

Marauders smash records, foes in CCN track meet

CLINTON—Seven individual records were shattered Monday night as the Ovid-Elsie Marauders swept past four area high school teams in the annual Clinton County News track meet here. The Marauders also set a new team scoring record rolling up 102 points, while taking first spot in nine events.

Mishler reminds of postal increase

ST. JOHNS—Postmaster Keith A. Mishler said today that increases in most postage rates will take effect May 16 as the new United States Postal Service begins its task of achieving self-sufficiency as required by the Postal Reorganization Act.

Mishler noted that general postage rates have not been increased since 1987 when Congress passed what was to become its final legislative act in its postal package. He pointed out that, earlier, requests for rate increases were proposed to Congress in 1969 by both President Johnson and President Nixon. In addition, President Nixon proposed an increase again in 1970, although none of the proposed increases was acted upon by Congress.

Mishler said that the new increases—authorized on a temporary basis until the newly created Postal Rate Commission can make recommendations to the governors of the Postal Service on permanent changes—will raise first-class letter rates from six to eight cents an ounce, and airmail letter rates from 10 to 11 cents an ounce. Post cards will go from five to six cents each and airmail post cards will go from eight to nine cents each. The increases will be borne more by business than by individuals, the postmaster pointed out, since about 75 percent of first class and airmail is from commercial mailers.

IN ADDITION TO increases in first rates, second and third class will also go up on May 16. However, the full increases proposed by the Postal Service will not be put into effect on a temporary basis. In second and third class, since the postal reform legislation contemplates that such increases be phased over five years—or 10 years for nonprofit organizations—provided Congress appropriates the necessary funds to ease the transition to full rates.

Because of the phasing provision, the increases to become effective May 16 for second and third-class will generally be only 1/5th of the total increase which has been proposed by the Postal Service.

No changes are made in the rates for parcel post, which is the principal component of fourth-class mail. However, initial increases will be made in the "book rate" which is classified as fourth class.

The new temporary rates also make changes in other postage rate categories and special service fees, such as special delivery and registered mail.

The St. Johns Redwings placed second with 63 points, followed by DeWitt with 52, Pewamo-Westphalia with 12 and Fowler with two. Bath's track squad was the only county team unable to attend due to scheduling difficulties.

Records tumbled in the shot put, 880 relay, high hurdles, low hurdles, two-mile run, pole vault and the 440-yard dash. Four runners beat the clock in the two-mile run to establish a new meet record in the longest scheduled running event.

St. Johns' Rick Flegel chopped more than 30 seconds from the two-mile record time of 10:50.8. Flegel ran the distance in a time of 10:20.3. Three other runners topped the old mark in the same race. Byron Prange of Ovid-Elsie was clocked at 10:25.8; Rick Gruesbeck of Ovid-Elsie recorded a time of 10:41.7; and Pewamo-Westphalia's Dan Fedewa came at 10:44.3. Ed Reed of DeWitt placed fifth in the event.

St. Johns will be center stage for antique autos

ST. JOHNS—An annual tour of antique autos will make St. Johns a major stop-off point this spring and members of the St. Johns Area Chamber of Commerce are preparing for a community-wide program tied into the June 12 event.

The tour, the 17th sponsored by WOOD-TV, will feature antique autos, costumes of the 1800's and prizes for those judged most authentic. According to Chamber of Commerce President James León, all major judging will be conducted in St. Johns while the group spends a three to four hour lunch stop in the city.

DeWITT'S LARRY Sanborn set a new record in the shot put, heaving the weight 50-11, more than a foot farther than the five-year-old meet record of 49-8 1/2 set in 1966.

Ovid-Elsie's Dick Bates established a new mark in the low hurdles, covering the 180-yard distance in 21 seconds flat, topping the old mark set in 1964 by six-tenths of a second. St. Johns' Steve Mead also came close to topping the mark with a 21.8 effort.

The Marauders' Cal Woodard set a record in the 120-yard high hurdles, breaking the tape at 15.4. Redwing Mead tied the existing record of 15.6 in the event.

John Black of DeWitt topped the 440-yard dash record of 53.6, bringing the best time down to 52.8. He was followed across the line by three Marauders—Jim Stewart, Jim Lawrence and Dan Bowles.

Township seeking federal funds

By PAT DROUIN
News Special Writer

DeWITT TWP.—The proposal to apply for a federal grant to obtain communications equipment for the township police was discussed Monday night at the regular meeting of the DeWitt Township Board.

Marion H. Johnson, planning director for the Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice Planning, appeared before the Board to explain the grant and answer questions concerning the procedure in applying for it.

Johnson noted that under the "Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968," federal funds are available to enforcement groups in such areas as equipment, corrections programs and narcotics programs.

A number of cities and counties have received funds; Johnson said, including St. Johns, Lansing, East Lansing and Ingham and Eaton Counties.

He stressed, however, that the program "was not a simple one" and a great deal of red tape is involved.

Under the program, the Township would apply for a $10,000 grant for communications equipment for the two police cars and portable equipment for the police officers.

Bruce Angell, Police Chief, said that the equipment the force now has "could be obsolete in two years" and would cost the township a great deal of money to replace it.

Saturday, May 15 is the day for the drawing for the Grand Prize in the St. Johns Co-op's spring sale.

A G.E. color television set will be given to someone who has registered at the Co-op. If you haven't registered, stop in today . . . and come next Saturday you could be the winner.

Umbra Pierce and John Waits of St. Johns were winners of Alpine picnic jugs this week. And Bob Nurenberg of St. Johns now has a new Zebeo rod and reel.

We celebrated our 21st birthday Saturday (well if Cliff Lousch can be 39, we can be 21). The Big M had dropped hints of a surprise party all week and so we were ready to be surprised. We were, alright.

Even tho we didn't have a party we received some nice presents. Swim fins, a face mask, a length of rope and a concrete block. We think Big Mama is dropping more hints.

If you like horses, a pleasant Sunday can be yours. The Double M 4-H Horse Club is having a horse show this Sunday at the County Fair Grounds. Prizes and ribbons will be awarded, lunch will be available and admission is free. The activities start at 1 p.m.

AND IF YOU'RE still in a festive mood Sunday afternoon and evening the Lingsburg PTA is having a carnival from 4 to 9 p.m. in the elementary school. Television's Al E. Khat and friends will be on hand for three shows and dinners will be served. Even if you're in a bad, mean, and ornery mood you should attend. You'll be able to take out all your orneriness by smashing a car. Right, there'll be an auto there (please, don't smash just any car) that for a small sum you can kick, rip, tear or take a sledge hammer to.

Fibbing or fishing season, depending on who's talking, is upon us. Already the trout-men are lying and the bass-men are twitching in anticipation. All of which reminds us of the terrible practical joke we played on Roger Moore's brother Bob. Bob you know halls from St. Johns but is now a floral engineer in Alma.

Anyway one particular productive summer we caught bass. Lots of bass. Keepers, some good ones and one lunker. Naturally we kept it frozen and showed it to everyone who came to visit (complete with a 2-hour story of how we did it).

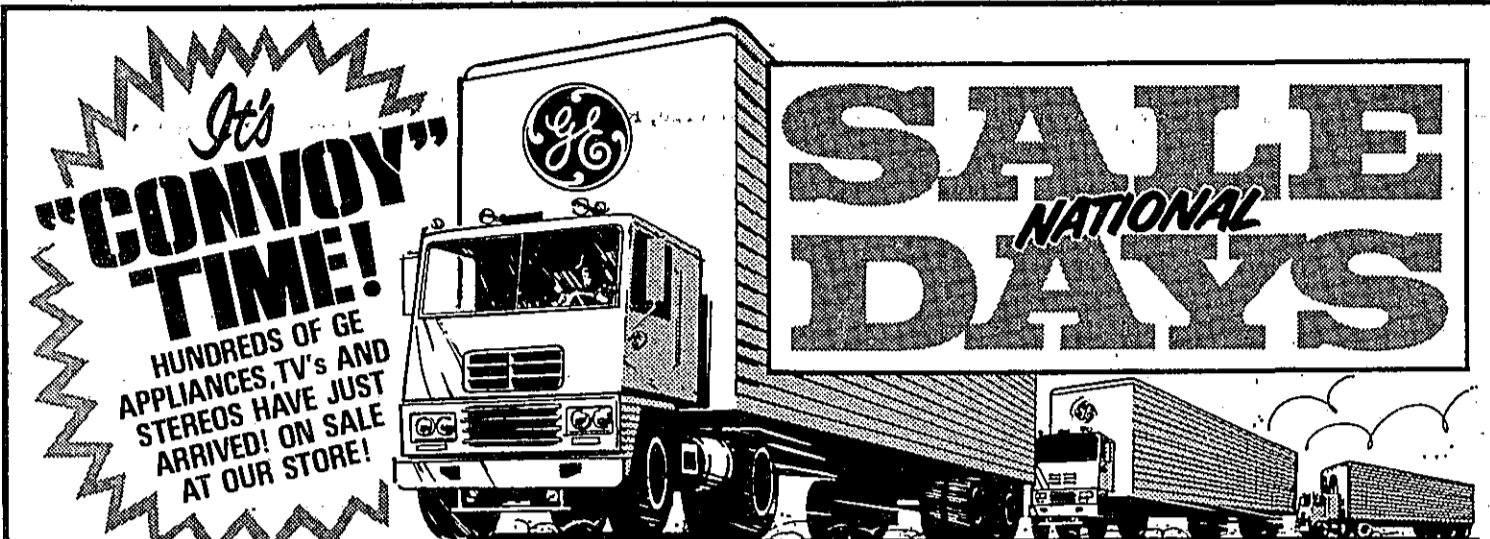

Well, Bob was impressed. And he knew where we caught it. So we put him off, when he asked what bait we used. We told him frogs. Live frogs. Live frogs caught with hook and line at that very same lake. After all, everyone knows that no self-respecting bass would strike at an alien frog.

We went on to tell how only large frogs should be used and of course a wild tale of how to catch them. Bob listened and because we're good friends who would never lie, he believed.

FOR THE NEXT 3 or 4 weeks we listened as other fishing buddies complained about Bob's insisting they spend the better part of the evening catching frogs and vowing never to go with him again because the blanky-blank was frogging when they should be fishing.

When word of our little joke got around everyone laughed. Bob laughed too. But, somehow it was a different . . . almost evil laugh, like the kind a mean gunslinger laughs before he shoots the helpless homesteader.

Oh yes, the Big M told us the rope and block was delivered by a . . . flower truck.

Stoller sentenced to Jackson

ST. JOHNS—After considering recommendations for probation, Circuit Court Judge Jack Warren sentenced William Stoller, 28, of DeWitt to a minimum of one and one-half years in Jackson State Prison on a morals charge.

In considering the recommendation for probation, Judge Warren said that there were two points to consider about the recommendation, "the first being, you accepted the responsibility that the community put in you and you violated this trust. Secondly, I had to weigh what is essential to the community and to you.

"Therefore, it is my decision that you be confined to a minimum of one and one-half years up to a maximum of five years in the State Prison at Jackson."

Stoller has 60 days to appeal the conviction.

Bank expansion completed

ST. JOHNS—A second major phase in the current remodeling-expansion program at Clinton National Bank reached completion this week with the opening of the customer loan office in the former Consumers Power location on Walker St. in St. Johns.

The new offices, which were opened Monday morning, will allow expanded loan service and offers customers the convenience of two outside entrances along with a third access through the main banking area. The outside entrances are located on Walker St. and at the south end of the Clinton National Bank parking lot.

The latter also allows customer access to other areas of the bank building.

The new office houses the complete loan operation of the bank and features individual areas for loan officers to discuss transactions in privacy with bank customers. Loan secretary-tellers will assist officers and customers in completing transactions, applications or loan payments and in the main lobby of the bank will be no longer in use.

