

Good Friday services here at 1:30

Union Good Friday services will be held in St. Johns again this year — but with a different format.

This year there will be a single one-hour service from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m., whereas during the past few years there have been three-hour services broken into seven devotional periods. St. Johns retail stores will close from noon until 3 p.m.

The First Congregational Church will host the union service, and the Rev Robert Townley, Methodist minister serving the Detroit Conference, will be the speaker. Participating churches in the union service will be the First Congregational, First Methodist, Church of God, Church of the Nazarene, Assembly of God, Temple Baptist Church and the Bingham and Bengal Evangelical United Brethren churches.

THE FIRST METHODIST Church Choir will sing "There's A Green Hill Far Away" by Rees. The offering received at the union service will be used by the St. Johns Ministerial Assn. to help persons in need throughout the year.

Rev Mr Townley is a graduate of Asbury College and Temple University School of Theology. He has done graduate work at Princeton and Merrill Palmer Institute in Detroit. At present he is enrolled in pastoral counseling at Michigan State University.

The Rev Mr Townley served as minister of youth at the First Methodist Church of Midland from 1960 until 1966. He has gained a reputation in the field of counseling as well as being recognized as an excellent preacher.

GOOD FRIDAY services are planned at other churches in the community, too.

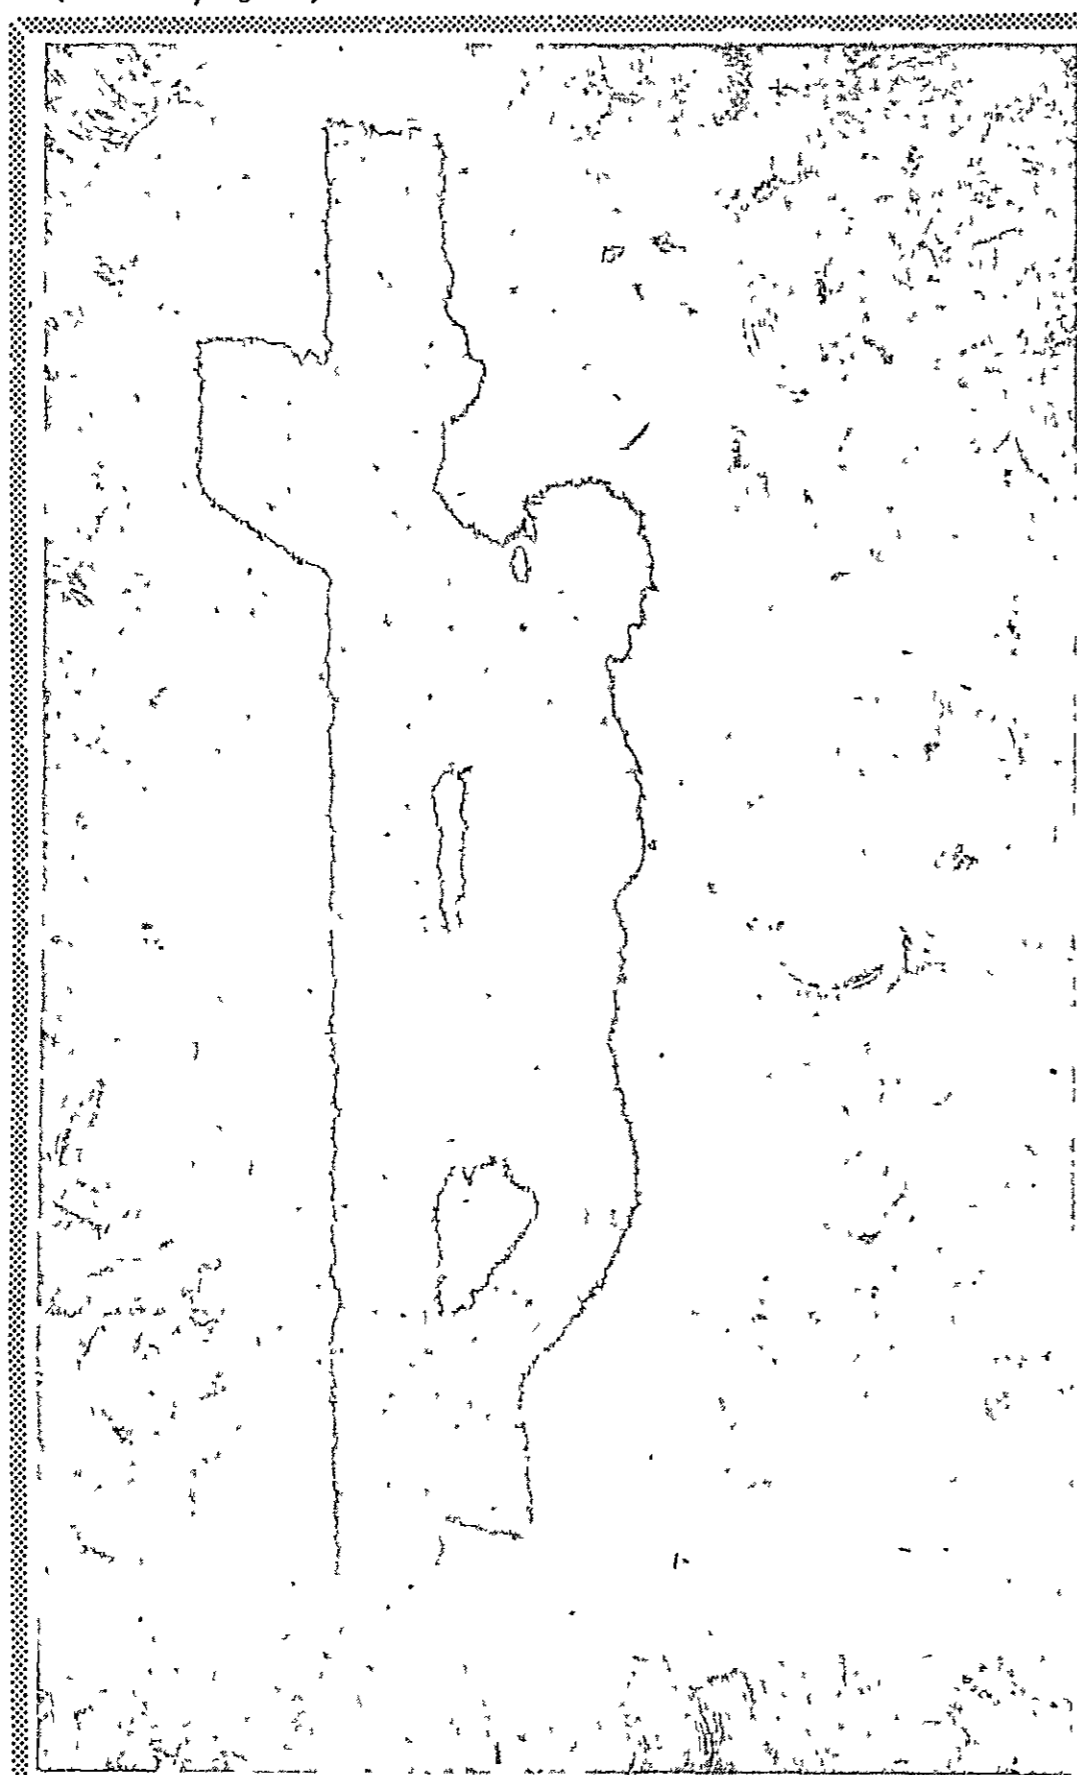

At the First Baptist Church,

THE CRUCIFIXION AND THE LIGHT

Christians all over the world mark this weekend as the true basis for their belief. And appropriately capturing the tragedy and hope of Good Friday is this oil painting by Mrs John Minsky of St. Johns. In the dark hour of the crucifixion, there was a surrounding light promise that Christ would rise from the dead. The promise was fulfilled on Easter morning.

NFO milk hold effect in Clinton doubtful

The NFO milk withholding action in Clinton County has been peaceful so far, with no complaints of violence and only scattered reports of confrontations between the NFO and opposing dairymen.

The effect of the withholding in the county appears to be negligible, but as the NFO and the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. both admit, it is kind of hard to tell. The withholding of milk by NFO members and some non-members has been going on since last Wednesday.

Glenn Webster, market committeeman for the Elsie local of the MMPA, said Monday night the Ovid MMPA plant was getting "plenty of milk in, more than what there is demand for." He said some truckers had not gone out on routes because of fear of violence, but others who did reported no problems.

THE SHERIFF'S OFFICE reported one case of a milk truck being followed, but the men involved all talked their problems over and there was no trouble. The farmers who are withholding milk are dumping it down drains and out on the ground. How much of it is going that route isn't known. William C. Rice of rural St. Johns, vice president of the Clinton County NFO, said he didn't know for sure.

He and his brother Donald, who together formerly ran the Valleyside Dairy before selling it in November 1964, are still in the dairy farming business and milk 100 cows a day. They're dumping 4,500 pounds of milk per day after first skimming off the cream.

Other NFO members were reported dumping as much as 3,000 pounds of milk per day.

WEBSTER OF THE MMPA pointed out, however, that most of the NFO farmers withholding milk did not have large herds, and the total amount of milk being dumped was not large by comparison. As of Saturday only 18 of the 680 farmers whose milk is picked up for the Ovid MMPA plant were holding back their milk, Webster said.

At most the supplies of incoming milk are down about 10 per cent, he said. The Ovid plant normally gets in 700,000 to 800,000 pounds of milk per day. However, Webster said the plant did not manufacture milk products Sunday or Monday, since the demand for bottling milk was high.

Some milk for bottling is coming into Michigan from Wisconsin, too, it is reported, in amounts greater than it did prior to the NFO withholding action.

How long the withholding will continue isn't known, but even NFO officials feel it will be over this week. Webster of the MMPA said he knew of three NFO members who have already gone back to shipping their milk; but Rice of the NFO claimed non-members were joining the withholding as late as Monday night.

DON MILLER OF rural Eagle, public information representative for the NFO in Clinton County, said Sunday the withholding was "going real well in some areas of the county" and not so well in other areas. Rice reflected that Tuesday morning when he admitted the NFO

Run on milk at Fowler

FOWLER — Eight women cleaned out the milk supply at one Fowler food market and bought 50 gallons of milk from another early Tuesday afternoon. They were believed to be NFO members.

Earl Frechen of Frechen's Market at 108 N. Main Street said the women bought 10 cases of half-gallon cartons from his store shortly after 1 p.m. It cleaned him out as far as milk was concerned, but he was having his supply replenished from St. Johns later in the afternoon.

At Harvey's Market, 140 Main, the women also bought 100 half-gallon cartons, then left in the belief they cleaned out the store. But Harvey Antonides, the owner, said he had sufficient stock on hand in the back, and he quickly replenished the cooler.

The women took only half-gallon cartons and several quarts at Harvey's and left gallon cartons. They left in cars bearing NFO stickers and Shiawassee license plates.

hadn't been able to contact all the dairy farmers in the county to inform them about the purpose of the withholding.

The NFO is seeking, in effect, an increase of $1 per hundredweight, or 2 cents a quart, for the milk they sell. They claim they are not getting their necessary share of the increased price of milk to consumers.

"The chain stores are the ones who are making all the money on milk," Donald C. Rice remarked Tuesday. "They're buying it for about 38 cents a half-gallon and selling it for 45 cents. They're making more on milk than the farmer and the processor-wholesale combined."

State-wide, Michigan farmers currently are receiving about $5.53 a hundredweight (46 1/2 quarts) for their milk.

"AFTER ALL," Donald Rice said, "farm taxes are going up, costs are going up, and prices are going down." And besides, 25 per cent of a herd has to be replaced each year, and that's (See NFO, Page 2-A)

Milk, only minutes from the cows in the stanchions at the left, is poured down drains at the Rice Brothers farm on South DeWitt Road as they participate in the NFO milk withholding. William C. Rice, (right), Clinton County NFO vice president, is assisted in this dumping by Roger Parks, an employee on the farm. The Rices have been dumping about 4,500 pounds of milk per day since last Wednesday.

Winter projects on display

4-H Achievement next week

Nearly 900 Clinton County 4-H'ers are making final plans for their project exhibits at the County Spring Achievement Show next Monday through April 1.

Over 1,100 4-H projects completed during the winter program will be on display in Smith Hall during an open house next Wednesday evening, March 29, and Thursday afternoon, March 30.

Projects run in a wide range of topics, County 4-H Youth Agent John Aylsworth said, from clothing to woodworking to electrical to conservation to indoor gardening to home design to personal improvement and to many others.

BUT ACHIEVEMENT week includes far more than the exhibit of projects at the open house. Girls with clothing and knitting projects will find a new and challenging procedure for the evaluating of their handwork. And there'll be a different set-up for the three style revues that wind up the week.

The girls will be interviewed by evaluators other than 4-H leaders while they model the garments they have made. The clothing and knitting evaluation will be done at St. Johns High School by Mrs Lewis Moldenhauer, Mrs Jerry Stone and Mrs John Furry during the daytime and by Mrs Floyd Parmelee, Mrs Hugh Banninga, Mrs James Barger and Mrs Lester Jenkins during the evening.

The girls will be judged on not only construction of their garments but also fit and appearance. They will each have a short interview with the evaluator; after the evaluation is over, they will take their garment to Smith Hall to be entered for display.

THE EVALUATION will take place Monday and Tuesday, March 27 and 28. Over 450 clothing and 300 knitting projects are expected, Aylsworth said.

All other projects will be checked in at Smith Hall on Monday from 2 to 5 p.m. and 6:30 to 9 p.m. The projects will be evaluated on Tuesday by resource people other than 4-H leaders. They'll be available from 3 to 5 p.m. March 28 for members and leaders to discuss the project with them.

The public open house will be Wednesday, March 29 from 7 to 10 p.m. and Thursday, March 30, from 2 to 5 p.m. The show is designed to provide the public an opportunity to observe the quality of workmanship and see the different items the members have made in their 4-H club work.

Three style revues on Friday and Saturday will wind up the big week of 4-H activity.

The senior miss style show will be held Friday evening, March 31, at 8 p.m. in the St. Johns High School gym. Nearly 125 of the older girls will be modeling their 4-H garments. A number of these projects will be selected for state show participation in August at East Lansing.

THE JUNIOR MISS style show will be held on Saturday, April 1, at 2 p.m. and the young miss style show Saturday, April 1, at 10 a.m., both also at St. Johns High School. Nearly 200 girls are expected to participate in the junior miss class and nearly 300 girls are expected to model in the young miss class. The public is invited to attend all three style shows.

Arlene Smith, a local 4-H leader, is heading up a committee in decorating for the style shows.

Narrators for the style shows will be: Mrs Andrew Cobb for the senior miss; Rita Washburn and Judy Whitlock for the young miss; and Alice Hejbeck for the junior miss revue.

205 persons get 278 immunizations

Two hundred seventy-eight immunizations were given to 205 persons last Wednesday in the free March immunization clinic sponsored by the Mid-Michigan District Health Department.

Of the number, there were 43 DPT shots, 35 DT shots, 21 measles vaccine, 31 small pox, 80 TB skin tests, 64 oral polio vaccine doses, and 4 quadrogen shots.

Winter lashes out with final punch

Winter threw its dying punch at central Michigan Monday, but the heavy, wet blow was more of a demoralizer than a troublemaker.

The five inches of blowing, soggy snow caught Clinton folks looking into spring — a day early. The storm made driving hazardous all of Monday afternoon and evening before finally ending about midnight — a scant 2 1/2 hours before spring officially arrived.

The effect of the storm was to slow everything down. St. Johns school buses ran Tuesday but were late in a number of cases as a combination of slush, mud and slippery roads kept the buses at a virtual crawl. In some instances splashing slush caused motors to conk out.

Merignac now production superintendent

Federal-Mogul promotes 4 here

The promotion of four men within the Federal-Mogul Corp. St. Johns Division was announced last week by Edward Idzkowski, St. Johns plant manager.

Lawrence Merignac, 35, of rural DeWitt, a 17-year employee, has been promoted to the position of production superintendent, a spot vacated by Joseph Ricker March 1 when he was promoted to staff engineer with the international group of the company. Merignac's appointment was effective March 15.

Taking Merignac's former job as quality control manager is Robert O. Baese, 42, of R-2, Ovid. He was promoted from the job of inspection department foreman. New foreman there will be Richard Bancroft, 29, of Ovid. Larry Bashore of Ovid was promoted from class A inspector to Bancroft's former position of inspection group leader.

LAWRENCE MERIGNAC . . . production

ROBERT O. BAESE . . . quality control

RICHARD BANCROFT . . . inspection

ALL THE APPOINTMENTS were effective March 15. All the men involved have long records of service with Federal-Mogul here, and their promotions are in keeping with a plant policy of promotion from within whenever possible, Idzkowski said.

Merignac has been with the company since June 1950 when he started at St. Johns, as a press operator. Three months later he earned a promotion to class A floor inspector. In September 1953 he was named group leader for final inspection and in October 1956 he became inspection foreman. He has held the position of quality control manager since June 1962.

Merignac, a graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School in the class of 1950, has taken courses in "Quality Control by Statistical Methods" at the University of Michigan and in management development at Michigan State University. He is a member of the Lansing Industrial Executive Club and the American Society of Quality Control.

He is presently chairman of the board of trustees of the DeWitt Community Church. He and his wife, Dorothy, have a daughter, Susan 15, and two sons, Lynn 13 and Douglas 10. The family lives at 36 Chadwick Road

Burglars crack high school safe

Burglars who apparently knew the ropes cracked the safe at St. Johns High School during the night Sunday and made off with about $1,300 from there and three other offices in the high school building and Perrin-Palmer School.

About $1,000 of that was taken from the large safe in the business office. It had been wheeled out into the center of the room and turned so that it shielded the burglars' lights from the street. They then cut around the lock and got the safe open.

Some $200 was taken from the office of Principal B. Stanley Poole, Asst. Principal Duane Wirick and nearby counseling offices. There was no damage to records, so police and school officials discount the work as that of only vandals.

The burglary was discovered Monday morning and had apparently happened since 10:30 p.m. the night before when school personnel left the building.

It is believed the same thieves were responsible for a breaking and entering at Perrin-Palmer School on North Lansing Street. Teachers desks and files were rifled, and about $100 in milk money and other student activity funds were missing.

State police and St. Johns police are working on the case.

St. Johns police officer Russ Doty inspects the St. Johns High School safe broken open by burglars Sunday night in the theft of about $1,300 from the high school and Perrin-Palmer School.

Board plan hearing on April 3

A hearing is scheduled for April 3 before the Clinton County Board of Supervisors on a proposed plan for an 11-man county board.

