

Firemen keep busy--34 alarms so far in 1968

Don't mention the word fire. St. Johns firemen are beginning to believe that even the sound of the word might lead to a new conflagration, and they are downright tired of answering alarms.

Firemen have been called out 34 times since Jan. 1—a clear-cut record for this early in the year. There were 14 fire calls in February and 18 so far in March.

Not only is it tiresome and dangerous—one traffic accident has resulted—but the fire situation around St. Johns this first three months has gotten to be expensive. Firemen's salaries in February alone amounted to $1,034, and in March the figure has reached $1,070.

"Most of these have legitimate fires," Fire Chief Clare Maier said Friday night. "We have had an unusually busy grass fire season, though, for this early in the year."

A cold, dry winter with comparatively little snow has left grass tinder dry for the past few months, making lawns and fields susceptible to burning. None of the five grass fires in February or the nine

In March caused any monetary damage to property, but they have been expensive to fight.

City Manager Ken Greer said the city spends about $40,000 a year for the fire department, and with an average of about 80 fire runs a year, the cost works out to about $500 a call. This includes firemen's salaries, care of the trucks, fire hall costs and amortization of all the equipment.

ON FIRE CALLS OUTSIDE the city, the townships pay the city $100 for the first two hours the department is out and $50 for each hour after that. They also each pay a stand-by fee once a year; this amount varies by township, depending on the distance from St. Johns and the area of the township served.

The grass fire situation promises to be a hazard for some weeks to come. Last weekend's snowstorm may have eased the immediate threat, but now the snow is gone, and the problem will be acute again. Soil moisture has had no effect on the fires. Last Friday firemen were called out for a large grass fire behind the Saylor-Beall plant on North Kibbee. It had apparently started at the railroad tracks and burned over most of the field south to Walker Street. One fire truck became mired in mud in the field, and persons walking across the burned-over area could squish water up through the charred grass. Most of the grass fires have been caused by trash fires, Chief Maier said. He warned that persons burning trash in uncovered containers, and especially on breezy days, are inviting grass fires.

The grass fire season has been long. "Once in a while in the grass season we'll have a long streak," Maier said, "but golly, after about a week or two it's over. Not this time."

Other than three false alarms during February and March, there has been no suspicious pattern to the fires around St. Johns. But there has been a pattern. In addition to all the grass fires, three large barns were destroyed by fire almost a week apart. They were the first barn fire losses in over a year.

"They seem to run in patterns like that," Maier said. "It used to be you could pretty nearly figure that if you had a slack time on fire runs and then the whistle blew, you'd invariably get more within the next two or three days, and then it would let up again."

SINCE THE FIRST part of February, firemen have had only one seven-day period in which there haven't been fires. They had fire calls on Feb. 9, 13, 14, 17, 19, 22, four on the 24th, one on the 26th, two on the 28th and one on the 29th.

In March there were two fires March 3, two March 5, one on the 6th, 8th, 9th, two on the 10th, four on the 17th, one on the 18th, three on the 19th and one on the 22nd.

The large barn fires were Feb. 22, Feb. 28 and March 5 when the Harold Benson, Jim Mortarthy and Paul Duskil barns burned to the ground. On Feb. 19 there was a barn fire at the Phillips Orchards on the north edge of the county, but damage there was not nearly so extensive.

Not all of the fire calls have been for fires. On March 10 firemen were called out to stand by at an accident scene, and selling out but staying on

Lester Lake sells jewelry business after 38 years

When Lester Lake was just a lad, his father took him out of a good-paying job—$8 a week—and put him to work for jeweler Walter Emmons for $5 a week so he could learn a trade.

"I didn't like it all to begin with," Lake recalls today, 50 years later.

But he soon learned to like it, and he stuck with it, working for Emmons for 12 years and then starting his own jewelry business which he operated until last week.

Lake Friday announced the sale of his store to Webb-Ring, Inc., effective March 16. The sale ended Lake's 38-year success story as a jewelry store owner but probably not his association with the company; he plans to remain in St. Johns and probably will do some clock work and ring work for awhile.

Webb-Ring, Inc., the new owners, is headed by Walter Ring, president and general manager. The company has other stores in Portage, Niles, and Midland.

Ring announced that Charles Barnes, who has been associated with Lake at the jewelry store for more than 15 years, will be manager.

Lake's half-century in the jewelry business has been accompanied by an almost like period of time in the promotion of St. Johns as a community. He's been active in the Chamber of Commerce and served as president of that body in 1945-46. He has been president of the Clinton County Country Club and is now on the board of directors. He's been a long-time member of Rotary.

"I mostly worked on committees and did whatever they wanted me to do," Lake says. "I've never been president or that stuff much, but I've been on the retail committee, the Christmas committee and things like that that have to be done."

"I LIKE THAT WORK better than being president, and we'd generally have presidents I'd like to work for."

He described his activity with the Chamber as "nothing anybody knows about, except you just get the work done because you know it was right to do it. But it doesn't write good."

Lake's community activities and spirit were responsible for him receiving the "Michigan Minuteman Award" last spring in one of the highlights of Michigan Week. The citation was presented to Lake by Lt Gov William G. Milliken on behalf of the St. Johns Michigan Week committee in recognition of Lake's "outstanding service to Michigan as a Michigan Minuteman who at every opportunity champions our great state, its heritage, its hospitality, its dynamic present and its future."

Two years ago Lake won a trophy for a float during the Michigan Week parade, and last year he donated it to become a traveling award each year to a St. Johns organization contributing significantly to the betterment of the community.

Now that he's out of active management of the store after 38 years, Lake admitted "I don't have a plan in the world. I won't have to work nights and Sundays, that's all," he added with a chuckle.

Lake gave his business a lot of attention. He was always one of the first businessmen to get to work every day, "not from necessity but by choice."

"I ALWAYS WAKE UP about a quarter to six, and I get up and go down. I always get more done then than I do other times during the day. A lot of my work then is real worthwhile, and I can still filter away an hour from 7 to 8 in the restaurant."

Lake's "jewel of a career" dates back to before 1918. As a youngster he worked for awhile for Alec Morrison at a tobacco shop located where Bruno's Tavern is now and then went to work for E.J. Pierce, who had the first cash and carry store in St. Johns.

Then in 1918 "my dad took me out of there and put me in the jewelry store because he thought I should have a trade. (Walter) Emmons had wanted an apprentice

2 school millage issues lose by narrow margins

Similar school millage proposals at St. Johns and Ovid-Elsie were turned down by similarly narrow margins Saturday, placing both school districts in a state of anxiety about operations next year.

In St. Johns a 12.8-mill proposal was defeated by 44 votes — 1,365 no to 1,321 yes.

At Ovid-Elsie the margin of defeat for a 12.75-mill proposal was a mere 30 votes—630 no to 600 yes.

Both school boards will meet soon — St. Johns was scheduled for a session Wednesday night—to discuss the situation. Another election on the proposals is almost assured in both districts.

Supt. Earl Lancaster at St. Johns said the earliest the board could now schedule an election would be June 10 — the date of the regular school board election. The legal problem to an earlier date, he said, would be to allow sufficient time for voter registration.

Election day Saturday was plagued by an early-spring snow storm, but officials in both districts did not think it necessarily had any effect on the outcome. It did, however, reduce probable voting activity. In Ovid-Elsie district the turnout of 1,240 voters was described as light in comparison to a turnout of 2,059 voters on an 8 1/2-mill proposal last year.

A total of 2,700 voters cast ballots in the St. Johns district, a little more than 50 per cent of the 5,200 registered to vote. The number of no votes cast was seven more than on the school bond issue in May 1966 when the bond issue passed by 19 votes.

The 12.8 mill proposal in the St. Johns district carried by 169 votes in the St. Johns city precinct but was buried by 213 votes in the four rural precincts. At Ovid-Elsie the 12.75 mills was OK'd by voters at the Ovid precinct by 93 votes and rejected by those at the Elsie precinct by 123 votes.

The big decisions now facing both school boards involve the amount of millage to ask for next time, rather than whether or not to hold another election.

Officials at both schools had stated prior to this election that the millage amounts being asked were the bare minimum necessary to operate the schools at the present educational level.

St. Johns Boy Scout James Ward receives the Eagle Scout badge—the highest attainable—from his father, Wayne Ward, during ceremonies at the First Methodist Church last Tuesday night. Looking on are his mother and Carl Libey, district three commissioner who presided at the candlelight award ceremony.

He's an Eagle Scout

A candlelight ceremony last Tuesday night marked the first time in six years for the awarding of an Eagle Scout badge to a St. Johns Boy Scout.

The honors went to James Ward, 16, son of Mr and Mrs Wayne Ward of 501 W. Baldwin Street and a member of Troop 71 of St. Johns.

Carl Libey, district three commissioner, presided at the award ceremony in Niles Hall of the First Methodist Church. Rev Harold Homer, pastor of the church, gave the invocation and brief remarks on the value of scouting.

Kay Fish, who received his Eagle badge 16 years ago, and James Welsh, who was the last Eagle Scout in St. Johns six years ago, were on hand to welcome young Ward to the Eagle rank.

About 35 parents and fellow scouts and friends also attended. Ward has been in scouting since becoming a Cub Scout at the age of 8 at Central School, when his father was cubmaster. John Williams is scoutmaster for Troop 71 of the Boy Scouts.

Clark resigns as city clerk

St. Johns City Clerk and Assessor Donald Clark has submitted his resignation to the mayor and city commission and has accepted the post of city manager at Swartz Creek. He submitted the resignation Friday in a letter to Mayor Charles Coletta.

Clark will take the top management job in the city of 4,600 population, replacing Walter Looney as city manager. He'll also represent Swartz Creek on the 62-member Genesee County Board of Supervisors.

Clark said Swartz Creek is a relatively new city, being chartered in 1959, and is located seven miles southwest of Flint. He said they have water and sewer problems like St. Johns and many other cities. They have a highly rated school system and a large Chevrolet parts plant.

Clark has been city assessor for St. Johns since January 1965 and city clerk since June 1965. He has been one of St. Johns representatives on the Clinton County Board of Supervisors. His resignation letter asked that he be released from his present job earlier than the three-week notice period so that he can assume his new duties full time as soon after April 1 as possible.

RALPH LYNAM

Ralph Lynam, District Governor of International Lions Club District 11-C visited his home club in St. Johns, Wednesday, March 27. This was the annual visit that each district governor makes to all clubs within his district for the year. District Governor Lynam will have visited 56 clubs when he finishes his districts visitations for the year. Lynam is a past president of the local club and Zone Chairman for the area last year.

Firemen here have busiest 3 months

(Continued from Page 1-A) that same evening they made an inhalator run in town. March 19 an automatic sprinkler head erroneously went off at the Paul Automotive Store in the city, sounding an automatic alarm.

And there have been three false alarms—all in March. On March 3 firemen were called to the new St. Johns High School for the third time in about five days, but that time no fire could be found. On March 18 firemen were called to the Bill Nelson home at 211 Wight Street to the surprise of Nelson and his family; there was no fire. On March 19 firemen sped to the Nick Koenigsnecht farm at 3768 E. Taft Road where a fire was reported; but there was no fire and Koenigsnecht was as surprised as anybody when the trucks pulled into the yard.

City officials are working with General Telephone Co. to put a stop to the false alarm calls and to other calls to the fire phone in which the callers say nothing. Phone company District Manager Bill Graef said phone tracing equipment has been placed on the fire department and city hall phone lines, enabling the phone company to trace the call back to the originating number. City hall personnel merely have to leave their phone off the hook after getting the call in order to hold the connection and allow it to be traced.

FIRE CHIEF MAIER said he hoped the installation and publicity of the equipment would eliminate further crank calls and false alarms. He said he is sure the callers are youngsters, as was definitely the case in the last two instances.

The dispatchers have little choice, however, when they get a fire call, even though they might suspect it to be a false alarm. Maier said that if the dispatcher can get an address from the caller, she automatically goes through the first steps of sounding the alarm.

"We just can't take the chance," he said. After the alarm is sounded, the dispatcher does what he or she can to verify fires on suspicious calls.

Persons caught phoning in a false alarm will be prosecuted, city officials said, and the penalty by law involves a fine of up to $500, or jail term up to 90 days, or both.

Outside of the regularity of the fire calls and the several false alarms, St. Johns firemen have one other "beef." That involves curious motorists following fire trucks to fires.

"It's a nuisance when you get people right around where you're working," Chief Maier commented. "But we've been real lucky and have not had to get any equipment in or out through traffic that follows the trucks. On a big fire people can really tie up the traffic fast."

Girl burned as auto explodes

A long string of injury-free fires around St. Johns ended last Tuesday afternoon when a St. Johns girl was seriously burned when the car she was sitting in exploded.

Suzanne Shane, 14, daughter of Dr and Mrs Harry Shane of 303 E. Sturgis Street suffered first-, second- and third-degree burns on her hands, legs and face in the mishap late last Tuesday evening.

She is recovering at Clinton Memorial Hospital and is expected to come home the end of this week or early next week.

She was sitting in her father's car back of his office on South Ottawa Street when the car suddenly exploded, the blast apparently being caused by leaking propane gas from several tanks in the trunk of the car. Some kind of a spark apparently touched it off.

How Miss Shane got out of the car no one seems to know. St. Johns firemen were called immediately, but the interior of the auto was completely burned out.

Rising costs may force cuts at Bath

BATH—Supt. Robert Carlson has told the Bath Board of Education that spiraling costs in the Bath Community School District will force cutbacks next year unless additional state aid is received.

Carlson said normal salary increases for teachers will put the district in a position of expenditures likely exceeding revenues and that either or both operational and staff costs will have to be cut.

The high school has received renewed accreditation by the University of Michigan, said Carlson. Also announced at the meeting was that John Parker, high school principal, has earned his masters degree.

The board authorized the installation of inter-com systems in the schools between classrooms and offices and also conversion of boilers from oil to gas. The inter-com systems will cost $3,077 and the boiler conversion will cost $8,910.

The strengthening of footings in the school addition at a cost of $1,048 was also approved. The interior decor for the school was selected.

Plans for a special meeting March 28 to review progress on the school addition were announced.

Volunteer policemen resign at Maple Rapids

MAPLE RAPIDS—The volunteer police force here resigned last Wednesday night, claiming lack of community support and charging personal criticism was leveled at individual officers and their families because the men carried out their duties.

The letter of resignation was signed by all five members—Dean Ball, Lyle Blomaster, Lawrence Float, Wendall Blomaster and Dean Moon.

Several citizens present at the meeting expressed concern over lack of a police force until new arrangements can be made. Mrs Herman Schaefer was one of the supporters of the force. "Instead of griping about tickets their sons received for speeding and other things, the people should have given these officers a pat on the back," she said. She noted that since the force was organized in 1965 speeding and disorderly acts had decreased in the village. Village President George Abbott, Sr said Robert Antes, marshal, would be available, but citizens questioned whether one man could handle police work for the village.

Since the force was organized in July of 1966, the volunteers have worked closely with the

JUNE WRIGHT salutatorian

THOMAS PAINE valedictorian

Top scholars at Fulton named

MIDDLETON — Two rural Maple Rapids seniors have been announced as valedictorian and salutatorian of the Fulton High School graduating class of 1968.

Thomas Paine, son of Mr and Mrs Maurice Paine, is valedictorian with a scholastic average of 3.917 out of a possible 4.0. June Wright, daughter of Mr and Mrs Clayton Wright, is salutatorian with an average of 3.857.

Paine took part in football in his freshman and sophomore years, played basketball all four years and participated in track and cross country as a senior. He was class president as a sophomore and a member of the student council in his junior year.

Miss Wright was a member of the Spanish Club during her freshman, sophomore and junior years, played basketball during her first two years and has been in the Future Homemakers of America club all four years. She has served as chapter vice president and regional treasurer of the FHA and was a class officer for three years.

Both students plan to attend Central Michigan University next fall. Miss Wright will major in English, and Paine will major in mathematics.

Holdup man gets long prison term

Robert Lee Phillips, 26, of Wayne was sentenced to from 2 1/2 to 10 years in the Michigan State Prison at Jackson Monday for his part in the Sept. 24, 1966, holdup of the Citgo service station in St. Johns and the stabbing of its attendant, Willis Mygrants.

Circuit Court Judge Leo Corbin handed down the sentence in Clinton County Circuit Court. Phillips had pled guilty to a charge of armed robbery at his arraignment Feb. 28. He had given himself up to authorities at Tulsa, Okla., Feb. 11 and was extradited to St. Johns.

The robbery in September 1966 was a serious case. The attendant, Mygrants, was stabbed several times and left for dead by two men whom Mygrants described as being mutes. The loot from the holdup amounted to $80. The second man is still being sought.

or not at all." Duguy said there is no possibility of staying current with the increasing work demanded of his office, particularly with the many new implemented requirements of handling defendants under new rules, statutes and court decisions.

"As you may or may not be aware, we are grossly undermanned for a county our size," Duguy told the supervisors in his letter. "Our problem is magnified by our close proximity with Lansing, whereby approximately 90 per cent of our felony cases either originate from or by Lansing citizens.

"There is absolutely nothing that can be done to reduce that problem, which instead actually grows bigger each month. Our sheriff's department, state police and the local departments have been doing an excellent job of solving cases with fantastic consistency. This, however, adds to the load of cases that must be handled."

Duguy said a recent publication of the National District Attorneys Assn. claims proper criminal case handling requires one assistant for each 25,000 population.

"I could try to get by temporarily with a part-time assistant," the prosecutor said, "but I question the wisdom of this with our increasing growth and with the question of who would take such a part-time situation. Just to hope to cover the office with one person daily, it will take a full-time man."

The supervisors took no action concerning Duguy's letter at their March meeting. It may come up for discussion and action at the board's April 8 session.

He, his wife and son reside at 1115 Dingwall Drive in Owosso. He is an instructor of government and economics at Owosso High School.

Oakley received his B.A. degree from Michigan State University with a major in political science and economics. He has continued with advanced study at M. S. U.

Active in the Republican party, he served as a delegate to the Republican State Convention in 1967, is a member of the young Republican Club of Shiawassee County, serves as advisor to the Shiawassee County Teenage Republican Club, and serves on the Shiawassee County Republican Executive Committee.

First Nighters play April 4, 6

"Pickle in Paradise" will be the topic of mirth next Thursday and Saturday, April 4 and 6, when the St. Johns First Nighters present their first comedy production of the year.

The play will be put on in the St. Johns High School Auditorium. Curtain time each evening is 8 p.m.

The play centers around two charming sisters who volunteer to help the vicar in his charitable needs, but the methods of raising the money raise a few eyebrows. Members of the cast include Mary Alice Smiley, Rosealee Ludwick, Beverly Kaenoy, Wilma Jean Paradise, Janet Pyle, Wayne Hicks, Tom Knight and Eugene Livingston.

Terry Foster will direct the play. Glen Hill is producer.

Place of retreat topic for Sunday

Fr Julian Fuzer of the Portuncula in the Pines Retreat House at DeWitt, will present a program on the place of the retreat for modern man when he speaks at the St. Joseph Social Hall this Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The St. Joseph Altar Society will provide a coffee hour following the talk.

Lake sells jewelry business

tice boy, I was earning $8 a week at Pierce and Hubert's, and I liked the grocery business and was getting along well. And at vacation time I was getting 12 bucks. He (dad) took me out of there and put me down there (in the jewelry store) for $5. I tell you, that was hard to take for a little while.

"I didn't like it all to begin with. He (Emmons) didn't teach me very much because he was busy. After a while when he got me to working on clocks and gave me clocks to do, then it commenced to be a little fun.

"But when I was just sweeping out, I liked Pierce's better, because it was busy up there and you were going all the time. Down at the jewelry store you could go half a day without a customer."

Soon Emmons had Lake making rings. They made their own wedding rings with a foot lathe, polishing them and finishing them. They didn't make all the rings they sold, but often people brought in their old gold rings which they wanted incorporated into the new rings.

"I don't even have the charcoal molds anymore," Lake said. "Now we can buy the rings a lot cheaper than we can make them."

WHEN LAKE STARTED in the jewelry business with Emmons, the store was located where the Julie K Shop is now. The store later moved across Clinton Avenue to where the abstract office is now located. Lake stayed on until Emmons went out of business in 1929 or 1930.

"I didn't find a job anywhere, so I started for myself in 1930," Lake recalls. His first store was small. It was what he called a "doorway store" between a couple of posts that separated a hardware store and furniture store in the second block of Clinton Avenue where the D & C Store now is.

In 1940 he bought Allison's Jewelry Store and in 1950 he moved to the present site, improving the building and business over the years.

Lake and his wife, Lylian, who has also worked at the store for many years, live at 105 W. Baldwin.

John Beck (left) and Wayne Hyde, employees of Beck & Hyde Farmarina, have completed a three-week Evinrude Service School at Milwaukee, Wis. They received diplomas qualifying them in setting up and servicing Evinrude outboard motors, inboard-outboard power units, Aquanaut diving equipment and Evinrude "Skeeter" snowmobiles. Beck & Hyde Farmarina is now the factory-approved Evinrude service and repair center for Clinton County.

Friend of court collections continue rise

Since Clinton County opened a full time friend of the court's office in 1963, collections have been rising steadily.

Gordon L. Willyoung, Clinton County friend of the court, in a report to supervisors earlier this month, said collection for the first year, 1967, were $164,000. This was an increase of $33,000 over the previous year.

Collections totaled $215,000 in 1964; in 1965, $299,000; in 1966, $309,000; and in 1967 they were $343,048.

Since the office opened in October of 1963 an increase of $212,000 has resulted.

"The reason for this," Willyoung said, "was largely due to our rigid enforcement of the court's orders."

He stated that in 1967 the office issued 8,706 checks and had a like number of receipts, for an average of 726 per month. Since the office was established this is an increase of 2,621 checks.

Along with a sizable number of bench warrants 165 show cause orders were issued, he said. Willyoung said, "During the past year many cases were settled without formal court hearings, thereby saving Clinton County additional expense of court proceedings."

To help provide enforcement of the court orders, Willyoung said that in each case an annual fee is collected by his office and transferred to the county general fund.

