OK drought aid here

The Agriculture Department has offered hay and grazing privileges on crop land retired or diverted in crop production in Clinton County, one of 21 suffering from drought this summer.

The long-awaited announcement of the drought aid was made Friday by Paul Todd Jr., Third District Congressional representative. The Department of Agriculture's decision means that farmers can now graze livestock or cut hay on diverted crop land while there is still some forage available.

Smith warned, however, that the permission to do so is not automatic. "Any producer who wishes to participate in the emergency program should first come to our office and make application," Smith said. "Because the diverted land will now be used, there will necessarily be either a refund by the farmer or a reduction in the diversion payments according to the amount of land being put into emergency use." Smith said the ASCS office must know of the change in status of the diverted land before any change is made.

COUNTIES included in the aid announcement are Clinton, Alpena, Arenac, Bay, Clare, Genesee, Gratiot, Ingham, Ionia, Iosco, Isabella, Livingston, Mecosta, Midland, Montcalm, Montmorency, Oakland, Ogemaw, Saginaw and Shiawassee.

PERMISSION for the emergency haying and grazing is good only until Oct. 1, Smith said.

Ovid couple hurt in trailer spill

Mr and Mrs Kenneth Westley of Ovid suffered multiple bruises and were hospitalized last week at Clinton Memorial Hospital when their car and house trailer overturned on US-27 just south of Ithaca.

Westley, headed south, was attempting to pass another car when his 19-foot trailer started to sway. He lost control, state police said, and both the car and trailer rolled over several times.

The accident occurred Monday, Aug. 16. The couple were listed as in "fairly good" condition yet Tuesday morning after over a week in the hospital.

IN ST. JOHNS, official word on the aid was not received until Tuesday morning. William Smith, manager of the ASCS county office in St. Johns, said all the necessary forms have been received and the office is now ready to handle requests of farmers for using their diverted acreage for pasturing or haying.

City Receives Pedestrian Safety Citation

St. Johns Mayor Jack Smit proudly holds up a pedestrian safety plaque, recognizing the city's three-year period without a pedestrian fatality, awarded to the city last Tuesday night by Joseph Zabalski (left) of the Automobile Club of Michigan. "I can appreciate the work that's gone into making this fine record," Zabalski said. "Having a pedestrian struck is a serious thing, and St. Johns should be proud that it is one of 26 Michigan cities which have compiled records of from one to 19 years without a pedestrian fatality."

Proposed new city sewer rate won't affect most

The first reading of a new city ordinance amending sewer rates was made at last Tuesday's city commission meeting. The change won't affect most people, however, City Manager Ken Greer said.

The new changes will affect only water customers who use more than the minimum amount of water. Those people will pay 95 per cent of the water bill as a sewer charge, in addition to the water bill. Under the present ordinance, the sewer charge was based on an average of the previous winter quarters, and providing this information for the new data processing of water bills proved too costly to continue.

THE ORDINANCE amendment will not change the water rate. Properties which do not have sanitary sewers available in the area will pay only the water rate. Properties which are connected to sanitary sewers but have no access to public water system will pay only a sewer charge. Most customers who use no more than a minimum amount of water will pay the water charge plus 95 per cent of that charge as a sewer charge.

Await word on contract OK

A contract with Vilican-Leman and Associates, Inc. as planning consultants for the city's downtown improvement project has been submitted to the Urban Renewal Administration in Chicago for their approval.

Approval is expected to be only a matter of course. The contract is for $21,800, for which Vilican-Leman will perform all planning and organizational duties connected with the entire St. Johns program.

THE FIRM of Williams and Works has been engaged to do land surveying, one of the first steps in the urban renewal project. The city has also taken steps toward accurate records of the project; Ralph Lynam has set up a separate bookkeeping system for the urban renewal program, and city employees doing any work on urban renewal are recording the time they apply to it.

The city has also made an application for the first $12,000 of a $75,368 federal grant set aside by the Housing and Home Finance Agency for early studies of the feasibility of urban renewal. The $12,000 is expected to last about three months. The city will make quarterly reports on the work accomplished, including the amount of money spent and the need for other funds from the grant.

School prepares for 3,300 pupils

The 1965-66 school year for the St. Johns district begins Tuesday, Sept. 7. The first day will be given over entirely to faculty meetings.

On Wednesday morning all elementary children in the district, except those who are bused into St. Johns will report to their respective schools. Seventh grade students attending Central School will report at 8:30 a.m. while 8th graders will report at 12:30. Only the 9th grade students in high school will attend on Wednesday.

On Thursday all students will be in attendance in the elementary and Junior High School.

In the high school the 10th, 11th, and 12th graders will attend. On Friday all schools will be in operation.

Because of annexation the enrollment in the St. Johns system is expected to approximate 3,300 students.

DURING THE summer a thorough study of expected rural enrollments and attendance areas was made, which resulted in the closing of five rural schools. These schools were closed in order to reduce expenses and to create a more efficient operation. In all cases where a school has been closed, the children will be transported from the closed district to the one they will attend.

Schools to be closed include the Page and Church, whose children will be transported to Eureka; Union Home, transported to East Essex; Serviss to Krepps; and Jason to Bengal Center.

Clinton County taxpayers will not be asked to support financially any vocational-technical facility that may be proposed in Shiawassee County, former US Congressman Alvin M. Bentley said at Owosso Wednesday.

Bentley, chairman of the 65-member Shiawassee - Clinton Area Vocational - Technical Study Committee, said that any referendum initiated in Shiawassee which would require Clinton County taxpayers to financially commit themselves to a Shiawassee facility is specifically prohibited by law regardless of the findings or recommendations of the study.

"HOWEVER," Bentley pointed out, "if the completed study showed glaring needs for vocational-technical training beyond high school for the young people of Clinton County, then certain services of a Shiawassee County facility could be made available."

The study committee was organized last March to:

- 1) Help the high school student who is interested in vocational-technical training beyond what his school offers.
- 2) Help the high school graduate who needs more vocational-technical training to get a job.
- 3) Help the students who drop out of school to receive necessary vocational training.
- 4) Help the persons who need retraining because of automation or other reasons.

In order to accommodate the additional students, walls have been constructed to divide the single large rooms in both the Eureka and East Essex schools to form two smaller rooms.

THE combining of the several rural schools will reduce the number of operating schools in rural areas to 30, while six buildings will be used in St. Johns to make a total of 36 buildings in operation.

During the summer maintenance crews have cleaned and made the schools ready for occupancy. Some painting and repairs have been done in many of the schools. New furnaces are being installed in the Olive Center School.

Textbooks will be furnished through the 6th grade in all

SERVING ON the committee from Clinton County are Robert Gill, personnel supervisor, Sealed Power Corp. St. Johns; Gayle Desprez, assistant vice president, Clinton National Bank, St. Johns; Jack Walker, attorney, St. Johns; Ink White, publisher, Clinton County News, St. Johns.

"WITH THE results of the study scheduled to be released to the public in December," Bentley said, "some research has already been completed in Clinton County. Results of the research at this stage indicate there has been some concern in the St. Johns and Elsie-Ovid areas about property tax financing of a proposed facility in Shiawassee County. As I mentioned, Michigan law would prohibit such a move.

"But," he continued, "preliminary findings of a questionnaire sent to 60 business and industrial firms in Clinton County indicate a need for an expansion of high school programs to better equip students for job entry.

"A program in Shiawassee County could legally answer this need by providing consulting services to Clinton or allowing students or Clinton school districts to contract for the use of the Shiawassee facility."

43-Year-Old Fire Truck Goes Back To Work

Back in service Friday went the St. Johns fire truck that turns out to be 43 years old. A lack of parts for the motor of the old American LaFrance fire engine threatened for awhile to keep the truck out of commission, but parts were finally obtained from the Flint Fire Department, which kept a supply even after they discontinued using a similar truck. Monday came word from the fire truck's manufacturer that "except for some gaskets, we are unable to furnish parts for the engine on this unit. Our stock has become depleted and we cannot obtain replacement stock." The fire truck was sold to St. Johns in 1922, the manufacturer said, and it was equipped with a type 38 motor, 600 GPM rotary gear pump, 40-gallon chemical tank, 20-foot extension and 12-foot roof ladders. Here Department of Public Works employee Rudy Yurco, who worked on the truck along with Bob Harris, closes the hood before putting the truck in the fire garage.

schools. Books for students in grades 7 through 12 can be purchased at the bookstore located in the high school.

Last spring parents were asked to leave textbooks in the rural schools. In each rural school it will be necessary to determine how many 7th and 8th grade books are needed, and after it is determined, students may purchase the necessary books at their own school.

BECAUSE OF the elimination of five of the 32 schools which annexed last spring, it has been possible to reduce the number of teachers in those schools from 44 to 41. As the teachers had been contracted by rural boards, in most cases prior to annexation, there have been few changes in the teaching staff for those schools.

Walter Nickel, supervisor of the rural schools, has been able to fill all of the vacancies as of this time, except for one half-time position.

In St. Johns, the elimination of the first grade at St. Joseph Catholic School has resulted in the public schools acquiring approximately 90 additional first graders. Three rooms for these children will be rented from the St. Joseph School and classes will be held there under the direction of the public schools.

Two teachers, Zita Dianda of St. Johns and Ruth Jones of Ithaca, have been contracted for two of the rooms, with the third yet to be hired.

OTHER ADDITIONS to the staff in St. Johns are at Central School where increasing enrollments make it necessary to change both the 7th and 8th grades to four groups instead of three as in the past. Two teachers have been engaged for these additional classes. They are John Minsky of Cheboygan and Enid Jury of St. Johns.

A third counselor has been added to the high school counseling staff in order to meet North Central Assn. accrediting standards. She is Arlene Scramlin of Mt. Pleasant, a former St. Johns teacher in the Commercial department. Mrs. Scramlin has been away from St. Johns for four years, during which time she has qualified as a counselor.

As there was no office space available for her, an office was created by partitioning about one-fourth of the clinic room for her use.

OTHER NEWCOMERS to the staff are replacements for teachers who have retired or have taken other positions elsewhere.

