Sen. Huber points to his government experience

By TIM YOUNKMAN
News Staff Writer

State Senator Robert J. Huber, R-Troy, chief opponent of Mrs. George Romney for the GOP U. S. Senate nomination, visited the Clinton County News on a campaign swing through St. Johns last week, missing a head-on confrontation with the former governor's wife by a few hours.

The two will clash in a primary election Aug. 4 to determine who will oppose Democrat Senator Phillip A. Hart in the November general election.

"We need somebody with experience in government," Huber said. "Can Mrs. Romney show any bills she has introduced in the Legislature?"

"I have always sought legislation protecting the rights of citizens," he said. Huber commented that he has received much of his support from people in the "silent majority" the middle class property owners.

Huber, former two-term mayor of Troy, indicated that inflation and crime were the top priority problems facing the country. He said that one person alone, such as himself, could not effectively control inflation. "The citizens must curb inflation," he said.

Wage and price freezing are unacceptable controls in dealing with the problem, he said. "What we need is popular support to put on the brakes. We need enough interest on the part of individuals before anything constructive can be accomplished," he added.

Any strike against the public, such as postal workers, teachers or police calling for compulsory arbitration, "means compulsory taxation" and the taxpayers ultimately pay for the salary and benefit increase, Huber said.

Speaking about the Kent State shootings, Huber noted that in a situation where "18-year-old kids are throwing rocks and pipes at other 18-year-old kids in uniform, we can anticipate injuries and even deaths." People who participate in these things stand a good chance of being injured, he said. "This is inevitable."

The country is in the midst of a revolution that is escalating Huber said. There is more destruction on campuses and it is continuing and the crime rate is increasing, he added.

Huber co-sponsored a bill that takes away state scholarships from these students convicted of damaging property or violence. The law hinges on the requirements for obtaining the scholarship, Huber said. "First, the person must have high scholastic ability. Second, he must be in need of aid, and third, he must have good character and have references to that effect."

Huber indicated that a person convicted of destruction and violence does not have a good character. "But the person must be convicted before this action is taken," he stresses.

The campus revolution is evident, he said. "I have never seen students killed on a campus before. I have never seen a student stand up and call for the overthrow of this government in favor of a communist

Clinton Commission puts 1.5 mill road levy question on August election ballot

By TIM YOUNKMAN
News Staff Writer

Clinton County voters will decide whether or not to approve a 1.5 mill levy for county road improvements at the August primary election, the Clinton County Board of Commissioners said Monday.

The millage plan calls for .75 mills for actual road improvements, .50 mills for improvements to bridges and culverts on local roads and .25 mills for matching funds for townships.

Donald C. Haske, engineer-manager on the Board of County Road Commissioners, said the proposal, if approved by the voters, would extend over a five-year period.

To avoid the rising costs of construction materials and labor, Haske suggested that the five-year program be completed in the shortest possible time, probably two years.

Road Commission Chairman Paul Nobis said there should be meetings organized in each county township to discuss the millage plan and to answer voters' questions. The commissioners agreed to this suggestion.

Besides the five-year millage levy, a 12-year bond issue program would be requested.

In other action, Prosecuting Attorney Patrick Kelly issued a statement concerning the county's legal rights to allow public rental of Smith Hall.

Kelly said rental must be

allowed to any group who wishes to use the facility once the Board of Commissioners establishes a policy of renting the building.

"I hate to use the word prejudice," Kelly said, "but you can put a built-in prejudice in the rate structure." He said that establishing a policy of reduced rates to church groups or non-profit groups would be possible.

Kelly reminded the commissioners that they must follow the state law regarding discrimination.

"You must be consistent with your policy," he said.

In other action:

The board moved to pay expenses to any member attending the conference of Michigan Association of County Commissioners to be held at the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island.

The board resolved to take formal action in June on the appointment of Edward Idzkowski to the county library board. Idzkowski is the manager of the Federal-Mogul Corp. in St. Johns. A vacancy on the library board will be opened in June.

Received a letter from Robert J. Russell, state jail inspector, which stated that the Clinton County jail facilities are presently adequate but indicated that there is a need to study the size, design and location of the present jail to determine future needs and demands.

Drain Commissioner Dale Chapman said that Maple Rapids is asking the County Department of Public Works for a sanitary sewer system at an estimated cost of $678,456. It was suggested that this be done by way of a 15-year bond issue.

Chapman said that two-thirds of the program would be financed through state and federal funding. The Board agreed to the proposal unanimously.

Passed a resolution to accept the resignation of Lorenz (Tony) Tiedt, equalization director, effective June 30. Leon Thelen, Tiedt's assistant, is expected to replace him.

Commissioner Andrew Cobb reported that he was the only Clinton County commissioner to

News names Preville advertising manager

Mike Preville, a 10-year veteran in the newspaper advertising business, has been named advertising manager by the Clinton County News.

Preville, who began his duties at the News last week, comes from the Daily Record Leader in Alma where he had been advertising manager for the last five years.

He had been with the Alma newspaper for eight years working in the display advertising department and he was also classified advertising manager for that paper and the Mt. Pleasant Daily-Times-News, both owned by the same company.

Preville is from Sault Ste. Marie and attended high school in Brimley.

He is a 1960 graduate of Michigan State University.

After graduation from college, Preville worked two years at the Isoco County News, a weekly newspaper.

Preville and his wife Alice and their two sons, Erik, 10, and Joel, 6, presently live in Alma.

Termed St. Johns "a growing, progressive community," Preville said he looks forward to working with merchants in the area.

Wayne Gossett, former advertising manager, resigned for employment on an outstate daily newspaper.

'Tremendous help,' Lenore says of husband's post

By RON KARLE
Editor

Lenore Romney's campaign trail took a gracious turn through Clinton County last week.

For the wife of former Gov. George Romney, now HUD secretary, her visit here was part of a 12-hour day and one of a dozen stops which she hopes will lead her to the Republican party's nomination for the U.S. Senate over her chief GOP challenger, State Sen. Robert Huber, of Troy.

Should she wage a successful battle for the nomination, Mrs. Romney will then have to face Democrat Sen. Phillip Hart in the general election.

She said U.S. Rep. Gerald Ford, R-Grand Rapids and others came to her urging that she oppose Hart and "I just decided that I would get into it."

She said that the person elected senator will "need the insight and experience to handle problems and I think I've had that experience."

Mrs. Romney claimed she has "a tremendous base for popular support" and views her husband's position in the Nixon Administration as "a tremendous help for any senator."

Looking ahead to a battle with Hart, Michigan's senior senator and a 12-year veteran seeking his third term, Mrs. Romney attached little importance to the upper chamber's seniority system in which she said "in many big issues we have gone downhill."

She said that one Washington newspaper termed Hart as "an automatic liberal," a tag with which she agreed.

"The Johnson Administration was completely discredited," said Mrs. Romney, adding that Hart had voted mostly in favor of that administration.

Although Hart at one time voted in favor of the war in Vietnam, he is now considered a strong dove on the issue.

"I wouldn't term myself in any specific category," said Mrs. Romney. "In fiscal spending I

"President Nixon felt he was taking a greater risk by not clearing them out," she said. "I support the President but not the war."

Mrs. Romney indicated, however, that she would not blindly follow the policies of the Nixon Administration, although she said she agrees with their goals.

"I am not down the line with the Administration's methods," she said, when reminded of

Color map of Vietnam, Cambodia in next News

The changing scene in Vietnam will be brought into focus for Clinton area residents next week when a full color map of the country is published as a public service by the County News.

The map is an up-dated version of one printed two years ago and clearly depicts areas of U.S. military activities, involving many servicemen from Clinton and surrounding counties.

In addition to current information, the map shows countries contiguous to Vietnam, including Cambodia and names of places currently in the news are highlighted and supplemented with facts and details.

The map will appear in the May 27 issue of Clinton County News and copies printed on heavier stock will be available at the News office for 25 cents each. Mail orders will be handled for an additional 25 cents.

"I think the reaction to the millage request is very favorable," commented Willard Reed, school board president, after the citizens' meeting Monday night. The citizens' committee, headed by Frederick Grove, requested the meeting with school board members and Supt. James Ritchie to answer questions concerning the millage proposal. "We have never lost a millage vote in DeWitt," Reed said. He noted that if the election was held immediately, he felt that it would pass without considerable trouble. Ritchie said that the schools are actually asking for a reduction in the total payment, from $36,50 per thousand to $36 per thousand. "We have asked for an increase in every school millage vote in the past, but this year we are supporting a decrease," Ritchie said.

The proposal calls for a levy of 12.5 mills for school operation for a five-year period. Ritchie indicated that the operational millage will appropriate monies "to operate your school system based on the State Equalized Valuation of properties within our school district." The millage, he explained, will assist in paying salaries for teachers, cooks, administration personnel, maintenance crews, and bus drivers. It would help pay for transportation costs, operation of the school plants such as lights, heat, insurance, and contracted services. The new appropriation would cover instructional expenses of books, supplies and audio-visual equipment. Maintenance of the schools would be covered for repairs, replacements and contracted services in this area. It was pointed out that the sources of income for operational monies are the state with a contribution of 63 per cent and local property tax with a 37 per cent contribution.