Sexton, Zeeb to aid Ballenger election drive

Lawrence G. Sexton of 105 N. Swegles, St. Johns, has been named a campaign coordinator of the "Volunteers for Ballenger," a campaign committee organized on behalf of William S. Ballenger of rural Ovid, Republican candidate for the State House of Representatives from the 67th District.

Sexton is plant manager of the St. Johns division of the Sealed Power Corp.

One of Ballenger's four other campaign coordinators is Robert Zeeb of 3200 E. Herbyson Road, DeWitt Township. Miss Pamela Loznak of Elsie will be youth co-chairman of the Ballenger campaign.

Sexton, Zeeb, and Miss Loznak are three of the 16 members of the Ballenger committee, which draws upon not only DeWitt, St. Johns, and Elsie, but also seven townships in Shiawassee County as well as the cities of Owosso and Durand.

REX SIRRINE

Serrine new city supervisor

St. Johns City Commissioner Rex Serrine has been appointed by the commission to represent St. Johns on the Clinton County Board of Supervisors. The appointment was approved last Tuesday night.

Serrine will take the vacant seat of Lorenz Tiedt, who resigned in January to become county equalization director. Serrine's term will expire in November.

The appointment was one of only a few highlights of an almost record-short meeting by the commission. It lasted only one hour.

Most of the session was taken up by a discussion with Ray Smit, engineer for Ayres, Lewis Norris and May of Ann Arbor, concerning the city water plant. Smit said the plant is now fully operational and city personnel are qualified to handle it. The one-year warranty on equipment expires this month.

Smit suggested to the commission that the city look toward the future by considering possible new sites for wells. At the present rate of increase in consumption, he said, new wells would be necessary in about 10 years. He repeated an earlier recommendation to have two old wells tested to determine their capability.

Smit commended the city for its current water rate study. He said he felt municipal water and sewage systems should pay their own way and not depend on other financing.

Special assessment hearings for sewers and curb and gutter on Sikes Street west of Lansing Street were adjourned again last Tuesday.

No bids have yet been received for the removal of the city-owned house at 108 Spring Street. The city wants to use the site for a parking lot.

MRS THOMAS H. RASMUSSEN

Northern Michigan is honeymoon destination

Honeymooning in northern Michigan are Mr and Mrs Thomas H. Rasmussen, who were married Saturday afternoon at the Ovid United Church.

Rev Gordon E. Spalenka officiated at the double ring service. Mrs Jean Palen, a former music teacher of the bride, was the organist for the ceremony.

THE BRIDE IS the former Kathryn Ann Jackson, daughter of Mr and Mrs Ernest L. Jackson of 8700 Parks Road, Ovid. She is a graduate of Ovid-Elsie High School and attended Lansing Community College. Her husband is the son of Mrs Ione M. Rasmussen of 6925 W. Cronk Road, Owosso. He was graduated from Ovid High School and is a sophomore at Lansing Community College.

For the 2 p.m. nuptials, the bride was attired in a floor length gown of silk organza with an empire bodice, an a-line skirt and a detachable chapel length train. Her bouffant veil of silk illusion fell from a lace pillbox. She carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and ivy centered with a removable corsage of green cymbidium orchids.

MRS JANET Goebel of 7305 Sampson Road, Ovid, was the matron of honor and Miss Gayla Rasmussen of Owosso was the bridesmaid.

They wore floor length empire styled gowns of yellow peau de sole fashioned with brocade bodices and elbow length sleeves. Their headpieces were of matching satin bows and veiling and they carried bouquets of daisies.

Lynette Meadows, niece of the bride, was the flower girl and Todd Meadows, nephew of the bride, carried the rings.

The mother of the bride chose an orange-red knit suit with bone accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs Rasmussen wore a beige crepe dress with a chocolate brown lace coat and beige accessories. Their corsages were of white chrysanthemums.

LLOYD BENNETT was the best man and the groomsmen was Randy Rasmussen. Seating the guests were Lynn Cooper and David Dumond.

About 200 guests were present at the reception following the ceremony. It was held in the Ovid United Church Main Street Building.

Serving were Mrs Sharon Curry, Mrs Sandra Meadows, Miss Karen Haled, Miss Judy Irish and Miss Ann Misk.

THE NEW MRS Rasmussen changed into a beige dress and coat ensemble with brown accessories before leaving for their honeymoon.

They will make their first home at 2955 Centerline Road, St. Johns.

The Bement Public Library has received a gift of $50 from the St. Johns Lions Club to aid in the selection of books for the library cart at Clinton Memorial Hospital. The money will be used to buy both hard-cover and paperback books.

National Library Week will be April 21-27, and the Lions have a drive on to collect used paperback books in good condition to give to the library for their hospital collection.

The hospital library has been functioning for about six weeks and is manned on Tuesday afternoon, Thursday evening and Saturday afternoon each week.

To fete Charles Mankeys at open house April 6

Mr and Mrs Charles Mankey of Pioneer Road, R-2, Portland, will be the guests of honor at a silver anniversary open house Saturday evening, April 6, from 6 to 9.

The affair will be held at the home of the hosts, Mr and Mrs Ernest Marten of 7632 Centerline Road, St. Johns. The hosts are cousins of the honored couple.

CHARLES MANKEY and the former Vera Lemm of Wacousta were married April 7, 1943, at St. Johns.

The Mankeys have resided at the rural Portland address all of their married life.

Pomona Grange opposes lower court changes

Clinton County Pomona Grange met with DeWitt Grange at the Memorial Building in DeWitt Friday evening, March 22. A cooperative supper preceded the meeting.

Mrs Faye Hansen of DeWitt showed pictures taken when she visited Europe. She went to Scotland and England first and then joined a group on a planned tour through most of the countries of Europe.

A trio of girls from Rodney B. Wilson High School Chorus, composed of Sue Wickerham, Helen Benson and Kathy Zuker sang "Green Fields," "Moon River" and "Born Free." They were accompanied by Linda Spousta.

ALMOND CRESSMAN, OVERSEER of Michigan State Grange, talked on repairing and preserving the capitol building in Lansing and also on the reorganization of the lower court system. He suggested resolutions should be adopted by Pomona grange regarding these bills before the Legislature and sent to the state senator and representative.

Pomona Grange adopted resolutions against the replacement of justices of peace by judges and against the construction of a new capitol building in Lansing.

BATH - A series of classes on "Beautifying Home Grounds" will be held in the high school library of the Bath Community Schools starting April 1 at 7:30 p.m. The first class will be on "How to Start Planning a Landscape." Kenneth Twiss, owner of the Twiss Landscape Center, will be the planning guide.

Accidents minor, few around area

Except for the fatality Sunday evening, traffic accidents around Clinton County were of a comparatively minor nature during the past week.

One crash that did involve injuries occurred about 1:30 p.m. at the intersection of East State Street (M-21) and Oakland Street in St. Johns. Clarence Leveck Jr. of 901 N. Lansing Street, suffered cuts and bruises when he lost control of his westbound car on State and it skidded sideways into a telephone pole on the southwest corner of the intersection. The car was a total loss. A passenger with Leveck was uninjured. Leveck was ticketed by city police for failure to have his car under control.

Another St. Johns accident late Friday evening created a lot of excitement but no injuries. It occurred on State Street west of Brus when a car driven by Michael G. Roberts, 16, of 109 W. Lincoln went out of control and hit a tree. Roberts and two passengers escaped injury.

Two cars collided on US-27 north of Taft Road about 11:15 a.m. Monday. Dow W. Young, 63, of 9581 Krepps Road, R-2, Lansingburg, told sheriff's officers he was driving south in the passing lane when a vehicle in front of him stopped to make a left turn. Young said he hit the brakes but his car skidded into another southbound car in the right lane. It was driven by Karen Y. Brya, 23, of 2086 Price Road, St. Johns.

Mark H. Thelens living in Lansing

Presently making their home at 1440 Jerome Street, Lansing, are newlyweds, Mr and Mrs Mark H. Thelens. They were married Feb. 23 at St. Mary's Church of Westphalia.

The bride is the former Dawn M. Beachnau, daughter of Mr and Mrs Esten J. Beachnau of R-1, Eagle. Her husband is the son of Mr and Mrs Norman M. Thelens of R-2, Bauer Road, Fowler.

The new Mrs Thelens attended Michigan State University and Thelens is a graduate of DeVry Technical Institute of Chicago.

Thelens, sister of the bridegroom, of Westphalia and Mrs Sharon Yount of Los Angeles, Calif.

They wore peacock blue satin sheath gowns with chiffon cages and satin headbands. They each carried a long stemmed red rose.

THE MOTHER OF THE bride chose a pink jacket-dress and her corsage was of yellow cymbidium orchids. The mother of the bridegroom was attired in a peacock blue jacket-dress. Her corsage was of white cymbidium orchids.

Walter Thelens, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. The groomsmen were Leo Pohl and Dan Beachnau, brother of the bride. Seating the guests were Mark Vesey and Dr Bruce Beachnau, brother of the bride.

A cousin of the bride, Steven Pohl, was the ring bearer. The flower girl was Michelle Simon, niece of the bridegroom, of Portland.

A BUFFET DINNER and reception, following the ceremony, was held at the parish hall. Acting as host and hostess were Mr and Mrs Theodore Simon. Assisting were Mrs Carl Pohl, Mrs Carl Mattila, Mrs Kenneth Lusk, Mrs Kenneth Simon, Mrs Mark Kline, Miss Linda Pohl, Miss Susan Thelens, Miss Elaine Koegen, Mrs Peter DeMarco and Mrs Charles Wirth.

About 400 guests were present. HONORED GUESTS PRESENT were Mrs Dorothea Pohl, grandmother of the bride and Mrs Ida Smith, grandmother of the bridegroom.

The newlyweds honeymooned in West Palm Beach, Fla.

Ex-resident married

Dixie Lee Parks, daughter of Mr and Mrs Tom Parks Jr. of Quaco, Fla. (formerly St. Johns residents) and Lamar Bridges of Elenton, Fla., were married March 8.

Chest meeting tonight at L & L

The annual meeting of the Clinton County Communities Chest will be held tonight (Thursday) at 7 p.m. at the L & L Restaurant in St. Johns. There will be an election of officers and introduction of new board members.

MR AND MRS WAYNE D. ROBERTS

Susan Showers is recent bride

In candlelight ceremony at the Beaverton Methodist Church March 16 at 3:30 p.m. Miss Susan Showers, daughter of Rev and Mrs Gordon Showers of Elsie, became the bride of Wayne D. Roberts of Lexington, Ky., son of M.C. Roberts of Irvine, Ky.

The bride wore a silk organza a-line gown fashioned with chantilly lace sleeves and seed pearl and crystal trimmed bodice. Her wattleau train was also trimmed with chantilly lace and appliques. Her illusion veil was held by a lace pillbox crown. She carried white gardenias and lily of the valley on a white Bible.

MRS GORDON VANDEMARK of St. Johns was her sister's matron of honor and Mrs Elwyn Hulet of Versailles, Ky., and Miss Debra Winkle, niece of the groom of Irvine, Ky., were bridesmaids.

They wore gowns of turquoise antique satin and brocade and carried nosegay bouquets of white daisies with yellow streamers. They wore matching veils with pillbox crowns.

ANN MARIE AND Kathy Johnson, cousins of the bride, were flower girls. They wore white brocade dresses trimmed with turquoise antique satin. Randall Lee and Douglas Vandemark, nephews of the bride carried the rings.

The groom was attended by Winifred Winkle as best man and Gordon Vandemark and Ray Bringer as groomsmen. Mitchell Jones and Gordon Vandemark served as ushers.

Miss Glenora Hoyle of Mount Pleasant sang, "Happy the Home Where God Is" and "Abide With Us" accompanied at the organ by Mrs Donivan Williams of Elsie. Mr and Mrs Gordon Vandemark sang "The Lord's Prayer" at the close of the service.

The bride's father read the double ring ceremony, assisted by her brother, David, a pre-ministerial student at Asbury College of Kentucky.

A reception for 200 guests was held in the church fellowship room immediately following the service. Mrs Richard Woods had charge of the guest book.

For the wedding, the bride's mother wore a rose pink linen suit with pale pink accessories. Mrs Leighton Winkle, sister of the groom, wore celery crepe with beige accessories. Both had corsages of pale pink sweetheart roses.

Guests were present from Lexington, Irvine and Louisville, Ky; Cleveland and Dayton, Ohio; Kalamazoo, Hartford, Mendon, Quincy, Ithaca, Saginaw, Ionia, Mount Pleasant, Bay City, Byron and from the Elsie and Beaverton areas.

After a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the couple will be at home in Lexington, Ky.

Special music to be featured at Baptist Church

The dynamic music of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" as arranged by Roy Ringwald will be rendered this Sunday, March 31, at 7 p.m. in the First Baptist Church.

The combined voices of the morning choir and the Women's Ensemble, numbering some 40 voices, plus organ, piano and 14 instruments will be used. Rev Roger Harrison will conduct this united effort. Everyone is invited to attend.

Pastor Harrison had been preaching on the seven words of the cross, and the concluding message will be heard.

At Sunday School at 10 a.m. the church will begin its contest to top 10 per cent over last year's average of 291. The contest will run five weeks.

Easter Seal distribution under way in Clinton area

Easter Seals are being distributed throughout Clinton County by the Clinton County chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.

In a letter to residents, Mrs Luella M. Canfield of the Easter Seal Committee pointed out that Easter Seal contributions are used "to help many boys and girls, as well as adults, right here in our community, who get help from services such as providing crutches, braces, wheelchairs, hospital beds and other special appliances."

"Others are helped in clinics, camping, vocational and family counseling and in many other ways. All services are provided regardless of race, creed, cause of crippling or ability to pay."

"This is where you come in," she said in the letter to residents. "We are entirely dependent upon you personally, as well as business, industry, clubs and organizations to continue and expand these very vital services."

Mrs Dorothy Botmer of St. Johns is president of the Clinton County chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc. Mrs Betty Dennis of Ovid is secretary and Mrs

Fred Tiedt of Fowler is treasurer.

Members of the board of directors include Mrs A.L. Mereshon, Mrs Marjorie Hell, Mrs Edward Parker and Mrs D. Speerbrecker of DeWitt; Miss Eileen Dodge of Elsie; Mrs Esther Schafer and Mrs Roman Eleson of Maple Rapids; Mrs Canfield, Mrs Edna Austin, Mrs Dorothy Sauber, Mrs Earl Fisher and Mrs Marshall Monroe of Ovid; Mrs Donna Race, Mrs Marie Belknap, Mrs Florence Benson and Mrs Gertrude Buehler of St. Johns; and Mrs Betty Geller and Mrs Lee Reasoner of Bath.

The Easter Seal Committee consists of Mrs Canfield, Mrs Hell, Mrs Buehler and Mrs Reasoner. Rev Fr. Aloysius Miller of Westphalia and S. R. Russell, MD, of St. Johns make up the advisory committee.

Parents Without Partners will meet Tuesday, April 2, at the Owasco Savings Bank, W. Main Street Branch Office. The speaker will be Paul Wohlfel, child psychologist of the mental health clinic.

Congregational youth planning pancake supper

The Youth Fellowship of the First Congregational Church is sponsoring a pancake supper, to be held in the church dining room (Wilcox Hall), next Wednesday night, April 3. Separate table settings at 5:30, 6:15 and 7 o'clock will be convenient to those who prefer to eat at a specific time without having to wait in line.

The purpose of the supper is to raise funds to underwrite the Youth Fellowship's Planning Retreat to be held at Elk Lake the first weekend in July. While much of the work will be done by members of the group, Jack Smit, Jim Smit and Don Guthrie will provide assistance. Tickets may be secured from the high school age young people or reservations may be made by calling the church office.

The Elsie Village Council has approved the use of the athletic field for an Easter egg hunt this year under sponsorship of the Ovid-Elsie Jaycees. . . .

The meeting will be short this week, it will be from 7 to 7:30. Adaline Dershem was winner of the mystery prize.

Leonard-Chaffee vows said Feb. 24

The former Miss Deborah Mae Chaffee of Ovid and Steven Giles Leonard of Midland were united in marriage at St. Joseph Catholic Church of St. Johns Feb. 24 in a double ring ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of Ovid-Elsie High School and her husband was graduated from Ovid High School and Northwood Institute.

Mr and Mrs Robert Chaffee of 9300 McBride Road, Ovid and Mr and Mrs Robert Leonard of 900 W. McConnell Street, St. Johns, are the parents of the couple. The newlyweds are presently making their home at 223 1/2 W. Williams Street, Ovid.

FOR THE 12:30 p.m. service, the new Mrs Leonard wore a floor length gown of crepe styled with a Venice lace yoke, sleeves and train. Her shoulder length veil was secured with a headpiece which was made of two roses.

She carried a bouquet of white carnations and red sweetheart roses.

Mrs Marilyn Love was the matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss JoEllen Chaffee and Miss Anna Lee Leonard.

The matron of honor was attired in a turquoise ensemble and the bridesmaids were in pale blue. They carried nosegays of pink and white pompon chrysanthemums.

THE MOTHER OF THE bride chose a three-piece beige suit and the bridegroom's mother selected a green dress and coat ensemble. Their corsages were of tangerine sweetheart roses. Lee Woodworth acted as best man. Groomsmen were Larry Noble and Mark Kloockner. Seating the guests were Gary Larkins and Darrell Katalenick. The newlyweds greeted guests at a 2 p.m. reception which was held in the United Church Main Street Building of Ovid. They honeymooned in Midland.

MRS LAVERN L. SUTFIN

LaVern Louis Sutfin takes Lansing bride

LaVern Louis Sutfin of St. Johns claimed as his bride the former Miss Jennifer Lynn Sipe of Lansing in a double ring service Sunday afternoon, March 17.

The mother of the bride chose a white dress and navy blue coat ensemble for her daughter's wedding. Mrs Sutfin wore a navy blue dress with a navy blue and white coat. Their corsages were of pink baby roses.

Mr and Mrs Glen Sipe of 2423 Strathmore Road, Lansing and Mr and Mrs Louis Sutfin of 411 N. Ottawa Street, St. Johns, are the parents of the newlyweds.

THE BRIDE WAS graduated from Everett High School of Lansing and her husband is a graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School of St. Johns.

For the 3:30 p.m. nuptials, the new Mrs Sutfin chose a floor length empire styled gown of crepe fashioned with a lace bodice and train. Her shoulder length veil fell from a headpiece of pearl and crystal teardrops. She carried a cascade arrangement of white chrysanthemums centered with an orchid corsage.

Mrs John Sutfin, sister of the bride, of Lansing was the matron of honor. Roxanne Sipe, another sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid.

THEY WERE attired in floor length empire styled cage gowns and their headpieces were fingertip lavender veils. They carried cascade bouquets of lavender chrysanthemums.

They honeymooned in Detroit and Canada. The bride will make her home with her parents, while Sutfin completes his tour of duty in Viet Nam which is to begin in April.

Dr Wohlers speaks at Woman's club

The St. Johns Woman's Club held its meeting in the Narthex of the First Congregational Church March 20. Dr R.L. Wohlers entertained the club with his pictures, "Missionary Dentistry."

Dr Wohlers in December of 1966 went with two physicians from Hinsdale, Ill., to San Blas, a small group of islands off the coast of Panama. They were accompanied by a senior student nurse on this personally financed expedition to bring medical and dental care to the Indians living on the islands, who are without the service of any doctors or dentists.

The Indians who occupy the islands live much as their ancestors did. These ancestors escaped to the islands during the time of the Spanish occupation of Central America. The same primitive conditions still prevail, cut off as they are from contact with the mainland. Help in making arrangements was given the group by American families in the Canal Zone who are interested in bettering the lot of the Indians.

THE CLUB WAS much interested in Dr Wohlers' colorful slides showing the Indian way of life and the primitive conditions under which he worked to help them. Equipment and medicines were given them when the group left. Dr Wohlers' interest in this part of the world could stem from the fact that he was born to missionary parents in Argentina.

Deviations were given by Mrs Marvin Barclay, who used "World Missions" as her theme. Mrs Walter Graham, chairman of the day, introduced the speaker.

IN A SHORT business meeting, the president, Mrs John Rumbaugh, again announced the dates for the State meeting of the Club Federation as April 23, 24 and 25 and the contests that will be held there in sewing, handicrafts and creative writing. In the absence of the author, Mrs Minsky, her entry in creative writing was read by Mrs Winchell Brown. The topic chosen was "Build With Youth for a Better World."

Plans for the April meeting were announced by the president. At that meeting, the senior girls and their sponsors will be guests of the club. It will be held in Niles Hall at the First Methodist Church. The United Air Lines will entertain the group— their topic "Wings Have Charm." Tea was served by the committee, Mrs Marvin Barclay, Mrs Robert Dittmer and Mrs James Postlewaite.

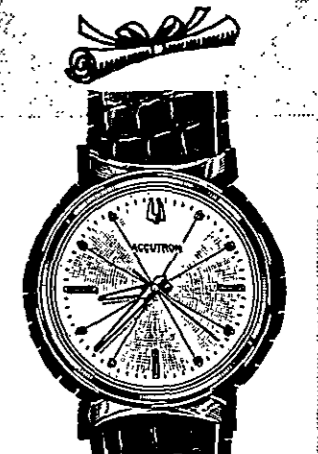

Graduates from MSU

Susan C. Brainerd, a 1962 graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School and daughter of Mrs Claire Haske, was graduated with honor from Michigan State University March 10.

Mrs Brainerd received her bachelor of arts degree in audiology and speech sciences and will begin graduate work in audiology on a VRA government fellowship in the spring.

Clintonites learn about interior decoration

For the meeting this month the Clintonite Extension group attended an interior decorating clinic sponsored by the Alma Paint and Wallpaper Store.

The speaker Mr Klein gave some interesting ideas on the three basic things which go into decorating a room. The floor is most important as it adds warmth to a room. Next are the walls which add color to a room and the drapes put on the final touch to add brilliance to the windows.

Mrs Helen Meach and Miss Lorraine Sprague were the guests.

The mystery gift was won by Mrs Michael Sutfin.

