FACT finder

Are you concerned about getting the straight facts on a question which arises but don't know where to find the answer? We'll find the facts for questions submitted by our readers. Just drop us a line at FACT FINDER, Clinton County News St Johns 48879.

Q—Can something be done about snow removal in front of the new high school? During the winter months students are forced to walk in the road which is DANGEROUS. This is a heavy traffic area, usually covered with ice, water or mud. (Many students are sprayed full length before they get to school with this mud and water mix). Also I think it would be nice if the residents along Lansing St from State St to Sickles St would at least shovel a small path by their property so the students would have a decent place to walk. SK, ST JOHNS

A—If at first you don't succeed, try, try again. And local school officials have tried and tried and tried. The sidewalk on Sickles Street is different than most in that it goes right to the curb as opposed to a 4 foot setback. "We try to plow it with our own equipment," explains Gordon Vandemark, principal, "but it's almost an impossibility because of the snow pushed on it from the road." He does say it's a problem from that standpoint, but that the school is constantly trying to keep the sidewalks clean of snow and ice to prevent injury. As for the sidewalks from State to Sickles, it's up to the individual property owners to shovel a pathway.

Q—We live across from the mobile home park and have run into a problem getting out of our driveway. We realize it's necessary for the residents to park on the street sometimes so they can plow inside the park. But we'd like somehow to tell them not to park in front of the driveway because with the snow in winter it's almost impossible to get out of the driveway with a car across the narrow street. LE, ST JOHNS

A—Put it in writing. Sgt Lyle French of the St Johns Police Department suggests you stake a "private drive" or "do not block driveway" sign in the area. He says there are no restrictions for parking in the roadway during the daytime but that it's illegal overnight. If your driveway is blocked again call a police officer and he'll try to contact the owner to get it moved. As a last result it can be towed away.

Hufnagel names appointments

New Year brings Sheriff Dept change

ST JOHNS — New Clinton County Sheriff Anthony Hufnagel officially took over the reins from outgoing sheriff Percy Patterson Jan 1.

Among the 1st items for the new sheriff was the announcement of a new undersheriff and the promotion of 3 deputies to sergeant.

Hufnagel, himself undersheriff for about 1 year of his 6-1/2 years with the department, has named Russell Doty, 41, of St Johns to the undersheriff position.

Doty, 1006 S Oakland, served as a patrolman with the St Johns Police Department for 6-1/2 years from Sept 1956 until Aug, 1968.

Promoted to sergeant are Fred Corson, Don Kennell and Bob VanGieson. Background information on the 3 new sergeants will be published in next week's County News.

SHERIFF HUFNAGEL said he will also be announcing new appointments to the staff later this month.

In an interview with the County News, Hufnagel discussed other changes planned for the department, indicating most would be of a minor changes.

Immediate plans call for booking of prisoners to be moved from the front office to a separate booking room to keep in-going and out-going prisoners from the general public.

Operating on a 24-hour desk operation, Hufnagel said the addition of new deputies would not allow the increase of patrols, but would enable the department to divide the patrols into 42-hour weeks. Currently, department deputies are usually working a 50-hour week.

ANTHONY HUFNAGEL

Further training is planned by Hufnagel who said his department will be providing in-service training sessions.

THE TRAINING sessions would be open, not only to Sheriff's Dept employees, but also would be open to all area law enforcement agencies.

Instructors for the training will come from the Law Officers Training Council, Michigan State Police, prosecutor's office and other law enforcement related agencies.

Investigative procedures for the department will operate similar to operations in the past. The department will work closely with all local agencies and the Michigan State Police.

Looking toward the problems facing the department, Hufnagel said the largest problem for his department will be keeping up with the growth of the area.

In his over 6 years in the Sheriff Department, Hufnagel said he has seen an increase in all crimes, attributed most likely to the steady population growth of the area.

WORKING TO KEEP pace with the

growth, Hufnagel said "we hope to cut down our response to complaints as soon as possible."

Operating with 24-hour patrols, 7 days a week, Hufnagel also discussed the implementation of locating cars in districts throughout the county.

Michigan that year, but was taken sick. His illness, prematurely diagnosed as tuberculosis, forced him to leave school and return to St Johns. Back home, the Patterson's family physician suggested he take a few days rest and then look for something to do outside.

"The street car ran right by our house," Patterson recalls, "so I decided to go to Battle Creek to look for a job on the police department. I was turned down because I lacked a year's residency, so I picked up my papers and went out the door."

But the chief whistled me back, he remembers, and gave me a list of jobs. He went to work in the shipping room of National Register Co until 1925 when he received word from his mother that his father wasn't expected to live.

"I returned home," he continues, "and about then learned the city and county were going to put on a motorcycle cop. He explains Barton Fox of Elsie was sheriff and since neither St Johns or Clinton could afford their own officer they decided to go together and split the monthly salary of $125.

"Dad said on his death bed not to take the job or I wouldn't have a friend in the world," confides Patterson. "It just goes to show you kids were incorrigible then, too," he adds, "because he was buried April 27 and May 1 I took the job." He admits he's often wished his father could have lived to see how many friends he has.

Many of them were made during Patterson's 20 years as chief deputy under Jack Barnes. "During Fox's term they changed it so you could run indefinitely and so I was with Jack until he decided not to run in '48," he adds. Patterson was elected sheriff and Barnes stayed on and sold driver's licenses.

"It was Jack and I against the world," he says, "and I often worked 24 hours a day sometimes being gone 2 or 3 days on a case." Patterson explains there was no radio communication and he drove his own car for 5¢ a mile. In those days the jail was on the corner of what is now the Rodney B Wilson Junior High parking lot.

"We used to keep as high as 30 tramps at the old jail," he remembers, "and the chains on the bunks were filled with hed bugs." Patterson got tired of buckets of bedbugs so when the new jail was built in 1950 he asked the county for a resolution to end the parade of tramps.

His many keepsakes include a key made from coat hangers and wood, ropes tied from sheets and towels and a spoon made into a dagger by sharpening the edges and attaching it to a pipestem handle.

In 1929 Patterson married his wife Dora, a school teacher. "I was paid $1000 yearly as deputy so I had to get

MMPA Ovid plant processes million pounds of milk daily

OVID — Michigan Milk Producers Association, a statewide milk marketing cooperative, set a record of more than $172.2 million in milk sales in its recently-ended fiscal year, including an average of more than 1 million pounds of milk processed daily during Fiscal 1972 at its Ovid plant.

According to the association's annual report, the sales record was set on marketings of more than 2.8 billion pounds of milk produced by MMPA's 6,000 dairy farmer members.

THE VALUE of milk sold was 6.5 percent, or $10.5 million above the previous year's total of $161.7 million, while the volume of milk was 5.15 percent higher.

