

I SOLEMNLY SWEAR...

Robert Shinabery was sworn in as Ovid's Village Clerk, at the Monday night meeting of Village President by Katherine Huss, Village President.

Work continues on Our House

The generation gap was spanned, at least temporarily, Saturday as teens and adults combined efforts to scrub and paint the new headquarters for the St. Johns teen center, called "Our House."

Earlier, there had been a special reorganizational meeting called by the teen leaders Thursday night. The group elected a slate of new officers including Jim Davis and Lloyd Upham, co-presidents; Joan Devereaux and Denise Rudy, co-secretaries; and Maridell Nelson and Lee Upham, co-treasurers.

Committees were chosen for different segments of work for Saturday and Sunday. One group was organized to clean, one to remove all material belonging to the senior citizens (former occupants of the building), one to work on the sign and one to make trips to the dump.

Revenue producing projects were discussed during the Thursday night meeting and a sale of Stanley Products was planned. The teens have started the door-to-door campaign taking orders. The teen group will receive a cash percentage of the profits.

The two youths who sell the most merchandise will receive a pair of jeans as a prize donation by John Rehmann of Rehmann's Clothing Store in St. Johns.

Other prizes will be awarded by Arlene Lounds, the Stanley firm representative.

In other matters, the group:

—Selected John Ward to arrange a car wash in the future as another fund-raising project for the center. A white elephant sale will be held also as soon as the building is ready for use.

Lions, Jaycees clash March 25

There's only one week left to purchase tickets for the Detroit Lions-St. Johns Jaycees all-star basketball game to be held March 25 at the St. Johns High School gymnasium.

Tickets, priced at $1.50 for adults and $1 for students, can be purchased from any Jaycee member or through Dean's Hardware and the Dry Dock'd Lounge in St. Johns.

The game, set to begin at 8 p.m., will be played for the benefit of the Little League field light fund, high school athletic fund and other Jaycees-sponsored events.

Wood named St. Johns schools' business manager

Arthur Wood, 1160 Wildcat Road, St. Johns, has been named business manager of the St. Johns school system during a special meeting of the Board of Education Monday night.

Wood, 39, had been plant accountant for Federal-Mogul Corp, in St. Johns for 13 years and had been recently promoted to the firm's Detroit office.

According to St. Johns School Supt. Earl Lancaster, Wood will begin his new duties today.

Wood, who has been active in area Cub Scout work, attends the First Congregational Church in St. Johns.

Wood and his wife, Arlene, have four children. They are Erin, 13, Teresa, 11, Gregory, 9, and Cameron, 4.

Wood assumes the post formerly held by Henry L. Enochs, who suffered a fatal heart attack last week.

Clinton has 24-hour protection

Lawbreakers, beware in Clinton County! Clinton County residents have complete twenty-four police protection, according to Sheriff Percy Patterson.

The eleven man Sheriff's Department gives Clinton County police protection by running eight - hour shifts that overlap throughout the 24-hour day to insure adequate protection.

According to Patterson, the department patrols the county with no specific routes to cover, except for a contract the department has with Westphalia and Fowler.

"A certain number of hours are spent in this area," Patterson said.

"We have to be careful that we don't give away our coverage of areas. We definitely don't want anyone planning crimes around our schedule," Patterson said.

When asked about State Police coverage, Patterson stated, "The East Lansing Post covers south Clinton, the Grand Rapids covers the northern section, the Ionia Post covers the western section and the Owosso Post covers the eastern section. We are pretty well covered in this county day and night."

Patterson also stated that the department

Stoller back in circuit

A former DeWitt Middle School instructor, whose trial on a morals charge was disallowed on a technicality, will be arraigned again in Clinton County Circuit Court on a charge of committing an indecent act between two persons.

William Stoller, 27, 216 N. Bridge St., DeWitt, entered a plea of nolo contendere on Jan. 22 but when the sentencing date trial arrived it was learned that a mistake had been made concerning the maximum penalty for the charge.

has reciprocal agreements with all the State Police posts.

"If they are busy in one area, we cover for them and if we are busy, they will cover for us," Patterson said.

Stoller's attorney, Timothy Green of St. Johns, withdrew the nolo contendere plea and asked that the case be remanded back to district court.

Green subsequently withdrew as Stoller's attorney and was replaced by Richard P. Condit of Detroit.

In district court, Stoller waived preliminary examination and his case was bound over to circuit court for arraignment Monday.

Girl hurt in crash

A Jackson girl was injured in a two-car collision Friday on North U.S. 27.

Carol Ann Gimesky, 18, 3029 Tulsa Dr. Jackson attempted to avoid colliding with a car driven by Wanda DeLong, 30, of Eureka, who was in the process of making a left turn on Hyde Rd.

Kevin Gibson, 20720 Annapolis, Dearborn saw the Gimesky vehicle swerve and he turned into the right lane and collided with the Gimesky vehicle. Both cars ended up in the ditch on the right side of the road.

Miss Gimesky was taken to Clinton Memorial Hospital for treatment and released. She was issued a violation for driving too fast for conditions.

CIRCUIT COURT News

Roy Thelen, 23, Westphalia, pleaded guilty at his arraignment Wednesday on a manslaughter charge in the traffic deaths last August of a Fowler man and his son. Sentencing date is March 22. Thelen remains free on $1,500 bail.

Danny Jean Johnson pleaded guilty to two counts of larceny by conversion. Sentencing date is March 22. He has been committed to the county jail for failure to post a $2,500 bond.

Ronald Nicholson, 20, Lansing was sentenced to two years probation, charged $240 court costs and required to return engine and parts to owner. He was found guilty of unlawfully driving away a vehicle without intent to steal.

Mary Ann Thelen Day brings fond memories for retiring teacher

By BOB GAVAN
News Staff Writer

A Fowler teacher who spent 30 of her 39 years of teaching at Fowler High School was honored last Thursday by students, former students and friends at an assembly in the high school gymnasium.

The Village of Fowler proclaimed March 11, 1971 as Mary Ann Thelen Day and a proclamation read by John Spicer, Village President who made it official.

Mrs. Thelen was crowned "Queen for a Day" and presented with roses by Gary Cline.

Testimonials were given by Father Schmitt, Reverend Rossow and her son, Robert Thelen.

Mrs. Thelen, who turned 71 March 9, was born in Caro, Michigan. After completing school she taught at Fowler for three years. She then attended the University of Michigan. She taught at Crescent High School in Grand Rapids for a number of years.

Mrs. Thelen came back to Fowler as the bride of Robert Thelen. In 1944 she was asked to return to teaching at Fowler High School, and she agreed only on a substitute basis. This "substitute" role lasted 27 years. She will retire at the end of this school year.

Mrs. Thelen retired in 1964, but returned each year to teach Spanish. According to Nina Waldron, who reviewed Mrs. Thelen's activities over the years, "She was not only active with school affairs but also with church work and other civic activities.

In an interview Mrs. Thelen said she was "overwhelmed by the gratitude of the people of Fowler, students and former students." Looking at the people assembled before her she said, "I have taught some of the grandparents of these students."

When asked about her most frightening experience she said, "When I had my own children in class, but it was also thrilling."

Some of her most gratifying experiences were when students who did not do well in school came back as successful persons.

According to Mrs. Thelen the key to good teaching is "mutual respect between students and teachers."

Her advice to new teachers is to have "patience, preparation and a thorough understanding of students."

Jerome Pohl, student body president stated "We seniors are glad that she has chosen our great year as the year to retire."

The ceremony ended with Pohl escorting Mrs. Thelen to a large birthday cake which was shared with the assembly.

THANKS, MRS. THELEN

Mrs. Mary Ann Thelen found herself in the midst of a celebration in Fowler Thursday, which was proclaimed Mary Ann Thelen Day by Village President John Spioer. Mrs. Thelen is retiring after 39 years of teaching. Helping her slice the huge cake in honor of the Day is Fowler High School Student Council President Jerome Pohl.

Three injured in 45-foot fall

Three men avoided serious injury Friday when they fell 45 feet after scaffolding collapsed on a silo they were repairing on the Joseph Houska farm, Hollister Rd., one mile north of Elsie.

When the sheriff's deputies arrived at the scene, it was learned that two men were still trapped in the silo.

Elsenga climbed back into the silo and saw that the men needed medical attention and called an ambulance.

Thelen cheats death in train-car crash

A 40-year-old Fowler man escaped death Wednesday night when his vehicle was struck by a westbound Grand Truck freight train at the Main Street crossing in Fowler.

Anthony T. Thelen, Wright Road, Fowler, was traveling south on Main Street in Fowler when he was struck by the train. The train's engineer told deputies that he was traveling about 45 miles per hour at the time of impact and was hauling 49 freight cars.

The engineer, Don Kleete of Durand, said the red signal flashers were working at the crossing on both sides of the highway. He said he attempted to stop the train before the impact with Thelen's car.

Clinton deputies Anthony Hufnagel and Gail Bensinger were at the corner of M-21 and Main Street and witnessed the accident.

Thelen's auto ended up on the side of the road and Thelen was thrown from the vehicle.

He was taken to Carson City Hospital where he is still a patient, although hospital officials declined to issue a public statement concerning his condition.

No violations were cited by deputies in the accident.

Mishler named new St. Johns postmaster

The appointment of Keith A. Mishler as Postmaster of the St. Johns Post Office has been announced by K. O. William Sandberg, director of the Chicago Postal Service region.

Prior to his appointment, Mishler had served as assistant postmaster at the St. Johns office. He has 21 years of postal service.

In accordance with the merit selection procedures of the Postal Reorganization Act, he was nominated for the postmaster-ship by the Chicago Regional Management Selection Board, and appointed by the Postmaster General.

The appointment is not subject to Senate confirmation.

He lives at 102 East Cass St., St. Johns, with his wife Kathleen, and their two children, Candice and Toby.

In order to get the men out of the silo, the rescue crew had to lower them through a chute which was round enough for only one man to go through at a time. The injured men were tied to a slab and a rope was attached. The injured men were then lowered 15 to 20 feet to the ground.

hardest part was getting the men through the top of the chute where iron bars were positioned across the opening. After one and one-half hours, the men were freed and taken to the hospital. The sheriff's report noted the good work done by the ambulance crew and local farmers.

MRS. DALEY BURIED AT OVID

Mrs. Hiram C. (Rena) Daley 94, of 121 Elmhurst Avenue, Highland Park was brought to Ovid Wednesday afternoon for burial in Maple Grove Cemetery. Mrs. Daley passed away Sunday, Feb. 28 at her home following several years of declining health. Funeral services were held at the Bird and Mott Funeral Home,

Detroit at 12 noon Wednesday and graveside services at 2:30. The Rev. Robert H. Bodino officiated at both services. Rena Belle Hovey was born June 25, 1876 near Concord. She was a school teacher and married Hiram C. Daley Aug. 11, 1899. They resided many years in Highland Park where Mr. Daley was superintendent of schools. Her husband preceded her in death in 1950. She was a member of Metropolitan Methodist Church, The Women's Society, P.E.O. and in former years was very active in the Y.W.C.A. She will be remembered to many in the Shepardsville areas as the one who donated the electric organ, chimes and hymnals to the Shepardsville Methodist Church in 1955 in memory of her husband and his family. The American Cancer Society Clinton County Unit Kick-off dinner is Monday evening March 22 at 6:30 p.m. at St. Joseph Church in St. Johns. The public is invited. PAYS VISIT

Jennifer Keys of Miami flew here last week to spend a few days with her mother, Mrs. S. J. Keys. She was met at Detroit Metropolitan Airport by her brother, Jack and Tim Bouck. Miss Keys had just returned to Miami from a tour through northern Florida and Alabama with the Fantasy group of which she is organist- pianist, when she learned of her mother's recent accident.

