and of the Hospital Auxiliary.

She said she is looking forward to doing more church work now that she has retired, although she also likes to sew, read and travel.

"I have looked forward to retirement and plan to enjoy myself," she said, "but I know I will miss my students."

Most of all, Miss Putnam said, she will miss being told what every kindergartner teacher loves to hear most, "Your the best teacher I ever had!"

Know cookbook, homemakers advised

BY BETTY KETCHAM
County Extension Agent
Home Economics

A good BASIC cookbook is a useful gift for a new homemaker.

What is a good basic cookbook? One of my requirements is that it answers most of my questions and it should answer yours too. I have one that fulfills this requirement. Here's something else to think about. Is the author a qualified authority? Has the author promoted specific brands and products?

ONE SECTION that I find most useful in my basic cookbook is a section called "Know Your Ingredients."

Sometimes it is necessary to substitute milk for cream. Well, maybe not necessary—but it saves a trip to the store. If a direct substitution is made in baking, a difference in texture can occur unless the fat content of the cream is compensated for. Here is the substitute for 1 cup coffee cream. Use 7/8 cup milk and 3 Tbsp. butter. To substitute for whipping cream or heavy cream, use 3/4 cup milk and 1/3 cup butter. Of course, this will not whip.

ANOTHER question my basic cookbook answered was how to make marinated herring. Not only does it have the recipe but it also tells how to clean and fillet the herring. Herring is inexpensive, money wise, but high in nutrition. And did you know that the calcium content of herring is twice that of milk? Of course fish bones are high in calcium and you eat a lot of bones when you eat herring.

Do you have lots of dried soy beans? Well, my cookbook tells how you can make soy bean milk. It also tells how to make flavored vinegar. And yes, it has nutrition and meal planning information too. These are some of the things that you should look for when buying your cookbook.

REMEMBER—Thursday, July 29, is Young Homemakers Day at College Week for Women on the Michigan State University Campus. Make plans now to attend one day or the entire program July 27-30.

Sweet quick bread perfect for guests

The height of the social season for any one young woman is the time just before she is married. If she is not being feted at a shower, friends and relatives are dropping in to see the arriving gifts or to hear the latest development of plans. This is the time for the bride-elect to begin practicing her hospitality and her baking. They'll know she's "ready" when she serves them Lemon Poppy Seed Bread and coffee or tea after they have "oohed" and "aaahed" over the trousseau she has just shown them.

Slightly sweeter than most quick breads, yet not as sweet as cake, Lemon Poppy Seed Bread slices better after a mellowing period of a few hours, or better yet, over night.

LEMON POPPY SEED BREAD
1/2 c. milk
1 tsp. poppy seed
2 c. sifted enriched flour*
1 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
2/3 c. shortening
3/4 c. sugar
2 eggs
1 tsp. grated lemon rind

Grease 8 1/2 x 4 1/2-inch loaf pan. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Combine milk and poppy seed. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. In large mixing bowl cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs and lemon rind. Blend flour mixture into creamed mixture alternately with milk and poppy seed, beginning and ending with flour. Beat well after each addition. Turn into pan. Bake 1 hour and 10 minutes, or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan on wire rack 5 minutes before removing from pan. Cool completely.

*If you don't sift and in the absence of other directions, spoon flour directly from container into a one-cup dry measure, level off, then remove two level table-spoonfuls.

NOTE: If self-rising flour is used, omit baking powder and salt.

Green Tee members join other golfers on All Clubs' Day

Members of the Green Tee Golf Club are at home on the St. Johns Country Club course for two weeks.

The club met on the home course Wednesday, June 16, and will meet with Alma, Clare, and Ithaca here, June 23.

WEDNESDAY, June 9, 60 women from Portland, Ithaca, Alma, Grand Ledge and St. Johns met in Clare for an All Clubs' Day. Green Tee members winning prizes that day were Mrs Carl Bancroft, low gross; Mrs James Nusser, low net; Mrs Lester Lake, low putts; and Mrs John Martin, door prize.

The annual invitational will be held in Clare Monday, June 21, with the top four golfers from each club participating.

Musical fountain popular

The river water dances at Grand Haven where residents have combined their talents to build what is fast becoming one of Michigan's top sight-seeing attractions.

Thousands of persons line the banks of the city's Grand River channel nightly to view the spectacular rhythms of the world's largest musical water fountain, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

THE BRILLIANTLY lighted water cascades up to 100-foot heights in time to popular and classical melodies. Twenty-minute programs are featured daily during the summer, beginning at 9 to 10 p.m.

Special features include Sunday, Easter and Christmas programs.

More than 30 shows have been programmed on electronic tape, automatically synchronizing moving water, multi-colored lights and music in a variety of performances.

THE FOUNTAIN fills a basin the size of a football field on the side of a sand dune. During each performance, some 80,000 gallons of water are pumped through 8,000 feet of pipe and controlled by more than 300 valves and pressure regulators.

The lights use 100,000 watts of electricity, enough to supply a community of 1,000 persons, fed through more than 20,000 feet of wiring.

Seating is provided for about 2,000 persons and thousands more view the performances from the comfort of their automobiles or from boats.

GRAND HAVEN area residents, aided by several industrial firms, built the fountain at a cost of $250,000 in an effort to improve the city's waterfront beauty. It was completed in 1963 and has since been donated to the city.

Grand haven is a popular resort community on the shore of Lake Michigan, about 14 miles south of Muskegon. It is served by several modern highways, including the Interstate 96 Freeway and US-31.

Ride monorail

To restore fabrics

Stretch fabrics which have been worn several days in succession without time to "rest" between wearings may be restored by light pressing or laundering.

St. Patricia Guild

The new president of St. Patricia Guild of St. Joseph Catholic Church is an avid baker for her family of seven children and her husband, an Oldsmobile employee. She is Mrs Alfred Lounds of 8635 West Taft Road in St. Johns. Her children are Linda, 16; Sid, 15; Greg, 12; Calvin, 11; Loretta, 7; Rodney, 4; and Kenny, 6 months. Among her hobbies are bowling, golfing, charcoal drawing and painting. A former den mother for many years, Mrs Lounds also holds membership in the Fowler Daughters of Isabella and the St. Johns Band Boosters.

Thorough cleaning protects cleaning

Protect the spring cleaning you have done by doing a thorough job of cleaning fireplaces, radiators, hot air grilles and ducts. Dust and grime accumulated for months will cling to them and sift onto clean floors, walls and furniture unless you do a complete cleaning job.

Protect fresh food with refrigeration

Prompt refrigeration of fresh foods is a must if you want to preserve the full value of the product. Raw meats should be covered loosely to allow air circulation to retard bacteria growth. Raw fruits should be stored clean, but dry in a hydrator or in moisture proof wrappings. Eggs are best stored in closed containers—not in open trays or baskets provided in many refrigerators. Potatoes should be held at a low temperature, below 50 degrees if possible.

Lists disappearing?

Shopping list? You seldom see them. Only about 100 in 300 women carry a list when they go to market.

Make a Note

Now is the time to prevent MOTH damage. NOT next fall! Moths eat clothes when they are hanging in your closet . . . not while you're wearing them. So let us dry clean your winter clothes NOW while you're not wearing them. They'll be safe through the summer and ready to wear next fall.

The boys and girls had just completed the taping of a record as a memorial to one of their fellow bandmen, Carl R. Tethal. This record, the first ever made by an EHS band, is in the process of pressing and will be available later this summer.

The CRT March, composed and directed by Beery, in memory of Carl, and several music festival required numbers are also included on the record.

For the first time in the history of EHS, the band received a first division rating at the district band festival. The music played in the

Fire levels barn south of Ashley

ASHLEY—A large barn and silo on the Ben Konecny farm two miles south of M-57 and 1 1/2 miles east of US-27 were destroyed by fire last Monday night. Eleven heifers died in the blaze. Damage was estimated at $20,000.

Added excitement was caused when 9-year-old Tony Konecny apparently suffered shock in removing cattle from the barn, ran away and was missing for 4 1/2 hours.

CAUSE OF the fire was undetermined. Firemen fought the blaze from about 8 p.m. last Monday to about 10. Sheriff's deputies were called back when the boy was discovered missing, and state troopers from Ionia, with their tracking dog, were called in to help on the hunt.

The boy was located about 2:30 a.m. Tuesday running wildly through the fields and woods. A physician treated Tony for shock and he was put to bed to rest. He was not hurt.

