Latest drive brings sufficient recall petitions in DeWitt Twp

DEWITT TWP -- Recall organizers submitted a total of 1959 signatures on recall petitions Monday--and this time it appears enough of them are valid to put the issue before the DeWitt Twp voters at the August Primary.

Up for recall are township supervisor Dale Emerson; clerk Donna Syverson and trustees, Jack Kzeski and Eileen Corr. Syverson said she was well into the certification process by noon Tuesday. "I'm almost positive they'll have enough signatures this time," she commented. Recall advocates submitted the initial petitions more than a month ago, confident they had more than the 728 valid signatures needed on each one.

But, they met a snag when many of the signatures were declared invalid and thrown out. A previous petition campaign also failed because of insufficient signatures.

Syverson threw out 481 out of 882 signatures against Emerson, 468 of 851 against Corr and 479 of 842 against Kzeski. Emerson invalidated 498 of 843 signatures against the clerk.

Reasons given for dumping the signatures included incomplete names and addresses, signing by unregistered voters and discrepancies between petition and notary dates.

That gave 10 days to gather additional signatures and they accurately predicted they would have no problem doing so.

Syverson said although there was a 30-day limit on certification of the last set of petitions, there's no legal deadline this time. "I'll work on it as long and as fast as I can," she added.

If there are sufficient valid signatures, the clerk said she will request the County Election Commission to have the issue placed on the August 6 Primary ballot.

She explained that was the only possible date because of a law prohibiting recall elections within 90 days of a general election.

The terms of Corr and Kzeski are not up until 1976, so if they are not recalled, they will serve until then.

It's a more complicated matter, however, for Emerson and Syverson because both of their terms expire Nov 20.

Neither Emerson nor Syverson have announced they plan to run for another term. If they do, they will have to submit nominating petitions by June 18.

Rep Powell begins re-election campaign

State Representative Stanley M. Powell of Ionia declared that he will be a candidate for re-election in the 88th Representative District.

This district consists of 10½ townships in Ionia County, 12½ townships in Clinton County, 4 townships in Gratiot County, 1 township in Shiawassee County and 1 township and the City of Carson City in Montcalm County.

For the past two years Rep Powell has served the newly created 88th House District. For eight years prior to that he represented the former 88th District which included all of Ionia County, 9 townships in Barry County and 4 in Kent County. Previously he had helped draft Michigan's Constitution as a delegate to the 1961-62 Constitutional Convention.

DURING THE PAST ten years, Powell has become recognized as a leading legislative spokesman for rural communities, standing against a tide of rising urban domination of government. His efforts were recognized in 1970 when he was selected for the top legislative award of the Michigan Agricultural Conference, an association of farm-oriented groups. He was the only House member given the award that year, the statement said.

Later in 1970 Governor Milliken appointed a 10-member Task Force on the Future of Agriculture. Rep Powell was the only member of the House to be given this important assignment, which indicates that the Governor regards him as an acknowledged spokesman of rural and agricultural interest, the release said. Powell still resides on Ingleside Farm where he was born.

In addition to his work for local government and agriculture, Powell has played a role in other areas. He has been leading a campaign against abuse of authority by bureaucratic organizations, such as the Michigan Civil Rights Commission. While

Powell supports the need for such an agency, he has opposed requirements on employers which he believes unreasonable, such as "reverse discrimination" through unofficial racial hiring quotas. He has also charged that the commission is initiating its own complaints, while legitimate complaints from private citizens do not receive proper attention, said the release.

Perhaps the only thing which overshadows Powell's expertise on legislative matters, is his attendance and voting record, stated the release announcing his candidacy. During his House tenure, Powell has always had one of the most outstanding records for both floor sessions and com-

St Johns Clean-up Days are May 9-10

ST JOHNS -- The St Johns Memorial Day Parade, sponsored by the VFW, will be May 27 with parade participants forming up at the corner of Walker St and Clinton Ave at 10 am.

The parade will proceed from Clinton Ave to Lincoln, to Mead, to Steel and then will cross US-27, reaching the cemetery at 11 am.

Those interested in participating in the Memorial Day observance should contact 1 of the following VFW members: Mike Ziegler, 224-2981; Dick Worrall, 224-3308; Martin McCausey, 224-7138 or Robert Dershem, 224-4072.

St Johns confirms June 9 graduation

ST JOHNS -- Gordon Vandemark, St Johns High School principal, has announced the 1974 graduation date as June 9.

The date was set for June 9, Vandemark reported, because of the energy crisis and subsequent lengthening of the school year. Ceremonies will be held at Frank Buck Football Field beginning at 4 pm.

A class of 277 seniors along with 12 adults from the Adult Education program, will take part in the ceremonies.

Speakers will be the valedictorian, salutatorian and president of the 1974 graduating class.

The senior banquet will be Friday evening, May 31 with the annual awards assembly set for May 22 at 9:30 am.

Derby inspection

ST JOHNS -- An inspection and weigh-in for Clinton County Soapbox Derby participants will be held Saturday at the former Bee's downtown building on Higham St.

Cars do not have to be completed for the 1st inspection from 10 am until noon. Another inspection and trial run will be held May 11 from 1 pm-5 pm on Railroad St.

The final inspection will be May 15 5:30-9 pm at the downtown Bee's building.

The Derby is May 19 with a parade kicking off activities at 2:30 pm. The race immediately follows the parade.

Local group prompts restoration

New life for St John band shell

ED NOTE--Our thanks to Loretta Escher of St Johns who prepared the following background on the newly restored St Johns band shell and the musical program which will mark its grand "re-opening."

ST JOHNS -- Summer is coming and so are outdoor concerts in the St Johns City Park. National Music Week, being celebrated May 5-12 this spring, presented the time for local interested citizens to inquire about restoring the outdoor music program in the band shell at the park, suffering from years without use or repair.

The St Johns Morning Muscalle approached the City Commission who agreed to refurbish the 40-year-old shell with new shingles and lighting.

The grand opening of the shell begins Sunday afternoon at 3 am with the Lepard Family of Haslett who will present Gospel music.

Then, on Monday night at 8 pm, the St Johns High School Chamber and Choralaires will perform.

The continuous week of local music shifts on Tuesday from the band shell to Rodney B. Wilson Junior High auditorium for the school Parade of Bands program.

The Scottish bagpipes of the Heather Pipers will resound from band shell for the Wednesday night entertainment and the St Johns High School stage band plays Thursday.

The week of varied music continues Friday with organ selections by Herbert DePeale and guitar and song Saturday by Diana DeWitt, Nancy Warstler, John Warstler and Chris Howe.

The St Johns Music Dept will conduct a sing-a-long Sunday, May 12 at 3 pm, featuring hymns and old favorite songs.

At each performance at the park during National Music Week, donations will be collected to help finance music scholarship for local students.

Persons or groups who wish to sign for performances at the band shell during the summer should contact Mrs Donald DeWitt, 224-9185.

All applicants will be selected and scheduled by a committee of Morning Muscalle members, 1 member of the Park Commission and Walt Cole of the St Johns Music Dept.

Outdoor music is a memory for many St Johns area people.

Hila Bross, local librarian, recalls band concerts during the depression years held in different blocks of the main shopping district, sponsored by downtown merchants to stimulate business.

At that time, St Johns had a city band and, in the late, 1930s, there was a separate German band.

Mrs Bross said the library has a photograph dating back to 1890 of a St Johns Bicycle Band with players and cornets mounted on high-wheel bicycles.

With the aid of federal funds, the Emmons farm, known as Emmons Woods, was purchased by the city and became the city park in 1928.

The band shell became a part of the park as a WPA project in 1933-34.

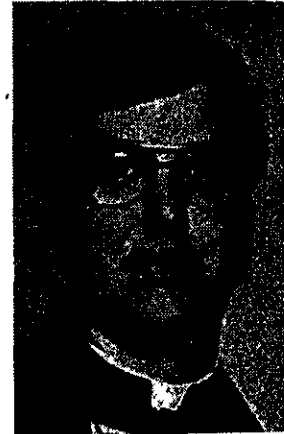

At that time the structure was made entirely of wood and located behind the original tennis courts.

E.O. Hylar, caretaker at the park at 1 time, recalls the time he and others of the fire dept moved the shell off a deteriorated wooden platform with the help of Junior Hettler's tow truck onto the concrete base in its present location.

Since the city band dissolved during WWII, the band shell has been used infrequently.

It is the hope of the St Johns Morning Muscalle that the musical programs will turn into a St Johns tradition.

Gentry joins race for GOP house seat

Lewis D Gentry, 27, of Grand Ledge announced today that he will seek the Republican nomination for the 56th district House seat. Gentry, a second term Grand Ledge city councilman said, "I feel I can bring to this job the type of leadership that respects the views of the people I hope to represent."

Gentry, a graduate of Michigan State University, has been a teacher in the Grand Ledge school system for the past five years. He has served as a member of the Eaton County Republican Executive Committee, a delegate to the State Republican Convention, vice-president and local director of the Grand Ledge Jaycees, association representative of the Grand Ledge Education Association, and is a member of the Michigan Education Association.

As a council member he was instrumental in the establishment of the Grand Ledge Area Ambulance Service and presently serves on the Ambulance Committee, is liaison to the Ledge Craft Lane Ltd. craft shop, and is the chairman of Grand Ledge government day for 1973 and 1974.

Gentry feels that the events of the past year demonstrate clearly the need for representation that is above reproach. He said, "I feel my most important task is to work to restore the faith and confidence that

Bill Nash--reflections of new DeWitt Twp chief who took reins of controversy-laden department

BY LINDA HEYBOER
County News Writer

DEWITT TWP -- In November, DeWitt Twp Police Chief Bill Nash took over a department riddled with politics, fragmented by disorganization and fraught with growing pains. Some of the growing pains remain, but most observers say the organizational problems have been smoothed out. As for politics, Bill Nash -- who is a nonpolitical animal -- hopes they've been banished to the smoke-filled rooms where they belong.

The climax to the department's political troubles came at a recent township board meeting when trustees disclosed reasons for the September firing of former chief Bruce Angell II.

The Angell issue festered for months while board members refused to make their reasons public. There still is no universal agreement about validity of board charges against the controversial former chief, but the department, in the meantime, has changed under Nash's leadership.

How have things changed since Angell's ouster? IT'S A TOUCHY TOPIC It's a touchy topic, one Bill

Nash approaches with diplomacy and some hesitancy. "I've tried to make the department more responsive to the community," he began.

He added he expects the addition of 2 full time officers will improve patrol and enable the department to provide better response to calls received.

But, emphasizing he wants to "accent the positive," Nash declined to comment specifically on the former chief. "In all honesty," he said, "I don't know that much about Bruce Angell. . . he was gone 2 months before I arrived."

CORR PRAISES NEW CHIEF Trustee Eileen Corr, who heads the township board's police committee, was more outspoken. Citing Nash's high ratings with her committee members, who interviewed and rated all 19 applicants for the chief position, she said his honesty, leadership and professionalism has produced marked changes in the department.

"Until he came," she stated, "we didn't recognize how far off the track that department was as far as accountability."

She added that cooperation between the department and the board, officers and other area departments had improved.

Other committee members echoed Corr's opinions, sometimes stipulating that although they had no quarrels with the former chief, department morale and organization had improved since Nash took over.

Perhaps that is the key to Nash's success with the department: both friends and enemies of Angell agree he's doing a fine job.

BOTH SIDES AGREE -- "GOOD JOB"

"I have no complaints against Angell," one officer commented, "but they made an excellent choice in Bill Nash."

Another officer was more critical of the former chief. "We had a man before who was so involved with politics he didn't have time for the men or the department," the officer said.

"We have a police department here now."

Citing increased democracy within the department, better morale and smoother organization, the officer said he thought the department had changed dramatically.

"It was like changing jobs," he said.

Chief Nash takes it all in stride.

CHIEF SEES TWP GROWTH

He says the main reason he sought the job was the growth he sees in the township's future. "There has been a lot of commercial and residential growth, and with it increased crime," he said. "You have to look at the future."

Nash pointed out that his department is the highest paid one in Clinton County residents voted at the March annual meeting to allocate $80,834 for salaries for 7 full time officers).

Nash, a young looking 30, grew up in Battle Creek. He studied business administration at Kellogg Community College there before transferring to Michigan State University.

He received a bachelor's degree in police administration at MSU in 1968, and a master's degree in criminal justice 4 years later.

Nash was a Lansing police officer from 1966 to 1970. Prior to his appointment as township police chief, he served as a training consultant with the Michigan Law Enforcement Officers Training Council.

NASH IMPRESSED WITH FORCE

He said he was impressed with the quality of equipment in the township department as well as the quality of the officers themselves.

"There are many small departments that can't say that," he explained.

Nash said that in DeWitt Township, where a population of about 12,000 represents nearly a quarter of the county's people, major problems are crimes against property and traffic violations.

"There is not excessive violent crime," he said, "but many breaking and entering crimes. It takes a lot of manpower and legwork to investigate crimes like that."

HIGHWAY CAUSES PROBLEMS

Traffic problems center around US-27, which bisects the township.

Nash said although the department's new radar equipment, increased patrol and lighter traffic due to the energy crisis have eased the traffic problems, plenty remain.

"The highway keeps us busy, especially on weekends," he said.

He added the department receives many miscellaneous calls for service ranging from family arguments to people getting locked out of their cars.

DeWitt Twp also has some unique crime problems of its own, Nash said. He explained that as a satellite of Lansing, the township has an influx of criminals driven out by that city's police force.

Another difficulty, he said, is the department's limited size.

"Because of our limited manpower," Nash said, "we can't always provide the kind of service you get in a city like Lansing."

FULL TIME FORCE ASSET

But Nash said he's confident the department will continue to improve -- and 1 reason for his optimism is the current conversion to a full time force.

Instead of the present 5 full time and 6 part time officers, the department will employ 7 full time men. "With the addition of those 2 additional patrolmen, we're on our way," the chief said.

Nash said his job, like any job, gets tedious at times, but he said he finds the variety and challenge stimulating.

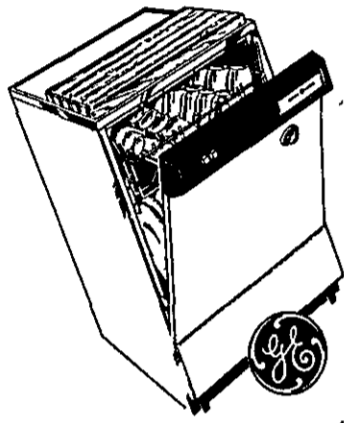

"It's a challenge to help the department grow, to help the officers succeed," he said.

"And you don't get caught in routine," he added. "You deal with a broad spectrum of people, you see everyone from the bum to the bank president."

"I think this is where it's at," he concluded.

'High School Who's Who' honors St Johns' Buggs

ST JOHNS -- Dick Buggs, a senior at St Johns High School was recently notified that he is to be featured in the Eighth Annual Edition of WHO'S WHO AMONG AMERICAN HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS, 1973-74, the largest student award publication in the nation. Students from over 20,000 public, private and parochial high schools throughout the country are recognized for their leadership in academics, athletics, activities or community service in the book. Less than 3 percent of the junior and senior class students nationwide are awarded this recognition.

Buggs is the son of Mr and Mrs Gerald Buggs of 900 Oakland, St Johns. He is active in student council, National Honor Society, school newspaper, gymnastics, and has also attended Boy's State. In addition to having his biography published in the book, Buggs will also compete for one of ten scholarship awards of $500 to $1,000 funded by the publishers and will be invited to participate in the firm's annual "Survey of High Achievers" later in the academic year. He plans to attend Michigan State University.

CNB&T names manager of Valley Farms office

A Lansing man has been named manager of the Valley Farms office of Clinton National Bank and Trust Company. James A. Nelligan, formerly an assistant manager of the Frandor office of Michigan National Bank, has assumed his duties at Valley Farms following a two-week assignment at CNB&T's home office in St Johns. Nelligan joins Clinton National in an officer position of assistant cashier.

A 1957 graduate of Sexton High School, Nelligan holds a degree in zoology and biology from the University of Michigan and an M.S. in education from the University of Southern California. He entered the US Army in 1963 and completed the curriculum at the Defense Language Institute at Monterey, California later serving as a Russian and German interpreter-translator. His other military assignments included work as a logistics specialist and foreign communications interceptor. Following discharge in 1971, Nelligan joined Michigan National in Lansing and after various assignments in mortgage and installment loans, he was named assistant manager at Frandor. Nelligan's father, John B. Nelligan, now deceased, was a long-time employee of Michigan National and retired as senior vice president. Nelligan's wife, Gerta, is a native of West Germany and is a professional fashion designer. The Nelligans have two daughters, Helena, 8, and Audrey, 7. Both girls attend Elmshurst School. The family resides at 2411 Fairfax in Lansing.

Thelma Brown-Russell Chandler United

ST. JOHNS — Before an altar decorated with white and yellow carnations, the wedding of Thelma L. Brown of St. Johns and Russell Chandler of Lansing, was performed April 6 at 11 o'clock in a candlelight, double ring service, at the Congregational Church in St. Johns, with Rev Wilcox and Rev Carson officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Harry Brown.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Laura Mae Brown, and bridesmaid Louise Chandler, both sisters-in-law of the couple.

The bride's bouquet was of miniature white carnations and yellow roses, and the attendant's were of white carnations and yellow daisies.

Glenn Brown, brother of the bride, and Lawrence Chandler, brother of the groom, attended the groom, Gary Sage seated the guests.

Organist for the occasion was Mrs Basil Deibert and soloist was Barbara Beagle.

The buffet luncheon was served immediately following the ceremony for the family and guests in Wilcox Hall.

The couple left for Fla, and upon their return they will reside in rural St. Johns.

A reception was held April 21, from 2 to 5 pm in the Congregational Church, Wilcox Hall, honoring the couple.

Set opening breakfast

Members of the Green Tee Board of Clinton County Country Club met recently to plan the annual Golf Breakfast which is the official opening of the Green Tee golf season.

