City gets petition

Sickles citizens demand hearing

By TIM YOUNGMAN

ST. JOHNS—About 35 St. Johns citizens jammed into the tiny city commission meeting room Monday night to demand a public hearing concerning a proposed housing complex to be built across from St. Johns High School on Sickles Street.

Thomas Coleman, 1001 S. Lansing St., spoke for the group, composed of homeowners adjacent to the Sickles Street property under consideration.

He said the group wishes a public hearing to deny the request of Fedewa Builders Inc. made two weeks ago to develop a 420-by-400 foot tract into four 18-unit apartment buildings and eight condominiums.

The St. Johns planning commission last week approved the rezoning of the tract from R-1 (single residence) to R-3 (multiple dwelling) pending investigation of sewer, water and traffic control conditions.

Coleman presented the city commissioners with a petition signed by 139 Sickles Street area residents calling for the city to turn down the request. The petition was turned over to City Clerk Thomas Hundley for signature verification.

After hearing a prepared statement issued by Coleman and the citizens' group, commissioners voted to seek an outside engineering firm to study the water and sewer conditions and future needs for an influx of population in that part of the city. They also said they would ask Police Chief Everett Glazier to study traffic conditions and issue a report to the city.

With little further discussion, the city commissioners set March 13 as a special meeting to discuss the rezoning. It will be held in the Municipal Hall upstairs meeting room and will start at 8 p.m.

Coleman pointed to the Community Development Plan approved by the commission in June, 1971. "We believe that this comprehensive development plan and its contents has not been considered in the matter of the proposed rezoning of the lands bounded by Sickles Street, S. Lansing Street, Park Street and the city park. The intent and content of this plan has been either overlooked, or ignored by the planning commission in their recommendation to permit a zoning change.

"This plan, only recently adopted by the planning commission, must serve as the policy and guidelines for their (commissioners) deliberations or it is totally ineffective. Without adhering to this policy and guidelines, the community is subject to irrational growth on a piece-meal basis, and total zoning is ineffective. This plan should be the 'Bible' of both the planning commission and city commission," Coleman said.

In the statement, Coleman called for a preservation of the existing "Western Reserve," the land including the city park and recreation area, 4-H show grounds, single residence dwellings and the land involved in the zoning proposal.

Coleman called that latter area "unique," and one "that can only retain its character by restricting any future development to low density single family dwellings. To change the unique character of this area will affect everyone in the community, because it is the only district in the city with little or no multiple family development at the present time."

Coleman asked the commissioners if they had considered the "effects" of the project, along with other apartment construction underway in the city.

"Does the city commission have data to determine if the tax revenues accruing from this high density construction will be greater than the costs to the city and its residents in providing services for as many as 650 persons living in these units?" Coleman asked.

"This sudden impact is equivalent to over 52 per cent of the population growth of St. Johns between 1960 and 1970," Coleman said. "This added population will bring St. Johns nearly to the population level projected for 1980. Is St. Johns ready to cope with 1980 problems within one or two years?"

Coleman pointed to such needs as a treatment plant and sewer expansion, increased traffic and safety control measures, school population increase and tax problems.

The citizens' group also attended the planning commission meeting and at the time asked planning commissioners which body was responsible for determining the "projected impact of the proposed zoning change." Coleman said his group was told the city commission had that responsibility. continued on page 3 A

Police break up theft rings

ST. JOHNS—Police officers from the St. Johns Police Department and the Clinton County Sheriff's Department announced Monday that they had cracked a theft ring which was responsible for more than 35 robberies totaling $1,700.

Det. Sgt. Richard May of the sheriff's department and Sgt. Lyle French of the city police said six juveniles and two adults have been arrested in connection with the thefts that ranged from rifles and pistols to tools and tires.

The juveniles were turned over to the Clinton County Probate Court

Thursday while the two adults appeared before District Judge Roland Dugway who has postponed examination until the court appointed attorneys are assigned to them.

Free on $1,000 bond are Leo Weber, 17, 1104 E. Hyde Road, St. Johns and Michael Bearup, 17, R-1 Blair Road, Elsie.

Bearup was charged with larceny from a store and Weber faces charges of larceny from an automobile.

With the arrests, the officers said 35 thefts were "cleared up in the St. Johns area." They added that five thefts from a car in Gratiot County and two other larcenies from a building in Bannister were also solved. The police have recovered more than $1,000 in stolen goods and are still tracking down some of the missing merchandise.

At the same time, May and French said two other theft rings were uncovered in the past two weeks and arrests made. continued on page 3A

ST. JOHNS—Jennifer Lynn Seibert, who underwent open heart surgery on Jan. 19 returned to her home last Wednesday.

Two year old Jennifer was born in Carson City on Dec. 2, 1969 and shortly after her birth her mother was informed that her child had a cleft palate and lip and Jennifer was sent to Children's Hospital in Detroit.

After a series of operations to correct the congenital fissure of her mouth and in the recovery room following operation number three doctors noticed that her heart was not functioning properly.

Three weeks ago a team of physicians at Children's Hospital repaired a hole about the size of a dime in the lower two chambers of her heart and also repaired a damaged valve.

"She got along just fine," says her mother, Mrs. Gail Seibert of Centerline Road, St. Johns. "Doctors have termed the operation very successful," she added.

Jennifer was in intensive care for five days and on the fifth day was standing next to her bed ready to greet her mom when she arrived to visit.

When Jennifer arrived home she was welcomed by her five-year-old brother, Larry.

Ovid primary vote called

OVID—Three village council seats will be the target of five Republicans in the special primary election Monday.

Incumbents Larry Martin, Hazel Dietz and Jerry Ross will be running against newcomers Bruce Stedman and John Sincropl. The top three vote getters will win the council seats.

The regular annual village election is slated for March 13, but officials said the primary winners would appear to be unopposed except for the possibility of write-in candidates.

Village Pres. Robert Shinabery, a Democrat, is running unopposed for re-election, as are Vada Stedman, treasurer and James Vesko, assessor. Both Vesko and Mrs. Stedman are Republicans.

The only candidate for village clerk is Mrs. Dale Crosslan, a Democrat.

To vote in the primary, the citizen must have registered on or before Feb. 11, which was the deadline for the annual election. The village has one precinct, located at the village hall in Ovid.

Sealed Power moves small ring production from St. Johns MUSKEGON — Sealed Power Corporation has announced plans for two new manufacturing facilities in Franklin, Ky. and Belgium, according to G.E. Reynolds, president.

The Kentucky facility will begin manufacturing small rings for use in automatic transmissions, power steering units, compressors and small engines currently being produced in the St.

Johns and Muskegon plants. Edward Sulka, St. Johns plant manager, said Thursday that employment in St. Johns would stay at the same level. The Muskegon plant is expected to lay off about 120 workers according to recent published reports.

Reynolds reported that a new facility, designed for the exclusive production of small rings, was necessary to preserve the company's position and provide a competitive base on which to grow in this highly specialized and expanding market. He cited the improved manufacturing efficiency that could be obtained with all of the company's manufacturing facilities for this product line housed in one location as a major factor in the company's decision.

A modern facility, designed for greater volume and using the most modern manufacturing and material handling techniques, should improve our costs and competitive position in this product line, Reynolds said.

The Franklin site was selected because of its favorable labor market, excellent industrial site with necessary utilities and good transportation. The new plant and additional equipment will cost approximately $1.75 million and will initially contain 65,000 square feet. It is expected that when the plant reaches full production it will employ 150.

Preparation of the new plant site and construction of the plant will begin immediately. Completion of the new facility is scheduled for September 1.

The planned European facility for the production of piston rings will provide the corporation with an opportunity for exceptional growth, Reynolds stated.

Production of motor vehicles in Europe now exceeds the U.S. annual production rate. Recognizing this market potential, the corporation has maintained close engineering and sales contact with European engine builders for the past several years. The corporation is currently supplying, from its U.S. and Canadian plants, piston rings for installation in original equipment engines in Europe.

Reynolds stated, "We feel there is a need for our technology in Europe and we have the resources to compete there effectively." He cited the company's engineering and technical leadership in its field and the fact that this technical know-how was in demand throughout Europe.

Present plans are for the new European facility to be located in Belgium. Belgium was chosen because it is ideally located to serve the automotive industry. The new 120,000 square foot facility will house both casting and machining operations.

The cost of the total project is in excess of six million dollars including new equipment. Employment in the initial phase of the project is expected to reach 150.

Sealed Power has foreign manufacturing facilities in Canada and at two locations in Mexico. In addition, it serves the free world replacement market through its U.S. based export division.

Construction of the new European plant is scheduled to start in early 1973. Plant site and production start-up schedules will be announced as plans are finalized.

Soybean clinic planned

ST. JOHNS—Somewhere in the Midwest, three farm couples shivering in the winter cold will feel a sudden glow of warmth soon. Two kinds of warmth—one from a week in the Florida sunshine, and the other from the lucky feeling of winning the expense-paid trip in a grand prize drawing held at a Corn-Soybean Clinic.

This area's Clinic, one of only 55 being held through 10 Midwestern states this winter, will take place at the Smith Hall on Feb. 23. The program will run from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

At each of those Clinics, three names will be drawn from among the farmers registering at the meeting, one drawing at the start of the program, one in the middle, and one at the close of the event. Those names will go into three separate drawings for the choice of the winning couples.

