THE SECRETARY NEVER SHOWED

Storm clouds gathered Monday in Michigan for the U.S. secretary of agriculture, Earl L. Butz, but they were the atmospheric kind. These Clinton County farmers waited in vain at the Robert Zeeb farm in DeWitt Township where Butz was supposed to visit following a noon luncheon in Lansing. Threatening clouds, of the tornado family, placed the area on a weather alert and Secretary Butz made a hasty exit from this central Michigan community. The Zeeb farm is considered a model milking operation.

Suitcase Theatre cast to be coming

ST. JOHNS—Mayor Robert Wood declared the week of May 14-20 as St. Johns "Suitcase Theatre Week" following the honor bestowed on three local high school students selected to travel with Michigan Suitcase Theatre.

Throughout the week, St. Johns

High School students will be in the downtown and shopping areas of the city selling "Suitcase Theatre" buttons and tickets to the production of the entire Suitcase Theatre company, which will be held on Thursday, May 18, at 8 p.m. at the High School Auditorium.

Tickets for the show will be $1 and will be available at the door, as well as from the students. Any person wearing a "Suitcase Theatre" button at the box office on the night of the show will receive a 25 cent reduction in the purchase of his ticket.

All proceeds from the show and buttons will go to our three St. Johns students to help pay their expenses on the summer tour that the group will be making in the United States, Canada, and Europe.

To further honor the Michigan "Suitcase Theatre," the local High School drama club and the Mask and Dagger Club, will be hosting the cast at a potluck dinner the evening of their performance. This will give local students an opportunity to exchange ideas and concepts, not only on the arts, but also on ethnic and racial levels.

The "Suitcase Theatre" company is made up of Michigan teenagers from Caucasian, Black, Indian, and Spanish American races.

The three students selected from St. Johns for this year's tour are Bruce Caesar, Anne Fox, and Beth Stork. These students, like all others in the troupe, were selected after a talent audition and a personal interview with the directors of the show.

St. Johns ready for Soap Box Derby

ST. JOHNS—It's 10th anniversary time for the Soap Box Derby and there will be a few new wrinkles to the annual event to be presented this Sunday afternoon.

A special commemorative newspaper is being distributed for a 50 cent donation to raise money to send a number of local racers to Akron, Ohio to cheer on the local champion at the All-American Soap Box Derby. The newspaper features photographs of the nine-year history of the derby as well as historical items.

The largest parade in the 10 year history of Derby Day is planned by an active, energetic parade committee. More than 50 entries have been received for the opening segment of the Sunday afternoon program.

And wouldn't you know it: for the first time there will be girls participating in the Derby. Three gals from St. Johns and a couple from Fowler plan to challenge their boy counterparts.

JOHN AREHART, Derby director, reports approximately 90 entries have been received from St. Johns, Westphalia, Fowler and the Lansing areas. Ten of the Lansing racers are from the St. Vincent Home for Children.

In commenting on the souvenir newspaper, Arehart said, "Chevrolet provides only the $500 savings bond and the winner's trophy to the local champion. The money needed to put on the local Derby is raised from local individuals and organizations."

Directing the production of the newspaper was Charles Agerstrand.

Co-directors of the parade, Mart Livingston and Dave Humenick, assure the largest parade in the history of the Derby. They said, "We are dedicating this year's parade to all the Derby boys who have built and raced cars for the past 10 years, and also to all of the parents of the boys who have provided moral support and understanding. We also want to dedicate the parade this year to the entire community for their unending support of this annual event."

The following 56 entries will march up Clinton Avenue on raceday:

ST. JOHNS CITY Police, Michigan State Police, Clinton County Sheriff Dept., V.F.W. Honor Guard, St. Johns

City Fathers, State Senator William Ballenger, State Legislator Douglas Trezise, State Legislator Bill Allen, Senior Citizens' Float,

ST. JOHNS — We've heard of austerity budgets but a misprint in last week's Clinton County News indicated a real budget-buster for the city for the coming year.

A proposed general budget for 1972-73 amounts to slightly in excess of $1 million. However, the present year's budget amount was reported in error at more than $6 million. The correct figure should have been $846,308.

Voters go to polls

Clinton County voters went to the polls Tuesday in Michigan's presidential primary election.

The near fatal shooting Monday afternoon of Democratic hopeful Gov. George Wallace in Maryland was expected to have some effect on balloting in both Michigan and Maryland primaries.

While the spotlight of the election was on the presidential hopefuls, a couple of state proposals caused some interest and also county delegates to party conventions were being elected.

A voter turnout of about 1.2 million was predicted for the state, representing about a quarter of those registered.

Allen out of 88th, but won't quit

By TIM YOUNKMAN

LANSING — South Clinton County voters may have a tough time deciding which candidate to support in the August primary. One familiar name not on the ballot will be that of Rep. Richard Allen (R-Ithaca).

The southern tier of the county has been split into parts of three representative districts under the recent plan approved by the Michigan Supreme Court.

House Plan 12 (revised) was officially approved by the courts and holds interesting changes for most of Clinton's voters.

According to the plan, also known as the Hatcher-Kleiner Plan, it would break up Rep. Allen's current district and cut him out of the 88th district.

The 88th would consist of the southwestern townships of Gratiot County and 12 townships in Clinton County. Those included in Clinton are Lebanon, Essex, Greenbush, Duplain, Dallas, Bengal, Bingham, St. Johns city, Ovid, Westphalia, Riley, Olive, DeWitt and part of Bath.

Both Eagle and Watertown townships will be included in the 56th district, currently represented by Rep. Dale Warner (R-Charlotte).

The 87th district, which now includes Ovid and the City of St. Johns represented by Rep. R. Douglas Trezise (R-Owosso), will lose that territory and have only Victor Township and part of Bath. The rest of the 87th will be in Shiawassee County.

Allen said Friday he was "unhappy" with the plan.

"My house is in the 100th district on one side of the road and most of my property is in the 89th on the other side," he said.

He said he has ruled out any idea of moving homesteads to be included in any one district.

"I don't envision a move of that kind. I view both of these (the 100th and 89th) as home."

If he decides to run, and the Republican Party goes along with it, someone will have to drop out of the race. Currently the 100th and 89th districts are split by Reps. Don Holbrook, John Enger and Burt Brennen, all Republicans.

He said the idea of his own political demise was "not a likely possibility." He added that it would take a decision of the party to determine who will run for office.

The division line between the 88th and 87th in Bath Township runs along Drumheller Road to Center to Stoll to Clark to Peacock and over to the county line.

Under the same plan, State Sen. William S. Ballenger (R-Ovid) will represent all or part of nine counties in the central Michigan area, including all of Clinton County.

His 30th district would include parts of Gratiot, Montcalm, Shiawassee, Ingham, Barry, Calhoun and Jackson, plus all of Eaton County.