Ritchie noted that with the student enrollment growing each year and the building expansion undertaken in recent years, there is a greater need for more teachers, more maintenance, and more service. Ritchie indicated that the taxpayer may have to pay slightly more money this year than last year, but said that it would be due to the increase in the district's State Equalized Valuation. The millage levy itself, he said, would not be increased. Voters will decide the millage proposal on June 8, with polls open at 7 a.m. until 8 p.m. at the gymnasium of the Fuerstenau Junior High School. All registered voters in the DeWitt School District are eligible to vote, non-property owners included. The traffic safety campaign conducted by the Advertising Council for the National Safety Council is now in its 25th year.

government before." "The trustees ought to recognize that the university needs a strong president," Huber said. He said he has interviewed students of 51 of the 72 campuses of higher education in the state through his committee. "Most of these students want a tough president," he said. "They do not want a wishy-washy person." He indicated that the postal strikers could only be punished by dismissal. When asked about his ideas on controlling crime, Huber mentioned two main methods for dealing with the problem. The first method involves the U. S. Supreme Court. "We need more Holmeses and Marshalls on the court. I am opposed to the Douglas and Fortases," Huber said. "There have been 13 Supreme Senators. But he did cite G. Harold Carswell decision, and 55 separate Justices' opinions," he said. This makes it practically impossible to enforce the law, he added. The second method of dealing with crime is the upgrading of the policeman's education. Huber said that he has proposed legislation that will require training and education to form better law enforcement body. "This is essential, and we will be fighting crime and disorder at both ends," he said. "Both in the courts and in enforcement. On the Supreme Court issues facing Congress, Huber declined to discuss the appointment of Justice Blackman since he said he didn't have the necessary information available to U. S. Senators. But he did cite G. Harold Carswell's decision. Huber said that he had questioned the vote of Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., who had voted against confirmation. Huber later received a complete explanation from Griffin on the case and concluded he would have voted against Carswell, also. Huber said that the Senate's right to advise and consent is "essential to good government." In Michigan, he observed, the state senate has the right to advise and consent on nominations delivered by the governor. Huber, chairman of the committee on campus disorders, was not surprised at the violence on the campuses during the past few weeks. He feels that it is not the right or the duty of the college president to determine when the police should be called in. When asked which agency should decide that question, Huber said that there "is no clear-cut answer," but noted that it is a fact by law that the sheriff department can go into the campus to quell disruptions without waiting to be summoned by the college president. In the area of civil rights, Huber said that he has been for the upgrading of housing for the Mexican-American migrant workers. He has backed efforts to improve washing, cooking and bathing facilities, he said. Huber represents the 16th Senatorial District which constitutes part of Oakland county. He was elected to the State Senate in 1964 and re-elected in 1966. He is the president of the Michigan Chrome and Chemical Company in his home district. Huber said that he had to leave St. Johns to attend the voting on an abortion bill presently before the legislature. He said that he opposed the present abortion bills. "There is no provision for the rights of the husband" to decide on the operation, he said. "That kind of decision should be a family decision."

Dune buggy rally set

An estimated 200 dune buggy enthusiasts and their families are expected to participate in the Inaugural Bug-In this weekend in Gratiot County. The Bug-In, sponsored by the Ithaca Jaycees, includes a judging contest to select the top buggies in three classes—street buggies, off-road and multi-purpose. The weekend's events begin Saturday with a historical tour of the county and a rough rider rally in the evening, plus a dance at Ithaca's Village Barn. Dealers have been invited to show buggies and accessories throughout the weekend. The judging contest will be Sunday afternoon at 1:30 and an autocross will be held a hour later. Cost of admission to Sunday events is $1 per car load.

Camporee

At least 15 Boy Scout troops from the Chippewa District of the Chief Okemos Council participated in an annual spring camporee at Camp Mapleton last weekend.

The more than 300 Scouts began setting up camp Friday afternoon and spent through Sunday experiencing the intricacies of cooking, hiking, first aid, trail marking and compass reading.

Participation surpassed last year's spring Camporee which went down as one of the biggest in history.

The Chippewa District includes all of Clinton County and a portion of Ionia County.

Poppy Days begin this week in Clinton

Poppy sale days, sponsored by the Bath American Legion Auxiliary Unit 412, will be held May 21-23 in the business section of Bath, Mrs. R. V. Allen, publicity chairman, announced Wednesday.

"It is our sincere hope that our citizens will be more generous than ever this year with their donations to the poppy fund, since every penny received goes directly for aid to disabled veterans and their families," Mrs. Allen said.

Mrs. Keith Perry, chairman of the sale, has organized a number of volunteers into teams, to circulate in the business districts.

"Traditionally, there had never been any set price for a poppy," Mrs. Allen said. "Donations of any amount are acceptable, because the basic purpose of poppy days is to offer the American public an opportunity to honor the war dead and assist the living."

"Though they are a tribute to men who died in battle, they have come to mean a great deal to the disabled and ill veterans in government hospitals and convalent homes," she said. "They fashion the red petals into the flower offered to the public each year by the American Legion and Auxiliary members around Memorial Day."

Manufacturing poppies aids the veteran both financially and psychologically, Mrs. Allen said.

"They are paid for the work they do, and the job itself is a relief from long hours spent in a hospital ward. For many it is the only opportunity to earn money during the year," she said.

Announcements

The Community of Fowler has started a fund drive for Mrs. Gerald Halfman who will undergo heart surgery at the University Hospital in Ann Arbor on June 4.

A benefit dance will be held at the Fowler Conservation Club Park, 2 1/2 miles south of Fowler on May 29 at 9 p.m.

Donations to the fund may be made at the Fowler Branch of the Clinton National Bank and Trust Company.

Mrs. Loretta Sharp, junior high school teacher, has announced she will retire in June after 42 years of teaching. She is seen here with some decorations for her music classes' stage performance to the operetta "Pink Bread" May 25.

Mrs. Loretta Sharp to retire from DeWitt school system

Mrs. Loretta M. Sharp, English and music instructor at DeWitt's Fuerstenau Junior High School, has announced she will retire at the end of the current school year after 42 years of teaching.

"It was a hard step to take, but now I think I'm looking forward to it," she said.

Mrs. Sharp began her teaching career in 1928 at the Allen School, a one-room country school in Gratiot County. She left this position after three years to teach in the Wheeler, Mich. school district.

She moved to DeWitt in 1937 to teach "fifth and sixth grades, girls' basketball and the high school girls' glee club," she said. She has been teaching in the district ever since.

Mrs. Sharp said that she and her husband were moving to Houghton Lake to take life a little easier. She said her husband was retiring from his shoe repair business in Lansing.

"We've been planning this move for some time," she said, "but we will certainly miss DeWitt." She mentioned that moving from DeWitt will make the change easier because she won't have to watch the local school buses pass by.

the DeWitt PTA in post-meeting ceremonies May 12 in the high school. Superintendent James Ritchie gave the honors speech and presented Mrs. Sharp with gifts.

She was given a bronze letter holder in the shape of a lyre denoting her musical teaching ability. The holder was engraved with initials, date and the school's name. She also received her 40-year pin for loyal service.

The gifts were offered by the PTA members, the DeWitt School Board, and her fellow teachers.

'Pink Bread' Monday's fare at DeWitt

DeWitt's Fuerstenau Junior High School students will perform the operetta "Pink Bread" Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

The operetta, written by Ruth Wilson Kelsey with music by Dr. Margaret Joy, will be staged by the junior high school chorus of 47 students with 24 general music students added for the finale.

The lead parts will be played by Michelle Slekles, Denise Hlatt, Jack Lenneman and Joe Cavanaugh. Pam Paksi is the student director for the operetta and accompaniment will be performed by Pat Ely.

Faculty advisor for the operetta is Mrs. Loretta Sharp.

Discussing current educational standards, Mrs. Sharp said that she has tried "to maintain the same high quality education as when I began teaching." She said that the new mechanical and educational aids are vitally helpful, but these devices depend on the individual student as to how effective they will be.

Mrs. Sharp declined to single out her favorite school, but said she "liked to teach, anywhere" she was assigned. She said that much of her time will be filled with her hobbies of knitting, sewing, and playing golf in the yard, and playing golf.

"There are several fine golf courses at Houghton Lake," she said. She noted that she has taught over 1,260 students in her career, "and that is a conservative figure," she said. "I wouldn't have changed a thing. The 42 years seem very short now."

Bath sixth graders Mark Barnard and David Rowley present a check for $11.55 to Norman Billings, assistant executive secretary of the Michigan water Resources Commission.

Bath sixth graders tell lawmakers they're 'sick of air, water pollution'

Michigan's anti-pollution effort has received financial boosts from a unique source, and in a highly unusual way.

The donation came from sixth grade students of Bath Elementary School, 115 strong, in a special presentation ceremony in the House of Representatives chamber.

The young organizers of the fund drive, Mark Barnard and David Rowley, presented the donation to Norman Billings, Assistant Executive Secretary of the Michigan Water Resources Commission.

The check totaled $11.55. The money was raised by taking up a collection among students at the school, located in Clinton County, just north of Lansing.

The student delegation was led by Mrs. Patricia Calla, their sixth grade social studies teacher at the Bath School.

The informal session of the House was arranged by State Rep. William S. Ballenger, who represents the Bath area.

They listened as Mark Barnard made a short speech and the presentation, to which Billings responded with comments of appreciation for the young people's concern and desire to help revitalize Michigan's environment.

Asked after the ceremony why they decided to organize the fund drive, young Mark and Dave explained they were "just getting so sick of air and water pollution."

In a letter which accompanied their check, the students specified that the money be used for pollution control. They suggested the printing of pamphlets as one possible use for their money.

Billings said the check would be credited to the Department of Natural Resources gift fund. He added that it would most likely be used toward the preparation of educational materials on pollution to be distributed to Michigan schools.

After participating in the activities in the House, the students took a tour of the Capitol building.

During a general membership meeting last Wednesday, it was agreed to that a contribution would be given to any organization agreeing to provide manpower to staff the booth.

Alternates selected were Kathy Davis of the Olive 4-H Projects club with dramatic portrayal of "Casey at the Bat" and Mary Temple of the Elsie 4-Corners club with her vocal solo.

John Aylsworth, Extension 4-H Youth Agent, said the quality of the 15 acts in the show was excellent and he was quite proud of the members' accomplishments of all the groups.

Some of the acts will be asked to perform at the county 4-H fair in August and at several other 4-H activities throughout the year according to Aylsworth.

Councilmen have also recently told Albert Schultz, owner of the Log Cabin tavern of enforcement of a ruling prohibiting minors from the tavern unless they are accompanied by their parents and before 9 p.m.

The stipulation that parents accompany minors has caused confusion, Schultz said. Construction workers that are underage have been asking to be served food when they were with older workers.

Councilmen had approved serving minors food under these circumstances, but this ruling was opposed by the part-time police officer Dean Moon.

In other action, Charles Thomas was named to succeed Councilman Larry Floate who resigned last month.

Spraying for mosquitos as soon as weather permits was also approved.

Kalamazoo attorney seeks Brown's seat in Congress

A Kalamazoo lawyer, Richard Ensen, 38, has announced he will seek the Democratic nomination for U.S. representative from the Third Congressional District.

The district is presently represented by Garry R. Brown, R-Schoolcraft, and includes a portion of Clinton County plus Eaton, Kalamazoo, Barry and Calhoun counties.

Formerly a Kalamazoo district court judge, Ensen recently returned to private law practice with a Kalamazoo firm.

