Sealed Power sponsors employee in Bicentennial Wagon Train

By Patrice Hornak Herald Feature Writer

A Bicentennial Wagon Train pilgrimage of wagons from all over the country to Pennsylvania in celebration of our nation's 200th birthday is a mind-bending thought-and an experience which Jim Carpenter of Ashley could not pass up.

Jim and his eight-year-old daughter, Carie, will be leaving Michigan on May 26 from Petersburg, Mich. and will be joining the national Bicentennial Wagon Train which will move into Ohio on May 27. The journey will take approximately six weeks, as the wagon train is expected to reach Valley Forge, Penn., on July 3. An employee of Sealed Power of St. Johns, Jim has been given time off from his job in order to make the journey.

For this opportunity, the wagon which Jim will be driving will display a sign which says, "This vehicle doesn't use Sealed Power piston rings but your car or truck should."

Traveling between 10 and 30 miles per day, the Carpenters will slowly make their way East with the rest of the national wagon train, which is about one-mile long. The Michigan wagons in the national wagon train are expected to total 40, with 100 people participating.

Jim's wife, Cathy, hopes to join her husband and daughter in Valley Forge on July 4. The Carpenters also have a daughter, Shannon who is five years old and a son, Jonas, who is seven weeks old.

THE HISTORY OF WAGON TRAINS

The chronicle of the wagon train is the story of infant America.

Early in the 18th century, settlers began moving inland. An endless procession of covered wagons loaded with household goods and supplies headed westward.

The wagons scaled the Allegheny Mountains, made trails through the broad western plains, followed primitive Indian paths through valleys and mountain gaps and took advantage of natural waterways by floating on rafts and river boats whenever possible.

The wagons followed the trail to opportunity and opportunity made America great.

As an appropriate tribute to the nation's 200th anniversary, the wagons are rolling once more-only this time they are heading eastward-back to the Cradle of Liberty.

EVERY STATE in the Union has a covered wagon in the pilgrimage. The original 13 states have Conestoga wagons and the rest, including Michigan, have Prairie Schooners. The first wagon left Blain, Washington on June 8, 1975 and the others began later.

The wagons rolled into Fort Laramie, Wyoming, in late October, 1975 and made their winter quarters there.

The Michigan wagon has been touring the state since August of 1975 with a historical display including Michigan, American, Black and Michigan Indian history.

Wagons and their teams of horses from Michigan have joined the official Michigan wagon and will follow behind the official wagon all the way to Pennsylvania.

People just like Jim and Carie Carpenter have built their wagons and taken up the pilgrimage call. There are members of the wagon train who are in wagons, some on horse and some who are walking-as many of our ancestors walked the major part of the journey west.

Every day on the road and every night camping in local park sites, and in National Parks, the wagoners will host the people of America. After a 15-mile per day journey, there will be a need for some good old American celebration.

After the Bicentennial Wagon Train has reached Valley Forge on July 4, it will encamp there for two months during the height of the Bicentennial celebration. Millions of people are expected to visit the park during the period and will be invited to join the wagoners for daily and evening activities.

Jim and Carie Carpenter are ready to start on their Bicentennial journey.

Clinton among 13 counties to receive emergency funds

Dorn Diehl, State Executive Director of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office, reports that 13 counties have been approved in Michigan for assistance under the Emergency Conservation Measures (ECM) program. These counties include: Clinton, Ingham, Ionia, Kent, Mecosta, Montcalm, Muskegon, Newaygo, Oceana, Ottawa, Saginaw, St. Clair and Tuscola. Damage in these counties was caused by the ice storm of March 2 and 3, 1976, which caused heavy losses of fruit trees. Eligible farmers in these counties have been notified by their local county ASCS office about the program.

Diehl said the program objective of ECM is to rehabilitate farmland damaged by wind erosion, flood, hurricane, or other natural disasters. The program shares the cost of restoring damaged farmland with eligible farmers. He said local county ASC committees have broad authority to implement the program when new conservation problems have been created on farmland by a natural disaster.

Such damage must be unusual in character and, except for drought or wind erosion, not be the type which would reoccur frequently in the same area.

The damage must either materially affect the productive capacity of the land or, if not treated, impair or endanger the land. It must be so costly to rehabilitate that Federal assistance will be required to return the land to productive agricultural use.

Diehl said the supply of sweet cherry trees is very limited and it takes six to seven years after planting before trees are in production. In the meantime, this causes a serious loss to the fruit grower.

ONE OF BEE'S TEAM

TOM HOLLIS

Engineering the washing procedures out in Bee's Car Wash these days is a young fellow by the name of Tom Hollis. A senior at St. Johns High School, Tom has been employed at Bees for the past 8 months. Like most successful people these days, Tom started at Bees sweeping floors and has elevated himself to his present role.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hollis of 306 No. Oakland Street in St. Johns, he has five brothers and two sisters. His brother Rich is also employed at Bees in the parts department.

Tom's plans after graduation is to follow in his father's footsteps in the skilled work of re-finishing butcher blocks. With his father covering most of the available Michigan territory, Tom plans to go into Canada and exercise his trade there.

Aside from being a student at SJHS, Tom finds time to work on a little project which he hopes will end up as a micro-mini race car. He is looking for a 500 cc. motorcycle engine with which to power his creation but so far has been unsuccessful in finding one.

This summer promises to be an exciting one for Tom as he's looking forward to playing first base on the Bee's team in City League Softball activities. In the proper seasons, Tom claims to be an avid hunter and fisherman and confesses to having interests in the "ladies" as well and apparently no one has set a special season for that, so... one of these days he'll probably end up on one of our society pages.

Letters to the Editor

Support millage

Dear Editor,
As I see the earth being plowed and worked in fields and gardens I can't help but see an analogy between farming and education.

Gardens and crops need fertilizer, water and sunshine before the plants even push themselves up through the soil. A farmer could never neglect his crop for the first half of its growing period or he'd suffer at harvest time.

Similarly we can't neglect students in the first half of their education. They need fertilizer, water and sunshine right from the beginning.

Let's see that our crop of students has a chance to grow and blossom in the important elementary years.

Support the .75 mill for elementary programs and end the deficiencies that exist in our educational garden.

Vote "Yes for Kids." June 14. Sincerely Sharon Randall

Couple wed in candlelight ceremony

An evening candlelight ceremony in the First Congregational Church in St. Johns, was the setting on April 30, for the exchange of wedding vows between Janice Lynn Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard W. Campbell, Sr. of St. Johns and John Patrick Francis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Francis of Flint.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Averil Carson in front of the altar decorated with yellow and white mums. Shari Campbell, niece of the bride and Gary Campbell, nephew of the bride, lighted the candles.

Before the ceremony began, Mrs. Rhonda Hambleton played the organ while Miss Cathy Baumgardner accompanied on her guitar and Miss Debbie Lyons sang, "Follow Me," and "I Only Have Eyes for You." As the wedding party proceeded down the aisle, the organist played, "Color My World," and as the bride entered on the arm of her father, Miss Lyons sang, "Color My World." At the conclusion of the ceremony, the singers sang, "We've Only Just Begun."

The bride's gown was a white tulle polyester organza gown trimmed in flora venise lace with a high neckline, bishop sleeves and a chapel-length train. An elbow-length veil topped with a headpiece of matching venise lace completed her attire. The bride also wore her mother's pearls and carried her grandmothers handkerchief. The bride carried a bouquet of white carnations and yellow roses, with blue baby's breath.

The matron of honor and bridesmaid carried bouquets of white carnations with yellow roses. The matron of honor Mrs. Linda (Danny) Weller, friend of the bride. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Betty (Anthony) Schwartzfisher, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Barbara (Robert) Hayhoe, friend of the bride. The flower girl was Traci Campbell, niece of the bride.

The best man was Roger Campbell, brother of the bride, and the groomsmen were Leonard W. Campbell, Jr., brother of the bride, and Gary Campbell, nephew of the bride. The matron of honor, bridesmaids, and the flower girl wore sleeveless dresses with empire waists with jackets trimmed in white lace. The dresses were medium blue matching the best man and groomsmen tuxedos.

The bride's mother wore a turquoise floor-length dress with lace sleeves and a corsage of white and yellow carnations. The groom's mother wore a yellow floor-length dress and a corsage of white and yellow carnations.

The bride's nieces, Elizabeth Schwartzfisher and Terie Campbell, attended the guest book. The ushers were the bride's nephews, William Campbell and James Schwartzfisher.

Honored guests for the wedding were the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Florence Francis of Toronto Canada, aunt of bride, Mrs. Margaret Cosby of San Jose, Calif., aunt and uncle of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. George Chalmers of Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis of Lansing, aunt and uncle of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Allen of Santa Clara, Calif., cousins of the bride.

Susan Mitchell becomes bride of James Brown

Susan Harvitta Mitchell and James Edwin Brown exchanged wedding vows before Rev. Francis C. Johannides at the First United Methodist Church on April 23 in a 7 p.m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale E. Mitchell, of Rt. 1, Anderson Rd., St. Johns and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Brown of Rt. 3, N. DeWitt Rd., St. Johns.

White daisies and yellow rosebuds decorated the altar as Della Anderson and Barbara Davis provided nuptial music during the service.

The bride was given in marriage by her father wearing a white nylon chiffon over taffeta gown featuring an old-fashioned high collar, rose lace and a chapel train. An old-fashioned lace trimmed finger tip veil complimented her gown and she carried a bouquet of white daisies and yellow rosebuds.

The maid of honor was Dalletta Mitchell of St. Johns, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Sandra Robinson of Bear Lake, sister of the groom; Esther Smith of St. Johns, friend of the bride; and Peggy Canell of Lapeer, cousin of the bride. The flower girl was Brenda Verellen of Hersey.

The attendants wore gowns of bright yellow featuring a high collar, and old-fashioned lace around the bib bodices and puff sleeves. Picture hats with matching fabric ribbons and bouquets of daisies and yellow rosebuds completed their attire.