Allen said the decision on which district to run as a candidate will be made soon, after meetings with GOP leaders.

Citizens ask road action

By LINDA KERNER and DOROTHY MOORE
News Special Writers

DEWITT—Angry members of the Lake Geneva Property Association confronted DeWitt City council Monday night at the regular monthly meeting and demanded immediate action on road repairs in the Lake Geneva area.

"The home owners in the Lake Geneva area don't intend to tolerate the road conditions," said Ronald Hofmelster of 805 West Geneva Drive, spokesman and treasurer of the association.

The roads in the Lake Geneva area are in desperate need of repair for chuckholes and drainage problems.

The group of some 40 home owners present at the meeting from the Lake Geneva area demanded immediate action.

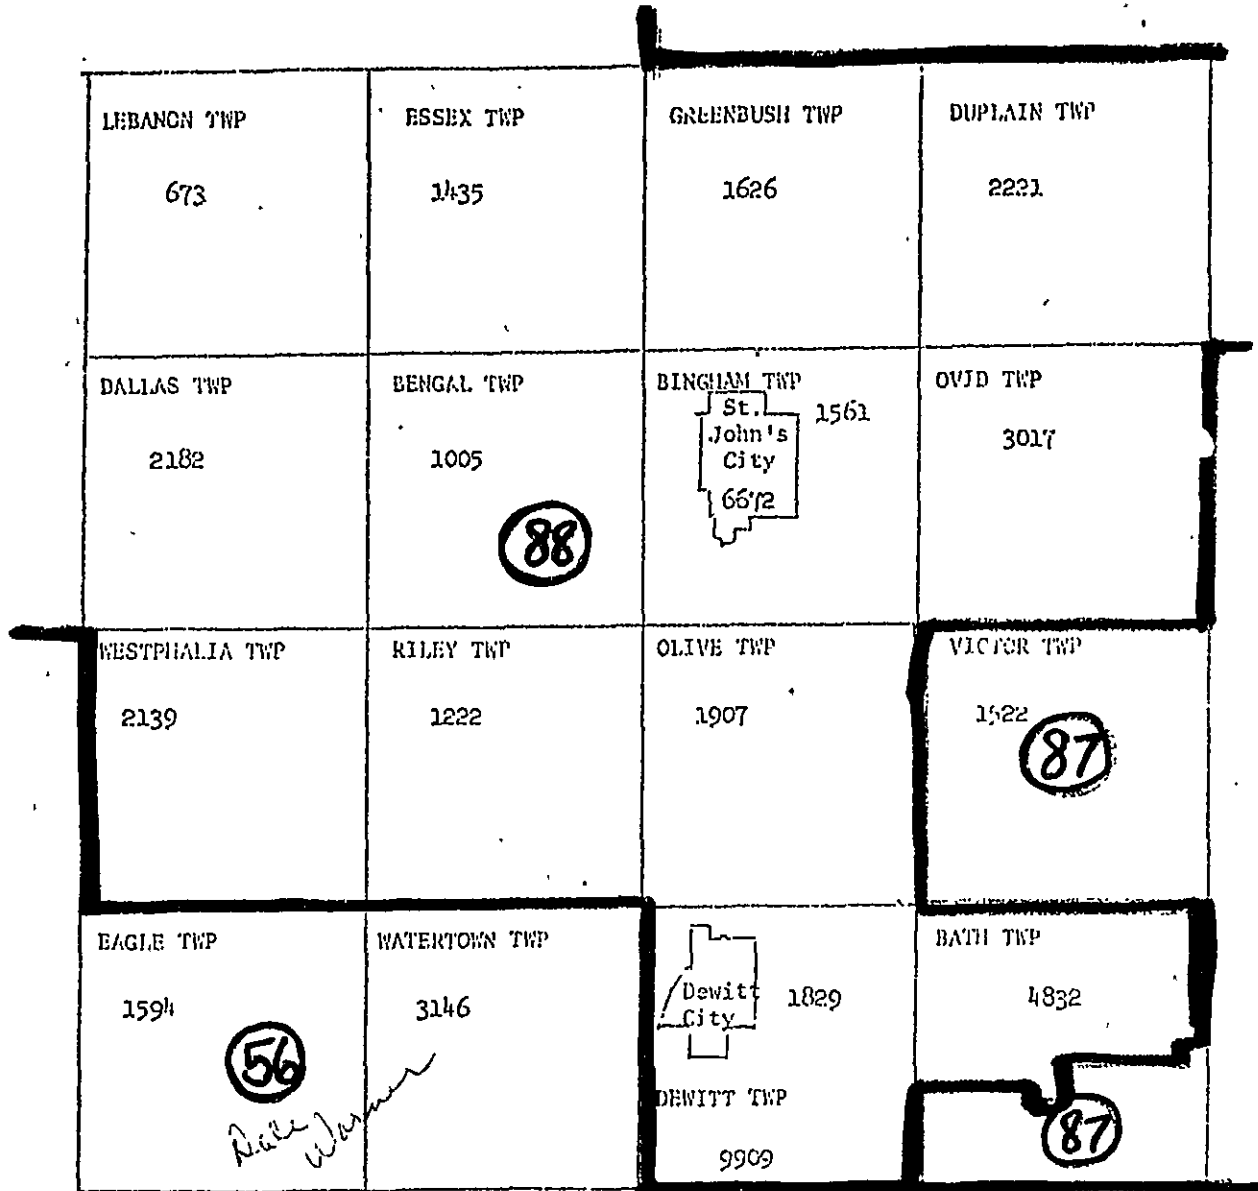

"We'll all agree the roads are bad out there," said Keith Blizzard, mayor pro-tem of the council.

The council discussed the problem and then councilmen Paul Hartwigsen and Raymond DeWitt moved to have short range immediate repairs in the Lake Geneva area and to contact an engineering firm on a long range program for all roads.

"Lake Geneva roads are the worst in DeWitt," said councilman John Hatt.

Also at the meeting the council moved to give $150 to the Little League summer baseball program. This program will begin June 6 and continue through July 20 and will include over 300 children.

It was suggested that the DeWitt township and DeWitt school system be asked to contribute.

July 4th plans approved at Bath

By PAULA HOLMES

BATH—The Fourth of July will be a two day affair in Bath Charter Township, the board decided Monday night at the mid-monthly meeting.

The board voted to permit the shooting of fireworks on July 3 and 4. The board changed its previous decision, allowing fireworks on July 4 only, at the suggestion of the Fourth of July Celebration Committee. The committee, composed of representatives of the American Legion, Lion's Club and the Improvement League, felt that two nights of fireworks would decrease the traffic and parking problems of previous years' celebrations.

All fireworks displays will be aerial. The committee is also planning other activities for that evening.

