10 CENTS

Don't Be Frightened, It's Only Me

Little devils, and witches, and goblins, and ghosts will be out in huge numbers Saturday night, they say, but in most cases they'll only be little girls and little boys in disguise. Six-year-old Simeon Ewing, son of Mrs. Mary Ewing, 102 N. Morton Street, St. Johns, is one of the thousands of Clinton youngsters who will look frightening Saturday night in trick or treat visits.

New 150-Foot Water Tower in Service Soon

The new St. Johns water tower is all but complete now, and it will be filled with water and chlorinated for testing purposes within the week. The tower is a silver blue in color and 10-foot gold letters edged in black spell out St. Johns on the east and west sides of it. The tower, which reaches 150 feet into the sky, was started the first of July.

Ovid OKs water, PW buildings

OVID— Voters here approved two proposals Monday—one a 2-mill increase for a $32,000 public works building and the other a new water treatment plant.

On the proposal for the public works building, 211 voters voted yes, 72 voted no and there were three invalid votes.

SOME 231 persons voted yes for the water treatment plant, while 53 voted no and two ballots were spoiled.

Only the public works building proposal will cost taxpayers anything; the water treatment plant will be paid for in 10 years with water department revenues.

THE $56,000 treatment plant will be built to remove iron deposits from the water. The public works building will replace a decaying brick structure near the railroad tracks on Grattot Street.

Burglars enter 2 businesses

Thieves entered two business places in St. Johns over the weekend, but they didn't get much of great value.

A transistor radio appeared to be all that was missing from the F. C. Mason Co., 200 E. Railroad Street. Burglars broke out a back window to get into the building sometime between 6 a.m. and 9 p.m. Sunday. The radio was taken from a desk.

EARL Hustin reported a breaking and entering at Hustin's Garage, 106 W. Higham, either Saturday or Sunday. Two window panes were removed from a back window. The thief got no more than $5 from a cash box and either four or six spark plugs. Several tool boxes were ransacked, but nothing was reported missing from them.

Police Chief Everett Glazier and Officer Lyle French are investigating the Hustin breakin, and Officer James Stiffler is handling the F. C. Mason burglary.

Candidates talk at four coffees in Clinton area

Republican district legislative candidates are speaking at four coffees in Clinton County this week.

On Wednesday afternoon Senator Emil Lockwood of St. Louis talked to groups at the homes of Mrs. Doris Harper in Bengal township and Mrs. Gerald Shepard in Bath.

THURSDAY State Rep. Lester J. Allen of Ithaca is scheduled to meet with guests at the homes of Mrs. Stanley Loznak, Elsie, and Mrs. George Moore, Duplain.

Assisting with arrangements for the four meetings are Mrs. E. O. Prince and Mrs. Ink White, of St. Johns.

A new street light was approved last week for North Swegles Street at the point where it enters the Wolverine Stockyards from the north. The location is about 100 feet south of Steel Street. The request for the light was made by the Wolverine Stockyards Co. Commissioners agreed to the need for the light.

GEORGE McQUEEN

McQueen honored for work

George R. McQueen, Clinton County Extension agent for agriculture, was honored last night (Wednesday) by the Michigan Association of County Agricultural Agents for "outstanding service to Michigan Citizens."

McQueen was one of six county Extension agents and directors who received citations at a dinner at Michigan State University.

McQUEEN HAS conducted a crops and soils educational program for commercial farmers, farm elevator operators and seed suppliers which has increased yields and incomes of farmers in the St. Johns area.

One of the other five persons honored was Harry S. Wilt, county Extension director of Shiawassee County.

Check forger gets 2-14 years

Stanley A. Samis, 39, of Charlotte was sentenced Monday to two to 14 years in the state penitentiary in Jackson for check forgery.

He was returned to St. Johns Oct. 8 from Anchorage, Alaska, and charged with forging a check of $85 which he cashed in St. Johns June 20.

He pled guilty when arraigned Oct. 12 before Circuit Judge Leo Corkin. Judge Corkin sentenced Samis to the prison term Monday.

OK ordinance to protect police

An ordinance designed to protect local police officers against resistance, assault, intimidation and other dangers was adopted by the St. Johns City Commission last Tuesday.

The ordinance was read for the second time before its adoption. It would make it a local misdemeanor to resist an officer, assist in an escape, assault an officer, intimidate an officer or incite violations. Penalties are described.

The ordinance, published in full in this week's issue of the Clinton County News, will take effect in 20 days.

Halloween parade set for Saturday

There'll be a Halloween parade for youngsters through downtown St. Johns Saturday afternoon. Roger Kowalski, recreation director, said children are to assemble at 2 p.m. at the railroad depot.

From there they'll parade up Clinton Avenue. Cider and donuts will be provided, and prizes will be given for the funniest, scariest and most original costumes.

The parade and party will run from 2 to 4 p.m.

90 per cent vote seen in county

An estimated 16,000 Clinton County voters will go to the polls next Tuesday to cast their ballots for national, state and local candidates.

County Clerk Paul Wakefield says that registration in the county's 25 election precincts is at an all-time high and he predicts that nearly 90 per cent of the electorate will vote.

For the first time, under the terms of the new Michigan Constitution, township officers will be elected in the November voting.

The biennial City Election in St. Johns also contributes interest to the Tuesday balloting and there will be votes on liquor-by-the-glass proposals in Bath, Bingham and Olive Townships and in the City of St. Johns.

THE PARTISAN ballot for national, state and county offices lists candidates nominated by five parties—Democratic, Republican, Socialist Workers, Socialist Labor and Freedom Now. Only the Democrats and Republicans have complete slates in this area for national, state and congressional offices.

Three other ballots will be on machines or paper for Clinton voters in all precincts:

1. The statewide referendum on the proposed change to a Massachusetts-type ballot for Michigan.

2. The nonpartisan ballot for choice of three Judges of the new Court of Appeals for the Third District, Circuit Judge, Probate Judge and Circuit Court Commissioner.

3. The township or city ballot for the election of local officials.

THE SIX candidates who survived the nonpartisan primary Sept. 1 and whose names will appear as nominees for the three 3rd District Judgeships on the new Court of Appeals are:

Maurice Black, Saginaw; Robert B. Burns, Grand Rapids; Austin J. Doyle, Hickoryville; John W. Fitzgerald, Grand Ledge; Donald E. Holbrook, Clare; and Allan C. Miller, Tawas City.

Judge Leo W. Corkin, St. Johns, is unopposed for election to the vacancy in the Judgeship for the circuit which includes Clinton and Grattot counties. Judge Timothy Green is unopposed for the Probate bench in Clinton County.

There is no candidate for Circuit Court Commissioner of Clinton County on the nonpartisan ballot.

IN ADDITION to the liquor-by-the-glass proposals in three townships and the city, there will be other special proposals in Bingham and the City of St. Johns.

Bingham Township voters will be asked to vote on a proposition to provide one mill of tax for the improvement of secondary roads.

St. Johns' voters will ballot on a proposal to set up a Municipal Court and a proposition to increase compensation of City Commissioners from $3 to $10 straight ballots in most instances, independents can be expected to skip around somewhat in their choice of candidates.

OVERSHADOWED to some extent by the hoopla about candidates for top national and state elective posts are the partisan races scheduled for positions on the important new State Board of Education and on the governing boards of Michigan State University and Wayne State University.

The Board of Education, created by the new Michigan Constitution, will appoint a State Superintendent of Public Instruction and be responsible for the handling of $1 billion annually for state educational purposes.

Each of the major parties has nominated eight candidates for election to the state board for staggered terms. Voters will also choose two members of the Board of Trustees at MSU and two members of the Board of Governors of Wayne State University.

Reject one-way plan on Oakland

A petition for making a one-way street out of South Oakland, at least on a trial basis, was rejected by the St. Johns City Commission last Tuesday.

They took the action after a public hearing on the matter. At the previous meeting the commission was presented with a petition signed by 24 persons on Oakland requesting the change.

LAST TUESDAY night, a petition signed by about twice that many persons along Mead Street opposing the one-way plan was presented.

One spokesman from the Mead Street opposition asked what the reasoning was behind the request. No one was present from the Oakland petitioners to answer the question.

Driver fined $90 for drunk driving

Felipe R. Saucedo, 40, of Fenntown, was in Clinton County Jail Monday, unable to pay a fine of $75 and costs of $15 assessed against him on a drunk driving charge.

These three persons were elected to offices in the Michigan State Grange at the annual state meeting last week in Hastings. Left to right are Alvin J. Thelen, new assistant steward; Almond Cressman, member of the executive committee; and Mrs Alvin Thelen, lady assistant steward.

3 from county elected to offices in state Grange

Three Clinton County persons were named officers of the Michigan State Grange at its 91st annual session last week in Hastings.

Alvin J. Thelen of St. Johns was elected assistant steward; Mrs. Thelen was named lady assistant steward; and Almond Cressman of St. Johns was elected to the executive committee.

COUNTY DELEGATES at the annual meeting were Mr and Mrs Gerald Pope, Mr and Mrs John Watling, Mr and Mrs Ben Gillison, Mr and Mrs Cressman and Mr and Mrs Thelen.

State delegates were divided into 12 working committees which reviewed numerous resolutions sent to the state office by over 300 local Grange units in the state.

COMMITTEE action was reported to the delegate body as a whole for further action. Resolutions adopted were forwarded to the National Grange or the Michigan Legislature as they apply.

On Oct. 21, State Master William J. Brake gave his annual address and report to the members. He reviewed "The American Way of Life" in which he discussed the role of the people in government through the past 100 years. He pointed out the role the American public must play in order to keep America alive.

GROVER GRIGSBY of Allegan will be the new State Grange master for the next year.

Scholarship offered by extension group; Yule workshop set

The second meeting of the Clinton Extension Study Group was held on Oct. 21, at the home of Mrs. Norman Feldkamp with five members present.

Mrs. Robert Niemi gave the council report and told of a scholarship fund available for some student.

THE GROUP has been selected to present new ideas to the council for Achievement Day.

Mrs. Marvin Whitford suggested that a gift be sent to an inmate of a state hospital, and everyone agreed.

Mrs. Gene Hinton and Mrs. Robert Niemi will present the county infirmary residents with decorated cupcakes for Halloween.

Mr and Mrs Norman Feldkamp have accepted an invitation to host a foreign student over the holidays.

It was agreed upon to read the Michigan Extension Women's Creed at every meeting.

PLANS FOR the Christmas workshop were discussed and the committee for setting up the exhibit was chosen.

The mystery gift was won by Mrs. Gene Hinton.

After the business meeting the group worked on foil exhibits to present at the Christmas workshop, to be held on Nov. 5.

The next meeting will be held on Nov. 17, at the home of Mrs. Niemi, 809 N. Morton Street.

Other highlights of the Grange meeting included talks by: Dr. Carl C. Byers on "Laughter is a Tonic—Try a Dose"; Boyd Rice, manager of the Michigan American Dairy Assn. on that group's progress the last year; Mary Jackson, home economist of the MADA; and George McIntyre, director of agriculture, who emphasized the importance of farm organizations and the role they can play in the formation of legislation.

DURING THE course of the week, numerous resolutions were passed and have been forwarded to the legislative agent for preparation for the next session of the Legislature. Some of the major areas covered were as follows:

Taxation: A resolution favors increasing the present personal property tax exemption for farmers from $1,000 to $5,000.

Prayers in School: "Be it Resolved by the Michigan State Grange that the National Grange strongly urge the Congress of the United States to take action, either by proposing an amendment to the Constitution, or by whatever action be necessary, to reinstate and permit the recognition of belief in God as a fundamental part of school administration and that the use of prayers and non-denominational religious forms in schools be matters of voluntary discretion at all levels, and that reference to God be retained on our coins, in our National Anthem and Pledge of Allegiance. The Grange urges this position as a function of our democratic way of life."

Curb, gutter work complete

The Kenneth C. Roberts Co. of East Lansing reportedly has completed the St. Johns curb and gutter work for the summer with the exception of small areas on East Lincoln and South Kibbee streets.

The city commission expressed general dissatisfaction with the cleanup work done by the firm. City Manager Ken Greer told the commissioners last week that he and Public Works Director Rollie Ordway recently made a street-by-street inspection with a Roberts Co. man and pointed out "finishing touches" that had not been taken care of.

Greer said he told the contractors that all backfilling, and cleanup of odds and ends and debris must be finished before the city would pay the remainder of the cost of the work. Nearly $60,000 in curb and gutter was put in this year.

Misjudges car, it collides with his

A driver thought he had enough room to pull onto the highway in front of another car Saturday, but he didn't, and a collision resulted.

Deputy Sheriff Fred Corson reported William I. Young, 81, of R-1, St. Johns, westbound on French Road, though he had time to get across US-27 in Greenbush Township.

HE DIDN'T, and he hit a car driven by John E. Quinn, 63, of Fowlerville. Riding in the Quinn car was Maxine Quinn, 47.

No one was hurt. The accident occurred at 4:45 p.m. Saturday.

St. Johns band on TV Sunday

One hundred thirty-three members of the St. Johns High School Marching Band, chaperones and directors will leave Sunday morning for Detroit to take part in the televised halftime program of the Detroit Lions-Los Angeles Rams football game.

Extensive arrangements have been made to insure a successful trip, band Director Walter Cole said. St. Joseph Church will have a special Mass at 6 a.m. Sunday, and band students may attend in uniform.

LOADING OF the four buses will start at 6:30, and departure time is set for 7 a.m.

Mrs. George McQueen has made arrangements in Detroit for the band to be fed immediately following the game. Menus were sent home and each person filled one

Driver ticketed for 2-car crash outside theater

Out of a heavy crush of traffic leaving the Family Drive-In Theater and the VFW Hall Saturday night, two cars collided. One driver was ticketed, but eight persons in the two autos escaped injury.

Robert B. Noll, 16, of Sheridan was driver of a car which pulled from the drive-in into the inside southbound lane and was hit by another car. It was driven by Robert L. Kilchermann, 27, of Matherton.

KILCHERMANN was reportedly driving in the inside lane because of the traffic leaving the VFW Hall.

Riding with him were Bill Michalek of 504 Wight Street, St. Johns, and Dave Kus, 17, of 309 E. Higham Street, St. Johns. Four teenagers from Carson City, Sheridan and Hubbardston were with Noll.

NOLL WAS ticketed by Deputy Sheriff Ramon Terpening for failure to yield right-of-way. The accident occurred at 11:30 p.m.

Woman bruised in 2-car crash

A woman suffered bruises in a rear-end crash a quarter-mile south of St. Johns at 11:35 p.m. Saturday.

She was Mrs. Bonnie Moran, 21, of Jackson, whose husband, Joseph, 23, was driver of the car.

ACCORDING to Deputy Sheriff Gaylord Foote, who investigated, Moran applied his brakes to turn into a motel driveway but did not give a signal to do so.

A car driven by Foster C. Lake Jr., 36, of R-1, Muir, was starting to pass Moran's car when Moran put on the brakes. Lake was unable to miss the left rear of Moran's car. Moran's car was shoved off the road north of the driveway.

HE, LAKE and Elaine Lake, 20, of R-1, Muir, all escaped injury.

Koerner enrolls herd in DAIR

The Registered Holstein herd of 37 cows owned by Floyd H. Koerner Jr. of Lansingburg has been enrolled in Dairy Herd Improvement Registry production testing.

Registered Holstein cows in participating herds are automatically credited with both 305-day and complete lactation records, as received by the Holstein-Friesian Assn. of America. They're received on punch cards from the regional DHIA central processing laboratory.

Production data is published for reference by Holstein dairymen everywhere as an aid to improve the quality of their herds.

Rotarians hear talk on farm marketing

Recent farm marketing developments were the subject of an interesting talk heard by members of the St. Johns Rotary club Tuesday noon.

The speaker was Donald Moore of Lansing, manager of the Market Development Division of the Michigan Farm Bureau. He was introduced by John Hall, program chairman for the meeting.

Farm Bureau holds election discussion

Parker Center Community Farm Bureau opened their October meeting with the pledge of allegiance to the flag led by Wilbur Bond, president. Mr and Mrs Fred Hansen were hosts to the group at their home on Scott Road. Reports were given by Mrs. Wilbur Brandt, Lee Ormston, and William Kissane.

The importance of the Nov. 3 election was stressed, and all members were urged to vote. Mrs. Brandt presented a citizenship quiz in which all members participated.

THE monthly discussion topic as presented by Byron Kissane was a comparison of the farm programs as presented in the platforms of the Democratic and Republican parties and that recommended by the Farm Bureau.

After recreation led by Mrs. Brandt, a lunch was served by Mr and Mrs Hansen, assisted by Mr and Mrs William Wilson. The next meeting will be Wednesday, Nov. 11, at the home of the Byron Kissanes.

Firm proposes $13,000 job on city building

A three-year renovation of the exterior of the St. Johns Municipal Building was advised by the D. C. Byers Co. of Grand Rapids at the city commission meeting last week.

Total cost of the project would be around $13,000.

The most immediate and serious need is for reroofing of the building, Byers told the commission. He urged that this be done yet this fall, along with coping and flashing at the same time.

