Says party was hurt, but still strong

Gov Milliken addresses over 300 county Republicans

ST JOHNS -- Over 300 persons heard Gov William Milliken say Thursday that the GOP is stronger than many believe and that candidates who make Watergate an issue in Michigan are "in for a surprise."

Milliken made the remarks during the Clinton County Lincoln Day Dinner held in St Johns last week.

Following are excerpts of the remarks by the governor that evening:

"I know that it's popular these days among some people anyway to go around talking about the approaching death of the Republican Party. But if this dinner and similar events is any indication, I would say that those who are planning a funeral need to do some more pulse-taking."

"We're here tonight to praise the Republican Party, not to bury it. Sure, we've been hurt, but we've been hurt only by the excesses and stupidity of a few men."

"If the Republican Party is in trouble today, it is not because people have suddenly rejected its principles. If the Republican Party is in trouble today, it is not because people have suddenly decided against its practical progressivism in favor of some costly bold new approach. If the Republican Party is in trouble today, it is because its opponents are trying to tar it with the purge of Watergate."

"Among the worst of the games that political people play is that old and very dishonest game of guilt by association. And that, I'm afraid to say, seems to be shaping up as the political game of the year."

"The idea that every Republican is guilty of Watergate is just as fallacious as the idea that every American is guilty of Watergate, and just as damaging to the fair conduct of an election campaign."

"What is a campaign all about? It's an attempt to give the people a good understanding of current issues, to give the people a good understanding of how the candidates stand on those issues, and to give the people a chance to decide which are the best candidates."

"But if the coming election in Michigan were determined by events that happened two years ago and hundreds of miles away, the people of this state would lose the election and the very concept of democratic government would be set back immeasurably."

"Personally, I don't think that's going to happen. I believe that the people of this state have enough sense to see that what happened in Washington nearly two years ago has no real bearing on how we solve the problems of Michigan today."

Good Friday hours

ST JOHNS -- The Clinton County News office, 120 E. Walker, will be closed from noon until 3 pm Good Friday, April 12.

Bloodmobile will be in DeWitt

DEWITT -- The semi-annual visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile will be April 22 from noon to 6 pm.

The Bloodmobile will be at the DeWitt Memorial Building.

Sponsoring the Bloodmobile is the Ladies Auxiliary of the DeWitt City Fire Dept.

Predicts surprise Nov 5

"In fact, I believe that any candidate who attempts to make Watergate the key issue in the coming campaign is in for a surprise on November 5."

"Just as there are today a lot of surprised people among those who have been saying that Watergate will wash out Republican fund-raising efforts. Some political prophets had predicted, for example, that my own birthday fund-raising dinners last week would flop because people would not support any Republican. The fact is that we had record attendance."

"It is also a fact that Michigan voters have a well-established tradition of deciding elections on the basis of the candidates and the state issues. And this year, I'm confident they're going to continue that tradition."

"The party of Lincoln has too much strength, too much wisdom, too much tradition, too many sound principles, and too many good Americans in its ranks to be destroyed by one dark night in American history."

"I certainly don't intend to minimize how deplorable Watergate and its surrounding events are--or how important it is to get the truth and punish the guilty. I said this in 1972, and I intend to reiterate it in 1974."

"Tough campaign

"It will be a tough campaign. We are going to have to fight harder than we've ever fought before to keep the issues in focus, to organize our workers, to turn voters out on election day. But I believe we can win. And, my fellow Republicans, I believe we will win."

"I have spoken many times about the widespread cynicism that exists in this country today. And indeed, there is cause for cynicism."

"But there are many many reasons for optimism as well. Our judicial system will find and convict the perpetrators of Watergate and the events associated with it. That process is already working."

"And while inflation and the energy crisis are terrible problems, I'm confident that the strength of our people, and of our system of government, will find ways to deal with them too."

Not an island of injustice

"Contrary to what some people would have us believe, this country is not an island of injustice and villainy. The fact is that we have more freedom, more opportunity, more justice, than any other country on earth."

"We do have enormous problems and wrongs."

"It takes honesty and courage to face these facts. But there is no need or justification for despair."

"In this election, there will be those who will say that everything is terrible, but they suffer their own form of illusion."

"What is this election all about? Separating illusions from reality. The illusion that the election is about Watergate, against the reality that the election is about the candidates and the issues. The illusion that everything is terrible, against the reality that many things are good."

"There is a clear distinction between these illusions and these realities, and I'm firmly convinced that the people of Michigan will be able to make that distinction on November 5."

Angell responds from Houston

Township Board lists reasons for firing chief

By Linda Heyboer
County News Writer

DEWITT TWP -- Before the largest board meeting crowd in recent memory--but one that didn't include Bruce Angell II--DeWitt township trustees disclosed Monday their reasons for firing the former police chief.

Angell was in Houston on Lansing School Board business, but responded to board charges Tuesday in a telephone interview.

The board statement listed 4 main reasons for Angell's September dismissal.

"Insubordination" was the first one; the statement accused Angell of "constantly resisting and arguing over directions given him by the township board."

Citing a basic antagonism between himself and the board, Angell said he felt this charge had probably carried the most weight with trustees.

"There was a disagreement between me and the board on who ran the police department," he said.

He added he had maintained the "nuts and bolts" operations of the department should be handled by the police chief, not the board.

The second reason given by the board was falsification of records. According to the statement, Angell had:

-falsified police department purchases

-asked another officer to make out a false receipt for board reimbursement

-lied to the board about his activities as police chief.

"Error in judgment" Angell, who was chief for 8 years, denied he had ever falsified records. But he admitted he made "an error in judgment" during an incident in 1973 involving purchase of high-intensity flashlights.

Supervisor Dale Emerson said the purchase was listed as being for uniforms, not flashlights.

Angell admitted this was done because he thought he would have a hard time justifying purchase of the inexpensive flashlights to "the narrow-minded board."

He said the false receipt charge involved dealings with his insurance company and was not a board concern.

The board's third charge accused Angell of "unprofessional conduct," maintaining that "on at least 1 occasion (Angell) was found to have his personal vehicle bearing a license plate registered to someone other than himself."

Emerson said later the plate on Angell's motorcycle was reported missing to the Secretary of State's office.

This charge, Angell said, was news to him.

"At no time was this ever discussed with me," he said, adding he had no knowledge he had driven his motorcycle with plates registered to someone else.

The final board reason given was that Angell used township vehicles and personnel for private use. The statement said this involved using cars and officers on Lansing School Board business and to deliver subpoenas and summons for a private attorney.

Angell said he used department cars or personnel for school board business on 3 occasions: once when another officer dropped him off for a board meeting, once when he attended a noon meeting in Lansing and once when he had an officer pick up school board nominating petitions for him.

"In fairness to me," he continued, "there were many other times when I borrowed a car so I wouldn't have to use a police vehicle."

He also maintained (but Emerson denied) that the delivering of subpoenas was an established department policy which other boards had directed and approved.

"To my knowledge," Angell stated, "the policy never changed."

Trustee William Purves read the board statement, after stressing to about 60 residents that the board remained justified in not giving previous reasons for Angell's dismissal. He said the disclosure had become a necessity because it is an issue cited on recently submitted recall petitions against 4 board members (Emerson, clerk Donna Syverson, and trustees Jack Kzeski and Ellen Carr).

Angell and the board agree that most of the charges were discussed in a series of meetings before the former chief's dismissal.

"They differ, however, on the tone and substance of those meetings."

Claim Angell defied board

Emerson said Angell was told specifically at the meetings "what to do and what not to do." He added Angell had continually defied the board's orders and requests.

But Angell says the meetings were congenial and productive, with no hints that the board wanted him to resign or was considering firing him. And he says he has tape recordings to prove it.

While complaints about tax assessments and sewer problems dominated the extended public comments segment of Monday's meeting, many residents commented on the board's statement.

Some expressed support for the board, stating trustees had simply fired a township employee for not doing his job.

Others chided the board for not airing their reasons earlier. "It seems like you could have come right out and said it instead of having all this hullabaloo," one man said. "Do you think it helped the township image?"

Defends board's timing

Trustee Jack Kzeski defended the board's timing. He explained township attorneys had advised against disclosure and added the board wanted to avoid increasing turmoil in the police department.

Also, Kzeski said, more publicity of the scandal might have deterred qualified officers from applying for the police chief position.

"We did not feel justified in making that statement before tonight," he concluded.

The board got several critical comments for making the statement public while Angell was out of town.

Emerson said he did not find out until Monday that Angell would be unable to attend the meeting.

He commented, "I'm not in the habit of checking out the agenda with Mr Angell."

Trustee Carr, however, said she had known since last Thursday that Angell would be in Houston Monday.

She pointed out that the board had not made definite plans to release the statement Monday, while board members had let it be known that they would be ready to reply the next time they were questioned about the firing.

There was 1 comment on the statement which was echoed by board members, Angell and residents alike.

"I'm glad it's out."

Meeting time change brings objections

By Jim Edwards
County News Editor

ST JOHNS -- A move has been made by the St Johns City Commission to change Zoning Board of Appeals meetings from 12:30 pm to evening--but, if they do it, there might not be a board to meet, at least not consisting of existing members.

That was the tone set by Wally Pierce, of the Board of Appeals who said present members had told him they would resign if meetings were changed to the evening hour.

The situation arose at an earlier meeting when Commr John Arehart recommended Lyle Huntoon to fill a vacancy on the board.

Arehart said his recommendation at the same time was that the meetings be changed to evenings.

Huntoon said he could not serve if meetings were during the day.

Arehart cited 2 reasons for the change. He said it would offer private citizens a better opportunity to attend the meetings and would open up service on the board to candidates who might not be able to serve because of time conflicts with their employment.

Pierce told the Commission, Monday night, "I can't see what the problem is." He reported the board has had "good reception to noon meetings."

These bonds are payable from ad valorem taxes, which may be levied without limitation as to rate or amount.

The following fees are to be paid from the bond proceeds: bond attorney, $3,525 and financial consultant, $4,100.