Mrs. Keys received injuries when the rear wheel ran over her leg in a freak accident while she was entering her car, Sunday, Feb. 28. She was taken to Clinton Memorial Hospital by Ambulance for X-Rays and after finding no broken bones was returned to her home to convalesce for several weeks.

Miss Keys had to return to Miami for rehearsals for the next tour so was unable to remain but a short time.

She was accompanied to Lansing by Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Cornwell where she flew home by way of Detroit.

At the time of Mrs. Keys' accident her husband was at Gulf Hills, Ocean Springs, Miss. for the annual golf tournament with 25 others from this area.

Mrs. Dorothy Kaspar R.N. is caring for her sister. Another sister, Mrs. Margaret Edwards, recently released from 10 days in the Clinton Memorial Hospital in St. Johns also spent the week-end here.

GUEST AT SURPRISE PARTY Jack Keys was surprised on his 18th birthday when 75 of his school friends, gathered recently in the recreation rooms at the home of Stephen Melvin on west Island Rd., Elsie.

Although his birthday was March 2, the surprise party was moved up because of the Ovid-Elsie Marauders participation in the district tournaments at Alma.

Mrs. Lunsford Melvin was assisted by Mrs. Sidney Keys in providing a long psychedelic-spread table filled with large quantities of shakes, chips, Sloppy Joes, punch and soft drinks, nuts and mints.

A large white cake decorated in blue and gold sugar roses.

(school colors) featured a basketball player jumping for the basket and on the opposite side, the inscription "HAPPY BIRTHDAY JACK, ALIAS SQUID" and a miniature squid with the standing numerals "18." The cake was made and decorated by Mrs. R. C. King.

Colorful streamers, autographed balloons and posters added to the festive decorations in the three basement rooms where they spent the evening playing card games, ping-pong, pool and listening to recordings before the huge fire-place.

At the close of the evening Jack received many gifts and cards and expressed his appreciation for the memorable party.

LITERARY CLUB MEETS

Mrs. Gerald Carroll was elected president of the Woman's Literary Club at the annual meeting Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Orpha Clement.

Others elected were: Mrs.

Lella Wilson, vice-president. Re-elected were Mrs. Robert Baker, secretary and Mrs. Viva Scott, treasurer.

Mrs. Glenn Horn presided at the business meeting. Following the club collect, routine reports were given.

Mrs. Lawrence Hess presented plans for the Spring Trading Post which will be held from Friday, March 26 to Saturday April 3 in the hall over Dancers' Store.

She distributed work schedules to the members who will serve as manager, cashier and sales personnel each day.

The Post will be open Friday 1 to 9 p.m.; Saturday 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.; and other days, 1 to 5 p.m.

Only spring and summer clothing may be brought in for sale, also shoes, household articles, baby furniture, toys, etc. Everything must be clean and in good condition. As in the past the club receives 25 per cent of the selling price.

Everyone is welcome to bring in merchandise for sale and set their price.

Mrs. Horn announced the Clinton County Federation meeting at Price Church on April 29 for an all day meeting. Mrs. Hess is vice-president of the county organization.

Coffey has answer to junk car problem: free crushing

By BOB GAVAN
News Staff Writer

The Clinton County Zoning Commission is going to get tough on junk cars this spring, according to William Coffey, zoning commissioner.

Since the junk car ordinance was adopted in 1965, almost 400 complaints have been issued against junk car owners.

According to the ordinance,

"It is declared to be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to store on, place on or permit to be stored or placed on or allow to remain on any parcel of land a dismantled, partially dismantled or inoperable motor vehicle or any parts of the motor vehicle in Clinton County."

The usual procedure for the zoning office is to canvass the county looking for junk cars. A letter is sent to the owner of the land on which the junk car is located because he is responsible for the car not the auto's owner, according to the ordinance.

If the vehicle is not removed within ten days a warrant is issued for the landowner to appear in district court on a public nuisance charge. If found guilty, the landowner can be fined up to a maximum of $100 and/or 90 days in jail.

ACCORDING TO Kathy Canum, zoning secretary, nobody has been sent to jail yet. Coffey, who is quite concerned with cleaning up the county, is going to meet next week with Patrick Farrell, a representative of Michigan Car Crushers Inc. of Belmont, Mich.

According to Coffey, the company will come into Clinton County and set up sites in different areas of the county to collect junk cars. Farrell will present his plan before the Board of Commissioners at their next meeting.

The operation will not cost the county money, according to Coffey. After the site is set up, the junk car owners can bring their cars to the site and have them crushed.

COFFEY SAYS that the county will realize between $3 to $4 on each car eliminated by this method.

Coffey has an idea to take the money that is received and give it to county youth projects. Coffey said, "The kids are the ones that have really started this whole clean-up idea and they deserve something in return for all the things that they have done for the county."

"If this project works, we should be able to clean up every junk car in the county. We are only going to do this project once. After that it is going to be the responsibility of the individual and we are going to be tough. "We want a clean county," Coffey said.

If anyone wishes to report a junk car, they can call the zoning office and the county will check on the complainant and issue the warning.

Coffey added, "This project will take the cooperation of everyone in the county. I hope we can get the support."

This was what an area looked like before the Zoning Commission issued a letter to clean up the grounds or go to court. This spring, similar letters will be sent to any landowner who has junk cars on his property.

ST. JOHNS

Arsenic and Old Lace St. Johns spring play

"Arsenic and Old Lace" will be the annual spring production at St. Johns High School, according to Robert Koger, associate director of speech/theatre. The show is slated for two presentations. The first will be at 8:00 p.m. on April 2, and the second will be at 8:00 p.m. on April 3. Tickets for the production are $1.25 and may be reserved by calling the High School at 224-2394 and asking for the theatre box office. You may then reserve your desired seat by phone, and pay for your tickets when you pick them up on the night of the performance that you have chosen. The box office will be opened on March 22, and it is hoped that many of our St. Johns area people will use this convenience.

There will also be tickets available at the doors on the nights of the performances. The box office hours run from 8:15 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., Monday thru Friday.

"ARSENIC AND Old Lace" is the famous comedy success first produced by Lindsay and Crouse, and a smash hit in New York, on the road, and in thousands of professional and amateur theatres throughout the country. It is one of this country's most popular productions, and returns to St. Johns by special request of the citizens and our students. The story of the play centers around the charming and innocent ladies who populate their cellar with the remains of socially and religiously "acceptable" roomers; the antics of their brother, who thinks he is Teddy Roosevelt; and the activities of the other brother—these require no further description or amplification. This is a show that really must be seen many times over to thoroughly enjoy.

The production is under the direction of St. Johns High School's new assistant director in theatre, Mr. Tom Smith. Mr. Smith comes to us from West Bloomfield Hills High School where he instructed in Theatre and Reading.

He has studied at Michigan State University and in England. He has also had much work with the Meadowbrook Theatre at Oakland University.

The cast for the St. Johns High production is spearheaded by Barb Eaton and Lila Pettit as the two spinsters.

These girls are well supported by a strong cast consisting of, Eugene Patterson, Jim Barnes, John Ward, Anne Fox, Quentin Kuntz, Bob Friesen, Max Noonan, Brad Huntley, Paula Pope, Ron Halstead, and student director Lois Williams.

East Olive School Principal, Roger Feeman, explains this year's orientation program to Mrs. Karel Williams and her daughter, Teresa. Parents and children will come at a later date to meet with teachers.

TIPS FOR THE PURCHASER

It's unwise to pay too much...but it's worse to pay too little. When you pay too much, you lose a little money...that is all. When you pay too little, you might lose everything because the thing you bought was incapable of doing the thing it was bought to do.

The common law of business balance prohibits paying a little and getting a lot --- it can't be done. If you deal with the lowest bidder it is well to add something for the risk you run. If you do that, you will have enough to pay for something better.

LITERARY CLUB MEETS

Nineteen members and four guests were present when the Ovid-DuPlain Library Club met on Friday, March 5 at the home of Mrs. George Parmenter, Mrs. Chauncey Green gave the invocation before all enjoyed the pot-luck luncheon.

The Collect and Pledge were repeated in unison. Mrs. Lawrence Rasey, who has an antique shop north of St. Johns, was the speaker for the afternoon. She had many interesting things with her. Among them were butter paddles, cookie cutters of various shapes, snuff boxes, spice boxes and metal cookie cutters. Among the spongware were bowls and pitchers, even a lady's spittoon. Several of the ladies brought items for her to look at and perhaps to tell what the item could be sold for today.

The business meeting was presided by the president, Mrs. Robert Hebel Sr.

Roll call was to name a favorite heirloom. Correspondence was read from the Crescent Club and from the State Troopers who spoke at our last meeting. There was also a note from Cathy Ensign thanking the Club for the check she received as a winner in the recent essay contest. She will read the paper at our next meeting.

It was also announced that there will be a bake sale at the April meeting.

A letter was written and will be sent to Sen. Ballenger and the representatives from Clinton and Shiawassee Counties regarding the coyote bounty and the lowering of alcohol content for drunk drivers. This was signed by all present.

Three C's

By REV. HUGH BANNINGA

We continue this week with our discussion of repentance.

We are talking about the three "C's" of repentance—Confession, Contrition and Commitment. Today's discussion concerns the second act of repentance which is contrition.

The dictionary defines contrition as "sorrow for and detestation of sin with a true purpose of amendment, arising from a love of God for his own perfections."

The Apostle Paul shows us the relationship between sorrow and repentance in his second letter to the Corinthians. He told them, "Now I rejoice, not that you were made sorry, but that you sorrowed to repentance; for you were made sorry after a godly manner. . . for godly sorrow works repentance to salvation."

"Godly sorrow works repentance to salvation." First, let me tell you what St. Paul did not mean by that phrase. He did not mean that sorrow and repentance are the same thing. What he said was that godly sorrow leads to repentance.

Also, he did not mean by godly sorrow that feeling of sorrow that you and I have when we get caught in our sins.

WHEN WE GET caught cheating on an exam, or Uncle Sam calls us in to account for those questionable deductions on our income tax return, we feel kind of sorry for ourselves and we say, "Yeah, I'm sorry you caught me. Next time I'll be more careful and you won't catch me." No, godly sorrow is not this kind of sorrow.

Also godly-sorrow does not mean an over-emotional kind of sorrow. Some people have the mistaken idea that sorrow means a flood of tears and a lot of weeping and wailing.

Most men know that a woman's tears will very often soften their hearts and change their minds. This same idea becomes a basis for teaching that tears are a sinner's mightiest weapon to soften the heart of God and get Him to grant the gift of salvation.

But God doesn't work that way. We can't cajole God into doing something for us whenever we Want Him to.

If it were really true that by turning on the tears of sorrow, we could gain salvation from God, then it would mean that Christ's death on the Cross is not enough for the forgiveness of sins. It would mean that God grants salvation on the basis of Christ's death plus sorrow; His death plus our tears; His death plus our pleading.

No, godly sorrow is sorrow that comes from putting our sins beside the goodness of God and seeing how much of a poor second we are compared to Him. Godly sorrow is hating the sin we do and being sorry for the good we did not do.

