Chamber electing 3 new directors

Leon Brewbaker, Stan Cowan, Robert Gay, Tim Green, Jerry Knupp and Virgil Zeeb have been nominated as candidates to fill vacancies which will occur soon on the board of directors of the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce.

By-laws of the organization call for election of three new members to the board each year to replace three whose terms expire. Terms running out this year are those of Chamber President Bernard Feldpausch, Dr. Robert L. Wohlers and Lester Lake.

BALLOTS HAVE been mailed to all members in good standing requesting that they vote for three candidates of their choice and return the ballots to the Chamber office by July 5, at which time a canvassing committee will total the votes.

The announcement of the new directors, along with the current year's officers, will be made at the Chamber's annual dinner next Thursday evening, July 8.

REMAINING ON the board of directors will be Bill Barber, Alan Dean and Don Gilson, whose terms expire in 1966, and Max Fields, Jim McKenzie and John Rumbough, whose terms will run out in 1967.

A slide presentation by representatives of the Michigan Conservation Department relative to the new Sleepy Hollow State Park will be one of the highlights of the annual dinner meeting, which will start at 7:30 July 8 at the Clinton County Country Club.

THE TALK by the conservation men will deal with the plans for the park and what it will mean to St. Johns and all of Clinton County. Also on the program will be entertainment by the First Nighters.

All Chamber of Commerce members will receive invitations along with tickets within a few days, Betty Jane Minsky, Chamber manager, said. Tickets are priced at $2.50 per person for the buffet dinner and program. A cocktail hour at 6:30 will be a Dutch treat arrangement.

IN URGING all Chamber members to attend, President Bernard Feldpausch said, "This is the one time during the year when you have an opportunity to tell your directors what you want done and to let them know how they are doing. We'll have a report on last year's activities plus a short discussion on building a better Chamber image in the months ahead.

"The program has been designed to be informative and entertaining. We'll have Larry Cook and James Hone of the Conservation Department telling us, by means of a slide presentation, what we can expect in the Sleepy Hollow park development and also what it will mean to us, the businessmen of the community. This is something all of us have been wondering about."

Trooper hurt in crash

State police and the Clinton County prosecutor's office were still investigating Tuesday a two-car crash early Sunday morning in which two state troopers were injured, one critically.

Trooper Lyle Swanson, 31, of 132 Kipling Boulevard, Lansing, suffered head and internal injuries, a concussion and multiple cuts and bruises in the crash, which occurred in front of a tavern on US-27 near State Road.

SWANSON WAS thrown out of the car he was riding in after it was pushed into a tree, and then he was struck and dragged about 25 feet by the other car.

Swanson was still under intensive care Tuesday noon at Sparrow Hospital in Lansing, but he was reported in "improved condition." He was removed from the critical list Monday afternoon after almost two days in critical condition.

TROOPER PAUL Thibodeau, 35, of Haslett was the driver of the state police car. He suffered cuts and bruises. His car was hit by an auto driven by Leonard J. Tallman, 35, of 90 Ralph Street, which pulled out of a tavern parking lot, state police said.

The police car then hit two trees and both troopers were thrown out.

Tallman was not hurt in the crash.

FOR SWANSON, who is well known in the Clinton County area, it was his second serious injury. In September 1963 he was critically injured in an auto accident near Cadillac while he was on vacation.

Firemen Squeak Hyler, Al Northouse, Gerald Bunge and Garey Biddinger put together a fireworks set display Monday night in preparation for the big Fourth of July show. This particular display is of a dog.

Plan Bloodmobile July 20

The semi-annual Bloodmobile visit to St. Johns is scheduled for July 20 at the First Methodist Church of St. Johns. Clinton County Red Cross officials are seeking 225 pints of blood this time.

Particularly needed are donors who have negative types of blood. Mrs. Kenneth Spicer, chairman of the city blood drive, said that if 20 per cent of the donors have negative types, this would meet the critical requirements at this time.

THE GOAL of 225 pints of blood is 25 more than the goal last December and 10 more than the actual donation then. The 215 pints given Dec. 29 was an all-time record for St. Johns Bloodmobile visits.

Mrs. Spicer said the higher goal for this summer is a result of the "fine turnout" last winter and the fact that there is normally a greater need for blood during the summer when more people are on the move and there are more auto and other accidents calling for blood transfusions.

"GIVE A PINT of blood before going on vacation, because the vacation period is when it is most needed," Mrs. Spicer said.

The higher quota also reflects the expansion of industrial growth in St. Johns and the expansion of its population. "With more people here, there is a need for more blood," the city drive chairman said.

Due to past contributions of blood by city and county residents, Clinton County continues to be a part of the Bloodbank program, whereby county residents can obtain blood free whenever it is needed, regardless of where they are in the United States. Only a fee for the administering of blood transfusions need ever be charged to county residents as long as the Bloodbank program continues to receive support via blood donations.

THE BLOODMOBILE here July 20 will be open from noon until 6 p.m. Persons who have never donated blood before are asked to make their first donations this time, because many of these first-timers likely will have the negative types of blood that are so badly needed.

Some 500 persons who have previously donated blood will be contacted by telephone July 14 by Red Cross volunteers here and will be asked to pledge a pint of blood on July 20.

Fireworks set for 4th display

Two major Independence Day Celebrations in Clinton County are expected to draw many thousands of area residents to St. Johns and Westphalia this weekend.

The biggest of the two celebrations will be in St. Johns, where the fire department and two service clubs are sponsoring a three-day program of events.

Capping the show Sunday evening, July 4, will be a giant fireworks display over the showgrounds at the city park.

City firemen are building their own set displays, as they have in past shows, but this year the emphasis will be more on aerial displays and bombs.

THE FIREWORKS this year will also be wrapped up into one big display on one night. Previous celebrations have included fireworks on every night of the show, but with each display being much smaller than this year's one big one.

The World of Pleasure Shows will provide a carnival Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the City Park, and local talent will participate each night in a talent show at the bandshell in the park.

RALPH LYNAM, who is in charge of the talent show, said entries are coming in slowly and that there is still room on the show for anyone who has an act to present. Everyone who wants to will be able to perform all three nights of the show.

Lynam said one change has been made during the past week in the judging schedule. There will be no judging of the acts presented Friday night, giving the contestants an opportunity to work the kinks out of their acts before the judges begin their scrutiny Saturday and Sunday evenings.

PRIZES WILL be awarded Sunday evening for the best acts presented both nights. Up to 10 prizes will be given, depending on the total number of acts on the program. Persons wishing to enter the talent show are invited to clip the entry blank, write their name and address and their specialty and mail it to the St. Johns Fire Department, Box 183, St. Johns.

The carnival company has already arrived in St. Johns and will be setting up soon at the city park for their part in the three-day Independence Day show. Carnival attractions will include a ferris wheel, three children's rides, two or three other major rides and about 10 concession stands.

RAY KENTFIELD Jr., chairman of the celebration arrangements for the Fire Department, said the World of Pleasure Shows is the same outfit firemen signed for other department-sponsored events.

This year's celebration will be the first Fourth of July event in St. Johns since 1960. Firemen have dropped it during those years because of the unavailability of carnivals and the mountainous responsibility of putting on such a show.

THIS YEAR, however, the St. Johns Lions Club and the St. Johns Rotary are co-sponsoring the events. The Lions are putting on the talent show and will also operate a giant eat stand.

The fire department will give away two bicycles on the afternoon of the Fourth. Children of the community are eligible to try for the prizes by asking any fireman for a ticket on any of the three days of the affair. Tickets are free for the asking, Kentfield said, and children should write their names on them and deposit them in a container for drawing Sunday. One girl's bicycle and one boy's bicycle will be given, and a boy must win the boy's bike and a girl must win the girl's bike.

FIREMEN WILL also give away a steer Sunday afternoon.

Proceeds from the various events at the park this weekend will go toward community projects of the Lions and Rotary clubs, and the fire department will use theirs to buy additional safety equipment.

Hospital gets 25-year association certificate

Clinton Memorial Hospital in St. Johns was presented with a 25-year membership recognition certificate by the Michigan Hospital Assn. at its 46th annual convention last Thursday at Traverse City. Harold B. Reed is administrator of the hospital.

New microwave tower here to serve military needs, too

St. Johns' new 305-foot microwave tower at the west edge of town will be part of a more-than-$2 million mid-state project by General Telephone Co. that will fill both civilian and military needs.

The tower here suddenly shot 125 feet into the air last Wednesday as contractors quickly put together 25-foot sections. Work was stopped temporarily when it was discovered the sixth section was damaged in transit to St. Johns.

COMPLETION of the erection of the tower here is now expected within a day or two of the arrival of the replacement section of the tower. Completion of a six-tower mid-Michigan network is planned by the end of the year. Microwave equipment will be installed and tested here as soon as the tower is up and the equipment gets here. Five other towers similar to

St. Johns are included in the microwave network. They are being located at Alma, Mt. Pleasant, Harrison, Houghton Lake and Roscommon. A high-speed switching center at Roscommon now under construction, will provide high-speed automatic switching of military communications circuits as part of a new world-wide communications system of the Defense Communications Agency.

T. A. SAUNDERS, president of the General Telephone Co. of Michigan, said communications to and from distant locations will be channeled to the Roscommon switching center and relayed in turn to other points on the DCA's world-wide Automatic Voice Network (AUTOVON).

The switching center and microwave network, which will be equipped to carry both national defense and regular customer messages, are now under construction and will be completed by late 1965, Saunders said.

IN A MICROWAVE system, radio signals are focused like a beam of light and are transmitted from point to point over line-of-sight distances. Hundreds of telephone conversations can be transmitted simultaneously by super-high frequency radio signals and can be received and transmitted from one microwave relay tower to another.

The St. Johns tower will relay messages south to Parma (west of Jackson) and north to Alma. Parma is the southern terminal of this new system and Roscommon the northern terminal.

THE MID-STATE network will include the tower relay points at, and additional long distance circuits for Houghton Lake, Harrison, Mt. Pleasant, Alma and St. Johns. The exchanges of Grayling, Houghton Point, Roscom-mon, Higgins Lake and Prudenville will also receive additional toll message circuits.

The intricate relaying equipment for the microwave tower here is located in a small, air-conditioned building at the base of the tower. Each piece of electrical equipment and all other metal fixtures in the building are grounded, St. Johns District manager William Graef pointed out, since the tower will, in effect, be a giant "lightning rod."

A FUEL OIL-driven engine will manufacture electrical power for the microwave equipment in the event normal electrical power to the site goes out. The switchover is automatic, Graef explained. All the electrical power equipment is in one end of the two-section building.

The other end of the building houses the receiving and sending MICROWAVE page 2-A

Asphalt Replaces Gravel on Two Blocks of West Sturgis Street

Spartan Asphalt Co. workmen spread a layer of hot asphalt along West Sturgis Street as children from homes along the two-block stretch of formerly graveled street look on. The Sturgis improvement was one of the first to be made by the City of St. Johns this summer. In all, 26 blocks of streets will be paved for the first time this year.

Microwave

ing equipment. Exterior equipment for the sending and receiving will consist of two vertically-pointed antennae at ground level and two oblong reflectors near the top.

THE GROUND antennae will be covered with an inverted "dish" of plastic and fiberglass to protect the antennae from the weather. They'll appear like "blisters" at the tower base. Signals will be transmitted through the covering to the reflectors at the top, where they will bounce away on their journey to the next tower.

Because of the extremely narrow band of signals that are transmitted, the antennae and reflector must be so solidly placed that they cannot vary in direction more than one-half of one degree, regardless of weather conditions, Graef said.

A VARIANCE OF any more than that would cause the signal to miss the next tower station and be lost. To help hold the tower this tightly in position, six guy wires to two huge anchor blocks stretch out from each of the three corners of the tower.

The tower is triangular-shaped, with each leg about five feet from the others. There is no taper to the tower; it will be as wide at the top as it is at the bottom, and the 18 guy wires will hold the tower rigid and solid.

THE NEW 160-mile microwave radio system from Roscommon to Parma will provide one of several AUTOVON links in Michigan, GenTel President Saunders said, with routes bypassing large metropolitan and industrial centers.

The new network will provide an alternate long-distance route out of Alpena, via an existing microwave link through Lewiston to Gaylord, and will provide geographically separated routes for trunks to additional AUTOVON switching centers in Michigan and other states, Saunders said.

ORIGINALLY SCHEDULED for completion in 1967 to meet the increasing volume of long distance telephone calls, the project was accelerated to meet Air Defense Command priority requirements. Roscommon is one of 10 North American sites scheduled for switching center construction on a priority basis. Plans call for 82 switching centers to be located in the US and Canada, and 22 centers in overseas areas.

The $2 million expenditure will increase General Telephone's 1965 construction budget to over $18 million, one of the largest budgets in the company's history.

GENERAL Telephone serves 463 Michigan communities in 55 of the state's 83 counties.

St. Johns stores closed July 5

Because Monday, July 5, will be observed as a holiday due to the Fourth of July falling on a Sunday, St. Johns retail merchants will be closed July 5 for additional observance of Independence Day.

In connection with the closing, the advertising deadline for the July 8 issue of the Clinton County News will be Friday, July 2.

2 Lansing men bruised in crash

Two Lansing residents were treated at Clinton Memorial Hospital Sunday evening for injuries incurred in a two-car accident on US-27 in Greenbush Township.

John E. Johnson, 43, of 807 E. Paulson, Lansing, the driver, reportedly suffered bruises, while Marvin Leiby, 33, a passenger, suffered cuts and bruises. They were taken to the hospital by ambulance but were released after treatment.

JOHNSON'S CAR hit the left rear of another car driven by David J. Hiller, 22, of R-3, St. Johns, as Johnson pulled out to pass Hiller's auto. Neither Hiller nor a passenger were hurt.

Both cars were traveling south on US-27 when the collision occurred a quarter-mile south of Kinley Road about 7:40 p.m.

Baker-Cass crash causes no injuries

Two cars collided at the corner of Baker and Cass streets in St. Johns Saturday morning, but no one was hurt. The autos were driven by Michael R. Davidhizar, 16, of Wildcat Road, R-5, St. Johns, and Keith Kimball, 37, of 209 W. Railroad Street.

City Police Officer Edward Teachout said Kimball was going south on Baker street and was hit in the left front by Davidhizar, going west on Cass. One passenger with Davidhizar and three with Kimball were unhurt, as were the drivers. The crash occurred about 10:35 a.m. Saturday.

2 cars collide at US-27, M-21

Bernard Newhouse, 18, of R-2, St. Johns, and Roberta L. Munro, 20, of 5513 S. Waverly, Lansing, were drivers of two cars involved in a collision Sunday evening at the intersection of US-27 and M-21 in St. Johns.

Neither driver nor two passengers in the Munro car were hurt. The accident occurred as Newhouse, northbound on US-27, started to make a left turn onto M-21. He pulled into the path of the other car going south on US-27.

Newhouse said another vehicle blocked his vision of the oncoming car. He was ticketed by City Police Officer Lyle French for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Westphalia festival Sunday

WESTPHALIA — Folks in the Westphalia area are preparing for the annual St. Mary's Parish Fourth of July Picnic which will begin Sunday at noon.

The Rip Cords will provide sky diving thrills between 1 and 7 p.m. A band concert by the Westphalia German Band will start at 7 p.m. and German folk songs will be sung by the Westphalia men's Glee Club. Dancing will be held from 9 p.m. until midnight.

Refreshments, games, pony rides, prizes and lunches are planned throughout the day. In the event of rain, all activities will be carried on July 5.

7 district Scout troops to attend 'Northwoods'

Seven Clinton County and District 5 Boy Scout troops are scheduled to attend the Northwoods Boy Scout Camp near West Branch this summer.

Troop 79 of Fowler is at the camp this week. From July 11 to July 17, Troops 60 of Wacousta and 67 of Bath will be there. Troops 71 and 81 of St. Johns will be in camp July 18-24. Troop 58 of Portland will be there Aug. 1-7, and Troop 77 of DeWitt will attend Aug. 15-21.

AMONG BOY Scout activities scheduled this month are the District 5 committee and commissioners' meeting at the St. Johns City Park at 7 p.m. next Wednesday; Cub Scout and Boy Scout leaders roundtable picnic at DeWitt Park in DeWitt at 7 p.m. July 13; and a district committee meeting at the Clinton National Bank community room at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 4.

Recreation pet show Friday

Friday's special event in the summer recreation playground program will be a pet show in the pavilion at the city park. The show will start at 9 a.m.

Awards will be given for different categories, such as the biggest, smallest, oldest, best-mannered, funniest, most unusual, etc. Stuffed animals may be entered, and awards will also be given for this category.

Reaching for the clouds now, this lower section of the new General Telephone Co. microwave tower at the west edge of St. Johns is only about 40 percent of its completed height at the stage shown here. The tower at this point is 125 feet; when finished it will be 305 feet. Antennae for the tower are in the crated containers at left. This view looks east toward Morton Street.

Boys', Girls' Staters elected to many offices

St. Johns representatives to Girls' State and Boys' State last week came home with more than their share of important "offices" in the mythical 51st states.

Linda Blied, daughter of Mr and Mrs Lester Blied of 810 W. Park Street, was elected mayor of Schultema City at Girls' State, held June 15-22 at the University of Michigan.

CATHY MATTHEWS, daughter of Mr and Mrs James Matthews of 701 S. Mead Street, was a state representative, city attorney for Clarahan City, a member of her county board of supervisors and was named the outstanding citizen of her city.

Miss Blied was sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary,

Chamber tourism unit to meet

The St. Johns Chamber of Commerce reminds members that a meeting has been called for all Chamber members interested in working on tourism. The meeting was to be held Wednesday evening at the Hibbs Shoe Store.

Tourist Committee Chairman Ray Mitchell said a film has been secured for showing depicting tourism in Michigan, after which the program and projects for the coming year will be formulated.

while Miss Matthews was sponsored by the St. Johns Woman's Club.

OVER AT EAST Lansing, four St. Johns boys were elected to offices at Boys' State, held on the Michigan State University campus from June 16-25.

Cayle Beagle, son of Mr and Mrs Eugene Beagle of 502 W. McConnell, was elected to the state board of education and was a delegate of the Federalist party to the state convention. He was sponsored at Boys' State by the St. Johns Exchange Club.

TED RAHL, son of Mrs Mildred Rahl of 405 E. McConnell, was elected to the state house of representatives, from which he later resigned to become executive secretary to the Boys' State governor, Eric Hansen of Saginaw. He was also a delegate to the state convention. Rahl was sponsored by the St. Johns American Legion.

Jim Leonard, son of Mr and Mrs William Kinney of 510 N. Ottawa Street, received the appointment of city light commissioner. He also ran for supreme court justice but was unsuccessful in getting the nomination. Leonard was sponsored by the St. Johns Lions Club.

Bob Barber, son of Mr and Mrs William Barber of 102 E. Cass Street, was elected to the state house of representatives.

