Shortest term on record

DEWITT—Special action by the DeWitt City Council never came about Monday night at the regular meeting.

The Council had prepared to approve a new administrative director but instead found itself with little to do.

The newly appointed director-to-be resigned before he could be formally accepted by the Council.

It was perhaps the shortest term of office for the director in DeWitt's history and close to the shortest meeting of the DeWitt City Council.

The Council adjourned at 9 p.m., a bit red-faced over the lack of news, and was again preparing to interview applicants for the job.

FIRST TO THE FLAG

Tony Droste, R-2, Fowler, takes the checkered flag, signaling the end of a long day of racing during the ninth annual Soap Box Derby Sunday. Tony just passed Gil Weber of Pewamo for the Derby win. Now it's on to Akron, Ohio, for the All-American Derby national finals this summer.

Memorial Day observances

Services will be held Sunday at 1:30 p.m. at the South Ovid Cemetery, Rev. Robert Prange of the Grove Bible Church will be the main speaker and Greg Palen, Ovid-Elsie High School valedictorian will deliver the "Gettysburg Address."

Services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the Middlebury Cemetery. State Sen. William S. Ballenger will be the featured speaker.

Monday will find observances held at the Maple Grove Cemetery in Ovid preceded by a parade on Main Street by the Ovid-Elsie marching band. Sen. Ballenger will also speak at this service.

Tony Droste sweeps Derby

ST. JOHNS—An 11-year-old Pewamo-Westphalia area schoolboy won the ninth running of the Clinton County Soap Box Derby Sunday. Tony Droste, R-2, Fowler, topped the 78-car field and won a bid at national fame by being eligible for the World Championship race at Akron, Ohio, later this summer.

Gil Weber, 14, of Pewamo came in second in the Sunday afternoon race and third spot was taken by Robert Neveau, 14, of Lansing.

Other top finishers were Paul Wood, 14, of St. Johns; Marc Hufnagel, 15, of St. Johns; Jeff Paradise, 12, of St. Johns; Ralph Witgen, 13, of Westphalia; Joe Fernholz, 15, of St. Johns; Rick Atkinson, 13, of St. Johns; Dwayne Dush, 13, of St. Johns; Larry Hanes, 13, of Westphalia; Gregory Pifer, 12, of St. Johns; Rick Pifer, 13, of St. Johns; Ricky Hanes, 13, of Fowler; and Ron Adams, 13, of Lansing.

It was one of the best showings for St. Johns area entries in the nine-year Clinton Derby history. Westphalia area entries have dominated the event during the past several years.

The Derby Day opened Sunday afternoon with a huge parade through downtown St. Johns. The race was officially started with the ceremonial running of last year's winner Roy Fedewa. Once Roy crossed the finish line the races were on.

During an awards program at Rodney B. Wilson Junior High School after it was all over, Droste earned a big kiss from Ginger Ann Meyer, 1970 Miss Michigan.

Droste also received the John Lynam Memorial Trophy and personal plaque. The trophy is given to the Soap Box Derby Winner each year in memory of the St. Johns boy killed while attending the national finals at Akron, Ohio in 1963. He was one of the finishers in the 1963 Clinton Derby.

Droste also won a $500 savings bond for topping the other 77 gravity-race drivers.

Names were drawn during the program naming the 10 lucky boys who will be able to attend the national finals.

They are Ricky Hanes, Leonard Lewis, Kurt Black, Pete Soltz, Randy Sonler, Bill Wager, Rick Atkinson, Jim Light, practice periods conducted in Rochester.

Gifts and awards were also given to the other top 14 winners at the program.

City commission refuses to change trailer laws

by Bob Gavan
Staff News Writer

ST. JOHNS—The City Commission, Monday night, refused, on principle, to allow violation of a city ordinance concerning house trailers in an unauthorized area.

The commission refused to approve a request by Rev. Joseph Eger Jr., pastor of the St. Johns Assembly of God Church on US-27 at Baldwin. Rev. Eger petitioned the commission to allow a self-contained trailer owned by a traveling evangelist to be parked and occupied on the church grounds by the evangelist and his family for five days.

Rev. Eger said that no other city had ever bothered the evangelist about parking his trailer on church grounds while he was in that city.

Rev. Eger was referring to a call from City Clerk Thomas Hundley informing him that the trailer was violating the city zoning ordinance and that it must be removed. Hundley had received two complaints from residents living near the church.

The commission was in sympathy with Rev. Eger, but they explained that there had been complaints about the trailer and they must enforce the ordinance.

The commissioners stated that they would consider a request from the St. Johns Ministerial Association to add an amendment to the ordinance specifically concerning traveling ministers.

They said that there were no provisions in the ordinance to grant special permits or to disregard the ordinance.

The commissioners recommended that the church find suitable quarters where the evangelist and his family could reside for the five days that they will be here.

The commissioners rescinded a motion calling for a repeal of Vauconsant Avenue after receiving a petition from 11 of the 14 residents of the designated replat area.

The objective of the repeal of Vauconsant was to determine where 33 feet of the area had disappeared when Morton St. was built.

The petition stated that the residents were satisfied with their deeds and didn't want their area replatted.

In other action the commission:

—approved and adopted the budget for 1971-72 in the amount of $1,297,558.

—heard a report from Harvey Weatherwax about the status of the Park Grant. The request has been approved so far, but it must now go through three levels of the Department of Natural Resources and the State Legislature for final approval.

Summer program approved

By Pat Drouin
Special News Writer

DEWITT—A summer arts and crafts recreation program will again be offered by the city of DeWitt for area children. Action on the program came at the regular meeting of the DeWitt City Council Monday night.

The program will be under the supervision of Tom Mauro, a DeWitt High School teacher and resident of DeWitt.

According to Eldon Smith, administrative director, this will be the second year such a program has been offered due to the tremendous response by the youth last year.

A recommendation to pay the staff $2 an hour, however was tabled until the next meeting.

DeWitt's youth entered into the discussion again when the Council debated a motion to hire a commercial cleaning firm to clean the floor, rest rooms and windows of the Municipal Building.

Rather than hire the firm for $40 a month, the Council passed a motion to get bids on the cost of commercial carpeting for the council room, hall and offices, with the possibility of hiring some students from the high school to wash the windows and attend the rest rooms.

IN OTHER ACTION, the Council also amended a motion passed at the last meeting in order to purchase an additional 100 copies of the Master Plan by Scott Bagby and Associates. Previously the Council had ordered only the specified 100 copies.

Orla McGuire, planning commission chairman, also noted that the planning commission would meet on June 1, at which time copies of the plan would be available.

A $4,000 "bonus" was also called to the attention of the Council by Keith Blizard, mayor pro-tem, who noted that the extra money was received from the State Highway Fund for 1970 due to the new census figures.

Jene Markman returns home with trained leader dog 'Bill'

Mrs. Jene Markman recently returned home with "Bill", graduates of the Leader Dog School, Rochester, Mich.

Jene trained at the Leader Dog School for four weeks learning to travel confidently with "Bill". Daily intensive training sessions in the classroom and four hour practice periods conducted in Rochester, Pontiac, and Royal Oak, prepared the student and her Leader Dog to work together.

Their practice trips included various department stores and other places of interest, all under supervision of her instructor.

The graduate must know where she is going and directs the Leader Dog to the destination with commands. A few months of "seasoning" will eliminate problems and distractions.

A dog does not read traffic lights, but crosses the street upon command from the master, who must study the pattern of traffic. The dog will proceed when safe. The public is asked not to interfere while the dog is working.

If it is apparent that the student is having difficulty, a person nearby may simply ask "May I be of some assistance to you?"

NO ATTEMPT SHOULD be made to pet the Leader Dog while he is in harness or when he is working. Always ask the owner's permission before touching the dog.

A Leader Dog has time to romp and play. The cost of feeding a Leader Dog is the same as for any family pet, being fed and groomed once a day.

There is no charge for Leader Dog training, though the cost per team is approximately $2,600. This non-profit organization is supported entirely by contributions from Lions Clubs, various publicly-supported agencies, and private sources.

Anyone wishing information about the Leader Dog program is invited to contact a member of the local Lions Club or write to Leader Dogs for the Blind, Rochester, Michigan.

Arrangements for the enrollment of Mrs. Jene Markman were made by Charles F. Barnes, zone chairman 11-C, Lions of Michigan, St. Johns.

THE ANNUAL MEMORIAL Day services will be held at the Sowle Cemetery near Maple Rapids on Monday, May 31st at 10 a.m. The public is welcome to attend. 4-1p

Why more millage for schools?

Editor's note—This is the third article in a series submitted by St. Johns Public School officials designated to present the board of education's views on the proposed millage increase. Voters will decide the issue in the June 14 election.

The money to operate the St. Johns Public Schools comes from Federal funds which must be used to supplement the regular school program, and cannot be used for normal school operation.

The cost of school operation, like every other business, has been increasing sharply for the past two years, 1969-70 and 1970-71. The local property tax rate for schools has remained the same.

Cost increases have occurred in all areas of school operation. Supplies, maintenance, and equipment have all gone up. Salaries of employees, like those in most industries and occupations, have increased too.

In addition, the recent Supreme Court decision requiring the district to furnish textbooks and supplies has increased costs for next year about $60,000 which is over one mill. A one-mill tax levy will produce about $52,000.

To illustrate how these costs have gone up, the increase per student for supplies over the last three years in the high school has gone from $12.50 to $16.20 to $19.40 for the present year.

This is an increase of 56.2 percent.

The Board has been able to operate the present program only because of the increases in State support during the last two years which amounted to about $50 per child or $200,000 in 1969-70 and $70 per child or $280,000 during the current year, 1970-71.

Since moving into the new high school and transferring the junior high school to Rodney B. Wilson, the programs have been expanded. Junior high students have a greater variety of classes, and they are attending school full time after being on a part-time schedule at Central.

At the high school, vocational drafting, electronics, metals, building trades, auto mechanics and retailing have all been added to the vocational program.

Next year, 1971-72, Governor Milliken is recommending an increase of state support of only $5 per student or $20,000, which is considerably less than the $200,000 and $280,000 increases for the two previous years.