YOU KNOW the often quoted statement of St. Paul from his letter to the Romans. He said, "I do not desire to be saved without the will, but the will does not want is what I do."

Now if I do what I do not want it is no longer I that do, but sin which dwells within me."

We are to be contrite—to be sorry that we have committed sin. Contrition will help to bring about that change of attitude, that turning about toward God.

In chapter 57 of Isaiah, the prophet, we read, "For thus says the high and lofty One who inhabits eternity, whose name is Holy; I dwell in the high and holy place, and also with him who is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite."

John Calvin wrote about godly sorrow or contrition. He said, "If we think we are something, we have only to turn our eyes to God, and immediately we are nothing."

The call to everyone is to repent. The first two actions of repentance are confession and contrition. Next week I'll discuss the final act of repentance—commitment.

STARTER Fertilizer PAYS

LIQUID STARTER • FAST • EASY • SURE

■ FAST
Farmers have found they can plant a third more acres per day because of less filling time, at both plant and field.

■ EASY
No handling and storage problems. Pumps and gravity do the work. No dust, no lumping, no plugging. No need for weather protection.

■ SURE
Every drop contains same amounts of N P and K. Assure uniformity of application. Pop-up speeds emergence and early root development even in cold wet soils. Side placement assures continued rapid development of healthy, sturdy plants.

Married

ELSIE(c)—Susan Perrien and David Helt of Elsie exchanged wedding vows Friday, Feb. 19, at the First Baptist Church of Elsie.

The Rev. Thomas Coe performed the ceremony in the presence of over a hundred relatives and friends.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Lu Perrien of rural Elsie and Julian Perrien of Lowell and the groom is the son of Mrs. Leona Fanlan of Elsie and the late Ezra Helt.

The bride's floor length gown of white chiffon over taffeta was fashioned with an A-line skirt and empire bodice featuring lace puff sleeves. The lace-edged train was held in place by a large bow. Her bridal bouquet of red sweetheart roses, in a cross formation, was framed with white carnations and tied with white satin ribbons.

Mrs. James Ackels of Lowell was her sister's matron of honor and wore royal blue satin with dark blue velvet accenting the collar and cuffs. The floor-length gown was designed with long sleeves and a matching shoulder-length veil secured by a large rose. Her bouquet was identical to that of the bride except pink carnations were used.

Bill LaClair of Bannister was best man while Lyle Perrien of Ovid, uncle of the bride and Larry Waggoner, brother-in-law of the groom served as ushers.

The traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Una Serviss and the altar was decorated with lighted candelabra and vases of red roses.

A reception was held at Thorny Acres Sportsman Club south of Elsie.

Attending the guest book was Judy Perrien who also cut the beautiful wedding cake made by Mrs. R. C. King.

Following a brief honeymoon trip to the Mackinac Bridge, the groom left Monday, Feb. 22 on a tour of duty with the U.S. Army and the bride will reside with her mother while completing her studies for graduation from Ovid-Elsie High in June. The groom is a 1968 graduate of Ovid-Elsie.

Bonnie Mock bride of LeRoy Beagle

WACOUSTA (c)—The First Methodist Church in Eaton Rapids was the setting for the Saturday, March 6 wedding ceremony uniting in marriage Bonnie Lou Mock and LeRoy Ronald Beagle.

Brother Horning guest of Morning Musicale

Members and guests of the St. Johns Morning Musicale met in the sanctuary of the First Congregational Church on Thursday, March 11.

President, Mrs. Harold Lundy opened the Lenten meeting with the reading of the Collect.

Mrs. Manning Bross announced that the scholarship auditions would be held in the First Congregational Church on Saturday, March 27 at 9:30 a.m.

Guests included Brother Gregory, Mrs. Raymond Snyder, Mrs. Tille Smith, Mrs. Erdine Phillips, and Mrs. Carol Duguay.

Mrs. Jack Stenberg introduced the ensemble singing two selections from Vaughan Williams entitled "O Taste and See" and "Land of Our Birth."

The main feature in the Lenten program was an organ concert by Brother Gregory Horning who is presently teaching Organ and Theory at the Sacred Heart College in Detroit as well as being chairman of the Lansing Diocesan Music Commission.

Previous to his organ selections, Brother Horning related his theme as "The Art of Sound" with music relating to one's inner self in regards to a relationship to God during our lives in this Lenten season. His sensitivity and expression caused his audience to be aware of his excellent interpretation of each of his selections.

Two composers, Martorell and Camil Van Hulst were used in Brother Horning's selections entitled, "Processional," "Meditation," "Prayer," "Interreflection," "Contemplation," and "Recessional."

The next meeting will be held March 25 in the home of Mrs. Richard Amstutz.

MUSICALE GUEST

Brother Gregory Horning of Sacred Heart College in Detroit was the guest performer at the Lenten program presented by the St. Johns Morning Musicale last Thursday. Brother Horning set various moods with his program entitled "The Art of Sound."

Couple exchange vows at Methodist Church

MRS. LARRY LLOYD WILD T

The United Methodist Church in St. Johns was the setting for the Friday, March 12 wedding uniting in marriage Janeth Kay Harte and Larry Lloyd Wildt. Rev. Harold Homer officiated at the 7 p.m. double ring service before an altar decorated with white gladiolus, white snapdragons and yellow mums.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gareth M. Harte of 13461 Center Road, Bath and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd F. Wildt of 2909 Clark Road, Bath.

Organist for the ceremony was Mrs. Barbara Davis and soloist was Mrs. Marlon Scott.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and approached the altar wearing a gown of acetate and nylon lace over acetate taffeta featuring a fitted bodice, rose petal neckline and long tapered sleeves. The bodice was trimmed with seed pearls and sequins and the tiered skirt formed a six-foot train. A garland of flowers, forming a tiara, secured her floor-length bouffant nylon tulle veil and she carried a long cascade-style bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses and white lace mums.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Dianne Glover of Bath and serving as bridesmaids were Mrs. Janet Duvendek of Flint, Mrs. Linda Hudson of Lansing and Mrs. Jean Schmunser of Lansing. Flower girl was Tracey Wilkins, niece of the groom. The attendants wore sleeveless gowns with a velvet bodice and white A-line fashioned skirts of white acetate taffeta with an empire-style waistline. Bows decorated the back of the gowns. The matron of honor and the flower girl wore moss green and the other attendants wore olive green. Bows secured their matching net shoulder-length veils and they carried cascade-style bouquets of yellow sweetheart roses and white lace mums attached to matching green muffs. The flower girl carried a basket of yellow rose petals.

Gene Wilkins of Bath, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man and assisting as groomsmen were Eugene Hudson of Lansing, Michael Tucker of Bath and Laurence Harte of Bath, brother of the bride. Ushers were Gareth G. Harte and Thomas L. Harte, both brothers of the bride. Ring bearer was Scott Wilkins, nephew of the groom.

The reception was held at King Arthur's Mobile Home Court in Lansing following the ceremony.

Special guests at the wedding and reception were Mrs. Gladys Evans, of Galva, Ill., great-aunt of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Octa V. Harte of St. Petersburg, Fla., grandparents of the bride and Mrs. Mary Reed of Bath, grandmother of the groom.

For their wedding trip to Niagara Falls the bride chose a two piece red acetate turtleneck suit with a white ruffle blouse. Her double breasted red maxi coat was accented by gold buttons and a gold chain forming a belt in the back.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Wildt will make their home at 602 East Main Street, Lansing after March 16.

MR. AND MRS. WILLARD E. CURTIS JR.

Bride's home setting for wedding

Rev. Averill Carson performed the Saturday, Feb. 27 wedding ceremony uniting in marriage Joan Marie VanEtten and Willard Edward Curtis Jr. The ceremony took place in the home of the bride's parents before members of the immediate family.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Connie Gushall of St. Johns. She wore a melon colored floor-length crepe gown, empire-style, and a matching headpiece. She carried a bouquet of salmon and white carnations and salmon roses, accented with straw-berry vine.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel VanEtten of Elsie and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard E. Curtis Sr. of Krepps Rd., St. Johns.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and chose a floor-length sleeveless gown of taffeta featuring an overlay of nylon lace. A white velvet bow accented the top of the bodice. Her finger-tip veil was secured in place by a cluster of pearls and lace and she carried a round bouquet of white roses and lacy mums, accented by white satin streamers.

Best man was Nicholas Jorae. A buffet luncheon was served at the ZCBJ Hall in Bannister for 250 guests and special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Cramer and Mrs. Ellen Stambersky, grandparents of the bride.

For their wedding trip to Florida the new Mrs. Curtis left wearing a navy blue dress trimmed with nylon ruffles around the collar, neckline and down the front of the bodice. Upon return they will make their home at 908 N. Oakland St., St. Johns.

The couple are both graduates of Rodney B. Wilson High School.

Grove Bible Church scene of wedding

Carol Elaine Duffield became the bride of Jack Dee Welton Saturday, Feb. 20 in a 7:30 p.m. service held in the Grove Bible Church. Rev. Robert Prange performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with a white and yellow carnation centerpiece. A unity candle was centered in the arrangement.

Organist, Carolyn Rizor accompanied soloist Darlene Prange.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hobert Duffield of 7581 Taft Road, Ovid and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dean Welton of 5844 Wildcat Road, St. Johns.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a long white A-line satin gown featuring an empire waistline, long lantern sleeves and a high neckline. The gown was trimmed with re-embroidered lace and appliqued with seed pearls. A full-length mantilla edged in matching lace completed her ensemble and she carried a white Bible with a white orchid secured to the top and yellow rosebuds attached to white streamers. The minister read the service from her bible, which was also the same one used at her mother's wedding.

Maid of Honor was Colleen Daley of Elsie and assisting as bridesmaids were Jennifer Cummings of Owosso and Vickie Smith of Laingsburg. Junior bridesmaid was Jill Welton of St. Johns, sister of the groom and flower girl was Patty Sue Parks of St. Johns. The attendants wore yellow and white gowns and carried nosegays of carnations and bows. The flower girl was attired in white and carried a basket of yellow rose petals.

Curt Miller, friend of the groom, was best man and serving as groomsmen were Mike Riley, cousin of the groom, and Jerry Welton, brother of the groom. Junior groomsmen were Tim Duffield, brother of the bride and seating the guests were ushers Dan Duffield and Mike Duffield, brother of the bride, Jack Welton, brother of the groom and Kurt Parks, cousin of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Woodhams were host and hostess at the reception which was held in the basement of the church immediately following the ceremony. Arrangements of yellow mums and stephanotis centered with a white taper decorated each guest table.

The bride and groom are both graduates of Ovid-Elsie High School and will be making their home in Chapin.

Business notes

By MIKE PREVILLE
News Advertising Manager

Big Mama went with us to the Fowler-Potterville regional game Friday night. She was very impressed with the entire evening. We flashed our homemade press card and to our amazement we not only got to park within three miles of the field-house but got in for free. Saginaw St. Joe didn't look that good in the first game. They had lots of height and played pretty good defense but they didn't move too well and their shooting wasn't even so-so. Later on we talked with a St. Joe fan who had seen them wipe Mt. Pleasant Sacred Heart right out of the gym. That night they had hit 70 per cent and 26 of 27 free throws. That fan was thankful their "bad night" was against Arenac.

Anyway after the game we talked with the officials, Al Baker and George Earl about the calls that had the fieldhouse in an uproar. The technical on Potterville was called when Al's ancestry was questioned. The double foul that gave Fowler one shot and Potterville two shots was called because... "the Fowler man was fouled before he shot... and the Potterville man was awarded two shots because it was a deliberate foul." Oh, yes... Brimley was knocked off. By Harper Valley or Harbor Springs or something.

