St. Johns Board hopes for balanced 1972 budget

The St. Johns School Board adopted its 1972 budget later than usual this year due to uncertainties of such things as price-wage ruling and state aid.

Estimated revenues were put at $3,178,470, up $153,096 from last year. The board approved expenditures of $3,175,918, a jump from $56,429 last year.

Nearly all the items on the budget showed an increase over this year. Elementary instruction was set at $987,785, up $26,108; secondary education, $1,206,750, up $8,979; special education, $92,600, up $10,853; administration, $103,400, up $3,256; health service, $13,684, up $914; transportation, $224,465, up $23,347; operation of plant, $305,040, up $10,011; fixed charges, $132,106 up $16,783.

Three budget categories showed a decreased expenditure. Listed were maintenance of plant, $81,000, down $3,712; capital outlay, $10,000, down $25,659; and federal programs, $39,087, down $13,550.

Revenues anticipated this year are as follows: Local sources including property taxes, $1,226,000, up $31,572; County Intermediate District for special education, $17,500, down $14,775; state sources including state aid, $1,894,563, up $169, 881; federal sources $40,387, down $33,582.

A deficit of $107,977 was incurred last year resulting from the free textbook ruling, the transfer of junior high students from a parochial school at mid-year from part-time to a full-time basis and a reduction of state-aid.

DeWitt wants ban on topless go-go dancing

DEWITT TOWNSHIP—Formal petitions have been delivered to Clinton County Prosecuting Attorney Jon Newman by a group of citizens from DeWitt Township demanding some regulation of topless go-go dancing at a township night club.

The group had met earlier with DeWitt Township trustees presenting a petition and calling for a township ordinance prohibiting topless dancing in the area night spots.

Township attorney Merle Wyble of Lansing and Magistrate Gordon Willyoung of DeWitt Township explained to the citizens that there were existing state laws governing such shows and that they should direct their petitions to the county prosecutor.

However, the board of trustees did pass a motion to direct the attorney to study the feasibility of a resolution regulating the shows, although specific details of such an ordinance were not disclosed.

Township Supervisor Milton King said Tuesday that the township would take no formal action until the recommendations of the attorney are presented. He said such an ordinance, if adopted, would not single out a specific club, but would govern all "such instances."

Spokesmen for the management of the night club, CD's, located on US-27 north of the Lansing City limits, said if the township tried to close his club, he would ask his attorneys to seek a court injunction to remain open, pending court rulings on other cases in the Detroit area that are on appeal.

Newman said he would meet Friday with a "group of concerned citizens" from the township. He noted that the citizens were also angered at the current fare offered at the Northside Drive-In Theater on US-27. The drive-in is currently featuring X-rated movies.

The citizen's group is headed by Owen Munk, a township resident. The petition drive netted signatures from 304 township residents during the past few weeks.

JAYCEE AWARD WINNERS

John Arehart and Barry Dean display plaques they received at the annual Bosses Night, sponsored by the St. Johns Jaycees, which was held at Daley's Restaurant Tuesday, Jan. 11. Arehart received his award for being the Outstanding Young Educator and Dean received the Distinguished Service Award. James Becker, far right, was unable to attend the banquet and later in the week was presented the Outstanding Young Farmer award by Mike Palmer, who served as chairman of that award.

Leadership unchanged on commission board

ST. JOHNS—The Clinton County Board of Commission leadership remained unchanged following a reorganization meeting Tuesday.

Gerald Shepard, who represents Bath Township, was re-elected board chairman and Gerald Lankford, who represents part of DeWitt Township and the City of DeWitt, was re-elected vice-chairman.

In other action, the board established new committee membership for the 1972 session. Named to the finance committee were Lankford, chairman, Walter Nobis, Duane Chamberlain and Robert Dittmer; governmental and personnel committee, Nobis, chairman, Maurice Gove Lankford, Roy F. (Jack) Andrews and Robert Montgomery; land use committee, Chamberlain, chairman, Montgomery, Gove and William Hufnagel.

The property management committee includes Dittmer, chairman, Hufnagel, Claude Underhill and Derrill Shlabery; health committee, Andrews, chairman, Montgomery, Underhill and Shlabery; building authority committee, Lankford, chairman, Nobis, Chamberlain, Dittmer and Andrews.

were named to the four-year term posts on the board of canvassers. Canfield succeeds Earl Darnell, while Mrs. Cheney has been on the board.

Andrews was named, with Nobis, to represent Clinton County on the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission. Andrews was previously a representative from the county on the board while Nobis succeeds Andrew Cobb who resigned from the board of commissioners in December. The Tri-County appointments are for one year.

Almond Cressman was reappointed as a member-at-large for a two-year term. Chamberlain was reappointed to represent the board of commissioners on the Clinton County Department of Public Works board.

O-E, St. Johns top News tourney

OVID-ELSIE—"We went over there with the idea to win, but we were almost out from the first round," St. Johns wrestling Coach Billy Brown commented Monday after the Redwing matmen staged a comeback to place second in the News Clinton County mat tournament here Saturday night.

"It was just the luck of the draw, I guess," Brown said. "We had to fight for our lives. Last year, we came in third and we hope that next year we will be in first place. That O-E team is pretty tough."

The Ovid-Elsie Marauders were indeed tough as they shattered the tournament scoring record by rolling up 123 points to take the first place trophy for the third straight year.

St. Johns who had finished third in 1971 with 66 points, rallied in the finals to grab 81 1/2 points, good enough for second place. DeWitt came in third with 77 points, while Pewamo-Westphalia was fourth with 61 and Bath last with 34. All but one Clinton County school was represented in the third annual tournament. Fowler High School does not have a wrestling program.

The Redwings had five wrestlers in the final rounds, staged at the Ovid-Elsie High School gym Saturday night. Two of them, Tom Butler in the 98-pound division and Kevin Hayes in the 126-pound class, won division championships.

Other Redwings in the finals included John Hayes, 105-pound division; Don Lewis, 119-pound division; and Keith Love, 138-pound division.

Hayes lost a 5-2 decision to Ovid-Elsie's Fred Enos, while Lewis lost a 4-2 decision to O-E's Al Cobb. Love was topped by DeWitt's Brad Hilts, 1-0.

Brown said he was displeased with the long break in the afternoon between the preliminary elimination matches and the championship rounds. He said that next year the tournament will be held continuously from opening round to the finals.

Pewamo-Westphalia will be the scene of the 1973 Clinton County tournament.

Presenting a certificate of appreciation to Lewis was Col. W.J. Meyers, U.S.A. Ret., the deputy state director. Dale Robinson, far right, holds another service award presented to Lewis from the Rotary Club as Mrs. Opal Podolak, secretary at the local board, looks on.

Fluoride treatment scheduled

Topical Fluoride applications will again be offered to Clinton County children this summer according to Mrs. Luella Canfield, R.N., Chairman of the Clinton County Topical Fluoride Committee.

The fluoride program which is supervised by the Michigan Department of Health, will be made available to pre-schoolers, second, fifth and eighth graders and to special cases referred by dentists. According to Luella Canfield, the procedure consists of four visits to the fluoride clinic at approximately two day intervals. The child's teeth are cleaned on the first visit and a fluoride application is applied directly to the surface of the teeth. The fluoride application only is then repeated during the three succeeding visits. "This technique has been shown to reduce tooth decay by about forty per cent compared with the sixty to sixty-five per cent reduction obtained with fluoridated water," she said.

"In addition to providing protection against cavities, the program offers a valuable dental experience for children with no discomfort. Dental health education by the clinic personnel including instruction in the proper method of brushing teeth, also is an important part of the program," Mrs. Canfield said.

Parents of eligible children will be notified soon through the schools and through the mails except for pre-schoolers as we have no way of knowing where they are. If you want your pre-school child to have these treatments and the child is old enough to sit still for it call 224-2195 or 224-7772 and an application will be sent or stop by the office at 106 Maple St., St. Johns.

Business notes

By MIKE PREVILLE
News Advertising Manager

Everyone sooner or later locks themselves out of the house or apartment while wearing not very much. But I did it on the coldest morning in years.

I stepped out of the shower early Saturday morning, wrapped a towel around and trundled downstairs to make the coffee. The Free Press was lying on the front porch.

And being that it was early . . . and being as how I didn't rummage around looking for clothes and getting dressed and probably waking Big Mama (she's mean in the morning anyway) I looked both ways and made a dash for the paper.

Naturally the door closed. . . and locked, leaving me standing on the front porch in -10 degree weather wearing a soggy towel and. . . a smile?

Alice was upstairs sleeping. My boys who usually get up hollering and screaming at 4 a.m. on weekends were upstairs sleeping.

I beat on the door, I rang the bell, I yelled, I swore, I woke up the neighbors.

I ran to the side door praying that it would be open. Someone up there really doesn't care very much because it was locked, too. I rang that bell, I beat on that door, I threw snowballs at the window, I hollered and turned the air blue. . . and I think the neighbors called the police.

By this time my soggy towel was getting a little stiff, there was little feeling in my toes and if I could have caught the paperboy who left the paper on the porch instead of in the door,

I would have killed him. . . and not a jury in the country would have convicted me.

But for all my banging and shouting the only living thing stirring in the house were P and the puppy.

I tiptoes thru the snow to garage, thank heavens the keys were in the car. And believe to slide behind the wheel or vinyl seats wearing only a frozen towel is a thrill I'll not forget. With the key, I let me in the side door.

I was so happy to get inside the warm house I didn't even look where I was walking. Which is a bad mistake when there's a new puppy in the house.

Republicans to hear Allen

Representative Richard Allen (R-Ithaca) will be the featured speaker for the upcoming Michigan Federation of Young Republican's quarterly board meeting. Allen will climax their weekend at a Saturday evening banquet on Jan. 22, at the Park Place Motor Inn in Traverse City. Some 150 Young Republicans from all parts of the state will converge on Traverse City, Friday, Jan. 21, for three days of meetings and skiing area resorts.

The Young Republicans chose Allen because of his appeal to the state's youth both in legislation and other activities. Allen has backed such youth oriented issues as the age of majority legislation, the 18-year-old vote, birth control services to minors, and abortion reform. Recreational activities of bicycling, horseback riding and skiing add to his active image. "I intend to ski with the best of them," Allen said, of the weekends entertainment aspects.

Commenting on his appearance Allen stated, "I'm honored to be able to represent the legislative to the Republican youth of the state. I think the Republicans have a strong block of working youth in the state and they'll be playing an ever increasing role in the upcoming elections."

