Car-tractor collisions hospitalize 5

Five people were hospitalized in two separate car-tractor accidents in Clinton County last Thursday afternoon. Both occurred on main trunkline routes highways.

The most serious occurred at 2:20 p.m. a half-mile west of Fowler, and four persons in the car involved were taken to Carson City Hospital.

THEY WERE the driver, Eva M. Decker, 41, of R-3, St. Johns, and son Patrick, 5, both of whom suffered bruises, and Priscilla 12, and Richard Decker, 7, who each suffered cuts and bruises.

Both vehicles were traveling west on M-21. The auto hit the rear of the tractor and then spun off the right side of the road, ending up 150 feet west of the impact. The tractor wound up on the south (left) side of the road 243 feet away, where it knocked down fence belonging to Aloysius Schafer of R-2, Fowler.

IN THE OTHER car-tractor accident, a sports car driven by James D. Fox, 23, of Dill Road, DeWitt, smashed into a tractor driven by George R. Harmon, 41, of R-6, St. Johns north of Round Lake Road on US-27 about 5 p.m. the same afternoon. Harmon complained of pains resulting from the crash, but no one was reported hospitalized.

The tractor and auto were both going south on US-27. Fox, driver of the car, was ticketed for failure to stop in assured clear distance by Deputy Sheriff Hilary Hamer.

Hamer also investigated the Fowler area crash.

Hospital earns accreditation

Clinton Memorial Hospital in St. Johns has again been fully accredited for a three-year period by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. Word of approval from the national accrediting agency was received last week by Harold B. Reed, administrator.

Accreditation comes subsequent to a survey of the administrative and medical policies and procedures of the hospital by a representative of the joint commission in June of this year.

"THE STAFF and administration are commended for the evidence shown of good care given patients," said the Commission in their report. The agency also commended the hospital's current plans for new construction and renovation and urged that work on the project begin as soon as possible.

The Joint Commission is governed by representatives of the American College of Physicians, the American College of Surgeons, the American Hospital Assn. and the American Medical Assn.

Clinton Memorial has been on the accredited list since its establishment in 1926.

3 youths in jail 3 days for possession of beer

Daniel Dee, 20, of East Lansing, Jerry Hicks, 19, of R-4, St. Johns, and Daniel Dumond, 19, of Tallman Road, R-1, Eagle, served three days in the Clinton County Jail last week on charges of being in possession of beer. They were also each fined $25 plus $19.90 court costs. Justice of the Peace Gordon Willyoung heard the cases.

Cloud height light glass shot out

Glass in a US Weather Bureau instrument used to measure cloud heights near the Capital City Airport at Lansing was shot out some time during the night last Thursday, but the instrument continued to function. Since it is government property, the FBI was notified, and the Clinton County sheriff's office is cooperating in the investigation.

4-H'ers at big fair survive rain

Rain most of the day Tuesday had a decided dampening effect on the annual Clinton County 4-H Fair, but events were being run off anyway inside the fairgrounds buildings.

Junior dairy judging and sheep showmanship contests were held inside the quonset building, with swine and sheep pens being moved to make way for the contests.

Despite the rain, attendance at the fair was not affected greatly. When it rained outside, the crowds moved inside, and the display buildings were buzzing with people most of the day.

4-H Club Agent Don Walker said the weather did have the effect to hold down the crowd somewhat, but everyone attending was finding much of interest to look at inside the buildings.

UP UNTIL about 5 p.m. Monday, weather was fine for the 4-H'ers. The horse show was continuing after a 9 a.m. start, and the junior livestock judging contest was held at 3 p.m. under sunny skies. Heavy rain around 5 p.m. forced cancellation of the fun class at the horse show, and so the barrel bending and flag race events were called off.

The rain also washed out the 4-H All-Star softball games planned for Monday evening on the city park field.

WHEN RAIN continued Tuesday morning, make-shift arrangements were made in the quonset building, and many of the showmanship and judging contests were held inside. The junior dairy judging contest was delayed over an hour, with the intention of running it inside, but rain stopped long enough for it to begin outside about 11 a.m.

Several changes were noted in the number of exhibits. There were only two pens of swine this year, compared to about 12 last year, and both pens received rosettes and trips to the state 4-H show. Walker said that both pens had animals of high quality that would have shown well even if there had been competition.

IN THE OPPOSITE fashion, only two rocks and minerals displays were on hand at the fair last year, but this particular 4-H project "exploded" this year, as Walker put it, and there were a dozen or so displays.

The entomology exhibit was impressive this year, and the vegetable garden exhibits showed some fine quality products despite the dryness of the summer.

OVER IN Smith Hall, the aisles were filled with people looking at the foods, clothing, woodworking and other products.

Wednesday's program was still "on" at last word Tuesday, subject to the weather whims. That included judging of dairy cattle at 9 a.m., dairy showmanship contest at 3 p.m., exhibit parade by clubs at the bandshell at 7:30 p.m., style revue at 8:30 and a variety show at 8:45 p.m.

THE VARIETY show program consisted of four acts—the top two winners in small group and large group competition at the 4-H Talent Show July 10. Presentation of awards were to be made at the conclusion of the program.

Tuesday afternoon's free vaudeville show at the band shell got off to a hesitating start because of the weather, and it was not known at press time whether the evening show would be presented, for the same reason.

Results compiled in the various contests display judging through Tuesday afternoon are listed below:

JUNIOR LIVESTOCK JUDGING — Gene Messer of Fowler, first place; Rita Kissane of St. Johns, second; Janice Woodhams of St. Johns, third.

Merrill FFA Repeats as Trophy Winners

The Merrill High School FFA chapter, represented by Mike Dale (center), chapter president, and Richard Barnes, advisor, was awarded the George Brown Memorial Trophy for the third straight year Tuesday at the annual FFA Market Livestock School and sale at the Wolverine Stockyards in St. Johns. The trophy was awarded by Dr. Nicholas Georgiady, deputy superintendent for all instruction in the Department of Education at Michigan State University. An estimated 300 students took part in the program Tuesday, which included beef grading and a livestock sale.

Blowout ditches car, injures pair

A tire blowout caused a one-car accident late Saturday night in which two Clinton men were injured.

The men were Roger J. Smith, 21, of Westphalia and Orvan Forbes, 27, of 4251 Price Road, St. Johns. Both were hospitalized over the remainder of the weekend at Clinton Memorial Hospital with cuts and bruises and were released Monday.

THE ACCIDENT occurred at 11:30 p.m. Saturday on US-27 just south of Parks Road. According to Deputy Sheriff Bruce Wilcox, Smith's car had just passed another car when the left front tire blew out, causing Smith to lose control of the auto.

It went off the right (west) side of the highway and rolled over, ending up on its top on a creek bank against a small tree.

Fishing gear stolen

Harry Hardin of R-1, Elsie, reported to the sheriff's office Friday the theft of a spinning reel, fiberglass rod, a paint spray gun and some gasoline.

Expect announcement on drought disaster relief

Word on drought disaster relief for Clinton County farmers is expected before the week is out, but as of Tuesday morning no decision had been announced by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman.

Managers of Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service offices throughout Central Michigan were scheduled to meet today (Thursday) in Mt. Pleasant, and the feeling was that instructions on implementing the disaster relief would be given them at that time.

"I DON'T THINK there's any question but what we'll be declared a drought disaster area," William Smith, ASCS manager of St. Johns, said Tuesday. "I don't know what conditions would have to be if this isn't a drought disaster now. Most crops are ruined."

Clinton is one of 22 counties in the central part of the state which have been awaiting several weeks now for a decision from Washington. The State Disaster Committee and Gov. George Romney certified the need for the declaration.

A FEDERAL consultant, Stuart Simpson, completed a two-day tour of the Michigan drought area Friday, then returned to Washington to report to Secretary of Agriculture Freeman.

Simpson passed through 12 drought counties, but Clinton wasn't one of them. He described conditions as "very bad" in the central core of parched counties—Montcalm, Gratiot, Bay, Saginaw, Midland and Isabella. Counties outside those areas are not quite as bad, Simpson observed, "but they certainly were a long way from good."

PROGRAMS WHICH Freeman could approve by declaring the 22 counties drought disaster areas include allowing farmers to use soil bank land or diverted acres for haying and grazing land and allowing them to purchase feed grains from government storage at 75 per cent of the support price.

Farmers turning diverted acres of soil bank land into pasture would lose at least a share of their government diversion payments, however. But SCS Manager Smith at St. Johns said he has received many calls from farmers seeking to do this because of the shortage of hay and feed for their animals.

"WE HAVE no forms here now for farmers to make applications," Smith said. "But I have a feeling that Thursday's meeting may have been called to give us the information, and the forms, for implementing the disaster aid."

Congressman Paul H. Todd Jr. of the Third Congressional District, which includes Clinton County, added his plea for drought relief in a letter to Freeman Saturday.

"The drought in Central Michigan is the worst in 29 years," Todd said. "Unless disaster relief is not granted immediately, farmers in the counties affected will face a very serious situation."

"LAST WEEK I toured the affected counties of the Third District. Clinton County is in serious trouble, and Eaton County is very dry. In many counties reserve food supplies are short and hay and pasture yields are below normal.

"Granting permission to farmers to graze livestock or cut hay on crop lands retired or diverted from production would help greatly in the present situation," Todd said.

RAINS HAVE continued intermittently over Clinton County during the last week, but no great amounts have been recorded, generally speaking, and it appears to have been too late to save most crops, the Cooperative Extension Service said Friday.

Counties seeking disaster aid include Clinton, Clare, Gratiot, Ingham, Ionia, Isabella, Livingston, Mecosta, Menominee, Midland, Montcalm, Oakland, Saginaw, Shiawassee, Alcona, Alpena, Arenac, Bry, Genesee, Iosco, Montmorency and Ogemaw. In addition, Lapeer, Kalkaska, St. Clair, Sanilac, Tuscola, Gladwin and Oscoda counties have applied for aid, but the applications were still being considered by the State Disaster Committee early this week.

RAINFALL SINCE June 3 in the hardest-hit counties north of here is about 20 per cent of normal; other counties including Clinton received from 20 to 40 per cent of normal.

ASCS Manager Smith conceded that Clinton has been fortunate in that wells are not drying up because of the lack of rain. "If we would start losing wells around, it would really become serious. And a prolonged drought such as the eastern United States is going through would be extremely tough on us," Smith commented.

Final 'Ledges' play of year to be new musical

The Ledges Playhouse at Grand Ledge concludes its current season with the presentation of a new, exciting musical, "Battle Hymn," playing Aug. 24-28. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

Dave Hundhausen, a current favorite of the Ledges company, and Voneal Jensen, remembered for her work in "Enter Laughing," will play Lonnie and Martha, a pair of young lovers caught up in the hardship of the Civil War period. The play poignantly depicts the personal problems created by the Civil War from both northern and southern viewpoints.