Bath FFA delegates attend convention

BATH — The Bath delegates to the state FFA convention last week were David Swartz and Dale Brown. They were accompanied to the convention at MSU by advisor William Vondrasek. In one of the most controversial subjects coming before the convention, members of the FFA approved by a two-thirds the admission of girls to the statewide association.

"Let's talk dry cleaning"

by Dana Antes

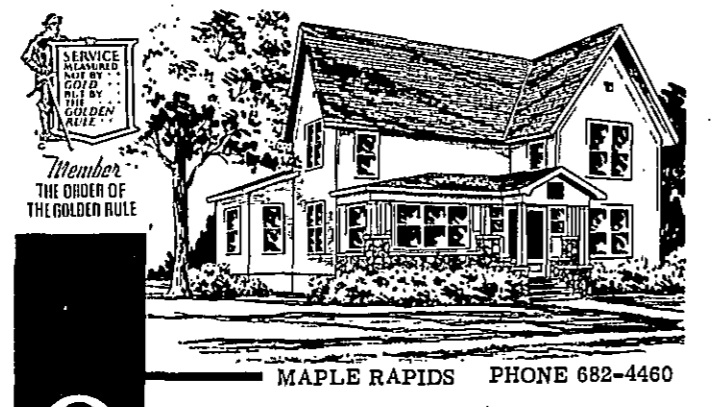

Thoughts of Easter Sunday, which is almost here, remind us of the long road traveled to Calvary, with its magnificent example of sorrow and sacrifice. But we're also moved to think of the end of that road... and the glorious triumph of Easter Sunday morning. Small wonder that Easter is such a day of joy and celebration!

The annual Easter Parade is a traditional part of our holiday, when we all come out decked out in our very best. Is your family all ready for inspection? If our experience is any indication, we'll bet the average mother has thoughtfully picked out her Easter outfit and has it ready... clean and sparkling if it's not brand new. And she has the children's clothes all ready. But what about Dad? Men had a tendency to take the Easter fashion parade a little lightly...but Dad will be on display, too.

There's not much time left, but we can still give that suit a thorough cleaning and pressing in time for Easter. For Mother, Dad and the whole family, rely on our fast, dependable service...to be sure!

Soap Box Derby clinic Saturday

The first of a series of clinics for the construction of soap box derby cars for the Clinton County Soap Box Derby will be held this Saturday, March 30, at 10 a.m. in Niles Hall of the First Methodist Church.

Movies and slide films will be shown, and actual building steps of the derby cars will be discussed. Some of last year's cars will be on hand to allow boys interested in building to inspect them.

A second clinic is scheduled for April 6. John Briganti and Ron Harter are chairmen in charge of the clinics.

The Soap Box Derby Committee, meeting last Thursday night, turned down requests from the Lansing Jaycees and individuals that Lansing youths be permitted to participate in the Clinton County derby June 9.

Derby Director Bill McCarthy said the committee felt the scope of the derby should be kept within Clinton County, so only boys living in the county may participate. The age limits for the competitors is 11 and 15.

MCCARTHY SAID THERE are already 25 definite entries for the June 9 Sunday evening race, and the committee has the names of 150 boys who have signed their names as being interested in running in the race. Westphalia has at least 15 cars being built now, and Fowler is expected to have a like number.

The sixth annual derby will again feature a powder puff race for girls the same ages. Girls must build their own cars and are governed by the same rules as the boys. All contestants for the derby or the powder puff race must sign up at Bee's Chevrolet and Olds. Some 50 sets of wheels and axles for the cars are available there.

The St. Johns Jaycees are co-sponsors of the derby along with Bee's Chevrolet and Olds. Bernard Feldpausch, president of Bee's, is dealer-director of the event.

Other members of the derby committee are: Jack Downing, Gene Downing and Bob Cole, race committee; Mart Livingston, parade committee; John Briganti and Ron Harter, clinic committee; Jack Bertoldi and Steve Bakita, inspections committee; Lowell Rinker, publicity; Tom Peacock, building; William Bertram, Fowler area chairman; and Tom Noecker, Westphalia area chairman.

RODNEY B. WILSON HIGH SCHOOL CONCERT CHOIR

Same program this Saturday

There were no 'best' numbers by combined choirs—all were good

By WALTER NICKEL

Of all the people in the concert presented by the Owosso and St. Johns High School choirs at the high school auditorium last Tuesday night, accompanist Lisa Davis had the roughest time. Nobody wanted to give the poor girl any music! She proved one thing, though—when they gave her the music, she could play it—and well.

Each choir sang two groups of four numbers each and then concluded the program singing four numbers together. In keeping with the Lenten season and good musical taste, each group sang four religious selections and finished their individual parts of the program with four secular numbers.

It was impossible to pick a "best" number or a "best" choir. Choirs, like people, have personalities, and it's probably safe to say that the choirs to a large degree reflect the personalities and attitudes of the directors.

So, in their own way each choir performed very capably.

Owosso's rendition of "The Eyes of the Lord Are Upon the Righteous" by Johnson was very well done. The soprano section was unusually clear, and the diction and expression were good. "Go 'Way From My Window" arranged by Zaninelli, was the writer's favorite of the secular selections done by Owosso.

As the St. Johns choir sang

"Surely He Has Borne Our Grievs" by Guan, one was pretty well convinced that Jesus had done just that. One had the feeling that the choir members felt this way too. The words were understood and the selection was sung with great feeling and expression.

Of the St. Johns secular numbers we especially liked "Oh No, John" and "Thumbelina." The mood here was one of enthusiasm and joy, and this is what the choir expressed as they sang.

THE COMBINED choirs did an excellent job singing four selections, concluding with a stirring rendition of "This Is My Country." The colors were presented by Luane Lambert and Brad Huntlet.

If any comparisons must be made between the two groups, we would say that Owosso had the best "bowers" and we liked the way St. Johns steps down from those risers.

It was good to see about 160 young musicians and their directors working together for an afternoon and evening of singing and fellowship. Even the parents were involved in serving dinner for the young musicians. St. Johns, America and the world needs more of this.

Directors of the choirs were C. Gordon Vandemark for St. Johns and Gerald L. Gilbert for Owosso. The program was tape recorded for an early-April re-broadcast by WOAP-FM in Owosso.

The St. Johns Choir will journey to Owosso this Saturday evening to present a similar program for Owosso area residents. The joint concert there will start at 8:15 p.m. at Owosso High School.

11 candidates get initiatory degree at IOOF meeting

Sixty-five members of the IOOF District 27 and 28 turned out at Ovid Lodge 97 Saturday evening, March 16 for the conferring of the initiatory degree upon a class of 11 candidates by the degree staff of the Pompeii lodge.

There were many members in attendance besides those from Districts 27 and 28.

Candidates who missed this degree will attend a special meeting to "catch up," at Perry Lodge 206 Wednesday March 20. This is to enable them to join their class of candidates and to receive the First Degree at St. Johns Lodge Saturday evening, March 23. The degree staff of Alma Lodge will act in the conferring of the degree.

Also on display at last Saturday's meeting was the World Eye Bank accumulation of news clippings and articles for the past year. Many members expressed a sincere interest in the donation of their eyes through this program. It was noted by World Eye Bank Committeeman Edward Elisinger of Orion Lodge 407 at Lingsburg that though this phase of the program is sponsored by the IOOF, that eyes thus donated are available to anyone needing them, not just IOOF members and their families. Donations also are made through members and non-members as well. All this is possible through the Michigan Eye Collection Center.

Every, Brya lose at nationals

St. Johns' two state champion Golden Glovers lost out in the national finals in Salt Lake City last week but not until they had put up a good fight.

Light welterweight Bob Every advanced to the quarterfinals before losing a decision on Friday night. Every had won his first two fights in opening night action last Wednesday.

Doug Brya, a 125-pounder, dropped a decision to Pete Browner of Charlotte, N. C., in opening night action.

P-W students busy with, at conventions

By DIANE HUHNS
P-W High

The play, "Rest Assured," is coming soon to P-W. It will be shown on April 4, 5, 6 at the Pewamo Elementary School. The staff and advisors are very busy preparing for this event.

Mrs. Thelma Graper, state FFA advisor, was the guest at the FFA International Banquet on March 20. At the dinner the 10 top girls were named to go to the state convention in Grand Rapids in April. P-W will be taking 21 representatives, including chapter mothers and advisor. Joan Kramer, Laura Weiland, and Diane Huhns have been notified that they will receive their state degrees at the convention.

Bob Hafner, Richard Wolfert and Mr. Gibson attended Michigan State University on March 21-22 for the FFA State Convention.

Jane Stump, Gail Cotter, Connie Theis, and Bill Freund attended the forensics contest at Owosso March 23 for the regional forensics.

Fowler, Webberville, Bath, DeWitt, and Pewamo-Westphalia are the schools involved at the Math Contest at P-W March 27. Sixteen students and their advisor, Mrs. Geller, will attend the Junior Classical League at Ann Arbor on March 30. About 3,200 students are expected to attend this convention. The students will arrive at the convention at 9:30 a.m. and will leave at 3:30 p.m. when the new officers are selected.

The freshmen, sophomore, junior, and senior classes at P-W have shown class spirit at the class tournaments this week. On March 22, the senior girls played the junior girls, and the senior boys played the sophomore boys.

The nine-week marking period has come to an end again. Report cards will be given out on March 27.

Congratulations to Tom Barker who placed on the second team in basketball and to Chuck Gross, Vern Thelen, Gary Thelen, and Pat Geller who were placed as honorable mentions.

3 at P-W win FHA degrees

Three girls from P-W High School Future Homemakers Club have been awarded the highest honor of their association. After working on degrees for four years, these girls have received notification that their work entitles them to the F.H.A. state degree.

Their chapter will award them a free trip to Grand Rapids on April 17-18, where they will receive their torches, symbol of their degree, at the state Future Homemakers convention.

The girls who have won the degree are Diane Huhns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Huhns, Joan Kramer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kramer, and Laura Weiland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Weiland.

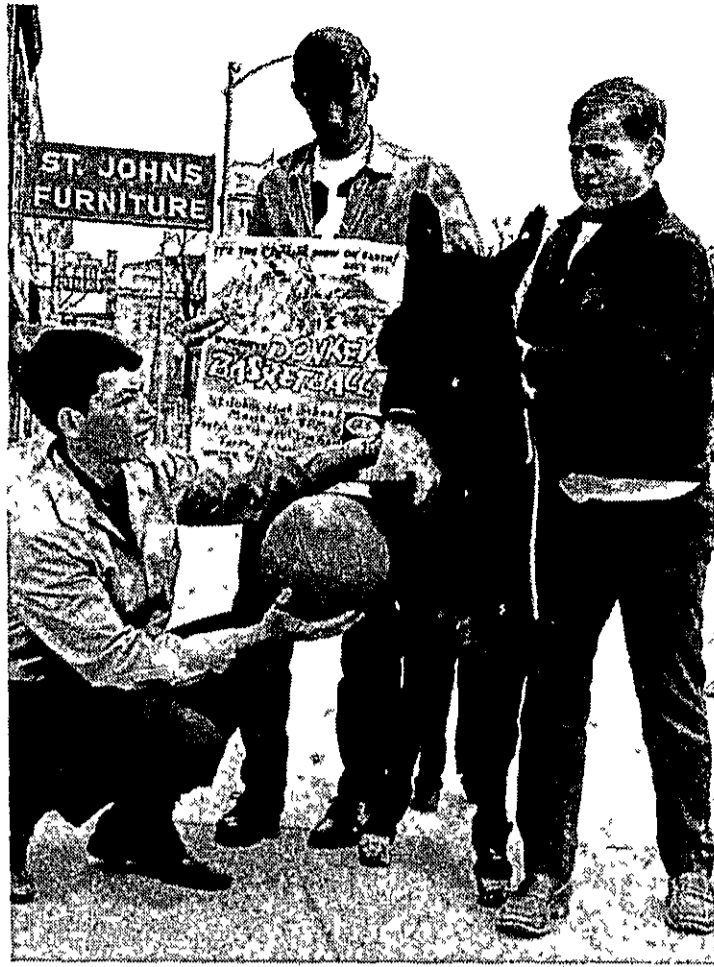

MAUREEN FLEGLER

Miss Flegler Europe-bound

Bound for Europe is Miss Maureen Flegler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Flegler of St. Johns. She is one of seven from the Lansing area, who will depart for JFK International Airport March 31 for a European seminar being sponsored by the Nancy Taylor Speedwriting course at Lansing Business University.

The three main parts of call will be London where the study theme will be publishing, advertising and TV; Paris where they will study fashion and merchandising; and Rome where they will study international business and the cinema industry.

Two hours of formal classes will be held each weekday morning in London at Oxford University, in Paris at the Sorbonne and in Rome in the cinema studios. A Papal audience has been arranged.

A donkey in downtown St. Johns is easy to catch the eye, but it's not so easy to control the donkey. Bob Randolph (with the basketball), Wayne Weber and Dave Paks brought Sue, the donkey, downtown last Friday to help publicize the St. Johns FFA-sponsored donkey basketball game this Saturday at the high school gym.

Donkey basketball game Saturday

The regular basketball season may be over, but donkey basketball is always in style, and the St. Johns FFA chapter is counting on this factor to draw a big crowd for their donkey basketball game this Saturday evening.

A team of Clinton area businessmen will ride the bucking donkeys in a game against the WJIM Live Guys at 8 p.m. Saturday at the St. Johns High School gym. Proceeds will be used for chapter activities of the St. Johns Future Farmers of America. Riders for the local business team include Don East and Jerry East of Clinton Crop Service, Charles Hazle of Big A Liquid Feed, Don Devereaux and Art Romig of St. Johns Co-Op, Dick Depong of Ovid Roller Mills, dairy technician George Hazle, former State Farmer Bob Kissane and Ben Beck of Beck's Farm Market. Donkeys for the game will be provided by the Buckeye Jack-Ass Express from Ohio.

National FHA Week set March 31-April 6

PEWAMO—More than 600,000 high school youth across the nation, members of the Future Homemakers of America, will observe National FHA Week March 31-April 6, 1968. Governor George Romney has also proclaimed this as Michigan FHA Week.

The FHA chapter in Pewamo-Westphalia Community High School will join 307 chapters throughout Michigan in special activities and projects designed to share their FHA experiences and achievements with families, friends, and neighbors.

The theme chosen for this year's observance is "FOCUS ON CITIZENSHIP." Objective is to encourage worthwhile involvement of youth as citizens in the home, school, and community.

To acquaint the public with their aims and purposes, the Pewamo-Westphalia chapter has planned a full week of activities beginning March 31.

On Monday, April 1, the president will speak on FHA over the public address system. In this announcement she will tell about FHA and its purposes.

On Tuesday, April 2, all the members of FHA will wear a symbol of FHA. On Wednesday, April 3, a display case will be put up and it will show symbols of FHA.

Future Homemakers of America is a non-profit, self-supporting organization officially sponsored by the U.S. Office of Education and the American Home Economics Assn. National headquarters are located in Washington, D.C. In Michigan, FHA is sponsored by the Michigan Home Economics Assn. and by the Home Economics Education Service, State Department of Education, Lansing.

High School home economics teachers serve as advisors to the more than 12,000 F.H.A. Chapters. Joan Kramer of Pewamo is president of the Pewamo-Westphalia chapter and Mrs. Audrey Casari is the local advisor and the home economics teacher at Pewamo-Westphalia.

Hems discussed by Extension study group

Focus on Hems was the topic for discussion when the Friendly Neighbors Extension Study Group met at the home of Mrs. Ray Moore March 20.

Mrs. W. L. Whitefield and Mrs. Ray Moore showed the type of hem to use for different fabrics.

Mrs. Whitefield, chairman, called the meeting to order. Five members responded to roll call by giving a sewing hint. Mrs. Roy Gibson was a visitor.

The Area 9 Spring Event is to be held at Smith Hall May 1. June McClung from MSU will be in charge of local women modeling their own clothes and explaining what it best for your figure type.

THE GROUP VOTED to make ditty bags for the Red Cross to be sent to injured boys in Viet Nam.

O-E Drama Club presents first play this weekend

By CATHY ROBINSON
Ovid-Elsie High

One, two, three, four, five. Who is counting? The students of the newly formed drama club at Ovid-Elsie. Their first play will be "The Counting People", to be presented Friday and Saturday nights, March 29 and 30.

The play will be a drama fiction story about 10 people who survived a blast that destroyed the world.

Their existence is ruled by the four elders, portrayed by Pam Darling, Bob Craig, Bob DePond, and Jerry Korienek. The youths, portrayed by Rick Warren, Laura Green, Dave Williams, Randy Johnson, Kathy

The stage in the O-E Auditorium was filled with talent March 22 as students of Ovid-Elsie participated in the talent review.

A screening was held March 1 to select students to perform at the review.

Judges for the screening were Mrs. Lundquist, Mrs. Lannon, Mrs. Wilkins and Mrs. Bates.

Some acts included singing, tap dancing, acrobats and nursery rhymes.

Mr. Don Thayer, band director, made the review possible.

The Journalism Club visited the State Journal on Wednesday, March 13. Mr. Foreback, advisor, took 33 students of the Maraudian newspaper staff and club members to see how news is obtained, the press process and distributing of the paper. The students were shocked by the work that goes into a newspaper.

They found it takes a little more work to publish a large town newspaper than their small school paper. Their paper is typed on a stencil and run off on plain cut paper by a mimeograph machine and distributed throughout the school. Large newspapers type the articles on paper, then they are pressed on a cardboard-like paper by a 3-ton roller. After much more work the paper is ready to be run off by the press, and distributed across the state.

The things which most astonished the students were the huge press and the teletype machine which secures national news and weather.

115 attend Fulton FHA smorgasbord

By CAROLYN RAMSEY
Fulton High

The annual Mother-Daughter Smorgasbord was held March 19 in the student commons at Fulton High School. The theme was "Better Family Relations Through Communications."

One hundred and fifteen mothers and daughters attended the meeting and were entertained by local talent. The entertainment consisted of a devotion given by Pat Holland and several other FHA girls, a tap routine by Kathy Badge, a skit by Jayne and Joy Mahler, Linda Braman, Maria Litwiller, and Theresa Proko.

The FHA emblem ceremony was given by Connie Cooper, Marjle Trough, June Wright, Luanne Dodge, Pat Guernsey, Colleen Shlabarg, Rosemary Smith, and Mary Gray.

A reading entitled "Beatitudes for Mothers," was given by June Wright, to close the evening.

Beach and Rozanna Litomisky, follow the elders and believe their word because they do not remember the world before and their knowledge of its failure comes completely from the adults.

The way these people live together and survive together is remarkable. Their life is quite different from that of the old world, but they meant it to be; they felt the old world was destroyed by too much power being put in the hands of immature youths.

What was important in the Old world is not so in their new one, and small useless tasks suddenly turn into a morning worship.

To make it a better world, the elders omitted faith, hope, and God from their life, for they believed that all was destroyed in the blast.

A stranger, portrayed by Danny Medina, enters into their world and brings word of survival beyond the rocks and field. Yet, the elders forbid him to stay and camp with them or talk to the youths, for they believe that reaching out beyond their small world would be dangerous to their life.

Deadline April 8 for Rotary youth talent, hobby entries

The Clinton County Youth Talent and Hobby Exhibit, an annual event, has been set for April 25 through 27 this year.

The exhibit will be in the St. Johns Municipal Building, sponsored by the St. Johns Rotary Club. Entry forms are to be turned in to Earl R. Lancaster, superintendent of schools, by April 8.

Three categories are being offered: science, arts and manual skills. Included in these are the following:

Science — biology, chemistry, electronics, physics (including nuclear), aerodynamics and rocketry, and mathematics.

Arts — Drawing, (done in charcoal, ink or pencil with a limit of three pieces); water colors, (also a three-piece limit); photography including slides, still photos, movies, and processing; sculpture, shaped from clay including ceramics, metal and stone; musical compositions; number paintings; creative writing, including original stories, essays, poems or plays; and art novelties such as shellcraft, art metal, cloisonne, plastics, painted plaster, tinting paper-mache, jewelry and similar work.

Manual skills — clothing construction; needlecraft, crocheting, embroidery, hemstitching and needlepoint; yarn-craft (hand knitted articles); mechanical work including architectural drawing, limited to three pieces; models; woodwork; metal work utilitarian articles but not art metal type; collections; and penmanship.

The following four age classifications will be accepted; 17-18 years old; 15-16 years old; 12-14 years old; and 9-11 years.

A first place ribbon will be awarded in each of the categories in each age group. The best entry in each age group will be awarded a $25 savings certificate.

A $50 savings certificate grand prize will be awarded to one boy and one girl, each judged best of the entire show.

Rev. Gerald Churchill, minister of the First Congregational Church, and Charles and Edmond Cheeney try out the church's new English handbells Sunday morning prior to the worship service. The bells will be formally dedicated at a memorial service April 28.

Congregational's handbells arrive

First Congregational Church members have shown a great deal of interest and excitement over the arrival last week of their set of 25 English hand bells which have been a year and a half in the making.

The handbells are a memorial gift presented by some 40 different contributors. They will be dedicated at a special memorial service April 28, at which time a memorial plaque will be presented.

The handbells arrived in St. Johns last Wednesday, and Saturday night a large group of persons turned out for a "workshop" at which the bells were displayed and instruction given in their use.

The bells are made of a high-quality brass combined with several alloys and were made by the White Chappel Bell Foundry in England, the same firm that made the bell for Big Ben and many other famous bells.

Persons using the bells are told to wear gloves when handling them because of the tarnishing effect fingerprints would have on the metal and eventually on the tone quality of the instruments.

The set of 25 bells is designed to be played by 15 persons of seventh grade age and older only.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF

'Senior Sunday' March 31 aimed to give new insight

Rev. Joseph Labiak and a committee of senior students from St. Joseph Catholic Church in St. Johns have planned a "Senior Sunday" for this Sunday, March 31, at the St. Joseph School social hall for all St. Johns and Clinton County high school seniors.

"Tomorrow's Adults, Today's Love" is the theme for the Senior Sunday. All area seniors, regardless of religious denomination, are invited. Reservations should be made by calling Mrs. Steven Hopko. Registration will be at 1 p.m. Monday.