Prize-winners will receive a week's free vacation at the Jolly Roger Hotel in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., an oceanside mecca "where the fun never sets." The trip includes gas, a night's motel room and meals down and back as well as a hotel room, meals, tickets to various attractions, flowers and free hairstyling for the lady while in Florida. Each winning farmer can enjoy a dip in the Olympic-size fresh water swimming pool while his wife enjoys her session at the poolside beauty salon.

Ballenger says: Abandon widening; reroute US-27 now

LANSING — Attacking one of the worst highway bottlenecks in Michigan, State Senator William S. Ballenger (R-Ovid) has requested the State Highway Department to abandon plans to widen US-27 in St. Johns to five lanes and to "seriously consider" rerouting that highway around the Clinton County community immediately.

Sen. Ballenger's request came in the form of a concurrent resolution introduced in the Senate, asking that the State Highway Commission "cease and desist" from plans to widen the highway going through St. Johns instead of immediately implementing plans of re-routing it around the city.

Ballenger secured the approval of 20 other Senators who agreed to co-sponsor his resolution, which has been referred to the Senate Business Committee. Only 20 votes are needed to pass a bill of resolution in the State Senate.

"The bypassing of St. Johns is long overdue if the only bottleneck in the US-27 freeway system from Lansing to the Soo is to be eliminated," said Senator Ballenger's resolution, which noted that the only two stoplights on the "no stop" route between Lansing and Sault Ste. Marie are located in St. Johns.

The Senator asserted that "the plan to construct a fifth lane for left turns (in St. Johns) is a costly temporary measure that would blight the area" by eliminating "many old and stately trees," bring the highway right-of-way within three feet of the front porches of private homes, greatly intensify traffic noises, and force snowplows to "dump snow practically at the doorsteps of many residences."

The resolution notes that "the widening plan which calls for only 18 inches between the highway and sidewalk is hazardous to the safety of pedestrians and motorists alike." It also noted that the state has been "planning for years" to reroute part of the expressway around St. Johns and that St. Johns citizens are united in their efforts to speed the rerouting.

Theft rings

One group, operating in Elsie, involved one adult and two juveniles. Arrested were William Virgil Black, 17, 8108 E. Walker St., Ovid and two minors residing in Elsie.

The arrests were made in connection with a robbery at the J&M Restaurant in Elsie. Black pled guilty to simple larceny in District Court and awaits sentencing Feb. 18 at 2 p.m.

The juveniles were turned over to probation officers.

In the other theft, the breaking and entering and safe robbery at St. Johns High School earlier this month, police arrested two adults.

Joseph A. Coppersmith Jr., 24, 320 W. State St., Corunna was arrested in Shiawassee County by sheriff department detectives Feb. 11 and James Michael Lorenz, 23, same address, was arrested Feb. 4.

Coppersmith waived examination in District Court, and was freed on $2,500 bond, while Lorenz demanded examination in District Court. He was returned to jail after failing to post $20,000 bond. Coppersmith is charged with breaking and entering while Lorenz faces a charge of attempted breaking and entering of a safe, a crime that carries a life sentence in Michigan. He will have a preliminary exam Feb. 29 in District Court.

French and May said they were also aided in the investigation by Det. Sgt. Welton of the Michigan State Police, the Owosso Police Department, the Owosso State Police troopers, the Shiawassee Sheriff's Department and the Corunna Police Department. Besides the crimes mentioned, there were three other crimes solved in Gratiot County, three in Shiawassee County and two others in Clinton County.

They added that they had the cooperation of all the parents involved and wanted to thank them for their help.

City commission

"In their deliberations, there was no discussion or comment alluding to impact that the proposed zoning change would have on the surrounding area and the city as a whole," Coleman said.

In the request to the city, Coleman asked for a halt to new developments. "It also might be appropriate for the city commission to call a halt to all new developments until such time that public facilities and services can be upgraded to handle the added land that rapid growth places on our community," he said. "Contrary to what some people may think, growth of a community is not synonymous with progress. We say we can have progress without constant growth."

Coleman said the petitions contained "25 per cent of the property owners in the affected area or 20 per cent of those property owners adjacent to the area proposed to be rezoned to R-3, plus names of other interested citizens of St. Johns."

The statement read by Coleman was signed by seven property owners in the area, including Coleman's.

Other names listed were Cecil Smith, 718 S. Lansing St.; Emil Flermoen, 804 W. Baldwin St.; Raymond Schoomish, 802 W. Baldwin St.; Walter B. Cole, 806 W. Baldwin St.; Edward J. Mikula, 809 S. Lansing St.; and Donald O. Routly, 406 W. Sickses St.

Robert Fedewa, representing the Fowler building company, did not offer comment to the commissioners on the tract proposal or the citizens' protest.

RODNEY B. PREDICTS THE WEATHER

The eighth grade science classes at Rodney B. Wilson Junior High School are reporting the weather. Twice daily the students go through the one-half hour process. Using modern meteorological equipment, the students are able to calculate the barometric pressure, the speed and direction of the wind plus the wind chill index, the high and low temperature of the previous 24 hours, the relative humidity (moisture content of the air), the dew point and the cloud type present. Using further data they attempt to predict the forecast for the next six to twelve hours later. These reports are given daily on the school announcements. Their forecasts have been 75 per cent accurate. Eighth grader Marty Bruin is shown holding a sling psychrometer which is used in measuring the relative humidity.

Open Letter from VAN W. HOAG

Dear Friends,

It deserves emphasis that the time, the place, the character of the funeral service, the merchandise used, the cemetery selected — these are decisions of the family of the deceased. The funeral director acts only as a representative of the family.

The clergyman should be consulted in matters that concern him before any decisions are made.

Respectfully,

Van W. Hoag

Redwings suffer let-down, 71-66

When nothing else works, try a little footwork? Not exactly. St. Johns' Chuck Faivor (52) doesn't look to be the most popular Redwing with the Alma players. The Panthers hemmed him in along the sideline and tried to steal the ball—when they couldn't it looks as though they resorted to violence. Instead they won the game 71-66.

Alma wins close one

ALMA—It was a tough pill to swallow, especially after coming off two solid wins last week, but the St. Johns Redwings suffered a mental let-down and allowed Alma to slip past them Friday night 71-66.

Alma, a team beset with almost as many problems this season as St. Johns, managed a slim two-point first half lead 32-30, after they were deadlocked at 16-16 in the first quarter.

They played even-up basketball in the third quarter, too, as each squad netted 21 points, but the Panthers caught hold of a late minute surge and upped the lead to five points near the end to take their third win of the year against 12 losses. St. Johns lost its 11th game while posting three wins for the season.

"It was just a mental let down, but one we can't afford," commented Redwing Coach Doug Japinga. "There wasn't too much to talk about. We were outplayed and not ready to cope with what Alma had to give us."

Japinga was far from happy about the team's overall performance. "We were somewhat disappointed in comparison with the two previous ball games we won," he said.

That comment was emphasized by the fact that only two Redwings reached double figures, while five of the six Panther players hit double marks.

Still, St. Johns saw a good performance in Alex MacKinnon and Mike Sutherland. MacKinnon bagged 18 points on eight field goals and two of four free throws, while Sutherland hit for 17 points on three field goals and 11 of 13 free throw tries.

Others scoring for St. Johns were Bruce Irish (2), Ken Schueller (9), Dan Mohrke (3), Mike Grost (6), Chuck Faivor (5), Ed Jorae (2) and Dennis Parker (2).

The Redwings also lost Grost, Irish and Rick Hudson late in the game by way of fouls which hurt the last minute drive.

