Barbara Waggoner finds Peace Corps rewarding

By Laurie Kipp
County News Writer

EUREKA -- Barbara Waggoner always wanted to go to Africa, and in January of 1971 she got her wish. A Peace Corps volunteer, she has just extended her service to include another year, beginning soon in Upper Volta. She is the daughter of Mr and Mrs J. D. Robinson of Eureka.

Ms Waggoner received a BA in Sociology from the University of Michigan. Upon graduation she obtained a job at Harvard, which she didn't like, and an apartment in Boston. She had applied for a position with the Peace Corps, but had given up on being accepted since almost a year had passed with no word from them.

"The application was huge," she said, "with 16 personal recommendations required. They do some very thorough checking."

Finally she heard from them, and was told to list 3 countries she would like to visit.

"It's just like the Army," she laughed. "They give you 3 choices and ignore them."

Ms Waggoner was firm, however, and said she wanted Africa.

ORIGINALLY THE PEACE Corps assigned her to a nutrition program in Upper Volta, a country just north of Ghana and slightly east of the Ivory Coast. But there was not enough work in the program, so she began working as a para-physical therapist.

"There are only 2 qualified physical therapists in the country of 5 million people," she noted.

Ms Waggoner and a French orthopedic nurse currently have a clinic at Banfora, where they work mostly with children.

"About half of the children have had polio," she said. "Eradication is difficult because only about 10% go to school and the rest are out in the bush." "Half of them, too, have had an injection of a French anti-Malaria bug, which damages the Sciatic Nerve," she added. The Sciatic Nerve is located near the hip.

"IT'S EXTREMELY painful," she said. "Some of the kids can't, or won't, walk and the leg atrophies."

"They don't try to use the leg, and never walk again. After 3 years or so they can't do anything with it."

The World Rehabilitation Fund has paid for and sent a machine for making braces out of natural materials, which they have had for 8 months. But, the generator which provides power for the machine, hasn't arrived yet.

When asked if she felt like she was accomplishing anything in such a bleak situation, Ms Waggoner replied, "I realize I can't do very much... my work is far more personal than anything--maybe I can help 30 kids to walk... but I can't change Upper Volta."

She does find the delays disheartening, however. "These people get discouraged, and then I get discouraged," she said.

A WHEELCHAIR costs about 800,000 francs, approximately $400. These high costs make it especially difficult to help.

Between birth and 5 years of age, the infant mortality rate is about 50%. Ms Waggoner noted that if a child lives 5 years, he will have built up certain immunities and has a good chance of surviving.

"Death is accepted in a different way," she said. "When an adult dies the people have a celebration of his life. They believe he is with his ancestors. The chief gives a sort of eulogy and talks about how his children will carry on."

Ms Waggoner described the people as

"very warm and beautiful -- very quick to smile, very quick to laugh. They have no crime problem."

"We could learn something from them," she added.

WHEN SHE ARRIVED, she had to learn the language of the Mossi Tribe, the ruling tribe of the region, but had no problems here.

There are some 8000 people in Banfora. Ms Waggoner lives in 2 mud houses, 1 about 16 feet in diameter and another 10 feet across. They have cement floors and bamboo thatched roofs.

Two other male Peace Corps volunteers live in houses with running water in town, but she said she prefers her mud huts on the edge of the city.

It is unusual for Mossi men to have just 1 wife, and an unmarried woman is never seen. If a woman's husband dies, she is absorbed into another family.

July through September is the rainy season in Upper Volta, so crops must be planted and harvested by December. The climate is very humid, and everything molds. Their main crops are millet and peanuts.

THE REST of the year comprises their dry season, with temperatures climbing to 112-115 degrees in the shade.

Most of the people are Muslim or Anamist. They worship a god and ward off evil spirits. There are some Christians, mainly about 150,000 Catholics.

Ms Waggoner gets around town and to nearby villages on a small motorbike called a Mobyette. Her usual routine is to go to a village and ask the Chief if there are any children who can't walk. She then sets up a schedule to see them regularly.

She currently works at the clinic Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings, and goes out to various

Weekend wreck claims 10th 1973 victim

DEWITTWP -- Another fatality was recorded in Clinton County over the weekend, bringing this year's total to 10. Dead is John Edward Manning, 56, of Alpena.

A St Johns woman, Kathryn Marie Barker, 19, 307 S Mead St, is listed in good condition at Sparrow Hospital in Lansing, following the 2-car accident on US-27 Saturday.

Clinton county Sheriff's deputies report that apparently the Manning vehicle was heading south on US-27 when it turned in front of the car driven by Ms Barker. The accident occurred on the Looking Glass Bridge, just south of the Round Lake Rd intersection.

Ms Barker, a nursing student at Northern Michigan University Hospital, was taken by the Clinton Area Ambulance Service to Sparrow Hospital.

DeWitt Council questions check to resigned chief

By Jim Edwards
County News Editor

DEWITT -- A difference of opinion between the DeWitt City Council and the city administrator came to a head Monday night, prompting the calling of a special meeting Tuesday night at 5:30.

Members of the council objected to the city administrator Daniel Elliott authorizing a check for approximately $1400 for resigning police chief Charles Anderson.

Elliott said the check covered money due Anderson for accrued sick leave and vacation time.

Elliott told the council there was no definite policy outlined in such cases and that he authorized the payment on precedent set in previous cases of departing city employees.

Mayor Raymond DeWitt said, "There has never been council action during the last 3 mayors on accumulated sick leave and vacation. We have never paid for sick leave time."

Elliott again explained, "There has never been any policy set by the council." He repeated that he authorized the check by the precedent set in previous cases.

Councilman Gary Gillespie, said he felt, "... somewhere along the line there has been a misunderstanding and the clerk or someone has set a policy that got by previous councils."

Asked for an opinion, city attorney Dan Matson, said he felt, "amount involved is way over the head of the administrative director. I believe the council should have been consulted. I believe the action was uncalled for, in my opinion."

He added, "The recipient took it (the check) in good faith and I don't question Mr Elliott's good faith."

Councilman Wayne Wilcox asked

Elliott why he felt qualified to authorize the check and Elliott said in an earlier similar situation, a conversation with former mayor Lawrence Keck indicated such payments were to be made."

Gillespie then recommended a meeting between Elliott, city employees and the salary and personnel committee to clarify the situation."

Mayor DeWitt said that Elliott had time to consult with the council before authorizing the check and said it was something he had been "warned about before."

DeWitt called the special meeting for 5:30 pm the next evening and also announced the changing of the title administrative director to city administrative assistant.

Elliott informed him of the requirement of having at least 4 councilman approving action to rescind the 1st job title.

A roll-call vote for the change failed to get the necessary 4 votes. Voting against the measure were Frederick Shaver, Gillespie and Stanley Tenney. Voting in favor were Wayne Wilcox, Ronald Mull and Robert Ballard. Although the mayor voted in favor, it was reported the 4 "yes" votes must come from councilmen.

Asked why he would object to a change of title, Elliott said, "It is a matter of administrative interference from the mayor since November. Each has told the office girls to approve each check and is individually directing members of the city staff"

Elliott said it is the responsibility of his office to handle such procedures.

Mayor DeWitt asked another city department head, Department of Public Works supervisor Floyd Fowler if he felt the mayor had interfered in his work.

Fowler said the mayor had talked to him on occasion concerning requests, but named no specific instances of interference.

Bath to seek funds for new school

BATH -- The Bath Board of Education, in a special meeting held April 23, decided to "go to the people" for funds to build a new high school and construct an addition to the present high school, according to Superintendent Roger Carlson.

Carlson said the architectural engineer's estimate for repair of the Couzen's Building came to at least $65,000, and possibly more.

The board, he said, decided the best route to take would be construction of a new high school and remodeling the present senior high into a facility to house the middle school.