NOW TO AVOID all arguments here's how we see the State Champs. Class A-Detroit/Kettering. Class B-River Rouge. Class C-Stockbridge and Class D-Saginaw St. Joe. Of course if an Upper Peninsula team should pull one out, we'll smile like we knew it all the time.

HOW OFTEN HAVE you attended an Open House and been served home made cookies? Not very, we'll bet. But homemade cookies will be served during Oliver Montague's Open House this Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

WE THINK A special note of congratulations are in order for Donna Fries of Ovid. For the first week in several Donna isn't our "Bowler of the Week." But like Tony Sincropi of Tri-Ami Bowl pointed out she's been 570 or more for the past three weeks.

DICK PARSONS of Fowler Plumbing must be fit to be tied. He's in the hospital. Had his appendix removed. And when he gets out he'll have to "take it easy" for a while. Messed up a trip for him.

PUBLIC MEETING
A public meeting will be held on March 25 at 8 p.m. at the Wacousta School to give citizens details and information on the prevention of crime.

There will be an adult film entitled "The Door Was Locked" shown by State Trooper Dragger of the Michigan State Police and a representative from the Clinton County Sheriff's office will be on hand to answer questions. The meeting is open to the public.

IT'S COOKIE TIME AGAIN

These three girls from Troop 522 will be among the large number of Girl Scouts participating in the annual cookie sale which starts this Friday in this area. Girl Scout cookie sale coming

The annual Michigan Capitol Council Girl Scouts cookie sale will begin Friday, March 19 and continue through April 2.

The cases of cookies will be delivered to the home of Mrs. William Morris, neighborhood cookie chairman, on April 27 to April 29. The girls will then deliver the cookies and collect the money from the sales.

Each Council has its cookie sale at different times of the year so that the bakery may spread the work load over a more even period of time. This procedure insures fresh cookies delivered.

This year, unlike in the past, two boxes of cookies will be wrapped together in cellophane and sell for $1. The bakery chose this method of meeting costs rather than increasing the price. This is twice the price of the cookies from last year, however the purchaser will receive exactly twice as many cookies. The individual troops will receive more profit by the double boxing system. Rather than receive two cents as in the past they will realize a profit of five cents per box.

This sale gives the scouts the opportunity to raise funds for their troop activities; to help participate in special scouting opportunities; to give direct services to girls and to purchase equipment and property in their behalf.

Free up

By REP. DICK ALLEN

The "people" are better off if they are not allowed to closely observe the complete operation of government.

Or as Bismark once said, "Those who would have great faith in sausages or law should observe neither in the process of being made."

The conclusion of such opinions is that the only test of law or government is how well it operates. If the sausage tastes good and doesn't make you sick, don't worry about what went into it.

Certainly such an approach is undemocratic, putting little faith in the people. We expect it in Spain or Russia, we may even feel it appropriate in certain areas where few people are literate or have any knowledge of government.

But when it crops up in our country, it frightens us — and rightly so! But crop up it does. Reporters go to local government meetings only to discover the exciting debate they were expecting takes place in a closed "executive" session.

OR IT IS discovered that a State House Committee can, unbeknownst to the public and to most of the Legislature, initiate a fringe benefit program.

An example at the national level took place this last week. Sen. Symington accused a colleague of endangering national security by revealing classified information. The information involved the development of new improved missiles by the Soviet Union.

Now just a minute. Who are we keeping this a secret from? Certainly the Russians already know what kind of missiles they are building. How am I any better off by not knowing?

The argument that we are competing with a closed society does not impress me. An open society is better and we should prove it by competing openly. Openness is basic to democracy and must be insisted upon at all levels of government. But it does have its dangers and requires a very intelligent public.

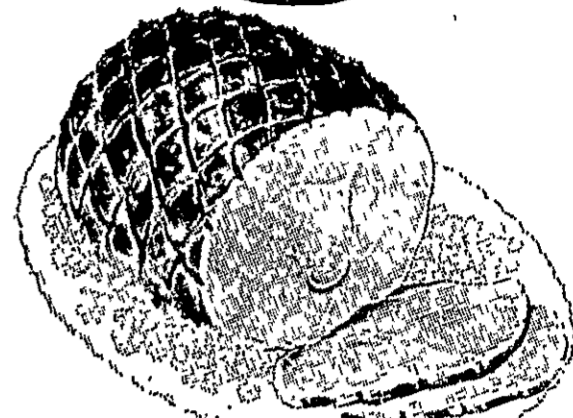

FOR INSTANCE, I occasionally get disgusted complaints from people about the Legislature considering or debating this proposal or that. "Well, I'll say, it didn't pass did it? What is your complaint?"

The public must distinguish between all the "wild" opinions that may be expressed along the line and the final result in the form of a new law.

Naturally, complete candor makes us public officials nervous. If our minds could be read from the gallery you might occasionally discover that a statesman like expression is covering up a dirty thought.

But I'll put my faith in the people. You already knew that politics, like business, occasionally gets mean and nasty. And that your man in Lansing occasionally has dirty thoughts.

Eagles fall 62-53

Saginaw Bucs end Fowler glory trail

By TIM YOUNKMAN
Editor

The joy in Mudville ebbed considerably Saturday at Finch Fieldhouse in Mt. Pleasant as Fowler fans watched in disbelief.

Their favorites, the Eagles, turned to ice in the first quarter and it was all the edge Saginaw St. Joseph's Buccaneers needed to take the state's Regional basketball trophy, 65-53.

"It was the worst game we've played all season," Coach Charles Trierweiler lamented. He said the Eagles were "intimidated by the St. Joseph team both on offense and defense."

The Eagles displayed little of their normal aggressiveness the nets, and in three of the four quarters, failed to move the opposition away from the rebounds. On offense, it was a similar story.

The Eagles would move the ball past the time line, but couldn't set up the plays and patterns as they've done during the season against Central Michigan conference foes.

The Bucs forced a host of outside shots that weren't on target. But the first quarter set the pattern of play for most of the game, as the Eagles collected only six points, two by free throws, in the period. St. Joseph, meanwhile, hit for 14.

Trierweiler agreed that the only way to beat St. Joseph was to outrun them on the floor and trying to keep fairly even on rebounds.

MOST NOTABLE was the cool shooting of Neil Thelen in the first half. He was forced to the outside away from his normal spot at the top of the key. In the second quarter, Thelen missed two long jumpers and two more in close — all in succession.

With 2:10 remaining in the second quarter, Fowler called time to regroup and trailed the high-flying Bucs 26-15.

The Eagles finally broke a full-court press in the remaining two minutes to pull within 10 points 27-17 at halftime, but the pressure points had been plotted by Saginaw.

The Buccaneers had out-rebounded Fowler 29-17 in the first half and had allowed only seven field goals by the normally high-scoring Eagles.

The third quarter found Fowler in deeper trouble as the visitors from Saginaw pulled ahead by as much as 18 points. Fowler called time with 4:23 remaining in the third period, trailing by 17 points, 38-21.

After the brief rest, the Eagles looked as though they might catch fire. They stormed out-grabbing rebounds and causing several turnovers—but Saginaw kept hitting on outside shots bringing the third quarter score to 45-31.

THE SAGINAW squad kept the margin at 11 points during the fourth quarter until Fowler's Thelen popped one to bring the score margin down to nine points at the buzzer, 62-53.

Despite the cold first half, Thelen won the game-scoring honors with 21 points on seven field goals and seven-for-eight at the line.

John Mathews added 12 points on five field goals and two charity tosses.

Others scoring for Fowler were Jerome Pohl (3), Cliff Thelen (4), Alan Harr (6), Clare Thelen (2), Dave Rossow (2), Steve Feldpausch (2) and Stan Feldpausch (1).

The Eagles hit on 18 field goals during the contest and added 17 more from the free throw line. Saginaw struck for 26 field goals and 10 free throws.

Fowler ended the season with an excellent 20-2 record, including tournament play, and captured both the CMAC crown and the St. Johns district trophy.

Saginaw St. Joseph, now 16-6, was to move up to the State Quarterfinal competition against North Huron.

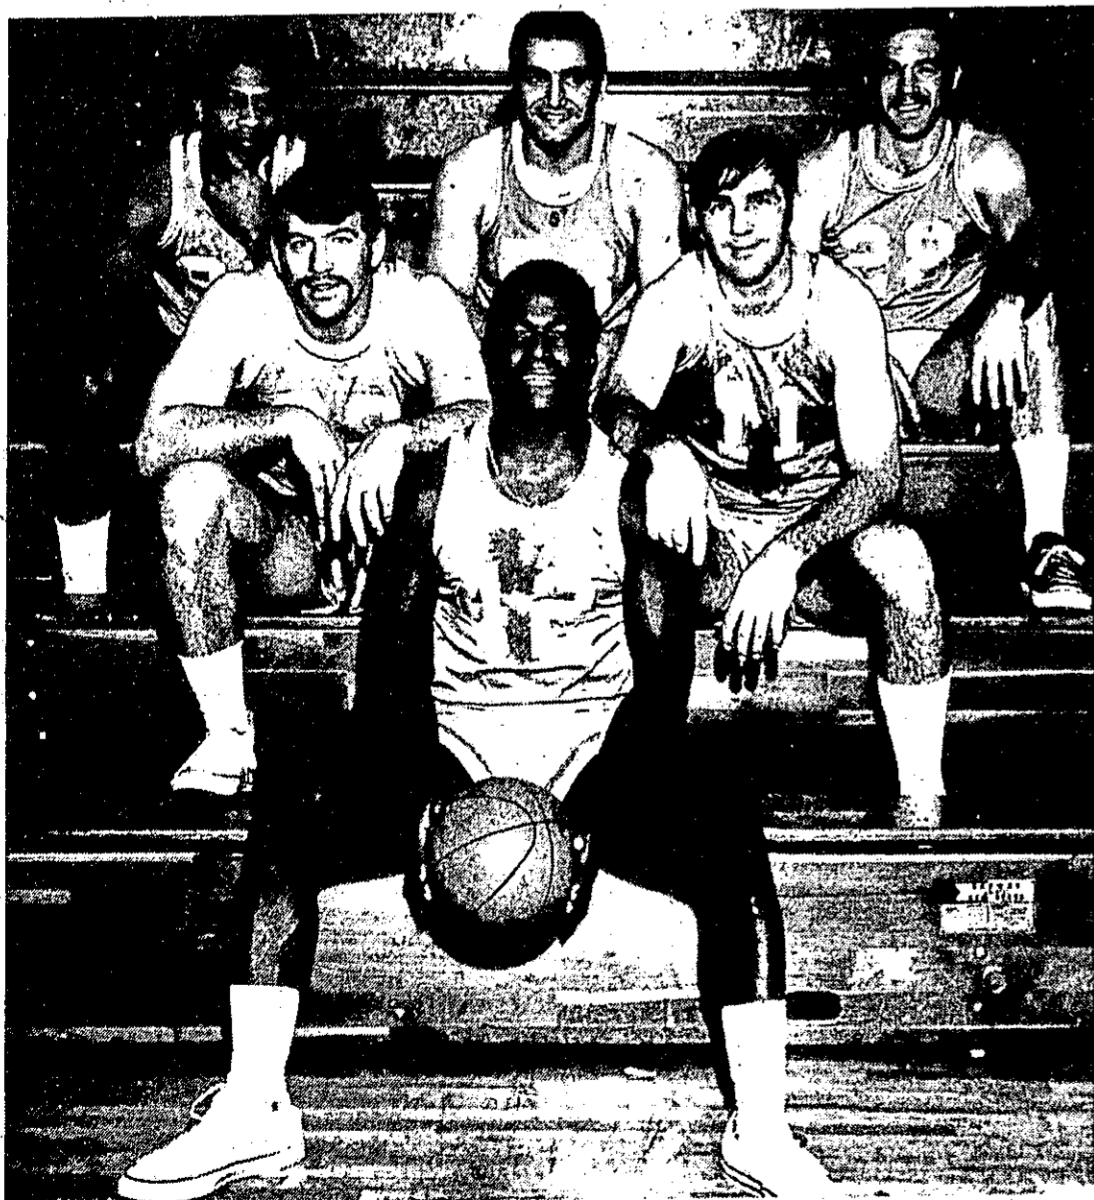

Scoring by quarters:
Fowler 6 11 14 22-53
St. Joseph 14 13 18 17-62

FAMILIAR PATTERN

Saginaw's Wayne Ramsey (51) plucks the ball from the Eagle's backboard, a familiar sight to the frustrated Eagle fans Saturday. Trying to get the ball are Eagles' Dave Rossow (13) and Steve Feldpausch (23). Watching for Saginaw are Alvin Howell (30) and Elijah Coates (24).

