Memorial Day in St. Johns

The St. Johns' color guard of the American Legion and VFW posts of St. Johns lead the Memorial Day parade up Clinton Avenue Monday morning. They were followed by bands, other marching units, floats and bicycles. An estimated 1,500 to 2,000 people watched the parade and other ceremonies.

The placing of wreaths at the civil war monument in the Mt. Rest Cemetery brought crisp salutes from military veterans and Boy Scouts at memorial services Monday.

Memorial Day signaled the start of the tourist year, and the dense traffic southbound on US-27 in the late afternoon was a preview of the Sunday afternoons and evenings to come this summer.

Soap box race Sunday

Record field of 70 boys ready to race

Annually one of the big events in St. Johns is the Soap Box Derby, and this year's fourth annual derby promises to be no exception.

A record number of 70 boys—more than last year—are making final preparations with their cars for the three-block run down Clinton Avenue from State Street to Railroad Street Sunday afternoon.

The large number of entries has forced derby officials to run three cars per heat again this year, and there will be 24 first-round heats. Before the long afternoon of racing is over there will be 69 competitive races down the hill.

FOR THOSE NOT in the race, much of the excitement of the day will be in the pre-race festivities that again include crowning of the Soap Box Derby queen, a parade, Oil Can Derby and, new this year, a Powder Puff Derby race between three girl drivers. Events start at 2 p.m. with a blast from an aerial bomb fired by Jerry Bunge. The invocation will be followed by flag raising ceremonies by Boy Scouts, with Ross Myers as bugler. Retiring Jaycee President Don Roesser will crown the new Soap Box Derby queen. Five girls are now still in the running for the queen title; judges will make the decision Friday evening.

About 30 separate units will take part in the derby parade under the direction of Don Bast. The parade will form on Ross, Steel and Lincoln streets and proceed up Clinton Avenue to State Street. Included will be the Flint Scottish Bag Pipe Band, which has appeared at previous derby days.

IMMEDIATELY AFTER the parade, the annual Oil Can Race will be held. Veteran drivers Lawrence Sexton of Sealed Power, Russ Allman of Saylor-Beall and Ed Jazkowski of Federal Mogul are reported priming their special cars, which never fail to provide laughs, if not speed. The special Oil Can Trophy will be presented to the winner immediately after the Oil Can Race.

The Soap Box Derby races themselves are expected to start about 2:30 or 2:35. Race Committee Chairmen Bob Cole, Jack Downing and Elmer Upton plan to keep the cars moving down hill in rapid-fire order to insure as early a finish as possible.

All boys will race at least twice; the boy who wins the derby championship will drive his car down the hill four times. At the final finish line for the champion are the big prizes for the race—a $500 savings bond from Chevrolet, national sponsor for the Soap Box Derby, a large trophy and an expense-paid trip to Akron to compete in the All-American Soap Box Derby Aug. 6.

THERE'S LOTS OF incentive, too, for those who don't finish first. The Soap Box Derby committee, headed by Bill McCarthy of the St. Johns Jaycees, has provided prizes for boys finishing second through 10th.

The runner-up in the derby will win a GE portable TV; a Polaroid Land camera awaits the third-place finisher. Other prizes are: fourth place, a Croton Data-Matic wrist watch; fifth place, Sony transistor radio; sixth place, Croton wrist watch; seventh place, 26-inch bicycle; eighth place, Zelicco spinning rod and reel; ninth place, Instamatic 104 camera; and 10th place, McGregor baseball glove.

In addition, all 70 boys will receive a race helmet and derby T shirt prior to the race, they'll wear them when they walk up Clinton Avenue in the pre-race parade.

THE AWARDING OF prizes will take place at an awards luncheon at St. Joseph's Social Hall following the race. Each boy in the race will receive a small derby trophy for his participation. Parents of the participants are invited to the luncheon. It will consist of an informal meal rather than a banquet, and there will be no special outside speaker. The derby committee felt that after a long afternoon of racing, 70 keyed-up boys would be in no mood for any formal program.

