MRS OLIVER KNIGHT

Teacher 1st crash fatality

Mrs. Oliver (Gena Louise) Knight, 59, first grade teacher at DeWitt Public Schools was killed in an auto accident last Thursday morning while on her way to classes.

Mrs. Knight was killed when her car collided with one driven by Linn J. Pontius, 25, of R-2, DeWitt, about 7:45 a.m. at the intersection of Airport and Howe roads west of DeWitt.

SHERIFF'S officers said Mrs. Knight, eastbound on Howe, apparently did not stop for a stop sign at the corner. Pontius' southbound car hit hers in the left front, causing Mrs. Knight's car to go into a ditch and hit a tree on the southeast corner of the intersection.

A heavy fog covered the area at the time, and rural roads were slippery. Van Hoag, Clinton County coroner, said Mrs. Knight died of shock and a skull fracture.

Pontius suffered bruises in the crash but was released after treatment at Clinton Memorial Hospital in St. Johns.

MRS KNIGHT had taught several years in the DeWitt school system and was a first-grade teacher at the Griswold Elementary School. Prior to that she taught in Valley Farms.

Her death was the first traffic fatality in Clinton County in 1966. Funeral service and other obituary information are found on Page 16-A.

Doesn't like price, man starts fight

Three men sped away after one grappled with Dick Tonnmacher of Dick's Clark Super 100 Service early Monday morning in an argument over paying for gas they had gotten.

Tonnmacher told city police one of the three men in the auto gripped about the price of the gasoline they had gotten and threw the money on the ground. As Tonnmacher bent to pick it up, he said, he was hit in the face by the man.

He fought with the subject until the two others separated them. The three then drove off and Tonnmacher called police. The incident occurred at about 4 a.m. Monday. Tonnmacher said the three had been drinking.

$68 in cash, car missing at home

Cash amounting to $68 was stolen from the Robert Gladstone home at 504 S. Kibbee Street last Thursday or Friday, police were told.

The theft was reported by Ken Gladstone of 410 Wight Street, who said he had been checking the home periodically while his parents are in Florida. A black 1958 Dodge is missing from the driveway, too, he told police.

City gives Villa another chance

The Villa Dance Hall got a new lease on life last Tuesday as the city commission permitted them one more chance to stop disorderly activities by dancers on the streets around the hall.

"Whatever you try, it had better work," Commissioner Charles Coletta warned the hall's operators, Mr and Mrs Daniel Salazar of 705 E. Walker Street.

City police reported everything was quiet and the plan apparently worked well last Saturday night.

The dance hall area on West Railroad Street has been the scene of constant disorderly activities every Saturday night, according to Police Chief Everett Glazier. Minor in possession, drunk and disorderly and similar offenses have taken place, and in several cases lethal weapons have been removed from those arrested.

SALAZAR AND his attorney, Frederic M. Lewis, promised to initiate a series of new restrictions aimed at eliminating the troubles. They appeared before the commission when the commission ordered the Salazars to show cause why the dance hall license should not be revoked.

After lengthy discussion between the commission, Salazar and Lewis, it was agreed that the hearing would be adjourned until a later date, giving Salazar an opportunity to implement the new restrictions.

SALAZAR TOLD the commission he was anxious to run a good, clean business and an "essentially family type of dance." He agreed to do these things for Saturday night's (Jan. 8) dance.

Persons once admitted to the dance hall would not be allowed to go out and come in again, unless they paid a second admission. This plan, offered by Commission Jerry Irerer, is to prevent persons going out to cars and taverns and drinking, then coming back in to cause trouble.

A list of persons who had been arrested previously in the dance hall area for drinking and disorderly charges would be posted in the dance hall, and those persons would be refused admittance.

SALAZAR WOULD hire an extra private policeman who would work outside and supplement the two private policemen who have already been working on the inside. Since the outside was the problem area, Salazar agreed to try to stop the problem there, too.

He and his attorney pointed out that no drinking was allowed inside the dance hall and everything had been run according to the rules and regulations of the dance hall license. Salazar said he had done his best to have a good dance.

HIS ATTORNEY, Lewis, objected to the revoking of the license. He pointed out that City Atty. Harold Reed's letter advising Salazar of the show-cause hearing said the trouble was outside the hall. "I don't know of anything directed against the dance hall itself," Lewis said.

He admitted there was a lot of criticism being directed, but he said that "to effect the cure (revoking of license) you kill the victim."

COMMISSIONER Coletta, who moved for the show-cause hearing two weeks earlier, commented that "even though everything is OK on the inside, we're having lots of trouble on the outside that's endangering our policemen."

"It seems you are drawing people who are causing us a problem."

Attorney Lewis called the charges "guilt by association" and asked the commission if it had anything on the premises itself "or is it just speculation... Outside the hall is the area he (Salazar) can't control, and he should not be penalized for that."

LEWIS SUGGESTED the extra See VILLA GETS, Page 2-A

First Nighters ready to put 'Cradle Song' on stage

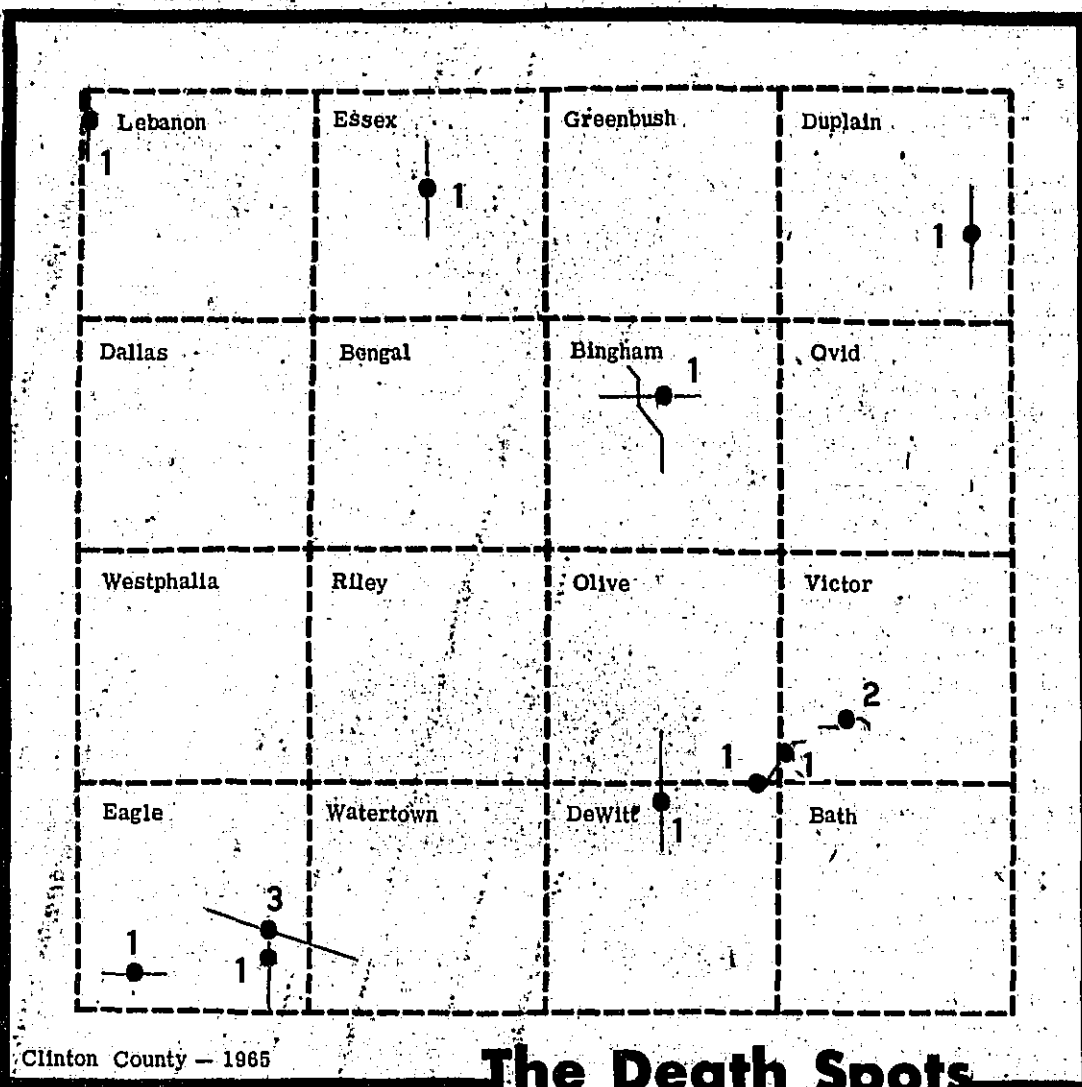

Two months of work will end tonight (Thursday) as the First Nighters of St. Johns have their final rehearsal for their first play of the season "The Cradle Song." It will be presented tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday Jan. 14, 15 at the Rodney B. Wilson High School in St. Johns.

Bob Stern is directing the play. He is a member of the Performing Arts Co. at Michigan State University where he is doing work towards his PhD in theater. His goal is the teaching of theater arts in a college or university. Last season he appeared in

"Antigone," "The Master Builder," "The Hostage," "An Italian Straw Hat" and "The Deputy." He also took parts of The Lord and Grumio for the Performing Arts Co. of "Taming of the Shrew" in the Upper Peninsula. This past See STAGE PLAY, Page 2-A

Clinton County — 1965 The Death Spots

In the final month of 1965, Clinton County's traffic fatality record skyrocketed from a modest pace well behind that of 1964 to a total of 14—two above 1964's mark. It was not a record to be proud of. Two death patterns show up on the map: Eagle Township had five fatalities, a triple-fatality at M-100 and Grand River, one south of there on M-100 and one on State Road between Grange and Jones. There were four fatalities on Round Lake Road, including a double fatal near Babcock Road and single deaths resulting from crashes east of Krepps and east of Chandler. Single deaths occurred on Clintonia Road north of Hubbardston in Lebanon Township, Essex Center Road between Island and Mead in Essex, Hollister between Colony and French in Duplain, M-21 in St. Johns and US-27 just south of Round Lake Road in DeWitt Township. The 1965 traffic toll was the largest since 1962 when 16 were killed.

School, city discuss park field

A resolving of the city park football field problem between the school board and the city commission was to be discussed Tuesday night (Jan. 11) at a joint meeting of the two groups.

The school wants to operate the football field and make the necessary changes in the condition and care of the field. The city has said it is not in favor of selling the field, even if it could.

CITY ATTY. Harold Reed told the commission last Tuesday at the regular city meeting there are no deed restrictions to selling the land. But, he said, as long as the park land is part of the city's master plan, the commission would have no power to sell the land unless a 3/5 vote of the people approved it.

The only time the city could lease the land, Reed said, was when the term of the lease contract was less than the term of the present city commission. City Manager Ken Greer pointed out the charter spells out one year; any longer time, he said, needs a vote of the people.

DeWitt Memorial Building Addition Shaping Up

The walls are up and the steel beams for the roof were to go on this week on the new addition to the DeWitt Memorial Building. The building construction blossomed rapidly in December after the association accepted a "splendid proposal" from Richard L. Corr Jr. of DeWitt to do the masonry work on a cost plus 10 per cent basis. Association officers picked out the brickwork for the front last week; the new and old buildings will have a common front, though the interiors will not be connected.

New superintendent hired at DeWitt

DEWITT—Hobart Jenkins, who has spent 16 years in the Detroit Public School system, has been appointed Assistant Superintendent of the DeWitt Schools, it has been announced.

Jenkins will take over the superintendent's post in July when the present superintendent, C. H. Fuerstau, retires.

Jenkins, 41, will assume his new post as assistant superintendent Feb. 2 and will serve through July 1 in that capacity.

AN ARMY veteran of World War II, Jenkins is currently serving as assistant principal of Detroit's Oakman School and is treasurer of the Southfield Board of Education.

He is a graduate of Wayne State University and has a master's degree from Wayne in special education and a master's from the University of Michigan in school administration.

HE PRESENTLY lives in Southfield with his wife, Jeanne, and son Steven. Another son, Gerald W., is in his plebe year at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis.

A left turn from the right-hand lane of US-27 resulted in an accident Sunday evening at the north edge of St. Johns. David F. Aseltine, 18, of rural Remus, turned left and hit the side of a car driven by Harvey J. French, 34, of North US-27, St. Johns. Neither driver was hurt, nor were two passengers. Both cars were traveling south on US-27 when the accident occurred about 10:05 p.m. City police investigated the mishap.

police officer outside and the posting of names of those barred from the hall. Salazar agreed to try the suggestions immediately.

Police Chief Glazier questioned whether the additional policemen hired by Salazar would do any good. "One night we had seven men down there, including the county," the chief said. "We thought that would clean up the situation, but the next time they were back.

Salazar said he didn't want to see anybody get hurt, either, and he repeated that he would put the new restrictions into effect at once.

"WHATEVER YOU try, it had better work," Coletta then commented. He then moved that the hearing be adjourned for further consideration.

The Villa Hall, located in the old bus depot building on West Railroad Street, draws essentially Spanish speaking people from all over the southern half of the state and from as far away as Toledo, Ohio. He said the Saturday night dances were essentially family-type dances, with parents coming and bringing their children with them.

HE ESTIMATED about 20 per cent of those attending are kids. The dance hall closes at 2 a.m. on Sunday.

Police were not the only complainants in the case. Tavern operators in the vicinity were complaining about the disturbance the dancers were creating, including the switching of identification cards that makes it hard for bartenders to determine whether or not they're serving minors.

The sum total of the complaints led to the call for the show-cause hearing.

How to buy "vitamins"
Door-to-door peddlers are around now, selling vitamin preparations and nutritional supplements. The talk is mighty convincing. But, remember, talk won't do a thing for you. There's only one way to be sure of what vitamin you need if any are needed at all. That is to see your family physician. He and he alone is qualified to prescribe for you. Always buy vitamins or nutritional supplements from a registered pharmacist. Then you'll know what you're getting—and you'll get your money's worth.