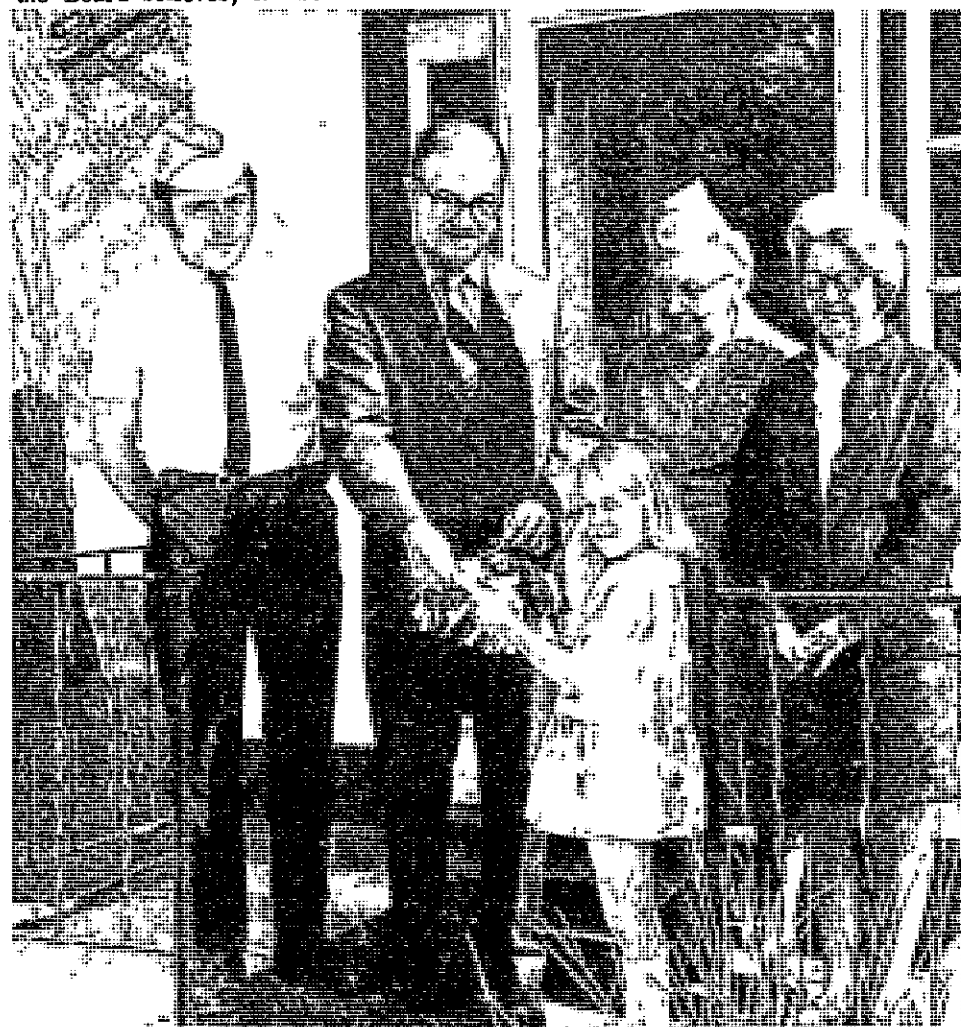

Because of this decrease, the Board has no other alternative than to ask for an increase of 2.5 mills in the local property tax.

With this increase coupled with some economies in supplies, capital outlay, equipment and the use of teacher aides rather than teachers for student supervision in study halls and cafeterias, the Board believes they can continue the present excellent educational program.

If the state aid increase next year would be $70 per child as it was last year, this would increase state support by about $280,000 which is over 5 mills. The 2.5 mill increase which the Board is requesting will bring in about $125,000. The difference the Board believes, can be taken care of through the economies already mentioned.

The Board is asking the increase for only one year because they believe the Governor and Legislature will enact the necessary tax reforms to take the burden from property tax for school operation.

POPPY DAYS AGAIN

Little Tamie Irrer, the VFW's 1971 Buddy Poppy Girl, makes the first poppy sale of the campaign to St. Johns Mayor Robert Wood. Looking on are Roger Dershem, senior vice-commander of the local VFW and Poppy Chairman; Eloise Hambleton, VFW Women's Auxiliary; and Ruth Roof, Auxiliary president. Various veterans groups will be selling the poppies in Clinton County May 27-29.

The tour, sponsored by WOOD-TV, will make St. Johns a major stop-over and the activities will include lunch, judging and distribution of prizes. Carson hospital drops extended care facility

CARSON CITY—Donald McKenna, administrator of Carson City Hospital reports the Extended Care Facility, an addition to the hospital in 1968, will terminate this function June 1.

The facility will serve as an addition to the general hospital, increasing the bed capacity to 100.

The proposal to convert the existing Extended Care Facility to acute general hospital beds has been studied and approved by the Committees of West Central Area-wide Comprehensive Health Planning Unit and the Committees of Michigan Blue Cross and the Bureau of Standards and Licensing of the Michigan Department of Health.

The Extended Care Facility, operating within the guidelines and restrictions defined by Title XVIII of the Medicare Act under the jurisdiction of Health Education and Welfare, has shown a low occupancy rate and it would have been financially impractical to continue its operation.

Patients requiring Extended Care will be referred to the skilled nursing facilities of the area.

THE ACUTE GENERAL hospital of 70 beds has consistently shown an occupancy rate approaching theoretically 100 percent, and without reserve beds for emergency admissions.

In addition, increases in the Active Staff Membership of both physicians in General Practice and Specialists have added to the acute bed shortage.

Permission to expand the acute general hospital to 100 beds will materially improve this situation and utilization of available space in the previous Extended Care Facility will allow development of additional ancillary services.

Only minor internal remodeling will be required in several areas to allow a complete change over to acute general hospital care.

In order to obtain adequate staffing in Nursing Service, and complete the necessary remodeling, the conversion to acute beds will be made in stages with planned completion by September 1.

ST. JOHNS—A local girl suffered a concussion and a fractured leg as a result of an accident May 14.

Miss Feldpausch was taken to Clinton Memorial Hospital and released within a few days.

No charges were issued against Mrs. Rothstein.

ST. JOHNS -- The Redwings batsmen upped their league standings to second place after defeating Ionia 2-0 and Alma 7-3 last week.

The Wings trail Waverly (8-4) by one game (7-5) for the league honors. Overall the team has a 6-6 record.

In the game with Ionia, both runs were scored in the fifth inning. Jim Schumaker made it to first on a catcher error and to second on a sacrifice hit. He was batted in on a home run by Larry Hayes.

Pitcher Schumaker allowed only two infield hits, struck out 12 and walked two and added another game to his credit. Those getting hits were Hayes (1), Tom Rasdale (2) and Rod Pasch (1).

Alma never had a chance as the Wings scored four runs in the first inning. Wakefield singled to first, stole second and scored on a shortstop error. Hayes made it to first on an error and stole second. Dennis Ballinger walked and Rasdale sacrificed and drove in Hayes. Bob Elliott doubled and drove in Ballinger and Pasch singled and drove in Elliott for the fourth run of the inning.

In the fifth inning Wakefield made the run. In the sixth Pasch was driven in by a Hayes single. The final run came in the seventh after Hayes singled to first, made it to second on a pass ball and third on a fielders choice, then stole home.

Pitcher Bob Lewis was credited with the win. He had eight strikeouts and two walks in the game.

Wings getting hits were Kevin Hayes (10), Wakefield (1), Larry Hayes (2), Elliott (1), Pasch (1) and Rademacher (1).

This week the Wings will see action at Lakewood and Charlotte.

Saturday they will play Owosso in the first tournament game of the season.

Reorganize

By TIM YOUNKMAN

We may be witnessing the collapse of the Central Michigan Athletic Conference which includes three Clinton County High Schools.

It was announced recently that Owosso St. Paul's Blue Waves will not field teams next year, if their doors remain open at all. It was speculated earlier that Portland St. Patrick's may find it financially necessary to close its doors for good before the opening of school next year.

Both schools have provided strong opposition and competition for our county teams and their leaving the conference would definitely diminish the standard of play that Clinton area fans appreciate.

DeWitt, which has dominated the league in football, wrestling and other spring sports is one of the fastest growing schools in Michigan and school officials are seriously considering jumping into the Ingham County League circuit if an opening presents itself. That would pit DeWitt, with a school size of about 460 students against other schools of up to 700 students.

IT WOULD ALSO add more luster to the fine rivalry that has existed between the Panthers and Blue Waves, another member of the Ingham League. Other opponents would be Williamston, Leslie, Pinckney, Perry, Dansville and Stockbridge.

If that should happen, it would leave Fowler and Pewamo-Westphalia in a league with Webberville, Pottsville and Laingsburg. And the only real competition would be supplied by the Eagles, Pirates and Wolfpack, since the other teams have been league doormats for years.

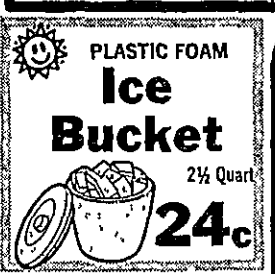

A possible solution to the problem of raising the caliber of play and, at the same time, create local rivalries, would be a reorganization of various central Michigan leagues. One might include such Clinton area teams as P-W, Fowler, Laingsburg, Carson City and Fulton, plus the possibility of either Lake-

KANSAS CITY, MO.—James M. Grost, M.D., St. Johns has been re-elected to active membership in the American Academy of General Practice, the national association of family doctors.

Re-election signifies that the physician has successfully completed 150 hours of accredited postgraduate medical study in the last three years.

Members become eligible for re-election at the end of the third year following their election to membership.

The Academy, the country's second largest national medical association, is the only national medical group that requires members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education.

The Academy, founded in 1947 and headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., has been instrumental in the establishment of a new primary medical specialty in family physicians available to serve the public in the future.

The Academy's postgraduate education program is the foundation of eligibility for family doctors now in practice who apply for certification in the new specialty.

Senior citizens gather for lunch, friendship

By Bob Gavan
News Staff Writer
ST. JOHNS—Central Michigan Senior Citizens gathered together last Wednesday at Smith Hall for a luncheon and entertainment as part of Michigan Week celebrations.

The Senior Citizens Get-Together was sponsored by the Michigan Recreation and Park Association, (MRPA).

On hand to honor the 206 senior citizens from the central Michigan area were Rev. Hugh Banning; St. Johns Mayor, Robert Wood; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hill, Clinton County Senior Citizens Chairman; Joan Adleman, MRPA representative; and Margaret Whitehead, MRPA program chairman.

The oldest man and woman attending the event were crowned King and Queen, Dorothy Hill, 94, Lansing received the Queen's crown and Howard Power, 87, St. Johns received the King's crown.

According to Mrs. Whitehead, the purpose of the gathering was to "Bring senior citizens from the mid-Michigan area together to meet with others, exchange ideas, learn what opportunities are available for them, have fun and fellowship and enjoy entertainment."

After the luncheon, community singing was conducted by Wallace Watts of Lansing. A skit, called "Grandma Speaks Her Mind" was presented by Elma Ness and John Gunson of Lansing. The St. Johns Senior Citizens presented a skit called "Miss Dumbwinkle's Music Class."

The Clinton County Rhythm Band provided an interlude of music with a number of selections. Another skit, "Wife's "Checkbook," was presented by Clarence and Bessie Hill. Mrs. Hill gave a reading and then Mrs. Whitehead awarded ribbons to many of the members attending.

Everyone seemed to be having a good time renewing old acquaintances and meeting new people. One senior citizen remarked, "There would be more people here if we had a baseball game". Enough said?

Who are you?

ST. JOHNS—In last week's paper in the Court House news we incorrectly printed that Richard D. Burch of Lansing and Kathy E. Marten of St. Johns had applied for a marriage license. It should have read Richard D. Burch, 23, Lansing and Susan M. Wey, 22, Lansing, and Daniel C. Johnson, 23, Holt and Kathy E. Marten, 23, St. Johns have applied for their marriage license.

Tri-county board backs improvements

LANSING — The Community Relations Committee of the Community Mental Health Board, a tri-county organization, issued a resolution last week calling for backing of citizen efforts in Clinton County to improve mental health facilities and services.

The formal resolution recognized "the need for further development of special education classes within the school systems of Clinton County. . . . It also stated that the board, serving Clinton-Eaton and Ingham counties, "has as its primary concern the emotional and mental welfare of all persons within the area it is dedicated to serve."

The board added that they will support any effort by the citizens of Clinton County in improving its facilities and service in the areas of mental health.

Copies of the resolution were sent to Clinton County school officials and members of the boards of education.

See Jim Edinger For Your Chevy Truck

Chevy trucks come back strong. (double strong!)

Select from a big stock of better-than-ever buys on totally tougher '71 Chevrolets. The buys have never been better—the trucks have never been tougher. Double-strong pickups. You get two walls of steel where they do the most good. In the cab roof, cowl, body sills and rear wall panel. And all the way up on the cargo box on Fleetsides. More power. Nobody can top Chevy's 400-cu.-in. V8. And they don't come any bigger than Chevy's standard 250 Six, either. Standard front disc brakes. They give you fade resistance and longer brake life. At no extra cost. Super Suspension for smoothest ride. Absorbs bumps and road shock at the source. Lets you ride smooth and level, even when the road's not. Claude E. Rose Claude E. Rose, 66, of 11730 North US-27, DeWitt died Friday, May 21 following a short illness.

