YMCA offers pool program

The St. Johns City Commission is considering an offer from the YMCA to operate a swimming program at the St. Johns pool this summer.

Larry Scramlin, assistant physical director at the YMCA in Lansing, outlined a proposal to several commissioners and city officials Monday night. Another meeting is being arranged for later this week at which time Scramlin said he hoped to have definite estimates from contractors on what preparations of the pool will be necessary.

Scramlin said the "Y" operated a similar program at Williamston last summer and it worked out very successfully. Much would depend on whether or not the pool's filters would have to be replaced. Cost estimates of city officials for such replacement runs up to $10,000. Scramlin said he hoped to have estimates from a contractor by week's end. YMCA swimming lessons would be offered daily in two-week sessions. Beyond that, program details have not been worked out, including cost.

Mayor Charles Coletta said a fund drive would be needed to raise the money necessary to get the pool opened up and ready for operation. The YMCA would actually operate the pool and would assess fees necessary to make the pool pay for itself.

Rural elementary principals named

MRS. BEVERLY BAKER

Principals for the rural neighborhood elementary schools in the St. Johns School District were named last week—but all are contingent upon the passage of millage necessary to run the schools.

Mrs. Vera Bryant, of R-6, now third grade teacher at Swegles School, will become principal and kindergarten teacher for the Eureka Elementary School.

Mrs. Beverly Baker of R-1, Fowler, teacher at East Essex, will become principal at East Essex and will also teach kindergarten.

Gordon Vandemark, vocal music director in the school system now, will become the principal of Riley, East Olive and Olive Center elementary schools.

The St. Johns School Board made the appointments.

Mrs. Bryant has taught for 24 years, the last seven years in the St. Johns school system. She presently is teaching third grade at Swegles Elementary School. Mrs. Bryant will receive her MA degree in administration and supervision of elementary schools this June from Central Michigan University.

She and her husband John have two daughters, Lynda Bryant and Mrs. Kaye Eckert. Mrs. Eckert teaches in the Fowler school system and Lynda is a senior at Central Michigan University.

Mrs. Baker presently is head teacher and teaches kindergarten and first grade at East Essex. She has taught 26 years, the last three in the St. Johns school system.

Mrs. Baker will receive her MA degree in administration and supervision of elementary schools this August from Central Michigan University. She and her husband Floyd have one daughter, Karen Grubaugh.

Vandemark, of 104 N. Ottawa Street, St. Johns, will be a full time principal with no teaching responsibilities. He has taught for seven years, four of which have been in the St. Johns school system. One year was spent as acting elementary principal in Breckenridge. The four years in the St. Johns system have been spent as vocal music director.

Vandemark holds a bachelor of music in education degree and will receive his MA degree in general administration in June from Central Michigan University. He and his wife Judy, who is also a music teacher, have three children, Randy 7, Doug 4, and Steve 3.

Map shows new boundaries for the attendance areas of the rural elementary schools in the St. Johns system which will be used for the first time next year. The black dot lines show the division between the areas and are placed exactly. Students on both sides of roads near the borders will attend the area school inside the dot lines.

Effective next fall

Rural school boundaries set

Neighborhood elementary school attendance boundaries have been approved for next year by the St. Johns Public Schools Board of Education.

The board took the action last Wednesday night, approving a plan drawn up after several months of study by Walter Nickel, assistant superintendent in charge of rural schools.

The boundaries divide the school district into six areas which will govern attendance of rural elementary students next year. For the first time most of the rural students will be attending modern, centrally located schools in each of the areas.

The 14-room Riley Elementary School and seven-room East Olive Elementary School are entirely new structures this year, while large additions have been made to the East Essex and Eureka schools in the northern part of the district. These buildings will next year draw students from wide areas of the district where the youngsters had previously been attending one-room and two-room schools.

THE BIG EXCEPTION to the plan next year will be in the area close to St. Johns. There, some 245 elementary students from the rural area will attend schools yet next year in six or seven one-room buildings.

Nickel pointed out this will be necessary until the new high school if finished and junior high students can move out of Central School into the present Rodney B. Wilson High School building. That will free Central to house the rural elementary students from the immediately-adjacent areas.

Seventh and eighth graders from the rural area right around town are expected to attend school in the city, however. Nickel said seventh graders at Central this year from the former Brown, Simmons, South Riley, Kincaid, Hill, Bouten and Pratt districts will be asked to go to the Riley School for eighth grade next year, and sixth graders from those schools will be asked to attend seventh grade at Riley.

This will involve about 31 students in all, Nickel said, thereby relieving the load on the Central Junior High so that seventh and eighth graders right around St. Johns can attend the city school.

Seventh and eighth graders attending Riley School will be strictly a temporary situation. Nickel said the school now has room to handle the students, and by 1969-70 they, as well as junior high students all over the district, will be attending classes at the present Rodney B. Wilson building.

Seventh and eighth graders who live in the Olive Center School area will attend either Riley or East Olive next year, depending on the exact location of their homes.

ANOTHER POSSIBILITY of an exception to the approved plan involves kindergartners in the area right around St. Johns. This all depends on the outcome of kindergarten registration in the district this Friday. If city kindergarten enrollment fills all the available rooms in the city, then kindergartners in the rural area around town will attend school in one of the one-room buildings.

Except for the up-in-the-air yet situation in the area right

The Clinton County Board of Supervisors passed a resolution Tuesday agreeing to join with Ingham and Eaton counties in the formation of a Tri-County Community Airport Authority.

The authority would not only take over ownership, control and management of Capital City Airport but would also promote improved aeronautical facilities throughout the three-county area.

Reginald Nelson, DeWitt Township supervisor and member of the county's Tri-County Airport Study Committee, said a three-county approach to management of the airport would provide a means to assist general aviation needs of the whole area and also enable an appropriate tax base to support bond issues periodically required to keep the facilities up-to-date.

On this basis, he said, the capital improvements could over the years be handled through revenues generated from the airport itself. Nelson said he doubted general obligation bonds would ever be required so long as the three-county support was behind the revenue bonds on the airport authority concept.

THE RESOLUTION passed the board unanimously. It follows the general recommendation of the Tri-County Airport Authority Study Committee made April 5. Their series of meetings revolved out of plans by the State of Michigan to get out of the airport business; the state presently owns and operates Capital City Airport.

The City of Lansing is on the verge of making an official bid to take over control of the airport, and this interest has spurred Clinton County supervisors to oppose Lansing's bid. Some feel that no one community, Lansing included, has sufficient tax base to support a major airport project on its own.

St. Johns schools' preliminary budget set at $1,999,570

The St. Johns Public School Board has adopted a preliminary budget of $1,999,570 to operate the school system in 1968-69—an increase of $365,641 over this year.

The preliminary budget was presented to the county allocation board, which began its deliberations Monday on how to divide 15 mills of taxation between the schools, county government, the intermediate schools and townships.

The preliminary budget anticipates salary increases for personnel and the need for additional teachers to handle a growing enrollment. School officials termed the budget "real conservative" and said it is designed just to carry on the present program. Last year's budget was for $1,633,929.

Big chunks of the total budget increase come in the areas of elementary instruction and secondary instruction. Elementary instruction this year is $714,716, and the preliminary budget proposes $874,750 for next year. Secondary instruction goes up from $405,136 to a proposed $498,050.

Other budgeting areas and comparisons are: special education, up from $42,230 to a proposed $49,390; administration up from $78,940 to a proposed $84,215; health up from $6,200 to a preliminary figure of $10,340; transportation up from $124,237 budgeted for this year to $151,600 proposed for 1968-69; plant operation up from $125,000 to $160,500; plant maintenance up from $60,700 to a proposed $75,200; fixed costs up from $68,170 to a proposed $80,525; capital outlay up from $6,500 to a proposed $15,000; and outgoing transfer the same at $2,100.

The final school budget will be determined later this spring following the allocation board's final ruling, negotiations with teachers and other personnel and the outcome of the June 10 school millage election. Last year the final budget was not adopted until about September, more than two months after the school district's fiscal year began.

P-W budget up to $395,473

PEWAMO-WESTPHALIA — The Pewamo-Westphalia School Board has proposed a tentative budget of $395,473 for the 1968-69 school year, and it was presented to the Clinton County allocation board Monday.

The preliminary budget is up about $60,000 from the $335,563 budgeted last year. Supt. William Steinkamp said the increase was due to higher operating costs.

Lawbreakers take it on chin

Lawbreakers found the going costly in terms of money and time last week in Clinton County.

William C. Secord, 39, of Chicago was arrested Sunday in Olive Township on a charge of driving under the influence of alcohol, and Monday Justice of the Peace Gordon Willyoung fined him $100 plus $20.50 costs.

William P. Rogers, 31, of Lansing was caught driving on a suspended license last Tuesday, and Willyoung fined him $75 plus $20.50 court costs and sent him to jail for two days.

Roger M. Conley, 20, of Island Road, R-1, Fowler, faced St. Johns Municipal Judge Harold Reed last week on two charges. Reed fined him $20 plus $6.30 costs and sentenced him to three days in jail for being a minor in possession of beer and $50 plus $19.30 costs on a charge of reckless driving.

Dennis E. Boak, 20, of R-1, Fowler, arrested in the same case, was fined $20 plus $6.30 costs and sentenced to three days in jail on a minor in possession charge.

Russell M. Sinclair, 17, of Lansing faced Justice Willyoung on three counts Saturday. He was fined $25 plus $23 costs and sentenced to three days on a minor in possession charge; was fined $50 plus $20.50 costs for having no operator's license; was fined $15 plus $20.50 for improper lane usage.

No one injured in 2 city crashes

Only two accidents involving moving automobiles—other than those backing out of parking spaces—were reported to St. Johns police during the last week.

Two cars collided Saturday afternoon at the intersection of Baldwin and Traver Streets. A west-bound car on Baldwin, driven by Fred C. Green, 37 of 501 S. Kibbee, struck a Traver south-bound car driven by Mrs. Teresa Jakus of Wildcat Road. No one was hurt, but Mrs. Jakus was ticketed for failing to yield the right-of-way.

An auto driven by Linda K. Castner, 17, of 201 E. Lincoln Street, struck the left rear of another car as she was making a left turn onto Maple Street from M-21 during the noon hour last Tuesday. The other auto, which had stopped in the traffic lane behind a line of cars at the traffic light, was driven by Beverly J. VanZandt of 900 E. Sturgis Street.

Traffic accident pace continues . . without death

Several persons were injured in automobile accidents around Clinton County during the last week. Two deer were killed.

Gary L. Hillier, 17, of Lansing was seriously injured late last Wednesday morning when his car left Francis Road south of Pratt in Riley Township and just about disintegrated.

Sheriff's deputies said Hillier's northbound car went off the right-of-way.

21-27 still most accident-prone intersection

The US-27 and M-21 intersection again had the dubious honor of being the most accident-prone intersection in St. Johns during 1967.

The annual traffic report to the Highway Department showed 36 accidents at that location, with 29 involving property damage only and seven involving personal injuries. There were no fatalities.

The 10 high-accident intersections on the trunkline system in St. Johns accounted for 91 accidents. Second high in ranking was the intersection of US-27 and North Clinton Avenue, where there were eight property damage-only accidents and six personal injury accidents.

The other high accident intersections and the total number of accidents were: M-21 and Clinton Avenue, 9; Lansing Street and M-21, 7; Morton Street and M-21, 5; Scott Road and M-21, 5; US-27 and Sturgis Street, 7; US-27 and Gibbs Street, 2; and US-27 and Steel Street, 2.

Hillier was taken to Clinton Memorial Hospital in St. Johns and then transferred to Sparrow Hospital in Lansing. He was in "good" condition Monday.

Officers said all four tires on Hillier's auto were extremely worn.

MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS GREAT CRIPLER

Strikes at Young Adults

Multiple sclerosis is "the great crippler of young adults." An estimated 500,000 Americans, young adults, mothers and fathers, in the active years of community and family service between 20 and 40, have been stricken by MS and related diseases. Cause, prevention and cure remain unknown. The National Multiple Sclerosis Society fights MS through programs of national and international research, community patient services, and public and professional education.

Annexation to DeWitt approved

DeWITT—City limit signs will be moved out to new locations June 1 when a big annexation approved by DeWitt voters and area residents last week takes effect.

The annexation proposal passed by comfortable margins in both the city and the adjoining area to be annexed. In the city the vote was 157 yes to 28 no, while in the affected area there were 51 votes in favor and 30 opposed.

The annexed area is to the south and west of the present City of DeWitt and will increase the size of the city by over 800 acres. Included in the annexed area are 80 residences, 350 platted but undeveloped lots, 600 acres of farm land and 60 acres of high school property.

There are .7 mile of primary street and 4 miles of secondary streets involved in the annexation.

DeWitt city councilmen noted the city's sewage treatment plant easily has the capability of handling the increased future use of the plant. There are some 1,300 people whose sewer facilities are connected to the plant, and it has a designed capacity for 2,500 people.

The council also pointed out that when secondary treatment of sewage is required by the State Health Department, the cost per residence will be lower because of the annexation and the larger number of people being served.

2 firemen hurt as jeep hood flies off, clouts them

St. Johns Fire Chief Clare Maier and fireman Ray Kentfield were injured Friday afternoon when the hood of the fire department's jeep blew off and hit them as they were returning from a grass fire.

Kentfield sustained only a few bumps and bruises, but Chief Maier received a scalp cut that required nine stitches to close. He was kept overnight Friday in Clinton Memorial Hospital.

The mishap occurred after firemen had started back to town after putting out a grass fire at the city dump. The jeep had turned onto US-27 and had proceeded only a short distance toward town when the hood suddenly flew up.