HUMOR DERIVES from those "patriots" from north and south who joined the fighting in order to escape romantic entanglements and marital responsibilities. Astute cynical wit is displayed by "Senator Gastonhurst" who, in the brilliant patter-song, "Politics," reveals how some shrewd politicians manipulate unthinking men.

Continuing through this Saturday, Aug. 21, is the lively melodrama, "The Drunkard," or "The Fallen Saved," complete with dastardly villain, innocent heroine, and handsome hero.

A noble aim in life has its good points, but it won't always pay its way.

'Pow Wow' draws real Indians, too

St. Johns' playground directors got more than they bargained for when they scheduled an "Indian pow-wow" for youngsters last Friday morning.

Not only did they get about 20 "paleface" Indians, but they got four or five carloads of honest-to-goodness Indians, too!

Their appearance in St. Johns apparently stemmed from a small front-page item in last week's Clinton County News which told of the "pow-wow" for the local youngsters. One Indian woman who spoke to Playground Directors Linda Smith and Janet Sipkovsky said she had read in the paper about "the Indian pow-wow."

AT THAT TIME the directors were unaware that the park contained about five carloads of little Indian children enjoying the playground equipment and wooded area of the park. Their first thought was that the children were from Mexican families.

Later they found out the youngsters were real Indians, but then it was too late to find out where they came from. Robert Langlois, city park custodian, said the Indian group had their picnic at the park anyway and left in their cars around 2 or 2:30 Friday afternoon.

Langlois said he had several telephone calls at the park inquiring about the "pow-wow," but he explained that the only pow-wow he knew about was one for city playground youngsters. Whether the Indian callers thought that "White man speak with forked tongue" or not, the "tribe" of little Indians came anyway.

LANGLOIS SAID HE noted that the cars were not from Clinton County but he couldn't remember what the letter prefix on the license plates was. Playground Director Miss Smith said she noticed that several of the cars were driven by white men, and each carried about eight children. Anyway, by the time folks back East (downtown) were aware of the tribe's presence, the little Indians had gone.

Local youngsters, also apparently unaware of the presence of real Indians, made their own headbands and headdress and took turns dancing up a storm during the late morning hours Friday.

DeWitt schools open on Sept. 7

DeWITT—A stark reminder of the fleeting summer was the first announcement last week of the opening of school, now just around the corner. DeWitt Public Schools will open Tuesday, Sept. 7, Supt., C. H. Fuerstenau reported Friday.

Faculty meetings will be held that morning, and at 1 p.m. Sept. 7 all elementary children will register in their respective buildings. Elementary classes

Sabin polio clinics set

Sabin oral polio vaccine, the life-time polio protection that is administered on a cube of sugar rather than a needle, will be made available in Clinton County Sept. 19, county residents were reminded this week.

The Fowler Jaycees, the Clinton County Medical Society and the Clinton County Health Office are co-sponsoring clinics at nine sites around the county on Sept. 19. All residents of the county are urged to attend the clinic in their area to take advantage of the polio protection.

THE VACCINE will be free, but a 50-cent donation is being asked to help cover the costs. Some 50,000 doses of the vaccine have been ordered by Francis Schafer of the Fowler Jaycees, chairman of the Clinton County Polio Vaccine Committee.

The Sept. 19 clinics will be the first of two necessary to provide complete protection against polio. The other will be held later in the year. The vaccine that will be used in Clinton County is a trivalent vaccine, meaning it will give protection against all three known kinds of polio.

CALLED ORIMUNE, the vaccine is manufactured by Lederle Laboratories, a division of American Cyanamid Co. of Pearl River, N.Y.

Clinics will be set up at specific sites to be named later in St. Johns, Elsie, Maple Rapids, Fowler, Westphalia, DeWitt, Bath and Valley Farms. St. Johns will have two stations. Ovid is not included in the Clinton County clinics schedule because that community was serviced by Sabin clinics under previous sponsorship of Shiawassee County.

The hot lunch program will be open for the elementary grades at noon Wednesday, Sept. 8 and for all students the following day.

Work on St. Johns Water Plant on Schedule

Contractors for the new St. Johns water treatment plant are an estimated three days ahead of schedule on the construction of the $540,155 project. Pouring of concrete for the top of the ground-level floor of the building was expected this week. Workmen are to be working on the inside of the plant by cold weather and to hopefully have the plant in operation by February. Construction of a 400,000 ground level storage tank also gets under way soon. This view looks northeast toward Ottawa Street from the Lansing Street side of the plant area.

Fulton voters OK sharing of debts

MIDDLETON—Fulton School District electors voted overwhelmingly Monday to have the former primary districts of Ola, Washington Center, Stoddard and Wermuth assume their share of the district's bonded indebtedness.

The final vote was 144 yes to 11 no. There were no spoiled ballots.

The four districts, annexed to the Fulton district three years ago, were accorded a three-year moratorium on bonded indebtedness at that time. The election Monday was district-wide.

Expect 1,000 to seek fraternities at U of M

The University of Michigan fraternity system expects more than 1,000 men—60 per cent freshmen, 25 per cent sophomores, 10 per cent juniors, and 5 per cent seniors—to seek membership in its fraternities this fall. This will be the largest turnout for a fall rush in the system's history.

The Michigan system, founded in 1845, is one of the nation's largest with 43 constituent national fraternities and one local chapter. This year marks the 120th anniversary for fraternities at Michigan and the 50th anniversary of the Interfraternity Council, their governing body.

Names of those attending will be announced later. . . .

Business-Industrial-Education (BIE) Day is not being scheduled this year, the public schools and the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce decided. Meng was traveling east and Ladisky west on Jason and neither saw the other until too late to avoid the crash because of the crest of the hill. Ladisky was reportedly over the center line of the road, and he was ticketed by sheriff's deputy for improper passing of an on-coming vehicle.

17th DeWitt Ox Roast

DeWITT—The DeWitt Ox Roast, this city's big mid-summer event, is expected to draw thousands of people Saturday, Aug. 28, for the 17th annual celebration.

There's the usual free admission this year, General Chairman Keith Blizzard pointed out, and the usual number of events is planned. That includes a parade at 10 a.m., and games, rides, dancing and food all day long. Fireworks are also planned.

THE Ox Roast is sponsored annually by the DeWitt Memorial Assn. for the benefit of the DeWitt Veterans' Memorial Building and Library at 206 W. Washington Street across the street from the high school. This year's event will have special meaning because of a need for donations to help finance a bi-level addition to the building which will add 7,000 square feet of space.

There'll be cash prizes for winners of the junior and senior divisions in the morning parade.

Carnival rides, dancing and games will be in operation from 11 a.m. to midnight. At 9:30 p.m. Aug. 28, a fireworks display is planned.

BLIZZARD, a member of the DeWitt Memorial Assn. board, is general chairman of the Ox Roast again this second year and is also in charge of the games tent. Assisting him will be the following chairmen:

Earl Coryell, Dale Farhat and Joe Hennigan, eat tent; Ed Tudor, publicity; Ron Mull, game tent; Armour Knight, financial; Lee Rummell, rides; and Stan Tenny, parade.

LOCAL RESIDENTS are invited to display their works and collections in the fields of art, flowers, ceramics and old photographs. Exhibits will be set up for the public in the Memorial Building from 9:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. both Friday and Saturday.

Enthusiasm helps, but it takes ability to reach the goal.

2 boys, 3 girls with beer jailed

Two boys and three girls from Lansing were jailed or kept in the detention home last week after their conviction of being in possession of beer. They were arrested early Friday on Howe Road in DeWitt Township by a sheriff's deputy.

They were Terrance Michael Hennigan, 19, who received a $25 fine, $19.90 costs and five days in jail; Robert D. Heintzelman, 18, Phyllis Kay DeYoung, 17, Joanne Eileen Herring, 17, and a 16-year-old girl, who all were fined $25 plus $19.90 costs and three days in jail.

THE 16-YEAR-OLD girl originally gave her age as 17, but she was transferred to the juvenile detention home later Friday when it was discovered she was 16 instead of 17. Justice of the Peace Gordon Willyoung heard the cases and assessed the fines and jail terms.

2 drunk drivers draw $100 fines

Two drivers drew $100 fines for driving under the influence of liquor Sunday. Both were arrested by St. Johns police. Each was a separate case.

They were Major Reel, 39, of Worth, Ill., and Clifford Shawano, 42, of Grand Rapids. St. Johns Municipal Judge Alba Wert, who heard both cases, fined each man $100 plus costs of $10.90. They paid the fines and costs and were not held in jail.

Ailing old-time fire truck needs a helping hand

Got any spare parts for a 40-year-old American LaFrance fire truck?

St. Johns has one and needs some. The truck is the old timer that shows up at practically all the fires within the city. It's ailing now and is laid up in the "hospital" at the Department of Public Works garage.

THE "DOCTORS" there know what to do for the old fire-horse, but they don't have the proper parts.

They still aren't sure just how old the fire truck is. It was bought by the City of St. Johns sometime between 1920 and 1926, officials think.

They haven't been able to locate the records that show the date the truck was bought. The truck isn't helping the docs any; there's no date anyplace on the vehicle and the only identification it has is the number 3792 and a plate saying it was built by American LaFrance.

THE CITY "physicians" called the company out in the East, but even they haven't been able to find the equipment records for the truck. Parts needed include three new rods, two new rod bushings and bearings, and two new oil pump gears. The city hasn't been able to find what it needs for this particular truck anywhere.

The truck can still be used, but it can't take much of the modern-day speed and excitement the modern trucks are used to unless the ailment is cured. Firemen still use it, so they're hoping some one can find the "fountain of youth" for it.

Now's your chance, Ben Casey fans.

Former resident seriously hurt on way here

Mrs. Dennis (Barbara) Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell (Dick) Devereaux of 501 E. Buchanan Street, St. Johns, is recovering in St. Francis Hospital at Escanaba from serious injuries suffered in an auto accident Aug. 7.

Mrs. Ross was on her way to St. Johns for the funeral of her grandmother, Mrs. Mildred Devereaux, who died earlier that morning. Mrs. Ross and her husband, a former pharmacist at Hunt's Drug Store in St. Johns, now live in Ontonagon, in the western Upper Peninsula.

WEST OF Escanaba she blacked out at the wheel of her car, which went off the left side of the highway and struck a tree. No other vehicles were involved. Her right ankle bone was shattered and almost severed, and she also suffered bumps and bruises to the head, arms and body.

Mrs. Ross will reportedly be in the hospital there for up to two more weeks and she'll be confined at home for six to eight months.

If you expect to outshine your neighbors build a good reputation and keep it polished.

Music camp students go Sunday

St. Johns High School musicians will leave Sunday morning for a week at a music camp at Glen Arbor west of Traverse City.