Look Magazine, in presenting the City of Kalamazoo an award as an "All-American City" in February, cited Ensen's "Opportunity Kalamazoo" program as a major reason for the award. The program, which attempts to encourage volunteer efforts for criminal rehabilitation, has resulted in a more sensitive judicial program for that city. It is the only known program of its kind in the United States.

Four years ago Ensen and his wife joined the Peace Corps. After attending Kalamazoo College, Western Michigan University, and the University of Mexico (where he first became interested in Latin America), Ensen received a law degree from Wayne State University.

County Commission

rectors are calling for a fee increase for participating counties.

Cobb suggested that a millage vote should be set to determine the future of the project. No formal action was taken, but a resolution to sever connections with the project is forthcoming.

Cobb also reported on the Governor's Conference on Tourism.

Lawrence MacLaren, director of the Mid-Michigan Health Department, reported on the new formula housing regulations for the tri-county area of Clinton, Montcalm and Gratiot. He cited regulations for heating, ventilation, fire hazards, and garbage and waste disposal.

It was approved to close the courthouse for a full day on Friday, May 29, Friday, July 3, Wednesday, Nov. 11 and Tuesday, Nov. 3 (General Election).

County Treasurer Velma Beaufore made a modest operational budget request which was approved unanimously before adjournment.

'Information givers' needed for St. Johns Chamber booth

Know of any organization wishing to earn a few extra shekles? The St. Johns Area Chamber of Commerce last week tossed out an offer to area organizations in an effort to secure a staff of "information givers" to man the travelers' information booth situated in Daley's Restaurant parking lot.

"We want to get this thing open by Memorial Day," explained Tourism Chairman Stan Cowan, "but we just can't seem to get sufficient help to man the booth."

During a general membership meeting last Wednesday, it was agreed to that a contribution would be given to any organization agreeing to provide manpower to staff the booth.

White was hopeful that the booth could be open throughout the week but indicated definite hours could be negotiated with any service group assuming the work. "It must be open on weekends," White stated, "and we'd like to have it a few other days, too."

The booth, which was constructed last summer, was located at the Daley site early last fall in anticipation it might be used to provide deer hunters with travel information. The booth is air conditioned and will have telephone service when it is put into use.

Organizations or persons interested in discussing the matter may contact either Cowan or Roberta Mageli in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Dear friends,
Another school year is drawing to a close. We should insist that our finest citizens be our teachers and accord them our highest respect.

Conscientious objection Romney film to be shown

A film titled "Alternatives", which explains open choices to draft-age men whose consciences do not allow them to participate in war, is scheduled to be shown in St. Johns.

The 24-minute color film will be available to be seen at St. Johns High School Auditorium after classes, Tuesday, May 26. Another viewing is set for Sunday, May 31 at 7 p.m. at the Church of God, 312 N. U.S. 27.

The film is narrated by actor Don Murray, himself a conscientious objector. It explains what conscientious objection is and outlines provisions for positive alternate service as under the Selective Service law.

Rev. C. A. Stone, pastor of the Church of God, says the film is available for showing to other groups in the community should it be requested.

"Because I personally am a conscientious objector, and because the draft board does not voluntarily tell young men about the various kinds of alternative service, I would like to invite all youth approaching draft age to see this film," says Stone. In addition to Stone, other ministers in the community are participating in the showing of the film at the high school.

Nixon's campaign promise to bring the country together again. "Some of their methods do not have the proper insight."

"I am very concerned," she added. "I feel I can be helpful." She said she has dealt with every type of group and people in society and she believes that she is experienced in the human relations aspect of the President's efforts in this area.

Despite recent uprisings on college campuses across the country, which has provoked the wrath of the Nixon administration, Mrs. Romney said she believes that "youth is still as idealistic as ever."

"They are lashing out at hypocrisy," she added. She said also that she is convinced that "President Nixon sincerely wants peace" both in Asia and on the campus.

Mrs. Romney added that she is strongly in favor of the 18-year-old vote and believes today's youth is more informed than ever before and would vote intelligently.

When asked about the role of women in government and politics, she said, "unless women are concerned and involved themselves they cannot give their children peace and self-fulfillment."

She does not, however, support the militant women's liberation movement.

"They don't see themselves as they really are," she said, adding that they are "discounting love" by claiming to be slaves in a man's world.

When asked what, if any, reaction she has drawn from other senators to her decision to seek election, she said they are "agreeable to having another woman in the Senate."

Besides, she chuckled, (Sen.) Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) would like some companionship in the Senate swimming pool.

Charlotte overwhelms St. Johns

Roger Davis and Dave Flermoen were about the only two bright spots for the St. Johns track team in a meet against Charlotte last week.

Although Charlotte thrashed the Redwings, 84-34, Davis and Flermoen continued to make fine showings as they have all season with each winning a pair of events.

Davis took the 120-yard high hurdles in 17 seconds and the high jump with a mark of 5-feet-4 inches.

Flermoen, meanwhile, won the 100-yard dash in 10.6 and the 220-yard dash in 24 seconds.

The loss left the Wings 3-5 on the season and 2-5 in West Central Conference competition.

Several county track meet records threatened

St. Johns Roger Davis shows form in high jump.

By TIM YOUNKMAN
News Staff Writer

Records are expected to fall Monday in 11 events at the all-county track meet sponsored by the Clinton County News.

The six Clinton County high schools have been invited to participate but Pewamo-Westphalia and DeWitt have bowed out due to conflicting schedules. The track coaches from St. Johns, Ovid-Elsie, Fowler and Bath say their teams will be ready.

The records in certain jeopardy are in the mile relay, 880-yard relay, low hurdles, high jump, 440-yard dash, 100-yard dash, and the 2-mile run. Records could fall in the 120-yard high hurdles, 220-yard dash and the pole vault.

Ovid-Elsie stands a good chance to crack the mile relay and the 880-yard relay records this year. The mile relay squad of Jim Stewart, Cal Woodard, Keith Nelson and Steve Melvin has already posted a 3:36.0 which would top the 3:36.6 county meet record set in 1968 by the DeWitt team of Fought, Dolby, Markham and Fosnight.

In the 880-yard relay, Ovid-Elsie's Cayle Reha, Dick Bates, Gordy Baker and Mike Boyles have posted a 1:36.0 this season and could break the DeWitt record of 1:34.7 by Wood, Green, Kaminski and Mazur in 1968.

The 180-yard low hurdles mark has a tying 0:53.6 in the 440-

Fowler's Clare Thelen and Jerome Pohl.

Pewamo-Westphalia in 1964 and Dinstbler of DeWitt in 1966 could be shattered by Dick Bates of Ovid-Elsie. Bates' finest time this year would break the record at 0:21.15. Other low hurdles in contention for the record are Clare Thelen of Fowler at 0:23.0 and Steve Mead of St. Johns at 0:24.0.

Two Ovid-Elsie quarter-milers will be in excellent position to top the 0:53.6 time held by St. Johns' McKenzie in 1966, Keith Nelson's best time this season is 0:54.0 and Jim Stewart has a tying 0:53.6 in the 440-

A real fight could develop in the 100-yard dash trying to smash the 6-year record of 0:10.3 held by Zell of St. Johns. Redwing Dave Fiermoen has come close to that mark this year with a 0:10.35 and has the best chance at the record. Other speedsters are Dick Bates of Ovid-Elsie with a season high of 0:10.5 and teammate Gordon Baker at 0:10.7. Bath's entries in the event are Doug Sage with a 0:10.6 mark and Dave Burleigh at 0:10.8.

The two-mile event may very likely bring a record since the main contenders have already posted times well below the county-meet mark. Jim Miller of Ovid-Elsie set the mark of 10:50.8 in 1968, but St. Johns runner Rick Flegel has a season time of 10:15.8 and Ovid-Elsie's Byron Prange has a 10:30.0 time this year.

Roger Kaminski's high jump record of 5 feet 9 inches for DeWitt in 1968 is in danger. Both Roger Davis of St. Johns and Cal Woodard of Ovid-Elsie have jumped 5 feet 10 inches and Ovid-Elsie's Keith Nelson has topped that at 5 feet 11 inches. Also entered in the event is Jerome Pohl of Fowler at 5 feet 4 inches this year.

Ovid-Elsie and St. Johns will battle each other for the 120-yard high hurdle mark of 0:15.6. Cal Woodard of Ovid-Elsie has the best shot at the record with a season time of 0:15.8 followed by Roger Davis of St. Johns at 0:17.0. The high hurdle mark was set by George Mehney of St. Johns in 1968.

A promising field will be sent after the 880-yard record. St.

Ovid-Elsie's Dick Bates, Keith Nelson and Cal Woodard.

Johns will send Bill French at 2:04.8 and Gary Moon at 2:09.0. Ovid-Elsie will be represented by Marc Flegel with a season's best time of 2:05.7. Gary Shaw of Bath at 2:08.0 and Fowler's Jerome Pohl at 2:10.0 will have a chance at the record of 2:03.0 held by Ed Fosnight of DeWitt in 1968.

Pole vaulters from Ovid-Elsie, St. Johns and Bath will challenge Jim Bout's record of 11 feet 10 1/2 inches for DeWitt in 1968. St. Johns' Roger Davis has the finest mark this year with 11 feet 9 inches. Glen Bensinger of Ovid-Elsie has soared 11 feet 6 inches this year while teammate Keith Reha has an 11 foot even mark. Don Parkey of Bath has sailed 11 feet-even while mates Royal Dobson and Brad Schaibly have gone over 10 feet.

The 220-yard dash will be a wide open race with Dave Fiermoen of St. Johns, Gordon Bates of Ovid-Elsie and Dave Burleigh of Bath trying to smash the six-year record of 0:22.6 set by Zell of St. Johns. Fiermoen has a 0:23.2 this year while Bates has a low time of 0:23.9 and Burleigh at 0:24.3.

Records from only three events should remain intact. The shot put record of 49 feet 8 1/2 inches set in 1966 by Ovid's Taylor is not in danger, according to the coaches. Dave Oatley of St. Johns has an outside chance with his season high of 44 feet 9 inches.

In the long jump, all of the schools will be gunning for Daryl Melvin's record 20 feet 8 1/2 inches set in 1968 for Ovid-Elsie. The closest contender this year, Keith Nelson of Ovid-Elsie, is one foot short of that mark at 19 feet 8 inches. Teammate Cal Woodard has a 19-foot-6 inch high followed by Steve Mead of St. Johns and John Benda of Bath with identical distances of 18 feet 5 inches. Fowler's Clare Thelen is far below the record with 17-feet-6 inches.

