Grange backs income tax

The Michigan State Grange wrapped up a busy 92nd session in St. Johns Saturday, passing on to state and national legislators recommendations for a state income tax and the return of foreign agricultural labor.

An estimated 450 Grange delegates were on hand at times during the final two days of the state convention when a long list of resolutions were acted on by the delegate body.

THE INCOME tax proposal was approved with the reservation that such a tax would provide for the deduction of local property taxes and that 50 per cent of the revenue would be earmarked for schools.

In another tax matter, the Grange asked for the removal of the state sales tax on all food items except beer.

Noting that Michigan agriculture suffered heavily during the harvest season this year because of a lack of domestic labor, the Grange recommended that Public Act 78 be re-enacted so that foreign agricultural labor would be available again.

IN OTHER business of the state session, three members of the seven-man executive board of the Michigan State Grange were re-elected. They were Merrill Eady of Grant, Harold Brooks of Clare and Clark Most of Alanson. The delegates decided to hold next year's state session at Allegan after considering several invitations.

But all was not work at the convention. There were several rounds of banquets, including the annual Grange Banquet at Smith Hall last Wednesday night where about 380 persons heard Kansas State Grange Master James Ing-wersen speak. Community progress and other awards were also made there.

THERE were entertainment and speeches spread liberally throughout the agenda for the five-day convention, which opened unofficially last Tuesday, Oct. 19. Saturday, the final day, was turned over to the youth, in part, and they held a safe driving contest and took special parts in the other events of the day. Saturday night was the youth banquet at St. Joseph School hall and later the naming of the Grange Cinderella.

3 school districts join Lansing

Three southern Clinton school districts voted overwhelmingly Monday to annex to the Lansing School District.

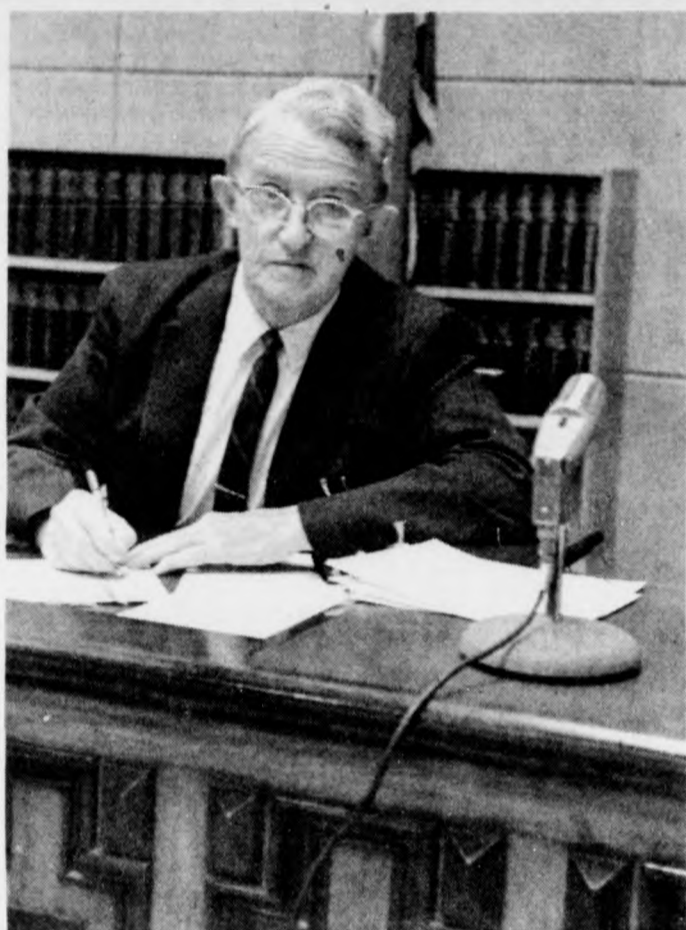

Separate elections were held in the Gunnisonville, Hurd and Valley Farms districts.

The biggest wave of annexation support was in Valley Farms, where the vote was 284 to 38 in favor of annexation. In Gunnisonville, the vote was 215 to 27, with four spoiled ballots.

THE HURD district voted to join the Lansing schools, too, by a 2-1 margin. The final vote was 164 in favor and 81 against, with one spoiled ballot. Hurd also had a ballot for assuming the bonded indebtedness of the Lansing district for a school library. The vote was 155-76 on that measure.

Only Hurd had the indebtedness ballot. Morrell Hatt, secretary of the Hurd school board, explained it was because Hurd had no debt of its own. The other two districts (Gunnisonville and Valley Farms) had some debt. He said the debt assumed by Hurd amounts to only about one-third of a mill.

Glenn Whitman, circuit court reporter for 40 years, looks up from some paperwork Monday morning prior to the opening of court. He will retire Nov. 1.

Glenn Whitman, 'part of circuit court' 40 years, retires Monday

"It will just seem like a part of circuit court will be gone when he goes."

That's the general feeling of the Clinton County courthouse staff over the retirement at the end of this week of Glenn Whitman, court reporter for the Clinton-Gratiot Circuit District since 1925.

As impartial witness to thousands of courtroom dramas over a span of four circuit judges, Whitman has been exposed to most all of life's emotions—sorrow, happiness, hatred and love.

THROUGH IT all he has maintained a subtle sense of humor, and he enjoys recalling the humorous incidents included in the millions of words he has recorded.

For instance, there was the story about the woman, who on the witness stand had trouble judging distances. As Whitman relates, "The tall prosecutor finally turned to the distant judge and said, 'Judge, how far would you say it is from where you are to my feet?' The judge replied, 'That depends on whether it's the front or the back of your foot.'"

AS RECORDER of all words spoken in the courtroom, Whitman estimates that in a full day of steady work he writes 35,000 to 40,000 words. He is an expert in shorthand and has combined several methods into his own style.

"I write what was originally known as the Isaac Pitman shorthand taken from England," Whitman explained. "However, I have studied several American adaptations of this system and have taken my choice of their ideas."

TO master sufficient speed requires hours of practice, according to Whitman. And, unlike in his day, today there are special schools for building speed for court reporting.

"I never had the misfortune of becoming so interested in a case that I stopped writing and listening," Whitman reports. It has happened other places, he says.

Advise East Ward, Central be retained

The old but dependable East Ward and Central schools in St. Johns will continue their service to the school district, at least for five years or so.

They should not be replaced during an upcoming building program of the school district, a school citizens' committee recommended last Thursday night.

The school board has indicated it would follow the recommendation.

Not all of the 10 discussion groups into which the committee was divided agreed to waiting on replacement of the two buildings. Two groups voted to put the proposal up to the voters of the district at the same time as a $3 million bond issue for construction of a high school and additions and a new grade school in the rural area. Another discussion group split on their decision.

BUT SEVEN of the discussion groups said they felt the present Central and East Ward schools could be brought up to safety and other standards so that replacement at the present time would not be necessary.

There was general agreement among the members of the committee, however, that the buildings were old and probably should be replaced. The major concern was the cost coupled with the cost of the other construction contemplated. The seven discussion groups felt taxpayers would be more reluctant to go along with the whole building program if the replacements were planned now.

C. DOUGLAS Pardee, St. Johns architect and a member of the citizens' committee, estimated roughly that replacement of the two buildings would cost in the neighborhood of $750,000. The thinking of the school board and administration is that East Ward, a four-room school, should be replaced by a seven-room (kindergarten through sixth grade) building with an all-purpose room, similar to Swegles Street School. Central School would be rebuilt with 12 classrooms and an all-purpose room.

Pardee estimated the cost of replacing East Ward at $275,000 and replacing Central at $450,000. Another $25,000 would go for equipment.

ONE OF THE stated reasons for delaying the replacement of the two buildings was that in five or six years the probable increase in state equalized valuation will result in a lowering of the original 5 mills for rural and high schools by a mill or so. The present cost estimate for the replacement of Central and East Ward would result in about 1.1 mills of tax needed to pay for them. Also in five or six years the growth patterns of the schools would be more apparent, Supt. Earl Lancaster pointed out.

Of the two discussion groups favoring immediate replacement of the two buildings, one recommended placing the proposal on the same ballot with the high school-rural elementary plan; the other recommended separate ballots.

THE COMMITTEE as a whole seemed to feel the buildings, particularly were not fire traps, as

Chest drive hits 55% of goal

The Clinton County Communities Chest campaign fund swelled nearly $5,000 during the last week and stood at $16,106.10 as of Tuesday afternoon. The drive is now over half way to its $29,350 goal.

Group figures are not final yet, but this is the way they stood Tuesday: St. Johns businesses and employees, $3,428.20; St. Johns industries and employees, $8,372.40; schools, professional people and some residential returns, $2,075.60; Village of Ovid, $1,928.15; Greenbush Township $301.75.

Area captains for the residential drive in St. Johns include Mrs. Ronald Cantwell, Mrs. George Pierson, Mrs. W. F. Stephenson, Mrs. Ken Dietrich, Tim Green, Mrs. Kenneth Snider, Mrs. Robert Parker, Mrs. Larry Burns, Mrs. O. P. Estes, Mrs. Norman Peterson, Mrs. John Martin, Mrs. Julius Becker and Paul Roof.

Water use falls during September

For the first time in many months, St. Johns water usage in September dropped below the corresponding period a year ago.

Figures for the ninth month of 1965 show total pumpage of 35,157,000 gallons, compared to 36,508,000 in September 1964.

This year's September average rate per day was 1,168,567 gallons; the highest usage in one day was 1,491,000 gallons on Sept. 13, but a water main break on Clark Street was noted that day. The lowest amounts were on Sept. 4, 5 and 6 when only 930,000 gallons were pumped; on Sept. 6, however, there was a break in a six-inch main on South Swegles Street.

4-county health unit all but assured

A four-county public health department involving Clinton, Montcalm, Gratiot and Ionia counties was all but assured Monday.

Health committee members and county nurses from the four counties met in Ionia at the courthouse and expressed support for the multi-county plan. Under a recent ruling all Michigan counties are required to provide public health service.

Montcalm and Ionia County boards of supervisors have already approved funds for the department; Clinton and Gratiot have yet to do so, but their representatives indicated this would be done when the time comes.

this month looked on the plan favorably and voted to proceed with discussions up to the actual money involvement, at which time they will make a final decision on the plan.

Roy R. Manty, administrative assistant and associate commissioner for medical services from the Michigan Department of Health told those attending the steering committee meeting Monday that it will be necessary to be ready to operate the facility by June 30 in order to qualify for state aid before that time. Otherwise no aid will be received until after that date.

If plans were operable by June 30 the department would qualify for aid both before and after.

ANOTHER meeting was scheduled for Nov. 5 at St. Johns to discuss more specific plans for formation of the department. Manty is to present his recommendations for the facilities and equipment needed for operation at that time.

Manty's original recommendation was that each county set up a health service office with one designated as the head office and the others as branches. The committee, however, argued that there were more advantages to establishing one central office with branches in each county.

IF THE head office were located with a county office, the steering committee said, it would undoubtedly be located in the county seat of one of the counties involved. While this would be in the center of the particular county, it would probably be far removed from the geographic center of the four-county district.

Because of the functions the head office would have to perform in order to assure good service to all counties, the committee seemed to think it was essential that it be centrally located.

IT WAS POINTED out that both Hubbardston and Carson City are within five miles of the geographic center. A committee composed of the chairmen of the health committees of the four counties will meet Nov. 3 in Carson City to investigate the possibilities for finding a centrally-located spot near there. The committee will then report its recommendations to the steering committee at the Nov. 5 meeting.

Lester Wolverton, Ionia County Health committee chairman and acting chairman of the steering committee, reported some opposition to the plan in his county but he said his board of supervisors agreed it was best to work with the other counties.

THE PROBLEMS and expense of establishing a one-county department would be too great, the Ionia board felt.

Manty and Ruth Rosenaw represented the Michigan Department of Health at the meeting.

Members of the steering committee present were:

MONTCALM COUNTY—Supervisors Herschel Haradine, Roy Hillman, Frank Drews, Gerald Crouse, Levi Peterson, William Wilson and Roy Larson and nurses Mary Jane Lilly and Patricia Miller.

IONIA COUNTY—Supervisors Lester Wolverton, Harold Albert, Henry Tapley and Frank Sharp, nurses Norine Gallagher and Mrs. Dunning and Ionia City Clerk Gertrude Gemund, sitting in for the mayor of Ionia. Truck Collision On Hollister Road Kills Area Man

This overturned soft drink truck and the county road Commission truck in the background collided on Hollister Road last Wednesday morning, and the county driver Ervin Hill, was killed when he was pinned beneath the truck and asphalt it was carrying. County road employee 8th county traffic victim

A Clinton County Road Commission truck driver became the county's eighth traffic accident victim of 1965 last Wednesday morning when he died under his truck.

It and a Coca Cola truck collided on rainswept Hollister Road north of Colony Road about 10:45 a.m. Both trucks overturned.

Dead at the scene was Erwin Hill, 62, of Ranger Road, R-1, Ashley.

TONY W. ALLEN, 23, of Flint, driver of the Coca Cola truck, suffered minor cuts and bruises and was treated at Clinton Memorial Hospital, where he was taken by ambulance. Clarence Thompson, 66, of Maple Rapids, riding with Hill, escaped injury.

'Need a new charter?' government class asks; 'Possibly,' city replies

There was some talk about a new city charter for St. Johns at the city commission meeting last Tuesday night, and commissioners even requested a list of appropriate changes that should be made.

The discussion followed the introduction of a letter to Mayor Jack Smit from the senior government class at St. Johns High School. The letter questioned how up-to-date the present charter is, particularly asking whether the new state constitution had made it obsolete.

CITY MANAGER Ken Greer and City Atty. Harold Reed pointed out that amendments to the charter have to be approved by the voters. In the event a new charter is wanted, a charter commission would have to be elected and that group would draw up a new document and present it to the people.

The latest printed charter for

According to the sheriff's department report on the accident, Hill was backing his truck along the right edge of the highway preparatory to going into a driveway.

ALLEN REPORTEDLY told Deputy Sheriffs Hilary Hafner and

Richard May he saw the county truck ahead, looked in his rear view mirror to see if it was clear to pass and when he looked ahead again he was almost on the truck.

He reportedly swerved to go around, but hit the left rear of the county truck. Both trucks overturned. Hill was apparently thrown out and the truck overturned on him.

St. Johns was dated 1954, it was reported. The charter was passed in 1903 and has had eight amendments to it since then.

COMMISSIONER Charles Coletta said he would not be opposed to naming a charter commission. Reed commented he thought the present charter was too detailed, that any new one should be in general terms, with the details to be made by ordinance.

Coletta asked that Reed and Greer confer on what parts of the charter should be changed. He suggested that if there were a lot of changes it would show the need for a new charter; if there were only a few changes recommended, these could be made by amendments.

Greer was also instructed to write the senior government class expressing appreciation of the commission for the interest of the class in the situation.

A PARTIAL load of asphalt in the county truck was piled and scattered over the road, and it had to be scraped up. The accident occurred in front of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. pipeline service center.

Obituary information concerning Mr Hill's death can be found on Page 6-A.

Ask better lighting at hospital

A study of the street lighting situation in the vicinity of Clinton Memorial Hospital and across town at the new water treatment plant was authorized by the city commission of St. Johns last Tuesday night.

The hospital area study will be made at the request of Harold Reed, administrator of the hospital. Consumers Power Co. has been asked to make the study and present their recommendations concerning lighting.

In other miscellaneous business transacted by the commission last Tuesday:

-A CLAIM for $10 from D. L. Wakefield of 708 Spring Street was referred to the city's insurance company. The claim was for towing. Wakefield said he had to have his car towed from a mud-hole at the city park athletic field parking area the night of the Greenville football game Sept. 24.

-First reading of Ordinance No. 189, vacating a portion of Swegles Street between Railroad Street and the Grand Trunk Railroad, was made.

-The first quarterly report of Ken Greer, as coordinator of the city urban renewal program, was accepted.

-BILLS FOR $125.83 for one unit of benefit were authorized to be sent to the properties at 110 W. Steel Street and 200 W. Steel Street, properties involved in a recent dispute over special assessments for a water main put in up Steel Street.

-Commissioner Ray Kentfield asked for discussion at the Nov. 2 meeting concerning housing plans for senior citizens.

HUNTING ACCIDENTS

If you are involved in a hunting accident, you must identify yourself, give all the assistance you can, and report the accident to the nearest State Police post or sheriff department, the Conservation Department says.

Fire Guts DeWitt Area Home

DeWitt Township firemen walk beneath dripping rafters through what is left of the Virgil Lyon home at 10827 US-27 near Cutler Road after fire all but gutted the home Monday afternoon. The blaze was believed caused by faulty electrical wiring and appeared to have started in an attic storage area. The upstairs of the home was completely burned out, and the downstairs, shown here, suffered extensive water and smoke damage. Mrs. Lyon, who phoned her husband in Lansing to report the fire, was later taken to Lansing by ambulance with a bad heart condition.

DeWitt city, township fire hassle still burning

DeWITT - The fire department controversy between the township and city of DeWitt is still burning, a week after the city turned down a township proposal for fire protection for the city.

The City of DeWitt presented a counter proposal last Wednesday at its council meeting. So far no decision on it has been announced by the township, but the township board, fire board and firemen will meet tonight (Thursday), and a decision is likely to be made then.

THE TOWNSHIP is planning to house fire units in the Valley Farms area anyway, Supervisor Oliver Angell said, and a decision on the DeWitt city plan will most likely be made tonight so that definite plans can be formulated in Valley Farms.

The township now owns three trucks housed in the city's municipal building. Since DeWitt as a city cannot participate in township tax matters it was necessary to determine the city's share of real and personal property and to establish charges for fire protection.

THE TOWNSHIP proposed Oct. 11 that it pay the city $600 a year rent for use of the fire hall. The city would pay the township a $500-per-year retainer plus $110

Pony and colt donated to zoo

A Shetland pony and a colt for the St. Johns city park zoo were accepted by the city commission last Tuesday night. The animals will be housed in a fenced-in area near the present zoo area.

The pony and colt were offered to the city by Dr Paul Stoller of St. Johns. The commission had some reservations last week about enlarging the park zoo but decided to go ahead and try it, at least temporarily.

THE CITY anticipates an expense of about $300, mostly for fencing. The fence will be built four or five feet high to "partially restrict, at least" children climbing into the enclosure and beating upon or climbing over the animals. Youngsters will not be allowed to ride the animals.

The zoo already includes a small deer herd, various fowl, rabbits and other domestic and wild animals.

per fire run and $15 for inhalator calls made in the city. The city would be billed for its share of any monetary losses which the department might have in operations.

The city of DeWitt rejected this proposal and in turn presented one like this: The township would retain ownership of the trucks and equipment and would continue to house the present equipment in the city and continue to utilize firemen in the city. The township would assume all costs of operation - maintenance, insurance, labor and telephone - and would provide fire protection and inhalator service to the city without cost.

Two persons were injured last Wednesday afternoon in a two-car collision south of Townsend Road on US-27.

Injured were Irene Thompson of Maple Rapids, a passenger in a car driven by Florian A. Thompson, 40, of Maple Rapids, and Gladys Lewis of 411 Wight Street, St. Johns, driver of the other car. They suffered cuts and bruises.

BOTH AUTOS were going south on US-27. Mrs. Lewis said she was in the left lane getting ready to make a left turn when her car was struck in the rear by the Thompson auto. Thompson said he was passing several trucks and did not see Mrs. Lewis' turn signal or stop lights and he could not stop in time to avoid the crash.

Thompson was ticketed for failure to stop in assured clear distance ahead.

Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Lewis were taken to Clinton Memorial Hospital for treatment.

