One of Michigan Week highlights

'Minuteman' citation presented to Lake

Lester H. Lake (right), St. Johns jeweler, was presented with a Michigan Minuteman citation at the rural-urban dinner last Tuesday night by Lt. Gov. William G. Milliken, who was the main speaker of the evening.

A surprise presentation of a Michigan Minuteman award for spirited and long-standing promotion of his community was made to St. Johns jeweler Lester H. Lake last Tuesday night. It was one of the highlights of the first annual rural-urban dinner which in turn was one of the highlights of Michigan Week in Clinton County.

The Michigan Minuteman "Citation of Honor" was presented to Lake by Lt. Gov. William G. Milliken, who was the speaker for the rural-urban dinner. It was awarded by the St. Johns Michigan Week committee for Lake's "outstanding service to Michigan as a Michigan Minuteman who at every opportunity champions our great state, its heritage, its hospitality, its dynamic present and its future."

THE CERTIFICATE was signed by Betty Minsky, county Michigan Week chairman; Brandon White, St. Johns chairman; Dale J. Sellers, president of the Greater Michigan Foundation; and Richard O. Cook, chairman of the Michigan Minutemen. The citation has been registered at the Michigan Department of State.

Lake was associated with another trophy presentation last Tuesday night. Brandon C. (Bob) White, St. Johns Michigan Week chairman, presented the Lester Lake Michigan Week trophy to the St. Johns Jaycees in recognition of the community service performed in the Helping Hands project.

The trophy was one Lake won last year for entering the best float in a Michigan Week parade. Since there wasn't any parade this year, he donated the trophy to become a traveling award made each year to a St. Johns organization contributing significantly to the betterment of the community.

Accepting the trophy on behalf of the Jaycees were President Mrs. Roger Feeman and Helping Hands project chairman Mrs. Rod Brown.

ANOTHER AWARD presented was a large, framed resolution from the Michigan House of Representatives lauding William Mayers of rural St. Johns as Michigan's "Outstanding Young Farmer of the Year." Mayers won that Michigan Jaycees honor March 4. The resolution was presented to Mayers and his wife by Andrew Cobb of Elsie, standing in for State Rep. Lester Allen who was unable to attend.

Lt. Gov. Milliken, in his remarks to the approximate 300 persons attending the dinner, lauded the joint meeting of rural and urban people. He echoed the words of Dan Reed, legislative counsel for the Michigan Farm Bureau that "one of the most significant changes in Michigan's economy is that the line which once separated the business and the agricultural communities is gradually but surely disappearing."

"Many farmers no longer talk about agriculture so much as they talk about agri-business," the lieutenant governor continued, "and business and agriculture are much more dependent upon each other than they were a generation or two ago."

"A GENERATION or two ago there would have been little point in a joint meeting between the Chamber of Commerce and the Farm Bureau because the two organizations had little in common."

"Then a few years ago the Farm Bureau began to invite businessmen to its annual meetings, and the Chamber of Commerce began to invite farmers to its annual meetings. Members were surprised to find how many common concerns they had."

"... tonight the line between the business and agricultural communities that Dan Reed talks about disappears a little more—to the benefit of both communities." (See MINUTEMAN, Page 3-A)

what the city CAN be."

More than aesthetics is involved, Milliken said. "Every Chamber of Commerce worthy of the name is constantly on the alert for desirable new business and new industry. At the same time, every business or industry considering where it will expand will look carefully at the sites it is considering."

"ONE OF THE DECIDING factors will be the over-all appearance of that city because the appearance is an indication of the spirit, the progressiveness, and the future potential of that community—whether it be St. Johns, Traverse City, or any other."

"The question in St. Johns and Clinton County is not whether you will grow, but how you will grow. You can project your present city population of 6,000 to 10,000 within the next 25 years. Your tri-county planning commission already has done that. During those (See MILLIKEN, Page 3-A)

Milliken puts in plug for urban renewal

Lt. Gov. William Milliken put in a plug for urban renewal, a current topic of contention in St. Johns, last week when he spoke at the Michigan Week rural-urban dinner on Tuesday night.

"One of the tragedies of our American cities, of all sizes, is that they do not grow old gracefully," the lieutenant governor said. "Old and crumbling buildings continue to stand as monuments to ugliness and mediocrity long after they should have been replaced."

"And sometimes garish new structures spring up with no relation to their environment or the character of the city.

"BREATHING NEW life, new vitality and new beauty into an old city can be a very agonizing process," Milliken continued, "but it can also be a very exciting process when we consider what we can do with imagination and courage."

Milliken referred to his hometown of Traverse City and pointed out they are engaged this year in similar activities involving urban renewal. Bringing the parallels of the two communities even closer, he said Traverse City has also employed the consulting firm of Villean Leman, the same firm handling St. Johns planning.

"The advantage of bringing in a Villean Leman, or some other reputable firm, is that we are bringing in specialists who can see beyond the ugliness—ugliness we no longer see at all because we have lived with it so long—to

Tentative allocation adjusted

The Clinton County Allocation Board made some adjustments in their preliminary allocation last week, and their final figures more closely match the allocations of last year.

The 15-mill tax pie will be cut up this way:
* 8.20 mills to the school districts.
* 5.63 mills to the county government.
* 1.00 mill to the individual townships.
* .17 mill to the Intermediate School District of Clinton County.
The final allocation was determined last Thursday following a public hearing in which school district representatives strongly protested the allocation board's preliminary figures which gave the schools 7,415 mills and the county 6,415 mills.

The new allocations will be spread for use during 1968. It differs from this year's allocation where the county got 5.33 mills and the schools 8.5 mills. The schools, therefore, get a reduction of .3 mill (30 cents per $1,000 of state equalized valuation) from last year and the county gets an increase of .3 mill.

A MEMORIAL DAY SALUTE TO ST. JOHNS' WAR DEAD

Mrs. Grace Shipley of the Blue Star Mothers places one of nine wreaths at the Civil War monument at Mt. Rest Cemetery as St. Johns patriotic and veterans organizations paid tribute Tuesday to local men who gave their lives in war. A large crowd gathered at the cemetery and along the route of the Memorial Day parade under sunny skies. The Rev. Eldon Raymond of the St. Johns Church of the Nazarene delivered a short message at the cemetery.

THE PROCESSIONAL of seniors to their seats on the athletic field will be accompanied by the high school band, after which senior Gaynor Bond will give the invocation. The salutatory address will be given by Kathleen Corkin, followed by singing of "No Man Is An Island" by the high school concert choir.

Following Dr. Wisner's commencement talk, valedictorian Kathy Bashore will give her address. The annual torch ceremony will then take place, followed by the presentation of diplomas to the graduates. The benediction will be given by Marilyn Moz, and the high school band will play the recessional, closing the program.

William Harker of St. Joseph Catholic Church, and the choir will sing "O Lord, Support Us."

CCN staffer for 40 years retiring

We're losing versatile 'Bird'

Who is going to cross the t's, dot the i's, catch the its that should be it's and correct the spelling of names next week in the Clinton County News?

Birdaine Louise Smith has been catching these and other errors made by the editorial staff of the Clinton County News, in addition to the many other duties around the shop.

"Bird" is leaving us. Today, June 1, her retirement becomes effective. She has been with the newspaper for over 40 years.

In addition to her proof-reading duties, she has during her years at the paper filled in just about everywhere. She has been an ad compositor, a linotype operator, a society editor, set type and has even on occasions stopped the press. She says about the only thing she hasn't done was start the press.

IT HAS BEEN HER RESPONSIBILITY for many years to take care of the mailing list for the paper. Every Wednesday afternoon, the list is run through a machine—just the age of it would qualify it for a collection at the Smithsonian—which applies the mailing labels to each paper. It is a job for which there are few volunteers when Bird has been on vacation or sick.

During her years here, Bird says she had been disgustingly healthy. She has missed very few days of work. The only day she was unable to get to work, due to the weather, happened earlier this year during "the big snow."

She began her newspaper career with the Clinton Republican in 1921 when Coleman C. Vaughn was the pub-

Bike license sale nets $80

The sale of bicycle licenses recently by members of the St. Johns Exchange Club netted them about $80, President Milo Rowell told club members last Thursday noon.

Police Officer Lyle French, who is in charge of the licensing, turned over to the club its share of the license fees collected. Police Chief Everett Glazier, an Exchange member, was chairman of the project.

Walt Nickel spoke to club members on sex education for youngsters and on temperance education for teens. Ken Moore was program chairman.

The Exchange Club District 11 annual meeting will be held in Muskegon June 16, 17 and 18, President Rowell reported.

Record 75 boys entered for Soap Box Derby

Twenty-five boys who will drive racers in this year's Soap Box Derby in St. Johns had their cars checked out for proper standards of weight and other specifications Saturday at the first of three weekend inspection dates. Roger Feeman (right) chairman of the inspection committee checks the weight on a car being built by Kim Patterson. Waiting in the background are Bill Muckle (left) with his finished car, and Kris Patterson with his auto on the measurement rack. Another inspection and trial run will be held this Saturday on East Railroad Street.

A record number of 75 boys have signed up to participate in the fifth annual Clinton County Soap Box Derby on June 11.

And, Derby Director Bill McCarthy said, other boys who are considering entering have until this Saturday to do it and get in the running for a $500 U.S. savings bond, trophy and award trip to the All-American Soap Box Derby in Akron, Ohio, later this summer.

Fourteen other boys will share other prizes being offered for finishing in places two through 15. In addition, all participants will receive a white helmet to wear, a tee-shirt and a handsome ribbon and medal.

THE JUNE 3 DEADLINE date for entering the derby coincides with a final inspection and trial run off down East Railroad Street. The inspection committee headed by Roger Feeman and Richard Wood will check out cars for weight and measurement specifications from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. this Saturday at the intersection of Railroad and Swegles streets.

Boys will have an opportunity for a trial run down Railroad Street, using the derby starting ramp. All cars which meet specifications and which are finished will be locked in storage until race day.

Race day promises to be a big event to rival those of the previous four years. Several changes have been instituted to make it a little different, however.

THE RACES WILL BE held during the early evening hours on Sunday, June 11, with the first heats starting about 7 p.m. Following the final heats, the public is invited to watch the awards ceremony which will be held on a truck-trailer stage on the railroad depot lawn.

Pre-race activities will get under way at 8 p.m. with a 15-minute performance by the St. Johns High School marching band on Clinton Avenue at the intersection of State Street. At 8:15 the Soap Box Derby queen will be crowned, and five minutes later an airplane will swoop down over the business district to signal the start of a 38-unit parade up Clinton Avenue.

The annual Oil Can Derby race between officials of three St. Johns industries will take place at 6:45 as the last preliminary before the actual Soap Box Derby races start. A Powder Pull Derby contest between perhaps half a dozen girls will be held prior to the final seven or eight heats of the main derby.

Director McCarthy said the races and awards ceremony should be completed by 9:30 p.m. Last year 62 cars raced in the derby and all the heats were run in 1 1/2 hours.

S/SGT. MERLE WHITFORD

Eureka soldier wounded in war

EUREKA — Staff Sgt. Merle K. Whitford, USMC, was wounded in Vietnam May 18 but has been treated and returned to duty.

Word of Sgt. Whitford's injury came last week in a telegram to his parents, Mr and Mrs John W. Whitford of R-1, Elsie.

The telegram reported Sgt. Whitford was injured May 18 in the vicinity of Quang Tri, Republic of Vietnam. He sustained a fragmentation wound to the left elbow from rocket fire while in a defensive position.

It went on to say his condition and prognosis were excellent. He was treated at the battalion aid station and returned to duty.

Another fire alarm sounded Monday evening at 7 p.m., but it turned out to be less serious—a car fire at 108 W. Gibbs Street with only minor damage resulting. The fire was out by the time firemen arrived.

OK school science equipment

The St. Johns School Board met briefly Monday afternoon, accepting a bid for science furniture for the new high school and approving a consolidating of classes for four rural schools next year.

Statewide Equipment Co. of Dearborn placed the low bid of $68,278 for Royal science equipment and was awarded the contract by the school board.

