Superintendents angry at school aid reduction

By TIM YOUNKMAN
Editor

Within a matter of months, school districts in Clinton County have been dealt a severe blow to their budgets by the state—a blow that has driven most systems into deficit spending and a possible cutback of educational services.

The proposed two per cent state aid reduction, on the heels of the recent supreme court ruling on textbooks and materials, has caused school administrators to speak out against the plan. St. Johns School Supt. Earl Lancaster said the new ruling, if put into effect, would cost the school system between $35,000 and $40,000.

"I don't know for sure," he said indicating that all of the finances would have to be reevaluated to determine the exact amount of loss to the district.

He was positive about one thing. "There isn't any way we can cut down this year," he said. "So far we have no idea about next year. There could be a millage election. We're not sure how much state aid we'll get," he said.

The finances are uncertain also because working contracts will expire at the end of the school year and the St. Johns district must bargain with five different labor groups.

"This is a good plan according to the governor," Lancaster said, "but my interest is in education." From that viewpoint, he said, he couldn't go along with the proposed cutback.

He pointed out that the Michigan Association of School Administrators had also opposed the plan. "They have recommended other ways to go about reducing state spending" he said. Suggestions centered on borrowing the money from the Veterans Fund or from the Retirement Fund.

Some districts will have to pay "a fantastic amount," according to Lancaster. Districts such as Lansing must return about $300,000 from the budget. He noted that Lansing cannot afford that kind of cut since they are already on an austerity program. "We're pushed to the edge of the cliff and the legislature will pull us back," Lancaster illustrated. "But I'm afraid that this year is the year we go over."

EARL LANCASTER

He said that there was a grave threat to the poorer school districts being forced by lack of funds to close their doors. DeWitt's School Supt. James Ritchie outlined the problems of not being able to cutback funds this year forcing districts into a deficit budget situation.

"We ask teachers and administrators to turn in their budgets based on projected enrollments and needed materials," he said.

"We then change faculty numbers by June before the next school year, and lately those numbers have been rising," Ritchie said that an added problem now is the set payrolls established through labor negotiations before the school year.

He said that he couldn't simply fire teachers or refuse to offer students needed transportation, heating in the building or lighting.

"We cannot adjust for these things now," he said.

He said the cutback at DeWitt would amount to $15,767. He added to this amount the monies DeWitt had to pay for the Supreme Court ruling on textbooks at the beginning of the school year. He said that the added expenses cost the district about $30,000.

"We cannot afford a total cut of $45,000 from our budget," he said.

"There is still a great controversy over this proposal," he said. "There are members of the governor's own party who oppose the plan."

Ritchie said that he will not go to the voters for more money if the proposal goes into effect.

"I can't ask the local citizens to pay the difference," he said. "I'll turn this back into the laps of the state," he added.

He noted that the larger districts in the state, the districts he termed "big factory areas" will not suffer as much from the cutback.

He said that in these areas with a high tax revenue base, the state aid may be as low as one-tenth of the total revenue for the system.

"But our state aid amounts to two-thirds," he said.

Two per cent from DeWitt, then, would amount to much more money per student than to the larger district, Ritchie said.

"Two per cent of my two-thirds is pretty significant," Ritchie is positive that the two-per cent plan would close schools and cause serious cutbacks in services in other areas.

He said that certain areas where cutbacks would come would be music, art, remedial reading and certain physical education

Oil companies on the move leasing farm land

By BOB GAVAN
News Staff Writer

Clinton County oil lease contracts are on the increase, according to Willard Krebel, Registrar of Deeds.

Oil companies from Texas, Mississippi, Kansas, and Montana have covered the county in the past few months acquiring leases for oil and gas rights.

According to the deeds office lease figures for 1970, approximately 800 were registered, more than 500 of them in December. Figures released for January show that 117 leases were registered.

Oil companies are competing throughout the county, and Krebel indicated that representatives are constantly checking their competitors' whereabouts and contracts.

Records indicate that large oil companies, such as Shell, are using area residents as representatives. The usual procedure is for the representative to try to lease an entire area. However, companies vary in their types of contracts.

Richard Woodhams, E. Kinley Road, St. Johns leased his oil rights to 400 acres for one year at one dollar an acre, with rights to one barrel of oil for every ten pumped.

Kenneth Fricke, Price Road, St. Johns who leased his oil rights to 300 acres through a neighbor, for ten years at a reasonable price, was contacted by one company representative who offered to lease the 300 acres for $1.

Fricke said that his land was leased three or four years ago and the company drilled but didn't strike oil. The company had leased the land for ten years, but didn't pay the lease so the contract expired. He then leased the land again, and added hope fully, "we hope they strike oil."

Fricke indicated that the companies have pretty well saturated the area around him. He stated that "they must think there is oil here."

Even if the companies do not strike oil, the county is going to benefit. According to Krebel, "each lease cost the company $5 to register, with the decline of revenue in other areas, this additional source of revenue will be welcomed."

Records indicate that receipts for registering oil leases last year amounted to $3,750 in revenue for the county.

Krebel, who will submit his annual report to the Board of Commissioners Tuesday, was quick to point out that it is not an easy task to register these leases.

In order to be completely processed, the lease must go through 22 separate steps. Krebel indicated that this is a laborious process, but his office is keeping abreast of the situation.

A Bath citizens committee formed to offer support to Township Supervisor Duane Smith reported Monday night that a state agency has agreed to investigate "irregularities and misrepresentations" in a rival group's petition drive to oust Smith.

In a letter to the Bath Township board, written by a group called the Citizens for Smith Committee, they said the "acceptance has been made by the Michigan State Elections Board of our application for a state investigation regarding the possibility of irregularities and misrepresentations in the obtaining of signatures on petitions for the recall of Duane Smith."

The letter also stated that along with the application for an investigation, the group filed "Signed statements by the parties who had signed the petition."

The rival group, called Citizens for Better Government, had gathered at board meeting Monday night, but raised no questions during the session.

The petitions had been circulated for two weeks and were turned over to the Bath Township Clerk Lee Reasoner Thursday night.

The petitions charged that Smith had violated and mis-handled township responsibilities during the past two years, including mismanagement of tax monies and carrying a concealed weapon while performing his duties as supervisor.

Smith told reporters earlier that he would not make a public statement, and added Monday night, that he had been advised by certain undisclosed aides that he should not answer the charges, but wait for a state investigation of the petitions.

"I am pleased, though, that people are stepping forward to help me," Smith said, concerning the Smith Committee.

Smith also said that the investigation of irregularities is not common unless state officials have reason to believe that those irregularities exist. The investigation will be handled through the attorney general's office.

Money, time problems tie down election process

By BOB GAVAN
News Staff Writer

Ernest Carter, county clerk, says that the 18-year-old vote will cause problems in Clinton County.

One problem Carter stated was that in order to register the newly franchised voters, all clerks in the county must keep a separate register which will involve added man-hours and expenses that are not included in the local budgets.

Carter commented that Michigan voters turned down the 18-year-old vote in the last election, but are now forced to meet expenses for a federal directive, something over which they have no control, and according to Carter, "is not good government."

Carter outlined another problem with an example. In St. Johns there are four precincts. Because the new registrants can only vote in national elections, additional voting machines must be purchased. Each machine will cost $2,000 plus. This expense of $8,000 plus the additional cost of more elections workers will be an added burden to the residents of the St. Johns area. Multiplied on a county level, this is quite an added expense, he said.

Carter questioned the viability of the new law, "if you are going to make the new voters full citizens, then give them full responsibilities. I don't believe that the law has done them a service by only allowing them part of their rights."

The new voters are not eligible for jury duty, can't sign petitions or own property which is the right of every registered citizen.

Carter stated that the court house does not register anyone. In order to register, they must go to their local village, city or township clerk.

The eighteen registration offices are:

"I've committed myself to the community," he said. "We knew that proposed state aid would bring in so much money and we knew how much local funds we would receive," he added. "I don't buy the philosophy of the state coming up in the middle of the school year" to reduce our revenue "by $45,000." He pointed out that the cutback would amount to a three-mill levy on local citizens to pay the difference. "I don't feel that it's my job to go out and ask taxpayers to pay the two per cent. It's a state problem." Next week, other Clinton County superintendents discuss the growing financial problems that are endangering the present educational systems.

NEW DIRECTOR

St. Johns Attorney Timothy Green extends a hand of welcome to Dr. James Grost, M.D. following announcement of the physician's appointment to the board of directors of Central National Bank. Looking on are Harold W. H. Wellman, president and Robert Thompson, vice president.

Dr. Grost named to Central bank board

The appointment of Dr. James Grost, M.D., to the board of directors of Central National Bank was announced Monday by Harold W. H. Wellman, bank president.

Dr. Grost a resident of St. Johns for over 18 years, will assume official capacity at the February director's meeting.

In announcing the appointment Wellman cited long-range plans of the bank and how Dr. Grost's experience in the Clinton area can enhance future programs.

"We're pleased that Dr. Grost accepted this appointment," Wellman commented. "His experience and knowledge of local attitudes blends well in maintaining a continuity in the direction of the bank."

Grost has been active in professional and civic affairs since coming to St. Johns in 1953. Currently he is serving as a member of the city commission and the St. Johns Park Board. Other community activities include membership in the Rotary, American Legion and Knights of Columbus and a former member of the St. Joseph parish board.

He continues to be a member of the St. Joseph school board. He is a former Jaycee.

In addition to community projects, Grost found time to assist in the campaigns of State Sen. William Ballenger and State Rep. Douglas Tresize.

He keeps in touch with the legislators through his association with a number of professional groups. Among these his memberships include Michigan State Medical Society, of which he is a county delegate; American Academy of General Practice and the American Medical Association. He is a former president of the Clinton County Medical Society.

Grost was numbered among a small group within his profession who successfully completed examination for charter membership on the American Board of Family Practice.

Principal goal of the nationwide group is to further the activities of family practitioners in the medical profession.

Grost graduated from University of Michigan school of medicine in 1952 and came to St. Johns the following year. He, his wife, Inge, and their seven children reside at 804 W. Park St.

Dog license prices rise

Velma Beaufore, county treasurer, has announced that the dog license price is on the rise. The cost will be $4 thru Feb. 28, after which they will be $8.

The licenses may be purchased from any township or city treasurer, also from the county treasurer at the Court House in St. Johns.

She emphasized that when applying for a license either by mail or in person the treasurer must have the certificate of vaccination good through Dec.

31, 1971. The certificate will be returned with the license and tag.

The new state law known as Dog Act No. 195 of Public Acts of 1969 reads in part:

"On or before March 1st, of each year the owner of any Dog 6 months old or over, shall apply to the County, Township or City Treasurer, where the owner resides, for a license for each dog owned or kept by him. Such application shall state the breed, sex, age, color and markings of such dog, and the name and address of the owner.