The Couzen's Building would not be used, with the exception of shop facilities on the south end of the school.

Present plans call for an election to be held July 30, with double sessions for students continuing until adequate facilities can be provided.

Carlson noted that the bond issue will be similar to that proposed in the last school election.

Barbara Waggoner, home on vacation from the Peace Corps, shows her parents, Mr and Mrs J.D. Robinson of Eureka, an Adinkra Cloth. The garment, worn primarily by men for dress occasions such as funerals, was made in Ghana. These garments, she noted, are never washed.

villages the rest of the time. She has Saturday mornings free, but works in the afternoon, and has Sundays off.
Most people in Upper Volta, she said, work from about 7 am until noon, and from 3-5 because of the intense midday heat.
Ms Waggoner will be returning to Africa soon to begin a 3d year with the Peace Corps. This will be her last year, however.

"THREE YEARS is enough," she said. "A person's effectiveness dwindles after that."
What the Peace Corps needs now, she said, are older people who already have trades, and fewer college students without specialized training. She cited farming, well-digging and plumbing as skills that are especially needed.

Fowler Earth Science students learn in relaxed atmosphere

By LAURIE KIPP
County News Writer

FOWLER -- Earth Science students at Fowler's Holy Trinity School enjoy the relaxed atmosphere of Dean Bredwell's classes. And, the method Bredwell uses to teach seems to have paid off.

He was voted Earth Science teacher of the Year for the North Central Region covering Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky and Michigan by members of the National Association of Geology Teachers.

To the music of the Beatles and other groups, students can be seen digging in the dirt, playing games and taping things to the ceiling. Actually, they are working independently on projects they select themselves from a card file compiled by Bredwell.

These 200-300 cards are composed of 7 levels of difficulty. As a student progresses, the projects become more unstructured and he must learn to think independently.

Bredwell noted that no 2 students take exactly the same route on their projects, but all end up with the same type of knowledge. One of the advantages of the card system, according to Bredwell, is that it helps solve individual reading problems. The piles of reference books, many of which belong to Bredwell, are coded to these cards. They are also at different levels of reading difficulty.

He explained that using this kind of teaching method can be extremely frustrating at times. The normal learning curve goes up at a steady steady rate, in contrast to this type of learning, he said. In his classes, students may show little progress for as long as 6 weeks, but then the curve goes almost straight up.

Bredwell said he wants the kids to do 2 things -- to learn and to take responsibility for what they're doing. He said the students accept this and see him less as a threat, and more as a resource person.

"I TRY TO manipulate the environment, allowing students to explore," he said. "Their attitude toward learning is as important as the learning itself," he added.

His 7th grade classes aren't quite as unstructured as the 8th grade, but they do undertake many activities on their own initiative. Bredwell said this is because the kids come from a traditionally structured elementary school, and aren't quite ready to guide themselves yet.

These 2 fellows are putting together a Time Line on the ceiling of their classroom. Ailyn Finkbeiner (left) and Tom Klein are working on the line, which covers time from the origin of the earth to the arrival of man on the moon. The scale is 250,000 years per inch.

Earth Science teacher Dean Bredwell helps an 8th grade student with her individual project. In addition to regular activities taken from the coded activity cards, each student is required to formulate 1 individual project on his own.

"The 7th grade class is a good 'buffer' between elementary school and the 8th grade," he remarked. "They still do things on their own, though."

Bredwell said he plans to eventually go through all the earth science books and code the various activities on punch cards. He hopes this will aid in information retrieval. "I spend probably 80% of my time helping kids find things now," he said.

Last summer he went to a teacher's institute in Texas for 6 weeks on a National Science Foundation grant, and plans to spend 10 weeks this year at Ohio State, also on a NSF grant, to branch out into the environmental aspects of Earth Science.

Bredwell's class, entitled "Earth and your Community" is locally-oriented in an attempt to make it more relevant to his students. Most students said they enjoy the class. One student was overheard saying, "I really dig it."

These 8th graders are working on a stream table inside the classroom. One of the more advanced projects, the purpose is to learn about land use and erosion.

Parents omitted

ST JOHNS -- Last week's Clinton County News inadvertently omitted the names of the parents of Alexander F. MacKinnon, who is the Salutatorian of the 1973 St Johns High School graduating class.

He is the son of Mr and Mrs Frazer, 304 E Buchanan, St Johns.

Clinton soil map survey is complete

ST JOHNS -- Derrill M. Shinabery, chairman Clinton County Board of Commissioners, was present when Glenn A. Weesies, Soil Scientist with the U.S. Soil Conservation Service, mapped the last acre of the Clinton County Soil Survey. This survey covers all of the 365,440 acres of Clinton County which began in June of 1964, and the last acre was mapped May the 4th, 1973.

The Clinton County Board of Commissioners contracted with the U.S.D.A. Soil Conservation Service to complete this soil survey.

According to Karl Pregitzer, SCS Soil

Survey Party Leader, the Soil Survey field maps will be prepared for reproduction, data collected in the field will be analyzed and interpretations will be developed for use of these soils.

The completed soil survey report will contain detailed soil maps of the entire county mounted on an aerial photo base. It will contain a general soil map for broad, regional planning. It will contain descriptions of the soils mapped in the county. It will suggest use and management of these soils for farming, woodlands and wildlife. It will list the limitations of these soils for highway construction, agricultural drainage, farm ponds, recreation, residential development and use as sewage disposal fields.

According to Pregitzer, the report will be completed by his staff by next fall. It then must be reviewed and edited by various state and national soil scientists and then sent to the U.S. Government Printing Office. "We might expect the Published Report to be ready for distribution in 3 years," states Pregitzer.

In the meantime, a limited supply of soil map reproductions and soil information will be available at the SCS office in St Johns. They are also available at various county and township offices. Soil map reproductions of the last two townships will be available by early summer.

Anyone desiring soil information may obtain it at the St Johns office. Personnel are available to give technical field assistance to anyone desiring help with problems relating to soil and water conservation. To obtain information and assistance, come to the Clinton County Soil Conservation District Office, 100 S. Ottawa Street, St Johns.

Clinton Memorial Hospital celebrates Hospital Week

ST JOHNS -- Clinton Memorial Hospital has joined the nation's more than 700 hospitals in a National Hospital Week celebration to honor the 3 million persons employed in health care institutions.

National Hospital Week, which is sponsored annually by the American Hospital Association, is being observed May 6-12. The national theme for the week is "Your Hospital... A Caring Community... Your Health... Our Common Concern".

Paul McNamara, administrator of Clinton Memorial Hospital, stated "We believe this theme describes our institution. With increasing public concern about the quality, availability, and costs of health care, the employees of Clinton Memorial Hospital are a community of caring people, who are concerned about bringing better health care to more people as efficiently as possible. During 1972 we treated 9,249 patients.

"We provided over 19,000 patient days of care during the same period, performed 41,775 Lab tests and 7,058 X-ray exams and treatments. During 1972 we also had 662 surgeries performed, delivered 127 babies and treated 2784 patients in our Emergency Room.

"We have also made progress in the area of providing additional physicians for Clinton County and are even more hopeful of greater success in 1973.

During National Hospital Week, work in our nation's hospitals are meeting the changing and challenging health care needs of the American people.

At this event 9 employees will be honored with special certificates. Albert Isaac, representing the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office, will speak on consumerism, and a skit will be presented by hospital employees.

On Thursday evening the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees will be held in the Hospital dining room, and on Friday a special employee day has been declared and free coffee, punch and cookies will be provided for the employees on all 3 shifts.

Paul McNamara explained that the goal of National Hospital Week is to focus attention on how the people who work in our nation's hospitals are meeting the changing and challenging health care needs of the American people.