The other bidders and their bids were: Classroom, Inc. $74,439.50 for Kewanee furniture; McFadden Corp. $80,502.65 for Sheldon furniture; and Superior School Equipment Co. $89,545 for Leonard Peterson furniture.

The consolidating of classes next year involves the Lamb, Chapman, Stoney Creek and Merle Beach schools in a play the board has been discussing for several weeks. Next year kindergarten and first grade classes will be held at the Lamb school and will involve about 30 pupils. Second and third graders numbering 27 will meet at the Chapman School. Fourth and fifth graders will meet at Stoney Creek and will number about 23. Some 27 sixth, seventh and eighth graders will have their classes at the Merle Beach School.

The school board also approved sample of brick from the Belden Brick Co. to be used on the new high school building. The school board was told the brick could be obtained locally.

The next regular meeting of the school board will be June 14.

The home includes a ramblin 19-foot kitchen — nook, two-car garage, basement and features a five-ply-construction exterior wall with aluminum siding. Homestead crews build the house but permit the owner to complete a number of handyman-type finishing tasks himself, thereby saving money.

Prosecutor White says he'll resign

Clinton County Prosecuting Atty. Norman White said Monday he will submit letters to the board of supervisors, county clerk and circuit judge next week announcing his resignation effective July 1.

White said he will take a position with the Grand Rapids law firm of Luyendyk, Hiner and Karr.

He has been prosecuting attorney for Clinton County since Jan. 1, 1965, having been elected the previous November. He came to St. Johns in April 1963 and was associated with attorney Frederick M. Lewis in practice prior to election as prosecutor.

White has a BA degree from Michigan State University and graduated in 1963 from the University of Michigan Law School. This past March he was elected president of the Clinton-Gratiot Bar Assn. for the next year.

Appointment of a replacement for White will be made at a later date by Circuit Judge Leo Corkin.

Milliken said the line between the State Farm Bureau and the Michigan Chamber of Commerce is also fading, and he cited dual support for several major issues, including tax reform.

"As it should be," he said, "because tax reform isn't a rural issue or a city issue."

MILLIKEN ASSURED his audience that "We are doing everything we can to squeeze the maximum value out of each tax dollar. I can also assure you," he added, "that without tax reform there aren't going to be enough dollars to meet our essential commitments in vital areas of public concern."

The alternative to tax reform, Milliken said, is to lop $185 million off the governor's proposed budget. Among other things that would mean cutbacks totaling $87 million for public education at all levels; and reduction of mental health outlays by $23 million, social service programs by $28 million, and conservation programs by $12 million.

"Much of this reduction in state spending," he said, "particularly for schools and welfare which also are the heaviest areas of county spending, would have to be made up by local tax increases—and that almost inevitably would mean higher property taxes."

MILLIKEN DREW the farmer and the businessman together in several fields of common endeavor.

"As farmers and businessmen share common concerns for tax and spending reform, you also share common concern for getting the maximum value out of dollars spent for education," Milliken said. "Through our schools and colleges, you hope to prepare your children for life in a world that has grown more and more complex. The line between 'city' schools and 'country' schools, which once separated farmers and townspeople, has been pretty much erased by the larger consolidated districts. These districts have increased and equalized educational opportunities."

"As farmers and businessmen, you share a concern about advancements in agriculture, because agriculture is our most important business. Nationwide, the farmers' investment today in machinery and tools is greater than the assets of the American steel industry, and five times greater than the assets of the automobile industry. The farmers' total investment is $214 billion, which is more than the combined investment of all the companies on the New York Stock Exchange."

THE PROGRESS OF both farmers and manufacturers has resulted in real benefits for people living in rural areas, and better products at costs that take a smaller percentage of their total earnings than any other country in the world.

"In 1935, one farmer was able to feed himself and eight others. Now, only one generation later, each farmer is able to feed himself and 37 others . . . and the yield of about one acre in five goes to feed the populations of a hungry world. That's one of the reasons we point out now—during Michigan Week—that Michigan is dynamic in world progress."

Master of ceremonies for the rural-urban banquet was David C. Morris of rural Grand Ledge, Clinton County farmer and director of District 5 on the Michigan Farm Bureau Board. He also spoke briefly about the role of the farmer and the businessman. "The main issue of our society," he said, "is if people are willing to take a stand and work together."

The Fowler 4, a barbershop quartet, provided entertainment during the program. The presentation of awards was headed by Betty Jane Minsky, county Michigan Week chairman, who also introduced Lt. Gov. Milliken. Rev. Gerald Churchill of the First Congregational Church gave the invocation. The meal of swiss steak was served by women of the Bengal and Bingham EUB churches.

same years, your county population is expected to grow from its present 42,000 to 70,000.

"Your future is not just an urban problem," Milliken continued. "It is not just a rural problem. It is an urban-rural problem, and I think you would agree that if you are to make the right decisions you will need the best local thinking you can get, combined with the best professional advice you can get."

"WITH SEVEN OUT OF 10 of our families now living in urban areas, the time has come for a massive and successful assault on the problems of the St. Johns's, the Traverse City's, and our urban complexes of all sizes. And our commitment must be to justice, to order, and to beauty."

"The assault will succeed only if we mobilize the strongest efforts of federal, state and local governments, and of private citizens."

"We need to establish concrete goals and clear priorities."

"We need to carry constantly before us a vision of what our cities CAN be and the determination to make that vision a reality."

"DESPITE OUR OTHER commitments, we have the resources to make our cities what they should be—centers of industry, education and culture . . . safe, clean and attractive places in which to live."

"The only question is whether we have the will. As I meet with Chambers of Commerce all over this state, including yours here in St. Johns tonight, I am convinced that in ever-increasing numbers, we do have that will."

Draft calls take 4 in June

Michigan's highest draft call of the year for June won't affect Clinton County out of the ordinary. Two men are being summoned for regular induction into the Army and another two are going on special call.

Scheduled to leave for service duty June 27 are: Thomas M. Howse of DeWitt; Paul D. Everitt of Bath; Phillip C. Perring of Laingsburg.

James F. Crel of Lansing; Howse and Everitt volunteered for the draft under the regular induction call.

FOURTEEN MEN will leave June 22 for pre-induction physical examinations. They are: James C. Fox of St. Johns, Allen R. Geller of St. Johns, Larry R. Wicke of Lansing, Wesley R. Wilkins of Williamston, Raymond J. Lachaw of Berkeley, Calif., Dale Shipman of Grand Ledge, Frank J. Rose Jr. of DeWitt, Daniel M. Fox of Fowler, Randy L. Brush of Lansing, Norman G. Geller of St. Johns, Scott M. Munger of St. Johns, Randall C. Wright of Grand Ledge, David V. Gage of Lansing and Duane L. Russell of East Lansing.

Statewide 1,174 registrants are being summoned in June for the regular induction and 162 other former limited service registrants who are now acceptable for induction under current Defense Department standards are being called.

Col. Arthur A. Holmes, state selective service director, said more than 6,700 registrants in the 21-25 age group will be ordered for preinduction physical examinations during May and June to determine acceptability for induction. Pre-induction physical examinations were suspended during the first four months this year because of lack of funds.

Ovid-Elsie Jaycees chartered

OVID-ELSIE—The new Ovid-Elsie Jaycees were surrounded by state Jaycee dignitaries Saturday night when they received their Jaycee charter at a special charter night banquet at the new Ovid-Elsie High School.

About 150 persons were on hand for the banquet and program.

The Jaycee chapter charter was presented to Ovid-Elsie Jaycee President Jerry Ross by Robert Morrill of Grand Ledge, national director of Region D. Ironically, it was the Grand Ledge Jaycees who were instrumental in getting the new chapter started.

Heustis lauds Fowler Jaycees for VD project

FWLW — The Fowler Jaycees' VD informational program has won commendation from State Health Director Albert E. Heustis.

Heustis last week commended the Jaycees for receiving a first place award for community health and safety at the Michigan Jaycees' recent state convention at Traverse City.

Fowler Jaycee President Francis Schafer accepted the award on behalf of the local group for work in . . . making the Clinton County adult population aware of the menace of the social diseases syphilis and gonorrhea through informational projects."

THE FOWLER GROUP presented a series of lectures to civic organizations throughout the county promoting venereal disease education and awareness. Any questions for further information were referred to the local health department.

Dr. Heustis observed that the work that had been done could be an important first step in bringing down the venereal disease rate. "This type of project is worthwhile for any civic organization, and I'd like to congratulate the Fowler Jaycees on showing the initiative to bring this problem out in the open and before the public."

The Jaycees' presentations were prepared after consultation with the state health department's Venereal Disease Control Section. The Mid-Michigan District Health Department also contributed information for the talks.

Schafer estimated that the 27 programs presented to date have reached 800 people in the Clinton County area. He also stated that the local group intend to recommend that the Michigan Jaycees make the educational talks a statewide project.

Firemen plan '4th' celebration

With the first summer holiday now behind us, most folks are looking forward to the next one on the Fourth of July. St. Johns firemen have been looking that far ahead for some time in making plans for their annual Fourth of July celebration.

It is planned again this year with four big days of activities starting Saturday, July 1. The Crown Amusement Co., which provided the carnival setup last year, will be on the scene again this year, reportedly with an expanded show and several larger-sized rides.

The highlight and the climax of the four-day Independence Day celebration will be the fireworks display the night of July 4. Firemen of the St. Johns Fire Department are building the fireworks again and report spending about $800 more this year on fireworks than was spent last year. There will be more aerial displays than last year.

There will be a talent show in conjunction with the celebration, with the Lions and Rotary clubs collaborating to put it on. They'll also work together on an eat-in, and the Lions will have a dunking booth set up on the grounds. Boy Scouts will have a popcorn concession.

Some rules for power mowing

Now that your grass is growing faster than a 10-year-old's appetite, the snarl of the power mower will be heard in the land, especially when you are trying to sleep Sunday morning.

Along with the noise will come an assortment of foot, toe and hand injuries, or worse. It is estimated that the cropped toe category will be about 50,000 units, and that another 18,000 hand injuries will result from the 75,000 power mower accidents.

A good third of these accidents will result from objects thrown by rotary mower blades. Such accidents have caused deaths.

- As most of these accidents can be prevented, take a few tips from those who have learned the hard way. Maybe you know all the rules, but are your sure your memory is out of deep freeze after that cold, long winter?
- 1. CHECK FUEL supply before you begin. Never refuel a hot engine. Turn it off and allow it to cool.
- 2. When starting mower, stand with your feet firmly planted in a safe place.
- 3. Turn off the motor when leaving mower, even for a short period.
- 4. Don't allow children to come close when the mower is in operation.
- 5. On inclines and terraces be careful of your balance and footing. Your foot can slip under the mower before you know what is happening.
- 6. Before mowing the lawn clear it of stones, wire and other debris.
- 7. NEVER ATTEMPT to remove anything from the mower until the motor has completely stopped.
- 8. Don't use an electric mower when the grass is wet.
- 9. On gasoline mowers, always remove the spark plug before working underneath the mower.
- 10. To be extra safe, always wear safety shoes.

Vandals damage DeWitt School

School vandals went on the rampage in Clinton County again over the weekend, dealing heavy damage to DeWitt High School and some also to Hurd School in DeWitt Township.

DeWitt Township police and Clinton County sheriff's officers are working on meager clues in the two separate but apparently related cases.

At DeWitt High School on Herkison Road, nine windows in the building were broken by small chunks of concrete tossed through them. Another 13 windows in one of the district's school buses were busted out by the vandals. The damage was done apparently Sunday night.

Tickets are available from any member of the vocal music department and at the door.

Elsie By MRS. NEVA KEYS, Correspondent Elsie mayor spends day in Three Oaks

Elsie Village President Durward Conklin and his wife were picked up early Monday morning in Three Oaks, a town of 1,783 population, only a few miles from the Indiana state line.

They were met by police at the first stop light and accompanied to the town's stockade, where Conklin was placed in accordance with the publicity on the upcoming Centennial celebration to be held there July 9 to 15 this summer.