The Breakfast was held Wednesday May 1 at the Country Club followed by golf.

Green Tee membership consists of all members of the Club. This year's officers are: Mrs Howard Gentry, president; Mrs Ralph Lebrato, vice president; Mrs Paul McNamara, secretary; Mrs John Sperl, treasurer; Mrs Barry Dean, publicity and Mrs William Smith, member-at-large.

Green Tee members play golf every Wednesday morning throughout the summer with special events scheduled for many of those days.

All members are invited to play when they can with no pre-signup needed.

Maria Thompson (right) family living division instructor with the MSU Cooperative Extension Service displays many of her quilts which were the subject of a quilting class for extension members recently at Smith Hall. About 200 women from Clinton, Gratiot, Shiawassee, Genesee, Tuscola, Ingham, Eaton and Saginaw Counties attended the class.

Club holds Green Tee card party

The Clinton County Country Club annual Green Tee card party was held Monday, April 22 at the Country Club.

Ninety-five Green Tee members and guests met to have dessert and play cards.

Committee for the event were Mrs David Humenik, chairman; Mrs Gary Becker, Mrs Gerald Wilcox and Mrs Barry Dean.

Door prizes were given throughout the evening. Winner were: Pat Thompson, Elizabeth Millman, JoAnne Gentry, Wanda Humphrey, Del DeWitt, Bernice Sorrell and Jolie Becker.

A drawing was held for a yellow golf bag and the winner was Edna Siem.

Raffle consolation winners each won 3 golf balls. They were Bev French and Rosie Nuser.

The Book Shelf

by Hila Bross
Bement Public Library

About this time of year TV, magazines and newspapers are full of gossip and speculation about Tonys, Oscars, Emmys and other kinds of awards. Although the American Library Association has sponsored the National Book Awards program for 25 years, it has not been personalized with a given name. This year more than 100 books have been nominated for the awards, but this column will deal with only five of them.

APOSTLES OF LIGHT is a novel by Ellen Douglas, the plot of which unfolds in a Faulkneresque setting in Mississippi. Miss Martha, a gentle, bird-watching, maiden lady who is a retired teacher, allows her ancestral home to be converted into a nursing home and decides to stay there herself, although she is relatively well. An aging physician, desiring to live out his days near Miss Martha (with whom he has shared a tender romance for a number of years) decides to become a resident of the home also.

Although well along in years, he is far from senile and soon begins to notice irregularities in the routine and practices of the staff. When he voices his suspicions to Miss Martha's middle-aged nephews, trustees of the home, a generation gap opens up and a terrifying scene ends this truly contemporary horror story. APOSTLES OF LIGHT.

According to the blurb on the book jacket of NINETY-TWO IN THE SHADE by Thomas McGuane, "this is a novel of comparative artistic serenity, more tragic than comic, turning upon an exact evocation of place --Key West-- and the way we live today." Laced well with violence, this book is equally concerned with nature, sex and death. It is aware that both heroes and victims have families and private lives. Critics have generously praised the work of this young writer.

The novel NICKEL MOUNTAIN is laid in the shadow of a mountain in the Catskills, with the same name. The specific locale is a diner owned by enormous Henry Soames who has a bad heart, and who falls in love with his waitress, very young Callie. The story traces their life together with sympathy and excellent characterization. John Gardner, author of this book, also wrote THE SUNLIGHT DIALOGUES a couple of years ago. He's a published poet too, and this talent comes to light frequently in NICKEL MOUNTAIN.

GUESTS IN THE PROMISED LAND is a collection of short stories by Kristin Hunter who is widely known in the world of children's books. These stories are about young people, all black, living in Harlem, in Charleston, in Atlanta, in city ghettos and rural ghettos. Well written and sensitive, they present a variety of characterizations rather than stereotypes. Although they are written for young people about young people, perhaps some adults will appreciate them more fully.

THE AMERICANS The Democratic Experience is Daniel Boorstin's long-awaited full-scale portrait of modern America. It chronicles the great transformation which has come about in our daily lives since the Civil War. In this book Mr Boorstin takes a good look at everything from Christmas to air conditioning. Those who enjoyed The Colonial Experience, and The National Experience will welcome this last in his series about THE AMERICANS.

All of these books are on the shelves at Bement Public Library.

CNB&T announces stock sale completion

Completion of the sale of 50,671 shares of Clinton National Bank and Trust Company stock was announced this week by President Brandon C. White, Jr. The sale, which raised the bank's capital in excess of $840,000, was conducted through the 14 offices of Monley, Bennett and McDonald Company which began offering the stock March 25.

In addition to completion of the stock sale, White released figures for the bank's first quarter of operations that reflect an encouraging trend for all stockholders.

Earnings for January 1 through March 31 increased 134 percent over the corresponding period of 1973. The comparative, after-tax figures for the two quarters were $127,593 in 1974 and $54,479 in the previous year.

Similarly, total assets of CNB&T enjoyed a gain. Assets as of March 31, 1974 were $61,027,904 compared with $55,381,772 one year ago. This reflects an advancement of 10.2 percent.

"Obviously, we have enjoyed a good first quarter," White commented, "We have had the double pleasure of a most successful and speedy stock sale along with an encouraging earnings trend. The only thing we anticipate being different at the end of our next quarter is the omission of a stock sale announcement." White commented, "At least for the remainder of this year, we'll stick to making profits."

White, who assumed the reigns of CNB&T in early January, is optimistic over the current year and feels that the last half especially will provide an impetus to economic growth.

Clinton National is headquartered in St Johns and operates from 11 locations throughout the Clinton County-north Lansing area.

TO ALL GAS CUSTOMERS OF CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY

NOTICE OF PARTIAL REHEARING AND ADDITIONAL PROCEEDINGS REGARDING ASSIGNMENT OF COSTS OF GAS SERVICE AMONG VARIOUS CLASSES OF SERVICE, RATE DESIGN AND COST OF GAS ADJUSTMENT CLAUSE

On January 18, 1974, the Michigan Public Service Commission issued a final order in the matter of the application of Consumers Power Company for authority to increase its rates for the sale of gas (Case No. U-4331) which granted rate relief to Applicant. On March 27, 1974 following applications for rehearing, the Commission on its own motion issued an order granting a partial rehearing of the final order and requiring additional proceedings in Case No. U-4331.

By the terms of the Commission's order of March 27, 1974, the scope of the rehearing in Case No. U-4331 is limited to consideration of the following issues:

- The most equitable distribution of Consumers Power Company's gas costs among its various classes of service in view of the costs of incremental gas supplies, including all costs of gas produced at the Marysville gas reforming plant, the benefits derived therefrom, the limited availability of this resource, the availability of and price of alternative fuels and the feasibility of conversion thereto.
- A determination as to the manner in which Consumers Power Company's cost of gas adjustment clause should operate to pass through changes in the calculated cost of gas to the various classes of its customers as a result of any changes in the design of its rates.

COPIES OF THE ORDER DATED, MARCH 27, 1974 ARE AVAILABLE FROM THE COMMISSION SECRETARY UPON REQUEST.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that:

A. A prehearing conference will be held at 9:30 a.m. on Friday, May 17, 1974, in the offices of the Commission, Law Building, Lansing, Michigan 48913, for the following purposes:

- Specifying a schedule for the partial rehearing and additional proceedings in Case No. U-4331 so that the record may be closed no later than September 1, 1974.
 - Determining the parties to the proceeding, the nature of their appearance, and the positions they are taking in the proceedings.
 - Obtaining admissions as to, and stipulations of, the facts not remaining in dispute, the authenticity of documents, and matters of public record.
 - Determining the number and identity of witnesses.
 - Establishing procedures for the partial rehearing and additional proceedings.
 - Expediting any other matters that may aid in the orderly conduct and disposition of the partial rehearing and additional proceedings.
- B. Any person interested in the partial rehearing and additional proceedings but not desiring to formally intervene, may attend and participate by making a position statement pursuant to the provisions of Rule 16 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure. Persons seeking to formally intervene as a party to these proceedings shall do so by filing with the Commission on or before May 17, 1974 an original and eleven (11) copies of the petition to intervene, together with proof of service upon Consumers Power Company and other parties of record in this proceeding. A service list is available from the Commission Secretary. Persons who have previously participated in Case No. U-4331 either under Rule 11 or Rule 16 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure will be continued in their prior status without the necessity of further filing of appearances.

C. Consumers Power Company shall file by June 3, 1974 its direct testimony and exhibits as directed by the order of March 27, 1974, and shall provide copies to all parties of record. The Staff and other parties shall file by June 21, 1974 their testimony and exhibits and shall provide copies to all parties of record.

D. Any and all parties may propose and support with competent evidence just and reasonable alternatives regarding rate design, or other evidence within the limited scope of these proceedings.

E. Public hearings shall be held in accordance with the schedule to be determined at the prehearing conference, by the presiding hearings examiner, until the matters which are the subject of these proceedings have been fully heard.

THE COMPANY'S GAS RATE STRUCTURE SHALL BE FULLY EXAMINED. FOLLOWING THE CLOSING OF THE RECORD, THE MICHIGAN PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION MAY ADJUST UPWARDS OR DOWNWARDS THE PRICE OF GAS CHARGED TO THE VARIOUS RATE CLASSES OF CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY'S CUSTOMERS FOR GAS SERVICE AND MAY ADJUST THE COMPANY'S COST OF GAS ADJUSTMENT CLAUSE AS NECESSARY TO RECOGNIZE ANY CHANGES IN THE COST OF GAS TO VARIOUS RATE CLASSES.

St Johns students earn medals at VICA olympics

Jim Smith—1st place—auto mechanics

Eight St Johns High School students competed in the 2nd annual Vocation-Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) State Leadership Conference and Skill Olympics. Western Michigan University was the host for the recent conference.

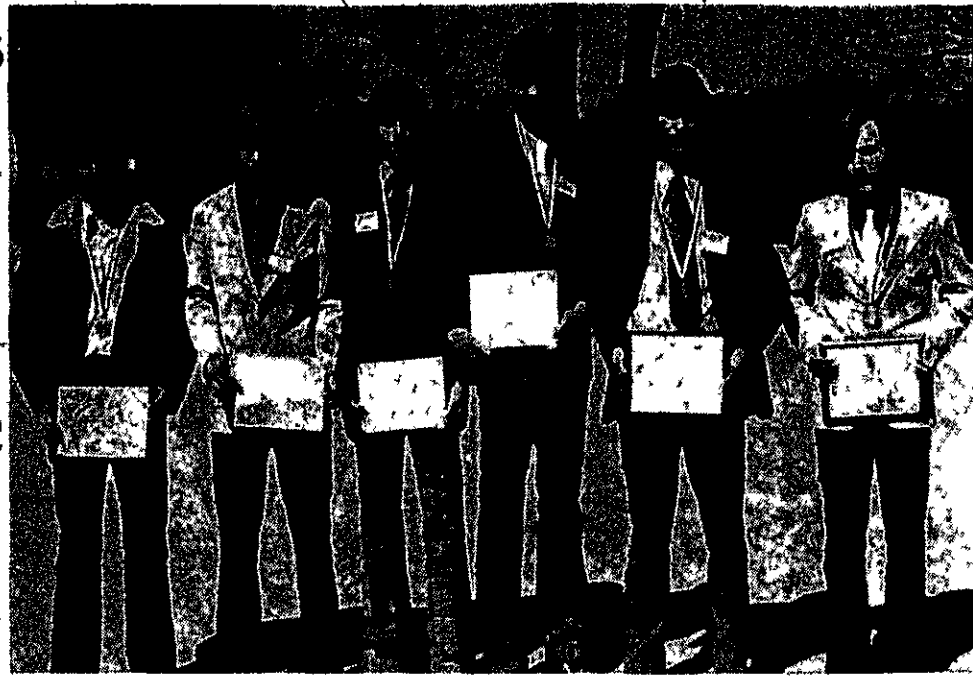

Four hundred fifty students representing fifteen schools attended the conference and skill olympics. St Johns High School received its charter March 1, 1973 with one club in carpentry. This year a club has been formed in auto mechanics which doubled the membership in our school.

Competitive activities have been included in VICA's Youth Development Program to motivate and develop an enthusiasm for learning that will help trade and industrial students take their places in society. The student is afforded an opportunity to achieve a sense of accomplishment and recognition for skills and abilities as he learns to appreciate and develop good craftsmanship.

Gold medal (1st place) winners were Jim Smith in Auto mechanics, Kevin Sheren in small engines, and Jim French in auto body. Bob Davis earned a silver medal in small engine competition. Bronze medals were awarded to Eugene E. Jones for auto mechanics and Dave Bradley for job interview.

The contestants rotated through several phases of skill testing during a 3-hour contest. The students were judged on subject knowledge, accuracy, workmanship, and speed.

The gold medal winners have qualified to compete in the United States Skill Olympics held in San Antonio, Texas in June. Jim French and Jim Smith will represent Michigan and compete against 38 other states for the gold medal in their skill area.

Alma takes Ovid-Elsie track relays

By John Phillips
County News Writer

Thirteen teams discovered Friday how difficult it can be to hold a Panther by the tail as Alma High ran away with the Ovid-Elsie Track and Field Relays. The Panthers piled up 101 points to leave all comers far behind.

Corunna scored 54 points to slip into 2nd place by 2 points over Ovid-Elsie. St Johns finished - 5th, Pewamo-Westphalia 13th.

The difference for Corunna turned out to be a 2-man punch in the 100 yard dash, Ovid-Elsie and Corunna each picked up 2 victories in the meet, while Corunna held a big edge in 2nd place points and O-E gained it back in 3rds and 4ths.

But Corunna qualified 2 men for the 100 yard dash while O-E's 2 entries were eliminated in the preliminaries. Both Cavaliers scored, Jeff Gombisky with a 4-point 2nd place and Jerry Hebekeuser with a 1-point 5th place.

Athletes from 14 Class B and C schools were greeted by sunny skies and balmy temperatures, and responded by breaking 11 meet records and tying another. Many individual school records also fell by the way. Marks were established in three other events, all run for the first time this year in the Relays.

Senior-laden Alma set 6 records alone while winning 8 of the 17 available 1st places. The champs scored in 13 of the 16 scoring events (the frosh mile relay does not award team points). Alma is unbeaten in 5 dual meets.

Ovid-Elsie, paced by the record-setting high hurdles, victory of Ted Geiger, scored in 9 events. Geiger lowered his own meet mark of 16.15 with a clocking of 15.8 in a bang-bang finish. He outleaped runnerup Doug Miller of Portland; two Alma Panthers followed within 3 tenths of a second.

O-E's other triumph came in the 2-mile relay. Jon Coon, Dave Hines, Kirk Schultz and Doug Long timed in at 8:39.7 to top runnerup Alma by 9 seconds. The effort was just 6 tenths of a second short of the meet record.

The top 3 schools left only 4 victories for the other teams. Ithaca won 2; Portland and Perry, one each.

Top performances for St Johns included the 2nd place finishes of 2-miler Jeff Massey and the pole vaulters. Massey, a fast-moving sophomore, sliced nearly 17 seconds from his effort earlier in the week against Charlotte to finish in 10:25.8, just 3 seconds away from a St Johns school record. He was 21 seconds under the old meet record of 10:46.2 and only four seconds behind by winner Eric Fernette of Corunna (10:21.7).

Doug Merignac tied his own St Johns standard of 12-6 in the pole vault. The senior Redwing combined with Kirk Robbins (10-0) for 2nd behind Corunna (24-0). Both totals were over the old meet record of 21-9.

Merignac attempted to clear 12-8 1/2 for a new school record, but hit the bar each time. He still finished as top individual vaulter of the meet.

Pewamo-Westphalia, Clinton County's other representative in the meet, scored only 3 points, but did it in style. Coach John Ellis' Pirates picked up school records in a pair of 5th place finishes.

Bill Blauwiekel cut 4 seconds off the P-W mile run mark of 4:55 with his 4:51. Teammate Neal Miller was 2 seconds under the old record in a non-scoring 7th place.

P-W's mile relay team also lowered its record by 4 seconds with a 3:43.1. Team members included Blauwiekel, Lonnie Lucas, Miller and Dave Pung. Of the 17 events on the card, 4 were individual contests - the 100, high hurdles, mile run and 2-mile. The rest were relays, including the 4 field events. New to the schedule this season were the shot put, long jump, and Ovid-Elsie Relay (two-man event with 440 and 880 yard legs).

Track relays scored twice as much as individual events, while field relays scored one point less than relays.

St Johns coach Ernie Becker was pleased with his team's showing. "This was a good overall team effort," he told his Redwings later. "Almost everyone improved significantly. Our hard work is paying off."

Becker was especially pleased with Merignac, Massey, the 2-mile relay that picked up an unexpected 4th place, the 15.9' split of Bob McDonald in the shuttle hurdles and the relay legs of Bob Pettigrew, Steve Sutfin, Ralph Shinevar.

Meet champions, with Relays records denoted by (x): Shuttle hurdle relay - Alma 1:03.1' (x). Two-mile relay - Ovid-Elsie 8:39.7 880 relay - Alma 1:34.7 (x). Distance medley relay - Alma 11:15.1 (x). 100 yard dash - Jay Fell, Ithaca 10.5 (x tied). O-E relay -

Alma 2:56.25. Mile run - Kent Kirby, Ithaca 4:44. 440 relay - Alma 45.75 (x). 120 yd high hurdles - Ted Geiger, Ovid-Elsie 15.8 (x). Two-mile run - Eric Fernette, Corunna 10:21.7 (x). Sprint medley relay - Alma 2:35.5 (x). Frosh mile relay - Corunna 3:52.2 (x). Varsity mile relay - Alma 3:33.9 (x). High jump - Portland 11-6 (x). Shot put - Perry 89 feet, 1/4 inch. Long jump - Alma 39-7/8. Pole vault - Corunna 24-0 (x).

Ovid-Elsie places other than firsts: Seconds - O-E relay 2:57.1; frosh mile relay 3:52.7; varsity mile relay 3:34.6.