The speaker for the program will be Chris Johnstone, head of the Jackson Catholic Social Services, who will speak on "Young Adult in the Modern World." In two years at his current post, Johnstone has become well-known in the Jackson area for his dynamic approach to human concerns and problems. He attempts to be "where the action is" and has made friends with some of the "hard core" of that city.

Tom Farrell of the St. Johns United Church of Christ and director of the Peter Claver Center at Jackson, will also be on the afternoon program Sunday. The center which Farrell directs is in a predominantly Negro area and is a meeting place where educational, social and recreational programs, and even problem counseling, are available to persons of all ages.

Lorenzo Brown, a Jackson civil rights leader, will give an explanation of the Black Power movement.

At 2:45 p.m. Sunday, Fr. Daelen Batt, former chaplain for the MSU football team, will discuss college life, telling how it includes the challenge to one's faith and moral principles and how a person can develop a mature Christian outlook on campus. Fr. Batt is involved in ecumenical activities on campus.

Discussion periods will follow each conference.

A folk mass with Brother Philip, OFM, from the DeWitt Retreat House, and Mike Martin, NSJ, and a group of fellow seminarians from Colombine College to provide guitar accompaniment, will follow the discussion periods.

Luncheon will be served in the social hall after the mass, and the luncheon will be followed by a social hour and dance in the school gym.

Lansing Junior Achievement involves 35 Clinton youth

Thirty-five students from two Clinton County communities are actively involved in projects under the Junior Achievement of Greater Lansing, Inc. this year.

R. Ronald Conkle, executive director of Junior Achievement, said 25 students from DeWitt and six from Bath have joined with students from Holt, Grand Ledge, Waverly, East Lansing, Haslett, Eastern, Everett, Sexton, Gabriels and O'Rafferty to form 18 active Junior Achievement companies.

DeWitt students involved in the companies include Pam Alderton, Stan Becker, Debbie Devreux, Kit Boyce, Clayton Conkle, Sandae Custard, Connie Ferguson, Gail Gabel, Sharon Greene, Terry Lynn Hodges, Barbara Kowalk, Gary Krueger, Kathy Jo Miller, Jan Molnar, Lynda Patrowsky, Julie Pope, Cathie Pufferberg, Jim R. Rach, John A. Rach, David Reed, Claudia Ritter, Sherm Rowley, Debby Slater, Diane Smith, Ed Smith, Greg Smith, Ron Smith, Mona Stevens and Dennis Theroux.

Bath students include Marsha Brainerd, Wendy Brown, Gayle Gelsenhafer, Mary LaPratt, Andrea Morrison and David Murray.

Junior Achievement companies are usually made up of from 15 to 25 students (sophomores, juniors and seniors) from a number of high schools. They meet one evening a week for two hours, select a produce or service to produce, capitalize through public sale of stock, set up production and distribution lines, advertise and sell their products or services, maintain financial records, issue checks, pay wages and commissions, pay rent and depreciation charges, pay dividends to shareholders and liquidate the company upon the completion of the Junior Achievement year.

The business center where the meetings are held for Junior Achievement of Greater Lansing, Inc., is at 534 E. Michigan Avenue in Lansing.

The Junior Achievement program is financed by subscriptions from business firms, individual business and professional men and trade and service associations. A goal of $32,500 has been set for Junior Achievement's 1968 campaign for funds in the Greater Lansing area.

Another sure sign of spring is the announcement from Howard Kortez that the Family Drive-In Theater at the north edge of St. Johns will open for the season April 5...

Open Letter from VAN W. HOAG

Dear friends,

It is generally agreed that a personal note is a proper acknowledgment for a floral offering, mass card, or donation to charity in memoriam.

Where the number of acknowledgments becomes too numerous for the writing of personal notes, acknowledgment cards, personally signed, are quite acceptable. We have a selection of such cards available to the bereaved family.

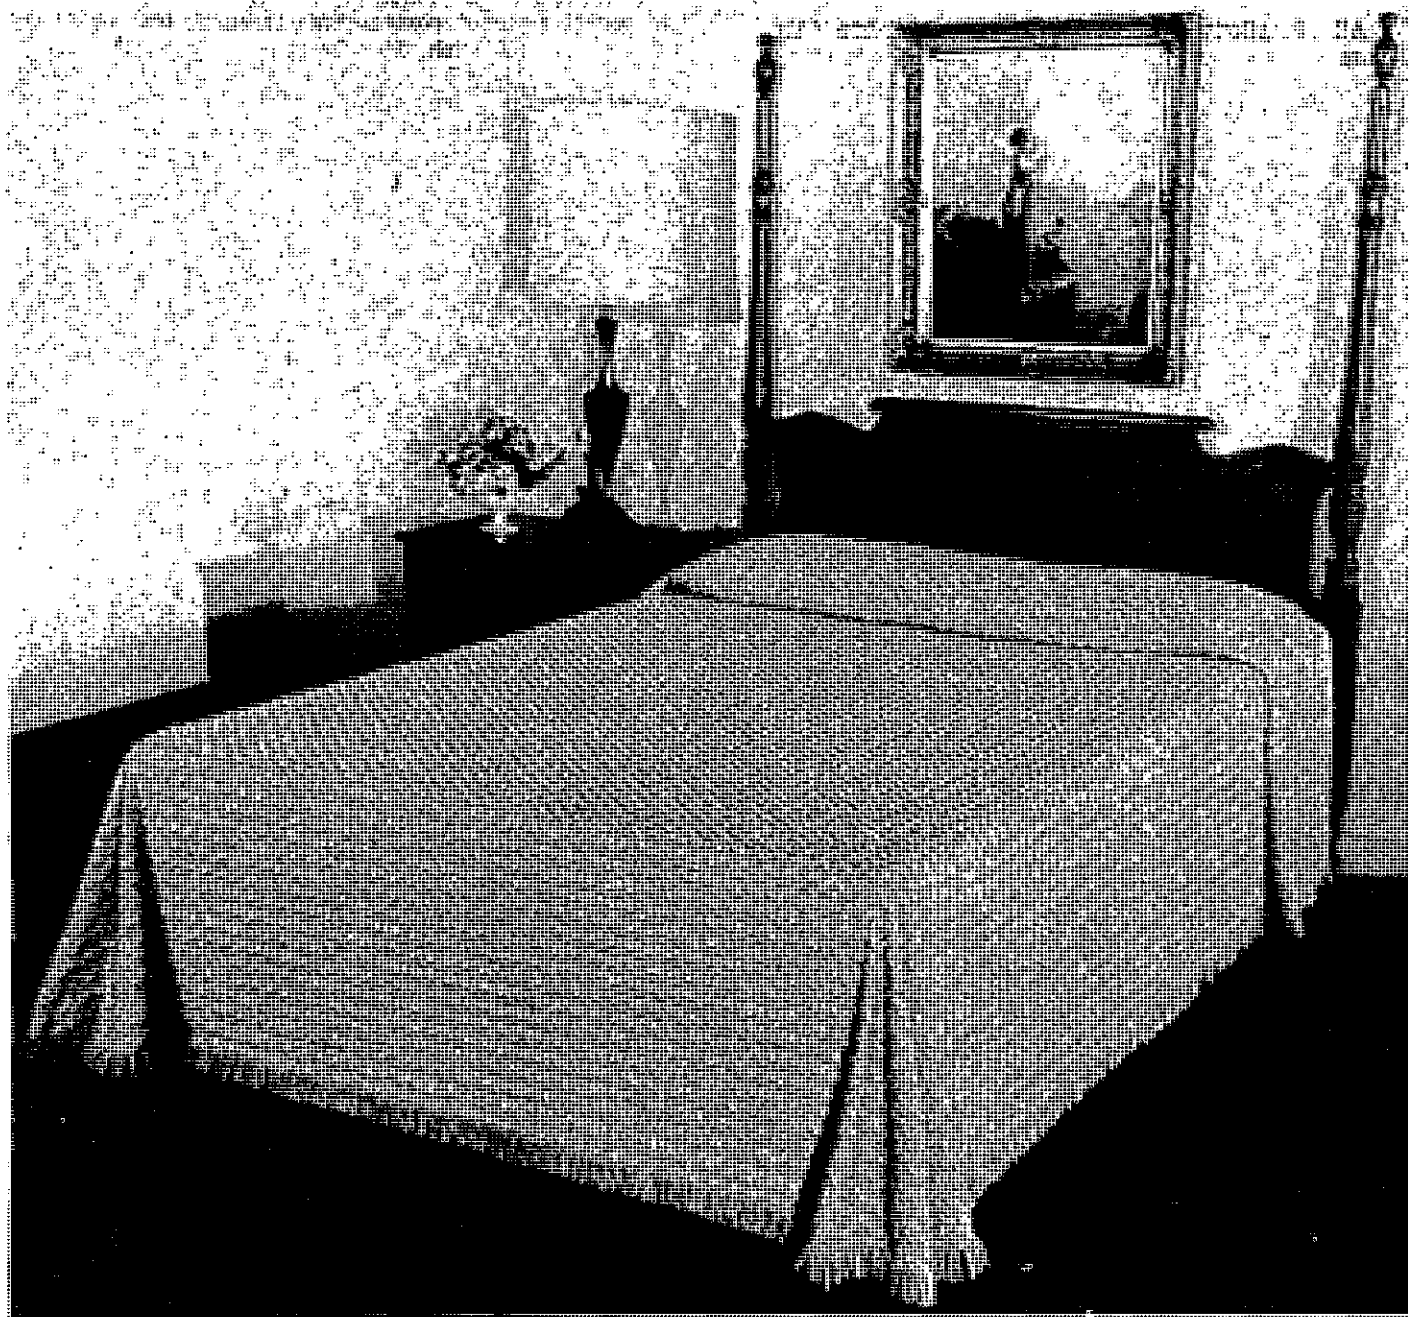

Respectfully,

Van W. Hoag

Object to development in Bath twp.

BATH—Although a final decision on the proposed planned-community development program for Bath township has not been reached by the Bath Charter Township Planning Commission, members of the audience present for the regular meeting Monday evening were there to voice their objections to the development.

The committee appointed by Walter Kyes, commission chairman, at the last meeting is continuing to study the project proposed by C.A. Kraeger of Kraeger Development Company of Southfield. Committee members are William Morgan, Kenneth Munson, Harold Burnett and Clinton Fitch.

THE PROPOSED project is to be made up of four types of dwelling units—single-family, two-family, townhouses and mobile homes. The developer plans to integrate them architecturally and recreational areas, a golf course and pond are to serve as buffer areas.

It is expected that about 4,000 persons would make their home in the 225-acre area located at the present site of a Christmas tree farm south of Park Lake.

Township residents objected to Bath township being changed from an area of single-family dwellings with resident ownership on at least 1/2 acre lots to an area of multiple-family dwellings with absentee ownership.

THEY QUESTIONED whether the area would be able to handle the influx of people.

The preliminary plans call for over one half of the area to be used single-family dwellings.

The remaining area will be divided in the other types of dwellings and the recreational areas.

THE COMMITTEE said when their study of the project is completed there will be several public meetings at which time they would be able to answer all the township residents questions.

In other business, the commission recommended that the two trailer permits be okayed by the Zoning Board. Requesting the permits for hardship cases are Victor Guernsey of Upton Road, north of Cutler Road and Burton Cowdry of Clark Road, 1/4 mile east of Bath.

NEWS IN BRIEF

A special annexation election concerning a large addition to the City of DeWitt is scheduled for Tuesday, April 9.

Michigan's 1967 Christmas Seal campaign for Clinton County ends March 31. County contributions to the campaign have reached $5,369 so far, which is an increase of $10 over the $5,359 contributed at the same time last year.

- Sanitary sewers—South of West side—13 feet from Street R.O.W. line.
 - Storm sewers—North or East side—13 feet from Street R.O.W. line.
 - Water Mains—North or East side—8 feet from Street R.O.W. line.
 - Gas mains—South or West side—8 feet from Street R.O.W. line.
- Other utilities—According to approval of City Engineer.

CLEARING STREET RIGHT-OF-WAY

1. All brush, shrubs, trees, and roots thereof shall be removed from the R.O.W. of streets and alleys by the proprietor except for trees and shrubs considered to be valuable and non-obstructionable by the City Engineer. The ground surface between the curb lines and the street R.O.W. line shall be graded so as to be not more than 6 inches below of 1 foot above the centerline grade of the finished street. All disturbed areas between the Curb line and the street R.O.W. shall be covered with 2 inches of top soil and seeded in and approved manner so as to control erosion.

SANITARY SEWERS

1. Sanitary sewers shall be installed by the proprietor for all proposed lots in the plat to be used for residential or building purposes. All sewers shall be double strength vitrified clay sewer pipe equal to American Clay Products Standards. Joints shall be of the compression type equal to American Society Testing Materials specifications C 425-66T. Service lines shall extend to a point five feet outside the curb line and be plugged in and approved manner. All work and materials shall be subject to inspection and approval of the City Engineer and no trench shall be backfilled until the installation has been inspected and approved by the City Engineer.

STORM WATER SEWERS

1. An underground storm water sewer system shall be installed by the proprietor as outlined on the approved street plans. Materials and design shall be equal to M.D.S.H. specifications for pipe, manholes, catchbasins, and inlets. Manholes shall be located at changes in size, grade, and alignment and spaced approximately 300 ft. apart. Typical manhole, inlet, and catchbasin design details shall be shown on the street plans.

STREET CONSTRUCTION

1. Grading—All streets shall be graded to their full right-of-way widths by the proprietor so that all street materials can be properly placed, also sidewalks installed if planned or constructed at a later date, by using the finished grade. No subbase material shall be placed until all underground utilities between curb lines are installed and the trenches compacted in an approved manner. All fill sections shall be thoroughly compacted so as to prevent subsequent settlement of subbase material. The subgrade shall be graded and leveled in accordance with the approved street plans.

2. Subbase—Following final preparation of the subgrade a 6-inch deep compacted sand subbase shall be installed which shall extend under the base of all concrete curbs. All material shall meet with the approval of the City Engineer prior to being placed. The Subbase material may be omitted only where soil conditions permit and when recommended by the City Engineer and approved by the City Council.

3. Surface base after compaction of all subbase material a two layer, 6-inch compacted base of gravel shall be placed in accordance with M.D.S.H. specifications 22 A gravel. Both courses shall be thoroughly compacted and stabilized before any finished surface is placed.

4. Surface finish—Following final preparation and approval of the base material for the street a finished roadway surface shall be installed preferable following a six months elapsed time for settlement and compaction of base and subbase materials. The finished surface shall consist of 2-inch deep bituminous aggregate course in accordance with M.D.S.H. specifications for 4.11 Bituminous Aggregate Surface Course, Dense Graded, Hot Plant Mix.

CURB AND GUTTERS

Reinforced concrete curb and gutters shall be installed by the proprietor as called for on the approved street plans. Design shall be in accordance with the City Standard Design. Materials and construction shall conform to the M.D.S.H. latest Manual for Road and Bridge Construction. Driveway openings whenever possible shall be established at the time of initial construction and shall have a minimum width of 15 feet.

STREET SIGNS

Two street signs equal to those in use within the City shall be provided and installed by the proprietor at all street intersections within the plat. The location of the signs shall be established by the City Engineer.

SIDEWALKS

Sidewalks are not required however if planned by the proprietor they shall be constructed as follows: Sidewalks shall have a minimum width of 4 feet and shall be located one foot inside the street right-of-way, unless otherwise approved by the City Council. All sidewalks shall be concrete 1:2:4 mix and be capable of withstanding a compressive strength test of 3,000 lbs. per square inch. The depth of the concrete shall be not less than 4 inches and the depth under all driveways shall be not less than 8 inches. The grade and subgrade conditions shall meet with the approval of the City Engineer before concrete material is placed.

INCIDENTALS AND COMPLETION

The proprietor shall be responsible for all traffic control, construction hazards, safeguards, and all maintenance work including adequate dust control throughout the construction program and until all streets and utilities have been formally accepted by the City. In no case will partial acceptance of any street be made for maintenance purposes.

If streets or related work are not completed within one year after the beginning of the construction work thereon, or within a period of time thereafter acceptable to the City the proprietor may be held to be in default and action taken by the City to have the necessary construction work completed.

Following completion of all construction work the proprietor shall file with the City Engineer two copies of the construction plans showing all changes or revisions made during construction which have been approved by the City Engineer. Final release of funds held in escrow shall not be due or released prior to the furnishing of the as-constructed-drawings covering all streets and utilities.

Release of cash held in escrow by the City to insure completion of the project will be made periodically following completion of the work, but only following written verification from the City Engineer that the work has been completed in accordance with the plans and specifications. Release of such cash shall be equal to the ratio of the work completed to the entire project.

SEVERANCE CLAUSE

If any portion of these regulations and requirements are found to be invalid each invalidity shall not effect the remainder of the procedures or requirements which can be given effect without the invalid portion, and to this end these regulations and requirements are declared to be severable.

4-H Club Chatter

By JOHN AYLSWORTH
 Extension 4-H Youth Agent

The Clinton County 4-H Style Show was held this last week with 415 different members participating in the style revue. On Friday evening there were 143 junior miss members and 81 senior miss members who styled their clothing and knitting projects for over 800 people in the audience.

Alice Helbeck was the narrator for the junior miss and Jean Cobb was the narrator for the senior miss members. There were six state show delegates, three state show alternates and 16 additional dress revue winners selected for each the senior miss and junior miss divisions.

On Saturday morning 191 young miss members were able to participate in the style revue despite the snow and bad roads. Sixty of these members were recognized by receiving a gold star certificate for their outstanding styling. Judith Whitlock and Sandy McQueen were the narrators. The style revue gave the members an opportunity to display their garments made and to gain experience in modeling. Evaluation comments so far favor holding the junior and senior miss together in the evening and the young miss in the morning. Additional comments or suggestions about the style revue would be appreciated.

Most every one felt the style revue was very successful. A lot of people were responsible in making it a success, such as the leaders and parents who helped set up and decorate the stage as well as taking it down, the leaders who helped line up the members, the members who styled and the parents and leaders who attended. A special thank you to all of you who helped.

Spats and Spurs is the name of a new horse club in the St. Johns area under the leadership of Mrs. Gary Bashore on West Parks Road. Officers for the new club include: Rex Mohnke as president; Kirk Nostrant as vice president; Chris Chant as secretary; Lou Ann Prochaska as treasurer; and Keith Love as news-reporter. There are 10 members enrolled presently. Any other youth in the St. Johns area interested in joining this 4-H horse club should contact the leader.

The Fowler Busy Bees 4-H club had 116 members and guests attending their local achievement meeting and potluck supper. The clothing and knitting members modeled their projects and the boys showed and described their projects to the group.

The French's Corners 4-H club held their local club achievement meeting and potluck supper with 85 members and guests in attendance. The dinner was served in candlelight with decorations planned by Lynda Droste and Althea Shaw. The knitting and clothing girls modeled their garments for the group. The audience was entertained with some music by Mark Kingsbury, Eugene Jones, Bruce Droste, Ron Kingsbury and Julie Havens. Lisa Davis and Jean Fernan played their guitars and sang also. Greg Minsky played his guitar. Eugene Livingston portrayed Mark Twain and told tales of his youth. Cindy Smith, Marilyn Eichorn and Diana Jones were given pins for being in club work till their senior year.

The Maple River Craftsmen 4-H members were given instructions by Mary Temple on how to model. Then the members modeled their garments for their parents. The club will be represented at the 4-H Youth Talent Show on April 26 by John Dunham, Kam and Dan Washburn, Tom and Roger Roof.

The 4-H Service Club is interested in securing new members. Any 4-H member 15 years of age and who has completed three years of club work and is interested in securing new members from the Extension office. If you would like to know more about the 4-H Service Club, contact one of the officers, Ginger Simpson, Judith Whitlock, Kathy Schaefer or Kathy J. Nichols.

The 4-H Key Club Award was designed to recognize 4-H members who have provided significant leadership in their clubs and their county. The aim is to develop outstanding citizens and leaders through project growth and a broad program of 4-H club activities. To be eligible a member must have completed three years of 4-H club work, one year of junior leadership or teen leadership and participated in some district or state 4-H activities. Clinton County may nominate seven members. Any member who feels worthy of this award may contact the Extension office for an application.

GETTING READY FOR THE PANCAKE SUPPER

Dr. Harry Shane and William Patton of the St. Johns Exchange Club got the griddle hot last week and whumped up a batch of pancakes in practice for this Saturday and the Exchange Club's annual pancake supper. Serving will be from 5 to 7 p.m. at Smith Hall on West Sickles Street. Profits from the supper will be utilized by the Exchange Club in their youth work.

Get top dollar on your dollars.

Now's the time to switch your savings to 5-5½% certificates.

Five percent is the maximum interest any bank is allowed to pay on time deposits. But at Bank of Lansing, we compound the interest on your 5% savings certificates every minute of every day so you actually receive an effective rate of 5½% at their 46-month maturity. And we'll guarantee to do that for the full 46 months, even if interest rates come down! If you'd prefer a one-year 5% certificate, we'll still compound the interest continuously so that you earn an effective rate of 5½% on your money at maturity. Bank of Lansing savings certificates are available in any amount. And they are insured to $15,000 by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation for maximum security. It's easy to transfer your funds. Switch now and get the guaranteed top dollar on your dollars.