Family seeks wayward hitch hiking pigeon

If a slightly neurotic but people-loving pigeon has been hitching rides on your car lately, better give Bev Archer a call.

Mrs Archer, of 7666 Linton Rd, is worried about her family's pet pigeon, which has been missing since March 29.

And Lassie's owners never had Mrs Archer's problems.

It all started when her son "adopted" the big barn pigeon last spring. The friendly bird developed some strange habits, like flying along moving cars and following people around.

"He'd come from nowhere," Mrs Archer said, "and suddenly land on your shoulder or head."

But the pigeon was especially fond of slow moving cars. According to Mrs Archer, he would fly along a car right next to the driver's window.

When he got tired, he would rest on the car's hood for awhile. Faster speeds blew him off, though, and then he'd start flying again.

"Some people said we should have him psychoanalyzed because he thinks he's a dog," Mrs Archer said laughingly.

"But maybe he thinks he's a homing pigeon instead of a barn pigeon."

"Then again," she added, "maybe he's just stupid."

Whatever the bird's mental condition, the Archer family misses him. He got lost once before by following a motorist too far down the road - but that time, Mrs Archer went to pick him up after spotting his description in a newspaper ad.

The pigeon, which has no name, has only 3 tail feathers and a leather band around his right leg.

St Johns Jaycee Tom Hutton explains brakes and steering assembly construction to several participants in this year's Clinton County Soapbox Derby. The first inspection of Derby cars will be May 4 at the former Bee's Chevrolet location on W. Higham St in St Johns. The 1974 Soapbox Derby, sponsored by the St Johns Jaycees will be May 19.

Robert Purtil, representing the Knights of Columbus, presents a check for $250 to Jack Downing, St Johns Little League coordinator. The money will be used, along with other funds, in the financing of the construction of the new Little League building. Approximately 250 persons were present during the St Joseph Parish Father-Son Banquet Sunday evening at St Joe's Social hall, at which time the check was presented.

Lansing man faces 2 charges

ST JOHNS - A 27-year-old Lansing man was arraigned in Circuit Court April 8 on a charge of entering an occupied dwelling with intent to commit larceny and another charge of larceny.

Richard Gardenhouse was arrested and waived preliminary examination in March on charges of breaking into a home at 305 Hickory Rd, DeWitt Twp and the 2d count of larceny of a color television.

Representing himself, he stood mute and requested a jury trial.

ST JOHNS - Bicycle enthusiasts will have the opportunity to "do their thing" May 5 when the St Johns Jaycees sponsor a 28-mile bike rally.

Jaycees explain the rally is not a race-it's a timed rally with speeds based at 12 mph for geared bikes and 6 mph for 1-speed bikes.

The rally will be divided into 7 classifications, determined by age and gearing of bikes.

First place in each division will receive $25, 2d place $15 and 3d place will bring $10.

Commemorative patches will also be awarded.

Entry fee for the rally is $5 per rider.

Minimum entry age is 12 years of age and the Jaycees emphasized the rally is open for anyone including senior citizens.

Registration forms are available from local merchants and area bicycle dealers.

Pre-registration may be sent to James Schultheiss, 712, N. Clinton, St Johns, 48879. Entry fee checks should be made out to "St Johns Jaycees."

Facilities at Smith Hall at the City Park in St Johns will be open for bikers at 10 am on rally day with the rally to begin at noon.

Participants will receive directions as the rally proceeds.

Gospel Troubadours to appear with Deputy Dave

LANSING -- The Gospel Troubadours of East Lansing will be appearing with television performer Dave Winchell, known to TV viewers as Deputy Dave, the ventriloquist, in an evening of music at "Family Funfest," Friday, April 26 at 7:30 pm at Everett High School.

Tickets are available at family prices at DePeal's Music and the Methodist Church, both in St. Johns.

The Gospel Troubadours are a group of young people who express their "good news" of a living exciting life in Christ through the media of song and testimony. Their unique arrangements of standard as well as the contemporary gospel music are enhanced by instrumental effects of the piano, harp, cordovox, fluegelhorn, drums, bass guitar, and tambourine.

Throughout the school year the group performs in the midwest area, but during the summer they are involved in a special ministry in Mexico. This ministry includes gospel music concerts (in Spanish), church services, plaza concerts, child evangelism, jail and penitentiary services, radio and television work, big city crusades, and services in remote villages.

Joe and LaDonna Toth of East Lansing organized the group, manage it, and perform with it. Other members include Pamela Johnson, Ken Moran, Bab Halka and Tom Fowler, son of Mr and Mrs Bruce Fowler of St. Johns.

"Quilting isn't quilts-sometimes"

Chloe Padgett
Clinton County Home Economist

Quilting, once regarded as a quaint but outmoded rustic pastime, has made a booming comeback. Quilts used to portray an era of Currier and Ives and Grandma Moses. But many modern homemakers are rediscovering the joys of this art.

A special program on Quilting will be held April 17, at Smith Hall in St Johns at 1:00 pm. Everyone is welcome to attend this meeting sponsored by Gratiot, Shawassee and Clinton County Extension Homemakers. There is no admission charge.

Mrs. Maria Thompson of East Lansing will be presenting the program. Since receiving an associate degree in floriculture from Michigan State University, Mrs. Thompson has been employed by a Lansing area florist. She also teaches in creative stitching, needlepoint, and quilting. She is vice-president of the Greater Lansing Weaver's Guild.

The program will feature a large display of quilted items. Included will be everything from purses to pillows to pinafores. Lots of quick, easy-to-make gift items will be shown as well as large quilts.

Basic procedures for patchwork and applique and sources of quilting supplies will be discussed. Different types of quilting patterns will be shown. Mrs. Thompson will trace the pioneer history of several quilting patterns. The origin of quilting parties and their purpose will also be covered. We hope you'll be able to come April 17 and discover with us that quilting is a lot more than just quilts!

Retired teachers learn about knits

ST. JOHNS — The Clinton County Chapter of the Retired Teachers' Association held their April meeting in the Community Room of the Central National Bank April 1. Thirty-five members attended the potluck dinner at the salad bar. The evening meal was followed by a business meeting conducted by president Mary Welton.

The program for the evening was a mini-style show. Mrs. Sally Clery from the Saginaw Street Stretch and Sew Shop in Lansing introduced herself and her model, Diane Roman. Mrs. Clery said a few words about the classes being given daily at Stretch and Sew. She also spoke briefly about the new knits for spring and about the convenience of garments made from these materials.

A tour of the Hick's House is planned for April 23, at seven o'clock. All retired teachers are invited. The next meeting will be May 6 at the Central National Bank Community Room.

Low Church has Lenten coffee

The United Methodist Women of Lowe Church gave a "Lenten Coffee" Wednesday morning, Apr. 3 for their members and friends of the community.

The hostess, Mrs. Roy Davis, invited the ladies to the dining. Mrs. Harold Dershem, Mrs. Francis Dershem, Mrs. Lyle Hynes and Mrs. Gerald Love served the coffee and homemade rolls.

Prayer was given by Mrs. Harold McGuire.