The St. Johns group will have full use of Camp Kohanna for the week, Band Director Walter Cole said, meaning that music instructional programs can be scheduled according to their own wishes. The St. Johns band has been going to Interlochen in past years.

BY ARRANGING for the new camp site, Cole said St. Johns is able to take along not only the band and orchestra but also the vocal music department members. Some 147 students and 16 counselors, nurse, directors and waterfront directors will go Sunday.

Special arrangements have been made to hold church services at the Methodist Church in St. Johns at 8 a.m. Sunday for Protestant members of the music groups. At St. Joseph Catholic Church, regular Mass will be at 7:30.

COLE SAID all gear going to the camp must be on the sidewalk behind the school between 7:30 and 8 a.m. Sunday. All trip participants will be limited to one suitcase and bedroll.

The buses will leave at 9 a.m., with a picnic sack lunch planned about noon at Mitchell State Park at Cadillac. Arrival at Camp Kohanna is scheduled for about 3 p.m.

PARENTS WHO want to write to their youngsters at the camp should address mail to them in care of St. Johns Music Department, Camp Kohanna, Glen Arbor, Mich. Visitors are reminded that Day State Park nearby has camping facilities.

The music students will return to St. Johns Sunday, Aug. 29 between 5 and 6 p.m.

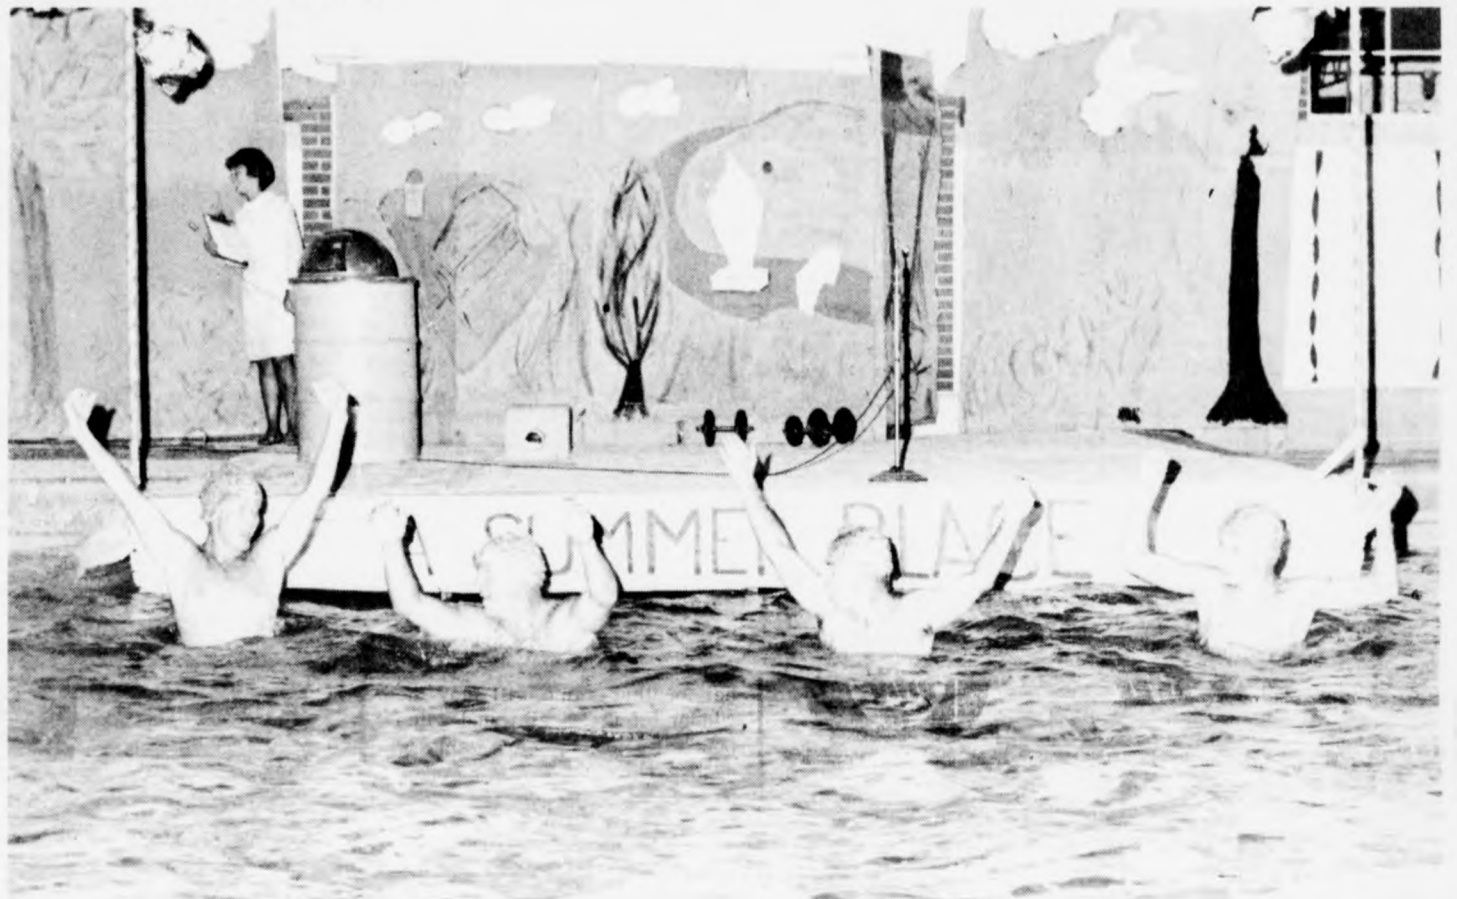

No one can play hooky from the school of experience.

Woman fined $60 for writing bad check

Donna Lee Wibert, 22, of Coloma was fined $25 plus $35 court costs last Wednesday and ordered to make restitution for a $25 check she wrote in Bath last Nov. 19 when she did not have sufficient funds to cover it.

She was arrested in Berrien County last Wednesday and returned to Clinton, where she appeared before Bath Justice of the Peace T. B. Simpson. The warrant was signed by Abbot Nelson of Bath who cashed the check at his store last November.

Appraisal first step on renewal

St. Johns' downtown urban renewal project was the subject of discussion at the St. Johns Exchange Club meeting last Thursday, with City Manager Ken Greer explaining the program to members of the club.

Greer said St. Johns has been approved for $73,000 from federal funds to survey the downtown area. The first step in the study is a property appraisal which will be conducted by an outside firm—Vilican-Leman and Associates of Southfield—to determine the use and marketability of downtown frontage.

AFTER THIS, local city personnel will survey some 90 downtown buildings to determine if they are in top shape for the purpose they are for which they are being used, if they can be renovated to pass local building ordinances or if they should be torn down entirely.

Following these two appraisal sals, a rehabilitation appraiser will conduct a study to determine the approximate cost of modernization. This will in turn be followed by an investigation of titles and surveys of local business places. It was pointed out that some downtown stores are built on land which does not entirely belong to the store owner.

AFTER this preliminary work, the planning firm of Vilican-Leman will formulate a comprehensive plan for redevelopment of the downtown area.

According to Greer, this plan should be ready to present to the city commission by next July. Public hearings will be held on the plan, after which the commission will decide on adoption or rejection of the urban renewal project.

Les Jenkins was program chairman last Thursday for the Exchange Club meeting.

Burton Corners wins 'D' tourney

Larry Darling of Burton Corners (Ovid) hurled a no-hitter at Pewamo last week as his team scooted on its way to the Class D district softball title at St. Johns. The final score of that semi-final game was 3-0.

Darling faced only 23 men in the contest, with walks to the Werner brothers the only blemish on his bid for a perfect game. Vance of Pewamo gave up only four hits in a losing cause, but a walk, single, fielder's choice and singles by Curtis and Kelley brought in two runs in the first inning for Burton Corners that were more than enough to win the game.

PEWAMO bounced back to edge Benson's 3-1 in the other semi-finals game. T. Arens was the big gun as he collected two hits to aid his own cause on the pitching mound. Rod Hayes led Benson's with two hits.

But Burton Corners again out-gunned Pewamo in the finals, beating them 5-0 to win the tournament. Mike Martinez and Mike Mulder had two hits each to lead the winners.

Burton Corners drew a bye Monday in the regional tournament at Charlotte and was to play Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock.

New parking area, fence readied for grid season

Improvements in parking and other facilities at the St. Johns City Park in preparation for the coming football season are in the works by city Department of Public Works crews.

A new heavy wire fence has already been installed along the east and south sides of the football field, and more fence has been ordered to finish the enclosing of the field. Last year and in previous years the field has been rimmed by snow fence.

THE FENCE will be provided with spectator entrance gates at the northwest end, back of the softball diamond backstop, and at the southwest end, adjacent to a new parking area. A walk-in gate will be provided near the first-base dugout to allow for chasing foul balls during baseball and softball games.

It will be locked during the football games, however, as will two wide gates at the northeast and southeast corners. Those gates will provide access to the track and field for trucks or cars.

THE NEW parking lot is located at the southwest end of the football field. It will be graded and graveled. Parking will also be available on the grassy area at the south end of the field.

Parking will be prohibited this year on the softball diamonds and the football practice area behind the east bleachers. Wood posts are being set five feet apart around the west, north and east sides of the softball area and as

Recreation ball team loses, 8-3

St. Johns' entry in the state recreation program baseball tournament was eliminated Monday by Battle Creek, 8-3. The game was shortened because of rain.

The St. Johns boys put up a good battle against the larger team. St. Johns jumped off to an early 1-0 lead, but Battle Creek tied it up in the bottom of the first. In the second inning, St. Johns scored twice when Tom Warstler was safe on an error, John Mackman walked and Cary Hambleton delivered a two-base hit, scoring both runs.

THE SCORE remained at 3-1, St. Johns, until the fourth inning, when play began to get shabby. Five St. Johns errors and three hits enabled Battle Creek to score five times and make the score 6-3.

Battle Creek scored two more in the fifth inning, and then the rains came and the game was called.

Cary Hambleton and Bob Cartwright had two hits each for St. Johns.

Earlier in the day Monday, Battle Creek defeated Holland 13-1 on a no-hitter. The games were played at Battle Creek.

Johnson of Ionia had four hits in six times at bat, while Helman had three hits in four trips, including a home run.

THE ONLY bright spot for St. Johns was Jan Fowler's third hit of the night, a grand slam home run. Dawn Hill continued her good hitting, getting two hits in three tries.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Church Chuckles by CARTWRIGHT

"Let's see you come up with an appropriate quotation from scripture for THIS!"

