Hufnagel wants GOP nomination

TONY HUFNAGEL

ST. JOHNS—Clinton County Under-Sheriff Anthony (Tony) Hufnagel announced Monday that he will seek the Republican nomination for the Sheriff's post. Current Sheriff Percy J. Patterson said he would not seek the nomination.

Hufnagel, a lifelong resident of Clinton County, was appointed Under-Sheriff by Sheriff Patterson in August 1971, to replace retiring Under-Sheriff Hilary Hafner. Hufnagel has served the Clinton County Sheriff Department since 1966. He advanced to the rank of sergeant in June, 1970.

Under-Sheriff Hufnagel is a 1960 graduate of St. Johns High School and is in a police administration program at Lansing Community College.

Hufnagel and his wife, the former Lana Peiffer of Carson City, have four children and reside at 1818 West Walker Road in St. Johns.

Dan Matson, a DeWitt attorney, and Roger Overway also of DeWitt are Hufnagel's campaign directors.

Snow chase nabs two

By TIM YOUNKMAN

OVID—There's a new movie out with ski champ Jean Claude Killy playing a super thief who escapes capture by rambling across the Alps in a snowmobile then onto skis.

An out-county pair weren't quite as successful here last week when they tried to escape cross-country from pursuing Clinton County Sheriff's deputies and 12 other officers from units in the area.

It might even be likened to a key-stone comedy, with all of the police units chasing the two men.

Francis Leon Griffith, 30, Balcom Road, Ovid, left work in a Lansing factory at about 3 a.m. Friday. He told deputies that he had been followed from the plant parking lot by a brown 1964 Ford, with two men inside.

At about five miles south of Ovid on Meiridan Road the Ford began to ram the back of Griffith's car, he told deputies. The impact forced him into a stop sign and into a field across the front yard of the Don Kast residence, 4901 S. Meridian Road.

Clinton County deputies, who were about six miles away, were summoned by Kast, who apparently saw the accident. When deputies arrived, they discovered both vehicles disabled and the occupants of the Ford had fled on foot.

That's when the chase began. Three neighbors offered the use of their snowmobiles to the deputies—Don Kennell, Robert Van Gieson and Paul St. Johns—and they were off cross-country in hot pursuit.

Five miles, and a few bumps and bruises, later the deputies caught up with the suspects near the Ovid Convalescent Home on M-21 in Ovid.

Arrested were Jack A. Bradley, 36, 8375 W. Monroe Road, Elwell and Orlin DeWelch, 18, R-2, Shepherd. They were charged with felonious assault Friday.

They were arraigned before District Court Judge Roland Duguay Friday and both men pled not guilty to the assault charge, demanding examination.

Trial was set for March 17 and both were returned to jail after failing to post $5,000 each.

Borrowing snowmobiles isn't new to the Clinton County Sheriff's Department. Since it doesn't own one, Sheriff Percy Patterson said the department has made arrangements to borrow them if the need arises.

The chase and capture involved police units from Clinton County, DeWitt and Bath Townships, the Village of Ovid and the State Police.

Public hearings set to settle controversy

ST. JOHNS—Public hearings on several issues that have generated public interest in recent months will be held during the next few weeks, city officials said Monday.

The most recent controversy concerning a proposed housing and apartment complex on Sickles Street, across from the St. Johns High School, will receive attention Monday night during the regular city commission meeting.

The meeting, set for 7:30 p.m. in the commission meeting room of the Municipal Building, is the final step before commissioners vote to decide the fate of the apartment complex.

The apartments, developed by Fedewa Builders, Inc., of Fowler, would take approximately 400 by 420 feet of land across from the high school. Opponents to the plan have argued that traffic congestion, population density and sanitary conditions would prevent the apartments from fitting into the comprehensive city plan, recently established by local officials.

Any decision by the commission would require a two-thirds vote rather than a simple majority. Officials expect a large attendance of interested citizens.

The St. Johns Planning Commission will hold a public hearing March 23 at the Municipal Building during a special meeting.

The commissioners will hear public

Train-truck crash kills two

ST. JOHNS—A Hayworth, Ill. man and his son were killed Thursday afternoon when the truck they were riding in was demolished by a Grand Trunk Western train at the Clinton Avenue crossing near Railroad Street here.

Harold Dale Prosser, 55 and his son Stephen Earl Prosser, 23, were killed instantly when the westbound train ripped through the cab of their semi.

The truck was southbound on Clinton Avenue when the truck pulled onto the tracks in front of the train, which was travelling at about 45 miles per hour and consisted of three engines and 55 cars.

Witnesses said the signal flashers were in operation and the train whistle blasted as the engines approached the crossing.

After impact, the truck was forced into the signal tower causing it to lean precariously on its spindle-like legs.

Operators of the train were listed as Lewis D. Sakrenas of Lennon and Dale E. Streever of Bancroft. Witnesses included Ronald Betz, R-1, Elsie and John Caudy, 208 Wight St., St. Johns.

Police said the truck, owned by Prosser, was leased to Star Delivery of Canton, Ill.

Bus, car collide in dense fog

WESTPHALIA — A Pewamo-Westphalia bus filled with elementary school children collided Tuesday morning (Feb. 29) with an auto while trying to make a left turn in dense fog.

The bus, operated by Anthony John Spitzley, 72, 6260 Westphalia St., Westphalia, was attempting to make a left turn at 543 Wright Road in Westphalia Township. Several of the children were injured, none seriously.

Driver of the other vehicle, Mark Anthony Hufnagel, 24, of Pewamo and his wife, Leone, a passenger were injured and taken to Carson City Hospital.

Spitzley rushed the children from the bus after the collision as the car burst into flames. He then grabbed a fire extinguisher and put out the fire.

Spitzley said he was going to make a left turn into a driveway to pick up a student and didn't see any other vehicles approaching. Hufnagel told deputies he saw the bus' left turn signal but thought the driver was waiting to let his car pass.

The Hufnagels were taken to the home of Ted Rademacher to wait for an ambulance.

No tickets were issued by the Clinton County Sheriff's Department deputies investigating the accident.

While deputy Larry Floate was investigating the accident his vehicle was struck from behind by a car driven by Roy Peter Smith, 35, 11046 W. Clinton St., Fowler. The patrol car was in the first lane of traffic and his flashers were on, but Smith said he did not see the warning lights.

Smith's auto skidded 120 feet before the collision in the heavy fog. He was not ticketed, but his vehicle was damaged extensively. Little damage to the patrol car was reported.

Cancer fund drive set

The annual educational and fund-raising Crusade of the American Cancer Society opens April 1 against a background of the fight against cancer rating high national priority.

"We want to wipe out cancer in your lifetime, is the motivating theme," explained Mrs. Audrey Fruchtl of the Clinton County American Cancer Society Unit. "We will be asking everyone to back up this goal with an annual health checkup and a generous check when our volunteer comes around."

Pointing out that there is more concern about cancer than ever before among Americans, Mrs. Fruchtl said the 1972 Crusade will seek to involve the many Americans who are careless or forgetful of the need for regular health checkups. Plans for the 1972 Crusade, Mrs. Fruchtl explained include nationwide distribution of 45,000,000 leaflets urging women to go for Pap tests for uterine cancer.

*Although a nationwide

Gallup study showed a gradual increase in the percentage of people who do get checkups—from 57 percent in 1962 to 62 percent in 1970—there was a slowing down in the rate of increase of those who went for specific cancer tests," Mrs. Fruchtl said.

The fact that many cancers can be cured if detected early enough and treated promptly is the urgent message the Crusade will bring to the American people.

"Today we are saving one out of three cancer patients," Mrs. Fruchtl declared, "but with our present knowledge we could save one out of two if only people were alert to the warning signals, the safeguards against cancer and the need for the regular checkup." The safeguards, such as avoiding excessive sun, stopping cigarette smoking and others will be stressed during the Crusade for year-round vigilance.

"We will use the Crusade this year to remind the public that there are 1,500,000 Americans today who are cured of cancer and that the number could be increased if everyone would try to protect themselves from cancer."

Planting trees good practice for Clinton

Planting of trees is a popular conservation practice applied by the cooperators of the Clinton County Soil Conservation District, according to Clarence Manning, Vice-Chairman of the Clinton District. The district office at 103 S. Ottawa St., accepts orders for 100, 500, or 1,000 trees from Co-operators on a cooperative arrangement with a private nursery who deliver the trees to St. Johns during the last of April.

Barbara Rehm, executive secretary for the Clinton S.C.D., said that there is still time to order conifers, and the smaller sizes of Carpathian Walnuts, but that the large 36 to 80 inch high Carpathina Walnuts were all sold for this spring's delivery. The Carpathian Walnut is a beautiful, fast growing shade tree with tropical appearing foliage. It produces large delicious, thin-shelled English type walnuts.

Many people, when they plant Carpathian Walnuts, use a sheet of black plastic about three-foot-square over the tree, making a slit in the plastic just large enough to put the tree through. Next place an old tire on the plastic to keep it in place. The plastic and tire kills the soil and prevents the grass from competing with the small tree. Good growth of the tree results from this practice.

A windbreak of conifers around a home can reduce the effects of a cold wind. For example, the Wind-Chill index shows that at 20 degrees with a 15 mile per hour wind, the Chill temperature is negative 6 degrees. The sooner you plant your trees, the sooner you will begin to receive windbreak protection.

Seedling trees of Red Pine, Austrian Pine, White Pine, White Spruce, Scotch Pine, Colorado Blue Spruce may be purchased at the Clinton Soil Conservation District office.

Windbreaks help control soil blowing, reduce the drying effects of wind on soil particles on young tender seedlings. A conifer windbreak can be a big help in having an early vegetable garden. The kinds of trees you need for your soil type can be part of your conservation plan. Technical assistance in soil capabilities to the cooperators of the Clinton S.C.D. are made by the technicians of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service at 100 South Ottawa, St. Johns.

Lester E. Bell, Extension Specialist in Forestry, in a report to District Directors said:

1. There is no surplus of good Christmas trees.
2. There appears to be an expanding demand for Michigan Christmas trees.
3. We are not planting enough trees currently to meet future demands.

He also made this observation: "Most of the producers and dealers interviewed this year indicated that the 1971 season was the best year they had ever had. This represents a reversal of the thinking of some, who, in 1969 and 1970, had been concerned about land costs, competition from artificials and from over production. Some of these same people now realize that the Christmas tree business is a pretty good business and are concerned about having enough good trees to sell in 1972, 73, and 74.

