Grange launches busy state convention here

State income tax, reapportionment and other phases of fiscal reform in Michigan are several of the important matters that will occupy the attention of the Michigan State Grange this week in St. Johns.

The 92nd session of the State Grange began unofficially Tuesday and will continue through Saturday evening.

Main meetings of the Grange are being held in the St. Joseph Catholic School Gym, with committees meeting in such other places as the Methodist and Congregational Churches, the St. Johns Municipal Building Auditorium and the supervisors room in the county jail building.

Most of the delegates to the Grange convention were expected to be in St. Johns by Tuesday evening, with the official opening coming Wednesday morning. Between 400 and 500 persons are expected for most phases of the session.

GROVER GRIGSBY of Allegan, state master of the Michigan State Grange, said Monday he foresaw much discussion on state fiscal reform measures, and controversial milk bill resolutions will likely be brought up again in committees. Two Grange legislative members, Rep. Stanley Powell of Ionia and Rep. Claude Burton of Bellevue will be Grange delegates here.

Fifteen important Grange committees were scheduled to organize Wednesday afternoon, and they'll meet many times during the convention before reporting and recommending action before the entire delegate membership beginning Friday morning.

THE COMMITTEES, which will meet at various locations, include by-laws and good of the order, health, courtesy, conservation, taxation, agriculture, insurance, junior, youth, home economics, education, public utilities and transportation, election, legislation and credentials.

One of the two big social affairs of the convention will be the State Grange Banquet at Smith Hall at the city park at 7 p.m. Wednesday night. James W. Ingwersen of LeRoy, Kan., master of the Kansas State Grange, will be the main speaker, and community progress awards will be made by Chairman Don Wheat of Grant. The meal will be served by the St. Johns Rebekahs.

THE OFFICIAL opening of the 92nd session came at 9 a.m. Wednesday with the call to order in the Sixth Degree. After lowering to the Fourth, there were short speeches of welcome from St. Johns city officials, including Mayor Jack Smit, Chamber of Commerce Secretary Betty Minsky, Chamber President Don Gilson and Bernard Feldpausch. The response for the Grange was by Merrill Eady, chairman of the executive board.

Then came reports of Grange insurance companies, an address by State Master Grigsby and recess for lunch. The First Methodist Church was host for the insurance luncheon at noon.

WEDNESDAY afternoon was to "GET ME TO the church on time," Thursday, Oct. 28, First Congregational Church, St. Johns. The Music Box Fair. Doors open at 2:00 p.m. Turkey dinner served at 5:00, 6:00, 7:00 p.m. Tickets $1.50 and 75¢.—Adv.

Both autos wound up in a field on the southwest corner of the intersection, Miss Corp's on its top. The accident occurred about 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

Officer reports to the convention will come about 10:30. Noon lunch today will be "on your own," but the Congregational Church is making preparations for a luncheon there for Grangers.

MORE REPORTS and another talk to members by Kansas Grange Master Ingwersen will occupy much of this afternoon, with conferences of lecturers, masters, home economics and secretaries and committee sessions also scheduled.

This evening the Third and Schools citizens' unit meets tonight

The St. Johns Public Schools citizens' committee will hold its third meeting tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m. at Central School. The topic of discussion will be whether or not East Ward and Central schools should be replaced.

3 districts vote Monday on joining Lansing schools

Three southern Clinton school districts will become part of the Lansing school district if voters approve the annexation proposal Monday.

The voters in the Gunnisonville, Valley Farms and Hurd school districts will go to the polls Monday between 7 a.m. and 8 p.m. to make their decisions.

Polling places will be the schools at Gunnisonville, Valley Farms and the No. 2 school in the Hurd district.

EACH school operates kindergarten through sixth grades and have already been invited to join the Lansing school system by the Lansing Board of Education.

Combined enrollment of the three districts is about 740 students. Secondary pupils from those areas now attend mostly Lansing junior and senior high schools on a tuition basis. Of 101 tuition students from the Gunnisonville district, for example, 94 attend Lansing, while five are attending Waverly and two DeWitt.

The Hurd district operates two school buildings, while Valley Farms and Gunnisonville have one each.

"THIS VOTE is the culmination of several years of discussions and studies by your school board and several citizens' committees on which high school district to join," said Lawrence C. Seeger, president of the Gunnisonville School Board.

"The problem was brought to a head last year by the passage of the K-12 school reorganization bill by the state Legislature which, in effect, requires that all non-high school districts such as ours join a high school district.

"IN CLINTON COUNTY a year ago there were 41 non-high school districts; today there are but five, including Hurd, Valley Farms and ourselves. The other two are in the process of joining Portland and Laingsburg."

Political annexation to Lansing is not an issue in Monday's election, school officials in the three districts emphasized; the election is for school annexation only.

Questions and answers concerning the annexation proposal have been distributed to residents by the boards of all three districts in an attempt to clarify the issues. A public hearing on the question was held Oct. 6 at Valley Farms, and Gunnisonville residents were given the opportunity Tuesday night to have their questions answered at a public meeting.

Although falling on the same date, the elections in the three districts are separate, and the vote in each district will not affect the others.

County OKs $6,000 in salary increases

Salary increases for county employees totaling $6,000 were approved by the county board of supervisors last Thursday in their second meeting of October.

Most of the 40 salaried positions involved received increases, most of $200 but some of larger amounts in an effort of the board to equalize the salaries as much as possible on the basis of experience in the job classification. Some positions received no increases.

GERALD SHEPARD, chairman of the salary and clerk hire committee of the board of supervisors, said the group attempted to evaluate the job rather than the person in the position.

There was some discussion concerning positions which were not receiving pay at the top of the salary range despite the fact the person in the position had been working several years.

This argument appeared to be one reason for three negative votes being cast when the salaries were approved by the board. Voting no on the salaries were Supervisors John Satterington of Essex, Willard Krehel of Riley and Lorenz Tiedt of St. Johns. The motion for approval of the salaries passed 15-3.

DON CLARK, supervisor from St. Johns, in voting for the proposed increases, suggested that next year most persons with five years of service should be put up to the top of their wage bracket.

The salaries fixed by the supervisors last Thursday were for the 1966 fiscal year. They do not include salaries of elected officials.

Also not included in the figures is longevity pay of $100 for every five years of continuous service. A maximum of $300 in longevity pay is provided employees who qualify.

POSITIONS AND the amount of salary increases approved are:

Deputy clerks No. 1 and 2 $200 each; drain clerk $400; deputy register of deeds $200; under-sheriff and three deputy sheriffs $200 each; sheriff's clerk $200; abstractor $200; abstractor $100; deputy abstractor $100; abstract clerk $300; civil defense director $200; farm extension secretary $400; friend of court $300; friend of court secretary $500; health nurse $200; assistant health nurse $200; probation office clerk $200 (half is paid by Gratiot); zoning administrator $200; zoning administrator clerk $200; janitor $200; a second janitor $500; probate registrar $300.

Other members of the salary and clerk hire committee are Merrill Shinabery of Greenbush, Charles Coletta of St. Johns and William Buck of DeWitt City.

IN OTHER action by the board last week, the reports of the equalization committee and the appropriations committee were received and approved.

St. Johns is again the largest taxing unit for county funds. Taxpayers here will contribute $92,600.33, practically the same as last year. The county tax rate in the city will be 11.3097 mills on assessed valuation totaling $8,187,600. The monetary figure represents about 16 per cent of the total county tax spread of $575,286.

The next largest taxing unit will be DeWitt Township with $89,046.51, but they have the highest tax rate for county purposes of 12.2968 mills. Lebanon Township's tax spread for county See COUNTY, Page 2-A

3 hurt, 1 seriously in Ovid area crash

Peggy J. Corp, 19, of R-5, St. Johns, was described in "poor" condition and under intensive care at Sparrow Hospital in Lansing Tuesday morning when injuries received Saturday afternoon in an auto collision at the corner of Shepardville and Taft Roads in Ovid Township.

She was one of the drivers of the cars involved. The other driver was Arthur L. Binger, 23, of 2635 Hollister Road, Ovid. He and a passenger, Keith Tomlinson, 26, of Ovid, were both injured and were taken to Clinton Memorial Hospital.

TWO AMBULANCES brought the injured to the hospital here. Miss Corp was soon transferred to Lansing. Deputy Sheriff Hilary Hafner, who is still investigating the accident, said Binger refused to be hospitalized after treatment Sunday for severe head cuts. He later returned to Clinton Memorial and was released again Monday morning. Tomlinson suffered bruising injuries and reportedly is recuperating at home also.

Hafner said he had not been able to talk to either of the drivers or the passenger long enough to determine just what happened. One of the cars apparently ran a yield right-of-way sign that governs traffic on Taft Road crossing Shepardville. There were no witnesses to the crash.

Both autos wound up in a field on the southwest corner of the intersection, Miss Corp's on its top. The accident occurred about 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

The car driven by Peggy Corp lies on its top in a field just southwest of the intersection of Shepardville and Taft Roads where it collided Saturday with the other auto in the background, driven by Arthur L. Binger. Three persons were hurt, one critically.

Jaycees told of vo-tech study

A vocational-technical study of Shiawassee County and the St. Johns and Ovid-Elsie districts of Clinton County was reviewed for the St. Johns Jaycees last Tuesday evening.

Ernest Dear, field coordinator of the study, told the Jaycees the final report of findings will probably be completed about the end of this year and the report published about February 1966.

HE REPORTED on a few specific findings, but Dear's talk was aimed at giving the Jaycees a picture of what the study was all about and how it was being done. He said all but a few hundred dollars of the 50 per cent local share of $6,500 (a federal grant pays the balance) has been raised through solicitations of businesses and industries in the two counties.