Tonnemachers set for Nassau trip

Dick Tonnemacher, owner of Dick's Clark Super 100 Service Station on South US-27, and his wife Sally will leave Monday for a prize trip to Nassau in the Bahamas.

They won the trip on the basis of sales performance by the station during a contest. They will fly from Lansing to Chicago Monday and then board a chartered plane for a trip directly to Nassau. They will spend four days there sightseeing, fishing, and swimming, courtesy of the Clark Refining Co.

many people have charged. Central School has been a constant target on this score. Lancaster, in his briefing of the committee on the topic for the night, did point out that numerous fire safety measures had been ordered by the state fire marshal.

"Admittedly the building (Central) would burn," Lancaster said, "and probably in a hurry. However, these factors are also present: the boiler room is away from the building; the building was completely re-wired some five years ago, removing the most frequent cause of fires; there is a fire escape on each end of the building."

LANCASTER said three fire drills have been held this fall. "The slowest time for the evacuation has been one minute and 11 seconds for the 518 kids. Anything less than five minutes is considered adequate.

"Last year the state fire marshal's office completely inspected the building from a safety standpoint," Lancaster went on. "They made numerous recommendations for changes. Some of these changes were made over the summer, but most of the expensive ones have not been made pending the decision to keep or to abandon the building. We estimate the cost of these changes to be in the neighborhood of $25,000." All the changes would not have to be made at once.

SEVERAL OF the discussion groups voiced the opinion that the recommended changes should be made and that they would keep the building safe for use until such time as a decision is made to replace the building.

Central School was built in 1885; East Ward dates back to 1880. Central houses grades one through six on the first floor and grades seven and eight in the basement and second floor. Altogether there are 518 children attending classes at Central—about 150 more than capacity.

East Ward has about 94 children in grades kindergarten through third.

CENTRAL SCHOOL'S present overcrowded condition would be relieved somewhat when the new high school is built. The junior high will move to the present high school building, and Central School will be used for only grade school and only on the first and second floors.

With the present Central and East Ward schools continuing in use, Lancaster foresaw this picture when the new and rural school changes are completed:

THERE WILL BE a total addition of 18 classrooms and all-purpose facilities at each of the four (rural) schools. . . . This would give us a total of 28 classrooms in the rural areas. Then when the high school is completed and the junior high is removed from Central School, this will give us an additional six rooms for elementary use. These, in addition to the 24 already in use in St. Johns, would make a total of 58 classrooms available for grades K-6 in the entire district.

"And—providing the parochial schools are still in operation—our census figures show we will have 1,631 students in grades K-6, for about 28 students per room. If we consider that we would like to keep our enrollments per room at 30 or under for good education, this would be a tight squeeze and would not allow for growth."

THE CITIZENS' committee will meet again next Thursday, Nov. 4, to discuss what time to put the bond issue to the public vote and to discuss whether or not to join the Lansing Community College district. A representative of the college will be on hand.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. at the First Congregational Church in St. Johns.

'Leaf arson' new fall problem

St. Johns police reported a number of cases of "leaf arson" in the last few weeks. The city commission was briefed last Tuesday on the fact that a number of teenagers have been driving around city streets, setting fire to piles of leaves along curbs and in yards.

This was one of several autumn problems examined by the commissioners last week. One of the others was the perennial problem of city residents burning leaves in the street gutter and on the street surface.

CITY OFFICIALS asked that this not be done, since the fire on the asphalt surface takes the oil from the asphalt and will lead to a more rapid breakup of the street. The officials agreed that leaves could be burned in lawns and in driveways between the sidewalk and curb because, as Commissioner Rex Sirmine pointed out, "with the equipment we have we just can't keep up with all the falling leaves."

In answer to a commission question as to whether a burning permit was needed, Mayor Jack Smit quickly answered "That's the law."

IN ANOTHER measure to help in the handling of the leaf problem, the commission approved the purchase of a Giant-Blow leaf blower which will clear leaves from a 15-foot swath. This will be particularly useful in clearing the combustible leaves from along the roadways through the city park, Department of Public Works Supt. Rollie Ordway told the commission. He pointed out that a lit cigarette falling into leaves in the park could cause a serious fire.

Varsity Night set for Nov. 13

The annual St. Johns High School Varsity Night has been scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 13, at the high school gym, it was announced this week.

A program of varied entertainment will start at 8 p.m. Included will be the Wilsonaires, the Wilsonettes, the high school dance band, featured acts of local talent and a surprise Dixieland band of local talent.

Proceeds from tickets sold for the annual event will go to the music department of the schools.

Water plant completion by Feb. 6 now anticipated

The St. Johns water treatment plant is on or ahead of construction schedule, according to a report by engineers for the project last week.

Dave Griffith, resident engineer for Ayres, Lewis, Norris and May, told the city commission last Tuesday a date of Feb. 6 has been set for completion of the $540,000 plant, but if things go along as they are now "it could be well in advance of that."

GRIFFITH SAID the only thing that wouldn't be complete by then would be the paved parking lot. As of now, the project is "on or ahead of schedule on all operations."

The huge 400,000-gallon water storage tank at the southwest side of the main plant was to have been completed and ready for painting last Thursday. The upper deck roof of the plant has been completed, Griffith said, and there are many little hookup projects going on inside the building.

AYRES, LEWIS, Norris and May got the go-ahead to make two changes in the plans and contract for the building, but one-painting of the basement of the plant with a three-coat enamel—was refused acceptance by the commission.

Ray Smit of the engineering firm appeared before the commission to defend the proposed change orders and to explain why they and others in the past were being made. "The point is that a million dollar project (the whole water program) such as this there are bound to be changes, and we are constantly checking to see that the best things are being done." He pointed out that a $20,000 contingency fund was set up by the city for just this purpose —to handle the changes that come up.

SMIT received approval of the commission for putting up a hand rail around a piece of machinery and to put a manhole entrance in a part of the plant to provide access to that area. The previous access was cluttered by pipes that were added in early changes. Smit reported, in answer to a

Rotary briefed on vo-tech study

Ernie Dear, field coordinator of the Shiawassee-Clinton Area Vocational-Technical Study, was guest of the St. Johns Rotary Club Tuesday noon, and he brought the members up-to-date on what the area study is doing.

He pointed out that individual school districts within the area have neither the size nor the financial backing to run a quality vocational-technical education program, and he said this type of education is becoming extremely important in filling the job markets.

HE SAID most of the study time so far has been devoted to gathering information. Some of the difficulties encountered so far include financing the entire study by solicitation, the problem of adequate response to questionnaires, the Lansing orientation of many St. Johns people, the legal difficulties of a two-county study, the difficulty of making the people aware of the possible outcome, and concern over opposition to an apprentice program.

A full report on the findings of the study will be made public after the first of the year, he said.

Bruce Fowler was program chairman for Rotary.

question about rust in the mains, that until the plant is in operation the city will not have a surplus of water it can use in a logical flushing program.

He pointed out that when the plant is in operation, there will be no new rust being put into the mains, and there will be no surges of pressure that cause rust problems now.

HE ESTIMATED IT would take six months or so to get rid of rust in the mains in some isolated areas, and less time in most areas of the city. "It will take more than just opening hydrants to get rid of the rust," Smit said. "It will mean a need for a high velocity flow and a reversal of the flow in order to stir up the rust in the mains."

The reversal would be accomplished by valving off certain blocks of water mains and flushing only several at a time. After the plant is in operation, city crews can do this at their own convenience, Smit said, but his firm will supply recommendations as to how to go about it.

Whitman to retire Monday

The first smokstack of the huge Dow complex erected.

His father was one of the first Dow employees and Glenn says, "I can recall him coming home when I was just a boy, feeling quite elated and announcing that he had his wages raised from a dollar to $1.10—a day, not an hour. Later he worked as a foreman at $4.50 a day, which was double the common wage then."

Whitman attended Midland High School and went to business college in Saginaw for two years. He then worked for a wholesale cookie and cracker company in Saginaw for two years.

"THEN, GETTING the wanderlust, I joined the Army and served three years."

After his discharge in 1914, Whitman took a refresher course at Bay City Business College and

Mrs Joanne Miller new court reporter

Mrs Joanne Miller of 408 E. Cass Street, who has been assignment clerk for the past two years, will take over the duties of court reporter Monday on the retirement of Glenn Whitman. She has been working for the county since 1952 when she started as a secretary to Prosecutor Fred Lewis.

Taking Mrs Miller's position as assignment clerk is Mrs Mary Anne Barrett of rural Ovid. She started work Sept. 15. She has worked the past 10 years at the abstract office, part-time the last two years.

When World War I came, he re-enlisted in the Army and served two more years. While in the service Glenn took a correspondence course in higher accounting with the Walton School of Commerce.

AFTER TAKING a course with Alger Business College in Saginaw, he went to work for the Republic Truck Co. in Alma in the branch accounting department "where I remained until they closed out."

It was at this point that he entered the court reporting field, serving as official Saginaw court reporter. He heard about the opening in the Clinton-Gratiot District, eventually won the job and started under Judge Edward J. Molnet on Nov. 1, 1925.

IN 1927, JUDGE Kelly Searl took the bench and he and Whitman traveled between the two courtrooms 15 years. Then in 1942, Paul Cash became circuit judge and served until his death in 1963. He was succeeded by present Judge Leo Corkin.

Whitman claims he's "not a very good speaker," elaborating that "after working and listening all day I do not have much desire to listen in the evening."

He humorously relates, "I have seen times when I would go to some function at night and would sit and listen to the speaker and automatically form in my mind shorthand characters for the words of the speaker."

Civil Defense Director Charles Frost (left) and Rev Hugh Banning practice with splints and bandages on Mrs Delmas Moldenhauer as the three teachers got together last week to discuss upcoming medical self-help classes. Splints and bandaging are among the topics of the course.

WHITMAN WAS guest of honor at a tea Monday afternoon at the courthouse, held by courthouse employees. And Wednesday morning he was to be honored at a party in Mount Pleasant.

Whitman said Monday he doesn't know what he's going to do in his retirement. "After all I've never retired before," But he's looking forward to it, and courthouse employees here are well aware of it. "Every day as the time approaches he gets higher spirited," one person said.

To reduce industrial sewer rate

The St. Johns City Commission is preparing to act next Tuesday on an amendment to a recently-passed ordinance concerning minimum charges that can be made for sewer service.

The first reading of the amendment was made at last Tuesday's meeting. It reduces the minimum special rate for sewage charges for industries from 25 per cent of the water bill to 15 per cent of the water bill.

MINIMUM charges of 50 per cent for commercial customers and 75 per cent for residential customers will remain in effect. The percentages are only minimums that govern how low the city commission can go in setting sewer rates.

The commission has to act on each individual request for special rates. Unless a special rate is requested, sewer charges will be 95 per cent of a customer's water bill. This is established in Ordinance No. 186. The amendment regarding industrial special rate minimum will be referred to as Ordinance No. 188.

REGARDING the sewer rates, the commission established a number of special rates last Tuesday. These are referred to in the minutes of the commission meeting printed in Section C of this week's paper.

Of particular note, however, were the rates granted the city's two major industries. Federal Mogul Corp. requested and received the proposed new minimum rate of 15 per cent. Sealed Power Corp. asked only a reduction from 95 per cent to 60 per cent of the water bill, because, it said, they returned 60 per cent of their water to the sanitary sewers.

Low-grade iron deposits have been discovered near Iliamna, Alaska, about 200 miles southwest of Anchorage, reports the Department of Interior. The iron, in the form of iron oxide or magnetite, was found in a dark green crystalline rock somewhat like lava. The department points out that magnetite furnishes about one-third of the iron ore in the United States.

42 men in county to get draft call in December

The Clinton County draft board has been instructed to provide 42 men on the December draft call. In November, 10 men from the county will be inducted.

The December draft call statewide is the largest this year—3,394 men—reflecting the tense Viet Nam struggle. Calls were about 300 per month earlier this year.

10 training to lead Girl Scouts

Ten women from the central and northern parts of the county who have volunteered to be Girl Scout leaders are presently undergoing training by Girl Scout officials.

Mrs Joyce Thrush of 606 Church Street, St. Johns, had reported several weeks ago that the Girl Scout program in the county could lapse if not enough adult leaders were obtained to supervise it.

THE WOMEN, who were in their third session of training Wednesday at the St. Johns city park, are:

Mrs Lyle Parkinson, Mrs Roy Glinki, Mrs Lester Dean, Mrs Donald Wiseman, Mrs Alvin Drumheller and Mrs Harry Hattis all of Maple Rapids; Mrs Robert Ferrall and Mrs Ronald Hubbard of Eureka; and Mrs Keith Bovee and Mrs Lawrence DeWitt of St. Johns.

Mrs Thrush said more leaders are still needed in St. Johns. She said there are hundreds of girls who cannot join Girl Scouting because of the lack of leaders.

Several attend NFO convention

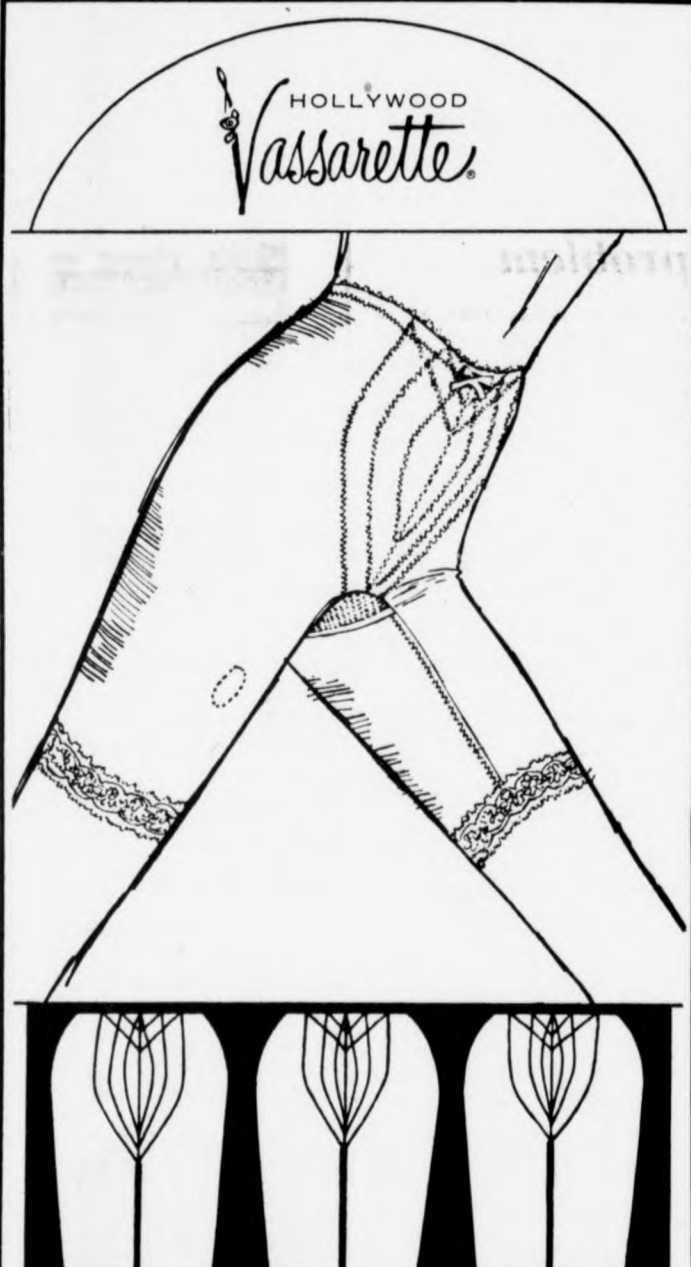

Several from Clinton County were among the more than 400 delegates who attended the state convention of the National Farmers Organization in Howell Oct. 16.

John Kuch was reelected national director for the NFO in Michigan. It was announced that Michigan needs only to charter five more counties to be eligible for a second director.

SPEAKERS AT the convention included Richard Sunkin, grain coordinator for Ohio, Indiana and Michigan; Anton Peters, grain coordinator for Michigan; Ray Auvil, meat coordinator; and Joe Kurka, state legislative representative.

The main speaker at the convention was Erhard Phingsten, national vice president of the NFO. Phingsten urged full cooperation of members in an effort to "achieve our goal in a short time. Any organization goes through five stages," he said. "They are 1) ignored, 2) ridiculed, 3) vigorous opposition, 4) recognition, and 5) acceptance. We have passed through the first three stages, are in the fourth now and are about to step into the final stage."

The greatest increase in numbers of certified tree farms was in 1959 when 3,345 units were added.

THE NEWS
in Brief

Scandinavian trip review by Mrs Judd

The beauty of fjords, snow-capped mountains, picturesque villages, and modern cities, came to life in the home of Mrs Harold Millman as she entertained the St. Johns Woman's Club, Wednesday, Oct. 20.

DURING the business meeting, Mrs Van Hoag announced, that she being the West Central District Chairman of the Cultural Heritage Department of Fine Arts, she'd appreciate items for a display at the District Convention, Oct. 28 at Caledonia. Also, letters were read from the two girls having attended Girls' State in Ann Arbor the week of June 15-22. Linda Biled and Cathy Matthews, both whose families moved to Arizona during the summer, expressed their appreciation for having had the opportunity to attend.

Mrs Helen Judd related her month tour of Norway, Sweden, Finland and Denmark with her beautiful slides and narration of a land of friendly people. People whose interests are family interests and a people who schedule business hours from 9 to 3, so more time can be spent as a family in recreation, and in cultural enjoyment. Literacy is high as their life is geared to give time for literature and study.

The tremendous amount of Michigan government they learned; the procedures for running for office; learning to accept authority if elected or to lose gracefully; the friendships made and the responsibilities of learning to be a better citizen, were things they shared and wished more girls from the area could attend in the future.

THE MEETING adjourned to the cornucopia centered tea table, hostessed by Mrs Leonard Campbell and Mrs Robert Kelly and served by the tea committee of Mrs Floyd Robinson and Mrs John Warstler.

The Nov. 3 meeting will be "Land of Suomi," when the Finnish exchange student, Hannele Laurila, describes her country, at the home of Mrs John Rumbaugh, 425 Meadowview Drive.

Rex Serrine (left) receives a certificate for meritorious service to the Edwin T. Stiles Post 153, American Legion, from Post Commander Joseph Toth. The presentation was made at a post membership supper last Thursday.

Legion honors Serrine

Rex Serrine of 710 N. Clinton Avenue, St. Johns, was honored by Edwin T. Stiles Post 153, American Legion, last Thursday at the Legion's annual membership supper.

A certificate for meritorious service to the post since its formation Sept. 22, 1919, was presented to Serrine by Post Commander Joseph Toth.

SERRINE has been active in the post since its organization 46 years ago. Last year he personally signed up 205 members and already has 115 signed for the 1965-66 year.

He is a past commander of the post and is now post historian. He is a St. Johns city commissioner and has served in the job as mayor of the city.

He was a member of Paris Post 1 of American Legion, formed in 1918 in Paris, France.

ABOUT 100 Legionnaires attended the membership supper last Thursday. The film "Operation Abolition" was shown after the supper hour. "This film, which is on Communist infiltration and agitation tactics among youth as described by J. Edgar Hoover constitutes just one extension of the Communist campaign which is a challenge to all patriotic Americans," Post Commander Toth said.

A petition in support of the US government's position on Viet Nam is being circulated by the Legion.