The Conklins, guests of Three Oaks for Mayor's Exchange Day, were treated royally and taken on a tour of the town's facilities and industries by Councilman Chester Decker, Reynold Koze, Keith Gridley, Jim Boughner and their wives and Dr. Lester Knight.

Among the industries visited were: Wedum Tool and Engineering (air conditioners and refrigeration); Knoll and Co. (infants' wear); Horsesh Chair Factory (business and office chairs) and Lee Electronics (stereo and amplifiers).

Of special interest to the Conklins was the Drier Meat Market which has been in operation for over a century by three generations of the family. They turn out hickory-smoked meats similar to those of Conklin's father, the late C. M. Conklin who also owned a meat market for many years in Elsie.

THEY VISITED the Maple Valley River High, a new consolidated school and a fairly new Public Library.

A luncheon was served shortly after noon in Cowan's Restaurant where Dr. Knight presided as toastmaster for a brief program. The Conklins were presented with an electric carving knife and several souvenirs of the approaching Centennial.

A relaxing lake shore drive along Lake Michigan closed the busy schedule for the day. Upon receiving the keys to their car for the return trip home, they learned of another gift—a car wash and a full tank of gasoline.

The Conklins drove to Niles the previous day and stayed overnight with Mr and Mrs Virgil Lawson, former Elsie residents. They also attended the Tulip Festival at Holland.

Southwestern Michigan Mayor at Elsie Monday

The Village of Elsie was host to Mayor James Hausman and his wife and Councilman Joseph Garbert of Three Oaks for Mayor's Exchange Day Monday as part of Michigan Week activities. Upon their arrival in the morning, the visitors were greeted at a coffee hour in the new Elementary School and escorted throughout the day by Mr and Mrs A. W. Cobb on a tour of the Elsie area points of interest and facilities.

The Ovid-Elsie High School Band and a trio of dancers provided music and entertainment at the local school after which they were shown Elsie's newest business, the Mico Manufacturing Co., a division of Hancock Industries.

Luncheon with several representatives of the Lions Club and Commercial Club, who sponsored the day's activities, was served at the Village Inn.

THE AFTERNOON tour included the new Ovid-Elsie High School, Green Meadow Farms, Moore's Seed Farm, Elsie Machine Co. and Elsie's tree-lined streets and new-home subdivisions.

Mr and Mrs O. L. Allread opened their new home to the out-of-town guests for a rest period before attending a banquet in their honor at the Masonic Hall. Eastern Star members served a country-style turkey dinner to some 60 guests.

AL MITCHELL, Michigan Week Chairman, introduced the guests and various committees who assisted in the program plans. Rev. Gordon Showers gave the invocation after which Gene Stauffer presided as master of ceremonies.

The Three Oaks visitors gave a few remarks summing up with their impressions of a day with "the wonderful people of Elsie, who have a right to be proud of their village". Engraved keys to Elsie were presented to Hausman and Garbert while their

The program was started at 10:30 at the Blue Water Motel and from there they went to the new waterworks building for pictures. The Ovid-Elsie High School band met them at 11:30 at the Veterans Memorial building and paraded through town.

Next they were driven through the village park and then to Vaughan Seed Company for a tour of the buildings. The new Ovid Elementary school was visited. The Village Municipal building and fire hall was toured before the 1 p.m. luncheon was held at Judy's Diner in the Rainbow Room with about 20 present.

The banquet was climaxed by a talk given by William Hannah of Muskegon who was one of the men who helped write Michigan's new constitution.

During the past three weeks all first through sixth grade classes in the Clinton County schools had their rooms decorated to the theme of Michigan Week. Twenty-three trophies were awarded with seven going to the Ovid Elementary Schools. These trophies were presented to each grade by Mitchell Das, chairman of Michigan Day for Ovid.

Mr and Mrs Raymond Hamer spent last weekend in Bay City and attended the wedding of their granddaughter, Vicki Ann Alderman and Ronald Norman Helgman at Center Avenue First Presbyterian church in that city. Following a wedding trip to Pompano Beach, Fla., the new Mr and Mrs Helgman will be making their home in Bay City.

DEWITT 8, MORRICE 1 Mike Fuller, the only senior on DeWitt's baseball squad, played all nine positions May 22 in his final game and contributed a base hit as DeWitt beat Morrice 8-1. DeWitt's final season record is 7-5, and the Panthers had a 3-4 mark in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference.

Fuller pitched the first inning and then Mike Beach took over, striking out nine batters, walking one and giving up only three hits in five innings to get credit for the victory. His season's record is 6-4.

Mike Shooltz's single in the third inning drove in two runs that proved to be enough to win. DeWitt added another in the fourth inning, however, and capped it with five runs in the top of the seventh.

Mike Fenels had two singles for the Panthers, while Fuller, Shooltz, Lankford and Rip Hines each contributed hits.

Wings 8th in league track meet

St. Johns could muster only six points by placing runners in four events at the West Central Conference track meet last Wednesday night at Lake Odessa. The one bright spot of the meet for St. Johns was the breaking of the school's mile run record by miler and track co-captain Don Palmer.

Palmer finished fourth in the event at the conference level, but this time of 4:41.0 eclipsed the old school record of 4:41.5 held by Al Koenigsnecht.

The Redwings finished last in the team scoring as Charlotte won the meet with 74 points. Alma was second with 53, Hastings third with 27, Greenville fourth with 26, Lakewood fifth with 16, Grand Ledge sixth with 13, Ionia seventh with 10 and St. Johns eighth with 6 points.

RANDY HUMPHREY scored points in two events by placing fourth in the 100-yard dash with a time of 1:40.4 and fifth in the 220-yard dash with a time of 2:31.5. Palmer's fourth place in the mile run was good for points, and the mile relay team of Witt, Orta, Swatman and Green ran fifth with a time of 3:37.9.

Charlotte won the mile relay event with a time of 3:34.4, eclipsing the old record of 3:35.9 set last year by St. Johns. In all, six new meet records were set last Wednesday.

4 records set as DeWitt edges O-E in county meet

St. Johns finishes third

Four New Clinton County Track Meet records were broken or established Monday night as DeWitt won the last event and edged Ovid-Elsie for the coveted St. Johns Lions Club traveling trophy.

DeWitt tallied 71 points in the team scoring to nudge out Ovid-Elsie which gathered up 69 points, while Bath had 9 points for fourth place and Fowler, which entered only two men, had 4 points for fifth place. Pewamo-Westphalia did not have a team entered.

Pole vault and 880-yard relay records were broken and a new record for the two-mile run, a new event this year, was established. A new high jump mark was set.

JIM BOUTS, A bouncing red-head from DeWitt, sprang over the bar at 11 feet 7 inches to set a new pole vault record. He smashed the old record of 11 feet 6 inches set last year by former teammate Bill Watson.

A 1964 record of 1:39.0 in the 880-yard relay, set by St. Johns, was broken by a fleet team from Ovid-Elsie. Terry Plowman, Daryl Melvin, Mark O'Donnell and Mike Seybert traversed the half mile in a combined time of 1:38.4, bettering the old record by .6 second.

The two-mile run, a new event in 1967, will have a fast mark of 10:59.2 to face runners in future county meets. Armando Rositas of St. Johns set the good pace Monday night to establish the record.

Roger Kaminski of DeWitt broke Watson's high jump record of 5 feet 7-3/4 inches set last year by leaping 5 feet eight inches.

es to win that event.

MARK O'DONNELL of Ovid-Elsie appeared to have set a record in the 180-yard low hurdles with a time of :20.1—a full 1.5 seconds faster than the old record. Because the variance was so wide meet officials checked and discovered that one set of hurdles hadn't been put on the track, so it was ruled the time could not stand as a record.

It was a close meet all the way. St. Johns held the lead for only the first two events, and then DeWitt took over and flashed out to a 36-25-18 lead over St. Johns and Ovid-Elsie after the sixth of 14 events. Ovid-Elsie gained fast with big points in the high and low hurdles and the 880-yard run and 440-yard dash.

Ovid-Elsie overtook St. Johns with only three events left and pulled even with DeWitt going into the final race, the mile relay. But the Panthers won that with a sluggish 3:53.0 time (the record is 3:40.0) to get 5 points to Ovid-Elsie's 3.

The first five place winners in each event were presented with medals by the Clinton County News, co-sponsor of the county track meet. The Lions Club traveling trophy was presented to DeWitt Coach Bill Gillingham. All the awards were handed out on behalf of the County News and the Lions by John Theuerkauf and meet Director Frank Rosengren.

Bath, Fowler tie for loop honors

Bath and Fowler High Schools tied for the Central Michigan Athletic Conference all-sports trophy, it was announced at a dinner last Thursday night.

The two teams ended the year with 44 points in the four sports that count in the standings—football, basketball, track and baseball.

Other scores were Pewamo-Westphalia 40, Portland St. Patrick 35, Laingsburg 34, DeWitt 33, Pottersville 31 and Webberville 27. The champion in each sport received 16 points, runner-up 14, etc.

ARMANDO ROSITAS

Armando Rositas of St. Johns established a record in the two-mile run at the county track meet Monday night, running the distance in 10:59.2.

DeWitt's Roger Kaminski tries in vain for a 5-foot, 10-inch jump after setting a new meet record in the high jump Monday night of 5 feet 8 inches, breaking a record set last year. Holding the pole steady in a breeze is judge Phil Greer.

Brya scores first round KO at Owosso

Doug Brya of St. Johns, boxing in an open class light-heavyweight bout in the Armory at Owosso Saturday night, scored a first-round knockout over Darrell Ford of Owosso. Brya put Ford away at 1:40 in the round. Another St. Johns boxer, John Jolly, lost a close decision to Steve Ingersol of Diamond Lake in a novice welterweight fight.

The Ovid-Elsie 880-yard relay team set a new record by running the half-mile in a time of 1:38.4, breaking the old mark of 1:39.0 set in 1964. The team consisted of Terry Plowman, Daryl Melvin, Mark O'Donnell and Mike Seybert.

Mrs Fenner delegate to EUB meet

Mrs Lyle Fenner of R-4 was the delegate from the Bingham and Bengal EUB churches of St. Johns attending the Michigan Conference of The Evangelical United Brethren Church meeting in its 106th annual session at the Faith EUB Church in Lansing which voted May 17 to approve the union with the Methodist Church. The vote specifically was on a resolution to approve the Constitution and enabling legislation that was approved by both denominations' General Conferences meeting concurrently last Nov. 11 in Chicago.

In other action, the delegates elected Rev Garfield Kellermann Jr. of Detroit as Conference Superintendent. He has been pastor of the Calvary Church, on Detroit's west side, since August, 1964. He will take the office vacated by Rev Dr Newell C. Liesmer and serve the East District of Michigan Conference. George Ruhl of R-2, St. Johns, was granted a license as a probationer. He will be stationed at Mount Pleasant where he will be a student pastor. He will be enrolled at Central Michigan University and work on his preministerial degree. Ruhl is married to the former Mary Arndt of R-2, St. Johns and they have one son. They are planning to move to Mount Pleasant in the near future.

2 in school orchestra get awards

Two St. Johns High School Orchestra members were awarded a scholarship and a plaque at the recent spring concert of the orchestra.

Miss Andre Lewis, daughter of Mr and Mrs William Lewis of 502 E. Cass Street, was presented with an $85 scholarship given by Michigan State University. It enables her to attend a three-week 1967 Youth Music Program held on the MSU campus from July 30 to Aug. 19. She will be among about 600 other high school students who will attend the program.

Miss Lewis is concert mistress of the St. Johns High School Orchestra and the Lansing Junior Symphony. She is finishing her junior year.

Jon Cleveland, a graduating senior, received the Beethoven Award following his piano performance of the "Dream of Owen" at the spring concert. The award represents excellence in citizenship and musicianship and is given each year to the outstanding senior string player who is selected by the members of the orchestra. It is in the form of a plaque.

Fulton High School

Officers plan new year at Fulton

As the 66-67 school year comes to a close, preparations are being made to make the coming school year a successful one.

"The first step is for the classes to reorganize under new officers. They are as follows.

