

City voters bury 2 proposals

A sprinkling of voters went to the polls in St. Johns Tuesday and flatly rejected two proposals put to them by the city commission at a special election.

Defeated soundly was a proposal for a new fire-police hall with an accompanying three-mill tax for two years.

Losing by a narrower margin was a measure amending the city charter as it relates to special assessments and taxation.

men and pedestrian and vehicular traffic alike. Such congestion also slows up firemen in making their runs, city officials said. It would also give police more room for their multitude of operations.

Proposition No. 1, the charter amendment, lost by a 507-278 margin—about 2-1. Precinct 2 voters were decidedly against it, 249-109, while Precinct 1 turned it down 258-169.

Proposition No. 2, the fire-police hall issue, lost by a resounding vote of 629 against to only 161 in favor. Precinct 2 beat it by 301-58, and it was turned down by a 328-103 vote in Precinct 1.

The total vote cast was 793, called about average for a special election.

THE DEFEAT OF the two proposals hit the city commission hard, and the charter amendment downfall will probably have repercussions felt this summer by city residents.

The commission indicated prior to the election that if the amendments failed they probably would cut back the millage asked next year—and city services as a result—because of a legal doubt about the city's millage ceiling.

A recent charter study pointed out the charter does not specifically set a millage limitation; the state law which it referred to has a limitation of 20 mills, unless the city charter does not establish a definite ceiling, in which case the maximum would be 10 mills.

THE HOME RULE ACT, which is the general law that applies to the situation, provides for a maximum levy of 20 mills, unless the city charter does not establish a definite ceiling, in which case the maximum would be 10 mills.

City commissions since 1933 have apparently regarded the 20 mills as the limit, and the tax rate has been above 10 mills since that time. Currently it is 16 mills, which includes 3 mills for a water improvement bond issue. Because of the doubt cast by the charter study, however, the city commission decided to spell out the limitation in a charter amendment.

IF THE CITY DOES cut its millage, it would probably be by a little over three mills back to 13 mills. This would provide 10 mills for operating expenses—perhaps the legal limit under the present charter?—and three mills for paying off the water bond issue which voters approved in early 1964.

The new budget will have to be prepared with millage as a guideline, and a number of city services could be expected to be dropped.

The antipathy of voters on the fire-police hall issue reflected some disagreement with the city about not picking a site for such a building beforehand. The city had chosen no site for a possible new fire hall, but said only that it would cost in the neighborhood of $100,000 to $120,000.

THE NEW PROPERTY taxes necessary to build it were also felt to be a big factor, even though they were calculated to be only three mills for two years.

The city had sought approval for a new fire hall-police hall in order to get it out of the congested downtown which they term as extremely dangerous to fire-

High court ruling puts brakes on reportionment

Smiles lined the faces of Clinton County supervisors Tuesday morning as they discussed the Michigan Supreme Court's ruling that the one-man, one-vote apportionment of county boards is invalid.

Supervisors don't want to change the present board makeup, but they voted last Monday by a 15-7 count to reapportion the county as an 11-district board of supervisors, thereby complying with the new state law requiring a new districting of between five and 15 supervisors.

Few of the present board members approved of the law, and the 15-7 vote was only a reflection of their approval of an 11-man plan over other alternatives.

The City of St. Johns a day later announced it would appeal the 11-man plan because the districts did not comply with the requirements of the law.

THE SUPREME court's advisory opinion, on a 5-2 vote with one abstention, lacks the authority of a regular decision, but it was felt it would probably block any redistricting work in progress around the state. Clinton supervisors consider the court opinion as a guarantee of the continuance of the present county board setup.

The Michigan court's opinion was an answer to a request from Governor Romney for an advisory opinion, provided for in the 1963 constitution as a preview ruling on new laws.

The governor asked whether the apportionment law conflicted with a constitutional guarantee that every township supervisor shall have a berth on the county board, regardless of township population.

ST. JOHNS CITY Atty. Harold Reed said Tuesday morning he would have to see the supreme court's opinion before taking further action on behalf of the city, but he anticipated the opinion would make the city's appeal unnecessary.

Reed was prepared to file an appeal with the Michigan Court (See RULING, Page 2-A).

Chamber Secretary Mrs Minsky resigns

Mrs John (Betty Jane) Minsky, secretary-manager of the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce for the past 25 months, is resigning from that position effective April 28.

Mrs Minsky said she has accepted a position as a writer for the State Journal in Lansing. The board of directors of the Chamber, in a special meeting last Wednesday, accepted the resignation "with regret." They said every effort will be made to continue the Chamber operation. No successor to Mrs Minsky has been named.

All programs of the Chamber currently in the planning stages will be carried out, and Mrs Minsky has pledged her continued assistance in advising the Chamber on projects which she has been working on.

Miss Lois Zell, a part-time employee of the Chamber working under the St. Johns High School cooperative education program, will continue on a part-time basis with the Chamber until school is out.

Mrs Minsky's position as county Michigan Week chairman is not affected by her resignation from the Chamber post. She will continue to head up Michigan Week activity in Clinton County and will represent the Chamber of Commerce in planning for the rural-urban banquet at Smith Hall during Michigan Week.

MRS MINSKY CAME to St. Johns March 29, 1965, from Cheboygan, where she was secretary of the Chamber of Commerce there for three years.

She has authored a number of magazine articles and a book concerning promotional work for businesses, business organizations such as chambers of commerce, and other groups. Her book, "Gimmicks Make Money in Retailing," was published by Fairchild Publications in 1963 and reprinted in 1964.

She was listed in the 1966 edition of "Who's Who of American Women."

Mrs Minsky, her husband John who teaches at Central School in St. Johns, and children Gregory, Jennifer, Kenneth and Jack, will continue to live at 4958 N. US-27 at the corner of French Road.

Carter new chairman of Clinton supervisors

The Clinton County Board of Supervisors elected Ernest Carter of Watertown Township as their chairman for the next year Tuesday, but beyond that there was little of significance to come out of their regular April meeting.

The supervisors instructed the clerk to cast a unanimous ballot for Carter as chairman. He has been a supervisor since his appointment in 1958 to fill a vacancy and has since been reelected four times.

He is the first chairman of the county board from Watertown since John Henning served in that position in 1937. Henning was supervisor for 20 years.

TWO NEW SUPERVISORS were formally introduced and welcomed to the board by outgoing Chairman Derrill Shnabery. They were Reginald Nelson of DeWitt Township and Earl T. Barks of Olive Township.

Gordon Iacovoni of St. Johns, who has been serving as probation officer for the circuit court in both Clinton and Gratiot counties, told the board of a new plan for streamlining the state Department of Corrections.

2 more Clinton GIs killed in Vietnam

Two more Clinton County youths died last week in combat action in Vietnam, raising the toll to three from the county in the last two weeks.

Killed by rifle fire last Wednesday at Thua Thein in Vietnam was Marine Pfc. Ronald J. Fitch, 20, son of Mr and Mrs Luther Cleland of 104 S. Whittemore Street.

Nineteen-year-old Army Pfc. James W. Peltier of rural DeWitt was killed Saturday, reportedly having been accidentally shot by another U.S. soldier riding in the same military vehicle with him. He was the son of Mr and Mrs A. B. Peltier of 1660 E. Howe Road.

FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS for both soldiers are incomplete, pending the arrival of their bodies from Vietnam.

Pfc. Fitch was a member of Headquarters and Service Company, 3rd Motor Transport Battalion. A recent Armed Forces news release placed him in Phu Bai, Vietnam, participating in Operation Chinook II as a machine gunner and driver with the "Otter" section of the Third Motor Transport Battalion. The "otter" is a tracked vehicle used in re-supplying units operating in the field and on the beach.

Pfc. Fitch had lived in St. Johns all his life, graduating from Rodney B. Wilson High School in June 1965. He was a former employee of Central Michigan Lumber Co., and he attended the Church of the Nazarene.

He joined the Marines in March 1966 and had been in Vietnam since September 1966.

HE WAS BORN Feb. 10, 1947, in St. Johns, the son of Clarence R. and Isabelle Brown Fitch. Surviving are his mother, Isabelle, and stepfather, Luther Cleland of St. Johns; his father, Clarence Fitch of Lansing; a half-sister, Jennifer and three half-brothers, Douglas, Steven and Kevin, all at home; and his grandparents, Mr and Mrs Harry Berry of R-6, St. Johns, and Mrs Iva Fitch of Lansing.

Pfc. RONALD J. FITCH

Pfc. JAMES W. PELTIER

Burial will be in Mt. Rest Cemetery in St. Johns. Funeral services, to be announced later, will be at the Osgood Funeral Home in St. Johns.

Pfc. Peltier of rural DeWitt will be buried in DeWitt Cemetery, and the Rev. Reginald Becker of the Bath Methodist Church will officiate at funeral services. The date and time of the funeral will be announced by the Vincent-Rummell Funeral Home at DeWitt, which is handling arrangements.

Pfc. Peltier was serving with the 1st Infantry Division in Vietnam at the time of his death. He entered the Army Aug. 17, 1966, and had been overseas since Christmas.

He was born May 21, 1947, in Lansing and was a 1965 graduate of Bath High School.

Surviving besides his parents, Mr and Mrs A. B. Peltier, is a sister, Barbara Ann, at home.

EVEN AFTER DEATH FELLED Privates Fitch and Peltier, funeral services were being held in Maple Rapids for an earlier war victim, Pfc. Rocky R. Snyder of rural St. Johns. He was killed by machine gun fire March 30 near Quang Nam, Vietnam.

His funeral was Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Maple Rapids Methodist Church, with the Rev. Ralph J. Conine of the County Line EUB Church officiating. A two-mile long procession of cars followed the casket to Union Home Cemetery, where he was buried.

Pfc. Snyder was the son of Mr and Mrs Lyle Snyder of 11089 S. Crosswell Road. He had lived in the Maple Rapids area most of his life and had attended East Essex and Fulton High schools. More complete obituary information was published last week.

Road weight limits off

Spring weight limitations on all non-trunkline roads in Clinton County will be lifted at noon this Friday, April 14, according to an announcement Tuesday by A. L. Drago, road engineer for the Clinton County Road Commission.

They had to go to the other county for their particular work. Ward will also serve as a combined parole - probation officer, assigned strictly to Gratiot County.

THERE WILL BE NO additional cost to either county, Iacovoni explained, and the change should result in better service to each county because travel time and mileage will be reduced.

A letter from the South Bingham and Olive Extension Group was read, and it objected to the use of Smith Hall for teen dances. This evoked some discussion by supervisors and it was finally referred to the ag committee to check on whether previous policies concerning the use of the hall were being followed.

Carter commented that he thought the allowance of dances in the hall could get rather "burdensome" and that the people who wanted to rent the hall would be trying to get public buildings to compete in what should be private enterprise.

GEORGE AUSTIN of Ovid pointed out Smith Hall has no dance floor, "but then maybe they (See CARTER, Page 2-A)

Are you baby sitting at home? You should have a license

If you are a housewife who baby sits in your home for other children, are you licensed?

There has been a state law to that effect since 1944, but only since last August has the state Department of Social Services had a child social worker based in Clinton County to help implement the provisions of that law. She's Mrs. Louis (Francesca) H. DeCarolis who lives in Okemos but who spends her working hours in Clinton County. Mrs. DeCarolis explained the general provisions of Act 47 of the Public Acts of 1944.

Any private home in which one or more minor children of other families are given care and supervision for four or more hours a day for four or more days a week for two or more consecutive weeks is termed a foster home by the Department of Social Services. Minors include all children under the age of 17.

FOSTER HOMES must be licensed.

"Foster homes for baby sitting have the same rules and regulations as full foster homes," said Mrs. DeCarolis.

Obtaining a license for the day care of other children in your home doesn't cost any money, Mrs. DeCarolis said, but it does involve some red tape — the filling out of some forms, a visit from Mrs. DeCarolis, and a medical examination to be sure all are free of communicable diseases.

"Requiring a license for a home is for the protection of the children," Mrs. DeCarolis said. "It is also for the protection of the families providing foster care services because there is an official record of their compliance with our legal standards. Communities are also assured of more adequate care for their children."

WHEN MRS. DeCAROLIS goes calling at a prospective foster home or one in which other children are already being cared for, she isn't looking for a spotless house.

"I just look for the ordinary, normal type of house," she said. "And I don't go snooping in closets and under beds either. I'm more likely to disagree with a spotless home than another, because it would probably mean that the children couldn't play as they should."

She interviews all members of the foster home family if possible in order to get a good general picture of the conditions and atmosphere of the home. She gets most of her information on the first visit, but she also checks at the schools, and the church and with persons listed in the license application as references.

THEN THERE ARE things others must do. A medical examination form must be filled out for every member of the household over 12 years of age. This involves usually only a quick check-up by the family physician.

If the foster home is in the country and without city water, the well must be tested to make sure it is safe; the Department of Social Services has the Mid-Michigan Department of Health do this testing, Mrs. DeCarolis said.

Mrs. DeCarolis has very little contact with the parents of the children who are being left in the foster homes. Financial arrangements between the child's parents and those of the baby sitter are strictly between those two parties, and the Department of Social Services does not concern itself with that.

Mrs. DeCarolis asked that persons who are caring for children in their homes and who are not licensed contact her at the Department of Social Welfare office on South Oakland Street in St. Johns. She will send a pamphlet explaining the law and application forms and will make an appointment to visit the home.

IT USUALLY TAKES two to three months for all the contacts to be made and forms completed, Mrs. DeCarolis said, so that a recommendation can be made to her supervisor in Lansing. Mrs. DeCarolis' recommendations, however, are usually accepted and the licenses granted.

The licenses, Mrs. DeCarolis pointed out, are for the home and not the people in them. Thus, if a family moves to another home even on the same block, the license would not be valid in the new home. Obtaining a new one would not involve all the work of the first time, however, and neither does a license renewal which comes every year.

Mrs. DeCarolis has been the children's social worker in Clinton County since last August. When she came there were 12 homes licensed for day care; now there are 27 licensed or in the process of being licensed.

"Most people are very cooperative when I call on them and explain the program and the law," she said. While it is not exactly a new law, most people have not heard of it and it has come as a surprise to a lot of them. She expects to make many more contacts with homes that are caring for children.