New zoning law passed

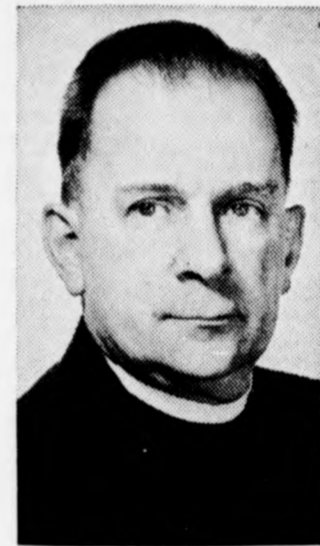

A long-awaited new zoning ordinance for the City of St. Johns got final approval from the city commission last Tuesday night.

The ordinance has been "in the works" for several years, with the document being compiled by the city planning commission and advisors from Michigan State University.

THE ZONING ordinance, No. 187 in the list of city laws, has been in front of the public since January this year. The planning commission held hearings on it last January and February. It was later presented to the city commission, then turned back to the planners for wording changes.

The planning commission made most of the recommended changes, and turned it back again to the city commission several weeks ago. Last Tuesday came the second "reading" of the ordinance, and it was passed with no dissenting votes and no objections from the public in attendance at the meeting.

THE ORDINANCE in full fills 6 1/2 pages of this newspaper and is printed in full, as required by law, on Pages 1 through 7 of Section C of this issue. It will take effect Nov. 9.

Florida honeymoon for newlywed couple

Baskets of white mums decorated the altar of St. Mary's Catholic Church at Westphalia Saturday, Oct. 16, for the wedding of Miss Ann Platte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Platte of R-2, Portland, and Paul C. Thelen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome J. Thelen of Fowler.

Rev. Aloysius Miller officiated at the 10:30 a.m. double ring service in which Mr. Platte gave his daughter in marriage. Joe Martin was organist and the Mass was sung by Mrs. Anthony Wirth, Mrs. Justin Thelen, Mrs. Edward Bengel and Mrs. Daniel Spitzley.

THE LOVELY bride chose a gown with a fitted bodice of peau de soie with a wide portrait neckline with the front encrusted with scalloped patterned lace which extended over the long fitted sleeves. The floor-length skirt had an A-line front, with lace appliques repeated on the full back, sweeping into a wide chapel train and a bow at the waistline. A deep Swedish crown of lace medallions edged with pearls and Aurora Borealis crystals secured a triple bouffant veil of imported French illusion. She carried pink sweetheart roses, white mums and snapdragons with ivy, in a cascade arrangement. She wore a rhinestone pendant purchased in Germany by her brother, Armon Platte.

Matron of honor was Miss Ellen Platte, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Diane Thelen, sister of the bridegroom and Miss Linda Miller, niece of the bride. They wore identical floor-length gowns of peau de soie in peacock blue. The bodice had a modified scoop neckline, three-quarter length sleeves and a deep unpressed pleat on each side of the skirt, a loose panel in back, with a bow at the waistline. They wore matching headpieces and carried cascades of white mums and pink glads.

MISS HEIDE Koenigsnecht, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

James Thelen was best man for his brother. Groomsmen were Bernard Platte and Luke Thelen. Seating the guests were Larry Thelen and Armon Platte.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Platte chose a beige ribbon two-piece dress with beige and black accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore an antique gold colored lace dress with black accessories. Each had a corsage of pink sweetheart roses and white mums.

A RECEPTION was held at St. Mary's hall for the 400 wedding guests. Following a two-week wedding trip to Florida, the newlyweds will reside at R-2, Fowler. The bride graduated from the Pewamo-Westphalia High School in 1963 and her husband is a 1960 graduate of the Fowler High School.

Water problems discussed at DeWitt PTA

DEWITT — Professor C. R. Humphreys stated that "Water quality protection is the major water problem in Michigan, not pollution, not public access, not fish management. The present program of pollution control has been successful, but there is much more to do, especially in the recreational areas of the state, where jurisdiction is not clearly defined and enforcement is weak or absent."

Dr. Humphreys, professor of Resource Development at MSU, spoke to the DeWitt PTA Wednesday on the growing problems of water pollution in our state. He was introduced by program chairman, Roland Lewis.

The business meeting was conducted by president, Jacob Lenik.

Tight games in flag football

The Referees, behind Jeff Martins and Jim Smit, defeated the Electrifying Eight 12-0 Wednesday in one of two adult flag football games.

With just six seconds left in the first half, Martins threw an alley-oop pass to Dick Cornwell for the first six points. In the third quarter Jim Smit broke loose and rambled 25 yards to paydirt. The Electrifying Eight couldn't get their offense going and never penetrated the "Ref's" 20 yard line.

IN THE other game, Bee's came from behind to edge Road House 7-6 to remain undefeated. In the last minutes of the first half Hub Waite took a look-in pass and scooted 20 yards untouched for the Road House TD. In the third quarter Ron Dugas hit Martins on a bootleg pass for six points, and then Dugas ran the extra point.

In the kids' flag football game of the week, the Colts remained undefeated by beating the Redskins 6-0. Ken Schueler raced off right tackle for 15 yards and the lone score of the game. The Redskins threatened only once and then were stopped on the 15 in the last minutes.

THE LIONS, led by Ray Schueler who raced 10 and 1 yards for two scores, defeated the 49'ers 12-6. Tom Pung passed to Ed Jorae for the 49'ers six points.

By SUE DURNER

Led by John Salemi, who scored 19 points for the evening, the St. Johns JVs flew over the Charlotte Orioles, by the score of 40-20 last Thursday.

Late in the second quarter Olmsted tallied Charlotte's first touchdown of the game on a short run over right side. The conversion was not good and the score was 14-6.

A CHARLOTTE fumble recovered by Joe Kielen led to the Redwings' third TD when Salemi drove in from the one-yard line. Rademacher scored the extra point and the half ended St. Johns 21, Charlotte 6.

The only scoring in the third period was St. Johns' Don Palmer taking in an 8-yard pass from Love. The try for the p.a.t. was no good. Third period score was 27-6.

Charlotte began threatening late in the third quarter and with 26 seconds gone in the fourth period, scored on a 10-yard run. The extra point was good.

ST. JOHNS came back and once again was put on the scoreboard when Salemi scored on a nine-yard plunge. Berkousen accounted for the extra point. Charlotte's last touchdown of the game came with 5:34 remaining. Chuck Pabst scored on a 5-yard run. The kick was good and the score was 34-20.

MIKE GREEN tallied the final TD for the Redwings by rambling 50 yards through the middle. The conversion was no good and the final score read 40-20, in favor of the junior Redwings. This victory was their 21st in a row.

Era ends as Elsie downs Ovid in last game of a 60 year grid rivalry

An era ended in Ovid last Friday night. It ended what probably was the longest inter-county grid rivalry that can be determined by scant records available. This was the annual Ovid-Elsie football game and it ended in the fashion which seemed to be significant of these two ball clubs. With less than a minute remaining on the scoreboard clock Elsie scored its winning touchdown and ended the series which goes back to 1905 for its beginning.

Over this span of 60 years the Ovid-Elsie football game came to be known as a bruising battle and season records up to the game didn't seem to foretell how it would end, for when these two teams met, anything could happen, and usually did.

IT IS AGREED THAT the annual Ovid-Elsie grid series began back in 1905 and as records of won and lost are scarce, those talked to seem to agree that over the years it was pretty much a 50-50 proposition as far as who won how many games. This seems to justify the type of football played whenever these two teams would meet.

The era ends . . . a new era begins. Beginning next year these two fine ball clubs will combine their talents and play in the Mid-Michigan B League under Ovid-Elsie High School.

THIS YEAR OVID is coached by Joe Thering in his first year and to date has a 1-2-3 record for the year. Over at Elsie, Mark O'Donnell is in his fourteenth year as head coach and his record this year is 5-1. In his fourteen years of grid battles with Ovid, O'Donnell's record against Ovid has been a fine 14-0, but many of his victories have been like the game Friday, a squeaker, but a winner.

This year Ovid is in fourth place in the Central Michigan C League with a record of 1-1-3 while Elsie is tied for first place with Portland with a league record of 5-0. Elsie meets Portland Friday night at Elsie. This game will decide the winner in the league.

AT OVID LAST Friday it was a scoreless ball game until the second period when Jerry Gazda scored from 30 yards out and Dane Flegel passed to Gale Bancroft for the extra point to give Ovid a 7-0 lead that lasted into halftime.

In the third period Elsie got on the scoreboard when Joe Guysky scored from 6 yards out and then ran for the extra point to deadlock the game at 7-7. Elsie threatened twice more late in the game, but both times the Ovid Romans turned back these threats, once inside the 10-yard line and then on the 20-yard line.

IT SEEMED AS IF this last ballgame between these two schools would be a tie until with only 48 seconds left Mike Seybert took a pass from quarterback Tom Bakita and went 14 yards to score. Guysky ran again for the extra point to give Elsie a hard fought 14-7 victory to end an era of sixty years of football between two great rivals. It is only fitting that come next year they will combine these efforts and continue to play the type of football that had made a great rivalry over the years.

St. Johns fullback Bob Every (42) moves downfield for a big gain during fourth quarter of the Charlotte game Friday night. St. Johns players moving up to make blocks for him are Lee Hill (11) and Roger Beebee (62). Charlotte defenders are Glen Kenyon (41), Mike Fleming (12) and Mike Snyder (26). St. Johns won the game 40-13.

Perry drops P-W, 20-6

Dave Shanski led his team to another victory Friday as he scored the first time his team had the ball, and Perry went on to defeat Pewamo-Westphalia 20-6 in a Central Michigan C League game.

Shanski raced 27 yards on the first play from scrimmage and added the first of his two extra points. Bump Lardie scored Perry's second TD on a 68-yard run and Dave Keisling wrapped up the scoring on a 20-yard dash in the final period.

Glen George scored for Pewamo-Westphalia in the third period when he picked off a fumble in the air and raced 79 yards to score.

Perry now stands third in the league on a record of 3-1-1 while P-W is fifth with a record of 1-3-1.

Portland romps over DeWitt, 42-0

Portland maintained its tie with Elsie for first place in the Central Michigan C League Friday by rolling over last-place DeWitt 42-0.

Portland was led by the rushing of Denny McCrumb and John Novak who had 114 and 100 yards respectively and each scored a touchdown. McCrumb scored on a 29-yard run and Novak tallied on a 60-yard run. McCrumb also added four of the extra points.

Portland's Mike Ward, a sophomore halfback, had his hands on the ball only twice, but scored each time with runs of 28 and 19 yards. Other Portland TD's were scored by Doug Davis and Steve Dawdy.

Portland meets Elsie Friday at Elsie in what could be the game deciding the Central Michigan C League Championship. Both Portland and Elsie have 5-0 conference records.

Charlotte halfback Dave Green (25) reaches in front of St. Johns end Dennis Springer (82) to intercept a St. Johns pass and take off on a 50-yard touchdown run. Gary Boyce (40) watches the action from background. St. Johns won the game 40-13.

Redwings roll over Charlotte 40-13 Friday

The St. Johns Redwings roared back into form Friday night at Charlotte and appeared to be at a stage of enthusiasm they were at before a disastrous two-game losing streak hit them Oct. 1.

The Wings all but shattered Charlotte's defense Friday in racking the Orioles 40-13 at Charlotte. Head Coach Bill Smiley was happy over the performance of his offensive unit, which rolled up 348 yards in rushing during the evening.

IT WAS NOT an easy win. It was 20-13 St. Johns at the half, and then the Wings moved for 20 more while holding Charlotte scoreless.

Fowler downs St. Pat's, 34-12

The Fowler Eagles kept their hopes for a co-championship in the Central Michigan D League alive Friday as they downed Portland St. Patrick 34-12.

Fowler's offensive line led the charge as they opened holes for a quartet of backs who racked up 232 yards rushing, plus another 15 yards in the air. The defense, meanwhile, was holding St. Pat's to 68 yards on the ground and 75 yards in the air. Both teams had nine first downs.

ST. PAT'S opened the scoring on the first series of downs when Dan Simon ran 12 yards for a TD, climaxing an 80 yard drive. This was all the scoring for both teams until the second quarter when Fowler began to roll. Neil Thelen started the scoring for Fowler on an 8-yard run to tie the score at 6-6. Later in the period Ronny Brown raced 5 yards for Fowler's second score. After Chuck Thelen tackled a St. Pat's back in the end zone for a safety, Neil Thelen passed to Mike Novak for a 13-yard TD and Fowler left the field at halftime with a 20 to 6 lead.

St. Pat's came back after the intermission to score on a 60-yard pass from Larry Lehman to Joe Honsowitz, the ball being deflected by a Fowler back, but Honsowitz gathered it in and raced into the end zone. Fowler came right back as Hilary George went 3 yards for a TD, Gayle Rowell ran for the extra point.

IN THE FOURTH quarter Fowler wrapped up its scoring as Rowell went one yard for the TD, with Neil Thelen passing to Mike Novak for the extra point.

Fowler plays its last league game this Friday as they meet Webberville at home. They must win Friday and hope that Portland St. Pat can win over Potterville to give them a co-championship.

Football winner from DeWitt

The County News' football contest was back to just one winner after a hectic, 10-way scramble for the $20 prize a week ago. Actually, two persons were in the running this last week, but after comparing the tie - breaker scores, Lynn Green of R-1, Box 79, DeWitt, won the prize.

He had a tie-breaker score of 30, which was 16 points above the actual score of the Grand Ledge-Ionia game. But David Hyler of 506 Church Street, St. Johns, was seven points above that.

BOTH contestants missed only two games. Both missed the Bath-Laingsburg game which ended in a tie; Green missed the Michigan-Minnesota game, too, and Hyler missed the Lakewood-Alma game.

For the first time in the contest, two persons guessed a tie game correctly, but they lost out on the money by missing three or more other games.

Another $20 awaits the winner or winners of this week's contest.

The Orioles' 13 points came within a minute and a half in the second quarter, and St. Johns fans saw a decisive 20-0 lead almost vanish.

St. Johns scored the first 20 points by taking advantage of three fumbles by Charlotte quarterback Mike Flemming. The first came with 7:49 left in the first quarter. St. Johns recovered a fumble on their own 24. Runs

Ski club, anyone?

St. Johns Recreation Director Ron Dugas is investigating the possibility of forming a ski club here. He and Wendell Smith of St. Johns are interested in hearing the desires of local people and will be watching the local sale of tickets to a color movie, "The Skiers" to be shown Nov. 14 at the Lansing Civic Center, for some indication of the local interest in skiing.

★ IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Emma Luecht who passed away 1 year ago October 24. Somewhere back of the sunset.

Where loveliness never dies, She lives in the land of glory, Mid the gold and the blue of the skies.

And we who have loved and lost her, To whom parting brought sorrow and tears, Shall cherish her memory forever.

To brighten the oncoming years—Her daughters and families. 27-1p

In memory of Clyde Plovman who passed away two years ago October 30. We watched him suffer day by day.

It caused us bitter grief, To see him slowly fade away, And could not get relief, God saw the road was very rough.

The hill too steep to climb, He gently closed his weary eyes, and whispered "Peace be thine."—His wife Hazel, children and grandchildren. 27-1p

Speak nuptial vows in Pewamo ceremony

PEWAMO— Miss Kay C. Schneider, daughter of Mr and Mrs Clarence Schneider of Pewamo and Mark A. Klein, son of Mr and Mrs Louis Klein of Westphalia, spoke their wedding vows at St. Joseph Catholic Church in Pewamo on Saturday, Oct. 23. Rev Paul F. Kersjes officiated at the double ring ceremony at 10 a.m. Organist was Mrs Cornelia Schafer and the church choir sang.

The bride was gowned in a floor-length satin sheath, with accents in re-embroidered Alencon lace and a chapel train was attached with two bows at the waistline. The elbow-length veil was attached to a cabbage rose. She carried a cascade arrangement of white mums and carnations with red sweetheart roses and ivy. She was given in marriage by her father.

MISS ARLENE Schneider was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Mrs Pat Simon, Miss Dawn Beachau and Mrs June Thelen, all friends of the bride. They wore identically styled sheath floor-length gowns, empire waists, gold brocade bodices of a rose pattern and maize crepe skirts with floor-length panel trains of gold brocade. Their headpieces were a gold cabbage rose, and they carried bronze spider mums and yellow poms in cascade design.

Clare Klein, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Groomsman were Stanley Klein, the bridegroom's brother, Fred Wood, brother-in-law of the bride and Larry Thelen, friend of the bridegroom. Ushers were Michael Schneider and Tony Klein, brothers of the couple.

MRS SCHNEIDER wore a royal blue sheath with black accessories and Mrs Klein, the bridegroom's mother, wore a turquoise gown with black accessories.

A wedding dinner was held at 12 noon at St. Mary's Hall in Westphalia and a reception for 450 guests at the same hall in the evening.

Following a two-week trip through the Eastern States, the newlyweds will live on the Louis Klein homestead, Westphalia.

THE BRIDE graduated from the Pewamo-Westphalia High School in 1964 and has been employed at the State of Michigan Department of Auditor General. Her husband graduated from the same High School in 1963 and is employed by Fedewa Builders, and farming.

Church women to observe World Community Day

Local Protestant and Orthodox church women when they observe the annual World Community Day, Friday, Nov. 5 will examine how Latin Americans, caught in a web of poverty, hunger, ignorance and disease, can develop their full potential.

Plans for the United Church Women of Clinton County were announced today by Mrs Frank A. Swagart.

"WORLD Community Day is part of the on-going desire of church women to express their Christian concern for the needs and problems of people throughout the world."

"Latt's Mission in World Affairs," the WCD theme, is designed to help people in poverty-stricken Chile and Haiti reach a clear vision of their dignity as persons, and give each individual an understanding of his worth, Mrs Swagart stated.

On Nov. 5, church women will meet at the Lowe Methodist Church at 1:30 p.m. to dedicate their gifts and rededicate themselves, she added. Mrs S. R. Russell will present "A Better World Begins With Me."

IN KEEPING with the emphasis on community development, church women are sewing children's smocks for use in church-supported institutions.

In response to overwhelming requests for assistance, yard goods, yarns and towels are also being collected. They are also assembling simple hand made sewing kits, stocked with needles, thread, pins, buttons, scissors, etc., to help the women of Latin America meet the needs of their families. It is easy for us to replenish our closets by running downtown to a large department store, but it's a different story for mothers in the impoverished areas of Latin America.

WORLD COMMUNITY Day is sponsored annually by United Church, a department of the National Council of Churches, representing 13 million Protestant and Orthodox women in the United States.

The offering received on World Community Day will make possible an expanded program in Chile of training for women in responsible parenthood and in family and community betterment. Men will be trained for reforestation and road building. Land will be reclaimed to make fertile and productive farms in areas played out due to the lack of fertilization and scientific technology.

A woman will be hired for a two-year period to join in the team of experts in Community Development to work with women, Mrs Swagart explained. It is also hoped that a similar staff person can be provided for Haiti to work with the women to improve social and economic conditions which are more desperate in Haiti than in Chile.

MRS SWAGART further stated, "that we in America living in security and pleasant surroundings can hardly fathom the depth of unhappiness in the hunger of body and spirit faced by others. It is through our study, worship and action, through our widespread efforts involving so many Christian women, we will build towards a lasting world community."

GOP Women plan luncheon

Clinton County Republican Women are invited to attend a luncheon at Eyer's Steak House next Tuesday, Nov. 2. The luncheon is at 1 p.m. with Marie Haeger as speaker.

Anyone wishing a ride should call Mrs William Graef. Reservations are not necessary. Everyone is welcome.

Scallops tasty ocean shellfish

Popularity of scallops has increased greatly in the past few years and the demand has had its effect on prices. But scallop lovers take consolation in the fact that there is no waste to pay for. Its versatility in unusual dishes is another reason for its popularity. Here's a favorite tested recipe.