Thirds - 880 relay 1:36.55; sprint medley 2:39.4; shot put 84-5.

Fourth - Mile run (Cal Woodard) 4:50.3; high jump 11-2.

St Johns places other than 2nds: Third - Distance medley 11:22.2.

Fourth - Two mile relay 9:13.6; sprint medley 2:40.1; frosh mile relay 3:58.6.

Fifths - Shuttle hurdle relay 1:06.45; 440 relay 46.8.

Final team standings: Alma 101; Corunna 54; Ovid-Elsie 52; Merrill 36; St Johns 29; Ithaca 28; Chesaning 26; Portland 22; Fulton-Middleton 8; Perry 14; Durand 7; Ionia 4; Pewamo-Westphalia 3; Laingsburg 1.

St Johns nine splits, Waverly still on top

St Johns High broke even in a pair of key West Central Athletic Conference baseball games last week while Waverly remained unbeaten and on top of the heap.

The Redwings handed Grand Ledge a 4-2 setback on Tuesday and dropped a heartbreaking 3-2 decision in extra innings against Waverly.

Waverly's Warriors, unbeaten in two years of league play, ran into stiff resistance from St Johns pitcher Dave Devereaux, who hurled a four-hitter in going the eighth-inning distance. He was backed by good fielding marred by only one error.

Winning hurler Tom Lapka also tossed a four-hitter with one error in the background. St Johns took a 2-0 lead in the first inning on a single by Rusty Waggoner, a sacrifice bunt by Keith Haske, single by Ray Schueller and a two-run double by Ron Ballinger.

The Warriors got one back in the second inning on a home run by Mike Bokovoy and knotted the score in the fifth on Lapka's homer.

Bath takes 2d in Albion College track invitational

ALBION - Bath High finished 2nd by 3 points in the 34th Annual Albion College Invitational Track and Field Carnival Saturday. Detroit East Catholic picked up the win with 50 points.

Bath's Glenn Tarrant, 6-4 senior, was 1 of 2 double winners from the Lansing area. He took the mile run in 4:44.4, a school record, and set a Class 5 meet mark of 6-4 in the high jump. Tarrant also was leadoff man on the 2nd place mile relay team (3:45.0).

Other winners for Bath were Rod Adams with a shot put of 47-3 1/2 and Joe Green with 23.7 in the 220 yard dash. Green also took 4th in the 440 in 54.1 and was on the 2nd place 880 relay crew.

Joining Tarrant in the mile relay were Randy Kindy, Mark Graham and Ted Day. Green, Ed Osenga, Dave Kloepckner and Day formed the 880 relay team. Both squads finished 2nd behind East Catholic, which finished with 5 victories to Bath's 4.

Other place winners for the Bees included Mark Hanson in two mile run (no time listed), Montee Skorich in 120 high hurdles (16.4), Robin Tucker with a school record 19-8 1/2 in long jump and Day (10.8) in the 100, all with 3rds.

The 440 yard relay team of Skorich, Adams, Osenga and Kloepckner took 5th in 47.2.

Final team standings: East Catholic 50, Bath 47, Homer 44, Concord 23 1/2, Morenci 20, Eau Claire 18, Manchester 16, Clinton 10, Springport 9 1/2, Hanover-Horton 6, Armado 3, Constantine 2.

Hurdlers head for finish line in Ovid-Elsie Relays Friday afternoon. The Alma Panthers took top honors in the track and field event.

Redwing tennis team evens season record

The sweet taste of victory came to St Johns High School tennis players Friday in a 6-1 defeat of Ionia.

The triumph evened the Redwing's league record at 1-1 and followed on the heels of a rugged four-match losing string against some of Mid-Michigan's toughest competition.

Earlier last week St Johns lost to Mount Pleasant by a 5-2 count and was shut out by Waverly 7-0.

But Friday's win took some of the sting away. "It was a good win for us," said Coach Al Webish. "I was pleased to see all three doubles teams get their first taste of victory and Bill Kohls played well at number four singles despite losing."

Kohls took Mark Davis of Ionia into extra games before losing 9-7, 6-0. Meanwhile, Bob Halmo scored the team's first shutout by blanking Rich Rogers of Ionia 6-0, 6-0 at number one singles. Leo Seavey chipped in with a 6-2, 6-1 triumph at number two and third-seeded Kevin Knight withstood the second set resistance of Ionia's Dave Bowne for a 6-3, 4-6, 6-2 win.

Nailing down their first doubles victories were Rick Pardee and Chris Rich at number one with a 6-1, 4-6, 6-2 result, Greg Hazle and Ray Schneider at two by 6-3, 6-3 sets, and Jim Ewing and Mark Walling by 6-2, 6-4 at number three.

This week now takes an added importance to the Redwings, who faced tough Alma here Tuesday and were to remain home against Hastings Thursday. Both are league encounters. The two-day Waverly Invitational begins Friday.

Waverly flashed its strength when St Johns visited the Warriors last Thursday and was rebuffed in straight sets down the line. Coach Werbush cited Halmo for his play at number one singles - "that match was a lot closer than the score indicated" - and noted that third singles and third doubles (Knight and Walling-Ewing) nearly took their matches into third sets. Halmo lost 6-1, 6-1; Knight 6-1, 9-7 and Walling-Ewing 6-3, 10-8.

The Redwings battled hard against the Mount Pleasant Oilers last Tuesday before losing 5-2. The match was played with five singles and two doubles.

Knight fought back from a 4-0 deficit in the first set and a 5-2 disadvantage in the second set to take a 7-5, 7-5 decision against Kyle Rank at number three. Seavey picked up the other Redwing score by rallying from a first set loss for a 3-6, 6-2, 6-3 triumph over Mark Coyne at second spot.

Ovid-Elsie girls track team

downs DeWitt for first win

Ovid-Elsie High's girls track and field team won 7 of 11 events to down DeWitt 57-34 Friday. It was the 1st triumph in 4 outings for the Marauders. They had lost to St Louis 55-36 earlier in the week.

O-E had 6 school record performances at DeWitt, 3 of them in victories.

Brenda Cox set a mark of 14-3 in the long jump, Peggy Craig took the 440 yard dash in a record time of 67.5 and the 440 yard relay team of Sally Everts, Cathy Jo Winkler, Deb Bashore and Brenda Miller tied its own record of 58.0 in the final event of the day.

Miller had opened the meet by leading an Ovid-Elsie sweep of the shot put with a toss of 29-3. Others placing were Cindy Francis and Sandy Webster. After Cox and Everts combined for a one-two in the long jump, Francis and Sheri Werfle did the same in the high jump to give O-E a 25-2 lead going into the jumping events.

DeWitt captured four of the next five events, but could not get closer than 14 points. Ovid-Elsie had the better time in the medley relay but was disqualified. Other DeWitt wins came in the 80 yard hurdles, 100 yard dash and mile run.

Francis in the high jump, (4-4), Miller in the shot-and-100 (13.2), Craig in a record 880 (2:40.1) and the 440 (1:09.9) and the 440 relay team provided event victories for O-E.

Peggy Craig was a double winner for O-E, taking the 880 in 2:44 as well as her record 440. Sheri Werfle rounded out the O-E win list with a 29.8 in the 220 yard dash.

Next meets find O-E at home against Swan Valley May 7 and Owosso May 9.

Other records for O-E were by Sally Everts in the 80 yard hurdles (13.0); Cathy McGuire in the mile run (6:10.0), and Miller in the 100 yard dash (12.65). All were 2nd place finishes.

St Louis wasn't quite as rough on O-E, but did lower the boom for the deciding point edge in the 1st 2 running events. Later, the last of 3 clean sweeps by the Sharks sealed O-E's fate.

First sweep by the hosts came in the long jump, giving St Louis a 13-5 edge. Miller and Francis put O-E right back in the picture with a 1-2 performance in shot

Bath girls tracksters win 2

Multiple winners and young place winners provided the winning equation for Bath High School girls in a pair of triangular track and field meets last week. The Fighting Bees dumped Williamston and Leslie Friday by respective 68-44-3 scores after topping Fowlerville and Dansville 53 1/2-47-14 1/2 Tuesday.

Friday Cindy Tarrant turned in 1st place performances in the high jump (4-7), 440 (67.2) and 880 (best time of season, 2:38.9). Mary Hull ran a 64.4 anchor to pull out a close 880 yard medley relay victory at the tape, (2:03.5), then returned to register her best time of the season to top the mile run in 5:57.4.

Meanwhile, freshmen Bees came up with 5 4th place finishes to earn the praise of Coach Nancy Roberson "These places show the depth that we need." Bath captured 7 of the 11 1st places, while Williamston took the rest. Leslie picked up points in only 2 events. Bath scored important gains by finishing 1-2

3 once, 1-2 once and 1-3 three times. The Bees also won a relay and took 2nd in the other. In tri-meets, scoring is 5-3-2-1 in all events but relays (5-3), making team depth important. Other winners for Bath included Sue Carlson with a school record shot put of 36-4, Kathy Brown with a 29.5 in the 220 yard dash and the 880 medley relay team of Kathy Brown, Debbie Garfield, Sue Bell and Hull. Tarrant and Hull were double winners Tuesday, taking the long jump (13-11) and mile (6:02.5) and the 880 (2:47.5) and 440 (68.5), respectively. Carlson copped the shot put (31-2 3/4) for the other victory. Bath was to be host to Mason Monday and Holt Thursday before going to Saturday's Grass Lake Invitational. Next week's action includes a trip to East Lansing High and the Bath Invitational all day May 11.

CHARLOTTE -- Powerful Charlotte High School lived up to its role as title contender in the West Central Athletic Conference with a 98-25 triumph over St Johns in track and field last week. The experienced Orioles, rich with seniors, outmanned the visitors, allowing St Johns just one event victory. Doug Merignac won the pole vault for the Redwings with a 12-0 vault. St Johns coach Ernie Becker was happy with several performances despite the heavy loss. He cited junior Steve Sutfin for his 3rd place finish in his first mile run of the season. Sutfin ran the mile in 4:56. Sophomore two-miler Jeff Massey came in second in 10:42. Bob Pettigrew also pulled in a second by running the 440 in 55.4. The Redwings picked up five third places, one in a tie.

"Roasting" honors Fr Hankerd's 25 years as ordained priest

ST. JOHNS -- Upwards of 700 persons gathered at St. Joseph School gymnasium Sunday evening to honor Fr. William Hankerd on his 25th anniversary since ordination to the priesthood.

A highlight of the evening was a 45-minute "roasting" program during which time various family members, fellow priests and parish school and staff members lightly reviewed Fr. Hankerd's life with an emphasis on humor and good natured needling. The roasting was accompanied by a number of gifts contributing to the program's theme.

One presentation made during the program held more substance than the others and was made by State Senator Phillip Pittenger.

The senator read for those present a resolution adopted by both houses of the state legislature honoring Fr. Hankerd on his 25 years as a priest and then the framed document was given to the priest by Senator Pittenger.

In presenting the plaque, Pittenger pointed out that Fr. Hankerd conducted the wedding ceremony for the Pittengers 19 years ago.

Among the humorous gifts was a large wicker basket which was described as a giant collection basket. Inside the basket were two tape cassettes and in narrating the presentation Fr. Raymond Goehring alluded to another surprise gift.

"But I don't even have a tape player," commented the honored priest.

"You do now," replied Fr. Goehring. "Wait until you see your car."

On the pretext of mechanical difficulties, Fr. Hankerd's car was taken in for repairs at which time a new stereo cassette player was installed.

Other gifts included a miniature trophy presented in the names of St. Joseph school teachers and presented by Tommi Anne Schultheiss.

Fr. Martin of Resurrection parish in Lansing, and a long-time golfing partner of Fr. Hankerd's, teased the latter about his golfing vacations and honored him with a badly bent golf club.

Jim's Column

How are things in Great Britain

(Concluded from last week)

Jim Pelham
Clinton County Extension Director

While in England, we had an opportunity to visit several farms including the Stephenson swine farm described in last week's County News. We also visited the Phillip Needham dairy farm, the Jim Dunning's beef operation and the John Dunning dairy and swine farm where we had the good fortune to be hosted for a weekend.

Phillip and Wendy Needham are in their late thirties and are milking about two hundred British Friesians. Phillip had visited the US under a Churchill scholarship and studied dairy farms in Michigan, New York, Wisconsin and California. He is presently installing an ultra modern rotary type parlor. There are only two of these in Michigan, including one at the Cyril Spike farm just over the county line into Shiawassee County.

are not a great deal different in cost to the consumer than here in America. Still, average income is no more than half of the typical American. We marvelled at how well the British do on so little.

Milk is government subsidized to the consumer, so it is within their reach. A great deal more of their protein comes from milk and milk products than from meat. Still the dairyman's price was only about seven dollars a hundred pounds and almost exactly the same as the price of barley. Grain prices are up because of the world grain situation and there is no profit in feeding dairy cows with this unfavorable milk-grain price ratio. I understand culling was severe during the time we were there and slaughter houses were working at capacity in processing them.

Interest rates were much higher than here ranging from 12 to 15 percent with the lower rate about as hard to get as seven and a half or eight percent here.

There was much more we could tell about their agriculture, their land development and something of the three new cities we visited. However, space will not permit. Let it suffice to say that it was a great educational experience and we enjoyed every minute of it!

Singing Lepard family to appear

Larry and Eileen Lepard and their family will be in St. Johns Sunday, May 5, for the beginning of National Music Week.

They will be at the city park at 3 pm singing in the newly constructed bandshell. At 7:30 pm they will continue their Gospel Concert at the First Assembly of God, corner of US 27 and E. Baldwin St. The pastor, Rev. Joseph F. Eger, Jr gives the public a cordial invitation.

O-E Schools raise operation mills, lower debt retirement

OVID -- The Ovid-Elsie School Board has voted to raise the districts operation millage from 14 to 16 mills, but at the same time moved to lower the debt retirement by 2 mills, keeping the overall millage rate for this year the same.

Ovid-Elsie sets vocal concert

The Ovid-Elsie Music Dept will present a full vocal concert of today's popular music May 6 at 7:30 pm in the high school auditorium.

On the ballot with the millage measures will be 1 4-year trustee position. The term of David J. Hill, president of the board, expires June 30.

Under the direction of Roger Weyersberg, the junior chorus, the high school chorus and the high school chorale will perform such works as Godspell, Beate tunes and Jim Croce's Time in a Bottle.

There is no admission charge.

mittee meetings. During the 1973 session for example, Powell was one of only two Representatives who did not miss even a single record roll call and he has maintained that enviable record thus far in 1974.

HIS ATTENDANCE at the House committee meetings has been no less faithful. He has not missed a single committee meeting, except when two of his committees had simultaneous meetings scheduled. He is the Republican Vice Chairman of the Committee on Towns and Counties (local government) and also serves as a member of the committees on Consumers and Agriculture, Military and Veterans' Affairs and Constitutional Revision and Women's Rights.

Representative Powell's nearly perfect attendance record contains one more interesting fact, he has never had an absence due to health or personal reasons, it was pointed out in the release.

While Powell has been an active Republican throughout his life, he is noted for his lack of partisanship in legislative matters, according to the release. While maintaining his essential identity as a Republican, he attempts to achieve solutions through cooperative effort by all political factions. His even-handed attitude has been recognized and respected by his legislative colleagues and by the Governors of both parties with whom he has worked closely in both civic and governmental efforts, the release said.

Representative Powell hopes to continue to provide determined, influential and effective leadership through his knowledge of governmental operations and acquaintance with government officials, he said. His experience, seniority, prestige and vigorous attention to legislative detail can continue to provide the 88th District with able, concerned and responsible representation, the release said.

England is much further north than Michigan, but because of air currents from the ocean, the temperature is moderate throughout the year. Average winter temperature in the East Riding is about 28 degree fahrenheit and flowers and lawns were further advanced than ours are now, when we visited in March.

Because of the cooler weather, corn is not commonly grown. Rather barley is the major grain grown.

My wife and I were hosted by the John Dunning's. While there, they asked the head of their local agricultural college (like our Ag shortcourse or Ag Technology at MSU) to visit us. Our host was quite surprised that Graham Suggitt and I had met when he visited MSU in 1971. Graham is experimenting with some early maturing varieties of corn and is convinced that corn silage can be a valuable addition to their grass-barley feed combination.

The John Dunning's have a 500 acre farm worth over a million dollars, and though they live very well by English standards, their living style is very similar to a typical Clinton County farm family.

Their home is a large brick structure 350 years old and the barns are also brick. There is no central heating system, but rather each room is heated by an efficient fireplace with coal as the main fuel.

It was about 28 degrees fahrenheit when we arrived at 11:30 pm. The Dunning's were terribly worried we would be cold in Great Britain because of the coal strike and the fact they have always dressed heavier and kept their rooms cooler than we in America. Upon opening our bedroom door, we were greeted with a glowing fireplace and temperatures of about eighty degrees. While still wondering if we could sleep in such a warm room, we discovered large very hot water bottles in our beds!

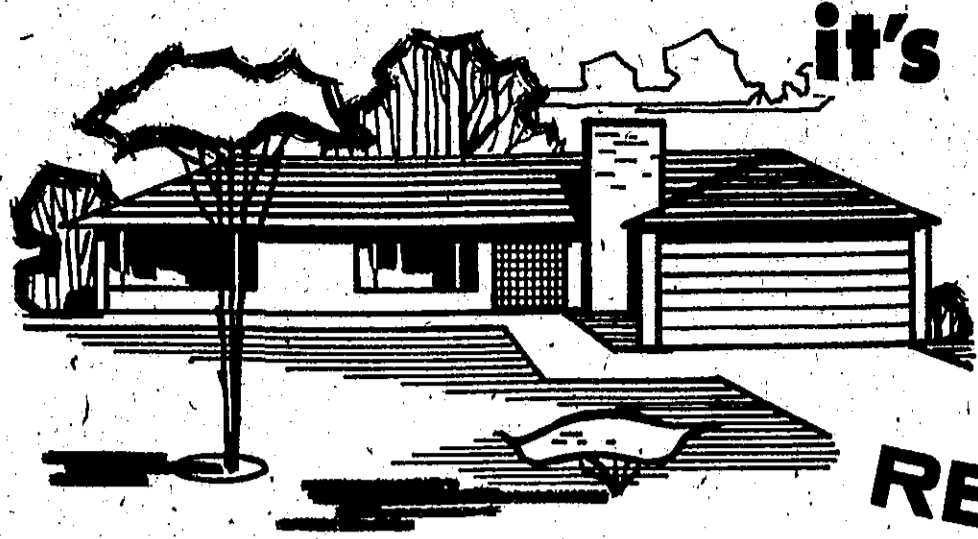

The Dunning's milk ninety-five cows and keep eighty-five sows. They live just outside Bishop Burton, a small village of a few hundred residents that was given an award for being the second most beautiful village in England last year.