St Johns Mayor Robert Wood issued the following proclamation:

WHEREAS, The theme for National

Hospital Week is "Your Hospital... A Caring Community... Your Health... Our Common Concern and

WHEREAS, the City of St Johns joins the nation in paying tribute to the dedicated people who serve in the Clinton Memorial Hospital of this community who provide skilled and compassionate health care to our citizens, both inside and outside NOW, THEREFORE, I, Robert H. Wood, as Mayor of this city of St Johns do hereby proclaim May 6-12, 1973 as HOSPITAL WEEK IN ST JOHNS,

DeWitt nursery a cooperative venture

DEWITT - Hope Lutheran Church on Herbison Rd has been doubling as a cooperative nursery school for pre-schoolers 5 days a week, thanks to a group of concerned parents in the area.

Blue Star Mothers celebrate 29th anniversary

On April 24 Blue Star Mothers held a potluck supper at the Congregational Church to celebrate their 29th anniversary.

A short program followed the supper with Janice Hyzer and Cheryl Campeau entertaining with song, tap dance and taton twirling.

There were 4 of the 5 charter members present, Bernice Stevens, Rose Wilkie, Della Corkin and Mable Maier.

One of the members reported that the last of her 6 sons who have served in the service will be retired in May this was Marie Whitford.

Edna Eldred was elected to attend convention at Grand Rapids as delegate with Rose Wilkie alternate.

The committee for the May meeting is Alice Heibeck, Jessie Finch, Arg Mozalloni and Ruth DeBoer.

The mystery prize was won by Dorothy Steves.

Taught by Sylvia Worst, 2 separate classes are offered for 3 and 4 year olds, at a cost of $1.50 a day. The 4 year-olds meet on Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 9-11 am, and the 3 year-olds meet on Tuesday and Thursday at the same time.

The school was begun in January of 1972, when several area parents got together and decided that since there was no nursery available between Lansing and St Johns they should start one. The YWCA helped them get started, and currently assists as co-sponsor and adviser.

Mrs Worst is paid for her services, but the rest of the parents who assist donate their time. A limit has been set at 20 kids per class. Currently 18 children are enrolled in the 4 year-old class, and 16 in the younger group.

Playtime takes up the first hour of school, followed by a snack time and other activities. Some of the play facilities were made by parents, and include wooden bookshelves, stove and sink, an ironing board, a tower with a slide and a work bench.

Other toys include a variety of hats such as a fireman's hat, Smokey the Bear and hard hat. Books are furnished partly by the school and partly by the DeWitt Library.

The class has also taken field trips to an orchard, where the children picked apples and a pumpkin to take home; they visited the DeWitt Library, a Greenhouse, a dentist in St Johns and 2 farms.

As a climax to the year's activities a field trip to Potter Park Zoo in Lansing is planned for the last day of school.

Blue Star Mothers meet

MAPLE RAPIDS -- A potluck supper was enjoyed when 37 members of Blue Star Mothers gathered at the Congregational Church in Maple Rapids on May 2. The business meeting was called to order by president Nina Freed.

President Edna Eldred extended an invitation for the group to hold their annual meeting in St Johns with chapter 88 hosting. The invitation was accepted and Myrtle Tolles was appointed president, Ruth Barrett 1st vice and Nora Heibeck sec.

The evening was spent playing games with prizes for all.

1st grade teacher at Eureka Elementary School, Diane Derby, passes out books to some of her students in their reading corner. The bathtub, decorated by her class, has cushions inside and makes a comfortable spot to curl up with a book. Mrs Derby reports that interest in learning to read has increased since the tub became a part of her classroom.

Eureka 1st graders have fun at school

EUREKA -- First grade kids in Diane Derby's class may have more fun at school than some others. Recently they decorated a bathtub with painted flowers, and furnished it with pillows. It serves as a sort of reading cubbyhole, and has sparked interest in learning to read as a result, according to Mrs Derby.

She said the project was greeted enthusiastically by her 26 students, who enjoy spending time in the tub. She noted that she came into the room during a recess period and found 2 of the boys reading in the tub. Students are allowed free reading time if they have completed all their work, she said. They also make use of the tub if they have to stay inside at recess for some reason, or want to.

Last week the class made cookies. Mrs Derby said they undertook the project in conjunction with their study of the Indians. "They made their own flour, so we make cookies," she said.

Plans in the making include a study of each of the basic food groups.

Here Mrs Derby's 1st graders sample the cookies they baked last week. The class, which just finished study of how Indians used to make their own flour, decided to bake cookies and see what happens to flour when it is cooked.

Maple Rapids hosts 69th meeting of womens' clubs

The 69th Annual meeting of the Clinton County Federation of Women's met on Thursday, May 3 at the United Methodist Church in Maple Rapids with the Maple Rapids Sorosis Club as hostess. Mrs Kenneth Winsor presided over the meeting as County

President. Other officers serving with her were Mrs James Whittemore, vice-president; Mrs Ray Miller, secretary; Mrs Erwin McMaster, Treasurer, and Mrs Harold Millman as chairman of the Nominating Committee. Before the luncheon was served, Mrs Dee Allen favored the group with several organ selections. Part of the program was given during the lunch hour. There was group singing. Mrs Madge Underwood brought greetings to the group and Mrs James Whittemore gave the response. The Invocation was given by Miss Mary Cole. Two minute reports were given by the Club presidents. All reported a very busy year. Some were prevented by bad weather on their meeting day. Mrs McWilliams won the door prize, a beautiful table centerpiece. There was a brief recess while the group went back upstairs. Mrs John Spencer led in the Pledge of Allegiance, after which Mrs JoAnn Williams sang three numbers. It is no secret, I forgive, and How Great Thou Art.

Mrs John Spencer gave a brief history of the Maple Rapids Sorosis Club. Officers for 1972-73 were introduced. There were seven past county presidents in attendance. The speaker for the day, Mrs Francis Joannides and the district president, Mrs Bartelle Friess were also introduced. Mrs John Rumbaugh had charge of the memorial. Five members were paid tribute: Mrs Mae Goodrich, the Elsie Literary Club; Mrs Maude Crooks of the Maple Rapids Sorosis Club; Mrs Anna Alderman of the Ovid Duplain Library Club; and Mrs Nina DeWitt and Mrs Elsie Vance of the St Johns Women's Club. A monetary gift was given to Girl's Town in their memory. On the table were a parchment representing music, The Bible and a loaf of sliced bread representing the staff of life, a picture and some brushes and tube paints to represent art, the gavel for taking an interest in civic affairs, flags for an interest in international affairs, and an evergreen to represent life. The secretary and treasurer reports were read and accepted. Mrs John Spencer took the group on an imaginary trip to all the clubs in the county. Mrs Bartelle Friess, district president, gave a talk on "Know Your Federation". There are over 14,500 clubs in the United States, and over 11 and one-half million club women through the world. Mrs Joannides, speaker for the day, spoke on "How to Achieve Your Potential as a Woman." She compared a woman to houseplants, one plant does well when not receiving too much sunshine, the other received too little. She told how a woman suffering with muscular dystrophy and confined to a wheel chair liked to bake and shared her baking with others, some she sold and gave the money to a church towards building an educational unit. A woman has to decide what she wants to do. She also brought out the fact of the vast difference between the 19th and 20th century women. Women form 35% of the working force and 10% of the professional positions. New Officers for the year are Mrs James Whittemore, president; Mrs Roy Davids, vice-president; Mrs Elmo Giffels, secretary; Mrs Robert Bloomer, treasurer; Mrs Charles Walker (absent), nominations chairman. The meeting next year will be in May with the Ovid Crescent Club.

P-W Band earns rating at Durand

On a recent trip to Durand for the District Five Band festival, the Pewamo-Westphalia High School Band earned an "excellent" rating.

