FACT finder

Are you concerned about getting the straight facts on a question which arises but don't know where to find the answer? We'll find the facts for questions submitted by our readers. Just drop us a line at FACT FINDER, Clinton County News St Johns 48879.

Q-I would like to know why there is no public rest room in St Johns. I was in St Johns to shop and the rest room at the Municipal Building was locked. I asked in 2 stores if they had a rest room I could use and all said no. I realize they are misused, but why not make 1 on main street that you could pay 10 cents as other towns do. DC, out-of-town shopper

A-It seems you had the answer when you said you "realized they are misused." Tom Hundley, city clerk, said the Municipal Building restrooms are open during regular downtown business hours, but were forced closed after hours because of the extent of vandalism.

Q-Many a Friday evening this winter when we have approached the city of St Johns on M-21 from the west we can see the red light atop the General Telephone Tower from Forest Hill Road, a distance of 6 miles. However, when we get into the Southgate Shopping Center, I have looked toward the south to see if I can see the red light atop WRBJ Radio towers, a distance of about a mile. But, at no time have I been able to see the red light. Why is it that the light atop WRBJ towers cannot be seen? Doesn't WRBJ have any red signal light atop their towers for aviation purposes? AFH, PEWAMO

A-A short answer for a long question. Your friendly WRBJ announcer, Larry Patrick explained the station's towers do not meet the height where lights are required. The low altitude of the towers do not pose a threat to night aviators. If they're flying that low, they're in trouble to begin with.

Speak Out

ED NOTE: Last week's Speak Out was inadvertently omitted from the County News. The question asked "Do you feel there is a possibility of a peace settlement in Vietnam in the next 6 weeks?" Since that time, it was announced Monday that a bombing halt was called because of the progress of the peace negotiations. Our answers, YES: 40%
"It seems the US is making more headway than it ever has since the war started" ... "I think Kissinger and Nixon meant it when they said before the election that peace would come soon" ... "After all this time, I hope so."

NO: 60%
"It may come soon, but I don't think in 6 weeks" ... "Are we any closer now than we have ever been?" ... "How long has it been since we were told peace was at hand before the election?"

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION: Governor William Milliken has proposed a tax cut. Do you feel it will get the Legislature's stamp of approval?
YES NO

Jaycees present annual awards

ST JOHNS - Two St Johns teachers were named "Outstanding Young Educators" Tuesday night at the annual St Johns Jaycees Bosses Night.

Receiving the "Outstanding Young Educators" awards were Robert Koger of the high school drama department and Richard Kramer of the school business department.

A certificate of merit was presented to Algie Watkins of the elementary music department.

The Distinguished Service Award for meritorious service to the community was presented to J. Michael O'Connor, principal of Central Elementary School.

Joe Humenik was presented a certificate of appreciation for his part in bringing Santa Claus to St Johns as part of the Christmas program.

Individual Jaycee awards were also presented. Jack Downing received a life membership; Howard Kreamer and Ernie Meyers received Speak Up Awards and Spoke Awards and Spark Plug Awards were presented to Arnie Wiles and Wayne Woodbury.

Sewers suffer snags

ST JOHNS - Federal budget cuts an adverse effect upon St Johns' proposed sewer project. A number of nationwide community development projects, including the $4 million sewage treatment plant here, must now wait 4 to 5 years for federal aid in their construction.

Of the 352 applications for aid in Michigan, renovation of the St Johns plant is No. 79 on the priority list, with funds to install new sewers and a lift station farther down at No. 97.

Current inflationary construction costs will probably make the project even more expensive by the time aid is available. City officials fear this delay may make the city's share prohibitive. St Johns must pay 10 percent of the cost.

With the present cost estimated at $3,457,500 for sewer expansion and $461,000 for the lift station, the city's share would come to about $391,000 if the work could be done now. But, in 4 or 5 years inflation could bring St Johns' total share to half a million dollars.

Harvey Weatherwax, City Manager, said it would be financially impossible for the city to "go-it-alone" because that would require levying 7 or 8 mills over a period of 30 years.

Revenue sharing would not solve the problem either, he said, because the city's share amounts to only $70,000.

"I can't say whether the government's decision was right or wrong," Weatherwax stated, "Because I'm not familiar with finances in the federal budget."

"If I knew more about it I might be able to say whether I think it was a wise move or not," he added.

BATH - Thanks to the Michigan Attorney General's office the proposed Bath sewer system is a "neither here nor there" project.

An original ruling by the attorney general said Bath could not finance the project because it amounted to more than 10% of the unit's state equalized valuation.

Cost of the project would require bonds to be issued totalling $3,550,000. According to the attorney general's decision, the unit can only enter into a bonded indebtedness over $1,200,000. Bath Township's state equalized valuation is $12,000,000.

Patrick Berardo, attorney representing the township, said the attorney general's office would not accept the full faith and credit of the county, a procedure used in many cases to finance costly projects.

He said they changed their minds last week and would permit the township to finance the project if they did not have to levy taxes to pay for it.

That would be possible through hook-up charges and monthly payments for service.

However, he said between Thursday and Monday, they changed their minds and are not allowing Bath to proceed with the project.

Berardo said he will appeal for the township once more in an effort to get the attorney general to change the opinion.

Name Mrs Zeeb to Hospital Board

ST JOHNS - Paul E. McNamara, Clinton Memorial Hospital administrator announced the appointment of Mrs Irene Zeeb to the hospital's board of directors this week.

Mrs Zeeb was elected to the post by the executive committee of the Clinton Memorial Hospital association to fill a vacancy created by deceased member William Richards Sr. Annual elections at the hospital are held each year in May.

The executive committee members are: Lorenz Tiedt, president of the board of trustees; Earl Lancaster, vice-president of the board of trustees; John Rumbaugh, secretary-treasurer of the trustees; Bruce Fowler, chairman of the board of directors and Mrs John Paradise, chairman of the hospital's Auxiliary.

Mrs Zeeb is the first woman elected to serve the hospital in this capacity.

A lifelong resident of Clinton County, Mrs Zeeb is also first vice-president of the Clinton Memorial Hospital Auxiliary. While a resident of DeWitt, she was a member of the DeWitt Public School board for 7 years, serving as secretary for 5 years and president for 2 years.

SHE AND HER husband, Virgil, are owners and operators of Zeeb Fertilizers, Inc in St Johns and Mrs Zeeb serves as vice-president of the company.

A resident of 1103 Hampshire Dr in St Johns, the couple has 2 children and 1 grandchild.

Hot time in St Johns

A mid-morning fire Monday turns a St Johns Oil Company fuel truck into a boiling inferno. Driver of the truck, which was parked at the company's bulk plant for loading, Gary Biddinger, said he was loading the vehicle when the fire started. He was burned on the arm and face and suffered smoke inhalation. Admitted to Clinton Memorial Hospital, he was listed in good condition. Action by St Johns firemen and a Lansing foam truck crew prevented 3 large tanks within 10 feet of the burning truck from exploding.

County News Tourney Saturday

Wrestlers tangle in Pewamo-Westphalia

Saturday is the day. Clinton County wrestlers will invade Pewamo-Westphalia High School for the 4th Annual Clinton County News Wrestling Tournament, Saturday, Jan 20.

Participating will be Bath, DeWitt, Ovid-Elsie, St Johns and P-W. Winner of the tourney for the past 3 years has been Ovid-Elsie.

Bath

Bath carries into the tourney a 3-3 record with competition against New Lothrop, Dansville, Pewamo - Westphalia, Lake Fenton, Perry and Williamston. As of press time, coach Gary Gaffner had not made the cut to 12 wrestlers.

Services held for local accident victim

WESTPHALIA - Funeral services were held Monday from St Mary's Catholic Church in Westphalia for Thomas N. Platte, 26, of Westphalia, who died following an accident at Westphalia builders Jan 11. He was struck by a rolling truck and was taken to St Lawrence Hospital. See page 12A for obituary.

Ovid-Elsie

Ovid-Elsie carries a strong 4-1 record into the tournament. They have competed against Perry, St Johns, Chesaning, Mason, St Louis, Ithaca, DeWitt, Bullock Creek, Haslett, Corunna, Durand, Lansing Catholic Central and Shepherd.

DeWitt

DeWitt goes into the tournament with a 5-2 record with victories over Haslett, Fulton, P-W, Lake Fenton and Lansing Catholic Central. Their 2 losses were to Dansville and Williamston. Lynn LaBrique, coach, expects strong performances from Eddie Mathers, 105; Mike Spagnuolo, 119, Dale Young, 138, Duane Shootz, 145; and Jerry Marriot, heavyweight.

St Johns

St Johns has a 3-2 record with victories over Ionia, Lansing Harry Hill and Greenville. They placed 3rd at the Mason Holiday tournament.

Coach Bill Brown says he expects strong performances from the nucleus of his team, Mike Schneider, heavyweight, Rick Pearson, 167; Bob Hunter, 145; Don Lew, 126 and John Hayes, 119. Hopeful contenders are sophomores, Bill Wager, 98, Bob Rasdale, 105 and freshman Jeff Brasington, 155.

P-W

Pewamo - Westphalia is another team with a winning record - 8-3. They have competed against Lakewood, Bath, Leslie, DeWitt, Fulton, Portland, Springport twice, Michigan School for the Blind and Saranac.

Carrying the wrestling strength for Coach Doug Rearick are Roy Silvernail, 98; Chris Rademacher, 105, Bob Shepard, 112; Lester Shepherd, 119; Peter Blauwickle, 126; Tom Weber, 132; Mike Sheperd, 138; Bob McQueen, 145; Mike Rademacher, 155; Warren Silvernail, 167; Steve Fedewa, 185 and Chuck Bengel, heavyweight. Bengel has an 18-0 record with 16 pins.

Weigh-in for the tourney is noon to 1 with wrestling beginning at 2:30.

A team trophy will be awarded, plus an outstanding wrestler trophy with medals presented for 1st through 3d. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students in the afternoon and $1 for all admission for the evening.

Nominate 2 for Soil Conservation director

ST JOHNS-The nominating committee consisting of Donald Swagart, Leland Trierweiler, Sr, George Baird, Max Loudbeck, and Harry Harden have nominated Forest Westphalia of Watertown Township and David Conklin of Olive Township for the directorship held by Clarence Manning.

Manning has served on the board of the Clinton County Soil Conservation District since 1954. He says, "I am 60 years old and it's time to let someone younger serve on the District Board."

The election will be held Saturday,

Feb 3 at the Clinton County Soil Conservation District Annual Meeting at Smith Hall.

The meeting begins with dinner at 12 noon. Tickets may be obtained from district directors Stanley Baird, Clarence Manning, Kenneth Loudbeck, William Mayers, or Robert Moore, and at the office at 100 South Ottawa, St Johns.

Verlen Kruger will show his colored slides on two 70"x70" screens about his Cross Continent Canoe Voyage.

Wrestlers from Bath, DeWitt, Pewamo-Westphalia, St Johns and Ovid-Elsie will be competing for this team trophy, outstanding wrestler trophy and medals in Saturday's Fourth Annual Clinton County News Wrestling Tournament at Pewamo-Westphalia High School Saturday.

Bath Fire Department submits annual report

By Jan Brydon
County News Writer

BATH — "How much does your fire department do for you?"

This question was answered Monday for Bath Township residents in a report submitted to the Township Board.

According to the fire department's 1972 annual report, the volunteers fought 9 auto fires, 17 grass fires, 16 fires in dwellings, 3 in house trailers and 9 others.

Also answered were 12 false alarms and 26 rescue calls were made.

Total loss resulting from these fires was estimated at $67,190.

Following the report, the board voted unanimously to purchase new air packs (self contained breathing apparatus) for the fire department. The tanks they now use are unsafe, said trustee Daniel Carlton.

He added he did not want to be responsible for injuries incurred while firemen used the worn out equipment.

In other business the board approved a new 10-year street lighting contract with Consumers Power Company.

Local cow earns honors

ST. JOHNS—A cow owned by a St. Johns dairyman has qualified for listing among the Michigan Dairy Herd Improvement Association's exclusive "Top Twenty" high producers for the month of December.

Richard Feldpausch's 25 month old Holstein cow, with the barn number 94, completed her 305 M.E. lactation record with 26,406 pounds of milk, 931 pounds of butterfat and a 3.6 test. This is truly an outstanding record as compared to the state-wide Holstein Breed average of 13,662 pounds of milk and 493 pounds of butterfat.

Feldpausch has his herd enrolled in the DHIA testing program and is supervised by Lester LaBar of St. Johns. They work in cooperation with Earl Haas, Clinton County Extension Agent and Michigan DHIA, Inc.

DHIA, Inc, a state-wide dairy production testing organization, provides production management records for 2,300 Michigan dairymen milking 132,000 cows.

Further information about the production testing program can be obtained from your county extension agent

A packed house. That's what it was at St. Johns Friday night as Fowler and Pewamo-Westphalia fans invaded the county seat to see their teams do battle. The game was changed to St. Johns from the original Fowler location to accommodate the nearly 3000 fans who saw Pewamo-Westphalia challenge Fowler throughout the contest, losing in the final seconds 65-60. P-W led for most of the game, hoping to upset the Eagles and share the league lead.