Any Other Day
Recently I read a bit of satire on the reasoning for neglecting the Lord's Day. It said, "I'm sorry Sunday comes when it does. You see it is like this—we could attend church much more regularly if it came at some other time. But it is a day that comes after a hard week, and we are all tired out. Not only that, but it is the day following Saturday night, which is one time we feel we should enjoy ourselves, and often it is after midnight when we reach home. It is almost impossible to get up on Sunday morning. It is the day we want to sleep late, which makes it mighty hard to get the children off to Sunday School, especially when they have it so early. Then there are dishes to clean and we always have some things we just have to wash out. It is the day on which we have the biggest dinner, and the church has fixed the hour of worship at the very time we must prepare the meal. Then think of John. He is cooped up in his office all week and Sunday morning is the only time he has to tinker with the car and to mow the lawn." Does this sound like someone you know?

Andersons recall excitement, beauty of driving tour to Montana

BY MRS ELLA ANDERSON

Ever since our last trip to the mountains in 1959, Roy and I have been planning on making a leisurely trip once again, and especially to visit Glacier National Park. So, on a clear, lovely morning, with our trusty F-85 "packed to the roof," we started.

On our trips, I am the "navigator," reading the maps, etc., and Roy is the "pilot."

MRS MARY Plowman rode as far as Escanaba with us, and then stayed with her son Lyle and his family for a visit. Lyle and Joyce are certainly among the community leaders in that beautiful city. They took us on a tour of the Bay de Noc Community College where Lyle teaches, and we also saw the beautiful high school building and the churches.

To us, one of the most interesting phases of such a trip is the gradual change in the landscape. The trees gradually change from large to half-size—then there are no trees. Every ranch which can do so has a grove of trees around the buildings—for protection from the winds.

IN THE eastern part of North Dakota were beautiful crops of wheat, beets, soy beans and hay. We were told that wheat production per acre was good, but not the quality. They have had plenty of rain—the land looks like a big garden—black soil and 100 per cent good crops as far as the eye can see.

Now, in North Dakota, the buttes and peaks start to appear, the land is hilly, and the farmers cultivate the land almost to the top of these buttes. The Bad Lands of North Dakota emerge dramatically and so quickly.

IN GLENDIVE, Mont., we drove to the Makoshika State Park just at twilight. The road up the mountain was rocky and steep and crooked. When reaching the top, the scene was fantastic—part of the Badlands. No living thing was there—just high peaks, sharp ridges and buttes—all the result of erosion. It always gives me an "eerie" feeling that this is the way our world would look after a huge, atomic war.

In the good farm land of Montana, the hay crop is heavy, there are many "white-face" cattle, and every hill we climb seems higher than the one before. Irrigation is used with good results. The Judith Basin is famous for its beef cattle. Dutton is the wheat capital of Montana.

WE DROVE north on the east side of Glacier National Park, and stopped at Waterton Lakes Resort in Alberta, Canada. This is a delightful place of "old-world" charm—the town nestling in a valley with the towering, majestic, peaks hovering over it.

The lake is so beautiful with green, placid water, and many speed boats were out in the evening—going slowly, for there is a speed limit. Trips may be taken from these to Red Rock Canyon and to Cameron Lake.

IN THE EARLY morning, from our window, we saw a mother deer and her two little fawns walking down the main street of the town—enjoying their walk while most of the town was asleep. On a mountain road we met an old mountain goat. He was not afraid, and was stopping the cars. When they get old, they come down from the higher mountains.

We visited Baniff National Park and found Baniff to be a very busy place. However, the highlight of this trip was beautiful Lake Louise. This is one of the "beauty spots" of the world. The lake is so perfect and peaceful—with the tree-covered mountains on two sides and at the end of the lake is the mighty Victoria Glacier—looking so cool and aloof at the mortals gazing up at it. It is so beautiful it makes one catch his breath and marvel at the beauty God has created.

WE TOOK THE west road through British Columbia, going to the United States Glacier Park. There, we took the west-east road through the park (The Going to the Sun Highway). This is the most spectacular route through the park. Going through these huge mountains, we are really higher than the snow. The road is so narrow, and, in some places, it is crumbling away at the edges. Workmen were repairing it, and sometimes we had to stop and wait for them to dynamite. The Glacier Park in Canada and in the United States forms the International Peace Park.

Starting our return trip, we went through Montana, and stayed at Choteau. There we met a Hawaian couple who were touring the United States. They are teachers in Hawaii, and they said substitute teachers are needed in Hawaii. So, "who knows?"

WE ALSO saw a shepherd in the mountains with hundreds of sheep and two dogs. When he gave directions to the dogs, he waved a stick. His horse and dogs are his only helpers.

At Three Forks, Mont., three rivers join to form the Missouri River.

We went through part of Yellowstone Park, also visited the Mt. Rushmore Memorial in the Black Hills, and drove through the Badlands of South Dakota. In Wyoming, the Big Horn Mountains are spectacular, grotesque and huge.

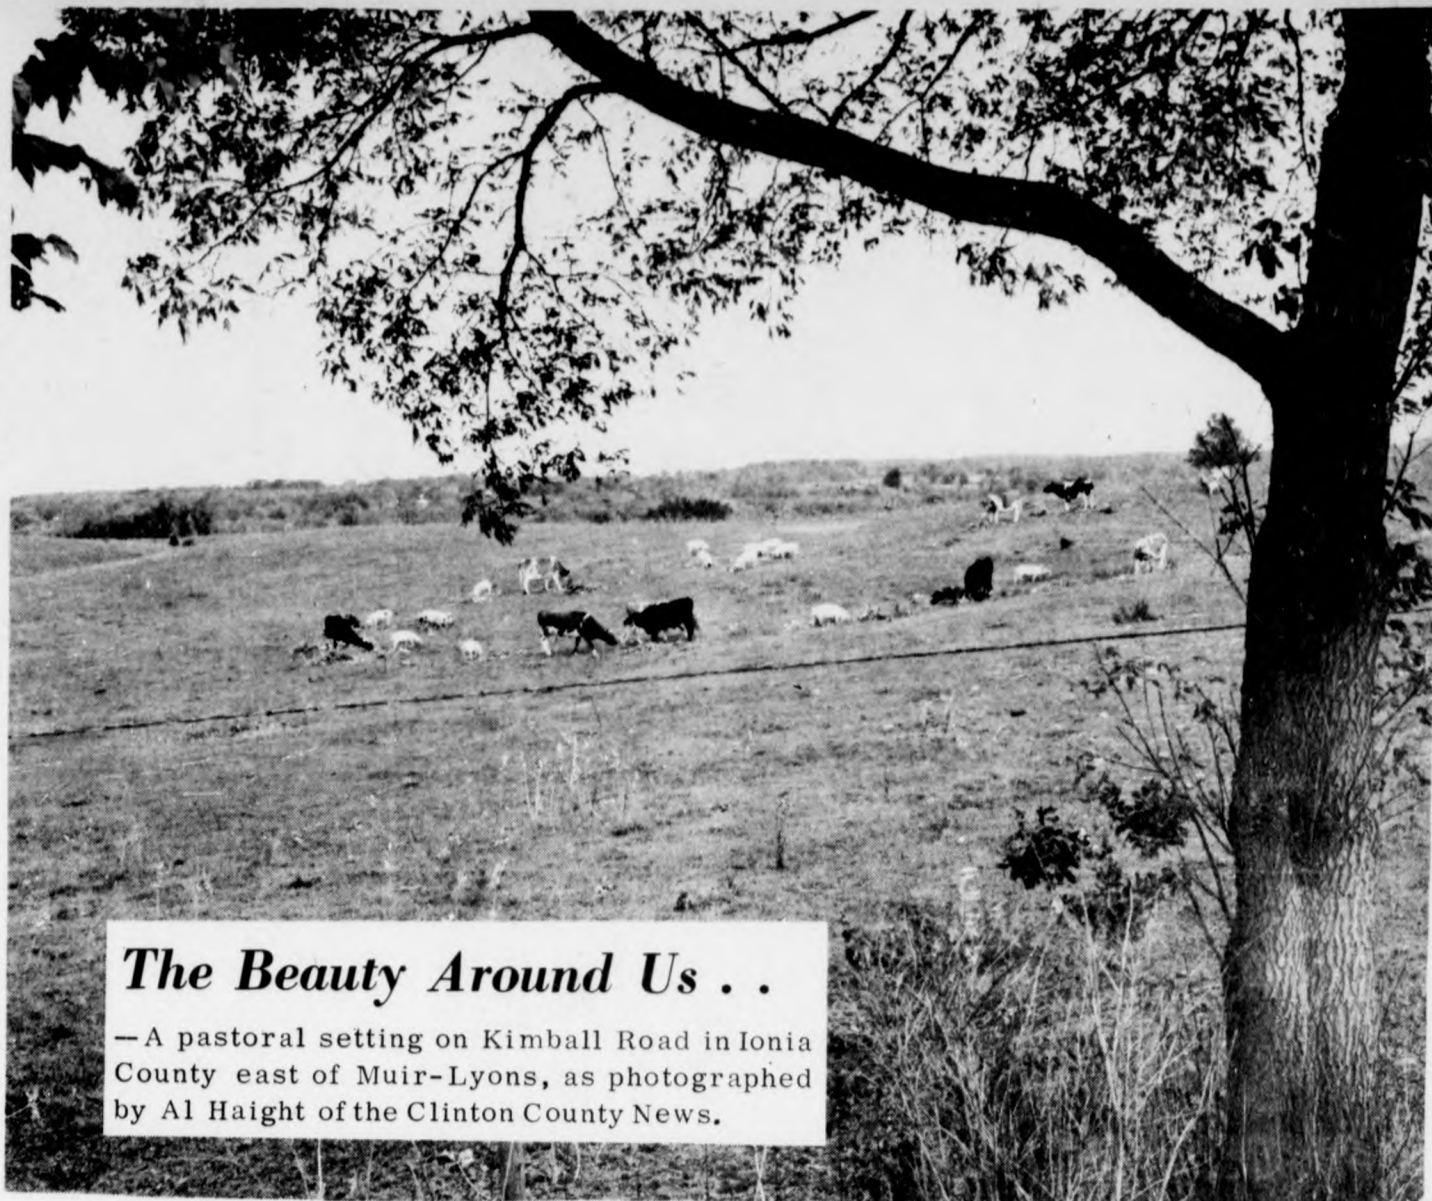

WE ALWAYS plan to see a rodeo, so at Custer, S. D., we saw the rodeo on two afternoons. Custer is a typical, friendly western town, and everyone was in holiday mood. The cowboys were resplendent in their bright shirts, pants and cowboy boots. They called for volunteers to ride the wild buffalo, something that had never been done before. The first boy who tried to ride a buffalo received a broken leg. So, that discouraged Roy from trying. Only two were able to stay on, and one was a 13-year-old boy who astonished everyone with taking the full count on his buffalo, before the whistle blew. The Brahma bulls, bucking horses, roping, etc. made up a splendid afternoon's program.