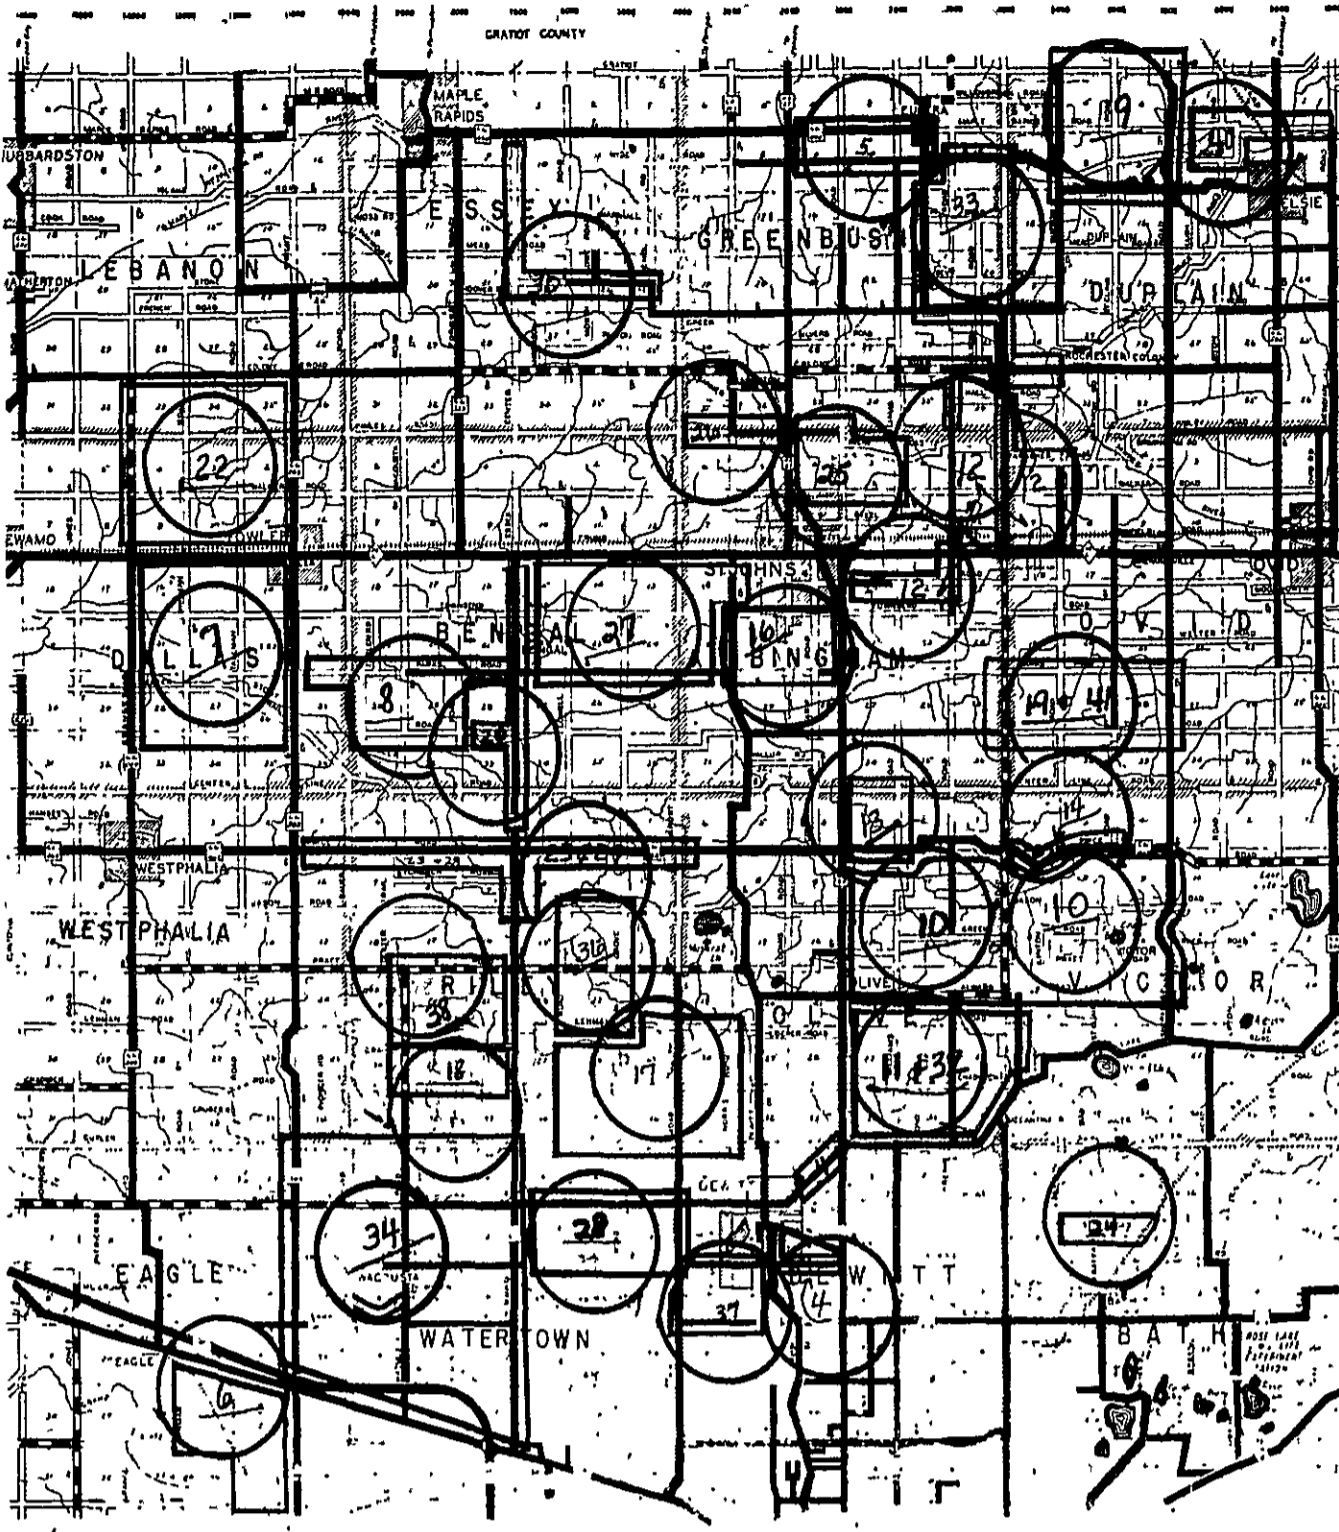

The ladies then went to the sanctuary for the program. Program chairman, Mrs. Roy Davis, introduced a brass quartette from the St. Johns High School, who played arrangements of several hymns. The students were: Kevin Barger, Norman Gove, Douglas Merignac and David Egar.

The theme of the program was introduced by the audience participating in a responsive reading entitled, "The Forgiving Love of Jesus Christ" followed by the hymn, "Lord I Want to be a Christian in My Heart."

Mrs. Charles Hazle sang 2 Lenten songs: "The Night Before Easter" and "Come As You Are," accompanying herself on her auto-harp.

Mrs. Carl Shinabery introduced her meditation on "Forgiveness" by using as the most noble and loving example of forgiveness, as that of Jesus Christ on the cross, when he said, "Father, forgive them for they know not what they do." She then gave the true story written by Carrie ten Boom, entitled, "I'm Still Learning to Forgive."

Lenten solos, "He's Everything to Me" and "Heaven Came Down and Glory Filled My Soul" were sung by Mrs. Roger Fitzpatrick.

Lalche League representative explains goal of "Good mothering through breastfeeding"

By Kay Blizzard

We teach the joys of breastfeeding; the joys of mothering. Our life is derived from a title of the Mother of Christ, it is Spanish and means in essence "the milk." The group was founded in 1956 in Chicago by 7 mothers who wanted to share their successes and failures with natural mothering. There are now over 1639 groups throughout the US and foreign countries around the world. All of our information is approved by a board of 36 medical advisors. We are non-sectarian and non-profit. Our goal is good mothering. "Non-automated moms" - that's how Time magazine 10 yrs. ago described the principals in this quiet return to old-fashioned motherhood. Over use of the bottle, pacifier, infant swing and seat have contributed greatly to the failure of a woman to nurse her baby. Added to these are the pressures through television, magazines, and modern life to live up to an unrealistic ideal spotless home, shining waxed floors, fabulous clothes and hairdos. A spotless home and a new baby rarely mix. The League encourages a mother to set her sights on the goals of good mothering - placing people before things. League mothers meet once a month, babies in arms to get help with the problems they've encountered, to help others in turn, and to enjoy the companionship of women with similar goals and philosophies. Phone counseling is available anytime. We have a lending library with five authors such as Ginnot, Hymes, Salk, Kilsinger, Newton and others. These are men and women who are keenly aware of a child's emotional needs as well as his physical needs. They believe that a child like other mammals must be held and cuddled frequently. There is no such thing as a spoiled baby. His need to be held is as great as his need to be fed.

Nursing babies require more feedings as the milk is so easily assimilated. Breast milk has a high water content. During the early weeks feedings every two to three hours are common. This assures the baby the cuddling and skin contact, he needs. It also assures the mother frequent rest periods which she needs. Nursings also help prevent hemorrhage in the mother and speeds the return of the uterus to normal. Through the release of the hormone prolactin, a woman is helped to feel more motherly. Breast-feeding helps prevent allergies in the infant and offers better protection against intestinal infections and other infant diseases. It gives him an essential feeling of love and security.

For the woman who wants to successfully nurse her child we are here to offer support anytime. Call Kay Blizzard, 669-9522.

Ovid PTO announces carnival

OVID - Who says carnivals are just for fun? The Ovid PTO does want people to have fun at their school carnival May 4 - but if your luck's good that night, you may also walk off with a basketful of groceries, a big stuffed poodle or even a side of beef.

The carnival, which will benefit Ovid elementary and junior high schools, will be from 7-9 pm at the North Elementary School.

The big-door prize this year is a half of beef processed by Sheldon's Packing House. Tickets are 50 cents each or 3 for $1, and will be sold in advance by parents as well as at the carnival.

Tickets for the children's door prize, a 4-foot pink poodle, are 10 cents each. Local businesses will contribute new merchandise for an auction, featuring auctioneer Sam Sherwood.

Baskets of groceries, contributed by school families and teachers, will also be raffled off at 10 cents a ticket.

And of course, the carnival will feature cake walks, white elephant sales, a spook house, novelty booth and other traditional activities.

Drawings will be at 9 pm, but winners need not be present.

Morning Musicales program reflects religious season

ST. JOHNS - St. Joseph's Catholic Church was the recent meeting place for St. Johns Morning Musicales.

Father William Hankert welcomed the group by complimenting them on their interest and efforts in enriching the culture of St. Johns by studying, performing and promoting music.

Mrs. Winchell Brown presided at the business meeting and called upon Mrs. Donald DeWitt to give a report on the progress of the SOS Committee which is engaged in saving the band shell at the city park with emphasis on programs for National Music Week.

In keeping with the religious season, Mrs. Norbert Rehmann played 3 compositions by 20th Century French composers on the pipe organ: Vernie Creator Spiritus and Jubilate Deo Omne Terre by Dom Paul Benoit and Grand Pere Noe by Louis Claude Daquin.

Sue Wymer played a liturgical selection of F Minor by Victor Norsa.

How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings by Samuel Liddle was sung by Mrs. Raymond Torpey, accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Maurice Witteveen.

An innovation to the program was an interpretive dance number performed by Mrs. William Escher to the expressive music of Bizet's Carmen.

A resume of the sacred music produced by Bach, Mendelssohn, Mozart, Beethoven, Schumann, Schubert, Liszt, Wagner, Bruckner and Dvorak was presented by Mrs. Manning Bross. Diantha Witteveen played portions from Parsifal by Richard Wagner and Mrs. Roland Duguay sang Franz Schubert's Ave Maria.

The program closed with members and guests singing Joyful, Joyful, We Adore Thee by Ludwig Van Beethoven.

Guest night will be April 25 at the Congregational Church with dinner at 6:30 with the program theme of "Night in Bavaria."

St Johns Woman's Club hears about Clinton County land use

ST. JOHNS - "Better Land-Use in Clinton County" was the subject of the talk given by William Lasher to the members of the St. Johns Woman's Club at their April 3 meeting held at the home of Mrs. Roy Davis.

Lasher, introduced by Mrs. Raymond Eick as the agriculture agent and member of the Co-operative Extension Service, presented his talk with aerial slides taken of all sections of Clinton County.

They showed the present use of the land and he made suggestions of much better use of the natural resources particularly in the recreational areas. "But," he said, "it is my opinion that this tri-county section (Clinton, Ingham and Eaton Counties) are far ahead of other parts of the state in their plans for future use of land."

