County value up $5 million

ST. JOHNS—The Clinton County Board of Commissioners Tuesday approved a $5 million hike in the county's total equalized valuation, during a regular board session.

The new equalized valuation for 1971 will stand at $159,802,009, a jump of almost $5 million from last year's mark of $154,857,182. It was also about $3.5 million higher than the total assessment of board of review which set the valuation at $156,295,058.

In releasing the figures, signed by the county equalization committee of Gerald Lankford, Duane Chamberlain, Walter Nobis and Andrew Cobb, the board divided the valuation into two segments including real property and personal property.

Only two governmental units were assessed an equalization factor. St. Johns was given a 1.187 factor, a dip from last year's 1.188 figure under real property. Watertown Township was given a factor of 1.046, a jump from the 1970 figure of 1.038.

The factor for Bath Township was dropped this year after some controversy in 1970 in which township officials expressed displeasure at the factor rate. They had been assessed a 1.015 factor.

Clinton County's real property was valued at $136,429,116 and personal property was valued at $23,372,893.

DeWitt Township was valued the highest set at 19.2976 percent of the total county valuation. The township's total equalized valuation was set at $30,837,950.

Next in line was St. Johns with a figure of $22,525,300 (assessed) and $25,526,182 (equalized). It was 15.9736 percent of the total equalized valuation.

The complete list of total equalized figures include: Bath Township, $11,357,450 (7.1072 percent of total); Bangor Township, $4,014,010 (2.5119 percent); Bingham Township, $6,129,284 (3.8356 percent); Dallas Township, $6,571,900 (4.1125 percent); DeWitt Township, $30,837,950 (19.2976 percent); Duplain Township, $7,643,827 (4.7833 percent); Eagle Township, $5,866,600 (3.6712 percent); Essex Township, $3,702,753 (2.3171 percent); Greenbush Township, $5,028,705 (3.1468 percent); Lebanon Township, $2,406,100 (1.5069 percent).

Olive Township, $6,259,900 (3.9173 percent); Ovid Township, $9,701,518 (6.0710 percent); Riley Township, $4,354,700 (2.7251 percent); Victor Township, $4,971,994 (3.1113 percent); Watertown Township, $14,345,436 (8.9770 percent); Westphalia, $5,810,000 (3.6357 percent); DeWitt City, $5,271,800 (3.2988 percent); St. Johns City, $25,526,182 (15.9736 percent); Lansing City, $100 (0.0001 percent); total units, 159,802,009 (100.00 percent).

DeWitt schools plan 8.5 mill renewal vote

DEWITT—A resolution to hold a June election for the renewal of an 8.5 school millage was passed by the DeWitt School Board at the regular meeting April 27.

The election, to be held on June 14, will ask voters to renew the current millage levy that will expire this year.

Also on the ballot will be the election of a board member for a four year term.

James Decatur, who presently holds the post, will seek re-election to the board. Other candidates for the position will be announced on May 17.

Appearing on a separate ballot will be the election of trustees to the Lansing

Community College Board of Trustees and approval of an increase in the millage of LCC from one to two mills.

In other action the board approved: —the resignation of Mrs. Nancy Gossman, a four year teacher in the DeWitt system.

—three policy changes including the requirement of a physical exam for six grade students before entering middle school. Special means of earning high school credits that follow the rules of the North Central Association and clarification of a teacher's job were also approved policy changes.

Final countdown begins for Soap Box Derby

ST. JOHNS—Preparations are in the final stages for the annual Soap Box Derby to be held here Sunday, May 23.

According to John Arehart, derby director, there is a possibility that as many as 80 boys will enter the race this year.

The first inspection date is May 8, between 1 and 3 p.m. at Bee's downtown location. Arehart said that the cars don't have to be finished to be inspected. If any boy needs help to complete his car, there will be people there to help him.

A trial run will be held May 15, between 1 and 5 p.m. at the top of Railroad St. Arehart said the cars should be completely covered at this time.

The final inspection day is May 19, between 6 and 9 p.m. at Bee's downtown location. All cars must be completed by this time. They will be locked up in the garage until race day.

The parade will start downtown at 2:30 p.m. and the race will start immediately after that.

The winner of the race will receive a $500 bond and a chance to compete in the All-American Soap Box Derby to be held in Akron, Ohio in August.

The fifteen next winners will receive a variety of prizes donated by local merchants.

A lottery will be held during the awards ceremony and ten boys will win an all expense paid trip to the Derby in Akron.

Arehart said that the winner's car will be placed in the Derby Hall of Fame located at Bee's garage on US-27.

WIN P-W HONORS

These five Pewamo-Westphalia students were named the highest scholastically in the 1971 graduating senior class. From left are Cindy Rademacher, Ruth Blauwiekel, Jerry Casari, Kathy Pline and Mary Lou Thelen. Instead of naming only two students as most area schools, P-W names five each year based on the best scholastic records.

Four girls, boy head P-W senior list

PEWAMO-WESTPHALIA—School officials have named four girls and one boy as the top five scholars of the 1971 graduating class here, it was announced Monday.

Among the top five, in alphabetical order are Ruth Blauwiekel, Jerry Casari, Kathy Pline, Cindy Rademacher and Mary Lou Thelen.

Pewamo-Westphalia is unique among schools since it names the five top students with the highest grade point average in the senior class rather than choose a valedictorian and salutatorian.

Miss Blauwiekel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Blauwiekel. She is co-editor of the Yearbook and a band member. This spring Ruth participated in the State Solos and Ensembles contest with a piano solo and a French horn duet.

She was invited to take the Michigan State University Alumni Distinguished Scholarship exam and was also a semifinalist in the Michigan Competitive Scholarship program. Ruth belongs to the National Honor Society and the Performing Arts Company, and plans to attend Lyman Briggs College at Michigan State University.

Jerry Casari, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Casari, is president of the National Honor Society and a member of the camera club. He has appeared in PAC's last three productions and plans to attend Lansing Community College this summer.

Jerry qualified for a grant from the Michigan Competitive Scholarship Program.

MISS PLINE is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Pline. She is a member of the National Honor Society, PAC, Junior Classical League and took part in Forensics.

She took first place in a State Latin examination during her sophomore year. Kathy plans on a secretarial career, and is thinking of furthering her business education at Lansing Business University.

Miss Rademacher is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leander Rademacher. She is president of P.A.C. and a two year member of the National Honor Society.

She was active in this year's spring play and in Forensics. She is a semi-finalist in the Michigan Competitive Scholarship Program. Her plans after graduation include attending Central Michigan University.

Miss Thelen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thelen. She was chosen DAR representative, is secretary of Future Homemakers of America, secretary-treasurer of the National Honor Society and a member of PAC. Her future plans are to attend Lansing Community College.

on the weekends and after work. Judge Duguay has put in a number of hours as supervisor on the weekend.

"I would like to expand this program. Many of our young offenders shouldn't be sent to jail, but need to be punished and this, I believe, is the best way. If we could get volunteers from the residents of the county to help me with this program we could greatly expand it," he said. Judge Duguay said that not only does this program save the county money, $10 to $15 a day for each man, but it is accomplishing something worthwhile by cleaning up neglected areas in the county.

The offender must report each day to work. If they don't or goof off while working, they finish the rest of their sentence in the county jail.

Judge Duguay said that if anyone is interested in helping with the program they should contact the District Court or R.G. Becher, County Building Superintendent.

Lancaster speaks out on millage vote—page 2A

NO FALSE ALARM

News photographer Ed Cheeney caught this photo of a barn which was completely destroyed by fire north of St. Johns. The barn is just about to collapse for the intense heat. It was one of the few fire calls for the St. Johns fire department last week that wasn't a false alarm. Police chief Everett Glazier said the fake calls are under investigation but no real leads on the caller have turned up.

Millage vote's not increase: Syverson

DEWITT TWP.—Voters may be confused about the special election for fire and police millage to be held May 17, said Donna Syverson, Township Clerk.

"The ballot asks for an increase in the millage, but it's not an increase, it's a continuation of the present one mill that expired Dec. 31 last year. The law requires that we call it an increase because we have no millage now," she said.

Absentee ballots are available at the Township Hall until May 15. The polls will stay open until 8 p.m. on May 17.

White, Jr.

Both courses, sponsored by the American Institute of Banking, were open to all interested employees. Registration for either course was not mandatory and both were conducted outside normal work hours.

Editor's note—This article by St. Johns school Supt. Earl Lancaster is the first in a series prepared by school officials outlining the proposed millage vote June 14.

Citizens interested in expressing their views on the present and future educational system in St. Johns are encouraged to write to the Clinton County News in order that all viewpoints may be presented to the voters. As in other letters to the editor, names may be withheld upon written request.

IN APRIL Gov. Milliken presented an Educational Reform package to the Michigan Legislature which if adopted would require a complete change in the method of financing Public Education. The necessity for the reform is simply that school districts under

Kids quiz police

ST. JOHNS—Have you ever shot anyone? How fast does your car go? Should marijuana be legalized?

These were some of the questions asked law enforcement officials last week during a panel discussion before Rodney B.

Wilson seventh graders. Students enrolled in Mike Humphrey's and Roger De Pape's Social Living class had just completed a unit on law and order and as a final segment of the class, law enforcement officials were invited to speak to the classes.