For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother chose a floor-length pink gown and corsage of red and pink roses. The groom's mother chose a mint green floor-length gown and a corsage of yellow roses.

Attending the groom as best man was Mark Woodbury, friend of the groom from St. Johns. Groomsmen were Dale Mitchell, II, of St. Johns, brother of the bride; Al Davis of St. Johns, and Joe Ocedek of Owosso, both friends of the groom. The ring bearer was Shawn Lipow of St. Johns.

A reception for 350 guests was held at Smith Hall following the wedding. Marie Verellen, aunt of the bride, cut and served the wedding cake which she had made; Wanda Canell, aunt of the bride, served coffee and Pam Mercer, friend of the bride, served the punch.

Honored guests at the reception were grandparents of the couple, Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Green and Mrs. Brown.

Following a wedding trip to Florida, the couple will make their home at Rt. 3, DeWitt Rd., St. Johns. The bride is a 1975 graduate of St. Johns High School and the groom is a 1967 graduate of St. Johns High School and a 1972 graduate of M.S.U.

Mr. & Mrs. James Brown

Audrey Schafer wears mother's pearls on wedding day

Audrey Ann Schafer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard J. Schafer of 557 E. Webb Rd., DeWitt, approached the altar on her wedding day gowned in a wedding dress designed by her mother, and wearing the same pearls her mother wore on her wedding day.

Audrey was united in marriage to Steven Lewis Barr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund L. Barr of 5637 Sleight Rd., Bath, on Friday, Feb. 27, at 6 p.m. at the Catholic Community of St. Jude Church in DeWitt. Fr. Michael D. Murphy officiated and altar boys were Joe Schafer, brother of the bride, and Dan Reuter, friend of the bride.

White spider mums and red carnations decorated the altar during the ceremony at which Mark Barr, brother of the groom, sang a special song for the couple. Also providing music during the ceremony were Mrs. Barb Valentine, who played the organ and flute, and Mrs. Barb Pierson, Mrs. Carol Platte and Mrs. Mary Lou Russell who played guitars and sang.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a sleeveless, white princess-style satin gown featuring a white lace jacket which flowed into a cathedral-length train. The jacket was scalloped around the edges and at the reception it was drawn up into a bustle. She also wore a shoulder-length white illusion veil trimmed in lace.

Instead of carrying a bouquet, the bride carried a satin covered prayer book with a dozen red roses and buds atop it. Also, white satin ribbons flowed from the prayer book.

Attending the bride was Teri Schafer, sister of the bride from DeWitt who was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Ms. Debbie Barr of East Lansing, sister of the groom; Mrs. Cherie Covell, cousin of the bride from Lansing; Mrs. Sara Smith, friend of the couple from St. Johns; and Mrs. Cheryl Anderson, friend of the bride.

The attendants wore bright red gowns featuring long-sleeved, shortwaisted jackets tied over a sleeveless, A-line polyester knit dress. They wore red ribbons in their hair and carried two white sweetheart roses tied with red and white satin ribbons. The flowergirl, Leslie Ann Schafer, wore a red dress featuring leg-o-mutton sleeves and a white apron. She also wore red ribbons in her hair and carried a white straw basket with red rose petals in it. Her dress was made by the bride's mother.

For her daughter's wedding, the mother chose a powder blue floor-length chiffon gown with butterfly sleeves. The groom's mother chose a light blue shiny knit floor-length gown. Both mothers wore orchid corsages. The fathers of the wedding couple wore black tuxedos with blue shirts matching their wives' gowns. Each wore a white rose boutonniere.

The best man was Mark Barr, brother of the groom from Bath, and groomsmen were Pat Diamond of DeWitt, Gary Smith of St. Johns, John Murray of Bath and Eddie Ostrander of Lansing, all friends of the couple. The ring bearer was Michael Jon Schafer, brother of the bride, who carried the wedding rings on a heart-shaped satin pillow made by the bride.

The groom wore a black tuxedo with tails, a white shirt with black edging and a red rose boutonniere. The attendants wore midnight blue tuxedos with red shirts edged in black and a single white rose boutonnieres.

A reception for 300 guests was held at the Community of St. Jude Hall at 8 p.m. A buffet dinner was prepared by the bride and groom's mothers and music was provided by the Music Makers.

Host and hostess for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Paul

H. Schafer, aunt and uncle of the bride. Serving at the reception were Harold and Nancy Diamond and Leon and Vi Trierweiler, Mrs. Dawn Bowen and Chris Barr cut and served the wedding cake made by Mrs. Bowen. Linda and Candy Schafer served the punch, and Diane Schafer attended the guest book.

Gunnisonville receives state historical dedication May 15

Gunnisonville Church historian, Margaret Stampfly

The Gunnisonville, four corners, at Clark and Wood Roads has been designated a State Historical Site. The Clinton County Bicentennial Committee presented them with a Tri-County historical sign at the dedication service held May 15.

On January 19, 1882, a group of people met at the schoolhouse at Gunnison (now known as Gunnisonville), to organize the first religious services and it became a Methodist Episcopal Church with H. Hall as presiding elder.

In 1885, a new church was considered and 3 years later completed and dedicated on Nov. 4. The land where the church now stands was donated by Phillip Kraus and his family. Money was donated for the church by those who could give and the men did the construction. They shoveled gravel, hauled stone, lumber and bricks, while others did carpentry work and painting. Nearly all the people in the area contributed something.

The church pews were built by Andrew West. He cut the trees, had the lumber sawn and when they were finished, loaded them on his wagon and took them to the church. Two of the original pews are in the church dining room.

In 1963, a 22x30 two-story addition was built on the back of the church, and in 1966 the Sanctuary was remodeled.

At one time, the congregation dwindled to three people, but has always had a few faithful members in its congregation. Now it stands as a living memorial to the heritage of the past.

The four corners originally had a bandstand, a post office, a general store, and a cemetery. The cemetery remains near the church, and a restored one-room school house is located across the street.

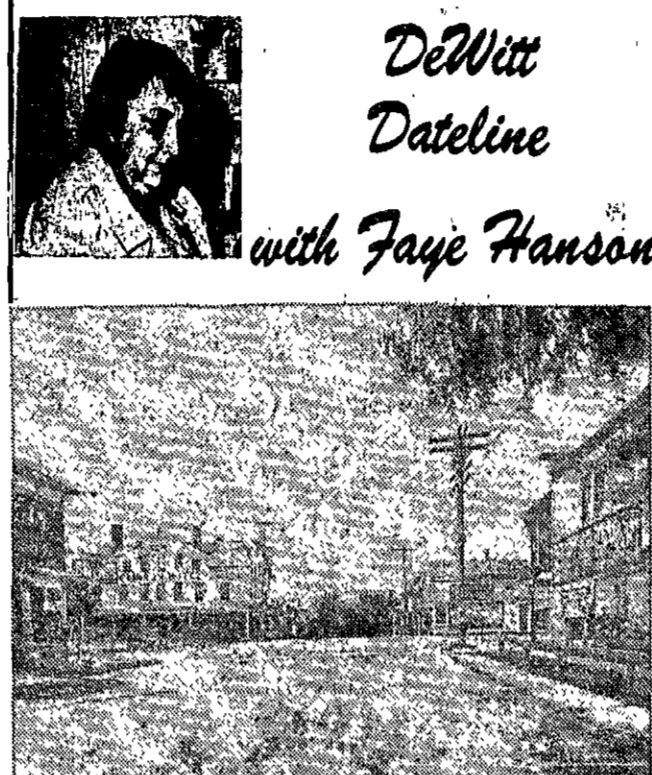

Rev. Paul Scheibner read the dedication service and the Gunnisonville Choir sang "The Old Rugged Cross." Oliver Angell introduced the guests and Mike Washo, chief historian of the Michigan Historical Comm. spoke briefly to the group.

Margaret Stampfly, historian for the church, gave an interesting presentation and contributed much data for this article. George Anderson, principal at Gunnisonville School, welcomed the guests. Nancy Cheney, DeWitt Township Treasurer, was present and Hila Bross and Shirley Karber represented the Clinton County Bicentennial Committee.

The women of the church served refreshments after the program and a drawing was held for two Bicentennial quilts made by the children in the area.

Gunnisonville can be proud of its contribution to the State and County, and its contribution to our future generations.

This is a picture of the main four corners in DeWitt in October, 1929, just a year before the Clinton House and most of the buildings on these corners burned.

The white building across from the hotel is the one that the late John Hicks started business in 1849. At the time the hotel burned in October, 1930 Henry Ford was negotiating to buy it for Greenfield Village.

The first sessions of the Clinton County Courts were held in the ballroom on the 3d floor for many years.

Two represent St. Johns High at Trouble Shooting competition

Two students at St. Johns High School were looking for trouble and they found plenty of it in the State Championship Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest May 19 at The Oakland Mall in Troy.

Pat Thelen and William (Joe) Vitous represented their school in the event, according to Larry Button, auto shop instructor.

They won the right to compete after being selected as outstanding students by their instructor and then scoring high grades in a written examination through which prospective teams qualified for Trouble Shooting Contests.

The Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest, often called the "Olympic Games of the auto industry," brought together the top auto mechanics students of the state in a mechanical competition offering generous rewards for the victors.

The Trouble Shooting Team is sponsored by Hettler Motor Sales.

Each year, Plymouth dealers in cooperation with more than 2,200 schools sponsor the Trouble Shooting contest to encourage mechanically talented students to continue their education and seek jobs in the automotive field.

Teams compete 1st on a state level, with the winner continuing on to the National Finals at Chicago June 23, 29, and 30. Teams consist of 2 students, who are assigned a car in which a series of malfunctions have been deliberately placed. Teams race the clock and each other to correct all the malfunctions and restore the car to perfect running order.