The hearing, open to the public, will be held in the supervisors' room of the courthouse.

The proposed plan, introduced March 6 by the board's special legislative and reapportionment committee, calls for an 11-man governing board.

There would be one supervisor, or county board representative, for Lebanon, Essex and Bengal townships combined; one for Dallas and Westphalia; one for Greenbush and Duplain; one for Ovid; one for Riley, Olive and Victor; one for Eagle and Watertown; one for Bath; one for the City of DeWitt and the northern part of DeWitt Township; one for the southern part of DeWitt Township; one for Bingham Township and a part of the City of St. Johns; and one for the other part of the City of St. Johns.

The division of St. Johns has not been definitely worked out, but the previous story on the plan was incorrect in dividing both the city and Bingham Township. The committee's intent, they report, was to divide St. Johns along precinct lines and leave Bingham intact. Definite details on this have not yet been worked out, however.

Driver license office moves

The driver's license division of the Clinton County Sheriff's Department moved Monday . . . down the hall.

The office is now located just inside the back door of the courthouse in quarters formerly occupied by the county abstract department. It had previously been located across the hall from the clerk's office. That area will become an equipment room for the county.

Harry Witt, deputy sheriff in charge of the driver's license division, said the move provides them with not only about twice as much room as was previously available, but the location is also better for the public and for the custodians of the courthouse.

The driver's license office is open Saturday mornings — the only courthouse office open — and the new location next to the back door will alleviate people wandering unnecessarily around the hallways.

Saturday hours are from 8 a.m. to noon; on Mondays the office is open only from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.; Tuesday through Fridays the hours are 8 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

NFO . . .

just another expense that the public doesn't figure in."

The NFO county vice president, William Rice, said the effect of the milk withholding action isn't going to be what was hoped for because other groups (the MMPA in particular) weren't cooperating with the NFO in the effort to win higher prices for the farmer.

Glenn Lake of North Branch, president of the 8,500-member Michigan Milk Producers Assn., retorted to that general statement Monday by saying that "Price was never the issue in this matter. NFO never has shown any attempt to bargain with dairies."

LAKE'S STATEMENT followed the filing of a $1 million law suit by MMPA against the NFO, seeking an injunction to stop NFO interference with milk shipments. There has been violence, including dynamiting, in other parts of the state between NFO members wanting to force a withholding of milk and MMPA members wanting to market it as normal.

Lake called the violence "an attempt to do by coercion that which they couldn't do by persuasion."

The following of the one milk truck Monday and the report of harrasing telephone calls to one farm home Monday night were the only acts of alleged coercion in Clinton County, according to law enforcement officers. And they appeared to be no serious threat to continued peace during the withholding.

The end may be in sight. NFO man Don Miller looked for the effect to be felt by Tuesday, one way or another, and County VP Rice feels the withholding will be over by the end of the week.

Factory sales of trucks and buses in 1965 established a new record. The 1965 total of 1,751,805 units was 14 per cent above the old mark of 1,540,453 established in 1964.

The best alibi in the world is one you never have to make.

Shepardsville By Lucille Spencer

The Berean Circle of the Shepardsville WSCS met Thursday evening, March 16, with Mrs. Verne Hettiger and Donna. There were 10 present. The present officers were all re-elected. It was voted to have a bakeless bake sale during the coming month. Mrs. Charlotte Peterson had charge of the program and Mrs. Jerald Davis had the devotions. The next meeting will be the general in April with the Berean Circle in charge. This meeting will be at the church.

Last Wednesday evening Mr and Mrs Charles Robbins attended a wedding reception at the Municipal Hall in St. Johns for their grandson, Gerald. The bride is the former Miss Linda Hayes of Lansing and the groom's parents are Mr and Mrs Virgil Robbins of St. Johns. Gerald is stationed at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. He has returned to his base.

Cancer dinner Monday

Clinton County's annual Cancer Crusade, poised for an April 1 blastoff, will get its final pre-campaign boost next Monday night with a kickoff dinner at the Congregational Church in St. Johns.

Dr. Baker Pierce, on the staff of the research branch of the University of Michigan Hospital, will be the guest speaker. John Herrold of the American Cancer Society Michigan Branch in Lansing will show a research film, "Investment in Life."

That film, incidentally, will also be shown this noon (Thursday) to the St. Johns Exchange Club at its bi-weekly meeting.

The state campaign will be kicked off April 1 with luncheon at 12:30 p.m. at the Jack Tarr Hotel in Lansing. V.J. Scutt, national president and chairman of the board of Mutual of Omaha Insurance Company, who is national crusade chairman; Mrs. Peggy Lipschutz, a commercial artist who will give a 'chalk talk'; and Dr. David G. Anderson, associate professor of the University of Michigan Women's Hospital, will be speakers.

Reservations for the state meeting should be made with Mrs. Albert Frucht of 300 W. Higham Street, St. Johns, county crusade chairman. All chairman and volunteer workers are invited to both the state and county kickoff meetings.

Next Monday evening's dinner in St. Johns will start at 6:30 p.m. The Congregators will host the supper.

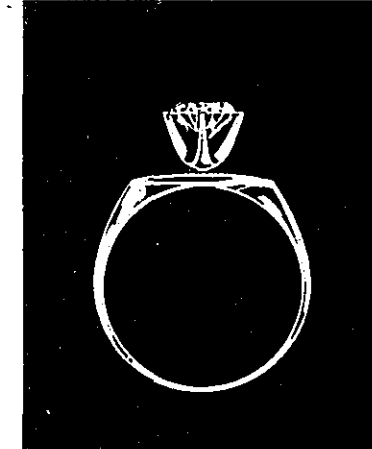

Mrs Parmelee to teach first prenatal class

Nutrition will be the first subject covered when the Expectant Parents classes begin next Tuesday, March 28, at 2 p.m.

The first class will be taught by Mrs. Maxine Parmelee, the dietitian at Clinton Memorial Hospital. The class will be held in the meeting room of the laundry building.

Anyone planning to attend is asked to call the admitting office of the hospital and register.

4 from here earn state farmer degree

Four members of the St. Johns FFA chapter were named last week to receive the state farmer degree.

Robert Harte, James Jorae, Tim Spitzley and Doug Witt of the St. Johns chapter were to receive the honors Wednesday evening in the Michigan State University auditorium. All state farmer winners were to be recognized and the star state farmer named.

The ceremony was one of the highlights of the 39th annual FFA state convention Tuesday, Wednesday and today. Between 1,600 and 1,800 persons were expected to attend. David Castner and David Paksi were the official delegates representing the St. Johns chapter at the convention.

OVER 900 BOYS from 196 high schools will receive awards, compete for honors and conduct business of the state association. Dale Nye, Lakeshore chapter, Stevensville FFA president, and other officers will conduct the business sessions and other activities included in the two-day program.

The annual delegates' banquet will accommodate 1,000 persons, and special recognition to outstanding persons will be included this year. A special noon luncheon for chapter advisors will be provided by the Michigan Electric Power Suppliers.

Vo-ag teacher Don Munger is the advisor of the St. Johns chapter. The local officers are Bruce Harte, president; Larry Blizard, vice-president; Robert Harte, secretary; Steve Rennells, treasurer; Ken Jakus, reporter; and Jeff Nobis, sentinel.

1st Nighters offering 4 scholarships

The First Nighters of St. Johns have announced plans for offering four scholarships this year to a three-week drama seminar at Olivet College. That is double the number of scholarships offered last year.

The scholarships have a total value of $700. They will be awarded again to juniors — two at Rodney B. Wilson High School in St. Johns and one each at Ovid — Elsie and Fowler. Last year only St. Johns students received them.

School authorities have been asked to submit a list of between three and five students, for each scholarship available. A selection committee headed by Mrs. Milo Rowell and including Mrs. Ray Eich and Eugene Livingston will interview individually each candidate and their parents between now and May 1. The scholarship winners will be announced at the respective school award assemblies in May.

"Only through the fine cooperation of the public in the support of our dramatic efforts were we able to increase the number of scholarships this year," First Nighters President Terry Foster said. "From comments we received from last year's participants at Olivet, the program there seems to be extremely rewarding."

The drama seminar will run from June 24 to July 14 at Olivet College.

Host families sought for exchange program

Forty-five Michigan families will have "the time of their life" this year. And it's all because of IFYE—the International Farm Youth Exchange.

Young people from other countries will live for a month in their homes. The visit provides an opportunity for close relationship between the family and the exchange, emphasizes John Aylsworth, Extension 4-H youth agent for Area 9 based in Clinton County.

es hospitality and warmth that no hotel room will ever duplicate. Aylsworth was an IFYE delegate to Greece in 1955, so he understands the IFYE program and the problems of the exchanges.

Interested families in Clinton County are invited to contact the Cooperative Extension Service Office by telephone or visit the office at the courthouse in St. Johns.

It's a unique experience. They learn about each other's countries. The IFYE program is founded on the principle that understanding among people promotes mutual respect and furthers progress toward world peace, the agent points out.

Host families with an interest in young people and other countries will be selected. Urban families, as well as farm and rural non-farm, are needed for this summer.

THE 4-H AGENT points out that the host family experience is vital for a profitable experience during a young person's visit to this country. It provides...

Derby clinic slated April 1

The first of four Soap Box Derby construction clinics will be held in Niles Hall of the First Methodist Church in St. Johns April 1, according to Derby Director William McCarthy.

The 2:30 p.m. clinic will be under the supervision of Jack Downing and Jack Bertoldi. A completed car from last year will be on hand for the boys to see, and the youngsters will be divided into several groups for individual instruction on building their racers.

A slide-recording program will be shown.

Other clinics are scheduled for April 15 and 29 and May 13. All interested boys are urged to sign up for the Soap Box Derby by registering with one or both of their parents at Bee's Chevrolet-Oldsmobile in St. Johns. The derby race is scheduled for the evening of Sunday, June 11.

Monitor instructors course set

A series of classes for instructors of radiological monitor training is scheduled to begin next Wednesday night, March 29, in St. Johns.

County Civil Defense Director Charles Frost said college credit is offered for the course, and graduates from it will receive pay for future classes in radiological monitor training which they instruct.

The instructors' classes will take place at the Clinton County Road Commission garage at 701 W. State Street. Next Wednesday's class will start at 6:30 p.m.; dates and times of subsequent classes will be discussed and arranged according to the wishes of those present.

THE PROSPECTIVE monitor training teachers will have the use of the county's radiological source material, cobalt 60, and the necessary instruments. The course will be conducted by Phillip A. Wheeler, training specialist with the Division of Continuing Education at Michigan Technological University.

"According to surveys made, Clinton County should have 220 radiological monitors available to help safeguard our residents," Frost said. "We now have 28 who have graduated and another nine who are taking a course now."

Most of those who have graduated were students of instructor Don Ewing of Bath. Frost emphasized the need for additional instructors so that courses could be set up in various locations around the county.

Road Commission Weekly Report

The Board of Clinton County Road Commissioners held their regular meeting last Monday, March 20. The Board agreed to and signed the traffic control orders of the director of state police concerning parking on Colony and Hollister Roads in Duplain Township.

The Commission also signed the final draft of the union contract as agreed upon for this year.

The Commission discussed several drainage problems, construction plans for 1967 and the continuing high winter maintenance costs.

THE CHAIRMAN, engineer and clerk attended the 52nd annual Michigan Highway conference last week. Topics covered included increases in highway construction costs, new safety legislation and abandonment of state highways. Highlight of the meeting was a lively discussion on labor relations for public agencies.

The manager of the American arbitration association and two attorneys were the very able speakers. Jack Clary represented employers and Robert Kleiner employees. Robert Howlett, chairman of the Labor Mediation Board, presided over this meeting where many differences of opinion were heard. Clary said that the current social and legal revolution had replaced property rights with civil rights. Kleiner warned that either the public employer or employee group using power unwisely will have this power taken away by the people.

The road commission office will be closed Good Friday, March 24.

mission reported no unusual problems. Because of the soft road conditions, they had to keep snow plows off the rural roads but were able to use the underbody scrapers. Tuesday morning they were scraping the blacktops and getting to some of the rural roads.

The sloop and slush reportedly extended north into Gratiot county before temperatures were low enough to keep the snow comparatively dry.

The snow fall Monday night was beautiful. If one can still appreciate such scenes after five months of snow. It clung to trees and wires and signs during the evening but dropped off during the night.

WHILE THE SNOW was more bothersome than anything, the storm was held directly responsible for at least two accidents in the county.

One of them about 4:05 Monday resulted in injuries to two persons. Mrs. Verna J. Brewbaker, 35, of Holt, suffered numerous facial cuts when her skidding car was struck broadside on US-27 south of Pratt Road. She was admitted to Clinton Memorial Hospital. Her condition was described as "good" Tuesday morning, and she was to be transferred to a Lansing hospital later.

The driver of the other car, Richard M. Robinson, 31, of 5190 Warner Road, Middleton, was treated at Clinton Memorial for cuts and bruises and then released.

Robinson told sheriff's deputies he saw the southbound Brewbaker car go into a skid, straighten out and then skid again this time coming across the median in front of his northbound auto.

THE OTHER ACCIDENT involved cars driven by Glen N. Parks, 30, of 120 E. Oak Street, Elsie, and Waldo R. Schwanbeck, 73, of R-1, Island Road, Elsie. It happened about 7:40 a.m. Tuesday when Schwanbeck tried to pull out of his drive onto Island Road and could not get enough traction in the snow to make it and Parks could not get enough traction to stop. The accident occurred on Island Road a quarter-mile east of Maple River Road in Duplain Township.

The annual meeting of the Hospital Auxiliary will be held Wednesday, May 17 at 7:30 p.m. The program and place of meeting will be announced next month.

Hospital Day, rummage sale plans made

The Hospital Auxiliary Board met Wednesday evening, March 15. Dr. Grost and Mr. Reed spoke about future plans for the hospital.

Eight women, meeting every Wednesday afternoon to sew, have contributed 1,664 hours of work for the year. Besides mending hospital linens, 793 new articles were made.

Hospital Auxiliary day will be held at Holden Reid Clothiers Friday April 21st. from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. Cookies and coffee will be served. A per cent of the day's income will be given to the Hospital Auxiliary and will be used to buy hospital equipment. Plans are moving forward for the spring rummage sale, April 28 and 29 in the Central National Bank building.

THERE ARE FIVE new Red Cross Volunteers working in the hospital. There is a need for more Red Cross Volunteers. A class will begin April 3. Anyone interested in this type of work should get in touch with Mrs. Cecil Boak.

The gift cart is operating and things may be purchased if inquiry is made at the office or of the Red Cross Volunteers on duty.

Curtain up . . . Friday, Saturday at Carson City

Because of the coming Centennial Pageant, the Carson City Civic Players are attempting to produce "We Must Kill Toni" in three weeks less time than is usually allotted for one of their plays. The following production committees are feverishly working towards curtain time, March 31 and April 1.

Karen Nyland has designed an unusual set that portrays the neglected Oberon mansion. Allen Horak and Duane Pitcher are in charge of set construction. Horak will also handle lighting for "We Must Kill Toni". Donnie and Greg Mac Naughton will usher for the play. Ipha Fishell is in charge of hand props and will work with Sandy Horak on sound and special effects.

Sandy, who is also the producer, will prompt; write the programs and be in charge of make-up with Patti Schweffler. Phyllis Pitcher has designed the posters. Pat Barnes is in charge of publicity and tickets.

Discuss problems of American Indians

Mrs. Harold Millman was the hostess Tuesday evening, March 14, for members of the River Wabwasyn Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR).

The patriotic ritual and business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Millman, regent. Plans were made for the state and national conferences.

Mrs. E. O. Prince, chairman of the national defense committee, reported.

The program for the evening was given by Miss Shirley Pouch, who talked about the American Indian, their gifts, contributions and problems. She said in the past they were exploited and abused. Miss Pouch told where the various tribes had been settled, of the improvement of conditions at the present and of the efforts for still greater attempts to raise the Indians' standards of living. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Program of Progress

The East DeWitt Bible Church recently has expanded their facilities by building a new auditorium to take care of their needs.

They have launched a new program of progress with the help of Stewardship Associates, which is a group of pastors from the Michigan area, who will help organize and assist in expressing their vision to members and interested friends.

Stays in act; then has baby

A Westwood magician's wife presented him with their first child Monday in Children's Hospital only 17 days after she gamely continued as assistant and set-changer for his massive theatrical act in the Western Hills area.

Mrs. Nancy Hambleton Merrill, 2678 Montana avenue, interrupted this schedule of much-applauded acts with her husband, Marvin (Merrill, The Magician) to give birth to a seven-pound, four-ounce daughter, Teri Lynn, at 12:36 p.m., Monday. As late as Feb. 17, she moved a full coterie of tables, cages and miscellaneous structures on and off stage for her husband's magic and ventriloquism show for Cub Scout Pack 186 at Bridgetown School. Despite close-approaching maternity, her teamwork with Marvin that night remained impeccable and won profuse compliments from the entire gallery for their combined performance.

WELCOMING THE BABY ARE maternal grandparents, Mr and Mrs Don Hambleton, of St. Johns; paternal grandparents, Mr and Mrs Millard Merrill of Archbold, Ohio; paternal great-grandparents, Mr and Mrs Claude Hoffman of Wauseon, Ohio, and Mr and Mrs Charles Merrill of Archbold, Ohio; maternal great-grandparents, Mr and Mrs Ervin Hambleton of 308 N. Ottawa Street, St. Johns and Mrs Elva Hersberger of Cumberland, Md.

She wins state essay contest

Jane Smith, an eighth grader at St. Joseph School in St. Johns, was named state winner in the DAR essay contest for seventh and eighth grade Michigan Students last Wednesday. Her winning entry was entitled "Battle of Lake Erie." She is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Howard Blazen of R-5, St. Johns.

senior choir under the direction of the Rev. Roger R. Harrison, pastor of the church.

Good Friday services at the St. John's Episcopal Church will be from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m., with meditations on "The Last Words."

On Good Friday a half-hour noonday service will be held at St. John's Lutheran Church from 12:15 - 12:45 p.m. Following ancient custom, a brief meditation on the suffering and death of Christ will be followed by the Bidding Prayer.

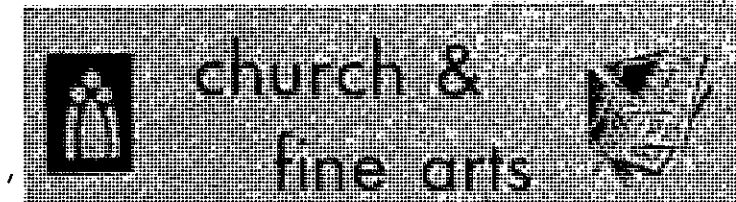

That evening at 7:30 p.m., the congregation will follow the stations of the cross, another older Good Friday tradition, with brief moments of meditation following the pathway of suffering of Christ. Doug Luther, a member of the youth group, will assist in this service as lector.