DeWitt's first '66 council session quiet, short

DEWITT—The DeWitt City Council's first meeting of the new year, last Tuesday, was quiet and short compared to some of the long and arduous meetings held the last half of 1965.

A short discussion was held on the fire contract between the DeWitt and the Valley Farms fire departments. There are a few small differences still to be ironed out, but the consensus seemed to be that these will be settled shortly.

A DISCUSSION was held on city parking facilities, especially around the city building. Mayor Buck asked Councilman Lloyd Berkimer to look into the cost of removing the old brick building next to the city building which could then be made into parking area. This building now houses some of the city's equipment and adequate new housing would be needed for it.

Sidewalk construction was discussed, but it was agreed that it would be better to wait until curb and gutters were installed before continuing with sidewalks.

ROBERT BALLARD of the planning commission spoke briefly on his group's work to date.

Councilman Berkimer report-

Co-Op stockholders name Mayers, Motz directors

St. Johns Cooperative Co. stockholders elected one new director and reelected another at their annual meeting Saturday at Smith Hall.

Raymond Mayers was reelected to a three-year term on the board of directors. Ronald Motz was elected to a three-year term, replacing Donald Puetz, who did not seek reelection.

Other candidates for the board seats were Dennis Rademacher and Lee Ormston.

PUETZ, IN absentia, was presented with a certificate by the board of directors in appreciation for his 12 years of service on the board. Charles Nunemaker, an employee of the cooperative for nearly 24 years, was also given a certificate of appreciation. Nunemaker retired Jan. 1.

Following the general meeting, the board of directors gathered and reelected Warren Coffman president of the cooperative company. Other officers are Raymond Mayers, vice president; John Hall, secretary; John A. (Art) Romig, treasurer; and Ken Fricke, member of the executive committee.

DURING discussion of the company's financial picture, Saturday before the stockholders, it was announced that the sale of debentures to stockholders had been approved by the state. The board said it would be contacting members of the cooperative in the coming weeks concerning the purchase of the debentures. They are being offered for sale in an effort to secure greater stockholder participation in the affairs of the company.

St. Johns Cooperative Co. President Coffman, in his message to the stockholders, reminded them of the reasons for the formation of any cooperative and said, "He (the farmer) should know if he really needs a cooperative he should make up his mind to do his share—his whole share—in making his cooperative successful and more capable of doing all the things he and other farmers want it to do."

ORDERLY growth and development is one of the chief aims of the St. Johns Co-Op," he concluded. "We expect to have setbacks, but in spite of drought and wet weather, we are going to forge ahead and continue to be the best cooperative in the state of Michigan."

Along the lines of growth, John Hall, secretary of the company, reported a record volume of sales and bushels of grains stored. Sales volume for the fiscal year 1964-65 was $1,905,438.

JACK RAFTER of the St. Paul Bank for Cooperatives, who presented an analysis of the company's financial structure, noted that the St. Johns Cooperative Co. had increased its business volume about 60 per cent in the last four years and that its growth record far exceeds most others in the elevator industry.

President Coffman appointed a membership advisory committee to aid the board in making decisions on the future path of the cooperative.

Named to the committee were:

NORTHWEST area: Gerald Gove, James Becker, John Watts, William Mayers, Donald Findlay, Neil Ferguson, Fred Sykora, Francis Dershem, Robert Kissane, Rex Redman, Frank Prochazka, and Leonard Koenigsnecht. Southwest area: Neil Harte, Earl Barbs, Warren Swanson, James Mohrke, Lloyd Love, Joe Armbrustmacher, John Schumaker, Marvin Thelen, LaVern Slim, Donald Chant, Russell Morrison, Lyle Hallead, Ray Warner, Lawrence Yallup and Lee Chant.

NORTHEAST AREA: John Jones, Peter Kurnez, John Beck, Ron Motz, Richard Woodhams, Lee Ormston, Don Tolles, Robert Fox, Raymond Doyle, Mark Pung, Arthur Motz, Albert Schaefer and Byron Kissane. THE NOON dinner preceding the business meeting was prepared and served by the ladies of the Greenbush WSCS. Following the dinner a movie entitled "Cows, Kids and Co-Ops" was shown by Earl Hars, county extension agent.

Half-billion gallons used in '65

St. Johns customers used nearly a half a billion gallons of water in 1965!

The final pumpage figure for the year was 445,689,000, the city water department reported. That's an average of 1,221,093 gallons per day and 848 gallons pumped per minute.

THAT'S ENOUGH water in a year to fill up 891 water towers like St. Johns' new 500,000 gallon elevated tank. And then there'd be a 100,000 gallons or so sloshing over.

December's Share of the year's water use wasn't quite the monthly average. In December only 32,786,000 gallons were pumped, compared to 33,438,000 gallons in November. In December 1964 a total of 34,410,000 gallons was pumped.

December's daily average was 1,057,613 gallons, or 735 gallons per minute.

2 youths with beer fined, jailed 3 days

Richard L. Schutz, 19, of 226 1/2 E. Grand River, Laingsburg, and Robert A. Kennedy II, 18, of 1159 Primrose Lane, DeWitt, got identical fines and jail terms after their arrest Friday night for being in possession of beer. Judge Alba Wert fined each one $25 plus $14.90 costs and sentenced them to three days in the county jail. Sheriff's deputies arrested them in DeWitt Township.

Would annex property, city tells Feldpausch

The city of St. Johns would be willing to annex an 80-acre parcel of land along US-27 if such a request is made, the city commission told Bernard Feldpausch, president of Bee's Chevrolet-Olds, Inc., last week.

Feldpausch appeared before the commission and said he had purchased the old Lilly Ward farm on the southwest corner of US-27 and Townsend Road, just outside the southeast boundary of the city.

HE HAD ASKED the county zoning board to rezone the property from D agricultural to C commercial. He said he would eventually like to annex to the city and asked for some indication from the city that they would accept the annexation if it were agreeable with the township.

The commission passed a resolution saying that "Annexation of the said premises appears to be in the best interest of the City of St. Johns and surrounding territories; now be it resolved that this commission go on record of favoring annexation of said premises."

FELDPAUSCH SAID that if he can get approval of a zoning change, he plans to move his used car lot and body shop onto the property as soon as possible. Further plans for use of the property are not definite.

Car hit from rear

Martha M. Baldwin, 23, of Westphalia stopped her car along Price Road last Friday to clean off the windshield. Behind her came Ronald Thelen, 17, also of Westphalia, and his car hit the rear of the Baldwin car. Neither driver, nor a passenger in each car, was hurt. The accident happened a half-mile west of Wright Road.

M. D. Fillmore and 61-Year-Old Pay His 3 weeks pay check arrives—61 years later

Getting paid for work after it's done is the accepted practice, but getting paid 61 years after the work is done is something out of the ordinary. That something out of the ordinary happened last week to M. D. Fillmore, barber at the Hayhoe Barber Shop in the Steel Hotel. Fillmore received a check for $10, payment for about three weeks of work he did in a hayfield at Edenville in 1905.

FILLMORE WAS 13 years old at the time, he recalls, when he worked for a farmer at Edenville (in Midland County) for 50 cents a day. Somehow the payment for that work got overlooked and then forgotten as the years passed.

Last Thursday Fillmore received a letter from the now-retired farmer who's living in Orlando, Fla. It had been sent to Edenville by the farmer and then forwarded here by Fillmore's sister. The check was for $10 and was accompanied by a brief note explaining what it was for.

Private foundations and industry greatly increased their support of research at The University of Michigan during 1964-65. An increase of 85 per cent, for a total of more than $2 million, was financed by private and industry foundations and non-governmental health agencies. Industry and industrial associations sponsored more than $2.5 million, a 35 per cent increase.

Road Commission Weekly Report

The Board of Clinton County road commissioners have scheduled a special meeting Jan. 13 with Local 794 and their staff representative to resume labor negotiations.

Les Drago, county road engineer, has been meeting with township boards this week to discuss local road construction plans for 1966. The meetings will be completed by the end of January.

FINAL FIGURES for the 1965 operations are not complete, but we do know that both receipts and expenditures are at an all-time high. Payrolls for 1965 totaled more than $397,000. Fringe benefits for employees were over $95,000.

Preliminary estimates indicate that the available operating funds will be at about the same level as last year or perhaps slightly below. This means that we lived within our income or nearly so—which becomes more difficult each year as increasing population and traffic volumes make more demands for construction and maintenance of roads.

THE NEXT regular meeting of the board of Clinton County road commissioners will be held Tuesday, Jan. 18. The Board hopes to make a decision on a new crane at that time.

Paul Nobis was re-elected chairman of the Road Commission for 1966 at the Jan. 3 meeting.

Bath names 2 new trustees

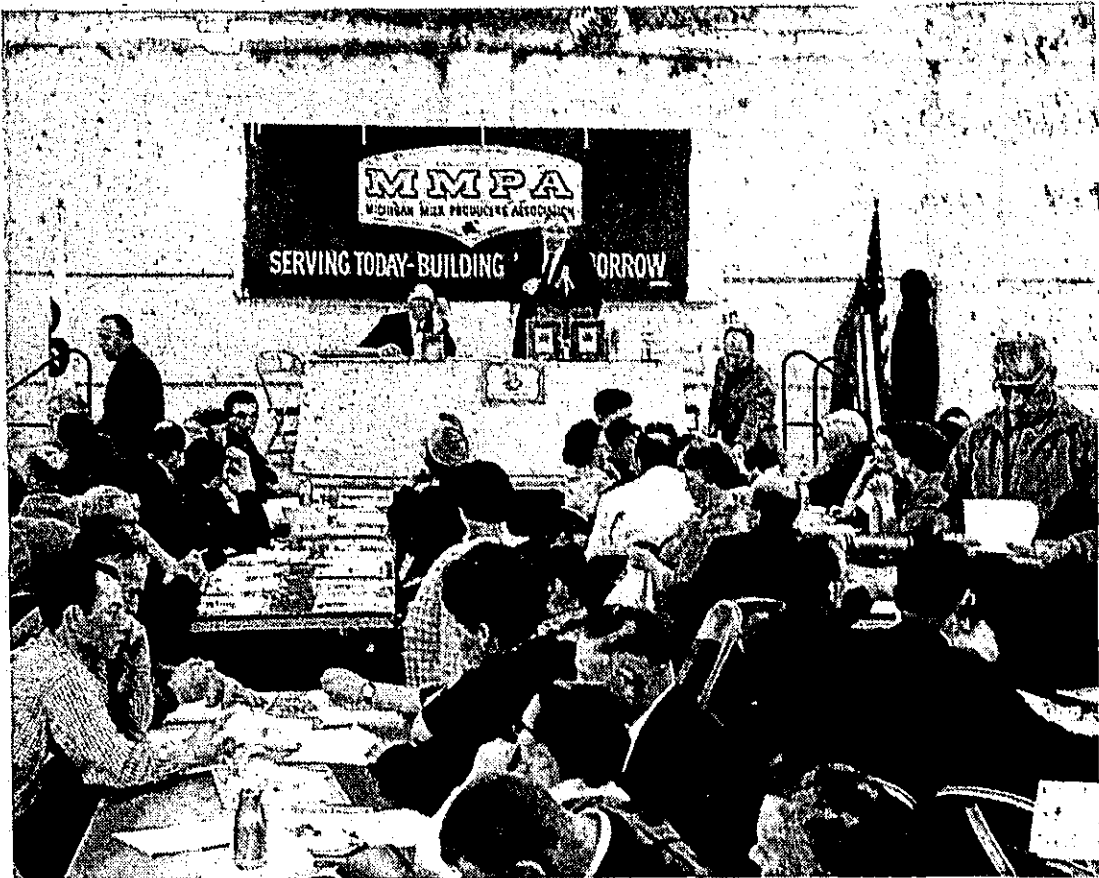

BATH—Bath Township's board of trustees grew to seven members last Monday night with the appointment of two new members to meet charter township regulations.

Bath became a charter township officially Jan. 1; residents approved the charter status at a special election in November.

Appointed to the board were Richard Bragdon of 12425 Center Road, and Richard L. Morrill of Towar Avenue.

A SEVEN-MEMBER planning commission was also appointed by the board to provide for the "future planning and growth of Bath Township." Named to the new unit were Walter Kyes, Clinton Fitch and Kenneth Munson for three-year terms; Edward El-singer and Harold Burnett for two-year terms; and William Morgan and Ernest Trofatter for one-year terms.

A special election has been called for Feb. 23 at which time voters will be asked to renew the franchise held by Consumers Power Co. to supply power to Bath Township. Such an election is required every 30 years. Consumers Power will pay the costs of the election.

Ballots are passed out at the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. annual meeting of the Ovid local Monday at Smith Hall. Overseeing the operation from the head table are William Parker, secretary-treasurer (seated), and President Leonard Koenigsnecht.

320 attend MMPA annual meeting

The annual meeting of the Ovid local of the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. was held Monday at Smith Hall in St. Johns, with 320 members and guests turning out for a ham dinner and the business meeting.

E. J. Cremins, district sales manager of the Lincoln-Mercury Division of Ford Motor Co., was guest speaker, presenting a talk and showing color slides on automobiles of the past, present and future.

AN AWARD PLAQUE was presented to Elwood Sommers of Elsie for the oldest continuous membership in MMPA. George Austin received a plaque for the longest active participation. A trophy was presented to Mr and Mrs James Becker as the outstanding young dairy couple from the Ovid local.

Election of delegates was held with the following men being elected: Leonard Koenigsnecht, Carl Nobis, William Parker, Frank Rivest, Ernest Jackson, Nell Harris, Lee Ormston, William Mayers, Ronald Spitzley, Oscar Simon, Francis Dershem, Russell Ormsby and James Becker. Alternates named were Kenneth A. Thelen and Wayne Peck.