Summer theatre guide ready

The curtain goes up on Michigan's 1965 summer theatre season during June with more than 20 individual groups presenting nightly dramatic offerings throughout both peninsulas, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

The "straw hat" circuit will feature drama ranging from Shakespeare to current hit Broadway productions and several groups will present stage, motion picture and television stars heading local and professional casts.

THEATRE-GOERS will find Michigan summer theatres as varied as the musicals, melodrama, comedies and tragedies that are offered. Stressing the traditional "come-as-you-are" invitation, plays will be produced in tents, barns and old theatre buildings as well as in structures especially designed as summer playhouses.

To assist visitors in locating summer theatres, the Michigan Tourist Council has compiled the 1965 Michigan Guide to Summer Theatres, listing locations, performance times, admission fees and other pertinent information. Specific production schedules are available from the individual theatres.

Copies of the 1965 Council publication may be obtained by writing the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing 48926.

Seventy-six foreign countries have 4-H type programs.

Former students of the honored guest were hostesses at the home of Linda Swender with Linda Baese and Connie Rivest assisting.

Fire levels barn south of Ashley

ASHLEY—A large barn and silo on the Ben Konecny farm two miles south of M-57 and 1 1/2 miles east of US-27 were destroyed by fire last Monday night. Eleven heifers died in the blaze. Damage was estimated at $20,000.

Added excitement was caused when 9-year-old Tony Konecny apparently suffered shock in removing cattle from the barn, ran away and was missing for 4 1/2 hours.

CAUSE OF the fire was undetermined. Firemen fought the blaze from about 8 p.m. last Monday to about 10. Sheriff's deputies were called back when the boy was discovered missing, and state troopers from Ionia, with their tracking dog, were called in to help on the hunt.

The boy was located about 2:30 a.m. Tuesday running wildly through the fields and woods. A physician treated Tony for shock and he was put to bed to rest. He was not hurt.

Summer theatre guide ready

The curtain goes up on Michigan's 1965 summer theatre season during June with more than 20 individual groups presenting nightly dramatic offerings throughout both peninsulas, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

The "straw hat" circuit will feature drama ranging from Shakespeare to current hit Broadway productions and several groups will present stage, motion picture and television stars heading local and professional casts.

THEATRE-GOERS will find Michigan summer theatres as varied as the musicals, melodrama, comedies and tragedies that are offered. Stressing the traditional "come-as-you-are" invitation, plays will be produced in tents, barns and old theatre buildings as well as in structures especially designed as summer playhouses.

To assist visitors in locating summer theatres, the Michigan Tourist Council has compiled the 1965 Michigan Guide to Summer Theatres, listing locations, performance times, admission fees and other pertinent information. Specific production schedules are available from the individual theatres.

Copies of the 1965 Council publication may be obtained by writing the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing 48926.

Road Commission Weekly Report

The first phase of the dust control program was finished last week. The Michigan Chemical Co. spread the 38 per cent solution of calcium chloride on all roads so far scheduled. The second application will be added in about four weeks. Four townships and many individuals participated in the cost-sharing program. The townships were DeWitt, Riley, Victor and Watertown.

In addition to this program many people have bought flake calcium chloride and put on roads. Our scraper truck drivers urge anyone doing this to please mark the area by putting a chloride bag on a stake at each end.

THE BLACKTOPPING program made a small start last week. Some stretches of DeWitt Road and a half mile of new construction were covered with a prime and seal coat. This was a good test of equipment for the big program to be done this year. It is expected to start in about three weeks.

The next regular meeting of the Board of Clinton County Road Commissioners will be held Friday, June 18. The board will hear Charles Frost, Clinton County Civil Defense Director, tell about plans for emergencies.

THE COMMISSION will examine a preliminary plan for a new subdivision in Eagle Township and will designate a County Road engineer to serve for the State fiscal year from July 1, 1965, to June 30, 1966. Each county employing a full-time registered engineer receives $5,000 from the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund in addition to regular allotments.

Kneeling are two Civil War drummers.

Romney notes work of Senior Citizens

The Clinton County Senior Citizens Inc. received a certificate of Recognition of Service from the Michigan Commission on Aging. It is signed by Gov. George Romney, Harry J. Kelley, executive director of the commission, and Floyd D. Wallace, field representative.

Ever since the organization was started by Mrs Helen Tatroe, early in January, 1962, it has been rated as one of the top senior citizen clubs in the country. There is an average attendance of around 60 persons at the semi-monthly meetings. The Rhythm Band has had invitations to entertain at various functions in other cities. The Senior Citizens have been asked to have a float in the parade at the Soap Box Derby. The club is sponsoring three public ice cream socials and dances to be held at the Redwing Bowling Lanes in June, July and August. Plans are already underway for the annual Fall Festival and Bazaar to be held at the Drop-in Center on Friday, Oct. 29.

THE DROP-in Center is open every Wednesday and Friday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Anyone wishing work or help in the home can call there at 224-2833 and they will be referred to the proper person. Everyone is welcome to drop in and meet their friends, play cards, listen to the radio or watch television. There are card parties on the second and fourth Monday evenings, sometimes followed by dancing.

There were 66 persons present at the meeting on June 8. Mr and Mrs Clarence Bauerle of DeWitt were guests of Mr and Mrs Elzie Exelby. During the program, Bauerle played two piano solos. There were readings by Mrs Bertha Wonenburg and Mrs Exelby.

Huge caseload faces circuit court as June term opens

One of the largest number of court cases in recent years is scheduled for the June term of Clinton County Circuit Court, which opened Monday.

Judge Leo Corkin was to hear 22 criminal cases, 64 civil cases, 15 divorce cases and 23 reciprocal cases during the three-month term of the court.

THE RECIPROCAL cases concern support payments in cases of divorce or separation where the husband is not now residing in Michigan. Through a uniform reciprocal act, the prosecuting attorney sends the necessary legal papers seeking support to the circuit court of the county in other states where the husband is residing.

The court in that state then summons the husband and acts upon the case there. The support money is collected there and then forwarded to Clinton County. This frequently works in the opposite direction, with husbands being haled into court here to assume responsibility for support payments to their wives in other states.

THIS IS HOW the June term court shapes up in Clinton County Circuit Court.

Porcupine Mountains made real by new tourist road

The wondrous beauty of Michigan's Porcupine Mountains will unfold this summer for all motorists who seek new adventure. A new road is nearly ready through this area, with completion date set for around June 15.

In the past, the rugged beauty of the Porckies was seen by only a hardy few who braved the wilderness on foot while motorists had to be content to gaze from afar, said Jerry E. Fisher, Automobile Club of Michigan touring manager.

THE LAST portion of the new road to be completed was a section from M-107 south to Nonesuch Mine.

The new road will let tourists drive the full east-west span of the 58,000 acres which hug the Lake Superior shore in the far northwestern portion of the Upper Peninsula.

The park area, which covers approximately 25 miles, is in Ontonagon County.

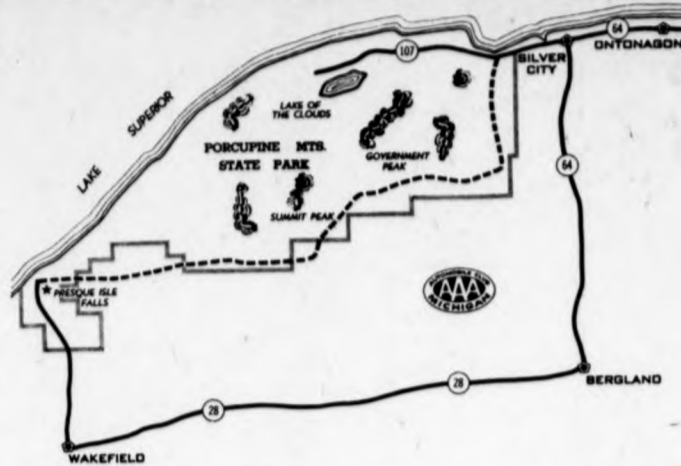

GENERALLY, THE road keeps well away from the primitive heart of the park, but it does take the motorist along its edge and at two points, via short spur roads, even inside that edge, Fisher pointed out. One spur leads to a magnificent lookout point, the other puts the visitor almost on the banks of a sparkling, rock-strewn stream hurrying down to Lake Superior.