Besides the day care services, Mrs. DeCarolis handles referrals to the boys and girls training schools, full-time foster homes, state wards, adoptions and special services for the Department of Social Services.

EUGENE SIMON

City hires new accountant

Eugene Simon, a native of the Fowler area, was recently employed as accountant for the City of St. Johns, replacing Donald Batterly who resigned effective March 15.

Simon attended Fowler schools and Lansing Business University. He has been employed in business and industrial accounting since 1961, most recently with the Lansing Co.

Simon, 28, presently lives at 5202 S. Airport Road. He and his wife, the former Lynda Heinlen of St. Johns, have three children, Brent 4, Curtis 3, Tamra 2.

Mom held in shooting of husband

The young mother of two children who is charged with murdering her husband with a shotgun last Thursday morning southeast of Bath is being held without bond in the Clinton County Jail this week.

She is Mrs. Linda K. Storey, 23, who police say killed her husband, Sterling Sanford Storey, 26, with a single blast from a .410 gauge shotgun during an argument at 4:30 a.m. last Thursday. The shooting took place at their home at 8485 E. Coleman Road, just south of M-78.

The two children of the couple, James 6, and Robert, 3, were staying at the home of grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Storey, about a mile away, at the time of the shooting.

MRS. STOREY was taken to the Clinton County Jail following treatment for shock. She was later arraigned before St. Johns Associate Municipal Judge Robert Wood, at which time she demanded examination. Judge Wood set a tentative examination date of April 20 at 1:30 p.m. and returned Mrs. Storey to jail without establishing a bond. Jack Walker was appointed by the circuit court as Mrs. Storey's attorney.

Clinton County Deputy Sheriff Richard May found Storey, a Lansing factory worker, dead on the floor of the bedroom of the home and Mrs. Storey huddled on the living room couch, crying and talking on the telephone.

She had reportedly called her husband's mother after the shooting. The elder Mrs. Storey called Lansing police who notified Clinton County officers.

Clinton County Coroner Van Hoag of St. Johns said Storey was struck in the chest by the shotgun blast. The shotgun was found on the bed in the bedroom.

NEW SUPERVISORS WELCOMED

New supervisors who were welcomed to the board of supervisors Tuesday were Reginald Nelson (left) of DeWitt Township, and Earl T. Barks of Olive Township. Barks had attended the previous board meeting a week ago while "filling out the unexpired term of his predecessor, Almond Cressman. Nelson officially took over his new duties Monday.

ROBERT WOOD

Wood named associate judge

St. Johns attorney Robert Wood was appointed associate municipal judge for St. Johns by the city commission last Tuesday night. He replaces Frederick M. Lewis whose letter of resignation was accepted by the commission. Lewis is leaving town for another position.

Wood's appointment was effective last Wednesday, and he stepped behind the bench immediately, filling in for the vacationing Judge Alba Wert until Judge Wert returns about May 1.

WOOD WILL BE PAID until that time by Judge Wert according to prior agreement. After that time Wood will receive a $200 monthly salary recently voted by the commission.

Wood, who lives at 107 N. Lansing Street, has been a resident of St. Johns since February 1963, coming here from Chicago. He was associated in law practice until Jan. 1 of this year with Judge Wert but since then has had a practice by himself.

IN OTHER BUSINESS last Tuesday night:

* The commission passed two resolutions, one authorizing Consumers Power Co. to install ornamental metal poles for street lights in Prince Estates No. 2 subdivision, and the other resolution providing for the collection of the $50-per-pole cost from the subdividers. The poles will be installed at the request of the subdividers, but it had to be approved by the city.

* Mayor Charles Coletta proclaimed April 9-15 as Helping Hands Week in St. Johns. Details are included in a separate story elsewhere in this week's paper.

* An ordinance abolishing Ordinance No. 117, which regulates restaurants, was given first reading and will be on the agenda for possible final action at the next meeting. City Atty. Harold Reed said the ordinance is no longer needed because the city has relinquished control of res-

Reed claims the supervisors' approval of the 11-man county board last week violates the state statute in that the districts cross precinct lines in St. Johns and split the city into two districts. (Paragraphs d, e, and f of Section 4 of enrolled House bill No. 2774—the one-man, one-vote law which requires the reapportionment of counties on a population basis—have this to say about the formation of districts:

He brought this problem up several meetings earlier and the commission ordered enforcement. Furry said he thought some contact with the offenders should have been made by this time. ### Attorney Kemper takes over Lewis practice

William C. Kemper of East Lansing, an attorney for six years, will take over the law practice in St. Johns of Frederick M. Lewis, who is leaving the city to join the legal staff of the Clark Equipment Co.

Kemper is opening his practice here immediately, but he said he will have to divide his time between this and his other duty as attorney and executive director of the Greater Lansing Legal Aid Bureau, Inc., until his commitment there can be cleared up.

He and his wife, Joan, are buying the Lewis home at 506 E. Walker Street and will be moving there after school is out later this spring. The Kempers have two sons, Mark, 7, and Jeffrey, 5.

KEMPER HAS BEEN with Greater Lansing Legal Aid Bureau since last August. He graduated with a bachelor of arts degree in 1953 from Principia College in Illinois and earned his LLB degree from the University of Michigan Law School in June 1960.

From 1960 to April 1962 he was associated with the Saginaw law firm of O'Keefe, Braun, Kendrick and Finkbeiner. For the next three years he was assistant city attorney for Saginaw. From August 1965 to August 1966 he attended Rackham Graduate School at the University of Michigan and then joined the legal aid bureau.

Kemper served in the U.S. Army from July 1953 to January 1957, leaving as a first lieutenant after going through Officer Candidate School. He was stationed in Germany from November 1965 to January 1967.

KEMPER WAS BORN and raised in Norwalk, Ohio. He said he and his wife ironically had planned to make their home in St. Johns, while he continued to work in Lansing, even before the Lewis opening came about. His wife is a registered nurse and was on the teaching staff of the University of Michigan Nursing School from 1957 to 1959.

SWIMMING TIME IS COMING SOON

Swimming time is coming soon, and summer swimming styles were among the items modeled in Saturday afternoon's style revue at the Auto, Farm, Home and Sports Show in St. Johns. Susan Woodhams, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Woodhams of R-6, St. Johns, and Jack Minsky, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Minsky of R-3, get into the spirit of the season by showing off two of the suits — and having a little fun, too.

Hospital volunteers have new unit chairman

A new unit chairman for the Clinton Memorial Hospital Volunteers and honors for long service by four of the volunteers highlighted a meeting of the group March 30.

Mrs Robert Rand, Clinton

County Red Cross executive director, announced the appointment of Mrs Edward Prowant as new unit chairman. She replaces Mrs Cecil Boak who has served in that capacity the past four years. Mrs Prowant has been a volunteer at Clinton Memorial for six years.

Mrs Oral Rice presented service bars to Ione Churches for three years of service, in which she worked 112 hours during the last year. Four-year service chevrons were awarded to Ruth Going for 159 hours last year and 627 hours overall; Martha Parks for 108 hours last year and 487 hours in the four years; and Anna Chapko for 142 hours last year and 565 hours overall.

A NEW CLASS OF four volunteers has been trained in hospital assistance. The new volunteers are Mrs Marvin Barclay, Mrs Beverly Crispin and Mrs John Spouta of St. Johns and Mrs Jerry Staley of Ovid.

The four new volunteers and Mrs Prowant attended a training session April 3 and 4 at the Mid-Michigan Red Cross chapter offices in Lansing and then completed their training April 6 at Clinton Memorial Hospital in a meeting with Mrs Patricia Simmet, director of nursing.

Capping services for the new volunteers will be held in the alumni chapel at Michigan State University Sunday, May 7, at 2 p.m. Also capped at that time will be Mrs Robert Beach of Ovid and Mrs Charles Ernst of St. Johns, who have been working some time as hospital volunteers here.

PLANS ARE IN THE making to have a pre-arranged plan for volunteers to serve at Clinton Memorial Hospital in time of disaster. The 14 members attending the March 30 meeting of the volunteers also discussed problems and ways to better service to both visitors and patients.

Many of the volunteers now have their new uniforms, which are blue and white striped. The women are now called hospital volunteers, and no longer grey ladies.

Hospital kitchen near ready

Plans for using the new kitchen facilities at Clinton Memorial Hospital are already being made because of the nearness of the completion of that unit.

Hospital Administrator Harold B. Reed said Monday work on the entire $1,073,000 additions is proceeding on schedule. Terrazzo floors are being laid now he said, and plastering is being completed in most of the building.

The kitchen addition on the southeast side of the hospital is almost done, and Reed said the move into that part of the building will be made soon. No definite date was given.

Completion of the entire project is scheduled for Sept. 1, but Reed said the hospital expects to be using parts of the new building much earlier, possibly by July. Much of the remaining work to be done involves remodeling in the main part of the hospital.

Exterior work is complete except for landscaping, which will start soon.

Safety patroler to win trip

St. Johns will be represented by a local youth at the 31st annual National Safety Patrol Rally in Washington, D. C., May 11-14.