SCALLOP BOAT SUPPER

- 1 1/2 lbs. sea scallops, fresh or frozen
- 1 large loaf unsliced bread
- 1/3 c butter or margarine
- 1 medium onion, finely chopped
- 1 small green pepper, diced
- 1/2 lb. mushrooms, sliced or 1 can (3 oz.) broiled sliced mushrooms
- 6 tbsp. flour
- 2 1/2 c milk
- 1 jar (2 oz.) small stuffed olives
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1/2 c dry white wine

DEFROST scallops, if frozen, cut in halves, crosswise. Cover with boiling water; cook over low heat 10 minutes. Drain. Trim crusts from top and sides of bread loaf. With a sharp knife remove inside of loaf in one piece, leaving a shell about 3/4-inch thick. Cut removed bread into cubes.

Brush bread shell inside and out with melted butter; toss bread cubes in melted butter, spread on baking sheet. Brown shell and cubes in hot oven, 425 degrees. Melt 1/3 cup butter in frying pan. Add onion, green pepper and mushrooms; cook, stirring occasionally, until lightly browned. Blend in flour. Add milk; stir over low heat until smooth and thickened. Cut olives in half; add. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Stir in wine.

Add scallops and bread cubes; heat to serving temperature. Spoon scallop mixture into bread case. Serve at once. Makes six servings.

Tips on using diagonal weaves

Interesting design can be created with fabrics having diagonal weaves. Michigan State University textile and clothing specialists suggest that diagonals are most effective in designs that:

1. Have set-in sleeves—raglan or kimono sleeves create difficulty, and cannot be used unless accompanied by a special cutting chart.

2. Have slim skirts—gored or flared skirts will generally have bias seam edges which will force the diagonal to run in different directions.

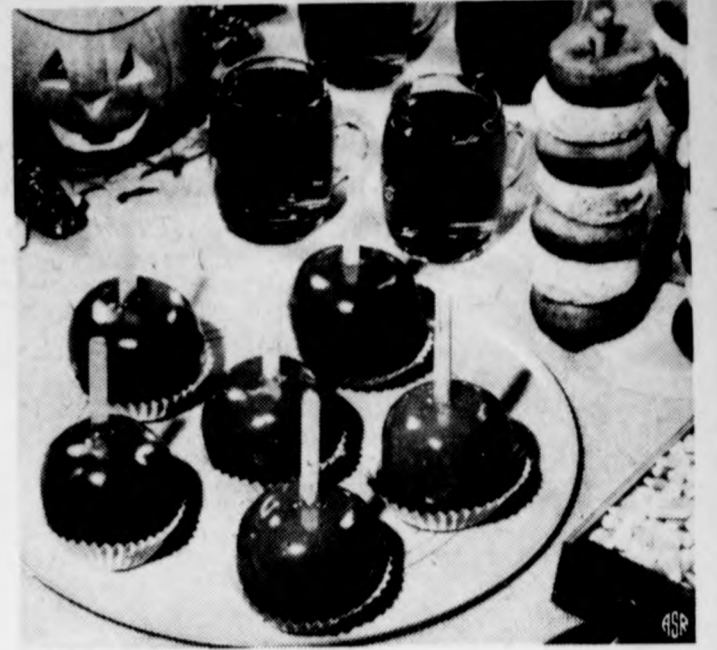

3. Have a simple classic line—clothes which have many pattern pieces or intricate seaming details will create a multitude of problems in order to keep the diagonal lines going in one direction.

The primary rule to remember when selecting a pattern for your diagonal fabrics is to avoid bias cut seams or bias bands which will show on the right side.

Milk for health

Good taste and good nutrition are two reasons why American consumers like milk and other dairy foods. Increased public knowledge of nutrition and its importance to human health account for remarkable gains in per capita consumption of fluid whole milk, and record use of cheese and other dairy products.

'Neat Treat'

Add luster to your reputation with the junior and teen crowds as provider extraordinary of party treats. It's as simply said as done. Just swirl up a batch of Caramel Apples. Luscious caramel candies make a mellow coating that adds luster to autumn's bounty of crisp, juicy apples.

The recipe's foolproof — so easy that the young set can join in dipping the fruit in the rich, melted candy. Then, for variety, they can roll them in different trimmings . . . coconut, crushed peanut brittle or chopped nuts.

Your grocer has the makings — even the wooden sticks are there, right on the 14-ounce bag of caramels. Individually wrapped, wholesome and creamy caramels are great for between-meal nibbling and lunch box surprises, too.

Caramel Apples

- 49 Kraft Caramels (14-oz bag)
 - 2 tablespoons water
 - 4 or 5 medium size apples, washed, dried
 - Wooden sticks
- Melt caramels with water in double boiler or in saucepan over low heat. Stir occasionally until sauce is smooth. Insert a wooden stick into stem of each apple. Dip into hot caramel sauce; turn until coated. Scrape off excess sauce from bottom of apples. Place on greased waxed paper; chill until firm.
- Variations: Dip caramel apples in shredded coconut, chopped nuts or crushed peanut brittle.

Mr and Mrs Albert Gillison will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, Nov. 7. The couple will be honored by their children, Mr and Mrs Stewart Gillison and Mr and Mrs Dow Gillison at an open house for friends and relatives at the First Methodist Church in St. Johns from 2 to 5 p.m. It is requested that there be no gifts.

Some foods not right for freezing

The idea that the best quality foods are "homemade" doesn't always apply, — particularly to frozen foods!

Mrs Anita Dean, nutrition specialist at Michigan State University, notes that commercial processors can freeze some foods successfully — where the homemaker may fail.

THE REASON? Equipment and ingredients available to commercial freezers are some that may be very uneconomical, for the homemaker, Mrs Dean comments.

She cites cream pies, cream puffs, custards and pudding-type desserts as examples of foods commercially available that the homemaker can't duplicate. "If you've tried to freeze these foods, you've probably found the texture changes when you thaw them. The liquid separates, and because of the type of dish, it can't be stirred in again to improve smoothness," she explains.

YET YOU SEE many creamy desserts in the market. "The commercial freezers use a waxy rice flour instead of the standard wheat flour that homemakers use. But rice flour isn't available to homemakers. It is one of the key ingredients in making desserts, gravies and sauces that freeze successfully," Mrs Dean observes.

Not all products can be frozen at home with good results because of equipment limitations, she continues. "Many foods are 'blast frozen' commercially. The temperature of the food is lowered very quickly to well below zero and kept there."

IN THE SMALL home freezer it takes longer to lower the temperature of the food to zero. This is particularly true if you add large quantities of food to the freezer at one time. And, adding large amounts of unfrozen foods can raise freezer temperatures and affect already frozen foods, Mrs Dean cautions.

To maintain a high quality product, food should be frozen solid within 24 hours after placing in the freezer.

Another factor affecting the quality of home frozen products is the amount of air left in the package. Commercial freezers are able to eliminate most air from the package.

"MAKING THE package moisture and vapor-proof and tight-fitting is one method. Adding a sauce to frozen foods to fill up air spaces is another," Mrs Dean says. Commercial freezing companies are experimenting with the use of nitrogen, another gas, to replace the oxygen around food in the package. This helps extend the "freezer life" of the food and maintain high quality.

B and B Home Ec Club at Harper home

The B and B Home Economics Study Group met at the home of Susie and Treva Harper on Friday, Oct. 22 with 12 members present.

Council Member Mrs Stanley Payne reported on a meeting which she attended in Charlotte Oct. 5 for council members and she explained the new changes to be made in the county in Home Economics. There will be a meeting at Smith Hall on Nov. 9 for all members from 9:30 to 11:30 a potluck dinner at noon and the lesson will be given from 1 to 3:30.

Mrs Larry Dershem read an article on safety in the home and gave the precautions necessary to make it safe. All are to bring stocking stuffers to the next meeting, also a recipe for the food brought to the dinner. The group gave $5 to CROP.

Mrs Bud Barnes will have the next meeting Nov. 19. Roll call will be answered by "What I plan on doing for Thanksgiving!"

Pickle vinegar

When using pickles, save the vinegar in which they are preserved. It is fine to use on salads and greens, for it is well flavored. It may also be used on slaws or in homemade salad dressing.

soup for four costs about 12 cents.

Did you know you can live like a king and eat like a senator . . . think it's not possible? Oh . . . but you're wrong . . . serve bean soup . . . that's eating like a senator. Bean soup is served everyday in the Senate Restaurant.

You needn't go to a lot of trouble to eat like a senator . . . open a can and add your own seasonings, if you are in a hurry. If you are not in a hurry . . . boil three pounds of beans with a ham hock . . . it takes two or three hours . . . and add onion that has been browned in butter just before serving, add salt and pepper. What could be easier?

LET'S SET the stage for a wonderful meal . . . the time is the twentieth century . . . the place is any home where cooking is done . . . and time is short. Have an oldtime dinner, modern style with baked beans.

You open a can . . . but you want them to have that twentieth century . . . I-did-them-myself flavor. Fry some bacon with a small onion . . . then stir in the canned beans, some prepared mustard and chili sauce . . . into a casserole and top with three thick slices of canned luncheon meat . . . or some of that ham you have left over.

THIS MODERN version of Grandmother's best will take about an hour from can opener to table . . . and it will cost about 30 cents . . . It serves three. You can add dark molasses if you like . . . and serve the baked beans with brown bread.

IF THREE pounds of beans makes more soup than your senate will eat at one meal . . . you can freeze the spare soup . . . freeze it without the salt and pepper, of course. Canned bean

Church women hear exchange students speak

OVID— The October meeting of Women's Fellowship of United Church was held Wednesday evening. A short business meeting included the reports of various committees which showed profit from the smorgasbord was a little over $800. The committee wishes to thank everyone who gave so freely of time, money etc., it was a lot of hard work on the part of many people.

The meeting was turned over to the program chairman, Mrs B. R. Elliott who presented the speakers of the evening, Jerry Yerrick talked on his summer as an exchange student in Germany, and showed many pictures he had taken. In addition he introduced Miss Ann Sundell, an exchange student from Sweden, who is living with the Yerrick family and is a senior in Ovid High School. She gave a very interesting talk, comparing the homes, schools, churches, etc., of her country with those in our country.

After the program a social hour was enjoyed with Circles III and IV serving cider and doughnuts.

The rummage sale is going very well in the basement of the Main Street Church and will continue through the rest of this week. There is a nice variety of things so come down and look them over.

ella and prince, Sharon Miller and William Haas, both of Cass County.

But while all this was going on, 15 resolutions committees were meeting and working on recommendations in their particular fields of endeavor. They began reporting back to the main convention Friday morning.

IN PASSING resolutions, the Grange called for maintaining local school districts whenever possible, compulsory TB tests for teachers, and legal action to make parents responsible for their children involved in riots and demonstrations.

Road crews using weed sprays should be better trained to keep the spray from endangering farm crops, delegates voted. They also voted in favor of safety instructions for hunters, better preparedness for a possible national disaster and for stiffer punishment against roadside littering.

IN OTHER action by the delegates, the Grange:

—Voted support of establishing a college of medicine at Michigan State University.

—Favored amending the Michigan Livestock and Poultry Remedies Law to provide the rights of seizure for stop sales action on suspected lots of livestock and poultry remedies, and to provide rights of access to places of business and vehicles to take samples and make inspections.

—Urged legislation requiring imported sheep to be free from scabies or to be dipped, including pure-bred sheep for exhibition.

—CALLED FOR inclusion of poultry and fish in the state law which requires the cooking of garbage fed to swine.

—Supported the State Department of Agriculture's request for five more livestock inspectors in 1966.

—Resolved to use its influence to have legislation passed prohibiting the use of mill screenings from seed houses in feeds, and prohibiting the use of these screenings either in a natural state or in finished commercial feeds.

—DECIDED TO request legislation providing funds to adequately staff and equip the State Department of Agriculture's laboratory.

—Supported the State Department of Agriculture's request for $150,000 to aid various groups in promoting Michigan farm products.

—Urged passage of the food portion of the Uniform, Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, which failed in the 1964 Legislature.

—RECOMMENDED that all land under jurisdiction of the Michigan State Department of Conservation be put under the same drain law as privately owned property, giving the county drain commissioners power to assess costs of drains on conservation land, and urging the Legislature to appropriate sufficient funds to the department to meet these costs.

—Favored passage of legislation similar to that which failed in the past Legislature pertaining to "loss leader" milk sales in retail stores.

—Called for federal and state appropriations to control the problem of foreign pests coming into the country via the St. Lawrence Seaway, particularly the cereal leaf beetle.

—REQUESTED the Legislature to provide funds to resume the program of removing abandoned fruit trees which breed insects.

—Supported the American Rifle Assn. in opposition to the Dobbs Bill in Congress that would regulate possession of rifles.

—RECOMMENDED amending the state statutes to provide that revenue derived from sale of surplus lands can be used to purchase additional land for conservation or recreational purposes.

—Urged that volunteer firefighters be reimbursed for runs to state-owned land only when called by a representative of the Conservation Department.

Chamber, Grange say thanks for assistance

The St. Johns Chamber of Commerce said "Thanks" Monday to the many people and organizations who assisted in the Grange convention preparations.

Chamber Manager Betty Jane Minsky said that not all of the rooms available were needed, even though 450 people were present at various times during the convention.

"WE WISH to thank every family who offered a room. We are sorry all were not needed but we are happy we had enough rooms to house all of the people who came," she said. Mrs. Goldie Brooks of the Grange echoed the thoughts.

Mrs. Minsky expressed appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gillison who made reservations and placed the guests in the private homes. "I also want to thank Rolan Sleight who staffed an information booth for the Chamber," she said.

OVER $100 worth of door prizes were given to Grange members which were contributed to the Chamber by Gamble's, Lake's, Holden Reid, Rehmann's, J. C. Penney, Dean Hardware, Mary Frances, Julie K Shop, Harr's Jewelry, St. Johns Furniture, Quality Discount and Sears.

Almost 2,000 favors were distributed to Grangers. They were given by: Federal Mogul, Jim's Insurance, Bee's Chev - Olds, Clinton National Bank, General Telephone Co., Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance, and Michigan Milk Producers Assn.

OTHERS who contributed items to the Chamber for use at the convention were: Woodbury's, ferns; Richards' Dairy, milk machine;

Wilson High School; piano, DePeal's; coat racks from Jim's Insurance and Bee's Chev-Olds; and a stage from Smith Hall.

DON GILSON, Chamber of Commerce president, expressed appreciation to Father Edwin Schoettle and the St. Joseph's Catholic School who donated the use of their gym for the entire week.

"Without these facilities we could not have hosted this convention," he said.

Various entertainment was provided by vocal groups and band members of the Rodney B. Wilson High School and Fred Lewis (bagpipes). A scheduled performance by the First Nighters had to be cancelled due to illness of one of the cast.

Ladies of the Grange had a special treat on one afternoon when Woodbury's Flower Shop put on a flower show featuring fall arrangements.

William Haas was chosen prince and Sharon Miller was named Cinderella at the youth night activities to conclude the 92nd session of the Michigan State Grange Saturday in St. Johns. Both young people are from Cass County. Their names were drawn from bowls by Gail Auten, Miss St. Johns. Others on the stage are other candidates for the titles.

Charles Coletta, St. Johns city commissioner, welcomes Grangers to St. Johns at the opening session of the state convention last Wednesday morning. Waiting for their turn are Bernard Feldpausch (left), Chamber of Commerce public relations chairman; Betty Minsky, Chamber secretary-manager; and Don Gilson, Chamber president. Seated at the table at right are Almond Cressman, a member of the executive committee, and Mrs. Grover Grigsby, wife of the state Grange master.

Looking toward the speaker's table in the background, the camera is able to record only about half of the 380 persons who attended the Michigan State Grange annual banquet at Smith Hall last Wednesday evening. The meal was served by the Rebekahs.

Kansan extolls 'positive' Grange in preface to awards presentation

The positive attitudes and achievements of Grange were extolled for Michigan State Grange delegates and friends last Wednesday night by the master of the Kansas State Grange.

James Ingwersen of LeRoy, Kan., was the main speaker at the Wednesday night banquet of the Grange. More than 380 persons heard him speak.

INGWERSEN NOTED that the Grange was organized for a positive purpose—to bring rural people closer together. "Show me an active Grange and I'll show you a group that's together for fun, work and community betterment."

Have there been positive results? Yes, Ingwersen answered his own question. Rural free delivery of mail came from a Grange promotion, he said. Such a commonplace service now was a matter of issue and controversy many years ago, he reminded the audience, and Grange was in the forefront of the fight to get it.

HE ALSO said Grange was the only major farm organization to back the formation of the federal Extension Service. It is one of the few organizations to give youth full membership rights at age 14. "It is still the only family farm fraternity."

Ingwersen commented early in his talk that it takes a skilled worker to be a builder. He wrapped up his talk by saying he thinks "this country needs people willing to give time to worthy organizations with positive attitudes."

ANOTHER highlight of the Wednesday night banquet was the presentation of awards for various aspects of Grange work. The awards were presented by Community Progress Awards Chairman Don Wheat of Grant, Lecturer and Banquet Chairman Mrs Beulah Winter and State Grange Master Grover Grigsby.

Nation strong because of ag, McIntyre says

The progress of agriculture and the Agriculture Department of the State of Michigan was the topic of George McIntyre, former head of the Agriculture Department, last Friday at the State Grange Convention.

McIntyre is now associate director of the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service. He reviewed the progress of the Agriculture Department while he was at its helm, particularly in such areas as the brucellosis program.

"MAN'S breakthrough in the ability to produce food will probably show itself to be the greatest feat of this century," McIntyre said in looking at agriculture in general.

"Not even the greatest of space achievements will have such an impact. For the first time it is becoming possible for man to produce all the food he needs."

He traced the history of agri-the meal was by Mrs Jean Hasting, state chaplain. State Master Grigsby introduced guests before the main talk by Ingwersen. Entertainment was provided by Mildred and Judith Morgan with piano duets, and the St. Johns High School Wilsonettes under the supervision of C. Gordon Vandemark.

culture growth since Cyrus McCormick invented the reaper.

"THE ABILITY to produce food is what gives this country strength," he went on. "No other place on earth can produce so much food with so few people—7 per cent or less of the population. This frees others to do other things which increase our standard of living."

McIntyre turned to the Grange as a topic and thanked them for the help they gave the Agriculture Department during his leadership of that state agency. He told the delegates that the "action taken here as members of the Michigan State Grange becomes more important as those things become laws and measures for the whole state." He thanked the grange for "the important work you're doing" and told them to feel free to call on him for any help he could give.

The Grange in St. Johns City, County Host 92nd State Convention

This was a scene typical of the Michigan State Grange session during the five-day convention in St. Johns. Delegates were seated on three sides of the St. Joseph School gym. Here Mrs Betty Minsky, St. Johns Chamber of Commerce secretary-manager, adds her words of welcome to the Grangers after other city and Chamber officials had done the same Wednesday morning.

Cowden explains Extension changes

The reorganization of the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service was explained to Grange delegates last Wednesday by Dean Tom Cowden of the MSU Agriculture Department.

Cowden prefaced his remarks, however, by thanking the Grange for its part in the historical growth of MSU.

AS TO THE Extension Service, he said the changes were being made because of the failure of the Legislature to provide an increase in funds for the service as it had the other departments of MSU. He pointed out the reorganization of Extension would result in the cutting of 32 positions, including 20 in home economics, 5 in 4-H, 3 in agriculture and 7 in the staff at MSU.

"Extension Service has been in trouble for a number of years," Cowden said. "There are many reasons why, the main ones being the failure to keep ahead of the modern farmer, and the home economics program."

COWDEN said that what is being done is to separate the Extension Service from the continuing education program of MSU. As a separate unit, the Extension Service will serve rural Michigan.