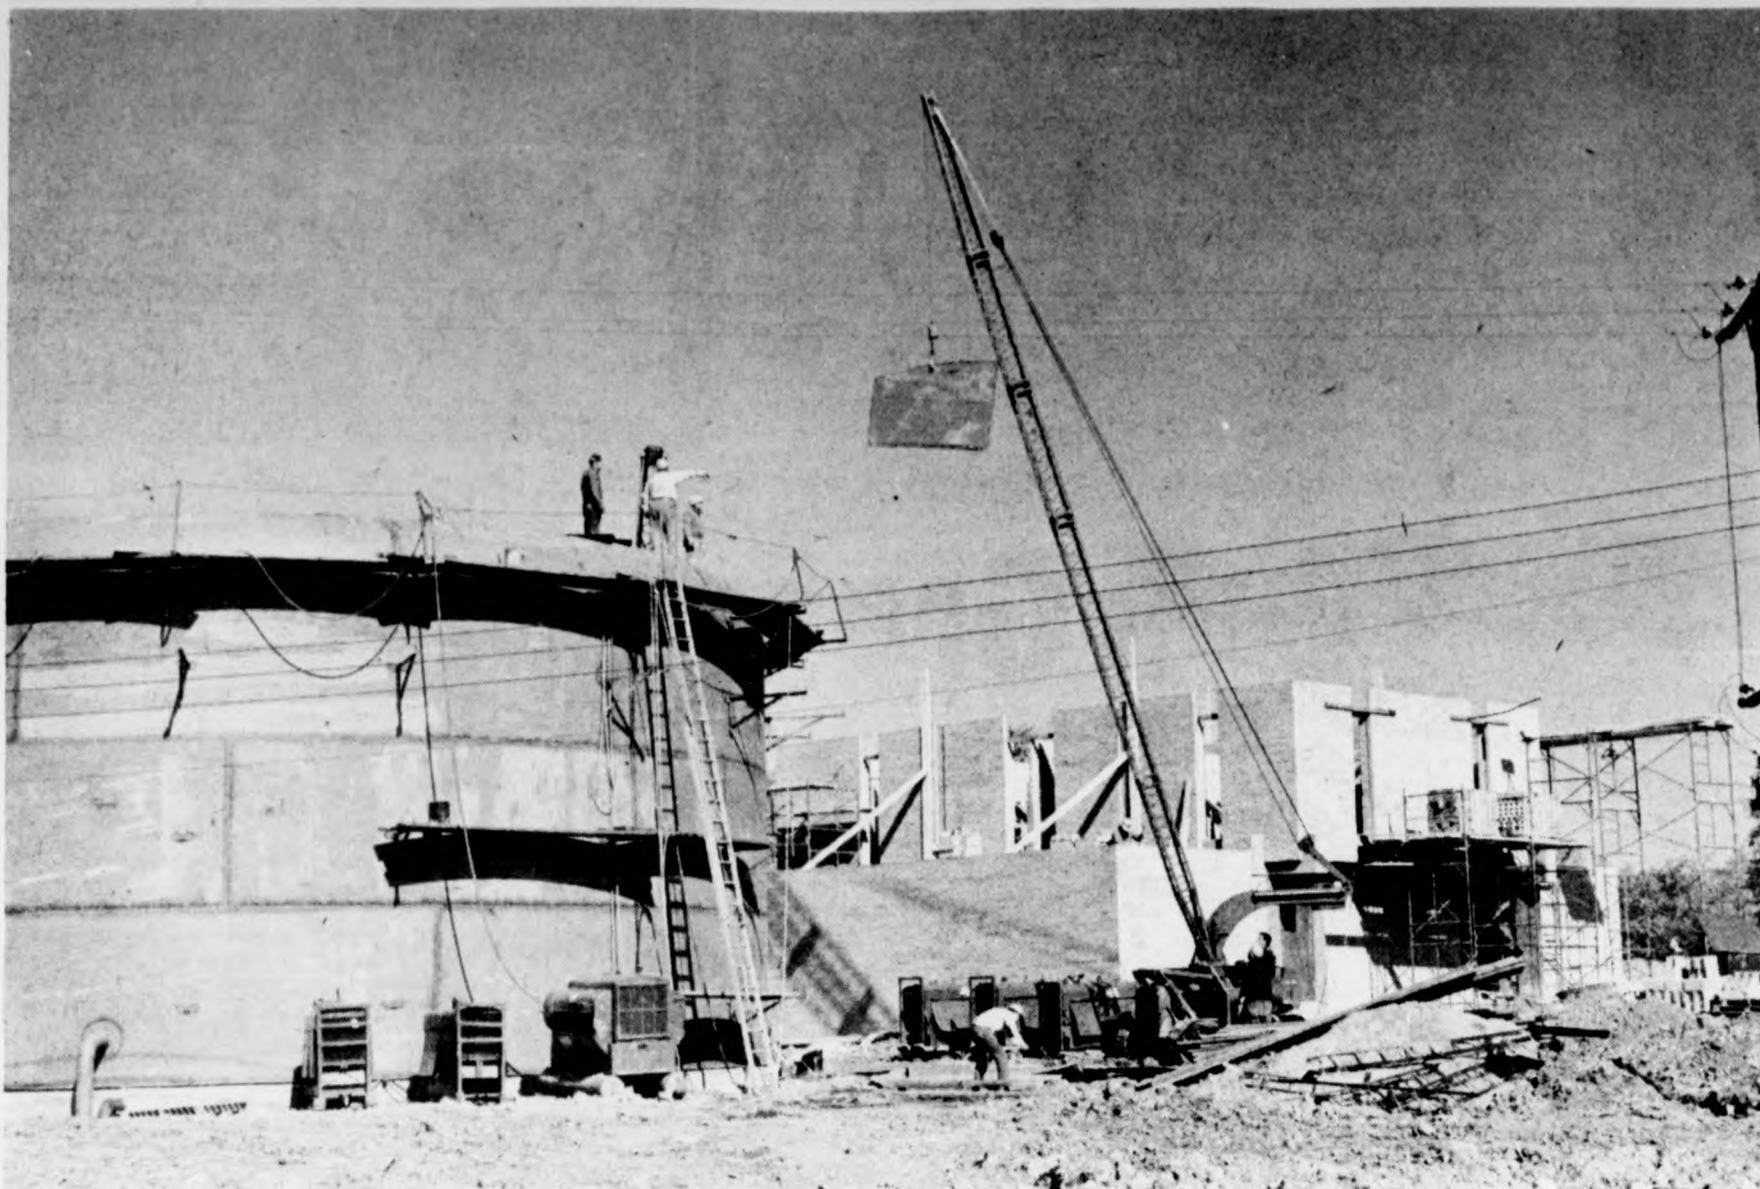

Jack Downing and Lowell Rinker were inducted as new members of the Jaycees prior to the close of the meeting. Business conducted concerned the Jaycees' candy and pumpkin sale during the next two weeks, discussion of the Jaycees' participation in Punt, Pass and Kick, and plans for the Jaycee-sponsored bridge tournament.

2 Owosso youths hurt in crash

Two Owosso youths were injured Sunday afternoon on M-21 west of Hollister Road when one of them apparently went to sleep at the wheel of the car.

Richard E. Holly, 18, of Owosso, told Deputy Sheriff Bruce Wilcox the car ran off the right shoulder, and when he whipped it back on the road, the car shot across the highway onto the left shoulder, rolled over and ended upright in a ditch on the north side of M-21.

Holly and a passenger, Larry Macklin, 15, of Owosso, both suffered cuts and bruises. They were taken to Clinton Memorial Hospital for treatment of their injuries and then released.

Huge Water Tank Dwarfs Workmen at New Treatment Plant

Workmen on top and below this 400,000-gallon water storage tank are dwarfed by the size of the installation, now nearing completion at the city's water treatment plant on the north side of town. The metal plate being raised was one for the top of the tank. The main treatment plant building behind the small crane still has masonry work to be done. Consulting engineers for the project were to report to the city commission Tuesday night on the progress.

5 Lansing boys bruised in crash

Five Lansing and East Lansing youths suffered bruises in a one-car crash on Shepardsville Road at Parker Road in Victor Township Saturday night.

According to Deputy Sheriff Ramon Terpening, the car, driven by Joseph J. Jakovac, 16, of East Lansing, was going too fast to make a curve, and it went off the right side of the road, through a deep ditch, across Parker Road, hit a tree and ended up against a fence.

Jakovac, along with Craig O'Donnell, 15, Mike Kogul, 15, Tim McGinn, 15, and Bob Owen, 16, all of Lansing, suffered bruises.

will be the lowest of any of the taxing units, only $13,058.19 on a rate of 10.1974 mills.

WALTER Nobis of Lebanon was chairman of the equalization committee, which also consisted of Lorenz Tiedt of St. Johns, Maurice Gove of Bingham, George Moore of Duplain and Gerald Shepard of Bath.

The report of the appropriations and finance committee was also approved. Appropriated for the contingent fund was $397,065; total welfare $69,271; county drain at large $15,000; and miscellaneous appropriations $18,950. That totaled $500,286, with 4.63513 mills needed to raise that amount.

In addition, the County Road Commission was appropriated $75,000 to be used only for matching funds. This brought the appropriations to $575,286, the amount of money to be raised by taxation.

IN ADDITION, the appropriations committee also authorized the collection of all monies voted and allocated in the various townships, villages and cities for general fund or debt service; all monies voted and allocated to the various school districts in their respective township or city, both for operation expense, debt service and special education; all drain taxes which were authorized and assessed by the drain commissioner on various drains in the county; and any rejected taxes.

Derrill Shinabery of Greenbush is chairman of the committee on appropriations and finance, and other members are Walter Nobis of Lebanon and Donald Clark of St. Johns.

Not included in the total amount reported Tuesday were the contributions received in the out-county and St. Johns residential drives.

Lions hear of ag importance

F. Earl Haas, county agricultural Extension agent, explained the importance of agriculture to Clinton County last Wednesday night when he appeared as speaker at the St. Johns Lions Club.

Using a program of slide film, Haas explained that farming is a $21 million business in Clinton County. He discussed the role of his office and the many services it performs for local farmers and youth.

Over 30,000 persons attended meetings held by Haas and his staff last year. Hundreds of farm and home visits were made. The Lions were told that this group, which is seldom thought of by many citizens, is very important to the economy of the area.

Guests of the Lions last week were about a dozen local farmers.

But now it's getting to be an overwhelming problem. Each day New York City alone collects enough refuse to fill a seven-mile-long train

Central National buys Maple Rapids bonds

The Central National Bank of St. Johns has purchased $19,900 of general obligation bonds that will enable the village of Maple Rapids to proceed with a water improvement program.

Robert Leonard, executive vice president of the bank, said the interest rate was 4 1/4 per cent.

The sale of the bonds by Maple Rapids was approved by voters earlier this year by a narrow margin. In addition to the $19,900 in general obligation bonds, the village has already sold about $10,000 in revenue bonds.

THE MONEY will be used for drilling a deep well, putting in a new pumping system and replacing nearly two miles of one-, two- and four-inch water lines with new six-inch mains.

The larger mains and deeper well are expected to provide much higher pressure for the water system of Maple Rapids. The village is presently supplied with water from a shallow well, and pressure is low and the water objectionable to many in the village.

Gets $100 fine for short weight

One official of the Brangus Freezer Beef Co. of Eagle pleaded guilty to a violation of the state weights and measures law when he appeared Friday before Justice of the Peace Gordon Will-young.

Steve Snyder, a manager of the firm, paid $119.30 in fine and court costs.

Eugene Bailey, another firm manager, demanded examination on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. His circuit court hearing was scheduled for next Monday.

COUNTY PROSECUTOR Norman White said the men were charged with giving customers less meat than was paid for. The original complaint was made against them Aug. 17. State Department of Agriculture officials have also been investigating the case; they disclosed the company had been convicted of a similar offense three weeks ago in St. Joseph.

Plan survey of taxi needs

At the request of several of its members, the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce is conducting a survey to determine whether a taxi service could be supported in the community.

The board of directors would like anyone who feels they would use a cab to contact the Chamber of Commerce so that potential use can be determined.

"IF ENOUGH people contact us indicating they would use cab services, we will then investigate further the other factors involved, such as cost, to determine whether or not we should encourage someone to provide taxi service in our community," the directors said.

It was the feeling of the directors that with the large number of active senior citizen residents, St. Johns could possibly support such a service.

Rock Candy Mountain at "Music Box Fair"

Hi! Ho! Come to the Fair! "The Music Box Fair" and turkey dinner, First Congregational Church, Thursday, Oct. 28.

Each division of the Women's Fellowship has a theme song for its fair booth and the music is really going round and round! The members of the Elizabeth Winslow division, Mrs E. O. Prince, chairman, are having the mountain come to them! "The Big Rock Candy Mountain," that is! Some of the "Candy Kids" had their picture "tookin'" at one of their early morning work sessions, which appears elsewhere in this issue.

THE DOORS open at 2:00 p.m. and the booths will be well-stocked and there is something for everyone! "Keep It A Secret" is the Doublets' booth, headed by the Robert Woods. (A bit was learned, it's to be "White Elephants.")

More of the intriguing theme songs of "The Music Box Fair" are: "Toyland" (toys and doll clothes), Linda Scott Division, Mrs Robert Wood; "Shortin' Bread" (baked goods), Mildred Knight members and Duets, Mrs Dale Crawford, chairman; "If I knew you were a-comin' I'd Baked a Cake" (cake walk), Seniors Pilgrim Fellowship, Jack McCurry, chairman.

"Santa Claus is Comin' to Town" (gifts that are original and ideal for Christmas giving), Vesper-Pearl Caldwell division, headed by Helen Fowler; "Music, Music, Music" (music and books), Robert Cox and choir members; "Old McDonald Had a Farm" (farm market), Congregators, chairmen, the K.L. Joneses; "Popcorn Man" (pop corn popped and really buttered by the Jr. Pilgrim Fellowship group, assisted by Mr and Mrs Gordon Iacovoni.

ANTIQUE collectors will be in their glory shopping at the Attic Treasure booth to the tune of "That's My Desire." The Mary Wilcox division, headed by Mrs

MRS MARGARET LAHAYE

To speak at First Baptist Church Sunday

Sunday, Oct. 24 is Youth Day at the First Baptist Church of St. Johns. Mrs Margaret LaHaye, director of Greater Lansing Child Evangelism Fellowship, will speak to the combined Sunday School at 10 a.m.

Everyone is invited to attend and see as well as listen to the flannelgraph story. Mrs LaHaye has been in this work for 11 years in this area after graduating from the Detroit Bible College.

SUPERINTENDENT William Dodday reports that the First Baptist Sunday School is in first place in the "Goal-to-Grow" contest with eight other churches of comparable size. There is a warm welcome and place for all who will come.

Pastor Roger Harrison will be preaching in the morning and evening services which are held at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

70 to be taking aptitude test

This Saturday, about 70 juniors and seniors from Rodney B. Wilson High School will be taking the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test. This two-hour and 20-minute test will be given in the study hall of the high school starting at 9 a.m.

This PSAT contains multiple-choice questions designed to measure the verbal and mathematical abilities. The results will be reported to the school in January. This report will show the student's score and his percentile rank based on a national sample of all students in the same grade.