Michigan growers have not been planting trees at a rate that will support a 5 to 6 million tree annual harvest. There will not be enough trees in future years to meet demands. Growers that have the land, the equipment and the know-how to grow good trees should be encouraged to expand their enterprise for the future of the business looks bright."

Now is the time to order trees so you can plant an area for Christmas trees.

The evergreen trees meet the specifications as set up for the R.E.A.P. cost-sharing for 1972 program year. Cost-sharing should be arranged with the A.S.C.S. office at 100 S. Ottawa, St. Johns. The District's tree planting machine may be rented for $5.00 per 1,000 trees planted and is scheduled with District Chairman Stanley Baird by telephoning him at 669-9433 in DeWitt.

Business notes

By MIKE PREVILLE
News Advertising Manager

There's a new product on the market. For women, young or old. To my knowledge it isn't available in Mid-Michigan yet but it probably will be.

You won't believe me but I swear it's true. . . The latest thing fashion designers have come up with is the "pwl". Right, the "pwl". It's pronounced "puff" and it's the latest thing for filling out a gal's figure.

Wrong, it's not a padded bra or girdle, it's a pillow that ties around midlady's waist to make her look pregnant.

Right now Jet-setters are paying up to $50 for a handmade satin and lace "pwl" so they descend upon local maternity shops and add to their wardrobes.

According to a story in a Detroit paper the reason the "pwl" was created was. . . well it boils down to envy. It seems that expectant mothers are treated much, much nicer by clerks, cabbies and the public in general. People riding the subway offer their seats, head waiters find tables more quickly, complete strangers open doors and everyone is polite.

And I guess being pregnant is safer, too. No devilish cad would try to "pick-up" an expectant mom.

At least those were the observations of a couple of the designers who equipped some women with "pwl's" and sent them out into the cold cruel world.

One gal (single) reported that her boyfriend even treated her differently the first time she wore one. I'll betcha he did, too. Instant pregnancy they call it. . . and I'm against it. I'm not against the girls trying to horn in on the politeness usually reserved for mothers to be. I'm not against them trying to start a new fad to boost the sales of maternity clothes. I'm not against Mrs. "Portly" looking stylish and claiming she's wearing a "pwl".

I'm against the shock value. Can you imagine Mrs. Slim and Trim married 30 years strapping a "xxx on a 'pwl'" and meeting the old man at the door. Even if he recovered from the stroke, he'd never forgive her.

It all sounds ridiculous doesn't it. But knowing women (as little as I do) I wish I had stock in the company.

WE HAVE HAD car sales, clothing sales, white sales, shoe sales, food sales. . . all kind of sales. Central National Bank is having a sale like I've never heard of before. A "Money Sale". It comes down to this. . . They're selling installment loans of $500 or more at 10% off. I've already tried to buy a used $10 bill for $9 but that's not the way it works.

Parents sign-up youngsters

ST. JOHNS — Nearly 100 parents and youngsters were on hand at Bee's Chevrolet-Olds on Saturday, March 4, to register for the 1972 Annual Soap Box Derby.

Derby Director John Arhart opened the session with a brief introduction and was followed by Derby Inspector Tom Hutton who showed a short film strip about derby car floorboards and brakes.

He also gave numerous tips on design techniques, preliminary planning and materials. Rule books were also given those wishing to participate in this year's derby race.

More than 50 youngsters have already been registered for the derby. Those who have not yet registered may do so at any time during the normal business hours at the Bee Chevrolet-Olds business office.

Steering wheels for the cars are available free at Bee's. T-shirts and helmets are also free to race participants. Official Soap Box Derby wheels and axles can be purchased for $21.50 at Bee's and can be picked up at any time.

A second clinic is scheduled for 10:00 a.m., April 8, in the Community Room at Bee's new building. At that time, further instructions will be given about the completion of the race cars. The completed cars will be inspected on May 6, and any violations of design and construction rules will be pointed out.

The completed cars will participate in a trial run on Railroad Street on May 13.

Group asks help for new crisis center

The organization lists a core of young people who are seeking support and volunteers toward the success of this venture. This is a pilot program of the Clinton, Eaton, Ingham Community Mental Health's Comprehensive Drug Treatment Program.

There will be a meeting for those interested on Thursday, March 9 at 7 p.m. in the Green Room of St. John's Episcopal Church in St. Johns. Further inquiries may be directed to Mrs. Chris Riddle at the Clinton County Common Ground Inc., 224-4232, Monday through Friday between 3 p.m. and 6 p.m.

The final inspection of the cars will take place on May 17 at which time all completed cars will be impounded until race day.

Race day is scheduled for Sunday, May 21, or in case of rain, Memorial Day, May 29.

Bits and Pieces

You pick 'em!

By HAROLD SCHMALTZ

Wow! The districts are over. Three out of seven district champs for our immediate area, that's not too bad, is it? Naturally, it would have been nice to have seen St. Johns and Ovid Elsiego on to regional competition but I guess they'll have to wait until next year, so the old saying goes. As far as the contest between Bath and DeWitt, I guess all you can say is that the better team won.

I had the occasion to cover the activities at Ionia Friday night between Grand Rapids Covenant Christian and Fowler and what a game that was! Double overtime, a few breaks here and there, and at the end, tears for some and joy for others, that was about it. I would say this, when Mr. Bol fouled out in the first part of the second overtime, Fowler must have realized by then that somebody upstairs liked them because from that point on the BIG OBSTACLE was removed from their path. I've covered a good many games in my time and this one would have to be one of the most exciting ones I've ever seen. I'll bet Ruth Koenigs knecht as well as the rest of the rooting section would agree with me, too.

It appeared as though the Yellowjackets of Ithaca might realize their dream of becoming district champs as they polished off cross-country rival Alma quite badly. But it seems that Hemlock had other ideas along those lines, too, as Ithaca was jolted to a Saturday night defeat in the district finals.

AT ANY RATE, next week will tell the story as to what teams will go on to state quarter-final action. We'll just have to wait and see. Right now, I'd say Fowler and Bath have real good chances of making at least the first rounds of the state, possibly further. Right at this point, Pewamo-Westphalia, in my opinion, would have to be a question mark. I understand there's some real strong class C teams out there in the territory they'll have to contend with. We'll just have to wait and see.

Open Letter from VAN W. HOAG

Dear friends,

It deserves emphasis that the time, the place, the character of the funeral service, the merchandise used, the cemetery selected - these are decisions of the family of the deceased. The funeral director acts only as a representative of the family.

The clergyman should be consulted in matters that concern him before any decisions are made.

Respectfully,

Van W. Hoag

Smoking fate

SMOKING'S FATE

Smoking is a drag Don't let it become your bag!

Each puff shall shorten your life Smoking is dull as the dullest knife.

Oh yes, it costs money those few packs a day Why spend your money dying that way?

Smoking may keep you from gaining some weight, But what's worse, that or a horrible fate?

And once you've smoked your cares away, You find it's your life that left you that day!

Ah! Now you smoke two packs a day Are you proud of smoking your life away?

Do you find it fun smoking day after day Pack after pack as your life drifts away?

And your son do you think he'll smoke to? Of course he will he'll follow you.

And he'll probably die in the prime of his age Because his father smoked him into a cage.

And now you don't listen to me, Now you smoke constantly.

Now you believe smoking's true blue And now you'll find out it's the end of you!

Portland Player set for production

PORTLAND — Portland Civic Players are well set for the March 10, 11 and 17, 18 production of "On A Clear Day" which will be held at the Sun Theater Playhouse in Portland.

Fran Huhn, director for the musical, has announced those in lead roles as: Anne Eddy, Jim Trierweller, Jeff Milbourne, Ruth Ann Peake and Rich Hallabrin. Tickets are available in advance from any Portland Civic Player member or at Peake Electric in Portland, or may be purchased at the door the night of the performances. Curtain time is 8:10 p.m.

Senior citizens may ask about special rates.

Beat Waverly, but fall to East Lansing

Redwings lose district game

Ed Jorae (15) of St. Johns gets an unwanted block from a Waverly Warrior during Tuesday night's 70-64 overtime Redwing victory.

ST. JOHNS—The East Lansing Trojans weren't very appreciative guests during their stay in St. Johns last week. And they were put in their place, but not before ending St. Johns' Redwings post season title hopes.

The Redwings, host of the 1972 Class A district tournament, slipped behind a devastating first quarter attack Thursday night and by the time they could get their bearings it was over.

The Trojans outscored St. Johns 30-14 in the first quarter and 19-14 in the second to take a commanding 49 to 28 lead at halftime.

Utilizing a full court press, East Lansing forced the jittery Redwings into mistakes and capitalized. With the press and the advantage in height, East Lansing thwarted every St. Johns' drive.

With both teams freely substituting in the second half, the Redwings kept pace with the Trojans 15-15 in the third quarter and outscored them 21-20 in the last period. A total of 25 players got into tourney action, 10 of them for St. Johns.

Alex MacKinnon led the Redwings with 15 points, on five field goals and five of seven free throws. The only other Redwing in double figures was Ed Jorae with 11 points on four field goals and three of four free throws.

Other St. Johns scorers were Mike Sutherland (8), Mike Grost (6), Rick Hudson (3), Ken Schueller (4), Bruce Irish (3), Chuck Falvor (3), Dan Mohnke (3) and Dennis Parker (1).

Scott Dickenson led the Trojans with 20 points on eight field goals and four of five free throws.

St. Johns could only manage 14 baskets against the East Lansing press on 49 shots for a 29 per cent mark. The Trojans had 34 of 61 shots for a 56 per cent. The Redwings hit 36 of 53 free throw shots for 68 per cent, bettering the mark set by East Lansing of 16 for 30 or 53 per cent.

A total of 53 fouls and 53 turnovers were committed in the contest, mainly in the wild second half.

East Lansing finally paid for upending their hosts by losing to Ionia Saturday night in the tournament finals.

Redwing fans were treated to a better show Tuesday night as their home town cagers upset favored Waverly in the tournament opener.

It was doubly sweet for St. Johns since it was the first time the Redwings have ever defeated the Warriors in basketball.

The teams traded basket and missed shots with Waverly taking a slim one-point halftime lead 31-30. The see-saw battle continued in the second half with the Redwings holding the slim one-pointer after three quarters.

