By TIM YOUNKMAN
Editor

After weeks of meetings between the St. Johns youth and adults, local teens now have a place of their own—a new youth center.

The teens last week established a door-to-door advertising campaign to enlist local support for the youth center project, which is headquartered in the railroad freight station on Railroad Street.

The lease on the building, officially named "Our House," states that the building can be rented for five years for $5.

"The purpose of the project is to give youth the responsibility of creating and operating a teen center designed by youths to satisfy their needs," said Mrs. Mahlon Devereaux, adult publicity advisor.

"The ideal situation is for all youth to work together to shape public relations that would represent the youth in the community as a whole," she said.

"Each individual must and will assume a responsible position if this teen center is to survive," she said.

The teen center will provide, under current plans, recreation, education and counseling. The members are responsible for keeping all activities in the teen center within "established legal bounds," Mrs. Devereaux said.

She noted that ties have been established between the center members, police department, adult leaders and community organizations willing to help.

"These ties are there to inform the public as well as the youth as to how the organization is progressing, and not to run the organization," she said.

The atmosphere of the center will be similar to the young adult coffee houses that were popular in the early 60's. There will be a small concession capable of serving sandwiches and snacks.

The project, was started last summer by Dan Chisholm, county juvenile probation officer, who heads the adult advisory board.

Assisting in the formation of the center idea was Dorothy Payne, representative of the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO).

Youth volunteers who offered assistance were Kirk Simpson and Steve Parker.

Committees of adults and teens have been organized to take care of such things as public relations, legal formalities, facilities and financial matters, Mrs. Devereaux said.

Adult committee members are:

Finance—Patrick Kelly, Rollin A. Huard, James Moore and Ed and Marie Prowant.

Publicity—Robert Dittmer, Bob Barnes, Mahlon and Joan Devereaux and Betty Minsky.

Facility—Sam Serrell, Rev. Hugh Banninga, Dorothy Payne, and Dr. and Mrs. Nelson.

Legal—Dick Wells, Dick May, and Lyle French.

Teen committee members are:

Publicity—Barb Eaton, Kathy Vitek, Jean Peterson, Kirk Simpson, Mark Mercer and Nancy Nelson.

Ovid-Elsie favored Panthers may stage upset

Saturday is the big day for Clinton County wrestling fans as five area high school teams prepare to clash in the second annual Clinton County News wrestling tournament.

It may appear to be a consensus among wrestling coaches that Ovid-Elsie has a chance to repeat last year's runaway victory since most of the same members of that squad have returned again this year.

But that victory may not be as easy to come by this year.

In the first annual News wrestling tournament, the Marauders scored 106 points well ahead of St. Johns' 68 point output. DeWitt came in third with 48 points, while Bath scored 34 and Pewamo-Westphalia had 24.

The DeWitt Panthers have the best chance at upsetting the favored Marauders. One of their most devastating wins came three weeks ago when they blitzed Carson City 48-0, utilizing three freshmen and five sophomores on the squad.

Coach Gary Roberts, while reluctant to single out individual players for honors, said the Panthers' best chance at taking any match, including Saturday's tournament fell on the shoulders of Mike Cole, 132-pound division; Jerry Marriot, 185-pound class, and Chuck Gorman, 167-pound class.

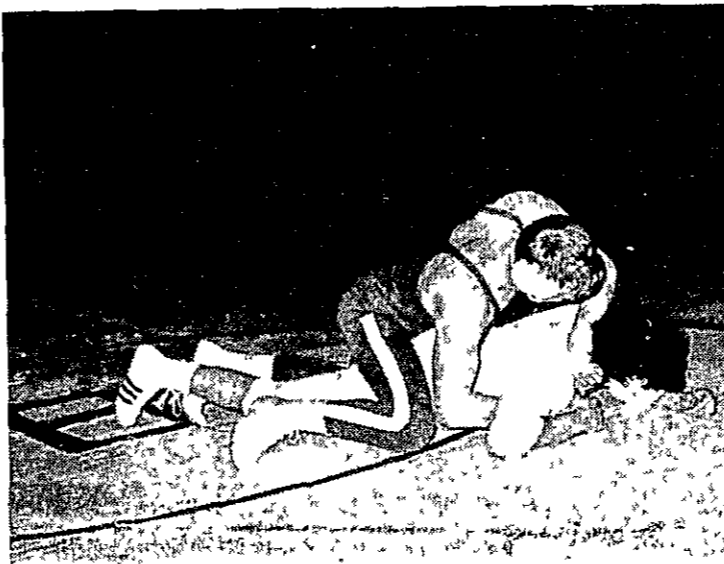

Roberts noted that where some of the wrestlers are inexperienced, they have had almost half the season to get in shape and would give any squad quite a bit of trouble.

The St. Johns Redwings have found the going a bit tough, dropping their first three matches to Mt. Pleasant, Ovid-Elsie and Charlotte.

Earlier Coach Bob Ballard said he thought the team has been improved because of the shocking losses. "I think we'll be much improved because of the maturity of the players throughout the first three meets.

Ballard pointed to several bright spots on his roster. He said that sophomore Bob Hunter was doing a "whale of a job" for

Smith stands on record in Bath petition drive

Bath Township Supervisor Duane Smith refused to comment Monday on a new attempt to remove him from office.

He said that he will not make a public statement defending the alleged charges brought out by a group called Citizens for Better Government Committee.

"The record speaks for itself," Smith said.

He noted that none of the members of the citizens' group had contacted him officially about a new petition drive to recall him from the supervisor position.

It is not a new experience for Smith, since another Bath area citizens' group attempted to recall him more than a year ago.

"Those issues have been answered at public board meetings and are a matter of public record," Smith said.

The new four-point petition claims Smith improperly spread the Olive-DeWitt-Bath drain tax in 1969, improperly spread the

Two Clinton men injured

A two-car rear-end collision resulted in injury and hospitalization for two Clinton County residents Friday.

According to sheriff department reports, a vehicle driven by David L. Thurston of Fowler collided with an auto operated by Allen W. Bebow of St. Johns along M-21 near DeWitt Road.

The reports claim Bebow pulled his vehicle onto the highway and was travelling at about 35 miles per hour behind a truck.

Thurston, approaching from the rear, attempted to slow down but couldn't stop in time.

No violations were cited.

DUANE SMITH

Ingham County Intermediate School Board tax in 1969, failed to obtain proper building inspection for the Bath fire hall and failed to get an occupancy permit as prescribed by a county ordinance, and "in the performance of duties and contacts" as supervisor, carried a concealed weapon.

The charges were brought out during a meeting Jan. 6 sponsored by the citizens' group. Smith said that these issues were not "charges but allegations and insinuations."

Eugene Rounds, an automotive worker in Lansing, was named chairman of the group.

According to state law, if the group can raise enough signatures on the petitions being circulated in the township, they will be filed with the county clerk and a special election will be called.

Smith told the Clinton County News that he would not make a public statement despite reports earlier in the week that he would do so when contacted by the citizens' group.

DeWitt expands suspension policies

By TIM YOUNKMAN
Editor

The DeWitt school board Monday night expanded the standing policy on suspension of students by further defining conduct of students and spelling out the duties of school administrators.

The new regulations define the three types of suspensions that may be used by the board of education.

They are temporary suspension, indefinite suspension and permanent suspension.

The new rule authorizes the school building principal to temporarily remove a student from school classes and activities from one through 10 days, without formal board action.

The board of education must take action, upon recommendation of the building principal and superintendent, to remove a student from school classes and activities for a period longer than 10 days.

Under permanent suspension or expulsion, the board must take action, on the recommendation of the building principal and the superintendent, to remove a student from school classes and activities on a permanent basis.

The principal, in suspending a student, must develop a list of charges, including signed testimony, against the suspended student. Upon suspension a written letter be sent to the parent and superintendent stating the reasons for the suspension, length of time during which the student is barred from classes and procedures for readmittance.

The new policy also states that parents will be notified by phone before a student is sent home during a school day.

After the suspension period, a conference must be held, according to the policy.

Those invited to the conference, established to determine if the student is "ready, willing and able to return to school," are the parents or guardians, the student, the principal, guidance counsellor and the teachers involved.

The new policy defines the conduct leading to suspension as "gross misconduct; persistent disobedience or opposition to authority (insubordination); leaving the building during school hours without permission, smoking, possession, use, or under the influence of alcohol or drugs on school property, fighting, physical violence destruction of property and carrying weapons on school property.

Gross misconduct is defined as "actions on the part of a student toward another or school employe that are physically or verbally abusive toward that person or are flagrantly disruptive of classroom environment or school activities.

The school policy states that a student facing indefinite or permanent suspension will "have the constitutional right of due process."

The student and his parents will be informed by registered letter of the charges date, time and place of the hearing. The student will have the "right to remain silent without prejudice during the hearing, to refrain from testimony against himself, to present and question witnesses and to be represented by counsel.

"The hearing or appeal board will include the following: members of the board of education,

Sleepy Hollow club holds snowmobile rally

INTERESTED

The snowmobile rally sponsored by the Sleepy Hollow Conservation Club drew a large number of interested spectators and a large field of entrants. Here some of the fans ring the rally course during the Sunday races.

SEEKING WARMTH

Part of the crowd just couldn't stand the cold despite the excitement of the snowmobiles. Several large outdoor burners were put into service to help warm the crowd.

BOOI

This little lad was quite impressed with the fast-moving snowmobiles as they whizzed around the short course. His only problem was that he had trouble standing up on the slippery snow bank that ringed the course.