BYERS PRESENTED to the commission a detailed report, including photographs, of the study he and his firm have made of the building since the first of October.

Byers recommended that in the second year of the renovation, contractors find the cause of cracked bricks in the building, cut them out and repair steel beams behind them (which he felt are causing the cracks) and then replace the bricks.

ALSO INCLUDED in this phase would be the straightening of steel lintels over the windows and the cutting out of mortar and plaster around window frames to reduce the amount of moisture being transferred inside.

The third-year phase would include the cutting out and repointing of bricks with mortar, the cleaning of all bricks and limestone and the application of a silicone covering to the brick and limestone.

THE COMMISSION has been concerned about the presence of moisture on the inside of the building and the damage to the interior plaster because of it. On Sept. 15 they authorized a study of the problem. Byers' report last Tuesday night was the result.

Byers said the work should be done to stop the "gradual disintegration" of the building inside and outside. He reported the roof had "very definitely had it," thus confirming the earlier report to the commission.

HE LISTED one bid for the roof work, and also gave prices for the other phases of his proposed project. He said the first two would be firm bids, but the bid for the third-year phase would have to be left for later negotiation unless a contract would be signed this year for all the work.

The commission did not take the immediate steps for the entire project, and the city manager will seek several more bids before awarding a contract for the roofing job this fall.

Local music lovers "treated" by artists

By MRS H. W. LUNDY

Mrs Phyllis Rice's recital Monday evening afforded St. Johns music-lovers an unusual degree of listening pleasure. Every selection was enthusiastically received by an attentive audience in the Rodney B. Wilson High School Auditorium.

The program was both difficult and varied, but the mezzo-soprano soloist interpreted its varying moods flawlessly and with beautiful tone-quality.

THE SELECTIONS preceding the intermission ranged in scope from the opening sacred number "Paratum Cor Meum" by Schutz, in which she was capably assisted by violinists Norma Jean Figg and Cayle Beagle, through the group of romantic German songs by Schumann and Brahms to the emotional aria, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" from Samson et Dalila by Saint Saens.

Since this was an Interlochen Student Scholarship benefit recital sponsored by the St. Johns Morning Musicals, it was especially fitting that last spring's scholarship winner, Delia Davis, should be a part of the program. Delia, a junior at Rodney B. Wilson High School, gave a very commendable piano performance in presenting Schubert's "Allegretto in A Flat." The young and talented pianist showed a high degree of musicianship and a great amount of poise.

ROBERT Cox, high school band instructor and a very skilled performer on the flute, made a fine contribution to the program with his flute obligato in Vaughan Williams' delightful and unusual "Orpheus With His Lute."

Menottis' dramatic "Lullaby" from the modern opera, The Consul, and "Miniver Cheevey" and "Richard Cory" by John Duke provided interesting contrasts to the more classical portion of the program. The two Negro spirituals, both the melodic "Oh, What a Beautiful City!" and the stirring "Tom Waring arrangement of 'Didn't My Lord Deliver Daniel?'" were exquisitely done.

ADDING immeasurably to the program were the intricate and artistic accompaniments played by Robert Barnard, music instructor in the St. Johns Public Schools, and well-known to St. Johns audiences. His playing demonstrated not only skill but a fine ability to sense the mood of the composer and of the singer.

Don't burn leaves on street, city asks

City officials again this week reminded residents that burning of leaves on city street pavement is damaging to the street and will cause early breakup of the surface.

Leaves, if they must be burned, should be burned in driveways or elsewhere off the street and out of the curb gutter. The city prefers residents rake leaves into the gutter and leave them there for the vacuum leaf picker to pick up.

Cooperation of all residents is asked.

Appoint attorney in homicide case

Gilbert Feneis, 59, of 121 Diehm Road, Lansing, was provided Monday with a court-appointed attorney to handle his circuit court case of negligent homicide.

State police made the charge following the death of Mrs Daisy Springer, 65, of Haslett, in an auto crash at Clark and Chandler roads Oct. 17. Feneis was the driver of one of three cars involved.

He is free on $500 bond.

Promises arrest of mystery caller

"Arrests will be made," Police Chief Everett Glazier has promised following a series of nuisance, threatening and obscene phone calls to residents of St. Johns in the last three or four weeks.

Numerous reports have been received from residents. Sometimes the caller hangs up and sometimes he will speak, Glazier reported. It's a man's voice, residents say.

Taking bids on some treatment equipment

Bids are to be received by today (Thursday) on some of the equipment for the new St. Johns water treatment plant. The equipment will determine whether modifications in the blueprints for the plant building will be necessary.

The city expects to let bids shortly after the first of the year on that building, and construction should start sometime in February.

Speeding costs $50

Ronald Every of 105 Floral Avenue pled guilty Monday to a charge of speeding 75 miles an hour in a 55 mph zone on US-27 north of Taft Road. He was assessed a total of $50 in fines and costs by Justice of the Peace Alba Wert. He was arrested early Monday by Deputy Sheriff Stanley Kajdas.

Jaycees to serve as election result reporters

In an effort to speed-up the reporting of vote results of the presidential, governor and United States Senate races at the precinct level, the St. Johns Jaycees will serve as special election precinct reporters for Network Election Service (NES).

The NES news group includes the Associated Press, United Press International, and ABC, NBC, CBS radio and television networks.

WILLIAM McCARTHY, president of the St. Johns Jaycees, said members of his chapter will call from their assigned precincts with results of the three key races to NES' news gathering center at the Leland Hotel in Detroit.

Each local Jaycee precinct reporter will be properly identified with credentials from NES and the Michigan Election Commission, according to George Cheely, NES director.

CHEELY SAID the Michigan Jaycees in turn will receive a cash grant for taking on the statewide project to "assist the news media in getting the vote results to the public as soon as humanly possible."

The grant is earmarked for state Jaycee projects dealing with the promotion of governmental affairs and free enterprise activity, Cheely added.

Set arraignment in rape case

Robert C. Berryhill, 25, of Grand Ledge, was charged Friday with rape of a 16-year-old girl. He was arrested by sheriff's deputies in Watertown Township.

Berryhill waived examination Oct. 26 in justice of the peace court and was bound over to circuit court. He will be arraigned Nov. 9. He was released on $500 bond.

Name 8 inspectors for election in city

Inspectors for the Nov. 3 election were appointed by the St. Johns City Commission last Tuesday night. They are:

Precinct One—Ladd Bartholomew, Alberta Cornwell, Carmen Tranchell, Pauline Briggs, Edwina Wakefield.

Precinct Two—Don Britten, Agnes Baker, Ruth Serrine, Ardis Crawford, Eloise Hambleton.

5 appear to show cause for nonpayment

Five men appeared Monday before Judge Leo Corkin on an order to show cause for non-payment of support in divorce cases. They were Lee Ordway of Bath, Stanley Galehouse of Elsie, Eugene Burnham of St. Johns, and Leonard Nimetz and Gerald Baker of Lansing.

Every man has a show in life, but few find it's a circus.

Car driver injured, 4 on bus unhurt in crash

Four young children escaped injury last Wednesday morning when the school bus in which they were riding pulled in front of a car at the corner of Wright and Parks roads two miles south of Fowler.

The driver of the car, William Gage, 31, of R-1, Hubbardston, was injured and was admitted at Clinton Memorial Hospital in St. Johns with leg cuts and body bruises.

ACCORDING TO state police, who investigated, a school bus driven by Donald O. Lucas, 54, of Fowler was traveling west on Parks Road. Lucas reportedly stopped the bus at the intersection of Wright and waited for a northbound car to pass.

Then, apparently not seeing Gage's southbound car, Lucas pulled the bus into the intersection and it was hit by Gage's car. Lucas was ticketed for failure to yield the right-of-way.

THE FOUR children, all age 5, were apparently being taken home after a morning at school. They were all riding in the rear of the bus and were unhurt, as was Lucas, the driver. The children were Brenda Feldpausch, Joseph Fedewa and Tom and Rose Koenigsnecht, all of R-2, Fowler.

Both drivers press charges after collision

Both drivers wanted to press charges against the other following an accident on US-27 just south of Locher Road in Olive Township Friday.

A car driven by Jean A. Harrison, 23, of Los Angeles, Calif., was pulling across the median strip to turn north on US-27. She had to stop for northbound cars, and the rear of her car stuck out into the southbound lanes about two feet because of the narrowness of the median.

DENNIS C. Ash, 19, of 908 N. Capitol, Lansing, was driving south and was passing another car. He did not see the Harrison car in time and struck its left rear fender.

Deputy Sheriff Stanley Kajdas ticketed the Harrison woman for failure to yield the right-of-way and Ash for failure to stop in assured clear distance ahead.

THE ACCIDENT happened at 7:50 p.m. Neither driver, nor five others in the two cars, were hurt.

Last-second pass wins for P-W

LAINGSBURG — Pewamo-Westphalia won its first football game of the season at Laingsburg Friday night in a battle of winless teams.

But it took a touchdown in the last four seconds of the game to do it. The final score was 19-13.

The final-seconds score came on a pass from Jim May to Pat Luna to climax a come-from-behind victory for Pewamo-Westphalia.

Laingsburg forged into a 13-0 halftime lead on a 16-yard run by Dave Carroll and a six-yard touchdown sprint by Tom Wilson. Wilson scored the Wolfpack's only extra point.

P-W RALLIED the second half. Rich Arens and Jim May both scored touchdowns from one foot out, and Fred Smith ran the extra point that tied the game and set the stage for the last-second pass.

Pewamo-Westphalia is now 1-5 for the year. Laingsburg has yet to win, but Friday's 13 points scored were more than the total of those scored in their first five games.

Ovid rally overturns Bath, 27-13

BATH—The Bath Bees, who have had a kind of on-again, off-again season, were "off" Friday night as the Ovid Romans defeated them 27-13.

The loss left Bath with a 3-3 record for the season and a 2-3 mark in Central Michigan C Conference play. Ovid, whose only defeat this year was to league-leading Elsie, is now 4-1 in the league and 5-1 overall.

OVID, PORTLAND and Perry are all tied for second place. Bath gave Ovid a run for their money. Art Six scored on a 35-yard pass play from Jim Sober to give Bath an early lead. After Frank Gazda scored a touchdown and extra point for Ovid, Sober put the Bees back in the lead for the last time with a three-yard run for a touchdown. Ken Smith converted, and Bath led 13-7 going into the final quarter.

BUT GAZDA added another touchdown and extra point for Ovid. Frank Gazda scored and Tom Salters converted, and then Steve Leonard romped 60 yards for another TD, and Bath was done.

JVs win 6th, dump Charlotte

The St. Johns Junior Varsity continued its mastery of opposing football teams last Thursday night in defeating the Charlotte JVs 40-26 at Charlotte.

They are now 6-0 for the season.

The game was even more lopsided than the score indicates. The first-stringers piled up a 34-0 lead, and all four Charlotte touchdowns came off the third unit.

RANDY HUMPHREY was the big scoring gun for St. Johns, getting three touchdowns, two of them on long runs and the other on a two-yard push.

Gary Boyce scored two touchdowns on long runs, and Elwood Self got the other one when he picked up a punt blocked by Bob Showers and dove into the end zone. Boyce kicked four of six conversion tries.

SHOWERS WAS the defensive standout, blocking two punts, including the one for the touchdown, and making 10 tackles during the evening.

The Junior Redwings held a 13-0 halftime lead.

JV Coach Doug Japinga said his first stringers played a tremendous game, especially on defense where they allowed Charlotte only two first downs while they were in the game. He said it was the best game of the year for the first unit.

THE JUNIOR varsity will host the Lakewood JVs tonight (Thursday) at the park athletic field at 7 p.m. It will be the last home game of the year for the JVs.

Thelen, Rowell spark Fowler to 39-13 victory

FWOLVER — Coach Larry Churches' Fowler Eagles turned on the steam Friday night to rack Portland St. Patrick 39-13 in a Central Michigan D conference game.

It was homecoming night at Fowler, and the Eagles put on their best show of the season. Jon Thelen and Gale Rowell each scored twice to help Fowler to their second victory of the season. They've lost four.

THELEN GOT the game started by taking the opening kickoff 82 yards for a touchdown. St. Patrick took a brief lead when Joe Honsowitz ran 10 yards for a touchdown and then ran for the extra point.

Then Fowler dropped the bomb. Shortly after the start of the second quarter, the Eagles regained the lead for good when Rowell ran 12 yards for a touchdown and Bruce Thelen converted to make the score 13-7.

PAUL HUFNAGEL passed to Jim Koenigsnecht for six yards for another TD, and Bruce Thelen again converted. Just before the half, Koenigsnecht intercepted a pass and rambled 46 yards for a touchdown to make it 26-7 at intermission.

St. Johns man at Indiana University Credit Institute

Robert C. Miller of the Clinton County Credit Bureau in St. Johns attended the North Central Management Institute conducted on the Indiana University campus at Bloomington, Ind., last week.

Approximately 125 persons attended the Institute which is sponsored annually by the Associated Credit Bureaus of the North Central States and the Indiana University staff to develop management and executive skills relating to the credit field.

A certificate of accomplishment was awarded to the St. Johns man at the completion of the 25-hour course.

In the fourth quarter, Honsowitz scored again for St. Patrick, but Jon Thelen ran 29 yards and Rowell three yards for two more Fowler touchdowns that put the game on ice.

FWOLVER NOW has a 2-1 league record and is tied with St. Patrick for second place behind Potterville.

Temple wins contest 2nd time this year

Clarence Temple of R-6, St. Johns, has that drive that wins ballgames—and money.

Two weeks ago he had only two wrong choices but had to settle for $6.67—his share of a three-way tie for the Clinton County News football contest prize. Not content, he entered again, and last week he walked off with the whole $20.

HE MISSED three choices last week—he picked Potterville instead of Boys Training and Western Michigan instead of Toledo. He didn't predict the tie in the Mason-Haslett game, so he missed that one, too.

Only about half a dozen people missed four choices, and everyone else missed five or more. That kind of proves a feeling here before last week that it was a tough slate of games to choose from.

GOOD TEAMS played good teams and bad teams played bad teams, and the decisions were the toughest since the opening week. The big upsets, according to those entering the contest, were Fowler over St. Patrick, Rutgers over Columbia and Boys Training over Potterville. Choices in the Elsie-Portland game were about evenly split.

Temple still has three more weeks in which to win again.

Redwings win again; Elsie upends Portland

Charlotte is 6th victim, score 42-19

By LOWELL G. RINKER
St. Johns' football victory over a stubborn Charlotte team Friday night sets the stage for the second big test of Coach Bill Smiley's Redwings.

After beating the last-place Orioles 42-19 at home, the Redwings will hit the trail this week for an encounter with the title-challenging Lakewood Vikings.

The game will be played at Sunfield, starting at 8 p.m.

some passes from Gene Rademacher set up the score.

DAVE HAMER kicked the first of six extra points, and St. Johns led 7-0 with less than three minutes gone in the game.

Charlotte went to work from the spread formation, and the Redwings twice had to turn them back with goal line stands. The first drive of 66 yards was stopped when Jerry Kubica recover-

LAKESIDE provided St. Johns with some anxious moments, however, before four last-half touchdowns by the Wings broke the game wide open.

The first St. Johns touchdown came rather easily—and quickly—in the first quarter. The Redwings marched 80 yards in seven plays from scrimmage, with John Sickles scoring the touchdown from 10 yards out. Some good running by Bill Sirrine, Dave DeGeer and Lee Hill, and ed an Oriole fumble on the 2-yard line. Charlotte came back on their next set of downs and got as far as the 4, but the St. Johns line threw them back to the 20 and took over there.

AN INTERCEPTED pass the first one thrown this year by

With blockers out in front, St. Johns fullback John Vitek swings toward the end zone for his third touchdown against Charlotte. Lee Hill (22) throws a block to Charlotte's Dave Green (25), while Gene Rademacher provides additional interference for Vitek. Other players identifiable are center Ken Love (53) of St. Johns, and Jon Newland (18), Jon Sederlund (34) and Dan O'Brian (37) of Charlotte.

Rademacher, set up Charlotte's first touchdown halfway through the second quarter. Carl Peterson intercepted it and returned it to the St. Johns 31. Three plays carried to the 3, and Rick Myers cracked over for the score. Mike Flemming booted the extra point. Taking the kickoff on their own 40, St. Johns marched 60 yards in 13 plays for a touchdown. The drive included a successful fourth-down gamble at midfield and some explosive runs by DeGeer and Gary Crawley. John Vitek scored the TD, one of three, with a run of five yards up the middle through a good hole. Hamer added the extra point. That made it 14-7, and that was the halftime score.

CHARLOTTE scored again in the third quarter after recovering a St. Johns fumble on their 42. Carl Peterson caught one pass that carried to the St. Johns 26, and four plays later Dave Green circled his right end for 17 yards and the touchdown. Flemming's extra point kick hit the goal post and was no good.