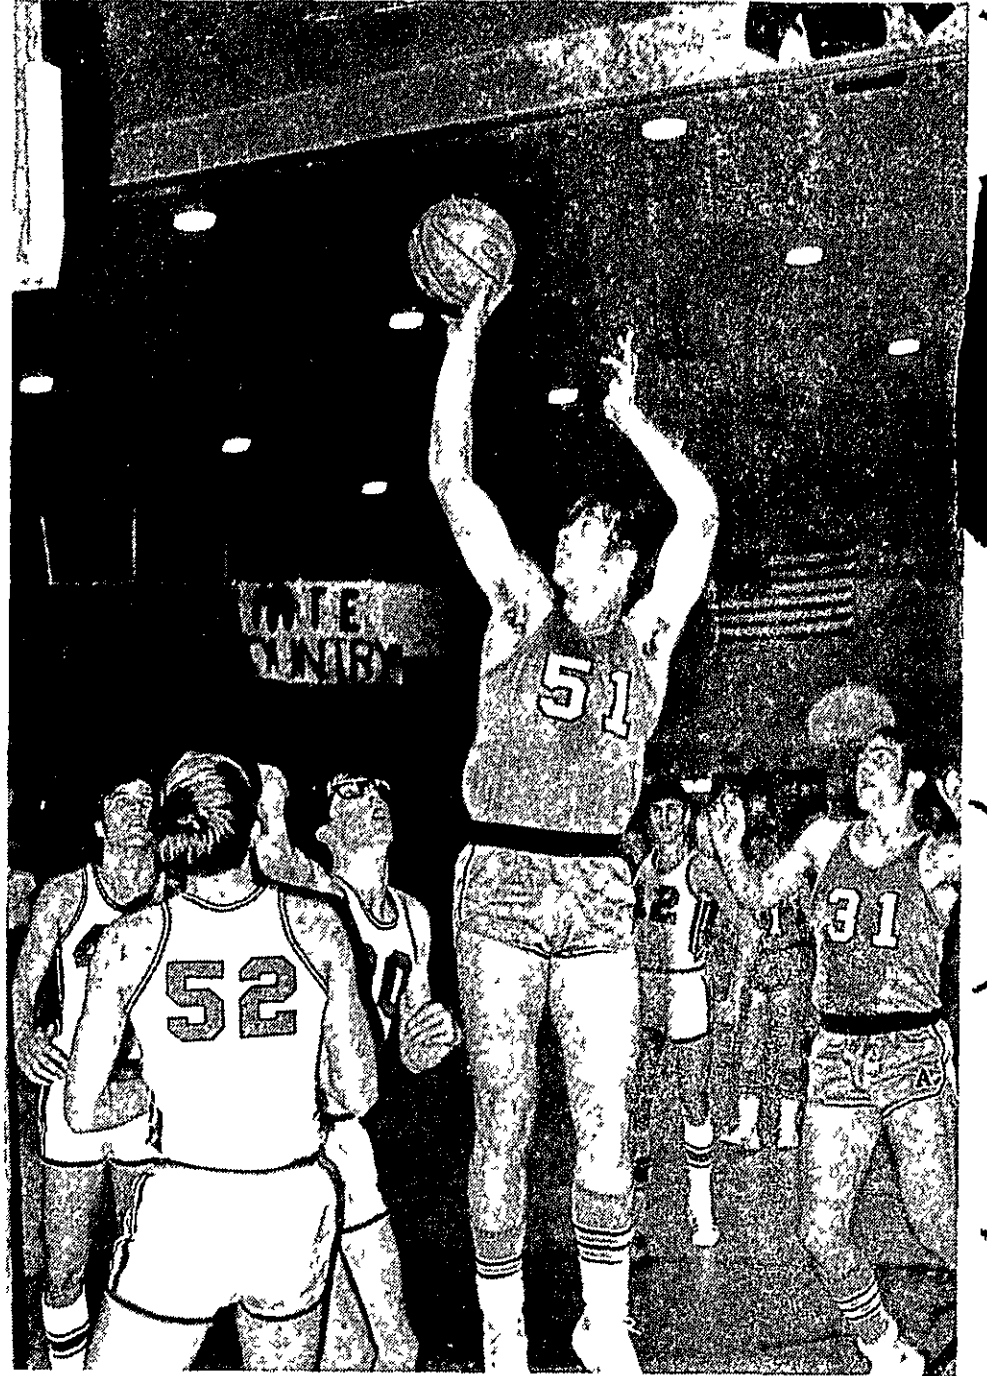

Alma was led by both Mike Rademacher and Dave Root who notched up 18 points apiece for the winners.

The Redwings hit on 19 of 60 field goals for a chilly 30 per cent, while Alma did little better hitting on 22 of 65 shots for a 34 per cent mark. Alma won the rebounding battle, outstripping the Redwings 42-32, and won the turnover battle 28-21.

St. Johns fared better at the free throw line by connecting on 28 of 39 attempts for a 72 per cent average, while Alma had 27 of 53 for a 51 per cent mark.

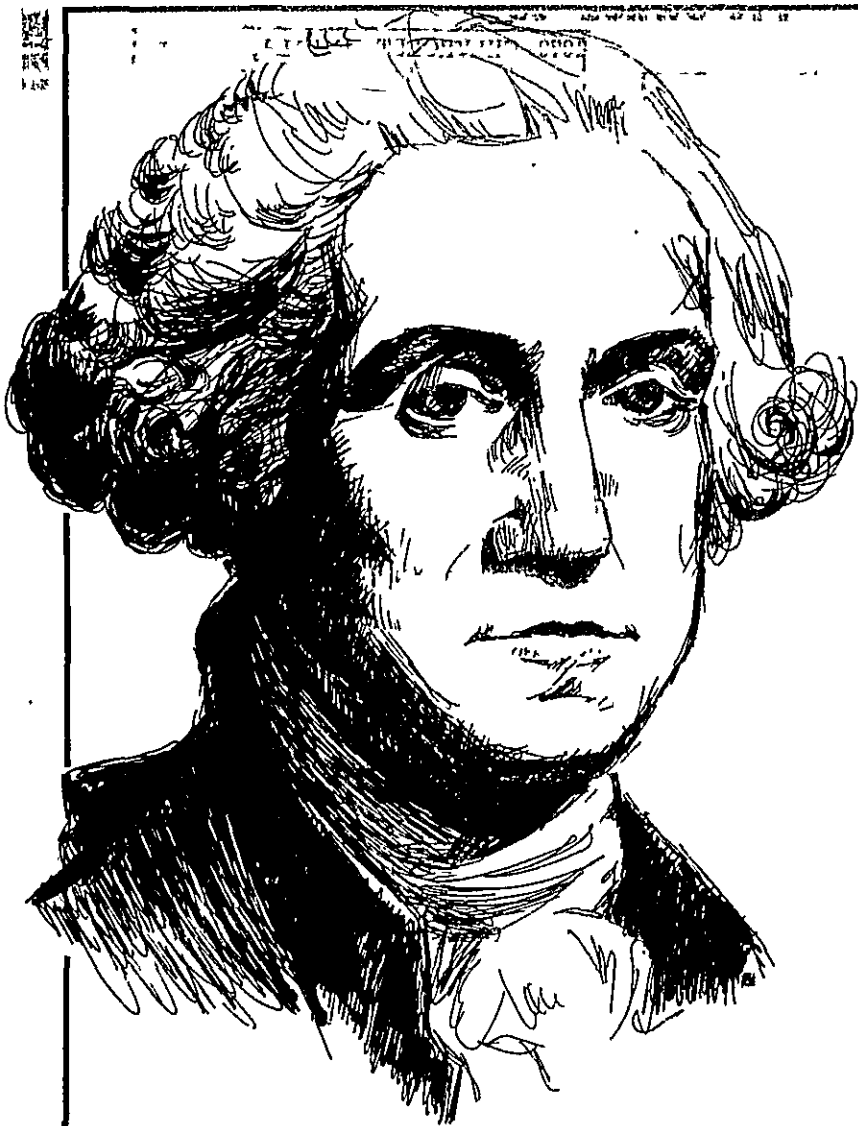

In the preliminary game, the St. Johns JV's were swamped by the Alma JV's 75-62.

Scoring by quarters:
St. Johns 16 14 21 15-66
Alma 16 16 21 18-71

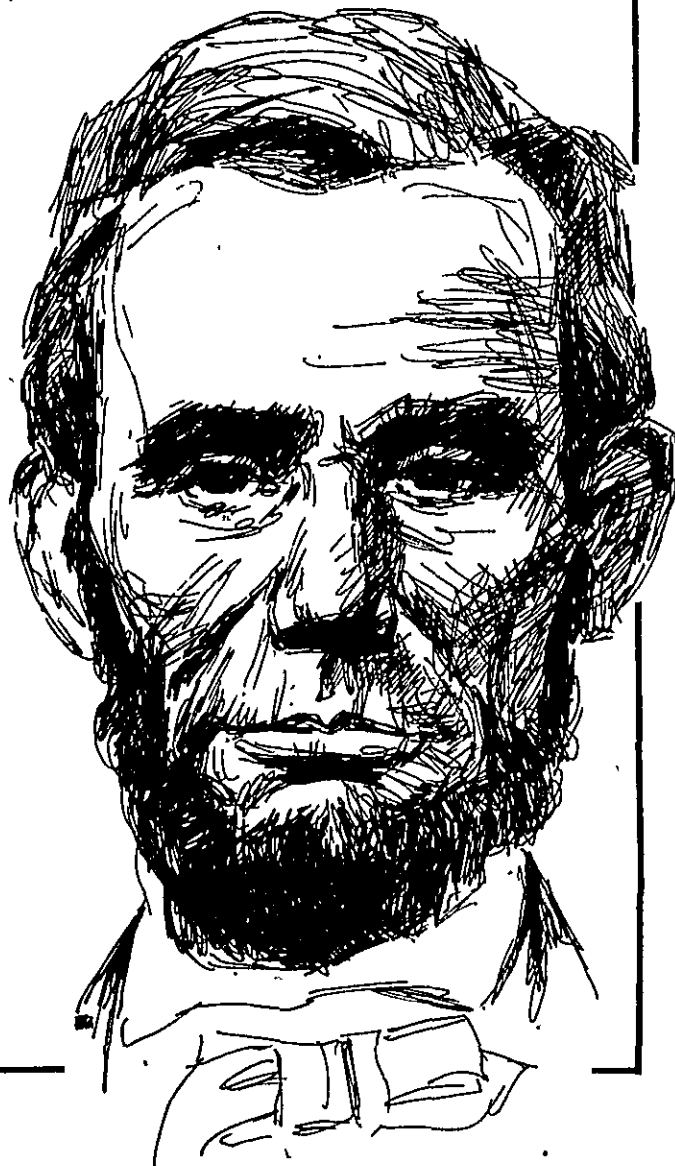

Oops! Caught for a second with the home guard down, a host of Redwings watch an Alma player nab a rebound and put it back up.