Storm causes damage at Bath

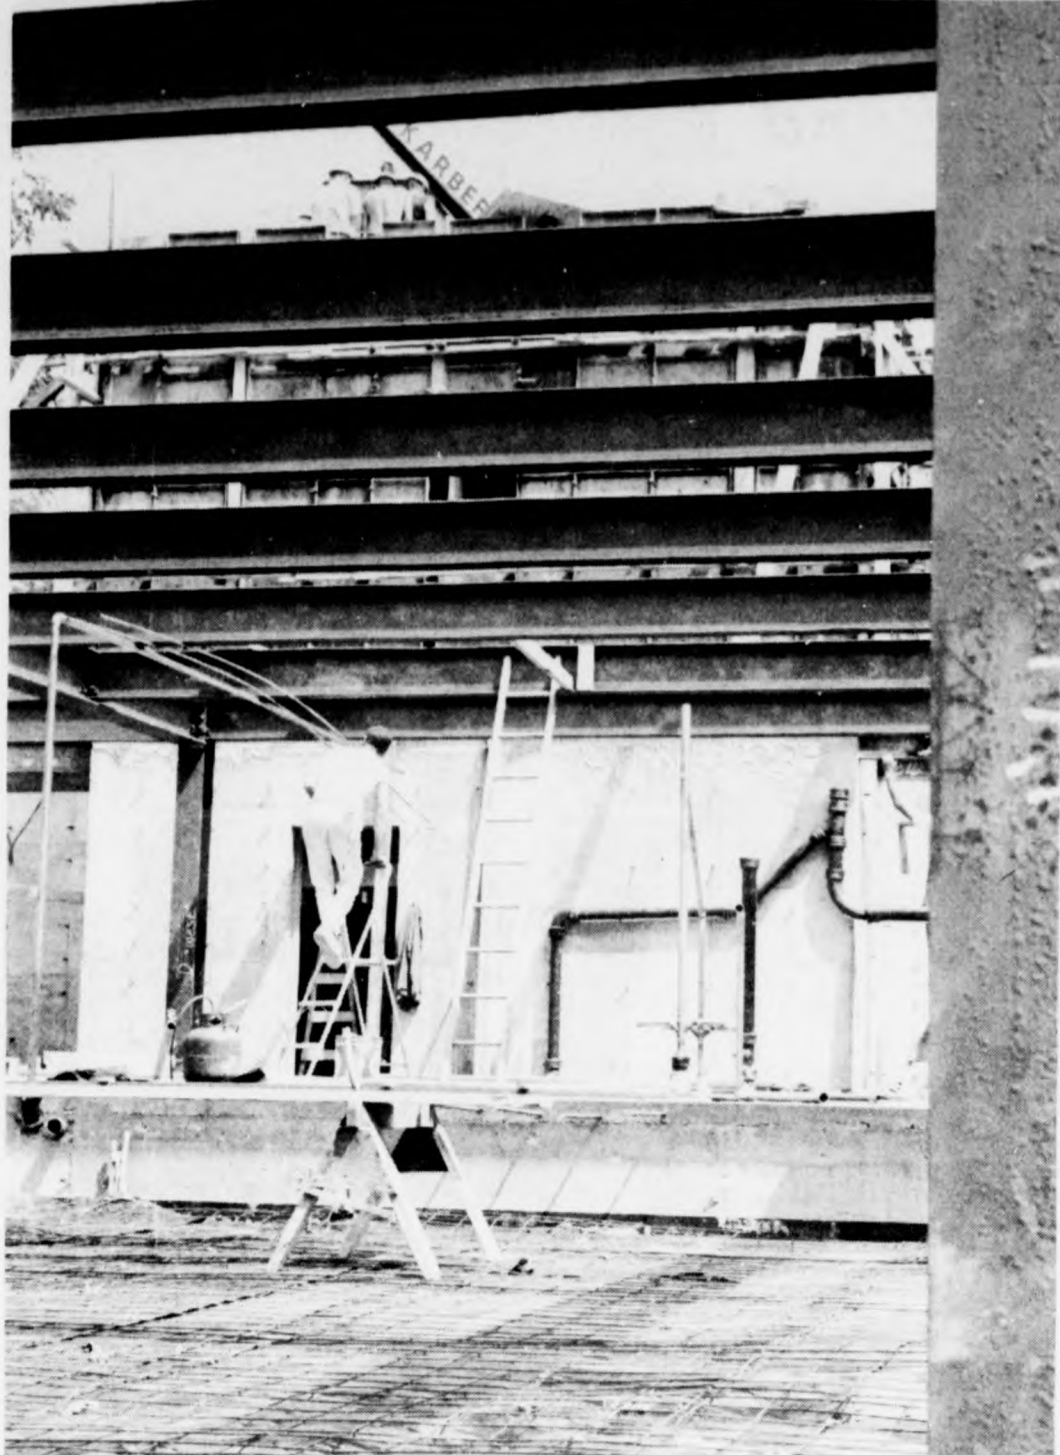

The rainstorm that cut short the horse show at the Clinton County 4-H Fair last Monday afternoon caused some property damage in the Bath area.

Lightning destroyed an electric cook stove at the Lyle D. Taylor home, 7600 E. Saginaw Highway, and while Bath firemen were answering that call, another report came in of a blaze at the James Pearson property at 14038 Center Road. There an outbuilding burned with a loss estimated at $150. It started when lightning hit a tree and skipped to the building.

WIND IN THE thunderstorm overturned the trailer home of Mr. and Mrs. William Shelto of Ann Drive, Park Lake, minutes after Mrs. Shelto and the couple's eight children had fled.

A number of telephones in the Bath area were knocked out by the storm.

Workmen Progress On Central National Bank Building

This is a basement view of the new Central National Bank building at the corner of Spring and Walker Streets, taken recently as workmen prepared to cover the steel beams of the main floor with pre-cast concrete slabs and a concrete cover. Through the beams, other workers can be seen atop the bank's vault, located at the east end of the building. Heating and air conditioning systems are at the site and being set, and Robert Leonard, executive vice president of the bank, said it was hoped the area outside the walls of the building could be leveled off soon.

DeWitt Ox Roast Saturday

DeWITT—The 17th annual DeWitt Ox Roast, held in late August each year to raise money for operation of the DeWitt Memorial Building, will take place this Saturday.

There'll be a parade at 10 a.m., with games, rides, dancing and food available all day long. Fireworks are also planned in the evening.

DeWITT AREA residents still have time to display their art, flowers, ceramics and old photographs in connection with the Ox Roast. The displays will be set up in the Memorial Building from 9:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

The Ox Roast is sponsored by the DeWitt Memorial Assn. for benefit of the memorial building and library, both located at 206 W. Washington Street. Of special importance this year is the need for funds to help finance a new 7,000-square-foot addition to the building.

EARL CORYELL is president of the DeWitt Memorial Assn. Keith Blizard is general chairman for the Ox Roast.

F-M acquires gaskets firm

W.R. Grace and Co. and Federal-Mogul Corp. have completed arrangements under which the assets of the Vellumoid Co., a wholly owned subsidiary of Grace, will be purchased by Federal-Mogul.

James O. Wright, president of Federal-Mogul, said Vellumoid will be operated under the direction of its present management as a division of Federal-Mogul.

VELLUMOID PRODUCES gaskets of various kinds for the automotive, farm implement and other industries. The company has two manufacturing plants in Massachusetts, employing approximately 250 persons.

"The addition of Vellumoid broadens our line of replacement parts and increases our diversification in the original equipment field," Wright said. "Vellumoid gaskets give us an entirely new type of product which is widely used by customers who now purchase our bearings, oil seals, pistons, valves, and other products. Vellumoid provides the technical and basic facilities which can readily be expanded to meet the needs of these customers."

GRACE IS A MAJOR chemical company with International manufacturing, petroleum, food and transportation interests.

that the Shiawassee-Clinton Area Vocational - Technical Study Committee is attempting to assess existing vocational-technical programs and facilities of the high school districts within the study area.

In addition, training institutions such as Lansing Community College and the Flint Community Junior College have sent representatives to meet with the Study Committee to explore areas of mutual interest and to avoid unnecessary duplication.

A representative of the Michigan Employment Security Commission has also met with the committee to discuss state and federal training programs and their implications upon any plan the Study Committee may recommend.

THE STATE OF Michigan, which had to approve the study, contributed $7,500 toward the total study cost of $15,000. The remaining $7,500 is coming from business, industry and individuals in the two-county area.

According to Gayle Desprez, assistant vice president of the Clinton National Bank, who represents Clinton on the finance section of the Study Committee, the following Clinton County area firms have made financial contributions to the study:

Clinton National Bank and Trust of St. Johns; Sealed Power Corp., St. Johns; Clinton County News, St. Johns; V. L. Moore and Sons Chevrolet, Ovid; Michigan Milk Producers Assn., Ovid; United Dairy Workers, Ovid; and the Central National Bank of St. Johns.

Jail inmates had plenty of company over weekend

The population at the Clinton County Jail rose to near record heights over the weekend and early this week, with 29 "residents" taking their meals and lodging there—at the law's insistence.

Sheriff Percy Patterson said he couldn't have handled many more. Most of the newcomers were there after conviction of minor in possession charges. Tuesday afternoon, the latest two sentences brought the current population to 25 persons.

NEW RESIDENTS, the charges and the fines are:

Clayton L. Myers, 30, of R-6, St. Johns, charged with furnishing beer to minors. He pled not guilty before Justice of the Peace Gordon Willyoung and is being held on $50 bond. He was arrested Saturday in Ovid.

Terry A. Taylor, 20, of 6252 W. Walker Road, St. Johns, convicted of minor in possession. He was arrested in DeWitt Township Sunday and was fined $25 plus $19.90 costs and sentenced to three days in jail by Willyoung.

Robert J. Bouts, 19, of R-2, DeWitt, same charge and fine.

CLARENCE L. Gregory, 44, of 6045 Park Lake Road, Bath, convicted on non-support. Justice Willyoung charged him $10 court costs and sentenced him Friday to 10 days in jail.

ROSTIN BRAY Jr., 17, of Raywood, Ky., convicted of minor in possession. He was ordered to pay costs of $5 and to spend three days in the county jail.

Douglas L. Salter, 17, of 813 N. Lansing Street, St. Johns, was fined $10, charged $19.90 for court costs and sentenced to 10 days in jail by Municipal Judge Alba Wert after he was arrested in Elsie Monday for speeding.

WILLIAM C. LaPeer, 18, of 409 N. Lansing Street, St. Johns, was arrested in Victor Township Sunday and charged with minor in possession. He was fined $25 plus $19.90 costs and sentenced to three days in jail.

three days in jail by Watertown Justice of the Peace William Nicholas.

Daniel F. Tomonica, 20, of Lansing, was charged with minor in possession and fined $25 plus $19.90 and sentenced to three days in jail. He was arrested Tuesday in DeWitt Township and sentenced by Justice Willyoung.

Exams scheduled on meat sale weight charges

Legal examinations in justice court are scheduled today and Friday for two Eagle meat firm representatives on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses.

The two men, Steven Snyder and Eugene C. Bailey of the Brangus Beef Co., are free on $500 bond each after they demanded examination last week in Justice Gordon Willyoung's court. Warrants against the pair charged they sold beef listed at a greater weight than when it was delivered.

MELVIN Blankenship of Eagle charged Snyder with selling beef supposed to weigh 532 pounds but weighing 245 after the waste was removed. Bailey was named in a warrant filed by James M. Clymer of Eagle, who said a beef he bought was supposed to weigh 665 pounds but totaled only 200 pounds after removal of waste.

Snyder's examination was set for today (Thursday) and Bailey's for Friday.

Hook up to sewers, city warns

The St. Johns City Commission has ordered a clampdown on water customers who are not connected to the public sanitary system where it is available.

About 40 notices have been sent out by the city to residents in that circumstance. Signed by City Manager Ken Greer, the notice points out that "recent review of city records points out that your property . . . does not utilize the public sanitary sewer system of the City of St. Johns. It must therefore be assumed that you are operating and maintaining either a cesspool, septic tank, out house, a leaching bed and/or have no sanitary facilities.

"ORDINANCE NO. 115 of 1948 provides that receptacles of the above type are illegal and a public nuisance. Section No. 8 of this ordinance provides that wherein the public sanitary sewers are reasonably accessible no person, firm or corporation or home owner shall maintain any such receptacle in St. Johns."

Greer pointed out that the Building Code No. 128 stipulates that all habitable buildings must have an approved sanitary system and proper facilities located within the building.

"THE CITY WILL allow a reasonable time for you to make proper application for a sewer tap and hook-up to the sanitary system. It would appear that 60 days is sufficient to not only make proper application but to also have the work completed and the nuisance abated.

"We point out that if this is not undertaken during this time we will then be required to take appropriate legal action regarding this nuisance."

The car damaged a fence belonging to Frank Houska of R-2, Elsie.

Planners deny request for apartment zoning

A recommendation to reject rezoning of property at the southwest corner of Oakland and Oak streets to multi-family residential has been made by the St. Johns City Planning Commission.

The request was originally made to the St. Johns City Commission last Tuesday night by Harold Bodine and Mrs. Roedecker of Lansing, who reportedly have an option to buy the property at that site from Mrs. Jean Rand of St. Johns.

The two told the city commission they desire to construct two two-family residences and a 16-family apartment building at the location.

BODINE AND Mrs. Roedecker had previously asked for a building permit, but it was denied because the single-family residential zone does not allow such structures. Last Tuesday the city accepted the application for rezoning and immediately referred it to the planning commission.

The planners met Thursday evening and recommended that the petition be denied because it would be, in effect, spot zoning.

Between $700 and $800 was reported stolen Sunday from the Retreat House just east of DeWitt.