Superlative scenery and a true sample of Porcupine's country mark every mile of the way. The road opens a new world of opportunity for campers and hikers. Likewise for the fisherman. Hitherto remote trout waters are brought within hop - skip - jump distance from the car.

SOUTH BOUNDARY Road provides a straight shot from the southeastern corner of the park to the Presque Isle River on the far western end. Here, after a series of falls, the river plunges into the largest of the Great Lakes.

Until construction of the road, the only way a visitor in the eastern segment of the park could reach the falls was over a round-about route of 50 miles—from Silver City on Lake Superior south to Bergland on M-64, west-southwest to Wakefield on M-28, then north again about 10 miles on a county road from Wakefield. The new road cuts into the Wakefield-Presque Isle Falls road only about a mile south of the falls.

TO REACH THE true east-west section of South Boundary, the visitor who has been into the park via Silver City must turn south on the road commonly called Nonesuch Mine Road. It turns west and becomes South Boundary Road just above the old Nonesuch Mine, about four miles south of M-107.

This Auto Club map shows the wilderness area contained in the Porcupine Mountains State Park. The dotted line indicates the new South Boundary Road which will be completed about June 15. The new road, a 25-mile stretch carved along the southern boundaries of the park, runs from just west of Silver City to an area near the beautiful Presque Isle River Falls.

The traveler who starts over South Boundary from the Wakefield-Presque Isle road will end up at M-107.

During last summer and fall, with the road still incomplete but passable, about 2,500 motorists negotiated the entire trip.

THIS YEAR, with the road a reality, some 15,000 motorists will make the venture, Fisher predicted.

Ledges Playhouse sports new look

From New York, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Utah, Idaho and Washington, the members of the Ledges Playhouse Co. are gathering in Grand Ledge this week to prepare the Playhouse and begin rehearsals for "The Boy Friend," which, on June 22, opens this season's new policy of musical plays.

The Ledges Playhouse has all the facilities of a modern theatre with seating for 432 people, but it has retained the quaint atmosphere of traditional Professional Summer Theatre. Located in the center of lovely Fitzgerald Park on the Grand River and surrounded by large shade trees, picnic grounds, and the famous "Ledges," colorful rock formations in the river, it is just 15 minutes from Lansing west on Business route 43 through Grand Ledge out to Fitzgerald Park.

EACH PLAYHOUSE item is freshly painted, as is the entire exterior of the Playhouse and the box office, as part of the "new look" in this summer's season. First to go up was the famous ship's bell, special symbol of the Playhouse, after which it and the other familiar decorations—the white fences, the white benches, the red geraniums and white petunias and the red and white awning were installed.

Musical comedies form an important part of this new season's plays: "The Boy Friend," "Lute Song," "Best Foot Forward," and "Battle Hymn." Other popular plays scheduled are "Mary, Mary," "The Sound of Murder," "Enter Laughing," "Oedipus the King," "Mrs. McThing," and an 1890 melodrama. To mount this ambitious schedule, the Ledges Company has expanded both artistically and technically. Singers and dancers now augment the company of actors and they rehearse in any corner of Grand Ledge Park where they can find quiet and space.

POPULAR ACTORS returning from previous seasons are Ray Jones, Lane Bateman, and Margaret Woodbury. Featured this year is Murrell Gehman, singer and dancer who has performed off-Broadway in New York and in professional theatre in Cleveland. The company includes eight women, seven men, two technicians under the direction of Lael J. Woodbury and Harold I. Hansen, producers.

The Playhouse phone number, not listed in the directory, is 627-7805, where information may be had about rates and reservations.

New park at Westphalia

FUTURE SITE OF
DAN DROSTE MEMORIAL PARK TO BE OPENED EARLY SUMMER 1965 BY THE WESTPHALIA JUNIOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE FOR THE PLEASURE OF THE COMMUNITY WHICH IT SERVES

Surveying the sign that tells folks around Westphalia of their project are three officers of the Westphalia Jaycees—Bob Schaar, park chairman, Jaycee President Dan Martin and External Chairman Fred Cassel. The park is located at the west edge of Westphalia.

Relaxation and family recreation for Westphalia residents will be a little easier to come by and more pleasant at home, thanks to a project of the Westphalia Jaycees that is now in the final preparation stages.

By about the end of July, the Jaycees will be ready to open the new Dan Droste Memorial Park at the west edge of the village, a park they began work on last fall.

THE IDEA for the park was brought to life by the Jaycees in the early spring a year ago. It was originally decided to purchase a plot of land outside the village, but later the Jaycees accepted an offer of the St. Mary's Church of Westphalia to use its portion of idle land located just west of the Westphalia Village limits.

The land, between four and five acres in size, stretches from the village limits west to the cemetery on the south side of Price Road. This portion of land has considerable hidden beauty, the Jaycees pointed out. It was once used as a reserve for shrubs and trees, and for future use in the cemetery. The Jaycees plan to conserve as much of the woods as possible.

LAST SUMMER A parking lot was constructed for the park by Miller Brothers of Westphalia, who donated part of the cost. The lot is lined with poles brought to Westphalia by Michigan Bell Telephone Co. of Lansing.

Work parties of Jaycee members have been organized on a number of occasions, and the general park areas has been about half cleared. Robert L. Schaar, the park project chairman, said the clearing is about done for the time being, with the clearance of the back portion of the park to be done later as the park grows.

SIX OR MORE picnic tables are already planned for the park this summer. They Jaycees are planning money-making projects, with the funds to be used for more picnic tables, playground equipment, fire places, etc.

The Jaycees hope to always be making improvements on the park, but the dedication of the facilities, and the opening of the park to the public will probably be the latter part of July.

THE DEDICATED WORK of the Jaycees on the community-betterment project is being bolstered by public support, and the Jaycees are asking continued support.

One of the final steps in the park preparation is mowing the grass. Here Dick Thelen takes care of that job.

In some places plowing and reworking of the terrain were necessary. Jaycee President Dan Martin mans a tractor on one of many Jaycee work parties at the site.

Roger Rademacher pushes a little mower across a patch of ground where weeds grew a little heavier than normal. The chopper left the grass in a much better condition for mowing.

Clearing of trees is never done, and Larry Spitzley was there with a hatchet when the cutting was necessary.

Bob Platte Jr. mans a chain saw in an oft-repeated cycle of cleaning up the park. Small, unwanted trees come down . . .

. . . And Don Bengal grabs an armful of tree limbs and brush and makes his way toward the brush pile. He and other Jaycees made many such trips until . . .

. . . The pile grew to a point where setting it afire was possible. Just the clearing of the unwanted trees and brush made a world of difference in the appearance of the parkland.

Expressing appreciation to Dad on Father's Day

The third Sunday in June is traditionally set aside as Father's Day, so mark June 20 on your calendar and plan something nice for dad.

Dad may not know it, incidentally, but Father's Day was founded by a devoted wife and mother—Mrs John Bruce Dodd of Spokane, Wash. She was one of six children raised by her father, after their mother died.

WHEN SHE FIRST mentioned her Father's Day idea to Dr Conrad Bluhm, pastor of her church, the minister asked:

"Why not?" It was Father's Day when Abraham left Ur of Chaldees. It was Father's Day when Noah built the Ark. It was Father's Day when Christ chose the twelve. Why not a very special day of tribute to so worthy a person as father?"

REMEMBERING ALL this, Mrs Dodd persuaded the Spokane Ministers Alliance to sponsor a city-wide Father's Day celebration in 1910. Afterwards many other cities held similar ceremonies, and in 1924 President Calvin Coolidge recommended a national Father's Day.

"Honor Thy Father" is a Biblical commandment. We don't get as sentimental about Father's Day as we do Mother's Day, but there is parallel logic in recognition and appreciation of their services and sacrifices in behalf of the families they head.

Our basis for greatness is individual freedom

America is great because individual men have freedom and equality, because individual men have been given the incentive to create, to produce, and to save, because individual men have been rewarded for their labor with a generous share of the goods they helped to produce.

America has taken its place among the great civilizations of history because the cornerstone upon which the Republic rests is the social, economic, and spiritual betterment of individual men.

WE LIVE IN a world of threatening insecurity and exciting promise. But there is genius enough in the individuals in this nation to create political and economic policies that will give us in material well-being and social enrichment a future that will exceed even the amazing progress of the past.