Treize sets Owosso hours

Monday will continue to be "Meet your Legislator Day" in Shiawassee County, according to plans announced this week by State Rep. R. Douglas Treize (R-Owosso).

Representative Treize's "home office" will be located in the Owosso Area Chamber of Commerce Building at Exchange and Water Street. He will be available to the public between the hours of 1 p.m. and 4 p.m. every Monday.

Treize said he was gratified by the offer to use the Owosso Area Chamber office. "This is a central location and should be handy for voters in the total district."

"I am pleased to be able to carry on in the pattern established by our former Representative, now Sen. William Ballenger, by holding regular office hours in the District."

"I hope that many people will take the opportunity to come and discuss legislative matters with me," he said.

"Many important and crucial issues are facing the Legislature this year," Treize said, "and I want and need the opinions of the people of the 87th District as I face these problems."

Treize plans to begin his public office hours on Monday, Jan. 18.

Two hurt in Sealed Power crash

THEY'RE OFF

The blur of the takeoff is captured as these two competitors begin their long duel around the rally course. Once on their way, these racers will have a hard time stopping on the icy path.

Two persons were injured Friday in a two-car accident outside the Sealed Power parking lot in St. Johns.

Injured were Joseph J. Plaza, St. Johns, who is in satisfactory condition at Clinton Memorial Hospital and Richard M. Duceatt, Maple Rapids, who was treated and released from Clinton Memorial Hospital.

The Sheriff's department reported that Duceatt's vehicle skidded into Plaza's auto near the entrance of the Sealed Power parking lot on W. M-21. Duceatt was cited for hazardous driving.

Ruby Wild

Ruby Wild, 84, of 1901 North Carland Road, Middlebury Township died Monday, Jan. 11 at Pleasant View Medical Care Facility following a long illness.

Funeral services will be held Thursday, Jan. 14 at 12:30 p.m. at the Houghton Chapel of the Osgood Funeral Homes Inc., Ovid with Rev. Walter A. Kargus officiating. Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery, Grand Rapids.

She was born in Clinton County on March 15, 1886, the daughter of Garrett and Emma Welter and had resided at her present address for the past 25 years.

moving from Grand Rapids. She attended schools in Corunna and was a graduate of Owosso High School. She married Edward Wild in Grand Rapids on July 3, 1903. She was a member of the Women's Fellowship of the United Church, member of the Ovid Eastern Star and the Creston Literary Club in Grand Rapids.

Survivors include her husband; one son, Eugene of Carland; one grandson; two great-grandchildren; a son preceded her in death.

Houston is where Texans get things done in a big way—the Astrodome, NASA Space Center and the site for the 1970, two-million-family-member American Farm Bureau Federation Annual Meeting.

Farm folks booked up the nation's sixth largest city as more than 6,000 of them from 49 states and Puerto Rico moved in to adopt national farm policy in December.

National figures dotted the program and, on succeeding days, two of the nation's recent top news makers—newly appointed Secretary of the Interior Rogers C. B. Morton and John B. Connally, our most recently nominated Secretary of the Treasury, addressed the nation's food producers.

Michiganers enjoyed the serene weather, 70 to 80 degree temperatures, amid the surprises that marked this meeting as one of the most eventful when Pres. Charles B. Shuman announced his retirement and William J. Kuhfuss, 58, Illinois Farm Bureau head, was elected by the convention delegation to the vacancy.

Shuman stepping down in mid-term after 16 years of leadership, without doubt, was the biggest shocker.

He made the announcement following his annual address and later in a press conference said that he had only made his final decision the night before. He wrote his resignation and his wife Mabel typed it up for release.

The busy activity of the Rice Hotel press room was silenced by the aura of the proceedings; secretaries, general press people and representatives of the nation's leading media were part of the passing scene. The press addressed him affectionately as "Charlie" and it was clear that deep respect and admiration had been built by this national leader throughout the years.

He said, "The major battles are over and it is time for old generals to 'just fade away.'" But Mr. Shuman was more than a general, because in his leadership role he conveyed above all else that first he was a human being imbedded with the belief of the worthiness of mankind.

And with that belief he declared that he was returning to the land where he began, and to his family—taking up the "invitation" of his teenage son to work together. And in working together, Mr. Shuman will continue the work he does so well, as he has led the American farmer, as few men have, in the business that feeds the world.

An organizational meeting was held last week at the center with all committees on hand to inspect the building and discuss the next steps toward completing the project.

The old building is still in need of a considerable amount of repair and center members discussed, at length, revenue-producing projects that could help stem the cost of maintenance.

They noted that the furnace is beyond repair and a new heating system will be a high-priority item on the expense list.

Mrs. Devereaux told reporters after the meeting that there is a need for pool tables, ping pong tables and a record player. She added that tables, chairs, a refrigerator, paint and ceiling materials have already been donated.

Tom Carmack was elected the center's first president and will be assisted by Ron Moon as vice-president.

The two young men, with Kirk Simpson, chairman of the youth group, will supervise the future meetings while committees concentrate on organizing the opening of "Our House."

Eisler breaks record

Redwings smash Charlotte stay one game out in West

By BOB GAVAN
News Staff Writer

Despite a Tuesday night loss to a surprisingly rugged Alma squad, the St. Johns Redwings bounced back to within a game of the West Central conference lead Friday by crushing Charlotte 86-67.

The Redwings pumped in 50 points in the second half, led by big Dean Eisler's record setting 40 points. This broke the record set by him of 39 points against Waverly last year. Eisler, who sat out most of the Alma game because of fouls, took the Orioles for 16 field goals and 12 charities.

Fred Root hit on six field goal attempts and added a free throw for 13 points, second highest on the Redwings behind Eisler. Brian Carpenter flipped in two field goals and five free throws for nine points.

Other Redwing scorers were Steve Mead (6 points), Mike Brown (8), Dennis LeVeck (2), Ken Schueller (4), Mike Grost (2) and Jim Conley (2).

Not only did Eisler lead in total points, but he also was the dominant leader in rebounds with 23, 11 offensive and 12 defensive. Steve Mead followed with a total of 9 rebounds, 2 offensive and 7 defensive.

To say that the loss to Alma was a disappointment would be a classic understatement, a league loss can be very critical at this time of the year.

The tempo was set Tuesday night with Alma dominating the first quarter with 23 points and sticking it out for 23 in the second quarter. The Redwings rallied in the last half but it was not quite enough, resulting in a narrow 4-point loss, 77-73. The Redwings top scorer was Mike Brown with five field goals and five free throws for 15 points. Closely following was Root with five field goals and 4 free throws for 14 points.

Other scorers for the Redwings were LeVeck (12), Carpenter (10), Greg Lounds (8), Randy Atkinson (6), Eisler (4) and Mead (4).

Scoring by quarters:
St. Johns 17 19 24 26-86
Charlotte 19 18 14 16-67

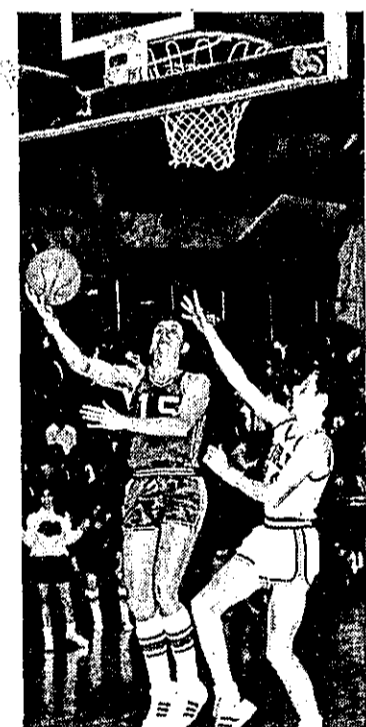

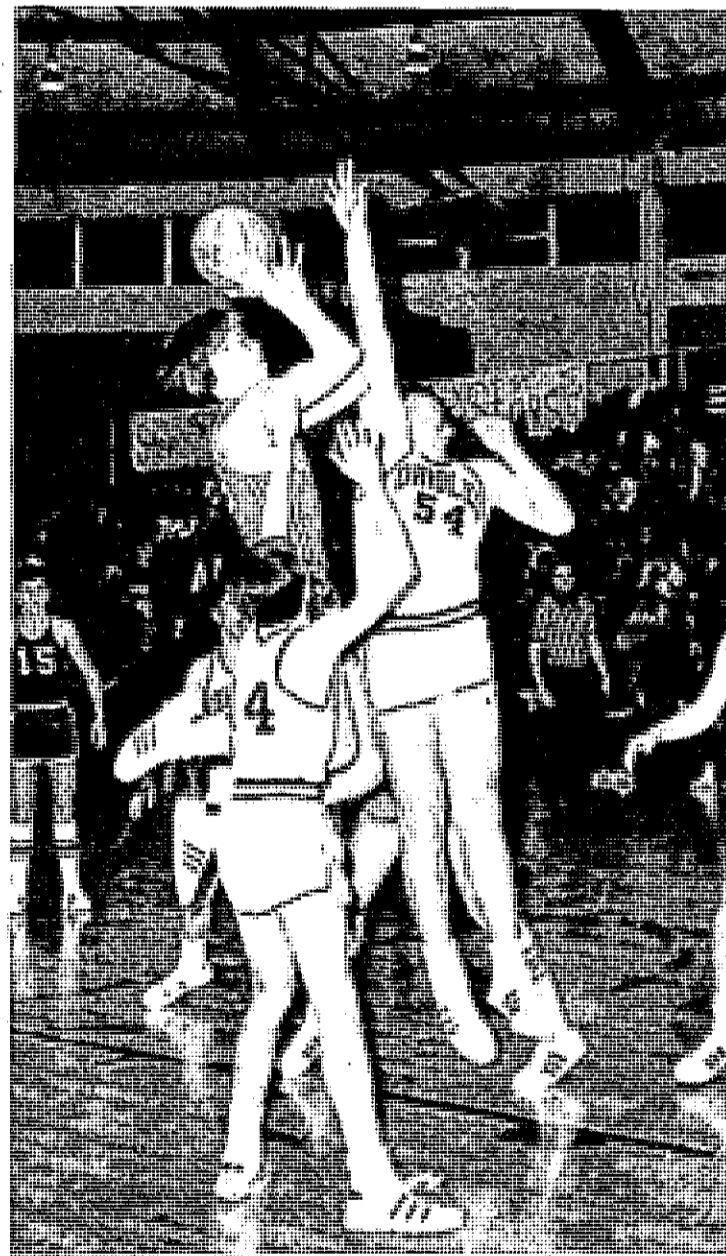

St. Johns 10 24 18 21-73
Alma 23 23 11 20-77

Junior Varsity score: St. Johns 61, Alma 58; St. Johns 56, Charlotte 47.