Open Letter from VAN W. HOAG

Dear friends,
Many clergymen and doctors, while attending the dying, have reported seeing the apparition of the spirit leaving the body at death. Many survivors have reported the momentary appearance of the spirit of a loved one at the moment of death. If these marvels were more generally known, the doubting Thomas would find greater conviction in the resurrection of Christ and of our own promised resurrection which we celebrate this glorious Easter Season.

Sincerely,

Van W. Hoag

Business notes

By MIKE PREVILLE
News Advertising Manager

Ross Variety Store in Banister is holding its going out of business sale. We don't know how long Ross' have been serving the area but from what we've been told, it's been years and years. The final sale starts Thursday, and we're told everything including the building and fixtures are for sale.

AND A NEW business has just started to serve the area. The Freeway Service Center is now open. "Freeway" is the brand of gasoline and petroleum products as well as the station's name.

Located just north of the Aloha, the Freeway station is in the old Sunoco building.

THIS ISSUE OF the News holds the 1971 Bridal Section. Again, this special features a future bride. And we must say thank you Marilyn Weber of Fowler for being our 1971 bride. Richard Vitek, as he must already know, is a lucky man.

Another special section will be coming your way in the next issue of the County News. The St. Johns High School Building Trades Program Open House at the student-built home will be featured. There will be pictures and stories of the second home completed by the students.

One of the biggest advantages of working for the County News is that we get to run free want-ads once in a while. This week we didn't beat the deadline so instead of a want-ad in the want-ad section...it's here!

But, before we try to sell you the items we have, we'll tell you how we got them.

Our sister-in-law, Helen Arnold, made the poorest match of Grandma Green's five daughters when she walked down the aisle with an itinerant used car salesman and fried chicken vendor. Where Helen is hard working, good natured and possesses all of the commendable traits, Brother-in-law Richard isn't and doesn't.

Very few times have we visited Lapeer that he hasn't been solely responsible for getting this clean living ad-man in trouble.

Anyway, we visited Lapeer to pick up a very, very old cedar chest, and an equally old bedroom suite, and to clean out Grandma Green's granary.

Therein lies the tale. Helen, the Big M, all our kids and yours truly cleaned the granary. Richard was busy. Busy. The truth be known (and we'll tell it) we believe that back at the ranch, Richard, disguised as a wall was getting...well, you get the idea. Now, the thing we're sore about is that at times we do a pretty good imitation of a wall and we weren't even invited.

All of which brings us to the want-ad. We found in the granary, and Grandma Green is going to sell: a witch (a big one), horse collars (lots of them and harnesses, too) an old 4-burner wood cook stove, and the grand prize... a hand hewn ox yoke in perfect shape.

If any of these items (and there are lots more) sound good to you...just call Dick Arnold in Lapeer.

Egan salesmen win top honors

ST. JOHNS--William J. Spaniol and Nicholas Koenigsnecht of Egan Ford Sales Inc., St. Johns, was honored for their outstanding sales performance during 1970 at a banquet recently.

The two Ford salesmen received their 300-500 Club membership pins during the banquet at the Lansing Civic Center. The 300-500 Club was founded 21 years ago to recognize the performance of outstanding Ford salesmen throughout the country. About 11,000 of Ford's 27,000 salesmen from coast to coast became members of the club in 1970.

"Excellent retail sales performance is the basis for entry into the 300-500 Club," said J. C. Sutherland, Ford Division's Lansing district sales manager. "The average member sold about $750,000 worth of automotive merchandise during 1970 to qualify for the national honor."

Some 194 Lansing district Ford salesmen were honored at the banquet, including eight "Top Hatters," the highest award any Ford salesman can earn.

TIPS FOR THE PURCHASER

It's unwise to pay too much...but it's worse to pay too little. When you pay too much, you lose a little money...that is all. When you pay too little, you might lose everything because the thing you bought was incapable of doing the thing it was bought to do.

The common law of business balance prohibits paying a little and getting a lot — it can't be done. If you deal with the lowest bidder it is well to add something for the risk you run. If you do that, you will have enough to pay for something better.

meet Clinton National's Elsie Office Manager

In March of this year Dennis marked his tenth year with Clinton National Bank and almost at the same time he was named manager of our Elsie branch.

In addition to his years with the bank, Dennis has completed a number of varied banking courses conducted under the sponsorship of the American Institute of Banking.

He is a native of Elsie and a graduate of Elsie High School. He and his wife, Karen, have one daughter, Denae Lyn, age four.

Reading and watching television are ways in which Dennis relaxes, but you just might find him at any one of the sporting events which take place on the high school scene at Elsie.

Like other officers in the Clinton National family, Dennis is interested in you. Stop in and visit him some time. If you catch him reading, we'll bet it's about a new service or idea to help you.

FFA team wins first in state competition

OVID-ELSIE - Four Future Farmers of America (FFA) members here will represent Michigan at the National FFA Convention to be held in October in Kansas City, Mo. The four are members of the O-E meat judging team that placed first in the state at the State Convention held at Michigan State University, May 1.

Members of the team are Kim Jorae, Dwight Hunt and David Wyrick, alternates are Charles Green and Mike Rummell. According to Larry Martin, owner of Sheldon Meat Products Co. and the team's coach, the boys worked more than forty hours in five weeks preparing for the state contest.

"They learned how to make different cuts, how to determine grades of meat, and placing of cuts. They must be able to determine the different cuts from beef, pork and lamb," he said.

At the state convention over 1100 students from 93 schools participated in the many different divisions. Over 10,000 students will be participating in the national convention. At the convention, which will be held the second week in October, the meat judging team must identify 25 different retail cuts as part of the requirements for the contest.

The agriculture mechanics team won a gold award.

NEW INTERNATIONAL 990 MOWER CONDITIONER

Greater capacity... Operates with less power... Requires less adjustment... than any other mower conditioner

Operate in heavy hay or sudax a gear faster. Full-width conditioning rolls eliminate dead spots that waste power. And you'll find there's no power loss due to side draft on hillsides or on the level.

You get increased capacity because larger diameter 44-inch reel is less affected by changing crop conditions. And, the unique position of the reel bats holds the crop flat so it feeds through the conditioning rolls, without hesitation. What's more, controlled platform float and self-compensating roll pressure lets you move from field to field, crop to crop and rarely ever readjust the 990.

Training scholarship

By JOHN AYLSWORTH

Kam Washburn, member of the Elsie 4-H Club, has been selected as one of the five 4-H boys in Michigan being considered for the Danforth Leadership Training Scholarship to Camp Minnawaca near Stony Lake.

Kam's completed application will be considered with the other four district winners with one to be selected in June to represent Michigan at this camp for two weeks in August.

One boy representative considered the most outstanding "four square" 4-H boy in each of the fifty states and 5 Canadian Provinces will attend Camp Minnawaca from August 16-28. The "four square" represents physical, mental, social, and religious development of the individual.

The most outstanding "four square" 4-H girls in the fifty states and 5 Canadian Provinces will attend camp August 2-14.

W.H. Danforth, founder of the Ralston Purina Company, was for many years very interested in developing the leadership capacities of outstanding young people. Each year he has provided one 4-H boy and one 4-H girl scholarship in each state for the youth to attend the American Youth Foundation Leadership Training Camp at Stony Lake, Michigan.

Camp Minnawaca, where the training is given, occupies 200 acres on Lake Michigan and Stony Lake in Oceana County, Michigan. It is one of the most beautiful camps in the world. All students live in tent-cabins. The air is bracing and crisp, the food ample and good, and the companionship outstanding.

The curriculum is composed of courses in Christian Ideals, Personal Foundations, personal enrichment, leadership principles, and leadership practice.

A comprehensive program of group social and recreational activities is included in the camp schedule. I'm sure if Kam is selected he will make a fine representative for Michigan at Camp Minnawaca.

THE 4-H HORSE CLUB members, parents, and leaders enjoyed a horse clinic Tuesday evening at the Fairgrounds, Carolyn Bay, Extension 4-H Youth Agent from Midland County did an excellent job in pointing out what to look for in judging a horse, showing the horse at halter, correct mounting and dismounting, and riding western pleasure.

She had several members demonstrate wrong techniques to show where most riders are at fault when riding or showing their horses at show. Carolyn stated when judging a horse the first item the person needs to know is the parts of the horse and when riding the person should always use saddle boots so their feet will not slip out of the stirrup.

The adults and members should find Carolyn's suggestions helpful in preparing their animal for showing this year.

33 4-H girls and 6 leaders from Clinton County enjoyed their trip to Detroit on May 15. Lincoln" at the Fisher Theater in the afternoon.

The group felt it was a very enjoyable 4-H Trip Award.

They will learn how to make corsages, as well. The only cost would be meals and lodging if they stayed overnight. Program details and more information is available at the County Extension Office.

ANNUAL REPORT--PROBATION DEPARTMENT OF CLINTON COUNTY PROBATE AND DISTRICT COURTS APRIL 1 THROUGH DECEMBER 31, 1970

TO THE HONORABLE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS:

The Probation Department serves both the Probate and District Courts of Clinton County by conducting presentence investigations and the supervision of both adult and juvenile probationers.

The Probation Department tries to find the full facts surrounding the crime; if the offender has a prior arrest record; the offender's education, employment and medical history; also as much about the offender's family and environmental background as possible. After conducting this investigation, the Probation Department then submits its evaluation and recommendations to the Court.

During the past eight months, April through December, 1970, 120 investigations were conducted by this department for the District and Probate Courts of Clinton County.

At the present time, we are supervising 132 individuals, ranging in age 14 to 67.

The breakdown of crimes that these offenders have committed are as follows: sex offenses, 10; drug offenses, 7; driving offenses, 22; assaults, 9; larcenies, 47; malicious destruction, 17; drinking offenses, 23; check writing, 3; and miscellaneous, 15.

We try to tailor the terms of probation to the individual by varying the degree of supervision and the length of probation to fit each case. The basic aid is to avoid future crimes by helping the probationer learn to live productively in the community. We try to find the problem and confront it directly. If the individual is out of work, we try and find a job for him or her, whichever the case may be. If the individual has a personality disorder, we arrange for psychiatric counseling. We help the individual with budgeting and marriage problems, if within our scope of competence. If not, we refer the individual to the proper agency.

In November, 1970, the Probation Department organized monthly meetings with the various police and law enforcement agencies within the county. These meetings have proven invaluable as a source of communication to the police departments as well as to the Probation Department.

We also work closely with the schools and school officials within the county. We try to encourage juveniles to continue their education and we will help in any way possible to work out problems they may have in school. Sometimes it is possible for us to point out to school officials the possibility that the juvenile might be more productive in school if his classes were changed or that he may be more compatible with another teacher or counselor.

Members of our department are also asked to make numerous speeches to various clubs and organizations within the community. "Juveniles" and "Drugs" are the most frequently requested topics of discussions.

Members of our department have attended and participated in several seminars dealing with narcotics and other illicit drugs at both the county and state levels. The Probation Department is working with several local agencies and citizens in trying to prevent a major drug problem within the county. We are trying to get more parents and concerned adults interested and knowledgeable of the drug situation.

We try to remain abreast of the various social organizations within our area and what each is doing or trying to do within the community as we utilize these resources in dealing with our probationers whenever possible.

Patrick Kelly, County Prosecuting Attorney, presented the Annual Report of that office. It was moved by Gove, supported by Nobis, to accept the report and place on file. Voted and carried.

RE: ANNUAL REPORT OF PROBATE COURT

Dear Mr. Shepard:

The following is submitted as the 1970 annual report for the Clinton County Probate Court. I will attempt to summarize the operations of the Probate Court, Juvenile Home and Juvenile Office for the preceding year, comparing that to the budget and actual expenses of 1969.