To achieve the rating, the band was required to play 3 numbers -- "Storm King", "Variation Overture", and "Westchester Overture". "Westchester Overture" was the required number for a class C band.

During these numbers, 3 judges listened for precision in playing, intonation, and general musical effect. The 2d part of the judging was done in sightreading. A march and concert number were played, and no one knew what the selections were until the actual sightreading occurred.

The 4 ratings were summarized and the band came home with a 2d division. This is the first time in the history of P-W high school that the band has ever received a II.

The P-W junior high also attended the Solo and Ensemble Festival in Breckenridge.

From the 14 events entered, 2 received a "superior" rating, and 8 received an "excellent" rating.

St Johns High School Chorallers, under the direction of Don Valentine, perform during the program entertainment portion of the Saturday statewide meeting of Child Study Clubs at St Johns High School. Guest speaker for the Spring Planning Conference was Rev Hugh Banning of the St Johns Episcopal Church. During the day, Child Study groups participated in workshop sessions to review presentations of the upcoming year's programs. Following a luncheon and the Chorallers performance, state officers addressed the group and the day ended with a salute to Michigan Week by Linda Ernst, St Johns High School student, who composed and read a poem prepared especially for the program.

Historian is guest speaker at Senior Citizens' meeting

ELSIE (c) - Elsie Senior Citizens met at the American Legion Hall with a potluck dinner served by Mr and Mrs Manley Engebretson assisted by Mr and Mrs Robert Kelley.

The president Milford Clark called the meeting to order and Walter Bancroft introduced the guest speaker, Frank Bishop, a retired conservation office of Owosso.

Bishop set up a large hand drawn map which had tracings of the wandering of the Maple River along with the Shiawassee and Grand Rivers.

He had marked and named certain trading posts, saw mills, grist mills, Indian campsites and homes of a few of the early pioneers.

Feed and saw mills and dams were built along the Maple River west of the present village of Elsie early in 1936 by the Thomas Craven family with sons, Robert, Isaac, Joseph, and Thomas Jr.

The original river, road, from Craven's Mills to the Colony or Mapleton as it was then called at that time was also cleared and built by the Cravens.

The Chippewa Indians of the area exchanged their pelts and furs with the French traders who plied the Maple and other rivers in canoes through the Saginaw region.

In 1826, George Campau opened a trading post at Maple Rapids following similar posts by Bolieu and Tremble, Chochios, Knaggs and others.

In 1845 Saggee's Camp was located on the banks of the Maple River on the old Arthur Cobb farm, where Indians in traveling between Saginaw, Maple Rapids and Grand Rapids often used the trail that passed this camp.

Bishop explained the geographical background of this area and his listeners were surprised to learn that north of Maple Rapids there once was a pleasure and steam boat on the river between Maple Rapids and Bridgeville.

Bishop is a member of Owosso Historical Society. He is collecting artifacts and information concerning this early history. He asked if anyone had information he could use in a book he wants to complete, he would appreciate hearing from them. You may write to Frank Bishop - 1024 North Water St, Owosso, Michigan 48867.

Mrs Helen Wiltse gave the report of May 2 given by Elaine Cincials, Extension Home Economist at the Central National Bank in St Johns. The topic was "After 65". Miss Cincial presented 3 movies. Each one depicted a specific problem. There was no solution to any of the problems. Mrs Wiltse presented the topics and let the members give their own solutions.

Mr and Mrs Dale Levey Sr will serve on the refreshment committee for June, at which time Mrs Helen Wiltse will show her pictures of the Canadian Rockies and Alaska.

Mrs Wiltse served as secretary pro tem for the business meeting.

Home runs pace Marauder victories

After being shut out for 3 innings Ovid-Elsie batters exploded for 10 runs in the 4th, 5th and 6th innings to take a 10-9 victory from Chesaning last week.

Chesaning led 4-0 going into the 4th, but the Marauders pounded out 4 runs in the top of the inning to tie the game.

Chesaning regained the lead with 2 runs in the 4th, but the Marauders pulled ahead with 5 runs, including a 3-run homer by Tim Quine over the leftfield fence.

Another run in the 6th stretched the O-E lead to 10-6.

Chesaning added 2 in their half of the 6th, and pulled within 1, but the rally was stopped for the Marauder victory.

Gary Groom went the distance on the mound for the Marauders, allowing 10 hits, striking out 9 and walking 5. Only 4 of the 9 Chesaning runs were earned.

The Marauders picked up another victory by playing 1 inning to finish up a tied game with Chesaning called earlier because of darkness.

With the score tied 6-6, Chesaning put across 1 run in their half of the 10th inning, but Gary Groom blasted a long 2-run homer in the O-E 10th to take the win, 10-7.

Dear friends,

It deserves emphasis that the time, the place, the character of the funeral service, the merchandise used, the cemetery selected - these are decisions of the family of the deceased. The funeral director acts only as a representative of the family.

The clergyman should be consulted in matters that concern him before any decisions are made.

Respectfully,

Van W. Hoag

Woman foils young intruder

OVID -- Getting their "first with the most" by a 75-year-old Ovid woman led police authorities in the apprehension of 17-year-old runaway from Whitmore Lake Boys Training Unit, who later admitted to previous crimes in Clinton County. About 3 am May 5, Mrs Ernest Goodfellow, 9395-E Taft Rd, Ovid, heard someone trying to enter her home. Mrs Goodfellow told Clinton County Sheriff's Dept deputies that she felt it was better to meet him while he was outside rather than having him trap her in the house. She met him -- with a pistol. That was enough to send the intruder away, but stopped at a neighbor's home, Art Kelly Sr, and asked him if he would help tow his car out of Mrs Goodfellow's yard. Police were called, but the youth got the car out and drove away on Hollister Rd. A Clinton deputy chased him at a high rate of speed, until the car hit a hole in the road, blew a right front tire and went into the ditch. The youth fled on foot and a warning shot was fired, but he did not halt. Ovid, Bath and State Police assistance was requested and tracking dogs followed the youth, but lost the scent after about a mile. Investigation found the auto was stolen and belonged to a Haslett man who did not know the car was gone. Clinton Deputies and Meridian Township police apprehended the youth at Lake Lansing and Marsh Roads across from Lake Lansing amusement park. The juvenile then admitted to another attempted car theft and 1972 breaking and enterings of Gowers Hardware in Eureka and Beck's Farm Market north of St Johns. Officials returned the youth to Whitmore Lake Boys Training Unit.

Treize calls for property tax relief

A call for complete revision of Michigan's property tax law was issued this week by State Representative R. Douglas Treize (R-Owosso) in a resolution presented Thursday in the Michigan Legislature. Citing the present law, dating back to 1893, as "impossible to administer" and "inequitable", Rep Treize's resolution directs the Michigan Law Revision Commission to undertake a complete review of the General Property Tax Act and develop a law which can be uniformly and equitably administered. Rep Treize was joined by 43 other representatives of both political parties in the introduction of the resolution. It takes only 56 votes to adopt the resolution in the House. "Work with local units of government at the House Taxation Committee has convinced me that further patch-work amendments to our property tax law will not solve our problem", Rep Treize commented. "Today we have sincere public officials from the local assessor and the county equalization department, to the State Tax Commission in constant conflict, each trying to do his part in the complicated business of fixing assessments and equalization factors. It's not the people but the law itself that causes the problem", he added. The Michigan Law Revision Commission was created by the Legislature in 1965 and was given the duty of examining the laws of the state for the purpose of determining where and what revisions are needed to make them more workable and reporting its recommendations to the Commission would have to be enacted by the Legislature before becoming law. Recent work by the Commission has been on the Criminal Code, the Probate Code and the Mental Health Laws.

Watergate: lesson for us all

Watergate could be a tragic lesson right down to our grass roots in Clinton County.