Plans were discussed for the next meeting April 17 when a white elephant sale will be held. Proceeds of this will go to Girl's Town, a State Federation project to help wayward girls. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Clifford Lumbert. Officers for the next year will be installed at that time.

He plans to attend Michigan State University upon graduation in June.

Bath roads may be victim of disincorporation proposal

By Linda Heyboer
County News Writer

Could lose
whopping 38,213

BATH TWP -- Disincorporation of Bath Charter Township would mean a big budget cut, but supervisor Roy Van Sickle predict residents would have to make up part of it in tires and shock absorbers for their cars.

In a report at the township board's last meeting, Van Sickle explained township roads would lose the biggest chunk of revenue, a whopping $38,213.

Board members asked the supervisor recently to work on shaving down budget figures in case residents vote for disincorporation in an April 22 election. The board figured some $58,366 in revenues would have to be skimmed off, an estimate Van Sickle says may be low.

Van Sickle reported $63,588 could be trimmed from the budget. But he emphasized during and after the meeting his sketchy figures represented only cuts in budget estimates, not expenditures.

"There was probably enough 'slush' built into the budget to allow for these cuts," he said, adding that "in the past, any leftover money has always gone for roads."

Van Sickle said an estimated $8,700 cut from the police department would preclude hiring an additional full time man and moving to 24-hour protection for the township.

Board salaries and cost would be cut $1,125 automatically, he said, because there would be 2 less trustees. (General law townships have 5-member boards unless residents vote to add more.)

Van Sickle, who is up for recall in the April '22 election, said his salary could be cut but did not include such a measure in his estimate.

He recommended no cuts in the fire department, professional services, clerk's staff or treasurer's staff.

The supervisor said inflation and necessary salary increases made his estimates especially tentative.

Noting that his report assumed some money could be saved in 1975 if there were no township elections, he remarked, "But I guess we can't be too sure of that, either."

IGA announces "Jet Journey to Stars" contest

DAYTON, OHIO -- Upwards of 2,000 girls and boys from 10 thru 14 years of age will be taking "dream trips" to California in an unusual "Jet Journey To The Stars" contest now going on in area IGA stores, according to an announcement by Rick Anderson, owner of Andy's IGA, St Johns.

The lucky girls and boys can win all-expense-paid trips just by having their friends, neighbors and relatives vote for them each time they visit a participating store. Special ballot boxes have been set up in all supermarkets and customers are being asked to vote for their "favorite" girl or boy. The "dream trip" winners will be those who receive the most votes.

Al Burshtan, Senior Vice President of Marketing and Sales for Super Food Services, Dayton, Ohio, supplier to IGA stores and other independents, said that the winning girls and boys will travel by jet to Los Angeles for 5 full days. Their "dream trip" includes a red-carpet visit to movie studios, major league baseball games, Disneyland, Marineland of the Pacific, as well as to many other glamour points.

"Unlike most elections, this is one case where it is quite in order to vote often," said Burshtan. "In fact, we encourage it - friends and neighbors of the boys and girls can vote every time they come in to a participating market. Naturally, many of the winners will be from the St Johns area." The winning girls and boys will leave for Los Angeles on June 23 and return the 27th.

Sheriff participates in national management training institute

LOS ANGELES -- Sheriff Anthony A. Hufnagel of Clinton County is presently participating in the 4th National Sheriff's Institute as one of 46 sheriffs selected from all over the United States to study the latest management techniques at the University of Southern California.

Clinton County Sheriff Anthony Hufnagel discusses scores on a management profile instrument with Steven M. Ward, director of the National Sheriff's Institute, University of Southern California. The two week course is sponsored by the National Sheriff's Association.

Of the 3,099 sheriffs in the United States, 229 will complete this intensive training program funded by a grant from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the United States Department of Justice. It is sponsored by the National Sheriff's Association through its National Sheriff's Institute, with the actual training provided by the USC's Center for the Administration of Justice, School of Public Administration. This program represents the first organized attempt to deal with the management role of the elected sheriff. Most training efforts in the past have concentrated on the law enforcement, court, and correctional duties of the office, while ignoring the fact that the sheriff must be an effective manager if he is to successfully perform these other roles. These 2 weeks on the USC campus do not represent the end of the training program. Each sheriff has committed himself to continue the educational process and the National Sheriff's Institute will continue to provide him with readings, correspondence lessons, and telephone consultations dealing with day-to-day management problems.

A PERSONAL LOOK AT THE NEWS

Between the lines

with Jim Edwards

Our nation has become inundated with special weeks for every week of the year.

In fact there are so many special weeks, that, every so often, 1 poor week has to shoulder the load of being 2, 3 or even more special observances.

Most of the weeks are for good causes and this is not to criticize such weeks as Boy Scout Week, FFA Week etc.

However, I do think it is time we set aside 1 whole year of weeks for those observance yet to be honored.

Here are a few:

NATIONAL TAXPAYER WEEK—During this week, Joe Blow the taxpayer would be honored with a variety of activities to acknowledge his unending contribution to his government. During this time, Red Cross Bloodmobiles would collect blood all over the country. The blood would then be injected into turnips and shipped to Washington DC. That would, in turn, lead to NATIONAL POLITICIANS WEEK when they would be allowed to do with the turnips what they've wanted to for a long time.

NATIONAL GROCERY BUYER WEEK—The shopper would be honored during this week and would be given a free cardiac exam before being informed of the amount of the bill.

NATIONAL TV COMMERCIAL WEEK—At this time of the year, television viewers would be allowed to mail COD severed horses heads to those responsible for the laxative, heart burn, headache, stomach upset stomach and others that disgrace the screen at supertime.

NATIONAL TRUTH IN GOVERNMENT WEEK—Due to the recent shortage, this week has been shortened to a moment of silent prayer.

HAIL TO THE PRO ATHLETE WEEK—A week of contemplation for athletes to reflect on the amount of money and importance placed on their ability to play games in funny looking get-ups.

DICK, LIZ AND JACKIE WEEK—A week set aside prohibiting any mention of the 3 names for a solid 7-day period.

SHORTAGE WEEK—Seven days reserved for the announcement of all the shortages to come. No announcement of shortage would be allowed at any time during the year except that 1 week.

LET THEM BE KIDS WEEK—This is designed as a sort of rest and relaxation period for all the nation's little kids. During their week, they would not be required to go to camp, join Little League, be in school pageants, etc. That would be their time to just be "kids." No strong objections would be raised even if a kid was discovered sitting on the porch steps doing "nothin' much."

Shortage equals profits

Don't like the price you're getting for your product?—Well, the recent cure certainly seems to be "create a shortage until the price is where you want it."

First there was a sudden shortage of meat. But, lo and behold, when the price jumped a bit, there seemed to be enough beef for everybody.

The fuel shortage seems to be more of the same story. Gas for 50-60 cents a gallon appears to be the goal of the oil companies. Strange that now those warnings of running out, rationing, etc, have, more or less, stopped as if by magic when the bell on the cash drawer started singing to the tune of a higher price.

Newsprint companies may have taken their lesson from the oil companies. It was a real scramble for awhile getting enough paper to print the news. Now, with the price raised drastically, more newsprint is available, but with strings tied and the strings all say "more cash."

Fertilizer manufacturers have jumped on the "shortage fad." A representative of a fertilizer company told the media the other day as much as, "We can manufacture more fertilizer, but we won't until the price is high enough to meet our satisfaction." Those weren't his exact words, but the meaning was clear.

So, the system isn't any longer the free enterprise system of supply and demand. If you just raise your price, the customer might just say "the heck with it" and not buy.

But, if you throw a scare into the public and say "It's gonna be all gone soon, fella," you've got your captured customer scared into paying whatever the price because the product may not be there tomorrow.

Some call it "shotgun diplomacy."

"If It Fitz . . ."

Protecting the husbandry

Editor, Lapeer County Press

"By Jim Fitzgerald

When my wife asked me why I was 2 hours late for dinner, I told her I couldn't tell her because I had to protect the confidentiality of the husbandry. I don't care about myself but it is my duty to think of the future. I don't want to set any precedents that will hamper the happiness of husbands yet unborn and unwed.

It is important to the security of the husbandry that wives not be allowed to go on fishing expeditions. Wives must be required to specifically describe the information they are seeking. They must not be allowed to paw through a husband's entire day on the pretense of investigating alleged tardiness.

I CANNOT BE influenced by what the polls show concerning my loss of popularity in the bedroom. Oh, it would be easy for me to tell my wife everything I do when she is not looking. But this would be cowardly. This would be breaking faith with the husbandry.

Let me make 1 thing perfectly clear. I have done nothing wrong. I am not a philanderer or a loiterer on street corners. I have nothing to hide. But when my wife asks me such a general question as "Where were you?" I cannot answer her without endangering my peace of every man who, in the thousands of years to come, will shoulder the grave responsibilities of the husbandry.

A husband could miss the 9 am train to work. This would set his entire day's schedule back 1 hour. The ultimate result is he arrives back home at 7 pm instead of 6 pm. And his wife asks: "Where have you been?"

That is the type of fishing expedition which, if allowed, could destroy the husbandry.

THE WIFE really wants to know where the husband was at 6 pm when she expected him home. But this is not what she asked. Instead she asked for an irrelevant review of his entire day. This type of haphazard investigation gnaws away at the very foundation of the husbandry.

The husband cannot risk responding to such a scatter-gun inquisition. His answer would be subject to too many different interpretations. To explain why he was late for dinner the husband would also have to explain why he was late for every appointment that day including lunch. The wife was not a party to this lunch and it has no bearing whatsoever upon her inquiry. It is none of her business that it took 3 hours. Besides, the finest husbands, including Abraham Lincoln, always took long lunch hours.

Wives must clearly define the scope of their investigations. A proper question would be: "Were you late for dinner because you had to stop to save 16 orphan babies from drowning?"

To protect the confidentiality of the husbandry, the husband should answer no questions that can't be answered with a simple yes or no.

THANK YOU, Mr President.

(2) Park Location: The mobile home park shall be located so that all main ingress and egress driveways or roadways within the park development are connected to a paved thoroughfare.