With a 14-13 lead, the Redwings went to work to pad it. Vitek scored his second touchdown with less than three minutes left in the quarter. He ran from six yards out to climax a 64-yard drive in seven plays. Highlights included a 36-yard pass play to Bob Krumm and a 14-yard run by Vitek. Hamer's conversion after the TD made it 21-13.

BEFORE THE quarter was over, St. Johns tallied again, going 50 yards in three plays. Lee Hill made a beautiful swivel-hip run of 29 yards to the 3, and then he bucked over for the touchdown. Hamer added the point.

DeGeer's onside kickoff was fumbled by Charlotte and St. Johns took it on the Charlotte 46. Aided by two Charlotte penalties, the Wings reached the 10-yard line early in the fourth quarter, and DeGeer ran around right end for the touchdown. Hamer's kick made it 28-13.

HILL intercepted a Dick Lux pass on the St. Johns 30 and he ran it back beautifully to the Charlotte 31 to set up the last St. Johns score.

A penalty set the Wings back to the 36, but Rademacher passed to end Al Werbish for 25 yards, and two plays later Vitek practically walked into the end zone from the 5-yard line for another touchdown. Hamer's extra point made the score 42-13.

A WHOLE new St. Johns team came on the field then and stopped Charlotte on four plays. But then the Orioles recovered a fumble on the St. Johns 46, and they got their last touchdown on two plays.

Rick Shinsky ran 26 yards to the St. Johns 29 and two plays later Lux shook loose tacklers and threw into the end zone to Shinsky for the touchdown. A pass play for the extra point failed.

A LOOK AT STATISTICS AND GAME NOTES—Rademacher completed 12 of 15 passes for 166 yards against Charlotte. His season total is 48 completions out of 71 attempts for 835 yards. . . Fullback John Vitek now has a high school career rushing total of 1,662 yards, according to statistics kept by the coaching staff. That's less than 100 yards away from a mile of rushing.

Lee Hill was the top ground-gainer Friday with 61 yards in five carries. Crawley had 52 yards in eight carries and Vitek 42 yards in seven carries. Of eight ball carriers, Rademacher's 2.33 yards per carry average was lowest, pointing out a fact that the Redwings ground game was clicking and that all the backs had a good night.

TED RAHL had the most tackles with 10, while John Sickles had 9. Al Koenigsnecht had a good night in filling in for the injured Jim Pope.

Dave Hill, who has been on the semi-injured list all season, saw considerable action, both as a linebacker on defense and as quarterback on offense in the fourth quarter. He still is not going full tilt. Gary Becker did not see action because of a separated thumb on his throwing hand. Pope was out because of a hairline fracture on his right foot.

COACH SMILEY said he was pleased with the performance put on by his second stringers in the fourth quarter, even though Charlotte did score one of the touchdowns against them.

Perry rambles over DeWitt 27-0

PERRY—The Perry Ramblers continued their amazing season rally by winning their fourth straight game Friday night, trampling winless DeWitt 27-0.

The passing of Bump Lardie and hard running by Duane Kiesling combined to hand the visiting Panthers their fifth straight defeat. DeWitt has yet to win a game, although they tied their season opener with Maple Valley.

LARDIE connected on a pass play covering 50 yards to Dave Shanks for one touchdown and to Kiesling on a play which covered 21 yards for another. He also added two extra points on passes to Jerry Polmounter and Don Gruesbeck.

Kiesling blocked a DeWitt punt and ran five yards for a touchdown to complete the scoring.

THE SCORE was 14-0, Perry, at the half.

Big Reds edge state's 'best' 13-12

PORTLAND—Elsie pulled off probably the biggest upset of the year in Clinton County football by dumping top-ranked Portland 13-12 in a Central C game Friday night.

Portland, rated the No. 1 team in the state by the Associated Press, found the rugged Big Red defense too much to penetrate.

WITH THE victory, Elsie took over first place in the conference and certainly appears to be the favorite to go all the way this season.

Their opponent Friday will be Perry, which has won four straight. They then will play winless Laingsburg in their last conference game. Portland, meanwhile, will have tough competition at Ovid and at Bath in the next two weeks.

ELSIE DID lose their unscoring status Friday, but the Big Reds and Coach Mark O'Donnell were not the least bit concerned about that. The defense gave up two touchdowns, but it set up their own winning touchdown and twice stopped Portland threats in the last quarter.

The victory for the Big Reds was in the come-from-behind style. Portland took the lead in the second quarter when Denny McCrumb picked up a touchdown on a four-yard dive play. That accounted for the only scoring the first half.

QUARTERBACK Tom Ebert engineered the comeback in the third quarter. He scored on a one-yard quarterback sneak after moving the team 60 yards. He ran the extra point, which proved to be the margin of victory, and Elsie was never behind again.

Jim Horak's 34-yard run on the first play from scrimmage in the quarter got the drive off to the good start.

LATER IN the quarter, Elsie went on the march again, and this drive carried 56 yards, and Gary Bashore scored the touchdown with a four-yard run off tackle. Ebert's pass to Mike Cole for the point after touchdown was incomplete, and Elsie led 13-6.

Rich Webert put Portland back in the game with a three-yard off-tackle run for a touchdown in the fourth quarter, after Portland had recovered an Elsie fumble on the Elsie 10. But a delay-of-game penalty and a good rush by the Elsie defensive linemen stopped the extra point try.

TWICE BEFORE the game ended, Portland threatened to score again. One carrier carried 50 yards to the Elsie 8, but the Big Reds held. With a little over a minute left, Portland recovered a fumble on the Elsie 32, but Tom Micka made a diving pass interception two plays later to get the ball back.

The defense, as shown above, was stout when it had to be. But

Driver cut as car crashes into deer

The driver of a car suffered minor cuts Saturday when her car hit a deer east of Round Lake on Round Lake Road.

She was Carmen C. Orta, 21, of R-1, Laingsburg. Four others in the car, Theodore Lizerio, 1, Mary Lizerio, 18, John Orta, 31, and San Juanita Orta, 1, were unhurt.

The accident happened at 6 p.m.

otherwise, Portland had a slight edge all night. The Raiders picked up 252 yards rushing and 49 passing, while Elsie could muster only 200 rushing and 21 passing. Portland had 11 first downs and Elsie nine.

THE DELAY-of-game penalty on the extra point try may have cost Portland a tie, and other penalties also hurt their game. They were penalized 10 times for 90 yards; Ovid lost only 15 yards on three penalties.

Coach O'Donnell called the second half comeback of his team "terrific." The defense was so stiff the last two periods that Portland gained only 69 yards during that time.

"LINE PLAY is what did it," O'Donnell said.

Defense by halfback Herm Kaufman and Micka in the first half and running of fullback Bashore in the second half were highlights of the game, the coach said. He called a pass from Ebert to Ross Carter one of the key plays.

Approve 5 new warning units for city firemen

Five more Plectrons—a unit designed to set off an alarm in the homes of firemen when a fire call is received—will be purchased by the city.

Fire Chief Clare Maier requested the units, because he feels the present 20 Plectrons are not enough for the 19 regular firemen and three auxiliary firemen. Repairs have to be made frequently, and he said this causes a shortage.

FIREMEN have had trouble with the home units not working on occasions and for no known reasons. The commission agreed to purchase the five new units provided a satisfactory guarantee and service contract be worked out with the makers. The original units cost $93 each.

Carelessness a major cause in state fires

In a special Fire Prevention Week reminder that carelessness contributed to Michigan's record highs in fires and fire deaths in 1963, Det. Capt. Glenroy M. Walker, chief of the State Police fire marshal division at East Lansing, urged vigilant attention to fire safety practices throughout the year.

MICHIGAN'S fire fatalities last year totaled 273, or 64 more than in 1962. The total of 86,845 fires was up by 10,451.

Almost a third of the fires, 23,943, resulted from acts of carelessness, most of them in the burning of rubbish, in smoking, and in the use of matches.

Walker cited the following fire safety guides for homeowners and others to follow:

SCHOOL family members in fire safety practices. Have an emergency fire evacuation plan for the family. This is especially important at night when many dwelling fires break out.

Keep matches and other fire-creating devices out of the reach of children.

Don't overload electrical circuits and keep electrical appliances in good repair.

PROMPTLY and properly dispose of combustible waste materials.

Cheap Winter

Want to lower your heating bills this winter? Follow these suggestions:

- Reduce thermostat settings about seven degrees before retiring each night, except in below-zero weather.
- Shut off all radiators, convectors or baseboards in rooms unused or being aired.
- At night, keep window shades down, blinds and drapes closed. This gives added insulation and prevents heat loss through windows.
- Provide adequate weather stripping and caulking for all windows and outside doors. Storm windows and doors are real fuel savers, too.

A frying pan, coffee pot, slab of bacon and a few cans of beans.

That is an example of a typical camper's check-list of 20 years ago. And if an outdoorsman sported an army mess-kit he really thought he was going first class.

But in a review of outdoor living, 1964 style, Automobile Club of Michigan finds that modern camping equipment, like everything else in the outdoor field, has more than kept up with the changing times.

"The camper of today will find that outdoor equipment is as varied and modern as that in his wife's kitchen," according to Jerry E. Fisher, Auto Club touring manager.

"THE FIVE essentials of camping—shelter, a means of cooking, light, refrigeration and bedding—are still with us," Fisher said, "but the changes in these camping basics over the years are truly startling."

Lights over the years have become more simplified in operation and maintenance. The best bet for an all-around pressure light, he said, is a gasoline pressure lantern which throws a brilliant and steady white light.

Kerosene pressure lanterns also afford excellent light. In this type, air pressure generates a vapor that is burned the same as in a gasoline lantern.

"WHICHEVER lantern you happen to choose," said Fisher, "always be sure to carry spare mantels. Flashlights, too, are considered a must in any well-run camp."

When choosing a stove, says the Auto Club, follow that simple rule of deciding what your actual needs will be. Gasoline stoves are most commonly used for cooking in tents and small camp trailers.

Some very good propane gas stoves are also on the market, Fisher pointed out. The type of stove which uses gas supplied from large tanks, such as used by camp trailers, are the most economical.

CAMP refrigeration has taken a giant step forward in the last few years, too, said Fisher. Lighter weight, larger capacity, and improved insulating qualities are standard features on today's modern ice chests and jugs.

"Storing such perishables as meats, butter and milk has always been a headache for the camper. But the latest type of insulated chests will preserve food for up to 72 hours with 25 pounds of ice," Fisher noted.

Instead of fresh meats and vegetables, Fisher suggested that frozen varieties wrapped in plastic or freezer paper be used.

WHEN it comes to choosing utensils, it might be wise to turn the job over to Mrs. Camper. She will be doing the cooking and will probably know exactly what she wants.

"At The End Of A Perfect Day" is a favorite old campfire song, and Fisher advised that you can end your days perfectly if you give careful thought to the selection of your bedding.

"If you are lucky enough to have the space," he said, "a good cot is a comfortable asset to any campsite. Most women prefer a cot, simply because they are used to sleeping on a bed. And being able to dress or undress on the edge of a cot is an added convenience."

IN CHOOSING a sleeping bag, warns the Auto Club official, don't bother with so-called "bargain bags." A couple of army blankets, he said, will give a camper better service and be much warmer than a low-grade sleeping bag.

"The price of a sleeping bag," said Fisher, "depends on the type and weight of insulation, along with the outer material and type of construction."

Basic changes in camping parallel modern times

The history of pheasants and ringneck kill in Michigan has been punctuated by build-ups, slumps, and build-ups again, as this chart shows. Try as they have, Conservation Department game biologists cannot fully explain the birds' repeated ups and downs.

meat, butter and milk has always been a headache for the camper. But the latest type of insulated chests will preserve food for up to 72 hours with 25 pounds of ice," Fisher noted.

When making a frame for a picture, consider the picture first. Oil paintings and reproductions of oil paintings are framed without a mat or glass.

Then, too, always frame reproductions as you would the originals. When choosing the wood, be sure it is complementary to the furniture of your room.

For a matted picture, keep the size of print and mat in mind when cutting the frame. A walnut or pine frame can be left in natural finish since grain is not pronounced and will not compete with the picture itself.

Announce farm census plans

Plans for taking the 1964 census of agriculture in Clinton County have been announced by Mrs. Eleanor Thornton, newly-appointed census crew leader for the county.

The job will be done in three stages. First will come recruitment and training of enumerators to count all farms in the county. About one enumerator for each 150 farms will be needed.

SHORTLY AFTER Nov. 5, the Bureau of the Census will start the second stage by mailing agricultural census questionnaires to all rural boxholders in the county. This will give farm operators, who are required by law to fill out the forms, a period of time to consult their records and fill in answers to the questions.

In the final stage, enumerators will visit each farm, starting about Nov. 9, to collect the questionnaires. Enumerators will take about three weeks to complete their work.

No man can run up the hill of progress by running down his next door neighbor.

4 GOP Girls State Finalists for Miss Teenage America

Four of Michigan's 12 finalists in the Miss Teenage America contest were from Elsie this year, two of them from the same family. All four are members of the GOP Girls, 11 young ladies who have appeared frequently at Republican Party events. When this picture was taken last week, they were in St. Johns for the Goldwater Bandwagon caravan. Left to right are Penny Sturgis, Pam Loznak, Linda Sturgis and Dorothy Bloomer.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

Today people in Michigan are proud of their state, and people outside respect it, and both have confidence in its future. The renewed confidence in Michigan is a welcome change after a period of despair and loss of confidence in our state.

This reversal in attitude is the most important progress in my administration, because attitude determines action, and action determines tangible progress.

MICHIGAN'S tangible progress can be noted at great length. Here are a few examples:

Two years ago, Michigan's unemployment was 4.8 per cent and 140,000 were unemployed. Sept. 15 we had unemployment of only 2.9 per cent. This is far below the national average of 5.2 per cent.

More importantly, we have 188,000 more people in jobs than when I took office on Jan. 1, 1963.

TWO YEARS ago, we had an $85.6 million operating deficit and $20 million in unpaid liquor bills. Today, we have increased general fund appropriations and expenditures for service to people more than ever before in a two year period.

Yet on the basis of the final report for the fiscal year that ended June 30, we have an actual surplus of $57.1 million. (This is $8 million higher than the tentative $48.8 million surplus previously announced. This increase is because more than $4 million extra has been turned back to the general fund from social welfare appropriations which were not needed because of Michigan's prosperity.)

THE REST of the additional surplus comes from $3.1 million in unexpectedly high collections in a group of miscellaneous taxes, plus $1.6 million extra in returns to the state for care of patients and inmates in state institutions.)

This record is the more remarkable when you consider that in 8 of the 12 years just before we took office, the state increased taxes and in 8 out of the 12 years, it spent more than it took in. In the past two years, there have been no new or increased state taxes and we have spent less than we took in.

SO OUR objective of paying our bills and living within our income has been achieved. And compared to what Michigan had for 14 long years, that's real Michigan progress!

Between 1950 and 1961 Michigan's personal income growth rate was 47th in the country . . . only three states were lower. In 1963 our personal income increased by 8.2 per cent . . . a growth rate greater than any other state in the country.

AND HOW does this progress, this extra money in our pockets, affect the consumer? In this way: The effective household buying income (gross income less all taxes) was $7,696 per household in Michigan in 1963. In 1962 it was only $7,285. So in a period of just one year the average Michigan family had $411 more to spend. The average family in the United States had only $266 more to spend in 1963 than in 1962.

When these increases are added to the family incomes for 1962, the average US family had only $7,130 to spend in 1963, or $566 less than the average Michigan family.

4 Elsie girls in Miss Teenage finals

ELSIE —It seems incredible that four girls from one community would wind up together in the finals of the Michigan Miss Teenage America contest.

And that three of them would be first, second and third runnersup. That's what happened this year, however. And what's more, two of the four girls are sisters.

THEY'RE ALL from Elsie, and they competed Saturday night with eight other girls in the state finals at the Temple Theater in Saginaw.

The Elsie girls are Linda Sturgis, 15, and Penny Sturgis, 17, daughters of Mr and Mrs Leslie Sturgis; Dorothy Bloomer, 15, daughter of Mr and Mrs Robert Bloomer; and Pamela Loznak, daughter of Mr and Mrs Stanley Loznak.

THE WINNER of the state contest was Ann Payne of Flushing. She will be flown to Dallas, Tex., in November for the national finals.

The judging was done on a point system.

Work on fair plans at luncheon meeting

Mrs William Bandt appointed Mrs Rex Sirrine and Mrs St. Clair Pardee to confer with Rev Gerald Churchill about the selection.

Mrs Bernard Barrett gave a meditation on feeling and giving thanks and the results to the giver and non-giver.

Miss Florence Crittenton and Mrs Dewey Reist were the hostesses for the one o'clock luncheon.

Late sweet corn takes beating from earworms

Late plantings of sweet corn usually take a beating from corn earworm and European corn borer. Sweet corn planted after the middle of June is siliing in the last half of August when corn earworm and corn borer moths are at the peak of egg laying.

University of Wisconsin insect specialists B. S. Mangat and J. W. Apple are approaching this problem by finding varieties of sweet corn that are less susceptible to these insects. Last year they tested more than a dozen common commercial varieties, and they found that varieties differ in susceptibility to corn borer and corn earworm.