For the Probate Court, the actual expenses in 1970 were $28,494.73 and in 1969 $28,102.97, or an increase of $391.76 which represents an approximate increase of 1.37%. The budget submitted in March of 1970 was $23,025.00 or an increase of $5,469.73 over the budget.

In the Juvenile Office, the 1970 actual expenses were $14,663.25 and in 1969 were $5,063.61, an increase of $9,599.64 or a 28.9% increase. The budget for 1970 was $5,300.00 or an increase of $9,363.25 over the budget. Basically, this gain is reflected in the increased cost of living, and the additional staff in this office.

In the Juvenile Home, the actual operating expenses of 1970 were $20,550.46 and in 1969 $41,832.75, a decrease of $21,282.29, which is a 51% decrease. The estimated budget was $46,075.00. It is difficult to predict or forecast the expenses of the Juvenile Home as the child case load varies from time to time and fluctuates quite widely. The major portion of the expenses of the Juvenile Home is devoted to child care, either in foster homes or state institutions. The rates charged, by the State, for commitment to state institutions has risen from $18.00 per day to $18.52 per day at Boys Training School and from $23.00 to $23.82 per day at Girls Training School, while in 1969 the rates were $15.00 and $16.00 respectively. The cost of private institutions has risen on a comparable basis.

On April 1, 1970, Clinton County adopted the Child Care Fund Plan, whereby the State of Michigan reimburses the County, on a matching basis, for child care expenditures in excess of $22,143.87, in addition to $1,800.00 of the first $2,000.00 expended. During the last 9 months of 1970 the State of Michigan reimbursed Clinton County the sum of $9,906.82 under the Foster Care Plan. The functioning and operation of the Probate Court Juvenile Office and Juvenile Home have been most satisfactory and without incident. The Board of Commissioners has extended very splendid cooperation and assistance in the functioning of these facilities for which I wish to commend it most highly.

Respectfully Submitted,
TIMOTHY M. GREEN

Gordon Iacovoni, Circuit Court Probation Officer, presented the Annual Report of that office. It was moved by Hufnagel, supported by Cobb, to accept the report and place on file. Voted and carried.

Gordon E. Iacovoni
Probation & Parole Agent
Department of Corrections
Bureau of Field Services
State of Michigan

I am a State employee, working for the Department of Corrections, however, assigned to Clinton County to work for the Circuit Court as a probation agent. I have a dual role, serving Clinton and Ionia Counties as a parole agent.

As a probation agent, I am required to conduct presentence investigations for the Circuit Judge, after a person is found guilty in the Circuit Court. The law requires that these presentence investigations be made in all felony cases, prior to the Court imposing sentence.

A presentence investigation is a background investigation conducted on the offender by contacting relatives, employers, and school officials. Also other persons who can contribute factual information. This report, which is submitted to the Circuit Judge in typewritten form, assists him in understanding the offender, his assets and liabilities, so that a proper disposition can be made.

In this area for the past four years, an average of 36 presentence investigations have been conducted per year.

If the Court imposes a probation term, in lieu of prison confinement, these individuals are supervised by the probation agent. Probation differs from parole as it is imposed prior to a prison term. Parole is granted after a person has been sentenced to prison, however, is released on parole prior to serving the maximum term for the offense.

At the present time I have 31 probationers, and 23 parolees under supervision.

In Clinton County we have experienced approximately 80% success with those placed under probationary supervision. Because of this high success rate, many border line cases are placed on probation by the Court. If the person responds favorably, it has been a savings, both to the community, and to the offender. If, however, he does not perform properly on probation he can be brought back into Court, after violating terms of his probation, and sentenced to prison on the original charge.

When a person is placed under supervision he must follow prescribed rules, and report to the supervising agent at least monthly. Periodic home calls are made to verify their adjustment in the community by the supervising agent.

It is the goal of the supervising agent to assist the offender in making a proper community adjustment, and to resolve the problems which led to their criminal acts. If supervision is successful the offender will learn to accept his responsibilities, and become a productive citizen.

It costs far less to supervise a person in the community, rather than to house them in a penal institution. The following is a break down of costs per day to house a person in one of our State Penal Institutions.

Camp Program	$ 5.10 per day
Cassidy Lake (training camp)	6.52 per day
S.P.S.M.	7.49 per day
M.T.U.	7.61 per day
Mich. Reformatory	9.95 per day
Marquette Prison	14. 51 per day

It therefore, cost a yearly low figure of $1,861.50 per year to house a man in one of our camps to a high of $5,296.15 per year to house a man at the Marquette State Prison.

Compare this to an average of $250 per year to supervise an offender in the community.

Further, these figures do not reflect the fact that a person who is in the community under supervision, and is working is able to support himself and those dependent upon him, plus he is a tax paying member of the community.

My salary and mileage expenses are paid for by the State of Michigan. Most forms used in the office are also provided by the state.

Clinton County provides me with office space, and office equipment, telephone, plus regular office supplies. The County also provided me with a secretary, however, 1/2 of her wages are paid for by Gratiot County.

During the past year my office collected $5,100 in court costs, which were ordered by the Circuit Court of those under probation supervision.

95% of all persons convicted of felonies, and sent to prison are returned to the community within 5 years. It is the goal of the Department of Corrections to assist these offenders so that they have resolved their problem, and become productive, useful citizens.

The following inspections are required by the Clinton County Zoning Administration: Site, footing, rough-in, and final inspections. The Zoning Administrator and Building Inspector travelled approximately 50,000 miles making said inspections and following up complaints.

To give you some idea of what is involved in obtaining a building permit in Clinton County please note the attached sheet of information given to anyone inquiring about the procedure for obtaining a permit. You will note that it is quite involved. However, we feel that all of the information required is necessary to insure the general public that they will have good housing and that it will build a good community.

The Zoning Commission held six regular meetings, two special meetings, ten informal meetings (to work on the proposed ordinance) and six field trips. During the six regular and two special meetings twenty-six applications were heard. Eleven were for approval and recommendations, ten for rezoning and five for special use permits.

The Appeal Board met ten times. Forty-two appeals were heard. Twenty-eight trailer permits were approved through this board and five trailer permit applications were denied. Other appeals were heard by this board, also.

Work was continued in the office on up-dating records. Appeal Board minutes were typed and put in a permanent binder. Indexing and fastening of all old and new files has pretty much been completed.

The Zoning Administrator and members of the Clinton County Zoning Commission spent some time this past year viewing modular homes being built at their respective factories. A great deal of time was spent in helping these companies get on the right track and bring these models up to our Building Code so that they might be acceptable here in Clinton County. At this time there are about a half a dozen modular homes approved for location in Clinton County.

Respectfully submitted,
WILLIAM M. COFFEY, Administrator

Colored beans offer attractive alternative

EAST LANSING--Switching some bean acreage to dark red kidney beans offers growers several advantages, reports Larry Copeland, Michigan State University crops specialist.

"Plentiful supplies of certified Charlevoix seed grown in northern Michigan should prompt growers to plant some of their navy bean acreage in dark red kidneys instead of relying 100 percent on uncertified navy bean seed," Copeland pointed out recently.

Of more than 300,000 hundred-weight of navy bean seed needed to plant normal acreage, only about 55,000 hundred-weight of certified seed is available, noted Copeland.

He listed these advantages of

SPECIAL MEETING

May 15, 1971

If we were to look at a thirty-year-old land use map of Michigan, we would see vast oceans of green indicating agricultural land, and we would see but islands of grey representing our population centers. Looking at a 1971 land use map the reverse is true.

We would see vast areas of grey, but only islands of green. The pattern jars our senses as to what the result might be thirty years hence -- will greenland and open spaces be gone?

Take the green fertile agricultural land just in the southern half of our Lower Peninsula. Urban sprawl is moving like an octopus to smother this productive food land. Each time its tentacles push out to build yet another housing development, another grave for our food and fiber supply is sealed.

Two thirds of Michigan's dynamic agriculture is produced in 22 of our 83 counties, and no less than 20 of these 22 fertile counties bordered in southern Michigan could virtually disappear within 30 years, because our state lacks the necessary guidelines for intelligently controlled growth.

Thankfully, however, man is a rational being and because he is, sprinklings of hope offer confidence that man will reel back from the onslaught on his environment. This is the promise citizens look for in our law certified Charlevoix seed grown in Northern Michigan;

--blight-free seed;
--assurance of a short maturity variety;
--assurance of varietal identity;
--high germination rate (above 90 percent);
--rapid germination and uniform stand.

Use of Charlevoix seed would support northern Michigan's young certified colored bean seed industry while hedging the risk on navy bean blight, Copeland added.
"Charlevoix has good seed quality and resistance to the anthracnose diseases," he said. "This variety was developed for Michigan and is earlier in maturity than California dark red kidney.

"Markets for dark red kidney beans have been very strong in recent years and competitive with other types of beans."
Growers should contact their county Cooperative Extension Service office immediately if they would like to consider planting certified Charlevoix seed.

Bring 'em back ALIVE!

THREE FACTORS WERE MOST COMMON IN THE STATE'S TRAFFIC FATALITIES LAST YEAR: ALCOHOL, SPEED TOO FAST FOR CONDITIONS ON TWO-LANE ROADS AND DARKNESS. BE ALERT FOR THESE DANGERS AND "BRING 'EM BACK ALIVE!"

Untested soybean seed expensive

EAST LANSING--Planting untested soybean seed can be costly--especially this year, cautions Larry Copeland, Michigan State University crops specialist.

He reports that Michigan's seed certifying agency, the Michigan Crop Improvement Association, is finding erratic soybean seed germination rates.

"Farmers planting certified soybean seed are assured that the germination rate is at least 85 percent," reports Copeland. "But farmers using soybeans from their own bins may get very low germination rates."

So if you can't buy certified seed, test your seed so you will know the germination rate, he suggests. Then you can figure how much to change your planting rate to get a plant stand of 8 to 10 plants per foot, depending on the row width.

making bodies.
This crisis grows larger each day because state and local governments get the majority of their funds from property and consumer taxes, and this tax pressure is shoving farmers off the land. According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, farmers pay over 20 percent of their net income for property taxes--four to five times greater than non-farmers.

The fatal error is born in taxing farmland for its potential development value rather than for the purpose of raising food.

The "Green Acres" bill, House Bill 4100 and Senate Bill 130, can save agricultural land by taxing it for that purpose alone. However, it clearly points out that if ag-land were ever sold for another purpose, a special roll-back tax would be enforced to equalize any tax relief the land had received in the past, thereby curbing its fast disappearance.

As private citizens, you can help by supporting your governmental representatives to make the right decision and in keeping any fatalistic forecast of Michigan agriculture in the perspective of only a bad dream.

A day to memorialize

In some minds today, it may seem old-fashioned or not "up with the times" to pause on Memorial Day to honor America's War Dead. This is truly a sad situation in a country whose freedom has been fought for in many ways.

Granted, the conflict in Vietnam and our country's involvement is not looked upon in the same light as the world wars.

But the deaths of American servicemen are as real and their memory and what they died for are equally important.

To pay less tribute today to our War Dead is to turn our backs on our great democracy and make a mockery of the freedoms which we still enjoy and for which so many have paid the supreme sacrifice.

Another great success

The St. Johns community has done it again.

Another successful Soap Box Derby program is history, but the goodwill, the learning experience by young people, and the overall promotion benefits to a community, will linger for a long time.

And we shouldn't overlook the tremendous effort put forth by individuals who take it upon themselves to guide this annual event to completion. The months of planning together with some strong praying for good weather, is all a part of it.