The 1965 mile run record by Elsie's Thornton of 4:42.6 should stand. St. Johns' Fred Root has posted a 4:49.0 time while Ovid-Elsie's Dave Miller has a 4:56.0 time.

Bath coach Roger Courser said the county-wide track meet should be a toss-up between Ovid-Elsie and St. Johns, but he did venture a prediction.

"I think Ovid-Elsie should take the meet due to sheer depth in every event.

Several of Bath's senior performers may not attend the meet because the senior class outing has been scheduled for the same day, Courser said.

John Oberlin, Ovid-Elsie coach and host of the event, said last week that he expects St. Johns to be the toughest competition, but Ovid-Elsie could come out on top with good showings in the distance events. St. Johns defeated the Marauders earlier this year in a dual meet.

The meet will be held at the Ovid-Elsie field Monday with the preliminary events at 4:30 p.m. and the final events at 7 p.m.

The teams will be running for the Lions Club travelling trophy currently in the Ovid-Elsie showcase.

Admission to the event is 50 cents.

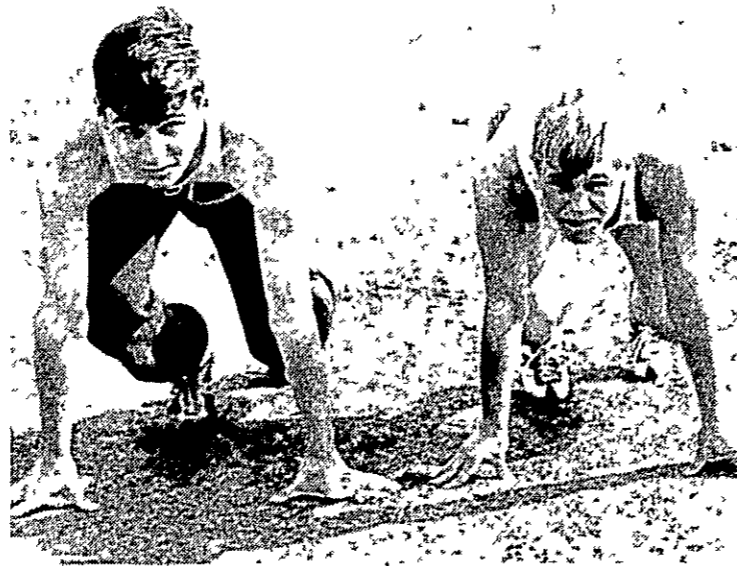

Medals will be awarded to the first five players in each event, except for the relays in which the members of the winning squad and the runner-up team will receive medals.

Clinton County Republican Chairman Henrietta Prince and Mrs Romney are shown chatting during the candidate's visit.

Mrs Romney greets City Commissioner Charles Coletta as Commissioner Jean Rand and Mrs Coletta look on.

Lenore meets local Republicans

By ANNETTE WHITE
News Society Editor

"I'm not here to discuss that," said Lenore Romney. "That" included women's fashions and other topics generally expected to be of interest to women.

"I'm here to discuss the issues," she said, indicating that her opponents might use comments on fashions against her. It was obvious, however, that she is aware of what is chic in the fashion world as she appeared at the News office in a very fashionable empire-style brown and beige dress. It was also obvious that she was well aware of the issues. Talking to the news staff at the Clinton County News she compared her life in Washington as wife of a cabinet member to Lansing and first Lady of Michigan.

At the state level, she was a campaigner for recent constitutional reforms and worked for an improved school system. Since in Washington she has nationally distinguished herself as director of the YWCA and the American Field Services and accepted an assignment as Brotherhood Chairman of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

"Social life is different," said Mrs Romney. "In Washington a lot of social events revolve around work."

"When we attend embassy dinners or meet with administration socially, we end up discussing world affairs and departmental goals," she said. She said that she doesn't attend luncheons or dinners where there is not an involvement in projects.

Realizing the difficulties of the post she is seeking, Mrs. Romney said that she feels being a Cabinet wife now will be an asset to her as a senator. "I have access to files and information that the other candidates don't have," she said. "Cabinet wives have been invited to meetings along with their husbands."

She discussed issues in a question and answer period and called on the support of the local group. "I'm going to work hard," said Mrs. Romney, "I have an obligation to my country but I can't do it alone." After November is too late to do the work," she said.

Speaking on the Cambodia issue she said that she is in support of the president's decision to move in the troops and feels it was not a move to escalate the war but a move to make the war end more quickly and was also a move for faster Vietnamization. "It was a tragedy getting into the Vietnam War in the first place," she said.

On campus disorders, she felt that the same rules for others should apply to those in the universities.

"Young people today are still as idealistic as ever and they are more informed, however, they lack self-discipline," she said. She said that she believed part of the problem stems from permissiveness among parents. "We must make our children responsible."

Speaking on the courts she said "the system has to be reformed as in many places there is a backlog of two years."

After her meeting with the county's Republicans she took her campaign to Ionia.

Eileen Northrup weds David R. Church

Eileen M. Northrup, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Northrup of 7087 Loomis Road, DeWitt, became the bride of David R. Church, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Church of 407 E. Main, DeWitt, on Saturday, May 9. Rev. William McKeon performed the double ring ceremony in St. Theresa Catholic Church in Lansing.

Vases of white mums and snap dragons adorned the altar as the bride entered with her father. She chose a gown of Peau de sole over pink taffeta, Empire style with a wedding ring neckline, long sleeves with appliqued panels of daisies and open lattice work accenting the front of the bodice, sleeves and back of the gown including the chapel-length train. A pink satin ribbon accented the waistline. Her shoulder-length veil was secured in place with a cabbage-style rose with lilies of the valley on both sides of the rose. She carried a cascade of pink and white rosebuds with lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Harold Goelz, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and assisted by Sally Bohil, friend of the bride as bridesmaid. The attendants wore identical colonial-style gowns with a white fitted bodice, long sleeves with wide cuffs and pink satin buttons accenting the cuffs and a pink satin ribbon belt with a large bow at the waistline. The full skirts of their gowns were navy chiffon crepe over taffeta and they wore pink and white rosebuds in high-styled coiffures and carried bouquets of carnations and lilies of the valley.

James Church, brother of the groom, was best man and assisted by Larry Stoneman, friend of the groom as groomsman.

The 6 p.m. reception was held at the VFW Hall in St. Johns where the couple greeted 400 guests. Special guests at the wedding and reception were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gillison and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edington and the grandmother of the groom, Mrs. Anna Ash.

Following their wedding trip to the New England States the couple will reside at 629 West Lawrence, Charlotte.

The bride is a 1962 graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School and is employed at Fisher Body in Lansing. The groom is a 1963 graduate of DeWitt High School, attended Lansing Community College and is employed at Oldsmobile in Lansing.

Shepardsville
By Lucille Spencer

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Baker are spending a few days at Lewiston and also visiting their son at Rogers City.

The people of Shepardsville Community extend congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Teromi, Sr., on their 70th wedding anniversary. Whatever their recipe is for a happy married life, it must be a good one to have survived for so many years.

The afternoon circle of the Shepardsville WSCS met at the home of Mrs. John Spencer on Thursday afternoon, May 14. The treasurer announced that the pledge to the general treasury had been paid, still leaving a small amount in the circle treasury.

The June meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Clarence Mead with Mrs. Ralph Baker in charge of the program. Mrs. John Spencer reported on the conference magazine highlights. It was announced that the West Michigan Conference of the WSCS will meet on May 21 at Central Church in Lansing.

Mrs. John Spencer had charge of the program. Her topic was on Encounter Extraordinary. Mrs. Karl Smith had devotions, reading from the 4th chapter of John's Gospel. The topic pertained to the meeting of the woman of Samaria with Jesus at the well and what this meeting meant to the people in her village. Mrs. Karl Smith closed with a short prayer. The hostess served refreshments.

Don't forget the potluck supper and family night on Friday evening, May 22, to honor Rev. Karl Zeigler, Ruthann and Karla Ruth. The Zeiglers will be showing pictures they took while in England.

A new baby boy has consented to come and make his home with Edith and Marlon Walker. Little Wayne Edward has blue eyes and blonde hair, weighs nine pounds and is 19 1/2 inches long.

Miss Colleen Wilcox was guest organist at the Shepardsville Methodist Church on Sunday, May 17.

Christmas Seals draw more than $1.5 million

Final contributions to Michigan's 1969 Christmas Seal campaign totaled $1,692,753. The campaign went over the top, reaching an increase of three per cent over the 1968 campaign, which is an increase of $49,833.

Winthrop N. Davey, MD, president of the Michigan Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, state Christmas Seal agency, and professor of internal medicine at the University of Michigan Medical School, Ann Arbor, said citizen response to the campaign was most gratifying.

THE FUNDS will be used to bolster the many programs of the state's TB-RD associations and allow for increased attention to programs and activities dealing with tuberculosis, air pollution, smoking and respiratory disease.

Currently, Christmas Seal funds are being used on many fronts in the fight for better health for all Michigan citizens.

Funds are used to support smoking information for educators and school children; for smoking withdrawal clinics; tuberculin skin testing programs and chest X-ray programs; in encouraging the public to be aware of the danger signals of respiratory disease—chronic cough, shortness of breath and chest pains; in providing for professional education of physicians and paramedical personnel about respiratory diseases.

Admissions director to address P-W

Terrence J. Carey, director of Michigan State University's Office of Admission and Scholarships, will be the keynote speaker at Pewamo-Westphalia graduation ceremonies.

Graduation will be Wednesday, May 27 at 8 p.m. in the high school gymnasium.

Carey, who was named to the director's post in 1965, came to Michigan State in 1961.

He was admissions counselor for two years before assuming the post of assistant director in 1962, associate director in 1963 and acting director for four months in 1965.

Carey began his professional experience as a teacher and coach at St. Johns High School from 1947 to 1952.

He then went to the Niles school system as a teacher, coach and assistant principal before leaving in 1959 to become principal of St. Louis High School.

He received bachelor of science and arts degrees in 1947 from Central Michigan University and a master's degree from the University of Michigan in 1952.