It blew over the windshield and driver Willis Hettler Jr. and Terry Kentfield in the front seats and clouted Maier, who was sitting between the two front seats and higher up on a water tank. The hood then hit Ray Kentfield who was riding on the tank behind Hettler and then sailed on over the head of fireman Don Griffith on the rear of the jeep.

A CAR BEHIND. THE jeep barely avoided hitting the hood. After a momentary pause to determine the extent of injuries, Hettler drove the jeep on to the hospital where Maier was given emergency treatment and then admitted. He was released on Saturday.

The mishap was one of a series of bizarre events which marked Good Friday for the St. Johns firemen.

About 9:30 a.m., a large barn on the Alvin Thelen farm at 4351 W. Parks Road caught fire and within minutes burned to the ground. It sent up a column of smoke visible for miles.

Mrs. Thelen said two of the couple's youngsters discovered the fire when they climbed into the hay mow to play. But it was on fire, and they beat a hasty retreat to the house where an older sister called the fire department. Within a few minutes the flames seemed to explode throughout the whole building, witnesses said.

Five calves in a pen inside the barn were released, and eight other calves that wanted to come back into the burning building were driven out. Lost in the fire besides the barn were a wagon and load of corn, over 2,000 bales of hay and about 400 bales of straw.

Damage was estimated at $8,000. Cause of the fire is still undetermined. A power line pole near the barn burned, too, and had to be replaced.

ABOUT MID-AFTERNOON, firemen got their second call of the day, and this one was a grass fire behind the Saylor-Beall Manufacturing Co. plant but in an area closer to the railroad tracks than another fire there several weeks ago.

While firemen were there, a call came in concerning the grass fire near the city dump. The fire siren was not sounded, and firemen on the Saylor-Beall call drove on out to the dump to fight that one. It was on the way back that the accident involving Maier and Kentfield occurred.

Another large barn burned to the ground Saturday afternoon, this one also on West Parks Road but south of Fowler. The 40 x 60 foot barn of Ray Koenigs-knecht was lost, along with a tractor, wagon and an estimated 2,200 bales of straw and hay inside the building.

Fowler firemen fought the blaze for about six hours. Koenigs-knecht estimated damage at about $6,000.

A big column of grey smoke in the sky to the east of St. Johns early Monday evening kept residents on edge waiting for the fire whistle to blow. Curiosity seekers found out it was not another barn fire but an 80-acre field on the Fox farm east of Chandler on Walker Road that was being burned off. A burning permit had been issued.

Ask permit to build college

DeWITT — Director of the Great Lakes Bible College, Oren Hoffman, asked the DeWitt Township Board last week for a special use permit to build a new college on 40 acres on the south side of East State Road east of US-27.

The property fronts for one quarter of a mile on State Road. Two buildings on the site would be scheduled for occupation in 1970. A 14-building campus expected to serve at least 600 students is planned as part of a 10-year program.

The request was referred to the committee for future action.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF

A home at 105 S. Emmons Street owned by Mrs. Pearl Bailey of 306 E. Walker was entered last week and some wood, door trim and storm door and glass were removed. Also missing are some carpentry tools belonging to Sam Sample of 210 Ross Street.

Redwing golfers undershoot O-E

The St. Johns Redwing golf team trounced Ovid-Elsie last Wednesday, April 10, at the varsity, junior varsity and freshman level.

With a sensational round of 43, medalist Mike McKay lead the varsity team to victory, 181-208. Aiding McKay were golfers Dave Gaffney 44, Gary Slipkovsky 47, and Lee Lynam 47.

The best Ovid-Elsie could do was a 51 shot by Pete Boyer. Curt Grinnell and Mike Kadlec both shot a 52 and Gary Boog scored a 53.

The St. Johns junior varsity came through in winning form with Dave Harper shooting a 49, Dan Schueller 50, Jeff Geller 52, and Rich Stoddard 56. Defeating O-E 207-272, the junior Wings played a tremendous round, though a young squad. Dennis Barrett shot a 57 for Ovid-Elsie JV's best round.

The freshmen team received their first taste of victory, dropping the freshmen squad of O-E 213-282. John Estes and Brian Carpenter completed the links in 49 to 52 respectively while Bill French shot a 57 and Luane Lambert a 55. Jim Saxton and John Hibber both shot a 65 for O-E's best of the day for the freshmen.

Coach Mike Humphrey was satisfied with the results of the match but feels the varsity has the ability to shoot 41 a man, or a 164 total. He stated that he was "extremely pleased" with the freshmen squad who played their first competitive match last Wednesday.

... but tracksters eat dust in opening meet at Ovid-Elsie

Dale Sees (left) passes the baton to Brent Law as St. Johns finds themselves behind at the start of the third leg of the 880-yard relay during last Wednesday's track meet at Ovid-Elsie. O-E won the event and the meet.

Robert Mullan, proprietor of Tun Tavern, Philadelphia, was commissioned captain of the Marines and served as the first Marine recruiter during the Revolutionary War.

OVID-ELSIE—The Ovid-Elsie track team seemingly walked away with their first track meet last Wednesday, April 10, defeating St. Johns 90-28 at O-E's track and field.

St. Johns won only three events with O-E capturing the remaining 11. Curt Simpson won the mile run for St. Johns in 5:05.4; George Mehney won the high hurdles in 17.0; and Brent Law won the low hurdles event in 14.9 for the last event captured by St. Johns.

For Ovid-Elsie the events and the winners were: long jump, Daryl Melvin, 18 feet, 11 inches; shot put, L.D. Jones, 42 feet, 8 inches; pole vault and a school record went to Rod King, 11 feet; two-mile run, Jim Miller, 10:48; 880-yard run, Dick Easlick, 2:07; 440-yard run, Dane Flegel, 56.5; 100-yard dash, Terry Plowman, 11.4; 220-yard dash, Terry Plowman, 24.7; 880-yard relay, Tim Schroeder, Tony Bocek, Jim Richard, Terry Plowman 1:40.3; and mile relay, L.D. Jones, Dick Easlick, Daryl Melvin and Dane Flegel, 3:47.

Ovid-Elsie pole vaulter Charles Lannen is silhouetted against a rain-threatening sky last Wednesday afternoon as he makes one of his early jumps in the Marauders' track meet with St. Johns. Ovid-Elsie won the meet handily.

Smiley to take head football job at Bay City

BILL SMILEY

Football Coach Bill Smiley, who amassed an outstanding record of 42 victories against 18 defeats and 1 tie in seven years at Rodney B. Wilson High School, is moving up to Class A competition at Bay City Handy High School next year.

Smiley announced last week he has accepted the head football coaching position at the 2,400-student high school on Bay City's growing west side. He'll be boss of an eight-man coaching staff that includes two varsity assistants, three freshmen coaches and two JV-sophomore coaches.

His football job at Handy will be a big one. The Bay City team has won only one game in the last two years, and they play in the tough Saginaw Valley League which perennially produces a state champion.

Competition for Smiley's new charges includes Pontiac, Flint Northern, Flint Central, Flint Southwestern, Saginaw High, Saginaw Arthur Hill, Bay City Central and Midland.

"I've always wanted to coach in the Valley," Smiley said last week. "You can be pretty good there and still be 0-9 for season."

"But with 2,400 kids, there's got to be some talent. And they're hungry. They want a good club real bad. Athletics and physical education are very important to the people in that community."

SMILEY SHOULD KNOW. He went to high school at Bay City Central and was an all-state and high school all-American teams' started to put together winners. In 1963 the Redwings won the West Central League title and compiled a 5-3-1 season mark. In 1964 they went undefeated—9-0—and won another title. In 1965 they finished second in the league but had a nice 6-3 mark. In 1966 the team went 6-1 for the year and won the league title again. Last fall the season ended with a 6-3 mark.

"It's been real great here," Smiley said. "The kids have shelled out beautifully, and what they might not have had in talent they sure made up for with spirit and desire."

"Our relationship with the administration and the coaching staff has been top notch," he continued, "and they deserve a big part in the success we've had here."

quarterback in both his junior and senior years. He went on to play football at Michigan State University until graduation with a BS degree in 1956.

He then tried out with the Detroit Lions and finally wound up playing in '56 with Toronto in the Canadian pro football league. But after three games he got hurt and was dropped from the team. He returned to coach baseball at Owosso in the spring of 1957. That fall he started his football coaching career at St. Charles.

In 1961 he came to St. Johns and after two years with 4-4

SMILEY WILL BE switching to Bay City Handy next year with a career football coaching record of 74 victories, 22 defeats and 3 ties. He has been sought after for several years but elected to stay in St. Johns until the Handy offer was made.

He'll replace Bill Carr as head football coach at Handy. The Handy team plays their home games in a 6,000-seat stadium, with a sod field. At least two games each year will be played on the new Flint stadium field that boasts the "astro-turf" synthetic grass pioneered in the Houston Astrodome.

Yellowjacket homer hands Redwings first loss of season 10-9

The Greenville Yellowjackets handed the St. Johns Redwings their first defeat of the baseball season with a come-from-behind 10-9 win.

Trailing 9-8 in the ninth inning, Dan Dunham came to the plate one mate aboard and homered to give the Yellowjackets the win.

Greenville hitters teed off on Redwing Starter, Terry Moler with three runs in the first inning. Then with the help of six St. Johns errors, opened up a six run lead at the end of three innings.

The Redwings trailed for six innings, coming to life in the seventh with a three run rally to take the lead which they held until Dunham homered.

St. Johns outlit the Jackets 15-10, but had six errors to Greenville's two. Bruce Harte, Redwing third baseman, led the St. Johns attack with three singles. Cary Hambleton, Chuck Green, Ron Waggoner, Mike Green, Chuck Romig and Dan Rademacher, each getting two hits.

Dan Rademacher was the losing pitcher, taking over from Moler in the sixth inning.

Box Score:
St. Johns 0 0 0 2 1 3 3
Greenville 3 1 2 0 2 0 2
St. Johns: 9 runs, 15 hits, 6 errors. Greenville: 10 runs, 10 hits, 2 errors.

DeWitt's final punch wins it

DeWITT—DeWitt scored six first-inning runs off Portland last Tuesday afternoon but had to punch across four more in the bottom of the seventh to win the game 10-7.

Gary Schultz was the winner in relief of starting pitcher Mike Beach. Paul LaMacchia, Mike Finels and Mike Shooltz each had doubles, while Rick Cole and Greg Kirchen each had a pair of singles, and Mike Botke and Mike Beach each had a single. DeWitt had 10 runs, 10 hits and committed 10 errors.

Teen Footwear Goes Casual and Dressy In New Season's Stepped-Up Styles

Trim, easy lines and bright colors step to the fore in teen's shoes for spring. In pumps, sandals, oxfords and other ties, low-to-mid heels and broad toes dominate.

Teens, who usually like variety in their shoe wardrobes, can find plenty of it in this spring's selections. And the fashion-without-fuss approach to styling seems due to add much to walking comfort, as well.

Important silhouettes are the high-cut tongue, the sling-back, the ballet slipper, the spectator tie and the wide-strapped pump. Brass and gold continue as top trim.

Important shoe leathers include natural waxy and glove leathers — and grained, embossed, smooth and patent as well, reports Leather Industries of America.

Long-time favorite of the teen miss is the leather moccasin. The moc, a shoe classic, puts the emphasis on glove, waxed and hand-stained leather finishes.

The brushed leather moc presents a softer-looking version, moving into importance this season. In styling, the traditional loafer vies with strapped, brass-trimmed, tasseled and bootee moccasins.

To saunter sunnily through warmer weather, teens can slip into sandals with a hand-crafted look. In waxy and hand-stained leathers, these sandals often have toe-rings or thongs, and may sport a spot of brass, rope or fringe.

Springtime boots and booties — light in weight, and in color — are teen team-mates for mini-skirts and pantsuits.

White, pastels and pale, clear neutrals are favored shades. Trim has been kept simple. When the fun starts, party-and-prom footwear is ready. Smooth, aniline-dyed, lustre, embossed and patent leathers predominate here.

Flowers as a trim or an applique are a new look on dance pumps — with flat leather bows, stand-up buckles and jeweled bars as other ornaments.

The teen miss may also find graceful open-sided sandals and slings, many with high-cut frontage, very danceable.

Colors for teen shoes blossom out in an array of brights and pastels. Pinks and reds, yellows and oranges, greens appear in textures from smooth to brushed.

Bold black and white, newly important in teen fashions this spring, combine in shoes, too, and so do other neutrals and colors. All-white footwear continues its progress into spring-summer fashion.

With so many pastels on the scene, easy care finishes are doubly essential. New treatments for leathers help to assure this ease of care in teen shoes.

IN BLACK AND WHITE

For young set fashions, crisp combinations of black and white enter in plaids, checks and geometrics. White buttons, bows and belts spark all-black dresses.

The annual business meeting of the Stillson Cemetery Association will be held Tuesday evening, April 23 at the Arthur Curtis home. Members are asked to bring cookies and their own table service.

Vandals have entered the Stillson Cemetery again and have tipped over and broken several markers as well as one large monument.

Horton Grange met at the home of Mr and Mrs Don Watlin of near Bath Friday evening. A delicious turkey supper was enjoyed and the business meeting followed. A discussion of pesticide control and repair on damage by the high winds to church property was held. The report of Pomona Grange, was given by Neva Curtis and the May meeting will be held at the church. The literary program consisted of roll call, "An Easter Memory", and several readings.

The Sunrise Service and breakfast held Easter Sunday at the Price Church was well attended. Many of the homes in the Sleepy Hollow State Park project are being torn down.

Mr and Mrs Aldon Balcom of Grand Rapids spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr and Mrs Merriel Balcom.

Mr and Mrs Merriel Balcom spent Easter with Mr and Mrs Richard Byam of near Bancroft. Floyd Barnes is now home from a Lansing Hospital where he spent several weeks.