Service squad, patrol boy honors given

Bonnie Kimball, daughter of Mr and Mrs Keith Kimball of 209 W. Railroad Street, has been named service squad girl of the month for December at Perrin-Palmer School in St. Johns. It was announced last week.

Patrol Boy of the month for December was William Jolly, son of Mr and Mrs Keith Jolly of 109 E. Steel Street.

The two youngsters were selected for the honor by their teachers and fellow squad members, according to Mrs Geraldine Whyman school principal. The award was based on the respect of other children by their faithfulness to duty and kindness to others.

Slate farm tax meet at Bath

3 youths treated for crash cuts

Two Clinton youths and one from Portland were treated by a doctor for cuts and bruises suffered Saturday afternoon in a collision of two cars at Price and Hinman roads in Westphalia Township.

Suffering cuts and bruises were Kenneth C. Fedova, 19, of R-4, St. Johns, one of the drivers, Peter Tholon, 18, of R-2, Fowler, a passenger in the car, and Joseph J. Smith of Portland. A passenger with Smith, Peter Smith 20, also of Portland, was not hurt.

According to sheriff's deputies, Smith made a U-turn on Price Road in front of Fedova's car, which was going east. Smith was ticketed for making an improper turn.

Fined for drunkenness

Dewey Lovering, 44, of 600 E. Treat Street, Lapeer, drove a $35 fine and was assessed court costs of $10.30 by Judge Alva Wolf in St. Johns Saturday on a charge of drunk and disorderly. He was arrested by state police at the intersection of Round Lake and Kropp roads.

And I have one in my home, too." Mr. Welk is a Thomas fan. We think you'll be one, too—when you see how easy it is to play a Thomas Organ. Yes, anyone can play. Color-Glo makes it easy, just press a button. The keyboards light up to show you which notes to play. You'll be playing a tune in 15 minutes.

Citizen's unit for housing facts draws a blank

The St. Johns Ministerial Assn. asked the city commission last week to appoint a citizens' committee to secure facts concerning a program of action for housing of senior citizens. No action was taken.

Rev. Keith Bovee of the First Methodist Church, secretary of the association, presented the proposal to the commission. The group asked that the committee be appointed to find out all the details to present in a package to the housing commission, should one be set up under the proposed St. Johns urban renewal program.

CITY MANAGER Ken Greer told the association that the planning commission is the official recognized agency to get such information. It was suggested that the association take the plan to the planning commission and ask them to form a committee.

Bovee said he felt that since the commission had heard discussion of senior citizen housing at three meetings, they should direct the planning commission to make the appointment of the committee.

GREER SAID the formation of a housing authority to gather pertinent information concerning senior citizen housing would be forthcoming in the urban renewal steps, but that it was too early for that now. The association asked that the information be gathered now by the citizens' group for presentation to the housing authority when and if one is set up, this in an effort to save time.

New books at library

One of the newer books at the Maple Rapids Library is "Basketball Clown" by C. P. and O. E. Jackson. Many times you have heard about a sports team who has suffered defeat at the hands of over-confidence. On the other hand, how about a team that has one player and the rest of the team are players in name only. This book is the story of a bas-kethball team who suffered these two handicaps and still came out state champs. The way in which the captain of the team and the coach solved these two problems makes this book one of the most humorous and serious sports stories.

Another book is "Freckles" by Gene Stratton Porter. The scene of this story is the almost impenetrable swamps of the Limberlost country of Indiana. At the time it opens, lumbermen are engaged in clearing out a tract in the midst of the swamp. To their camp comes a redheaded, freckle - faced boy known as "Freckles." Every bird, beast and flower of the forest was known to Freckles. The same qualities which caused him to be trusted by the forest creatures endeared him to the men of the camp. Freckles is able to repay the kindness of his new friends when, at the risk of his life, he frustrated the clever plan of the timber thieves to steal the lumber rights belonging to his patron.

There will be a Maple Rapids Library Assn. meeting Saturday, Jan. 15, at 2:30 p.m. at the library.

Springer leads Redwings over Charlotte, 84-74

Forward Dennis Springer ran wild in the first quarter of St. Johns' game at Charlotte Friday night and gave St. Johns a basketball lead the Orioles never could overcome.

Springer ended the night with 33 points. He got 10 of them in the first quarter as the Redwings outgunned Charlotte 16-5 and then went on to win the West Cen-

Perry rambles over Elsie, 88-60

ELSIE — Elsie wasn't able to stop Jerry Polmounter and Daryl Goets of Perry Friday night and the Ramblers marched past the Big Reds 88-60.

Polmounter scored 23 points and Goings 21 to lead the victory. Perry led only 21-19 after the first quarter but enlarged on it, 40-29, by halftime. They outscored Elsie 24-18 and 24-13 in the last two periods.

WAGGONER LED Elsie with 15 points, while Seybert had 14 and Thornton 12. Other scorers were Guysky 1, L. D. Jones 3, Schultz 7, Ackles 4 and Bernath 4.

Williamston stops Bath Bees, 73-53

BATH — Williamston put up a light defense against the Bath Bees at Williamston Jan. 4 and won the game 73-53.

The winners got off to a 19-5 first quarter lead and were never headed. Bath was outscored 18-15 in the second quarter and 23-16 in the last period; their only scoring advantage was a 17-13 margin in the third quarter.

Bruce Miller of Bath took scoring honors for the night with 23 points, while Mike Tucker had 11. Others scoring for the Bees were Jim Sober 5, Rusty Woolfe 6, Mark Ankey 3 and Wes Park 5.

tral game 84-74. It was the highest point output of the year for any St. Johns player.

AFTER HIS first quarter scoring binge, Springer rebounded with 13 points in the fourth quarter after Charlotte had closed the gap to 58-52.

But the victory for the Redwings was hardly a one-man effort. In addition to Springer's 33 points; four other Redwings scored 10 points or more. Jim Leonard got 17, Gene Rademacher scored 12, Bill DeGroot hit for 10, and John Wilson scored 10. To round out St. Johns' 84 points were 2 by Bob Ortwein.

THE REDWINGS shot a good 46 per cent from the field Friday night, hitting on 32 of 69 shots. They made 7 of 17 shots in the first quarter while Charlotte was making just 2 of 18 shots.

The first quarter blitz gave the Redwings a lead they never relinquished. Charlotte nibbled away at it throughout the middle

Ovid falls, 60-46, to undefeated Portland Raiders

PORTLAND — Riley Quinn turned in a top effort both on offense and defense Friday night to lead undefeated Portland to its 28th straight regular season victory.

The Raiders, 5-0 for the season, remained tied with Perry, however, for the Central Michigan C lead. Friday night they beat Ovid 60-46 after building up a 10-point, 17-7, first quarter lead.

OVID HAD A 12-11 scoring advantage in the second period, but they never were able to top Portland, which led all the way. Mike Fedewa and Quinn each scored 13 points, but Quinn was outstanding on defense, holding Ovid's Dennis Love to only five points, all on free throws. Love has been averaging 25 points per game.

Don Tubbs and Doug Behrens led Ovid's scoring with 8 points each, while Love had 5, Jerry Gazda 2, Gale Bancroft 1, Gary Tremblay 2, Dean Simpson 7 and Sam Sincropl 4.

two quarters; the score was 38-30 at the half and 58-52 going into the last period.

The difference in the game was almost decided at the free throw line. The Redwings scored on 20 of 35 free throw attempts, while Charlotte got only 11 out of 20.

ST. JOHNS played well on the boards, too, with Bill DeGroot leading the rebounders with 16, while Leonard had 12 and Springer 10 rebounds.

Springer, with his 33 points, had to share game scoring honors with Charlotte's Joe Bartolacci, who also scored 33. Bill Rogers had 12 and Lance Rochester 10. Bartolacci got 17 of his points in the second quarter and scored 10 more in the third period. — Both periods of the game when Charlotte was gaining ground on the Wings.

BUT BARTOLACCI was shut off with only four points in the final quarter as the Wings outscored Charlotte 28-22 to preserve their victory. St. Johns' record for the year is now 3-3, and they are 3-2 in conference play.

Laingsburg wins over Morrice, 57-43

LAINGSBURG — The Laingsburg Wolfpack migrated to Morrice Jan. 4 and defeated Morrice 57-43 in a non-league game.

The Wolves cut short a 16-10 deficit in the first period and outscored the Orioles 18-14 in the second period and were never in trouble after that. Dennis Steere scored 15 points and Dan Jorae and Jeff Veith each added 12 to pace Laingsburg's victory. Other scorers were Beavers 10, VanFelson 11, Shaw 5, and Chadwick 2.

Fowler Jaycees seek outstanding young farmer

A program designed to bring about a better understanding of the problems and the achievements of the farmers and the west Clinton County area was announced by the Fowler Jaycees.

This is the 10th year that the US Jaycees have conducted the National OYF program and the first year the Fowler Chapter has participated.

"Agriculture is America's oldest and biggest industry," said James Skidmore, national Jaycee president, "and as a consequence of the ambition and efficiency of the man engaged in this industry, ours is the best-fed and best-clothed nation in the world. It is our hope that the OYF program will result in a better understanding and appreciation of the role the farmer plays in our daily life."

REPORTS COMPILED by the Jaycees on the basis of interviews will be given to a special judging committee which will select this area's outstanding young farmer. The judging is on the

Post-Christmas party hosted by Mrs Florence Ewer

Mr and Mrs James Ewer and family of Tawas City were house guests of his mother Mrs Florence Ewer at her home on Watson Road, from Friday through Jan. 9.

During their visit Mrs Ewer hosted a family post-Christmas dinner Saturday evening Jan. 8 which included Mr and Mrs Don Ike of Holland, Mr and Mrs Bill Casey and son of Lansing and Mr and Mrs Don Temple and family of Harmon Road. Other guests were Mr and Mrs Gordon Luther, of rural St. Johns and Miss Ann Gilson of St. Johns.

John Karlik family spent two weeks camping in Florida

Mr and Mrs John Karlik and children spent the past two weeks, vacationing in Florida. With their camper, the family left Dec. 26, motored to the Peninsula State, viewing on their tour, the beautiful palm-studded coral keys, the marine life and generally enjoying the weather. They returned Saturday, Jan. 8 and were pleased that their son Brian, who accompanied them on the trip, had obliged them by waiting until the following morning to appear "peppered" with chicken-pox.

There will be a meeting of the Rochester Colony Sportsmen, Saturday evening, Jan. 15, at the Colony Community Hall.

New exchange student unit formed here

The St. Johns unit of the Youth for Understanding, teenage exchange program, held its organizational meeting Tuesday, Jan. 4. Mrs Betty Hoffman of Grand Rapids, area representative for the program, outlined its objectives and operation to a group of St. Johns citizens assembled at the high school.

The program, Youth for Understanding, is conducted in cooperation with the Michigan Council of Churches and the US Department of State. Through the program, area high school students are given the opportunity of living in a foreign country for one year, staying with a suitable family in that country, and learning its customs and thoughts in a way not possible on shorter visits.

In exchange, that country sends one of its young people to the United States for a year. The modest cost of $750 per student covers transportation, health insurance and administration.

PRIOR TO THE establishment of the local committee there was no organization to pick either the students to be accepted for placement overseas or to find host families in this area for foreign students placed here. The operation of the committee should make it possible to expand the program in Clinton County and provide a better means of picking and screening both the host families and, to a lesser degree, the students.

Responsibility for the latter will rest primarily with the St. Johns School system, and for this purpose two of the committee members, B. Stanley Focus and Albert Lefevre, are members of the local school system. Other citizens forming the charter group are Bess Osgood, Rev Gerald Churchhill, Charles Huntington, Dale Robinson, Donald Roemer, Richard Rutter and Mrs George McQueen.

Missionary, wife to speak here

Mr and Mrs Richard Vreeland, Methodist missionaries to India for the past five years, will preach and show slides this Sunday at the First Methodist Church in St. Johns.

Vreeland will preach at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services, and he and his wife will show color slides and talk at a 1 p.m. potluck dinner in the church basement.

VREELAND IS a graduate of Grand Blanc High School and received his degree in business administration from Michigan State University before serving two years in the US Army Finance Corps. Upon completion of this military service, Vreeland worked for a public accounting firm in Kalamazoo and became a certified public accountant in 1958.

Mrs Vreeland graduated from Milford High School and subsequently obtained her BA in education from Michigan State University. Mrs Vreeland taught in the Milford school system before the Vreelands moved to Kalamazoo.

PRIOR TO their departure for India in June 1960, the Vreelands studied at the Garrett Biblical Institute in Evanston, Ill. For four years they worked at the Christine Medical College's Hospital in Valore where Vreeland helped to improve accounting methods and establish an internal audit program.

During this time, Mrs Vreeland was busy working with the small school for staff children as well as serving as hostess for the many students, patients, and travelers who made the Vreeland house their "home away from home." She was also the Methodist correspondent for the hospital.

THEIR LAST year in India was spent in Bombay where Vreeland was the assistant branch treasurer for the Methodist Church in Southern Asia. His office formed a part of the Inter-Mission Business Office which handles insurance, exchange, travel and other matters for more than 90 mission organizations in India.

Moving to Bombay was difficult for the Vreelands because it meant that David, 10, and Martha, 9, would have to go to a boarding school 1,000 miles to the south. Stephen will join his older brother and sister in the school when the Vreelands return to India next summer.

WAGING PEACE is the name of a book by a man who is famous for waging war. President Dwight D. Eisenhower has chosen this title for his account of his last five years in the White House. It is a sequel to his MANDATE FOR CHANGE, published in 1963, which covered his first three years as President of the United States. WAGING PEACE is the current choice of the Literary Guild.