Other state legislators expected to make an appearance at the weekend board meeting will be Representatives Michael Dively (R-Traverse City) and John Engler (R-Mt. Pleasant), along with representation from the National Federation of Young Republicans.

Lions Club to present 21st show

The St. Johns Lions Club will present its 21st annual talent show on Friday, Jan. 21 and Saturday, Jan. 22 at the St. Johns High School auditorium beginning at 8 p.m.

Featured along with local talent will be Barb Piggott, a 14-year-old ventriloquist from Union Lake.

Miss Piggott, a ninth grader at Walled Lake Central High School, has appeared on the "Changed Coat of Arms."

President Harry Truman made a change in the U.S. coat of arms. The eagle now not only faces to its right—the direction of honor—but also toward the olive branches of peace which it holds in its right talon. Formerly, the eagle faced toward the arrows in its left talon, symbolic of war.

"Bozo" and "Alley Cat" television shows and has done several benefit performances in the Lansing area.

She first became interested in ventriloquism seven years ago when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Piggott, gave her a ventriloquist "doll". The one doll has now grown to four, one of which is a girl.

Barb will bring her favorite doll "Sunny" when she performs in St. Johns. Sunny and Barb have a special dentist routine with Sunny as the patient and Barb taking the part of the dentist.

Also appearing in the show will be Charles Gregory, a one-man variety act. Gregory has recently appeared on the Mike Douglas Show and excels in audience participation routines. Lions clubs throughout the country sponsor projects such as this to gain funds in order to further the work for the preservation and conservation of sight.

A doctor who operates on himself has a fool for a patient.

It's an old saying, but it's never made more sense. There are some jobs in life that you just don't tackle by yourself. The preparation of your income tax should be one of them.

And that's where H & R Block, The Income Tax People, come in. H & R Block is America's largest tax service with more than 6,000 conveniently located offices to serve you. Your H & R Block representative is specially trained and can provide information on legitimate income tax benefits and opportunities that the average man on the street doesn't even know exists.

For instance, do you know all about deductions for child care or casualty losses? Or, that if your income increased over the last few years, you may save tax dollars by "income averaging"? And even if you did, would you know how to go about "income averaging" to begin with? Probably not. And there's no reason why you should. After all, you're an amateur when it comes to doing income tax.

H & R Block's charges start at $5 and last year averaged under $12.50 for over 7 million returns we prepared.

And, if we make any error in the preparation of your tax return that costs you any interest or penalty on additional taxes due, while we do not assume the liability for the additional taxes, we will pay that interest and penalty.

Our one time fee entitles you to year 'round tax service and assistance.

Come to the company that more than 7 million Americans placed their confidence in last year. Come to the people who will fill out your next income tax return efficiently, quickly, confidentially. Come to H & R Block.

DON'T LET AN AMATEUR DO H&R BLOCK'S JOB.

Dear friends,

It deserves emphasis that the time, the place, the character of the funeral service, the merchandise used, the cemetery selected - these are decisions of the family of the deceased. The funeral director acts only as a representative of the family.

The clergyman should be consulted in matters that concern him before any decisions are made.

Respectfully,

It was moved by Nobis, supported by Cobb, to make the legal opinion a part of the minutes. Voted and carried.
Re: Clinton County Rural Zoning Ordinance

Dear Mr. Shepard:

This office was requested to issue its opinion concerning publication of the new County Zoning Ordinance and whether legal descriptions, of the areas in the various zones have to be described and contained in the ordinance.

The enabling legislation, being Act 183 of the Public Acts of 1943, as amended, MSA 5.2961 et seq, upon which the county's Zoning Ordinance is predicated, does not require publication of the ordinance subsequent to its passage. Act 183 requires two-thirds vote of the board for passage which has been done. Subsequent to passage, the Zoning Ordinance, including all maps, must be submitted to the Michigan Department of Economic Expansion for its approval, which I understand has been received.

The County Clerk must sign and certify to the ordinance and maps as well as the Chairman of the Board of Commissioners and also to be signed by the Chairman of the Michigan Department of Economic Expansion. A copy then must be deposited with the Secretary of State and a copy kept in the office of the County Clerk.

I might also point out that the county, in adopting any ordinance, as found in MSA 5.331, Section 11, Paragraph 13, provides

"All the laws, ordinances, regulations and acts of incorporation provided for in this paragraph shall not take effect until notice of such adoption has been published at least once in a newspaper of general circulation in the county and they shall have been approved by the Governor of the State."

Pursuant to this Act, it is my opinion that the Ordinance, together with all maps, must be submitted to the Governor for his approval and a notice of adoption of the ordinance must be published in the Clinton County News. Publication of this notice does not require publishing the ordinance.

Legal descriptions, of the areas in the various districts, need not be recited verbatim but the maps are an integral part of the ordinance and cover the various districts. Thus, you do not need concerned about describing the various parcels in the several districts. After the ordinance has been properly adopted, we should have copies printed and available, for sale to the general public for their information and guidance. In the published ordinance, the maps must also be published as the maps, as I have mentioned, are an integral part of the ordinance and publication of the text of the ordinance without the maps would be of no avail. I must caution you that the maps are a most important part of the ordinance and the original maps must be kept with the original copy of the ordinance.

Should you have any further questions concerning this, I will be pleased to receive your advice and to that end await your pleasure.

Sincerely,
GREEN & MAPLES
By: TIMOTHY M. GREEN

It was then moved by Nobis, supported by Underhill, to pay the bill of $290.00 as presented. Voted and carried.

A letter of resignation from Andrew W. Cobb as County Commissioner of District No 1, was read. Mr. Cobb expressed his regret on leaving and also the pleasure and satisfaction which he has experienced as a member of this Board.

Mr. Cobb has been appointed as Administrative Assistant to Allison Green, State Treasurer.

Gove moved, supported by Hufnagel, to accept with regret Mr. Cobb's resignation and to wish him success in his new position. Voted and carried.

The Board recessed at 10:15 a.m.

Upon again coming to order, Commissioner Cobb expressed his appreciation of the cordial relation which he has enjoyed as a member of the County Board of Commissioners and offered any assistance which he can offer in his new position with the state.

Commissioner Nobis presented and moved, supported by Montgomery, to adopt the following resolution. Voted and carried unanimously.

Redwings drop 78-61 decision

By Harold Schmalz

ST. JOHNS—It was a cold, cold night in St. Johns Friday night especially during the fourth quarter as the Redwings dropped a 78-61 decision to the visiting Grand Rapids Forest Hills cagers.

The final score did not in any way indicate the tenacious fight the Redwings delivered throughout three quarters before finally succumbing to the superior height and rebounding strength of the Rangers.

Delivering a respectable performance thru three quarters of play, the Redwings delivered only nine points in the final frame caused mainly by the absence of four starters who left one by one in the course of the action.

Three Redwings delivered in double figures with Alex MacKinnon hitting for 13 followed by Mike Groat and Rick Hudson with 11 each. Ken Schueller scored 7 markers followed by Bruce Irish with 6 and Ed Jorae with 4. Dan Mohnke, Mark DeBoer, Bob Spencer and Steve Pytlowanj each accounted for 2 points each with Mike Sutherland settling for one free throw.

The big gun for Forest Hills was Rick Waganar with 21 followed by two other players with 11 each and three cagers with 7 apiece.

Coach Doug Japinga's squad was overshadowed in the statistical department while dropping their seventh decision of the campaign to the non-conference visitors from Grand Rapids. The Rangers outshot the Redwings from the floor, 33 per cent to 42 per cent, hitting on 26 of 61 attempts compared to 21 of 65 for St. Johns.

The Redwings hit a better 51 per cent at the charity line, connecting on 19 of 37 attempts while the Rangers hit on 26 of 46 for 56 per cent.

In the turnover department, St. Johns made 27 miscues while their opponents had 22. Officials blew the whistle 30 times on the Redwings while the Rangers were close behind with 27 infractions.

The taller Forest Hills squad controlled the boards, pulling down 39 rebounds to St. Johns' 27.

THE REDWINGS STARTED out with sharp defensive moves which caused many Ranger shots to go awry in the first quarter, outscoring them, 20-16.

Second period action saw pretty much the same brand of ball on the part of Coach Japinga's crew with the Rangers, however, closing the gap to within three points, 37-34 at halftime.

St. Johns managed to maintain the lead up to the 5:20 point of the third frame with Waganar hitting for Forest Hills to bring his team within one point of the Birds, 43-42. Seconds later, Bill Honeveld stepped to the line for the Rangers and sank two free throws to put his team ahead, 44-43.

Schueller countered for St. Johns with a three-point play. He was awarded a charity toss in the process of being fouled while scoring a driving layup. MacKinnon managed to keep his team ahead with 3:50 showing on the clock, hitting on two shots from the foul line. But from that point on, throughout the remainder of the game, it was Forest Hills in command.

Four Redwings left the game via the foul route which undoubtedly told the difference in the game's outcome. Fouling out with five personals were Mike Sutherland, Bruce Irish, Rick Hudson and Mike Groat. It was quite obvious that without four starters the Redwing reserves could not contain the strength of the Rangers.

IN EARLIER EVENING action, the junior Redwings lost a hard uphill battle to their Grand Rapids guests, 63-55. Down at least 17 points during various stages of the game, the junior squad fought back to within three points with just two minutes left to play. Somehow, the junior Rangers kept their cool and went on to their ninth consecutive win of the season without a loss. The Redwings settled for their third defeat coupled with five victories.

Friday night's action will find Coach Japinga's crew traveling to Ionia to encounter the league-leading Ionia Bulldogs.

Bath spills Dansville

DANSVILLE—A 28-point second quarter bombardment spelled doom for winless Dansville here Friday night at the hands of the Bath Bees.

The Bees, now sporting a 8-2 record, allowed the Aggies a slim 17-16 first quarter lead but ripped the Dansville defense to go out in front 44-33 by halftime.

Dansville came back in the second half to outscore Bath 38-34, but it wasn't enough to shake off the sting of the Bees. Paul Stoll led the Bees with 22 points on nine field goals and four of eight free throws and added 25 rebounds. Joe Mitchell netted six field goals and three of three charities, while Randy Markham hit for 14 points on seven field goals. Fritz Ordway netted 10 points on four buckets and two of two charities.

Others scoring for Bath were Dale Cantwell (2), Tom Townsend (2) and Roy Dobson (9). Jim Knapp paced Dansville with 21 points on eight field goals and five of five free throws while John Jones added 17 points on eight buckets and one of four free throws.

Bath blistered the nets at a 50 per cent clip to Dansville's 30 per cent.