Fowler All-Stars take on Harlem Sputniks

FOWLER — It's those merry mad men of basketball, sets 'em rolling in the aisles with laughter that dazzles one and all with its great players, top rowmen, passing and ball handling tricks with a program designed for the young and old is coming to Fowler.

These are the NEW YORK HARLEM SPUTNIKS, led by Rex "Sh...whoat" Jones, ex-Harlem Globetrotter and they'll all be here with a big pregame show, and a great half time show Jan 20 at Fowler High School gym with game time starting at 8 pm.

The hilarious Sputniks hold a bag of tricks that no other show of its kind can match. Every ball player on the Sputniks squad is a showman in his own right and they team up to perform the mystery of cagedom, the famous "Magic Circle", which is done in complete darkness with only the hands, feet and glowing ball visible to the human eye.

Starting their 6th season of play these delightful clowns of hardwoods have an incredible record of 1,045 wins against 9 defeats.

Proceeds go toward $1000 contribution to the village for their share of DNR recreation grant for park construction.

Scheduled to play are: Brendon Goerge, George Goerge, Clare Armbrustmacher, Roger Conley, Jim Koenigsnecht, Mike Kobach (coach), Gary Schueller, Jerome Pohl, Don Koenigsnecht.

Advance tickets are $1 and prices at the door are $1.25.

Special testing for soybeans

ST. JOHNS — Due to the uncertainty of soybean seed supplies for 1973 planting, a special testing program is available this year. The state seed laboratory in cooperation with Michigan State University and the Cooperative Extension Service will run germination tests on bin run samples. There is no charge for this service.

A good sample would be about a quart, representing all parts of the bin. Label the sample with variety and your name and address and bring it to our office at 1003 South Oakland, St. Johns.

If the sample looks good for seed purposes, a new official test will have to be run after the beans are cleaned for seed.

"Big Foot" comes to St Johns

SALT LAKE CITY - BIG FOOT the hairy, scary, almost human creature reported to be living in the woods of the Northwestern United States, is the subject of a new film report, released by American National Enterprises.

The latest findings concerning BIG FOOT or Sasquatch, as he was known in Indian legend, may be seen in this documentary featurette playing at the Clinton Theatre Jan 24-25. Show times are 7 pm and 9 pm.

A storm of controversy surrounds BIG FOOT. His very existence is seriously questioned or doggedly defended by those with opposing points of view. Since the early 19th century an elusive trickle of evidence has kept investigators anxiously on the trail of the BIG FOOT. Some 5 hundred reported sightings have been programmed into the memory banks of a giant computer where the information is constantly analyzed and updated, awaiting the day when BIG FOOT or a member of his "family" will be captured. All current developments may be seen in BIG FOOT, another Rainbow Adventure Film released by American National Enterprises for the entertainment of the entire family.

Personal notes from the staff

IT TAKES GUTS: You've got to hand it to firemen when it comes to something like Monday morning's fire at Johns Oil Company. It takes courage to stick your nose in there and battle a blaze, not knowing for sure if 3 fuel storage tanks are going to explode any minute. St Johns residents owe their firemen a big "thank you for a rough job well done."

Jacqueline Thelen weds Ronald Simon

LANSING—Jacqueline M. Thelen, daughter of Mr and Mrs Ernest Thelen, 5055 Herbison Rd, DeWitt, and Ronald H. Simon, son of Mr and Mrs Norbert Simon, Walker Rd, Pewamo, exchanged marriage vows in a double ring ceremony Dec 2 at St Therese Church, Lansing.

Organ music for the ceremony was provided by Stephen Lange of Lansing. The bride carried a bouquet of white poinsettias and pink rose buds with a spray of holly.

Mrs Beverly Whiting of Eaton Rapids was the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs Clara Hill, Haslett; Mrs Nancy Feldpausch, Ashley; Miss Mary Thelen, DeWitt; Mrs Joan Capel, and Mrs Jane Goodman, both of Lansing. Wanda Simon, Pewamo, was the junior bridesmaid.

The bridesmaids wore identical gowns with long blue floral crepe skirts and royal blue velvet bodices. The gowns were accentuated by long puffed sleeves. Each carried a bouquet of pink primrose with white sweetheart roses and spray of holly. Blue velvet ribbons intertwined the bouquets.

Kenneth Simon, Pewamo, was best man. Groomsmen were Dale Simon, Ron and Lloyd Thelen, all of Pewamo; Tom Thelen and Rick Capel, Lansing. Junior groomsman was Joe Thelen of Lansing.

A dinner reception was held following the ceremony in the St Therese cafeteria for approximately 500 guests.

Honored guests present included Mr and Mrs John A. Thelen, Westphalia; grandparents of the groom, and Mrs Clara Hufnagel, Westphalia, grandparent of the bride.

Following a honeymoon in Florida, the newlyweds are at home on Walker Rd, Pewamo.

Music study group holds 1st meeting

The Romantic period in French music, beginning with a study of the composers Delibes, Bizet and Gounod was the theme of the program of St Johns Morning Musicales when it held its first meeting of 1973 at the home of Mrs John Caudy Thursday morning Jan 11.

"The essence of the Romantic period in France was not epic, but lyric; not thematic but melodic; not heroic, but purely and passionately personal," stated Mrs Lloyd Campbell in her musical study paper on the lives and works of Delibes, Bizet and Gounod, composers of the Romantic period.

Selections from the works of these men illustrating their styles were played on the piano by Mrs Harold Lundy.

A delightful summary of the opera, Carmen by Bizet was given by Mrs Jack Stenbert, who sang "Habanera," "Sequidilla," "Toreador Song," and "The Flower Song" from the opera. She was accompanied by Mrs Lundy.

"There is a Green Hill Far Away" by Gounod was sung by a trio composed of Mrs Lawrence Fish, Mrs K. L.

Jones and Mrs Richard Jacoby to appropriately conclude the program.

At the business meeting members contributed to the Founders' Day Fund for the NFMC, which is celebrating its 75th year with a Diamond Jubilee.

Announcement of two special musical events was made by Mrs Manning Boss, president of South Central District of Music Clubs — South Central's Junior Festival at Olivet College March 3, and the 18th annual Grinnell Scholarships Auditions March 10 in Lansing. Both events are sponsored by MSF of MC, of which St Johns Morning Musicales is a member.

The club will continue its study of the French romantic period at its next meeting Jan 25 at the home of Mrs Roy Briggs.

Annual concert

The St Johns High School music department will present their 4th annual Chamber Music Concert Tuesday, Jan 23, at 7:30 pm in Pocus Auditorium at the high school.

The concert is one of the best programs of the year. Featured in this rather unique program are small ensembles and soloists from the orchestra, choir and band, who present a wide range of compositions from contemporary to the more traditional.

This year's concert will include a featured guest, Mr Algie Watkins, an established pianist, who is also a member of the music faculty.

The program is open to the public without charge.

Karen Louise Barker weds Lansing man

ST JOHNS -- Karen Louise Barker, daughter of Mr and Mrs Elmer Barker, 307 S Mead St, St Johns, and Robert Alan Anderson, son of Dr and Mrs Robert E. Anderson, Lansing, were united in marriage Dec 22. The double ring ceremony took place in St Joseph's Catholic Church in St Johns, with the Rev William Hankerd officiating.

For her wedding the bride chose an empire gown of white velvet with re-embroidered Alenron lace trim on the bodice. Matching Alenron lace encircled the mantilla veil and train. She carried a bouquet of white pompoms, carnations, red sweetheart roses, complimented by springs of holly and spruce.

Katie Barker, Marquette, was her sister's maid of honor. Terri Barker, Rosie Paradise, Becky Worrall, all of St Johns, and Helen Anderson, Chicago, also attended the bride. They were attired in identical floor length gowns, with dark green velvet skirts and pale green chiffon empire style bodices.

Beth Ann Anderson, Lansing, was her sister-in-law's flower girl.

Jeff Anderson, Lansing, attended his brother as best man. Groomsmen included Terry Anderson, Chicago, and Mike Dolan of Chicago. Dave and Doug Barker, Gaylord, served as ushers.

Jon Riley, Westphalia, a cousin of the bride, was the ring bearer.

Mrs Ray Schneider was the organist for the ceremony, and John Anderson was the soloist.

Mrs Barker selected a floor length purple empire gown made of crepe for her daughter's wedding. Mrs Anderson chose a long sleeveless metallic green A-line style gown with a matching jacket. Each wore a corsage of white gardenias and holly.

A wedding reception for 300 guests followed at St Joseph's gymnasium. Mr and Mrs Carl Geller, Pawam, assisted as host and hostess. Honored guests included Mr and Mrs John Riley, Hubbardston, grandparents of the bride, Mrs Marjorie Anderson,

MRS ROBERT ANDERSON

New Boston, and Mrs Louise Schneider, Carleton, both grandparents of the groom. Sheila Sykora and Ruth Geller cut the cake. Also assisting were Sue Tait, Sandy Riley, Carla Geller, Shirley Barker and Debbie Schafer.

The bride is a 1971 graduate of St Johns High School, and is currently attending Lansing Community College. The bridegroom graduated from Dearborn High School in 1969 and is attending Michigan State University. The couple is residing in Lansing, following their return from a wedding trip in northern Michigan.

Clinton contributes $6221 to Christmas Seal campaign

Contributions in Clinton County to the traditional Christmas Seal campaign have reached $6221.00 through the first week of January which is 97 percent of last year's total, reports Walter A. Meier, MD, president of the Michigan Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association.

Overall the statewide contributions from 81 counties, excluding the Detroit metropolitan area, have reached $807,987 -- or 92 percent of the amount raised the previous year.

Dr Meier asks Clinton County residents who have not yet answered their Christmas Seal appeal letter to please do so. "Although Christmas is over the work of the Christmas Seal Association goes on 365 days-a-year working in the area of tuberculosis control, smoking education, emphysema research, fighting for clean air and providing other important state and local community health programs," he said.

As a part of their commitment to discourage smoking and to fight for the rights of the nonsmokers, the association participated in the National Education Week on Smoking during Jan 7-13, to encourage the public to become aware of the health hazards of smoking.

County Jaycees in action

Fowler

The Fowler Jaycees were extended in 1964 by the Grand Lodge Jaycees, and received their charter with 26 members.

The Fowler Chapter was awarded the coveted "Milestone Award" which is presented by the Michigan Jaycees to the best first year chapter in the state. Under the leadership of last years president, Frank Hufnagel, the Fowler Jaycees received the Gold Chip award. This is an award for fulfilling Blue Chip for five consecutive years. Blue Chip is an award for excellence in achieving membership growth and maintaining qualifications of chapter management and leadership training.

Past presidents of the Fowler Jaycees were Richard Frechen, charter president; Francis Schafer; Robert Halfman; Richard Fink; John C. Rademacher; Clark Koenigsnecht, and Frank Hufnagel.

This year's president is James W. Koenigsnecht. He resides at 10809 E 3rd St with his wife Brenda, and is employed by Bee's Chevy and Olds Inc in St Johns as assistant Parts Manager. Some of Jims goals this year are to continue with a great leadership program that has been successful in the past and has been a key to the success of the Fowler Jaycees, to maintain Gold Chip which was received last year, and the possibility of an extension in another community.

Some of the past programs have been a county wide Oral Polio Vaccine clinic held in 1966, Village Park renovation and maintenance 1967 through the present, construction of an ice pond warming house, drug abuse program, and a Venereal Disease awareness program which was conducted as a Michigan Jaycee project.

Annual projects conducted by the Fowler Jaycees are, Little League, Punt, Pass, and Kick competition; Childrens Halloween Party;

Bloodmobile; Shooting Education; Bicycle Safety; Easter Egg Hunt; Slow Pitch Softball and Christmas programs. These programs were made possible through the fine support of the Fowler community.

Projects that are now in progress are: American Essay; local jail improvement; Speak-Up, Leadership in Action, a dinner meeting with local and Religious leaders of the community as guests, and in February they will host their first State event, R.O.C. Judging.

Through the efforts and hard work of the 83 members of the Fowler Jaycees they are on their way to another successful Jaycee year.

The Fowler Jaycees welcome new members. Jaycees offer leadership training through community development for young men between 18 and 35. The Jaycees is designed specifically to meet the needs of the young man seeking to make his place in community and business ranks.

In working toward these goals, every young man is offered the opportunities of a voice in community affairs, a practical leadership development course, the chance to try new ideas and improve old ones, and social contact with other young men.

Presidents of Jaycee Chapters in Clinton County gather to compare notes on each organization's activities for the current Jaycee Week. Presidents of the local chapters are (front, left) Terry Cornwell, incoming St Johns president; Jim W. Koenigsnecht, Fowler; (rear, from left) Dave Needham, outgoing St Johns president who has accepted a position in Grand Rapids; Joe Lapinski, Westphalia and Tom Winkler, Ovid-Elsie.

St Johns

Jan 15-22 is Jaycee Week — the culmination of activities and events of the year for Jaycees throughout the nation. This year represents the 25th anniversary of Jaycees in St Johns, and once again the highlight of the week will be their annual Bosses Night at Daley's Restaurant. Bosses Night serves a twofold purpose: It allows each Jaycee to honor their respective bosses; and thereby helps to further the concept of Jayceism within the community.