THE RESULTS of the PSAT can be used for a limited number of scholarships as well as a good guidance instrument to help students make decisions about college. Because the PSAT measures the same verbal and mathematical abilities as the SAT, the results of the PSAT are good predictors of the SAT score.

Last year, more than 11,000 schools administered the PSAT to approximately 745,000 students. The cost of the test is 75 cents per student, which is forwarded to Educational Testing Service to cover the cost of providing test materials.

The National Firearms Act, adopted in 1934, and the Federal Firearms Act, passed in 1938, are aimed at prohibiting possession of "gangster weapons," such as sawed-off shotguns, and the shipment of firearms into states that require licenses unless the receiver has obtained a license.

Wings back in winning stride; Charlotte next

St. Johns end Dennis Springer gets set to grab a pass from Gene Rademacher for a 10-yard gain during fourth-quarter action at Alma Friday night. Coming up for the tackle is Alma's Walt Essex. Other identifiable players are St. Johns' Al Koenigsnecht (75) and Jon Tatroe (60), and Alma's Steve Larson (40) and Jim Daniels (26). St. Johns won 13-6.

The St. Johns Redwings got back on the winning trail last Friday night with a well-earned but not decisive victory at Alma, 13-6.

While ending a two-game losing streak, the Wings had some troubles with their own timing and with the stubborn Panthers, who were winless and out for a homecoming upset.

ST. JOHNS hopes to get further honing this Friday when they journey to Charlotte to meet the much-improved Orioles. Charlotte should give the local boys a thorough test of their regained poise obtained from the Alma victory.

That win was more encouraging to Coach Bill Smiley than the final score might indicate. Some 143 yards in rushing gains were nullified by penalties, mostly of the five-yard backfield-in-motion variety. Still, the Wings gained 176 yards rushing and 131 yards passing.

HALFBACK Randy Humphrey played his best game of the year and picked up 36 yards in six carries. He also ran 70 yards for a touchdown that was called back and had a couple of other long-gainers that were nullified.

Halfback Lee Hill was the workhorse for the Wings' ground attack, packing the ball 11 times for a total of 36 yards. Fullback Gary Boyce carried eight times for 76 yards.

QUARTERBACK Gene Rademacher attempted 15 passes during the evening, connecting on eight of them for 131 yards including one touchdown. End Dennis Springer was his favorite target; Springer caught four passes for a total of 50 yards. Boyce also grabbed two for 67 yards, and Terry Hart and Duane Downing nabbed one each. Hart turned in a good offensive game, too, carrying two times for 18 yards in addition to catching the one pass.

St. Johns got on the scoreboard late in the first quarter on their second series of plays. It took only seven plays and two first downs. Working from their own 26, the Wings used Boyce in a rushing and pass-catching role, and Lee Hill and Bob Every in running plays to move to the Alma 46.

RUNNING and passing plays lost yardage back to the St. Johns 43, but on a fourth-down play with 14 yards to go, Rademacher hit Boyce in the left flat and he circled around his defensive man and raced 57 yards to the goal line for a St. Johns score. Boyce then kicked the extra point.

Alma threatened early in the second quarter, marching to the St. Johns 15 before the Wings stiffened and stopped the drive. After moving out to the 30, Humphrey danced into the line, cut outside and ran 70 yards for a touchdown. It was called back by an illegal procedure penalty. St. Johns continued down to the Alma 22, highlighted by a 42-yard run by Boyce with the aid of a key block from Lee Hill. But Alma stopped the Wings on the 28.

THE HALF ended 7-0.

Alma scored on the opening series of plays in the second half, marching 80 yards in 14 plays. Dan Miller got Alma's touchdown with a two-yard plunge. Dave Hill, playing his usual standout defensive game for St. Johns, knifed through the line to kill the try for extra point.

St. Johns roared back for some insurance. Eleven plays moved the ball from their own 33 to the Alma end zone, with Lee Hill's second effort enabling him to score on a four-yard run. The extra point try failed on a bad pass from center.

HART'S PASS reception for six yards was a key play in the Wings' drive, and Boyce turned in a 14-yard run that set up Hill's scoring effort.

After an exchange of punts, Alma began a drive from their own 20 that gave St. Johns fans some anxious moments. It got as far as the St. Johns 22 before Alma lost the ball on downs with only 1:14 left in the game. St. Johns then ran out the clock.

Potterville deals Fowler title hopes severe blow, 7-6

FOWLER — Fowler High School's hopes for a Central Michigan D Conference football title were dealt a severe blow Friday when the Eagles dropped a 7-6 heartbreaker to now-front-running Potterville.

Fowler scored in the fourth quarter when Hilary Goerge broke open for 65 yards and a touchdown. A power play around end by John Wieber feel a foot short on the try for extra point.

FOWLER FANS were brought to their feet on the last play of the game when Goerge broke into the clear and ran 30 yards before the defensive safety man managed to bring him down from behind with an ankle tackle.

Statistics also showed a tight game. Potterville was only slightly ahead in all categories, 13-9 in first downs, 170-164 in yards rushing, and 65-25 in yards passing. Fowler fumbled four times and lost the ball on three of them.

"This was the best club we played all year, so we didn't look quite as good defensively," Coach Douglas commented Monday. But he praised defensive end Chuck Thelen for another good game.

It was the homecoming game at Fowler and was a defensive battle most of the way. The scoring was done by Potterville in the first quarter and by Fowler in the fourth; in between the two teams took turns playing control football.

"FUMBLES and penalties stopped our drives," Fowler Coach H. Blaine Douglas said. And one of the fumbles set up Potterville's touchdown early in the game.

The Fowler punter fumbled in the first quarter and Potterville took over inside the Fowler 30. From there they moved down to the five, and Dave Smith carried for the Potterville touchdown, Jim Smalley kicked what proved to be the decisive extra point.

2 split $20 in resolving 10-way tie

One of the biggest jam-ups in memory in the quest for the $20 Clinton County News Football Contest prize occurred last week when a 10-way tie developed. By way of the tie-breaker score, it was finally resolved to a two-way tie.

Splitting the prize last week were Ralph Temple of R-6, St. Johns, and Tom Barker of 130 State Street, Pewamo. They each missed only two regular game choices and both hit the tie-breaker score, 28, right on the head.

OTHERS who missed only two, but who were off on the tie-breaker, were: Larry Salters of 507 E. McConnell, St. Johns; Joe R. Smith of 4674 Krepps Road, R-5 St. Johns; George Conklin of 231 E. Union, Maple Rapids; John Jolly of 109 E. Steel Street, St. Johns; Dean Eisler of St. Johns; Jimmy Henry of Maple Rapids; Jonathan Cortright of 3252 E. Chadwick Road, DeWitt; John P. Werblisch of 410 W. Giles, St. Johns; and Mark Lehman of 115 Grand Street, Portland.

One Westphalia entrant at first appeared to have missed only two and also had a 28 tie-breaker score, but a recheck by the judges found that he had failed to pick a winner for the Ithaca-Corunna game.

JUDGES remind contestants to give their full name and address; several didn't last week, and had they been winners there would have been delays in getting their prizes to them. The judges also repeat an earlier warning that mimeographed or "ditto" entries are not allowed.

JVs romp 37-13 over Alma JVs

By SUE DURNER

By scoring 31 points in the first half, the St. Johns JVs romped by a hapless Alma eleven 37-13 last Thursday at St. Johns.

John Salemi started the scoring parade with a 10-yard burst after four minutes had elapsed in the first quarter.

Alma, not being able to move, turned the ball over to St. Johns who promptly scored another touchdown. This time it was John Berkhausen taking a pass from Love and racing 33 yards around right end. The try for the extra point was missed.

WITH 10 SECONDS gone in the second quarter, Salemi drove 8 yards for the Redwings' third touchdown of the evening. The try for the extra point was again missed and St. Johns led 18-0.

An Alma drive was halted on the Redwing 43-yard line, from where Salemi reeled 23 yards and Mike Green, on a 35-yard run, scored the fourth TD of the game for St. Johns. The pass for the p.a.t. was missed.

ST. JOHNS, taking advantage of Alma's inability to move the ball, scored their fifth touchdown of the half when Brent Law raced 22 yards with 1:38 left in the second quarter. Hildorf ran the extra point in and the half ended with the score 31-0 in favor of St. Johns.

With 7:44 left in the third quarter, St. Johns scored their final TD with John Markman driving in from the 10-yard line.

ALMA ENDED up the scoring with Allan Studder going in for both TDs; the first was scored with 7:39 left in the fourth quarter and the last with 1:30 left. The kick was good and the game ended 37-13 for the JVs' 20th consecutive victory.

Elsie rolls by Bath, 47 to 0

Terry Loznak, who led Elsie's scoring last week with three touchdowns, repeated his feat Friday as Elsie rolled to a 47-0 win over Bath in the Central Michigan C League. Loznak scored on the first play from scrimmage as he went 56 yards, then followed that with an 8-yard scoring run, also in the first period.

In the third period Loznak intercepted a pass and returned it 37 yards for this third TD of the game.

MIKE SEYBERT of Elsie was another standout as he scored twice on runs of 8 and 23 yards and tossed a 14-yard touchdown pass to Gall Benzinger. Seybert also ran for one extra point and passed to Tom Bakita for another.

Loznak gained 115 yards on nine carries and set up another TD with a 63-yard punt return as he helped Elsie maintain its tie for first place in the Central Michigan C League with Portland.

Remember — the best way to help others is to help yourself.

IN THE SECOND game Bee's downed the Referees by the same score of 26-13. For Bee's, Ron Dugas passed to Parsons for 25 yards and one touchdown, White hit Dugas for 45 yards and Martens for 45 yards and two touchdowns. The Referees scoring came on a pass from Jess Martens to Jim Smit and a pass from Martens to Dick Cornwell who lateraled to Tom Pung.

In the Saturday morning kids' league, the Redskins and Colts remained unbeaten. This Saturday they will clash head-on to determine the league leader.

THE REDSKINS, trailing 6-0 at the half, came back strong last week to take a 7-6 victory over the Lions. John Warstler intercepted a Lion pass and raced 60 yards for the score. Tom Lynch ran the ball in for the point-after. The Lions scored in the first quarter when Dave Weed intercepted a pass and romped 40 yards to paydirt.

The Colts, also trailing at the half by an 8-6 score, came to life with Eddie San Miguel scoring three times. Alan Hennings beat the 49'ers 25-8. Alan Henning got the first score on a 10-yard run and Ken Schueller got the PAT. The 49'ers got a score from Yurek who picked up some good downfield blocking and went 30 yards for a touchdown. Jim Lynch caught Alan Henning in the end zone for a safety to round out the scoring for the losers.

NEXT WEEK'S SCHEDULES — Oct. 20, adults: Electrifying Eight vs Referees at 7, Team No. 4 vs Bee's at 8.

CARSON CITY — Fulton High School finished a defensive duel with Carson City Friday night by scoring a touchdown with 20 seconds left in the game to take a 7-0 victory.

Quarterback Randy VanSickle found end Bill Cartwright all alone in the end zone and hit him with a 10-yard pass for the touchdown.

Despite the defensive nature of the game, Fulton dominated the game in the statistics department. The Pirates had 13 first downs to Carson City's 6, 216 yards rushing to 118 for Carson and 10 yards passing to none for the losers.

CONSERVATION REQUEST UP — The Conservation Department's budget request for fiscal 1966-67 will call for $36.2 million, up about $10 million from this year. Rising costs and growing demands cause the increase, the department says.

New rural area phone refinement

Rural multi-party telephone lines in the southwest area of the St. Johns exchange will be reduced to a maximum of four parties beginning this week, according to General Telephone Co. Manager William Graef.

The area included extends approximately from South DeWitt Road westward and from M-21 southward. The work is scheduled to be completed in three weeks. The modern design of the automatic equipment will permit the lines to be divided without telephone number changes.

CONSTRUCTION work on the project was started late in 1964 and included 3.7 miles of aerial cable and 40.8 miles of buried cable. Cable work was completed in September.

An addition of 200 new lines of central office equipment in the St. Johns exchange building was completed Oct. 1 this year. Also installed were 100 new telephone number terminals to provide for growth in the whole exchange.

THE PROJECT, costing over $130,000, is part of General's 1965 program of service improvement in St. Johns district.

The remaining rural lines will be "upgraded" to a maximum of four parties per line in two separate projects, the southeastern section scheduled to start late in 1966 and the northern section later.

Board in new quarters by November?

Courthouse construction in St. Johns is in its final stages, and the Clinton County board of supervisors likely will hold its November session in the new supervisors room there.