The win boosts Bath to a 4-2 Ingham County League record. Dansville remains in the ICL basement with an 0-6 record.

In preliminary action, the Bath JV's squeezed past the Aggie JV's 66-64.

Scoring by quarters:
Bath 16 28 16 18 78
Dansville 17 15 17 21 70

O-E hangs on to MMB lead

CORUNNA—Narrowly avoiding an upset at the hands of winless Corunna the Marauder cagers overcame a cold first half to stop the Cavaliers 63-58 here Friday night.

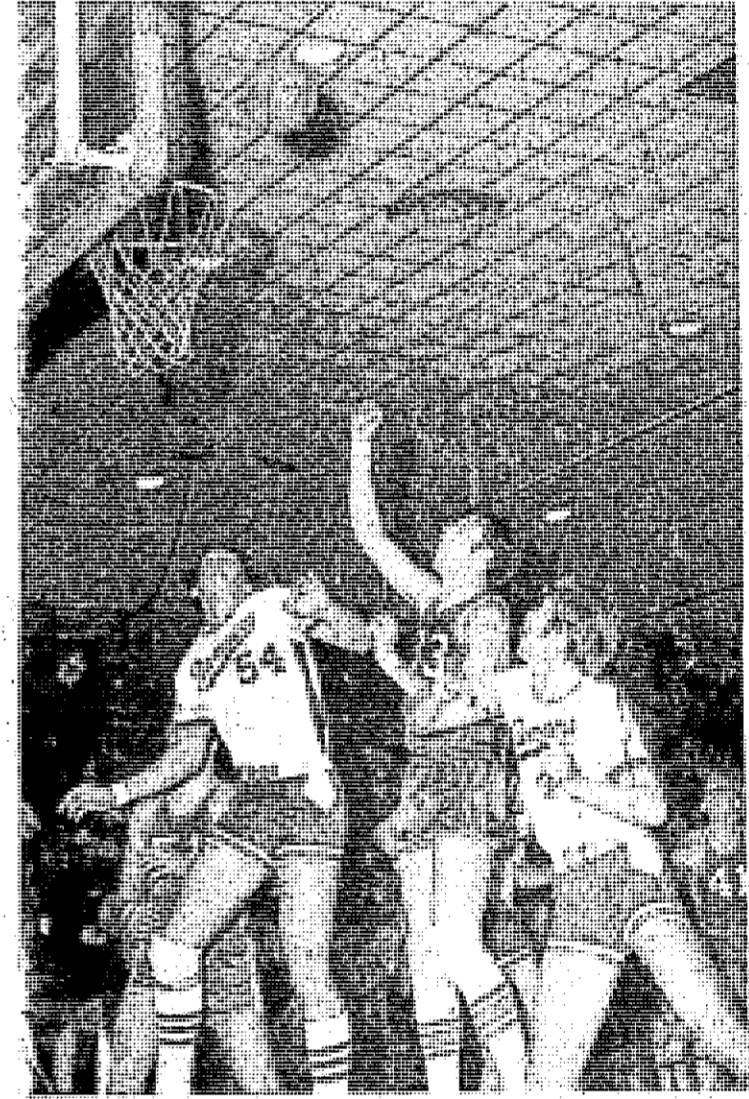

The Cavaliers jumped to a startling 13-9 first quarter lead and kept the lead at halftime 25-24 and for a time it appeared the cold Marauders might hand Corunna its first victory in seven starts this season.

But Ovid-Elsie's cagers came out shooting in the third quarter to take the lead 43-35 with a 19-point blast and held on despite a 23-point output by Corunna in the final frame.

Rick McCree led the Marauder attack with 19 points on four field goals and 11 of 14 free throws. Gary Groom added 16 points to the cause with six field goals and four of five free throw shots. John Glowney hit for 11 points on five field goals and one of five free throw attempts, while Randy Loynes added 10 points on five buckets.

The Marauders upped their record to 6-2 to take a first place lead in the Mid-Michigan B conference race ahead of St. Louis (5-2), Bullock Creek (6-3), Ithaca (3-2), Chesaning (3-4) and Corunna (0-7).

The Corunna JV's downed the Little Marauders 61-57 in the preliminary game.

Rick Hudson (33) seems outnumbered by Grand Rapids defenders, but still manages to get the ball toward the net.

Panthers take over first spot

DEWITT—After seven straight wins this season, the Fowler Eagles met up with an old jinx that has plagued them through each of the last three seasons.

It seems that every time the Eagles start up with a nice win streak and become rated in the state-wide cage polls, they run head long into the DeWitt Panthers. They did it again Friday night here and the Panthers walked away with an 81-73 victory.

Fowler, rated seventh in the state by the Associated Press for Class D squads, came out fighting against the Panthers and took an early 15-12 lead in the first quarter. But DeWitt held on and fought off the Fowler attack to trail by two points at halftime.

The Panthers poured on the steam in the third quarter behind the powerful scoring punch of Ron Wilcox and Doug Klaver. DeWitt outscored the Eagles 26-17 and rallied for 20 more in the final quarter while holding Fowler to 19 points.

With the victory, DeWitt took over sole possession of the Central Michigan Athletic Conference leadership with a perfect 4-0 league record. Fowler dropped into a tie for second with Pawamo-Westphalia. Both teams sport a 3-1 conference mark.

Both Wilcox and Klaver led the Panther attack with 22 points each. Wilcox hit for seven field goals and eight of 10 free throws, while Klaver netted 10 buckets and two of five free throws. Pat Botke hit for 11 points on five field goals and one of two charity shots.

The Eagles were led by John Simon who collected 16 points on six field goals and a perfect four for four at the line. Al Harr added 15 points on seven buckets and one for one at the free throw line.

Others scoring for DeWitt were Dan Davis (6), Tom Ashley (7), Mark Simon (8), and Randy Lankford (6).

Others scoring for Fowler were Mel Pohl (6), Tony Thelen (7), Bill Thelen (6), Glen Thelen (7), John Pohl (6), Scott Spicer (6) and Bob MacKinnon (6).

Scoring by quarters:
DeWitt 12 23 26 20 81
Fowler 15 22 17 19 73

Jaycee activities vital to communities

PROCLAIMING JAYCEE WEEK

In celebration of Jaycee Week, January 16-22 local government officials in St. Johns and Fowler signed declarations recognizing the event. Left, Mayor Wood signs the proclamation as Barry Dean, president of the St. Johns Chapter, looks on. In Fowler, John Spicer, village president presents the signed document to Frank Hufnagel, president of the Fowler Jaycee Club.

Clinton County News Photo by Annette White

Jaycees offer leadership training through community development for young men between the ages of 21 and 35. The organization is designed specifically to meet the needs of the young man seeking to make his place in community and business ranks.

Today, local Jaycee chapters are active in over 6,400 communities across America and in over 80 foreign countries.

Some of the reasons why young men become interested in belonging to the Jaycees are (1) The desire for self-improvement. To learn how to accept responsibility, to make decisions, become effective speakers, learn management techniques, to be better employers, employees and citizens.

(2) The desire for community improvement. To have a hand in searching out community ills and then to plan and execute constructive action projects to remedy them.

(3) The desire for fellowship. To meet progressive young people in their own age bracket, with similar interests and similar goals. The friendships made are not confined solely to the local community, but extended nationally and internationally as well.

In Clinton County there are four active chapters of Jaycees located in St. Johns, Ovid-Elsie, Westphalia and Fowler.

Serving as president of each chapter this year is Barry Dean, St. Johns; Clare Parker; Ovid-Elsie; Stan Smith, Westphalia and Frank Hufnagel, Fowler.

St. Johns

Next week marks the founding of the Jaycees in 1915, when a man named Henry Glessenbier saw the need for a young men's civic group and organized the first chapter in St. Louis. The movement spread so fast that in 1920, the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce was formed with 24 cities represented.

In July the St. Johns Jaycee Chapter will celebrate its 25th year.

The club has a membership of 35 at the present time and heading the group as president is Barry Dean. Other officers include David Humenik, internal vice-president; Larry Slade, external vice-president; David Needham, secretary and Wayne Banner, treasurer. Directors are Terry Cornwell, Gary Emery and Arnold Wiles.

The St. Johns Jaycees take an active part in the community and are responsible for many projects especially geared to children.

As a yearly event they supervise and co-sponsor the Soap Box Derby and the Punt, Pass and Kick Competition. Each summer when baseball season starts they run the Little League program for nearly 300 boys on a field that they helped to build and maintain. Monies for this project are acquired by sponsoring a dance.

Other money making projects for the organization have included the selling of trash liner bags, compiling and selling football programs for Redwing games and operating the concession stand at the Little League field.

They are the hosts of an amateur softball tourney and sponsor a Hunter Safety Program in conjunction with the Department of Natural Resources.

As an annual event St. Johns Jaycees host a city-wide bridge tournament, an event which has been popular with a variety of ages.

A tiny tot park, located at the corners of Ottawa and Gibbs, was made possible through the efforts of the local club and since its construction has been maintained by its founders.

The members honor their employers each year at an annual Bosses Night Banquet which also included presentation of awards given annually to the Outstanding Young Farmer, Outstanding Young Educator and the Distinguished Service award, an award given to a person for outstanding achievement in service to the betterment of the community.

The organizations national headquarters is located in Tulsa, Okla. and today its membership is over 300,000 strong.

Fowler

The Fowler Jaycees were extended in 1964 by the Grand Lodge Jaycees and received their charter with 26 members.

The Fowler chapter was awarded the coveted "Milestone Award" which is an award presented by the Michigan Jaycees to the best first year chapter in the State.

Past presidents of the Fowler Jaycees are Richard Frechey, charter president, Francis Schaefer, Robert Halfmann, Richard Pink, John C. Rademacher and Clare Koehnigknecht.

The Fowler Jaycees have received the "Blue Chip" award five out of the last six years. This is an award for excellence in achieving membership growth, and meeting qualifications of chapter management and leadership training.

Some of the past projects have been a county wide Oral Polio Vaccine Clinic held in 1965, Medical Self Help Course in 1966, Village Park Renovation and Maintenance - 1967 thru the present, Construction of Ice Pond Warming House, Drug Abuse Program and a V.D. Awareness Program which was accepted and conducted as a Michigan Jaycee Project.

Annual programs conducted by the Fowler Jaycees include Little League, Punt, Pass and Kick Competition, Children's Halloween Party, Bloodmobile, Junior Bowling, Shooting Education, Bicycle Safety, Easter Egg Hunt, Slow Pitch Softball and Christmas Programs. These programs are made possible through the support of the Fowler community of the various Jaycee ways and means projects.