ACCORDING TO senior loan officer Paul Schueller, anyone desiring information or consideration on a loan will be directed to the new quarters.

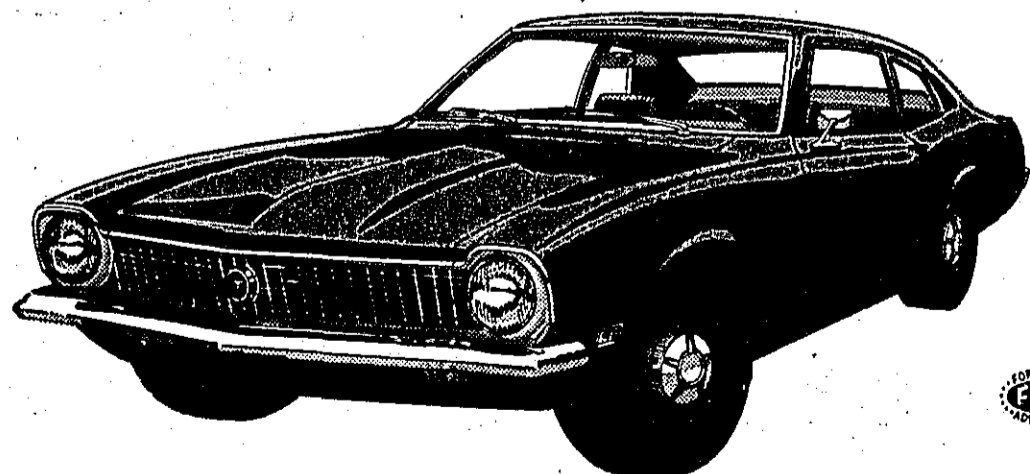

The opening of the enlarged department follows completion of the bank's drive-in and parking lot which was put into service late last fall. The location of the loan service area was coordinated with the parking area to facilitate customer access to the bank and both phases are part of an extended expansion program slated for completion later this year.

Forty-two area farmers and farm implement dealers toured the county last Tuesday as guests of the New Holland Farm Equipment Company.

The specific purpose of the tour was to acquaint the men with the New Holland bale wagon by visiting farms where the machine was in operation.

According to Thomas Jones, district sales manager and guide for the tour, "We wanted to show the farmers in this area how the bale wagon could be integrated into their system by showing how other farmers utilize the machine."

The bale wagon, which comes in six different models, can load, haul, stack, dump and reload up to 100 tons of hay in an 8 hour day. Depending on the model used as many as 80 bales can be hauled in one load.

The first farm visited was Joe and Bob Skriba's farm near Elsie. They were very satisfied with their machine and said that it saved them a lot of labor and time. The Skriba's loaded over 5,000 bales last year.

Next was the Robert Huska farm outside of Elsie, who explained his operation and answered questions from the farmers.

The tour was treated to lunch at the Village Inn in Elsie. A movie was shown demonstrating the actual functions of the different bale wagons.

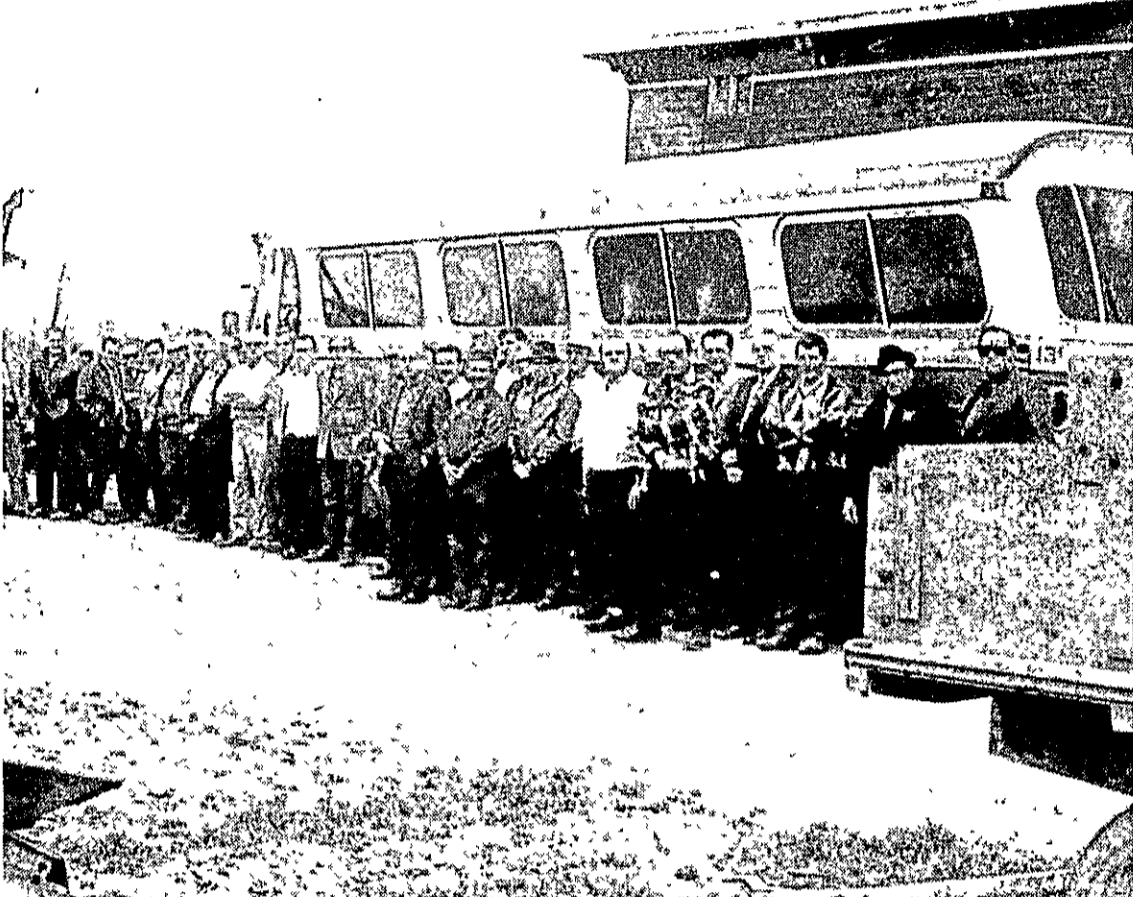

After lunch, the tour moved to Green Meadows outside of Elsie, the latest Holstein dairy farm in North America, to observe their operation.

A look at two farms near St. Johns and talks with the owners ended the tour.

The consensus of opinion of the farmers visited was that the bale wagon did save time and labor.

The farmers and dealers seemed impressed by the well guided tour. One farmer commented that it was real helpful for him to see how the equipment worked and to talk to farmers who own the equipment.

Jones reasoned that the farmers want to know first hand what they are buying before they invest their money and that the tour was the best way to do this.

FARMERS ON TOUR

Forty-two farmers and dealers have just completed their inspection of a bale wagon on Tony Skobus' farm near Elsie. The tour was sponsored by New Holland, a farm equipment company that sells bale wagons.

REAP attacks problems through farming

According to Nick Smith, chairman of the state ASC committee, the Rural Environmental Assistance Program (REAP) employs a broad attack on the environmental problems created by the nation's farming operations.

The program is a continuation of the conservation cost-sharing program with priority and emphasis on practices that provide long-range preservation of the environment and more public benefits.

Smith said our agency and the Soil Conservation Service, both agencies of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, have pioneered pollution abatement practices for over the last thirty years.

Eighty-five per cent of the cost-sharing funds in the past have been used in Michigan to contribute to abating pollution of streams, rivers, and lakes. The program has benefited wildlife, increased hunting, fishing, and other recreational opportunities for all the people.

FARMERS COMPLETED or substantially completed over 120 pollution abatement projects under the 1970 conservation program. He said most of the projects reduce or eliminate the pollution of water by farm wastes from barnyards, feedlots, and other areas from which run-off constitutes an actual pollution hazard.

County ASC Committees are giving high priority again this year to practices which help reduce pollution from animal wastes, fertilizers and pesticides.

Glen Bensinger of Ovid-Elsie added an inch and one-half to the pole vault record soaring over the bar at the 12-foot mark. DeWitt's Tom Reed was little more than five seconds of the record pace in the mile run event, breaking the tape at 4:47.1. He was followed by teammate Doyle Foland and Gary Koeningknecht of St. Johns.

Marc Flegel of Ovid-Elsie led three other teammates across the line in the 880 run to capture four of the first five spots in this event. Flegel's time was 2:07.1, four seconds shy of the record. Marauders Steve Melvin, Tom Miller and Ralph Lockwood followed with St. Johns' Jim Viers coming in third.

DeWitt's John Black leaped 20-7 in the long jump, missing the record by one and one-half inches. Steve Mead of St. Johns was the second place winner.

O-E's Woodard won top spot in the high jump, soaring 5-6, but well short of the record leap 5-9 set in 1968. Redwings Dan Yurek and Mead finished second and third in the competition. Bates missed setting another mark for the Marauders in the 100-yard dash, racing past the finish line at 10.4, one-tenth of a second slower than the 1964 record of 10.3.

Dennis LeVeck of St. Johns took the 220-yard with a 23.9 time, followed by teammate Dave Flermoen.

One second was the time separating O-E's mile relay team from the record 3:36.6, crossing the line with a 3:37.6. St. Johns' relay squad won second-place points.

By winning the meet, Ovid-Elsie wins possession of the St. Johns Lions Club Traveling Trophy for another year. Should the Marauders win next year, they become permanent owners of the award.

O-E won the event in 1968, the last running of the CCN meet, and placed second in 1967 behind DeWitt. Before the consolidation of the O-E district, Ovid High School won two years in a row in 1965 and 1966, while Elsie placed third and fourth during those years. St. Johns captured the 1964 win, with Ovid running second.

Wings dump Hastings twice

HASTINGS—Two double-plays in the early innings of the first game and the swift-footedness of Larry Wakefield in the second game resulted in St. Johns gaining a double header victory over Hastings Saturday.

The two victories boosted the Redwings' league record to 3-5 and their season's mark to 4-6.

Pitcher Jim Schumaker picked up the first victory throwing six strike outs and two walks for a final score of 3-2. The loss was taken by Carl Norris who went the distance.

The two double plays early in the first game cut off any opportunity for Hastings to score.

The Wings had the bases loaded in the fourth with two outs when Bob Elliott, who hit a ground ball combined with an error, drove in two runs.

Next Jim Schumaker on a squeeze bunt drove in Jim Harte from third for the winning run. Redwings getting hits were Rod Pasch (2), Larry Hayes (1), Jim Harte (1), Tom Rasdale (1) and Jim Schumaker (1).

The second game was scoreless for Hastings. The Wings grabbed the lead early in the first inning when Wakefield singled and stole second and made the winning run from second after Ballinger singled.

final two runs for a winning score of 3-0.

Lewis did the pitching with Wakefield catching. Those getting hits were Pasch (1), Wakefield (1), Ballinger (1), Elliott (1) and Lewis (1).

According to Bob Kramer, Redwings' statistician, the two games were good defensive games and well played as can be evidenced by the low number of errors and close scores.

The Wings will play at Waverly Tuesday and at home Thursday with Grand Ledge.

Boyce: big man in Spartan lineup

Little League sign-up starts

ST. JOHNS—Little League try-outs will be held May 17-18 at the Little League baseball park beginning at 6 p.m. each night.

The tryouts are open to all boys who will be nine years old before Aug. 1 and those who will not turn 13-years-old before that date. They are reminded to bring their gloves for the tryouts.