Clinton Area Church Notes

The Festival of Easter at St. John's Lutheran Church will commence with a special service at 6 a.m. with the celebration of Holy Communion.

Immediately following the sunrise service the young people of the congregation will have their traditional Easter Breakfast to which all the worshippers are invited. Following the breakfast the regular Sunday schedule will prevail with Sunday School and Bible classes at 9 a.m. and morning worship at 10:15 a.m.

Special services on Maundy Thursday and Good Friday will start the observance of Holy Week at St. John's Lutheran Church. At 7:30 p.m. on Maundy Thursday, a narrative communservice will be held. David Remer, president of the congregation's youth group, will be the narrator for the special service. As the service moves through its various parts, the narrator will trace the history, purpose and form of the liturgy.

April 14 and 15 are the dates set for the Methodist WSCS annual "Thrifty Sale."

Holy Week observances at First Congregational Church will begin with a communion service and reception of new members today (Maundy Thursday) at 7:30 p.m. Adults as well as young people who have been members of the pastor's class will be received into membership. The senior choir will sing "Jesus I Will Ponder Now on Thy Holy Passion" by Bach. An unusual feature of the service will be "Meditations on the Life of Christ", consisting of scripture readings interspersed with choral music.

The Methodist Church of St. Johns is investigating the possibility of conducting its own church camp for its fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth graders. The site and date haven't been chosen yet, and the church is seeking to find out how many youngsters would be available for the camp. Six, and possibly seven, counselors have been obtained, but there is still need for a life-guard, a cook, some kitchen help and some additional counselors. The camp will last five or six days.

Barbara Harte hosts Jolly Knitters

The Jolly Knitters 4-H Club met at the home of Barbara Harte Saturday, March 18, with 12 members present.

After the business meeting, the recreation leaders, Nancy Presocki and Ruth Ann Simon, lead the group in playing games. Prizes were won by Margarita Martinez and Christie Chant.

Light refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Nell Harte, who was assisted by Barbara.

The April meeting will be held at the home of Linda Stevens. The date to be decided later.

Mrs. LaVerne C. Weller of St. Johns visited the state-owned Ringling Museums March 14 while vacationing on Florida's lower west coast.

Mr and Mrs M. D. Fillmore of St. Johns visited the state-owned Ringling Museums of Sarasota, Fla., while vacationing on Florida's lower west coast.

Bridal shower for Miss S. Devereaux

A bridal shower was held at the home of Mrs Nell Ferguson for Miss Sharon Devereaux Wednesday evening. Mrs Warren Eldridge and Mrs Umbra Pierce were co-hostesses.

Several games of Bridal Bingo were played with the prizes going to the honored guest.

Pastel pink and green streamers and a miniature bride decorated the table where Sharon unwrapped her gifts. Twenty guests were present, with Mrs Betty Snyder winning the guest prize. Refreshments were served.

Appliance uses discussed at B & B meeting

The B and B Extension group met at the home of Mrs Carlyle Barnes March 17. Mrs Ross Mehney, council member, reported on the council meeting.

It was planned to use the summer months to work on projects for Christmas workshop. During roll call members showed old coins and discussed their value. Mrs Oral Rice gave the lesson on small electrical appliances.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Ross Mehney April 28.

3 from St. Johns at state DAR meet

The 67th State convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) of Michigan was held at the Harris Motor Inn of Kalamazoo March 14-16. Mrs Harold Millman, regent of River Wabwaysin and Mrs George H. Brooks, organizing regent, were delegates. Miss Maralyse Brooks, state junior American chairman, attended some of the sessions.

Wednesday morning, Miss Brooks gave a report of the year. Membership in the Junior American Citizens exceeds $94,000 in more than 9,000 clubs. The purpose of the work is to teach children more knowledge of the underlying purposes of the government, of American sentiment and of all that will go toward making them good citizens.

New officers for Friendly Neighbors

New officers were elected by the Friendly Neighbors Extension Study Group Thursday, March 16, when Mrs Glenn Hopp was hostess.

They are Mrs. W. L. Whitefield, chairman; Mrs William Leach, vice chairman; Mrs Carl Light, secretary-treasurer and news reporter; Mrs Glenn Hopp, citizenship chairman; Mrs Arnold Huhn, safety chairman; Mrs Earl Flegler, health chairman; Mrs Maynard Marten, international chairman; Mrs Jane Benedict, recreation leader and Mrs Ray Moore, historian.

Ten members answered roll call by naming two forest reserves when the meeting was called to order by acting chairman, Mrs Walter Marten.

COUNCIL MEMBER, Mrs Walter Marten, reported on the Extension Advisory Board meeting held at the Albert Pick Motor Hotel in East Lansing March 7-9.

The project lesson "What Do Our Taxes Buy For Us" was presented by Mrs Zane Benedict. There was group discussion following the lesson.

"Buying and Using Small Kitchen Appliances" was the lesson presented by Mrs Maynard Marten and Mrs Carl Light. They advised to consider carefully before buying an appliance as to how many cooking tasks it will perform and can you store it close to where you use it. The appliance pays for itself as often as you use it.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs Wayne Rossow April 19 at 8 p.m.

MISS BROOKS has just completed three years as state chairman of the Junior American Citizens. When officers were elected, she was elected a director on the State Board of the DAR and was installed Thursday morning.

Mrs Millman gave the report of the year of the River Wabwaysin Chapter. They completed 12 of the 14 projects of the National Society. She reported Miss Cathy Bashore was selected as DAR Good Citizen, an essay selected by the chapter placed first in the state and Miss Jane Marie Smith of St. Joseph School won the eighth grade award.

Mrs Millman reported the chapter was on the National Honor Roll last year and Mrs Zeder, state regent, visited the chapter last year. It was also reported the chapter gave money to two DAR schools, contributed to the renovation project of Constitution Hall, had a member, Mrs Robert Rand elected to the City Commission and gave to the National President General's projects.

Musicales hears Wilsonaries of music in schools

Mrs Frederick M. Lewis was hostess to the St. Johns Morning Musicales March 9. President Mrs Basil Delbert announced that the audition committee for a student to go to Interlochen Music Camp will consist of Mrs Conrad J. Selm Jr., Mrs Roy Briggs and Marjorie Rhodes.

Mrs Eldon LeBlond was appointed chairman of Music Week in May. Several members volunteered to assist with the Jayceettes' Helping Hand project.

The Wilsonaires of St. Johns High School, directed by Gordon Vandemark, gave a program of songs, including: "Elijah Rock", a Negro spiritual by Harrison; "Every Night When the Sun Goes In," an Appalachian melody, "Kye Song of St. Bride," and a madrigal number, "Now is the Maying" by di Lasso.

Mikael Ask, exchange student in St. Johns from Sweden, sang an original folk song of his native land, "Woodsman," as well as several American folk songs "There is a Lady" and "Last Love Look Away."

Vandemark then told the Morning Musicales about his work with the students, of their fine cooperation, what he is accomplishing now and his hopes and aims for the future of music in the schools of St. Johns.

Mrs Howard Woodbury will be hostess for the next meeting today (Thursday).

Hospital Charity canisters like this one will be in many of the stores in St. Johns from now until the end of September. The cards from Personna Blades can be deposited in them. From left to right are Mrs Edward Idzkowski, who is heading the drive for the Auxiliary Board and Mrs Frank Valyer and Ruth Silm, clerks at Parr's Pharmacy.

Hospital gets 25c per card

In addition to their rummage sale, Hospital Day and many other ways of earning money to be used to buy equipment for Clinton Memorial Hospital, the Hospital Auxiliary Board is trying a new way.

The Personna blade company has offered to redeem any cards with the words "Hospital Charity" on them for 25 cents. The offer will be good until Sept. 30, 1967. Mrs Edward Idzkowski, who is heading the project, announced that canisters to put the cards in have been placed at Glasple, Parr's, Dee and Hunt's drugstores; Krogers; Andy's IGA and Quality Discount.

So when the blades are purchased, a contribution to the hospital can be made by dropping the card in the canister.

MISS ROSEMARY CURTIS

Mr and Mrs Arthur Curtis of R-5, St. Johns, announce the engagement of their daughter, Rosemary, to Neil Stevens, son of Mr and Mrs Nelson Stevens of R-2, Dewitt.

The bride-to-be is employed at the State Journal of Lansing and her fiancé is employed at Fisher Body, Lansing.

An Aug. 19 wedding is being planned by the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Clement Martin of R-2, Fowler, and Mrs LaVerne C. Weller of St. Johns visited Sarasota Jungle Gardens March 14 while vacationing on Florida's lower west coast.

Local cantalto on tour with chorus

The members of the St. Johns Morning Musicales are very proud of their member, Mrs Phyllis Rice, who is on tour for the Easter season with the Everett High School choir and choral.

Mrs Rice is a contralto with the Lansing Choral Society and a soloist at the Peoples' Church. She has sung in several operas and last year had the title role in the "Medium" at MSU. A student of Harold Haugh, she recently had roles in Britten's "Noahs Flood."

The group from Everett will appear in Lansing, Grand Rapids, Valpariso, Ind., Kankakee, Ill., Elkhart, Ind., Muskegon from March 18-21. The tour will end in Grand Rapids.

Tape adjoining legs of two or more card tables together for an improvised buffet table. A small spot may be removed from painted walls or woodwork by rubbing with a large pencil eraser.

Announcements

The Lebanon Ladies Aid will meet Wednesday, March 29, at the home of Dorothy Waldron. Potluck dinner will be served at noon.

Sacrificial breakfast for WSCS

The Lenten Sacrificial Breakfast was served to 38 WSCS members by the Sarah-Louise Circle.

Following the breakfast, the program was opened by Mrs. Leonard Puetz, who gave a worship on "Constrast in Death." It ended with Mrs. Bruce Fowler, Mrs. Walter Nickel and Mrs. Henry Wood singing "What Wondrous Love Is This," the Methodist hymn of the month.

Mrs. Gordon Vandemark, vice president, introduced Mrs. Paul Albery, Mrs. Albery reviewed a book by James Martin, "The Empty Tomb." The book used a letter format. The story of the events before, during and after the death of Jesus was told through letters written by Catholics, the high priest, to his friend. It expressed a different view of the results of the Crucifixion and Resurrection on the non-Christian world.

Mom-daughter banquet held at P-W high

PEWAMO-WESTPHALIA - The annual FHA Mother-Daughter Banquet, as in years before, was given an international touch by having the mothers and daughters bring foreign foods. At the banquet March 8, honors were paid to the chapter mothers, Mrs. Stump and Mrs. Schafer, to those members who have not missed one meeting; degree earners; FHA Heart Throb David Smith; FHA Sweet Heart Therese Thelen; Miss FHA Sandra Bengel; and the FHA officers. Then Linda Thelen (of Westphalia) received a floral arrangement of white mums and red roses for her two years of presidency.

Laura Welland led everyone in the FHA Prayer Song and other selections and sang a solo in honor of the mothers, SUNRISE, SUNSET.

This was all topped off by a European travelogue by Mrs. Geller. Mrs. Geller showed pictures of Paris, the ruins of Rome, and surrounding villages, Belgium, Switzerland, and St. Mark's Square.

Perrin-Palmer cites 2 pupils

Gina Mazzolini is the new service girl of the month at Perrin-Palmer School; William (Bill) Jolly is the patrol boy of the month.

These selections are made by the other members of the two squads and the teachers. These two have been chosen because their contributions to the children in the school in the field of safety were judged outstanding.

Gina is the daughter of Donald Mazzolinis of 209 E. Gibbs Street and Bill is the son of the Keith Jollys of 109 E. Steel Street. Gina is in the fifth grade and Bill is in the sixth.

The men are protected by the inability of the women to cooperate.

Senior Citizens plan white elephant sale

Forty Senior Citizens met at the Drop-In Center for the regular meeting March 14. As the speaker was unable to be present, the short business meeting was followed by an impromptu program consisting of a hymn-singing, and readings by Mrs. Clarence Hill, Mrs. Elzie Exelby and Carmen Tranchell. In honor of St. Patrick's Day the group sang several Irish songs.

The feature of the meeting March 28 will be a White Elephant Sale. All senior citizens are invited to come, bring a "white elephant" and enjoy the good times.

Following the March 28 meeting the Rhythm Band will practice to prepare for the entertainment they will furnish at a Farm Bureau meeting April 8.

Dr. Fleming, missionary, here March 28

Bethel Fleming, M. D., a Methodist medical missionary home on leave from the United Medical Mission in Kathmandu, Nepal, will be the speaker at the combined afternoon Circle meeting March 28, in Niles Hall at the First Methodist Church.

There will be a potluck lunch at 12:30 and coffee will be furnished.

Mrs. Fleming began work at the Mission during a time when the Nepalese government was reluctant to admit foreigners within its boundaries. Nevertheless permission was granted for the opening of five mission-supported maternal and child health centers.

The book "The Fabulous Flemings" was written by Grace Nies Fletcher concerning the life and work of this interesting family. She will have slides of her work. The program, presented by Dr. Fleming, is open to the public.

TOPS make Recognition Day plans

Twenty-seven members met March 9 at the regular meeting of the St. Johns TOPS Club.

Plans were discussed for the celebration this week of birthdays and anniversaries occurring in the past three months.

Several members planned to attend a meeting in Lansing Saturday at which plans will be made for an Area Recognition Day in April.

MARGARET BLOOD wore the crown as queen of the week for her loss of four pounds, while Lori Acre was crowned Tiny Tops queen for a loss of one pound.

A report of a loss of 16 pounds and a gain of 21 1/2 pounds brought about a resolution by the group to have a 100 per cent loss next week.

Members of the club will be selling dishcloths in the coming weeks. Anyone wishing to purchase may contact Violet Paksi at the Volunteers of America Store or any other member.

Father Fitzgerald receives a check from Mrs. Harold Fedewa of the Christian Mothers.

Mrs. Julius Pohl chosen Mother of the year, is presented with the centerpiece by Mrs. Harold Fedewa.

Fr Fitzgerald at Communion breakfast

The Confraternity of Christian Mothers of St. Marys Parish held its annual Communion breakfast. The guest speaker was Father William J. Fitzgerald, whose subject was: "Wrestling with a Restless Generation."

Father Fitzgerald is a native of St. Patrick's Parish, in Brighton. He was ordained by Bishop Donnelly at Lansing June 1, 1957. He has worked at St. Thomas Aquinas of East Lansing and St. John's of Jackson. He was secretary for Bishop Albers for one year and spent two years at O'Rafferty High School in Lansing.

He is currently the Director of the Department of Religious Education. His responsibility is to coordinate curriculum, in-service programs and supportive programs for all students of the Diocese grades 1-12, public and parochial. He also has responsibility for adult religious education, for training of catechists and for seminarians.

Brownie troop 577 gets flag from Blue Star Mothers

Brownie Girl Scout Troop 577 was presented an American flag by the Blue Star Mothers, Chapter 88 of St. Johns. Mrs. Chloe Bartholomew of the Blue Star Mothers made the presentation and read a poem, honoring Old Glory, during the flag ceremony.

The troop and their leader, Mrs. Gene Hinton, attended the services at the First Congregational Church of St. Johns Girls Scout Sunday, March 12.

APRIL 4 THE troop plans to visit Amstutz Hatchery and watch baby chicks hatch.

The regular meetings of the troop are held at the Congregational church.

Pre-schooler's development studied

St. Johns Child Study Club met at the home of Mrs. Nick Hallsky March 15, at 8 p.m. with 13 members and one guest present.

President Mrs. Hugh Banning, opened the meeting by leading the group in the reading of the club creed.

The club welcomed a new member Mrs. Henry Burkhardt. The Spring Planning convention April 22 was discussed. The program topic was "Development of the Pre-Schooler."

Clinton County News

Short course in publicity

STEP FOUR:

Focus On the Right Audience

Decide first what audience you want to reach: Do you want to build membership? Do you need public support for a special project? Would you like to draw people from another area to your town or neighborhood for a fund-raising event?

What group of people will be most interested in your news? As you plan your publicity campaign always keep in mind the special-interest newspaper departments and the radio and television shows prepared for specific audiences. These include:

- | | | |
|---------------|-------------|---------------------|
| Religion | Men's Clubs | Fashion |
| Civic affairs | Teams | Food |
| Sports | Teens | Recreation |
| Education | Travel | Conversation |
| Fraternal | Gardening | Health and Medicine |

When you've decided which audience you want to reach, develop a "news peg" for your publicity. Relate your story to the interests of the audience you hope to influence.

PREPARING YOUR STORY

Are you the worrying kind? Publicity is not a thing to lose sleep over. You can start slowly, and grow into the job one step at a time. Many publicity chairmen start this way.

First, get acquainted with newspaper, radio and television people. Ask each one how you should prepare a simple fact outline to suit his needs. The professional will then take your carefully prepared fact outline and write the finished copy.

If prepared forms are not provided, use 8 1/2 x 11" plain white paper. Type your facts, double spaced, using one side of the paper only, just as you would for a standard news release.

When your publicity appears in print, clip it and study it. You'll soon find yourself wanting to go the next step and write simple releases of your own. Try writing several without submitting them. This allows you to compare your news release with the copy that appears in the newspaper. Soon you'll be confident of your ability to organize facts and write your own releases.

This is a part of a series . . .

Writing a News Release

Five points are important to a good news release: WHO! WHAT! WHEN! WHERE! and WHY. If possible a sixth, HOW! should be included.

It is important to get all these points in the first sentence or two, whether you're writing for newspapers or broadcasting. These first sentences are called the "lead." A good lead captures the attention of a reader or listener and makes him want to know more about your club's activity or project.

Now go into the details of your story. Each succeeding paragraph should be of declining importance. Professionals call this writing technique the "inverted pyramid". It permits an editor to pick up the important facts of your story in the first few lines. Then, if he does not have space or time to use the whole release he can cut it from the bottom, where least important details are given. This is true of both print and broadcast media.

Use short words. Write short sentences, short paragraphs. Two sentences make a good paragraph in a news release.

Be brief. Almost every news release can be written on one or two double-spaced typewritten pages. Two pages double-spaced will fill about 12 inches one newspaper column wide. This is a lot more space than most editors can give one item.

Always give exact date in a news release: "June 10" rather than "next Thursday" or "tomorrow". Specify "October," not "next month." Double check date and day of week on a calendar.

List the address as well as the name of a meeting place. Remember, you are writing for people who do not know.