Ovid Elsie Cagers slam Lancers 76-67

OVID-ELSIE—A fired up Ovid-Elsie team put on some pressure early in the first quarter here Friday night to deck Mid-Michigan B Conference rival Midland Bullock Creek 76-67, for the Marauders' eighth win of the season.

O-E's offensive attack was staggering as the Marauders took 92 shots during the game and connected on 27 of them and fired off 37 more than their opponents.

The Marauders jumped off to a 25-15 first quarter lead, but a shocking cold spell enveloped O-E during the second quarter when they made only two of 25 field goal tries for a frigid eight per cent.

"That let them (Bullock Creek) back in the game," Coach Bob Foreback said. "We had outplayed them and all of those shots were from close in."

Trailing 39-37 at the start of the third quarter, the Marauders roared back to take a four-point margin 54-50 into the last period. O-E jammed through 22 points to the Lancers' 17 in the fourth quarter to win by nine points.

The Lancers depended heavily on shooting ace Brian Marquardt who pumped in 20 points in the first half and was expected to rip apart the Marauder defense in the second half. Foreback shifted defensive assignments and had John Glowke head to head with Marquardt the rest of the way and the Lancer was held to just five points in the second half.

Foreback said he was also pleased with the performance of Gary Groom who netted 20 points for the Marauders and pulled down 13 rebounds. Groom leads the Marauders in rebounding and has a 19-points-per-game average. "In the past five games or so, he has had 20 points or more for us and is our best rebounder," Foreback said.

What pleased Foreback most was that Groom is only a junior and so are three other regulars—Dan Egbert, Randy Loynes and Rich McCreery—so the Marauders will be title contenders next year in the MMB. They currently trail front-running St. Louis and Ithaca in the conference.

CORUNNA — The Marauders captured the Mid-Michigan B wrestling crown Saturday here after being forced to compete with only one of four defending champs from last season.

The Marauders led the six-team pack with 71 points, well ahead of Chesaning's 62 second-place finish. Others in order were Bullock Creek, Corunna, St. Louis and Ithaca.

Groom hit the 20-point mark with seven field goals and six of seven free throws. Others in double figures were Loynes with 17 points on six field goals and five of seven charity shots while

O-E's grapplers finished first in only two weight divisions, but had enough depth to finish in the top four spots in almost every other class.

Undeclared Glen May defeated St. Louis' Bob Bobzein for a first spot in the 132 pound division. May, who sports a record of 31-0-1, defended his title with a 5-3 victory.

Marauder Cayle Reha pinned Bullock Creek's Jeff Walters to take the cham-McCreery had 17 on four field goals and nine of 15 free throw tries. Bill Foran chipped in with 10 points on five field goals.

Others scoring for the Marauders were John Glowney with four and Egbert with eight.

"The team hustled well," Foreback commented. "All of those shots were from close in, and the only bad quarter we had was in that second quarter."

In preliminary action, the Little Marauders slipped past Bullock Creek's JV squad 57-53.

Scoring by quarters:
O-E 25 12 17 22-76
B. C. 15 24 11 17-67

Paul Tomasek finished third in the 138-pound division.

Frank Enos captured a second place in the 145-pound division; none of the Marauders could place in the 155-pound division after Mike Buck (24-3) hurt his back last week in the Durand meet; Neil Schulz finished third with a pin in the 185-pound class; and Rob Nethaway finished second after being pinned by Ithaca's Scott Johnson

In the last seven seconds, Nethaway had been leading in that match.

The Marauders will travel to Lowell Saturday to compete in the district tournament against 17 other teams including Corunna, Chesaning and Durand. They will also have to face such state-rated teams as Sparta and Lowell.

"It will be real tough," Coach Jim Maidlow commented. But the Marauders have a few standouts of their own.

OVID-ELSIE—The Marauder cagers will face some stiff competition when they travel to Ithaca March 1 to compete in the district basketball tournament.

Who will it be in the districts?

The O-E squad will clash with such teams as Ithaca, St. Louis, Homlock, Alma and Bullock Creek.

O-E Coach Bob Foreback picked the St. Louis Sharks as the team to beat to win a chance at regional play a week later. "We never go into any game thinking we can't win," the coach said. Foreback agreed that the Marauders would have to be considered a "dark horse" candidate to win the district crown.

"In our five losses this year, we only lost one by a large margin and that came late in the game," Foreback said.

He pointed out that the year Ovid-Elsie won the district championship, they had to face a strong St. Johns team and then a strong St. Louis squad to take the title.

Who will the Marauders face first in the tourney? No one knows yet, but Foreback has a hunch that it will be St. Louis, the Mid-Michigan B Conference leaders and quite a powerhouse. "The past five years we've played St. Louis first. We always draw St. Louis, so I expect it will be St. Louis again this year."

Foreback said Ovid-Elsie will have to beat St. Louis to stay alive in the districts, anyway, so it might as well be first. The key to stopping St. Louis is being able to contain their sharp-shooting Ted Allen. In the Sharks' only loss this season, Allen only hit eight points, rather than his normal 20 or 30 a game.

At least that's the plan when the Dark Horse meets the work horse.

The sixth grade boys of Rodney B. Wilson and St. Joseph Schools recently completed their basketball program for the year.

They played at half-time during six Junior Varsity games coached under the direction of Les Schwartz and his assistant Bruce Cameron.

The six teams played a 15 game schedule, culminating in a tournament in which the Bombers emerged as champions with an overall 16-1 record.

Commenting on the purpose of the program coach Schwartz stated that the purpose of the program is to provide a supervised development of the basic skills needed for high school basketball.

Eagles rip DeWitt keep CMAC lead

By TIM YOUNKMAN

FOWLER—A flashy first-quarter bombardment by Fowler's Eagles here Friday night spelled doom to the DeWitt Panthers in what had been billed as a "title match" between two of the Central Michigan Athletic Conference leaders.

Laingsburg, the other contender tied for first place, kept pace by dumping Webberville 69-63.

The Eagles rolled to a 12-0 lead early in the first quarter leaving the Panther fans stunned and the Eagle fans in a state of near-ecstasy in the jam-packed standing-room only gym.

The Panthers couldn't stop the steamroller effect and trailed at the first quarter buzzer 24-12. Fowler opened up the lead further in the second quarter to lead at halftime 46-29, and continued that pace in the third quarter to go ahead 22 points, 65-43.

DeWitt tried to close that gap in the last quarter, but the lead was too great and only outscored Fowler 24-18 in the last frame.

Fowler had five players in double figures, led by Al Marr with 19 on eight field goals and three of four free throw shots. Mel Pohl had 15 points on seven buckets and one of two free throw tries, while Glen Thelen hit for 12 points on five field goals and two of four three throws.

Both Scott Spicer and Bob MacKinnon had 10 points, on five field goals apiece. Both missed their only free throw attempts.

Other Fowler scorers were Tony Thelen (9), Bill Thelen (1), and John Pohl (7).

DeWitt was paced by Doug Klaver's 23 points as he netted seven field goals and nine of 15 free throws. Randy Lankford added 10 points on three buckets and four for four at the line.

Others scoring for DeWitt were Ron Wilcox (8), Pat Botke (7), Tom Ashley (3), Jim Smith (4), Chris McNeilly (2), Mark Simon (8) and Steve Dalman (2).

"We were ready to go, but we had too many turnovers," DeWitt Coach Frank Deak said. "It's really hard to say exactly what went wrong. They didn't get out and hit."

The Panthers managed to connect on 32 per cent of their shots, while the high-flying Eagles hit 51 per cent.

Deak said the Panthers didn't get their usual help from scoring standouts Wilcox and Botke who combined for only 15 points. Botke had been averaging 16 points per game, while Wilcox had about 15 a game until Friday night.

Klaver also led the team in rebounding with 13, although he got off to a slow start, Deak said.

The press didn't seem to effect Fowler very much. They managed to pass through it often in the first half, and by the time DeWitt managed to stop some of the Eagle ball handling, it was too late to come back.

Deak said he couldn't figure why the press failed. The Panthers had employed the press to defeat the Eagles earlier in the year 81-73.

The win puts Fowler in a first place tie with Laingsburg for the league title, while DeWitt is second and P ewa m o-Westphalia third. Fowler and P-W meet head-on Friday night at the Pirate home court.

In the junior varsity game, a good second half performance by the Little Panthers gave them a two-point win margin over the Little Eagles, 64-62.

Scoring by quarters:
Fowler 24 22 19 18-83
DeWitt 12 17 14 24-67

Bees trip Fowlerville

Prepare for districts

BATH — The Bath Bees jumped back on the winning track Tuesday night by downing Fowlerville, who had been tied for first place in the Ingham County League, in a wild ending 81-75.

The Bees were trailing Fowlerville by five points but with 3:55 to go in the contest, Bath caught up and went on to a six point lead to end the game.

In the final minutes, Bath hit 11 of 15 field goal attempts, with Randy Markham and Paul Stoll each picking up eight points and Fritz Ordway six during the last quarter.

Bath jumped off to a slim 17-16 lead in the first quarter, and the teams were tied 37-37 at halftime. Fowlerville roared back in the third quarter, outscoring the Bees 21-16 and had the momentum to capture the game before the Bath sharpshooters found their marks. Bath outscored Fowlerville 28-17 in the last quarter.

Part of the victory story was displayed in Bath's rebounding supremacy. Stoll kept pace with his average by pulling down 25 rebounds, while teammates Roy Dobson grabbed 12, Markham had 11 and Ordway got 10. Bath outrebounded Fowlerville 61-43.