EAST LANSING—His teammates call him "pygmy," but what Michigan State's Gary Boyce lacks in size he makes up for with determination and solid ability.

The 5-7, 170-pound senior from St. Johns is one of the prime reasons that the Spartans are enjoying one of their finest baseball seasons in many years.

Gary packs a lot of power in his small frame as evidenced by his 10 career home runs in three years of varsity competition.

But admittedly, Gary doesn't go for the home run. "My job as the lead-off hitter is to get on base anyway I can. With the kind of strong hitters coming up behind me, that's the important thing."

Spartan coach Danny Little agrees. "Gary's tough to pitch to and he has a very good eye for bad pitches," he says. "When he gets on base we'll usually get him in."

WITH EXCELLENT speed, it's not too uncommon to see Gary make some sensational catches at his leftfield position. He gets a good jump on the ball and has the facility to judge how far he has got to go to catch it.

Gary carried an overall average of .337 into this season and through the Spartans' first 32 games, he is hitting a lousy .378.

He has moved into second place for the most career hits with 130 only two behind All-American John Biedenbach's 132 set in 1964 through 1966. He has already eclipsed Chuck Mathews' four year career mark of most runs (87) with 88 in three seasons.

Gary and his teammates are pointing towards the Spartans' first Big Ten championship since 1954. And you can be sure Gary will be doing his very large part to reach that goal.

SPARTAN GUN
 St. Johns' Gary Boyce may not be the tallest player on Michigan State University's baseball squad this season, but he's one of the hottest sluggers in the Big Ten.

Sense of pride fills type A class

OVID-ELSIE—There is a special classroom at Ovid-Elsie High School devoted primarily to students who have moderate mental handicap problems which has been very successful.

The classroom, one of the 19 Special Education Type A classrooms financed by the Intermediate School District has been in operation at O-E for four years under the direction of Mrs. Jeanne Wilkins.

The 15 students enrolled in this class study a variety of programs designed with their specific interest in mind. "We strive in this program for self-sufficiency and responsibility," she said.

This is achieved in a variety of ways. Mrs. Wilkins directs the students towards a curriculum that will fulfill the students' special needs and interests.

The boys can enroll in a number of shop and agriculture classes offered at the school. Many of them have jobs working on farms and part time in businesses in town.

Some of the girls work in the cafeteria and take home economic classes to learn different aspects of food handling. Most of the girls babysit or have part time jobs.

The goal of the classes and jobs is to teach the students responsibilities and money management. A sense of pride and accomplishment is instilled in them through their participation in the classes and their jobs.

MRS. WILKINS, who has an excellent working relationship with the students, said that without this program, these students would be left by the wayside and would most likely drop out of school. This program gives the students the extra boost they need. As an outcome they will be better students and citizens dependent upon themselves not on the welfare or unemployment roles.

"The most important aspect of this program here is the excellent cooperation from the other teachers and students who are very understanding and helpful," she said.

The class has a mascot, Heidi, a guinea pig, which roams freely among the students as they work on their different projects. One is immediately impressed by the orderly and cooperative fashion that the students exhibit in the classroom.

Mrs. Wilkins attempts to find jobs for all the students after they graduate. So far she has been very successful. She placed all four graduates from last year in jobs. She wishes that she would have more time to find jobs for the students.

There is a saying, "A classroom is no better than the teacher" and Mrs. Wilkins' students more than adequately prove this.

County gears for junk car dump

ST. JOHNS—Youth groups interested in earning money and clearing Clinton County of its junk cars are urged to pick up release forms from the county zoning office.

Bruce Campbell, Keep Michigan Beautiful chapter chairman, says that the groups should get started now. A representative of any group can pick up the forms and register their organizations at the Zoning office. The groups will be paid two dollars for each vehicle.

This will be the initial step in the project to rid the county of its junk cars. The groups obtain the signatures of the owners for the release of the junk vehicles and turn them over to the Zoning office.

Wrecker crews will be dispatched to the location to haul the vehicles to a central collection point for crushing and removal by Michigan Car Crushers Inc., which will move their crushing into the county next month. Anyone wishing to volunteer equipment or their help in collecting the vehicles is urged to call Fred Lance, (224-7182). Lance has volunteered to be the clearing agent for the project.

Know herbicides to get effective results

ST. LOUIS, MO.—Potential benefits from mechanical incorporation of herbicides depend almost entirely on the chemical used. Some products, such as Ramrod, Lasso, atrazine and Lorox herbicides, don't need to be worked into the soil surface.

Other herbicides such as Treflan, Vernam, Sutan and Planavin are either volatile or easily decomposed by sunlight, and need to be "sealed" into the soil by incorporation soon after application.

Otherwise they dissipate into the air and allow weeds to grow unharmed.

Some corn and soybean growers like to stir their herbicide into the soil even if the chemical isn't the type that will be lost by decomposition or volatilization.

Reasons sometimes cited are that it fits in with their cultural practices, and also helps keep materials from being blown away in heavy winds or washed away in hard rains.

CHEMICALS SUCH as Lasso and atrazine are effective regardless of whether or not they are worked into the soil. If incorporated, Monsanto's weed-control specialists recommend a shallow mixing...so that the majority of the herbicide is in the upper 2 inches of soil.

It's not necessary to mix the herbicide down to the level of the susceptible germinating weed seeds, because weed seedlings will grow up into the herbicide treated zone and absorb the chemical. Working a chemical too deep in the soil will dilute it and decrease its effectiveness.

Although many people don't need to incorporate as long as they use a nonvolatile herbicide, incorporation is the best method to use of nutsedge is a problem. Rated among the worst 10 weeds in the world, nutsedge has made inroads in many Corn Belt fields in recent years and is a really tough weed to control.

at least two chemicals are giving relatively good nutsedge control when properly applied—Lasso and Sutan. In fields where nutsedge is gaining a foothold, it can usually be controlled by incorporating the herbicide in the top 2 inches of the soil.

Nutsedge spreads quite rapidly after the tuber germinates. Nodes develop about two inches below the soil and send out rhizomes in every direction. It's when these nodes develop that they are susceptible to the herbicide.

Marauders pull win from fire

OVID-ELSIE—Junior Longoria's run-producing double in the last inning saved the day for the Ovid-Elsie Marauders last week as O-E dropped Midland Bullock Creek 3-2.

With one out in the seventh inning, Longoria doubled scoring Mike Leslie from second base for the winning margin. Leslie singled to open the inning after the lead-off batter was retired. Bill Foran followed reaching base on an error, setting the stage for Longoria's double.

The game was scoreless until the fifth inning when Bullock Creek forced across two runs. Ovid-Elsie came right back with two in the bottom of the inning as Leslie singled and Foran walked. Longoria forced Foran at second with Leslie moving on to third. Longoria promptly stole second base before Gary Groom slapped a single to score the two baserunners.

The Marauders could only muster four hits against Bullock Creek pitchers Roger McIntosh and Brian Margue, while O-E's Tom Hachlinski scattered five Creek hits through all seven innings.

Hachlinski, going the route, picked up the win by striking out five and walking none. McIntosh pitched six and one-third innings walking one and striking out three. Margue was pitching when the Marauders struck in the seventh.

IN THE MARAUDER game against Corunna Thursday, things went a little differently as O-E avoided a shutout by bringing in a last inning run before going down to defeat 4-1.

The lone Marauder score came in the seventh as Kurt Kristin tripled and scored on Tony Fabus' single. The only other Marauder hit came earlier on a single by Norm Smith.

Hachlinski was roughed up for four runs in the third inning and Gary Groom came in to pitch the last four scoreless innings, allowing only one hit after that point.

In his three-inning stint, Hachlinski struck out four and didn't walk a batter. Groom matched that with four more strikeouts and walked two. None of the four Corunna runs were earned runs as the Marauders were responsible for five errors in the contest.

The O-E varsity won their third game of the season by defeating Alma's JV squad 7-1. They are now 3-0 on the season.

Homebound program reaches out

ST. JOHNS—The Clinton County Homebound and Hospitalized teaching program has reached more than 500 students in the nine years that it has operated, said Mrs. Mildred Pocus, the county's homebound teacher. The program is one of the many special education services offered by the Intermediate School District to county students.

Students who are physically unable to attend school are eligible for this program. Mrs. Pocus teaches on the average of 12 students a week either at their home or in one of the surrounding hospitals. Her schedule varies from day today. She obtains assignments from the teachers each day and assists the students in any way she can so that they can maintain the same level as the other students in school. Sometimes its just a matter of letting a student know that someone cares.

"It takes a tremendous amount of cooperation on the part of the teachers, students and the parents to make this a workable program," she said.

"One of the most noticeable aspects of the program," she said, "is that it helps develop good independent workers. It gives the students an opportunity to work on their own. No one has failed a class in nine years."

ALL AGE GROUPS are included in this program. "No one is excluded," she said, "I have worked with as many as 19 students at once. There has never been a time when I couldn't somehow work everyone in this program. Normally each student receives from two to four hours of instruction a week.

"It's gratifying for me to work with these students. They all appreciate the help. Many of them develop new interests and become very motivated," she said.

A problem that has occurred is that some of the students like to stay home. That's why she won't go into a home without a doctor's written statement.

Last year Mrs. Pocus worked with 70 students. She anticipates even more this year.

The Homebound program's future may depend on the three-quarter special millage election June 14. Although the financing is adequate for this year's program, with the projected increase in the county's population the present millage most likely will not be adequate.

With promise of spring to be followed by summer youngsters' thoughts turn to sneakers. Choosing such footwear for the family may be one of mother's most important shoe purchases.

Comfort, wear, good fit, easy care all become important purchasing factors. Some individuals give sneakers hard and almost constant wear. They need to be as well made as other shoes. They must be sturdy and designed for good foot support.

Clothing specialists at Michigan State University offer some tips when buying sneakers for anyone. Firmly woven materials are a must. Most popular, for uppers, include canvas, poplin, denim and corduroy. Cotton, nylon or blends of polyester and cotton or nylon and cotton are the usual fibers.

Select soles with non-slip threads. Check for reinforced heels, back seam and other stress areas with extra fabric and stitching. Look the shoe over carefully. Avoid uneven, loose stitching, wrinkles or rough spots, bulky seams or gummy adhesives.

Be sure the sole is firmly attached to the upper. The rubber around the base should be one continuous strip, lightly attaching the sole and upper.

A toe guard is especially important in children's sneakers.

Sneakers should always be tried on with the kind of socks to be worn. Incidentally socks should always be worn to absorb perspiration. A good fit is as important in sneakers as in any other shoe. This means measuring for size, trying on and checking width, length and heel fit is a part of purchasing.

Most sneakers are washable by hand or by machine. But labels need to be checked for recommended temperature, method of washing, etc. Chlorine bleach and drying sneakers near heat or in the automatic dryer may damage the rubber.

FLEA MARKET GIVEAWAY

Bruce Campbell, Keep Michigan Beautiful chairman passed out information at the St. Johns Jaycette's Flea Market Saturday.

King's part time job creates stir

DEWITT TWO—The question of whether DeWitt Township Supervisor Milton King should continue his part time job at Oldsmobile created a mild storm at the township board's regular meeting Monday night.

King, who returned to a part-time job as a mechanic at Olds April 13, noted in his remarks before the Board, "There are some men who like to fish or golf in their spare time. My recreation is fixing trucks."

"Because things got slack around the office, I needed something to do, so I went back to work," King said.

He stressed that he was a full time supervisor and only works a full 48-hour week when no commitments to his job as supervisor need to be carried out.

Some Board members, however expressed open opposition to King's part time job.

William Johns, board member, questioned the availability of the supervisor for a person on a day shift where King is leaving his office at 2:30 p.m.

Another board member, Herbert Hardtke, said that the job of supervisor was a full time job.