What are the problems of farmers in Great Britain? We heard many of the same concerns as here in Michigan, but felt they were in a much tighter cost-price squeeze. It's difficult to buy farm land, and the cost of land comparable to that in Clinton County is about $2,500 an acre.

There are no property taxes on land although homes, both in cities and in the countries pay a tax based on the potential rent. I found some above average homes paying about three hundred fifty dollars a year.

The fact land is not taxed may be one of the reasons it has gone up in value even a great deal faster than here in America.

WHY WAIT?
FIX UP YOUR HOME NOW!

RECREATION ROOM GOOD INVESTMENT

If your house doesn't have a recreation room, chances are you're planning one soon.

Surveys show that recreation rooms are among the first additions to be made in a house. The extra facilities are generally necessitated by a growing family. Both parents and children room see the need for a room where youngsters can play and entertain their friends without interrupting the rest of the family. After children's hours, the rec room is also an ideal place for informal adult entertainment.

Setting up a recreation room is not difficult. The basement, if you have one, is a logical place. With a good clean-up, organization of storage facilities, and the right materials, you can transform the drabest basement into an attractive play-and-party room.

Almost by definition, a recreation room has certain requirements. It should be attractive, large enough for sizeable gatherings, and easy to maintain. Fabrics and wall and floor coverings should be sturdy and washable. Facilities for food preparation and serving are also a good idea.

Here are some suggestions:

1. Take advantage of the attractive, low-maintenance building materials now on the market. For example, hard-board wall paneling is available in a wide range of beautiful finishes including rich-looking woodgrains, decorator colors, varied patterns, and unusual textures such as cane, burlap, basket weave and leather. The panels are easily applied with nails or easy-to-use adhesive to wood furring strips attached to the existing wall. They resist dents, marks and scuffs, and can be sponged clean. Resilient floor tiles or even carpet tiles are ideal for "rec" room use. Some of these floorings also provide a measure of sound control.

2. Use easy-to-clean draperies and furniture slip covers—preferably the kind you can throw in the washing machine often.

3. Provide adequate storage space for games, hobby equipment, and the like. One idea is to install some perforated hard-board wall panels. These have perforations for hooks from which to hang a variety of items, and brackets on which to mount shelves.

All can be planned for the maximum of convenience, privacy and luxury combined with a minimum of maintenance. Vinyl-coated wallpapers, stabilized fabrics, synthetic carpeting and paints which are impervious to dampness are the hidden practical assets of today's materials. Even the wood finishes of accessories give a living room look, but are unaffected by heat or moisture.

Fixtures now come in practically every color of the rainbow and in many shapes and sizes. There are contoured tubs and furniture-styled lavatories. Even the flow and temperature of the water can be controlled with electronic push-buttons.

Function has increased in effectiveness but is much less obvious. Storage space, for instance, should be plentiful but hidden. Towels, soap, cosmetics, health equipment, children's toys and the small comforts of the bath can be kept in good supply behind lowered doors or on shelves veiled with bead curtains or pull-down shades.

All of it adds up to a room that has been transformed from a very dull, cold place that was left in a hurry, to a retreat where you can settle down to dress, make-up, have a sauna, a nap—or even take an old-fashioned shower or bath.

4. Provide a few kitchen facilities if possible: a small-capacity refrigerator (to keep beverages and ice on hand), a small range or hotplate to heat food (or conveniently-located electrical outlets to plug in coffee pots and food warmers), and a serving counter or table (so guests won't have to troop to the kitchen or dining room for a snack).

DIVIDE AND CONQUER, decoratively and otherwise. Kitchen carpeting is not only luxurious and practical, but it can be used to define separate areas in the kitchen. The elliptical inset outlining the work area is "Abstractions," new kitchen carpet of nylon. "Haven" in a bold orange and green pattern. Underfoot it is nylon "Ivory" "Ivory" kitchen carpet, in matching range, which also covers the cabinet doors. This is an imaginative and unique use of kitchen carpet to make two rooms of one decorative and practical. Photo Courtesy: Viking Carpets, Inc.

New Booklet Puts Down Household Hang-Ups

It's the little things that can go wrong around the house that make you wonder if man's home really is his castle.

When a blender balks and the hollandaise separates, the joy goes out of cooking. Nothing turns blue skies to gray faster than an outdoor grill that refuses to be raised and lowered or an erratic rollerblade attachment that turns only when the mood strikes. And what transforms simple household repair jobs into hard labor quicker than a wrestling match with stubborn jar lids and glue caps?

These, and a host of additional household harassments, can be easily remedied, however. All it takes is a few dabs of that combination lubricant, surface protector, rust retarder, and invisible household handyman, "Vaseline" Petroleum Jelly.

Just a small amount in the right places will have those blender gears meshing again in no time. A protective, rust-inhibiting coating of petroleum jelly on the moving parts will get the barbecue going up, down and around instantly. And those sticky jar lids and tube caps twist off with ease when the rims are coated with jelly before the containers are stored.

Here's First Aid for Handyman

Although many homeowners rival professional craftsmen with their prowess at do-it-yourself home improvements, statistically the average home is still the most accident-prone place in the nation. And it becomes even more so when the home handyman starts his work.

"Do-it-yourself" enthusiasts should be as much concerned with accident prevention and proper first aid procedures as they are with the ambitious projects they undertake," advises Dr. John Henderson, medical director of Johnson and Johnson and first aid authority.

"The really well-equipped home handyman should have adequate first aid equipment on hand to cope with emergencies. This is best accomplished by keeping a comprehensive first aid kit in the workshop."

Dr. Henderson offers the following tips to avoid some of the most common injuries encountered in home improvement work:

1. If unaccustomed to physical labor, avoid lifting heavy objects. If heavy lifting is necessary, do it properly: do not lift by using back or abdomen muscles alone, but take advantage of the stronger muscles of the legs.

2. If the project calls for reaching high places, use a makeshift platform, boxes or chairs. Inspect ladders before using, for defects such as loose rungs and weakened hinges.

3. When working with power tools, make sure they are properly grounded to avoid the possibility of shock. Check the manufacturer's instructions and observe all recommended safety procedures no matter how trivial they might seem.

When accidents do happen, it is important to treat injuries promptly. Dr. Henderson says. Proper first aid prevents infection, promotes healing and comforts the patient until medical help is available.

Here are his suggestions for treating the most common injuries encountered by home handymen:

1. Working with tools, the incidence of cuts, bruises and scrapes is high. These should not be ignored simply because they are minor injuries, since the danger of infection is always great.

On superficial wounds, cleanse with sterile gauze pads, soap and warm water, then rinse in running water. Apply antiseptic from the first aid kit and dress wound with an appropriate bandage.

2. On deep or extensive cuts, the first consideration is control of bleeding. Do this by applying firm pressure on the wound. Cover with a dressing, and get medical aid.

Do not try to cleanse a "dirty" wound—one in which foreign bodies are imbedded—but rather cover with gauze and get medical assistance.

3. Strains and sprains should be checked by a doctor because of the possibility of other conditions, such as fractures, which may not be detectable by a layman.

To comfort the victim, immobilize the strained area.

MAKE HANGING GARDEN

An unusual fencing idea is offered by perforated hard-board, which provides hanging storage facilities outdoors, as well as a decorative look. It could be used, for instance, to create a hanging garden of potted plants.

GUESTROOM, SEWING ROOM, ETC., ALL IN ONE ROOM

Rooms can no longer afford just to sit there—and do only one thing. Neither can furniture. As our personal share of the world's square footage dwindles, we have arrived at the age of multiple-function and dual-purpose.

Libraries, music rooms, sewing rooms, day nurseries and parlors sound like relics of a long-forgotten age to a generation who so often starts married life in one room and graduates to the bare essentials as the family grows. The extra room that had a specific function in large Victorian houses now has to pull its weight in usefulness and versatility, doubling often as a family room or to sleep a guest. For the family, make it a retreat where each member of the family can go for some relative peace, where a good book can be enjoyed without the distraction of television, where letters can be written, or homework done without interruption.

The multiplicity of today's "spare" room, furnished half for the family, half for the guest, is revealed in its decoration which should be a not-so-obvious accumulation of necessities such as a desk to spread out work or sewing, comfortable seating for relaxed reading, good lighting, shelves for books, and a comfortable place to sleep.

If all this sounds like a lot of furniture for what is usually one of the smaller rooms in the house, remember that the walls can be put to work as well as the floor. Wall-hung furniture like the ingenious Royal System from Denmark provides shelves, storage cabinets, drawers and working surfaces all within the framework of U. vertical space in the room. An amazing number of books, records, papers and clothes can be stored without taking up any floor space at all. That leaves plenty of room for the space-taking pieces needed for seating and sleeping, such as the new day beds that are really comfortable for both functions, as well as the streamlined new sleep sofas from manufacturers like Simmons and Barcalo.

No Midsummer Madness This ...

Now Is The Ideal Time To Insulate Your Attic

At first blush, it may sound like sheer, sunstruck lunacy. But summer is, in fact, a highly appropriate time to beef up the tired old original insulation in your attic.

If you've been up there recently, you know that a sun-baked attic gives a fair approximation of a sauna turned up high. Heat builds up steadily during the long summer days and hangs right in there through the night... radiating down through the ceilings of the upstairs rooms. The result: sleepless nights, and that feverish feeling that comes on during July and August heat-waves. It's a proven fact that an attic frequently gets about 40 degrees hotter than the outside air. And that is a heap of excess heat.

Adequate insulation keeps the superheat harmlessly up in the attic, drastically reducing downward radiation. Ceilings stay noticeably cooler. The whole house can easily be about 15 degrees more comfortable than it was before you did the insulating job. Louvers or a ventilating fan make the cooling effect even more pronounced. And if you're fortunate enough to have air conditioning, it will keep you comfortable at a much lower setting. Naturally this saves money on your electric bill.

Insulation experts of the W. R. Grace & Co. Construction Products Division recommend a layer of Zonolite vermiculite poured between the attic joists right over the old insulation, to a total thickness of six inches. The added thickness in insulation will give you an immediate improvement in hot weather comfort, plus important savings in fuel costs when winter comes, the experts state.

That's another cogent reason to insulate now—before next winter brings another round of low temperatures and high heating bills. According to authoritative long-range predictions, fuel costs are going to keep right on increasing by seven to eight percent a year over the next decade. Insulation now will help you hold the line. In fact, the experts say, your new attic insulation can easily pay for itself in two or three years of fuel and power savings. Everything from there on is money in the bank. Plus good sleeping on hot nights.

Re-Roofing? Don't Overlook Color & Design Potential

Planning to re-roof this year? Remember that modern roofing materials offer advantages that didn't exist when the original roof was installed.

- Shingle styles and colors are more varied.
- Roofing material is designed for longer wear and less maintenance.
- Shingles have increased fire and wind resistance.

As the single largest expense of the house, the roof has great color and design potential that shouldn't be ignored. Color-keyed roofing can individualize your home, set the mood for total house appearance, add dramatic visual impact, reflect the site and surroundings.

Asphalt shingles offer the widest range of colors, including black, white, pastels, blends, and new "earth" and "forest" shades. One of them is bound to suit your house style, color taste and particular location.

Color treatment of these shingles has also been improved, so shingle color is fade-resistant, and many "natural" shades, which blend perfectly with building products, have been developed.

Today's shingles also have greater durability than they used to. The biggest advance is, again, in asphalt shingles. The best grade shingles are now designed to last at least 25 years with no maintenance, almost twice as long as a standard quality roof.

To be certain you're getting a fire-resistant roof, make sure the shingles have a UL Class C rating. It means the material has been laboratory-tested for resistance to fire, flame spread and the burning brands, embers and sparks from other fire sources.

Automatic Humidifier Prevents Dry Air in Home

Excessive humidity causes all kinds of condensation problems in American homes, but there's a considerable segment of the population which has no worry on this score. Its big headache, sometimes literally as well as figuratively, is in the opposite direction—lack of humidity.

When there is insufficient moisture in the home, either because the heating system robs the air of its humidity or simply because of geographical location, things begin to happen. Nasal passages dry out, skin gets parched, furniture joints loosen and house plants droop. Excessively dry air is associated by medical experts with many ailments, since resistance to infection becomes low when mucous membranes dry out. Entirely aside from all these by-products of low humidity is the matter of comfort.

A humidification expert, Paul A. Herr, recently concluded studies showing that 68 degrees Fahrenheit is comfortable when the humidity is 50 per cent. To obtain the same comfort rating at 20 per cent relative humidity, the temperature must be 74 degrees.

One of the advantages of the modern type of humidifier is that it can maintain humidity automatically at a pre-set level, thus preventing one of the home problems of all, a rapid transition from high to low humidity.

The kind of humidifier needed will depend mainly on the amount of water that will have to be injected into the air to maintain the proper level of humidity during the driest periods. A contractor, after making a survey of heating and cooling needs, will recommend the type of unit required.

Mental Health Board names acting director

LANSING -- Richard M. Cooper has been appointed acting director for the Community Mental Health Center, serving Clinton, Eaton and Ingham Counties.

Cooper will serve as a director until a new director is hired to fill the position vacated by the resignation of Jose J. Llinas, MD.

Dr Llinas, director of the board for 9 years, resigned the position to accept a similar post in Florida.

A search committee has been formed to find a replacement for Dr Llinas.

THERE'S DECOR 'GOLD' IN FAMILY PHOTOGRAPHS

For years, modern furniture styles held the decorating world captive. But with the rise of eclecticism, homemakers from coast to coast are once more decorating with family heirlooms and treasured furnishings.

Eclectic decorating allows for a mixture of furnishing styles — Mediterranean and modern, English and Spanish, Louis XIV and Queen Anne. The one rule is that each piece must coordinate with the others so that the total effect is pleasing to the eye and meaningful to the home owner.

This decorating trend has brought with it an increasing popularity for decorating with portrait photographs and other family mementos. Most people have portraits taken to mark their great occasions — from births to graduations, weddings to career days. These professional photographs are so meaningful to let "inglish" in a drawer or album.

Portrait photographs are more than decorating accessories. No one selects a particular portrait because the colors in it blend with those in the wallpaper. Photographs are chosen for display because of their intrinsic value. However, there are ways to accessorize any portrait so that it can become a decorative part of a room.

Where to Display

Good photographs can look well in almost any place in the house. Traditionally, large portraits have been hung above the mantel in a living room. But, interior decorators today suggest hanging portrait photographs wherever there is enough well-lit space.

If the family collection of photographs yield several prints 11x14 or smaller, they can be grouped in one gallery display. One thing to remember in selecting a location for the photographs: make sure there is enough room for people to see the portraits.

Accessorizing the Portrait

Whether color or black-and-white, any portrait can be accessorized to fit a room. Select mat colors and fabrics that

"pull out" a particular color in the photograph; this same color should be one that goes with the room's decor, or black-and-white photo arrangements; colorful mats can liven the display.

Mats are available in a number of materials — from the traditional mat board to elegant velvets or the more imaginative upholstery fibers. The mat should be selected at the same time as the frame to ensure compatibility.

Kites can be line to danger

LANSING — A child's fate may be hanging by a string if it happens to be attached to a kite flying near an overhead electric line.

C.F. Brown, Consumers Power Company's division manager, cautions youngsters that unsafe practices while flying a kite could result in an unfortunate accident.

"Each year at this time accidents occur when youngsters forget safety rules," Brown said. "Children are injured when they climb trees to free kites that have become entangled in the limbs."

"We are also concerned about youngsters who fly their kites in the rain or use metallic string."

Brown cautioned that wet string or any metallic string that crosses a power line can become a conductor of electricity and carry the current down to the child holding onto the kite. This can result in a high voltage shock that can seriously burn or even kill a youngster.

To promote kite flying safety, the company's general safety department annually sponsors a poster contest in elementary schools to encourage children to observe the basic safety rules.

Brown listed these basic rules which will help kite flyers to have fun and avoid trouble:

1. Use dry string - not wire or anything metallic.
2. Use wood and paper in your kite construction - not wire or metal.

Smart Walls Make Beautiful Rooms

Above: Garlands of bountiful blooms turn a small bedroom into a country garden. The window gets the lambrequin treatment; the plywood four-poster frame is covered in the same "You Wore a Tulip" paper, left over from the wall-works. Matching fabric on bed and chair continues one-pattern look. Accents are small and non-competitive: a touch of greenery, favorite photos, simple pedestal lamp on a spare and sparkingly white dresser.

NEW YORK (ED) — Successful decorators create interest in a room through controlled use of clever accents. But they don't rely on one or two conversation pieces to give a room character. Everything, including the walls, must contribute to the final effect.

This year, imaginatively-patterned wallcoverings are the favored medium for the decorators' message. Chalky white walls serving as a backdrop for important accents? Not for homemakers with flair! They splash their walls with beautiful coverings — some of the liveliest new beauties are from Imperial Wallpaper — and let pattern set the pace!

Even the most dedicated paintbrush devotee doesn't need to be afraid to paper. Today's sturdy vinyls — many of them pre-pasted for easy handling — make it as easy for do-it-yourselfers to cover walls in paper as in paint. No wonder more than half of all wallpaper is put up by amateurs!

Which pattern for you? Calicoes . . . metallics . . . animal prints . . . just choose the pattern you want to live with, and get set to enjoy a new look!