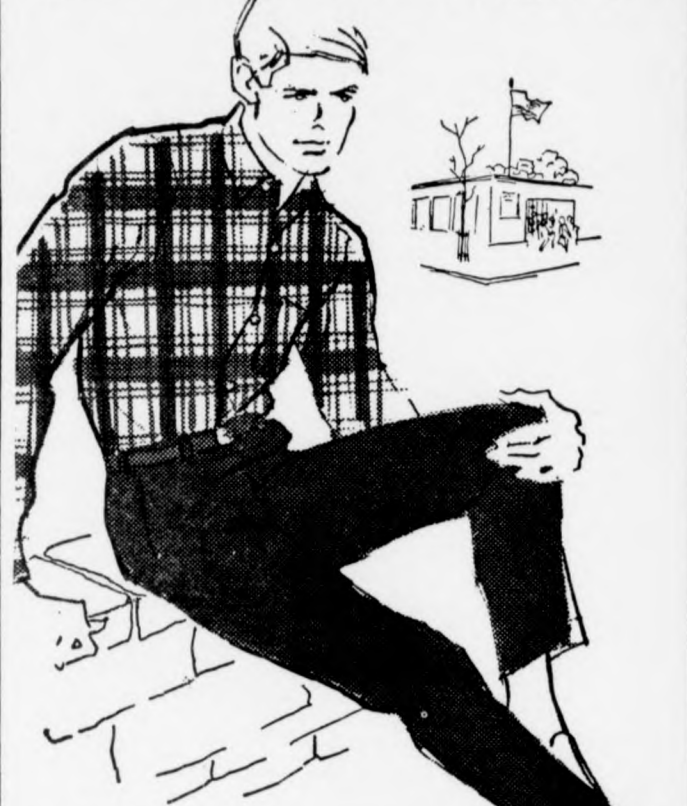

The money was in checks and cash and was taken from a box in a locked cabinet sometime before 4:30 p.m. Sunday. About 100 persons, mostly women but including some boys and girls, were at the retreat at the time.

High Adventure on Our Inland Sea

If you're the rugged type who likes boating, camping, and seeing new things, here's a package deal for real outdoor adventure: Round up another hardy mariner or two and pack your gear for a motorboating trip along the Great Lakes shoreline of Michigan. Before casting off, safety check your boat which should be at least 14 feet long and powered by an outboard motor that's big enough to do the job. Any of Michigan's Great Lakes shorelines will serve for your voyage, but as a smallboater you should look with caution on certain places such as the granite shores and brooding waters of Lake Superior. For those skirting the Lower Peninsula, the Inland Waterway (see map inset) offers an interesting shortcut. Passing through it requires portaging between Petoskey or Harbor Springs and Conway. Whatever route you take, this is a rough pleasure trip. However, it promises a closeup look at Michigan you won't soon forget. —Mich. Dept. of Conservation

Punt, pass, kick game scheduled

With thoughts of football already on the minds of all youngsters, Egan Ford Sales, Inc., of St. Johns has announced it will again sponsor a Punt, Pass and Kick contest in St. Johns this fall.

The competition between boys aged 8 through 13 will be held the evening of Saturday, Oct. 9, at the city park athletic field. The St. Johns Jaycees have indicated they will cooperate again this year as co-sponsors.

ST. JOHNS area boys will be tested for their ability to punt, pass and placekick a football. Points are awarded for each foot of distance the ball travels on the fly, and points are subtracted for each foot the ball lands to the right or left of a center line.

Competition will be held in six age groups, with winners having a chance to progress to national competition. Prizes will be given local winners. Competition involves no body contact, Bruce Fowler, manager of Egan Ford Sales, Inc., pointed out.

Registration for the PP & K contest will begin Sept. 1 at Egan's on West Higham Street in St. Johns.

P-W football team to get checkup Monday

Coach Duane Blatt of Pewamo-Westphalia High School has announced that all students who plan to participate in football this fall will meet Monday at 9 a.m. at the Pewamo - Westphalia High School gym. Dr Cook will be present to give physical examinations.

IS DONE, responsibilities to yourself and to the members of your team, good sportsmanship in winning and losing, correcting weakness and strengthening strong points—all play a vital role in the growth and maturity of a boy athlete into a man of distinction, a man who can be humble in receiving praise and hold his head up when faced with defeat.

IS FOOTBALL dangerous? I again say no. It is all part of growing up; it's another step in rising to maturity. Not all are able to participate, but to those who are able and willing to put forth the effort, I recommend it as more than a game.

I recommend it not in the light of becoming a star but as becoming a tested person who realizes his capabilities and worth. Besides, it's a lot of fun.

Local teams lose out in district softball play

Two Clinton County teams jumped off to fast starts in softball tournament action last weekend at St. Johns, only to lose out in the stretch.

In the Class A district tournament, Miller's Tavern of Fowler won their opener with Stroh's of Lansing 8-3, then lost the second game 3-0 and the rubber game 1-0.

IN CLASS B, the Roadhouse team from St. Johns slugged Bill Fowler Ford of Lansing 9-4 in the opener and then dropped a double-header Sunday evening to lose the district title. Fowler Ford won the first Sunday game 7-0 on a no-hitter and won the nightcap 6-5 in eight innings.

Down at Lansing, Dean's Hardware was eliminated in the Class C tournament, losing to Sparrow Hospital 1-0, then beating Eaton Rapids 4-1 and finally losing 5-2 to the Lansing No. 2 team.

GRAFF AND Schultheis hurled Miller's to victory in the first Class A game, with Thelen beating a three-run homer in the third inning to provide some ballast. Tiedt had a double and single and Fox a two-run triple to aid the cause.

ROADHOUSE HAD their bats loaded for bear in the opening game of the Class B tournament against Bill Fowler Ford. Larry Crosby got the victory in relief of Ev Martens, and between them they allowed the Lansing team but two hits. Hub Waite, Rolfe Koelechner, Bob Paks and Ron Dugas got two hits each.

Hitters were missing from the Roadhouse team in the first game of Sunday's doubleheader. Fowler Ford's George Parkinson allowed no hits by Roadhouse and the score wound up 7-0.

THE LOSS BY Roadhouse necessitated a third game in the series, and it was played as the second game of a double-header. Fowler Ford led at one point 5-2, but Roadhouse scored once in the fifth inning and then tied it up in the sixth when Dick Gehrig stroked a home run. The game was all tied at the end of the regulation seven innings, but in the eighth, Fowler Ford went ahead when a batter tripled to right field and scored when the catcher dropped the ball in a collision at the plate.

Larry Paks also had a two-run homer for Roadhouse in the second inning.

DOWN AT Lansing, Dean's Jerry Sharick got hooked up in a real battle with Sparrow Hospital in the first game Dean's played. Sharick allowed only three hits, but his team could get only one, and Sparrow won the game in the fifth when a run scored on an error. Final score was 1-0.

In the second game, Eaton Rapids put up a stiff fight, but Dean's edged them out 4-1 in eight innings. In the eighth, Sharick reached first on a third-strike passed ball, Graham beat out a bunt and Morrison slammed out a double for two runs. He later scored on a passed ball to make it 4-1.

IN THE THIRD contest, Dean's jumped off to a 2-0 lead, only to see it fade away. Walks were the major difficulty as Lansing No. 2 went on to eliminate Dean's 5-2 in the double elimination tourney.

Football not dangerous game for physically fit, player says

BY JIM LEONARD
St. Johns High School

(Editor's Note: Jim Leonard, son of Mr and Mrs William Kenney, 510 N. Ottawa Street, St. Johns, will be a senior member of the St. Johns High School Redwings football squad this fall. With the practices starting Monday, Jim tells his feelings about the game.)

As you must already know, football is a sport in which there is an extreme amount of physical contact. Therefore minor injuries are quite commonplace. Stiff necks, bruised muscles, scraped knees, shins and elbows or fingers swollen from being stepped on are likely to occur to anyone during the span of the season.

There is normally nothing serious. Once in a while someone breaks an arm, leg, finger or toe, sprains an ankle or knee severely or separates a shoulder, which in most cases puts an end to the unfortunate individual's season, or at least a part of it.

PHYSICAL fitness is the football player's greatest asset. Being physically fit in many instances will prevent a great number of injuries which otherwise undoubtedly would befall the athlete competing in football or any other sport.

In any sport, and in everyday living for that matter, there is always the danger of being hurt or disabled. Although football increases the chances, there are provisions made to make the player as safe as possible.

HE IS equipped with some of the finest protective football equipment in the history of the game. Today the trend is to tough, lightweight equipment of quality and considerable expense. The expense is overlooked, in favor of the player's safety, to enable our football players to have the best equipment possible.

With the combination of top-notch equipment and physical fitness, a football player is many times less prone to injury—even minor injury—than the person driving down the street of a city in his car. The element of danger in heavy city traffic is quite evident.

THE GREATEST number of injuries come to a football player after he becomes tired or before he is warmed up. This occurs mainly in the practices preceding the regularly scheduled games. Practice drills and live scrimmages, I would say, claim nearly 75 to 80 per cent of all injuries occurring in a season.

A game usually aggravates pulled muscles or soreness that has already been acquired, but it seldom brings new, severe injury. After all, in St. Johns at least, 85 per cent of the time is spent on the practice field and not in the actual football game on Friday night.

FOR THESE reasons mothers shouldn't worry about their sons so much on Friday nights. If they have to worry, it should be done on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. We take it easy on Thursday. These are the days on which their sons are most likely to get hurt. Coaching is behind much of the injury list; either the coach pushes too hard or not hard enough. Oddly enough it is usually the latter!

Is there a danger of the mind or attitude of boys who play football? I can only answer this with a resounding No! There are many lessons of life that are learned as a member of a well-organized, spirited football team. Overcoming hardships, striving toward higher goals, putting forth extra effort to see that the job

Commissioner Kentfield suggested the School contribute 50 per cent of the Recreation Budget. Manager Greer explained there is approximately $4,200.00 revenue from the recreation program.

Mr Earl Lancaster explained the public school system is currently paying $2,500.00 a year rent for the facilities used by the school, during the school year; and $5,000.00 as a contribution to the recreation program.

City Manager Greer explained that by using more detailed accounting procedures the city would be able to break down separate costs for the major recreation facilities, at the end of this fiscal year.

The School Board at their next meeting will consider what proportionate share of the recreation budget should be paid by the school and this board plans to meet again with the city commission to further this study.

Commissioner Kentfield offered the following preamble and resolution and moved for the adoption, which was supported by Commissioner Coletta.

Dr Kraft, St. Johns dentist 37 years, sells practice

Dr Russell M. Kraft, St. Johns dentist for 37 years, announced last week that he is retiring for health reasons but that he has obtained a dentist to fill his vacancy.

The new dentist will be Dr Henry A. Burkhardt Jr., who will complete service with the US Air Force in mid-September. He will start his practice here about Oct. 1.

DR KRAFT has been in dentistry for 45 years, starting at LeSueur, Minn., which he described as the "land of the jolly green giant." After 7 1/2 years there he moved to St. Johns and set up his practice here in an office over the J. C. Penney Store in January 1928.

He has maintained his office for the last eight years at 201 Brush Street on the northwest corner of Brush and Walker.

"Progress in dentistry has been outstanding in the years I've been in the practice," Dr Kraft recalled. "People are very receptive to going to the dentist these days. It's not the problem it used to be in working with patients because we have more modern equipment and methods now."

MINNESOTA IS Dr. Kraft's home state, and he graduated from the University of Minnesota in 1920 with a dentistry degree. Some years ago he was elected a member of the Pierre Fauchard Academy, an honorary organization for recognition of contributions to ethical dentistry.

Dr Kraft is also a life member of the American Dentistry Assn. and the Michigan Dentistry Assn.

HE'S ACTIVE IN local groups,

DR RUSSELL M. KRAFT

too. He became a member of Rotary shortly after he came to St. Johns and now has 36 years membership accrued. He also belongs to the American Legion, having served with the United States Navy in 1918 - 19 during World War I. He also belongs to the Congregational Church and the Masonic Lodge.

Dr Kraft and his wife, Doris, own an attractive, comfortable home at 307 Wight Street. The couple have a daughter, Mrs William V. Millman of Moline, Ill., and two sons, Robert C. Kraft of Flint, and James R. Kraft of Cleveland, Ohio. Mention of his nine grandchildren also brings a sparkle to the eyes and a proud smile to the lips of the dentist.

ST. JOHNS has been the Krafts' home now for 37 years, and Dr Kraft, though retiring at the age of 67, said he's "going to take it easy and continue to live in St. Johns." He and his wife spend some time in Florida each winter, and most of their summer weekends are taken up at their cottage on Crystal Lake.