Shepardsville

By LUCILLE SPENCER, Correspondent

Wed 25 years

Mrs Lawrence Walters Jr. and her brothers, Bill and Fred, held an open house at the home of Mrs Walters for their parents, Mr and Mrs Charles Wilson's 25th wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon, March 24, from 2 to 5 p.m. Sixty-eight guests were present from Owosso, Mount Clemens, Madison Heights, K. I. Sawyer AFB, Elsie, Byron, Lansing, Danmister and area residents. In attendance were the members of the original bridal party. Mrs Otto Vaale Jr., maid of honor; Albert Warren, best man and Ralph Miller, brother of the bride, who gave her in marriage. Moving pictures were shown of this ceremony. Serving at the affair were Mrs

Jane Tyler, Mrs Raymond Reha, Mrs Paul Miller, and Mrs Ralph Miller. Mrs Albert Warren, Mrs John Spencer and Miss Pam Veale looked after the gifts and money tree. Marlow Miller and Charles Wilson were united in marriage Sunday March 28, 1943, by Rev E. W. Gay of the Congregational Church. Mr and Mrs Joe Orweller had as Sunday guests their daughters, the Eugene Bellings of Elsie and Mrs Pat Greenfield and Todd of Owosso, Ron Paski was also an afternoon and evening guest. Just a reminder about the dinner for Rev Bob Smith next Sunday at the Main Street Building in Ovid. Rolls and coffee will be furnished. Bring own table service and dish to pass. Those planning to attend are asked to call Mrs Karl Smith by Friday. Mr and Mrs Alfred Cramer spent Monday with Mr and Mrs Paul Cramer of Flint. Mr and Mrs Charles Palen Sr. attended a going away party for Wayne Underhill at his home Saturday evening. He expects to leave soon for the service. Mr and Mrs Rex Baker and twins and Mr and Mrs Rex Allen Baker visited Mr and Mrs Bill Sherman and Aunt Edna at Riverside last Sunday. The Methodist Men's Club met at the church last Monday evening. Due to the small attendance there was no election of officers. Mrs Lulu Emery passed away last Tuesday at the Elliott Nursing home. Mrs Sam Sherwood had the misfortune to get her hand caught in the wringer. She is home but her hand has a large bandage on it. Mrs Dale Squiers and Mrs Charles Swender are to be commended on the fine brochure they assembled for the calling teams to use on their every member visitation two weeks ago. The Ovid-Duplain Library Club will meet at the Shepardsville Church Friday, April 4, for a potluck luncheon at 12:30 Mrs Hubert Hilton, Mrs Clarence Mead and Mrs George Parmenter will be in charge of the program. Mrs Christine Snyder will be in charge of the music. The program will be on Michigan Highways and By-ways. The Berean Circle of the Shepardsville WSCS met Thursday evening, March 21, at the home of Mrs Gweneth Tait. Their silent auction of aprons netted them a small amount for their treasury. Mrs Charles Swender had charge of the program. Her topic was on the American Indian and his heritage. The same office holders were re-elected to serve another year.

Mr and Mrs Orval White entertained their Pedro Club last Saturday night. High prize went to Eda White and low to Elaine Hunt and Donald Sleight. Mr and Mrs Howard Dennis returned home Monday after spending two months in Florida. Mr and Mrs Ray Ketchum spent last Sunday with their son, Mr and Mrs Nelson Ketchum and sons of Waconusta. Mr and Mrs Gerald Barrett and Mr and Mrs Stanley Morrill and son were Sunday dinner guests of Mr and Mrs Lloyd Rosekrans of Bath in honor of Mrs Morrill's birthday. Mr and Mrs Gordon Bailey of Owosso were Sunday afternoon callers of Mr and Mrs Jesse Perkins. Mr and Mrs Orval White received word Saturday that they were great-grandparents of a baby boy born Saturday to Mr and Mrs Clyde Hollandsworth of Mrs Clyde Hollandsworth of Lansing. Mr and Mrs Roy Carr and family of Morrice spent Saturday evening with Mr and Mrs Donald Strouse and sons.

Riley and Olive

By Mrs Goldie Moore

Olive's 4-H Project Club members were very busy the past two weekends participating in the Spring Achievement and Dress Review at Smith Hall and St. Johns High School. They are all to be congratulated for the wonderful work they did this winter on their projects. The March meeting of the Friendly Farmers Farm Bureau Group was held at the home of Mr and Mrs William Fedewa Thursday evening with a very good attendance. Discussion for the meeting was led by Myron Howe. Reports were given by the package reporter and committee woman. Refreshments were served by the hosts. The April meeting will be hosted by Mr and Mrs Dick Howe. Mr and Mrs Ray Moore visited Mr and Mrs Elmer Eltzroth and Mr and Mrs Art Brown of Laingsburg Sunday afternoon. Mr and Mrs Brown returned this week from their winter home in Florida. Billy Stoy visited Mr and Mrs Jim Becker and daughter of near St. Johns over the weekend. Visitors this week of the Ray Moore's were Mr and Mrs Lewis Slin, Mrs Joe Gray, Karin Sommer and Mrs Roy Gibson.

Holy Cross, Holy Trinity swap students

The Holy Trinity School took part in an exchange project with Holy Cross School in Lansing from March 17-23. Fifteen students from the seventh and eighth grades were guests of Holy Cross students while 14 Holy Cross students came to Fowler. The theme of the project was "To Live and Learn!" The process was to promote better understanding of other school worlds and family living with plans to put good ideas learned from the project into action. Health Department reports busy 1967 in 3-county area

The Mid-Michigan District Health Department has reported a busy 1967, its first full year of operation in Clinton, Grafton and Montcalm counties.

Dr. F. W. Smith, medical director of the department, presented his annual report last week which included a numerical listing of activities and persons served in the district.

NURSING DIVISION—Services were as follows: 18 home health service patients, referred by their private doctors for home care, were serviced. Sixty-five Army medical rejectees were referred for services. Approximately 500 children were served under the crippled children program in cooperation with the Division of Services to Crippled Children of the Michigan Department of Public Health.

Active communicable disease program has been carried out with 27 cases of active tuberculosis reported and brought under treatment; 92 cases of gonorrhea reported; 24 cases of primary and secondary syphilis were reported and investigated; 22 cases of rheumatic fever reported; 75 cases of septic sore throat and scarlet fever reported; 34 cases of infectious hepatitis reported and investigated; and only 18 cases of rubella (hard measles) reported—thus demonstrating the value of the use of measles vaccine in our children as a preventive measure," Dr. Smith said.

Well attended immunization clinics were held throughout the district. A total of 31,186 immunizations and TB diagnostic tests were given. Some 6,938 TB skin-tests were done; 3,198 doses of measles vaccine given; 4,297 doses of oral polio vaccine given. A total of 760 chest x-rays were done by the regular scheduled visits of the Michigan Department of Public Health's itinerant unit.

In August 1967 a chest x-ray and diabetes screening program was in operation for 14 days. Some 6,400 chest x-rays were taken and processed; 203 were abnormal—22 were inactive TB; 118 were cardiac and other chest conditions; 4 were new cases of cancer of lung; 24 were normal on follow-up; and on 34 final disposition is still pending. No cases of active TB were found. Some 5,618 blood sugar tests were done for diabetes; 346 cases required follow-up; 53 new diabetics found; 46 potential diabetics; 31 previously known diabetics; 168 were determined normal on follow-up; 48 were no replies, unable to follow.

Hearing and vision screening programs were operated by the health department in all school districts by five hearing and vision technicians and follow-up procedures done by our health department nurses.

Supervisory and leadership roles were given in topical fluoride programs, Head Start, migrant day-care centers, pre-school roundups, day camps and day nurseries—on a community basis.

"We have assisted, consulted, and advised with most of our 17 school districts as regards school health problems, health education programs, compliance with Michigan's 'check-point' law on required immunizations for all school entrants, and many problems concerning health, safety, and welfare of our school children," Dr. Smith reported.

ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH PROGRAMS, January 1967 was the effective date of two new district health department codes—the "Food Code" and the "Sanitary Code." In compliance with these codes 909 septic tank permits were issued, 273 food establishments were inspected and licensed. Two hundred nuisance complaints were received and investigated.

Numerous meetings of environmental health personnel were held with local government bodies, well-drillers, septic tank installers, school officials, camp operators and trailer court operators in order to inform and urge them to comply with all state statutes and local ordinances in relation to construction and maintenance of private sewerage disposal systems, private wells, solid waste disposal, and other hazards of our air, land and water pollution problems. In 1968 a new state plat law and bathing beach law became effective and gives the health department direct responsibilities

Hearing April 9 to OK 'War on poverty' agency

The Clinton County Board of Supervisors will hold a public hearing April 9 on a proposal to designate the Capital Area Economic Opportunities Committee, Inc., as the community action agency representing the county in dealings with federal "war on poverty" program.

The hearing will be at 2:30 p.m. to insure further protection of our environment. "Our entire district area has increasingly urgent needs to develop, expand, and apply better control measures to eradicate old and prevent new sources of pollution to the land we live in, the air we breathe, and the water we drink," Dr. Smith said.

April 9 in the supervisors' room at the courthouse.

The supervisors approved the designation of the committee at their March 4 meeting, but the public hearing is mandatory.

Walt Sowles, executive director of the Capitol Area Economic Opportunities Committee, Inc., told the board a community action agency must be designated before the county can benefit from any federal money programs, including Head Start.

He said the board had the choice of designating the existing (CAEOC) agency, a different agency, themselves as an agency or not naming an agency, in which case the Office of Economic Opportunity would designate one, Supervisor Gerald Shepard of Bath, who is a member of the Capital Area Economic Opportunities Committee offered the motion to accept the existing agency, and the motion passed without opposition.

Smaller units of government such as townships, villages and cities, have the opportunity of removing themselves and designating some other agency to represent them, if they wish, Sowles said.

SUCH DESIGNATION IS important, he said. In 1967 some $11,632,286 in federal money was spent in Clinton County on various programs, including Head Start. He said that out of 11,927 families in the county, about 1,400 are considered poor because of annual earnings of $3,200 or less with four or more members per family.

Sowles defended the committee and the agencies it deals with against critics who point out that most of our money spent is for salaries and little gets to the poor.

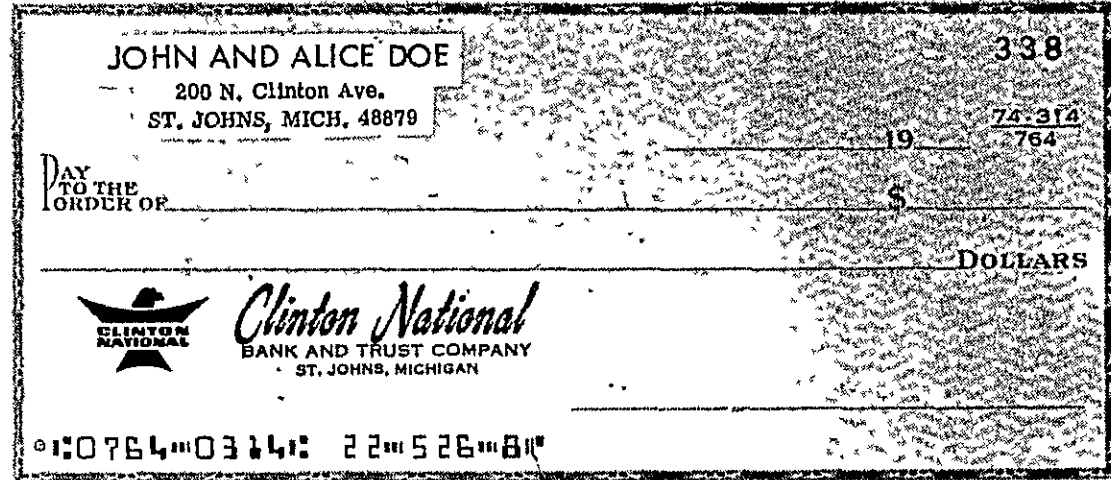

"We don't give any money away," he said. "We are interested in providing economic opportunity," and he said money is spent for salaries, supplies and equipment to set up such programs. "This is not a welfare program."

The Capitol Area Economic Opportunities Committee, Inc., is based in Lansing, but local communications and business are handled through an office with the Mid-Michigan District Health Department in St. Johns.

Home Ec is not just cooking, sewing

By HELEN B. MEACH
Extension Home Economist

Have you heard this? In this modern day there are still folks who think that "home economics" embodies nothing but "cooking and sewing!" Probably the question most often posed by those critical of our home economics as it is taught today becomes, "Is it necessary to teach 'cooking and sewing?'"

Why, of course, it is, but not the "cooking and sewing" of 100 years ago. Today, we try to develop a knowledge of foods in relation to maintaining the health of every individual, in relation to the management of the dollars spent for food, as well as in relation to the pleasures and satisfactions we get from eating meals that are well planned and prepared. The same applies to "sewing." We think in terms of clothing as related to health, economics and personal satisfaction.

TO ENCOURAGE WOMEN to make their greatest contribution by training in Home and Family Living is an ever-changing challenge. We outgrow the terms used to describe our function—Domestic Science, Homemaking, Home Economics, Home and Family Living.

Years ago, when our population was small and engaged in pioneering rural areas, our educational effort was branded "Domestic Science." This term implied the need in education for a scientific approach to the job of creating and managing a home and providing such domestic necessities as food, shelter and clothing (mostly from scratch).

AFTER THE industrial revolution in our country, we reached the stage in our development when we began to depend on folks other than ourselves for the goods and services necessary for running a home. Then the title for our educational effort became "Home Economics."

This might give one the impression that our only concern is for the hard, cold, economic facts of managing a household. To give a "softening" as well as "broadening" aspect, the title "Home and Family Living" evolved, which implies the inclusion of "human relations" in addition to "science" and "economics."

THE MOST CRITICAL critics of our world today is the contest between two ideologies — "Americanism" versus "Communism." Because woman kind inherently, — builds rather than destroys — loves rather than hates — gives birth rather than kills — understands rather than condemns, hers becomes a key responsibility in determining whether we live in a world at peace with one another or whether we destroy ourselves.

We in Home Economics education, whether at the in-school or college level or in the more informal extension types of programs for youth or adults, have much to offer. This, then, becomes our dedication. "We must help women understand their wondrous; to grow in wisdom; to realize their worth."

Mrs Phillip Hopkins of Fowler, Mrs Carl Mosher of St. Johns and Mrs R. L. Wohlers of St. Johns select meatless recipes that are favorites of their families.

Meatless main course dishes

Meals during Lent to many mean macaroni and cheese, tuna fish casseroles or salmon patties. It gets pretty dreary after awhile.

But how would you like to have to fix meatless meals every day of the year?

Many members of the Seventh Day Adventist faith are vegetarians and fix meatless meals every day.

Several of the women who are members of the church here have consented to share some of their recipes which may help make Lenten meals have more variety.

PECAN DRESSING

- 2 c. pecans (broken)
 - 2 c. soft bread crumbs
 - 2/3 c. onion (chopped fine)
 - 1 1/2 c. cream
 - 4 T. butter
 - 1 egg
 - 1 t. salt
 - 1 t. sage
- Mix together. Bake for 1 hour at 375.

PRINCESS LOAF

- 3 T. butter
- 2 T. chopped onion

- 1 T. soy sauce
 - 1 c. tomato puree
 - 2 eggs
 - 1/2 c. cream or evaporated milk
 - 2 c. cooked rice
 - 1 c. dry bread crumbs
 - 1/2 c. ground walnuts
 - salt to taste
- Saute onions in butter. Add soy sauce, tomato puree and cream, then add rice, bread crumbs and nuts. Beat eggs and add. Mix well. Bake for 1/2 hour at 350. Serve with mushroom soup as a gravy.

SWEDISH PROTEIN BALLS

- 4 eggs, beaten
 - 1 c. grated mild cheddar cheese
 - 3/4 c. whole wheat bread crumbs
 - 1/4 c. quick oats (uncooked)
 - 1/2 c. chopped walnuts
 - 2 T. minced onion
 - 2 T. minced green pepper
 - 2 T. celery leaves (chopped)
 - 2 T. cooking oil
- Season to taste.

Saute celery, peppers and onions in oil. Combine with other ingredients. Red food coloring (1/2 t.) may be added to give a pink tint. Make into balls of 1 1/2 inches and brown lightly in oil. Put in baking dish and cover with:

SWEDISH GRAVY: Stir 1/4 c. flour, 1 t. paprika, 1/2 t. salt into 2 T. hot oil. Stir in 2 c. boiling water and 3/4 c. sour cream. Season with soy sauce. Pour over meat balls. Bake for 20-25 minutes at 350.

COTTAGE CHEESE ROAST

- 2 lbs. small curd cottage cheese
 - 5-6 eggs
 - 1 c. bread crumbs
 - 1 large onion (minced)
 - 2 t. Tastex mixed with butter (can substitute 2 t. soy sauce)
 - 1/4 t. Accent
- Mix together. Put in greased baking dish and bake 45 minutes to 1 hour or until golden brown at 325.

CHEESE BEAN LOAF

- 1 c. kidney beans
 - 1/2 lb. American cheese
 - 1 onion
 - 1 T. butter
 - 1 c. bread crumbs
 - salt to taste
 - 2 eggs (well beaten)
- Pour beans and cheese through food grinder. Brown minced onion in butter and add to mixture. Add well beaten eggs, bread crumbs and seasoning. Form in loaf and bake for 45 minutes or until brown at 350. Serve with tomato sauce.

EGG CASSEROLE

- 6 hard boiled eggs (chopped coarse)
- Add:
- 1/2 c. buttered crumbs
 - 1/4 c. green onions
 - 1/4 c. stuffed olives
 - 1/4 c. (small can) button mushrooms
 - 1 c. salad dressing
 - 3/4 c. milk or cream top with 1/2 c. bread crumbs. Bake 20-30 minutes at 350. Very attractive when baked in individual dishes.

WALNUT ROAST

- 1 c. nuts
 - 8 medium size potatoes (cooked)
 - 2 eggs
 - 6 crackers
 - 2 small onions
 - 2 T. oleo or cooking oil
 - sage
 - 1 t. salt
 - 2 T. milk (or enough to make mixture the consistency of a thick gravy)
- Put nutmeats, potatoes and onions through a food grinder. Add the rest of the ingredients and mix well. Put in a greased baking dish. Bake for 1 hour at 350.

SPECIAL K ROAST

- 6 eggs
 - 6 c. Special K
 - 1/2 c. nuts
 - 1 pkg. onion soup mix
 - 2 lbs. cottage cheese
 - 1/4 c. melted butter
- Mix all ingredients together and put in a greased baking dish. Bake for 1 hour at 350.

CASHEW ENTREE

- Saute:
 - 1 c. onion
 - 1 c. finely sliced celery
 - 1 4-oz. can mushrooms
- Add:
- 1 No. 2 can chinese noodles
 - 1 1/2 c. raw cashews (broken)
 - 1 can mushroom soup
 - 1 soup can of mushroom liquid plus water
- very little, if any, salt. Bake in long flat baking dish for 45-60 minutes at 350.

BOSTON NUT LOAF

- 1 c. whole wheat (or white) bread (finely cut)
 - 1 c. celery (cut fine)
 - 1/2 c. parsley (chopped)
 - 1 c. sour apples (diced)
 - sage to taste
 - 1/2 c. milk
 - 2 T. oil
 - 2 eggs
 - 1 c. walnuts
 - 1 t. onion (minced)
- Braise onions and celery in oil. Mix with rest of ingredients and bake for 1 hour at 350 in oiled pan. Baste often with hot water and a little butter.
- MORE MEATLESS RECIPES NEXT WEEK.

April Showers style show slated Apr. 4

Final plans are being made for the April Showers Fashion Show to be held in the Fowler High School gymnasium, Thursday, April 4, at 8 p.m. The show is being sponsored by the Christian Mothers of Holy Trinity parish. It is the first undertaking of this sort for them.

Mrs Margaret Thelen is acting as the general chairman. FASHIONS FROM DURKEE'S and the Julie K of St. Johns will be shown.

Prizes totaling $150 will be awarded.

Mrs May Rose Armbrustmacher will narrate the show. Working on the other committees are Mrs Kay Hufnagel and Mrs Roseann Feldpausch, models; Mrs Louise Feldpausch and Mrs Eileen Thelen, decorations; Mrs Agnes Schomisch and Mrs Rosie Feldpausch, publicity; Mrs Rosemary Schafer and Mrs Josephine Thelen, refreshments; Mrs Odella Feldpausch and Mrs Odella Thelen, prizes.

Sharon Niswonger, Alan Couling, Joe Wells, Denny Bauer and Norma Bauer of the Merry Mixers work on decorations for the Zodiac Dance Saturday evening.

Zodiac dance at DeWitt Saturday

To celebrate their second anniversary, the DeWitt Merry Mixers are hosting a Zodiac Dance Saturday, March 30, at the DeWitt Senior High School.

The affair will begin at 8:30 and last until 11:30 p.m. Those attending will have to dance under their sign of the zodiac in order to win their Charlotte Twirlers and Russ Farr of the DeWitt Merry Mixers.

THE DEWITT MIXERS, a Western style square dance group, expect at least 400 to attend this year's anniversary dance. There will be three callers, Les Fuhrman of the Lansing Shindiggers, Chuck Wilbur of the Charlotte Twirlers and Russ Farr of the DeWitt Merry Mixers.

OFFICERS OF THE club are Alan and Donna Couling are president; Tom and Lois Kromer, vice president; Chuck and Barb LaMacchia, treasurer; Russ and Jo Janz, secretary and Arnold and Ruth Ordway, federation delegates. The Mixers are affiliated with the Lansing Area Federation of Square and Round Dancers.

IN ORDER TO ATTEND the anniversary dance or any of the other regularly scheduled dances of which there are two each month, one must have completed a 15 lesson course. There are two sessions offered every year, one in the fall and one in the winter. The classes last two hours each and it is not at all unusual to see members there who have already graduated learning new steps or brushing up on others.

The Mixers hold regular dances the second and fourth Saturday evenings of each month at the DeWitt Junior High School. On the Saturday evenings when they do not have dances they attend dances held by other Western square dance groups in the area.

A LITTLE OVER two years ago there were only four couples in the DeWitt Merry Mixers now there are 20. More will be added to the group as another graduation is to take place May 1.

Dancers at the second anniversary dance being held by the DeWitt Merry Mixers Saturday evening will have to dance under their sign of the zodiac.

Funds cut for P-W summer programs

PEWAMO-WESTPHALIA — The Pewamo-Westphalia School District will receive only $6,084 in federal Title I money this year due to decreased federal appropriations to Michigan.

This is $2,000 less than received last year. Supt. William Steinke said the appropriation will be used for a follow up Head Start program, a reading, arts and crafts program and a mathematics and orientation project.

The six-week summer session runs from June 25 through Aug. 2 and students will be in class four days weekly, Tuesday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to noon. Supplies, equipment and transportation will be furnished at no cost to parents.

Steinke said the follow-up Head Start objectives are to learn and develop hygienic habits, to develop muscular coordination through rhythm games and exercises, to learn to rest, share with others and similar social assets, to learn to develop skills in cutting, painting, coloring and pasting, and to learn proper and acceptable social manners.