MMPA is the largest dairy farmer cooperative in Michigan and among the largest in the nation. The cooperative supplies the milk requirements of many leading dairies throughout the state.

The Ovid plant processes milk into several varieties of milk powder, butter and cottage cheese. The volume of milk processed at Ovid during Fiscal 1972 was 373.7 million pounds.

Bill Ballenger gets high marks on report card

LANSING — Final figures released this week on the 76th Michigan Legislature reveal that State Senator William S. Ballenger had the second best attendance record in the upper chamber, had a perfect attendance record in committee meetings over the past two years, and scored high in the fields of environmental protection, consumer protection, and women's rights.

A check of the record reveals that during 1972, Ballenger was present every day and voted on 747 out of 752 roll call votes — a mark of 99.3%, second best out of all 38 State Senators and best of any Republican. Including the 1971 session, his overall attendance record for the past two years was 1388 out of 1402 — or 99.0%. And for the second straight year, Ballenger compiled a perfect attendance record in the three committees on which he serves — Education, Taxation/Veterans Affairs, and Agriculture/Consumer Affairs.

According to Michigan Out-of-Doors, the official publication of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, Ballenger voted "right" on nine out of 11 key roll calls on environmental protection legislation during 1971-72 — third best mark in the Senate.

In a tabulation of Senate voting compiled by the Michigan Association of Consumers Protection, Ballenger scored a perfect seven out of seven — one of only six members of the Senate to do so, and the only Republican.

In an analysis of legislative voting records concerning women's issues released by the Michigan Women's Political Caucus, Ballenger again scored perfectly in a variety of roll calls on such issues as equal-pay-for-equal-work, and prohibition of sex discrimination in public accommodations. In addition, Ballenger was the successful Senate sponsor of the Women's "Equal Rights Amendment" to the U.S. Constitution. Ratification of the ERA by the Legislature last May made Michigan the 18th state (out of the necessary 38) to approve the amendment.

EARLIER IN THE YEAR, the 31-year-old lawmaker was one of only two legislators to receive the Michigan Agricultural Conference's annual "Certificate of Merit" for his legislative record on behalf of Michigan farming.

Local draft board under jurisdiction of Lansing office

Reorganization of Michigan's draft boards in preparation for probable standby operations some time in 1973 has been virtually completed, according to Arthur A. Holmes, state director of Selective Service.

During the past year many smaller county draft boards have been consolidated into intercounty boards, and larger boards have been grouped at single sites. The number of local board offices has been reduced from 97 to 29. The original 134 local boards, many of them part time, have been consolidated to form 81 full time boards. An additional 14 Detroit boards will be consolidated early in 1973.

Congress has authorized Selective Service to continue standby operations if inductions are suspended in July 1973. Local boards would continue to register and classify registrants and maintain an available manpower pool to prepare for any emergency resumption of the draft.

All young men continue to be subject to registration within 30 days of their 18th birthday or up to 30 days after that date. Registration can be accomplished at any local board office or with volunteer registrars who have been appointed in most high schools and youth centers. Young men who have any questions about registration may write or call the draft board.

Clinton County Local Draft Board 34 is under the jurisdiction of Michigan Local Board 7, 1120 May St, PO Box 626, Lansing, as is a portion of Ingham County, Livingston, Shiawassee and Eaton Counties.

Madrigals perform for Morning Musicales

ST JOHNS - Christmas arrived for St Johns morning musicales members Dec 14 at the home of Mrs Albert Nelson. Mrs Nelson had her home festively decorated with Christmas greens and an array of seasonal ornaments.

Mrs Winchell Brown, president, welcomed members and their guests before introducing the Madrigals, a singing group from St Johns High School. They presented My Heart Doth Beg You Not Forget, Angels We Have Heard On High, Seek Ye The Lord, and a combined arrangement of three songs, Lullaby, Our Master Has a Garden and A Little Child is Born. The group asked the audience to join in singing Christmas carols to close their program.

A paper on Saint Saens was presented by Mrs Dean Stork. With much insight and humor Mrs Stork told of the major events and influences in the life of this outstanding French musician. His best remembered and most frequently performed music is Samson and Delilah, Carnival of Animals and a vast collection of organ music and choir.

A FRENCH "brunch" was served by a committee consisting of Mrs Brown, Mrs Lloyd Campbell, Mrs Manning Bross and others. Mrs Bross made and served the first course, French onion soup with croutons. The ladies chose the rest of their food from an arrangement which included pate de fois, fronage Boursin ail et fine herbs, rosettes, and many dainty sandwiches and French pastries. A variety of French wines and champagnes were artistically displayed in the center of the table, giving the table a most French motif.

Cafe au lait was served from a Limoges Haviland pot, owned by Mrs K.L. Jones. She also brought the Haviland cream and sugarer which was used and enjoyed by the group.

Mrs Paul Martis, Jr, was means chairman, directed a bake sale which sold many Christmas breads, cookies and candies. In keeping with the theme of the years program, Brioche, a French food, was also for sale.

The next meeting of the group will be Jan 11 at 9:30 am at the home of Mrs John Cady. Since the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs is celebrating its 75th year of organization, the St Johns club will honor Founders Day at this meeting. Each member is asked to bring a penny for each year of the federation's existence. St Johns Morning Musicales has been affiliated with the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs since its own beginning 35 years ago.

Christians in 'Key 73' to emphasize prayer

ST JOHNS - During the Christmas season from Christmas to Epiphany, Jan 6, Christians participating in KEY 73 will emphasize a noon-day prayer time. Local church bells will ring as reminders and churches will be open. Daily noon call to prayer will be issued from WRBJ radio also.

The Christians gathering for prayer will pray for the success of this movement, for individuals who do not yet believe in Christ alone as their Savior, and for the needs and welfare of all mankind.

While churches will be open for prayer, Christians everywhere are urged to pray wherever they are -- at work, play, or home.

Local congregations participating are Saint John's Lutheran Church, St Peter

Lutheran Church (Riley), Pilgrim United Methodist Church, The United Methodist Church, The Free Methodist Church, St Johns Episcopal Church, and The Church of God.

All Christians are invited to set aside a few minutes at noon during the 12 days of Christmas, either individually or at one of the above named churches.

Pattersons taking a rest after finally going home

Looking over one of the many keepsakes collected through his 47 years and 8 months in law enforcement with his wife Dora is retired Clinton County Sheriff Percy Patterson.

someone who could help out," he smiles. And held she did.