Speaking as a property owner rather than as a police chief, Bruce Angell said: "Anything after 5 p.m. is a man's own time, but a supervisor should be available from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m."

In an interview after the meeting, King said that he plans to go to the management at Olds to ask for a change in hours. If they would not allow the change, then King said, he would take a leave of absence from his job at the Olds plant.

Hospital care depends on judgments, personal service

How would you like to go to a hospital for treatment only to find a world of machines?

You could explain your symptoms to a computer and receive a diagnosis in seconds. Your room assignment would be automatic and you'd be conveyed there by a remote-controlled cart. The room would be spotless when you arrive—having just been cleaned ultrasonically.

If you need something, you would press your buzzer, allowing your computer-nurse to appear on the closed circuit television screen in your room. If it couldn't handle the problem it would call in the computer doctor. All laboratory tests would be evaluated by another skilled machine, and still others would plan and serve your meals.

The system probably can't be beat for efficiency, but some disadvantages remain. Computers can't seem to cope with a patient whose heart suddenly stops. And a rather callous attitude is taken toward the patient who is still in pain after they prescribe medication. Surgery by computer also presents some unique problems.

It seems that as long as the patient's illness fits into the computer's program, the treatment is adequate. But failure of one treatment or unusual complications can't be programmed. Computers also can't be programmed to care about patients, even the most seriously ill.

IN SOME WAYS IT'S unfortunate that computers can't replace the hospital's doctors and nurses, dietitians and therapists, personnel directors and administrators, pharmacists and lab technicians. If they could, your hospital bills would be more than cut in half because you wouldn't be paying people's salaries.

But if you were the patient, how would you like recovery to depend on a computer?

But most hospital care depends on judgments and personal services. These simply can't be automated—at least not in the foreseeable future.

Why does it cost so much to rely on human employees rather than mechanical ones? Unlike machines, a person can't work 24 hours a day—in fact, hospitals sometimes have to hire five people for one job in order to cover three eight-hour shifts, seven days a week.

People also have to be given coffee breaks, vacations, sick leave, and other benefits which the less demanding machines never insist upon.

Without round-the-clock staffing, hospitals couldn't be prepared as well as they are. Expensive equipment and facilities, and the people to operate them are ready any and all the time. This costs money, but anyone who has an accident at 3 a.m. appreciates the fact that hospitals don't offer their services only during "prime time."

Two-thirds of a hospital's total costs are in payroll, while business and industry devote only one-third of their budget to salaries. In addition, payroll is frequently higher in the hospital field because so many skilled employees are needed. (In the hospital field, one in three employees is highly skilled and trained, while in the auto industry the average is one in six.)

Salaries of all hospital personnel must be competitive with those of business and industry in order to keep all hospital services operating.

Other factors contributing to rising health care costs are expense of supplies, the cost of doing business with Medicare, and keeping up with new and needed equipment for patient care. But these elements are secondary compared to the personnel, or people factor.

SALARY EXPENSE CAN'T be pared down or eliminated because "personal" services to patients must be administered and only "personnel" can provide them. Because of this, the advances in medical technology have improved patient care but haven't replaced people. In fact, more personnel are required; almost twice as many today as two decades ago.

As health care becomes more complex, more trained people are needed to staff hospitals. And as this happens, care becomes more expensive. Health care costs more per day in 1971 than it did in 1961, but the length of a hospital stay is usually shorter.

If a person must enter the hospital, he would prefer a five day hospital stay at $50 a day to ten days at $25 a day.

Everyone agrees hospital costs are high. Everyone would like to have the same quality care at bargain prices. But if the hospitals were to give a 20-percent discount, where would they find the money to meet payroll and other expenses?

Cutting back on services would result in an immediate cut in costs but this would be unacceptable for both the community and the hospital.

What is needed is a total effort to develop new ways of delivering and financing health care, and an increased understanding by the community of the factors contributing to increases in health care costs.

Clinton big in corn production

ST. JOHNS — Clinton County farmers harvested 50,100 acres of corn for grain in 1970, according to Arvin Budge of the Michigan Crop Reporting Service. Production amounted to 4,210,000 bushels, an average of 84.0 bushels per acre. This compares to the 1969 crop of 3,356,000 bushels from 42,700 acres.

Bids accepted US-27 spray control plan

LANSING—A low bid of $2,375 was accepted last week by the Michigan State Highway Commission, submitted by Dalton-Yeiter Corp. of Warsaw, Ind., to spray weeds on US-27 from the Ingham County line north to Isabella County.

The project will cover some 50 miles, including all of Clinton County along the state highway. Low bids totaling $27.9 million on 44 projects were taken in one of the largest bid-offerings in the department's history. A total of 180 bids were submitted on the projects and the department must gain approval of the State Administrative Board before the contracts are awarded.

A great many men do not realize their own capabilities.

Open Letter from VAN W. HOAG

Dear friends,
Many clergymen and doctors, while attending the dying, have reported seeing the apparition of the spirit leaving the body at death. Many survivors have reported the momentary appearance of the spirit of a loved one at the moment of death. If these marvels were more generally known, the doubting Thomas would find greater conviction in the resurrection of Christ and of our own promised resurrection which we celebrate this glorious Easter Season.

Sincerely,

Van W. Hoag

Nostalgia: the treasure of Rasey's

By ANNETTE WHITE
News Society Editor

Anyone yearning for a touch of nostalgia or a spring drive in the country will enjoy a visit to The Old Farm House and Banner Grange and its display of antiques.

Larry and Peg Rasey, who have turned a fascinating hobby into a business enterprise, are the owners.

Mrs. Rasey became interested in antiques several years ago and started to collect them for a "future investment". The couple moved to their present location from Lansing about 14 years ago and with the buildings surrounding their large farm home were able to go into the restoring and selling of the antiques they had collected over the years.

They acquire access to the liquidated treasures from buying estates, attending auctions, from other dealers or from people calling wanting to sell a particular item they no longer want. The Raseys do their own refinishing, usually during the three months in the winter when they are closed. However, for the person who likes to do his own refinishing some items are available to be worked on by the buyer. Primitives are Mrs. Rasey's specialty. "I understand them better and I'm not afraid of buying them" she says. "I was brought up on a farm and primitives are more country" she added.

A trip to the Raseys will provide several hours of enjoyment for anyone who enjoys collecting antiques or for anyone who would like an excursion through the memories of yesteryear.

TREASURES OF A LOST WORLD

Larry Kosloski seems a bit lost while wandering through the treasures of past generations. Actually he is right at home among the many antiques in the shop owned and operated by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Rasey.

Announcements

Bingham Grange will meet at the hall on Friday evening, May 14 at 8 p.m.

Dresses from the sewing contest will be on display and the business meeting and program will be followed by light refreshments.

The American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 153 will hold its regular meeting on May 18 at 8 p.m.

The Lebanon Ladies Aid Society will meet for a noon potluck in the home of Eleanor Baxter. Following the luncheon slides will be shown.

On Sunday, May 16 at 2 p.m. at the Duplain United Methodist Church, dedication services will be held for the Marker denoting Rochester Colony as Michigan Historical Site No. 83.

Pictures and mementos of the Colony will be welcome for display.

The public is welcome to attend the dedication service.

PRIVATE COLLECTION

Mrs. Rasey has cleverly displayed a tinware collection in her home decorated completely in "antique motif."

Two board positions on June school ballot

ST. JOHNS--Voters of the St. Johns School District will elect two board members at the annual election on Monday, June 14.

The terms of members Alden Livingston and Leon Schumaker expire on June 30. Nomination petitions for Livingston's re-election have been filed in the district business office. Schumaker has not yet decided whether or not to seek another term.

Anyone desiring to become a candidate can obtain nomination petitions in the business office located in the high school. Candidates must have at least 20 signatures to have their name placed on the ballot. All petitions must be returned to the business office by 4 p.m. on Monday, May 17.

District voters will also vote on school tax millage on the same date. The Board has not yet decided what millage will be on the ballot. This decision will be made at the regular meeting of the Board on Wednesday, May 12.

The Board is faced with many unanswered questions in trying to decide the amount of millage. First, it is not known what can be expected from state aid. Another question unanswered now is how much money the County Allocation, Board will award to schools.

Neither is it known at this time what the salaries of teachers and other school employees will be for the next school year. Faced with these uncertainties, the Board will recommend a millage which they feel will be honest and realistic, and which it is hoped will not make it necessary to curtail the program for children.

ALL REGISTERED voters may vote in the election. Property ownership is not necessary. In regard to 18 year olds voting, if 38 states ratify the amendment by election day on June 14, they may vote if they are registered by 5 p.m. on May 14.

The deadline for voter registration is 5 p.m. on May 14. People who live in the city should register with the city clerk. Those outside the city should register with their township clerk.

KATHY NICHOLS

4-H celebrity: Kathy Nichols

ST. JOHNS -- A Michigan State University coed from DeWitt has been one of eight 4-H members in the nation picked as part of a special "Report to the Nation" team.

In her new role, Kathy Nichols, 5408 W. Chadwick Road, DeWitt, will travel during the summer and fall to speak to groups and clubs to inform them of the extensive work done by 4-H'ers at home and abroad.

She was originally selected in November at a national 4-H conference in Washington, D.C.

In a recent interview Miss Nichols outlined her goals and achievements through the 4-H organization.

She has worked for about one year in the inner city in Lansing with an urban 4-H group.

"We've moved into an area that's never been touched before," she said.

SHE SAID THAT the group works with the people in the area of nutrition and helps with certain beautification projects for the youths.

She is also a coordinator for a similar project with Holt youngsters. She noted that with both the inner city and suburban children, there is an appeal for help, but it is a longer-term help which her group is offering.

She said the efforts of the national and local chapters point to keeping 4-H in its own perspective.

"It's not just a fair," she said. "It is a flexible organization." She pointed again to the work she is doing with the fourth, fifth and sixth graders from Holt and the Mt. Vernon Township community near Waverly. "The group is adapting to their needs now."

She said the national conference in Washington brought together various youths from throughout the country to discuss various problems encountered by the 4-H'ers and their projects. She said the programs ranged from nutrition instruction on Indian reservations in the Southwest to gardening projects in Boston's inner city.

KATHY HAS ALSO traveled to Japan to get a view of that nation's 4-H program. She said the Japanese clubs have older members and mainly deal with farming problems and home economics.

She has been a member of the Olive 4-H Club for nine years and is a graduate of St. Johns High School. Kathy is currently a secondary education major in the field of ecology at MSU and said she plans to make her work with national 4-H groups her career.

In her talks, she will discuss the expanding possibilities of the 4-H groups in Clinton County and Lansing and receive suggestions on improving the effectiveness of the programs.

Gangsters lurk as cast prepares for "Guys & Dolls"

ST. JOHNS -- Gangsters are lurking in the halls of the St. Johns High School while a permanent floating crap game goes on in the auditorium!

This surprising state of affairs is part of the rehearsals for the 1971 St. Johns High School production of Damon Runyon's classic "Guys and Dolls." This musical spoof on the life and legend of the Broadway gangsters is celebrating its twentieth anniversary as a musical.

The musical will be presented May 20-22 at 8 p.m. in Pocus Auditorium.

The total number of students involved will be well over 100. There are 43 students in the cast, and the rest are involved in committee and crew work. Brad Huntley is playing the suave hood, Sky Masterson, while Lynn Wager is his crap-shooting friend, Nathan Detroit.

The female leads are Beth Stork as the prim Miss Sarah Brown and Mary LeFevre as the loud, brassy Miss Adelaide. Paul Witgen is Nicely-Nicely Johnson, Jim McQueen plays Angle the Ox, and Bruce Caesar portrays Benny Southstreet to round out the ranks of the "oldest, established, permanent floating crap game in New York."