LION STARS

IS THAT OUR SCORE?

Fowler Eagles Jerome Pohl (33) and Neil Thelen (15) can't quite believe that they're behind during the Regional finals game at Mt. Pleasant against Saginaw St. Joseph. The Saginaw team won, 62-53.

Clinton County News all-star team announced

Clinton County area basketball coaches and sportswriters released their picks for the 1971 Clinton County News all-star team. Names to the first team were Dean Eisler of St. Johns at center, John Bengel of Pewamo - Westphalia at guard, Neil Thelen of Fowler at guard, Paul Stoll of Bath at forward and Cal Woodard of Ovid-Elsie at forward.

Picked for second team honors were Steve Tews of DeWitt at center, Mike Brown of St. Johns, Ron Wilcox of DeWitt and Pat Botke of DeWitt at guards (tied at voting), Jerome Pohl of Fowler at forward and Keith Nelson of Ovid-Elsie at center-forward.

Cole injured after taking state crown

The News was informed Monday that DeWitt senior wrestler Mike Cole, who took the 132-pound-division state title, scored a second round decision by a pin rather than an injury default as reported earlier.

According to a letter sent to the News, Cole "worked so hard to get to his last match. When there was 1:14 to go, Cole injured his knee seriously. He was determined to finish the match which won him his first state title."

The final match against Bob Skuplan of VanderCook Lake, found Cole winning by a 5-2 decision. After the match he was immediately taken to the hospital from the school and was operated on Monday morning.

A DeWitt fan says, "We think this fine young athlete deserves all the credit due him. We at DeWitt are very proud of Mike Cole."

Relying on a sticky man to man defense the Fowler Eagles rolled past Potterville in the first round of the Regional D tournament in Mt. Pleasant.

Forcing Potterville to make numerous mistakes and turn-overs the Eagles built a 19-8 first quarter lead on the way to their third victory over Potterville this season.

Neil Thelen and substitute Alan Harr led the Eagle attack netting 22 and 19 points respectively. Also scoring for Fowler was: John Mathews, 12; Gary Pung, 11; Clare Thelen, 8; Dave Rossow, 7; Jerome Pohl and Steve Feldpausch, 4.

Scoring by quarters:

Tom Harper wins NIC title

Unbeaten Tom Harper of St. Johns, battled his way to the Northern Intercollegiate Conference 126-pound title Thursday and became the Huskies' first conference wrestling champion in history.

Harper also qualified for the NCAA college division championships at Fargo, N.D., March 11-13. Harper completed his dual meet season with a 13-0-2 record and entered the NIC meet as, at least, a title contender.

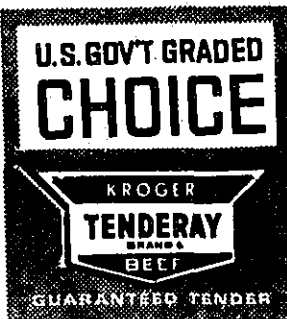

He defeated Pat Costello of Bemidji State by a fall in his first match and advanced to the championship bout via a fall over Southwest State's Leland Rogge. In the title bout, Harper decisively hitley Haug of Moorhead State 9-1 for the crown.

"I want them to be genuine human beings first. Secondly, I want them to have an obligation to themselves to do as well in the classroom as they possibly can. Thirdly, I want them to be as fine a basketball player as they can be. I don't want basketball to become their number one priority, I try to practice what I preach."

This is Coach Doug Japinga's basketball philosophy. At the annual basketball banquet held Sunday night it was evident that this philosophy has prevailed.

Japinga was particularly expressive about the school's basketball program and its benefit to the overall records that have accumulated in the past few years.

"I wish to give thanks to all the staff down to the elementary coaches. Without these men and their programs, we just wouldn't have done so well," he said.

Japinga presented awards and certificates to the outgoing seniors, Steve Mead, Brian Carpenter, Dean Eisler, Randy Atkinson, Mike Brown, and Gregg Lounds. Also presented with certificates were Juniors Ken Schueller, Dennis LeVeck, Mike Grost, Rick Hudson, Dan Yurek, Jeff Springer and Jim Conley.

Four special awards were presented by Japinga. Brian Carpenter received the "Most Improved Player" award for his outstanding performance each time he was called on to help the team.

Recipient for the "Outstanding Defense Player" of the year was Steve Mead. According to Japinga, the 11st is long of Mead's many accomplishments on the defense court.

MIKE BROWN received the "101 Per Cent" Award. This award is given to a player who responds above and beyond the call of duty. Japinga said that he could always depend on Brown for that extra that was needed to put them over the top.

Dean Eisler received the "Most Valuable Player" award. Japinga listed Eisler's credentials. He led the league in scoring with a 26.9 average; led the league in rebounds, 17.7; eighth in the league in field goals, tenth in freethrows; placed on the first team State Journal All Area Team for the second time; first team member Clinton County News all-county team; and highest number of points in one game for St. Johns 40.

Japinga said, "What more can I say about him that has not already been said? I am truly sorry that I am going to lose this fine ball player."

Coach Japinga received a standing ovation from those attending the banquet.

Team captain Eisler assisted by Brown presented gifts to all the people who assisted them throughout the year. Eisler conveyed the team's thanks to Japinga guiding them through a successful season and helping them to be "real human beings." A trophy was presented to Japinga with the team's picture on it.

COACH MIKE YOUNG presented numerals and certificates to the junior varsity. The JV's finished second in the league. Young predicted a good year will be coming up.

Team members receiving awards and certificates were Dan Mohrke, Dennis Parker, Alex MacKinnon, Mike Wilson, Ed Jorae, Mike Sutherland.

Also Jim Viers, Bob Spencer, Steve Pytlowany, Bruce Irish, Mark DeBoer, Chuck Fatvor and Ron Jones.

Coach Al Werbish presented pictures and individual statistics to the freshman team. Werbish utilizes a unique system of two teams for more experience and exposure for each team member. The "A" team had an 8-3 record and the "B" team had a 5-2 record.

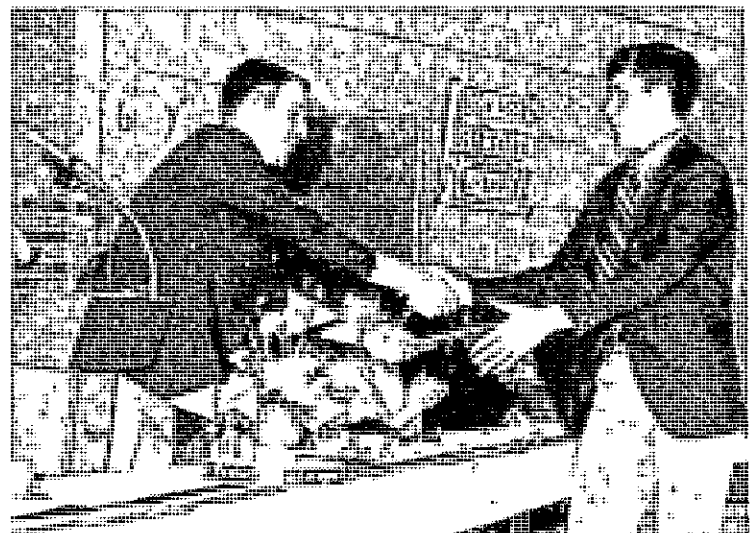

They were honored by their respective teams. A special award of Super Fan went to Jack Brown, an ardent fan.

A number of good-natured jests were thrown at Dick Kramer for scoring "mistake" at the Ionla game. The team presented him with an enlarged picture of a newspaper account of his "mistake" at the Ionla game. The team presented him with an enlarged picture of a newspaper account of his "mistake." The Ionla basketball team sent him a special gift of an Ionla gym shirt.

Kramer accidentally added a point to Ionla's score while he was score-keeper during the game.

St. Johns not only has a fine basketball program it also has three teams of "human beings."

101 PER CENT AWARD

Doug Japinga hands Mike Brown his award for being a 101 per cent player. According to Japinga, "Brown went over and above the call of duty both on and off the playing court."

MOST VALUABLE PLAYER

Dean "The Dream" Eisler receives the Most Valuable Player award from Coach Doug Japinga at the St. Johns annual basketball banquet. Coach Japinga said, "What more can be said that hasn't already been said about this great ball player?"

A SMALL TOKEN...

Team Captain Dean Eisler presents Head Coach Doug Japinga with a gift from the Redwings for "all the things that he has taught and instilled in each member of the team." The gift was a trophy with a picture of the St. Johns team.

Eagle

Mrs. Charles Higbee
Phone 626-6531

Mrs. Carl Leitzke has been ill and unable to teach school this past week.

The Niles Cemetery Society served dinner at noon Thursday, March 11, at the Eagle Town Hall.

The North Eagle Cemetery Society will serve supper March 25 at the Town Hall with the Alta Keblor committee in charge.

There will be a Singing at the Eagle Methodist Church with Deita Church as guests on March 28 at 7:30 p.m. Every one is invited to come and join in the singing.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor McCrumb are in Florida on vacation. They left Monday morning.

Gordon Wright got a surprise Tuesday morning when he came home from working on the late shift at Oldsmobile. He got out of the car of a fellow worker he rides with, walked over to his car, which was parked across from Stuckey's, and found both rear wheels missing.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Falor are having the Cooper family for dinner Sunday in honor of the 21st anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John Cooper.

Medicare sign-up due

People who are 65 and haven't already signed up for Medicare medical insurance may enroll now through March 31 at any social security office.

Medicare medical insurance helps pay doctor bills. A person may first enroll in the program within the three months before or the three months after the month he reaches 65. He may also sign up the general enrollment period—January, February, and March, within three years following the end of his first sign-up period.

"Almost anyone 65 or over in the United States is eligible for Medicare medical insurance and more than nine out of 10 in that age group are enrolled.

Medical insurance is funded by individual voluntary monthly premiums that are matched by the Federal Government.

If a person enrolls after his first, or 65th birthday, sign-up period, he pays a premium that is 10 per cent higher for each full year that elapses after that first sign-up period.