"After 45 years of practice, 37 of which have been in St. Johns, I am compelled to discontinue the practice of dentistry for health reasons," Dr Kraft said in announcing his retirement. "I am deeply appreciative of the opportunity that St. Johns and this area have afforded me in serving people and making living for myself and family very adequate and pleasant."

"DR BURKHARDT is a man of good training and will make a good addition to the dental profession in this area," Dr Kraft said. He said the new owner of his practice will complete his Air Force assignment at Albuquerque, N.M., in mid-September and will move to St. Johns with his wife and twin daughters as soon as possible.

Area girl receives Dominican habit

On Aug. 16 18 young ladies received the habit of the Racine Dominicans in a reception ceremony held at St. Catherine's Convent in Racine, Wis. Among them was Miss Alice Thelen, daughter of Mr and Mrs Eugene Thelen, R-2, St. Johns.

Miss Thelen will be known in religion as Sister M. Joan. This class of novices will be the first to spend their entire novitiate period of two years in the new Motherhouse now being built on the shores of Lake Michigan by the Racine community.

The oldest evidence of plumbing is found in crude paintings in European caves. They show hairy men using a hollow log to pipe water from a spring into their cave.

At Summer Camp for Handicapped

Correspondent, family visit national parks

BATH— Mrs Alice Loomis, Bath correspondent, and her husband, Wayne, and two sons, Steve and Mark, returned recently from a vacation which began July 4 at "Big Mac" and continued to the International Bridge at Sault Ste. Marie and Highway 17 in Canada around the northern edge of Lake Superior. Here is an account of their trip.

"We traveled west across Canada to the Waterton-Glacier International Peace Park. After spending several days in this mountain country we drove to Glacier National Park in Montana.

The extremely wet spring and heavy snows of the winter had taken their toll of the roads in the park. The crews were repairing the damage that was done but park rangers said that it would take 10 years to repair all the damage. All the roads were passable and we were awed by the beauty of the mountains and scenery.

WE TOOK several hikes into the mountains. Especially interesting to us was a 2-mile hike from Logan Pass to Hidden Lake. The lake's elevation is 6,664 feet. Due to the late melting of snow, the trail wasn't opened yet, but the ranger said that we were at liberty to take it on our own. We walked on top of 6 to 8 feet of snow. As we reached the top and end of the trail, the view was spectacular. Standing there, on the edge of a snow covered mountain, looking out over a frozen lake, was almost like being in a dream world.

After leaving the park, we drove to Yellowstone National Park, Wyo. We had been there before so we knew what we wanted to see.

Among the stops were Mammoth Hot Springs and the Grand Canyon with its upper and lower falls. The lower falls are the highest, falling 308 feet. The upper falls are 109 feet high.

DURING ONE of our stops, the boys tried their luck at fishing in the Yellowstone River and caught four rainbow trout which we promptly fried for supper.

We went on to the geyser area and saw Old Faithful, Castle, Grotto and Riverside perform. We walked through the geyser basins where we saw the hot pools and springs. We were able to see the newest geyser in the park which started erupting in April and is, as yet, unnamed.

Our next stop was in the Tetons National Park, directly south of Yellowstone. We drove along the Teton Highway, at the base of tall, stately mountains. One of the highlights for us was a perfect reflection of Mount Moran, elevation 12,594 feet, in Jackson Lake below.

WHEN WE left the Tetons, we drove to Casper, Wyo., where my husband's brother and family live and we spend a week with them, camping on the backwaters of Pathfinder Dam. When we left Casper, we were on our way home.

Stops on the way home included

Devils Tower National Monument and Mt. Rushmore.

One afternoon and evening was spent in the Bad Lands National Monument where we viewed them from the different driving look-outs and took a marked hike 3/4 of a mile into the Bad Lands. I am glad that the trail was marked or I would still be there for each hill looks just like the next one. We attended a campfire program put on by the rangers in the evening and heard the story of how the Bad Lands were formed.

WE VISITED the Corn Palace, a building decorated inside and out, with corn, in Mitchell, S. D., and the Wall Drug in Wall, S. D., where animated window displays are there for the public to enjoy.

After leaving South Dakota we drove across Iowa, Illinois and a small portion of Indiana to southern Michigan and home to Bath.

We were gone a total of 25 days.

Sugar instead of needle will make administration of polio vaccine here easy

The oral polio vaccine that will be offered to Clinton County residents at nine area locations Sept. 19 is the result of a great break-through in the fight against polio several years ago.

The Sabin-developed vaccine is given by mouth, rather than with an injection needle, making it a big advantage in the vaccination of children against the crippling disease. At clinics in Clinton County, a couple of drops of the vaccine are placed on a cube of sugar and then the sugar eaten. The vaccine is recommended for adults, too.

FOR BABIES, the vaccine will be placed directly in the child's mouth with an eyedropper. The vaccine is tasteless.

The vaccine to be used in Clinton County is the new trivalent vaccine, which contains a blend of three strains of monovalent vaccine. Two feedings of the vaccine are necessary for basic protection against all types of polio. The second feeding will be given at similar clinics, probably in December.

THE vaccine, called Orimune, is designed to provide what doctors call "intestinal immunity" against polio. Thus, it not only affords the immunized individual optimum protection against polio by stimulating the production of antibodies in his blood, but it also reduces the likelihood of his becoming a carrier of the disease.

The Clinton County Polio Vaccine Committee is making plans for clinics at St. Johns, Elsie, Maple Rapids, Fowler, Westphalia, DeWitt, Bath and Valley Farms. The Clinton County Medical Society, the Clinton County Health Office and the Fowler Jaycees are co-sponsoring the clinics.

THE CLINTON County Board of Supervisors has underwritten the cost of obtaining the 50,000 doses of the vaccine. There will be no actual charge for receiving the vaccine, but a 50-cent donation is being asked to help offset the costs.

Here are a few of the commonly asked questions concerning the oral polio vaccine, answered by Francis Schafer, secretary of the Fowler Jaycees and chairman of the Clinton County Polio Vaccine Committee.

Q—ARE THERE any harmful after-effects, such as fever or slight illness, as a result of taking the vaccine? A—Oral polio vaccines have been administered to millions of persons, with little or no after-effects directly attributed to the vaccine.

A—How does the vaccine work? A—After it is swallowed, the vaccine virus multiplies in the digestive tract, stimulating the body to produce what doctors call "antibodies." These are what provide protection against polio.

Q—HOW LONG can immunization from polio last after a person takes the vaccine? A—Experts believe it will give you a relatively long-term immunity against polio. Since individuals respond differently and exact data is not yet available, some experts believe a booster dose should be given every two to four years.

Q—After a person takes the vaccine, how long is it before he should begin to get protection? A—Protection should begin in two to three weeks.

Q—What about those who have received previous Salk polio shots? A—A complete series of two feedings of the new trivalent vaccine is recommended regardless of any previous shots.

Kermit Hart resigns from appeal board

The St. Johns city commission has accepted the resignation of Kermit Hart, former plant manager at Federal-Mogul Corp. here, from the zoning appeal board for the city. No appointment of a new member was made pending a study of a list of names proposed. Hart is presently manufacturing manager of the entire Federal-Mogul Corp. network and is based in Detroit. He has only recently moved away from St. Johns. A letter of appreciation for Hart's service to St. Johns was ordered sent to him on behalf of the city.

MRS JAMES S. KLEIN

Schmitt-Klein vows repeated in church

Nuptial vows were spoken by Miss Jean Marie Schmitt, daughter of the Isidore Schmitts of Westphalia, and James Stephen Klein at noon Saturday in St. Mary's Church, Westphalia. Mr and Mrs Norman Klein of Portland are the bridegroom's parents.

The Nuptial Mass was celebrated by the uncle of the bride, Rev Albert Schmitt. Rev Aloysius Miller performed the marriage ceremony. The Men's Choir sang, accompanied by Fred Hengsbach, organist.

THE GOWN worn by the bride was styled with a scoop neckline, long-tapered sleeves and a double train edged with Venetian lace. Her veil fell from a pearlized orange blossom crown and her bouquet consisted of carnations, sweetheart roses and pompons.

All of her attendants were dressed identically in semi-sheath style gowns of pink with detachable trains and cabbage rose headdresses. Miss Ruth Schmitt was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Janet Klein, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Mary Jane Nurenberg and Miss Susan Tiedt.

Miss Colleen Klein, also a sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl. They carried tiers of pompons.

LARRY KLEIN, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and ushers were Gerald Schmitt and Richard Schmitt, brothers of the bride, Tom Hoppes, Larry Fernholz and Daniel Schneider.

Among the 500 guests that attended a reception at the American Legion Hall, Portland, were the grandmothers of the bride, Mrs Ida Koenigsnecht and Mrs Regina Schmitt, and the grandmothers of the bridegroom, Mrs Mary Warner and Mrs Joseph Klein. Serving were Donna Wirth, Janice Schmitt, Evie Kolp, Bonnie Trierweiler, Rita Klein and Arlene Schmitt.

The newlyweds will reside on Friend Road, R-2, Portland, when they return from their wedding trip to Niagara Falls.

Shower honors Donna Schafer

Mrs Harold Crowley, Mrs Robert Moore and Miss Patricia Hebeck were hostesses at a shower honoring Miss Donna Schafer of Fowler. The shower was held at the Hebeck home on Thursday evening, Aug. 19.

The game, "Brides," was played with duplicate prizes awarded to Miss Schafer, Mrs Albert Gillison, Mrs Helen Hunt and Mrs James Crowell. After the bride-to-be opened her gifts of kitchenware and groceries the hostesses served refreshments.

Miss Schafer will become the bride of James Hebeck, Sept. 11.

Bake sale planned by area TOPS Club

At the Aug. 19 meeting of the St. Johns TOPS Club it was decided to have a bake sale Sept. 11. The proceeds will go in the convention fund.

Mrs Linda Baily was queen for the week.

After the meeting, Mrs Doris Haveka auctioned off a basket of fresh vegetables.

MEET YOUR CLUB PRESIDENT

St. Sylvia Guild

MRS FRANK SIPKOVSKY

When the president of St. Sylvia's Guild of St. Joseph Catholic Church, Mrs Frank Sipkovsky, has free time, she likes to spend it on the golf course or at a bowling alley. But first comes her home at 1346 West Colony Road, where her husband farms mint, and her job at the Mary Frances Shop. Mrs Sipkovsky also likes to grow such things as the vine, pictured above, which serves as a room divider, and listen to show tunes and semi-classical music. Each year, Mrs Sipkovsky heads the Greenbush Township Cancer Drive. She has two daughters, Mrs Roger Keys of St. Johns and Jan, a junior at Michigan State University.

MRS ALAN L. RUHL

Pair wed in Fowler

Miss Janet L. Bradley of Lansing, daughter of Mr and Mrs Werlin E. Bradley of Charlotte, and Alan L. Ruhl, son of Mr and Mrs Arnold Ruhl of Fowler, repeated marriage vows, July 24, at Holy Trinity Church in Fowler.

The bride wore a gown of silk organza, featuring short Chantilly lace sleeves, a bell-shaped skirt and detachable cape train which fell from the scoop neckline. She carried a bouquet of carnation, red roses and ivy.

MISS LINDA Bradley, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Nancy Ruhl and Miss Elaine Ruhl, sisters of the bridegroom, and Miss Doris Schneider were bridesmaids. They wore empire gowns of pink crepe with white lace bodices and carried bouquets of gladioli and roses.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was his brother, James Ruhl. Ushers were Darryl Bradley, brother of the bride, Louis Schneider, David Bierstetel, Alvin Schneider and Milton Horn.

THE BRIDE's mother chose a pastel yellow dress and yellow and white accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore an aqua sheath dress and aqua and white accessories. Their corsages were of carnations and roses.

A reception followed in a local hall. Special guests were Mr and Mrs William Wilson, grandparents of the bride.

The couple honeymooned at Niagara Falls and are making their home at 723 Shepard Street, Lansing.

ASC PROGRAM

1965 Crop dry bean support price announced

W. M. SMITH
County ASC Manager

This spring we had visions of the largest bean crop in the last few years. Now due to the drought and frost, bean yields in our county have been cut. Many of the best looking beans on the low areas have been completely destroyed by frost.