He said MSU does not argue that Extension-type services are needed in the city, too, "but others can do some of this work; we've made the decision to concentrate in rural Michigan."

DEAN COWDEN said the Extension Service will concentrate in five major areas of work: 1) commercial agriculture; 2) agriculture marketing; 3) natural resources; 4) family living education; and 5) 4-H and youth programs.

The home economics phase of Extension work is a part of MSU's overall program of education for women and of their education in home economics. What the Extension service is trying to do under the reorganization is to concentrate its education in home economics with the women in the rural areas of the state, Cowden said.

In 4-H work, he said, there will be more emphasis on work with older youths.

"WE HOPE we've done what the rural people of Michigan want done," Cowden said. "We can't please everyone, we know. With what we have done, we are really

Says eye checkups insure safe driving

A trucking industry safety director has urged drivers to have their eyes checked frequently.

"The recommendation of optometrists and ophthalmologists for an eye check-up at least every two years is more than just advertising," said Jerry Gilles, safety director of Michigan Trucking Assn., speaking in connection with the Michigan trucking industry's October courtesy and safety campaign on "Vision."

"WHEN YOU STOP to realize that practically every action a driver takes is based upon what he sees," Gilles said, "the importance of good vision cannot be over emphasized."

Gilles said that eye specialists recognize many aspects of vision as having a relationship to safe driving. He listed the principal factors in good vision and their importance to safe driving as:

1. Visual Acuity - Best defined as "see-ability," the basic ability to see and distinguish objects.
2. FORM FIELD of Vision - The ability to see objects out to the side while looking straight ahead. This is what enables the driver to see hazards off to one side.
3. Binocular Vision - The ability of both eyes to work together as a team. The failure of eyes to work together, due to muscular deficiencies, results in undue eyestrain and distorted vision.
4. Depth Perception - The ability to judge the position of objects in space, the relationship and distance between them and their relation to the viewer. It is important in judging following distance, safe passing space and clearance when driving.
5. COLOR PRECEPTION - The ability to recognize and distinguish between colors. For driving, it is important to distinguish between red, green, and yellow.
6. Night Vision and Glare Recovery - The ability to see in dim light and to quickly regain normal night vision after looking at a bright light is important to safe night driving.

Gilles went on to say that a person's vision changes constantly.

"Some changes are temporary and are caused by fatigue, excessive smoking, or even something so seemingly simple as a cold or hay fever. Of greater importance are the subtle changes that occur with the passage of time. Visual acuity, night vision and glare recovery all deteriorate with age. Many eye diseases can develop, which, if neglected, may prove serious and even lead to blindness," he declared. "Vision tests are available to any interested group by contacting the safety department, Michigan Trucking Assn., Lansing," he added.

"ON THE other hand, periodic eye examinations can enable the detection of these conditions, and, in most cases, permit them to be corrected. They also warn the driver of any abnormal eye condition that he may have and the specialist can often suggest means to compensate for the condition so that the patient can continue to drive safely," Gilles pointed out.

"Even for the youngsters, who will be tomorrow's drivers, an eye examination now will not only uncover visual problems that may be a source of trouble in their school work, but it may not be too late to correct them for greater safety when the youngster reaches driving age," he concluded.

Flower arranging at Literary Club

ELSIE - "Say it With Flowers" was Tuesday night's program for the Woman's Literary Club in the Home Ec room of Elsie High School. Mrs. Kenneth Schroeder of the Selbig Garden Center in Owosso was guest speaker. She amazed her audience by demonstrations of flower arrangements using unusual items about the home.

She displayed several with artificial flowers for permanent centerpieces and wall hangings and also arranged fresh flowers in various types of vases brought by the club women.

A large bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums was presented to Mrs. Lawrence Hess, whose birthday was the nearest to that day.

Mrs. R. C. Parks served as program chairman and introduced the speaker.

The musical part of the evening brought a nostalgic note as Mrs. Roland Schadt played two recordings on her old-fashioned hand-crank type, portable Victrola. The records selected were "I Want a Girl Just Like the Girl That Married Dear Old Dad" by the Hoosier Hotshots and "Silver Threads Among the Gold" by Henry Burr and the Peerless Quartet, popular a quarter of a century ago.

Mrs. Paul Platner presided for the business meeting. Progress on the Trading Post activities was reported as brisk for its first few days. It will close Oct. 23.

Mrs. Hess related plans for the annual Benefit Card Party for the Elsie Public Library, Tuesday night Nov. 2 at 7:45 p.m. in Knight Elementary School. Mrs. Durward Conklin is general chairman. Mrs. Harold Heldman distributed tickets to the members.

Mrs. Henry Allen gave a comprehensive report of a recent state meeting of the American Cancer Society at Lansing's Civic Center. She had accompanied Mrs. Albert Fruehl of St. Johns, recently appointed Clinton County Chairman of Volunteers, for the two-day session earlier this month.

They saw many displays and heard lectures and panel discussions on the three-fold purpose of the Society: educating the public about cancer; research; the biggest tool for which most funds are allocated; and service to help the patients when they need help. Members of the Woman's Literary Club have been staunch supporters of the Cancer Society for many years and have received much recognition for their efforts.

Clinton County has nine loan closets consisting of wheel chairs, hospital beds, crutches, walkers and other articles useful in the sick room. One of these loan closets is located in Elsie with the WLC as supervisor. The others are at Eagle, Wacousta, Ovid, DeWitt, Fowler, Westphalia and Park Lake.

Mrs. Allen reported that 145 people have used the loan closets during the past year.

Mrs. Myrtle Cook and Mrs. Jack Howes were hostesses while Mrs. Howard Peltier, Mrs. Edwin Myler and Mrs. C. S. Goodrich assisted in serving refreshments from a Halloween decorated table.

Seventy-five people attended the family night potluck supper and program to welcome the Rev. Gordon Showers, Mrs. Showers and son, David, recently transferred from Beaverton to the Elsie and Duplain pastorates.

The local Church Activities committee of the WSCS was in charge of the supper while the MYF arranged the tables and their decorations. They used chrysanthemums, autumn leaves and ivy.

The invocation was given by Charles Fizzell and Mrs. Alpha Grubaugh, WSCS president, served as program chairman.

The Junior Choir, directed by Jennifer Keys, sang three selections with Sharon Dunham at the piano. Mrs. Alton Fizzell gave a humorous reading and remarks were made by the Showers family. Mrs. Grubaugh gave the closing prayer and benediction.

The Elsie Band Boosters will sell band tags at the Elsie-Portland game on Friday, Oct. 29, and also the following Saturday on Main Street. Proceeds will be used for new Ovid-Elsie Band uniforms.

Heading the Communities Chest drive for funds in the Elsie area are: Don Brewbaker, Mrs. Harold Doten, Mrs. Pat Craven, Mrs. Gordon Mead and Mrs. William Fuerstenau.

Senior MYF has been invited to a skating party Thursday at Crystal, sponsored by the Perrinton-Pompeii MYF.

The Elsie WSCS has been invited to join with the Bannister WSCS at the Bannister Methodist Church Friday for a Week of Prayer and Self-Denial service. Miss Mamie Baird, a retired missionary will speak. There will be a sack lunch at 12:30 p.m. with dessert and beverage furnished.

Pfc Duane L. Platner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Platner, is now stationed in Viet Nam. For his friends who wish to write letters, following is his address: Pfc Duane L. Platner US 55-771 871, Hq. Co. 1st BN, 28th Inf., 1st Division, APO San Francisco, Calif. 96345.

Scouts trip west seen at PTA meet

ELSIE - The October PTA meeting opened Monday night in the Elsie High School gymnasium with Boy Scout leader, Keith Thornton and four members of his troop presenting the Flag ceremony.

The four boys had spent 23 days on an expedition and Western Tour to Philmont Scout Ranch near Cimarron, N. Mex., last summer.

Leader Thornton introduced the boys—Bobby Bloomer, Ronnie Sills, David Williams and Dennis Mead, who showed colored slides of their trip.

Among the scenes were the bridges crossing the large rivers as they drove West across the plains, huge elevators at Kansas, Eisenhower's Museum at Abilene and their first view of the mountains.

The US Air Force Academy near Colorado Springs with views of the marching men and the beautiful scenery around Denver, Aspen Ski Resort, the high Passes in the Rockies and the snow-capped peaks were others.

They also showed pictures taken on chair lift trips to the top of Loges Peak and over White River National Forests.

The Philmont Scout Ranch comprises 137,000 acres of the slopes of the Sangre de Cristo range of the Rocky Mountain chain.

They showed their Philmont Camping sites and some activities of their 12-day high-adventure camping experience in that rugged country, where each carried his own equipment and cooked his own food.

Upon returning home they had covered 4,000 miles, 50 miles by foot and 10 by horseback.

The boys also arranged a display with several maps of their expedition, souvenirs, snapshots and large group pictures. The emblems and insignia from their Oldsmobile No. 13 in the large caravan were also shown.

Leader Thornton gave a few remarks about the activities of the local troop and expressed the need for part-time adult help in this character building program. Boys from 11 through 17 are invited to join, he said, and they meet Tuesday evening from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in the American Legion Hall.

The second part of the program was a resume of the Ovid-Elsie School building program by Supt. Robert Beauchamp from the vote that OK'd the project to awarding of contract to the Erhardt Construction Co., of Grand Rapids. Beauchamp also said that earth-moving equipment was already at work, the farm house moved from the site, and offices set up for the construction workers.

He invited everyone to attend the ground-breaking ceremony the next morning. In the meantime, he added, that plans are set for sale of the $200,000 bonds for the swimming pool and athletic facilities on Nov. 8 and architects will have plans completed this month for the three elementary units.

During a brief business meeting, Robert Bloomer Sr. was selected to represent the Elsie PTA on the joint committee from the schools to select three combinations for school colors, motto and nickname. This information will be submitted to the students of both schools for a vote. The committee is composed of several key persons from each school.

The next PTA meeting will be Nov. 8 when a movie "Adults in a Hurry" will be shown.

Elsie MYF to trick or treat for UNICEF

ELSIE - The Senior and Intermediate MYF groups of the local Methodist Church will join for collection of coins to aid the world's needy children as part of the Trick or Treat for the UNICEF program.

The young people will meet at the Methodist Church Sunday, Oct. 31, afternoon at 4:00 p.m., where they will receive instructions for the drive. They will carry official UNICEF identification and be supervised by adults.

After making their collections, they will return to Fellowship Hall to count the coins and enjoy hot refreshments.

The Elsie young people will be joining millions of American children in showing concern and friendship for their neighbors around the world.

The Children's Fund will send food and medicine to children and mothers in more than 100 countries. UNICEF is the only agency of the United Nations concerned exclusively with the welfare of children and is a means of freeing all children from ignorance, disease, malnutrition and hunger.

"Share - Not Scare," is the motto for this Trick or Treat program that is in its 16th year. It has been endorsed by President Lyndon Johnson and approved by parents, teachers, religious and youth leaders in all parts of the county.

Name officers of Elsie OES

ELSIE - Mrs. Robert Martin was chosen as Worthy Matron of Elsie Chapter OES at the annual meeting Wednesday night at the Masonic Hall.

Assisting her in the East will be Mr. John Hall, worthy patron; Mrs. John Hall, secretary; and Mrs. William Wilson, treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Luman Hall will serve as associate patron and matron and Mrs. Dale C. Levey and Mrs. C. H. Sills as conductress and associate conductress, respectively. Other officers will be appointed by Mrs. Martin. Nov. 4 has been scheduled for installation of the new officers.

Other installation dates of Clinton County Chapters were announced: Ovid, Oct. 23; Wacousta, Oct. 26; DeWitt, Oct. 30; and Maple Rapids, Nov. 6.

A social hour followed with Mr. and Mrs. Kelley Carter, Mrs. Helen Carter, Mrs. Isolda Irving and Mrs. Max Rivest of Ovid in charge. Halloween decorations were used on the tables.

The greatest acreage-increase year of the American Tree Farm System was 1957 when 3,709,307 acres were added.

Dues uses topic of FB group

The Parker Center Community Farm Bureau met last Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schaefer.

William Fox, chairman, conducted the business meeting. The group decided to support CROP. The package reporter, Byron Kissane, compared types and uses of gasolines today with those of the past. Mrs. Wilbur Brandt reviewed a recent women's meeting.

WILLIAM Kissane led a discussion of how best to use the increased money collected from dues. The group suggested it be used to increase the Farm Bureau's influence in the legislature, also having additional Farm Bureau field men, and for advice and help with income tax. Mrs. Raymond Doyle, recreation leader, led a humorous group activity. Refreshments were served by the hosts and co-hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Brandt.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 10 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kaltrider.

In New York City during 1963 there were 549 homicides. The knife (or other sharp weapon) was used in 225 or 41 per cent, while physical force (hands or feet) was used in 101 homicides or 18 per cent. A rifle or shotgun was used in 37 homicides or 7 per cent.

Central National Bank officials chat informally last Thursday in the lobby of the bank's new branch office at Pewamo during an open house. Left to right are: Stan Ash, director; Robert Leonard, executive vice president; Robert Purtill, who will be in charge of the branch office; and directors Paul Nobis and Leon Schumaker.

The finishing touches are put on the outdoor sign at the Central National Bank's new Pewamo branch office last Thursday when the bank opened its doors for business. The remodeled interior of the old bank building is paneled and carpeted.

New bank opened at Pewamo last week

The fast-growing Central National Bank of St. Johns opened the doors of its new Pewamo branch bank last Thursday and held an open house for the people of the community to see all parts of the new facility.

The bank is located at the corner of State and Main streets in Pewamo, in a red brick structure that once before housed a bank. The vault of the previous institution is being used by the Central National Bank now.

A FEW HOURS after its opening last Thursday, Pewamo area folks were stopping by to look the bank over, meet the officials of the bank and open up accounts.

Robert Purtill, a vice president at the St. Johns office since Aug. 30, will be in charge at the Pewamo office. Mrs. Doris Vance will be the teller there.

Banking hours will be 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, 9 a.m. to noon on Thursday and Saturday and 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Fridays.

THE INTERIOR of the bank building has undergone extensive remodeling in the last couple of weeks. It now has rich, dark paneling and green carpeting. Mrs. Vance will work behind the teller's counter on the north side

ROBERT PURTILL of the building; Purtill will have a desk on the south side of the building in the lobby area.

The Central National Bank of St. Johns now has branches at Pewamo and Ovid.

Michigan's raspberry production will likely decline 50 per cent or more in the next 15 years, according to Michigan State University scientists. They say that most of the decline will be caused by the lack of disease-free, highly-productive varieties and mechanical harvesting techniques.

Church news from Greenbush

S. GREENBUSH—"The Beauty of Holiness" was the theme of the sermon Rev Wittenbach chose last Sunday. If we will but close our eyes for a few moments we can see such beauty. We see the natural beauty with our eyes open.

The WSCS will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the Church. Mrs Flossie Wakefield and Mrs Elsie McCulloch will be the hostesses. This will be the 25th anniversary of the Society. Everyone is cordially invited.

Miss Merelene Huber showed pictures and gave a very interesting talk of her work in Kenya, Africa. She has been there ten years. It was quite a surprise to see how and where she lived and worked. There is a hospital and schools that are quite well equipped.

Rev and Mrs Rudy Wittenbach accompanied a group of MYF people to Mt. Pleasant Sunday to District Missions Convocation and MYF Fall Rally. There were about 600 people present, 300 youth and 300 adults. Those present from Greenbush were Diana Jones, Judy Whitlock, Cindy Smith, Steve Kowalk, Robert Wittenbach and Jim Kus.

For every coin collected by a UNICEF trick or treater many children will gain a chance to grow up less handicapped, with a better opportunity for a healthier, more productive life. When the youth from the Greenbush Methodist Fellowship visit your home Sunday, Oct. 31, give to help! Shop in Clinton County.

Worried over fault

Government geologists are concerned about slow movements occurring on breaks over a 42-mile stretch of the Hayward fault zone just east of San Francisco. Extensive construction is taking place or is planned for many sites in the zone. The geologists are worried that the movements will result in cracks and offsets in buildings and other man-made structures that lie across the break.

Section 6.2 General Performance Standards Applying to All Residential Districts

With the exception of Essential Services as herein defined, and activities by the City of St. Johns deemed to be a necessary part of the exercise of its municipal functions, all uses established for the Residential Districts, or placed into operation after the effective date of this Ordinance shall comply with the following standards. No use in existence on the effective date of this Ordinance shall be so altered or modified as to conflict or further conflict with these standards.

Section 6.3 R-1 Low Density Residential

6.3.1 Purpose: It is the purpose of this District to encourage a predominance of dwelling structures located on individual parcels of land housing only one family or one household group. The requirements for this District are designed to protect and stabilize the essential character of these areas and to promote and encourage a suitable and safe environment for family life. These requirements are particularly related to the degree of urban services available to the land and, therefore, greater lot requirements are included for those one family dwellings not served by public sewer or water. Specifically, the minimum lot size for development without either public water or public sewer is predicated upon the known characteristics of the soil predominant in the undeveloped part of the St. Johns area, and is intended to insure:

- adequate land area for individual sewage disposal systems,
- the avoidance of the possibility of contamination of the ground water, and
- the avoidance of excessive demands upon the limited ground water supplies available to individual wells.

It is recognized that a desirable living environment includes many non-residential uses of land and buildings. In order to insure compatibility and protect against potentially injurious effects upon residential property, certain minimum requirements are set forth for these uses, whether permitted by right or permitted by special use permit.

6.3.2 Uses Permitted by Right: The following uses are subject to all applicable regulations of this Ordinance:

- One-Family Dwellings (6.3.4)
- Home Occupations (6.6.1)
- Accessory Uses and Buildings (7.2.3, 7.2.4, 7.4.5)
- Temporary Buildings: Such buildings shall be incidental to construction work and shall be removed immediately upon completion or abandonment of the construction work. (7.2.2)

(6.6.7)
- Golf Courses and Country Clubs. (6.6.8)
- Gas Regulator Stations, Utility Pumping Stations, Power Substations, and Water Towers: Provided these uses are necessary for service to the adjacent residential area. If these uses are to service a larger area, a special use permit is required. (9.3)
- Swimming Pools (6.6.10)
- Customary Agricultural Operations: Provided that no farm

ARTICLE VIII NON-CONFORMING USES AND STRUCTURES

Section 8.1 Purpose:

This Ordinance establishes separate districts, each of which is an appropriate area for the location of specified types of buildings, structures, and uses. It is necessary and consistent with the establishment of these districts that all lawfully non-conforming buildings, structures, and uses be permitted to continue only under specific controls. It is, further, necessary and consistent with the establishment of these districts that certain non-conforming uses be eliminated in accordance with applicable statutes. Therefore, it is the purpose of this Section to provide for the regulation of non-conforming buildings, structures, and uses.

Section 8.2 Non-Conforming Use of Land:

Any lawful non-conforming use of land not involving a structure or building, or in connection with which any building or structure is so employed as to be clearly incidental to such use, may be continued, subject to the following provisions.

8.2.1 Expansion: A non-conforming use of land shall not be in any way expanded or extended either on the same or adjoining property after the adoption of this Ordinance or of any subsequent amendment hereto which shall make such use of land non-conforming.

8.2.2 Discontinuance: If a non-conforming use of land is discontinued, it shall not thereafter be reestablished, and any subsequent use of the land shall conform to the regulations of the district in which the land is located. A non-conforming use of land shall be considered discontinued if customary operations of that use are not pursued more than one-half of normal business days in a given month.

8.2.3 Change of Use: The non-conforming use of land shall not be changed to any other use except to a use permitted in the district in which the land is located.

8.2.4 Non-Conforming Parking Facilities: Notwithstanding contrary provisions of this Ordinance, non-conforming off-street parking facilities used in connection with a building or land the use of which complies with the requirements of the district in which it is located may be continued for as long as the premises are used for a permitted use.