THEY FOUND the most damage in varieties that had short silk channels. The silk channel is formed by the husks beyond the tip of the ear. Within this channel the silks are pinched into a cylindrical mass which serves as food for the corn borer and earworm.

If the channel is short, the worms reach the ear early in its formation and have time to do considerable damage. When the silk channel is long, the worms spread more time feeding in it before they reach the kernels at the tip of the ear.

THE RESULTS of the experiment confirm this theory. The

It's true—every man may have his price, but most remain honest for lack of an offer.

'65 Comet completes 16,200-mile durability run from Cape Horn to Fairbanks, Alaska, in 40 days

Livelier Comet proves once again why it's the World's Durability Champion. Uses showroom models in day-and-night grind from the bottom to the top of the world.

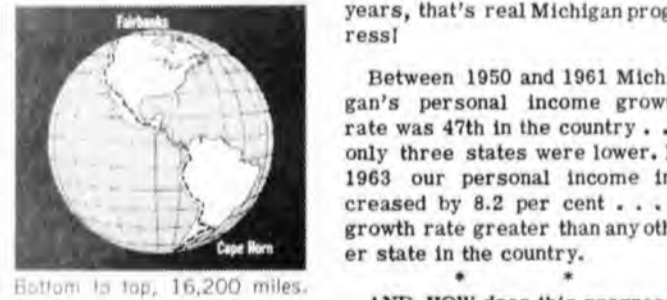

FAIRBANKS, Oct. 22 — Three Mercury Comets today finished a run no car has ever attempted in so short a time—the rugged 16,200-mile grind from Cape Horn to Fairbanks.

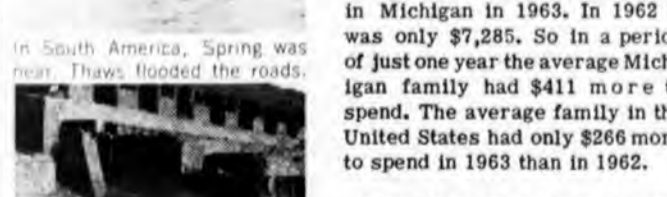

En route, day and night, the cars had no major repairs, just routine maintenance. That's ample proof that 1965 Comets are powerful and tough, not just lively and beautiful.

SO OUR objective of paying our bills and living within our income has been achieved. And compared to what Michigan had for 14 long years, that's real Michigan progress!

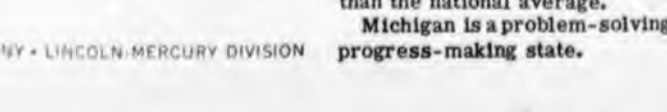

Bottom to top, 16,200 miles.

In South America, Spring was near. Thaws flooded the roads.

Passing abandoned gold refinery at Antofagasta, northern Chile.

Good city roads were relief for drivers after rugged stretches.

Corn is king in Clinton County

By GEORGE McQUEEN
Extension Agent

Corn is king in Clinton County.

With 70,000 acres planted, the corn crop grows on twice as many acres as its nearest competitor wheat. It's still expanding, too. We would expect in a few short years to have 100,000 acres planted to king corn.

Why? It's a matter of dollars and sense. Gross income from corn has averaged 65-85 dollars per acre at harvest with total costs of 40 to 50 dollars. Only dry beans can approach such a net income. However, Clinton County Corn Club results show that gross income could be 100-120 dollars per acre even this year.

TRANSLATED into bushels this would be over 8 million each year for the county. Our present livestock consumes roughly half of this production, so we would expect a substantial increase in livestock and corn to sell outside the county.

In fact, those farmers in the Clinton County Corn Club harvesting, drying and weighing parts of entire fields in 1963 had an average yield of 110 bushels per acre. First harvesting results this year indicate that yields may be considerably over last year. If such yields can be maintained the county average may already be over the 80-bushel-per-acre mark.

CORN'S POTENTIAL may be even greater. Corn Club members have proved 140-150 bushels per acre to be more efficient than any lower yields. As more farmers use the production practices for more profit we may need to revise our previous estimates. When? With King Corn, it could be next year.

Poverty areas shown by pictures of Peru

ELSIE— The Elsie Lions Club heard about the activities of the Peace Corps, when Mr and Mrs Dale Anderson of St. Johns were guests Monday evening at the American Legion Hall.

While their daughter, Patricia, was a Peace Corps Volunteer in the suburbs of Lima, Peru, Mrs Anderson visited there and brought back many pictures.

SHE TOLD of her daughter's 20 months in the barrada of Comas teaching the under privileged a variety of subjects, to improve their standard of living. A high rate of such diseases as dysentery and tuberculosis was prevalent, she said, so there was much education in proper hygiene and sanitation.

To prevent spread of such diseases, Mrs Anderson's pictures showed such improvements as water pipes, sewage disposal and proper toilet facilities.

There were pictures of some of the buildings, they helped the Peruvians construct, including a day nursery for children of working mothers, adobes of straw, mud and brick and a school. There were also many side trips such as one to the nearby ruins of an Inca City.

ELSIE— Exchange students Lissa Knight and Maureen Peck, Elsie High School seniors, who spent the summer abroad living with German and Dutch families, were guests of the Woman's Literary Club, Tuesday evening in EHS's homemaking room.

The girls, introduced by Mrs Roland Schaadt, showed colored slides and told of their experiences. Lissa's pictures included street scenes of both the old and new part of Hanover, Germany and its countryside where she lived.

The schools, churches, government buildings, the War Memorial, a bombed church, a stadium built of war rubble, illuminated Royal Gardens and the famous zoological flower gardens were shown.

SHE ALSO showed pictures of the narrow streets of Hameln where the Pied Piper walked and the Middleland Canal with its boat traffic crossing Germany and Holland to the sea.

Maureen was dressed in a costume typical of Meeden, Holland where she lived. She wore a starched white hat, colorful skirts and wooden shoes. She explained that the shoes were the only part now commonly worn and that the other apparel was brought out only for festive occasions. She made her own costume.

Several pictures showed the making of wooden shoes from the carving to the painted finished product. There were many country scenes showing the dikes and some of the land reclaimed by the sea.

THE COUNTRY scenes with canals, windmills and grazing sheep and cattle contrasted to the narrow crowded streets with apartment houses and bicycles everywhere.

Both girls showed many pictures of their European families, homes and everyday living.

They displayed dolls, books, pictures and other mementoes which they brought back with them. They thanked the club women for helping to make the trip possible.

MRS PAUL Platner presided for the business meeting and requested that all sessions this year be opened with the pledge to the flag and praying of the club collect.

Mrs Harold Heldeman reported on the progress of the Trading Post which will close Saturday, Oct. 24. Mrs Durward Conklin announced the public card party as a benefit for the Elsie Public Library on Nov. 3, at 7:45 p.m. in Knight Elementary School. Mrs Heldeman distributed tickets to each member to sell for this civic project.

The flower committee reported that Mrs George Spiegel is under treatment at the Sparrow Hospital in Lansing, Mrs J. O. Schumacher and Mrs Pat Foran have returned home from hospitals and Mrs Lloyd Craven has a broken wrist. Mrs Durward Conklin and Mrs A. W. Stewart served as hostesses while Mrs R. C. Parks, Mrs Wade Parks and Mrs Norman Blakely assisted in serving refreshments from a Halloween table setting.

MISS ANDERSON recently returned to this country to attend Michigan State University and obtain her master's degree. She plans to teach in a school for underprivileged children.

Also returning with her was 19-year-old Mario Diaz Paredes. Mrs Anderson explained the difficulty with which they secured his immigrant visa. He wants to learn modern methods of agriculture.

He is residing with Mr and Mrs Anderson and will take a short course in agriculture at MSU. He is a high school graduate but speaks little English.

Dr G. W. Bennett served as program chairman and introduced the guest speaker.

A brief business meeting was held with Jack Hawes presiding. Since October is membership enrollment month, a report was given by chairman, Robert Moore. Announcement was made for initiation of new members at the Nov. 2 meeting.

Luman Halls elected heads of Elsie OES

ELSIE— Mr and Mrs Luman Hall were elected to head Elsie Chapter 69 OES at the meeting held Wednesday evening in the Masonic Hall.

Others chosen were: Mrs R. D. Martin, associate matron; John Hall, associate patron; Mrs John Hall, secretary; Mrs William Wilson, treasurer; Mrs Dale Levey, conductress; and Mrs Malcolm Lusk, associate conductress.

Installation for the new officers will be Nov. 14 with a practice scheduled for Nov. 11. Invitations to area installations were also extended: Oct. 24, Ovid and Wacousta; Oct. 30, Maple Rapids; and Oct. 31, St. Johns.

WORTHY MATRON Mrs Alex Dunay displayed "The Golden Rule," a certificate of recognition for the chapter's 1963-1964 activities. It was presented by the Grand Chapter for outstanding accomplishments in the promotion of attendance and visitation sponsored by the public relations committee. A letter of commendation and appreciation was received by Mrs Dunay from Worthy Grand Matron Ann Joyce for her efforts in leading the chapter in its many projects.

MR AND MRS Dunay thanked the officers for their cooperation the past year and presented each with a gift.

Mrs Arthur H. Brown of the Alpena Chapter, OES who is spending a few days with Mrs Vina Smith, was a special guest. Previous to the meeting a potluck was held with the following committee in charge: Mr and Mrs Stanley Loznak; Mrs Harry Purves Sr. and Mr and Mrs C. S. Goodrich.

License plates ready Monday

An "opening rush" for license plates "such as we've never known before" is expected in Michigan by Secretary James M. Hare.

The "rush," if it comes to that, will begin Nov. 2. That date's a day later than normal because the secretary decreed no Sunday sale of license plates.

MOTORISTS will have some choice when they go to get their plates. Previously they had to bring their titles in before licenses could be issued. Now they can bring either their titles as before or their prior year's registration, whichever is more convenient.

The PX Store on Clinton Avenue in St. Johns is license plate headquarters for Clinton County.

Bishop sees Council's work as reformation

(The Most Rev. M. Joseph Green, Auxiliary Bishop of Lansing, is attending the Ecumenical Council's third session in Rome. This is his third article on the accomplishments and aims of the Council.

As Cardinal Tisserant closed yesterday morning's (Oct. 16) Session with the recitation of the Angelus and the Prayer to the Guardian Angel, the Council Fathers poured out of the front doors of St. Peter's Basilica with a little lighter heart and a bouncer step.

It was not only because it was Friday and we had the two-day weekend ahead of us... and, believe me, this weekend has come to be a rather precious time, for it gives us an opportunity to catch up on so many things that have piled up on us during the week—the necessary studying for the Council, our personal and Diocesan correspondence, and the many social and business calls that have to be made.

BUT THE lighter heart and bouncer step was also prompted by the fact that we had just reached the half-way point of this Session. Five weeks of work were behind us; five more weeks of work remained to be done. This presumes, of course, that this Session will end on Nov. 20.

We are too close to the Council to presume to give it any historical appraisal. It will take years and, perhaps, decades before this can be done objectively and completely. I do not pretend to be an historian and in this article I do not intend to appraise the work done during these past five weeks. I would like, rather, to comment on how I and many of the Bishops feel about what has been done during this time and what we hope to do during the remaining five weeks of this Session.

I AM prompted to do this because of the comment made in almost every letter I receive from the States. And the comment runs something like this: "The Bishops are really getting things done this Session." Some add the additional observation that we are involved in some sort of a revolution; that we are overturning many precious heritages; that the Catholic Church will never be the same after this Council.

Yes, we are trying to get things done. And this is because "the love of Christ presses us on." The Council was summoned by beloved Pope John and reconvened by Pope Paul to consider ways and means whereby the Good News of the Gospel of Christ could be made better known and more meaningful to the people of our times. This is an urgent task. It cannot tolerate postponement or delay. So it is true that "we are really trying to get things done."

BUT WE ARE not engaged in any sort of a revolution. I am sure those who use this expression have inadvertently used the wrong word. What they meant to say was that we are engaged in some sort of a reformation. And that we are. For, again, Pope John gave us another of the reasons for the Council the reformation of the Church to cope with the needs and challenges of our times.

And the reformation consists in the attempt to re-fashion the Church and the faithful in this world in which we live more perfectly to the image of Christ and the message of Christ's Gospel.

AS SPEAKER after speaker rises each day to discuss the various points under debate the constant theme running through all discussion is simple this: How can we most effectively bring home to the faithful the means and the methods, the duty, the joy and satisfaction of living Christ's life in their daily lives. If this is accomplished the reformation will be achieved. And we desire this reformation with all our hearts.

Now are we intent in overthrowing precious Christian heritages. We must put things in focus—not only for ourselves but for the faithful, too. And the fact is that many things have come to be regarded as precious Christian heritages which are not that at all. Rather, they are often times customs, traditions and cultures which have abused Christianity by using it as a front or an excuse to avoid doing what Christ and His Gospel have commanded as proof of our love of God and love of our neighbor.

THERE IS NO need for any Catholic to fear that the Council will decree anything that is contrary to what is a truly Christian heritage. But we will endeavor to destroy completely what parades as a Christian heritage but is, in reality, most un-Christian.

And, finally, as to the comment that the Church will never be the same after this Council. If the reformation desired is achieved, surely it will never be the same. That is one of the main reasons for the Council. But, actually, this refers not to the Divine Constitution of the Church. That cannot change. Rather, it refers to the People of God as the Church. And that must change if the Message of Christ and the Gospel is to have meaning for the people of our times.

DURING THESE past five weeks we have discussed and decided many questions which involve these few comments your letters contain. And in the remaining five weeks, please God, we will endeavor to decide many more of the questions and problems. This is the onerous duty of the Church and the Bishops of the Church must fulfill it in exercising their teaching office.

But it remains not merely for them to implement the decrees of the Council, its suggestions and goals in their personal lives. The implementation of the work of the Council must be done by every member of the Church, every one of the People of God.

THEREFORE, it is not enough for you to be interested in and curious about the work of the Council. Rather, it is more important for you to try to put the "things we are trying to get done" into practice in your daily lives.

Bement Library Book Shelf By Elizabeth Millman

Is it a sign of old age when novels seem to have lost their appeal? When none of them have enough interest to make one want to sit up all night to finish them? It is hard to know whether the fault lies in the reader or in the novelists who are writing today.

One looks back with nostalgia on some of the stories of the 1920's and 30's. There seems to be no one now-a-days who writes the same appeal. There is that early work of Hemingway, "For Whom the Bell Tolls," with its beautiful cadence that makes it seem almost like poetry. The tale of the Spanish Civil War was very gripping.

OR HAS THERE been anything written since "Gone With the Wind" by Margaret Mitchell appeared that had the same appeal? The demand for that book has never stopped. It was stepped up all the more when the movie version was revived on its recent 25th anniversary.

Do you remember "Lost Horizon" by James Hilton? In that book he coined the word, "Shangri-la," which has become a part of the English language and denotes a kind of Paradise. Also he was responsible for that favorite novel of the First World War, "Good-bye, Mr. Chips," which was a real tear jerker.

HERVEY ALLEN'S "Anthony Adverse," created quite a stir and caused much loss of sleep as it was one of those books you just can't put down.

Ben Ames Williams stories of "Fraternity Village," "The Strange Woman," and "Leave Her To Heaven" were engrossing and made wonderful moves when dramatized.

Marjorie Rawling's "The Yearling," is a classic animal story. And Mary Roberts Rinehart wrote excellent "who-done-its" that haven't been bettered.

MAYBE ONE grows more sophisticated as age comes on, and less easily impressed, but it does seem that there just isn't any author who is writing them like they did in the good old days.

This is probably just a librarian's lament because there just wasn't anything new to write about this week, because we certainly do not want our readers to stop asking for the books reviewed in this column.

Coins wanted The coin shortage is so severe in one New England city that students at a nearby college received letters from the local bank urging them to bring along rolls of coins when they returned for the fall semester.

Road Commission Weekly Report

The Board of Clinton County Road Commissioners will take bids on gasoline and on a new front-end loader at their next regular meeting, Nov. 3. The Commission also will examine a new subdivision in Watertown Township for final approval.

Les Dragoo, road engineer, Fred Crowell, state maintenance superintendent, and your road clerk attended a State Highway Winter Maintenance meeting at Grand Rapids Tuesday. Drainage, chemical spreading, sign removal, material testing and budget reporting were discussed at this meeting.

COLD, WET weather delayed the completion of the Wood Road bridge last week, but the blacktop surface is now on the deck and just a few minor items remain to be completed. The bridges on Colony Road in Essex Township are going slowly.

Orville Jones and his shop crew are getting salt spreaders and other winter maintenance equipment ready for use.

THE THREE ROAD commissioners, engineer and road clerk and George Moore, Duplain Township supervisor, were all privileged to hear a talk by John Jacoby at the eight-county council meeting a week ago. Jacoby is legal counsel for the county road association and helped to write many of the laws relating to roads. The main topic was liability laws, but many other legal problems were brought up at the meeting.

One problem, common to all counties present, was the re-occurring objection of the auditors on methods of handling county appropriations to road funds.

