Village elections scheduled Monday

Village elections in Clinton County are slated for next Monday, March 11. Only two—Elsie and Hubbardston—have special proposals on the ballots, in addition to the contests for officers and trustees.

Elsie voters will be asked to okay general obligation bonds for $82,000 to acquire an iron removal treatment plant and to run water mains from the wells to the plant. The second proposal is to build a public works building which would be paid for by issuing $10,000 worth of general obligation bonds.

Only property owners can vote on the proposals. Hubbardston is asking the voters to pass an increase in the millage from 7.7 mills to 15.4 mills for one year for the village use.

Village election lineups are as follows:

ELSIE—There is no Democrat slate of candidates in Elsie for village offices. Incumbents are Durwood Conklin, president; Mrs Alice Blunt, clerk; Mrs Orpha Clement, treasurer; and Stanley Loznak, assessor. Running for the three trustee positions are Donald Lidle and incumbents Joe Bartek and Pat Foran.

HUBBARDSTON—The Citizens' ticket has no opposition in Hubbardston. Albert Cunningham is the candidate for president; Virgil Tait, clerk; Manuel Cusack, treasurer; and James R. McGinn, assessor. Joseph Burns, Robert Barker and Mark Schmitt are running for the three trustee positions.

FOWLER—The Republican candidates for village offices are unopposed: Martin Edinger, president; Mark Fox, clerk; John Rademacher, treasurer and Earl Frechen, assessor. Village trustees on the Republican ticket are all incumbents Dr W. W. Jordon, John Klein and Robert Pettit. Opposing them for the two year terms are Democrats Carl J. Wohlfert and Richard French.

The city commission announced Monday night a list of curtailments in city-offered services for St. Johns for the next two years as an alternative to a projected $150,000 deficit by the end of the 1968-69 fiscal year.

The curtailments include closing of the city park and swimming pool, reduction in the Department of Public Works force, bypassing of the softening process at the water plant and numerous other services.

Mayor Charles Coletta said the administrative orders for the curtailments could be expected to save approximately $86,000 in a year's time. "Unfortunately," he said, "that's just the start. Other curtailments will be necessary. The mandate is we run the city with the money we've got."

THE MONEY THE city has is the problem. Both the city income tax and an alternative 15-mill charter limitation were soundly defeated by voters by about 3-1 Feb. 20, seriously affecting the city's money-raising capability. City Manager Ken Greer, who has been working on the projected budget for 1968-69 for several weeks and in several informal meetings with the commission, said the 10 mills which the city can presently levy would bring in about $193,500 for general operations next year, based on the $19,350,000 in equalized valuation. The two-mill levy for garbage service would produce about $38,700. Only about $45,000 will be needed under the three-mill water improvement bond issue because of a slight carry-over from last year.

Faced with only so much income, the commission announced these curtailments: "Part-time student co-op program help in the city offices have been dismissed. "The city park will be closed to traffic because of necessary road repairs and tree removal in the park which constitute safety hazards. Coletta said there is no money to do the work. "The summer recreation program at the park will be closed down, including the swimming pool. "The city park zoo will be closed and the animals there either returned to their donors or given to another such zoo. "The Department of Public Works staff has been reduced and will be maintained at a reduced level. Three men have already received their two-week's notice. "The municipal building janitor will be utilized at three city-owned buildings, rather than one. The janitor at the other buildings will be laid off. "The city park custodian will be transferred for the majority of the time to the DPW and will spend only a minimal amount of time in maintenance work at the park. "There will be no sidewalk installation projects this summer where general fund monies are involved. Special assessments for sidewalks that are put in will be paid in advance of the work so that money for it will be available.

THERE WILL BE NO continuation of a tree-removal program within the city. Last year several hundred dead elm trees were removed under contract. "There will be no sidewalk snow plowing. "There will be no mosquito control measures used this spring and summer. "Street sweeping will be limited, primarily because the sweeper is on its "last legs" and repairs would cost an estimated $3,000 to $4,000. City Manager Greer said the unit would attempt a sweeping of all city streets at least once, and from then on until only the worst streets would be swept.

"There will be no dust control measures taken this summer on the gravelled streets within the city. "There will be no change in the garbage and rubbish pickup service, but the last-Friday-of-every-month brush pickup by city crews will be discontinued. "Open house of the city dump north of town will be reduced to 2 1/2 days. It will be open from 8-4 on Monday and Thursday and from 8 a.m. to noon on Saturday. (City commissioners labeled as untrue and highly illegal a rumor going around that the city would put the two-mill garbage and rubbish levy into the general fund and then assess customers for the garbage service. They pointed out the law provides for the two-mill tax to be used strictly for garbage.)

"The city will discontinue Christmas lighting in the downtown area, meaning their crews will no longer be able to put up the lights and take them down. There will also be no chance for increasing voltage available on the poles for Christmas lighting, should the Chamber of Commerce continue the program anyway. "As soon as the large case-load permits, the position of associate municipal judge will be eliminated. "A special assessments for special projects will be levied

Coletta declined to name the nine members of the financial study committee at this time in an attempt to keep outside pressure off the volunteers until the study is completed. (Story continued on Page 3-A)

SECOND BIG BARN DESTROYED BY FIRE IN ONE WEEK LAST-THURSDAY

St. Johns firemen Terry Kentfield and Ray Kentfield hose down a corn crib adjacent to the large barn owned by Jim Moriarty which burned to the ground last Thursday afternoon west of St. Johns. Millage in focus— Part I

Soggy financial status of schools forces 12.8 mills

By LOWELL G. RINKER, Editor

St. Johns school personnel and a growing number of citizens of the district are hoping voters will solve a big problem for the district March 23 when they go to the polls for a millage election.

The problem is really a combination of questions: Will the schools be able to open in the fall? Will the schools know that answer in time to keep the teaching staff they have now? Will it be necessary to cut the existing educational program in order to lower necessary millage to win necessary votes at a subsequent election should the first one fail?

The school board is asking for voter approval March 23 for 12.8 mills in extra voted tax for one year in order to just maintain the type of program they've been offering in the past few years and to put the new rural elementary schools into operation. That would bring the school district tax rate up to 28 mills for operations and debt retirement, (compared to 19.7 this year). Seven of those mills were voted two years ago for the building program. That would leave 21 mills for operations next year, if the millage issue passes.

THE 21 MILLS WOULD BE 8.3 mills more than was levied last year for operations. A 4.5-mill levy for operations expired in December. The school board says this must be renewed and the extra 8.3 mills added, as recommended by a 120-member citizens' committee. The 8.3 mills plus 4.5 mills makes the 12.8 mills figure that will appear on the ballot.

Without the 12.8 mills, the schools would be left with only 8.2 mills which the county allocation board might give to the schools. This is the figure the allocation board allowed last year, and it probably will be somewhat the same this year. With only 8.2 mills, the school would not qualify for any state aid at all (it amounted to about $900,000 in 1967-68). Without it, the schools would have income of about $360,000 based on the 8.2 mills allocated. The total budget next year is expected to be around $2 million, and with only a $360,000 income the schools would not be able to operate.

"This is not a threat, this is fact," board President Ray Farr told the citizens committee Feb. 22.

The fact has the school board worried, because the 12.8 mills figure that will appear on the ballot is a formidable one, even though it means an increase of only 8.3 mills over what taxpayers paid last year. The citizens committee gave some consideration to cutting the millage figure to make it more palatable to voters, but the majority of the members voted to ask for 12.8 mills rather than cut some of the program now being offered.

"This 12.8 figure is the bare minimum of what is needed to operate our program," Supt. Earl Lancaster says. "There is no padding here. If the board should be criticized for anything, it should be for being too conservative for too long in what we have asked for and what we have offered."

The school board hasn't indicated what might be asked in a second election, should this one fail to win voter approval of 12.8 mills. There would be time for two more elections to be held before school opening time, but each delay would be costly in teacher personnel. "We have to let teachers know by the end of March what their status is," Lancaster pointed out. "What do we say if we don't approve the millage? Teachers will leave. Suppose a second vote is necessary about June 10, and it's defeated again. More teachers will leave."

AS ANXIOUS AS THEY ARE for the millage issue to pass, the board and citizens committee are not anxious to cut any part of the current program. Even members of the citizens committee who wanted to go for a millage figure less than 12.8 had no suggestion as to what to cut. The school board has vowed not to deficit budget again (the accumulated deficit over the past two school years will be close to $100,000), so any cut in the millage figure would be accompanied by a cut in the educational program.

Possible eliminations discussed and then rejected by the citizens committee Feb. 22 included music, art, physical education, all extra-curricular activities in high school, putting four elementary grades on half-day sessions and eliminating all transportation.

Even though the board wants to keep the same program, essentially, that was offered this year, there will be additional expenses to make it go next year.

Personnel costs are expected to go up about $260,000. This includes $70,000 in additional personnel for the new elementary schools — $20,000 for two principals, $20,000 for four janitors, $19,500 for art, music and physical education teachers and $11,400 for five teacher aides.

Salary talks between the St. Johns Education Assn. and the school board haven't started yet, but the school board is anticipating the need of an extra $172,500 for teacher salaries. This includes putting 46 teachers in the system in their proper place on the salary schedule, plus negotiated increases for 145 teachers in the system and the addition of several teachers to meet growing enrollments.

Some $16,000 in salary increases for other school personnel — administrators, janitors, secretaries, principals, etc. — is also anticipated.

Supervisors ask formal rules on Smith Hall

The Clinton County Board of Supervisors wants its agricultural committee to inaugurate some meetings with a larger committee overseeing the use of Smith Hall so that some definite guidelines can be worked out for the use of that building.

Supervisor Dorrill Shinabery of Greenbush Township brought the question up Monday, referring to a recent controversy concerning the use of the hall for a dance planned as a money-making activity by a Lansing man.

The hall was recently rented to Jim Joseph of Lansing for an appearance by the band, "The Ones." Joseph received a dance license from the city of St. Johns, but there was opposition voiced at the county level. The dance went on, but its sponsorship and proceeds were given to the Clinton County 4-H Saddle Club, and the money will be applied toward a horse barn for the fairgrounds.

Shinabery said Monday he thought the committee governing the use of the hall and its clean-up should meet more frequently and particularly whenever anything controversial comes up. He said guidelines should be drawn up pertaining to charges, uses and clean-up.

He said it was his impression the hall was not to be used for private, money-making groups and that such dances as were originally proposed several weeks ago were forbidden. Other members of the agricultural committee of the board said they recalled that such dances were formally forbidden last year.

"IF THERE'S GOING to be any action to correct this situation, it's going to have to be from this board," Shinabery said.

Honorary Chairman John Settingington of Essex Township referred the matter to the agricultural committee and also appointed Chairman Shinabery to meet with the committee.

The board opened bids late in the afternoon for new cars for the sheriff's department and a van for use by the county engineer and county drain commissioner. No decision was made, but the matter was turned over to the building and grounds committee with power to act.

Several bids were received. Bill O'Shaughnessey Chevrolet of DeWitt bid $4,921.23 net after trade-in for three autos and $1,953.18 for the van. Stan Cowan Mercury of St. Johns bid $6,575 net for four autos. Egan/Ford Sales Inc. of St. Johns bid $6,984 net for four autos and $2,264.23 for a 1969 van. Hettler Motor Sales of St. Johns bid $7,500 net for four 1968 Plymouths and $2,295 for a Dodge van.