Never use a word in a news release that you would not use in everyday conversation. Never use a ten cent word if you can think of a good five cent one.

Forget all about adjectives when you write a news release. Remember, beauty is in the eye of the beholder.

Don't say a tea table was lovely, or a speaker dynamic. If either is worthy of special mention, describe the table seating, or relate the gist of what the speaker had to say that was memorable.

Figures in your story? Always spell out numbers, from one to ten, then use numerals from 11 on up. Never begin a sentence, with numerals.

Jaycees shift all-sports awards to assembly

The St. Johns Jaycees have decided to drop the annual all-sports banquet as a spring project but will present the same awards at the high school awards assembly in May.

The decision to drop the banquet project was made by the Jaycee membership last Tuesday night. The major reason was given as poor attendance in recent years and the resulting inability to even come close to meeting expenses.

A representative of the chapter will present the awards at the school assembly, and the chapter members suggested this procedure would give the athletes even more public attention than they would get at a banquet.

G. Robert Yager and Dick Shupp were inducted as new members, bringing membership to 29.

Briggs sparks Army team to league crown

Ranny Briggs, a 1959 graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School, is keeping up with his athletic prowess while serving in the Army.

He proved to be a sparkplug for his Ft. Huachuca (Ariz.) basketball team March 5 when he notched three consecutive baskets midway through the second half to spark Ft. Huachuca to an 82-73 victory over Luke Air Force Base in the finals of the Arizona Interservice League basketball championship.

It was 54-54 at the 9 minute point in the game when Briggs started hitting. Luke AFB never regained the lead after that.

Briggs is the son of Mr and Mrs Roy F. Briggs, of 511 S. Mead Street, St. Johns. Following graduation here he attended Michigan State University for five years before entering the Army. He is now a first lieutenant.

GOLDEN GLOVES ADMIRE THEIR TROPHIES

Every wins state AAU boxing title

St. Johns' Bob Every, a high school senior, added another trophy to his boxing laurels Monday when he won the state AAU boxing championship in the welter-weight class.

Every won a decision over Dennis Camp Monday night at Cobo Hall in Detroit. He had to fight only once, because two other boxers, including defending state champ Cubby Jackson of Detroit, failed to arrive in time for weigh-ins.

Every was also awarded the Roscoe Bennett Trophy as the best boxer on the outside team. The state AAU bouts were between boxers primarily from the Grand Rapids and Detroit Golden Gloves teams.

EVERY WILL represent

Michigan in the national AAU championships in San Diego, Calif., April 4, 5 and 6.

Boxing exhibition to be in gym

Use of the St. Johns High School gym for a 14-card boxing exhibition has been arranged for by the three-man committee promoting Golden Gloves boxing in St. Johns.

Ed Schmitt, a member of the committee, said the exhibition will be held in the gym Aug. 26. All other early plans for the exhibition are falling in place, and Schmitt said the committee is looking forward to a successful program.

Three other St. Johns boxers fought Monday night in the AAU matches. Doug Brya, a featherweight, beat Dominic Cusmano of St. Clair Shores with a knockout in the second round in his semifinals bout but then lost a decision to national champ Quincean Daniels of Detroit.

Middleweight Pat Pohl lost to Franklin Carpenter of Detroit on a second-round TKO, and Bob Rositas, who was a last-minute entry to fill out a bantamweight card, was victim of a knockout at 47 of the first round.

The boys were accompanied to Detroit by Wayne Beaufore, manager and trainer for the St. Johns Golden Gloves team.

Mrs Conklin re-elected

Mrs Durward Conklin was chosen to serve a second year as president of the Woman's Literary Club Tuesday night at the annual meeting in the high school home ec room. Others re-elected were Mrs Viva Scott, secretary and Mrs Ruby Parks, treasurer. Mrs Gordon Showers was chosen as vice president. Mrs Norman Blakely and Mrs B. M. Woolley served as hostesses.

Mrs Loyal Hinkley, co-chairman with Mrs Viola Allen, of the April Cancer Crusade for Elsie, announced the Cancer Kick-Off dinner will be at the Congregational Church in St. Johns, March 27. Meat and potatoes will be furnished and those attending will take potluck.

It was voted to meet once a month on the second Tuesday with additional special meetings such as Elsie Public Library Benefits, dinner meeting with husbands as guests and Mother's Day.

Mrs Conklin announced the Clinton County Federation meeting of Women's Clubs will be May 2 at Maple Rapids and urged the members to attend the all-day meeting.

MRS G. W. BENNET and Mrs Duane Green were in charge of a fun program previously planned for an earlier snow-bound month. There were several contests, baby pictures of members to identify and a style show "What the Well-dressed Woman should NOT Wear" by eight ladies.

The next meeting will be "A Trip to the Holy Land" by Mrs S. R. Russell of St. Johns. Each member may bring a guest.

Mrs Blon Clement, Mrs Ray Smith and Mrs Howard Whitaker served refreshments.

"Man in the Fifth Dimension", Billy Graham's motion picture from the New York World's Fair will be presented Good Friday, March 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church. There will also be an additional showing of "Copenhagen Crusade", the story of Billy Graham's unusual ministry to that beautiful city. A free-will offering will be taken.

Use, care of appliances discussed

Small electrical cooking appliances, their use and care, were discussed by Mrs Kenneth Munson and Mrs Zella Brewbaker at the Thursday meeting of the Green School Homemakers Extension group at the home of Mrs John Hall with Mrs Anne Praay as co-hostess.

The speakers named blenders and carving knives as the most popular of the small appliances but urged the housewife to read the manufacturer's instructions before using.

Mrs Praay opened the meeting with a poem "Spring Is On the Way" as winter's latest snow storm arrived. Roll call was responded by 13 members naming vacation spots of Michigan.

WITH THE AID of a flannel-graph, Mrs Maud Ellis gave a talk on "Living Our Later Years in Full Measure". As the pieces of flannel representing good health, housing, good relations and other conditions for happy living, were placed together, they formed a large cup portraying the full measure of life in later years.

As a fitting close to her talk, Mrs Ellis asked Mrs Carl Morley and Mrs Kenneth Munson to impersonate a man and wife in their later years in a skit typical of a couple with "time on their hands".

The hostesses served a St. Patrick's Day dessert and coffee at the close of the meeting.

Give $25 to Wesley Foundation Building Fund at CMU

"Food for the Journey" was the lesson presented at the regular meeting of the Bannister Women's Society of Christian Service. The purpose of the lesson was to take a new look at the sacrament of Holy Communion. Mrs John Schlarf gave the worship. Those presenting the lesson were Mrs Thomas Moore, Mrs Ivan Hofferbert, Mrs Wayne Sparks, Mrs Ray Canfield and Mrs John Schlarf.

Mrs Richard Moore presided at the business meeting. It was voted to send $25 to Central Michigan University for the Wesley Foundation Building Fund. An invitation was extended to attend the Elsie WSCS meeting April 11. Mrs Bethel Fleming will be the guest speaker.

Mrs Elmer Leydorf read excerpts from a letter from Joyce Beebe, a missionary serving in Chile.

Hostesses Mrs Walter Miller, Mrs David Green and Mrs Grace Pease served a dessert lunch.

Sewing and knitting members of the Busy Green Clovers and Chippewa Chippers 4-H Clubs attended the self-judging Saturday at the Ithaca High School. The style revue and announcement of State Show winners will be Friday, March 31.

Several from the Bannister Methodist Church attended the Ford Phillipot Crusade at Ithaca during the week. Sunday evening the junior and senior MYF's attended in a group.

Tuesday callers of Mr and Mrs Frank Leydorf were Mrs Genevieve Santrucek, Mrs Ann Dunay and Mrs Gertrude Hofferbert.

Mr and Mrs Arthur Krueger were Thursday callers of Mr and Mrs Frank Leydorf. Saturday visitors of the Leydorfs were Mrs Rose Slavik of Ashley and Mr and Mrs William Turner of Owosso. Sunday, Mrs Bruce Johengen of Lansing called on them.

Mrs Pearl Ferrall of Crystal is spending a few days with Mr and Mrs Eugene Ferrall. Mrs Pearl Ferrall, Mrs Ruth Ferrall and Mrs Wilma Ferrall were Monday visitors of Zetta Elliott at the Lansing General Hospital.

Mr and Mrs Gary Godfrey of Eureka were Sunday evening callers of Mr and Mrs Alton Oberlitter and daughters.

Sunday callers of Mr and Mrs Roy Saylor were Mr and Mrs Vincent Wilson and daughter of rural Lansing, Kay Hawley of Ovid, Gale Bensinger, Mr and Mrs Dewey Saylor of Elsie, Mr and Mrs Robert Saylor and Mr and Mrs Dennis Saylor and sons.

Sunday callers of Mr and Mrs Robert Saylor were Mr and Mrs Vincent Wilson and daughter of rural Lansing and Mr and Mrs Ed Wilson and children of rural St. Johns.

Children have inalienable rights regardless of race, color, sex, religion or nationality. UNICEF wants these rights to be respected everywhere.

Gordon Gillette, music instructor for the St. Johns Public Schools, checks the progress of Rendy Foote in her work with the "recorder" during a recent class session.

Pipers making music . . . and learning, too

If you think the seventh and eighth graders at Central School in St. Johns have suddenly become pied pipers, you may be half right. There's scads of them blowing flute-type instruments this year.

But they're not "following" like the children of mythical Hamelin. They're "pursuing" . . . possibly a musical career.

All the general music students at Central are being taught to play the musical instrument, a type of flute called a recorder. It's a legitimate musical instrument that's been used in composing by many of the classic composers, including J.S. Bach, J.P. Handel, Milton and Bacon.

THE RECORDERS are being used to give all students a chance to develop their musical ability and to gain a deeper understanding and appreciation of the art of music, according to Walter Cole and Gordon Gillette of the music department of the St. Johns school system. "This is in keeping with the goals of the general music program," they said.

The whole class plays several songs in unison at the beginning of each class period, and many students earn extra credit by performing solos or participating in ensembles in front of the class.

The students have purchased their own instrument and method books, so they are free to pursue their new hobby as long as they desire. The music department has purchased a small library of recorder materials that is available to those who wish to continue.

Persons interested in giving private lessons on the recorder are invited to contact the music department.

WONDERING ABOUT ADVERTISING?

Here Are Some Facts To Consider!

Winner of the top award "General Excellence" for 1966, presented by the Michigan Press Association

1965 WINNER OF THE MICHIGAN PRESS ASSOCIATION'S STATE-WIDE "ADVERTISING IDEA OF THE YEAR" AWARD

ADVERTISING VALUE

The true value of advertising lies not always in the actual offering of merchandise for sale, but in a subtler manner . . . the keeping before the public eye the name of your place of business and the names of the products you carry.

The average consumer of the articles you sell, when he has no immediate need of those articles, does not buy. But the constant association of yourself and those articles in persistent advertising in the Clinton County News will in time produce results.

Mr. Merchant:

1. Your advertising message in the Clinton County News goes into more homes in Clinton County than any other kind of advertising.
2. Every big store in America built its business with newspaper advertising and relies on it today.
3. A full page advertisement in the Clinton County News cost less than TWO CENTS per family you reach.
4. Your advertisement is a part of the Clinton County News that everybody wants to read.
5. You get thousands of SHOW WINDOWS. People can see what you want to sell . . . pictures, prices and descriptions.
6. Clinton County wives and mothers plan their buying while they're reading the Clinton County News. So do their menfolks.
7. Your Clinton County News is more carefully read, by more members of each family, than any other advertising medium, and its readers believe in it.
8. Your national manufacturer and distributor can join you in advertising the products you have to sell.

"OVER A QUARTER CENTURY OF SERVICE"

PERSONALITY plus home waiting for you at 303 South Oakland, features the Early American influence throughout. 3 bedrooms and bath up. 2 living rooms, one with built-in bookcases on one side, dining room and kitchen, all on first floor.

NOW'S THE time to buy this very nice 4-bedroom home with 2-complete baths. With small amount of work and a capitol this could be made into two apartments.

BE SURE to see this large landscaped lot and home with many fine features, including a 17x31 paneled living room with hand cut stone fireplace, 3 large bedrooms, 10x21 family room with fireplace, patio with fireplace. Kitchen and 11x11 dining area. Brick exterior with self-storing aluminum storms and screens.

VERY NEAT older home. Carpeted living room, dining room, kitchen with washer-dryer hookup, bath and one bedroom down. 2 good size bedrooms up.

BEAUTIFUL east side location on a landscaped sodded lot. Present owner built this split level for their enjoyment but through a corporate promotion it now becomes available to you. They have over $4,000 more in home than the present offering. You can move right in. Why go through the headaches of building when something like this is available?

PRINCE ESTATES is taking off like a house a fire this spring. Already one home sold before it's done. 2 more lots gone and a prospect of more homes coming up. If you're not going to build right away, we suggest you buy your site while the selection is still good. There will be underground utilities on most lots so no unsightly poles will mar your view. Get the "picture" from us.

NEW HOME on S. Traver nearing completion by one of our small builders who takes pride in his work. A big 1568 sq. ft. of living area. Paneled family room with fireplace, 1 1/2 baths. Handy kitchen equipped with dishwasher, stove, oven, disposal and vent fan. Carpeting allowance or hardwood floors, 2-car garage — also disappearing stairway above for extra storage. A real beauty—the price, too.

DeWitt sewer cost up 30% following delay

VALLEY FARMS — The cost of getting sewage treatment for DeWitt Township will be about 30 per cent greater now than it would have at the time township voters rejected a sewer bond two years ago.

Inflation has played a big role in the increase, but part of it is that a secondary sewer system, which the State Water Resources Commission has ruled must be installed, is more expensive than a primary treatment system.

Richard Mick of Mick and Rowlands, Angola, Ind., consulting engineers on the project, explained those facts of life to the township board last week.

In April 1965 township voters turned down by a 650-298 margin a $730,000 bond issue that would have helped pay for a sewer system.

Township residents will have an opportunity to be heard concerning the sewer problem at a public hearing April 17 at 8 p.m. at DeWitt Township Hall

2 youths jailed for possession of beer

Two youths, Barry L. Smith, 17, and Daniel L. Pattison, 18, both of 409 E. Walker, St. Johns, paid costs of $4.30 and were sentenced to three days in the Clinton County Jail Friday for being in possession of beer. Associate Municipal Judge Fred Lewis handed out the sentence.

Open Letter from VAN W. HOAG

Dear Friends,

Too often a person who has lost a loved one is overwhelmed with visitors for a week or so; then the house is empty. Even good friends stay away, believing that people in sorrow "like to be alone."

"That's the 'silent treatment' — there's nothing worse," says one clergyman. "Our friend has not only lost a loved one . . . he has lost us, too."

Respectfully,

Jaycees to host speakers

The St. Johns Jaycees will host the District II "Speak Up Jaycees" contest next Wednesday, March 29.

Chairman James Moore said at least one representative is expected from each of the nine Jaycee chapters in the district. The speakers will talk for five to seven minutes on any idea from the Jaycee creed.

The creed states that Jaycees believe "that faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life; that the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations; that economic justice can best be won by free men through free enterprise; that government should be of laws rather than of men; that earth's great treasure lies in human personality; and that service to humanity is the best work of life."

The "Speak-Up Jaycee" contest will be held at the Central National Bank in St. Johns from 8 to 11 p.m. March 29. Mart Livingston will be moderator, and Rod Brown will assist.

The speakers, one each from St. Johns, Fowler, Westphalia, Waverly, Grand Ledge, DeWitt, Sunfield, Charlotte and Eaton Rapids, will be introduced to judges only by number prior to speaking. Judges will be Ink White, Bob Dimer, Steve Hopko and two other persons yet to be named.

More road talk at Bath Thursday

There will be another of the continuing series of meetings on roads and taxes Thursday, March 30, at 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria of the high school. There will be a report from Kenneth Munson, a member of the Bath Township Planning Commission, on what, if any proposals, they have come up with to better the township roads.

Also at the meeting there will be a breakdown of property taxes by Gerald Shepard, township supervisor.

Dr Alvin House, of the MSU Economics Extension service will also be at the meeting to talk on and explain the subject of taxes for schools. He will explain the school formula for taxes. This is so the people of the township can understand the needs of our growing school and there undoubtedly will be a vote on school issues in the near future.

This meeting is open to the public.

Classes at the Bath Community Schools will resume after spring vacation March 28 at the regular opening time.

PRESENTED FOR DISTINGUISHED SERVICE

Jack Downing (right) of 409 W. Cass Street was presented with a plaque last Tuesday night as winner of the Distinguished Service Award given annually by the St. Johns Jaycees. Presenting the award is Tom Peacock, DSA chairman. Downing's active participation in Little League and Soap Box Derby organization were prime considerations in his selection by a panel of local businessmen.

4-H Club Chatter

By JOHN AYLSWORTH Extension 4-H Youth Agent

The Country Club Corners 4-H Club will hold their local club achievement meeting Thursday at Smith Hall, beginning with a potluck supper at 7 p.m. The girls will model their 4-H garments for the families in attendance. Marlene Snyder and Renae Jorae discussed styling at their last meeting.

The Stitch and Chatter 4-H Club members held their regular meeting and discussed plans and dates for their project evaluation and the county style shows. The club held their local project achievement show following the business meeting.

The Olive 4-H Club members are busy completing their projects for the spring achievement exhibit. A number of special work meetings are being held this week by the leaders for members who need some last-minute help. The girls held a practice modeling session Monday evening at the Simmons School. All boys and girls wishing to join the Olive 4-H summer club should meet on Tuesday, April 18, at 8 p.m. at Simmons School.

A reminder to all 4-H summer club leaders is that they may pick up their summer organizational material any time now. All boys and girls interested in joining 4-H for the summer program should be enrolled by May 11 in a local 4-H club. Members may contact the Extension Office if they do not know of any leaders in their area.

The Lemm 4-H club members have made some Easter baskets for the DeWitt Resting Home and will be delivering them on Saturday, March 25. The baskets are made from plastic butter dishes with pipe cleaners for handles and are filled with Easter candy. I'm sure the people in the DeWitt Rest Home will appreciate this Easter cheer. The club will set a new date for their skating party.

Realty course offered at LCC

The Lansing Board of Realtors and Lansing Community College will again this year jointly offer a course in real estate essentials, but application for admission must be made with the registrar's office by today (Thursday).

The course is designed for real estate sales personnel and those interested in entering the field. College officials said the program is a repeat of a successful project last year.

Classes will begin April 10 and will continue for eight weeks on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. in the new lecture hall, corner of Shawassaw and Seymour. Those planning to enroll must do so from 8 to 9 p.m. March 30 or 31 at the college cafeteria.