JACOBY discussed this problem along with the liability problems and spoke at some length about law by edict and law by decision. He said that many judges and administrators of government departments were changing the law by their decisions, that the Executive and Judicial branches of government were usurping legislative powers.

Teacher unit studying modern math program

A committee of teachers in the St. Johns Public Schools is studying the mathematics program from elementary grades through high school.

Out of this study will come a decision as to whether or not "modern math" will be started in the public schools next fall. The committee will study the whole program and then recommend what type of mathematics should be adopted and also what textbooks and other materials should be used.

WILMA SMITH, sixth grade teacher at Central, is chairman of the committee. She visited Cleveland area schools on Monday and Tuesday as a guest of one of the publishers of modern math materials. Cleveland is noted for its work in math instruction.

Other members of the committee are Esther Graham, Leslie

Wesner, Roger Freeman, Margaret Puetz, Pat Ploszak, Shirley Bingham, Pauline Puetz, Patricia Stevens, and Evangeline Johnson.

Low in quality

Field and laboratory trials show Gaines wheat, if grown in Michigan, is low in yield and flour quality, according to the Michigan State University's crop science department. In variety comparisons made this year by farmers in several Michigan counties, Gaines yielded only 75 to 80 percent as much grain as the Genesee and Avon white wheat varieties.

Masons bestow high honors on Don Toaz

A member of St. Johns Commandery No. 25, Knights Templar, received the highest honor which can be conferred by the York Rite branch of Masonry at ceremonies in Iron Mountain Saturday.

Don Toaz, formerly a Grand Lodge attorney, was inducted into Fred H. Pocock Priory, Knights of the York Cross of Honor at the annual meeting of that organization in Iron Mountain. The State meeting of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons in Marquette closed Saturday.

MEMBERSHIP in the York Cross of Honor is limited to Masons who have presided over the four York Rite bodies of Masonry. Toaz has served as master of Grand Lodge Masonic Lodge, high priest of Grand Lodge Royal Arch Chapter, master of Grand Lodge Council of Royal and Select Masters, and as commander of St. Johns Commandery, Knights Templar.

THERE HAVE been only 202 Masons in Michigan who have qualified and been inducted into the order of the York Cross of Honor, which has a present membership of 152. So far as can be determined, Toaz is the first member of St. Johns Commandery to ever receive this honor. He also has served as Patron of Amity Chapter of the Eastern Star in Lansing.

Other members of the York Cross of Honor in the Lansing area are William C. Young and Harold G. Copp, both of Lansing.

Modern dentistry applies psychology to make child's visit a pleasant experience

Like to visit the dentist? It's a safe wager that you don't.

But, the next generation won't mind it a bit. For today's dentists have a new approach to the small fry that makes their initial visit a pleasant experience rather than a fearful venture.

Mr and Mrs Frederick G. Meyer of 710 S. Oakland Street have eight children. All of them except the very youngest have been visiting Dr H. L. Oatley since they were about three years of age. They don't know what fear of a dentist is. In fact, they sit quietly through their appointment anticipating the kind of ring they will receive. Dr Oatley gives his young patients attractive finger rings when they come to see him. "They ask the nurse for one if I forget," he said.

DR OATLEY SAID "If youngsters will begin their visits to a dentist at the age of three and have regular six-month check-ups thereafter, much of this fear of dentists will be reduced." "May I remind the parents," he continued, "not to discuss their fear and apprehensions in front of the child? This will also aid a great deal in treating the child patient."

Sometimes the parent has work done before the child is treated. Of course, then, the parent must be a good patient or all is lost. And then, because all the paraphernalia in the dentist's office can be frightening, some of the doctors explain to the small patient the functions of some of the forbidding equipment, removing their fears.

SOME DENTISTS wear colored coats because children associate the white coat with the "shots" they've had in the doctor's office.

Dr R. L. Wohlers teaches his young patients to brush their teeth "the way they grow." Teeth are to keep, not to lose," he tells them. "Remember that if you are true to your teeth, they won't be false to you. Oral health is an indicator to systemic health. We are what we eat."

"Pain" and "hurt" are words that should be avoided before the visit, unless the child has a toothache. Then, they are the natural words to use in explaining that the dentist will stop the hurt.

MR AND MRS ARTHUR Motz of R-6, St. Johns, start periodic visits for their children to their dentist, Dr C. W. Lumbert, at an early age. They strive at home to prevent discussions that might instill fear within the small patients.

Dr Lumbert said "I have found that the first important job in doing dental work on children is to get acquainted with the child. The main objective is to have the child become relaxed and gain his trust." "It is my opinion," he added, "that, with a little patience and understanding of the child's feelings, together with plenty of smiles from the dentist and assistant, the child patient is no special problem."

DR LUMBERT says that he be-

Opening her mouth "wide like a tiger" was a request that little Kelley Meyer, responded to without fear when Dr H. L. Oatley examined her teeth. After the examination, she asked "What kind of a ring do I have this time?" She is a daughter of Mr and Mrs Fred Meyer of 710 S. Oakland Street.

Five-year-old Charlene Shea, daughter of Mr and Mrs Richard Shea of rural Elsie, had her teeth cleaned at her second visit to Dr Donald R. White. She had a cavity filled during her first visit. She was happy during her visit and she, too, received a ring when she left his office.

Dr C. W. Lumbert tells little Pamela Motz about the drill and how it takes the decay from her teeth. Mrs Ernest Pardee, dental assistant, watches the procedure. Dr Lumbert wears a blue coat so children are not reminded of the discomfort of shots they had from the "men with the white coats." Pamela's parents are Mr and Mrs Arthur Motz of R-6, St. Johns.

lieves that the surroundings in the treatment room are very important and the fewer instruments in view, the better.

Most dentists agree that a child is more comfortable with the mother staying in the room during his appointment, that is all right. An overly fearful or uncooperative parent won't be welcome, however. A problem child may want to show off in his mother's presence.

Dr R. L. Wohlers shows 2-year-old Michael Moore the proper way to brush his teeth. "Up and down and up and down," says Dr Wohlers and Michael shows his friendliness by taking time out for a big smile for the doctor that he fears not at all. Michael is the son of Mr and Mrs Edward Moore of 823 N. Lansing Street.

If an emergency situation means a child has to have a tooth pulled during his first appointment, no dentist can make the situation very pleasant.

Tax deductibility changes told

Some of the taxes previously deductible on federal income tax returns will not be deductible by individuals under provisions of the 1964 law.

These are the state and local taxes on alcohol, cigarettes and tobacco, and certain auto license and driver fees and a few miscellaneous taxes.

TAXES that are still deductible are real estate and personal property taxes, general sales and certain use taxes, state and local income taxes and gasoline taxes.

According to R. I. Nixon, Detroit district director of Internal Revenue, the changes in tax deductibility should not have a major effect on Michigan taxpayers. These non-deductible taxes accounted for only 12 per cent of tax deductions taken last year. He added that there is no change at all in the taxes that may be deducted on business returns.

NIXON NOTED that although 47 states tax alcoholic beverages, in just 16 states are these taxes paid directly by the consumer and therefore deductible by him under previous law. Cigarette taxes had been deductible in 25 states of the 47 which have these taxes.

Cattle disease testing method to be changed

A vital tool in the successful program to rid the state of brucellosis, a highly contagious disease in cattle, has been biological tests of blood samples taken from the animals. Hundreds of thousands of such tests have been run at the Michigan Department of Agriculture's laboratory in East Lansing.

The brucellosis program is a cooperative one between the department's Livestock Disease Control Division and the USDA's Animal Disease Eradication Division.

TWO methods of testing blood samples have been used, but after Jan. 1, 1965, only one type of testing will be employed—the tube test. Discontinued will be the rapid plate test.

Standardization on the tube test as the routine diagnostic test was approved recently by the Michigan Commission of Agriculture. Here is why.

The uniform methods and rules require use of the tube test in all certified brucellosis-free counties. Michigan now has 30 such counties. The tube test was used in all 30 to establish this status. The tube test meets requirements because it increases diagnostic accuracy.

"INCREASING demand for use of the tube test," explained State Veterinarian Dr. J. F. Quinn, "made it desirable to discontinue plate tests and standardize on tube tests."

Both the tube test and the plate test to detect brucellosis in blood samples are based on the same principle. The plate test was developed from the tube test to provide a faster screening method of detecting brucellosis reactors when the inspection rate was high. This is not the case today.

Tube testing takes 48 hours as compared to mere minutes for plate tests, but adoption of tube testing conforms fully with all requirements in the cooperative state-federal battle against brucellosis. So all brucellosis tests will be run by the tube method, come next New Year.

Support for Court of Appeals Judges

State Senator Emil Lockwood of St. Louis left no doubt as to his choice for the three Court of Appeals Judges for the third district, as can be seen by the billboard he placed in Gratiot County. He feels, however, that at least one out of every four voters will fail to vote for this important judicial position next Tuesday, Nov. 3.

Planners studying water resources

The Region's economic future—so far as the impact of its ground water resource is concerned—will be partially determined through a preliminary ground water resources study now being done for the Commission and the Lansing Board of Water and Light by the US Geological Survey.

The need for this study was the first recommendation of the Water Use Study completed last year for the commission by the Battelle Memorial Institute of Columbus, Ohio.

IN THEIR monthly meeting Thursday night, the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission heard Ken VanLier of the USGS outline the compiled data which is to be used as a basis for the detailed water resources investigation of the entire Tri-County area.

VanLier reported that wells situated in sandstone are the most bountiful source of municipal, industrial, and household water supplies in the area. In the region surrounding Lansing this water-rich sandstone is thin and wells are not likely to be productive.

ONE OF the problems the area may be faced with, according to VanLier, is that increasing water consumption will require the drilling of new wells on the perimeter of existing well fields. This will probably result in a declining yield from older wells. Intensive pumping may also result in decreased stream flows throughout the Region.

The staff reported to the commission that a handbook on residential standards—the third in the series of Guiding Land Subdividing—will be ready for distribution in November. The handbook will describe desired minimum standards for subdivision location, design, and improvements. It is intended as an aid to local standards for their jurisdictions.

THE STAFF has also prepared a subdivision checklist, based on the requirements of the Plat Act. The checklist will aid local officials by serving as an outline of the proper legal steps which should be taken in approving plats. The checklist is now being reviewed by the Subdivision Advisory Committee and, based on the committee's recommendations, will be revised prior to distribution.

In other action, the commission authorized the staff to proceed with the community shelter plan study for the region. This program, to be done in cooperation with local, state, and federal civil defense agencies, will determine needs for area fallout shelters in relation to day and night population concentrations.

PARTNERS IN GROWTH...

During 1963 Michigan farmers harvested and delivered over one million tons of beets to the state's five sugar factories for processing. This crop produced nearly 280,000,000 pounds of pure sparkling sugar for sale exclusively in Michigan during the current marketing year.

In an average year, the beet sugar industry of Michigan will derive from $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 from the sugarbeet crop. From this crop Michigan sugarbeet growers will receive approximately $15,000,000 in company and conditional payments.

These dollars which the sugarbeet growers and processors of this state receive for sugar produced in Michigan affect economic units all around their own horizons and far beyond Michigan's 17 county beet producing area. Remember, every time a sugar beet grows—so does Michigan.

NEVER BEFORE SUCH A RECORD OF PROGRESS!

In just two years, George Romney's Republican leadership . . . George Romney's public policies . . . George Romney's concern for the greatest good for all people . . . has brought Michigan from fiscal chaos to financial strength, from recession to prosperity, from gloom and shame to hope and pride.

Today, instead of being on the rocks, Michigan is on the move!

This incredible comeback was accomplished by George Romney and the Republican legislature despite the opposition, the politically-inspired resistance of an all-Democratic administrative Board.

Think how much more progress could have been made if George Romney had a team that supported him, worked with him, helped him!

Now's your chance to give Michigan a great Republican team of qualified, able, dedicated men and women in the executive branch and the field of education who will keep our great state on the move with the Romney Republican leadership.

Romney could be victim of a Democratic sweep

Even the most enthusiastic Goldwater supporters are realistic enough to concede these days that the Arizona Senator will have difficulty carrying Michigan for President in next Tuesday's election.

The heavy Johnson majorities which seem certain in populous southeastern Michigan will swing the state to the Democratic column in the Presidential voting.

The problem for Republicans and independent voters in Michigan is to make certain that the Johnson tide from the industrial areas does not engulf the state GOP ticket.

THE LOSS OF Romney as Governor and the failure of Republicans to control at least one House of the Michigan legislature would be a setback which Michigan can ill afford at this time.

Gov. Romney, his executive team running mates and legislative aides should be given the opportunity to carry on the program of progress so well begun in the first two years of this present state administration.

3 candidates endorsed for Court of Appeals

Three Judges of the new Court of Appeals are to be elected from this 66-county district on the nonpartisan ballot at next Tuesday's general election. There are six nominees for the three posts.

Many voters will be puzzled in making a choice and for that reason we have no hesitancy in endorsing for your serious consideration three of the candidates. They are:

STATE SENATOR John W. Fitzgerald, of Grand Ledge, who is well-known in this area as a capable lawyer and legislator.

Circuit Judge Donald E. Holbrook, of Clare, whose years of judicial experience make him a top choice.

Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller, of Tawas City, who has exhibited outstanding judicial qualities during his service on the bench.

Says emotional reactions create traffic accidents

"Traffic accidents happen to people who are looking for them," asserts a prominent psychoanalyst in Pageant magazine.

Dr Richard Firestone, a psychoanalyst who has been named Special Adviser to the New York City Department of Traffic, states that unresolved interpersonal conflicts and repressed emotions among normal individuals are responsible for more traffic accidents than mechanical failures in autos, plus all the irresponsible actions of habitual drunkards, chronic safety violators, and emotionally unstable personalities put together.

SAYS DR FIRESTONE, "The pressures of daily living are strong contributing factors to accidents. There are pressures that build up so much emotional stress that unconsciously destructive impulses are stimulated and people go out looking for accidents."

The moral may be: After a hard day on the job, walk home.

Trick or Treat

RAMBLIN' with Rink

BY LOWELL G. RINKER

It is always gratifying when occasionally a reader will respond in writing to something I have said in this column.

Several weeks ago I reported on a "conversation" I had with a little leaf. For Mrs. C.A.C. in Portland, Mich., it apparently recalled for her a poem which she sent to me last week, saying she thought I might appreciate it.

I DO, MRS. C.A.C., and I think others who read my column will be refreshed by it, too. The poem is written by Susan Coolidge and is entitled

HOW THE LEAVES CAME DOWN

I'll tell you how the leaves came down:
The great Tree to his children said,
"You're getting sleepy, Yellow and Brown—
Yes, very sleepy, little Red.
It is quite time to go to bed."

"Ah!" begged each silly, pouting leaf
"Let us a little longer stay;
Dear Father Tree, behold our grief!
'Tis such a very pleasant day
We do not want to go away."

So, for just one more merry day
To the great Tree the leaflets clung,
Frollicked and danced, and had their way,
Upon the autumn breezes swung,
Whispering all their sports among—

"Perhaps the great Tree will forget,
And let us stay until the spring,
If we all beg, and coax, and fret."
But the great Tree did no such thing;
He smiled to hear their whispering.

"Come, children, all to bed," he cried;
And ere the leaves could urge their prayer,
He shook his head, and far and wide,
Fluttering and rustling everywhere,
Down sped the leaflets through the air.

I saw them; on the ground they lay,
Golden and red, a huddled swarm,
Waiting till one from far away,
White bedclothes heaped upon her arm,
Should come to wrap them safe and warm.

The great bare Tree looked down and smiled.
"Good night, dear little leaves," he said.
And from below each sleepy child
Replied, "Good night," and murmured,
"It is so nice to go to bed!"

Attitude

BY W. E. DOBSON

Spring is where you find it,
Be the weather fair or foul,
Some will wear a smiling visage.
Others grumble, gripe and growl;
Though the same sun in its glory,
Smiles alike on all who work,
Some reflect its light and grandeur
Others in the shadows lurk.

Spring is where you find it,
There is music everywhere,
In some hearts it finds an echo.
Other ears seem scarce to care;
In all nature's tuning process,
Some will master symphony,
While some others miss completely—
Fail to find the master key.

Spring is where you find it
In the language of the flowers,
Finding beauty in life's bounty
Building castles topped with towers;
Weaklings waver when not winning,
But adversity often brings
Sturdy souls gateways to greatness,
Found in simple common things.

Presidential tragedies compared

DR A. C. HENTHORN of St. Johns hands me a clipping of a piece that has been making the rounds since the tragic assassination of former President Kennedy. It calls attention to the striking similarity of circumstances surrounding the deaths of Presidents Kennedy and Lincoln.

Dr Henthorn clipped the article from his former hometown paper, the Lewis County Herald at Vanceburg, Ky. Here's how it goes:

Both Lincoln and Kennedy were concerned with civil rights.

Lincoln was elected in 1860, Kennedy in 1960.

Both were slain on a Friday, in the presence of their wives.

BOTH WERE shot from behind in the head.