A motion by DeWitt Township Supervisor Reginald Nelson to honor a board commitment of $22,800 last April to the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission was tabled by the board. Nelson said the Tri-County operating fund from the three counties is figured on a proportionate basis, and if Clinton County does not meet its share, then the other counties' shares will be reduced proportionately.

The Clinton County Board figured $22,800 for Tri-County last April in their tentative budget, but they had to reduce it to $16,900 when they adopted their final budget in September.

Also tabled Monday was the annual report of the friend of the court. The board accepted annual reports from Drain Commissioner Dale Chapman and Engineer Gerald Wilcox.

Referred to the appropriations and finance committee were a request for $2,200 as the county share for the extra 4-H youth agent in the three-county Extension area, and a billing for $760 for full-time day care for several Clinton County students at the Woodhaven Center for the mentally retarded.

The county board approved payment to the Lansing Mental Health Board of $4,500 still owed on an appropriation of $9,000.

Essex Township Supervisor John Settingington (right) listens closely from his chair as honorary chairman of the Clinton County Board of Supervisors Monday as Maurice Gove of Bingham rises to make a comment. At center is Earl Barks of Olive. Settingington has been Essex supervisor 36 years.

St. Johns' new city attorney, William Kemper, was formally seated on the board of supervisors Monday and will assume all committee assignments of his predecessor, Harold Reed. Kemper will be on the board's legislative and reapportionment committee and the rules, resolutions and rejected tax committee.

Essex Supervisor Settingington honored

"I'm having the time of my life right now."

That's how Essex Township Supervisor John Settingington reacted twice Monday, once during the morning session of the county board of supervisors and again at noon dinner in his honor at the Masonic Temple.

The 85-year-old supervisor was lauded for his 36 years of service as supervisor of Essex Township. He's still on the board and going strong. Settingington, who lives in Maple Rapids, was honorary board chairman Monday and presided at the 5 1/2-hour board meeting.

Monday was formerly proclaimed John Settingington Day by county board Chairman Derrill Shinabery.

Over 100 persons gathered at the Masonic Temple Monday noon for the dinner in his honor. The audience included supervisors, past supervisors, county employees, Essex Township officials and friends.

Almond Cressman, former Olive supervisor, presented Settingington with a picture of the board taken several years ago as a memento. Ink White, former editor and publisher of the Clinton County News, spoke concerning Settingington's service and then presented him with a certificate of commendation in honor of his 36 years of service.

Settingington spoke briefly, reminiscing a bit and introducing some of the supervisors who served on the board with him in the first years of his service.

Lansing man, Mother die in rural collision

Two Lansing residents died as a result of a two-car collision Sunday morning at the rural intersection of Forest Hill and Church Roads in Riley Township.

Mrs Lovina Long Hopkins, 76, of 1443 1/2 Knollwood, Lansing, died in the crash, and her son, Lawrence H. Dalley, 54, of Lansing, died Tuesday at 10:17 a.m. at Clinton Memorial Hospital.

Their deaths were the fifth and sixth on Clinton County roads in 1968. Only two fatalities had occurred at this time last year, with the third not being recorded until May 8, 1967.

Mrs Hopkins was a passenger in a automobile driven by her son, Dalley, Mrs Dorothy M. Speerbrecker, 38, of 5437 W. Pratt Road, DeWitt, was the driver of the other car, and she was admitted to Sparrow Hospital in critical condition. Four of her children—Joseph, 7, Ruth, 9, David, 14, and Paul, 16, were taken to Clinton Memorial for hospitalization, and Steven, 10, was released Sunday night following treatment.

Mrs Speerbrecker was reported still in "serious" condition at Sparrow Hospital Tuesday morning. The Speerbrecker children were all in "good" condition at the hospital here.

The accident occurred at a gravel-road intersection where there was unrestricted visibility to both drivers. There were no traffic control signs at the intersection. The Speerbrecker car was traveling west on Church Road and the Dalley auto was northbound on Forest Hill. The crash occurred about 9 a.m.

Funeral services were to be held Wednesday afternoon at the Gorsline-Runciman Funeral Home in Lansing for Mrs Hopkins, with burial in Deepdale Memorial Park. Mr Dalley's body was removed to the same funeral home, where funeral services are pending.

Soggy finances force 12.8 mills

is expected to cost another $25,000 over this year, operation of the school buildings will probably cost an extra $10,000 and fixed charges will go up about $2,500.

On top of this, even, is $70,000 to equalize the $70,000 deficit which the schools are operating at this year.

THE TOTAL EXTRA AMOUNT NEEDED for operations next year — if there is to be a balanced budget — is $367,500. Since one mill of tax on the expected $44,000,000 state equalized valuation in the district would bring in $44,000, the school board figures it will need the extra 8.3 mills to operate next year. That and the 4.5 mills which expires this year puts the total millage needed at 12.8.

This is not out of easy reach for citizens of the district, school officials contend. They point to nearby districts of com-

A public meeting is scheduled for tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m., at the East Essex School for discussion of the school financial problem. School board members will be on hand. The meeting is primarily for East Essex area residents but is open to citizens from all over the district.

parative size, and St. Johns ranks low in millage being levied. Fourteen districts were compared, including Haslett, Holt, DeWitt, Waverly, Ovid-Elsie, Charlotte, Bath, Alma, Fowler, Hastings, Greenville, Grand Ledge, St. Johns and Pewamo-Westphalia.

Among those 14, St. Johns ranked 13th this year in millage levied — 19.7 for all purposes — with only Pewamo-Westphalia being lower. Haslett was at the top at 36.96 mills, DeWitt is levying 27.7, Ovid-Elsie 25.2, Bath 24.2 and Fowler 22.7. Most of these districts also anticipate increases in millage next year, and Pewamo-Westphalia in December voted a 10-mill levy to replace their expired three-mill extra levy for operations.

St. Johns' low ranking in the millage table, while enviable from the taxpayer's financial standpoint, is proving costly from the education standpoint. School officials admit it's difficult to assess the quality of education within any school district, but one criterion is cost of education per child. St. Johns has been consistently low, but for the past three years the gap between the district average and the state average cost of education per child has been widening.

For instance, in 1964-65, St. Johns spent $396 per child, while the state average was $419. In 1965-66 the district cost per child climbed 3.5 per cent to $410 while the state average went up 11.3 per cent to $467. In 1966-67 the district average cost climbed 6.3 per cent to $436, while the state climbed 14.9 per cent to $536.

According to the state average, St. Johns is spending $100 less per student on education than what it perhaps should. The time has come, the board says, when the district cannot give an average education for below-average costs.

Tied in to the difference between state average and St. Johns district average is comparison of the sources of school income. "It has been assumed for several years that state and local revenue (for schools) should be equal," Lancaster said. "This is not true in our district." The local percentage of school support has been dropping over the past three years, while state support has been rising. Unless there is more local support, Lancaster said, there won't be enough total funds to operate even the same type of program next year.

LOCAL SOURCES OF REVENUE ACCOUNTED for 39.3 per cent of the total revenue picture in 1965-66, while state sources contributed 54.6 per cent. In 1966-67, the local share dropped to 37.6 and the state share went up to 57.9. In 1967-68 the local share of support was only 33 per cent, while state sources amounted to 59.3 per cent.

St. Johns' condition this school year, while financially poorer, is about the same as in 1966 when computers working for the State Board of Education came up with some interesting figures concerning the St. Johns School District.

*St. Johns ranked 407th out of 531 high school districts in amount of local support.

*St. Johns ranked 378th in general fund expenditures per child for instruction ($308.44).

*St. Johns ranked 476th out of 531 in total general fund expenditures per child ($450.88). Eighty-nine per cent of the school districts were spending more per child than St. Johns was.

Meanwhile the local financial picture became soggy. Total revenue in 1965-66 amounted to $1,354,212, while budgetary expenditures hit $1,367,633 — a slight deficit. In 1966-67 revenue climbed 9.2 per cent to $1,478,308, but expenditures went up 10.7 per cent to $1,513,499; that was roughly a $30,000 deficit. This current year is even worse: anticipated revenues will be about $1,652,686, up 11.6 per cent over last year, while expenditures by the time June 30 rolls around will be about $1,727,565 — up 14.1 per cent. The difference is about $70,000 for one year.

FR. WILLIAM HANKERD ... crusade chairman

Both educational and fund-raising campaigns for the 1968 Cancer Crusade are planned in Clinton County in April, the county's crusade chairman announced last week.

He's Rev William Hankerd, pastor of St. Joseph Catholic Church in St. Johns. The crusade will begin April 1, with emphasis centered on cancer's seven warning signals.

"Once again, April has been set aside by Congress as Cancer Control Month, and President Johnson is expected to make the period officially Cancer Control Month by proclamation," he said.

The Clinton Crusade will focus attention on the fact that too many people are not familiar with just which early signs could indicate cancer.

Father Hankerd said surveys show that 69 per cent of those sampled could not identify a single warning sign.

He said this compared with 60 per cent in a 1955 poll and 51 per cent in a 1948 poll conducted by the American Cancer Society.

"A nine point gain in awareness is most welcome. But, it is a slow step forward over an 11-year period. That's why the Cancer Society is stressing the value of knowing these signals," he said.

Included in this year's crusade will be national distribution of 40,000,000 leaflets listing the seven signals of cancer.

"Every family in Clinton County will receive this leaflet and most of them will be distributed in person by Cancer Society volunteer workers during April," Father Hankerd said.

He itemized the seven warning signals of cancer as: unusual bleeding or discharge; a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere; a sore that does not heal; change in bowel or bladder habits; hoarseness or cough; indigestion or difficulty in swallowing; and any change in a wart or mole.

Father Hankerd said this year's crusade will bear the slogan, "It makes sense to know to know the seven warning signals of cancer. And, it makes sense to give to the American Cancer Society."

The campaign will actually be kicked off for workers here with a division crusade kick-off program March 30 at the Jack Tar Hotel in Lansing.

100 per cent against the benefitting property owners.

*All work hours for city personnel will be reduced to 40 hours.

*St. Johns will not participate this year in the mayor exchange during Michigan Week. Mayor Coletta was scheduled to trade jobs for the day with the mayor of St. Ignace.

*WATER processing will be altered by by-passing the softening process, saving about $16,000 in chemicals. Water will continue to be filtered, however.

Mayor Coletta said the commission isn't happy about having to make the curtailments, but they have no choice. And there are other curtailments to efficient operation which will have to be made.

"And we are planning nothing in the budget for capital improvements. Two police cars have reached 'retirement' mileage already, and one isn't expected to last much beyond the summer. The street sweeper, road grader and front-end loader owned by the city should all be replaced within five years, Greer said. The fire department several weeks ago requested a study of possibly buying a new firetruck, but that's "out" for at least two years.

The city's full-time workforce —not including the library personnel—will be cut from 33 to 29 persons as a result of the belt-tightening. That number will include four in the water department, two at the sewage plant, 10 in the police department, one at the park and DPW, two at the DPW and water plant, five in the administrative offices (city manager, city clerk, accountant and two office girls), and five in the DPW.