We are not in the bleak twilight of individualism, but in the brilliance of its morning. We need to bring to the difficult problems of our time those heroic qualities of character, industry and self-discipline which have made our people strong and this nation great.

We need constantly to reaffirm our deep faith in the dignity and worth of the individual man and of his creation by Providence.

COMMENDING CLINTON COUNTY

(From The Alma Record, Alma)

Our neighbors to the south in Clinton County have announced their own "war on something" in keeping with the Johnson tradition of warring on poverty, and junkyards, and other unwanted matters.

Clinton has started a "war on juvenile drinking."

Law officers, the probate court, municipal judges, circuit judge and county prosecutor have announced that juveniles brought before them on drinking charges can expect and will get the worst under the limits of the law.

IN A JOINT communique, the law and court officials warned that "all youths under 21 found guilty of being in possession of intoxicating beverages will get at least three days in jail or in the juvenile home."

Now that's a step in the right direction.

Under-age drinking is not something to be swept under the rug under the mistaken notion that "it can't happen here" . . . all the problems are in the big cities."

All you have to do is check the beer cans around parking lots and parking spots where young people congregate. It happens in smaller communities as well as Detroit and Lansing and Saginaw.

OF COURSE, ALL the whiskey bottles and beer cans that litter the streets and lawns of Alma and other communities cannot be traced to teenagers. Some legal drinkers are sloppier in their habits, as any early Monday morning foray around town will attest.

But curbing juvenile drinkers—if it's possible—is just part of the problem, although an important one for the kids as well as for the public generally.

Adults who furnish the stuff to minors ought to get slapped down many times harder than the young people who succumb to the drinking temptation.

HAPPY FATHER'S DAY

RAMBLIN' with Rink

BY LOWELL G. RINKER

I watched my daughter sleeping the other night. I stood beside the bed for almost five minutes, I guess, and just watched. She hardly moved a muscle, quite unlike the daylight hours when hardly a muscle is quiet.

Sleep must make children grow. Or maybe she just looks taller when she's stretched out in bed sound asleep. At any rate, she's a big girl now. Four years old last week. Standing there by the bed it doesn't seem possible four years have passed since she came into the world to live with us.

I NEVER did think of her as small, and even in the stillness of the night beside her bed it's hard to remember that she was small. But she was, and now she's big, and she'll never be small again. Already she has taken command of our house, and in her thinking she's the queen of the world, too. Why not?

Let's let her be queen. It won't be but a few short years and she'll have to give up her throne and take on the responsibilities of school and all the other responsibilities of life that come with it and after it. Let her enjoy herself and do the things she wants; she's a big girl now.

HOW UNFORTUNATE these thoughts come only when I see her sound asleep and quiet. When she's awake she's a ball of energy that can wear me down and cross me up. She's so persistent in everything she wants that I'm afraid she's had spankings more often than she deserved them.

Too often I see her through a clouded mind—as a pest and someone I'd like to be free of. But the cloud of fatigue is only a veil that unfortunately can hide the pleasant memories . . .

. . . How rich a man is when his daughter never fails to greet him with a smile or laugh when he comes home from work. . . a daughter who will interrupt her play almost every time to give three shrill screams and come running to me yelling, "Daddy, daddy, daddy!"

. . . A DAUGHTER who is so enthusiastic and proud of everything she can do for you when you request it or when you don't . . . A daughter who is so happy and excited when you do things for her or give things to her . . . A daughter who makes your home empty when she's not present.

It's easy to lift that cloudy veil when you see her peacefully at sleep at night, her "bed dog" and "bed horse" scattered beside her. It's time to keep that veil lifted, too, for she's a big girl now and I'd hate to have that same veil cloud her view of me. She's the queen at our house, and with a little patience from dad, maybe she'll be a good queen . . . the rest of her life.

Food Fancies

By W. E. DOBSON

Everybody has their notions On a proper way to eat, Whether winter winds are blowin' Or we suffer summer heat; Diets are both strange and varied, As by fancies we are led, And I find myself recallin' Raised pancakes n' homemade bread.

In the winter after milkin' 'Fore the chores were all complete, Folks arrived at breakfast table Known' it was time to eat; With the sausage on to sizzle, 'N a batch stirred up ahead— Hard to beat those buckwheat pancakes 'N that luscious homemade bread!

Wasn't always maple syrup Though we never turned it down; Sometimes it was cane molasses, Or meat gravy thick n' brown; If we were fresh out of butter We used apple jell instead, Home-cured meats supplemented Raised pancakes n' homemade bread.

No use now to get excited, Or past history to explore Modern cooks n' modern diets Have completely changed the score; Still I must confess a feelin' That we weren't too badly fed, With our home-grown, home-cooked victuals— Raised pancakes n' homemade bread!

Recognize this Man of the Year?

WIDELY REPRINTED in recent weeks has been a Chicago Tribune editorial proclaiming their "Man of the Year." If there is a forgotten man today it is this guy whom the Chicago newspaper describes:

The Tribune today presents the real Man of the Year.

He was not picked by the Junior Association of Commerce, or by the Senior Association of Commerce, or by the politicians, or by any association of newspaper men. You won't find his picture in the papers. You may not recognize him as you pass him on the street. But we hope you do.

OUR MAN OF the Year is in the middle income brackets. He gets up every morning at 6:30 so that he can get to his job in an office or factory at 8 or 8:30. He works hard, not only because he wants advancement, but because he thinks his employer deserves a fair deal. He is honest and dependable.

Our Man of the Year manages to get along with one wife. They have three or four children, whom they love so much they teach them to be respectful, law-abiding, and self-reliant.

They have done their best to earn and save enough money to send their children to college, but the rising costs of higher education make this goal more difficult each year.

THE RISING COST of everything also makes it harder to put aside money for retirement. Recent federal income tax reductions have helped the people in high income brackets and low income brackets, but the man in the middle has got little benefit.

There are no loopholes in the income tax for him, and he can't put any money into tax-exempt securities.

Social security taxes, which started at $30 a year, are now up to $174. Soon the medicare program will make them much higher. Local property taxes have doubled, and so have the various state taxes.

Worst of all, the purchasing power of the dollar is only 42 per cent of what it was when our Man of the Year bought his first insurance policy in 1937. The little money which he has set aside for a rainy day is worth about half of what it was when he earned it.

OUR MAN OF the Year belongs to a church and works at his religion. He is no saint, but he understands the biblical meaning of neighbor and tries to be decent to men of all races and creeds. You won't find him, however, in "civil disobedience" demonstrations. He believes laws ought to be enforced.

Our Man of the Year is not ashamed to be considered a patriot. He flies the flag on national holidays. He can't understand Americans who join organizations dedicated to the destruction of America. He can't understand legislators and judges who strive to undermine law and order, or to feather their own nests.

Our Man of the Year believes in our system of government. He votes at every election, but he votes only once.

For all his merits, we salute him.

Old Jupiter Pluvius must have tipped over his rain barrel Saturday night. Cascading from the lowering clouds that intermittently flashed with lightning and cracked with thunder, there came a torrential downpour that deluged St. Johns and the nearby countryside with seemingly enough water to quench all the fires in Christendom. Although brief, it was unusually violent, and nearly two inches of rain fell during a 30-minute period.

50 YEARS AGO From the Files of June 17, 1915

Fred Wright was instantly killed Wednesday afternoon about 3 o'clock by an electric current, while pasturing some cattle along the road near Beadle's crossing, on the electric line. The accident was caused by two Union Telephone poles being blown down, the wires coming in contact with the trolley wire and a cable of the farmers' line and a wire fence.

Tuesday Frank Horsley of Lansing, who drives an auto for hire, was engaged by a stranger to take him to Park Lake in Bath for some tools. At a lonely point on an out-of-the-way road, Horsley suddenly was ordered to stop. Turning in his seat for further directions, he looked into the muzzle of a high calibre revolver. He was relieved of between $3 and $4 and tied up and left beside the road by the bandit, who drove off in Horsley's car.

Book Shelf

By Elizabeth Millman

James Michener's latest book is a story of the Holy Land. A novel, which he calls "The Source," is written around a mound whose name, "Makor," signifies a made mound that is the accumulated remains of one abandoned settlement after another, each resting on the ruins of its predecessor.

Archaeologists provide the framework, but they can only date and classify the objects they find. It remains for a storyteller, such as Michener, to present the facts in dramatic situations that are true to the times.