Mr and Mrs James Huyck and son Allen and Ken Saxton spent the weekend at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center to see their son Douglas graduate. Douglas is now home for a few days.

Mr and Mrs Dale Wood of Missouri are spending several days with their parents Mr and Mrs Louis Jorae.

Mr and Mrs Don Sleight entertained several friends and relatives at their home Friday evening honoring Mr and Mrs Wood.

Members of the Victor Civic Club, who plan to go to Midland by bus Monday, April 22, are to meet at Round Lake at 8. The bus will leave at that time.

Coats Focus on Fit and Flare

Coats report for spring happenings, outings, vacations, jet travel — for nippy breezes sudden and sharp. This spring's coat styles cater to the soft, romantic look but at the same time reserve plenty of gusto.

Soft movement moves in with mobile skirts, fit at the waist, high under arms defining the bosom once more. Even in back, pleats, panels, belts, seaming play pretty tricks. Capes fly in with new grace — short ones or full length but not quite as wide.

They're sleek-fitting and soft as dresses — dresses that button like coats. There are new guardsmen effects, shapely coats with officer's collars and the gleam of buttons, brass side-effects.

Collars go chin-up to be newest, and little mandarins, clubs, and convertibles are here for the choosing. The innocent look of the peter pan collar is interpreted in a variety of smaller collars for coats, too.

Softly-tied necklines, seen throughout the variety of spring fashions, shape up for coats as ascot-tie collars.

Another feature of fashion, the belt, marks a number of coat silhouettes. Half-belts in front rise high or level off at the natural waistline, sometimes as graceful ties. At the back, half-belts dip and curve. All-around belts of fabric or leather take many directions.

Shirt looks are now only hinted at with side slits, button fronts and cuffs. Neat, not overdone, is the news for this season of the subtle, the sleek, the young sophisticates.

Color is exciting but more subdued in keeping with the important all-girl look. Saucy reds, oranges, parrot greens, directoire blue vie with romantic corals, pinks, peaches,

Colorful Blends Are Here to Suit Men

Men's suits for spring greet the season with their liveliest colors and patterns in years, according to the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear.

In all styles, colors are much lighter, without looking like the "ice cream" shades of Dad's youth. These new suit colors are achieved in the weaving via multi-colored mixtures. Suits often blend four, five, six and even seven colors. When those colors are further enhanced by being woven into plaids, checks and stripes, the results are smart without being garish.

Checks, Plaids, Stripes Have Variety

The gien plaids continue their booming popularity in all sizes — moderate, larger authentic squares and full-scale giant plaids.

"Mini-sizes" check in with the traditional favorites of shepherds and houndstooths checks on this spring's pattern popularity parade, and, in addition to the new multi-color mixtures, they will be seen in the simple smartness of black-and-white.

There is a pick of stripes for the suit shopper — pin-, pencil-, chalk-, and multi-stripes. They are especially attractive in double-breasted suits and the newly popular "shaped" models.

The waist is back in a big way in suits for spring. Shape — which means varying amounts of waist suppression in the suit coat — continues to hit new popularity peaks with each season, and spring 1968 is no exception.

These figure-flattering suits are usually complemented with deep side- or center-vents and many of the more casual versions also have angled hacking pockets that are topped on the right side by a small ticket pocket.

Double-Breasted Suit Arrives

The man who prefers the traditional natural-shoulder look has plenty of designs to choose from, but chances are he will find that these are nipped in at the waist a bit.

The double-breasted suit is definitely here, and the man who likes a little variety in his wardrobe will probably want one of these models in his closet.

Lapels tend to the wider, with many peaked lapels seen.

In the color picture, the now-familiar wheat/whiskey/honey tones take on a new look with the addition of definite reds, blues, greens and oranges to give the illusion of greater depth. Olive tones are much greener than in the past and new "Stone Tones," grayed blends of beige and olive, have subtle interest.

Many brilliant new, lighter colors are present — blues, greens, grays, teals, lime tones, blue/greens and powder blues. Bright gold tones continue to spark the other updated suit colors.

Rainwear Follows Soft, Wet Lead

Rainwear follows the soft raindrops into spring to flatter the feminine girl with fitted and shaped styles.

The belt defines the come-again waist at the natural waistline, lowered to the hipbone, sliding easily through the tabs of a belted raglan.

The softer shape for the new softer girl receives increased attention. The shirt-shape, smock-shape, soft body shape take a walk on misty days in town, in the country.

Capes sweep back the storm clouds for girls on the move. Full length capes, short capes atop flared-line coats fly high on the list of rainy-day favorites.

Textures, cottons, colored canvas, slickers make news.

COLORING HOMES

For home color schemes, spring trends range from the complementary to the contrasting. New is the sophisticated monochromatic theme, making use of shades and tints of one color.

FOR DINING AREA

Metal and plastics lend themselves to new shapes, colors, in dinette sets.

OPEN HOUSE AT MAPLE RAPIDS BUILDING

General Telephone Co. of Michigan will hold an open house this Saturday afternoon at the new Maple Rapids telephone exchange building just south of the traffic signal. The open house will be from noon to 5 p.m. Saturday.

Patio materials add to total use

A patio is part of a total home and landscape effect, and it should carry out the same atmosphere your home creates.

Each building material suited to patio use contributes to the total atmosphere, according to Joe Cox, Michigan State University landscape specialist.

He suggested using some of the same materials for home and patio construction. This visually ties the two together. Cox, Cooperative Extension Service specialist, noted that bricks are easy for the beginning patio-builder to use. They allow the builder to work at his own pace, spread the work over several weekends and easily correct mistakes in pattern or level.

HE ADVISED USING a four- to six-inch sand base under the bricks. If they are placed closely together, excess sand can usually be swept into the small spaces between bricks.

Fired bricks are best for patio use, since they are sturdier, Cox said. Others tend to crumble and crack during freezing weather. Since bricks absorb oil and food stains, they are hard to clean. They fit well into a natural setting with plants growing between them. But where the plants will grow, weeds will also. This means added upkeep.

"Any materials used to hold bricks together should not cause complications," said Cox. "Don't use materials that might rot or splinter."

HE POINTED OUT that Redwood splinters, but it resists rot. Railroad ties and fir have fewer splinter problems.

Cox listed asphalt as a patio surface possibility. He pointed out that while it usually is thought of as a paving for roads and driveways, it makes an inexpensive and easily placed patio. It's ready to use soon after installation.

Cox noted that asphalt absorbs heat and may soften in warm weather. It may become so hot that it will hurt or burn bare feet. But it can be cooled quickly by use of a water hose. Cox noted that some asphalt manufacturers are finding ways to eliminate the softening problem. The ability to absorb heat means snow melts quickly in winter.

Concrete is also low cost. But it may be difficult for the beginning builder to work with. It requires special equipment, so it may be more successful if professionals are hired to pour it.

CONCRETE'S BIGGEST advantage is that it can be molded to almost any shape. However, some people feel it has a hard, commercial look, Cox related. Dividers can break up large concrete areas and create more visual interest, he suggested.

Like asphalt, it gets hot in the summer, but stays cool longer after hosing.

Other materials Cox listed include flagstone, loose aggregates, tile and wood.

"Wood gives the most natural effect of all pavings," he said. "But it's not as permanent. However, it will last several years if treated with a good preservative."

Loose aggregates — gravel, limestone chips, crushed brick, tanbark and sawdust — also make satisfactory temporary surfaces. They are easy to use and economical.

BUT THEY CREATE problems. They get kicked into flower beds and lawns, may be uncomfortable to walk on, and require constant upkeep because of weeds. They can be tracked into the house.

Tile is expensive and formal-looking. It requires exacting craftsmanship, so costs run high. But it might be effective used in small amounts with bricks or concrete.

More information on landscape paving is available from Cooperative Extension Service offices. Ask for circular CE-6, "Landscape Paving for Home Grounds." The charge is 15 cents.

Know When To Seek Help

How does one know when he should consult a psychiatrist?

Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association, reports that most people who should consult a psychiatrist are likely to consider themselves as someone not needing his services.

Many shun the psychiatrist, the AMA says, because they have the distorted concept that people who are under psychiatric care are "crazy."

Psychiatrists are physicians with a special training through which they are able to help people with mental illness or emotional problems, even as other physicians are qualified to assist in physical illness. Often physical and mental illness are closely related.

Depression, or what we could call the blues, is frequently an early sign of what can become a disabling mental illness. Likewise, excitement and overactivity — although often completely normal — form an abnormal sign when they occur in the wrong place or for the wrong reason.

Other suggestive symptoms include tantrums and exaggerated expressions of anger, hysterical attacks, unfounded fear, and guilt feelings which exist without an acceptable reason.

Any of these would justify discussing the need for psychiatric consultation with your physician.

Huge, ancient trees call Hartwick Pines visitors

One of the last great Michigan stands of virgin pine reaches majestically from the rolling sand hills a few miles northeast of Grayling, cresting the rolling hills of Crawford County.

Many of the trees still standing were old in the days when Indians stole quietly over the soft pine needle forest floor stalking game. The virgin forest was deeded to the State of Michigan in 1927, in the name of Maj. Edward E. Hartwick of Grayling by his wife, Karen.

LOCATED IN THE heart of the largest state park in the Lower Peninsula, Hartwick Pines stand as a monument to nature and as a tribute to the efforts of conservationists, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

The mightiest of them all — the Monarch white pine — is the oldest tree in the park. Measuring 155 feet in height and nearly four and one-half feet in circumference, the Monarch is large enough to furnish all of the lumber for a five-room house. Standing aloof from other giants, the Monarch is more than 300 years old and is valued at $3,000.

Also in the untouched forest are hemlock and oak. The tallest hemlock measures 109 feet upward while the biggest oak has a height of 102 feet.

In addition to the big trees, natural second growth and pine plantings are included in large areas of the park, presenting a complete cycle of forest evolution.

A showcase of nature, the area abounds in forest wildlife. Among the inhabitants are deer, raccoon, porcupine, chipmunks and a wide variety of songbirds. A family of eagles has taken up housekeeping in a nest in one of the high pines in the middle of the virgin growth.

POSTED WALKING trails through the woods are lined at one hour. An automobile trail is eight miles in length, crossing the east branch of the famed Au Sable River twice. Directional signs are posted for both. Man has added his touch to this primeval forest. At the crest of a hill in the park stands the Chapel in the Pines, guarded by its sentinels of nature.

At the park's northern boundary, a logging museum has been erected, simulating one of the logging camps which were so important during Michigan's robust logging era.

The dining room is complete with massive dining tables and benches, and bunks have been built into the walls. The kitchen contains both a cast iron stove and cooking utensils from the late 19th century.

ADJACENT TO THE loggers quarters is a blacksmith shop which displays an authentic bellows forge as well as many of the original smithy tools.

Visitors to the museum area are greeted by the sight of massive logging wheels, too large to be displayed inside.

The famed Michigan wheels were manufactured by S. C. Overpack, a Manistee carriage maker following demands of loggers who needed better methods of moving more logs at one time. Measuring 10 feet high, the wheels extended log-moving operations into warm weather months. Previously, the logs could be moved only in winter when they could be dragged on the snow and ice.

For many years the entire nation's lumbering operations were supplied with the big red wheels from Manistee. Some 65 different lumber companies used the wheels in Michigan alone.

ADDED TO THE OUTDOOR display is a replica of a log-jammer — a device used to load logs — and a snow roller. The latter machine, consisting of a pair of huge rollers, was used to pack snow along the roads and trails, rather than plowing. This method provided excellent log-dragging routes, but sometimes resulted in havoc during sudden spring thaws.

Hartwick Pines State Park and its interpretive programs perpetuate the story of Michigan lumbering and forests in an unspoiled environment.

For campers and picnickers, it is a quiet retreat. The camping area contains 46 campsites with modern plumbing and electricity and the picnic area parking lot will accommodate 200 automobiles.

HUNTING IS PERMITTED in season outside the virgin forest and posted areas, and both Bright and Glory lakes, within the park, present challenging fishing opportunities. A number of famed trout streams are within easy driving distance.

Additional information on Michigan State Parks may be obtained by contacting the Michigan Tourist Council or Michigan Department of Conservation, Lansing, 48926.

Officially there never was a 1913 Liberty head nickel. But there's at least one in existence — with a $46,000 price tag on it. Termed a "forgery of the U.S. Mint," its production is still a mystery. Minting stopped in 1912, and only the buffalo-indian nickel was officially produced the following year.

THE ISLANDERS

The Islanders and their spinning toys will be the featured entertainment at the Farm, Home, Auto and Sports Show this weekend at Smith Hall in St. Johns. The show will be held at 8 p.m. Friday, 3 and 8 p.m. Saturday and 3 p.m. Sunday. Story on Page 1-A.

Measles--- Safe, Effective Vaccine Protects Your Children

There are two kinds of measles.

Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association, reports that the kind of measles against which the vaccine protects is known as rubella, "common measles," or the "seven-day" or "10-day" measles, or the "red" measles.

In rubella, there is a pronounced, long-lasting rash, usually associated with symptoms of illness for three or four days before the rash appears, such as fever and coughing.

The other kind of measles, rubella, is known as "German measles" or "three-day" measles. Rubella's rash is less pronounced, and there are few pre-rash symptoms. However, if a woman contracts rubella during the first three months of pregnancy, it can affect the fetus and result in birth defects.

An effective and safe vaccine is now available for rubella or red measles. It produces only a few minor reactions, but in return provides almost complete protection which may last a lifetime. If all children between ages of 1 to 9 who have not already had measles or a dose of live virus measles vaccine could be immunized, measles could be eradicated from the United States. Vaccine can be administered by your doctor in his office or during measles vaccination campaigns.