Prices for the 1965 crop of dry beans will be supported at a national average of $6.32 per hundredweight. This is the same as for the last four years.

WHILE THE national average price-support level is unchanged, the rates for classes are adjusted to encourage a better balance between production and requirements among these classes. Rates for pea and medium white beans and dark red kidney beans are reduced 25 cents per hundredweight. Production of these beans has been increasing in recent years and much of the added production has been taken over under the price support program.

Price support loan rates on other classes are increased 19 cents per hundredweight.

The 1965 support rate for pea beans in Michigan is $6.65 per hundred pounds, US No. 1 grade cleaned and bagged with all charges, except receiving and loading out, paid through maturity date for beans stored in approved warehouses.

THIS YEAR bean producers who wish to store their beans on their farm will get less deduction in loan rate. The deduction from loan rates for farm stored, thrasher-run beans will be $1.50 per hundredweight for all classes except pea beans, and $1.00 per hundredweight for pea beans. These deductions are to cover cleaning and bagging costs. In past years these deductions were $3.00 per hundredweight for all classes of beans. With this small deduction in loan rate, it will encourage more bean producers with good farm storage to store on their farm.

Premiums and discounts for the 1965 programs are the same as under the 1964 program. Premiums for US choice hand-picked and US extra No. 1 grade beans will be 10 cents per hundredweight for all classes except pea beans, on which the premium for US choice hand picked grade will be 25 cents. US No. 2 grade beans will be discounted at 25 cents per hundredweight.

AS UNDER past programs, bean prices will be supported through loans and purchases. Loans will mature on April 30, 1966.

A new provision approved for the 1965 program is use of general bags or burlap bags. General commercial use shows that the paper bags will provide a container as satisfactory as the burlap bag. The support price rate for beans packed in paper bags will be 9 cents per hundredweight less than those packed in burlap bags.

For more details regarding bean loans please contact our office.

This is my fourth report from Lansing that is based on a series of explanations concerning the new laws recently enacted by the Michigan Legislature. I believe the following public acts, which are now in effect, will be of interest to many people in the area:

P. A. 41 (S.133) Allows assessment of driving violation points against 16-year-old drivers upon probate court finding of violation of motor vehicle laws.

P. A. 42 (S.134) PROVIDES procedure for probate court findings that a motor vehicle law or ordinance has been violated by a 16-year-old.

P. A. 43 (H. 2295) Eliminates the president, vice president and chairman of the finance committee of the board of education as ex-officio members of the teachers' retirement system. Provides for election by the board of education of three members of the board. Broadens investment provisions to allow loans on certain facilities leased or to be leased to the state or federal governments.

P. A. 44 (S.114) Increases weekly benefits for an injured worker under workmen's compensation over a three-year period beginning Sept. 1, 1965. Benefits rise according to the number of dependents.

P. A. 45 (S. 393) REQUIRES all entrance fees, fines and 20 per cent of the net earnings of a credit union before declaration of a dividend to be set aside in reserve fund. The percentage of such earnings to be set aside shall be decreased until the reserve fund equals 7 per cent of the outstanding loans of the union. No further transfer of net earnings shall be set aside as long as the 7 per cent ratio is maintained. The prior law required the reserve fund to equal 10 per cent of the credit union's assets.

P. A. 46 (S. 362) Allows establishment of dental clinics by nonprofit corporations for union members.

P. A. 47 (S. 174) EXTENDS time for renewal of charters by nonprofit corporations from Jan. 1, 1965, to Jan. 1, 1967.

P. A. 48 (S. 175) Extends time for renewal of charters of profit corporations from Jan. 1, 1965 to Jan. 1, 1967.

P. A. 49 (S. 320) Allows a third-class school district to hold school board elections at the same time as the city or village election in 1966 and biennially in the even-numbered years thereafter. The terms of office of the present board members that expire in 1965, 1967 and 1969 are extended for one year.

P. A. 50 (S. 31) ALLOWS safety construction commission to promulgate safety rules and regulations which do not require legislative approval. Such rules do not apply to firms or companies whose principal business is not construction work and whose construction work consists only of maintenance construction work performed on their own property by their own employees. Also requires commission director to have at least 10 years experience in the construction industry although he need not be a registered professional engineer.

If these reports are of interest and value to you, I would appreciate your letting me know so that I may continue to be of service, in this respect.

Analyzing real estate market vital phase of reappraisal job

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth in a series of articles explaining how the Yo Co. will arrive at property value figures in their reappraisal of county property. Hearings on their findings will be held this fall.)

The phase of a tax equalization program dealing with the analyzing of the local real estate market and construction activity is one of the most important, and certainly one of the most difficult, phases.

Within this operation lies the real key to local values which the law of supply and demand has created. It is the job of the appraiser to analyze these activities in order to make a proper determination of values. The true market value of real estate is created by the property-buying public, and for equalization purposes the "going rate" is analyzed in homogenous groups, rather than as individual sales.

THE FIRST task at hand for the appraiser is to find the most reliable sources to obtain the data he is looking for. Usually these are the basic things he is looking for:

1. When was the property sold?
2. How much did the property sell for?
3. Did the sale price include any personal property, such as, rugs, drapes, appliances, machinery, equipment, etc?
4. Was any property taken in trade as part of the transaction?
5. Was the sale a legitimate "arms-length" transaction?

NUMBER FIVE (5), which is last, is actually the most important. There are many transactions made, which for various reasons are not true indicators of value. Some of these non-useable types of sales are listed below:

1. Sales between members of the family.
2. Sheriff sales or public auction.
3. Sales between a corporation and its stockholders.
4. Love and affection sales.

when her family drops in. Mrs Ed Witt was in recently.

Mrs Veronica Pohl entertains her visitors, among whom are Cecelia Rademacher and Lillian Ott.

Mrs Cora Brown has visits with her son, Dewey, and his wife, Catherine. Other callers were Mr and Mrs M. I. Brown and Mrs Nelson Jolly, Ovid.

Rivard's held its annual staff picnic at the City Park, Aug. 19. Nearly all staff families participated. Games and music were the entertainment.

A quartet from Fowler entertained residents Monday, Aug. 16, during their diversional activity meeting.

Mrs Beatrice Rivard had as her houseguests for the week of Aug. 9, her daughter, Mrs Armstrong and family of Bridgeport.

Mrs Katherine Gonyer and children visited her mother, Mrs Gladys Hetzel, the week of Aug. 16. Mrs Gonyer and family reside in Flint.

Many of the staff members and their families and friends attended a bridal shower for Miss Frances Hetzel. The shower was held at the Senior Citizen's Drop-in Center. Mrs Beatrice Rivard and Mrs Betty Mable sponsored the shower.

Rev Brewbaker and members of the Church of God held services at the home, Sunday, Aug. 22.

5. Sales of cemetery lots.
6. Sales of property whose value has been recently influenced by zoning changes.
7. Sales to federal, state, or local government, or to charitable or religious organizations.
8. Sales for right-of-way purposes.
9. Sales in which the property has been substantially improved since the date of sale.

THE ABOVE are only a few of the exceptions. There are many more which the appraiser must be on the look-out for that may materially upset the results of the study. Also, a very important consideration is that a few isolated sales do not necessarily indicate the true market.

For example, assume that a 10-acre tract of farm land was purchased on the outskirts of a medium-size town for a shopping center, and the purchase price was $2,000 per acre. Does this mean that all similarly located tracts of farm land are worth $2,000 per acre, when farm land in general is valued at $200 per acre? From a tax equalization appraisal stand point, it is very likely that it does not, since the size of the community does not warrant more than one or two shopping centers. The next sale like this may be years in the future, but yet the growth pattern of the community indicates that this type of land is worth more than $200 per acre, but in all probability not $2,000. The appraiser's answers lies somewhere in between the two extremes.

AS THE appraiser is gathering this sales data, it is tabulated and recorded on the tax map so that each geographical area of the community can be evaluated on its own merit. If a particular area has had no sales activity, the appraiser must find a comparable area that has been active and relate the activity there to the stagnant area, making any necessary adjustments.

In the process of analyzing sales, the appraiser can make an estimate of land values in an area where no land is actually available by estimating the value of the building and subtracting this from the sale price; he then has what is referred to as a "land residual". If enough sales are available, he can use this process and strike an average for the land residual. This data is then correlated with sales of bare land. As stated before, the task is not an easy one and must be done with the greatest of care.

THE DISCUSSION so far has been mostly concerned with the real estate sales. The other major activity that is investigated thoroughly is building construction. The appraiser is interested primarily in the following:

1. Local wage rates and fringe benefits for all building trades.
2. The cost of various types and quantities of building materials delivered to the job.
3. The average mark - up charged by local contractors.
4. The effect that quality of construction has on total cost.
5. Reflection that competition and demand has on total cost.
6. The square foot or cubic foot in place cost of various types of structures.

THIS INFORMATION is used as a base for developing replacement cost for different types and sizes of buildings. These costs, once they are developed, are then tested against new buildings of known costs.

Another important factor that is developed during studies is the proper types and percentage of depreciation that must be applied in an equalized fashion to certain buildings.

IN CONCLUSION, let it be said that all the sales data that can be accumulated and properly evaluated is no doubt the best tool used by a professional appraisal company, and certainly becomes a valuable asset in the hands of the assessor at the completion of the tax equalization program.

New Maple River idea envisions dikes, pumps

A new proposal for expanding the Maple River Watershed project in Shiawassee, Clinton and Gratiot counties has been introduced, but no action was taken on it at a recent meeting of officials connected with the river project.

The project, as introduced, would come under Public Law 566 - The Watershed Act - and would include dikes, pumping stations, pumps and larger right-of-way in some areas. The proposed work would all take place upstream from the Maple River crossing of US-27 in southern Gratiot County.

A PRELIMINARY survey made by the Soil Conservation Service was presented at a recent meeting in St. Johns of the SCS directors, the Extension directors of the three counties involved, the three drain commissioners and the State Agriculture Department.

The proposal, as Clinton County Drain Commissioner Dale Chapman said Monday, is really a kind of tentative preliminary study. Some cost figures were projected, but they are subject to so many variables as to make them meaningless, he said.

THIS "TENTATIVE preliminary proposal" suggests that dikes be constructed upstream from US-27 to Bannister, about seven or eight miles. Four pumping stations would be included in this stretch of the project.

From that point to Shepardsville Road no work would be contemplated under the proposed plan. From Shepardsville Road to the headwaters of the Maple River in Section 3 of Shiawassee Township in Shiawassee County, stream would be excavated and cleaned out.

No work is planned downstream from US-27 in this project.

RECREATIONAL AND water storage facets of the project would be small under the proposal. One of two ponding projects would be at the site of the new Sleepy Hollow State Park in Victor and Ovid Townships; that is going in regardless of the outcome of the Maple River project. The other pond theorized in the tentative proposal is a lake southeast of Ovid in Shiawassee County.

If such a proposal is finally agreed on by the necessary officials, new petitions will have to be filed because of the additional work.

UNDER PL 566, the federal government will pay 100 per cent of the costs arising from work designated as flood control and up to 50 per cent of costs for other improvement features, such as drainage, irrigation, recreation and improvement of fish and wildlife habitat.

Mitchell Das, 143 E. High Street, Ovid, has joined the Rena Jean Mack realtor firm as a full-time salesman.

Das was formerly associated with the Tri-Ami Bowl in Ovid but recently sold his interest in the establishment.

Peter Wyden, now the executive editor of the Ladies Home Journal, has been a writer and editor for 22 years and has examined and tried many different reducing diets. His experiences resulted in the new book entitled THE OVERWEIGHT SOCIETY, now in Bement Public Library. He weighed 204 pounds when he began research for the book, and is now down to 185 pounds, which is pretty normal for his height of six feet. He is aiming at 170. Only in America could a book like THE OVERWEIGHT SOCIETY be considered seriously. Unfortunately, our copy of the book has had few takers so far, but it is well worth in Bement Public Library. He is aiming at 170. Only in America could a book like THE OVERWEIGHT SOCIETY be considered seriously. Unfortunately, our copy of the book has had few takers so far, but it is well worth the time of anybody with good intentions and equally good self discipline. It should be "must" reading for those inclined to go off the deep end while dieting.