Freshmen: president, Linda Braman; vice president, Tim Welber; secretary, Janet Chick; treasurer, Cindy Helms.

Sophomores: president, Doug First; vice president, Rick Renwick; secretary, Janice Miller, treasurer, Janette Sallsbury.

Juniors: president, George (Dick) Zamarron; vice president, Tom Redman; secretary, Karen Loudbeck; treasurer, Sydney Armstrong.

Seniors: president, Randy Loudbeck; vice president, Robert (Topper) Baxter; secretary, June Wright; treasurer, Luanne Dodge.

achieving goals in commercial courses. Many other awards will be given in various fields.

The seniors will be nothing but busy this week and next. Of course final tests are mixed in with all the preparations for graduation. The packed - full schedule begins with "Senior Skip Day." On May 26, the seniors will spend the day at Silver Lake on the Florida Resort near Ludington. There will be swimming, jeep rides over the sand dunes, horse back riding and, of course, lots to eat.

NEXT IS baccalaureate. That be Sunday the 28th at 8 p.m. Class night is the following night at 8 p.m. The will, prophecy, gift-atory, and class history will be read. Afterwards, the seniors will meet at the Newark Hall for a class party.

Finally comes commencement. The big night when the seniors will formally leave Fulton High School will be highlighted by guest speaker, Dr. Britton, "teacher of the year." He is also listed in "Who's Who in Education." June 1 is indeed a very important step in the life of every individual in the class of 1967.

356 get 574 shots at clinic

Attendance continues high at the immunization clinics provided free each month by the Michigan District Health Department. At the last clinic May 17 a total of 574 shots were given to 356 people in 200 families.

The number of shots included 146 DPT shots, 46 DTP, 48 measles vaccine, 95 smallpox vaccinations, 101 TB skin tests, 133 oral polio doses, 2 quadrone and 3 typhoid.

The next free immunization clinic will be June 21.

As usual, Michigan led the nation in tart cherry production with 54,500 tons in 1966. Due to severe frosts, this was about half of the state's average tart cherry crop, but yet was six times higher than the state's nearest competitor, Pennsylvania.

Heading off emotional frustration

Local group's physical work with 8-year-old proves rewarding

A little extra help given a child in basic physical activities can go a long way toward heading off emotional problems that develop from frustration and a growing feeling that he or she is stupid.

The St. Johns Jayceettes have found this out this year in working with an eight-year-old local girl and the result has made the volunteer workers extremely happy.

Of approximately 150 children referred to the school social worker during the past 2 1/2 years because of social-emotional problems, some 25 were found to have primarily a physical problem as the background of their emotional problem.

MRS JOHN BRIGANTI, former school social worker and chairman of the St. Johns Jayceette project of working with the children, explained that physical problems as visual perception and coordination can make learning so difficult a child develops emotional problems through frustration.

"To help these kids one needs to work with the causes of the problem," Mrs. Briganti said. "It's foolish to talk about their feelings in a case like this. Much has been learned about these children in recent years, and specific teaching techniques have proved helpful in a basic learning, reading program, as well as remedial methods."

The St. Johns Public Schools have no remedial program for this type of child, Mrs. Briganti said, and traditional remedial reading is not enough. So she contacted her Jayceette friends to see what could be done by volunteers to help one of the children.

An eight-year-old girl - who will be called "Sandy" for purposes of this article - was selected for daily help. She was given two diagnostic tests. One by the school diagnostician to determine mental ability, which was found to be in normal range and which verified perceptual difficulties.

THE OTHER TEST was the Marianne Frostig Developmental Test of Visual Perception which pointed out the need for developmental training in four out of the five areas of visual perception tests. The area she did not need help in was "constancy of shape" which had to do with consistent recognizing of geometric forms, a skill necessary before a child can recognize a work in various contexts. "Sandy's" skill here was probably developed through much experience with jig-saw picture puzzles.

Seven Jayceette members were able to volunteer 30 minutes to one hour each a week to work with "Sandy." They used some Montessori materials which stress a muscular and sensory approach to learning; the Frostig materials consisting of exercises and dittoed material in the five areas covered by the test; and exercises to improve body coordination and control.

"Improvement in some areas was surprisingly rapid," Mrs. Briganti said. "Sandy" walked downstairs putting both feet on one step before moving to the next. Within a week after the volunteers began working with her she was walking down steps "like a lady," and was quite proud of this.

"SANDY" HAD thought she could skip, but her skip consisted of several awkward jumps on each foot. The technique of skipping was broken down and developed through marching and controlled hopping on alternate feet until she was skipping happily and easily within the month.

"All of these improvements have improved her confidence," Mrs. Briganti said, "and she appears to be a much happier little girl than she had been."

Participating in the project for the Jayceettes were Mrs. Briganti, Mrs. Roger Freeman, Mrs. Roger Hammon, Mrs. Lovell Rinker, Mrs. John Furry, Mrs. Thomas Peacock and Mrs. Jack Downing.

The curriculum committee of the Shawasssee Intermediate School District recently received approval for a federal ESEA Title III project called "Reading Laboratory for Applied Innovation." Mrs. Briganti said Clinton County children will be included in this project which will apply many of the techniques used in the work with "Sandy" in an attempt to prevent reading retardation.

Correction

The artist who painted the portrait picture of the late Roscoe Smith, which was unveiled in a ceremony at Smith Hall May 21, was Mrs. Ronald Phillips. Last week's news report, and the picture caption line, incorrectly gave her name as Mrs. Clifford Phillips.

HAVE NOTS

The only sure way to live in peace without armament these days is to behave well and possess nothing that others want.

A senior reflects on what was in past 4 years

By MARGE KOWATCH
DeWitt High School

As all the seniors are preparing for commencement, there is the excitement of anticipation within every one of them. Each of these graduates wants to get out of school, to go into the world and prepare for the future. Yet, there is a feeling of loss. Well, maybe one should call it loneliness, but no matter what you call it, it's there. We have successfully completed four years of high school and we all feel as though we earned the diplomas we will receive.

Commencement will be held on Tuesday, June 9 at 8 p.m. in the DeWitt High School gym. At this time the class of 45 seniors will receive their diplomas and valedictorian Jane Pierce and salutatorian Linda Fisher will give speeches. There will also be other speeches given by the Supt. Hobart Jenkins and Principal Eldon VanSpybrook.

Time goes by so quickly and no one takes advantage of its presence. As one looks back he can see times he would like to live over or change, but they are gone forever and can only live in our memories. If one could only grasp the years; months, days, hours, and even minutes and take all from them that is possible, maybe life would be more complete. However, no one realizes the importance of events at the time of their happening.

The DeWitt Varsity and Junior varsity cheerleaders were chosen recently at DeWitt. Chosen for varsity were Diane Smith, Kit Gogarn, Lehua Wood, Connie Ferguson, Bonnie Johnson, Shelly Farhat. Acting as substitute is Collyn Monroe. Junior varsity cheerleaders are Sherry Kaminski, Mary Lou Bennett, Linda Pardee, Pam Alberston, Patty Sul, Collyn Monroe. Debbie Towne is substitute for the junior varsity.

With only 11 more days of school the seniors are anxiously awaiting the day of graduation.

Announcements have been sent out and exams are being studied for already. The commencement exercises will be held on June 6 at the high school gym.

Mrs. Rollings' art classes are holding an art exhibit next week of all the works of the past year. There are paintings, wire figures, drawings, masks, abstract art and many other types of art work. The art classes were also busy making poster for the Michigan Week contest which was held and the posters will be judged by the teachers at DeWitt. Three trophies will be awarded to the three highest winners.

Failure to register doesn't necessarily mean you can't vote

Voters who didn't register prior to Monday for the June 21 special election may not have to worry about their eligibility. The deadline applied only to newcomers to the community who hadn't registered before or to persons who haven't voted in recent years. City Clerk Don Clark reminded residents that if they have voted within the last two years they are eligible for the June 21 election.

In case a person moves within the city limits, a transfer of the address should be made on the city clerk's files, and this may be done by calling at the city building or by mailing in a signed notice, giving both your old and new addresses. Failure to vote at any election for two consecutive years will result in a suspension of your registration, and it will then be necessary to effect a reinstatement before you can vote again.

Plan for the future - any man's train of thought is useless without a time-table.

Over $3 million paid in social security benefits in county in '66

Some $3,101,280 in social security benefits was paid to residents of Clinton County last year.

At the end of 1966, 3,608 men, women and children in Clinton County were receiving benefits at a monthly rate of $258,440, Roger W. Seamon, social security district manager, reported. Some 2,889 persons were older people, receiving benefits as retired workers, the wives and husbands of retired workers and as the surviving widows or aged dependent parents of workers who have died.

"But social security is not just for older people," Seamon pointed out. Four hundred seventy seven young widows and children in Clinton County were receiving $30,142 monthly in benefits at the end of December. Two hundred forty-two disabled workers and dependents were receiving benefits at a monthly rate of $16,888.

"Practically every young family in Clinton County has survivors protection under social security that can be worth $75,000 or more and equally valuable disability insurance protection.

The average worker, he said, can expect to collect more than the value of his social security tax contributions just in the benefits payable to him and his wife in retirement. If he does not live to retirement, his family stands to collect far more than the contributions he has paid; and the same will be true if he should become disabled for work before age 65.

Club year ends with cooperative supper

Farewells for the summer months were in order for the members of the Woman's Literary Club as they met Tuesday evening at the Junior High cafeteria for the final meeting of the season.

A cooperative supper was served with exchange of favorite recipes as a special feature. In charge of the dinner were Mrs Woodrow Bashore, Mrs Blanch Bates, Mrs Lewis Carter, Mrs Zella Brewbaker and Mrs Asa Stewart. Mrs Ralph Stull gave the invocation.

MRS DURWARD Conklin, who will return in the fall for her second year as president, welcomed the guests and extended thanks for the cooperation and support of the members during the past year.

There was a discussion on use of the scholarship fund. The committee in charge of the 1967-68 year will be Mrs Orpha Clement, Mrs Merle Green, Mrs Ouida Smith and Mrs A. W. Cobb.

MRS LOYAL Hinkley reported $651.50 had been collected by the club women in the recent crusade for funds and was sent to the Clinton County Chapter of the American Cancer Society. This was the 21st year that the Woman's Literary Club has sponsored the Cancer Crusade and thousands of dollars have been collected over the years and given to the County Chapter. Mrs Viola Allen, chairman of the sale of Michigan note paper, reported that over one-half of the supply had been sold. The remaining boxes are now in the home of Mrs Viva Scott, where they may be picked up to continue the sale.

Mrs Blanch Bates reported for the Friends of the Library and brought the clubwomen up-to-date on the new library project.

MRS MAE GOODRICH stated that a truckload of clothing and small items of furniture including a complete bedroom suite had been taken to the Indians at Mount Pleasant.

Mrs Conklin's program planning committee for the ensuing year will be Mrs Lawrence Hess, Mrs Allen, Mrs Boyce Wooley and Mrs Duane Green. Mrs Hess requested a choice of programs desired and other information for betterment of the club work.

It was recommended that letters of appreciation be sent to James Dorman and Mike Sawyer for their efforts to keep the streets and walks open during the past winter season.

IT WAS DECIDED to sponsor a medical self-help training program through the Civil Defense in the fall. Mrs Woodrow Bashore volunteered to serve as chairman for the project. Mrs Glen Horn explained that there would be 11 classes covering 18 hours of work. She also related progress of other similar classes in Shiawassee county.

The members were reminded that regular meetings will be held the second Tuesday of the month when they are resumed in the fall. The club women have previously met twice a month for many years.

MRS CONKLIN shared a Creed given to her by the Mother's Day speaker, Earl Hill, at the last meeting. It was entitled "To Be An American".

As a close to the pleasant activities of the year, Mrs Goodrich led the group in singing such old favorites as "Smiles", "Alexander's Ragtime Band", "School Days", "A Perfect Day" and "Auld Lang Syne".

Band earns top mark At Holland tulip festival

The St. Johns Redwing Marching Band received a first division rating at the Holland Tulip Festival in Holland May 20. The marching competition was held in the afternoon, followed by a parade at 4 p.m.