He is a member of the Michigan and National Associations of Secondary School Principals, and Michigan and American Associations of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers.

weeks of school. The annual slave day held on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 5 and 6, was just one of the typical projects the seniors embarked on before graduation. Hal Beatty, basketball, coach, auctioned 60 seniors to the underclassmen. Some of the highest bids reached $11 and $12; the seniors earned more than $200 on their slave sale.

The seniors have decided to take their class trip to Sandusky, Ohio, at Cedar Point, on Lake Erie. They will leave early on May 25 and be home again on the evening of May 27. The class and their chaperones will stay at the motor motel Greentree Inn which has among its facilities an indoor pool and a bowling alley.

Graduation for the class of 1970 will be Thursday, May 28, at 7:30 p.m. at the high school parking lot. At this time, Roger Brook, valedictorian, and Tom Cooley, salutatorian, will give their messages to parents, teachers, and students. Baccalaureate will be held on Sunday, May 24, at 3 p.m. in the high school gymnasium.

This year's class officers are Roger Brook, president; Dick King, vice president; Jeri Ruthruff, treasurer; and Kathy Harris, secretary.

The senior class sponsor is Mrs. Spriggs. Their class flower is a white rose and the class motto is: "This is not the end; it is not even the beginning of the end; rather, it is the end of the beginning."

Leaflet dispels myths about arthritis

One of the most persistent myths about arthritis should be dispelled by a new leaflet, "The Truth About Diet and Arthritis," issued by the Michigan Arthritis Foundation.

Its publication was announced today by Foundation president Dr. John W. Sigler, as a public service for May, Arthritis Month.

"There is no special diet for arthritis," the leaflet says bluntly. No specific food has anything to do with causing the disease, and no specific diet will cure it. This information may come as a surprise to many people, the Foundation recognizes.

Quacks, food fanatics, and many well-intentioned friends of arthritis sufferers have perpetuated myths about various "special" foods with alleged curative powers.

"Don't let them convince you," the leaflet warns.

"Food fanatics and peddlers of 'health and nature' foods and self-styled 'experts' who write books praising their 'miracle discoveries' about food and arthritis are more interested in their personal profit than they are in your health.

"It is fantastically profitable for the sellers. For you, the arthritis sufferer, it leads to false hope and wasting of your money."

The possibility that some dietary factor either causes or can help control arthritis has been thoroughly and scientifically investigated and disproved, the leaflet states.

However, the leaflet advises further, arthritis experts—physicians who specialize in rheumatology—do have medications and treatment procedures which can relieve pain and prevent crippling in most cases. Prompt and proper treatment by a qualified physician is recommended for every arthritic.

The proper diet for an arthritic patient, the leaflet states, is a normal, well-balanced, nourishing diet. "Good nutrition is essential for good health whether you have arthritis or not," the leaflet points out. "It is even more important that you eat well-rounded, adequate meals regularly when your body must resist and fight off the ravages of a disease like arthritis."

Only one kind of arthritis—gout—requires dietary restrictions in addition to medication to control and prevent attacks. Special diets may also be prescribed by physicians for arthritis who have specific weight problems.

May cut marine law enforcement

Marine law enforcement and safety education programs operated by sheriffs in the state are in danger of being curtailed drastically unless more state money is made available to the counties from the state's marine safety fund, according to Jack P. Foster, Executive Secretary of the Michigan Sheriff's Association.

Under Michigan law, county sheriffs are charged with the duty of enforcement of the state's marine safety laws and operation of marine safety and education programs in their respective counties.

Two-thirds of the financing of these programs is normally provided by money distributed to the counties from the restricted marine safety fund operated by the Marine Safety Section of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. Fees received from registration of motor boats provide funding of the program.

Foster noted, however, that the fund could not meet the two-thirds amount in 1969 and even less money is expected to be forthcoming from the state in 1970.

For this reason the Michigan Sheriff's Association is actively working for a change in state laws which would provide for more money for the marine safety fund.

Foster said that in 1969 the marine safety fund had only $500,000 toward $619,000 needed to meet the needs in various counties.

"The outlook for 1970 is even worse," he said. "The state expects to have only $550,000 to meet requirements totaling $771,000."

"Unless the legislature provides us with a remedy for the problem, marine safety is in serious jeopardy in Michigan," Foster declared. "Last year the state was compelled to prorate their funds by 19 per cent less than needed," he said, "and in 1970 it looks like they will need to shave 30 per cent of what is needed."

"Two bills are currently in the state legislature — One in the house and one in the senate—which would give a small portion of the money that is collected from state gas tax money now given to the state Waterways Commission, to the marine safety fund," Foster said.

"All you have to do is look and see what is happening on Michigan lakes and waterways." "It's chaotic. It's a free-for-all out there," he said.

Oldsmobile executive to speak at Fowler

T. F. Shiels, of the salaried personnel department, Oldsmobile Division, of General Motors Corp., Lansing will address the graduating class of Fowler High School.

In breaking from tradition, Fowler High decided this year to invite a speaker from industry rather than a university dean. "We wanted to honor the kids who are not going on to college, too," said a Fowler administrator. "They've worked just as hard for their diplomas."

Shiels' topic is "Where do you go from here?"
 Graduation exercises are set for Wednesday, May 27 at 8 p.m. in the Fowler High School gymnasium.

Shiels has more than 25 years of experience in various sections of the Oldsmobile personnel department.

His current responsibilities involve the hiring of salaried employees, which includes recruiting on college campuses. He also assists the General Motors central personnel office in its campus recruiting program.

T. F. SHIELS

He serves on the Secretarial Studies Advisory Commission for both Lansing Community College and Ferris State College.

In addition, Shiels is a member of the advisory committee for the two- and four-year automotive technology programs at Ferris State.

State water mishaps took 347 lives in '69

Michigan suffered record high totals of 347 deaths and 269 persons injured in 683 water accidents last year, according to State Police water safety unit records.

The accident total was the second highest in the last 10 years of record keeping.

These figures indicate the scope of the problem which resulted in May being recently proclaimed "Water Safety Education Month" by Gov. Milliken.

The unit annually compiles water accident facts for Michigan from information received from law enforcement agencies in the state.

The unit's 20-page booklet for 1969 gives details and breakdowns on both non-boating and boating accidents. It points out that 51 per cent of water deaths in Michigan last year involved swimmers and waders, "evidence of a great need for more public education" on water activity hazards.

The breakdown of deaths includes 137 swimmers and waders, 61 who fell from bridges, docks, etc., 19 who fell through ice, 45 boat operators, 44 boat passengers, and 21 in several other categories. Not listed in the breakdown were 20 deaths resulted from miscellaneous causes not stated.

State Police and other officers will use information from the booklet in their public relations appearances this month on water safety.

Savings stamps phased out

The U.S. savings stamp program passes into history June 30, but the Treasury Savings Bonds Division will continue to encourage efforts to teach thrift and good citizenship in the classrooms of the nation's schools.

As he announced the end of savings stamp sales, Secretary of Treasury David M. Kennedy urged youngsters to continue to save through the purchase of U.S. savings bonds. "There is no better way for young people to save," he said, "than by buying and holding U.S. savings bonds."

A select committee of volunteer educators has been planning a new curriculum approach to pupils from kindergarten through high school. The new program will be more sophisticated in content and oriented toward more in-class teaching.

In the meantime, Secretary Kennedy encourages parents and teachers to stimulate school students to complete their unfiled stamp albums and exchange them for U.S. savings bonds.

The Savings Bonds Division will be counting on its thousands of long-time stamp program volunteers to assist in getting the new educational materials into the hands of classroom teachers.

The Clinton County News staff finds it impossible to attend meetings of all clubs and organizations that take place in busy and active Clinton County. And there are insufficient hours to chase the president or secretary of each group to get the stories that arise out of their meetings.

DEDICATION AT ELSEI UNITED CHURCH

The Elsie United Church recently held dedication services on Sunday, April 26, the culmination of a two year sanctuary project. At the morning worship service the pastor Gordon Showers, used as his theme, "New Horizons" and the Carol, "Cruiser and Chancel C. Choirs sang. Miss Sharon Dunham, organist, with the Pastor leading in the dedication, Merle Bessie, chairman of the Council of Ministries, presided at the afternoon service and introduced Mr. Eugene Stauffer, a former member now living in Baraboo, Wis., who sang in Baraboo, Wis., who presided at the afternoon message. The Carol and Crusader Choirs joined to sing, "Bless This House." Mrs. Andrew Cobb gave an interesting history of the church, drawing information from a family diary. The "Shepherds' Four" a boys' quartet, composed of David Dunham, James Ade, Randy Justice and Charles Green and directed by Sharon Dunham sang at both services.

Arrangements for the day were made by invitations and program, Mrs. Don Whitaker and Mrs. Douglas Conkling; dinner, Mrs. Lyle Dunham and Mrs. Howard Whitaker, Mrs. Mae Goodrich.

Improvements completed during the last two years as a part of this project are: new furniture, painting of the church exterior, church school rooms, entrances and corridors and complete redecoration of the sanctuary, church office and adjacent areas; new light fixtures and rewiring; new pews, flags, altar cloths, public address system, and sanctuary piano.

Much of the cost of these improvements has been met through memorial gifts. In addition to the monetary gifts, contributions of more than five hundred hours of labor has been given by church members and friends.

Soil Stewardship Week points to man's obligation

Nick Smith, Chairman of the Michigan Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee says that Soil Stewardship Week is recognized nationally to place emphasis on man's obligation to protect our soil, water and other related natural resources.

Smith further points out that the greatest natural resource of our country (agricultural land) is in the hands of five per cent of our people, the farmers. Only through the farmer's time and effort can this great resource be protected and maintain its productivity.

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service has worked for the protection of soil and water since 1935. It was at this time that the sun was darkened by vast clouds of soil particles blown from the denuded grasslands of the Western States. Smith declared that all men must share in the responsibility of Soil Stewardship.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture through Agriculture Conservation Program (ACP) administers funds to share the cost with farmers, to carry out the needed conservation measures to protect our soils from wind and water erosion. This in turn reduces air and water pollution. These funds are allocated each year by the U.S. Congress. Therefore, all of us become Stewards of the Soil.

In 1969 Michigan's share of the ACP funds paid for less than 50 per cent of the total cost of the conservation accomplishments of the year. Most of the cost of conservation is paid by the farmer.