In other business, the board approved the suggestion of the Road committee for the use of funds left over from last year's road budget. The committee felt that spending the funds on gravel would be the best use of the funds. Coleman Road from Park Lake Road to Center Road will be covered with 3 inches of gravel.

The improvement will cost the township $2480. The cost is due to the processing of the gravel. The gravel will be supplied by the Department of Natural Resources at no charge.

The board also received a signed agreement from the Clinton County Road Commission. A seal coating will be put on Park Lake Road from State Road to Nichols Road if sewers are not put in this summer.

Supervisor Roy VanSickle announced that the Zoning Committee would meet next Monday. Brent Bragdon, Hammersley Road, will be asking for the rezoning of five acres in Section 21 of Bath Charter Township. The planning Commission has approved the rezoning, which would allow Bragdon to build a two-family home, if it is limited to one unit until the sewers are installed.

VanSickle also read two letters from the Zoning Board. The letters cited D. Killingsworth, 15115 Nichols Road and James Anderson, 15211 Nichols Road for having junk cars on their property.

The board also fined Ray Reed, M-78 Highway, $75.00 for violation of fire regulations.

In an unanimous decision the board voted to send VanSickle to a Governor's Conference on land use and development in Grand Rapids. The conference will be held May 30 and 31. The registration fee is $15.

State plans Muskrat Lake improvements

LANSING — Plans have been announced by the Michigan State Waterways Commission to improve the public access site located on Muskrat Lake in Olive Township.

The development will include a launching ramp, parking area for 50 car-trailer units and toilet facilities. The work will be performed by the Waterways Commission's construction crew and will be completed for use by early summer.

All funds for this project are derived exclusively from taxes paid by recreational boat owners and are appropriated by the Michigan Legislature.

Michigan Week schedule set by DeWitt officials

DEWITT—Mayor Lawrence Keck has proclaimed May 20-27 as local observance of Michigan Week here and named Ralph Woodruff, chairman of the festivities.

Woodruff said Friday there will be a number of local ceremonies and observances during the Michigan Week celebration.

Religious Foundations Day will be observed in local churches on Sunday May 21, with a community-wide

Two concerts this week

DEWITT—Two spring concerts are planned this week by instrumental and vocal groups of the DeWitt school system, according to Director Robert Masacek.

Thursday evening, May 18, the middle school band, comprised of students in sixth through eighth grades, will present a concert in the gymnasium at 7 p.m.

The second concert, scheduled for Sunday afternoon, May 21, will feature the 80-piece high school band and the 50-voice high school choir. This program is planned for the out-of-doors, with an ice cream social background. The concert starts at 3:30 and will be comprised of light pop-style music.

In addition to the two high school groups, a special feature of the Sunday concert will be the debut of the fifth grade beginners' band.

In case of inclement weather, the Sunday program will be held indoors.

Bloodmobile

DEWITT—The DeWitt Bloodmobile will be held at the DeWitt Memorial Building on Thursday, May 25. Donors may visit the bloodmobile from 12 noon to 6 p.m.

Sponsors of the bloodmobile are the DeWitt City Fire Department and the Ladies Auxiliary.

'Campers Church' plans complete

BATH — A representative group from the administrative board of the Bath United Methodist Church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Harte, Thursday evening to arrange for what they will call the "Midweek Campers Church" which will be held Thursday evenings for the next 16 weeks, beginning May 18. The services will begin at 7:45 p.m. at the church.

The first service will be arranged by a senior group from the church. The second, on May 25, will be sponsored by the young married and youth groups.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hegerberg arrived home Monday after a winter spent in Florida.

Roscoe Wittchell was honored at a surprise party held at his home on Clark Rd., May 3. The occasion was his 80th birthday. Those present included the Neil Harte family of Price Rd., St. Johns, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wadell of Elsie, and the David Harte family of Bath. He also received calls from his son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wittchell, of Omaha, Nebraska.

General Telephone plans construction

ST. JOHNS—General Telephone is constructing two miles of new cable facilities in St. Johns on Sturgis and S. Lansing streets at a cost of nearly $50,000 to provide for new telephone service.

Additional individual lines will be constructed in the southwestern part of the city and to Sandalwood Mobile Home Park on Parks Road, according to William Graef, district manager. In addition to St. Johns, Graef is responsible for all phases of telephone service in ten other exchanges in the St. Johns District.

The project was needed to satisfy current and anticipated demand for one-party service together with accelerated housing construction requiring new service in the area west of Oakland and south of Cass streets. Plans call for the new cable to be ready for service no later than July 1 after which transferring of lines into the new cable will begin. Also nearing completion is the removal of the last overhead wire long distance circuits in St. Johns District, between Maple Rapids and St. Johns.

The overhead pole line has been replaced by an under-ground cable constructed late in 1971 and the associated "carrier" equipment, all of which was placed in service last month. The new equipment provides 48 high quality channels of a new type for long distance and special circuits. Graef said one very noticeable characteristic of the new long distance circuits is the extreme clarity and absence of background noise.

The project costing over $100,000 is part of Gen. Tels. 1972 improvement and expansion program in Central Division totaling over $10 million.

Music club holds dinner meet

ST. JOHNS — Since a mother's pride and joy is her offspring, a bonafide opportunity to do a little bragging set the scene of the Morning Musicales potluck supper celebrating Mother's Day.

The program theme of the supper for Morning Musicales members and their families in Wilcox Hall at the St. Johns Congregational Church on the evening of April 27 was "Brag Night For Mother."

The sons and daughters of club members gave the program, some as young as four years old, and others mature parents themselves. Opportunity for showing of talents other than the performing variety was made by displays of artwork and written material.

Program chairman for the evening's entertainment was Mrs. H. M. Bross, Mrs. Lawrence Fish conducted arrangements for the supper, and club president Mrs. Winchell Brown presided over the festive event.

Each mother introduced her own children and had a chance to put in a few good words for those who were not present or in the program.

Representing a typical evening of music enjoyment at home around the piano, Mrs. Paul Martis, Jr. introduced Paulette, David, Melissa, and Christine singing, "I Want to Teach the World to Sing" with Paulette playing the piano.

Mrs. William Escher presented her son, Daric who played two short selections on the piano and his sister, Lauryn, whom he had taught, who also played two piano numbers. Daric changed to the recorder and then to the viola to show the opportunities for musical versatility provided by the St. Johns public school musical education programs. Her daughter Melani had two pencil portraits on display.

Mrs. H. M. Bross' son Dan introduced his vocal selection with glib humor. He sang the nursery rhyme "Old Mother Hubbard," elegantly arranged in the musical style of George F. Handel. Accompanist was Mrs. Maurice Witteveen.