Right: Who can resist a man in uniform? The parade of gallant, mustachioed soldiers on this soft border from Imperial adds color to an otherwise prosaic entryway, and creates a unique frieze-like effect. Sleek stripes are the perfect accent for a contemporary setting. The same stripes line the bookcases — drawing them into the room. It's wallcovering imagination — used to modify the architectural sameness of ordinary, all-alike, box-plain rooms.

Elsie

Members of the Woman's Literary Club and their guests enjoyed a day's outing to Detroit Wednesday, April 17. The busload left Elsie at eight o'clock in the morning and returned in the evening at seven.

They made a stop at the Oakland Mall where they shopped and had lunch.

The highlight of the trip was an afternoon at the Fisher Theater where they attended the stage show musical "Good News" starring Alice Faye, the lovely former star of many movie musicals of the 1930's.

Miss Faye, now singing with former co-star John Payne is on the pre-Broadway tour of her musical "Good News" which has received wide acclaim during its performances in Boston, Toronto, Philadelphia and Washington.

The musical, a 1930 college show, was revamped to fit Miss Faye and John Payne as an astronomy professor in love with the campus coach. She sang the nostalgic "You're the Cream of My Coffee", a special soft-shoe number with Payne and "The Best Things in Life are Free", "Varsity Drag", and "Good News".

There were 130 ladies who made the trip from this area with arrangements made by Mrs. Diane Green and Mrs. Gene Schoendorf.

The next event for the W.L.C. will be the Clinton County Federation of Women's Clubs to be held Thursday, April 25 at the Shepardsville United Methodist Church.

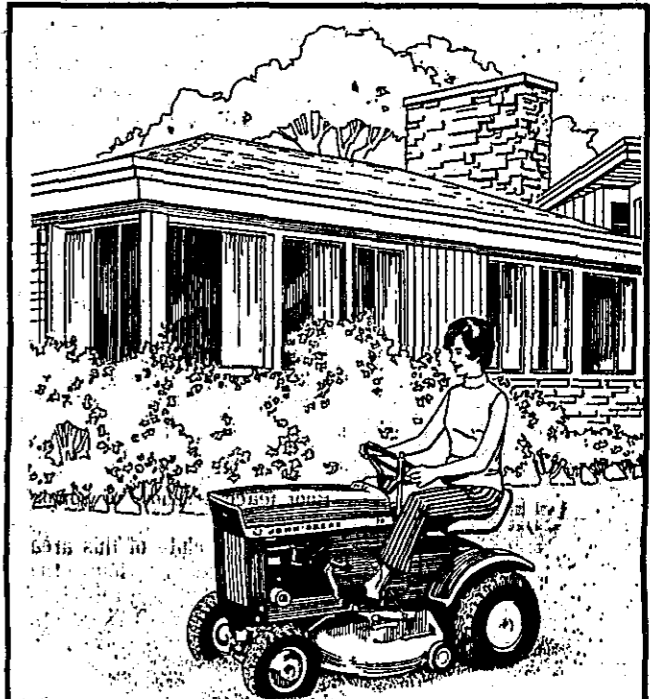

Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Keys and children Debbie and David, of Cincinnati were weekend guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. S.J. Keys and Jack Keys. Mrs. Margaret Edwards and Mrs. Dorothy Kaspar of St. Johns were also Sunday guests.

Mrs. Hazel Blayney is recovering from a broken leg at the Owosso Memorial Hospital. She recently fell down the outside steps of her home on Island Road, Elsie.

Orlo Mead is a medical patient at the Owosso Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Nelva Wight is a patient at the Pleasant View Hospital. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ornelas of 624 S. Ovid St., Elsie on Thursday, April 18.

WARNING! "CHILDREN'S HIDDEN ENEMY"

Children get lead poisoning when they eat bits of paint that contain lead. If a child eats enough lead paint, his brain will be damaged. He may become mentally retarded or even die.

Old houses often have layers of lead paint on the walls, ceiling, and woodwork. When the paint chips off, there is real danger for babies and young children.

If you live in an older house and have seen your child putting chips of paint in his mouth, you should take him to a doctor, clinic, or hospital as soon as you can.

Look at your walls and ceilings and woodwork. Are there places where the paint is peeling? If so:
* Get a broom or stiff brush and remove all loose pieces of paint from walls, woodwork, and ceilings.
* Always keep the floor clear of loose paint chips.

* You can completely cover up contaminated walls and ceilings by nailing gypsum wallboard over them. This preventive measure has proved to be the simplest, most effective, economical and durable answer to this most pressing problem.

Mood of Home Set By Entrance Foyer

The first impression of the inside of your home comes from the atmosphere of your entry or foyer. Is it warm and welcoming, graciously elegant, or coolly aloof? The foyer announces the decor of the home, is it French Provincial or modern, Mediterranean or eclectic?

Since most entries are small in size, their planning is difficult, particularly because their emotional impact is great. A few carefully selected pieces of furniture, some prized possessions, a handsome painting or piece of sculpture, can set the mood for your entire home.

The home owner should plan his choice of lighting with great care, since a handsome chandelier or pendant demands no floor space, yet casts a hospitable glow over the entire entry, as well as illuminating the faces of visitors and guests. Lighting fixtures are now both massive and miniscule, scaled to varying rooms and needs. And the choice of styles ranges from shimmering crystal to traditional brass to wrought iron.

QUESTIONS TO CONSIDER
A tiny foyer with no floor area, for furniture can be dramatic. If walls are white, carpeting or floor tile is white, and if one adds ceiling beams and polished wood and displays an antique carved figure on a shelf directly opposite the door. You can light the entry with a wrought-iron lantern to complement the setting of the adjoining room—a book-lined Mediterranean study.

As you can plan the design of your entry, there are certain questions that must be considered:
1) What is the total "environmental theme" of your home?
2) What kind of lighting would most suit the setting?
3) What is the decor of the adjacent rooms visible from the foyer?
4) Is there floor space for furniture? If so, how much?
5) What kind of flooring—rugs, carpeting, or tile—would be most practical and appropriate?
6) How can your foyer be personalized? Do you have a prized collection of shells, an exotic piece of sculpture, or handsome prints or paintings which could be artfully framed and arranged?

mural, and set a delicately shaped white console opposite the door. Above the console, place a gilt-framed mirror, reflecting both your guests, and the glitter of a small crystal chandelier.

Chandeliers and wall fixtures used to be considered primarily for elaborate homes, and used chiefly in dining rooms as a decorative accent. This is no longer the case. Lighting has finally come into its own as an architectural tool. Its ability to create atmosphere, emphasize colors and fabrics, and add drama to any setting has been long overlooked by the average home owner and apartment dweller. Now, as consumers become more sophisticated and better-educated, they appreciate the beauty of light as a catalyst, and as a decorative object in itself.

VARY LIGHTING
Fixtures are now being used in apartments as well as modest residences, and hung in rooms which were never fixture-lit before, such as entries, bedrooms, baths, and breakfast nooks. Part of this growth is due to the widely varied selection of fixtures now available on the consumer market in an ever-increasing variety of styles and sizes, appropriate to any decor.

Lighting should be varied throughout the home; brightly welcoming in the entry, softer in a study but with pools of "task light" for reading, and adjustable in a living or dining room—where the light should vary, through dimmers, from gay intensity to quiet intimacy, for relaxing conversation. We respond to light more than we realize, and "feel" happy or depressed because of it. This is why your entry lighting is so important. It is the initial greeting of your home to your guests, and should be a cheerful one, expressing welcome.

Consider other aspects of your entry decor as well. In furniture, the classic choice is a chest or console, flanked by side chairs, with a mirror above. This offers guests (and your family) a place to set hats and gloves, to take "one last look," with a chair for waiting.

However, entries come in all sizes, and some may require additional furniture for a completed look. This might include a desk, bench, small loveseat, grandfather or grandmother clock, as well as bookcases. If your entry is of sufficient size, consider other ways in which it could be utilized for family use—such as a den, dining area, or study. As living space in most homes and apartments becomes smaller and more precious, the uses of rooms should be diversified.

SPOTLIGHT PAINTINGS
With this in mind, consider the floor in your entry. A tile or vinyl flooring is often the most practical, since they are easily cleaned, and now come in many designs. If your home is colonial, hooked rugs are charming, versatile in size, and easily cleaned. For a French Provincial home, a floor of brick, stone or slate is appropriate. Carpeting should be selected with durability in mind, since it will receive the hardest wear of any carpets in your home.

If you decorate the walls with paintings, sculpture, or a much-prized collection, again consider the lighting. A spotlight focused properly on a painting will bring out colors and brushstrokes that would otherwise be lost. And recessed lights in a niche or cabinet will display your collection effectively—drawing attention, and emphasizing details that would not stand out under ordinary light. Properly-lit sculpture will have texture and depth of design never visible before. Plan your entry with care. It can be walled with mirrors, fitted with fabric-covered screens, papered with posters, or paneled with walnut. It can have the glow of a New England farmhouse, or the cool elegance of a big-city penthouse.

Credit union leaders elect new officers

Credit union leaders of Clinton, Ingham and Livingston Counties elected officials Friday evening, April 19, at the annual meeting of the Lansing Chapter of the Michigan Credit Union League. The dinner meeting at Grand Ledge Country club was attended by 249 credit union officers and guests.

New officers elected were: James Robie, MSU Employees Credit Union, chapter chairman; Claudia Shaub, Federal Employees Federal Credit Union, vice chairman; Marion Taylor, Co-op Credit Union, treasurer, and two members of the executive committee, Thomas Lesniewski, Lansing Municipal CU, and Arden McNeil, Resurrection Parish CU.

Janice Williams, Medical CU, was re-elected secretary and Roy Ebert, St Johns Michigan Federal CU, was re-elected to the executive committee. Serving continuing terms are: Louis Ebaugh, State Employees CU, the chapter's league director; Leonard Luker, MSU Employees CU, alternate director, and Robert Waite, Motor Wheel Employees CU, member of the executive committee.

Ebaugh, William Grost of

Motor Wheel Employees CU, and Frances Lesniewski of MSU Employees CU were elected as delegates to the annual meeting of the league to be held May 30-June 1 in Detroit. Waite was elected alternate delegate. They and delegates from individual credit unions will represent more than 110,000 members in the three-county area.

The General meeting of the Shepardville UMW met at the church on Thursday evening, April 18. There was a good attendance. The Afternoon Circle had charge of the program and Devotions. During the business session, the usual reports were read and accepted.

Mrs Velma Smith read from the 24th chapter of St Luke. This was in the form of a letter to one of our shut-in members. After the reading Miss Kathryn Behrens sang, "Does it make any difference to you?"

Miss Behrens was the guest speaker for the evening. She showed slides of Guatemala. She was one of a group of people who took a missionary tour of this country. The group visited many mission churches. After the pictures she told about many of the articles she brought back with her.

Miss Behrens also offered the closing prayer. The UMYF met at the Shepardsville church on Sunday evening, April 21. A special program was presented by Francis Ferdin. He presented slides of Egypt. He also offered a sound presentation of The Rapture.

After the program, Mr and Mrs Norman Rustad took the youth to the Dairy Isle for a special treat. This was in appreciation for their work done during the Lenten Season for the excellent program at the Sunrise service.

The Ovid-DuPlain Library Club will have their Annual May coffee at the home of Mrs Charles Palen, Jr on Friday May 3 at 9:15. Roll call will be a plant and seed exchange. A surprise program has been planned.

About 150 relatives, friends and neighbors of Mrs Carrie E. Rose gathered at the Shepardsville United Methodist Church to help her celebrate her 90th birthday. Hosts for the occasion were her son and daughter-in-law, Mr and Mrs Gale Rose.

"This is Your Life, Carrie Rose" so said the Master of Ceremonies, Raymond Hankey of Marshall, a nephew of Mrs Gale Rose. The story follows: Carrie Rose was born on April 18, 1884 to Alice and RJ St Clair in Ovid Township on the St Clair Road. At the age of one she moved to Ovid where she obtained her schooling. She frequently visited her grandparents, J.B. Mock where she met a lady who became her life friend. This lady was unable to attend but she did send a message. In July, 1904 she married Carl Rose at her parents home on Elm Street in Ovid. Their honeymoon was a horse and buggy trip to Lansing from St Johns. Their first home was on Oak Street in Ovid, and their first son, Cedric was born there. They resided in Ovid for five years, then moved to Southfield where they farmed with their parents and met many new friends. Two of these friends, Al and Kathryn Gray were married 38 years ago on Carrie's birthday. These people were present to wish her well. While living in Southfield their son Gale, was born. A son, Kenneth was born there also but died in infancy. From Southfield where her husband and herself along with Cedric, ran a C.F. Smith Store. One of their son's friends, a Dr John Book of Fenton was there to wish her well.

Some children of a family friend came to wish her well. They were the Whitefootes from Farmington. Another family of their days near Redford were represented by their children, David Commire and family from Lakeland, Michigan. Other relatives who came to wish her well were Ken Murray and Gordon from Westland and Florence and Frank Beck from Lansing.

In 1943 her son Gale decided to buy a farm near Ovid where she, her mother and husband moved with him and his wife. In 1947 her husband Carl passed away and in 1949 her mother passed away. Another old friend who came to wish her well was Nellie Clark.

A couple of girls always seemed to find a way into Mama Rose's house. One of these girls and her family were there to wish her well, Sheila Wetzel of Ithaca. Another who came to wish her well was the closest living relative of her father, Betty Carter of St Louis.

Guests were present from Southfield, Redford, Fenton, Lakeland, Westland, Lansing, Ithaca, St Louis and from the Ovid area.

A beautiful three tiered birthday cake centered the refreshment table, along with two dark cakes. Punch, coffee and ice cream were served, along with the cake.

Mrs Rose was the recipient of many cards and gifts from her friends and relatives. Many of those present recalled several amusing incidents in her life.

When to Paint Your Stairway

The best time to paint a stairway in your house is just before you go to bed, so that it will be dry when the family gets up in the morning.

But this isn't always practical. For one thing, you have to start at the bottom of the stairs and paint while you are moving backwards going upstairs—otherwise you'll paint yourself at the bottom while the paint is still wet. For another, it is sometimes more practical to do the painting in the daytime or, at least, several hours before retiring.

The solution is to paint every other step so that you can use the stairway while the paint is drying. When it's dry, paint the remaining steps.

THE CUTTING AND ARRANGEMENT OF ROSES

According to the rose firm of Jackson & Perkins, roses are one instance where "getting into hot water" is a benefit. J&P offers a few simple rules for extending the life of your cut roses by several days and for arranging them.

INITIAL STEPS

1. Roses will keep best if they are cut in the late afternoon or very early morning, when their sugar content is highest.
2. Cut your roses on an angle with a sharp knife or pruning shears, just when the outside petals first start to unfold.
3. Place them immediately in warm water, (deep enough to cover 2/3 of stem) preferably with a floral preservative added.
4. "Condition" or "harden" them by leaving in a cool dark place without drafts for 3 to 4 hours — or even overnight. If you can put them in the refrigerator for this "conditioning" so much the better.
5. Before arranging, remove the leaves which will be below water level in the vase.
6. Use a floral preservative in the vase water — display them away from drafts and add fresh water every day. Roses are thirsty flowers.

When the blooms start to wilt, they can be revived. Cut them again, on an angle, and place them in hot water — as hot as your hand can tolerate.

ARRANGING

You don't have to be an expert to make creative arrangements from your cut roses. A simple yet effective arrangement can be made by cutting the roses evenly, placing them in a tall vase and letting them fan naturally.

More dramatic arrangements are possible by using combinations of colors, other flowers and foliage. When combining roses of different colors it is best to use ones that harmonize and blend rather than ones that contrast sharply. Don't crowd the container; place the darker flowers and more open buds toward the bottom.

Another point to remember when mid-summer nears is that florist roses are less expensive in July than at any other time of the year. During this period it may be practical to supplement your own roses with florist varieties.

INCLUDE QUIET COMFORT AS PART OF YOUR PLANNING

Are you happy with your home? Possibly you've been thinking about updating it or adding a room or two to gain needed space. If you're in the planning stage, be sure to analyze your present and consider how it will affect your overall living environment.

Especially if you're expanding your house or radically updating a kitchen, the bright, modern improvement could cause the rest of the house to look older than its years. You should give some thought to refurbishing other parts of your home on a more modest scale.

Painting, wall papering, paneling and tile flooring all offer examples of easy ways to brighten and modernize the home. They also help soften the transition between existing and new areas.

One way of tying old and new together while enhancing your home's decor and your family's comfort is through use of acoustical ceilings. There are many styles on the market which will brighten any room and help cut down the noise level created by the television, stereo, children or the commotion of everyday active living. Do you think your home is quiet? Stop and consider those occasions when late-hour adult social activities had to be toned down... for fear of disturbing the youngsters' sleep. Or, how the current teen-age craze in popular music lacks the charms to sooth the tired head of the family after a long work day.

Today's new acoustical ceilings can work wonders on the design side too. In addition to soaking up unwanted sound, they can be tailored to suit the specific needs of your room. The family room could be the ideal spot to combine an acoustical ceiling with exposed wood beams. Kitchens can be brightened and quieted with a combination acoustical-luminous ceiling to provide light over work areas while toning down the clutter of pots and pans.

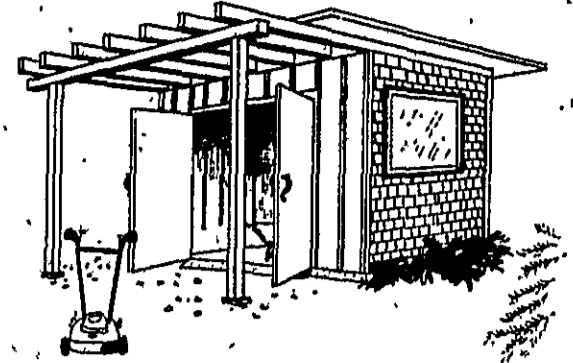

A new concept in acoustical ceiling design introduced this year is a large-module panel that is four feet wide and available in lengths up to 16 feet.