Representing the agencies were State Police Trooper, Bruce Smith, County Sheriff deputy, Tony Hurnagel and St. Johns Police Officer, Lyle French.

Humphrey said that one of the main objectives of the discussion was to establish good relations between the students and police and to instill favorable attitudes in the students toward the police.

"We have worked with all aspects of law enforcement. Last week we held a mock trial and went through the complete procedure. We have had many discussions on issues that are important to the students," Humphrey said. One of the issues was the older kids unfavorable attitudes toward the police. "We thought it would be good to expose them now to the police so they can understand and appreciate them," he said.

The Social Living course doesn't have a required text. The students must do their own research on the different topics they cover in the class.

Present system uncertain if millage vote's downed ated their schools. Then, in 1965 the Legislature passed the Public Employment Relations Act which gave public employees the right to bargain. During the past five years this has resulted in improved salaries for teachers and other personnel which further aggravated the financial problem.

Although the situation varies from district to district according to the State Equalized Valuation of the district, State Aid and the property tax have almost shared equally in furnishing funds to operate schools. As the property taxes have been increased by local vote, State Aid has increased also.

HOWEVER, THE current problem is that for next year the Legislature will not increase state aid, which with inflation continuing will mean that school boards will need to go back to their people and ask for additional millage to operate the program as it has been operated. For several years now, the Michigan Association of School Boards, and the Michigan Association of School Administrators have recognized that the method of financing the operation of schools by Property Tax is wrong.

Both organizations have lobbied vigorously to have the State, through an increased income tax, accept more responsibility for financing schools.

Because of this influence the Legislature last year passed the Spencer-Ryan State Aid Act for the 1971-72 School Year. This Act, if put into operation, would have allowed school districts to operate with a lower property tax levy because of increased state aid. However, the implementation of the Act would have required more funds from the State which would have required an increase in the State Income Tax. The Legislature has not seen fit to fund the Spencer-Ryan aid package so for all intent and purpose it is now dead.

It is because of all of these factors that the schools of Michigan are facing the present crisis. In his presentation to the Legislature of the Education Reform Package, the Governor noted these facts:

— Only five of the 25 requests for higher property taxes put to Michigan voters in various school systems in the first three months of 1971 were approved. In addition, voters rejected 36 of the 91 requests to continue the property tax rate at its present level.

— 155 of the school systems which responded to a survey by the Michigan Association of School Administrators report they are now operating with a deficit budget, and 281 school systems said they are now or will be next year in "serious financial trouble."

— 4,480 teachers in 78 Michigan school systems have already been told they won't have jobs next year, and 248 school administrators have been warned they might not have positions either.

— 1,908 teachers were laid off during the current school year in 98 school systems.

— "The crisis in education is still with us," Gov. Milliken said, "and it has grown worse."

— "Still, there are many people in Michigan who do not realize that public education is on the verge of financial collapse.

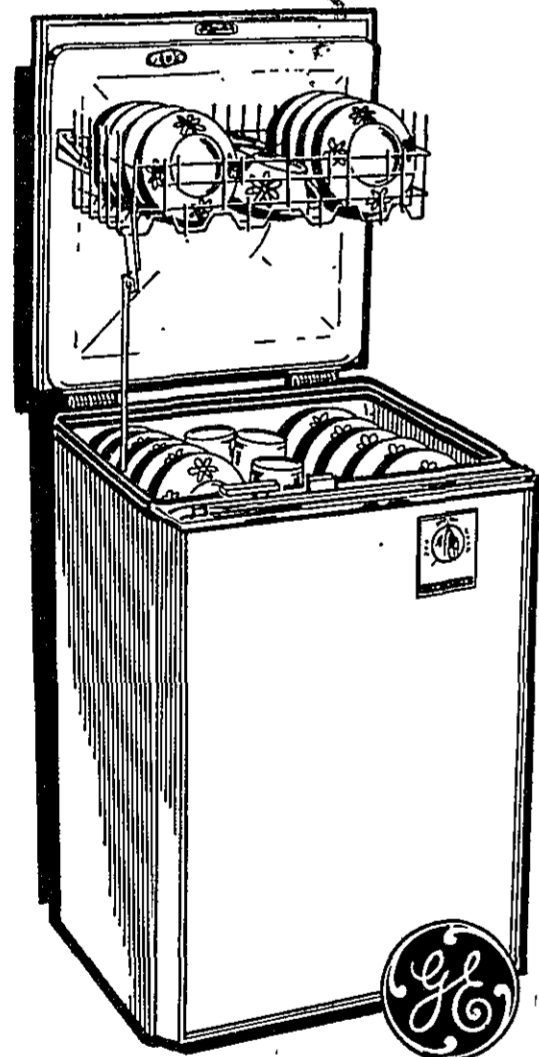

THE GOVERNOR'S program would in effect eliminate the property tax entirely for the operation of schools. To obtain the funds lost by the elimination of property tax would require an additional 2.3 per cent in personal income tax plus a Value Added Tax on Industry.

There are certain to be many disagreements as to these changes. However, even if this program, or a compromise is adopted by the Legislature, it will require a referendum in the Fall of 1971 and will take at least a year to put into effect. This means that there will be no relief until the school year 1972-73.

The immediate problem then which faces most Michigan School districts is:

Even though relief is possible by 1972-73, how can schools be

201 N. Clinton St. Johns

Stage set for 1971 CCN track meet

Ovid-Elsie's Marauders look to be the ones to beat again this year in the annual Clinton County News track meet scheduled for Monday at the O-E oval.

The event, being resumed after a two-year delay, will feature teams from Ovid-Elsie, St. Johns, DeWitt, Bath, Fowler and Pewamo-Westphalia.

The preliminary events and field events will start at 5 p.m. Monday with the final running events set for 6:30 p.m.

Here are some event-by-event breakdowns on what could take place Monday.

Shot-put—The current record of 49-8 1/2 could stand up, but several county throwers could reach the distance. The best bet here would be Larry Sandborn of DeWitt who has flipped the weight 49-5 against Bath and 49-4 against Ovid-Elsie earlier this season. O-E's Dick Bates has zeroed in on the 48-foot mark this year and has shattered several school records with his tosses.

LONG JUMP

This event's record of 20-8 1/2 will almost certainly be broken. Keith Nelson of Ovid-Elsie has established marks of 21-3 1/2, 21-2 1/2 and 20-9 this season, but Coach John Oberlin is worried.

"Keith has a hip pointer and if he hurts, I won't use him," Oberlin said. That could leave the door open for DeWitt senior John Black who has had jumps of more than 20-feet.

"He's looking forward to the meet," commented Panther coach Evart Stevens. "Here he jumps off an asphalt board, but he likes the pit better; like they have at Ovid-Elsie. He should give them a run for their money."

Bath's Dave Burligh has had leaps of about 19-feet this year and could stretch that mark to a gold medal contender.

Pewamo-Westphalia's Mike Thelen could be another contender who has averaged over 18-feet and has had a leap of 19-6 in 1971 competition.

HIGH JUMP

The record here is 5-9 and this is another area where new marks could be set, but few of the competitors have been close to that mark all season. Marauder senior Cal Woodard has had jumps of 5-4 against St. Johns and DeWitt, but best bet to shatter the mark would go to Bath's Paul Stoll. He has had a fine jump 5-8 against DeWitt earlier in the season and could put the record away for the Bees. St. Johns Redwing Steve Mead has also jumped 5-4 and could be a factor in the first three place finishers.

The Bees have depth in this event with 6-4 Fritz Ordiway topping the 5-6 jump mark. They also boast Don Parkey, 6-0 senior, who has also jumped to the 5-6 mark.

POLE VAULT

The pole vault mark established in 1968 might be a little tougher to crack this time around. Jim Bouts of DeWitt set the record that year with a flight of 11-10 1/2.

So far, O-E's Glen Bensingler looks to be the closest to that mark with a fine effort of 11-6. Others in the running to take first place honors are Bath's Brad Shably at 11-0 and Redwing Terry Ruppahn with an effort of 10-6.

880 RELAY

Best time in the county meet to date in this event was set in 1968 by DeWitt's team with a time of 1:34.7.

The Ovid-Elsie entry of Gordy Baker, Dan Bowles, Keith Nelson and Jim Stewart have run the event in 1:35.9 and could put it all together for a new record. DeWitt's best time of 1:39.8 would be good enough for a second and possibly a first if O-E's Nelson is sidelined during the meet. DeWitt's team consists of John Black, Jim Ashley, Randy Pitts and Steve Tew.

In other events, St. Johns Rick Flegel should be able to runaway from the pack in the two-mile run. He already has set a mark of 10:23 which would shatter the meet record by about 27 seconds. That mark, 10:58.8, was set in 1968.

Several of the teams, including Pewamo-Westphalia, St. Johns and Bath have a number of sophomores and juniors on their squads which would put them about a year away from sweeping most of the county meet events.

The coaches have all agreed on one thing, however. The county meet should become a necessity in fostering a larger following for the spring sport.

"The meet is an opportunity for six schools in the county to get together," O-E's John Oberlin said. "We usually run against bigger schools, but we are pretty much rural. The meet used to be with small schools and it was a good thing."

Two first year coaches have expressed similar sentiments. Evart Stevens of DeWitt said he thinks it is a good idea to hold a county event. "We especially have a strong competition with Bath," he said in promoting the meet.