Of all the incidents related in this fact-packed book, Eisenhower's account of the humiliation he suffered at the hand of Premier Khrushchev in France in May of 1960 is most human and touching. A chapter entitled "The Summit that Never Was" covers this discouraging experience.

HIS REPORT of the Sherman Adams scandal is most interesting, and the loyalty he feels for his friend and former presidential assistant is most admirable.

Following the factual account of his last years in office, President Eisenhower makes a number of interesting suggestions for changes in election procedures. He advocates an earlier inauguration date in order to give a newly-elected President more time to become oriented before he has to deliver his first message to the Congress. He urges that very strict rules be laid down for conduct of the political conventions, believing that our national image suffers greatly from the horseplay and general disorder and confusion pictured in news and TV coverage of the national conventions.

HE URGES AN "item" veto privilege for the President, claiming that many otherwise good bills are lost through presidential veto because of one or two items that the chief executive does not like.

Eisenhower advocates that more detailed arrangements be spelled out for presidential succession in the event of the death of a President, suggesting that a new vice president be elected or at least appointed after the vice president has had to take over the presidency. He also believes that there should be more detailed arrangements for the vice president to take over the executive responsibilities in the event of the President's illness.

A FINAL suggestion is that the terms of the Justices of the Supreme Court be limited by age or to a certain number of years.

WAGING PEACE by Dwight D. Eisenhower is a book well worth reading.

Bement Public Library has recently acquired two books about President Eisenhower's successor, President John F. Kennedy. A THOUSAND DAYS by Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr. is the current choice of the Book-of-the-Month Club. This book has had such wide coverage in Life Magazine and other periodicals that it seems sufficient to say that it is in the library waiting for you to read it.

JOHN F. KENNEDY AND THE YOUNG PEOPLE OF AMERICA is the title of a book by Bill Adler, Adler, a native of Brooklyn, a former program director for television and radio, and at present an account executive for a Manhattan advertising agency, is also a member of the New York City Youth Board.

His previous books include THE KENNEDY WIT, DEAR PRESIDENT JOHNSON, and THE CHURCHILL WIT. With a dual interest in the youth of America and the human side of public figures, it seems natural that he should compile an anthology of humorous anecdotes concerning the late President, as well as a collection of letters written to JFK by the children of America.

Student gets $60 for cartoons

Luke Schaffer, 16, son of Mr and Mrs Lewis Schaffer and a student at Pewamo-Westphalia High School, was awarded $60 by the George A. Pfaffman Publishing Inc. for a six-page cartoon script.

Luke wrote to the company to suggest a cartoon script on a 20th Century priest in "Treasure Chest," a magazine for Catholic youth. Later he received a letter from editor, Robert A. Wisniewski, asking him to do the series, apparently thinking Luke was a professional writer.

A LETTER of clarification was quickly sent to the editor, but Luke asked if he could give it a try. Materials were sent back describing the detailed work. After two weeks of part-time work, Luke produced a six-page cartoon on how Father Flanagan founded Boy's Town, receiving $10 a page.

The $60 check was a surprise to Luke. He said, "I just wrote the script for experience; I never thought of the financial possibilities."

Luke is president of the Junior Classical League, reporter for his class, reporter of the Science Club, and has still managed to maintain a B average throughout his school career.

After graduation, he plans to study journalism at Western Michigan University.

Elsie

By MRS. NEVA KEYS, Correspondent

Mrs James Dorman was guest speaker

ELSIE — Mrs James Dorman presented a program on "Where the Women Are" last Wednesday night at the Methodist WSCS meeting in the home of Mrs Leonard Tillotson.

The purpose of the lesson was to discover the role of women in the new day of the mission of the church, to understand its need of changes and to accept new challenges.

To illustrate her talk, Mrs Dorman had prepared a large sketch of a chart and compass. She indicated the eight points of the compass as church, chart, change, community, Christian, citizen, commission and challenge and elaborated on these as symbols that are necessary to religion.

MRS DORMAN used poems and quotes from Carlyle, Gladstone, Lowell and Dr Norman Vincent Peale in addition to small posters to further bring each woman into a new understanding of herself in relationship to the church and its mission in the world.

The reading of "Beneath the Cross of Jesus" and a litany led by Mrs Dorman closed the first part of the program.

The members were then separated into several groups that were each given a topic for a buzz session on such statements as a Christian is a full-time worker, you are a minister, our local church is falling short of expressing God's purpose as mission, laymen live on the frontiers of Christian witness and in many churches it is said that women are more active than men.

EVALUATION OF each group's discussion was presented to the entire society revealing much thought and expression on the part of the members in giving their pros and cons. Those selected to prepare the evaluations were Mrs Gordon Showers, Mrs Alpha Grubaugh, Mrs. L. W. Burdick, Mrs Donald Whitaker and Mrs Howard Peltier.

Mrs Ralph Stull gave the closing prayer before the worship center composed of an open Bible, scroll and candle before a large white cross. She also distributed folders "Paul, Man of Prayer" for future reading.

During the business meeting conducted by Mrs Grubaugh, plans were made to serve the annual MMPA dinner and the luncheon for the Clinton County Federation of Women's Clubs when the annual convention is held at the church, May 3.

Arrangements were also made for the Father and Son Banquet to be Feb. 12.

IT WAS voted to send a money gift to Dr Bethel Fleming's work in Nepal. There were 30 sick calls and 20 cards reported and several thank you notes read for the Christmas gifts given shut-ins and older members of the church.

At the close of the meeting, a social hour was arranged by Mrs Woodrow Bashore, Miss Pearl West and Mrs Harold Smith. The next meeting will be at the Methodist parsonage with Mrs Gordon Showers as hostess and Mrs S. J. Keys presenting the lesson, "Chosen for Action."

Women's Literary Club told reading is key to learning

ELSIE — "Progress at Your Own Pace" was the subject of a talk by Mrs Leroy Vincent at the Tuesday night meeting of the Women's Literary Club held at Elsie High School.

Mrs Vincent of Elsie is the teacher for homebound junior and senior high school students of Shiawassee County and has been an educator for many years in this area.

To better understand her method of teaching, she placed her listeners in a learning situation to realize that individuals learn at different rates and in different ways.

IN THE PRESENT method, she said, too many normal children are promoted regularly from grade to grade without mastering previous grade work.

The non-graded primary, she explained, is classified by levels and students must master one level before working at the next, no matter what grade placement they may be in.

Mrs Vincent stated that reading is the key to every academic subject and a child is motivated by measuring his own growth. His self image is developed by success rather than value, she concluded.

Assisting her was Mrs Ralph Allen, local first grade teacher in the Knight Elementary School for many years, compared them to those in non-graded primary setups.

Mrs Merle Green served as program chairman and presented the guests.

A brief business meeting was conducted by Mrs Paul Platner and final arrangements were made for the annual dinner party when members have their husbands as guests. It will be held Jan. 18 at the Masonic Hall with Eastern Star ladies serving the dinner.

At the close of the program, refreshments were served by Mrs Pat Fornia, Mrs Rose Smith and Mrs B. M. Woolley. Hostesses were Mrs Lunsford Melvin and Mrs Mildred Beahall.

The F.H.A. sponsored a "twlrp dance" Saturday evening, Jan. 8, at the Elsie High School gymnasium with disc jockey Bob Carey of WILS radio station, Lansing.

Mr and Mrs William Baker and family have returned from a Florida vacation. They spent the Christmas holidays with their

Outline new programs for elderly

Clinton County's senior citizens organization got a pat on the back Monday night for its activities, but the speaker, Jerry Wyman of the Community Services Council of Lansing, said there are other activities they could participate in with federal help.

"St. Johns is perhaps unique as it has reached quite a high goal on its own," Wyman said, "and I'm certain that the programs for the elderly in the other two counties (Ingham and Eaton) are not as far along as they are here."

"THERE IS A lot of legislation now on the books dealing with the elderly which we can use," he said.

In order to qualify for federal funds, the local group would need to have 10 percent of the cost, but Wyman said he felt the Drop-In Center and the Senior Citizens furnishing and material would more than adequately equal 10 percent of any program they wanted to enter into.

Much of Wyman's discussion dealt with the "Old American Act" passed by Congress in 1955. He listed some of the areas under this act in which senior citizens might be interested:

1) COMMUNITY planning and co-ordination of programs within the community 2) demonstrative programs and activities, especially new techniques and approaches and successful ways of working with the elderly; 3) establishment of new or the expansion of existing programs for the elderly; 4) training special personnel and developing of training materials for programs; 5) developing community-wide programs of health, social services, employment and education; 6) staffing and operating multi-purpose activity centers for the elderly; 7) staffing information, counselling and referral centers for the elderly; 8) providing for meal centers, or for having meals delivered to the homes of the elderly who can no longer prepare their own each day; and 9) home maintenance services, wherein the younger elderly would do maintenance work for the older who cannot do it for themselves.

"THE 'OLD American Act' is geared to help the older people help themselves," Wyman said.

Streptococcal infections — "strep" sore throats and scarlet fever—can lead to rheumatic fever and heart disease, cause of more long-term disability in children than any other disease. The Michigan Heart Assn., a Michigan United Fund agency, estimates that more than 1,200,000 Americans over 18 have rheumatic heart disease.

Meeting Jan. 25 called to discuss new milk law

At the last session of the legislature, the U. S. Public Health Service Grade A Pasturized Milk Ordinance was adopted as the fluid milk law for Michigan and will become effective July 1, 1966.

This was done to bring Michigan's requirements into agreement with the majority of states, thus making possible the sale of milk and certain other products to markets outside the state. Also, within the state, milk purchased for veteran hospitals and by interstate common carriers such as boats, trains, etc. must meet these standards.

A MEETING WILL be held on Tuesday, Jan. 25 at Smith Hall starting at 10 a.m. to discuss requirements of the new law, most frequent problem areas of compliance and suggestions for solving these problems. There will be an opportunity to answer many questions that should assist dairymen in meeting the July 1 requirement date.

Ken Van Patten, assistant chief of the Dairy Division, Michigan Department of Agriculture, and Don Murray, dairy specialist of Michigan State University's Extension Service, have been scheduled to present information on requirements of the law, make suggestions for compliance and to answer questions.

CANCER PRODUCERS

Carcinogenic (cancer-producing) properties are possessed by a wide variety of both synthetic and naturally occurring materials, say two University of Wisconsin scientists. They urge careful review of all potentially carcinogenic materials and rigid control over those that may be hazardous. Drs James A. and Elizabeth Miller say many natural materials, some used by man for centuries, have proved to be cancer-producing upon testing with laboratory animals.

Carcinogenic (cancer-producing) properties are possessed by a wide variety of both synthetic and naturally occurring materials, say two University of Wisconsin scientists. They urge careful review of all potentially carcinogenic materials and rigid control over those that may be hazardous. Drs James A. and Elizabeth Miller say many natural materials, some used by man for centuries, have proved to be cancer-producing upon testing with laboratory animals.

ON-TARGET with the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce

By BETTY JANE MINSKY Manager

The Chamber of Commerce: What is it? What is, or should be, its role in the community? How did it all begin? And why?

It all goes back to man's basic instinct, his urge to build. To build cities. This urge has persisted through the ages, and chambers of commerce were organized AND ARE IN EXISTENCE TODAY to give expression to that instinct. Although their activities are as wide and varied as the communities in which they are located, the first and foremost function of a Chamber of Commerce is still to build a city by increasing its population, wealth and standard of living.

CHAMBERS OF Commerce are European in origin, with the first known use of the term occurring in Marseilles, France, where such an organization was established by the city council toward the close of the 17th century.

As the years wore on, the imperial ambitions of Kaiser William I of Germany gave great impetus to the chamber of commerce movement in that country, for he perceived the usefulness of such an organization in promoting trade and training young men for commercial careers. Bismarck encouraged their establishment in principal German cities, and promptly thereafter other European countries followed suit.

THE EUROPEAN or continental chambers of commerce have, however, very little in common with the modern American organization. Although both are associations of business men, the European organizations operate frequently as quasi-public agencies, vested with certain administrative and judicial powers as concerns trade. This is in contrast to the American organizations, where the Chamber is an epitome of the free enterprise system and has been since its beginning here in 1766.

In that year the State of New York organized a Chamber of Commerce, chartered by King George III in 1770. Next came the Charleston, S.C., Chamber, formed in 1773. By 1870 (less than 100 years ago) 40 chambers were in existence. (Compare that to the more than 4,000 operating today. Need more be said concerning chambers of commerce as important, necessary and fulfilling a role in community development?)

THE EARLY American Chambers, like their European prototypes, were associations of tradesmen organized for the protection and promotion of commerce. Their activities were limited to those directly connected with commerce, the emergence of the Chamber of Mr and Mrs Richard Grove and children visited Mr and Mrs Arthur Hoerner of Lansing Sunday.

Mr and Mrs Garry Newcombe of DeWitt visited Mr and Mrs Dell Schmidtman Saturday evening.

Commerce as we know it today, as a true community organization, came much later as businessmen began to realize that their own prosperity depended upon the development of a prosperous, healthy and happy community.

The Chamber of Commerce of today has little in common with the old "board of trade" and "booster club" of a half century ago. The entire basic philosophy of chamber operations has changed.

PRIOR TO 1912 most local chambers were primarily interested in attracting new industries to their community. Civic and commercial development took second place. Gradually chambers came to recognize that industrial growth was dependent on civic and commercial development as well. In fact, so much emphasis was placed on civic problems that for a while many chambers began to assume the character of civic organizations.

But, by 1925 the importance of balance in the chamber of commerce program began to be recognized, and in 1933 another change took place. Governmental affairs on the federal, state and local levels became major items in the chamber of commerce program, and most Chambers today have a legislative committee which keeps its members informed of proposed legislation which will affect them. In this field of activity the Chamber of Commerce is assuming growing responsibilities and increasing usefulness.