Almost worse than the next fiscal year—when most of these curtailments will go into effect—is this fiscal year. Now the city expects to wind up with a deficit of $30,000 on top of the $90,000 which they have borrowed in anticipation of taxes next year.

"We have always been prompt in paying our bills," City Manager Greer said, "but it looks like we might be a little slow those last few weeks (of this fiscal year, which ends June 30)."

Concerning the closing of the swimming pool at the city park this summer, Mayor Coletta pointed out that some difficulties were experienced last summer in the filtering of water at the pool, and it would take an estimated $10,000 just to get the equipment into operating order to open it up for swimming.

It takes about $18,000 to operate the pool, Greer pointed out. Last year an attempt was made to increase the revenue by charging higher admission prices, but the effort didn't meet with much success because there was a related drop in use of the pool.

NFO reports holding status

Farmers at the weekly Clinton County NFO meeting last week were brought up to date on the holding action. The NFO slogan, "No price, no production," is to remind farmers the market prices around the state are low and urge them to cooperate with the NFO.

Ditmer to seek 87th House seat

Robert D. Ditmer, president and general manager of the Ditmer Broadcasting Co. which operates radio station WREJ in St. Johns and who lives at 1008 Hampshire Drive, St. Johns, Monday announced his candidacy for the seat in the State House of Representatives being vacated by Blair G. Woodman of Owosso.

He is the first announced candidate from Clinton County. Ditmer stated that he has been seriously considering entering the 87th House district race since the public announcement by Woodman that he would not seek another term in office. After consulting with several people, from many phases of business, industry, education, local government and religious leaders, he was encouraged to devote the coming weeks prior to the primary election in discussing state, county, township, and local issues with the voters of the district in his campaign for the nomination, as a Republican.

Ditmer, who is 39, said he believes he is qualified by being old enough to realize the trend of government spending and continuous burden of taxation upon the citizens over the past 25 years, and if nominated and elected, young enough to provide many years of devotion to correct and find a solution to these pressing problems.

Johnson closes sawmill, joins Buskirk lumber

Richard C. Johnson announced this week that he is closing the Johnson sawmill and has joined the Buskirk Lumber Company of Sandusky, Mich. as an agent and timber buyer.

Johnson first began operating a large portable mill in 1947 doing custom sawing for farmers in the area. In the mid '50's, he changed his operation from custom sawing to buying timber and producing high quality hardwood lumber for bowling alleys and furniture.

With Buskirk Lumber, Johnson will continue to serve this area as a timber buyer and agent. The Buskirk Lumber Company is equipped with twin band head-rigs and modern equipment throughout the mill for production of high quality hardwood lumber suitable for furniture and associated products.

Johnson and his wife Helen will continue to reside at their present address, 1520 S. Francis Road. Johnson will also maintain his office at this address.

A cut in federal spending is possible, stated Gary Brown, U.S. Representative from the third district of Michigan. In addressing a gathering of more than 350 at the annual Clinton County Lincoln Day dinner sponsored by the Clinton County GOP.

In speaking of the Republican effort in Washington Brown stated, "Our original and continuing position was and is that federal expenditures should be reduced by several billion dollars in this fiscal year, rather than an increase as the president has suggested. We know it can be done, if the administration truly wishes it."

REP. GARY BROWN

"In the course of these de-home and abroad, if permitted to do so."

Brown went on to say that the Republican effort has been encouragingly successful in this Congress, "to transfer some measure of responsibility and control of the people's affairs from Washington to our states and communities. We are greatly enheartened by our success, even though we are a minority, in shifting a sizeable number of the so-called great society's programs away from the federal bureaucracies and their categorical grants to our state and local officials through the Republican system of block grants. These make it possible for those at home, who know the problems best, to solve them with the greatest speed and effect."

"I'm confident," Brown stated, that the Republicans made a comeback in 1966 because they were the party of new direction, new ideas, new vigor and the party of concern for the individual. In the months ahead, as in the past, the Republicans will as surely as will our enemies at continue to adhere to these policies and principles, convinced that the election of 1966 just gave us this mandate, confident that the elections of 1968 will confirm it."

General chairman for the Lincoln Day dinner was Andrew Cobb, with Ink White handling the publicity, Mrs E. O. Prince the program and Bernard Cain tickets.

Invocation was by Rev Harold Homer and toastmaster for the evening, Roland Duguay. Entertainment was by the Fowler Four.

Fluoride program

enrollment due March 30

Parents who wish to have their children enrolled in this summer's topical fluoride program have until March 30 to act, according to Mrs Luella Canfield, R.N.

All 3 or 4 year-old preschoolers, second, fifth, or eighth graders are eligible for the program providing they have been registered prior to the deadline. Parents who wish to enroll their children but who have not received the registration cards may contact the Health Department, Mrs Canfield said. The fee is $4 for one child, $7 for two, and $2 for each additional child.

The procedure consists of four visits to local schools. The child's teeth are cleaned on the first visit and a fluoride application given. The fluoride application only is then repeated during the three succeeding visits. This technique has been shown to reduce tooth decay by about 40 per cent, compared with the 65 per cent reduction obtained with fluoridated water, Mrs Canfield said.

In addition to providing protection against decay, the program offers a valuable dental experience for children with no discomfort. Dental health education by the clinic personnel, including instruction in the proper method of brushing teeth, also is an important part of the program, according to Mrs Canfield.

Michigan, which pioneered in the field of topical fluoride application in 1949, leads the nation in the number of community programs in operation and in children treated. In addition to the program in Clinton County, more than 40,000 children will receive applications in more than 200 clinics scattered throughout the state.

The state-wide program is supervised by the dental division of the Michigan Department of Health, which assists local groups in the organization stage, recruits and trains dental and dental hygiene students, provides the fluoride solution, and oversees the program operation through periodic visits to the various clinics by staff dentists.

New freshmen set to register

Next Wednesday, March 13, has been scheduled as pre-enrollment day for St. Johns School District students in the rural eighth grades who will be entering high school as freshmen next year.

The prospective freshmen should plan to ride the bus that comes nearest their home, school officials said. They should bring a sack lunch, because pre-enrollment activities will be held all day.

Students will be given some standardized tests, have tours of the building, attend programs given by the vocal and instrumental music departments and be enrolled in classes for next year. Varsity football Coach Bill Smiley will talk with boys planning to participate in freshmen football.

Students are reminded to be ready and waiting for the buses. At the conclusion of the pre-enrollment program students will ride the same bus home that they rode to school.

Bath Township studies planned development

BATH—The Township Planning Commission is studying a planned - community - development program for Bath township. The program was outlined at a recent commission meeting by C. A. Kraeger of Kraeger Development Co. of Southfield.

Kraeger proposed to integrate four types of dwelling units, single-family, two-family, townhouses and mobile homes, architecturally. Recreational areas, a golf course and pond would serve as buffers between the 1,134 dwelling units which would house about 4,000 persons.

A special committee was appointed by Walter Kyes, commission chairman, to work with Kraeger and Bill Bowden, Tri-County Regional Planning commission member. Committee members are William Morgan, Kenneth Munson, Harold Burnett and Clinton Fitch.

The commission denied the request of Floyd Wells of 156-91 Center to rezone his property from agricultural to industrial so he could begin auto salvage operations. They also denied Abbot Nelson's request that six lots in Nelson Subdivision No. 1 be rezoned to multiple dwellings.

Fowler winds up near-perfect year

FOWLER - The Fowler Eagles finished their 1967-68 basketball season in near-perfect style Friday night, reflecting a near-perfect season.

The victory was their 16th during the season; the Eagles lost their opening game of the year to Freesoll, 61-56, and then won all the rest, finishing with a perfect 14-0 conference record.

With Joe Koenigsnecht connecting for 10 points in the first quarter, the Eagles soared to a 25-11 lead, and Webberville never recovered. Bud Conley led the scoring in the third period as Fowler again got off to a fast start to dispel any doubts after leading at halftime 43-30.

The Eagles were eagle-eyed, both from the floor where they connected on 33 of 76 shots (43.4 per cent) and from the free throw line where they made 16 of 18 tries (88.8 per cent).

DeWitt traveled to Waverly for a game against Potterville Friday night and came home with a win, ending on the bright side a season that started with two wins but then included 14 straight losses.

Sophomore Roger Berry was the spark for the Panthers. He put in 29 points, including 14 in the third quarter that spurred the DeWitt team away from danger after they led only 27-25 at halftime.

Pewamo-Westphalia jumped out to a big 18-10 first quarter lead against Portland St. Patrick's Friday night, but then blew it to fall behind 30-24 at halftime and finally lose 62-51.

Ovid-Elsie had a non-league tangle with Williamston and came out on the short end of a 101-87 score. Williamston bombed the hoop for 34 points in the first quarter and 32 in the last that were more than enough to offset slight O-E scoring advantages in the middle two periods.

FOWLER SCORING (vs Webberville): Joe Koenigsnecht 35-21; Bud Conley 6-6-18; Neil Hafner 4-0-8; Gary Schueller 8-3-19; George Goerge 2-0-4; Stan Pohl 5-2-12.

DeWITT SCORING (vs Potterville): Dale Sherwood 4-1-9; Mike Botke 4-0-8; Roger Kaminski 3-0-6; Roger Berry 11-7-29; Mike Ashley 3-1-7; Ron Rademacher 0-2-2; Bill Ballard 3-0-8; Jim Decatur 1-4-6.

Baird new local SCD chairman

Stanley Baird has been elected chairman of the Clinton County Soil Conservation District board, replacing Robert Moore who has taken on state committee duties. Moore told the directors at their meeting Feb. 26 that his work on the state conservation committee, to which he was appointed for four years by Gov. George Romney, was taking a great deal of his time. He said he did not want to see the district program slow down because of this, so he suggested the naming of a new chairman.

Baird was unanimously named chairman, with Keith Wright as vice chairman, Clarence Manning as secretary and William Mayers as treasurer.

Baird suggested that all directors continue as a group to work on the district water resources committee and that Moore continue with his district responsibilities of leadership in the Upper Maple River Watershed.

WRIGHT AND MAYERS will continue their responsibilities with the Catlin-Waters Watershed and Clarence Manning with the Muskrat Creek Watershed. The directors' meeting last week was with State Rep. Blair Woodman, Clinton County Engi-near Gerry Wilcox and Andrew Cobb to discuss proposed House Bill 2404 concerning drainage affected by new highways constructed across agricultural lands.

It would provide that, according to Sec. 322B, "If any person desires during construction or reconstruction of a highway to install a drain for agricultural benefits in lands adjacent to any highway, and if a satisfactory outlet cannot be secured on the upper side of the right-of-way and the drain must be projected across the right-of-way to a suitable outlet, the expense of both material and labor used in installing the drain across the roadbed shall be paid from funds available for the roads affected, provided the highway authority is notified of the necessity of the drain in advance of the construction of the roadbed so that the drain may be placed and the roadbed constructed in the same operation."

The bill has been referred to the House Committee on Drainage, and Woodman said he has received many suggestions for Improvements to the bill to make it fair for all the people of the state.

Plans were made for the directors to go to Higgins Lake March 21 and 22 for the State Soil Conservation Workshop. The district land leveler may now be scheduled with Robert Moore at Elsie and the district tree planter with Stanley Baird at DeWitt.