It was difficult to find a couple to look after the jail so the Pattersons lived in the upstairs apartment the last 16 years. Because the nightman quit, Dora served as matron and cook since her retirement 9 years ago. She had to be on duty 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Dora's philosophy is the biggest part of the sheriff's job is keeping the prisoners happy. "We had been keeping from 27 to 30 inmates," she estimates, which meant not only preparing meals, but giving medication and providing a few extras." Christmas and New Year's Eve she gave each prisoner a dish of freshly popped corn and candy followed the next day by dinners of baked ham and mincemeat pie with everything homecooked in her own apartment kitchen. She often picked up personal items such as cigarettes or pipe tobacco.

Not only did Dora keep prisoners supplied but she also looked after her husband who smokes about 55 cigars weekly. Throughout his 47 years and 8 months in law enforcement, a cigar has become his trademark. His favorite were Black Diamonds which were made right in St. Johns.

Now Dora can look after her husband, whom she lovingly calls "Perce" at their home 606 S Oakland. Patterson has bought a snow blower and wants to help his neighbors throughout the winter while Dora, a music lover, will spend many hours at her piano.

Everyone kept saying 4 more years and that Percy could have been sheriff until he died," she smiles. "but we said last time we were going home, and now we have and finally can rest."

The Pattersons show off Percy's license plate collection on the walls of the Clinton County jail.

They send congratulations and best wishes.....

Open Letter

from VAN W. HOAG

Dear friends,

It deserves emphasis that the time, the place, the character of the funeral service, the merchandise used, the cemetery selected - these are decisions of the family of the deceased. The funeral director acts only as a representative of the family.

The clergyman should be consulted in matters that concern him before any decisions are made.

Respectfully,

Van W Hoag

PULL A RABBIT OUT OF THE HAT

It's a very good year for General Motors

LANSING -- General Motors added a record $28.3 million to the Lansing area economy in 1972, according to a year-end statement issued today by Howard H. Kehrl, GM vice president and general manager of Oldsmobile Division, and chairman of GM's Lansing Plant City Committee.

The record GM expenditure—represented a $41.1 million increase over payrolls," Kehrl added, the largest previous outlay reported in 1971. Included in the total were estimated payrolls of $304 million received by 21,500 Oldsmobile, Fisher Body and GM Parts Division employees and local expenditures of $122.8 million for goods and services purchased from more than 1,000 area suppliers.

The record GM expenditure—represented a $41.1 million increase over payrolls," Kehrl added, GM spent a substantial amount on benefits for each employee. For example, almost $3,000 was paid by GM for such things as insurance, medical and pension contributions and social security taxes for the average hourly employee during 1972.

Kehrl reported local employees also received more than $26,309 for suggestions adopted under the GM Suggestion Plan Program.

The annual review noted that each of the Lansing area GM facilities is engaged in continuing projects related to improvement of the environment. In an unusual project announced last February, Oldsmobile and the city-operated Board of Water and Light agreed to a cooperative effort to reclaim a million gallons of waste oil from plant manufacturing operations annually for use as fuel in Lansing's power-generating system.

The project continues to make a major contribution to the improvement of the environment while conserving natural resources.

In June, the Fisher Body Plant dedicated a new $750,000 clean water facility to replace previous methods of treating industrial waste. The facility is designed to remove oils and suspended solids from process water prior to its discharge into the city treatment system.

Another Oldsmobile program completed during the year resulted in the development of hearing protection measures aimed at reducing sound levels reaching employees' ears in specific plant work areas.

The protection program serves as an important interim measure as Oldsmobile management continues to move toward a comprehensive noise reduction goal.

Crowning an outstanding year for Oldsmobile's Lansing operations, Kehrl recalled, "was the accomplishment of one of our paramount goals for 1972—capturing third place in industry model year sales.

The achievement was a result of the Lansing plant's observance of Oldsmobile's 75th anniversary."

Kehrl described the recent announcement of Oldsmobile and Fisher Body Divisions' three and a half-year multi-million dollar expansion and modernization program as "clear evidence of General Motors' continued confidence in the future of Lansing as a key manufacturing area."

"I am convinced," he said, "that GM operations in Lansing will continue to produce the products and the momentum for another record year in 1973."

Kurt Becker, right and members of the service staff at Kurt's Appliance Center in St. Johns acknowledge a recently received plaque which recognized their membership in NARDA, a national association which emphasizes quality customer service. Membership in the group comes only after thorough investigation reveals top performance in the area of customer service. Members of Kurt's service staff are from left, Dan Feldpausch, Ed Cox and Ray Schomisch.

Kurt's Appliance Center receives award

ST. JOHNS -- A St. Johns merchant received word this week that his store, Kurt's Appliance Center, has received for the fourth year in succession NARDA's Quality Service Award. NARDA (National Appliance and Radio-TV Association) started this program several years ago to recognize outstanding service in the field of home appliances and television.

Kurt's Appliance Center's receiving of this award for the fourth time came about after determination was made that the firm displayed deep responsibility to provide customers with the best after-the-sale service commensurate with fair prices.

In presenting the award to Kurt's, John Gooley, service division manager of NARDA, had this comment, "It is our hope that awards of this kind, presented on an annual basis, will assist the public in its search for stores which help to make shopping the pleasure it can be."

HAVE YOUR VALUES CHANGED LATELY? - Did you know that women have 9 times more possibility of becoming mentally ill than men?

Are you aware that the average man dies 12 years before women his same age?

The value system society has mapped out for us is not compatible with good health and long living, sometimes. Strain works differently on different people.

A value is a state of mind that has to do with the vision people have of the good life for themselves and their fellows.

It is the base of what you do and how you justify your actions.

SO, THE TYPE OF life you lead, whether hectic and fast paced or easy and relaxed, describes to people your value system; what you think is important in life.

But many people are so caught up in what they are doing that they don't have time to sit and decide if what they are doing is really important to them, or if it is really what they WANT to do. And others are so tired by the time they finish necessities that they don't have energy left for personal fulfillment.

It's really a strange phenomenon, but physical energy and mental energy, although separate, are tied together very closely.

You can sometimes be very tired, but also very satisfied and happy. That's a case of using up your physical energy but having mental energy left.

It's also common for people to do very little and still be tired and unhappy. That's using up mental energy.

BUT mental energy, unlike physical energy, can be given back to you. You can beat your brains out on a project - feel you've given it everything you've got - then someone praises you for your creativity and good work and you feel ready to go again. That's a case of getting mental energy back.

Take a look at the way you spent yesterday. List the chores you did, the tasks you accomplished, the other investments of your precious time.

It is a fact that happy, satisfied people make time and save energy for things they value.

Are you guiding your life or is it running you?

Learn more about this interesting subject. Come to "Have Your Values Changed Lately"

A PERSONAL LOOK AT THE NEWS

Between the lines

with Jim Edwards

It's up to you

Don't blame the police. A recent complaint by a Clinton County resident brought to mind a recurring problem our police departments have.

Regardless of your problem, whether it be the neighbor's dog chasing the young ones or snowmobilers trespassing on your property (they seem to be common complaints), there's not much the police can do without some action on your part.