He said he wants his team to have another shot at Ovid-Elsie and Bath and the meet was the best place to do it. "We'll be hanging in there. We've been getting in shape and our times have been getting better," he added.

He said that the county meet would provide better competition than the Central Michigan league features. "There are only one or two in that league that can provide strong competition."

Stevens predicted Ovid-Elsie would dominate many of the events with Bath and DeWitt rounding out the top three. P-W's Doug Kilbourne, in his first year at the Pirate stronghold, said he was highly interested in the meet. He added that it was a good way to take a close look at other nearby schools and give his team a better perspective of their efforts.

The prices for the county meet tickets are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students which will be available at the gate Monday afternoon.

Panthers club visitors

DeWitt—After a slow start, the Panthers' baseball team came through with three resounding victories last week.

The Panthers, 5-4 overall and 4-0 in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference swept pass Laingsburg 21-5, Webberville 27-3, and Pewamo-Westphalia 8-7.

DeWitt pitcher, Pat Botke and catcher, Mike Cole held Laingsburg to only six hits in the first two innings allowing five runs and then shutting them out for the last five.

The Panthers scored 21 runs 21 hits, nine of the runs in the first inning.

Webberville never had a chance after the first inning, when they scored three runs. They spelled their own doom committing 23 errors and allowing DeWitt 27 runs.

Panther pitcher Ron Wilcox kept Webberville down to only six hits.

In the last contest of the week against Pewamo-Westphalia, the Panthers held off a late Pirate rally to secure a close win, 8-7.

Botke, who is a DeWitt junior, allowed nine hits, DeWitt led 8-0 going into the sixth inning when P-W staged a comeback scoring three runs in the sixth and four in the seventh to lose by one run.

Wilcox leads the team with the highest batting average, hitting 21 out of 39 for a .538. Cole and Roger Wardell each are batting .500, followed closely by Mike Moody with a .471 average.

COACH TOM ISENHART said that the team started the season slow, because he was experimenting with all the players to see what position they would work at best. "We are pretty well organized now, and we are getting better with each game," he said. "Most of the team is made up of Juniors, so we should have a real good team next year." The Panthers played at Potterville Monday and will play Fowler at home Thursday.

BOXING TROPHY

Mike San Miguel, St. Johns, received the top novice boxing trophy from Richard Droste, president of the Clinton County Boys Club at their meeting last Wednesday.

San Miguel wins Golden Glove award

ST. JOHNS—Mike San Miguel was presented a trophy last Wednesday night by the Clinton County Boys Club as the outstanding novice boxer of the year.

Mike, who is a senior at St. Johns and resides at 208

W. Ross St., was presented the award by Richard Droste, President of the Boys club, before 75 members of the club.

After the award presentation, movies were shown from fights out of the past and a lunch was served.

Redwings split with twin 170 marks

ST. JOHNS — The Redwings rolled up identical 170 scores in two golf contests last week, but only one was good enough for a slim victory.

Tuesday afternoon, the Redwings downed Corunna 170-173 but that score wasn't quite enough to top Waverly as the Red machine was tripped 163-170.

St. Johns' Brian Carpenter led the pack with a 40, followed by Ken Schueller with 42, John Estes at 44 and Greg Lounds with 45.

The Redwing junior varsity topped Corunna's JV squad 197-235. Tom French, Mark Waw-sczyk and Bill Thelen recorded identical rounds of 49 and Jeff Gentry followed by a stroke with 50.

In Thursday's contest, Carpenter led the field again with a 39 with Ken Schueller at 42, John Estes at 43 and Greg Lounds at 46.

The JV's topped the Waverly JV team by a stroke 192-193 as Randy Devereaux shot 44 to lead the field. He was followed by Thelen with 46, French at 50 and Wawsczyk at 52.

The varsity record now stands at 4-2 and the JV record is a spotless 4-0.

Panthers lose to Owosso, then down Bath Bees

DeWitt — The Panther golfers finally ran into a roadblock when they came up against Owosso St. Paul 168-174 but turned around Monday to trip Bath 162-185. The Panthers, currently 7-1 on the season, couldn't quite get on the scores down enough to top a rugged Owosso attack. DeWitt scorers were Myron Hornby (40), Andy Cusack (43), Chuck Berkimer (43), Jim Smith (46) and John Kranas (46). In the Bath contest, played at Chardell Golf Course, Andy Cusack led the field with 36, with other scorers, Myron Hornby (39), John Kranas (42), and Chuck Berkimer (45). Coach Don Melvin commented he still sees room for improvement. "There is still room," he added. "We are anxiously anticipating a good showing at the DeWitt Invitational."

In some previous matches, DeWitt downed Portland St. Pat's 169-217; defeated Webberville 69-206; and topped Pewamo-Westphalia 184-239. All the matches were played at Highland Hills Country Club.

Panthers third in invitational

DeWitt — The Panthers finished third in their invitational golf tournament at Highland Hills last Saturday in a field of twelve teams. Bath golfers finished seventh.

Haslett was the winner of the tourney with a score of 335, while second place went to Mt. Pleasant Sacred Heart (346). Others were Owosso St. Paul (359), Perry (362), and Stockbridge (374).

Bath (394), Webberville (401) Fowlerville (402), Portland St. Patrick (413), Laingsburg (435), and Olivet (440).

First place medalist winner was Ed Howes from Haslett with a round of 80, John Kranas from DeWitt tied with John Wentworth of Mt. Pleasant with 82 strokes. Kranas beat Wentworth in a play-off to place as second medalist winner.

DeWitt coach Don Melvin stated that one of the reasons for the high scores was the strong wind blowing across the course Saturday. He also said that Haslett is one of the strongest Class C golf teams in the state.

TOP GOLFERS

DeWitt's golfers show the form that has put them on top in their league this year. From left are Chuck Berkimer, Coach Don Melvin, Myron Hornby, Andy Cusack and John Kranas.

Open Letter from VAN W. HOAG

Dear friends,
Many clergymen and doctors, while attending the dying, have reported seeing the apparition of the spirit leaving the body at death. Many survivors have reported the momentary appearance of the spirit of a loved one at the moment of death. If these marvels were more generally known, the doubting Thomas would find greater conviction in the resurrection of Christ and of our own promised resurrection which we celebrate this glorious Easter Season.
Sincerely,
Van W. Hoag

School music group entertain music club

The St. Johns Morning Musicals met April 29 at the home of Mrs. Richard Amsutz.

Mrs. H. W. Lundy, president, conducted the business meeting during which the announcement was made that May 2 to 9 has been proclaimed as National Music Week.

The theme of the program for the day was "The Modern Use of the Classic Style." The Wilsons from the high school sang "Variation on an Old English Theme," by Harvey Geller and "Bourree," by Johann Sebastian Bach. The same Bach number was then repeated in a modern tempo and setting arranged by Ward Swingle.

Program notes along with the use of recordings as examples were conducted by Mrs. Robert Koepfen. She explained that most of the classic music which has been modernized has come from the Baroch era of music. Bach's "Air on the G String," "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," "Invention in F Major," and "Two Part Invention in F Major" were played in classic style and then examples of the same numbers were presented as played on the Moog Synthesizer named after its inventor, Robert Moog.

Advantages of music played on the Synthesizer were noted as (1) clarity of notes, and (2) crispness and brightness of sound. The Swingle Singers were noted as outstanding musicians who give credit to Bach for their honest imitations of his music.

Mrs. Richard Amsutz, pianist, played the Warsaw Concerto. Mrs. Conrad Seim, accompanied by Mrs. Duane Davis, sang three numbers from the modern composers, Richard Higeman. The numbers were "At the Well," "The Donkey," and "Do Not Go My Love."

The next meeting will be held at the Methodist Church on May 20 following a 9:30 breakfast planned by the group.

FULTON AREA P.T.A.—The Fulton Area P.T.A. would like to take this opportunity to thank all the people who made our carnival a big success. Because of the generosity of area merchants, the public, parents, school administrators and teachers and also the students we made a profit of $1,000 to be used toward tumbling mats and a public address system for our high school gym. The General committee feels this project not only helped to finance these items, but also made available an evening of fine family entertainment for all to enjoy. General Committee, Fulton Area P.T.A., 1-1p

★ IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Ambrose Martin who died 2 years ago May 3. What we would give if we could say,

"Hello Dad" in the same old way, To hear your voice and see your smile, And sit and chat with you awhile, So many times you seem so near, Your gentle voice we seem to hear, Though often with tears our eyes do fill, We trust in God, it was his will. His family. 1-1p

Derwood S. Fletcher, May 11, 1969.

He is gone, but not forgotten, And as dawn another year, In our lonely hours of thinking Thoughts of him are always near Days of sadness will come o'er us, Friends may think the wound is healed, But they little know the sorrow, That lies within the heart concealed. The family of Derwood Fletcher. 1-1p

In loving memory of Henry Nemetz Sr., who passed away, one year ago May 7, 1970.

We watched him suffer day by day It caused us bitter grief, To see him slowly fade away, and could not get relief. God saw the road was very rough The hill too steep to climb He gently closed his weary eyes and whispered, "Peace be Thine." —Wife Ilene Nemetz, children and grandchildren and great-grandchildren. 1-1p

Business notes

By MIKE PREVILLE News Advertising Manager

One of the first places we called on in Westphalia when we came to the County News was Pohl Oil Co. Al Pohl is a friendly hard working cuss, as you probably know.