The lesson? We've become a country of merchandised legislators, a revelation to few.

The fact is, money and lots of it has more to do with the running of our state and nation than, in many cases, ability.

Watergate has shown us that the integrity and devotion to serving the public might, perhaps, have been lost during the trip to "victory at the polls."

Why do we comment on this in a local county newspaper? Because, that's where the whole thing starts.

Right here at home is where the original vote comes from on the way to building that big picture in Lansing and Washington.

A network news commentator suggested the other evening that campaign contributions be done away with in favor of government sums fixed at a set figure.

Presidential Candidate A would have X number of dollars, as would have Candidate B. Senator Z would have no more campaign funds than his opponent Senator Y.

If properly controlled, such campaign fund procedures would eliminate much of the "favor buying" and give us a more equal view of all candidates.

It's worth thinking about.

You are what you litter

An annual effort has once again accomplished a great deal in removing a county-wide eyesore.

We're speaking of the trash lined county roads, objects of thoughtless persons who feel no pangs of guilt whatsoever about heaving beer bottles, soft drink bottles and other trash out of their vehicles.

County-wide, such groups as 4-H clubs, Boy Scouts and others have worked to remove the trash during the past few weeks.

These young people are donating their free time, amounting to hours, to correct the blight caused by careless seconds of hundreds throughout the winter.

We thank those groups and individuals who take it upon themselves to clean up our roadsides.

In our opinion those individuals who make the above hours rate about the same as the scene they leave in their path.

Letters to the Editor

Thank you

To the Editor: Many thanks to the Chamber of Commerce, merchants, and the Clinton County News for their cooperative effort in welcoming the Ahrensburg Orchestra. Gifts from the merchants and the articles and pictures in the paper were very impressive to the "youth orchestra". Mr Farber, director of the orchestra, and students were very enthusiastic in their praise of our community. Cooperative efforts such as this make St Johns a better community. A personal thank-you, Walter P. Cole Music Department Chairman

Right now, without learning a new thing from the research laboratories we could save over 100,000 additional lives this year from cancer, if everyone got the American Cancer Society's message about the importance of early diagnosis and prompt, proper treatment, and had regular health checkups.

Buying a used car is a nerve-racking hassle, especially when you need one immediately. I spent a good part of my time off and the weekend searching for just the right vehicle last week, and think I found an acceptable auto. But, it seems a person can never tell whether the thing's going to fall apart or not.

I've decided there are 3 basic types of used cars -- the Klunkers, Lemons and the Maybe You Got a Decent Deal. Hopefully mine will turn out to be in the latter category, but only time will tell. The Maybes include all those vehicles with 4 barely usable tires (They even forgot (?) to put a spare in my trunk), a fresh wash job, doors that lock, and a brand-new-looking engine. Now, I'd rather have a dirty engine, because I could see if it had any oil leaks, etc.

So, I climbed in, started the car to try it out, and got a few blocks away when steam started pouring out from under the hood. Swell. I drove it back to the dealer and had them replace the heater hose. After that everything seemed OK, but I've got my fingers crossed. Another place I visited, home of the screaming radio commercials, was definitely no-go. I told the guy how much I wanted to spend, and what kind of car I wanted. After he showed me a souped-up, dragged-out hot rod, and several other heaps, I left.

These belong in the Lemon category since they looked like drag strip rejects, and would probably run just long enough to sign the papers and change license plates.

The Klunker category is reserved for those cars that wouldn't even start on the lot, let alone in anyone's driveway. "Well, well," the salesman laugh, "Seems we've got a dead battery here." They drag out the wrecker, and even a jump doesn't work.

Then you climb in and try to shut the door--squeeeeeeeeek. Hmmm, a cracked windshield, cigarette butts in the ashtray and no shocks. Nope, not interested. Next.

"Well, well," (they say that a lot) "Here's a car a little old lady drove only to church on Sundays." Sure, fella, guess I'll be moving on. You can't win. All you can do is "You pay your money and take your chances." I guess the best thing to do is get a horse.

The buildings of ancient cities were usually one story, one family houses. These usually contained the family workshop as well as the family residence. Surprisingly enough, even in places as ancient as Mesopotamia, cities were carefully laid out with well planned streets and provisions for sewage disposal and piping water-supplies. Today, cities are ever changing; and yet the basic needs of the people still serve as the best pattern for city development.

Aware that change is the only permanent thing about real estate, FURMAN REALTY CO, 1515 North U.S. 27, 224-3236 keeps constantly up-to-date with real estate values to best serve your interests. As most people in the St Johns area have discovered by now, the Miller Furniture Store building next to the County News was torn down last week.

It doesn't sound all that exciting, but the fact the buildings were adjoining structures caused slight tremors in the County News building.

Those tremors brought out the true courageous colors of the author of this column.

The first shake brought this response to a telephone call: "Good morning, County News, may I help you?"

"Yes, I'd like to speak to the editor please."

"Would you mind holding a minute sir? Members of the staff are trying to pull him back in the window and get the white flag out of his hands. . . he's back at his desk now, I'll tell him you're calling."

LATER: "Does anybody know what happened to Jim. That man is still holding on Line 1."

"Yeah, he's hiding under the desk and says he won't come out until they stop shaking the building."

"For crying out loud, they stopped shaking the building hours ago."

"We know, but he also said he wasn't coming out until his knees stopped shaking."

"Sir, sorry to keep you on hold for so long, but it seems we haven't been able to drag him out. . . er get him to the phone right at the moment. I'll have him call you the minute he crawls out, uhh, I mean returns."

Then there is my favorite bartender who used to ply his trade near the capitol building which houses all the great minds responsible for running Michigan. His name is Joe and he used to brag about all the governors and senators whose elbows he helped bend. But not anymore.

Now Joe brags that he used to know Glenda McGuire.

You know Glenda. She's the foxy chick who was on Gov Milliken's staff until the newspapers revealed that taxpayers were paying her $18,000 per year for doing nothing. It turned out she was a girlfriend of Judge Jimmy Del Rio and her job was part of a political pay-off for Del Rio's support of Milliken in the last election.

PLENTY EMBARRASSED by the publicity, Milliken quickly fired Glenda: He

They told him not to worry, that the shakes in the building were just caused by vibration and there was no danger--but he refuses to believe them. He keeps yelling at them to think of his wife, child and 1966 Corvair."

"Good grief, if he's all that scared, why doesn't he go home until they finish with the work?"

"That's what we asked him. He blubbered a courageous editor does not desert his post in time of danger. That was just before he told the crane operator he'd put his picture on the fringe page for 6 straight issues, if he'd just go away."

EVEN LATER: "Hey, you hear the latest? They've finally solved Edwards' problem so they can go ahead with tearing down the building."

"How in the world did they do that?"

"They're going to let him operate the crane."

Not 100% tax cut support
REP DOUGLAS TREZISE
87th District

When the Legislature passes bills granting a $380 million dollar tax cut over the next two years it's easy to get enthusiastic. As a legislator, member of the House Taxation Committee - and taxpayer - I confess to some of that enthusiasm myself.

This is not to imply 100% support for every item in the package. In fact, there's one part of it I opposed strenuously, both in committee and in the House chamber. Because of it, some people are going to pay more tax rather than less, at least for the year 1973.

Let's take a look at the problem. I'm sure you are aware that one result of this plan is to shift tax burden from the property tax to the income tax. To do this, no actual cuts were made in property taxes but rather, a system of credits for property taxes paid against the income tax to be paid was worked out.

The result is to decrease the total tax burden of the person who pays high property taxes. This new and expanded formula replaces the property tax credit system presently in the income tax plan.

There is also a provision to increase the personal exemption on the state income tax. This assured some tax relief to everyone regardless of his property tax burden.