(3) Side yard Dimensions: All buildings and mobile homes within the mobile home park site shall be no closer than 50 feet from the main public entrance thoroughfare and no closer than 20 feet from any side or rear property line of the mobile home park. Such set back shall be adequately landscaped.

(4) Site Screening: The mobile home park shall be screened from adjacent residential districts by the use of obscuring fencing, walls, earth forms, plantings, or any combination thereof. All structural screening shall be at least 4 feet but not more than 6 feet in height. The plans and specifications for the mobile home park development shall include the proposed arrangement of such plantings and screening structures and shall be subject to the approval of the Zoning Commission.

(6) Space Requirements: The minimum lot area used or occupied by each mobile home shall be four thousand five hundred square feet exclusive of park drives, parking area, service facilities, and required recreation area.

(7) Yard Requirements: The sum of the side yard at the entry side and nonentry side of a mobile home shall be not less than 30 feet. Provided, however, there shall be a side yard or not less than 15 feet at the entry side of the mobile home and of not less than five (5) feet at the non-entry side of the mobile home. For irregularly shaped side yards, the sum is determined as the sum of the average width of each side yard, provided that a minimum separation of 20 feet is maintained between all mobile homes. There shall be a minimum of ten feet between the end of the mobile home and the rear lot line.

(8) Setback: No mobile home shall be located closer than 15 feet to any private street or roadway, or closer than 5 feet to any common sidewalk.

(9) Park Roads: Each mobile home lot shall have access to a park driveway, roadway, or street which shall be paved to a minimum width of 22 feet and have a cross section as approved by the County Road Commission, provided that no parking shall be permitted on said roadway. No park shall provide or have direct access through any recorded single family subdivision. The required paying width for said streets, roadways, or driveways may be adjusted if a one-way street pattern is proposed as part of the proposed site development. Said one-way streets shall be paved to a minimum width of 20 feet and no parking shall be permitted on said roadway.

(10) Walks and Curbs: A 36 inch concrete walk shall be provided on at least one side of all collector roads. Curbing shall also be provided and may be in the form of a one-piece curb, gutter and sidewalk installation where applicable.

(11) a. Each mobile home site shall be provided with a minimum stand consisting of a solid concrete apron 10 feet wide by 50 feet long. The concrete apron shall be constructed of reinforced concrete to a depth of 4 inches, and shall be at least equal in area and dimension of the mobile home occupying the site. In lieu of the above, concrete piers to a depth of 42 inches may be provided as follows: For single units, 14 piers; For double-wide units, 28 piers. The area beneath the mobile home shall be graded in such a fashion as to eliminate the accumulation of water under the home.

b. An outdoor patio area of not less than 120 feet shall be provided each mobile home site, conveniently located to the entrance of the mobile home and appropriately related to open areas of the lot and other facilities.

d. Skirting shall be required and should be uniform throughout the park.

e. Tie down facilities shall be incorporated into the concrete apron or piers so that gut lines shall be installed under the mobile home at sufficient intervals to prevent upheaval of mobile homes during severe winds and storms.

(12) Building Height: No building or structure shall exceed 15 feet in height, except that the one permanent building for conducting the business operation and one permanent building for recreation may exceed said height, but said buildings shall not exceed two stories. One central T.V. Tower to service the mobile home park may also exceed this height restriction.

(13) Lighting: No permanent spot or flood lights shall be used for lighting or advertising purposes except during the construction and fill-up period. No other lighting for identification or advertising purposes shall have a visible source of illumination. No lighting shall shine on adjacent properties. All other lighting shall be in accordance with Act 243, Public Acts of 1959, as amended.

(14) Eliminate in its entirety.

(17) Utility Cabinets: (a) Each mobile home park shall permit one enclosed waterproof structure suitable for storage of good and usual effects of the inhabitants of such park, not to exceed 80 square feet of storage space at each mobile home site, or shall provide other adequate structure or structures for such storage elsewhere in said park.

(18) Recreation areas: Exclusive of other yard and open space requirements, common usable recreation space of at least 200 square feet per mobile home site in the park with a minimum area of 8,000 square feet shall be developed and maintained by the managements. The area or areas shall not be less than 80 feet in its smallest dimension and further than 500 feet from any mobile home site served, and be properly developed for recreation use. An indoor area or recreation center shall be provided and shall contain a minimum of 5 square feet for each mobile home site developed in the park.

(24) Storm Shelter: Eliminate in its entirety.

(25) Mobile Homes Sales: General sales of mobile homes as a dealership or franchise, new or used, shall be prohibited within mobile home parks, except during initial fill-up period.

(26) Occupancy: No permit for occupying any completed mobile dwelling unit site shall be granted until all utilities, parking access drives, walkways and all appurtenances such as landscaping, recreation areas, and swimming pools indicated on the approval plan have been inspected and approved or a performance bond equal to the estimated cost of these items has been posted, with the Zoning Administrator. No mobile dwelling unit shall occupy any site until at least 25 percent of the sites are prepared and approved for use.

(27) Off-Street Parking Facilities: Off-street parking shall be provided within 300 feet of all mobile home lots or sites that they are intended to serve and may be of a bay type design and each lot or site shall have parking space for 2 vehicles. All parking areas shall be of paved material. No parking shall be permitted on any street or access way. No visitor vehicles shall be permitted to be parked or stored within any required open space between mobile homes or on any drive or street within the mobile home park; between the hours of 12:00 p.m. and 6:00 A.M. All paved surfaces shall be maintained in good repair by the park management.

Sec. 8.35 Planned Mobile Home Unit Developments: (2) A 10 percent reduction in the side and rear yard requirements is allowed provided however, that the 20-foot home-to-home separation is maintained. The front yard set-back shall remain uniform throughout the development.

88th District Report

by Stanley Powell

State Representative

Another week has passed and much to my disappointment no decisive action was taken on pending legislation to reform our campaign financing laws. As I reported last week the bill before us for consideration is Senate Bill 1016, which has been reported out of the House Policy Committee in a substitute form that is unacceptable to most Republicans. The bill appeared on the House calendar for floor action on Wednesday, but on a 68 to 31 vote was delayed until the evening session on Monday, April 8th.

It was made quite clear that the Republicans were ready, and have been for some time now, to get moving; but in spite of public pressure in the form of news editorials, House Democrats say they need more time for caucuses on the bill and to prepare further amendments to it.

I reported last week that we are anticipating some spirited debate, complicated legislative maneuverings and many attempts to amend the bill before it is voted upon by members of the House. Campaign reform has been one of the major goals of the Republican caucus and of Governor Milliken for the 1974 session. I feel our time for action is growing short and we cannot afford many more delays.

AGRICULTURE TAX RELIEF BILL IN CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

A few weeks ago I reported to you that the Senate Substitute for HB 4244—the Agricultural Tax Relief measure—passed the House of Representatives by an 80 to 17 vote. At that time I predicted that the bill would easily pass the Senate and be sent to the Governor for his signature. Well, I guessed wrong.

The Senate rejected the 55 amendments to the bill which were adopted by the House and the bill was sent to a conference committee, where three House members and three Senate members will attempt to resolve the differences. If an agreement is reached by the conference committee such an agreement in the form of a conference report must then be adopted by both legislative chambers.

When I predicted that the bill would easily pass the Senate, I based that prediction on the fact that some of the Senators and their aides worked closely with the House Republican Agricultural Task Force, as did members of the Governor's staff, in preparing the House amendments which were added to the Senate substitute.

When the bill reached the Senate floor for consideration with the 55 amendments, some of the Democratic Senators decided they wanted an opportunity to look at the bill again and have further input to it.

I hope that the conference committee will resolve their differences early so that we can actually achieve some type of agricultural tax relief yet this year.

GOVERNOR SIGNS SLEW OF BILLS

As we head down the home stretch toward completion of the spring session of the 1974 Legislature, the passage of less controversial bills is becoming fast and furious. As they are adopted by the Legislature they are transmitted to the Governor, and bill signing sessions become more frequent and longer as the bills are piled up before the Governor for signing.

Last week the Governor held two separate bills signing sessions: one on Monday at which he signed 16 bills; and another on Thursday when he signed five more. Many of these I have reported on to you previously when they passed the House; others I have not had the opportunity to brief you on as they progressed through the Legislature.

As a matter of interest, you may wish to know why I refer to the bill signings as "bill signing sessions." This is because the Governor's office notifies legislators and other interested parties ahead of time whenever a bill is scheduled for signing. Many times the legislator who introduced the bill, or those who were strong supporters wish to be present to witness the signing and perhaps to have their picture taken with the Governor as he signs the bill. Obviously, then, it becomes more of a production than it would be if the Governor simply signed them as he does his morning mail.

With his background in mind, here is a list and brief description of some of the bills which were signed into law by the Governor last week:

S.B. 1186: given immediate effect; exempts sportsmen from penalties of the concealed weapons law by permitting the transportation of a pistol if it is unloaded and in a wrapper or container in a car trunk. The person must have a hunting license or prove membership in a shooting range to qualify for the exemption. A person is also exempt while traveling to or from a hunting or target shooting area. Antique firearms are also exempted.

S.B. 599: given immediate effect; permits the Department of Corrections to grant furloughs to inmates near parole for work-study programs, and to extend the furloughs up to 30 days. The leaves are for such purposes as visiting a critically ill relative, to receive medical services not otherwise available or to contact prospective employers.

H.B. 5309: given immediate effect; allows a person who is out of state on the day his driver's license expires to get a special permit extending the license 90 days, or for 2 weeks after his return to the state—whichever comes first.

H.B. 5363: given immediate effect; changes the withholding provisions of the state income tax law, making an employer who withholds income taxes a trustee for the state. It also permits flexibility in the schedule for payment of withheld amounts, to the state by smaller employers. These payments are now required quarterly.

H.B. 5419: given immediate effect; permits a defendant wishing to use an alibi or insanity defense to obtain the names of witnesses the prosecution intends to use to rebut that defense. Under present law defendants must give notice of such defense and list their witnesses, but the prosecution does not have to provide the names of its rebuttal witnesses.