We found out right away he was friendly and shot the better part of that afternoon visiting about mutual friends who work for Firestone and Leonard. But we really didn't realize how hard working he is until this week...Al called us Tuesday for a picture of the company to use in his 15th anniversary ad. We took it, no problem. But he also wanted a picture of the business as it looked 15 years ago. That was a problem.

We didn't have one. He didn't have one. He was too "darned busy" to take one then. So...we ad there's a picture of how Pohl Oil looks today, and one of how it looked 15 years ago...with one slight exception. For some strange reason the photo of Pohl Oil in 1956 shows a 1968 pickup.

THE ST. JOHNS Co-op's Stew Watt has been giving us a bad time not only about our weight but now our working hours. For example he called the other morning before 9 and said...that he was on his way to lunch.

Anyway Stew did tell us that Stan Whitlock and Mrs. Bruce Mehney of St. Johns were the winners of the Alpine picnic jug in the Saturday drawing. The Zebco rod and reel was won by Pete Buck of St. Johns.

The drawings are a part of the Co-op's spring sale and all you have to do is register. Stop in anytime but if you get there around 9 a.m. remember Stew works such long hours...and gets up so early that he'll probably be at lunch.

CURTAIN TIME is 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday at Rodney B. Wilson Auditorium as the St. Johns First Nighters present "Send Me No Flowers". Plan to see this rollicking comedy and plan to buy your tickets in advance.

That way you not only save a bit but are assured of seats. Advance tickets are available from any member of the First Nighters for only $1.25 and for students, $1.00.

MOTHER'S DAY is this Sunday, May 9. This is the one day when traditionally all the hubbys and kids try their best to please Mother by doing her work...and which usually causes Mother a nervous fit by dark. Not so at our house.

A couple years back the Big M...after viewing the kitchen after our boys had prepared her breakfast...locked herself in the bathroom for the rest of the day.

So the tradition at our house is...we take the boys out to breakfast...kite flying or to a movie in the afternoon...out to dinner...for an outing...give them a Lestoll and Clorox bubble bath and send them to bed. And Mother spends the day, her Day, locked in the bathroom.

DeWitt, Montrose plan exchange

DEWITT—Plans for Michigan Week Mayor Exchange Day, to be held on May 17 were discussed Monday Night at the regular meeting of the DeWitt City Council.

The Mayor Exchange Day is part of the 18th annual Michigan Week celebration being held from May 15 through 22.

Mayor Lawrence Keck of DeWitt and President Jack Kelbey of Montrose will exchange positions at festivities planned by the respective communities.

The City of DeWitt plans to hold a reception with a presentation of the keys to the city to President Kelbey followed by a visit to the Middle School and other places of interest including the DeWitt Retreat House.

Eldon Smith, administrative director, also announced plans to meet with area ministers on May 13 to discuss activities for the Michigan Week Spiritual Foundations Day on May 16.

In other business by the Council, Orla McGuire, planning commission chairman, appeared before the Council to inquire whether extra copies of the Master Plan Report should be printed.

The plan, by Scott Bagby and Associates, will be completed within the next 30 days, pending the Council's decision. The Council recommended that the 100 copies ordered would be sufficient and no extra copies would be necessary at this time.

In other action, the Council approved: Ordinance No. 71 of the Uniform Traffic Code for Michigan cities, townships and villages. The code's purpose is to regulate the operation of vehicles and the use of streets, highways and alleys.

—The yearly audit for 1970 by Lyle D. Hepfer and Company and the first quarter budget report ending March 31. Councilman Roger Overway noted that "budget wise, we are in good position."

—The purchase of a spray machine for $895 to mark the streets.

—To hold the Council meeting on May 24 instead of May 17.

Clinton students sound off on crisis center

ROBERT MOSHER

By DEBORAH WITGEN
MSU Correspondent

EAST LANSING — The Listening Ear is a crisis intervention center at 547 E. Grand River, in East Lansing, manned around the clock by volunteers of all ages and stations in life.

It's a place where people can go or call when they have a problem they need to talk out, when they're depressed, when they need advice, when they just want to spout off. When they need someone to care.

Tim Henning, a St. Johns junior in social science at Michigan State University, and Thomas Alderman, an Ovid graduate from MSU with a bachelor's degree, have worked at the "Ear" since October. Pete Allaby, a St. Johns junior in Justin Morrill College at MSU, was a recent trainee.

In recent interviews, they discussed the "Ear" and how it has changed their lives.

"There's a time in some people's lives when they're overwhelmed by a problem or taken up with something and need someone to listen," Henning explained. "They don't trust their friends but need to talk to someone. The Listening Ear serves that purpose."

"WE TRY TO show we care. We don't care about their background or who they are, but the present situation and how to get them through it," he said.

Some callers just want referrals to a drug education center or draft counselor; others just want information about what's going on campus. All of them remain anonymous; their visits and calls are held in strict confidentiality.

Some calls are from people who are either thinking about suicide or who have taken a step toward it, and are just waiting for a reason not to end their lives.

"We try to tell them 'you're worthwhile as a human being,'" Henning said. "We try to feel what they feel, convey that we are tuned into their problems and build a trust along that axis."

Allaby added, "The solution isn't what you have, but what they have in them that you can help them find. You're someone on the other end who cares for them. It's important to get that across."

As they explained it, they do not actually do much advising. They have an immediate crisis that has to be dealt with, and the work out feelings. If therapy is needed, they suggest counseling.

"We don't push them into it; it's their decision. We just give alternatives," Henning said.

The volunteers know their legal boundaries; there are some things they can say and do, some things they can't. As Henning said, "We have a good relationship with the East Lansing police and the community."

"That's because we're doing something for them," Allaby added.

deal with their own feelings. They must be open to constructive criticism and show a sense of responsibility and respect toward fellow workers.

Trainees must show competency in being an empathetic listener and in making referrals, and exhibit openness to learning. Theirs must be a non-judgmental attitude toward problems presented.

Above all, they must be committed to the "Ear", want to help people, and show they will be a contribution to the staff.

Henning, a trainer in the last session, said one of the basic things for a trainee is for him to know his own feelings and to be able to react with another person on a feeling level.

Most skills aren't difficult to learn, he said, if they have their heads together, touch with their feelings, are honest with themselves and others, and can recognize their feelings. He said the "Ear" starts on the premise that everyone can be an "ear."

wards are all personal, and each of the men said they found some.

Alderman said, "I feel it has taught me a lot about how to communicate with people and get outside myself to find out what's bothering others. That's a problem today — too many people are inside themselves. It reflects why many people are so lonely."

"It all sounds so easy, but listening is a difficult thing to do. You have to let people know you're listening to them by saying things. It has really taught me a lot about listening and the value of talking with a fellow man."

"It's fulfilling when you actually help someone. When they hang up saying 'you've helped me' you can tell they're feeling a lot better. It's rewarding too just to do that."

"The way communities are set up today, we're more or less alienated from people. Even at the supermarket, it's businesslike and cold. People need something more intimate than that—feelings."

Allaby's feelings were similar. "I have better skills as a listener and I can better recognize and be in touch with my own feelings. I have this tape recorder concept; I'm continually hearing this tape telling me what to do, and I do it. Now I'm hearing a different tape. I have a new way of looking at myself."

"I can deal with feelings now instead of trying to intellectualize everything. You know, when you deal with feelings instead of ideas, bonds between friends are strengthened. It has made me a more down-to-earth person, a human being. I'll never feel alone or empty like I did before."

Henning's attitude follows the same line. "Everything I feel about the 'Ear' is really good toward it," he said. "I like to call it 'people work.' I think it may be a stepping board to what I'm going to do in the future."

"When I went into it, I didn't know how to deal with feelings. I'd rationalize, suppress or ignore my feelings. It was 20 years of self-destruction. I don't know where I'd be today if I hadn't gone into it. I think I'd be as skeptical as hell of people."

"Working at the 'Ear' has made me think love is real and hate is something man invented. I feel kinder towards people, more devoted. Before, I'd chuck if off, saying 'I don't have time.' I'm a different person, now."

DeWitt kindergarten registration

DeWITT—Registration for all children eligible to attend the DeWitt Kindergarten in September will be held in the kindergarten rooms, located in the mobil units at the David Scott School May 11.

There will be no kindergarten classes on that date.

Those with last names beginning with A-K should attend between 9 a.m. and 12 noon, and those whose last names begin with L-Z should attend between 1 p.m. and 3 p.m.

Health entrance requirement blanks may be picked up at the David Scott office so they can be filled out ahead of time and checked May 11.

The DeWitt kindergarten registration is a time for both parents and children to meet the kindergarten teachers, visit with a speech therapist, have health records checked and make a date for a vision screening. Be sure to bring your child's birth certificate as he must be five years old on or before December 1, 1971, according to school officials.

This registration will again be under the direction of the DeWitt Child Study Club.

Fees for 1971-72 include 50 cents for party fees, $1 for crackers and $5.40 for milk. The price of milk this year is three cents per carton. If the price goes up, or Federal support goes down, the milk fee will be raised, officials added.