Held in conjunction with, Bosses Night will be the awarding of the Distinguished Service Award, presented to the young man who has contributed the greatest degree of service to the community the past year. Also to be presented is the Outstanding Young Educator award, given to the teacher judged the best within the past year.

Originally chartered in 1947, the St Johns Jaycees now have a membership of 40. Any young man between the ages of 18 and 35 is eligible to become a Jaycee. The only qualification is that he must have a desire to help make the community a better place in which to live.

Each year the Jaycees run several projects designed primarily for the youth of St Johns. Included among the projects are the Soap Box Derby, one of the most successful in the nation; the Little League Program which continues to grow every year and the Christmas program with movies, goodies and a chance to talk with Santa Claus.

Due to an unusual set of circumstances, virtually an entirely new slate of officers is now leading the Jaycees. New officers include Terry Cornwell, president; Tom Studer, Internal Vice president; Denny Scott, External vice president; Don Keim, secretary; Wayne Woodbury, treasurer; Barry Dean, State director; John Arehart, Mike Palmer, Ernie Meyers and Howard Kremer, local directors. Ovid-Elsie Activities the Ovid-Elsie Jaycees participated in during the summer of 1972 include a Little League All-Star game held at Ovid, a hunter safety program and Punt, Pass and Kick competition.

December was a big month for helping needy children, highlighted by a shopping tour and lunch with Santa. A benefit basketball game with WJIM was also played, with the proceeds going to Elsie and Ovid parks.

A bloodmobile, sponsored by the auxiliary, was a big success.

Coming up this year in January the Jaycees will host a district bowling tournament at the Tri-Ami Bowl in Ovid, the 28th.

April's events include an Easter Egg Hunt and trash can liner sales.

A horse show at Elsie in May will climax a year of successful ventures for the Jaycees.

President Tom Winkler is presently serving on a city planning committee working to bring Ovid back to a thriving community.

Westphalia

The Westphalia Jaycees were Chartered in 1963 under the direction of Charlie Hengesbach. Since then the chapter has been under the leadership of the following president: Dan Martin (2 terms), Ken Platte, Bill Bengel, Duane Blatt, Bob Cole, Stan Smith, Jerry Platte, and the current president, Joe Lipinski.

The Westphalia Jaycees have 38 regular members and 11 associate members. This includes many new members who signed up within the past year and who have been contributing new ideas and help to the Chapter in our continuing effort to make Westphalia a better community.

Since the Westphalia Jaycee Chapter was founded, the members through the years have been very active in making Westphalia a better community in which to live.

The largest single project undertaken by the Jaycees was the Daniel Droste Memorial Park located West of the Village. This has become a perpetual project. The park has grown from a field of weeds to the present which includes a shelter, horse shoe pits, playground equipment, sanitary facilities and the most recent addition, a baseball diamond. Many manhours and dollars have gone into the Park. Approximately a year and one half ago, the Westphalia Parks and Recreation Committee was formed and an application was submitted for a State Grant to further improve the Park. This grant enabled the baseball diamond, sanitary facilities and improvements to the parking lot to be added to the Park. Each year the Jaycees hold a Park Opening near Memorial Day to signify the opening of the Park for the summer. This is also a source of revenue for further improvements to the Park.

The Westphalia Jaycees have been involved in other community activities including Little League and Pony League baseball, a youth swimming program, soap box derby, bloodmobile, open bowling tournament and many others. The past two years the Jaycees have sponsored a Hunters Training class and have trained over 100 youth in the use of firearms and firearm safety. The Jaycees also sponsor the Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts.

This year the Jaycees initiated Operation Identification, which is the marking of valuable items in your home, to assist the police if the items are stolen in determining the owner and returning the items.

During the past years, the Westphalia Jaycees have received assistance from many non-members.

Without this help, some of the projects could not have been completed. At the next membership meeting, the Jaycees will honor these non-members with a dinner to show our appreciation to those who have donated their time and efforts in an outstanding manner toward Jaycees projects.

The Westphalia Jaycees wish to take this opportunity to thank each and everyone for their cooperation, support and a continued combined effort with the community leaders and the people of Westphalia to make a better community.

"If you can't go over or around, go under," and this is what this Ovid-Elsie guard did against an Ithaca defender Friday night. Ovid-Elsie suffered their 1st league loss at the hands of the undefeated Ithaca Yellowjackets.

O-E loses 1st league game to strong Ithaca Yellowjackets

ITHACA - It was a rough evening for the Ovid-Elsie Marauders in Ithaca Friday evening as they fell to the Yellowjackets in an 89-72 contest.

It was close for awhile, but Ithaca began to pull ahead after leading 14-12 at the end of the opening period.

A 2d quarter scoring explosion of 25 points gave Ithaca a 39-29 halftime lead. The Marauders stayed closer in the 3d period, but were still outscored by unbeaten Ithaca 20-16.

Ovid-Elsie pulled with 10 in the final period, but a scoring surge put the Yellowjackets ahead by as much as 23 points at 1 time. The Marauders put it in 27 points in that final quarter, but Ithaca was busy pouring in 30 points to stay well out of range of Ovid-Elsie.

Rich McCreary led the scoring for O-E with 16 points. Dan Egbert and Tom Kirinovic was also in double figures with 14 and 12 points. Also scoring were Randy Loynes with 9, Randy Bowles 6, Dan Bashore 3, Rick Staples and Greg Bancroft 2 apiece.

Kevin Smith led the scoring for Ithaca with a hot 30-point performance. Also in double figures for the Yellowjackets was Jeff Beard with 17 points.

The loss gives Ovid-Elsie a 2-1 conference record and 6-3 for the season.

The Marauders traveled to Haslett Tuesday and will host Bullock Creek Friday night.

Perry breaks losing streak at Bath Bees expense

PERRY - Outstanding scoring performances from Fritz Ordiway and Dale Cantwell were not enough for Bath Friday night, as Perry broke a 3-game losing streak with an 87-82 victory over the Bees.

Ordiway hit for 25 points in the contest with Cantwell close behind with 23 points. After being tied early in the game, Perry hit for 6 straight points to take a 24-17 1st quarter lead.

Both teams hit for 19 points in the 2nd quarter, putting the Bees down 43-36 at halftime.

IN THE 3RD quarter, Bath bounced back to outscore

Perry 20-16 and pull within 3 points.

In the final quarters, the Bees scrapped back to pull within 1 point, but couldn't quite catch the home court opponents.

Perry's Ramblers hold a 2-4 conference record, with Bath's record identical in Ingham County League action. The Bees are 4-6 over the season.

Following Ordiway and Cantwell in the Bees scoring was Ted Day 11, Doug Kesson 9, Robin Tucker 6, Glen Tarrent 6, and John Kugel 2.

After a Tuesday night encounter with Laingsburg at home, Bath remains at for a Friday night contest with Dansville.

Ski, cross country

There's more to the sport of skiing than a steep schuss down a hill, executing a snowplow turn or stem christie. It's called cross country sking or ski-touring and its popularity is "snowballing", according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

O-E duo struggle for ball

Free Throws downfall for DeWitt Panthers

WEBBERVILLE - Cold free throw shooting was the downfall for DeWitt Friday night, falling to Webberville 52-49.

The Panthers out-shot the Webberville squad 48 to 42, but could sink only 3 of 15 from the free throw line, while Webberville hit on 12 of 21 attempts.

DeWitt doubled the score on Webberville in the 1st quarter 16-8, but fell behind 29-24 in the 2nd quarter. Webberville drilled in 21 points in the quarter, while DeWitt was held to 8.

DeWitt outscored the opponents 12-8 in the 3rd quarter to pull within 1, 37-36 at the opening of the final period.

The Panthers continued to score and regained the lead with a tiny 43-42 margin.

But, it was to be short-lived as Webberville came back to outscore the Panthers in the quarter, 15-13 for the narrow 52-49 victory.

Webberville is 5-2 in Central Michigan Athletic Conference action while DeWitt is 3-4.

DeWitt had 3 players in double figures: Tom Ashley, Mike Ferguson and Randy Lankford with 10 apiece.

Also scoring for the Panthers were Terry Faust with 6, Rob Reck 4, Steve Dalman 4, Chris McNeely 3, and Mark Colby 2.

DeWitt hosted Olivet Tuesday and will travel to Laingsburg Friday.

Fowler sneaks past P-W in closing moments of game

ST JOHNS — It all came down to the last 10 seconds Friday as nearly 3000 spectators jammed the St Johns High School gymnasium to see the battle between Fowler and Pewamo-Westphalia. Fowler fought from behind in the final quarter to gain narrow lead, widened to just 5 points in the last 10 seconds for a 65-60 victory. The win gives Fowler an unbeaten 7-0 record with 6 wins and no losses in conference competition. Pewamo-Westphalia had only 1 league loss going into the game.

Pewamo-Westphalia made it a battle for Fowler to remember as the 2 teams squared off in the St Johns gym. The St Johns site was rented to accommodate the close to 3000 fans. Fowler's gym holds only 600 spectators.

In the opening period, Pewamo-Westphalia edged Fowler for a 14-13 lead, but stretched it to 5 points in the 2d quarter for a 30-25 half-time lead.

FOWLER OUTSCORED the Pirates 18-16 in the 3d quarters to trail by only 3 going into the final period. Fowler continued to gain momentum in the final quarter scoring 22 points, while holding their challengers to 14.

It was anybody's ball game, though, until there were only 10 seconds left on the clock.

With his team holding a slim 3-point lead, Dan Jandernoa sunk 2 clutch free throws at the end of the contest to put the game all but out of reach for Pewamo-Westphalia.

Johnny Simon provided a hot hand for the Eagles in the final quarter, hitting for 8 points on 2 field goals and a perfect 4-for-4 from the free throw line.

MEL POHL picked up 5 points in the decisive final period on 2 field goals and a free throw. Glen Thelen added 2 field goals and Bob MacKinnon sunk a field goal and a free throw.

The free throws played an important role in the contest between the 2 strong rivals. Pewamo-Westphalia picked up their 60 points on 30-for-63 shooting from the floor. The Pirates, however, had but 1 shot from the free throw and it was missed.

They were fouled 8 times, but all were backcourt fouls with the ball taken out of bounds instead of shot from the charity line.