The Bees were led by Stoll's 21 points on nine field goals and three of five free throw attempts. Markham burned the nets for 16 points on five field goals and six of 10 charity tries, while Joe Mitchell had 15 points on five field goals and five of eight free throw attempts. Ordway had 12 points for Bath on six field goals.

Others scoring for Bath were Dobson with five points and Ray Truman had three. "We looked real good in that last half," Coach Richard Witt said. "We are starting to get now, something we haven't been able to do the last three or four games. They played a much improved game."

Witt said he particularly liked the Bees' aggressiveness and said the defense performed much better than before. "We have to get ready for those districts", he said.

Bath will play in the Class C district tourney at DeWitt in March. Teams involved in that competition include DeWitt, Bath, Williamston and Dansville. The Bees have defeated each of those teams at least once and will play Dansville one more time before the district tournament.

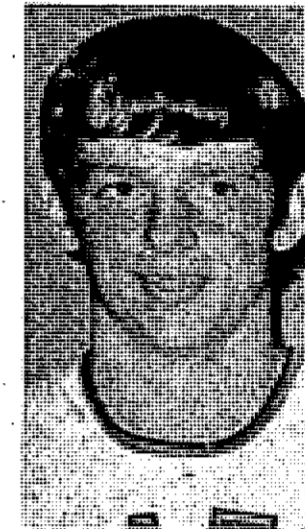

"Our chances are real favorable", smiled Witt. "We must be considered one of the favorites". The winner of that tournament will travel to Owosso for the regional tournament.

In preliminary play, the Bath JV's dumped Fowlerville's JV team 60-50.

Scoring by quarters:
Bath -17 20 16 28-81
Fowlerville 16 21 21 17-75

Joe Pohl wins K-C tournament

WESTPHALIA — The Knights of Columbus here presented Joe Pohl of Westphalia with a first place trophy after he topped the competition during the annual K of C bowling tournament Jan. 22-23.

A total of 155 members participated in the tournament including those from Fowler, Portland, Carson

City and St. Johns. Pohl won the top spot with total series of 696, rolling games of 169, 170 and an astounding 276. In that final round he bowled nine straight strikes. He is an 11-year member of the Westphalia Council 2890.

Other winners were Louis Schneider of Fowler with a 662 series; Don Pung of Portland, 656; Hilary George of Fowler, 654; Stan Weiber of Westphalia, 652; Harry Schmitt of Westphalia, 651; Mark Wirth of Fowler, 649; and Carl Wohlfert of Fowler, 637.

Doug Huhn of Portland, Henry Thelen and Roger Thelen of Westphalia tied for ninth and 10th places with 632 performances.

Wolves upset Eagles

LAINGSBURG — Three teams ended up in a tie for first place briefly Tuesday night in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference when Laingsburg stunned Fowler here, upsetting them 72-69.

The Eagles, who had been rated seventh in the state Class D polls, held the lead early in the game, but the teams exchanged the lead for the rest of the game until the final minutes of play.

Laingsburg held a 17-14 first quarter margin, but Witt and Laingsburg for the lost it to the Eagles who roared back to tie it up 38-18-14 to end up the winners.

Al Marr led the Fowler Eagles with 21 points on nine field goals and three of six free throw shots. Mel Pohl was the only other Eagle in double figures hitting for 10 points on four buckets and two of two free throws.

Others scoring for Fowler were Tony Thelen (3), Glen Thelen (7), John Simon (9), John Pohl (8), Scott Spicer (3) and Bob MacKinnon (8).

The loss dropped Fowler into a three-way tie with DeWitt and Laingsburg for the CMAC top spot.

The Fowler JV's fared much better by crushing the Laingsburg JV's 55-40.

Scoring by quarters:
Fowler 14 24 17 14-69
Laingsburg 17 21 16 18-72

I tore it apart. I put it back together. I tore it apart again and put it back together. Using all the parts I had forgotten the first time. It didn't work. I called a neighbor for consultation. As it turns out, he knows about plumbing and faucets like I know about shrinking heads. Finally with all the internal workings in a baggy I went to every store that might possibly have similar parts and a few that maybe could have. Like I tried to explain to my helpmate, where tap beer is served there has to be something to keep the tap tapping. . . and maybe we could borrow the needed parts. But I did come home empty handed and very sleepy. After a lengthy nap I awoke to find that Big Mama had purchased the parts at the first store she entered. She made some uncalled for comments about shopping in stores that didn't feature stools, pool tables and taps. Anyway I tore the ulcer-maker apart again, this time forgetting to turn off the water, but that turned out alright as the kitchen hadn't been hosed down in a while. Carefully reading the directions, I rebuilt the monstrosity. Completely. She turned the main water supply on. It turned the faucet on, Nothing. It was about this time I was overcome by a wave of nostalgia for my bachelor days in the U.P. When the water I used came out of a rain barrel or hand pump and hot water was heated on the stove. The next day, my know nothing neighbor came over with six cans of smart-juice. Again we tore the whole miserable thing apart. Again we created a geyser in the kitchen. Again we carefully, correctly put it back together. Again nothing. Not even a drop. While we toddled off for more smart-juice the girls fixed it. Honestly. When we returned the faucet was working perfectly. Turn it on, water flowed and gushed. Turn it left, hot water; right, cold. Perfect. And the maddening thing is . . . they won't tell us what they did.

Clinton puts Ovid on map

Edward Loznak, Clinton Machine Company president, displays a unique aluminum beam produced on machines his firm builds that could revolutionize mobile home construction. Looking on are Harold Wellman, Central National Bank president, left, Wayne Hicks, Central National vice-president and auditor and George Burkitt, Clinton Machine financial vice-president.

OVID—People drive past here every day, never realizing what we do or that we are known throughout the world.

Those were the sentiments of Edward Loznak, president and founder of Clinton Machine Company here.

"They don't realize that Ovid and the rest of this area is on the map," Loznak beamed.

Well, what does Clinton Machine do?

The firm makes custom roll-form machines and roll form equipment that has been instrumental in revolutionizing the recreational vehicle and mobile home industry.

Clinton Machine was founded on July 19, 1964 with a 5,000-sq. ft. building at 1300 S. Main St. and employed four people. Now the building has been expanded to 16,500 sq. ft. and the firm employs 42 people.

And from its meager beginnings, Clinton Machine now provides various types of machines to all of the major aluminum companies, some steel corporations and major American mobile home manufacturers. They provide equipment for some 700 mobile home firms and 600 recreational vehicle manufacturers.

Clinton Machine has expanded its horizons to include the foreign market, as well. They now equip firms in Holland, England, Italy, Austria, France and Germany. Loznak also helped form a sales representative group in Cleveland, Ohio called Modco Inc. which combines, in a package to buyers, the complete process and product from start (at Clinton) to finished merchandise.

Loznak said his firm, currently, is not leaning big in any one direction, but supplies equipment to both aluminum industries and steel industries in equal proportion.

But he was quite taken with the recreational vehicle and mobile home field. In fact, he has patented a machine, the only one of its kind, to produce special "steel studs" for modular housing. The new process will enable the manufacturer to save up to 25 per cent on material and an equal amount on weight.

To give an idea of the size of Clinton Machine, Loznak said the firm had gross sales of more than $1 million in 1971 and, he said, that was not a good year in the industry.

The machines produces at Clinton Machine are highly sophisticated versions of the old four-six station roll-form machines, but his have progressed to adding up to 16 different stations that can produce just about any design needed.

The finished product, rolling out of a Clinton Machine, can be seen in just about every mobile home produced recently in Michigan. They can produce the fancy-designed ceilings, beams, tops and ceilings for campers, and so on, and Loznak adds his company has just scratched the surface in providing equipment to these firms.

With a pickup in the economy expected soon, Clinton Machine is ready to provide all of the equipment the aluminum industry and the steel industry needs to expand—the recreational market.

Central National National Bank Presents... No. 5 in a Series

"Know Your Community" Clinton Machine, Inc Ovid, Michigan

Founded by Ed Loznak in 1964 Clinton-Machine, Inc. has become a major producer of metal forming and handling equipment with customers in the United States, Canada, South Africa, Australia and Europe.