Such programs are looked forward to by youngsters—and their parents—from one year to the next. It is often a family venture, and we can stand more of this type of togetherness.

It will be sad out

It will be sad out Sunday.

It will be Memorial Day for the 104th time.

And for the 104th time the day will be marked in traditional and contrasting ways.

For some the day, ironically, will mean nothing more than the opening of the fun season.

I remember the 100th Memorial Day—an afternoon in Tiger Stadium where pennant hopes were flying.

For some at the ballpark that day, perhaps it was a recollection of the last pennant in Detroit. That was in 1945 when once again baseball provided some relief from the war headlines.

There will be much camping and picnicking and fishing this Saturday.

For some it will be parades to watch or march in and bands and speeches.

Veterans will march—some slowly—and some will wonder.

In some parades young boys will march and they, too, will wonder, but in a different way.

Some day they will understand and then they won't and they will wonder.

People will go to church Sunday.

Because it is a day to pray. Others, away from the parades and the crowds and backyard barbecues, will spend some of Sunday quietly in that quietest place of all—a cemetery.

It is a day for weeping, too.

However you do it, the purpose is to honor the nation's war dead.

And by nightfall, half a world away, their numbers will be higher.

They will be remembered next year.

Perhaps you won't be able to tell—and maybe you're fortunate—but it will be sad out Sunday.

Auto safety

Note: Recent "air-bag" safety tests resulted in death to the baboon that was used in the experiment.

They're tryin' to make it safer
To ride our thoroughfares,
They've rigged us up with belts n' straps
N' "gee gaws" everywhere;
The latest is a new wind-bag,
(Not any political goon)
They tested it the other day
N' killed a pet baboon!

For test they tried a sudden stop
With instrument device,
Supposed to be super-duper soft
Make landing soft and nice;
They hitched it up all proper,
Had everything in tune
The experiment was A-O-K.
But it killed the poor baboon!

This is an age of science,
Our kit of new techniques
Requires a bit of olin'
T' eliminate the squeaks;
It takes a master engineer
T' hitch us fer our doom
With new complicated harness
Like killed the poor baboon!

Once again I'm all fer progress,
Though sometimes I can't define
Twixt it 'n monkey business,
Just where they draw the line;
Some day I'll make an exit,
Hope 'n trust it's not too soon
I've no desire to emulate
That poor trussed up baboon!

LA PORTE, Ind., HERALD-ARGUS: "... (It) is an excellent idea of the teachers and students of high school government classes ... to assign students to actually ride and walk for awhile with local police officers while the latter are on the job ... Those students will witness the almost unsolvable problems that are the not uncommon lot of officeholders. And perhaps, if they cruise in the police squad cars at the opportune time or wait long enough at the police lockup, they will be witnesses to the fools men make of themselves in a human society which badly needs refining."

Verne was right

Jules Verne would be pleased. One of his most notable forshadowings is about to become reality—if it hasn't already.

He was right before too. It was Mr. Verne who foresaw the use of a huge underwater ship operating on some fantastic and mysterious energy. The energy is now called the atom and we have such ships that can operate for years under water if necessary.

He also knew that people, someday, could travel around the world in 80 days or less. Now, or course, it's just a matter of hours. Men on the moon, traveling through space—well he wrote about it all. Now another little invention is about to change the shape of things to come.

We've all heard about the laser beam. It's been used to heal torn retinas in the eye. It can be used to cut metal and diamonds. It was just a matter of time before the Pentagon rounded up scientists who had worked on the light beam to put their collective minds to use for America. Now we have a super-for-real death ray.

And a bomber to go along with it, according to the Pentagon's project manager. Maj. Gen. Douglas T. Nelson, who is working on the bomber plan, told newsmen last week that the United States is developing a special airplane capable of disintegrating any or all opposing planes or missiles.

The plane, called the B1, should be operational in 1974 and is designed to penetrate any defense system that could be devised for years to come.

Any nation that could equip its forces with a weapon like the death ray could, indeed, rule the world. It is the same situation that existed when the Americans, British and Russians were battling the Germans to come up with the atomic bomb first. For a period the Americans in fact ruled the world after the destruction of Nagasaki and Hiroshima.

The game changed considerably once the Russians developed the atomic bomb on their own. So, it appears we have been trapped in the same game again. If we do not go ahead and develop this new destructive death ray system, we will be at the mercy of any other nation that does, meaning Russia.

Men will never be happy with peace it seems, since they always create situations for mutual destruction—and eventually it happens.

No matter how many peaceful demonstrations or letter writing campaigns to congressmen are organized, the long-range results are the same. Negotiations work for years to finally bring about a series of talks on arms limitations, such as exist now, and a settlement is reached. Then the two nations turn around to create other weapons equally destructive. Senators and Representatives work feverishly to halt the SST production in order to save the environment, only to sink more money into such projects as the B1.

Not everyone may want to join the hippies and freaks who have dropped out of society—those who have stopped working within the system—but their intentions are understandable in a world of contradictions.

Since the Western World was forged during the past 2,000 years, man, as a species, has finally lost the power to shape his destiny. He has become a slave to circumstance.

It is another point that Jules Verne, and others like H.G. Wells and George Orwell, had predicted. Man creates the machine but ends up the machine himself.

'IF IT FITZ ...'

Pass something to Mother

By JIM FITZGERALD

When you sit down to eat at our house, you get to chew on a lot more than food.

And this is a good thing, says Dr. Dena Cederquist who is a nutrition expert at Michigan State University. Of course, she's never eaten at our house. We never feed strangers at our house, unless they are cats.

From the State House

Wishy-washy, but firm

By REP. DICK ALLEN

No doubt there are those in the 88th District who would like their representative to take a firm stand against any increase in state taxes this year.

Newspapers and other communications media are beginning to talk about new taxes. I am getting an early trickle of letters from businessmen and others that in one way or another say this, "Don't vote for tax increases."

I have been mailing these people a wishy-washy reply. Now I am ready to take a firm stand and give all of you my wishy-washy position on taxes.

I will (reluctantly) vote for an increase in the State personal income tax. I will (reluctantly) support the Governor's proposal for a Value Added Tax or some other new tax on business. IF I ... I have two big ifs and a number of little ones.

The first if is one you have been hearing from me for a long time. If there is provision for schools and local government whereby we can have a substantial reduction in property taxes. By substantial I mean around a 50 percent reduction in total property taxes or a complete replacement of school operating tax.

THE SECOND IF you may not have heard from me before, if there is provision for a revision retirement benefits for certain school teachers and other public employees. I realize teachers and State employees are not currently real popular with many people and you may react against increased benefits for them. However, there is a serious problem that has not been fully brought to the attention of the public.

Teachers who retired before 1956 get no social security. They put in their lifetime of work, made continual contributions to the State retirement program and now receive a maximum yearly benefit of $1,800!

A deplorable situation! Agree? Whose fault is it? Inflation is the culprit, of course. And a good many of us are at fault for that. Most all government officials. Any wage earner that has asked for and received an increase in wages without having increased his production equally. Likewise for all businessmen and professionals who have increased prices or fees.

I'll tell you who's not at fault. Retired school teachers living on $1,800 a year! They are long since due an increase. They haven't got it simply because they don't have the political clout some other groups have.

Well, now they've got Dick Allen on their side.

Then a bunch of little ifs. I don't like the way the new Value Added Tax is going to apply to agriculture and certain businesses under current guidelines. There are other ifs ... all together I think this is a wishy-washy column. But taxes are a tough issue. It's hard to take an absolute stand.

Dr. Cederquist bemoans the loss of the family dinner-hour. Today, people eat on the run, she complains, and that's bad—not only for your digestion, but also for your mind, personality and character.

"The dinner table was a place where ideas were exchanged, questions debated and where children learned to be part of a group," Dr. Cederquist says. It is, she says, a shame Dr. Cederquist is a woman.

Otherwise, she might have married my wife and they certainly would have lived happily ever after. This would have left me a lonely bachelor, reading a newspaper as I ate my meals, with no kids fighting across the roast beef and no cats licking crumbs off my shoes. Under such miserable conditions I probably couldn't have survived more than 150 years before I died of a terrible ache in my side from laughing so much.

My wife likes to teach lessons in living at the dinner table. For instance, during a recent dinner I happened to catch sight of her through the flowers and candles in the middle of the table. She looked peaked and drawn. There was no food on her plate.

"WHY AREN'T you eating?" I asked her.

"Because no one will pass me any food," she gasped, writhing in the last stages of malnutrition.

All of the food was on my side of the centerpiece where I could suck it up without even leaning forward. Attacking from the sides, both kids could also easily grab what they wanted. But my wife couldn't even see the food.

"Why don't you ask us to pass something?" I asked.

"I shouldn't have to ask," she answered.

It occurred to me that the food is always placed at my end of the table, every meal, every day.

"How long has it been since you've eaten?" I asked her.

"About a month," she said. "The last time was when the kids had guests and I got to sit at your end of the table."

"You set the table every meal. Why do you always put the food at my end? Why don't you put some at your end?" I asked her.

"I want to teach this family some manners," she said. "You shouldn't just sit down and gobble. You should always pass the food plates around and you should never have to be asked to pass something."

"Not even the butter?" I asked.

"I might have asked for the butter but I never had anything to spread it on," she said as she slowly slumped to the floor.

"What's wrong with Mother?" our daughter asked.

"She has passed out from not having anything passed," our son explained. "It's a good thing she didn't fall on my cat."

Onward and Upward.

COMMENTS FROM OTHER PAPERS

TOWNSEND, Mont., STAR: "The average 18-year-old cannot remember when there was no television. To him, nothing is true—nothing has happened—unless he sees it on TV. ... Today's youth has parents and grandparents who base knowledge and experience on an entirely different set of values. They grew up reading carefully ordered words. They were mature before being bombarded by ... on-the-scene news, glamorous entertainment, violence in the raw, provocative commercials, and fantasy formats. The older generation brings to its evaluation a cause and effect realism. Youth's desires are not bounded by what can or cannot be. They have no built-in timer that says 'work and save and wait.' The poor see into the homes of the rich. The uneducated opt for the status of those who have arrived. Television has brought actuality into the home. What young people see is fact for them. It is simply a matter of the age of the viewer as to what is seen and what message received."

Feelings lost

By REV. HUGH BANNINGA

Before you read my article today I want you to get your Bible out and turn to the Gospel of St. Mark and read chapter 2, verses 1 through 12.

The first thing this story points out is Jesus' compassion. Again and again it is said of Jesus that He was moved with compassion. In Matthew's gospel we read, "When He came ashore, he saw a great crowd and His heart went out to them, and he cured those of them who were sick." In Luke's gospel, chapter 7, we read about Jesus coming upon a funeral procession in the city of Nain. The dead person was the only son of his widowed mother.

She had no family left—he was all she had.

"When the Lord saw her, his heart went out to her, and he said, 'Weep no more.' And then Jesus restored the son to his mother."

There are many more illustrations of Jesus' compassion for people. The point is, that as you and I read the gospel story, we cannot help but hear the call to imitate Jesus. You and I are to have compassion for others.

In this modern age we live in, we hear and see so much of man's inhumanity to his neighbor. Nobody cares anymore. The attitude is that you have to look out for "Number 1". People have lost the feeling of pity and compassion for others.

If there was a time when the world needed compassionate people more than ever, it is right now. Right now this battered world of ours needs a great number of people imitating the compassion of Jesus.

The second thing we learn from the story is that Jesus forgives the sinner. In this story Jesus went straight to the root of the problem. He forgave the man his sins. He healed the man's guilt. Jesus didn't even inquire about the man's paralysis. When Jesus saw the persistence of the men who lowered the paralytic through the hole in the ceiling, he simply told the man that his sins were forgiven.

This is the wonderful good news of the gospel—that Jesus can forgive sins through the power of Almighty God.