That action is to sign a complaint.

A signed complaint is the authority for the police to act. So... if you're hopping mad and call the police, but they don't do anything about it, don't blame it on the local law enforcement department.

If you're not serious enough to sign the complaint, you might as well face the fact there's not much the police can do except listen to you complain.

View from the Senate

By SEN. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

Efforts by some members of the Capitol press corps to stir up a fuss over their new and improved Senate facilities in recent weeks may have tended to obscure the fact that the legislative session just ending is considered to have been one of the most successful in recent history.

In commending "the leadership and membership of both houses for this bipartisan record," Governor William G. Milliken emphasized that "the session has been the most fruitful I have seen since I first came to Lansing as a State Senator in 1961."

The Legislature was in session 118 days, waded through approximately 4,000 bills, and passed approximately 320 into law - including several extremely important ones such as mass transportation, increased bonding for housing, no-fault insurance, and improved environmental and consumer protection laws.

Legislators returned Friday, Dec 29, for a perfunctory formal sine die adjournment session at which no substantive legislation was passed. That officially wound up the 76th Michigan Legislature.

BUT THE 1973 session convenes Wednesday, Jan 10 amidst predictions that the principal emphasis will be on reform of educational financing and on improved land use legislation. As usual, the 1973-74 budget will take up much of the session and there are even storm signals out that some new taxes may be necessary to meet the increased financial demands of education. If local voters turn down school millage proposals, the funds will have to come through increased state taxes.

The mass transit package backed by Governor Milliken (and opposed by me) that passed in the last week of the working session will increase the gasoline tax from 10 to 9¢ a gallon next Feb 1. It will produce an estimated $62 million for highway improvements in several parts of the state and return additional money to counties, cities and villages. In addition, it will provide about $21 million for mass transportation programs.

Increasing the bonding power of the State Housing Authority to $600 million (a measure I supported) is expected to spur construction of 15,000 new housing units generate 12,000 new jobs, and produce more than $16 million in state and local taxes.

Late in its final week, the Legislature legalized bingo for charitable organizations with suitable limitations but, despite heavy pressures at the last minute, it did not approve dog racing for Michigan.

AMONG OTHER bills to pass in the last week of the session was one authorizing agricultural producers to form associations with collective bargaining power to represent all producers in setting up marketing controls on agricultural products.

Another important law passed just before the end of the session was one known as the "Inland Lakes and Streams Bill", restricting persons owning water frontage from altering their land without authorization from the State Department of Natural Resources.

Restrictions apply to dredging or filling of bottomland, erecting a structure on bottomland, building or operating a marina, and enlarging, creating or diminishing a stream or lake.

Most Michigan residents will be affected starting next October 1 by the no-fault auto insurance law passed earlier in the fall session. It will drastically change the method of reimbursing persons for personal injury or property damage claims as a result of automobile accidents.

It's interesting to note that, back in September, Governor Milliken singled out mass transportation, housing, and no-fault insurance as his "Big Three" legislative priorities of the fall session. All three passed.

In addition, the Governor ticked off a "Top 20" list of bills which he has placed the greatest emphasis on over the past two years. Of these, 18 gained final approval.

How about those prices

Dear Sir:

I am a person who lives and works in the St. Johns area. In all the time I have lived here I have made 98% of my purchases in St. Johns.

During the recent Christmas shopping season I was very disturbed at the prices in the stores here. For instance - a game that I purchased here cost me $21.89 compared to a price of $2.46 plus 2.00 shipping charge from a local mail order house. I realize that by the volume of order not being as large the cost might have been a little higher but 8.31 is to big a mark up.

I shall continue to shop in St. Johns because I am forced to do so because of time but stores here could do a much better job if they would be a little more competitive in their pricing.

ASK THE GOVERNOR

Question: Now that the State Lottery has been active for awhile, are there any figures on the amount of money it has brought in for the state?

Answer: Governor: During the first five weeks of operation, the Michigan State Lottery averaged sales of five million tickets per week, with the largest volume of sales - 5.9 million tickets - coming during the first week of operation. As of this writing, the State Lottery has taken in $9.85 million, with $4.2 million going in prizes, $400,000 going to the agents who handle sales and about $5.2 million going into the state's general fund. My office estimates that over the period of one year, the State Lottery should bring a total of about $60 million into the state treasury.

Question: I have read that traffic crashes caused by alcohol among 18 to 20-year-olds have gone way up since the Age of Majority law was adopted. Why isn't anything being done to cut those crashes down?

Answer: Governor: It is true that alcohol-related traffic crashes among young adults have risen substantially during the past year. However, it is important to recognize that this problem is not confined solely to 18 to 20-year-olds, but is the number one traffic safety problem among all age groups. National estimates maintain that more than 50 per cent of all traffic fatalities are linked in one way or another to the consumption of alcoholic beverages, and we have experienced an increase in alcohol-related traffic crashes among all age groups in Michigan this year.

Michigan has taken a number of steps to alleviate this critical problem, including lowering the maximum blood alcohol level in drunk driving cases from .15 per cent to .10 per cent and activating special enforcement forces in several communities throughout the state. If our country was like television, life would be even more of a remarkable experience.

If you were sick, off you go to Marcus Welby or Medical Center. In the case of slight illness, you could wait for the doctor segment of the Bold Ones to roll around every 3 weeks.

And how about those legal problems? Just call Owen Marshall Jr, again, hang around for 1-3 weeks and catch the legal portion of the Bold Ones (versatile fellows those Bold Ones).

For crying out loud, in Television USA, don't ever cross the law - you don't have a chance.

YOU EVEN have a choice of who's going to nab you. Depending on the week, you can be carted off to the grey stone hotel by MacMillan and Wife or run around town knowing all the time that Columbo's got your number.

More conventional types might prefer to be snared by Adam 12 or Joe Friday of Dragnet.

Lawyer, turned policeman, Raymond Burr is always on hand to slap the cuffs on with his rolling band of law enforcers of Ironsides.

Those with higher goals can be chased all over the countryside by Inspector Erskine and his FBI cronies, who seem to spend all their time on the telephone. (Always amazed me that wherever Inspector Erskine is, city, country or underground, the phone always rings and the person who answers says, "Inspector, it's for you - the poor guy can't go anywhere.")

The list is yet to end. There's still Chester in modern day Western clothing nabbing criminals in the big city as McCloud.

FOR THE BIZARRE FANS, skirt the law and see what happens when Mission Impossible gets on your tail.

No bombs at peace talks

Editor, Lapeer County Press

By Jim Fitzgerald

The man on TV said the US had just dumped a record number of bombs on North Vietnam. Not a record for the Vietnam war, he said, but an all-time, 1-day record for all wars, anywhere, anytime.