The vaccine against German measles is not yet ready for general use. An effective one appears to have been developed but research must still solve the problem of making it in sufficient quantity to meet present needs. It should be available in another year or two.

Trail riders plan outing

The Michigan Trail Riders Association 1968 summer ride will start June 16 at Devereaux Lake, located on the east side of Mullett Lake and west of M-33 near the junction of Merchant Road.

From Devereaux Lake the riders will proceed to a campsite just south of a line between Afton and Tower.

THE NEXT CAMPSITE is at Elk Hill near the Pigeon River, about nine miles east of Vandenberg. Enroute to the Au Sable Ranch, east of Otsego Lake, which is the location of the next campsite, the riders will stop for lunch at Babbitt's Riding Ranch.

The next day the riders will reach the east-west trail and proceed west to the Manistee River Campsite, then continue west to Kalkaska, Schecks Place and finish the ride at Cadillac.

THE ROUTE FROM Devereaux Lake south is over the newly completed trail and this will be the first Association ride over it.

Dr. Richard P. Lannen, D.V.M., of Elsie is president of the Michigan Trail Riders Association, the secretary is Mrs. Ray Walker, Route #4, 4915 Simpson Road, Owosso, Michigan, 48867.

Year-round job: poison prevention

Lansing — Pharmacists throughout Michigan are participating in a public education program on poison prevention and preparedness in case of an accidental poisoning, announced Robert C. Johnson, Executive Director of the Michigan State Pharmaceutical Association. Reported incidents verify there are over one million home poisonings in the United States a year, of which, more than half a million are children under five years of age. Approximately 500 of these victims die.

Common household substances such as aspirin, soaps, detergents and bleach accounted for over 33 per cent of the 1965 accidental poisonings in children.

Poison Antidote Kit
It is an undisputed fact that the immediate availability of an antidote in the home in case of an accidental poisoning could be the crucial difference between life or death. Realizing this fact, the Michigan State Pharmaceutical Association initiated a Poison Antidote Kit (PAK) program in 1966 during National Poison Prevention Week. The program required widespread acceptance as thousands of kits have been distributed to Michigan families. Also, national recognition was afforded PAK in the form of the coveted Public Education Award presented by the American Pharmaceutical Association.

Ask Your Pharmacist
The PAK is available from participating pharmacists as a public service of the pharmaceutical profession. Parents should ask their community pharmacist for a PAK and keep it on hand for use in case of a poisoning emergency.

PAK consists of a durable, easily-dispersible plastic box containing two therapeutically recognized, unit-dose antidotes—Syrup of Ipecac and Activated Charcoal.

It was the unanimous recommendation of the American Academy of Pediatrics, the American Association of Poison Control Centers, the American Medical Association and the Medical Advisory Board of the Food and Drug Administration that Ipecac Syrup should be readily available in the household for emergency treatment of poisonings.

Syrup of Ipecac is indicated when it is desirable for the patient to vomit. In most cases, such removal of the poison from the stomach is the proper treatment. In some cases, however, for example when a gasoline product has been swallowed, vomiting should not be caused. In such cases, the other product in the PAK, Activated Charcoal, is to be administered.

Call Physician First
Before either antidote is administered to the patient, the physician or hospital poison information center should be contacted for specific instructions. The parent should have the poison container at hand when calling for instructions, since important label information may be needed.

Artist's Easel Is Home Showplace

Family portrait photographs—especially those in color—deserve to be displayed effectively in the home.

One idea might be: An artist's easel, available now in new decorative styles, can provide a constantly-changing showplace. The full-length easel might be placed in a corner of the room, or in any hard-to-decorate place.

Individually framed photographs may be propped on the easel, to be changed with the seasons or whenever taste dictates a new look.

To display small or miniature framed photographs, tabletop easels are readily available.

Other works of art or favorite objects may be displayed on the easel, with pride.

Leather Falls For Soft Hearted Touch

The new look of leather fashions heralds the comeback of supple feminine lines, important seam detailing, use of hardware trim. Leather is soft for more shapely, girly styling.

Belted waists, softly-gathered skirts, vests and new grained and textured looks are among the season's favorite leather trends, reflecting the relaxed approach fashion takes for spring.

Whether a spring outfit comprises a coat, suit, dress or separates, latest leathers are lightweight and pliant. Finishes include not only leather, but brushed and embossed leathers, printed and "corduroy" leathers, and naturally-marked "wild" leathers, reports Leather Industries of America.

Most leathers are now specially tanned for resistance to water, weather and wear, with easier cleaning built in.

Sleek leather coats are fashionably short, with prophetic mid-calf or "midi" lengths seen here and there. These coats are meant to move—whether their cut is A-line, fit-and-flare or tent.

Newest styles feature sporty brass trims such as snaps, galosh clips or big zippers, or go ladylike with shirwaist styling, flattering yoke treatment or dressy jeweled buttons. Stand-up collars and immaculate stitch detailing are found on both types.

The leather suit enters with skirt, culottes or pants. Gathered skirts, or A-line skirts or culottes, are matched to hip-length, tunic or blazer jackets. As for the texture story, leathers include suede, grained and embossed leathers plus new savage or "wild" leather finishes.

Leather dresses sum up the spirit of spring '68. For afternoon wear, they're sleeveless or tiny-sleeved frocks in suede or grained textures, with either low-lying belts or defined waists. In printed leather dresses, the leather itself serves as chief attraction, while other leather styles use scrollwork and trapunto as trim.

At after-five festivities, bare-shouldered leather gowns may show off a chin-high turn-of-neck, jewel-paved borders or side or front slits.

In this era of the "total look" in fashion, leather separates to wear together—or with other things in a wardrobe—have importance. Jackets of every cut and kind are available, from classic sports jackets to riding jackets, blazers and "hair on" animal marked jackets.

Skirts and pants (long and short) are ideal team-mates for all types of tops. Good-looking vests (a new favorite), tunics and shells are also found.

Question & Answers

Clinton County
Disabled American Veterans
Veteran's Information Service

Question: I will finish high school next January and will enter college a week later. What must I do to get a II-S college student deferment? Answer: You must file a written request for a II-S deferment with your local board. After you have started your college work, you should have your school send a student certificate to your local board providing evidence that you are satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction at that institution.

Question: I am over age 26. Recently I was declared a delinquent and ordered to report for induction. If the induction ages are 18 1/2 to 26, how can I be inducted? Answer: Registrants deferred on or after June 19, 1951, are liable for training and service until age 35. Additionally, any person who has failed or refused to report for induction remains liable for induction and, when available, shall be immediately inducted, regardless of age.

Question: When I reach my 18th birthday next month I will be in college some 500 miles from my home. Must I go home to register? Answer: No. You may register at any of the more than 4,000 local boards located throughout the country. Consult the telephone directory for the city where you are living to determine the address of the local board nearest you. By calling at that board, you will be able to complete your registration which will then be sent to the local board having jurisdiction over the area where your home is located. The board to which it is sent will always be your local board of jurisdiction.

Question: I have been ordered to report for a preinduction examination by my local board. What is the very minimum time I have before being inducted? Answer: The minimum time is 21 days after your local board has mailed to you a statement of acceptability (DD Form 62), which indicates that you are acceptable as a result of your preinduction examination.

Q-I entered military service last year before completing high school. When I got out of service will the Veterans' Administration pay me any educational allowance while I complete high school? If so, how much?

A-Yes. The VA will pay you an educational assistance allowance while you complete high school. If you are a single veteran, you will receive $130 a month educational allowance; more if you have dependents. Public Law 90-77, which the President signed last Aug. 31, entitles you to this allowance to complete high school without deducting anything from your entitlement to higher education. Contact your nearest VA office for further information and assistance.

Question: My local board has classified me in Class I-S (C). I am a junior in college and was wondering how long I may retain that classification? Answer: You may be retained in Class I-S (C) until the end of your academic year or until you cease to satisfactorily pursue your course of instruction, whichever is the earlier.

Question: I am now deferred in Class II-S as a college student. If I enlist in the National Guard what, if anything, will happen to my student deferment? Answer: When your local board receives evidence you have completed such enlistment, you will be reclassified from Class II-S to Class I-D (member of a reserve component).

Q-I have recently been honorably discharged from the Army. While stationed in the U.S., I received a service-connected disability. Since I was not injured while serving in a combat zone, will I be paid the wartime disability compensation rate or the peace time (80 per cent of wartime) rate?

A-Public Law 90-77, signed by the President on Aug. 31, grants wartime compensation rates for service-connected disabilities for Viet-Nam era veterans (those serving in the Armed Forces after Aug. 4, 1964). It makes no difference where you were serving when you received the service-connected disability. Contact your nearest Veterans' Administration office for information and assistance in applying for disability compensation.

Q-I was married to a World War II veteran for only three years before his death. When I applied for a widow's pension in 1962, following his death, the Veterans' Administration said I was not eligible for a pension because my husband and I were married less than five years. Is this still the law?

A-No. The Veterans' Pension and Readjustment Assistance Act of 1967, which went into effect for pension purposes, on Oct. 1, 1967, changed the five-year minimum to one year. Further, a veteran's widow may qualify for benefits if a child was born to the couple either before or after the marriage. You should contact your nearest VA office for information and assistance in reapplying for a widow's pension.

Carpets Now Lead Two Lives . . .

Exciting things are happening to carpets this spring. A new species, the outdoor-in-door variety, is blooming all over the place in brilliant colors, finishes and designs. An off-shoot of commercial use, this new dimension for carpeting first made its appearance a few years ago when its toughness and density proved ideal for pool side, boats, patio, terrace and other outdoor areas. Improved styling and manufacturing technology, the total use of man-made materials, new finishes, new printing processes have made it possible for this versatile carpeting to obtain greater popularity. In fact, its rugged performance outdoors, its tolerance for weather, have made it a leading candidate for heavy traffic areas indoors.

Backed with high-density latex foam rubber it provides wall-to-wall foot comfort, practicality and decorative enhancement in kitchens, basements, playrooms, bathrooms, nurseries and interior locations usually given over to hard floor coverings. The short, tightly-packed pile of this synthetic carpeting discourages absorption of soil and is easy to clean. Spills wipe off and occasional vacuuming eliminates the endless washings and waxings necessary with tile floors.

The man-made yarns are mildew-proof, non-absorbent, tough, durable and resist fading. Its soft approach reduces breakage when plates or glasses are dropped. Its acoustical properties reduce noise and clutter.

The backing of latex foam rubber gives this low pile, highly practical carpet a luxury feel underfoot, and helps prevent fatigue. The foam rubber backing attached securely to the carpet, also acts as an insulator and will cushion even concrete floors. It is a money-saving feature since a separate carpet pad is unnecessary.

Outdoor-in-door carpeting benefits by modern manufacturing techniques. It is available in broadloom widths and, in some cases, as 12-inch square carpet tiles. These can be cemented in place or installed with double-face tape. In a variety of colors they can be arranged in many color combinations and patterns.

The dyeability of the synthetic fibers produces brilliant clarity and fastness of color.

Social Security changes

By ROGER W. SEAMON
District Manager
Social Security Administration

When medicare first started on July 1, 1966, there were two ways for older people to get their doctor bills paid under the program. The first called for the doctor's agreeing to claim the 80 per cent direct from medicare, by filling out a very simple one-page application form. The other required that the beneficiary first pay the bill and then apply for the medicare payment, with or without the help of the doctor.

During the first year and a half of medicare, about half of the claims for doctor bills were put in directly by the doctors, while the beneficiaries had to apply, after paying the bill, in about half the cases. The system worked well enough—almost $1.3 billion was paid in benefits under it—but not without hardship to those older people who could raise the money to pay the bill only by borrowing or depriving themselves of necessities while waiting for the medicare payment to come in.

NOW CONGRESS has changed all this to eliminate the necessity for the beneficiary's paying the bill first, in cases where the doctor decides not to make the claim himself. Beginning Jan. 1, 1968, all the beneficiary needs is an itemized bill—not an itemized, receipted bill as in the past.

Of course, the assignment-to-the-doctor method is still the simplest method for all concerned. It requires the use of only a single sheet of paper (the "request for payments" form), with no attachments or enclosures that might become separated from the claims form and delay a payment.

Also it has blanks for all of the kinds of information needed to pay a claim, thus further preventing "write-backs" for missing data without which a claim cannot be paid. Under this method, the doctor agrees to accept the "reasonable charge" determined by the carrier, as his full charge, and the basis of the 80 per cent payment made to him. The patient is responsible for the other 20 per cent, plus any part of the $50 annual deductible that might be remaining.

But even if the doctor declines to accept an assignment, it can be to his advantage to use the "request for payments" form in lieu of his standard receipted bill in the case of medicare beneficiaries. Experience has shown that payments can be processed much faster when the form is used.

THIS, IN TURN, will result in the beneficiary's receiving his medicare check sooner, with its proceeds passed along that much sooner to the attending doctor. All the doctor's office needs to do is complete Part II of the standard form. That will serve as the itemized bill which the patient can send in, to claim his payment. As before, medicare pays $4 out of every $5, after the first $50 medical bills in a year.

'Mod' Look Tamed By Romance

Fashion makes a woman look like a woman this spring, and underlines the pretty look with pretty lingerie.

In both daywear and sleepwear, colors are softer, prints are subtle, shapes are beautiful, trims are lavish — and a romantic air exists that has been lacking for a long time.

The picture is quite different than it was a year ago, when the "Mod" and somewhat kooky prevailed in all areas of the fashion world. Striving for elegance rather than an electric effect, lingerie is returning to delicate colors and designer details.

Spotlights Chemise

Continuing, of course, to coordinate with outer silhouettes, lingerie continues to spotlight the chemise; however, there is developing a return to the shapely: to the slip with fitted top traced with lace to wear under "pretty girl" blouses.