Remember, in the story there were some scribes there watching the healing take place. (Today, we would call those men lawyers.) When Jesus forgave the man his sins those scribes said, "Why does this fellow talk like that? This is blasphemy! Who but God can forgive sins?"

The scribes were blinded by their own ignorance. They could not understand how any mere man could forgive sins. Well, of course, they didn't know who Jesus really was, so they couldn't understand that He had the authority to forgive sins.

There are still a lot of people today who are blinded by their own ignorance. They just cannot understand God's gracious mercy. They cannot get it into their heads that God cares so much for them that He willingly and freely forgives them their sins—provided, of course, that they recognize their sins and intend to lead a new life by not repeating the old sins.

Jesus knew that the people of his day would blame their illnesses and troubles on outward causes—on the environment or on other people. But He knew what the real trouble was with people. He knew the real trouble was sin. Sin had to be flushed out first, before any real healing could take place. Sin had to be recognized, repented of—and the forgiveness could take place.

This is one aspect of the gospel message that we too often forget—that we are called to repent of our sins before we can get the forgiveness. Without repentance there is no forgiveness.

The final point this story makes is that Jesus deals with the whole personality—the whole being of a person.

After Jesus had rid the man of his guilt, He cured him of his paralysis. First, Jesus told the man his sins were forgiven. Then he said, "But to convince you that the Son of Man has the right on earth to forgive sins," and He turned to the paralyzed man and said, "I say to you, stand up, take your bed, and go home."

Jesus healed the man spiritually and physically. He made the man completely whole again.

This is the reason why the crowds followed Him where ever He went. People who had either seen for themselves or heard reports about Jesus' healing miracles had a vague feeling that life—real life—was passing them by.

People with all kinds of ailments—mental and physical—wanted to be completely well again. They felt certain Jesus could bring this about. So they followed Him around the countryside, hoping to meet Him personally; hoping to be completely healed.

How great it is to be able to read a story like the healing of the paralytic and to believe it! How great it is to believe that Jesus really healed that man—that He went straight to the cause of the problem and made him whole again!

Jesus can still do this today. Through the power of God, He can make people whole again, and, in fact, He does it every day.

If any of you readers have not tapped the healing power of God in your lives, if you are looking for physical and spiritual wholeness, then get on your knees and ask for it. Acknowledge your sins and let Christ take over.

The other issues

By SEN. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

Education, welfare, taxes, and even comparatively inconsequential issues like the coyote bounty and deer hunting come before the Legislature year after year.

But, over the past decade, many new and largely unforeseen issues of lesser import continue to pop up. Most of these are brought to the question stage by citizens or special interest groups who finally succeed in getting them to appear in bill form. The concept of "no fault" divorce is a good example of this.

This year, for instance, the so-called "Women's Lib" movement is beginning to make itself felt around the legislative halls.

Many women feel they suffer discrimination in the job market. That raises the question—and it may yet appear in a bill before the Legislature—of whether the public would support legislation guaranteeing women the right to compete for jobs equally with men and to receive equal pay for equal work even if the woman isn't the only breadwinner in her family.

Another question being raised in some circles is whether the Legislature should provide state-supported day care center programs for children of mothers who want to work, even though the mothers may not be the heads of their households.

Politics

I become steadily more puzzled with each year I hold elective office by the connotation the word "politics" seems to have in the public mind.

In the news media, any governmental decision or action that an editorial writer may disagree with is immediately branded "politics." Time and time again we hear the cry of "Let's keep politics out" of some area of public concern.

Yet, in the standard Webster dictionary on my desk, "politics" is defined, first and foremost, as simply "the art and science of government."

To be sure, in the middle of a long paragraph covering the various shades of word usage and meaning, there is a sub-definition that reads "political activities characterized by artful and often dishonest practices."

But this is merely one sub-definition out of fully 10 that are offered and it is the only sub-definition that could be considered unfavorable. The prime definition of "politics" is once again "the art and science of government."

Interestingly enough, the final sub-definition of "politics" offered by Webster is the total complex of relations between men in society.

I CALL THIS interesting because I believe that, under our form of government, these two definitions should be one and the same.

Under our form of government, "the art and science of government" should reflect, be responsible to and inseparable from "the total complex of relations between men in society."

In other words, "politics" should be nothing more than a synonym for "democracy."

Unfortunately "politics" seems to be the synonym for "democracy" that the press and the public tend to use chiefly

Still another (SB 635) is whether working women who become pregnant ought to be granted some sort of "maternity leave" which would guarantee them the right to return to the same job at the same pay after they've had their babies.

Environment is another lively issue and it brings many questions to the front. The question of a state ban on non-returnable bottles and cans is very much in the news these days. But there are others.

Most persons appear to favor stronger control of highway billboards, and now some are even advocating prohibiting them entirely from scenic areas.

On the matter of phosphate detergents, which are said to contribute heavily to the pollution of the state's water, non-phosphate detergents are gradually appearing on market shelves. The question now is being raised as to whether housewives would favor legislation requiring that the sale of phosphate detergents be completely stopped in the next few years.

Some persons have expressed concern at the accumulation of junked cars on unlicensed private property and have asked that legislation be introduced to ban such unsightly collections of heavy litter.

One long-standing complaint of people who spend money to upgrade their property is that they are penalized by increased property assessments. Some persons even feel that property assessments should be raised, instead, on property that is permitted to run down. Others feel that substandard housing might be improved if repairs to it were exempted from increased property assessments as a means of encouraging such improvements.

Interest is increasing almost daily in legislation designed to protect the consumer against highly questionable practices by manufacturers and retailers.

Some people would have the Legislature ban the sale of meat in tinted wrappers—for obvious reasons. Others would like the law to require that all retail products be priced by the pound ounce, or quart, etc., instead of by the package.

Another issue likely to surface soon is whether there should be a ban against the sale of installment loan contracts to a finance company or bank without the permission or even the knowledge of the purchaser.

These are just a few of the newer potential issues. They haven't come to a head yet, but one of these days most or all of them almost certainly will.

KEEP BAKING SODA FRONT-CENTER!

Don't bury that box of baking soda on the back of a shelf when you line up supplies in your brand new kitchen. And stow a package in a prominent place in your medicine cabinet, too, that is, if you really want to save money. Known also as a bicarbonate of soda, bicarb, or by its chemical formula NaHCO_3 , this powdery white substance, according to many enthusiasts, has more uses than anything aside from water. It goes into your batter to make baked goods rise. It puts out the fire in your stomach (acid indigestion), the fire in your skillet; peeps up your car battery, your weary feet; soothes burns, itches, bites, sore throats; shines silver, chrome, just about everything else in your home, including your teeth; kills bad breath and other unwanted smells, personal or otherwise; prevents rusting.

And lest you're tempted to pass baking soda off as just another of grandmother's old wonders, take a look at some of its recently discovered uses . . . Added to chicken feed it gives eggs a sturdier shell. Added to cattle feed, it causes the butterfat content of milk to rise.

Smart brides use classifieds!

They're budget-builders.

shower the bride with home-gifts

There's a special time in a girl's life when every day is like Christmas. And, no matter how harried or pressured the bride may be with wedding plans, the pleasure of receiving gifts and being honored at shower parties is an exciting and memorable experience.

What to give the bride is a question, if not a problem to her many friends as well as for the family. For the thoughtful who want to give a different gift, we suggest decorative accessories. Lamps, objets d'art, or even an accent table can be a distinctive and welcome gift.

For those who like to explore to find that special gift, the market place has never been more open. One collection of accessories and lamps from Tyndale, named after the Indian festival of lights when thousands of candles lit late into the night illuminate the wares of Indian merchants at their market, is called Divali. The Divali festival is a wild, beautiful time of warm friendliness. What could be more appropriate.

Inspired by 'this' festival, the collection features tables, plaques and wall accessories, floor and table lamps. The designs are key-noted by bold carving, delicate filigree and delightful ceramics which coordinate to achieve a total look. Used individually, they provide a most striking accent.

Pottery, native sculptures and painted furniture carved with Taj Mahal motifs are included, as well as lamps in burnished Indian silver with softly fluted shades. A silver lamp with an ostrich leg base highlights the Divali collection and is shown on both floor and table lamps. The wonderful look of the new fluted shades offers high fashion impact and appears on many of the lamps in the collection.

There is a wide range of materials used in the Collection, among them, terracotta. An antique terracotta finish Tangine dish on an Indian silver metal mounting is topped with a high-gloss white parchment shade. The Collection also includes an imported white ceramic garden seat, ideal as an accent to any room.

MULTIPLE WEDDINGS

July 12, St. Peter's Day, is the traditional time in Galienik, Yugoslavia, when group weddings are celebrated. Many young men of the village are employed away from home most of the year. Those planning marriage return for St. Peter's Day, and wedding ceremonies for the group are held. Festivities include feasting and dancing; they last for several days.

STAY THE LOVELY GIRL HE FELL IN LOVE WITH! FOLLOW THIS

If you're about to embark on a marital 'journey', you're bound to wonder just what the infamous 'first year' means when it gets down to the everyday reality of actually living with "him." Perhaps more than once the necessity of fitting your once 'out-in-the-open' beauty habits into your new "co-existence" has crossed your mind.

Sure it's easy to say, "Well, I'll do it before he gets home" but with all your new responsibilities and homemaking chores a haphazard "non-schedule" like that can leave you looking just as "hit and miss" as your beauty plan.

Since the smart bride can't risk losing an inch of beauty ground, we've asked the experts at The Pond's Beauty Institute to tell us about some easy shortcuts:

1. Organize whatever 'at-home' time you have. Make a list of everything that needs regular attention: like eyebrow tweezing, hair coloring, de-fuzzing and nail care and set aside even fifteen minutes a night — after the dishes are done, lingerie is washed and the bedroom is tidied — for caring for any one of these grooming 'niceties.' It's much less tiresome than suddenly discovering that you've let yourself go to the point where you need an entire "maintenance" evening alone just when your husband decides to bring his boss home for dinner!

2. Make products you buy do more than one job for you. For instance, if you use Pond's Cold Cream to remove your stubborn eye makeup its moisturizing ingredients will soften and smooth the tender eye area as they whisk away makeup and grime. (Much more soothing than the tight, rough feeling ordinary soap leaves.) Or — when you're shampooing your hair skip the plain cream rinse and try a multi-purpose "after-shampoo" that conditions, shines and "sets" your hair as it smooths out snarls. These 'bridal bonuses' accomplish two beauty "do's" in one quick step!

3. Keep your beauty "upkeep" to yourself. No new husband wants to see his wife decked out in hair curlers and facial masks. While he's showering, do some exercises in the bedroom and once he's vacated the shower turn it into a quick beauty spa. Keep your grooming "arsenal" in a pretty vanity case so you don't have to chase all over the apartment looking for the tweezers or shaving cream. Use your bubble bath in more than one way. While you're soaking, give yourself a quick "Minute Mask" with Pond's Oily Skin Treatment. It deep-cleanses pores as it soaks up excess skin oils — and leaves you gloriously aglow with a freshness he'll notice!

Most of all — enjoy yourself — don't let all your new found "togetherness" put a damper on your fun!

avoiding the ordinary is secret of successful entertaining by brides

"Entertaining" can be boring if you don't watch out. As a new bride you will probably be doing a lot of entertaining at first, but hostess and guests alike will miss all the excitement if things are always predictable — same menus, same table setting, same decorations.

Today there is no excuse for not trying more adventurous menus with the recipes to be found in the multitude of great cookbooks available, as well as all those in newspapers and magazines. No need, any more, to have the same party tablecloth and napkins, brought out with boring regularity and laundered with toil and tears. Table linens have never been gayer, more unusual or easier to care for.