H.B. 5319: given immediate effect; eliminates the requirement that the State Department of Agriculture prepare a biennial report for the Governor and the Legislature.

H.B. 5608: given immediate effect; provides that safety plastic may be used in place of safety glass for replacement windows on buses—except for the windshield. It also requires that any new school buses that use plastic windows be fitted with at least one pushout window on each side of the bus.

H.B. 5719: given immediate effect; permits a village to sell public buildings by private sale, if permitted by a local ordinance. The law now requires that all sales be public.

H.B. 5336: given immediate effect; repeals, as no longer needed, the requirement for filing an annual sales tax return by a merchant.

H.B. 4615: given immediate effect; creates a new body of regulations covering the hobby and sport of raising and using pigeons in competitive events. It defines "carrier pigeon," "racing pigeon" and "loft," and guarantees the pigeon owner the right to fly the pigeons if he gets a local permit and does not violate any local health or nuisance ordinance.

H.B. 4598: given immediate effect; brings state law in conformity with the US Department of Transportation by removing present requirements that service brakes be on all axles of motor vehicles, trailers and semi-trailers. Federal regulations do not require such brakes on the front axles of certain vehicles.

S.B. 985: eliminates title requirements for any bus which is not self-propelled and used exclusively as a construction shanty.

H.B. 4443: given immediate effect; permits the state to reimburse private colleges and universities in Michigan for degrees conferred on Michigan students. The bill authorizes $1.9 million for this purpose as was proposed by Governor Milliken in his 1974-75 budget when he said, "Michigan's private colleges continue to remove enrollment burdens from the state colleges." The bill authorizes the payment of $200 for an associate degree conferred on a Michigan resident; it authorizes $400 for each earned bachelor's or master's degree. Degrees in theology or divinity are excluded, and payment to any one institution is limited to 15 percent of its education and general expenditures.

H.B. 5578: given immediate effect; requires that all licensing and certification inspection of nursing homes and homes for the aged in Michigan be done without prior notice. Any employee of a state agency or local health department who notifies a nursing home or home for the aged of an upcoming inspection would be guilty of a misdemeanor.

H.B. 5724: given immediate effect; requires automobile insurers to coordinate no-fault auto insurance with the insured's health and accident insurance, offering to eliminate duplication and reducing their premium accordingly. Savings can be as much as 10 percent of premium, and if everyone chooses that option could amount to $100 million a year. I co-sponsored this bill.

Huhn to head Clinton activities at Democratic Jeff-Jack fete

ST. JOHNS -- Greg Huhn has been named Clinton County chairperson for the state Democratic Party's 1974 Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner, April 27, at Cobo Hall in Detroit. Sen. Henry Jackson (D-Washington) will keynote this year's Jeff-Jack fundraiser. Jackson currently chairs the Senate's Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations which is looking into the activities of the major oil companies and what role they may play in the gasoline crisis facing the nation.

Jeff-Jack festivities will follow a Charter Symposium, sponsored by the Michigan Democratic Party in conjunction with the Democratic National Committee, to discuss the upcoming National Charter Conference scheduled for Dec. 6-8.

View from the Senate

By SEN. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

Strong forces appear to be at work these days in the House of Representatives in an effort to block -- or at least weaken -- major campaign finance reform legislation.

As one legislator put it, attempting to pass a meaningful campaign finance reform bill is like trying to read a Sunday newspaper in a high wind. So far, the Republican controlled Senate has taken the lead in action on a series of proposed "political ethics" bills, but the flagship bill -- a campaign finance reform measure -- has been snagged in the House of Representatives for weeks by strong opposition from House Democrats.

The measure, Substitute SB 1016, would require candidates to report the source amount of all campaign contributions, allowing donations valued at less than $25 to be listed in aggregates of at least $25. The bill would also require reporting of contributions "in kind" -- non-monetary contributions such as elbow-grease and loaned goods and services.

But largely because of Democrat opposition, SB 1016 has at least temporarily come to a cropper in the House. House Democrats amended the bill in committee to eliminate from reporting requirements any contributions of less than $25. The principal reason for this action is that Democrats traditionally receive a good share of their contributions on an "in kind" basis or from funds siphoned from workers through union bookkeeping methods. The Democrats want the contributions, but evidently they don't want union members to know how much of their money is being spent on their behalf.

Democrats, too, don't want to have to report "in kind" contributions because that would mean having to report all the union labor commandeered at election time for work at the polls and on telephone banks. It would also mean they would have to report the use of UAW computer banks which often are placed at the disposal of Democratic candidates at election time.

It's been pointed out, too, that fleets of cars could be contributed to the use of candidates to get voters out on election day -- at a cost of thousands of dollars -- but they would not have to be reported as campaign expenses.

Common Cause, which calls itself a citizens' lobby, wants complete disclosure of all contributions, regardless of size.

Meanwhile, several influential lobbyists have testified before the Senate State Affairs Committee against another Senate bill to tighten regulations over their activities, including money spent for entertaining legislators and names of those entertained. Lobbyists contend that they perform a valuable service to the legislative process by giving lawmakers information on bills before them. They say the proposal would be so involved that they wouldn't have time to perform their normal functions. The State Affairs Committee has responded by making no effort to report the bill out to the Senate floor -- with or without amendments.

Opposition has even been expressed against a House bill which would lighten up the state's public meetings statute. Representatives of the Michigan Municipal League and the University of Michigan are attempting to widen the loopholes to give public agencies more leeway in conferring in private on public business.

Intuition is a woman's ability to read between the lungs.

USDA monitors items needed on farm

EAST LANSING -- The US Department of Agriculture is monitoring the supply and availability of a number of farm production input items, reports Walter Wittenbach, chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Some of these items include farm fuels, fertilizer, and manufactured goods such as fence posts, baling wire and twine and machinery parts.

ASCS has been directly involved in the allocation program for petroleum products to ensure that agricultural producers will receive the fuels they need.

Wittenbach states that farmers have been assigned the top priority, 100 percent of their current needs, in an effort to keep agricultural production in line with current demand.

Farmers are urged to inform their fuel distributor of their fuel requirements for 1974. ASCS offices have the necessary forms and information to assist farmers in handling any anticipated fuel problems.

Fertilizer supplies are also an item of concern for most farmers. USDA is predicting a five to eight percent shortage for the nation. According to a recent survey by ASCS, this shortage is expected to be more severe for Michigan farmers.

This is due to having a later planting season than other states, transportation and supply routes and reduced availability of fertilizer materials from some supply sources.

Governor Milliken has appointed a fertilizer task force, under the direction of Dale Ball, Director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, to review the fertilizer situation and encourage fertilizer companies to meet the requirements for Michigan farmers. At the present time there is no legislation or allocation program in effect for distribution of fertilizer supplies.

Other manufactured input items for agriculture are also being monitored, reports Wittenbach. This includes baling wire, twine, steel fence posts, insecticides, lubricants, tires and machinery parts.

Shortages for some of these items are already being reported by farmers and distributors in Michigan.

In summary, 1974 looks like another good year for farmers, provided they can get the fuel, fertilizer and other manufactured goods that are necessary to meet their production plans. This is a time when good management and planning will determine the return that farmers receive for the total investment in their farming operation.

Coggins Test for horses important

EAST LANSING -- "Michigan horse owners should take advantage of the Coggins Test more than they do," a Michigan State University equine clinician told a group of about 1,000 horse lovers during the recent MSU Horse Day.

Speaking about "Equine Infectious Anemia (EIA)," commonly called "swamp fever," Leonard Gideon, D.V.M., recommended that Michigan horse owners have their horses tested for EIA (Coggins Test) at least once a year, in the spring. Identification of infected horses and their isolation before the biting insect season will prevent the spread of the disease.

Gideon explained that all equine species are susceptible to the disease, caused by a virus and spread by the transfer of blood. The immune system of the infected horse responds to the presence of the virus with a complex reaction that causes the rupture of red blood cells and, additionally, retards the adequate production of red blood cells. The horse becomes anemic and often dies.

EIA is most commonly spread by biting insects, but the virus can also be transmitted by a curly comb coming in contact with a scratch on an infected horse and then being used on an uninfected horse and again coming in contact with an open sore.

13 controls
Gideon stressed that since there is no known treatment, cure, vaccine, or spontaneous recovery, the only realistic means of eradication is the management of the infected animal. He advanced three possible controls:

"(1) We can control the biting insects. There are numerous insect repellents and eradicators on the market. The virus spreads more readily in the pasture than in the stable because biting insects are more reluctant to come inside dark stables.

"(2) Horse owners can strive to keep their own horses free of the disease by preventing them from coming in contact with infected animals. Owners should have proof of a negative Coggins Test before granting entry of any new animal into the stable.

"(3) Since there is no known reservoir of the virus other than the equine, the disease could be eradicated completely by sacrificing all infected animals identified by the Coggins Test. At present, this could only be possible if horse owners cooperated.

In 1973, 9,180 of Michigan's approximately 200,000 horses had the Coggins Test administered. Of these, 104 were found to be infected. A number of the untested horses are probably carrying the disease and if horse owners would take advantage of the Coggins Test before moving horses around the state, the incidence rate could be lowered.

Many latent carriers
Although the symptoms of the disease -- weight loss, fever, lethargy, perspiration, and blood spots on gums and nasal membranes -- can be visually detected, many horses appear to recover and remain latent carriers and the visual symptoms are no longer easily detectable. "The Coggins Test is then particularly important for these animals," Gideon explained.

The United States Department of Agriculture and the State of Michigan now recognize the Coggins Test as official and a new law -- to become effective in 1975 -- will require all horses entering Michigan to have proof of a negative test within six months prior to entry.

"The state can legally require that infected horses within Michigan be quarantined," said Gideon. Bloodlines can be salvaged from valuable broodmares that are quarantined to isolation. Intra uterine infection has been documented, however not all infected mares give birth to infected foals. Since the virus can be passed to the foal in the mare's colostrum, it is advisable to find a nurse mare for non-infected foals. If a nurse mare is not available, it is advisable to Coggins Test the foal before it nurses the infected mother and six months later to ensure the non-infected status of the foal.