Both the body shirt and the belt are encouraging this trend to closer fit.

Slips for knits are extremely popular, as are pettipants and other items of intimate apparel related to pantsuits and mini-skirts.

Half-slips shape up for the shapelier state of things in outer fashions. For fitted waistlines and flared skirts, there's the dirdette — first cousin to yesterday's bouffant petticoat but more restrained, more in keeping with fashion today.

Inspiring Sleepwear

Sleepwear this season derives its inspiration from movies both past and present, and is romantic as a result. Such costume dramas as "Gone With The Wind" have produced ruffled sleep shirts and long gowns sashed high beneath tiny cover-up tops.

Plunging necklines and clinging culottes are contributions of stars and films of the 'Thirties to the current scene, and earlier heroines like Mary Pickford are responsible for little girl lingerie adorned with buttons, flounces and bows.

The shirt is widely interpreted, in gowns and pajamas, lounge dresses and robes, long or short. Some versions are tailored, others frilly.

As colors go gently, in white and pastels, so do lingerie fabrics encourage the feminine feeling of spring. They are fluid and relatively sheer, with many variations on voiles and dainty cottons.

Eyebelt, embroidery and crochet treatments, used discreetly, enhance the pretty look.

Late-Day Bag Is Small

In late-day and evening bags, the range of looks for spring is diversified. Mini-box-bags in oval, square and "hut" shapes, are clasped with jeweled flowers, butterflies and other designs or swing from bejeweled chains.

There are little envelopes, tiny totes and swaggers, and shoulder-strap bags, chained in gold, silver or tortoise shell. Leathers are smooth and lustrous, saffian, embossed, suede and patent. Metallic colors are seen in grained, crushed and smooth leathers.

The eagle, glove and anchor has been the mark of the Marines since 1868. Its designers were guided by traditions in retaining the eagle and anchor, but the addition of the western hemisphere appears to have been an inspiration of the moment.

ARTISTRY WITH THE LARIAT

Marvin Girard and his family will display lariat artistry in the Western Varieties act at 8 p.m. Friday, 3 and 8 p.m. Saturday and Sunday at 3 p.m. at the second annual Farm, Home, Auto and Sports Show at Smith Hall in St. Johns. The Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the event. — Story on Page 1-A.

There's Comfort In the Running For Young Men

In this spring's junior collection of slip-ons and sandals, brogues and oxfords, boys' shoes are styled with comfortable wide toe-lines in full, rounded and square silhouettes.

To serve for school and all spring and summer activities are new brogues that look hefty yet are crafted from lightweight smooth and grained leathers.

For a simpler tie shoe, the classic oxford, in new spring versions, sports combinations of textures, high-rising top-lines and ghillie ties.

Other tie shoes include the saddle oxford and plain-toe three-eyebelt ties in glove or brushed leather.

Brass hardware, beetroil braces, tassels and the look of boots have been added to slippers and moccasins. Others show off the monk-strap, high tongue and goring. Leathers are waxy, glove, grained and brushed textures.

Daughters honor Mrs Anna Dunay

The Ovid Bethel of Job's Daughters exemplified initiatory degrees to three candidates at the Elsie Masonic hall Monday evening before 75 people on Masonic and Eastern Star night with Honored Queen Beverly Mead of Ovid in charge.

The three girls initiated were: Connie Everts, daughter of Mr and Mrs E.L. Everts and Deborah Tabor, daughter of Mr and Mrs Willie Tabor, both of Ovid and Marilee Malitz, daughter of Mr and Mrs Howard Malitz of Shepardsville. Sue Besko opened the meeting with "Greetings to the Stars and Masons."

Among the special guests introduced were: Past Honored Queens Marjorie Morgan, Nancy Hehrer and Karen Halladay; guardians, Mrs Mickey Besko and Lewis Goodrich and past guardian, Mrs Russell Gilbert of Ovid and past associate guardian Robert Kridner of Elsie.

Other Masonic and OES officers presented were Mrs Dorothy Dougherty of Ashley; Mr and Mrs Archie Moore and C.H. Sills of Elsie and Mrs Martha Maxa of Ashley and Mrs Lella Wilson of Elsie, officers of the Gratiot-Isabella and Clinton County OES Association, respectively.

WORTHY MATRON MRS Archie Moore received telephoned regrets from Past Worthy Grand Matron Alice Vollink who was unable to attend because of the serious illness of her husband, Harold Vollink, who is in a Flint Hospital.

As a surprise feature, Mrs Anna Dunay of Bannister was escorted to the altar where Queen Beverly, on behalf of the Bethel, presented her an honorary membership certificate. This high honor was bestowed upon Mrs Dunay for her years of faithful service and attendance to the Job's Daughters.

It began when her own daughter was initiated, held several offices and became Honored Queen in 1955. Although her daughter has been away at CMU for three years, Mrs Dunay has continued to serve the Job's Daughters during that time as a Council member and has never missed a meeting.

QUEEN BEVERLY announced the following scheduled dates: April 16, Friends Night at the Owosso Bethel; April 21, Go-to-Church Sunday at the Ovid United Church after which they will visit and have lunch with "Grandma" Cole at the Alma Masonic Home; April 22, Mother and Daughter banquet at 6:30 p.m. (each to bring own table service and dish to pass).

Other recent activities were a bake sale Saturday and Council meeting Monday night at the home of Mrs June Cross.

AT THE CLOSE of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed in the dining room with Mrs Archie Moore and Mrs Alex Dunay as co-chairman and Mrs Lella Wilson Mrs C.H. Sills, Mrs Isolda Irving and Mrs Robert Baker as assistants.

Mr and Mrs Robert Kridner presided as host and hostess for the affair. The U-shaped tables were centered with a styrofoam triangle arranged with a dove and four pink carnations and lighted candles, the emblem and color chosen by Queen Beverly for her term. The other tables also featured triangles with carnations and candles.

ELSIE OES MET THURSDAY Elsie Chapter OES meeting was held Thursday evening with Mrs Eleanor Montgomery of Wacousta as a special guest. Mrs Montgomery is a goodwill committee, woman of the Michigan Grand Chapter and presented the local chapter with a plaque from the Grand Chapter for earning 100 per cent of the Every Member Project.

An Easter message from the Worthy Grand Matron and Patron was read and also a letter from the Villa Committee reminding the members of the annual Villa Day, June 2. There were several sick calls made and thank-you notes from members by the Sunshine committee.

Mrs Lella Wilson, second vice-president of the Clinton County Association OES, reported the county meeting May 6 at DeWitt and that reservations must be in by May 1. Other dates of Friends Night programs scheduled are: April 20, at Elsie; April 23 at Ashley and April 27 at Radiant Chapter of St. Johns.

A social hour was held in the dining room with Mrs Lella Wilson, Mrs Vina Smith and Mr and Mrs John Hall serving dessert and coffee at tables decorated in the Easter motif.

The local Methodist youth will attend a Youth Rally at Alma Saturday, April 27, when Rev Jim Jones of North Carolina will be a featured speaker.

The "Hope Folk" singers of Asbury College, Ky., will be here the weekend of April 27-28, when they will sing at the District Rally in Alma and also the morning worship service and evening MYF meeting in Elsie. David Showers, son of the Rev and Mrs Gordon Showers is a member of this group composed of three boys and two girls and two guitars.

Mrs Sydney Acre and daughter, Lori, of Elsie were given special recognition when they attended the TOPS state convention in Battle Creek recently. Mrs Acre was the highest in losing the most weight in the KOPS (Keep off Pounds Sensibly) in the Lansing-Jackson area and Lori had lost the most among the pre-teen

You know how it is when you're a child, you are sure you are going to "live happily ever after" somewhere, sometime.

As you grow older, the story may change a little. The fairy tale princess turns out to be the girl next door; your castle in the air, a white house on Orchard Street. But the goal remains the same, the happy ending on the far side of the rainbow.

But life doesn't always happen like that. Sometimes storybook marriages end in divorce, a promising job becomes a dead end, or a sure-fire investment turns out to be a total loss. Misfortune or your own weaknesses make your days seem futile and empty. What then of childhood expectations? Where do you look for joy and hope and bright tomorrows?

God's love is the only way to find real and lasting happiness. Comfort, strength, and purpose are yours for the asking. Why not attend your church today and find new inspiration for your life?

Pilgrim Church plans caravan to British Honduras this summer

A most unusual trip is in the offing! A caravan of teenagers and adults from the Pilgrim Evangelical United Brethren Church, soon to be known as the Pilgrim United Methodist Church, plan to make an overland trip to British Honduras this coming summer.

This trip will take about 30 days and will cover approximately 7,000 miles. In deference to a desire for a hardy pioneer experience (as well as to limited finances), this group plans to shun the air conditioned motels with the alluring swimming pools that will be beckoning them—particularly during the first part of their venture. Camping gear of various descriptions will be the order of the day.

For the most part, they also plan to pass up the attractive restaurants in favor of meals prepared at some road side picnic site or camping area by the members of the caravan.

Members of this group, which will include a skilled mechanic and at least one registered nurse, have already had several planning sessions, pouring over maps and deciding best routes through terrain that is sparsely populated. They are beginning to speculate just how bad the roads may become before they have arrived at their destination.

ONCE THERE, THEY plan to spend about 10 days working at various Methodist mission stations as well as observing the work of the Peace Corps in British Honduras. Through personal contacts with the citizens of this newly emerging country, they hope to build meaningful bridges of understanding over cultural barriers that have often resulted in distrust and suspicion in the past.

In contrast to the stereotype so vividly described in the "Ugly American," this group hopes to teach and be taught; to speak as well as to listen. They want to give themselves in whatever way, they can and in turn be enriched because their lives have been touched by their southern neighbors. In short, they hope to be creative representatives of their Christian faith, their country, and their native state of Michigan.

Because of the interest shown by many people, this dream is slowly beginning to shape into reality. As another step toward realizing this dream, the Youth Fellowship, with the support of the adults of the Pilgrim EUB Church, are sponsoring a chicken supper at the VFW hall this Saturday evening, April 20. Serving will begin at 5:30 p.m. The men of the VFW have volunteered the use of the hall without charge.

While no specific charge will be made for the supper, an opportunity will be provided to make a contribution for the proposed trip to British Honduras. The public is invited to attend.

Baptist Church news notes

Rev Richard Marsh, missionary to Alaska, will be the speaker next Sunday evening at the First Baptist Church in St. Johns. Special events coming up in May include the Mother-Daughter Banquet May 7 at 6:30 p.m., with Aunt Bertha of the Children's Bible Hour, as speaker. On May 20, the Father-Son Plaid Shirt Banquet is scheduled.

The senior choir presented John Peterson's cantata "Hallelujah! What a Savior!" last Sunday evening.

Methodist news notes

A church membership class for children in the sixth and seventh grades will start Saturday, April 20, at 10 a.m. at the First Methodist Church in St. Johns.

Some help is still needed for vacation church school. Four or five mothers are needed as baby sitters April 24 while teachers for the church school go to a training session. Needed also are three ladies to work in the nursery during vacation school.

Requirements for the Marine Corps' Women Officers Training are maintained at an especially high standard. In general, a candidate must be enrolled in a fully accredited college and working for a four year college degree. She must be between the age of 18 and 27 years, in good health, and of excellent moral character. She must also agree to remain unmarried until commissioned.

Civil defense & you

By CHARLES FROST
Clinton County
Civil Defense Director

It's that time of year again! It's a good time to review "tornado" safety precautions for yourself, your family and perhaps your home.

Did you know that by opening some windows or a door you might save your house? It's usually best to have them open on the east and north sides—because the tornado funnels usually approach from the southwest. This makes the southwest corner of the basement the best protected area. Your best protection is underground or below ground level. A storm cellar is a good investment, and if you have one, it would probably be a good fallout shelter too.

For the home without a permanent shelter, a sturdy workbench or table to crawl under may protect yourself and family from being blown away, struck by falling objects, or injured by flying debris. Reinforced concrete is the best material for a tornado shelter and a steel entrance door is fine, but, always hinge the door to open inward. Falling objects, timbers or debris may lodge across the doorway, making it impossible to get out.

A structure eight feet long by six feet wide and seven feet high will protect eight people for a short time and provide limited storage space. A fallout shelter should have 10 square feet of floor space per person. Some emergency equipment to have handy can include a flashlight or lantern and tools like crowbar, handsaw, wrecking bar, etc. A transistor radio can provide you with emergency information in the event power fails.

When the weather is hot and muggy and the air damp and close, thunder heads begin to spring up quickly. That's the time to sharpen your weather eye and ear. Listen to radio or television; they will broadcast the latest weather information. Don't call the weather bureau or sheriff department or any agency. At a time like this they have problems of their own. Call only if you have a tornado to report.

Do you know what a tornado looks like? Sounds like? The sides of a tornado funnel as it extends from the cloud toward the ground are usually smooth and distinct though angular as opposed to a feathery edged black cloud, that may be rain. Once you have heard a tornado, its pretty hard to forget what one sounds like. Many people have never seen or heard a tornado.

The Clinton County Board of Supervisors has authorized the CD director to purchase the ESSA "Tornado" film, in sound and color. This will be available to any group who wants to sponsor it, on a first come, first serve basis. To schedule this film, call 224-2349, your County Civil Defense office. We'll have more on tornado precautions in the next article.

"Let's talk dry cleaning"

by Dana Antes

Confidence and a sense of well-being . . . you can spot the person who has these qualities anywhere. Of the many factors that contribute to a man's or a woman's self-confidence, the knowledge that the clothing he or she is wearing is impeccably clean—inside and outside—is one of the most significant.