A table setting is a sight you create to please the eye, and imagination is its chief ingredient, not splendid equipment. Keep in mind that there are very few rules for setting today's tables. Not everything must match, for instance. You can even use dress or upholstery fabrics instead of conventional linens. And don't be afraid to interchange everyday and formal sets. Earthenware is fine with simple sterling and crystal, and anything but the very elaborate patterns in fine china can be used with stainless steel.

When it comes to centerpieces, imagination is your only limitation. If you have the idea that it should always be flowers, remember that they are not very original unless you are an expert arranger or combine them with unusual containers. One successful hostess, for instance, put garden daisies in a large blue and white Spode teapot for an immediate conversation piece at a summer luncheon. Vegetables and fresh fruits can be much more appealing than a bunch of hothouse flowers, too. Lemons and green leaves, or white grapes in a crystal compote, for instance. And there's nothing more colorful than a bowl of polished apples or even a few purple eggplants if they complement the rest of your color scheme.

With a more intimate group at a smaller table where there is no room for a centerpiece that is merely decorative, you can center the table with part of the menu.

Tables become routine when we don't make the effort. And it is often surprising how much fun this type of effort can be!

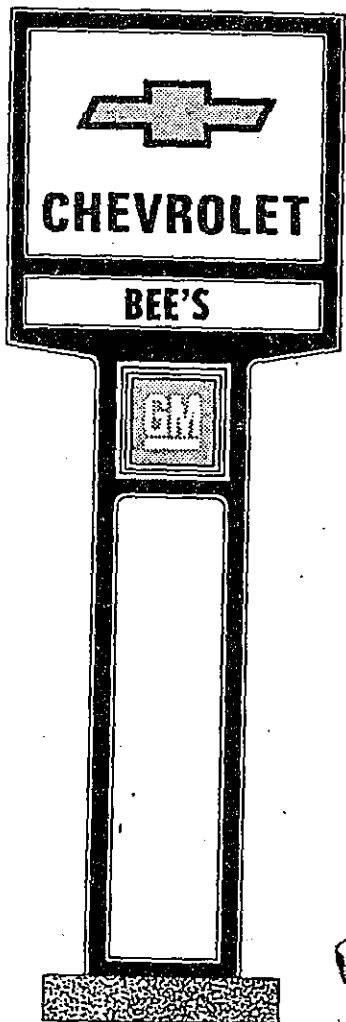

bride's first meals can be winners, all

A new bride will never serve burned biscuits, dried-out roasts or fallen soufflés if she has a modern electric range that times her favorite recipes right to the minute.

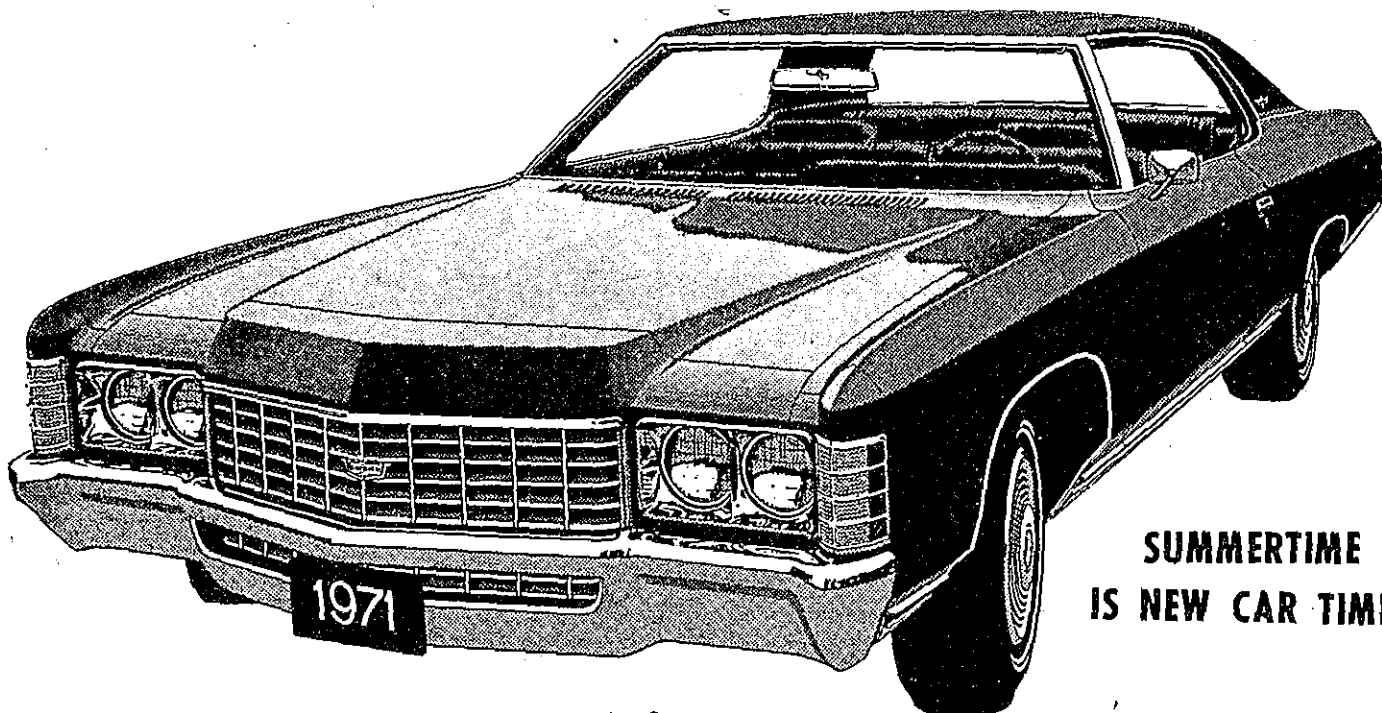

Such a wonder is a popular 30-inch range with many de luxe features that make cooking a real joy. General Electric makes it. Foremost is the self-cleaning feature which cleans electrically the entire oven, shelves, door, window, and surface unit reflector pans. Infinite control dials select precise heat on surface units and with the automatic oven timer there's no chance for a ruined dinner. In fact, today's bride doesn't have to be at home since the oven turns off automatically at the time designated!

A roomy storage drawer offers lots of space for utensils of all sizes. Recessed cooktop looks great and is easy to keep clean and shiny. With a matching exhaust hood, this handsome cooking center fits only 30 inches of space. The range is available in white, copper-tone, avocado and harvest.

Don't worry over non-essentials, and you'll find there is very little to worry about.

furniture to turn you on

The home furnishings industry is coming up with savvy new designs for young moderns with a flair for fashion and a fetish for function.

A leading manufacturer of bedroom, dining room and occasional furniture has caught wind of the contemporary demand for stylish furnishings that will stand the tests of versatility, durability and mini bank balances.

Newlywed apartment hunters insistent on a formal dining room need not quash their hopes after dragging through modern buildings with disappearing walls. For example, a 72-inch high buffet and hutch, by Kemp Furniture Industries, can help them literally build walls to appease their sense of gracious living.

The buffet and hutch, from the "American Settler" collection of colonial dining room and bedroom furniture, can be used as a room divider to carve a dining nook from a living room. The shelves of the hutch create a show-and-store wall for displaying favorite wedding gifts, and the cabinets of the buffet afford ample storage space for a formal china service. A mellow engraved pine finish guarantees a cozy atmosphere for twosome dining. Do-it-yourself adhesive paper can be applied to the back of the units to add a decorative fillip to the living area.

When the household's breadwinner is a junior executive on the transfer circuit, today's purchases must fit in tomorrow's home. To meet the mobile couple's special decorating and storage needs, Kemp manufactures modular two and three-drawer chests with matching bookcases. From the

"Brigadier" collection of military campaign furniture reminiscent of Napoleon's generals, the units are offered in five bold and bright painted finishes as well as a warm engraved Bombay pecan finish.

The chest and bookcases feature brass corner plates and inset handles for a neat and trim look with a lot of now power. The chests can be used alone as bedside tables or hall pieces. Topped with the bookcases, they'll bring order to growing record and book collections.

You Can't Go Wrong With a Gift Certificate

Silver holloware is the beautifully natural companion to a young lady's silver flatware. When she chooses her flatware pattern, it is a good idea to have her contemplate her holloware pattern as well. The jeweler will help her pick a pattern that harmonizes with her flatware and adds to the total beauty of her future table. Holloware such as a bud vase, bon bon dish, bread tray can be more gift notables to appear on a young lady's list and increase her silver happiness over the years that are the prelude to her wedding day.

Weekly menu planning enables the working wife to do most of her shopping on Saturday with only a few perishables to pick up daily.

Marilyn admires some of the serving pieces, part of the large selection of appreciated gifts found in Parr's Gift Gallery. Don Roesner, pharmacist at Parr's, invites all to come in and look around. You'll be surprised at the variety of gifts at Parr's.

Barry Dean of Dean's Hardware, stands by while Marilyn signs their newly displayed Bridal Registry. Barry explained that the new Bridal Registry comes in handy when it comes to choosing gifts for the bride and groom. Marilyn and all other brides can list their choice of colors and items they like best.

SHOWER THAT CATERS TO SLIM BEAUTY

This is a promise: the figure-conscious modern bride is going to become a figure-conscious wife the moment she takes that walk down the aisle. Nothing will change her determination to remain the slim-and-shapely sylph he fell in love with, which is an excellent thing in terms of health as well as aesthetics! So if one of your friends is going to be a 1970 bride, why not cater to her best interests by arranging to give her a shower that features a delicious supplementary diet-food. Try Carnation Slender!

Ask girl friends to choose as presents anything that will help her to keep her lovely figure through the housekeeping years ahead. Suggest as gifts a full-length plate glass mirror, hand-somely framed; petite bathroom scales; a set of the new greaseless cooking pans; six tall, straight-sided highballs and long handled stirrers (with which to mix her diet food from Carnation); and, of course, an electric blender for buzzing the drink into special-occasion drinks and desserts. Newly formulated without cyclamates, this protein-rich powder, Slender, can be mixed with nonfat fresh milk in a jiffy for a delicious 144-calorie snack or mini-meal.

What to serve the guests at this shower? Why not froth-up a batch of Wild Strawberry Champagne Frosteds as follows: For each serving, blend 1 packet Wild Strawberry Slender with 8 ounces nonfat milk; then add 3 ounces of champagne — which makes it a wild 219 calories. Pour into your prettiest hollow-stemmed champagne glasses, and drink a toast to the 1970 bride. Here's to her health and happiness!

brighten the corner . . .

A homemaker spends so much of her time in the kitchen — perhaps more there than in any other room in the house — that the room's decor should blend with her personality. Color, patterns, and arrangement of items all affect her attitude about working there.

If she's an extrovert, quick and enthusiastic and sunny of disposition, the bright bold colors of summer and sunshine are for her. Bold golds, fresh greens, and hot reds or pinks provide the color excitement she likes for walls and counter tops. She'll probably want a dramatic pattern in wallpaper or curtains. Accessories will add splashes of color too: a bold gold chafing dish and serving tray, bold gold Boutique tissues in a many-toned, muted-patterned box.

If she's a woman of classic tastes, calm and thoughtful and somewhat detached from what goes on about her, the cool colors of the spectrum are for her. True blues and avocado greens, pale beiges and browns set a restful atmosphere for her activities. If she uses patterns at all, they'll be classic and tasteful. Accessories will reflect the key colors in the room: appliance covers of blue piped with white, Kleenex tissues of true blue or avocado green in a skinny-mini, upright box, casseroles and serving accessories in soft greens.

Red Devereaux, new car manager for Bee's Chevrolet and Oldsmobile, Inc. shows Marilyn one of the many new '71 Chevrolets on display. Red also explained that while they have a wide selection of new cars available, they also have trucks, used cars, trailers, campers, a paint and body shop, and a large service department. Stop in soon . . . you'll find many fine Chevrolet products at Bee's.