In the past, direct benefits of the Trouble Shooting Contest have included college scholarships for national winners, and the placement of more than half of the participating students in full or part-time jobs as auto mechanics, active support for the technical education programs in the public schools, a supply source of qualified apprentice technicians for automobile dealers, and values for the car-driving public in terms of higher-quality mechanical repair work.

Escapee found guilty

ST. JOHNS—Everett Steven Hadix, 24, has been found guilty by a Circuit Court jury of breaking and entering of a business and attempted breaking in of a safe.

The offenses occurred following Hadix's escape from prison.

He was serving a 3 1/2-15 year sentence for a previous felony when he escaped from prison. Hadix also faces charges of breaking and entering of the Pigeon Inn north of Lansing on US-27.

FOR ALL YOU FOLKS out there looking for bargains on appliances, don't forget to stop into Kurt's Appliance Center in downtown St. Johns. There's just 3 days left in the annual G.E. Truckload Sale and now's the time to take advantage of the sale prices being offered!

NOW I KNOW just how Custer felt at the Little Big Horn. We were marching in Sunday's Soap Box Derby parade and quite unannounced a swarm of Indians attacked us from the parade entry just behind us. Believe me, this was not in the script. I had a hard time keeping members of S Company from defending themselves even with the odds being the way they were.

Quite interestingly enough the parade had a distinguished visitor from Ionia in the person of our State Representative Stanley Powell. How he ever recognized me in my calvary duds I'll never know, but nevertheless, I was glad to see him as a spectator.

The turnout at the day's event was as large as usual with people standing shoulder to shoulder straining to see every little happening. And fortunately the weather held again with no rain, but at times it looked threatening.

THINGS ARE REALLY bustin' out at Bee's Chevy-Olds. The big happening at Bee's will be announced next week so be sure and look for it in the next issue of the News. From what Red Devereaux has told me so far it sounds like something you'll surely not want to miss!

THIS IS THE LAST WEEK for you to vote in IGA's

Jet Journey to the Stars so get out to Andy's and cast your votes for your favorite boy and girl.

Ed McDowell, manager at Andy's, has selected some real money saving bargains for you shoppers this week so be sure and check Andy's Ad on the back page of section B this week and every week, for that matter.

WE'RE HEADING INTO the last stages of planning the Clinton Theatre Derby Boosters' variety show, "Stars and Wheels Forever," Thursday, June 3rd. You'll want to get your tickets early. Most of the downtown merchants have them and in case they've run out, we've got them here at the Clinton County News. From what I understand we've got about 14 acts of talent crossing the stage at both the 7 and 9 p.m. performances.

Do you remember years ago on radio when there was a fellow by the name of Johnnie who yelled out "Phillip Morris"? Don't be surprised if you hear similar sounds echoing thru the theatre that night! Plus... there'll be many other surprises! This is one night you're not going to want to miss.

To go along with the Bicentennial theme, we are urging everyone to come in old time dress. Choose whatever era you'd like to represent but get in on the excitement and wear something unusual. There's still plenty of time to get out the needle and thread or there's places to rent costumes. See ya there!

GRADUATION TIME is coming up soon. Be sure and patronize your local merchants for gifts of your choosing. We're honoring local kids so why not buy them local gifts?? Buying at home helps everyone, especially you

The following committee appointments were named by the President: Ordinance: Roy Smith, Dennis Smith, Jim Koenigsnecht; Water and Sewer: Bill Braun, Roy Smith, Jim Koenigsnecht; Parks and Recreation: Dennis Smith, Bill Braun, Wayne McCausey; Street and Sidewalk: John

Schafer, Roy Smith, Dud McKean; Finance: Dud McKean, Roy Smith, Dennis Smith, Jim Koenigsnecht; Building and Grounds: Jim Koenigsnecht, Wayne McCausey, Dud McKean; Police Administration: Wayne McCausey, Bill Braun, John Schafer.

A motion was made and carried to accept the low bid of $4.00 per foot from Joe Minarik for the installation of approximately 1238 feet of 6" water main according to Village specifications. The President and Clerk were authorized to sign the contract for the Village.

A motion was made and carried to accept a bid from the Hicks Company for seal coating approximately 12 1/2 blocks of Village streets this summer.

Dennis Smith and Jim Koenigsnecht were appointed to review the employer-employee guidelines and to make recommendations at the next meeting.

A motion was made and carried to pay hospitalization insurance for DW employee Koenigsnecht for the month of April.

A building permit was approved for Clarence D. Cole.

A letter was read from Insurance Services Office which advised there was a possibility of an approximate 34% increase in fire insurance rates for Homeowners policy holders, due to insufficient pumping pressure of the Dallas Township Fire Department trucks. The Clerk was instructed to send a copy of the letter to the Dallas Township Fire Department, and to inquire what their plans are to provide additional fire protection to the Village.

Meeting adjourned 10:25 p.m. Respectfully submitted, Winnie McKean Village Clerk

The Buddy Poppy which will be offered to you on the streets soon is sold by a volunteer. All proceeds will go to the relief and welfare of the needy veteran, his widow and orphans.

Sen. Richard Allen

Report from the Senate

"If they don't like it here let 'em go back where they came from!"

We've heard that defiant shout in our country throughout history. It has applied to Irish, Jewish, Italians, even to blacks who came here through no choice of their own. Often the person who makes the statement is just one of the same with perhaps a generation or two of established residency.

When one of our state senators applied that statement to our Michigan Indians I am sure he must have been kidding. Many find it no kidding matter.

Certainly of all our depressed groups, Indians in Michigan and elsewhere are the most downtrodden. South African whites have a good point when they ascertain that their treatment of the native population looks most magnanimous compared to ours.

HOUSE BILL 4130 provides free college tuition for North American Indians who are Michigan residents. No one argues that previous treatment of Indians has been deplorable or that present conditions are disgraceful. There are, however, a couple of legitimate questions concerning the support of this bill.

First of all, does preferential treatment at this time in any way atone for past transgressions?

Second, since so few Indians succeed in grade school and even less complete high school is college a logical place to begin extra support?

I think both questions can be answered partially in the negative. Still I voted for the bill. After visiting Indian reservations in Mt. Pleasant and the U.P. I feel the Indian community is in desperate need of leadership. A few teachers, a few nurses, perhaps even an attorney or two and a physician could make a big difference. Not sent in by the rest of us but raised up from their own group.

OF ALL our society's programs for aid to the disadvantaged I like educational programs best. The old biblical "teach a man to fish rather than give him a fish" applies here.

But perhaps I'm just softened up because my wife recently prevailed on me to read "Bury my Heart at Wounded Knee" a dismal chronicle of our treatment of American Indians over the last 300 years.

Candidate filing deadline June 1

Secretary of State Richard H. Austin is reminding prospective political candidates in Michigan that June 1, 1976 is their deadline for filing petitions in time to qualify for the August primary election.

Austin noted, "The reminder is particularly important this year, because the deadline is two weeks earlier than in previous years." He added, "Although the June 1st final filing date is indicated on the state's official election calendar, we are concerned that a number of candidates and political organizations may fail to take into account the new deadline and could wind up turning in petitions too late to get on the August ballot."

Brother Kenneth Thelen, M.M. assigned to missions in Chile

MARYKNOLL, N.Y. - Brother Kenneth Thelen, M.M., a native of St. Johns, has been assigned to the Maryknoll missions in Chile. On Saturday, May 22, he will take part, along with the Maryknollers undertaking their first overseas assignment, in Maryknoll's 69th annual Departure Ceremony. The ceremony will be held at the Maryknoll Seminary, near Ossining, N.Y.

Rev. Joseph Francis, S.V.D., President of the Conference of Major Superiors of Men, will be the principal speaker at the Departure Ceremony, during which the departing missionaries will renew their oath to the Society and receive the mission crucifix.

The Very Reverend Raymond A. Hill, M.M., Superior General of Maryknoll, will present each missionary with his crucifix, symbol of his mission vocation. Brother Kenneth was born in St. Johns on July 14, 1941. He attended St. Mary's Grammar School and High School in Westphalia.

He entered the Maryknoll Brothers' novitiate in Brookline, Mass. in 1960 and took his final oath eight years later. Brother Kenneth studied mechanical technology at Westchester Community College in Valhalla, N.Y. His work until now has been in the Data Processing Department at the Maryknoll Seminary. This year he received a Bachelor of Professional Studies degree in Business from Pace University in Pleasantville, N.Y.

Brother Kenneth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Thelen of Rt. #4, 8988 Price Rd., St. Johns. He has two sisters, Mrs. Jeanne Sleight and Mrs. Janet Thelen, both of St. Johns.

Known officially as the Catholic Foreign Mission Society of America, Maryknoll was established in 1911 by the Bishops of the United States to represent the American Catholic Church in foreign lands. It currently has more than 700 priests and Brothers serving in countries in Africa, Asia, and Latin America.

There are Maryknollers serving in Mexico, Guatemala, and El Salvador in Central America; Bolivia, Chile, Colombia, Peru and Venezuela in South America; Kenya, Tanzania, and Uganda in Africa; Taiwan, the Republic of China, Hong Kong, Japan, and Korea in Asia; and Hawaii, the Philippines, and Indonesia in the Pacific.

As evidence of its youthful vigor, Maryknoll has recently made new commitments to four other countries. Maryknollers are currently establishing new missions in Bangladesh, Brazil, Sudan and Western Samoa.

A big Fourth of July fireworks show is in store for St. Johns area folks planning to stick around home for the long weekend. Firemen got a huge and heartening response from area people and business last week and received $1,000 in donations to put on the fireworks show.

Capital Savings and Loan Association will open its St. Johns branch office next Wednesday, June 1, with grand opening festivities scheduled for Friday, June 3. William H. Patton, 37, previously associated with Henry County Savings and Loan of Newcastle, Ind., has been appointed manager of the St. Johns office located at 222 N. Clinton Avenue.