He was sponsored by the St. Johns Rotary Club.

All the students chosen for Boys' State and Girls' State will be seniors at St. Johns High School next fall.

Last mail pickup outside post office now 6:30

A change in postal star route schedules effective today (Thursday) will necessitate an earlier final pickup of mail from the outside collection box and lobby letter slot at the St. Johns Post Office.

But Postmaster J. D. Robinson emphasized that business district collection of mail during the day will be continued as before at 2, 4 and 5 p.m., with all star box mail collected at 5 p.m. Postal patrons are urged to always mail early.

THE NEW final collection time at the post office and the box in front of the building is now 6:30 p.m. for dispatch the same day. Letters dropped in that box later than 6:30 will not go out until the following morning.

Because of the change in schedules, the post office lobby will close 30 minutes earlier than in the past. Doors will now be locked at 6:30 p.m. instead of 7.

Motorcycle, car crash on State

A motorcycle and car collided early Friday evening on West State Street in St. Johns, resulting in bruises but no serious injuries to the cyclist.

He was Thomas L. Ward, 23, of 410 1/2 W. State Street, who stopped for the stop sign at Morton and State streets and then pulled forward to make a left turn onto State. He pulled in front of a car driven by Helen Marie Tope, 43, of R-2, St. Johns.

Ward was ticketed by Officer Lyle French for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Parmelee back from Land Bank meeting

Floyd L. Parmelee, manager of the Federal Land Bank Assn. of St. Johns, returned June 26 from Minneapolis, Minn., where he had attended a conference of Federal Land Bank Assn. of Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and North Dakota.

"The demand for credit in agriculture continues strong," said Parmelee, commenting on the conference. The principal reasons seem to be farm business expansion and mechanization of operations, he explained. Parmelee noted that the 75 Federal Land Bank Assn. at the conference had loaned $61 million through May. This is 29 per cent more than for the same period a year ago.

ROBERT G. Darling, assistant manager, also attended the conference in Minneapolis.

The Federal Land Bank Assn. of St. Johns serves farmers in Gratiot, Clinton and Shiawassee counties.

Big Chesaning Showboat to open on July 12

The finishing touches are being put on the 24th Chesaning Showboat, a six-night production that will play July 12 through 17 in the spacious stadium in Showboat Park at Chesaning.

General Chairman Wendell Wilcox said he is very pleased with selection of the four professional acts for this year's production. The pro acts will be headlined by Will Jordan, who is famous in TV land for his impersonations of Ed Sullivan and who has appeared many times on the Red Skelton Show.

Other professional acts are "The Boginos," an imported act from Europe, consisting of two men and two girls executing skillful maneuvers "The Kit Kats," a comedy dancing and singing routine; and "Gaby, Foto and Mikki," a comedy musical male trio.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

REP. LESTER J. ALLEN of Ithaca, 88th District

Last year, 1964 legislative session, the final bill cleared the governor's desk by the second week in June. This year, the legislative session is grinding to a slow halt with very little of significance to show for its "labors." The most critical and important areas have been completely ignored.

The millions of dollars spent this year on push facilities and increased staff for the Democrats have not paid off in better government for Michigan citizens footing the bills. The most expensive Legislature in Michigan's history has been the least productive. Projecting the proper "image" has been the foremost function of the majority party throughout the session. Legislating has been shunted down the line as a lesser order of business.

TAX RELIEF for senior citizens was a main achievement and long overdue. It was only after the original draft was exposed as a cruel hoax, however, that Republicans were allowed to amend the bill to make it workable and applicable to all those needing this relief. After the amendments were adopted, it was approved by unanimous vote and signed by Governor Romney.

An improved workmen's compensation bill was approved but it was only after a threat of veto by the governor that the majority party consented to work out a sound proposal for both labor and business. This thinly-veiled plan to "buy" the working man's vote, had it passed as originally drafted, would have resulted in there being several thousand fewer working men in this state because it would have forced many businesses to close. There are still some areas of this legislation which will have that same effect when it comes into full force in two years, but, for the moment, the majority of businesses will continue to operate.

RECENTLY I HAD an interesting conversation with a naturalized citizen of this country. He is an acknowledged hero of the Dutch underground in World War II and fiercely patriotic to the United States. He said, "Almost everything in America is so much better than we had in Europe, but there is one thing. In the 'old country,' the political candidates fight intensely to win during the campaign, but when they are elected to office, they then settle down and do the job they were elected to do for the people by working together without petty partisanship. You have some fine men here, but they have a lot of growing up to do. I should like to tell them so."

Among many significant proposals which failed this session were some vitally urgent corrective measures relating to traffic safety. There was complete disinterest in the job-producing sectors of our economy—farming in particular, and other businesses in general.

WHETHER we can expect anything from the contemplated Fall session remains to be seen. There will have to be a complete reversal of the happenings and attitudes which have prevailed to date if anything constructive is to result.

Among the bills passed last week—S.B. 324 requires reporting to state licensing board sale or conveyance of "healing system" such as a medical practice; S.B. 249 increases monthly old age assistance payment to county from $90 to $140; S.B. 329 sets one-year residency requirement for old age assistance; S.B. 360 permits townships over 100 to participate in public housing and urban renewal projects; S.B. 65 authorizes establishment of library systems and provides state support and formula for distribution; S.B. 82 prohibits cancellation of auto insurance solely because insured reaches age 65; S.B. 106 permits marketing programs for agricultural commodities; allows formation of commodity committee, appointed by Governor.

S.B. 179 BROADENS regulations regarding labeling inspection and sale of commercial feed grain; S.B. 181 broadens regulations concerning inspection, labeling, analysis and sale of commercial fertilizers; S.B. 182 regulates labeling, advertising, sale and transportation of agricultural, vegetable, lawn, flower, herb, and forest tree seeds; S.B. 186 regulates importation of swine for slaughter and breeding purposes; S.B. 572 regulates production, transportation, handling and sale of Grade A milk products; S.B. 593 requires state licensing of milk manufacturers and outlines producers' payments; S.B. 107 permits boards of education to extend all "auxiliary services" offered by its elementary and secondary schools to all non-public schools in the district. Such services include health and nursing, school crossing guards, speech correction programs, etc.;

S.B. 204 provides for burial of indigent person by county social welfare department, with expenses paid from state general fund; S.B. 457 makes it a misdemeanor to post unauthorized "No hunting, fishing or trespassing" sign; S.B. 76 eliminates bounty on red fox and bobcats; S.B. 108 extends public health services to public and non-public elementary and secondary school children on equal basis. Firemen Work to Quell Stubborn Tractor Blaze

St. Johns firemen went in anyway to battle a fire Friday on a tractor despite the fact it was sitting beneath a gasoline storage tank. Using foam and finally plain water from three different directions, they got the stubborn fire out. It caused an estimated $200 damage to the tractor owned by Thomas Faivor of 2995 E. Price Road. After this picture was taken, the tractor was pulled from beneath the gasoline tank, and high pressure hoses from three directions blew the gasoline-fed flames out. The fire started when a spark apparently ignited spilled gasoline just after Faivor had filled the tractor gas tank.

for religious reasons provided; S.B. 241 permits conservation department to utilize federal aid in developing outdoor recreational resources; S.B. 286 permits supervisors' intercounty committee to apply for and receive federal aid funds; S.B. 516 requires licensing of prefabricated home manufacturers, salesmen and certain improvement contractors;

S.B. 472 PERMITS board of school districts to use general fund or state revenue to aid districts in paying tuition and transportation costs to another district for resident pupils even though the pupils grades are maintained within the district. S.B. 530 prohibits the conservation department from establishing any policy that would prevent extension of state highway M-107 through the Porcupine Mountains State Park; S.B. 677 permits county officials by resolution to issue bonds for self-liquidating public improvement projects.

Mystery next Ledges treat

What happens when a dominated wife and her lover plot the murder of her husband is told in the next Ledges Playhouse production, William Fairchild's "The Sound of Murder," which opens Tuesday for a five-day run at Grand Ledge.

The play, a widely-praised new English murder-mystery in the Agatha Christie tradition, is only now available for American production.

THE STORY, which has as its setting a manor in an English countryside, shows the planned murder of Charles, a successful author of kiddies' bedtime stories who refuses to allow his wife a divorce because it will damage his public image. In private life, he is a cruel, domineering, selfish man who objects to having any children in his home and refers to them as grimey little monsters. Lael Woodbury will be seen as the author.

Murrell Gehman will play the wife; Lane Bateman is her lover who feels that the only solution to their problem is murder.

AS IN EVERY perfect crime, however, all does not go well. The intended victim's secretary, Patricia Pierce in the role of Miss Forbes, has a score of her own to settle and threatens the plotters with her own brand of blackmail.

The balance of favor moves back and forth at such a rate as to guarantee suspense and excitement for everyone. Playwright William Fairchild has loaded his script with plot switches and false clues enough to stump even buffs of mystery drama.

THE PLAY continues through Saturday night, July 6.

Playing this week is the popular hit "Mary, Mary."

OK transfer of 22 properties

About 22 of 68 property descriptions which petitioned or were petitioned for transfer from St. Johns to the Ovid-Elsie school district were granted transfer Monday night at a joint meeting of the boards of education of Clinton, Gratiot, Saginaw and Shiawassee counties.

The transfer of the 68 parcels was sought by either the property owners or the Ovid-Elsie Board of Education. The decision by the joint county boards of education resulted in transfers that left the Greenbush-Duplain township line as pretty much the boundary line between the two districts.

ALL OF the property parcels seeking transfer in Gratiot County and in Sections 1, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 18 of Duplain Township were allowed to transfer to Ovid-Elsie. The other properties sought for transfer in Greenbush Township remain in the St. Johns school system, the four boards ruled.

Some property at the west edge of Duplain Township also remains in the St. Johns district, because its transfer had not been sought.

SOME 100 PERSONS, in addition to the members of the four boards, attended the hearing Monday night at the Clinton County Courthouse.

Many a man on the road to success fails because he gets off at the wrong station.

Flower show's success prompts plans for 1966

There was enthusiastic response to last weekend's flower show in the lobby of the Clinton National Bank and Trust Co. in St. Johns. The event attracted 40 participants submitting a total of 95 entries, and bank officials say plans are already under way for another show next summer.

Exhibitors included Mrs Kenneth Moore, Mrs Russell Welsh, Mrs Donald K. Smith, Mrs Dick DeGroot, Mrs Leon Budd, Mrs Arthur Workman, Mrs Raymond Geller, Mrs Helen Simmons, Mrs Oletha Wilkins, Mrs Clifford Hodge, Mrs Jack Walker, Mrs Robert Williams, Etha Elsler, Connie Crowell, Lloyd Ernst and Albert Gillison, in addition to others who received prizes.

SPECIAL prizes were awarded to Mrs Jack Irish for her "South Seas" rose; to Mrs Howard Woodruff for her "Pacific Giant" delphinium; and to Mrs Richard Amstutz for her formal arrangement featuring driftwood, tiger lilies, and "4 o'clocks".

For their informal arrangements, blue ribbons went to Debbie Meyer and Ernest Baker,

Claim service agent speaker at Rotary meet

Charles T. Erskine of the Michigan Claim Service in Lansing was the principal speaker at Tuesday's noon meeting of the St. Johns Rotary Club. Erskine is the coordinator for 22 branches in Michigan and one each in Indiana and Ohio.

Erskine, in his talk to the Rotarians, presented suggestions about what to do before an insurance loss occurs. He emphasized the need for a good insurance agent, and remarked that any insurance company licensed in the state of Michigan is a good company.

HE POINTED out that with the myriad of insurance coverages available today, people should not depend on a neighbor or friend for insurance advice but should seek it from an insurance agent.

Erskine was introduced by Al Allaby, program chairman.

President-elect Dale Robinson will be formally inducted into office at next Tuesday's meeting, taking the gavel from outgoing President Frederick M. Lewis.

with Mrs Donald Powers, Mrs Lawrence Rasey, Mrs Joseph Spouta, and Mrs Louis Wata-maker winning red ones.

Bible School reaches peak of attendance

Vacation Bible School at the St. Johns Church of the Nazarene reached an all time peak with 128 boys and girls enrolled.

There were five classes to accommodate children from ages 3 through 14. Members of the church served as teachers, each with an assistant.

The theme, "We All Are Witnesses," was used throughout the curriculum and graded to meet the spiritual needs of each boy and girl.

REV AND Mrs Eldon Raymond, the pastor and his wife, had charge of the music. Dale DeMott, a graduating high school senior, taught the recreational classes. Shirley Damon was secretary of the school. Mrs Alberta Diller acted as director with Mrs Ruth Bailey as co-director.

The school was in session June 14 through June 25. Sunday evening, June 27, the children demonstrated the memory work and Bible stories they had studied. Craft materials were on display.

MR AND MRS JAMES L. WERT

Miss Peska, Mr Wert repeat vows in Alma

Miss Cynthia Ann Peska of Alma became the bride of James Lynn Wert of St. Johns Saturday, June 19, at the Alma College Chapel, Alma. Dr Clyde H. Wilcox of Marshall performed the ceremony before the chancel which was decorated with palms, candelabras and bouquets of white gladioli and orchid carnations. The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Leston Peska of 3465 North State Road, Alma, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr and Mrs Alba F. Wert of St. Johns.

Michael Clark of Grand Rapids was officiant for the 7:30 p.m. service.

THE BRIDE wore a gown of pea de sole, fashioned with a sabrina neckline, long pointed sleeves and chapel train. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a crown of borealis crystal beads. She carried a white satin and lace Bible, two orchids and yellow rosebuds. The bride's jewelry was a silver shell pearl pendant, a gift of the bridegroom, and a gold bracelet belonging to her paternal grandmother that had been worn by her grandmother, mother and aunt when they were married.

Miss Helen Michalovic of Alma was maid of honor. Miss Judy Olson of Muskegon and Miss Sheryl Peska of St. Johns were bridesmaids. All wore identical sleeveless gowns of purple, orchid and lilac, respectively. Each matching veil headpiece was secured by a self-rose. They carried cascade bouquets of sterling silver roses, orchids, white carnations and greenery.

KAREN WERT, flower girl, wore a white floor length dress and a headpiece of orchids. She carried a white basket filled with orchid mums. Kevin Clark, ring bearer, carried a white satin pillow which held the rings.

All gowns and the pillow were designed and made by the bride's mother with Mrs Max Ward making the maid of honor's dress.

Roger Weseman of St. Johns acted as best man. Groomsmen were Richard Oltz of Saginaw and Richard Wert of Ypsilanti, brother of the bridegroom. John Wright and Arden Hundy of Alma served as ushers.

The soloist for the ceremony was Lynden Wright, accompanied on the organ by Duane Stacey.

THE BRIDE'S mother chose a two-piece lace dress of moss green and white and beige accessories for her daughter's wedding. The mother of the bridegroom wore a two-piece blue metallic dress with pink accessories. Each wore a single white orchid.

Special guests were Mr and Mrs S. Hunsperger of Burford, Ont., Mr and Mrs Ray Coleman, maternal grandparents, Mr and Mrs Howard Peska, paternal grandparents of the bride.

The reception was held at the IOOF Temple for 150 guests. The three tiered wedding cake was cut and served by Mrs Rhea Hunsperger and Mrs Ruth Gallagher. Others serving were Mrs Leora Barthusch, groom's cake; Mrs Judy Fitzpatrick, coffee; Mrs Norma Jolly, ice cream; and Miss Jeanne Clark, punch. The Misses Soni and Tammy Edwards attended the guest book and gifts, assisted by the Misses Susan and Mary Beth Bartusch.

MR AND MRS Wayne Clark of Grand Rapids acted as host and hostess for the evening. Out of town guests were from Lakeview, St. Johns, Lansing, Grosse Pointe, Ovid, Clare, Flint, Ypsilanti, Grant, Ithaca, Saginaw, Au Gres, Midland, Sumner, Owosso, Grand Rapids, Perrinton, Jackson, Millington, Muskegon, Fort Wayne, Ind., Hudson, Ohio, Burford, Ont., and New York.

As the couple left on their wedding trip to Northern Michigan,

Youth campers attend grange

DeWitt Grange met Friday evening, June 25. Twenty-five children and five adults who are attending Grange Youth Camp were visitors.

The following program was presented by the visitors, assisted by Mrs Alvin Thelen and Hazel Ely; the entire group of children sang two songs, "America the Beautiful" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic;" Vicki Thelen sang "When You and I Were Young Maggie;" Diana Flanders played the flute, accompanied on the piano by Linda Beebe; the song, "Red Roses for a Blue Lady," was sung by seven girls; Debbie Thelen acted out a pantomime; Dannie Flanders sang a song; Bill Flanders and Fred Allwardt sang "Are You Sleeping" in both English and French; several of the children presented a play "The First Fourth of July;" and the program was concluded by all singing "America."

During July and August only one meeting a month will be held. These will be on July 9 and Aug. 13.

MR AND MRS JOHN N. BRADLEY

Marriage vows said by St. Johns couple

A simple ceremony united in marriage Jean Martis Stephens and John N. Bradley Saturday evening, June 19, in the First Congregational Church. Parents of the newlyweds are Mr and Mrs Paul Martis of 3530 North Scott Road and Mr and Mrs Lyle Bradley of 107 South Lansing.

The bride wore a cocktail length white taffeta gown with a sweetheart neckline and semi-belted skirt. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses and white mums.

The matron of honor, Mrs Roy Hill, and bridesmaid, Mrs John Hoag, wore identical sheath-style dresses of pale yellow crepe and carried yellow and white daisies.

BEST MAN was John Hoag and ushers were Eugene Livingston, Lee Ross, Roy Hill and Dean Worral. John Anderson sang "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs Basil Diebert, organist.

The bride's mother wore a beige ensemble and the mother of the bridegroom, pale blue silk. Their corsages were of yellow sweetheart roses and white mums.

Wilcox Hall was the scene of a reception for 150 guests, immediately following the ceremony. Master and Mistress of ceremonies were Mr and Mrs Carl Ludwick. Miss Sue Fernholz registered the guests and Mrs Lawrence Campbell and Mrs Ralph Gove were in charge of the gifts. Servers included Mrs Roger Keys, Miss Janet Sipkovsky, Mrs Ernest Zargo and Miss Patricia Sipkovsky.

SPECIAL GUESTS were the bride's grandmother, Mrs Frank Sipkovsky, and the bridegroom's grandfather, Harry Bradley.

The new Mr and Mrs Bradley honeymooned in Northern Michigan and are making their home at 3842 Scott Road, St. Johns.

The bride is employed by the US Dept. of Agriculture in Lansing and her husband is an employee of Michigan State University in East Lansing.

Pastor, delegates to Nazarene meet

The pastor and members of the Church of the Nazarene of St. Johns will take part in the annual Michigan district assembly to be held at the Nazarene Assembly Park at Indian Lake near Vicksburg July 14-16.