Waverly came back to outscore St. Johns by one in the last quarter to knot the game. It wasn't quite that easy for St. Johns, who were trailing late in the game. They were down by one point in the fading seconds as Rick Hudson went to the foul line after being hit putting in a bucket. He calmly swished the basket, sending the home towners into near ecstasy.

The overtime period started as a nightmare for the Redwings as Waverly pushed in the first basket, but St. Johns' Mike Sutherland, high-point man for the Redwings, came through with three straight baskets. St. Johns held out for a 70-64 overtime win, which advanced them to the East Lansing game.

Sutherland's 28 points came on nine baskets and 10 of 12 free throws. Alex MacKinnon pushed through 13 points on three field goals and seven of 11 free throws.

Others scoring for St. Johns were Parker (1), Jorae (1), Schueller (3), Hudson (9), Grost (2), Mohnke (4), Irish (6), and Falvor (3).

The Redwings netted 22 of 54 for 41 per cent, while Waverly hit 21 of 57 for 37 per cent. St. Johns hit 26 of 39 free throws for 67 per cent and the Warriors had 22 of 32 for 69 per cent.

The Redwings finished the season with a 4-14 overall record, while Waverly ended with 8-10 and East Lansing was 10-8.

Scoring by quarters:
St. Johns 16 14 17 13 10 70
Waverly 16 15 15 14 4 64

St. Johns 14 14 15 21 64
E. Lansing 30 19 15 20 84

Flying high! St. Johns' Ken Schueller (23) gets off a bucket against two airborne East Lansing players Thursday night during Class A district cage competition. The Redwings lost 84-64.

Fowler snares district title in double o-t win

IONIA—Talk about winning the close ones.

The Fowler Eagles had to go into two overtime periods before they could claim the 1972 Class D district title against a stubborn Grand Rapids Covenant Christian here Friday night.

The Eagles jumped off to trail the Charges 18-11 and had to fight back in the second quarter to claim a 31-26 halftime lead. But the story had just started as the Charges got back the five points in the third quarter outscoring Fowler 25-20 and both teams netted 15 points in the fourth quarter, sending the game into overtime.

Fowler and Grand Rapids traded buckets and each had eight points in the first overtime, but the Charger's hot-handed Joh Bol, who had collected 40 points, fouled out during the first overtime to finally put a hole in the Grand Rapids armor. Fowler had 12 points in that final overtime, while Christian managed nine.

"They are a real good club," commented Eagle Coach Charles Trierweller about the Grand Rapids team. "They had good size and they played a lot different against us. The game could have gone either way."

The Eagles dominated the Charges in the statistics as Fowler outrebounded Grand Rapids 56-46, with Glen Thelen, Tony Thelen and Mel Pohl all getting 10. "The turnovers were a strong point for us," Trierweller said. "We had only five in the first half and they had 17. We had seven in the second half and they had 11."

Fowler staged its famous full-court press throughout the game, trying to stall the fast Chargers. Grand Rapids also tried a press, with limited success.

Each team fouled 34 times, with Fowler nailing 26 of 49 shots and Grand Rapids had 21 of 43.

Trierweller cited the steady play of Mel Pohl, Harr and Tony Thelen, "but don't overlook the other players," he said. The Eagle coach utilized 10 players during the game, which he had done in earlier games. "I'm glad we had them in there before."

The Eagles lost four players via the foul route, as Harr, Glen Thelen, John Pohl and Bill Thelen ended the evening with five fouls each.

Four Chargers were also retired early because of fouls.

Mel Pohl led the Eagles with 28 points on 10 field goals and eight of 13 free throw tries. Harr had a good night, netting 20 points on seven buckets and six of six charities. Tony Thelen chipped in with 16 points on four field goals and eight of 12 free throws.

Others scoring for Fowler were Bill Thelen (3), Glen Thelen (6), John Pohl (6), Dan Jandernoa (2) and John Simon (5).

The Eagles saw Christian dispose of Grand Rapids St. Joseph Seminary Wednesday and were able to view some of the tactics that would be used against them in the title game. "They knew they would have to be great to beat Grand Rapids," Trierweller said.

"All I can say is that our boys had one heck-of-a team effort. They did extremely well and that also goes for the offense. These kids have tremendous desire and pride. They have overcome some handicaps and are real competitors," Trierweller said.

The Eagles gained a title berth by slamming the Shamrocks of Portland St. Patrick 71-63 Tuesday night.

Fowler held a narrow one point lead at the end of a quarter 17-16, but opened up the game a bit in the second quarter, with the help of a full-court press, to take a halftime margin 31-25.

The Eagles held on in both the final quarters scoring two points more than the Shamrocks to take the district win and a chance at the crown.

Both Harr and Glen Thelen led the Eagles with dual 20-point performances. Harr had seven field goals and six of 12 free throws, while Thelen hit for six buckets and eight of 10 charities.

Others scoring for Fowler included Tony Thelen (5), Pohl (9), Jandernoa (6), Bill Thelen (2), Simon (2), Scott Spicer (5) and Bob MacKinnon (2).

Fowler outrebounded the Shamrocks 36-30 with Glen Thelen hauling down 15 and Harr bagged nine.

"The whole team was more balanced," noted Trierweller.

The Eagles will travel to Mt. Pleasant Thursday night to take an Arenac Eastern at Finch Fieldhouse on the campus of Central Michigan University. Game time is set for 8:30 p.m. Should Fowler defeat Arenac, the Eagles will face the winner of the Mt. Pleasant Sacred Heart-Webberville game. The championship round, which Fowler lost last year to Saginaw St. Joseph, will be held Saturday.

Scoring by quarters:
Fowler 17 14 17 23-71
St. Pat's 16 9 16 22-63

Fowler 11 20 20 15 8 12-86
Christian 8 25 15 8 9-83

Up and in to tie the game. Fowler's Mel Pohl saves the day for the Eagles as he ties up the contest with this layup moments before time runs out in regulation play. The score here was 61-61.

Congratulations champs! An Ionia tournament official congratulates Alan Harr (54) and his Fowler teammates following the Eagles' double overtime victory over Grand Rapids Covenant Christian, Friday night. Fowler advances to Regional play against Arenac Eastern Thursday night at Mt. Pleasant.

P-W Pirates to face St. Stephen in regional

By TIM YOUNKMAN

EDMORE — Pewamo-Westphalia may be on its way to winning its first Class C regional basketball championship in the school's history, when they take on Saginaw St. Stephen's Tuesday night at Midland High School.

The Pirates gained a berth in the regional games by clipping Montabella in overtime during a heart-stopping contest here Friday night, 75-69.

The Pirates trailed by two points with only four seconds left on the clock when Roy Piggott fired home an outside jumper to knot the game at 65-65.

Then the Pirates poured on the steam, rallying for 10 points in the overtime period, while limiting Montabella to only four points.

"They have a real fine ball club and they sure like to run," noted P-W Coach Harry Peacock.

The Pirates found the going rough in the third quarter after taking a slim 32-30 halftime lead into the dressing room. P-W was down by 12 points at one time during the disastrous third quarter, before pulling together with the help of Mike Thelen. Thelen slammed home for straight buckets from inside before fouling out to lift the Pirates within striking distance.

Montabella held a 55-49 at the third quarter buzzer, but the Pirates caught up and tied the game in that last second thriller.

Four free throws and a couple of outside shots saved the day for P-W, who had trouble getting the ball inside against the taller Montabella squad.

"We try to run a lot and get a lot of points off the fast break," Peacock said. We don't really have the size, but we can hit the boards real hard. This was our best game and it was explosive.

The Pirates did control the boards with a 66-47 rebound advantage. Steve Wirth collected 19 rebounds, while Mike Thelen nabbed 14 and Randy Fedewa snared 11.

Piggott led the Pirate attack with 27 points on 10 field goals and seven of 15 free throw tries. Both Mike Thelen and Doug Walter hit 14 points; Thelen on seven field goals, and Walter on three field goals and eight of eight charity tosses.

Others scoring for P-W were Wirth (7), Mike Cotter (6), Fedewa (2) and Tom Thelen (3).

The Pirates were scheduled to challenge the highly-rated St. Stephen squad at 8 p.m. Tuesday night, while Breckenridge and Coleman will clash tonight for a chance at the title in Friday night's championship contest.

"St. Stephen has a real fine club and we'll have to play our best game of the year to beat them," Peacock said. The Saginaw squad will feature a tall line with a 6-5 center and 6-3 forward.

"We will have to run against them. They have good size and are good shooters," Peacock said after scouting the Saginaw team Saturday night. "We'll have to keep the pressure on, but can't use the full court press. They are good ball handlers so we'll just have to run with them."

The Pirates keep their season going with a 14-5 record while Montabella ended its season with a 12-7 mark.

Bath wins district tourney

Clinton County News Photo By Timothy Younkman

The Bath Bees and Paul Stoll (40) flex their muscles for the clash against Mayville Thursday night after taking the Class C district crown by dropping DeWitt 71-63 Friday night. They will take on Mayville in the Owosso Regional.

DeWITT—Bath's Bees will tangle with Mayville Thursday night in Owosso to open their regional competition, after the Bees captured the Class C district title here Friday night before a capacity audience, dropping DeWitt 71-63.

The Bees rallied in the second quarter to overcome a 14-13 deficit after the first buzzer and went on to control the Panther attack with a full-court press that neutralized the often speedy DeWitt squad.

The Bees pulled away early in the third quarter, only to find the ball handling of Pat Botke and Ron Wilcox and the outside shooting of Mark Simon too much to handle all at once. Bath held on to what appeared to be a slim five point lead and forced a number of late-game turnovers to notch their 13th win of the year against five losses.

"The kids played hard enough," Bath Coach Dick Wilt said. "If you can get out of the districts with a win, that's pretty good. All in all, I was satisfied."

could not have scored the 100-plus points they did in the opening game of the year. They handed DeWitt a 106-69 drubbing in November. "They have improved a lot. They are a lot tougher on the boards and Simon had a hot hand," Wilt said.

Wilt said that Randy Markham and Roy Dobson carried the team early. "They kept us in the game until Stoll asserted himself. Besides his 16 points, Markham had 12 assists in the game.

"We wanted to upset the offense a great deal," Wilt said of his full-court press throughout the game. I think Dale Cantwell and Dobson carried the press," Wilt noted that DeWitt had 17 turnovers in the game.