Their successors were both named Johnson. Both successors were Southern Democrats and both had served in the Senate.

Andrew Johnson was born in 1808; Lyndon Johnson was born in 1908.

John Wilkes Booth was born in 1839; Lee Harvey Oswald in 1939.

Booth and Oswald were both Southerners favoring unpopular ideas.

Booth and Oswald were both killed before being tried.

BOTH PRESIDENTS' wives lost children through death while in the White House.

Lincoln's secretary, whose name was Kennedy, advised him not to go to the theater; Kennedy's secretary, whose name was Lincoln, urged him not to go to Dallas.

Booth shot Lincoln in a theater and ran to a warehouse.

Oswald shot Kennedy from a warehouse and ran to a theater.

The names Lincoln and Kennedy each contain seven letters. The names Andrew Johnson and Lyndon Johnson each contain 15 letters.

Andrew Johnson was not re-elected.

The successor to Andrew Johnson was a man whose last name began with a G (Grant).

Does history repeat itself? (Editor's Note: We'll know about that early next Wednesday).

MY MOTHER, who doesn't take too kindly to her advancing years, gets a real kick out of a verse that goes like this:

"I can see with my bifocals,
My dentures fit me fine.
I endure my arthritis,
But I sure do miss my mind."

She says you have to reach 70 and beyond before you really appreciate the truth in the quatrain.

INCLUDED IN A new album published by Suwanee Songs at Lenoir City, Tenn., is a stirring number, "Unfurl the Stars and Stripes," with lyrics by Mrs. Laurel Bannister Cramer, a native of St. Johns.

Mrs. Cramer is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Bannister. She left here in 1913 to live in Conneaut, Ohio. Later she moved with her late husband, Edward F. Cramer, to Chicago where he was a railroad man and union official.

In recent years, Mrs. Cramer has lived at Galesburg, Ill., near the home of her daughter. "I'm a lifelong Republican," she writes, "and the new song reflects my concern for a continuation of our constitutional way of life."

Back Thru the Years

★ Interesting Items from the Files of The Clinton County News

10 YEARS AGO
From the Files of Oct. 28, 1954

Gerald E. Allen, cashier of the St. Johns National Bank here for the past four years, has accepted a position as vice president and cashier of the Commercial Bank of Roseville, a Macomb County community of 25,000 population east of Detroit. Owen C. Teeters, recently of Holland, took Allen's place.

18. Meantime, the young man must make restitution to Ellwanger in the amount of $7.25.

Hen pheasants are quoted on the St. Johns market at $56.85 to $58.85 apiece on the hoof. That was the price assessed three luckless hunters who were arraigned in justice court here this week.

50 YEARS AGO
From the Files of Oct. 29, 1914

Expecting stiff opposition, the local boys put up a good exhibition of football against Ithaca last Saturday. Many new and complicated plays were cleverly executed. The forward pass was used sparingly. St. Johns won 51-6.

"A Base Ball Fan's Widow," the pretty little four-act farce comedy, will be given at the Allison Opera House Wednesday evening, Nov. 4, under the auspices of the St. Johns Base Ball Assn.

25 YEARS AGO
From the Files of Oct. 26, 1939

Recently Bob Moss, Lansing youth employed by David Ellwanger, DeWitt farmer, broke a ladder and was made to pay for it by his employer. Incensed, Moss stole a small quantity of wheat and cut up a hay rope to "get even."

This week Moss admitted his offense when arraigned before Justice William J. Black. Sentence was suspended until Nov.

Letters to the Editor

New voter says he backs Barry

FIRST OF ALL let me congratulate you on the fine new changes the Clinton County News has made. It is very nice to receive it while I am working on my California embalmer's license. The pictures are so very clear that it does make one feel as though he is right on the scene of everything happening at home.

It has been seven months since I was in St. Johns but with the paper arriving once each week it seems like yesterday. Furthermore let me add that it is undoubtedly one of the finest weeklies that I have seen which takes in quite a number as I work with out-of-staters receiving their home town papers and I live in an apartment with a boy who subscribes to his home town paper.

SECONDLY let me say something about the oncoming election to take place next month. Let's all get out and vote! I'm not very familiar with the situation in Michigan as I have registered here in California rather than vote absentee. This fact does not, however, change the fact that we all will be voting in the general election. It's definitely time we as Americans did something to change the national scene.

For any of the possible readers who might not know me I must put in at this time that I am 22 years old and therefore this is the first general election for me to vote. This does not alter the facts that good judgment can and does concern me as it should anyone reading this letter.

I have been doing considerable reading on the candidates, their parties and what the candidates themselves stand for. The only logical choice in studying the facts is that Senator Barry M. Goldwater is the man we should elect.

IT SEEMS as though anyone who has ever looked at a history book could tell that the only way for the United States to survive is to get off this idea of socialism and get with capitalism and freedom. One good example is the fall of the Roman Empire, which never happened until the ultimate in socialism had been accomplished. Let me add a little parable of the "isms" at this point:

Socialism: If you have two cows you give one to your neighbor.

Communism: If you have two cows you give them to the government and the government gives you some milk.

New Dealism: If you have two cows, you shoot one and milk the other, then pour the milk down the drain.

Capitalism: If you have two cows you sell one and buy a bull.

NOW I AM sure that you who lived through the New Deal setup will be sure and remember the full meaning of just what I have quoted above. Now again I must insert that Mr. Johnson not only lived under the New Deal setup but was a henchman of F. D. Roosevelt and was sure to learn some of his ideas and methods of running the government to satisfy himself more than to do justice to the citizens of the United States of America.

City income tax plans would complicate state's

No firm indication has been given whether Michigan's Legislature will be asked to seriously consider a state income tax program in 1965.

Any such program considered at a future date, however, likely will be more complicated than previous income tax proposals because a number of cities have now entered this area in revenue raising.

NO LESS than 12 communities are collecting, have enacted or are considering the levy of a tax on personal income.

Experience in two of these cities indicated opposition to an income tax may not be as strong as some legislators have believed.

In Flint an advisory vote on the income tax gained public approval. Jackson city councilmen found some opposition to their tax proposal, but no organized anti-income tax movement was apparent.

MOST OF the cities which have considered this tax method offered a trade, basically the same idea the legislators considered in the state fiscal reform programs submitted to them. At the city level, most of the trades involved reduction in property taxes if the income levy was imposed.

Opposition to the local official's actions was strong in the Detroit area, Muskegon, Muskegon Heights, Saginaw and Grand Rapids.

Citizens in these communities, with the exception of Detroit which is already collecting its tax, want a referendum on the income tax proposal.

IN SEVERAL areas, suburbs of the core cities are threatening a retaliatory income tax to keep from losing revenue to their urban neighbors.

Writing a state income tax proposal if the governor and lawmakers agree it is necessary will be much more difficult if this full dozen or additional cities are using this form of taxation.

Indeed, some legislators had hoped the state could force cities to rely on property levies and leave income sources to them.

BAD DRIVING habits might be corrected if they were spotted at the very start of a motorist's experience behind the wheel, according to Secretary of State James M. Hare.

For this reason the Legislature will be asked again next year to include 16-year-old drivers under the state violation point system.

Under present law, motorist violations are not recorded with the Secretary of State records center until the driver is 17.

RECORDS show that youths in the 16-20 age group are involved in 15 per cent of all fatal accidents in the state, although they make up only 8 per cent of the driving population.

The ban against permanent recording of a 16-year-old's law violations under the motor vehicle code gives these drivers an unfair advantage, contends Hare.

"There are instances where these youngsters have run up an astronomical number of infractions while driving," he said. "It gives them an unfair advantage over other youngsters who get their first license after 17 and whose violations are counted against their record."

Traffic safety experts in Hare's office say corrective steps likely would be most effective if taken against 16-year-olds when poor driving habits first are noted.

MICHIGAN claims the largest number of lakes of any state, but conservation officials hope to add a few to provide better distribution of water recreation facilities.

With its park development program well under way, the Conservation Department this year hopes to concentrate on getting funds to begin a 10-year $10 million effort to provide man-made lakes to accommodate an additional 500,000 fishermen annually.

Original proposals call for the creation of 50 new lakes, most of them in the southern third of the state where the heaviest concentration of population lies.

EARLIEST plans would put new water facilities in Saginaw, Ionia, Shiawassee, Clinton, Ingham and Eaton counties, where there are few natural lakes suitable for fishing and other water recreation activities.

Man-made lakes are not unknown in Michigan but those which exist have generally been built by private developers for specific landowner groups. Most are designed only as beauty spots or swimming facilities.

Conservation officials feel the heavy population and the fact that two-thirds of all fishing licenses are sold to residents in the lower portion of the state justifies starting the giant lakes plan in this area.

It pays to be honest—there's always less competition.

This socialism setup that we are seeming to take on as a new way of life is just one of the steps toward Communism that we should all fear. The higher-ups in the Soviet bloc have time and again said that they will bury us and we will fly the Communist flag with our own hands and here we are helping them to do just what they want us to.

Of course you would never believe that our President was deliberately leading us down the path of socialism and to the next step of Communism but from the text of his speech on Jan. 15, 1964 let me quote: "We are going to take all of the money that we think is unnecessarily being spent and take it from the haves and give it to the have nots that need it so much."

Now let me ask you, Who is the "We" the President is speaking of? Who are the Haves, and who are the Have Not?

WE ARE the government and we are the ones making the money that we are spending. Are we going to elect someone to the Presidency who thinks he is the government and let him take our money that he thinks is being unnecessarily spent and line his own pockets with it?

Figures show him to have become a millionaire while in government service. Think about the television station in Texas in the city of 200,000 that is owned by the President's family. It is the only city of that size to have only one station and other people have continuously been requesting licenses to open other stations only to be refused by the government.

AWAKE Americans and get with it! Let us get back to the Constitution. The job of President isn't a place to capitalize upon. Put an American into the office that knows how to deal with the problems of foreign aid, internal problems, the military situation and anything that might arise.

My mother has been sending me articles from the Saturday Evening Post which have been praising either Mr Johnson or Mr Humphrey. Now I must admit I haven't in the past been too interested in national affairs and really who won which office, but three months or so ago I did become very interested since it was to be the first time for me to vote for president.

With the information that I had read before receiving these articles from home I could readily see that Mr Johnson really has nothing to offer. The articles have been about one-fourth about his finer qualities and three quarters slandering his opposition, Mr Goldwater, as they do in all their advertisements on television, and in speeches both on radio and in the newspapers.

IS THERE nothing good to say about Johnson, his ideas about government or his proposed plans?

Mr Goldwater comes right out with the issues and tells us what he would like to do but promises nothing as he cannot or would not be able to pass laws if he is elected and he knows these things, but at least I think he would try to get Communists and others of evil influence out of government-placed jobs.

Well, readers, the proof is in the pudding so to speak, and that is what the foreign countries would like. They all with hardly an exception want Johnson. I just wonder why? Is it because they are afraid Goldwater will put the United States back into the powerful place that we once had a long, long time ago, before we sold out China, Hungary, and so many others?

Let me tell you not to vote by what you read here, but take advantage of books, pamphlets, and papers by noted authorities, all of which are available on most newsstands.

Be intelligent—Vote Goldwater come November. Thank you. Cordially, DENNIS W. CORNWELL 13605 S. Vermont Ave. Gardena, Calif.

Reader irked by strong fines

I SUPPOSE it is a delicate subject when a boy or man goes to jail. They probably think they have a case but lost in circuit court. This happened last week.

So for a very minor accident like a nicked fender you don't stand a chance to defend yourself in any court. In justice court there is no chance, and perhaps police court is better, as minor tickets in Lansing cost $3 while in St. Johns it's $19.30 to $50 to $75.

EVEN IF YOU don't have insurance! But why no insurance? It isn't easy to get insurance, I don't know why. Farm Bureau has cancelled ALL my insurance, and I don't like it. Guess they don't like letters like this.

So I will try elsewhere or just try and avoid accidents or stay out of St. Johns or just don't drive at all. I can't send my hired help on the highway in uninsured cars or trucks.

SO I GUESS I should???? Do you want to go to jail? I don't. Do you want to be forced from the highways you helped build? We hardly dare park on Main Street in St. Johns. A certain businessman went out of his way to get me in trouble.

I don't operate that way. It often costs me money when I try and help some person who needs work or help.

OH, WELL, the farm isn't ALL mine any more, and I can go to jail. They say the new constitution sets up a new court, a not injustice court. Let's wait and see.

A MAN IN TROUBLE, NOT IN JAIL

COUNTRY FLAVOR

Countryman predicts humdinger of a winter

HAYDEN PEARSON

The countryman would not be discharging his obligations if he did not present the facts as he sees them. It is human nature to indulge in wishful thinking, but this is a world of realities as well as dreams. When the time comes for straight-forward reporting, the countryman must not shirk his duty.

Rarely have the signs been so ominous; rarely has the situation been so clear. Did you notice how difficult it was to husk sweet corn? Have you noticed the thickness of onion skins? The pines are shedding a tremendous number of brown needles and the cattail heads are an inch or two larger than usual.

THIS YEAR the crickets came into the house earlier than normal and the muskrats' houses are very high. Snakes were lively in September and the owls are beginning to hoot in October instead of waiting until December. Spruce gum is unusually hard and the bees are working late. All these are significant signs.

But the really portentous and ominous sign is the way the chipmunks are carrying their tails. If a chipmunk carries his tail floating to the rear, it means an easy winter; if the appendage is straight up and down, it means a normal winter. However, if the tail is curled over the back and pointing in the direction the chipmunk is traveling, it means a dilly of a winter.

PROBABLY you have noticed that the squirrels' tails are pointing forward. One dislikes to be a pessimist, but after all, facts must be faced. The chipmunks tell us we are in for a humdinger.

There are too many political remedies and too few cures.

The voice and vote YOU NEED TO KEEP IN WASHINGTON

Now more than ever you need a voice and vote...

FOR LIMITED GOVERNMENT—Congressman Johansen knows that government is not "merely people," but people plus power... and freedom requires this power be checked to prevent total concentration of decision-making authority in Washington... or anywhere.

FOR FISCAL DISCIPLINE—Congressman Johansen is for reduced spending, a balanced budget, regular payments on the national debt. He favors spending priorities and prudence in matching outgo and revenues.

FOR JUDICIAL RESTRAINT—Congressman Johansen is for enactment of laws or adoption of Constitutional amendments correcting decisions which exceed the federal judiciary.

FOR RIGHTEOUS FIRMNESS—Congressman Johansen believes a firm foreign policy, backed by military strength, is the best hope for peace with justice and freedom.

If you share these convictions. If you believe they are best for America... vote for Congressman Johansen, Nov. 3.

Why the Court of Appeals is Important

This new nine-judge intermediate appellate court was created by the new State Constitution to provide faster, less costly settlement of appeals now clogging the docket of the State Supreme Court and lower courts. Most criminal, divorce case, and civil lawsuit appeals will be settled in this appeals court, leaving the Supreme Court free to deliberate constitutional questions.

You can read many things in the human face. It is often the mirror of our emotions. It is sometimes the reflection of our character.

But almost never does the face reveal the needs of the human soul. Like some artificial mask it can look satisfied when the soul is starving. It can look calm when the soul is troubled. It can look content when the soul is restless and yearning.

How then can we read our soul's needs?

We can read them in the Bible. And in the centuries of man's universal reaching for God. In the prayers that a hundred million lips have framed. In the hymns and psalms that generations have echoed.

God alone fully understands the needs of a human soul. He who created us knows what is essential for His creatures. And when we come to His House, trying to understand these deep spiritual needs... all the while He is supplying them, satisfying the hungers of the soul.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL - ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday
Genesis 4:1-7	I Samuel 16:6-13	Psalms 42:1-11	John 6:25-34	John 6:35-51	II Corinthians 5:1-10	James 1:16-21

The Case the Intoxicated Cat

I noticed in a newspaper a letter written by an unhappy woman who complained that her husband thought it funny to make their pet cat drunk by continually pouring gin in its milk. The distressed woman complained that she didn't think it was doing the cat a bit of good for the cat would dance like a mad, stagger around in circles, and finally fall into a heap in the corner and go to sleep. Besides, the woman reported, the cat was now losing all of her hair as a result of the gin diet and what did a cat look like without hair.

Immediately letters poured into the newspapers from aroused readers all over the country denouncing the husband and suggesting various degrees of punishment for a man who would be so cruel to animals.

Perhaps I have a warped sense of humor, but the reactions of the readers struck me as ironically funny. Give an animal liquor and you are considered cruel. Give man liquor and you are considered sophisticated. Let an animal reel, act foolish, fall in a drunken stupor, and immediately it is an occasion for readers from coast to coast to howl protest. Let a man do the same thing and we simply ignore it. It's inhuman to give liquor to a cat, yet some will vote "yes" to make liquor available to humans. How crazy can we get?

Johnny Karber costs Daddy a dollar bet

JOHNNY KARBER

BY MABEL OPPENHEER

Little Johnny Karber doesn't know it but he cost his daddy an extra dollar this week. Daddy bet his brother, Johnny's Uncle William, that Johnny would have a tooth before the William Karbers' son, Steven, did. Uncle Bill called the other night and said that Steven had, not one, but two teeth. All Johnny has yet is sore gums and an impulse to chew on everything he can reach.