The 1966-67 St. Johns city budget was adopted last Tuesday evening and calls for a tax dollar only slightly more than half of last year's rate. The new budget of $965,561 will require a tax rate of 16 mills, or $16 per thousand of state equalized valuation. Last year's rate for the fiscal year of July 1, 1965 to June 30, 1966 was $30 per thousand of assessed valuation. The total budget is considerably lower than last year's plan for $1,424,003 and reflects the near completion of the city's $1 million water system improvement plan.

Duane Claude Bowen, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Bowen of 3238 Walker Road, was fatally injured at 2:20 a.m. Saturday when he was struck by a car on M-21 two miles east of St. Johns. Bowen was returning home from the annual senior class trip when he was killed. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Clinton Memorial Hospital.

County Road Engineer Leon L. Budd submitted his verbal resignation this week after the County Board of Supervisors had requested the County Road Commission to relieve him of his duties. All 52 employees of the Road Commission signed petitions this week requesting that Budd be retained as engineer or in some other capacity. Budd has been road engineer since August 15, 1952, and had been assistant engineer from April 1, 1944, until being named engineer. He also worked as assistant road engineer in 1919-21. Budd has three more years to work before reaching the retirement age of 65.

A total of 92,956 bushels of wheat had come out of storage and been delivered to Clinton County elevators by the close of business on Saturday, May 25, when the emergency wheat bonus of 30 cents a bushel ended. Clinton County farmers made the finest response to the appeal for emergency wheat of any county in Michigan. Wheat was delivered here at a price that averaged $2.14 per bushel and farmers in the county collected an aggregate of at least $200,000 for their efforts.

The recent ban on the installation of gas burners for heating of residents in this area was clarified this week by the release of the Michigan Public Service Commission's order to Consumer's Power Company on the order. The commission granted the company permission to temporarily restrict its natural gas but ordered Consumers to make every reasonable effort to provide service when customers on or before May 10, 1946, had obtained gas conversion burners or gas furnaces and the company had previously agreed to make the installation.

"Road Closed" says the sign on the Clinton-Gratiot County line a mile north of Maple Rapids. The bridge over Pine Creek is "out" and traffic is being detoured in another direction. Bridges in Clinton County seem to be unlucky. A year or so ago the big span over Maple River near Matherton gave up the ghost when it was hit by a fast-traveling car. Prior to that the Looking Glass river bridge on the airport road south of DeWitt collapsed under the weight of an overloaded truck, and now the Pine Creek span has taken the 10 count.

Judge Kelly S. Searl last week said that March term jurors have been excused. There have been no cases requiring a jury. June term jurors have been drawn but at present there seems to be no prospect for a jury trial and unless they are notified before July 1st, will be excused as were the March term jurors.

Convening in annual session last week of the St. Johns board of review cut $5,500 off the city assessment roll and established a property valuation of $2,711,969 for the ensuing year. The personal property assessment was left unchanged but the real estate was reduced from $2,234,300 to $2,228,800.

Legendary Daniel Boone was once taken as captive to Detroit

After his capture by Indians in Kentucky, Daniel Boone was taken as far as Detroit and then brought back to the Indian Village of Old Chillicothe (now Oldtown, Ohio). Learning of an attack to be made on his settlement of Boonesborough, the frontier hero escaped and warned his fellow frontiersmen.

Daniel Boone wasn't planning to go any farther than the Lower Blue Licks, in northern Kentucky to make salt when he set out with about 30 other frontiersmen in January of 1778. But before he returned to nearby Boonesborough six months later, he had ventured as far as Detroit.

Three men had been sent back to the settlements with loads of salt when a party of approximately 80 Indians led by two Frenchmen from Detroit surprised and captured the Kentuckians who were still at Blue Licks on Feb. 7. Since that time there were only 102 men at Kentucky's three permanent settlements — Harrodsburg, Boonesborough and Logan's Fort — the loss of more than a quarter of them was a crippling one. Fortunately for the Kentuckians, the Frenchmen were unable to convince the Indians to press their advantage by making an immediate assault on the settlements.

Instead, they returned northward, stopping at the Shawnee stronghold of Old Chillicothe and then traveling on to the British fort at Detroit. Boone reported that he and 10 of the others "were conducted by 40 Indians to Detroit where we arrived on the 30th day and were treated by Governor Hamilton, the British commander of that post, with great humanity."

THE INDIANS also treated the frontier hero kindly during the journey, he said, adding that "their affection for me was so great that they utterly refused to leave me there with the others although the governor offered them 100 pounds sterling for me, on purpose to give me a parole to go home." Boone said he turned down generous offers of supplies from other British men at Detroit because "I never expected it would be in my power to recompense such unmerited generosity."

Old Chillicothe, they took Boone with them and he was adopted by one of the Shawnee families. He had won the admiration and trust of the tribe by June when he saw a party of 450 warriors preparing to leave for an assault on Boonesborough. On the morning of the 16th he slipped away from the village and started off through the woods to warn his friends of the impending attack. Boone covered the 160 miles to Boonesborough in four days and ate only one meal on the journey. He found the fort unprepared for an attack when he arrived on the 20th and he helped the men of the settlement to "repair its flanks, strengthen its gates and posterns, and to form double bastions, all of which was completed in 10 days."

The Indian attack wasn't made immediately, however, and early in August Boone led a party of 19 men against Paint Creek Town, a small Indian village on the Scioto River. Although the village was deserted, the frontiersmen came upon a party of about 30 Indians near it. "A smart fight ensued betwixt us for some time," Boone said. "At length the savages gave way and fled."

About a week later a war party of approximately 400 Miami and Shawnee and a dozen Frenchmen led by Captain Daigniau deQuindre of Detroit "marched up within view of our fort with British and French colors flying," Boone said. When the surrender of the fort was demanded, the leader of the settlement obtained a delay of two days to consider it and used that time to get the horses and cattle into the fort.

DEQUINDRE THEN invited those within the fort to send out nine men to discuss a treaty. Boone accepted the proposal but was suspicious and stipulated that the talks take place within 60 yards of the fort. After the discussion, the Indians tried to grab the nine Kentuckians who broke away and ran to the stockade under heavy fire which wounded one of them.

A nine-day siege of the fort was immediately launched, and during that time the Indians kept up an intensive rifle barrage, threw torches against the wooden structures, and attempted to undermine the walls of the stockade by diverting water from he nearby river.

Two of the defenders were killed and four wounded during the siege. After the Indians and Frenchmen had withdrawn, 125 pounds of bullets were picked up from the ground around the fort and there were many more imbedded in the walls.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:
The members of the Edwin T. Stiles Unit 153 of the American Legion Auxiliary thank all the people of the St. Johns-Fowler-Maple Rapids area who bought American Legion Poppies during our Poppy Days last week. We would also like to thank the merchants in St. Johns for displaying our Poppy Posters, and WRBJ for their "spot announcements."

Without the Poppy program the Auxiliary would not have the funds to aid and help veterans and their families of this county or at the various veterans hospitals.

Again, thanks to everyone for their generous donations.

Your Stars This Week By Stella Wilder

There is much to be gained over the coming week by taking your cue from events occurring on the celestial scene. Benefits accrue to the steadfast, rewards to the loyal. Where paths appear bound to cross in a less than friendly fashion, patience and an attempt to make way for "the other fellow," even as one maintains one's own integrity, should enable both parties or groups involved to succeed in their different objectives. Little can be effected of a permanent nature this week unless you take a very serious approach to the problems at hand. With little margin for error, preparedness is essential to success this week.
Those who would know material gain by week's end would do well to direct their energies toward the attainment of definite and, preferably, short-term goals. To insist that all efforts have a measurable bearing upon ultimate aims may well be to lose out on any number of opportunities for successful involvement in activities yielding desirable if only temporary benefits. Those who value their emotional health will see any advance as a step in the right direction.

GEMINI: (May 21-June 6) -- This is a good week for furthering your basic understanding of younger members of the family. Ask searching questions. (June 7-June 20) -- Trust to your own knowledge of the present situation rather than to luck. Gains accrue.
CANCER: (June 21-July 7) -- Employ your abundance of intellectual ability in the interest of increased self-discipline. Relax on cue. (July 8-July 22) -- You can be generous and economical at the same time this week -- if you are wise in your choice of activities.
LEO: (July 23-Aug. 7) -- Make an effort to strike a balance between work and play activities this week. It is important to give credit where due. (Aug. 8-Aug. 22) -- Keep two steps ahead of the competition if you can. You would do well to relieve a friend of a burden.
VIRGO: (Aug. 23-Sept. 7) -- Keep your secret desires to yourself for a while longer. You can achieve an exceptional goal by week's end. (Sept. 8-Sept. 22) -- Strive to direct enough energy into new channels that success becomes a foregone conclusion. Remain calm.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23-Oct. 7) -- Material gains are few and far between this week. They are, however, well worth the wait. Exceptions prove rules. (Oct. 8-Oct. 22) -- Though you may have an opportunity to dig into little known areas of another's life, you must not do so.
SCORPIO: (Oct. 23-Nov. 7) -- Superstitious beliefs could be the cause of serious error early in the week. Seek the advice of experts. (Nov. 8-Nov. 22) -- This is a highly competitive week during which you may well be forced to give up many leisure hours. Be adaptable.
SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 23-Dec. 7) -- Take from a good friend precisely the philosophy you need to get you through the week in good spirits. (Dec. 8-Dec. 22) -- If you are quick to grasp the basis of a new situation on the employment scene, gains are in store. Look around you.
CAPRICORN: (Dec. 23-Jan. 6) -- Your intelligence is your key to success this week, even though most activities require physical prowess too. (Jan. 7-Jan. 19) -- Complex factors make this a week that leaves you with difficult adjustments to make. Go at your own speed.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 20-Feb. 3) -- Constructive thinking early in the week helps you to develop the ideas necessary for success at week's end. (Feb. 4-Feb. 18) -- Business dealings with friends require considerable self-discipline if you are not to work to your own disadvantage.
PISCES: (Feb. 19-March 5) -- A robustness of both physical and emotional health is necessary for full participation in the week's events. Take good care of yourself. (March 6-March 20) -- If you are wise, you will shake your opponent's hand whether you win or lose.
ARIES: (March 21-April 4) -- This may be more of a rough-and-tumble week than you had bargained for. Success by week's end brings new joys. (April 5-April 20) -- There is much you can do to change the pattern of your seeming fate this week. Begin to win knowledge.
TAURUS: (April 21-May 6) -- There are secret interests of another to recognize at this point. Seek to know, and then to understand them. (May 7-May 20) -- Frailty brings you face to face with a faulty performance early in the week. Seek strength through understanding.