MANY people miss the days when the show at the local movie theatre changed three or four times a week, and a goodly number of local citizens boast that they never missed a movie. For such devotees of the silver screen there is nostalgic reading in the book by Hollis Alpert entitled THE DREAMS AND THE DREAMERS. This book is not just an excursion into the past, however. It is also an evaluation of the present status of the movie industry both in Hollywood and abroad. Mr Alpert is a distinguished movie critic whose articles appear from time to time in a number of major magazines.

The arm-chair traveler has a treat in store for him in another book from the Life World Library. This one is on Turkey and was written by Desmond Stewart with assistance from the Editors of Life. As usual, the photography is superb, and the text covers every possible aspect of this exotic country, which is really a bridge between two continents.

THOSE READERS over age 50 will take particular delight in the new issue of American Heritage Magazine, which is devoted entirely to the period of the 20's. This magazine (which is really in book binding) explores many facets of this glamorous era from the advent of the one-piece bathing suit to the writings of F. Scott Fitzgerald and the very first attempts of Ernest Hemingway to enter the literary world. Of particular interest are the cartoons of John Held, Jr. and some reproductions of covers from "Judge" and the old "Life" magazine. This librarian thinks they are still funny.

Chamber wants roster of area organizations

The St. Johns Chamber of Commerce is printing an organization roster and would like to receive information from all St. Johns area organizations relative to who their new officers are, when and where meetings are held, and if possible, some information on the organization itself.

Chamber Manager Betty Jane Minsky stated that frequently the chamber receives requests from people desiring names of officers or information about various clubs and organizations, and it is for this purpose that the Chamber is printing the organization roster.

"If the secretary - or some officer - of the various clubs, be they service, fraternal, religious, civic, military, youth or women's organizations, would call us or drop us a postcard, giving us this information, we would greatly appreciate it," she said.

The Chamber would also like the name, address and phone number of the president of each club if possible.

States must seize present opportunities to survive

The next few years may decide whether the states of the United States are to become mere states of mind.

They will always mean something to the imagination. There will be niches of nostalgia for the Virginian, the man from Indiana, the Nebraska boy. The names of California, Mississippi, Maine will still bring up characteristic images.

But, unless the right actions are taken now, the states as vigorous governmental entities are on the way out. Already they are in a "desiccated" condition, as The Wall Street Journal says in an editorial containing this grim analysis:

"IF THE CENTRAL government keeps right on grabbing areas that logically are the states' provinces, and the states keep on acquiescing, then men must eventually despair of preserving a reasonable balance in the federal-state relationship—or even of preserving state governments in more than name."

The state of the states has not come about through a conspiracy to undermine the Constitution, though the Constitution is based on strong states in a strong union. Such a conspiracy would be relatively easy to identify and stop.

Rather the states have been caught—in too many cases, flat-footed—by the changes in American life. It is an intricate pattern of state and federal steps and missteps that has led to the present result.

IN CERTAIN issues—civil rights, for example—some states were ahead of Washington in passing, if not always enforcing, appropriate legislation. Because some state governments held out against the individual, Washington reached past them to safeguard the rights of American citizens.

Similarly, in the growth of city problems, Washington has moved in to help when states have failed to do enough.

Or suppose one reverses the chicken and the egg, and says the deficiencies of the states are due to oppressive or enervating federal policies in the first place. In either interpretation—the states are now losing some excuses for continued decline.

FOR EXAMPLE, reapportionment is attacking the argument that states have been disserved by legislatures not fully representative of the people. And new federal assistance programs are permitting and demanding state and local management.

Ironically, the latter circumstance is criticized as a possibility for pork-barreling. But state and local officials at least have the opportunity to prove that they can use funds for the good of all their people.

At the same time, with federal taxes reduced, states should take the fiscal steps to reduce dependence on federal funds. State governments will grow stronger, rather than weaker, the more they take the responsibility for raising the money they need.

The alternative to states' seizing their present opportunities can hardly fail to be further federal response to citizens' needs. America could become a land of big cities and central authority with states remaining as a kind of local color.

Let us hope this doesn't come about.

One matter that needn't worry you for awhile

There's grim word from the Air Force. A continued barrage of meteoroids, it announced, is grinding down the moon.

Just as we started to worry about this, though, we got to the next paragraph. At the present rate of shrinkage, "it would take 40,000 billion years for the moon to lose just one-tenth of its present mass."

Here, at least, is something we can put off worrying about until tomorrow.

This Means You

We can't afford to ignore these problems for long

It is old stuff but true, to note that people generally tend to worry about present troubles and ignore those that may hold off for awhile. This facet of human nature will have to be countered, vigorously and with imagination, if we are to deal with certain long-range problems in an effective way.

The most obvious case in point is the swift population rise. Though the public is not yet much exercised about this, the population explosion will clearly mean big trouble for the world in the not distant future.

A PROBLEM similarly given less attention than it deserves is that of air pollution, which most people seem to regard as a rather mild nuisance. The truth is that if society does not mount a large-scale counterattack on air pollution, it will soon get out of hand and seriously hamper us in our daily living.

A meteorologist recently predicted that unless something is done about auto fumes and other pollutants the earth will become uninhabitable in a century.

The prediction is not as wild as it may seem. Pollution is a long-range problem, but the way to deal with it is to start now before it becomes an imminent danger.

RAMBLIN' with Rink

BY LOWELL G. RINKER

It probably could have been predicted and anticipated. Practically all summer the weather has been sunny and warm, with only occasional cloudiness and never any hard rains.

As long as the 4-H Fair date was approaching, there was always the thought in the back of my mind that, if it would ever rain this summer, that would be the time it would. And it did.

EVERYBODY concerned with the 4-H Fair was disappointed, because there were events each of the three days that were washed out. But as E. J. Bottum remarked Tuesday afternoon while watching it rain, "I have not heard anyone yet who's complained."

I don't suppose anyone dared complain. Farmers who had children with entries at the fair may have felt a little guilty about being happy with the three days of rain. But I think even the kids, while maybe disappointed that it had to come then, were also happy that it did come.

FOR MANY farmers and for most crops, the rain was too late to do any good, but Extension Agent George McQueen said some of the late-planted corn and the late beans will benefit.

Despite the fact that rain spoiled many of the outside events, postponed others and cancelled still others, 4-H members should be proud of the work, time and ingenuity that showed to the impartial observer. The work that went into the preparations for their exhibits, displays and contests was the really important aspect of 4-H.

AND THE rain didn't really spoil things. Wednesday night, with the stock parade, style-revue and variety show washed out, participants were almost smiling in unison. It was rather refreshing to watch people dashing from building to building, come in dripping wet and still have a smile on their face and a funny wise-crack to tell about the weather.

This was probably the million-dollar rainfall hoped for in the last month or six weeks. It's too bad the farmers and the 4-H Fair had to get short-changed by the time element.

As might be expected, good weather returned almost as soon as the 4-H Fair was over. Thursday, as this is being written, is a beautiful day, full of sunshine and fluffy white clouds.

... Except at Cape Kennedy where Gemini 5 had to be scrubbed.

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY

by Ink White

You think you got troubles?

THERE ARE some known hazards in most any occupation, but sometimes dangers lurk in unexpected places. Take the case of this unknown bricklayer who cleaned up some minor damage after a storm and reported some unusual consequences to his employer in the following letter:

"Respected Sir:

"When I got to the building I found that the hurricane had knocked some bricks off the top, so I rigged up a beam with a pulley at the top of the building and hoisted up a couple of barrels full of bricks.

"When I had fixed the building there was a lot of bricks left over. I hoisted the barrel back up again and secured the line at the bottom, and then went up and filled the barrel with extra bricks. Then I went to the bottom and cast off the line.

"Unfortunately the barrel of bricks was heavier than I was and, before I knew what was happening the barrel started down, jerking me off the ground. I decided to hang on and half way up, I met the barrel coming down and received a severe blow on the shoulder. I then continued to the top, banging my head against the beam and getting my fingers jammed in the pulley.

"When the barrel hit the ground it burst the bottom, allowing all the bricks to spill out. I was now heavier than the barrel and so started down again at high speed. Half way down I met the barrel coming up, and received severe injuries to my shins. When I hit the ground I landed on the bricks getting several painful cuts from the sharp edges.

"At this point, I must have lost my presence of mind because I let go the line. The barrel then came down, giving me another heavy blow on the head and putting me in the hospital. I respectfully request sick leave."

ONE OF THE saddest articles I ever read is published in a recent "Sports Illustrated." It's all about Australia's kangaroos: they appear to be well on the way to extinction, hunted down relentlessly and ruthlessly and unnecessarily by man at the rate of 10 million a year.

And not just the kangaroos appear to be doomed. As the author, Virginia Kraft, puts it: "With something of the same determination they bring to the pools and courts, Australians seem to be engaged in an all out war on everything finned, furred and feathered that moves."

THE UNITED STATES went through such a period. We slaughtered the buffalo and the timber wolf and the mountain lion and obliterated forever the carrier pigeon. Today only pitiful handfuls of the great whooping cranes and giant condors and the American symbol, the bald eagle, are left to us.

In the United States we regret this callous action. Dozens of agencies, private and public, are working hard at the agonizing task of attempting to save what's left. It just seems impossible that our friends in Australia have not profited by the bad example Americans set in the past.

Long way from $5.10 cwt for farmer's milk

SINCE YOU WERE so nice to put in big headlines last week that MMPA was giving the farmers $5.10 a hundred for their milk, I think you should know that the price we received this morning was $4.015. Of course, that was 3.3 test; had we a 3.5 test it would only have been $4.145 per hundred. In my opinion that is a long way from $5.

They also charge us a hauling fee to transport our milk to Detroit, and not even one drop of our milk leaves Ovid.

YES, WE ARE a member of the National Farmer's Organization, and I hope they do something drastic before there isn't a dairy farmer left.

Yours truly, WINIFRED VERLINDE R-5, St. Johns.

Clinton County's peppermint harvest is now under way, with cutting expected to start on all farms by the end of this week. Yields this year are quite spotted, according to early reports, with variations from 18 to 60 pounds per acre, a good average yield figured around 40 pounds.

Chosen from among several applicants, Mark Welter of Ovid Township has been appointed superintendent of the county infirmary by the Clinton County Social Welfare Board.

Holy Trinity parish of Fowler will hold its annual picnic and homecoming on the school grounds Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 2. Due to the fact that this is an annual event and that it is widely known throughout the lower part of Michigan, a large crowd is expected to take part in the festivities of the day.

50 YEARS AGO From the Files of Aug. 26, 1915

While making a balloon flight at the Ovid jubilee Wednesday, Bertha Martino of Reed City, balloonist, fell and was seriously injured. She made the flight, cut loose the parachute and when about 50 feet from the ground let go and dropped. The woman has been making flights only since the first of May and it is thought she lost her nerve and imagined she was nearer the ground than she really was when she cut loose from the parachute.

The birdman who performed this week at Ovid's home-coming and jubilee passed over St. Johns Monday morning going home. He made the flight from Ionia to Ovid in about 35 minutes, leaving Ionia after the Grand Trunk flyer had left there and beating it to Ovid by several minutes.

Mr and Mrs Earl Austin passed through St. Johns Thursday on their way to Clare from Portland, Ore. They were making the trip in a Ford and had been 26 days on the way, camping out wherever night overtook them. Mr Austin said he still had Portland air in his front tires and expected it to last until he got to Clare County.

The "Low Down" From the Congressional Record By Joe Crump

Protest GI death notice by phone

Senator S. M. Young (Ohio), . . . The present system of notifying next of kin that a son or husband or father has been killed in action or wounded in action or is missing was instituted in the days when the Western Union Telegraph Co. delivered telegrams to the family home. Furthermore, in days gone by, the necessity for such notifications existed only in time of war, and this method was probably the most practical means of giving the sad information to relatives of servicemen killed in action.

"Therefore, it was shocking and astounding to me to learn that today officials of the Western Union Telegraph Co. have adopted a policy of delivering at least some of these telegrams by telephone. This cold, heartless practice is inexcusable and an insult to every American with a loved one in the Armed Forces . . .