The present Fowler Jaycee president is Frank Hufnagel and one of the goals of the chapter this year is to earn a "Gold Chip Award" which is awarded for fulfilling the requirements of "Blue Chip" for five consecutive years. The membership requirement of ten per cent increase is only one short of the Gold Chip goal and a Speak-Up Program and Leadership in Action course are in progress at this time.

The usual annual programs are continuing. Those currently in progress are the American Essay Contest in which eighty-two 7th and 8th grade students have taken part and the maintenance of the village ice skating rink.

The 66 Fowler Jaycees are active in local government and school affairs also.

The week of January 16-22 is Jaycee Week and is set aside to observe the founding of the Jaycees. Fowler Jaycee activities planned for this week are a Community Attitude Survey and a dinner meeting with several community and religious leaders as guests.

The Fowler Jaycees welcome new members. Jaycees offer leadership training through community development for young men between the ages of 18 and 35. The Jaycees is designed specifically to meet the needs of the young man seeking to make his place in community and business ranks.

In working toward these goals, every young man is offered the opportunities of a voice in community affairs, a practical leadership development course, the chance to try new ideas and improve old ones, and social contact with other young men.

Westphalia

The Westphalia Jaycee organizations were chartered in the year 1963 and at present time have a membership of 32.

The main purpose of the group is to promote leadership training to young men of the community by organizing various health, safety and recreational projects beneficial to our community.

One of the first projects started was the building of Westphalia Park later renamed the Daniel Droste Memorial Park in memory of one of the charter members and a key man in its development.

Over the years playground equipment was set up, horse shoe pits installed, a pavilion erected, a well dug, picnic tables purchased, lighting set up and many other things added so many families who stop can enjoy their leisure time.

The 1971-72 Jaycee year will see the biggest addition of all with the approval of a federal grant which helped provide funds for a baseball diamond, two new restrooms, an improved parking lot and building to house electrical fixtures. Also $2,005 worth of playground equipment has been erected with the Jaycees donating the first 20 per cent of the cost.

In the past eight years the Jaycees have sponsored 130 boys to compete in the Soap Box Derby and the community has been rewarded with five first place winners.

The Jaycees are the sponsoring organization for the Westphalia Scouting Association which takes in 79 boys. Swimming instructions were given to 55 boys and girls last summer and 63 boys participated in the Hunters Training program. Santa Claus was the village guest and gave candy to well over a hundred kids.

Spring brings baseball fever and 140 boys join in the competition with junior league and pony league sponsored by Jaycees.

All during the year many different types of ways and means projects must be run to fund and complete the goals set each year.

Ovid-Elsie

The Ovid-Elsie Jaycees, with 33 members meet the fourth Tuesday of each month at the Ovid Village Hall at 8 p.m. The board meetings are held the second Tuesday of the month same place and time.

Money making projects for 1971 were a Horse Show held in May at the Ovid park, and a Circus at Ovid in August. The Dunking Booth is a summer project, and Trash bags a year around project.

In September a Wives Appreciation night was held and each Jaycee took his wife to dinner at the Eagles in Lansing.

The club sponsors Flagfoot ball for 7th and 8th grade boys in Ovid and Elsie, and 95 boys participated, three teams from Ovid and two teams from Elsie. This program is held for five weeks with two games on Sunday afternoon. The Elsie Eagles won the trophy. Other activities included helping Clark's Ford with Pass, Punt, and Kick. A spaghetti supper was prepared by the Auxiliary for the "Membership Night."

On Dec. 11 a Christmas Shopping Tour was held and 44 children taken shopping for new clothes, shoes and boots in Ovid and Elsie. They then returned to city hall and had a party, talked with Santa and received candy, color books, and crayons.

A Youth Center was opened Dec. 1 located at the Marauder's Cove. It is opened to youth with student I.D. cards and under.

Hours are Monday, Thursday and Friday 4 p.m. to 10 p.m. and Saturday 12 p.m. to 10 p.m. Activities included pool, foos ball, pin ball machines and tables for playing cards and other games. Refreshments of pop, chips, popcorn, candy and gum are available. It is supervised by Jaycees volunteer.

District Basketball is another program sponsored by the O-E Jaycees. Ovid-Elsie has won three games from Corunna, Durand and Owosso, and lost two games to St. Johns and Fowler.

Jaycee of the Quarter Award, is new in the chapter this year. A Jaycee is picked for the exceptional contribution to the chapter and community. First quarter (July, Aug. and Sept.) was John Summer of Elsie, second quarter (Oct., Nov. and Dec.) was Jerry Herbet of Ovid.

New Jaycees as of Oct. 1 are Rick Sloat, Rick Bancroft, Bob Hier, Rev. Walter Kargus, Pete Boyer, Rodney McCreery, Kerry Reed, Larry Sprague and Lester Reed.

Happy Homemaking

The shower is a good place to spray large dusty house plants. Just set them in the shower, turn the cold water on gently and then let them there to dry. Two precautions—do not have the water so cold that it will shock the plants, and put a protective cloth or some other device over the drain so it will not become clogged from any dirt that might escape from the pots.

Fix-It Tip

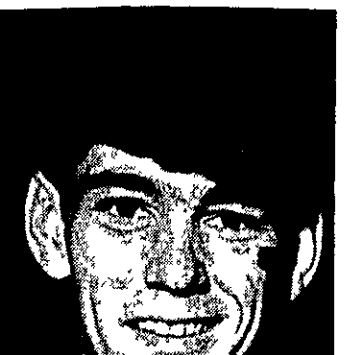

Oak, walnut and other open-grain woods cannot be made completely smooth with sanding, nor will varnish or other material seal them completely. These woods have open pores in the grain. These must be filled before finishing to get a smooth surface.

Use a special paste wood filler made for this purpose. Thin so that it is about as thick as heavy paint, then brush across the grain a small section at a time. As it dries, rub it in and then wipe off the excess by wiping across the grain.

... IS A VERY IMPORTANT NUMBER AT CENTRAL NATIONAL BANK ... BUT IT DOESN'T SHOW ON THE STATEMENT BELOW!

48 is the number of officers, directors, and staff members (men and women) who spent an important part of their lives working for Central National Bank in the communities we serve throughout Clinton County. When compared with the large figures appearing in our statement, it is small, almost tiny. But its importance cannot be overestimated for these are the people who take care of the banking needs of some other very important people, our customers. There are the human beings who cheerfully perform the "thousand and one" day-to-day tasks that enable our bank to meet and grow with the financial requirements of Clinton County industries, businessmen and families.

We salute them! For their growth and ours. This past year Central National's total assets grew over 2 million dollars.

And when you read the figures below, remember... it's people who make a bank's operations efficient and profitable.

Michigan year end review

Unemployment jumps to nine-year high

By Michigan Employment Security Commission

Despite the recent pick up in economic activity, unemployment in Michigan moved to a nine year high in 1971.

The State's unemployment level for the year, at 293,000 or 8.1 per cent of the labor force, was substantially above year ago figures of 253,000 or 7.0 per cent. The number of unemployed reached a monthly peak in July with 374,000 out of work, which was the highest total for a single month since March 1961.

Because of the high level of joblessness and the extended benefits program, the Michigan Employment Security Commission distributed over $350 million in unemployment insurance benefits over the year. The total amount paid out was the largest since 1958, and the average payment of about $60 for a full week of unemployment was a record high. During periods of high unemployment, unemployed workers who have exhausted their regular benefits and met the eligibility requirements, can receive additional benefits under the joint federal-state extended benefit program.

Although there were good auto production months in this early part of the year as the industry tried to build up inventories after the strike, Michigan's economy remained fairly sluggish. The President's announcement in August signaled the start of a period of renewed economic activity in Michigan.

The good news in the auto industry appeared to carry over to other segments of the economy, with retail sales moving toward substantial gains and construction continuing its recovery cycle.

Usually, Michigan expects to see its employment jump when auto production climbs. But for several reasons this was not the case this year, as total employment fell by over 15,000 to 3,328,900 for 1971. First, much of the domestic sales gains were in sub-compact models, which are all produced outside of Michigan. Secondly, de-emphasis of styling changes this year caused many independent auto-related firms in the area to severely cut back employment over the past year and a half.

Third, the cut backs in white collar staffs that the auto companies made to improve their profit situation particularly affected the Detroit area. Finally, because of the short and early changeover period this year, the industry began full scale production earlier and consequently had more cars in inventory when sales began to climb.

These same factors contributed to an upward unemployment trend in the Detroit metropolitan area. Detroit tri-county unemployment jumped to an annual average of 143,100 or 8.1 per cent in 1971 compared to 116,800 or 6.6 per cent in 1970. The Detroit area unemployment level for 1971 was the highest since 1961 when the annual average unemployment rate equaled 11.0 per cent or 157,300.

The State's employment loss was concentrated in the Detroit area, where the number of workers fell from 1,632,400 in 1970 to below 1,615,000 in 1971. When the Detroit area employment decline is subtracted from the State total, the rest of the State's employment level is virtually unchanged from last year.

Detroit was more sharply affected because of the heavier concentration of auto related industries and manufacturing white collar personnel in the area.

For the first time since 1962 Michigan and Detroit did not have any increase in the size of their labor force. Generally it is expected that the labor force growth will keep pace with the change in the population size of those sixteen and over. Normally this amounts to about a two per cent gain in the number of people in the State's work force. The decline in the number of persons entering Michigan's labor force this year indicates that as economic activity accelerates a disproportionate number of persons will be seeking jobs.

Because of the current unemployment situation, many have probably gone back to school or just abandoned their job search until the opportunities increase. Because of this potential backlog of workers, coupled with those currently looking for work, it will take a substantial amount of growth for Michigan to significantly lower its unemployment rate.

Of the three major segments of the State's economy, only manufacturing posted an employment decline. Michigan manufacturing industries reduced employment by approximately 23,000 workers in the past year. The overwhelming proportion of the decline, about 75 per cent, was attributable to cutbacks among the durable goods industries, especially the auto and related supplier firms. Most of that loss was centered in the Detroit area.

Private non-manufacturing and government registered only minimal gains. Private non-manufacturing firms in the State added about 4,000 new employees. The government sector, with an increase of approximately 10,000 was well below the growth pattern of more recent years.

The upturn in new car sales did not exert much influence on the average work week for Michigan's production workers. Michigan production workers in 1971 worked an average of 40.7 hours per week at $4.58 per hour or $186.12 per week. Last year, the State's production workers worked an average of 40.6 hours for $4.15 per hour or $168.33 per week.