Private campsite building boom slows

Private park operators in Michigan apparently feel there now are adequate sites to meet campers' needs since the opening of new campgrounds has dropped to the lowest rate in a decade, according to Automobile Club of Michigan. An Auto Club guide for 1976 shows the 28,869 sites at 329 campgrounds listed represent a 4% increase over last year, compared with annual site increases of 10, 10, 25 percent since 1965.

Government-operated campsites also have ceased to expand. Ten years ago, state parks had 12,148 campsites, compared with 13,976 now—a 15% increase.
State and national forest campsites have remained at 3,078 and 2,300, respectively, since the early 1970s, and the 8,200 sites in county, township and city parks also have not increased.
"The lack of expansion does not mean problems for campers," said Ratke. "Existing spaces are more than adequate to handle the campsite demand, which this year is expected to be 15 to 20% greater than last year."

Renewed interest in recreational vehicles evidenced by record attendance at spring camper and outdoor shows is one reason given for the expected increase in use. Auto Club states:
Many private campgrounds also are benefiting from Bicentennial festivities planned in resort area communities and major population centers this summer.
Some campgrounds plan dances and sing-alongs throughout the summer along with hayrides and cookouts.
To ensure a private campsite, Auto Club advises calling ahead. Telephone numbers of most parks are listed in its 1976 guide, and a reference code on the accompanying map helps identify features found at each camp.

Further camping and recreational vehicle information can be obtained weekdays by calling the Michigan Association of Recreational Vehicles and Campgrounds at (313) 477-3434. The association also is considering offering information on private campground site availability on weekends.
Campers also can reserve half of the almost 14,000 spaces available at 70 state park campgrounds, if stays of four nights or more are planned. Reservation applications must be received by a park at least 15 days before arrival and must include a $2 fee, plus all camping fees ranging from $2.50 to $4 per night.
Reservation forms can be obtained at most Department of Natural Resources offices, or by writing to: Department of Natural Resources, Parks Division, Mason Building, Lansing, Michigan 48926.
Reservations cannot be made at state and national forest campgrounds or at most county, township or city parks. Auto Club advises these steps to help guarantee a site at most Michigan campgrounds:
• Arrive at government-operated campsites before noon Friday.
• Obtain private campground reservations whenever possible by planning ahead.
• Campers can receive latest state park site availability information May 28-29 and from June 15 through Sept. 6 during normal working hours weekdays by dialing: (313) 256-3522, (517) 275-3151 or (517) 373-1235.
Auto-Club members can obtain weekend campsite information Monday through Saturday from 6 a.m. to midnight beginning with Memorial Day through Labor Day weekend. Call (313) 336-1000 if in the Detroit area, and 1-800-482-5300 toll-free outside Detroit.
• If without a reservation, always choose several alternate campgrounds and carry public and private park guides.

Seen Smith Hall lately?

Jim Pelham
Clinton County Extension Director

A lot has been happening at Smith Hall these past few months. Thanks to a $5,000 contribution from the Clinton Board of Commissioners and a great deal of help from CETA employees working for the Clinton Development Corporation, many improvements have been made at Smith Hall.

Since last December the ceiling has been insulated, concrete floors have been sealed and tile has been laid on the kitchen and bathroom floors. A small room formerly used for storage of tables and chairs has been developed into a real homey and comfortable meeting room. A closet has been built for the storage of cleaning equipment and long-needed doors have been placed under the west kitchen sink.

Volunteer workers in the lunch stand at the County Fair will be pleased to find a new concrete floor and sidewalks will keep the kids out of the mud when they are entering the kitchen or back door during Fair Week. The American flag will be waving high during the Bicentennial Fair Week, thanks to a new pole just recently installed. These are just a few of the improvements that have been made at Smith Hall and the fairgrounds.

Horse leaders have provided funds and obtained donations for improving on the judge's stand and building a new horse wash rack. Martin Block Corporation contributed the concrete for these two projects.

Contestants will be happy to see more sand in the arena as a result of their leaders' efforts. These are just a few of the improvements that have taken place during the past few months. Last year the Board of Commissioners had the building painted, both inside and out.

The building has not always fared so well; and to help keep things organized and on the right track, a building control committee has been organized to work with the Cooperative Extension Service in determining policy. Two of the members are 4-H leaders—Mrs. Nancy Miller and Bob Kissane. Mrs. Pansy Eldridge and Marilyn McQueen represent the Extension Ladies. Harold Martin and Maurice Gove have been representing the County Board of Commissioners.

There have been some major changes in rental rates and policies, in keeping with the times. It is hoped the improvements will stimulate more paid use of the building to help offset the ever-rising costs of maintenance and utilities. If you are planning a wedding, family party, or a commercial program, a reasonable rate has been set to encourage use of the building for these purposes. If interested, call the Cooperative Extension Service at 224-3238.

DID YOU TAKE YOUR PANS?
A recent inventory of the Smith Hall kitchen indicates most of the pans and cooking utensils have gradually taken legs and walked away from the place! No one would ever steal anything from the Hall, but it is so very easy to take a pan home when some perfectly good food is left following a dinner or meeting. The Smith Hall Committee is appealing to you to check to see if you might possibly have some of the Smith Hall utensils. The committee would be very grateful for any assistance you can give in getting them back to the Hall.

Her official classification is Excellent-94.

A Michigan State University cow, Marchesa Pontiac Elise 6063023 was also designated "4-E" recently, at 92 points. A 12-year-old member of the MSU, East Lansing, Michigan herd, "Elise" has seven records over 20,000 pounds of milk.

4-H plans 2nd paper drive

BY JOHN AYLSWORTH

The Clinton County 4-H'ers are planning their 2nd Newspaper Drive on Saturday, June 5, to help recycle our natural resources and raise some money for the 4-H program. The goal is to secure 15 tons of newspapers for this drive, which will be recycled into house insulation. People are reminded that newspapers should be tied or put into stacks for easy handling and stacking in the truck. St. Johns residents can set their newspapers out at the curb by 10:00 a.m. along with their glass for the glass collection project. No magazines will be accepted. People outside of St. Johns are urged to bring their newspapers between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. to the fairgrounds along with their glass bottles. Anyone having a large amount of newspapers should contact their local 4-H club or contact the County Extension Office (224-3238) to make arrangements for pickup.

The 1st 4-H newspaper drive in March was very successful, collecting over 16 tons of newspapers bringing the 4-H program over $400. The cooperation and assistance given to the 4-H program on the newspaper drive is greatly appreciated. The community benefits several ways as it helps recycle paper into a new and useful product that would otherwise have been thrown away and helps to raise some money for the 4-H program. Also, the insulation will help people cut down on their use of energy.

HORSE SHOW BRAVES RAIN
Despite the rain May 15, the 4-H Horse Show at St. Johns was very successful with many participants from Clinton, Gratiot, Ingham, Eaton and Saginaw Counties. The high point horse trophy was won by Julie Cockrum of St. Johns and the high point pony trophy was won by Susie Seitz of St. Charles. The "speed and action" classes were cancelled as the arena became too muddy.

SUMMER GO-GETTERS
The Eureka Go-Getters 4-H Club will have a summer club with Diane Korienek as the organizational leader. The members will be taking vegetable gardening for their projects. New officers elected are: Sheri Green—president; Melinda Beck—vice-president; Sandra Burk—secretary; Ted Green—treasurer; and Debbie Beck—news reporter. The members reviewed the garden slide tape set on how to plant and care for the garden.

FIREBALLS ELECT OFFICERS

The Fowler Fireballs 4-H Club members have elected the following officers for the summer: Kelly Paksi—president; Mary Feldpausch—vice president; Beth Myers—secretary; Betty Myers—treasurer and Geraldine Thelen—news reporter. The Stoney Creek Riders 4-H Club is a new horse club in the Fowler area under the leadership of Lloyd Berry. The members discussed the rules of the 4-H Horse Show at the fair as well as the fun night. The club's next meeting will be June 8.

DONATE TO SPECIAL OLYMPICS

The Prairie 4-H Club members donated $5 to the Clinton County Special Olympics Project. Dues were set at 25c each or $1 per family to be paid no later than the July meeting. Donna Smith reported 25 members and 6 adults worked on the Roadside Cleanup project, covering 9 miles, picking up 3 pickup loads of litter. The working crew enjoyed a weiner roast at Greenwood's when they finished the project. John Ballinger talked about 4-H softball and the members had practice after sign-up. The club will have two teams this year in the White 4-H League.

GREEN ACRES NEWS

The Green Acres 4-H members heard Dennis Sleep report of the club's activity on the Roadside Cleanup Project. Sharon Randall and Nancy Miller, 4-H leaders, reported the members making the American flag for the flag pole at the Fairgrounds were progressing very well. Gladys Irish, Organizational Leader, passed out certificates and awards to the winter club members. Donald Smith and Ronda Osga reported their experiences on the Yankee Springs trip. Sue Smith gave a demonstration on how to answer the phone properly. The club's next meeting will be June 7.