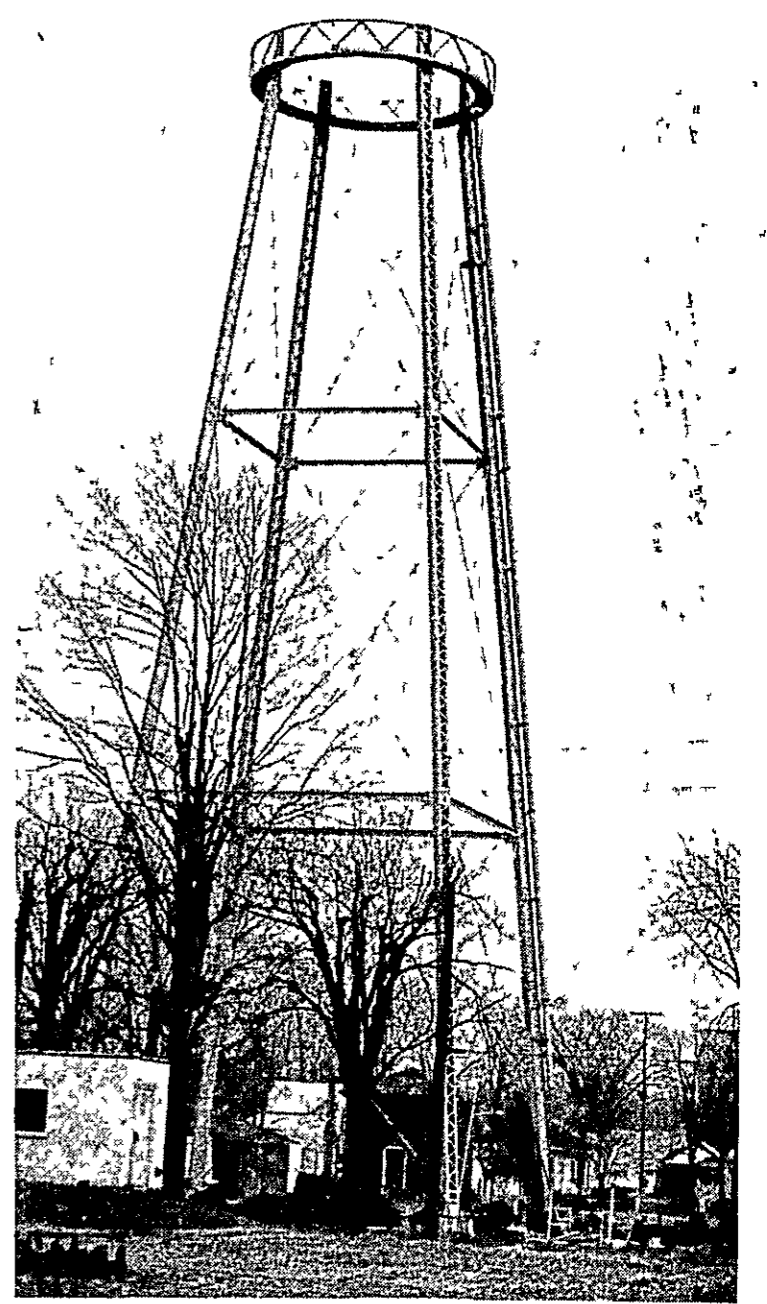

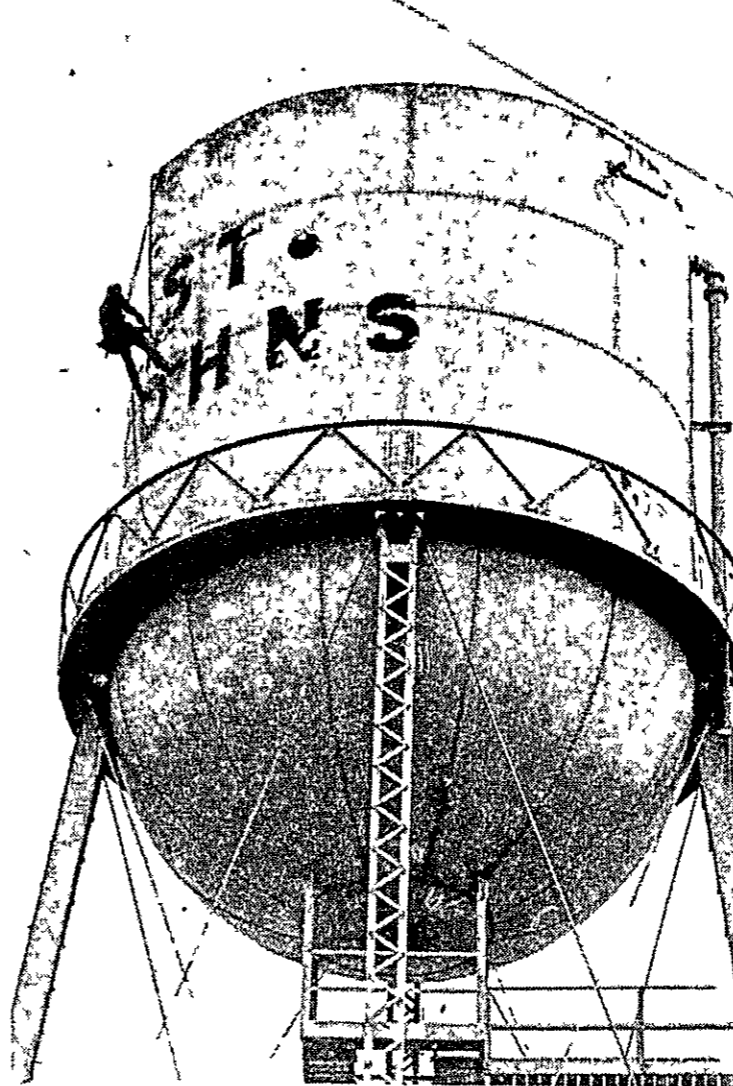

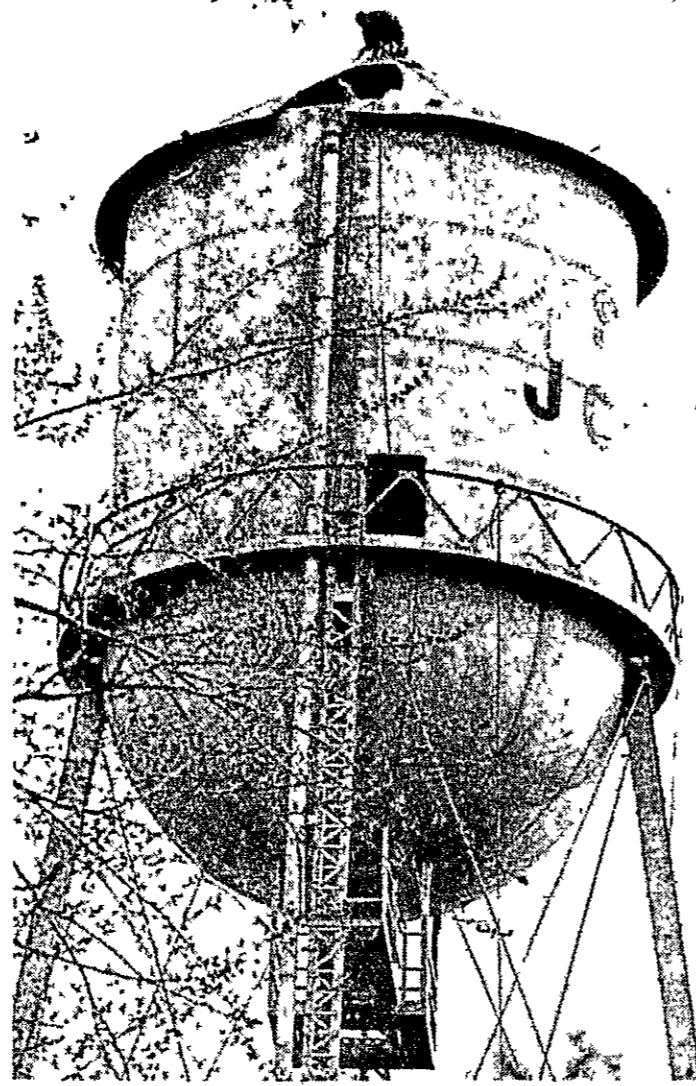

This school safety patroler will be among 133 boys and girls from 103 Michigan cities who will be guests of Automobile Club of Michigan on the four-day, all-expense-paid trip.

Schools chosen to send representatives to Washington now are being notified of their selection, according to Ernest P. Davis, Auto Club's director of safety and traffic.

Each school is selected on the basis of its safety patrol's performance during the school year. The school names the patroler who will take the trip.

Davis estimates that each safety patroler in St. Johns this year has donated 180 hours of his time as a public service while protecting classmates at school crossings. He adds that patrolers are at their assigned posts on school days rain or shine, with no other reward than the satisfaction of a job well done.

there is none

Where there once was a water tower (we speak of the southeast corner of Ottawa and Gibbs Streets in St. Johns) now there is none. A two-man crew cut the tower to pieces (on purpose) last week, starting last Tuesday and having everything on the ground by Saturday. The tower site and the land once occupied by the old water plant will be left vacant.

Junior high ensembles win 26 firsts

The annual District V MSBDA Junior High School Solo and Ensemble Festival was held at Durand, Saturday, with more than 100 students, accompanists, chaperons and Directors Walter Cole and Gordon Gillett attending from St. Johns high school.

The first entry played at 8 a.m. and the final entry played at 4:42 p.m. Of the 75 entries that were scheduled there were 26 first, 19 second, 6 third, and 2 fourth division ratings. Twelve entries were scratched for one reason or another.

FIFTY SOLOISTS and 25 ensembles took part. This type of festival is for the individual rather than the group, with individual effort being the prime goal. Each ensemble and each soloist does receive assistance from the two directors Cole and Gillett.

1 position open on P-W board

PEWAMO-WESTPHALIA - One four-year term on the Pewamo-Westphalia Board of Education will be up for election in June. Nominating petitions for the position are available from Carl Kramer Jr., secretary of the board of education, or at the high school office.

To obtain the printing of the name of any candidate for member of the board of education on the ballot, the candidate must file nomination petitions with the secretary of the board not later than 4 p.m. Saturday, May 13. Each petition shall be signed by not less than 20 qualified school electors of the district.

The last day to register with the respective township clerks to vote in the election is 5 p.m. Monday, May 15. The annual election will be Monday, June 12.

Voters will also decide a 3-mill tax increase for school operation expense.

The green, white, red flag of Mexico contains the portrait of an eagle and cactus.

More than 500,000 New York City children use the subways or buses to get to school each day.

Every soloist had to memorize their solo and have a piano accompanist. The accompanist, who spent many hours with these soloists were Judy Whitlock, Jon Cleveland, Ellen Green, Gall Shafley, Judy Ripple, Rhonda Woodbury, Lorinda Lambert, Mrs. Martha Lundy and Mrs. Jean Woodbury.

Cole was pleased with results for several reasons. "Those students who worked hard for themselves and their ensembles, for the most part, received good ratings. All who participated certainly received valuable experience, especially those who played in competition for the first time. These young people conducted themselves as fine young ladies and gentlemen and are a real credit and asset to our music program."

The soloists and ensembles are available to entertain clubs and organizations, Cole said.

THE CONTEST was held on a windy, damp sub-40 degree day. Each contestant examined soil from a number of different holes already dug in various parts of a large meadow. They had to identify the soil, the problems and the best procedures for improving the soil. Glenn Bedell, Tri-County soil survey party leader, was on hand to comment on the proper answers for each soil sampling site.

Now, Thanks To You, Someone Somewhere Can See Better!

Hundreds and hundreds of pairs of old, no-longer-needed eyeglasses have been donated by local residents to our campaign for New Eyes For The Needy—a non-profit, charitable organization which redistributes these glasses to the needy all over the world. On behalf of all those who will be able to see better because of your generosity, we say, "Thank you from the bottom of our hearts."

We will continue to accept donations of unused eyeglasses for as long as there is a need for them, and we earnestly ask your support of this charitable cause. If you have glasses which you no longer wear that you'd like to donate to the needy, you may bring them to our office, and we, in turn, will ship them to New Eyes For The Needy. Your generosity will be remembered always by someone who wants and deserves better vision—truly, one of life's most precious possessions.

Warn owners dogs must be tied

St. Johns Police Chief Everett Glazier warned dog owners this week that officers are issuing tickets to persons whose dogs are found running around town loose. There have been a number of complaints about dogs not being tied up, and this has prompted police to issue tickets rather than to pick up the roaming dogs. Each day a dog is found running loose is considered a separate offense, Chief Glazier said.

Wind, rain stop Barnes' speed record assault

Rain and strong winds prevented Bud Barnes from making any sincere attempt to break the strip record of 209 miles an hour at the Central Michigan Dragway near Stanton Sunday. Yet the local dragster driver made three runs on a very slippery track and in the rain, all very impressive. Barnes wisely shut off the power quickly to prevent any spin-outs.

A new date will be announced next week for the appearance of the Barnes-Gladstone dragster at the Central Michigan Dragway.

Several of the nation's fastest modifieds gas class cars will appear at the Central Michigan strip this Sunday, including a car from Chicago named Jail bait. This machine won the international in California and has also won several people's choice awards in custom car shows. It is not only for show, but Owner Nick Gaglione of Chicago built it to go.

By proclamation: Helping Hands week

This is the week set aside in St. Johns as Helping Hands Week, by proclamation of Mayor Charles Coletta.

The project began operation a week ago with the eight inch by nine inch placards appearing in over 250 homes in the city. These signs are of a hand in dark blue on a white background.

These wordless signs show a child the way to a place of safety when they are in danger.

The project, sponsored by the Jaycee Auxiliary, has received the support of the Clinton County News, Chief of Police, Chamber of Commerce, City Commission and the Board of Education.

THE PROCLAMATION of the mayor stated:

Whereas: HELPING HANDS will provide places of refuge for the children in our community in trouble from dogs, bullies, or strangers or who are lost, hurt or ill, and

Whereas: HELPING HANDS will serve as a preventive insurance for crimes against children, and

Whereas: Community awareness and support will enable the HELPING HANDS Program to be successful,

Therefore: Be it proclaimed that the week of April 9-15 is designated as HELPING HANDS Week.

Information sheets have been given to every school child in the city explaining the sign and what the sign is to be used for. Teaching the children the proper use of the Helping Hands homes will be left primarily to the parents.

THE RESPONSIBILITIES listed on the back of the card include: Call the police immediately in any case no matter how minor, involving a crime of an adult against a child; if you should call the police, be absolute sure to write down the name and rank of whom you talk to, the time and date; Helping Hands signs are not to be transferred to another person or another home, when and if you are not able to participate in the program, contact a Jaycee Auxiliary member and a replacement home will be arranged; Do not administer first aid; Do not give food and beverages; You are not expected to break up fights or give medication etc. — only to bring the situation to the proper authorities and parents; If you suspect the presence of a molester; call the police immediately; Children are not to use volunteers' homes merely as toilet facilities.

THE RECENT rape-murder of the 10-year-old Grand Ledge girl has brought close to St. Johns the need for the latest community service project of the Jaycee Auxiliary.

The St. Johns goal, said Mrs. Roderick Brown, who is heading the project, is to have two Helping Hands homes in every block of the city.

When 500 cards have been placed in windows easily seen from the street a child should be at no time more than a half a block from a place of shelter.

OTHER JAYCEE Auxiliary members working on the project include Mrs. Tom Peacock who has had charge of typing the letters to the service organizations and getting the information sheets ready for the school children. Mrs. Roger Hammon-tree has headed the telephone committee and has worked closely with Mrs. Marshall Livingston, who has had charge of keeping a file of those with Helping Hand placards in their home. Mrs. Roger Feeman has kept the St. Johns city map to assure all areas of the city a good distribution of the blue and white placards.

Eggs . . . glamorous to sunny side up

BY HELEN B. MEACH Extension Home Economist

Kedgerie . . . Zabaglione . . . Mousse . . . No, they're not secret code names or magic words but dishes in which eggs are an important ingredient.

Kedgerie is a main dish of hard-cooked eggs tossed and heated with rice. Zabaglione is an Italian soft-cooked egg custard made with wine, served as a dessert or a dessert sauce. Mousse is a frozen dessert with whipped cream and beaten eggs.

From glamorous foods like these, to just plain "sunny side up", eggs can be served in literally hundreds of ways. They should, too, for this nutritious protein item is particularly abundant these days. Eggs are truly a budgetwise buy right now and will be for the next two months according to U. S. Department of Agriculture. A quick look in any cookbook will give unlimited ideas for eggs in your meals . . . appetizers, soups, main dishes, sandwiches, salads, dressings, breads, desserts and even beverages.

PERHAPS YOU'D LIKE to try the glamorous-sounding recipes mentioned above. Here to save you the cookbook-look, are the directions — surprisingly simple for such elegant results.

KEDGERIE
1 pound cooked fish (see below)
2 cups hot cooked rice
4 hard-cooked eggs
1/8 teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons minced parsley
1/2 cup light cream
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 teaspoon salt

Use cod filets, pickerel, pike, sole, flounder, or haddock. Flake fish; place in top part of double boiler with remaining ingredients. Heat thoroughly over boiling water. Pinch of curry powder may be added, if desired. Serves 4.

ZABAGLIONE
6 egg yolks
1/3 cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1 tablespoon orange juice
1/2 cup sweet sherry

Beat egg yolks and sugar together until light and place in chaffing dish pan. Cook over, barely simmering water which does not touch the chaffing dish pan. Beat constantly with a wire whisk until smooth and thickened.

If curdling starts remove from heat and beat smooth. Add orange rind, orange juice, and sherry, continue to beat for 2 or 3 minutes. Serve hot in sherbet glasses. Serves 6.

CHOCOLATE MOUSSE
2 cups heavy cream
2 egg whites
3/4 cup chocolate syrup
Whip cream until firm. In separate bowl, beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Whip syrup into egg whites and then fold this combination into the whipped cream. Pour into serving glasses or dishes and freeze. Garnish with chopped nuts before serving. Makes 6 servings.

Oooops! 2 cars collide on Ross

Two autos came together on Ross Street east of Clinton Avenue late last Thursday afternoon. Driver Lysle D. Steves, 65, of 210 Baker, said he turned off Ross into an alley and then backed out, striking a car that was making a turn behind him. That driver, Claude A. Biles, 49, of Wyoming, said he thought the Steves car was going on through the alley, so he swung into a U-turn, and the collision resulted as Steves backed up.

Mexico trip --- a success

With the recent trip to the Mexico City area just completed, plans are already being made for 'next year's' trip by Robert La Brie, Spanish teacher at Rodney B. Wilson High School. Next year he plans to include the city of Veracruz on the itinerary.

La Brie had no problems with any of the 20 students that accompanied him and his wife on the trip during the spring vacation. "There were no disciplinary problems of any sort," he said. They were always on time for meetings and he was able to give them a lot of free time.

"The group was complimented everywhere we went," he said.

La Brie said he met all of the friends his students made while they were there. They saw a bull fight in Mexico City almost immediately upon their arrival, as a matter of fact, they did not even have enough time to get their luggage to their rooms in the hotel before going.

In Puebla they became aware of the colonial way of life. There meals were served in the European style, which entails many courses, and at least an hour to consume all of them.