Grassroots Comment

"THIS PRACTICE came to my attention when I read a front page editorial in the Lakewood Post, of Lakewood, Ohio . . . in the form of an open letter . . . in protest over the fact that the parents of James A. Hall, 19, killed in Vietnam, were notified of his death by a telephone call from a stranger . . .

"There is no valid reason why officials of the Defense Department do not insist that upon every telegram of this nature it be plainly stated: 'This telegram must be delivered, not read over . . .

the telephone.' If any telephoning is to be done, certainly the parents or wife of a young man who gave his all for his country are entitled to receive the telephone call from Washington, from an official of the Defense Department, and I mean a high official, conveying the sorrowful news and the regrets of the President of the United States and the secretary of defense speaking with sympathy and feeling over the unfortunate necessity of reporting the death . . .

"THOUGHT AND investigation should be given to an arrangement whereby such notifications will be made by sympathetic military personnel and not left to cold commercial channels.

"Unless this practice on the part of the Western Union Telegraph Co. is stopped immediately, I feel that high officials of that corporation are guilty of countenancing a reprehensible practice and also doing a grave disservice to our country."

The corporate image of the Western Union Telegraph Co. is hardly improved by continuing to pursue their present policy. It's also evident that the Defense Department isn't entirely blameless.—J.C.

Asks constitution change about judicial vacancies

Predictions were made almost before the 1963 state constitution was adopted that changes would be required in several sections, including one regarding judicial vacancies.

Now, less than two years after the new basic document took effect, one of the more influential writers of that constitution is calling for a change in this area.

Gov. George Romney, who served in the important No. 2 spot at the Constitutional Convention, worked with Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley to put on an early ballot the question of restoring the governor's power to fill state judicial vacancies by appointment.

IT BECOMES apparent in this short time that it is not feasible to live with the constitutional provision. It calls for vacant court posts to be filled until the next election by a temporarily-appointed retired judge.

The trouble with this very noble bipartisan idea was that there are not enough retired judges able and willing to serve in the number of court vacancies which tend to occur between regular elections.

BASIC argument for this provision during the 1961-62 convention was that the previous appointive power gave the governor essentially the power to get a friend a court post, since voters most often give the appointee a full term if he ran in the next election.

Proponents of the constitutional amendment feel this situation is much better than having an unworkable requirement which keeps court benches unfilled and slows the judicial process.

SAFETY problems are not limited to Michigan's highways, according to a state civil service commission study.

Industry has long been known to wage continuing safety campaigns among employees. Almost every industrial shop in the state has safety reminders in various places.

SAFETY first signs may one day soon be seen in state offices, judging from the injury rate piled up in the past year. The commission said job-incurred injuries cost nearly $1 million in the past 12 months, triple the rate just three years ago.

A six-month period recently turned up nearly 400 temporarily disabling accidents, two permanent disabilities and two deaths of on-the-job state employees. Michigan has 32,500 civil service workers.

The commission set its training division to work on ways to cut down this high accident rate.

MICHIGAN'S Revenue Department boasts it is doing its job in a unique way.

While most state agency operating costs go up in some proportion to the services rendered, the Revenue Department says it is spending less to bring in more money.

During the last fiscal year, Commissioner Clarence W. Lock said, his department cut its costs to 59 cents per $100 in tax collections.

Costs hit this new low while collections took a sizable jump of $88 million to well over $1 billion with record highs set for the sales, motor fuel, business activities, use, cigarette, inheritance, intangible property and utility property taxes.

AUDITOR General of Michigan as part of the executive branch will be just a memory when the new state government reorganization plan takes full effect.

The better part of his present responsibilities are being transferred into the treasury department. Another segment has already been assumed by the legislative auditor general. Still other portions will be taken over by other departments.

The treasurer's office will take the important duties relating to property taxation, county auditing and plat act administration.

UNDER THE old constitution, the auditor general was an elected official with three primary functions: auditing state agencies, auditing county governments, and administering certain land and tax laws.

In the latter category he examined subdivision plats of towns, cities and villages; and filed petitions for delinquent tax land sales in each county. He also supervised the audit of Michigan's race track pari-mutuel operations.

He served on the State Administrative Board, Municipal Finance Commission, State Police Pension Board of Review, Corporation Tax Appeal Board, and the State Employees', Judges' and Probate Judges' Retirement Boards.

Most likely, a division within the new treasury department will be created to fulfill the main functions of the now defunct auditor general but it is unknown whether this title will remain in use.

Brief trip to Russia exciting, but tense

(Editor's Note: Christee Ann Smazel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smazel of 9141 Grand River Highway in Watertown Township, had an opportunity to visit Leningrad, Russia, recently with other Youth for Understanding exchange students in the Scandinavian countries. She has been spending the summer in Finland. This is her account of the trip.)

By CHRISTEE ANN SMAZEL

We left Helsinki, Finland, on Monday morning, July 26, and traveled all day by bus to Leningrad, Russia. At customs they went through our baggage and also through the buses. Then we went on to Viipari, a former Finnish town that was taken over by the Russians. When this happened all the Finnish people left and the Russian government resettled the town with people from various parts of Russia.

We could take no pictures of railway stations, bridges or military establishments. We ate at the train station in Viipari. Throughout our visit to Leningrad the food was less desirable and the meals less complete than those to which we were accustomed in Finland and our own country. Hardly any milk, fresh fruits or vegetables were served, and in general the food was greasy. However, the meat and bread were good.

THAT EVENING we arrived in Leningrad where we stayed at a hotel, two in a room. The next morning we met our Russian guides who were very nice and quite friendly. While in Leningrad we were allowed to take pictures almost anywhere. It is a beautiful city of old buildings, most of which have not recently been painted. One could easily call it Peter's City for many things are named after him and dedicated to him.

The stores have very little in them and have no advertising on the outside. There are always many people about, but you see very few smiling or laughing. We went into a big department store to purchase some records, but since we spoke no Russian and the clerks spoke no English we had some difficulty, but finally got the records.

THAT NIGHT we rode the subways with our guide. To board, one descends about 12 stories underground. They travel very fast. The stations were very pretty and each one was different.

Wednesday morning we went to the Hermitage, formerly Peter's winter palace, which is now a museum. It was very interesting. That evening after visiting Peter's beautiful summer palace, we returned to the hotel and had a hootenanny in the third floor lobby. We sang American folk songs and finished with the Star Spangled Banner. It was very touching; we were proud to be from the United States and really sang the national anthem from our hearts. It was a feeling I shall never forget.

THURSDAY morning we left for Helsinki at 8:45. Many of us were concerned about border inspection, because we were told when we entered Russia to get receipts for any money that we had spent. Since some of us including myself had neglected to do this, we were quite worried.

COUNTRY FLAVOR

Time still pushes on despite quiet of August

HAYDEN PEARSON

Warmth and moisture brood on the land. Heat from a brassy sun browns the lawns and cures grasses on thin-soiled uplands. Dawns are misty in the lowlands and fog patches hover on mountain shoulders. Day follows day with a seemingly unchanged pattern.

The scales appear balanced. Twice in that period of time man labels a year. Time seems to pause while great forces behind the scenes consolidate for a season ahead. In February and again in August, the land and its life forms seem to mark time.

IN THE QUIETNESS of early morning hours, the few bird calls are strangely distinct. Fields and meadows, highland ridges and cattail-fringed swamps wait patiently through the hot hours. Goldenrod begin to lift shining spikes and blue vervain paints pictures in the low spots. Apples begin to weigh the boughs and acorns expand in filagree saucers. Crickets' raspy fiddles in the aster bed beneath the kitchen windows scrape against the heavy silence on a August noon. Barn swallows gather on telephone wires above the yard and goldfinches swoop and swirl over the fields.

Time seems to pause, but one As well as marring our scenic beauty, trash costs money in highway and beach maintenance. Use refuse barrels along the road and litter bags in your car.

knows that behind the lassitude profound forces are pushing steadily toward the time of harvest and a new season.

THE SCALES, man says, are balanced; but it is only a surface indication. Time never stands still in nature or in man's life. Faith is the only anchor and the warmth and quietness of the eighth month are confirmation to him who looks for the deeper meanings.

Thousands of youths win ribbons at 4-H Fair

Clinton County's 28th annual 4-H Show wound up in the rain Wednesday, but despite the cancellation of the stock parade, style revue and amateur show, 4-H'ers were generally happy.

Personnel at the Extension office figured that attendance was probably not far from normal despite the rain, but not nearly so many people stayed for any length of time. Heavy rain showers Monday night, Tuesday morning and almost all day Wednesday did take their toll.

THERE WERE over 3,000 entries in the 4-H show. Dairy entries were about par with previous years, beef and swine entries were down, sheep were up, and the number of horse entries almost doubled.

Judges had their hands full in making decisions, but the following list of names represent their decisions in awarding blue, red and white ribbons for groups A, B and C.

250 attend annual FFA market livestock school

The 31st annual FFA Market Livestock School and Sale Program last Tuesday, Aug. 17, was attended by 250 students, teachers and interested adults at the Wolverine Stockyards in St. Johns.

This was a beef school and sale, and the FFA members brought together 238 head of market beef animals for the combination school and sale.

AN EDUCATIONAL program was held in the forenoon, featuring the grading of market beef "on the hoof." Professor Robert Merkel, animal husbandry department, Michigan State University, conducted a beef grading contest for all persons present.

The student winners of the contest were: first, Rodney McCreery of Ovid; second, Jim Reed of Merrill; third, Doug Showers of Dansville.

Management practices in selecting feeder cattle and matching feeding practices to the quality of beef being produced as discussed along with the economics of beef feeding business by Professor Graydon Blank, animal husbandry department, MSU. The handling of feed programs in relation to the current corn situation in Michigan caused by the drought was included.

THE TOP award of the year, the presentation of the George Brown Memorial Plaque went to the Merrill FFA Chapter. The award was presented to chapter President Mike Dale, with the teacher, Richard Barnes, sharing the honors. It was presented by Dr. Nicholas Georgiady, deputy state superintendent, Michigan Department of Education, Lansing. The next top ranking schools in order were: Fremont, Elkton-Pigeon-Bayport, St. Johns, St. Louis, Chesaning, Ovid, Jonesville, and Fulton Township schools.

During the afternoon the sale of the 238 beef animals was conducted following regular commercial marketing procedure. This method of teaching everyday marketing operations has been a trademark of this FFA Market Livestock Program since it began in 1935. The sale included eight prime animals, 103 choice, 78 good, 41 standard, two utility, and six light animals (ungraded). The offering was marked by several holstein beef steers where students are learning the comparative economics involved in feeding.

THE BEEF sale had a gross of $56,794.82, with a total weight of 231,175 pounds, average weight of 971 pounds, and an average price of $24.57 per hundred pounds liveweight.

High sales included a 940-pound steer consigned by Tom Vallier of Merrill, bought by Hisers Dairy of Merrill at $26.70 per hundredweight; a 1,080-pound steer consigned by Phil Santana of St. Louis, bought by Ray Weeks & Sons, Inc. of Richmond at $26.60 per hundredweight; a 1,005-pound steer consigned by Myron Kokx, Jr. of Fremont, bought by Clare Packing Co. of Clare at $26.50 per hundredweight; and a 1,065-pound steer consigned by John Smeaton of Chesaning, bought by Ed Gerding of Davison at $26.50 per hundredweight.

THE SALE of animals went as follows: Prime beef, eight animals, 1,084 pounds average weight, $26.25 average price; choice beef, 103 animals, 999 pounds, $25.81; good beef, 78 animals, 939 pounds, $24.23; standard beef, 41 animals, 977 pounds, $22.04; utility, two animals, 915 pounds, $18.99; lights, six animals, 753 pounds, $23.18.

N.F.O.

Due to the fact that many people misunderstand the National Farmers' Organization (N.F.O.) program and its objective we have contracted to run 13 consecutive ads in our local paper to clarify some of the misinterpretations that exist.

The N.F.O. is organized under the Capper-Volstead Act, enacted in February, 1922. Senator Capper in discussing the bill said:

"Mr. President, the cooperative marketing bill as it was offered in both the Senate and House seeks simply to make definite the law relating to cooperative associations of farmers and to establish a basis on which these organizations may be legally formed. Its purpose is to give to the farmer the same right to bargain collectively that is already enjoyed by corporations. The bill is designed to make affirmative and unquestioned the right which already is generally admitted, but which, in view of the Sherman law, is subject to nullifying interpretation by those whose interests are not identical with those of the farmer; and for one reason or another may be in a position to obtain an interpretation advantageous to themselves."