Johnny was six months old Oct. 27— a half a year. He was "adopted" by the Clinton County News when he was born April 27 in Clinton Memorial Hospital and his progress has been reported each month. More reports will be forthcoming until he blows out the candle on his first birthday cake.

JOHNNY is a son of Mr and Mrs Larry Karber of 817 Church Street. His brother, Dean, and sisters, Sharon and Janis, idolize him and vie for his attentions. Sometimes, the competition becomes a bit disturbing to him. They are all healthy, active small fry and a little overwhelming to one so small.

Dean says "He pulls hair." This might be intentional or not—maybe a bit of self-protective strategy. "I hope he doesn't take behavior lessons from them," Mrs Karber said.

JOHNNY had his first bath in the family bath tub last week.

"I think he thought it looked a little forbidding," Mother said. "But, he enjoyed his bath in it."

Johnny is learning to eat with a spoon—and he doesn't like it. "He throws his food all over the floor," "big sister," Janis, said. She has forgotten when she probably did the same thing. He chews on toast and teething biscuits and "makes a mess" according to Mother. Johnny weighs 17 pounds now.

JOHNNY went shopping with Mother—and came home with a new pair of shoes.

Grandpa and Grandma Karber are coming from Texas to spend Thanksgiving. Johnny doesn't know it, of course, but he will! But that will be the story for next month.

Peace is goal cited by world church women

The Clinton County Council of United Church Women will meet Friday, Nov. 6, at St. Johns Episcopal Church to observe World Community Day.

Miss Sylvia Aldrich, a retired missionary, will speak on "Peace? Man and Nations in a Changing World Community." A tea from 1:30 p.m. to 2 p.m. will precede the program.

THE PROGRAM committee includes Mrs. Carl Shinabery, chairman, Mrs. Ione Anderson and Mrs. Anita Smith from the Lowe Methodist Church and Mrs. Lorenzo Churches, Mrs. Clyde Pearson and Mrs. Carol Hallead of the Bingham Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Peace is the most urgent issue of present time. Since 1964-65 is the year of the churches' nationwide Program of Education and Action for Peace, every phase of this year's planning for World Community Day points up the broad scope of United Church Women's peace building program as part of the total efforts of the churches to build a peace with justice and freedom.

Symbolic cross will tie present to future guilds

St. Monica's Guild of St. John's Episcopal Church has purchased a sterling True Celtic Cross which is to be handed down from chairwoman to chairwoman. It is hoped that it will link the present day Guild, in this Centennial year, with that of the next 100 years.

The cross was purchased with money donated by members of St. Monica's Guild and was blessed by Rev. Hugh Banning on Sept. 20. Mrs. John Pouch, present chairwoman, is the first to have the honor of wearing the Celtic Cross.

School magazine campaign starts

Junior high and high school students in St. Johns have embarked on their annual magazine sales campaign, and it will continue for 10 school days, winding up about Nov. 10.

The schools and the students benefit directly from the sale of the magazines. The Curtis Publishing Co., which sponsors the magazine sale, returns 50 per cent of subscription prices on their publications to the school and about 30 per cent of the subscription price on other publications.

AT CENTRAL School, proceeds from the sale in past years have been used to buy an intercom system, opaque and film strip projectors and new bicycle racks, to name a few items.

At the high school, where the sale is the only all-school money-raising project, profits have gone for assembly programs and other all-school needs as decided on by the student council. A new trophy case is one of the results, and part of the cost of curtains from the auditorium was paid for with magazine sale profits.

Take scratches off

To make scratches in mahogany "invisible," dye them with iodine. The same idea works well on other dark woods. Rub light scratches with the cut surface of a walnut meat or Brazil nut meat.

Chop Suey

1 c. diced celery
1/2 c. chopped onion
2 tbs. butter
1/2 lb. diced veal
1/2 lb. diced pork
1 can cond. cream of celery soup
1 can cond. cream of chicken soup
1/2 c. brown rice
1/4 c. soy sauce
1 box frozen peas
1 can diced pimento
2 1/2 c. water

Saute celery and onion in butter. Remove, add meat; brown. Add remaining ingredients. Place in casserole and bake at 325 degrees for two hours. NOTE: For variety, add one can mushroom and top with French fried onion rings. Yield: 8 servings. — Mrs. Robert Weiler, president, Crescent Club, Ovid

Strawberry Salad

2 pkg. strawberry gelatin
1 1/2-2 c. hot water
1 pkg. fresh or frozen strawberries
1 c. crushed pineapple
2-3 bananas, mashed
1 pt. sour cream

Dissolve gelatin in hot water; cool. Add strawberries, pineapple, mashed bananas. Mix well. Pour half in 8 x 12-inch pan and refrigerate until firm. Spread sour cream over mixture. Chill again, about 20 minutes. Pour remainder of gelatin mixture over sour cream. Chill until firm. Yield: 10-12 servings. — Mrs. C. W. Lambert, president, St. Johns Woman's Club

More recipes will be published in a later edition.

Student dress habits improve study habits

If you are an alert observer of the local educational scene, you may have noticed a gradual but clearly perceptible improvement in the dress habits of students.

Gone are the sloppy shirts, run-down shoes and inappropriate slacks, the general disarray and disinterest . . . in their place is a growing awareness of dressing right, being neat and well-groomed; a sense of pride in appearance, and as a result, a sense of right in behavior.

ACCORDING TO a recent survey conducted by Scholastic Magazine, the dress right programs of the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear are bringing about better student study and behavior patterns.

In this respect, the principal of the St. Paul, Minn., Central High School says, "We feel the great majority of the students are sensitive to appropriate dress. The minority who are not have standards of their own which, though they are not approved by middle class standards, are acceptable in being clean and decent."

The importance of neatness as it affects behavior of students was emphasized by the principal of the Memorial High School of West New York, New Jersey, who said, "Memorial High school discontinued blue jeans about five years ago and instituted dress shirts and ties. We found a big difference in behavior, i.e. less horse play among students."

SAYS the mother of one set of triplets: "Strangers all stop to look at my babies, ask their age, how I manage without help and whether we really wanted three babies. What kind of a question is that?"

PARENTS of twins and triplets complain about the lack of published professional advice on bringing up multiple baby families. The US Children's Bureau in Washington, for example, gets many letters each week from mothers looking for a daily schedule that covers the care and feeding of more than one baby at once, but the Bureau can offer no such schedule.

After searching in vain for such professional help, two Long Island mothers in the suburbs of New York City formed their own "Triplet Club." New members were located through newspaper stories and today there are five mothers of triplets swapping tips and shortcuts either in person or by phone when their crowded schedules become too hectic.

It seems that babies eat better when they eat together, gobbling up foods they might refuse if fed alone, say the triplet mothers; a tip for mothers of twins to remember as well.

THESE mothers with several wide-open mouths to feed have

News of Interest to Clinton County Farm Bureau Families

'64 wheat crop price below world market

Q. How well is the 1964 wheat program serving the interests of farmers?
A. Very poorly.

Q. Why?

A. THE NEW program has reduced the incomes of both cooperators and non-cooperators. It has reduced the US share of the export market. It has increased prices paid by consumers. It has resulted in the American farmer getting LESS than the world price for his wheat—for the first time in history!

Q. Can these statements be proved?

A. YES. HERE is an analysis of the program, prepared by the American Farm Bureau Federation staff, which proves all four points:

The new program became effective July 1, at the beginning of the marketing season for the 1964 wheat crop. The support price at the farm was set at an average of $1.30 per bushel, compared with $1.82 per bushel for the 1963 crop.

For cooperators, an additional average payment 42 3/4 cents per bushel was offered on the normal yield of the 1964 crop, compared with 18 cents on the 1963 crop—so that a cooperating farmer in 1964 could expect to receive $1.72 3/4 per bushel on his normal yield in 1964 against $2 in 1963. Non-cooperating farmers would receive only the market price.

IN THE 1963-64 season non-cooperating farmers received an average of $1.85 per bushel. But during the first three months of the current year (July, August, and September) the average has been only $1.34 per bushel—51 cents less than the average for 1963-64 and 44 cents less than for the comparable period a year earlier.

Only 35 per cent of the wheat growers are cooperating in the program, but they have about three-fourths of the acreage allotments. Sixty-five per cent, the relatively small wheat producers, are the non-cooperators because to cooperate would have interfered with the efficient management of their farms and with normal production practices.

IN 1963-64 THE wheat miller paid the going market price for wheat. But in 1964-65 he pays not only the market price but also a tax of 70 cents per bushel. Advocates of the wheat program argued that the price should be no higher in 1964-65 than in 1963-64 since the cooperating farmer would be getting, on his "share" of the domestic market, the same amount per bushel, $2, in both years.

But these people must now admit that the miller has to pay at least 18 cents per bushel more this year. This increased cost of wheat (the market price plus a 70 cent tax) has made necessary a sharp rise in the price of flour, and, in turn, in the price of bread.

ALTHOUGH there was a sizable increase in wheat production this season over that of 1963, both in the US and the world in general, there has been a continued rise in demand, the world prices have strengthened by at least 10 cents per bushel over a year earlier.

As a consequence, exports from the four important wheat-exporting countries during the first three months of the 1964 season have increased sharply over the comparable period a year earlier.

BUT THE US has not shared in the rise. Total exports in this period have been 174 million bushels or about the same as in the comparable period a year earlier. Exports from the other three countries combined have increased by 43 million bushels—from 186 million to 229 million. Canada and Argentina show substantial increases in exports, while Australia shows a decrease, largely because of a lack of supplies until the new crop is harvested in December.

The relative slowness of US exports this season is strange, since US prices have consistently averaged below world levels. How has this come about? The answer is obvious when the recent actions of the Commodity Credit Corp. are reviewed.

ON JULY 1, 1964, CCC held title to about 854 million bushels of wheat, mostly hard winter and hard spring. Immediately after the opening of the new marketing season, CCC began selling heavily, both for export and domestic use, at prices equivalent to 105 per cent of the support price plus carrying charges (the statutory minimum) or at about $1.37 per bushel at the farm.

These sales have continued at a rapid rate and totaled 136 million bushels up to Oct. 2. This compares with sales of 91 million bushels during the comparable period last year.

CCC WHEAT sales during the first three months of the marketing season have represented nearly half the required supply—about one-third of the domestic use, and nearly three-fifths of the exports. Domestic use averages about 42 million bushels per month and exports 54 million per month.

These heavy sales—during a time when farmers were harvesting and marketing or finding storage for much of the new crop—appear to have been made deliberately in order to hold prices to farmers, particularly non-cooperators, down to or near the support level.

FOR NON-cooperators this was punishment for not signing up in the 1964 program and a warning to sign up for the 1965 program.

Despite heavy dumping by CCC, farm prices for wheat have tended to rise. The US average rose from $1.33 per bushel on Aug. 15 to $1.36 on Sept. 15 (compared to $1.84 per bushel on Sept. 15, 1963). Both hard winter and hard spring wheat have shared in the rise, but soft red and western white have not.

As farm and market prices began to show strength, CCC sales were increased sharply. Sales for the week ending Sept. 25 totaled nearly 27 million bushels.

has helped to hold domestic prices below world levels during the early part of the 1964 marketing season has been manipulation of the export tax—the operation of the export certificate and export payment program.

An exporter must buy wheat in the market or from CCC at the market price plus a 25-cent-per-bushel export certificate and then get a refund or export payment equal to part of the value of the export certificate.

THIS operation gives CCC almost complete control over exports because the refund can be varied from time to time. For hard spring wheat the refund has ranged from 8 cents per bushel to 22 cents during the first three months of the season; for hard winter and soft red it has ranged between 10 and 15 cents per bushel; and for Western white from 4 to 6 cents. From a practical standpoint this means that CCC has been collecting a tax on every bushel of wheat exported. The tax has ranged from 3 to 17 cents per bushel on hard spring; 10 to 15 cents on hard winter and soft red; and 19 to 21 cents per bushel on Western white. On Oct. 1, 1964, these taxes were 3, 10, and 21 cents respectively.

THESE lower prices hurt cooperating farmers as well as non-cooperators. Market observers feel this season's CCC operations—including the heavy early season dumping of wheat and the tax on exports—are consistent with the CCC's policy of supporting the price of wheat at the level of the tax on exports—see WHEAT CROP page 7

Thus the US farmer for the first time in history is receiving less than the world market price for his wheat. In the case of the hard spring wheat producers—located largely in Minnesota, North and South Dakota, and Montana—the farm price is three cents per bushel under the world price. For producers of hard red winter—largely in Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, and Colorado—the price is 10 cents under the world price. For producers of soft red winter—largely in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Missouri—the price is 10 cents per bushel under. For Western white—largely Washington, Oregon, and Idaho—the average is 21 cents under world prices.

THESE lower prices hurt cooperating farmers as well as non-cooperators. Market observers feel this season's CCC operations—including the heavy early season dumping of wheat and the tax on exports—are consistent with the CCC's policy of supporting the price of wheat at the level of the tax on exports—see WHEAT CROP page 7

Elect E. J. Bottum new FB president

Members of the Clinton County Farm Bureau Board of Directors and their wives met at Daley's restaurant on Oct. 21 for reorganizing for the coming year and honoring retiring and newly elected directors.

The dinner was arranged by Maurice Gove and served family style to 27 persons.

New director representing the Bingham-Olive district is David Conklin and retiring from the board is Maurice Gove. Representing Farm Bureau Women on the board is newly elected Chairman Mrs Dorothy Ward of Essex Township, who replaced Mrs Kenneth Geisenhaver of DeWitt Township.

FOLLOWING the meal and introductions by chairman Raymond Mayers, a review of September's minutes and financial statement was held. Both were accepted and placed on file, and Director Zeeb moved final approval of the 1964-65 budget be postponed until the November meeting, allowing more time for consideration by the members.

Election of officers was held with results as follows: President, E. J. Bottum; vice president, Robert Zeeb; Executive Committee member, Raymond Mayers. These officers will begin their duties immediately.

DISCUSSION was held concerning the county annual meeting and most directors felt that every effort should be made to shorten the length of the meeting next year. Suggestion was made that the meal be served at 7 p.m. with business meeting beginning at 8:15 p.m., stressing that those who could not be present for the meal are urged to be present for the business meeting.

Final arrangements for state annual were announced, and the list of delegates were read and alternates named. Seven from the board along with eight elected by the membership will attend the three-day session Nov. 10, 11 and 12 at East Lansing.

THE REMAINDER of the evening was spent in attending to miscellaneous business concerning the county organization and general discussion of future programs.

250 attend annual policy meeting Oct. 13

Two-hundred fifty farmer-members took time out during the busy harvest season to attend their all-important policy development session Oct. 13 at Smith Hall.

The event was the 45th annual meeting of the Clinton County Farm Bureau which was sparked with vigorous discussion on issues coming before the delegation, election of directors for two districts, election of delegates to State Annual meeting and a by-law change.

FOLLOWING the potluck dinner served at 7:30 p.m., the business meeting was called to order by Raymond Mayers, county president, who introduced the invited guests representing other agri-service and business groups in the county and representatives from Farm Bureau's own affiliates.

Announcement was made of the winners of the table decorations contest held among Community Groups. The committee comprised of Mrs Lyle Fenner, Mrs George McQueen and Mrs Noel F. Smith announced the winners as follows—Progressive Farmers and Shepardsville—1st place in originality and beauty respectively, and Loyal Neighbors and Clark-Chandler receiving 2nd place in each group.

ENTERTAINMENT was presented by accordionists Miss Kathy Cornell and Scott Helbeck. Rules of the meeting were read by Maurice Gove and accepted, and the mailing notice was read by Robert Zeeb. Mrs Lewis Babbitt led the pledge to the flag and Mrs Wilbur Brandt led the singing of the Farm Bureau Spirit.

President Mayers gave his report on the status of the organization and stressed the many challenges it faces. He called for united effort among members to further the member-selected programs the county provides.

MRS BABBITT introduced David Jandik of Ovid and Miss Betty Feldpausch of Fowler who gave brief descriptions of their week's stay at Camp Kett where they attended the Farm Bureau sponsored Citizenship Seminar in July. The two young people were winners in an essay contest held in the Fowler and Ovid public schools by the County Farm Bureau Citizenship Committee.

David Morris, district director on the Michigan Farm Bureau Board, spoke to the group, and Marie Drew, regional representative, announced to the members that he had been transferred to the southwest part of the state.

A by-law change concerning percentage of Associate members was accepted.

THE NOMINATING committee chairman, Leonard Koenigsnecht, read the nominations for director in Bingham-Olive and Essex-Lebanon district. There were no nominations from the floor. Tellers Rom Lonler, Don Witt and Robert Kissane were appointed.

The resolutions committee was introduced and 1964-65 proposed resolutions were read and concurred.