SIGNS OF SPRING

Members of Mrs. Nobis' fourth grade at Perrin-Palmer School in St. Johns have recently completed their bulletin board display on "The Signs of Spring." Starting in February each member of the class was on the look-out for signs of spring and as they saw one they drew a picture of what they had seen and placed it on the bulletin board. Some of the early signs depicted in the drawings were lawns being mowed, bare feet, robins, flowers, roller skaters and a lady bug. Students pictured are Becky Stewart, class president and Bruce Douglass, Vice-president.

Teacher of the week

Miller's one-to-one idea makes Bath co-op a success

BATH—Vocational Education teacher, Robert Miller, believes that if a student is going to succeed in a co-op program, an atmosphere for personal achievement must be created and the only way to do this is to work on an individual basis with each student.

Miller, who directs the school co-op program, which is called the Individualized Work Experience Program, states that the program's main concern is to help students become motivated and interested in their education and work experience.

The students who are involved in the program are enrolled in specific courses designed to help them on their jobs. Local businesses volunteer to help train the students on a part-time basis.

Miller and other high school teachers work with the students on a one-to-one basis in areas of remedial reading, trade skills, job responsibilities and functions.

"Many of the students enrolled in this program are potential drop-outs or have disadvantages which could hinder them from employment in the future. We work with the students very closely with individual conferences, talks with their parents and meetings with the local businesses," he said.

By working closely with the students, Miller can help the students decide on their goals and directions. "We attempt to place the students in areas of their own choice. This has one distinct advantage, they find out what areas they are or are not interested in."

Miller said that the coordinated efforts of the school and business give the student the chance to learn responsibilities, pride and the possibility of a future trade.

He said that 17 out of the 20 students in the program are employed. "They hold a variety of jobs from machinist apprentice to grocery clerks. Not only does this program give them the chance to learn about business but also a chance to earn money," he said.

When asked about the success of the program, Miller stated, "We are doing very well. Whenever you deal with a program where the students are having learning difficulties or are disadvantaged in any way, you are never going to have 100 percent success ratio. If you do, then you're not digging deep enough."

This is Miller's first year of teaching. He was graduated from Michigan State University last year with a degree in Vocational Education. He and his wife, Brenda, live in Holt.

"One of the main advantages of this program," he said, "is that we can work closely with students who need the help. We guide the students, but they set their goals and directions. The objectives of the program are broad, they can learn just how to obtain a job or they can actually learn a trade."

The program, which runs year round, will be expanding to include working with drop-outs to get them back in school and to work through the co-op program.

"I believe that this is a very good program. By dealing with each student individually, we can set up a specific program that will be beneficial to him personally."

Junior directors' role explained

ST. JOHNS—In hopes of fostering more interest in the activities of the Clinton County Soil Conservation District, and to promote soil and water conservation in Clinton County, the SCD board of directors in the fall of 1969 invited the five Future Farmer of America chapters in the county high schools to choose a representative to serve on a Junior Board of Directors.

Every chapter responded and elected a junior director. They met for the first time on the first Monday in December in 1969, and elected their officers. The first officers were John Kowatch of Pewamo-Westphalia High School, Chairman; William Harden of Elsie High School, Vice-Chairman; Terry Fickles of Ovid High School, Secretary. They planned to meet every month when the regular District Board met.

This first Board helped plan the annual FFA Conservation Exhibit Contest that is now held at every Annual Soil Conservation District meeting. They helped at the annual meeting and also helped plan for the first FFA Land Judging Contest that was held in April of 1964.

The Junior Directors have been generally responsible for these activities ever since.

AT A JUNE BOARD meeting in 1968, the District Directors decided to enlarge the Junior Board of Directors by asking the 4-H Clubs of the County to select four members to represent them on the board and they asked each FFA Chapter to elect a Junior Director. The Boy Scout Council and Girl Scout Council were also asked to select one member to be a Junior Director. The enlarged Board has cooperated in planning for the 4-H annual Litter Pick-Up each spring and they helped register the folks who attended the last Keep Michigan Beautiful that was held at Rodney B. Wilson Jr. High School in April.

The Junior Directors plan to become more involved in the efforts to improve the environment in Clinton County.

Herbicide combinations: one-two punch control

ST. LOUIS, MO.--

A combination of chemical herbicides may be the answer to tough weed problems that farmers continually face. The one-two punch of two chemicals may give effective weed control, where a single herbicide may allow more weeds of escape.

Advantages of combining a proven grass killer with a broad-leaf weed-control chemical include: broader spectrum of control, improved performance with a variety of weather and soil conditions, reduction of crop injury, less carryover of herbicide residue and increased flexibility in rotations.

A warning: use only registered combinations of herbicides approved for your area and approved for the crop you'll use it on. YOU are responsible for any illegal chemical residues that may result...so planning is the key.

One weed growing its way into many corn areas is fall panicum. But combinations, such as Lasso, Ramrod or Sutan herbicides with atrazine, do an excellent job of controlling fall panicum as well as most other grasses and broad-leaf weeds.

Less shading of the soil because of earlier planting of corn, use of shorter, upright-leaved corn hybrids, minimum tillage, and tolerance to some herbicides seem to have helped the spread of fall panicum, says Ken Frost, Monsanto weed control specialist. Fall panicum has spread quite rapidly across the Corn Belt the last few years and is causing considerable reduction in yields and profits where left uncontrolled, especially in corn.

Frost says in soybeans the weed is not as troublesome... because of more intense shading and often later tillage than with corn. Here, of course, Lasso or Treflan will handle the pest.

Frost recommends broadcasting a preemergence application of Lasso at the rate of 2 to 3 quarts per acre for most situations on either corn or soybeans fields. But if hard to kill broadleaf weeds are also a problem in your corn, he suggests using a combination of 2 to 3 quarts of Lasso and 1-1/4 to 1-1/2 lbs. of atrazine 80W.

There are many reasons for using chemical combinations... and farmers no doubt will find new and varied uses of this new approach.

But, for best results, anticipate the weed problem you expect to have, choose herbicides wisely, follow label directions, and try some of the combinations when you want to add more flexibility to your weed-control program.

4-H'ers top their quota

By JOHN AYLSWORTH

Clinton County 4-H'ers have gone over the top in raising funds for the National 4-H Center Expansion Drive in Washington, D.C. A check for $1,526.18 was mailed April 30 to Michigan State University to cover the County quota of $1,501.00.

The quota was based upon the 1969 4-H enrollment of 1501 youth at the rate of $1.00 per member. Twenty-six clubs reached their quota of $1.00 per member. The $29.00 contribution from the Riverside Riders put the County over the top of the quota.

Other club contributions lately included Knit N Stitch-$5.00 and Spring Valley with $4.00. Although the 4-H'ers have topped their quota, any other contribution from clubs will be forwarded to the Center Drive. Sixteen other 4-H clubs made contributions but did not reach their club quota.

Throughout the past two years the members have held a number of money making projects to raise their money. The campaign got a boost from the County 4-H Horse Show, the Pumpkin Contest, and a big boost from the 4-H Teen Leader Glass Project.

The National 4-H Center is located at 7100 Connecticut Avenue, Washington, D.C. and covers 12 1/2 acres in suburban Chevy Chase. It opened in 1959 providing a training center for 4-H'ers and other Extension leaders.

The majority of the Center Programs are for professional Extension personnel from state and county levels, adult volunteer 4-H leaders, and older 4-H members.

The 4-H Citizenship Short Course alone enrolls about 5,000 youth from 36 states annually. Clinton County has been sending 5 to 6 youth each year to participate in this citizenship program and this year they will be staying at the 4-H Center instead of the University of Maryland.

The National 4-H Center offers complete conference facilities. This is supplemented by the staff of the National 4-H Club Foundation headquartered in the Center.

THE DOUBLE M 4-H Club will sponsor a 4-H Horse Show on Sunday, May 16 at the fairgrounds in St. Johns. Registration starts at 12:30 p.m. and the show starts at 1:00 p.m. Jim Forester will be the show judge. There will be 19 classes including Hackey, Horsemanship, Fitting and Showing, and Speed and Action events.

The entry fee is 75¢ for each class with 6 place rosettes given in each class. There will be 5 championship trophy classes. During the show break there will be a Hackney demonstration. The public is invited to attend and there is no admission charge.

This will give the members a taste of competition for the new year and show where they need more additional work.

Seven clubs were recognized Monday evening at the 4-H leaders meeting for being selected as an Honor Club for the winter program. The clubs are: Olive 4-H Projects, Nimble Fingers, Elsie 4 Corners, Jolly Knitters, Bengal Community, Charlie's Gang, and Happy Hustlers. The clubs scored a minimum of 800 or more points based upon their participation in local and county-wide 4-H activities.

10,980 POUNDS of glass were taken to Charlotte Friday for recycling. This was only part of the glass that was collected on the roadside cleanup project. There are approximately another 2,000 pounds that will be taken next week with the glass collected May 1 from the monthly collection.

The total of glass collected and sent for recycling is now over 90,000 pounds with the total from Saturday making a total of over 100,000 pounds without any problem.

A NUMBER OF $8.00 scholarships will be available to some youth to attend the State 4-H Exploration Day programs at Michigan State University, June 29-July 1. If you know of some youth who might attend if he or she received the scholarship and would benefit by attending please contact the County Extension Office for more information.