Section 8.3 Non-conforming Buildings:

Any building which does not conform to the regulations of the district in which it is located may be continued subject to the provisions of this Section.

8.3.1 Repair, Alteration or Enlargement: Ordinary repairs or incidental alterations to correct deterioration or wear may be made except those required by law or ordinance, unless any such alterations or enlargements render the building conforming to all the regulations of the district in which such building is located; however, in a district where residences are prohibited, an existing single family or two family use building may be permitted additions and structural alterations providing:

a. That such structural changes can be made only if in conformity with all the regulations of use, height, area, yard, useable open space, and off-street parking, as required in the R-3 High Density Residential District.

b. That no additional family units may be provided, and that there is no intensification of occupancy as would constitute a rooming or boarding house.

c. That floor area added shall not exceed 50 per cent of the total floor area existing in the dwelling at the time of affixing prescriptive zoning.

d. That such addition may not be made if a portion of the existing dwelling has been converted to commercial or industrial use subsequent to the prescriptive zoning.

e. That the parcel to be so used is restricted to that existing as a residential use at the time of affixing the prescriptive zoning district, or to that parcel plus such subsequent consolidation as would bring the parcel up to, or tending toward, in dimension and area, the minimum residential building site parcel as specified in this Ordinance.

8.3.2 Restoration of Damaged Structures: A non-conforming building which is partially destroyed, in any manner or from any cause whatsoever, may be restored provided the cost of such restoration does not exceed 50 per cent of the replacement cost of the building. No repairs or restoration shall be undertaken, however, unless started within one year from the date of the partial destruction and is diligently carried on to completion. If the cost of restoration exceeds 50 per cent of the cost of replacing the entire structure, such structure when restored shall comply with all provisions of the district in which it is located, except that, if it is located on a lot with a smaller lot area or a lesser width of lot than is prescribed for the district in which it is located. It need not comply with the provisions of that district for minimum lot area or minimum width of lot but shall maintain as a minimum the lot area and lot width existing previous to the damage to the building or structure.

The determination of replacement cost shall be made by the Zoning Administrator according to the standards adopted by the St. Johns Board of Review.

Section 8.4 Non-Conforming Uses:

The lawful non-conforming use of a building or structure may be continued subject to the following provisions.

8.4.1 Expansion: The non-conforming use of part of a building or structure shall not be expanded or extended into any portion of such building.

8.4.2 Discontinuance of Use: A non-conforming use of a building shall be considered discontinued if customary operations of that use are not pursued more than one-half of the normal business days in a twelve-month period. Such discontinuance shall be considered prima facie evidence of the intention to abandon legally the non-conforming use. Thereafter such use shall not be re-established, and any future use shall be in conformity with the provisions of the district within which it is located.

8.4.3 Change of Use: When a non-conforming use has been changed to a conforming use, it shall not thereafter be changed to a non-conforming use. A non-conforming use may be changed only to a use permitted in the district in which such use is located.

Section 8.5 Elimination:

If any non-conforming use neither is made fully conforming with all applicable provisions of this Ordinance nor is discontinued within three years of the effective date of this Ordinance, or within three years of the effective date of any subsequent amendment to this Ordinance which causes such use to become non-conforming, the City Commission may, on its own initiative or upon petition by no less than 50 per cent of the owners of real property within 500 feet of such non-conforming use, initiate proceedings for the acquisition of such use and land by purchase, condemnation, or otherwise.

Section 8.6 Prior Construction Approval:

Nothing in this Ordinance shall prohibit the completion of construction and use of a non-conforming building for which a building permit has been issued prior to the effective date of this Ordinance, provided that construction is commenced within 90 days after the date of issuance of the permit; that construction is carried on diligently and without interruption for a continuous period in excess of 30 days; and that the entire building shall have been completed according to the plans filed with the permit application within two years after the issuance of the building permit.

Knack of growing food US weapon for peace

The siren song of communism promises a glittering shortcut to prosperity for hungry people: "We Russians, too, were once poor and exploited," hums the party line, "but communism helped us become a mighty nation."

The naked truth is, of course, that Russia is able to float astronauts in space, but can't set enough meat and potatoes on the table.

COMMUNISM puts the blight on food production everywhere. Russia's farm output trails the US by more than 30 per cent—even though planted acreage is 75 per cent larger, and she has 45 million more to feed. Red China is producing less food per capita for her hungry millions than she did when the Communists took over. Eastern Europe, once the breadbasket of the world, rations bread after two decades of communism.

WHY THESE tragic failures? Because party bosses can force a man to dig coal, but it takes incentive to coax more milk from a cow. "Once there are investment opportunities and efficient incentives, farmers will turn sand into gold," says Dr Ted Schultz, University of Chicago farm economist. American farmers have done it.

Your knack of growing food is the western world's greatest weapon for peace.

Precious gift of sight is one worth preserving

Half of all blindness in the United States could be prevented!

This is the message the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness delivered to Americans last month during their 16th annual observance of "Sight Saving Month." It's a message that bears repeating every day of every week of every month, for without sight we lose the real appreciation of the beauty that is Michigan and America.

No magic drugs nor miracle cures are needed to reduce the 32,000 new cases of blindness that will strike during the coming year. Just the day-to-day use of eye health and safety knowledge our nation already possesses, says the National Society. In simple language, stop taking your precious sense of sight for granted. A lifetime of good sight must be earned.

FIGURES SHOW that a tragic number of Americans are forfeiting their sight to disease, accidents and neglect: More than 12,000,000 school children are in need of some form of eye care. Eye accidents imperil 158,700 students each year. More than 1,375,000 adults over 40 years are threatened with blindness from glaucoma. Industry is hit by 1,000 eye accidents every working day of the year. Countless older Americans could regain useful lives through cataract surgery or low vision aids.

Said President Johnson recently:

"SIGHT-SAVING Month once again most poignantly reminds every American that half of all blindness is preventable. Through greater personal vigilance against accidents and eye diseases such as glaucoma, each of us can help to conserve for ourselves and others that most precious of all gifts—the gift of sight."

With all numbers drawn in the huge lottery at Washington Tuesday, the Clinton County draft Board, together with those in every other county in the state and nation, is now preparing for the next step in making a small percentage of the registrants soldiers beginning on Nov. 18 when induction work will begin. No information is available as yet concerning the actual number of men to be drafted from the county, except that it will only be a comparative few from among the 3,000 or more who registered.

Following the resignation of Miss Edith Dunn, W. G. Wykoff, who for many years has been mailing clerk at St. Johns post office, has been promoted to assistant postmaster. George Os-good, who has been senior substitute for some time, has been promoted to a regular clerkship.

The F. J. Ward building on the east side of Clinton Avenue in the third block, formerly occupied by A. J. Cressman's feed store, has been fitted into an auto sales-room to be used by D. L. Hunt and R. G. Allison, agents for the Chalmers and Briscoe cars.

TOPS FOR WOODCOCK Within the last few years, Michigan has come into its own as a woodcock hunting state. In 1964, some 176,000 woodcock were shot in this state, a figure believed to be tops for the nation.

What about the extra $1 for license plates?

Beginning next Monday, 1966 auto license plates will go on sale in Clinton and other counties of the state. Added to the price of the license plates this year will be an additional fee for the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund, a subject that's met with considerable controversy since its establishment by the Legislature.

Its function, as devised by the lawmakers and proponents, is to protect innocent victims of uninsured drivers by setting up a fund of more than $11 million to pay claims. Whether you think it's good or bad, the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund is here. This article, based on news releases from the secretary of state's office, explains what it's all about.

EACH UNINSURED motor vehicle owner pays $35 into the fund. All insured owners, on the other hand, pay only $1 into the fund.

The uninsured motorist receives absolutely nothing for his $35 fee. This is not insurance. Actually, this is a penalty he pays for the option of remaining uninsured.

On the other hand, the insured driver does get something for his $1 fee — insurance protection. This protection is much like the uninsured motorist rider which is sold through private insurance companies and which costs several times more than the $1.

SECRETARY OF State James M. Hare urges motorists to get double protection by purchasing the private uninsured motorist rider. "The fund offers excellent protection on accidents with uninsured motorists here in Michigan," says Hare, "but does not apply outside of Michigan. This is where the private option pays off."

Hare estimates there are between 500,000 and 600,000 uninsured vehicles in Michigan, about 15 per cent of the total number in the state. The estimate is based on samplings of accident reports to the department.

HARE FURTHER figures that if Michigan follows the pattern established by other states, about half of the current uninsured drivers will get into the insured class before they contribute into the fund.

"This leaves about 300,000 uninsured and 3.7 million insured and adds up to about $11.2 million to start the fund," Hare asserted.

Will the fund end up in the red? Hare said he didn't know. . . that it depended on too many intangibles. He cited these intangibles as possible amendments to the law, such as increasing minimum claims from $50 to $200 or $300 and removing claims on hit-and-run property damage accidents.

"The fund is patterned after one which has been highly successful and solvent in Ontario, Canada," Hare said.

MOST PERSONS who have insurance on their cars have both collision and liability insurance. But there are some motorists who think they have liability coverage and do not.

To be on the safe side, Hare is urging Michigan's 4 million motor vehicle owners to get their policies out and check them thoroughly if they are not absolutely sure.

"Unless persons have the liability coverage . . . public liability and property damage (PL and PD) . . . they may have to pay the long shot of $35 when they buy license plates," Hare said.

"AND UNLESS they extend their coverage, they will have to be considered uninsured insofar as the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund goes.

How does an insured owner qualify for the low $1 fee?

Most companies will be furnishing their liability insurers with a certificate of insurance, which serves as proof that he does have liability insurance cover age. This holds for all Michigan based companies, says Hare.

"THERE ARE some out-of-state insurance carriers that we are not exactly sure of," Hare said. "We're hopeful they will be able to furnish their customers with certificates.

"However, some persons may have to bring in their policies or other valid proof that they paid their insurance," Hare said.

According to Hare, the insurance companies which will be issuing certificates will have them out in time for the Nov. 1 opening of license plate sales.

He suggests that all insured motorists who do not receive a certificate contact their agents or salesmen to see if they can get it or some other proof that they are insured.

WHAT ABOUT persons who make false claims of insurance?

"This is a misdemeanor," Hare said, "subject to both fine, possible prison sentence, and the loss of driving privilege. There will be the cheaters, I'm sure, but we're going to throw the book at anybody who makes a fraudulent claim. We're going to try to discourage this right off the bat. "I don't think too many persons . . . if they would give it some thought . . . would jeopardize their futures and face other punitive action for $35," he concluded.

THE "$64 QUESTION" centers about the payment of $1. The question is usually about the same . . . "Why me? Why do I have to pay when I already carry liability insurance?"

"The dollar paid into the fund actually protects the insured motorist against accidents with negligent uninsured drivers," Hare said.

"It protects against contingencies such as personal injury in accidents with hit-and-runners and persons driving stolen vehicles, and out-of-state uninsured drivers who are involved in Michigan accidents."

THE $35 Michigan's uninsured must pay into the fund isn't buying them any insurance, Hare said.

"These drivers are still subject to Michigan's financial responsibility laws. If they are proven negligent in an accident and a claim is filed against the fund, guilty drivers must repay the fund in full or be charged with a misdemeanor, which could result in the loss of driving privilege, fine, and possible other penalties."

When I was a small boy in school I was taught by my parents and teachers of our American heritage, our flag and national anthem—what they meant and what they stood for.

I can remember as a boy seeing the American flag go by in a parade or to hear our national anthem and I would have a funny feeling inside. I still have that feeling today whenever our flag is raised or when I hear our national anthem. Back then it was a funny feeling; today I know it is pride, because I am proud of what our flag and national anthem stand for, and the thousands of men in our history who have given their lives unquestionably to preserve this meaning.

LATELY AS I'VE ATTENDED football games and other activities where the proceedings start with our flag being raised and our anthem played, my attention has been drawn to the lack of respect shown by the people in attendance, both young and old. Not all the people, but enough to be noticeable.

Recently at a football game in a neighboring community and then a week later at our own field I noticed that as the band played the national anthem and our flag was raised, quite a few grade-school-age children continued to play and run around instead of standing and facing the flag. Then at other games I noticed teenagers and adults. They all stood, but in doing so they acted as if they were doing it only because everyone else was; some just stood there like they didn't know why, and I believe they didn't.

THEN THIS PAST weekend we had the demonstrations against the war in Viet Nam, of young men burning draft cards and the many young men who are trying to dodge the draft legally and illegally.

What does this all add up to? I think somewhere along the line we have missed the boat in instilling in our people, both young and old, the way in which we attained the many freedoms and rights we have today, and of the symbols—our flag and anthem—which played a major role in attaining these rights.

If as our flag is raised or passes by, a man will reflect on the many freedoms that he has that others do not have, and think of the hundreds of thousands of men who have given their lives since our country began to insure these freedoms, he will understand why an old flag waver like me has a funny feeling inside.

Local soldier irked by demonstrations

RAMBLIN' with Rink

ONE OF the reasons for my writing is serious. It's in direct relation to the recent student demonstrations against the US government's policy in Viet Nam. To me this is appalling; it's nothing more than a large-scale display of the current ignorance of anyone so childish as to participate in such demonstrations or to hold such an attitude of the US government.

These "students" if you can really call them students, should spend a little more time remembering their studies. I don't profess to be an "educated" man, but I am a free American and darned proud of it. I happen to be an enlisted man in the Navy who at one time was a "student." I am 24 years old and currently in Viet Nam (just so you won't confuse this with so-called propaganda).

IT'S IMPOSSIBLE for me to see why any American, unless he's a fool without the foresight to see beyond the end of his nose, can't figure out why we are over here. If it's within your capabilities, I'd appreciate your informing these "students" that we (I'm sure I speak for all service men in Viet Nam) would appreciate hearing that our efforts to preserve the freedom that they so enjoy, and which others are Overnight the world became bare.

The transition from autumn to winter appearance of the landscape was sharp and distinct in 1965. On Oct. 19 it looked like fall in Clinton County; Oct. 20 dawned over a bleak, wintry-looking landscape.

To be sure, there was no snow; and it wasn't even cold. But rain during the night last Tuesday night did in a few hours what another week of Indian summer might not have been able to do. The colorful leaves that brightened the streets and yards were a soggy mess that made the roadways slippery and more treacherous than just a plain wet street.

MORE discouraging to the fall color fans was the sudden absence of leaves on the trees. Trees that on Tuesday stood full and brilliant against a blue sky Wednesday stretched grey and sullen against the gaut, precipitating clouds.

They talk like "big people" yet don't have sufficient knowledge of the truth to carry on an intelligent conversation with a child. I suggest to them a good visit with a history book or better yet an open-eye view of the world. They would run like children for their home, TV and a comfortable life, as would we all if this wasn't necessary to maintain that comfortable life.

Drinking arrests up by 166, WCTU finds

THE END OF September draws to a close the fiscal year for the Women's Christian Temperance Union. For the sixth consecutive year, with the kindly help of Sheriff Patterson, Mrs Mildred Rahl and all other enforcement officers in the city, we of the WCTU have been able to tabulate the arrests in Clinton County from drinking alcoholic beverages.

There were 290 arrests (not convictions) the past year with "minors in possession" leading with 166 arrests, "driving while drunk" 2, "drunk and disorderly" 60, "furnishing to minors" 15, "drunk on highway" 3, and "under the influence" 44.

THERE WERE 124 arrests the year before. So that makes a gain See LETTERS page 9-C

ONE HOUSE THEN MAKES 2 TODAY

This house, which once stood on the site of the present St. Johns High School, still stands, although it is now two houses located on West State Street near Morton. The house belonged to the late Cooley Ball, one of the banking pioneers of St. Johns and the grandfather of Rodney B. Wilson, for whom the high school is named. The picture came from the collection of the late Nora and Arthur Wilson.

Readers are invited to submit old pictures and pictures of old buildings, along with brief, pertinent information, for use in this series.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

High out-of-state student ratio may be mixed blessing

Despite legislative efforts to reduce the number of out-of-state students at Michigan's colleges and universities, the total changes little.

Some legislators feel that students from elsewhere deprive Michigan students, whose parents are paying taxes, from attending schools here.

UNIVERSITY officials feel differently. They argue with some logic that the opportunity for Michigan students to meet and mix with students from other states and countries is a necessary educational experience.

They identify the extra costs paid by the out-of-state student plus the sizable amounts of money he and his family spends in the state while he is studying here as economic assets.

Officials from the state institutions also state that despite the influx of student applications, they have not yet had to refuse admission to a Michigan resident whose records indicated he could successfully complete a college degree.

A STUDY prepared for the Midwest Council of State Governments shows that in the 1963-64 school year Michigan's public colleges and universities enrolled 12.5 per cent of their students from other states and countries. This included some 14,275 out-of-state students and 3,960 from foreign countries.

Sixteen New England and Middle Atlantic states accounted for more than 11,000 of the 14,275 non-residents enrolled in Michigan in the study period.

Migration of Michigan students to other states was considerably lower than the rate of influx. The other states admitted 5,902 students from Michigan.

IMBALANCE was noted in the report in all states except Washington, which took in 81 Michigan residents and sent the same number of students here. Students entering Michigan public schools from 31 states outnumbered those leaving here, while 17 states admitted more Michigan students than came here.

Out-migration from Michigan was most pronounced at schools in the far west and southwest.

REAL PROGRESS seems apparent after the first full operative year of Michigan's community mental health services law.

A total of 13 day-care centers for severely retarded were opened during the past year to receive state funds under the law. Another six are in the planning stage. In all, the 19 centers will provide services for 350 people, primarily children.

These new services were credited largely for reducing the state's institutional waiting list to 1,557 at mid-year. This was the lowest number on the list since 1961.

NEW day-care centers ranged in size from a capacity to serve 12 persons, to the 96-person plan operating in a group of centrally-supervised units in Wayne County. Limitations are designed to keep a ratio of six students per instructor.

Most of the 19 centers are geared to serve two dozen or less. The age range is from two to 26 years, but most set narrower limits such as 5 to 15 years of age.

FIRST CENTERS to open are Wayne, Genesee, Kent, Jackson, Kalamazoo, St. Clair, Muskegon, Oakland, Saginaw, Macomb and Washtenaw counties. St. Clair and Macomb counties each have two day-care centers in operation.

Among the six new centers are additional facilities for Genesee and Oakland counties and new units to serve Ionia, Calhoun and Monroe counties. The first Upper Peninsula center is planned for next April.

This is the week when the owls howl and the cats scat and the witches twitch, and you'd better have all your porch lights on and have plenty of handouts by the front door.

A teacher in the local schools recently handed out an assignment on witchcraft when the class was studying the famous witch trials of Salem. Half of the student body mobbed us with requests for books on black magic and all that sinister stuff.

IN THE children's department we found two in the "Easy" classification—one new and one not so new. The new one is a Junior Literary Guild book called HUMBLED WITCH. It's by Lorna Balian and it was published by the Abingdon Press, the big publishing house of the Methodist Church.

WHICH WITCH by Robert Lason has been around for a couple years and it's a big favorite. If you happen to have read it, don't give away the story to somebody who hasn't. One thing ought to be said, however. It's strictly a fun book.

THE LONELY WITCH by Gunhild Paehr came to us from Albert Whitman and Co. with whom we have a contract for a certain number of new children's books each year. THE LONELY WITCH is a human(?) interest story about a witch with problems, chief among them being that she isn't as young as she used to be.

After all, what a good world!

It's delightful in here this morning!

As an artist I stood back and looked at my creation. The last batch of grape jelly had been poured into the glasses. Held up to the light they are a pure ruby. What a joy and satisfaction to behold!