Further information can be obtained from Harris Dean, coordinator, at Lansing Community College.

SJHS band alumni sought

St. Johns High School band alumni are being asked to help in organizing and planning the first band alumni meeting, probably in May.

Students Marcia Parr and Marilyn Motz as co-chairman of a committee planning the meeting. They said the committee needs the names and addresses of all ex-band members at Rodney B. Wilson High School.

"We are asking anyone who reads this article to notify the chairmen or Mr. (Walter) Cole of the names and addresses of former band members," they said. "Getting the names of the older members and the married women will be the most difficult. Any help we can get will be greatly appreciated."

Unused appliance is an expensive one

BY HELEN B. MEACH
Extension Home Economist

How long since you put that electric roaster to work? Do you have electrical cooking appliances that you don't use once a month or even once a year?

If you answer "yes" to the second question, consider the fact that you are not getting your money's worth from these appliances. Any appliance not used to its fullest potential, either in type of use or number of times used, is expensive. The wise homemaker matches her appliance to her need. She also checks on the number of jobs which can be performed by one appliance.

AN ELECTRICAL fry pan is one of our hardest working utensils; it can bake, stew, serve as a casserole dish, cook a pot roast, cook soups or puddings in addition to all of its frying tasks. You may need an appliance to save arm power, such as a mixer or a blender. A roaster - even may answer your need for extra cooking capacity. To save clock watching the automatic coffee maker may be for you. But don't make your selection in haste. How about the available storage space at your home? Your small appliance is just as useful as the place in which it is stored. You'll know what this means if your roaster is stored on a high shelf or a very low one in your kitchen - or stored away in a closet, attic or basement. If it is "handy-by" it will be used; if it isn't it won't be. Storage that is planned intelligently is a major factor in assuring your money's worth from your appliances.

THE STORAGE problem may be a guide to you in deciding whether or not to add to your family of electrical servants. A wise homemaker avoids buying "gadgets". This could be a one use appliance that takes up valuable room and much needed storage space. Consider the cooking jobs that are to be done and select the appliance which meets the greatest number of requirements. Points to remember - an appliance pays for itself through the tasks it does, the convenience of it, and its frequency of use.

Accident Losses
NEW YORK—The total cost of the nation's traffic accidents was more than $11 billion in 1965, according to the Insurance Information Institute. This is equivalent to $57.13 for every man, woman and child in the country.

Miss Joan Jewett at Senior Girls Tea

ST. JOHNS — Know what you want, prepare for it and go out and get it Miss Joan Jewett of Joan Jewett Career School told the senior girls of Rodney B. Wilson High School last Wednesday.

The girls were the guests of the St. Johns Woman's Club at their annual Senior Girls Tea. The club has hosted this annual event for nearly 20 years.

Miss Jewett advised the girls to continue their education beyond high school even if marriage and homemaking make up their future plans. Today it is not unusual for a woman to be a wife, mother, homemaker and a member of the business world at the same time.

IT IS SOMETIMES necessary for a wife to work outside the home to enable her family to enjoy the luxuries of life with a supplemental paycheck, she said.

Before marriage, she said, think because if you are not prepared financially or emotionally it can be a nightmare.

Miss Jewett said one half of all teenage marriages end in divorce and at this point many will have to go out in the business world, to support themselves and small children. Seeking and obtaining employment when you have special skills is always easier.

DIVORCE, SHE SAID, is not the only cause that may force young mothers to seek employment outside of the home. The death of your husband would certainly force it as most young couples are busy enough providing for every day living to be concerned with life insurance and preparations for the uncertain future.

Miss Jewett was introduced by Mrs. Joseph Spousta, chairman of the day.

MRS. JOHN RUMBAUGH, president of the St. Johns Woman's Club, gave a reading, "What is a Girl?" preceding the program. She explained the goals of the Woman's Club and gave a brief history of the St. Johns organization.

A brief business meeting followed.

The tea held at Wilcox Hall of the First Congregational Church of St. Johns was attended by about 120 senior girls.

The Wilsonettes of Rodney B. Wilson High School sang several selections, ending with "You Will Never Walk Alone."

Being so near St. Patrick's Day, a green color scheme was used in decorating the tea table. Pouring were former presidents, Mrs. Van Hoag and Mrs. Clifford Lumbert.

Serving on the reception committee were Mrs. Walter Carter, Mrs. Oliver Montague, Mrs. Clarence Hicks, Mrs. Walter Graham, Mrs. George Judd and Miss Evelyn Putnam.

The tea committee consisted of Mrs. Manning Bross, Mrs. S. R. Russell, Mrs. Winchell Brown and Mrs. John Warstler.

Girl Scouting still "in" after 55 years

Once upon a time, they had to know the names of the governor of their state and the mayor of their city. Today, they may have just been received by the President.

Once, they only had to know how to make an invalid's bed. Today, they also teach handicapped children how to swim. "They" are the Girl Scouts. And "once upon a time" was 55 years ago when Juliette Gordon Low founded Girl Scouts of the USA with a troop of 12.

AS GIRL SCOUTS throughout the country celebrate their 55th anniversary this week, there may be a temptation to look at the past with a tolerant smile. But if anyone in those days had known the word, the Girl Scouts of 1912 would have been called a pretty "swinging" group. They went on camping trips and hikes, learned how to handle tools and tie knots, how to ride a horse or bicycle, - activities not generally included in the upbringing of young ladies of their time.

Of course, the early Girl Scouts learned to perform the traditional domestic duties too. A girl was required to know how to "cook one simple dish, such as a potato or a quarter of a pound of meat."

GIRL SCOUTING has come a long way since then. This year, following up a national conference last summer, Girl Scouts all over the country will hold regional conferences to discuss with experts proper nutrition, home equipment, money management and the role of women in the world outside the kitchen.

In 1912, Girl Scouts had to know how to "distinguish and name three trees, three wild flowers, three wild birds." Today, they carry out conservation and natural beauty projects as a follow-up to a nationwide coed conference of youth groups which opened on the White House lawn.

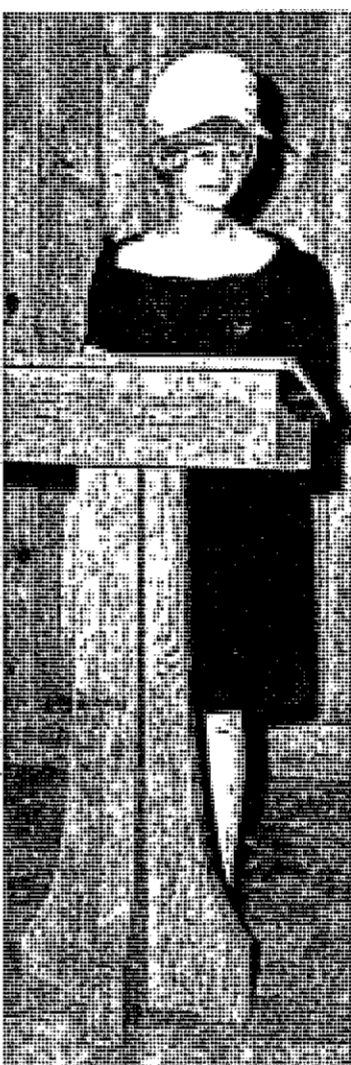

But right from the start, being a Girl Scout was the "in" thing to do. In a few short years, the original membership of 12 has grown to 12,000. Fifty-five years and a whole new world later, Girl Scouts are still going strong - more than 3,000,000 strong.

Bridge leaders announced

Standings for both contact bridge and duplicate bridge competition were reported last week by the sponsoring St. Johns Jaycees.

Mr and Mrs Will Warstler lead 20 couples with a 9-1 record after the 10th round of contact bridge, while Mr and Mrs Bill Barber are second at 8-2, Mr and Mrs Jack Walker third at 7-3, Mr and Mrs. Howard Woodbury fourth at 7-3, and Mr and Mrs Basil Deibert fifth at 7-3. There will be one more round prior to playoffs April 8.

At the completion of the third and last session of duplicate bridge, these were the leaders: North-South team: Mr and Mrs Gerald Roberts in first with 82 points, Mr and Mrs Jack Walker second with 73 1/2, Lois Helter and Catherine Parker third with 73, and Mr and Mrs Roger Hahmmonree fourth with 72 1/2. East - West team: Mr and Mrs Jack Hart first with 97, Mr and Mrs John Furry second with 93, Ken Penix and Dottie Lynam third with 76 1/2 points, and Mr and Mrs Al Allaby fourth with 75 1/2 points.

MISS JOAN JEWETT

Thirty couples have participated in duplicate bridge this year. Next year the Jaycees will sponsor eight sessions of duplicate bridge on the first Saturday of each month, beginning in October.

Roger Feeman is in charge of the bridge tournaments project for the Jaycees.

'Music Man' planned for May 4, 5, 6 here

Strike up the band and follow Harold Hill!

That's what the cast of the "Music Man" will do early in May when the music department at Rodney B. Wilson High School in St. Johns presents one of the greatest musicals of our time.

Preparations for "The Music Man" are already in full swing; tryouts for the parts were held last week. The dates for the performances are May 4, 5, and 6 at the high school auditorium in St. Johns at 8 p.m. Tickets will be available from any concert choir member and at the door.

"The Music Man" is the story of a traveling salesman, Harold Hill, who is a musical illiterate but the hottest instrument salesman touring the Midwest in 1912. With dishonest motives, he charms an entire town into organizing a big brass band, and fleeces every customer. However, the faith of the beautiful town librarian in him subtly transforms him from a scheming con-man into a reliable citizen.

Speed a Killer
NEW YORK—Speed was the number one cause of traffic accidents in 1965, the Insurance Information Institute reports. Accidents attributed to speeding resulted in more than 17,000 deaths and more than 1.8 million injuries. Society owes no man a living, but it does owe him a chance.

Seniors to present 'Arsenic & Old Lace'

By JANET MANCHESTER
Fulton High School

At the Fulton FFA meeting, the future farmers voted to end their seed sales the first week-end of April. The boys have a donkey basketball game planned. Be watching for the exact date!

Mr Stenseth, who will direct the senior play, has selected the cast and crew for "Arsenic and Old Lace". It is as follows: Abbey, Sandi Borl; Rev Harper, Denny Upton; Teddy, Gregg Daniels; Officer Brophy, Mike Erickson; Officer Klein, Carl Hagenbaugh; Martha, Lana Aldrich; Elaine, Anina Olsson; Mortimore, Grant Daniels; Mr Gibbs, Paul Hoard; Jonathan, Kurt Bancroft; Dr Einstein, Terry Proko; Officer O'Hara, Edd Carr; Lt. Rooney, Chris Barr; Mr Whitherspoon, Mike Wright; Mr Hosking and Mr Spenzalzo, Jake Grubraugh.

Mr Stenseth also named heads of the crew committees. They are to choose other seniors to work with them. The assistant directors are Linda Miller and Frank Blackledge. Pat Knight will take care of the props; Diana Lane will be in charge of lighting; sound is Evan Jones; costumes, Nancy McKinney; publicity, Cathy Vanderstow. Kathy Wood and Janet Manchester will head the make-up crew.

THIS YEAR'S PLAYS are being presented in the Middleton gym. The stage makes viewing and listening easier for the audience.

You can see "Arsenic and Old Lace" on the evening of April 28, so reserve that date on your calendar.

Cheerleading tryouts were held March 21, after school. The girls were judged on coordination, enthusiasm, poise, appearance, and citizenship by principal Mr Barr, Mr Schultheis, girls' phys-ed teacher Mrs Freisen; several other faculty members and the two senior cheerleaders, Rhonda Wilson and Janet Manchester.

Each girl is required to do "Come On Team Fight" by themselves, and a select cheer with another girl. This year something has been added. For the first time the splits will be required. The results of the tryouts will be printed next week.

The Student Council met to discuss the computer dance they had planned. There is a possibility that the forms will not arrive in time to be completed by March 31. If not, a regular disc-jockey dance will take place. Watch for publicity—if it is a computer dance it will be limited to Fulton students only. However, if it is a regular dance, everyone is welcome to attend. It will be held in the Fulton gym from 8:30 to 11:30 March 31.

THE SENIORS HAD a class meeting to discuss "Senior Skip Day". The group plans to leave early the morning of May 26 for the Sleeping Bear Sand Dunes.

The honor roll for the past six-week period has been announced. The seniors led in number listed with the sophomores second. Julie Stoneman, a junior, was the only person to receive high honors by achieving all A's.

Dr Robert C. Kelsch, assistant professor of pediatrics at the University of Michigan Medical Center, will be the speaker at the chapter meeting of the Michigan Kidney Foundation next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the St. Lawrence Hospital Nurses Home Gym, 1201 Oakland Street in Lansing.

Dr Kelsch has had much experience in the treatment of kidney disease in children and will speak about the nephrotic syndrome and/or nephritis in children. A question and answer period will be part of the meeting. All interested persons are invited to attend.

IN SCENE FROM P-W PLAYERS COMEDY

"The Perfect Idiot" (played by Louis Thelen, second from right), is the boy genius of Cener High School in the play presented last Friday and Saturday evenings at Pewamo by the Pewamo-Westphalia Players. Dr Von-Barf (LaVern Schneider, right) is trying to find out how a genius could flunk an IQ test. Prof. Tennyson and his wife (Luke Schafer and Beth Hogle), the genius' worried parents, look on. The play was directed by Dennis Pilmore.

ROBERT VOLLBRACHT

Robert L. Vollbracht, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Vollbracht of 102 S. Oakland Street, St. Johns, will be honored for high scholastic ranking at the 44th annual honors convocation March 31 at the University of Michigan. Vollbracht is a member of Theta Delta Chi fraternity and last semester entered Phi Eta Sigma, an honorary scholastic fraternity. He is a sophomore at the U of M; he graduated from St. Johns High School as valedictorian of the class of 1965.

Ashley names Howard principal of new school

ASHLEY — Dale Howard, Ashley school teacher for the past eight years and director of athletics and head football coach, has been named principal of the new nine-room Ashley elementary school.

The school building is nearing completion at a cost of $215,000. It will house special education, kindergarten and grades one to five. Enrollment in the Ashley school is so high that most of the rooms in the present elementary school will be fully utilized during the 1967-68 school year. But with the closing of two rural schools now housing kindergarten and third grade, all Ashley pupils will be at one location, next year for the first time in many years.

Plans are to add one new teacher to the present elementary staff and a new teacher for high school English. Mrs. Maurice Buckingham, junior high English instructor, will devote full time to a remedial reading program next year.

Howard, the new elementary principal, will continue as a director of athletics and head football coach.

Spontaneous combustion is the process of creating fire from the heat build-up as the result of chemical reaction, usually in a confined space. St. Johns Junior Fire Marshals note that spontaneous combustion can cause fire in the home. Paint rags or the like stored in confined places can cause spontaneous combustion. Make sure there is plenty of air in your storage area. Better still, ask the fire department for advice if you are not absolutely sure.

Fowler art class thinks of Easter in its new projects

By JOANNE THELEN
Fowler High School

The art class has been busy creating a wide variety of Easter projects. Among their creations are mobiles with an Easter theme, original Easter bonnets, and woven Easter baskets and centerpieces.

Bath was the scene of the girls league basketball party March 16. The party began at 7 p.m., and skits were presented by four of the attending schools. Marlene Fox, Jean Thelen, Carol Weber, Susie Simmon and Helen Feldpausch performed Fowler's skit. Following the skits the trophy was unveiled and presented to Holt by the league president.

On March 16, students assembled in the gym to listen to the Lansing Community College Choir. The students had an opportunity to hear various presentations such as an operetta, male and female quartets and presentations by the choir's male and female glee clubs. The assembly lasted about an hour.

The Fowler Student Council met Friday, March 17. Future activities approved were a cake walk, sponsored by the Math Club on April 7; a dance sponsored by the juniors on April 7; and the Spanish Club cake walk on March 17.

Mr. Stork stated that the banners from the former D League were still in the office. A motion was made and passed to send each school in the former league its respective banner.

Student council members were chosen to represent Fowler at the league student exchange day March 29. The following students will go to Portland on this day: Shirley Thelen, Doug Messer; Linda Thelen and Nadine Motz.

Since the juniors in the Algebra II class founded the Math Club they also claimed the privilege of initiating the members. The initiating took place during activity period Friday, March 17. It consisted of a variety of challenging, as well as humorous, activities.

Prom, student elections in school spotlight

By GAY BOND
St. Johns High School

Spring has sprung, grass has riz, wonder where the flowers is? Spring vacation is just around the corner and this Friday it starts for the students at R. B. Wilson. Classes end Good Friday noon and resume April 3.

With spring thoughts in mind the Junior-Senior Prom comes into focus. The combined junior and senior classes chose the theme of "Rhapsody in Blue". Le Vans of Lansing will provide the main decorations for the gym. At last week's student council meeting the new turntable was exhibited and a motion was passed to purchase a dome cover for the record player. The committee on elections submitted a schedule for the primary and general elections. The main project the student council is eyeing now is the special election on April 6 and 7 to amend three sections to the constitution of the school.

THE THREE proposed changes they felt should be made in the constitution are as follows:
1) To permit the graduating class to participate in the spring election.
2) To permit candidates to run for either the office of the student council presidency or vice-presidency. At the present time the runner-up becomes the vice president.

3) To make the student council vice president office responsible for keeping the student body administration better informed about student council activities. The dates for registration, special election and other dates concerning elections are:
Registration March 21 - 22; special election April 6-7; petitions, April 13-14; speeches, April 19; primary, April 20 - 21; general election, April 26-27.

Ashley voters reelect Beck as president

ASHLEY — Paul Beck has been reelected village president of Ashley, with William Collins as clerk; Roger Yeomans treasurer, Lester O'Dell, assessor, Maurice Carmany trustee for a one-year term, and Arthur O'Dell, William Berndt and William Strko trustees for two-year terms. All ran on the Republican ticket with the exception of Yeomans, who was a Democratic Party candidate.

It may be true that time is money, but it isn't so scarce.

Westphalia

By Mrs Joseph Fedewa
Box 147, Westphalia—587-3682

During the past weekend Mr and Mrs Ferdinand Martin moved into the home formerly occupied by Mr and Mrs Richard Thelen and family.

Thursday afternoon Mrs Virgilia Platte visited her mother at the home of Mr and Mrs Cyril Wohlfert of DeWitt.

During the past week Fr. Raymond Rademacher and his parents, Mr and Mrs Walter Rademacher, visited their daughter and sister, Mrs Ben Pero at a Flint Hospital.

The schools in the Westphalia area will close Thursday for the Easter vacation and will re-open again Tuesday morning.