This area was held by many conquerors over a period of 12,000 years. Its development is the history of the Holy Land, and what happened there is bound in with the development of western civilization. "The Source" is the story of our heritage from the past—a story of greed, bigotry, and cruelty as well as a story of human striving for law, love and faith.

This is not a book for quick scanning, but one that requires study and thought. It is also a book to enjoy as it presents the beginning of our Christian faith.

IN HIS BOOK, "The Ku Klux Klan," William Pierce Randal has undertaken the task of writing the history of that organization. The Klan was born in 1865, when the people of the South attempted to thwart the Negro in his search for freedom. By violence and terroristic methods, it succeeded in its purpose.

In 1915 the modern Klan was organized and now Jews, Catholics, aliens and other minorities were included. The Klan has succeeded in keeping a nation apart by these methods. The book is a fine assessment of this organization in its "Century of Infamy."

THE WAY an alien group can be assimilated is shown by Mary Ellen Chase in her new novel, "A Journey To Boston." This is a story of the Polish families who settled in the Connecticut Valley. They produced their own breed of American. Stability, loyalty, ambition, and a high regard for learning were their best qualities with a love of the land and the good things of life.

With her beautiful command of language, the author has woven a tale about these exuberant people by illuminating a single tragic incident.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

State firstest, mostest in growing number of areas

Michigan legislators appear bent on making the state No. 1 in many areas.

Last year the lawmaking body put Michigan on top of the legislative pay scale across the country. Another effort was attempted this year to boost salaries for their successors.

The move to raise legislative salaries to $15,000 was stalled pending a study of state officials' salary standards, an apparent move to quell some of the criticism which followed House approval of the 50 per cent boost.

TOP LEVEL will be held by Michigan in another area this fall when the new workmen's compensation law takes effect, boosting benefits to injured workers by half or better depending on the family size.

This change will be more gradual, however, with a scale spread over the next three years. Somewhat surprisingly, some employers who will pay for the increases say it is a reasonable rate.

Sen. Sander Levin, D-Berkley, strong supporter of this legislation, termed the boost an evidence of "the new legislature's program of vigorous, responsible modernization of Michigan's law."

STILL A THIRD evolution is occurring in the legislature which will make it unique among law-making bodies.

Senate leaders recently made it official they will not adjourn the session this summer as scheduled. Rather they will keep it open and return this fall to work on unsettled matters such as fiscal reform.

As short as 10 years ago, legislators could count on about five or six months of session in the odd year and four to five months work time in the even election campaign year.

CHANGE FROM this pattern started in 1959, the cash crisis year when the session ran through Christmas week. Prior to that time a "special session" lived up to its name.

Since 1959, however, leaders have set hopeful deadlines for scheduled sessions of the 1950-era type. But observers could easily see very early in the session that deadlines would go by the boards in favor of an extension such as is occurring this year. In other years special sessions became almost common.

It doesn't necessarily follow that more work is being done just because more time is being used. More time is being spent on substantive bills, but much time is wasted in the early weeks of these long sessions and on bills which are of little consequence or doomed to the wastebasket.

ANNUAL SESSIONS in itself put Michigan in a special class. Many states still have only biennial sessions unless special matters require attention in the off-year.

Very few states, if any, come even close to the amount of time in session Michigan legislators have spent in the past six years.

Neighboring Ohio calls its law-making body into session only once in the two-year term. Budgets and all other matters are written to cover two years at a minimum.

A RARE opportunity exists for citizens to assist in the treatment of retarded children at eight state institutions. Of the more than 10,000 retarded, many are known as forgotten children.

Their parents or other relatives are no longer around or chose to ignore them.

Like all children, the retarded need love and attention. To fill this need at one institution the Lapeer Parents Assn. was formed a number of years ago.

SIMILAR groups established at the other seven similar institutions now operate within the framework of the Michigan Assn. for Retarded Children.

The program is similar to a foster parent plan. Volunteers are given basic information about a child. His age, mental ability, interests and favorite gifts may be included.

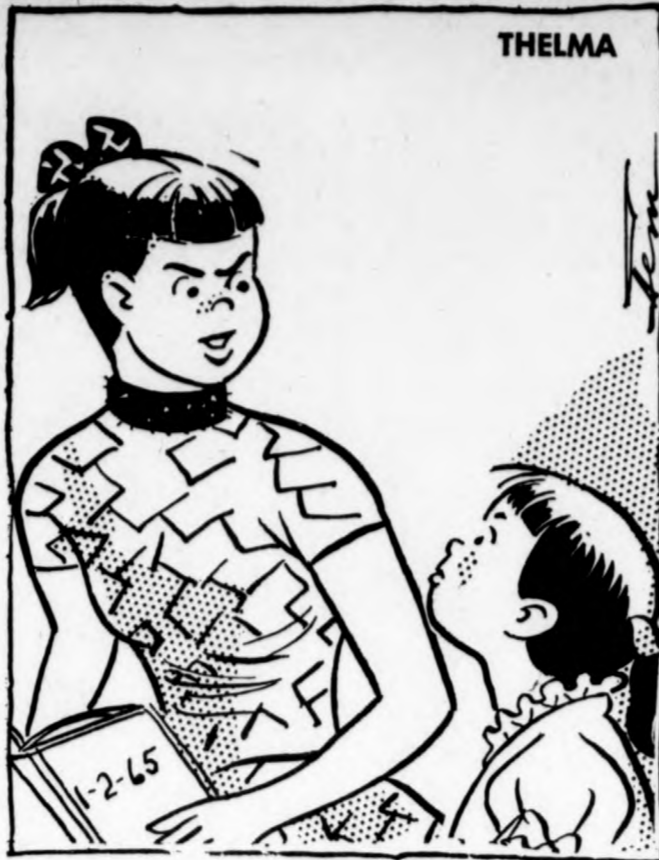

A foster parent is encouraged to write the child frequently and remember him especially on holidays and his birthday. Visits can be arranged if desired.

A STIGMA still attached to retardation discourages some from attempting active careers or even active volunteer work in this area of mental health, but the foster parent plan can be painlessly enlightening.

Information cards may show a child to be in his 30's or older and his interests to be gardening or weaving. It may seem incongruous to have a letter request shaving equipment and cigarettes when the handwriting and sentiment is distinctly the scrawl and "I love you much much" of a first grader.

Chronological age has little meaning in the retarded housed at Lapeer, Coldwater, Mount Pleasant, Fort Custer, Caro, Plymouth, Howell and Gaylord.

The term children applied to all is accurate. The forgotten children devour any expression of kindness or affection which comes their way.

DeWitt graduate plays with Ferris Honors Band

Charles C. Batdorf, son of Mrs. Joyce Robbins, 983 Webb Road, DeWitt, participated in Ferris State College's Eighth Annual Honors Band Clinic on the college campus last Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Limited to topflight musicians from among high school graduates who have been formally accepted for admission to Ferris State College, participation in the Honors Band Clinic provides the newcomers with a preview of the institution's music program and an opportunity to join with the college's Concert Band in playing advanced works under expert direction.

Climaxing the three-day event was an appearance of the entire Honors Band at the college's June 13 Commencement where Professor Mark Hindsley, director of bands at the University of Illinois, was guest conductor.

COUNTRY FLAVOR

June's cheerful temper makes it month to savor

HAYDEN PEARSON

In the Old Farmer's Almanack, June 1849, it was written, "Perhaps no month tends more to promote a cheerful temper than the present. Now the green tide is at its height; now the hillsides glow with green-gold hues beneath the high-climbing sun; now the meadows are lush with their green and flower-dotted quilts."

This is indeed a month of cheerful temper. The dawn chorus is still strong and exuberant, and through sun-blessed days the orioles whistle from the elms and barnswallows twitter as they bring nest-building materials to the rafters. Catbirds take time from home construction to sit on garden fence posts and alternately jeer and commend a man as he hoes his potato patch.

NATURE HAS her moods—even as man. In June when the first rush of spring's urgency is over, one can feel the cheerful temper of the season. Daisies star the meadows; blue iris wave flags in the swales; cattails lift slender, pointed leaves around the swamps.

Each day brings us nearer the solstice—that day of longest daylight when probably more flowers are open than on any other day of year. This is a time to savor the beauty of the country side, to walk sun-dappled woodland aisles and to explore the lowlands.