On the forenoon of the next day, we attended the Gold Discovery pageant. This was a fine production, led by a rider on a gold-colored horse, and this really was a horse that had been dyed gold color. A proud Indian in a white outfit and riding a pure white horse was stationed at the front of the huge stage—an outdoor arena. This pageant recounted the discovery of gold by Custer and his men, of the Indian wars, and later the amicable settlement with the Indians, and their cooperation in the community. Colorful Indian dresses added to the color of the production.

THE REMAINDER of our journey home was pleasant, but as usual, the best part of a trip is "coming home." After a trip, one can always close his eyes and see once again the beautiful scenes, recall the new friends made, and the friendly places visited. Our speedometer recorded 5,211 miles, and every mile was a happy one.

Sincerely,
ROY AND ELLA ANDERSON

Don't tempt teen-agers with an unlocked car

Almost 200,000 unlocked cars were stolen last year, according to figures recently released by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

This includes a considerable number with keys actually left in the locks. This is a lot of unlocked automobiles and a lot of careless, not to say carless, owners.

IT WOULD be interesting to know why, with a car being stolen almost every minute of every day, many persons still do not lock this expensive piece of equipment. True, a great many of the cars are eventually recovered.

But the inconvenience of even a short time without transportation is considerable. The cost in taxes for law enforcement agencies is high. Nevertheless, an amazing number of persons still tempt the borderline delinquent with a "ready" car.

THE ARGUMENT often used is that any experienced hoodlum can wire around a car's ignition system in a matter of seconds. This may be true, but a car with a key in the ignition is a tempting sight, especially to a teenager who lives in a circle of society where a set of "wheels" is status.

This points up an aspect of the matter that cannot be ignored: the driver has a moral obligation to make his car harder to steal. It is good citizenship, as well as plain old common sense, to lock your car when you leave it.

Hoover blames parents for most delinquency

Most youngsters are sensible and law-abiding. To tell the truth, most surpass their elders in knowledge and poise.

But the delinquent minority is on the increase.

J. Edgar Hoover best describes the root of the problem by placing the blame on the home.

"WITHOUT QUESTION," Hoover said, "crimes by youth are the most appalling part of the crime situation."

Hoover went on to say that more than 70% of the arrests made for serious crimes in the United States involve persons under 25.

"The common denominator in the case of these young people has been parental neglect," he said.

PARENTAL NEGLECT isn't restricted to poverty cases or broken homes. Some of these kids come from the so-called "good" homes. Some of the best kids come from the slums or the broken homes.

Society has not yet discovered a system of converting bad parents into good ones. Until this comes about we are not going to solve the rising juvenile problem.

Seeing Stars in Politics

(From The Christian Science Monitor)

American actors traditionally keep their political opinions to themselves. The box-office, the sponsor, and for a time McCarthyism seemed to dictate a prudent reticence.

So it was newsworthy when Steve Allen began giving speeches for SANE, Marlon Brando came out in favor of the American Indian, and Ronald Reagan took the stump for Senator Goldwater. Reporters couldn't seem to forget it was "former song-and-dance man" George Murphy who became Senator, even though it was rarely "former druggist" Hubert Humphrey who became Vice President.

FRANKLY WE cannot forget the movie and TV images of those people like Bob Hope, Raymond Burr, Wendell Corey, Richard Widmark, and Burt Lancaster who are now reported to be taking stands on Vietnam or community issues closer to home.

Does Mr Widmark give that fiendish giggle which was his original trademark when he now figuratively pushes a political enemy downstairs? Does Perry Mason Burr stun the voters with last-minute evidence to prove that the other side did it?

OR, IMAGINING what things might have been like if this trend had started sooner, conventions might be more striking if George Raft tossed his coin while rubbing out the opposition. Or James Cagney pushed a grapefruit into the face of a candidate's wife. Or the child Shirley Temple tap-danced her way into the White House on the good ship lollipop.

And what of the young who have not declared themselves? Surely the Beatles though un-American, would in one way be a match for Senator Dirksen.

Talk About Escalation

RAMBLIN' with Rink

By LOWELL G. RINKER

School is just about over! While most parents and teachers are preparing to return to the routine of school days Carson City is preparing to bring to a conclusion its first summer school for migrant and ex-migrant children.

In cooperation with Michigan Migrant Opportunities, Inc., a state agency formed early this spring to co-ordinate the Protestant and Roman Catholic efforts on behalf of the migrants, Carson City has served over 60 youngsters ranging in ages from three months to 13 years in their day-time program and approximately 30 adults in their evening program.

LOCATED IN ST. Mary's Academy and staffed by local personnel, the school was designed to meet the needs of culturally deprived children whose annual migration from Texas to Michigan denies them the advantages enjoyed by other citizens having a permanent residence and a stable occupation.

To meet these needs, the community has undertaken an eight-week program of unstructured schooling, supervised recreation, field trips and hot lunches. It includes among its services a nursery or day care section, eliminating the necessity of migrant women having to take their infant and preschool children with them into the fields; a youth education section for those children of school age who have not yet reached the legal age for contracted work; and an adult education section conducted in the evening.

IN CONJUNCTION with the local clinic, physical examinations are given and contagious diseases which endanger both the workers themselves and the community in which they live are thus curtailed. Efforts are made within the educational program to teach the importance of balanced meals and proper hygiene.

More than the determination of the school staff headed by Larry Hartwig of Portland, the success of the program is due in large part to the community spirit of Carson City itself. A small town need not lack a sense of responsibility for all within its boundaries nor need it look beyond those boundaries help in meeting this responsibility. Carson City has demonstrated this in a manner which could well serve as an example for other communities facing similar responsibilities.

EACH YEAR large numbers of migratory workers are brought to Carson City to help in the harvesting of the pickle crop, a major product of this city which houses the Vlastic Pickle Company. Housed on local farms and at the pickle station itself, these workers and their families present to any community of which they are a part questions which cannot go unanswered.

How to incorporate them into an already existing community structure affording them the advantages due to each member of that community? How to understand rather than overlook the difference in cultural background and customs which they represent? How to help them help themselves in achieving a more or less normal life in the three months they are part of our community? And how to accept and appreciate all that they have to offer to any community of which they are a part?

ON JULY 8 a community meeting was held in St. Mary's Hall with Mayor Haradine presiding. Representatives of NMDI were present to describe their agency. From this meeting a program of local action was derived. A staff was selected and within four days after the community meeting the program was ready to be implemented.

But the message of the success of Carson City's migrant school should not be measured in terms of numbers alone. It can be seen in the attitude of those who have visited the school. It can be seen in the appreciation which the migrants have shown for the work and sacrifice of the local community. It can be heard in the voices of children anxious to come and hesitant to leave a school which is something more than a building or a series of classes. It is the response of a community to a group of people whom they need, whom they know, and whom they like.

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY

Clearing off the Editor's desk

THIS EDITOR'S desk collects a variety of miscellaneous items over a period of a few weeks . . . stuff we intend to use somehow but neglect putting into print.

Here, for example, is a July 4th issue of The Detroit News Pictorial Magazine with a brief account of the doings of that remarkable St. Johns' woman, Mrs. Glenora Burk Brunette. There are pictures of her taken with a variety of musical instruments at her cobblestone house in the woods at Deer Park, 25 miles east of Grand Marais, in Michigan's upper peninsula.

AT 82, SHE STILL BLOWS HER OWN HORN

One of the photos is reproduced here. At 82, Mrs. Brunette still blasts a mean cornet. She was named the best woman cornetist in the United States back at the turn of the century.

The News' feature writer points out that there's "something to be said for living all alone in the north woods—especially if you're a musician with a yen to blow your horn whenever you feel like it."

MRS. BRUNETTE, twice a widow, spends the warmer months of the year at Deer Park in the beautifully-situated home built by her and her late husband, Fred Burk, in 1924. She has her musical instruments always handy—a piano, electric organ, cello, bass viol, cornet and a big bass drum.

She plays 'em all when she pleases without fear of complaining neighbors. She had mastered a half-dozen musical instruments in her heyday and played with orchestras in Boston and Cleveland before settling in Michigan.

Once or twice a year, on her journeys to and fro, Mrs. Brunette is a cheery and welcome visitor here at the Clinton County News office. And the latchstring is always out at her Deer Park home for Clinton area friends.

CONTINUING WITH the desk miscellany, I find a May 19 letter from Fred Trump, assistant editor of The Michigan

Farmer, who notes our recent comments about confidence schemes.

Fred has written a book on this subject which he titles "Buyer Beware." It is published by Abingdon Press and sells for $3.50 at your bookstore.

Fred's work and comprehensive writing in this field have been recognized by the CBS television network. He was featured on a recent "To Tell the Truth" program on TV.

AND HERE'S a scribbled note in my handwriting which recalls a pleasant visit last week with Wilbur Cogshall, a retired editor of the famed Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal.

Wilbur was in town briefly to stay with the Harold (Red) Lundys. He is a cousin to Mrs. Lundy.

I was interested in the Louisville editor's reaction to the somewhat revolutionary format recently adopted by The Courier-Journal. It involves wider columns—about 2 1/2 inches instead of less than 2 inches—and six instead of eight columns to a newspaper page.

He's inclined to think that most readers don't notice much difference and he adds a thought that confirms a personal opinion I've held for some time—that most newspapers are edited with an eye to the approval or dismay of other editors. Readers are not so all-fired concerned about changes so long as news and pictures are presented in neat and readable style. Editors get excited while readers take change in stride.

FEW OF OUR readers, I'm sure, have given particular notice to the fact that the Clinton County News changed its headline schedule to "downstyle" when we converted to offset publication last year. We are among the early exponents of this change.

FIFTY YEARS AGO ALL HEADLINES WERE ALL CAPITAL LETTERS. THIS STYLE IS HARD TO READ, AS THIS SHORT PARAGRAPH DEMONSTRATES.

This Upper-And-Lower Style Was Adopted For The "Typical" Headline. This Is Better Than All-Capitals But It Is Still A Long Way From The Ideal. Notice How Each Capital Letter In This Paragraph Snags The Reading Eye Like A Hook On A Barbed Wire Fence.

Downstyle, as you are enjoying now, is the easiest style to read. Note how pleasant and relaxed your reading becomes when your eyes aren't forced to change focus at the beginning of each new word. All of our headlines are now set downstyle. We've been doing it for a year and I doubt that many readers are aware of the change.

Vincent supports fiscal tax reform

I AM WRITING this in support of a sound fiscal reform of our state and local taxes. In a recent check of the assessments on property in Duplain Township, I find that the farmer with a farm consisting of 160 acres or more is going to be paying four times more in property taxes than the average house owner in Elsie will be paying.

Most of the property tax will be for schools, which is a service for people. Very little of our property taxes are returned for the needs and improvements of property.

I DO NOT say that schools should get less money but that the method of running or financing our schools should be based on ability to pay. A state income tax on personal income and a profits tax are really the only fair taxes we could have.