The theme for the Redwing show was "Big Band Sounds." It started with a fanfare, followed by "St. Louis Blues" by Glenn Miller done to an entrance routine. Then the band did a dance routine to "Night Train," a tune made famous by Buddy Morrow. The band moved into concert formation to the tune of "Marie," which is associated with Harry James. The concert piece which was especially well liked by the judges was a Walter Cole arrangement of Benny Goodman's "Sing, Sing, Sing." The band marched off the field playing the school fight song.

Chuck Stockwell, President of the St. Johns High School Student Council, did the announcing for the show. Judges were William Moffit of Michigan State University, Arthur Hills of Grand Valley State College, and Paul Kissinger of the University of Illinois.

Inspection Judge R. Cutler gave St. Johns a No. 1 rating on inspection but commented that while the band uniforms were in fair condition they were not uniform throughout the band. (The band is currently raising money to help pay for 113 new uniforms for next year.)

Many parents from St. Johns added to the record crowd at Holland.

Parent group to meet

The One Parent Family Group will hold their monthly business meeting next Tuesday, June 6, at the West Main Street branch of the Owosso Savings Bank in Owosso. Rev. Roy Nurse, pastor of Redeemer Lutheran Church, will be the speaker. His topic will be "Keeping High Moral Standards in the Home."

Children's accidents rise when the babysitter neglects her responsibilities. Parents are advised to be selective when hiring a babysitter. Also, be sure she is prepared to handle any emergency that might arise.

The urban renewal story - XVIII Final steps for urban renewal

This is the final installment in this series of articles on the proposed St. Johns urban renewal program in which the Clinton County News, using material written by city personnel administering the project, has attempted to give a thumbnail sketch of the various steps involved in bringing a project to its submission point under a Part I application.

In this final installment we shall attempt to show the final steps which are involved.

Under Code R-231 a legal counsel opinion is required. In order to render this opinion, the attorney involved must review the final text of the application, taking into consideration any and all local and state laws which may be applicable. In other words, the opinion of a qualified attorney who has thoroughly researched the project proposals and the state and local laws which apply to the same is needed to say those proposals meet all of the legal requirements.

Another of the final steps consists of a set of project photographs, one of which encompasses the over-all project area, others which show the front and rear views of each individual block within the project. These photos are taken under predetermined standards set forth by H.U.D. The St. Johns project photos were taken and processed by Toben Studios of St. Johns.

THE FINAL REVIEW by H. U. D. planners encompasses a cursory examination of the final text of each code. When this has been completed, a final summary in written form accompanied by a complete breakdown of cost figures to the very last penny is compiled by the planners, Villcan-Leman. With this, all of the supporting reports, appraisals, estimates, and the miscellaneous supporting data are put together in five copies. At this time a resolution is presented to the local governing body. This resolution authorizes the Local Public Agency to submit the Part I application. The passage of this resolution, five copies of same, along with the five packages, are then transmitted to the Regional office of H.U.D. Here they are broken down into components and vigorously researched as to accuracy, continuity, and content.

When the various reports on each segment are compiled, a final approval of the Part I application is forwarded to the local governing body. At the same time a contract covering the amount of the grant requested is submitted for acceptance or rejection again by the local governing body. They must pass a resolution to adopt the contract at which time H. U. D. makes the funds available for the local project. The funds are in the manner of a drawing account and during the five to seven years in which the project is executed it is a continual process of drawing on the account and repaying from the funds acquired through various processes within the project.

The City of St. Johns has endeavored over the past several months through this series of articles to inform the citizens on the various processes leading to the actual submission of the application of Part I. Actually Part II of the same application is merely a much more definite report on several of the phases covered in Part I.

City officials administering the program hope that you, the citizen, have been able to achieve a greater understanding of the workings of urban renewal. "If you feel that further information concerning any of the areas would be desirable, we would be happy to provide same," they said.

By the same token, any further questions concerning the project or any of its various phases may be directed to the Clinton County News, and an attempt will be made to answer the questions in these columns.

More new public camping sites in Michigan forests

More than 1,700 new public campsites have been opened in Michigan this year in a continuing effort to keep pace with the growing interest in tent and trailer vacations, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

The 1967 Michigan Campground Directory lists 19,032 prepared campsites, 13,030 in 72 state parks and recreation areas, 2,206 in 141 state forest campgrounds, 1,617 in 82 national forest campgrounds, and 2,089 in 73 county, township and city parks.

The number of Michigan campsites has been increased by more than 130 per cent in the 1960's, elevating the state to national leadership in providing for and hosting outdoor vacationers.

AMONG NEW directory listings this year are six state parks, Bewable on Fortune Lake, Crystal Falls; Porcupine Mountain, Presque Isle Unit, on Lake Superior near Wakefield; Clear Lake, Atlanta; Michilimackinac, Mackinaw City; Newaygo near Morley, and Hardy Lake near Oxbow.

Major campsite additions include 121 at Young State Park, Boyne City; 100 at North Higgins Lake State Park, Roscommon; and 48 at Silver Lake State Park, Hart.

Among local parks with more than 50 sites listed for the first time are Ontonagon Township, Ontonagon; Crittenden, Evar; Rose Lake, LeRoy; School Section Lake, Mecosta; Sportsmans, Mio; Beaver, Spratt; Bowers, Starwood, and Little Field Lake, Weldman.

Free copies of the new campground directory and other Michigan vacation planning information can be obtained by writing the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing, Mich., 48926.

State parks generally offer the most complete camping facilities in Michigan with bathhouses, flush toilets, electricity and concession stands. Most of the state and national forest campgrounds have pit toilets, picnic tables, fireplaces and a water supply.

CAMPING FEES vary with the type of facility. In state parks, motor vehicles must have an annual permit costing $2 or a daily permit costing 50 cents. Both can be purchased at the parks or at many hunting and fishing license dealers throughout the state.

Campsite rental in state parks ranges from $1.50 to $2 a day, depending on the facilities provided.

There is no charge for state forest campgrounds and state game areas. National forest users are charged $7 annually or a modest daily fee and specific information can be obtained from the National Forest Service or the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, Washington, D. C.

Some county and township parks have a fee to cover maintenance, and campers should inquire locally about the amount.

From June 15 through Labor Day, campers are limited to 15 days in any one state park with an additional 30 days during other months. Camping is limited to 20 days at one site in state forest campgrounds and 15 days in national forests.

FREE CAMPING for periods up to 20 days is permitted in about half of the more than 600 improved water access sites. These areas have pit toilets and some have a water supply.

Camping is also permitted on most of the more than seven million acres of public forest land

In the northern two-thirds of the state, even though there are no designated campsites. No permits or fees are required and there are no restrictions except during the November deer season when campers must post a camp registration card.

Except for a few rustic trail-side cabins in the Porcupine Mountains and Wilderness state parks, Michigan does not operate hotels, lodges or rental cabins in its parks. All campsites are allotted on a first come, first serve basis.

Several kinds of camping are permitted at Isle Royale National Park, Isle Royale, and information can be obtained by writing Superintendent, Isle Royale National Park, Houghton, Mich., 49931.

Action events spark Michigan summer offerings

A bonanza of community events await visitors to Michigan this summer with more than 170 activities listed in the June-October edition of the Michigan Calendar of Events.

Free copies of the calendar and other Michigan vacation planning information can be obtained by writing the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing, Mich., 48926.

National headlines include the World's Championship Hydroplane Race on the Detroit River July 2, featuring the world's fastest boats competing for $44,000 in prize money. Qualifying trials, also open to spectators, will be June 26-30.

OTHER EVENTS of wide interest include the National Cherry Festival, Traverse City, July 10-14; the annual Van Cliburn concert at the National Music Camp, Interlochen, July 18, U.S. Coast Guard Festival, Grand Haven, August 3-5; the famed Glidden Tour of the Antique Club of America, Grand Rapids and western Michigan, Sept. 19-20.

A taste of old world merriment will be offered visitors to the Bavarian Festival, Frankenmuth, June 11-17; the Alpine Festival, Gaylord, July 5-9; and the Danish Festival, Greenville, July 29, the latter featuring concerts by the Aarhus Pigeard 65-piece All Girls Band from Denmark.

Visitors seeking entertainment with a touch of nostalgia will find delight in Michigan's two showboat offerings, at Chesaning, July 10-15, and Lowell Aug. 21-26. Both events feature professional talent.

Also included in the Michigan summer calendar are canoe and sail races, fairs, pageants, rodeos, festivals and a wide variety of other community-planned attractions for travelers.

Correction

A typographical error in last week's Clinton County News has resulted in an inaccurate account of a circuit court trial. The case involved David A. LaLone and Patrick L. Brogan, who had been accused of arson. The circuit court jury found them innocent of the charge, instead of guilty, as last week's story stated. The word "not" preceding "guilty" was inadvertently dropped when the story was set in type last week.

Open Letter from VAN W. HOAG

Dear friends,

From previous experience you may know which funeral director to call in time of need. If not, the judgment of well-informed relatives and friends is helpful.

The character and personality of the funeral director and his assistants; his honorable record and reputation; the type of establishment and the funeral equipment - these are factors to be considered in selecting your funeral director.

Respectfully,

Van W. Hoag

Homemakers new role -business partner

by HELEN B. MEACH
Home Extension Economist

Your records are showing! Yes, Mrs. Homemaker, your role as a business partner to your husband is demanding. The financial success of your partnership depends more and more on you—on your home accounts and on a budget or a financial plan.

Home surveys have been conducted proving that wives, rural and urban, do all or a part of the book-keeping. A few years ago this did not amount to much besides keeping check stubs. But today's farming or the buying of property is requiring a more substantial amount of capital—much of it borrowed. Good managers will be the better customers for credit agencies but the requirements of such agencies are becoming tougher all the time.

What do lending agencies require from prospective customers? For farm families the minimum is a good set of farm records and a plan for repayment. For all, a net worth statement is necessary. The next step is a complete record of family living expense. Lenders are asking for cost accounting for each farm enterprise; and eventually a budget for the family—by what ever name it's called.

EVEN THE most dedicated and talented home economists have had a rough time selling many women on the idea of home accounting budgeting or a financial plan. Events in our changing world are making these activities a necessary homemaking assignment in order to do a good job as a business partner.

What is your rating as a record keeper? Spring is a good time to check on your home business. As a beginning write or call the office of the Cooperative Extension Service in your county and ask your Home Economist for Extension bulletins #256 and #940. Both are written to help families plan for the use of the family dollar and to help in understanding family investments. Both of these bulletins are yours free of charge.

Post-promoters just great

This past weekend my husband, Keith and I chaperoned a post-prom party here in St. Johns. It was a new experience for me but Keith had been in the same capacity several times before while teaching at Albion.

He was somewhat nervous about trying it again. I assured him those planning to attend that I had met seemed very nice.

If he had had the opportunity to back out while we were driving to St. Johns Saturday evening I'm sure he would have.

WE MET THE group at Daley's for dinner and later joined them at the Redwing Bowling Lanes. We had absolutely no problems with any of those attending the party.

Really thinking it over, Keith and I were not even needed.

St. Johns should be proud of this fine group.

Thanks for asking us.

Bird retires after 44 years

Isher. Vaughan was the secretary of state at that time so the first hour every morning Bird took dictation.

She was at that time, just fresh out of business college at Owosso.

Miss Smith is a native of St. Johns and has lived in the same house at 601 W. State Street for 50 years. She attended St. Johns schools. She was graduated from Owosso Business College.

Bird was the only child of James N. and Louise Smith.

SHORTLY AFTER SHE began working for the Clinton Republican she was fired by the plant superintendent, "Rem" Jeffries. She then went across the street and worked for the St. Johns News.

Bird worked for the News for a short time before she was rehired by the Republican. She came back to the Republican about six months before the News and the Republican merged and became known as the Republican News.

In 1923 Schuyler Marshall became the publisher. "Sky" was wonderful to work for," Bird said. "He had a personal interest in you."