The grape aroma fills the room. The sun is also streaming in from the big east window bathing this yellow room in a dazzling flood of sunshine . . . and happiness.

What a good feeling!

YES, IT'S GOOD to feel good again and it's good to feel like writing again. I had an operation this summer. Several had assured me that it would be just like a vacation. Oh, the books I was going to read. Had saved two to enjoy without having to stop to get meals or iron and things like that. Those books haven't been read yet. In the hospital my eyes played tricks on me. Then life has been playing tricks.

Then this morning something said, "Stop! Pause a bit. Now!"

IT'S GOOD to be back at my typewriter. The cover hasn't been off in months. I've learned a lot during that time. Perhaps during no other similar period of my life has so much been crammed. Never had I had so much about which to write.

We moved. A German student lived with us for a year.

We've found that there are a lot of nice people in the world. Whatever would we do without the kind words and comfort of neighbors and friends? I especially enjoy the friendship of the wee girl across the road; Mary Jane Bearup, Her wave and "Hi, Bell," make me mighty grateful and happy that they are neighbors.

THERE ARE a lot of folks who have shared their favorite recipes with me. I'll include a couple next week.

Have YOU been putting something off? Start today!!!

of 166 if I read my figures correctly. Appalling, I agree with you, dear reader, but lest we forget, Sheriff Patterson informs me that they have become more strict in enforcing the law. Also two more police officers have been added in the city.

Last year there was a 12 per cent increase in highway deaths over the previous year. It now appears that the death toll on highways during 1965 will exceed 50,000.

ONEHALF the fatal accidents are alcohol-involved. The social drinker, not the drunk, is the biggest problem on our streets and highways. Driving ability is definitely impaired.

The above statement is not mine but a quotation from the National Safety Council.

So, in closing, I hope the coming year that we make Clinton County a safer place and the above figures much less.

Lie detector tests for Vietnamese?

Rep. Bob Wilson (Calif.) . . . One of the major problems our troops face in Vietnam is that of determining whether a suspected Vietcong prisoner is really an enemy or is an innocent peasant

"Mr Stephen L. Gardella, who is the polygraph examiner at the San Diego Police Department, has come forth with an interesting and commendable recommendation that polygraphs be used to determine whether or not suspects are telling the truth. Mr Gardella informs me that many reserve officers and men are trained polygraph examiners

"I INCLUDE as a portion of my remarks the following article by Stephen L. Gardella." (The condensed article follows):

It is a known fact that in almost every military operation in combat situations, as well as counter insurgency, the weakest link is intelligence . . .

I believe that our intelligence can be improved immeasurably and possibly countless American lives saved by utilizing the polygraph to question prisoners of war and insurgents under combat conditions. I base this theory in part, on the following personal experience:

"ON OCT. 21, 1951, while a member of G Co., 3rd Bn., 1st Marine Division, stationed in Korea in defensive position, several North Koreans came over to our lines and surrendered.

"The prisoners upon being intensively interrogated, through an interpreter, would reveal only their names, rank, and serial numbers.

"On Oct. 23, 1951, a patrol was organized to go out and blow up bunkers, search for any North Koreans in hiding and to obtain any intelligence regarding the enemy.

WHILE RETURNING from the mission, the patrol was the object of concentrated enemy mortar, machine gun and rifle fire which resulted in men being killed and wounded. The patrol came through an enemy mind field and additional lives and limbs were lost."

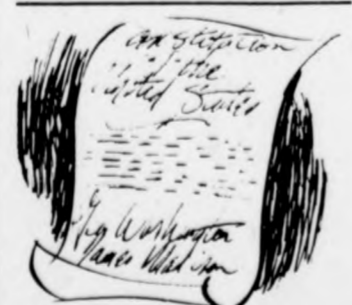

The North Korean prisoners in this case had come through these same mine fields to surrender and were undoubtedly in possession of other valuable information. If these prisoners had been examined with the aid of a polygraph the enemy gun emplacement as well as the mine field would probably have been detected resulting in fewer dead and wounded . . . Many man-hours are involved in conventional interrogation without the use of the polygraph and then should the prisoner remain silent no information is obtained. If the prisoner does respond, how do we know he is telling the truth? . . .

The usefulness of the polygraph in law enforcement is a proven fact—the probability of its value in combat intelligence is great—knowing this, I insist we must use the polygraph wherever we can to save American lives. . .

Grassroots Comment

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT The polygraph has been field tested, during war games, by our armed forces in simulated combat practice. Its effectiveness has been demonstrated.

We may hesitate to use the polygraph in actual combat for fear that our servicemen might be faced with this same tool in the event they're captured.—J.C.

10% corn picking losses due to bad picker usage

Each year about 10 per cent of the corn crop is left in the field during corn picking. Some of this loss can't be prevented, but you can cut it almost in half by properly operating your corn picker, says Orrin Berge, agricultural engineer at the University of Wisconsin.

N.F.O.

Members of the House Republican Task Force on Agriculture recently expressed "grave concern over the rapid increase in U.S. Farm Debt."

"The American farmer is being crushed under an enormous burden of debt," said Task Force chairman, Odin Langen (Minn.) "With farm mortgage and short term debt increasing far out of proportion to income, the farmer's economic situation is rapidly deteriorating." Since 1961, net farm income has remained virtually at the same level, while total farm debt has increased nearly 50%. Total farm debt today is greater than the entire Federal budget in 1948.

U.S. farmers in 1961 were indebted $1.97 for every dollar of realized net income. In 1965 the farmer will owe a whopping $2.86 for every income dollar. To further illustrate what this means, in 1929 on the eve of the great depression the farmer owed only about $2.30 for each income dollar. The farmers best postwar year was 1947, when the ratio was 49 cents for every dollar of income.

Task Force members referred to a U.S.D.A. report on farm income which states that "with a continuing decline in farm numbers, realized net income per farm from farming was at a record high of $3,642 in 1964, compared with $3,504 in 1963." Using the same method of comparisons for farm debt, the Task Force came up with far more dramatic figures: "Total debt per farm from farming was at a record high of $9,502.30 in 1964. Compared with $8,301.15 in 1963. Thus, while income per farm went up 3.9% debt per farm went up 14.4%."

Do you still feel you can borrow yourself into prosperity? Or don't you think it would be more business like to price your products? The present trend can only be reversed when enough farmers decided they need a fair price. A fair price is cost of production plus a reasonable return for your labor and investment.

Tune in every Sunday for the U.S. Farm Report, Channel 12 at 12:30.

The first rule in reducing corn losses is to drive slowly when picking - about 2-3 miles per hour. Driving slowly prevents down ears from flipping over the side of the gatherers.

THE LOWER speeds also reduce shelling. At high speeds the ears are held against the snapping rolls too long and are shelled. You should try to adjust your speed so the ears are snapped off in the middle of the snapping rolls, Berge says.

The specialist also suggests that you keep the snapping rolls as close together as crop conditions will allow. You need to keep the rolls closer together for green stalks than for dry stalks. Use a close setting until clogging becomes a problem. Then open up the setting a little and try again.

DON'T USE SET screws in the snapping roll unless absolutely necessary. They cause shelling. If you have to use them, put them on the upper end of the rolls first.

You should try to husk the ears as cleanly as possible without shelling too many kernels. Husking pegs help remove husks, but they also increase shelling. However, this shelled corn usually goes to the load and will be saved. Lowering the ear retarder and increasing pressure between the husking rolls will also improve husking.

Ashley FFA team gets bronze plaque at national meet

ASHLEY - The Ashley High School Future Farmers of America poultry judging team received a bronze plaque award and the individual members got bronze medal awards at the recent National FFA convention in Kansas City, Mo.

Judging team members attending were Roger Keck, Bob Malek, James Skaryd, alternate Dale Yelsik and Advisor Howard Bryant. Teams from 35 states competed in the poultry contest.

While in Kansas City, the FFA members and their advisor attended several sessions of the national convention, visited the Swift and Co. packing plant and the Truman Memorial Library in Independence, Mo.

The greatest percentage-increase year in number of new units for the American Tree Farm System was 1942 when 410 certified tree farms were added.

Time to 'run scared' if state scenery is to be preserved

LANSING—An action-minded crowd of over 700 natural beauty lovers were told last week at a governor's conference in Lansing that they had better start "running scared" if they hope to preserve and improve the scenery of this state.

Passing on the advice to them was one of the program's main speakers, William H. Whyte Jr., noted author and chairman of the landscape action wing of this year's earlier White House Conference on Natural Beauty.

He led into his call for immediate, sled-length action by pointing to mistakes of the past. "During the post-war building boom, we so loused up the landscape that it's become abundantly clear there must be a better way of carrying out development."

THE TIME IS ripe for doing something right now to correct these earlier wrongdoings and to prevent new ones, he said.

"This country is in the midst of a great conservation cycle and we need to be gripped by a sense of urgency. No one knows how long this period of grace will last so we'd better start running scared to push for new financing and zoning ordinances to preserve open spaces and promote our beautification efforts."

Up until last week's conference, collective citizen support to "Keep Michigan Beautiful" has been aimed primarily at anti-litter control, an approach which Gov. Romney said needed to be broadened.

IN LINE with the tone of the governor's opening address, the day-long meeting took a wide-angled look at the job of promoting all types of eye-pleasing improvements, not just natural beauty. It covered everything from fighting water pollution to planting flowers in local neighborhoods.

Attention also centered on such rallying points as billboard control, the screening of unsightly auto junkyards, and the sprucing up of communities and industrial sites.

The day's discussion went beyond just puffing up beauty for beauty's sake. Speakers and panelists hammered hard at the economic importance of making Michigan a better groomed state.

"WE CAN'T expect our tourist trade to keep thriving if we don't keep our state clean and attractive," emphasized Gov. Romney. He and others also noted that industries place much weight on the appearance of cities and communities in selecting new plant sites.

Gov. Romney showed particular concern over Michigan's water pollution problems. "We desperately need more money to take a searching look at what is happening to our inland lakes and streams," he said.

The governor continued: "There is no excuse for polluting and destroying our waters. This situation has got to be stopped now and we will take whatever steps that are necessary to do it."

SHARING the governor's views was Maurice K. Goddard, secretary of the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters.

"Too often people are inclined to think of us as impractical fellows whose high-minded interest in greenery sometimes gets in the way of 'progress,'" he said. "However," he pointed out, "you can't have polluted water and industrial prosperity. We must clean up our waters to survive economically."

Speaking of his own department's pollution control efforts, Goddard said that more than $35 million was spent to restore the beauty and use of Pennsylvania's Schuylkill River where the water was "too thick to drink and too thin to shovel."

THAT FIGURE is about $9 million more than Michigan is spending on its entire conservation program.

The conference's afternoon panel sessions produced a long list of recommendations on how to make Michigan a better place in which to live, work, and play. Among them were these proposals:

—Expand the "Keep Michigan Beautiful" program from anti-litter control to all facets of beautification, including water pollution abatement.

—Establish a state coordinator for community beautification.

—Set up a recognition program to honor cities and communities which make significant improvements.

—ORGANIZE a state-wide system keyed to youth participation in beautification programs.

—Adopt stronger laws and step up enforcement to curb health hazards and developments which create scenic eyesores.

—Appoint an advisory committee to the Conservation Department to study federal aid programs which might help finance beautification efforts.

—Update zoning ordinances and building codes to conform with urban renewal development.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

BY REP. BLAIR WOODMAN of Owosso (87th House District)

As we move into the final days of the fall session, the work days are getting longer, but the list of positive accomplishments is discouragingly small. The final agenda which took three weeks to formulate contains 33 items on which some 40 bills have been introduced.

One reason for pessimism on the potential accomplishments is that the majority party has allowed only 10 days to consider the items. Another is that several important matters were not permitted on the agenda and of those that remain many appear to be doomed.

ONE IMPORTANT item which evidently has been given a low priority and probably will not pass, is a bill which would remove the present cloud of doubt as to the right of Michigan to continue its federal-state highway program. A dispute between Michigan and the federal government over the lack of state authority to control highway signs requires clarifying legislation. Failure to act on this matter may put millions of dollars for highway construction in jeopardy.

Although receiving a unanimous 103-0 vote in the House, a bill aimed at reducing the $3.75 toll on the Mackinac Bridge is far from final passage. A two-thirds vote of both houses is required for passage and the negative attitude of the majority party in the Senate may well prevent the realization of this Republican proposal.

ANOTHER important measure, providing for the merger of county, city and state welfare operations will be acted upon this week.

A controversy is also developing over the extension of terms of township officers. Under consideration is a proposal which would extend the terms of those presently in office until 1968 when they would again be up for election. Opponents of this plan say that it would result in a bed sheet ballot in a Presidential election year. They offer the alternative that these officials run for their first four-year term next year and again in 1970 so as not to coincide with presidential elections. However, last Thursday this bill was re-referred to the Elections Committee and so no action this year.

INCLUDED IN those items which seem assured of passage are: immediate effect for senior citizen tax relief; technical amendments to the Uninsured Motorists Act; initial measures to qualify Michigan for the federal medicare program; and a $1.2 million contingency appropriation for higher education.

Corn harvesting systems compared

Volume is the biggest single factor in selecting a corn harvesting system, a Michigan State University engineer reports.

For the most economical and efficient harvesting systems, Robert Maddex offers these rules of thumb:

For 4,000 to 7,000 bushels, an ear corn harvesting system and forced, unheated air in a wide crib can be used. This system will handle up to 10,000 bushels. A two-row picker harvests about 100 bushels per hour and is adequate for 4,000 to 7,000-bushel crops.

FOR 7,000 bushels or more, particularly with shelled corn and heated air drying, requirements differ. Maddex suggests a "batch" or continuous-flow dryer which will give a drying rate of 100-130 bushels per hour. Drying is the limiting factor in any shelled-corn harvesting method, the specialist says. A drying system should be designed to dry all corn picked in 10 hours in a 16-hour period.

Above 10,000 bushels, it seems more economical to use a field shelled harvesting system.

CORNAGE OR high moisture corn will follow about the same pattern, volume-wise, he said. Storage figures are based on storage at about 25-30 per cent moisture. Storing the cob, either wet or dry, takes more room and allowances must be made for the extra volume.

The corn handling system is the factor which contributes to the harvesting more than any other, Maddex said. He defined the handling system as the ability to handle grain into a crib, into a dryer and out, or from a harvesting unit into storage. The specialist notes the temporary setups serve well, but seldom can they compete with a well-planned handling system.

MADEX DEFINES a total corn harvesting system as "the machinery, equipment, structures and methods needed to move the crop from harvest to storage."

There are basically three different harvesting systems, Maddex explains. The first harvests ear corn, either as wet or dry. A separate system is used for harvesting shelled corn, as wet corn, and another for corn used as silage. There are also variations in handling and drying.

HE CONTENTS that one of the most difficult decisions for a farmer to make is which system is best for him. If corn is to be a cash crop, usually a dry, shelled corn system is used. This gives the farmer greater control over moisture content, ease of handling and rodent protection.

If corn is to be used as feed grain, there is a growing trend toward storage of either high-moisture, ground ear corn or whole, shelled corn. Both systems are easily mechanized.

See grapes as big crop by '80

Grapes are among Michigan's most prosperous fruit crops. Production is expected to jump 55 per cent by 1980.

Michigan State University scientists expect that Michigan will be producing about 90,000-100,000 tons of grapes on about 25,000 acres in 1980. This compares with 53,900 tons on 22,400 acres in 1960-64. Yields per acre should jump from 2.28 tons to about 3.5-4 tons.

MICHIGAN'S share of the juice industry should continue to expand, but the fresh and wine markets will continue to be dominated by California. New management and harvesting systems may cut production costs by 50 per cent.

The projections were made as part of Project '80, MSU's futuristic look at Michigan's rural potential by 1980. Investigating the future of the state's grape industry are R. P. Larsen, Myron Kelsey, Paul Wooley and George McManus, Jr., of MSU's Cooperative Extension Service staff.

Liquid manure handling gaining favor on farms

Recently, liquid manure handling has been gaining favor as the method of manure disposal. The supporters of this system claim it to be the best answer to date. The skeptics claim it adds problems instead of solving them.

The desired handling system would store the manure, retain all of its nutrients and then move the material to the field with a minimum of time and expense. Liquid manure systems are pointed in this direction.

THERE are two basic types of liquid systems. The first uses under-the-floor storage. The manure is dropped through a slotted floor into the storage tank below and remains there until it is pumped into an applicator tank trailer. The second type is an underground tank at the end of a building or feedlot. Manure is bladed, washed and dragged by conveyor into this tank.

One of two transfer systems can be used to put the liquid manure into a spreader ready for application on the fields. The first has a vacuum pump mounted right on the spreader. A hose is dropped into the manure, the pump then creates a partial vacuum in the spreader tank, and the liquid is drawn into the tank spreader.

ANOTHER design incorporates a pump located right down in the storage tank for transferring manure into the spreader. The pump is usually a recirculation design that sucks liquid in one port and expels it from another, using this pressure stream of liquid to break up the solids and mix the contents of the tank. After agitation, the flow is diverted to the applicator tank for filling. This method seems to work best when the storage tank is unusually large or when the manure is heavy with solids and straw.

Out of 100 trips hauling liquid manure into a field, water content may represent 60 of those trips. Whether the savings of nu-

Future uncertain for strawberries

The future of Michigan's strawberry industry is more uncertain than most other fruit crops, but scientists estimate that state growers will probably maintain their share of the total US output between now and 1980.

This would increase Michigan's output to 50 million pounds in the next 15 years, 33 per cent more than in 1959-63. Yields are expected to rise from 3,780 pounds to about 7,000 pounds per acre.

THESE PROJECTIONS were made as part of Project '80, Michigan State University's futuristic look at Michigan's rural potential by 1980. Studying the future of the industry are R. P. Larsen, horticulturist; Myron Kelsey, agricultural economist; Paul Wooley, entomologist; and George McManus Jr., agricultural agent in Traverse City.

They say that Michigan's position in the strawberry industry has been maintained by its closeness to fresh market outlets and by its good freezing outlets for one-third of the crop.

BUT THEY note that the West Coast and Mexico have improved their position by strong variety and cultural development programs and improved processing technology. But a strong variety program could improve Michigan's competitive position in relation to these areas.

trients out-weigh hauling more water than with a solids system depends upon labor costs and distances to the fields. For example, 300 head of 800-pound beef cattle produce about 500,000 gallons of liquid manure per year. A single 1,500 gallon tank would have to make 333 trips to spread this amount.

LIQUID MANURE systems require more careful handling than solid manure handling. In recent months it has been reported that pumps and agitators have been clogged or damaged by baling wire, baling twine, ends of two-by-fours, gravel, steel neck chains, a pair of pliers and a dead rat.

Liquid manure handling will normally preserve more nutrients than a solids system. In-tank storage is far cleaner than other methods presently known. Odor is drastically curtailed. Manure is kept out of ground surface water supplies, and kept from running all over the farmstead.

Since manure must be disposed of, liquid handling is being looked upon as a more efficient method of moving the material.

Expect pear yields to double

Michigan's pear production will likely double by 1980.

Yields are expected to jump from 1.5 million bushels (1960-64 average) to about 3 million bushels. This production level will require about 12,000 acres with an average yield of 275 to 300 bushels per acre, compared with 9,800 acres and 151 bushels per acre in 1960-64.

A TEAM of Michigan State University scientists expect that Michigan will continue to increase its share of the US pear output, but the West Coast will remain the major producing region. Some areas in the east and south could become more competitive with Michigan if the fire-blight problem is solved.

The Project '80 scientists list several reasons for Michigan's expected growth as a pear producer. 1) Pears fit well in a diversified fruit industry, 2) Growers have the know-how, and 3) State processing outlets are developing and growing.