Other vocalists were Mrs. Barbara J. Kuhns singing the song of Mary Magdalene, "I Don't Know How to Love Him" from "Jesus Christ, Superstar," accompanied by her mother Mrs. B. A. Diebert, and Mrs. Bruce Fowler's daughter Patty singing "My Favorite Things" from "Sound of Music" and her son Tom singing "A World That's Free" and "He Died for Us" from the folk musical "Show Me" by Jimmy and Carol Owens.

Mrs. Howard Woodbury's daughter Rhonda provided piano accompaniment to her sister Marie's "Sonata for Flute" by Handel.

On display were artistic photographic studies by Arthur C. Caudy, son of Mrs. John Caudy, an exhibit of artwork in several media, done by Mrs. Lawrence Fish's son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Kaye Fish, and from Mrs. K. L. Jones, a newspaper feature article about her son John and his wife's farming ventures as well as the draft of a book on teaching music being prepared by her daughter, Cynthia Jones Oglesbee.

The club's last program for this season will begin with a coffee at 9:30 a.m., Thursday at the Congregational Church, with recognition of Memorial Day, Flag Day, and Independence Day, in termination of the year's national holiday theme.

Dear friends,

It deserves emphasis that the time, the place, the character of the funeral services, the merchandise used, the cemetery selected - these are decisions of the family of the deceased. The funeral director acts only as a representative of the family.

The clergyman should be consulted in matters that concern him before any decisions are made.

Respectfully,

Our AI is a pro . . . !

He's spent the last 25 years driving the big wheel rigs, hauling steel to Michigan's industrial community. He has driven a million accident free miles during that time.

The 57-year-old River Rouge resident was honored by Secretary of State Richard Austin and the Michigan Trucking Association in February when he was named MTA's Driver of the Year.

It was the 24th year in a row we have honored a Michigan big rig driver for safety efforts during their career. Al Guarino is a pro. Just like the other 250,000 truck drivers in Michigan.

But we don't rest on the laurels of Al Guarino. We look to the future and the Al Guarinos of tomorrow. This year we will award 12 scholarships to Lansing Community College to train the drivers we need for Michigan's fourth largest industry.

By the way, Dick Austin thinks so much of our AI, he's having a copy of the above photograph placed in every Secretary of State branch office. Look for it next time you stop in.

We're proud of Al Guarino, and all of Michigan's professional truck drivers — those of today and those of tomorrow. We're working to keep you in goods and services.

Remember . . . If you got it, a truck brought it.

Hospital Week at Clinton Memorial

ST. JOHNS—Clinton Memorial Hospital is cooperating with other hospitals throughout the nation observing National Hospital Week. The observance which is sponsored annually by the American Hospital Association began Sunday, May 7.

William Richards, Sr., chairman of the board of directors, of the hospital, said that during this time we would like to acknowledge the excellent assistance received from the various people throughout Clinton County that have provided services to the Hospital.

This week's events mark the 52nd such observance. A National Hospital Day was initiated May 12, 1920, the 100th anniversary of the birth of Florence Nightingale. Richards explained that National Hospital Week is traditionally observed during the week that includes Florence Nightingale's birthday in recognition of her pioneer work in hospital care. "But hospitals have changed radically since her time, when they were little more than shelters for the hopelessly ill," he said. "Today they are complex arrangements of services for both the sick and the well."

This year's National Hospital Week theme, "We Want You . . . In The Picture Of Health," emphasized the change in the concept of the hospital's role. The theme expresses not only hospitals' traditional dedication to making sick people healthy but also their modern commitment to providing the framework for keeping all people healthy. Hospitals now do a lot more than providing nursing care for bedridden patients. National statistics indicate that for every patient admitted to a hospital bed during the past year, about six persons received care in a hospital out-patient department.

Richard illustrated some of the things that happen at Clinton Memorial Hospital which shows the modern commitment to providing the framework for keeping all people healthy. He noted that there were over 350 people that provided a variety of services to the patients of Clinton Memorial Hospital during 1971. This included employees, Auxiliary members, Red Cross volunteers, candy strippers, Friends of the Bement Public Library, the active medical staff, the associate medical staff, the associate dental staff, other professional personnel on the consulting staff, consulting staff, doctors on the courtesy staff and trustees.

These people come from such communities as St. Johns, Fowler, DeWitt, Ovid, Elsie, Bath, Ashley, Hubbardston, Westphalia, Pewamo, Laingsburg, Ithaca, Maple Rapids, Wil-

Clinton Memorial Hospital during 1971 was the development of the Cardio-Pulmonary Therapy department. Under the direction of a physician, this department covers a wide scope of therapy to patients with heart and/or lung problems ranging from infants and children with congenital heart defects, pneumonia, bronchitis, etc. to adults having heart attacks, emphysema or other ailments of the heart or lungs. This therapy is provided for both patients within the hospital and out patients, thereby, allowing many patients to return home sooner than in the past but at the same time providing necessary breathing treatments to assist them in their normal everyday life.

As in the past, the Red Cross volunteers, Women's Auxiliary, Candy Strippers and Friends of the Library, who man a book cart throughout the week have provided many hours of volunteer services for the hospital.

Many individuals have continued to make private monetary donations, also.

The roving gift and book carts of the Auxiliary and the Friends of the Library are a familiar scene at the hospital. Here William Richards chats with Mrs. Fred Teidt, center, and Mrs. Rollin Huard as they prepare to make their rounds to the patients.

the University of Michigan. Mr. Tennant has performed with a number of Michigan orchestras as well as on television.

All proceeds will go into a special scholarship fund to be used by selected junior and senior high school students who will be attending music camps this summer.

ST. JOHNS — Officials at the St. Johns High School pool announced this week that the pool will close for the summer months on Friday, May 19 and will re-open again in September.

Seven Signs

Cancer has seven warning signals: Change in bowel or bladder habits; a sore that does not heal; unusual bleeding or discharge; thickening or lump in breast or elsewhere; indigestion or difficulty in swallowing; obvious change in wart or mole; nagging cough or hoarseness. If you have a signal, see your doctor right away, the American Cancer Society says.

Senior Eugene Patterson displays the service award which he received for a year of outstanding service to the band. Center, is Dale Stephenson who was presented the Freshman Award and runner-up Chris Shafley.

Bandsmen receive awards

ST. JOHNS — Irvin Van Slyters was guest conductor at the ninth annual Bands in Review program Thursday, May 11 at Pocus Auditorium, St. Johns High School.

Van Slyters, a former music teacher, has been directing bands and orchestras for the past 15 years.

During these years he was president and vice-president of the Michigan School and Orchestra Association and for many years served as adjudicator for the Michigan State Band and Orchestra Association band and orchestra festivals.

Also featured on the program was Lois Toth, a Michigan State University student teaching in the St. Johns music department. Miss Toth conducted selections played by the eighth grade band.