So far, so good. I'm all for it. My problem revolved around these two points:

The personal exemption increase -- from $1,200 to $1,500 -- goes into effect for the 1974 tax year. But, the repeal of the present property tax credits takes effect with the 1973 year.

Unfortunately, there are a lot of people who will not qualify for property tax relief under the new formula. The new plan relates the credit to income with the basic principle being that the average taxpayer must pay more than 3.5% of his income in property taxes before he gets any credit against state income taxes.

Thus, a person with a $8,000 income must have property taxes of $280 before getting any relief. If income is $10,000, the property tax must be $350, etc. The amount of relief is 60% of the amount, which exceeds that 3.5% figure -- $280 or $350 in the above examples.

The person who does not qualify under this schedule will lose his present credits in 1973 but he will not get any income tax relief via the exemption route until 1974.

My efforts during final consideration of the bill were directed to extending the present property tax credits until 1974 so that everyone would have some benefit for this tax year. I was disappointed that so few of my colleagues realized this minor addition to the bill which would have granted an additional $10 - $15 million tax reduction for 1973. It would have spared us a lot of unhappy taxpayers who, when they compute their 1973 income taxes, will find that tax reduction for that year meant a tax increase.

There are still many items in the package I strongly support. Senior Citizen and disabled veterans tax relief has been expanded considerably. The business community gets a break through credits for inventory taxes paid.

As I have pointed out before, this package of selective tax reductions provides us with a graduated income tax even though the Constitution, supposedly, prohibits it. It's a safe bet that future tax increases will not be made by removing these special considerations but will probably be made by general increases in the income tax rate.

We should all be aware that the likelihood of raising taxes in the years ahead is always with us. We have just passed a two-year tax reduction plan but most experts anticipate that after that, additional money will be needed. Forecasts of income and expenses show that by 1975 the state will be behind again.

Only a dynamic increase in economic activity or severe restraints on governmental costs can avoid that problem. I, for one, intend to work toward those goals.

88th District Report by Stanley Powell State Representative

Many people had predicted that it would never see the "light of day", but a tax relief package which will cut the taxes of every person and business in the state has been adopted by the Legislature and sent to the Governor for approval. It was very gratifying, both as a legislator and a taxpayer to be able to vote into law the first general tax reduction in the state's history.

The tax bills adopted last week have been changed significantly from the versions which were originally introduced into the House, but they will still provide some $380 million in tax relief over the next two years, and I believe that the changes made will result in even more equitable and broad-based relief than was offered earlier.

The property tax has undoubtedly been the most talked about tax over the past year, and I'm happy to report that the bills passed will provide some much needed relief to many of the state's citizens. The final version provides that the state will reimburse all citizens for 60% of the amount which their property taxes exceed 3.5% of their income, up to a maximum benefit of $500.

The proposal was even more generous with senior citizens, the blind and veterans. Senior citizens will be reimbursed for the entire amount by which their property taxes exceed 3.5% of their income, with a sliding scale providing additional reimbursements for incomes less than $6,000 up to a maximum of $500 benefit. The blind will be exempt from property taxes if their homestead state equalized valuation is less than $3,500. If their SEV exceeds $3,500, the exemption would be a ratio of $3,500 to their SEV, up to a maximum of $500 benefit. The local unit of government would be reimbursed for the tax loss by the state. Eligible veterans and widows will receive property tax exemptions pro-rated according to scheduled SEV allowances with no income or SEV ceiling.

To provide some relief to virtually all taxpayers, the state personal income tax exemption will be raised from $1,200 to $1,500.

One major change made in the law adopted from the bill originally proposed is in the relief provided for Michigan businesses. The bill would have reduced the corporate franchise fee from the present 5 mills to 4 mills or by 20%. In order to provide some relief to all businesses both corporate and unincorporated, in place of the franchise fee reduction, there will be an income tax credit of 25% granted for the inventory tax paid by all businesses.

Additional tax reductions are provided by reducing the intangibles tax from 50¢ to 40¢ per $1,000 and increasing credit from $100 to $175 for individual tax returns and from $200 to $350 for joint tax returns.

All of these tax reductions become effective next January 1.

WELFARE AMENDMENTS PROPOSED

The budget bills seem to be moving along in good fashion. Now that we have passed the tax relief measures in the Legislature, we have effectively established our revenues for the coming fiscal year, and I am hopeful that this fact will hasten the approval of a meaningful state budget within existing revenues. I will report on the budget in this column next week.

One major amendment on the Social Services Appropriation was introduced by a colleague of mine, Representative Peter Kok of Grand Rapids. He wants rent checks for welfare recipients made payable to both the recipient and the landlord.

What this would accomplish is to insure that the rent check gets in the hands of the landlord and is not spent otherwise, by the recipient. This is similar to a provision placed in last year's welfare bill making checks payable jointly to recipients and providers of special services such as doctors and dentists.

Last year, House Republicans were successful in including four or five key amendments to the Social Services bill designed to cut down on instances of abuses in the use of welfare money.

I think this proposal is reasonable, and protects the providers from losing money that is rightfully theirs. I hope that we will continue to improve our welfare system. Welfare monies in the state in the coming fiscal year will amount to over a billion dollars in state and federal funds, and we must insure that this program is run efficiently and in the best interests of helping those in need return to society as productive members.

To do this, we must insure that those collecting the public assistance really need it and are using it properly.

View from the Senate

By SEN. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

Tighter rules governing drilling of gas and oil wells in Michigan are almost certain to be requested by northern lower Peninsula residents as a result of the unfortunate incidents near the Grand Traverse County village of Williamsburg last week.

Already the gong has sounded for investigations of the cause of the escaping gas that forced the evacuation of 250 men, women, and children from Williamsburg and that resulted in effluent draining into the area around Grand Traverse Bay.

This latest natural disaster, which received national news attention even in competition with the severe floods in the Mississippi and Missouri river regions, is still far from being solved.

The drilling company, whose gas well went out of control several days before the gas began seeping through the surface of the ground in many places, contends that its drilling operations are not responsible for the problem!

But suits already have been filed against the drilling company and at least one former State Department of Natural Resources official contends that the drilling operations are to blame.

Ford Kellum, the former DNR official, said the use of metal casing in the drilling would have prevented gas from escaping from a well shaft but that drillers don't install such casing because of the cost and because the state does not require its use.

Kellum said most companies "get by as cheaply as they can" and won't change procedure unless pressured or forced into it.

The Williamsburg incident recalls the public outcry raised in 1971 by a gas leak from an underground limestone storage cavern in Newaygo County and in 1968 by a gas geyser near Battle Creek.

At those times, many residents clamored for tighter regulations governing drilling operations and promises were made that "this will never happen again."

There have been, however, several bright spots in the Williamsburg development.

The drilling company has cooperated fully with state officials in insuring the quick evacuation of residents from the area.

In a potentially dangerous situation, no innocent person was injured or killed even though all homes in the area had to be evacuated.

The DNR and Governor

Milliken acted quickly by issuing emergency rules which included requiring the use of casing on all state wells drilled through porous rock formations.

Until the exact cause of the eruptions has been determined definitely, no steps can be taken to prevent a similar event from occurring, somewhere else, but it seems almost certain that some tighter rules will have to be imposed if drilling proves to have been the cause.

It should also be noted that, because of the apparently burgeoning national energy and fuel shortage crisis, there has been a somewhat tempered attitude toward the gas and oil industry regarding the Williamsburg fiasco. A couple of years ago, before a fuel crisis was thought possible, gung-ho environmentalists might really have been out for blood after such an incident.

Ironically, the DNR had scheduled a request to the Natural Resources Commission meeting this week (May 3-4) at Gaylord that it be permitted to sell state oil and gas lease rights in Grand Traverse County and 24 other northern lower Michigan counties. The timing was unfortunate, to say the least.