ALTHOUGH there are many definitions of a Chamber of Commerce, among the more familiar are:

"Chambers of Commerce are men working together to make their community a better place in which to live and make a living."

"Chambers of Commerce are organizations of the forward-looking citizens of a community, principally business men and women, interested in promoting the civic, commercial and industrial welfare of the community and in expressing business opinion."

"CHAMBERS OF Commerce are voluntary organizations of the business elements of a community and others who share their viewpoint, organized for the purpose of improving the conditions under which trade and industry are conducted and to promote the general welfare of the community."

But regardless of the definition you tag on it, the Chamber of Commerce as we know it is essentially an American institution. Its development and success in this country are solidly based on the fact that it fills an important place in our institutional structure. It incarnates the American idea of progress and growth. It provides the agency through which men may voluntarily pool their energies to accomplish collectively those things for the general welfare that no individual can do alone. And it affords a means for the development and expression of business opinion.

CHAMBERS OF Commerce are basically local institutions. They embody, as no other agency, the urge for community progress. Their genius lies in organizing and directing the energies of those men in every community who believe that their city has a place in the sun and who are determined to find that place. Chambers must necessarily have widely-varied programs to serve the diversity of interests among their membership. But the prime purpose of the chamber is, and must always continue to be, the original objective of building the commerce and industry of the community.

Rev and Mrs Charles Thompson and their two children, Joyce and John of Yale, Mich., visited relatives and friends recently.

Ardnel Holton of 110 W. Steel Street, St. Johns, recently visited Cape Coral Gardens, Cape Coral, Fla. While there he attended the Waltzing Water's Show and the Porpoise Show.

The Lansing Community Gallery will hold an open house from 1 to 5 p.m. this Sunday to introduce its exhibit of painting and sculpture entitled "Realism 1966." The eight-room gallery is located at 124 W. Ionia, across from the telephone company.

Local artist in opera

The MSU Opera Workshop, under the direction of Daniel Wright, will present Gian-Carlo Menotti's gripping drama, "The Medium," this week Jan. 13, 14, 15 at 8:15 in the University Music Auditorium, East Lansing.

This tragic two-act opera concerns a fake medium (Baba) and her inner struggle to distinguish between the real and supernatural worlds. The medium's daughter (Monica) and a young gypsy mute (Toby) assist in her fraud. Monica is devoted to her mother and occasionally attempts to inject an element of conscience into Baba's dealings.

An affectionate bond has grown between Monica and Toby, whom Baba "rescued" from the streets of Budapest. Baba distrusts Toby, however; and even though he cannot speak—he capitalizes on his ability to frighten her.

One night during the Seance Baba feels a hand on her own throat—one that she cannot explain by any of her fraudulent gimmicks. Her neurotic behavior following this terrifying experience completely mystifies her clients, who refuse to believe that she is a fraud even after being shown the hidden lights, microphone and wires. This compounds her wretchedness. Finally her fears drive her to intrigue, treachery and violence.

In "The Medium" — an opera that has been thrilling and chilling audiences for nearly 20 years—Menotti made full use of his talents both as composer and librettist.

Mr Wright has double-cast for performances on alternate evenings. Accompaniment will be an orchestra of select MSU instrumentalists.

Playing the title role Thursday and Saturday evenings will be Phyllis Rice, mezzo-soprano, of St. Johns. She is a private voice teacher who studied at MSU with Mary Chelf Jones and is now a private pupil of the renowned tenor, Harold Haugh, at U of M, in Ann Arbor.

Her musical credits include solo appearances with the Lansing Choral Society in Mozart's "Requiem" and Handel's "Israel in Egypt," four years organist and three years as choir director at First Methodist Church in St. Johns, contralto soloist in Handel's "Messiah" with the Community Chorus in St. Johns this December. She was benefit recitalist for student scholarships to Interlochen sponsored by the St. Johns Morning Musicals, of which she is a member. She has sung six years with the MSU Chorus—twice having solo portions—and last year played the principal role in Vaughan Williams' tragic opera, "Riders to the Sea," a presentation of the MSU Opera Workshop.

By MRS ANN LARNER

With much anticipation, excitement, and we must admit a certain amount of apprehension, we boarded our Golden Jet the evening of Dec. 28 destined for four sun-filled days in sunny (?) southern California. The flight in itself was a real experience, since neither of us had any previous "practice." Approximately 40 minutes after take-off from Detroit's Willow Run Airport we were aware by a bird's eye view of Kansas City, Mo.

After four hours and 10 minutes of airborne travel we landed at International Airport. We were transferred by bus to our hotel in downtown Los Angeles in the wee hours of Wednesday morning. After a few short hours of sleep we were awake and ready to become true tourists.

BUT, A quick glance outside warned us we probably wouldn't get far, for the rain was coming down hard with no let-up in sight. So our first day was spent "touring" the hotel and lobby stores—fun, but not what we had anticipated doing.

That evening we attended the Big 10 Dinner of Champions along with almost 1,500 people and the entire MSU football team and coaching staff. It was a real experience with very enjoyable entertainment emceed by Bill Cosby following.

THURSDAY ARRIVED, sunshine and all, and we were bound for a day at Disneyland. It would be almost impossible to select highlights, for we enjoyed every minute and found this wonderland to be everything we had heard it to be. In order to see as much as possible in our limited time we felt it advisable to first take a guided tour of five of the main attractions including the Jungle Cruise, a ride on the Columbia through the Rivers of America, a monorail ride, and a train ride around Disneyland and into the Grand Canyon.

But our greatest thrill was to view the Great Moments with Mr. Lincoln, which was recently moved from the New York World's Fair and presented by means of audio-animatronics. It is a very moving and inspirational message of our 16th President and renewed our pride in America. We spent nearly eight hours in the Magic Kingdom but left feeling we had only scratched the surface.

A TOUR OF Universal City Studios was on schedule Friday morning. We were shown filming sites, houses used in various movies and television shows, and an opportunity to see the set used by the television series "The Munsters." In the afternoon we felt we could still squeeze in one more attraction and selected Knott's Berry Farm. We first consumed two of their famous chicken dinners and then wandered through the rebuilt ghost town of Calico. No visit is complete without a sample of their boysenberry jam to take home.

Since we knew the following day would be a busy one, our New Year's Eve was concluded earlier than usual. In fact we wished our friends a happy new year at 9 p.m., which was midnight in Michigan, and missed the California welcoming of 1966.

JAN. 1 STARTED at 5 a.m. This was the "big" day—the one we'd been waiting for. After a continental breakfast were transported by bus to our seats for the 77th annual Tournament of Roses; our seats, incidental-

The Rose Bowl game was almost an anti-climax. We never dreamed MSU would lose, but UCLA played by far a better game on that day and deserve every honor bestowed upon them. Granted we were disappointed by the final score, but even that could not dull or mar the wonderful time we had. Our experiences will never be forgotten—a dream come true. As we fly back home, late that night it was still hard to believe that it all really happened.

HURRYING TO CLASS at new DeWitt High

DeWITT —DeWitt High School students still aren't "at home" yet in their new $750,000 high school, but they're making big strides in that direction as each class period passes.

It has now been just over a week since classes began in the sprawling, one-story building on Herbison Road. The 270 students enrolled — and the 13 faculty members — now pretty much know their way around the building.

PART OF the job of getting used-to evolves from the comparative spaciousness of the new building. Narrow hallways and crowded rooms at the old high school building are now only memories; the new school has long, wide corridors.

There's plenty of classroom space — at least for the present. The school is designed for 350 students, about 80 above the number presently enrolled.

And there are new facilities which make possible new offerings in the curriculum of the school. There's $12,000 worth of industrial arts equipment in the southwest corner of the school building, with space and equipment available for instruction in wood, metal and automotive working. Lyman Jump has the honors of teaching with this equipment.

THE SHOP courses are new; all that was available at the old high school was some woodworking equipment, and last year that wasn't used because the school was unable to hire a shop instructor.

A spacious band room is located in the southeast corner of the building. It was designed with the help of band Director Robert Berube and MSU Band Director Leonard Falconi. When Berube saw the original architectural drawings, he wasn't pleased with the arrangements.

As a result of the changes he and Falconi recommended, the main band room is in the far corner of the building, with four practice rooms and the director's office between the main room and the main corridor — just opposite of what the original plan was.

SOME MINOR problems have already cropped up in the design — little details the teachers would have rather had different if it was to do over again. Supt. C. H. Fuerstenau said most of the teachers are new within the last few years and there were few to help the architect in the designs.

But all agree it's a great change from the old school.

The base of the T-shaped building faces north toward Herbison Road several hundred yards away. In the distance can be seen Lake Geneva. In the middle of the base of the "T" is a 25 by 25 foot open courtyard. It's landscaped with gravel, a small tree and shrubbery. Windows open onto the courtyard from half a dozen rooms, providing exterior lighting for every room in the building.

ONE OF THE rooms facing onto the courtyard is one for the school newspaper. Another is the library. Another is the teacher's lounge. And three other classrooms have a window view of the small yard.

Physical education classes and the extra-curricular athletics of DeWitt High School will be based in the south half of the new building. The big gymnasium — which will seat between 1,000 and 1,200 people for basketball games — has a main regulation size court, considerably larger than the one in the old school. In addition, two other courts run crossways across the main court.

BASKETBALL games won't be played immediately in the new gym, for it's not quite complete. As of last Thursday, a rubber base around the edge of the hardwood floor was still being installed, and the scoreboard was in the process of installation. Bleacher seats, the main drawback, had not arrived, but they were expected the first of this week.

The DeWitt Panthers basketball team held their first practice session in the gym Monday.

Boys and girls' locker rooms are located immediately adjacent to the gym on the west and east respectively. To the north of the gym is an east-west hallway that forms base of the "T" bar. Double hallways running down the base of the "T" can be shut off from the main hall and gym area during basketball games.

ALL THE classrooms except for industrial arts and band are located in the base part of the T. The cafeteria on the west wing of the T bar doubles during the day as a study hall.

The new high school is located on Herbison Road between Schaeve and DeWitt roads about two miles southwest of the City of DeWitt. The major route from DeWitt is via DeWitt and Herbison roads. These are now gravel roads, but before the 1966-67 school year starts, Herbison is expected to be paved from Schaeve east to Turner Road, and DeWitt Road will be paved from Herbison north to the city limits.

SUPT. FUERSTENAU said the school's 60-acre site will provide for all the school district's facilities. Besides the high school, there is ample room for a football field, baseball diamonds, outdoor basketball courts and other athletic areas. Those outdoor facilities will not be built immediately but will come at a later date. Football games next fall will be played at the same uptown location as in the past.

There will also be room on the school site for a new elementary school whenever the need arises.

The rural site was chosen for the new school because it is in the direction of community growth.

THE BUILDING was designed by the Warren Holmes Co., Architects, of Lansing. General contractor was Hanel-Vance Co. of Lansing; mechanical contractor was H. E. Hendrickson of Ionia; and electrical contractor was Martin Electric of Lansing. Total contracted cost for the construction was just over $630,000.

In addition, gymnasium seating cost $11,024, and the cost for drilling the school's water well was $2,415; that was done by the Mauer Drilling Co.

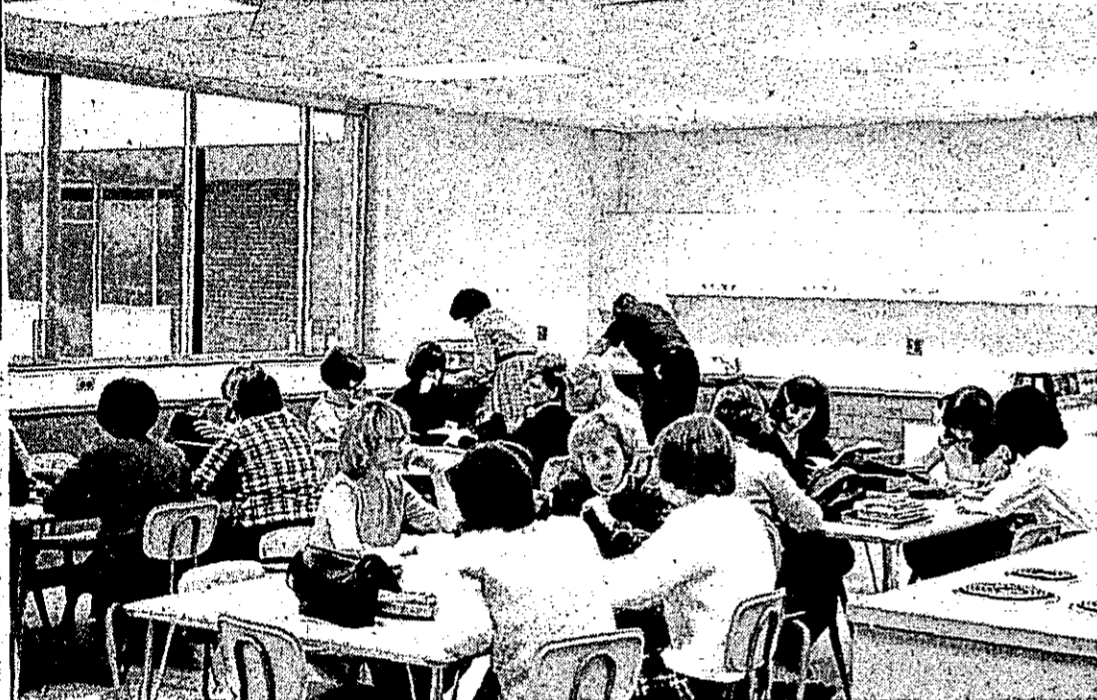

THE WELL, in addition to supplying water for the building heating and water needs, also supplies an outdoor hydrant, provided for possible use by the DeWitt Fire Department when they need a quick refill while fighting a fire in the southwest-of-DeWitt area.