Whether dancing on the balcony of the Colonial Hotel, watching the Folklorico ballet, which depicts many of the folk dances of Mexico or touring the Floating Gardens of Xochimilco was the high spot of the trip for those who went to Mexico, not one of those asked would turn down another trip back.

SEVERAL ARE hoping to get back there this summer and some want to go back next year if it is possible for them to go again.

"KRIS STEPHENSON, daughter of Dr and Mrs Wesley Stephenson of 510 E. Walker, said she spent most of her free time bargaining in the markets and meeting the people. She preferred Puebla to Mexico City. While in Puebla, she visited the university and talked to instructors there. She was unable to attend classes there, first, because they were not in session and, second, because it was a college for men. Kris is a junior and has had three years of Spanish. Her future plans include college, where she plans to major in music and possibly the Peace Corp. As for the most enjoyable part of her trip, the people, she said, "I just loved them."

"DON'T TRY THE chili peppers," was the warning of Charles Kehr, a sophomore and in his second year of Spanish. Even so, he would go back again.

The Floating Gardens of Xochimilco or the University of Mexico were the high points of the trip for him. But he liked shopping and talking to the merchants.

He is the son of Mrs. Ellis Kehr of East M-21 and plans to go into math and science in college.

KENDRA HARPER, a junior and third year Spanish student, spent much of her free time in the markets and parks. She enjoyed the people and found them very friendly.

The one place she would make a point to see again, she said, was the Latin Tower in Mexico City.

Kendra is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Donald Harper of R-2, St. Johns. SALLY WARD, daughter of Mr and Mrs John Gretzinger of 302 N.

Whittemore, St. Johns, is a senior. She hasn't made any decision yet as to what impressed her the most in Mexico. She hopes to be able to go back again soon. One of the most enthusiastic members of the "jet set" was Mrs Robert La Brie.

SHE ENJOYED shopping there even though her knowledge of Spanish is very limited. She was amazed to find little shops everywhere.

Driving in Mexico City was a little frightening, she said. With statues and fountains every few blocks in the middle of the streets and everyone driving at such a fast pace, it is easy to understand how one could not relax at the wheel or as a passenger. The extreme poverty and small children not in school, as education in Mexico is not compulsory at any age, bothered her.

She is, however, making plans now for a return trip.

Other chronic diseases: Eighty-two cases were followed by the nurses, requiring 316 office, field, and physician contacts. Fifteen nursing home and homes for the aged were visited. Two-hundred sixty visits were made to the schools, and 356 conferences were held with individual school personnel.

Dental health: In Clinton County 110 children between 1 and 4, and 558 children between ages 5 and 17 received the complete fluoride series. Assistance in the cost of dental care for indigent families is still being given through the use of "earmarked funds" donated by local groups and clubs.

THE SERVICES LISTED up to this point have been performed in the past by the county nurses in Clinton, Gratiot and Montcalm counties. Following are programs which have been made available to the people of the three counties by the formation of the Mid-Michigan District Health Department:

Free monthly immunization clinics: Since August of 1966 the following immunizations have been given: Pertussis (for whooping cough), 1,265; diphtheria, 2,021; tetanus, 2,027; polio, 1,079; smallpox, 1,038; measles vaccine, 1,219; tuberculin skin-tests, 2,506; Total immunizations given, 11,155.

Hearing and vision screening in the schools: From the beginning of the fall term in 1966 through Dec. 31, 1966, some 7,014 children have been screened for hearing defects and 3,312 children have been screened for vision defects. Eighty-two children found with hearing defects have required 100 field and office visits, and 132 contacts with physicians, hospitals and clinics were made for follow-up care. Two-hundred forty-five children have been found with vision defects, requiring 308 field and office visits, and 250 contacts with physicians and hospitals in their behalf.

Veneral disease: A total of 51 cases of gonorrhea and 9 cases of syphilis have been reported in the three counties. Most of these cases were handled from an administrative point of view through the central office. The nurses have followed up on 14 cases, making 41 calls to private physicians, 3 office interviews and 9 field visits for health supervision.

ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH Note: These figures are for only five months—all three sanitarians were on the job and their activity reports began Aug. 1. So the summertime services of Art Kelley in Clinton County and Steve Hart and Paul Mahan in Montcalm County are not included, prior to this date. Food program: The food code did not go into effect until Jan. 15, 1967. Even so, 34 inspections of food establishments were made.

Housing program: Twenty-nine sub-standard housing investigations were done on referrals from supervisors, juvenile officers, welfare directors and private citizens.

Nuisance complaints: One-hundred five calls were made regarding complaints reported to the health department by citizens on sewage, garbage, solid waste (dumps), odors, etc.

(Solid waste dumps): Two-hundred fifty calls were made attempting to carry out the provisions of P.A. 87 of 1965 regarding waste disposal. Applications for sanitary landfills are now made at the health department, and the license fee remains in the district.

Trailer Parks: Thirty trailer park inspections were made to determine whether or not compliance with Michigan Trailer Park Law was complete. License fees in the amount of $739.50 were collected in the three counties.

MIGRANT LABOR CAMPS: Twelve inspections were made with the state sanitarian on housing complaints.

Schools: Forty-six full school inspections were made—for food service, water supply, sewage disposal, and safety precautions.

Sewerage: Three-hundred sixty-three municipal, public, private and other sewerage inspections were carried out under existing sanitary regulations (Code went into effect Jan. 1, 1967).

Stream and lake pollution: Sixty-six investigations of water-borne pollution were made, which entailed the taking of 144 water samples.

Water: One-hundred eighty-nine calls were made for investigation of proper water well construction of municipal, public, semi-public, private and other water supplies.

The medical director, nurses and sanitarians have all been actively involved weekdays, evenings, and weekends in group discussions with clubs, land development groups, cottage owners associations, zoning committee, school groups, hospital-staffs, and medical societies in an informational and educational capacity.

Legion offers rules on Viet vet eligibility

There is still some confusion on the enrolling of the Vietnam veterans and their eligibility to membership in the American Legion, according to Commander George Smith of the Edwin T. Stiles Post 153 of St. Johns.

Smith offered these rules, as announced earlier by the national Legion organization:

1) Any person who has served on active duty in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force, or Coast Guard of the United States at any time on or since Aug. 5, 1964, may now be accepted for membership in the American Legion, provided his period of active duty has been terminated under honorable conditions. Service to the Vietnam area is not a requirement of membership.

2) Those who are now on active military duty are eligible to join only under the following conditions: If the person served at any time during the period of eligibility of World War I, World War II, of the Korean War, even though continuing to serve now without ever having been discharged or otherwise separated from active duty; If the person presently on active duty has received a discharge of other honorable separation from the service Aug. 5, 1964, even though presently on active duty.

3) Questions have also been raised concerning the so-called six-month trainees. The Department of Defense has advised national headquarters that the six-month trainee is the same category as the draftee or the person enlisting two, four, or six years. Upon the conclusion of the period of training, the six-month enlistees are normally transferred to the active reserve and at that time will normally receive a Form DD-214 (Report of Separation from the Armed Forces of the United States). This form, if showing the termination of any period of honorable service on or after Aug. 5, 1964, may be accepted as evidence of eligibility for membership.

4) The present period of eligibility will end with the cessation of hostilities as determined by the government of the United States. After that date, those who remain in service will be eligible for membership without regard to whether or not they have received a discharge or other separation, provided the service began on or prior to the date of cessation of hostilities.

The cash dividend is payable March 31 to shareholders of record at the close of business March 30.

This, the 106th consecutive dividend paid by the Fund, is derived exclusively from interest and dividend income and will amount to more than $28.4 million. Shares outstanding number 258,770,000 compared with 247,450,000 a year ago and are held in 446,000 customer accounts.

DRIVER TICKETED

William D. Powers, 28, of Petoskey was ticketed for improper backing Saturday afternoon after he backed up in the driveway at Ken's Sunoco station on US-27 in St. Johns and hit a post. The post was knocked through the window of the station.

The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the School District. Each bidder shall state in his bid the interest cost to the School District, computed in the manner above specified. No proposal for the purchase of less than all the bonds or at a price less than 100% of their par value will be considered.

No doubt about it being FHA Week at Fulton!

Fulton High School
By JANET MANCHESTER

FHA Week was very much recognized at Fulton High School. Each day the FHA girls were to follow the plan a committee set up. Monday each girl was to start putting 10 cents in the FHA box each day all week. Tuesday, second hour, all FHA'ers took to the outdoors to pick up litter. Wednesday, each girl was to make a red and white hat and wear it all day long. (This proved to be quite funny as the girls' imaginations ran wild). Thursday, there was an article about the FHA organization in area papers. Friday favors were taken to the patients at Brown's Nursing Home, rural Perrinton. Saturday was declared Slave Day. The girls were supposed to help their mothers with the housework.

The preceding Sunday, girls took a red rose, the FHA flower, to each of the area churches. THE FHA MEMBERS will board buses Saturday and head for "Greenfield Village." The girls will leave early in the morning and will visit the "Ford Museum" and also view preserved houses of famous people in American history. April 14 is a very important day, as it brings the fifth marking period to close. This means only six more weeks of school until summer vacation, which begins the afternoon of June 2. The seniors' invitations and name cards were scheduled to arrive at 9 on April 13. This is just one of the final steps in preparation for graduation.

From the halls of Rodney B. Seniors work hard to recoup funds

By GAY BOND
St. Johns High School

Suntanned, tired or full of wild stories, St. Johns students trudged back to school after an exhilarating vacation for their last eight weeks of the school year. The seniors are vigorously working at reestablishing their $1,200 loss with numerous money making projects. Their first project was a dance during spring vacation. A newspaper drive was next with bundles upon bundles being hauled over to Lansing. The First Nighters offered the seniors half of their proceeds from their production of two one-act plays, "Egad, what a Cad" and "He done Her Wrong." Besides this the seniors earned an extra $50 for selling tickets to the public.

CONCESSIONS at noon and selling of pins with '67 engraved upon them are in their final stages as "Money" making projects for the class. Then the Varsity Club has given the April 21 Tumble Twister to the senior class.

The recruiters from all the armed forces made their annual visit to the senior class last week. Each recruiter of the different services gave a talk and the rest of the time was devoted to answering questions. At last student council meeting the constitution of the business club and revisions of the FHA constitution were read and approved. The Peace Corp project of financing a school in a needy country was discussed. The council discussed different ways in which to raise money for the project. A MOTION WAS made that any organization using the stage for profit will contribute 10 per cent of their profit to a fund set up by the student council with an initial contribution of $200 to be used for improving the stage.

Spring elections are now in full swing. Petitions for class officers, student council representatives, student council president and vice-president are being signed today and tomorrow, April 13 and 14. Campaign speeches will be next Wednesday, April 19, with primary elections April 20 and 21 and general elections April 26 and 27.

With the season of spring the annual musical presented by the music department comes in full swing. This year's production is the famous Meridith Wilson show, "Music Man," being presented May 4, 5, and 6.

THE MALE LEAD of the "Music Man" will be played by Phil Anderson and Monica Hatta will handle the female lead. The rest of this year's cast is as follows: Mayor Shinn, Steve Tarr, Mrs Shinn, Karen Rumbaugh; Zanetta Shimm, Lisa Davis; Tommy Dillas, Tom Smith; Mrs Paroo, Kathy Zuker; Charlie Cowell, Mike Ask, Marcellus Washburn, Jerry Rossow; the conductor, Mike Anderson; constable Locke, Walt Gregory; Ewart Dunlap, Chris Cornell.

Jacey Squires, Tom Fowler; Oliver Hix, Scot Heibeck; Olin Britt, John Lerg; Alma Nix, Kathy Cornell; Maud Dunlap, Debbie Witgen; Ethel Toffelmier Toni Heathman. The school paper, the Wilson Torch, received a second rating out of more than 1,900 papers sent to Columbia University Scholastic Press Assn. Issues from December 1965 to 1966 were sent and the Torch was among the 22 papers in Michigan which received recognition. The Torch was in competition with papers from all over the United States.

THE VARSITY CLUB is hosting the first Tumble Twister of the season this Friday, April 14. A night of dancing, basketball, gymnastics, volleyball, etc., will be open to all.

Try-outs for next year's Redwing junior varsity and varsity cheerleaders are April 24 and 26 and May 1 and 3. One hour practices are being conducted now on April 12, 17 and 19. There is about one hundred 8th and 9th grade girls trying out for the junior varsity squad while there is about 20 11th and 12th grade girls going out for the Redwing varsity squad.

IOOF seeks donations of old glasses

The Independent Order of Odd Fellows is seeking the assistance of Clinton area residents who have old eye glasses not being used any more. Boxes are being set up at five different sites around the county as one phase of the IOOF program on preservation of sight and prevention of blindness. Edward N. Eisinger of R-1, Laingsburg, liaison officer for the IOOF lodge and World Eye Bank committeeman, said good eye glasses frames donated to the IOOF will be cleaned and used. Metal parts are melted down and sold, with the funds being returned to the eye program.

LENSES ARE used as is, but when not possible they are re-ground. The glasses are then given to people who otherwise would not be able to afford them. "These glasses may be of no value to you, but how can their worth be measured when they help a child to read or an elderly person to become more aware of the world around them?" Eisinger asked.

Boxes where old and un-needed eye glasses can be left for the IOOF at any of these locations: Clinton County News, Parr's Drug Store, and DePeal's Music Center in St. Johns; DeWitt Pharmacy in DeWitt; and Ron's Sinclair in Bath.

Attendance small at sports show

St. Johns' first Auto, Farm, Home and Sports Show wound up Saturday evening with mixed emotions on the outcome of it all.

There were only 900 paid admissions to the exhibit area inside Smith Hall during the three days, much below what the Chamber of Commerce and the promoters had expected.

Bob Dittmer, chairman of the committee in charge of the show, said that generally speaking it was well received and drew many favorable comments. A number of the exhibitors reported writing good-sized orders as a result of their exposure to the public at the show.

Walter Williams of Fowler was the first paid customer to the show, officials said.

Door prize winners were: Marilyn Walker of R-2, Fowler, vacuum cleaner; L. G. Spittler of 712 Church Street, St. Johns, power lawn mower; and Earl Creese of 504 E. Walker Street, St. Johns, portable dishwasher.

Youth working for community beautification

The profits from sales will be used to promote the beautification program.