The conservation practices carried out in Michigan can be placed in five major categories; vegetative cover, drainage, wildlife habitat, reforestation and water impoundments.

Soil Stewardship is a continuing challenge. Every day huge patches of once green countryside are being turned into vast smog-filled areas that are neither city, suburb nor country. Each day 3,000 acres more countryside is being bulldozed under. Smith added that through the combined efforts of all the people of The United States, this natural resource can and must be protected.

Responsible citizens throughout the nation should protect the concept that ours is a government of laws, not of men. We must emphasize adherence to laws and respect for properly constituted authorities.

Lawlessness of many types is prevalent today. Some Supreme Court decisions provide greater protection to the accused than to society. These make the task of law enforcement more difficult.

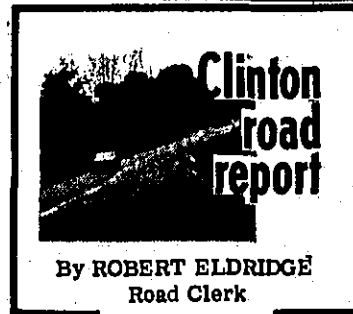

Growers condemn the acts of those who incite or participate in riots, defile the flag, or burn draft cards. We recognize the right of citizens to dissent, but protests and demonstrations should not interfere with the rights of others and must not be permitted to deteriorate into civil disorder and anarchy. Each individual should be held liable for his acts when participating in or inciting such disorders.

We favor stricter enforcement of laws protecting private and public property, both rural and urban, from losses due to riots, vandalism and looting and urge prosecution of offenders.

Our campuses must be returned to their traditional role as centers of reason and intellectual pursuit. Student activists, non-student extremists, and the faculty members who support them in lawlessness or interference with the orderly operation of educational institutions have forfeited any right to remain in the educational community.

They should be summarily expelled and dismissed and if necessary put under peace bond not to return. Any who demonstrate in sympathy with those who have been removed should be suspended or expelled depending on their actions.

Society must be concerned with law and order with justice. To accomplish this Americans adopt the policy of freedom of speech and press. However, it has become alarmingly apparent that the third foundation, that of peaceful assembly, is disregarded by many and perhaps needs to be reiterated.

By ROBERT ELDRIDGE
Road Clerk

It is dust allayment time again and liquid chloride is being applied in the county at a rate of up to 70,000 gallons a day. Nearly half of the county gravel roads have received their first application. As in the past, we are scarifying all the roads ahead of the chloride application. You may have seen three motor graders following one another these past two weeks. They are doing the shallow road rip up job called scarifying.

This process removes the deep seated bumps and ruts that have accumulated and allows for better penetration of the chloride. material and makes for much less waste in run off.

We are able to do between 42 and 48 a day, but, even at this very good rate of mileage, it takes nearly a month of good weather to cover the county completely.

In past years, the job was slowed considerably by intermittent rains but the reverse is true this season. We could use a shower now and then to soften up the roads for the scarifying and to activate the chloride already applied. Incidentally, all 16 townships of the county are participating in the program this year.

The road construction season is just nicely getting under way. In addition to the weather, the load limit laws prevent a much earlier start. Heavy tree and stump removal equipment could not be moved until just recently on state highways.

Most trees along this year's new construction have already been cut and the contractor is just now starting in on the stump removal.

Our biggest construction jobs this year will be Clark Road from Wood Street to Bath, Wright Road north of Fowler to Colony, Grange Road south from M/21 to Dexter Trail, the Upton Road relocation in the area of the Herbison Road Intersection, Tallman Road from Maple Rapids Road to Island Road and State Road from its present dead end to Chandler Street.

In addition, there will be several intersection improvement projects and two road alignments to straighten bad curves and jogs. Also, several projects that have been worked on last fall and winter will be completed this summer, such as both ends of Francis Road, Wright Road south of Fowler and so forth. Incidentally, the state road project will be a federal aid secondary project. We have had one other such project already this spring. The Shepardsville Road bridge over the Maple River in Duplain Township. Contrary to the impression you may have received in reading the articles published recently concerning this bridge, the state Highway Department contributes no funds at all. The County Road Commission and the Federal Government share equally in the cost. The Hollister Road bridge over the Looking Glass River in Victor Township is paid for equally by Victor Township and the County Road Commission.

Michigan field crops

A state winter wheat crop of 22,269,000 bushels, 11 per cent smaller than the 1969 crop, is now forecast for 1970, according to the Michigan Crop Reporting Service.

The 571,000 acres this year is down nine per cent from the 628,000 acres harvested a year earlier.

Some minor localized winter damage occurred from freezing and thawing. However, no major losses have been noted as was the case a year earlier when the east central counties experienced considerable loss.

At 39 bushels, the yield forecast for the acreage to be harvested compares with 40 bushels for the 1969 crop.

Field work during April was delayed early in the month by a lingering winter season. However, at month's end, favorable weather had allowed farmers to reach a nearly normal field-work schedule.

By May 2, oat plantings were more than one half complete. Almost one half of the sugar beet acreage was planted. Hay stocks on Michigan farms as of May 1 totaled 708,000 tons, nine per cent less than the previous year's stocks.

State vegetable report

Asparagus production down, pickles show rise

ASPARAGUS: Production of Michigan asparagus as of May 1 is forecast at 210,000 hundred-weight, according to the Michigan Crop Reporting Service. This compares with 208,000 hundredweight produced in 1969. Yield per acre is estimated at 14 hundredweight, down 1 hundredweight from last year.

Production in the late spring States is forecast at 1,563,000 hundredweight, 2 per cent below the 1969 crop. In New Jersey, cool temperatures and frequent rainfall have slowed harvest. Heavy volume is expected to continue through mid-June. In Washington, light frosts and cold winds during April slowed harvest.

CABBAGE: Michigan growers report intentions to harvest 5,000 acres, 500 acres more than were harvested in 1969.

Growers of early fall cabbage expect to have 32,550 acres for harvest this year compared with 30,700 acres harvested last year and 29,120 acres in 1968.

STRAWBERRIES: The first forecast of Michigan strawberry production to be used for both fresh market and processing for 1970 is 310,000 hundredweight compared with 334,000 hundredweight harvested a year earlier.

Condition of the plants is considered to be good. Harvest is expected to start around June 1.

The first forecast of total late spring strawberry production, at 1,594,000 hundredweight, is down one per cent from last year and 5 per cent less than 1968. In Oregon, cool, wet weather has slowed development. There was only slight damage from the cold nights during the third week of April. Harvest is expected to start June 1. In Washington, harvest is expected to get underway about June 1, also.

VEGETABLES FOR PROCESSING

CUCUMBERS FOR PICKLES: Prospective planted acreage in Michigan is 24,000 acres for 1970. This is 10 per cent above 1969 and five per cent more than was planted in 1968. Nationally, intended planted acreage is 137,960 acres, two per cent below a year ago.

Production is defined as the amount sold or utilized for all vegetables except late summer onions and Upstate New York early fall cabbage, for which production is defined as the quantity hauled from the field. Quantities not sold because of economic reasons are not included in the estimates and adjustments have been made in 1968 where applicable.

Holstein convention to keynote 'realism'

Speaking recently of the forthcoming Annual Convention of Holstein-Friesian Association of America, Executive Secretary Robert H. Rumlter stated that "Realism" will be the keynote of the Association's Annual Meeting.

Scheduled for June 28 through July 2, in Boston, the Annual Meeting of the World's largest dairy breed organization which is expected to attract over 1,500 delegates, members, Holstein breeders and guests will be hosted by the Holstein breeder-members of the New England States Holstein Friesian Association.

General discussions on the affairs of the breed and the Association in the Convention's Open Forum sessions are expected to bring out constructive thoughts and ideas for consideration by the Association's policy-making Board of Directors for the decade of the '70's.

The Convention theme, according to Secretary Rumlter, will be, "Relating to the Realism of the '70's."

Underscoring Realism in the Convention Theme will be the featured speakers for the Convention, Dr. J. W. Poff, Vice President of Wachovia Bank and Trust Company, Greenville, N. C., and Mr. Lloyd B. Westcott, Rosemont, N. J. Both featured speakers are scheduled to be heard on the final afternoon of the official Convention session on July 1.

The keynote of Realism as well as the Convention theme of "Relating to the Realism of the '70's" represents a continuation of the Association's basic and fundamental policy of long-range planning in ten years sectors. Referring to the decade of Holstein history just past, Secretary Rumlter stated in his Annual Report to Holstein Association members that "virtually all of the long-range goals of the Association set in 1958 for achievement by 1970 have been reached.

Industry and breed predictions for this period have become realities. The long-range plans of the Association generally have been carried to completion although it is recognized that each program and activity must be subject to periodic improvement and refinement."

In this same letter of transmittal, looking to the future, he stated that "advances will not be forthcoming or participation sustained by the normal, routine, standard modus operandi of a breed association as we have known it in the past. The evaluations (of 1969 statistics) suggest that a new look, a gradual change in profile, an expanded modus operandi, a restructuring of new programs and a restructuring of our present programs to relate more specifically to the total industry in the 1970's are called for."

How about a nice scouring pad sandwich?

You don't eat scouring pads? Why then, do you add them in to your weekly "food" bill? Don't feel bad. We all do it. Coming home from the supermarket, we think: "Gosh! I used to get 5 bags of groceries for half that!" That's right. But years ago, those bags held groceries. Nowadays, you're buying more and more non-food items with your food. Razor blades, magazines, dust pans, glassware; even potted plants are now sold through supermarkets.

Of course, inflation has forced food prices up; but, much less than other basic needs. From 1958 to 1968, food went up 16% while clothing was up 20%, housing 27%, medical 45%. Since 1950, farm output per man has increased 8% compared to 2.5% for all other industries. Americans spend only about 16.5% of income on food; the lowest in history and about half that of any other country in the world. Behind it all is the remarkable efficiency of the American Farmer, who uses the modern farming methods encouraged and practiced by the members of the Michigan Milk Producers Association.

So, next time you check your food bill, please just count the food items. Then count your blessings. Something to think about during "Michigan Week."

Bees can't fly, say aeronautical experts

"It'll never get off the ground." That's the experts judgment of aeronautical engineers about the lowly bee. According to them, the bee's wings just aren't capable of lifting his body.

The keepers of the 121,000 beehives in Michigan aren't too worried about the bees' ability to fly, so long as they continue to produce honey as they did last year.