"We played well," DeWitt Coach Frank Deak said. "We stayed close in rebounding and only lost the ball twice on the press."

Deak said the press didn't harm DeWitt's game plan of slowing the pace down. He said that was one of the reasons the Panthers were slaughtered in the first meeting with Bath. The smaller Panthers tried to outrun the Bees, but couldn't handle them under the boards.

Mark Simon, who led the Panthers with 23 points, was an unexpected surprise for DeWitt. "We came on at the end of the year. He just couldn't get untracked in the early part of the season."

Deak was pleased with the play of Doug Klaver, the center averaging 18 points a game. He is also the team's top rebounder with some 200 for the year.

"We did a decent job on Paul Stoll," Deak said. "He had 18 points but only had seven up until the fourth quarter."

Stoll led the Bees with 18 points on eight field goals and two of eight free throws and also pulled down 19 rebounds. Markham netted his 16 points on four field goals and eight of 11 free throws. Dobson chipped in with 15 points on seven field goals and one for one at the line. He also pulled down 10 rebounds.

Fritz Ordiway, the sophomore sharpshooter, netted three buckets and four of five Bath fans go wild as the final second ticks away, giving the Bees a Class C district title and a shot at the regionals this week in Owosso.

Two more—Bath's Paul Stoll sails through the air following his layup shot that netted him two of his 18 points against DeWitt. Looking on are Bath's Fritz Ordiway (44) and DeWitt's Ron Wilcox (45).

Elsie scouts win Kondike Derby

ELSIE—Elsie Boy Scouts of Troop 576 took first, second, fifth and sixth places at the District Klondike Derby held at Rose Lake reserve recently. The Hawk Patrol brought home the District trophy with a score of 189 points out of a possible 190. The other patrols scored 189, 179, 171. The Klondike was on winter camping. Each patrol had to pack all their equipment on a dog sled to a chosen spot and set up a complete winter camp. The boys then had to cook a dinner on open fire of steak, biscuits and hot chocolate. Troop 576 of Elsie will go to the seven state camporee in August. Over 1,100 Boy Scouts will attend from Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois and West Virginia. They will be competing against boys of each rank from Tenderfoot to Eagle. There will also be fun events such as pancake flipping, cooking and several merit badge events. Troop 576 will take 32 boys and 5 adults. Chippewa District No. 5, Boy Scouts of America, Clinton County and Portland held their annual appreciation dinner at St. Johns High School recently. Richard Sturges from Elsie was named Scouter of the Year for 1971. He was selected out of 650 adult scouters in the district. Daniel Woelner, District Scout Executive from the Chief Oskamos Council in Lansing noted that Dick has served as a Institutional Representative, Health and Safety Chairman, Ass't Cubmaster, Chairman of Pack 76 in Elsie, Ass't Scoutmaster, Scoutmaster, Neighbor Commissioner, Ass't District Commissioner and Vice Chairman of District 5 in his 11 years of Adult Scouting. A plaque with his name inscribed was presented to him for this honor.

Shepardville News

MRS. JOHN SPENCER Ph. 834-2615
Guest organist at the Shepardville United Methodist Church on Sunday, February 27 was Mr. Michael Swender. About 75 friends and former neighbors of the Russell Cavanaugh's gathered at the Shepardville United Methodist Church on Sunday, February 27 for a potluck dinner at 1:30. The Cavanaugh's have moved from the Shepardville area and now make their home at 985 Falmouth Road, McBain, Michigan. Their two sons and their families were among the guests, their daughter, Shirley was unable to be present. After the dinner all gathered in the sanctuary for a short program. Mrs. Dale Squiers acted as Mistress of Ceremonies. The program opened with all singing "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name"; Mrs. Dale Squiers and Mrs. Marion Walker sang "Out of the Ivory Palaces"; Mr. Robert Henderson played and sang "The Old Brown Pants and Gooseberry Pie"; the Larry Cavanaugh family sang "How Great Thou Art". The program closed by all singing "My Faith Looks Up to Thee". The Cavanaugh's were presented with a money tree from the church. They both said that the Shepardville area holds many fond memories for them. Their children were baptized in the Shepardville Church and took part in the many church activities. The Marion Walkers now occupy the house owned by the Cavanaugh's. Allen Going has been transferred from the Clinton County Memorial Hospital in Lansing for further treatment and observation.

Karber celebrates 50 years

Larry Karber talks with guests last week who stopped in during Karber Block's 50th anniversary open house.

Art Trierweiler and Larry Karber of Karber Block, one of St. Johns' oldest firms, greet Ralph Lebrato of Stylemaster Homes, one of the city's newest industries during open house festivities last week.

Karber Block's Art Trierweiler and Central National Bank Pres. Harold Wellman draw the name of the grand prize winner, Mrs. Edith Stockwell of St. Johns. She won all of the materials for a complete outside barbeque.

The firm has a fleet of eight trucks, set and ready to go.

First swim season a success

By TIM YOUNKMAN

ST. JOHNS—The 1971-72 swimming season, the first such program in the school's history, proved successful. After a slow start, the Redwing tankers came on to win their last four matches to end the season with a 6-5 overall record, and 3-2 in the league.

And the prospects for the next few seasons look hopeful for swimming coach Wayne Morrison.

"We swam against some good outside competition such as Holt and Mason this year and we hope to rebuild within the next two to three years with elementary and junior high swim programs," Morrison said. He noted the lower grades would be using both the municipal pool and the high school facilities to train for the varsity program.

Prospects look good for next season, too, Morrison commented, since 20 of his 25 tankers will return to the lineup, losing only five through graduation. St. Johns' varsity also sports some ninth grade talent, adding depth to the team's future hopes.

The top swimmers in the diving competition are ninth graders, usually finishing 1-2 throughout the season. They are Kurt Robbins, Joe Gombosi and Brian Stork.

Morrison said he would miss his senior competitors including Bob Elliott, a freestyle and backstroke specialist; Kim Brewbaker, who swims the 50-yard freestyle and relays; Mark Stephenson, in the 100 and 200-yard freestyle events; and Jeff Springer, who swims relays and is in his first year of swimming. Morrison said Elliott is anticipating enrolling at Central Michigan University and the Chips' swimming team.

The squad travelled to Waverly Saturday in their first all-conference meet and won 21 medals, two of them first place spots. Elliott took first place in the 100-yard freestyle with a 55.29 time and Mike Butler crossed the line at 1:11.63 for a first in the 100-yard breaststroke.

Morrison is assisted by Coach Bruce Barber.

The first of the four straight comeback wins came on Feb. 10 when the Redwings crushed Alma 68-37.

In that dual meet, the Redwings crushed Alma 68-37. Morrison said Elliott is

Hatchet job on Allen

The destruction of the 88th House District represented by Richard Allen (R-Ithaca) is claimed to be a "purge by Speaker Ryan."

Allen says he can't see it any other way except that the entire reapportionment plan submitted by the Democrats is a "blatant attempt to remake the House to suit the speaker's philosophy."

Allen's present district, under the Democratic plan, gets sliced up five ways, all of which are presently being represented by Republicans. It is obvious to everyone that the newly proposed Democratic reapportionment plan as it affects our area was not set up on a partisan basis.

It's inequity

A clear example of the inequity of government controls over the marketplace can be found in the publishing business.

Magazine, newspaper and shopping guide publishers are subject to Phase II guidelines but not the Postal Service which appears free to raise postage rates to any level it deems necessary.

In the second-class category, postal rates are slated to increase about 150 per cent over five years. Hike the first year would be 30 per cent. This affects such paid for products as newspapers and magazines. Increases are certain to be passed along to subscribers.

In the bulk mail field, the Postal Service proposes a 24 per cent increase, effective this coming May. Advertising circulars and shopping guides are affected here. Those who use or produce such products are certain to recapture the increase from consumers.

Jumping price of airmail from 11 to 13 cents an ounce also is recommended, along with a hike of 4.6 per cent in parcel post rates.

The government is talking out of both sides of its mouth when it tells business and workers to hold down prices and wages while at the same time allowing the Postal Service to plead any rate it wants.

From the state house

By DICK ALLEN 88th District Representative

"Halt! Who goes there?!!" Meow.

I just returned from a committee meeting. The subject: should cats be licensed and restricted to owner's premises unless on leash?

Certainly cats spread some diseases, kill valuable wildlife, engage in noisy, sleep-disturbing fights and do other damage, esthetic and otherwise when present in uncontrolled numbers. So philosophically, I might agree cats should be regulated.

But as a practical matter, I think it would be impossible. Cats are notoriously freedom loving and inclined to be uncommunicative when questioned. Practically won over philosophy and the bill was shelved.

All in all, this was not an earth shaking session. I mention it only because it has to do with one of my active legislative interests that seldom finds its way into this column. Animals.

Eighteen bills in this session have to do with dogs and cats. This does not include animal bills under the headings of livestock or hunting. This compares with only four bills listed in the status under the supposedly controversial, modern topic "women".

We have passed some important animal legislation since I have been in Lansing and are in the process of passing more.

We are now licensing pet shops, many of which have been a sorry mess. I think we are likely to pass legislation this year to give local units of government more power to enforce existing dog laws. Still, the majority of dogs in Michigan are not licensed and therefore do not pay their share of the costs of dog damage and county facilities and services for dog control.

Hearings in this area are often passionate affairs. Humane society people and other animal lovers are fervent in their love for animals and sometimes in their testimony. Likewise, certain groups of animal owners are passionate in their defense of their freedom to own animals without government restriction or interference.

We have had both shouts and tears at some of these meetings. But as George Montgomery, my favorite country philosopher and city legislator says, the more cat fights, the more kittens.

Unconstitutional?

Our founding fathers were told Took long and careful aim In setting up our government With fair rules for all the same; In long hand were they written Laboriously and slow To guide in future crises Direct the way to go.

It was a noble document By which we should be led But plenty folk still differ On what was meant and said; Each new law that is written Requires that these must be Various and sundry questions On Constitutionality.

The word itself is frightening It's implications vast And all who would interpret it In varied roles are cast; How strange that language simple By the fathers of our States Should be the cause and center Of such modern day debate!

Back Through the Years

From the Clinton County News files of 1971, 1962, 1947

ONE YEAR AGO March 10, 1971

The population of Clinton County officially climbed by more than 27 per cent during the past decade, according to the census figures. There are 48,492 residents compared with the 1960 figure of 37,969.