Special services pilot program may be expanded

The St. Johns pilot program of a team approach to special services in the public schools may expand next year if money is available through the federal grant.

John Furry, director of the program, said discussion now is centered around expanding the service to include two more schools in the district. Presently only Central School, East Essex and St. Joseph public schools are involved; the team approach involves the working together of an elementary counselor, school psychologist, nurse and social worker.

"The inclusion of two more schools will necessitate increasing the staff," Furry said, "and, of course, the entire expansion will depend upon the amount of money which will be available to us through the federal government."

Additional staff under the present expansion plan would include a full-time elementary counselor, a full-time remedial reading specialist and a half-time elementary teacher, half-time school nurse, half-time school social worker and half-time psychological diagnostician.

"We are rapidly approaching the time when we must make a complete evaluation of the program," Furry said, "and in connection with this parents will be asked to participate in the near future by answering a questionnaire."

A blazing tar wagon, filled with tar for roofing work, was reduced to dense smoke last Thursday morning by St. Johns firemen, who answered the second of three fire calls to the new high school site this week. This fire seriously damaged the tar wagon; the other two involved no damage other than a tar mop which had apparently been set afire last Wednesday night.

Firemen still busy; 2nd big barn burns

St. Johns firemen had a busy week again last week, answering three alarms within one 18-hour period Wednesday and Thursday. Two of the calls were at the site of the new St. Johns High School. The most serious of the three fires destroyed a large 36x60-foot barn owned by James Morlarty at 3076 W. M-21. The barn was only about 200 yards or so west of the large Moriarty Lumber of Michigan, Inc., facilities. The fire was believed to have been caused by defective wiring. It was spotted first by Moriarty's son, Jerry, 10, who had just gotten home from school. He alerted his mother, who guided a pony out of the barn and then got the family car out and then summoned firemen. Firemen arrived about 4:15 p.m. The barn was unused except for the car and pony and storage of a little hay and about 1,000 bushels of corn owned by Ross Mehney. The flames quickly engulfed the barn, and St. Johns firemen concentrated on saving two small sheds near the barn. The barn itself collapsed in about 20 minutes.

Firemen also used some water to extinguish smoldering fires on the roof of the Moriarty home, about 100 yards east of the barn between it and the lumber yard.

Fowler has $57,000 budget for '68

FOWLER-Big items in a $57,000 budget are improved street lighting, purchase of a new pickup truck for the Public Works Department and street improvements as adopted by the village council for 1968.

Village President Martin Edinger said this is about $2,000 more than last year's budget. With a $9,800 cushion for expenses which may develop during the coming year, the projected expenditures total $48,000.

According to Edinger, the council anticipated receipts as follows: General fund, $28,800; highway local fund, $4,000; water and sewer fund, $16,000; highway major fund $9,000.

Projected expenditures were: general fund spending, $25,500; water-sewer expenses, $14,500; highway local $4,000; highway major fund, $9,000.

Consumers Power Co. will replace 16 street lights along M-21, from one end of the village to the other, with new 10,000-lumen mercury vapor lights. Edinger said this would increase electrical costs by $514 per year. He said there will be no charge for the new lights themselves.

Also in the planning stage is a light for the corner of Maple and Fifth Streets which will cost $46 a year for electricity. The intersection is located near the school and in an area where there is heavy pedestrian and vehicle traffic.

The council also has plans to resurface six blocks in the village and to surface 14 blocks for the first time—all at a cost of about $7,000.

Youth activity at the First Baptist Church this Saturday will include a gymnastics demonstration by Ron Aure of MSU and a partner and a special half-hour film dealing with drugs

It was the second big barn fire for the St. Johns department in less than a week and was only about 1 1/2 miles from the Harold Benson barn on North DeWitt Road which burned Thursday evening before.

The first of the two fire calls to the new high school site was Wednesday night shortly after 8 p.m. A tar mop, being used by workers on the roof of the building, had been stuck upright in the roof and set on fire. That torch was quickly extinguished.

4 motorists cited for error in city traffic crashes

Drivers in four property-damage accidents the middle of last week were ticketed by St. Johns police for alleged driving errors.

In one of the accidents, Raymond J. Krajniak, 26, of Flint suffered bruises but no serious injury when his car was struck from behind when he slowed to make a turn west onto Sturgis from southbound US-27.

The other auto was driven by Mabel A. Hunt of 611 E. McConnell Street, St. Johns; she was ticketed for being unable to stop in assured clear distance ahead. The accident happened about 10 a.m. Thursday.

In another Thursday accident, Mildred R. Dush of Welling Road, R-1, Elsie was ticketed for an improper start from a parked position when she backed out of a parking spot on Brush Street near the A & P Store and collided with a passing car. The other motorist was Forest O. Thurston, 71, of 5372 W. M-21, St. Johns.

Last Tuesday, Feb. 27, a car driven by Lyn S. LeBlond, 17, of 302 N. Whittemore Street slid into a car parked at the curb on East Higham Street east of Mead. The parked car was owned by Richard W. Kramer of 609 N. Morton Street. Miss LeBlond was ticketed for failure to have her car under control.

Another Tuesday accident last week involved cars driven by Anthony A. Hufnagel, 26, of 1818 W. Walker Road, St. Johns, and Danny W. Maticce, 16, of 408 S. Baker, Hufnagel, according to police, was making a left turn onto East Railroad Street from North Clinton Avenue, and his car was hit by Maticce's vehicle going west on Railroad. Maticce was ticketed for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Thursday morning fire trucks revisited the high school site this time to put out a fire which seriously damaged a tar wagon on the south side of the building. This, too, was being used for roofing work.

CATHOLIC CONFERENCE JUNIOR HIGH CHAMPIONS

The St. Joseph junior high basketball team of St. Johns won the Central Michigan Catholic Conference basketball championship last Sunday with a 46-35 win over Owosso St. Paul's. The local team had a 5-3 season, with two of the losses to St. Pauls. In tournament play St. Joe's also won over Maple Grove's St. Michaels, and Chesaning's Our Lady, to win the crown. Posing with their trophy are: front row, (l-r) Dave Weed, Calvin Loundes, Allan Henning, Dan Yurek, Bruce Geller and Jim Conley. Middle row (l-r) Dick Parker, Gary Koenigsnecht, Jack Henning, Kim Brewbaker, Mike Grosz, Ken Schueller, Tom Lynch and John Bond. Back row (l-r) John Briganti, coach, Ed Harr, Ed SanMiguel, Dennis LaVeck, Dan Zuker and Mike O'Connor, coach.

Moore of Elsie served her former classmate as bridesmaid.

A buffet supper was served in the parsonage following the ceremony. Other guests from Elsie were Mrs Bill Moore and daughters, Jackie and Laurie. The new Mrs Meninga is a nurse at the Kalamazoo State Hospital.

Elsie 7th Grade Defeats Ovid

The Elsie 7th grade basketball team ended their season Saturday with a 39-26 victory over Ovid. This gave the Big Reds a fine 5-2 season record. Elsie was led by Dan Egbert, who scored 13 points and Cayle Reha who "picked-off" 25 rebounds. Ovid's top scorer was Tom Kirinovic with 12 points.

The Elsie PTA has given money to the Junior High and a new record player was purchased.

The Elsie 8th grade boosted their season record to 5-2 when they defeated Ovid Saturday, by a score of 47-5. Elsie's good defense and Ovid's tough luck shooting was the difference in the game. The Big Reds pulled off 52 rebounds with Rodney Loynes grabbing 20 of them. Elsie's Bill Foran led all scorers with 13 points. This was Elsie's last regular season game before entering the Ovid-Elsie Junior high tournament.

4-H LEADERS TO ATTEND ENTOMOLOGY LEADERS' CONFERENCE

Have you seen "Insect Catcher of Bug Jungle?"

It's a movie concerning the fascinating field of bugs and three 4-H leaders from Clinton County will see it through participation in the Entomology Leaders' Training Conference on March 8-9, according to John Aylsworth, Extension 4-H Youth Agent.

LEADERS FROM throughout the state will attend this annual event, being held at Camp Kett, Michigan's 4-H leadership training center near Cadillac.

Larval rearing of the giant silk moth, scientific illustrations, and beekeeping innovations are among the new program ideas to be introduced. They will also learn about new entomology developments and have a chance to exchange ideas and meet career entomologists.

NEW OPPORTUNITIES being made available to entomology leaders and members are the Teen International Entomology Club—a volunteer youth pen-pal program dedicated to the study of entomology, and the Michigan Entomological Society field trips.

Clinton County will be represented by Mrs Clyde Peck, Mrs George McQueen and LuAnne Thelen of St. Johns.

MRS PECK AND Mrs McQueen will report on their last summer's experience in the pilot larva rearing project. They will appear on the Friday afternoon program to discuss the larva project. LuAnne Thelen will share her experience as a 4-H member in raising insect larvae. LuAnn has some preying-mantis eggs to hatch plus other insect larvae to display to the group.

The pleasantest things in the world are pleasant thoughts, and the great art of life is to have as many of them as possible.

The Clinton County Department of Social Services is now taking legal steps against persons involved in abuse of minor children under their care. Persons having questions regarding the department's program should direct them to Mrs Toby Weismiller, Clinton County child welfare worker, at the local department office in St. Johns.

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

Friday, March 1, was World Day of Prayer and the day was observed by the churches in Ovid at the Shepardsville Methodist Church. The following ladies had a part in the program; Mrs Karl Smith of the Shepardsville Church, Mrs Ethel Shinabery of the Ovid Baptist Church, Mrs Harold Frisbie and Mrs Cyril Tremblay of the Ovid United Church, and Mrs John Spencer and Mrs Warren Gutshall of the Shepardsville Methodist. Mrs LeRoy Sanders of the Ovid Christian Services Center brought the message. The theme of the day was "Bear Ye One Another's Burden". The scripture reading was from Gal. verse 2. Mrs Sanders based her message on Love. If we do not love one another, how can we bear their burdens, along with our own. We all have some burdens to bear and we must learn to share the burdens of others and so fulfill the law of Christ. The meeting closed with a farewell salutation that is used in the Church of South India and other Eastern Churches.

Acolytes for this month are Sue Miller and Julie Tait. Sunday Morning worship at the Shepardsville Church was in charge of the youth. It was a very special kind of service. It was written by Rev John C. Huhtala. He took his material from the following resources: "We have Something to Celebrate" by Jeanne Audrey Powers, "Eleanor Rigby" Lennon-McCartney; "Born Free" Black-Barry; "The House of the Rising Sun", Price and "I'm not your Stepping Stone". Those taking part in the program were Mike Swender, Organ, Edward Waters, Guitar, Liturgists: Susan Alderman, Linda Squiers, Dean Watson, Marcia Tait, Douglas Miller, Frank Ferden, Charles Tait and Colleen Wilcox.

Mr and Mrs Mike Pruitt and children of St. Johns were callers of Mr and Mrs Alfred Cramer Sunday afternoon.