THE CLINTON COUNTY 4-H Talent Show May 7, 7:30 p.m. at the St. Johns High School Auditorium will have 15 different acts for the public to see. The following clubs will have entries in the talent show: All Thumbs, Bengal Community, Green Clover Community, Eaglelets, Olive 4-H Projects, Border 4-H, Happy Hustlers, and Nimble Fingers.

The public is invited to attend and there is no admission charge. 5 entries will be selected to represent the county at the District contest on August 4.

THE DOUBLE M 4-H Horse Club members discussed final plans for the horse show they plan to sponsor on May 16 at the St. Johns Fairgrounds. The show will start at 1:00 p.m. with Jim Forester doing the judging.

Doug Stanke will do a demonstration with his registered Hackneys during the show intermission. The club held a work meeting May 1 with Bruce Haak trimming and shoeing their horses. The members are also planning a trail ride about the end of August.

THE HAPPY HUSTLERS held their spring enrollment meeting. Patty Fox and Marian Kurncz told about their experiences the previous weekend on the Yankee Springs 4-H Award trip. Demonstrations were given by Mary Whitford on a "Bunny Salad" and Mark Smith on "The Proper Way to Sand Wood".

Mrs. Albert Schaefer passed out the members certificates and announced the trip winners.

CHARLIE'S GANG and the Willing Workers 4-H members picked up litter along 6 1/2 miles of the County roadsides. At their last meeting the members were shown a movie called "Without Warning" exploring a number of careers available in the field of health care. Summer sign-up of projects and election of officers will be done at the next meeting.

A number of the members are collecting glass for the 4-H glass project.

SCD names FFA judging contest winners

By ORVILLE BEACHLER, Soil Conservation Technician U.S. Soil Conservation Service, Advisor

The District Directors of the Clinton County Soil Conservation District at a monthly board meeting early in 1964 decided to sponsor a Land Judging Contest for the FFA Chapters in the high schools of Clinton County. They decided to award a cup trophy to the winning chapter and a desk pen set to the individual winner.

The cup was to be a rotating trophy with the winning chapter's name engraved on the cup each year.

In 1964, the first Land Judging Contest was held on the Alden Livingston farm in Greenbush Township. The Ovid High School Chapter won this first contest and Don Miller of the Pewamo-Westphalia Chapter was the high individual winner.

In 1965, the Contest was held on the Ron and Jack Miller farm in Ovid Township. The Elsie FFA Chapter was the winner that year and went on to tie for first place in the State Land Judging Contest, Jim Rivest, of the Elsie Chapter, was the individual winner.

The 1966 contest was held on the Roston Mehney farm in Bingham Township and the Pewamo-Westphalia Chapter was the winner. The high individual that year was Bernie Simon of Pewamo-Westphalia.

In 1967, the Walter Thelen Farm in Westphalia Township was selected as the site for the Land Judging Contest. The Chapter from the new Ovid-Elsie High School won the trophy that year and the high individual winner was Tom Beagle of the Bath High School FFA.

THE 1968 CONTEST was held at the Soil Conservation's Plant Materials Center at Rose Lake in Bath Township. The Ovid-Elsie Chapter again won possession of the trophy for another year and Carter Moore of the Ovid-Elsie Chapter was the individual winner.

The boys were also given a tour of the Plant Materials Center, and the various experimental plantings were explained to them.

The 1970 Contest was won for the second year in a row by the St. Johns High School FFA Chapter. Mike Pettigrew of the St. Johns Chapter was the individual winner of the contest which was held on the Francis Brya farm on County Farm Road in Olive Township.

Gwyn Nethaway of the Ovid-Elsie Chapter made history in the 1971 Contest held on the William Meyers farm on Walker Road in Bengal Township. She is the first girl in the history of the land judging contest to be the high individual winner. She was also a member of the Ovid-Elsie team that won the team trophy.

GOOD JUDGE OF LAND

Clarence Manning, director of the Clinton soil conservation district presents a desk pen set to Gwyn Nethaway, who was the high individual winner at the Clinton S.C.D.'s annual land judging contest held April 21. She is the first girl to win the annual contest since its beginning in 1964.

Insects controlled best by pest's natural enemy

RICHARD J. SAUER
MSU Extension Entomology Specialist

One of the oldest methods of controlling insect and related pests is by using their natural enemies - parasites, predators and disease organisms. Man has known for many centuries that insects attacking crops were in turn attacked by many kinds of natural enemies that, at times and in certain places, exerted a high degree of control over the pests.

Not until almost 100 years ago, however, were deliberate attempts initiated to use these enemies in control activities, either by introducing new ones into the environment of a pest or by increasing the effectiveness of species already present.

The first noteworthy success occurred in California in 1888. This deliberate use of natural enemies for pest control is now known as biological control.

The last decade has seen increased attention in the American scientific community turned towards the control of insect pests by parasites, predators and other antagonistic life forms. One reason is the increasing resistance of many serious insect pests to the chemical controls. In addition, interest in practical biological controls is now becoming fairly widespread among the more informed public.

Upon emerging from the introduced ladybird beetles the parasites found the native ladybirds to their liking and proceeded to decimate the local ladybird beetle population.

This not only increased the severity of the pest problem, but also thwarted any biological control efforts by research scientists.

Some well-meaning but uninformed individuals have promoted the sale of "beneficial" insects such as ladybird beetles and preying mantids for controlling backyard and garden insect pests. In a few cases, with proper timing, suitable weather and the "right" insect causing the problem, releasing ladybirds or mantids has been helpful.

In most cases, however, the effects are insignificant, not changing the pest problems originally present. In yet other cases, like the one cited above, the effects are disastrous, and seriously undermine any worthy attempts by scientists to make progress in biological control.

LINE INSECTS shipped into or within Michigan must be shipped under a permit. If you are seriously considering purchasing live insects for biological control attempts, check with the supplier to make sure that he has such a permit.

The permits are issued by the Plant Industry Division of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

In time, biological control can eventually help solve the paradox between the need to control insect pests and the equally important need to protect the environment. Entomologists at Michigan State University realize the limitations of biological control efforts and are striving to attain a proper balance of natural and artificial insect controls. In cases where biological control has shown potential in Michigan, you can obtain information through appropriate channels of the Information Services of Michigan State University.

For example, you may obtain a copy of The Biological Control Story, Bulletin SIA-15, by writing to: MSU Bulletin Office, P.O. Box 231, East Lansing, Michigan 48823.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

by GARY A. KLEINHENN, MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

This interest is the result of a paradox created by the need to control insect pests and the need to protect the environment from possible insecticide pollution. It can be said right away that in a number of cases biological control has met with undoubted success, and been very spectacular.

This usually was not because the entomologists who put the technique into operation knew all the details of the biology of parasite and host - this would be pretty well impossible. However, they had carried out sufficient research to minimize the hazards and increase the probability of success.

They at least knew that the parasite or predator was effective and would probably be capable of adjusting to the new environment quite readily. Even so, the introductions were carefully organized, controlled and evaluated.

SEVERAL SERIOUS problems, however, have resulted from what appeared to the public to be a simple yet completely safe "trial and error" approach. For example, interested laymen or amateur scientists, after hearing about the spectacular success with ladybird beetles in California orchards, have attempted to introduce ladybirds on their own - into a small farm or a backyard garden.

The results have been largely insignificant and sometimes even disastrous. In at least one case, the introduced ladybirds contained the eggs or larvae of parasites that attack these beetles, suffer from neglect, but boom with potential for useful work in society through a relatively unknown new frontier discovered in the recycling of leftovers.

WASTE PRODUCT management will play a major role in solving many of the environmental challenges, according to a report from the U.S. Health, Education and Welfare Department (HEW). Even the unheralded peach pit is playing a part. At one processing plant over one 24-hour period peach pits became charcoal briquets. HEW reports that about 35 tons of charcoal have been processed from about 130 tons of pits.

Other fruit and vegetable waste is beginning to be utilized as stock feed. Tomato skins and seeds have been dehydrated, as have corn husks, cobs and trimmings for animal feed.

Solid wastes, reports HEW, from the process of canning peas, corn, grapefruit, oranges, and some solids screened from the liquid wastes of other processes are being converted into a dried cattle feed.

In the poultry barns of Michigan State University, experiments are being conducted with manure being composted, dried and pelleted as feed supplement. Other uses of the waste product include it for better soil conditions and as a fertilizer base. These sprinklings of re-processing waste experiments represent creative programs of not only agriculture, but of all industries working to erase the dilemma man finds himself in with his environment.

Good work

Annual spring cleanup campaigns by our young people in the county is commendable and truly points up the fact that we are a pretty messy populace.

high in the tabulation of what is picked up by the young people in their crusades. Most teenage drinking is done in automobiles with the resultant toss out of the visual "evidence."

Regardless of who is contributing most to the roadside litter, because we all do or have added our share, the efforts to focus attention to the problem is worth every sore back or tired pair of feet of pickup crew members.

Hard boiled egg

We read this someplace and have it posted where it can be conveniently referred to whenever the occasion may arise.

In every successful organization there must be one hard-boiled egg with no respect for the feelings or temperament of any one.

Somebody has to say 'No!' Somebody has to fire the inefficient help; somebody has to growl when the office boy is five minutes late.

In short, every organization needs a disciplinarian.