Funeral services were held for Henry L. Enochs, 109 S. Oakland St., business manager of the St. Johns school system. He suffered a fatal heart attack at his home. He took this present position in 1965.

The Fowler Eagles won the Class D district tournament in St. Johns by crushing Owosso St. Paul, 76-52. Fowler was the only Clinton team to survive the district play.

Robert M. Shinabery, Democratic challenger, defeated Republican Earl W. Canfield Monday for the Ovid village presidency.

"Success." That seems to be the best word to describe the new lunch program of the St. Johns Elementary Schools. The children seem to like the meals with hot dogs and hamburgers their favorites.

What had appeared to be the start of spring showers turned to freezing rain and blowing snow. For the most part, the wintry conditions caused a good deal of discomfort in Clinton County.

The Redwings put up quite a fight Wednesday night but it wasn't enough to surpass the effort of the East Lansing squad.

10 YEARS AGO March 8, 1962

The annual Clinton County Rural Spelling contest, sponsored by the Republican News will be held March 30 at Gunnisonville School. The contest is open to seventh and eighth graders in all rural schools.

A testimonial dinner honoring Mrs. Howard E. Woodbury of 204 N. Traver St. will be held Friday at the Kellogg Center in East Lansing. Gov. J. Swainson will present her with a Presidential citation in recognition of her volunteer work with Girl Scouts and Brownies.

The St. Johns High School band, junior band and junior orchestra all were awarded ratings of "Two" at the annual District 5 Band and Orchestra festival at Mt. Pleasant. Ratings were made on the basis of "One", as highest and "Five" as lowest.

Michigan residents with homes or cottages along lakes and streams are warned to brace themselves for dangerous flood conditions which threaten to break loose when spring breakup begins. The Conservation Department engineers report that conditions are reminiscent of those in 1947 and 1948 when the flood damage toll ran high in many parts of the state.

25 YEARS AGO March 13, 1947

Clinton County's Selective Service Board received official confirmation this week of President Truman's order to Congress ending the draft as of March 31 when the present Selective Service Law expires.

A meeting is called in the auditorium of the Municipal Building by members and prospective members of the Clinton County Country Club to consider plans for the building of a club house this spring.

The St. Johns division of the Sealed Power Corporation is about to begin an expansion program that will more than double the present building area, personnel and piston ring production, Gordon Reynolds, manager of the St. Johns division and Muskegon officials stated this week.

The Clinton County Red Cross Chapter officials this week reported that with two weeks of the month's campaign ended only 21 per cent of the county's $4,000 quota had been raised.

Hathaway Brothers of St. Johns announce the opening of a Willys Jeep Sales and Service, in connection with their produce business on E. Railroad St.

According to statistics released by County Clerk Paul Wakefield, births in Clinton County reached the highest figure in history during 1946. There were 602 babies born in the county last year. In 1945 there were 516 births.

Washington Reports

Rural act ok,d

U.S. Rep. Garry Brown

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The House last week acted to lessen the steady flow of rural Americans to our nation's cities, passing the Rural Development Act of 1972.

The legislation authorizes an increase of $580 million in grant authority for each of the next five years, the monies to be used to assist in the development of businesses, industry, community centers and services, and pollution abatement and control in our small towns and in the countryside.

Rather than create a new Federal bureaucracy, the bill would expand the roles of existing Federal agencies such as the Farmers Home Administration (FHA) and the Soil Conservation Service of the Department of Agriculture.

Today, 70 per cent of our nation's population lives on two per cent of our land. Yet, 60 per cent of the nation's substandard housing is located in rural areas. Services such as fire protection and ambulance service are often inadequate. Rural areas urgently need more water and sewer systems just to be on a par with urban areas. And, of course, more jobs are desperately needed.

These and other conditions have contributed in recent years to the continuing migration to the cities. And as people continue to arrive in the cities, overburdened city governments have been less and less able to provide the necessary, minimal services to assist individuals in obtaining adequate housing and jobs. By providing a basis for stemming the migration to the cities, the legislation is intended to alleviate some of the current pressure on city governments as well as improve opportunities for a better life in rural America.

Also last week, the House gave its final approval to a conference report appropriating $2.6 billion in foreign aid for the current fiscal year. The final appropriation slashes the original budget request by $1.1 billion. The report must still obtain Senate approval.

This week the House takes up some 24 bills, including the Noise Control Act of 1972, held over from last week, and legislation dealing with international air fares and high speed ground transportation.

Selling out?

By TIM YOUNKMAN

William F. Buckley Jr. and his reactionary friends have taken up the banner of chanting the old slogans of Might Makes Right, and we should be Saving the World For Democracy.

I would imagine that privately the language becomes much more abusive toward the liberals and moderates supporting our new China Policy—a trail blazed by the Red baiters of the 1920's and the McCarthy-ites of the 1950's (and the Goldwater-ites of the 1960's).

Most recently, Buckley was quoted as saying we "sold out" Taiwan in the process of dealing with Red China.

While it is true that we have switched from a Nationalist China posture to a Two-China Policy to a Communist China-only Policy, there is quite a difference between "selling out" the Nationalists and seeing the present world situation in a proper perspective.

Buckley's statement (and we must assume he speaks for the Conservative Ideal in this country) indicates we have followed the same course that the British did when they "sold out" Czechoslovakia and Poland, before World War II.

But there is a difference.

Britain's Prime Minister, Neville Chamberlain, in a sense, agreed that Germany could take over parts of Czechoslovakia—in short, agreed to the invasion. However, it was just a paper contract, since the Germans would have attacked anyway. Britain indicated, by signing the agreement, that a German invasion would not bring an English declaration of war.

However, we find ourselves in a different position.

By living with a policy of recognizing the Nationalists on Taiwan as the rulers of the Chinese Mainland, we have suffered 20 years of unnecessary agony. For one thing, it is clear, that the Nationalists control nothing more than the island they occupy, and it is unlikely that they will ever gain control of any part of the mainland.

Because of our policy, we have fought two full-scale wars in Asia. Count up our American dead and wounded and try to swallow the fact that they died or were maimed because we had no contact with the Chinese except on the battlefield.

We were at war with an idea we could not stop.

The Germans also had a fear of the young Communist Russia—and made the dearly mistake of invading Russia to butcher the Communist ideal. By fearing Communists and other aliens so completely, the German government became just as bad or worse in its repressive manner.

They were the prime examples of reactionaries. By President Nixon's recent trip to China, it has become evident that we no longer will accept Nationalist China on Taiwan as the representative government of 750 million people on the mainland.

In fact, the Nationalists are not the true representatives of the Formosan government. They fled there, knowing we would protect them, and took over.

We should protect the integrity of Taiwan, if the Nationalists will agree that the island is all they will be able to represent in world affairs. We won't sell them out, as long as they won't agitate discord between the mainland government and our own.

Any other arrangement could mean that unborn generations of Americans will some day spill their blood in Asia, as we have ours, because Chiang Kai Shek still dreams of marching victoriously through the gates of Peking.

By Jim Fitzgerald

Well, that about does it for childhood landmarks. Please excuse me a long sigh and short sob.

The newspaper says that, after next June, for the first time in 92 years, there will be no St. Stephen's Catholic School in Port Huron. This disappears, more tangible remains of the boy I used to be.

They tore down St. Stephen's Church several years ago, probably because it looked too much like a church. Today, churches are disguised to look like night clubs or auditoriums. The idea is that maybe a lost sheep will wander in by mistake and be converted into holy lamb chops before he can escape.

Urban Renewal, that great eraser of children's footprints, long ago wiped out much of the old neighborhood where first I delivered newspapers, and later delivered mail. The mailman was startled to learn something the paperboy had never realized: there was a commercial reason for those red lights in some 1st ward windows. The awakening came one morning via an interesting proposition concerning payment of postage due. Since then I've always said I couldn't recognize sin until I became a federal employee.

But back to St. Stephen's, from whence all sin was exorcised at 3:30 p.m. every weekday when the kids were sent home. I was a student there for 12 years and what I remember most is the nuns in their flowing habits with the bottomless pockets. The nuns were forever running raffles. Parents donated food and then bought tickets on it from their children. Any mother who didn't give at least a can of peas, and then spend 15 cents trying to win it back, was in mortal trouble if she should die before making a full confession.

Anyway, the nuns were forever dipping shoulder deep into those huge pockets to give a kid change for a quarter. Once I was a class officer and I made a motion that the kids chip in and, for Christmas, buy the nun one of those coin changers that gas station attendants wore on their belts. This motion was rudely squashed before it could be seconded. I think that nun's name was Sister Veto.

I remember the nun who spied me sneaking out of school and chased me across the 7th Street Bridge. She wanted to teach me algebra and I wanted to shoot snooker at Curley Peloso's splendid poolroom. She was gaining on me but had to give up the pursuit suddenly when I hollered back reminding that it was against the rules of the Immaculate Heart of Mary for one nun to go downtown without another nun.

I remember when World War 2 came and the nuns decided it was their patriotic duty to prepare their boys for the draft that waited. A nun who had taught biology was suddenly teaching aeronautics. She thought a Piper Cub was a young Boy Scout who played the bugle.

I remember the nuns' marvelous names: Rosario, Lucretia, Clementine, Angelina and Hortense. Not a Cheryl in a school-load.

The draft got me and I remember the furlough before I went overseas. I visited the nuns at their home, mostly to show off my sharpshooter medal, and they made a great fuss over me. As I was about to leave, the nun who had chased me across the bridge suggested that the sisters kneel down right there and pray for my safe return. And they did.

I remember thinking what a silly thing that was to do. Almost as silly as the tears that return to my eyes as I relive the moment.

I remember St. Stephen's . . .

View from the Senate

By SEN. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

One of the saddest problems in Michigan government -- and the governments of many other states as well -- is what to do about the education of Amish children.

Michigan has many Amish residents, who do not believe in keeping children in school past the eighth grade because they feel the children will learn "wordy" things that aren't good for them.

The Amish are devoutly religious people whose faith is based on the simple way of life -- primarily agra. They think of the "arts" as the arts of keeping house cooking and canning for the girls, and carpentry, farming and other related trades for the boys.

Unfortunately for the Amish, Michigan has a compulsory education law which says children must be in "regular and constant" attendance in school until they are 16 years old.

Just last week a district judge in Centerville in southern Michigan's St. Joseph County fined two Amish fathers $16 and court costs because their daughters had not attended public school regularly.