DURING THE TIME Sky Marshall was the publisher, Glenn Tupper now of California, was the foreman. He was here for 25 years. Bird's description of him is "the best."

He could handle people and they were willing to work for him. His favorite method of constructive criticism when an ad did not look right was "let's try" a different placement or a different type, she said.

At that time ads were made up right from the copy so each compositor made the decisions about type style and size.

Deadlines then were quite different. The cut off time was when the last inch was filled. Bird says if the fire siren blew at press time, a paragraph, at least, would be inserted.

On occasions the men in the shop may have had to work all night Wednesday but she can never remember the paper not being out by the Thursday publication date.

SHE SAYS with more flexible deadlines lunch hours on Thursdays could come at anytime in the afternoon. She didn't leave for lunch until everything was on the press.

Sky Marshall was the publisher until 1945 when the paper was sold to Ink White.

It was during the time Ink White owned the paper that the 208-page Centennial Issue was published. It was the largest paper ever published in Clinton county.

Sept. 1, 1965, the paper became the Clinton County News, Inc.

What does Bird plan for the future? Enjoy and work in her yard and garden, go to Expo '67 in September and a trip to California this winter. She hopes to spend her winters in the West and her summers here.

MISS SMITH is a member of Banner Rebekah Lodge, recently er (treasurer) of the Royal Neighbors, a member of the Wesleyan Service Guild and a member of the First Baptist Church of St. Johns.

Bird is to be honored Wednesday, May 31, at a retirement dinner by her fellow employees.

Nevada ceremonies install Bishop Green

The Most Rev Joseph M. Green who pastored St. Joseph Catholic Church in St. Johns for many years, was installed last Thursday as bishop of the Diocese of Reno, Nev.

The ceremonies were held at St. Thomas Aquinas Cathedral in Reno. Bishop Green succeeds the Most Rev Robert J. Dwyer, who became archbishop of Portland, Ore., in February.

Bishop Green, who campaigned for an open housing ordinance at Jackson where he was most recently pastor, sees the open housing issue in Nevada as one phase of what he says will be his main function as bishop — implementing the decrees of the Ecumenical Council.

"IN A GENERAL way, it is the same challenge as everywhere. That is, keeping pace with the times and fulfilling the church's mission," he said.

He is also active in another phase of the ecumenical movement — increased dialogue with other religions. As chairman of a subcommittee of the Bishop's Commission on Ecumenical Affairs he is in charge of investigating unity with Baptists.

More than 30 bishops from the West and about 100 persons from Lansing traveled to Reno for last Thursday's ceremony.

While declining direct comment on Nevada's easy divorce and marriage, Bishop Green said, "It will be my duty as bishop to inform people of the holiness and sacredness of marriage."

Like Dwyer, the new prelate said gambling is not wrong in itself but abuses may bring evil.

Two important schedule changes for services and programs of the First Methodist Church in St. Johns were announced last week.

This Sunday, June 4, will be the last Sunday of the current church school year, and there will be no further church school meetings until September. The policy was established last year because of spotty attendance during summer months and the belief children would benefit more from a two-week vacation church school than the regular Sunday meetings.

THE VACATION church school will begin Tuesday, June 13, and continue through 23.

The official board of the church has approved the following church schedule for the summer. Regular 9:30 and 11 a.m. worship services will continue through Sunday, June 11, and then for Sundays June 18 and 25 there will be one service only at 9:30 a.m.

Beginning with Sunday, July 2, the Methodist Church will enter into the annual summer union program with the First Congregational Church. Services during July will be held in the First Methodist Church with Rev Gerald Churcill, Congregational minister, at the pulpit. From Aug. 6 through Sept. 3 worship services will be at the First Congregational Church with Rev Keith Bovee, Methodist minister, in charge.

For at DeWitt High School entertained several couples of her classmates at a "coke" tall party at her home Saturday evening before the Senior prom. Special guests were her grandparents Mr and Mrs Ernie Fritz and her aunt, Mrs Alva Hartman. Loui is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Charles Fritz of DeWitt.

The new pews at Gunnisonville Community Methodist Church were used the first time Sunday, May 14 and the new green carpeting was laid Saturday and in use Sunday, May 21.

Many steps important for top pea bean crop

Soil preparation, fertilization, seed treatment, seeding rate, and date of planting are all important to farmers who want a top pea bean crop. George McQueen, Clinton County agricultural agent, says the seed bed should be firm but the soil between the rows should be loose and porous. The agent reminds farmers that a 30 bushel bean crop needs 90 pounds of nitrogen, 12 pounds of phosphorous, 50 pounds of potassium, 40 pounds of calcium, 6 pounds of magnesium, and 6 pounds of sulfur. Because bean plants are relatively shallow-rooted, high soil fertility levels are important. Fertilizer recommendations should be based on soil test results.

February sales tax amounted to $132,590

Clinton County's 522 reporting businesses turned in a total of $132,590.46 in sales taxes and $4,388.78 use taxes to the State Department of Revenue in March, according to the department's monthly report.

The sales tax money represented business done in February.

Food sales was the top tax producer again, accounting for $48,480. Other categories and sales tax produced were: building material $16,144, general merchandise $4,163, automotive $38,022, apparel $5,865, furniture $4,437, miscellaneous retail $4,331, and non-retail $12,151.

BEANS RESPOND best to fertilizer placed in a band one inch to the side and two inches below the seed. The county agent explained that the crop is very susceptible to damage if the fertilizer is placed too close in contact with the seed.

Extra nitrogen may be needed, and this can sometimes be side-dressed. If there is no legume crop prior to planting and no manure added to the field, total nitrogen fertilizer needs, including plow down, planting time and side-dressed fertilizer, are 40 pounds per acre.

Zinc deficiency may occur in alkaline soils, especially in the "Thumb area." Michigan State University research shows that $1 spent on zinc on an acre of beans can return $50 in added crop. Zinc deficiency is relatively common where beans follow sugar beets, which receive high amounts of phosphorus fertilizer. Fertilizer containing 3 to 4 pounds of zinc per acre prevents this deficiency, and the cost is relatively small, the agent points out.

CHEMICAL SEED treatment protects the bean seed and seedlings from decay or damping off caused by molds and from the maggot. Bean seeds should be treated with a mixture containing thiram or captan as a fungicide and dieldrin as an insecticide. Inoculation of navy bean seed with nitrogen-fixing bacteria offers no advantage, the agent explained.

The seeding rate may vary with soil conditions and seed quality. There is no need, however, for seeding more than 35 pounds of treated high quality navy bean seed per acre.

Date of planting tests made throughout the bean growing area by Michigan State University indicates that June 1 to June 10 is the most desirable date for planting beans. The early maturing Seaway variety yields well with planting up to June 25. Because root rots are more damaging at cool temperatures when beans are growing slowly, May planting is generally not desirable, the agent pointed out.

Michigan leads the nation in production of cherries and dry beans, and our state ranks among the top five in the production of 20 foods.

The Future Farmers of America organization is sponsored nationally by the Agricultural Education Service in the Office of Education in the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. FFA is an educational program, conducted in the public schools.

Cite progress in farm hands pay

Progress and evolution are evident in Michigan dairy and general farming. New agriculture practices and new trends of economical survival have stirred up the old concept of farm labor. Back in 1963, it was not too difficult to secure qualified farm help. Suddenly, in 1964 farmers began to face an acute shortage of experienced farm hands.

Nothing was in sight to alleviate the situation, but a radical new approach to compete with better paying city jobs. The solution to this problem was to make farm jobs more attractive via a realistic raise of salaries, better living conditions and a liberal program concerning extra benefits.

In 1963, according to a study of farm labor wages paid to workers in Clinton, Ingham, and Eaton counties, farm and production assistants (hired hands) averaged $210.50 per month plus housing and extras if they were married and $108 per month plus board, room and laundry if they were single. They worked from 160 to 216 hours per month depending on the type of operation.

In 1966, THE AVERAGE pay to a married man was $311.15 plus house and extras, and $139 plus board, room and laundry to a single man. Salary increases represent 47 per cent and 28 per cent compared with 1963. In the same period, city job wages have increased only 7 - 10 per cent.

Departing from very conservative grounds, a married man doing farm work making $311.15 per month by way of salary is actually earning $432.95 per month considering house rent he does not have to pay and the amount representing free milk, butter eggs and part of the utility bills. Using the same finding system, a single man actually earns $290 per month. Currently, top salaries are $500 per month to a married person and $260 to a single. These figures do not include extras. Farm work itself, disregarding economical factors, constitutes a goal for many people who dislike to be confined. It is a channel to out-door living.

ASC PROGRAM

1967 crop dry edible bean support prices announced

W. M. SMITH
County ASC Manager

Support prices for the 1967-crop of dry edible beans generally will be the same as those for 1966, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announced May 2. Dark red kidney beans are increased 25 cents per 100 pounds and Idaho and Montana pinto and great northern beans 10 cents.

The prices to producers announced May 2 have a national average of $6.37 per 100 pounds compared to $6.33 in 1966. The price support increase for dark red kidney beans eliminated most of the difference between this class and light red kidney beans which was instituted after dark red kidney beans had been produced in substantial surplus for several years.

Producers now have adjusted production to market requirements. The increases in the support prices on pinto and great northern beans in Idaho and Montana reflect the improved market prices there in recent years relative to other producing states.

PRICE SUPPORT on 11 classes of beans will be available for U. S. No. 2 or higher grade beans. The support rates are for cleaned and bagged beans with all charges, except receiving and loading out, paid through price support loan maturity date to be announced for 1967. The deductions from 1967 loan rates applicable to farm-stored thrasher-run beans will be $2 per cwt. in New York, $1.50 per cwt. in Michigan for all classes except pea beans, which will be $1 per cwt., and $1 per cwt. for all classes in other states. These deductions are to cover cleaning and bagging costs.

Premiums and discounts for the 1967 program are the same as under the 1966 program. Premiums for U. S. choice hand picked and U. S. extra No. 1 grade beans will be 10 cents per cwt., for all except pea beans, on which the premium for U. S. choice hand picked grade will be 25 cents. U. S. No. 2 grade beans will be discounted 25 cents per cwt.

THE 1967 SUPPORT prices for U. S. No. 1 grade in dollars per cwt. are pea and medium white, $6.65; dark red kidney, $8.51; light red kidney, $8.70; and pink, $7.32.

The 1967 crop soybeans will continue to receive price support at $2.50 per bushel, the same as the 1966 crop support level.

The support level is expected to encourage production of soybeans, in a quantity large enough to supply domestic and foreign demands and to help maintain prices and income to growers. Farm value of the 1966 soybean crop is estimated at about $2.7 billion as compared to $1 billion in the late 1950s.

Good hay condition tips listed

Many farmers making hay today have hay conditioning equipment which crushes, cracks, or splits the stem to make the forage dry quicker so it can be removed from the field before the next rain.

George McQueen, Clinton County Extension agricultural agent, advises farmers to look for stems that have not been crushed as one way to test whether or not the hay conditioner is set to the right pressure.

If the farmer finds crushed leaves and plant tips, then the conditioner is set too light, and this tends to cause leaves to shatter and be lost before they are baled or taken to the barn. He reminds that some bruising is inevitable, but it should be kept to a minimum.

ANOTHER CHECK farmers should make is for inverted stems. Hay should come off the conditioning-mower, strike the deflector shield and then fall to the ground with many of the stems on top.

The county agent says fluffiness of the swath is another important factor. A swath which returns to the ground after passing through conditioning rolls in a wet, heavy, soggy mass will not dry rapidly. The swath should be left as fluffy as possible to permit the free movement of air through the hay, the agent reminded.

Improper adjustment of the equipment can defeat the purpose of hay conditioning. Getting high quality hay adds to the nutrition available to livestock and enables the farmer to get the hay under cover before bad weather, the agent concluded.

The spectacular cable lights of the Mackinac Bridge delight summer visitors. In December, their colors are changed and they become the "world's longest Christmas lights display."

New Holstein production mark set in county

A new food production achievement for a Michigan Registered Holstein cow has been reported by Holstein-Friesian Association of America. The butterfat production record was established under official production testing supervision.