The board will probably have to use the present furniture for the time being. New furniture had not yet been ordered last week, but the supervisors did show a preference for small, individual desks.

THE BUILDING and grounds committee of the board, in the meantime, was handed the job of recommending which offices should occupy the lower floor of the new courthouse wing. It has eight offices available. The committee is to make their recommendations to the board as a whole in November.

Supervisor Willard Krebel of Riley, chairman of the highway committee, asked the board last Thursday for clarification of the duties of his committee. He said he had been getting numerous complaints and requests to do something about certain roads in various parts of the county.

HE SAID IT was his impression that the committee was merely to act as liaison between the board of supervisors and the Clinton County Road Commission. Ray Mayers of Bengal had the same question and thought concerning the drain committee. The board agreed that these committees had been formed for liaison-type duties only.

A state meeting for supervisors concerning the reapportionment issue has been rescheduled for Nov. 2, Krebel told the board.

The number of accidental deaths from firearms is dropping, while deaths from other causes are increasing. Five years ago, firearms deaths amounted to 1.5 per 100,000 people. Now the rate is 1.1 per 100,000 people.

31 units had part in Clinton Grange history

Oliver H. Kelley, one of the founders of the Order of Patrons of Husbandry (the Grange) was commissioned on Oct. 20, 1865, to inspect the post-Civil War South and report to the US Department of Agriculture on the status of agriculture in that area.

Kelley, whose home was at Itasca, Minn., concluded during his trip that there was a need for a national farmers organization to restore fraternity between the North and South.

THE FIRST meeting was held in Washington, D.C., and the name "Grange" was adopted to designate a local lodge. The aim was to advance agriculture by encouraging education.

First members were men connected with various federal governmental departments in Washington.

In 1868 the organization spread to the states and Grange No. 1 was formed at Fredonia, N.Y. The first Michigan Grange was founded at Burnside No. 1 in 1872.

THE FIRST Clinton County Grange was St. Johns No. 140, founded in 1873. There have been 31 Granges organized in Clinton County. In addition to the St. Johns Grange they have been:

Ovid No. 156, founded Dec. 17, 1873; Elsie No. 202, Dec. 12, 1874; Bengal No. 225, Jan. 26, 1874; Keystone No. 226, Jan. 27, 1874; Victor No. 317, March 19, 1874; Riley No. 342, March 30, 1874.

Eagle No. 343, March 30, 1874; Olive No. 358, April 3, 1874; Essex No. 439, June 1, 1874; South Riley No. 456, June 3, 1874; DeWitt No. 459, June 17, 1874; County Four Corners No. 487, Aug. 14, 1874; Dallas No. 505, Sept. 17, 1874.

1922; Stockman No. 1689, Oct. 17, 1922. Greenbush No. 1703, Dec. 19, 1923; Lebanon No. 1715, Feb. 17, 1925; Maple River No. 1729, Oct. 24, 1927; Eagle No. 1819, Jan. 13, 1937.

THE CLINTON County Pomona Grange was organized at the St. Johns Grange on Nov. 13, 1879. The Pomona Grange was instrumental in organizing and providing leaders for the first 4-H work in Clinton County. Pomona Grange also led in organizing the Grange Livestock Shipping Assn. which helped farmers to market their livestock for many years.

In 1920 the Grange members were active in organizing the St. Johns Agricultural Assn. The association purchased and rebuilt the John F. Parr and Sprague-Ward elevators, and a stock company was formed. This later was reorganized as the present co-operative.

WHEN CLINTON Memorial Hospital was built the Grange contributed more than $800 to furnish a room.

Lots of Cole Slaw for DeLongs
 Mrs. Wayne DeLong of 604 S. Clinton Avenue displays one of her garden cabbage plants which didn't know when to stop growing this year. Last Wednesday the cabbage plant was 28 1/2 inches high, and the outer leaves gave it a spread of 42 inches. What made it doubly interesting was that the head of cabbage that had formed was a good 9 inches across and was temptingly solid. It weighed 12 1/2 pounds.

Road Commission Weekly Report

The Board of Clinton County Road Commissioners held their regular meeting Monday. The board discussed construction, bridges and tree cutting. The commission approved a new subdivision in Eagle Township. A delegation visited the commission to discuss the construction of Meridan Road on the east county line north of Ovid.

Last week was meeting week. Wednesday was the governor's safety conference at the Civic Center in Lansing. Thursday was the regular district fall maintenance meeting at the State Highway Office in Grand Rapids. Les Drago, county road engineer, represented Clinton County at both meetings. Fred Crowell, state maintenance superintendent also attended the Grand Rapids meeting.

THE STATE maintenance contracts were received at the maintenance meeting and were reviewed at the Clinton County Road Commission meeting Monday. Several changes in the contract have been made for 1966.

The cement work on the Centerline Road bridge is underway this week. Completion of this bridge depends on the delivery of the prestressed beams. Work on the Howe Road bridge is ahead of schedule. This bridge may be opened yet this year. The preliminary plans and estimates for the Island Road bridge are complete and copies have been submitted to the Bureau of Public Roads for approval.

"Specials" on food not always bargains

BY HELEN MEACH Extension Home Economics

"How special" can a "special" be? Many people think a "special" is always a bargain, but this is not true.

- 1. Make meal plans and shopping list... 2. Make meal plans and shopping list... 3. KEEP THE plan flexible... 4. Be aware that a specially priced item may not always be the least expensive food to serve.

PRICES for a given food may vary from time to time. Unless the shopper knows the usual price, she may be fooled into buying what she thinks is a "special" when really the price is no different from the regular price.

Then, learn to judge quality. Poor quality products at 15 cents a pound cost 30 cents a pound if half of them can't be used.

Western hunting trip successful for Elsie men

ELSIIE - Fourteen deer and antelope were bagged by seven area men on a week-long hunting trip to Buffalo, Wyo.

The men were Bernard Conklin and his son, Gary, Joe Bartek, Stanley Galehouse, Richard Reha, David Fogarty and Richard Isham of Durand. This was the first such hunting trip for the latter two but was the third trip for the others.

They left Elsie Friday, Oct. 8, drove the 1400 miles in 28 hours stopping only for meals. Upon reaching northern Wyoming, they found they were a week early to hunt in the Big Horns as they had previously planned but were directed to a 23,000 acre ranch of rolling hills, 6,000 feet above sea level, where they found conditions perfect for their sport, including the weather with 83-degree temperatures.

Buffalo is the trade center for ranchers and the gateway to the Big Horn Mountains. Years ago, this area was the scene of warfare evidenced by nearby Fort McKinney and Indian Battlefields along the Crazy Woman and Muddy Rivers where the men successfully hunted.

They saw some hundreds of deer and thousands of antelope. The animals were flushed out of the creek flats and sagebrush around the Crazy River and shot while some 200-300 yards away. It was a never-to-be-forgotten and a most thrilling experience to hunt the animals whose speed in this wide expanse of hunting area was almost unbelievable.

The men completed their 4,000 miles of travel in returning home by way of the Upper Peninsula. Due to the continued warm weather and a lack of display racks when they arrived in Elsie the animals were taken to the locker plant immediately so no pictures were available.

CHEERLEADERS

Elsie varsity cheerleaders at Elsie High School are: Barbara Warner, captain, Diane Foreit, co-captain. Karen Smith, Linda SturGIS, Pamela Loznak and Celeste Buck.

The 4-H members studied the economic base of a Michigan community and learned what kind of career opportunities are available in some of the various businesses and industries that serve Michigan. Sharon's winning demonstration was an illustrated talk on Fall-out Shelters.

Esther Circle to meet afternoons during winter

ELSIIE - Mrs J. O. Schumacher was hostess to the Esther Circle of the Methodist WSCS Thursday evening in her home. Mrs Charles Fizzell presided at the meeting. It was decided to serve dinner to the Shawassee County Farm Bureau directors meeting.

They voted to hold meetings in the afternoon with a one o'clock dessert during the winter months on the third Thursday of each month. Mrs Ward Lewis will serve as secretary this year.

Mrs C. S. Goodrich, who will give six weekly lessons from the study of the Book of Acts, was present to introduce her subject material. The next meeting of the Circle will be Thursday, Nov. 18 at the home of Mrs R. C. Parks.

Extension Club takes color tour in local area

ELSIIE - The West Elsie Extension Group took advantage of no school work (no scheduled lesson) to take a color tour for their October get-together. The weather man cooperated with nice going, Thursday.

Three carloads, carrying fourteen women, roamed the area west, north and east of Elsie, starting out at 11 a.m. Down in the swampy region, they parted company. Two loads continued east to eat their dinner in Chesaning and then a round-about way back home.

The other load turned west, made their way to eat in St. Johns and then on to the Open House farewell at Smith Hall for Miss Betty Ketcham, former Clinton County Home Extension Agent. They wished her the greatest success and pleasure in her new work at Michigan State University's Extension Dept.

The Nov. 10 meeting will be in the home of Mrs Dale Levey Sr.

WCS STUDY CLASS "Acts Then and Now" is the study book selected by the Methodist WSCS. Authored by Harvey H. Potthoff it will be taught by Mrs C. S. Goodrich at 9:30 a.m. each Tuesday morning beginning Oct. 26 and continuing for six weeks. As a pre-requisite for this study all who attend these classes are asked by Mrs Goodrich to read the entire Book of Acts from the Bible before the first lesson.

Youngsters' Ride on Fire Truck Has Message

Sirens of the fire truck filled the air last Thursday afternoon as the St. Johns Fire Department and the St. Johns Insurance Assn. combined to promote fire prevention. Identifiable at the rear of the truck here are Jim McKenzie, insurance agent, and Richard (Sonny) Cornell, assistant fire chief.

Methodist youth have hayride

ELSIIE - A 16-mile hayride was enjoyed by 30 members and friends of the Elsie Methodist Fellowship Saturday evening. They assembled at the church and went by cars to the home of David Williams and his parents, Mr and Mrs Glen Williams northeast of the village.

All measures of safety were taken with three fathers sharing the fun and responsibility. Glen Williams drove the tractor, Lyle Dunham rode the hay wagon and the Rev Gordon Showers came along at the rear with dimmed lights from his car to help find the way.

This was a new experience for many of the young people. After more than an hour of fun with much singing and laughter, they returned to the Williams home with hay, literally from "head to foot."

Mrs Williams assisted by Mrs Dunham and Mrs Sidney Keys served hot chocolate, barbecues, chips and cookies furnished by the young people.

Sitting on the floor and filling every chair in the living room, they enjoyed television while eating.

MYF president Jennifer Keys made three announcements. There was an invitation to another hayride next Saturday night, Oct. 23, with the Bannister MYF. They are to meet at the Bannister School and take the hayride to the home of Mr and Mrs Raymond Stewart where they will have refreshments.

St. Johns, Clinton proud to be hosts to Grange

"United by the strong and faithful tie of agriculture, we mutually resolve to labor for the good of our Order, our country and mankind. . . We heartily endorse the motto: 'In essentials, unity; in non-essentials, liberty; in all things, charity.'"

These are the general objects listed in the declaration of purposes of the National Grange back in 1874 and was designated as a proclamation to the world of basic Grange principles. Competent authorities call it the best single document written outlining principles for farm organization. It is often called "the farmer's declaration of independence."

THIS WEEK THE full scope of the Grange's objectives is being brought into focus as the 92nd session of the Michigan State Grange is held in St. Johns. The people of Clinton County and St. Johns are proud to have been chosen as hosts for this great organization.

In their meetings and deliberations here this week, delegates to the session will make decisions that are sure to have important impact on state and national legislation and thinking. The people of St. Johns and Clinton County will do everything in their power to make the leisure and working atmosphere of the convention productive and conducive to the clear thinking needed for such decisions.

The committees, Chamber of Commerce, businessmen, industries and citizens are at your disposal, Grangers. Welcome!

Highest-paid lawmakers aren't showing us much

Three Michigan governors (Williams, Swainson and Romney) have failed to reform the crazy patchwork of taxes in our state.

The reasons are two. First, the 4 per cent sales tax is bringing in a tidal wave of money that makes Michigan's one-time money crisis a dim memory.

"Why do anything when there is no crisis?" is the plea at Lansing.

Second, it is apparent that the "outs" always want reform but the "ins" don't. This was true when the Republicans controlled the Legislature in the days of Democratic governors.

THE DEMOCRAT shouts for correcting the tax structure were heard everywhere. The actors on the Lansing scene have changed and today it is the Republicans making like the Democrats of yesteryear.