COMMUNION BREAKFAST WELL-ATTENDED

Following the 11:30 Mass, the Confraternity's annual breakfast was held in the newly renovated St. Mary's Hall.

Fr. Spillane spoke briefly on the changes in our religious teaching. Then, guest speaker, Fr. Fitzgerald of Lansing, spoke on "Youth Today".

Singing Irish songs to the over 200 guests present, was Jim Trierweiler of Portland, accompanied by Mrs Willem at the piano. Mary Pohl, this year's "Mother of the Year" was presented with a lovely corsage and a floral centerpiece.

Chairman of the lunch committee was Verena Witgen, assisted by Mary Trierweiler, Germaine Trierweiler, Evelyn Welland, Pat Wieber, Leona Witgen, Rita Witgen, Marlon Wohlfert, Margaret Wohlfert and Hildegard Arens. Eunice and Jane Wirth served as the entertainment committee.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs Martha Bohr and Mr and Mrs Clarence Manning and family, whose husband and father, John Bohr, passed away suddenly at his home early Monday morning.

The Jaycees of Westphalia are sponsoring a dance at the 21 Club in Pewamo Saturday evening, April 1. Make plans now to attend.

Mrs Therese Fox has been a patient at St. Lawrence Hospital and expects to be able to return home this week.

TO WED SOON

Marriage banns were published Sunday at St. Mary's Church for Miss Corinne Feldpausch, daughter of Mr and Mrs James Feldpausch of Fowler and Richard Knoop, son of Mr and Mrs Ferd Knoop of this community.

Mr and Mrs Charles Martin of Pewamo, Mr and Mrs Bill Hufnagel of Fowler, Mr and Mrs Louis Rademacher and Mr and Mrs Walter Rademacher spent Monday evening playing cards at the home of Mary, Louis and John Goodman.

The Young Ladies Society are sponsoring a baked goods sale Saturday at Belen's Meat Market, starting at 9 a.m. The proceeds of this sale will go towards the new library for St. Mary's Grade School.

A quilting was held Wednesday at the home of Mr and Mrs James Nurenberg.

OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

Saturday evening Mr and Mrs John Thelen, Mr and Mrs David Witgen, Mr and Mrs Leo Walker, Mr and Mrs Harold Schmitt, Mr and Mrs Dennis Fandel, Mr and Mrs Robert Schaar, Mr and Mrs Gerald Schmitt, Mr and Mrs William Hanses Jr., Mrs Margaret Fedewa, Mr and Mrs Tom Belen, Mr and Mrs Simon Smith, Mr and Mrs Don Schneider, Mr and Mrs Donald Bengel, Mr and Mrs Joe Fedewa and Mrs and Mrs Gerald Platte attended a potluck birthday supper at the home of Mr and Mrs Peter Wittgen and Joe, honoring Peter on his 75th birthday anniversary. Following the supper, the rest of the evening was spent playing various games and progressive Euchre.

Methodists schedule drama group April 26

The Bishop's Company, a traveling drama group which has revived the medieval tradition of church drama, will present "Do You Know the Milky Way?" in the Methodist Church sanctuary April 26.

The church is seeking overnight room and meal accommodations in private homes for the drama group. Since 1952 the Bishop's Company has been entertained in over 40,000 homes in the 50 states and Canada.

Tickets for the chancel drama will be on sale soon.

Maple Twirlers to hold "Bunny Hop"

Maple Twirlers Square Dance club will have a "Bunny Hop" Friday evening, March 24, at 8:30. The caller is Wendell Law. There will be a potluck supper following. This will be at the Maple Rapids gym.

The crosses in the shadows were real. Three hung there and died in agony... two for their own wrong-doing... one for yours.

That chapter to which the Book lies open — it tells of the scandal... the indignity... the injustice — and the pain.

The lilies?... symbols of what men call Easter Day! When the women found the tomb empty... and were afraid to believe He was risen...

IT is not a pretty picture. IT is the stark reminder of man's distrust of God... and God's love of man.

And you'll let nothing keep you from worshipping your Lord when you stop thinking of IT as a pretty picture.

IT happened.

For you — IT happened.

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

350 bars of soap for S. Viet Nam

Sunday afternoon, the junior high Sunday School class of the Bannister Methodist Church completed their drive to collect soap. They collected in Ashley and the people contributed generously. The total amount of soap collected during the past two weeks totaled 350 bars plus $15. This will be sent this week to Airman Ronald Zabel, who is serving in the Central Highlands of South Viet Nam.

Drivers providing transportation for the class were Mrs. Robert Buechle, Mrs. Rose Santrucek and Mrs. Robert Valentine. The group returned to the home of Ray Canfield for refreshments. Mrs. Richard Moore and Mrs. Thomas Bradley attended Quiet Day services at the Duplain Methodist Church on Friday.

The Junior and Senior Methodist Youth Fellowship of Bannister attended the Youth Night services at Ovid United Church Sunday evening. The speaker for the evening was Andrew Jackson of Big Rapids. Many adults from this area attended also.

The sewing members of the Chippewa Chippers 4-H Club and the Busy Green Clovers 4-H club met Monday evening at the Bannister Elementary school. They spent the evening practicing the proper way to model their garments. They will model their garments March 18 at the Thaca High School. This will be the Self Judging day. Achievement days will be March 29, 30, and 31. A style revue will be held Friday, March 31, at the Thaca High School.

The home of Mr and Mrs William Goldman, Jr. burned to the ground Thursday morning. It was a complete loss. No one was at home at the time of the fire. To add to the tragedy, the barn burned to the ground in the late afternoon. The community is holding a shower for the Goldmans Monday evening at the ZCBJ hall in Bannister.

Miss Ruth Ann Doan, a student at Central Michigan University, was the speaker at the Sunday morning services at the Bannister Methodist Church. She told of the need of financial help to complete funds to build a Wesley Foundation building on the campus of CMU. The Cherub choir sang the anthem. Jim Valentine and Todd Moore served as acolytes.

Mr and Mrs Ralph L. Nixon are the parents of a girl, Leann Marie, born Tuesday, March 7.

Miss Patricia Dunay, daughter of Mr and Mrs Alex Dunay of Bannister and a sophomore at Central Michigan University, has been invited to attend a "Recognition Tea" by the Associated Women Students of CMU in the University Center Ballroom Sunday afternoon, March 19. Miss Dunay is one of the students to be honored for scholastic achievement. She also received a letter of congratulations from the Panhellenic Council for her achievement in mathematics as an honor student. She is a 1965 graduate of Ashley Community School. She plans to teach high school mathematics and English. Sunday morning callers of Mr and Mrs Frank Leydorf were Ruby Stewart and Mrs. Anabel Peck and their Sunday school classes. They sang Happy Birthday to Mrs. Leydorf whose birthday is Tuesday. The group held their regular Sunday school classes at the Leydorf home. In the afternoon, Mr and Mrs Richard Moore and Todd and Jim Valentine were visitors.

Mrs. Genevieve Santrucek called on Mr and Mrs Frank Leydorf Tuesday.

Mr and Mrs Eugene Ferrall were Friday visitors of Mr and Mrs Harold Whalen of Owosso. Mr and Mrs Frank Saylor of Flint were Thursday visitors of Mr and Mrs Roy Saylor.

Mr and Mrs Sid West of Elsie were Saturday evening callers of Mr and Mrs Roy Saylor. Mr and Mrs Archie Stratton, Kay Hawley of Ovid and Gale Bensinger were Sunday callers of Mr and Mrs Roy Saylor.

Mr and Mrs Roy Saylor, Rebecca Matthew and son were Wednesday morning visitors of Mr and Mrs R. G. Peck and family of rural Ovid.

Roy Saylor and Jim Libertin were Saturday evening callers of Mr and Mrs R. B. Peck and family of rural Ovid.

Area youth attend meet on natural beauty

It isn't always easy to make a "hit" with the young people, but conservation and natural beauty have succeeded.

Four hundred young people attended the Michigan Youth Conference on Natural Beauty and Conservation, March 21, at the Union Building on the campus of Michigan State University.

Attending the conference from this area were: Sharon Dunham, Jean Brewbaker, Taru Latvalaki (exchange) student from Finland, Bruce Harden, Calvin Moore and advisor Rodney Tullack of Ovid - Elsie High. They represented the Ovid-Elsie FFA and FHA.

OK merger of Collister, Laingsburg

The Collister School District in eastern Bath and Victor townships will officially join the Laingsburg district July 1, ending the reign of Clinton County's last independent rural school district.

Collister voters, along with those from the Laingsburg and rural Shiawassee districts of Walters and Octagon, approved the merger of the four last Tuesday in a special school reorganization election. The final vote was 225 to 194 in favor.

The new district will be known as the Laingsburg Community School District.

Laingsburg Supt. Russell C. Wolff said the consolidation will become effective July 1 and that the three rural elementary schools will not operate next year. Some 62 students in the three schools will be transported to Laingsburg. Junior high and senior high students presently attend school in Laingsburg on a tuition basis.

Easter favors were made for the nursing homes at St. Johns by the Fowler Lutheran Ladies Aid when they met at their monthly meeting Thursday, March 2. A noon potluck was served by Mrs. Angie Sillman, Mrs. Paul Graff, Jr and Mrs. Charles Boak.

In the absence of Pastor Schmidt, who is ill, Pastor Herman Rossow had the devotions. He reviewed the lesson "Jesus-God Man" from the Adult Bible Manual.

Mrs. Robert Boettger, the president, had charge of the business meeting. Notes of thanks were read from Pastor Schmidt and also from the following charities who received gifts during the Christmas season: Bethesda; Lutheran School for the Deaf; and the Lutheran Hour. It was decided to donate $5 to the crippled Children Fund.

Sunday evening, March 12, Mr and Mrs Herbert Pasch and Mr and Mrs Louis Moritz were hosts at Family Night.

A dinner for the whole congregation which will honor the newly confirmed members will be held Sunday evening April 9. Those serving on this committee are: Mrs. Paul Graff, Sr., Mrs. Walter Baxter, Mrs. Walter G. Nobis and Mrs. Ottilie Nobis. The evening program is being planned by Mrs and Mrs Leo Fox and Mr and Mrs Clarence Sillman.

The meeting closed with the ladies praying the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Confraternity plans March 25 bake sale

At the Feb. 28 meeting of the Confraternity of Christian Mothers it was agreed to donate $5 to the Easter Seal Campaign. Also a sum of money was given to the Sisters for library books.

There will be a baked good sale Saturday March 25 at Beckers and the south side of the parish is asked to donate.

At the March meeting of the Confraternity, the film on venereal disease will be shown.

Committee for this meeting will be Mrs. Julius A. Thelen, (Angela), chairman; Mrs. Ed Thelen, co-chairman; Mrs. Julius Thelen, (Alleen), Mrs. Theodore Thelen, Mrs. Marvin Thelen, Mrs. Roman J. Thelen, Mrs. Eugene Thelen, Mrs. Stanley Thelen, Mrs. Jerome Thelen, Mrs. Allan O. Thelen, Mrs. Arnold Thelen, Mrs. Kenneth Thelen, Mrs. Clem Thelen, Mrs. Andrew Thelen and Mrs. Alvin Thelen.

Medical self-help course starts at Fowler March 28

FOWLER—The first of a series of medical self-help classes aimed at preparing individuals to act in the case of emergency will be held next Tuesday, March 28, at the Fowler High School gym. The session will get under way at 8 p.m.

Charles Frost, Clinton County civil defense director, will conduct the first lesson on radio-active fallout and shelter living. Other topics to be covered during the course which runs through May 2 include: healthful living in emergencies; burns, shock, bleeding and bandaging; fractures and splinting; transportation of the injured; artificial respiration; nursing care for the sick and injured; infant and child care; and emergency child birth.

Jaycettes plan Easter basket sale

FOWLER — The Fowler Jaycettes Auxiliary will sponsor an Easter basket sale this Friday from 3 to 6 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. The sale will be held at the Fowler Laundromat, and proceeds will help emotionally disturbed children. Easter baskets will be filled by auxiliary members and will feature real home-colored eggs.

Gophers, woodchucks and jumping mice are called genuine hibernators because of their deep-sleep during the winter. Bears, raccoons, skunks, badgers, opossums and chipmunks also hibernate, but for most of them, there is no marked drop in body temperatures and waking is easy.

South Ovid

By Mrs George Young

(omitted last week)

Mrs Julia Blinger and Mrs Sarah Young attended the Home Ethel Shinabery last Thursday afternoon.

Mrs Auda Gadd and friend of Owosso called on the former's aunts, Mrs Nancy Baker and Mrs Sarah Young, last Tuesday. She reports her mother, Mrs Leo Hedden and Leo Hedden are both in the Owosso hospital.

Mr and Mrs Kenneth Young spent Sunday afternoon with relatives in and near Greenville.

Mrs Georgianna Underhill and son, Wayne, were Sunday guests of her sister, Mrs Orlo Jones and family of East Ovid.

Mr and Mrs Neil Ziegler and family went roller skating in Ionia last Sunday.

Mrs Irene Young and Mrs Ed ward Young of Ovid and Mrs Grace Young and Lucille Loomis of East Laingsburg were Sunday visitors of Mrs Nancy Baker and Mrs S. Young.

We were sorry to hear that Mrs Ellen Thompson of North Ovid fell on the ice and hurt herself, returning from the Home Makers Club meeting last Thursday.

Mr and Mrs M. Morehouse of Ovid called on Mrs S. Young Monday morning.

Mrs Richard Gee was sick with flu last week.

South Watertown

By Mrs Bruce Hodges

(omitted last week)

Mr and Mrs Leon Garlock were hosts to the Southern Owls Farm Bureau Group Wednesday evening. A large interested crowd took part in a discussion of the Workmens Compensation bill. Each family promised to send a card to their congressman voicing their feeling about the bill. Ernest Carter, Watertown supervisor, spoke on the new reapportionment plan for the county. The next meeting will be held April 12 at the Green Meadows Club House.

Mr and Mrs Jud Sweet of Lansing, Mr and Mrs Burt Hodges and Mrs and Mrs Bruce Hodges were Tuesday supper guests of Mr and Mrs Charles Doherr of Howell.

Miss Helen Howell with Mr and Mrs Robert Wright of Lansing had Sunday dinner with Mr and Mrs Jack DePriester of Hickory Corners.

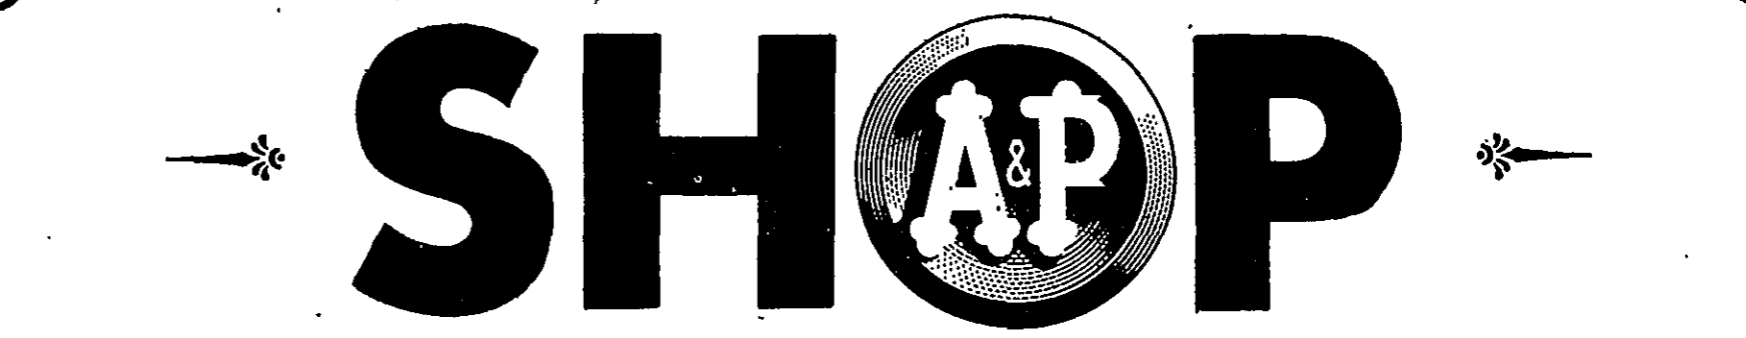

Mr and Mrs Lawrence Maier spent Sunday with Mrs Earl Shorman of Laingsburg.

Mrs Thelma Gee has received news of a new granddaughter born to Mr and Mrs La Vern Gee of Champaign, Ill.

Mr and Mrs Bruce Hodges called on Mrs Helen Dayton at St. Lawrence Hospital Sunday.

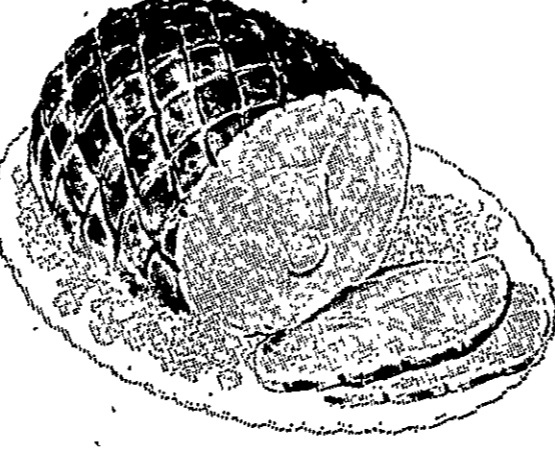

Question: How can I determine the value of my Savings Bonds, many of which were purchased at least 20 years ago?

Answer: Bond tellers at banks and many savings and loan organizations will be glad to assist you. However, by sending 15 cents (in cash) to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402, you can obtain a Table of Redemption Values, which will give the current value of any Series E Bond you own. These tables are issued every six months, and the current edition covers the period from July through December, of the

PROCEEDINGS

St. Johns Board of Education

The regular meeting of the Board of Education was held on March 8, 1967, in the office of Superintendent Lancaster. Members present: Parr, Waggoner, Meyer, Livingston, Richards. Others present were B. Stanley Pocus, Walter Nickel, Stephen Bakita, Dwane Wirick, Henry Enoch.

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by President Parr. Minutes of the regular meeting of Feb. 8, and special meetings of Feb. 21 and Mar. 1 were read and approved.

The financial reports were presented and reviewed. Bills and salaries totaling $176,531.72 were reviewed and approved for payment.

It was moved and seconded that the bid of Classroom, Inc., for supplies, be accepted for two 60-passenger bus bodies at $3,906.00 each and for two 66-passenger bus bodies at $4,149.00 each. Motion carried.

It was moved and seconded that the final loan application with the Michigan School Bond Loan Program be approved. Motion carried.