Reading and mathematics students in the program will receive individual help. Those in the arts and crafts class will be involved in handicraft, woodcraft, leather craft, painting, sketches and paper-maches.

Guidance and counseling will be provided by the orientation phase to eighth graders who will be enrolled at the high school in the fall. Testing and discussion of subjects will be discussed.

Sixty students from both the public and parochial schools, (St. Mary's and St. Joseph's Catholic Schools) in the Pewamo-Westphalia area will be served. Selection of participants will be on basis of individual need through recommendation by teachers and principals.

Tuesday evening the 500 Club was entertained by Mrs. Veronica Arens.

During the past week a basement was dug for the new home being built by Mr and Mrs Alvin Pohl.

Mr and Mrs Gene Geller and family spent the weekend with their parents, Mr and Mrs Joseph Martin and Mr and Mrs Herman Geller.

ATTEND DEANERY MEETING.

Those attending the deanery meeting on Wednesday at Immaculate Heart of Mary parish in Lansing were Mrs. Aloystus Fedewa, Mrs. Leonard Schneider, Mrs. Fred Theis, Mrs. Jerome Smith, Mrs. Edwin Schneider, Mrs. Harold Fedewa, Mrs. Marion Pline, Mrs. Harold Martin, Mrs. Joe Fedewa, Mrs. Walter Thelen and Mrs. John Droste. New Deanery Council officers were elected at this meeting. Elected to an office from this area was Mrs. Jerome Smith, she will serve as third vice president.

Mr and Mrs Norman Smith and family moved into their new home on Willow Street during the past weekend.

The Daniel Weber family of Saginaw spent the weekend with their parents, Mr and Mrs Walter Keilen and Mr and Mrs Louis Weber of Fowler.

Melvin Schneider underwent surgery at Sparrow Hospital Monday.

Mrs. Marian Belen entertained the Bridge Club Wednesday evening.

Friends gathered at the home of Mr and Mrs Dick Helbeck Friday evening to surprise them with a house warming.

Mr and Mrs Ray Rowell of Fowler became the parents of an 8 pound 11 ounce son born March 21 at Carson City Hospital. Mrs. Rowell is the former Catherine Knoop, daughter of Mr and Mrs Albert Knoop. The little boy was named Bruce Michael.

Mr and Mrs Clarence Manning became the grandparents of a daughter born to Mr and Mrs Roger Manning of Portland March 17 at St. Lawrence Hospital.

COMMUNION BREAKFAST
The communion breakfast sponsored by the Christian Mothers Fraternity was not held last Sunday and everyone is reminded that the breakfast has been rescheduled for Sunday, March 31, following the 11:45 mass. Tickets will be sold at the door only.

TORNADO AGREEMENT

With tornado season just around the corner and with vivid memories of last year's April tornado which ravaged this area, public and parochial school officials are joining together in an alert arrangement.

Kenneth Platte of St. Mary Catholic School asked public school board members to alert parochial school administrators in event of a tornado. Public school officials are usually alerted by area civil defense officials. The school board agreed.

MISS KEILEN TO WED
Mr and Mrs Herbert Keilen of R-2, Portland, announce the engagement of their daughter, Jane, to Victor F. Voisinet. He is the son of Mr and Mrs Victor B. Voisinet of R-5, St. Johns.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Pewamo-Westphalia High School and Capital Beauty Academy. She is employed at Dodgson's Beauty Salon. The prospective bridegroom was graduated from Resurrection High School of Lansing and is employed by Fisher Body of Lansing.

A Sept. 14 wedding is being planned.

Mr and Mrs James Nurenberg and family are now occupying the home left vacant by Mr and Mrs Celester Fedewa, who recently moved to Fowler. During the past week Mr and Mrs Varvin Spitzley and family moved into the home left vacant by the Nurenberg family.

There will be a home school council meeting Thursday evening, starting at 8 p.m. at the parish hall.

Mr and Mrs William Ernst were Friday afternoon visitors of Edward Pasch of St. Johns.

Mr and Mrs Robert Taylor and baby visited Mrs. Edna Wata-maker Tuesday. They were enroute from Boston, Mass., to California.

Mrs. Edmund Falk spent Tuesday with her sister, Mrs. Arthur Martens and her niece, Mrs. Melvin Argersinger and children of St. Johns.

Mr and Mrs Erwin Tiedt returned home Monday, March 18, from their vacation trip to Florida.

Mr and Mrs William Ernst and Maxine spent Sunday evening with Mr and Mrs Louis Moritz and family.

By ROBERT ELDRIDGE
Road Clerk

Due to the open winter so far, our construction crew has been able to haul a great deal of sand and gravel on two road building projects. On Chandler Road between Round Lake and Alward roads and on French Road between Upton and Hol-lister roads the sand lift and gravel fill stage is all completed.

Later in the season, when this material is well compacted, it is planned to apply the asphalt mat and complete these projects. Earlier in the winter the sand and gravel stage was completed on Krepps Road in Olive Township and this too should be completed this coming summer.

On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday morning (March 5, 6 and 7), the commission, Mr. Haske and myself attended the 53rd annual Michigan Highway Conference in Grand Rapids. This conference is sponsored by the Michigan Department of State Highways, the Michigan Municipal League, the University of Michigan and the County Road Association of Michigan. The purpose of the conference was to bring together state, county and city engineers and officials for a discussion of questions and problems in the public interest—such interest being also of primary concern to all these people.

A talk on electronic systems for aiding drivers was of particular interest to me. One was described that will guide a driver on a long trip over a pre-determined route. If a wrong turn should be made, the system will immediately correct the driver and give information for getting back on the right path. Two discussions of the airports in St. Clair and Marquette counties were also of much interest. The economic impact of the installations in both of these areas has been and continues to be unusually large, due mostly to their unique locations. The Marquette Airport is in the middle of the large Upper Peninsula land area and St. Clair is on the fringe of the Wayne County metropolitan spread and is used as a port of entry for foreign travel and commerce.

Paul Nobis, our board chairman, received recognition for his interest and ability in dealing with road commission problems by being elected to the directorate of the County Road Association of Michigan. This is an association whose membership consists of all the road commissions in the state and which acts as a clearing house for information on matters affecting these bodies. It also concerns itself with pertinent legislation on roads and related subjects.

At the regular meeting on the Board of Clinton County Road Commissioners last Monday, bids were opened on four used trucks that had been advertised for sale. The response to this advertising for bids was quite unusual; some 13 different bids were received ranging from a low of $230 per unit to a high of $1,180. Although two of the trucks were equipped with scraper underbodies and snow plows, no bids were received from any of the small municipalities in the area. One area school placed a bid on one of these latter units with the intention of using it for training a vocational education class in the use of this type of equipment as well as maintaining their own drives and playing fields in the process.

Bids were also opened at this meeting for weed spray and the application thereof and for highway marking paint, glass beads and the application of these items also. In case you didn't already know, the glass beads are extremely tiny beads and are mixed with the highway marking paint. These beads act as tiny reflectors and cause the markings to stand out after dark when the headlights of your auto shine on them.

It is hoped that all county black-top roads can be center striped this summer. All bids on these products were tabled for further consideration and awards will be made sometime this next week.

Roads are beginning to break up badly in many parts of the county due to the frost coming out so rapidly. However, this is not all bad; the sooner the frost leaves the more quickly the ground will settle and the roadbeds can be worked back in place. A good heavy rain to complete the process would be much appreciated right now and a heavy, wet slushy snowfall would be about the worst thing that could happen generally to the gravel roads hereabouts. We are hoping for the rain, not the snow.

The heavy snow of last Friday night and Saturday came quickly and is leaving almost as fast. Snow removal crews worked all weekend pushing the white stuff off the roads—primarily to prevent an accumulation of water on the gravel roads as most roads did remain passable during the storm.

With the snow off, the chances of their drying quickly and staying in passable condition are much better than it would have been with a couple inches of slushy snow. Salting crews worked on intersections during the storm and on the highways afterward. Generally speaking, it does little good to apply salt to a highway during a snow storm, especially if the wind is blowing, as the salt tends to make the snow adhere to the surface in windswept areas and creates a greater hazard than it would without the salt.

The frost is not yet out of the ground and, until it is out, we can expect a continued breakup of the roads. The frost leaving the ground causes water to come out with it and, in spots where the water cannot readily get away the presence of this water causes the road to break up. On black-top roads, the frost forcing the water out of the ground often creates enough pressure to crack the surface. The weight of traffic then causes the black-top to crumble and soon holes are formed. These holes cannot be successfully patched until the water leaves and the area dries out. On gravel road break-ups, it usually does little good to put gravel in the hole until the water is drained away and the area is at least partially dried out.

Our greatest effort right now is to keep the roads graded and leveled off so that this surfacing water will run off and be quickly dissipated.

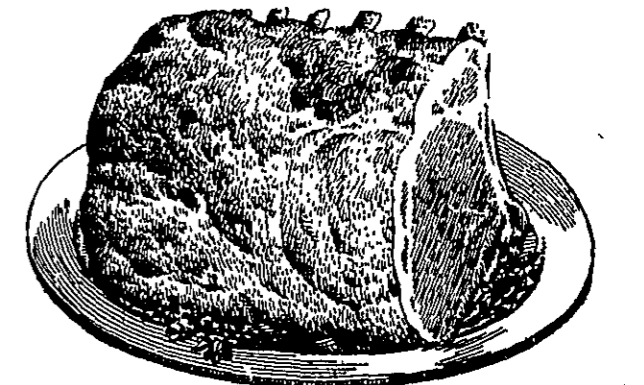

Admittedly, there are a bad break-ups in various parts of the county but, for the most part, the roads are not too bad so far and, weather permitting, we feel they should get better with the care our crews are giving them.

During the last regular school year, more than 15,000 Michigan youngsters and their teachers learned first-hand about natural resources by camping in outdoor centers managed by the Conservation Department. They came from more than 150 schools representing over 50 school districts.

Michigan schools manage 627 school forests containing a total of 67,264 acres of forest land where conservation education and forest management are practiced. Holdings vary from one to 1,880 acres.

86 at Girl Scout birthday party

There were 86 present for the potluck supper served last week Saturday evening at the new Eureka School gym where the Eureka Girl Scouts held their banquet, in honor of the Girl Scout birthday which was March 12.

The invocation was given by Cadettes Kathy Eastment and Linda Waggoner. The 16 Brownies with their leader Mrs Hubbard put on several skits and a musical dance.

The candlelighting ceremony was in charge of the seven juniors and their leader, Mrs Graham, Mrs Ferrall awarded badges to them. Mrs Waggoner awarded the Cadettes with their badges and year pins, "Girl Scouts Together" was led by Cadettes Ann Graham and Linda Waggoner in the group singing.

Mrs Ronald Hubbard and her 16 brownies, Mrs James Graham and Mrs. Robert Ferral, seven of their Juniors, and Mrs Gordon Waggoner with five of the cadettes and the parents of the girls saw a film strip on the Camp Grounds of Deer Trails.

Mrs Gordon Waggoner with five of the cadettes and the parents of the girls saw a film strip on the Camp Grounds of Deer Trails.

GRENBUSH TOWNSHIP RESIDENTS

Do you realize that $400 of your tax dollars have been wasted on useless grass fires in the past six weeks?

Do you know that it is illegal to start a fire in the open without a burning permit?

Do you know that you are responsible for the expense of a fire department run, plus a fine for an illegally set fire?

Let's stop this useless waste of your tax dollars!

Stop setting grass fires!

Remember every $100 wasted is $100 less road construction!

County Line News
By Mrs Doris Fisher

Mr and Mrs Gill Baker spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs L. H. Evtis in Eureka.

Mr and Mrs James Fisher and family were Saturday evening supper guests of Mr and Mrs Gerald Brown of Saginaw.

Mr and Mrs Dorrence Patterson of St. Johns and Mr and Mrs Gordon Patterson of Ashley were Sunday callers of their parents, Mr and Mrs Harry Patterson.

Mr and Mrs William Burnham and family of Pompeii spent Sunday evening with Mr and Mrs Gill Baker and family.

This community was saddened Monday to hear that Earl Howell of County Line Road passed away at a Lansing hospital.

Mr and Mrs Richard Sloat of Carland announce the engagement of their daughter, Lenis Lee, to Everett Reneaud of Lansing, son of Mrs Everett Reneaud of Clay's Fork and the late Mr Reneaud. The couple plans a June 29 wedding in the Carland Methodist Church.

Mr and Mrs Archie Moore of Carland were callers in Elsie recently to wish their son, Archie, his wife and little son a nice trip. They left for a three week vacation in Jacksonville, Fla. and other points of interest in the state.

Mr and Mrs James Glass of Berrien Springs spent the weekend in Carland with relatives.

Fred Moore and son, James, spent a recent Saturday in Carland with Mr and Mrs Archie Moore.

Courage at Dusk

We live longer today! But, thanks to pension plans, bond-a-month savings, retirement income policies, social security, etc., a man can retire—and still cash a check.

Years ago couples had a harder struggle to prepare for the later years. The security they sought was spiritual as well as material. And even as they toiled to earn and save... they worshipped God... they trained their children in the faith... they relied on their Bibles, their prayers, and their beliefs.

But when dusk came, they possessed a kind of courage that no check will provide. Times haven't changed. To possess that kind of courage in the later years, a couple must begin in the early years to seek and serve God in the life of the Church.

Capt. Edward Lenon of the Michigan State Police, civil defense division, hands a check for $19,380 to Clinton County Treasurer Velma Beaufore while civil defense Director Charles Frost (left) and County Clerk Ernest Carter look on. The check was for the federal government's share of the additional cost of the civil defense emergency operating center in the courthouse.

County gets $19,380 from Uncle Sam for CD EDC

It looked like a federal income tax refund check, but the $19,380.36 check turned over to the county treasurer last Friday morning represented the federal government's share of the cost for Clinton County's civil defense emergency operating center.

Hopefully, the EOC has completed its biggest battle, that of merely becoming a reality. But as Capt. Edward Lenon, deputy director for the Civil Defense Department of Michigan State Police, puts it, "now this offers a center to operate from in case of emergency, no matter how serious."

The merits of a civil defense operating center were debated for several years, actually, before the board of supervisors finally agreed to build the EOC in the basement of the new east wing. As an emergency operating center, its design was somewhat regulated by federal rules. The roof of the center had to be so much heavier than normal, the walls so much thicker, etc.

Even after the center was approved and finished, supervisors debated whether or not to accept federal matching funds for the additional cost that went into the east wing in order to make the EOC what it should be. They finally voted down a motion to reject federal funds, and on Feb. 28 County Clerk Ernest Carter completed the application for the federal reimbursement.

The amount of the check which Capt. Lenon presented to County Treasurer Velma Beaufore Friday morning was $19,380.36, meaning the extra cost of putting the EOC into the building was $38,760.72.

"It couldn't happen to a nicer county," Clerk Carter commented.

"Emergency operating centers are an extremely important part of civil defense responsibility in every county," Capt. Lenon said in agreeing with Carter. "The Civil Defense Department of the State Police is happy to see the EOC in Clinton County become a reality, and I know the national office is pleased, too."

Clinton County civil defense Director Charles Frost is pleased, too. He has advocated the EOC for about four years. But he pointed out last week the EOC itself is now complete but no provisions have yet been made for emergency radio equipment and other such items for the center.

Although the EOC would, in effect, be a fallout shelter in case of nuclear war, its primary purpose is a central operating center for county officials to work from and maintain as many of the vital services as possible.

Clinton is one of only about 16 counties in the state that now have emergency operating centers for county officials. In this immediate area, Ingham County recently completed and equipped an EOC, Shiawassee and Eaton counties are working on such facilities, and Montcalm has one. Gratiot, Saginaw and Ionia counties don't have EOC units yet.

Middlebury

By Mrs Don Warren
Phone 834-5020

The Middlebury WSCS will hold a rummage sale in the Bates building in Ovid beginning Monday, April 1 and continuing through April 13.

Sgt. Jon T. Warren spent the weekend at Tampa, Fla., participating in exercise for the Michigan Air National Guard.

There will be a Lenten family night supper at the Middlebury Church Thursday, March 28, at 7:30 p.m. The guest speaker will be Rev George Somers, a missionary from India, who will speak and show slides of his work. Bring own table service, sandwiches and passing dishes. Potatoes and coffee will be furnished.

Duane Whitmyer received the Silver State Farmer Degree at the FFA Convention Thursday evening at MSU. Mrs Richard Whitmyer attended the program.

Miss Julie Warren spent several days last week at the C. Packey home of Harper Woods.

The community extends sincere sympathy to the Smiths, Mr and Mrs Robert Mulder and Claud Splees in the loss of their loved one.

Word has been received here that Mrs Edna Warren, who is spending the winter with her son in Maryland, has suffered a slight stroke again.

Bridgeville

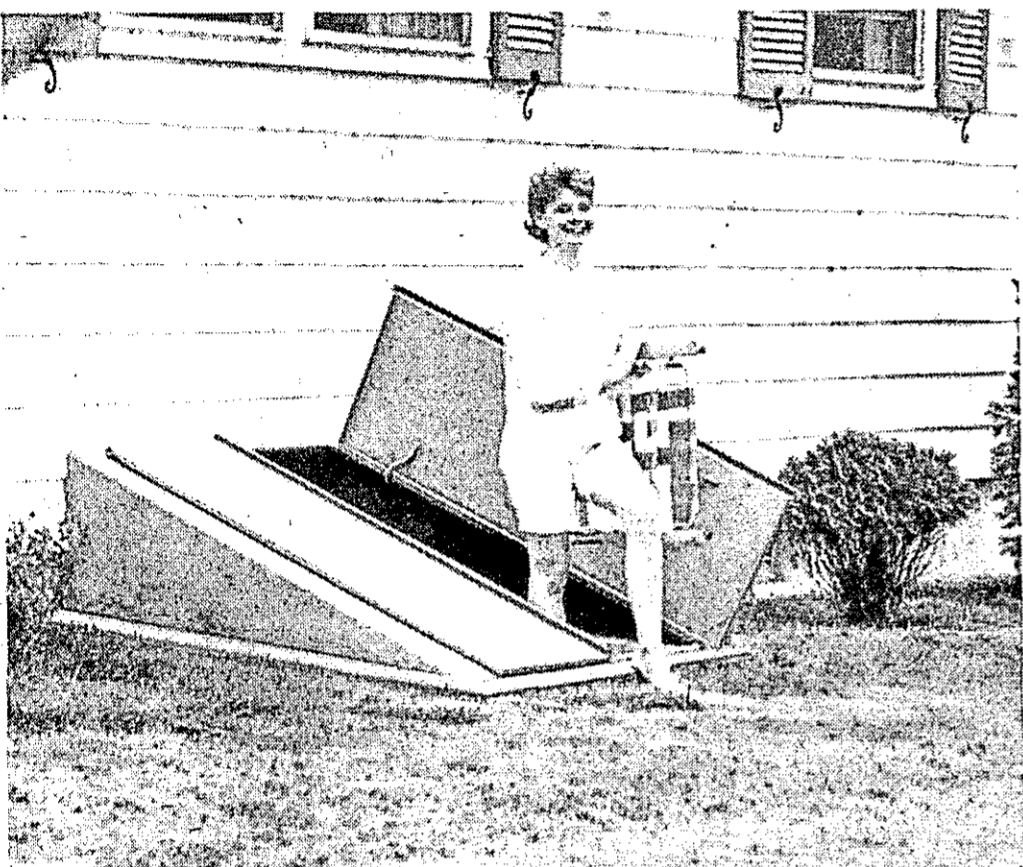

By Mrs Thelma Woodbury

(omitted last week)

Doris Perkey and Florence Langdon of Owosso spent Sunday afternoon with Mr and Mrs Henry Schmid Sr. and Mrs Linda Skinner. Mrs Thelma Woodbury was also an afternoon caller.

The Viet Nam honor roll

They serve our nation

Names and mailing addresses of Clinton County men serving in the Armed Forces in Viet Nam will be published in this column on a periodic basis. Parents and friends of soldiers serving there are invited to send us their names and addresses so that they may be published. The listings will be repeated periodically, so this newspaper should be alerted to any changes of address. We do reserve this listing for only those members of our armed services actually serving in Viet Nam.

THE CALENDAR SAID IT WAS SPRING, BUT . . .

Tom Lewis, St. Johns barber, didn't think it looked like spring when he left for work Saturday morning. The necessity of shoveling sidewalks of the fluffy white stuff was all too reminiscent of winter. About six inches of snow fell during the night Friday and most of Saturday, but it melted rapidly Sunday and Monday under the affects of sunshine and temperatures in the 40s. Saturday was just an echo of winter.

Proceedings of the Clinton County Board of Supervisors

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1968

The Board of Supervisors of Clinton County met on the above date at 10 a.m. Prayer was offered by Elden Smith. A pledge of allegiance was given to the flag. Roll was called and a quorum reported. Minutes of the last session were read and approved. Chairman Shinabery introduced Ernest Carter as the appointed Clerk and wished him well in his new position.

Supervisor Smith then introduced Gerald Lankford as appointed Supervisor from the city of DeWitt and Ernest Carter introduced Herman Openlander as appointed Supervisor from Watertown Township.

A note of thanks from the family of Paul Wakefield and also former Supervisor Fred Culy were read.

A letter from Capt. Edward Lenon, Deputy State Civil Defense Director, offering assistance in preparing the request for reimbursement of funds for the Civil Defense Center was read and upon motion by Clark, supported by Smith, the Clerk was authorized to seek this assistance and prepare the necessary forms.