KOUNTRY KOUSINS

The Kountry Kousins 4-H members have elected the following officers: Cory Shinn—president; Mike Swanchara—

vice president; Kathy Cushing—secretary; Beth Walker—treasurer. New members were enrolled and members turned in money for popcorn the club is selling to raise money. Demonstrations were given by Kathy Cushing on knitting and Rod Rojas on bowling. Recreation was enjoyed by all members.

Alfalfa weevil

by William Lasher
Extension Agriculture Agent

The alfalfa weevil is out and about. He's not very large yet but the warmer weather will make him more active. The adults over winter in fence rows or woodlots, and with the first warm days of spring lays eggs inside the hollow stem of alfalfa or other plants. The grubs move out of the stems and feed on the tips of alfalfa.

Their feeding is greatest on cloudy windless days and on warm nights.

There is great differences in the abundance and development of the alfalfa weevil in different parts of the state and in different fields, so you need to check each of your own fields.

The best defense against the alfalfa weevil is taking the first cutting early, about the 1st of June. The highest yield and best quality hay is obtained when alfalfa is cut in the late bud stage. Late bud stage is also the best time to cut to kill the most alfalfa weevil eggs and grubs and avoid spraying.

The stubble and regrowth following the first cutting should be checked for weevils whether the first cutting was sprayed or not.

You should spray the field if 1/4 of the tips of the first crop show weevil damage and the field will not be cut for at least 7 to 10 days; or if grubs can be readily found in the stubble following the first cutting. This is a common situation when the field was cut late or was heavily infested when cut. Grubs can severely damage the young regrowth. Don't delay in applying an insecticide to the stubble if the grubs are abundant.

Insecticides are poisons! Handle, store, and apply with great care. READ THE LABEL before buying or using insecticides. The label has full instructions for the safe, effective use of that insecticide.

For proper insecticides to use, get a copy of Extension Bulletin "Management for Alfalfa Weevil Control," free from your Cooperative Extension Office, 1003 South Oakland Street, St. Johns.

Stored fabrics subject to damage

Storing winter clothing properly should prevent moth and carpet beetle damage to fabrics containing wool or other animal fibers. In Michigan, clothes moths are not the problem they once were, but carpet beetles can still be troublesome.

Michigan State University Cooperative Extension specialists recommend these control measures for insect pests:

Wash or dry clean woollens before storing them in clean plastic bags or other airtight containers. If woollens are not cleaned, hang them in bright sunlight for a day or more and brush thoroughly before storing.

If closets and drawers are not airtight, be sure to vacuum the area thoroughly and spray entire inside surfaces with one of the following: malathion (premium grade), pyrethrins plus piperonyl butoxide, or dichlorvos for clothes moths.

An easy way to kill clothes moths and carpet beetles in a closet is to vaporize paradichlorobenzene crystals with a vacuum cleaner. Special attachments are available. This will give temporary, if not permanent, relief. Remove plastic buttons and hangers, for this chemical may dissolve them.

Use malathion (premium grade), ronnel or diazinon to control carpet beetles. A paint brush is ideal for applying malathion to clothes closets. A dichlorvos ministrip may also be hung in closets for protection.

If a closet with a tight-fitting door is used for seasonal storage of clothing, several days of treatment with paradichlorobenzene will kill moths and immature stages of carpet beetles. Use one pound of the chemical to 100 cubic feet of space (a closet of 3 x 4 feet and 8 feet high contains about 100 cubic feet). Place the crystals in a shallow pan on a high shelf, or hang in a cloth bag or perforated container from the top of the closet. Remember this chemical may dissolve plastic.

Cedar chests provide good protection against insect pests. Suitable cedar chests are made of at least 70 percent three-fourths red cedar heartwood. Do not paint the inside, but treat every few years with 100 percent cedar oil. For added control, use paradichlorobenzene crystals or moth balls. Store only freshly laundered or dry-cleaned clothing in cedar chests.

Regular use of the vacuum cleaner will help remove insect pests in your home. Vacuuming removes lint upon which larvae feed, as well as eggs and larvae.

Heart Problems?

Call HELP

LHEP, the Lansing Heart Education program for individuals living in Ingham, Eaton and Clinton counties who have suffered a heart attack is teaching people with weak hearts methods to reduce the risk of having a heart attack.

Some of these methods include: cutting down on saturated fats and cholesterol in diets, controlling high blood pressure; refraining from smoking, avoiding excess weight, getting regular checkups and exercising moderately.

The heart education program consists of a series of weekly sessions, usually 4 in number, with patients and a family member or friend invited to attend the session.

Parents of children with congenital or acquired heart disease have parents' clubs which meet and discuss and share similar needs and experiences, giving emotional support in coping with everyday problems.

There is also a Tri-County Stroke Club which is a totally volunteer organized and operated program which is sponsored by the Tri-County Unit of the Michigan Heart Association. Group activities, crafts and projects, group therapy, and entertainment are free to all interested Stroke victims and their family members living in the Tri-County area.

For information regarding the LHEP program, the Stroke Club or the parent club may contact the Tri-County Heart Unit at 200 Mill St., Lansing or phone 487-6084.

Tri-County pinpoints river pollution

Most people are aware that the rivers in the Tri-County region are polluted, but until recently no one really knew the total picture of what, where, and how many polluting sources were flowing into the rivers.

Tri-County Regional Planning Commission's (TCRPC) staff have tallied some figures and pinpointed types of polluting discharges in the region's rivers.

The Grand River reeds in a total of 276 discharges in the Tri-County region (Clinton, Eaton and Ingham counties). With 187 sources, the Red Cedar is holding its own for second place in the totals. Other discharge source totals are the Lookingglass River - 74; Battle Creek River - 58; Maple River - 58; Sycamore Creek - 47; Thornapple River - 42; and Stoney Creek - 29. There are many more storm water discharge points which empty into tributaries of these streams.

By compiling discharge lists and map information from local Departments of Public Works, Drain Commissioners, City Engineers, Michigan Department of Natural Resources, and other state and federal agencies, Tri-County staff located the types of pollutant sources.

Lists for each river include the source of discharge, its location, size of the outlet, and type of discharge. Types of discharges covered in the lists are municipal and private waste-water treatment plants and sewage lagoons, closed and open storm drains, industrial discharges, combined sanitary and storm sewer overflows, and potential significant groundwater discharges. Recently the lists were adopted by TCRPC's Area-wide Planning Advisory Committee to be used in the Water Quality Model for the regional pollution control plan being prepared by TCRPC.

Coupled with other important variables, the facts and figures from the lists will be plugged into the Water Quality Model to predict the amounts of pollution in the rivers at various times of the year. This information will aid Tri-County planners and elected officials in deciding how and where pollution can be controlled.

When the model is in full operation with other TCRPC models, such as the Cost-Revenue Model and Environmental Framework Study, predictions can be made on the impact of developments near streams.

The Cost-Revenue Model evaluates tax revenues and public service costs such as schools, sewer, water, police and fire protection that are connected with proposed developments.

Within the Environmental Framework Study, nine environmental features are examined for the degree to which they should be developed throughout the region.

"An example where the Water Quality Model could be applied is the Thornapple River at Potterville in Eaton County," explained TCRPC Engineer Tom Looby.

"By using the model in this situation," Looby continued, "we would be able to determine whether the river could assimilate the pollution produced by development in the area and still meet the Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) 1983 water pollution goals. If we found it couldn't, some alternatives would be suggested, such as treating stormwater runoff, joining with another system, imposing stricter building standards, or possibly not developing the area near the river."

An extensive water sampling program, collecting over 7,000 samples from six different land use categories and many locations in the rivers themselves, will feed more information into the model and help to verify it. The samples are collected after rain storms and when the rivers are at high level during the spring and low level during the summer. Samples from agricultural, low and high density residential, commercial and industrial sites will tell planners how different land uses affect the magnitude of pollution rolling into the streams.

"As an important tool in assessing what levels of pollution exist," stated Looby, "the model will have a direct bearing on what methods will be recommended to meet the 1983 EPA water quality goals."

The Environmental Protection Agency requires the nation's waterways be cleaned up to be safe for recreation and wildlife by 1983. In July, 1975, TCRPC was awarded an EPA grant to prepare a plan for pollution clean-up. The initial plan is expected to be completed by July 1, 1977 and it will be updated annually thereafter.

Preparing to take off to inspect Clinton County drains affected by the ice storm are (from left) Carter Moore of Elsie, pilot; Arden Pierson, deputy drain commissioner and engineer and Jerry Ambrose, administrative assistant to the Clinton County Board of Commissioners.

Report from the capitol State Representative by Stanley Powell

Slowly, but surely the wheels of government move on as the Michigan Legislature wades through the budget process.

Believe it or not, all of the Senate Appropriations bills, except the big School-aid Bill, have passed in that chamber and are now in the House Appropriations Committee while five of the House Budget Bills have been passed by us and are now being considered by the Senate Committee.

Half of the budget bills originate in each chamber. Admittedly we're behind the deadlines set by the Democrat majority earlier this year, but thinking back, I don't believe we had even seen a budget bill at this time last year, so maybe we're making progress.

Actually we're about a month behind the deadlines set by the majority and I guess we have to be delighted that, after many years of urging by the Republican Caucus, the majority party actually sets deadlines. In the previous years while the Democrats have been in control, we've operated without deadlines.

Failing to meet the deadlines, however, is a comparatively minor problem when we consider that the current proposed budget bills are over the spending levels proposed by the Governor by a couple hundred million dollars. I am unable to give you an exact amount of the overage because it changes from day to day.

We do know, however, that money to fund the budget at its current proposed level just isn't going to be there and I for one do not want to go through another year of budget cutting, borrowing from state trust funds and bookkeeping tricks, so the budget as proposed must be reduced.

We could just raise taxes, as a couple of the majority party legislators have suggested, but I don't think you want to pay higher taxes and I don't either. So, we've got to get the budget in shape and get it passed.