It appears that both the National and State economies will continue their upward trend over the next year. The New Economic Policy implemented by the National Administration has definitely aided American auto makers by dropping the excise tax and strengthening their competitive position with foreign makers.

The combined effect should make 1972 a good auto sales year for American built cars. Although unemployment is historically one of the slower segments to exhibit an improvement after a recession, the jobless rate should show a definite and welcome decline in Michigan and Detroit in 1972.

Ole Man Winter isn't all bad. While it can be miserable for some, it can be fun for others as is indicated by this Elsie fisherman heading toward his ice shanty for an afternoon's relaxation. With the mercury dipping to record lows, Maple River should be in no danger of thin ice.

This is Jim Leon Week

Jim is a relative newcomer to St. Johns but in the five years he's been here a large number of activities have felt his influence. He's immediate past president of the Chamber of Commerce and has been a Development Corp. board member since its beginning. But besides these more formal ties, Jim has also played vital roles behind the scenes of many projects, ranging from the First Nighters to the Doctor Search Committee, with the United Fund thrown in for good measure. We're pleased to honor Jim as our citizen of the week. He's one more reason why this is a good area in which to live.

Lawmakers have a sorry image

Most of the people I talk to are reasonably satisfied with our system. What they no longer like is the ability of the people in government who are running it.

Those who pervert it to serve selfish ends are to blame for a "crisis of confidence." Public opinion polls show this declining confidence in government's ability to convert to changing conditions.

That, of course, puts the issue in the laps of critical voters. Had the public elected good men in the first place there would be fewer problems.

It grows evident that elected officials also have the duty of policing their own ranks. There are some good people in Michigan's Legislature, of course. But they contribute to the drop in confidence by a procedure that all but insures no policing in this century.

Congress presents a new and horrible example. It is the case of Rep. John Dowdy, Texas Democrat.

He was convicted a few days ago for taking a $25,000 bribe. But the House Ethics Committee plans to do nothing until all appeal routes are exhausted. He has not said he will appeal.

Six times Dowdy's trial was delayed because of his reported illness. But the inaction of the House Ethics Committee indicated he was competent to represent the public even though his attorneys said he was incapable of representing himself in a trial.

Now there is a felon conviction—but still no action.

It hasn't always been thus. The committee voted to expel Adam Clayton Powell without any conviction. This action was proper in this newspaper's opinion.

What is needed today are mandatory ethics committees. They would review all seriously alleged improprieties. This would remove the process from legislative whim, friendship or animosity.

It would be better, of course, if greater respect of officials existed.

Representative Dowdy is a felon. He should not be allowed to remain in a position he has been found guilty of abusing.

As we've said before the lawmakers themselves are to blame for their present sorry image.

Washington Reports

Revenue sharing

U.S. Rep. Garry Brown

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Ways and Means Chairman Wilbur Mills' recently proposed substitute revenue sharing proposal has some good points lacking in the Administration's plan, but I regret he did not go further and incorporate the tax credit approach that I advocated in testimony last year before his Committee.

Under his proposal, the Federal Government would for five years make up to $3.5 billion annually in direct grants to local county and city governments and incentive payments totaling up to $1.8 billion annually to state governments. These state payments would be geared to the revenue raised by the state's individual income tax. They would be intended to encourage the states to develop and improve their own income tax systems.

The Mills plan, the Administration's General Revenue Sharing and my own proposal for the Federal Government to share its taxing authority would all provide for approximately the same levels of funding, about $5 billion per year.

All three plans would for the most part distribute funds on the basis of local need and revenue-raising effort.

The Administration plan provides no incentives for state and local tax reform, and I was critical of this fact in my testimony before the Ways and Means Committee. The Mills bill was clearly drafted with this criticism in mind; however, it nevertheless provides for continuing large federal payments to the states after minimal reforms have been achieved. My proposal would ultimately see local government raising their own revenues through their own taxing authority without additional tax payments being required from taxpayers; that is, the local governments would use part of the federal taxing authority rather than the federal tax money.

Further, only my plan of the three eliminates the costly administrative inconvenience of the round trip to Washington of the taxpayer's dollars. One thing is clear as the Congress approaches the start of the second session; the strongest possible revenue sharing measure must be passed this year. I will continue my fight toward that end. Only in this way can state and local government truly be strengthened and government decentralized.

Bits and Pieces - Pride and Honor

By HAROLD SCHMALTZ

This being the month of January and today being the 19th, my thoughts turn to the birthday of an illustrious character of whom I have deep admiration. Such admiration moved me to name one of my sons after him, Robert E. Lee is the man of whom I speak.

Thinking of southern hospitality and bravery perhaps unmatched by anyone militarily, perhaps the noblest soldier to ever graduate from West Point, Robert Edward Lee is pretty special to me.

IT IS TRUE THAT HE FOUGHT a lost cause when he surrendered many years ago at Appomattox, but did he really lose? In my opinion he did not.

Your first reaction to this statement might be, wait a minute buddy . . . Am I reading correctly? Do you mean to imply that a general who has fought and surrendered a war by actual proof could have actually won, contrary to all written records? Considering the fields of battle and ritual of surrendering his sword, he did lose. But to the people of the South and historians of both the North and South he did not.

According to many military authorities, Lee was perhaps the greatest of all American generals . . . yet he was not a "blood and guts Patton" type but rather a mild, dignified, Christian gentleman with unquestionable bravery.

From the very onset of his military career, which began in the Mexican war, he displayed zeal and intrepidity which won for him, praise and promotion.

His high character and self-sacrifice in the interest of the cause he believed right, gained the sincere admiration of even his former enemies; while the calm dignity with which he met adversity and submitted to the inevitable, brought forth Northern compassion and Southern pride.

Even at the age of eighteen, Robert E. Lee was known as a model student at West Point by his superiors. During his four years there he was never known to have received one demerit for misconduct. He graduated with highest honors.

One could wonder how a man of such character and reputation ever got on the "wrong side of the fence."

Robert E. Lee had love . . . no, not the kind of love we normally think of, but love for his state of Virginia. He could not stand the thought of swords being drawn upon his people, his heritage, nor his state.

LEE, THEREFORE, MADE A decision of conscience. What was his purpose? To fire upon his friends and homefolks and defend a cause that really didn't mean anything to him or do very natural thing, that of fighting for his own? And so went his story . . .

It has been said that upon secession of Virginia from the Union that Lee made this statement to Montgomery Blair, who was offering him the command of the Union Army, "Mr. Blair, I look upon secession as anarchy. If I owned 4 million slaves in the South I would sacrifice them all to the Union, but how can I draw my sword upon Virginia, my native state?"

As Lee presented his letter of resignation in the Union Army, he was quoted as saying, "Save in defense of my state I never desire again to draw my sword." We all know that General Lee did, in fact, draw his sword again. Against an adversary we all knew as U.S. Grant of the Union Army.

At this moment stop and consider this . . . when you have a spare moment sometime with nothing else to do, take out a book of reference and do a little reading. Read of Grant's life after the Civil War and compare it to that of Lee's.

You'll see that Robert E. Lee did not lose. The victory he gained was the most important battle of all time, that being the "battle of life."

Who's the judge

As the 1972 session of the Michigan Legislature got underway last week, the usual year-end critiques were still coming in—critiques which almost invariably noted that "only" 294 bills were passed in 1971.

As one writer put it, this has been the "least productive year" for the lawmakers since 1960, when 187 new laws were approved.

Now, that statement might hold water if a Legislature's work is to be judged solely by the number of bills that it passes.

But such a conclusion fails to take into consideration two important points: How important were the laws that were passed? And how much bad legislation was sidetracked by the Legislature?

Still another factor is the age-old question: "Who is the judge?" In the latter category, depending upon the feelings of the "judge", a legislative session would be rated successful if laws were passed to liberalize abortion, block financial aid to non-public schools, liberalize divorce laws, cut back on wild welfare spending, and liberalize drug use penalties.

On the other hand, if you happened to oppose all those issues you would rate the legislative performance as "very poor."

By the same token, if much legislation you did not favor were kept in committee or defeated on the floor, you might rate the Legislature's performance as "excellent" while another person would rate it "poor."

A Legislature could pass 500 laws and its performance be given a "poor" rating if there were no important new laws among the 500.

So, rating the performance merely on the number of bills a Legislature passes can hardly be called a legitimate criterion.

Those who mistake quantity for quality apparently don't realize that the writers of our Constitution made it difficult—not easy—to pass new laws. It is generally recognized that they did this on purpose, rather than by accident.

To become a law, a bill must be approved by a committee and the full chamber originating it; then pass the committee and full chamber in the opposite house; and, finally, be approved by the Governor.

This is a cumbersome process at times, but it's the going price for protection against passage of unwise legislation. If the process of passing a law were made simpler, far more lousy legislation would pass than does now.

Those inclined to judge a legislative performance by numbers of bills passed also fail to take into consideration that there are many subtle forces at work that make passing new laws extremely difficult.

For instance, Michigan has two major parties in the Legislature—Republican and Democrat.

Generally speaking, Republicans are considered to be the more "conservative" of the two and Democrats the more "liberal."

Republicans are usually more likely to think of the taxpayers than Democrats, who seem to worry less about how much programs will cost.

As a result, many proposals run into difficulty because of the difference in the economic or political philosophies of the two major parties.

This difficulty is heightened in Michigan today because the voters chose in the last General Election to split the State Senate right down the middle—19 Republicans and 19 Democrats. To pass the Senate, a bill must secure votes from both parties, which is extremely difficult to do on issues involving strong party philosophy.

Even though Democrats in the House of Representatives hold a 58-52 voting margin and can control passage of a bill more easily than Republicans in the Senate, any bill passed by House Democrats that has a definite partisan flavor could have difficulty passing the Senate because the vote of at least one Republican Senator would be needed to add to the 19 Senate Democrats.

Then, of course, there is the final barrier. Any bill passed by both Houses needs, with minor exceptions, the signature of the Governor.

Here again, Michigan voters a year ago tossed themselves a curve by electing a Republican Governor. Normally, this would make it more difficult for Democrats to pass a strictly partisan bill.

This same situation existed in reverse back in the Fifties and early Sixties when Democrat Governors G. Mennen Williams and John B. Swainson had to work with a GOP-controlled Legislature.

Actually, many political scientists feel that such divided leadership—with one party controlling the Governor's office and the other party controlling the Legislature—is not wholly bad because, generally speaking, better legislation is apt to emerge if it must be approved by both parties.

Persons impatient because the Legislature doesn't pass the bills they want fail to recognize that the Legislature comprises 148 individuals with widely diverse feelings on many issues and a meeting of minds is necessary before a bill can be passed.