Students portraying Cuban dancers, mission workers, and other gangsters comprise the chorus for such numbers as "Bushel and a Peck," "If I Were A Bell," "Sit Down, You're Rockin' the Boat," and many others.

SEVERAL MEMBERS of the staff are combining their talents in this production. Don Valentine heads the list as producer and vocal director. R. L. Koger is working in several capacities as drama director, choreographer, and set designer and technical director.

Costumes are being designed by Tom Smith who is also assistant technical director and properties director. Rex Coryell, a student teacher, is working on lighting while Wendy Smith, a sophomore at St. Johns High, is directing the painting committee on her original designs.

All seats are reserved for the production. Tickets are $1.50. Tickets may be reserved by calling 224-2394 between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. and asking for the box office. Then your tickets may be picked up and paid for on the designated night.

County topical fluoride program begins June 17

The summer topical fluoride program will be held in the schools this summer according to Mrs. Luella Canfield, R.N., chairman of the program.

The first program will be held in the E.E. Knight School in Elsie from June 17 through June 28. Others will be at the Waldron Elementary School in Fowler June 30 through July 15; in DeWitt at the David Scott School July 16 through July 30; and the Perrin-Palmer School in St. Johns Aug. 2 through Aug. 12.

According to Mrs. Canfield, 630 children have been enrolled in the program. The procedure consists of four visits to the clinic at approximately two day intervals. The child's teeth are cleaned on the first visit and a fluoride application is then applied. It is re-applied on the three succeeding visits.

This technique has been shown to reduce tooth decay by about forty percent compared to the sixty to sixty-five percent reduction obtained with fluoridated water, she said. In addition to providing protection against tooth decay, the program offers valuable dental experience for children with no discomfort. Dental health education by the clinic personnel also is an important part of the program.

This year we are giving a free toothbrush to each child who participates in the program. Parents of children enrolled in the program will receive appointment cards as soon as we can get them out in May.

In addition to the four clinics in Clinton County, about 40,000 children will be receiving fluoride applications this summer in 200 similar clinics throughout Michigan.

Customers must notify GenTel

ST. JOHNS--General Telephone customers in Alma, Ashley, Breckenridge, Hemlock, Ithaca, Merrill, Pompei, Riverdale, and St. Louis, who want to make corrections or additions to the directory, must call the company's business office before Friday, May 14, William F. Graef, district manager for the company, said today.

Emphasis on firm cutoff dates for entries allows the General Telephone Directory Company, in Des Plaines, Ill., to assemble print and return the new Alma directory in a relatively short period of time, William Graef said.

"Our Directory Company, which prints millions of telephone books each year, operates on a deadline basis much like a newspaper," he said. "For this reason changes requested after Friday, May 14 cannot be honored. That's the date the directory is 'locked-up' and sent to the Directory Company for printing."

The distribution date for the new directory will be announced later, William Graef said.

UAW local 794 names officers

ST. JOHNS--Paul Ritz has been elected the new president of Local 794 of the State, County and Municipal Employees UAW-CIO of Clinton County's Road Commission, it was announced last week.

Other officers elected for the coming year were Stable Bunce, vice-president; Robert Beebe, secretary; Jerry Bishop, treasurer; Roy Harger and Edwin Boettger, stewards; and R. G. Bandt trustee.

DUANE and LEORA BUNCE

meet Clinton National's only husband-wife team

We'd like you to meet the only husband-wife team currently listed on the Clinton National Bank employee roster.

But then chances are good you already know them because Duane and Leora Bunce have been a round Clinton County for some time. Before joining the bank Duane worked the family farm on north Scott Road while Leora watched over their four children, Tim, 19; Terri, 16; Jill, 15 and Polly, 14.

Leora has added to her family chores by working in our bookkeeping department which involves the processing of checks. Duane is manager of our county service unit ("the bus") and gets to work with many of Clinton National's customers in the peripheral areas of the county. He's been doing this since January 1965 and has acquired quite a following and if he tells as many jokes to you as he does at employee gatherings, we can easily understand why he sometimes returns from his stops a little late.

Basketball, bowling and horse shoe pitching are some of Duane's pastimes, but we still think meeting our "bus" customers scores high on his list of pleasures. No one can be as happy as Duane and not enjoy his work. But like other Clinton National people work is secondary - the customer comes first.

Pollution: serious subject for youths

FOWLER—The following two essays were contributed by Dennis Whitlock, seventh and eighth grade instructor in Earth Science at the Fowler Public Schools.

He said he considered them two of the best in the grade categories. The first essay, entitled "Pollution," was submitted by Debbie Anderson, a seventh grader. The second, "Our Polluted Environment," was written by Pat Aitrens, an eighth grader.

POLLUTION

AIR POLLUTION

Air is what we need to breathe. However, it is getting hard to breathe because of the smoke in the air and it doesn't smell good at all. Pollution is not nice to see and it is not healthy.

Sulfur dioxide identified as a culprit in the increasing incidence of lung diseases is one of the most noxious substances in New York City's air. It is believed that New York City has more polluted air than Los Angeles. They have shut down some of the factories until they do something about the smoke in New York City. A day in New York City or Los Angeles is polluted so thick that one's breath comes short.

If a window has just been painted it will be coated with clinders in one day. Pollution cracks the paint on houses, eats away at stone, tarnishes copper, and cracks rubber tires. Houses and clothes must be cleaned more often.

Some things that cause pollution are burning trash, garbage, and leaves. The factories and industrial chimneys cause pollution. Your home furnaces and your automobiles also cause pollution. Cooking outside causes pollution of the air. Do not burn paper dishes, cups, and refuse in charcoal burners.

WATER IS IMPORTANT to us because we need it to drink, but soon we'll have no water because of all that junk they pour into the water. Even the fish are dying. Some people even throw paper, food, candy, cans and pop bottles into the water just for kicks. All of that pollutes the water.

The Great Lakes are one example of a nationwide water pollution problem that is affecting thousands of lakes, rivers, streams, and coastal waters. Lake Erie is dying already because of the sewage that comes from the towns and cities.

Industry pours its wastes, organic and inorganic, into the water daily such as: oil, salts, wood pulp, metal filings, coal dust, and dangerous chemicals. If someone doesn't do anything about water pollution there won't be any water left to drink or go swimming in.

LAND POLLUTION

The trash pile is growing faster than the population. Today, the average American tosses out more than five pounds of trash a day. Trash and garbage are very ugly to see and are unhealthy to everyone. When dumps stand open they become a breeding ground for rats, mice, roaches, flies, and other vermin. So use the waste basket instead of the ground. Let's get pollution before it gets us.

Now that man has landed on the moon and has received data from other planets, we know that the Earth is the only hospitable place to live. But what are we doing to our Earth? We are polluting it with all sorts of garbage.

This is not only endangering our environment but is also costing the people much money in taxes.

The motor vehicle is the biggest contributor to air pollution. Man is trying to prevent this by building an electric car. Next time you want something downtown, get some exercise by walking instead of taking the car.

Cities in the United States with a population over 50,000 are thought to suffer because of air pollution. The burning of garbage in open dumps, factories, and the internal combustion engine are all sources of this kind of pollution.

Smog is the combination of smoke with fog. In London, this has been a problem for centuries. London, which is known for its fogs is an unsafe place for humans to live. It has caused the death of many elderly people, and those with respiratory ailments.

Air pollution makes people depressed when they see this instead of the deep blue sky. In Boston, air pollution is eroding away some of this city's art works. Since air pollution has become greater, there are many more cases of asthma, bronchitis, and emphysema.

These are just a few disadvantages pollution has caused. There are many ways man is trying to prevent air pollution. Some factories are using electrostatic precipitators to reduce the amount of ash coming from the smokestacks.

The Air Quality Act of 1967 asked cooperation between the government and the factories. Do you still remember Earth Day? This took place on April 22, 1970. So called "teach-ins" discussed the problem of pollution.

Water pollution is most serious in our lakes and streams. Most of these clean themselves from a small amount of pollution, but they can only take so much. If they receive too much all life suffers some. If it gets worse the whole stream becomes unfit to drink.

SEWAGE TREATMENT plants are being outgrown so fast nowadays that man is not able to build more of them fast enough. Because of this, much sewage has to be dumped untreated. This factor causes much of our problem.

Areas of our Great Lakes are being polluted severely. The problem here is also not enough sewage treatments. Even some sewage which is treated is not treated adequately. Lake Erie which is shallowest just makes the problem worse.

Because of the unfortunate incident in the Santa Barbara Channel we have become more aware of oil pollution. All life which comes in contact with this is harmed. Many of the sea gulls which catch the fish are also harmed.

Because of the oil pollution problem in Britain, people dumped in three million gallons of detergents! Many people wonder why they did this because detergents are much more toxic than oil. This took the life of many crabs, limpets, and snails.

Through the Water Quality Act of 1965 and the Clean Water Restoration Act of 1966 some of our water has been freed from pollution.

All pollution seems to get worse with increasing population. This seems to be the case with land pollution. It doesn't seem possible, but the average American is responsible for five pounds of trash a day. It costs three billion dollars a year for garbage collectors and the cost is expected to rise.

THE HARDEST PIECE of junk to get rid of is the automobile.

Years ago, you would get rid of it by some wrecker taking it. The man who took your car would strip off some of the parts and sell them. Next, he would crush the remaining parts into one big chunk of steel and sell it for about forty dollars.

There are quite a few reasons why this does not happen any more. The price of scrap steel nowadays is only ten to sixteen dollars per ton. The trouble is it costs about ten dollars just to ship it. It used to be that people would use their cars on an average of ten years. It is only used about six years at the present time.

The government through the Solid Waste Act of 1965 gave waste disposal programs $50,000, to try to help fight land pollution. The actual cost of the program is $20,000,000.

I think some of this trash on our roads and highways can be prevented. If all factories would make returnable bottles there would be very few seen along our roads. Fortunately, the government raised the price of returnable bottles.

Also many clubs and schools are cleaning up our roads showing that the younger citizens really do care about our pollution problem.

If you do anything which helps fight pollution, you have started curbing it. It doesn't seem like you, just an individual, can stop pollution, but you can. People will notice what you do and they will probably follow your example.

If we all do our part against pollution, it can be a thing of the past.

There's a Grand Champion among weed killers too!
Yes sir, it's... Lasso plus atrazine tank mix

Now corn growers can control just about every grass and broadleaf you can think of.
A tank mixture of liquid Lasso and atrazine controls the tough grasses like the Foxtails, Crabgrass and Fall Panicum. At the same time, yield-cutting broadleaves such as Lambsquarters, Buttonweed, Annual Morningglory and Smartweed.
Lasso plus atrazine is safe to your corn; carryover is no problem. Apply it band or broadcast, preplant incorporated or at planting time. Apply it with water or in fertilizer solutions.
Lasso plus atrazine is effective under a wide range of weather conditions—wet or dry—it gets the job done. So for broader spectrum weed control this year, use the grand champion in your corn—Lasso plus atrazine.

Housewives are not the only ones concerned with spring cleaning. These fourth graders at Perrin-Palmer School were part of the cleanup squad at the school last week. The project started as a class discussion project in English concerning citizenship. Kids thought keeping school building and grounds in good shape was part of good citizenship. Students went to Principal Geraldine Whyman asking her for a list of bare places on the playground. They got it. Students then organized with rakes and brooms and litter bags to clean up the playground. From left are Rickie Catlin, Gary Batchelor, Pam Downing, Stacie Hufnagel, Kathy Pifer and Dennis Petersen. Elizabeth Nobis is the teacher.