Sometimes the top boss can detail this ugly task to an assistant. Sometimes the unwelcome burden is passed around until the treasurer finds it on his shoulders.

Let an organization lack such a man and everyone will soon be doing their figuring in round dollars, using engraved stationery for wrapping paper, discarding pencils after the second sharpening—and the sheriff will be waiting just around the corner.

Sacrificial lamb

By TIM YOUNKMAN

We appear to have a new sacrificial lamb in our midst.

The lamb, who usually thinks of himself in more ferocious terms, is being sent on a wild goose chase throughout the Middle Eastern Arab nations, reportedly, to present some kind of peace overtures.

The actions, while noble in themselves, have come a bit too late. For many years the United States has been dealing in arms with both the Arab states and Israel.

We've sent statesmen, official notes and even troops into the Middle East in the past 15 years or so to ease the tensions and insure the feeling that the Americans only wanted to see peace in that part of the world.

Now, President Nixon has engaged in the same politics that trapped so many other "foreign minded" Presidents. Send an official of high rank into a troubled area so that the folks back home will think we're doing something about the situation.

Ever read the "Ugly American?" There seems to be a similar plot brewing here.

There have been dozens of protests already from anti-American groups in these nations and Rogers hasn't even departed yet. The fireworks will really begin when he hits those airports.

Several nations have been put under martial law for the visit and others have been taking similar actions to forestall trouble.

But what will the visits accomplish. According to the President it will insure our goodwill to these people. How can national leaders of these states, riddled with domestic strife, look favorably on a visit that could result in open civil war?

It is obvious we will not win friends and influence people there. We will succeed in enlarging the paranoia of Israeli leaders causing a crush on Washington to come to their aid.

It could mean an international force, including Americans, based in the Sinai as a buffer between Egypt and Israel. It could mean a U.N. - Korea type "Police Action against Egypt and/or Israel if hostilities erupt.

It could ultimately mean another front for American soldiers to practice their art. With Russians in Egypt, there would be a chance of Americans vs. Russians, and a playground for World War III.

At the very least, such a visit to Arab lands will not endear Americans to Arabs or Arabs to Israelis or Israelis to Americans. In short, the visits are pointless.

We've stumbled along this path before with the humble excuse that we didn't quite know how to go about international problem solving. Thus—Vietnam. It will be much harder to come up with a self-satisfying excuse this time around.

'IF IT FITZ . . . Pull the cord and swear

By JIM FITZGERALD

One time I yanked the cord just once and the lawn mower started. THE VERY FIRST TIME! Wow, I felt like the world's leading machinist.

My first inclination was to phone the director of the high school band and ask him to start a parade. Great occasions should be celebrated properly.

It's like having a car with a bum battery. When I park the mower, I let the motor idle while the grass grows. I'd probably let the fool thing run from May until September, fueling it in flight like an airplane with bugles up front.

But I decided against the parade, mostly because it would have required that the mower be switched off so the band director could hear me on the phone. It is my policy to never turn off the mower on purpose.

ALL OF WHICH is my backhanded way of admitting I made a mistake last summer when I bought a lawn mower, the first one I've ever owned. And now it owns me. I have $200 invested in the miserable thing and, by God, I'm going to get my money's worth out of it if it costs me $2,000 in energy, aspirin and repair bills.

In all fairness to the manufacturer, I should point out it is not his fault. It is mine. Machines and tools that work for everyone else never work for me. Screwdrivers fall apart in my hands.

The only time I ever pound a nail solidly is when I'm driving it into the wrong wall. Once I had to ask a stranger how to put the hood up on my own car. He was a patient at a mental institution.

The other day it was time to get the mower out of winter storage and prepare it for another wonderful summer at the repair shop. I read the instruction manual.

The first thing I learned was that I had forgotten to prepare the stupid thing for storage last fall. But really, how do you know when to drain the gas and store it? One day you can hear the grass growing. The next day the storage shed is snowed in and there's no way I can get to that mower without shoveling which is against my religion.

So, ignoring past mistakes, I pressed ever onward. "Remove spark plug," the manual demanded. How? Thanks to the TV ads, I know what a spark plug looks like.

But, I bloodied my knuckles and still couldn't twist the lousy thing loose. I'm sure some tool was needed by the manual didn't say which one and anyway owning tools is also against my religion.

"Spin the crankshaft," the manual commanded. What's a crankshaft?

"TURN CARBURETOR adjusting knob clockwise until needle seats lightly." Needle seats? Is that good grammar?

"Set sparkplug gap at .025 inch." The only measuring device in the house is a yardstick.

"Use a 3/8 inch diameter dowel." Now I know what I want for Christmas.

Where does an allen go to shoot himself?

I trucked the mower back to the store for resuscitation. In a few years it will be able to make the trip by itself, blindfolded. When John the hardware man did business with me, he didn't lose a mower, he gained a dumb-in-law.

To go Onward and Upward, "Just yank the starter cord once." You bet.

Washington Reports

Public works

Rep. U.S. Garry Brown 3rd. Congressional Dist.

Following is a summary of action taken in the House and Senate last week and expected action this week.

Last Week in the House:

Public Works Acceleration Act: By a vote of 319-67, the House authorized up to $2 billion in fiscal 1971 for immediate go-ahead on basic public works projects, both Federal and local, in localities of substantial unemployment.

An area can be designated as having substantial unemployment if the rate of unemployment is 6 per cent or more of the area work force, discounting temporary or seasonal factors, and the anticipated rate of unemployment during the next two months will remain at 6 per cent or more.

Under the legislation, Federal grants-in-aid could cover up to 80 per cent of the local cost of public works projects—or 100 per cent if the state or local government has exhausted its effective taxing and borrowing capacity for such projects.

Presumably, the major part of the construction under the legislation should be completed within one year from the time the contract is let and emphasis should be on the use of local contractors employing substantial amounts of local labor.

THE SENATE HAS passed a similar bill, but because it differs in some particulars, a Conference Committee made up of members of the House and Senate will now attempt to work out the final wording of the legislation.

Amendments to Immigration and Nationality Acts: The House acted to correct minor problems in laws affecting immigrants. In the first instance, the House passed a amendment to exempt any alien seeking U.S. citizenship from the requirements of literacy in English if he is 50 years of age or older and has resided in the U.S. for at least 20 years.

A second amendment raised the age from 16 to 18 for automatic acquisition of U.S. citizenship by children whose parents are naturalized citizens, correcting a current hardship on children between 16 and 18 in applying for U.S. citizenship.

In other action, the House authorized funds for maritime activities and dealt with certain matters concerning House committee powers and funding.

Last Week in the Senate:

The Senate continued debate on financial assistance to local educational agencies to the end of establishing equal opportunity for all children. An amendment was adopted requiring the establishment of uniform guidelines in all regions of the U.S. in dealing with the conditions of school segregation practice.

THIS WEEK In Congress:

The following legislation is expected to be debated and voted on this week in the House.

—A bill to modify the existing requirements concerning notice to patrons of public eating places that colored oleomargarine is being served.

—Authorization of additional funding for Commission on Marijuana and Drug Abuse Authority.

—A bill to authorize appropriations to carry out the Flammable Fabrics Act.

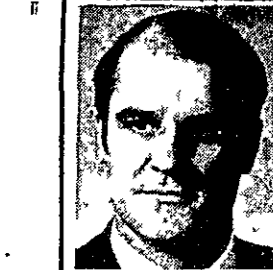

—A bill concerning Railroad Retirement Annuity Increase.

Uninsured fee hike

By SEN. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

Almost lost in the furor over the $4 million fund transfer from the Uninsured Motorists' fund to the general fund last week was the fact that, starting next year, uninsured motorists will have to pay $10 more when they get their license plates.

The bill which authorized transferring the $45 million to the general fund provided for an increase from $3 to $4 a year which persons registering an uninsured motor vehicle must pay annually before they can obtain their licenses.

In addition, the bill also eliminated—except in cases of financial emergency—the payment of the $1 fee by insured motorists.

The measure provides that unless the fund's reserves fall below a prescribed level of the $1 annual fee shall be waived.

This is expected to remove one of the most controversial features of the uninsured motorists law. People who pay from $100 to $200 or $300 for their car insurance complain bitterly that they have to pay the $1 fee to build up the fund to pay claims that should be charged wholly to those who do not carry insurance.

Many insured motorists complain to their legislators that all drivers should be forced to buy liability insurance. This demand has been resisted, however, because if insurance companies were forced to insure all bad motorists, premiums would have to be raised sharply—thereby hitting the good drivers, too.

As finally passed, the bill provides that the $45 million borrowed by the state's general fund is to be paid back over a five-year period, starting in 1973, at the rate of $9 million a year.

The stumbling block over whether the state should have to pay interest on its own money was resolved by a provision in the bill which ordered that interest should be paid to the motor vehicle fund but that the rate of interest is to be determined by the Legislature two years from now.

When that time comes, there may be another hassle but the provision at least permitted quick transfer of the urgently needed funds now.

Borrowing of this money recalls the somewhat similar situation in 1959 when about $44 million in veterans trust fund bonds were liquidated and turned over to the general fund to help meet the state payroll.

It is interesting to note that a Republican-controlled Legislature at that time did not require that interest be paid on the borrowed money. G. Mennen Williams, a Democrat, was in the Governor's chair at the time.