Nationally, honey production totaled 283,268,000 pounds, up to 42 per cent from 1968. Beekeepers also realize a profit from the rental of their colonies. The he pollinating activities of the bees increase yields of such products as blueberries, cucumbers and cherries as much as 2,500 percent.

Each Michigan colony averaged 83 pounds of honey, compared to the national average of 59.5 pounds per colony, according to Crop Reporting Service, a cooperative agency of the Michigan Department of Agriculture and the USDA.

Keeping track of Michigan's aparies is one of the responsibilities of the Michigan Department of Agriculture's Plant Industry division. "Bees are a valuable natural resource, thus we're interested in maintaining the colonies free of disease and in good condition," said division chief, Dean Lovitt.

As of April 1, beekeepers are paying a new rate of one dollar per apiary, an increase of 25 cents. The increase helps defray the cost of registering beekeepers. For accounting purposes, any number of colonies or hives may be included in an apiary. If the number of colonies is ten or more the rate is $1.50 per apiary.

Wharton to address farm management tour

Featured speaker on the State Farm Management Tour program, July 14-15, will be Clifton R. Wharton, Jr., president of Michigan State University.

According to Raymond Vasold, Saginaw County extension director and general chairman of the tour, the program also features Martin Cramton, director of Saginaw Metropolitan Development Authority.

Vasold recently announced that eight Saginaw County farms will make up the stops on the 1970 State Farm Management Tour. "The Saginaw County farmers that have been planning the tour have done a great job," he said.

Hosts for the tour include: Arnold Schluckebier, 5757 Herzog Road, Bridgeport, a cash crop farmer; Morrow Bros. & Sons (Ken, Russell and Jim), Baker Road, Bridgeport, registered hog breeders;

Blintz's fruit Farm (John Blintz), 4535 North River Road, Freeland, a fruit and recreation enterprise;

Ward Brothers Farm (Willford, Paul and Carl), Fordney Road, near Hemlock, a dairy partnership;

Elmwood Farms (Ralph and Walt Frahm), Bradley Road, Frankennuth, registered Guernseys and cash crops;

Flatland Farms (Ed and Larry Brabant) Bishop Road, Alicia, cash cropping with irrigation; Kunk Farms (Frank Kunk Sr., Frank Kunk Jr. and Richard Cadillac), 11231 Bishop Road, St. Charles, a three-way partnership cash crop enterprise, and Don Albosta, Fry Road, St. Charles, a cash crop farmer.

Also, the Ferden research farm, near Chesaning, will be open to visitors both mornings. Teams of Michigan State University extension specialists will present educational programs at each of the farms on the tour.

State dairy industry expands health ed

The Michigan dairy industry has taken steps to expand its program of health and nutrition education through the Dairy Council of Michigan.

"With the well-documented need for a greater awareness by all levels of our society of what constitutes good nutrition and the importance of good nutrition, the Dairy Council of Michigan has been called on to supply greater and greater amounts of information along these lines," said Al Freisem, president of the non-profit organization.

"Thus, the Dairy Council's board of directors has voted to raise more funds and to expand the program budget to meet the need for these educational materials," Freisem continued.

The Dairy Council of Michigan is supported by both dairy farmers and dairy processors in Southern Michigan. The organization offers a wide range of educational materials on proper diet and good nutrition to teachers, persons engaged in various health fields and other professional people.

Affiliated with the National Dairy Council, the organization is headquartered in Detroit and has branch offices at Flint, East Lansing, Battle Creek, Grand Rapids and Jackson.

Freisem, who is general manager of Michigan Products Dairy of Adrian, Mich., noted that the increased level of support by dairy farmers and dairy processors has boosted the Dairy Council's proposed budget for the 1970-71 fiscal year to $365,000, an increase of $43,000 over 1969-70. Teachers in schools throughout Southern Michigan and persons employed in the health field have and are using Dairy Council materials, Freisem said.

Beef education day set for MSU

A special invitation to attend Beef Educational Day, May 16, at Michigan State University, is being extended to young people.

Beef Education Day, sponsored by MSU and the Michigan Jr. Beef Breeders Assn., will feature extension livestock specialists who will demonstrate beef types and conduct a carcass evaluation. MSU veterinarians get into the action with a discussion of ringworm, warts, pinkeye, foot rot, external parasites of cattle, and gastric bloat.

There also will be tours of the MSU Veterinary Clinic.

Registration begins at 9 a.m. Saturday, May 16, in the Livestock Pavilion on the MSU campus.

Michigan ranks high in food production

Michigan's rank among the 50 states in production of half-a-hundred agricultural food products is described in the latest edition of Michigan Food Facts, a brochure just published by the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Distribution of Michigan Food Facts is timed to coincide with the observance of Michigan Week (May 16-23) and provide additional evidence of why "It's great to live in Michigan." Copies are available from the Department's Information and Education division, Cass building, Lansing 48913.

Agriculture is the second largest source of income in Michigan, and the state's farmers received $875 million for products they sold in 1969. Processing, transportation and marketing increased this amount to almost $2.5 billion.

B. Dale Ball, Department director, points out that "you can appreciate the impact of agriculture on Michigan's economy when you know that 27 per cent of our citizens derive some part of their income from agriculture."

This year Michigan moved into first place in production of blueberries, with a harvest of 35 million pounds. The state also leads in five other crops, and is among the top 10 in production of 34 other farm commodities.

Want to celebrate Michigan Week with a family dinner? Or invite the neighbors for an All Michigan picnic? The brochure contains a variety of All Michigan menus, or you can make up your own from the suggestions listed.

Tomorrow's silent majority

At the ripe old age of 18 or 20 — as most of us far beyond this vintage may well recall—life seems eternal. Growing older is something that just happens to occur to the other fellow—namely our parents.

It says, "Our parents are the Silent Majority . . . The Silent Majority is puzzled by current events—young people leaving the country rather than be drafted, campus unrest and turmoil, a seeming decline in morality, patriotism, and the virtues that the Silent Majority regarded as sacred during their youth—hard work, steadfast honesty, solid respect, and honor for their country.

Who pays taxes?

YOU DO. You and your neighbors and your friends and millions of other Americans. Only people pay taxes. You pay them directly and indirectly through the cost of everything you buy.

By their very name, taxes on corporations are not usually regarded as taxes on people. This is a mistake because corporations and other businesses are forced to recover the taxes from the people in order to maintain profit levels.

- 1. Increasing prices to the people who buy the products.
2. Reducing wages to those who work in production.
3. Reducing earnings and dividends to stockholders in which case the opportunity for acquiring additional capital for expansion and growth is limited, thereby creating a scarcity in jobs and products.

The myth that corporations can be taxed without imposing a burden on the consumer is a fallacy used to mislead voters into thinking they are getting "Something for nothing."

There is no way of getting "something for nothing" and no way that corporations and other businesses can pay taxes without the bill eventually arriving at the voter's door for payment.

If there was a way in which all taxes were directly and openly collected from the people instead of being hidden under corporate umbrellas, then it would be clear to all who was paying the bill each time someone asked for government spending.

Should we not face these facts and act accordingly? It may conceivably be a way to control government spending and bring within reasonable bounds the public spending of people's money. In the long run, it could save the economic system and preserve it for future generations.

Three senators?

By RON KARLE, Editor

Lenore Romney doesn't look like anybody's grandmother. She is, though, 15 times. But Lenore Romney didn't come to the Clinton County News to talk about her grandchildren or women's fashions or her favorite recipes.

She came here because she wants to be Michigan's freshman senator in place of Michigan's senior senator who, not by chance, happens to be of the opposite political persuasion.

Now, Clinton County, all by itself, isn't going to make her senator, and at this point, it's questionable if the state of Michigan will either.

But she came anyway. To discuss the issues, she said. And along the way, pick up some publicity for her cause, which probably doesn't need much publicity in these heartlands.

So we discussed issues for about half an hour with three of us asking many questions. Everybody was polite, though. But during this exchange, a couple of times it appeared she thought she was being provoked, although this was not our purpose.

I thought this strange because this was not a news conference at the Overseas Press Club in Washington. It was the Clinton County (formerly Republican) News.

Perhaps she didn't understand that. Maybe it was supposed to be a nice pleasant chat among us Republicans.

Because, after a while, she wanted to exchange some ideas rather than just be interviewed. So we exchanged ideas.

And that was good because she probably learned that things are even changing some in places like these.

A few people are beginning to pull a lot of levers in the voting booth instead of just the one.

Anyway, after our chat, which incidentally, she handled quite well, Mrs. Romney went across the street for a tea-and-cookies affair with those friendly to her cause.

As she left, she turned to me and asked what were the main issues of concern in this area and I observed that the soybean crop was of no little consequence to some and that taxes and inflation/recession generated considerable interest.

I also added that one might find more than a little support for the vice-president and the former governor of Alabama, to which she replied, "Oh, no." Which I found most encouraging.

There's no denying that this is a gracious, intelligent and concerned woman.

It's too bad Michigan isn't allowed three senators instead of two like everybody else because I would like to vote for Lenore Romney.

She supports theory of discipline, love

Dear Editor;

I just received the May newsletter from our Jr. High here in St. Johns, and the fourth paragraph has moved me to get on my soap box again. It read, "Three students were found where they shouldn't be without passes, so they were assigned to stay after school. They ride the bus—therefore, they were given a day's warning. The next morning all three students were in the office saying they couldn't stay and had notes from home. One note said "It is not possible for 'John Doe' to stay after school"—and gave no excuse or explanation. This type of response is not uncommon. Then we have the students and parents who wonder why we can't be more consistent or firm in our discipline at Rodney B. Thank Goodness, 95 per cent of the parents are still willing to let us correct their children while they are under our direction."

I don't know how we can expect our teachers and principals to do the best job they can if we don't give them the authority to do what they think is best. I, personally, am all for the old fashioned way. If the child didn't behave in school, he or she either got a ruler on the knuckles or was sent to the principal and sometimes that meant a paddling, depending on the misdoing. I don't mean that the teachers should be allowed to disgrace our children, but a good paddling never hurt any child and those children respected the adult's authority because they knew what would happen if they didn't.

'IF IT FITZ . . .

Two trips

By JIM FITZGERALD

You might call this a tale of 2 trips.

It was during the last meeting of our poker club that I was struck by the big difference between these trips.