Baffle in Yard Gives Privacy

If a large picture window on the street side of your house endangers privacy, build a baffle. In front of the window. When set closer to the house than to the street, you can use a pattern open enough to let you see out without others seeing in. Sometimes a single baffle eight feet long will do the trick. If not, use three in an offset line, their ends overlapping two feet. For pattern, try a variation on the vertical board fence, alternating 1x4-inch boards with 1x2s set edge out. Leave a half-inch spacing between boards for an effect both airy and crisp.

Yard Storage Readily Erected

Small tool house in garden will take clutter out of garage or back porch—and the home handyman can build one readily with basic materials, lumber, plywood and shingles, stock wood window and doors. Arbor for sun-filtering vines ties unit closely to garden. For plan and materials list, send 15 cents to: H-I Tool House, 700 Yeon Bldg., Portland, Or. 97204.

Blitz That Gardening Clutter; Build Tidy Tool House For It

Just the thing to do away with that clutter of flower pots and garden tools around the back door or in the garage is a tool house set toward the rear of the lot.

Building one can be a highly satisfying project for the inexperienced do-it-yourselfer, because its appearance won't suffer greatly from a little mediocre workmanship here and there. And the instant convenience produced by the tool house will make any weekend carpenter proud.

Don't worry about trying to match the tool house exterior to that of the home. Usually, it can be treated as strictly a garden structure. With planting beds added around it, the tool house relates strongly to the garden scene, and will look more permanent, less shed like.

Arbor Adds Appearance

A flat roof is easiest to build. But the boxy appearance can be minimized by extending the roof joists forward to form an arbor for climbers like wisteria or clematis.

Roof joists need be no larger than 2x4s. Posts and crossbeam supporting the arbor should be 4x4s. Extending the roof surface to form a 12-inch-deep overhang on all sides helps protect the structure.

Siding for the garden house can be one or a mixture of wood products, such as rough-sawn plywood or lumber, or the newly-popular cedar shingles.

The entire unit can be stained or left to weather naturally. Either assures minimum maintenance, but, if stain is used, it should be the semi-transparent type labeled "exterior grade." Letting the structure weather eliminates finishing costs and, in appearance, is simply great with plantings.

Larger Size Better

A 6x6-foot size is the minimum for storage, and might be the easiest to roof with plywood panels. But an 8x8-footer will serve and look much better, even allowing space for a small workbench. The bench should have a window for light, and a stock wood unit will blend best with the wood siding.

In the larger size, the tool house also becomes a prime stashing spot for deck furniture in winter, and for snow tires and the like in summer.

Plans and materials list for an 8x8-foot storage unit as described may be obtained by sending 15 cents to: H-I Tool House, 700 Yeon Bldg., Portland, Ore., 97204.

DISCOLORATION AT HOME—KEEP IT CLEAN!

Is the paint in your home becoming discolored? Paints sometimes develop mildew—usually a gray or black film—with constant exposure to warmth and moisture. So if discoloration won't wipe off easily with soap and water, try a mixture of household bleach and water.

Eliminate excessive humidity, too. Adequate exhaust fans in kitchen, bathroom, and laundry will help a great deal. Connect moisture exhaust vents from your automatic clothes dryer to the outdoors. Use a concrete sealant paint on the foundation walls and floors of a damp basement. And there's always the de-humidifier... if you don't have one, check out brands and prices... there's sure to be one that meets your needs.

WHEN YOUR CHILDREN WANT TO COOK

Sooner or later it will happen. The magic of turning something white, wet and drippy into a magnificent golden creation like a cake will capture your child's imagination, and Kitchen Research & Development will be on the way.

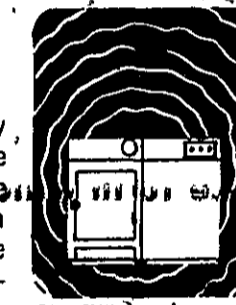

Generally speaking, the older child will tell you of this desire, but the small ones may tend to begin on their own.

So be on the watch for some of the signs: More-than-usual absorption in watching you prepare food, prolonged make-believe cooking, intense involvement with the form and decoration of mud-pies. When these begin, start education in the arts of better ice cream sundae making, better dessert topping, and other creations that require no use of heat, fire or knives.

Remember, when it comes to children and the kitchen, you just can't start the rules about hot pots and pitfalls too soon!

THE WELL-TEMPERED LAUNDRY ROOM

A laundry room is a source of considerable moisture—which in turn can cause a lot of dirt-and-particle-filled film on surfaces of all kinds, and even make the air in your home a little hard to breathe. So make sure you do your wash in a well ventilated room.

As clothes dry, they emit moisture. For this reason most manufacturers recommend venting your dryer outside. Save money on utility bills. Don't over-dry clothes or use your washer and dryer more than necessary.

Always try to do a full load. But don't overload your machine, or you'll pay in other ways. Remember, unless clothes can move freely, wrinkling will result. Usually, whatever you wash together can be dried together.

Furnishings Expert Offers Shopping Tips

"You don't have to build a new house to have a new home. Nor do you have to buy a house full of furniture to create a new environment."

These are basic beliefs of Margaret Ward, home economist for the Southern Furniture Manufacturers Association. She also has ideas on how to approach home decorating - starting with careful planning, budgeting, and analysis of individual needs.

"With these," she continued, "you may transform the four walls of your house into an inviting home that is uniquely yours."

Developing a plan before purchasing furniture is a major key to success, Miss Ward said. Furniture preferences can be determined by studying magazines, newspapers and books, and visiting museums, model rooms, homes and stores.

Checking several stores will show the home decorator, she continued, what furniture is available, how various effects can be created with the same type of furniture, and which styles appeal to the purchaser when they are seen firsthand.

"For most of us," Miss Ward said, "shopping for furniture is like shopping for a new car."

"You know what you like the instant you see it, but what's inside is a puzzle too intricate to piece together."

Shopping at a reliable store which carries quality brand names assures the consumer of quality and performance, she said. Each piece of furniture should be both beautiful and functional. Durability, comfort, and ease of care are also desirable.

"Unless you know furniture as a mechanic does a car," Miss Ward continued, "you must examine furniture yourself and know what to look for, where to look, and equally important, what to ask."

She gave the following pointers on examining wood furniture - or casegoods as the furniture industry calls it - once a consumer finds an attractive style and design.

1. Rubbing your hand across the top should give a smooth feel and no indication of ripples. The finish should be clear, not cloudy.

2. Check to see if furniture which will be placed away from the wall has the back panel finished smoothly in the same tone as the rest of the wood.

Unexposed parts need not be finished in the same quality as exposed parts, but they should be sanded smooth and stained to match the rest of the piece.

3. Check drawers to see if they slide easily. The drawer itself should be sturdy, especially at the joints. In furniture of superior quality, the joinings are as near perfectly matched as possible, smooth and tight. Crevices and gaps filled with glue show inferior workmanship. A dust panel, a solid panel of wood between drawers, keeps the inside of casegoods clean.

4. Make certain doors and catches function properly.

5. Examine the hardware. It should be attractive, securely attached, and appropriately scaled for the piece.

6. Read labels on the care of the finish and its resistance to stains and scratches whether it be solid wood, veneer or plastic.

7. Measure your room space to be certain furniture is the right size. Also determine if the inside space is adequate for your particular needs.

Upholstered furniture, as opposed to wood furniture, must be judged on somewhat different criteria, Miss Ward continued, with outside workmanship and materials a general indication of inside construction.

The durability and comfort of upholstered pieces depend largely on this unseen inside construction, she said, so buying from a reliable dealer is most important. For comfort, the furniture must be suited to the size of the individuals using it.

Miss Ward suggested the following considerations in buying upholstered furniture:

1. Make certain the furniture appeals to you in color as well as style and design. Don't dismiss a pleasing shape because of the fabric. The store can usually order the piece in a variety of upholstery coverings. However, the consumer should choose a fabric in the weight and general category of the one shown. For example, don't try to substitute a delicate silk material for a heavy fur fabric.

2. Check the tailoring as an indication of overall workmanship. Upholstery should have a smooth appearance with plaids, stripes and prints matched and centered if possible. Skirts should hang straight and even. Cording and welting should be smooth, straight and firmly stitched.

Decorative details - tufting, trapunto, buttons - add to the cost of the furniture, but they give the individuality one expects in the more expensive and high quality furniture.

3. Cushions should fit snugly in the corners of the frame and adjoining cushions. Reversible cushions help distribute wear. Contrary to popular opinion, a zippered cover should not be removed for cleaning. The zipper was used as an aide to the workman who stuffed the pillow.

4. Scratch the upholstery fabric with your fingernail to see that no threads will catch or pull. The fabric should be strong and closely woven.

Spot and stain resistance finishes are available for all fabrics, and certain fibers offer better wear. Read labels and hang tags carefully.

5. Many types of fillings are used, often in combination. Many states require a label to identify the filling content, but this is not an indication of grade or quality.

A good test is to squeeze a pillow and watch it return to its original shape. If it responds slowly, you will find shifting, matting, lumps or distortion in your upholstered piece.

6. The basic framework must withstand stress and strain over a long period. Rub your hand on the frame under the seat cushion and make certain you feel no sharp wood edges.

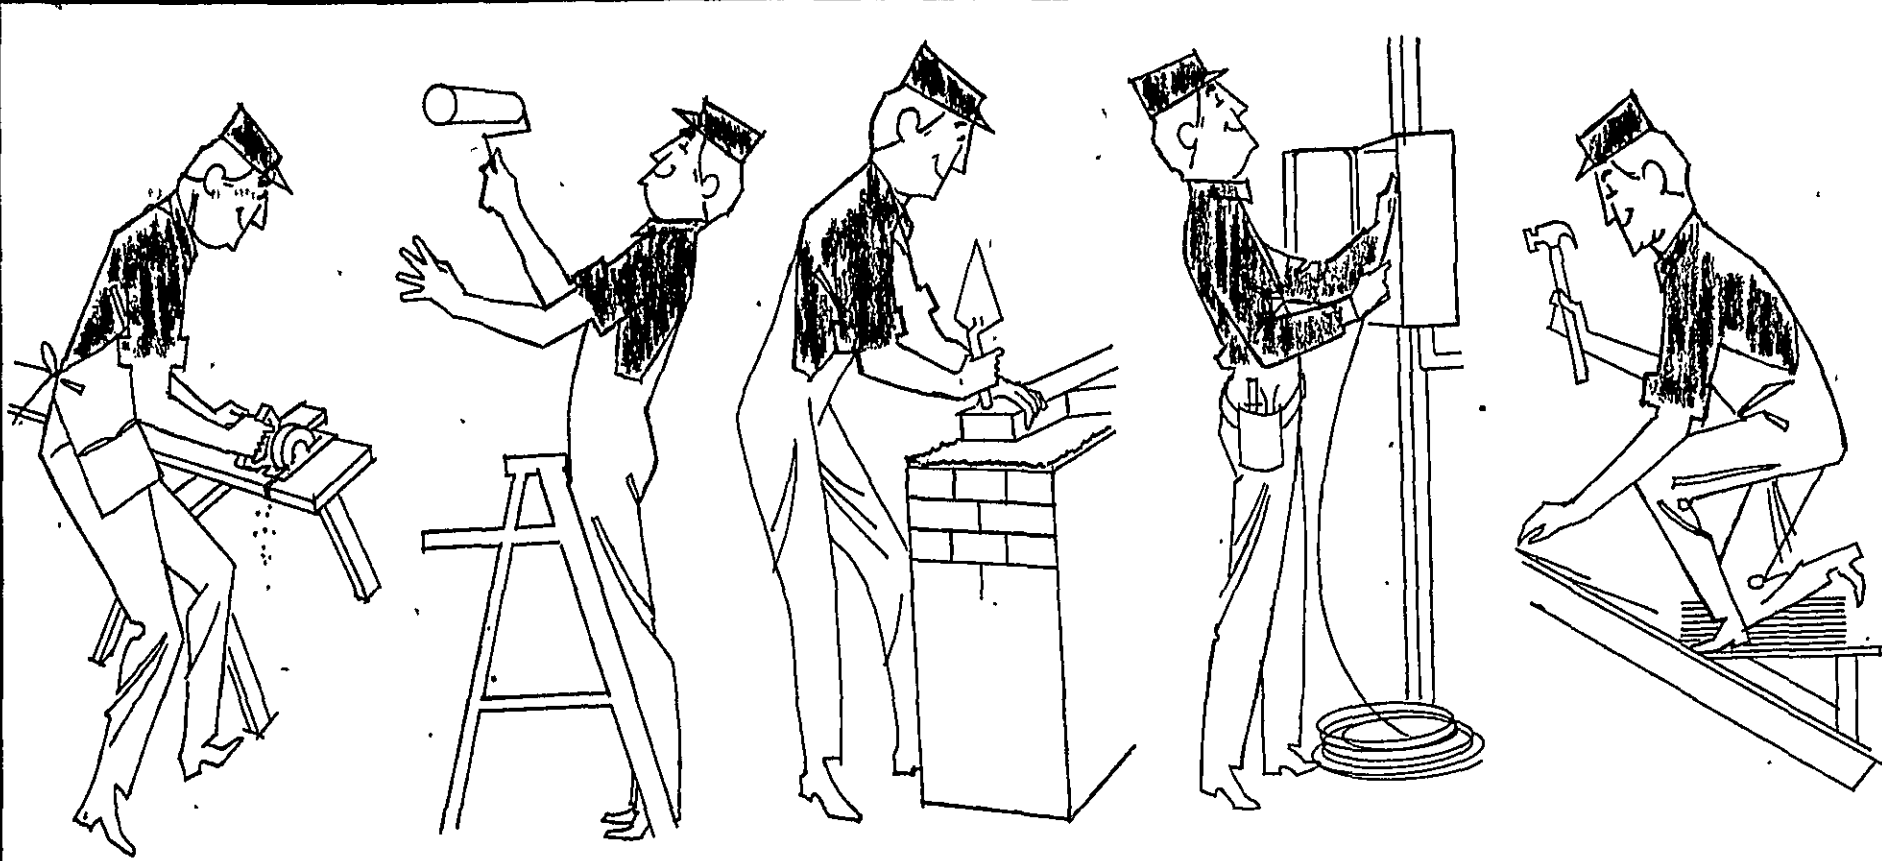

Legs should be supported to remain rigid under stress, and joints should be reinforced and glued. If the piece has webbing, it should be wide and closely woven.

Seat and back springs should be firmly attached. Arms on the outside edge of the frame should not have sharp edges. Also check underneath the skirt to see if the leg and foot are attached to the block or frame.

7. You depend upon upholstered furniture for comfort in sitting. A chair should be the right height for the person using it most. The height, width, depth and slant of the seat and back should be tested.

"The most important thing to remember in furnishing your home is to enjoy the experience," Miss Ward advised. "Don't feel pressured to 'Get it done.'"

By taking time to look around and learn what you really like, then studying each piece of wood furniture and upholstery carefully, she said, you will have a lovely home that "best suits your needs."

When You Rent Tools for Big Home Improvement Projects

Easy-to-rent professional tools and equipment now make it possible for the family handyman or woman to do a better-than-average job of home improvement, and save money in the process.

While the word is getting around that it is possible to rent practically anything these days from a champagne fountain to a wheel chair, it is not generally known that rental tools and equipment are of the professional variety in every sense of the word.

According to officials of A to Z Rental, Inc., which now has more than 500 rental centers open or in process of opening throughout the United States, many of the tools stocked for rental are the same as those obtainable only from professional suppliers.

Furniture and rug shampoos, for instance, are stronger and more effective than the weaker products found on supermarket shelves. Floor waxes are of the highest grade. These products are used in professional machines such as rug shampoos with 13- and 17-inch brushes portable scrubbers that take the work out of cleaning upholstered furniture, and floor maintainers with both scrubbing and polishing attachments. These rent for an average of $3 to $6 a day.

These rental centers make it a point, too, to stock the newest type of equipment in the decorating area, they now have a pressure paint roller that enables the do-it-yourselfer to roll on paint without dipping, sloping or dripping. The roller is constantly supplied with paint by means of harmless gas pressure, which forces the paint through a hose connecting the roller and the paint container.

It is of course, possible to rent the entire range of carpenter, plumbing and mechanic's tools at nominal prices. Often not even considered by the householder, however are the specialized tools used by the professionals for specific jobs.

Typical of these are: a power concrete trowel that, for about $10 a day, makes it possible to give a professional finish to a concrete slab for a cellar, patio or driveway in an hour or two, a nail gun for driving nails or studs through wood or composition into a concrete wall, and an electric screwdriver that can drive any number of screws to a pre-set tightness.

If the project is house painting, it is possible to rent a specialized siding sander for about $4 a day. This tool has guides that adjust to the siding width and desired sanding depth, and provides a smooth surface for the finish with a minimum of effort. Other essentials, such as ladders, hoses, paint guns and compressors, even paint pots, are available at low rental rates.

Aside from being a source for tools and equipment, A to Z Rental Centers have become centers of information for how-to-do-it advice. Satisfied renters provide information on their various projects to center owners. They in turn then pass it on to the uninitiated, and often come up with new uses that the highly skilled handyman can use as well.

Those cloudy streaks on dark polished furniture can be removed by wiping with a chamotte wrung out of cold water. Then polish with your usual furniture polish and the luster will be clear again.

MOORE — I would like to thank all of my relatives and friends for the lovely gifts, flowers, and cards they have sent me and for all their visits. I would also like to thank Doctors Wood, Poff, and Morris and the staff at Carson City Hospital for the very good care I received while in the hospital. A special thanks to my wonderful family for all their love and attention since I returned home. God Bless each and everyone of you! Sincerely, Wenda Moore 1-1-p-30

Carland

Carland's Extension Club met Wednesday evening to plan a Shiawassee County Fair-Booth Hodge-Podge for this coming Fall, Corunna-park, annual fair.