Ondruseks host Parker Center Farm Bureau

Mr and Mrs William Ondrusek hosted the June meeting of the Parker Center Farm Bureau with Mr and Mrs Albert Schaefer as co-hosts.

Mrs Wilbur Brandt, women's representative, gave information on the cookbook which is being published by the State Farm Bureau women's organization. She also mentioned facts on Blue Cross rate increases and the Share-the-Loaf program.

WILLIAM KISSANE reviewed the progress of the dairy unfair practices bill and the meat inspection bill in the State Legislature.

Information on gasoline refineries, flour mill activities and tornadoes was given by Lee Ormiston, package reporter.

DURING THE discussion, "Local Governments and their Future." Byron Kissane said that in any state or local reapportionment, consideration must be given to the rights of the minority. The group favored a delay in reapportioning the county boards of supervisors on a purely population basis.

The group participated in a relay stunt race conducted by recreation leader, Mrs Lee Ormiston. Lunch and a social hour followed the meeting.

The group will next meet at the home of Mr and Mrs William Wilson on Wednesday, July 14.

Wedding tune big favorite in June

June was a big month for weddings in Clinton County. The county clerk's office in St. Johns reported that 41 marriage licenses had been issued as of Friday, with three days of the month remaining.

That's the highest number of licenses issued during any month since at least 1961 and maybe longer. Last year in June 34 licenses for marriage were issued.

Celebrate 60th Anniversary

Mr and Mrs Rudolf Masarik of 2420 Aversary Road, R-6, St. Johns, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary last Saturday and were honored Sunday by about 300 relatives and friends at an open house. Mr and Mrs Masarik were married in Czechoslovakia June 26, 1905. They came to the United States in 1910 and settled in Chicago. In 1914 they moved to Gratiot County. They have lived in their farm home four miles northeast of St. Johns since 1945. Mr and Mrs Masarik have 13 living children, 44 grandchildren and 66 great-grandchildren.

MISS KATHLEEN LOTRE

Planning an Aug. 14 wedding are Miss Kathleen Ann Lotre and Thomas W. Walter, son of Mr and Mrs William B. Walter of 206 Franklin Street, DeWitt. The announcement was made by the bride-elect's parents, Mr and Mrs Albert Lotre of 103 North Bridge Street, DeWitt. Miss Lotre and Mr Walter are both graduates of DeWitt High School.

Food varieties are important at 4-H Frolic

Water chestnuts or new potatoes, can you tell the difference? Water chestnuts were one of the foods that many 4-H members had trouble identifying at the 4-H Food Frolic Thursday, June 24.

One hundred and seventy-five boys and girls, leaders and mothers attended.

Vicki Payne of Eagle and Maureen Peck of Elsie identified almost all of the foods on the display. Nell Rossow graded the eggs correctly and gave good reasons why he placed them in that order.

OTHER members from around the county that did well in 3 or more areas of the contest are listed below.

Teenagers, Ages 13 to 18, include Char-Lou Plunkett, Jill Reeves, Cheryl Leikam, Carol Hodges, Sharon Devereaux, Linda Phinney, Linda Marek, Kathy Cornell, Brenda Fiegler, Carolyn Plaza, Maureen Peck, Judy Rivest, Debbie Hiatt, Nell Rossow, June Sehke, Candice Helbeck, Barbara Arthur, Cindy Davis, Anne Ketchum and Diana Hodges.

YOUNG MISSSES, Ages 10 to 12, include Mary Marek, Diane Sibley, Barbara Spusta, Joyce Brown, Lois Miller, Vickie Payne, Caroline Oberlin, Janet Reeves, Faith Borton, Karen Sommer, Kaye Montgomery, Phyllis Dershem, Nancy Root, Vickie Willets, Delores Collard, Linda VanVelsor, Barbara Harte, Jean Green, Carol Reese, Sharon Rossow, Karen Rossow, Pat Winner, Karen Arthur, Patricia Spusta, Janette Mygrants, Denise Dershem, Bethann Green, Linda Devereaux and Kathy Irrer.

Michigan was the birthplace of the US commercial celery industry at Kalamazoo more than a century ago. It stood third last year in national production with 792,000 hundredweight. For the 1964 crop growers received more than $3 million. About a quarter of the crop goes to processors.

Scouts find wilderness trip exciting, rewarding

ELSIE — A weekend camping trip in Lake County gave nine young Boy Scouts an opportunity to complete requirements for merit badges and awards.

The boys were Lonnie Buchele, Bill Zuchschwerdt, Dale Kelley, Charles Miller, Gregg Finch, Timmy Bouck, Jack Keys, Johnny Dunham and Ronnie Sills.

They left early Friday evening from the American Legion Hall, where weekly meetings of the local troop are held each Wednesday night.

ACCOMPANYING them were Scout Leader Keith Thornton and his brothers, Marilyn and Roland Thornton and Emerson Dunham.

Just before dusk, they arrived at the 200-acre woodland camp owned by Clarence Shimm of DuPlain and located 19 miles east of Baldwin. It was an ideal place for the boys with its pine trees, a creek and Big Bear Swamp, 20 miles long and five miles wide. Here they later found many deer, a spotted fawn, fox, porcupines, woodchuck, squirrels, partridge, waterfowl and the inevitable mosquito menace. But the campers were well-equipped with spray cans of repellents.

BY THE TIME the four large tents were set up and the remainder of the sack lunches consumed, it was time to crawl into their sleeping bags.

Early Saturday morning, each cooked his own breakfast over the campfire, cleaned his own mess kit and left the camp in order. They improvised a flag pole to fly their American and Scout flags.

The first hike was to Big Bear Swamp where several of the boys underwent tests to earn badges. "Whitey," the hunting dog belonging to Marilyn Thornton, unexpectedly met a porcupine which gave his owner an opportunity to show the boys the correct way of removing quills from a dog.

IN THE afternoon, they visited

Shrine of the Pines on M-37 south of Baldwin where they saw the unusual collection of furniture fashioned from white pine trees typical of the area. They learned that the articles were put together with only glue and wooden pegs. They were never varnished but were rubbed until the pitch became hot and formed a glossy finish, just as it was done in the old logging days. They also watched canoeists on nearby Pere Marquette River.

The next stop was a conservation trout rearing station just east of the village that provides trout to keep the streams well supplied. The boys observed the various growth stages from tiny eggs to full-grown trout.

THEY LUNCHEd in town and later went to the Paul Bunyan Museum, south on M-37, which features lore of Michigan's lumbering era with logging equipment, Indian relics and World War gun displays.

Returning to camp, the boys were separated into three hiking groups to see how many animals they could locate in the area.

AFTER COOKING supper, they went into the village again to visit the airport and also the Bowling Alleys where they played two games. Following the usual ice cream treat, they drove back to camp, "spotting" six deer on the way.

Sunday morning breakfast and the camp clean-up were completed earlier than planned because of rain. Souvenir hunting and lunch at Baldwin followed a swim at Wolf Lake, with the usual tired-but-happy group arriving home late Sunday.

THIS WAS THE first trip by the boys to this area, so they learned that this was named Lake County because of its 156 lakes, which now make it one of Michigan's greatest fishing regions. They also learned that a Trout-arama Festival is featured early in August each year for the county's 1,000 miles of trout fishing waters.

Leader Keith Thornton and other adult helpers wish to stress the importance of these camping weekends which are the only way some badges may be earned.

The generosity of Mr Shim in providing his woodland camp for this Boy Scout outing was greatly appreciated by the boys and their parents.

New Lions officers installed at Elsie

ELSIE — Jack Hawes presided Monday night as head of the local Lions Club for his final meeting, when new officers were installed.

It was also Ladies' Night, with a turkey supper catered by Jim and Marie Hurst in the American Legion Hall.

Lyle Beeson of Alma, the new zone chairman for 1966 Lions International, was a special guest. He installed the following officers: Blaine Lentz, president; Andrew W. Cobb, first vice president; Harry Harden, second vice president; Duane Green, third vice president; Norman Blakely, secretary-treasurer and Velmar Green and Myron Tethal, directors.

BEESON gave a talk on "Lionism and the Changing World." Attendance awards were presented to: Dr G. W. Bennett, Lewis Carter and Pat Foran for five years; Earl Seybert Jr., three years; and Robert Moore, Duane Green and Blaine Lentz, two years.

Jack Hawes, Earl Seybert Jr. and Dr G. W. Bennett received Key Awards for bringing into the club at least two members who remained on the membership roster for a specified time.

THE LADIES were presented gifts and the Lions were given new metal pins to use for trading material at the international

Elsie man graduates

ELSIE — Joseph M. Courter graduated this month from the Ferris School of Pharmacy, Big Rapids. He is the son of Mr and Mrs Max Courter and an Elsie High School graduate with the class of 1952.

Courter is now employed with Walgreen's in Chicago. His wife, the former Diane Kristin of Elsie, and two children, Jody and Kevin, will join him on July 1.

convention. These pins were completely redesigned by the first change made in several years.

The Lions will recess for the summer months, except for a picnic in August.

A special board meeting will be held soon to complete plans for the Lions booth that will be a part of the Sidewalk Sale Days and Elsie Carnival to be held July 15-16-17. They have constructed a pre-fab stand with tubular steel that can be easily set up or collapsed for convenient storage.

MONDAY, OCT. 4 has been scheduled for the 25th anniversary of the local club, with Earl Seybert Jr. as program chairman. Extensive plans are being made to include charter members, many officers of Lions International and others.

Diane Walter honored at bridal shower

ELSIE — Mrs Jan Doyen and Mrs Wayne Mead were co-hostesses Wednesday to a miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Diane Walter. The shower for the Ovid bride-elect was held at the country home of Mrs Wayne Mead, Elsie.

Games were played by the 17 guests, with prizes won by Mrs Woodrow Bashore, Miss Marty Fisher, Mrs Tony Bocek and Mrs Janette Jarrell.

DIANE THEN opened her many gifts which were arranged on a lace-covered table centered with a bride and streamers of yellow and white. She was assisted by Mrs Janette Jarrell and Mrs Woodrow Bashore.

Refreshments were served from a linen-covered table centered with an arrangement of yellow and white chrysanthemums and flanked by yellow candles.

MRS FLOYD Betzer, aunt of the groom-elect, poured, while another aunt, Mrs Russell Fisher, served the bell-shaped cake. Guests were present from Alma, Owosso, Ovid and Elsie.

Brush and Halter 4-H'ers make halters

ELSIE — The Brush and Halter 4-H Club met Wednesday at the home of Dean and Dan Acre. Leaders Duane Green and Rex Ballantine instructed the members in the making of rope halters and the new members each made one.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Duane and Byron Green July 7 at 8 p.m. Refreshments were served last Wednesday by Mrs Acre and Mrs Ballantine.

Jose Rios returned to his home Sunday following an emergency appendectomy at St. Lawrence Hospital in Lansing.

Mom of Peace Corps volunteer finds South America visit exciting

By NEVA KEYS

ELSIE — Mrs L. W. Meriam recently returned to her duties as owner of the Mar-Mer Beauty Shop, following an eight-day vacation in South America. The purpose of the flight was to see her son, Chris, and the country where he has been serving with the Peace Corps more than a year.

Mrs Meriam was accompanied by Miss Ruth Ann Rozsa of Calgary, Alberta, who was a college classmate of Chris when they attended Michigan State University.

THIS WAS THE first long flight for Mrs Meriam but an everyday occurrence for Ruth Ann, as she is now a stewardess with Pan American Airlines.

They met at International Hotel in New York and left the following morning for Bogota, Colombia, where they were met by Chris and friends who hosted them for a Chilean dinner in their home.

Before leaving the city, they saw many of its beautiful homes and shopped for typical South American gifts, such as ruannas made of alpaca, ski caps of Equador wool, hemp shoulder bags and native handicraft.

ANOTHER flight by DC 5 over Colombia's beautiful mountains and jungles brought them to Cucuta where Chris lived in the barrio (slum area) LaLiber t ad. They found everything clean and in fine shape at Chris' home and later lunched with some Peace Corps friends in Cucuta.

Among them was a Mrs Movae, who was a "mother away from home" to Chris. Her lovely home was built around a huge garden. The ladies were each given a handkerchief exquisitely made by her 87-year-old mother who was practically blind.

CHRIS PREPARED a typical supper of eggs, cheese, rice, strong Colombian coffee with Grandma's (Mrs Fred Wight) homemade cookies, a welcome treat as sweets are nil in that country.

The first night was not very restful as a dance was being held two doors away in the barrio. It lasted until 3:30 a.m. and the roosters crowed all through the night. Mrs Meriam said the peasants have a dance "at the drop of a hat" using any occasion that presents itself.

THE FOLLOWING day was spent with Roberto Diaz, owner of a coffee plantation high in the mountains. The roads were just trails, wide enough for a mule or Jeep. The one they rode in was made in Japan. The plantation was about 20 miles and required over two hours to make the trip, with mountains and jungles all the way, she said.

Lion, deer and small animals that resemble pigs, which are killed for food, abound in that region and the many birds made the trees sound as though they were "full of song."

ARRIVING AT the Diaz home where all living was out-of-doors except for sleeping, the ladies were much impressed by the beauty of the high mountain scenery and the fact that their host had five maids to look after him and the house. The home, she said, was like a Spanish hacienda with huge palm trees around the outside.

The dinner was true Colombian with goat meat, yuca for potatoes, a vegetable which tasted like squash, fried and boiled bananas, papaya juice but no butter, salt or sweets.

The dining room was on the balcony outside the master bedroom and looked down on all kinds of fruit trees, including lime, lemon, papaya, cherries, bananas and pineapple. There was also a large swimming pool and beyond these were the jungles and mountains as far as the Venezuelan peaks and Caracas.

BRAHMA CATTLE that go up and down the mountains like goats, and pigs, mules, chickens and turkeys are also raised there, Mrs Meriam observed.

Chris took along his guitar, so the evening was spent playing and singing.

A breakfast of steak, yuca, a milky juice from a fruit plant that tasted both sweet and like a lemon was followed by a trip to the Coffee Finka. On the way they met mules and Spanish peasants who worked for Diaz.

THEY LEARNED that coffee has to be grown at an elevation of 3,000 feet or more, as it will not ripen at a lower altitude. They were taken through the entire plant where coffee was processed. After drying, soaking, sorting and roasting there resulted seven varieties from the vest best to the cheapest.

That afternoon most of the party made a two-hour trip by mule up the mountain to view a very large area that burned off the previous night. Mrs Meriam felt that she had enough mountain riding for the time so she relaxed and enjoyed the beauties of the scenery around the home.

BEFORE returning to Cucuta, Diaz, who also owns a home there, gave them a large supply of Colombia coffee, meat, yuca and bananas.

The next day they took a cab up the mountains to Chinacota to visit a couple who are also Peace Corps volunteers. The ride was fantastic and scary, she said, as they drove rapidly along the narrow road where there were many chickens, pigs, goats, mules and cattle and also women and children with big baskets of food, and other items on their heads.

ANOTHER FRIEND of Chris invited them to dinner that evening. He was owner of 15,000 acres at Cucuta, a graduate of Texas State University with a doctor's degree, and raised cattle, sugar cane, tobacco and rice.

There were many other friends who came to meet Chris' mother at Chinacota. Among them was Haponte, a coconut ring maker, who presented Mrs Meriam with rings for both herself and husband with names carved.

THEY REMAINED there overnight and went through the markets where chickens, goats, beef and pork hung in the open, literally covered with flies. Later they toured the beautiful city park.

Mrs Meriam gave 11-year-old Hozai an American quarter and dime for helping care for the rabbits. He was so excited because that was equal to three days wages there.

The last afternoon was spent shopping in Cucuta where Mrs Meriam purchased so many things that she found it necessary to leave some of her clothes in order to bring them back to the states.

THAT EVENING they were guests of Diaz and Ignacio Uribe, who took them to one of the most beautiful Cucuta clubs to which the latter belongs and met several of their Colombian friends.

After cocktails under the stars, they went up to an elaborate balcony where dinner was served with wine, a special cake, creme de mint over ice and the usual strong but very good coffee.

ACCOMPANYING them back to the barrio, LaLiberstad, Diaz and Ignacio left but returned shortly with four serenaders to play and sing for Mrs Meriam and Ruth Ann. Chris explained that this was a great compliment as it shows true friendship.

The next morning when they arrived at the airport for their return home, Chris' friends were there to see them off. Chris accompanied them to Bogota where the women left by Braniff El Dorado Super Jet, a distance of 4,000 miles over Cuba and Jamaica to New York in a few hours.

Ruth Ann stayed with Mrs Meriam until her plane left for Detroit. She was met by Mr Meriam and their daughter and husband, Mr and Mrs Carl Charon of Lansing.

CHRIS, AN MSU graduate, will continue another year in Colombia with the urban development See PEACE CORPS page 13-A

2 in area win in Retail Assn. golf outing here

The Michigan Retail Hardware Assn.'s annual Central Michigan golf outing was held at the Clinton County Country Club at St. Johns last Thursday, with Barry Dean of Alan R. Dean Hardware here shooting a 79 to win the retailer low gross award.

Low net winners in the retailer competition for the first four places included Donovan Williams of Williams Hardware in Elsie.

Thirty-eight retailers, suppliers and guests participated in the tournament.

Michigan game seasons

DEER— The archery season is from early October to early November. The general firearm season begins in mid-November and continues through the month. When authorized by the Michigan Conservation Commission, antlerless deer may be taken by holders of special permits.

BEAR— There are special bear seasons in September and October, but the greatest number of bear are taken in November when the firearms deer license allows a hunter to take one deer and one bear.

ELK— THESE BIG animals were hunted for the first time in December, 1964, by a select group of 300 hunters. Another special season is planned in 1965.

MOOSE— No hunting season. WOLVES, COYOTES AND FOX — Fair game at any time of the year.

SQUIRRELS— Gray and black squirrels are legal game in Michigan. Fox squirrels may be hunted in the Lower Peninsula, but not in the Upper Peninsula.

RABBITS— CHECK the Michigan Game Law Digest for details on seasons for these and other animals. A copy may be obtained by writing the Michigan Tourist Council or Michigan Department of Conservation, Stevens T. Mason Building, Lansing, Mich. 48-926.

LICENSE FEES— Small game, resident, $3; nonresident, $20. Deer, resident firearm, $5; nonresident firearm, $35; resident bow and arrow, $5; nonresident bow and arrow, $15; camp permit, $10. Bear, resident, $5; nonresident, $25. Trapping, beaver and other, $2; other fur bearers, $3. See Game Law Digest for additional details.

WHERE TO GET YOUR LICENSE— There are more than 4,200 license agents in Michigan and nearby states. Licenses may also be purchased by writing the Conservation Department.

Recreation ball games start soon

The Pee Wee, Pony and Midget baseball leagues of the St. Johns Summer Recreation Program will begin scheduled play Tuesday morning, July 6.