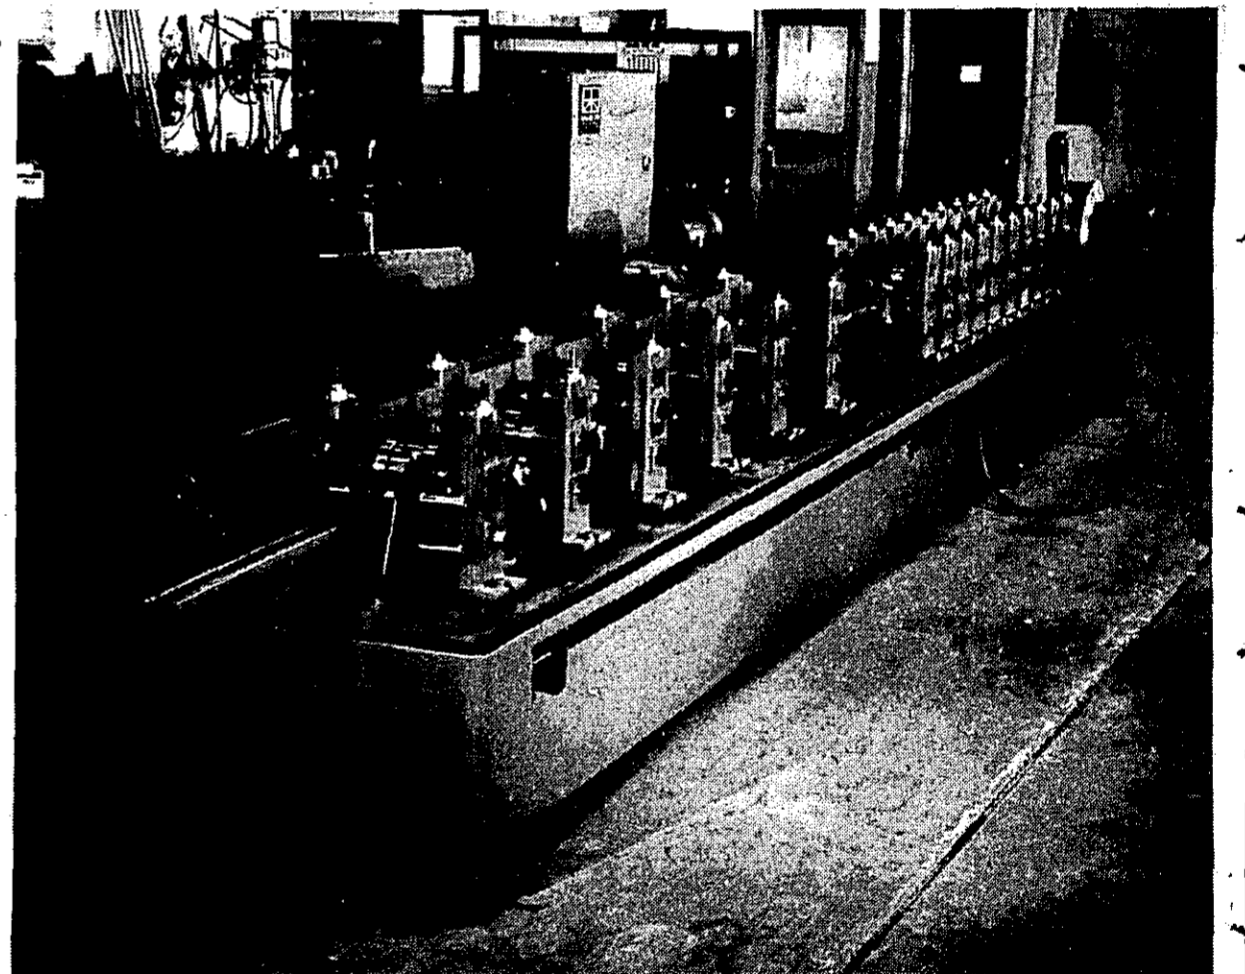

The original building was purchased from Midwest Abrasive and work was started with four employees. Today 42 employees manufacture equipment for all the major industries involved with forming aluminum and steel.

The Ovid facility has undergone two major expansions which resulted in an additional 11,500 square feet for a total of 16,500 square feet of work area.

Growing with the mobile home industry, at first, Clinton Machine produced equipment for the handling and roll forming of aluminum siding, skirting and duct work. Today this has evolved to complete custom designed fabricating systems.

Clinton Machine Financial vice-president, George Burkitt, Central Michigan Bank president, Harold Wellman, Ed Loznak, President of Clinton Machine and Wayne Hicks, vice-president of Central National watch, as a finished roll forming machine is needed.

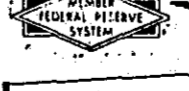

Creating The Market

Clinton Machine is now in process of developing equipment for producing steel studs for use in the building industry, as well as in modular homes and mobile homes.

The steel stud to be produced is an expanded steel stud... which means 25% less material is needed. Also the stud comes off the machine complete with access holes and breathing system, weighs 25% less and so is easier to work with.

The patented process has been researched, developed and produced by the Ovid industry.

CNB&T IS GIVING THIS BIG WORD SOME MEANING

"Bank Talks" are held at regular intervals and can be scheduled at any CNB&T office.

If you or your group are interested in sharing your ideas write us or phone 224-2351 We'll Invite you to a Bank Talk...

Since early January we've been conducting a series of "BankTalks" — informal evening chats with customers who have indicated they had some ideas for our bank. We've learned a few surprising things that we might not otherwise have known or thought about. We've found that most things we do are well accepted, but then, there are others that customers find useless — even irritating. From those who have visited with us during these chats have come ideas on which we have already begun research. In the weeks and months ahead it's possible they will become part of our customer service program.

We're taking a new look at the word "communications" at Clinton National and this direct approach is our way of giving meaning to a big word which frequently has so little meaning. We've taken a step unique to banks in mid-Michigan — possibly the state — by inviting our customers in to share with us their ideas on how a bank ought to be run. It's but one more way we're staying wide-awake to the needs and wishes of the people we serve. "BankTalk" ... talk it up with us sometime.

Persons outside the St. Johns area who wish to participate in a "BankTalk" are invited to contact the CNB&T office nearest them.

Congratulations. You just saved $5 by doing your own income tax. And all it cost you was three long, sleepless nights.

And a slight case of heartburn.

If you had gone to H & R Block, on the other hand, you could have relaxed while someone else figured out your return. Quickly and confidentially. Probably unlike any way you've ever done it before. And, when you figure your own, you may be entitled to deductions you're not taking and taking deductions you're not entitled to. For instance, do you know all about deductions for child care or casualty losses? Or, that if your income increased over the last few years, you may save tax dollars by "income averaging"? And even if you did, would you know how to go about "income averaging" to begin with? Probably not. And there's no reason why you should. After all, you're an amateur when it comes to doing income tax.

You see, when it comes to income taxes, amateurs should depend on H & R Block. We have over 6,000 conveniently located offices manned by thousands of specially trained personnel. They're warm and friendly people who are anxious to help you. They'll sit you down over a free cup of coffee and show you some things about your income tax that you might never have known existed. Furthermore, if your return is audited we will accompany you, at no extra cost, to the Internal Revenue Service and explain how your return was prepared, even though we will not act as your legal representative.

This means that H & R Block is ready to offer you year "round tax service for just one low fee a year, with no extra charge for audits and estimates. H & R Block's charges start at $5 and the average cost was under $12.50 for the 7 million families we served last year. Which is somewhat less than what you paid. Not to mention the fact that aggravation isn't tax deductible. And we are.

DON'T LET AN AMATEUR DO H&R BLOCK'S JOB.

An eager speaker

One of the more available public servants these days for club and organization speaking engagements is our attorney general, Frank J. Kelley.

And of course, the longer he waits to announce his candidacy for the U.S. Senate, the greater mileage he can get as a "non-political" speaker. When he becomes an avowed candidate, the news channels will begin to close.

At this point Kelley's opposition for the primary election in August seems to be dwindling to zero. Thus he isn't in under any particular pressure to push ahead as a declared candidate.

And the speaking engagements will continue to be accepted.

Limit on spending

We stand firmly in favor of the recent decision of Congress placing a limit on spending for political campaigns.

This no doubt will surprise those critics who view political campaigns as lucrative bonanzas for those in the advertising game. (These are the misinformed types who never have experienced trying to collect from those candidates who didn't make it.)

Huge family fortunes have become all too powerful in determining just who is going to shape the future of this country.

Limiting campaign spending is a start, although we predict it will be difficult to enforce. Now the next logical step will be to limit the length of campaigns.

VD fight aided

State health officials say they have been given a new weapon in the fight to detect and eradicate the most prevalent of the illnesses lumped under the classification "venereal disease" - gonorrhea.

The state Bureau of Laboratories now is handling a new method which allows the swabbing of live bacteria from a patient and the sending of the bacteria in a carbon dioxide filled jar to the state laboratory.

Previously, only examination of smears for dead bacteria could be done as a practical procedure and this failed to detect many women carrying the disease.

Communicable Disease Control Chief Dr. Donald Coohon sees the new method as a breakthrough in the fight against VD.

"When you realize that gonorrhea is the most commonly reported communicable disease in Michigan and the nation, and that an estimated 90 per cent of the infected females don't even realize they have the disease, you can see how significant this new diagnostic tool is," he said.

From the state house

By DICK ALLEN
88th District Representative

A Will Rogers quote: "This country has come to feel the same when Congress is in session as when the baby gets hold of a hammer." The same holds true of the public attitude towards the State Legislature.

And never is there more reason for this public concern than when a major program is slowly taking shape in the Legislature.

Now is such a time and the Transportation Bills are such a program. The Governor and the leadership of both parties are all behind the measure. But the rank and file legislators are reluctant (as is the public, in my opinion). So the Bills change as the leadership strives for more votes.

The public and various interest groups shudder as the gas tax rate changes, distribution formulas vary and various highway projects are included or deleted.

Anything can happen from day to day. But here's a report of the good and bad as of the day I write.

First the good. The completion of US-27 from Lansing to Ithaca as a four lane limited access road is currently specified in the Bill. This should help to alleviate two severe problems in or near the 88th District.

The US-27 -- M-57 crossing has been a tragic cause of deaths at a regularly increasing rate for a number of years. Attempts by citizens groups and legislators to have an overpass built have met with continuing failure. Hopefully making US-27 a limited access highway with proper overpasses and interchange will end these tragedies. Also the heavy traffic through St. Johns would be avoided. We are hopeful it would be unnecessary to widen the present road under such conditions.