If you enroll and then cancel your Medicare medical insurance, you're eligible to re-enroll only once and you may sign up again during a general enrollment period, January, February, or March of each year that begins within three years after your protection stopped.

Medicare medical insurance supplements Medicare hospital insurance, which is funded by regular social security contributions and helps pay hospital bills for eligible people over 65.

Medicare is administered by the Social Security Administration.

4-H open house

By JOHN AYLSWORTH

The public is invited to attend the County 4-H Open House Sunday, March 21, 2-5:30 p.m. at Smith Hall in St. Johns.

More than 1,000 projects in clothing, knitting, handicraft, painting and drawing, tractor, snowmobiles, leather, ceramics, conservation photography and others will be displayed.

The 4-H youth are proud of their project accomplishments completed this winter and urge the public to attend.

The members and their projects will be evaluated on Saturday, March 20 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

ALMOST 19,190 pounds of glass was taken Friday to the glass plant at Charlotte on two trucks. This glass was collected by the 4-H teen leaders on Saturday, March 6 at the fairgrounds, sorted by color, metal removed and crushed into thirty-seven 55-gallon barrels.

The 4-H teen leaders extend their appreciation to all the people who brought in glass or helped with the project in any way. In six months of operation over 68,000 pounds of glass has been collected and sent back for recycling instead of filling up our area landfills. The next glass collection day will be Saturday, April 3, at the fairgrounds.

YOUTH AND adults interested in sheep and swine animals are invited to attend a livestock selection and training session at Michigan State University, Saturday March 20 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The session will be held at Anthony Hall. The program will include the comparative external parts of swine relative to cattle, the wholesale cuts of pork, swine conformation, and finish, live evaluation of swine for carcass characteristics, the external parts unique to sheep, the wholesale cuts of lamb, and live evaluation of lambs.

On April 24 there will be a judging session for beef, sheep, and swine. There will be training on what to look for in judging, giving oral reasons and practice judging classes on beef, sheep and swine.

CONTRIBUTIONS to date for the National 4-H center expansion at Washington, D.C. has now reached $1,407.18 toward our county goal of $1,501. The latest contribution has been a $10 contribution by the Nifty Knitters 4-H club who have reached their fair share of $1 per member.

VETA VISIT 1971 is the name given to the 8th annual College of Veterinary Medicine Open House, Saturday, April 10 at Michigan State University from 9 a.m.—5:30 p.m.

Information on careers plus exhibits and demonstrations on all phases of Veterinary Medicine will be on display. Groups, individual or families are all invited to attend this Veta Visit open house.

4-H HORTICULTURAL Leaders and teen leaders are urged to attend the leaders workshop, April 3 at the Michigan State University Horticulture Building, Room 107A from 9:30 - 3:30 p.m.

Leaders and teen leaders are urged to bring their own lunch. The overall theme will be container gardening and participants should bring their own containers.

Soil will be furnished. Participants will be able to plant seed or start cuttings to root from grapes, coleus, geraniums, english ivy, pachy sandra, etc. A few seeds from the new cinderella pumpkin will be distributed. There is no advanced registration needed.

4-H YOUTH, or leaders interested in securing some dwarf apple trees or some spring flower bulbs are urged to contact the Extension Office for variety and cost. Orders are needed by April 1 if you want to be sure your request is filled.

THE FRENCH'S Corners Snowmobile Club of 11 members and leaders had an enjoyable time last weekend traveling from Harrison to Houghton Lake and return on their snowmobile.

The members experienced no engine trouble and cooked their food along the way. If they knew they weren't to have school on Monday and Tuesday they might have stayed longer. The snowmobile project has helped the members to better understand the safety involved with the machine, small engine care and the enjoyable use of a safe handling vehicle.

THE ELSIE FOUR Corners 4-H members discussed the young garden contest, 4-H trip awards, county honor roll, spring achievement and the glass pickup. The club will participate in the county beautification project on April 17. The members have the project almost all completed and will be ready for project evaluation on March 20.

THE WESTPHALIA 4-H Club members will hold their own club style revue on March 24, 7:30 p.m. at St. Mary's Hall in Westphalia. The girls practiced modeling at their last meeting which was a new experience for many of the members.

THE OLIVE 4-H Projects members will join in the county beautification project on Saturday, April 17. The members are getting ready for project evaluation on March 20 and the county style revue on March 26-27.

David Pries showed a safety film on "What To Do In Case of A Tornado." The club is having a calendar sale which costs 50¢ with birthdays, anniversaries etc. to be added for 10¢ per name.

THE 4-H PROJECT evaluation and style revue will be a new experience for most of the County Farm 4-H members. At their last meeting the girls were discussing what to wear, how to model, and then practiced modeling for the county program.

Public benefits seen with REAP in 71

Anti-pollution and other environmental benefits have been emphasized in the development of State and county Rural Environmental Assistance Programs (REAP) for 1971.

Nick Smith, Chairman of the Michigan ASC Committee, explained that REAP was formerly ACP—the Agricultural Conservation Program, which has been operative since 1966. The name change is the key to the program change.

"Long range preservation of the environment and more public benefits are being emphasized. Lower priority is being placed on conservation practices which are production oriented or which provide only temporary benefits," Smith said.

REAP will continue to be administered by county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committees. 83 county committees in Michigan have now developed their local programs. In considering applications by farmers, as individuals or in groups, first priority will be given to those practices which will best improve the community environment and provide the most public benefits.

Encouragement will be given to such farmland conservation measures as dams and ponds, permanent grass cover, sod waterways, buffer strips and tree plantings. All of these practices help retain and slow down water and reduce siltation as the water moves downstream. Practices which help reduce pollution from animal wastes, fertilizers and pesticides also will be encouraged.

Most cost-sharing is on a fifty-fifty basis between farmers and the Government. However, Smith stated that the Government will assume a greater portion of the cost for certain practices carried out in special projects or by low-income farmers.

Michigan had five special ACP projects in 1970. The special project approach under REAP offers an opportunity for farmers to join with their non-farm neighbors in solving an environmental problem which affects all and which is too big for any one person or group to tackle alone.

Best alfalfa

Saranac is still the best alfalfa variety for three-to-five-year stands in Michigan, reports Milo B. Tesar, Michigan State University crop scientist.

Saranac out-yielded all other varieties in MSU tests. Tesar says Saranac is wilt resistant, moderately winter hardy and recovers quickly after cutting.

The March meeting of Stockman-Horton Grange will be held on Thursday evening March 11 instead of on the regular date. It will be held at the Arthur Curtis home and a potluck supper will be served.

Mrs. James Whittemore of Ovid and Merril Balcom spent Saturday and Sunday in Rockford and Grand Rapids with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Whittemore and Mr. and Mrs. Aldon Balcom.

Mrs. Helen Balcom spent several days last week with her son, Richard Byam near Durand. Several from here attended the World Day of Prayer at the St. Johns Congregational Church on Friday afternoon.

Due to the severe storm over the weekend all schools were closed and many roads blocked. Many snowmobilers made good use of the snow and ice. The trail at Sleepy Hollow Park was well patronized on Sunday.

Kevin and Diane Van Gieson of Ovid spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mrs. Elzie Exelby. Their mother was a dinner guest on Sunday and all attended the Price Church Service.

Mrs. William Staples and family spent Monday in Lansing. The Victor Civic Club will meet on Thursday, March 18 with Mrs. Pauline White. A potluck lunch will be served at 12 noon and election of officers will be held during the business meeting.

The program chairman is Mrs. Elmo Giffels and her topic will be "Recreation and Sleepy Hollow State Park." An outside speaker will be present to talk about the Park. The co-hostess for the day will be the hospitality committee. All members are urged to attend this meeting. There will also be a silent auction.

Edward Pung, 95, of St. Johns passed away on Saturday, March 6 at the hospital. Funeral services were held from St. Joseph Catholic Church at St. Johns on Tuesday morning March 9 with burial in Mt. Rest Cemetery. He was a former resident of this neighborhood and was the father of Harold Pung of Essex.

Mrs. Edna Watamaker went home Sunday, March 7 with her son, Clark Jeffers of Milford. She will also visit her two daughters, Peggy and Bernice Sturgis of Detroit for about a week.

On Thursday evening, March 4, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bancroft and Jay of S.W. Dallas visited Mr. and Mrs. William Ernst and Maxine.

We congratulate the Fowler High School Basketball team who became District Champions at St. Johns on Saturday evening, March 6. Members of the team from this vicinity are Nell Thelen, David Rossow, Clifford Thelen and Gary Pung.

STATEWIDE ENROLLMENT

Students from Michigan's 83 counties account for more than 80 per cent of the enrollment at Michigan State University, the state's largest university. Of 40,511 students on the East Lansing campus for 1970-71, 33,694 are from Michigan; 5,602 are from the other 49 states; 1,194 are from foreign countries; and 21 are from U.S. possessions. The county with the largest enrollment is Wayne with 7,016 students.

Millage time again

It's that time of year again in many communities when the citizen places the fate of the public school system squarely into his hands.

Requests for operating millage, to keep our school buildings and curriculums going, are, by and large, annual voting proposals. And, every year, school budgets are given a strong look as boards and administrators seek ways of keeping the need for additional millage at a minimum.

We think most people today would agree that schools, faced with an almost constant cash crisis, are attempting to keep costs at reasonable levels and at the same time provide a good educational opportunity for our youth.

We know that the tax bite is continually getting bigger. But when you think of the alternate route involving such things as half-day class schedules, drastically cut curriculums including some of the non-academic opportunities which add greatly to the overall educational process, then millage requests come closer into focus as to what we have to do as responsible citizens and parents.

Farm land crisis

Deep concern is being expressed in predominately rural areas of the state as more and more of Michigan's prime farm land is gobbled up by the ever expanding movement of homes and commercial construction.

This urbanization of rural areas is not only removing good land from farm production, but it is also having an adverse affect to the land owner on assessment practices which are currently following a trend of assessing on possible future value and not on what the land is being used for at the present time.

Senator William J. Ballenger of Ovid is trying to get a new concept in assessing passed in the legislature. His bill would require that farmland be assessed for tax purposes on the basis of its agricultural use rather than its potential market value.

BALLENGER HAS pointed out that farmlands, particularly around cities, are being assessed so high that taxes are forcing farmers out of business.

Also a matter of concern should be the fact that prime American farm land is disappearing at the rate of a million acres a year.

Senator Ballenger feels his proposed legislation is urgently needed to insure that farmers actively engaged in their occupation are not forced off prime farm land by high taxes to make way for housing developments, industry or other urban areas.

Marks of a real winner

Except for post-season awards, basketball's reign in the hearts and pocketbooks of sport fans has ended for 1971.

However, behind closed doors of various Michigan boards of education and citizens' committees, the fates of coaches careers may hang on the balance of producing a winning team or a losing one.

It can be expected that the annual shake-up of coaching personnel will continue despite the cries of "Unfair" from teachers' organizations or the media. Each of the latter, normally, protest the firing of high school coaches simply because the team isn't comparable to the Globetrotters.

There was that grey, gloomy feeling hanging over Finch Fieldhouse in Mt. Pleasant Saturday, after the Fowler High School team lost a regional finals game to Saginaw St. Joseph High School.

Only a handful of the Fowler followers stopped Coach Trierweiler to say, "Thanks for a great season, Coach." Several others said, "You're still Number One with us." Most of the fans appeared disgusted or disappointed that the Eagles didn't go all the way this time.