The next time you read or hear a commentator say that the Legislature failed because it didn't act on certain issues or because it passed "only" a limited number of bills, take another look at the whole picture. More than a shallow and superficial assessment is needed in order to make an educated judgment of a Legislature's success or failure.

'IF IT FITZ

Let it ring

By JIM FITZGERALD

For the first time since World War 2, the U. S. Government needs me. It needs me to deal with Ma Bell who has now been officially declared too big for anyone's britches.

By a 4-2 vote, the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) has dropped its investigation of the gigantic Bell system's investment and operating expense.

The commission said the cop-out was necessary "because of insufficient resources to permit adequate preparation for and staffing of, the proceeding."

Translated from bureaucratic, this means Ma Bell is too heavy for Uncle Sam to handle. American Telephone & Telegraph is spending more money than the U.S. Government can afford to count.

Ma Bell has requested the usual rate increase. It's up to the FCC to decide whether Ma really needs more of your money each month. But how can the FCC set a fair profit if it can't first determine Ma's expenses?

There's no way. Two members of the FCC deplored the decision to drop the investigation as "bordering on the irresponsible." Said Commissioner Rex Lee: "Are the expenses reasonable and fair? The FCC doesn't know. And . . . it has no intention of finding out."

The most powerful country in the world is humbled by a Princess phone. Oh, the shame of it all. How long before the stars and stripes are replaced by that circle with the bell inside? "My country 'tis of thee, sweet land of A.T.&T."

Is there any answer? Yes. Don't answer.

That's my solution. If the U.S. can't be as big as Ma Bell, then Ma Bell must be shrunk down to a size where she'll at least flinch if the operators' lounge is invaded by the 101st Airborne.

The way to accomplish this is for every true adult American to refuse to answer his phone.

I feel qualified to lead this ringing crusade because my wife swears I am the only man on earth who can sit and listen to a phone ring and not answer it.

It's really easy. Long ago I discovered that, of 346 phone calls coming into our house every day, only .00048% were for me.

And that was always some guy who had chopped up his wife and wanted me to keep his name out of the paper because the news would make his mother sick if she read it.

So I began letting it ring. At first, my family couldn't believe it. They screamed something awful when they learned they had lost their secretary. Either they reached the phone before it quit ringing, or no communication. They became wild and raving, running around the house asking each other: "Who do you think that was on the phone?"

It's even worse when I am left alone at home. The kids will return and ask if there were any phone calls. I'll say yes, there were 23. They'll ask who they were for and I'll say I don't know. I didn't answer them. Wow. That really gets 'em.

At first, my resolution was that I wouldn't answer the phone if I were doing anything else, such as reading, watching TV or thinking about Ann-Margret. I have since refined this down to one simple golden rule: I will answer the phone if it is in my hand when it rings. Otherwise, phooey.

I strongly suggest that all parents treat Ma Bell in similar fashion. In three weeks she will be small enough to be investigated by an off-duty patrolman making some extra money on weekends.

Looking Ahead

There's many ways of lookin' At things we must agree, The gulf between opposin' views Is 'bout as wide as it can be; So if you are a pessimist Winter's just got under way, But take another look 'n see It's almost Ground Hog Day!

There's better days—'n worse than this Statistics will disclose, 'N weather men all use 'em Summarizin' joys 'n woes; Not all dislike the winter But summer's on its way, Snow shovellin' is no picnic But it's almost Ground Hog Day!

Come, February second Will the Ground Hog's shadow show? How many weeks more winter With all its ice 'n snow? You kin pout 'n sulk 'n growl Er be sort of glad 'n gay For whether you like or lump it It will soon be Ground Hog Day!

Epiphany begins

By REV. HUGH BANNINGA

In some Christian churches the Christmas season is followed by the Epiphany season. This season begins on January 6th and extends until the Lenten season. Epiphany begins with the story of the Wise Men looking for and bringing gifts to the baby Jesus. As an assignment this week, I ask you to read the second chapter of Matthew's gospel before you read the remainder of this article.

Now isn't that a fascinating story? It is full of mystery, and the mysterious is always fascinating. Mysterious Wise Men came from a mysterious place following a mysterious star in search of a child who was mysteriously conceived, and who, as an adult, was a mystery to his disciples.

Part of the mystery of this story is the tradition which surrounds it. There is a story told by that old world traveler, Marco Polo. In his travels he stopped for a visit in a certain Persian village, and the people there told him that the Wise Men had begun their journey from there. There was a young wise man, a middle-aged wise man, and an old wise man. When they reached the baby Jesus, the young wise man found, so they said, a young Christ. The wise man of middle age found a Savior of middle age. The old wise man found an old companion in Christ.

In spite of stories like this the point here is that those Wise Men came to worship the baby Jesus. Their studies pointed to the birth of a baby who was destined to become a very important person. In spite of all the mystery surrounding the conception and birth of Jesus, the Wise Men were certain that the birth of Jesus in Bethlehem was authentic. They were certain it was really what was predicted according to their calculations.

The Wise Men weren't bothered by a little mystery. They were prepared to accept the birth of Jesus as the expected Messiah. But how about 20th century "wise men"? Mankind today has so much more knowledge than those original Wise Men. If there was to be the Second Coming of Christ in this 20th century, would there be such an acceptance of Him by the modern wise men as there was by those first Wise Men?

One modern writer doubts that there would be much acceptance. He says, "If there should be... a second coming, would there not be soon a second crucifixion? And this time, not by the Romans or the Jews, but by those who proudly call themselves Christians?"

I wonder, I wonder how we today would regard and treat this man with His strange, frightening and impractical doctrines of human behavior and relationships. Would we believe and follow Him any more than the masses of people did in His day?

I think maybe the "militarists" among us would assail Him as a cowardly pacifist, because He urges us not to resist evil. You know, He told us to "turn the other cheek" and "pray for those who mistreat you."

The "nationalists" among us would attack Him as a dangerous internationalist, because He tells us we are all of one flesh and blood. But you see, nationalism lets me have pride in my own country and at the same time lets me criticize other countries and their ways.

The "wealthy" among us would castigate Him as a trouble-making radical, because He bars the rich from entering the Kingdom of heaven. You recall that magnificent analogy of the camel and the needle. Jesus said it would be easier for a great big camel to go through the "eye" of a little needle than for a rich man to get into heaven.

The "liberals" among us would dismiss Him as a dreamy "hippy," because He advises us to take no thought about tomorrow. He tells us, "Don't lay up treasures for yourself here on earth, because they can be stolen or destroyed. Store up treasures in heaven where they will always be secure."

The "sentimentalists" among us would deride Him as a cynic, because He warns us that the way to salvation is narrow and difficult. You see I could say that since I've had an emotional, religious, saving experience of my Lord that I know I'm going to heaven. Jesus says, "But that's not enough. I want to know what you've done in your life since that saving experience. Have you been a true servant? Have you worked for the betterment of your community by helping the poor, the needy, the widow and orphans, the sick, the lame, the blind? This is your ticket to heaven, not just an emotional experience. Faith without works is a dead faith."

I think, maybe, each of us would find some part of Jesus's teachings to be so threatening to our ways of life—so much at odds with our rooted beliefs, that we could not tolerate Him for long. Not a pleasant thought is it? The Wise Men were certain about Jesus. If only 20th century wise men were as certain.

Positive controls

Rep. Douglas Trezise
87th District

Smog, phosphates, sewage treatment and recycling are an integral part of the vocabulary since America has become "pollution conscious." The legislature has been brought into the scene with legislation to combat everything from billboards to pesticides.

With our minds so attuned to what polluting effects harmful materials have on us, we often forget that some great strides have been made in the area of positive pollution control.

One of those positive areas is the great task that such organizations as the soil conservation districts have tackled and overcome.

It has been a pleasure as a State Representative to have the opportunity to work with the largely volunteer-staffed conservation districts. These are part of a large network of groups under the state and federal jurisdiction that offer aid and training not only to farmers but community leaders and home owners in such areas as soil management, land drainage and a total plan for the development of our natural resources.

Following the Michigan lumber boom and the years of farming which followed, the state's land became famished. Many soil conservation organizations have been responsible for building up the state's soil. Since the early 1930's the Department of Agriculture, the Department of Natural Resources and other federal, state and local groups have overcome the state's acute problems of soil erosion and declining fertility.

The state's 84 soil conservation districts are continuing to keep the state's lands in shape. Some of the present projects which stand out and I am particularly impressed with are the educational programs that keep people aware of the soil conservation problems for both urban and rural residents.

More than 50,000 farmers have taken advantage of the farm conservation plans, actual on-the-farm help and the development of farm soil maps. Many residents have been affected by, or seen, some of the 250 million forest trees which have been planted by district cooperators. Some districts even have forest tree nurseries while others have specialized equipment such as planters, land smoothers, heavy plows and graders.

There are presently a multitude of environmental bills that have appeared in the Michigan Senate and House and if you take a close look you'll see that one of the bills deals with the soil conservation districts.

House Bill 4709 calls for the development of a unified soil erosion and sedimentation control program. Within a year after the bill would go into effect the Agriculture Department, in conjunction with the soil conservation districts, would prepare a unified statewide soil erosion and sedimentation control program.

The program would identify land uses which would be governed by the act and would include recommendations, guidelines and specifications for the control of soil erosion to prevent sedimentation into the waters of Michigan. The only real opposition to the legislation now before us is that environmentalists are asking for stiffer regulations to better protect the environment.

Let the public continue to push for the obvious complaints of polluted air, water and sight such as billboards and junkyards but keep in mind that the state's soil is already being preserved and has been by a large group of citizens.

In the future this land will be a cornerstone to our farmland and efficient farming. Taking a long look at the soil conservation district efforts of control, they are protecting and no doubt increasing their value to the country's tax base.

A job worth mentioning has been done by the soil conservation districts and continues. If you are a farmer, homeowner or citizen interested in taking advantage of the soil district's service either contact them locally or write Russell Hill, Cooperative Extensive Service, Michigan State University, East Lansing, 48823.

Seals total in county at $5,030

Christmas Seal contributions to date in Clinton County have reached $5,030.68, according to the Michigan Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association.

J. Irvin Nichols, executive director of the state Christmas Seal Agency, said the contributions to date totaled $1,197,000, which is approximately 83% of the goal of $1,434,000. Nichols indicated that additional contributions are needed by the agency in order to support increasing activities in the field of smoking and air pollution, as well as the ongoing work in tuberculosis and respiratory disease.