The date was Dec 19, about 2 months after Dr Kissinger assured us "peace is at hand." Over 4 years and 2 campaigns after President Nixon said he had a plan to end the war. And just 6 days before Christmas.

Hurrah for the Red, White and Blue. Country editors have no pipeline to the White House. I don't even have an uncle in the Pentagon business. I'm just like you; I don't understand what the hell is going on. I thought the boys were going to be out of the trenches by Christmas. But I guess that was another war.

I do know that a bunch of stuffed shirts have been having "peace talks" in Paris for many years. What do you suppose they talk about everyday?

What must 2 fathers say to each other before they can agree it's stupid for their sons to kill each other?

I don't know any Washington big shots, intelligent men who could undoubtedly give me some terribly sophisticated answers to that question. But I do know 2 young men who can't walk because of the Vietnam war. I know their parents. And I know my country has not accomplished anything in Vietnam that is worth what has happened to these families and to thousands of other families whose sons came home crippled, or Let's say you're innocent and all the above lawmen are after you. Whaddya gonna do? Simple - call Mannix or Cannon, those famous private eyes of the tube.

You say you're not in trouble with the law, don't feel sick and don't need a lawyer because Mannix or Cannon proved your innocence?

Well, how about a nice simple life in the everyday Television USA neighborhood? We've got a nice little home here just around the corner from Archie Bunker, who just happens to live next to Maude. Neighbors on the other side are Bridget and Bernie (that nice Jewish-Irish couple).

We're trying to get zoning enforced, but for the time being, around the block is Fred Sanford and his dummy son, Sandy Duncan, Dick VanDyke and Mary Tyler Moore live in the next block.

WHAT'S THAT -- you want to know about the schools? Let's see, we had that guy who taught in Room 222, Bill Cosby just left and we didn't have anybody before them but Mr Peepers and Our Miss Books and you know how long ago that was - no I guess we don't have a school.

Churches? Well, Bernie's Bridget's brother is a priest, if that'll help any. Stores? Back to Bernie again, I guess. His folks run a Kosher delicatessen, but other than that, we don't have much in the way of stores.

How about a dentist? Bob Newhart, the psychologist, has a dentist friend and, if you ever want to go anywhere, his neighbor across the hall is an airline pilot.

You drive a car? But, if it needs repair? Gosh the only repair we have is the Maytag repairman and he's so out of practice he couldn't sharpen a pencil.

Where you going? You don't think you'll like it here? Hey, Mac, you better grow up. You can dream all you like, but these are the cold, hard facts of life in Television USA.

Question: Now that the Legislature is done for the year, do you have any reaction to its performance?

Answer: Governor: In my judgment, the 1972 session of the Legislature was the most fruitful I have seen since I first came to Lansing as a State Senator in 1961. Of the 20 major pieces of legislation which were vehicles for programs promoted by me, 18 were passed, including vitally needed improvements in transportation, housing, the juvenile code, and environmental protection. We also saw adoption of a statewide construction code, no-fault automobile insurance, a presidential primary and the Equal Rights Amendment to the United States Constitution - all of which were supported by me. All in all, I believe that the leadership and membership of both houses deserve special commendation for 1972's fine record of bipartisan accomplishment.

Question: I have read that traffic crashes caused by alcohol among 18 to 20-year-olds have gone way up since the Age of Majority law was adopted. Why isn't anything being done to cut those crashes down?

Answer: Governor: It is true that alcohol-related traffic crashes among young adults have risen substantially during the past year. I've really been taking a 'pounding' from friends, family and fellow workers.

It's heavy so many people are concerned about my excess baggage . . . but their helpful hints don't carry any weight with me. After all, thin may be in, but fat's where it's at.

TEN POUNDS ago I lost all my weight, but I think it just caught up with me. Now because I don't believe in a closed mouth policy, I'm clothed in "the next size large, please."

When I go into the local women's ready-to-wear I ask directions to the stylish stout shop. The clerks give me a second glance and say "what do you wear? A . . ." "that's close enough" I quickly reply, "grabbing what looks like a surplus chute from the Army Reusery."

"That's ok dearie," she smiles, as the teeth of the zipper pop out like stars at night. "You have such a pretty face." That's just one of the typical comments a in a box.

I do know no one is shooting at Dr Kissinger, or President Nixon. No one is dropping bombs on those stuffed-shirts who smile and make polite chit-chat was they go to their daily peace meetings in Paris.

I do know several American planes have been shot down since bombing was resumed. How would you like to lose your son or husband or your own life in the last weeks of a war your country admitted it couldn't win 4 years ago?

How would Dr Kissinger like to be one of those rice paddy peasants who has been blown out of his home dozens of times and doesn't have the slightest idea why he is bleeding?

I know these are simplistic questions, no worthy of an embassy gardener. But lord, how this country is aching for a simplistic answer, such as:

"There'll be no more killing, ever. We've agreed it is counter-productive, even uncivilized. From now on all disagreements will be settled with words only. No fat throwing sticks. Any big shot who threatens armed force will be immediately drafted into the infantry as a rifleman."

It'll never happen. The smart big shots won't allow it, for fear someone might think they are dumb little shots. Instead, the bombs will keep setting records in Vietnam, or somewhere else - until there is no one left to keep score.

Onward and Upward? Phooey.

I WAS allowed a soft boiler egg removed from a dead chicken by a C-section and placed on a slab of white bread like a tombstone. While that was for breakfast, my luncheon consisted of a shriveled beef patty covering up a quarter cup of curdled cottage cheese.

Meanwhile I was starting to grow fins because I was drinking like a fish. And when I took my weekly bath I started to float.

Just when some of the fat started to trickle from my tissues, poof, I ran out of puffs. But in the end my loss was the city's gain. Our water bill just hit an all time high for turning on and off the faucet 8 times daily followed by a ceremonial, toilet flushing.

Bicycle mania

Would you like to have a cheap, reliable form of transportation that doesn't pollute the atmosphere, helps its owner keep fit, and lets him enjoy doing it?

As MSU students, on a large, sprawling campus, and others, have known for many years, such a marvel already exists.

It is the humble 2-wheel bike.

INCREASING PREFERENCE
The professional magazine "Medical World News" points out that a growing number of Americans are turning to the use of the bicycle for everyday transportation needs.

According to the Bicycle Institute of America (BIA), the industry's trade organization, some 8.9 million bicycles were sold in the country last year.

A mere 12 years ago, in 1960, only 3.7 million were produced.

The forecast for this year will probably surpass the 11 million mark. A total of more than 75 million people are busy pedaling around these days.

INCREASING DANGER
Unfortunately, and if you will pardon the expression, fatalities and injuries are riding tandem with the upsurge in bicycle use.