"Such application for a license shall be accompanied by proof of vaccination of the dog for rabies by a Certificate of vaccination for rabies with a vaccine license by the United States Department of Agriculture, signed by an accredited Veterinarian, the Expiration Date of the Certificate of vaccination shall not be earlier than December 31st, of the year for which the dog license is issued."

Inmate labor dropped from state parks

Construction work at the Steeple Hollow State Park was dealt a blow last week when the Corrections Department Mobil Camp units were phased out due to lack of money.

The department, in conjunction with the state's Department of Natural Resources, had allowed inmates in six-man units to work on state park grounds as part of the rehabilitation program.

The local unit from Camp Waterloo near Jackson had been clearing fences, trees and developed several picnic sites at the Steeple Hollow Park.

The cutback leaves the park with two men to do the work and no additional funds to hire help.

Construction on the park sites had been scheduled for completion in 1970, but the project may be stalled for several years, DNR spokesmen indicated.

County flouride program again offered to children

Topical fluoride applications will again be offered to Clinton County children this summer, according to Luella Canfield, R.N., chairman of the Clinton County topical fluoride committee.

The fluoride program, which is supervised by the Michigan Department of Health, will be made available to preschoolers, second, fifth, and eighth graders and to special cases referred by dentists.

According to Mrs. Canfield, the procedure consists of four visits to the fluoride clinic at approximately two day intervals. The child's teeth are cleaned on the first visit and a fluoride solution is applied directly to the surface of the teeth.

The fluoride application only is then repeated during the three succeeding visits. This technique has been shown to reduce tooth decay by about forty percent compared with the 60 to 56 percent reduction obtained with fluoridated water, she said.

In addition to providing protection against cavities, the program offers a valuable dental experience for children with no discomfort.

Dental health education by the clinic personnel-including instruction in the proper method of brushing teeth, also is an important part of the program, Mrs. Canfield said.

If you want your preschool child to have these treatments and the child is old enough (around 3 years) then call 224-2195 and we will send you an application or send a request to 106 Maple St., St. Johns.

Shared time gives way to released time

By George Jaksa
(News Editor)

ST. JOHNS--There is a quotation on the bulletin board inside the main entrance to St. Joseph Catholic school here which reads: "Everyone--Everything is beautiful in its own way."

That's just what the cooperative educational programs between St. Joseph parish and the St. Johns public school system is proving.

That same cooperation accounts for the smooth transition of seventh and eighth graders at St. Joseph School from a shared time to a released time program with the public system over the Christmas holidays.

Like other shared time programs in Michigan, the St. Joseph-St. Johns arrangement was scheduled to terminate December 18, as a consequence of the passage of Proposal C at the November 3, election.

The State Supreme Court gave non-public schools an indefinite reprieve in an order issued December 17, which will be effective at least until the Court rules on the constitutionality of the Proposal C ballot proposition.

St. Joseph parish decided to go ahead with its plan to stop shared time and send the seventh and eighth graders to Rodney B. Wilson Junior High on a full time basis with released time, effective January 4.

"We decided to go through with the plan for three reasons," Fr. William G. Hanked, pastor, explained.

He said it was felt that parishioners and students were psychologically prepared for the transition and without parochial aid the parish would have had to go into deficit spending if it tried to maintain grades seven and eight through the end of the school year in June.

In addition, Fr. Hanked said, the parish school board's long-range planning indicates that it wants to go to a one through six grade program in the Fall. St. Joseph dropped its first grade six years ago and followed by terminating the second grade, both as an economy move.

***

AT ITS January meeting the School Board voted to ask the Diocesan Board of Education to permit it to adopt the one-six program for the 1971-72 school year.

The cooperation between the public and parochial system was demonstrated clearly in the transfer of the 134 St. Joseph students to the public school.

First of all, St. Joseph's history teacher, Mrs. Kathryn Durner, was hired full time in the St. Johns system. English teacher Miss Marcla Huhn was hired by the public school on a five/six basis, allowing her to teach a class back at St. Joseph.

And, Sister Susan Sokol, SSJ, math and religion teacher at St. Joseph, was hired by the public system on a two/thirds basis so she could teach religion at St. Joseph. She became the first Catholic nun to be hired by St. Johns public schools.

Because the school year was heading toward its mid-year point, officials in the public school system felt it would be easiest for course and room schedules to leave the Catholic school children in their same class groups for the subjects that they received at St. Joseph under the shared time program.

So, the two groups of seventh graders and two groups of eighth graders, numbering between 31 and 35 per class, receive instructions in language, art, math and history in Wilson Junior High with their same teachers from St. Joseph School in charge.

Then, two hours a week they walk the block from Wilson to St. Joseph School for religion instruction. Sister Susan, in her first year of teaching, comes with them to teach the course.

***

THE CATHOLIC school students still receive instruction in science, physical education and an elective subject (band, shop or choral) at Wilson as they have done since the shared time program went into effect in September 1969.

"It worked so smoothly that we couldn't believe it," Sam Serrell, Wilson Junior High principal, observed.

He said Wilson, now with 845 students in grades 6, 7 and 8, is crowded to the point that there is 97 percent utilization of classrooms in the building.

"But, the faculty here was real cooperative and we had no basic problems," he said. "The students also have accepted the children from St. Joseph school without any differences."

St. Joseph school children also are maintaining their own athletic program back at the Catholic school.

The gym, incidentally, gets heavy use from the St. Johns community ranging from winter time adult basketball games to Chamber of Commerce meetings.

Sister Margot Eder, SSJ, St. Joseph school principal who worked out details for the transition, said she is satisfied with the arrangements but that some minor problems are still being resolved.

"It is not as good as shared time or fulltime here at St. Joseph," she said, "but it is as good as we could make it without terminating our complete program."

Fr. Hanked said the parish is saving $19,000 by the released time program. Without it, he said, St. Joseph would have had to go into debt by some $15,000, "and we have pledged not to enter deficit spending."

***

THE PARISH now charges $75 per family or $50 per child annually for school tuition. The rest comes from the general parish budget where 60 percent of the titling income is earmarked for operation of the school. The parish has about 800 families.

There are three teaching nuns, the principal and six lay teachers, all totally certified, now on staff.

The school has 281 fulltime students with the seventh and eighth graders gone and hopes to have a maximum of 400 under the one through six program in the fall. Fr. Hanked believes the arrangement will make St. Joseph viable for at least three years.

It will provide ample space in the 19-classroom facility next to the church. In addition to the 10 classrooms committed to the students, it will allow for library and remedial reading rooms with other space available for released time religion classes.

The first and second grade Catholic children in public school have a unique arrangement, too. St. Joseph has rented four classrooms, through this school year, to the public school system for first and second graders. Of the 101 students attending classes in St. Joseph school, 94 are Catholics who also spend their noon hour at St. Joseph school.

In addition, Catholic school students ride public school buses and are dropped outside the door at St. Joseph school each morning.

Clinton County School News

SISTER SUSAN SOKOL, SSJ, first Catholic nun to teach in St. Johns public school system, explains a math problem to an afternoon class in Rodney B. Wilson Junior High. All the students are from St. Joseph Parish.

Reprinted from The Catholic Weekly

SISTER MARGOT EDER, SSJ, . . . "satisfied, but still solving minor problems."

SAM SERRELL . . . "so smooth we couldn't believe it."

FR. HANKERD acknowledges that the St. Joseph parish situation is unique. He credits a genuine spirit of cooperation with the public system, led by Earl Lancaster, schools superintendent, for the success.

The rapport, he said, blossomed under Bishop Joseph Green, who was pastor at St. Joseph several years ago. Fr. Hanked said one of the seven members on the public school board is a member of St. Joseph parish and that 44 percent of the community's citizens are Catholics.

Also making arrangements easier is the fact that all members of St. Joseph parish live in the St. Johns school district, second largest in the lower peninsula of Michigan with 4,200 students in its 115 square mile area.

He also said St. Joseph had an active parish school board for many years before parish boards became common.

Father gives much of the credit to working out the intricacies of the St. Joseph-St. John unique relationship to Sister Margot.

Won't approve increase

Need tax relief--Ballenger

State Sen. William S. Ballenger (R-Ovid) told two Eaton County audiences recently that he would not vote for any increase in the state income tax this year unless it was accompanied by "simultaneous property tax relief."

WILLIAM BALLENGER

Keynoting that Eaton County Republican Convention in the Courthouse at Charlotte and following it up with an address to the Dimondale Women's Club later in the evening, Ballenger hailed Gov. William G. Milliken's recent pledge to seek no new state taxes during 1971 but said that if any new taxes were needed during the next two years they should be enacted only with a firm guarantee of property tax relief.

"People are sick and tired of hearing politicians talk, talk, talk about property tax relief and never doing anything about it," said Ballenger.

"As far as the vast majority of citizens in this area are concerned, state and local officials on the subject of property taxes are full of hot air and no action. We should act courageously and meaningfully to reduce property taxes, and we should act now," he said.

"There are several ways property tax relief can be accomplished," noted the 29-year-old lawmaker.

"First of all, the Legislature, by a two-thirds vote of both houses, can put on the ballot for a state-wide referendum the question of whether there should be a 12 or 15 mill ceiling on property taxes for local school operations. The earliest we could do this would be in November, 1971, but realistically such a referendum probably wouldn't materialize until 1972.

"And there's no guarantee that a majority of statewide voters would approve such a limitation—especially if other fiscal questions cloud the picture at the time of the vote."

Continued Ballenger: "In order to guarantee property tax relief of some sort, the Legislature can itself take the bull by the horns without falling back on the old, unpredictable standbys of the initiative and referendum.

"First, we can reinstitute the property tax credit on the state income tax, most of which the Legislature rubbed out last year. Secondly, we could allow the 1971-72 state school aid bill passed last year—the so-called Spencer-Ryan plan—to go into effect along with its provisions for reduced property taxes combined with a modest one percent hike in the state income tax."

This is the so-called "green-belt" legislation coveted by both agricultural and environmental interests which came within an eyelash of being enacted into law last year.

"I will once again be sponsoring or co-sponsoring such a legislation in the 76th Legislature just as I did the past two years in the 75th," Ballenger concluded.

Morning Musicales studies Gershwin tunes

Mrs. C. W. Lumbert was hostess to the St. Johns Morning Musicales on Thursday, Jan. 28. Chairman of the day, Mrs. Jack Stenberg, introduced the program featuring George Gershwin's contribution to American music.

In a brief commentary on the composer, Mrs. Grace Woodbury related how, at the time of Gershwin's death, in 1937 she had attended a concert which showed the strides made in jazz, and had enjoyed especially "Rhapsody in Blue," predicting that Gershwin would be remembered in the history of American music.