The Extension ladies met at the home of Mrs Larry Kadolph on Carland Road with nine members planning the final recipes to be turned in to Mrs Paul Darling to complete the cookbook that is to be sold at the Shiawassee County Fair this year, and each member choosing her part of the hodge-podge display for their Extension booth at the fair this year.

Sewn, knitted, crocheted, or other hand-made articles, along with vegetables from their home-gardens, baked goods, canned goods etc will be part of the hodge-podge.

The money raised from selling the cookbooks, which will contain recipes from all over Shiawassee County's Extension members, will go toward financing Shiawassee County's Extension projects, in the future.

Mrs Linda Austin was in charge of the lesson for the evening which she entitled, "Consumers Speak-Up". Mrs Austin followed a script with picture-slides, shown by Mr Larry Kadolph. The slides and script contained housewives doing daily chores with appliances faulting, plumbing problems, spoiled foods, etc and not really knowing what to do about it.

A leaflet, "The Consumer's Protection Agency", will be kept among the members of this Carland group of Extension ladies to be passed around to anyone who might have a problem and not know what to do about it; as Mrs Austin explained: "If the consumers do not speak out for themselves, who will?" This leaflet has a list of addresses to contact if you have contacted the person or company that you purchased the item from and have not received fair treatment.

Mrs Joan Gilbert is to begin the molds for the club's ceramic display, which will be displayed at the Shiawassee County Christmas workshop in November. The members will be working on these ceramic pieces at their meetings held from now until then, leaving time for each meeting's lesson and other matters that need their attention, avoiding that last minute rush to have the articles ready for the November deadline.

Mrs Kadolph served refreshments to the ladies before they dismissed with the assistance of Mrs Clyde Gilbert.

Mr and Mrs Raymond Thornton have sold their farm on Shepardsville Road to Mr and Mrs Dwight Nash of Ionia. The Thorntons have moved to 4780 West M 21.

Saturday April 13th Mr and Mrs Raymond Thornton entertained Mr and Mrs J. Thomas Leadler of Killern Texas and Mr and Mrs Charles H. Franke and sons and Betty Thornton of Lansing. The occasion was four fold - in observance of Easter, celebrating the 35th wedding anniversary of Mr and Mrs Thornton. It was also their last family meal at their farm home.

Approximately one hundred neighbors, friends and relatives gathered at the Colony Community Hall Friday evening for a farewell party for Mr and Mrs Raymond Thornton. Following a bountiful pot-luck supper the evening was spent reminiscing.

Eagle News

Mr and Mrs Fred VanAmburg and family returned Saturday after a 10 day visit with her folks, Mr and Mrs Orvil Bennett, in Oklahoma.

If you were near Eagle Saturday, you would have seen a lot of boys along the roadsides. They were Scout Troop 553 from the Eagle area picking up trash. The question they asked was "Why do people throw things along the roadside?" Mostly beer cans. It surely looks bad. Why? Thanks to all the scouts, their leaders and parents, who helped make a little bit of America beautiful. Let's all help keep it this way.

After the clean up, the Eagle Merchants Assn treated the boys to a hot dog roast at the Fred VanAmburg home. The Boy Scouts and their fathers made cakes from scratch - no mixes - and then decorated them. There were 18 entries. They were judged and prizes were given as follows: 1st prize for best decor was Douglas Kimmel, 2nd prize for best decor was Mark Spitzley; 1st prize for most original decor was Greg Manshum; 2nd prize for most original decor was Eric Falar. All trophies were donated by Herm of Herms Freezer plant. The cakes were then auctioned off by Tom Westphal. The lowest price received was $2.75, the highest was $8.50. This all took place at the town hall Monday night.

Pool jobs open

DeWitt township minutes

The synopsis of the regular meeting of the DeWitt Township Board held on April 22, 1974 at the Township Hall, 780 E. Wieland Road, Lansing, Michigan.

The meeting was called to order by Supervisor Emerson at 8:01 pm.

Board members present: Emerson, Syverson, Angeli, Purves, Pline, Corr and Kzeski. The meeting was opened with the Pledge of Allegiance.

The agenda was approved with some changes.

Public comments: The residents of Hazel and Hannah Streets complained that last Friday night no tickets were issued to the person driving a motorcycle in their area. Chief Nash will check with the officer that was on duty and report back. There was a discussion about the way the State Police answer the phone and dispatch the officers. Bruce E. Angeli Sr. complained about the way the Clerk certified the recall petitions and accused the Clerk of making up her own election laws. There was a discussion on the cleanup that is to be done by DeWitt Excavating. The Board has requested a schedule of the work that will be done.

The Transportation Committee minutes were reviewed. The Committee changed their meeting to May 15, 1974 for this month.

The fire report and the pager report were given by Pline. There was a discussion about the pagers.

The Parks Commission minutes were reviewed. The work on the shelter is about half completed. There will be a public hearing on the rules for the park at the June Park Commission meeting. There was a discussion on an overpass over US 27 near State Road. Kris Robke was appointed to the Parks Commission.

The police report was given by Corr and discussed. Tabled action on compensation for the Chief for working holidays. Voted to have Robert A. Crane dispatch for the Police Department on a volunteer basis after the background check is complete. Approved Richard James Abbott and Carl Gallagher as the two officers to be hired as approved at Annual meeting.

There was a short recess. When the meeting was called back to order the Meiserson

Liaison helps federal woes

ST. JOHNS - Have a problem with the federal government? Getting a run-around from the IRS, CIA, FBI, HUD, HEW, etc?

Well, there's a man to talk to and he's in St. Johns once a month.

That man is Ronald W. Stolz, liaison to Congressman Elford A. Cederberg.

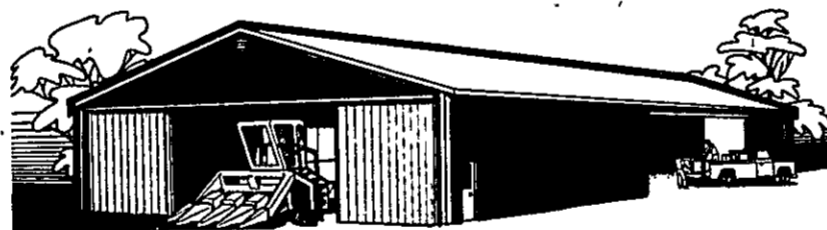

This month he will be at the Clinton County Courthouse Monday April 29 from 3-4 pm to listen to your problems. Those visiting Stolz should take with them any documents involved with their particular matter.

Let's not penalize earnings by our "Older Americans"

Ed Note: The following is a statement by Lloyd Wright, American Association of Retired Persons.

So many special days and months have been designated to honor so many groups and events that we rarely note the occasions. But May, "Older Americans Month," merits attention for what this segment of our population has done—and is doing—for our nation and what our nation now needs to do for them.

As we approach America's 200th anniversary, if there is something truly worth celebrating about our nation, surely those whom the month honors deserve much of the credit. They are the ones who fought our wars, built our cities and proved the dynamic quality of both our form of government and our economic institutions in periods of depression and abundance.

But we honor them not at all if we think only of their past contribution. For they represent one of our nation's most valuable resources. Their wisdom and experience and talent is needed in every area of national life.

What our nation most needs to do for them today is to expand their opportunities for involvement; to remove from our society every vestige of age-discrimination. Our goal should be to insure for older Americans the same freedom of choice which they enjoyed in earlier life—in work, housing, transportation and leisure.

Through such organizations as the American Association of Retired Persons—the nation's largest nonprofit group of older citizens with more than six million members—they are taking charge of their own fate, as they did for our nation in earlier years.

That organization is currently engaged in a campaign to remove from the Social Security law the earnings limitation provision which penalizes those aged 65 to 72 who need to work to supplement inadequate retirement income. Under current law, retired persons in that age group lose $1 for every $2 they earn above $2,400 per year. But wealthy retirees with unlimited "unearned income" from investments or stock dividends can still draw full benefits.

The result, of course, is not only to deny those older citizens the income they need for survival but also to rob them of the sense of meaningful identity that flows from productive work.

Congress—and the nation—can truly honor older Americans by removing this gross inequity in the Social Security law, along with every other provision of law or practice that robs them of their dignity and independence.

Taylor challenges Ballenger to debate

LANSING -- Republican Candidate for Congress, Clifford Taylor (R-Lansing) recently welcomed his first opponent into the August primary race in the 6th District and immediately challenged him to "step forward and debate the issues."

On the heels of State Senator William Ballenger's announcement that he would also seek the Republican nomination in the 6th District, candidate Taylor, who announced last January, challenged his opponent to "make good his stated desire to run an issue oriented campaign by engaging in a series of debates."

"I believe there are 2 basic differences between Mr Ballenger and myself," Taylor stated, "they are the questions of electability and our positions on the issues."

Taylor charged that Ballenger has "seriously hampered his ability to seek the public trust by recent questionable activities which include a political mailing outside of his present State district, and a last minute change of residence to within the boundaries of the 6th District.

"These activities are going to make it difficult for Ballenger to ask all the voters of this district to entrust him with the responsibility of representing

The 4-H members and parents along with leaders and all interested in beautifying the area will assemble on the fairgrounds at 9 am on that morning.

Plans are for a pot-luck dinner to be held at noon. Please bring rakes, shovels, pick-up-trucks and any other useful equipment.

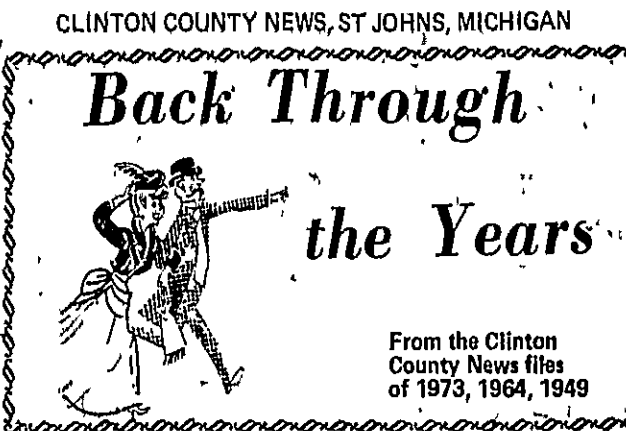

4-H'ers are also urged to beautify their own homes, communities, etc. by painting, planting shrubs, and flowers, as well as getting rid of all litter, junk cars, and other unsightly objects.

The theme of Michigan's 1974 "4-H Exploration Days" at Michigan State University from June 20-22 is "Wide Horizons of Four-H". The program will feature training in hundreds of new and creative activities.

Four-H leaders in this area are reminded that it is time to get their 4-H clubs organized for summer activities in gardening, vegetables, flowers, and many other summer projects. Soil and water conservation,

"I believe there are some very basic differences between Ballenger and myself on the issues, especially in the area of the responsibilities of the federal government, and I believe that it will be of benefit to the voters of this district to know where we both stand on these important issues," Taylor said.

Back Through the Years

From the Clinton County News files of 1973, 1964, 1949

ONE YEAR AGO
May 2, 1973
Last Thursday's bloodmobile contest between Fowler and Westphalia resulted in a 5 point victory for Westphalia with a close score of 123-118 pints donated.

National derby officials have announced that there will be a National Soap Box Derby race in Akron, Ohio this year. Citizens of the city of DeWitt will go to the polls June 26 to determine whether a recall election will be held in the city.

The St Johns Rotary will be hosting its annual Youth Talent and Hobby Show May 2-5 at the St Johns Municipal Building. This is the 25th year for the event, with over 400 entries expected.

In an April 23 letter to Daniel Elliott, DeWitt city administrator, DeWitt Police Chief Charles Anderson announced his resignation, stating in part "... the present administration has made it impossible to continue to be employed by the city of DeWitt."

Larry Patrick, program and news director for St Johns Radio Station WRBJ has been named Michigan Week chairman for St Johns.

TEN YEARS AGO
April 30, 1964
Daniel R. Droste, 23, of Westphalia was killed instantly about 6:45 am last Friday when the car he was driving ran off I 96 six miles west of Lansing and crashed into a concrete abutment supporting an overhead expressway sign. State police who investigated the accident said he apparently went to sleep while on his way to work at Oldsmobile division in Lansing and hit the structure traveling at full speed.

A portion of the Sheridan Road school district is now in the city of Lansing and the remainder is still in DeWitt Building as the result of a complicated annexation vote conducted Tuesday in DeWitt and Lansing townships and the city of Lansing. A plan to obtain Federal assistance on the proposed Maple River Drain project overcame its first major hurdle April 17 when the State Soil Conservation committee in its regular meeting approved two applications for Federal and submitted by the sponsors of the plan under Public Law 5266, the Small Watersheds act.

The St Johns city commission met in special session Tuesday night to consider a proposed budget for fiscal 1964-65 of $1,464,200.

25 YEARS AGO
April 28, 1949
Two young men drowned shortly after midnight Saturday when their auto caromed out of control along a 180 foot bridge at Hubbardston after they had returned from a Carson City dance. The car shot 50 feet out into Fish Creek at the northwestern edge to submerge in nine feet of water and mud. The victims were the driver, John E. Cunningham, 20, of Hubbardston who was employed at the Oldsmobile plant at Lansing and his passenger, Robert L. Stoddard, 21, Fowler farmer.

At the Clinton M.E.A. meeting held at Sheridan Road School on Tuesday evening, a portrait of the late Bryan J. Wilber was presented by the Clinton County rural teachers to be placed in the county school superintendent's office.

Judge Paul R. Cash of the Clinton-Gratiot circuit, will preside at the much publicized trial of Ivan Johnston, former Macomb county state senator and prosecuting attorney, who is accused of accepting a $100 bribe.

Formal organization of the Clinton County United Health and Welfare Fund was completed at a meeting of the county, held at the Municipal Building in St Johns last Thursday evening.

"If It Fitz . . . Little people remind us

Editor, Lapeer County Press "By Jim Fitzgerald

The Little People came and I was reminded again of several important things, including how much fun it is to skin the cat once or twice but not all day, for Lord's sake, not all day . . .

First the grandchildren came to visit. That means 4-year-old Michele and 16-month-old Melissa. Naturally, they are unusual children and, like it or not, I am going to tell you about them (The boys at the Alibi Bar are now turning to the next page. I can't be Peck's Bad Boy every week, fellows).

Michele is the world's biggest ham. A camera clicks 5 miles away and she automatically poses. My wife has taken so many snapshots of her she could make one of those Walt Disney nature films that record a plant's growth minute by minute. Flip through our photo file and see an infant grow into a kindergartner before your very eyes in just 5 minutes. Drive downtown and see the handsome drugstore financed by the poor sap who pays to have the film developed.

Melissa is husky from continual exercise. She gets the exercise hunting food and cramming it down her gullet. I won't say she has thick thighs, but she has already been drafted by the Detroit Lions. She is probably the world's only 16-month-old granddaughter who weighs more than her grandfather. Some day she will make some lucky man a wonderful steam shovel.

THAT'S THEM. But that's not all. A few days later my sister and her family came calling. This was not Terrible Jean who is my oldest sister. This was Dumb Linda, my youngest sister. Linda is not really dumb in the usual meaning of the word. She can read and write and charm. It's just that she's never had time to keep up with current events. I remember my dear father advising Linda as she prepared to cast her first vote in a Presidential election. "She was surprised to hear about the death of Abraham Lincoln," he told me later.

Anyway, Linda is young enough to still be productive in fields left fallow by her ancient siblings (The boys in the Alibi Bar wouldn't understand that sentence anyway). On Easter she and husband Tony introduced us to their 10-day-old son. And he has 3 big brothers, but none bigger than 7 years. When they all arrived at the front door I thought /the nursery class had been excommunicated from the church across the street.

But those 3 little boys are a platoon confined to barracks. They don't make a move without an advance OK from Sgt Linda who could teach Hitler how to goose step. They say please and thank you and pardon me. They clean up their messes and they don't touch their dessert until they've finished their potatoes. After they left I kicked both my teenagers in the shins 5 times simply because it seemed like the right thing to do.

Get this: 7-year-old nephew Tommy was warned not to eat some candy because he'd spoil his dinner. "I would spoil my appetite, not my dinner," he said. "The dinner will be the same no matter what I eat before it."

GEEZ. He reads to his mother every night before she goes to sleep.

But I started to tell you about skinning the cat. Do you know how it's done? I'm an expert, so I'll tell you. You get a little kid to stand in front of you and wrap his hands around your thumbs. He then walks straight up your legs and stomach. Pretty quick his shoes are at your chin and his head is near your belt. You then flip him into a backward somersault and he lands on his feet with much laughing and pleas to "do it again." This is skinning the cat. 3 skins are fun but 15 are exhausting and 50 in 1 day are impossible for a man over 40.

The best thing about skinning the cat for grandfathers is it gives you much opportunity to hug the kid and nuzzle her neck and smell her fragrance and feel again the best feeling of all and remember how it used to be.

To the Editor

Dear Sir: Commencement! June 9? June 16? June 9? June 12? This has been the question since the Christmas holiday vacation?

Cooperation! Another word. Parents and students are continually admonished to cooperate. Evidently this does not apply to teachers and school.

The teacher did not complain about the extra days added to their vacation in December, but in June they cannot remain a few extra days so the students can graduate after exams have been written. What does commencement mean to a class who has to return the following day to write exams?

I see a different picture for June 9. The state will be set. The Board of Directors and the principal will take their assigned places. A few faculty members will be fluttering about. Possibly, the band will be present.

But, where oh where are the Seniors. AT HOME having decided that commencement exercises with unsigned diplomas can't be all that important.

The parents? They are at home too. Completely agreeing with this decision.

Yours truly,
Mrs R. Divereaux
St Johns

Stain Soothers Eye

Impatient homeowners who can't wait through the ugly duckling stage of weathering a cedar fence or deck can give nature a hand by applying a single coat of exterior quality driftwood stain to the structure. Weathering will continue and eventually bestow the prized silver patina.