In order to have equity in taxes, part of an income tax should come back to local units of government. Local property taxes cannot continue to carry the burden of raising the extra money that the schools are required to ask for in order to operate.

I REALIZE there are objections to a state income tax or any kind of a profits tax. However, I would like to point out the only way any of us can pay taxes is based on net income, and net profits.

I am not too concerned when federal and state tax monies are returned to local units of government. I am more concerned when federal tax money is spent on the war effort such as we are experiencing in Southeast Asia.

ONE LAST thing: the farmer is in no position to pay high property taxes as long as we have a stone-age market system to market our produce.

Killins settled in new Florida home

WORDS WILL never be able to express how we felt to go out to the mailbox and find the good old Clinton County News there. We all moved so fast we never did have time to say much to anyone, or to stop and think about things like the paper.

But, with friends like you, that was not necessary. We will be back in September to attend to things we missed and to thank you properly at that time.

THIS IS a big change for one to make so late in life and right in the face of hot weather coming on in this tropical climate. But with an air conditioner, we are settled and very comfortable in our new home.

It's a small house—two bedrooms, nice living room with a dinette at the end, a kitchen large enough for a table and four chairs. There's a carport, but I'm going to put up a garage and then go on from there.

MY SISTER lives across the street from us and this has helped us in being able to make the adjustment. Olive has taken it wonderfully, only she has been doing more than she should. We are hoping to get settled now very shortly.

Again, thanks for everything.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Ferency's stepped-up activity not unnoticed

Subtlety is an art in politics which very few men possess and even fewer use. When a person already in the public spotlight starts thinking of becoming a candidate-type politician, any subtle abilities he might have once possessed usually go out the window.

Such is becoming more and more the case with Democratic State Chairman Zolton A. Ferency.

INITIALLY IT sounded as if Ferency was merely taking his job of Republican governor prodder very seriously. He struck out at Gov. George Romney from minor vantage points which normally would go unnoticed.

Then word began circulating that Ferency was considering facing the governor himself in 1966 if Romney seeks a third term. Although this was denied several times, the rumor has persisted and Ferency has now given more credence to it himself by informally announcing a change in his party activities.

Prior to Ferency's rise to the party chairmanship, the No. 1 Democratic organizer traditionally filled the post on a part-time basis, leaving the daily details to office staff. Ferency took over on a full-time, "I make all decisions," basis.

INDICATIONS ARE that Ferency will start his informal but more open campaign early in 1966. He has told several sources, including at least one for publication, that he will become a part-time party chairman then and resume some of his former law practice.

Barring fall legislative action on tax reform, which daily grows more unlikely, the party chief has carved a niche slightly different from Romney's position. He will need considerable help in honing a smooth, sharp distinction.

He has already called for a petition drive to change the state constitution to allow the enactment of a graduated income tax, now specifically prohibited.

among Democratic legislative leaders is contrary to their hopes and that passage of such a drastic program would be sheer fantasy in the 1966 election year session.

Odds makers now say Ferency will have a hard time getting his party's nomination. There appears now to be no real shining light on the Democratic side, however, and a volunteer may be what is needed come next summer.

EMPLOYEE suggestion plans with monetary rewards have proved very effective in industry, so the state plans to expand its activities in this area.

The legislature this year gave the State Civil Service Commission $20,000 to be used for such a plan, involving all state agencies. Previously, the commission has had a limited employee suggestion plan in use among its own employees.

PLANS PROVIDE for an award of 10 per cent of the first year's net savings accrued from any tangible suggestion and specified dollar rewards for ideas which cannot be accurately measured but do result in operational improvements.

Optimistic estimates are that at least 1,000 of Michigan's 32,500 state employees would submit valuable suggestions in the first year and a savings of operational costs up to $100,000 could be realized.

LEGISLATIVE ACTIVITY in Michigan grows in leaps and bounds, although it might seem there should soon be a leveling off point when laws exist and are adequate in every area of public concern.

In the past three years alone, a third or better increase has been noted in several of the many steps in the legislative process. These include bills introduced in both houses, measures sent to the governor, and new laws becoming effective.

Considerably less change was noted in the number of bills which remained in committee or were killed. In 1963, for example, the legislature sent to the governor 254 of the 1,223 bills introduced. This year the governor got 405 of the 1,693 proposals introduced.

AS WAS expected Republican Gov. George Romney found more fault with the ideas passed by this year's Democratic-controlled legislature.

In his first term, when his party was in command of both houses, he vetoed only 11 measures. This year he turned down 23 proposed and let several others become law without his signature.

This veto record surpassed even the 17 vetoes handed down in a single year by former Democratic Gov. John B. Swainson when he was working with a Republican majority.

Announcement has been made of the book-report contest, held in connection with this summer's Busy Bee Reading Club. First prize in the sixth grade division went to Martha Mihalyi of 407 S. Prospect Street, for her review of the book, DR. GEORGE WASHINGTON CARVER, SCIENTIST, by Shirley Graham and George B. Liscomb. Second prize in the sixth grade group was awarded to Christine Klissane who wrote on a biography of Daniel Boone. Christine lives at 2723 N. DeWitt Road.

Janie Thrush of 606 Church Street won first place in the fifth grade for her report on a biography of Florence Nightingale. No second prize was awarded in the fifth grade.

MARY ELLEN Mihalyi won first place in the fourth grade with her report on Henry Chapin's book, TIGERTAIL, THE GAME CHICKEN, while second-place honors for fourth graders went to Lee Morriss of 208 W. State Street for writing on a book entitled COARSE GOLD GULCH.

One hundred twenty-five children of last year's fourth, fifth,

"Greg is short and I can't see myself going through life without heels" and sixth grades signed up for the Busy Bee Reading Club in June.

THE NEWEST addition to the shelves of our library is definitely not on the Busy Bee reading level. Strictly adult fare is the newest Doubleday Book Club's choice, FRUIT OF THE POPPY by Robert Wilder. This is a story about the heroin trade originating in Mexico and stretching to all the major cities of the United States. The cast includes characters from the world of syndicated crime, both those actively engaged and those who have retired to prosperous respectability.

In the pages of FRUIT OF THE POPPY we also meet those brave men and women who work as undercover agents for the Federal Bureau of Narcotics. A pitiful character is that of Stacey Woodward, a beautiful girl who tries to break off her relationship with the sinister Dano Villanova, head of the syndicate. The story of Villanova's hideous form of revenge makes for reading which is distasteful but almost irresistible.

EVERYBODY'S mail is loaded these days with unsolicited material on numberless subjects, and ours' at the library is no exception. (Howard Casler, custodian here at the Municipal Building, will testify that our waste basket needs emptying every day.) One brochure we always keep is The Green Sheet, a monthly survey of current films offering descriptive information about American and foreign movies available to audiences in most communities.

Audience levels are suggested in the following categories: Adults, Mature Young People, Young People, General Audience, and Children. This is a service rendered by a joint Film Board of 10 major national organizations, including the American Library Assn. The Green Sheet is posted in the vestibule of Bement Public Library where you may consult it easily.

COUNTRY FLAVOR

Licking dasher eased cranking

HAYDEN PEARSON

When the countryman looks back to the 1910 era, it seems to him that crank-turning was a dominant feature of the period. He turned the grindstone; he turned the one-hole corn sheller; he operated the turnip slicer and he cranked the cedar churn.

There was, however, one crank he was willing to turn—the old White Mountain ice cream freezer. Along about four o'clock on a blistering day when a lad had been hoeing and thinning turnips until his strength was completely exhausted, it was heartening when Father came out, surveyed the scene and said, "Son, why don't you call it a day and see if Mother will mix up a batch of ice cream?"

A BIG CAKE of ice was pulled from the ice house to the milk trough, the sawdust sloshed off and the ice pounded fine in a cornmeal bag with the flat side of an old ax. The freezer was set on the wheelbarrow in the shade of the woodshed. The mixture of rich cream, sugar and flavorings went into the metal can. Ice and salt were packed tightly and a lad began the cranking.

It was easy at first. You could hear the loose cream slurp among the wooden paddles. Water ran from the little hole, and from time to time one tamped in more crushed ice and salt. Gradually you could feel the mixture thicken and at the end it was real work to turn the crank.

BUT THE REWARD was worth the effort. Sisters had small saucerfuls, but an understanding father always left plenty on the paddles for a lad. Then the freezer was covered and left for supper. A cereal dish full of ice cream with a generous amount of crushed, juicy raspberries is always acceptable.

A man doesn't hanker to return to the hand-cranking days of yesteryear, but sometimes he thinks for old time's sake he would be glad once again to turn an ice cream freezer crank and lick the dasher.

A plastic saddle, with stirrup, girth and saddle horn, is offered by a toymaker for $5. But not for a toy horse! It's for dads who submit to children's demands to play "horsy."

Fire in the control room and pump house of the Aurora Gas Refinery in Elsie at 9:15 a.m. Tuesday resulted in an estimated damage of from $3,000 to $4,000 and seriously periled several large storage tanks nearby containing almost 2,000,000 gallons of oil.

Albert Gillison, superintendent of the Clinton County Infirmary for more than seven years, will resign Sept. 1 to take a position with the Clinton County Road Commission. The Social Welfare Board, in accepting the resignation, adopted a resolution praising Mr. Gillison for his services.

The new concrete bridge across Bad Creek on US-27 two miles south of St. Johns was opened to traffic Monday. The new span replaces a narrow bridge that was a menace to traffic. The contract price for the work was $8,348.

Sheriff Cramer says another drunken spree was reported in the north part of town Sunday night. The parties had been over to Saginaw County Saturday night on a booze trip. Last week he picked up a man so drunk that he did not know his name for some time. The officers also got after a crowd at Matherton and had two up before the justice and three more before Justice Flynn. Prosecuting Atty. Fehling will go after every violator of the law where he can get sufficient evidence to prosecute.

The Midget Mills of this city, manufacturers of Snow Flake flour, have shut down for a week while installing more machinery in order to increase their flour-making capacity. They will be unable to supply Snow Flake Flour until able to resume operations.

Prosecuting Atty. Fehling received a "black hand" letter. It was printed in red ink and told him if he did not deposit $5,000 under the big stone by the chestnut tree by the brickyard "your Ford will be stole." That will be tough on Fehling.

By W. E. DOBSON

Sir Golden Rocks has wealth galore,
A count is hard to make
Of all the diverse assets.
And incomes in his "stakes";
His memberships are numerous,
Directorships he holds,
In varied institutions
Where he entrusts his gold.

Old Plodder Pete will never Acquire a fortune great,
He works long hours of labor,
A living to create,
But he finds time to work and vote
In the town he calls his home,
And there among his many friends
As good citizen he's known.

Sir Golden Rocks is hard to suit,
For food, or friends, or pleasure,
While Plodder Pete seems to enjoy
Them all in fullest measure;
How best conserve his hoarded wealth,
Disturbs "Sir" to the core,
While Pete spends his for daily bread,
And seeks a little more.