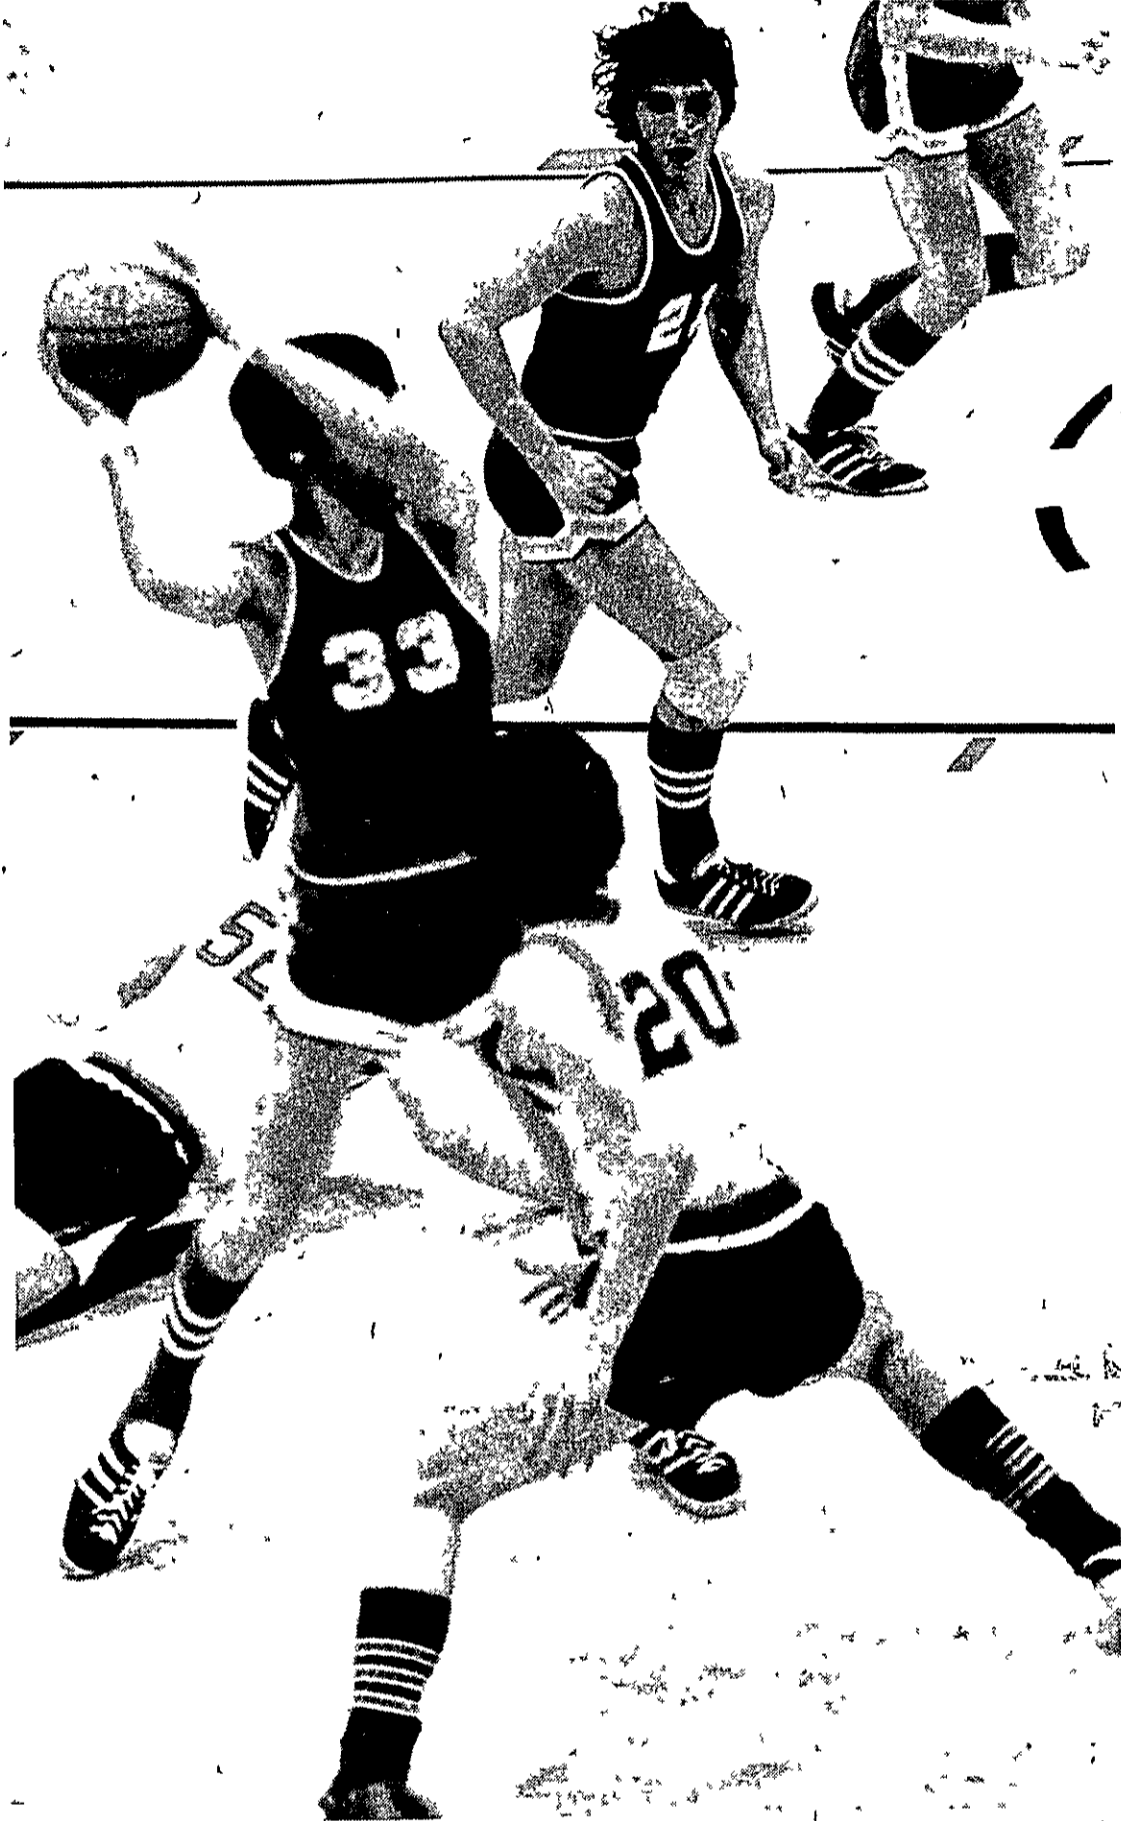

Fowler had 3 less baskets than the Pirates, 27-for-59, but they dropped in 11 free throws to provide the edge needed to sustain their undefeated drive.

Leading the scoring for Fowler was Mel Pohl and Bobby MacKinnon with 11 and Glen Thelen was in double figures with 10. They were followed by Tony Thelen with 5 and Scott Spicer and Dan Jandernoa with 2.

THREE PLAYERS hit in double figures for Pewamo-Westphalia. Roy Piggott led with 20, followed by Randy Walter and Jim Hengesbach with 16 apiece. They were followed by Dan May 4, Randy Fedewa 2 and Louie Thelen 2.

Fowler defends their unbeaten record against Bellevue Friday in an away game, after having taken on Olivet in a makeup game Tuesday.

Pewamo-Westphalia will host Webberville Friday. Both teams possess 5-2 league records.

Pewamo-Westphalia in control... but not for long. This Pirate pass was intercepted downcourt by Fowler late in the final quarter as the Eagles fought back to take a 65-60 victory in the St Johns High School gymnasium.

St Johns wrestlers defeat Ionia

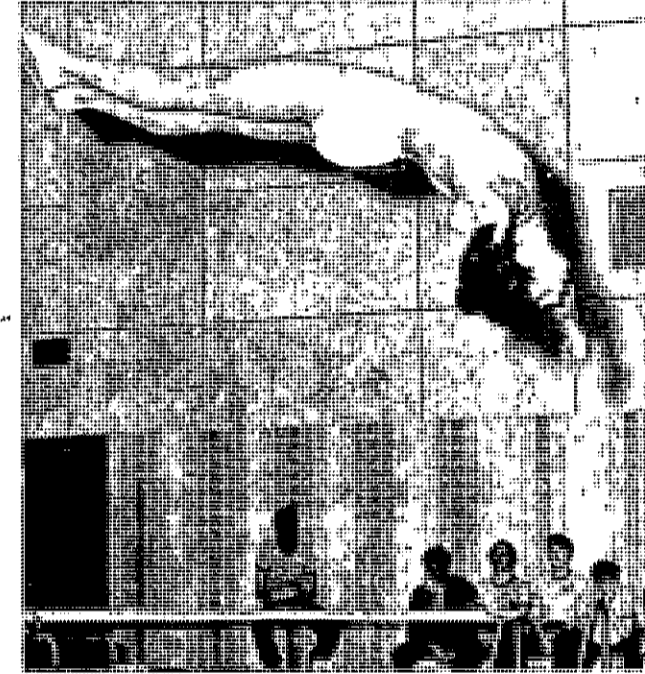

The St Johns High School wrestlers defeated the Ionia Bulldogs, Jan 11, by a score of 46-13.

JV wrestlers also won their match by a score of 22-9.

Winners for varsity were Bill Wager, 20-8, John Hayes 4-0, Bob Hunter 4-2, and Bob Rasdale, Dave Stauffer, Marv Pettit and Mike Schneider by forfeits. Pinning their men were Jeff Brasington and Rick Pearson.

Winners for JV were Jim Wagner 12-0, Mark Bancroft 9-0, Jim Buggs 5-2 with Brain Maier and Ken Parker winning by forfeits. Pinning their men were Leon Parker and Steve Harper.

The victory gave the grapplers a 3-2 record.

Showing a unique talent in diving is St Johns Redwing Brian Stork in Last Thursday night's swimming meet with Grand Ledge. Stork took first place in diving competition as the Redwings dominated the Comets before a capacity crowd of hometown viewers by a score of 60-35.

Mason edges St Johns 91-89

ST JOHNS—St Johns basketball charges were idle Friday night, after losing a close 1 earlier in the week to Mason 91-89. The high score followed an extremely cold opening quarter, when neither team could get on the scoreboard until after 3 minutes of the game had passed.

St Johns trailed much of the game, by as much as 14 at 1 point, but fought back to take an 87-86 lead with barely more than a minute left on the clock.

But, Mason's Brad Kelember hit a field goal and Chris VanSingel sunk free throws to capture the victory.

Four St Johns players hit in the double figures in the close battle with 7-1 Mason. Doug Woodhams had 26 points, followed closely by Mike Sutherland with 25, Charlie Faivor hit for 20 and Alex MacKinnon finished with 10.

Faivor led the rebounding with 25 and Sutherland pulled down 20.

After traveling to Alma Tuesday, St Johns hosts Ionia Friday.

Two national 4-H officers are Mich products

EAST LANSING-The National Association of Extension 4-H Agents has not been without a Michigan officer since 1969, nor will it be for the next two years.

Perhaps even more noteworthy is that two of the five current officers are from Michigan.

Ed Polle, extension 4-H youth agent for Van Buren, Cass and Berrien counties and John Aylsworth, extension 4-H youth agent for Clinton, Gratiot and Shiawassee counties, were named, respectively, president and treasurer of the association at the 1972 November meeting.

Poole, who joined the association nine years ago, first became an officer (treasurer) in 1969. He then served as vice president in 1970 and president-elect in 1971.

The 1,350 member association, representing 42 states, meets annually for in-depth seminars on professional development. One of the 1972 featured speakers was Paul Risk, MSU Department of Park and Recreation Resources, who spoke on "Senses and Sensitivity." The 1972 theme was "Reaching Out Toward Understanding."

IN ADDITION to the annual meetings, the association meets regionally and in subcommittees. Although the annual seminars provide "experiences where agents really become involved," notes Poole, the several subcommittees provide even "more in-depth involvement." Some of the current subcommittees include professional improvement, special programs, and policy and resolutions.

As president Poole will be representing the association at a number of other national meetings throughout the year. A few include the Extension Committee on Policy and Organization, the national meetings of the extension home economists and the extension county directors, and National 4-H Conference.

Tax list will be advertised for sale

ST JOHNS -- A total of 447 parcels of lands in Clinton County are to be sold for delinquent taxes on Tuesday, May 1, at 10 am.

They will be listed in a public notice that will appear for 3 publications in February. This is 8 parcels less than the 1972 sale was, but about 3 times as many as 10 years ago.

All townships, cities and villages are represented for the 1st time. According to Townships, Bath takes the lead with 97, DeWitt 89, Victor 42, and City of St Johns has 36. Bengal and Westphalia have only 1 each. Maple Rapids is high for the villages with 20 parcels.

Owners of the tax delinquent lands may redeem them by payment of back taxes, interest and charges up until the day of the sale at the County Treasurer's Office.

Total delinquent taxes and charges on the 447 parcels amount to $126,301.15. Redemptions for parcels sold in May 1972 should be taken care of also before May 1, at the county treasurer's office, or the title to said lands will vest and become absolute in the State of Michigan and a tax deed issued.

Colombo elected to Women's Caucus post

The Third District Women's Political Caucus has announced its election of the 1973 officers. A Clinton County woman, Liz Colombo, of 7713 Jon Scott, DeWitt was named vice-chairwoman.

Among the elected officers were two Grand Ledge women. Serving as chairwoman is Denise Arnold, 128 Marsh Dr; and Charlene Beedle, Benton Rd, was elected treasurer of the caucus.

Four more vice-chairwomen representing the counties within the 3d district also were elected. They include: Rose Thornton (Olivet) Eaton County; Ann Shaffer (Battle Creek) Calhoun County; Lou Northam (Kalamazoo) Kalamazoo County; and Diane Hoekstra (Hastings) Barry County. Recording secretary is Sandra Hunter; corresponding secretary Chris Smith; and parliamentarian Margaret Brandell. The preceding 3 women are from Lansing.

Open Letter

from VAN W. HOAG

Dear friends,

It deserves emphasis that the time, the place, the character of the funeral service, the merchandise used, the cemetery selected - these are decisions of the family of the deceased. The funeral director acts only as a representative of the family.

The clergyman should be consulted in matters that concern him before any decisions are made.

Respectfully,

Farmers urged to buy fertilizer early

Local area farmers are urged to buy fertilizer early in order to assure adequate supplies for spring planting needs, according to John A. Romig manager of the St Johns Cooperative Co, outlet for Farm Bureau Services farm supplies.

Romig said farmers now can get more favorable winter price quotations as well as avoid possible shortages later.

"The shortages of phosphates which plagued many farmers in 1972 are likely to continue into 1973 with the result that fertilizers employing this essential ingredient may be hard to get during the last-minute spring rush", he said.

John Sexson, plant foods manager for Farm Bureau Services, said some commercial suppliers of phosphates have chosen to avoid US price controls by selling to overseas markets, contributing to the domestic supply pinch.

Sexson also noted that increased pressure on freight service may hamper delivery of bulk fertilizer shipments at the height of the planting season.

Romig announced that adequate fertilizer supplies now are available for early delivery and farmers are especially urged to provide their own on farm storage wherever possible.

Clinton Intermediate District at home in new facility

By Laurie Klipp
County News Staff Writer

ST JOHNS -- It's business as usual, but now it's in the brand new, ultra-modern Clinton Intermediate School District building. Located on US-27 just south of St Johns, the new building had its first occupants move in last week. Once inside the door of the one-story structure, visitors are greeted by the smiling receptionist, Maureen Haskins, and vivid shades of yellow and orange. Draperies are still missing due to the manufacturer sending the wrong color, but this absence is hardly noticeable. The cheerful atmosphere is accentuated by a large contemporary painting, also yellow and orange, in the reception area, and walnut trimmed Practicality and utilization of space appear to have been carefully planned. The building houses 2 interview rooms to be used with parents or students, for testing and conferences, 14 carrel-type work areas for the special education workers, an audio-visual room, staff lounge and offices.