The National Safety Council reported 850 bike deaths, and more than 40,000 individual injuries in 1971, compared with 500 deaths and 27,000 injuries ten years earlier.

The estimate of bike-related injuries (that is, those which involve another person, vehicle or property damage) is much higher, in the vicinity of one million injuries a year.

What is the reason for so many accidents?

- (1) Many bikes are structurally unsafe.
- (2) Many riders operate them in an unsafe manner.
- (3) Perhaps of more importance, the bike is extremely vulnerable to other motorized vehicles, particularly on busy highways or city streets.

TOWARD SAFER BIKES
As with the auto industry, the primary target for positive change has to be the manufacturer. To their credit, people in responsible positions in the industry are willing to cooperate.

"Optional accessories", declares Walter Johnson, Director of FDA's Division of Children's Standards, "have gotten out of hand." For instance, the high rise "banana" seat, an innovation of fashion and comfort, makes it harder to balance and encourages riding double.

THE "SISSY" bar, that motorcycle-style brace on the back of the seat, makes it nearly impossible to dismount by throwing 1 foot over the rear of the seat.

Gear-shift levers that protrude from the horizontal cross-bar threaten genital injury.

The pint-sized front wheel, a growing fad, makes a bike much harder to steer.

Last Fall, at a special conference of FDA people and bicycle makers, a number of important safety changes were discussed.

Among them are handle grips that don't come off, so that the kids don't get stabbed on handle bars; and reflectors on all sides of the bike.

Non-skid-pedals, front and rear wheels of the same size, coaster brakes or caliper brakes small enough to fit a child's hands, and a seat that cannot be raised or lowered enough to make the bike unsafe, were all suggested.

LOOK OUT FOR PEDESTRIANS

A physician who is such a bike enthusiast that he makes house calls on his own (three-speed Raleigh) Dr. R. Byrd Chase, of New York, gives a word of warning.

"Remember the bike is a lethal weapon, too", he says, "vis-a-vis pedestrians. When they zoom along on their speeders at 20 or 25 miles per hour, kids don't realize the weight and the momentum add up to a lethal force. And they often run the lights, or cut in and out of traffic".

THE OUNCE OF PREVENTION
Bike riding can be both useful and enjoyable. According to Dr Paul White, Eisenhower's cardiologist, it can even help to prevent heart attacks.

Make sure you and your loved ones who enjoy bikes are doing so in a safe and defensive manner. Grim statistics show that the combination of a careless motorist and a foolhardy young bike rider, may spell out instant death.

Public helped make a merry Christmas

Dear Editor:

We don't know how to begin to thank the many people in this community who volunteered their time, money and experiences to help us make so many people of this county happy during the holiday season. The best we can do is to just say, thank you.

Let us express our appreciation to the following contributors: -the organizations of this community who call to help a family and many end up buying food, clothing, and toys; and then delivering them.

-the many people in town who donated canned goods or toys to local collection drives.

-the local business concerns who cooperate with our office and the above people's efforts to carry out their projects.

-the local church who donated their building to sort and distribute food and toys.

-the individuals who helped deliver these Christmas packages. All of these involved people helped us to do our job. A big job which is to help the people of this county to have a Merry Christmas.

A big thanks to everyone who helped.

Routes to Florida

More and more respond to call of sunny Florida

Sunny skies and balmy breezes are expected to lure an estimated 875,000 Michigan residents to Florida this winter - almost 30% more than last winter's number of Michigan "Sunshine State" vacationers, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

Traveling should be easier than ever this winter for Michiganders heading to Florida by car. Two new sections of I-75 recently opened in the Toledo area will eliminate the freeway detour via Toledo city streets that has previously plagued drivers with traffic delays.

The Walt Disney World, near Orlando, still seems to be Florida's hottest tourist attraction. But it will probably get some competition from the "Wild Kingdom," a 1000 acre, $26 million re-creation of Africa's geography and wildlife, which will open by late spring northwest of Clermont in Central Florida.

Wildlife enthusiasts will also be able to visit the newly reopened Shark Valley section of the Everglades National Park this winter. A tourist's bargain, this remote, northernmost area of the Everglades costs only $2 a car to see. The entrance fee includes parking and a guided tour.

SEVERAL, NEW campgrounds have sprung up around the state this year, and Miami has gained a new luxury hotel with the recent opening of the $7.5 million Marriott. Night-life is livelier in Pensacola thanks to the newly completed entertainment and dining complex in the city's historic Seville Square district.

By relying on direct Interstate routes, Auto Club estimates that most southern Michigan drivers can reach the Florida state line in two days. At least 3 days should be allowed if Miami is the destination.

Auto Club shows on the accompanying map the 4 easiest and safest routes to Florida, including a partial alternate. They have been labeled the A, B, C, and D routes.

Route A, which follows I-75 through Cincinnati, Knoxville and Atlanta, is the most direct way to Miami and the Tampa area for eastern Michigan drivers. At 1,402 miles, it is the shortest of all recommended routes between Detroit and Miami and includes 1346 miles of four-lane highway. The toll cost is $4.70.

Motorists using Route A may encounter a delay in northern Kentucky where a one-mile stretch of I-75/I-71 is closed for construction work. A 6-lane detour, 3 lanes in each direction is in use. Minor delays may also occur farther south where gaps in I-75 cause traffic to funnel onto conventional roads.

ROUTE B is the most direct way to Florida for western-Michigan drivers who will travel near Fort Wayne or Indianapolis, then south through Louisville, Nashville, Chattanooga and Atlanta.

It is 1,453 miles between Detroit and Miami via Route B. The route includes 1434 miles of four-lane highway - more miles than any other recommended route. The toll fee is $5.30.

A good alternate to Route B - particularly when bad weather occurs in the Chattanooga-Atlanta area - is Route B-1, which runs south from Nashville to Birmingham and Montgomery and then east to rejoin Route B at Tifton, Ga. While 59 miles longer than Route B with less freeway, it is convenient for travelers going to Tallahassee and on to Clearwater.

The longest and most expensive way from Detroit to Miami is Route C, which covers 1613 miles and has a toll charge of $8.30. It follows the Ohio and Pennsylvania turnpikes before turning south through Virginia's Shenandoah Valley.

Route C offers 1229 miles of freeway and involves very little mountain driving. However, in the winter, the northern portion may be subjected to heavy snow.

FOR AN EXTREMELY scenic trip, Route D is recommended except when snow and ice conditions prevail. Running through the mountains of West Virginia, Virginia and North Carolina, it is 1491 miles long and offers the least amount of four-lane highway - 1091 miles. The toll charge is $6.85.

General Telephone plans to spend $45.8 million

MUSKOGON - General Telephone will spend more than $45.8 million in 1973 as a part of a planned five-year $268 million program of service improvement and expansion for Michigan, Jack Reitze, president of the company, said today.