Pee Wee's will play at 10 a.m. on Diamond No. 2, Midgets at 10:30 a.m. on Diamond No. 1, and the Pony League at 9 a.m. on Diamond No. 1.

Heat waves are often killers

A University of Michigan scientist says that "a killer of a heat wave" can be more than an expression; it often poses a real threat to human life.

According to Dr. Stanley H. Schuman, M.D., there is strong evidence that prolonged summer heat waves cause a striking number of deaths.

MEDICAL and engineering advances can prolong life and protect persons in homes, cars, and industries from unusual heat stress. Thus many people are surviving despite low physiological tolerance for high temperatures and humidity, he says.

While these people are clearly in jeopardy during severe heat waves, the actual extent of the problem is still unknown. Dr. Schuman explains: "Heat illness or heat stroke has never been a cause of death noted frequently on routine death certificates."

RECENT STUDIES show "remarkable rises in mortality in large urban populations from periods of sustained, but not necessarily record-breaking, heat," according to the U-M researcher.

Dr. Schuman, an assistant professor of epidemiology, and James T. Oliver, principal statistician of the Detroit Health Department and assistant professor at Wayne State University, collected data on the number of deaths which occurred in 108 United States cities on days with "unusually high temperatures" during the past three summers.

THEY COMPARED this information with mortality statistics for periods with normal mean temperatures and discovered, for example, that some 4,665 "excess deaths" occurred during June and July, 1963.

Dr. Schuman pointed out that these unpredicted deaths often resulted from cerebral strokes. "Over the past 10 years, strokes have consistently accounted for about 10 per cent of the deaths in Michigan, but in periods of heat stress during 1962 and 1963, the number of such deaths in the state rose to 15 per cent.

HE ALSO FOUND that "excess deaths" frequently occurred among those over age 60. "There is a fixed pool of susceptibles among the elderly who are unable to survive sudden stresses, such as influenza or unusual heat," Dr. Schuman says.

However, this is not exclusively a problem for the elderly, according to the U-M epidemiologist. "Preventable deaths will continue to occur . . . among youngsters engaging in competitive sports, among military recruits, and among summer workers."

Whetherless is the religion that eases a man's conscience without cramping his style.

On this Independence Day, as we recall the ringing words of the Declaration of Independence, let us appreciate anew the freedom that is ours. And let us pledge ourselves to eternal vigilance in the preservation of that freedom.

IN CONGRESS, JULY 4, 1776

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America.

When in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a solemn and sacred regard must be had to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions. We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such Principles and organizing its Powers in such Form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence in the choice of new Governments ought not to lose sight of the circumstances existing in the world. It is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such Principles and organizing its Powers in such Form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence in the choice of new Governments ought not to lose sight of the circumstances existing in the world.

He's All White, All Right

An albino woodchuck, a rare creature, conservationists say, turned up near the Ivan Harlow farm on West Colony Road near Forest Hill Road. Roy Harlow, 10, and Joe Redman, 11, holding the baby woodchuck, caught it in the gully which shows in the background. Looking on are Ross Harlow, 6, at left, and Ted Henry, 12. The white-furred, pink-eyed woodchuck was caught about three weeks ago, and the boys have been given permission to keep it. They said they may later give it away to a zoo.

Waggoner family reunion draws 61 to Eureka

EUREKA—The Waggoner annual reunion was held Sunday at the Randolph Pool with 61 of the family and three guests present. Mr and Mrs Claude Conklin Jr. of Elsie were the host and hostess of the day.

A potluck dinner was at 1:30, with the business meeting following. Mr and Mrs Robert Loomis of St. Charles will be the host and hostess next year with them at St. Charles.

GAMES FOR the younger children were led by Norman Conklin and his brothers, Tom and Stuart. After 2, the young folks were all ready for their all afternoons swimming in the pool, which was enjoyed by their parents, too. Basketball and visiting were also enjoyed by all. Ice cream was a welcomed treat to all during the rather hot day.

Those present were Mr and Mrs Dale Randolph and two children, Mr and Mrs Wendell Waggoner and two sons, Mr and Mrs Gordon Waggoner and two daughters, Miss Barbara Waggoner and Mr and Mrs J. D. Robinson; Mr and Mrs Howard Waggoner of Houghton Lake; Mr and Mrs Wallace Huggett and three children of Marlette, Mrs Bessie Waggoner of Clio; Mr and Mrs William Waggoner and four children of Flint; Mr and Mrs Robert Loomis and four children of St. Charles; Mr and Mrs Darrell Henerickson of East Lansing; Mr and Mrs Richard Moore and three children of rural Bannister; Mr and Mrs Rex Waggoner and two children, Mr and Mrs Claude Conklin and two sons, Mr and Mrs Norman Conklin and two sons all of Elsie; Mr and Mrs Richard Conklin and two daughters of Shepardsville.

Michigan's inland water route 45 miles of scenic relaxation

The beautiful Inland Water Route, a 45-mile network of clear lakes and quiet rivers set in the green carpeted forests of northern lower Michigan, is a leading port of call for the nation's growing navy of pleasure craft.

Scenic variety is the key to its charm, according to the Michigan Tourist Council, and the fantastic rise of boating promises to keep the historic waters churning with vacationers afloat.

REMOTE wilderness, rolling farm land and scenic hills border the lakes and rivers. There is unlimited opportunity for hunting, fishing, cruising, exploring, water skiing, swimming and skin diving.

Fresh air and low pollen count attract thousands of hay fever sufferers. Springtime is blossomtime in nearby apple and cherry orchards. Trees lining the route become blankets of color during the autumn season. Skiing, skating and ice fishing are popular winter activities.

THE AREA IS noted for game, including elk, deer, beaver, muskrat and mink, the Tourist Council reports. Fishermen enjoy year-round sport with trout, bass, panfish and in the winter sturgeon. Waterfowl are plentiful.

The Water Route winds through four lakes—Burt, Mullett, Crooked and Pickrel—and 18 miles of connecting rivers—Cheboygan, Indian, Crooked and Pickrel—on its course between Cheboygan and the village of Conway near Petoskey.

Mullett is the largest lake, measuring 12 miles long and six miles wide. Burt Lake is nearly as large and both lakes are stocked with trout and have clean, sandy beaches. The connecting rivers will accommodate boats up to 65 feet in length.

THE WATER ROUTE is rich in Indian lore and legend. The red man had great faith in the healing powers of the land's artesian waters and his small villages dotted the route. A side trip by car will take visitors to modern day Indian villages at Harbor Springs and Cross Village.

The Indian River Shrine, the world's largest crucifix, is a simple, yet awe inspiring point of interest for travelers of all faiths. It is located near the community of Indian River, midpoint on the Water Route.

ANNUALLY IN mid-July, some 200 powerboats compete for honors in the Top-O-Michigan Marathon, a grueling 87-mile race along the length of the Water Route.

Canoeing and sailing enthusiasts also find the Water Route appealing. The guide to Michigan Canoe Trails suggests a three-day canoe trip with overnight stops at state campgrounds.

The locks at Cheboygan provide access to Lake Huron and a scenic cruise along the east Michigan shore leads to the historic Straits of Mackinac and its panoramic view of past and present—Mackinac Island, Fort Michilimackinac and the Mackinac Bridge, one of the world's longest suspension bridges.

RIMMING THE Water Route are numerous marinas, boat launching sites, hotels, resorts and two state parks.

Burt Lake State Park, fronting on Burt Lake and the Sturgeon River, has 388 campsites and features swimming and fishing. The 409-acre park is about two miles south of Indian River, west of Interstate 75.

Aloha State Park, on the east shore of Mullett Lake, has 300 campsites and features swimming, fishing and boating. The park is about 10 miles south of Cheboygan, off M-212 near the community of Aloha.

RESTAURANTS, banks, drug and clothing stores, theaters, golf courses, doctors, beauty and barber shops, laundries, hardware and sporting goods stores, bus stations, airports and churches are located in and near the half-dozen communities along the route.

The Water Route can be easily reached by car on modern highways, by boat through the locks at Cheboygan, and by air and seaplane, according to the Tourist Council.

Interstate 75 is the most direct highway route, but several other highways, including US-31, US-131 and US-23, also serve the area. Portions of M-68, M-27, M-33 and M-212 rim the Water Route.

ADDITIONAL information on the Water Route, its accommodations, attractions, and hunting and fishing regulations, can be obtained, free of charge, by writing the Michigan Tourist Council, Stevens T. Mason Building, Lansing, 48926.

Persons desiring Inland Water Route Navigation Chart 660 should write directly to the US Army Corps of Engineers, US Lake Survey, 630 Federal Building, Detroit. There is a charge of $1 for the chart.

Miss Verlinde becomes bride in Grand Ledge

SOUTHEAST EAGLE — The Grand Ledge Methodist Church was the setting Saturday evening for the marriage of Miss Diana Verlinde, daughter of Mr and Mrs Albert Verlinde, rural Eagle, and Russell J. Cavanaugh of Lansing.

For her nuptials, the bride selected a gown of silk organza over taffeta, accented by a full, tiered skirt, flowing into a peacock chapel train. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid.

Miss Lois McGill was her sister's maid of honor. Other attendants were Miss Bonnie Rood and Mrs Lynn Hunt. They wore floor length, frosted mint green gowns and carried cascade bouquets of pink gladioli and pink carnations.

Serving as best man was Ron Fozette and ushers were Richard Hunt, Rodney Yarger, Lee Zreke and Michael Werner. Immediately following the ceremony, the pair greeted guests at a reception in the church parlors.

Special guests attending were the bride's grandparents, Mr and Mrs Ralph Hiar of St. Johns, grandmother, Mrs Doris Anderson of Lansing, and her brother, F. A. Keith McGill of Norfolk, Va.

News About Service Personnel

Radioman 3c ROGER A. WHITTEMORE, USN, son of Mr and Mrs Glen D. Whittemore of DeWitt, serving aboard the US Atlantic Fleet's radar picket destroyer USS Goodrich, sailed from his homeport on the East Coast June 18, for transit to the Mediterranean and duty with the US Sixth Fleet.

His ship is one of 12 US Second Fleet units forming a task group for the trans-Atlantic crossing. While deployed to the Mediterranean, he will visit several ports in Southern Europe.

Marine Sgt. ALFORD J. ZORN, son of Mr and Mrs Jack Zorn of 6907 Forest Hill Road, St. Johns, deployed June 4 with Sub Unit No. 3, Headquarters and Maintenance Squadron 26 of Battalion Landing Team 2/2 aboard ships of the US Atlantic Fleet en route to the Mediterranean. The attack transport USS Fremont is serving as the team's flagship. While deployed to the Mediterranean with the US Sixth Fleet, he will participate in various training exercises. He will also have opportunities to visit local European ports for liberty and sightseeing.

Efficient and dependable field equipment makes possible harvesting at proper stage of maturity, less exposure time in the field, and lower leaf and nutrient losses.

'Unincorporated' town shifting about

How many communities do you know that have a name but are listed only as "unincorporated" on the sign at the edge of town? Have you ever wondered how many unincorporated places there are and what's happening to them?

Geographers, sociologists and population specialists have wondered about them, too, but the census didn't even count them until 1950, when it listed all such

Peace Corps

With only a smattering of Spanish and a concentrated 12-week training at Columbia School for Social Work in New York, Chris went to South America where he now teaches English in the barrios of Cucuta and speaks Spanish like a native.

AT PRESENT HE is engineering a water supply project, helping the people with their problems and working together toward a solution for piping water from the mountains for use in the barrios.

Chris writes home to his parents every week telling of his life and work with the Peace Corps. His last letter arrived Saturday with news that he had a most terrifying experience after they left. He had gone to bed early but awakened to a noise about 2:00 a.m. to find two men practically staring him in the face and using his cigarette lighter to locate what they were searching for.

SEVERAL SCREAMS alarmed the men who took off over the back wall with Chris after them, but reaching the end of the patio, he decided to check if there were others in the house so returned and put on all lights.

He found his record player and records, radio and camera had been taken, but in their rush to escape, the thieves had dropped the flashlight and left a stack of records on the top of the wall. All of this was a small price to pay for what could have happened, he wrote, as this was the bed his mother slept in during her stay.

The next day, he moved into Cucuta to an apartment with two other Peace Corps Volunteers and will commute to his work.

places with over 1,000 people. By the time the 1960 census came along, there were some solid facts to base a study of unincorporated places. A University of Wisconsin rural sociologist, Glenn Fugitt, has made such a study and reports some of these facts about unincorporated places.

IN 1960 THERE were about 1,468 unincorporated places with over 1,000 population located outside the heavily built-up areas adjacent to big cities. About 4 million people — 2 per cent of the total US population — lived in these places.

When you get outside of thickly settled urban areas, you will find that one out of every five places between 1,000 and 10,000 population is unincorporated. Most of these places are small. Two-thirds of them are between 1,000 and 2,500 population. Almost one-third are between 2,500 and 10,000 and 2 per cent are over 10,000 population.

MORE THAN half of the unincorporated places are in New England and the South. The West has 22 per cent, the Middle Atlantic 18 per cent and the North Central region 9 per cent.

New England traditionally has kept unincorporated places and this accounts for the high percentage of them there. The West has a large proportion of unincorporated places because it is a growing region and many new communities are springing up without planning.

ONE-THIRD of the unincorporated places are in metropolitan areas (counties which include a city of 50,000 or adjoining counties integrated with a city). Nearly half are in a county that has a city of 10,000 or more. The others, about one-fifth, are in open country.

What's happening to unincorporated places? There were about the same number in 1960 as in 1950, but these are not the same places. About half of the old ones were lost from this census category and were replaced by an equal number of new ones.

THE PLACES no longer unincorporated in 1960 dropped out of the category for a number of reasons, says Fugitt. Biggest reason was that they became

South Ovid

By Mrs George Young

Allen Ziegler of Greenville spent the week with his aunt, Mrs Kenneth Young, and Mrs Janet Ziegler and family.

Mr and Mrs Roger Warner and sons of Sandusky visited their parents, Mr and Mrs Oliver Nicholas, and family of the Dennison District last week.

Rev Ben Johnson of the Detroit Bible College, was the minister at the Calvary Baptist Church last Sunday in the absence of the Rev George Rogers who is in New York City visiting his children.

Mr and Mrs Edward Gee of Cortez, Colo. are visiting his mother, Mrs Gladys Parker, at the home of his brother, Jack Gee and family of St. Johns. They held a family dinner at the St. Johns park last Sunday.

Mr and Mrs Ronald Baker and children of Round Lake, Mr and Mrs Leo Hedden of Vernon, Mrs Grace Young and Lucille Loomis of East Laingsburg, Mrs Roberta Young of Ovid and children and mother of Midland and the Robert Young family were callers of Mrs Nancy Baker and Mrs S. Young last week. Mrs Lorna Nicholas of South Ovid also called.

Mrs Nancy Baker was taken to the doctor in Lansing last Wednesday for kidney trouble. She was better at this writing.

Mr and Mrs Larry Nicholas and daughter, Cynthia of East Jordan, Mrs Gertrude Nicholas of Ashley and Mr and Mrs Randy Phelps and baby of Lansing were Sunday dinner guests of Mr and Mrs Oliver Nicholas.

Mr and Mrs Kenneth Young were Greenville guests over Saturday and Sunday.