Following a discussion concerning the need for additional lighting on the grounds at the bus garage it was moved and seconded that the necessary additional lighting be installed. Motion carried.

Upon proper motion the meeting was adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,
FRED G. MEYER
Secretary

AT THE CLOSE of the service, Dr. G. W. Bennett, chairman of the music committee, led the singing of hymns.

"Flowers for the Service" were provided by the Methodist Men's Club. A special offering "One Great Hour of Sharing" was received. Along with gifts from 38,000 Methodist churches it will be used to help support relief work, Crusade Scholars, service men's centers in the Far East and Church Extension projects in Hawaii, Alaska and for Spanish-speaking Americans.

Methodists use new hymnals

The new Methodist hymnals were introduced to the congregation Sunday morning by Gordon Vandemark of St. Johns, who was assisting his father-in-law Rev. Gordon Showers, by directing the music.

Most of the worship service was devoted to singing of hymns, many of which were familiar but have not been in the Methodist hymnal. Another group included the American folk songs and Negro spirituals while still others were old tunes with new words.

The three choirs, chancel, crusader and carol, each sang special hymns and David Showers sang "For Thy Light Is Come" with Karen Rumbaugh of St. Johns as accompanist.

Under the leadership of Pastor and Mrs. Roy La Duke of the Elsie Bible Baptist Church 22, both young and old, attended a n ice skating and hill sliding party Saturday, March 4. Hot chocolate, hot dogs and coffee were enjoyed by a bonfire. Weekly outings are being planned by the church and all are welcome.

Elsie

By MRS. NEVA KEYS, Correspondent
(omitted last week)

Family legal problems topic of J.T. Arnold

Attorney Jack T. Arnold, Gratiot county prosecutor, was guest speaker for the Women's Literary Club Tuesday night at the high school when he discussed legal problems pertinent to families. A question and answer period followed which proved very informative.

Music was furnished by four groups of Ovid - Elsie students under the direction of Don Thayer.

President Mrs. Durward Conklin distributed the Medi-Labels, designed to attach to back of new driving permits.

Mrs. Viola Allen reminded members that the boxed Michigan scene note paper is still available for sale. Mrs. Robert Bloomer reviewed plans for the Spring Trading Post scheduled March 10 through 18 in the Blackford Building on Main St. Other projects discussed were the Cancer Crusade and Arthritis Foundation to which the Club donates.

Mrs. B. M. Wooley told of her visit to the Indian Reservation near Mount Pleasant where she saw the new apartments recently completed as a federal project. She stated that they have a great need of bed linens, beds, chairs, tables and small furniture items.

Mrs. A. W. Cobb served as hostess and Mrs. Woodrow Basher as program chairman.

The annual meeting will be held in the Home Ec room of the high school Tuesday night, March 14. At the close of the program, coffee and cookies were served by Mrs. G. W. Bennett, Mrs. Orpha Clement and Mrs. Duane Green.

Methodists use new hymnals

The new Methodist hymnals were introduced to the congregation Sunday morning by Gordon Vandemark of St. Johns, who was assisting his father-in-law Rev. Gordon Showers, by directing the music.

Most of the worship service was devoted to singing of hymns, many of which were familiar but have not been in the Methodist hymnal. Another group included the American folk songs and Negro spirituals while still others were old tunes with new words.

The three choirs, chancel, crusader and carol, each sang special hymns and David Showers sang "For Thy Light Is Come" with Karen Rumbaugh of St. Johns as accompanist.

AT THE CLOSE of the service, Dr. G. W. Bennett, chairman of the music committee, led the singing of hymns.

"Flowers for the Service" were provided by the Methodist Men's Club. A special offering "One Great Hour of Sharing" was received. Along with gifts from 38,000 Methodist churches it will be used to help support relief work, Crusade Scholars, service men's centers in the Far East and Church Extension projects in Hawaii, Alaska and for Spanish-speaking Americans.

Under the leadership of Pastor and Mrs. Roy La Duke of the Elsie Bible Baptist Church 22, both young and old, attended a n ice skating and hill sliding party Saturday, March 4. Hot chocolate, hot dogs and coffee were enjoyed by a bonfire. Weekly outings are being planned by the church and all are welcome.

Carson City Players' comedy next weekend

"We Must Kill Toni," the Carson City Civic Players' spring comedy, will be staged next Thursday and Saturday, March 30 and April 1 in Carson City.

The play is about two young brothers of the Oberon family who live in their mansion with one faithful butler. They are happy until they discover that the inheritance of the Oberon estates has gone to their cousin Toni. This charming girl shortly descends on the mansion, and the problem that faces the two brothers is as they say, "murder or marriage."

When Toni arrives, they have to consider whether (if it is to be murder) the means shall be the knife, poison or the dungeons; or (if it is to be marriage) which of the two brothers will marry her.

The author of the play, Ian Stuart Black, tries every conceivable variation on the alternative plots of the brothers, and the play is continuously alive with wit and invention. Near the close of the comedy it becomes clear that cousin Toni, for all her innocent charm, has a head on her shoulders.

Frank Fishell, currently an instructor in math at Central Michigan University, will direct "We Must Kill Toni" for the Carson City Civic Players.

Genius sprints, but talent generally wins in the long run.

HOLY TRINITY SCHOOL HOLDS FIRST ART EXHIBIT

Tim Eiseler, 10, and Cathy Pohl, 9, helped Sister Regine Marie tidy up some of the displays last Thursday as the first annual Holy Trinity School art exhibit entered its final two days of public showing. Three-hundred eighty-three art projects, one for every student at the school, were displayed all last week. Sister Regine Marie, who along with Sister Conrad Marie were instrumental in forming the exhibit, said it was felt the children should learn to appreciate art, color and beauty and that they needed to express themselves through art. Next year, she said, the art exhibit will not be limited to just one project per student, and visiting parents will be asked to vote on the best works of art in the show. This year the art included paintings, mosaics, masks, papier mache items and other forms.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 13 DeWITT TOWNSHIP CLINTON COUNTY, MICHIGAN

An ordinance to adopt the minimum employment standards of the Michigan Law Enforcement Officers Training Council.

The Township of DeWitt ordains:

Section 1. Minimum Standards Adopted

The minimum employment standards for law enforcement officers as established and adopted by the Michigan Law Enforcement Officers Training Council in accordance with Act No. 203, Public Acts of 1965 are hereby adopted as follows:

STANDARDS

- Be a citizen of the United States.
- Minimum age of twenty-one years.
- Graduation from high school or equivalent. Equivalent defined as having attained a passing score on the General Education Development test indicating high school graduation level.
- Fingerprinting of applicants with a search of local, state and national fingerprint files to disclose any criminal record.
- The applicant shall not have been convicted of a felony offense.
- Good moral character as determined by a favorable report following a comprehensive background investigation covering school and employment records, home environment, personal traits and integrity. Consideration will be given to any and all law violations, including traffic and conservation law convictions as indicating a lack of good character.
- Acceptable physical, emotional and mental fitness as established by a licensed physician following examination to determine the applicant is free from any physical, emotional or mental condition which might adversely affect his performance of duty as a police officer.
- The trainee shall possess normal hearing and normal color vision. He shall be free from any impediments of the senses. He must possess normal visual functions and visual acuity in each eye correctable to 20/20. The trainee must be physically sound; well developed physically, with height and weight in relation to each other and to age as indicated by accepted medical standards and in possession of his extremities. He shall be free from any physical defects, chronic diseases, organic diseases, organic or functional conditions, or mental instabilities which may tend to impair efficient performance of duty to which might endanger the lives of others or himself if he lacks these qualifications.
- A declaration of the applicant's medical history shall become a part of the background investigation. The information shall be available to the examining physician.
- An oral interview shall be held by the hiring authority or his representative, to determine the applicant's acceptability for a police officer position and to assess appearance, background and ability to communicate.
- Recruitment and employment practices and standards shall be in compliance with existing Michigan statutes governing this activity.

Section 2. Notice to be Published

The DeWitt Township Clerk shall publish this ordinance in the manner required by law.

Section 3. Conflicting Ordinances Repealed.

The standards of the Michigan Law Enforcement Officers Training Council are recognized as minimum standards and higher standards are recommended by the Training Council when qualified applicants are available. Any portion of any ordinance not meeting the minimum standards is hereby repealed. Any portion of any ordinance which meets the minimum standards or exceeds those standards shall remain in effect.

Section 4. Effective date

The minimum employment standards for law enforcement officers will be in effect in this governmental unit 30 days after the passage of this adopting ordinance.

Adopted: Feb. 13, 1967.

More 'cash grain,' fewer dairy farms seen for Michigan

"Cash grain" operations are rapidly replacing dairying as Michigan's most common type of farming.

Michigan State University scientists estimate that there will be 13,000 cash grain farms in Michigan by 1980, compared to only 8,000 dairy farms.

The reason for the switch in farming emphasis, say the scientists, is largely due to Michigan's high labor costs. Grain farming can be highly mechanized thus eliminating much of the labor problem.

Even though there will be more Michigan cash grain farms than dairy farms in 1980, the number of cash grain farms will be about 2,600 less than there were in 1964. The number of dairy farms is expected to drop from 20,230 in 1964 to 8,000 in 1980.

Old values and new idea is an unbeatable combination.

Wind erosion dealt blow in Michigan

Michigan farmers applied more practices to control wind erosion on crop fields in 1966 than ever before, according to records compiled by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service.

Tree and shrub windbreak planting increased 48 per cent over that in 1965, with 438,000 lineal feet of windbreaks planted this past year. Minimum tillage, which leaves the soil surface rough to slow down both wind and water erosion, showed a 10 per cent increase to 142,600 acres. There was a 5 per cent increase in stripcropping with 9,408 acres newly applied. More than 210,000 acres are now being farmed in narrow strips to control wind and water erosion.

All other wind control practices showed similar increases. Cover and green manure crops jumped to 100,140 acres. Crop residues were managed to give additional protection on another 208,000 acres.

DETAILED RECORDS are not available on the amount of grain strips or small grains interseeded in cultivated crops to afford temporary protection on wind erosion fields. However, Richard Drullinger, conservation agronomist for the Soil Conservation Service at East Lansing, estimates there was at least a 30 per cent increase in the acreage of such treatment. He cited thousands of acres of vegetables, sugar beets, and beans that were given protection by small grain strips or rows in the Saginaw Valley, Michigan's "Thumb" area; and in Monroe and Lenawee counties last year.

"Though we are gaining on the wind erosion problem there are still many acres subject to blowing," said Drullinger. "Reports from our work unit conservationists in 31 counties with large acreages of cultivated crops show 155,000 acres in condition to blow as soon as the snow cover is gone and the wind dries the soil surface. This can result in the loss of thousands of dollars to communities and landowners in lost fertility, soil-filled drainage ditches, and damage crop production."

IN CLINTON COUNTY, Robert Moore, chairman of the Clinton County Soil Conservation District, reports that high water tables maintained by muck farmers has been controlling wind erosion. Also, in the Clinton SCD, cooperators have planted 168,540 feet of windbreaks since 1954 to control wind erosion. Many cooperators are planting three rows of white pine as their permanent windbreak to replace existing green willow windbreaks.

It was estimated by the Conservation Needs Committee in 1959 that 1,640,000 feet of windbreak planting were needed in the Clinton Soil Conservation District to adequately control wind-erosion.

Cover crops, fall planted oats, plow planting, plowing crosswise to prevailing winds, field strip cropping, rye strips to protect row crops and irrigation are also used as conservation tools to control wind-erosion.

NFO Views

By ELMER SMITH Clinton County NFO

There are many activities that have been and are going on in the NFO.

The sow and cow sell-off by the NFO members to bring supply in balance with demand has been widely accepted and has focused national attention on the farmers' dissatisfaction. Some of the most influential eastern papers have carried stories on the cow and sow sell-off, and their reporters have now become aware of the general dissatisfaction of farmers. This is an awareness that had not been evident in many places in the past.

NFO is becoming a rallying point for many farmers. NFO ideas are grabbing hold. Farm leaders say that if NFO does not accomplish anything else, it has shown farmers new ideas on how to get more price.

The cost of a vacation makes people sweat even if they do find a cool place to spend it.

Land Bank meeting on March 29

Floyd Parmelee, manager of the Federal Land Bank Assn. of St. Johns, has announced that the local association will hold its annual meeting next Wednesday, March 29, at 8 p.m. at the Masonic Temple.

This date was picked to coincide with other events that are being held in the region and nationally to observe the 50th anniversary of the Federal Land Bank System.

The Federal Land Bank Assn. at St. Johns, along with more than 700 other associations across the country having a membership of some 388,000 farmers, will help in the job of speaking up for U.S. agriculture during 1967, and celebrate the golden anniversary of the Land Banks.

Manager Parmelee reported that the annual meeting notices have been sent to the 1,180 stockholders in Clinton, Grafton and Shiawassee counties. Other individuals interested in agriculture finance are also invited to attend. In addition to the hearing of reports and election of directors, several special features have been worked into the program to emphasize the anniversary which has been dedicated to, "America's Farmers: Providers of Plenty."

GEORGE DALEY of Lewiston, Minn., a farm credit director, will be the featured speaker. Daley, an active Minnesota farmer, has been a member of the Federal Farm Credit Board at Washington from 1954 to 1960. He has been elected a director of the St. Paul Farm Credit Board three consecutive terms. Between 1950 and 1964 he served three terms in the Minnesota House of Representatives.

The new Land Bank movie, "Providers of Plenty" will also be shown. The anniversary film provides fresh insight into the dynamics and potential of U. S. agriculture.

"The association is inviting former directors, managers and employees who have played an important role in the progress of our association," Manager Parmelee stated. "We are also awarding two certificates of recognition to individuals who have made outstanding contributions to agriculture in our areas."

ASC PROGRAM

1,100 participating so far in feed grain, wheat plans

W. M. SMITH County ASC Manager

The final date for requesting price support will soon be here for most 1966 crops. There were several changes in the final availability and maturity dates effective for the 1966 crops.

The price support program was designed to permit producers an opportunity to market their crops in an orderly manner, and at the same time obtain operating capital during the period of low market prices, which usually occurs at harvest time. Loans are available immediately after harvest, and producers may hold their crops until such a time as the market price will provide a fair and profitable return for their production.

When this price level is obtained, producers have the privilege of selling their crop and repaying the loan. If the market price goes below the loan rate for the crop, the producer can deliver it to the Commodity Credit Corporation in settlement of the loan. This guarantees the eligible producer a minimum rate for his crop.

AT THE PRESENT time, the market prices for most 1966 crops are above the loan rate. For 1966-crop honey, the final date for requesting loans was February 28; however, price support may be requested at the county office through March 31. For other crops, such as barley, dry edible beans, flaxseed, rye, and wheat, the final date for requesting loans is March 31; however, price support may be requested on these crops through May 1. The final date for requesting loans on oats is May 1, and price support may be requested on 1966-crop oats through May 31.

Many producers who have used the loan program have taken advantage of the favorable market prices, paid off their loans, and sold the collateral. These producers have benefited from the price support program by retaining possession and control of their crops until such time as they felt the price was most advantageous for them to sell during the market season.

PRICE SUPPORT rates on 1967 crops were recently announced for soybeans at $2.50 per bushel national average. County loan rates have not yet been established; however, in Michigan, except for one or two counties, the county loan rate is a few cents below the national average.

For 1967-crop oats, the support rate has been announced at 63 cents per bushel national average. This will mean generally a 3 cent increase in the county loan rates in Michigan counties, except there will be an increase of 4 cents per bushel in Hillsdale, Lenawee, and Monroe counties.

Price support loan rates for 1967-crop wheat have previously been announced at $1.25 per bushel national average, the same as for 1966 crop.

For 1967-crop corn, the national average loan rate is $1.05 per bushel; and for barley, the rate is set at 90 cents per bushel.

The 1967-crop price support rates for honey, dry edible beans, and flaxseed have not yet been announced; however, announcement is expected within the next few weeks.

State crop yields soar

Agricultural research and better practices by farmers have sent Michigan crop yields soaring in the past 25 years.

Michigan State University scientist report that the state's corn and sugar beet yields have more than doubled since 1940. Wheat yields have increased by over 50 per cent.

Improved varieties, the wide use of pesticides, improved cultural practices and a greatly expanded use of commercial fertilizers are given credit for the yield increases.

1980 farm total to be 1/2 present number

One-Half of Michigan's farmers will be engaged in some other occupation by 1980.

Michigan State University agricultural economists report that farm numbers have dropped from 112,000 in 1959 to 93,000 in 1964.

By 1980, the total is expected to be 45,000. But fewer farmers will be producing more food from less land, their estimates predict.

Green Meadow cow sets new Michigan record

A new food production achievement for a Michigan Registered Holstein cow has been reported by Holstein-Friesian Association of America. The butterfat production record was established under official production testing supervision.

The new record holder for her age group is Lily Pond Rag Apple Penny 5476503 (VG), owned by Duane and Velmar Green, Green Meadow Farm, Elsie. The new class leader has completed a lactation level of 21,900 pounds of milk and 899 pounds of butterfat in 305 days.

This represents a new and higher production record for officially tested senior three-year-old Registered Holsteins milked division of the DHIR program. Two times daily in the 305-day "PENNY" WAS bred in the herd of Robert Klein, Richmond. She was sired by Grahaven Supreme Master 1376697.

The previous lactation record in this age group for Registered Holsteins was held by Knolltop Sensation Elda 5192496, owned by Alvin J. Wells, North Adams. She formerly headed this age group with a production level of 22,130 pounds of milk and 896 pounds of butterfat.

Production sampling, weighing and testing operations were supervised by Michigan State University working in cooperation with the national Holstein organization.

Farm production in hungry nations is losing ground

Farmers in developing countries must increase food production much more rapidly than the United States and other advanced nations if they are going to increase food production per person, contends Dr. Robert D. Stevens, Michigan State University agricultural economist.

"The magnitude of this task is clear when you realize that the increased rates of food production now needed in developing countries are higher than the rates of increase that have been achieved in the U.S.," comments Stevens.

"In other words, the developing countries must run more rapidly just to keep in place in terms of food production per person."

Stevens points out that food production per person has remained about the same in the developing nations for the past 25 years. By contrast, the advanced countries, such as the U.S., increased their per capita food consumption by 31 per cent.

This enormous food problem facing developing nations, Stevens adds, points to the necessity for some form of "family planning" if these countries are to make rapid progress in their battle with hunger.

In four years, UNICEF has helped to equip 7,000 schools and teacher training institutions, and over 300 vocational training institutes.

A story about milk . . .

The dairy farmer goes to market

(First in a series)

Southern Michigan dairy farmers take more than 4 1/2 million quarts of milk to state markets every day.