Since self-preservation comes ahead of statesmanship, no politician wants to be identified with inflicting Michigan's first state income tax.

It is our opinion that Michigan's people have been conditioned for an income tax. But most of the legislators won't risk their necks on an idea that this is true.

THERE IS A group of Democratic legislators who would like to forsake the leadership at Lansing and go for the tax. Their theory is that this new levy could be blamed on Governor Romney and this would squash him at the polls.

In the meantime the highest paid legislators in the land aren't doing a part of their job. It takes courage to change existing patterns of taxation and do what is best for Michigan for the long haul.

And this is what we aren't seeing when it comes to tax reform.

Fall Labor Shortage

RAMBLIN' with Rink

BY LOWELL G. RINKER

Nowhere in the annals of American history is there the story of the heroic homeowner, defenseless in the ways of do-it-yourself, who finally finishes the job he was ill-prepared to do.

If I could find such a tale, I might feel a little more enthusiastic about finishing the installation of a new storm door at my house.

If you'll recall, we had a pretty bad windstorm on Sept. 14, and one gust of wind caught our front storm door and sprung it. It was not repairable, so our insurance company gave us the OK to get a new door.

WE GOT the pre-hung aluminum type, which is a common door. It sounded nice—"pre-hung." I had visions of slapping the door into the casing, tightening a few screws and then proudly stepping back to gaze at my "do-it-myself" project.

As in all of my past "do-it-myself" projects, this one hasn't worked out according to plan. Being of little skill, I have not accumulated much of an arsenal of working tools, and this only leads to problems when I do take on a job.

TAKING THE old door off was not much of a problem; I can wreck things better than I can build them. There was a period of about a week between taking off the old door and to putting on the new, but after considerable urging and finally an ultimatum from the better half, the job was started.

There was trouble from the start. The base plate of the door frame was too wide and had to be cut. My lack of equipment quickly became apparent, but neighbor Cliff Minler loaned a hacksaw and I got the job done. The metal strip on the opposite side of the door hinges also needed trimming.

WHILE I HAD two different screwdrivers, they were small handled and hard to work with in trying to screw the frame onto the hard wood of the door jamb. I had particular trouble with several Phillips screws, and I had to go back next door and borrow a bigger screwdriver so I could handle the job without ruining the screws before I got them out.

All of this was being done while my little girl was hauling all the screwdrivers, pliers, hammers, screws and bolts around in her little dump truck on the front porch. Between running down my equipment, trying to use my equipment and having to borrow other equipment, I consider myself fortunate to have gotten the door hung.

IT IS NOT yet complete, however. The door latch receptacle will have to be cut, the spring detention chain will have to be put on and the "whoosher" door closer isn't on yet.

Not having looked at the directions yet, I am inclined to think that these "finishing up" aspects of the project may take more time than putting up the door. This Saturday I will need a nice warm day, special equipment from Cliff, understanding from my wife, cotton for my daughter's ears and three or four aspirin before I can be coaxed off the couch.

Four-Lane Fever

BY W. E. DOBSON

These bran' new roads are slicker 'n grease, No matter where you travel; They let you scoot like all get out, Without scarce touchin' gravel; Their long-legged concrete straight aways, Seem never like to mind The spots we used to tarry, or The towns we leave behind.

They call 'em "limited access"— These four-laned ribboned things That beckon you to world's unknown Like they had magic wings; They flatten out the ridges tall, Make valleys less inclined; Still I feel sort o' sorry fer The towns they leave behind.

The places where we used to hitch Among our better known— So out o' bounds 'n fenced off they With grass are over grown; Fill up yer tank 'n larder, You're sort of ridin' blind; The gas 'n food 'n water In towns are left behind.

The old highways is out 'er date, With no ramps 'er clover-leaves; Where you don't indulge in gussin' games 'To know where you starts 'n leaves; On median acres of concrete, We'll ditch the daily grind, 'N shuffle off to land knots where— From towns we leave behind.

Highways is still fer travel, 'N "git there's" the idee, So mount the ol' gas guzzler 'N go fer Hully Gee; 'N when we tire of travel, It's like as not we'll find, A lot of what we journeyed fer— In towns we left behind!

Two men who held up the Elston Miller grocery store in Eureka Monday night were still being sought Thursday, although a five-county man-hunt was begun soon after the robbery. The men, one drawing a revolver and the other acting as though he had a gun concealed in his jacket pocket, obtained about $187 in the robbery. Miller, store owner, and two patrons were compelled to lie down behind the counter.

Bids on razing the two-story Summer building on West Walker Street to provide space for one of two downtown off-street parking areas will be asked soon. The city commission also decided to have the Danley building on East Higham Street near Spring razed as soon as arrangements can be made for the second off-street parking area.

50 YEARS AGO From the Files of Oct. 21, 1915

A resolution was submitted by David Clark of Eagle Township in regard to the construction of good roads in this county. The Clinton County road commissioners and the state highway commissioner have estimated and reported that two trunk line highways can be built across the county for about $170,000. If built now, the state will pay $85,000 reward money, thus giving Clinton County 50 miles of trunk line highways, 16 feet wide, for about $85,000.

The annual Clinton County YMCA banquet for young men and older boys will be held at the Congregational Church Wednesday evening, Oct. 27, at 7 o'clock. A very fine banquet and program will be given. Many speakers of note expected to be present.

A four-horse team belonging to D. S. Herriott, who lives about a mile west of town, ran away Tuesday afternoon on North Clinton Avenue. They were standing on the sidetrack near Parr's elevator. As they started up the head team slacked up, so that one of the wheel horses stepped over the whistle tree of the head team. This frightened them so they ran away. The head team swerved to one side and the tongue of the wagon struck an electric light pole with such force that it shattered the cross-arm to the pole. Mr. Herriott and another man were on the wagon but were uninjured. The wheel team was soon caught, but one of the head horses went home before it was caught.

The board of education has purchased the block of ground in the southeast part of the city known as Athletic Park. The consideration was $500, which is considered reasonable, as the ground is under-drained and has a grandstand. The field will be used for school athletics.

A Look Into The Past . . .

Super-Service Gasoline Station—1918 Style

This super-service gasoline station in St. Johns back about 1918-1920 was operated by Del Dikeman, standing in the doorway, who worked for the A. T. Smith Garage.

The picture was offered for publication by Mrs. Tom Parks of South Lansing Street, R-4, St. Johns. The gasoline station is located on Brush Street, and the A. T. Smith Garage, in the building at left, now houses Egan Ford Sales, Inc. Note the price of gasoline in those days was 29 cents per gallon.

The picture looks north along Brush toward the railroad tracks. Mrs. Parks said she believes the gentleman sitting in the chair behind the gasoline station was George Estes, who pedaled oil and kerosene.

from . . . John's Desk . . . Americanism

Ever tried defining "Americanism?"

See how your definition stacks up with this one by an unknown author:

"He yells for the government to balance the budget, then takes the last dime he has to make the down payment on his car."

"An American will get mad at his wife for not running their home with the efficiency of a hotel, and then he'll get mad at the hotel for not operating like a home."

"HE'LL SPEND half a day looking for vitamin pills to make him live longer—then drive 90 miles an hour on slick pavement to make up for the time he lost."

"An American is a man who will bawl out his wife over her cooking, then go on a fishing trip and swallow half-fried potatoes, burnt fish and gritty creek water coffee made in a rusty gallon bucket—and think it is good."

"WHEN AN American is in his office he talks about baseball, football or fishing—when he is out at the games or on the creek bank, he talks about business."

"He is the only fellow in the world who will pay 50 cents to park his car while he eats a 25-cent sandwich."

"We're the country that has more food to eat than any other country in the world and more diets to keep us from eating it."

"WE'RE SUPPOSED to be the most civilized, Christian nation on earth, but we still can't deliver payrolls without an armored car."

"But we're still pretty nice folks. Calling a person 'a real American' is the best compliment we can pay him."

Said the football coach to his boys:

"And remember that football develops individuality, initiative."

Poets are sometimes thought of as a ragged lot, but records show that Shakespeare, at least, made a small fortune. In 1596 he owned enough property to have to pay five pounds in taxes—a large sum, in those days. Later he became a stockholder in two theaters and acquired more property.

New twist to old con game

BY STEVE HOPKO

Merchants in the counties to the north and northeast of Clinton were treated to a new twist to an old problem the other day; the old problem being "shoplifting," the new twist returning the shoplifted merchandise to the store from whence it came for a cash refund.

It seems to be the work of either a couple or possibly a gang. Merchandise is shoplifted and a few days later it is returned by a different party as an item purchased but now not needed.

I WAS CALLING on a store in one of our neighboring communities shortly after a refund of this type was made and the story was related to me.

The merchandise in this case was returned by a girl, described by the clerk as a young, dark-haired girl wearing a skirt and sweater and a wedding band. Her story was that her father had purchased the item, a metal tape valued at $9, a few days before but had found his old one a short time later.

The clerk asked for the sales slip, but the girl had none and said she didn't know where it might be. The merchandise bore the tag and cost mark of this particular store so the clerk refunded the money. He said later he thought she might have been someone who had recently moved into the area.

THIS ALL SEEMED legitimate until a short time later the owner received a phone call from a friend in the same type of business in a neighboring community alerting him to this new racket. The owner immediately checked with some of the other merchants in his community and found that this same girl had returned a pair of sunglasses, valued at $5, at another store. He then called the local law enforcement officials and other friends in neighboring communities to alert them.

When you stop to think, this is a very lucrative racket. In the two instances where I talked with the people involved, this girl had returned $14 worth of merchandise in a matter of about 10 minutes. Moving fast, a couple working this racket could probably visit at least 10 communities a day; if they averaged about $15 per community this would net them a profit of approximately $150 per day or $750 for a five-day week. Even at today's pay scale, this is a pretty good profit or wage.

TO COMBAT THIS racket, the store owners are enforcing their policy of no cash refunds without a sales slip.

An encouraging thing to be noted in all of this is the cooperation between merchants in their community and those nearby. The people I talked to were alerted by a friend in a nearby community; these people in turn alerted their fellow merchants and others in the nearby communities, and of course the local law enforcement agencies.

These people compete with each other for the business of the area, but when something is afoot they become a close-knit organization helping to protect each other. An encouraging thought in this day and age when so many ignore the old adage of "help thy neighbor."

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Early college enrollment forecasts considerably low

BY ELMER E. WHITE Michigan Press Assn.

Forecasts for higher education enrollments in the 1963-70 period were startling when they were first issued early in the decade.

Now that the predicted period is well under way, the forecast is still startling, particularly because it has turned out to be a very conservative estimate.

This year the increase hit just under the 20,000 mark!

PREDICTING EVEN a year ahead is becoming more and more difficult. Last year the 12 schools getting state support estimated they would have 147,312 students this fall.

Largest of the state universities, Michigan State, came close to its prediction of 35,571 students. Only nine more were enrolled last month on the East Lansing campus.

Only Grand Valley State College undershot its estimate. The forecast enrollment was 1,200 but student numbers are 1,170. This still represents a sharp boost from the 530 students enrolled last fall. The newest state college is now leaping toward its long-range size projection.

MUCH NEW responsibility was placed with Michigan's Department of Administration under the 1965 government reorganization law.

The department previously included seven divisions. The two best known responsibilities were accounting and budget. Others were building engineering, property management, purchasing, motor transport and office services.

Added by the new law, taking effect next year, were jurisdictions over the state building commission, building authority and veterans trust fund board.

Retirement systems for various lower court judges; municipal, state, and public school employees, and the state police also will come under the reorganized department.

HEADED BY a controller appointed by and serving at the pleasure of the governor, the department of administration prepares the state budget requests for the various agencies. The controller then works out the final budget which goes to the legislature after consultation with the governor.

This department has been in the news more than usual the past two years because it has been largely responsible for getting under way the giant capitol development project now becoming a reality.

Maintenance of all state office facilities, purchase of materials and equipment, disposal of surplus and salvage, acquisition and operation of the state motor pool also come under control and supervision of the Department of Administration.

PUBLIC REACTION to the controversial state income tax question could prove fatal to incumbent legislators if an independent survey is any indication.

Legislators are more aware of this than probably anyone else, as evidenced by their reluctance to conduct the proposed referendum which would allow eventual consideration of a graduated income tax. Some lawmakers remember the public was told they would not face an income tax if they would approve the 4 per cent sales tax.

The recent poll did not actually propose an income tax. It only sought to measure if respondents favored a change in the constitution which would permit a graduated income tax. But researchers' fee responses showed that the public wants no part of any kind of income tax.