Gershwin's songs were tuneful, the folk song type, combining Indian folk lore, cowboy songs, and Negro spiritual in his compositions.

Mrs. Jack Stenberg gave a synopsis of "Porgy and Bess," probably the most successful American opera, reading a short dialogue, and singing two well known songs from the opera, "Summer Time" and "I Love You, Porgy."

At the age of 21 he worked on the musical comedy, producing "Strike Up the Band," "Funny Face," "Girl Crazy," and "Of Thee I Sing," a Pulitzer Prize winner.

Gershwin should be remembered for the turning point in American music - combining the classic and jazz. This he displayed masterfully in his "Rhapsody in Blue." In this production he demonstrated that jazz is not confined to strict rhythm.

Paul Whiteman had asked Gershwin to compose "something" for his epoch making concert of symphonic jazz at Aeolian Hall on Lincoln's birthday in 1924. Three weeks later Gershwin played "Rhapsody in Blue" at the concert. Mrs. Harold Lundy played most of the selection for the Musicales group on Thursday.

"Act Today for a Better Tomorrow" was the theme of the 43rd annual luncheon meeting of the Michigan Capitol Girl Scout Council held Jan. 28 at Peoples Church in East Lansing.

Bands of yellow and green, scouting colors, were used to decorate each luncheon table along with a triangle centerpiece pin pointing the three aspects of a new triennial adopted in 1970 which are ecology, helping the aged and handicapped and learning to know about others.

Chairman of the event was Mrs. Robert Platt.

to person communications among youth, including the option and opportunity to create and conduct their own media channels," she added.

Mrs. McCabe informed the group that a task force under the direction of Mrs. Michael Podsedly has been appointed to study the geographic lines and structure and to suggest ways of improving services to the girls and adults and to make more effective use of the talents and skills of volunteers and professional staff.

She concluded her remarks by calling on the leaders to look forward to change in a challenging and refreshing and exciting manner.

Guest speaker of the afternoon was Earl Hill, public relations representative of Consumer's Power Company.

Hill presented "Pursuit of Happiness" and announced to the group that this marked his 118th speaking engagement in the past 10 years.

Before the meeting closed Mrs. Ralph Kitchen, council cookie chairman announced dates for the annual cookie sale which will begin March 19 and continue through April. A kick-off luncheon will be held Feb. 23 at Horne's Restaurant.

Review earnings SS agency says Every year between Jan. 1 and April 15, the Social Security Administration asks all beneficiaries who received at least one social security check and worked during the previous year to review their earnings. With certain limitations, an annual report of earnings is required. If you were under the age of 72 in any month of 1970, and you had earnings over $1680 you must file a report of earnings with the Social Security Administration. To make sure that some people who worked during the year did not receive benefits to which they were not entitled. More importantly, however, it notifies Social Security of the people who earned less than they estimated for the year and are due some back benefits. In some instances this could amount to a lot of money. For further information contact your local Social Security office.

Business notes

By MIKE PREVILE
News Advertising Manager

All evening league bowlers at Tri-Ami Bowl and Fowler Bowl will have their pictures taken the week of Feb. 8. These team pictures along with teams from Westphalia K of C and Redwing Lanes will make up the County News' first Clinton County Bowling Yearbook to be published later this year.

The Yearbook will also feature the News' "Bowler of the Week" award winners.

Wouldn't you like to be a banker? And enjoy a mid-winter holiday? Because of Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays falling on the 12 and 15th of February, all financial institutions will enjoy a four day weekend.

If you are a frustrated poet . . . and want to give someone a different type of Valentine . . . well, our "Love-In Corner" is for you. This year the News will publish Valentine messages.

Candy might be dandy and liquor may be quicker but your Valentine really wants to read how you feel. Find the special coupon in section A and compose your verse.

All we have to do to get a rise (argument) out of Al Fox at Farmers Co - op in Fowler is mention basketball and Brimley in the same breath. We have replayed the games for the Class D State Championship (1949-50) a number of times. And seeing how we're trying to sell Al advertising, Fowler always wins. Anyway, this year we're not looking for our old school to do anything in the tournaments. But, if by some wild chance the good old Brimley Bays do come down . . . well, Advertising rep Carla Vincent will have to visit Fowler for us.

The second installment of the "Know Your Merchant" contest can be found on pages A-3-4 and 5 in this issue. This week the ads have pictures in them. The wrong pictures. To win part of that $100 cut out the pictures and place them in the correct ad.

We told Dick Parsons at Fowler Plumbing we were going ice fishing this past weekend. We lied. But in all fairness, we said that before the weatherman went on a bumper. Next weekend, for sure.

Dump Hastings in overtime

Redwings win league lead

Coach Doug Japings isn't complaining about winning, but the way St. Johns pulls the heart-stopping last-minute finishes may have him reaching for the Bromo.

They did it to him again Friday night by pulling out a victory against Hastings in overtime.

Just a few weeks ago, the Redwings stormed from behind to take a last minute win against Lonia. Now, with the championship at stake, they did it again.

With the win, the Redwings are sole owners of the West Central Athletic Conference lead, with a 8-1 league record.

Hero and high scorer of the game was Mike Brown.

Brown pushed through four points in the frantic overtime period and flipped in the clinching points with just six seconds left.

Brown did just about everything right for the Redwings as he shot 100 per cent from the free throw marker, hitting 14 in a row. He added 10 field goals in 14 attempts for a 71 per cent average from the floor, for his 34-point output.

Brown added three rebounds to his credit and eight assists.

The Redwing's season scoring leader, Dean Eisler added 21 points to the cause, on nine field goals and three charities.

St. Johns moved out in front during the first quarter to lead 21-20 but lost the handle in the second quarter, being outscored by the Saxons 22-18. They trailed at halftime, 42-39.

But the tables turned in the third quarter as the Redwings bombed Hastings 28-18 only to see the Saxons roar back to tie the game 84-84 at the buzzer.

It was a frantic ending as St. Johns scored 11 points against eight in overtime to take the win.

Others scoring for the Redwings were Steve Mead (14), Brian Carpenter (10), Randy Atkinson (5), Fred Root (6), and Dennis LeVeck (5).

The Redwings hit 44 per cent of their field goal attempts, sinking 32 in 72 tries, and shot 84 per cent from the charity stripe, making 31 of 37.

Eisler added 14 rebounds to his record, upping his season rebounding record to 163-95 defensive and 68 offensive. He's also high scorer with 228 points this year.

The loss drops the Saxons to second place with a 7-2 conference mark.

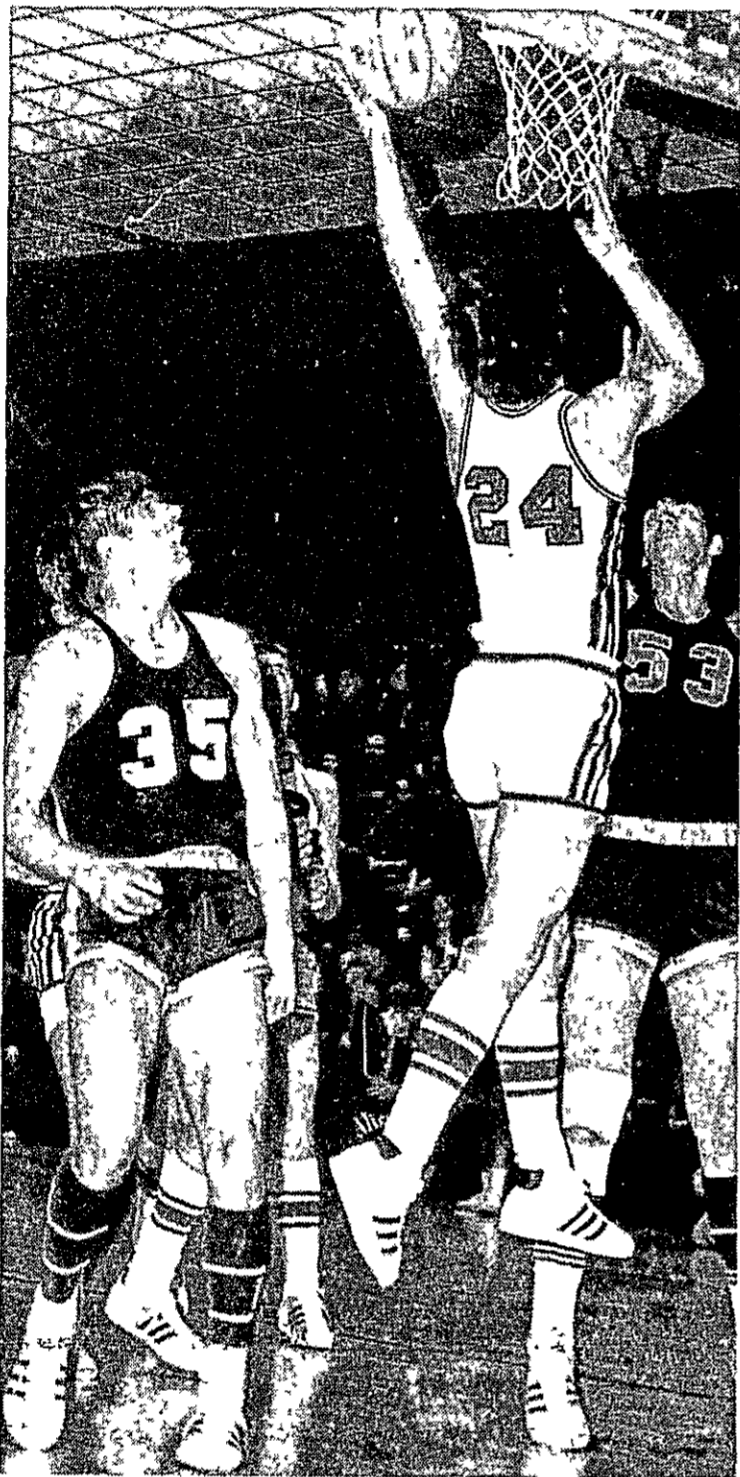

The St. Johns junior varsity didn't fare as well, dropping their decision to Hastings 78-75.

Scoring by quarters:
St. Johns 21 18 28 17 11-95
Hastings 20 22 18 24 8-92

WE'RE NO. 1

That's the shout that went up as the crowd mobbed the floor and the Redwings after St. Johns defeated Hastings in overtime to take over sole possession of first place in the West Central conference.

HOW ABOUT THAT?

Hastings' Bob Jerow (35) doesn't believe his eyes as Dennis LeVeck (24) slipped behind the defense unguarded and popped in a layup. Saxon Paul Pierson tries to block, but it's a bit late.

BROWN'S FINISHING TOUCH

Mike Brown (14) lays in 2 points to put frosting on the score to win over Hastings 95-82.