Now each man owns one stomach,
And twenty-four hours each day,
To spend among his fellow-men
In his own special way;
And judged by every standard,
Just who can say for sure—
Among the various kinds of men,
Who is rich and who is poor?

 Michigan State University's annual Crops-Soils Field Day has been cancelled for this year. Originally set for Sept. 2, the field day was dropped because of dry weather and unfavorable growing conditions in central Michigan.

Soil survey complete in DeWitt, Bath area

The soil survey of Clinton, Eaton and Ingham counties is in full progress now with an aim of a published series of complete soil maps of the county.

The survey for the tri-county area is co-sponsored by the Eaton, Ingham and Clinton Soil Conservation Districts, the boards of supervisors of the three counties, Michigan State University, the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission and the US Soil Conservation Service.

FIELD MAPS are to be completed in four years and published for general use in six years. In Clinton County, field work is completed in Bath and DeWitt townships, and the soil survey party is now working in Watertown Township.

The soil survey party consists of Glenn D. Bedell, foreman, assisted by George W. Threlkeld, Alan W. Irvine, David A. Lietzke, and Robert N. E. Hicks, all employed by the US Soil Conservation Service. Others working with the party on the project are assisted by the Michigan State University Soil Science Department.

COPIES of the field sheets when completed will be used by the Clinton Soil Conservation District to assist landowners in completion of their soil and water conservation plans.

"Over 500 landowners in the Clinton district now have soil conservation plans, including a detailed land use soil capability map," according to Lloyd B. Campbell, work unit conservationist at St. Johns. "The complete county soil mapping will assist the district to render faster and more complete technical service to new cooperators in the years ahead."

PRIORITIES for mapping the townships in Clinton are DeWitt, Bath, Watertown, Olive, Eagle, Victor, Riley, Westphalia, Dallas, Bingham, Ovid, Greenbush, Duplain, Essex and Lebanon.

The lack of rainy days this summer has enabled the soil survey party to run considerably ahead of their planned schedule for 1965. And the fine cooperation of land owners in pointing out travel lanes and other helps on their lands has saved the soil scientists some walking, Campbell said.

WITH EACH soil scientist expected to map between 400 and 500 acres per day, he does not

"Dirt Movin' Bee" Cleans up Gunnisonville Church Yard

If the 15 men who met Saturday morning at the Gunnisonville Community Methodist Church weren't sure what a "dirt movin' bee" was, they knew by 4:30 that afternoon. Using tractors, plows, bulldozer, scrapers, shovels and rakes, they plowed, graded and leveled the church yard in the same tradition of community fellowship that built the old church 77 years ago. Shown here riding their tractors on one sweep of the yard are Rev Bill Cessna, Bill Placer, Don Placer, David Gardner and Oliver Angell. Other men who worked included Lawrence Seeger, Walter Baumer, Merl Trowbridge, Marvin Rhynard, Ernie Fritz, Norman Smith, Allen Cable, Ray Shirey, Alden Stampfly and Alva Hartman.

PRICE—A stork shower, honoring Mrs Charles Witt, was held at the Price Church, Wednesday evening, with Mrs William Ashley, Mrs Helen Hunt and Mrs Harold Crowley as hostesses.

Stork bingo was the entertainment for the evening and, as Mrs Witt was unable to be present, each guest stated what their gift package contained.

The serving table was centered by a cake, topped with pink and blue booties. Assisting at the table were Mrs Gerald Phinney, Joan Ashley, Mrs Helen Hunt and Mrs Harold Crowley who made and served the cake.

Mrs Edith Ormes of St. Johns spent Sunday with Mr and Mrs Harold Crowley and Mrs Helen Hunt.

A son, Paul David, was born at St. Lawrence Hospital to Mr and Mrs Charles Witt on Thursday, Aug. 12.

The Price WSCS will meet at the church Wednesday, Aug. 25. Potluck dinner will be served at 12:30 p.m. Mrs Thelma Devereaux has charge of the devotionals.

Mrs Robert Harris of Sun Prairie, Wis., Albert Waidelich of Deerfield, Wis., and Mrs Gaylord Pile and Lori of St. Johns spent the weekend with their parents, Mr and Mrs Albert Waidelich Sr.

Help Yourself, Men, There's Lots More to Come

Part of the tradition of a work bee is a fried chicken and biscuit dinner at noon served by the womenfolk. Saturday's "dirt movin' bee" at the Gunnisonville Community Methodist Church was full of tradition. After the men washed the dirt and dust off with the garden hose and a couple of washbasins, they willingly reduced heaping platters of chicken and the trimmings to a respectable size.

Big space collision

A collision in space 520 million years ago is responsible for most of the meteorites that plunge to earth today, claims University of Chicago scientist Dieter Heymann. The meteorites' unique structure and mineral composition strongly indicate they originated from one major crash which broke up the parent asteroids into chunks from 10 to 100 miles in diameter. Subsequent collisions between the pieces of the common family, Heymann theorizes, produced the small bodies that plummet to earth from time to time.

Former St. Johns teacher takes Scandinavian tour

Mrs Helen Judd of 305 South Oakland, former St. Johns elementary school teacher, recently returned from a tour of Scandinavia, her fourth National Education Association sponsored educational tour.

The trip took her to Bergen, the fjords, Oslo, the Arctic Circle, the North Cape, Hammerfest, Laplands, Helsinki the Finnish lakes, Stockholm the Swedish chateaux country, rural Denmark and Copenhagen.

She traveled by jet plane, train, ship, bus and ferry.

MRS JUDD, who is experienced in world travel, has been in 23 foreign countries. Previous NEA sponsored tours in which she participated were Hawaii, South America and Europe. She has shared her experiences with St. Johns residents, appearing to narrate slides before various women's organizations and children's groups.

Mrs Judd left Kennedy International Airport, New York City, June 21, with 32 other teachers from all parts of the US. She was one of five teachers from Michigan.

One of her first activities after arriving in Bergen, Norway, the following morning, was to ride a funicular, or cable car, to the top of a mountain, overlooking Bergen.

AS SHE toured such places in the city as the home of composer, Edvard Grieg, later that day, Mrs Judd said, it was very cold. The sun was still high in the sky after 9 p.m., she said.

"Breakfasts were marvelous," Mrs Judd said. "The breakfast is served in the form of a smorgasbord which includes, not only prunes, breads, eggs and coffee, but various kinds of cheese, fish and meat and beets, pickles, tomatoes, and oranges. Reindeer was frequently on the lunch and dinner menus."

The scenes of fjords, houses built on mountain sides and waterfalls streaming down mountains, which she viewed from the bus en route to Stalheim and from the train to Oslo, was the typical scenery of the country, Mrs Judd said.

ON THE Norwegian art, she said, a viking theme prevailed in everything from wood carvings to glassware.

She crossed the Arctic Circle en route to Tromsø, from where she left by ship for Hammerfest, the northernmost town in the world where the midnight sun is visible, and Honningsvaag, where she dined overlooking the Arctic Ocean and it was continuously light.

Traveling to Karasjok by bus, Mrs Judd said, she noticed that trees were sparse and lakes numerous in the Laplands and that the houses and native dress of the inhabitants were colorful.

THAT EVENING, she left the Laplands for Helsinki, Finland, a city which impressed her as being very modern, architecturally, and from Helsinki, she traveled to the Hotel Aulanko in Aulanko, reportedly the finest resort hotel in Scandinavia. She observed its popularity among newlyweds who were graciously received.

There was a prevalence of rain throughout the trip, but it was accepted by the group, Mrs Judd said, and in many cases the rain added to the beauty of the scenery.

After a quick stop in Tampere, Finland, she sailed to Turku, then, on to Stockholm, Sweden.

AMONG the places she toured while based in Stockholm were the Royal Palace of Drottningholm, maintained by a staff all year, though used only once a year, at Christmastime. Another stop was at the home of the Swedish sculptor, Carl Milles, where she was able to view his collection.

Both in Stockholm and in Malmo, Sweden, which was the next stop, Mrs Judd was amused to see a number of young men, nearly indistinguishable from girls, she said, with long, curly hair.

"Four days were spent in Copenhagen, Denmark, touring the famous castles of Kronborg, the setting of Shakespeare's tragedy, "Hamlet," Frederiksberg, Fredensborg and Rosenborg with the famous Crown Jewels," she said.

LAST STOP before returning to the US and Michigan was London, England, where tours to Stratford and Ann Hathaway's cottage were interrupted by restful moments in St. James Park, amidst lakes and beds of flowers. Each day, from noon to 2 p.m., the Royal Band entertains the public in the park, she said.

It was exactly one month later she, with souvenirs of the various countries, slides and memories to share, returned to St. Johns.

Senior Citizens state interest in new building

Sixty-five Senior Citizens and three young persons were present on Aug. 10 for the regular meeting at the VFW Hall.

Entertainment was furnished by Mrs Edna Whittemore of Ovid, sister of Mrs E. L. Exelby, and Dennis Dunkell, grandson of Mr and Mrs Andrew Main. Mrs Whittemore showed slides of her western trip. Dunkell played several numbers on the accordion.

Mrs Bertha Wonnengburg was appointed to take charge of securing members to stay at the Drop-In Center from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. every Wednesday and Friday.

ON AUG. 11, several carloads of Senior Citizens went to the annual retirees' picnic at McKinley Park, Flint.

A growing number of Senior Citizens are expressing an interest in an apartment building near the downtown area.

More than 20 persons signed a petition at the Aug. 10 meeting and others said that they were interested. Plans are being made to submit a petition to the city commission. Anyone interested in this project should contact Carmen Tranchell.

Coffee complement is summer stunner

COFFEE CREAM SOUFFLE

A soufflé in summer? Why not? When it requires no baking, no worrying, no wondering if it will be as tall and tantalizing as it should be, a soufflé becomes the ideal warm weather dessert. Of course, we're talking of a luscious coffee cream soufflé.

This is the perfect dessert companion to coffee for any type of occasion, but particularly when you want something out-of-the-ordinary to show off. Being the refrigerator sort, coffee cream soufflé can be made well in advance, ready to be served up proudly at a moment's notice. Its true complement is coffee that contrasts deliciously with the coolness of the soufflé.