Trierweiler indicated that he had felt as though he had a noose around his neck—so great was the pressure to win.

We feel that Coach Trierweiler has nothing to be ashamed about. He has won the respect of his players and is recognized state-wide by his peers as one of the best high school coaches in Michigan.

And that, in our book, is the true sign of a winner. Keep up the good work, Coach.

Advise and consent?

By TIM YOUNKMAN

I guess it's not enough any more to simply elect a President on his merits and programs alone.

When you come to think of it—probably never was that simple, anyway.

The thought crossed my mind as I watched a recent television interview with Mr. Nixon, discussing his private decisions and policy standards that have drawn so much criticism and complaint from the American public.

It wouldn't be outside the realm of possibility that some of our most important national decisions were made with the advise and consent of the First Lady. It might have gone something like this.

"Where you going, George?" "Well, I thought I might take a little trip up to Philadelphia, Martha."

"What's so important in Philadelphia, George? You know we have a plantation to run here. It seems like you're never around anymore."

"Now, Martha..." "Don't you 'Now Martha' me. The fields need tending and this atrocious house needs fixing, and all you can think about is gallivanting about the countryside with the Minutemen or whatever your club is called."

"But Martha, the country needs me. If I don't go, that Franklin fellow will be picked as the Father of the Country—now how would that look to the neighbors?"

"Well, George, you have a point there, I guess. Alright, go ahead. But don't let those Redcoat-lovers push you around, ya hear? Declare war if you must—we wouldn't want to lose this place."

"Yes, Martha." "Who knows? It may not have happened like that at all, but then again..."

'IF IT FITZ ...'

The soggy pillow

By JIM FITZGERALD

A romantic guy could get his pillow wet.

Stop right there. If you know what the above sentence means, without reading any further, you win a prize.

You win the F. Scott Fitzgerald Memorial Trophy, suitably engraved. But it won't be back from the engravers for several weeks. I'll call you.

Scott Fitzgerald was no relative of mine. But he is my favorite novelist. I was hooked by his "The Great Gatsby" many years ago and never shook loose.

Life magazine, and other slick sources, report that this country is currently having a nostalgic fit over the 1920's and 1930's Ruby Keeler has returned from the dead to tap dance in a Broadway revival of "No, No Nanette," choreography by Busby Berkeley, for Lord's sake.

There's a W.C. Fields film festival on every channel. And isn't that Ricardo Cortez learning at Delores Del Rio?

I LOVE THE memories—and I'm doing my part to keep them alive. Scott Fitzgerald glowed in the 20's, and dimmed in the 30's, always fascinating.

So I just read "Zelda," the splendid biography of Fitzgerald's wacky wife, and "The Garden of Allah," the incredible tale of a Hollywood motel written by Shellah Graham, the gossip columnist who was Fitzgerald's mistress.

Which finally brings us to the subject of the day, that pillow that might have got wet. Here's a paragraph Shellah wrote about Scott:

"The Garden. I always went there with Scott on Saturday after lunch at the Hollywood or Beverly Hills Brown Derby. There was the time I took a bath in his apartment, and he came in and put a pillow under my head. That small gesture bound me to him forever."

Ah. He pillowed her as she bathed and, presto! she was his forever. That devil.

How many of us mortal slobos would think to do a thing like that? I didn't even know women like pillows in their tubs. I certainly had no idea a life-long conquest could be made simply by dipping a pillow.

I CAN'T EVEN understand how Scott got in the bathroom. My wife always locks the door.

I asked her about the pillow business. She said if I gave her a pillow in the tub she would sit on it. Somehow that doesn't sound so romantic.

"But would such a romantic gesture bind you to me forever?" I asked.

"I would be more impressed if you would take the Christmas lights off the front of the house before July," she said.

"F. Scott Fitzgerald is remembered as one of the most romantic men ever. Don't you want me to be like him?" I asked.

"He drove his wife insane and he died a drunk," she said. "Yes," I said. Onward and Upward.

Active environment

Rep. Douglas Trezise 87th District

The environment continues to be one of the most active areas of consideration before the Legislature this year. Considering all aspects of environment—water, air, land and noise—there are more bills submitted on this subject than on any other with the possible exception of education.

It's a matter of concern to me that so much legislation has to be considered and enacted to enforce matters of personal behavior. So much of what we see under consideration could be avoided if people, as individuals, would accept their personal responsibilities.

Legislation of this type is costly. It costs money to process through the legislature and is costly in administration. We should recognize that with every law governing personal behavior, enforcement means dollars—dollars which must come from state or local government budgets and taxes.

With all the hue and cry today against increased taxes and expanding government, it seems inconsistent to me that we have all this pressure for the government to enact more criminal laws in this area with the attendant costs.

FOR THOSE who, on an individual or group basis, wish to do something about one of the most discussed environmental problems, the throw-away bottle, there is something you can do. I refer to a collection and recycling of this glass with the cooperation of a Michigan industry, the Owens-Illinois Glass Company of Charlotte.

In many areas of the state, successful campaigns for reclaiming and returning these bottles to the plant for reuse have existed.

I was recently in contact with the Ecology Center in Ann Arbor where a program such as this is underway. I have available for those who are interested a summary of the operation of this Ann Arbor project which will be sent to you on request.

I should point out that the Owens-Illinois Glass Company pays $40 per ton for this glass delivered to their Charlotte plant. This could develop into a money-making project for a group or organization as well as contribute significantly to relief of one of our significant environmental problems.

Those who want information should write to Mr. John Minns, Glass Container Division, Owens-Illinois Glass Container Company, Toledo, Ohio.

Legal limits

There's a certain crop that never fails, In halls of legal lore We sprout an annual bumper crop Greater than e'er before; We've hoped for years the worst was done— That there might be a drought— But each year hoppers overflow With new pearls from legal mouth.

It really wouldn't be so bad, If with each new law approved, They'd pay a little bonus Of two old ones removed! But no we ceaselessly amend And too readily encase, 'N dead of less confusions We add forty-seven more!

Our libraries are full of laws That no one can digest, We scarce can claim observance Of more 'n a few at best; Life gits so over-stuffed 'n full Of things we can't digest, Each day to spare brings more hot air, To foul us in our quest.

Suppose we'd pay 'em not to serve, Fer a score of years let lag? But no they'd all take junkets And leave us hold the bag. I guess there is no remedy That we can safe apply, We're doomed to legal tinkers 'Till we just up 'n die!

Protest new abortion laws

Dear Sir, In our recent religious education class our main topic was social injustices and what we might do to remedy some of them. Of the very many injustices in the world we selected this one.

We the undersigned publicly protest enactment of any new law that permits legalized abortion.

Recognizing such a law as a form of social injustice to the helpless life that it seeks to destroy.

Letters to the Editor

What's Traverse hospital trying to hide?

To The Editor:
Upon reading the recent report of Att. Gen. Frank Kelly on the intimidation against the advertisers in the Weekender, I wonder just what else the Traverse City State Hospital is trying to hide. They have gone to such extremes to keep people quiet and to attempt to shut your paper down. The thought that if the hospital has nothing to hide or fear, that your coverage couldn't harm them has become a question that surely should loom heavily in the minds of all citizens of this state and most assuredly in the minds of the citizens of Traverse City. By this very intimidation it seems that the hospital has announced their fear of an investigation and their guilt in poor patient care. Within the past month or so you will recall there has been two episodes of "neglect and/or intimidation" proven through the due process of law and by state investigation. The people reading this letter and giving any consideration to what has become known about the Traverse City State Hospital should make their thoughts known and their voices clearly heard by registering their displeasure on these known facts to their respective State Representatives and further, if they wish, to the Governor and to the Director of Mental Health in Lansing, Michigan, demanding that there be a complete investigation and suspension of the liable parties until such an investigation is completed and fair and proper action has taken place.

To do less than this is a measure of condonation at best. If this just dies now, you can be sure the hospital will slip back to its old ways of taking things into their own hands and others then will suffer. An updating of the entire handlings is urgently needed. We are no longer in the dark ages, we must have these hospitals brought into the 1970 prospective and give the patients the most up to date care known to man. Patients are human beings.

FURTHER, I hope now the employees working at Traverse City State Hospital will see what is going on and do something about it. I hope they have the courage to stand up and tell the truth when they see wrong doing going on. If they don't, they are as guilty as the persons committing the wrongs. I don't see how any one of these employees (and they know who they are) can go on living a normal happy life knowing the things they do and not telling. We can all tell when someone is sick and all the attendants that saw John Cronk in such bad shape knew in their own mind and heart that he was sick and needed medical attention but they did nothing about it. Yes, this was by all means NEGLECT. How would you like to have this happen to your son or daughter or any loved one? At the inquest, the jury in their own words, said John did not die by "beatings." These attendants and doctors knew he was in isolation more than twenty-four hours.

Mental Health has had a standing order that each and every isolated patient in all state hospitals be examined every twenty-four hours and that a new isolation order be rewritten each twenty-four hours as well. In the case of John Cronk, the patient was examined only once and then left locked for eleven days without further examination, though he was dying and never was there any further orders given for his treatment of injuries and the "fatal illness."

Attendants knew he wasn't eating and he was taking very little liquid, they knew he couldn't talk and he was weak, they knew he needed a doctor and yet they did nothing about it. It seems to me the doctors or attendants were completely ignorant of this order or chose to disregard this order. Mental health department surely must act against these responsible persons by severe reprimand and more appropriate action of dismissal if there is to be any change.

However, to assume this will happen by itself is a fantasy. Public demands for change are the only way possible to effect a change. The way I look at it, these people were responsible for John's death and if they have a conscience and a heart, it should bother them knowing this. How many others have been neglected and died because of neglect? We'll never know will we?

Why can't these doctors and attendants realize that each patient is a person with a set of values, dreams, ideals, wants and needs. All of these are part of the problem he faces.

It is important that an attendant be as alert to the significance of anxiety and fear in a patient as to the significance of any other behavioral change.

Only when doctors and attendants have a working concept of a patient as a person, can they give complete care. This acceptance of a patient as a person has to be so deeply instilled that it is an automatic response and is an essential tool in working with "people."

From what I've heard and seen, attendants don't receive enough training to work with mentally and emotionally disturbed patients. This seems to be the case at Traverse City State Hospital. How else can you explain attendants standing by and neglecting a patient to the extent that it causes his death?

Many people will probably become very angry when they read this letter but you people just remember this. Right now you're lucky, you don't have a loved one in one of these institutions but maybe you will have in the future. You don't have to be born mentally ill. It could happen today, tomorrow, next week or anytime.

It can happen because of sickness or an accident, so don't any of you forget the possibility it can happen in your own family. Tomorrow it might be you or your loved one being neglected in one of these institutions.

It's too late for John David Cronk and the others before him but can't we try to help the ones who have to go on living in these institutions? Can't we try to make these institutions the kind of hospital with employees that really care about the sick people that need their help?

Wouldn't you people feel better and have a happier life knowing you helped make patients' lives easier and happier and even saved a few lives instead of letting them die for no real reason?

I pray a few of you have a conscience and a heart big enough to at least do a great deal of soul searching.

Very Sincerely Yours,
BEVERLY J. HODGKINS

Abortion

By SEN. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

Michigan's current law on abortion can be found in Chapter III of the Penal Code, 750.14, Section 14, which reads:

"Any person who shall willfully administer to any pregnant woman any medicine, drug, substance or thing whatever, or shall employ any instrument or other means whatever, with intent thereby to procure the miscarriage of any such woman, unless the same shall have been necessary to preserve the life of such woman, shall be guilty of a felony, and in case the death of such pregnant woman be thereby produced, the offense shall be deemed manslaughter.