Each group will go back and discuss further plans and be

DeWitt school bonds approved

The Michigan Municipal Finance Commission has approved $400,000 worth of school building bonds for the DeWitt Public Schools, the commission's chairman, Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelly, announced last week.

Proceeds from the bonds will be used to erect, furnish and equip an addition to the David Scott elementary building; remodel and partially refurnish and re-equip the junior high building; construct and equip an athletic field and develop and improve sites.

The bonds were authorized by voters last June 13. They are unlimited tax bonds and will run until 1996. The school district is authorized to levy whatever taxes are necessary to pay principal and interest, Kelley said.

The bonds are also qualified by the superintendent of public instruction under the school bond loan fund.

Road Commission Weekly Report

The Board of Clinton County Road Commissioners held a special meeting on Friday April 7. The discussion was on the breakup of blacktops and construction.

Blacktop patching is going so slowly that the board voted to get a compactor to help with the work.

The commission made an inspection trip to State Road in DeWitt Township and the Bridge at the south edge of Westphalia. The abutment cracked and left the south-east corner of this bridge without support.

THE BOARD met with the drain commissioner and discussed the replacement of culverts in some proposed drainage projects. The damaged bridge at Westphalia was discussed and a large culvert was ordered to replace this bridge. The tube was to arrive early this week and it is hoped to have the repairs completed without being forced to close the road for any extended period.

At last regular meeting of the commission, three proposed new subdivisions were examined but none was approved. One was turned down because of drainage along a road, one because roads were not constructed and one preliminary plat was not approved on plans that did not meet specifications.

Jack and Ann Walker have won the St. Johns Jaycees annual bridge tournament with a total of 39,280 points after Saturday evening's final round. They had a 9-3 won-lost record, according to Roger Freeman, tournament chairman.

Finishing second were Bill and Harriet Barber with a 9-3 record and 34,900 points. Third were Bill and PerAnn Warsler with a 9-3 record and 31,910 points. Fourth were Paul and Ruth Henning with an 8-4 mark and 35,170 points. Earl and Ruth Creese finished fifth with an 8-4 record and 33,420 points.

Finishing sixth through 10th were Jerry and Coleen Shoemaker, Basil and Fran Delbert, Jim and Betty Moore, Dr Albert and Maridell Nelson, and Howard and Jean Woodbury. Twenty couples participated in the tournament.

Gift certificates from local merchants for $25, $15, $10 and $5 were awarded to the top four couple-teams. The final round at Daley's Restaurant Saturday night climaxed 12 rounds of play in the sixth annual tourney sponsored by the Jaycees.

Chairman Freeman said another tournament will be held next year with a three-week period allowed for each round instead of two weeks as was the rule this year. A separate duplicate bridge tournament will be run next year on the first Saturday of each month.

Thefts, vandalism told to police

St. Johns police reported a number of thefts and cases of vandalism in St. Johns over the past week.

Larry Dalas Jr. of Saginaw reported clothing stolen from his car parked across from the Villa

Dance Hall on Railroad Street Saturday night. Last Wednesday owner Walt Schafer told police someone who had stopped at his Texaco station at 107 N. Whittemore during the night threw a pop bottle through a window of the station.

Mr and Mrs Eugene Welton of 403 N. Morton Street told police Friday that $63 had been taken from a bedroom of their home sometime between the Saturday and Tuesday before. Friday night a car whipped through the driveway at the Clark Super 100 station on South US-27, knocked over and damaged some signs and posts and then sped away.

The kaleidoscopic world of the bands

St. Johns offers 15 programs for junior high, high schoolers

Turning out a couple of dozen top-flight musicians each year is the dream every band instructor would love to live.

But, like the teachers in the math, English, science, physical education and other departments, their true objective is to put into society well-rounded and adjusted American citizens.

The wind instrumental music program in the St. Johns Public Schools gives the boys and girls of the school system many opportunities, Band Director Walter Cole points out.

"Respect by other bands, colleges, communities and other students and adults is important to their stature," he said.

"Our band travels to many communities, schools and colleges that the students probably would not see otherwise. They are exposed to fine performances and excellent literature.

"More and more of our students are trying for music scholarships each year and receiving them. College marching bands are attracting some of our top performers. Many students take part in summer band camps which many of the colleges are now offering."

No opportunity for a student to achieve musical prominence is denied. Any student from grade 6 through grade 12 may take part in the music program. There are over 330 of them now.

"There is a place in one of our bands for a student until he graduates," Cole said. "An individual is dropped from the program as a disciplinary action only, never because of lack of playing ability."

The musical ability of a student usually shows up early. In fact, every year fifth grade students in the St. Johns Public School District and at St. Joseph School are tested for their musical aptitude. Those who pass the tests are then screened in various manners by the director.

For instance, a student must meet certain academic requirements, recommended by the teacher, and have a real interest and desire. Letters of recommendation are sent to the parents of each of the students, and then a personal contact to each home is made.

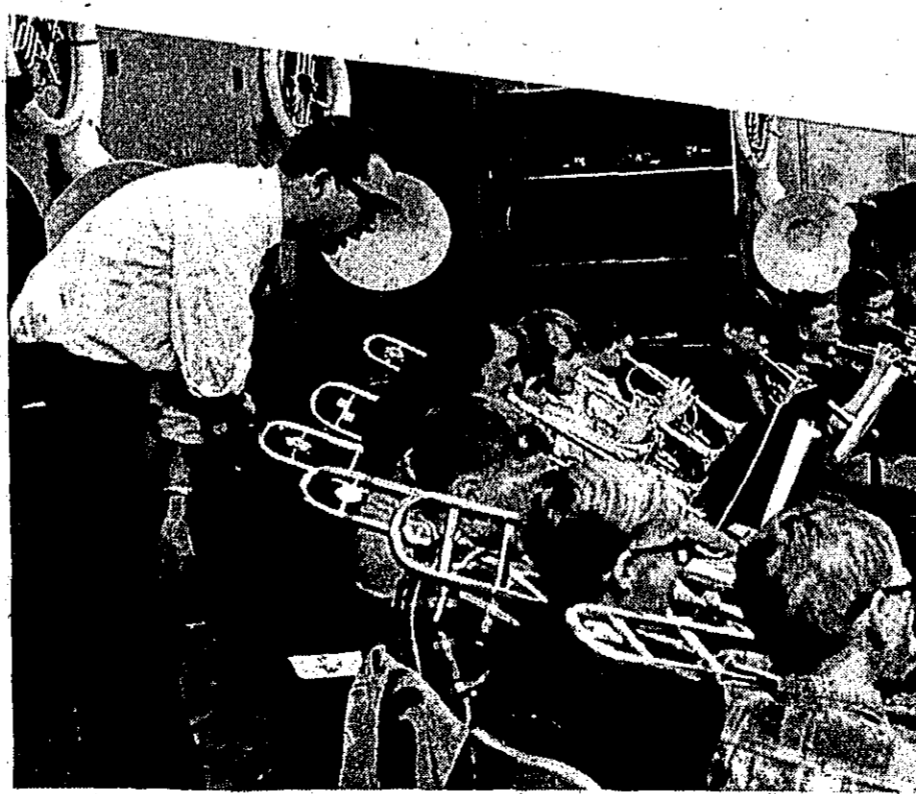

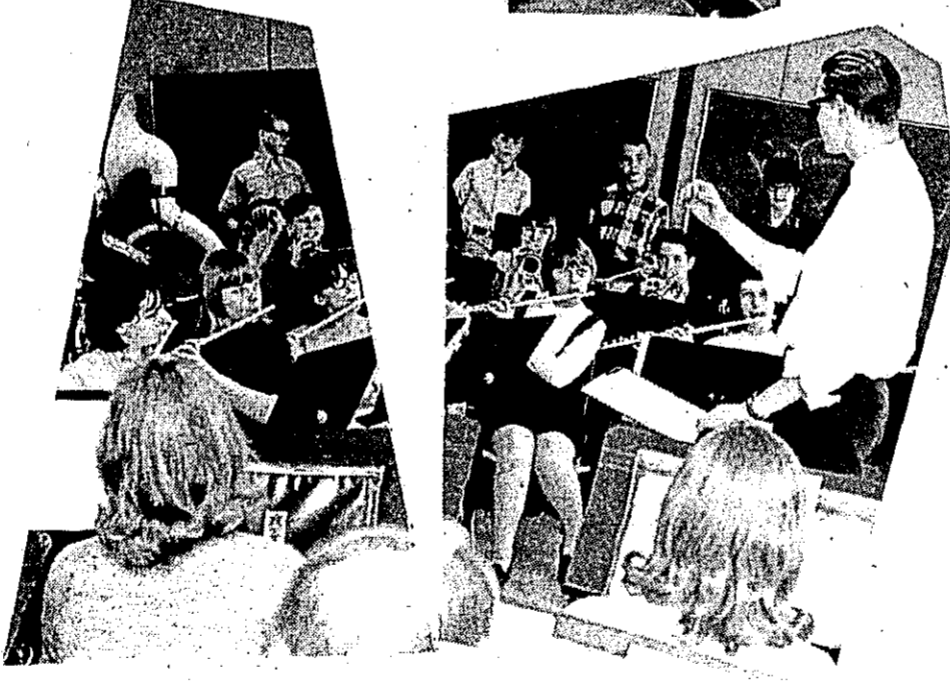

The student and parents, with assistance from the directors, decide on what instrument the boy or girl will play. Every student in the instrumental program owns his own instrument.

Those who do not pass the test may still join the program and receive the same instruction, however. The philosophy of the music department allows any student to enter the program.

'Bands in Review' program April 18; Falcone is guest

Prof. Leonard Falcone, director of bands at Michigan State University, will be guest conductor of the St. Johns High School symphonic band next Tuesday night for the fourth annual Bands in Review program at the high school.

The program is planned to again this year give the audience a complete look at the St. Johns Schools band program from the beginners to the seniors. The concert will follow this order: beginning band, seventh-grade band, eighth-grade band, junior high band, concert band, and symphonic band.

The concert will start at 8 p.m. next Tuesday, April 18, in the auditorium.

Prof. Falcone, who plans to retire as director of bands at MSU at the end of this school year, will direct two numbers by the symphonic band—the "Finale" from the "First Symphony in G minor" by Kalinnikov, and a march.

Features of the symphonic band accompaniment, Carla Motz on the clarinet playing "Adagio and Tarantella," Tom Tucker and Dave Walling on the cornets playing "Londonderry Air," and all the flutes from grades seven through 12 performing "Meditation from Thal's."

The John Phillip Sousa Award will be presented to the outstanding senior musician next Tuesday night.

The guest conductor next Tuesday night, Prof. Falcone, has made an outstanding national reputation as an adjudicator and clinician. He is considered the most outstanding artist on the euphonium in the United States and his two recordings of this instrument on the Golden Crest label are considered masterpieces.

Prof. Falcone was born in Italy and began his career there by playing in his hometown band. He studied instruments and conducting under Donato Donatelli, famous Neopolitan bandmaster. After coming to the United States in 1915, he attended the University of Michigan, graduating as a violinist the year before he became director of bands at Michigan State in 1927. He organized bands in the Air Force during World War II.

Although he is retiring as director of bands at MSU after this year, he intends to remain as an instructor of euphonium and baritone and to serve in an advisory capacity. He plans to be active in the state and country as a clinician, adjudicator and guest conductor.

Tickets for next Tuesday night's Bands in Review program in St. Johns are available from any student in the band program and may also be purchased at the door.

Kaleidoscopic world of bands

The test given fifth graders sometimes protects the parents from purchasing an expensive instrument for an unmusical youngster; at other times it indicated real musical ability of a child.

A summer music program is offered each year for all instrumentalists, and it is at that time the beginning band program starts. From that point Director Cole and Assistant Director Gordon Gillett guide the students along a musical path that offers both individual and team learning and triumph in a variety of ways.

TRIUMPH COMES to different people in different way. For a musician, it is invariably in performing, and St. Johns instrumental band members are performing all the time; at all home football games, in local parades, at concerts, at the Chesaning Marching Festival and Holland Tulip Festival, at district and state solo and ensemble band and orchestra festivals, at Varsity Night, at the spring musicale, at assemblies, at rallies and basketball games, at the University of Michigan Band Day and in all-star bands.

There are no fewer than 15 different school-year musical programs and groups involving band instrumentalists. Here's a chronological look at the program:

BEGINNING BAND—This group numbers approximately 60 members each year. Instruction included daily lessons for youngsters in the city schools and one and two nights a week after school for the rural and St. Joseph students. All of them, in the first year, receive the basics of music, including the techniques of playing their particular instrument. The beginning band performs in concert once each year.

SEVENTH GRADE BAND—The musical process continues with emphasis on performance theory, musical appreciation and history. This class meets daily for one hour as a small band. Switches to the special instruments, such as oboes, bassoon, alto and bass clarinets, baritones and basses are made at this stage. Activities for this band are expanded; more emphasis is placed on solo and ensemble performance which develops the individual player. Activities included parades, concerts, assemblies and district festivals.

EIGHTH GRADE BAND—This band is basically the same as the seventh grade band, only in more advanced stages of learning. Learning activities are stepped up the last half of the school year in preparation for the transition into the high school band.

RURAL AND ST. JOSEPH PROGRAM—An "after school" program is offered to the rural and St. Joseph students three days a week. This class includes sixth, seventh and eighth graders and is divided between the instrumental instructors. There are approximately 75 students in these classes, and they receive the same instruction as the daily sixth, seventh and eighth grade bands do. All phases of the education are the same. This program will continue until the new rural schools are completed, at which time the instructors will go to the students instead of the students to the instructors.

JUNIOR HIGH BAND—In order to have a junior high band, several groups are combined in one organization, which meets one day a week after school.

The band is comprised of some seventy, eighth and ninth graders who have the desire to play and compete as a band. There are over 100 members in this group. Activities include district and state festivals, major concerts and parades.

CONCERT BAND—There are two bands in the high school at the present time. The concert band is primarily a younger (in age) band and is considered as a training unit to prepare for the advanced or symphonic band. The concert band prepares more difficult musical literature than has been undertaken by the previous bands. Development of the individual as a performer and the group as a music unit is very important here, Cole says. Theory, listening and music history also continue at this stage.