Stanley Pocuis, District Superintendent, occupies a spacious office with a small table for meetings. His pride and joy, however, is the conference room.

"It will enable the entire staff to get together at one time," he said, "something we were unable to do previously."

"You would have to see the old building to believe the difference this new one makes," he said.

Pocuis added that finally everyone can have a 'home base' and a desk of their own.

Larry Schwartzkopf, director of Special Education, seems equally pleased with the district's new quarters.

"Before," Schwartzkopf said, "We were so cramped for space we were all within shouting distance of each other."

Also included in plans for the structure is a room which will eventually become the district's data processing center. The Clinton and Ingham County districts share facilities such as a film library and computer services, with their location in Mason. Future hookups to these computers will be made through the use of processing room.

A school for the trainable mentally retarded is also located on the 4-acre site.

Funds for the new facility were obtained through a .17 mill levy. Pocuis predicted the levy may go down next year.

The Clinton Intermediate School District currently serves 6 K-12 school systems -- St Johns, Ovid-Elsie, Fowler, Pewamo, Westphalia and Bath. Thus, the district must fulfill the special needs of 12,000 students.

Operation of the district is divided into 2 basic functions. General operation consists of working as a branch of the state board of education, supplying assistance to local school boards on matters they would have difficulty accomplishing by themselves.

Supplying special education services to the area schools is their second, and most important function, according to Schwartzkopf. The largest portion of the district staff devote their time to special education.

The district presently employs 20 people including a homebound teacher, teacher consultants, a speech therapist, school social workers and diagnosticians.

Seated in his wood-paneled office, Superintendent Pocuis confers with the special education director.

Two of the district's special education workers find their new work carrels a big improvement over the previous lack of space.

Hard at work is Maureen Haskins, receptionist at the new facility. Behind her are the carrel-type work areas.

Aliens must report addresses this month

DETROIT -- Armand J. Saturelli of the Immigration and Naturalization Service in Detroit has again reminded all aliens to report their addresses during January.

Cards with which to make the reports are available at Post Offices and offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service throughout the country. The reports must be submitted to one of those offices.

Parents or guardians submit reports for alien children under 14 years of age.

Saturelli urges all aliens to report before the end of January, as willful failure to do so may lead to serious penalties.

Saturelli cautioned all aliens, as well as employers, that the issuance of a Social Security Account Card to an alien is not evidence of permission to work in the United States.

Only those aliens lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence (immigrants) and those aliens temporarily in the United States (nonimmigrants) who have been authorized by the Service to take employment may work in this country.

These strange looking numbers are working hard for both of us

These strange looking numbers are called "MICR" - Magnetic Ink Character Recognition - numbers and they appear on all checks and deposit slips. The MICR numbers which appear on your checks and deposit slips are yours alone, selected to keep the transactions of your accounting equipment relics on electronic impulses for identification and the MICR coding system is its method of recognizing you and your account.

The strange looking numbers help you by providing a greater assurance of accuracy during the many steps your check takes from time to writing, to posting, and final filing for return to you with your statement. Along with your name, the strange looking numbers also help eliminate errors of crediting deposits to the wrong account.

The MICR number helps us by allowing swift handling of all checking account transaction and this, in turn, eliminates delays, keeping your account as current as possible. They also help us by allowing our equipment to actually read, not only your account number but the amounts of money involved in the transaction after we have imprinted the check or deposit slip during processing.

To keep these numbers working for both of us it's important that you use your MICR coded checks and deposit slips - never lend yours or borrow another's. Accurate and efficient checking account service is assured with the MICR system and those strange looking numbers on your check identify only you, but they should be working hard for both of us - keep them busy.

The wide-awake bank makes it all so easy.

Smile

It must be the season. Lately, the editor said it seems everybody doesn't smile as much as they used to a while ago. He goes around town saying, "smile, smile. Why's everybody frowning?"

There's probably several reasons. The Christmas bills have arrived, taxes are due, the weather is absolutely rotten and there's always the evening news to furrow the brow.

Cheer up. The bills will be paid somehow, taxes will be over for a while, the news can't always be bad and there is a chance that, someday, the weather won't be so rotten.

Yes, try a smile. If it won't pay the bills or taxes, end the war in Vietnam or stop inflation, it will, at least, brighten this dreary sky a bit.

State direction of land use

Rep. Doug Is Treise
87th District

If you think the discussions of changing school financing have generated a battle over "local control" just wait a few months. As the saying goes, "You ain't seen nothin' yet!"

High on the list for consideration during the coming legislative session are proposals which would set forth state direction of land use for the entire state. The discussions are sure to range from the very basic question of individual property rights versus collective rights to a determination of which level of government can best handle land use matters, city, village, township, county or state.

The problem, simply stated, comes from the realization that the amount of usable land in this state is a fixed amount and will never be any more than it is now. It then makes sense to see that this limited resource is used wisely. With a rapidly growing population, the pressures on land have multiplied and if development is allowed to take its normal course, we may end up without enough farmland to provide food, core areas of cities going to waste while the residents move to suburbia, thereby using up some more of the productive agricultural land and the few remaining recreation areas blighted by "cottage slums".

There is little doubt in my mind that the problem is real. Yet, any government-directed solution brings confrontation with all of our historical concepts of property rights. If you own a piece of property, you have control over its use. If you want to farm it, subdivide it, mine it or develop industry on it, with some father flexible local zoning restrictions. Generally, it has been economics - the maximum return in dollars - which has guided your decision.

Ironically, it is the very government which was set up to protect the individual and property rights of all the people which today must challenge those rights as they relate to a person's privilege to do what he wants with his own real estate. It is true that, to some extent, this land use question has already been taken on by government. Local zoning ordinances have been in operation for a long time but it is my impression that these are administered relatively loosely and changes in zoning are quite easy. Zoning decisions have been made on the local level based on such things as availability of utilities and streets on the character of surrounding property and on the desire to increase the local tax base.

Under the new land use concept, these zoning decisions would rest on the best use for the land, be it agriculture, industry, residential or commercial and on general public interest - rather than private considerations. The long range effects of this approach could be tremendous.

It's certain that a strong zoning plan can direct the economic development of the state for years to come. By designating areas which can be used for industrial purposes, for instance, the total employment possibilities for the area will be determined. Our area, where almost all communities are doing something to attract industry to increase our tax base and provide employment, could well be designated primarily agricultural, thus keeping the present tax burden on farmers and residents. Population growth could be limited in the area because of a relatively constant job market or else transportation to nearby industrial centers will require major changes.

What I am trying to say is that this land use question cannot be treated in a vacuum. It has to be looked at in relationship to taxation policies, transportation plans and many other phases of today's living.

There is probably no subject to come before the Legislature which will have a greater impact on the future of this state. It is my hope that we will take time to study it carefully and move slowly, analyzing each change and to preserve a maximum of individual property rights and provide a goodly measure of local control while establishing a system of land use controls which will guide this state in the years ahead. That's quite an order.

Q. Last year when my husband died I started getting monthly social security widow's payments. He never got any social security benefits. My neighbor told me I'll be getting a raise in my check. Is this true?

A. Maybe. Monthly payments to some aged widows and widowers will increase under the recent changes in the social security law. The amount of the increase depends upon the age at which the widow or widower first started getting monthly checks and on whether the deceased

A PERSONAL LOOK AT THE NEWS

Between the lines

with Jim Edwards

During the past few weeks, Al Kurin and Doug Rearick of Pewamo-Westphalia High School have been getting ready for the big event Saturday Jan 30 - The Fourth Annual Clinton County News Wrestling Tournament.

The tournament, sponsored each year by the County News, is hosted on a rotating basis. This is the year for Pewamo - Westphalia and athletic director Kurin and wrestling coach Rearick are handling the responsibilities.

The County News staff will be there all taking pictures, gathering results and helping any way we can.

All this brings to mind the popularity of wrestling. Let's face it when you talk sports in the fall and winter, you're talking football and basketball. And the newspaper sports pages reflect that feeling.

Ain't necessarily so, folks. Wrestling is a growing high school sport. In some areas, residents of the local school's community are not even aware their school has a wrestling team.

But, it doesn't end with wrestling. High school students of today are competing in a variety of areas that receive very little support from the local community.

It starts in the fall with cross country and golf. Of course, both are not really spectator sports, but participants still deserve recognition.

During the winter months, wrestling and swimming teams, compete with a full schedule, but rarely attract substantial audiences. While golf and cross country are not designed for spectators especially, wrestling and swimming are interesting spectator sports.

We would like the communities in which there are wrestling and swimming teams to take in a few of the meets. A little encouragement for the squads goes a long way and it helps them to know not everybody is ignoring their efforts.

While we're at it, a lot of schools have girls' basketball teams and they wouldn't mind having a little cheering on themselves.

Springtime brings with it baseball and track, 2 sports drawing small crowds because they are primarily scheduled in the afternoons when the adults in the community are working.

Now, we come around to the County News and our handling of the sporting events we say are not receiving enough coverage.

We know there has been little wrestling, swimming or girls' basketball in the County News lately. It's not because we don't want to print the news - we many times just don't receive it.

Many coaches may have the feeling we should call them after each meet or match or game. For several reasons, this is impossible.

If we call each coach of each sport, we would be on the telephone the entire week. Each Saturday the County News has a person (me) manning the phone from 10 am until noon accepting all calls for sports reports.

If that time is inconvenient the staff is always happy to take sporting results over the phone during the week.

Many results happen early enough in advance of our deadline (Tuesday, 8 am) so they may be mailed in.

What we are saying - let us know about your sporting event and we'll do our damndest to see it gets in print.

It's not funny, Carol

Editor, Lapeer County Press

By Jim Fitzgerald

When TV comedians such as Carol Burnett and Tim Conway do take-offs on old people, shuffling to their rocking chairs, I find it hard to laugh.

Likewise, it is going to be difficult to write anything funny about today's subject which is old people (excuse me if I don't say "senior citizens." That stuffy euphemism bugs me. It sounds as if someone might be ashamed of growing old. When you consider the alternative, it is nothing to be ashamed of).

The publisher of my favorite newspaper thought it would be a good idea if delinquent subscribers received a personal note from the editor (that's me), reminding them to pay up or become nonsubscribers. Some of the answers I've received are a real kick in the heart.

The most common reason for old people quitting the paper is they can no longer see it. Their eyesight has failed.

"I've been reading The Press every week for 75 years," one woman wrote, "and always enjoyed it. But now I find I must stop taking it. I am going blind and can no longer see the print."

Geez. Couldn't a younger relative stop at her house once a week and read the paper to her?

Then there are the many old people who stop taking the paper because "I don't recognize any of the names anymore. Everyone I knew is dead."

I shut my eyes and see the last leaf on a tree, withered and cracked, but still hanging on. Alone. Completely alone. No one cares if the leaf falls, or doesn't. Geez again. Certainly there are some younger people who know this old lady whose friends are all dead. Why don't they call on her once in awhile? Give her some new friends.

Some of the old people renew their subscriptions, and their notes can be poignant, too. Like this one from an old woman: "Thanks for the reminder. Enclosed find check for $10 for 1 more year. My son came last week to get my husband settled in a rest home. Next year it may be me."

Ah. Let us hope the son is good for something besides transporting his parents to a rest home and then forgetting them except at Christmas.

I hope I'm not boring you young people. I hope I'm making you uncomfortable. And, before someone asks the sharp question, I herewith make a confession: There are several old people who deserve a lot better from me than they are getting. My wife takes care of those things at my home. She visits the old folks and drives them places and takes them gifts. I stay home and do the important things, like watch TV and play pool.

I am among the many who should be ashamed of the way they treat old people. Which is probably why I can't laugh when Carol Burnett and Tim Conway put on wrinkles and complain about their no-sex lives.

It is not funny to be old and forgotten. If all you young folks will resolve to remember that this year, so will I.

View from the Senate

By SEN. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

There's increasing evidence that Americans are becoming slaves to numbers. We're never far from our social security number, bank deposit number, driver license number, health insurance number, credit card number, ad infinitum.

The latest trick with numbers is the "quota system". That's the idea that someone decides what your quota of a certain commodity is--and you're supposed to meet it. Sometimes it works; sometimes it doesn't. Senator George McGovern espoused the quota system--a quota for youth, a quota for blacks, a quota for this, a quota for that. It worked for him at the Democratic National Convention in Miami Beach, but his victory there paved the way for his resounding defeat on November 7.

Recently, a Lansing newswriter delved into the quota aspect of the Legislature and discovered, to his horror, that the Legislature is a "select club" with too many white males in proportion to the make-up of the state population. There was even the suggestion that somehow the Legislature itself was responsible for this sad state of affairs.

His most graphic illustration of the conundrum was that Michigan's female population is a little over 50 percent of the state total and that, therefore, there should be 19 (half of the 38 senators) women in the Senate. But there is none at present--and, in fact, there have been only three in the whole history of Michigan.