WHEN ONE stands at meadow edge or on an upland field and watches the green-gold grass waves ripple ahead of a breeze on a sun-drenched June day, he knows that this is truly a month of cheerful temper.

Keep that bull in top condition, vet warns

A damaged horn can turn a valuable herd sire into a worthless hunk of bull meat. This is one of the warnings voiced by Dr. William M. Romane, head of the large animal clinic and a staff member of the Veterinary School, Texas A & M University, in an article "How to Keep a Good Bull Going" in the summer issue of the Farm Quarterly. Eyes, feet, legs, shoulder, brisket, and scrotum are among the other points covered by Romane.

This prominent veterinarian annually advises hundreds of southwestern ranchers and horsemen on health problems connected with their livestock. Selecting a sound herd sire and keeping him in serviceable condition, he feels, is one of the most important steps in running a profitable cattle operation.

HERE IN condensed form is Dr. Romane's check list of the most vulnerable points on a breeding bull and what to do about them:

HORNS: Most horn problems are the result of injuries from fighting, hooking or chute accidents. When the horn is loosened there is always the possibility of the entry of a secondary infection which can seriously affect fertility. The affected animal will usually hold his head cocked to one side. Medical treatment and the securing of drainage may be necessary to affect a cure.

EYE: CANCER EYE, pink eye and entropion can be alleviated with the proper treatment. Cancer eye can be controlled by irradiation or surgery. Pink eye is an irritation or inflammatory reaction around the eye but is not a serious disqualification. A simple preventative is to ring the eye with a purple or black substance such as gentian violet to break the reflection of the sun. Entropion is a condition in which the eyelid, usually the lower one, turns in and rubs the cornea, causing watering. This can be rectified with a simple operation.

SHOULDER: Fighting or working in close quarters can result in fracture and lameness. Segregation and rest is the best treatment.

BRISKET: AN INJURY in this area can sometimes spread into a general septicemia and produce fatal results. Such injuries occur when a highly fitted bull with a prominent brisket is suddenly turned into a pasture or pen, the surface of which is hard, rocky, or stumpy.

SCROTUM: Should hang freely and away from the body wall. A check should be made for scrotal hernia.

FEET: FOOT TROUBLE can be a serious handicap to any bull. In some individuals, one claw of the hoof grows faster than the other. This precipitates arthritis in the pastern and phalanges regions and reduces the serviceable life of the bull. . . Laminitis, or founder, another common hoof malady, is the result of over-feeding. It is characterized by excessive growth of the toe and by the animal walking on his heel; the hoof eventually goes flat.

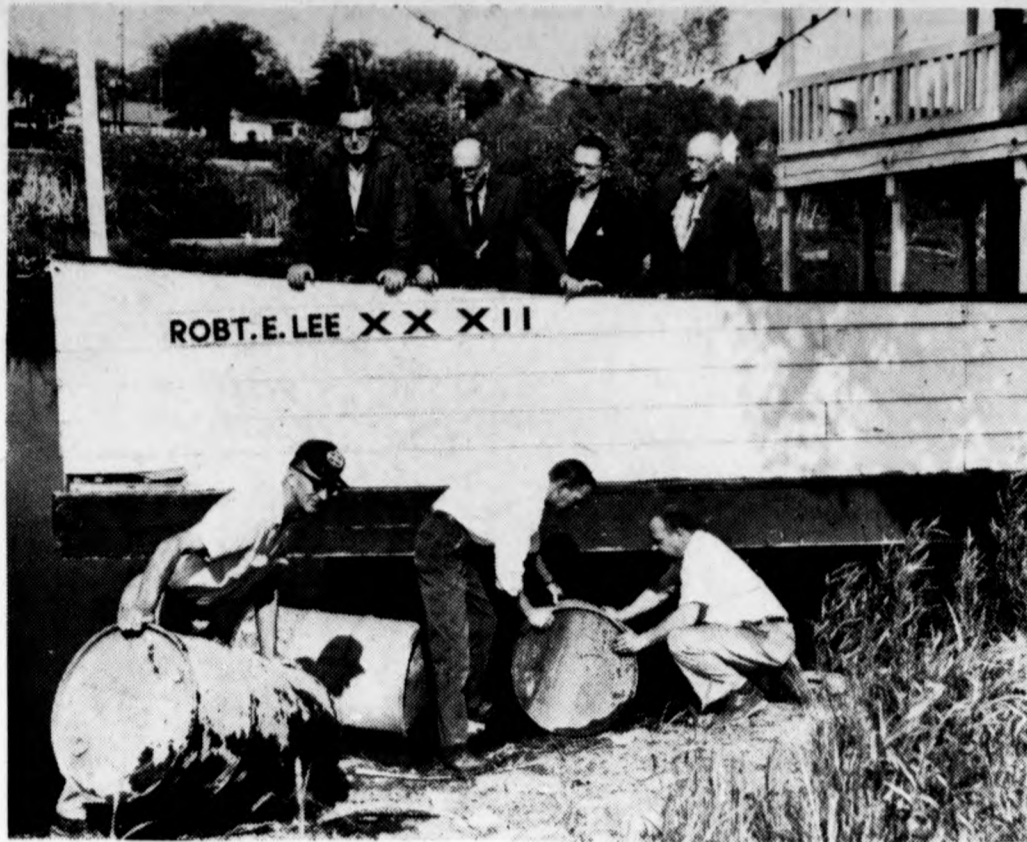

In both cases the bull can be saved by regular trimming of the hoofs. . . Foot rot is another serious affliction. While it is usually associated with wet conditions it occurs on drylots and pastures as well. The bacteria organisms which cause this ailment invade the foot wherever they find a break in the natural curvature of the hoof. The foot should be examined to make sure that the trouble is not caused by a foreign body such as a nail or other hardware. . .

CORNS PRODUCE lameness and restrict the bull's serving ability. They are found between the claws, usually on the hind feet. The tendency toward corns can usually be noted when the bull is 15 to 18 months of age. Surgical removal is the only cure.

HIND LEG: The straighter the leg the greater the shock when the bull walks or mounts. The hock of the excessively straight-legged bull also has a tendency to arthritis.

KNEE: The knee is subject to the same kind of bruising as the brisket. Hygroma, water on the knee, is an injury common to bulls. This and bursitis are both caused by the bull throwing his weight on a rocky surface as he rises. The injury usually occurs when the bull is in confined quarters. Providing good bedding under a shed of some kind is a big help in preventing the injury.

Not all of Michigan's beets grow in a row in our gardens—they are a commercial crop, too, mainly for canneries. Tonnage, worth $81,000 growers, totaled 3,700 last year, making Michigan the nation's 4th largest producer.

Lima bean yields to double by 1980

Lima bean production is expected to double in Michigan in the next 15 years.

Michigan State University scientists estimate that acreage will be maintained at about 2,000 acres by 1980, but yields will be increased from slightly under one ton to about two tons per acre.

These projections are part of Project '80, Michigan State University's futuristic look at Michigan's rural potential by 1980. The scientists investigating this vegetable outlook include horticulturists Clark Nicklow, John Downes, Stan Ries and Shigeml Honma, and soil scientist Robert Lucas.

No milk in pail—cows go to sale

Low milk production accounted for one-half of the cows sold from the more than 2,300 Michigan herds enrolled in the Dairy Herd Improvement Assn. and Owner-Sampler program during 1964.

A total of 23.4 per cent of the cows in these herds were sold during 1964, says Larry Johnson, Michigan State University dairy extension specialist. This is 5 per cent less than the number of cows sold during 1963 from these herds.

The number two reason for removing cows, accounting for 18 per cent of the cows sold, was sterility. Other significant factors contributing to the sale of cows from these herds included physical injury, dairy purposes and mastitis.

Gives lots of milk

Robin Farm Dynast Patsy, a registered Holstein cow owned by Duane and Velmar Green of Elsie, is listed in a report of cows in Michigan that recently passed the 150,000-pound lifetime milk production level. She gave 157,579 pounds of milk and 5,913 pounds of butterfat.

To irrigate or not to irrigate

During the mid-fifties, farmers in the nation's humid areas began to take the plunge into irrigation. Irrigation to supplement rainfall and as a normal production tool has since been tried on a wide range of crops under varying conditions.

A decade of use and study shows that irrigation can and does increase yields and improve quality. Most important, under the proper conditions it will boost profits. The grower's job is to decide what conditions justify investing money in a system designed to deliver the amount of water needed at the right time to give the yield, the quality and the profits he wants.