The new address for the high school is 2957 W. Herbison Road, DeWitt. The new telephone number is 669-2250.

No-rest for the old building

There wasn't much time for the old high school building in DeWitt to "relax." When high schoolers moved out, fifth and sixth graders moved into the old building, and the noise of busy school hallways continued with hardly a pause. The old building now houses grades 5, 6, 7 and 8.

Girls in Mrs Beverly Miller's homemaking class converse while waiting for class to begin. Mrs Miller (in background) looks over the operation of a new gas range in the room. The room also has two electric ranges, a built-in oven and a demonstration range, which shows at the lower right.

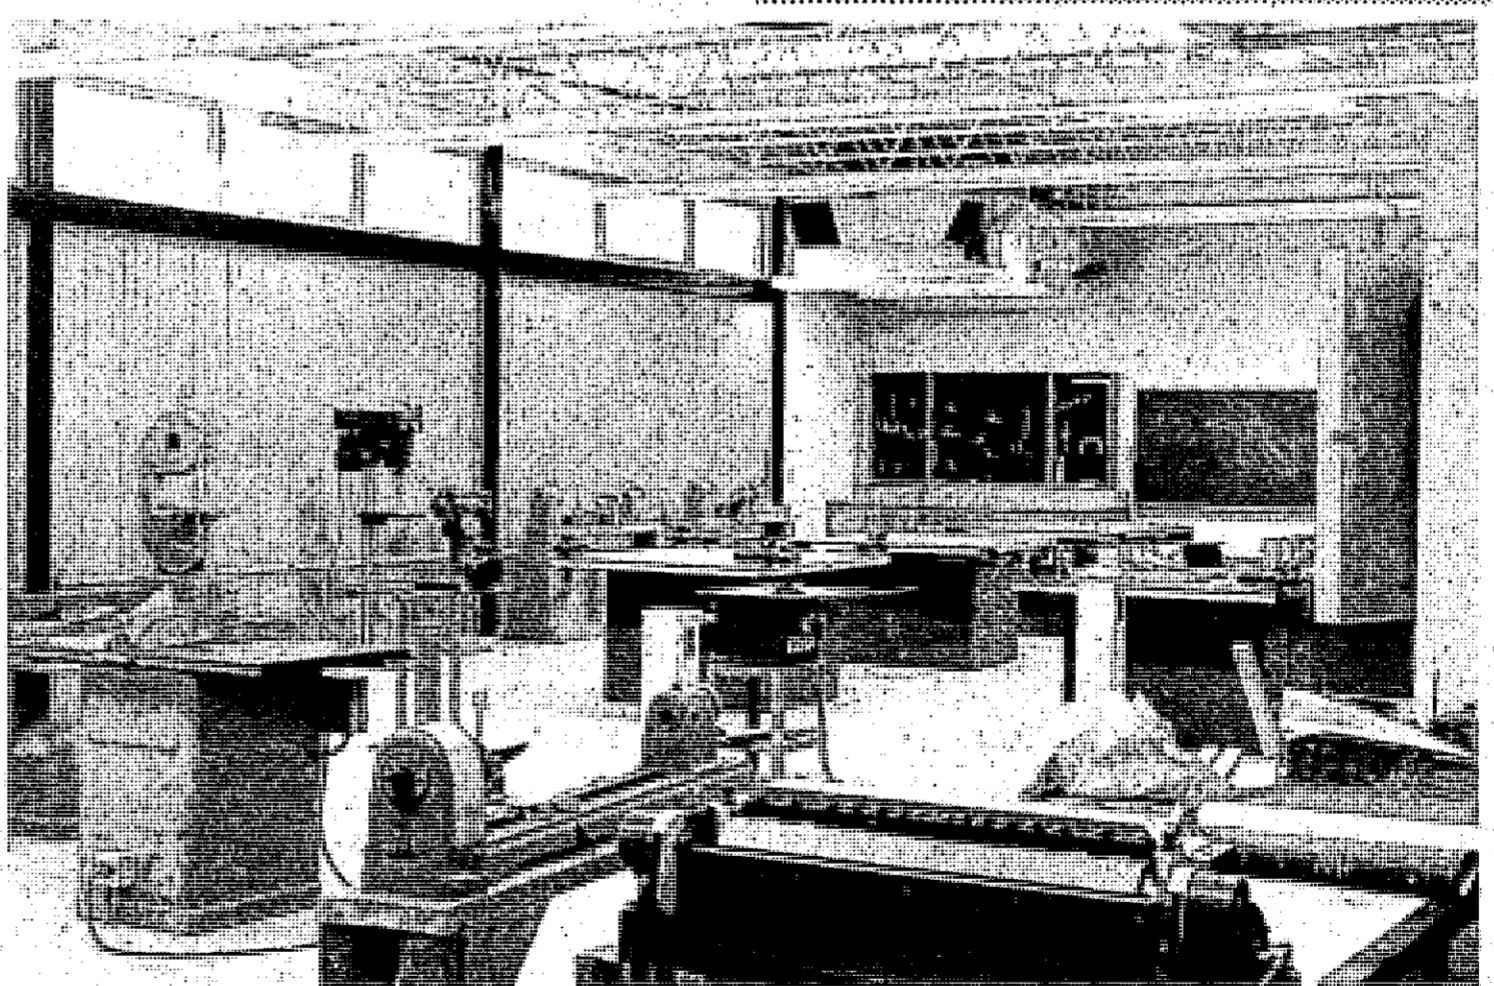

Supt. Clarence H. Fuerstenau (left) and Principal Eldon VanSpybrook pause briefly in the office while discussing the events of the first days in the new high school.

FOCUS ON EDUCATION

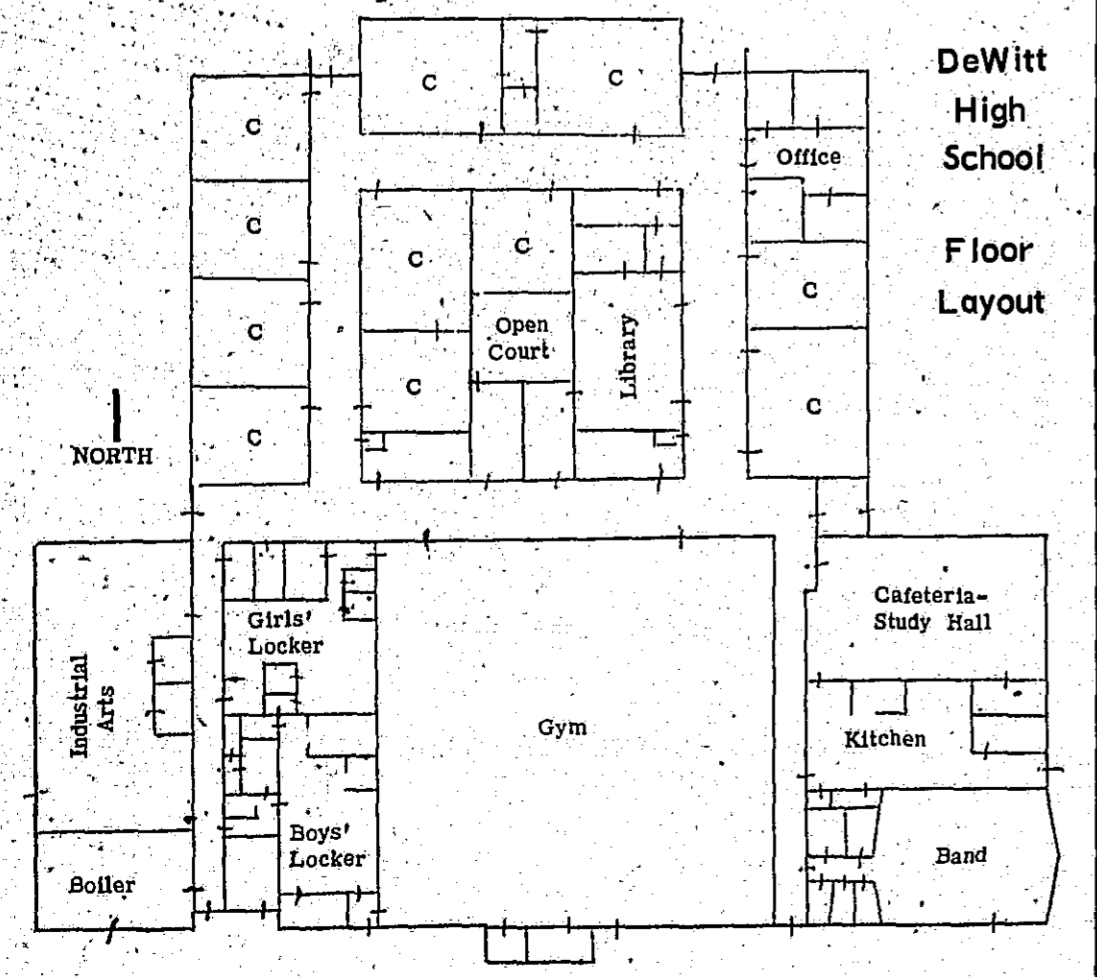

DeWitt's New Facilities

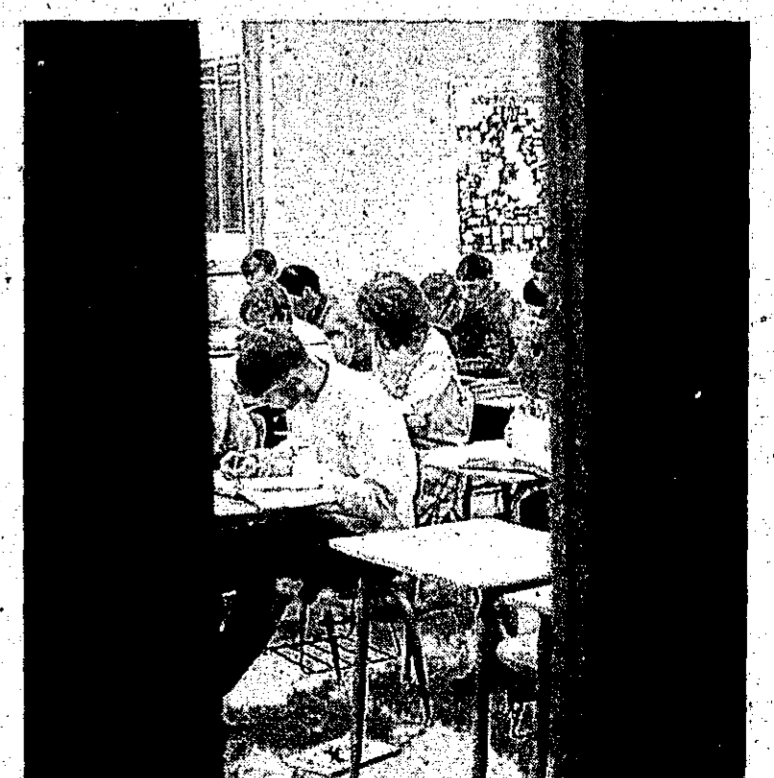

The spacious library is situated near the middle of the building, with windows on one wall facing out onto a small courtyard. Bookshelves in the library had not been completely filled after three days in the new building.

To publicize city at travel shows

St. Johns will be publicized in Detroit, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus and Indianapolis during the next three months under a Tourist program being sponsored by the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Betty Jane Minsky, manager, said the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce is cooperating with the East Michigan Tourist Assn., which has taken booth space at six travel shows to be held in the above-mentioned cities.

She said it was probably the first time St. Johns had used travel shows as an advertising media to tell people about the community.

EQUALLY ENTHUSED over the program is Bob Prowant, chairman of the Chamber's Tourist Committee.

"One of the most important features of the travel shows is to give out folders, maps and brochures to people who will be visiting Michigan. We are happy to supply the East Michigan Tourist Assn. with brochures on our area and are certain that these people travel through Michigan many of them will stop in our community," he said.

THE BROCHURES contain information on St. Johns, including a map depicting points of interest, restaurants, motels and churches. Photographs include scenes of the city park, mint distilling and the Wolverine Stockyards. The brochures are some which were printed several years ago.

"We are currently working on a new brochure which we hope to have ready for spring distribution to roadside information

'Opportunities Unlimited' beckon youth

A look at the future through "Opportunities Unlimited" is planned for Michigan's youth during the annual Farmers' Week at Michigan State University.

The youth sessions slated for Tuesday, Feb. 1, and Thursday, Feb. 3, are designed to make Michigan a better place to live and work in 1980. Newcomers to Michigan's working force will increase substantially by 1980 as the fastest growing group in the population will be the 20-29 year olds.

PANEL DISCUSSIONS on 18 different career areas will help the youth become better acquainted with the many opportunities available. Students will be able to explore job possibilities in agriculture and its related industries, business, science, engineering, nursing, secretarial, home economics, art, communications and many others.

High school students who intend to continue their education beyond high school are invited to attend a special afternoon session on higher education. Parents, teachers and counselors are also welcome to participate.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION on the youth programs may be obtained from Norman Brown, student coordinator, College of Agriculture, MSU, East Lansing.

On Tuesday, "Accent on Youth" will call on talented 4-H Club members across the state to perform in a special evening program. Their production, entitled "Don't Call on Us - We'll Call on You," will feature folk singers, dancers, pantomimes and many other original numbers.

Faculty members in MSU's College of Agriculture and College of Home Economics have planned the youth program which annually draws several thousand high school young people to the East Lansing campus.

Old age comes quickly in the fast-moving Atomic Era. The history-making cyclotron at Columbia University that was used 26 years ago in the first atomic energy experiments in America is being dismantled and given to the Smithsonian Institution. There it will be prized youngster among objects in American history hundreds of years old. The "atom-smasher" is 27 years old.