The Pewamo-Westphalia Pirates slipped past DeWitt

Friday night to notch their third Central Michigan Athletic Conference win in a row, amidst the worst blizzard of the year.

The weather outside was frightful, goes the song, but inside it was delightful for those P-W fans who weathered the storm to see the teams battle it out for second spot in the CMAC standings.

For the second straight week, DeWitt sputtered in the first half and couldn't catch up in time.

DeWitt outscored the Pirates from the floor by a handy margin hitting 34 buckets against 25 for P-W, but lost the game at the charity line. DeWitt tossed in only eight of 19 free throw attempts, while the Pirates made 27 in 34 attempts.

John Bengel led both teams with a scorching 37-point production hitting on 12 field goals and 13 of 16 free throw attempts.

The senior guard raised his league scoring average to 23.7 points per game.

Other Pirate scorers were Steve Wirth (10), Ron Kramer (8), Charles Theis (10), Ray Piggott (6) and Vance (6).

Both Steve Tews and Chuck Berkimer led the Panther attack with 17 points each, field goals and one free throw, while Berkimer with each getting eight field goals and one free throw.

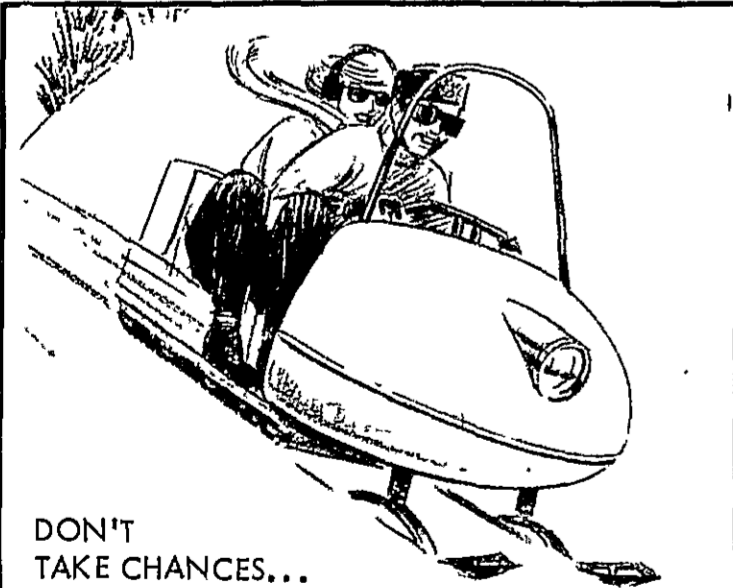

Doug Klaver followed their production totals with 10 points on five buckets.

Other DeWitt scorers were Pat Boike (7), Andy Cusack (4), Ron Wilcox (5), Gordon Keck (5) and Mark Simon (3).

In the preliminary match, the Pirate JV's dominated the Panthers 78-58.

Scoring by quarters:
DeWitt 16 11 21 28-76
P-W 20 25 18 14-77

Eagles bury Shamrocks for 12th straight win

By TIM YOUNKMAN
Editor

Good things are happening in Fowler.

Not only did the Eagles win big Friday night by stomping the hapless Portland St. Patrick Shamrocks, 91-54, Fowler's Eagles are now No. 1 in the state Class D polls.

"It's quite an honor," beamed Coach Chuck Trierweiler, although skeptical of the poll's advantage to the team.

"I think they (the sports writers) may be going on our previous performance" rather than the quality of the team today, Trierweiler commented.

Fowler went undefeated until the last game of the season last year and found themselves high on the list in the final polls.

Trierweiler is playing the idea of the state ranking on a lower key this time around.

But no one can say they don't deserve the honor—especially after Friday night's thrashing of the Shamrocks for the Eagles' 12th straight win and ninth in the conference.

"We had a good balance Friday night," Trierweiler said, declining to single out any individuals for special praise.

He substituted freely from his strong senior bench as early in the game as the first quarter. He put the second line in for most of the second half, playing the bench for the entire final quarter.

The game had another special significance for Trierweiler. It was his 100th win at Fowler against only 24 losses.

His teams have never had a losing season. The Eagles posted a 9-8 record in 1964, and followed with five big seasons—16-2, 17-3, 18-2, 12-7 and 16-2. The wins and losses include tournament competition.

When asked about his career record at Fowler, the reserved coach commented, "I'm pretty happy with it."

The Eagles looked like state champs Friday night when they jumped off to a 23-16 first quarter lead and added 17 more by halftime to take a 4-32 margin to the locker room.

The game was never in doubt after that. The Eagles screamed for 30 points in the third quarter and 21 in the fourth to walk away with the game by almost 40 points.

Neil Thelen was the scoring leader for both teams by sinking 17 points on seven field goals and three free throws. Gary Pung followed Thelen in the scoring column with 14 points on five field goals and four free throws.

Jerome Pohl also hit in double figures with 12 points through four field goals and four charlies, while John Mathews hit 11 on four field goals and three free shots. Alan Harr also had 11 points on five field goals and one free throw.

Other Eagle scorers were Steve Feldpausch (4), Dave Rossow (6), Cliff Thelen (6), Clare Thelen (8) and Joh Pohl (2).

The Eagles hit 35 shots from the floor and added 21 of 29 free throw attempts for their high scoring effort.

St. Patrick's managed 18 field goals and 18 of 30 free throws for their 54-point total.

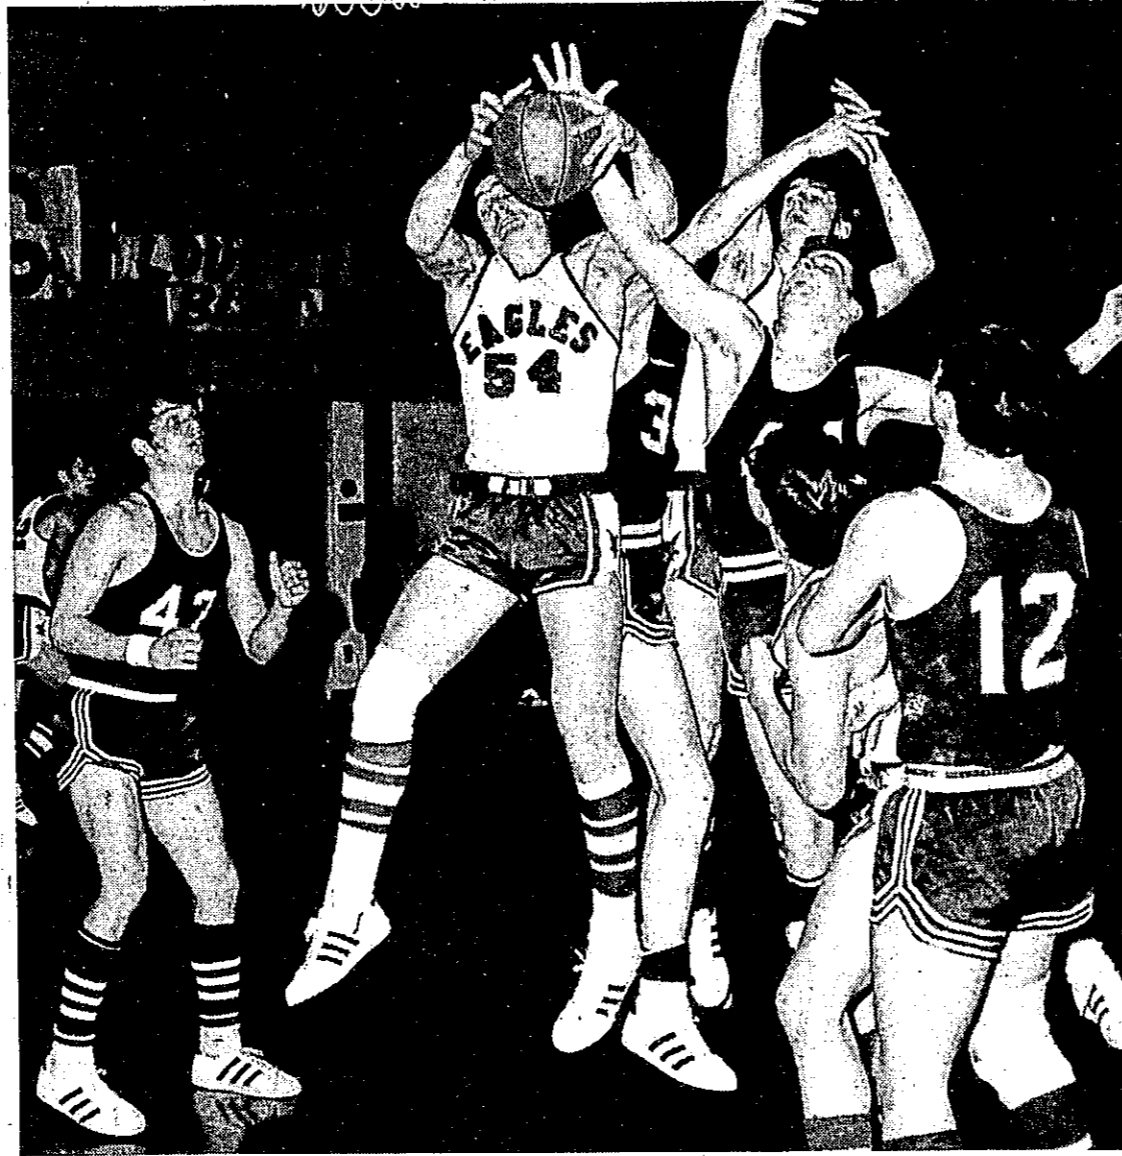

The Eagles still must face DeWitt and Pewamo-Westphalia once more this season and Trierweiler isn't getting over-confident.

"They are both good clubs," he said, with the nagging thought of last year's final contest.

It appears almost certain that Fowler will repeat as Central Michigan Athletic Conference Champions even if Trierweiler isn't saying so. Fowler's only other opponents the rest of the way will be Webberville, Laingsburg and Fulton.