During the evening several awards were presented to student band members. Named to receive the Freshman Award was Dale Stephenson who received a partial scholarship to a "summer" music camp. The award is given each year to the freshman bandsman who has exhibited an unusual desire for music and displays excellent musicianship. Runner-up was Chris Shafley.

The service award was presented to senior, Eugene Patterson for his service to the band above and beyond the normal requirements. The John Phillip Sousa award, given each year to a senior bandsman who has displayed a fine attitude and excellence in musical performance, was presented to Paul Witgen.

The Donald Tatroe Memorial award was given to Steve Pytlowanyj. A partial music scholarship, from the Donald Tatroe Memorial Fund, the award is presented to a high school band member on the basis of musical aptitude.

Wacousta plans Memorial Day

Memorial Day Services will be held in Wacousta on Saturday, May 27. The Parade will form at the Wacousta School at 10:15 a.m. James Girdwood will be the speaker.

The Grand Ledge School Band will play. All Boy Scouts, Cubs, Girl Scouts, veterans or any other groups wishing to take part are asked to be at the school at 10 a.m. The Wacousta W.S.C.S. will serve a lunch at the park after the service at the cemetery for the public.

Cancer is most curable when it's caught early and treated promptly. The American Cancer Society urges you to have a health checkup once a year even if you feel great.

VFW Post 4113 members will be passing out free "Lite-A-Bike" decal tapes Sunday at the Soap Box Derby. The group will be on the corner of Clinton and Railroad Streets from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Demonstrating placement of the decals are, from left, Michael Zigler, Dave McKay and Gary Price.

Plan class reunion

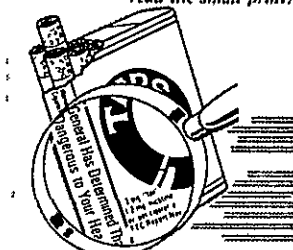

ST. JOHNS — Plans are formulating for a gathering of the Class of 1932 from St. Johns High School which will be held June 17.

The First Congregational Church in St. Johns will be the meeting place for the event.

There are several graduates whose addresses are not available and the committee in charge has asked that anyone knowing the whereabouts of the following names to contact them. The names are Eleanor Boughton, John Henry Mader, Frank Earl Parks Jr., Jesse Pratt, Dorothy Curran, Arlene Curran and Hilda Hulbert.

The Ovid-Elsie report By Patty Bernath

The Ovid-Elsie Student Council is working on obtaining equal rights for everyone in our school.

Married students have never been allowed to participate in extra-curricular activities in our school which seems to be violating the basic human rights as outlined in the Constitution of the United States. It seems that we, as a school, are in the minority of three out of fourteen schools in this area having restrictions on married students.

Your Student Council will be attending one of the coming school board meetings soon and work for your rights.

The presentation itself is a combination of music, dance, and drama representing a cross-section of American life. The script for the show was written and adapted by its cast and directors and thus, has its full enthusiasm and devotion. What these students are trying to say in their production is, "This is how we see our country, and we like what we see."

The company has presented its show to many Michigan audiences and has received several standing ovations. It is a true cross-section of ethnic, racial, and religious America today.

The "Suitcase Theatre" functions as a Michigan teenage group, with the support of such organizations as Youth for Understanding, Music Youth International, The Michigan Education Association, and has its honorary chairman, Gov. William Milliken.

Following this summer's tour of Europe, the United States, and Canada, another "Suitcase Theatre" cast of Michigan teenagers will be selected and a new show put together for next year's tour of Central and South America. To further attest to their success it has already been booked for foreign presentations through 1975. In 1974 the group will travel to the South Pacific and Australia, and in 1975 they will be touring Japan.

Each of the teenagers in the group must provide $700 to meet his expenses. The students do not stay in hotels, but they actually live in the homes of fellow students in the host countries.

If anyone wishes to personally donate financial support to the St. Johns' students, they may do so by contacting R. L. Koger, Associate director of theatre and speech, St. Johns High School.

Randolph's Car Wash will be having a new look and a new draw through brush-type car wash soon. Equipment is on the way and construction will begin in about two weeks.

When completed Randolph's will feature the new automatic brush wash, a self-service brush type wash, two wind-tunnel drying stations, 10 self-service 25 cent bays and vacuum cleaners.

An attendant will be on duty to assist customers of the automatic wash.

My wife claims I use the most automatic car wash around. Her. Every six months she claims she takes hammer and chisel to the outside and shovels out the interior.

All of which is a wild exaggeration. On several occasions I have washed it . . . by letting it sit out in the rain.

Fowler picked up some advertising cartoons . . . "Farmland Fun" they're called.

And we have used them on and off ever since.

Some of them have been pretty catchy. (There's one in this edition) And some have been down right risque.

But, now we're to the point where if we don't change the cartoon's caption . . . they'd have to be "X" rated.

This is Julius Becker Week

A dedication to his profession has brought state-wide recognition to Julius Becker. For 41 years he worked with the Department of State Highways in various capacities until, at retirement last January, he became a top-level highway administrative engineer. For his work in his profession and his contributions to the development of the state freeway system, Julius was recognized by having a roadside park on M-37 near Mesick named in his honor. As a distinguished St. Johns resident in whom the entire community can take pride, we add to Mr. Becker's honors by naming him as our Citizen of the Week.

There is a lot of noise being made these days about the poor condition of Clinton County roads.

The gripes are legitimate, the road system in many areas of the county is going fast, if not already in near impassable condition especially in the spring of the year.

And if you are one of those complaining about the bad roads, what have you done to help solve the problem? When schools are in need or some other public service, there is usually a way found to bring more money in. You bet, extra voted millage.

There's no sense complaining if you aren't prepared to get the necessary funding. Good roads cost money, and some townships have done a poor job of contributing.

Before you head to the county road commission, make a stop at your township board meeting. Or perhaps you have never been to a township board meeting. Find out how much money is being raised by the local township bodies to finance local road systems. Maybe you won't have to look any further for your information.

Your involvement

(Following is a special report prepared for the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce by Lewis C. Easterling, manager, Economic Research & Analysis. It speaks to everyone, not just businessmen.)

"National Apathy Day has been cancelled because of lack of interest."

This "notice" was observed scrawled on the side of an aged school building a few years ago. It was ironic because less than a year later the same school was nearly cancelled for the same reason - lack of interest!

Lack of interest on the part of the student, the educators, the community and the public. Whom shall we blame for this (almost) cancellation?

Shall we blame the students who were bright-eyed, eager to learn youngsters who entered kindergarten, but who are now totally "turned off" by education before education is through with them?

Shall we blame the educator who has been taught to teach by someone who was taught to teach by some who... ad infinitum and has never been "taught" that he is responsible for the education of his students?

Shall we blame the community for turning down millage request after millage request because they see the education input, in the form of tax dollars, but see little output of the system in terms of student achievement?