YOU AGAIN ROCCO?

Eisler had trouble at times eluding No. 54 (Rocco Moore) but when he did it was a sure basket. Here he drives against Moore to tally two of his 40 points.

UP AND IN

Redwing Mike Brown slips past Charlotte's Tim Mohre (14) to sink a layup in the 86-67 West Central win.

FOUL COMING UP

Redwing scoring ace Dean Eisler, who pumped in 40 points Friday night to bury Charlotte, tries to put two more in with this jump shot, but Rocco Moore (54) had other ideas. When the dust cleared Eisler was fouled.

No. 2 Eagles breeze past Webberville

The Fowler Eagles (6-0) ranked No. 2 in the United Press International Class D basketball poll, added another victory Friday by soundly beating Webberville (2-5) 87-46.

Twelve of the thirteen players made the scoreboard.

High scorer for Coach Chuck Trierweller's team was Neil Thelen with 19 points. Steve Feldpausch dumped in 15 points and Alan Harr hit for 11 points.

Other Eagle scorers were Stan Feldpausch (8), Jerome Pohl (8), Cliff Thelen (6), Ed Pung (5), Jon Mathews (4), Dave Rossow (4), Ken Schmitt (2), Gary Pung (2).

Webberville's Dan Ancel led with 18 points and Mark Vecell had 11 points. From the free throw line Fowler completed 71 per cent of the shots, 27 of 38 attempts.

This was the Eagle's fourth straight Central Michigan Athletic Conference victory.

The Eagles notched their fifth win Tuesday night by sinking the Potterville Vikings 66-42.

Neil Thelen struck for 13 points, on five field goals and three charities, while Jerome Pohl added 11 more, on three field goals and five free throws.

The Vikings jumped off to a good lead and held a one-point advantage at half-time with a 25-24 score before the Eagles bombed them for 24 points in the third period and 18 more in the final frame. Potterville could only muster a weak six points in the third period and 11 in the fourth quarter.

Others scoring for Fowler were Rossow (4), Dave Thelen (4), Steve Feldpausch (6), Mathews (3), Harr (6), Stan Feldpausch (1), Schmitt (3), Ed Pung (9) and Gary Pung (6).

The Eagles compiled their score by hitting on 25 field goals and 16 of 28 free throw attempts.

The Eagle junior varsity dumped the Potterville JV's 45-24.

Outdoor notes

Free-flowing waters spanning the main stem of the Pere Marquette River will be recommended to Congress for official listing under the National Wild and Scenic Rivers System, announces an inter-agency task force which has been intensively studying the stream.

Once listed, the stream would be protected from ever being dammed, straightened, or otherwise changed from its free-flowing condition.

Final recommendations from that study, conducted jointly by the U.S. Forest Service and Michigan Department of Natural Resources, are expected to go to Congress in the fall of 1972. They will be submitted after a resource management program has been drafted for the cited stretch of the Pere Marquette, and after public hearings have been held to sound out opinions which could lead to possible modifications in the plan.

That portion of the PM considered for special designation covers an approximate 60-mile stretch, winding from the junction of the Middle and Little South branches near Baldwin to the US-31 highway bridges near Ludington.

The study task force will seek to have this part of the stream added to the National Wild and Scenic Rivers System because field investigations show it to be the most "nationally significant" section throughout the Pere Marquette.

Members of the study team report that this singled-out section of the PM is distinguished by "some of the best trout fishing east of the Rockies, top quality canoeing, limited shoreline development, and clear unpolluted water."

The next step toward gaining special status for the PM's main stem will be taken by formulating a resource management program which will protect and enhance its outstanding features in keeping with the concept of the national system.

John von Bergen, U.S. Forest Service representative on the interagency task force, notes: "We will be calling not only on the talents of the study team, but also on the knowledge and opinions of those who use and love the Pere Marquette."

He adds that property owners, canoe livery operators, fishermen, conservation groups, and others will be urged to make "inputs" into developing the management program, as they did in helping determine which portion of the river is the most significant.

This winter, the task force will work with these various interests in analyzing and shaping a total management program for the main stem of the Pere Marquette. Public meetings then will be held next spring to air the program and draw out comments which will be weighed in finalizing management recommendations for the 60-mile section of the stream.

The Pere Marquette is the only stream in Michigan currently being studied for possible listing under the National Wild and Scenic Rivers System.

Nationwide, 26 other streams are being covered by the same type of intensive review as the Pere Marquette to see if they may qualify for designation as national wild and scenic rivers.

DeWitt takes Potterville in 61-52 romp

DeWitt is still a half game out in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference after beating Potterville 61-52.

The Panthers took the lead in the first quarter and kept it for the entire game.

Top scorer was Ron Wilcox who pumped in eight field goals and three free shots for 19 points. Pat Botke added 13 points. Andy Cusack assisted with nine points.

The junior varsity won their game by a score of 47-38.

O-E drops first game

Ovid-Elsie's loss to Bullock Creek 65-62 Friday night dropped them into second place in the Mid-Michigan class B race.

The Marauders (6-1 and 2-1) are now tied with St. Louis, also 2-1.

Despite the high scoring of Cal Woodard, 18 points and Keith Nelson's 17 points, the gap wasn't closed. However, from the free throw line they did hit 71 per cent.

The junior varsity won their game by a score of 67-52.

January is alien reporting time

January is not simply the first month of a new year and a return to the routine after the holiday celebrating.

For some Clinton County residents, the month must not slip away without reporting to the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

The Immigration and Nationality Act requires every alien who is in the United States on Jan. 1 to report his address to the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization during January.

Here are some questions and answers concerning the alien reporting act.

Q. Is an alien required to report his address during January although he has not changed his address since the last time he filed an address report?

A. Yes. The address report must be made each year even though the alien has not changed his address.

Q. Are there any penalties for failure to report?

A. If an alien willfully or inexcusably fails to report his address during January, he may be taken into custody and deported from the United States. He may also be fined and imprisoned before deportation.

Q. Would an alien who did not know about the requirement be deported for failure to report his address last year or in any previous years?

A. Each failure to report is a separate offense for which the alien may be deported. But if each failure is not willful and is reasonably excusable, no deportation will take place. It is important that the alien report this year, even if he failed in any previous year to do so, as additional failures make it more difficult for him to show reasonable excuse.

Q. Does an alien who is temporarily out of the country on January first have to report his address?

A. Yes, he must submit a report within ten days after he returns to this country.

Q. Is this report necessary for an alien who is just a visitor or a student in this country?

A. Yes, as long as he was in the United States on January first he must submit this address report during the month of January. This applies to nonimmigrants, such as visitors for business or pleasure, seamen, students, and treaty traders, to name a few.

Q. Are any aliens excused from filing these Alien Address Report Cards?

A. The law does not apply to diplomats and members of certain international organizations.

Q. Is it necessary for an un-naturalized alien who has lived here for many, many years to report his address?

A. If he has not been naturalized, he is still an alien. It would not matter if he came here as a baby and had been in this country for more than 50 years. As long as he was not naturalized, he must file this address report.

Q. I am an alien, but I filed my petition for naturalization. My final papers will be given me next month. Should I report my address?

A. All noncitizens must report. Aliens do not become citizens by naturalization until their petitions have been granted by a court and they have actually taken the oath of allegiance.

Q. I am a native-born citizen. My mother, who has been here for more than 30 years, is an alien. She is old and sick, and it would be a hardship for her to go to the post office. How would she report?

A. You should go to the post office, pick up an alien address report card and help your mother fill it out. Then you return the card to the post office or mail it to the nearest office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service. It is important that the card be filled out during January to avoid violating the law which requires that the card be filled out during that month. The post office will not have cards available after Jan. 31.

Q. How does an alien confined to an institution make his report?

A. The legal guardians shall make the report for aliens confined to mental or penal institutions.

Q. Do children who are aliens also have to report?

A. The law applies equally to alien children, but if they are under 14 years of age their parents or legal guardians should submit the address report card for them.

Q. What information should an alien have available when he goes to the post office to report his address?

A. In addition to his address, an alien shall report the date and place of his entry into the United States, date and place of birth, nationality, and most important, his alien registration number which appears on his alien registration receipt. If the number is preceded by the letter "A" the letter must be included on the report.