A resolution from Cheboygan County on Michigan's lower Court System was read. It was moved by Norman Thelen, supported by Setterington, that we concur with this resolution and that copies be sent to our Legislators. After some discussion, a motion was made by Gove, supported by Barks, to table the resolution until later in the day. This motion carried.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, Michigan's present lower Court system has for many years past proved itself equitably effective; providing its citizens with economical, easily accessible, convenient and informal justice,

AND WHEREAS, that many "Bills" which have been considered by the 1967 Legislature, when judged by the above criteria, appeared to this Clinton County Board of Supervisors to be much more costly and little, if any, improvement over the presently established system.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that this Clinton County Board of Supervisors hereby records itself as favoring a continuation of substantially, our present lower Court system with, however, certified salaries (salaries locally determined) judicial personnel, elected by the people; within the framework of Sec. 26, Article 6 of the Constitution if possible.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that if said continuation is determined to be constitutionally prohibited, this Board endorses and recommends that any needed, enabling constitutional amendment be presented to the people at the earliest possible moment.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that copies of this Resolution be sent to Governor Romney, Senator Emil Lockwood, Representatives Blair C. Woodman and Lester J. Allen, Michigan Township Association, William E. Dennison, Secretary-Treasurer Michigan State Association of Supervisors.

A resolution from Baraga County on The Pearson Act relative to Forest Reserve's and Rec. use of lands was read and upon motion by Shepard, supported by Clerk, it was voted and carried that we concur with this resolution, and that copies be sent to our Legislators.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, It has come to the attention of the Clinton County Board of Supervisors that certain lands under the Commercial Forest Reserve Act may not come within the statutory qualifications for entitlement under the Act by virtue of being valuable lake or resort properties; and,

WHEREAS, The Michigan Department of Conservation has the authority by virtue of the Act to withdraw lands from the said Act when the same do not conform with the requirements of said Act; and,

WHEREAS, It has come to the attention of said Board of Supervisors that lands are being placed under the effect of said Act by individuals whose intent is solely to avoid ad valorem taxation and the penalties for withdrawal do not reflect an adequate compensation to the local municipalities at the time of said withdrawal; and,

WHEREAS, The said Commercial Forest Reserve Act has not kept pace in the method of compensating local municipalities for the loss of ad valorem taxes and should be updated to meet the growing needs of government services;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Clinton County Board of Supervisors being duly convened, goes on record requesting the State Legislature to set up a special committee to study the effect of the Pearson Act on local government; to provide for new rules and regulations to prohibit the inclusion of property within the Act which has more value as resort property and to provide that all lands under the Act should be posted, indicating that they are open to hunting and fishing by the people.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that copies of this resolution be forwarded to the Honorable George Romney, Governor of the State of Michigan, Honorable Emil Lockwood, State Senator, Honorable Blair C. Woodman and Lester J. Allen, State Representatives. A resolution also from Baraga County relative to certification of Supervisors and assessors was read. It was moved by Clark, supported by Hufnagel that this resolution be tabled. Motion carried.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, every member of the Clinton County Board of Supervisors received a copy of Senate Bill 244 introduced February 23, 1967, relative to the Certification of the Supervisor and Assessor by the State Tax Commission, and

WHEREAS, such a bill would take the authority of electing or appointing the Supervisor and Assessor from the people of local government and placing this authority in the hands of the State Tax Commission or some other appointed authority, and

WHEREAS, the Clinton County Board of Supervisors believe that the people of local government have the ability to elect or appoint their Supervisor or Assessor and also are intelligent enough to know whether or not the people they elect or appoint are capable of performing the duties of the office to which they are elected or appointed, and

WHEREAS, as the ad valorem tax is the only tax left in the hands of local government we feel the qualifications of the Supervisor and Assessor should also be left to the discretion of the elected or electors of local government.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the Clinton County Board of Supervisors go on record as opposing any State law which requires that the Supervisor or Assessor be certified by the State, or any Commission outside of the unit of the government which the Supervisor and Assessor shall serve.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, THAT COPIES OF THIS Resolution be sent to Governor George Romney, State Senator Emil Lockwood, State Representatives Blair C. Woodman and Lester J. Allen, W. E. Dennison, Secretary-Treasurer, Michigan State Association of Supervisors.

A resolution from Ingham County on Act 156 on storage and disposal of junk cars was read. It was moved by Shepard, supported by Setterington, that we concur with this resolution. Motion carried. Walter Thelen reporting for joint committees on the printing of county ordinances under the new Subdivision Act stated that 500 copies at a cost of $250.00 had been ordered and that the books were of a loose leaf type so that supplementary regulations could be added. It was moved by Barks, supported by Howe, that the price will be $2.00 each including the supplements. Motion carried.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, on October 16, 1967, the Law Enforcement Committee of this Board of Supervisors reported to this Board the procedures for handling automobiles abandoned by the owners on either public or private property, still unresolved is the question of proper enactment and enforcement of local ordinances and regulations in order to prevent the unsightly and unaesthetic accumulation of "junk" automobiles, trailers, industrial equipment and the like, upon private property with the consent of the owner of said property; and

WHEREAS, this Committee had reviewed the power and authority of this Board of Supervisors to pass an ordinance to regulate said "junk" cars, and is of the opinion, after consultation with the Prosecuting Attorney, that the ordinance power provided by law for boards of supervisors under the terms of Section 11 of Act No. 156 of the Public Acts of 1851, as amended (MSA 5.331) is totally inadequate to allow local boards of supervisors to deal with this problem, as well as many other problems of concern to county government, due to its requirement that any ordinance passed by a county must relate "to purely county affairs" and that it "shall not interfere with the local affairs of any township, incorporated city or village within the limits of such county";

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Clinton County Board of Supervisors urges the Governor and the Legislature to:

1. Amend Section 11 of Act No. 156 of the Public Acts of 1851, as amended (MSA 5.331), to provide greater authority for counties to, by ordinance, deal with problems of county-wide concern; and
2. Provide for a state law regulating and controlling the storage and disposal of "junk" automobiles upon private property in an effective and legal fashion; and/or
3. Provide by state law legislation which would enable counties, or other local units of government, to control the storage and disposal of "junk" automobiles; and
4. Provide misdemeanor penalties for any person abandoning his automobile either on public or private property.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that copies of this resolution be forwarded to State Representatives Blair C. Woodman and Lester J. Allen, and Senator Emil Lockwood.

A bill from Michigan State Association of Supervisors requesting an additional payment of $300.00 for 1968 dues was presented. It was moved by Shepard, supported by Norman Thelen, voted and carried to pay this bill.

Supervisor Hufnagel, reporting for Civil Defense recommended and moved re-hiring C. Frost as Civil Defense Director retroactive to February 1, 1968, supported by Moore. A motion by Smith, supported by Barks, to table until the p.m. and to include in the motion a salary recommendation carried.

A motion by Howe, supported by Hufnagel, to accept the resignation of Bernard Zeeb as a member of the County Road Commission was voted and carried.

The Chairman then opened the meeting for nominations to fill the unexpired term of Commissioner Zeeb. Nelson nominated Robert Zeeb. Reed nominated Dale Chapman, Walter Thelen nominated Marvin Platte, Gove nominated Russell Morrison and Underhill nominated Stanley Morrill. It was moved by Nelson, supported by Moore, that nominations be closed. Voted and carried. After considerable discussion a vote by ballot was taken. Chairman Shinabery appointed Austin and Clark as tellers. Robert Zeeb received 2 votes, Dale Chapman received 6 votes, Marvin Platte received 9 votes, Russell Morrison received 1 vote and Stanley Morrill received 3 votes. Chairman declared Marvin Platte appointed.

Chairman Shinabery presented a resolution honoring John Setterington and it was moved by Clark and unanimously supported by all present. Voted and carried to adopt said resolution and to record it in the minutes.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Clinton County, State of Michigan:

Whereas John Setterington has served on this Board representing Essex Township for 38 consecutive years,

And whereas he has served well and faithfully on all committees of this board,

And whereas he has contributed much to Clinton County in his capacity as supervisor,

We resolve to proclaim March 4, 1968 to be John Setterington Day.

And further resolve that John Setterington be and is hereby elected as honorary Acting Chairman of this Board for our regular meeting on March 4, 1968.

And further that an appropriate plaque be prepared and presented to him on that date.

Further that this resolution become a part of the minutes of this meeting and so recorded.

Respectfully presented,
DERRILL SHINABERY
Chairman Protem

Supervisor Shepard reporting for the 6th District meeting for assessors and Board of Review members to be held at Smith Hall Monday, February 26th. The Chairman referred the making arrangements of this to the Public Relations Committee.

Supervisor Shepard also reporting for the Equalization Committee stated that Lorenz Tiedt had been hired as Equalization Director and recommended that an assistant be hired (within the salary range No 8, $8,000.00 to $9,000.00) to assist him. Shepard moved and Hufnagel supported to concur with committee recommendation. Voted and carried.

Supervisor Mayers reporting for the Records Committee recommended that the task of listing and cataloging all machines and equipment owned by the County be delegated to the County Clerk and that the necessary help to accomplish this be given him as a previous motion to authorize this is on record, no motion was deemed necessary.

It was moved by Hufnagel, supported by Shepard, that Supervisors' expense accounts be allowed as presented. Voted and carried.

The Chairman then declared a recess until 1:30 p.m. A resignation from Ernest Carter as Chairman of the Board was read by the Chairman, moved by Gove and supported by Clark, to accept the same and place on file. It was then moved by Barks, supported by Setterington, that Derrill Shinabery be named Chairman to complete the unexpired term of Ernest Carter. Voted and carried.

Supervisor Howe for the Resolutions Committee read a resolution honoring the late Paul Wakefield. It was moved by Howe, supported by Nelson, that this resolution be adopted. Voted and carried.

WHEREAS Paul Wakefield was a faithful servant of the people of Clinton County, having given 36 years as Deputy Clerk and Clerk of the county, and

WHEREAS the said Paul Wakefield was an active member of the State Association of County Clerks, having served as president of said association in 1965 and 66 year and

WHEREAS Paul Wakefield has rendered invaluable assistance to the Board of Supervisors of Clinton County in the performance of its duties, and

WHEREAS the Board of Supervisors is deeply appreciative by the excellent service rendered the people of Clinton County by Paul Wakefield.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Board of Supervisors of Clinton County express the high esteem in which they hold the memory of Paul Wakefield and their appreciation for his years of service to the people of Clinton County.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this resolution be published in the official minutes of the Clinton County Board of Supervisors, and a suitable copy thereof be presented to Mrs. Wakefield as a token of appreciation by this Board.

Russell Howe, Chairman
John M. Setterington
George K. Austin
Earl T. Barks
Harold B. Reed

Supervisor Howe then read a resolution honoring Bernard Zeeb. It was moved by Howe, supported by Hufnagel, that this resolution be adopted. Voted and carried.

WHEREAS Bernard Zeeb has for many years been a very devoted member of the Clinton County Road Commission, serving the people of Clinton County with diligence and foresight, and

WHEREAS the said Bernard Zeeb has rendered valuable assistance to the Board of Supervisors in the performance of its duties, and

WHEREAS Bernard Zeeb has seen fit to resign from said commission, and

WHEREAS the Board of Supervisors is deeply appreciative of the devoted services of Bernard Zeeb to the people of Clinton County,

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the Board of Supervisors extend to Bernard Zeeb formal recognition for his services to the people of Clinton County.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this resolution be published in the official minutes of the County Board of Supervisors, and a suitable copy thereof be presented to Bernard Zeeb as a token of recognition and appreciation by this Board.

Supervisor Gove, reporting for the Salary and Clerk Hire Committee, recommended we accept the recommendation of the Civil Defense Committee and that Charles Frost's salary as Civil Defense Director be set at $6,000.00. Moved by Nelson, supported by Norman Thelen, that we concur with the recommendation. Voted and carried.

Supervisor Moore, reporting for Building and Grounds Committee presented the following long range plan for the court house buildings.

The Buildings and Grounds Committee, would like to propose the relocation of the Drain Office to the East Wing. It will be necessary for the Drain Office to use three rooms. Moved by Moore, supported by Coletta. Voted and carried.

Also, we would like to recommend the Office of Friend of the Court be moved to the present Drain Office. Moved by Smith, supported by Nobis. Voted and carried.

Also, we would like to suggest the Drain Office be provided with a van, comparable to a Greenbrier Ford or Chevrolet to be used in the work of the Drain & Engineering Office. Bids to be taken at the same time as bids for Sheriff and Zoning cars. Moved by Moore, supported by Hufnagel. Voted and carried.

The following is the Committee recommendation. As a long range plan to be instigated as soon as finance is available, we would like to suggest the partitioning of the Court Room, to provide offices for an Attorneys' Consulting Room, private office for the Court Reporter and office for the Friend of the Court.

Thereby vacating the Drain Office to make a place for the Law Library.

The rooms now occupied by the Friend of the Court to be used in conjunction with the reproducing and developing of records.

Jerome Vincent appearing for the Zoning Administrator, read the action taken by the Zoning Committee at their January 3 meeting on the petition of Mr. Gels to re-zone a parcel in DeWitt Township from Zone D Agricultural to Zone B two family residential. Moved by Nobis, supported by Clark, to concur with the Zoning Committee recommendation. Voted and carried.

ASC PROGRAM

Here are results of feed grain and wheat sign-ups

The sign-up for the 1968 feed grain program ended March 15 and preliminary reports from all counties in Michigan show a record of 52,199 producers signed in the feed grain program. These producers signed to divert 830, 560 acres from the production of feed grain (mostly corn). The acreage to be diverted or taken out of production is also a record.

The 1968 feed grain program for corn is designed to reduce total feed supplies in order to strengthen prices. Bumper crops at home and abroad last year led to an unusual rise in grain production and lower prices to producers. To offset the increased production last year, the Department of Agriculture has set a goal of about 30 million acres to be diverted from the production of feed grains for 1968. To meet this diversion goal the program provides for diversion payments for all producers who set aside more than 20 per cent of the farm feed grain base. In addition, feed grain participants will receive 30 cents per bushel in price support payments on a per cent of the corn grown and will also be eligible for price support loans.

The major provisions of the 1968 wheat program are almost identical to the program for 1967. Participating wheat producers will be eligible for price support loans on their entire production and a marketing certificate payment on 40 per cent of the projected production of the farms 1968 wheat allotment, providing 40 per cent was planted.

In our county 1,564 feed grain producers and 1,531 wheat producers signed up to participate in the 1968 programs. This is nearly 100 more farms in each program than last year. The total feed grain acreage diverted is 27,699 acres; this is double the acreage diverted last year. The number of producers requesting advance payments is about the same. We had 963 feed grain producers requesting advance payments which amounted to more than $300,000. Nearly all advance payments have been mailed.

I would like to point out that the payments provided under these programs add substantially to the farm income of Michigan farmers.

When it rains...

What do we get when it rains? One inch of rainfall for a one-hour period is a typical situation. During that time approximately 300,000 gallons of water will fall on one acre of land.

One-fifth of the rainfall (60,000 gallons) will run off one acre of agricultural land. About 219,000 gallons (or two-thirds) will run off an acre of a residential subdivision.

The runoff from 10 acres of agricultural land is approximately 600,000 gallons and is equivalent to the daily use of water in Michigan for 3,750 people.

A 10-acre residential urban area will cause a runoff of approximately 2,190,000 gallons, which is equivalent to the daily use of water in Michigan for 13,700 people.

Mulch now for control of erosion

Spring rains, combined with surface soil thawing, often causes excessive soil erosion from sloping areas. Russell G. Hill, Extension soil and water conservationist, urges landowners to mulch water erosion hazards now.

The Michigan State University authority says winter wheat and fields with no vegetative cover are especially vulnerable. One or two high intensity rains during late winter and early spring may account for three-fourths of the yearly erosion from a field.

Hill explains that rainfall on unprotected soil will break clods into individual soil particles which are then easily transported by surface run-off. This results in a loss of organic matter, plant nutrients, soil structure and soil microbes. Gullies are often the result, and they often prove hazardous to machinery operation.

This same soil run-off often causes sedimentation in streams and lakes and clogs drainage ditches and tile. Research also shows that soil in run-off may contain five to eight times greater concentration of plant nutrients than the soil from which it came.

Some landowners protect their cultivated fields over the winter by sowing the winter cover crops, contour farming, cross-sloped cultivation, or by mulching. If this was not done, Hill says an inch layer of mulch, spread now over erosion hazard areas, will reduce erosion by acting as an umbrella between the soil and the rain.

Straw, manure and old hay are good mulching materials, says Hill. Any of these materials can be spread before early spring rains while the ground is firm and a snow cover is still light.

Michigan farming changing rapidly

Agriculture in Michigan has seen its labor force reduced in half while the amount of capital used in production has been more than doubled in the last 15 years, points out Michigan State University agricultural economist Ralph Hepp.

"The trend, which has resulted in almost 50 per cent of Michigan's farm businesses consolidating into larger units in the last 15 years, only keeps pace with farming habits in the rest of the country," Hepp says.

Disappearing at the fastest rate are general, dairy and livestock farms.

"Many farmers have chosen to take off-farm employment to supplement farm income rather than increase farm size. Nearly half of the state's farmers work more than 100 days off the farm," the agricultural economist says.

What are Michigan's commercial farms like today?

Using 1966 data from farms in MSU's TelFarm program (Today's Electronic Farm Records for Management), Hepp reports that average investment on all types of farms amounted to about $160,000. Cattle feeding and cash-crop farms tended to require more capital and dairy farms less. The average farmer operated about 300 acres of land. Each farm required about two men for the operation of the farm with the exception of fruit and potato farms. They each required about the equivalent of five men.

There was also a great deal of variation in labor and capital demand per acre for the different types of farms in the state, Saginaw Valley cash-crop, cash-grain, and cattle feeding farms required the greatest amount of capital for each worker employed, while fruit, potato and Northern Michigan dairy farms used the least amount of capital in relation to the labor supply.

Report new milk production records

Milk and butterfat production levels established by Registered Holstein cows in this area have been reported by Holstein-Friesian Association of America. Vichity cows listed in the Holstein report are:
Green Meadow Ruby Emilia 5621644, a four-year-old, produced 21,690 pounds of milk and 816 pounds of butterfat in 305 days. Green Meadow Vee Vina 5495573, a five-year-old, had 22,490 pounds of milk and 778 pounds of butterfat in 305 days. Polly Robmarr Tensen 5344299, an eight-year-old, had 18,700 pounds of milk and 767 pounds of butterfat in 365 days. Daveden Dixie Rocket 5387803, a seven-year-old, had 18,080 pounds of milk and 724 pounds of butterfat in 305 days. Luxana Royal Opheila 5435312, a five-year old, had 5435312, a five-year-old, had 19,030 pounds of milk and 720 pounds of butterfat in 305 days. All are owned by Duane and Velmar Green of Green Meadow Farms, Elsie.

Crestolyn Nettle Leader Esther 5335402 a six-year-old owned by Floyd H. Koerner Jr., Lainsburg, produced 22,470 pounds of milk and 773 pounds of butterfat in 305 days.

These new production figures may be compared to the estimated annual output of 8,513 pounds of milk and 315 pounds of butterfat by the average US dairy cow, notes the national Holstein Association.

YEA: Commissioners Furry, Irerer, Rand, Sirrine, Coletta. NAY: none. Motion carried. Motion by Commissioner Rand, the proposed agenda for this March 5, 1968, meeting be approved as presented. YEA: Commissioners Furry, Irerer, Rand, Sirrine, Coletta. NAY: none. Motion carried. Mayor Coletta read the approved agenda and allowed persons to be heard from the floor.

Dr. Wesley F. Stephenson read aloud a prepared statement in protest of Ordinance No. 214, that adopts rules of order of the city commission meetings. Dr. S. R. Russell protested verbally of the Ordinance No. 214. Attorney Timothy Green voiced his protest of Ordinance No. 214. Mayor Coletta and members of the city commission commented on Ordinance No. 214 as adopted at the previous meeting and requested City Atty, William Kemper to review the ordinance as adopted.

Mr. Eldon Sample again appeared before the city commission with reference to the water meter at his residence at 210 Ross Street.

This being the night set for the public hearing on the installation of sanitary sewer for Sickses Street west of Lansing Street, Mayor Coletta requested the city assessor to present the special assessment roll. The city assessor presented the roll and explained the method of calculation and that there would be 35 units of benefit at a cost of $386.41 per benefit. The special assessment roll was prepared and spread at a cost of $430.81 per benefit and notices were mailed to property owners of this amount. The assessor recommended that revised cost per benefit be directed by the city commission and the revision of the special assessment roll using the unit benefit cost of $386.41 and that this could be included in their confirming resolution.

Mr. Tim Green appeared at this meeting and thanked Mayor Coletta for postponing this hearing from the Feb. 20 meeting until the March 5, 1968, meeting, and further requested that this hearing be allowed to continue until the next meeting. Motion by Commissioner Sirrine, supported by Commissioner Irerer, to continue this special assessment hearing for the installation of sanitary sewer for Sickses Street west of Lansing Street. YEA: Commissioners Furry, Irerer, Rand, Sirrine, Coletta. NAY: none. Motion carried.

This being the night set for the special assessment hearing on street improvements for Sickses Street west of Lansing Street, Mayor Coletta requested the assessor to present the special assessment roll. The roll was presented and the assessor explained the method of calculation and that the roll was spread using $6.80 per front foot for said improvements and that the property owners affected were notified of this hearing. Mr. Tim Green announced to the city commission that his request for continuation was for both of these hearings. Motion by Commissioner Irerer, supported by Commissioner Sirrine, the special assessment hearing for street improvements on Sickses Street west of Lansing Street be continued until the March 19, 1968, city commission meeting. YEA: Commissioners Furry, Irerer, Rand, Sirrine, Coletta. NAY: none. Motion carried.

Motion by Commissioner Rand, supported by Commissioner Sirrine, to approve the request from Mr. Andrew Kuhn-muench to divide part of Outlot S into not more than four (4) parcels that will allow the immediate construction of two (2) homes in this proposed twelve-(12) lot subdivision. YEA: Commissioners Furry, Irerer, Rand, Sirrine, Coletta. NAY: none. Motion carried.

The letter from Barbara Ernst was read aloud by Mayor Coletta giving answers to the four questions listed. Mrs. Ernst was present at this meeting and thanked the mayor for the information.

It was necessary for Mayor Coletta to call for order at this time as a result of extremely loud, rude verbal remarks from Mr. Green. Commissioner Furry explained to Dr. Stephenson it was this type of outburst that necessitated the adoption of Ordinance No. 214.

Commissioner Sirrine offered the following resolution and moved the adoption, which was supported by Commissioner Rand.