FATHER-SON BANQUET

About 100 fathers and their sons enjoyed the father and son banquet at the Shepardsville Methodist Church last Saturday evening. The main feature of the program was given by Lieut. Wilburn Legree of Flint. He is much better known as the "Singing Cop". Others taking part in the program were Robert Tait who introduced the toastmaster, Dale Squiers. Frank Ferden gave the toast to the fathers, Francis Ferden gave the toast to the sons; Ronald Cavanaugh made the presentation of awards. The oldest father present was Henry Mizga, the youngest father was Gary Sage, the father with the most sons present was Rex Baker and the youngest son was Bryant Hilton. The Benediction was given by Clare Alderman.

Friday evening, March 8, the joint Methodist Youth Fellowship of Price and Shepardsville will have a "Fun-In" at the Shepardsville Methodist Church.

During the Lenten Season, the youth of the Church will be hanging a new and different banner each week. The youth have made these banners themselves. This week's banner is the Fish, and was made by Marcia Tait. The fish stands for Jesus Christ. This sign on a door was a very important symbol for the Christians. To them it said that a meeting would be held in that house, to the Romans it meant that someone in that house had died. In this way the Christians could hold meetings with less fear of being invaded.

Mrs Marlan Orweller has been confined to her home these past two weeks with muscular rheumatism. She is able to be about but would like to have her friends call on her.

Mr and Mrs John Spencer and children of Montrose called on Mr and Mrs John Spencer of rural Ovid.

'Aerial view' of St. Johns in 1868 interesting today

The front cover of Section B of this week's Clinton County News carries a drawing not only of historical importance but also historical interest, and if you are like the newspaper staff was, you'll keep looking at the map and discovering new things of interest.

The map is an old lithographic drawing of St. Johns made in 1868—100 years ago—and published by the Chicago Lithographing Co. It was drawn by an A. Ruger, who apparently worked for the company.

A number of communities in Central Michigan have such maps. This one of St. Johns has been hanging in the Bement Public Library, almost unnoticed, it seems.

It's an interesting map. Essentially, most of the streets are as they are now, only there weren't nearly so many as there are now and they were named differently in a lot of cases.

SOME OF THE HOUSES and buildings pictured are still standing today, and of course many are gone.

The main trunkline roads through St. Johns 100 years ago were State Street east and west and Lansing Street north and south. State was called Ionia Street at the west edge of town, and Lansing

Whittemore Street, the present US-27, was just another street, and its primary importance seemed to be to lead to the cemetery (No. 1 on picture). The corner of Railroad Street and Whittemore was the site of a church then as it is now. In 1868 it was the Catholic Church (2), while today it is the Church of God.

Street names in many cases were different on each side of town. Baldwin Street west of Lansing Street became Breckenridge Street. McConnel Street (then spelled with one "L") was Clinton Street west of Lansing; Cass Street became Rodgers Street west of Lansing. Walker Street didn't go all the way across town as it does now; it lapsed for a block between Ottawa, and Lansing.

Park Street wasn't Park Street 100 years ago. It was called Ella Street and appeared to be a city limit street because there was very little housing along it or beyond it.

In one case a street name has remained but its location has changed. Maple Street 100 years ago was on the east side of the present courthouse square; it is now called Linden, and Maple Street is on the west side of the square on the street then called Laurel Avenue.

Church Street today was then called Frobridge.

A NUMBER OF THE buildings and places in town were identified on the drawing, and we have been able to identify some of the other buildings which remain today.

Here are some of them:
3) Episcopal Church. The present church is over 100 years old, so that is apparently the one pictured on the map.
4) Michael Galvach home at 704 N. Clinton Avenue.

5) Methodist Church.
6) Union School, now Central School.
7) St. Johns House, now the Steel Hotel.
8) Anstey House, now the building where Paul Automotive is located.
9) Gibbs House.

10) Al Haight home at 705 S. Lansing.
11) Old Wilson home, torn down last year for Robert Conn's new home.

12) This building today is the county education building that houses the county superintendent's office and the Clinton office of the Mid-Michigan District Health Department.
13) Old Presbyterian Church.

14) Ernst home, still standing across Park Street from the swimming pool.

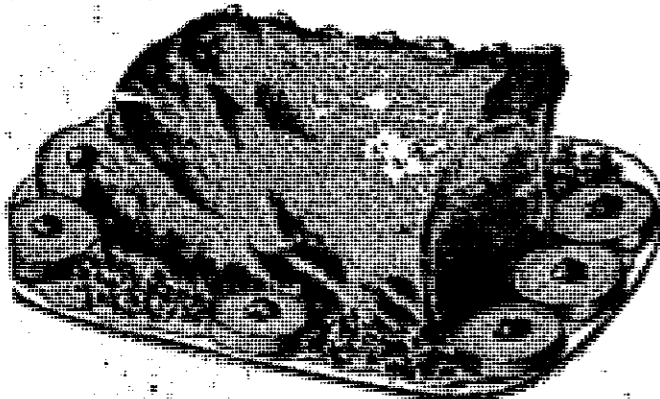

15) Detroit and Michigan Railroad depot. The present depot is about a block west of that site.

16) George Chapman place now.
17) Baptist Church.

Undoubtedly there are many other buildings pictured on the lithographic drawing which are still standing and a lot of others which are gone but which people around here would recognize. We'll leave the rest of the finding to you, our readers. Good hunting.

Each high salesman received a prize to encourage good salesmanship. The prizes chosen were: a portable radio-recorder player, a Polaroid Swinger camera, a clock-radio, a tape recorder, and an instamatic camera.

The FHA and the FFA co-sponsored an assembly Feb. 29. The theme was "Morals and Manners Do Matter," a discussion on boy-girl relationships. The speech was given by Darrell Thomas, a graduate of Brigham Young University of Utah and a professor of family life education at Western University in Kalamazoo. Mr. Thomas was faced with an audience ranging from 8th graders to 12th graders and very capably made his views on going steady, dating, etc. plain and understandable to all.

The FFA state convention is to be held March 20 through 22. The Fulton chapter delegates are Larry Chick and Dick Zamarron.

Larry Motz and Robert Baxter are going to attend the conservation workshop in Lansing March 18. Our chapter was chosen from the state's top 25 chapters to be represented there.

The sophomore class sponsored an open D. J. dance March 1 with Steve Donahue of WJIM, Lansing spinning the discs. Fulton's menu for the week of March 11 is as follows:

Monday, March 11—Coulash, cheese sticks, fruit, rolls and butter, and milk.

Tuesday, March 12—Grilled cheese sandwich (H.S.), potato salad, fruit, cookie, milk.

Wednesday, March 13—pizza, glorified rice, vegetable, and milk.

Thursday, March 14—turkey (creamed), whipped potatoes, vegetable, prune spice cake, bread and butter, and milk.

Friday, March 15—macaroni and cheese, vegetable, peach crisp, bread and butter and milk.

The basketball league dance will be held here at the Fowler High Gym on April 5, 1968. The price will be 50 cents a person.

The Fowler High Student Council donated $20 to the March of Dimes.

NFO meet outlines holding action

A special Clinton County National Farmers Organization meeting was held Tuesday night at St. Johns to bring the members up-to-date on the grain-holding action which started Jan. 11 and the meat holding action which started Feb. 12.

Elmer Smith, vice president, gave a report on the holding action. He said the NFO needs membership and production and farmers need to cooperate.

Elmo Giffels reported on the meat holding action. All the stock yards are low on all meats, he said.

A tape recording was heard from National NFO President Oren Lee Staley in which he urged the sign-up of new members and cooperation of all farmers in the holding action. There also was a report from national grain committee chairman Herb Goodman, urging farmers to sign up all grain in the grain program.

Gene Potter, national meat committee chairman, reported on the meat holding action. All around the United States the market places are low in the supply of meats. Ken Stofferhan, chairman of the field staff department, reported on the memberships in new states and the growth in the other states.

Clinton County NFO will have a booth at the farm, home and sports show in St. Johns in April. A discussion was held on the supper which will be held at Ovid-Elsie High School April 6. There was a lengthy discussion on NFO national officers and their action during the holding action. Persons having questions on the holding action may contact one of the following: Paul Love, Elmer Smith, or Elmo Giffels.

Chuckles

A real estate salesman had just closed his first deal, only to discover that the farm he had sold was completely under water.

"My customer's going to come back here mighty mad," he complained to his boss, "Shall I give him his money back?"

"Money back?" roared the boss, "What kind of a salesman are you? Get out there and sell him a pontoon corn planter!"

Open Letter from VAN W. HOAG

Dear friends,

One thing a family should not expect the funeral director to do is to suggest the cost of the funeral to be selected. His advice may be invited, but the decision rests with the family. The financial aspects must of necessity be candidly discussed, to avoid hardship and to have complete understanding by all concerned.

Respectfully,
Van W. Hoag

HORSERACE FUN! THOUSANDS OF CASH WINNERS

OFFICIAL RULES

1. NO PURCHASE NECESSARY. Get a free "SPORT OF KINGS" game folder containing: a) the "Win Ticket", and b) the stamps of famous horses, on request, at end of check-out lanes or at office of Kroger store—one envelope per adult customer, per store visit. Game materials may also be obtained by mailing a request to Glendinning, P.O. Box 62, Westport, Connecticut 06880.
 2. Here's how to play:
 - a) THE TV GAME: Watch "SPORT OF KINGS" races on television each week for race results, or check the race results posted in your Kroger store after each telecast. If the number of the horse on your "Win Ticket" wins the race specified, present your ticket to the Store Manager, who will arrange for verification and awarding of your prize. You must present your ticket for verification within six days of the telecast in which the winning race was run. All "Win Tickets" submitted for winner verification become property of The Kroger Co.
 - b) THE PICTURE STAMP GAME: Separate, dampen and affix the racehorse stamps to the matching spaces on the free card. When you collect the stamps needed to properly complete any straight line of four spaces—horizontally, vertically or diagonally—present your card to the Store Manager, who will arrange for verification and awarding of your prize. (Prize is limited to amount shown for game regardless of the number of lines completed.) No stamps needed in spaces marked "FREE". "FREE" spaces not transferable.
 3. INSTANT WINNERS: If your game folder contains an Instant Winner section, take that section to your Kroger store for awarding of your instant winner prize (and keep playing "SPORT OF KINGS" with the "Win Ticket" and stamps that come with each Instant Winner).
 4. Game materials void where taxed or restricted by law.
 5. Game ends upon announcement by Kroger. All prizes must be claimed within six days after announcement or they are forfeited.
 6. Kroger reserves the right to reject any materials containing printing or other errors that may appear in any materials used in this game and to void any such materials.
 7. Game materials may be used only for this game (series NGR) and only when obtained and used in stores of this Division of The Kroger Co.
 8. All game materials submitted for winner verification become property of The Kroger Co.
 9. Employees of The Kroger Co., Glendinning Companies, Inc., (and its suppliers), participating TV stations, their advertising agencies, and members of their immediate families not eligible to win.

Witnesses adopt resolution at convention

Jehovah's Witnesses from the St. Johns area returned this week from a Bible conference in Stanton. Highlight of the conference Saturday was the baptism of 21 persons in symbol of their dedication to do God's will.

Saturday evening Mr. Otto Kugler, circuit supervisor, addressed the conference on the current persecution of Jehovah's witnesses in Malawi, a central African country.