Q. Do all alien registration receipt cards bear a number?

A. No. An alien temporarily in the United States as a non-immigrant may be in possession of a visitor's permit, Form I-94, or a crewman's landing permit, Form I-95, that does not bear an alien registration number.

In this case, the reporting alien should write "NONIMMIGRANT" in the space where his alien registration number would normally be shown.

Q. Can an alien who has lost his registration receipt get a new one?

A. Yes. He can apply at any office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service for a new receipt card. The law also requires aliens to have with them at all times the alien registration receipt that was issued to them. Failure to have such a receipt can result in a fine or imprisonment.

Q. Should an alien withhold submission of his report because he has lost his Alien Registration Receipt and does not know his alien registration number?

A. No. He should show on the report that his card has been lost. He should immediately make application for a new receipt.

Q. Is a newly arrived immigrant who has not yet received his alien registration receipt required to report?

A. Yes, if he was in the United States on Jan. 1. He should write "NOT RECEIVED" in the space where his alien registration number would normally be shown.

Q. Is there anything in the law about reporting your change of address when you move?

A. Yes. When an alien changes his address, he has to report such a change within ten days of the change. He does this by securing a Change of Address Card from the nearest Immigration Office or post office and filling it out.

Q. Where can persons go for information when in doubt as to whether they should report?

A. They can write or go to any local office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service or to the Central Office located in Washington D.C.

Individual Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q) I took a loss on some stock shares I sold this year. Is there any change in the way I handle this for tax purposes?

A) Yes, the Tax Reform Act of 1969 made changes in the tax treatment of capital losses.

Capital losses continue to be deductible and can be used to offset capital gains. In addition, capital losses can be used to offset other income up to a maximum of $1,000 a year.

However, while short term capital losses are fully deductible from ordinary income only one half of net long term losses are deductible. For example, if your net long term capital loss is $1,000 and there are no other gains or losses, then half of it or $500 can be used to offset your other income.

Q) My dentist is doing some bridgework for me. Can I deduct the full cost on my 1970 return?

A) Dental expenses are subject to the same provisions as medical expenses. The total of the expenses that qualify may be deducted to the extent it exceeds 3 percent of your adjusted gross income.

Include dental expenses only if they were paid in your 1970 tax year. If the expenses come to $350, but you paid only $175 of that in 1970, just list the $175 when adding up medical and dental costs.

Q) My income will be lower than I expected this year, and I don't think I'll have any additional tax to pay. Can I just forget about my next estimated tax payment?

A) If you now estimate that you will have no additional tax to pay when you file your 1970 return, it is not necessary to make further estimated tax payments for 1970. Use your estimated tax worksheet to figure out the revised amount of tax liability and whether this will be met without making an estimated tax payment as scheduled in January.

Q) If I pay someone to take care of my baby while I'm working can I deduct the cost?

A) This may qualify as a child care expense. In that case you may deduct up to $600 of the amount you spend for the care of a dependent while you are working or looking for work. The deduction is raised to $900 when care is paid for two or more dependents.

Note that tax law limits the deduction when the combined income of a working couple is over $6,000. Then the deduction is reduced by the amount their income exceeds $6,000. This and other rules are explained in Publication 503, Child Care and Unemployed Dependent Care, available free from your IRS District Office.

the Redwings. He pointed to three hopefuls in 119-pounder George Brown and other Redwing hopefuls in 98-pounder Tom Butler, heavyweight Rick Fisher and 119-pounder George Brown.

Both Brown and Fisher are Redwing co-captains this season.

Bath Bees' head wrestling Coach Gary Gaffner said he was entering a "young and promising" squad for the county tournament.

He said the Bee matman to watch is Dennis Kennedy, a senior competing in the 155 pound class, who has a 4-1 individual record.

Gaffner said two others who'll be on hand at the meet will be Larry Feguer, 167-pound division with a 2-1 record, and heavyweight Jeff Mosher, with a 2-1 mark. Mosher placed second last year in the regional tournament.

Gaffner said that he is optimistic about the county tournament, even-though three-fourths of his team is composed of freshmen and sophomores.

The tournament will be held this Saturday at the St. Johns gymnasium beginning at 10 a.m. when the preliminary events have been scheduled.

The consolation finals will begin at 1 p.m. and the big championship finals will start at 7 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased at the door. Prices range from 50 cents for the quarter finals, 75 cents for the consolation finals and $1.25 (for adults—75 cents for students) for the championship finals.

Business notes

By MIKE PREVILLE
News Advertising Manager

Stop in and have a cup of coffee on Earl Frechen this week. Earl is celebrating 35 years of serving Fowler area folks.

Earl has changed locations over the years, moving the market from the coffee-house location to the corner where he's doing business today.

$42,289,970.78. That's forty-two million, two hundred eighty-nine thousand, nine hundred seventy dollars and seventy-eight cents. That's the figure Clinton National ended 1970 with. That's also the figure that should have been in last week's Clinton National ad.

Now all we have to do is write that figure 100 times and Brandon White of Clinton National Bank will let us off the hook.

We really don't mind when Tim Younkman beats us one-handed on the pool table. Nor do we care when Big Mama spots us 40 pins and still whups us on the alleys. But we draw the line when our 10 year old kid hustles us for quarters playing paddle pool.

Santa brought a paddle pool game this past Christmas and right up to this past weekend we could out paddle the household. Then, Friday being allowance day, it was suggested that cold hard cash be wagered on the outcome.

Amid squalls of "no fair" and "Dad cheats" we expertly cleaned our youngest of all his spending money for the week. Then our eldest who shall be known from this day forth as "Michigan Skinny" issued a challenge.

For two weeks wh had beaten him every game, but that wasn't for money. With cash on the line he blocked shots disgustingly easy and scored almost at will. Ten games and $2.50 later we decided we'd been had.

We weren't angry or embarrassed but for his own good we thought we would teach him a lesson of life... by breaking both his thumbs. The Big M not only wouldn't let us but forced us to pay back our youngest. Some-days you just can't win.

Just think, only two more weeks ends of football. This Sunday, of course, is the Super Bowl (Baltimore vs Dallas, as if you didn't know.) And the all-star game the following week wraps it up.

We don't know what that means at your house but at ours it means the children will once again be allowed to speak on Sundays and we'll open the door for company again.

1971 Michigan Winter Sports fun

FIRST WINTER

The Federal-Mogul credit union building seems to be weathering its first Michigan winter in fine style. The new offices, located adjacent to the Redwing Bowling Lanes and Andy's IGA in St. Johns, will be ready for visitors this spring.

Michigan's 1971 winter sports season is strictly for people on the go.

"Spectators and participants alike will find plenty of excitement and fun among 51 top events scheduled by Michigan communities from mid-January through March," states Jerry E. Fisher, Automobile Club of Michigan touring manager.

Whether it's snowmobile races or safaris, all-around festivals or carnivals, ski jumping or ski flying, dog sled races, speed skating or even a sports car ice run, winter sportsmen may select from an active and varied calendar of events.

Auto Club's winter sports map lists events in all sections of the state with 14 in East Michigan, 17 in West Michigan and 20 in the Upper Peninsula. Petoskey will be the busiest community with four events.

"Snowmobile gatherings, either for races or safaris, top the list with 17," Fisher points out. There is at least one scheduled each week through February. A dozen or more all-around winter carnivals or festivals also are on tap in both the Upper and Lower Peninsula.

A total of 18 events are set for January with Tip-Up-Town USA on Houghton Lake highlighting the festivities on Jan. 16 and 17. Grand Prix snowmobile races will be held on the lake Jan. 23 and 24.

Approximately 30,000 persons are expected to attend this 21st annual Tip-Up-Town, which is a fun-filled tribute to a variety of winter activities that include ice fishing, a parade, contests, races, fireworks, sky divers and the queen's ball and coronation.

Winter festivals also are planned at Ludington, Jan. 16-31; Sault Ste. Marie, Jan. 22-23; Cadillac, Jan. 29-31; Union Lake, Jan. 30-31; Petoskey, Jan. 29-Feb. 7 and Cheboygan, Jan. 31-Feb. 1.

The Thunder Bay 250 Snowmobile Race is slated Jan. 16-17 at Alpena while the Michigan International Grand Prix Snowmobile Race is set Jan. 17 at Standish and the Traverse City 250 Snowmobile Race is to be held Jan. 23.

February is the most active month with 29 events on the agenda. One of the biggest is the International 500 Mile Snowmobile Classic Feb. 5 at Sault Ste. Marie. Fifty racers are expected to compete for $20,000 in prize money. More than 35,000 spectators are anticipated.

The 46th annual Winter Sports Carnival weekend in Grayling, Feb. 12-14, boasts a variety of unique activities from canoe races down ski slopes to winter art contests.

Kalkaska will host the Midwest Championship Sled Dog Races Feb. 6-7 while the National Bump Jumper Contest is set for the Petoskey Winter Sports Park on Feb. 7. This event consists of single runner sleds with high seats.

"Only" four events are scheduled in March with the National Indoor Speed Skating Championships at Flint's IMA Sports Arena leading the list. Approximately 400 skaters from throughout the U.S. are expected for the March 6-7 event, which is held yearly in a different city in the country.

Food marketing--tremendous job

The U.S. food marketing system serves more than 200 million Americans by getting farm products to consumers in the form and at the time they want them according to Nick Smith, chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

The system involves many different operations such as assembling, grading, storing, processing, packaging, transportation, pricing, risk taking, quality control and the developing and testing of new products. The system includes some 800,000 firms which employ the equivalent of 5.3 million full time workers.