The writer also noted that blacks and Jews are under-represented. The writer made no suggestions about what should be done to rectify this heinous situation, but the implication seemed clear that something should be done to meet the quota. Of course, in a republic such as ours there is only one way to do it--at the ballot box in free elections.

Unfortunately for the Jews and the blacks, they are so heavily concentrated in the southeastern corner of the state that they have little chance of meeting their quotas.

But if the women of Michigan are truly concerned about their predicament, they should have only to organize effectively and, presto!, they would soon hit their quota of 50 percent.

Only trouble is, if history means anything it won't ever happen. In other words, the "quota system" is simply another reductio ad absurdum of one corollary of the US Supreme Court's landmark 1964 one-man, one-vote decision.

An ounce of prevention

Indian mental health

The concept that every American child should be educated to his fullest ability and interest is, generally accepted.

It is also recognized that children of minority groups have more than their share of trouble in securing for themselves a good education.

Among the minorities where this is perhaps truer than we would care to believe are American Indian children.

THROUGHOUT THE nation, the school drop out rate of Indians is higher than that of any other minority group.

In the cities and towns of Michigan, this problem is becoming more evident, because in troubled despair, though they don't really feel it is the best solution, Indian families migrate.

It is a desperate measure, because they do not have, when they come into the metropolitan areas, any basic marketable skills.

It is, of course, a paradoxical and tragic affirmation to say that the truly first American, the first and for many years owner of this land, now has no clear way of making a living in it.

SMALL GROUP

Sometime ago, the Lansing Indian Center proposed a partial solution to the problem, by creating the position of an American Indian home-school counselor.

According to figures reported by the State Department of Education, there are in our tri-county area, about 120 Indian children.

THERE IS widespread agreement that this figure is probably an underestimate, in that the judgement about the race of a child is made usually by a teacher who is not allowed to ask the student himself what he feels his own ethnic background to be.

Even if the numbers are small, which we suspect they are not, the price to be paid in human suffering is too large for us to ignore the problem.

TO BEGIN A SOLUTION

It is not easy to come up with adequate answers to the problems of discrimination. However, there are important steps that can be taken right away, which will help to eventually resolve the entire problem.

LOWERING THE RATE

The drop out rate of Indian students particularly at the high school level, is so astronomical, that anything we can do to try to keep Indian children in school will probably have some impact.

Several months ago, the Ingham County Board of Commissioners, through the dedicated work of Commissioner David Hollister, appropriated some money for the development of an Indian affairs coordinator and advocate. Because the Community Mental Health Board for the mid-Michigan area operates a large number of mental health services, the commissioners agreed that his particular program should be under the Mental Health Board.

THE INDIAN student coordinator, we felt, should be able to, first of all, gain and maintain the confidence of his own people.

Second, the coordinator should establish a strong relationship with the school systems, with their administrators and teachers; and also with the parents and other family members.

Seminars on Indian folklore and culture, to enrich the school experiences of Indian children are of the essence.

Procurement of meaningful jobs for those who go through the program is also very basic.

A number of scholarships are available to Indian students, but a good deal of work still needs to be done to get things under control.

THE OUNCE OF PREVENTION

The American Indian, as the first inhabitant of this country, should have been dealt with, more kindly than he was. As he now attempts to understand better his own heritage, he needs help to see that his children are able to enjoy their own Indian culture and tradition, and at the same time, make it in the society at large.

Chamberlain leads call for up-grading of meat products

LANSING -- Continuing his efforts to bring national Federal standards for hot dogs, sausage, and other meat products up to the high standards that Michigan consumers enjoy, Congressman Charles E. Chamberlain has again introduced legislation calling for the elimination of various types of animal organs from such meat food products.

On the opening day of the 93rd Congress (January 3, 1973), Chamberlain introduced H. R. 372 to amend the Federal Meat Inspection Act so that products are considered adulterated when they contain such as lips, snouts, spleens, stomachs, ears, eyes, spinal cords, udders, melts, lungs, livers, cracklings or crackling meal, and tongues.

Said Chamberlain, "Certainly the consumer, anywhere in the country, deserves to be able to buy quality comparable to Michigan's outstanding meat products. This isn't just a matter of selling hot dogs, we're selling, consumerism; Michigan's standards in this area are the highest, and the whole nation should be able to enjoy meat products as good as ours.

Chamberlain added, "I am pleased to note that the US Department of Agriculture has agreed to hear and receive comments, on changing Federal regulations to eliminate by-product ingredients. While I am hopeful that the US Department of Agriculture will see fit to revise their requirements on such ingredients, I want them to know, however, that I fully intend to keep fighting for Federal legislation to outlaw animal byproducts in hot dogs, lunch meats and sausages."

Said Chamberlain, "My goal is to see to it that all consumers have the same high standards that we have in Michigan. For the State of Michigan to have to lower its standards to come into compliance with existing Federal standards would be a gross injustice to consumers everywhere."

Now is the time to apply for homestead exemptions

LANSING -- State Representative R. Douglas Trezise (R-Owosso) reminds senior citizens, veterans and blind citizens that now is the time to apply for their homestead tax exemptions for 1973. Applications are now being taken for the 1973 tax year and should be returned by March 1, 1973. Dec 31 was the first day applications could be taken.

"Those who applied for and received the exemption last year must re-apply again this year," Rep. Trezise emphasized. "This can mean a substantial savings to those who qualify and take time to apply for the exemption."

To qualify for the senior citizen exemption, the applicant must prove age and property ownership and must have an adjusted gross income that does not exceed $6000 and must have occupied the dwelling on which the exemption is sought, for 6 out of 12 months in the last calendar year. The citizen must be at least 65 as of December 31, 1972 and can prove age by presenting a birth certificate, citizenship papers, baptismal certificate, family Bible, life insurance policy, armed services discharge, voter registration certificate stating age, a US Census Bureau statement or a social security affidavit. Property ownership can be proven by a land contract, mortgage or property deed.

Those applying for a veteran's exemption must prove ownership of property, veteran's status and disability. Veterans may prove ownership by the same method and in addition must prove disability status.

The real estate of any blind citizen used and owned as a homestead is now exempt from taxation. This exemption applies only to the first $3500 of state equalized valuation of the homestead regardless of its total equalized valuation.

Representative Trezise said, that persons desiring further information regarding the tax exemptions could contact their local township or municipality assessor's office with their questions.

Carland's Methodist Women met at Mrs Dale (Donna) Dumond of rural Carland opened her home, Wednesday evening, to the Carland United Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service with 12 members attending.

Mrs Glen Parks, the newly elected president, called the first meeting of 1973 to order, with Mrs Larry Kadolph as Vice president, Mrs Louis Goodrich as secretary, and Mrs J.C. Bowen as treasurer also performing their duties as new officers for the year.

The reports were all read and approved and placed on file. Mrs Larry Kadolph was in charge of the program that prompted discussion, by the members present, on the name that would be given to the Women's Society in the near future.

Each lady chose a secret- pal for the year to remember on birthdays, anniversaries, holidays, and other special days of the year; with the identity to be disclosed at the end of the year.

Mrs Gladys Darling led the devotions for the group for an active and happy and prosperous new year.

Mrs Barbara Stewart assisted her sister, Mrs Dumond, in serving refreshments to the guests.

The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs Glenn Brown in Ovid.

Mr and Mrs Everett Reneaud of Carland entertained Mr and Mrs Richard Medd and son, Brian, of St Johns for an evening meal, New Years Eve.

Mr and Mrs Richard Mead and son, Brian, attended a birthday dinner at the home of Mrs Mead's parents, Mr and Mrs Leo Deming in Carland, Wednesday evening.

The party was in honor of Mr Deming's birthday; a chicken dinner was served to the guests and a traditional birthday cake decorated with Michigan holly was served with ice cream after Mr Deming opened his gifts.

Mr and Mrs Korky Root and son spent the holidays with Mrs Root's mother, Mrs Betty Root and grand- parents, Mr and Mrs Frank Downey in Carland.

Making a good marriage better

Do you really mean what you say? Does your spouse hear what you mean? Do some of your actions say more than words?

Happiness in marriage depends on how effectively a husband and wife meet each other's needs and expectations. But communicating these expectations is a major problem for most people.

"Constructive criticism" to try to bring a person into line with what we think he or she should be like doesn't always work in marriage. But by emphasizing positive activities and encouraging each other to grow from there, a couple can meet life's problems and still keep their marriage exciting.

The Cooperative Extension Service has arranged an Evening Out for couples to socialize and enjoy each other's company for dinner on January 24, 1973, 7:00 pm at the Commercial National Bank in Ithaca. The program afterwards will be on how couples can share a positive experience in listening and hearing.

YOU'LL LEARN to express your good feeling and how to deepen your relationships through meaningful dialogue.

Make your reservations for Jan 24 before Jan 19, noon at: Gratiot Extension Office, Courthouse, Ithaca 48847. The phone number is 875-4125. The cost is $4.50 per couple. This includes dinner and the program. Make checks payable to Gratiot County Extension Office.

On the menu is Swiss steak, salad, vegetables, mashed potatoes, pie and coffee.

Everyone is invited and are asked to take another couple.

Germination test for soybeans

Due to the fall weather and the late harvest, the value of bin run soybeans for seed is doubtful. Because of the problem of low certified seed supply and the doubtful quality of bin run soybeans for seed, the Co-operative Extension Service, MSU, and the Michigan Department of Agriculture are working together to run germination tests on bin run lots of soybeans.

There is no charge for these germination tests. A representative sample of the bin should be brought to the Extension Office 1003 S. Oakland, St. Johns, to be forwarded to the testing laboratory. A quart is good for the sample and it should be representative of all parts of the bin and it should be labeled with your name and address.

If you are thinking of saving some of your seed for spring planting, it would be a good idea to have it germination tested to give you a better idea of seed viability and its value for planting.

Mark Monday, January 22 on your calendar for an Agriculture in Action meeting at the Ionia High School Auditorium in Ionia. Some of the topics discussed will be: Do you have a Credit Ability Gap; How is your financial rating; How to use a computer in your business; Dairy rations, investments and others; Who will control Agriculture, a look into the future.

Also, on the program will be dairy production and marketing. Watch those dairy costs, and what type of business organization is best, proprietorship, partnership or corporation.

This is an area meeting sponsored by the Extension Service of several counties with the cooperation of the credit agencies: See your bank or credit agency for luncheon tickets.

State develops egg industry

LANSING -- Michigan poultrymen are embarking on a new marketing venture which shows promise of developing broadened sales opportunities for state-produced eggs.

The venture involves production of cooked, peeled eggs for commercial and institutional food handlers. Developed by the Egg Marketing Division of Farm Bureau Services, the sale of hard-cooked eggs in quantity orders represents a precedent-making addition to the traditional method of marketing Michigan-grown eggs only as fresh, in-shell products.

Production of the hard-cooked eggs already is underway at the Farm Bureau Services' egg processing plant at Jenison and market interest is growing. Principal customers of the hard-cooked eggs are institutional food preparers, such as universities, colleges, and hospitals, as well as food catering firms, hotels, restaurant suppliers, vending machine operations, airline food preparers, and even the school lunch program.

Clyde I. Springer of St. Johns, vice president of the Egg Marketing Division, reports market studies show significant promise that the cooked egg program may become a major sales outlet for Michigan eggs. If projections are correct, the marketing of cooked eggs as a supplement to the already substantial sale of fresh eggs can become a substantial advantage to Michigan poultrymen.

"THE MICHIGAN poultry industry, following the U.S. pattern has been seriously depressed by overproduction in the last few years," Springer observed. "Development of a new market outlet for Michigan eggs may prove to be an important step in restoring profitability for our growers."

The newly installed Jenison plant equipment has a capacity of processing 1,200 dozen cooked eggs a day, but the first year market goal will be 600 dozen sales per day, Springer said. The eggs are hard-cooked, peeled, and "cartonized" in automated equipment under the strictest sanitary controls.

Before shipment to commercial and industrial customers, the hard-cooked eggs are placed in plastic liners in a preserving liquid, 10 dozen to a box. Stamped as USDA grade AA Fancy Fresh, the cooked eggs have a 21-day shelf life.

Commercial customers are using the eggs for sandwiches, salads, relish trays, and a host of food preparation uses. The pre-cooking saves time and extra preparation by commercial users who previously had to buy fresh eggs and cook them in their own facilities.

When users are consuming many dozen eggs daily, the pre-cooked eggs available from Farm Bureau Services represents a major convenience.

Under USDA regulations, the cooked eggs remain usable for 21 days after the date stamped on the packaging cartons. Actually, however, laboratory tests show the cooked eggs processed at the Jenison plant are perfectly usable well beyond the 21-day limit.

THUS FAR, Springer says Farm Bureau Services plans only to concentrate on sales of cooked eggs to big institutional users and commercial food supply firms, but someday in the future the average housewife may also be able to buy the pre-cooked, shelled eggs at her supermarket.

Milk for bottling has price increase

DETROIT -- Michigan Milk Producers Association, through Great Lakes-Southern Milk, Inc., today announced that the price it charges Lower Peninsula Michigan dairies for milk used for bottling purposes will be increased 30 cents per hundredweight Feb. 1.