Or - shall we blame you, Mr. Businessman, Mr. Public, Mr. Parent, for allowing a condition like this to happen?

What's that -- you say that education is important to you and that you vote yea on all millage requests in your district? -- Commendable -- but this still does not guarantee that your children are getting the education that they need or that you are paying for. Money alone is not a valid indicator of educational output.

And -- your school district is not an island unto itself. So you are satisfied with your district. Are you satisfied with your neighboring districts and the education in toto? We cannot ignore an under achieving school district any more than we can ignore a diseased organ in our body, for unless the disease is arrested and reversed, it will spread throughout the entire system. The underachieving districts, in essence, are sapping the fiscal strength of the entire region, state and nation. How? A decrease in achievement levels results in an increase in dropouts, unemployment, welfare, crime... and a waste of money spent for education. Your money!

Money is not the answer. We ask for something of much more importance -- your time and your abilities.

We ask you to become involved in your local, your regional and your State education plans. Only with your support can we reorder priorities in education expenditures and require the schools to be responsive to the social and economic needs of your community, your State and your nation.

This involvement can take many forms and can range from your active participation on school boards, your membership in a citizens' advisory commission on education or a note or postcard conveying your feeling sent to the Governor, legislators, or your own local board. The more deeply involved one becomes the more deeply felt is his feeling of accomplishment and contribution. And you have an important contribution to make.

Your reasons for becoming involved in the reformation of Michigan education may vary from individual to individual. You may feel guilty for not having made any prior contribution. You may feel it is your civic responsibility. You may be altruistic. Whatever rationale you use, we hope your primary objective is to help youth to achieve a truly quality education.

Back Through the Years

From the Clinton County News files of 1971, 1962, 1947

ONE YEAR AGO May 19, 1971

John Alysorth, 506 E. Cass St. was honored for his services to the young people in the 4-H programs. He has been involved with them for over 15 years. Ovid-Elsie High School chose their top ten students for the senior class. The valedictorian named was Gregory C. Palen and salutatorian, Vicki L. Valentine. Grand opening ceremonies and ribbon cutting festivities were held at the new Federal-Mogul Credit Union building located in the Andy's IGA-Redwing Lanes shopping area.

Prepared?

Do you start each day with high resolve, And a purpose tried and true? Do you plan the pace for the total race? With intent to carry through?

Have you a blueprint for your task, Adjusted to proper scale? Have you steered your mind for the steady grind? And resolved you will not fall?

Is your reserve of steady nerve, The sort that will self-renew? Have you checked your cause for hidden flaws? In the job you are set to do?

Can you meet with a smile each tempter vile, Who another course would steer? Will you bend and break with the give and take, When the galleries fail to cheer?

Do you tend to retreat if you meet defeat? Can you find the grace to grin? Should fortune smile do you have the "style," To take it in stride if you win?

Though perfection is not to be your lot, When once more facing the test, A proper Coach and right approach Prepare each to do his best!

Betrayed

I was anxiously expecting As I waited for the mail And mentally spending the proceeds I expected without fail.

The fruits of some labor expended Were due and I thought would arrive, So I excitedly waited While I kept my hopes alive.

The shops were all offering bargains That carried a lot of allure So once the postman did his duty I'd go bargain hunting for sure.

The mail must be heavy I figured Else why this time wasting delay? Of all days for him to be tardy Why must he have chosen today?

If only I knew where to meet him I'd try to save all this long wait But the good news he surely is bearing Will be worth it so carry the freight!

The mail man has come and departed I rushed out to get the good news! A bundle of "get rich quick" bargains 'N a batch of P.D.Q.'s!

"If It Fitz... No poem for spring

Editor, Lapeer County Press

By Jim Fitzgerald

It is good to see another spring has arrived and will apparently stay even if I don't get down on my knees and kiss its dew. Most writers wax lyrical when first they spy the crocus. I don't know what a crocus is.

A good example is this spring salute written by syndicated columnist James Kilpatrick:

"The animals awake. Suddenly there are chipmunks moving in the old stone fences. High in a bare-limbed oak, a squirrel is chattering. We inspect the newly-boxed plots where our vegetables will go. Monstrous! A groundhog has had the impudence to start his hole squarely beneath the zucchini bed!"

Zucchini? Somebody's going to put out a contract on that dumb chipmunk.

I mean, I like spring fine. But different strokes for different folks. I don't see spring in the heart of a dogwood bud. I see spring in the bill from the gas company. But who is going to write a poem about the beauty of owing $15.32 as compared to $42.56?

Kilpatrick wrote about "a sergeant-major of a blackbird with crimson chevrons on his sleeve." Beautiful.

I know it's spring when 2 dirty sparrows return to nest in my carport and decorate the hood of my car in a white motif.

It is spring when my wife spends long hours at the window, giving me a play-by-play description of all the marvelous things our neighbor is doing to his lawn.

It is spring when I hold the annual memorial service for our neighborhood handy-man who died 10 years ago. He could put up our screen porch in 30 minutes for $2.

It takes me a full day and costs me my sweet disposition which doesn't return until December, just in time to be scared away again by Christmas lights.

It is spring when I pull the cord on the lawn-mower 1,543 times and nothing happens except my vocabulary somehow expands to meet the occasion. Then I stomp into the house and see this TV huckster who is cutting the lawn in his Sunday suit. He pulls the lawn mower cord with his pinkie and the marvelous thing starts the first time, every time. He's even got a scoreboard upon which to record his incredible feats.

"That's my trouble. I can't start that lousy mower because I don't have a scoreboard," I told my wife. "I will make a scoreboard and nail it to the side of the shed."

"You'll probably need a second scoreboard to keep score on how many times you hit and miss the nail while putting up the first scoreboard," she said.

It is spring when my wife sings that old familiar song that goes like this: "If you won't take any pride in how the yard looks we should sell the house and move into an apartment, tra la la."

And I sing right back: "But where would I put my pool table, zippy do da?"

Then she is liable to tell me where to try to put my pool table. And I threaten to hire Zucchini to put a horse's head in her bed. And she says she is already sleeping with the other half.

How can you expect me to write a spring poem about that? My only rhyme for daffodil is gottakill. Onward and Upward.

From the state house

By DICK ALLEN 88th District Representative

If you can't beat 'em, join 'em.

I think this old philosophy plays some role in growing farmer support for S.B. 1225. Call it the Michigan Agricultural Marketing and Bargaining Act or the "farm price fixing" bill depending on your outlook.

The bill would allow associations or cooperative representing producers of more than fifty percent of a farm commodity the exclusive right to bargain for the sale of all of that commodity. For instance, if the producers of more than 50% of the navy beans in a given area chose Farm Bureau as their marketing agent, all bean growers would have to sell their beans through Farm Bureau. Anyone purchasing beans in that area would be required by law to bargain in good faith with Farm Bureau. Penalties are provided for lack of good faith bargaining.