KINDERGARTEN PROSPECTS

Lori Schaeffer and Victoria McCook play with toys at the Olive Center Kindergarten room last Thursday night. Sixteen students were there to meet with the teachers and become acquainted with the rooms for next fall. Their parents came with them and discussed school readiness problems with school personnel. After the teachers spent some time with the children, they also talked with the parents about the Kindergarten program. Teachers are Joyce Honchell and Joan Valentine. Louise McBroom and Walter Nickel talked with the parents.

Glass report

By JOHN AYLWORTH

In eight months the Clinton County 4-H Teen Leaders have collected a total of 104,150 pounds of glass containers. It has been shipped to the Owens Illinois plant at Charlotte by recycling into new glass products instead of ending up in a landfill.

Little did the Teen Leaders realize when they started this project last October the total amount of glass that would be collected to date, how long the project would last, the response of the people in the county to this project and the value to the community in reducing the amount of material taken to the landfills.

The May 1st collection amounted to 13,330 pounds of glass containers with about ten to twelve thousand pounds of glass collected each month. Many people are involved either in bringing the glass to the fairgrounds or helping sort and break the bottles.

People have commented that they feel this project is worthwhile and very beneficial to the whole county. "The question has been asked how long will the Teen Leaders continue this project. This project is like others as the longer it runs there is bound to be less interest especially to those youth who have been working since October, one Saturday a month. Also the weather is a factor as many of them have other jobs and can't always work from about 9:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. on Saturday.

The 4-H glass collection project will be continued until there is insufficient interest by the 4-H Teen Leaders, or lack of response by the community. It would be helpful to the youth if the people would remove the metal rings from the containers. The 4-H Teen Leaders wish to thank all the people who have helped with this glass collection project as they appreciate their cooperation.

The 4-H Teen Leaders voted to sponsor 6 - $10.00 camp scholarships to some 4-H youth who might not have the opportunity to attend camp this summer. Any 4-H leader is invited to nominate some youth who would benefit greatly by attending camp if he or she received some financial assistance.

The Teen Leaders also discussed a trip to Cedar Point Amusement Park at Sandusky, Ohio. The dates suggested were June 9 and 10 for first choice while June 13 and 14 was the second choice.

4-H MEMBERS interested in securing good sheep for their market lamb or breeding sheep project might like to attend a sale May 15, 1 p.m. at Michigan State University.

The sale includes 33 ram and ewe lambs and 27 yearling and mature ewes. Another sale will be Saturday, May 22, 1 p.m. at the Eaton county fairgrounds at Charlotte. There will be 150 News Reporter; Robert Kindel feeder lambs sold which would be good for a 4-H lamb project.

THE LUCKY RIDERS 4-H club members have elected officers for the coming year. They are: Gale Sober - President; Karen Munson - Vice President; Karen Lehman - Secretary; Patricia Tenlen - Treasurer and Rebecca Hawk - News Reporter.

The members attended the Vet A Visit, Block & Bridle Show and plan to attend the 4-H Horse Clinic May 18, 7 p.m. at the St. Johns fairgrounds. The club's rummage sale was a success and they would like to thank everyone who helped.

During the past several meetings they have been reviewing the horse slide sets from Michigan State University and feel they are quite helpful.

THE KNT-N-STITCH 4-H members made hospital favors to be used on Mothers Day, May 9 at the Clinton Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Lawrence Heiback presented the members with their certificates and evaluation cards. The club will not meet again until fall.

PAT BEAGLE IS THE new President of the Pioneer Trail Riders 4-H club. Other officers include: Mike Ketchum - Vice President; Carolyn Bennett - Secretary; Michele Alexander - Treasurer; Irvin Kebler - News Reporter and Nina Heath - Sgt. of Arms. The May 16 4-H Horse Show and June 13 4-H Horse Show classes were discussed. The members plan to attend the 4-H Horse Clinic on May 18 at St. Johns.

THE NEW OFFICERS of the Kountry Cousins 4-H Club are as follows: Charles Falvor - President; Jerry Smith - Vice President; Jane Smith - Secretary and Frank Falvor - Treasurer. The on coming softball season was discussed. Members who had not enrolled on May 1 finished enrolling for the summer program.

THE SPATS & SPURS 4-H Club plan to have 13 members showing at the Double M 4-H Horse Show May 16. Winners of the club winter notebook project are as follows: Renee Leseney - 1st; Chris Chant - 2nd and Julie Hoskins - 2nd place runner up. Each of the winners received an award. The members viewed films on horse gait and 4-H western pleasure horses.

THE MERRY MAKERS organized for the summer and elected the following officers: Dennis Baese - President; Donna Davis - Vice President; Doug Davis - Secretary; Chris Erickson - Treasurer; Becky Kaufman - News Reporter; Robert Kindel and Bruce Davis - Recreation Leaders. The members voted to buy a small American and 4-H flag set and decided to enter the Litter Barrel contest at the Fair. The club has 16 members this summer with Lyla Baese as their leader.

THE JOLLY KNITTERS held their final winter meeting and recognized the members for an outstanding job. The club was second in points for the honor club contest.

The members discussed the 4-H Exploration Days program and 4-H Camp at Algonquin 4-H Youth Center near Hastings. It was announced that Marla Tait was selected for the Washington 4-H Citizenship Short Course, Charles Tait was selected as a delegate to the Minnesota 4-H Exchange trip, Lorene Tait won the Detroit trio and Linda Thurston won the Algonquin 4-H Camp trip.

The club will hold its first winter meeting for the 1972 program on August 24 at 6:30 p.m. at the Robert Tait residence.

Serious injury and even death from clothing fires has long been one of our problems.

Hopefully in the very near future some standards for at least some types of fabrics and clothing will be determined.

Children's sleepwear has been before the standard's committee and it is expected soon there will be considered standards for flammability for mattresses, bedding, blankets and children's dresses. Standards for large rugs and carpets have been established and became effective by law in April 1971. Small rug standards become effective in December, 1971. As soon as standards are passed and allowing a reasonable time for manufacturers to conform, labels should appear indicating that the garment or article meets approved standards.

The small rug law indicates labels must indicate if rug does not meet standards, they must be so labeled as to warn the consumer of possible hazard involved in its indiscriminate use.

However, many factors are involved in accidents resulting from fabric fires. Standards can perhaps help to a degree in reducing injury or death, but we as humans must assume a fair share of responsibility. No one really knows how many injuries and deaths each year are associated directly with flammability of clothing and other textile products and how many accidents might have been prevented by the use of fire resistant textiles.

The cost of medical care for hospitalized burn victims is measurable, but no one can measure the cost of pain and suffering or the tragic loss of life in dollars and cents.

THE DEPARTMENTS of Commerce and of Health Education and Welfare are beginning to collect some statistics on flammability accidents. In a one year study, one report indicates a total of 670 cases of injuries and deaths associated with the flammability of clothing.

The accidents happened for a variety of reasons but they could be placed in nine categories of which the first five were particularly important.

These categories are: 1) Flammable liquids in explosion including stoves; 2) Heaters, stoves, furnaces and open fireplaces; 3) Burning trash and bonfires; 4) Matches and cigarette lighters; 5) Cigarettes, smoking; 6) Fireworks; 7) unknown; 8) Caught in burning building; 9) Miscellaneous.

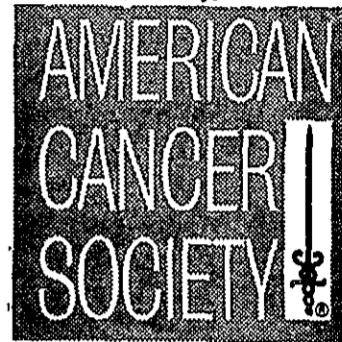

By LORRAINE SPRAGUE Extension Home Economist

Safety in clothes

It's not a question of who gets burned and how, but why they were burned. If the records of the 670 accidents indicate that one percent were the result of some deliberate act, and three percent are unknown and another three percent related to those caught in burning buildings and involving clothing incidentally, then the remaining 93 percent includes accidents which may have been prevented if the people did not stand too close to an open fire or lean over a stove, or back into an electric heater, or if children were taught not to play with matches or cigarette lighters.

Yes we cannot blame clothing fires on one segment of society alone. To prevent such tragedies, there must be cooperation between the public, the Government and industry.

Spring problems

HELEN B. MEACH Extension Home Economist

Spring—with Mother's Day, Father's Day, graduation days and wedding events—brings a rash of banquets, and questions about etiquette.

Good manners are what make you and others around you more comfortable. But banquets do require some special attention.

We sometimes need to be reminded that banquets are an occasion to honor a person, a group, or an organization. They involve huge numbers of diners and relatively few servers. You just can't expect to be "catered to" as when you eat in a restaurant or with a small group.

Here are some special situations to consider at banquets: Talk all you want during the meal, but keep quiet during the presentation. It's rude to interrupt a guest speaker.

Banquets rarely allow enough room for everyone to sit comfortably. So keep your elbows in as if they were taped to your ribs. Women should put large purses on the floor under their chair.

Begin eating when the head table and a few people around you have been served. If the person next to you eats your salad or drinks your coffee, quietly ask the waitress for another. If you don't want coffee, you may ask for tea or milk, if you prefer. If you spill something, don't fuss. It will make everyone uncomfortable.

If relishes, rolls or butter are in front of you, start passing them. If no bread plate is handy, use the edge of your salad or dinner plate for your roll and butter. Ash trays are for ashes, plates are for food. If no ash trays are handy, don't smoke. Don't leave silverware in coffee cups, salad bowls or footed dessert dishes. Leave utensils on the dinner plate or saucer. If you find lipstick on your cup or egg on a fork, ask quietly for a replacement. At a family-style dinner, pass all dishes the same way around the table—either direction is ok. If you haven't gotten enough to eat, don't complain. Pick up a sandwich on the way home. Above all, remember that a banquet is an occasion of honor for a person or an organization, and it should be a happy time for all.

Meanest Mother

Last Sunday was Mother's Day. This article entitled "The Meanest Mother" was written by Bobbie Pingaro of Texas and was used on the People's Page of a national magazine. It has been republished in many forms since. If you've never read it, you'll enjoy it. If you have read it before, it always proves refreshing to reread it.

I HAD THE MEANEST mother in the whole world. While the other kids ate candy for breakfast, I had to have cereal, eggs or toast. When others had Cokes and candy for lunch, I had to eat a sandwich. As you can guess, my supper was different than the other kids' also.

But, at least, I wasn't alone in my sufferings. My sister and two brothers had the same mean mother as I did.

My mother insisted upon knowing where we were at all times. You'd think we were on a chain gang. She had to know who our friends were and what we were doing. She insisted if we said we'd be gone an hour, that we be gone one hour or less—not one hour and one minute.

I am nearly ashamed to admit it, but she actually struck us. Not once, but each time we had a mind of our own and did as we pleased.

That poor belt was used more on our seats than it was to hold up Daddy's pants. Can you imagine someone actually hitting a child just because he disobeyed? Now you can begin to see how mean she really was.

WE HAD TO wear clean clothes and take a bath. The other kids always wore their clothes for days. We reached the height of insults because she made our clothes herself, just to save money. Why, of why, did we have to have a mother who made us feel different from our friends?

The worst is yet to come. We had to be in bed by nine each night and up at eight the next morning. We couldn't sleep till noon like our friends. So while they slept—my mother actually had the nerve to break the child-labor law.

She made us work. We had to wash dishes, make beds, learn to cook and all sorts of cruel things. I believe she laid awake at night thinking up mean things to do to us.

BY THE TIME we were teenagers, she was much wiser, and our life became even more unbearable. None of this tooting the horn of a car for us to come running. She embarrassed us to no end by making our dates and friends come to the door to get us. If I spent the night with a girl friend, can you imagine she checked on me to see if I were really there.