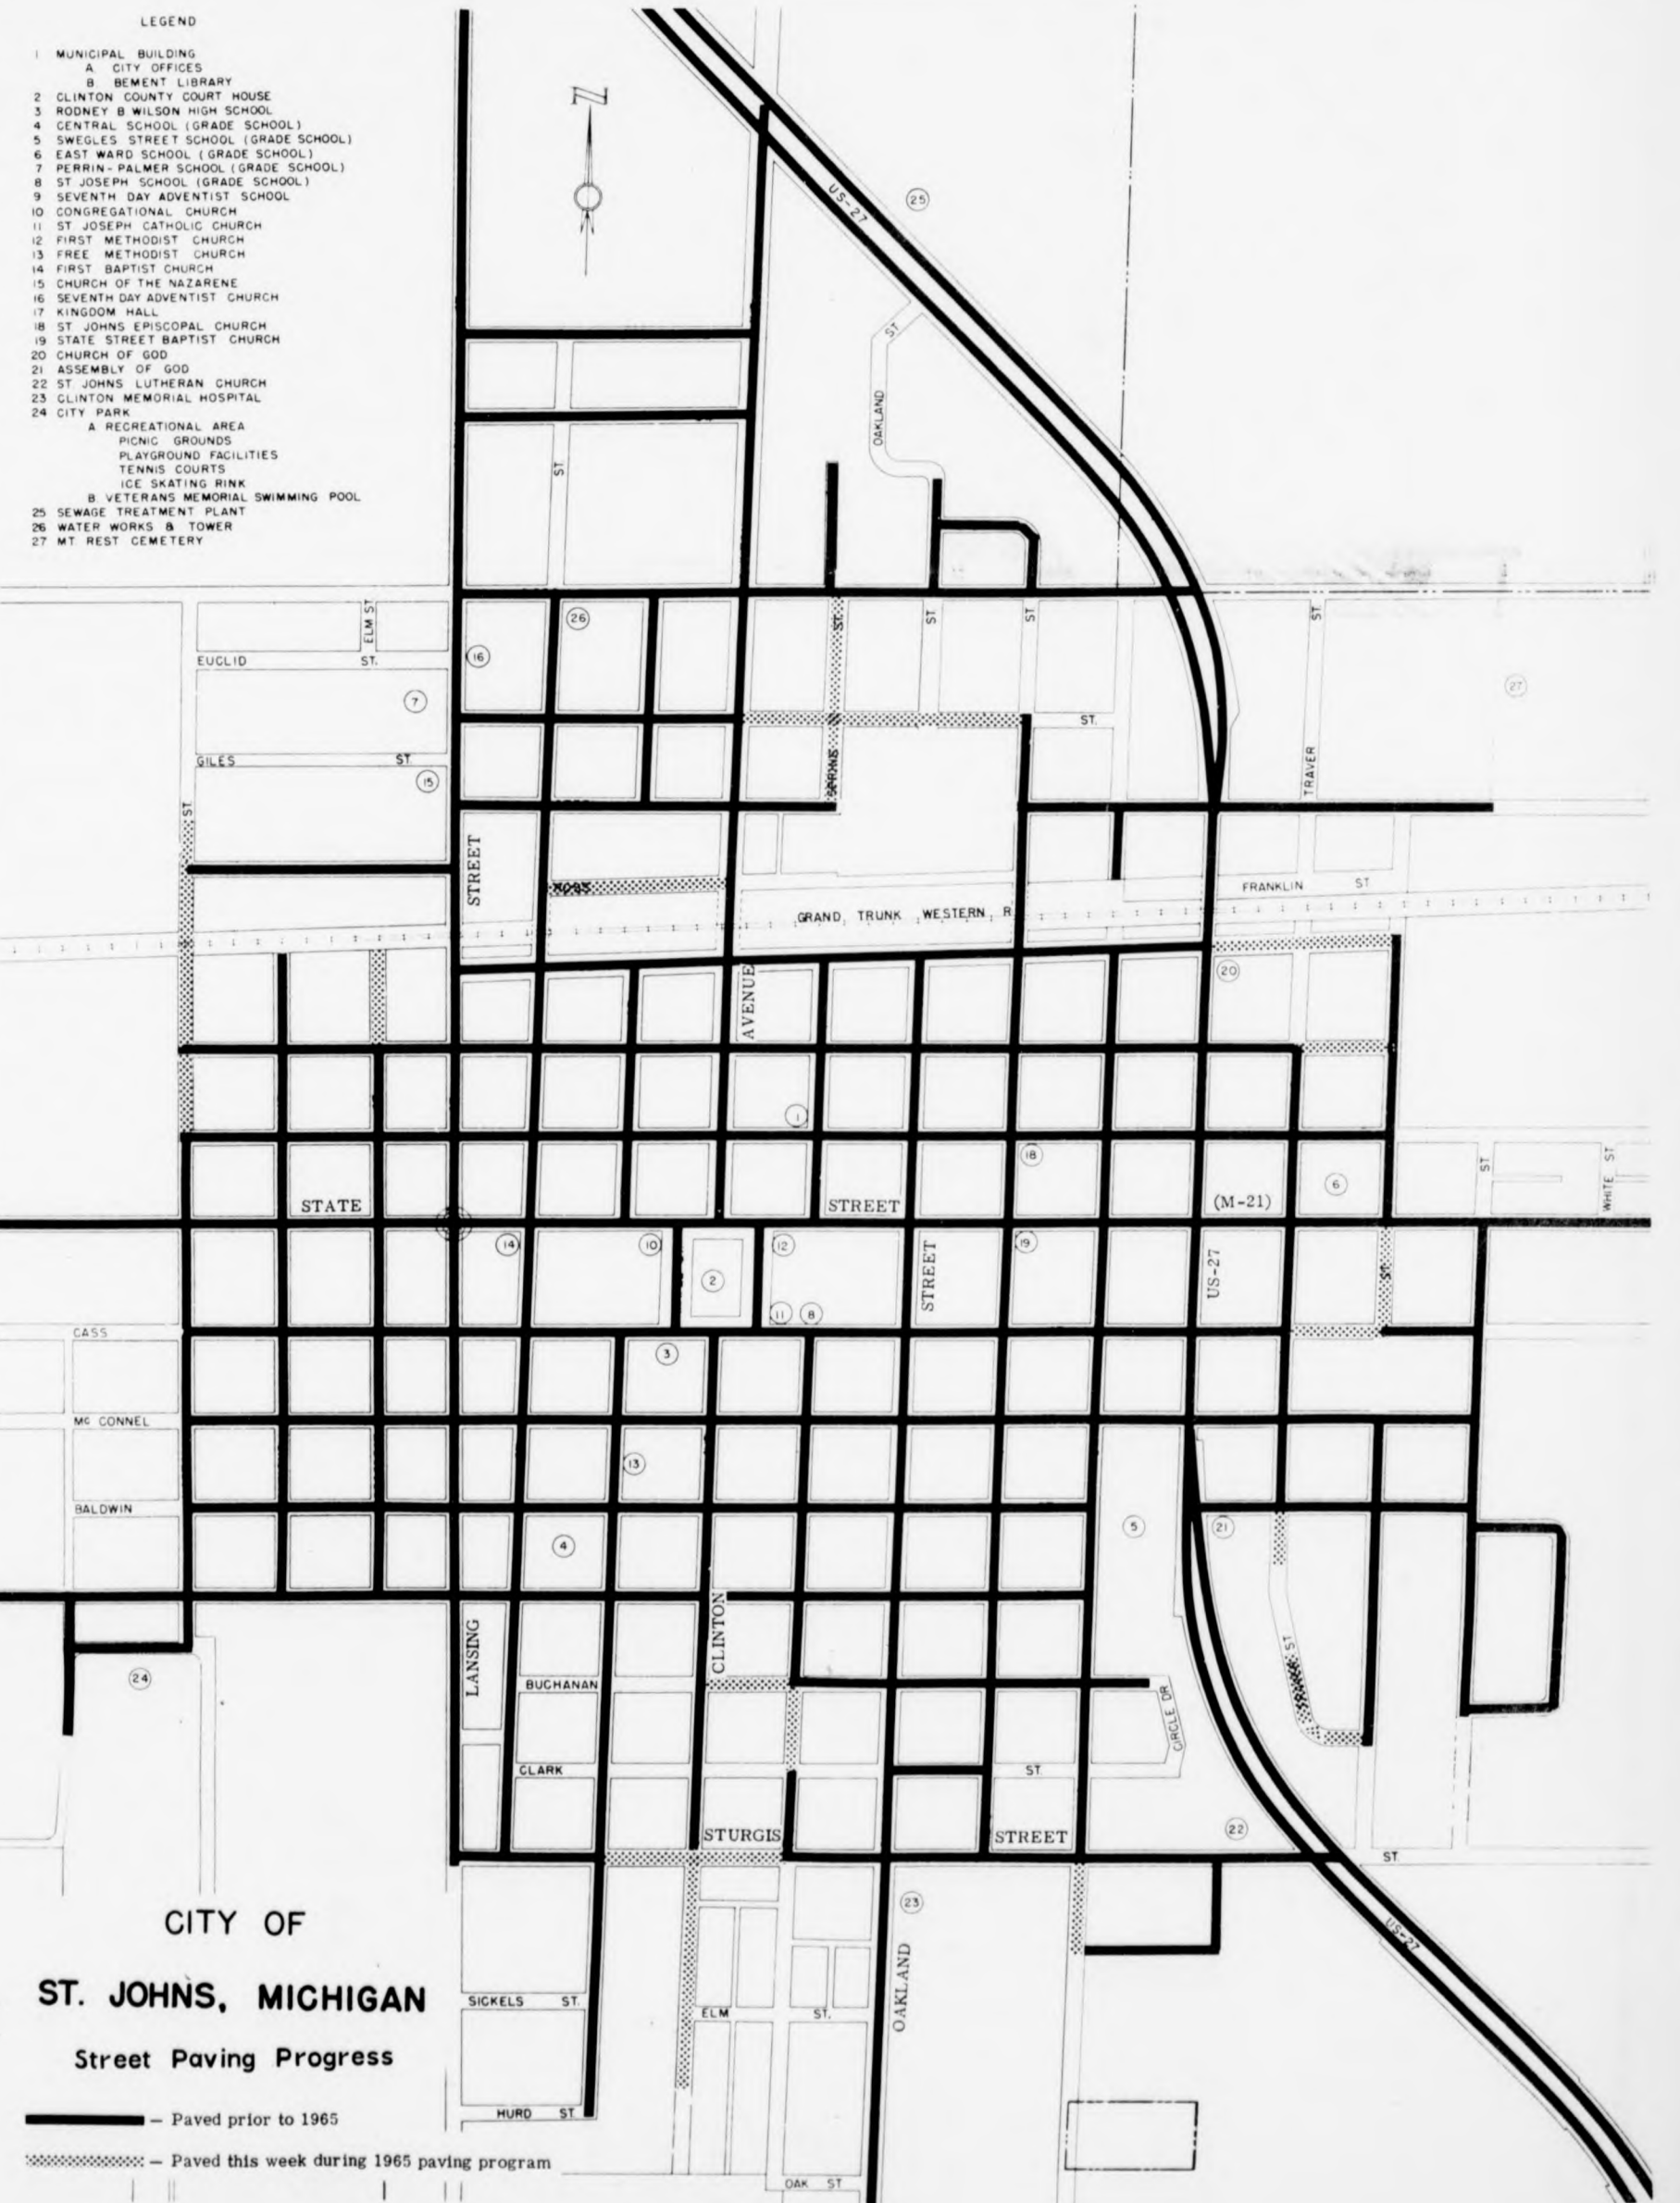

Mr and Mrs Richard Gee entertained the following Sunday evening: her parents, Mr and Mrs Vernon Reynolds, her brother-in-law and sister of Owosso, his mother, Mrs Georgianna Underhill, and brother Wayne. The occasion was the first wedding anniversary of Mr and Mrs Richard Gee.

part of an urban area through annexation or incorporation. Some dropped below 1,000 population and were not counted in the census. A few were lost because of a change in census procedure, and the others were old ones which showed up under a new name.

The South and North Central regions lost unincorporated places, the West gained, and the East remained stable.

THE CURRENT study shows that unincorporated places are usually quite unstable and therefore should be considered as separate units of population to show how population is shifting.

CITY OF ST. JOHNS, MICHIGAN
Street Paving Progress

— Paved prior to 1965
— Paved this week during 1965 paving program

St. Johns' progress toward a town with all streets paved is shown in this map, updated this week to include the paving being done this year. The solid black lines are streets that were paved prior to this year; the 1965 paving project is shown by the lines with the dot patterns.

New Idea's Flail Mower-Conditioner offers unusual efficiency and versatility! It is a single, multi-purpose machine which mows and conditions a full 7-ft. swath in one operation for making dry hay, and with a special attachment also windsrows for making wilted silage. It works especially well in very heavy or matted hay and leaves a fluffy swath or fluffy windrow and gives you "non-stop," "plug-free" operation even in down and tangled materials. In addition to making hay and wilted grass silage, you can also use this machine for corn stalk shredding, weed cutting, pasture clipping and clipping and conditioning straw for easier baling. MR AND MRS RICHARD VINCENT

Owosso EUB setting for Vincent wedding

Miss Sharon Lee Fisher, daughter of Mr and Mrs James Fisher of R-3, St. Johns, and Richard Lewis Vincent, son of Mr and Mrs Harold Vincent, were married Saturday, June 12, in the Evangelical United Brethren Church in Owosso.

The bride wore a gown of lace over taffeta, designed with a square neckline and pointed fingertip sleeves. She carried a white Bible which was a gift of the bridegroom and an orchid.

The maid of honor, Miss Judy Goldman of Bannister, wore a blue chiffon gown and matching flowered veil hat. She carried a bouquet of carnations and roses.

THE BRIDESMAIDS, Miss Alyce Evans of Bannister, Miss Janet Skriba of Ashley and Mrs Karen Tomasi of Oakley wore dresses similar to the maid of honor's in pink. Their head-dresses and bouquets matched their ensembles.

Flower girl was Susan Fisher of St. Johns and ring bearer was Nicky White of Lennon. Susan wore a white chiffon gown and carried a basket of yellow roses.

Clifford Vincent of Elsie was best man. Groomsmen were James Shepard of Ithaca, William Rowell of Owosso and Jerry Jolly of Melvindale. Ronald Linabury of Corunna, Melvin Vincent of Owosso, Gerald Brown of Saginaw and Jack Harnick of Flint seated the guests.

MISS CORAL Johnson who sang wedding songs was accompanied by Mrs Mary Schlarf, organist. Candelighters were Brad Harnick of Flint and Richard Fisher of St. Johns.

Attired in a beige dress with yellow accessories for her daughter's wedding was Mrs Fisher. The bridegroom's mother wore a gold dress and beige accessories. Each wore a yellow corsage.

The reception in the American Legion Club in Owosso was attended by 200 guests. The cake was cut by Mrs Dorothy Moon and the guest book was attended by Kathleen Phillips, both of St. Johns. Servers included Mrs Kay Federspiel and Mrs Doris Jean Brown both of Saginaw, Mrs Donna Harnick of Flint and Mrs Carol Vincent of Elsie.

SPECIAL GUESTS were the bridegroom's grandparents, Mr and Mrs Ceciel Vincent of Corunna.

The newlyweds, both graduates of Ashley High School, honeymooned in northern Michigan and are making their home at 315 1/2 North Mizner, Corunna.

Buck-Serrels marry in evening service

Miss Judith Louise Buck was married to Roland D. Serrels in an evening ceremony at the Valley Farms Baptist Church Saturday, June 19. Mr and Mrs William D. Buck of 124 East Jefferson, DeWitt, and Mr and Mrs Robert D. Serrels of US-27, Lansing, are parents of the newlyweds.

The bride wore an A-line style gown of Chantilly lace and white organza with a brocaded silk chapel train. She chose a waterfall veil and carried a bouquet of carnations and sweetheart roses.

MATRON OF honor was the bride's sister, Mrs Patricia DeYoung. She wore a powder blue sheath of empire style, a matching veil and crown and carried white and blue carnations. Bridesmaids, Marlene Foster and Diane Miller, wore ensembles similar to the matron of honor's in contrasting shades of pink.

Miss LaDonna Louise DeYoung was flower girl and David Ferguson was ringbearer.

Raymond Serrels was his brother's best man. Ushers were William D. Buck Jr., Douglas Miller, Thomas Bennett and Philip Walter.

MRS BUCK wore a dusty rose lace dress with matching satin trim and bone accessories. Mrs Serrels sheath dress was of light beige lace and was trimmed with pale blue and pink chiffon. Each wore a carnation corsage.

MISS SANDRA FLEISCHER

Mr and Mrs Fredrick J. Fleischer of St. Johns have announced the engagement of their daughter, Sandra Jean, to David Allen Cleveland, son of Mr and Mrs Myron Cleveland of St. Johns. No date has been set for the wedding.

Shirley Miller was in charge of a reception for 200 guests in the Memorial Building in DeWitt. Kaylene Dalman cut the cake and Barbara Walter attended the punch bowl.

FOLLOWING A honeymoon in northern Michigan, the couple returned to make their home on Valley Road in Valley Farms.

Both are DeWitt High School graduates.

Fete Bartlett's on anniversary

Mr and Mrs Robert J. Bartlett Sr. of 6089 Park Lake Road, Bath, were honored guests at a belated golden wedding anniversary dinner at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr and Mrs James Boutell of 6771 Oak Grove Road, Howell, Sunday, June 20.

Mr and Mrs Bartlett were married on Dec. 27, 1914. Since they were spending the winter at their winter home at Boynton Beach, Fla., a summer celebration was planned.

NEARLY 100 relatives were among the guests of the party which was hosted by their children, Mr and Mrs Harold Bartlett, Mr and Mrs James Boutell, Mr and Mrs Harry Esch and Mr and Mrs Robert Bartlett Jr.

Mr and Mrs Bartlett have 16 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Women golfers meet on greens

On Wednesday, June 23, members of the Clinton County Country Club's Green Tee, were hosts to the Clare, Ithaca and Alma clubs.

The St. Johns member getting the best score with a handicap was Mrs Joseph Ricker. Mrs Roy Briggs won high score and Mrs John Martin, high putts. Winner of the door prize was Mrs Kenneth Munger.

LATER THAT afternoon, when bridge was in play, Mrs Robert Baker of Alma won first and Mrs H. W. Lundy of St. Johns, second.

Green Tee members and their husbands were golf and dinner guests in Ithaca Sunday. Wednesday the women were entertained in Alma.

On Monday, July 5, a 1 p.m. potluck will be served at the Clinton County Country Club, followed by golf.

MRS ROBERT M. FEDEWA

Catherine L. Lonier weds Robert Fedewa

Honeymooning in Niagara Falls and Quebec are newlyweds, Mr and Mrs Robert M. Fedewa, who were married Saturday at St. Therese Church in Lansing. The bride is the former Catherine Louise Lonier, daughter of Mr and Mrs Lewis M. Lonier of R-4, Lansing. The bridegroom is the son of Mr and Mrs Walter G. Fedewa of Portland.

The bride entered the sanctuary in a gown of silk organza and Chantilly lace over taffeta, styled with a bell skirt and chapel train. Her veil of imported illusion was attached to an organza bow, trimmed with lace and pearls. Her cascade bouquet was snowflake mums and English ivy surrounding a white orchid.

MRS ROBERT LaFave, matron of honor, wore a romance blue gown of rayon taffeta. The bridesmaids, Mrs Charles Lonier of Lansing and the sister of the bridegroom, Mrs Richard Gross, wore light blue gowns, styled identically to the matron of honor's.

Donald Fedewa was his brother's best man. Groomsmen were David Martin of Westphalia and Joseph Pung of Portland. The bride's brother, Harold Lonier of Lansing, and Richard Gross of Portland were ushers.

FOR HER daughter's wedding, Mrs Lonier wore a light blue dress. Mrs Fedewa wore a rose dress. Each wore a corsage of sweetheart roses and white carnations.

Four hundred guests attended a reception at the American Legion Hall in Portland, following the ceremony. Special guests were Mr and Mrs Charles Doherr, grandparents of the bride. Mrs Theresa Hankins and Mrs Lyman Morrison served the bride's cake and Miss Juleen Trierweiler, Miss Sue Ann Trierweiler, Miss Susan Lonier and Miss Renie Lonier served at the bride's table.

Anniversary party set at Bengal EUB

Mr and Mrs Levi A. Blakeslee will be the guests of honor at an open house for their 30th wedding anniversary.

Bengal EUB Church will be the setting for the affair Sunday, July 4, from 2 to 5 p.m.

Hosts are the Blakeslee's children, Mrs Morris Holloway of Grand Rapids, Paul A. Blakeslee of Springfield, Ill., Miss Iyla Blakeslee of East Lansing and Dennis who lives at home.

LACK AMBITION Men who talk and fail to act are trying to build up a reputation under false pretenses.

Bazaar plans begun by Senior Citizens

Seventy-nine Senior Citizens, including guests from the Lansing area, were present at the group's June 22 meeting.

The Clinton County group was invited to join Senior Citizens from the entire state for a trip on the Bob-Lo Island Boat on July 9. A bus will leave Lansing at 7 a.m. and the price of $4.70 per person will cover the day's entertainment.

PLANS were continued for the annual Senior Citizens' Bazaar to be held on Oct. 29. Carmen Tranchell, general chairman, appointed the following committee heads, each to secure her own assistants: Mrs James Sowle and Mrs Charles Smith, gifts; Mrs Carl Harris and Mrs George Shaw, hobbies and fancy work; Mrs Herbert Estes Sr., aprons; Mrs Charles Lapham, baked goods; Mrs Bertha Wonnemburg, candy; and Mrs Robert Hathaway, refreshments.

Several members indicated their desire to attend Cinerama in Detroit on either the last Wednesday or Thursday in July. It was reported that if 38 persons agreed to go, a bus could be chartered from Lansing. The price for the round trip to Detroit, plus the ticket to Cinerama, would be $5.75 per person. Only Senior Citizens whose dues of $1 per year are paid would be eligible to go. Those desiring to make the trip were instructed to call Carmen Tranchell.

FOLLOWING THE business meeting, Mrs George Shaw and Mrs Charles Lapham took charge of the program. Community singing was followed by several selections by an 18 member male chorus.

Mrs Carl Harris and George Shaw favored with harmonica duets. Mrs Mabel Boismier of Durand, 87-year-old mother of Mrs Lapham, played a piano solo. This was followed by three harmonica solos by May Owen, also 87.