Mrs. Betty Minsky, left, Chamber of Commerce manager, and Jeanne Knupp stuff envelopes with material about St. Johns to be displayed at travel shows in other states.

GenTel plans $22.4 million spending in '66

A record $22.4 million service improvement and expansion program for 1966 was announced Friday by General Telephone Co. The record expenditure will eclipse last year's program by more than $3 million and will bring the company's expenditures for service improvement and expansion to a five year total of over $85 million.

The service area of General Telephone, which includes 464 Michigan communities in 56 of the state's 83 counties, is geographically separated into five divisions.

THE CENTRAL Division, headquartered in Owosso, includes the Clinton area and serves 72,345 telephones and has a 1966 service improvement program of more than $5.5 million.

The total budgeted for service improvement and expansion in 1966 is equivalent to more than $66 for each of the company's 326,022 telephones and represents improvements in both local and long distance service.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SUSAN'S mother is a wonderful cook. She'll teach her little girl all about garnishes and dumplings and conserves... and about dozens of other skills that will help Susan to be a talented homemaker herself, one day.

We pass our own store of knowledge on to our children because we want to make things easier for them in the future. They will need all the preparation we can give them in order to cope with a life that grows ever more complex.

ABOVE all, we owe our children the opportunity to learn about their best Friend, God. Awareness of His loving presence will give them confidence and courage whatever they do, wherever they go. Through regular church attendance, they can absorb the inspiring principles of Christianity... the most valuable recipes for modern living that exist.

Marketing food for freedom idea intriguing

Why not take the millions spent by the United States Department of Agriculture in ineffectual crop control measures, and use it instead to devise methods of marketing food throughout the hungry world?

That pointed question by American Farm Bureau President Charles B. Shuman has stirred much speculation throughout rural America. Shuman has suggested that the $4 to $6 billion dollars spent each year to prop farm prices and control crop acres might be used more effectively to purchase farm products in the market for export in a number of "food-for-peace" type of programs.

UNDER THE FARM leader's suggestion, all controls would be gradually removed from US producers and any farm products exported would be bought in the open market.

This would strengthen our domestic markets immeasurably while at the same time providing farmers with a positive program of production instead of a negative program of controls and surpluses.

His sentiments have been echoed by former Cornell economist, Dr Kenneth Hood, who asserts that "volume is related to income." Dr Hood contends that in nations where farm production is low, farm incomes are invariably low. "Programs which reduce farm production are programs which reduce farm income," Hood declares.

ANOTHER SIDE benefit to farmers, according to Shuman, would be the "proper pegging" of vast sums now charged to farm programs but which more properly should be charged to foreign aid or similar areas of international diplomacy. For example, much of the current "Public Law 480" shipments, in which American farm surpluses are traded for the "soft" currency of the receiving country—should properly be charged to some other department of government instead of the Department of Agriculture.

Instead of present "give-away" programs which are largely a disguised effort to dispose of surpluses created under present farm control programs, the new idea would aim at openly helping to feed hungry peoples through regular market channels, requiring that recipient nations show how food received will contribute to their economic growth and development.

It's an intriguing idea.

Nothing for Something

It used to be that you could take paper currency to a bank and trade it for gold coins.

That went by the wayside and we adopted a system where, by the courtesy of the government, you could trade some paper money for silver coins. That, too, has become a memory, or soon will be.

Now the paper currency will be exchanged for a sandwich coin of base metals.

BACK IN THOSE early days when silver was abundant and gold scarce, American politics revolved around the issue of bi-metalism. The sound dollar boys who adhered only to gold had this to say about the silver coins.

"It has all the attributes of money, except value."

The same thing could be said for the sandwich coin to be minted out of scrap metal.

We have reached the point where our money is worth only what our government says it is worth. Even this is an intangible value built on the fluctuations of confidence in our government.

THERE HAVE been governments that followed this path of substituting nothing for something in the coin of the realm. They have followed it to the extent that the money was not worth the paper it was printed on.

This has not happened to us—yet.

RAMBLIN' with Rink

By LOWELL G. RINKER

The new year of 1966 has started off in a rather unexciting way, and one wonders just how it's going to be in the remaining 11 1/2 months.

No one can know for sure, and probably not many have set down and tried to figure out what the new year has in store for them, and others. Bill Bell, columnist at the Lapeer County Press, did, and this is how he figures it's going to be in 1966:

"THE DETROIT Tigers will get the jump on the rest of the league and start off with a 12-game winning streak. After that there'll never be any doubt. The Motor City team will lead all the way and take the pennant in a walk. However, they'll be defeated in the World Series in four games as Willie Mays leads the Giants in a record-breaking glutfete.

"The Castro regime will not remain in power in Cuba.

"Elizabeth Taylor will break up the romance of the century by leaving Richard Burton. 'He never had any time for me,' Miss Taylor will pout. 'He was too concerned with his complexion.'

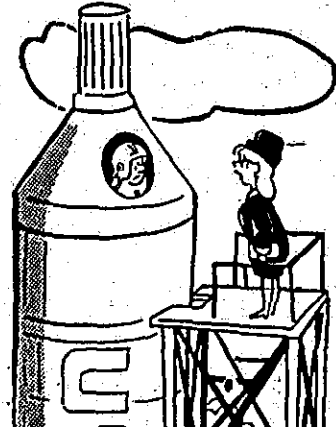

"THE MAN From Shenandoah (on TV) won't find out who he is. Not too many people will care.

"One of the Beatles will part from the group and come up with an act of his own.

"There'll be a truce in Vietnam but no settlement until 1967.

"The Russians will startle the world when they soft-land a live primate on the moon.

"FRANK SINATRA will announce his engagement. 'Or if that's improper, his betrothed's family will make the announce-

'65 legislative session came close to records

Long legislative sessions are getting to be the rule rather than the exception, but the 1965 meeting came close to some records.

This year, lawmakers say they will get their work done before summer starts. In an election year a short session is always the aim but it has not always been achieved.

Historical statisticians note that last year's 126-day session was the second longest in the past 50 years, surpassed only by the cash crisis meetings of 1959.

IN TERMS OF productivity, last year's activity put more new laws on the books than were enacted in a single session since 1919 when legislators passed 432 acts in 82 days. Last year 415 acts, including three local ones, were put on the books.

In six of nine election years since 1948, the legislature has met in either extended sessions or held special meetings for specific purposes.

Current evaluation would indicate both the Republicans and Democrats will try their best to stick with the present plan for a short session.

Democrats face the two-headed monstrous problem of opposing Gov. George Romney in his anticipated bid for a third term while keeping party peace by avoiding a potential fight over the US Senate nomination.

REPUBLICANS WILL look for a strong campaign to put Romney back in the executive office by an even bigger vote than he pulled against the national Johnson side. They also admit an uphill battle in attempting to get back some of the legislative seats lost in the 1964 tally.

Finally, if legislative apportionment is changed again, new districts will make both parties' jobs that much tougher as a new territory is more difficult to gauge.

RECENT EMPHASIS by law enforcement officials through out the state on a concentrated battle against crime has been well-timed to coincide with the start of the 1966 legislative session.

The discussions have involved a wide range of ideas, including a central clearing house on crime-fighting programs, state support of policemen's pay, and uniform police training standards.

from the HOPPER

By STEVE HOPKO

THE OTHER DAY we read of the number of American men who had been killed in Vietnam the preceding week and heard someone remark that it was terrible the number of our boys who were dying in another war.

I'll admit that "war is hell," but I'll say one thing for these boys in Vietnam, those who were in Korea, or those in World War II or I and for every war that Americans have fought in since our country's beginning some 190 years ago. At least these people died for a cause.

THIS IS MORE than we can say for the thousands who are killed on our nation's highways every year.

War is known to have killed many fine young Americans, and we think that "war is hell" because of this. But, when you start adding it all up we find that we, as Americans, kill more people on our highways than we ever have in wars.

THIS COUNTRY has been fighting wars off and on for over 190 years. Total up the number of men who have died in these wars and the sum is quite awesome.

But let's go back some 60-odd years ago when America switched from the horse and buggy to the automobile. Now total up the number of people who have died on our highways and byways. It makes war look like a sideline, because when it comes to killing people, we as Americans on our highways do one tremendous job, and we all sit back and think that "war is hell."

AMERICANS HAVE been dying for many years in our wars for the cause of freedom and liberty. Compare this to the thousands who are killed on our highways for the cause of carelessness, drunkenness or recklessness. To me, there can be no comparison.

But, we as Americans seem to think that it is worse to die for the cause of freedom and liberty, at least to hear us talk, for we say war is hell or words to this effect. But when it comes to our slaughter on the highways the saying seems to be "Oh, that's too bad."

I DON'T HAVE any overall solution to present and this seems to be the general answer of those who are concerned — no overall solution. My personal opinion is that it is about time that we as a nation begin to think in terms of "our highways are hell."

Many experts can tell us many reasons as to why accidents happen, how they will happen and almost tell us where they will happen, but we all read it and then pass it by, probably saying to ourselves, this doesn't concern me.

THIS IS NOT true, for it does concern you, you and you. For in all our battles of life over death, this is one that we as a nation seem to be losing.

Too many of us are unconcerned about it as individuals, but as individuals is where the trend to reverse our highway carnage has to begin.

SO DRIVE YOUR car as if every other car you meet on the highway is there for one reason, to kill you. This may sound a little funny, but in a moment of carelessness or for some other useless reason this could be exactly what could happen. It happens every day.

A Look Into The Past . . .

Dr. Palmer and His Staff in 1905

About 60 years or more ago, Dr Palmer of St. Johns maintained this crew of helpers for his spacious home (now owned by Dr Nelson Howe) and his dredging operations, one of which was Stoney Creek. Dr Palmer is the large man in the center holding the dog, and his wife is in front of them. Mr and Mrs Glenn Emmons of R-2, St. Johns, who donated the use of the picture, said two others they could identify in the picture were Emanuel Cressman and Leon Ennest.

Collection began when 10, totals over 240 dolls

If you have any interest in history then doll collecting might be the hobby that you are looking for. Because just about every doll has a story behind it.

A "frozen Charlotte" is a character doll taken from Uncle Tom's Cabin. There are Shirley Temple dolls as well as "Little Colonel" dolls from the movie that Miss Temple made.

When Mrs James Hatch of 16908 Newton Road, East Lansing, talks about her doll collection those inanimate objects seem to acquire life.

"Since I have started collecting antique dolls my husband has shown an interest in my collection," Mrs Hatch said.

June 23 of last year Mr and Mrs Hatch made a trip to Oakville, Ontario to buy some dolls from the private collection of Miss Joanne de Nault, a Canadian contralto. They purchased about nine dolls from her collection, including a wax doll made in the likeness of Miss deNault. (All of the dolls as well as the wax doll are shown in the picture at the left.

Now's the time for trial budget plans

BY HELEN MEACH
Extension Home Economist

It's that time of year again when all families face up to paying the bills for December spending. It's that time when we hear the State of the Union message and budget reports.

It's the time when many folks come to the Extension office for their copy of the Farmers Tax Guide.

It's the time of year when County Extension Agricultural Agents spend extra hours answering farm income tax questions and when special meetings are scheduled to help folks keep up to date on changes and interpretations of income tax laws.

THIS TIME OF year is especially important for young married couples to give thought to their finances. A simple, workable, budget is a best beginning. But budgeting doesn't mean penny pinching. It means a joint cooperative venture in spending wisely. . . . and facing money problems realistically.

Why not start with a frank discussion about your financial plans and ideas? Set your goals for right now and for the future. And be realistic. Now is hardly the time to buy an original painting for each wall! Perhaps your first year goals will include a better car and a chest of drawers. A five year goal might be a down payment on a home of your own.

Pool your financial resources. Your money is no longer "mine" . . . but "ours." Estimate your income and include everything. . . wages, dividends, interests, extra income from a second job and even cash wedding gifts.

Thursday, Jan. 13, the annual farm income tax and social security meeting at Smith Hall in St. Johns was held.

ESTIMATE YOUR expenses. Include rent, utilities, taxes and insurance premiums as well as food, clothing, transportation and entertainment. And don't forget a little not-to-be-accounted-for personal allowance for each of you.

At the end of the budget period, evaluate your plan. Compare what you actually spent with what you planned to spend. If your plan didn't quite work out. . . or even didn't work at all. . . don't be discouraged. Try again!

And to help you try . . . and succeed. There are three pamphlets you can have for free. A GUIDE TO BUDGETING FOR THE YOUNG COUPLE, PLANNING THE USE OF THE FAMILY DOLLAR, and BUSINESS FACTS FOR FAMILIES. To get a copy, write or call the Cooperative Extension Office, at the Courthouse in St. Johns, telephone 224-3288.

MRS HATCH is the former Colleen Veith of Laingsburg and is the daughter of the F. W. Veiths of 114 N. Phelps Street, Laingsburg.

"My mother started my collection for me. She had contact with the missionaries in the church and would ask them to send me a doll from the country that they were going to. I was about 10 then," Mrs Hatch said.

She said that she never played with dolls very much but rather had them on display in her room. In the past year and a half her collection has been expanded from foreign and character dolls to include antique and older dolls.

"MANY collectors remain in one category but I want to keep my collection varied," she said.

THE OLDEST DOLL in her collection is an European puppet made of papier-mache. She has several china dolls and about 15 bisque.

"The china dolls are generally older dolls than the bisque," she said.

Her husband, James Hatch, shows an interest in the collection and often cited names and makers of early dolls. He said that he was always looking for old miniature furniture that could be repaired and refinished.

"DOLLS WERE made of almost every substance known to man," he said.

"They have been made of tin, wood, corn husks, hickory nuts, bread dough and apples, just to mention a few," he said.

Hatch said that some day he would like to open a museum and display the dolls and the antique furniture.

Mr and Mrs Hatch are looking for a Fulper doll, recognized as the first bisque doll ever made in the United States.