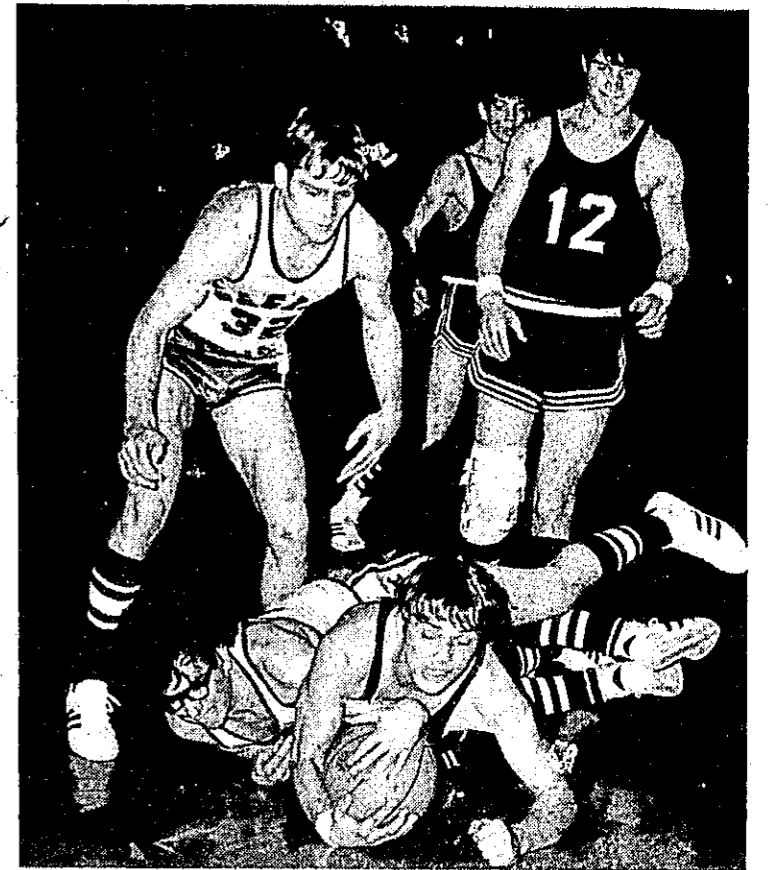

In the preliminary game, Fowler's JV team downed St. Patrick's 58-30.

AAAAH! MY ARM....

That's what Portland St. Patrick's Terry Baker seems to be shouting as Fowler's Gary Pung pulls down a rebound in Friday night's victory over the Shamrocks. Portland's Dan Lenneman (42) and Al Schrauben (12) look on. Schrauben is being blocked on the play by Neil Thelen. Eagle Photos by Ed Cheeney.

TOUCHDOWN?

It doesn't look much like basketball as Fowler's Neil Thelen (white shirt) struggles with a Portland St. Patrick player for possession. Getting ready to join in the free-for-all are Fowler's Jerome Pohl (32) and Portland's Al Schrauben (12). Fowler won 91-54.

GOOD TACKLE

Fowler and Portland St. Patrick players seemed to spend most of the game time on the floor in pursuit of an elusive basketball. Alan Harr tries to grab the ball as it heads for the out-of-bounds marker. John Mathews (front) moves in.

Fowler plays by the book, 'destroys' Owosso St. Paul

By TIM YOUNKMAN
Editor

The book said it all.

"To ruin the structure, organic existence, or condition of; to demolish. To bring to naught by putting out of existence; to kill; to abolish; to nullify."

According to the book, Webster's, that's the definition of the word "destroy."

And Fowler played by the book Tuesday night—they literally destroyed their opposition.

To put it another way, the Eagles nullified Owosso St. Paul 67-31, on the Blue Waves' own court.

The high ranking Eagles allowed the Waves to reach double figures in only one quarter, the last, and then it was only a 10-point effort.

The first quarter was slow, with Fowler pulling ahead by five points, 10-5. From that point on, the name of the game was destruction.

The Eagles led 31-13 at halftime and upped the lead to 54-21 by the end of three quarters. The Class D crown hopefuls from Fowler punched through 13 points more in the fourth period to reach their 67-point output.

Jerome Pohl led the Eagles with 16 points coming on seven field goals and two of three free throw attempts.

Neil Thelen struck for 13 points for Fowler on four buckets and five free throws in six tries.

Other Eagle scorers were Gary Pung (5), John Mathews (3), Clare

Thelen (6), John Pohl (2), Dave Rossow (5), Steve Feldpausch (7), Alan Harr (6) and Ken Schmitt (4).

In team results, Fowler poured in 28 field goals and added 11 free throws in 15 attempts.

Owosso managed 13 buckets from the floor and five of 16 free throws. High scorer for the Blue Waves was Bill Gilbert with 10 points on five field goals.

Fowler, ranked second in the state Class D poll from the Associated Press, had defeated Owosso by a similar margin on Dec. 15, 75-43.

Fowler remains unbeaten in 11 outings and has sole possession of first place in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference.

Scoring by quarters:
Fowler 10 21 23 13-67
St. Paul 5 7 9 10-31

Ski leader

Michigan has been a leader in promoting skiing since the Civil War, according to the Michigan Tourist Council. The first ski club in the United States was organized at Marquette in 1863 and the National Ski Association was founded at Ishpeming in 1904, home of the National Ski Hall of Fame.

HIGH SCORER

Neil Thelen, Fowler's high scoring senior guard, slips past a Portland St. Patrick defender for two points during the Eagle victory Friday night.

Olds club plans Family Days

The Oldsmobile Outdoor Club's annual "Family Days on Houghton Lake" is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 6 and 7, and along with the usual fishing contest special events for snowmobiles have been added to this year's list of events.

Weekend activities will begin with registrations from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday in Markey Twp. Hall, located in zone 22 of the lake area. Registrations again will be held Sunday from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Members of the "Trail-drifters", a snow-mobile group of the Olds Outdoor Club, can participate in a cross-country safari slated to begin at 9 a.m. Saturday. The safari will feature a "bring your own" picnic lunch and a drawing for prizes between noon and 1:30 p.m.

According to Floyd Bullock, president of the club, committee chairmen for the event are: Bill Land, general chairman; Mike Saunto, registration; Gordon Katz, coffee wagon; Elydia Bement, coffee house; Jim Hatch, small fry fishing; Ed Ernst, trail-drifters; Mike Saunto, flag raising; and Bullock, awarding of prizes and coronation of king and queen.

The crowning of king and queen will be held Sunday at 1 p.m. at Markey Twp. Hall.

Records

Michigan State football teams coached by Duffy Daugherty hold winning records over five Big Ten teams, are even with another, and trail in series with the other three loop squads.

Production Credit offers a bargain in money for farmers

PCA loans cost less because of the unique PCA way of figuring interest costs... custom-designed for farmers.

Three fined for cutting trees

Three Owosso residents were found guilty and fined $49 each in fines and costs before Magistrate Gordon Willyoung on charges of removing trees from state-owned land.

The two women and one man were found guilty of "willfully cutting trees from state lands" at Sleepy Hollow State Park in eastern Clinton County.

Authorities from the Department of Natural Resources said 15 spruce trees and Austrian Pines have been stolen from the park site.

DNR officials said the two women were jailed for one day until they could pay the fine.

First half hurts Bath; falls to Stockbridge

"If only..." Those are big words for Monday morning coaches who try to explain away a weekend game defeat.

Those were probably the words being pondered Monday morning at Bath High School.

The Fighting Bees came head to head with the sportswriters' pick for the toughest Class C basketball team in Michigan, Stockbridge.

As predicted, Stockbridge won 63-49, but the score is deceiving.

The "if only" sentiments center around the first half. "If only Bath didn't have to count that first half scoring," would sum up the feeling.

From the opening jump ball, Stockbridge controlled the game, both on the boards and scoring.

They pulled out in front by the end of the first quarter to the tune of 21-8 and it looked even worse for the Fighting Bees in the second quarter.

Stockbridge pured through 18 points more to take a devastating 39-14 lead into the locker room at halftime.

But the momentum changed. Bath roared out of the locker room to push through 21 big points in the third frame and added 14 more in the fourth quarter to outscore Stockbridge

In the second half 35-24. The second half drive just wasn't enough to overcome the Class C powerhouse and its 6-8 super-star Jesse Campbell.

Bath's defense reacted brilliantly to the "Campbell legend," holding him to just 15 points. The pressure on Campbell, however, freed two other shooters for Stockbridge, Rod Owen and Gary Allen, who combined for 28 points.

Randy Markham led the Bees with 14 points on five field goals and four free throws, while Lynn Veltzke added 13 points on two field goals and nine of 10 free throw attempts.

Paul Stoll, the team's leading scorer, was held to 11 points on four field goals and three free throws.

Other Bath scorers were Dave Smith (7), Joe Mitchell (2) and Tom Townsend (2).

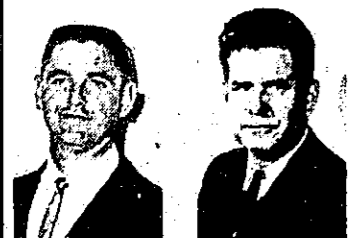

Bath hit for 16 buckets from the floor and collected 17 free throws in 24 attempts for the 49-point production. Stockbridge hit 29 field goals and added five of 16 free throws.

In the JV game, Bath defeated Stockbridge 59-44.

Scoring by quarters:
Bath 8 6 21 14-49
Stockbridge 21 18 14 10-63

Missed free throw saves O-E; keeps hold on MMB spot

Free throw shooting was the name of the game for Ovid-Elsie's Marauders Friday night when they travelled to St. Louis to battle the Sharks.

They came out by the skin of their teeth, downing St. Louis by a slim point, 60-59.

It was a missed free throw by Dwight Adams of St. Louis that saved the day for the Marauders. And it was handy free throw shooting that won the game, as it turned out.

The Sharks outscored O-E from the floor, 48-42, but the Marauders managed to sink 18 of 25 free throw attempts compared with the 13 free points by St. Louis.

It was a closely heated battle throughout the game as the Marauders held a three-point first quarter lead, 15-12 and a slim one-point lead at the half, 31-30.

O-E upped its lead to a 43-40 margin by the end of three quarters but lost momentum and the lead with only 4:40 left in the game, 49-48.

The Marauders fought back and soared to a big seven-point lead before the Sharks tired to over-

P-W avenges defeat; crush Wolfpack 77-65

The Pawamo-Westphalia Pirates, out to avenge an earlier defeat at the hands of the Laingsburg Wolfpack, pulled ahead by 10 points in the first quarter Tuesday night and went on to crush the Pack 77-65.

Pirate scoring ace John Bengel struck for 35 points, hitting 13 buckets and went nine for 15 at the free throw line to lead the P-W attack. Bengel has better than a 20-point per game average this season.

The Pirates surged ahead in the first quarter, leading the Wolfpack 18-8, a margin that held up through the next three periods.

It was a closer contest in the second quarter, but the Pirates still outscored Laingsburg 24-18 in the period to take a comfortable 42-26 lead into the locker room at halftime.

The Pack roared back in the third quarter coming within eight points of P-W by sinking 22 points against the Pirates' 14. The third quarter score was 58-48.

P-W turned around and outscored Laingsburg in the final frame 21-17 to take the decision, their fourth Central Michigan Athletic Conference win against the Wolfpack. The Pirates are 5-5 in overall competition this season.