Such penalties and other regulation would be in the hands of an Agricultural Marketing and Bargaining Board appointed by the Governor. Where bargaining broke down, an arbitration committee would have the power to make a final decision to accept the last best offer of one of the parties to be binding on both parties.

IF BUYERS were unwilling to agree to purchase under whatever final settlement might be reached, they would not be allowed to purchase in the production area. The marketing association would also have to agree to abide by the final settlement or withhold that season's production entirely. The details are complex but you have the general picture. Collective bargaining for agriculture comparable to the UAW and General Motors.

The whole idea seems foreign to our usual view of the farmer as an independent, self-sufficient man reluctant to have his decisions in any way affected by other groups or agencies.

But some farmers are beginning to feel this independent attitude is running them off the farms they love. No segment of our economy has increased its efficiency as much as agriculture in the last twenty years. But where have the rewards for this efficiency gone? To the farmer? No! To the organized laborer, to the teacher and to professions such as attorneys and medical people who have strong price and wage setting abilities.

THESE other groups have not increased their production much, but have increased their standards of living greatly by absorbing the increased wealth generated to a large extent by agriculture. Meanwhile, farmers have been increasing their efficiency and production but going broke at the same time!

Many farmers feel raw food prices could be increased 50%, increasing retail prices 25% without setting the country back more than five years in percent of the family budget going for food. While the marketing bill might increase prices of some farm commodities, it is doubtful it would have anywhere near this amount of effect. If food prices began to increase no doubt some of the other organized groups might begin to object.

While most farmers used to resent the gains made by these other groups through collective bargaining, at least some of them are displaying a new attitude: If you can't beat 'em, join 'em.

View from the Senate

By SEN. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

Michigan backers of the unpopular Unicameral -- or one-house -- Legislature have been on the receiving end of two severe setbacks within the last few days. They had been looking to the voters of North Dakota to buoy up their flagging one-house campaign by approving the concept of a Unicameral Legislature there so that there would then be two states out of 50 to have this rural-type of lawmaking mechanism. Nebraska is presently the only state which has a Unicameral Legislature.

But word has trickled down from Bismark that, alas!, the people of North Dakota have turned down their proposed new Constitution by a two-to-one margin and with it the Unicameral proposal.

Quite understandably not a word of the North Dakota debacle was heard from proponents of the plan in Michigan.

places in the May 16 Presidential Primary with petitioners, hoping to get enough names to put the issue on the ballot next November.

When the Legislature, realizing what a fouled up mess that would make for, passed a bill limiting petitioner's operations to at least 100 feet from polling places, the Unicameralists yelled: "Foul!"

They appealed their case to federal court and were backed by the potent American Civil Liberties Union.

But, alas again, a three-judge federal panel has just ruled that the Legislature was acting in the best interests of the voters when it approved the 100-foot rule. Thus went aglimmering the Unicameral backers' virtual last hope of getting their dangerous plan up for a vote next November.

ANOTHER small coterie of reformers also hit by the federal court ruling was a Grand Rapids-based group of petitioners that wants to toss out the State Officer's Compensation Commission, which the people of Michigan created by amending the Constitution in 1968.

Dear Editor:

I have been a resident of St. Johns for approximately 2 1/2 years and have heard a lot of controversy about our city hospital.

Upon learning of an upcoming hospital stay, I made some inquiries of my own and decided to stay at Clinton Memorial Hospital.

I was not disappointed. The service was cheerfully given and the care was excellent. I came into contact with Drs. Russell, Stephenson and Grost and have nothing but praise for them. All in all, things could not have been better.

Unemployment problem

Rep. Douglas Trezise
87th District

For the first time during his tenure in office, Gov. Milliken has issued a special message to the Legislature on "Manpower in Michigan," stressing "the increasing determination of my office and of state government to see that every Michigan resident who wants a job can have one."

Gov. Milliken noted that there are almost 300,000 people currently unemployed in Michigan, with that number certain to increase significantly next month when 75,000 high school graduates enter the work force, along with 25,000 or more college graduates and 30,000 Vietnam veterans. "We have a responsibility to see that every one of these citizens finds suitable employment," the Governor said.

The Governor then outlined what he termed a "guide for action" to solve Michigan's manpower problems and said that almost all major areas of state government will be involved. He said he has already sent to the Manpower Administration of the U.S. Department of Labor his Comprehensive State Manpower Plan for fiscal 1973, underscoring the need to emphasize job creation and job development activities. The plan directs that in the allocation of manpower services, such as training and job development, priority consideration be given to Vietnam-era veterans, female heads of households, disadvantaged youth between the ages of 16 and 21, welfare recipients (especially heads of households), workers 45 years of age and older, and the socially disadvantaged.

Technological progress that has created a greater demand for skilled workers and a sluggish economy have contributed to our manpower problems and as a result, for the next two or three years those problems will be particularly acute. Meanwhile, insufficient funds will force the state to set priorities in expenditures. The Governor has assigned the Michigan Manpower Planning Council the task of setting these priorities.

The Office of Economic Expansion has been reorganized into the Bureau of Economic Development with the task of drawing new business and industry to Michigan to diversify the economy and obtain a better balance between the demand and supply of labor.

To assist the 50,000 per year high school dropouts, Governor Milliken called for the development of vocational education program to provide training opportunities for these people outside of the regular framework.

Scuttle reforms

U.S. Rep. Garry Brown

WASHINGTON, D. C. - Considerable controversy is sure to swirl around the Senate Finance Committee's decision last week to scuttle the House-passed version of President Nixon's welfare reform legislation in favor of what has been dubbed "workfare."

The Committee has been considering the House-passed bill for almost a year. The "workfare" proposal is for the most part contained in one provision of the tentative Committee draft and was accepted by a 10-4 vote. That provision prohibits all welfare payments to a family with no children under six years of age. In lieu of a welfare payment, the family would be guaranteed a federal job.

According to Committee Chairman Russell Long (D-La.), the program would cost $2 to $3 billion more than the Administration's.

Some 40 per cent of those now receiving payments under the besieged program of aid to families with dependent children would no longer be eligible for welfare payments. Jobs would presumably involve cleaning up of public buildings, etc. and would be provided through a new Federal Employment Corporation. Pay would be at the rate of $1.20 an hour or roughly $2,500 a year. There is limited provision for training.

In contrast, the Administration's proposal would require the parent in such a family to register for work or training. If a job were available at no less than $1.20 an hour, he would have to accept it. If no job were available, the family would, however, still be eligible to receive benefits.

Other provisions of the Committee draft are similar to those of the House-passed bill.