The conference with 1,126 in attendance unanimously adopted a resolution which will be sent to Dr. H. Kamuzu Banda, president of Malawi. The resolution calls for Jehovah's Witnesses to be authorized and legalized to resume their Christian congregational and ministerial activities; that they be given constitutionally guaranteed protection from rampant lawlessness; that they be allowed to live peacefully and without fear of reprisal because of adhering to the principles embodied in the supreme lawbook of the universe, God's Word, the Bible.

The local presiding minister, Raymond Parker, said of the conference, "This weekend was of much practical value. The conference dealt with how we can face the intricate problems of today and remain in the faith, and assist our fellow man to look to the future with hope."

What to do about long-range goals is an important decision

Farmers are faced with decisions every day, but what to do about long range goals could be even more important; according to Leonard Kyle, Michigan State University agricultural economist.

Kyle suggests farmers interpret their economic forecast in terms of the kind of farm they operate: commercial farm with a future, borderline commercial unit or a part-time farm.

Commercialized, specialized farms, says Kyle, are increasing even though the total number of farm operators is decreasing. This farm operator moves with the times by improving net worth and making long term plans for expansion and adoption of new technology.

Kyle says this kind of farmer adopts new ideas with a positive attitude about the future of agriculture. He is alert to the latest research and market trends and is active in commodity organizations.

"Available credit will be this farmer's biggest problem in the future," according to Kyle.

"LONG RANGE prospects for inflation may cause him to seriously consider expansion through purchase of more land, but long term credit loans in 1968 may be restricted."

Kyle suggests dairy farmers establish a 10-year plan for expansion because of the long range impacts of urbanization in many areas. Also, milk substitutes may pose problems in the next 10 to 15 years.

For cattle and hog enterprises, Kyle suggests that expansion should be made during the "less favorable periods of the production cycle." A key for these operations is sufficient volume of feed production to permit low unit costs of production.

He says that specialization will grow in fruit, vegetable and special field crop farming and more integration of marketing and processing will develop.

The outlook for the "borderline" commercial business is "unfavorable" with a continued decline in numbers due to retirement or change to nonfarm pursuits, says Kyle.

Dairy units of the "borderline" farms are having a good year, says Kyle, unless their crops were really hit by bad weather.

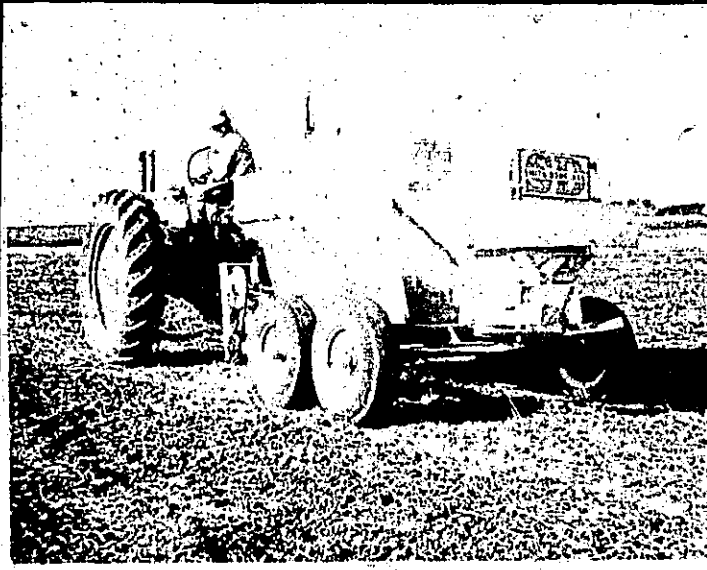

Those who raised too little feed will decide to sell their cows and quit milking.

"OTHER 'borderline' farms are being plagued by high costs inadequate volume and uncertain draft status of the farmers' sons."

Kyle describes "part-time" farmers as those who depend on substantial employment off the farm where industrial wage rates and employment prospects look fairly good. He says that rent or sale of employment prospects look fairly good, but he predicts that many "part-time" farms will be rented or sold to commercial farmers as the "part-time" group becomes better established in nonfarm jobs.

"No matter where you fit as farm operator," Kyle says, "a knowledge of your own competitive position for the major products you produce is essential for an accurate appraisal of your profit prospects."

Need 'solid' potatoes to help state growers get processing markets

High yielding varieties aren't necessarily the best bet if Michigan expects to capture its share of the Great Lakes potato processing market, contends Norman R. Thompson, Michigan State University crop scientist.

The real key is the amount of total solids the potatoes will produce.

Thompson says a potato is approximately 20 per cent solids and 80 per cent water, and no processor is "anxious to pay for water" when he is going to have to remove most of it to have a readily storable product.

"That's why," he explains, "in the more competitive processing markets, a lower yielding variety with a higher percentage of solids could be much more valuable."

"Last year, we had one potato seedling with an average yield of 395 hundredweight (cwt.) per acre in both Bay and Montcalm counties. This potato produced 7,800 pounds of total solids per acre. Another yielded only 301 cwt., but produced 8,600 pounds of solids. In other words, there was a gallon more water in each 100 pounds of the higher yielding potato."

Thompson points out that potato chip plants in the Great Lakes region use about 10 million cwt. of potatoes per year—an amount equal to Michigan's total production. He urges that greater efforts be made to develop varieties that produce the potatoes used in this market.

"Michigan enjoys a unique geographical location for marketing potatoes and should have specific varieties to take advantage of these opportunities," says Thompson. "In developing these varieties, we're not overlooking the importance of high yields, particularly for fresh markets."

"In the MSU potato breeding program, we have set minimum yield requirements at 300 cwt. per acre. In 1967, we had 22 seedling clones that exceeded this figure—five yielding over 375 cwt. per acre. Three of these are now ready for commercial tests."

"If they maintain their performance and are acceptable for handling, grading, storage, etc., 1968 seed will be increased to prepare at least one variety for release."

permanent outlet, not run along extension cords. The socket in the lamp unit should be of porcelain. Rubber, plastic or brass cannot endure long exposure to the heat from the lamp.

The lamp unit should be suspended securely with a chain or No. 9 wire, never string or cord. Both the lamp and cord should be kept out of reach of animals and children. And the lamp should be at least 15 inches from litter or any flammable material, the county agent advises.

One further precaution, McQueen said, is to protect the lamps from moisture and mechanical injury by means of a non-removable guard that would cause the fixture to roll over and direct heat away from the litter if the unit should fall with the cord still connected.

Even better, he said, the cord should be short enough so that if the unit falls, it will pull the plug before it hits the floor.

Feed grain only when it will pay, scientist warns

Liberal grain feeding during the dry period and immediately after calving can increase disease chances and cause milk production to fall off too rapidly, according to Roy S. Emery, Michigan State University dairy scientist.

"Grain feeding before calving is undesirable if the cow is in reasonable condition and full-fed an average quality roughage," he said.

In recent MSU experiments, nongrain feeding was compared with grain feeding begun 21 days before calving in which 12 to 15 pounds of grain were increased to full feed at the rate of one pound a day. Mastitis and edema were more prevalent in heavily grainfed than in the nongrain animals during lactation.

Reporting on the results of combinations of full and limited amounts of grain fed throughout the lactation period, Emery pointed out that it doesn't matter whether the grain "challenge" is made before or after the first 45 days. However, the 48 cows in the study that went from low to full-fed grain produced about 8 pounds more milk per day after 181 days than those going from full to low grain.

The restricted cows received one pound of grain per 2.5 pounds of milk, and those full-fed were receiving one pound per four pounds of milk, the dairy scientist said.

The study also reinforced the theory that continued heavy grain feeding after 181 days lowers milk production at the end of the lactation. The cause, said Emery, is reduced roughage intake and body fat deposits at the expense of milk fat and milk production.

Discuss school needs March 14

The Fowler Board of Education held a special meeting Thursday, Feb. 29, with William Kane of Hanson, Jackson and Kane, the architectural firm retained by the Board.

Enrollment projections for the next seven years were studied. A thorough study of existing facilities was made in the light of this information.

Preliminary planning showed a minimum need of 14 classrooms as well as other auxiliary areas as offices, workroom, teacher's room, library, boiler and toilets.

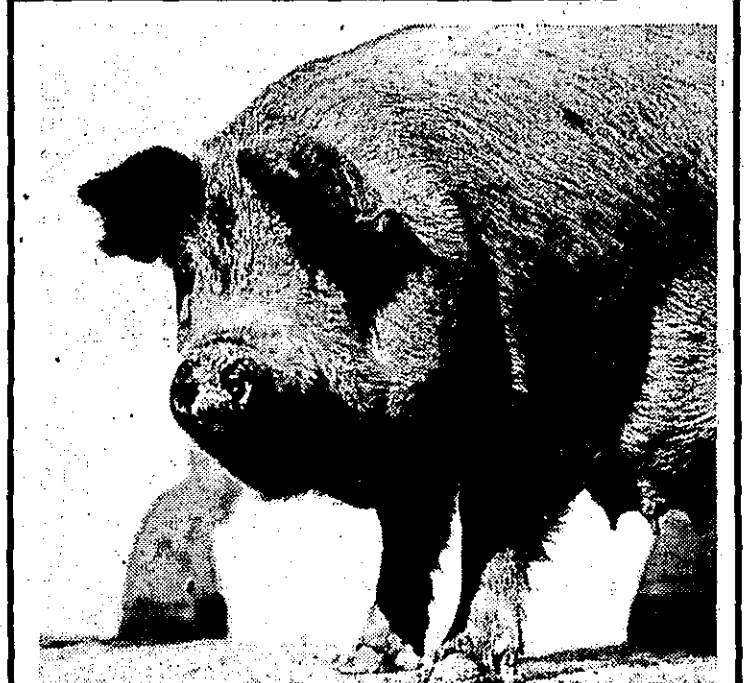

A STUDY OF THE existing elementary building showed that it would be costly to bring it up to fire marshal standards. Also, the site is inadequate for any substantial addition.

To familiarize the community with the problem of need for additional space at the elementary level and ask for help and guidance in the final decision, there will be an open meeting for all the people of the community held at the high school March 14 at 8 p.m.

William Kane will be present to explain the findings of their survey.

It is hoped that from this meeting a committee can be formed to work closely with the Board.

Help protect baby pigs against SCOURS!

Eighty to ninety per cent of all death losses in baby pigs occur within four days after farrowing. Many of these deaths are caused by scour-causing organisms passed through the sow's milk into the litter.

Purina Farrowing Chow FZ, with nf-180, can help break the "sow-to-litter" scours cycle. Feed 3 to 3 1/2 pounds of Farrowing Chow FZ five days before farrowing and let Purina Farrowing Chow FZ go to work destroying scour-causing organisms in the sow, before she can infect the litter.

Farrowing Chow FZ is palatable, bulky, vitamin fortified and specially balanced to fit the sow's needs during this critical period.

Next time your sows are going to farrow, drop by our store and pick up Purina Farrowing Chow FZ and give them extra protection.

The numbers are against you. The average family gets 1465 calls a year. And if only one-fourth of them happen while you're up there, that's 366 trips for 1968.

Portable heat lamps handy

Portable heat lamps are handy items for winter use around the farm and home. They can be used to warm machine and automobile engines, to warm water, to warm young pigs and lambs, to dry wet areas, and to provide quick warmth while working with equipment or at the workbench.