When you take a garment out of the closet and look it over, don't consider it clean just because there are no visible spots on the outside. Look to the inside. Be sure that perspiration or body oils have not seeped into the fabric. If you discover this has happened, get it to your cleaner as quickly as possible.

If these are allowed to remain and get "set" the result is often ruinous. This is understandable when we stop to realize that the body chemistry of individuals is as varied as humanity itself. Regular, frequent cleaning minimizes the deteriorating effects of perspiration and body oils, adds to the life of your garment—keeps it fresh and odorless.

You'll wear your clothes with pride and confidence when they have been thoroughly and scientifically cleaned by our up-to-the-minute methods. You can bring us your most delicate fabrics and be sure that we'll give them the careful, personal attention they need and deserve.

Announcing Chevrolet's new Torque-Drive.

Nobody else offers anything like it at the price.

Torque-Drive does away with the clutch pedal. Most of the shifting, too. And for the most economy, it's available exclusively on all Camaro sixes and Chevy II

Nova 4- and 6-cylinder models. Look how simple it is. You accelerate in 1st; then shift to Hi for cruising. That's all. If you like, you can even start in Hi. And accelerate from standstill to cruising speed. It's just a little slower that way.

The shift lever is conveniently located on the steering column, and there's a selector quadrant with easy-to-read indications: Park-R-N-Hi-1st. Only your Chevrolet dealer has it—clutchless driving at only $68.65.

The first no clutch one shift $68.65* transmission

Navy oceanographic publications for distribution to mariners of the world.

Fireman RICHARD L. HUNT, USCG, son of Mr and Mrs Eugene F. Hunt of 6558 W. ## It's official- -next school millage election June 10

Another school millage election for the St. Johns School District was assured last Wednesday night when the school board adopted a resolution setting June 10 as the date. The election will be held in conjunction with the election of two members to the school board.

No amount of millage has been determined by the board yet, and they probably won't set the figure until the May meeting. In March district voters turned down a figure of 12.8 mills by a narrow margin of 44 votes. The 12.8 included a renewal of 4.5 mills which expired in December and an additional 8.3 mills which the board said was essential to continue to offer the same educational program as in the past.

The June date will also be used to elect two school board members. Terms of board President Ray Parr and board Secretary Fred Meyer expire this year. Nominating petitions are available at the superintendent's office and must be filed at least 30 days prior to the election.

The school board last week was cautioned by the Michigan School Board Assn. not to offer contracts to new teachers for next year without stipulations that the contract would not be effective if local millage elections fail. Otherwise, the association warned, schools would be obligated to pay the teachers present building and site fund, even if they weren't put to work.

AS IT STANDS NOW, school officials foresee a need for 20 to 30 new teachers for next year — about a normal turnover. Negotiations between the St. Johns Education Assn. and the school board are expected to start next week.

In other business last Wednesday, the St. Johns School Board approved a request from County Extension Agricultural Agent F. Earl Haas for the use of the west side of the football field and the grandstand for the 4-H Fair in August.

The board also passed a resolution transferring a residual amount of $396.65 from the Eureka debt retirement fund to the present building and site fund.

The old Olive Center School

Ever notice the old school building on the northwest corner of the Pratt Road and US-27 intersection? That's the old Olive Center School and it dates back more than 100 years.

Olive Township Supervisor Earl Barks contributed the following notes about the old building, taken from a publication some 10 years or so ago. The information was compiled by Myron Howe, August Lepharm and Walter Leute.

SCHOOL HISTORY

The first meeting on record for the Olive Center School was held Sept. 3, 1868.

There were 57 names on the census record of 1868. The first teacher contract recorded was for 13 weeks winter term for $45.50. Miss Florie Holt, teacher. Three months of winter school and four months of summer school were held in 1868. The boys attended the winter term and the girls the full year. The boys attended the winter term only so they could help with the farm work.

At a school meeting held on Oct. 7, 1875, the motion was made and carried that the building committee was to let a contract for a new building, not to exceed one thousand dollars. This building was completed in the fall of 1876.

In 1948 the building was moved back on a new foundation with a basement added. This was necessary so highway US-27 which passes in front of the building, could be widened.

In September 1954 this basement was converted to a class room for the kindergarten through the third grade. There were twenty-four children in this room with Mrs Evelyn Heinlen, teacher.

A Community Club was organized in 1946 with Mrs Clayton Irish, president; Mrs Norman Schultheiss vice president; and Mrs Charles Green, secretary-treasurer. With funds raised by the club, a kitchen was planned at the west end of the basement. The equipment was to be added as funds permitted.

Kindergarten sign-up starts

Kindergarten registration in the St. Johns School District will start this Friday and continue next Tuesday and Wednesday. Letters have been mailed to all kindergarten parents notifying them of the times and places of registration for school next fall.

Registration will be held at city schools on Friday, April 19. Students going to East Essex and Eureka will register on Tuesday, April 23. Riley students will register at the new school on Wednesday, April 24. Students in the Olive Center and East Olive area will also register on Wednesday, April 24, at Olive Center School. The new building will not yet be available.

Kindergarten teachers and school officials emphasize that children should be 5 years old by the time school begins. They believe that children who become 5 after school begins should wait a year before entering school. State law says that children who become 5 before Dec. 1 may register; however, it is believed that children have nothing to lose by waiting another year if they are not 5 when school begins.

Parents are urged to come during the times indicated on their letters. Families who have moved into the school district during the year should call the school to see where they should register. Any parents who may have been inadvertently overlooked may call the school or just go on the dates mentioned. The school urges 100 per cent registration so that it will be known soon how many kindergartners will enter next September.

MAPLE RAPIDS — A $21,000 budget coupled with a two-mill tax increase for village residents has been adopted by the Maple Rapids village Council.

The village general fund tax levy will be raised from 8 to 10 mills for the coming year, with the result that anticipated receipts for next year amount to about $21,002.17. Expenditures planned total only $15,930. The council plans to use the $5,072.7 balance as a "cushion" against costs for a new sanitary land fill with Essex Township and projected sidewalk repair. Village residents will also pay an additional two mills authorized by voters for improvements to the water system in the past few years.

PORTRAIT OF A YEAR

A Study of Michigan's 1967 Auto Injuries and Fatalities

ENVIALE SAFETY RECORD

This map illustrates Michigan's pre-eminent safety position in 1967, when it led the nation with the largest traffic accident reduction of any large industrial state. The map is taken from the cover of "Portrait of a Year," Automobile Club of Michigan's study of 1967 traffic injuries and fatalities. To be published soon, it is a companion to Auto Club's 1966 "How To Bring More Back Alive" fatality study.

ing performance of "Pickle in Paradise." The occasion was the annual "night out" excursion which is scheduled for one meeting during the year as an open date. All the members attending Thursday night agreed that the entertainment furnished by the First Nighters was well worth the trip in spite of rain, snow, and cold weather. The next scheduled meeting of the Literature Department will be a potluck supper May 20 at the home of Mrs Albert Ackley, at which time the officers for the next year will be elected.

Right variety, good seed are soybean crop needs

Soybean varieties and seed are important in efficient economical production. Varieties vary on yield, maturity, lodging resistance, sometimes on disease resistance, plant height and on oil and protein content.

Weather conditions will affect different varieties differently. Because of a difference in length of growing season, a variety adapted for full season production in Monroe County is not adapted to Isabella County because it will not mature successfully in the shorter northern summer. Although growers cannot control the weather, they can and should adapt the soybean variety to their land and weather area.

Seldom does any one variety excel in all the traits you are looking for. One may excel in lodging resistance but is so short that it cannot be harvested successfully. It is best to select those varieties which have the best combination of desirable traits for your situation.

STUART C. Hildebrand, Michigan State University crop scientist, suggests possible varieties for various areas of Michigan. "At this time in Michigan in the southern two tiers of counties we could use Chippewa 64 as an early variety, Hark as a medium early variety, Harosoy 63 and Lindarin 63 as midseason varieties and Amsoy as a full season variety," he said.

"In central Lower Michigan we would use Chippewa 64 as a medium early variety, Hark as midseason, and if planted early, use Harosoy (63) as a full-season bean. This area includes Ingham, Gratiot, Saginaw and Tuscola counties. Slightly farther north Chippewa 64 would be a full season variety," Hildebrand said.

Frequently, especially with a large acreage, one could use more than one variety of different maturities to split the harvest load and harvest more acres at the prime time, Hildebrand said.

The Hark and Amsoy varieties are new and available for Michigan farmers for the first time this season, Hark (from a cross of Harosoy and Hawkeye) has an average maturity of 123 days. In several years of testing at East Lansing and Monroe County it has outyielded Chippewa 64, averaging 44 bushels per acre. In lodging resistance Hark is excellent, Hildebrand said, far superior to Harosoy 63 and similar to Chippewa 64. Plant height is midway between Chippewa 64 and Harosoy 63.

AMSOY (FROM A cross of Adams and Harosoy) has a maturity of 132 days. In three years of testing in Monroe County it has outyielded Hawkeye by 14 per cent and has yielded slightly more than Harosoy 63 (in absence of phytophthora rootrot).

Lodging resistance is superior to Harosoy 63 and not quite as good as Hawkeye. Plant height is about the same as Harosoy. Amsoy is recommended for the southern tier of Michigan counties only as a full season variety and as a replacement for Hawkeye. It is not resistant to phytophthora rootrot, so farmers having trouble with this disease should continue to grow the disease-resistant Harosoy 63.

The Department of Crop Science at Michigan State University announced that the following seeds are available this spring for general farm planting: Chippewa, about 31,000 bushels, similar to last year; Harosoy 63, about 40,000 bushels, or 25 per cent less than last year, due to the wet fall; Hark, about 20,000 and Amsoy, about 9,000 bushels. Hawkeye, Lindarin 63, a-100, Corsoy and Traverse are also available, but they are not recommended this year by the MSU crop scientists.

"TO THE BEST of our knowledge," Hildebrand said, "based on the tests conducted, there are no better varieties available than those listed regardless of the price of the seed."

"Also, contrary to some claims, there are no hybrid soybeans at this time. Most of those mentioned were a hybrid in early stages of development, but are now considered stable varieties."

Still another factor influencing quality of the seed itself, selecting seed by sight is not enough, Hildebrand said, because you cannot tell by sight if good looking seeds will produce healthy plants.

"High quality seed must have high germination (85 per cent plus), high varietal purity, high crop purity (pure seed), uniformity of size, freedom from weed seed and freedom from cracked and split seeds. Certified seed is the main source which meets all of these requirements."

Clinton County Agricultural Extension Agent George McQueen can be contacted for more information on varieties and seed quality.

Cut alfalfa early, gain more profit

Give your milk profits a boost by harvesting alfalfa haylage before June 10, advises Michigan State University dairy specialists.

Hay samples were taken from 25 central Michigan farms for tests by Michigan State University dairy specialists and Barry County Extension agricultural agents. The data shows higher quality, more digestibility and better milk production from alfalfa harvested before June 10.

Don Hillman, MSU dairy specialist, says, "Over 500 pounds more milk per ton of hay can be produced if hay is harvested June 1 rather than June 20. That's $25 to $30 more milk value per ton of hay."

A delay in harvesting, he says, could mean a loss of 17 pounds of potential milk production per cow.

Tests show feed value increased $8.70 per ton. The three-cutting system gave a saving of $40 to $65 more per acre, and $2.87 more milk value per acre.

TEN PER CENT MORE leaves were saved by early cutting. Delay in harvesting after June 1 caused a lower feed value from leaf losses.

"Each 10 per cent leaf loss resulted in 1.73 per cent less protein and 4.7 per cent less digestible dry matter," according to the dairy specialist.

Favorable weather conditions also influence higher profits from high quality haylage.

"Hay that was badly damaged by rain or had been subjected to excessive raking and heavy leaf loss was calculated to be worth $15 per ton less than first cutting harvested before June 10 with weather damage," Hillman said.

Plan corn for longer harvest

Plan for a longer corn harvest time by planting early, mid-season and late hybrid corn seed, advises George McQueen, Clinton County Extension agricultural agent.

Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service suggests planting two or three different maturity hybrids for "crop insurance."

"If one hybrid runs into unfavorable weather at a critical state of growth another may be affected less and come through with a good crop," explains MSU Crop Scientist E. C. Rossman.

Crop scientists recommend early hybrids with below-average moisture content for grain. They say a hybrid high in grain yield is good for silage. For late planting, low soil fertility and sandy or muck soils they suggest early hybrids.

If you combine or field shell your crop, planting early maturing varieties may cut down on the amount of moisture you must remove from the grain before storage, the agricultural agent explains.

Information on various hybrids recommended for areas in Michigan is available by asking for Extension Bulletin 431 at your county Extension office.

FFA youth at P-W win corn contest awards

PEWAMO-WESTPHALIA — On Tuesday, March 28, the Pewamo-Westphalia Future Farmers of America traveled to Frankfort for the DeKalb Corn Banquet. The Banquet was held at Zehender's Inn where nearly 300 FFA members from the central Michigan area were present.

Representing the Pewamo-Westphalia Chapter were the five highest corn club scorers—Dick Huhn, Kevin Thelen, Jerry Wirth, Alan Smith, and Bob Hafner. James Gibson, chapter advisor, was also present.

After a chicken dinner and the program presented by guest speaker Eugene Stouffer, of Elsie District DeKalb Seed sales manager, an awards presentation took place.

Dick Huhn and Kevin Thelen each received a plaque for their perfect scores of 100 in the corn club. Receiving medals were 11 other members of the P-W chapter for their scores over 90.

Price action raises dairy farmers' incomes

Recent government actions regarding dairy price supports will raise the incomes of dairy farmers by a substantial amount, according to Frank Light, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee.