Mrs. Peg Ike, Southgate Plaza Branch of Central National Bank shows Marilyn the china they now have on display and explains how it can be purchased by opening a savings account. Mrs. Ike also explained the advantages of having a joint checking account. Central National invites newlyweds or newcomers to our area to save time and effort by doing all their banking with Central National Bank.

A ring to dream on . . . that very special dream she keeps locked in the most secret part of her heart, waiting for the right man with the right words to send her dream flying free, into reality. Naturally, the ring is a diamond engagement ring, the pledge ring to guard and protect a love that will last forever.

An ancient symbol of sentiment that may have begun with rings of plaited rush, the engagement ring has evolved through time and tradition until it is instantly recognized as that glowing diamond on the third finger of the left hand, matched by the glowing face of the girl wearing it. So long ago that origins have been lost in the haze of centuries, diamonds were believed invincible, chosen to symbolize purity and light, to be protection against the dark forces of Evil. It is a wise tradition that has made the diamond the visible, brilliant guardian of that great experience called Love.

Every girl wants her diamond to be worthy of her dream. And that's the wish of every reliable jeweler, too . . . and his job. The Jewelry Industry Council recommends that an engaging couple seek the advice and help of a qualified jeweler who will tell them the true value, fiery worth and merit of the diamond they can build their dream on . . . together, forever.

A jeweler judges a diamond according to the "4 C's": Cut, Color, Clarity and Carat.

Cut: The transformation of a rough stone into a dazzling gem, and the shape this dazzlement takes comes under the heading, "cut." Principal diamond shapes are the brilliant or round, the emerald, the pear, the oval and the marquise or boat-shaped. The shape her engaging diamond takes is her ultimate decision.

Precious Dowry, Sterling Silver

There's so much versatility today in sterling that she'll be amazed at how many solid silver patterns go with both formal fine china and modern pottery designs. If she likes a certain amount of design in both the elegant and casual china patterns, she's advised by most tableware experts to choose one of the simple sterling patterns. The linear designs in the dramatic modern group of solid silver, as well as the restrained look seen in some of the traditional group, complement many decorated china patterns. On the other hand, if she's considering the tried and true gold-banded china, along with an earthenware pattern in perhaps a bright, clear color, her sterling can be one of the more decorated patterns. The general rule to keep in mind is that in any selection of china, glass and flatware, one of the three should contrast with the other two — not so much in style as in the amount of decoration.

life — and you, can be beautiful!

Blenders, vacuum cleaners, dish-washers, toasters — they're the modern appliances designed to make life (and housework) beautiful, quick and easy for you, the bride-to-be.

But appliances not only make life beautiful, they can make you beautiful as well — and help you keep your wedding-day beauty every day. The bride-to-be should be as concerned with the recent revolutionary developments in the world of personal-care appliances as she is in home-care appliances. They too, offer the gift of time — as well as of beauty.

It's the True-to-Light Makeup Mirror by Clairol — and it can make all the difference to your finished appearance. Sit it conveniently on your dressing table or bathroom shelf. All you do is turn the dial and your reflection

Today, with a simple flick of a switch, you can whittle your waistline while reading a book, put on an instant suntan, give yourself a professional facial and set your hair in 10 minutes flat.

The prospective bride's new-found world of electrical beauty also contains a magic mirror, where you just dial a light mood to apply the correct makeup for the light you're going to be seen in — daylight, office light, evening light. You can dial the soft glow of a candlelight ceremony!

Shades Of A Sunny Honeymoon

All brides are beautiful on their wedding day. It's a tradition. And it's only natural. In a long white gown, radiant, glowing and the center of everyone's attention and admiration, what girl wouldn't be beautiful?

But, wedding day beauty is a delightful illusion that requires a little know-how, some common sense and a bit of planning, if it's going to last through the honeymoon.

If you're like seventy per cent of this year's brides, you and your husband-to-be have probably chosen a place in the sun for those warm and wonderful first weeks together. And, you'll probably be spending a lot of time sunning on the beach or by the pool, so a flattering swimsuit — one that's just right for your figure — should be a top priority.

Begin by being honest. If you're a little on the round side, don't plan on dieting down to bikini proportions. Instead, choose a groovy, new one-piece suit perhaps in a wild and exotic Tahitian print, cut to a deep V in front and back. Then, add a matching sarong and a pair of topaz tinted "Aquarius" shades and this great look becomes just as seductive as a bikini and much more mysterious.

The eye-catching print and the cut of the swimsuit camouflage a multitude of figure flaws, while the long skirt adds height and a graceful line. And Foster Grant shades with their straight, classic styling can make a round face seem less round and more angular, while the topaz tinted lenses add a touch of eye make-up and allure. It's not magic. It's just an illusion or, let's say, a sleight-of-fashion-hand trick.

There are others, too. For instance, a square, chiseled face can look softer, more feminine with the simple addition of some circular styled shades like "Big Rounds." If your nose is short and stubby, it can look a little longer and more aristocratic with shades that have a high bridge like the popular new "Red Baron" aviator-specs. And, conversely, if you'd like to cut down a long nose, choose shades with a low bridge like their "Six-Sided" sunspecs, or simply let your shades slip down your nose a little — in the process you might even acquire that slightly myopic look that made Marilyn Monroe so appealing.

There are tricks with lens colors, too. Foster Grant, the world's largest manufacturer of sunglasses, points out that pink lenses create a little girl look and are great for concealing under-eye shadows. Blue lenses brighten up a cloudy day and give a fresh, outdoorsy look, while the warmer tints of topaz, amber and smoke are more sultry and mysterious.

And soft tinted lenses can also soften such make-up tricks as contouring and false eyelashes.

There is a sunglass shape, color and tint that's right for every face. So, with a little planning and a wardrobe of fashionable and flattering shades, any bride can make the illusion of wedding day beauty a reality.

make lacey cloth from plain white paper napkins . . .

An elegant, lacey tablecloth made from plain white paper napkins can be the basis for a festive bridal table setting that's easy to make and beautifully romantic.

Take about 12 paper napkins, center fold once and then cut out small triangles along folded edge. Continue the same scissor fun on all: it's much like cutting out linked paper dolls. Unfold all the napkins and attach each square together with "Scotch" Spra-Ment which bonds quickly to a variety of materials.

You'll find you have created a glamorous table cover as delicate as fine lace. Place it over a solid colored felt cloth or any contrasting tablecloth you have.

Now try your hand at this eye-catching centerpiece from which streamers extend to edges of table in a gay, maypole effect. Streamers are decorated with white bows topped with sprigs of flowers. Shown here are three glasses and two plates, all sprayed with metallic silver paint. Small silver beads are adhered to glasses with Spra-Ment for a gala effect. Glasses and plates are bonded together with Super Strength Adhesive. Lower plate is lined with appetizing candies and sweets. Top plate is piled high with ferns, small flowers, ribbons, and a pair of white doves, all sparkling with glitter. Ribbons and sparkles as well as decorations are bonded together with Spra-Ment.

ONE VIEW

"Don't take a wife," he said, "from a desire To make economies and spare expense. A faithful servant shows more diligence In guarding your possessions than a wife For she claims half you have throughout her life . . ."

—Geoffrey Chaucer, "The Merchant's Tale" in The Canterbury Tales.

A GIFT OF BEAUTY

The supreme gift to remind her, always, of the great joy and happiness of her wedding day could be a diamond-studded dress watch, petite diamond earrings, a diamond pendant or pin.

For the groom, diamond jewelry is truly distinctive. Surely gold-and-diamond cuff links and tie tac, a diamond-set ring or diamond-rimmed dress watch are suitable ways for the bride to pledge her love!

Bridal Photographs

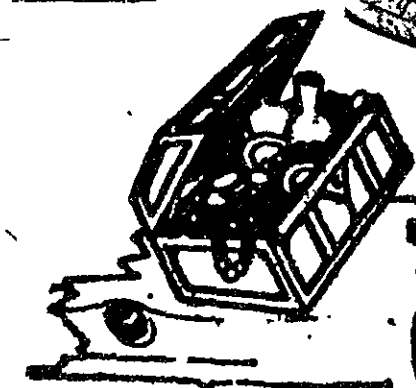

Here's a tip for photographic sittings. Bring eye drops along with other cosmetics to help capture that special sparkle.

Every bride should try to remember that a woman's personality is most vividly expressed in her face, especially her sparkling eyes. So at a time when most girls are preparing for the Big Day, and don't get enough sleep and rest, let eye drops be a bride's secret beauty helper.

light 'n' lovely look of straw brightens home in many ways

A harvest of straw items — pretty as well as practical — is in the stores this fall. Gathered from markets around the world, straw for kitchen or table comes in a variety of sizes and shapes, weaves and textures, and assorted colors.

Place mats, from almost any corner of the world, provide the groundwork for a table that's sumptuously laid. They are available in the whole spectrum of colors.

Baskets — from Madeira, Mexico, Hong Kong, Mediterranean or Eastern Europe — are practical accessories. Use them to hold wine bottles and rolls; line them with small glass dishes for condiment trays; or pile them high with a harvest centerpiece of fruit, dried flowers, or Indian corn and gourds.

In the kitchen, straw is practical and decorative. Straw whisks from Scandinavia prove ideal for whipping and folding. The traditional Swedish scouring whisk, a bunch of straw tied tightly together in the center, cleans pots in a jiffy. And an American classic with a new straw look, Kleenex tissues, comes to the rescue of the cook's onion tears or pepper sneezes.

The new dispenser size box, "The First Straw," is available in tones of blue, green, yellow or pink, to match the pastel tissues it holds, or in natural straw tones for the white tissues. With the brand name remaining on only two adjoining corners once the box is open, it becomes a decorative — and necessary — accessory to keep handy on counter, shelf, or window sill.

For centuries straw has been used in and around the home, as floor coverings, fire-shades, toys, mats and baskets. Its revival this year in new and traditional forms is welcome indeed to the homemaker who wants her accessories to be functional as well as attractive.

COOKWARE IN HAPPY BLUE COLOR

Though the barbeque season may be drawing to a close in your area and the crush of holiday cooking is fast approaching, you don't need to feel cramped in the kitchen. Here are a few helpful hints for bringing the relaxed outdoor atmosphere in with you!

Bring a radio — good music hath charms to sooth the harried homemaker. Collect quick 'n' easy recipes for holiday fare and take advantage of the many new convenience foods. Make sure your kitchen is cheerful and restful; surround yourself with bright colors and comfortable furnishings.

And, of course, make cooking more fun with cookware which is both pretty and practical. A real "spirit-lifter" is Ekco's new Sky Blue decorated cookware from their State Fair line. Sky Blue brings the crisp freshness of a clear day into the kitchen. The bright white design on saucepan and casserole covers is another fashion first.

It's beauty is more than skin deep. The cookware has Teflon II linings for non-stick, non-scratch, easy-to-clean cooking. An aluminum core spreads burner heat evenly, and vapor seals lock in good tastes and numerous vitamins your family needs. For the gourmet cook, there's a new specially designed omelet pan, too.

When you're not cooking, enjoy Sky Blue as part of your kitchen decor. Handy hang-up tongs in saucepan and omelet pan handles let you hang them in a wall arrangement. And since the line is self-nesting-storing, it's a perfect decorator item for the newly popular open shelving.

"Early American" reflects an attitude. This country is full of people who want their home to be a sheltering haven — sentimental? Unashamedly. The nostalgia of the fireside is preserved intact in some of the newest Early American furniture even though it ranges from the late 17th to the mid-19th Century in inspiration. Comfortable good design usually dwells with them.