Farm Tips

Organic-food is produced inorganically

By WILLIAM LASHER, Extension Agriculture Agent

Many advocates of organic farming and gardening do not understand how plants utilize nutrients in the soil. The term "organic" generally refers to growing crops with natural fertilizer (plant and animal materials) and without the aid of manufactured chemical fertilizers. Chemical fertilizers are considered "inorganic".

wrong to think that plants considered organically grown are produced from organic nutrients. Before a plant can take up nutrients from organic material in the soil, the material is first broken down and converted to inorganic nutrients. Therefore, the so called organically produced food actually is inorganically grown.

From the soil, it neither knows or cares whether the nutrient was manufactured in a chemical fertilizer or grew naturally in plant or animal materials. Chemical fertilizers can provide a readily available source of nutrients where optimum conditions do not exist for organic materials in the soil to decompose or convert to nutrients. Using inorganic or chemical fertilizers is a matter of economics for a large farm operator. Several tons per acre of organic fertilizer (animal manure and plant materials) are needed to prevent nutrient deficiencies in many field crops.

A small gardener may have no trouble getting enough organic fertilizer and he should use it where sources are available.

Inorganic fertilizer, nitrogen, actually creates organic matter in the soil. It enhances plant growth and thus increases the quality of organic plant residues returned to the soil as stalks, stems, leaves, roots, etc. These needed materials improve the condition of the soil. Inorganic fertilizers are unjustly accused of contributing to pollution. The major pollutant from agriculture is stream sedimentation caused by soil erosion.

Fertile soils are less easily eroded than run-down soils and therefore cause less pollution.

Eroded soil along newly constructed highways is a good example of low-fertility soil. Topsoil has been removed and the subsoil cannot sustain enough vegetation to prevent erosion.

Proper use of fertilizer and increased vegetation can decrease rather than increase pollution.

In further defense of inorganic fertilizers, there is no scientific evidence that food grown without them is more nutritional and better tasting.

For traditionalists seeking the warmth and charm of a wood parquet floor plus the easy-care of a resilient floor, the answer is in wood-tone vinyl asbestos tile. It is made in several shades, which can be combined for richer effect.

By JOHN AYLSWORTH

4-H Horse Show

The Clinton County 4-H Horse Clubs will be sponsoring their first 4-H Horse Show of the year on Sunday, May 13, at the fairgrounds in St. Johns. Registration begins at 9 am with the show judging to start at 10 am. The Horse Show is open to any youth 10-18 years of age in Clinton and surrounding counties.

The 20 show classes include Fitting and Showmanship, Western Pleasure, Western Horsemanship, English Pleasure, English Equitation, Trail, Class, Western Riding, Working Hunter, Barrel Bending, Clover Leaf and Speed and Action. Entry fee is 50 cents per class with a trophy and 6 rosettes given in each class. Mr Bryce McGinnis Jr of Davidson will be the judge.

The public is invited to attend and there is no admission charge. This will give the public a chance to see the youth in action this early in the season.

The Clinton County 4-H Clubs will also sponsor a CMHA open and point approved show on Sunday, June 24, at the fairgrounds in St. Johns.

Seventy one 4-H members, leaders and parents enjoyed the Yankee Springs 4-H Weekend Trip April 27-29. The weekend consisted of conservation activities, recreation, leadership and citizenship development. This trip is one of the six county 4-H trips that members may win while participating in the county 4-H program. Lori McQueen, Lorene Tait and Brian VanVleet served as Youth Camp Counselors.

The 4-H Talent Show and Contest will be held Friday, May 11, 7:30 pm at the St. Johns High School Auditorium in St. Johns. Entries will consist of vocal, instrumental, gymnastics, dance and drama classes. Five entries will be selected to participate in the district contest. The public is invited to attend this program and there is no charge for admission.

Over 50 4-H Horticultural leaders and members attended the Horticultural Workshop April 30 at Smith Hall in St. Johns. The group learned about what vegetables should be included in a small or large garden and what are the recommended varieties to plant. There was an identification contest of 35 different vegetables, fruits, shrubs and nuts with Rose Oberlin of Elsie and Annette Irish of St. Johns as the winners. Sixteen youth signed up to participate in 6 training sessions in preparation for the 4-H State Horticulture Identification and Judging Contest at Michigan State University on June 22 during 4-H Exploration Days. Mrs Ray Peck of Elsie will be serving as the leader of these horticulture training sessions.

Host families are needed to share their home this summer for five to six International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE) delegates from other countries who will be visiting Michigan. To qualify, families must have children living at home, be willing to share their home with the foreign exchange student for a three week period, be active in 4-H, church and community events and accept the foreign student as a member of the family and not as a guest. People who open their homes with both heart and soul can share in an unforgettable experience. Applications are available at the County Extension office. Anyone interested in more information about serving as a host family for IFYE should call the Extension office.

The Border 4-H Club members have elected officers for the coming year. They are: Therese Palminter - President; Janice Richey - Vice President; Laure Palminter - Secretary; Eric Baker - Treasurer; Laurie Richey - News Reporter; Andy Baker - Recreation and Therese Palminter as Song Leader with Susan Plunkett and Brenda Plunkett as helpers. The members saw two movies on Manners and Reynolds Wrap Makes Outdoor Cookery Easier and Better. The members received the Food Project books. There are 14 members in the club with Mrs James Palminter as their leader.

The Westphalia 4-H members participated in the County Roadside Cleanup Project on April 28, cleaning up 12 miles of roadside area. The club plans to make a float for the Westphalia 4th of July Picnic. Officers were elected for the summer program.

Keeping people cool is a "hot" business

Even with our lukewarm economy, keeping people cool is one of the nation's "hottest" businesses.

Over the past 2 decades, the air conditioning industry has grown by a phenomenal 2,000 percent, according to Schafer Heating & Air Conditioning, Inc. of Fowler. Installation of central air conditioning systems in US homes topped the million mark for the first time last year.

The continued increase in the sales of central systems may be largely attributed to a greater awareness on the part of homeowners of the benefits of air conditioning. Today's buyer is more acutely aware that air conditioning provides more than just cooling; that a "whole house" system also provides filtering and humidity control that results in a cleaner, healthier indoor environment.

Accessories available today such as electronic air cleaners and humidifiers can turn an air conditioning system into a "total comfort" system.

Additionally, more and more homeowners are realizing that air conditioning represents an investment in home improvement that can more often than not be recaptured

Eating good food is one of the great pleasures in life. Whether we are eight or eighty, good food is something to enjoy.

But as we grow older, our needs for some of the nutrients in food and for calories change. Since our bodies are not growing as fast as a child's we need less calories to keep going.

However we still need to be sure we are planning for an ample amount of minerals and nutrients.

Eat 4 servings a day of fruits or vegetables, include in these some food supplying vitamin C - citrus fruits, tomatoes, etc., and some food supplying vitamin A - green or yellow vegetables.

Choose 2 or more servings a day of 2 to 3 ounces of meat or meat substitutes. Try using eggs, cooked beans, dry peas, lentils, peanut butter or poultry for your meat needs too!

Be sure to eat 4 or more servings daily of breads or cereals. This also includes macaroni, rice, noodles and spaghetti.

Don't forget your need for dairy products. Drink 2 or more cups of milk every day. For variety try substituting ice cream, cottage cheese, sour cream dishes, and cream sauces.

If you are cooking for just one or two, buying some of the fully prepared foods may be a real help, both energy-wise and money-wise.

Few people prepare a banquet meal when cooking for just her or himself, so these prepared meals, like TV dinner, help to give you needed vitamin and minerals with the least amount of bother.

Try combination dishes for more convenience and more nutrients.

Here are some ideas to get you started:

-Use canned tomato soup, undiluted, as a sauce over meatballs or with quick-cooking rice to make spanish rice.