THE STATEWIDE survey by the Michigan Taxpayers Assn. got an average return rate on mailing. The results of the return reflect essentially what many lawmakers have been saying for years, and now say is the reason a referendum is unnecessary.

Nine out of 10 respondents oppose a state income tax, and the same number said they would vote against legislators who enacted one.

Many felt the annual discussions of tax reform are just a disguise for more new taxes, another point which has been heard quite frequently in the state Capitol in recent weeks.

Apricots may become top Michigan fruit crop

Apricots may become an important commercial crop in Michigan by 1980, according to Michigan State University scientists.

If presently available and/or future varieties prove satisfactory, at least 1,000 acres can quickly come into production, they say. Varieties are currently being tested at MSU's Agricultural Experiment Station in South Haven.

The "Low Down"

From the Congressional Record

By Joe Crump

The thief has a key to your automobile

Senator T. H. Kuchel (Calif.) "... Law enforcement officials ... across the country have recently become alarmed about the indiscriminate, unregulated traffic in master keys. At least six companies in the United States advertise that for sums ranging from $3 to $20, sets of keys may be ordered by mail which will unlock automobiles of any domestic make. On March 25, 1965, the Chicago's American reported the apprehension of an auto thief carrying 17 master keys which would open almost any Ford car. . . .

"The Los Angeles Police Department reports that nine recent bank robberies in the Los Angeles area were accomplished by a bandit who used General Motors master keys to steal his getaway car. . . .

"I HAVE GIVEN very careful consideration to the possibility of a federal licensing system for master key manufacturers and dealers. . . .

"The bill will prevent state licensing laws, such as the one now under consideration in California, from being circumvented by interstate traffic in master keys. . . .

"I ask . . . consent to have printed in the Record an editorial from the San Francisco Examiner . . ." (The condensed editorial follows).

FOR A TOTAL expenditure of $11 the criminal can equip himself with keys unlocking almost any car of American manufacture. At still less cost he can have the key to any home in the country, and to any door.

The purchase and sale of such keys involve no broken laws. Similarly, the reproduction of keys may be accomplished cheaply and legally in numerous shops.

Disturbed citizens may well wonder why locksmiths and key makers are not regulated and licensed, and required to register both keys and buyers; as in the case of small arms dealers. They should be; but with full awareness that there would be only partial answer at best to the problem in this. Criminals subvert most laws; and are mainly deterred by law, not circumvented.

WE HAVE laws penalizing owners for leaving keys in cars on the street—useful in keeping juveniles out of temptation's way. But these laws are useless against the professional thief who can open a car as easily as its owner. It is preposterous that $3 can buy the key giving a criminal possession of an automobile for which the owner has paid thousands of dollars.

Final responsibility here rests on the car makers, not key makers. Automobile manufacturers every year, probably daily, solve greater problems than the development of a lock that only the owner can manipulate. . . .

Grossroots Comment

The automobile manufacturers should give some serious thought to the master-key problem.

The states should give some serious thought to a law to deter the car thief from procuring a master key.

Apathy on the part of the automobile manufacturers and the state's lawmakers will only invite another federal law.—J.C.

Two of the newest books in our library can be classified under the heading of "painless biography," being novels based on the lives of real people. Irving Stone is the acknowledged master of this kind of writing, having turned out in recent years such best-sellers as SAILOR ON HORSEBACK (Jack London), ADVERSARY IN THE HOUSE (Eugene Debs), LUST FOR LIFE (Vincent Van Gough), IMMORTAL WIFE (Jessie Benton Freemont), PRESIDENT'S LADY (Andrew and Rachel Jackson), LOVE IS ETERNAL (Abraham and Mary Lincoln), and THE AGONY AND THE ECSTASY (Michelangelo).

In his newest biographical novel, Mr. Stone for the third time has invaded the privacy of a President of the United States. THOSE WHO LOVE, current choice of the Literary Guild, deals with the married life of our second President, John Adams, and his wife, Abigail Smith. Born into one of the most exciting periods of time on this continent, John Adams played an important part in the colonial fight for freedom and in the development and growth of the new nation.

BECAUSE OF HIS active participation in public affairs, he was away from home a good deal of the time, and so the responsibility of running the home and rearing their children fell almost exclusively on Abigail. That one of these children, John Quincy Adams, became the sixth President of the United States is as much to the credit of his mother's guidance and inspiration as it is to his father's example as a statesman and patriot.

Before becoming President, John Adams served as a representative in the Continental Congress, as a commissioner to France, and later as ambassador to the ill-fated Court of King Louis XVI and his Queen, Marie Antoinette. He also served as our country's first ambassador to the Court of St. James in London.

Grapes give hint of future

HAYDEN PEARSON

Wild grapes are ripe and the clusters glow like blue pearls in golden October sunlight. Along walls and fences, on swamp maples in the lowlands and high in trees on the south side of upland woodlots, the colored fruit paints a picture. Sometimes the long, trailing vines mass among sumacs.

Wild grapes are a link with ancient history. It was the abundance of wild grapes that caused Leif Erickson to name the North Atlantic coastline Vineland. Daniel Boone, according to legend, swung himself across a river on a strong vine and escaped the Indians. Men and women in population centers remember bracing autumn days when they picked grapes and mothers made wild grape jelly.

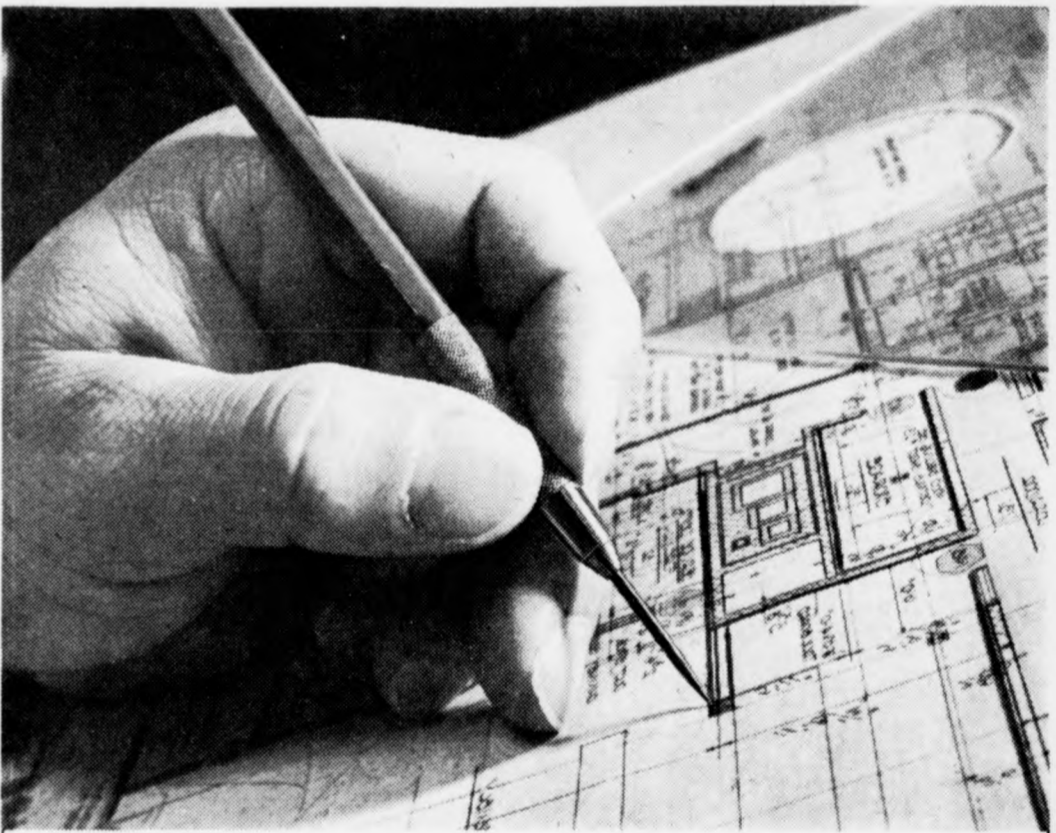

WILDLIFE appreciates Nature's bounty. Ruffed grouse, pheasants and wild turkey eat the grapes. Bear, deer and opossum like the fruit in their diet. The red fox enjoys them. Sometimes in the fall, flocks of cedar waxwings congregate on a vine and make a meal.

Walk a quiet, sunlit country road on a warm day and you may savor the tangy-sweet fragrance of the grapes. It is especially noticeable after the first light frost crinkles the leaves. The clusters shine among the limp foliage and the fragrance is an integral part of autumn.

THERE is remembrance of summer and a hint of the season ahead. When a man picks a paulownia at the edge of the woodland, he knows that while enjoying a part of October's beauty he is gathering a harvest that on a white day in winter will bring back autumn in a glass jar.

Farm Bureau elects 6 new directors at annual meeting

The Clinton County Farm Bureau elected six directors last Tuesday night at an annual meeting cut short by the death of Charles F. Openlander as he was receiving a distinguished service award.

The names of the elected directors were never announced to the members at the meeting. It was adjourned shortly after Mr. Openlander collapsed and died on the stage.

The directors elected were:

BATH-DeWITT district, Robert Zeeb over Kenneth Geisenhaver 100-75; Bengal - Riley, James Becker over Robert Murton 112-54; Eagle - Watertown, Lawrence Maier over Richard Noble 102-66; Duplain-Greenbush, Andrew Cobb over Eugene Havens 100-71; Ovid-Victor, Lee Ormston over Mervin Chamberlain 108-51; and director at large, Glen C. Whitford over LaVern Silm 90-76.

Cancelled by the death of Mr. Openlander and the shortened meeting were the crowning of Miss Jean Wright as county Farm Bureau Queen and the election of delegates to the Michigan Farm Bureau annual meeting by members. FB President E. J. Bottum said Miss Wright will compete in the state contest, anyway, and the board of directors will elect the delegates, since they do have this right.

AN ESTIMATED 250 persons attended the 92nd annual meeting last Tuesday evening at Smith Hall. It started with a banquet at 7:30 p.m., with the business meeting being called to order at about 8:30 by President Bottum.

Sandra Dershem provided entertainment with several vocal numbers following the regular opening order of business. Secretary Mrs. Marilyn Knight reported a total membership of 1,425 families at the end of the fiscal year Aug. 31, about 97 percent of the county's goal for 1965 of 1,461.

MEMBERSHIP changes by township during the last year are as follows: Bath, down 6 to 56; Bengal, down 7 to 91; Bingham, down 2 to 163; Dallas, down 6 to 116; DeWitt, up 4 to 80; Duplain, up 2 to 73; Eagle, down 3 to 89; Essex, up 3 to 90; Greenbush, up 8 to 83; Lebanon, down 2 to 68; Olive, no change at 74; Riley, down 5 to 68; Ovid, down 7 to 108; Victor, down 8 to 45; Watertown, down 9 to 115; and Westphalia, up 5 to 104.

At the end of the year there were 30 active community groups in the county, Mrs. Knight said.

The membership approved 16 to 18 resolutions offered by the resolutions committee, consisting of Ernest Carter, Gerald Pohl, James Becker, William Brook, Keith Wright, Stanley Baird and Francis Dershem. In brief, the resolutions called for:

USE OF FARM products in foreign aid rather than money; more realistic safe tolerance levels of pesticides and insecticides; more intensive bargaining for farmers to acquire a larger, fairer percentage of the consumer food dollar; maintenance by the government on the tariff of all agricultural goods imported; more and better enforcement of noxious weed cutting;

A thorough study of the Class I base plan regarding surplus milk; opposition to the MEA resolution urging that school taxes be paid twice a year; stricter enforcement of driver tests and safety inspection of vehicles; state fiscal reform including relief of personal and property taxes; more strict enforcement of litter laws and that other punishment besides fines be considered;

ENACTMENT OF laws to prevent the manufacture of glass "throw away" bottles; a delay in reapportioning local boards of supervisors on a strictly population basis; business and industry cooperation with the Extension department to promote trade schools to curb dropouts; and better enforcement in preventing drag racing on public highways in the county.

Countless sapphires, topazes and rubies probably surrounded you last summer without your realizing their presence. Buried treasure or pirates' loot? No. The gems—tiny ones, it's true—are among the more than 30 minerals that make up common beach sand.

Honor guest's death casts gloom at meet

Charles F. Openlander, 81, died of a heart attack last Tuesday evening as he was accepting an Award for Distinguished Service to Clinton County Agriculture at the annual Farm Bureau meeting.