Fatal in all 50 states
The disease was first recorded in Europe in 1843 and in North America in 1881. It has been fatal in all 50 states.

4-H Chatter

4-H vegetable garden contest

By JOHN AYLSWORTH

4-H members will have an opportunity to enter the 4-H vegetable garden contest with their garden project this year. The St. Johns Exchange Club will provide 12 trophies to the top three winners in each of the four districts throughout the county. There will be three age divisions: Beginner 10-12 years; Junior 12-14 years and Senior 14-18 years with winners in each division. Each club having vegetable garden projects will be able to nominate one entry in each of the three divisions. A committee of leaders in each district will visit the gardens of these nominees and select the three top entries for the district. Then a committee of Exchange Club members will visit the 12 entries before the Fair to select the top entry in each age division. The main difference in this contest is the actual gardeners will be visited and there will be an incentive by the member to take care of his or her garden all summer not just having a good Fair exhibit. Members should have their own designated garden area and not part of the family garden unless the member is doing all the work. The top three winners and their leader will be invited to one of the Exchange Club luncheon meetings around Fair time.

Her fifth dog was accepted at the Leader Dog School but was dropped during the training period. Ann was a member of the Tail Waggers 4-H Club till she graduated in 1973 from St. Johns High School. Her five dogs consisted of two Black Labradors, two Golden Retrievers and one Rhodesian Ridgeback. Ann stated that the four dogs that became leaders, she raised from a small weaning puppy, while the other one she started at five months of age. Our congratulations to Ann on her accomplishments with the Leader Dog for the Blind program.

Alfalfa-low cost source of protein

EAST LANSING -- Clear seeding of alfalfa can yield up to one-half ton of protein per acre in the first year, according to Michigan State University crop specialist M.B. Tesar.

"This is one way that dairymen can get cheap, homegrown protein in a hurry," said Tesar. "Clear seeded alfalfa also provides an alternative for farmers who have little use for oat straw, grain or silage that usually is the companion crop with alfalfa."

Tesar's studies of clear seeded alfalfa over the past three years indicate that average yields, during the seeding year will be 3 1/2 tons of hay, containing 20 percent protein.

Using $180 per ton of soybean oil meal as a base figure, the value of the protein works out to be about 20 cents per pound. This means the alfalfa protein produced in the first year is worth about $200 -- figuring 8 tons of hay at 12 percent moisture containing 5,100 pounds of dry matter and 1,020 pounds of protein.

Add another $100 for the value of the total digestible nutrients (TDN) contained in the crop and you get a total value of $300 per acre. The clear seeding system calls for seeding alfalfa in April. "The earlier the better," said Tesar. A herbicide is used to replace the companion crop that normally provides weed control while the alfalfa is getting established.

Harvesting should consist of three cuttings of clean hay with a total yield of three or more tons, depending on rainfall, sunshine and fertilizer used.

Tesar's detailed recommendations for a clear seeded alfalfa crop:

1. Correct pH to at least 6.8 by liming, preferably on a well-drained soil with good water holding capacity.
2. Control annual broadleaf weeds with three pounds EPTC (Eptam), acid equivalent per acre sprayed on the seedbed and worked into the soil immediately after application. Or spray three-fourths pound of 2,4-D ester when the seedlings have two or three leaves, usually 4 to 5 weeks after seeding. If broadleaved weed problems develop after using EPTC, 2,4-D can be used during the seeding stage.
3. Inoculate and band seed as early as possible in April, 8 to 12 pounds per acre of Saranac, Thor, Anchor, Troquois, 530 or other fast-growing, wilt-resistant alfalfas. (In MSU tests (See Page 7B))

Campaign reform

REP DOUGLAS TREZISE
87th District

No subject has occupied more news space in the past year than the need for reform in campaign funding and elections.

Similarly, the subject has been given a great deal of time by the Michigan Legislature and, more particularly, by the Policy Committee of the House of Representatives, which has reported a substitute bill to the floor.

Yet, in spite of the time and effort, I have to conclude the committee has "labored heavily and brought forth a mouse." In my view, the committee has not only failed to produce a sound reform bill but has also actually put new loopholes in the law which do not exist today.

Labels bill a "hoax" This is not just my opinion. The press, the Governor and the Common Cause organization have all denounced the bill as inadequate to check the failings of our present system. Not all are agreed on what specific legislation should be adopted but all agree this new proposal is not the right answer.

Unfortunately, the whole subject has become a partisan battle. Democrats generally support the new proposal presented by the Policy Committee which they control. Republicans favor the more rigid controls which were included in the bill as it passed the Senate.

There are two serious areas of difference between these viewpoints. These include the question of whether all cash contributions should be reported, regardless of amount, and the extent to which goods and services provided a candidate by independent group or organizations should be accounted for.

Present law requires that all cash contributions be reported. But, the new proposal is that only those in excess of $25 must be included in the candidate's accounting. This would enable a candidate to set up a large number of separate committees, accept $25 contributions to each from a person or group and never have to report where that money came from.

Even though a candidate today can set up a number of committees, each one must report all contributions regardless of amount. Obviously, the proposed law is less restrictive than the present controls.

The area of donated goods and services - referred to as "inkind" contributions - is a little more difficult to treat and define. It includes the providing of campaign materials, paid advertising or wages by a third party and which today do not have to be reported.

For instance, suppose an organization has printed and mailed to voters a campaign piece on behalf of a candidate or maybe it will supply a few hundred yard signs and even have its people place them in behalf of a candidate.

Today, unless that organization is formed expressly to support that candidate, no report of its contribution is required. Neither the candidate nor the organization is held accountable.

Thus, a union, a trade association or a professional group can spend a considerable amount of money on behalf of a candidate without that effort ever being disclosed.

Wanted - Source And it's primarily disclosure that we are after in these reform efforts. We are not as concerned about how much a candidate spends or has spent on his behalf but rather having the source of that support made public.

During the Watergate ruckus, much has been made about various organizations having made large contributions to the President's and to some Congressional campaigns. Certain political and economic favors were allegedly bestowed in return. The Milk Producers charges are one example.

And the same can be said for all candidates. If a large amount of ones support comes from only a few organizations or people it is reasonable to assume some political consideration will be required in the future.

This may not be wrong or evil, but the voters should be aware of those commitments when they go to the ballot box.

And that's what the fight is all about.

On Saturday afternoon, March 23, Mrs. Louis Moritz and Ann, Mrs. Floyd Forch, Mrs. William Ernst and Maxine Ernst attended a linen shower honoring, Miss LuAnn Giffen at the home of Mrs. Donald Hecht of West Bingham. Co-hostess with Mrs. Hecht was Mrs. Clare Moritz of rural Grand Ledge. After playing several appropriate games the bride-to-be opened her gifts. A beautifully decorated shower cake was served with ice-cream. Miss Giffen and David Moritz have an altar date for April 17. Terri Teidt underwent major surgery recently at the Clinton Memorial Hospital at St. Johns. On Saturday March 30, Mrs. Iva Schafer of Lansing and Maxine Ernst took the Theater-Bus trip to Detroit. They shopped at Northland and then went to the Fisher Theater in Detroit where they saw the stage play "Good News" starring Alice Faye and John Payne.

Mr and Mrs Floyd Forch visited their son-in-law and daughter Mr and Mrs Steve Thelen and Sherry Lynn on Sunday afternoon, March 31. Also guests in the Thelen home were Mr and Mrs Lloyd Nequette of Lansing, who returned last week from a vacation trip to Florida.

Congratulations are extended to Mr and Mrs Louis Schneider and Mr and Mrs Bernard Thelen, who were among the 20 young couples from the entire state to be named farm managers of the year at the Farm Management banquet held at Michigan State University in conjunction with Farmers' Week. Both couples are from this neighborhood and are dairy farmers.

Protein from Alfalfa

these varieties outyielded Vernal by a half ton per acre in the seeding year and are 10 percent higher yielding for a 3- to 4-year stand.) The seedbed should be well prepared.

6. Plan for three cuttings for more, better quality hay. Take the first when the alfalfa is flowering in early to middle July - about three months after seeding. Make the next two cuttings at six-week intervals - about Aug 20 and early October. Three cuttings in the seeding year in 1971 and 1972 MSU tests yielded about three-fourths ton more than two cuttings and the hay was of better quality - it had more protein and was leafier.

7. If the first cutting is flowering and is starting to turn yellow and stunted, leafhoppers are the likely cause. Cut immediately since yellowed alfalfa makes little growth. The young nymphs will be killed. Check the second cutting too. If leafhoppers are causing yellowing in August, cut a bit early. If the alfalfa shows leafhopper symptoms and is cut when starting to flower, it will not be damaged - and the leafhoppers will be controlled without any spraying.

MRS. NEVA KEYS
Ph. 862-4901

The Smith Party Store basketball team from the Ovid-Elsie area were guests of their sponsors, Mr and Mrs Gary Smith of Elsie and Coach Lyle Howard and Mrs Howard at their home on S Warren Road, Ovid on Friday evening, April 5.

The team played the 1973-74 basketball season in the Owosso City League involving both "A" and "B" League entries. T-bone steak dinner was served to show the sponsors' appreciation of the team's efforts.

Playing on the "A" team were: Mark Case, Dan Bowles, Jack Keys, Terry Bernath, Tom Hughey, Keith Nelson, Denny Morris, Randy Loynes, Gary Groom, Mike Bowles and Lyle Howard.

Larry Bernath served as manager and during the Christmas Holiday Tournament, Cal Woodard, Bill Foran and Dan Egbert joined the group during their holiday vacation from college classes.

Several were unable to attend the dinner but there were other guests to enjoy the delicious meal. Time for the Summer Youth Program in Elsie is drawing near and a responsible person to assume the duties of president is needed. Please contact Harry Winans-telephone no. 862-5048.