Along with Bengel's 35-point effort, the Pirates were led by Ron Kramer's 11 points, on two field goals and a perfect seven-for-seven record at the free throw line.

Other Pirate scorers were Mike Cotter (7), Charlie Theis (9), Roy Piggott (7), and Steve Carl (8).

Keith Ordway led the Wolfpack scoring with 19 points on eight field goals and three free throws. Randy Wrobel bagged 11 points on five field goals and a free throw.

Outdoor notes

The Department of Natural Resources this weekend will put snowmobilers "on their good behavior" by opening more lands to them for non-competitive fun in state parks and recreation areas of Michigan.

The DNR is lifting its trail-only rules for snowmobilers at most of these parks and recreation areas under a move to meet growing demands of these recreationists for more cross-country space in Michigan.

In reaching its decision to give snowmobilers more room to roam, the Department also took into account the fact that its latest studies on the experimental use of several large-sized tracts show no need to limit power-sledding to designated trails in state parks and recreation areas.

DNR workers will immediately begin to mark areas in these public sites which will be open and closed to snowmobiling. They hope to have most of these areas properly posted by this weekend.

Within state parks and recreation areas, some significant spots will continue to be off limits to snowmobilers.

Those will include such locations as dedicated natural areas, campgrounds, and outdoor centers where snowmobiling cannot be permitted for the sake of preserving their quality and maintaining public safety.

The DNR will continue to stand firm with its policy which bans organized snowmobile races and other such competitive events with these machines in state parks and recreation areas, assures Field Deputy Director Warren W. Shapton. "The changes we are now making," he explained, "are strictly designed to provide more family-type recreation for snowmobilers."

Shapton also observed, "Our experience from several experimental sites indicates that snowmobilers in general have demonstrated good care and common sense in using such open areas. We are now going to open these areas on a broad scale with the hope that snowmobilers will appreciate these expanded opportunities and not abuse them."

Unless the snowmobiling situation gets "out of hand," the large expanses of state parks and recreation areas will be left open to powersledders throughout this winter, Shapton added.

He is quick to point out that state game areas in Michigan continue to call for a different, more restrictive set of ground rules covering snowmobilers than do state parks and recreation areas.

DNR officials fear that unrestricted snowmobiling in state game areas would cause serious damage to wildlife habitat, including food patches which have been planted for animals there. "They also believe that off-trail powersledding would disturb large concentrations of deer and other animals in state game areas."

In addition to those considerations, the DNR is committed to managing state game areas primarily for hunters because they have "paid the shot" with their license money for the acquisition and development of these public sites.

That being the case, snowmobiling in state game areas must be limited to designated trails and a few cross-country tracts where such use will not conflict with the priorities of wildlife

Polyesters and how to sew them

By LORRAINE SPRAGUE Extension Home Economist

With fashion sewing for Spring wardrobes now uppermost in many homemaker's minds, questions keep coming up about "polyesters" and how to sew them.

Polyesters are one of our very popular synthetic fibers. They are woven into 100 per cent polyester fabric or blended with other synthetic or natural fibers. Polyesters are durable.

They are resistant to attack from heat and from bacteria. They resist moisture which indirectly helps them resist soil. One hundred per cent polyester fabrics are washable as are blends if the blending fibers are washable.

Polyesters may be dry cleaned also.

Polyester fabrics are best known by their trade-names, though the term "polyester" always follows the trade name on the hang tag or label. Best-known polyesters include the trade names Dacron, Kodel, Fortrel and Trevira though there are several others. Hang tags and labels tell the story!

A few general rules help the home sewer. Use a loose, yet well balanced machine tension. Polyester threads, because of their ability to "give" with the stretch of the fabric are recommended for stitching. A somewhat new "ball" needle for sewing machines is now available. It tends to reduce puckering.

Otherwise use a very sharp, new machine needle. These needles need to be changed often, since the fabric tends to dull them easily. Always use the small-holed throat plate on your sewing machine to prevent bunching.

If you machine does not have a small holed throat plate on it, most companies today have them available for all models.

Polyester "knits" continue to grow in popularity. They may be sewn equally well on a straight-stitch or a zig zag machine. Adjust the tension and stitch to accommodate the fabric when using a straight-stitch machine. A narrow zig-zag allows extra "stretch" than a wide bite.

Some machines offer a special knit stitch, but it's not a "must" for sewing on the polyester knits. Sometimes it may be necessary to adjust the pressure of the presser-foot to prevent the top piece of fabric, coming out longer than the bottom piece when stitching.

This happens if the pressure is too heavy. A simple easing of the pressure is all that is necessary. Sharp shears are important when cutting polyesters.

Some other suggestions might include reinforcing areas where buttonholes are to be made, reinforcing seams that might receive extra strain and using a tailored-type hem to avoid bulk. Understand the characteristics of polyester fibers, then enjoy your fashion sewing.

Wheels turn for Michigan Week

A full week of activities to promote Michigan is being planned by the numerous workers under the leadership of Win Schuler, newly elected president of the Greater Michigan Foundation, sponsors of Michigan Week.

Two major events of Michigan Week—Agricultural Development of the Year and the Community Achievement of the Year are being readied for judging at the county level.

The county contest for Agricultural Development will be open until Feb. 8; county judging to be completed by Feb. 13 and regional entries to be submitted by Monday, Feb. 22. Judging will be completed by Feb. 27.

The Agricultural Award of the Year award focuses attention on Michigan as a leader in developing new agricultural techniques and products. The 1970 winner was the Thar Asparagus seed—an invention of former MF Board of Director James Thar.

Decatur, Richard K. Arnold is chairman of the Product and Agriculture Awards Committee. Carl Kentner, Michigan Farm Bureau information manager, is deputy chairman for the agriculture awards portion of the Michigan Week program.

The Community Achievement of the Year may be any group or promises to better a community or area.

Additional information regarding Michigan Week promotion may be obtained by contacting the Michigan Week state office, 809 Center Street, P.O. Box 5096, Lansing, Mich. 48905.

Part of the "inflation" that we complain about is due to changing standards of living rather than to the declining purchasing power of the dollar.

That is the conclusion of one housewife who compared her food budget in 1960 with one of a typical current shopping list that rang up a total of $24 on the supermarket's cash register. On going over the list, she discovered that much of what she is now buying at the grocery store is not groceries.

There were paper towels and paper napkins itemized at $1.65. In the old days, people took time to home launder and reuse cloth towels and napkins. Then there was 59 cents for dog food. In the old days, Rover used to eat table scraps.

There was an item of $1.79 for bug spray on the current shopping list. To execute what we used to swat—and 89 cents for fabric softener where we formerly depended on a windy day.

There was also $1.59 for shampoo and band-aids—in 1960 some of us were shampooing with soap and bandaging with strips of worn-out shirts.

Another item, $3.75 for light bulbs and a thermos bottle would formerly have shown up on the "hardware" bill. This housewife discovered that of her $24 grocery bill, groceries cost less than $16. Summing up, she found that her food bill for 1960 was $971.57. Household items that year came to $347.98.

concourse on "How Air Pollution Can Cause Plant Injury," Michigan Farmers will hear the latest news about southern corn leaf blight; new ideas for home landscape and flower enthusiasts will be featured at a two-day urban horticulture symposium Tuesday (March 23) conducted by staff members of MSU's Dept. of Horticulture.

The program is scheduled for Room 102, Wells Hall. They are also sponsoring an exhibit on drying flowers in Wells Hall and will open the Plant Science and Horticulture Teaching greenhouses to visitors from 8 to 5.

The Michigan FFA Chapters will also be holding their Annual Convention March 24, 25, 26 on the MSU campus. Further details will be given later as the program is finalized.

The Michigan Farm Bureau women are sponsoring a Washington Legislative Seminar again this year. The dates are March 15 to 18. The state and county Farm Bureaus will select "Legislative Leaders" who will have a special responsibility to meet with Michigan Congressmen and discuss Farm Bureau policies.

Food dollars

If you want to stretch food dollars (and don't we all) buy the foods in plentiful supply.

How do we know which foods are on this plentiful list? Watch for the good word from your United States Department of Agriculture.

The plentiful featured for the month of February include the following foods: prunes, potatoes, apples, onions, oranges and orange juice, grapefruit and grapefruit juice, pork, peanuts and peanut products and broilers-fryers.

The potato is the tasty and nutritious vegetable that can come to your table for less than a nickel a serving. Remember when at almost very meal the good word was "please pass the potatoes". Well now-a-days with so many folks watching their weight, potatoes have become relegated to the list of high calorie foods.

This relegation of a good, nutritious, food which wears a low price tag is not completely fair. For potatoes by themselves carry a low calorie count, only 50 for one half cup boiled, or 90 for one medium baked potato. It's the gravy that adds the calories!

So go to your favorite recipe book, look for ways to serve potatoes. These recipes will be kind to your pocketbook and you may find suggested seasonings to make a very well known vegetable take on a new taste and new look.

Here are some new "wrinkles" to give priced right prunes a new look in your family meals. Prunes and Cereal...A brighter breakfast will be the order of the day when chopped prunes are stirred into cooked cereal. Prunes and Biscuits...Proceed with your regular biscuit-making method to the "roll out" stage. After the biscuit is rolled into an oblong shape, spread with softened butter and sprinkle with brown sugar and cut-up pitted prunes. Roll as you would a jelly roll, and cut into one-inch slices.

Bake in moderately hot oven about half an hour. Frost, if desired. Best served hot, they can be reheated on a grill.

When shopping for oranges this month, keep in mind that a trace of green color on the skins does not mean a lack of ripeness inside. The true test for ripeness is a measure of the sugar content of the fruit, and this test is always made before oranges and grapefruit are picked for shipment.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION
by GARY A. KLEINHENN
Michigan Farm Bureau

In labor-management confrontations industry abides by the National Labor Relations Act. Agriculture, however, is not provided with any such law.

Farmers literally take a beating and fall to get justice because of the inability of present laws. But justice is being sought by 12 Arizona table grape growers.

They are leading an effort by filing a three-million-dollar suit against the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, UFWOC, an affiliate of the AFL-CIO.

The core of the struggle is from USWOC's alleged violation of the Sherman Anti-trust Act, Arizona anti-trust and anti-boycott laws, and interference with common law rights. It also seeks injunctive relief from any further boycotting, according to the complaint.

Support could be forthcoming from a recent Supreme Court decision. Anti-trust evidence often difficult to prove could become easier as the high court has clamped new restraints on unions that exert pressure on a neutral employer or other third party.

The more clearly defined restrictions as reported in the Wall Street Journal is that secondary boycotts now violate the law even when not completely successful in halting the sale of products by a neutral company.

According to the Arizona grower complaint, UFWOC enlisted the support of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America and the Retail Clerks International Association and various locals of the two unions in pressuring wholesalers, jobbers and retail grocery stores into refusing to handle or sell table grapes from the growers.