But in sentencing them Judge James E. Carr commiserated with the fathers because state education laws interfere with their religious beliefs.

Judge Carr suggested that the Legislature should change the law.

Except for some professional educators, most Michigan residents seem to feel that any group of people that lives such an exemplary life, takes care of its own, and is never a burden to society should be allowed to practice its own religious beliefs unmolested.

But the problem the Legislature faces is how to make a legal exception for the Amish without letting the doors open for anyone who doesn't want to go to school.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Clearing the picture on reapportionment

An editorial concerning the Apportionment of the Clinton County Board of Commissioners appeared in the March 1, 1972 issue of the Clinton County News. I feel that the matter needs additional information in order to present a clear picture.

First and foremost, I regard the editor as a friend and perhaps we have not had access to the same information. I take no issue with his editorial rights and I also share his criticism of some rulings which have been handed down. I refer to the Attorney General's opinion issued to Prosecuting Attorney, Patrick Kelley, in which he, Attorney General Frank Kelley, stated that the County Board of Commissioners could continue to re-apportion themselves. There was no continuing clause in the statute and the Court of Appeals ruled accordingly.

This in my opinion was paramount in creating the urgency in the present situation.

As an elected public official, I recognize the public's right and perhaps a duty to be critical of the actions of public officials. It helps make democracy work. After all, we do work for the people.

The Apportionment Committee of the Board of Commissioners, acting in good faith, spent a great amount of time and effort to draw an apportionment plan which would best serve the county and still stay within the established guidelines.

Townships and cities were consulted and their opinions were considered in drawing the plan. The present Apportionment Commission was made aware of these proceedings and I myself attended some of the joint meetings.

What I am trying to say is that this plan was adopted only after careful consideration. In casting an affirmative vote I did so, solely on the basis that it does meet the guidelines as the statute states, "as nearly as practicable."

It is a good, workable plan. I am very sure that the other commission members who voted as I did share the same feeling. The fact that the Board of Commissioners had previously approved the plan had no bearing on our vote.

If a plan for nine, thirteen or any other number of districts, within statutory limitation, would have been more practicable, I am sure it would have been adopted.

Jon Newman is an honest, dedicated young man. We all respect him for his fortitude in expressing his views as he saw them, which naturally are from a legal viewpoint. He voted according to his convictions as did all other members of the commission, however I wish to point out that no where in the statute are percentages mentioned. Jon's mention of them arose from a case which was tried in Court. I feel that it was good that the decision was by majority vote and not unanimous.

In regard to the one-man one-vote concept, the census was taken in 1970; the population growth in Clinton County averaged 2.7 per year.

Commissioners elected in November will take office January 1, 1973. Would anyone care to solve this one?

There were two advertised public hearings held on this very important matter and very little interest shown by the public.

The response by officials involved was very good and in behalf of the Apportionment Commission, I wish to thank everyone for their fine cooperation. Ernest E. Carter, Chairman Clinton County Apportionment Commission

Disturbed about building project

Editor:

As new home owners in St. Johns we are greatly disturbed that properties adjacent to and around us are being proposed for rezoning from R-1 low density residential to R-3 high density residential or housing. When we were looking for a new home we looked over this city and nearby communities and settled on a new home that was built by the High School on Sickles Street.

We chose this home because of its location, the neighborhood, and the quality of the homes being built in the area. We expected that this type of home construction would be continued. We now find that our city commissioners are considering rezoning our area to allow high density development.

This means up to 300 new neighbors. If we wanted big city problems we could have bought a less expensive home in the city. If this development takes place, we will still be paying a high tax in a high assessment area, but we feel our property values will be reduced, our privacy destroyed and our safety and security jeopardized.

From our experience living on Sickles Street, we feel that these are not exclusively our problems, but ones that will effect everyone in the community.

Members of your family attending the High School or attending any function at the High School, Park, or the Fair Grounds, will be unduly exposed and subjected to added traffic hazards, and God knows what else! Have these conditions been considered? Are they worth it?

We urge all interested citizens and home owners attend the public hearing on rezoning that will be held at 8:00 p.m. on March 13, 1972 in the Municipal Building.

GOP fund dinner set May 18

LANSING — House and Senate Republicans have settled on Thursday, May 18, as the date for their annual Republican Legislative Dinner to be held in the Lansing Civic Center. The announcement of the $100 a plate fund raising dinner was made by House Republican Leader Clifford H. Smart (R-Walled Lake) and Senate Majority Leader Robert VanderLaan (R-Kentwood).

At the same time Smart and VanderLaan announced the appointment of State Representative Michael A. Dively (R-Traverse City) and State Senator William S. Ballenger (R-Ovid) as General Co-Chairman of the event.

Ballenger and Dively are the Chairmen of the campaign committees in the Senate and House respectively. The featured speaker for the event will be announced in the near future, according to Dively and Ballenger.

Rep. Douglas Trezise, 87th District

Strange maneuvering

I've seen some strange legislative maneuvering since coming to Lansing last year but probably the weirdest so far was the recent handling of the 1972-73 social services appropriation bill.

You might call it "the Case of the Missing Welfare Bill" because for over a week no one could—or would—say where the bill was nor could anyone get a copy of it. And, that's a pretty serious situation when you consider that the bill appropriates more than 600 million dollars in state general funds.

It all began a couple weeks ago when the members of the House Appropriations Committee were excused from the session to attend a meeting of that committee. When they returned to the chamber a half hour later, it was revealed that they had voted to report to the floor House Bill 5877, appropriating $604 million for social services during the coming year.

Naturally, this action stirred up quite a ruckus. After less than 30 minutes deliberation, that heavily stacked (11 Democrats and 5 Republicans) committee approved increases in ADC allowances and moved to the floor a bill authorizing the spending of 27 per cent of the general fund revenue for the coming year. The reaction was instantaneous and several protests were entered into the record. The Democratic Appropriations Committee chairman admitted on the floor that he wasn't proud of what had happened but said, "When you have the votes you use them."

Things then got stranger by the day. Normally, when a bill is reported from committee it is read into the record and placed on the calendar for floor debate. Copies, with the proposed amendments are made available to each member so he has a chance to review the contents and prepare himself for the discussion and vote.

But, neither of these happened. The bill never appeared on the calendar and no one could find out what was in it. Efforts to get information were answered with a vague "it's between the committee and the floor" or "it's being put together and printed."

For some reason or another, though, it never got straightened out and presented to us. Finally, on Feb. 29, 13 days after the committee met and agreed to send the bill to the complete House and after a great deal of pressure from the membership, the Appropriations Committee once again retired from the chamber for a special meeting. This time it rescinded its earlier action. This had the effect of "returning" the bill from wherever it had been to the committee for further study and consideration before any floor action.

To thicken the plot a little further, I have to refer to a resolution which is pending that would set our legislative schedule for this year. Among other things, it calls for us to be through the budget process by the middle of June, in time for a recess.

This resolution has been adopted by the Senate and is in a committee here in the House. There are those who say that Democratic Speaker William Ryan intends that it be left there until he gets the increases he wants in ADC benefits. The Appropriations Committee's shenanigans with that social service budget bill was apparently the first round in that battle.

We don't know for sure what was in that bill. We're reasonably sure it contained an increase of $75 million over last year's level because of caseload increase and another $8.4 million to increase the amount of the individual benefits. It is also reported that it contained provision for adding another 1,400 permanent employees in the Social Services Department to administer the programs.

We may never know the real reason back of this action with the welfare bill. But if it means that we are not going to be able to consider a resolution for a pre-election recess until the Speaker gets his way on the welfare appropriation, it looks like another long, hot summer in the Capitol.

Ask the Governor

By Governor William G. Milliken

State of Michigan

Question: I heard that the main part of your transportation program is financing of mass transit. Is that correct?

Answer: No. The comprehensive transportation package I have submitted to the Legislature includes additional funding for state highways, county roads, city streets, and for public transportation, including a modest start toward solving our urban congestion problems. By far the major part would be for vitally-needed highway construction.

There could, in fact, be serious delays in major highway projects throughout the state if the Legislature fails to pass the program. Legislative lag could jeopardize some of the most important lifelines of our transportation system—and of our entire economy. This is important not just to the big cities—but also to the smallest rural communities.

This can be seen by looking at a map showing major highways. My program specifically provides for accelerated construction on such major routes as US-2, US-23, US-27, US-31, US-131, US-223, M-53, M-59, US-127 and I-75.

Question: Whenever I see you on television or see your picture in the paper, you are always wearing a suit and tie. Do you ever have any time for any recreational activities, and if so, what do you do?

Answer: I do find some time for leisure and recreational activities, but like most people, I don't have as much as I would like.

This winter, my wife and I have become increasingly interested in cross-country skiing, and have had the opportunity to spend some time on a few of the beautiful trails in Northern Michigan. During the summer months, I enjoy tennis and swimming.

I happily leave both suit and tie in the closet at these times.

Question: I understand that there is a State Commission on Aging. What does that Commission do and how can I reach them for assistance?

Answer: The Michigan Commission on Aging was established as a division of the Department of Social Services in 1960 to act as an advocate voice for the state's senior citizens.

That Commission has played a significant role in the enactment of numerous pieces of legislation to aid Michigan's elderly, and most recently, played a substantial role in the White House Conference on Aging. More than 15,000 Michigan citizens participated in the planning and preparation for our state's role in that Conference. Additionally, the Commission on Aging has helped more than 40 communities establish local committees dealing with problems of the aged by lending technical assistance and providing operating funds.

More information can be obtained by writing: The Michigan Commission on Aging, Department of Social Services, Commerce Center Building, 7th Floor, Lansing, Michigan, 48926; or by calling (517) 373-0590.

Question: Does your proposed no-fault auto insurance plan discriminate against the poor?

Answer: My modified "no fault" insurance plan does not discriminate against the poor, but does eliminate most, if not all, of the present discrimination. U.S. Department of Transportation statistics show that under the present "fault" system, the poor recover a much smaller percentage of their losses than do the wealthy.

The present system does not provide prompt payment for medical expenses and often deprives people of adequate medical care because of lack of funds at the time the medical care is most needed. Amount of recovery depends on the amount of money the individual himself pays for medical treatment and so, the present system significantly reduces repayment for the poor.