In the present fiscal emergency, it was the insistence of House Democrats and Secretary of State Richard H. Austin that state taxpayers should pay interest on the money borrowed from the Uninsured Motorists' fund. Successful transfer of the motorists' fund alleviated a fiscal crisis but there are indications that more such crises may be ahead in the next few months.

The state treasury already is behind in its payments on the February and April school aid allotments, having paid only part of the full payments.

State Treasurer Allison Green already is worrying about where the money will come from to pay the $100 million school aid allotment for June, and Social Services Director R. Bernard Houston figures from $12 million to $25 million more will be needed to meet welfare obligations before the end of the fiscal year June 30.

Many illustrations were used by John J. Cozens, Department of Water Resources, pointing out existing pollution problems confronting Michigan's county agencies. Cozens presented his anti-pollution program Thursday for the Sixth District Association of County Commissioners meeting at Smith Hall in St. Johns.

State Rep. Richard J. Allen, hasn't decided whether or not to run for the Michigan Senate. "I haven't finalized my plans as yet, but I can say that I will be running again for public office," he said.

Myself

I have to live with myself, and so I want to be fit for myself to know. I want to be able, as days go by, Always to look myself straight in the eye. I don't want to stand, with the setting sun And hate myself for the things I've done.

I don't want to keep on a closet shelf A lot of secrets about myself, And fool myself, as I come and go, Into thinking that nobody else will know The kind of person I really am; I don't want to dress up myself in sham.

I want to go out with my head erect, I want to deserve all men's respect; But here in the struggle for fame and wealth, I want to be able to like myself. I don't want to look at myself and know That I'm bluster and bluff and empty show.

I never can hide myself from me; I see what others may never see; I know what others may never know; I can never fool myself, and so, Whatever happens, I want to be Self respecting and conscience-free.

Philip II

By REV. HUGH BANNINGA

The second appearance of Philip in John's gospel comes at the beginning of the 6th chapter. We read:

"It was near the time of Passover, the great Jewish festival. Raising his eyes and seeing a large crowd coming towards him, Jesus said to Philip, 'Where are we to buy bread to feed these people?' This He said to test him; Jesus himself knew what He meant to do. Philip replied, 'Forty dollars would not buy enough bread for every one of them to have a little.'

In this scene we see Philip who has a warm heart but a pessimistic head. Philip was one of those people who would like very much to do something for others, but in that particular situation he did not see how he could possibly do anything at all. The reason for this was that Philip lacked a full understanding of God's power. He didn't realize the kind of almighty power God possessed. He had no idea what God could do. Had he known about God's full power, he could have foreseen what Jesus was about to do for that crowd of 5,000. But like so many of us, Philip lacked a strong faith in the power of Almighty God.

A traveler in an outlying rural community was being shown the small, but beautiful church erected at a cost of much time and sacrifice on the part of the people. The traveler expressed his amazement that the church building should be so beautifully and completely equipped with electric lights, because he knew that electricity was not available in that community.

When the traveler told the people about this, they all told him they were proud of their work even though there was no connection with the power.

HOW TRUE this is with so many Christians! They can look and act like their own image of what a Christian is, but under the surface there is no connection with the real Power. Yes, there are many so-called Christians who spend so much time worrying about how they should speak and act, that they completely forget about who the real source of Power is in their lives.

Philip had a warm heart, but he lacked the strong faith to go with it. However, I'm certain he gained a strong faith as he grew older, and this is encouraging news for you and me. There are some people who, right now, have a weak faith just as Philip had. But Philip grew in his faith, and each new day opportunities to grow in our faith.

Maybe you wonder sometimes just what a strong faith is. Well, let me give you some illustrations. An unknown poet says this about faith:

"Faith is not merely praying upon our knees at night; Faith is not merely straying through the darkness into light; Faith is not merely waiting for glory that may be.

Helen Keller wrote this about faith. "Dark as my path may seem to others, I carry a magic light in my heart. Faith, the spiritual strong searchlight, illumines the way.

Although sinister doubts lurk in the shadow, I walk unafraid toward the Enchanted Wood where the foliage is always green;

where joy abides; where nightingales nest and sing, and where life and death are one in the presence of the Lord."

FINALLY, THERE was a certain fisherman who was known for his "luck." Actually, it wasn't luck at all. The secret of his success was simple. He would row until his palms were blistered. More than that, he never lost faith, never let his line lie listlessly.

Even when there was slight action, he would stick until the last minute. He argued that one more minute might bring the biggest catch of the day. Yes, he had a simple rule.

But how often you and I fall because we lost faith! How often we are unable to symbolically feed the 5,000, because we lacked sufficient faith. We are like Philip who had a warm heart but pessimistic head.

Next week we will see Philip who disliked responsibility and who had a questioning mind.

From the State House Majority at 18

By REP. DICK ALLEN

Eighteen Year Old Majority. What's it all about?

First of all it has nothing to do with 18 year old voting, a completely separate issue.

Majority in this context, is used a little differently than our usual understanding of the term. It is opposite, or complementary, to minority. A person who is no longer a minor has reached his majority.

In other words if this Bill passes, young people will cease to be minors on their 18th birthday.

This would affect a number of areas of the law. For example, those 18 to 21 would be required to be parties to litigation directly without guardians. In criminal cases they often are treated as adults under present law. Under the change they always would be. Also they could appear in court in civil cases on their own behalf, for instance to sue someone for $500.

Eighteen year olds could make wills. Presently even those with a family cannot.

THEY WOULD not need a guardian in probate or property cases and could receive inheritances directly. At times present law withholds money from 18 to 21 when a young person may be in college and in need. Then it is given at 21, a time near graduation and a good job.

An 18 year old could admit himself to a mental institution. 18 to 21 is a high stress age period. Mental health authorities tell us that many times the young people are more perceptive about their need for help than their parents who are likely to be concerned about the social stigma.

Eighteen year olds could also seek medical treatment and make binding decisions for or against treatment without parental consent. Occasionally young people today delay treatment they should have either because they are embarrassed to bring the problem up with their parents or perhaps because their parents live in a different part of the country.

The age of contractual capacity would be lowered to 18. An eighteen year old could buy a car himself and purchase his own insurance... provided of course the dealer and agent were willing. Presently parents are often put in a difficult position. They might recognize that their 20 year old with a job that requires driving needs an auto and insurance. However they might be reluctant to assume all the financial responsibilities connected with making the purchase in their name.

NOW THE CONTROVERSIAL one! The legal drinking age would be 18. Do many of us believe 18 year olds drinking legally would be a problem? Certainly! On the other hand is drinking between 18 and 21 a problem under the present law? Absolutely! Alcohol violations are the leading cause of arrests in this age group. Also drinking under present circumstances contributes to many other problems, perhaps including illegitimate pregnancies.

Presently most drinking in this age group is done in cars and anyone who thinks this is not a problem has not looked at insurance statistics or our littered roadways.

The total issue adds up to this. Are 18 year olds ready to be thrown out of the nest and is society ready to throw them out?

Rep. Douglas Trezise 87th District

New proposals

Consider, as we will in the Legislature, the following proposals:

—A plan to remove from the property tax all support for the operations of schools.

—A bill to allow cities to increase the amount of income tax levied on residents and non-residents.

—A program to change the distribution of state collected taxes to local units of government from a per capita distribution to a formula based on local tax effort.

—A proposal to allow townships to increase taxes to support needed services.

All of these proposals have behind them the need for more money at the local level and the desire of most people to get off the property tax as the primary source of local revenue. While they involve both schools and local government, I believe they are related and to attempt to solve one without considering the others would be a mistake.

For example, under present arrangements, the schools are allocated a portion of the constitutional 15 mills levied by the county. In our area this runs in the neighborhood of 8 to 8.5 mills.

SHOULD WE, WHEN we remove the schools from dependence on this money, leave the constitutional limit at 15 mills and allow the other units—generally township and county—to take up the difference? I personally think not. If this happens, we will defeat the purpose of giving property tax relief.

The proposal to revise the method of distributing state collected revenues also has merit. These taxes, principally the sales tax, income tax and the intangibles tax, are now shared with local units on a per capita basis. At the present time, one-eighth of all sales tax collections, 17 per cent of all income tax collections and approximately one-fourth of the intangibles tax is distributed to local governmental units—exclusive of schools—in this manner.

But, is population the only basis which should be used? For example, the counties of Wayne, Oakland and Macomb contribute approximately 50 per cent of the total sales tax collected in the state, yet in the 1960 census—the basis for distribution until now—these counties have only 40 per cent of the state's population. Thus, a portion of their sales tax contribution is going to other counties. A similar disparity is generally true in the other taxes.

It should be pointed out that the distribution of sales taxes is provided for in the constitution and there is no proposal to change this. But, the income and intangibles taxes are distributed under a state law, the revision of which we will be discussing this year.

While these problems may seem independent and will be handled in separate bills by the Legislature, it is my opinion they are related and should be considered phases of the same problem. What we will be treating is an overall restructuring of the financial basis of all local governmental entities and the impact of these efforts on the local taxpayer must be considered in total.

We can't take away revenues from some units—as well we might with revision of the income tax distribution formula—without granting them authority to make up this loss from a different source. Nor can we afford to give all units blanket power to tax everyone and everything without proper safeguards for the taxpayer's pocketbook.

Resolving these problems will make for an interesting summer.