I never had the chance to elope to Mexico. That is if I'd had a boyfriend to elope with. I forgot to mention; while my friends were dating at the mature age of 12 and 13, my old-fashioned mother refused to let me date until the age of 15 and 16. Fifteen, that is, if you dated only to go to a school function. And that was maybe twice a year.

Through the years, things didn't improve a bit. We could not lie in bed, "sick" like our friends did, and miss school. If our friends had a toe ache, a hang nail or other serious ailment, they could stay home from school.

Our marks in school had to be up to par. Our friends' report cards had beautiful colors on them, black for passing, red for failing. My mother, being as different as she was, would settle for nothing less than ugly black marks.

As the years rolled by, first one and then the other, of us was put to shame. We were graduated from high school. With our mother behind us, talking, hitting and demanding respect, none of us was allowed the pleasure of being a drop-out.

MY MOTHER was a complete failure as a mother. Out of four children, a couple of us attained some higher education. None of us has ever been arrested, divorced or beaten his mate. Each of my brothers served his time in the service of this country. And whom do we have to blame for the terrible way we turned out? You're right, our mean mother. Look at all the things we missed.

We never got to march in a protest parade, nor to take part in a riot, burn draft cards, and a million and one other things that our friends did. She forced us to grow into God-fearing, educated, honest adults.

Using this as a background, I am trying to raise my three children. I stand a little taller and I am filled with pride when my children call me mean.

Because, you see, I thank God He gave me the meanest mother in the whole world.

Common denominator

By WARREN E. DOBSON

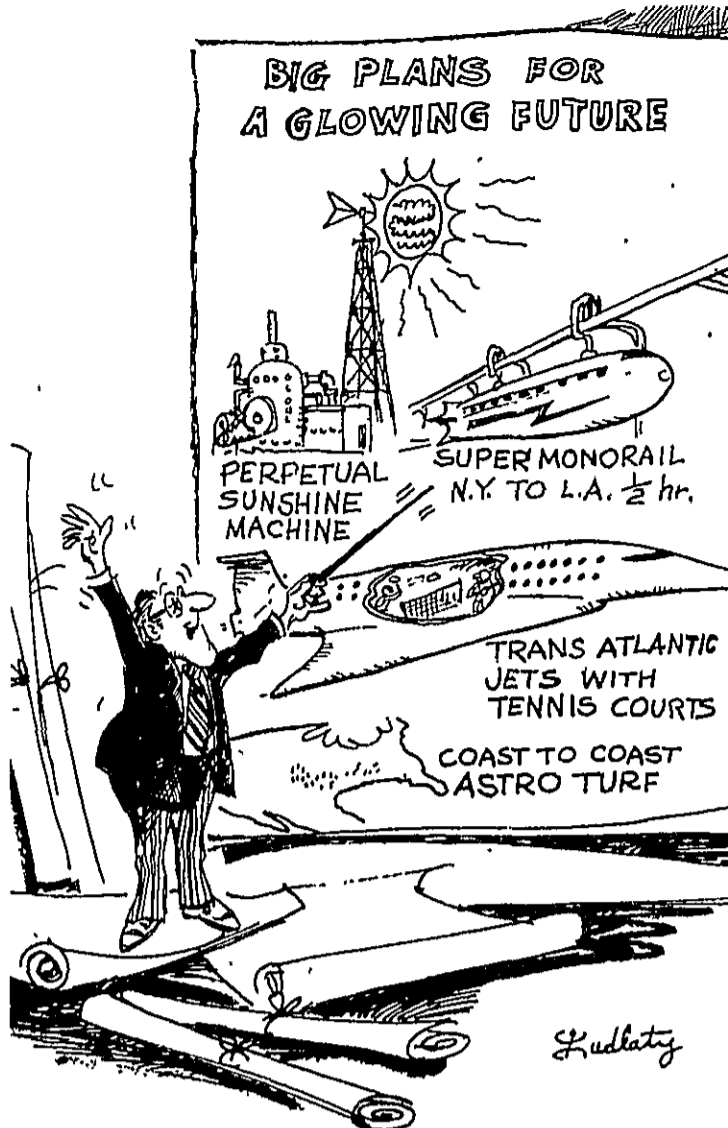

There's still a lot of problems
In this old world of ours,
In spite of all the efforts
Of governments 'n powers;
'Mongst the folks that's rated equals
Wide discrepancies are found,
When we leave the family center
'N proceed to look around.

One prime goal of every youngster
In the early pell-mell days
Has to do with tummy filling
By assorted means and ways;
Adult folk have other problems—
Their taboos we plainly see
As they seek out special diets
Hopeful that they will agree.

To each is given but one stomach
But the chances for re-fills,
Is for some a life-long struggle—
Others dine mostly on pills;
Stomach-stretching is a science
Practiced by the young of heart,
Later years invite more caution
When the dieticians start.

There is still poetic justice
In the sequence of the years,
Things that thrill in the beginning
Give way later to age and fears;
Wealthy folk can do their choosing
Hoard and cram them as they will,
But in common with poorest urchin
Each has but one stomach to fill!

But, What's for Now?

Toying with tragedy

By TIM YOUNKMAN

It was John Steinbeck's opening and graphic description of the great dust bowl in Texas and Oklahoma that brought America's attention to the tragic pattern of desolation that periodically sweeps the Middle South and Midwest.

In 20-year cycles, dust bowls of varying magnitudes have ravaged the farming belts of the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles. This appears to be another period in that 20-year cycle.

In many areas of those two states, rain has not fallen for almost a year and the strong winds are starting to carry away the precious little topsoil that remains.

It could develop into another 30's-type tragedy, just what our farm economy didn't need in this year of financial misery.

Amidst the gala lights and center-stage political promotionism, or for want of a better term, propaganda, President Nixon has tried to create the aura of the Farmers' Champion with a special salute to agriculture day at the White House last week.

There were displays of modern farm machinery spread across the White House lawn for newsmen and various manufacturers—a mini-trade show, in so many words. There was a huge banquet featuring country-boy singing whiz Glenn Campbell, complete with downhome jokes and a kiss for the First Lady.

But the poor dudes in Texas and Oklahoma, fighting for simple survival, couldn't expect to be too enthusiastic about the whole show. Watching their land blow away, or waiting for it to happen again, wouldn't make them too responsive to glamorous speech making.

In many areas, farmers are selling their stock at buyers' prices in the northern Midwest, rather than watch the animals die of starvation. Some still cling to that land in hopes of rain, taking the chance that by August all could be lost.

It appears that with each succeeding administration, national leaders tune out the domestic cries for help. But it is much worse this time. Not only are the young crying out for reform, now they are joined by the "Establishment" farmers and blue collar workers across the country. The Silent Majority, so long endeared to the President, could prove his undoing, if he continues in this lack of domestic economic response.

We hear reports coming from Washington that leaders are smiling again because the unemployment rate has dropped by one-tenth of a percent to a figure of about 6.5 per cent. The only trouble is the rate should be below four per cent.

In Michigan, we have a rate of more than eight per cent, tolerable for a short time at best. It is clear that the so-called "induced recession" is getting out of hand. With the dollar being devalued abroad, inflation rising, farmers, youth and workers shouting for aid, we could be approaching a point of no return.

In time like these, with the problems and anguish of millions of citizens, it is not unreasonable to question the administration's sincerity, while parties and gala banquets take precedence over action. There is a growing sentiment that this nation has survived so long with all the problems and crises—not because of its leaders, but in spite of them.

'IF IT FITZ . . . Suffering on the railroad

By JIM FITZGERALD

Goofy Americans, Middle-aged and older, are currently suffering terrible fits of choo-choo nostalgia.

They quit riding trains years ago, because they liked cars and planes better. But now the populace is upset because the railroads have despaired of rolling empty seats across the countryside. Daily passenger service is being eliminated or severely slashed all over the country.

And people who rode the train faithfully once every 10 years are wailing and moaning and yearning for the good old days when everyone went down to the depot to meet the 5:10.

I remember trains, too. Like a cinder in my eye . . . Sometimes, in nightmarish flashbacks, it seems like my entire 3-year army career was spent on trains. In 1944, a train took me from home to Chicago, where I was inducted.

Those were the glory-days when the high school band and gobs of sobbing relatives showed up at the depot to bid farewell to the brave draftees.

I can still see my 2 best friends, both "4-F's" standing on the platform, laughing and holding hands with my girl friend, as I chugged out of their lives. I can't see them clearly because the train window was filthy.

But the bitterness still comes back clearly. My 2 friends were husky, healthy specimens. I was 6 feet tall and weighed 105 and was obviously a poor bet to live until midnight. I never did understand how come I was on that miserable train and they stayed home. Come to think, maybe they weren't holding hands with my girl. Maybe they were holding hands with each other. That window was really dirty . . .

IN FRANCE, I WAS transported to the front lines in a 40 & 8 left over from World War I. That's a freight car, built in 1900, capable of carrying 40 men and 8 horses.

The men must be midgets and the horses must be rocking. There is no better way to get to know your fellow man intimately. I sat on the floor between two fat guys who didn't know I was there for the first two days, until I got sick and learned another use for my steel helmet.

It took that French train 3 days to go 200 miles. We kept getting shunted off onto sidings to let higher-priority trains go through. They probably contained generals and Red Cross girls on their way home for more doughnuts.

One of the layovers was in Paris, and I still brag to my kids that I spent a night in Gay Paree. Even though we weren't allowed any farther from the train than the nearest bush (nobody worried about pollution in those days).

A year later, with the war over, I was back in the U.S. where, my first assignment was riding shotgun on a prisoner train. I stood in the passageway between cars, with a carbine strapped over my shoulder, and prayed to God that the incredible shaking and bumping didn't make the stupid gun go off. I wasn't afraid of the noise or the bullet. I just didn't want to have to clean the gun because I still hadn't learned how to take it apart.

Officers kept telling me my gun was my best friend but then they'd tell me to strip my weapon and that seemed like a vulgar way to treat a good friend. So I never did.

ANYWAY, SEATED inside the cars were German prisoners of war on their way to catch a boat home. My job was to make sure none of them jumped off in Cincinnati and went on welfare. Trouble came when I jumped off myself to buy a beer in Philadelphia.

The train was supposed to lay-over for 5 minutes but a conductor blew a fuse and it pulled out early. And there I was, with my carbine, guarding the depot bar overnight. That was my last out-of-town assignment.

Soon I was sent home for good, in a brilliantly decorated, brand new uniform with which to dazzle my family and 4-F friends. Except the trip was made in a sweaty, 80-year-old Pullman that sucked in soot like a vacuum cleaner.

When I arrived at the home depot, my father said: "If your side won the war, I'd hate to see the losers."

Onward and Upward but not by train, thanks.

From the State House Delayed tuition

By REP. DICK ALLEN

What's in a name? A lot, I'll tell you. Two years ago I introduced a bill in Michigan's Legislature that involved a rather dramatic new concept in the area of finance of our colleges and universities.

I called it a "Delayed Tuition Plan". However, Action Line in the Detroit Free Press called it a "Degree Tax." The rest of the State's newspapers picked it up and the term "Degree Tax" stuck.

Degree Tax! Good Gosh! We've got a tax on everything from beer to toothpaste. Now some dumb freshman legislator wants to put a tax on college degrees!

Within 10 days I received over 800 letters. Almost ten favored the concept. The rest expressed reactions from mild disagreement to in depth discussions of my likely fitness for office.

The basic precepts behind my plan were two-fold. First, that the logical people to pay the lion's share of the operational costs of colleges and universities are those that benefit most, the students. Second, that the best time for them to pay these costs is when they are most able, after graduation when they have high incomes.

Now, two years after my fiasco attempt, I find plans similar to mine springing up around the country. The Governor of Ohio has proposed one; Yale University has one already in effect.