Telephones, cable for local and long distance calling - much of it buried, central office switching and dialing equipment and additional building space to accommodate the new equipment - will constitute the $268 million program which will affect the service offered through each of the company's 191 exchange central offices.

The $45.8 million program for 1973 will be the largest ever for General Telephone and subsequent annual programs, planned through 1977 will average over $53 million.

"Our program for 1973 as well as for the next five years is geared to improve and expand both local and long distance service for our steadily growing number of customers," Reitze said. "We are committed to several major improvement objectives."

He pointed out that one major objective - the elimination of five to 10 party lines - will be reached by the end of 1973.

"This means that there be no more than four parties on any rural line and, by 1977, we expect to be furnishing only private line and two-party service in our urban service areas," the utility president said.

General Telephone, which provides service to 538 communities located in 61 of the state's 83 counties, installed its half-millionth telephone in September, 1972, marking an increase of about 35 percent in five years.

The increase in telephone usage by customers has also placed increased demands on the company's physical facilities. During the five-year period 1966-1971, for instance, the average number of local calls per day increased from 1.9 million daily to over 2.8 million daily - a 47 percent increase.

The volume of long distance calls registered an even more dramatic increase over the same period - from 88,200 to 151,300 daily, or over 71 percent.

"Our $268 million improvement and expansion program over the next five years is required to meet these growth needs," Reitze pointed out.

Included in the program are plans for sophisticated electronic switching machines for the company's major long distance switching centers - Alma, Adrian, Owosso and Muskegon - to be placed in service beginning in 1975.

The company's first all-electronic central office is now in service in the Fowler-Pewamo exchange.

"This fully computerized equipment will help assure that our present and future customers continue to have the best possible local and long distance service," Reitze said.

Commenting on the availability of capital to finance the planned program, the utility president said: "A considerable amount of the $268 million needed to pay for these service improvement and expansion programs will be generated internally from retained earnings, depreciation and tax deferrals; however, a substantial amount - we estimate more than $115 million - will have to come from new investor capital.

"In order to attract these large amounts of new investor capital necessary to continue to meet the service improvement and expansion needs of our customers, our earnings must be good."

General Telephone's investment in the physical facilities necessary to provide service to its customers surpassed $360 million in 1972, more than $684 for each telephone in service. By 1977, it is estimated that $840 will be invested for each telephone in service.

Lee Motz shows off artistry

Twinkling sights brighten Fowler holidays

Lee Motz, 66, of Fowler admires a Manger scene he created which has 120 pieces.

Under Motz's tree is Santa and his sleigh and 8 tiny reindeer.

News Staff Writer

FOWLER -- Handmade scenes and outdoor settings with 1250 twinkling lights are brightening the holidays in Fowler.

Their creator Lee Motz, opens his home at 11240 W Clinton nightly throughout the Christmas and New Year season. Oldsters and youngsters alike are enchanted with his interpretations of Our Town, Disneyland and The Manger.

The secret to the 66-year-old retiree's artistry is that all his decorations are made from scrap. "It's all just waste material," he confides, "with my biggest expense ceramic images and paint." From 6 basic paints he arrives at 42 color combinations.

Blue bulbs show off his home in the evenings while he uses black lights on Our Town and miniatures for Disneyland and The Manger, highlighting them with pieces of broken mirrors. He's constructed an elaborate control system for it all even though it does double his light bill.

MOTZ BEGAN making holiday decorations in 1934 when he started out with the Manger setting. "I didn't have much time then," he remembers, "but it was something I wanted to do all my life." Now that he's retired Motz repainted all the images in The Manger this year, including 70 sheep out of 120 pieces.

"There's even a black sheep in the bunch," Motz smiles. He explains that one night he had some neighbors over and a friend glanced at his shoes and asked if he didn't have any shoe polish. "Well he painted one behind my back," he says, "and said by gosh Lee You've got a black sheep. And I replied it must be a neighbor's." But not to show any partiality he made a black angel.

Motz admits he does his best work from 11 o'clock at night until 4 in the morning. "By that time I'm relaxed," he adds.

IT'S TRADITION with Motz to set up his scenes Nov 11 the day on which his wife died 9 years ago. "I have it ready to go then," he continues, "and I'll leave it up through Three Kings Day Jan 6 until Jan 15.

Motz says he doesn't know how many hours have gone into creating his decorations. "I'd either underestimate or exaggerate," he mentions, "but I do know I've got the school cluttered with more than I have here." He's also given 13 bird's nests to neighbor children.

"The kids just seem to go crazy over this stuff," he beams proudly. And to sweeten their visit to his house, Motz has given away 450 candy canes. "It makes you feel good when young people care for you," Motz, who has a son and daughter and 3 grandkids of his own, relates. Teddy bears in the Disneyland setting were made from his son's favorite stuffed toy as a boy.

"People are good to me," he says, revealing a workshop full of excelsior, egg cartons, cardboard boxes and styrofoam. He'll use those and such things as hairclips, toothpicks, bottle caps, screwdriver handles, pipe cleaners, toilet paper rolls and clothes pins to make next year's decorations.

He's already started to create new settings to delight visitors for Motz is one man who believes in Christmas spirit 365 days a year.

As Motz says smiling, "It makes me feel good to know young people care."

Farm Tips

Prevent choretime tragedy

Take precautions against choretime tragedy this winter.

To avoid falls, clear all stairways and walkways and check for overhead wire before transporting ladders or other tall equipment. Falls are a leading cause of accidental deaths in the U.S., second only to annual highway fatalities.

Apply adhesive-backed abrasive strips to smooth surfaces, or sprinkle sand over wet paint for slip resistance.

WHEN USING a ladder, set it one foot out for every four feet up. Since rungs on most ladders are a foot apart, calculate by counting the number of rungs from the ground to where the ladder rests.

Before climbing, make sure shoe soles are dry and ladder siderails and rungs secure.

To prevent strained back muscles, more heavy loads with a wagon, wheelbarrow or dolly, or have someone help.

Instead of stooping, bend knees and squat to lift a heavy load. Keep feet apart with one beside and one behind the load. Tuck in your chin, get a good grip and lift slowly, keeping your back straight. Use leg muscles for most of the lifting. Carry sacks on your shoulder, taking the strain off your spine.

ABOUT 1 in 10 farm accidents involves farm animals. A normally docile animal may charge, kick or bite in some situations. Female animals protecting young, male animals protecting females, and sick or injured animals are unpredictable.

Hogs and most pets will fight to obtain or protect food.

Federal farm safety law prohibits any employee under 16 from working in the yard, pen, or stall of a bull, boar, or stallion kept for breeding purposes. Nor can an employee under 16 work with cows or sows with newborn young, unless the farm is owned or operated by the youngster's father or legal guardian.