TURN ABOUT
As predicted, the turnaround in the national economy is continuing to gain momentum. Its effects are touching Michigan and producing significant improvements in state revenues.

As always with improvement in the economy comes the temptation to spend more money. But if we're to continue to make a comeback from our dramatic setback, we must hold the reins on spending.

Based on current best estimates, our additional resources for 1976-77 total at least $75 million. The known additional demands on our budget total about $66.2 million with several other factors on which we do not yet have price tags.

Because of these demands, we must keep a tight check on our appropriations. So far the budget bills now under consideration in the Legislature total some $200 million over the Governor's recommendations, an increase we simply cannot absorb.

The latest estimates from the Department of Management and Budget indicate that the improved economy will produce revenues for the current fiscal year of about $20 million over those that could reasonably be projected earlier. The increase is in income from corporate profits.

Although the improving revenue situation is encouraging, there are still some potential major uncertainties that remain before us. For one thing, the yield from the newly enacted single business tax is still unclear. The preliminary indicators are that actual yield will not exceed, and may be somewhat below estimates.

Also continuing problems in the rubber industry could lead to disruption in the automobile industry, thus affecting our revenue intake.

PLANT A TREE
Governor Milliken has designated June 11 as Centennial-Bicentennial Tree Planting Day in Michigan. On that day, hundreds of maple saplings grown from seeds taken last fall from 100-year-old trees near Niles will be planted statewide by community Bicentennial organizations in commemoration of our Nation's 200th birthday.

If you want your car personalized, now is the time to do it.

Applications for 1977 personalized license plates are now being accepted by the Secretary of State branch offices.

The personalized plates cost $25 above the normal license plate fee for your vehicle. The extra funds are used to help clean up Michigan's highways. Automobiles and pickup trucks may use any combination of six letters or numbers, excluding obscene or objectionable combinations. Because of the smaller size, motorcycle license plates are limited to five letters or numbers.

Last year more than 15,000 motorists bought personalized plates, according to the Secretary of State, more than triple the previous year's high.

The deadline to order for 1977 is June 30, 1976. The personalized plates will be mailed to owners about November 15, the date when all license tags go on sale.

BILLS PASSED BY THE HOUSE

H.B. 6007--changes the selection process for a township member of the county tax allocation board. Passed 63 to 24. I voted yes.

H.B. 6121--provides for a deputy township treasurer. It passed 87 to 0. I was the principal sponsor of this bill and of course voted yes.

I was the House co-sponsor of Senator VanderLaan's bill SB 1273 which provides for the transfer of approximately 150 acres of surplus State-owned land from the Department of Corrections to the Ionia Intermediate School District. The vote in the House on final passage of this bill was 87-0. It is now being reprinted in final form for presentation to the Governor.

Memorial Day traffic could set record

LANSING--With good weather, Michigan motorists could set an all-time driving record for a Memorial Day weekend, the Department of State Highways and Transportation said today.

That's the cautious prediction of Department traffic engineers who estimate Michigan motorists will drive 710 million vehicle miles--7.6 per cent over the 1975 four-day Memorial Day weekend when motorists drove 660 million vehicle miles.

The previous record for a four-day Memorial Day weekend was in 1973 when motorists drove 707 million miles.

To prepare state highways for the anticipated rush, John P. Woodford, director of State Highways and Transportation, ordered a halt to all but emergency construction and maintenance work on all state highways throughout the holiday weekend. The order also applies to movement of construction equipment on or near state highways. A check of all signing and conditions of highways on construction sites and detours will be made prior to the weekend.

Heaviest traffic over the four-day weekend is expected to be on I-75, I-94, US-127, US-131, US-31, US-10, M-37 and US-23, with Friday evening and Monday evening the periods of heaviest concentration.

With cooperation of the Chevrolet Division of General Motors, Saginaw River boat traffic will be scheduled to avoid opening the Zilwaukee Bridge on I-75 during the following anticipated peak traffic hours: 3 p.m. to 11 p.m., Friday, May 28; 7 a.m. to 2 p.m., Saturday, May 29; 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., Monday, May 31; 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., Tuesday, June 1.

Seven detours and seven areas of major construction could create inconvenience for motorists over the holiday weekend.

Detours are:

--I-94 Business Loop south of St. Joseph in Berrien County (detoured).

--M-29 is detoured around construction work on a new bridge over the Pine River in St. Clair.

--US-27 exit ramps at Harrison in Clare County are closed.

--Ramp carrying westbound I-94 (Ford) Freeway traffic to southbound US-10 (Lodge) Freeway (detoured).

--Ramp carrying eastbound US-12 traffic to I-94 near Ypsilanti is closed (detoured).

--Carpenter Road (a county road) over I-94 east of Ann Arbor is closed because of work on the freeway. Traffic detoured over Platt Road.

--A two-mile section of Joy Road (a county road) northeast of Ann Arbor is detoured over local roads because of work on M-14 Freeway.

Freeways and other areas where construction may cause slow-downs but no detour are:

--US-27 between Ithaca and Alma. Work on several bridges will close one northbound and one southbound freeway lane.

--I-75 in Monroe County (widening).

--US-23 between Milan and Dundee (bridge work).

--I-94 at Carpenter Road just east of Ann Arbor is routed on temporary pavement around bridge construction.

--US-131 south of Cadillac is Osceola County (new construction).

--M-39 (Southfield Freeway) service drive reduced from three to two lanes at the Michigan Avenue overpass in Dearborn.

--US-31 (US-33) between US-12 and Niles in Berrien County is reduced from four to two lanes due to construction.

Clinton County drains damaged by ice storm

A damage survey report was filed with Region Five Federal Disaster Assistance Administration pursuant to Public Law 93-288 on May 6.

The amount of damage to Clinton County drains was estimated at $687,200.90. Approximately ten (10) percent of the 800 miles of county drains in Clinton County were affected by the ice storm.

The damage estimate was based on ground observation, aerial photographs and also inspection from an aerial flight over the county.

Several contractor estimates were taken of the different segments of the drains where damage was observed from fallen trees and limbs in the drains.

Federal inspectors, Robert F. Morgan, Army Corps of Engineers, and Albert Egris, Department of Natural Resources, have filed an official request pursuant to federal guidelines as administered by the Region Five, Federal Office in Chicago, Illinois.

Many land owners adjacent to the drains are reporting flooding conditions when we receive one inch or more of rain. The drain office is anxious to begin cleaning out the debris when Federal assistance is granted.

GOOD NEWS
I received some good news about Michigan's unemployment picture. April's unemployment levels dropped to 17 and 18 month lows through the state.

The level fell to 10.2 percent in the state and 10.4 percent in the metropolitan Detroit area, according to figures released by the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

The Commission reports that there were 45,600 fewer unemployed workers in the state last month, down from 438,700 in March to 393,100 in April. The March jobless rate was 11.4 percent.

Both the state and Detroit area unemployment levels are well below those of last year when Michigan had 525,900 or 13.5 percent of its labor force unemployed and the metropolitan area had 264,200 jobless residents or 14.1 percent.

While the unemployment figure was dropping, the employment margin was gaining. The number of people working in our state picked up by over 40,000 throughout the state and by 18,000 in the Detroit area during April.

I'm told that the job gains were scattered throughout the manufacturing sector of our economy, reflecting an upturn in the automobile industry. Also, seasonal increases were evident in the construction, retail trade and general service industries.

"A JOB WELL DONE"

In this day and age when the need to bring knowledge to our young people is so important, we, the senior members of the community area, owe a debt of gratitude for the many hours expended by Ken Lashaway, Bob Niemi, Ben Wieber and Dick Vitek in making the vocational department's building projects a reality. We owe thanks, too, to the many local people who served on the Advisory Committee and the school boards of St. Johns, Ovid-Elsie, DeWitt, Pewamo-Westphalia, Fowler and Bath area schools for their farsightedness.

It pleases us here at the bank, to say, "Well Done!" We urge everyone in the community to visit the homes that the high school students of our area built with their own hands. We also are pleased to publicly acknowledge the splendid efforts of anyone else who made the projects the success they have been.

Welcome! Why don't you come in?

Enter into the newly finished house built by 47 members of the St. Johns High School building trades class and see what students are not only learning, but practicing while attending classes.

Most school projects are as extensive as this - but then, how many students undertaking building a house as a school project? Actually, the classes are much like a job. Students report for work at a certain time every day and instead of learning through textbooks, they learn while doing.

One school year's work has gone into this project, and students can now drive by the house at 903 W. McConnell and say they helped to build that house.

a full hearth fireplace, rough sawn trim, mantle and ceiling beams. Sliding glass thermal doors lead from the family room onto a cement patio in the back yard.

All 3 bedrooms are located in the western portion of the house, with the master bedroom measuring 11'4" by 13'8". It is wired for telephone and for color television.

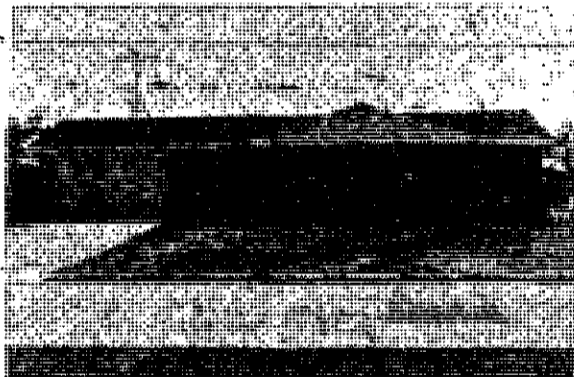

The two other bedrooms measure 11'6" x 19'6" and 13' x 10'. All 3 bedrooms have large closets with bi-fold closet doors. A smoke detector is also located centrally between all 3 bedrooms in the hallway leading to that end of the house.

In summary, this house would be an enviable castle for any man, (or woman).

The open hearth over the range gives this home a colonial touch.