SYMPHONIC BAND—This unit is regarded as the more advanced of the two high school bands. Music literature is more difficult, with a great deal of emphasis placed on performance. There are tryouts for this band each year, and all band members in grades nine through 12 are eligible; freshmen, however, are not encouraged to try out for symphonic band, Cole said. The symphonic band activities for the year are basically the same as the concert band. But there are more of them and at a higher level.

MARCHING BAND—The concert band and symphonic band combine to form the marching band that plays at all football games, marching festivals and parades. After the football season, activities are aligned according to group.

STAGE BAND—The stage band is basically a large dance band, formed to give the boys in high school who have a desire for this type of music a chance to perform and learn about it. Monday evening is the rehearsal time. Functions include local entertainment and school dances; there are also a few festivals held for this type of organization too.

ORCHESTRA—About 30 players from the concert and symphonic band rehearse with the orchestra every Tuesday evening. Their activities include concerts and festivals.

MUSICALE PIT ORCHESTRA—This group is formed each year to assist the vocal department in putting on its annual musicale in the spring. There are about 25 members in this group, and they rehearse nearly every evening for five or six weeks. The musicals are the original scores and are extremely challenging to this select group of performers.

SOLOS AND ENSEMBLES—Nearly every student from the seventh grade through the 12th takes part in this activity. Individual accomplishment is a motivating factor. Many of the soloists and ensembles perform for local clubs and associations. These groups perform in competition at district and state festivals.

SUMMER MUSIC PROGRAM—This program is open to all instrumentalists during the summer months. Regular classes are held each day. The high school band and orchestra meet in the evening during the summer. Not only are classes scheduled, but a lot of attention is given to the students on an individual basis.

MARCHING BAND CAMP—Each year the marching band goes to a pre-football season marching camp. This year it will be at Michigan State University, and the program will involve six other bands. About 125 students from the St. Johns band will be going. The band marches about four hours a day and practices three hours on their music. With seven hours a day of music and marching they prepare themselves for the marching season.

PRIVATE LESSON PROGRAM—A program of private instruction is set up for the students at all levels of ability. Many seventh, eighth, and ninth graders take lessons privately from one of the first-chair players in the symphonic band. Students from the music department at MSU also come to the school to give private instruction. Students show a strong desire for this type of instruction, Cole notes.

Open Letter from VAN W. HOAG

Dear Friends,

The death of a relative or friend away from home, or the fact that interment is to be at a distance from the deceased's home need present no problem. You local funeral director, thru his associations, can readily make funeral arrangements anywhere in the world.

In either case, it will be most expedient and economical to promptly contact the local funeral director of your choice to arrange the necessary details.

Respectfully, Van W. Hoag

BENGAL EUB CHURCH

The Rev Eugene Friesen is pastor of this and the Bingham EUB church; the two churches will merge next Jan. 1. Robert Gill is Sunday school superintendent. Members of the board of trustees are Levi Blakeslee, Lloyd Love, Stanley Rathbun, Allen Schultz, Kenneth Harper and Robert Gill.

High ranking representatives of the Roman Catholic Church and the American Baptist Convention recently probed areas of agreement toward Christian unity at a two-day meeting at the Catholic Franciscan Retreat House at DeWitt. At center is the Most Rev Bishop M. Joseph Green, bishop designate of Reno, Nev., and former pastor of St. Joseph Catholic Church in St. Johns.

Catholic, Baptist theology views exchanged at historic DeWitt meeting

DeWITT — High ranking representatives of the Roman Catholic Church and the American Baptist Convention have isolated three areas for further study in an historic two-day (April 3-4) ecumenical probing toward Christian unity.

Meeting at the Catholic Franciscan Retreat House here, official representatives of the two churches had prepared papers describing areas of theological point of view.

THE CATHOLIC POINT of view was read by the Rev John A. Hardon, S. J., professor of systematic theology at the Ballantine School of Theology, North Aurora, Ill. The Baptist point of view was presented by Dr. Robert T. Handy, professor of church history at Union Theological Seminary, New York City.

"On the basis of the presentations and the discussion which followed, three areas were projected for further study," the two groups said in a formal statement at the conclusion of the meeting.

The three areas are:

"1) The relation between believer's Baptism and the Sacrament of Confirmation.

"2) The nature of Christian freedom in relationship to ecclesiastical authority.

"3) THE ROLE of the congregation in the total life of the Church."

In its formal statement, the group added:

"It was recognized that there is real tension in these topics but also that there is a much wider degree of agreement than might have been anticipated. In the continuing dialog, effort will be made to probe further these issues through interchange of ideas between the two subcommittees. It is the hope that this interchange will produce greater understanding between the two communions and will contribute to the advancement of the cause of Christian unity."

The Catholic subcommittee was headed by the Most Rev M. Joseph Green, auxiliary bishop of the Diocese of Lansing for the last five years, and bishop-designate of the Diocese of Reno, Nev.

THE BAPTIST GROUP was headed by Dr. Robert D. Torbet of Valley Forge, Pa., executive director of the Commission on Christian Unity of the American Baptist Convention.

"It is anticipated," their formal statement said, "that the three topics under discussion will lead to a fruitful probing of the meaning of religious liberty which is of concern to both American Baptists and Roman Catholics in our day."

The two-day meeting was characterized by those attending as an "historic milestone in the ecumenical movement in the United States. It will be followed by others at regular intervals in the future."

The high spot of our family album! We've only seen Meg hold this solemn expression once before, when she was a freckled angel in the Sunday School pageant . . . and then she wasn't quite so cross-eyed!

Meg's our darling adopted daughter, and usually she's a little livewire . . . full of surprises. It was Meg's enthusiasm for Church School that led us to improve our own record of church attendance. It was Meg's searching question, "Why don't we ever thank God for dinner like the Andersons?" that revived the custom of meal-time grace in our home

Dee-licious! Purina Golden Bulky

Cows and growing heifers love the sweet flavor and aroma of Purina Golden Bulky.

It's sweet because it's high in molasses. It's light and bulky—100 pounds fills six bushel baskets. It's a high protein ration fortified with Vitamins A and D.

Golden Bulky is versatile, too. It can be used to balance the grain in your milking ration, dry cow ration or heifer ration. You can use Golden Bulky to supplement dry late summer and fall pastures or to preserve silage. And it can be top-dressed or mixed with your own grain.

Next time you stop by, let us show you how many ways you can feed versatile and nutritious Purina Golden Bulky.

Attend corn award fete

OVID-ELSIE—Advisors Albert Ackley and Rodney Tulloch and Ovid-Elsie FFA member attended a DeKalb corn awards banquet in Frankenmuth April 3 during which 10-12 students with DeKalb corn project top records were honored.

FFA members attending include Dennis Gruesbeck, Dale Mulder, John Craig, Robert Woolley, Robert Craig, and Dean Acre. Nine other boys who completed the project were unable to attend.

In contrast to most corn contests which are based on yield checked on a spot basis, the DeKalb project emphasized costs, fertilizing, population and recognition of corn enemies. The yield is computed, but project recognition is based on other factors, too.

TOP STUDENT from Ovid-Elsie on total score was Dennis Gruesbeck with a score of 100. He received a special wall plaque. Other boys received pins and certificates for adequate awards.

According to advisor Ackley, each student planted a variety of DeKalb corn and compared it with another hybrid by keeping records of all field operations and costs. After harvest costs per bushel ran from 34 cents to 71 cents. Richard Loynes had the lowest cost per bushel of 34 cents.

Twenty-five schools from central Michigan were in attendance at the dinner. St. Louis and Cornucopia were the top schools in the competition. Gene Stouffer of Elsie, DeKalb representative for central Michigan, was master of ceremonies.

One day's delay: 1 1/2 bushels loss

Each day of delayed corn planting after the earliest recommended date can reduce yields by as much as one-and-one-half bushels per acre, says a University of Illinois agronomist.

In a report summarized by National Plant Food Institute, L. V. Boone says Illinois tests showed that for each day that planting was delayed after May 1, corn yields were reduced.

In three years of study, Illinois agronomists found that early plantings showed yield increases of 42 bushels per acre where 160 pounds of nitrogen were applied. Late plantings showed no response to nitrogen.

The agronomists also found that as planting date was delayed, corn height, lodging and grain moisture content at harvest were increased.

Space age milk marketing here

Space age milk marketing in Michigan doesn't mean the cow that jumped over the moon.

It means gearing movement of milk—and milk prices paid to dairy farmers—to supply and demand conditions over a large geographic area. The reason this is necessary today and it wasn't 10 of 15 years ago is that modern roads and milk hauling equipment has "shrunk" the distance between milk markets in the major cities.

The tool that Michigan dairy farmers have for this space age marketing job is the Great Lakes Milk Marketing Federation.

A PURELY BARGAINING group, Great Lakes is composed of the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. and 15 other cooperatives. Great Lakes milk is sold in Indiana, Ohio, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee as well as in Michigan.

Two dairy farmer cooperatives in Michigan, besides MMPA, hold membership in Great Lakes.

They are the Kalamazoo Milk Producers Cooperative, which is also a cooperative member of MMPA, and the Constantine Co-operative Creamery. Actually, since MMPA is the pace setter on pricing in Michigan, Great Lakes prices prevail for all Michigan dairy farmers, even though they might not be members of a group that belongs to, and helps support the operations of, Great Lakes.

Although formed in 1960, Great Lakes took no actual pricing steps until 1966. Its initial step added 70 cents per hundred-weight to the bottling milk price for Michigan dairy farmers, however, and was one of the most successful milk bargaining steps ever taken by any cooperative group.

What's in the milk marketing future for Michigan dairy farmers?

BEST ESTIMATES, by MMPA President Glenn Lake and others with their finger on the milk pulse, are that the importance of regional marketing will continue to grow. While there are certainly effective limits on the size of organizations like Great Lakes, the nation may be made up of a half dozen or so regional markets—instead of the hundreds of smaller, mainly local, markets—sooner than anyone expects.

Certainly the buyers of milk have grown. Huge dairy companies buy most of the milk produced in this country.

With size, the big companies have gained enormous market power. In effect, they have narrowed the alternative markets available to dairy farmers.

Potash a must for alfalfa

Adequate potash levels are a must for consistent high-yielding, long-lasting alfalfa stands, indicates a report from University of Minnesota.

Experiments there show that for high yields and most economical production, alfalfa stands need high rates of potash fertilization at seeding time and later as topdressing.

Curtis Overdahl, in statements reviewed by National Plant Food Institute, recommends annual or even twice-yearly potash applications. Studies show that topdressing increases yield and slows thinning of stands... even when soils are well-fertilized at seeding time.

Needs of other nutrients, such as phosphorus, sulfur, boron and calcium are critical, too, reminds Overdahl. Best way to determine soil needs is by soil testing, reminds the institute.

Emphasize role land conservation plays

Soil conservation districts in Michigan and the Soil Conservation Service and other agencies assisting them have joined other organizations in the observance of National Wildlife Week in late March. Theme for this year's promotion was "This Is Your Land."

"Every citizen is part-owner in local, county, state, and federal lands, and should be interested in their conservation use and treatment," said Verne M. Bathurst, state conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service. This year's National Wildlife Week Program was designed to call the citizen's attention to the benefits from the development of these tax-free lands.

"AS THE DEMAND for space for recreation, hunting, and other activities continues to grow, we must plan carefully for the conservation management of our lands, both public and private, to meet these needs," said Robert Moore, chairman of the Clinton County Soil Conservation District. Nearly one-fourth of the land in the United States is public owned. Almost all of Michigan's 82 soil conservation districts are providing technical help in planning, and applying conservation practices to public-owned land the same as privately owned. Three practices include provision for wildlife habitat and recreation, where feasible. Areas of land coming under public ownership as a part of small watershed projects through Public Law 566 are being developed for multi-purpose benefits to include fish and wildlife and recreation.

Soil Conservation Service technicians assisting the Clinton County Soil Conservation District have helped Pewamo - Westphalia, Ovid-Elsie, and Bath Community Schools with wildlife habitat improvements, tree planting and fish ponds, according to Lloyd B. Campbell, work unit conservationist assisting the Clinton Soil Conservation District. The 1967 National Wildlife week observance in Michigan was sponsored by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, and was under the direction of James L. Goudreau, chairman.

Panel to guide aid requests

New steps were announced today to insure that rural communities don't miss out on help available from any source in their development programs.

There is going to be a "one-stop" service in Clinton and other counties where the rural community can find out where to turn. Chairman Lloyd B. Campbell of the Technical Action Panel for Clinton County said that panel has been designated as the central source of information here. Similar announcements are being made today by Technical Action Panel chairmen in other Michigan counties.

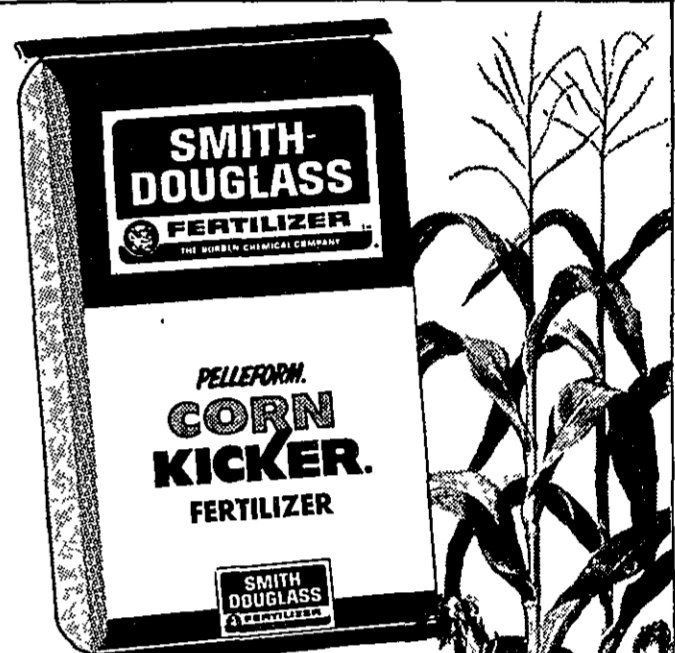

THE PLAN RESULTS from an order by President Johnson that all Department of Agriculture field offices be put at the disposal of other federal agencies, to help make their programs effective in rural areas.