But make-shift heat lamp installations cause thousands of dollars worth of farm loss each year. Clinton County Agent George McQueen recommends certain basic safety precautions which could prevent heat lamp damage.

McQueen advises using heat lamp fixtures which have been approved by the Underwriters' Laboratories to insure adequate insulation against moisture and heat.

Improvement is usually the last resort.

EDITORIAL PAGE

Caution, also patience. . .

In our editorial last week we stressed caution on the part of the St. Johns city government in its problem of deciding where the budget will have to be cut.

Caution was stressed because we believe that at times like this it is easy to retaliate rather than take the time to review the budget in depth and make the decisions, that can only be made after a careful study.

ANOTHER THING we neglected to stress was patience. Patience on the part of the citizens of St. Johns.

In the last few days we have heard many stories on what is being done to pare the budget. A few days following the referendum election we talked with the mayor of St. Johns and was assured a careful study would be made before any decisions on where the paring of the budget would be. As of this writing we have not been notified of any such meetings taking place or of any official action being made on budget cuts.

YET, THE CITIZENS are spreading stories of layoffs, firings, closings and many other things and some seem to be almost in a panic on what must be strictly hearsay.

The city is facing a financial bind and in the very near future something will have to be done to reduce the budget for the coming year, yet at this time we can not see where the citizens should panic over what might be done.

IT IS EASY FOR ALL of us to imagine that any budget cut will affect us personally. But this is one thing we must all face. It will be impossible for the city commission to cut the budget without affecting all of us, at least to some small extent.

The city is faced with an operating budget of 10 mills. In the past they have operated on a 16 mill basis. In our own homes it would be impossible to make do with a one-third cut in our household budgets. Thus we would have to cut something, but in doing so, we would go over what our expenses are and cut where it would affect our way of living the least.

THIS IS WHAT we expect the St. Johns city commission to do. To take the time to go over the budget carefully, pare where it is necessary, but where it will affect the least amount of people and services.

We also ask the citizens of St. Johns not to panic on hearsay reports of what has been done. When the city makes the decisions to cut, if it becomes public knowledge, we will publish these facts.

UNTIL THESE decisions are made we stress caution on the part of the city and patience on the part of the citizens.

For only through these will effective means be reached to run the City of St. Johns as it should be run.

Following fire trucks is a dangerous business

The recent rash of fires in the St. Johns area has pointed up a serious traffic problem that citizens should be reminded of and police should take steps to solve.

There will always be cars following fire trucks, but on several recent fires the number has become excessive, even to the point of hindering the follow-up fire trucks. Citizens should be aware of this problem and should avoid following the trucks; our fire department is a good one, and they can handle the job without help (which is actually hindrance) from curious citizens who crowd in.

Fire trucks also have the right-of-way in traffic, and other vehicular traffic should pull off the road and give the fire rigs plenty of room to pass by.

Finally, police should clamp down by writing traffic tickets to motorists who don't heed such laws. Unless the law is enforced, the problem will grow, more accidents will result and there may be deaths as a result of traffic accidents or fires to which firemen have been hindered.

US-27 freeway would solve M-57 corner ills

Folks in the southern Gratiot County area are beginning to take some action about seeing what can be done to speed plans and realization of the US-27 freeway between Ithaca and Lansing. Their concern has been fired by another traffic fatality in recent weeks at the US-27 and M-57 intersection.

Their concern is justified. Anytime a major four-lane highway like US-27 intersects a two-lane major highway like M-57, the result is a bad situation which takes more than a blinker light to correct.

Outside of a freeway-type interchange, the best solution at M-57 and US-27 would be a stop light. This is practically the only way other traffic can cross US-27 on a normal Friday or Sunday afternoon and evening. It would be costly, to be sure, but it would, more than that, be far safer.

The US-27 freeway north to Ithaca will be the ultimate answer, and the work of Gratiot clubs and other organizations is toward bringing the highway nearer in time to reality.

Old newspaper describes life in 1896

Mrs Stafford Smith of 109 S. Traver Street dropped in at The News office last week bearing a copy of the Clinton Independent published at St. Johns Thursday morning, May 4, 1896.

The paper, yellowed and approaching the brittle stage, contained a number of interesting tidbits in the news columns and advertising columns. One such item concerned saloons.

"There has been a general falling off this spring of the former number of saloons in the towns and cities throughout Michigan. St. Johns, which formerly had a baker's dozen, has now but five in active operation, with one more in prospect. Muskegon has 47 against 117 four years ago. Lansing has suffered a loss of 16 this year. Grand Rapids will be impoverished to about the same extent. In Grand Rapids it has been the practice to issue a license on part payment in cash and a note for the balance. It is now different. The treasurer says it must be all cash or no red card, and as a result many will be obliged to close up and take down their signs. The saloons in the northern lumbering districts are greatest sufferers."

GEORGE S. CORBIT, proprietor of the Independent, seemed to be a bit chagrined at the prospect of it all.

The Independent's news coverage was as much national and worldly as it was local. We thought you might like to take this glimpse at the past through the eyes of the old Clinton Independent.

"While a large force of men were placing a 60-ton steel girder across the Saline River at Milan, for the Ann Arbor Railroad, the girder slipped and was precipitated into the river. About 75 men jumped in all directions, most of them into the river below. One man was so severely injured that he may die."

"James Ward, a crippled soldier of Flint, got 65 days in the Detroit House of Correction for stealing umbrellas."

"Over 1,200 carpenters have gone on a strike at Detroit for an eight-hour day."

"Corunna is wet again, the council having approved three liquor bonds."

"HIRAM CURTIS AND Matt Bentley met at a dance near Henrietta, Tex. To settle an old feud both began firing and both were shot dead."

"Ferdinand Schumacher, the well-known millionaire oatmeal manufacturer at Akron, Ohio, filed a deed of personal assignment. His liabilities are over $1,500,000 and assets $2,500,000."

"Otto and Henry Stever were terribly injured while riding a tandem bicycle near Laingsburg. They were descending a steep hill at a high rate of speed when the front forks broke, throwing them into a fence with terrible force. Otto's injuries consist of a broken nose and arm and severe cuts about the head and face. Henry remained unconscious for a long time. His injuries are internal, and it is feared he may not recover."

"Northville has discovered that the village ordinance book is lost, strayed or stolen. A lawyer was consulted who finds the village in a bad box, as it has no law to fall back on. It

RAMBLIN' with Rink

By LOWELL G. RINKER

Let's ramble around again this week:

"One of the joys of being a parent is seeing your child develop abilities and talents, and I guess the goal of every parent is to have his child develop those talents to a greater extent than he himself did when he was a kid.

In one case my daughter has, at the age of 6 1/2, reached a point in talent development that I was at in high school. As a junior I was the 'sixth man' on the Hart High School varsity yo-yo team (we had an up-and-down season that year and in fact reached the end of our string because they dropped it as a varsity sport my senior year). Last week Kathy came home from a downtown trip with a yo-yo and in a few days of practice has the idea down pretty well, even to the extent of doing some 'tricks,' as she calls them.

I am hoping she will develop some musical abilities that will surpass such athletic feats as a yo-yo tosser, and if she does she will be far ahead of her dad, whose pinnacle of success in the music world was first-chair triangle in our grade school orchestra.

"On several occasions in the past couple of months I have heard people get mildly excited, point to me and whisper, to a companion, 'That looks like Pat Paulson.' The first time was at the Portland St. Patrick's Christmas Tournament, when I was leaving the gym to come home; the second time was at Ovid-Elsie during the halftime of a basketball game.

Being compared to a growing television star might seem to be an honor, but on the other hand he's not much to look at. Neither am I, for a fact, but I don't like to think about it that way. I feel there are a lot of differences between Pat and myself, even though we are both skinny, long-faced and definitely not candidates for the office of President of the United States (I don't know about Paulson, but I am planning to again deny my candidacy at three speaking engagements and at a Friday afternoon press conference this week where I will have an important announcement to make.)

"Did you notice our front page last week? There wasn't a bit of unhappy news on it—nothing about fires, or taxes, or accidents, or deaths or even weather. We thought it might be pleasant to have a 'positive' front page for once, even though the news events of the day don't often allow this.

Last week we had enough of a mixture that we were able to draw up two front pages, and we put the most pleasant one first.

"Do you have trouble with ball-point pens? Are you able to keep one handy? When you are, are you able to keep it from splotching all over your paper or your shirt pocket? If you are, please drop me a card and let me know the secret.

from the HOPPER

By Steven Hopko

Our day and age has been, and still is being, instilled with the idea that we should not discriminate against any man regardless of his color, race or religious background. It has been further stated that we should not discriminate male against female, man against boy or in any form.

YET THESE same people who keep calling for less discrimination are the same ones who create the events that cause discrimination.

A week ago Senator Edward Kennedy and Senator Richard Case both came out in Senate speeches calling for an end to the present way of drafting young men into service and replacing it with a lottery system.

ACCORDING to their viewpoint, the lottery system would be less discriminatory and thus be a better way to supply the armed services with men. Further along in their outline of how to run this lottery system, they have stipulated certain requirements which viewed from my angle are discriminatory.

THEY SAY that those going to college should be deferred until their schooling is completed. Yet, they will not defer a young man who is not going to college but who may be in an apprenticeship program. The President's decision to end graduate student deferments has brought an uproar of complaints. One statement was that if the graduate student deferments are stopped that we would have an army of college privates. I can't see a thing wrong with this, in fact, I can remember a good college private way back when. They made just as good a private as most of those just out of high school.

COMPLAINTS FOR graduate students but not very many for the proposed lifting of deferments for those young men who hold vital jobs in industry. To me a young man in a vital industry is just as important as a man doing graduate work.

Another discriminating reason in the proposed lottery would be the skipping of older men and taking all 19-year-olds first. Now what has age to do with this? A 19-year-old has as much right to pursue his way of life as his older compatriot. Under this new system, if a young fellow can hold out until he's past 19, he can forget about any draft. Thus any one capable of getting into a college or university is automatically out.

THIS RELIANCE upon a 19-year-old draft would automatically exempt any one who is over nineteen, even though he never served but is as capable as everyone else.

Those who seem to yell the loudest about how we should all practice non-discriminatory tactics seem to be the ones who come up with all the means under which people have to discriminate to abide by the law.

POSSIBLY THE DRAFT law should be changed but change just to change is meaningless. If and when someone comes up with a logical new law, one that is fair to all, not just a few, then I'll give him my support. Until then I say any law that causes discrimination such as this new lottery system is for the birds. For a wrong is wrong, no matter who is wrong.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Many opportunities arise for those without college training

BY ELMER E. WHITE
Michigan Press Assn.

Benefits of college training are stressed so heavily that many high school students feel that a college program is the only road to success. Parents often have the same feeling, and it is frequently encouraged by school counselors.

This is unfortunate, says Ellis S. Hammond, Michigan State educator, who believes such reasoning works hardships on both student and society. While parents may feel their child's chance of success, especially financially, is lessened by not attending college, the fact is that many skilled trades carry a higher wage scale than what college graduates can command.

Overemphasis of college education and a neglect of students who are not college-bound is a practice of our present way of life, charges Hammond.

A series of booklets, of which Hammond is a co-author, supplies specific information to help students who do not want to go to college, as well as to those who do.