Step back into history and into the kitchen

The quaint open hearth cooking is revived in the McConnell Street home, in the colonial-styled kitchen.

Above the built-in range top, is one of the unique features of this home—an old-fashioned real red brick open hearth. The "fireplace" design is arched and completely covers the range and black slate countertop which enables the cook of the house to place cooking utensils and foods to be prepared close to the range for easy accessibility.

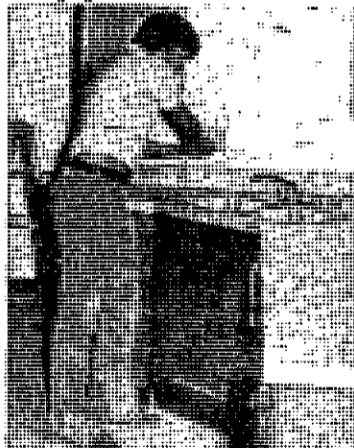

Next to the open hearth is a built-in oven with electric timer so meals can be baked safely, even while the cook is out of the house on an errand or in the backyard enjoying the sunshine. All kitchen built-in appliances are of harvest gold.

Another interesting feature of the hearth area is a built-in wine rack which can store favorite bottles of the bubbly or sauterne to be used in making french cuisine favorites.

Lots of cupboard space is also another feature of this kitchen. The cupboards, of knotty pine with a fruitwood stain, are finished in a warm colonial style that compliments the rest of the kitchen. A set of roll out shelves is located below the range, with each wide shelf able to be pulled out individually. This eliminates excess bending and searching for an item which is located at the back of a cupboard where there is usually no light to see the item.

Across the kitchen from the hearth area are a built-in dishwasher and double steel sink with disposal. A chopping block-style countertop gives the appearance that the large counter space is made of wood, while it is actually made of durable laminated plastic.

A tiny gold and rust print wallpaper covers the kitchen

Henry Dittay installs a wall plate in the kitchen.

Closets, closets and more closets

Storage should be no problem for the owners of this home.

Located near the living room, is an entrance closet for hats and coats.

Then, in the bathroom, and near the dining room, are located 2 large-sized linen closets for storage of towels, sheets, and whatever the homeowner finds convenient to have stored in easily accessible closets.

Large closets also have been built in each of the 3 bedrooms, with bi-fold doors installed for space convenience.

soffets and adjoining dining room walls, providing unity between the two areas. A rust tweed short pile kitchen carpet flows throughout the two areas.

The kitchen is 10' x 11' and the dining area is 11' x 12'. Wood-stained baseboards and casings also carry out the colonial theme.

A quiet neighborhood will greet the new owners

Located just north of the high school at 903 W. McConnell Street, this new home is situated in one of the nicest residential areas of the city.

The house is located on a 105' x 148' yard which will feature a sodded front yard, a seeded back yard and a cement driveway.

The outside of the house will require little maintenance—as there is a brick front, aluminum siding and one-piece aluminum eaves troughs which will eliminate leaks.

The two-car garage measures 22' x 28' deep and is plastered inside. There are 2 service entrances to the garage and a 16-8 overhead garage door can enclose the 2 cars and a work bench comfortably.

Bryan Brooks makes last minute alterations to the family room fireplace.

'Sink' into the family room

From the dining area, one can "sink" down into the 15' x 16' sunken family room which extends from the house into the backyard.

Attention is focused upon the full-hearth red brick fireplace with a roughsawn mantle which compliments the rough sawn ceiling beam and criss-cross wall trim. A short incline which can be used for a seat extends the whole length of the wall on which the fireplace is located.

Sliding thermal glass doors dominate one of the walls of the family room, with the doors opening up onto a cement patio. A wooden spindle divider separates the family and dining rooms, promoting an openness throughout the kitchen, dining, and family room areas.

The ceiling of the family room has been sprayed with glitter and glistens when the sun or evening lights strike it. The new owners of this house will also be happy to know that the family room has already been wired for color television by the high school electronics class.

BY ANY COMPARISON . . . THIS IS A BEAUTIFUL HOME

Bathroom facilities are convenient

Adjusting the vanity in the master bathroom is Carl Pettit.

There are 3 bathroom areas in the McConnell Street home, with the full-sized master bathroom and a half bath being located on the main floor, while a half-bath is located in the basement.

The master bath is located between the dining and bedroom areas and it has been decorated with the colonial theme in mind. The vanity features 2 white porcelain sinks built into a colonial-styled wooden cupboard.

A large mirror above the vanity reflects the gold and white French designed vinyl wallpaper on the wall across from the vanity which is indented to include the shower and bath tub area.

A white marbelized tub enclosure provides additional elegance to the bath area which is carpeted in a rich gold carpeting. The toilet is located in the back of the bath, with wooden stained spindels dividing the toilet area from the vanity.

One of the safety features installed into the master bath is a non-skid bathtub.

If the master bath is occupied, there are always 2 other half-baths available. One of the half-baths is conveniently located between the garage and the kitchen. Dirty hands can easily be washed in this kitchen without having to trek through the rest of the house.

If the homeowner is playing pool or doing the laundry downstairs, another half-bath,

Have household heating units checked and cleaned regularly by qualified heating servicemen.

conveniently located in the basement, can be used without having to climb any steps to the main floor.

Master bedroom wired for telephone and television

The master bedroom which is located in the southwest corner of the house is the largest of the 3 bedrooms located in the McConnell Street house.

The master bedroom is 11'4" x 13'9", while the 2 other bedrooms, which are located in the northwest corner of the house, measure 11'6" x 10'6" and 13' x 10'.

As extra added features in the master bedroom, the electrical classes have wired the room for color television and telephone service.

Each room, features bi-fold doors and extra roomy closets. The rooms have been painted off-white and the master bedroom will be carpeted in light green nylon shag carpeting.

Enter into this colonial home

There are actually 3 entrances into the McConnell Street house, but let's enter the front door first. A large covered porch protects the caller while he or she stands at the steel-clad thermal front door.

When inside the front door, one finds oneself in a short entrance hallway which opens up into a 13' x 19'6" living room. The spacious living room is located in the northeast portion of the house and two large 4' x 5' thermal colonial windows look onto the front yard at McConnell Street.

The living room has been carpeted with a variegated gold and yellow shag carpeting. A quiet formal relaxing atmosphere can prevail in this living room while delicious scents of an evening's meal float through the room from the nearby kitchen.

Visitors can also enter into this home through a garage entranceway which enters into the kitchen and a set of sliding glass thermal doors which separate the backyard patio from the family room.

Basement features utility room, storm shelter

Beneath this spacious house is located a full basement which features a utility room and a crawl space below the sunken family room.

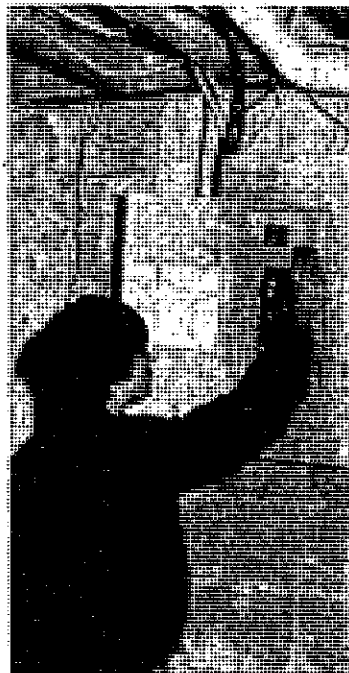

The basement has been built 12 blocks high for extra headroom and is ideal for a playroom, recreation room or storage space, whatever the homeowners desires may be.

On the north end of the basement is located a storm shelter which is actually built below the front porch. The storm shelter is made of reinforced cinder blocks and would provide protection in the event of a tornado.

Located in another portion of the basement is a 150-amp electrical service panel. A special ground fault interrupter has been built into the panel to protect the residents from accidental electrocution.

This device trips the power in the event a short circuit for instance, caused by a radio accidentally falling into a bathtub.

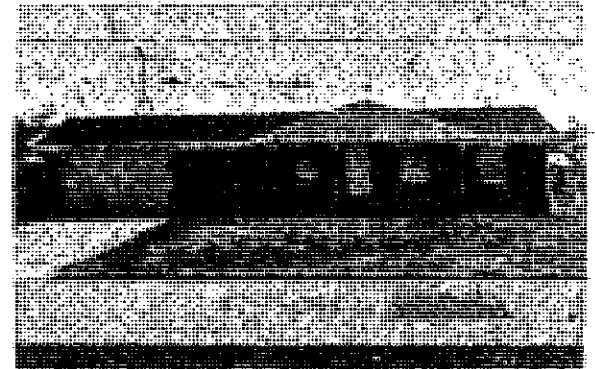

Just a minute amount of fault is needed to trip the power. In the mentioned case of the radio falling into the bathtub, the person taking a bath would probably receive a slight shock, but would not receive the same jolt had this ground fault interrupter not been installed.

Testing the electrical panel is Bryan Brooks.

The McConnell Street house is the 6th house that the St. Johns High School building trades classes have built and they're not going to stop building houses after this one is completely finished, either.

Every year, students construct one house from start to finish. They draw up the plans, they install the gas line, wire the furnace, do the duct work and, in short do all of the work.

Forty-seven students have had a hand in constructing the McConnell Street house. They broke ground in September and worked throughout the school year. They now are culminating their work with the Open House.

Actually, 3 classes work on the house project. The building trades class builds the house under the direction of Bob Niemi, vocational instructor. The electronics and electrical trades classes under the supervision of David Birdsley installs the television antenna and wiring throughout the house. And, then the home management classes under the direction of Mrs. Grace Ormston selects the paint, carpeting, wallpaper and light fixtures for the house.

Next year's house is already on the planning board. It is tentatively set to be built on a lot at Lansing and Sturgis Streets. It will be a ranch home and will be smaller than the McConnell Street home, due to the increasing costs of materials.