Many opponents of the N.F.O. have expressed doubts about the legality of this organization. This should clarify any doubts that anyone may have about the legality of the N.F.O.

Who can belong? Anyone who has agricultural production to sell can belong to N.F.O., providing you do not belong to an organization that has been labeled "subversive" by the Federal Government.

To hold office in this organization you must be a member and derive the major portion of your income from your farming operation. This is binding on all offices, be they local, state or national. This means that the control of the N.F.O. will always remain in the hands of the farmer.

Be sure and tune in for the U.S. Farm Report every Sunday, Channel 12 at 12:30 p.m.

Large-loss protection good insurance start

Your family can meet economic disaster with money in its pocket if your insurance program is well-planned.

Insurance offers you a large amount of protection for a small amount of money. An insurance company spreads the risk among a large group, so you are covered for the complete amount of your policy immediately after you pay your first premium.

THE RULE of thumb to follow when buying insurance is to protect against the large losses first, says Dr. Carol Shaffer, Michigan State University specialist in family finance.

The first loss to protect against is the premature death of the family breadwinner. For example, if a man earning $5,000 a year dies 20 years before the average person that would be a loss of $100,000.

TWO OTHER major losses that should be insured are auto liability and the disability of the breadwinner.

When planning your insurance program some needs will be permanent. These will include last expenses, taxes and business costs and the final costs for settlement of the estate.

Your insurance needs can be met through several different plans. The cheapest insurance available is known as term insurance. It serves best for the family that has high need, but only a few dollars to spend on insurance. It is often recommended for the young family on a tight budget. Straight term insurance will cost more as you age, but today many term policies can be converted into whole-life policies after a few years.

WHOLE-life insurance offers several different payment plans. You may choose level payments throughout life or you can arrange to pay off the policy in a set number of years, such as 20 or by the time you retire.

After your basic needs are met you can expand your insurance program. Annuity and endowment policies are more expensive, but are excellent supplements to your total savings and securities plan.

Fair day rains in time to save some area crops

Heavy rains over Clinton County the first part of last week were certainly much appreciated by farmers, even though they washed out the 4-H Fair to a great extent.

The rain was in time to save some crops from the long summer drought, said George McQueen, county Extension agent for agriculture. The majority of crops, however, were beyond saving.

McQueen noted that between a half-inch and 1 1/2 inches had fallen around the county Monday and Tuesday, and heavy showers last Wednesday night added to the total.

"The rain did some good for the later corn and some good for the corn that is to be picked," McQueen said. "It will also help the alfalfa, and a few of the real late beans, but even that's questionable." He said some beans are being harvested already.

"IT ALSO WAS a start toward helping the summer seedings of alfalfa and the fall grains. Pastures will also benefit." The fly-free date for wheat planting is Sept. 17, so the rain also helped prepare the ground for that effort.

Farmers who had given up on any third cutting of hay may still have a chance to make a late cutting, thanks to the rain. It would naturally reduce the expected tonnage for the first cutting next year, but McQueen recommended that the hay be taken off this year if feasible, because it will do any real good. McQueen hoped for cool, cloudy and humid weather, but last Thursday and Friday, anyway, were sunny and warm.

Maay farmers are already starting to fill their silos, McQueen noted.

Section 2.46

MULTIPLE DWELLING—a building used or intended to be used as a dwelling by three or more families, or as an apartment house, terrace dwelling or hotel, so arranged as to provide independent living, and cooking accommodations for each family.

Section 21

21.1 *MULTIPLE DWELLINGS—Special permits, for the erection, alteration or use of multiple dwellings, in addition to compliance with special permit provisions of this Ordinance, shall not be issued until the following requirements are satisfied:

(a) Prior to the issuance of any building permit, the Zoning Commission shall review and approve a site plan, which shall show all proposed streets and buildings, building locations, and the size thereof, front yard set back, side yard distances, sizes of rear yards, driveways, off street parking areas, size and location of individual parking spaces and all entrances and exits to the required off street parking areas.

(b) The application shall also show the location, dimensions and description of the water supply and sewage disposal facilities to be constructed, such as septic tanks and disposal fields, sink wastes and laundry wastes, the location of existing wells on the premises adjoining the premises to be built upon, and the location of existing sewage disposal facilities on such adjoining premises.

(c) In accordance with the provisions of Act 240 of the Public Acts of 1957, (as amended) regulating the practice of the professions of architecture and engineering whenever any part of the building is for rental purposes the plan shall bear the seal of a registered architect or a registered professional engineer.

(d) All one bedroom dwelling units shall have a liveable minimum floor area of 480 square feet, exclusive of porches, staircases, basement, breezeways, balconies and attached garages. Two bedroom dwellings shall have a minimum floor area of 600 square feet and an additional 120 square feet for each additional bedroom.

(e) All apartment developments shall provide 2.0 off street parking spaces for each dwelling unit. However, each garage space may be counted as an off street parking space. No parking area shall project closer than 20 feet to any abutting street.

(f) Exits and entrances may be combined or provided separately. Approval for the location of such entrances and exits shall be obtained from the State Highway Department for all trunk lines and highways, and from the County Road Commission for all other roads and highways in the County.

(g) Every lot shall have a front yard not less than fifty (50) feet in depth from right-of-way line. In the case of a lot located in a block or site on which there are existing buildings or structures having front yards less than fifty (50) feet, the front yards of buildings or structures hereafter erected shall not be less than the average of the existing front yards, but in no event less than 30 feet in depth.

(h) Where there is only one major building on each lot, every such lot shall have a side yard on each side which shall not be less than fifty (50) feet in width.

(i) Where there are two or more multiple dwellings or mixture of housing types the following side yard measurements required shall be complied with:

(1) The minimum horizontal distance between buildings (that is, front to front, rear to rear, or front to rear, as the case may be)

shall be fifty (50) feet for buildings one (1) story in height, and this shall be increased by not less than five (5) feet for every story added: Provided, where the difference in elevation of a site between buildings is equal to the height of one or more stories, these increases of five (5) feet may be reduced by the County Zoning Commission when reviewing the project plans. The minimum distance between buildings may be decreased by as much as ten (10) feet toward one end if it is increased by a similar distance at the other; and consistent modifications are permitted by the County Zoning Commission to accommodate plans which are not conventional in their outline or in their relations to other buildings.

(2) The horizontal distance between the ends of buildings shall be twenty (20) feet or more for one (1) or two (2) story dwellings. Where the end of one building is opposite the face or rear of another building the minimum horizontal distance between them shall be thirty (30) feet for buildings, one (1) story in height. These distances shall be increased by not less than five (5) feet for every story added.

(3) Distances between building wings shall be not less than the projection of such wings, or one-half (1/2) of the heights of such walls measured between the finished grade and the top of the parapet, whichever is the greater.

(4) No closed courts shall be permitted. However, open arcades or garden walls not over six (6) feet in height shall not be deemed enclosing features.

(5) No dwelling unit in a development shall be farther than one hundred (100) feet from a street or access drive.

(j) Every lot shall have a rear yard, if more than one (1) unit, not less than thirty-five (35) feet in depth.

(k) No building shall cover with its usual accessory buildings more than thirty (30%) per cent of the total lot area.

(l) There shall be a minimum lot area of 3500 square feet per unit where public drainage and public sewers are available. There shall be a minimum lot area of 10,000 square feet per unit where, upon proper testing, percolation shows a drop of at least six inches per hour. In the event such percolation test shows a drop of less than six inches per hour, the lot area per unit shall be increased two thousand (2,000) square feet for each inch of drop less than six inches per hour. No permit shall be issued regardless of lot size if the percolation test shows a drop of one inch, or less, per hour.

(m) When a private water supply is utilized the source of such water shall be a minimum of 75 feet from any septic tank or drain field.

(n) No building shall exceed a maximum of three (3) stories or thirty-five (35) feet in height, whichever is lesser.

(o) One-story multiple dwellings will be designed for no more than eight (8) dwelling units. Two-story multiple dwellings will be designed for no more than twelve (12) dwelling units. Three-story multiple dwellings will be designed for no more than sixteen (16) dwelling units.

(p) A play area especially planned for children under eight (8) years of age shall be provided in all developments for eight (8) or more family dwelling units upon one lot. This area shall consist of a minimum of fifty (50) square feet per family dwelling unit and be provided as an integral part of the proposed development.

(q) Accessory buildings shall not exceed fifteen (15) feet in height.

(r) Minimum light and air for habitable rooms within the buildings shall be maintained.

(s) Connections shall be made to a public sewer system when available. In the event that a private sewer system is used, there shall be a percolation test made. This shall be done by a registered engineer or other qualified persons approved by the Zoning Administration. The installation of such a sewer system and its connections shall not be covered until inspection and approval by the Zoning Administrator.

(t) Any multiple dwelling maintained contrary to any of the provisions herein is hereby declared a public nuisance.

CITY COMMISSION PROCEEDINGS

AUGUST 17, 1965

The regular meeting of the city commission was called to order by Mayor Smit at 7:30 p.m. Present, Commissioners Irner, Sirrine, Coletta, Smit, Absent, Commissioner Kentfield. Present, City Manager Greer, City Atty. Reed, City Clerk Clark.

Motion by Commissioner Irner, supported by Commissioner Sirrine, the petition to re-zone the above described property at the southwest corner of Oakland and Oak Street be referred to the planning commission. Motion carried.

Motion by Commissioner Irner, supported by Commissioner Sirrine, to approve the minutes of the regular meeting Aug. 3, 1965, and minutes of a special meeting Aug. 10, 1965, as presented. Motion carried.

Motion by Commissioner Sirrine, supported by Commissioner Irner, to authorize the city clerk to draw checks in payment of claims in the amount of $2,814.29 as presented.

MOTION BY Commissioner Irner, supported by Commissioner Sirrine, that Mayor Smit be appointed the official delegate of the City of St. Johns to the Michigan Municipal League annual meeting Sept. 14, 1965, and Vice Mayor Sirrine be appointed alternate. Motion carried.

City Manager Greer read a communication from Mr. Kermit Hart with reference to his resignation from the Zoning Board of Appeals. Motion by Commissioner Sirrine, supported by Commissioner Irner, to accept Mr. Hart's resignation and the city manager be directed to write a letter of appreciation to Mr. Hart for his service on the Board of Appeals. Motion carried.

Mr. Joseph Zabelski, safety consultant representative of the Auto Club of Michigan, appeared before the city commission and presented to Mayor Smit the safety citation representing the third year of no fatal pedestrian accidents.

MR AND MRS Earl King appeared before the city commission with reference to the water bill for Central Michigan Lumber Co., 407 Clinton Avenue, St. Johns, which was extremely high due to a leak discovered recently. City Manager Greer further explained this was a pit meter installed at the request of the prior owner of this lumber company and it is not feasible to read such pit meters during the winter. As a result, during these winter months such bills are estimated, possibly creating a higher than normal bill when it becomes possible to read said meters. In this case the leak may have run unattended for a longer period of time than one billing period. No action was taken at this time.

The City Commission directed the City Manager to check the water meter at 1204 S. Lansing Street.

MR HAROLD Bodine and Barbara Roedecker, representing B & H Enterprises Inc., of Lansing, Mich., appeared before the city commission requesting re-zoning of Lots 1 and 2 Block 5 of Brown Subdivision, located at the southwest corner of Oakland and Oak Streets and also a portion of land immediately west of said lots and adjacent thereto. Such property to be used for the construction of a duplex and a 16-unit apartment house.

Motion by Commissioner Coletta, supported by Commissioner Sirrine, the petition to re-zone the above described property at the southwest corner of Oakland and Oak Street be referred to the planning commission. Motion carried.

City Manager Greer discussed with the city commission urban renewal requirements of building inspection, land utilization and marketability appraisal and rehabilitation appraisal inspection. He further explained separate time records for accounting, legal and administrative work will be maintained for the urban-renewal study.