Mr. Openlander had been speaking informally to the members of Farm Bureau for between five and 10 minutes, reminiscing about his experiences in Farm Bureau work. He suddenly collapsed. On the stage with him was Mrs. Openlander.

MINUTES before, he had received a plaque award from E. J. Bottum, president of the Clinton County Farm Bureau. Dan Reed, legislative counsel for the Michigan Farm Bureau, had preceded that with reminiscences of his own about Openlander, whom he termed "an old friend."

His death stunned the crowd of about 200 persons still on hand at the meeting, and the session was adjourned with a prayer by District Director David Morris after Mr. Openlander had been removed by ambulance.

BOTTUM released this statement Monday: "I would like to express my appreciation to the members for their concern in the death of Mr. Openlander and their understanding in our closing the meeting before all business was taken care of."

The statement was released on behalf of the board of directors.

MR. OPENLANDER'S early schooling was at Watertown Central School, which still stands but

Ag conservation program includes beautification

The 1966 Agricultural Conservation Program will include new beautification - conservation practices, according to Frank Light, chairman of the Michigan ASCS Committee.

County ACP Development groups will meet in November to formulate their local programs. Such practices may include the establishment of protective vegetative cover, grasses, legumes, trees or shrubs and perennial flowers.

WATER impoundments, structures to control erosion and runoff, the establishment of vegetative cover to provide habitat, food or shelter for wildlife and other practices which provide substantial soil and water conservation benefits and which enhance the appearance in the area are also included.

Light said many of the soil and water conservation practices carried out since 1936 under the ACP (such as trees, shrubs, wind breaks, ponds and vegetative cover) have beautified the countryside.

Today's miser is anyone who can live within his income. reau, he found time to be choir director of the Wacousta Community Church, of which he was a member; treasurer of the church for 38 years, and school director for 30 years. He was a past master and life member of the Wacousta Masonic Lodge, and a member and past patron of the Wacousta Eastern Star.

Additional obituary information can be found under "Clinton Area Deaths" in Section A of this week's Clinton County News.

Being alert for farm fires can save farm

Every week should be fire prevention week on the farm. And, expensive, special equipment isn't necessary to put out a farm fire. But, it is important to have necessary equipment available and in working order in case of fire.

In the event of fire, call the fire department and your neighbors immediately. Don't wait for help to arrive. Go to work with your own equipment. Delay increases the chances of a fire getting out of control.

SPECIALISTS in rural defense at Michigan State University report that water is still the best fire control weapon. You should always have plenty on hand. They advise locating a barrel of water near the house, one near each small building and one by the barn entrance. Buckets should be submerged in the barrels so they are handy at the time of the fire.

Automatic water systems should be operated by an electric circuit independent of building wiring.

OF COURSE, water will not put out all types of fires. Commercial chemical fire extinguishers of carbon dioxide or dry powder are best on liquid fuel and electrical fires. Dry-powder extinguishers are especially good for gasoline blazes and should be carried on all motorized equipment.

Wet mops, brooms and burlap bags are excellent for beating out grass and brush fires. Garden hose, hand pump garden sprayers, an orchard sprayer mounted on a tractor, water buckets and barrels of sand and sawdust mixed with baking soda are excellent for extinguishing building and farm machinery fires.

A TRACTOR and plow can throw a fire break around buildings. A short-handled shovel to throw dirt on fires in farm equipment is also an excellent fire fighting tool. One should be carried on all motorized equipment for safety.

Ladders should be quickly available for fighting fires and rescuing trapped persons. Even considering the possibility of a fire can be a big help in an emergency.

MISS JEAN WRIGHT
Miss Jean Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Wright, has been selected as Clinton County Farm Bureau Queen and will represent the county in the Michigan Farm Bureau Queen Contest at Kellogg Center, MSU, Nov. 10 during the state annual meeting of Farm Bureau. Miss Wright graduated from beauty college in Mount Pleasant in 1964 and is now working at the Hair Fashion Center in Midland.

Black walnut trees valuable

Plant black walnuts now and you will receive the blessings of your children who will use this valuable crop.

Plenty of seed nuts are available. You do not have to remove the husk; plant two to three inches deep.

Black walnut timber is the most valuable wood we grow, says Elton Tworck, area forester for the Conservation Department. Woods-grown trees of good quality are bringing as much as a dollar a board foot as standing trees. Trees grown in fence rows and door - yards do not usually bring so much because the buyer has to take the risk of finding metal embedded in the trees. Such trees cannot be used for producing the high-value veneer.

THE FUTURE volume and quality of wood in trees now growing in fence rows or other open areas can be improved by cutting off the lower branches to a height of 12 feet or more. This can best be done when the trunk is from four to six inches in diameter.

Traveling with children doesn't have to be complicated. You need to take special precautions, though—like inside locks that keep children from suddenly opening the car doors. If these aren't standard equipment on your car, you can buy inexpensive key-locks that fit over the window frames. They accomplish the same purpose, they're easy to install, and they don't interfere with the door mechanism.

ASC PROGRAM

Any '66 wheat program signup to be next spring

Due to the prolonged wet weather many wheat producers are asking "What will happen to my wheat history if I do not plant any wheat this year?" As of this date the wheat program for 1966 has not been released. I understand both the House of Representatives and Senate Agricultural Committees have agreed on a wheat program and are working on other parts of the farm bill.

There is a possibility that under-planting or over-planting your 1966 wheat allotment will have no effect on the wheat history credit for the program year of 1966. This is a change from procedures used before the 1965 crop year. Prior to 1965 wheat producers who over-planted their allotment lost history credit, in many cases as much as 8 to 10 per cent of their allotment; this began with the crop year of 1959.

MANY WHEAT producers over-planted their wheat allotment in 1964 or failed to report their wheat acreage. This year

New 1965 farm bill

Frank Light, chairman of the Michigan Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, was called to Washington, D.C. last week for a farm program policy review and an in-depth study of the recently passed farm bill.

"The new farm bill is the most far-reaching and important farm legislation since 1938. The bill has eight titles, covering all major agricultural crops and dairying," Light said.

THE DAIRY section of the bill allows the establishment of a Class I base plan if approved by referendum. This program would reduce surplus dairy production, while maintaining or increasing the dairy farmer's income.

The feed grain program will be

New Signs Go Up for City of DeWitt

Municipal maintenance man Carroll Ward of DeWitt puts up a new sign at the east edge of the city limits, signifying that DeWitt is now a city, not a village. The back side of the top sign tells those leaving town "Thank you. Drive safely."

W. M. SMITH
County ASC Manager

If you participated in the 1965 programs and have not received your payment, please come to the county office and check the reason why.

Another question we are asked many times is "Is there going to be a wheat diversion program in 1966?" We anticipate there will be, with a signup next spring the same time as feed grain signup, so wheat producers who don't plant wheat and wish to divert acreage may; this was in the proposed wheat program.

I WISH I HAD more information on the new program at this time; however, I will pass wheat program information along to you as soon as we receive it.

We have a few wheat and feed grain producers participating in the 1965 program who have not signed their certification of performance. These producers must sign their certification before we can make payment to them.

extended for four years, for price support loans and purchases to program participants at about the same levels as recent years. Farmers, by diverting acreage from feed grain production to conservation uses, would receive, as in the past, payments in kind to help maintain income.

THE VOLUNTARY wheat certificate program will be continued for four years, with modifications which are aimed at boosting income to wheat producers by about $200 million nationally each year. The significant change from current operations would provide for wheat used domestically as food at 100 per cent of parity, and a variable export certificate to supplement wheat farmer's income. Both the feed grain and wheat programs will be on a projected yield basis. If Michigan wheat producers maintain the same production in 1966 as in 1965, the new bill would increase their income by about $10,000,000.

Light also stated that the new provision of the bill, called cropland adjustment, will authorize the secretary of agriculture to enter into 5- to 10-year contracts with farmers to convert their cropland into conserving uses during the next four years. It is expected that about 8 million acres per year would be added to this program until it reaches its peak participation of 40 million acres in 1970.

Within a short time, farmers can learn the complete details of the new farm bill from their local ASCS county office.

More people are active in the hunting and fishing sports than participate in any other participation sport.

AGRICULTURE in ACTION

By M. L. Woell
MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

Concerned about an apparent lack of public understanding about farm problems, a group of Michigan farm women have set out in serious fashion to do something about it. They have established a committee on "Public Information and Understanding"—bearing the unlikely combination of "PIU" for short, and have set about correcting the difficulties in rural-urban communications. In doing so they emphasize the importance such communications play in modern life and the tremendous costs we all pay when they break down.

Sensibly, the ladies compare the breakdown of the communications between minority groups, which includes modern agriculture, and the rest of the "consuming public"—to the kind of dispute which happens within families.

THERE, ON the surface, a wife may complain about a certain attitude or activity of her husband, not realizing that he is really taking this method to complain about something else. Yet neither person is aware of the true nature of the complaint. The wife, as she appears to herself, is saying one thing; as she appears to her husband, she is saying another; and all the while, she is expressing some different and possibly deeper grievance locked securely within her subconscious.

Now apply this to agriculture—to farm programs and the price of food. The housewife has better food available to her at a lower cost (19 cents out of each "spendable" dollar) than at any time in history. Basically, she knows this.

YET SHE IS confused and frustrated by what she reads about farm programs and agricultural subsidies. She knows that the new farm bill just pushed through Congress by the Johnson administration carries a fantastically high price tag—more than $18 billion. She suspects that in taxes she is paying for many dollars worth of food each year which goes into federal storage and which she is not allowed to carry home.

Without realizing how strongly farmers themselves oppose such politically oriented "farm programs," the housewife may blame agriculture. Even as she knows better, the complaint is expressed, "Food costs too much."

Correcting such impressions, no matter how gained, will be the task of the PIU Committees in every county.

Pigs may need more Vitamin D

Recent studies indicate that a pig fed a soybean protein source requires five times more vitamin D in its diet than a pig fed a casein (milk) protein source.

And further research showed that pigs which received a ration that was 40 per cent isolated soy protein had weakened bones—a condition which could not be overcome by increased dietary vitamin D.

THE LATEST experiment, conducted by Michigan State University livestock researchers, did not contradict the first study which showed a need for increased levels of vitamin D. It does suggest, however, that pigs may need something besides vitamin D to strengthen their bones.

This research was reported by MSU scientists D. G. Hendricks, E. R. Miller, D. E. Uilrey, B. E. Brent, J.A. Hoefler and R. W. Luecke.

The scientists plan further studies to test relationships between various nutrients and to test their effects on baby pigs.

Social security youth benefits good for college

Many students who receive social security benefits as the children of retired, disabled, or deceased workers can continue to get the payments after age 18 if they are attending school full time, W. Scott Hamlin, social security district manager in Lansing, announced this week.

Under this new provision, contained in the 1965 amendments to the social security law, students can continue to receive monthly benefits until they reach 22 or complete their education, which-

STUDENTS WHOSE benefits were stopped when they reached 18 and who are continuing their education as full-time students will have to file a new application in order to have their payments started again. Benefit payments can be made retroactive to January 1965.

Young adults who take a full-time vocational course, as well as those going to high school or college full-time, are covered by this provision, Hamlin stated.

In addition to benefits during the school year, payment can continue during a vacation period of up to four continuous months, if the student will be returning to school afterwards.

HAMLIN suggested that anyone having questions about this new provision write or phone the Lansing social security office, located in Room 201 of the Federal Building, 216 Townsend Street.

Mail volume surge reflects economy

Mail volume, a traditional barometer of economic strength, surged far beyond expectations during the past summer, under the stimulus of a strong national economy, the Post Office Department reported recently. Here are highlights, based on expert estimates:

1) For the first two accounting periods this summer, from mid-June to mid-August, mail volume jumped 5.1 per cent over a comparable period last year.

2) The 5.1 per cent increase was almost twice as much as a 2.7 per cent increase previously forecast by Department experts.

3) THE APPROXIMATE 5 per cent increase was uniform in major mail categories - letters, newspapers and periodicals, advertising matter - reflecting uniformity of strength in many sectors of the national economy.

4) Mail volume for the two accounting periods of four weeks each rose from 9,521,117,000 pieces for last year to 10,003,028,000 pieces this summer.

5) Revenue this past summer was $627,301,000 for the two periods compared with $594,342,000 last year, an increase of nearly $33 million and $8 million more than anticipated earlier by expert projections.

HISTORY HAS demonstrated the validity of mail volume as a barometer of economic strength. In 1929, before the depression, for example, mail volume was nearly 28 billion pieces. It dropped steadily to 19.8 billion pieces in 1933, setting back the clock on mail volume to pre-World War I days.