Arizona growers not only were shut out of the market, but the consumers were deprived of the opportunity to buy fresh table grapes.

Agriculture is still like a lamb in the woods. Legislation is clearly needed to calm our turbulent marketplace. And farmers, as much as anyone, deserve equal rights as guaranteed by the Constitution.

Farmers are less than five per cent of the population, but this does not shirk the injustice of the lack of national protection which other industries enjoy.

The UFWOC monopoly on harassment must be curbed. Let us hope that the outcome to the struggle of the Arizona farmers will pave the way for all farmers in bringing freedom to the marketplace.

Rye cover

tests successful

Rye cover crops prove successful in corn and soybeans. On Aug. 12 last year rye was broadcast in narrow row corn and soybeans. Seed was spread by airplane and hi-boy at a rate of 90 pounds per acre.

Nearly 120 bushels per acre of corn was harvested and the rye was 8-10 inches tall going into the winter.

The seeding date was a week to 10 days early for soybeans but the rye presented no problem at harvest. It too made excellent ground cover going into the winter.

About Sept. 1 four other corn fields were seeded by air using 90 pounds of rye per acre. All were growing in 30 inch rows and at 18-22,000 plants per acre. All fields made excellent growth of rye before winter and even furnished some pasture.

Other types of cover crops have been used in corn in the past. When present weed control chemicals, high plant populations, and narrow rows became common, cover crops other than rye proved very unreliable.

Hopefully other cover crops will be developed but for now I would recommend 90 pounds of rye seeded in corn early in August and in soybeans late in August.

Proper selection of crops, disease control; reduce erosion; improve soil fertility; and increase yields.

McQueen reports on weed control for corn

Adequate fertilizer and water are keys to high corn yields, according to George McQueen, Clinton County Extension Agent.

But weeds can remove much of the fertilizer and water that corn plants need for high yields, he noted.

One pigweed plant will remove about four times as much water as one corn plant, McQueen reported. A pigweed plant will

A new 4-H horse club called "The Wild Riders" has been organized in the Elsie area with nine members.

Herman Baese is the leader. Officers for the new club are Debbie Webster, president; Judy Schwark, vice-president; Sandy Webster, secretary and Dennis Baese, treasurer.

The members are studying the parts of a horse and learning how to braid a snap on a lead rope. William Baese of Houghton Lake showed slides of some of the western states.

The club's next meeting will be Feb. 20, 7 p.m., at the home of Glen Webster.

People around the DeWitt Middle School are the most photographed people in the area as the 4-H Photography Club at DeWitt practices taking pictures for experience and evaluation.

The members and leaders were testing out the lens of a new camera when photographing the school custodians working in the school hallways.

The members should have some excellent photographs for the 4-H Spring Achievement and open house.

Demonstrations of equestrian performance and horse show judging will highlight Michigan State University's first Horse Judging Short Course, Jan. 29-30 on the MSU campus.

Maxine MacLuckie of St. Johns and Joyce Hoover of DeWitt will be representing Clinton County at this Short Course.

Short Course speakers and panels will discuss the pros and cons of judging, how to teach judging, and the educational opportunities afforded by horse shows. In demonstrations, outstanding judges will place performers and give their reasons.

Although planting a garden seems far off 4-H horticulture members are reminded that now is the time to be looking through catalogs to see what varieties of vegetables or flowers they might be planting for their project this year.

The members are encouraged to try some new varieties along with the old stand-by favorites. Take a look at the 1971 All-American varieties that are

Say no to new capitol

Construction of a new state capitol building has been under consideration for some time and we would be the last to deny that such planning has merit, however, to begin construction at this time would be a grave error.

There is little in reports from Lansing to suggest that the state is financially sound and to embark on an estimated $50 million project would seem foolish, to say the least. The ever present warning that "costs will only rise" pales considerably when compared with the state's growing difficulty to meet current and much more urgent financial responsibilities.

Senate Tax Committee Chairman Harry DeMaso of Battle Creek has long opposed a new capitol for a number of reasons, one being his belief that the people of Michigan do not want it. In what may be a final effort to halt the project DeMaso favors a vote of the people and we tend to feel his views would be supported.

But elections are costly too and a few moments taken to write a letter to state representatives would go far in not only saving money but also in getting your opposition recorded. If we must hold a vote on every vital issue there seems to be little reason for paying for representation.

Do we need laws?

Michigan cities and counties have suddenly gone wild on enacting special snowmobile laws.

Last week the Michigan legislature joined the action with at least two prominent legislators pressing for fast action on special laws.

SNOWMOBILES have created problems some of them serious when they involve destruction of private property. Some of the problems are a figment of people's imagination . . . and this is coming from a writer who isn't an avid snowmobile fan.

It is annoying to have a television interrupted by a snowmobile but we imagine our neighborhood has as many snowmobiles on the street and near the houses as any in the county and the inconvenience is slight.

THERE MAY be some noise at night but does it really bother anyone? Putting an 11 p.m. curfew on snowmobiles seems rather stupid. People creating a real nuisance can be punished under existing laws. A curfew would prohibit snowmobilers from staying at a neighborhood party after 11 o'clock. As a good, non-snowmobiling friend of ours once commented, "If a snowmobile keeps someone from sleeping, they can't be very tired."

The lawbreaker, the property destroyer should be punished. And he can be punished under existing laws without putting another law on the books, filled with rinky-dink prohibitions, prohibitions that won't be enforced anyway.

Publishing limits for snowmobiles has worked well in most places. Let the snowmobiler know what is expected and arrest those who violate. If they can cross roads at right angles, say so. Arenac once set a rule that snowmobiles could ride, when necessary, on road right-of-ways as long as they were across the ditch from the traveled portion of the road. Laws already exist for handling those who refuse to cooperate.

TINY CHILDREN on powerful machines is dangerous business. But we haven't heard of tiny children hurting anyone other than themselves. This is a matter for parents, not laws.

It seems rather ridiculous for a legislature that refuses to pass laws that would classify staggering drunks as "drunk" when behind the wheel of a car to be passing laws keeping sober youngsters from driving a snowmobile and law-abiding adults from riding after 11 p.m. —Arenac County Independent.

Machine firm gets permit nod, county appeals Ice Pond drain cost, work begins on new US-27

ONE YEAR AGO Feb. 4, 1970 The Clinton County Zoning Commission approved a special use permit for Albert Galloway to operate a farm machine sales on north US 27, ending months of controversy.

Several hundred persons from the St. Johns area and Clinton County were expected to attend the annual Lincoln Day dinner which was to feature Gov. William Milliken as main speaker.

Big Brothers program begins in St. Johns. Several local men were working in the past weeks preparing for a successful program devoted to providing companionship for fatherless boys in the area.

The DeWitt City Council adopted an ordinance to renew the Consumers Power franchise for another 39 years in DeWitt. A new Michigan law this year requires that dogs be vaccinated against rabies and proof of this shown before they can be licensed.

'Bruised' Redwings battle past tough Mason, Saxons. St. Johns lost to Waverly the week before did not stop them from beating Mason 94-84, and Hastings 90-75.

Bath's fighting Bees were stung twice in Ingham County League basketball play last week, dropping games to Fowlerville 64-58 and Stockbridge 72-60.

TEN YEARS AGO Feb. 2, 1961 County appealed Ice Pond drain apportionment. County supervisors sought a ruling from the court on Clinton's fair share of drain project expenditures.

William Steinke was hired as superintendent of the Pewamo-Westphalia Community School District. He replaced Philip Schiska who had resigned the position.

Anticipated appointment of two additional planners to the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission staff will permit limited planning services to local units in Clinton, Eaton, and Ingham counties.

Both Michigan's county clerks and the State's Association of Supervisors opposed the Constitutional Convention proposal which was to appear on the April 3 ballot.

Tale of two bonds

By SEN. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

Two years ago, whipped up by a public concerned with pollution and a need for better recreation facilities, Michigan voters approved two bond issues...

The $335 million bond issue was designed to provide funds to clean up the state's polluted waters by financing construction of sewage treatment plants and collection systems.

The $100 million bond issue was designed to provide enlarged and improved recreation facilities throughout the state to meet the growing demands of a populace with increased leisure time...

Now, after a rather slow start—due partly to an expensive bond market and partly to normal "growing pains"—both programs are showing signs of good progress.

While only $95 million of the water bonds and $31 million of the recreation bonds have been marketed and about $100 million of the two issues is still unspent, the Department of Natural Resources reports that demands for the money are increasing rapidly...

as more projects are being approved.

One big fly in the ointment has been the failure of the federal government to fulfill its promises of providing matching funds for projects.

This has led to the necessity of state and local governments temporarily providing larger shares of project costs in order to get them off the ground.

This also has led to a situation in which the state's share of the matching funds will run out before long.

Up to January 1 of this year, 202 sewage treatment projects has been approved and $17,826,335 had been paid out of state bond funds.

Collecting sewer projects had totaled 57 with $1,115,383 paid out for such projects.

Latest reports on the recreation bond fund show that of the $30 million allocated to local units of government for 195 approved projects, $11,785,241 has been authorized.

So far, 446 local project proposals have been received and reviewed by the Department of Natural Resources but 251 of those had been unapproved or rejected as not eligible, or returned for additional information.

State projects totaling $45 million have been approved and $8,331,779 has been authorized. Included is $1,443,500 for fish projects, $6,006,000 for parks, $546,200 for forestry and $336,079 for hunting.

Of the total amount authorized for these projects, $3,678,464 has been set aside for land acquisition, $4,396,315 for development and $257,000 for planning.

Only four state urban projects have been approved so far, with $6,638,080 authorized out of the $25 million allocated for this type of work.

Department officials expect to market $60 million more in water bonds soon. They are hoping for a better rate of interest than the 5.9965 per cent they obtained on $15 million marketed last April and 4.4314 per cent on $50 million marketed last Dec. 1.

Governmental units have had several months to get their project proposals in shape and the next few months should see great progress as state government and local communities join forces to improve our waters and our recreation facilities for the benefit of Michigan residents and the thousands of visitors who come to Michigan every year.

Seniority system may fall

By GARRY BROWN, Congressman 3rd US District

With Republicans taking the lead in party caucuses last week, Congressmen adopted a number of rules changes which will materially weaken the long-standing seniority system.

Under the seniority system, stemming exclusively from custom, the powerful committee chairmanships, committee member assignments and many other positions of power are awarded to Congressmen solely on the basis of their ability to be re-elected.

Both legislators and voters have criticized the system as being unrepresentative of the people and unresponsive to their needs. Its inequity is demonstrated by the fact that aging Southern legislators who represent "safe" districts dominate the committee chairman positions in both houses.