My original plan was crude in some ways and probably did not deserve to pass. However, the problems it was designed to alleviate are, if anything, growing worse.

A constantly growing percentage of our high school students seek advanced educational opportunity. Of those that go on, an increasing number continue past the bachelor's degree to more expensive advanced study.

Our expenses, therefore, are increasing and will continue to increase if we are to meet the educational and vocational training needs of our young in an increasingly complex technological society.

It does not appear these dollars can come from the normal State tax sources. We are in the process of trying to provide a dramatic increase in the financial support of public grade and high schools. The people want and deserve property tax relief as a first priority in the use of increased State taxes.

Students are even less able to pay increased costs than the State. Good paying jobs are not available. Young people should not be dependent on their parents for huge sums. Some cannot provide it. In cases where they can, it creates the kind of dependency antagonism that is the source of much frustration on the part of both young people and parents.

So you'll soon hear of another Allen plan for college finance. This time I think it will be called a Delayed Tuition Plan rather than a Degree Tax. Three reasons:

It's a concept whose time has now arrived. It will be a better, more refined plan. Allen is smarter now and will have better control of the publicity process.

View from the 30th Three bills

By SEN. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

Three bills I introduced in the State Senate last week would, if enacted into law, give greater protection to consumers against dealers who sell their retail installment contracts to third parties, then fail to properly perform the contracts.

Working with my colleague, Democratic State Senator Jack Faxon of Detroit, we've come up with a trio of measures (Senate Bills 558, 559 and 560) endorsed by both the Michigan Consumers Council and the Michigan Bankers Association, who cooperated in drafting the bills.

The purpose of the three-bill legislative package is to protect consumers against "hit and run" sales schemes where the buyer's retail installment contract is sold by the dealer to a financial institution or other third party. Under existing Michigan law, a consumer is held legally responsible for repaying a retail installment contract sold to a third party, even if the original seller fails to perform properly.

The proposed bills would amend the Retail Installment Sales Act, the Motor Vehicle Sales Finance Act and the Home Improvement Finance Act to subject a "holder" of a contract to any legal defenses available to the consumer against the original seller. This proposal would protect the consumer from being forced to continue paying for goods or services which do not properly comply with the contract.

I believe these three bills represent a tremendous step forward in the field of consumer protection. And it's particularly significant that the measures embrace a joint effort by two organizations which all-too-regularly agree: One representing a consumer and the other representing lenders. I congratulate the Consumers Council for its continued aggressiveness in promoting consumer legislation and the Bankers Association for its progressive attitude in becoming the first banking group in the nation to actively support legislation of this type.

THE PASSAGE OF this legislation would mean that for the first time, Michigan residents would be protected from unscrupulous dealers who sell their installment contracts to third parties, then either go out of business, leave the state or simply refuse to honor their commitments, leaving the customer obligated to pay for shoddy goods or services.

The bills will make financial institutions accountable for their dealers from whom they purchase installment contracts. They will, in effect, become "watch-dogs" for the consumer.

Robert M. Perry, Executive Manager of the Michigan Bankers Association, explained his group's support of the bills by saying, "We recognize that financial institutions purchasing installment contracts are often in a better position than the consumer to determine the reliability of the dealer and, accordingly, have a responsibility to the public.

While this legislation would mean that all financial institutions will necessarily become more selective in purchasing installment contracts, we accept this responsibility cheerfully, believing it to be in the best interests of the people of Michigan."

Speaking for the Michigan Consumers Council, Executive Director Miss Dianne McKelg had this to say: "The Council is enthusiastic in its support of the bills introduced by Senators Ballenger and Faxon. If enacted, they should eliminate a serious problem the consumers of Michigan have experienced—the frustration of being legally obligated to pay for goods they have not received, or have not received in the condition agreed upon.

The bills will shift to the financial institutions the responsibility for screening out "fly-by-night" operations, and encourage financial institutions to require merchants to repurchase their contracts when they refuse to honor their obligations. The leadership of the Michigan Bankers Association and the willingness of the banking community to assume a major consumer protection role is an important step toward preserving consumer contract defenses."

Comments from my constituents on this issue should be directed to your State Representatives, or to members of the Senate Agriculture and Consumer Affairs Committee, of which I'm chairman and to which the bills have been referred. The three committee members besides Senator Faxon and myself are Senators Robert Richardson, Alvin DeGroot, and Charles Youngblood.

Washington Reports Rail act

Rep. U.S Garry Brown
3rd. Congressional Dist.

Following is a summary of major floor action in Congress last week and scheduled action this week.

Last Week in the House:
Railroad Retirement Annuities The House approved a temporary 10 percent increase in Railroad Retirement benefits to conform to recent increases in Social Security benefits, retroactive to January 1, 1971.

The increase expires June 30, 1972 when the report of the commission studying the Railroad Retirement Fund will be completed. The bill now goes to the Senate.

Increase Appropriations Authorization for Commission on Marihuana and Drug Abuse: The House approved increasing the ceiling on expenditures of the Commission for $1 million to $4 million. The increase was considered necessary because of a broadening of the duties of the Commission from a study of drug abuse.

The administration favored raising the ceiling but preferred inserting a clause to provide "such sums as may be necessary" rather than stating a specific amount. The bill now goes to the Senate.

Oleomargarine Amendment: The House passed an amendment to the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act modifying requirements concerning notice to patrons of public eating places that colored oleomargarine is being served. Under the amendment, notice may be provided in one of three ways: (1) notice displayed prominently and conspicuously in the establishment; (2) notice on the menu in type not smaller than normally used; (3) label on each separate serving identifying it as oleomargarine. Senate action is now needed for enactment.

Other Actions: Additional measures given approval last week by the House included funding authorizations for the U.S. Coast Guard and the House Internal Security Committee, and certain bills dealing with matters pertaining to the government of the District of Columbia.

LAST WEEK in the Senate: Rural Telephone Bank: The Senate agreed to the conference report on S. 70 to create a rural telephone bank to provide supplemental financing for telephone borrowers, clearing the report for final congressional action by the House.

Appalachian Regional Development Commission: The Senate agreed to a conference requested by the House to iron out differences in Senate and House bills to authorize funds for the extension of the Appalachian Regional Development Commission.

This Week in Congress: The following bills are scheduled for consideration this week in the House:
— Increasing the outstanding loan ceiling of the Small Business Administration

Relief seen for volunteers

LANSING—An attempt to relieve some financial problems of volunteer ambulance organizations is behind two bills introduced in the House of Representatives last week by Rep. R. Douglas Trezise (R-Owosso) of the 87th District.

The bills, numbers HB 5018 and HB 5019 extend sales and use tax exemptions to these organizations on the purchase of vehicles and other supplies.

MAPLE RAPIDS

MRS. JOYCE RUMSEY
127 West Main Street
Maple Rapids, 682-4243

Mrs. William Seeley and children of East Lansing were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Bancroft.

May 4 the first graders and their teacher, Mrs. Johnson had a sack lunch in the village park. This was based on their study of the four basic foods which they are learning concerning proper nutrition.

The WSCS donated money for an interdenominational three day camp-out at the Eaton Rapids Campgrounds. This was for students from eighth through twelfth grades. Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Smith, Rev. Van Lente and Rev. Coe and wife. Several students attended and games of fun were enjoyed as well as Bible studies.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Bancroft spent the past week touring the Cumberland and Smokey Mountains celebrating their 37th wedding anniversary.

"In action last year," Trezise noted, "the Legislature inadvertently removed this exemption under a general revision of the tax law. As a result, organizations which now provide a vital service to a large portion of our area on a volunteer basis are required to pay a sales tax on all their purchases of vehicles and supplies."

"For example," he pointed out, "one organization in our area, the D.V.A. Ambulance at Durand, had exemptions of over $15,000 including the purchase of a new vehicle. This means that this group would have had to pay over $600 on state sales and use taxes."

Joining with Representative Trezise in sponsoring this legislation are House Minority Leader Clifford Smart (R-Walled Lake) and Representative Raymond Smit (R-Ann Arbor) both of whom represent areas where voluntary ambulance services serve their communities.

Philip III

By REV. HUGH BANNINGA

The third appearance of Philip in John's gospel comes in the middle of the 12th chapter. We read:

"Among those who went up to worship at the festival were some Greeks. They came to Philip... and said to him, 'Sir, we should like to see Jesus.'" So Philip went and told Andrew and the two of them went to tell Jesus."

So Philip went and told Andrew. Here we see Philip as the man who disliked responsibility. The Greeks asked Philip to take them to see Jesus, but instead of doing it on his own, he went to get Andrew. For some reason Philip didn't feel prepared to shoulder alone the responsibility of introducing some foreigners to the Master.

Here again many Christians are like Philip—they dislike responsibility. They would rather have the "other guy" do the job. They would rather let their Christian neighbor have all the missionary spirit and let him share Christ with others. They would rather let their Christian neighbor do all the growing in an understanding of God's power and thus grow in faith.

The private thoughts of this kind of Christian is, "If I can get my neighbor to take on more than his share of the responsibility, then the burden on my own shoulders will be less."

Sir Richard Acland once said, "During my lifetime public policy has been worse than it need have been, not primarily because too many bad men take part in politics, but primarily because far too many who suppose themselves to be good men, nevertheless find excuses for locking themselves up in their own private lives and taking no part in the grinding and exacting endeavor or which political democracy requires."

We could paraphrase Sir Acland's words and apply them to the Church. "Public life has been worse than it need have been... because far too many who suppose themselves to be good Christians, nevertheless find excuses for locking themselves up in their own private lives and taking no part in the grinding and exacting endeavor which the Christian requires."

taking no part in the grinding and exacting endeavor which the life of the Christian requires."

TOO MANY OF US Christians have been taking a ride through life and trying to dodge the conductor's demand, "Fares, please!"

A little boy riding with his parents on a train had his first experience on an observation car. This was a great experience for him, and he ran back into the pullman car and cried, "Daddy, come out and ride on the obligation car!"

Christ issues the same call to you and me. He says, "Come on out of the pullman car and ride on the obligation car like a true Christian should."

Philip's final appearance in John's gospel is in the 14th chapter where Jesus and his disciples are in the upper room having the Last Supper. Jesus was telling the disciples about His Father's house and how He was going there to prepare a place for them. Then Philip said to Jesus, "Lord, show us the Father and we ask no more."

Jesus answered, "Have I been all this time with you, Philip, and you still do not know me? Anyone who has seen me has seen the Father."

In this scene we see Philip as the man with the questioning mind. For Philip, believing in God involved seeing Him in the flesh. Even after spending about three years with Jesus, Philip still felt he hadn't seen God, and this bothered him, so he took his question right to Jesus.

A boy was taken by his father on a camping trip in the Adirondacks. They hired a guide, left the beaten trails, and spent a week in the heart of the woods. The boy was greatly impressed by the ability of the guide to see all sorts of things, invisible to the ordinary eye.

One day, after the guide had been pointing out some of the hidden secrets of nature, the boy asked with an awed voice, "Mister, can you see God?" The old man replied, "My boy, it's getting so I can hardly see anything else when I'm out in the woods."

The answer Jesus gave to Philip was similar to the old guide's answer to the young boy. The longer a person travels with Jesus the Master, the more a person studies the life of that carpenter from Nazareth, the more difficult it will be for that person to see anything but the Almighty and the all-loving God Himself.

Are you like Philip? Do you have a questioning mind? Do you continually search for God in your life? Then look to Jesus, the late Archbishop of Canterbury, William Temple, once said, "The central fundamental affirmation of the Christian religion is that Jesus of Nazareth is the unique, final manifestation of God." That is what Philip discovered, because he was not ashamed to put his question to Jesus.