With the growth in population and the increased consumption per person the marketing system has risen 26 per cent since 1957. Smith pointed out that the new farm program legislation recently passed by Congress will have a decided effect on the marketing of America's food.

The new farm bill is designed to give farmers more flexibility in making their own farm operating decisions. It puts a greater reliance on the marketplace. Thus producers will become less dependent on government programs. The bill is designed to protect farm income while making an orderly transition to greater reliance on the marketplace. And, it will help bring our agricultural production into line with the demands of the marketplace.

In 1969 consumers spent a total of $103.6 billion for food and this averaged out to $510 per person. Consumers spend less of their income each year for food. For example, in 1969, food expenditures took 16 1/2 per cent of their disposable personal income.

This is the lowest share on record, however, farmers received an average of 41 cents out of each $1 spent for U.S. farm produced food in 1969.

Open Letter from VAN W. HOAG

Dear friends,

In commemorating Christmas, the birth of Christ, the thought comes to mind, "How would Christ most wish us to honor his birth?"

In his own ministry, Christ showed an abiding concern for the needy, the ill, the unfortunate. If each of us does some little act to improve the circumstances of the less fortunate, it will certainly brighten the light of Christmas in our own hearts.

Sincerely,
Van W. Hoag

Best and cheapest--seldom found items that end up on the grocery bill at the check-out counter.

"She would find, if the carts were checked separately, that she had effected an instant reduction in what she and her husband had looked upon as the family food bill

"And she or anyone else who pursued the matter further, would find that American consumers spent last year only about 16-1/2% of their income after taxes for food. This is the lowest in American history -- down from 20% in 1960

"And it is the lowest ratio in the world. World statistics for 1967 -- the latest available -- put Canada, whose agricultural economy is similar to ours, just behind the United States. Candians that year spent 20% of their money for food, while the U.S. ratio was 19 per cent.

"The figure was 37 per cent of income for food in Japan and Italy 43% in Spain, 50% in the Soviet Union, 60 per cent in India -- and I don't think you'll find many TV dinners, bake-and-serve rolls or frozen pies in the food baskets of those countries.

"Americans work less time to buy food than workers anywhere. The American works half the time -- six minutes -- to buy a loaf of bread that a worker does in Paris, Munich, or Moscow.

"Thanks to the efficiency of the American livestock industry, the American industrial worker can buy a pound of sirloin steak by working 24 minutes. It takes the Canadian 27 minutes, the Frenchman an hour and 50 minutes, the Brazilian two hours, and the Russian two hours and 12 minutes."

The most important part of the message from Secretary Harden for American food shoppers was contained in his point that if we would distinguish between dollars spent at the supermarket and dollars spent on food--not necessarily the same--we'd recognize more clearly that in the United States today we do have the world's most varied and convenient food supply at the world's lowest prices when expressed as percentage of after tax income. . . an important instance of "best" and "cheapest" in one package.

Wash day is complicated

No longer do we sort today's clothes into "white" or "dark" clothes for laundering. Instead we must know water temperature, kinds of detergents, bleaches and other "aides" that will get the clothes clean yet not harm the fibers or finishes used in them.

In addition we have the great controversy about phosphates and other ingredients so important to cleaning action. All of these things cause conflict in the homemaker's mind, and raise the question of "what should I do?"

To help answer some of these questions and to present facts

By LORRAINE SPRAGUE Extension Home Economist

upon which to base decisions, the Clinton, Gratiot and Shiawassee Family Living Education Extension Home Economists Helen Meach and Lorraine Sprague will be conducting lesson-studies. All interested homemakers are invited to attend, and study-group project leaders are urged to attend.

Meetings will be held from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. on Jan. 13 Casino, Corunna; Jan. 14, Commercial National Bank Building, Ithaca; and Jan. 19, Central National Bank Building, St. Johns.

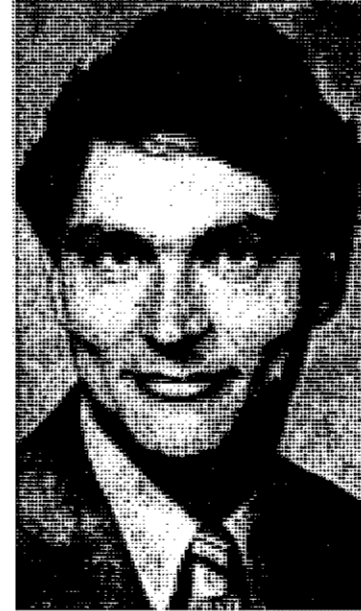

Study group leaders will receive teaching aids to assist them in re-teaching the two lessons that will be presented each day. The materials will provide leaders with information for two months of meetings with their study groups. It is suggested that those attending bring a sack lunch and enjoy noon-time fellowship.

Mazzolini appointed to staff

Joseph Mazzolini, son of Mrs. A. Mazzolini of 204 E. Walker, St. Johns, returned from Europe this fall where he has been engaged for the past seven years as an opera singer in Germany and Switzerland. He now has been appointed as voice instructor at the Michigan Conservatory of Music in Detroit and the Birmingham Conservatory of Music and Dance.

In Germany Mazzolini was the leading operatic tenor at the Pforzheim Stadttheater and the Sudwest Deutsche Oper which toured Germany and Switzerland.

The Stuttgarter Zeitung said of his German debut as Tamino in Mozart's "Magic Flute": "Certainly of most interest was the debut of Joseph Mazzolini. His voice is perfectly placed; he sings with much feeling; and there was no doubt of his success as evidenced by the accolade at the end of his "Bildnis" aria."

Mazzolini had made his operatic debut earlier in Chiust, Italy; as Count Almaviva in "The Barber of Seville." He was later to sing this same role in German and English, as well as in Italian; and in the 1964-65 season sang it in 28 performances.

He plans to continue to perform in concert and opera and at the moment is appearing with the Wayne State University graduate program in Lyric Theatre's production of Floyd's contemporary musical drama, "Susannah" at the Bonstelle Theatre in Detroit.

A 1942 graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School, he and his wife the former Frances Marrelli of St. Johns now reside in Rochester, Mich.

4-H Chatter

Glass tonnage tops 19

FROM OCTOBER through January the 4-H Teen Leaders have collected 37,620 pounds of disposable glass bottles.

A breakdown shows 4,980 pounds collected in October, 10,380 pounds in November, 12,220 pounds in December and 10,040 pounds in January.

Comments from many people indicated they feel this is a very worthwhile project and a great community service by the 4-H youth.

THE NEXT GLASS collection day will be on Saturday, Feb. 6 between 10 and 2 p.m. at the fairgrounds in St. Johns.

er contact a local 4-H club or bring the glass to the fairgrounds if they live outside of St. Johns.

If they live in St. Johns the glass should be set out by the curb by 10:00 a.m. The glass is collected the first Saturday of each month.

THE 4-H TEEN Leaders were treated to a special program Thursday evening as Sally Narki, from Baraga County, showed slides of her experiences the past six months in Taiwan on the International Farm Youth Exchange Program.

Sally explained about the people, houses she lived in, agriculture, customs and about the 4-H youth in that country. The teen leaders voted to purchase a new 3 X 5" 4-H flag for Smith Hall so all groups using the hall could use it.

The group went swimming Monday evening at the St. Johns school pool. In February the teen leaders will tour the Owens Illinois Glass Plant at Charlotte where glass bottles are made.

The 4-H Tel Award forms will be in the mail soon for 4-H members 15 years or older with three or more years in 4-H work. They will have the opportunity to complete the application if they are interested in participating in the county, state and national 4-H award program.

In 1970 Clinton County had seven state winners who were honored with a trip out of state or a savings bond. Although I don't expect as many state winners this year I feel Clinton County 4-H members who participate will make some excellent showings in the award program.

RESERVATIONS are coming in for the 4-H Snow Camp Weekend trip to Traverse City on Jan. 29-31. It is expected that nearly 100 members and adults will make the trip. The cost is $10.75 for adults and non trip winners and $5.00 for trip winners.

FORTY-SIX steers have been registered for the 1971 Clinton County 4-H Fair Show and Sale. There are 32 members with single steers and 7 members with two steers.

THE 4-H DOG club members who are raising leader dogs for the blind will hold their next meeting on Monday, Jan. 18 at 7:30 p.m. at Smith Hall in St. Johns.

THE COUNTY 4-H Council will hold its regular meeting on Monday, Jan. 18, 8:00 p.m. at the home of Dan Gorman near DeWitt. The council will be discussing spring achievement, leadership, exchange programs and other activities affecting the 4-H program.

THE FOLLOWING 4-H clubs will be participating in the 4-H roller skating activity on Thursday, Jan. 21, 7:00 p.m. at the Ranch Roller Rink in St. Johns: French's Corners, Country Cousins, Willing Workers, Keepers of the Angels of Agriculture, Double M, 4-H Womers, Merry Makers, Happy Hustlers, Saddlemates, We-Hah-Kay-Asta and Countryside.

THE BENGAL Community 4-H club members have reached their quota of $1 per member to the National 4-H Center Drive with a $17 donation. The members and their families enjoyed a family potluck dinner and exchange of gifts.

THE HAPPY Hustlers 4-H members went Christmas Caroling at the Rivard Nursing Home at their last meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus greeted the members upon their return and passed out gifts following some recreation.

THE MERRY Makers 4-H members of Elsie went Christmas Caroling at their last meeting. The members enjoyed a gift exchange and recreation. It was pointed out that Spring Achievement project evaluation will be on Saturday March 20 and members were to have their projects completed before that date.