During the course of a year, Nichols said, the Christmas Seal Associations in Michigan provide for, or assist in, many statewide, county and community programs which strive for better health. Such programs include smoking education activities, increased participation in air pollution control activities including assisting citizen groups during environmental hearings as well as supporting ecology groups, anti-pollution legislation and much more.

Additionally funds are used for medical research at Michigan's leading universities, and continuing education seminars for physicians, nurses and other paramedical personnel.

Residents of Clinton County who have not yet answered their Christmas Seal appeal letter are urged to do so now so that the important work of Christmas Seals can be continued.

City Commission Meeting Minutes
DECEMBER 27, 1971

The regular meeting of the City Commission was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by Mayor Wood.

Comm. Present: Rand, Ebert, Wood. Comm. Absent: Hannah, Grost. Staff Present: City Clerk, City Attorney.

Motion by Comm. Rand supported by Comm. Ebert to approve the minutes of December 13, 1971. Motion carried.

Motion by Comm. Rand supported by Comm. Ebert to approve the warrants. Motion carried.

Motion by Comm. Ebert supported by Comm. Rand to approve the agenda. Motion carried.

Mr. Ralph Shoemaker & Mr. Michael Jones of the State Highway Department appeared before the City Commission with the proposal for the widening of US-27 at M-21. Mr. Shoemaker told the Commission that the State installed oversized signals at the intersection because of the number of accidents that occurred. He indicated that most accidents, involved vehicles making left turns. He said that the accident rate would continue to climb until the intersection was widened to facilitate a left turn lane.

Mr. Jones told the Commission that he expected to increase the pavement width approximately 12 ft., that the Highway Department would purchase approximately 3 ft. from each property owner fronting on US-27 and the estimated cost of the project would be $170,000.

Several persons in the audience asked questions about the proposed expansion and urged the relocation of US-27 outside the City.

Many citizens voiced their opposition to the widening of the street.

Motion by Comm. Ebert supported by Comm. Rand to authorize the insertion of the MC District in place of the Neighborhood Service District in the proposed Zoning Ordinance; further, to authorize the City Attorney to index the proposed ordinance to facilitate the new district. Motion carried.

Motion by Comm. Rand supported by Comm. Ebert to adjourn at 8:53 p.m. Motion carried.

Public Auction

The new year's first auction sale of State-owned used motor vehicles will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday, Jan. 22, at the State Highway Department Garage on West Saginaw Street (M-43) at the Interstate 96 interchange.

According to William N. Hettiger, Director of the Michigan Department of Administration which is conducting the sale, there are 110 motor vehicles and several other pieces of equipment to be placed on the auction block. Among the vehicles are 41 passenger cars, all with automatic transmission and of 1968 and 1969 model years.

Also to be sold are 37 pickup trucks and 21 dump trucks. Mr. Hettiger said.

Prospective buyers must be prepared to make payment in full, either by cash or check, at the time of sale. Buyers also must be able to show proof of insurance or to pay the $45 uninsured motorist fee when purchasing license plates for vehicles.

The vehicles and other equipment may be inspected at the garage from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 21, and during the morning of the sale.

State schedules

Cardoza stated that IRS is giving top priority to spot checking for compliance with the price posting requirements. The number of IRS personnel engaged in spot checking retail stores in Michigan for compliance has been expanded starting Wednesday, January 12 and over 150 members of the IRS District staff will be in the field checking compliance. Retailers who have made a bona fide, but incomplete, attempt to comply with the guidelines will be given until January 17 to adjust their posting procedures. Retailers who have made no attempt to comply with the requirements will be held in violation. The penalty for each violation is up to $5000 a day for as long as the violation continues.

Cardoza said that the current posting regulations require retailers with sales of less than $100,000 per year to display prominently the base price for the highest dollar sales volume during the last fiscal year, or those products which accounted for 50% of the total dollar sales volume during that year, whichever is less.

Retailers with sales of $100,000 or more per year are required to display prominently the base price for food and food related (grocery store) products. These prices may be posted at central location provided that signs are available in each department indicating the location of the base price list.

These larger retailers must also post the base price for the 40 non-food items which had the highest dollar sales volume in each department during the last fiscal year or those non-food products which accounted for at least 50% of total dollar sales in that department during that year, whichever is less. Base price lists for non-food items must be prominently posted in each department containing non-food items.

Cardoza emphasized that the location of price lists must be easily accessible to the customer and must not require him to ask a store employee for access to the information. At least one sign (minimum of 22" x 28") must be displayed on each floor of a retail establishment announcing the availability of base price information for all items that are not required to be posted, he added.

It is vital, Cardoza said, that retailers and consumers be aware of posting requirements. He urged consumers to look for the price lists and speak to store managers if lists are absent or appear incomplete.

If a consumer discovers that a retailer is in violation of posting requirements, a complaint may be filed by contacting the Local IRS office. The IRS will investigate all complaints received. In Detroit complaints may be filed by contacting the IRS at 226-7650.

Bill Ballenger wins DSA award at banquet

State Senator William S. Ballenger (R-Ovid) received the annual "Distinguished Service Agriculture" award last night at the 24th Annual Michigan Agricultural Conference dinner at Michigan State University.

The dinner, attended by over 1,000 farmers, legislators, top state and federal officials, students, and agricultural businessmen, has become the traditional evening wrap-up of the opening day in January of a new legislative session.

Featured speaker was U.S. Senator Robert P. Griffin. Also present were Governor William G. Milliken and MSU President Clinton R. Wharton, Jr.

A non-farmer himself, Ballenger nevertheless was selected a year ago to be chairman of the increasingly important Senate Committee on Agriculture and Consumer Affairs.

Ballenger's committee, taking a more "activist" tack than has a more "reactive" one in previous years, handled some 65 bills during 1971 dealing not only with farm problems but also with water-style "consumer protection" legislation.

Among measures channeled through Ballenger's committee and signed into law were the so-called "Waterlock-Ballenger Pesticide Control Act of 1971," a measure empowering the State Department of Agriculture to quarantine farm animals which have been exposed to poisonous drugs or grains, a bill cracking down on door-to-door salesmen, a measure requiring retailers to redeem returnable bottles, and a bill giving the state more control over several fly-by-night deer processing plants.

Ballenger is also the prime sponsor of a bill, still bottled up in committee, to check the disappearance of good agricultural land by allowing assessment of farmland on the basis of its value for agriculture rather than its potential market value.

"Needless to say, I'm very honored to have been chosen for this coveted award," commented the 30-year-old lawmaker. "I don't feel that I alone deserve it. In all fairness, the other four members of my committee should share it with me. I'm sure that it's in recognition of my entire committee's efforts that I was selected."

"I will add, however, that because I am not and have never been a farmer by occupation I have tried extra hard to arrive at a full understanding of the unique problems of Michigan agriculture—problems which I don't have to face farmer to farmer with or help find solutions for."

"In some ways I think it may be peculiarly advantageous to fight for the cause of a special interest group—in this case farmers and consumers—when one doesn't have a personal or direct stake in the success of that group. I think if people look at a lawmaker who is not a farmer but who is fighting hard for some of the things farmers want and need, they are more likely to arrive at a full understanding of the unique problems of Michigan agriculture—problems which I don't have to face farmer to farmer with or help find solutions for."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

In the Jan. 12, 1972 issue of your paper two letters appeared in your Letters to the Editor Column, each written by a different officer from the DeWitt Twp. Police Dept. who attended an accident which occurred at US-27 and Clark Rd. on Dec. 14, 1971 and each officer placed much emphasis on the importance of helping the injured.

Since I was involved, I feel a slight correction should be made regarding the two injured women Officer Spagnuolo from the DeWitt Twp. Police Dept. says he helped. Let's give credit where credit is due.

In case Officer Spagnuolo didn't notice no one was left in the damaged car where the injured had been, by the time he arrived at the accident scene.

I, too, was concerned about being hit by an oncoming car—so all of us got out—very quickly!

My husband, who had been in a different car, removed our son from the car and checked to see if the rest of us could make it to the hospital.

I was injured and so was my passenger. I (not the police) helped her out of the car and took her to the shoulder of the highway where her husband was. The Clinton Co. Sheriff Dept. took her to the hospital.

No one offered me so much as a handkerchief until I lay in the car behind mine gave me some tissue and the blood off my face and hands.

The DeWitt Twp. Police Dept. canceled the ambulance which had been ordered and when the entire ordeal was almost over and I called Officer Spagnuolo's attention to the fact that I had additional injuries, part of which were visible. . . THEN, . . . I was offered assistance—which I refused.

Yours truly,
L. DIANNE ROWLEY

Dear Editor:

We would like to bring to the attention of the Clinton County residents and to the residents of St. Johns proper, a real civic and community minded person.

The Michigan Employment Security Commission has been trying for some time to establish an office in the area to serve the people of the St. Johns Area.

Our representatives contacted several sources for a rent free space to set up an office and finally went before the American Legion to solicit their help. The Legion voted to let us use their large hall for such purposes. Ed Schmitt, a member of the Post, was in attendance and stated that he would be glad to donate office space in building on East State Street seeing that the office would be helping to place veterans and others in jobs in the St. Johns area until a more suitable office space would become available.

We moved our office to that location at the end of September and have been operating there to date.

Now that the space is becoming inadequate due to the number of applicants registering for work

Dear Editor:

I read your editorial in last week's News regarding the responsibility of availability of guns in the home. While there have been no announcements that I know of regarding the motive for the robbery in which the bank manager was slain, I have a hunch drugs were involved. Most likely to obtain the finances to support a drug habit, possibly it was even committed under the influence of drugs.

From my view-point it was not lack of gun laws in our society that was the responsible factor in these 2 crimes but a lack of law in the family. At no time in American history have we seen the accelerated decline in the family as the basis of training for an orderly society, as has been witnessed in the generation since the end of WW two.

The emphasis on obtaining more education to prepare for life in modern civilization has been the prime factor. Not just because of the quest for knowledge or what has been learned, but because the system fosters the concentration of youth in masses away from the influence of family discipline and into the treacherous paths of mass media communications, group suggestion and immature experimentation.

Commenting on some additional remarks in your editorial, none of the crimes in Lansing has ever involved in me a desire to carry or even

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

I read your editorial in last week's News regarding the responsibility of availability of guns in the home. While there have been no announcements that I know of regarding the motive for the robbery in which the bank manager was slain, I have a hunch drugs were involved. Most likely to obtain the finances to support a drug habit, possibly it was even committed under the influence of drugs.

From my view-point it was not lack of gun laws in our society that was the responsible factor in these 2 crimes but a lack of law in the family. At no time in American history have we seen the accelerated decline in the family as the basis of training for an orderly society, as has been witnessed in the generation since the end of WW two.