The new record holder for her age group is Lily Pong Rag Apple Penny 5476503 (VG), owned by Duane and Velmar Green, Green Meadow Farm, Elsie. The new class leader has completed a lactation level of 24,450 pounds of milk and 1,003 pounds of butterfat in 365 days.

This represents a new and higher production record for officially tested senior three-year-old Registered Holsteins milked two times daily in the 365-day division of the DHIR program.

"Penny" was bred in the herd of Robert Klein, Richmond. She was sired by Grahaven Supreme Master 1376697.

The previous lactation record in this age group for Registered Holsteins was held by Long Creek Rainbow Dixie 2690604, owned by Long Creek Farms, Fowlerville. She formerly headed this age group with a production level of 23,838 pounds of milk and 932 pounds of butterfat.

Paying custom harvest rate may be profitable

Farmers with limited acreage of small grain and no field beans or soybeans to harvest often find getting their wheat, oats, or barley custom harvested saves both time and money.

A Michigan State University survey of rates charged for small grain combining indicated that $6 an acre is the most common rate. Cultivating rates usually run about $2 per acre, plowing about $5 an acre and disking about $2 per acre.

The county extension office has a publication "Rates for Custom Work in Michigan," Extension Bulletin E458, which is available and gives the most common rates charged for custom work. It is available without charge.

Michigan produced nearly 890 million pounds of potatoes during 1966 or more than 100 pounds for every man, woman and child in the state, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Mail call: a breath of home, hope for the GI

Kenneth Crowell, son of Mr and Mrs George Crowell of 2075 E. French Road, sent home the following item in a letter from DaNang, South Vietnam, where he is serving with a Seabee unit. It was written by a Spec 4 Harold G. Weaver, a member of the 5th LEM Co. and tells of the many emotions during mail call in Vietnam.

How does a GI feel when he receives a letter from a loved one, mom, dad, friend, or relative from back home? HOME! A four-letter word that means so much to a GI, which means almost as much as another well known word... LOVE. The GI lives only for the security of home and the feeling of being loved, while fighting in the rice paddies of the Delta, the dusty and hilly plains of the Saigon area, or the thick jungles of War Zone C and the DMZ.

Your GI may be fighting with a top Infantry unit like the 1st Inf. Div., the 1st Cav., the 25th, the 9th, 4th, 11th, or many other top Infantry units. Your GI may be fighting a different kind of war, in support, supply, maintenance, or advisory capacity. It takes millions of soldiers to fight and win a war. It doesn't matter what job or mission the soldier has in Vietnam today. They are all fighting for the same great cause, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, for themselves and their families as well as others.

The blood stream that keeps them going, the spirit that makes them move on to the next mission or battle, the food that makes their actions quick and their outlook bright, the purpose that tells them that all this HELL is really worth it, is a letter from home. (Did you ever see children at a birthday party eating ice cream and cake? A GI getting a letter.) Did you ever see a dream come true? A GI getting a letter. Did you ever see the sparkle in a young man's eye when he is told that he is loved? Again, a GI getting a letter.

The most important thing in Vietnam is mail call. That is when a man gets tense, closes his eyes and waits with great anticipation. He is waiting for his name to be called. Strauss, Black, Blaha, Dickerson, Jones, Adams, Pugh. As each name is called his tension rises, his stomach whirrs, his blood runs faster, and his hopes get higher. The names stop, and so does the spirit, drive, nerve, and the will of that American GI.

Today, he received no mail. Maybe he received some yesterday or the day before, and maybe he didn't receive any for the last few weeks, who knows only the GI himself. No matter where in Vietnam it is always the same feeling and reaction. He feels drained from the last few minutes of waiting, he feels like the world has just dropped out from under him, he looks into the sky and takes a deep breath of foul air because if he didn't he would scream, swear or just break down and cry.

He looks to his right and sees his buddy reading his letter with great speed and happiness, and when their eyes meet he says, "Hey, Don, you got some mail." Inside is pure grief, loneliness, depression, misery, confusion, and hurt. The feeling of a knife in the small of his back, a deep wound that has all the pain of a shell, a mine, or a booby trap. The only difference is the healing of that wound. It may take months to recover from a wound in battle. It only takes a letter to recover from the wound of not getting a letter. Today he gets mail. He is alive again, he can laugh, cry, joke and go on no matter what he must face 'till the next mail call.

The GIs who are lying face down in the rice paddy half submerged by muck and filth, the GIs who are hiding in the tall elephant grass and the thick jungles with red ants covering their bodies, the GIs who are out on patrol with the sweat so thick that when they move their limbs there is no friction or body contact, the GIs who are back in the compound repairing the faulty equipment and putting in agonizing hours to make sure that the equipment is ready, all have one anticipation... MAIL CALL.

Ask a GI what is on his mind 24 hours a day and he will tell you mail call. Today in Vietnam, another American GI will die for this country. His last thoughts probably are I HOPE I GOT MAIL TODAY.

Russian roulette . . . on the road

With the summer holidays in full swing, the roads are jammed in every direction with holidaymakers. A disturbingly large number of those motorists and their passengers will never reach the beaches, the mountains and other holiday centres, and of those who do, a proportion will not get back home. They will finish up in a hospital bed . . . or worse.

The laws of probability are inexorable in this massive variant for Russian roulette. The best one can hope for is a slight reduction, or not too great an increase, on the previous year's figures.

Predictably, the motorists will lay the blame on the authorities for failing to improve a road here, straighten out a dangerous curve there, install traffic lights at a bad junction or do something about an insidious black spot.

No doubt, this is true up to a point. Road improvements do reduce accidents but this fact should not be allowed to obscure the overwhelming reason for the ghastly toll.

It can not be repeated too often that the motorist himself is the prime cause of accidents—far more important, even, than mechanical defects in the vehicles. Police and road safety officials are perplexed by the problem of getting this simple message across to drivers. Certainly, far too many motorists fail, consciously or unconsciously, to adapt their speed and conduct to the prevailing conditions.

Even the most careful driver suffers the occasional lapse in concentration—and there, possibly, lies the kernel of the matter. Human beings are not machines. We are very fallible, and prone to silly mistakes. Nevertheless each man owes it to his fellows to discipline himself as far as is humanly possible.

Increasingly restrictive measures in the form of speed limits, police patrols and vehicle checks are inevitable. It is essential, though; that such a campaign be accompanied by redoubled efforts to bring home to the motorist that the question of life and death is very largely in his own hands.

When a motorist complains at the high cost of motor vehicle insurance, he usually thinks in terms of the cost of repairing dented coachwork or a crumpled wing. He would do well to think in terms of repairing battered human beings, because that is immeasurably more important than any car wreck.

Any man who has mown down a fellow human and seen the consequences in terms of pain and injury or death is likely to be a more careful, more considerate driver henceforward, but society cannot afford to allow each motorist to learn the lesson the hard way.

A sportsman who wielded his rifle with the same casual abandon as so many drivers handle their equally lethal motor cars would quickly find himself in trouble. The dangerous driver deserves the same social ostracism as the dangerous gunman.

ALL BUT ONE MAN IN the work force of the City of St. Johns — and that was only seven men — dropped other tasks last week to do some street patching work. Since this is work the city employees could handle, it resulted in a savings of money over and above what it would have cost to hire an outside firm to do it. This is good use of men and money by the city.

This claim was made with particular reference to Westphalia township, whose population is made up almost entirely of Germans. That the claim was without fact is shown by the splendid manner in which the young men of that township complied with the registration, a total of 103 giving in their names. Dallas township, which also contains many Germans, registered 139 names.

Doctor shortage facing state costly from any angle

BY ELMER E. WHITE
Michigan Press Assn.

An acute shortage of doctors may face Michigan and the nation within the next decade unless steps are taken to reverse the declining doctor-to-population ratio.

The national average of 124 doctors per 100,000 population has remained fairly constant since 1930. Michigan averages 105. South Dakota has the lowest ratio with 75 doctors per 100,000 people and New York has the highest with 191. But the ratio is beginning to show an alarming change.

Michigan's immediate needs are 300 additional doctors per year, says John A. Doherty, executive director of the Michigan Health Council.

To fulfill this minimal need, Doherty suggests the University of Michigan medical school increase number of graduates from the present 200 per year to 300. Wayne State University should expand further, he says, from 75 to 200. The new medical school planned Michigan State University should graduate 100 doctors per year.

THESE MSU GRADUATES should be primarily "family physicians" or general practitioners, Doherty maintains, to fill a growing need in the state for a "family doctor."

The doctor shortage stems from many causes. While Michigan's two medical schools are currently operating at capacity, population is still expanding. Medicare and Medicaid bring more people into doctors' offices and bring them more often. Industrial and private insurance plans make it ever easier for people to seek medical advice.

Even calls not covered by insurance are increasing. Dr. William N. Hubbard Jr., dean of the U-M medical school, recently told a group of reporters, "People are making more money than ever before, and they're choosing to spend a larger part of it on more medical service. We have no choice but to provide the service they demand."

Hubbard pointed out that the average doctor works a minimum of 60 hours per week and carries three times the case load of 1930. The doctor shortage is already felt in many Michigan communities. The Michigan Health Council lists 150 communities which seek at least one medical doctor. Another 60 communities need some 120 medical specialists in various health facilities.

THIS SHORTAGE IS not unique to the state. The American Medical Assn. estimates 55,000 additional doctors will be needed by 1975.

Foreign doctors presently take up some of the slack. About 6,000 arrive annually and 1,500 become licensed and stay in the U.S. These doctors are needed badly in their own countries and international friction has developed in many instances over this drain of medical personnel.

Consumers can feel the "pinch" of doctor shortage in the pocketbook. Per-capita private expenditures for medical care increased 12 per cent between 1948 and 1961. Future shortages will worsen the situation.

The medical profession has done little to remedy the growing continuing scarcity of doctors. In some instances medical people seemed to thwart efforts to improve conditions.

Hubbard tends to overlook the profession's past record and fixes responsibility solely on Congress and state legislators. He blames these bodies for not appropriating more public funds to deal with the problem.

The shortage could be eased as more young medical men complete their training and move into private practice. Before this takes place, the state must appropriate more money to operate additional training facilities. The increase of doctors would be slow at first but would gain momentum as facilities develop. It would begin only after training periods finished: four or more years after completion of expanded medical schools.

AT BEST, THE OUTLOOK is not encouraging. The need for doctors is still increasing faster than supply. Demands of the military service have added to the problem. In 1962, Michigan had 277 medical doctors in service. The current figure is 622.

The number of people in age groups which require the most medical attention is also growing.

The solution lies with the public. If the state is to build additional medical facilities, public monies must be spent. Legislators must be convinced by constituents that the need is worthy of appropriation.

ST. JOHNS WOMEN HAVE proven in the last few weeks they have enthusiasm and abilities greater than women elsewhere. Recently Mrs. John Rumbaugh, president, received a silver cup designating the St. Johns Woman's Club as "club of the year" in its size class in Michigan. On May 20 Mrs. Peg Feeman was named one of the three outstanding club presidents of the year among Michigan chapters of the Jaycettes. All club members, in each case, had a big hand in bringing those honors home. Us menfolk are kinda proud of our womenfolk!

THOSE WHO PARK on the north side of the 100 block of West Walker in St. Johns do so reluctantly, fearful of losing their car in the "canyon" that persists since Consumers Power Co. put in the new gas main down that street. Even though it has been that way a long time, we hope those repairs are not yet considered permanent but only temporary, and that permanent repairs will be made.

RAMBLIN' with Rink

By LOWELL G. RINKER

How, indeed, do Americans spend their free time . . . when they're not working or sleeping or commuting? "Free time" involves the major portion of the time of our lives, yet very few studies of the use of free time have been published.

I read recently of one such study where, just for kicks, a family was asked to keep a diary of a few hours after work one day. The family consists of the mother (Polly), the father (Bill), and two teenage children, (Eric) the boy, and (Kristi) the girl.