THE EAGLE Beavers 4-H members discussed the glass bottle pickup program and who were participating. The members discussed the 4-H Style Show in brief which will be held on March 26 and 27 at the St. Johns Junior High School. Mrs. Esten Beauchau brought information about the 4-H Snow Trip weekend Jan. 29-31 to Traverse City.

THE ELSIE 4 Corners 4-H members were treated to an excellent showing of slides on Japan by Norman Blakely, Rose Oberlin and Kam Washburn gave demonstrations relating to their projects and members paid their dues for the year.

Holstein group to elect officers at annual meet

Grade dairymen have been invited to attend the annual Clinton County Holstein Association meeting set for Jan. 16 at Riley Hall.

Three directors will be chosen through a special election during the meet. Included in the program will be Ken Mattson, who will display color slides of Japan.

The 12 noon meeting will be held at Riley Hall, Church Road, about one mile west of Francis Road.

Tickets are $2.25 and can be purchased from the directors of the group, including Duane Green, Elsie; Ervin Marten, DeWitt; George Hazle, St. Johns; and Keith Smith, Lalgensburg.

Other directors are Lawrence Cobb, Elsie; Ron Arens, Westphalia; Charles Bracey, Ovid; Jim Becker, St. Johns; and George Baird, DeWitt.

A meal will be served by the Riley Lutheran Church Ladies Aid group.

Phosphates-the real villains?

Are phosphates the real evil causing water pollution?

An abundance of information has been distributed in recent months singling out phosphates as the most detrimental pollutant in our waterways. A closer look at this "evil" might clear up some of the misconceptions and perhaps realign the conscientious consumer toward other ways of eliminating the total pollution of all our water in the near future.

Phosphorus is found in every living cell and is essential for life. It is peculiar in nature because it forms so many insoluble compounds and substances such as the mineral apatite, bones, and teeth.

Most soils of the world lack sufficient available phosphorus to support even protective vegetation, let alone sustain a profitable agriculture without fertilization.

Discovery of phosphate fertilizers by Liebig, Lawes and Gilbert in England in the 1840's is one of the greatest discoveries of that century.

Treating insoluble minerals and bones with sulphuric acid was the key man needed to facilitate recycling of nature's great stores of insoluble phosphates.

Using phosphate fertilizers, along with other essential nutrients, man has been able to grow high-quality food in abundance. Without these fertilizers there would be no means of supporting present world population.

Ecologists and limnologists often say, erroneously, that phosphorus is the key to growth of algae, and the cause of the death of lakes. They seem to overlook the fact that algae require about 200 times as much carbon as phosphorus.

One ton of algal tissue, which can grow in two months per acre of lake area, will contain 1000 pounds of carbon and only about five pounds of phosphorus. The latter can easily be supplied by the water because of the vast phosphorus stores which have accumulated over centuries in bottom muds and organic deposits.

But, where does the 1000 pounds of carbon come from?

Ordinary water contains only 0.4 to 1.0 ppm of CO2, or the equivalent of 0.1 to 0.21 ppm of carbon. Normal water in equilibrium with normal air could never grow one ton of dry algae tissue per acre in a growing season.

The point overlooked is that organic matter, such as sewage, is necessary as a source of carbon. It is utilized by bacteria, which evolve the carbon dioxide necessary for massive growth of algae.

Once the process gets going it's difficult to control, because as the algae die, their carbon also is consumed by more bacteria, which, in turn, evolve more carbon dioxide to grow more algae.

As yet all of the details of the complex "symbiosis" are not fully understood. We do know enough, however, to realize that removing phosphorus from water effluents will not control excessive growth of algae in natural or man-made bodies of water unless excess available carbon inputs also are controlled.

Averaging income takes bite from tax

If 1970 was a very good year for you financially, Uncle Sam has made it easier to reduce the tax bite by averaging out your current income over preceding years that were not so good, according to Robert L. White, President of The Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants.

The Tax Reform Act of 1969 has increased the benefits available under income averaging and now permits income realized on property received by gift or inheritance, as well as income from wagering and long-term capital gains, to be averaged.

In averaging income, White says, a taxpayer in effect spreads current income over the current and preceding four years, thereby lowering the tax rate on current income. The result is a lesser over-all tax obligation.

"If your 1970 taxable income is at least $3,000 more than 120 percent of the average of your 1966 through 1968 taxable incomes," he goes on, "generally you will qualify for income averaging."

The benefits can be substantial, he adds, citing the following illustration: Mr. and Mrs. Adams filed joint Federal income tax returns for the years 1966 through 1969.

Mrs. Nora Braun of Fowler spent a couple of days with Mrs. Rose Rademacher of Westphalia.

Mrs. Rose Rademacher of Westphalia, Mrs. Anna Spitzley and Mrs. Norman Braun spent Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Nora Braun.

A stork shower was hosted by Agnes George and Alice George at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reynold George Sunday, Jan. 10 for Christine Ann Gomez. Guests were the great-grandmother, sisters, aunts and cousins of Marle and George. The baby received many useful gifts.

Their average taxable income during that period was $20,000. In 1970, their taxable income was $44,000 and again they will file a joint return. Their Federal tax liability, computed without averaging would be $14,060 before surcharge. Using income averaging, it will be $12,860 before surcharge, a saving of $1,200.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

by GARY A. KLEINHENN MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

When's the last time you saw a good western? Remember the old cattle drive? It was the background for many a shoot-out.

Rustlers were a-plenty, but the herd usually got to market. Getting beef to market was as essential then as it is today. But then things were different. We only had the railroad lines that pulled this country together and those cattle were loaded at depots scattered over the country and shipped to centrally located stockyards and slaughterhouses.

A good deal of those cattle were processed at the toe of Lake Michigan.

The Chicago Stockyards, during their peak a half century ago, handled over 14 million head of livestock annually. And after a half-century slide to about two million head last year, their gates will finally close Feb. 1.

Looking back it was a rugged and romantic era, but progress chipped away at the usefulness of the central or terminal stations as in Chicago. It began with refrigeration when processed foods could now be sent great distances.

It also began with the development of trucks, better roads and highways that limited dependence not in the tax package mailed to you by the Internal Revenue Service, it may be obtained from any local IRS office.

White suggests that "if you are in doubt as to whether income averaging can reduce your 1970 tax cost, invest the few minutes required to complete the Schedule G form. The instructions are not overly difficult to follow."

Only two categories of income are now unavailable for income averaging: premature distributions from self-employment retirement plans and distributions from trusts of accumulated taxable income.

Grass roots red tape

The problems of solid waste disposal have been in the making for sometime and suddenly they have reached proportions which demand immediate action.

Various government units in Clinton County recently met to discuss the future of solid waste disposal programs and, sadly, the gathering disbanded with little or nothing accomplished.

For the most part Clinton residents have received efficient service from their county government, and in the last two years a service agency—the Department of Public Works — has reflected this effectiveness.

There can be much said for keeping government at the grass roots level but frequently the roots of the grass are imbedded too deeply in thinking which is burdened by resentment and denial of obviously changing demands and processes.

Building use

The St. Johns High School has been in use for over a full year now and we can hardly let the time pass without pointing out the expanded programming and building use since the new quarters were opened.

Aside from the general curriculum growth which could be expected from completion of an entirely new school, the use of facilities by the general public should, indeed, be gratifying to taxpayers who supports the St. Johns school district.

In this day of concern for squeezing all out of a dollar that can be squeezed, use of the new high school building is encouraging.

'That Other Spread'

By WARREN E. DOBSON

I know I am old-fashioned, I've been around awhile, 'N when I do assert myself There's folks inclined to smile; But when it's time for eatin', To put upon my bread I'll still take good 'cow' butter Rather than 'that other spread'!

I'm not againt economy— On some things I rate 'tight' But butter lends a flavor That to me is quite all right; And I will still economize On other things instead, So long I'm not obliged to eat 'That other kind' of spread!

There's a bug known as 'cholesterol' That has folks plenty scared, It's supposed to damage systems So they can't be repaired; I'll never rate an M.D. But one thing still I dread, Findin' I am offered skim milk 'N that other kind of spread.'

We're headed, so they tell us, To all 'mechanical' cows That cut down on farm labor Much as the law allows; But I'll continue to maintain I could be better fed, Than by skim milk on the table 'N that other kind of spread!

DeWitt board disputes sewer charges, Jaycees name Teeters, Federal-Mogulbuys St. Johns plant

ONE YEAR AGO Jan. 14 1970

The DeWitt Board of Education moved to turn over to their attorney disputed sewer charges from the city of DeWitt. DeWitt is charging the board at the rate of $2.25 per person.

A week prior to the board meeting, Superintendent James Ritchie attended a city council meeting to question the sewer rate. Ritchie's subsequent figures indicated DeWitt was charging the schools more than twice as much as any other school district he had checked.

Robert Montgomery, chairman of the Tri-County and Lansing airport committee still hoped that Eaton County supervisors might reconsider their action to not participate in a Tri-County Airport Authority.

Clinton County will receive $65,635 of a $10.7 million chunk of Federal Aid Secondary money that is allotted to Michigan counties and the State Highway Department. This figure was about $70,000 less than was received in 1969 because the increase was not as great as the increase in the national average.

Pewamo-Wesphalia slammed the Panthers from DeWitt by the final score of 56-49. P/W led all the way throughout the contest while DeWitt played a never-ending game of catch-up that never succeeded.