The emphasis on obtaining more education to prepare for life in modern civilization has been the prime factor. Not just because of the quest for knowledge or what has been learned, but because the system fosters the concentration of youth in masses away from the influence of family discipline and into the treacherous paths of mass media communications, group suggestion and immature experimentation.

Commenting on some additional remarks in your editorial, none of the crimes in Lansing has ever involved in me a desire to carry or even

Dear Editor:

I have just finished reading the letters written by the D.T.P.O.'s. I don't believe we are discussing the same wrecks.

First, Wilcox says he had debris in the road. This is a lie. It was my sister's Ford Fairlane that was hit broadside and was never moved from the point of impact.

Second, Wilcox would have the public believe that I engaged officers in an argument. This is another lie. I remained on the east side of the highway and talked to no one while my son's funeral was being destroyed. I just stared in disbelief.

Third, I repeat, a man and his wife who attempted to ask a civil question were told to shut up and move along. These people are willing to confront Wilcox if that's the way he wants it.

CROP resource total value over $150,000

CROP resources collected in Michigan in 1971 had a total value of $154,549. Michigan CROP Hunger Appeal resources to feed the hungry overseas and provide self-help programs totaled $89,114, an increase of over $24,000 from 1970 contributions.

The 1971 results were announced by David C. Bower, Michigan Director of CROP, at the Lansing office. CROP collects resources in 35 states each year to help stop hunger in about 30 overseas countries.

Youth Hunger Walks at Midland and Marne provided $10,404 of CROP funds for Peru and India. Michigan milk producers contributed $6,000 to purchase non-fat dry milk to ship to children overseas. Future Farmers of America chapters and Church Women United units contributed nearly $15,000 to purchase self-help and family planning materials. Thirty-two lower Michigan counties organized to collect resources for CROP in 1971.

Emergency food shipments, including high protein foods, and cash for medical and housing materials, were shipped to Pakistan refugees in India. Some of the self-help shipments were: 27,000 pounds vegetable seeds for Brazil, 40,000 pounds insecticides for Indonesia, 45 pounds poultry vaccine for Malawi, 50,000 pounds fertilizer for Congo, and 119 pounds farm hand tools for Peru.

CROP administers the Church World Service Clothing Appeal in Michigan which collected 164,976 pounds of new and used clothing in 1971. CWS trucks pick up clothing at 55 locations in Lower Michigan in June and December of each year. Clothing picked up in 1971 totaling 31,776 pounds was designated for distribution by Lutheran World Relief. An additional $11,928 was collected to purchase blankets for refugees and $9,113 was received for the processing of donated used clothing.

The year of 1972 is the 25th year for CROP in Michigan. The world service Clothing Appeal of Michigan to persons overseas through CROP during the 24 years has been $2,213,014. CROP began in 1947 as a farm commodity feeding program for European refugees of World War II, and now provides self-help materials to more than 50 countries each year for improving water resources, teaching new farming methods, providing high quality seeds, food-for-work projects, and family planning programs.

Optimistic forecast for corn damage

Michigan farmers "should be in good shape" to ward off extensive damage from Southern Corn Leaf Blight (SCLB) this year, contends Dr. Elmer Rossman, Michigan State University crop scientist.

"But we could have some damage from Yellow Leaf Blight (YLB) if we can't get the corn planted on time or if we have an abnormal growing season that keeps corn from maturing by mid-September," he says.

In 1971, SCLB did little damage in Michigan mostly because the summer was dry. This plus a relatively warm June and cool July and August limited spread of the blight.

And because most farmers planted early, their corn matured before blight damage could hit.

"The blight situation in 1972 will also depend on the weather, but this time state farmers will be in better shape because they have more SCLB-resistant seed," says Rossman. "Last year, they planted 30 to 35 percent of their acreage to 'N' cytoplasm seed, which is resistant to the 'T' race of SCLB," he says. "In 1972, we expect to plant 80 to 90 percent seed with 'N' cytoplasm.

"SCLB 'T' overwinters in Michigan, so it may be present in 1972. Warm, humid or wet weather could contribute to its development.

"Other leaf blights, such as yellow, eyespot and northern, could cause trouble.

"YLB has been widely prevalent in Michigan during the past three to four years but has not caused extensive damage," says Rossman. "Its symptoms on leaves are nearly identical to those of SCLB so it is next to impossible to distinguish between the two. Undoubtedly some blight infections credited to SCLB have actually been YLB. "Eyespot and Northern Leaf Blight have not been epidemic in any season to date in Michigan," Rossman adds.

Check seed corn tags

Check seed corn tags for resistance to Southern Corn Leaf Blight (SCLB).

"N" on the tag stands for "normal cytoplasm" which is generally resistant to the new "T" race of SCLB, says Elmer Rossman, Michigan State University crop scientist.

"N" seed costs more because it is produced by hand and machine detasselling of seed fields, says Rossman, but the price won't seem out of line if SCLB hits your farm.

Some corn tags will bear the labels "T" (sterile cytoplasm) or "B" (blend of normal and sterile cytoplasm).

"T" seed is generally susceptible to the "T" race of SCLB. It is produced in seed fields using male sterile seed parents that do not require detasselling.

"B" seed is a blend of both "N" and "T" types of seed, explains Rossman. In fields planted with "B" seed, probably one-third

Authorize extension on price support loans

Farmers were encouraged this week by Nick Smith, Chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, to recognize their influence on markets and the im-

Cook speaker for meeting

The speaker at the annual meeting of the Clinton County Soil Conservation District will be Dr. R. L. Cook. Dr. Cook has retired from Michigan State University where he was head of the Soil Science Department. Since 1962 he has traveled to many countries, and during October and November of 1971 was in Argentina as a consultant to the administrator of the U.N.D.P. (United Nations Development Program).

He plans to show colored slides of how several countries are managing their soils to bring them into production of food for a better diet for their people. He has titled his program "Soil Problems which Limit World Food Production." With the President going to China, and the Governor suggesting that prime agricultural lands should be preserved, Dr. Cook's program will be most timely and one that no one will want to miss that has an interest in wise land use.

The meeting begins with a noon meal at the Ovid-Elsie High School on Feb. 12. Dinner tickets may be purchased from directors, Stanley Baird, Kenneth Loudenbeck, Robert Moore, Clarence Manning, and William Mayers. They also may be purchased from the District Secretary in the Soil Conservation Service Office, 100 South Ottawa Street, St. Johns.

plication of their decisions on market prices. A good example, he stated, is the increased use of the loan program on 1971 crop corn which has contributed to an increase in the market prices over the last few weeks. Michigan producers, he added, had placed nearly 6-1/2 million bushels of corn from the 1971 crop under loan as of November 30 and there was a continued strong demand for loans during the month of December.

Smith pointed out that while the emphasis is on placing current crops that are eligible for loan under price support to promote orderly marketing, there is also a reseed loan program which permits farmers to extend their loans for an additional year if they wish.

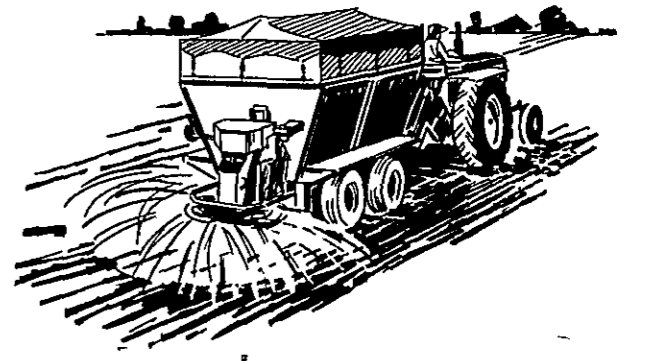

Smith stated that if our commercial farmers are going to continue to make the needed investments in our farm industry; if they are going to continue to risk hail, drought, plant diseases and all the other uncertainties in farming and if they are to continue feeding the nation efficiently, they must have adequate returns.

The reseed loan program promotes maximum use of on-farm storage, he added, and in a tool which farmers may use to retain title of their stocks of grain until such time they feel it is the best time to sell. For the 1972-73 program year, he stated, reseed programs have been announced on 1968, 1969, 1970 and 1971 crops wheat, barley and oats; 1969, 1970 and 1971 crops corn and grain sorghum; and 1971 crop rye stored under farm storage loans.

He explained that the extended loan program promotes orderly marketing by providing the producer a longer period to seek the best market for his crops and also assures a steady flow of commodities to the market, thus guaranteeing the consumers an adequate supply of grain. Producers who extend their loans, he added, will receive a storage payment for the additional storage period after the 1972 maturity date.

Smith emphasized that the early announcement of the reseed or extended loan program is being made now so that farmers can make appropriate plans for 1972.

More than the imagination has to work if a man expects to meet the high cost of living.

Fix-It Tip

An electric light that is controlled from more than one point, as on a stairway, will have a special switch known as a three-way switch. If you replace one of these, make sure you get the right kind of switch. There will be three terminals instead of the usual two. Simply rewire as the old switch was connected.

O-E FFA chapter busy

By GWYN NETHAWAY FFA Reporter

The Ovid-Elsie chapter was very active this past year. The chapter was awarded first Gold in the Michigan over all chapter competition.

In this same contest only on the National Level the chapter was again awarded a Gold rating. Also on the National level a Gold award in safety was received by the chapter. In leadership contests, the chapter won three on the district level, two on the regional and a Gold and silver on the state level.

In the state skills contest the chapter was again tops in the state, taking three golds and four silvers. The chapter was honored at the Clinton County Farm Bureau banquet for its participation in Soil and Water conservation.

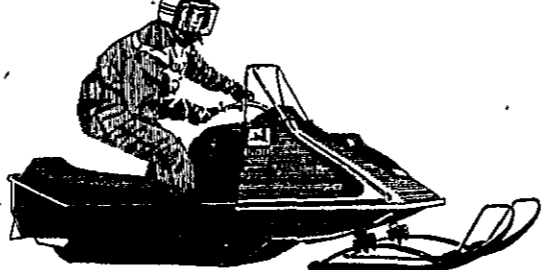

In the Clinton County Soil Conservation District's soil judging contest the chapter took both high individual and high team. This year the chapter has won the state trophy for the Funk Seed Company's Project 209.

For money making projects this year, the chapter held a slave auction and sold citrus fruit. The money from these projects is being used to build a broiler coop. Also this year the Ovid-Elsie chapter was honored with the addition of a new advisor, Lawrence Sprague. He is replacing Albert Ackley who retired recently.