When handling a horse, always let him know where you are and what you're doing, by talking to him or touching him gently without sudden movements. Run your hand down his leg before lifting his foot so he isn't startled. And lastly, never approach a horse from the rear. He won't see you and may kick if startled.

Agriculture in Action

"There is no such thing as an operation manual for a farm or any substitute for close personal involvement."

The author of that statement is Dan Cordtz, author of the "Fortune" magazine article dealing with corporate farming, which he describes as "a tough row to hoe."

Cordtz finds no evidence whatsoever of a corporate threat to family farming. He noted, instead, that corporate farming as a profit-maker has been a spectacular failure, with overhead costs growing much more profusely than the crops. In fact, corporate farming "...has turned out to be so profitless and trouble-filled that many of the corporations which involved agriculture in the 1960's are now in full retreat," Cordtz said.

If big corporations with adequate financial backing, tough management know-how and a long string of industrial successes to their credit can't make a success of farming, how can Mr and Mrs U.S. Farmer make a go of it?

More often than not, Mr and Mrs U.S. Farmer not only make a go of it, but also raise and educate a family, support their church, pay substantial taxes for schools and other government programs, and put something away for the time when they can no longer work a 50 or 60 hour week producing food and fiber.

The owner of a family farm must be ready to make countless management decisions right on the spot in order to adjust his farming operation to meet weather, spoil, price, labor, transportation, mechanical failure and other variable conditions.

Most of all, his success is due to his personal involvement in both management and labor input.

US market growth predicted to continue through 1973

This has been a year of market growth - a time of increasing demand for U.S. commodities according to Arthur Rowley, chairman, Michigan Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Recently the Department of Agriculture estimated that U.S. agricultural exports in the year ending June 30, 1973, will be about $10 billion. This would be a growth of almost $2 billion, or almost one fourth over the preceding year. This would have been a good year even without the large sale of wheat, corn and soybeans to the Soviet Union and the Peoples Republic of China.

It is believed that exports this year will total 1125 million bushels of wheat valued at over $2 billion. The value of feed grain exports - mostly corn, will be up from $1.1 billion last year to $1.6 billion in the current year. Soybeans and products will move up from $2 billion to over $2.3 billion and livestock products will be up by a third.

Rowley stated it was interesting that about $2.7 billion of our farm exports - over one fourth - are going this year to two countries - Japan and the Soviet Union. Japan remains our leading market with estimated purchases of $1.5 billion and the Soviet Union with over $1.2 billion in this export year.

THE SOVIETS have repeatedly stated their intention to increase the animal protein component of their national diet by 25 percent as part of their current 5-year plan and their grain production targets are well short of what will be required to reach that goal. So there appears to be the long term opportunity for sales of U.S. feed grains to the USSR - commodities our farmers are able to produce in great quantities and with superior efficiency.

Expanding markets are necessary if agriculture is to progress as a growth industry. Trade means higher income and more jobs both in agriculture and in business and manufacturing. It promotes cooperation of all sorts - in science, medicine and in environmental matters. Trade is one of the most effective ways to achieve peaceful contacts and to promote other relationships, Rowley concluded.

End of an era

ST JOHNS - The last bushel of grain was sold on Dec 11 from CCC binsites in Michigan, thus marking the end of Commodity Credit Corporation binsite operations in this State announced Arthur Rowley, Chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Nearly 1.2 million bushels of corn was sold from Dec 1 through Dec 11 under special authority granted by the CCC Board of Washington to help alleviate a critical shortage of mold-free corn in the heavy hog producing areas of southern Michigan. The shortage was brought about by the delayed corn harvest as a result of extremely wet and muddy field conditions. The extremely wet weather caused a mold to develop on corn left unharvested and hogs just simply refuse to eat the moldy corn. Supplies of 1971 crop corn were soon exhausted; thus prompting farmers to request the release of CCC corn stored in binsites throughout the State.

This exhausts the supply of all grain left in the 13 binsites in the State, stated Rowley, and marks the end of CCC binsite grain storage in Michigan. CCC binsites have served their purpose well here in Michigan but there does not appear to be any need for them in the foreseeable future. The Michigan State Committee have decided to dispose of at least half of the 4.4 million bushels of storage capacity in 1973. Disposal will be by public auction on sale dates and at locations yet to be scheduled.

The objectives of the CCC binsites operation have been to supplement existing commercial storage facilities where needed and to provide storage where commercial storage space was nonexistent. These CCC bins were sold and used only for the storage or handling of agricultural commodities, explained Rowley, therefore, we will not be taking storage space away from producers but merely transplanting it from Government ownership to farmer-owned on-the-farm storage.

Recent activity in the ASCS administered Farm Storage Facility Loan Program has also changed the grain storage picture here in Michigan, Rowley noted.

FARMERS, with the assistance of the Farm Storage Facility Loan Program, have purchased and erected over nine million bushels of storage in the past 18 months.

Relatively little use has been made of the CCC binsites by farmers in recent years; therefore, it appears advisable to reduce the Government-owned storage space and encourage farmers to store their grain on-the-farm.

Other States, such as Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Iowa, are also making plans to reduce Government-owned storage space, Rowley stated.

"Many stories have been written about the pros and cons of these 'Tin Villages' as they were sometimes referred to," Rowley said, "but most people would be amazed to know that some of the corn just sold was harvested in 1952 - twenty years ago - and still graded U.S. #2 and 3 - just as good as it was when it was harvested. County ASCS officers who have been responsible for the care of the Government-owned grain in the binsites are to be commended for a job well done," Rowley concluded.

Shipping agreement to aid bean market

LANSING - A new agreement between Michigan Elevator Exchange Division of Farm Bureau Services and the Grand Trunk Railroad providing for direct containerized shipment of Michigan-grown beans to ocean ports for Overseas delivery is expected to improve export markets for Michigan bean producers.

The agreement permits loading of 8 x 8 x 20 containers on railway flatcars at the Exchange's Saginaw terminal for shipment to ocean ports. Previously, rail rates allowed only for bean shipments in bags.

Edward R. Powell, vice president of the Elevator Exchange Division, said the new shipping rules will reduce handling costs and speed shipment to European markets.

Michigan produces 42 percent of all beans grown in the U.S. and approximately $15 million worth of beans are shipped abroad each year, Powell said.

Each container contains 40,000 pounds of beans.

Ron Huard, seated, of St Johns prepares to donate blood

It looks like an assembly line, but it's packaging needed supplies for giving blood.

Blood pressure is taken from a prospective donor in addition to a blood sample from the ear lobe to determine if he is eligible to give blood.

Doris Scott, Sheila Deyereaux, Marian Kurncz and Mary Rademacher of the church altar society prepared refreshments for blood donors.