Further good.

Cities and villages get a 13% increase in money for streets. Most of them in our area need it. Counties also get an increase, but a lesser one. Gratiot would get a 9.7% increase amounting to $120,000. For Clinton it would be 14% and $165,000. No one driving rural roads would argue against this.

Now the bad. First, a two cents increase in gas tax. No one likes a tax increase.

Second, two changes designed primarily for urban areas and therefore not popular with most of us rural types.

One half of one cent of the new tax would go for urban mass transit -- the first break in the long tradition of using gas money only for roads.

Also 10% of the county money is set aside for an urban fund. Since the 88th District would get none of this, it must be rated a "bad" factor.

In total, I'm not certain how the good and bad add up. I don't think it would be any disaster if the total package fails. But it would be a disaster if the package passed and lost some of the good points, for instance, US-27. So I'm as apprehensive as the public; the baby has the hammer in his hand.

Dear Editor,
As school bus drivers, we would like to "thank" and "congratulate" the employees of the Clinton County Road Commission, for the excellent job they have been doing.

We feel the care of the County Roads has been greatly improved from the past few years.

Although the responsibility of a bus driver is great, the Clinton County Road Commission has made it easier to bear this winter.

The City of St. Johns also is doing a fine job on the city streets.

Many Thanks,
St. Johns Public School Bus Drivers

Washington Reports

Drugs attacked

U.S. Rep. Garry Brown

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The House moved last week to stem the nation's drug abuse problem, voting 380-0 to approve a bill authorizing $411 million over three years for an all-out attack on drug addiction.

The measure would tie together the scattered federal anti-drug programs under the direction of a new Special Action Office for Drug Abuse Prevention in the White House.

The House also voted last week to further move the nation along the road toward greater reliance on multilateral rather than bilateral economic aid to developing nations.

Passage of three bills which were studied and drafted by a Subcommittee of the Banking and Currency Committee on which I serve, will authorize $1.96 billion over the next three years for multilateral economic aid.

The bills authorize $960 million in three annual installments to the World Bank's International Development Association, $900 million over two years to the Inter-American Development Bank and $100 million over two years to the Asian Development Bank.

These funds constitute the U.S. contribution to banks each of which is financed by a number of countries to make soft loans at low interest with long repayment terms to encourage economic development in poorer nations.

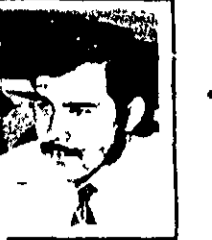

The heart of the President's proposal is a plan to involve private enterprise and lending institutions in rural development programs.

A new credit fund would provide loans, loan insurance and loan guarantees to the states for use in assisting development.

Credit would be made available through the Farmers Home Administration for up to 80 per cent of the cost of establishing or improving businesses that stimulate growth in rural areas.

Positive step against crime

By TIM YOUNKMAN

It is no secret to Clinton County residents that crime, in general, is increasing by alarming proportions throughout the state and nation.

While most of Clinton County's land area is rural-oriented, half of the county's population lives in area adjacent to Metropolitan Lansing and has become what sociologists call a bedroom community—people reside in the area, but depend on the big city for work, recreation and retail purchasing.

Under these circumstances, southern Clinton residents spend a good deal of time in the metropolitan area where the crime-rate is soaring.

The Tri-County Planning Commission has suggested various means to cope with the problems of the metropolitan area, including a three-county police force—and short of that, improving communication among police and fire departments. They have expressed the need to spend huge amounts of money to expand police manpower to apprehend offenders.

That whole problem, however, leads into the growing concern of court caseloads and the expediency of dispensing justice. Court dockets are backed up and increased ability to apprehend offenders will mean further burdens on the courts. Although swift apprehension of criminals is to be lauded, the focus should be placed on crime prevention, rather than action after the crime.

Wayne State University recently completed a pilot project that has caused the crime rate to nose dive drastically. WSU officials installed 95 emergency telephones throughout the university's inner city campuses last spring.

Figures, released last week, show that violent crime dropped 45.3 per cent in the campus area for the six months from July through December, 1971. That was compared to the crime rate of the same time period in 1970.

All types of crime against the person decreased except unarmed robbery, which remained constant at 113 in each six-month period.

A remarkable 63.3 per cent reduction was recorded in armed robbery and a 62.5 decrease in larceny from a person.

The phones, constituting WSU's Safety Sentry System, are placed strategically throughout the main campus and the Medical School campus so that no one is more than 100 yards from a safety sentry point.

Each is marked with an overhanging incandescent blue mercury vapor beacon for easy visibility—particularly at night—and the police department number is printed on each box.

The phone system, which helps in speeding up apprehension of criminals, has greater psychological effect on would-be offenders that increased manpower of police forces, according to the university's safety director William E. McDaniell.

Offenders know that there is a greater chance of being caught—and a better chance at being convicted. Bystanders, who would normally ignore a crime in progress, could step to the phone and have police on the spot within a minute. That cuts down the odds for a criminal's escape—and he knows it.

The system should be studied seriously by local officials to determine its value here. It certainly seems a step in a positive direction—something that can prevent crimes from taking place, easing the burden on the police, the courts and the public-at-large.

"If It Fitz . . ."

I wish I knew

Editor, Lapeer County Press

By Jim Fitzgerald

Why does he do it? What kind of a man is he? Where did he get that name?

The Detroit Free Press did it to me. They published a photo of a man eating his lunch on the edge of the Detroit river in a freezing drizzle. He eats there all the time, sandwiches out of a brown bag, sitting on a floating dock, no matter what the weather.

His name is Cloud Frost Nickelweed. But there was nothing more.

For thousands of newspaper readers, it was as though Cloud Frost Nickelweed existed only that 1 murky morning in January, and then disappeared forever. And apparently no one cares.

How can anyone know only that much about Cloud Frost Nickelweed and not want to know more?

Right now I am looking at Nickelweed's photo. He has a full beard and hair long in back. His clothes are anonymous. He could be a bum who eats outside because he has no home. Or he could be an executive who has tired of martini lunches and undressed waitresses.

Nickelweed wasn't actually eating when the photographer snapped. His large bag is open beside him and he is absent-mindedly peeling an orange. He is staring straight out over the river. On his right, 2 large streamers are approaching. But he does not turn to look at them. He has seen ships before.

Nickelweed is thinking. Is he thinking about the family he doesn't have anymore? Is he thinking about the family he'll see that evening?

Is he simply thinking the water is quiet and the cold rain doesn't sting too much? And even if it does sting, God sent it? Some cynics might say Nickelweed is thinking that he wishes the stupid photographer would hurry up so he could get out of the rain and into a bar.

But I disagree, and I'm the biggest cynic on the block. My cynicism crumbles before men who live in the city and sit on the riverbank. I don't know why. It just seems they know something I should know.

I don't have time for picnics even in the summer but Nickelweed goes on one every day. He goes alone on one every day. He goes alone and sits in the damp and looks at the river and doesn't see the belching boats. He doesn't see the fifth lapping at the shore. He doesn't see the slummy buildings and crowded parking lots behind him.

I don't know what he sees. I don't know how he ever got the name Cloud Frost Nickelweed. I wish I did know.

Retirement payroll told

By SEN. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

Whenever the spiraling cost of state government is mentioned, attention is seldom paid to the number of persons on the rolls of state retirement systems or the total payroll.

The State Department of Administration has just released a report of its varied activities for the past year, and its section on state retirement systems makes interesting reading.

For instance, did you know that last year there were more than 32,700 persons on retirement with total payrolls exceeding $65.8 million?

This includes 21,571 public school employees; 7,893 state employees; 3,228 municipal employees; 41 probate judges and 53 other judges of all types.

As might be expected, retirement payrolls for public school employees lead all the rest with almost $48 million, although this group finished third in average annual payments with $2,318.

The state's 53 retired non-probate judges (from Supreme Court on down) are in a class by themselves with average annual payments of $6,890, although the total payroll is only $365,653 because of the limited number of supernumerated judges.

The lowest total payroll went to the 41 probate judges -- $140,323 -- although their $3,422 apiece was second in average annual payment.

The state employees averaged $1,792 apiece for fourth place, while their total payroll of $13.4 million was second.

Municipal employees on retirement received the lowest average -- $1,287 -- but their total of $4 million was third on the list.

The Department of Administration estimates that there will be 35,800 retirees this fiscal year and that the total payroll will exceed $75 million -- an increase of almost $10 million over last year.

Let's turn to another subject: The alleged misuse of state cars which taxpayers often complain about.

These complaints are generally followed up and, while misuse is sometimes found, there usually are legitimate explanations for what has been observed by irate citizens.

The same annual report of the Department of Administration mentioned above contains a section of operations of the motor pool, and its thoroughness gives some idea of the close check made on state-owned vehicles.

Up to last June 30, there were 2,340 cars assigned to various state departments and agencies. The Department of Natural Resources (DNR) whose law enforcement officers and fieldmen are assigned to state cars, leads all agencies with 540. Last year, these cars were driven 9.8 million miles.

The State Senate is the only department of government which has no car assigned to it permanently. The House of Representatives has two, which were driven more than 30,000 miles last year.