All youth 7-12 grades and up are invited to attend the United Methodist Youth Fellowship every Sunday evening from 7 to 9 pm in Fellowship Hall.

Mrs Helen Winans underwent surgery at the Owosso Memorial Hospital Wednesday. She returned home Saturday. James Stanley of 302 N Pine St, Elsie is a patient at the Owosso Memorial Hospital where he is in intensive care. He was entered on Sunday, March 31.

Mrs Margie Loynes has been a medical patient at the Owosso Memorial Hospital the past three weeks. She plans to return to her home Monday.

Russell Bouck has moved into his new mobile home on West Maple St, Elsie. He recently sold his home on W Pine St to Mr and Mrs Larry Nicholas and family.

Leroy Vincent and Sidney J Keys of Elsie were presented life memberships to the Ovid Chapter No 113, Royal Arch Masons at the Ovid Masonic Temple on Wednesday April 6. High Priest Al Mitchell of Elsie presided for the special ceremony when Earl Canfield, secretary made the presentations.

Scrolls signed by Mitchell and Canfield; also King Serviss, King and Donald Willard, Scribe, were given to both honored men.

The Ovid Chapter RAM was instituted in 1884. It was interesting to note that Sid Keys' great uncle Horace N Keys was High Priest of Ovid RAM in 1892.

Regular meetings are held the first Wednesday of each month. At the close of the meeting lunch was served and a social visit was enjoyed.

Carland News

by MRS PUDGE DEMING

Carland and Burton Churches are in charge of the Palm Sunday Evening Lenten services at the United Church in Ovid, April 7.

The program for the evening was a musical, performed by the young people of the Reformed Church of Midland.

There will be no services in the evening at Burton Church for the next three weeks so all the people might attend the union services at the Ovid United Church. Evening services will again be held at Burton after Easter.

The Carland United Methodist Women will meet Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs Mervin Chamberlain.

The Carland Area is proud to be the home, or at least the temporary home while the water is prevalent due to all the rain, of 10 white, wild swans. We urge people to come see, but please don't disturb them.

Cub scout Den no 8 of Carland, their Den Mother, Mrs Clyde Gilbert and Mrs Edith Oberlin of Carland have visited the swans and are studying their Habitat and habits.

The Scouts have found that they mate for life and always travel with their mates. The swans have beautiful all white plumage, very long graceful necks, and heavy bodies. You will find the 10 swans 2 1/2 miles East of Carland on Judville Road, on the south side of the road.

Mrs Beverly Wahlstrom, who has spent the past week and a half in the Owosso Hospital, has returned to her home here in Carland. Casey Jones has been working in their general store here in Carland, while she has been ill.

Mr and Mrs Leo Deming accompanied their daughter, son-in-law, and grandson, Mr and Mrs Richard Mead and Brian of St Johns, to see and hear the Calvarymen at the Assembly of God Church in St Johns, April 6.

The Carland United Methodist Women met at the home of Mrs Mervin Chamberlain, Wednesday evening with nine members present.

Mrs Barbara Stewart, was in charge of the program, "When the King Came"; and Easter reading taken from the Living Today Magazine.

Two Easter lilies are to be purchased by the Women's Society for the church altar, to be displayed Easter Sunday in honor of Mrs Ralph Taber a member of long standing who is and has been for some time in the Ovid Convalescent Manor and the other lily in honor of Mrs Earl Darling who has also been a member of the Carland United Methodist Church for a long, long time, and he is a patient of Pleasant View Hospital in Corunna. The Lilies will be presented to each of them after the services.

Sunrise Services will be held at the Carland United Methodist Church at 6:30 am with the Burton Church in charge of the program.

Breakfast, served by the Carland UM Women and their husbands, will be served following the Sunrise Services, in the Carland church-house.

There will be no regular 9:30 am services at the Carland United Methodist Church Easter Sunday. Due to the Sunrise Service being held at Carland at 6:30 am, the regular services will be combined with the Burton United Methodist at 11 pm to be held at the Burton UM Church.

The women of the Carland & Burton United Methodist churches are invited by the women of the United Church of Ovid to a meeting April 10, at 1 pm, at the Front St Church, to enjoy a message in song presented by the Muscalle Group from Owosso. Fourteen voices will present the "Sorrowful Mother" under the direction of Mrs Beth Downey.

Carland and Burton United Methodist Churches were in charge of the Palm Sunday Union Lenten Services that are being held weekly at the Ovid United Church in Ovid.

The Program for the evening was presented by the Midland's Reformed Church Youth Group, entitled "Come Together", a musical Experience in Love.

Refreshments were served during the fellowship that followed the program, by the Carland and Burton Churches.

Supporting churches of these Union Lenten Services were: The First Baptist Church of Ovid, Ashley and Bannister United Methodist Churches, Burton and Carland United Methodist Churches, Elsie and Duplain United Methodist Churches, Laingsburg and Middlebury United Methodist Churches, Shepardsville and Prices United Methodist Churches, and the United Church of Ovid—where the meetings have been held every Sunday during the Lenten Services, each Sunday evening at 7:30 pm.

Cookies, punch, and coffee were served by hosting churches during the fellowship that followed each Sunday evening service.

TCRPC distributes housing facts

LANSING - "A Guide for Elected Officials: Housing the Tri-County Region" was recently completed by the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission.

The report is a housing policy plan and its purpose is two-fold. First, it is intended to give the non-housing professional a better insight into the problems which have beset the housing delivery process in our country, and the Tri-County region. Secondly, it is intended to give direction to those persons who are in a position to work on solutions to these problems.

Some of the action-oriented policies call for:

- 1). Expanding open housing laws to include women, public assistance recipients, and single persons.
- 2). Establishing housing code enforcement in areas lacking it.
- 3). Frequent updating of land use plans and zoning ordinances by local governments.
- 4). Increasing use of innovative land use development techniques such as Planned Unit Developments.

The guide also emphasizes that multi-family housing and mobile homes will have to gain more community acceptance. Michigan's courts have already deemed these as preferred land uses because of their adaptability to families with low and moderate incomes.

Further, the report analyzes housing problems by area. In Lansing, portions of the west side and the Cedar-Larch corridor are cited as needing the most attention. Priority areas outside of Lansing include the townships of Bath in Clinton County, Walton and Brookfield in Eaton County, and Whiteoak, Bunkerhill, and Stockbridge in Ingham County.

Another area covered in the guide is the analysis of housing costs. It was found that reductions in interest rates on mortgage loans, construction costs, and property taxes, in that order, would have the most significant impact in reducing the total cost of housing.

According to Larry Schneider, TCRPC Housing Planner, "the average annual demand for new housing in the Tri-County Region will be more than 3500 units per year." "This figure was derived by considering the future formation of new households, demolitions, abandonment, and vacancies", said Schneider.

In compiling the housing guide, data from the 1970 Census was used, in addition to population projections produced by Tri-County. Input from builders, realtors, other planning agencies, and various citizen groups was utilized in compiling the suggested policies.

P-W student participates in national FHA meeting

EAST LANSING -- Sherry Wood R11, Hubbardston, is one of 15 state officers participating in the National Future Homemakers of America-HERO Week, March 31 through April 6.

Miss Wood, who attends Pewamo-Westphalia High School, is the current state treasurer of FHA.

Using the theme IMPACT '74 she joins some half-a-million other girls and boys across the country in demonstrating projects that are challenging, stimulating and of real value to youth in preparation for future responsibilities.

"We have a new approach to program planning," Cheryl Snyder, state president from Fulton-Middleton High School, pointed out. "Working with our 'Program Action Impact' kit, developed by youth and introduced to chapters this year, is exciting. We analyze member concerns and then develop what we call 'in-depth' projects that are related to our home economics classroom study.

"Most people have no idea of what is taught in home economics classes today," she continued. "They think of home economics as cooking and sewing and of Future Homemakers of America as just another 'fun and games' club. During National FHA-HERO Week we want to impress on people that Future Homemakers of America, as a part of home economics education, provides opportunities for us to learn, to know, to care and to do the things that help prepare us for future living."

Future Homemakers of America was founded June 11, 1945, as an incorporated, nonprofit organization supported by membership dues. There are two types of chapters. FHA chapters place major emphasis on consumer education, homemaking and family life education combined with exploration of jobs and careers. HERO chapters, taking the name from home economics related occupation, place major emphasis on preparation for jobs and careers with recognition that workers also fill multiple roles as homemakers and community leaders.

Nationwide in membership and effort, Future Homemakers of America is co-sponsored by the US Office of Education and the American Home Economics Association. FHA-HERO in Michigan is under the direction of the Michigan State Department of Education, Vocational Education and Career Development Service in Lansing. High School home economics teachers, members of the state home economics education staff and leading home economists serve as advisers to chapter, state and national youth officers, giving guidance and counseling to the program.

National Headquarters are located in Washington, D.C.

Louise Nourse attends Cancer Crusade kick-off

EAGLE -- American Cancer Society volunteer Louise Nourse of Eagle and actor Bob Carson, (shown right) television and movie personality of Hollywood, California, helped Kick-Off the Society's annual Public Education and Fund Raising Crusade at the Saginaw Civic Center this past Saturday.

The day-long meeting was attended by over 200 ACS volunteers.

Those Amber Waves

Nearly 50 million acres of wheat are harvested in the United States each year, and almost every state grows some wheat. Because of the widely diverse climate and soils across the country, more than 200 different varieties are grown.

Highlight of the program was the naming of Miss Marilynn Molz, RN of Lansing as the 1974 Miss Hope. Selected from among 8 nurses or student nurses, Miss Molz will help take the Message of Hope to all corners of the Michigan Division.

The American Cancer Society, through its year 'round program of research, education and patient services again has the theme: "We Want To Wipe Out Cancer In Your Lifetime."

Michigan Division President, Charles O. Long, MD, of Lansing, urges those who need assistance or information to call their county unit of the American Cancer Society. The ASC programs are year 'round for all who need help.

Louise Nourse and Bob Carson.