The next meeting will be a picnic at City Park on July 13 at noon. All Senior Citizens are invited.

What Happened to Sunday?

Some weeks ago my car needed repair so I took it to a garage. The mechanic was a s unknown to me, but a few slips of the tongue indicated that he was not a Christian. I then opened a conversation with him and found him to be a church member. He added, I do not go very much, you see, I work here but I live on a farm. I go to church when I am not farming. "Bully for him! I suppose God should be real tickled that he gives him this much consideration! I then asked if he realized what he had just told me—what he actually was saying would be the same as though he had said, "I go to church when I am not robbing a bank." The same God who said, "Thou shalt not steal," also reserved one day in seven as a holy day unto Himself. When folk use this day for themselves, whether for light farming, odd jobs, or a holiday of pleasure, they violating God's moral law. Though it is but one of the many sins common to man, this one sin alone is sufficient to condemn him forever. How do you spend your Sundays as a good measurement of your spiritual standing. What has happened to your Sunday?

One Nation Indivisible

"... That this Nation, under God . . . Words that bind a Nation's wounds —healing hearts that have affliction known. We pause, this day, to remember and to forget: Yet, not to forget the battles lost or victories won, or soldiers' silent sleep, Who, by their death, gave life; life that throbs and pulsates in this Nation's womb. We pause to remember our gifts from God from whom our blessings in abundance flow. We find our God, at home in church, in hearts that this day sing out in joy. We thank Thee, Dearest Lord. Now, bless us, and this Thy land and all therein . . . our own, our native land!"

A man's right to a job should be respected, too

Great concern is voiced in Washington for the protection of the civil rights of individuals and minority groups.

But what of the right of the American worker to join—or not to join—a union? This particular issue doesn't seem to interest those who are in the forefront of the civil-rights battle.

There is a strange silence about the evil of compulsory unionism and its denial of individual civil and human rights. (Note, we didn't say evil of unionism but rather compulsory unionism.)

THE GREAT weight of the federal government is thrown into human housing, in public accommodations. But what of the human rights of the man who, in order to hold a job, is forced to join an organization that may be diametrically opposed to his principles and views.

In 19 states that man is protected by the right-to-work laws. And Section 14 (b) of the Taft-Hartley Act upholds the states in enacting these laws.

NOW, THE push is on in Washington to have Congress repeal 14 (b). We don't know what the legislators will do when the issue comes before them, but we do know what the American public thinks.

A national poll shows that the public is against repeal of 14 (b) by more than a two-to-one margin. In fact, nearly two-thirds of the adult public favor a national law making all union membership voluntary.

It is to be hoped that Congress gets the message.

Love finds a way . . . with Social Security

Somehow, we can't get too concerned about it, but we're surprised that some moralizer somewhere hasn't stirred up a fuss about the moral moonlighting going on for the sake of Social Security.

Authorities in the retirement states of Florida and California say there are many thousands of elderly people living together, out of wedlock, or as some of the young might put it, shacking up, simply to hold onto their Social Security benefits.

YOU SEE, a widow gets 82.5 per cent of the payments due her dearly departed. Thus, if her late husband was entitled to payments of $100 a month, his survivor gets $82.50.

Should she remarry, however, the government immediately subtracts all of that $82.50 and gives her one-half of what her new husband draws. Thus, if Number Two is entitled to $100 a month, she gets $50.

She is losing $32.50. Is it fair to penalize love?

And supposing he draws only $40 a month; then she gets $20. Can connubial bliss be worth $62.50 each and every month?

Federal encroachment through the issuing of edicts is something to be aware of and a situation calling for battle.

But . . . there are times and situations when the federal government has the right idea. Such is the case in the big controversy over roadside signs with Michigan's federally-supported highway program hanging in the balance.

MICHIGAN HIGHWAYS run through some of the most eye-pleasing country in the United States. Signs in many areas have ruined the scenery. They are also a traffic hazard.

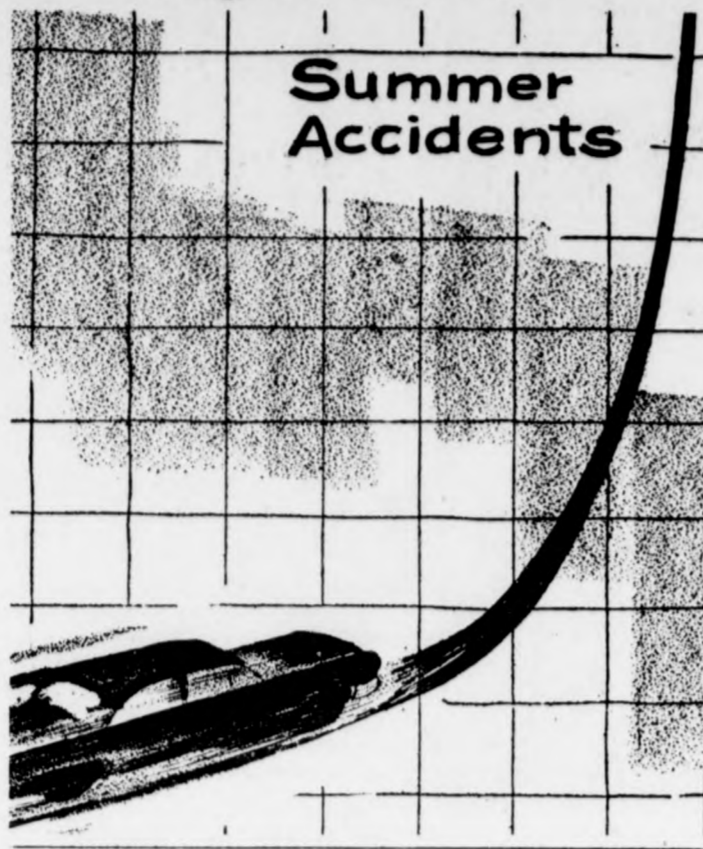

Take a trip through Michigan resort country. See how desecrated some of the state and local roads are with rundown, poor taste signs pushing everything from Sheep Dip Beer to Joe Pike's Bait shop.

THE USE OF advertising signs is not wrong. It is wrong only when those signs are located on state road rights-of-way. That's all the boys in Washington are asking.

There's no reason why Michigan's legislature should not back up this request with necessary legislative action.

The program of sign removal has met with success in all but 10 of 15 counties. Selfishness in the others, most of them in the northern resort areas, has threatened our needed highway network.

America's technical genius has sent a space craft whirling toward the faroff "red planet" —Mars. Through some quirk of nature, the following news dispatch between two news transmitting stations on Mars may have been intercepted and recorded here.

MARTIA—Martian scientists at the Cape Martina space observatory are presently tracking a mysterious object heading toward Mars from the direction of planet Earth.

THE observatory estimates that, unless the object changes its course, it will not come closer than about 6,000 miles to our planet. But, it does not appear to be a normal asteroid, according to Dr. Shrdlu Ecnvhrxlz, chief of extra-terrestrial investigators at the observatory.

"At this time we believe the object is man-made and is emitting some kind of signals," Dr. Ecnvhrxlz said. "The signals are being recorded here, but despite constant study by our decoding experts, they make no sense."

"THERE IS no indication that whatever the object is hostile, but we will continue to track it as it approaches us. It will probably be at its closest point in about 15 days, unless it changes direction."

The observatory has been tracking the mysterious space object for about five days. Curiously enough, it was a canal boat operator who first picked up the sounds of the object. Mjtluq Xightl, an amateur space enthusiast, was swinging dials of his radio aboard his canal boat when he accidentally tuned in on the space object's signals. When he couldn't figure them out, he notified the Cape Martina space observatory.

FIRST REPORTS of the object have given the first solid evidence that intermittent stories of flying saucers in the Martain atmosphere may have something to them. The Martian-on-the-street believes the saucers probably came from Earth, and there have even been stories told of actual encounters with huge, white "Earthmen" from the saucers, but there has been no substantiation of those stories.

One popular tube program on Mars, "My Favorite Earthling," even gives one person's opinion of what "Earth people" are like.

WHILE scientists will not allow themselves to be pinned down on the question, many believe off the record that there is life on Earth. And with the presence of the on-coming space object from that direction, there may soon be some major policy changes concerning Mars' space thinking.

"If this object is from Earth," Dr. Ecnvhrxlz said, "it means they are probably far superior to us. But it also means that if they can do it, there must be a way of traveling through space that we can duplicate. We will watch this object closely, you can be sure."

Our founding fathers once decreed, And made it quite official, That we must have executive, Legislative and judicial; By means of checks and balances, We've maintained unto this date A fairly equal balance In our affairs of State.

The members of our court supreme For life their tenures hold, They need not fear elections That might bar them from the fold; Oft by five to four decisions Does the final court decree, The course of legislation, Via constitutionality.

Executives in time have power New justices to name, And if philosophies agree, Can there be any blame? "Congress alone can declare war," So says our bill of rights, Yet chief executives have oft Decided where who fights!

So justice and executive Departments—more and more— Assume of tasks that we elect Our legislatures for; And folk sometimes arise to ask, If they be circumspect, Just how about that balance? Since when has it been checked?

But legislators have their day! Though they may roam at will, They're good at spiraling the costs, And handing us the bill; Whenever they chance to feel inclined, With a minimum of fuss— They give their pay checks all a boost, And send the bill to us!

A rift . . . or just a backlash?

THE COUNTY NEWS has been careful to maintain a neutral position in the election procedures which accompanied the recent mass annexation of rural districts with the St. Johns school system.

We've also exercised restraint in our comment upon the recent district vote which unseated two incumbents, including Ken Munger, the board president who has given of his time and talent for 10 years in an effort to bring about an equitable consolidation of the districts adjacent to St. Johns.

As a newspaper dedicated to the community's best interest, we don't presume to involve ourselves with personalities or with individual prejudices. The issue with us must always be what is best for the thousands of Clinton area young people who look to our schools for a decent start in life.

WHO SETS THE policy and who administers the schools are important, of course; but they are secondary matters. The overriding requirement for the success of the newly-enlarged district is reasonable harmony and understanding among the people who have joined to establish it.

There are sincere persons, deeply interested in the district's school problems, who interpret the June 14th school board vote as an indication of a serious rift between town and rural folks.

We can't agree with this analysis. We believe that the defeat of incumbent board members was simply a political backlash and a quite natural human reaction to the confusing pressures that were brought into play in the earlier annexation procedures.

STATE LEGISLATION and school aid formulas have made it impractical, if not impossible, for individual rural districts to maintain their independence. Such districts have had no real choice, except to annex to a neighboring high school set-up.

Giving up traditional boundaries and purely local control was a hard pill to take, but circumstances dictated this as the only intelligent decision.

When you're "cornered," as our rural people were, you make the best of it. But you don't forget and there's a natural hankering to strike back when the opportunity presents itself. Granted, it's an emotional reaction . . . but how often electoral decisions in a democracy are based on emotions!

At bottom of pool list, she complains

WHAT I HAVE TO say is on the minds of many rural St. Johns mothers this week.

According to the Clinton County paper of June 10, registration for swimming lessons for St. Johns children was to be held on Wednesday, June 16, from 9:30 to 11:30. Out-of-town children were to come on Thursday, June 17, at 9, providing there was still room.

I HAVE LIVED in rural St. Johns for 12 years. My children have attended St. Joseph School for several years; therefore, I consider my family as being "from" St. Johns.

After waiting in line at the pool for 45 minutes on Wednesday, we were informed by the person in charge that any children living outside the city limits could not register until the following day at 9:30, and then only if there was still room, as the Ovid and Elsie children would be registering at 9. Why do the rural St. Johns children come in at the bottom of the list?

MANY RURAL people donated their time and machinery when the pool was built. This fall when the "city" people come begging permission to hunt on our farms (if they bother to ask), or next winter when the doorbell rings at 2 a.m. and some townier wants to be pulled out of a snow bank, we will just tell them to go "jump in their pool."

FORTUNATELY FOR all concerned, there were four well-qualified nominees for the two school board posts at stake. In Don Bast and Alden Livingston, the successful candidates, the district has chosen highly-regarded rural residents who have a wide acquaintance among both town and country people. We feel certain they will fairly represent the viewpoints of all the citizens of the area.

To Ken Munger and Bill McCarthy, the defeated incumbents, we convey on behalf of all the district sincere appreciation for past service and sacrifice. Their efforts have helped to bring about what we are certain will be one of Michigan's better consolidated school districts.

AND NOW, A few concluding comments about a guy who requires no defending—Earl R. Lancaster, the fellow on the always-hot seat of school superintendent.

We've watched this man operate for 13 years. There's nothing mealy-mouthed about him. He's honest. He's sincere. He says what he thinks. And it's been our observation that he bends over backwards to be fair. We haven't always agreed with him, but that doesn't disturb our great respect for his ability and his intellectual capacity.

Knowing his dedication to the community and to its educational system, we can understand his reluctance to stay on the job if he feels that his presence will be a divisive influence.

UNEMPLOYMENT IS not a problem for school men like Supt. Lancaster. He can choose from a half-dozen offers at better pay within a few days. His services are readily marketable.

But he's not a quitter. He has told his board he will stay with us for the current school year to assess the overall situation.

We hope, for the future of the district, that his assessment reveals a unity of purpose which will spell success for the building program so necessary for the maintenance of a proper school system.

We can see nothing to be gained by postponing the inevitable. And we feel that Supt. Lancaster's continued leadership is in the best interest of the young people our schools are built to serve.

Ban on bracero program 'working'

I JUST READ the elimination of the Mexican "bracero" program has been "remarkable" in terms of greater employment opportunities for domestic farm workers and lower welfare costs.

Since the ban on importation of Mexicans to work on the farms, the employment of domestic farm workers in California alone has increased 16.1 per cent over 1964, according to the Labor Department report.

AT THE SAME time, the number of families receiving welfare in the farm area is down sharply.

Last year Mexican farm workers earned about $36 million in California, and they spent about $16 million in the United States. If the domestic workers earn the same $36 million on California farms this year, all will be spent in this country.

Mushrooming business could mushroom in UP

A new and profitable industry for the Upper Peninsula was suggested by John Stout, MSU food science freshman, in a term paper for one of his classes. He urges that market and food researchers check details to be sure if his plan is practical.

The Upper Peninsula has everything needed to grow mushrooms profitably, according to Mr Stout, who has done preliminary investigation.

IT HAS the special advantage of unused mines. Temperature and humidity, important factors to control in quality mushroom production, are ideally available there. Installation of ventilating equipment would be relatively inexpensive. Compost needed for good growth, long associated with horse stables, can now be manufactured economically without horses. This would create a little more economic advantage for the Upper Peninsula because its components are available there.

Canning operation would bring about still more economic activity. There is no big mushroom market in the UP, but it is practical to can a large part of the potential year-round crop and easy to ship fresh or canned to Chicago, Detroit and other consumer areas.

THIS IS not the first time mushrooms have been suggested as a way for the Upper Peninsula to improve itself economically. Dr Sigmund H. Schanderl, MSU food scientist who has had experience with mushroom industries in other places, has been pushing the idea for more than a year. So far, no one has been convinced or stimulated enough to develop the lead.

It would make a very interesting story if a study done by an undergraduate college student would create the spark which would encourage leaders in the Upper Peninsula to help their own area with a new industry.

TWO OFFICIAL maps of Michigan are now in use widely by travelers and state boosters.

The first has been in publication for several years by the State Highway Department. In full color, this is designated the "official highway map."

New to the scene this year is one published jointly by the Michigan Historical Commission and the State Tourist Council. It is dubbed "A guide to Michigan's historical attractions." Both are free for the asking while supplies last.

DESIGNED TO inform visitors about the state's historic sites, the latter publication was started relatively modestly in just three colors.

Listings and locations of more than 200 historic sites and markers, some 40-odd historic buildings and another 53 museums are included. Detail maps of Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids, Sault Ste. Marie, Mackinac Island, Detroit and the downriver Detroit area are inset for their historic significance.

The reverse side contains printed matter including a brief history of the state, description of the buildings and landmarks numbered on the map side, and pertinent facts about Michigan such as the motto, bird, flag and population data.

FREQUENTLY over a period of years the same old fights are renewed, some of great magnitude and others of little or no significance.

Verbal fights regarding the state's land area have been among the periodic battles fought in the legislature in the past 10 years or so. Some proposals would remove the Upper Peninsula from Michigan either to make it a separate state or join in with Wisconsin.

Usually these discussions have been on the semi-serious side. Some legislators even proposed to give the UP back to the Indians.

ANOTHER secession-annexation proposal, however, usually has very serious overtones. This is the one which has been renewed this year originating in Ohio.

It involves a small area in the southeast corner of the state known as the lost peninsula. Some Michigan lawmakers are seeking to keep the dispute on a light note to avoid a bitter wrangle, but Ohio proponents of this year's plan appear serious.

An Ohio legislator has seriously proposed a conference with Michigan officials to negotiate annexation of the lost peninsula to Ohio. It is not accessible to the rest of Michigan except by water or over Ohio roads. Federal action would be required even if both states agreed to a redistribution of the land to Ohio.

STATE LAWMAKER Raymond Kehres, D-Monroe, in whose district the area lies, has taken somewhat of a tongue-in-cheek attitude and counter-proposed that Michigan take all of Toledo to go along with the lost peninsula rather than give the square-mile Erie Township to our southern neighbors.

Kehres acknowledges he opposes the Ohio bid. He semi-seriously discusses asking Congress to let the people of the peninsula vote on the question of annexing to Ohio.

He might be wise to consider the Ohio proposal in the tenor in which it was made. The 130 voters might surprise him if he pursues it lightly.

I read lately in one of the Michigan farm magazines that some pickle companies were going to move to some other state if they did not bring in this cheap labor. May I ask what state are they moving to? And what state is bringing in cheap labor?

I ALSO know of an editor of a well-known farm magazine who said when the price of beans gets too high that everyone else like the druggist and used car salesman wants to get into farming. What kind of thinking is that? Don't the farmers already own the land? Or are they going to produce more land? As long as these associations of manufacturers are building plants in Europe and hiring Jap labor at 29 cents per hour, they're doing American labor out of jobs.

It's time to quit bringing in cheap labor and give our own people here the opportunity to earn more.

Derby was great, Laingsburg man says

I WANT TO express appreciation to the many, many fine people of the St. Johns area who were involved in presenting last Sunday's Soap Box Derby.

The parade was terrific, the crowd enthusiastic, and the cars were fast on a dry track under a beautiful blue sky. I know that somewhere hidden from view by the dust stirred up by the race cars are at least a couple dozen men and women who deserve a pat on the back for their vision and desire to promote the event.

I KNOW there must be a hundred or more parents around St. Johns who have lived these past months with sawdust throughout the house, dried paint that got on your best towel, and maybe even the piano bench that nearly was sawed in two. And I'll bet there are a dozen or more sisters who look with pride on that baby brother who only a few weeks ago was next to useless.