2 herds produce 595 lbs. butterfat

Two Clinton County dairy herds, those owned by Rostan Mehney and William Mayers, produced an average of 595 pounds of butterfat during the past testing year, County Extension Director F. Earl Haas reports.

Average milk production was 16,353 pounds and 15,959 pounds. Twenty herds out of 48 that completed the DHIA testing year had an average production of over 500 pounds of butterfat. Only four herds were under 400 pounds of butterfat, and one of those was at 398.

HERD owners wanting to get on the testing program can contact the Extension office or one of the three testers, Terry Speer, Wesley Hazle or George Hazle.

Seek answers to poultrymen's loss

Scientists are looking to younger chickens, rollaway nests and molded fiberboard collecting trays to help reduce cracked egg losses which cost Michigan poultrymen more than $100,000 each year.

In a recent study, Michigan State University researchers found that the three most important factors that influence the percentage of cracked eggs under actual farm conditions are (1) the type of container, (2) the age of the bird and (3) the type of nest.

T. H. COLEMAN, poultry scientist, Lawrence E. Dawson, food scientist, and W. J. Toleman, a graduate of MSU's poultry science department, found that only 1.1 per cent of the eggs collected in molded fiberboard trays were cracked. This compared with 3.8 per cent when collections were made in wire baskets.

The scientists also noted that the percentage of cracked eggs increased with the age of the birds. Chickens in the six to nine month age group had only 1 to 2 per cent cracked eggs as compared to 2.9 per cent from chickens aged 16 months and older.

IN A COMPARISON of different nest types, they found that only 1.5 per cent of the eggs were cracked when hens used rollaway nests. This figure jumped to 2.5 per cent for birds using conventional nests in which shredded sugar cane or wood shavings were used as the nesting material.

In making these findings, 21 Michigan laying flocks containing a total of 169,145 birds were surveyed. Individual flock size ranged from 3,200 to 14,900.

RANDOM samples ranging from 500 to 1,260 eggs were taken from each flock and examined for cracks.

The scientists noted that while the poultryman can't always adjust the age of his flock, he can do something about the equipment used for nesting or for egg collecting. They're hopeful that the cracked egg problem may be partially solved in the near future by means of genetic selection and/or poultry nutrition.

trary to the original purpose of the corporation—to make loans to farmers as an aid in orderly marketing during the season of the year when farm supplies are the largest.

Instead of doing this, CCC has depressed prices by increasing the market supply when farm supplies are heaviest.

APOLOGISTS for USDA may argue that, since domestic prices have averaged 3 to 6 cents per bushel above the support price, CCC sales have not been a factor in the market. But this reasoning can be based only on the premise that a support price is a ceiling and is all that wheat producers deserve to receive. Current wheat legislation does not provide—and it certainly was not the intent of Congress—that the support price should become a ceiling price. Wheat producers deserve to receive the highest price that the market will provide.

What would have been the income of wheat farmers in the absence of the new program? If the secretary of agriculture did not dump government-owned wheat on the market (legislation sponsored by Farm Bureau would have set a resale price of at least 115 per cent of the support price, plus carrying charges), the incomes of non-cooperators (65 per cent of all wheat producers) WOULD HAVE BEEN SUBSTANTIALLY HIGHER.

per cent of all wheat producers) would have been substantially higher.

INCOMES of "cooperators" would have been at least as high because of 1) a higher world price, 2) lack of competition from wheat dumped by CCC, 3) absence of any required diversion of acreage, and 4) expanded markets.

Soft water for cows not advantageous

Some salesmen have been trying to promote water softeners to be used on the drinking water supply for dairy herds. The Clinton County Extension office reports a review of research shows there is no advantage in using soft water.

Anti-quackgrass

Michigan State University researchers say two pounds of Amitrole-T is as effective for controlling quackgrass as four pounds of plain Amitrole. The reason: 20 per cent of both Amitrole and Amitrole-T is absorbed through quackgrass leaves, but twice as much Amitrole-T is translocated throughout the plants.

Gov. Scranton to speak at national meeting

The 46th Annual Meeting of the AFBF will be held in Philadelphia this year and the convention program will be dedicated to the philosophy and spirit that prevailed in Philadelphia in 1787 when the Constitution was drafted.

Guest speakers have chosen as their topics the responsibilities of each branch of the federal government—executive, legislative and judicial.

Many outstanding events will take place throughout the five day convention.

THE RESOLUTIONS committee composed of the president of each of the member State Farm Bureaus and the Puerto Rico FB and representatives of the Farm Bureau Women's committee and Young People's committee, will begin its work a week ahead of the convention in the Sheraton Hotel.

The committee will consider policy recommendations submitted by the State Farm Bureaus. Final consideration and adoption of resolutions by the voting delegates will come on Thursday, Dec. 10.

AT THE Thursday session an election also will be held for members of the board of directors whose terms expire.

Information about transportation and hotel facilities will be available at the county office in the very near future. Those interested in attending one or more sessions are invited to do so. Voting delegates from Michigan will be members of the state board of directors and each county will have the opportunity to send one non-voting delegate from the membership.

Block plant asks rezoning

Karber Block and Tile Co., 817 Church Street, St. Johns, is seeking and rezoning of four lots of South Clinton Avenue to a light manufacturing classification.

The area is presently zoned as single family residential. Larry Karber presented the request for the change to the city commission last Tuesday night, and they referred it to the planning commission.

Karber asks for the rezoning of lots 28, 29, 30 and 31 on the west side of Clinton south of Elm Street. An earlier request for the rezoning of lots 29, 30 and 31 was rejected by the city planners.

PERSONALITY PLUS

The fellow who loses all his money and still retains his friends is a miracle man.

Of elephants, donkeys and things

By MRS ROBERT ZEEB
County Farm Bureau Information Committee

This Nov. 3 we all are presented once more with the choice of exercising our franchise to vote. In Clinton County we have an estimated 21,320 people over 21 and as of April 6, 15,204 were registered to vote.

Now the question is how many of us will vote. If you do not vote you will have no voice whatsoever in the matter of who is elected. Some of us may be pretty fed up with the whole business of the presidential election, since we have heard of little else since July. But regardless of how you feel about the presidential race between Goldwater and Johnson, don't forget that this isn't just a two-horse race. We have numerous others to elect from the governor of the state right down through to our township officials. In between are the new Court of Appeals, the State Board of Education and other important boards and officials.

REGARDLESS of how distasteful some may regard the national presidential race, this is the way it is done in the good old USA and the only real difference is that now instead of a few hundred thousand people who live near railroads across the United States getting a chance to look at and size up a candidate, millions can do so in a single evening via television and right in their own home!

At least we still have the choice to listen or turn the thing off!

Anyone who has complained for so many years that the two men running for the White House have been the "same breed of cat" certainly can't say that this year. If this isn't a year for choice in the philosophies of government between the Republicans and Democrats, there never will be one. So you who have been waiting for the day have your chance to express your desires.

NEVER FORGET in all of the hullabaloo surrounding our elections that once we shut the curtains in the voting booth, how we vote is no one's business but our own, and the choice of who will run our country for the next four years rests in the hands of we the people.

All of this in sharp contrast to events in Russia recently and made even more obvious by the death of ex-president Herbert Hoover. While he lies in state receiving tributes from former foes and friends alike, Russia's fallen leader isn't even to be seen.

Our system isn't perfect, to be sure, but it sure beats the majority of governments throughout the world. So won't you do your part and vote so you have earned the right to voice your opinion about how your country is run?

considered by the members. The committee was composed of Ernest Carter, chairman, Gerald Pohl, Francis Dershem, James Becker and William Brook. A strong stand was taken by the organization concerning a lessening of government control in agriculture. State resolutions concerned the strengthening of the anti-litter law, banning of throw-away bottles, changing of spring election back to former status, taxes and several pertaining strictly to Farm Bureau inter-organization policies.

ELECTION of delegates to state annual meeting was held and eight from the membership were elected to attend with seven from the county board. A county is allowed one voting delegate for every 100 members. Raymond Mayers will head the delegation which will be meeting Nov. 10, 11 and 12 in East Lansing with delegations from all 70 county Farm Bureaus in the state.

Results of the election were given as follows—newly elected to represent Bingham-Olive district was David Conklin, and re-elected for his second three-year term representing Essex-Lebanon was E. J. Bottum. Motion carried to seat Mrs. Dorothy Ward on the board as new Women's Committee chairman.

CONTEST winners among the community groups were announced and prizes were given for group attendance. Vern Upton was awarded the door prize. The chairman introduced the members of the board and recognized all committee members.

State FB meeting Nov. 10-12

Nov. 10, 11 and 12 will find delegates from all corners of the state gathering in East Lansing to attend the 45th annual meeting of the Michigan Farm Bureau.

Opening officially on Tuesday morning, Nov. 10, (one week after the national elections), the big three-day meeting will get underway in the auditorium of Michigan State University with the president's address by Walter Wightman.

ACCORDING TO J. Delbert Wells, annual meeting staff chairman, the forenoon of the first day will again be devoted to general sessions followed by adjournment at noon for commodity and special-interest conferences.

The 20th anniversary meeting of Farm Bureau Women will be held in the ballroom of the Union building on the afternoon of the first day, highlighted by ceremonies honoring all past Chairmen.

A well-known Kalamazoo doctor who heads his own medical production firm, Dr. Homer H. Stryker, president of Stryker Corp., will speak at the annual banquet. His topic "So You Want to Go Into Business," mixes humor with first-hand hard-headed business experience and advice.

Urge calves be vaccinated

Some dairymen are neglecting to have their calves vaccinated for brucellosis, Clinton County Extension Director F. Earl Haas warned last week.

"During the first nine months of this year 3,538 calves were vaccinated in Clinton County," Haas said. "This is an increase of 63 over the same months in 1963."

"ABOUT 6,000 heifers are required to maintain our dairy herds in the county. Not that many will be vaccinated at the present rate."

The new herds were added to the list of brucellosis-quarantined herds in September, he said.

"REMEMBER," he warned, "calves born after Jan. 1, 1963, cannot be sold for dairy or breeding purposes unless they have been officially calfhood vaccinated. This makes it all the more important to keep up a regular vaccination schedule to include all heifers between four and eight months of age."

Directors to the MFB board from the even-numbered districts, 2-4-6-8-10 plus two directors-at-large.

Attending from Clinton County will be Raymond Mayers, Lavern Silm, Robert Zeeb, E. J. Bottum, Lawrence Maier, Anthony Wirth, Ronald Motz, Mrs. Dorothy Ward, William Kissane, Paul Seeger, Robert Reese, Jr., Ronald Spitzley and Levi Blakeslee.

Particularly when you know that Anhydrous Ammonia from Dow is the most concentrated form of nitrogen you can buy—82%. You can save as much as $6 to $8 an acre by using a fertilizer program we can recommend.

Apply it to soil now in the fall when you're plowing down summer crop stubble. It won't leach out over the winter. Come spring and it will release needed nitrogen into the soil. Crops will develop stronger roots with more resistance to drought. Have a higher protein content for feeding. Do right by your wallet and your crops with Dow Anhydrous Ammonia. Businessmen's BIE Day at schools today

Last week teachers got some essential "inside information" about businesses and industry in St. Johns. Today (Thursday) businessmen are learning more about St. Johns' education methods.

Central School, will address the opening session at 9 a.m., after which the businessmen will break up for tours of the various schools in the St. Johns system.

At noon, the board of education will be hosts for a luncheon at Walker's Cafe. Supt. Earl Lancaster will tell the businessmen about what will be happening in the school system in the coming years.

Chamber of Commerce members were to go back to school this morning on the second part of a program of BIE Day (Business, Industry and Education).

WALT NICKEL, principal at

LANCASTER SAID Friday that

Medicine, drugs fully deductible for those over 65

Medicine and drug expenses for taxpayers 65 years and older will be fully deductible on this year's Federal Income tax returns.

The full deductibility of these expenses showed sincere enthusiasm for the BIE Day program Oct. 19. Questionnaires sent to the teachers came back with almost unanimous desire to continue the BIE Day each year.

The businessmen's tour of the schools will last only half a day, expenses under the 1964 Revenue Act was pointed out recently by R. I. Nixon, Detroit district director of Internal Revenue. He said this will save elderly taxpayers about $10 million a year in taxes.

UNDER previous law, expenses for medicines and drugs were included in medical expenses to the extent they exceeded one per cent of adjusted gross income.

Elimination of the one per cent floor applies to the medicine and drug expenses of a taxpayer and his spouse if either is age 65 or over. It also applies to such expenses paid on behalf of dependent parents age 65 or over.

THERE ARE no other changes in the provisions regarding the deductibility of medical expenses, Mr Nixon said. These expenses are fully deductible, subject to certain maximum limitations, for taxpayers 65 and over but are subject to a 3 per cent floor for taxpayers under 65.

The one per cent floor on medicine and drug expenses for taxpayers under 65 continues in effect, Director Nixon said.

Things nobody else wants comes to the fellow who waits.

Deny request to tile open ditch

A request that the city install 24-inch concrete tile and cover a ditch in front of the Elmer Stewart property on South Lansing Street north of Townsend Road was denied last week.

The city recently completed work there on an open ditch in connection with a storm sewer. A new tube was put in by the city for a driveway. Stewart's request was for covering the ditch the entire length of his property.

The commission's policy is to install tile if the property owner pays for the material and they stuck to the policy on Stewart's request. Driveway entrances, however, are always provided by the city.

Infrared drying

Infrared lamps or burners may someday be used to dry grain as it rotates up and down at 1,000 cycles per minute, according to Michigan State University agricultural engineer Verl E. Headly. Infrared vibration grain drying is not yet as economical as conventional heated air dryers now being used, but the method offers intriguing possibilities for the future.

Goldwater Boosters Address Small Crowd in Front of Clinton County Courthouse

A knot of spectators stood by in chilly, wet weather last Wednesday afternoon when a Goldwater Bandwagon caravan stopped in St. Johns. The caravan stopped at the head of Clinton Avenue and again briefly at the high school. Addressing the small crowd here is Harry F. Stimson Jr., (left center), former ambassador to Paraguay. Standing behind him is Charles R. Slight Jr., assistant chairman of the Michigan Goldwater Citizen's Committee. The blond-haired man on the truck is Phillip Crosby, son of singer Bing Crosby. Both also spoke at the courthouse. Stimson and Crosby addressed students in front of the high school.

The world's leading acoustical experts made the test. The U. S. Auto Club certified the results: at 20 mph... at 40 mph... at 60 mph...

The 1965 Ford rides quieter than a Rolls-Royce!

Prior to the introduction of the 1965 Fords, the country's leading automotive writers drove the new models at Dearborn. Most of these experts remarked about the extraordinary quietness and smoothness of the Ford ride. An automotive writer, in Mechanix Illustrated, said, "If there is a quieter car made in this country, I haven't driven it."

Quiet Means Quality... Since quiet is a traditional measure of car quality, Ford engineers designed the '65 Ford for maximum quietness. To illustrate this quality achievement, Ford chose to make a documented test against the world's finest luxury car—Rolls-Royce.

Bolt, Beranek and Newman, Inc., world's leading acoustic consultants to government and industry, conducted the tests under supervision of the authoritative United States Auto Club. All cars were tuned to factory specifications.

The Result... The Fords proved to be slightly quieter at all speeds.

The official test report reads, in part: "At all moving speeds, on both courses, the Fords were quieter than the Rolls-Royces."

The Difference... The sound level difference, to be sure, is small—but it is there. At 60 miles an hour, Ford was actually 2.8 decibels* quieter than Rolls-Royce. At 40, Ford was 5.5 decibels* quieter. At 20, Ford was 4.9 decibels* quieter. However small these advantages over Rolls-Royce may be, they are significant evidence of quality—important to anyone buying a car in Ford's class.

Take A Test Drive... A key—and a warm welcome—await you at your Ford Dealer's. The key, incidentally, fits in the lock no matter which side is up—symbolic of the hundreds of advances you'll find in any Ford you road-test. Come in and see for yourself.

*Decibels are the universally recognized units for measuring the volume of sound.

SOUND LEVEL (All readings in decibels)

MPH	FORD	ROLLS-ROYCE	FORD QUIETER BY
20	67.4	72.3	4.9
40	75.9	81.4	5.5
60	82.6	85.4	2.8

TEST CONDITIONS: Dry, level, moderately smooth concrete divided highway; light, quartering wind. All cars operated at steady 20, 40 and 60 mph with all windows and vents closed. TEST EQUIPMENT: Bruel & Kjaer precision octave band analyzer, recording through direct observation and through Nagra precision tape recorder. Data expressed in Perceived Noise decibels. TEST CONDUCTED ON September 24, 1964, by Bolt, Beranek and Newman, Inc., of Cambridge, Mass., the world's largest acoustic consulting firm. TEST CERTIFIED by the United States Auto Club. CARS TESTED: Two brand-new Rolls-Royce Silver Cloud III sedans, V-8 with automatic transmission, list price in New York $16,655 each. Three 1965 Fords, each with 289-cubic-inch V-8 engine and Cruise-O-Matic transmission: Galaxie 500 LTD, Galaxie 500/XL and Galaxie 500 4-Door Sedan.