The Bath Fighting Bees extended their undefeated basketball streak to six by conquering the likes of Dansville 62-32, and Laingsburg, 72-51. At the end of the previous week both Bath and Stockbridge held identical 4-0 conference records to share the Ingham County League lead.

The St. Johns Redwings thumped the Orioles and Panthers from Charlotte and Alma as they recorded wins over both clubs. The Orioles tasted a sharp defeat early in the game as the Redwings outscored the group from Charlotte 30-9 in the first period. The final tally was 78-52. Alma was on the short end of a 92-65 margin when their game was through with the Redwings. Both opposing coaches praised the fine play of the St. Johns squad.

TEN YEARS AGO Jan. 12 1961

The St. Johns Junior Chamber of Commerce selected Owen C. Teeters executive vice president of the St. Johns National Bank as their 'Outstanding Young Man of the Year' at a recent ceremony. Carl Nobis was named 'Outstanding Young Farmer of the Year' at the same gathering.

Each man was presented a plaque by Jaycee president Jack Hart.

Clinton County's Board of Supervisors voted 12 to 7 in favor of investing $80,000 of the county general fund into a new Children's Home to replace the present inadequate structure at 201 E. Gibbs St. in St. Johns.

Two attorneys one considering a return to private law practice after many years of public service and the other, who only a few days ago left the counselor ranks, met for an informal, private visit on Jan. 4 at the nation's Capitol.

The two were Congressman James Harvey of the 8th District of Michigan and Richard M. Nixon current vice president of the United States who, in eight days would turn over his duties to Democrat Lyndon Baines Johnson, vice president under John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

The Belding Redskins scalped the Redwings 73-36 for St. Johns' sixth defeat in seven games so far this season.

Unlike St. Johns, the Ovid Romans rolled to their first win of the season with a 49-33 thumping of neighboring rival Elsie. Both teams are now credited with one win apiece this season. The Big Red started fast with an 11-point first quarter to the winners only four. Jim Butler of Elsie took scoring honors by netting 17 points.

Marshal Salter of St. Johns retired from city work after 32 years of service in the area. Salter spent the past several years driving dump trucks for the city crews.

25 YEARS AGO Jan. 17, 1946

Federal Mogul announced that they were going to open a plant in St. Johns for the production of bearings of all types. 200 were to be employed by the firm. The plant was formerly occupied by the St. Johns Portable Building Company at the corner of Steel and Mead Streets.

'IF IT FITZ . . .

Give the man a medal

By JIM FITZGERALD

2 dogs were recently awarded Bronze Star medals "for meritorious service" against hostile forces in Vietnam. Arf, arf, said Sandy.

The magnificent hoax was pulled off by some soldiers to demonstrate that the wholesale awarding of medals has cheapened their value to the point where a true hero is reluctant to accept one. Military brass hats exchange medals like peanuts, competing to see which can wear the most ribbons on his manly chest.

I remember how it was in 1945. After over 2 years in the army, I ended up at Camp Polk, La., still a buck private. I was made an assistant to a colonel who was also a chaplain in that order. My main job was to drive him once a week to the other side of camp where he gave patriotic-Christian sermons to the Negro soldiers who were not allowed in the camp's main church unless they were carrying brooms.

"I can't have any buck private working for me," the colonel said. Overnight I became a corporal 3 months later I was a sergeant. One day it was announced there would soon be a big parade and ceremony at which a visiting general would pin medals on deserving enlisted men.

"Write yourself up for a Legion of Merit" the colonel ordered. That was the highest award given for outstanding service performed under non-combat conditions.

"Can I get that for changing my typewriter ribbon faithfully every week whether it needs it or not?" I asked him. "You can think of something better than that," the colonel grumped. "I've never had an assistant who didn't win a medal and I don't want to start now."

Right here because there are still people around who remember I'd better admit I was a lousy chaplain's assistant. The awful truth is that my nickname around camp was The Drunken Padre. When the chaplain thought I was out posting church notices, I was actually drinking beer in the sergeant's club or shooting pool in the day room.

That winter it had been ordered that every jeep in camp switch to winter tires. They meant switch tires, not wheels. You had to get a crowbar, or whatever, and pry 4 tires off the rims, then pry 4 others on. That was work to which I was unaccustomed.

There were something like 1,500 jeeps in camp. By Christmas 1,499 had switched tires. My jeep was the lone exception. The chaplain never noticed because he always looked up, straining to see how many officers in heaven out-ranked him.

"I'd change them now but I don't want to interfere with every soldier's right to worship as he sees fit," I would explain. Captains never argued with generals or God. The tires were never switched.

Unfortunately, the colonel didn't agree that this devotion to dereliction was worth the Legion of Merit. He dropped my write-up into his sinner file and never mentioned the subject again.

And I hadn't thought about the colonel for 25 years, until I read about those 2 dogs getting Bronze Star medals. If they had been his dogs, it wouldn't have been a hoax. Onward and Upward.

TAKING FIVE

New news diet

By RON HUARD

Gadzooks, there's change afoot in the news. I read in the Free Press last weekend where a good, old-fashioned money scandal might be a-brewing in Illinois.

After chomping on a news diet of demonstrations, bombings, civil disorders, muggings, drug abuse and hate-America promotions, it seemed a welcome change.

It was a living recall to the uncomplicated days of the post-war 40's when, aside from communism, political graft and mob activities used up more ink than the government printing offices. It was a time when, surprising or not, each new report of a cash cache by some prominent official drew expressions of shock and grumbling that to find an honest politician would be like finding an Israeli on the board of directors of a chapter of the Order of Hibernians.

At the time the issues appeared awfully messy to us, but they pale considerably when compared to things that made news during the 60's.

The current interest in the state that always has led the parade of government related money scandals centers around a former secretary of state, Paul Powell, who died last October and left little nest eggs scattered in his wake.

As is typical of these things, no one seems to know for sure what the total amount of the nest eggs is but each little find is reported in five and six figures.

Atop all this is a divorcee secretary, tangled tales of the dead man's associates activities immediately upon his death and a tie-in with a scandal from those earlier years. A real whing-ding in the making.

Now, mind you, I don't like public officials to be tied to nasty things in any way. It really does give 'em a kinda bad image. But I gotta admit the current reports filtering out of Springfield, Ill. are a welcome change in the news diet.

It might be a bit harder to swallow, tho, if those reports were coming out of Lansing.

Another banner year

By TIM YOUNKMAN

It's stacking up to be another banner year. Obviously 1970 had left such a stark impression on the minds of Americans that the nation has not wanted to analyze the destructive effects of last year's events.

A recent news program emphasized the point. The UAW is about to go out on strike against Chrysler Corp. and is willing to endure another 90 day walkout if necessary to meet the demands. It is also obvious that if this should happen someone at Chrysler will be sitting at a desk in Detroit figuring out a new set of prices.

In Lansing, the town is still suffering from the effects of the GM strike—and it's plagued by two fresh ones. Motor Wheel Corp. employees have joined the city bus drivers in striking for higher wages.

The other news was not any more encouraging. A British ambassador, Geoffrey Jackson, was kidnapped while riding in his auto in Montevideo, Uruguay.

The Americans are back in the bombing business. A U.S. fighter-bomber attacked an anti-aircraft missile site in North Vietnam Friday, when the missiles threatened American B 52's raids into Laos.

The South was blasted with rare ice and snow storms ruining crops and endangering livestock.

Four children in Troy were killed when fire swept their home. All attempts by their parents and firemen were useless.

A district judge in Fenton was "censured" by the state Supreme Court for holding court while under the influence of alcohol.

Egyptian news reports indicate that Russian soldiers will not be used in the field during actual warfare with Israel.

A B 52 bomber carrying nine men on a practice bombing run crashed into Lake Michigan and only some life-jackets and debris were found. The Strategic Air Command reported that the men were presumed lost.

A local soldier explained how South Vietnamese officials make small fortunes on over-charging American GIs for official papers and records. He told of being forced to spend nearly $2,000 to secure proper records to bring his Vietnamese bride home. He said he plans to spend nearly that amount again before he can secure her legal entrance into this country.

The new year is barely more than one week old, and these old patterns are emerging once again.

It looks like we are in for another long year!

Deadlines

Because we haven't heard of a newspaper that suddenly materializes with all news, advertising copy and pictures in place and in A-1 condition, it becomes necessary for the Clinton County News to impose deadlines to insure a smooth flow of copy so that as much material as possible may be printed in proper form. Toward this end, these deadlines are now in effect:

- Display advertising.....Monday noon. Classified advertising.....Monday noon. Letters to the editor.....Thursday, 5p.m. News for farm pages.....Thursday noon. Wedding stories, pictures.....Thursday noon. Other contributed pictures.....Monday noon. Church and fine arts items.....Thursday, 5p.m. Regular columns.....Friday, 9 a.m. Sports page items.....Monday, 5p.m. Teen activities page items.....Thursday, 5p.m. Other contributed items.....Monday, 5 p.m.

A job to do

By REV. HUGH BANNINGA

In the 12th chapter of St. Paul's first letter to the Corinthian Church his message went something like this: "Now look, for the well-being of the Church there will always be diversities of gifts and therefore different functions. So get used to the idea."

There will always be a need for apostles to transmit the traditions of the faith. We will always need the prophets to study the gospel writings and bring them to bear on the life and culture of the times.

There will always be a need for teachers to instruct others in the faith in order that sound doctrine can be preserved from insidious heresies. There will always be a need for miracle workers and healers and administrators and even for those who speak in tongues.

So you Corinthian Christians respect the gift that the other person has, no matter what it is. All are essential and all are vitally necessary to each others."