MMPA is a statewide dairy farmer organization which supplies milk to many Michigan dairies. Great Lakes-Southern is a regional milk marketing cooperative composed of dairy farmer co-ops doing business in a multi-state area.

Current prices for milk used for bottling purposes range from $6.90 in the northernmost portions of the Lower Peninsula to $7.13 on milk delivered direct from the farm to Detroit area dairies.

The price increase applies only to that portion of milk sold by dairies as fluid milk or cream. Milk processed into butter, cottage cheese and other products brings dairy farmers lower prices in accordance with federal milk marketing orders in effect in the state.

Glenn Lake, a North Branch dairy farmer and president of MMPA cited the rising costs of production which dairy farmers must pay as the reason for the price increase.

In particular, farmers are being forced to buy larger volumes of feed due to bad weather conditions in the fall which prevented them from harvesting their crops, Lake noted.

The price increase amounts to slightly less than one and a half cents per half gallon.

"What the price increase at the retail level will be we have no idea because that is a matter that retailers will have to decide," Lake said. "We do know, though, that dairies have other cost factors to consider in addition to the price of milk and that many of these other costs have been rising too."

"We also know that in many parts of the state, retail milk prices have not increased for at least two years, and that in some areas prices are actually lower."

Lake said that even with an increase in price, milk and dairy products remain one of the consumer's best bargains. "There are few, if any, products of milk's nutritional value that can beat the price of milk, which figures out to be less than 15 cents a pound at the retail level."

Agriculture in Action

A New Tool

Some Michigan farmers now have a new valuable tool which can be used to create a better marketing environment and gain proper terms of sale through an equitable, legal procedure guaranteeing good faith bargaining and preventing unfair trade practices.

The new tool, the Michigan Agricultural Marketing and Bargaining Act, was recently signed into law by Governor Milliken.

The Act, which was introduced in the Senate early in 1972 but did not receive final passage by the legislature until the end of the 1972 session, applies only to all perishable fruits and vegetables. This enabling legislation will now be available for the use of producer controlled marketing associations that qualify under the accreditation provisions of the Act.

Administration of the Act will be under a five-member board within the Michigan Department of Agriculture. The board shall be appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate.

During a relatively short period of time, the marketing structure for farm products has drastically changed. Buyers of farm commodities have become, in many cases, huge conglomerate corporations and chains, often controlled by those engaged primarily in non-agricultural business. They are often impersonal and unconcerned in their dealings with producers. In those segments of the food industry which are contract-oriented, contracts are often developed by handlers and offered to producers on a "take it or leave it" basis. Well-informed buyers, often representing a conglomerate or chain, are pitted against small family farm producers.

This new tool can help put producers and buyers on a more equitable scale and improve our food marketing system.

Farm Bureau hails new agricultural act

LANSING — The Michigan Agricultural Marketing and Bargaining Act which was signed into law Jan 9 by Governor William Milliken was hailed "a tremendous step forward" by the Michigan Farm Bureau, the state's largest farm organization.

Dean Pridgeon, Farm Bureau vice president, said, "This legislation will serve as a valuable tool which can be used to create a better marketing environment for Clinton County 4-H'ers have an opportunity to participate in the 1973 National 4-H Poster Art Contest. Posters may be made by any 4-H'er or by a club or team of members. The County 4-H Council will award $5 to each of the 5 top posters selected in the county contest with every entry receiving a 4-H chevron shield. The deadline for the county contest is February 15 and the top five entries will be sent on to the State contest at Michigan State University. The posters need to emphasize what 4-H means to the member or what 4-H is all about and is open to everyone.

Ten top entries will be selected state wide and will be forwarded on to the National Contest to be judged by the National 4-H Conference delegates in April. Coats and Clark, Inc. who sponsors the National Contest, will award cameras for the 10 best entries nationally and one camera for the best poster with an International 4-H emphasis.

In 1972, Clinton County top entries won 5 out of the top 11 state entries selected for the National Contest. The State 4-H Office stated over 150 entries were received in the state wide contest. The 1973 winning posters in the state will be displayed at Leadership held March 3 & 4 at Michigan State University.

Some guide lines for 4-H'ers to follow include: (1) Posters can be either horizontal or vertical. However, horizontals have more use because they conform to TV proportions and don't need remaking; (2) Members can not use copyrighted cartoon characters; (3) Recommended sizes are 11x14 inches up to 22x28 inches; (4) Posters should not be rolled up, and (5) Be sure name, age and address of members doing the work is included on the back of the poster. Anyone wishing more information should contact the Extension Office.

Michigan State University students will present their annual Little International Livestock Showmanship Contest on Saturday, January 20 at the Livestock Pavilion at MSU. The afternoon program begins at 1:00 pm and the evening program will start at 7:30 pm. The college students have one week to prepare their animal either horse, beef, dairy, sheep or swine for the Showmanship Contest. The first and second place winner in each species class will compete for the finals Saturday evening. A final Showmanship Sweepstakes will be held to see which species winner is the best showman of the 5 species. There is no admission charge to attend this program.

Entries are coming in fairly fast for the Clinton County 4-H Snow Camp weekend scheduled for Traverse City on January 26-28. The 4-H'ers will enjoy a weekend of snow-filled activities. Reservations will be limited to the first 100 registrations. The group will leave the Extension Office in St. Johns on Friday, January 26 at 10:00 am and will return about 4:30-5:00 pm on Sunday, January 28.

Michigan State University hosts the 4th Intercollegiate Rodeo Feb 23-25. After a very successful performance last year, the MSU Rodeo team will be joined by college teams from Wisconsin State, Iowa State, Black Hills State, University of Nebraska and others. The rodeo will provide the youth an opportunity to learn more about the sport, excitement, competition and reward that go with it. There are 4 performances including Friday, Feb 23 at 8:00 pm, Saturday, Feb 24, 2:00 pm and 8:00 pm and Sunday, Feb 25 at 2:00 pm. Admission charge is $2.00. 4-H youth groups will receive a reduced rate of $1.50 instead of $2.00 for the Feb 24 2:00 pm performance if tickets are ordered in groups of 10 or more. Tickets may be ordered from MSU Rodeo Club, c/o Miss Jeanette Hogarth, 102 Anthony Hall, MSU, East Lansing, Michigan, 48823 or phone 517-355-8400.

Miss LuAnne Thelen of St. Johns and a member of the Tail Waggers 4-H Club is a very proud young lady. She was informed that her second dog "NIKKI" had graduated from the Leader Dog School for the Blind at Rochester. Nikki is now with her new master in Pennsylvania and was the 3517th dog to graduate from the Leader Dog School. Our congratulations go to LuAnne on this accomplishment of her dog and for the year she spent in training the dog for the Leader Dog School for the Blind.

The 4-H Fair bleacher fund received a boost of $5.00 from the Nimble Fingers 4-H Club and $20.00 from the Green Acres 4-H members in memory of Don Deveraux. 4-H clubs are raising money toward a goal of $300.00 to match the 4-H Teen Leader gift of $300.00 for new fair bleachers.

The 4-H motorcycle project in Belize (British Honduras) received a boost in donations from the following 4-H clubs; $10.00 Green Acres; $5.00 Jolly Knitters and $4.00 from the Knit N' Stitch Club. This motorcycle will be quite helpful to the Youth Development Worker in reaching more youth in Belize where public transportation and roads are few.

The Bath 4-H Electrical Club has had several meetings where the members have learned about the following items: How to take a mercury vapor light apart and how it works; studied different sizes of wire and found out what amps, volts and watts were; made electromagnets, telegraph keys and conductor sample boards. These boys are enjoying their electrical project very much under the leadership of Jerry Reeves.

The Jolly Knitters 4-H members received an invitation for their officers to attend the Green Acres 4-H Club January meeting and voted to accept it. They also voted to donate $5.00 to the Belize Motorcycle project and discussed the coming spring achievement in March as well as the Traverse City 4-H Trip. Sheri Harte gave a demonstration on indoor garden. Charles Tait and Jennifer Rose led the members in recreation. Following the business meeting members exchanged Christmas gifts, enjoyed their Christmas party and the breaking of a Pinata made by Julie Tait.

The Ear Floppers 4-H members discussed the 4-H honor roll and the 4-H Poster Contest. Kirk Barnard and Robert Balzer plan to enter their entries in the 4-H Poster Contest. Before the meeting, the members worked their dogs. The club sent 3 dogs to Rochester for the Leader Dog School for the Blind for acceptance for further training or rejection and found the 3 dogs were rejected. The experiences gained by the members will be helpful in raising future leader dogs.

Trash can be beautiful

EAST LANSING — The problem with trash has always been to get rid of it. The problem began with the first man who flung a bone out of his cave, and it has grown as man has improved his technology and shed his primitive living. Says Anne Field, family resource management specialist at Michigan State University, "The problem is taking on a new dimension: how to save what remains of the limited resources we have so lavishly squandering."

"Trash is our only growing resource," she points out, "and it's time we began to reclaim and reuse the materials we have been wasting."

Two popular movements have been the collecting of bottles and newspapers. Miss Field maintains that collecting is only half the job, however.

"Consumers must also press for items made with recycled materials," she says. "It won't do much good if we turn in our papers for recycling and then refuse to buy recycled paper products. We have to create a market for recycled materials by demanding them and being willing to pay a little extra for them."

"THE DIFFERENCE in the price of recycled paper isn't really great when you balance it against the trees saved, the land not needed for growing pulpwood, and the costs of lumbering, and the costs of disposing of the paper — landfills, transportation and so on."

Paper, she notes, is a renewable resource rather than a limited one. We can renew our supply by harvesting pulpwood which in some areas, such as northern Michigan, is grown specifically for the paper industry.

Though the land used for growing pulpwood is often unsuitable for other crops, natural resource authorities point out that some of the land could be used to grow hardwoods, which are much scarcer than softwoods and in great demand for housing and furniture. Also, research is developing new ways to substitute softwoods for hardwoods in constructing houses and furniture.

Recycling paper, therefore, becomes important in that it could reduce the amount of pulpwood needed to be grown for paper and so allow more land to be used for growing wood for other purposes.

Recycling paper would also greatly cut down the volume of trash piling up around the landscape. About 60 percent by weight of all refuse is waste paper, Miss Field says, and that makes paper a prime target for citizens concerned about the trash problem.

Miss Field recommends a two-pronged attack on paper waste: bundle your newspapers for the recycling center, and cut down on your use of paper at home. As a start, she offers these suggestions:

WHENEVER POSSIBLE, substitute cloth items for throwaway paper ones. When you use paper, use it frugally.

Terminate subscriptions to magazines that you don't read and share with your friends and neighbors. Select other reading matter from the library shelves. When you buy books, try to buy them used and pass them on when you've read them. Even one such reuse is better than none.

When you write a letter, take notes on a talk or jot little shopping reminders to yourself, keep in mind that most paper, unless it is very thin like onionskin, has two sides.

perfectly good sides. By using both of them, you can cut your stationary consumption in half. Living. Apply a little creativity to old Christmas cards and wrapping paper to produce original cards, decorations and decoupage items, and turn paper milk cartons into things like planters for seedlings.

These suggestions are only a beginning. With a little thought, you can probably come up with a dozen original reuses for reusable paper products.

ASA FINAL PART of your assault on waste paper, demand recycled paper products whenever possible. Miss Field urges. Pressed paper egg cartons and molded produce trays are standard outlets for recycled paper, and 100 percent recycled paper bathroom tissue, paper towels and stationery are now available.

Recycling will not be effective on a wide scale until it is economically feasible, Miss Field points out. It will not pay private companies to get involved until people provide a market for recycled products.

"By their willingness to pay a little extra in the direct cost of recycled products, consumers will be able to avoid the indirect costs of damage to the environment, depletion of natural resources and disposal of the ever-growing mountains of trash," she says.

"Unless citizens are willing to do this, widespread, effective recycling cannot become a reality."

Pewamo

Mrs. Irene Fox Ph. 593-3359

Former pastor of St. Joseph parish, Pewamo-Rev. Charles A. Wenbery 84, died Monday Jan 15 in his office at the hospital in Detroit. He was graduated in 1911 from the University of Detroit and received his master's degree there in 1913. He studied theology at St. Mary's Seminary in Baltimore and St. Mary's Seminary of the west in Cincinnati, where he was ordained in 1916.

First assigned as chaplain at St. Joseph College in Adrian, he was later transferred to the pastorate of St. Joseph Catholic Church in Pewamo.

Father Ulenberg became the founding pastor of Our Lady Gate of Heaven parish in 1927 and remained there 13 years.

In 1941 he became pastor of St. Philip Neri, retiring in 1956 after 25 years there. He became chaplain of St. John Hospital in September 1967. Funeral services were Thursday in the chapel of the hospital, at 22101 Morass, Detroit. Burial was in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Tributes were made in the intensive care unit of St. John Hospital Detroit.

Mrs. Leone Hillabrandt and John Hillabrandt, returned home Friday January 5, following a 3-1/2 weeks stay in Hawaii, where they visited her son and daughter-in-law and brother. Mr. and Mrs. James Hillabrandt and 2 daughters Suzanne and Pam. Many places of interest were visited while there.