Referred to as "COGS," the Career Opportunity Guides are available for a dollar per copy. "COG No. 1" is designed for the student interested in something besides college training. It includes lists of wages and salaries. These show that some trades pay as much as $3,950 more than degree jobs for beginners.

Another "COG," soon to be published, deals with apprenticeship programs.

EFFECTIVE distribution for "COGS" is a problem and a disappointment for those who produced them. They thought schools would be anxious to have several copies available for use by their students and that parents would buy copies so they could have the information permanently. They were wrong.

"COGS" have received superficial approval, but school counselors, for the most part, have shown no great desire to use the publications to help students who are not college-oriented.

Labor and management give lots of encouragement to the "COG" ideas but little support. Nor have civic groups which, it seems to the "COG" publishers, ought to be anxious help.

So the educators are left with what seems to them valuable information to parents and young people and are at a loss to get it into their hands.

TAX REPEALS and some hard looks at the entire tax situation

In Michigan may be in the offing if Sen. Harry A. DeMaso, R-Battle Creek, has his way. DeMaso, chairman of the State Senate Taxation Committee, says his committee hopes to find ways to eliminate "inequitable taxes" now levied against individuals as well as businessmen.

As desirable as this idea may be, the Senator found the going rough when he sought repeal of the first "inequitable tax," the so-called "chain store tax." The tax was passed 35 years ago in an attempt to protect small store owners from growing chain store operations.

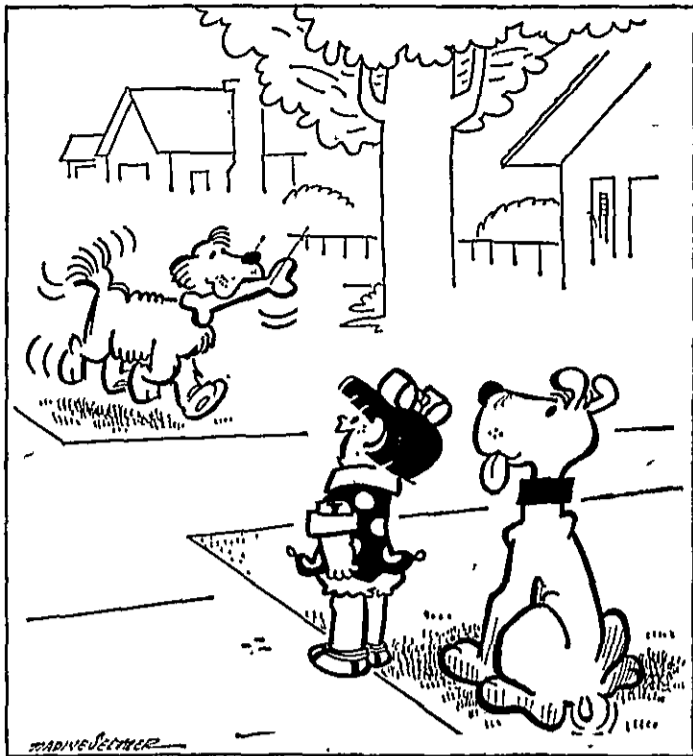

DeMaso said it is not really a tax but a fee charged to chain store operators for the privilege of doing business. He contended the tax has not proven successful and serves no purpose.

Democrats blistered DeMaso with accusations that the measure was designed to give a break to "big business." Tax repeals should benefit those who need it most, they charged. DeMaso retorted that the Democrats were admitting the tax was inequitable and were merely saying, "let's keep it on because it's against business."

The measure finally passed amid name calling and party clashes. Observers view the collision as an indication of things to come, perhaps with the moral: taxes are easier passed than repealed.

All a fellow needs in order to have more than most folks is as much as he wants.

The "Low Down"

From the Congressional Record
By Joe Crump

Public office is a public trust

Senator H. Kuchel (Calif.)... "A few days ago the senior senator from New Jersey delivered a lucid, most persuasive address to the Columbia Law School alumni luncheon in which he set out the legal basis for enforcement of the proposition that public office is a public trust." (A condensed text of Senator Clifford Case's remarks follow):

All of you know that not too long ago it was fairly commonplace for a corporate officer, or his family, to have favorable contractual relations with his own corporation. That day has passed.

So far as I know, the sale of one's voice or vote, in private or public affairs, has always been illegal.

Congress has required the holders of many offices in the executive branch of government to dispose of personal financial interests, which might conflict with their public responsibilities.

I am sorry to say Congress has been somewhat slower to impose such standards upon its own membership.

Should a member of Congress whose law firm represents a common carrier for example, act on as a committee member or vote on the floor on measures affecting common carriers? Or should one, with business interests or business associates in the mining industry pass on such measures as depletion allowances?

We have come to expect a member of the judicial branch to disqualify himself from sitting on a case where his personal interests or associates might be thought to color his view. The same holds true for the executive branch. Should not the same practice be followed in Congress and in other legislative bodies?

I think it clearly should.

For many years, with increasing support from my colleagues, I have proposed legislation to require all members of Congress to report annually their income from all sources, including gifts, and their assets and liabilities, as well as all dealings in securities and commodities and real property. These would be filed with the comptroller general as public records available to both press and public. Such reports would also be required of candidates for Congress and top officials in both the legislative and executive branches.

Adoption of a disclosure requirement of the sort proposed—at every level of government, Federal, state and local, would put new meaning—real meaning—into the somewhat hackneyed expression that "public office is a public trust."

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

In addition to federal elected officials, Senator Case's proposal would include city, township, county and state elected officials. Full disclosure by these incumbents and by "candidates" for these offices might provide some very interesting reading. As expected, the individual with a "clean slate" would have nothing to worry about.—J.C.

Swedish parents visit Elsie, see community

By CATHY ROBINSON
Ovid-Elsie High

David Williams, a senior at Ovid-Elsie, spent his summer in Sweden last year with Mr and Mrs Lindquist and their son Per. Their home is situated in central Sweden in a town called Odensbacken. Mr Lindquist owns and manages a 1,700-acre forest in south Sweden.

To make his stay enjoyable as well as exciting, the Lindquists took Dave to the southern town of Bostad to watch tennis tournaments, then back to Göteborg to see the ship building harbor and Sweden's second largest city. Their next excursion was a trip to Helsinki Finland by boat.

After his two-month stay with his mother and father he returned to his home in Elsie. Dave's Swedish brother, Per, is now living in Pigeon, Mich., with Karl Leppien; he is a senior at Lakeland High School.

Per's parents, having never been to the United States took this opportunity to visit their two sons. The couple arrived in New York Feb. 13; from there they flew to Michigan. Dave met his Swedish family in Saginaw and took them to his home where they met his parents and relatives. While in Elsie they toured the new Ovid-Elsie High School and visited Green's Registered Holstein farm. From Elsie Dave and his Swedish family went to Pigeon where they celebrated "Far's" birthday.

The Lindquist's and Per then departed from Michigan and headed for Florida where they visited relatives they have not seen in many years. From Florida the family ventured to Pennsylvania to visit with other relatives.

Ingrid and Marten Lindquist will return home March 3 and Per will finish out his school year and then be reunited with his parents the early part of the summer.

5 hurt slightly in US-27 crash

Five persons were treated for injuries early last Wednesday morning following a two-car collision of US-27 at Maple Rapids Road.

The cars were driven by Stanley Clark, 18, of Maple Rapids, and Samuel Dickinson, 21, of 720 E. Coleman Road, Lansing. Both were northbound on snowy and slippery US-27, according to state police, and the accident occurred when Clark turned left at the Maple Rapids Road intersection.

Treated for minor injuries at Clinton Memorial Hospital were both drivers, along with Robert Mitchell, 37, of rural St. Louis (riding with Dickinson) and Jacqueline Clark and Mary Redman (riding with Clark) of Maple Rapids.

The accident occurred about 6 a.m. Feb. 28.

'Spirit Week' big at Bath High

By MARILYN SIDEL
Bath High School

Feb. 19 through 23 was Spirit Week at Bath High School. This week was arranged by the cheerleaders to provoke more spirit from the student body, as this has been a big problem all year.

Monday, Feb. 19, was String 'Em Up Day. The cheerleaders tied balloons up all over the school and everyone wore pieces of string.

Tuesday, Feb. 20, was Hat Day. The student body wore different varieties of hats ranging from cowboy hats to straw hats covered with bows.

Wednesday, Feb. 21, was Legs Day and everyone wore crazy colored socks. The wilder the better. Some of the kinds of socks were: fishnet hose covered with sequins, hunting socks, and knee socks with flower decorations pasted on.

Thursday February 22 was Scurve Day! Everyone was allowed to dress as they pleased, but the girls could not wear slacks or shorts. The clothes ranged from sloppy sweatshirts to a granny dress with all the trimmings.

Friday, Feb. 23, was Hush Day. This meant that none of the girls could talk to a boy, and they could talk to men teachers only during class. If a girl did happen to talk to a boy she would then forfeit her Hush Button to him. At the end of the day the boy with the most Hush Buttons was crowned Mr Irresistible. Mr Irresistible is Don Adams with 54 hush buttons and the runner-up was Ricky Smith with 45 hush buttons. Both are freshmen.

To top the week off, the junior class sponsored a dance after the game, featuring the electric Circus Band. As a conclusion to school spirit, Friday, March 1, the boys had their chance to ignore the girls for the day. The girl that persuaded the most boys to talk to her would be crowned Miss Irresistible and she is Judy Friend, a senior with 11 hush buttons and runner-up was Debbie Barnard, a freshman, with 10 buttons.

The theme for this year's Junior-Senior Prom has been decided upon. It was voted upon by the members of the junior class that had their dues paid. They selected the theme Camelot over "The Fountain of Treva" and "Swiss Alps." Mrs Tschetter, the junior class sponsor, says that as of yet nothing is definite about the date of the prom.

"Let's talk dry cleaning"

by Dana Antes

It seems impossible, but Easter is just a few short weeks away . . . and it's none too early to be thinking of your Easter outfit now. There's nothing a woman loves better than a complete new look for the Easter Parade. It's not always possible to have everything new . . . but everything can look like new!

If you're buying a new dress, better take a look at the coat you might wear with it (with this season's unpredictable weather you may need it). One piece with soil spots or a faded look can dim the luster of your new finery. And if you're going to settle for a gay new Easter hat instead of a new outfit, then be sure to bring in that special dress or suit for cleaning. We'll have it ready in plenty of time for the holiday, spotlessly clean and crisply pressed to look as bright and new as anything you'll see on Easter Sunday!

Your fine clothes get a thorough cleaning in a series of solvents when we do them . . . to remove not only surface stains but deep-down soil. And they're handled with care! Bring them in . . . or call.

Maple Rapids to issue bonds for street work

MAPLE RAPIDS—The Maple Rapids will issue $35,000 in motor vehicle highway fund bonds to finance the major portion of improvements to North Maple Avenue in the village. The rest of the money—about $6,500—will come from the general fund.

The State Highway Department has already approved the $41,500 project, which will involve about three-quarters of a mile of repair and resurfacing of the street from the Maple Rapids bridge to the county line and village limits.

The bond money will be repaid with funds received from motor vehicle highway fund reimbursements. The funds are the local government's share of state-collected gas tax, car licenses and similar fees.