Sanitary feature in new egg law

Further protection against food poisoning is built into a new egg law passed by the Legislature that becomes effective 90 days after the legislature adjourns. Under it, sale of cracked or cracked shell eggs become unlawful.

A bacterial organism that causes food poisoning, called salmonella, has been traced to cracked eggs among other sources. It will become illegal to sell this type of egg in stores, food handling establishments, bakeries or other food processors.

SUCH ESTABLISHMENTS may only use shell eggs of no lower than Grade B or liquid or frozen eggs that have been processed by a licensed egg breaking plant or other approved source.

There is one exception to the new law. Cracked or checked eggs may be sold by a producer to a person for his own family use.

The new law will be enforced by the Michigan Department of Agriculture's Food Inspection Division.

THE DIVISION'S chief, J. L. Littlefield, says the 1965 law (Act 132) is not intended arbitrarily to remove cracked or checked eggs from the market, but to protect the consumer from the hazards of food poisoning. Several other states have similar laws.

The forest-based industries employ 1.5 million persons and have an annual payroll of $7 billion.

ASC PROGRAM

ASC community committee elections set for Dec. 9

W. M. SMITH
County ASC Manager

This year ASC community elections will be held in each township on Dec. 9. In our county for ASC purposes a township is considered a community and a committee of three and two alternates will be elected for each community.

Committeemen are elected for a term of 12 months or until qualified successors are elected. Their term begins on the first day of the month following election.

A NOMINEE FOR ASC committee must be eligible to vote in ASCS elections in the county or community where he is elected. He must reside in the township where elected. He must be of good character, not a member of (or candidate for) any federal, state, or county office filled by election pursuant to law. However, members of school boards, soil conservation, district boards, drainage, irrigation, weed control or similar boards are not ineligible because of such membership. Officers, employees or delegates to a convention of any political party or political organization are ineligible. So are full-time employees of the US Department of Agriculture.

Any person is eligible to vote if he is of legal voting age and has an interest in a farm as owner, tenant or sharecropper. If not of legal voting age, a person is eligible if he supervises and conducts the farming operations of an entire farm where one of the following requirements is met:

- 1) THE FARM received or will receive a payment or is carrying out an approved practice under the current Agricultural Conservation program; has an acreage allotment or marketing quota; 3) the farm is eligible for a cooperative loan or other price support payment, sugar program payment, national wool program payment, or a soil bank payment; 4) the farm is eligible to participate in any farm program administered by the county ASC committee.
- 2) the farm

This year the three members from each community committee will meet at Smith Hall in St. Johns at 1 p.m. on Dec. 16 to elect the ASC county committee for next year.

WE URGE ALL farmers to take an active part in electing their community committeemen. A letter will be mailed to farmers in each township telling them the time and place their meeting will be on Dec. 9.

Ewe flock operation discussed

Management problems in a large ewe flock increase with size. When the flock is increased to 100 or more ewes, certain guidelines must be followed for success. A dozen such tips are outlined in a new Extension Service bulletin by Graydon Blank, specialist in animal husbandry at Michigan State University.

Blank discusses which type of ewe makes the best investment for the large flock. The kind of ram used with the flock depends largely on the intended market for the ewe lambs.

"LARGE EWE Flock Operation in Michigan" is the title of the publication. It also gives guidelines for use of the "platoon system," for more efficient use of labor, equipment, "ram power," and pasture. The system divides the flock into a number of groups or pens according to the time of lambing.

Copies of Extension Bulletin 512 are free from the Clinton County Extension Service office in St. Johns.

First Nighters set to cast first play

President Doris Cramer of the First Nighters of St. Johns has announced that the little theater group will hold tryouts for their first play of the season on Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 3 and 4 at the St. Johns High School auditorium at 8 p.m.

The title of the first play is "The Cradle Song" by Gregorio and Maria Martinez Sierra, with the English version by John Garrett Underhill. This play has been on Broadway and television with Helen Hayes in the lead role.

"THE CRADLE Song" is a comedy in two acts and is scheduled for two nights, Friday and Saturday, Jan. 14-15, at the St. Johns High School auditorium. It will be directed by Bob Stern, a member of the Performing Arts Company at Michigan State University.

Stern has been hired by the theater group to direct the play and to help the membership in learning direction, lighting, make-up, staging, etc.

STERN is a native of New York City. With the completion of high school, he enlisted in the Navy, where he served as an operational flight trainer instructor during the Korean War. After his release from the service, he attended Trenton State College in Trenton, N. J., where he received his BA degree and a license to teach English and speech.

After teaching for two years, he decided to return to school and study theater. He received an assistantship from Purdue University and completed his MA in August 1964. He is presently a member of the Performing Arts Company at Michigan State University, where he is doing work toward his PhD in theater. His goal is the teaching of theater arts in a college or university.

STERN HAS performed for the Purdue University Theater, "Unto These Hills" at Cherokee, N. C., the 1964 national meeting of United Presbyterian Women, and the Performing Arts Company. Last season he appeared in "Antigone," "The Master Builder," "The Hostage," "An Italian Straw Hat," and "The Deputy." He also took the parts of The Lord and Grumio for the Performing Arts Company tour of "Taming of the Shrew" in the Upper Peninsula. This past summer Stern directed "The Drunkard" for the Eaton Rapids Little Theater.

Stern presently resides in East Lansing with his wife, Margaret, and their two girls, Robin, 6 and Randi, 4. Mrs. Stern teaches third grade in the Williamston Community Schools and is currently working on a masters degree in elementary education.

FIRST NIGHTERS President Cramer announced that parts for this play and any other First Nighter production are open to anyone in the area who would like to try out. You do not have to belong to the group, but if you are interested in theater work you are invited to come and take part.

"The Cradle Song" has 13 people in the cast—10 women and three men. Books are now available at the St. Johns Public Library and may be checked out to those who might be interested in trying for a part.

The First Nighters' second play of the season will be "Everybody Loves Opal" and will be presented May 6 and 7. Tryouts for this play will be announced at a later date. "Everybody Loves Opal" is a comedy by John Patrick, who wrote "Teahouse of the August Moon."

PRESIDENT Cramer has also stated that this year season tickets will be sold for the two performances planned by the group. These will go on sale at a later date and will be available from members of the First Nighters'.

Michigan State University scientists predict that Michigan's apple production will double in the next 15 years. They expected rise in production should be greater than that of the entire nation. The 1960 crop is estimated at 28 million bushels.

DONALD WALKER

Honor Walker for 4-H work

Donald J. Walker of East Hyde Road, rural St. Johns, Tuesday night was named winner of a Distinguished Service Award from the National Assn. of County 4-H Club Agents.

Walker, Extension 4-H youth agent in Clinton County, has been serving here 14 years. He was recognized for having an outstanding all-around 4-H youth program with emphasis on counseling of teenagers and out-of-school youth.

THE announcement of the award came at the annual recognition banquet of the Cooperative Extension Service staff in conference at Michigan State University.

In the recent Extension Service reorganization, Walker was given added responsibilities in Gratiot and Shiawassee counties. He will take a year's leave of absence Jan. 1 to complete his master of science degree at MSU. He received his bachelor of science degree from MSU in 1948.

Fulton youths attend national FFA convention

Several boys from Fulton High School attended the National FFA Convention recently at Kansas City, Mo.

Eric Chick, winner of the Gratiot County dairy award and a senior at Fulton High School, attended the convention with his advisor, Gerald McVannel. Other boys going with McVannel were Douglas and Dennis Wright of the Fulton FFA chapter, George Green of the Ithaca FFA chapter and James Whitehead of the Alma FFA chapter.

OTHER POINTS of interest were also visited. Oct. 12 this group visited the Howard Larkin farm and ranch and the Jerry Linton ranch. Both of these ranches raise registered Charolaise cattle and the boys were impressed with the livestock. They also were happy to be able to talk with a Missouri farmer and find out the difference in farming there and here.

Michigan State University scientists have used the principle that apples float and bob up and down in water to develop a new apple sizing and sorting system called "Hydro-Handling." The system offers a practical and highly mechanized means for removing low quality cull apples before they are stored.

North Star Church

to show Graham film
Evangelist Billy Graham's picture, "The Heart is a Rebel," will be shown this Thursday (tonight) at the North Star Church of the Nazarene in North Star at 7:30 p.m.
"The Heart is a Rebel" provides a "front row" perspective of the Billy Graham team in the setting of Madison Square Garden, New York City. The dynamic preaching of the evangelist, Billy Graham is augmented by the singing of George Beverly Shea and the music of a 1,500-voice choir.
The public is invited to attend the viewing of this film at North Star. A free will offering will be received to defray the expense.

PERSONAL call

These days, our minds are as busy as switchboards! There are so many things to think about, at work, at school or at home. Even our leisure hours often require a lot of mental activity... and peace of mind seems very far away.
Yet peace of mind is possible for us all, when we turn to God for relief from the tensions of modern living. He is fully aware of all our problems and difficulties, and He is always ready to lead us to a greater serenity of spirit than we have ever known.
That is why, when we take a little time from our busy lives to attend church, we leave feeling refreshed and strengthened. We have shared in His divine gift of peace.
This Sunday, God's call to a new and certain way of meeting the pressures of life is a personal call... for you.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and read your Bible daily:
1. For his own sake. 2. For the sake of his community and nation. 3. For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. 4. To go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Will 18-year-olds influx alter marriage patterns?

This year's bumper crop of 18-year-olds could start a new marriage boom, but so far they don't seem to be rushing to the altar, according to the Institute of Life Insurance.

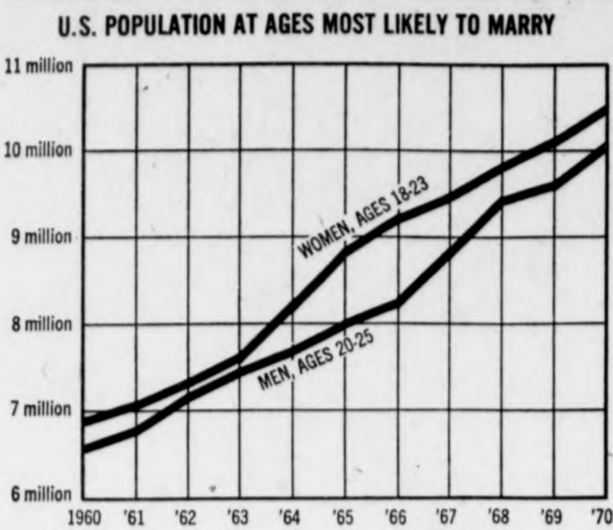

A nationwide explosion in the number of youngsters reaching the age of 18 has not sent marriage statistics skyward, even though 18 is the most popular age for marriage among American women.

Preliminary figures of the U. S. Division of Vital Statistics indicate that about 991,000 American couples were married during the first seven months of 1965. This was only about 11,000 or one per cent more than in the same period last year.

Some experts in marital statistics think that the figures will probably rise further in the latter months of 1965, but any potential marriage boom may be delayed by several factors.

The war in South Viet Nam could be an important one. Marriage trends are traditionally affected by changes in draft rules, steps in draft calls and general wartime uncertainty.

Need for Education
Technological developments in business and industry are a basic, long-term factor, since they call for more workers with education and training beyond the high school level. Some experts believe this may have been the main reason for lower marriage rates and the trend toward later marriages during the past decade or so.

The marriage outlook for this year's 18-year-olds may also be affected by an unusual gap in the relative numbers of men and women at the most marriageable ages. As a result of the huge increase in births after World War II, the nation's population of 18-year-old girls zoomed to over 1.8 million this summer, or almost a half million more than last summer. The Census Bureau estimates an equivalent increase in 18-year-old men, but young men tend to marry several years later than girls.

Ages At Marriage

For example, half of the nation's brides usually marry between the ages of 18 and 23, while half of the grooms usually marry between 20 and 25. Between these two age groups, there were 95 men for every 100 women last year, compared with only 91 men for every 100 women this year. Next year, this age-gap in the "sex ratio" will widen as the relative number of men drops to 90. But, in 1967, when this year's large number of 18-year-old men reaches the age of 20, the gap will close again to about 95 men for every 100 women. This gap, now wider than in several decades, could have some effects on marriage patterns, especially among girls currently in their late teens.

It might accelerate the trend toward later marriages and reduce the usual two-to-four year age differential between brides and grooms. More of today's teenage girls might delay marriage until well into their 20s, when girls tend to marry men closer to their own age.

Some experts say that overall chances for marriage might possibly run a little lower among girls now in their late teens. A few more of them might remain single.

Later marriages and relatively more single women of younger ages might lead to increased demand for jobs for women. This could mean that today's teen-age girls are likely to need more education and training to compete for tomorrow's jobs.

Bement Library Book Shelf

By Hila Bross

brand new, but our copy of it is. It's a longer, more involved story on the 4th and 5th grade level, and just the right book to curl up with beside a bowl of pop corn and a few apples. (Better have some paper napkins too. This is a library book, remember?)

THAT REMINDS us of another parenthetical thought. We have recently purchased some bright red stickers to paste into new books for the children's department. They say: "Please wash your hands before you read me, and keep me clean." Maybe we shouldn't limit their use to the children's department.

The Garrard Publishing Co. of Champaign, Ill., puts out a series called "Holiday Books." They are edited by Charles E. Johnson, associate professor of education at the University of Illinois. Their book on Halloween, by Lillie Patterson, is in our children's department, but it is so full of information about this particular holiday that it should be useful to adults looking for program material.

IT RUNS THE gamut from the Celts and Druids clear down to the current practice of collecting pennies for UNICEF on Halloween night. There are interesting facts about the Roman festival honoring Pamaona, which took place at this time of year, and the gradual development of the Christian celebration of All Saints' Day. There's even a chapter on the witches in Macbeth, which brings us to another little book.

It's called GHOSTS IN SHAKE-SPEARE, and it came to the library as a gift from the Theosophical Press in Wheaton, Ill. Its author, L. W. Rogers, has made an exhaustive study of the Bard and his works, with special emphasis on the surprisingly numerous references to things occult.

$700 MILLION FOR CLEAN WATER
American communities would have to spend an average of more than $700 million a year for the remainder of the current decade to catch up with their needs for new and expanded waste treatment plants. According to estimates, the backlog of municipal waste treatment needs now involves 5,672 communities, having a total population of 35 million persons.

Airman 1c ROBERT R. FOWLER, son of Mr and Mrs Frank E. Fowler of 221 E. Williams Street, Ovid, was part of the F-101 Voodoo team as top fighter pilots competed in William Tell, the US Air Force fighter weapon meet at Tyndall AFB, Fla., Oct. 1-9.

Airman Fowler is a weapons specialist at K. I. Sawyer AFB, Mich. His team is representing the Air Defense Command (ADC) in the biennial competition.

The airman returned to K. I. Sawyer after the ADC-sponsored meet. Royal Netherlands Air Force radar controllers and a Royal Canadian Air Force air and ground team gave the 1965 event an international aspect.

Airman Fowler is a graduate of Ovid High School. His wife, Janice, is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Lawrence Woodworth of 239 E. Williams Street, Ovid.

Airman DAVID L. ANDRUS, son of Mr and Mrs Roger A. Andrus of 8421 Herbison Road, Eagle, has been assigned to Patrick AFB, Fla., after completing Air Force basic training.

The airman, a 1965 graduate of Grand Ledge High School, will be trained on the job as a supply specialist with the Air Force Systems Command.

Army Spec. 4 JAMES R. JONES, son of Mr and Mrs Richard H. Jones, 5571 Hollister Road, R-2, Ovid, was graduated Oct. 8 from the Seventh Army Non commissioned Officer Academy in Bad Tolz, Germany.

Specialist Jones received training in leadership responsibilities, exercise of command, map reading and military teaching methods.

The 21-year-old soldier, a radar specialist in Battery B, 1st Battalion of the 67th Artillery near Mainbu, Germany, entered the Army in August 1963 and completed basic training at Fort Knox, Ky. He was graduated from Ovid High School in 1963.

Chest contributions aid in life-saving classes

What does your Michigan United Fund contribution buy?

One thing it buys, through the Michigan Heart Assn., is classes in the life saving technique of Closed Chest Cardiac Resuscitation (CCCR).

CCCR saves lives. It saved the life of Eugene P. Muldoon, 66, who dropped dead from a heart attack July 17 while putting on the ninth hole of Hickory Hill Club near Mt. Clemens.

"I WAS VERY lucky. It was a marvelous thing. I am very grateful to the Michigan United Fund and to the Michigan Heart Assn.," says Muldoon, who went home from Mt. Clemens General Hospital Sept. 19.

His luck, he says, was simply in the fact that three holes behind him were two Mt. Clemens physicians, A. Lewis Katowitz, 37, and Gerald Hoffman, 30, who had become experts in CCCR at Heart Assn. classes.

"WE FOUND MR Muldoon clinically dead; he had no heart beat and his eyes were fixed and dilated," Dr. Katowitz explained. "We took over—nobody was doing anything effective—and I massaged his heart and Dr. Hoffman did mouth-to-mouth breathing.

"We did CCCR in the ambulance. It was about 35 minutes before we got him to the hospital and applied electric shock to restart his heart," he added. "We were physically exhausted, but it was a thrill to see Mr Muldoon come back to life. Mr Muldoon is a very fine person and it will always give us a sense of satisfaction to know that we helped bring him back."

MULDOON, WHO had never been ill before, is now making an excellent recovery at his home at 13021 Wilshire in Detroit, his wife, Nellie, says.

"I don't remember much of what happened that day," Muldoon explained. "I was putting, I remember, and then I woke up in the hospital some time later."

The Michigan Heart Assn., which conducted the CCCR classes, is an agency of the Michigan United Fund, which in turn benefits from donations to the Clinton County Communities Chest. (Related article on Page 1-A.)

Road Commission Weekly Report

The Board of Clinton County Road Commissioners have two meetings next week. They go to Ionia County for a meeting of the seven - county council of road commissions on Monday, Nov. 1. Then there is the regular meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 3. At the regular meeting they will open bids for the November and December requirements of gasoline.

The prestressed concrete beams arrived for the Centerline Road bridge last Friday. This delivery was a month earlier than was originally expected. The beams were placed Friday and we expect to have the bridge opened to traffic this week. The railings and final surface will be completed later.

THE ROAD commission and all employees were saddened last week by the loss of Erwin Hill. "Doc" had worked at the road commission since May 1957. He was a steady, dependable employee. He was always friendly and cheerful. Everyone associated with him liked and respected him. He will be sorely missed.

The small tree farmers and farm woodlots, source of much of the nation's timber supply, mean for the owners: new cars, new homes, farm buildings, new equipment, tuition for education, money in the bank.

School aid funds are distributed

The October apportionment of state aid money to local school districts in Clinton County was made last week by Velma Beaufore, Clinton County treasurer.

A total of $458,530 was distributed, representing 16.66 per cent of the state aid for the year.

St. Johns School District received a total of $165,450. Other districts and the amounts they received are:

DeWITT PUBLIC Schools, $45,720; Fowler Public Schools, $26,050; Gunnisonville School, $9,950; Hurd School District, $8,210; Bath Community Schools, $64,850; Ovid - Elsie Area Schools, $96,530; Pawamao-Westphalia Community Schools, $19,350; Valley Farms School, $13,750; Bath Township School District 6 Fractional, $450; Eagle Township School District 2 & 5 Fractional, $640; and Clinton County Special Education and Intermediate School District, $7,580.

The milkman of the future may bring the family milk supply in a plastic, throw-away bottle. And, for families with many milk drinkers, a refrigerator size can or tank may be dropped off and picked up every few days. These are the predictions of Michigan State University dairy experts making forecasts for Michigan agriculture in 1980.