The Supreme Court's seven cars were driven 103,963 miles.

Second in numbers to the DNR is the Mental Health Department with 238 cars, but the 2.9 million miles traveled by Mental Health cars is far less than the 4.8 million miles traveled by the 201 cars assigned to the state's colleges and universities.

The state's cars traveled 43.6 million miles last year at an average cost of slightly more than 7 cents a mile. There were 762 accidents -- or one for each 83,387 miles traveled. Fourteen cars were "totaled". Last year, the state purchased 816 vehicles at a cost of $1.7 million. The state's fleet is headed by 1,434 Chevrolets, with 740 Fords running a poor second.

Back to basics

By HELEN MEACH
Extension Home Economist

"Back to the Basics" is one way of saying you want simple, nourishing and good tasting food. As you search for the simple, nourishing and good, you'll want to remember the roots: beets, carrots, rutabagas, turnips and parsnips.

You know carrots best. Cooked or raw, they are a famous source of vitamin A. You should get acquainted with all of the others too. Each has its own distinct flavor, personality and color. Each goes especially well in meals featuring pork, chicken and turkey.

No matter what the personality of a vegetable, the same basic cooking principles are applied to all of them. Whether fresh, frozen, canned or dried, vegetables should be cooked to retain the maximum amount of their original flavor, color and texture, plus all of their nutrient value. Many vegetables are cooked to a mushy, characterless, nothingness by over zealous cooks.

Sometimes, in cooking, white vegetables become yellowish in color and red vegetables turn purple. Short cooking time and a little lemon juice or vinegar added to the cooking water helps to retain the clear and cherry colors.

Cooking time affects flavor too. Some of the flavor compounds in vegetables are volatile; they escape in the steam during boiling. A short cooking time also helps prevent the "strong flavors" associated with the cabbage family of broccoli, Brussels sprouts and cauliflower.

However this is the time to think root vegetables and to serve root vegetables to your family because they are our Michigan winter time staples and solid basic foods as well.

When you're looking for additional ways to add interest to February meals, check the list of food, in plentiful supply, included on the list of USDA's list for February are: prunes and prune products, canned fruit cocktail and peaches, fresh oranges, grapefruit, apples and winter pears, fresh potatoes and potato products, canned corn and split peas, and finally eggs. Supplies are large and careful shoppers should be able to find special values among these foods in February.

The perfect fabric?

By LORRAINE SPRAGUE
Extension Home Economist

It's been a long time since man started his quest for the perfect fabric. Will he ever succeed? Some people think he made a tremendous advancement when he came forth with Permanent Press fabrics. Though they may not be absolutely perfect, it's true they have made a definite contribution to the garment industry.

Permanent press fabrics are sold under a variety of trade names. Included are those fabrics which can be worn with little evidence of wrinkles, washed and worn again with little or no pressing. This wash and wear cycle can be repeated time after time and the fabrics still retain their crisp, fresh appearance.

A combination of heat and chemicals applied to yard goods or ready made produces the process we've come to know as Permanent Press.

By law, accurate labeling is required for all fabrics. The label must indicate fiber content and if the fabric is made from more than 1 fiber, the percentage of each in the blend must be identified. Yardage and garments treated with a Permanent Press finish should also contain recommended care practices.

Those special characteristics that give permanent press fabrics their wonderful features can also create some problems when sewing. For instance because the process creates a smoother and somewhat harder surface, the fabric is more resistant to cutting, to needles and pins. Because it is "permanent" it cannot be shrunk, for example, to make fitted collars lie smooth or to help ease gathered sleeve caps into the armseyes. Thus pattern selection becomes an important factor. Also the "permanent" feature makes the fabric extremely resistant to pleating, creasing and such. In ready made, with the permanent press treatment added after the garment is constructed, the pleats and creases can be "set" making this a very positive characteristic. Proper adjustment of the stitch and tension of the sewing machine is very important when sewing these fabrics.

When consumers know, understand, and accept the characteristics of permanent press such fabrics can then be considered close to being perfect.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor,

As a member of the St. Johns Public School's Music Department and chairman of last weekend's (Feb. 5 & 6) Junior High School All Star Band, I am appreciative of the accomplishments of the 207 youngsters who took part in this event.

It is amazing how well persons can perform music with only five hours rehearsal together. However, even more gratifying is the knowledge of all the efforts persons in this community put forth to welcome students from 20 different school districts.

The names of the school personnel, parents, and student workers who made this event a success are not listed here.

I do wish to thank each one of them, but more than that I hope each person who attended this concert can see and appreciate how well the community of St. Johns welcomes the chance to further the education of youngsters from throughout the State of Michigan.

An ounce of prevention

Seven dangers of alcoholism

by Jose' J. Llinas, M.D. Director of Community Mental Health for Clinton, Eaton and Ingham

Experts at the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism in Washington, point out that the common factor in all inebriation problems is the destructive effect they have on the health and welfare of the drinker, his family, friends and associates.

They suggest these symptoms as indication of serious trouble.

-Having a drink or two in order to function, or to cope with a particular problem.

There is, in the folklore of the west, the recurring of the man who has to be operated on without anesthesia. Naturally, he drinks a slug of whiskey and bites on a bullet. (Remember we said in previous articles that alcohol is a mild anesthetic).

Well, it would have been better for all of us if the dedicated physicians of the wild plains had used the bullet and forgotten about the whiskey. There is no way to face problems in a constructive manner if you are halfway sauced, but people keep trying to do it.

"Alcohol does not make you do things better, it only makes you less ashamed of doing them badly," a well known expert says.

-Consistently drinking to the point of intoxication—or being told by others that you do.

This danger signal is like a flashing red light, particularly when the individual feels that he "only drinks a little," or "has a few now and then," because this indicates that he feels persecuted and unjustly criticized, and so has another reason for stopping by the friendly neighborhood tavern before he gets home.

A variant of this cockeyed type of reasoning is to drink excessively to show everybody who is worried that you can really hold your liquor. Still another one is to accuse concerned relatives of trying to take away from you whatever little harmless fun you get out of life. Or to buy regularly a limited amount of liquor for the weekend, so that drinking is controlled to some extent by the amount one has immediately available—always making sure, however, that this amount is enough to intoxicate two wild teams of horses.

-Going to work in an obvious state of intoxication.

There is no question that people can function for long periods of time under the effects of alcoholic beverages. The nature of the compulsion to drink, however, and the tolerance which develops with increasing amounts, make it necessary that the individual drink more and more.

For a while, nobody may be the wiser, since all jobs have a certain amount of routine that the experienced individual does almost mechanically, but sooner or later (more likely sooner), the effects of drinking are apparent on job performance.

Wise supervisors know that the employee who is consistently absent on Mondays and Fridays, more likely than not, has a drinking problem. The same is true of the person who seems to get the flu more than once a month.

If somebody calls this to the attention of the alcoholic, particularly early in the game, he may be shocked for a moment. He may even stop drinking for a few days, which, of course, shows him that, as he has always maintained, he can take it or leave it alone.

Since he now is reassured that he can, indeed, control his alcohol intake, he goes back to it. He does smart things, such as drinking vodka, because hopefully it does not give an alcoholic breath—a clear example of the power of wishful thinking.

Or he may show what Dr. Richard Bates in Lansing calls "the colored tongue syndrome." That is, if the patient opens his mouth, you may see a red or a green tongue—the result of mints and similar products, used with the firm illusion that they will disguise the odor of alcohol.

These little tricks and games are of course to no avail. Job performance suffers, and the condition becomes evident to anybody who comes in contact with the person.

-Driving under the influence.

We use the legal term here because anybody who consistently drinks and drives will in time run afoul of the law, if he does not destroy himself or someone else before that happens. The statistics about the relationship between excessive drinking and the highway accident rate are too well known to repeat them here.

-Sustaining a bodily injury which requires medical care while intoxicated.

If you visit an alcoholic unit in a general hospital, you will see not only your share of black eyes and even broken bones, but more commonly all the minor contusions and scrapes produced by the person wildly thrashing about and hitting nearly everything in sight with the most unusual parts of his body.

Occasionally, one reads about a middle-aged lady who accidentally fell down the stairs and broke her neck, and the index of suspicion for chronic undetected alcoholism goes up.

-Coming into conflict with the law as a result of drinking.

"Drunk and disorderly," the police blotter reflects in terse, legal prose. These are people who fight, become involved in bar and neighborhood brawls, and occasionally, commit a petty or serious crime in search of resources to buy liquor.

-Doing something while inebriated that back in a sober state you tell yourself you will never do again.

This is usually one of the elements (but only one) of what in the philosophy of Alcoholic Anonymous is called "hitting bottom." Experience shows that a promise of reform by a person with a drinking problem aren't worth the effort spent in enunciating them.

The reason this is such a danger signal is what we mentioned before; the more remorseful and contrite the alcoholic feels, the more feelings of guilt and worthlessness he is storing up, as he blindly goes, slowly but surely, into his next binge.

THE OUNCE OF PREVENTION

Anyone of the above signs is worrisome; two of them together a strong indication; if three or more are present, the diagnosis of alcoholism is probably a certainty. If you want to be of service to somebody who is going down this perilous road, do not advise, do not criticize, do not censure. If you can, in a consistent, friendly, firm manner, help him see the medical facts as they are.

If he lives in this area, assure him that there is help available. Have him call us.