My plan would provide prompt and adequate medical expenses for anyone injured in an automobile accident, meaning that the poor as well as the wealthy will have the same freedom of choice of doctors and hospitals, a privilege that does not now exist.

Three agencies combine to better roads

ST. JOHNS—Because of heavy damage to county roads in the tri-county area, road commissions from Ingham, Eaton and Clinton counties have determined to take the necessary steps to protect their investments—particularly to their older "blacktop roads".

"Increased truck traffic that is loaded properly to travel on the State Highway system—but causes extreme damage to some of our county roads—is of particular concern to us," according to a statement released by the three road commissions.

They have been at work correcting the problem for several months, and today issued a Truck Operator's Map—similar to the one that is revised annually by the State Highway Department—indicating which roads in the tri-county area are considered as "all weather roads"; which roads are approved for "Class A" Loading and which roads are limited to "Class B" Loading, or less—under seasonal restrictions.

In addition to the Truck Operator's Map, the three County Road Commissions have jointly made arrangements to operate the Highway Scales that are located on M-78 in Ingham County, just East of the Eaton County line.

Bill Burchfield, Superintendent—Engineer for the Ingham County Road Commission, made the following comments:

"Already this year, in a brief thawing period in early February, several of our blacktop roads and most of our gravel roads showed damage due to increased traffic loads. We must protect the public investment in our road system. The increased cost of maintenance and construction of roads behooves us to prevent damage to the road system by effective controls and enforcement of the weight laws. The publication of a truck operator's map benefits both the trucker and the public. "It places the loads on roads that are built for the axle weights and it prevents the deterioration of the county roads that were not built to take these loads."

Dean DeLator, Engineer—Manager for the Eaton County Road Commission, stated:

"The dollars that we are spending yearly, to repair damage caused by overloaded trucks on our poorer roads—is increasing at an alarming rate. Last year (1971) we spent approximately $100,000 in repairs to some of our blacktop roads—and most of this can be traced directly to heavy axle loads at the wrong time of year, when the frost was coming out. Eaton County has increased their inspection forces—and we confidently expect that our increased efforts in this field will help reduce the maintenance costs in the years ahead. We know that the Trucking Interests in Eaton County will co-operate with us, when they understand our problem."

Jay Hehner, Superintendent—Manager for Clinton County, commented:

"In 1971, ninety-seven miles of blacktop roads were sealed in Clinton County in addition to expending a very considerable amount on routine patching. It is our hope to divert a good portion of this expenditure in 1972 to the construction of new roads and it is with this

Writers pick best improvements

DETROIT — General Motors' crash-resistant bumpers and American Motors' blanket warranty were chosen the most worthwhile developments in 1972 cars by 16 of 25 top auto writers across the country who responded to questionnaire posed by the Automobile Club of Michigan's Motor News magazine.

Complete results of the survey are published in the February issue of Motor News, reaching over one million Auto Club members throughout Michigan.

As one of the most significant developments in 1972 models, General Motors' impact-resistant bumpers received support from 64 per cent of the writers. American Motors' new warranty, which covers virtually the entire car for 12 months or 12,000 miles, was heralded by 95 per cent of the poll as another boon for motorists.

The controversial air bag passenger restraint system was disapproved by 76 per cent of the writers who answered the poll—even if air bags added no extra cost to the price of a new car.

Most who disliked the air bag gave fear of accidental inflation as the basic reason. Some told Auto Club they put more faith in a better seatbelt and shoulder harness system.

Again, 76 per cent agreed new car buyers should be given a choice between air bags or some equally effective system, with some adding that the choice should include "no system at all if the motorist wants none."

Ninety-five per cent of the writers said that the new American Motors warranty

More intolerance

By REV. HUGH BANNINGER

Here's some more thoughts on intolerance. There is behavior intolerance which is closely related to personality intolerance. Actually, it is personality intolerance translated into action.

Behavior intolerance can be seen in this exchange of words between the disciples John and Jesus. John said, "Master, we saw a man casting out demons in your name, and we forbade him, because he does not follow with us."

There was a woman in England who got on a bus, and when a colored man collected her fare, she remarked out loud that she did not know the company had put "niggers" on that bus service.

In response to this remark the colored man took a pocket handkerchief from his pocket and he wiped the ticket and the change that he gave back to her.

There are two things to note from this story. First, there is the behavior intolerance on the part of the woman. Second, there is the behavior tolerance (note the word tolerance) on the part of the black man.

Here's another story that can teach us a lesson in behavior tolerance. It is a true story about the life of the great composer, Franz Liszt. There was a girl in a German town who had been supporting her invalid parents by teaching and playing the piano.

"One" day it happened that Liszt visited in her town. When she learned that he was in town, she knew she would be exposed as a fraud and her poor parents would be deprived of her support.

So the young lady went to see Liszt and through tears and crying she confessed her false advertising. Liszt told her that she had done wrong, as we all do, and then made her sit down and play for him.

Liszt might have regarded the young lady's behavior as intolerable, but he responded with Godlike behavior tolerance.

Jewish literature gives us another example of behavior tolerance. A rabbi, who was regarded as very pious, was invited to a dinner. A serving maid brought each guest a pitcher of water for the ritual washing of hands.

The rabbi explained his actions by saying, "When you washed your hands, you were concerned about the ritual requirements. When I washed my hands, I was concerned about the serving girl—poor child. She has to go to the well, draw the water, and carry it back to the house. Can I practice duty at the expense of her strength?"

A story from Denmark points up Godlike behavior tolerance. For some three years after the beginning of World War II the Danish Jews were left alone. But then the Nazis began to persecute them as in other countries.

After the war was over, the Danes urged the Jews to return to Denmark at government expense. They had kept their homes, property and bank accounts intact, and often had a meal on the table when the Jews returned.

Farmers' week goes long
EAST LANSING, Mich.—The chemistry of life goes mad at Farmers' Week 1972 with a 100-minute screen presentation set to words and music.

According to Dr. Richard W. Lucke, biochemistry coordinator for Farmers' Week, "Research in biochemistry helps answer many of the problems faced by society, such as over population, pollution, disease, pesticide control and the need for more efficient production of agricultural products."

"This has been true in the past, and it is almost inevitable that in the future this new knowledge and concepts that are the 'product' of basic biological research will lead to new and effective solutions to society's problems," Lucke says.

The video presentation on biochemistry is open to all Farmers' Week visitors' tickets each hour between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., March 21 through 23, in 131 Anthony Hall on the MSU campus.

Multiple cropping?

ST. JOHNS — Multiple cropping? Only if there's enough moisture at planting time.

Taylor Johnston, Michigan State University crop scientist, says multiple cropping worked only half the time in four years of experiments. He planted a Canadian variety of soybeans, Seafarer navy beans and an early grain sorghum July 1 following a winter barley crop.

His best year was 1969 with 43 bushels of soybeans, 56 bushels of sorghum and 29 bushels of vav beans. "That was a wet year," said Johnston. "In 1971, a dry year, multiple cropping was a disaster."

"Don't try multiple cropping on droughty soils without irrigation. And you can't make irrigation pay for itself unless you are growing high value cash crops."

"Decisions to go the multiple cropping route have to be made every year. You just can't afford to try it unless soil is moist enough at planting time."

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. — Michigan was represented in the list of new members approved by the Board of Holstein-Friesian Association of America at its last meeting. The state had 38 dairymen among the 1,105 persons joining the world's largest dairy breed society.

Pennsylvania, Wisconsin and New York led the forty-five states represented on the list of new members. Michigan's new members join the ranks of over 26,000 people actively breeding Registered Holstein-Friesian cattle who enjoy a reduced rate when registering and transferring their animals. In addition, they gain a voice in developing policy for the breed by selecting delegates to their national convention as well as having representation on the Board of Directors of HFAA.

Farmer's Week adds Business Management Day

EAST LANSING—Michigan agriculture in the coming decades and current agricultural problems such as whether to buy, lease or hire equipment will be dealt with at Michigan State University's Farm Business Management Day, Thursday, March 23. The program is a new addition to Farmers' Week, an annual event at MSU.

Beginning at 10 a.m. in the Kellogg Center Auditorium, agricultural economists, farm management specialists and experts in resource development will tackle such issues as financing future farm operations, trends in farm management and the future of the farm input supply business. The afternoon program will deal with how much debt a farmer can carry, the impact of reduced property taxes, and making more money in 1972.

The annual Farm Management Banquet, honoring outstanding Michigan farmers, will cap the day-long conference.

John A. Hannah, director of the U.S. Agency for International Development and past president of MSU, will speak at the evening banquet, which begins at 5:50 p.m.

Entertainment, presentation of Outstanding Young Farmer awards by the Michigan Jaycees, and recognition of farm managers of the year and 25 year co-operators will precede Dr. Hannah's talk.

Tickets for the banquet, which is open to the public, are $4.75 each, and may be obtained from John C. Doneth, 27 Agriculture Hall, MSU, East Lansing, 48823.

Agriculture important, too

EAST LANSING—Although Michigan is usually thought of in terms of industrial production, agriculture is extremely important. There are over 13,000 manufacturing and processing plants in the State and the automobile industry employs about 500,000 people.

Michigan also has 134,000 bread-winners working in agriculture.

Speaking to nearly 400 State and County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committeemen and employees in Grand Rapids, Feb. 9, Seeley Lodwick, Executive Assistant to the Administrator, emphasized the great market potential for Michigan and U.S. Agriculture. Nick Smith, chairman, Michigan ASC Committee, conducted the conference.

Lodwick commented that world population is growing rapidly. Per capita income in the developed countries like the U.S., Japan and Western Europe has been rising about 3.8 per cent per year in recent years. That's a market potential of perhaps a billion people. Per capita income in India, Pakistan and mainland China is increasing at the rate of 2.7 per cent per year. This represents a market potential of about two billion people. More people with more money adds up to more sales for farmers provided we have the right products available at the right prices.

Extremely important to this concept of selling is the Agricultural Act of 1970. For the first time since allotments and bases were established for these crops, farmers themselves have been able to determine their plantings.

We can draw some conclusions from what has already happened under the greater freedom of the '70 Act. About 85 per cent of the Nation's eligible base acres and allotments were enrolled in commodity programs last year and made major cropping changes. Over a period of years, these farmers have made cropping changes involving 60 million acres. A substantial part of this shift came in 1971 as a result of the Agricultural Act of 1970.