The Apollo 13 astronauts were on their way back from moon country. That's 1 of the trips. Between beers and shuffles, there was considerable talk about the 3 men risking their necks in space.

And later, when the space talk faded, the host of that night's party was asked the whereabouts of his wife. He explained that she was out of town but "she'll walk through that back door at 10:20 p.m."

He was predicting a splash-down time for his wife. And he did it with the confidence of a scientist broadcasting instructions from Houston to Apollo 13. Which brings us to the 2nd trip.

None of the other players asked Mr. Host how he could be so certain of the time his wife would return. We knew. She had made the same trip so many times before, and so had he, that it was easy to set the clock by their departures and arrivals.

At 10:20 p.m., Mrs. Host came through the back door. For the umpteenth time, she had been visiting their son at a veterans' hospital in a nearby city. A year ago, he suffered a head wound in Vietnam. He's now almost totally paralyzed, almost speechless. There's almost no hope for recovery. It appears that this 22-year-old man, once so tall and straight and handsome, will spend the rest of his life in hospital beds. And his fine family will spend the rest of their lives visiting him and praying for the medicine or miracle they so richly deserve.

I haven't identified Mr. and Mrs. Host because that's the way they want it. Their friends already know. They're nervous to parade their tragedy before strangers. They don't want pity for their heartache; they don't want publicity for what they and their son have given to their country.

But I had to wonder, that poker night of Apollo 13. Three astronauts soar away and return to the adulation and tears of an entire nation. Thousands of boys go to Vietnam and return battered, or in boxes. And only their families weep and care, really care. Sure, I am awed by the incredible technology and courpel them of their behavior warrants this. So, come on, parents; take the responsibility that's yours. Raise the children you father; discipline them when they need it; show them you love them and care enough about them to do your best for them. Care enough to know where they are, who they are with and what they are doing. They need this feeling of security that only we (the parents) can give. It won't be long and they'll be the adults running the world. Will they be ready to take the responsibility? Or have we taught them to ignore responsibility? Sincerely, Mrs. Bonnie Good

I must admit that I'm one of the lucky ones. My daughter is usually on the honor roll and behaves herself. Both my children were told, when they entered school in kindergarten, that the teacher is boss, and they must do as she said and behave; the teacher had my permission to discipline them as far as a paddling.

I think that when the word "Permissive" was introduced as a new way of raising children, we were all losers, especially the children. Too many parents won't take the responsibility of finishing the job they started when they had the children.

It's the same way in the colleges today. The kids that are causing all the trouble should be expelled; if they are the minority. In the case where the majority is causing the trouble, I say, close the college. We the people don't have to put up with the destruction to personal and public property that they cause. By letting them do it, we're condoning it; as are their parents by sending them money to live on. It's a cinch their parents are supporting them. If these kids had to work to earn spending money they wouldn't have time to riot and destroy everything. If they are in college to learn, they will buckle down, work and progress. If they are there to cause trouble, it's up to their parents to cut off their funds from home and up to the college personnel to expel them of their behavior warrants this.

So, come on, parents; take the responsibility that's yours. Raise the children you father; discipline them when they need it; show them you love them and care enough about them to do your best for them. Care enough to know where they are, who they are with and what they are doing. They need this feeling of security that only we (the parents) can give. It won't be long and they'll be the adults running the world. Will they be ready to take the responsibility? Or have we taught them to ignore responsibility? Sincerely, Mrs. Bonnie Good

Belated praise for youngsters in 4-H cleanup

To the Editor:

In catching up on my reading I by chance happened to see the picture and editorial on the Clean-up Project that our Clinton County 4-H Club promoted.

Our highest respect and thanks go out to every one who made this effort a success. You said our young folks don't think or don't care about our country! This sort of thing makes all of us real proud of you and we support you in all your good efforts.

Extends thanks to booster.

To the Editor:

It is with a degree of trepidation that I submit this letter to you for publication because of the embarrassment it may cause a very modest man. I'm willing to assume the risk, however, because the outstanding contribution made by this gentleman for the youth of our community, for our schools and for our basketball program should not go unacknowledged.

On behalf of the kids, the school and myself, I would like to render a resounding thank you to Bernard Feldpausch for his donation of the costly materials used in the raising of the new complex of baskets and backboards recently installed at the junior high.

The interest and dedication in our community's young people manifest in Mr. Feldpausch's generosity should serve as inspiration to us all.

Thanks again for a great job! Sincerely, Doug Japigna, Basketball Coach, St. Johns High School.

From the state house

By DICK ALLEN
88th District Representative

"We've got the best Legislature that money can buy!"

This is an occasionally heard comment generally reflecting one of two opinions neither very complimentary. Some have the view that all politicians are corrupt and their votes can be purchased, the only variable being the price.

Others making the same statement are reflecting on the salaries we pay our Michigan legislators. The $15,000 a year plus travel and lodging expense puts us among the nation's five best paid. And many feel we're not getting our money's worth.

After 18 months of a mixture of working, playing and living with Michigan's 138 legislators, I have mixed feelings when I hear these comments.

I don't believe completely corrupt politicians of the old city hall type are at all common. I doubt you could actually buy three votes in Michigan's Legislature at any price. Most everyone is very sensitive about accepting gifts unless they are of little monetary value.

However, there are some exceptions. Picking up the check for meals and/or drinks is commonly accepted. So are some kinds of travel. Here the line on what is legitimate varies with the legislator. For instance, if the cherry industry sponsors a tour of the Traverse City area to acquaint legislators with their problems, I don't think anyone would refuse on ethical grounds. On the other hand, a cruise to the Bahamas sponsored by a Detroit group did not meet with widespread favor.

Whether we are overpaid or not is another question. Certainly some legislators make more money than they did before their election and others could make much more on the "outside."

My biggest surprise with the group is the variety included. Wealthy men, poor men, blacks, whites, Polish, Italians, Irish, Ph. D.'s, 3rd grade education, smart men and not so smart men.

Certainly people in my district would be appalled at the opinions and actions of some of Michigan's legislators. But often this just means that the opinions of their constituents are different than ours.

I believe the increased attention focused in recent years on government officials is improving quality somewhat. Certainly public apathy helps to maintain some incumbents who are just not doing the job. And occasionally a good legislator is beaten because the people are not well informed and are willing to believe the untruths in a malicious attack.

The quality of our government bodies is not so much dependent on what we pay as it is on the interest and effort of the voters.

Another way of saying the same thing is this. You may complain about the quality of the legislators we have but it's as good as we can do with the voters we have.

Jail not mandatory for minor offenses

By FRANK J. KELLEY
Attorney General

Notwithstanding the presumption of innocence the law gives to a person charged with crime, we all know how embarrassing it can be to be arrested and taken before a judge on a criminal charge. The Michigan legislature has recently enacted a law which provides an alternative to being taken into custody for minor offenses.

Act No. 147 of Public Acts of 1968 permits the prosecutor, in lieu of obtaining an arrest warrant, to request and have issued a summons, addressed to a defendant, for violations of local ordinances and certain misdemeanors.

Police officers, without warrants, who might arrest persons for those offenses, such as simple assault and battery or local traffic violations, are also authorized to issue an "appearance ticket" to the person instead of taking him immediately down before a magistrate. When the officer issues such a ticket, he then has filed in the local criminal court a complaint charging the person named in the ticket with the specified offense. The law also has a provision which would authorize other "public servants" to issue appearance tickets under certain circumstances.

When a citizen receives an appearance ticket or summons, he will be informed that he is to appear in a certain local criminal court at a certain time in the future in connection with his alleged commission of a particular offense. If he fails to appear at the proper time and

By WILLIAM S. BALLENGER
State Representative

I'm sure everyone knows that state - collected and locally - shared taxes are a major source of revenue for cities, villages, townships and counties throughout Michigan. Last year, for instance, the state distributed almost $350 million to these local units from the state sales, income, intangibles and motor vehicle highway fund (gas and weight) taxes. (This is exclusive of funds distributed to school districts.)

The distribution of the sales, income and intangibles taxes is made on a per capita basis, and the distribution of gas and weight taxes is based on a formula which includes a population factor. Over $200 million of state - collected and locally - shared taxes were distributed solely on the basis of population.

NOW, THE FEDERAL decennial census provides the official population count used in distributing these taxes among the various local units. The new census taken April 1 and still being counted will reflect ten years of population change in the state as a whole and in individual local units of government. It will therefore have a significant impact on the amount of these taxes received by each local unit of government.

The April 1, 1970, census count is expected to total 8,850,000, an increase of 1,025,000 or 13.1 per cent over the 1960 census of 7,824,000.

Unfortunately, this increase in population will probably result in a decrease in the per capita amount of state - collected and locally - shared taxes distributed. The fixed distribution of $9.5 million of the intangibles tax to cities, villages and townships on a per capita basis will decrease from the present $1.21 per capita to an estimated $1.07 per capita as a result of growth in the state population based on the new census.

IN FISCAL 1970 - 71 it is also estimated that the distribution of sales, income and intangibles taxes to cities, villages and townships on the basis of the 1970 census will total $16.28 per capita, which is $2.11 per capita less than the per capita distribution would be if it were based on the 1960 census.

Motor vehicle highway fund monies distributed to cities and villages on a population basis will be an estimated $7.38 per capita in 1970 - 71, which is 94 cents less than the per capita distribution would be if it were based on the population of cities and villages currently used.

Thus, the use of the 1970 census figures in fiscal 1970-71 will result in a decrease of over $3.00 in the per capita distribution of sales, intangibles, income and gas and weight taxes to cities and villages as compared to a distribution based on 1960 census figures.

THE PER CAPITA distribution to townships of sales, income and intangibles taxes will decrease $2.11 per capita based on the 1970 census as compared to a distribution based on the 1960 census. The per capita distribution of the income tax to counties based on the 1970 census will be an estimated $4.07 per capita, which is 55¢ per capita less than a distribution based on the 1960 census.

The distribution of gas and weight taxes to counties based on "rural" population will increase by about 15 cents per capita (rural population only) as a result of an estimated decrease in the population living in unincorporated areas between 1960 and 1970.

ONE ENCOURAGING word, however: The figures I've cited illustrate the potential impact of the new 1970 census only on the per capita distribution of state collected and locally shared taxes. The impact of the new census on an individual city, village, township or county will be determined by its population growth between 1960 and 1970 in relation to the growth in total state population of 13.1 per cent.