St. Paul says the same thing to us today. He says to all clergymen, to all church board members, to all organizers, to all women in altar societies, to all church school teachers, to all acolytes, to all church treasurers, to all ushers, . . . "Don't get all puffed up over your particular job in the church. They're all needed and no one job is more important than another."

The great deeds and services we perform within the organization of the church indicate our talents and capacities, but it is really the small deeds and services we do which indicate the depth and the range of our consecration. This is what Christ wants from all of us.

No matter what our particular gift is from God, we are expected to perform humble service in His name.

A well known Scottish minister always tried to put appropriate illustrations in his sermons. One day he told his congregation about one of his dreams. He had dreamed that he had died, and naturally had presented himself at the pearly gates of heaven for admission.

But to his dismay, Peter denied him admission until he presented his credentials. The old man told of the sermons he had preached, but Peter said that no one had heard them in heaven. He spoke of his service to his city and of his pastoral work—a work that had made him beloved by hundreds of people. Even that was unknown in heaven.

Just as he was about to turn away from the gates, Peter said, "Stay for a minute and tell me this. Are you the man who fed the sparrows?" "Yes," was the reply, "but what has that to do with it?" "Come in," said Peter, "the Master of the sparrows wants to thank you."

Yes, we are expected to perform humble service in His name. What we do to keep the machinery of the church organization going won't count for much in the eyes of God. What He wants from us is humble service to others—service which comes from the greatest of all His gifts.

That, of course, is the gift of His love. He wants us to pass along His love to others. Sometimes this is a very difficult thing to do. Another clergyman tells about an experience he had in a restaurant. He says, "I was enjoying myself thoroughly when suddenly I looked up, and across the room, sitting in a corner with his back to the main entrance but facing me was a man whose face made me shudder."

I could not describe it to you if I would, and I would not if I could. It is enough to say that it was a face that had been completely shattered and misshapen. I could not keep my eyes off him. I kept looking at him and thinking and wondering—"what? when? how? why?" I noticed that one of the waiters stood and talked to him as he ate.

I thought to myself, "How kind of him. But how could he? Why couldn't I?"

"As I left the restaurant, I was unhappy and upset. I kept thinking to myself, 'If I, a person who normally has kind and generous instincts, and as a Christian professes to be a lover of mankind—if I am a victim of such instinctive aversions that I turn away from a man whom I ought to have turned toward, what can we expect from other people who neither by profession nor natural inclination are moved to be kind?'"

This story gives us something to think about, doesn't it? Have you ever had an experience like that? Have you turned away from someone, because of his extreme physical ugliness. And have you experienced the guilt feelings after you missed the opportunity to bring some happiness and love into that person's life?

St. Francis of Assisi almost turned away from someone, because of his physical ugliness. St. Francis had a particular aversion to lepers. One day as he was riding along, he saw a leper come out of a cave and come toward him.

When the leper was right in front of him, St. Francis spurred his horse to goon. Yet, when he was further on down the road, he knew that he had done something profoundly wrong, and he went back and kissed the leper on the lips. And as he went on his way, it seemed as if the very heavens sang for joy.

This is what God wants us to do each day. He wants us to do little humble acts of service to others, so that the heavens will sing for joy.

Matthew 20:20 - 28 scripture reading set the background for the message Sunday morning at the Church of Christ worship hour. Special in song was presented by Coni Burnham with her guitar as she sang, "I Looked for Love." Greeters for the day were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hood.

LIBRARY CLUB MEETS

There were 13 present when the Ovid-Duplain Library Club met at the home of Mrs. Harold Frisbie on Friday, Jan. 8.

Mrs. Charles Palen, Jr. was chairman due to the absence of the president.

The speaker for the day was Glenn L. Deisler of Deisler's Flower Shop. He started his talk by telling how to take care of houseplants. Some interesting things brought out were that houseplants should be treated like a pet, they liked sunlight, and they don't like an extreme change in the temperature. He also stated that watering and humidity have a lot to do with the growth of the plant.

He demonstrated how to build a terrarium which does not require as much care as other plants. The plants should be small and of the slow-growing variety. The dish or glass bowl should be lined with sheet moss and the soil should contain a high content of protein in with the peat moss.

The Pledge of Allegiance and collect was repeated in unison.

Mrs. Roger Smith has consented to take charge of the Memorial at the County Federation when it meets in the spring.

Mrs. Charles Palen, Jr. was the nominee for county treasurer to be elected at the spring meeting.

Mrs. Nell Dalby or a representative from Girls Town will be a speaker at the February meeting at the Shepardsville United Methodist Church with the Crescent Club guests for the afternoon.

Jan. 9, Saturday evening, at 7:30 p.m. the annual congregational meeting will be held at the Duplain Church of Christ. New officers for the year will be elected at this time and reports given relative to the work accomplished during the past year.

Luman Hall had the misfortune to fall and fracture his hip Wednesday evening. He is at Owosso Memorial Hospital where he will be confined for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. James Burnham called Thursday on Mrs. Mary H. Petro, Mr. and Mrs. Theron Jessup and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Mapes in St. Louis. Thursday evening they spent with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Johnson in Flint.

EXTENSION CLUB MEETS

The daily requirements of vitamins were mentioned frequently and many suggestions for preparation of small quantities were made and recipes distributed.

The next meeting will be held on Friday, Feb. 5 at the home of Mrs. Helen S. Wiltsee, 146 West Pine St. This will also be a potluck dinner at 11:30 a.m. The lesson will be on "Today's Fabrics and Their Care".

Dire consequences?

By SEN. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

Every year, as regular as a clock, university officials complain that the Legislature is "short-changing" them on appropriations and predict dire consequences.

Somehow, those dire consequences never seem to materialize.

On the contrary, there are concrete indications just the opposite is happening.

Just a few days ago, national newspapers played up the fact that the University of Michigan's graduate school ranks in the top six of the nation.

The American Council of Education (ACE) released results of a study which ranked the University of Michigan in the top echelons along with the University of California, at Berkeley, Harvard, Yale, Stanford and the University of Chicago.

In the same survey, Michigan State University emerged as a school whose graduate programs, while not as distinguished as those at Michigan, are of better than average quality. And Wayne State University's graduate departments were all rated "adequate plus".

While legislative appropriations are not the only source of income for these educational institutions, it would appear that Michigan's universities haven't been "short-changed" too drastically.

Attaining such excellence of educational standards and such quantity in enrollments—U-M has 38,661 students, MSU 44,002, and Wayne State University 35,855—cannot be done very easily without fairly adequate financial support from the Legislature.

On another front: While state governments in deep financial difficulty are looking to Washington for help with their burdens, Michigan cities are looking to their state government for help with their financial problems.

Gov. William Milliken has been in the forefront of the nation's governors demanding that the

Jan. 15 is deadline for farmers' tax

Farmers who earned at least two-thirds of their 1970 gross income from farming should file their 1970 declaration of estimated Federal income tax by Jan. 15. Form 1040-ES(F) should be used for this purpose. However, farmers do not have to file an estimate if they file their 1970 Federal income tax return and pay all the tax due by March 1, 1971.

"Farmer's Tax Guide", Publication 225 furnishes information on this subject and may be obtained free by dropping a post card to District Director, Internal Revenue Service, Detroit, Michigan 48226 or your county farm agent.

Fishermen who expect to receive at least two-thirds of their gross income from fishing follow the same rules as those for farmers.

Dire consequences?

By SEN. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

Every year, as regular as a clock, university officials complain that the Legislature is "short-changing" them on appropriations and predict dire consequences.

Somehow, those dire consequences never seem to materialize.

On the contrary, there are concrete indications just the opposite is happening.

Just a few days ago, national newspapers played up the fact that the University of Michigan's graduate school ranks in the top six of the nation.

The American Council of Education (ACE) released results of a study which ranked the University of Michigan in the top echelons along with the University of California, at Berkeley, Harvard, Yale, Stanford and the University of Chicago.

In the same survey, Michigan State University emerged as a school whose graduate programs, while not as distinguished as those at Michigan, are of better than average quality. And Wayne State University's graduate departments were all rated "adequate plus".

While legislative appropriations are not the only source of income for these educational institutions, it would appear that Michigan's universities haven't been "short-changed" too drastically.

Attaining such excellence of educational standards and such quantity in enrollments—U-M has 38,661 students, MSU 44,002, and Wayne State University 35,855—cannot be done very easily without fairly adequate financial support from the Legislature.

On another front: While state governments in deep financial difficulty are looking to Washington for help with their burdens, Michigan cities are looking to their state government for help with their financial problems.

Gov. William Milliken has been in the forefront of the nation's governors demanding that the federal government hand out large chunks of money to help the states out of their financial crises.

The Governor knows that the only alternative is for a large increase in the state income tax to meet the rising cost of providing the services that the people of Michigan are demanding.

It is hoped, of course, that an increase in state taxes can be avoided by a handout from Washington. But Washington has the same problem trying to satisfy the states that the state does trying to satisfy cities—a definite lack of funds. Where is the money coming from?

Lansing Mayor Gerald Graves is calling a conference of 22 Michigan cities in financial trouble. He hopes to convince the Legislature to give cities the authority to levy a two per cent local income tax instead of the present one per cent limit, except in the case of Detroit which already is permitted to levy two per cent.

At present, local units of government are receiving about $145 million a year from the state as their share of state sales, income, and intangibles taxes.

It will be interesting to see how far this "borrow-from-Peter-to-pay-Paul" trend can go.