When leaving Hawaii the temperature was 80 degrees arriving here in real winter weather. The trip was made by plane from Lansing to Chicago on to Hawaii.

Ernest Fox of South State Pewamo was admitted at the Lansing General Hospital Thursday January 4 and underwent eye surgery on Friday January 5. Saturday visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Fox and Mrs. Anna Fox. Sunday visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Burns of St. Johns and Mrs. Anna Fox of Pewamo. Mr. Fox expects to be home some time this week.

Lottery Bureau says date nearing for $1 million drawing

LANSING — The Bureau of State Lottery will be able to announce within the next few weeks the date of the preliminary drawing which will select 120 persons to participate in Michigan's first Millionaire Drawing.

Gus Harrison, Lottery Commissioner, said the Bureau has surpassed the 30-million ticket sales mark which starts the countdown for the big drawing during the seventh week of sales (December 26-January 2). The controlling factor in scheduling the Millionaire Drawing, however, is the issuance of 120,000 prize awards to weekly winners of $25. There are, on the average, 4,000 winners of $25 for every million tickets sold (one in 250), but we cannot pay claims until they are submitted by winners.

"We have so far mailed out 30,000 $25 prizes, and another 30,000 will be mailed this week," he said. "Within the next few weeks we should be approaching the 120,000 figure."

Harrison said the normal gap between submission of a prize claim and receipt of the prize is from two to three weeks, but it has taken somewhat longer than that in some cases because of the normal difficulties involved in perfecting new procedures. The validation of winning tickets and other computer operations are now functioning well, he said, and the gap between claim submission and receipt of the prize should narrow.

"IT IS STILL too early to predict exactly when we can conduct the first Millionaire Drawing," Harrison said, "but once the first one is out of the way, we expect to be able to schedule future drawings regularly if sales continue at the present rate. We anticipate that we will be able to conduct several more Millionaire Drawings during 1973."

Once exactly 120,000 winners of $25 have been scheduled to pick the 120 persons who gain invitation to the Millionaire Drawing, whose new number matches the drawn 3-digit number will be invited to the Millionaire Drawing to be held a week to 10 days after the elimination event.

The site for the first Millionaire Drawing will be exact time have not yet been determined," he said.

THE 120 PERSONS who are invited to the big drawing are asked to attend in person. As in the Super Drawing, however, participants can designate a stand-in or have a Bureau employee represent them.

"Each of the 120 participants will get a check for at least $1,000 for attending and has a chance at $50,000 per year for 20 years," Harrison said, "and we think that's a good incentive for showing up."

As contestants arrive at the drawing site and are properly identified, they will draw an envelope (as in the Super Drawing) to determine their contestant number. They get a badge with that number and are assigned to a chair bearing that number.

Colored balls numbered from 001 to 120, corresponding with the contestant number, will be placed in the plastic drum used in the Weekly Drawing by the contestants themselves.

When all 120 balls are in the drum, it will be rotated to mix the balls. Gates at the bottom of the drum will then be opened to allow 10 of the balls to escape into receptacles (cups) on which the prize amounts are listed.

A DIGITARY will then be asked to begin removing the cups from the drum and announce the winners.

Seven of the cups will contain balls with numbers which will determine winners of $5,000 each.

One cup will contain a ball with numbers which will determine one winner of $50,000 ($10,000 per year for 5 years).

Another cup will contain a ball with numbers which will determine one winner of $100,000 ($20,000 per year for 5 years).

With 9 of the 120 cups removed, only 1 will remain. The 111 contestants not yet awarded prizes will still be in the running for the top prize.

THE FINAL CUP is removed and the contestant with the number on the ball inside will be Michigan's first Lottery Millionaire.

"The big drawing will be open to the public, as are weekly drawings, and we think it promises to be an event Michigan will not soon forget," Harrison said.

Second Annual Sugarbeet Science Review in Saginaw

SAGINAW -- The Second Annual Sugarbeet Science Review will again be staged at the beautiful Saginaw Civic Center. The entire center has been reserved for Wednesday, Jan. 24.

An educational and informative program has been planned. In addition, large and small sugarbeet equipment companies plus herbicide and fertilizer representatives will display their products in the sports arena. Displays will be open to the public from 9 am until 6 pm.

Keynote speaker during the general session (1-2:30 pm) will be B. Dale Ball, commissioner of agriculture. He will speak on the "Problems in administration of federal-state cooperative programs related to the production and processing of farm products." This session will also feature a grower panel discussion, moderated by William Bortel, Tuscola County extension director. Three 1-hour satellite sessions will be staged beginning at 10 am, 2:30 pm and 3:30 pm.

Topics for these sessions are 1) Herbicide Programs for Sugarbeets, featuring Dr. William Meggitt, MSU and Ralph Fogg, Monitor Sugar Company; 2) The Effect of Nitrogen on Sugarbeet Quality, featuring Dr. Donald Christenson, MSU and Dr. Richard Zielke, USDA; and 3) Practices Contributing to Successful Sugarbeet Production. This session includes: Insect Control, with Dr. Robert Ruppel, MSU; Crusting and Emergence, with Dr. Earl Erickson, MSU; and Don't

Tear Up That Stand, featuring Larry Herweyer, Michigan Sugar Company. Something new this year is "Something for the Ladies". At 9:45 am, Mary Ellen Delsipee, Extension Home Economist will talk about "Care Labeling of Fabrics" and at 10:30 am, "Buying Freezer Beef" and "More Food For Your Money" by Mary Douglas, Consumer Marketing Information Agent. More than 1000 parking spaces will be available for persons attending the Sugarbeet Science Review at Parking Ramp #2, directly across from the Civic Center. Last year, more than 1500 people attended this event.

GRAND LEDGE -- Albert Frohner has been named General Telephone customer service manager at Grand Ledge according to an announcement by W.J. Langeland, district manager for the company. Frohner was formerly marketing forecaster at Owosso.

Frohner will be responsible for customer service in Bath, DeWitt, Laingsburg, Williamston and Woodland in addition to Grand Ledge, six of the 16 exchanges included in the St. Johns district.

Included in Frohner's responsibilities will be all business office activities such as service orders, customer records and collections in the Grand Ledge office. In addition, he will be responsible for the company's continuing role as a good corporate citizen in the communities it serves and for keeping customers informed if the company's service improvement and expansion plans for those communities.

Frohner joined General Telephone as an engineering assistant at Muskegon in 1964. He subsequently worked as a field engineer at Adrian and Owosso before being named forecaster at Owosso earlier this year.

Frohner, his wife, Sandra, and children Kimbal, 5, and Michael, 4, currently live at 504 Dean Drive, Owosso, and will move to the Grand Ledge area when housing arrangements are completed.

Nursing home care teaching subject of Red Cross course

A course to help instructors develop skills in teaching nursing home care will be offered by the American Red Cross, Jan 31, Feb 1 and 2, from 8:30 am - 5:00 pm, each day at 1800 East Grand River Avenue, Lansing.

Mrs Marge Gaunt, RN, director, nursing programs of the Red Cross Wolverine Division will conduct the classes which are open to Registered Nurses and Licensed Practical Nurses who have responsibility for education and training. Supplemental training will be offered to those seeking additional help.

The course content will include principles and skills necessary to teach others how to care for the aged and the chronically ill. Sufficient practice to ensure skillful teaching will be provided. The course will also include methods of supervision and development of in-service programs.

The goal is to upgrade nursing performance in the area of geriatric nursing and thus to improve the quality of care in nursing homes, Red Cross chapters can assist in this effort by teaching Registered Nurses and selected Licensed Practical Nurses employed in nursing homes, the four step method of teaching.

This method offers an opportunity to learn basic teaching skills to carry out on-the-job training and to conduct in-service and continuing education programs.

The instructor course will vary from 20 to 30 hours. Other followup courses may be developed on this base. Interested persons are asked to contact Mrs Frances Friedland, 484-7461, for information and registration.

Ovid-Elsie Board hears reports on roof, fire escape

The Ovid-Elsie area school board meeting was called to order at 8:20 pm by President Hill with the following members present: D. Hill, M. Green, C. Bracey, G. Webster, R. Stewart and R. Semans. Member Absent: R. DePond.

It was moved by M. Green and supported by G. Webster to dispense with the reading of the minutes of the December 11, 1972 regular meeting and approve them as printed. Motion carried.

It was moved by R. Semans and supported by R. Stewart to approve payment of general fund bills represented by checks numbered 7524 through 7551 in the amount of $194,820.01. Motion carried.

The General Fund financial report was read and approved. Superintendent Kenney reported the roof on the Ovid Junior High School should be finished by the end of this month. The materials have not been received yet, but precautions have been taken to protect the floor.

A drawing of a fire escape for the Elsie Junior High School was received from Gratiot Metals. The drawing was a ladder extending below the second floor window ending four feet from the ground. A discussion was held and it was decided that it might be better to offset the ladder from the window and also have a small platform outside the window.

R. DePond entered the meeting at 8:43 pm.

Superintendent Kenney checked with Lloyd Fales, Supervisor, School Plant Planning, Department of Education on the school bus garage. Dr Fales has to approve all school buildings. Dr Fales stated that a dual purpose building would run into more money and suggested having 2 buildings. A lengthy discussion was held. No decision was made, however, the Board still plans on requesting bids on the bus garage by the end of January and to commence construction no later than March.

A report on bus inspection was received from the Michigan State Police. All of the Ovid fleet passed, only 4 out of 11 of the Elsie fleet passed. Only minor things were wrong and the school has until January 26, to correct them. Superintendent Kenney stated that this indicated more reason to have our own bus garage.

The Board previewed a school bus safety film, "And Then It Happened." The film will be purchased jointly by 6 Clinton County School districts to be shown every year. The film will be shown

St Johns City Commission

December 11, 1972

Mayor Wood called the regular meeting of the City Commission to order at 7:30 p.m.

Comm. Present: Rand, Grost, Hannah, Ebert, Wood.
 Comm. Absent: None

Staff Present: City Manager, City Clerk, City Attorney, Zoning Administrator, Reverend Johannides offered invocation.

Motion by Comm. Ebert supported by Comm. Grost to approve the November 27, 1972 City Commission Minutes, Motion carried.

Motion by Comm. Ebert supported by Comm. Grost to approve the agenda. Motion carried.

Motion by Comm. Grost supported by Comm. Rand to approve the warrants. Motion carried.

Mr. Tony Kuntz, representing the St. Johns

Library Board, appeared before the City Commission and discussed the possibility of the purchase of the A&P building on the corner of Brush & Walker Streets for library purposes. Mr. Kuntz told the City Commission the building was being offered for sale for $30,000; however, he felt it could be purchased for less. Mr. Kuntz indicated the building would need a new roof and other minor remodeling.

General discussion regarding the request of the "Key '73 Committee" which asked the City Commission not to blow the siren at noon between December 25, 1972 & January 6, 1973 so that church bells may be heard to remind the citizens of a noon prayer call followed. Comm. Rand asked that the Chief of Police be notified regarding the "Key '73 Committee" communication. However, the city siren is to continue to be blown at noon.

Mayor Wood appointed City Manager Weatherwax to assume the duties of City Fire Commissioner pursuant to the provisions of Ordinance #251.

Adoption of Ordinance #252, AN ORDINANCE TO VACATE A PORTION OF ELM STREET WITHIN THE CITY OF ST. JOHNS, was moved by Comm. Grost and supported by Comm. Hannah. Ordinance was adopted.

Mayor Wood read a communication from the Local Officers Compensation Commission regarding their recommendation for the salaries of St. Johns elected officials.

The City Commission adopted a resolution setting salaries of St. Johns elected officials as follows: City Commissioner, $500.00 per annum; Mayor, $600.00 per annum.

Motion by Comm. Hannah supported by Comm. Rand to refer the rezoning request for property on US-27 to the Planning Commission for recommendation. Motion carried.

Motion by Comm. Rand supported by Comm. Grost to refer the rezoning request for property adjacent the intersection of Walker Street & Traver Street to the Planning Commission for recommendation. Motion carried.

The City Commission adopted a resolution which extended the City Commission's thanks and appreciation to the A & P Store & Company for its many years of service to the residents of the City of St. Johns.

Motion by Comm. Hannah supported by Comm. Grost to adjourn. Motion carried. Meeting adjourned at 8:31 p.m.

Local officials may sign up for Civil Defense seminars

EAST LANSING-A series of three-day seminars to train local civil defense officials concerning natural disasters has been announced by the State Police emergency services division.

Local officials are advised that advance reservations are necessary and may be made through the State Police emergency services division at East Lansing.

The first will be at the Holiday Inn at Southfield Jan 10-12, the second at the Hospitality Inn at Lansing Jan 31-Feb 2, and the third at Higgins Lake Conservation School March 6-8.

The seminars will involve preparations for natural disasters and the coordination of resources for these times of emergency with emphasis on local government responsibilities and recovery operations.

The sessions will have representatives of federal agencies in attendance who will participate in the program along with various state and local officials. About 60 persons are expected in attendance at each seminar.