CROPS WHICH produce a high income per acre such as vegetables, fruit, or tobacco and which incur high costs will normally pay for irrigation more rapidly than low-value crops like field corn, pastures, and alfalfa. Assuming a source of water for the irrigation system is available, farmers should check past weather reports to establish the time of rain and its availability to the crops they plan to grow.

Then the characteristics of the soil should be analyzed as a guide to the amount of water that will be needed. These factors influence the cost of providing the necessary water at the correct rates. Other costs to be considered are the distance water must be moved, the type of equipment used, and the amount of labor needed. Labor can be a major cost in operating a sprinkler system, so designing a system to minimize labor needs is very important.

PROPERLY timed irrigations can keep enough moisture in the soil to encourage germination, support young plants in their early stages and to promote uniform development and maturity. Saving a single high-value crop from drought can pay for a system.

Many farmers search for secondary high value crops to carry part of the cost of an irrigation setup. Irrigation can increase production on pastures, alfalfa and other forage crops in the humid areas, although in some cases, the large amounts of water needed push costs up so high that returns are marginal.

WHATEVER the reason for considering an irrigation system in the humid areas, there is one thing that everybody with experience agrees is necessary. A competent engineer should survey the area to be irrigated, then design a system that will deliver an adequate supply of water in time to get maximum benefits at minimum cost.

ASC PROGRAM

List minimum sales price for CCC dry edible beans

W. M. SMITH County ASC Manager

USDA announced May 19, 1965, that pea and dark red kidney beans acquired by CCC from 1964-crop under price support operation is being offered for unrestricted use sale.

These beans may be purchased from Evanston ASCS Commodity office at domestic market price but not less than the following minimum prices for US No. 1 beans for May:

PEA BEANS, $7.63 per hundredweight, area of production, Michigan; and dark red kidney beans, $9.32 per hundredweight, also produced in Michigan.

FOB at point of production. Amount of paid-in-freight, as applicable, will also be added to minimum prices. Other grades and locations will be adjusted by differentials for the 1964 Price Support Program. This pricing policy is in line with that announced April 15.

PRELIMINARY estimates show about 375,000 hundredweight pea beans and 100,000 hundredweight dark red kidney beans having been taken over under the Price Support Program following original April 30 maturity date 60 days by requesting an extension prior to April 30.

These minimum prices are Slightly more than 850,000 hundredweight, all classes, 1964-crop beans remained under price support loan at the end of April.

Big snap bean yield expected

Per acre yield of snap beans in Michigan is expected to increase more than 50 per cent by 1980.

Michigan State University scientists speculate that production of this vegetable will jump from 1.6 to about 2.5 tons per acre as a result of technological advances. Most of these changes will come about because of new high-producing, more disease-resistant varieties.

SNAP BEAN acreage will also increase substantially in the years ahead. A jump from 9,000 to 14,000 acres is expected by 1980 for snap beans grown for processing.

But harvested acreage for fresh market will decrease to about 1,000 acres compared to 2,400 at present. Decreased labor availability, plus the advent of new processing techniques, will account for the decrease.

THESE projections are part of Project '80, a futuristic look at Michigan's rural potential by 1980. The Michigan State University scientists involved in the study are horticulturists Clark Nicklow, John Downes, Stan Rles and Shigeml Honma; and soil scientist Robert Lucas.

More exports originate in Detroit than in New York City, according to the US Department of Commerce Export Origins Study.

Don't say 'Nuts!' to nut trees for practical uses

Popularity of growing nut trees for ornament, shade and food production has been on the increase during recent years.

While commercial production is rather limited in Michigan, nut trees are frequently planted around farmsteads and suburban home grounds, says Lee Taylor, Michigan State University horticulturist. Nut growing in Michigan is limited mainly to the southern half of the lower peninsula due to shorter growing seasons in northern areas.

TAYLOR POINTS out that several cold-hardy and short-summer tolerance strains of Persian (English) walnuts have been introduced into Michigan in recent years. Yet only a few nut varieties are adapted to cold summer and short growing season areas.

"The landscaping value of nut trees should not be overlooked," says Taylor. "They furnish excellent shade, harmonize well with lawns and grass areas while delighting children at ripening time in the fall."

NUT TREES are also ideal for conservation plantings in areas where it is not desirable to till the soil. They not only hold the soil against erosion, but also serve as wind barriers for protecting other crops and plantings. Another advantage is that they serve as an excellent source of food for wildlife.

Nut tree species commonly grown in Michigan include: Carpathian walnuts, black walnuts, butternut or white walnuts, heartnuts and Japanese walnuts, hickories and hicans, pecans, hazels, filberts and Chinese chestnuts.

DETAILS ON starting nut orchards, species, caring for the mature orchard, harvesting and sources of nursery stock are available in a bulletin entitled "Nut Growing in Michigan." Copies can be obtained by dropping a postcard to: Bulletin Office, Cooperative Extension Service, 10 Agricultural Hall, Michigan State University, East Lansing.

Michigan people like their sweet corn on the cob, because very little of last year's 780,000 hundredweight of sweet corn went to processors. The state is seventh in this crop which last year was a $2.3 million item in the grower's pocket. Wayne County is the state's production leader.

County spellers win state titles

Clinton County's rural spelling champions continued their winning ways last week and brought back to the county the championships from state-wide competition in the Friends of Michigan Schools spelling contest.

The number competing in the contest, held at Pottsville June 8, was fewer than was expected by the county group, but they had little trouble.

LORRAINE Harger, daughter of Mr and Mrs Edwin Harger of 8105 N. Welling Road, won the sixth grade state spelling contest in competition with five other students.

Douglas Kurncz, son of Mr and Mrs John Kurncz of R-6, St. Johns, was the state seventh grade winner in competition with four others.

Barbara Ward, daughter of Mrs Dorothy Ward of 4076 W. Maple Rapids Road competed with four others in the eighth grade contest and came out the winner.

ALL THREE students won the Clinton County News spelling contest April 6 and were invited by the Friends of Michigan Schools to compete in their state contest. Students from Wayne, Barry, Cass, Cheboygan and Clinton counties were among those in the spelling match. It was a written contest similar to the one in Clinton County.

The winners received certificates and were congratulated by their teachers. Lorraine's teacher at Eureka School is Mrs Fidelis Cameron. Douglas goes to Sage School, and his teacher is Mrs Doris Yallup. Barbara's teacher at East Essex School is Mrs Reva Ward.

THE CERTIFICATES will do for now, but trophies honoring their success will be presented to the three at the Friends of Michigan Schools state meeting at Lansing in October.

Two 4-H meetings are rescheduled

Two 4-H dairy and livestock meetings have been rescheduled, county 4-H Extension agent Don Walker reports. The 4-H dairy judging tour will be held Tuesday, June 29, instead of June 15 as originally scheduled. Livestock judging training will be given on Thursday, July 1, not June 22 as originally scheduled.

State spelling champions in the Friends of Michigan Schools contest at Pottsville last week were all from Clinton County. Displaying their certificates for the achievement are, left to right, Lorraine Harger of Eureka School (sixth grade), Barbara Ward of East Essex School (eighth grade), and Douglas Kurncz of the Sage School (seventh grade).

St. Johns driver one of first to keep deer killed by car

Kenneth E. Gladstone of 204 Lewis Street, St. Johns, became one of the first drivers in the state to be permitted to keep a deer killed by a car.

Under a ruling of the Michigan Conservation Department, resident motorists killing deer on Michigan's highways are now able to keep the animals they hit. Gladstone had the dubious pleasure Friday, when his car hit and killed a doe on US-27 near Clark Road in DeWitt Township.

THE DEPARTMENT'S new immediate-effect policy is tied to the state's spiraling increase of vehicle-deer collisions which reached a record high of nearly 6,000 in 1964. About 100 such cases were reported in the county.

With the number of these accidents jumping steadily during the last five years, conservation officers have been hard pressed to dispose of animals struck down by motorists. At the same time, many drivers experiencing run-ins with deer have asked officers to give them the animals.

IN MANY CASES where deer haven't been too badly mangled by vehicles and meat spoilage hasn't occurred, the Department has turned the animals over to lunch programs of schools, county sheriff's departments, and other public institutions.

However, because of the sheer number of deer slaughtered on the state's roads, there often is not enough time to save the meat.