There are several civic and youth-minded people who put up a small pile of money to finance construction of the 50-some sleek racers. Maybe their arms were twisted a little, but they now find that it didn't hurt a bit.

NOTHING IN the past has given St. Johns as vital an image as last Sunday's event. Your city is destined to become as big as these men who've stooped to help your little boys.

A final credit must go to the newspaper man who had an idea back in 1933 and to the Chevrolet division of General Motors who have put up countless thousands of dollars since to keep his idea alive.

Best wishes

COUNTRY FLAVOR

Blue banner of blue flags brings quickening of heart

HAYDEN PEARSON

Blue flags are waving in the swales, along the brooks and creeks and around the edges of swamps. The stately, handsome blossoms are borne on tall, stiff stems; the long, slender, pointed leaves remind one of spears. It was Ruskin who said that the blue iris is the flag of chivalry, with a sword for its leaf and the lily for its heart.

Many centuries ago the famous Crusader, Louis the Seventh, adopted the blue flower as the emblem of his house. As the "Flower of Louis" it gradually assumed the name, "fleur de lis." Rich in history and both beautiful and dignified, it is a fitting flower for royalty. Longfellow wrote it was a "flower born in the purple, to joy and pleasure."

THE BLUEFLAG iris likes rich, moist soil. From May into July the colorful pennants glow among the grasses. Botanically it is a remarkable flower because of a method evolved over the centuries whereby the bees must carry the pollen from flower to flower when they harvest the nectar.

Scientists tell us that blue is the color which best attracts bees. The bees land safely on the platform of the handsome sepal and follow the dark veins and golden lines to the nectar cup. These are the technical details and it is good to know botanical facts.

BUT ON A SUNNY June day when blue banners dot the low spots and the bobolinks are trilling exuberant arias, the important point is that the heart responds to the royal hue when the blue flags wave beneath a blue sky.

Summer time is reading time. Here are a fine group of books for your consideration that make good hammock-reading for warm sunny days.

"The Collector," by John Fowles, is a very unusual novel. The hero is an obscure clerk whose chief interest is his collection of butterflies. He has one other interest, however, and that is his admiration for a beautiful young art student.

AFTER HE won a fortune in a football pool, he hatches a plot to kidnap her. He buys a secluded country house, makes all preparations and carries out his plot successfully. The novel concerns the two months he keeps the girl a prisoner. The story is revealed first in his words, and then in the girl's as she secretly records her impressions in a diary. The author has made his characters so real that the reader is fascinated.

Brian Moore's new novel, "An Answer From Limbo," is a story about a writer. Obsessed with his desire to write, he sacrifices his family to his desire. The locale is modern New York, and the reader gets the feel of a big city and all its excitement. The book is a real portrait of modern living.

"TORTOISE BY Candlelight" by Nina Bowden is a fascinating story of a young heroine who strives at 14 to hold her family together through heavy odds. She looks after her amiable, drunken father, her old grandmother, her beautiful older sister, her young brother, plus an assortment of pets. The child is a heroine to remember. The author is an English writer and the story is laid in a suburb of London.

For readers of historical fiction we have Agnes Turnbull's, "The King's Orchard." This is the story of a young Irish lad who came to this country in 1772. He later became a general in the Revolutionary War and had much to do with the development of the

"I HAVE compiled a list of the countries which are proceeding to give aid to South Vietnam at present, together with a statement of what aid is being provided—at least, those things that are being done which are not under security classification.

"These countries — and I shall not read everything they are doing, but I wish to name the countries — include Australia, Nationalist China, Japan, South Korea, Laos, Malaysia, New Zealand, the Philippines, Thailand, Greece, Turkey, Iran, Israel, India, Austria, Belgium, Canada, Denmark, France—even France has provided some aid—Germany, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, Holland, Spain, Switzerland, the United Kingdom, Argentina, Brazil, Ecuador, and Guatemala.

"IN ADDITION, it ought to be noted that only 10 nations were assisting us in South Vietnam prior to July 16, 1964, less than a year ago. The other 28 nations have begun their assistance since that time.

"In addition to the countries I have named, several other Central American countries, including Costa Rica, Honduras, Nicaragua, and El Salvador, have been trying to muster a medical team to send to South Vietnam for assistance. . . .

"NOWHERE HAVE I seen any kind of rundown in the news media or elsewhere which would indicate the degree of support which is being given to the free South Vietnamese people in their efforts to resist Communist aggression by North Vietnam and Red China. Therefore, I am happy to present this information for the benefit of all Senators and for the country as a whole in the hope that more recognition may be given of the assistance which other countries have been and are giving to South Vietnam and to the United States in the interest of preserving the freedom of people, not only in southeast Asia, but in the rest of the world as well, against Communist aggression. . . ." (The detailed list of assistance is too long to be included in this column.)

Grass Roots Comment

The items of assistance include, money, physicians, surgical hospitals and medical supplies, schools, teachers and school books, building supplies, prefabricated warehouses, military personnel and equipment, etc. The list is long.

What is equally important is that these countries are being identified with our efforts to combat Communist aggression. It's a good time to stand up and be counted.—J.C.

Clinton County Republican Women Gather in Ovid Park for Social Outing

Methodists honor Rev Smith, wife

Dr Howard A. Smith, pastor of the First Methodist Church of St. Johns until his recent promotion to Grand Traverse District superintendent, and his wife were honored at a farewell dinner by church members last Monday evening, June 21.

Some 165 persons attended, including ministers of several of the other churches in St. Johns.

THE program included members by the senior choir under the direction of Phyllis Rice, songs by the junior choir directed by Mrs John Rumbaugh, vocal selections by Judy, Jan, Tom and Patty Fowler and a song by Boy Scouts.

J. D. Robinson presented remarks on behalf of the congregation, and Les Jenkins told a few stories. Gordon Vandemark led the group in community singing. Judy Fowler gave the MYF benediction.

THE REV MR Smith was presented with a gift of money from the congregation, and Tom and Judy Fowler presented gifts to him and his wife from the junior and senior MYF groups.

Walt Nickel was master of ceremonies for the program. The dinner was a potluck affair, but Margaret McKay and Carol Furry were in charge of the kitchen.

4 from county get Ferris degrees

Four area residents were among the 983 Ferris State College students who received degrees or certificates at the June 13 commencement.

The graduates, part of an audience of more than 6,000, heard Walter F. Carey, chairman of the board of the United States Chamber of Commerce, explain the labor paradox where "nearly four million Americans are without jobs at a time when personnel managers are combing the country for skilled workers."

THE STUDENTS and their fields of specialization were:

Bath: Kenneth D. Allen, BS, commerce, accounting.

DeWitt: Robert R. Doak, BS, commerce, business administration; Danny L. Salters, certificate, general printing, trade and industrial division.

St. Johns: Jerry J. Sharick, certificate, auto machine shop, trade and industrial division.

Flavor bread crumbs

Here's an easy way to make cheese - flavored bread crumbs for casserole toppings—and clean your grater at the same time! Next time after you grate or shred cheese, run a dry bread crust over the grater. The bread removes sticky cheese bits, giving you flavored bread crumbs at the same time.

Summer fashion tips to keep you crisp

Fun-to-wear colors and the easy look follow the young adult in this summer's fashion sun. Shifts, skimmers, smocks, shirts or sashes are all swinging scene-stealers.

But the color that's bright, the look that's relaxed, droops too often by mid-vacation, just when it's most important for a girl to be in the spotlight.

To stay on stage all summer with the look of fashion freshness takes a bit of doing in between sunning, swimming and a part-time job, but the extra effort pays off in extra attention.

—SAVE THE hang tags from new fashions for reference until you're thoroughly familiar with laundering procedures; too hot water or unnecessary bleach can ruin a fashion at its first tubbing.

—Sort clothes into groups which can be washed together, or a favorite pink smock might easily turn gray-blue.

—Check for any stains, then pre-treat them before washing. Suntan lotion, a dollop of mustard from yesterday's picnic, or even make-up can leave unwelcome marks if not properly pre-treated.

—Whether washing by hand or machine, check water temperature and washing action. Particularly important for washing by hand is a thorough rinsing.

—The finishing touch is putting the fashion look back in place with starch.

—Use a dry or steam iron, but be sure to check the iron temperature setting for the type of fabric first. Iron in long smooth strokes, moving ironed surfaces away from you to prevent wrinkling. Iron small areas first, then larger ones. Navy blues, blacks and other dark colors should be ironed on the wrong side to avoid shine.

It's a dilly of a skillet meal

A summer supper to please the family is this frankfurter and potato scallop deftly seasoned with dill. This main dish is designed for cooking ease and is a perfect choice for busy days. An Orange-Carrot Mold, made with the young sweet carrots that summer brings, would make a perfect salad.

DILLY FRANK AND POTATO SCALLOP

3 slices bacon
6 frankfurters, cut into 1-inch lengths
4 c cubed raw potatoes
1 tsp. minced onion
1 c boiling water
1 tall can evaporated milk (1 2/3 cups)
1 tsp. dried dill weed
1 tsp. salt
Dash of pepper

Fry bacon in a large skillet over low heat until crisp. Drain on paper toweling, leaving fat in skillet. Add frankfurter chunks to bacon fat; cook over medium heat to brown lightly, stirring frequently. Drain on paper toweling. Add potatoes and onion to skillet; cook and stir until most of the fat has been absorbed, 3 to 4 minutes. Add water and evaporated milk. Reduce temperature to low. Cook, stirring occasionally, until potatoes are tender and sauce begins to thicken, 20 to 25 minutes. Add dill weed, salt, pepper and frankfurter; heat to serving temperature. Garnish with crumbled bacon. Makes 4 servings.

ORANGE-CARROT MOLDED SALAD

2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
2 tsp. salt
1/2 c sugar
3 c orange juice, divided
2 tsp. grated or minced onion
2 tsp. vinegar
4 c finely grated carrot

Combine gelatine, salt and sugar. Add 1 cup of the orange juice and stir over low heat until gelatine dissolves. Add remaining 2 cups orange juice, onion and vinegar. Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold in grated carrot. Pour into 1-quart mold or individual molds and refrigerate until firm. To unmold, dip quickly into hot water to loosen edges; turn out onto serving platter. Garnish with salad greens if desired. YIELD: 6 servings.

Hints to help fight one summer problem

By BETTY KETCHAM
County Extension Agent
Home Economics

Mildew puts on a growing campaign in summer. Conditions in many Michigan homes are just right for mildew to form on clothing. It usually appears in damp, closed places, such as basements, closets and even drawers.

If you see a speck of mildew appear, get busy. First carry the clothing outdoors and brush off the surface growth. It's best to work outside since mildew spores scatter. Also, the sun and air help "treat" the fabric. Non-washable garments then should be rushed to the dry cleaner.

WASHABLE items should be put through the laundry cycle, then dried in the sun. If a stain remains, it may be necessary to use a bleach, such as lemon juice and salt, household chlorine bleach, or sodium perborate bleach (available at grocery stores). Test the bleach before it is used on a colored fabric. Try it on an inside seam or hem of the garment to see if it is safe for the color.

A mixture of lemon juice and salt can be applied to the stain and left to bleach in the sun, then rinsed thoroughly and dried.

DILUTE solutions of chlorine bleach should be used according to directions on the container. This type of bleach cannot be used on silk, wool or some fabrics with special finishes. Here's where it pays to save the instruction tag when you buy a new dress.

Perborate bleach is prepared by mixing one tablespoon sodium perborate to one pint of water. Use hot water if the fabric will stand it. Otherwise, use lukewarm water. Sponge the stain or soak it in the solution or sprinkle the sodium perborate powder directly on the dampened stain. Leave the solution or powder on the stain for a half hour and keep it moist. Then rinse well. Repeat if the stain remains.

If you'd like more information about getting rid of dampness, musty odors or more details on mildew—stop by the extension office and pick up a copy of "How to Prevent and Remove Mildew."

MEET YOUR CLUB PRESIDENT Women's Fellowship

MRS FORREST ROOT

The Women's Fellowship of the First Congregational Church has as its president, Mrs Forrest Root of 407 East State Street. Mrs Root is accomplished at many handicrafts. She sews almost all of her own clothing, knits, hooks rugs and quilts. She stuffs toys for Christmas gifts and church bazaars, does upholstery and her own decorating. In the line of antiques, she collects China and furnishings. Her husband refinishes the furnishings and Mrs Root canes the chairs. Win scholarships at Baptist college

The two St. Johns girls who competed recently for scholarships to Regular Baptist Colleges of their choice won semester scholarships and plan to attend Grand Rapids Baptist Bible College.

The girls are Bonnie Stockwell, daughter of Mr and Mrs Oscar Stockwell of 706 Church Street, and Lois Dodway, 17, daughter of Mr and Mrs W. J. Dodway of 204 East Baldwin Street.

MISS Stockwell was a member of the St. Johns High School concert choir and accompanist, was a member of the Wilsonaires and an honor student. She attends the First Baptist Church of St. Johns, where she is church organist and Sunday school pianist.

She plans to take up a music course at the Grand Rapids college. She has had piano for four years, organ for one year and several voice lessons. Her musical talents have been used at church, school, camp and in community activities.

MISS DODWAY was treasurer of the Latin Club, secretary of the Debate Club and a member of the Science Club. She attained a high school average of 3.567. She was the winner of the Olivetti-Underwood Award for best typist at the high school.

She is a member of the choir, a pianist and president of the Young People's group at the First Baptist Church. She enjoys writing for school and her own enjoyment and she has taken two years of piano lessons.

MISS DODWAY plans to begin college on a general course including music, English and general Bible courses.

She won her scholarship on the basis of competition in journalism. Miss Stockwell's competition category was organ.

Special highway patrols planned over holiday

Special state police highway patrols will be operated over the Independence Day weekend beginning at noon, Friday, July 2, and continuing until midnight Monday, July 5, according to Commissioner Frederick E. Davids.

Emphasizing that Michigan's road toll of 43 deaths in the July 4 period last year was one of the state's worst holiday losses, Davids appealed to drivers to be especially vigilant in the expected heavy traffic.

PASS DAYS for State Police uniform officers are cancelled for the four days July 2-5. Detectives where available will be used to relieve uniform officers for patrol duty.

There will be maximum patrol coverage from 3 to 9 p.m. each day of the holiday period, with special attention to highway sections showing bad accident experience.

ASSISTING THE State Police will be 108 National Guard members who will serve as second men on two-man patrols or on point control.

Road Commission Weekly Report

The Board of Clinton County Road Commissioners will hold their next regular meeting on Tuesday, July 6. The office will be closed Monday, July 5.

At the next commission meeting the Board will open bids for the July and August requirements for gasoline and will also take quotations for diesel fuel for a six-months period to the end of 1965.

THE commission expects to announce a decision on the closing of Jason Road at Lake Victoria at this meeting.

An employees' meeting was held last week to discuss picnic plans. The annual road commission employees picnic will be held July 26. Bruce Woodbury was elected picnic chairman for 1965.

ALTHOUGH all federal aid projects are held up pending legislation to correct right-of-way control, surveys are continuing on the Island Road bridge project at Elsie. We still hope to let contracts on this project as well as the Howe Road bridge across the Looking Glass in Eagle Township.

The blacktopping program will start about July 12, weather permitting. The second applications of calcium chloride in the dust control program will also be done the first part of July.

Les Drago, county road engineer-manager is on vacation this week.

Ketosis control progress

Ketosis, a stress disease in dairy cattle most prevalent at the peak of production in high producing cows, is still plaguing Michigan farmers. But science is making giant strides in its control, reports a Michigan State University dairy scientist.

R. S. Emery says a recent survey of 1,032 calvings turned up 190 cases of ketosis. The disease produced a loss of appetite, depressed milk production and apparent lack of pep.

"We are not sure what triggers ketone production in the udder, but a relative energy deficiency could be responsible," comments Emery. "Heavier feeding may help avoid the problem, but the energy demand of the mammary gland might still exceed the cow's ability to transport nutrients to the gland.

"About one-half of the Ketotic cows surveyed had some infectious disease which is twice the normal disease incidence at this stage of lactation. Ketosis cannot be effectively treated unless this infection is cured."

THE MSU dairy scientist notes that once ketosis starts, it is self-accelerating. Thus, early detection and treatment is very important.

"We recommend checking the milk from fresh cows at weekly intervals for milk ketones. Powdered commercially available for this purpose will detect acetone in milk which is two to three times the normal level.

"A cow with this level of milk ketones should be treated immediately, even if not obviously sick. Propylene glycol has been the most economical, palatable, and effective of products available for this purpose."

EMERY says dairymen should use one-fourth pound propylene glycol per day for any cow with positive milk ketones. Twice that dosage should be used if symptoms persist.

"These cows must be watched closely because they will require treatment for associated diseases," advises Emery.

Bovine TB hits 12-year low

The lowest incidence of bovine tuberculosis in the state in a dozen years has been disclosed by cattle tests conducted in the past 11 months.

The program to stamp out this costly disease of cattle is operated cooperatively by the Michigan Department of Agriculture's Livestock Disease Control Division and the USDA's Animal Disease Eradication Division.

OF THE 232,940 cattle tested during the 11-month period, only 586 animals showed a positive reaction. In comparison nearly 6,000 cattle were found to be reactors by testing in 1959, said Agricultural Director G. S. McIntyre.

Reactor cattle are promptly sent to slaughter to prevent spread of the disease.

Michigan has 10 counties accredited by the USDA as tuberculosis-free counties. These are Alger, Berrien, Crawford, Gogebic, Iron, Keweenaw, Montmorency, Otsego, Roscommon and Van Buren. All 83 Michigan counties, however, are modified accredited counties.

TESTING IS being completed in 14 counties toward reaccreditation, and testing soon will be started in 20 others in the joint effort of the two governmental agencies to eradicate bovine tuberculosis in Michigan.

A little toilet water on a cloth will remove pancake makeup stains from a shirt collar... Perspiration and dirt can effect the fibers of certain socks, so have them washed out promptly... If a spot on your tie is particularly stubborn, hold it over steam, which may loosen imbedded dirt. Then use cleaning fluid.

Begin Heaping High With Grain Heap Big Cars

St. Johns Co-operative Co. loaded up two jumbo box cars with corn Wednesday for shipment to Fitchburg, Mass. The "Big John Jumbos" hold 3,500 bushels of grain, compared to 2,000 bushels stored in normal box cars. The insides of the cars are a bright swimming-pool blue. John Hall, (right) secretary-treasurer-manager of the co-op, watches the loading of the cars with Wilbur Thurston, a member of the board of directors. Clare Matter supervises the loading from on top of one of the cars.

Housing credit available now to senior citizens

Elderly people, if they live in rural areas, need not give up the idea of building, buying or repairing their homes on credit. This word comes from Forrest O. Potter, Farmers Home Administration county supervisor, serving Shiawassee and Clinton counties.

Potter said citizens who are 62 years and over, living in a rural community of 2,500 or less, may be eligible for a 33-year loan bearing 4 per cent interest to buy an older home or build a new one.