What is interesting, the study summary points out, is that within the contest—each evaluated what the other was doing a little differently, and only the boy considered what he was doing as "work." But all, except father himself, of course, considered that father was sleeping when he was, ostensibly, watching television.

WE MAKE THESE judgments about what we are doing, and what others in our vicinity are doing, at every waking moment of every day. Out of these judgments and evaluations come our feelings about who is working and who is not. It is perhaps worth noting that none of the activities recorded appear any place in the gross national product; yet they are typical of what most people in our society are doing most of the time.

Here's what the diaries said:

4 P.M.
Polly: "Baking cookies, lying on the couch while they bake. Bill is lying on the bed watching 49'er Highlights, but I really think he is asleep. Eric is in his room with the radio on and supposed to be doing homework. Kristi is out with Tom."

Bill: "I'm watching TV. Polly is resting on the living room couch. Eric is reading in his room and Kristi is out. Everyone is having free time."

Eric: "I'm doing my homework. I have the radio on and father has the TV on. He is probably asleep, and mother is reading in the living room. They both are having free time and I'm working. Kristi is out."

5:30-7:30 P.M.
Polly: "Bill wakes up and comes into the living room and reads. Eric still the same. Kristi comes home and helps me with dinner."

Bill: "Carve meat and eat dinner. Have coffee and turn on radio to quiet music. Listen to Polly and Kristi discuss school. Eric is in his room and Kristi going back and forth between kitchen and her room."

Eric: "Feed dog and wait for dinner to be served. Father carves meat and mother serves rest of dinner. Eat. Talk to mother and father while they finish their coffee. Discuss football game. Go to my room to watch TV. Reading my homework during dull moments of program. Father reading and Kristi helping mother."

Kristi: "Came home (at 5:30) and helped mother with dinner. Eric feeds Schupo (above-mentioned dog) and we eat. I go out to return a borrowed dress. Tom is coming over at 8 and must decide what to wear—don't want to wear same outfit I did last time. Father is eating candy, reading and listening to radio. Eric is in his room—he has either TV or radio on and is probably reading at the same time, the way he usually does. Mother is sitting at the dining room table doing some writing. She helps me decide what to wear and I go get ready."

THE REPORT concludes: When we consider that, for most of us, the next 20 years will offer more free time than we have ever had before, it seems important that we should begin to give it at least as much serious consideration as we do the few hours most of us work each day.

This I disagree with. "Free time" should be FREE time, and the minute you start planning it, it isn't free time anymore. It is during the moments of true free time that we collect our wits and pull ourselves both physically and mentally for the working and planned parts of our lives.

Too much of the non-working, non-sleeping and non-commuting time is planned. More should be left free.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

LEAD, S.D., CALL-PIONEER TIMES: There's a certain unpopular uneasiness about computers. But it isn't because people are afraid they will someday be automated out of their jobs. It's just a feeling that machines are becoming too humanlike. This was revealed in a study based on interviews with 3,000 persons, reported in Datamation magazine. It was found that many people believe—wrongly—that the computer is infallible and that it is a kind of superbrain which thinks as humans do and which can provide instant solutions to highly complicated problems that the ordinary man cannot even begin to understand. As more and more people come into daily contact with computers, however, this modern-day myth is expected to lose its force. Familiarity in this case will breed not contempt but better understanding of thinking machines, true capacity to think—which is no more than men give them."

GRAFTON, N. D., RECORD: "We read, just the other day, of a retail store in the East which carried the following thought-provoking sign: 'This store does not advertise. This savings goes to my customers' . . . This kind of inverted thinking crops up sometimes—the notion that advertising is a form of personal charity. . . . That, you may be sure, is not the reason that the giants of American industry spend millions of dollars every year in advertising. The only need involved, as they see it, is theirs. These big and successful companies are not philanthropic agencies. When they spend money they insist on getting a good return for it. And they know that they get it through newspaper advertising."

The 'Low Down'

From the Congressional Record
By Joe Crump

Can you believe your eyes?
Rep. R. C. Pucinski (Ill.) . . . On television the news happens in front of you. But is that what really happened? Is it a true picture or only a violent episode? Would it have happened at all if the TV cameras had not been there?

"The highly respected American Heritage Publishing Co., publisher of Horizon, has recently printed an article about television coverage of the news which I believe deserves the widest possible distribution and discussion." (The condensed article by Henry Fairlie, follows):

From the point of view of a good story, both newspapers and television prefer covering a major strike to negotiations which prevent a strike. But it is possible for the newspaper reporter to make negotiations almost as exciting a story as the strike itself.

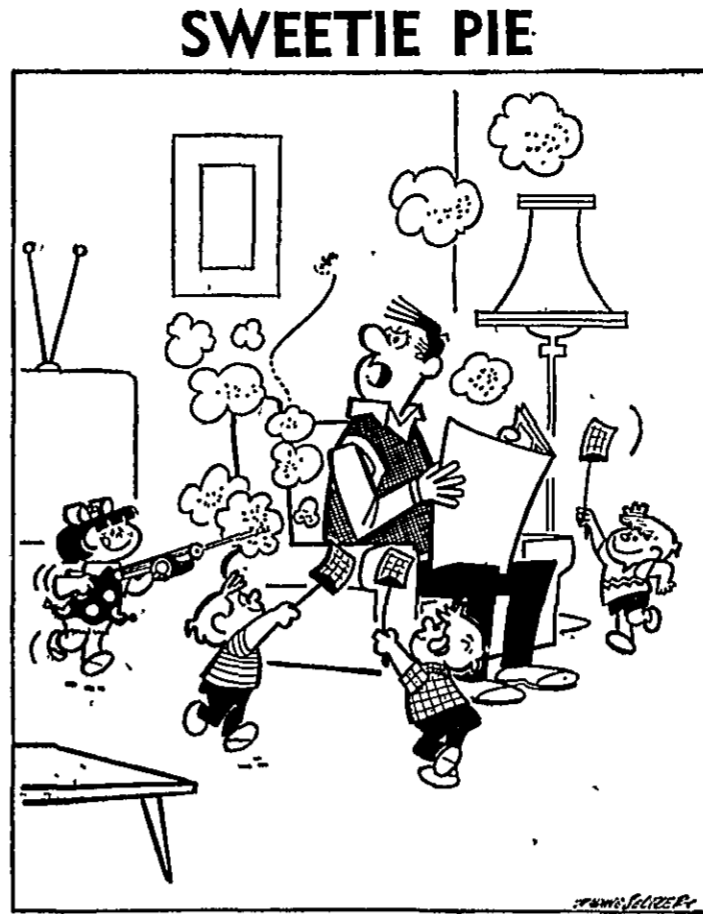

But what can television do with negotiations? It can only show pictures of people arriving at a building and people leaving it.

VIOLENCE IS THE stuff of television, and the question of how to deal with it is the most important one confronting the medium. Violence is movement—the raising of an arm, the smashing of it on someone's head—and movement is what television cannot help emphasizing.

Perhaps the most striking demonstration of the power of television to create personalities is the one that most people will think also demonstrates its power for good. For a comparatively short time three men seemed to bestride the world: John F. Kennedy, Pope John XXIII and Nikita Khrushchev. Their impact, all over the world, was quite out of proportion to the length of time any of them held office. In a few years they had made as great an impression as Queen Victoria had in 60 years. This was the work of television.

Television news is new, and we have not yet got the measure of it. Camera crews are costly, and costly to move about; this automatically imposes a pre-selection of news far more rigorous than it is in a newspaper. Again and again, when I have been making news films with a camera crew, I have wanted to utter over the pictures, "It was not like this at all."

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT
Viewers are beginning to realize that too much of the news on television is distorted news.

"Call off the hunt! I'd rather put with the FLIES!"

A few students in a gathering of thousands, start a fracas and the television cameras promptly move in. The thousands of orderly students who wouldn't think of creating a disturbance, find themselves included in the unfavorable publicity.

An isolated shoving match between a sidewalk observer and a marcher quickly brings the television camera into focus. The majority of the marchers and observers, being law-abiding, are ignored.

When the facts regarding the incidents are reported in the newspaper, the reader is surprised to learn that not much happened after all.

Television news coverage has made national figures of individuals who, on their merits, wouldn't rate a line in a backwoods newspaper.—J. C.

COUNTRY FLAVOR

Sunlight on fields is basic for man's happiness

HAYDN PEARSON

The sun lifts early in the east and travels a high arc across the sky. Slanting rays in the morning strike the mountains and hills, reach the upland pastures and then light the meadows. Sunlight is the dominant motif as the sixth month reaches toward Year's longest day.

Few appreciate the many shades of green as the full flush of foliage and grasses clothes the bones of earth. For an hour or two after dawn, and again in the late afternoon, one can see many hues that vary from dark to light. There are a few poignant minutes at each end of day when there are shades of gold blended with the soft greens.

Mornings are filled with bird songs. Mists lift from swales and swamps. It is an appealing picture as the elms in the river valleys begin to emerge from the meringue of fog that hovers along the streams. Go to a sunlit meadow in mid-morning where the flowers paint a picture, and you can hear the urgent, pulsing hum of bees and insects as they harvest life-essential nectar.

Warm sun broods over the fields like a benediction. The warmth is part of nature's inscrutable process that guarantees continuance of life for men and animals. There are miracles in this world that man cannot understand. He searches the depth of the seas and explores unknown frontiers in space. But sunlight on earth's fields is basic for man's happiness.

Understanding your HEALTH

By Albert E. Heustis, M.D. Director
Michigan Department of Public Health

Although whooping cough can be prevented with an effective vaccine, it still remains a serious threat to the health of many unprotected Michigan children. Last year alone there were 653 reported cases of this potentially dangerous disease in the state. Whooping cough generally strikes children under 10 years of age — and the younger the child, the worse the effect of the disease. The first symptoms appear in one to two weeks after exposure and they are much like a common cold — headache, runny nose and cough. A doctor should be notified when the first symptoms appear.

the child against exposure to germs that could cause bronchial pneumonia or other complications.

A day or two after the first symptoms appear, the child will develop a cough that lasts about two weeks. After that massive amounts of mucus are discharged from his throat and bronchial passages, and this accumulation tends to cut off breathing. This causes another, more severe cough, as the child tries to clear his air passages. It becomes so violent that he can't inhale for several minutes.

As if the disease was not bad enough, the side effects can be extremely serious. They range from a hearing loss caused by the child choking on mucus to brain damage from the violent coughing.

ONCE THE DISEASE has been diagnosed, the patient should be isolated. This serves the dual purpose of stopping the spread of the disease, and protecting

NOW, WHAT IS THE most effective way of protecting your child against this disease? Well, it's best to rely on immunization, rather than treatment after it has taken hold. As I said earlier an effective vaccine exists that will give your child immunity — a vaccine that can be given to an infant when he's only 2-3 months of age. Basic protection consists of three injections of vaccine one month to six weeks apart, and starting at 2-3 months of age. Then all that is necessary to keep the immunization at its peak is one shot booster when he is 2 years old and when he is 5.

If you follow this procedure there is very little likelihood that your child will ever fall victim to whooping cough and its side effects.

Poor timing

By W. E. DOBSON

I've got to change my timer, I'm sure you will agree, When I relate my tale of woe— And what has escaped me.

You've heard of "30 years too soon," And maybe that's too much, But I still blame the timing For some troubles in the clutch.

Reforms have come in hours 'n' pay Since I first tolled for wage, Now shortened hours n' coffee breaks Is strictly all the rage!

With shorter days the price goes up, As hourly wages soar, And "cost of living" benefits Are added to the score!

Increased vacations on full pay, 'N more days of sick leave Make labor camps of by-gone days, With slight chance of reprieve.

There's easy credit everywhere, Where spot cash once was rule, The school bus stops at every house To lug the "kids" to school!

There's time for recreation, 'N there's folks to supervise, There's air waves for education, As we color televise.

There's pensions n' retirement— Not just a pocket-knife— To mark the modern severance From an over-active life.

Still faulty timing I contend Has somehow been my dish, There always seems too many chores When it's right time to fish.

I'm either early or too late, Life could be much sublimer— If I could get the kinks all out Of my ding-busted timer!