These shifts represent important management decisions by American farmers, as they seek better net income through more profitable use of their land. There is less emphasis today on government takeover of crops. Farmers throughout the country have demonstrated they like this new freedom to plant and harvest according to their own capabilities, resources and desires. During 1971, more farmers participated in the new set-aside programs than had ever participated in the history of volunteer farm programs. As a result, the collective benefits are greater. Today, farmers can take advantage of more options. Farmers can also use their own judgment and experience and resources.

Exports are important in Michigan. Any market which provides directly for $113 million of sales is important. Indirectly, exports are also important because if we fall in our bid to export, all American farmers will suffer, Michigan farmers included—not only in the amount represented by present export sales but also by an overall contraction nationwide of our agricultural plant.

Twelve years ago the produce from one out of every five acres was exported. In twelve years that has increased to one out of every four.

Should we fail to meet our export commitments, customers and potential customers throughout the world will no longer recognize the United States as a dependable source of surplus rather, they will go to other producing areas of the world, and there are many, to obtain the products they want. For even though the dock strikes may seem miles away, they do have a direct bearing on Michigan agriculture and the well-being of the Michigan farmer.

The 100-day West Coast dock strike last year, and the threat of a continuation which materialized last month, created uncertainty in the wheat market. Based on purchases by the Japanese Food Agency, the U.S. farmer's share of this market for the March-December period fell from 55 per cent to 40 per cent. U.S. losses of sales are

AGRICULTURE in ACTION

One of the major problems when our environment is discussed today is correct information and balanced understanding about the issue.

For hundreds of years a great deal of the population was not interested in conserving our environment. Our past mistakes have accumulated and many now feel we must correct them all in one grand sweep. This is an impossible task but should not stop us from making major headway.

Agriculturists learned many years ago that good conservation was a necessity by the very disciplines of good production that meant proper and efficient use of land.

If farmers over-use or mis-use pesticides, insecticides or fertilizer, they pay the consequences in a lower net return.

We need to understand that manures and animal wastes are the finest natural fertilizers available and are a part of the natural re-cycling process. Only through animals can unusable high cellulose foods be transposed into one of the most relished foods in the world—meat.

In this age of space exploration, scientists of the soil have confirmed that proper fertilization of farm crops to increase production also increases the use of carbon dioxide from the air and increases the release of significant amounts of oxygen to the atmosphere.

These are but a few incidents in the vital story of our land and its ecology that we who are concerned about our environment must understand and relate to the millions of people around us.

Correct information, scientific solutions and understanding must be used in place of emotions, political schemes and half-truths if we are to cure the many environmental ills.

Extension Home Economist

Home sewing steadily increases in popularity for more and more women and girls. Manufacturers of sewing equipment fabrics, patterns and notions continue to take advantage of this popularity and produce those products the home sewer wants.

It's not unusual today for a woman to make all kinds of garments for her family ranging from lingerie for herself and teenage daughter to slacks and jacket for her husband and son. This is possible with the many different fabrics from which she can choose. Included are stretch materials, knits, bonded, fake furs, suede and vinyls to mention only a few. Compatible trims, interfacings, linings, tapes, ribbons, thread, fasteners, and other findings are available to her. Sewing machines, automatic or with sorted attachments, add to the convenience of home sewing.

Choice of fabric and findings and their proper use becomes the responsibility of the sewer. She'll not select a lining fabric requiring ironing to put with a permanent press face fabric. She realizes that all zipper tapes should be pre-shrunk before sewing them into the pre-shrunk fabric of the garment to avoid the possibility of uneven shrinking of the two.

She takes time to select a pattern with few seams when she wants to use a knitted fabric. She'll look for care instructions before purchasing any fabric. Currently the labels may be on the bolt, a paper strip inserted when the manufacturer rolls the fabric or a slip of paper given her upon purchase. Effective July, 1972 however is the new permanent labeling law. At that time upon purchasing fabric the customer will be given a label she can sew in or iron on to the garment indicating the recommended care for that fabric. Retail stores will be allowed one year to reduce current stock and conform to the law. Of course attaching the label becomes the responsibility of the consumer. Homemakers have asked for this information and it has now been made available to them.

New fabrics and fabrications have brought about other new products. For example the popularity of knits has resulted in the polyester or cotton-covered polyester cured threads which help eliminate seam puckering when sewing the polyester knits and permanent press fabrics. Interfacings, trims, and techniques have also changed to be compatible with each other and new fabrics.

Teens get $1,550 for used glass

ST. JOHNS — The Clinton County 4-H Teen Leaders were one of 42 organizations that shipped used jars and bottles to the Owens-Illinois glass manufacturing plant in Charlotte (Mich.) for recycling in 1971.

The 4-H'ers received $1,550 for 78 tons of glass representing about 312,000 used glass containers.

A total of $174,210 was paid by Owens-Illinois for 8,710 tons of glass during the calendar year. The payments averaged approximately $20 per ton or about one-half cent per bottle.

"Owens-Illinois is delighted by the growing public enthusiasm for glass bottle recycling," according to Wayne Gibson, plant manager.

"The bottle reclamation program is a very important first step towards the long range goal of total recycling of all usable materials found in refuse but it is just the first step.

"We envision the day when all solid waste will be sorted mechanically and all its usable components will be salvaged for recycling. This is the only practical long term solution to the nation's refuse problem from an ecology point of view," Gibson said.

Kent L. Wold, midwest public affairs manager of the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute, said that bottle reclamation centers have been established by nearly 100 manufacturing plants operated by GCMC companies in 25 states.

Satisfied customers know rights

EAST LANSING—If you really want to be a satisfied consumer, talk to your dealer. Let him know what you think is good about his service and/or the products he sells. And let him know when you think you got a bad deal.

This advice comes from Lucille Ketchum and Anne Field, Michigan State University extension home management specialists. They are conducting a class entitled "Consumer Close-Ups" at MSU's Farmers' Week.

"Consumers have the right and the responsibility to protect themselves from faulty products—and there are effective ways to do it," they say. "It does no good to complain to your neighbor—or to simply take your business to another store. Give your dealer a chance to correct errors. If that doesn't work there are other agencies that can help you."

When you buy, know what to expect from the product, they say. Read and follow all directions, and save them along with receipts, hang tags, warranties, etc.

"No product is perfect," Miss Ketchum explains. "Wash-and-wear fabric, for example, eliminates ironing chores, but needs extra care in other ways."

When a product doesn't live up to your expectations, go to someone in authority—the dealer or manufacturer. Be sure to explain exactly what happened. Many dealers are glad to have a chance to correct faulty merchandise or service.

If the dealer or manufacturer won't pay attention to a reasonable and courteous statement of your difficulties, try one of the agencies set up to help you. Some of these are: The Michigan Consumer's Council, the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office, Federal Trade Commission. There are also voluntary groups of consumers, for example, The Consumer Alliance of Michigan, and a few local consumers' groups.

The specialists intend that their class will provide an opportunity for consumers to share concerns, and to learn effective ways to get remedies.

Farmers' Week (March 20-24) is an annual event hosted by Michigan State University for farm families throughout the state. Other class, exhibit and demonstration topics include packaging ecology, historic costuming, unit pricing of foods, remote sensing and flower arrangement.

No product controls, says FB head

LANSING—"Recent attacks on livestock producers and suggestions that raw farm products should be included in price controls are unfounded," declared Elton R. Smith, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau.

Smith made the statement today in Lansing in response to charges recently leveled at livestock producers.

According to Smith, most wage earners are not aware that farm prices go up and down in response to supply and demand factors. Most wage earners are accustomed to continued increases in their wages. Few of them have had to face cuts in hourly wage rates, and they fail to realize that farm price rises, if they occur, usually come after a period of low prices. This is especially true in the livestock business.

He said, "The real significance is despite 20 years of steadily increasing production costs and family living expenses, the livestock producer has just now attained a price equal to that of 20 years ago." It is extremely difficult, if not impossible, to identify a manufactured product marketed at the same price it was 20 years ago.

Prices paid farmers for food commodities increased only 7 per cent totally during that 20-year period while government employees' wages increased 430 per cent, average wages earned increased 340 per cent, business and professional income increased 200 per cent and dividends increased 300 per cent. During the same period, the average retail price of meat has advanced about 35 per cent.

In 1971 consumers spent only 18 per cent of disposable income for food and it is projected they will spend only 15.5 per cent in 1972.

The major problem is misunderstanding. Smith said, "Almost all foodstuffs, but meat especially, have been such an incredible bargain for decades that when prices start, at long last, to seek a natural level in line with the national economy, it looks like another inflationary spiral."

VA claims Clinton awarded $1.5 million

DETROIT — The Veterans Administration spent over $1,517,895 in Clinton County last year according to Robert M. Fitzgerald, director of the VA regional office in Detroit.

Total expenditures for the state of Michigan amounted to $356,114,000, according to Fitzgerald.

The largest segment of the expenditures was for compensation and pension payments which amounted to $198,548,478. Of this total Clinton County received $1,014,572.

Compensation is paid to veterans who received some sort of disability while on active duty. Pension payments go to disabled veterans who have little or no income because of disabilities suffered since service.

In Clinton County the VA spent $316,744 for readjustment and vocational rehabilitation costs. These figures include the costs involved in the GI Bill which provides money for Vietnam veterans to attend colleges, technical schools and below college schools. Statewide VA expenditures pyramid to $61,985,148 for these benefits.

Insurance and indemnities account for $196,329 of the county's share of VA expenses. Michigan veterans received $31,375,498.

Fitzgerald said construction and related costs throughout Michigan amounted to $329,410 in fiscal year 1971.

Maximum liabilities for county

COLDWATER—Because of the losses experienced on insured crops in Michigan during the 1971 crop year, limitations have been set by crops for this area, according to Romaine Conklin, salesman for Clinton County.

The liability limitation has been reached in Huron County and applications are no longer being solicited in that county, Mr. Conklin stated.

Despite the losses paid, there will be no rise in cost of all-risk protection for 1972. This is good news for the local farm community.

In fact, policyholders with a record of few or no losses, will realize a decrease in premium. Discounts for good experience are given ranging from 5 per cent up to 25 per cent depending upon number of years without a loss.

Romaine Conklin also stated that premiums paid for all-risk crop insurance are deductible from expenses.

At this time, the taking of applications is still open in this area. Anyone interested in further information should contact the Crop Insurance office at W. Chicago Road, Coldwater, Ph 517-278-2068.