4-H Chatter

By JOHN AYLSWORTH

NORTH CAROLINA EXCHANGE DELEGATES
Eleven Clinton County 4-H members have been selected as delegates to the 4-H Interstate Exchange trip to Rockingham County, North Carolina July 5-13 this summer. The 4-H'ers are: Linda Bappert, Pauline Kissane, Jeanne Striz, Brian Van Vleet, Lorene Tait and Dorella Martin of St Johns; Therese Palmiter, Barbara Lehman and Cindy Lehman of Grand Ledge, Connie Cordes of Lansing and Leanne Thelen of Fowler.

These delegates will join 22 other 4-H'ers from Gratiot and Shiawassee County making up a bus load from this area. Mrs. George Hazle of St Johns will be one of the adult chaperones from Clinton County. While in North Carolina, each 4-H'er will live one week with a North Carolina 4-H family learning about their way of life, 4-H program and state. Next year the North Carolina 4-H'ers will visit our county.

4-H Interstate Exchange trips to other states and countries such as Minnesota, North Carolina and Canada in the past have been very well received. Many of the families still visit each other and keep in contact on what is happening. An orientation meeting for the group will be held on Wednesday, June 12, 8:00 pm at Smith Hall in St Johns.

DETROIT TRIP WINNERS
Letters went out this week to the 4-H members who won the Detroit trip on Saturday, May 11. The group of 50 girls and leaders will visit Greenfield Village, eat lunch at the "Top of the Flame Restaurant" and see a stage play "River Niger" at the Fisher Theatre. This day's experience will provide the girls with an education showing American history come to life, eating at a nice restaurant overlooking Canada and downtown Detroit and seeing a top notch stage play.

YANKEE SPRINGS TRIP
This past weekend April 26-28, 85 4-H members and leaders participated in the Yankee Springs 4-H trip award weekend west of Hastings. The weather cooperated very well with three days of warm weather. The group had a morning hike to the "Devil's Soup Bowl", enjoyed indoor and outdoor recreation and a weekend of fun recreation and leadership. Some of the group went swimming on Saturday.

Two additional 4-H clubs "Sewing Basket and Fowler Fireballs" were recognized as 4-H honor clubs this past winter bringing the total to seven. The Honor Club Recognition is given to all clubs who score a minimum number of points for club activities and accomplishments this past winter.

Carland
Mrs Cyril Simpson has returned to her home in Carland, after spending most of the winter in Arizona with her sister-in-law, Mrs Ken Tator. Mrs K. Tator returned with Mrs Simpson to spend a few spring and summer months here with Mrs Simpson and visiting other relatives nearby. Mrs K. Tator lost her husband early in the winter.

Former residents of this area, Mr and Mrs Otis Chapin, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in Ionia, Saturday evening, at the VFW Hall. Residents of this area attending were, Mr and Mrs Leo Deming of Carland and Mr and Mrs Lewis Walling of Elsie. The evening dinner and dance was hosted by the Chapin's four daughters and their families, who all live in or near Ionia. Mr and Mrs Everett Reneaud of Carland are the proud parents of a nine pound baby girl, born Sunday pm in the Lansing General Hospital. Mrs Reneaud is the former Lennis Sloat of Carland. Carl Wahlstrom, owner of the Carland General Store, has returned to his home in Carland this week after having undergone surgery on his nose recently in the Owosso Memorial Hospital.

The other five 4-H honor clubs were the Nimble Fingers, Bengal Community, Green Acres, Jolly Knitters and Knit 'N Stitch 4-H clubs.

BENGAL SIGN-UP
The Bengal Community 4-H club members will hold their summer program sign up Monday, May 6, 7:30 pm at the St Johns Junior High School. If any member plans to join but is unable to be present on May 6, he or she should contact Marie Thelen 224-3813. Members of the Bengal Community 4-H Club will go 4-H roller skating on Thursday, May 16, 7-10 pm at the Ranch Roller Rink in St Johns.

SWINGIN BINGHAM OFFICERS
The Swingin Bingham 4-H members have elected officers for the 1974 Summer Program. The officers are: Rod Thornton - President; Cindy Thornton - Vice President; Pauline Kissane - Secretary-Treasurer; Gary Mayer and Bill Race - Game Leaders. The members enrolled for summer projects and started their roadside litter cleanup after the business meeting.

BOWLING PARTY
The Snoopy Snoopers 4-H members voted to have a bowling party on May 3. The club members participated in the roadside cleanup project on April 20 and are signed up for their summer projects. The club held their second meeting on April 30 under the leadership of Mr and Mrs Paul Love.

GOGETTER OFFICERS
The DeWitt Gogetters 4-H members elected officers for the summer program and made out enrollment cards. A committee was appointed to work out plans for the club's participation in the DeWitt Ox Roast in August. The members worked on the roadside cleanup project on Saturday, April 27 in the DeWitt area.

EUROPE & CHALLENGE
The Happy Hustlers 4-H Club members enjoyed the slides shown by Jean Welch on her camping trip through Europe. She told the group about the New 4-H Wilderness Camp Program called "Challenge." Slides were shown by Katie Aylsworth on 4-H Exploration Days Programs June 20-22 at MSU in East Lansing. Several of the members plan on attending a number plan on attending 4-H Action Day on June 22 only. Edna Schaefer the organizational leader passed out certificates, told who won trips and who made the honor roll and introduced a number of new members. Lynn Banninga told what items the arts and crafts members were covering.

WILD RIDERS ELECTION
The Wild Riders 4-H members elected officers for the coming year. The new officers are: Sandy Webster - President; Lori Webster - Vice President; Karen Green - Secretary-Treasurer; and Glen Baese - Newsreporter. The club members voted to hold a meeting once a month and they held a practice session on April 27. Dues will be 25 cents each business meeting. The members joined the Merry Craftsmen 4-H members in a roadside cleanup project April 20 and ended up in the Colony for lunch.

FIRST YEAR HONOR CLUB
The Fowler Fireballs 4-H members held their final 4-H club winter meeting and learned they were the only first year club to become an honor club. Every member in the club participated in the April 20 roadside cleanup project and when finished enjoyed a picnic lunch. Larry Faksi will be the 4-H softball leader for the club as he explained the difference in the 4-H white and green league and the total 4-H softball project. Marilyn Rice, 4-H Program Assistant, showed slides about 4-H Exploration Days helping kids to know what 4-H was all about.

CITY COMMISSION MEETING MINUTES

April 8, 1974
 The regular meeting of the St. Johns City Commission was called to order by Mayor Wood at 7:30 pm.
 Comm Present: Arehart, Ebert, Hannah, Wilcox, Wood.
 Comm Absent: None.
 Staff Present: Weatherwax, Humphrey, Maples.
 Comm Arehart offered a correction to the minutes of March 25, 1974.
 Motion by Comm Ebert, supported by Comm Hannah to approve the minutes of March 25, 1974 as amended. Motion carried.
 The clerk asked the Commission to make a correction to the warrants list.
 Motion by Comm Ebert, supported by Comm Wilcox to approve the warrants. Motion carried.
 The Mayor asked for additions or corrections to the agenda.
 The Mayor made two additions to the agenda.
 Motion by Comm Ebert supported by Comm Arehart to approve the agenda as amended. Motion carried.
 The City Manager read a written request for the local VFW Post 4113 requesting the Commission to purchase the flags used to mark the graves of deceased veterans and also requested permission to sell poppies in the City on May 16-18, 1974. Motion by Comm Hannah, supported by Comm Wilcox to authorize the City to purchase the flags and further to grant permission for them to sell poppies May 16-18, and to waive all fees and permits. Motion carried.
 The City Clerk read a written communication from several property owners on North Oakland Street concerning drainage and run-off problems they are experiencing. Discussion followed. The City Attorney stated it was his opinion that the matter was civil in nature.
 Motion by Comm Ebert, supported by Comm Wilcox to authorize the City Attorney to contact the parties which had signed the request and suggest they perhaps contact private council concerning this matter. Motion carried.
 The City Manager introduced Mr. Dick Bush of Williams and Works who presented a report which was to update the City Commission as to the status of several projects.

 Discussion followed.
 Motion by Comm Hannah, supported by Comm Ebert to accept and adhere to the schedule proposed by the financial consultant concerning the Bond Issue.
 Motion by Comm Wilcox, supported by Comm Arehart that the plans, specifications and economic estimates be received from Williams and Works by April 22 for the Commission's review and that a meeting be held April 23 to act upon the materials. Motion carried.
 The City Clerk read a request from the St. Johns Lion Club asking permission to conduct their annual Lions White Cane Sale in St. Johns May 3-4, 1974; that the Mayor issue a proclamation designating April 28-May 4 as Lions White Cane Week; and requested permission to have the Lions White Cane Flag flown at City Hall during White Cane Week.
 Motion by Comm Wilcox, supported by Comm Ebert to grant the Lions Club requests and to waive all fees for their White Cane Sale. Motion carried.
 Mayor Wood offered a proclamation regarding observance of April 23 - May 4, 1974 as Lions White Cane Week.
 Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Torpey, Jr. of 505 Oak Street presented a communication signed by persons granting Mrs. Torpey permission to have a single-chair Beauty Shop in her home as long as no evidence shows from the street.
 Motion by Comm Ebert, supported by Comm Arehart to refer the request to the Planning Commission for their recommendations. Motion carried.
 Discussion followed concerning the May 20th Mayors Exchange Day activities.
 Motion by Comm Ebert supported by Comm Wilcox to appoint Mrs. Nancy Wells to be Chairperson of the 1974 Mayors Exchange Day Committee. Motion carried.
 Mr. Walter Pierce, Chairman of the St. Johns Board of Appeals, appeared before the Commission regarding the Commission's request that the Board of Appeals change their meeting time to evenings. As of this time, no definite decision had been made regarding the Commission's request, therefore, Mr. Pierce stated he would meet again with his Board to discuss the possibility of a six month trial period for the evening meetings.
 The City Manager read a request from the Soap Box Derby Committee requesting permission to block off streets involved in the Soap Box Derby for the hours of the derby.

 Motion by Comm Wilcox, supported by Comm Ebert to authorize the City Attorney to draft the appropriate resolution for the closing of said streets, and further to grant permission for the holding of the 1974 Soap Box Derby in the City of St. Johns. Motion carried.
 Walter Pierce then requested that the Commission, if they so desired, provide some financial backing for the Derby as the Chevrolet Division of GMC no longer finances the event and the cost of operation has risen. He further stated that he was here as an individual, not on behalf of the Jaycees.
 Motion by Comm Wilcox, supported by Comm Ebert to instruct the City Attorney to research the legalities of spending public funds on a private activity and to report back to the Commission at the next meeting. Motion carried.
 The City Clerk presented recommendations from the St. Johns Planning Commission recommending several amendments to Ordinance No. 245 regarding square footage requirements in certain areas.
 Commission Ebert gave his recommendations. Discussion followed.
 Motion by Comm Ebert, supported by Comm Hannah to refer the Planning Commission's request back to them along with Comm Ebert's recommendations for their consideration. Motion carried.
 The City Manager stated he had received complaints concerning sidewalks promised by the builder to the new residents in the area of Oak Street and Clinton Avenue.
 The residents complained that the sidewalks had been promised and as to date, had not been installed. The City Attorney stated he felt the matter was of a civil nature.
 Motion by Comm Hannah, supported by Comm Ebert to authorize the City Manager to write the developer to inform him of complaints received regarding sidewalks on Oak Street and Clinton Avenue and also correspond to this action to the property owners involved. Motion carried.
 Motion by Comm Hannah, supported by Comm Ebert to adjourn. Motion carried.
 Meeting adjourned 9:25 pm.

Shepardsville

Morning Star Chapter 279 OES and Elsie Chapter 69 held their combined Friends' night on Thursday evening, April 18 at the Ovid Masonic Temple. There were over 150 guests present from Owosso, Lyons, Laingsburg, Ashley, DeWitt, St. Johns, St. Charles, Wacousta, Vernon, Breckenridge, Flint, Chesaning, Flushing, Dowagiac and Lansing.
 Introduced were Past Grand Worthy Patron, Fred Young, of Dowagiac. Young is 90 years old and is the oldest Worthy Grand Patron in Michigan. He is the brother-in-law of Ovid's Worthy Matron; Calista Reed; Dorothy Kadalph, Grand Representative; the Worthy Matrons and Worthy Patrons of the several chapters; County Officers from Clinton, Shiawassee, Ingham, Isabella-Gratiot, and Saginaw Bay; Guardians of Job's Daughters from DeWitt and St. Charles and Guardian from St. Johns Rainbow Girls. The Ovid and Elsie officers then introduced their guests.
 The meeting opened with all repeating the Lord's prayer and the Pledge of Allegiance. Several announcements were made regarding up-coming activities in the various chapters.
 Mrs. Fred Young, sister of the Ovid Worthy Matron presented the program. She showed slides and told of the dresses worn by the first ladies of our country for their inaugural balls. The slides are from the Smithsonian Institute. In her narration she told many humorous and touching incidents in the lives of these women. The last few slides showed how these beautiful dresses are displayed in the Smithsonian Institute.
 The Elsie chapter presided over the musical portion of the program. Norma Johnson of Arbutus Chapter lead the singing of Enjoy Yourself, Its Later than You Think, Sweet Violets, and closed this part of the program with all singing May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You.
 The meeting closed with all repeating the Mispah Benediction.
 Refreshments of sandwiches, cake, and jello were served in the dining room on tables decorated with the symbols of the worthy matrons of both chapters. Mrs. Young also had some miniature dolls of the first ladies on the tables. The refreshment committee, consisted of 5 couples from each chapter.

View from the Senate

By SEN. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

Nothing in recent years has angered such a large segment of Michigan citizens as a federal government proposal to abandon 2,200 miles of railroad track in the Lower Peninsula. Hearings on the proposal to slash 37 percent of the state's rail lines have been held in several places in Michigan and at each hearing angry testimony has been put into the record opposing it.

Federal bureaucrats in Washington are not noted for listening to the people in the hustings — their ukase on mandatory seat and shoulder harness use is a good example — and all the protests in the world may not deter the meddlers from wrecking a vital link in Michigan's transportation system, but at least the federal braintrusts will know how Michigan people feel about their latest brainstorm.

In testimony before the US Senate Subcommittee on Transportation recently, the Governor said:

"Michigan intends to protect itself from actions, such as the Department of Transportation's proposal, which could cripple many communities throughout this state.

"The proposal does not take into account Michigan's unique peninsular geography, for example.

"Almost completely surrounded by water, Michigan is vitally concerned with maintaining and improving our cross-lake rail linkages. This element has not been appropriately considered in the plan."

Bill Rowden of Traverse City, Executive Director of the Northwestern Michigan Planning and Development Commission, told the Interstate Commerce Commission that at least two major employers in the Traverse area would be forced to close if they were denied rail service. They are the Purvis Bros Steel Corp and Burwood Products Co.

Samuel Work of Crosswell, a member of the Sanilac County Board of Commissioners, told commission representatives that shippers in the Thumb area need more, not less, railroad service. He said shortage of railroad cars has forced the big Michigan Sugar Co plant at Crosswell to use trucks.

Michael Steward of the Hillsdale City Industrial Development Commission said Hillsdale firms would use railroads more if they could get railroad cars. He said one firm, which had shipped 21 cars of freight this year, could have shipped 25 more carloads but couldn't get the rolling stock.

John Woodford, Director of the State Highway and Transportation Department, pointed to one vital flaw in the federal proposal.

He said abandonment of rail lines in northwestern lower Michigan would result in ending the last rail link to the Upper Peninsula and railroad ferry service across Lake Michigan to Wisconsin.

Michigan residents will be watching with great interest — and no little apprehension — the ultimate decision of Washington on the fate of railroads in our state.

Keep cool without air conditioning

Chloe Padgett
Clinton County Home Economist

How will you keep your cool this summer? Air conditioning may look like the only choice. But is it?

"There are a lot of ways to increase your comfort this summer without air conditioning," says Jim Boyd, extension housing specialist at Michigan State University.

Installing insulation and storm windows and keeping drapes or shades closed will help keep summer heat out, the specialist says. Using range kitchen and bathroom fans to remove excess heat and moisture from the air will help, too.

Avoid using TV sets, lights and household appliances that give off a lot of heat, and take advantage of mild evening temperatures to cook outdoors on the grill.

Fans can be very important in your attempt to beat the heat, Dr Boyd points out.

"Air in an attic is often at least 25 degrees warmer than the rest of the house," he says. "An attic fan to remove that hot air blanket will help keep the rest of the house cooler."

It can also be used at night to push hot attic air outside. As the hot air goes out, cool air flows in through open windows.

The major drawback to an attic fan is it must be installed permanently in your home so some construction is necessary. You can't take it with you if you move.

Window fans also work on the principle of exchanging the warm air inside for the cooler air outside and are easier to install and can be removed.

"Portable room fans cool you by blowing air across your skin to speed the evaporation of moisture," Dr Boyd explains. They tend to be the least expensive and noisiest type of fan.

A disadvantage of all fans, of course, is they can't cool your home any cooler than the outside temperature. They also draw dust and pollen into the home.

"A good attic fan plus installation charges may cost as much as a room air conditioner," Dr Boyd points out. "But a fan uses much less energy to operate than an air conditioner. As energy costs continue to rise, this energy savings will become increasingly important."

A SURE WAY TO CUT FOOD COSTS

You're concerned about holding down your weekly food bills. Kroger shares your concern! But supermarkets have no control over the wholesale costs we must pay — and when those costs go up, they must eventually be reflected in retail prices.

At Kroger, we offer several of our own fine brands. You'll see our own name, "Kroger," on most of them. Other high-quality Kroger brands include such familiar names as Country Club, Royal Viking, or Yubi. Strict specifications for these products call for quality equal to or better than the national brand most people buy.

There is a way you can cut your food bills right away...and without sacrificing quality or flavor. Food shopping experts across the nation recommend that you buy your supermarket's own brands. These offer quality equal to the nation's best-selling brands, yet are usually priced lower.

And remember...every product sold at Kroger is Guaranteed Unconditionally. If you're not pleased, we'll replace it or give your money back. So why not try the Kroger Brands? You've nothing to lose and a lot to gain.