Southern Michigan consumers buy more than 3 million quarts of it "in the bottle." The remainder goes into dairy products—butter, ice cream, cottage cheese, dry milk powder and some others.

The leadoff link in the milk marketing chain is the dairy farmer. About 75 per cent of all grade A dairy farmers in Michigan are members of the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. Most of the remainder are members of other cooperatives which market or process milk.

Totally, cooperative members produce well over 90 per cent of the milk destined for Michigan dinner tables.

So what? A bottle of milk is a bottle of milk and who cares how it gets from the cow to the consumer.

WELL, DAIRY FARMERS care. So do dairies that process and distribute milk. So do governments and so should consumers. Probably no nutritious food is more widely used than milk in this country. Producing and distributing milk and dairy products is big business. Yet, consumers pay an amazingly low price for milk.

But there is widespread ignorance of how milk is marketed—and more importantly, how it is priced. Let's take a look at how milk gets from farm to market:

In Southern Michigan, more than 10,000 farms have cows that produce milk for the market. About 68 per cent of that milk goes into bottles—"fluid use." Of the bottled milk, about 70 per cent is sold in the Detroit metropolitan area. Practically all of that milk is picked up at the farm in tank trucks and taken directly to Detroit area dairies.

The farmer is paid for his milk by the hundred weight. From his price he must pay for help, his farm land and equipment, cows, seed, feed, fertilizer, supplies, and hauling the milk to market. And he must make a profit.

THE INDEPENDENT hauler must pay for truck and tankers, his gas and oil, maintenance, taxes and other costs of doing business. And he must make a profit.

The dairy must pay for plant and equipment, help, taxes and other costs of doing business. And it must make a profit.

Sound like a lot of profit? In percentages, it's not, really. Less than half of the retail cost of a half gallon of milk is the amount it takes to produce it. The remainder is the amount of money it takes to get it from the dairy to the consumer.

Cheese consumption remained at near record levels during 1965, with per capita use totaling only fractionally less than the 1964 all-time high of 9 1/2 pounds. Over the years, few foods—dairy or other—have experienced as rapid an increase in consumer demand as cheese. During the last 15 years, for example, cheese consumption per person has risen by more than one-third.

THE FIRST FAMILY OF FARM BUILDINGS MORIARTY

A distant relative of the old red barn. A direct descendant of the pole building. Much tougher, though—the result of many Moriarty-inspired improvements. Like our S4S Pillar-Beam structure. Our Hydro-Nail roof truss system. Double rafter construction to keep the building sag and sway-proof, eave lines straight and true. Plus heavy-duty roofing and siding—with heavy zinc coating for long-life service. A building with more starying power all around—because it has the Moriarty pedigree.

If you're in the market for a farm building, let's put two outstanding names together. Yours, and ours.

Fire contract negotiable

St. Johns' hard-nosed stand concerning renewal of Bingham Township's fire protection contract seems a bit obstinate and may very well be a stumbling block for good relations between the two governmental units.

Contract renewal has been a nagging question for about four years now, ever since Bingham chose not to renegotiate their contract with the city in 1963. St. Johns first sought a $600 standby rate per year and then an $800 rate, compared to a $300 standby fee agreed upon in the five-year contract signed in 1962.

Bingham officials feel the $800 rate (plus $100 per fire run) probably is a fair price for fire protection, but they question a differential in the rate between the various townships. They also point out they agreed, though not with haste, to paying the $600 fee but at that point in 1964 the city asked the $800 rate. This, they said, they also agreed to in 1964, but they refused to pay 6 per cent interest on the difference dating back to July 1963, and so no new contract was written.

The city commission's expressions a couple of weeks ago reflected the feeling that it was only fair to the other seven townships which did renegotiate contracts in 1963 that Bingham pay the difference between the old and proposed new contract up to date. The same holds true with the $25 difference in the per-run charge. And, the city points out, Bingham should pay a higher standby rate than other townships because they are closer to the fire department and logically have better protection.

Both the township and the city have deserving points that should be considered in the apparent stalemate. By its proximity to St. Johns, Bingham Township DOES get better fire protection, and a higher standby rate than other townships seems justifiable. And perhaps Bingham was a bit slow in agreeing to what they acknowledge is probably a fair rate.

At the same time, the city has been and seemingly still is contentious about this question. If Bingham is in agreement with the $800 and $100 rates, which they say they are, then nothing should stand in the way of negotiations.

While it is not a legal debt, Bingham probably does have a moral obligation to pay the difference between their existing contract and the fair price the city has been asking since 1963. But this should be negotiable, because the city was as much at fault as anyone in offering a five-year contract in 1962 that would be out-of-date in 1963.

Insistence on terms before negotiations has not gotten us to the peace tables in Vietnam, and it probably won't here. We hope Bingham and St. Johns officials can get together and work this thing out.

Income tax for education

In all the hue and cry about fiscal tax reform in Michigan, there seems to have been no plan brought up that is more logical than one introduced last week by Rep. Roy Smith, of Ypsilanti.

Essentially, and probably most importantly, education would benefit. Rep. Smith proposes to remove all local school operational property tax levies and repeal the business activities and intangibles taxes. These he would replace with a 4.75 per cent personal income tax and an 8 per cent tax on corporate and financial institution income—netting the state an additional $311 million, including $100 million for education.

School property taxes are the most crushing part of the entire local tax picture now, and the repressive effect of local property taxes is felt at all levels of local government. Further, the taxes themselves attack thrift and even discourage home ownership. Because it is fixed it is always there, whether times get hard or a home owner retires and finds his income greatly reduced. Many a retired person has had to give up his home simply because he could not afford the taxes.

Taking schools out of property tax picture will radically change all this. Property-tax financing of education today leads to many inequities, and what a child is offered may very well depend on how much industry is located in the district he happened to be born into.

With the state setting more and more of the standards for education and with statewide salary schedules for teachers imminent, state financing of local education may not be too bad. It is one of the few instances where state financing of local interests does make sense.

The proposal's approach to fiscal reform—reducing property taxes—is wonderful to see. Additional work to reduce state spending in areas where the state has no business would be even more wonderful.

Legion has a birthday

During the month of March, the American Legion is observing its 48th anniversary. The Legion was founded March 15-17, 1919, during a caucus attended by representatives of the various outfits of the American Expeditionary Force in Paris, France.

Those war-weary delegates cemented not just association of veterans but a fraternity of service. They dedicated their association not only to "a devotion to mutual helpfulness," but also "to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to community, state and nation."

From Main Street to Capitol Hill, the American Legion has expressed its universal devotion to God and country by waging active, continuous campaigns to preserve the lofty concepts of justice, freedom, and democracy. From all walks of life, from all occupations, from the small town to the giant metropolis, American Legionnaires meet on a common ground, by their service to the nation.

Today's American Legion encompasses four generations of war veterans, men and women who have fulfilled the highest obligation of citizenship—honorable service in the uniform of their country in time of war. Those who serve their nation's cause today are fighting for the same cause as the veterans of Chateau Thierry, Normandy, Iwo Jima, and Pork Chop Hill.

But the greatest chapter of the American Legion's story is not in the military service records of its membership. American Legionnaires are war veterans who are dedicated to a continuation of service as civilians to perpetuate the ideal which they served while wearing the uniform of their country. Through its many contributions and services performed for the betterment of its respective communities, the American Legion has become identified as an organization good for any home town and the nation.

In its own 48th birthday observance, the American Legion is saluting today's generation of gallant Americans who are defending their nation's cause. As the Legion passes this historic milestone, we salute the Legionnaires of Clinton County and the millions of their comrades throughout the nation and around the world for their continued endeavors for a better tomorrow.

When thoughts turn to spring from the HOPPER

By Steven Hopko

A glance at your calendar will show that spring arrived in these parts last Tuesday. We didn't wake up last Tuesday and have a complete change in the weather, (although this might be a good idea . . . I'll have to put that suggestion in the suggestion box) it hasn't been really too bad as of late.

The temperature drops quite low some evenings, and the snow still comes swirling like it did last Thursday, but the talk around the coffee pots and over the back fences are of spring.

A WEEK OF SO ago we did have some spring-like weather sweep into our area and when it does, it affects everyone in a seemingly different way. Fishermen and golfers start talking with their hands and young fellows with convertibles put the tops down and turn up the heater.

Speaking of golf . . . and there is a lot of talk in the coffee houses these days such as: "Boy, I'm ready any time the weather is" or, "Got the clubs out and cleaned up . . . I'm ready to go" and, it won't be to long now, you know and these same fellows will be out chasing the little white ball.

IN FACT some two dozen of our area residents took advantage of the winter rates in a couple of states to, the south of us, who offer such things.

To Yankee Springs, Mississippi there were some twenty fellows (and a couple of wives) from Elsie and St. Johns, mostly from Elsie. Gene Schoendorf of Elsie reported that it rained a lot while they were there, but they were still able to play a lot of golf with only a sweater to be comfortable!

THERE IS another foursome from St. Johns who have been making it an annual event to head for Pinehurst in North Carolina every February for a week of golf.

Judge Corkin was telling the other day that they drove in a blizzard like weather to get to Pinehurst. The first morning that they were there the temperature was in the low 20's but the first of the week was ideal golfing weather.

BUT, BEFORE the golfers and fishermen of this area really get into the swing of things there are probably a few yards that will have to be cleaned and a garden or to put in before these sportsmen can unlease their pleasure.

To list things such as this sounds like spring is the time to work on many timeless jobs. But, as we get into the first sunny and balmy days of the new season, (be patient, it will be here) it awakens us with a new zest and energy where we can do these little chores needed around the house and then head for the nearest area for our recreation, say like the golf course.

BUT WHATEVER sport calls us in the spring, we always seem to find that when mother nature brings us nice weather we all react to it with renewed energy and enthusiasm that shows in our walk, our talk and our daily work. Happy spring to you all.

RAMBLIN' with Rink

By Lowell G. Rinker

It's spring, by golly!

What a great time of year! Nothing can beat it short of a quiet, cool, sunny October day. And at this time of year after five solid months of wintry storms, even the October day might have to take a back seat.

One of the nice things about it is that spring isn't really here yet, we've got just enough of it to kill off winter, and we've got the real spring to look forward to.

THE VERNAL EQUINOX occurred Tuesday, exactly on schedule, despite a variety of local weather conditions across the country. We've still got snow, or so I anticipated a week ago as I wrote this, but there's been a definite smell of spring in the air.

The first indication of it was three weeks ago Monday.

Despite sub-freezing temperatures, that delicious smell was in the air when I came to work, and neither the snow-storm of that afternoon or the continuing wintry weather could make me forget it.

Winter's spirit is broken, and even last Wednesday's one-inch snowfall lacked the ferocity of winter. Each snowflake was soggy with spring. And the ice and snow continued to melt away even though the thermometers said it was freezing.

AH, SPRING, SWEET spring, I can smell it in the air. Perhaps my nose surgery of Dec. 2 sharpened my olfactory senses, but I've smelled it and I'm making plans. (Note to my wife: Please save this column as a checklist against which to file future complaints).

() I'm going to paint the garage, trim and all. () I'm going to smooth out the lawn with additional dirt, plant grass seed and spread fertilizer and weed killer. () I'm going to have the lawn mower sharpened and ready to go before the first mowing is due.

() I'm going to be enthusiastic about taking off the storm windows and putting the screens up.

() I'm going to provide the strong back to go with my weak mind when my wife wants to spade up the flower bed.

() I'm going to prune the pine trees around the back yard and the plum tree in the front.

() I'm going to install a new mail box.

() I'm going to have new gravel put in the drive-way entrance.

() I'm going to smile through all this.

() I'm going to ask a six-month grace period on all projects, just in case. (I call it my escape clause.)

Bola neckwear is a must. The Phoenix Jaycees are preparing their citizens for their annual rodeo. Innocently, Herb and Winnie DePeal went downtown to witness the preliminary arrangements. Herb was "arrested" for wearing unconventional neckwear and fined. The fine consisted of riding a jackass through the downtown area.

Subsequently when driving through an intersection, an officer halted him and inquired what he thought the red light represented. Herb said, "In Red China it means go and in St. Johns it improves the street decorations." This answer produced a "ticket" quickly. Herb hasn't been to traffic court yet.

No site will earn 'no' vote

To the editor: I have just read with astonishment that the St. Johns City Commission is planning to ask the voters of this city for money to build a new fire hall when they haven't even planned well enough to name a site. We are being asked to buy a "pig in a poke." If not sufficient planning has taken place to name a site, obviously no, informed, intelligent electorate could possibly cast an affirmative vote.

The articles concerning the building state that living quarters will be included. Living quarters for whom? The fire department has no full-time employees. A building can be built which will allow quarters to be added if it ever becomes necessary, but now these represent useless expense.

Slicing turnips was not job a lad appreciated

HAYDN PEARSON

It depends upon the point of view. Grandfather claimed the best thing about farming was that one always had work. A 12-year-old knew that work was always waiting, but he did not necessarily agree that this was the best angle about farming. Half a century ago many solid farmers believed sliced turnips were good for the milkers and meatstock. "Keeps them in good flesh," father said, "and balances the dry hay and grain. A lad's opinion was not asked but he knew that as soon as he reached home from school and changed into barn clothes, one of his jobs was to slice the rutabagas. The history of turnips goes far back. Romans raised many kinds at the beginning of the Christian era. Jacques Cartier brought seeds to Canada and planted them in 1541. But a turnip was a turnip to a lad in the 1910 era. The fact that a regular turnip has 20 chromosomes in its cells and a rutabaga has 38 may be interesting to scientists, but not to a boy who operates a turnip slicer. The Peerless Root Cutter may have had "the best steel knife of any cutter on the market" as the catalog said, but that did not seem to decrease the labor. Each rutabaga had to be picked up, placed on the table, and the knife pulled down to cut off three or four slices. Still, one admits looking back over the years, that the cows and heifers seemed anxious for the vegetable. Perhaps their low moos of satisfaction and the long tongues reaching for the juicy slices was an expression of thanks. But when corn silage came to the farm and the old turnip slicer was stored in the back of the machinery shed, a farm lad was not sorry.

It seems clear the commission has either failed adequately to plan, or failed entirely to explain what they are doing. The only site mentioned is Baldwin at US-27, where traffic is rounding a curve coming into a 35 mph speed zone from a 45, and where school children cross several times a day. A fire hall here would be such a hazard it is terrifying to envision.

Until the commission communicates adequate and complete plans to the citizens, we must cast a no vote on the proposal.

Sincerely,
ROBERT W. WHITE

(Editor's Note: We recall no mention in any of the articles about living quarters in the building, and the architect's preliminary floor plan printed last week had no provisions for any such quarters. Knowing the location of the fire hall before the election would be nice, but you'll recall the schools didn't select the neighborhood elementary sites in the south part of the district until well after that election.)

Bills! Bills! Bills! Bills! Bills! Bills! Bills! Bills!

BY ELMER E. WHITE
Michigan Press Assn.

Monumental job. The annual effort to produce laws for Michigan starts with a gigantic mess which legislators make for themselves. They then set a time when they will stop dealing with the mess. In the meantime, they work hard to clean up as much mess and produce as much sound legislation as possible.

At the March 16 deadline for introducing bills, some 2,000 had been assigned to committees in the Senate and House. Each committee will consider those they consider most important. The rest will die at a specified time.

THE MESS RESULTS from the large number of bills introduced but which have little or no chance of becoming law.

Legislators find it easier to tell important constituents they will introduce a worthless bill than to explain the bill is valueless. This results in part of the glut. Another batch of bills are introduced to needle certain groups in the state by legislators who use the procedure as a bargaining or political tool.

Then there is the group of repeaters, bills which are introduced year after year. This year's crop includes proposals dealing with the following: Sunday liquor sales, legalized dog racing, repeal of the one-man grand jury system, bans on non-returnable bottles and a requirement that trading stamps be redeemable in cash.

DUPLICATE BILLS add to the total number. Frequently, in an effort to get more attention or as a safeguard, supporters for a bill will see that it is introduced in both the Senate and the House. This step sometimes backfires when senators and representatives begin amending the proposals during their considerations. When the bill passes the one chamber, the other is unwilling to consider the different version.

MUCH SOUND WORK is done in the committees. The chairman decides which of the bills deserve consideration first. He must also weigh the balance of time remaining to consider the other important bills. Bills which have not been acted upon by deadline time die automatically. It is assumed many bills will die, and not many people care about that.

There is not always time to consider all problems which need attention. It is up to the committee chairman to do the best he can.

For all its weaknesses, the procedure works. Probably no system could guarantee that all needed laws would be put into effect at the proper time. It does produce "too many laws." It doesn't always produce the right law at the right time.

But it works. Compared to perfection, it falls short. Compared to other methods, it looks pretty good.

To improve takes sounder thinking; more professional determinations by a higher percentage of legislators. As our society gets more and more complex and the need for more responsible legislative action becomes more acute, indications are that the system will meet the challenge. It will sharpen up, too.

MENTAL ILLNESS no longer bears the stigma once attached to it. Treatment now can be effective without permanent commitment.

This is borne out in a report of the Michigan Mental Health Department which shows that some 700 children, up to 18 years of age, are patients at state mental institutions. These are not to be confused with retarded children, whose numbers are much greater and who usually require very long-term care.

Not too many years ago, a child with mental problems might have been protected within the home in the belief he was "going through a state." When he reached adulthood, and the problem still was evident, he then might have received help in the form of hospital care.

Adolescence, the 10-14 year age group, apparently produces the majority of mental problems of youth. Of the 700 children in state hospitals, this age group is the largest.

RELATIVELY SHORT-TERM hospitalization for mental illness is now the trend among children. Almost half of the 700 patients have been under hospital care for less than six months. At the other end of the scale, 45 have been hospitalized for five years or more.

Home origin does not seem to have a distinct bearing on mental illness, the report shows. The present patients come from 61 of the state's 83 counties.

The most populous counties have committed the greatest numbers, of course, but Wayne County's patients, for example, exactly equal the state average in terms of commitments per 1,000 population.

Incorrect numbers holding up returns

Income tax refunds of 1094 taxpayers in Michigan and four other states in the IRS Central Region are being held because Form 1040 or 1040A sent in does not contain an accurate social security number.

A. M. Stoepler, IRS district director for Michigan, said that in some cases IRS will be able to verify the correct number from Social Security Administration records, but this will cause a delay in processing the refund.

In other cases refunds will be delayed until the taxpayer has been contacted by IRS and has sent in an accurate social security number, he said. Correct numbers are necessary since this year all individual tax returns filed by Michigan taxpayers are being processed by computers at the IRS Service Center in Cincinnati.