Estimates are that the increase in the price-support level from $4 to $4.28 a hundred pounds for manufacturing milk, with comparable increases in Class I fluid milk prices in federal order markets, will increase the cash receipts to the nation's dairy farmers about $300 million (5 per cent) in the marketing year beginning April 1, 1968.

The higher price-support level was announced by Agriculture Department Secretary Freeman on March 20. The support represents 90 per cent of the parity equivalent price for manufacturing milk—the highest support level permitted by the Agricultural Act of 1949, which authorizes support at between 75 and 90 per cent of parity. The new support price is the third increase in the last two years—a combined increase of $1.04, or 32 per cent.

AS IN THE PAST, dairy price supports will be carried out by government purchases of dairy products. All of the increase in the support price for milk is being accomplished by increases in the prices for nonfat dry milk and cheese. The support buying price for butter is not being increased because of the unfavorable demand for it. The purchase price for nonfat dry milk is being increased 3.5 cents a pound—enough to enable butter-powder plants to increase their prices to producers for milk 28 cents a hundredweight.

Increasing the price of nonfat dry milk, without increasing the price of butter, raises the value of the nonfat dry milk solids portion of milk relative to the milkfat portion. This raises the cost to distributors for the nonfat solids portion of "filled milk" (made from skim milk or nonfat dry milk, and vegetable oil) by the same amount as the cost of whole milk.

While the increase in prices received by farmers means a great deal to them, such increases are equivalent to only about half a cent a quart to consumers.

JUST A REMINDER to both motorists and operators of slow moving farm equipment on the highway.

In order to alert motorists of slow moving vehicles on the highway, the 1966 Michigan Legislature passed a law which became effective March 10, 1967, that requires all vehicles operating on the highway at speeds of less than 25 miles per hour be identified with a slow moving vehicle emblem.

This emblem is triangular, 14 inches high and 16 inches at the base. It has a dark red reflective border with a fluorescent yellow-orange center and is designed to communicate a danger signal, much the same as railroad crossing signs.

It provides a warning to approaching motorists at a distance of up to 800 feet or more, and can be recognized within 500 feet at any time of the day or night.

I would like to emphasize to motorists that they should become acquainted with this emblem and when they see it realize that they are approaching some type of equipment, which could be a road grader, tractor, or some other farm equipment that is moving at less than 25 miles per hour.

The law requires that the slow-moving vehicle emblem be used both day and night on all public roads. It must be located on the rear of all slow-moving vehicles, centered where possible, and mounted at a height of three to five feet in order to keep headlights in range at night.

THE USE OF THIS emblem is prohibited on stationary objects and on trucks or cars that travel over 25 miles per hour.

In most instances, when drivers approach a slow-moving vehicle with this emblem on it they will more than likely see the emblem before they see the outline of the equipment on which it is mounted. The emblem is particularly effective at night, because it will show up in the reflection of motorists' headlights before any slow-moving vehicle without this emblem would be visible.

These emblems are designed and packaged with a mounting bracket that makes them readily attachable to different types of equipment. They may be purchased at nearly any implement store in the State.

One and a half million pounds of microscopic glass beads are used annually by the Department of State Highways to improve the reflective quality of lane-marking paint.

Know weed species, chemicals

Horticultural farmers battling weeds in their crops have a good chance of winning if they apply selective weed control chemicals properly, according to George McQueen, Clinton County Extension agricultural agent.

Michigan State University crop scientists report that an estimated four to five billion dollars is lost each year in the United States due to improper weed control.

With selective herbicides, weeds are killed with little or no damage to the crops, according to crop scientists.

MSU Crop scientists say that the best weed control results when weed seeds are germinating or when plants are young.

McQueen suggests you know weed species and chemical limitations. Several chemicals are effective only on certain seeds. Rate of application is also important.

"The greater the range of tolerance of a crop plant, the better the chemical is for weed control, provided the chemical will kill weeds throughout this range," He suggests lower rates for light or sandy soils and higher rates for heavier soils.

Failure of good weed control often results from lack of moisture after the application. Chemicals may not activate or weed seed may not germinate in the surface soil when moisture is insufficient, according to MSU crop scientists.

Instructions for applying selective herbicides are available by asking for Extension Bulletin 433 at your county Extension office. The revised issue is now available.

Improved kidney bean available in Michigan

Manitou kidney bean seeds are available in limited supply for planting this year, according to M. H. Erdmann, Michigan State University crop scientist.

The new, light red kidney bean has been developed by Michigan State University and is recommended for its good processing qualities and resistance to anthracnose, Erdmann says that the supply is limited, however.

"A small acreage of Manitou seed was produced in Idaho in 1967 but no Michigan produced Manitou seed is available for planting in 1968," he says.

An improved dark red kidney bean, developed by the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station, is the Charlevoix. Charlevoix kidney beans mature several days earlier than the common Michigan dark red kidney. A

Yard safety important

You may face danger in your own backyard unless you vow to be "safety-conscious" this spring, advises a Michigan State University Cooperative Extension specialist.

Mowing the grass, children playing in the yard and using chemicals for garden weeds all signal danger.

Richard Pfister, MSU agricultural engineer, suggests five steps to keep in mind as you get out your rotary lawn mower for the first time this year.

"Case the joint," he says. Take an extra minute to gather toys, rocks, wires and other objects that are easily caught in the blade and thrown.

"Check the hardware." Before you begin check if the blade is sharp and the fuel tank is filled. Pfister says, "Two's a crowd." Little children should not be around while you mow.

HE ADDS, "DRESS unfit to kill." Summertime is great for going barefoot and wearing shorts but Pfister reminds you to be practical and protect yourself by wearing shoes and slacks. "Mow with your head," he advises. The mower should always be stopped while unattended. He suggests mowing across slopes so that you have complete control over the moving mower.

Protect small children from busy driveways by fencing in a play area located away from the driveway. He recommends that you help drivers by trimming shrubs to insure good visibility in driveways.

To complete your spring yard safety routine, Pfister reminds you to be cautious with weed and insect chemicals. Read labels carefully. Use the chemical properly. Store the chemicals in a well-locked cabinet and dispose of the empty containers immediately.

third red bean available is the California.

The Seafarer, a white pea bean, will be available as certified seed in a few years. For 1968 plantings of navy beans, Erdmann recommends Sanilac, Gratiot and Seaway varieties. "Growers with a substantial navy bean acreage should consider planting part of their acreage to Seaway at normal early June planting date along with Sanilac or Gratiot to spread the harvest period and insure against bad weather conditions," Erdmann explained.

Enlisted Women Marines recruit training takes place at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C. The WM's "boot camp" includes six weeks of basic Marine Corps subjects and three weeks in general office procedures.

SOCIAL SECURITY QUESTIONS - ANSWERS

Q. My wife worked regularly under social security for about 15 years. She had to quit work last year due to injuries she received in an automobile accident. Since she cannot work for several more months, should she apply for social security? A. Yes. Monthly cash disability benefits can now be paid to people if their disability is expected to last for at least 12 months.

Q. I was denied disability benefits from social security because my disability was considered to be temporary. I am still unable to work. Am I allowed to reapply? A. Yes. You can file a new application or ask that your case be re-examined. Previously you could get benefits only if you had a physical or mental impairment that was expected to last a long or indefinite time. Now you may become eligible if your disability is expected to keep you from doing substantial work for 12 or more months.

Clinton County News

How about the depot?

A couple of months back the Clinton County News suggested a possible location on the southeast side of town for a combination Chamber of Commerce information booth, travel rest area, Chamber office and bus station. The most pressing need is for a bus station.

While we thought, and still do think, the idea and location has merits, there are tactical problems to be overcome — zoning, building, location away from center of town and money — and the foremost problem is money. The Chamber of Commerce has none to spare, and neither does the City of St. Johns.

We did some preliminary investigation last week on an alternative site that is possibly more exciting than the original.

We suggest the Chamber contact the Grand Truck Railroad about using a portion of their depot on Railroad Street for a Chamber-operated bus station.

The depot is a natural place for a bus station. There are no longer passenger trains, so there should be no conflict of interest as far as the railroad is concerned. There are waiting room, rest room and parking facilities already there. There is off-street loading space for buses. The station is right downtown, an excellent central location. Buses from all directions could easily get to the depot without going out of their way.

There is enough space in the depot so that the Chamber could even have its office there, and present and future Chamber employees could handle the sale of bus tickets. The bus company fees, small though, we understand they are, would be practically pure profit, since there would be little need for additional employees.

We also understand the Railway Express Agency is in need of a local spot for leaving and picking up undeliverable parcels. This, too, the Chamber could handle from this central point.

The depot, its large lawn and parking area also provide an ideal introduction to visitors and passers-by who seek tourist information. It's not far off the beaten track of M-21 and US-27, and it would also serve to get more potential customers downtown for local merchants.

There should be little initial investment for the Chamber of Commerce in locating at the depot — certainly no investment such as a new building, purchase of land, etc. would entail. We highly recommend the Chamber of Commerce investigate thoroughly the possibility of going into the bus station business at the downtown depot. We think such a proposal would be welcomed by the railroad, too.

MS Hope Chest drive deserves our support

As the age of human transplants becomes a reality, and a form of "life" is developed in a test tube, we would say that medical science has reached its zenith. But it's not true. There are still many diseases that baffle investigators. Multiple sclerosis is one of them.

We do know what happens to a person afflicted with MS. The protective covering of nerve fibers in the brain and spinal cord disintegrates. Scar tissue forms and nerve impulses are distorted, sometimes even blocked. But what scientists don't know is what causes MS—what triggers the disintegration. Another question to be answered is how can MS be cured.

You can help investigators find these answers by supporting the 1968 MS Hope Chest campaign which is currently under way. The National Multiple Sclerosis society conducts this once-a-year residential drive to raise funds for national and international research programs as well as for local patient services.

The society is currently supporting 73 research projects here and abroad. During 1968, the national society budgeted $1,300,000 for its research and research fellowship programs. Scientific research is the only way to solve the mystery of MS.

Let's help as much as we can by giving generously to the MS Hope Chest campaign.

Our community library basic tool of learning

April 21-27 will mark the observance of National Library Week. The purpose of this occasion is to encourage the development of lifetime reading habits as the foundation of a better informed people. Within our nation's libraries are stored all the wonders of the world's literature. Scientific and technical knowledge, philosophy, economics, art, politics—every area of imaginable human interest—await the exploring mind. Mankind must summon the wisdom of the ages and harness technologies yet unborn to build a peaceful and a better world for the future. Our libraries are a basic tool of learning for each of us—a priceless asset to a nation that would set its feet upon the path of leadership in a complex and changing world.

RAMBLIN' with Rink

By LOWELL G. RINKER

We get rather disturbed when we hear people talk about the image of the teenager and the image newspapers get about causing the "teenage image."

All too often remarks such as this are made: "We hear so much about teenagers in trouble and read headlines in the papers about them, but we all know all teenagers don't get into trouble. Here are a couple of youngsters who are talented, are good citizens and ones we can be proud of."

This type of statement invariably comes out when adults introduce teenagers to provide entertainment or to talk at some public function. It certainly is true that the teenagers are top quality and well deserve all the praise they get.

But it makes me boil quietly when they are compared to the relatively few teenagers who do make and get into trouble. By comparing the 90 per cent good to the 10 per cent bad, it takes a lot of gloss off the 90 per cent. Despite the good intentions of the speaker in praising the couple of youngsters, he is actually giving the impression they are exceptions to the rule instead of being the rule.

When a few are touted as the exception, it overemphasizes and downgrades the rest. And so the image of the teenager has been formed.

NEWSPAPERS GET A great deal of blame for the poor general image of the teenager, and this also makes me boil — and not so quietly. People are always referring to headlines about teenagers in trouble. Perhaps Americans have a misguided inclination to believe the worst in people and thus latch on to the comparatively few headlines they see about "teenagers in trouble."

Newspapers, and this one certainly included, cannot and do not ignore the facts that some teenagers do indeed get into trouble. But neither do we ignore the youngsters who are busy achieving — advancing themselves and their community.

Though we don't overlook reporting about the errant teenagers, we certainly don't play these stories up, and the headlines people refer to are normally small and certainly not the one-inch-high, black, top-of-the-front-page type which most people visualize when they hear the word "headlines."

A headline is actually any type which precedes and summarizes or hints at the contents of the story which follows. Stories about teenagers in trouble do appear in print, but they are almost of the time small stories with small headlines, and though there may be half a dozen of them in a week's issue, that "emphasis" is hidden by other stories about teenagers doing good.

So sure am I of this I would challenge any person to show me where we print one-tenth as many inches of stories about youngsters in trouble as we do about youngsters doing good, constructive things.

The image of the teenager was made by the adult and not the teenager — by the adult who prefers to call the 90 per cent who are good the exception and the 10 per cent who are errant the rule, — this despite newspapers' overwhelming coverage of the 90 per cent.

From the Congressional Record

Warns of dirty dairy imports

Rep. Ancher Nelson (Minn.) "...I am very much concerned with the decision by the Food and Drug Administration removing certain sanitary requirements from imported canned milk."

"With the importation of evaporated and sweetened condensed milk reaching record levels, this is not the time to relax the already inadequate quality standards that we have for imported milk."

"The FDA announced on Friday that canned milk would no longer be subject to the provisions of the Federal Milk Import Act. This statute prohibits the importation of milk or cream unless the cows involved have been annually examined for disease and the foreign dairy farms and plants meet certain sanitary requirements."

"Since 1962 the importation of evaporated milk has increased from 4,000 pounds annually to 1,231,000 last year, while sweetened condensed milk imports have increased from 69,000 pounds to 3,724,000 pounds over the same 5-year period."

"IT IS IMPORTANT to note that the provisions of the Federal Milk Import Act only apply to fluid milk or cream and do not apply to imported cheese, butter, dry, milk, and butterfat-sugar mixtures. Foreign producers of these imported items do not have to comply with any sanitary production standards that our government establishes."