It divides low-income families with children into three categories: "working poor" families—where the father or mother is working, but at a wage below the poverty level ($4,000 for a family of four annually); unemployable families—where the parent is disabled, or is required to care for an invalid in the home or for a pre-school child; or potentially employable families—where the parent is healthy and the children are all in school.

Local government units in the Third Congressional District would receive a total of approximately $7,197,675.

A breakdown of the figures by county follows:
BARRY COUNTY: Total to all governments in Barry County, $448,857; Total to County, $256,633; Total to all city governments, $129,442; Total to all townships, $60,782.

CALHOUN COUNTY: Total to all governments in Calhoun County, $1,544,859; Total to County, $617,944; Total to all city governments, $833,553; Total to all townships, $93,362.

CLINTON COUNTY: Total to all governments in Clinton County, $588,096; Total to County, $320,779; Total to all city governments, $157,690; Total to all townships, $109,827.

EATON COUNTY: Total to all governments in Eaton County, $947,194; Total to Eaton County, $103,868; Total to all city governments, $726,559; Total to all townships, $16,767.

KALAMAZOO COUNTY: Total to all governments in Kalamazoo County, $3,670,669; Total to County, $1,283,661; Total to all city governments, $94,022; Total to all townships, $355,360.

New approaches

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Methods, techniques and procedures which have been effective in fighting crime in the past have been ineffective in the control of widespread drug traffic.

Gradually, we are as a nation realizing that new approaches are necessary.

The President has recently set up a special force in the Justice Department to combat drug traffic in major cities across the country. This massive effort is aimed at the big men behind the flow of drugs and seeks to bring as many indictments for illegal trafficking as possible.

Responding to the need for new approaches, the House last week passed yet another piece of special legislation dealing with the drug problem, the bill providing care for narcotic addicts who are placed on probation, released on parole or mandatorily released. While it is felt that such a measure is needed, it offers only temporary, short-run relief.

Other legislation action which I hope will eventually provide a more dramatic breakthrough in controlling heroin addiction in this country occurred recently with the enactment into law of legislation which I introduced to provide Federal support for public and private research and development of anti-heroin drugs.

Introduction of this legislation was the result of a thorough review of recent hearings of the House Select Committee on Crime. There was virtually unanimous support in the testimony of the expert witnesses that a national program for medical research to find a drug to combat heroin addiction offers the greatest potential for long-range success in entirely eliminating heroin addiction in this country.

Given the exorbitant costs of hospitalization, treating, incarcerating and rehabilitating a drug addict—not to mention the cost to society of drug related crimes estimated at more than $3 billion a year—an investment in research of up to $50 million is minuscule and could save billions in the next years.

There were 26 members and one guest present when the Ovid-Duplain Library Club met at the home of Mrs. Ray Jones for their annual May Coffee on Friday morning, May 5. The committee for the day was Mrs. Clayton Sherwin, Mrs. Christine Snyder and Mrs. Clarence Kaltrider who served coffee, tea, fruit cocktail, sweet rolls and a date and nut party bread.

The Collect and Pledge of Allegiance were repeated in unison. The program chairman, Mrs. Charles Palen Jr. introduced the speaker for the program, Lance Koschtal, manager of Sleepy Hollow Park. Well prepared for his job, he has worked in other state parks before taking his present position. He stated that the work was really started in 1962 and at that time two parks were designated for the work to start, but Sleepy Hollow had the top priority. Snowmobile trails have been laid out and some seven or eight thousand people enjoyed them this past winter. The road and dam will begin this summer with construction to start near the Shepardsville Road. Camping facilities will be complete by 1975 with 200 campsites planned. The plans are to keep the park as natural as possible. Almost all the construction will be by contract and it will be a typical State Park. Some 30 thousand trees will have been planted by the end of May. The southern section is to be left mostly as it is, the dam is to be similar to a causeway and fish will be planted in the lake. Estimated cost is to be between three and four million dollars.

The following names were presented by the nominating committee to serve as officers for the next two years: Mrs. Charles Palen Jr., president; Mrs. Glen Parks, first vice president; Mrs. Roger Smith, second vice president; Mrs. Harold Smith, secretary; Mrs. Hubert Hilton, treasurer. There being no nominations from the floor, the names presented were all elected to serve.

Tale of the zipper

By Lorraine Sprague

Did you ever think about how many buttons, snaps or hooks and eyes you might be sewing on all those family garments if zippers had never been invented? Chances are you'd be surprised at the count.

These wonderful fasteners deserve just a little extra care to keep them in good working order and give you long lasting satisfaction.

Always keep the zipper closed when the garment is on a coat hanger. It will help maintain garment shape.

Never dry clean, press or iron an open zipper. Synthetic coil zippers should always be pressed with a press cloth and at a low temperature. Always use a press cloth when pressing from the right side. This eliminates shining or even scorching as well as an imprint of the fastener showing through.

When wringing out washable items, close the zippers and protect them within the folds of the garment. Never give them a hard twist or pull.

Zipper tapes should always be pre-shrunk before applying them to a garment. Immerse the closed zipper in hot water for a few minutes and allow it to air dry. Lightly press the tape before applying.

Sometimes after a lot of washing and wearing zippers get a little ornery and tend to stick. Give them a face lift with beeswax, candlewax or a commercial zipper lubricant. Things will run a lot more smoothly - for them and for you.

Don't gamble on soybeans

EAST LANSING - "This is not the year to gamble with untreated soybean seed," contends Nicky Smith, Michigan State University Extension plant pathologist. "Pod and stem blight was prevalent last fall, and we will probably have it again this year," he says. "To protect crops against this disease, use seed treated with the fungicides thiram or captan."

Studies by Dr. Donald deZeeuw, MSU research plant pathologist, show that fungicide treatment may or may not increase seed germination. But he notes that "good seed treatment will improve the quality of the emerging seedlings."

In deZeeuw's experiments, seed treatment reduced seed rot and minimized the occurrence of early disease that could spread under field conditions.

"Since fungicide seed treatment is so inexpensive and its real benefit is potentially so great, the odds are all in favor of the grower who treats," reports deZeeuw. "We are quite certain that improved stand and quality will more than pay for treatment."

MSU pathologists will continue research on blight in soybeans this summer.

And the place most successful farmers go for the long-term working capital they need to invest in their future is their nearby Land Bank.

Because it is theirs. And because it is the only place to profit from these money-saving advantages: Longer terms, with lower annual payments, at the lowest interest rate around. Plus, the advantage of prepayment privileges, without penalty. There are other advantages. Like payments arranged to match peak earning periods. A future payment fund which earns interest and protects your credit rating in an emergency.

So when you need money to grow, consider all these advantages. Then go see the long-term credit specialists at your farmer-owned Land Bank Association office. One last thing. Once you take advantage of all these advantages, you become a part owner of the Land Bank, too. That's another advantage.