"Under our new policy, we hope to cut this waste of venison and, by the same token, give motorists some sort of compensation for the vehicle damage they suffer," explains John A. Anguilm, chief of the department's law enforcement section.

"WITH EACH smashup between whitetails and cars costing an average of about $200 in repairs, we don't anticipate that people will deliberately try to hit deer as a means of putting meat on the table," he adds.

In keeping deer they have killed, motorists will need to obtain permits from conservation officers. This requirement will validate the fact that the animals were actually killed by vehicles. It will control the possibility of someone trying to pull a "fast one" by illegally shooting a deer and then claiming that he hit it with his car.

OFFICERS OF the state police and local law enforcement agencies have been authorized to release highway-killed deer to drivers. They will take the names, addresses and license numbers of motorists and relay this information to local conservation officers who will then contact each driver to issue a free possession permit.

Persons allowed to recover deer must consume or dispose of their animals' meat within 30 days after permits are obtained. They may not give the animals to someone else.

BOTH OF THESE regulations are also designed to prevent illegal possession of venison.

To avoid causing deer possession problems with other states, non-residents will not be allowed to take home whitetails which they hit in Michigan.

Spotted fawns and other immature deer killed by vehicles will not be turned over to motorists because they have little meat to be salvaged for eating.

WITH THE WORST months for vehicle-deer accidents still ahead, latest department field reports show that slightly more than 1,400 whitetails had met death along the state's highways through the end of last April. The toll for this period was down about 12 per cent from the year before.

Michigan twins plan meeting

The 19th annual Michigan Twins Assn. convention will be held June 25-27 on the Oakland University campus at Rochester. The three-day meet is open to all twins, identical or mixed sets of twins, regardless of age.

Rosette ribbons will be awarded to the oldest and youngest twins; farthest distance traveled; most identical and least identical twins; most identical and least identical mixed sets in different age groups. A plaque will be awarded as a grand prize to a winner in the most alike and least alike categories.

Martha and Rita Mogilnicki of 1139 Crescent Street NE, Grand Rapids, are co-secretaries of the association.

Peanut butter lovers now have a national shrine. A manufacturer of the popular spread has established "The American Museum of Peanut Butter History" in Chicago.

Commencement speaker was Dr. Noah Langdale Jr., president of Georgia State College at Atlanta. Title of his address was "To Live or Die."

It is no accident that men, the world over, have built clocks into the steeples of their churches:
Reduce life to its simplest components and what have you? TIME and GOD.
Time marks the beginning of life. It measures the growth of our bodies. It provides opportunity for our work and play. It reveals to us our human limitations. And then, one day, Time leaves us behind. . .
But God is the origin of life. He measures the growth of our souls. He provides our strength and forgives our weakness. He reveals to us His limitless Love. And, never deigning to leave us behind, God beckons us on — even beyond the circle of time.
A parable then: the clock in the steeple!
Man finds material security and temporal happiness as he learns to respect Time.
Man finds spiritual security and eternal happiness as he learns to love God!

Trading Wives

Recently I read of a wife trading club in the suburbs of one of our California cities. The men trade wives for weekends and out of the city engagements. How common such practices are would be hard to determine. I suppose it would be less common then the accepted way of trading wives through the divorce courts. Since such practices are accepted in this sin crazed age, the violators are apt to think they have gotten away with it. But there is a commandment which says, "Thou shalt not commit adultery." Men and women may practice such immoralities without being arrested by our government. However let it be known to all such, they shall never escape the righteous judgment of God. Adultery and pre-marital sex relations are sin. God makes it plain in Hebrews 13:4 — "but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge." Since it is God that will play the last hand men ought to beware of the consequences. They may die in peace by the aid of a sedative but they will spend eternity in hell where even a drop of water would be a pleasure. A wicked and adulterous generation will scoff at such warnings but men of wisdom will repent and turn to the Saviour. To which class do you belong?

Consumers Power Company's

Nuclear Power Plant Exhibit

In tune with the Space Age is this amazing display of Consumers Power Company's Big Rock Point nuclear power plant near Charlevoix — the plant which uses the atom to make electric energy.

The exhibit in Clinton National's Centennial Room shows a cross-section view of how the plant operates. Speaker phones, describing the project, are part of the display.

The Big Rock Point plant was Michigan's first atomic power plant to go into operation and has provided millions of kilowatt-hours of power to electric customers in 61 of the 68 counties in Michigan's lower peninsula where Consumers has electric service.

By Mrs Ray Ketchum

(Omitted last week)

Mrs Eda White spent the weekend in Lansing with her son, Eln White and family.

Elwin Ketchum and Donald Strouse are patients in Clinton Memorial Hospital.

Mrs Ray Ketchum attended graduation exercises in Lansing Wednesday evening for her granddaughter, Patty Lane, who graduated from Lansing Business University.

Mr and Mrs Norman Perkins of Chelsea were recent callers of his cousins, Mr and Mrs Jesse Perkins.

Mr and Mrs Gerald Barrett and Mr and Mrs Joe Rowley spent Sunday in Jackson with Mr and Mrs Asa Brown.

Herbert Stickler is reported on the sick list.

Mr and Mrs Gerald Barrett entertained the Rosekrans family Tuesday.

Total operating revenues of all motor carriers regulated by the Interstate Commerce Commission in 1963 came to more than $8.5 billion, according to a preliminary estimate by American Trucking Assn. The figure is expected to reach $8.8 billion for 1964, it adds.

June, the month of barbecues, roses and SNOWBALLS?

Scott and Mark Rehmann, Doug Boncha and Eric Rehmann, left to right, had a corner on the snowball market last Thursday when they appeared in St. Johns with a wagonful of snowballs, reminiscent of the Michigan winter so far in the past, which had been preserved in the deepfreeze of the Rehmanns' lucky mom. Parents of the lads are Mr and Mrs Norbert Rehmann and Mr and Mrs Dan Boncha.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

REP. LESTER J. ALLEN of Ithaca, 88th District

This session is nearing its close. Capitol observers are searching, with some difficulty, for a label to put on the achievements of this Legislature. It is difficult, for Michigan has never before experienced a legislative body quite like this one.

The favorite label given to past legislative sessions by editorialists is "Do-Nothing." This is certainly not descriptive of the experience here the last few months. More accurately, it is "Hurry up and do something, no matter what or how." Each major bill was handled with this attitude - the senior citizens tax relief, workmen's compensation, important tax measures and appropriations.

ALL OF a sudden, majority party leaders decide to DO something—anything. A bill is hastily (and too often inadequately) drafted. The speaker of the House (who now has strong powers vested in his office which have formerly been held by the House membership) sends one of his several paid "staff" members to a designated committee chairman.

The chairman is instructed to have the bill substituted for one introduced by House members and to report it to the floor immediately. The chairman obediently calls his committee together and gives them "the word." Without study, debate, or public hearing—even without opportunity for members to read the bill, it is reported to the floor of the House for passage.

THE MAJORITY leaders, at this point, spread the word to party members that amendments to the substitute will not be permitted. Republican members are out-voted in their attempts to improve the bill and regardless of the many glaring errors which are pointed out and the fact that no one can even estimate how much the new substitute will cost Michigan taxpayers, the proposal is railroaded through the House and passed to the Senate. All this without opportunity for discussion on the floor.

There is no pretence of any regard for the electors of many districts in Michigan. Their representative is openly refused his right to present or voice his people's wishes, needs or problems and the adverse effects placed on them by unfair special interest legislation - much of which is good in name only, a shoddy fulfillment of the majority party's campaign promises.

BY THIS process, public interest is forgotten, special interests are tricked and, in the long run, every citizen of Michigan suffers.

The greatest accomplishment of the Legislative session preceding this one was the restoration of Michigan's good name by adoption of a sound fiscal management policy and above-board procedures. The longer the majority party continues on its present course, the more rapidly this fine achievement slips away. Out-of-state newspapers are already predicting Michigan's fact-approaching fiscal crisis which they expect will again result in the near-bankruptcy of 1959.

COMMITTEES are again operating around the clock. Mornings, afternoons and evenings are spent in hearings and meetings to get bills reported out of committee ahead of the deadline. Bills reported out this week: S. B. 228 widening from 20 to 50 miles the exempt area in which emergency public service vehicles may operate; and S. B. 187 making the trout Michigan's official fish.