COFFEE CREAM SOUFFLE

- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
- 1/3 c. cold, double-strength coffee
- 2 1/2 c. hot, double-strength coffee
- 1 c. sugar, divided
- 1 1/2 c. creamed cottage cheese
- 2 egg yolks
- 1 Tbsp. brandy flavoring
- 2 c. heavy cream
- 2 egg whites
- 1/8 tsp. salt

Soften gelatine in cold coffee and dissolve in hot coffee. Add 2/3 cup sugar. Stir until dissolved and chill until syrupy. Meanwhile press cottage cheese through a sieve. Add egg yolks and beat 3 minutes. Add gelatine mixture and beat in. Whip cream and fold in. Beat egg whites until they form soft peaks and add remaining 1/3 cup sugar and salt slowly, continuing to beat. Fold two mixtures together gently. Let stand at room temperature until mixture will mound in spoon. Meanwhile bind a double strip of aluminum foil firmly around 1-qt. soufflé dish or casserole, extending it 2 inches above top rim of dish. Spoon gelatine mixture into dish. Chill until firm. Remove strip. If desired, garnish top with grated unsweetened chocolate. Make 8 to 10 servings.

Washing can change cotton knit's shape

BY BETTY KETCHAM
County Extension Agent
Home Economics

Have you ever popped a new cotton knit garment into the washer and dryer and later taken out a garment of a completely different shape?

How well a cotton knit garment retains its shape often depends on the process the manufacturer used in finishing it. You can learn to detect faulty finishing if you know what to look for.

The tiny knit loops in the knit are normally plump and round, but the manufacturer may stretch the fabric as it is finished. This makes the loops long and thin. Then, when you wash the garment, the loops go back to their original shape and this causes the garment to be distorted. Usually the garment will be shorter and wider after you wash it.

HOW CAN you tell if a knit will lose its shape when you wash it? Check the back of the fabric.

Looking there, you can see if the knit loops are round and relaxed or stretched. Look for close, even knitting and no thin places in the fabric.

When you're buying back-to-school clothes, cotton knits are a natural choice. They stretch for comfort and are easy to care for. But they won't be much of a bargain if they don't stay looking nice. Check the neck band, seams and label.

Neck bands on T-shirts should have plenty of stretch but should be woven firmly enough to make them snap back to their original shape.

SHOULDER seams, particularly, should be reinforced for extra durability.

Check the garment label to find shrink-resistant guarantees and percentage of shrinkage to expect. Even a high quality knit T-shirt may shrink as much as five per cent, but it should shrink evenly, without losing its shape.

Some of the finish names that may appear on labels include "Pak-Nit," "Pak-Nit RX" and "Prestwick." They hold shrinkage in length to less than one per cent.

CARE OF CLOTHES

Keep articles of apparel that get little use perfectly clean and fresh by encasing them in large enough sheets of wax paper to cover them. Then seal the edges by going over them with a heated iron (after first putting a plain cloth over the paper, to keep wax off the iron). It will provide a dust-proof protector . . . Play safe, when traveling by car, and put a tie in your pocket. Many tourist spots still insist on diners wearing ties.

Wood-plastic

Wood-plastic has been developed by West Virginia University. Wood impregnated with liquid plastic, a monomer such as methyl methacrylate, then treated with ionizing radiation to polymerize the plastic molecules, has many improved properties while retaining the natural beauty of wood.

Sand Lake area pastor to fill Baptist pulpit here

The Rev Roger Harrison, pastor of the Ensley Baptist Church at Ensley Center near Sand Lake since Sept. 13, 1959, has resigned there to accept the call of the First Baptist Church of St. Johns.

He will begin his new duties Sept. 5. The Rev Mr Harrison replaces Rev Peter Nieuwkoop, who left June 6 to become director of Christian Witness to the Jews in Detroit.

DURING REV Mr Harrison's six years at Ensley Center, church membership grew from 147 to 200, and Sunday School attendance rose from an average of 197 to a high of 276. Offerings increased from $15,000 to $28,000, and of this the missionary giving has increased from $3,000 to $7,800.

All but $4,000 of a $32,000 addition to the church in 1957 and a $12,000 parsonage in 1960 has been paid during Rev Mr Harrison's tenure there. In 1963 some 35,000 square feet of land was purchased to expand the church parking lot. The church purchased a new piano and organ, and a special gift this past winter enabled the church aisle to be carpeted and another piano bought. Four new missionaries or agencies have been added to the regular missionary budget.

THE ENSLEY Baptist Church is a 102-year-old organization.

Prior to his service at Ensley Baptist Church, Rev Mr Harrison was a school teacher for a year and for five years was assistant pastor at the Berean Baptist Church of Grand Rapids.

He holds an AB degree from Calvin College and graduated from the Grand Rapids Baptist Seminary in 1953 with a bachelor of divinity degree. In 1954, Rev Mr Harrison was ordained by his home church, the Wealthy Street Baptist Church of Grand Rapids.

Just recently he received his master's degree in pastoral counseling from Michigan State University. Rev Mr Harrison is a World War II Navy veteran.

MRS HARRISON is a graduate of Mt. Pleasant High School and the Grand Rapids Bible College, where she met her husband. She is an accomplished organist and teaches piano and organ. She has been teacher of the young marrieds class at the Ensley Baptist Church and speaks frequently at women's meetings, including mother-daughter banquets.

She currently is chairman of the program committee of the Women's Missionary Union of the Grand Rapids Assn. of Regular Baptist Churches.

THERE ARE TWO Harrison children: Joy Ellen, who is 11 and will be a sixth grader this fall, and Roger Craig, 7 and a second grader.

The Rev Mr Harrison and his family will be coming to a church in St. Johns whose membership has about doubled in the last four years, with average attendance now well over 200 every Sunday. The St. Johns and Ensley churches are both members of the Grand Rapids Assn. of Regular Baptist Churches, which number 103 in all.

THE NEW pastor has been a guest minister on occasions since Rev Mr Nieuwkoop's departure in June. The family began moving into the parsonage here last Thursday prior to leaving on a vacation. They'll return for the Sept. 5 church service.

Road Commission Weekly Report

The Board of Clinton County Road Commissioners held their regular meeting on Wednesday, Aug. 18. The board opened bids for one carload of bridge planks. The commission also discussed a plat from DeWitt Township and an amendment to the state maintenance contract.

Last Wednesday seemed to be meeting day. Les Drago, engineer, met with Fletcher DesAutels, road engineer of Shiawassee County, to discuss state maintenance contract negotiations. Fletcher is our representative on the maintenance contract committee.

THE SAME day, Paul Nobis, chairman, and Bernard Zeeb, commissioner, and your road clerk attended a clerk's association meeting at Saugatuck in Allegan County.

This meeting was devoted to changes and corrections in accounting procedures and to new laws affecting road commissions. Also discussed at this meeting was a proposal to hold an accounting workshop for road commissions on a state-wide basis, possibly in May of 1966.

WE HAVE had three speed control engineering meetings recently and are awaiting final approval and speed control orders from the State Police Commissioner. One area to have speed control is County Farm Road near the County Farm.

Northeast Drive, off US-27 in southern DeWitt Township, is recommended for a 35 miles per hour speed limit and Round Lake Road, from DeWitt to US-27, is to have 45 miles per hour.

Round Lake Road, from US-27 east to the east county line, is set for 50 miles per hour with lesser limits at Round Lake and on several curves.

'Parents' vacation adds extra 'family' for Fowler girl's stay in Germany

BY MRS ALFRED LOUNDS
Fowler Correspondent

FOWLER— Miss Cindy Loudenbeck, daughter of Mr and Mrs Kenneth Loudenbeck of R-1, Fowler, returned Sunday from a two-month stay in Germany where she was an exchange student under the Youth for Understanding program.

She was met at Metropolitan Airport in Detroit by her parents and her two brothers, Don, 15, and Kevin, 7. She was happy to be home, but she said she would miss her "family" and new friends in Germany.

THREE YEARS ago the Loudenbecks were host parents to Ineke Rouwenhorst of Holland for one year. She is now married and living in Paris, so Cindy was unable to visit her.

In June more than 600 young people left Detroit Metropolitan Airport on missions of good will and international understanding under the auspices of the Youth for Understanding program.

THE TRIP over took 22 hours. On the way they stopped in Ireland for refueling, while Cindy and others explored the airport terminal. She reports that there was everything on sale there from clothing to drinks. They also flew over "The Land of the Midnight Sun."

She started a charm bracelet as a memento of her trip which includes charms from Ireland, the Harts Mountains and Lebenstedt, Germany, where she stayed.

WHEN SHE first arrived in Germany she stayed for awhile with a family in a small village of 25 homes, but since both parents worked she was transferred to Lebenstedt village which is a part of Salzgitter, about 15 miles from the East-West border.

Her new family was not expecting her in time to change their vacation plans so she stayed with their neighbor while they were gone. The father in this family operated a gas station and she enjoyed working in the gas station.

WHEN THE Hellmut Urbanks returned, she went to live with them. Her new "father" is a builder-engineer and they have a beautiful modern home. She has 6-year-old twin "sisters," Eva and Karen, a small brother and a brother Claus, who will be a senior this fall. He will be an exchange student in Michigan this year, but as yet, his host parents have not been chosen.

Horton Grange will meet on Friday evening, Aug. 27, at the church. Plans will be made to entertain Pomona Grange in September and all members are urged to attend.

A special program is being planned for family night, to be held at the Price Church on Thursday, Aug. 19. An invitation is extended to all. Bring own table service and food to pass. Supper will be served at 7:30 p.m.

The Hepfest reunion was held at the home of Mr and Mrs Oscar Hiel at Round Lake on Sunday with 46 members present.

Mr and Mrs Howard Crowell entertained several classmates and friends at a reunion, at their home on Price Road Sunday.

Charles Price and Howard Crowell spent Friday night and Saturday in northern Michigan where they sponsored several boys from the Grove Bible Church at camp.

Callers at the Exelby home during the past week were Mr and Mrs Ralph Cortright, Mr and Mrs Floyd Upton, Mr and Mrs Ernie Root, Mr and Mrs Earl Darnell, Mr and Mrs Clarence Bauerle and Mrs James Whittemore.

Mr and Mrs Bruce Parrot and family spent the weekend at East Tawas.

In recent years scientists have been able to duplicate in laboratories some of the conditions that probably led to the beginning of life on earth.

DON'T SCRATCH THAT ITCH!
IN JUST 15 MINUTES, if the itch needs scratching, your skin back at any drug store. You feel quick-drying ITCH-ME-NOT take hold. Itching quiets down. Antiseptic action kills germs to help speed healing. Fine day or night for eczema, insect bites, ringworm, foot itch, other surface rashes. NOW at Gaspie's, St. Johns and Finkbeiner's, Fowler.

CINDY LOUDENBECK

Salzgitter, with a population of 100,000 people, is made up of 28 villages. Lebenstedt is one of these. It is near Wolfsburg, Germany where the Volkswagens are built.

CINDY VISITED "Checkpoint Charlie" at Wolfsburg, which is a cross-over point into East Germany. The servicemen there explained how it works. There are guards on both sides of the border.

She also made a trip to the Harts Mountains which she said are very beautiful.

Cindy was amazed at how few churches she saw and how few people attend them. She wondered if it is like this all over Germany or just in her village.

Cindy will return to her classes at Fulton High School this fall.