-Melt processed cheese over asparagus or broccoli, or blend cheese with a white sauce and serve on toast or crackers.

-Form canned corn beef hash into patties, top with a slice of pineapple, and grill.

-Combine ground meat, tuna, cut-up cooked chicken or ham, dried beef, or frankfurters with canned macaroni and cheese or with spaghetti in tomato sauce. Bake to blend the flavors.

-Let your oven help! Foods need to be watched, less carefully when baking.

-If you have some leftovers, freeze them. It sure can get boring eating the same meal 3 or 4 times in a row. If you freeze some fresh leftovers they will be fresh left-overs. You probably have some ideas of your own.

Bring them along to the program we'd like to hear about them. What do you do to save time and money but still get proper nutrition when cooking for one or two.

The meeting is scheduled for: May 16 at 1:30 pm in the Central National Bank Community Room - bring a friend!

What's new in herbicides?

AAtrex 4L. It pours.

New AAtrex 4L is the brand of atrazine that pours. This special liquified product controls most annual grass and broadleaf weeds in corn and sorghum right up to harvest just like AAtrex wettable powder.

But with AAtrex 4L there's no premixing. You simply shake and pour it directly into the tank. And apply in a minimum of 10 gallons of water per acre.

Easier handling. A minimum of agitation. And less chance of nozzle and screen plugging. That's AAtrex 4L. And we have it in 1 gal. and 5 gal. containers. If you prefer, we'll apply it for you.

TCRPC completes '72 work program

The end of March marked the conclusion of the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission's 1972 work program.

Highlights of the year long project, funded by the Department of Housing and Urban Development and the Tri-Counties' cover four areas: Housing, Drainage, Regional Information Management System, and the Planning Handbook.

HOUSING
The housing program analyzed regional housing needs for various income levels, and sought the best methods of supplying these requirements.

A working information exchange program was established with builders, building officials, and realtors in the region to obtain data for an up-to-date and reliable analysis.

In addition to setting up an information exchange program, it was necessary to assess housing needs and ascertain what programs were available to alleviate inadequacies.

The outcome of this research is the "Housing Market Analysis: Tri-County Region of Michigan" which examines the operation of the regional housing market in light of past trends and likely future occurrences.

PLANNING HANDBOOK
"Basic Questions About Community Planning" was created to serve interested citizens, new planning commissions, and new members of established planning commissions.

The handbook answers a variety of questions about the roles and functions of planning commissions and professional planners in a brief and concise manner.

REGIONAL INFORMATION MANAGEMENT SYSTEM (RIMS)
The foremost goal of RIMS was to establish an integrated information system between regional agencies and the Commission. Publications from the program include:

-The "Community Profile and Data Book" which takes a community by community look at housing, population, and transportation from the 1940, 1950, 1960, and 1970 censuses and analyzes the trends.

-"Population Projections for the Tri-County Region".

-Age-sex pyramid graphs for all cities, villages, and townships in the Tri-County region.

-The "Regional Information Management System for the Tri-County Region" which covers the design and implementation of an information exchange program between public and private agencies. The Commission would act as a clearinghouse on information. Organizations would acquaint the Commission with their information, and the Commission would create a bibliography of what is available; were to find it, and in what form. This would make research easier and prevent the costly duplication of information rarely used.

DRAINAGE
Four major projects were completed under the 1972 region-wide drainage program.

-A "Preliminary Drainage Design Criteria Manual" was developed to assist local agencies in planning improved drainage facilities.

-An official regional drainage map was produced. It can be used as a legal tool by communities in establishing rights-of-way for drainage facilities and in the protection of flood plains.

-A program to install gauging stations, to measure streamflow, was proposed for the Mudlake Outlet Basin, Herron Creek Basin, Carrier Creek Basin, and the city of Lansing.

-Detailed drainage maps were prepared for each sector (an area of four townships) in the region and for the nine township area.

Shepardsville News

MRS. JOHN SPENCER
Ph. 834-2615

The Shepardsville Church was well-filled on Sunday evening, April 29 to hear the Sunshine Quartet, a Gospel-singing group from Owosso. Four members of the group are the Taroll family, most of the group attend the Wesleyan Church. Their pianist is 13-year-old Marcia Abbott, a Jr High student in Owosso. The youngest member of the group is first coronetist, in the 6th grade band at an Owosso school. She played a trumpet solo, Jesus, Keep Me Near The Cross.

Some of the songs sung by the group were On the Wings of a Snow-white Dove; I Wouldn't Take Nothing For My Journey; I've Found Happiness; This Old-Time Religion; Praise God, I'm A Child of the King, and closed with the singing of Pass Me Not, O Gentle Savior.

The program opened with a trio from the Shepardsville Church singing He Touched Me. This song was dedicated to Mrs Grace Baker and Mr John Spencer, both over 90 years of age. Mrs Baker is still a member of the Shepardsville Church, although she is now making her home with her son in Troy. You'll find Mr Spencer at church most every Sunday morning.

Another soloist at this gospel sing was Mr Leo Youngs of Maple Rapids. Mr Youngs stopped school in the 6th grade. He recently returned to school to complete his education. Come May 31, he will receive his High School diploma. He is a veteran of the Korean conflict.

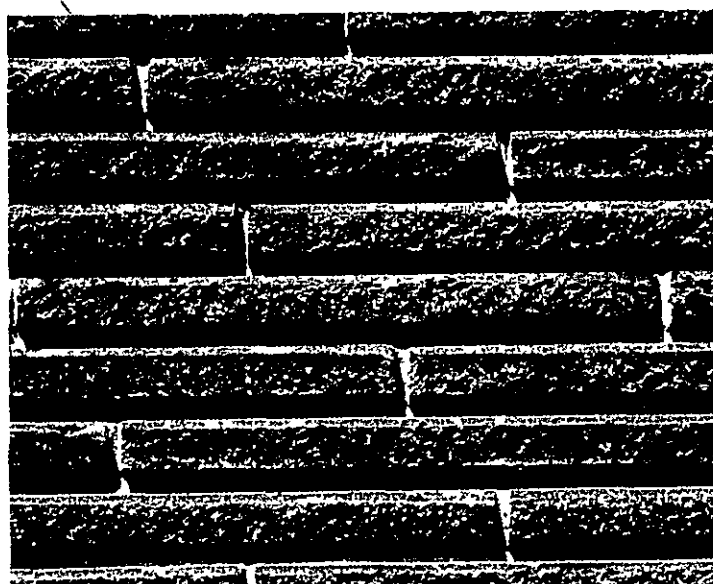

People were present from Corunna, Flint, Swartz Creek, Maple Rapids, and the surrounding area.

Mrs Grace Baker of Troy is spending 2 weeks with relatives in the Shepardsville and Ovid area.

The school house in Shepardsville recently purchased by the church will be used mostly as a Youth Center and other community activities. The youth are very busy getting the building ready for use, some of the men are also helping.

Throughout the month of May there will be a box in the Ladies Cloak room for good used lightweight clothing for Church World Service.

The Michigan State Chamber of Commerce reminds you that there is a head and an arm behind each piece of litter — only you are responsible for litter!

It is practical to use a material that hardens instead of softens with age.
It is so dense that dirt particles can not penetrate its surface therefore it remains clean.
It is produced with metal oxide molecules of color that are forever locked in place.
It is produced in modular heights of 1 1/2", 2 1/4" and 3 1/2" in lengths of 23 1/4".
It is basically a hard dense limestone product.
It is uniform in all dimensions, simplifying installation.
It is comparable in cost to many more common masonry materials.
It is produced and stocked by a local franchised business firm.
It is a full wall thickness similar to brick and stone.
It is high in compression strength and low in moisture absorption.

There is a Miami Brick size and color for every architectural style.