ORDINANCE NO. 215
An Ordinance to amend Ordinance No. 187, otherwise known as the Zoning Ordinance of the City of St. Johns, by amendment of the zoning map incorporated therein by reference.
The City of St. Johns Ordains:

SECTION 1. Change in Zoning Classification. Premises described as: Lots 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, and 14, in Block 53, City of St. Johns is hereby rezoned from Industrial to R-1 residential.

SECTION 2. Regularity of Proceedings. The city commission has conclusively determined that rezoning of these premises was duly approved by the St. Johns Planning Commission and that a public hearing has been held thereon after the giving of notice as required by law.

SECTION 3. Effective Date. This ordinance shall be effective 20 days after its passage.

SECTION 4. Validity of Ordinance No. 187 and amendments thereto. As amended, Ordinance No. 187 and prior amendments thereto shall continue in full force and effect.

YEA: Commissioners Furry, Irerer, Rand, Sirrine, Coletta. NAY: none.

PASSED, ORDAINED AND ORDERED PUBLISHED THIS 5th DAY OF MARCH, 1968 BY THE CITY COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF ST. JOHNS AT A REGULAR MEETING ON THE ABOVE DATE.

Commissioner Furry offered the following resolution and moved the adoption, which was supported by Commissioner Rand.

ORDINANCE NO. 216
An Ordinance to provide for a deputy city attorney.

The City of St. Johns Ordains:
SECTION 1. The city attorney may subject to the approval of the city commission appoint a deputy city attorney who shall possess all powers and authority of the city attorney and may exercise all the duties thereof subject to the control of the city attorney.

SECTION 2. The city attorney shall be responsible for all acts and defaults of such deputy, and he may remove such deputy at his pleasure.

SECTION 3. This ordinance shall have immediate effect.

YEA: Commissioners Furry, Irerer, Rand, Sirrine, Coletta. NAY: none.

THIS ORDINANCE DECLARED ADOPTED ON THIS 5th DAY OF MARCH, 1968 BY THE CITY COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF ST. JOHNS AT A REGULAR MEETING ON THE ABOVE DATE.

DONALD H. CLARK, City Clerk

Commissioner Rand offered the following resolution and moved the adoption, which was supported by Commissioner Irerer.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, City Atty. William C. Kemper has appointed Richard D. Wells of the law firm of Kemper and Wells to be deputy city attorney pursuant to Ordinance No. 216, of the ordinances of the City of St. Johns, Michigan.

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED: That this commission concurs with the appointment of Richard D. Wells as deputy city attorney and he will be paid on the same hourly basis as the city attorney.

YEA: Commissioners Furry, Irerer, Rand, Sirrine, Coletta. NAY: none.

Resolution declared carried this 5th day of March, 1968.

Mr. Ross Downing requested information on the proposed zoning study change that would allow spot zoning. Mr. Downing was informed this subject had been referred to the city attorney and would be discussed at the planning commission meeting March 7, 1968.

Dr. S. R. Russell stated the proposed agenda for each meeting should be posted on the city hall bulletin board prior to each meeting. Mayor Coletta agreed with this suggestion.

There being no further business to be brought before the city commission, the motion to adjourn was supported and carried. The meeting was declared adjourned at 9:15 p.m. by Mayor Coletta.

Knock on every door

During the month of April, there will come a knock at the door or a ring of the door-bell. The caller may be a stranger, or often a neighbor already known.

In either case, he or she will probably be a volunteer of the American Cancer Society, prepared to leave life-saving information, and asking our support for the society's work.

The volunteer will also be one of some 2,000,000 who each April go out on the "Cancer Crusade"—and who in a very real way are symbols of America's miracle.

The name of this miracle is "voluntarism" and it has been part of our nation since the days of the first settlers.

High among our domestic hazards today are diseases, and not just the "good old-fashioned" germ-caused diseases of yesterday. Many of those have been largely conquered.

The so-called "degenerative" diseases are another matter, however. And perhaps the most mysterious and tragic of them is cancer. Its fundamental cause still remains to be unraveled by research.

Even so, much has been done to save lives, and more can be. The Cancer Society informs us that some 200,000 Americans will be saved this year. An additional 100,000 might be, but won't—because diagnosis and/or treatment may come too late.

That is why the information the ACS volunteer will bring can be a matter of life. Ours. But to carry on its work of education, service and research, the support must be ours as well.

OPEN YOUR DOOR TO CONQUER CANCER - GIVE TO THE AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY.

Expensive carelessness is known as litterbugging

It's spring—by the calendar at least. And thoughts of the open roads leading to picnic grounds, state parks, the Lake Michigan shore or just the open roads themselves, already must be tantalizing to many winter-weary motorists.

And while we're waiting, let's make an open roads resolution—no littering.

Not only is litter ugly, but it costs money to clean it up. And all of us help pay, through taxes of one kind or another, for the cleanup job.

The State Highway Commission reports that it spent just a little under $2,000 A DAY to pick up cans, bottles, paper and other trash from alongside the roadways last year. That's almost three-quarters of a million dollars for the year.

And it estimates that the total came to $6 million or more when the cost of cleanup activity on the part of county, city and township crews was included.

That's a lot of money to be spent because of carelessness or thoughtlessness.

Let's make it possible to cut it down and, at the same time, make riding throughout Michigan much more appealing.

With more than 1,000 Clinton County boys in the armed services, it would seem that little need be said or done to get people to surrender scrap metal. When one daily reads of the action, it seems absurd that any American man or woman need be urged to save tin cans or old hosiery for powder bags. Clinton County's roads look quite a beating in the past two weeks. As frost came out of the ground and the roadbeds became soft, many surfaces broke through. The greatest damage came to blacktop roads, especially the six-mile road connecting Ovid and Elsie.

St. Johns grocers and meat dealers wore a haunted look Monday morning. It was the second day after the storm. Especially did the meat cutters look apprehensively as every customer entered the doors. They had been through something new and strange the Friday and Saturday before. In St. Johns, as in most cities and towns, Mr and Mrs John Public rushed to buy meat before the rationing started this week Monday. They bought beef, pork, lamb, veal, sausage, wieners, and loaf meats—anything and everything in sight. It was the two biggest meat days any store owner could ever remember

RAMBLIN' with Rink

By LOWELL G. RINKER

Most fellows, as I understand it, have trouble with pants pockets. They apparently don't make 'em like they used to, because the life expectancy of a pocket in a pair of my trousers is about 25 per cent as long as the life expectancy of the trousers themselves.

My wife and I have discussed this problem at length, and the only answer seems to be replacing the pockets entirely. This hasn't worked out too well because we haven't been able to find them in many stores.

For some reason my problem has become acute in the last three years. I don't think I carry any more in my pockets now than I ever did, and as a matter of fact, when I was a kid my pockets were full of junk almost all the time.

At any rate, my pockets wear out fast. First they start to shred along the sides until they get to the point where my key ring starts to slip through once in awhile. This is quickly noticeable when the metal of the keys touches my leg, so the first impulse is to reach into the pocket and pull the keys out.

This is accompanied by a ripping sound as the jagged edge of the key gets hung up in the shredded hole.

This becomes embarrassing as you stand there fumbling around in your pocket trying to explain the situation.

Usually the problem gets more critical than it should because I neglect to mention it to my seamstress, my wife. Once she finds out, she usually attacks the problem like the highway department attacks a hole in the road—they patch it up. The iron-on patch is the rage these days and, explains my wife, about the only practical way to mend a shredded pocket.

And so the pocket is mended and I can again stride down the street in confidence and comfort. But soon other problems set in. Either another shredded hole develops or the iron-on tape pulls loose. In the latter case, this usually leaves a clear-cut hole through which keys and other small items in the pocket can rush through and crash noisily to the floor or sidewalk. In winter they can also fall noiselessly into the snow and perhaps be gone forever.

Sometimes the seamstress will iron on a new and larger patch and sometimes she will throw up her hands and tell me it will have to be new trousers or new pockets. Only in a couple of cases has she been able to find replacement pockets. In one such pair of trousers, the pocket transplant has started to shred.

The rather amazing thing about all this is that the pockets that go first are the front ones. At least one afternoon a week I work around the paper here with a pair of pointed scissors in my back pocket, point down. If the back pockets ever go from the weight of the scissors on a little point, the whole back end of the pants will probably go, too.

That could prove to be more embarrassing than fumbling for keys hung up in a shredded pocket.

What the answer is I don't know. We can't very well do away with pockets because of their usefulness, so the only answer seems to be a better grade of pockets. I hold out only a shred of hope for that, however.

Anybody seen my keys? — Rink

GRASSROOTS OPINION COMMENTS FROM OTHER PAPERS

ELIZABETHTOWN, KY., NEWS: "A few weeks ago most of the large oil companies in the United States announced increases in price which would amount to about a cent a gallon to the consumer. The action was promptly denounced by Secretary of Interior Udall, who demanded that it be rescinded . . . The NEWS doesn't know what the price of crude oil or of gasoline should be. Neither does anybody in Washington. This newspaper knows that the oil business is not subsidized and that the law of supply and demand should fix its price in the open market. Furthermore, if there is any collusion among companies in price fixing the legal machinery of the Department of Justice is poised to act against them. The Government in Washington gets wrought up about almost any, or every, kind of price rise except that in wages. The latter never seems to ruffle its feathers."

CANNELTON, IND., NEWS: "Why take land out of timber production and designate it only to recreation and wilderness? Let's keep it as much as possible in multiple use management and whenever possible leave it in private ownership which has the added benefit of paying taxes."

Paper makes four easier

Dear Editor:

I am a life-time resident of St. Johns, and am currently serving an 18-month overseas tour of duty at Fort Richardson, Alaska. Ever since I arrived up here, I have had the Clinton County News sent to me. Military life in an overseas tour is often hard to cope with, but receiving news from home about your town and your old high school, friends, family, local politics, and the ordinary homey sections of your paper help make the time pass more swiftly.

So, in behalf of all servicemen who receive the Clinton County News, I want to thank you.

Youths ask park to be put back into use

Dear Editor:

This summer is going to be mighty boring with nothing to do, nothing at all! No swimming, ball games or riding through the park, etc., nothing to do, no more fun in the park. Last year there were life-guards who taught you swimming lessons and later swimming in the afternoon. There were coaches who taught you good sportsmanship and how to play baseball and softball. Also, you could ride through the park and have a blast!

This summer we won't be able to depend on the park for our entertainment. There is no swimming, ball games, or bike riding. We won't be able to take a lunch and go and sit in the park and just listen to nature around us.

We won't be able to make good use of our precious time, where we could be learning how to save a person's life and to be able to swim, or learn how to have good sportsmanship in games. Let's put our time to use!

This summer our good ole park is going to be empty and closed. Just think of the people who did depend on the park for fun because they don't have a big yard to play in or for some reason they went to the park.

Another reason for so much juvenile delinquency in the world is because we have nothing to do! You can go around a block and find glass and broken bottles on sidewalks and streets. So, let's put our park in use again this summer so we will have something to do.

Signed by the following youngsters: Renee Thelen, John Geller, supply any pertinent information. The names were Ryley and Kniffen. I had established the fact the George Thomas Ryley Jr. was buried in Mount Rest Cemetery and now, through the efforts of Mrs Bross at the public library, I have learned that his sister and her husband, Catherine and John J. Kniffen, are also in Mount Rest.

There are other Kniffens there, but I am not concerned with their relationship in particular. Catherine and J. J. had an only child called Catherine Frances, born about 1869. She went to school in St. Johns, and I have a photo of her as a young lady — no date.

I wondered if an insertion in your paper asking if anyone could supply further information about her would be of any use. There was a story that she became an actress of sorts, but whether she married or where she moved to we have no idea.

My main effort is directed to locating any living descendants, and I thought there might be Kniffen cousins still in the area who would know something.

We always understood G. T. Ryley Jr. was a bachelor, but the county courthouse listed him as "widower," which is why I was trying to find an obit. He died Jan 5, 1900, but I know it takes too much time to check on such details. I doubt if there are any descendants of his branch. Yours very truly,

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Extended school year may cause, solve problems

BY ELMER E. WHITE
Michigan Press Assn.

A 12-month school year will be adopted by the Durand School District in the fall of 1969. The district, located between Flint and Lansing, has an enrollment of 3,000. Progress of the extended school year will be closely observed by professional educators and school officials throughout the state. It is believed to be the first year-round program used by a Michigan district since 1934. Although similar plans are under study, Durand is the only district to begin definite implementation of such a system.

Details have to be worked out, but the general concept is that students will attend only the 180 days of school per year required by law. Vacations would be staggered to smooth operation of the plan.

A committee of educators, civic leaders and parents will determine the most workable program. Problems such as coordinating vacations for families with many school children and increases in teachers' salaries will also be studied. The committee will consider four basic programs and variations from each: an 11-month operation; a quarterly system; a trimester system; and a "staggering-type" plan which involves a complex system of classes.

REDUCTION IN OVERALL costs is usually cited by advocates of a 12-month school year. Arguments in favor of such a plan include: use of school buildings throughout the year; full-time employment of teachers; smaller classes; diminishing need for new buildings; and full use of facilities by communities. But it is not assured that these benefits will result.

While favoring a pilot program like Durand's, the Michigan Education Assn. worries about pitfalls of the 12-month system. Rather than the four-quarter system or the 11-month operation, the MEA feels an "extended summer school program" is more effective.

Karl Ohlendorf, assistant secretary of the MEA, points out that while the association favors experimentation in education, studies in Georgia, Florida and California have largely disproved the cost-savings theory. However, the most recent study is 10 years old. All have been conducted in warm climates, which adds air conditioning to the costs of summer sessions.

Ohlendorf admits, "Just because the plans haven't worked in other areas does not mean that it won't work in Durand. But expected savings won't necessarily occur." There is much evidence to support the MEA's contention.

YEAR-ROUND SESSIONS can cause many problems for both school district and families. Vacation scheduling becomes difficult. New schools must still be built near residential areas, or pupils must be transported to existing facilities, an expensive operation. Janitors do not have the summer months for involved maintenance work on floors, desks, plumbing, etc.

Costs for both labor and overhead rise when schools are open all year. Students who attend school for 11-month periods could conceivably graduate at 14 years of age. This would cause problems in employment and entering colleges.

Absenteeism is likely to rise. With one-fourth of all pupils always "on vacation," there may be a greater temptation among those students in school to skip classes.

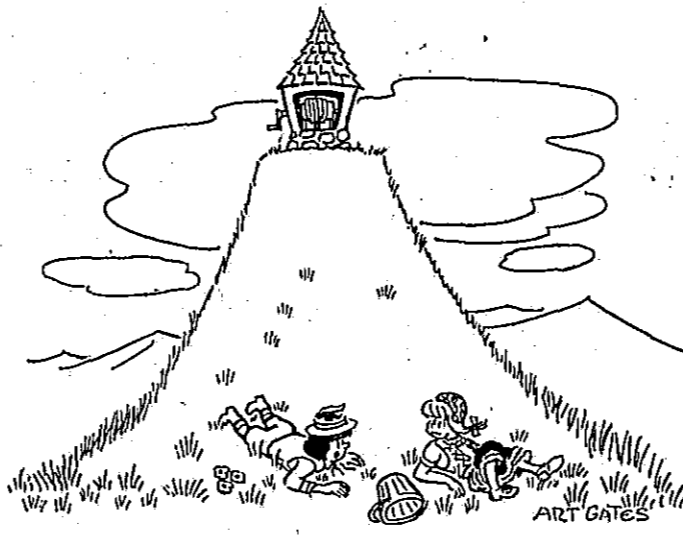

For these and other reasons, the MEA favors expanding summer school programs in many districts. Ohlendorf maintains that summer school is more acceptable to parents since student attendance is voluntary. There are many other benefits, he points out. Teachers have the choice of teaching, furthering their education or spending the summer with families. This is especially important to women teachers with small children, he says.

School districts benefit since officials can use summer months to plan curricula, programs and policies for the coming school year.

The conventional nine-month school year evolved when society was agriculturally oriented. Youngsters were needed during the summer to help with the planting, tending and harvesting of crops. This need is no longer important, but the nine-month school system has remained.

School officials in Durand note that the year-round system is currently in operation in New York and Florida. Community and teacher participation in planning the Durand program may make it more acceptable. If the move does prove successful, other Michigan districts will certainly consider adopting the 12-month system.

Lung cancer is largely a preventable disease, since most lung cancer is caused by cigarette smoking, says the American Cancer Society.

The "Low Down"

From the Congressional Record

Helicopter: modern ambulance service

Senator Phillip A. Hart (Mich.) " . . . Everyone shudders at the soaring auto fatality rate in the United States.

"We have tried to tackle the problem by building better roads, offering driver education and putting seatbelts, headrests and other safety devices in our cars.

"This is well and good, but we are still going to have accidents. But accidents do not have to be fatalities.

"Many victims who die enroute to a hospital 30 miles away would have a better chance to live if they could receive hospital treatment shortly after the accident.

"And they could if the ambulance was a helicopter.

"In the interest of public safety, I should like to bring this new service, as described in a Bell Helicopter news release, to the attention of my colleagues." (The condenses news release follows).

The first private helicopter ambulance service in the United States—only a few weeks old—already has dramatically proved its life-saving capabilities.

The helicopter, a Bell 47J Ranger, is owned by Superior Ambulance Service of Wyandotte, Mich., a Detroit suburb. Superior has a large fleet of surface ambulances which operate from 11 different locations in Wayne and Washtenaw counties.

On Dec. 6, a demonstration flight from Garden City, Mich., to the University of Michigan Medical Center clearly showed the time-saving advantage of the helicopter over ground transportation. Since the University Center is a referral hospital, it receives many difficult cases from other institutions.

First mission of the helicopter ambulance involved the transfer of a critically burned patient from the Wayne County General Hospital in Detroit to the U-M Burn Center.

Superior President Walt Gutowski anticipated that most trips would be 20 to 25 miles, but planned to offer the service within a 100-mile radius of Ann Arbor.

The U-M Medical Center presently has a 70-foot bare ground landing pad, but this will be blacktopped, lighted and fenced by spring.

Five other hospitals in the area are preparing helicopter landing areas. Included are Mt. Carmel in Detroit, Bayer in Ypsilanti, Seaway in Trenton, Garden City Osteopathic and Wyandotte General.

University of Michigan physicians, after studying the effectiveness of helicopters for transport of wounded in military combat zones, concluded that civilian accident victims would benefit greatly from similar prompt handling, especially in cases of extensive burns, head injuries and spinal injuries.

The helicopter has great potential for rescue-ambulance service in cities by permitting vertical access to an injured person when highways are clogged—possibly by the very accident that caused the injury. It also is valuable in rural areas where roads may be non-existent or blocked by snow or mud.

Dr. Charles F. Frey, assistant professor of oral surgery at the University and one of the leaders in the study of helicopter ambulance service said, "Most of our traffic deaths occur in rural areas where there are inadequate hospitals." He believes that in the long run it would be best to transport emergency cases directly to the center.

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

New Federal laws pertaining to the operation of ambulance service have brought the problem of adequate ambulance service into sharp focus.

While the subject is being explored, the matter of including helicopter ambulance service might receive serious consideration.

Federal funds might be available in the event the helicopter ambulance service could be tied into the civil defense program. Why wait until the bombs start falling?

Also, tornadoes rarely leave a clear path to the injured victims.

Rev Robert Smith at 5th Lenten service

REV ROBERT C. SMITH

Rev Robert Charles Smith will speak at the Union Lenten Service March 31 at 7:30 p.m. at United Church in Ovid. His sermon topic will be "A Penetrating Question."

Smith was born in Grand Rapids and educated in the public schools there. He received the A.B. degree from the University of Grand Rapids in 1942, B.D. degree from Garrett Theological Seminary at Northwestern University in 1946 and did further graduate work at Boston University School of Theology, Eastern School for Congregational Ministers and Union Theological Seminary at New York City.

Ordained as a full member of the Michigan Conference of the Methodist Church in 1946, he has served his entire ministry in Michigan, beginning with a small rural church of 48 members at St. Johns parish; served Banfield-Dowling charge while attending college and seminary, at Middleville 1946-1951, United Church of Ovid and Shepardsville Methodist Church 1951 - 1958; senior minister of First Methodist Church of Mount Pleasant 1958-1966 and is presently serving the First Methodist Church of Jackson as senior minister there.

Rev Smith is chairman of the board of ministerial training of the Michigan conference of the Methodist Church, has served on conference board of education, been chairman of conference camp commission for nine years; is a member of commission on Christian Social Concerns. For six years he was dean of various youth camps and for four years served as dean of Christian Workers School for district.

ACTIVE IN community affairs, he has been a member of the Lions Club for 12 years and a past member of the board of directors, a member of state and Isabella County United Fund and has served as chairman of county board of directors for two years.

A great organizer, Smith helped organize and served as chairman of the board of the foundation for career advancement, a non-profit organization to assist young people financially to attain their educational goals. He was for eight years, a member of the board of directors of Wesley Foundation at Central Michigan University, appointed trustee on the board of Adrian College in June of 1966, has served as a member of the board of directors of Central Michigan Community Hospital and is past president of the Mount Pleasant Area Ministerial Association.

WITH A SPECIAL appeal to young people, Smith speaks frequently at youth institutes and retreats and at high school and university commencements and convocations.

In the summer of 1962 he traveled to Europe and Soviet Russia as a member of the Churchman's Seminar for Peace.

DURING HIS ministry at Mount Pleasant a new $850,000 church, considered one of the architectural beauties of Michigan, was constructed. He developed a program entitled "University of Life" which brought youth and adults together Sunday evenings for worship and study. The lay seminary program was started this past year, bringing to the church outstanding Biblical and theological scholars to help train laymen in better understanding of the Bible and Christian faith.

In June of 1966 Smith was appointed to the First Methodist Church of Jackson, the largest Methodist Church in the Michigan conference. It is at this church that he has helped develop the concept of a team ministry. He has a large radio congregation who listen to him each Sunday over radio WKHM.

Smith is returning as a speaker at the Union Lenten services by popular request, having appeared in 1960. Ovid United Church will be in charge of the worship March 31. A family style potluck dinner is being planned for 2 p.m. at the Main Street Church in honor of the Smiths.