THE FHA Supervisor said elderly residents may also be eligible for smaller loans for home repairs. He pointed out the increasing demand in small towns for rental units designed to meet the housing needs of older folks.

The FHA can loan direct funds to non-profit organizations for construction of senior citizen rental housing units designed for independent living. Funds for construction of senior citizen rental housing units may also be provided by private investors with FHA guaranteeing repayment.

THIS FISCAL year through April 30, the FHA advanced $5,586,876 to senior citizens for construction, buying and repairing of individual homes. The total loaned is up 17 per cent over a similar period last fiscal year.

In Michigan, FHA has loaned $46,850 to individual senior citizens to meet rental housing needs during the first 10 months of fiscal 1965. Over 1,200 elderly people in the 50 states, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands were able to get loans for new or improved housing through the senior citizen rural housing program of the FHA. Another $1,248,510 was advanced by the US Department of Agriculture agency for the construction of rental housing units for senior citizens during the same period, July 1, 1964, through April 30, 1965.

"FARMERS Home Administration's senior citizen housing loan program offers citizens 62 years and older an opportunity to have housing suited to their needs in the community in which they have spent their working years," Potter said. "This program also stimulates the local economy by providing jobs for workers engaged in the construction industry and customers for local trades and services."

In 1962 Congress authorized FHA to make direct loans and insured loans to individuals and corporations to finance rental housing for the elderly. FHA direct loans for senior citizen rental housing in rural communities bear 3.75 per cent interest, with up to 50 years for repayment. But loans insured by the agency for rental housing currently bear 5.75 per cent interest. Borrowers have up to 40 years to repay.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION about the senior citizen rural housing loan program is available at the FHA office. The FHA Of-ice serving Clinton and Shiawassee counties is located at 213-215 Miner Building, 114 East Main Street, Owosso, and County Supervisor Potter has office day at his office every Monday.

Conservation means beauty

Good land use is one major step in living up to Michigan's motto, "If you seek a pleasant peninsula, look about you," says a Michigan State University soil and water conservation expert.

Russell G. Hill, MSU Department of Resource Development, says that farmers can make a major contribution toward beautifying America by using good soil and water conservation practices.

BESIDES being unattractive, land scarred with gullies, wind erosion, and over-grazed hillsides are primary causes of silted streams, muddy water, and flooding. Such conditions also contribute to low crop productivity, farming inefficiency, property damage, and fish and wildlife habitat damage, adds Hill.

Already 43,000 cooperators with Michigan's 82 Soil Conservation Districts are helping out in a land beautification and renovation program.

AT LEAST 30 different soil and water conservation practices are now being used. Among the more scenic practices says Hill, are: reforestation, wildlife plantings, windbreaks, grass waterways, farm ponds, contour strip-cropping, and pasture management.

Even in August, Lake Superior water has a temperature from 50 to 55 degrees, and the ground water temperature is between 45 and 48 degrees. Thus, industry using large quantities of water for cooling finds the Upper Peninsula most attractive.

REGULAR ZONING COMMISSION MEETING

The Clinton County Zoning Commission will hold a regular meeting in the Courthouse, in the City of St. Johns on at 8 p.m.

Any persons having interests in the county, or their duly appointed representatives, will be heard relative to any matters that should properly come before the Zoning Commission.

CONCRETE MASONRY

"Grade A" sanitation is easier. A concrete masonry barn is simple to keep spotless, ready to pass any inspection. Hard-surfaced walls wash down easily. The barn stays draft-free and dry in all kinds of weather.

Today's concrete masonry has new versatility. It is made with a variety of aggregates and, for decorative uses, there are new shapes and patterns. Construction is quick, too, with concrete masonry. Every time a block is laid, nine-tenths of a square foot of wall is built.

Moderate in initial cost, concrete masonry lasts a lifetime with little upkeep. It's easy to insulate. There is no rust, no rotting. Weather, rodents or termites can't hurt it. And there's extra fire safety.

More pigs per litter. A concrete masonry farrowing house is the modern pork producer's maternity hospital. It's easy to sanitize and keep disease-free.

It's Official! Ribbon Cutting Opens Sears' New Store Here

Rev Wittenbach new Maple Rapids pastor

MAPLE RAPIDS— The Rev Rudy A. Wittenbach, who has served the St. Johns parish for the past two years, has moved with his family to the Methodist parsonage at Maple Rapids. He will be serving the Maple Rapids, Lowe, and Greenbush Methodist churches.

Mr and Mrs Wittenbach have lived near Lowell and until recently Mr Wittenbach operated a farm with his son-in-law, Robert Ulrich. The Wittenbachs are the parents of five children, Mrs Robert Ulrich (Beth) of Lowell; Douglas, who died in 1945; Laurence, a junior at Adrian College; Alan, who is living with his sister and will be a senior in Lowell High School; and Robert, who is a junior in high school.

REV R. A. WITTENBACH

school and served as lay leader and president of the Methodist Men in both the Lowell and Alto Methodist churches. He also served as Methodist Youth Fellowship counselor in both of these churches.

In 1957 Mr Wittenbach received a local preacher's license and since that time has served as a part-time supply pastor of the Milo-Prairieville charge, Hastings Parish, Snow Methodist Church, and the St. Johns Parish.

ON JUNE 14, 1964, he was ordained a local deacon and is now a full-time supply pastor. This summer he will be attending Garrett Theological Seminary to complete the courses required to be a local elder in the Methodist Church.

No mail this Monday

Regular holiday schedules will be observed by all area post offices this Monday, July 5, by virtue of the fact that July 4—Independence Day—falls on a Sunday.

No delivery service, except special delivery, will be provided. Street mail collections will be made on a normal holiday schedule, and outgoing mail will be dispatched from St. Johns.

The St. Johns Post Office lobby will remain open Monday until 6:30 p.m., providing access to lock boxes and mail deposit slots.

Michigan Travel Events

Here are state-wide events listed for the next week by the Michigan Tourist Council:

International Freedom Festival at Detroit through Monday; Lake Odessa Fair at Lake Odessa through Monday; National Forest Festival at Manistee Friday through Monday; Sky Valley Ranch Rodeo at Kalkaska Saturday and Sunday; Seaway Festival at Muskegon Saturday through July 10; Boat Parade at Gun Lake, Hastings, Sunday; Negaunee Centennial at Negaunee Sunday; Blueberry Festival at South Haven and National Cherry Festival at Traverse City Monday through July 9; and Cork Pine Fair at Vassar Monday through July 10.

6 county students in final music camp concert

Six Clinton County musicians will participate this Saturday in the final concert by students attending Central Michigan University's annual school music camp.

They're among 265 junior and senior high school musicians who are winding up their two-week stay at the music camp. Their first concert was held last Sunday. This Saturday's closing concert will be at 2:30 p.m. in Wariner Auditorium on the CMU campus.

COUNTY musicians are Susan Wickerham of rural DeWitt, a sophomore next year at St. Johns High School, participating in chorus; Thelma Dunham and Janice Kelley of Elsie, both sophomores at Ovid-Elsie High School participating in band and chorus; Rita Washburn of Elsie, a junior taking part in band and chorus; Helen Mae Benson of St. Johns, a sophomore in chorus; and Richard Creese, St. Johns senior, participating in band.

Schools must fill 3 or 4 vacancies

The St. Johns Public School District still has a need for three and maybe four teachers for next year. At the high school level, a speech correctionist and an English teacher are needed. One and possibly two teachers are needed for the rural schools.

Laingsburg seeking boys for Derby

LAINGSBURG — Laingsburg boys are being encouraged to participate in the Soap Box Derby in Lansing July 11. Robert E. Tisch of Laingsburg is working on the arrangements. At least two boys from Laingsburg are building cars for the race.

Exchange Club hears of East

Installation of officers and showing of color slides of the Far East were highlights at last Thursday's noon meeting of the St. Johns Exchange Club.

Rolan Sleight was guest speaker for the day, and he showed part of 1,100 slides he took while on a trip to the Far East last March. Points of special interest on the trip were Japan, India, Hong Kong, Singapore, Bangkok and Nepal.

JAPAN HE described as a "very clean, very industrious" nation. Other Far Eastern nations are just beginning to raise themselves out of economic despair, with India leading the way.

"Publicity of the United States' bad points in these countries so outweighs the good publicity that we are losing political ground among the people there," Sleight observed. He said he feels more publicity on America's good points is needed.

SLEIGHT WAS able to go to Nepal, which only about seven years ago was opened to outside travelers. Nepal is a mountainous nation to the north of India.

Sleight was introduced by Dr Clifford Lambert, outgoing president of the Exchange Club, who was program chairman.

The officers installed had been elected two weeks earlier. They include Charles Huntington as president, Milo Rowell vice president, Robert Wood secretary, Kenneth Moore treasurer, and Walter Nickel and Edward Sulka as members of the board of directors. Others on the board of directors are John Rehmann and William M. Smith. Dr Lambert became an ex-officio member of the board.

GUESTS at the meeting included Bob Gill, personnel manager of Sealed Power, and Lyle French, St. Johns police officer.

Ten Clinton County boys who might never have had a chance to attend a summer camp will wind up 12 days at the YMCA camp west of Clare tomorrow. The 10 boys were sponsored by the St. Johns Exchange Club, representing about $560 in camp tuition.

New York longshoremen average $6,600 a year.

Farm fish ponds big rural asset

BY HARRY HARDEN
Soil Conservation Service

Brian "Buck" Chant, son of Mr and Mrs Donald Chant of 3288 S. DeWitt Road in Bingham Township, is very proud of the pond that Dad had built on their farm in 1963 under the supervision of the US Soil Conservation Service.

The pond is a natural for trout, as it is spring fed and maintains a constant water temperature that does not reach over 70 degrees during summer months.

NOT EVERY pond in Clinton County can support trout. Today there is a great need in developing likeable sites into a beauty spot for family recreation. This gives many boys and girls a chance to fish for fun and catch fish for their efforts.

Brian is dreaming of tomorrow when the trout he's feeding today will give him a good fight on the end of his fish pole.

ANYONE who has an interest in developing a farm pond can get information from the US Soil Conservation office at 100 S. Ottawa Street in St. Johns.

4-H Fair book now available

The Clinton County 4-H Fair Book is now available at the extension office in the courthouse in St. Johns, Donald Walker, county extension agent for 4-H Club work, informed 4-H leaders last week.

The 1965 4-H Fair will be Aug. 16, 17 and 18.

Entry blanks for fair exhibits are due to be returned to the extension office by July 30. One type of entry is used for all livestock and dairy exhibits and another kind for all other projects.

Any boy or girl between 9 and 19 years old can join 4-H.

Brian "Buck" Chant feeds rainbow trout in his Dad's farm pond, proud as any boy could be with hopes he can fish every day, even if he does have to put a few back. Hungry trout keep the water roiled at feeding time.

FB names 2 youths to citizen seminar

Selection of two county youths to attend the Michigan Farm Bureau's second annual Young People's Citizenship Seminar July 12-16 at Camp Kett near Tustin were announced last week.

Named to attend the seminar were Roger Smith, 17, son of Mr and Mrs Douglas Smith, 15118 Turner Street, DeWitt, and Chuck Openlander, 16, son of Mr and Mrs Herman Openlander of 8361 Clark Road, R-3, Grand Ledge.

SMITH WILL be a senior at DeWitt High School; Openlander is a junior at Grand Ledge High School.

Some 140 high school students—both boys and girls—will attend the camp. "The endpoint is to do our part in helping to make these students better citizens—some what better informed than average and more cognizant of their duties and responsibilities as coming citizens," Farm Bureau Program Director J. Delbert Wells said.

Four major issues will be presented and discussed at the seminar:

1) AN interpretation of American principals, with Dr Clifton Ganus of Harding College, Searcy, Ark., as main speaker.

2) A review of communism, its history, principles, leaders and objectives, with emphasis on its clash with American ideals, by W. Cleon Skousen, author of "The Naked Communist."

3) A look at private capitalism, as a way of producing goods and services and also some contrast to "socialist systems," by Dr Lewis Lloyd, economist for Dow Chemical Co.

4) A LOOK at politics in America, how it operates and how citizens can and should participate, by D. Hale Brake, Michigan State Assn. of Supervisors.

Use of films, talks, discussion groups and even a mock county political convention as a demonstration project are planned.

Members of the Farm Bureau committee which selected the county delegates were Mr and Mrs Lewis Babbitt, Mr and Mrs Leon Garlock, Mr and Mrs Levi Blakeslee, Mrs Bernice Rice, and Mr and Mrs Willard Krebel.

AGRICULTURE in ACTION

by M. L. Woell
MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

At long last, Michigan carrots will get the recognition they deserve with CARROT DAY proclaimed for Friday, the 13th of August.

Sponsors of the event, scheduled for the Grant area of Newaygo County, feel that Friday the 13th will be anything but unlucky for carrot lovers. For one thing, the date is hard to forget. Too, labor problems which have threatened the supply and price structure of many vegetables have not been so pronounced in the carrot field where mechanization is most easy to apply.

VEGETABLE growers should be especially interested in the automation angle and the possibilities it may have for other Michigan crops. Carrot varieties, minimum tillage, fertilizer trial-plots and a tour of packing and processing plants will be featured along with the mechanized harvest and handling operations.

With a wary eye on the big city markets of nearby Chicago, Detroit and New York, Michigan growers are confident that they can boost our state from its current number - three carrot producing spot to number - one in the nation.

CARROTS deserve this kind of confidence. Almost without exception, housewives have learned to be suspicious of most other vegetables they buy. They peel back the husks of fresh corn to check the kernels, they squeeze cantaloupes to determine ripeness and fondle tomatoes to see if they have spoiled spots.

Not so with carrots. Only semi-perishable, carrots are considered to be of one quality—good. The smart housewife tosses the bag of carrots in the shopping cart without a second thought.

WHEN IT comes to cashing in on this consumer confidence, the Market Development department of Michigan Farm Bureau—a stout "Carrot Day" booster—feels that Michigan growers are in an enviable position. Michigan soils and climate are near-perfect for straight, sturdy, disease-free roots, and these natural attributes have been enhanced by the excellent research of horticultural specialists at Michigan State University.

ASC PROGRAM

Assistance to establish permanent vegetative cover

W. M. SMITH
County ASC Manager

The purpose of this practice is to encourage and assist farmers in the establishment of a permanent vegetative cover for soil protection or as a needed land use adjustment.

This practice is applicable only to land which should be established in permanent vegetative cover for protection against wind or water erosion and to cropland which, as a part of a needed land use adjustment is being shifted to permanent protective vegetative cover other than as a part of the regular crop rotation.

FALL SEEDINGS of companion or nurse crops shall not be harvested as grain. Forage from the companion or nurse crop and the permanent vegetation may be used in any manner consistent with good management. The seedbed should be prepared by plowing, disking, or springtoothing or such other methods as well establish a good seedbed.

A current soil test shall be made and liming materials and commercial fertilizer shall be applied as recommended by a laboratory operated under the supervision of the Cooperative Extension Service.

A CURRENT soil test shall be construed to mean a soil test made on a composite soil sample taken from the area involved in the practice. The sample shall have been taken sufficiently recently that in the opinion of the County Extension Service, proper recommendation can be made for liming materials and/or fertilizer on the basis of the test of such sample.

Approved liming materials are: ground limestone, marl, and sugar beet refuse lime.

APPROVED SEEDS are: timothy, brome grass, birdsfoot trefoil and timothy, alfalfa and brome grass, red clover and timothy, and Reeds canary grass.

The cost-share assistance for seed depends on the seed used and it varies from 50 cents per acre to $2.20 per acre.

The cost-share assistance for the amount of fertilizer recommended is 3 cents per pound of available plant food.

FOR GROUND limestone the cost-share is $2.75 per ton, sugar beet refuse lime, $1.37 per cubic yard, and marl, $1.25 per cubic yard.

Final date for seeding will be Aug. 31.

I urge anyone interested in seeding acreage to a permanent vegetative cover to contact our office for a practice sheet which will give more details for amount of seed to use. Our office is located at 100 S. Ottawa Street, St.

Johns. A request for cost-share assistance must be made before the practice is started.

Bible School draws pupils

GUNNISONVILLE— The Dally Vacation Bible School held at Gunnisonville Community Methodist Church during the past two weeks ended Friday with an average attendance of 82 students per day.

The theme was "My Savior Teaches Me." The Bible School program was presented during the morning worship service Sunday, June 27. Greeters were Mr and Mrs Ernie Fritz and Christian Fellowship coffee hostess, Mrs Margaret Stampfly.

Teachers and helpers during Bible School were as follows: director, Mrs John Hagy; nursery teachers, Mrs Ron Parkinson and Mrs Marvin Rhynard; beginners' teachers, Mrs Allen Hunt and Mrs Charles Fritz; primary, Mrs Roy Shirey and Mrs Jack Dubois; juniors, Mrs Alva Hartman and Mrs Bill Gregory; teenagers, Mrs Clyde Smith and Mrs Edward Homer; music, Mrs Merl Trowbridge and Mrs Malcolm Hirshey; helpers, Mrs Wilbur Siel, Mrs David Gardner, Mrs Bonnie Perry, Miss Kay Smith and Mrs Ernie Fritz.

Welcome pastor during service

GUNNISONVILLE— During the morning worship service, Rev Stephan Nicholson, associate pastor of the community church, introduced the new pastor, Rev William Cessna, and his family to the congregation. Rev Cessna preached his first sermon in Gunnisonville.

The men's quartet of the senior choir sang the anthem, "In the Garden," with Rev Nicholson at the organ. Greeters were Mr and Mrs Ray Shirey and Christian Fellowship coffee hostess was Mrs Gail Hill.

Rev and Mrs Cessna, daughter Candy, age 12, and son Stephan, age 10, arrived in New York City 10 days earlier from Japan where they spent 2 years doing missionary work. They recently moved into the parsonage at Emmanuel Methodist Church. He will be pastor at both the Emmanuel and Gunnisonville churches. Rev Nicholson is leaving as associate pastor due to other commitments concerning his work.

Mr and Mrs Chet Urie held an open house at their home on Boichot Road Sunday, June 20, in honor of their daughter Anna's high school graduation. Guests were present from Flint, Carson City, Blanchard and Lansing. Lyman Case, Boichot Road, is in Lansing General Hospital where he is undergoing tests and observation.

Miss Loui Lea Fritz, daughter of Mr and Mrs Charles Fritz, spent three days in Lansing General Hospital where she underwent a tonsillectomy.

Fathers are feted at area churches

GUNNISONVILLE — Father's Day was observed in Sunday School and morning worship service at Gunnisonville Community Methodist Church Sunday, June 20.

The children presented a special program of songs, skits, and readings for their fathers. Loui Lea Fritz gave the prayer during the Sunday school hour.

One of the most important fruit belts of the nation is in Western Michigan along Lake Michigan, where the largest fresh fruit auction in the world is located at Benton Harbor.