A report from the department's Bureau of Finance and Administration on the mail volume increase stated: "Instead of tapering off, as had been expected, the recovery seemed to gain renewed strength this summer. Sustained economic gains and the more optimistic tone that pervades spending plans have pushed mail volume and revenues well ahead of forecasts."

THE DEPARTMENT pointed out that the increase in mail volume was not caused by any seasonal factors, and, in most years, it noted, the period is on the dull side because it occurs at the height of the vacation season.

The comparison between the summer periods in '64 and '65, however, is particularly noteworthy because mail volume last summer was at an exceptionally high level due to the mail generated all over the nation by election campaigns.

P-W students attend conference

PEWAMO - WESTPHALIA - Junior and senior members of the Pewamo - Westphalia Student Council and advisors Mrs Estelle Geller and Chester Cesarani went to Ann Arbor for the 20th annual Student Council Conference at the University of Michigan Oct. 4.

They participated in a general assembly upon arrival on campus. Guest speaker was Prof. Neil Lamper of Western Michigan University, whose topic was "The Self Concept." After a luncheon the student representatives took part in one of five clinic sessions.

The fellow who bubbles over with enthusiasm in his chosen work is bound to succeed if his enthusiasm isn't all bubbles.

N.F.O.

Many people wonder what will happen after N.F.O. secures contract prices for the farmers' products. Will everyone jump into farming bigger and thereby produce much more than can be used? We doubt it very much. If you can set your farm on end like a book and farm both sides you could possibly double your production. Or you can buy more land and increase your production. But then you are just taking another farmer's production and adding it to your own. Just look around and see how many boys under 35 are farming. Not very many are there? How many of the older farmers will be physically able to expand production? The majority of them would rather think of cutting back and not have to work so hard. When you see someone expanding his production it just means that his gross return is not large enough to cover his expenses. He is not doing it because he wants to do more work.

Recently the New York Times published an article about research work done by Southwest Research Institute at San Antonio, Texas. They tested a 25% mixture of grain alcohol with gas and found that it would reduce the unburned hydrocarbon emission (smog producing gases) approximately 50%. In the course of its study, Southwest Research Institute wizards devised a new concept in auto motors, one that will increase compression and efficiency by as much as 50%, and make better use of the alcohol-gasoline fuel. Major car companies are seeking rights to mass-produce the motor.

We burn 60 billion gallons of gas every year in the U.S. At a 25% alcohol-gasoline blend we would have to produce 5 billion bushels of grain each year for just that purpose.

With cities and roads taking thousands of acres out of production every year, with the alcohol-gasoline mixture and increasing population you can see that farmers will soon be hard pressed to produce enough for the nation's needs.

That also explains why the big-money interests are so busy trying to rid America of the family farmers and N.F.O. They want this lucrative agriculture business for themselves. Our farm boys are seeking employment elsewhere. For 7c a day you can join N.F.O. and make it possible for your son to continue farming.

Basement of New Bath Baptist Church Taking Shape

Workmen were making good headway Friday on the foundation walls for the new Bath Baptist Church. The $90,000 church, which will be 50 by 92 feet in size, is being constructed immediately north and east of the present church. The basement part of the church will have rooms for Sunday school and a small fellowship hall.

Wildcat bankers located in swamps to discourage redemption of notes

Wildcat bank promoters in the early history of Michigan frequently located their banks in swamps and forests to keep from redeeming their own notes.

They did this, reports Dr James Van Horne, assistant professor of financial administration at Michigan State University, because they did not have the funds to back up the notes.

"CAPITAL WAS inadequate; specie (coin) to redeem notes was either limited or non-existent; and loans were extremely risky," says Dr Van Horne.

Dr Van Horne tells the history of Michigan banking in a recent issue of the Michigan Economic Record, a publication of MSU's Bureau of Business and Economic Research.

Michigan today, he notes, has a sound banking system composed of more than 1,000 banks or branches with deposits of over $11 billion and total capital of nearly $900 million. But over the past 158 years, he adds, Michigan banking "has been as turbulent and exciting as that of any state."

AFTER MICHIGAN became a state in 1827, a "free" banking law was enacted to encourage banking competition. The easy law, Dr Van Horne reports, ushered in an era of "wildcat banking" with only modest restriction.

Fast-moving promoters obtained charters and located banks in inaccessible places. Representatives of the banks then went out and made purchases of land and materials with the bank's own worthless notes, supposedly to bolster commerce.

AFTER NOTE holders had trouble passing the notes, they had to find the bank and try to recover their money.

A tale of how a traveler discovered a bank in a Shlawassee County woods is quoted by Dr Van Horne.

"Toward night on an early June day," according to this tale, "he (the traveler) came upon a fork in the road and was uncertain which track to take.

"... HE HAD NOT proceeded far, when in a little clearing before him loomed up a large frame structure, across the front of which was a conspicuous sign, 'Bank of Shlawassee.' It was one of the wild-cats quartered in the native haunts of that animal, the depths of the forest."

All but four of the 49 banks established in 1837 and 1838 under the free banking law, Dr Van Horne comments, collapsed by the end of 1839. The law was declared unconstitutional in 1844 by the Michigan Supreme Court.

THE ATTITUDE of the holders of the worthless notes was reflected in the constitution of 1850 when severe limitations were placed upon the banking system.

Shortly after the Civil War, Dr Van Horne reports, state banking notes rapidly vanished when the Congress imposed a 10 per cent tax on circulating issues.

The most serious setback since the mid 1850s, Dr Van Horne said, occurred in the depression of the 1930s. A bank holiday was declared in 1933, causing many banks to close permanently.

SINCE 1940, the number of state banks has decreased moderately, while national banks have increased slightly in number.

One of the most recent significant developments, according to Dr Van Horne, is the large increase in the number of branch banks after World War II.

The total number of branches, he reports, went from 179 in 1945 to 671 in 1962, reflecting in part the growth of the suburbs.

Start of life?

Earth and the other planets may have started their existence with a rich endowment of chemically produced organic material from which life could develop. Scientists from the University of Chicago and Argonne National Laboratory believe that the complex organic substances occurring in some meteorites may have been created naturally and spontaneously at the time the earth was formed.

Too, too cold

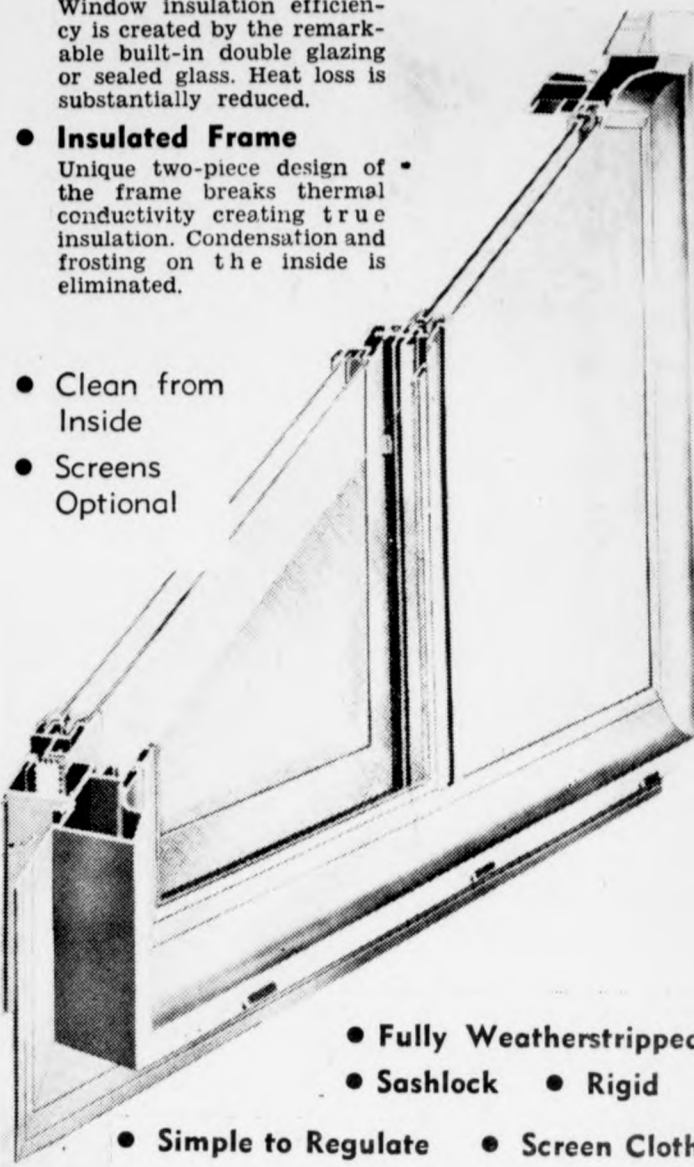

Mercury, which freezes at a temperature of -38 degrees F., is inadequate for thermometers used to measure temperatures in the super-cold field of cryogenics. Ice would even be considered hot when compared to cryogenic temperatures. Liquid nitrogen, for example, has a temperature of -320 degrees, F.

Knowing how to phone for help is a life-death matter

The telephone is often the fastest and most reliable method of calling for help in an emergency. Yet a surprising number of people panic when they attempt a call in an emergency.

"EVERYONE should post emergency phone numbers near the telephone. A list of the four points to remember in case you momentarily 'black-out' during a call is very helpful," Bollwahn continued. "These include: What happened? What is needed? Who are you? Where are you?"

TELL WHERE you are. Give the street number and the name of the street or road. Then repeat it, Bollwahn emphasized. A brief description of the house is helpful, especially at night.

THE RURAL defense coordinator also emphasizes that children should be taught to dial operator and to operate a play telephone. A dime should be taped in a known place, and children should be taught to reach a pay telephone, insert a dime, and call the operator. Young children should memorize their names, father's name, and address.

In an emergency, be sure to tell what happened. Is your house on fire? Is someone bleeding badly? Has someone had a heart attack?

Tell who you are. This is important when the emergency is not obvious from the outside, especially if a multi-family dwelling is involved. If a neighbor is asked for directions, he will be more likely to recognize your name than your house number.

"Aid in an emergency is as close as the nearest telephone, but you must know how to locate the number, place the call quickly, and then report the difficulty without panic or confusion. It may save a life," Bollwahn concludes.

new nation's first election, which resulted in his choice as the first vice president of the United States.

Following George Washington's second term, John Adams became President himself, and Abigail Adams found herself the first First Lady in the half-completed, barely habitable White House. After a hectic term as President, John Adams retired to private life in the family home in Massachusetts, and for the first time in their married life Abigail could be with her beloved husband as much as she wanted.

By Hila Bross

FRANK SLAUGHTER'S latest biographical novel deals with a vastly different period in time. CONSTANTINE, THE MIRACLE OF THE FLAMING CROSS is the story of the Roman emperor of that name, who is credited with christianizing the Roman Empire in the fourth century.

Surrounded by Christians who are members of his extensive menage, Constantine finds himself strangely influenced by their philosophy of love and good will. Gradually he forsakes the persecution of Christians, practiced with such cruelty by his predecessors. The decisive factor in his change comes when he sees the sign of the cross in the sky and a banner emblazoned with the words, "In this sign conquer."

IN SPITE of his growing Christian convictions, however, Constantine continues to give lip service to the Roman gods and sinks to sin in both private and public matters, even taking part in the execution of his son and the murder of his second wife. He does not submit to baptism until just before his death.

Two of his most important acts are the founding of the city of Constantinople and the calling of the first ecumenical council.

Deadline nears for applications

State Representative Blair G. Woodman (R-Owsos) is alerting high school seniors in his district that the deadline for registration to be eligible for a state college scholarship is Oct. 31.

Woodman said, "Unfortunately every year these deadlines go by and students who might qualify miss out," Woodman said. "There are almost 6,000 scholarships available for the next academic year, 1966-67, and I want to make sure all high school seniors have a chance to apply."

"TO APPLY," Woodman said, "students should:

- 1) Obtain a State of Michigan Competitive Scholarship registration form from their high schools;
- 2) Mail self-addressed envelope, the registration form and a $1.50 fee by Oct. 31, 1965, according to the registration instructions;
- 3) Take the State Competitive Scholarship examination at 8 a.m., Saturday, Nov. 20 at the assigned center."

Woodman indicated that high school offices should have all the necessary details available, but that in case they don't, interested students should write the Michigan Higher Education Assistance Authority, 700 Prudden Building, Lansing.