WITH OVER 240 dolls around their home it might be expected that their two pre-school children Dougie, 4 and Lisa, 2, would be able to find lots of things to occupy their time with but Mrs Hatch said that they don't touch the collection. They call them "Mommie's babies."

Gullible

By W. E. DOBSON

I took the time this mornin',
(It was rainin' hard outside)
'N looked it up in Webster
'T see if it applied;
'Easy duped' er, quick imposed on'
Was gist of it, I declare,
'N this I figger, fitted
What was happenin' on the air!
Now I really have no quarrel,
With the high-paid personnel
Who author all the wise-cracks
That tumble out pell-mell,
But if they even aim to think
Such junk as I have heard,
They should be quickly sentenced
To eat each boasting word!
Folks have a tendency to stretch
The truth when talkin' fish,
But just how dumb must we all be
To consume this kind of dish?
Because some other geezer lies,
'N does it with bare face,
Must they produce a bigger one,
Straightway to hold their place?
Regardless if the FTC
Believes us all so dense,
It seems the advertisers
Could resort to common sense;
I need not here elaborate
On whom I'd put to rout,
Till they change their current tactics,
We'll just tune the shouters out!

Say corn, soybean news for Feb. 24 clinic 'exciting'

A big crowd of farmers attended the Corn-Soybean Clinic at Morenci, Mich., last winter and the general opinion was that it was a very worthwhile event.

Now the sponsors — national suppliers and local dealers — are coming back to Smith Hall in St. Johns Feb. 24 to report on what went on during 1965. The news is exciting, they say. Hundreds of producers all over the Midwest have made drastic changes in methods, with amazing increases in yields and net profit.

WAYNE FARMER, chairman of the local event, said "We've read a good deal about men like Clyde Hight of Illinois, who made such a fabulous record in corn production this year. He was just an ordinary producer a few years ago.

"The purpose of the Corn-Soybean Clinic is to encourage hundreds of farmers in every county to become Clyde Hights. It is a matter of survival in these tough competitive days."

BRUCE IRISH, first Clinton County farmer to record a 200-bushel corn yield, achieved his goal by following the latest production techniques and cultural practices. George McQueen, Clinton County agricultural agent, verified the yield.

The Feb. 24 clinic will start at 9 a.m. with coffee and a get-together. Farmer guests are urged to come early, because the "meat" of the entire day will be outlined in the opening talk at 9:30 a.m.

AREA GUERNSEY COW PRODUCES HIGH RECORD

Willie Quince Noma, a senior three-year-old registered Guernsey cow owned by George E. Smith of Elsie, has completed an official DHR actual production record of 11,060 pounds of milk and 637 pounds of butterfat in 305 days, with two times a day milking, according to The American Guernsey Cattle Club.

The first artificial snow was produced in 1946 by Vincent J. Schaefer of Schenectady, N. Y.

SCD Directorship Nominating Committee

The nominating committee of the Clinton County Soil Conservation District includes, from left to right, Ray Warner, Ray Mayers, Ed Batora Jr., and Owen Wessler who met with District Director William Mayers. Absent was Robert Zeeb, chairman. Warner was chosen vice chairman. Their nominees will be presented at the SCD annual meeting Feb. 5 for the election of two directors.

4-H snow camp set for Feb. 4-6

The Clinton County 4-H Snow Camp at Traverse City will be held Feb. 4, 5 and 6 at Twin Lakes 4-H Camp. Any 4-H member over 14, plus trip award winners, service club members, club leaders and parents are invited.

Reservations must be made at the extension office by Jan. 28. Those attending the camp will leave the courthouse in St. Johns at 3:30 p.m. Feb. 4 and return Feb. 6 about 6 p.m.

A lot of adult drivers and vehicles are needed to get all the campers up north. The cost to trip winners is $5 and to others $8.

BIG CRATER
A huge meteorite crater, the third-largest known crater in which meteoritic materials have been found, has been discovered in northern Chile in the foothills of the Andes. It has a diameter of 1,478 feet and an average depth of 100 feet. Barringer crater in Arizona and Wolf Creek crater in western Australia are the only known craters that exceed it in diameter and depth.

Bottling milk to be under uniform standard

Fluid milk for bottling will be under a uniform Michigan standard and inspection after July 1, 1966, according to B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Standards for manufacturing milk, used in cheese, butter, and other processing will be unchanged from 1965.

State-wide milk inspection under the new law is the culmination of continual upgrading of bottling standards since the original pasteurized milk law of 1929.

RESPONSIBILITY for inspection will for the first time rest with one agency, the dairy division of the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Inspection is presently carried out by various city and county agencies as well as the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

"Since 1929 bottling milk standards were set, optional Grade A standards were established in 1957. Thus, there are now two standards in use," said Director Ball. "Uniform bottling milk standards and inspection starting next July will assure consumers the equivalent of Grade A or better wherever they buy milk in Michigan."

THE NEW LAW thus provides for a single standard of sanitation and a single standard of inspection for bottling milk, the responsibility of the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Manufacturing milk standards remain unchanged.

The world judges you not only by what you stand for, but by what you fall for.

Food inspection big responsibility

Checking sanitation and wholesomeness of the food supply of the state's 8 million citizens is a full-time job for the Michigan Department of Agriculture's food inspectors. They made 22,400 inspections and 4,779 special investigations during the past 12 months.

Restaurants, markets, rail terminals, canneries, meat processing plants, food warehouses, frozen food lockers and dozens of other types of food handling establishments are constantly checked, says B. Dale Ball, Director of Agriculture.

WHILE VIOLATIONS are frequent, and immediately dealt with, said Ball, "the intense inspection over the years has given Michigan an excellent record for clean, wholesome food. Despite increases in population and food output, records show Michigan consumers can feel confident their food is pure and wholesome."

He credited improved inspection methods, education, and better sanitation all along the food chain from farm to dinner table. The desire for improvement by those responsible for food handling and modern processing, refrigeration, and packaging have contributed to this to a large measure, he believes.

WITH THIS MODERN trend inspection becomes even more important and difficult. Nowadays a poor lot of food, or one handled under insanitary conditions, could conceivably be shipped all over Michigan and to other states if not spotted by inspection.

The department's Food Inspection Division, headed by J. L. Littlefield, is responsible for enforcement of almost 100 laws and regulations pertaining to sanitation, adulteration, labeling, and standards of all food supplies as well as those dealing with weights and measures.

STATISTICAL STEW: If you're a 165-pound male with an average job, your feet carry you some seven-and-a-half miles a day and take a sledgehammer pounding of more than 1,000 tons. If you're the woman around the house, credit your feet with roughly 10 miles and 1,500 tons of jolts, according to research done by Irving J. Botner, president of Esquire Shoe Polish.

31 groups call meetings during Farmers' Week

Thirty-one farm-related organizations will hold annual meetings at Michigan State University during the annual Farmers' Week, Jan. 31-Feb. 4. These include:

Monday — Ayrshire, Brown Swiss, Guernsey, Milking Short-horn, Holstein, and Red Danish Dairy Breed associations.

Tuesday — Hereford, Red Poll, Shorthorn and Angus Beef Cattle Breeders; Yorkshire and Hampshire Swine Breeders; Shropshire and Suffolk Sheep Breeders; Michigan Swine Breeders, Michigan Cattle Feeders, Michigan Lamb Feeders, Michigan Beef Breeders and Michigan Sheep Breeders Assn.; Michigan Christmas Tree Growers Assn.; Association of Rural Recreation Enterprises.

WEDNESDAY — Professional Dairy Farmers; Michigan Dairy Goat Society; Michigan Muck Farmers Assn.; Michigan Allied Poultry Industries, Inc.; MSU Short Course Alumni.

Thursday — Centennial Farmers Assn.; Michigan Flying Farmers; Michigan Association of Farm Managers and Rural Appraisers.

Friday — American Dairy Association of Michigan; Michigan Rabbit Breeders.

New dairy short courses set at MSU

Today a host of training and re-training courses are offered to supply semi-skilled labor for industry. It is interesting to note that Michigan State University has been supplying graduates of dairy manufacturing short courses since 1894.

In those days, graduates of the dairy products processing courses filled the need for butter and cheese makers in creameries and cheese factories.

PRESENT DAY short courses serve to upgrade employees in key positions in dairy and food processing plants. The courses help employees learn the modern, technical improvements in the dairy industry.

Four 2-week courses in dairy processing will be offered at MSU during 1966-67. A course on milk and related products is slated for Jan. 24-Feb. 4. The course will supply practical instruction in the processing of milk from its acceptance at the milk plant to distribution in the final package. Emphasis will be placed on causes and elimination of defects in the manufacture or processing of milk and allied products.

MAKING GOOD USE of engineering principles improves the efficiency of dairy plants. A course in Dairy Engineering will be offered Feb. 7-18. It covers the practical aspects of plant layout, construction, materials handling, and utilities. Enrollments in both courses may be made during January. Registration for the "Milk and Related Products" course is Jan. 24.

All courses include lectures, demonstrations, and practical training in the commercial dairy plant operated by MSU. Supported by the dairy and food industry, the Department of Food Science cooperates with the Short Course Department in offering the courses. The courses may be taken singly or combined into a four-week program each of the two years.

Further information may be obtained from the MSU Short Course Department, 121 Agricultural Hall, East Lansing.

Michigan State University crop scientists estimate Michigan grows two million acres of corn, of which 1.6 million acres are used for grain. The value of the corn crop in Michigan is about $108 million.

"The only thing I'm at liberty to tell you is that it's something in the feed."

AGRICULTURE in Action

by M. L. Woell

Washington is putting a confusing backspin on the "War on Poverty!" Farmers ask, "What gives?" when the leaders of that "war" remove excise taxes from milk coats, pinball machines, pool tables and pari-mutuel racing, yet act to raise the price of bread — the staple of the poor man's table.

Processing taxes on wheat are only a part of the farm program bill which Congress threatens to pass—for a long, four-year duration. The Michigan Farm Bureau Board of Directors condemns this bill as "anti-farmer, anti-consumer, and anti-taxpayer."

The House Agriculture Committee in Washington has passed the bill to the floor with approval. "Few can possibly benefit from it," said the Michigan Farm Bureau Board of Directors, "save those who will be in a position to administer it. While it recognizes the need to retire farm acres on a long-term basis, even this program will become a farce when entangled with the other measures—the costly and cumbersome wheat and feed grains programs."

BEFORE CONGRESS met, the President voiced the need to restore a free market for commercial agriculture and to adopt a more realistic approach to the problems of rural America.

Raymond DeYoung (left) and Donald Davidson are shown in front of the set which they blueprinted and constructed for the First Nighters first production of the year "The Cradle Song."

"Cradle Song" set reflects ingenuity of 2 local men

The First Nighters uncovered two fellows with great talent for their first play of the season. But Ray DeYoung and Don Davidson will not be seen on stage, even though their talented work will be admired by all from the opening of the first curtain to the last closing.

DeYoung and Davidson constructed the set that the First Nighter players will perform before in their play, "The Cradle Song," to be presented this Friday and Saturday at the Rodney B. Wilson High School.

THE PLAY IS centered in a cloistered convent in Spain. David Karsten, a member of the Performing Arts Company at Michigan State University, sketched the set design. From the sketch, DeYoung and Davidson measured the stage at the high school and then converted the sketch into a scale blueprint.

(which is only a part of the complete set). Using scrap lumber and a lot of ability, the two men constructed the set in sections in the DeYoung garage at Alward Lake. When all sections were completed it was trucked into the high school and assembled on stage where it was painted and finished to give the First Nighters a beautiful setting to perform before.

DAVID KARSTEN, who designed the set, is a PhD candidate at Michigan State University. He has taught at Hope College and in Alaska. He is a Navy veteran. He appeared in the "Crucible" at Michigan State and has designed and directed many productions. Raymond DeYoung is a graduate of East Grand Rapids High School and the Buchanan Aerial School. During World War II he was an experimental engineer at Willow Run under Colonel Lindberg. In 1945 he became associated with Oldsmobile in Lansing where he is presently a design engineer.

DONALD DAVIDSON is a graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High in St. Johns. He attended what is today Lansing Community College where he studied technical courses. For the past 18 years he has been employed by Federal Mogul in St. Johns, where he is tool room foreman.

Hamlet, here Jan. 28, is revenge tragedy

Shakespeare's "Hamlet" will be staged by the Michigan State University Performing Arts Company on the evening of Jan. 28 in the St. Johns High School auditorium.

"Hamlet" is a revenge tragedy, in which the hero attempts valiantly to accomplish revenge for his father's death, but is frustrated in his attempt by the cleverness of Claudius.

THE ROLE OF Hamlet is played by Roger Long, a new member of the Performing Arts Company, who has returned to MSU to do graduate work. Long has been in New York City for the past two years where he studied under Irene Dailey and Herbert Berg-hof. Although Director Frank C. Rutledge calls "Hamlet" a revenge tragedy, he also believes that it is tragedy of much wider scope.

"The play is a tragedy in the sense that the death of these people, particularly Hamlet; Ophelia, played by Ann Matesich; and Laertes, portrayed by Dean Kyburz, is an awe-inspiring, terrifying waste. The point that Shakespeare makes — the nub of his tragic vision — is that the world does, indeed, so combine in an inexplicable manner to crush valuable and lovely people," he explains.

HAMLET, HIMSELF, is an exciting, but tragic, figure. He proceeds under the impact of three major events: the death of his father, the remarriage of his mother and his murder of Polonius. These three events create a situation in which Hamlet is so deeply embroiled that escape is virtually impossible.

An Institute for Environmental Health Studies, designed to provide leadership and management for interdisciplinary research and training programs in the area of environmental health, has been established at Purdue University. The institute will cut across the lines of 17 departments to coordinate existing scientific and training resources.