During the second session of the 91st Congress, Southerners chaired 10 of the 16 Senate committees and nine of the 21 House committees. Of these Chairmen, over half in each house were over 70 years of age.

Republicans took the lead in changing the seniority tradition last February when House Minority Leader Gerald Ford of Michigan named a 19-member Task Force headed by Rep. Barber B. Conable Jr. (R-N.Y.) to study the system and recommend changes. Since seniority is a party matter and not a rule of the House of Representatives, individual party action is required.

Republican members adopted the group's proposals in toto during their caucus last week. Under the new system, ranking minority members of each committee will be elected by the Republican conference—the entire party membership in the House.

The voting will be by secret ballot and the nominee need not be the Member with the most seniority.

If any nomination is rejected the Republican Committee on Committees will submit another name. This committee consists of one Member from each state which has Republican representation in the House. Each Member's vote is weighted according to the number of representatives from his state.

After the Republican Task Force had begun its study, the Democratic Committee on Organization, Study and Review, headed by Rep. Julia B. Hansen (D-Wash.), was appointed by then caucus chairman Dan Rostenkowski (D-Ill.).

The group recommended selection of Democratic committee members on the basis of legislative qualifications. The proposals which were adopted in the party caucus last week specify that the Committee on Committees, which consists of the Democratic Members of the House Ways and Means Committee, is not bound by seniority when it nominates committee chairmen and members.

The nominees are voted on by secret ballot on a committee by committee basis, and if a nominee is rejected the Committee on Committees submits another nomination. Individual nominations can be debated and voted on if requested by 10 or more Members.

In the past, each caucus simply gave its approval to one long list of committee assignments.

While committee chairmanships will still often go to the most senior member, these Chairmen must be re-elected every two years. Thus, they are accountable for their actions at the beginning of every Congress.

These changes in the seniority system together with the provisions of the Legislative Reorganization Act of 1970 which we passed during the final days of the 91st Congress are the first steps toward meaningful Congressional reform.

Included in the Act were a number of rules changes which have the potential to curb the traditional committee chairman powers.

The new law required committees to announce hearings at least one week in advance, thus preventing a "sudden" hearing where certain speakers or witnesses could not appear. The law also balances the Chairman's power to delay reporting a bill by providing that a majority of the committee can force filing a report.

Both the Chairman and the Ranking Minority Member will find their power somewhat diminished by the limited proxy votes allowed by the 1970 Act. This was the method by which absent committee members would give their votes to either the Chairman or the Ranking Member to be used as the leader wished.

A fourth reform under the Legislative Reorganization Act specifies that a majority of the minority party members on a committee will control hiring or minority staff members. The power to appoint such personnel previously resided in the Ranking Minority Member.

The Holy Ghost

By REV. HUGH BANNINGA

"I believe in the Holy Ghost, the Lord and Giver of Life..." How many of you readers are acquainted with the Holy Ghost or the Holy Spirit? Do you know who He is?

There is the story about a teacher who was trying to get his class to remember the Apostles' Creed. "What he did was to line his students up and give each of them one of the phrases in the Creed. So one day he lined them up for a review session.

The first one in line said, "I believe in God the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth." The second one said, "I believe in Jesus Christ, His only Son our Lord."

And so the recitation went on very smoothly until near the end. After the phrase, "He ascended into heaven, and sitteth on the right hand of God the Father Almighty; from thence He shall come to judge the quick and the dead", there was dead silence. Finally, one of the students spoke up and said, "Sir, the boy who believes in the Holy Ghost is absent today."

This story describes a lot of Christians today. They are absent when it comes to understanding the Holy Spirit. They are like the men of Ephesus to whom St. Paul put the question, "Did you receive the Holy Spirit when you believed?" The men answered, "No, we have never even heard that there is a Holy Spirit."

Today, let me point out two distinguishing characteristics of God's Holy Spirit. First, there is joy. Second there is power.

The Book of Acts has often been called the Gospel of the Holy Spirit. One of the most common phrases in Acts is that the disciples were filled with joy and the Holy Spirit.

Remember Philip and the Ethiopian officer of the queen's treasury? The officer was in his chariot returning from Jerusalem to Ethiopia. He was riding along reading from the book of Isaiah when Philip came running up and asked him if he knew what he was reading. The officer said he needed help and invited Philip to ride along with him.

So Philip got in and told him about Jesus Christ, the Savior. When they rode by a little body of water, the officer asked to be baptized. Philip baptized him, and he went on his way rejoicing—full of the Holy Spirit!

There was a New York sales manager who hired a drama coach to teach his salesmen how to smile. He thought that a smiling salesman would sell more goods.

So the drama coach took each man, rehearsed his smile—criticized, pointed out their mistakes and finally gave up on them. He said that the manufactured smile did not have the sincere look of the real thing. The difference could be seen in the eyes.

The manufactured smile turned out to be a smirk. The eyes didn't light up. Only in the sincere smile does inner joy show through. Yes, the joy of the Holy Spirit in someone shows through his eyes. You can always tell the people of God by their natural joy.

The joy of the Holy Spirit is really something! The power of the Holy Spirit is really something, too. We read again in Acts, "And when they had prayed, the place in which they were gathered together was shaken; and they were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and spoke the word of God with boldness, etc."

I remember watching Billy Graham's Hemisphere Crusade in Texas about two years ago and I was impressed to see some laymen stand at the microphone and tell what Christ has meant to them. One man in particular was Tom Landry, coach of the Dallas Cowboys.

He told everyone that he grew up thinking that football was all there was in life, but he found he was wrong.

If a football coach can speak the word of God with boldness, is there any reason why you can't do the same? Is there any reason why you can't witness for Christ in your own neighborhood, or where you work, or where you go to school?

Is there any reason why you can't speak the word of God with boldness wherever you are?

Besides enabling us to speak God's work with boldness, the Holy Spirit gives us power over ourselves and our sins. He inspires us to resist those everyday temptations to sin—the juicy tidbit of gossip, the opportunity to "get back" at someone who has done us wrong.

St. Paul says in his letter to the Galatians that "if we walk in the Spirit, then we won't give in to those sins of the flesh."

And he lists them for us—impure thoughts, eagerness for lustful pleasure, hatred and fighting, jealousy, anger, constant effort to get the best for yourself, complaints and criticisms, the feeling that everyone else is wrong except those in your own little group, envy, murder, drunkenness, wild parties and all that sort of thing.

Yes, the power of the Holy Spirit can keep us from all of those sins that our evil nature wants us to commit.

I believe in the Holy Ghost, the Lord and Giver of Life... the Lord and Giver of joy and power! I hope you do too.

Re-organize

By DOUGLAS TRESIZE

One of the most interesting things about the recent speeches of some of our highest political leaders these days is the common trend running through them.

I refer to the feeling at all levels of government that people have lost faith in their governments and that government should be re-formed to be more responsive to the needs of the public.

This theme was apparent in President Nixon's State of the Union address when he called for reorganization of the Cabinet level departments of the Federal government. It was also stressed in Governor Milliken's State of the State message when he called for a "new politics" in the operation of state government.

This "new politics", as defined by the Governor, is basically a policy of honesty—with itself and with Michigan's citizens.

It is a politics of realism and rationality—rather than exaggeration and is based on making no promises which cannot be kept, initiating no programs which cannot be paid for and continuing to programs which do not produce results. This is just good common sense.

But, I submit that some of the public's loss of confidence in government is not due to failure of government. Rather, it is at least partially the result of a wrongly placed confidence in government—a looking to government to do all things for all people, and an over-conference in government's ability to solve all the ills of our time.

This is not to say that government cannot do a better job. I support efforts to restructure government at all levels if it will make that government more effective and efficient. We have to look at organization and results continuously with an eye to delivering maximum service at minimum cost.

It is in this spirit of seeking ways of improving our local government in Michigan that I serve on the Governor's Special Commission on Local Government. This Commission is composed of 38 members from all over the state, representing townships, cities, counties and regional governmental groups.

It has been charged with the responsibility of making both short-term and long-range recommendations to the Governor for legislation which will shape future state policy in its relationships with local units. Initial proposals of this Commission in the area of state-local fiscal relations should appear within the next few weeks.

So, this year begins to shape up as a year of government taking a critical look at itself at all levels—federal, state and local. I think this is healthy. More than that, it is essential if we are going to regain the confidence of the people we serve.

Camera corner

By BOB GAVAN

Photography, much to the chagrin of many people, is not simply the buying of a camera. To obtain maximum usability out of your camera, you need accessories.

Following are listed a few of the accessories available to help you obtain better pictures.

Extension telephoto and wide angle lenses are available for the most inexpensive instamatics to the most expensive 35 mm cameras.

These lenses merely slip or screw on the front of your permanent lens, allowing you to bring your subject closer, approximately 1 1/2 times, or to cover a larger area. Depending on your camera the price will range from $10 to $50.

Normal cameras generally focus down to about 3 1/2 feet. If you want to get closer than this, close-up lenses are available. For the instamatic, the lens will bring you as close as 18 inches, prices are around $3.

For 35 mm enthusiast, a set of three close-up lenses, which will bring you as close as 5 inches are available for about $12.

A tripod is very helpful for taking pictures indoors without flash or to help take low light exposures outdoors. There are many tripods on the market. I recommend that you not buy the compact, inexpensive ones. They are too flimsy and can easily fall over.

The best type to buy is one that has three section legs, with locks, these usually are priced about $20.

AN EXTENSION cable release is a very good attachment to own. If you are using a very slow shutter speed, you can connect the cable to the shutter release and this will eliminate camera movement. Lengths of the cable vary from 8 inches to three feet. Prices range from $1 and up.

Flash attachments are a constant problem to anyone taking indoor pictures. In a future article I will explain the operation of different flash attachments. The best type of flash to purchase is one that will accept all size bulbs, has at least a 15 volt battery and has a bounce flash capability. There are many that have all these features.

But the best one I know is the Honeywell Tilt-a-mite, priced around $10.

If you have all these accessories, you need a gadget bag to carry and store them. A gadget bag should have the following features, shoulder strap, sectioning inside the case to keep equipment in place, soft lining and a pouch in the front for easy accessibility to bulbs, film information, etc. Prices will vary from $10 to $30.

T.J. from St. Johns asked, "When taking movies with my 8mm camera indoors, my film comes back orange, why?" The reason your film is orange is that you are using the wrong film. Instead of outdoor film use indoor film which has an emulsion that will filter out the orange haze that comes from incandescent bulbs.

B.P. from Lansing asks, "I bought a miniature camera from a mail order house and can't find any film for the camera, what should I do?"

Throw the camera away, most of these cameras are gimmick items, not worth the package they arrive in. If they do function, film or processing is generally not available for them. Next week's column will cover processing.