In any prosecution under this section, it shall not be necessary for the prosecution to prove that no such necessity existed."

It's interesting to note that last year, in a case involving a woman six months pregnant who suffered a miscarriage in an accident with a car owned by the City of Troy, the Michigan Supreme Court ruled that an unborn child is not a "person" within the meaning of Michigan's wrongful death act. The majority opinion noted that "We make clear at the outset that we are not here considering the theological nor philosophical status of a fetal child in the context of laws relating to abortions. We confine ourselves strictly to the meaning of a 'person' within the wrongful death act."

DONNA B. SYVERSON, Clerk

elect to the upper chamber, and it is these nine who held balance of power on this emotional issue when we voted on it on Thursday, March 11.

This week, SB 3, an abortion reform measure introduced by Republican State Senator Gilbert Bursley of Ann Arbor on Jan. 13, was reported out of committee - thus setting the stage for potentially explosive debate on Thursday prior to the bill's passage by a 20-17 vote.

SB 3, by the way, is pretty much the same as SB 287, which, as I mentioned above, was defeated by the Senate last year. Meanwhile, several other states - including New York, Delaware, California, Colorado, North Carolina, Georgia, Maryland, Arkansas, Kansas, New Mexico and Hawaii - have either repealed or liberalized their abortion laws.

THE HAWAII CASE is especially interesting.

Hawaii, last year, repealed its 1869 abortion act which had permitted the operation only to save the mother's physical life.

The notable thing is that the new law went into effect with the silent consent of Gov. John A. Burns, a Roman Catholic, who allowed it to go on the books without his signature.

Gov. Burns, who attends 6:30 a.m. mass every morning before going to his office, thinks abortion is a grave sin and has publicly called it murder.

But in not vetoing the measure, the Governor said:

"A Governor must never let his private, political and religious convictions unduly influence his judgment as Governor of all the people. This is not the private and personal whim of John A. Burns. It reflects my best judgment as Governor. I have been attacked sadly enough by a number of my fellow Roman Catholics who do not appear to understand precisely the separate roles of state authority and church authority."

I FEEL STRONGLY that extreme care must be taken any time there is any consideration of legislation that involves the "life" of a human being.

But it appears that there is growing sentiment that individual freedom should no longer be circumscribed by the religious or philosophical beliefs of any one segment of our society.

The question of whether a pregnant woman feels she needs an abortion urgently enough to be willing to undergo such an operation is a highly personal decision to make - one that should be made out of her own conscience rather than out of the beliefs, strong though they may be, of others not personally involved.

As Gov. Burns has noted, a public officeholder "must never let his religious convictions unduly influence his judgment" as a representative "of all the people."

Framework changed New seed Corn leaf blight major attention of Farm Week in product competition developed

More Michigan products are eligible to enter Michigan Week Product of the Year competition, as a result of a new rule extending eligibility beyond the "consumer product" area.

Announcement of the decision was made today by Richard K. Arnold, chairman of the Michigan Week Product and Agriculture Award committee and secretary-manager of the Michigan Agricultural Conference. Deputy chairman for product awards is Paul P. Chien, director of the School of Banking and Finance, Northwood Institute, Midland.

"We feel that this step will allow many individuals and companies to enter their products in the Michigan Week competition, who found it impossible to submit outstanding new developments within the previous framework of the Product of the Year Award program," Arnold said.

The committee decided to broaden the field for entries by offering two awards, one to a consumer product and one to a non-consumer product. Many Michigan-made items were ineligible in former years because contest rules limited entries to consumer products.

"Inclusion of two categories for consumer and nonconsumer products manufactured in Michigan greatly enlarges the field for entries," the chairman stated, "pointing out that judging criteria will define consumer products as those which are taxable.

County competition in the Product of the Year contest will remain open for entries until Monday, April 5, with Monday, April 19, the deadline at the regional level.

Winning entries in the contest will be displayed in Grand Rapids, with final selection of the top consumer and nonconsumer products in the state to be made by judges during Michigan Week.

Dates of the 18th annual Michigan Week are May 15 to 22.

Southern Corn Leaf Blight, a real threat to the State's agriculture, will get major attention during Michigan State University's Farmers' Week, March 22-26, 1971.

In an afternoon session Wednesday, March 24, MSU scientists will present a complete rundown on the current corn blight situation in Michigan, and corn blight predictions for the coming growing season.

The session—in Room 105, South Kedzie Hall—will open with a discussion of leaf blights in Michigan, by Dr. N. A. Smith, MSU plant pathologist.

According to Smith, "Three foliar blight diseases have struck Michigan corn in the last three years—Southern Corn Leaf Blight, Yellow Leaf Blight and Eyespot." His talk will cover similarities and differences between these diseases, where they have been found in Michigan, and how they spread.

At 2:30 p.m., MSU plant pathologist, Dr. A. H. Ellingboe, will talk on corn breeding programs aimed at developing blight resistant hybrids.

"WE WILL TAKE a look at the genetic mutation that caused the Southern Corn Leaf Blight fungus to change from a minor problem into a contagious disease of epidemic proportions," Ellingboe said. "Current corn breeding programs aimed at producing disease resistant varieties will also be discussed."

Dr. R. P. Scheffer will give farmers a closer look at how the Southern Corn Leaf Blight (SCLB) fungus operates inside corn plants.

Scheffer said recently, "The fungus produces a toxic chemical that destroys cells of susceptible corn." He will develop this subject and show how basic research information can be used to the farmers' advantage in the leaf blight battle.

Dr. E. C. Rossman, MSU corn breeder, will talk about choosing corn hybrids for 1971.

Rossman plans to point out the importance of choosing the correct hybrids, discuss the availability of blight tolerant seed and emphasize the dangers of switching to resistant seed of unproven performance.

"Attacking Southern Corn Leaf Blight from the air doesn't look like a good bet for Michigan farmers," Dr. N. A. Smith said.

IN HIS SECOND talk, Smith will point out the bad aspects and density of trees, as well as certain meteorological conditions—like wind, moisture, temperature, and terrain.

Along highways, dense plantings of large trees will effectively lower the level of noise, particularly if the sound source is lower than the receiver. This means that trees planted uphill of a highway will give maximum sound control.

Trees will also effectively moderate wind and temperature, and, in so doing, reduce any influence that these two factors might have on the transmission of sound.

Often the human senses of sight and sound can reinforce one another, so that seeing what causes a noisy discomfort will tend to aggravate it. On the contrary, if the source of sound is made invisible, the sound will not seem so harsh to the ear. As another approach to noise abatement, therefore, trees can be planted to screen or camouflage noisy neighbors. And this will have a marked effect on lowering unwanted sound.

Consideration should be given to the location of the source of sound. In the case of aircraft, a belt of trees around the airport will reduce sound levels when the aircraft are on the ground. However, once they are airborne the sound has only to penetrate through the thin forest canopy.

Still, if it's city noises that are getting you down, perhaps you should remove your earmuffs, take away the blinders, and plant yourself some trees.

Trees planted this spring will be 5 to 12 foot high in 1976 when made invisible, the sound will

The pedigree protection of certified seed is provided by the generation system—seed under control of plant breeders is released to MFSA which provides for its increase. This foundation seed is then sold to certified seed growers.

But seed production of colored and navy beans is different, notes Copeland. Navy bean seed is produced throughout Michigan for both foundation and certified generations, while all foundation and certified seed of colored beans has been grown only in northern Michigan. This isolates the colored bean seed from disease problems in the bean producing areas.

The new program is especially desirable for colored bean seed, allowing the seed to be shipped in by the varietal name and equal in pedigree to Michigan certified seed, says Copeland. It will be set up for colored beans in 1971 and is being implemented on an experimental basis for navy beans, too.

If city sounds are getting you down, perhaps you need to plant some trees.

Men have used trees as sound barriers to cut down on noise pollution since ancient times. Now forestry researchers are finding some scientific validity in this common sense practice. Experimental work on sound propagation by Forest Service researcher Raymond E. Leonard at Syracuse, N.Y., has shown that shrubs and trees, if used correctly, can play a major part in reducing noise.

Plant a tree, or plant two or three, and you will have produced a natural sound barrier. On the horizon may be an end to your migraines and frustrations, and the beginning of a more pleasant life.

Each 100-foot width of trees can absorb about six to eight decibels of sound intensity. This may seem like a small amount in light of the fact that normal speech generates about 48 decibels; a busy intercity highway, 72 to 78; a barking dog, 92; a beeping horn, 110; a screaming jet, more than 140. But a reduction, no matter how slight, is welcome, since it can make the difference between a livable environment and one that is extremely unpleasant.

We should also bear in mind that this 100-foot screen has a multiplier effect. One hundred and fifty will decrease the noise level to nine to 12 decibels, 200 feet of trees will lower the noise level by 12 to 16 decibels, and so on.

According to researchers, sound levels above 50 decibels may be irritable to human beings; sound levels in excess of 130 decibels may become harmful.

How can trees be used "correctly" to give their maximum benefit as sound barriers?

Many factors contribute to sound control by trees. These factors include size, position, and density of trees, as well as certain meteorological conditions—like wind, moisture, temperature, and terrain.

Along highways, dense plantings of large trees will effectively lower the level of noise, particularly if the sound source is lower than the receiver. This means that trees planted uphill of a highway will give maximum sound control.

Trees will also effectively moderate wind and temperature, and, in so doing, reduce any influence that these two factors might have on the transmission of sound.

The ideal one-phone home.

It's got just one room. So, naturally it needs just one phone. Is that how you live? The answer is probably no and yes. No. You don't live in one room. Yes. You probably live with one phone. That means you're running to answer a lot of calls. And missing many.

Consider how much more you get with an extension. Twice the convenience. But not twice the cost.

You can have an extension that will suit any of the rooms in your house. Assuming of course, you have the rooms.

Extension phones make a house a home.

Few days left to order trees

TIME TO PLANT

The Clinton County Soil Conservation District office, 100 South Ottawa, St. Johns report that there are a few days left to order trees from them.

Red Pine, Austrian Pine, White Pine, White Spruce, Scotch Pine, Colorado Blue Spruce seedlings may still be ordered for delivery in April.

Conifer trees such as these seedlings may be used for Windbreaks. Windbreaks help people—to live more comfortably, to work more easily, and to improve their quality of living. Windbreaks help control soil blowing, reduce the drying effects of wind on soil particles on young tender seedlings.

A Windbreak of White Pine trees around a farm home can reduce the effects of a cold wind. For example, the Wind-Chill Index shows that at 10 degrees with a 15 mile per hour wind, the chill temperature is negative 18 degrees. The stronger the wind the greater the need for a thick, tall Windbreak of conifer trees. The sooner you plant the trees, the sooner you will begin to receive wind protection from your trees.

Beats competition on looks and price!

When we introduced our new Satellite, we knew we had a winner. Now it's official. Because Road Test magazine just named our Satellite "1971 Car of the Year" over some pretty stiff competition. And as if it weren't enough to come out No. 1 on styling, handling, comfort and all the other criteria used in the judging, take a look at the chart above and see for yourself... we even beat our chief competition, Torino and Chevellie, on price as well!

Our new Satellite. Come through and get the deal of the year on the "Car of the Year" at the right place. Our place. We'll come through for you.