"From the FDA's own records, we know that thousands of foreign dairy products are prepared for export to the United States with little apparent concern for maintaining even minimum sanitary standards."

"These dairy imports come to our shores containing live mites, rodent, hairs, fly eggs, maggots, and other contaminating particles. The FDA detains some unsanitary imports, but much finds its way to the consumer."

"I am sponsoring the Foreign Dairy Inspection Act, which requires that foreign dairy farms and processing plants producing dairy products for importation to the United States, meet sanitary standards established by the U.S. Government."

"As long as we have inadequate controls on dairy imports, this potential health hazard will exist for consumers."

"In addition, this situation puts our domestic dairy industry at a definite disadvantage. Our American dairy must invest thousands of dollars in their equipment to meet local, state and federal health regulations, while we have no assurance that foreign dairy farms and plants, whose products are imported to the United States, operate under comparable sanitary requirements."

Prejudices have no place here, she says

Dear Editor:

Hopper's article on the death of Martin Luther King was well stated and I hope many more people share my opinion. I heard something on the radio last week that the article reminded me of and impressed me, also.

The commentator's brief talk seemed appropo to the theme of the article. He said from the time we arise in the morning and all through the day, most everything we use, eat or drink depends on people from countries all over the world in which nationalities have a part in serving all people.

The tea, coffee, and cocoa, our sugar, the sponge we use in so many ways, soap, rubber, . . . these are just a few. How can prejudice reign when all these people serve us so well? These things we depend upon in our daily life; thus we must depend on the people of all countries to aid in us having them. The yellow, black, white, red, whatever color of skin they might have, are all the same inside and capable of being deeply hurt by non-acceptance.

Something I saw of TV also seems to fit all this. A woman walking down the street passed a number of people whom she looked at as though she wished they were dead. Prejudice was plainly on her face. As she walked up the steps to enter a church, a voice said "If you haven't found God walking down the street, it's doubtful you'll find him in there."

As the article read, all do not agree on all things, but the dignity and respect of a human being should be something all people are entitled to, unless they prove themselves unworthy of it.

Won't it be wonderful when all people of whatever races live in peace and harmony? This will be if we really believe in God's promises. I sincerely hope the prejudiced ones become the minority. Our country strives to be an example to the world. It can be a good example if this is among the things we try to overcome — prejudice.

Sincerely,
JOAN MATTER

Those 'farm implements' not luxuries

Dear Editor:

After reading the letter in the April 4 issue of the Clinton County News entitled "Says Education takes back seat to pleasures," I felt I must take exception to the comment made about the farmer.

I would suggest that the writer of this letter made some inquiries among people who know what it takes to operate a farm in this modern age. If this person does this, then he or she will not again make the mistake of including "backyard full of every kind of farm implement" among the luxuries of life.

Those "farm implements" that the writer deprecates are the farmer's tools to make a living — and incidentally, to help him make money enough to pay his taxes if anything is left after expenses.

Couple thank Cub Scouts for raking lawn

Dear Editor:

One hears so much about the destructive things young people are doing but one seldom hears about the good things.

Last Tuesday (April 12) Mrs. Carol Estes and Mrs. Diane VanOrsdol came to our home with their group of Cub Scouts, Den 4 of Pack 272, and completely raked our lawn.

My husband and I are senior citizens and my husband is crippled by arthritis and must be on crutches and had just come home from the hospital.

We would like to commend and say a big thank you to this fine group of Scouts and their leaders. They all worked so hard and we do appreciate so much their act of kindness.

Sincerely,
MR & MRS GLENN WOODHAMS

There must be better way, Bath writer says

Dear Editor:

This is just to correct and clarify my stand on the drain issue about which we wrote last week.

We said "drain" issue, and it should have been "sewer" issue. We can see that a few people have a definite need for this, and we sympathize. But for the few that this will help, it will hurt so many more because of the way it is financed. To bankrupt some families in order to help a few others has got to be wrong.

If this could be set up on a different financing plan, as a township tax, or some way that everyone in the school district could help pay it, instead of as it is — hitting some so hard — then we might see the need in it.

And, (and or), if it were a drain system that would carry away some of the vast pools of water that stand around, there'd be more reason for it all. Our son got salmonella a few years ago from drinking milk given by a cow that drank stagnant water. These closed sewers can't help that problem any.

Both are real problems, but so are a person's finances, and for those on pensions and with small children to raise and bending budgets... There must be another way.

Some of us just cannot afford the sewer the way it is set up now. We are not shutting our eyes to those who need it, but we are seeing the real hurt it would bring to us and so many others. It just cannot be fair or right this way. If all this water that lies around were removed, people might not have so much trouble with their own sewer systems.

Fair scenery is featured

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Costs of quackery high and sometimes even fatal

"DEATH. FRAUD. THEFT."

These are prices Americans pay to health quacks, reports the Michigan State Medical Society. In terms of death, it is estimated that more Americans lose their lives each year to quackery than to all crimes of violence put together. In terms of dollars, the "take" approaches $3 billion a year, more than $100 million in Michigan alone.

MSMS notes that quackery exists in many forms. Most promise benefits for real or imagined problems. Their first targets are quacks who play upon the "incurable" patient. Not only is the patient "milked" financially, but he can be killed in the process of treatment. At the very least, the medicines maintain, he will prolong visiting a competent doctor, hoping the quack will effect a miracle.

"Cures" the quack might advance involve drugs and medicines, mechanical devices, special foods, and psychic treatments.

Red ant serum and cricket legs may sound phony to many people, but to a chronic arthritic patient this "cure" may be the only hope left.

ELIMINATION of quackery involves many problems. A legal definition of a "quack" may be the most difficult.

Where does one draw the lines between "quackery" and the sale of vitamins, patent medicines, cosmetics and health foods? Is the definition of "quack" limited to that of a charlatan or should the careless physician whose poor judgement causes the death of patients be considered a quack?

Prosecution of quacks is often difficult because victims do not sign complaints. Some are too embarrassed; some are dead. Another difficulty arises when patients are "cured" through quackery. Many illnesses are psychologically oriented. The patient can be convinced his "cure" is due to some miraculous result which has no scientific relationship.

Legislation in California makes "quackery" a felony, punishable by imprisonment for up to 10 years. The law, passed last year, has yet to prove its effectiveness. There is divided opinion among attorneys whether a similar law would be helpful in Michigan. Some think that present statutes provide ample protection and that the problem lies with enforcement.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley feels that new legislation will not solve the problem. He says, "If given a choice, I would rather have more investigative and enforcement personnel than a whole-sale batch of new laws." But Kelley points out that laws are "only a part of the public's arsenal against quackery." Education and publicity are paramount in the battle, he says. Governmental agencies and practitioners of the healing arts should work diligently in these areas, Kelley concludes.

THE QUACKERY problem was undertaken at an MSMS workshop which included representatives from the Legislature, law enforcement, media, health organizations, the legal and medical professions.

Two suggestions resulted from the effort. It was generally agreed that a better method of handling complaints from victims is needed. Although details were not defined, the need to protect anonymity of victims and depict the magnitude of the problem were emphasized.

A better job of education was stressed, including a program for schools and civic organizations.

The responsibility of the medical profession in allowing quackery to thrive in this "enlightened" age was probably best expressed by a doctor. He pointed out that medical organizations are quick to promote the accomplishments and progress of modern medicine. Perhaps some of this effort should be spent on its shortcomings.

Fulton petitions for nomination now available

MIDDLETON—Persons desiring to serve on the Fulton Board of Education are reminded that it is necessary for them to obtain a nominating petition from the office of the superintendent of schools as soon as possible. These petitions must be circulated by someone other than the person aspiring for the office. Deadline for filing nominating petitions for the candidates is 4 p.m. May 13, 1968. The petitions must be signed by no less than 20 registered school electors of the district.

Candidates for membership on the board of education must be citizens of the United States, above 21 years of age; resident of the State of Michigan for six months, and of the school district 30 days next preceding the election; and must own property which is assessed for taxation in his own right within the district.

The terms of Glee Chaffin and Rex Redman are expiring on July 1. Both are four year terms. Ronald Bellinger is secretary of the board of education of Fulton Schools.

Sea water is about 220 times saltier than fresh lake water, reports the U. S. Department of the Interior. When one cubic foot of sea water evaporates, it yields about 2.2 pounds of salt; one cubic foot of fresh water from Lake Michigan contains about one-sixth of an ounce of salt.

Robert Goddard was born in 1882 on a small farm in Worcester, Mass. As a boy he always loved to tinker with the idea of sending a man into space by means of a rocket. But his parents disapproved of his actions. They didn't like the idea of sudden explosions that would shake the house and sometimes crack a window. But they both agreed that he would soon forget about his foolish experiments and would act like a normal boy. But he didn't.

In later years Robert took sick and was bed-ridden for two years. But this only gave him more time to think about the idea of sending a man through space. After Robert was well again, he was sent to a college called Worcester Tech, where he studied chemistry and a variety of other subjects.

But his interest in rocketry set him apart from the other students. He wrote all his English paragraphs on "Space Travel," and talked of nothing but it. His teachers didn't believe it possible to ever travel through space. But he thought it could be done.

AFTER HIS TERM IN WORCESTER Tech he went to a business college to improve his spelling and math which he did very well. In his spare time Robert Goddard taught a science class at Clark University. He did this for two reasons—one he needed the money, and two, he hoped he could interest some of the students with the idea of space travel. Although a few discussed the idea with him, none took a real interest.

After he had enough money, he decided to buy a house that could be used as a laboratory to work on his experiments. After several experiments he found he could use his ideas to build small missiles for the army. But they didn't feel it was possible, and the idea was forgotten.

Again he set out building a rocket, this time successful. On March 16, 1926, at Auburn, Mass., Robert H. Goddard launched the first liquid propellant rocket. After that they became bigger and better.

Years later the strain and effort put into the building of rockets began to show up, and Robert Goddard became ill, and on August of 1945 he died. Three years later a memorial was dedicated to him showing his work in the field of rocketry.

Although the rocket has been improved through the years, without his ideas we would never have the modern jets and rockets in the world today.

from the HOPPER

By Steven Hopko

Almost two hundred years ago our forefathers drafted the Declaration of Independence. In the second paragraph of this historic document, this statement was made: "that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness."

Yet, over the years little was done to make this statement a reality. It was almost a hundred years later that Lincoln made the first move when he issued his Emancipation Proclamation. At that time it was the black race which was being discriminated against as not being equal and for which the majority of those involved sensed that something must be done.

Following Lincoln's time, discrimination continued, not only against the black man but against certain religions, nationalities and in other areas. This continued without much being done until 1964 when the federal Congress passed the civil rights bill. At the time this bill was passed it was heralded as the greatest piece of legislation since Lincoln's time.

Still today, in our federal government, in most state governments and in the governments of most of our major cities there is legislation being presented, debated and passed which they hope will make the statement our forefathers used in the Declaration of Independence a reality.

But, no matter how much legislation is passed upholding the rights of an individual for life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, it will never become a reality as long as man will say one thing and actually do the opposite.

We continue to discriminate against our fellow man on many and varied fronts. Not only as to race and color but in social, educational, business and other areas.

According to Webster, equal means exactly like. I doubt that any of us would like to be exactly like someone else. We all would like to keep our own individuality and habits. Actually if we were all exactly alike, it would be a tiresome and boring world.

This I believe is what makes our country the great nation that it has become. The idea that we are not all exactly alike. That we think differently, do different things and still live a compatible life. The versatility of the individual has accounted for most of the great advancements of this country.

Legislation is being considered that is supposed to compel us to be equal. But how can we legislate what we are to think and do. This is the problem in discrimination. Not what we do, but how we think. When we all concede that man was created equal, that he has the right to do what he pleases to attain his life, liberty and happiness, then we will eliminate our discriminations in all areas.

Nowhere is it stated that we are equal. Only that we were created equal. I believe this is the discrepancy that causes discriminations. We confuse the issue of being created equal with being equal.

For at least 1/3 of your day, it's a nuisance.

Nobody spends all day near a kitchen phone. Or a hall phone. (Or wherever it is you have the ringing thing.)

We're guessing that at least 1/3 of the time, a one-phone family does cross-country running through the house or scrambles down some stairs to take the call.

You can't call that modern living. In fact, 40% of the families in America aren't living like that.

They've got an extension phone somewhere else in the house.

That second telephone would cost a lot less than you probably think. Something like 4 cents a day if you choose the basic color and style.

(And that's a bargain—you already pay about four times that for the phone you've got now.)

Call our business office or ask the men on the telephone trucks you see around town.

Hello, extension telephone; goodbye, nuisance.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Q—In the case of serviceman's death while he is on active duty, what are the limits of the death gratuity and who receives it?

A—The benefit is a sum equal to six months' pay of the deceased. However, it shall not be less than $800, nor more than $3,000. It is paid to the surviving spouse, child or children unless the serviceman has designated his parents, brothers or sisters.

Q—I have remarried, and my present husband has adopted my daughter. Thus she is not an orphan. Since her father died from injuries sustained in World War II, is she entitled to training under the War Orphans Assistance program? A—Yes, Her Eligibility is based on the fact that her parent died from service-connected causes. Subsequent adoption does not affect this original eligibility.

Q—I am receiving a pension as a widow of a veteran, and for our two children. I am considering marrying again and I would like to know if this would result in the loss of this pension? A—Only that portion that is payable as your benefit would be stopped. Benefits would continue to be paid to you on behalf of your children. Children do not lose their rights to pension when the widow remarries or dies. They will continue to receive pension until age 18 or, if attending a VA-approved school, until age 23.