Local organizations will be able to find out through the county T. A. P. whether agriculture or some other federal department, or private agency has a program to help a project that could not be carried out with local resources alone.

Technical Action Panels include the local officials of Department of Agriculture agencies, such as Rolland Whitney, the Farmers Home Administration; L. B. Campbell of Soil Conservation Service; William Smith, ASCS; and Elton Twork, Forest Service - plus F. Earl Haas, Extension, and Albert D. Ackley, vocational agriculture services.

Campbell, who is work unit conservationist, with the Soil Conservation Service, said inquiries can be submitted through his office in St. Johns or the office of any other agency on the county Technical Action Panel.

Consistency in all things is a man's most precious asset.

ASC PROGRAM

Certification reporting of crops working well

This year we have more farmers participating in the feed grain and wheat programs than in past years. They will report compliance for these programs, wheat by June 15 and feed grains by July 15.

In past years it was necessary to visit each farm participating in federal farm programs in order to measure the program acreages. A new system was started in Michigan two years ago to allow farmers to report their own crop acreages in compliance with these programs. Local ASCS county offices would then make a random spot check of a certain percentage of these farms to make sure the farmers were reporting their acreages correctly.

THIS SYSTEM was widely accepted by the farmers, and the spot check showed that they were making honest efforts to report their acreages correctly. If the spot check showed the farmers did not accurately report his program acreages, there was a substantial reduction in his payment for small errors, or a complete loss of payment for large errors. In addition to the complete loss of payment for large errors, the farmer would also be subject to prosecution by the federal government for violation of criminal or civil fraud statutes.

In order to help the farmer give an accurate report of his program acreages, the ASCS county office provides him with an up-to-date copy of an aerial photograph of his farm. This photocopy will show the farm boundaries and, in most cases, have field acreage shown. With this photocopy as a guide, and knowing the crop planted in each field, the farmer is better prepared to figure the number of acres of each program crop on his farm.

If the photocopy does not show the acreages for the fields, the farmer can request a measurement service from our ASCS county office. We have trained men to provide this service at a very small cost to the farmer. There are many advantages to the producer for this measurement service. The small cost will more than pay for itself because:

- 1) HE WILL BE sure of being eligible for full price support and other program payments.
- 2) He will not lose money in labor, machinery, fertilizer and cost of planting acreage which must be destroyed to be in compliance.
- 3) He will not lose income from excess diverted acreage which could have been planted to a crop.
- 4) He will be able to plant the entire permitted or intended acreage of wheat, feed grain, and other crops and will not lose money from under-planting the acreage he was permitted.

A NOTE OF CAUTION should be kept in mind, however, that reporting acreages should not be a guessing game. Errors can be expensive. Acreages must be reported on or before disposition dates. In our county wheat by June 15 and corn by July 15.

Producers wishing measurement service should make their request immediately to avoid a delay in getting the service, as we are short of reporters to do this measuring.

Industry may seem far removed from Jamaica, but in addition to being a tropical paradise, the West Indian island is one of the leading bauxite-mining areas in the world. Bauxite is the ore from which aluminum is made.

Nursery law protects buyer

Buyers of landscaping materials and other nursery stock should read the certificate of inspection when making purchases.

This is the suggestion of Director B. Dale Ball of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, who says nursery stock sales each year in the state approximate $40 million.

The law requires that nursery stock carry a certificate of inspection issued by the department's Plant Industry Division. This shows the material has been examined and found to be free of plant diseases and insect pests. Individuals selling or giving away such material should have plants inspected by the division.

The law states that nursery stock must be stored and displayed under conditions that will maintain its vigor. Quality is a factor in determining price, and purchases are unlikely to find high quality items at give-away prices.

The purchaser should be wary of salesmen who make extravagant statements about their merchandise or claim them to be some sensational development in the horticultural world.

Agents who solicit sales of nursery stock are required to carry an agent's permit. These are requested by the nursery firm the agent represents from the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Prospective buyers should ask to see the permit.

How about planting blueberries?

If you're a victim of pre-spring gardening fever and have a sweet tooth for home-grown blueberries, see your county Extension Service office for planting information, and find a neighbor with a blueberry patch.

It takes six to eight years after planting for blueberries to reach full production, according to Michigan State University horticulturists, says George McQueen, Extension agriculture agent.

Bushes will produce no crop at all the first two years. In the third year, each bush will produce about 1/2 pint of berries. The next year one or two pints per bush can be expected. The full crop of four to six pints of berries per bush can be expected in the sixth season. Some bushes will yield much larger crops.

A BULLETIN written by Stanley Johnston, Jerome Hull Jr. and James Moulton of the MSU Horticulture Department gives details on blueberry production.

The specialists say that newly cleared land is best for blueberries, since it contains more organic matter than land that has been cultivated for several years.

Home gardeners must protect berries with netting, or birds will eat the fruit before it is fully ripe.

It is important to choose the right variety of berries, and to buy state-inspected planting stock, the bulletin cautions.

THE SPECIALISTS point out that the initial cost of establishing a commercial planting is high. Good blueberry land may cost up to $500 an acre to buy, clear and prepare for planting. The plants cost between $225 and $350 an acre.

The bulletin is titled "Hints on Growing Blueberries," and is available at the Extension Service office at St. Johns, says McQueen.

Ex-head of Ovid, Elsie MMPA plants retires

J. Paul Keeney, a key member of the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. staff for 15 years and former manager of the Ovid and Elsie plants, has retired as purchasing manager for MMPA.

He started with the association when the Elsie Cooperative Creamery was purchased by MMPA in 1952. Keeney had been manager of the Elsie Co-op for 10 years at that time. Earlier, he had been with a dairy in Three Rivers and manager of a co-operative creamery at Alto, near Grand Rapids.

His first job for MMPA was as manager for the Elsie plant.

WHEN MMPA bought the Ovid plant from the Detroit Creamery, Keeney became manager of the combined Elsie-Ovid operation. In 1959, he was given responsibility for the highly complex job of helping members convert to farm bulk tanks.

He took over the newly created position of purchasing manager when association buying was combined into one office, and served in this capacity until his retirement.

In a dairy industry career spanning 34 years, Keeney was in key spots during some of the most critical times faced by dairy farmers. His effort was always evident, and especially meaningful to the association in helping convert milk supplies to grade A, in modernizing the market through installation of bulk tanks, and in meeting the "Fair Share" challenge of the mid-1950's. Keeney's retirement plans include spending some time with the two daughters and one son which he and his wife, Rose raised.

Modern forestry tactics in harmony with nature

Six noted authorities in the fields of business, industry and government recently addressed a meeting of members of the American Forest Products Industries. All six speakers concurred on a major problem confronting these industries. They believe that a growing segment of the population increasingly aware of environmental pollution problems fails to understand that harvesting timber neither destroys the forest nor prevents recreational use.

This lack of understanding could lead to the adoption of governmental policies and controls that would negate the efforts of modern timber companies to perpetuate our forest lands on a sustained yield basis through the development of tree farms and logging practices that involve planning for a century or more ahead.

The disruption of forest management plans of industry would not only undermine the basic right of private ownership of land but would also threaten a continuing supply of the thousands of wood products required by an expanding population—a population that in the United States is expected to reach 218 million by 1975.

Perhaps the greatest fallacy about forest lands is the belief that if left alone the forest remains unchanged—a sanctuary untouched by time where people, as well as animal life, may find peace and solitude. The truth is that a forest is something like a field of wheat with the difference that wheat grows to maturity in a matter of weeks, while the life cycle of forests requires hundreds of years. In either case when the life cycle is concluded, whether it be wheat or tree, the crop either returns to earth or is utilized by man.

Fortunately, our forests may be enjoyed by recreationists and sportsmen during the process of growth, and likewise provide cover for wildlife and protection against erosion on invaluable watersheds. These are the reasons why the timber companies now practice methods of logging that will at all times maintain an adequate reserve of forest land. Modern timber management works in harmony with nature.

Religious overseas aid cause deserves support

The three great faiths of America are continuing their efforts to assist the starving and the needy the world over.

This spring again, Religious Overseas Aid is urging Protestants, Catholics and Jews through their respective places of worship, to contribute to the battle against hunger everywhere.

As a church leader said not long ago: "How do we differ today from the Middle Ages—a time of plague, hunger and need? We differ very little when we allow half the world to go to bed hungry every night."

There is no worthier cause than helping one's fellow man.

Protestants help through One Great Hour of Sharing while Catholics give through their Bishops' Overseas Aid Fund appeal and the Jews through the United Jewish Appeal. All are causes that should be supported. Through funds raised in the places of worship the hungry are fed; medical aid is given the sick; children and expectant mothers are cared for. In food-for-work projects, roads, schools and dams are built; wells are dug, and other community needs are met. The world is helped toward becoming a better place for man to live.

St. Johns Rotarians were given insight into India's political climate at their Tuesday noon luncheon meeting here. The speaker was Capt. 25 YEARS AGO From the Files of April 23, 1942 Urban Fox of Bengal township has been appointed as a member of the Clinton County Department of Social Welfare. He succeeds C. R. Colvin of DeWitt, who recently resigned. Mr. Fox was appointed by the board of supervisors.

Biggest pig to go through the St. Johns Stockyards was the 830-pound sow sold at Friday's auction by Fitzpatrick Bros. of Hubbardston. The animal was "knocked down" to G. M. Peet Packing Co. at $12.30 per hundred, for a total of $107.07.

Only time can tell how many Clinton county clocks will be backed up one hour on Friday, May 1, in accordance with the recommendation of the board of supervisors that Eastern Standard time be substituted for Eastern War time on that date.

50 YEARS AGO From the Files of April 19, 1917

Two Portland ladies, Miss Marceline Cranston and Miss Ruth Belen, conceived the idea of walking to Hubbardston, Sunday morning, a distance of 18 miles. They left Portland at 6:30 and arrived in Hubbardston at 1:15. Miss Cranston's father resided in that town and the young ladies were not too tired to eat a good dinner at his home. They returned by automobile.

Friends of Harry Coleman of Pontiac, formerly of St. Johns, will be pleased to know that he has been given a very responsible position of managing director of the Detroit Free Press. Mr. Coleman made a fine success as publisher of the Pontiac Press Gazette. For a short time he was vice-president and manager of the Detroit Journal, until the Journal was sold by E. D. Stair, the publisher. Mr. Stair is also chief owner of the Free Press.

On keeping our youngsters safe

By LOWELL G. RINKER

Central School safety patrolers were alert. When they saw a little girl leaving school unexpectedly get into a car with a man she apparently had not expected to be there, they acted fast.

They reported the suspicious incident to the school administrators, complete with the first name of the girl, a description of the car and the license number of it. School officials checked with police, who traced the car to a Lansing auto sales firm. They then called the mother of the child to report the incident.

Fortunately, all turned out well. The man was the estranged husband of the mother and the child's real father. And he was merely delivering her to the house at the time the mother was answering the call from school officials. It was scarcely five minutes after alert safety patrolers had made their report.

NOT ALL STORIES ABOUT children being picked up in cars have the happy ending that actual story did. It was far from a happy ending in Grand Ledge where a 10-year-old girl was raped and murdered.

St. Johns, fortunately, has had nothing so bizarre. But there have been cases of child molesting, including some during the last year. And there is nothing that makes St. Johns immune from the bizarre. It could strike our city, even your family, tonight or tomorrow or . . .

What's being done about it? Education of our youngsters about the dangers of accepting rides with strangers. Two specific methods are being used on a mass instruction basis to drive the idea home to youngsters.

The more startling and convincing of the two is probably the movie, "Child Molester." This 20 minute color motion picture has been purchased by the Osgood Funeral Home and is on loan free of charge for showing to PTA's other groups and to children.

So far the movie has been shown to all grades at Central School and at St. Joseph Catholic School. It will be shown in the other schools of the city, too, with PTA sanction. It is a frank and realistic film about an actual case of child molesting and murder in an Ohio city. The tragedy is recreated by actors, but 80 frames of the movie show the bodies of the two victims.

IT'S KIND OF GORY at the end, but it is extremely effective in making the children understand the possible consequences of being picked up by strangers.

What if your child or mine is approached by a stranger and offered a ride, with maybe candy as a bribe? What could they do?

If parents had given them proper warning and proper instruction, the child would immediately refuse and move away from the man or woman trying to entice them. They would then summon help.

This is where "Helping Hands" comes in. This community-wide project by the St. Johns Jaycees has won wide-spread public acclaim during its planning and organizational stages. And now that it's in effect it will have a chance to do what it was organized to do—save pain, grief, even a life, and perhaps lead to the arrest of sick people who prey on children.

HELPING HANDS, OF course is designed for more than just protection against molesters. Children who are the victims of injury, bullying or who are lost can find refuge and help in the homes of residents who display the helping hand in their window.

The hands (printed on a card) are being distributed in town this week, to volunteer housewives, and wherever possible there will be one on every block. A child should never be far from a helping hand if he is only taught to recognize the meaning of it.

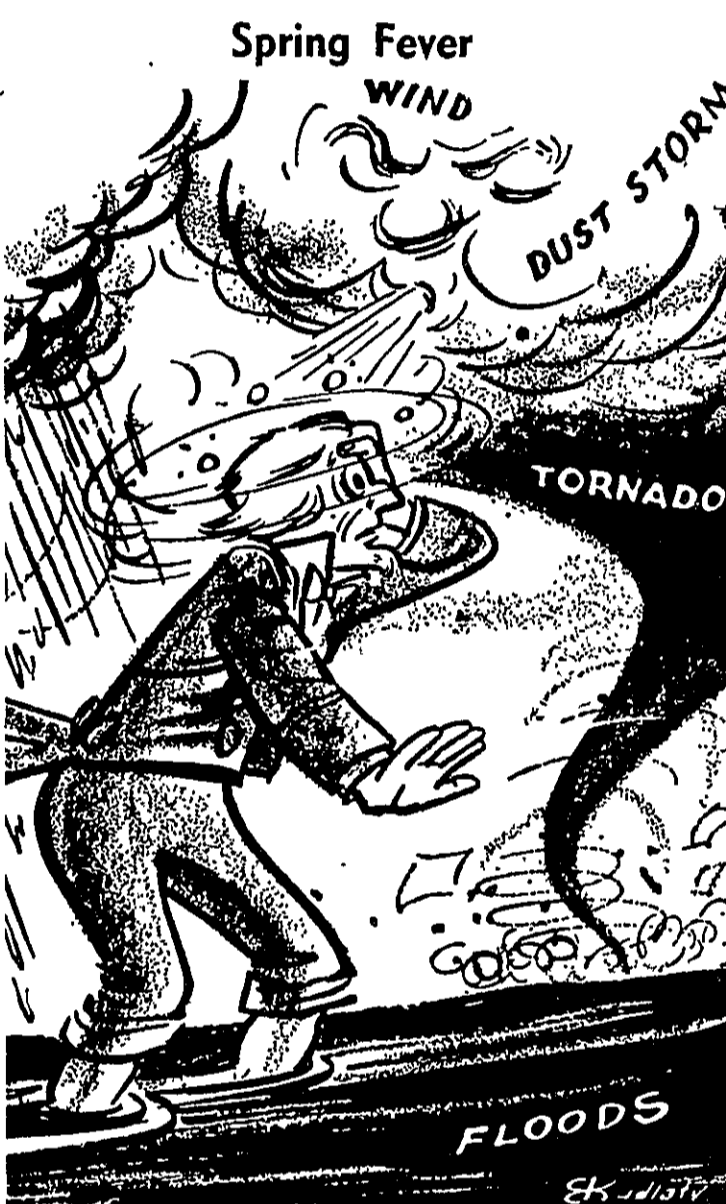

In watching the faces of the youngsters viewing the movie, "Child Molester," it seems evident most of them recognize the danger of association with strangers. It is up to parents and teachers to regularly remind them of those dangers and what to do:

"Keep away from strangers. Don't let them touch you. Go to the nearest home with a "helping hand" in the window or straight home, and have the "helping hand" resident or your parents call the police immediately."

PARENTS SHOULD EMPHASIZE the need for quick reporting of the incident to police. This maximizes the possibility of the police intercepting the would-be molester.

The people of Grand Ledge were justifiably shocked by the murder of their 10-year-old resident, and it shocks everyone to a certain extent. But shock is never so severe as when it hits home.

And it could hit home—in St. Johns . . . unless we make sure our children understand the dangers emphasized by the Grand Ledge crime and the movie—and the alternative safety of the "helping hands."

WHITTIER, CALIF., STAR REVIEW: "There is no reasonable answer in trying to understand why young people, many from very fine families, go out and break and destroy property that belongs to other people. . . The fantastic costs to individuals and the public alike for the destruction wrought by vandals mounts each year. All levels of government are seeking solutions and the answers to combating the problem. . . There will be no easy or pat answers to the complex world of our young where destruction of property seems to be a pattern of action that is unfathomable to an adult. But the vandal and his actions are a challenge to society and one that must be solved for his sake and that of this nation."

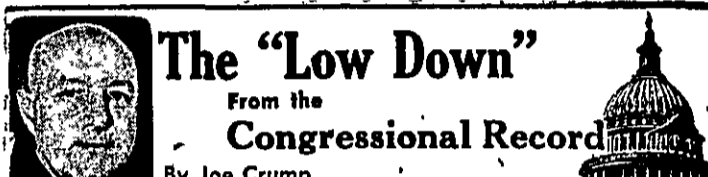

CANNELTON, IND., NEWS: "We want our young people to be able to think for themselves and to be active participants in community life, but we also want them to realize that freedom and justice are secured by law and order; that lasting rights and privileges are possible only by acceptance of responsibilities and obligations."

ALEXANDRIA, VA., JOURNAL-STANDARD: "While the business and professional man has become a popular whipping boy for all who care to throw stones. . . the taxes produced by these so-called 'bad guys' forms the backbone of our community."

THAYER, MO., NEWS: "The national debt will . . . rise to $336 billion, or more, from the present maximum of $330 billion. The average taxpayer may not be aware of the fact he is already paying fourteen billions a year interest on this debt. Instead of being increased in these good times, the debt should be slowly decreased. . . Until we end the war, it would be prudent to limit social, domestic programs. We simply can't afford both at the same time."

PAINTSVILLE, KY., HERALD: "We have finally determined just what the Postal Service had in mind when it introduced the much-heralded Zip Code procedure. By providing all of us with numbers, our mail delivery is to be speeded. All the various post offices have to do is look at the number and zip. . . Of course, there is the little problem that it costs a small paper a small fortune to set up the procedure. And then, too, it only takes about twice as long to get the papers ready to mail, so that if you work very hard you might be lucky enough to get them into the mail in time for that fascinating zip code process. . . Ah, progress."

FAULKTON, S.D., RECORD: "There is a gimmick to everything the government does, it seems. Now it develops that if we don't deny our citizens use of billboards we won't get our share of that particular chunk of money that we sent down to Washington. More and more we are beginning to realize that doing things at the local level is cheaper because it's a lot less wasteful and there are fewer hands in the kitty."

Low would force end to deficit spending

Senator Carl T. Curtis (Nebr.) . . . I am today introducing on behalf of myself, my colleague from Nebraska (Mr. Hruska), and the senator from South Carolina (Mr. Thurmond) a proposal for a constitutional amendment. The objective of this proposal is to end deficit financing and the increasing of the debt and to force the federal government to go on a pay-as-you-go basis in the absence of war or grave national emergency.

"I believe this proposal is workable. . . This proposal, continues, to provide that if the authorized expenditures are going to exceed estimated receipts, the Congress cannot adjourn for more than 3 days at a time until steps have been taken to balance the budget, but it also provides that subsequent to Oct. 15 neither the House or Senate shall enact any bill or joint resolution until action has been taken to balance the budget. In other words, it would stop all other actions of the Congress until steps are taken to bring 'outgo in line with income."

"THIS PROPOSED constitutional amendment calls not only for a balanced budget but some payment, even small, on the national debt each year. . . In the recent past, there have been those who have argued that deficit financing, which means an increasing of the national debt, was necessary and good. We should not accept their theorizing. We are faced with facts, not theory. The facts are that this year the Congress will have to appropriate for interest on the national debt the sum of $14.2 billion because our national debt has been going up and up.

"This is $14.2 billion spent for interest which could have been spent on worthwhile needs of the government or returned to the people. . .

"THE U. S. GOVERNMENT operates at a deficit because a majority of individuals in charge of government want to provide more government benefits and programs but have a future generation pay for it. . .

"I believe that a constitutional amendment should be submitted to the states that would bring an end to unbalanced budgets. I believe that the people of the United States legislatures, should have a right to pass on the question as to whether or not they want the U.S. Government to live within its means or mortgage the future."

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT The proposed constitutional amendment appears to make good sense.

Congress finds itself faced with the task of finding $14.2 billion of the taxpayers money, just to pay the "interest" on the national debt. Any thought of paying anything on the "principal" is out of the question.

The state legislatures might welcome the opportunity to apply the brake to federal deficit spending. —J.C.

'Saving' Time?

By W.E. Dobson

I'm quite a little foggy, 'N I sometimes get that way, When I hear some folks expoundin' About the time of day; Fer some folks wants all clocks set back, While others loudly rave, "If we just move 'em all ahead Look at the time we'd save!"

In Michigan we took the time Some several years ago, To set 'em Eastern Standard, 'N stop all the ebb 'n flow; But now we are beselged again, By folks who'd like to be Released from all their jobs 'n chores, ' By the time a clock strikes three.

That they might have long afternoons Fer business or a lark, They'd stand school children in the road, On mornings cold and dark; The dew on farmers hay or grain By clocks don't disappear, 'N feedin' animals—er men, Don't change, much thru the year.

Just twenty-four hours make a day, Fer all our tricks 'n schemin', 'N we can't make another hour, In spite of all our dreamin'; In fact it sorter seems to me, If time we really crave, That we might start by savin' what We spend figgerin' to save!

Real safety problem is driver, not car

BY ELMER E. WHITE Michigan Press Assn.

Prevailing concept of traffic safety shortcomings, dictated from Washington, is missing the meat of the problem, says the Automobile Club of Michigan.

In Washington, focus of blame is car manufacturers for the rising rates of traffic accidents and fatalities. Laws aimed at making autos safer and requiring states to implement these with other programs are either on the books or in the making.

Michigan's Auto Club conducted a unique study of about 20 per cent of the fatal accidents which occurred in the state last year. Published as "How to Bring MORE Back Alive," the 61-page report pins down several major causes, primarily law violations. The condition of the vehicle was not the obvious or direct cause of any of the deaths.

BASIC LAW VIOLATIONS, at 89 per cent, stood out as the most frequent cause of fatal crashes. Other major causes were alcohol (involved in at least 44 per cent of the accidents), drivers with bad records, and speed excessive for either road conditions or the driver's ability.

A disproportionately large number of inexperienced, teen drivers were involved in the accidents studied. The Auto Club also noted a distinctively small percentage of old cars involved. Representatives of the Auto Club visited the scenes of most accidents, interviewed witnesses and police, and delved into the driving records of those involved.

LEGISLATORS, JUDGES and law enforcement officers have sent 32 specific recommendations resulting from the AAA study. The crux of the study's findings is to get traffic safety into proper focus.

Fred N. Rehm, Auto Club general manager, notes that his organization fully approves of attempts to make cars as safe as possible. "Attention should be shifted to the major cause: the driver," he says.

Federal attempts to get safer vehicles "will have no effect on cutting accidents, though they may cut deaths and severity of accidents," he stated in a letter to the National Highway Safety Agency.

"Even when the perfect vehicle is built, if it ever is, there still will be accidents," Rehm contends. His organization's in-depth study backs up the contention that safety efforts should be aimed at improving the man behind the wheel.

MICHIGAN'S LEGISLATURE is still having its problems getting organized after four months of session.

This was predicted for the House of Representatives because of an even 55-55 vote split, but that is not the problem which continues to plague lawmakers. The high volume of bills introduced this year has posed acute printing problems; so acute that on several occasions it has been a week or more from the time a measure was introduced before a copy of the bill was available to read.

DEADLINES FOR accomplishing certain phases of the annual lawmaking process have already been missed and reset.

At the beginning of the session Senate Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, proposed setting an additional set of deadlines: to schedule committee work.

His idea was a good one although no schedule came about. Like a family trying to live on an unrealistic budget, the State Legislature has consistently set for itself impossible time schedules.

The trouble is inherent in the way they operate. Each year most legislators introduce a whole group of bills to placate their constituents in the full knowledge that the proposals have no change of passage.

THIS SWAMPS THE entire legislative machine. This year there were some 500 requests to have bills drawn for introduction which could not be fulfilled. More than 2,050 bills were properly introduced; about 800 in the Senate and 1,250 in the House. It is not uncommon for one legislator to introduce more than 100.

Until someone figures out a better way, or until legislators are willing to cut down the number of hopeless or pointless bills they introduce, there can be no easy solution to their wallowing. They have made their own legislative bed, and they must roll around in it.

Understanding your HEALTH

By Albert E. Heustis, M.D. Director Michigan Department of Public Health

Your state health department is concerned about the use of radioactive materials and x-ray machines in Michigan, because the effect of the radiations given off can be two-sided. On the one hand, they can be extremely helpful but on the other, they can also be a hazard to human health (if improperly used or inadequately controlled).

Without these radiations we could not as easily diagnose or treat many of our diseases; nor could we as easily find hidden flaws in metal, detect the amount of wear on complex machinery, or control complex industrial processes. But along with these benefits must go a concern about excessive and unnecessary human exposure to radiation, too. At the state health department our motto is progress with safety.

engineers with special experience regularly visit industries, hospitals, and "physicians" and dentists' offices to consult about radiation - producing materials and machines, to make sure that statewide regulations concerning radiation levels are observed. These engineers help the people who employ the radiation to insure that exposure is kept within safe limits. Our scientists estimate that last year (by the use of improved filtration and shielding of x-ray beams) the area of the human body exposed during taking of x-ray was reduced 50 per cent. This lessening of unnecessary exposure (without reducing the good accomplished) was brought about by careful inspection of each machine to advise on necessary adjustments.

This careful checking is extremely important, since for the majority of folks, x-ray is the most frequent contact with radiation. X-rays are good and helpful assistants, and they should be used to the direction of your physician or dentist. Our job at the Michigan Department of Public Health is simply to make sure that the mechanisms are properly adjusted to minimize unnecessary radiation, so that only the exact dose prescribed is actually given, and so that the least part of the body necessary to accomplish the objective at hand is exposed.

We want to be sure, also, that neither the doctor nor the technician who operates the machine (or the folks in the next room or on the next floor) are exposed to unintended radiation.

THE STATE HEALTH department also monitors day-to-day radioactive fallout from the atmosphere to determine what the natural background radiation level is in the state, so as to be alert to any changes that may occur. We also conduct continuing checks of the water, the soil, and of biological samples (such as field mice), at locations near atomic power installations.

I am proud to say that our state health department engineers do not work alone in controlling radiation, but enjoy the cooperation of private doctors and industry, of government and or private enterprise. It is an

COUNTRY FLAVOR

Story of the nest egg has a moral for man

HAYDN PEARSON

One hesitates to state that the moral problem concerned with nest eggs is as critical to the nation's welfare as bikinis, apple pies with insufficient juice, or wily parsley tossed over good meats and mashed potatoes.

The idea behind a procelain or wooden egg is to stimulate biddy to lay more eggs. Psychologists tell us that we need a stimulus to produce a response. Grandmother always insisted that the hens laid better if a nest egg was in each nest. Grandfather pooh-poohed the idea and claimed that when a hen was ready to deposit her day's contribution, she did not need any outside stimulus.

Around the stove in the general store, straight-faced farmers and villagers discussed the philosophy of the situation when they had exhausted such topics as the road agent, new-fangled ideas in education, and whether horseless carriages would ever amount to anything.

Basically, a hen, like a man, needs a goal to live a satisfying life. Some hens, like some men, are inclined to take life as easily as possible and it may be that a nest egg is just the stimulus needed to achieve results.

There is a moral here if one can corner it. This is the time of year when tasks need to be done. A hen should lay an egg and a man should clean out the garage and straighten up the cellar. Hens naturally lay more eggs as spring comes on, but we are not certain that men grow more industrious. All factors considered, the countryman is in favor of nest eggs. We see nothing morally wrong in stimulating various forms of animal life to achieve worthwhile results.