DERBY SIDELIGHTS

An additional prize awaits the top 10 finishers in the Soap Box Derby here. All 10 boys will get a free trip to Akron, Ohio, Aug. 6 for the All-American Soap Box Derby. Only the winner will race, however; the others will watch.

The derby is a county-wide event again this year. Ten boys have entered from Westphalia with a promise to take the championship back there, and there are several entries each from Maple Rapids, Fowler and rural Lansing.

THERE WILL BE several refreshment stands in the downtown area Sunday afternoon. The Soap Box Derby committee will be running a couple of them, with profits from the sale of

Clinton Theater to open

The leasing of the Clinton Theater of St. Johns by Howard Kortez was announced yesterday (Wednesday) by William and Jack Beechler, owners of the theater building.

Kortez is the owner of the Family Drive-in theater in St. Johns. He has set a tentative opening date of June 10 for the Clinton Theater. His present plans call for having the Clinton Theater open on weekends, Friday, Saturday and Sundays, until fall when he would have a fuller schedule for the week.

THE CLINTON THEATER has been in the Beechler family since 1925 when Cash Beechler, an uncle of William and Jack, purchased the local theater which was then located at the present site of the Miller-Jones store.

In 1932, Roy Beechler, father of William and Jack, purchased the theater from Cash Beechler. Mr. Beechler operated the theater at that site until 1935 when he built the present Clinton Theater. The theater has been closed two years.

Fires ruin home of family on trip; aid drive is on

A St. Johns family of three had a holiday trip north ruined when fire ruined their home early Sunday. A community-wide drive is under way for clothing and furniture for them.

Firemen answered three alarms at the David L. Husted home at 610 N. Ottawa before finally extinguishing the blaze. The first call came about 12:37 a.m. Sunday, and the original blaze caused considerable damage to the interior of the home.

Firemen listed defective wiring in the kitchen as the cause of the fire.

THE FIRE "TOOK OFF" again more than an hour after firemen left, and at 3 a.m. the department was called out again. This time the blaze completely gutted the interior of the home. There was an explosion during the second blaze, but firemen have not yet determined what caused it. They were at the scene until about 5:30 a.m.

About 11:05 they returned once again to take care of several smoldering ceiling tiles.

The Husteds, up north for the holiday, were notified of the fire by state police, and they returned here Sunday.

THE ST. JOHNS Jaycees immediately began a drive for clothing and furniture for the family.

Bessie Smeaton of 203 W. Lincoln is heading a door-to-door solicitation of items, and Sam Sample of 210 Ross Street is making a pickup of heavier items for the Jaycees.

Bedding, linens, kitchen utensils and other such items are needed, as well as clothing for the Husteds, their son, Eugene, 2, and a baby due in July. Items to be donated can be left at the main south door of St. Joseph Catholic Church.

The St. Joseph Convent is providing dining room furniture and several appliances. The Husteds are also looking for a home to rent.

US-127 freeway project in county delayed 3 years

Lack of funds has postponed the start of the US-127 freeway in southern Clinton County. It's one of 82 primary state highway construction projects delayed in 38 counties.

The US-127 project includes 3.5 miles of grading and surfacing, plus a railroad grade separation from the south county line to US-27 just north of Clark Road. Also delayed is 1.9 miles of the freeway from Grand River Avenue in Lansing north to the Clinton County line.

ORIGINALLY scheduled for October 1967, the project will now be delayed until November 1970.

"Both the Michigan Good Roads Federation and the Michigan State Highway Commission warned the Legislature a year ago there would not be sufficient funds to continue our highway building progress," State Highway Director Howard E. Hill said last week.

"Bills were introduced to provide the needed increase, but never got out of committee. Efforts to get the bills out of committee this session failed also. We therefore have been forced to reschedule primary construction in both rural and urban areas throughout the state.

"OUR INTERSTATE construction program will continue on schedule. The federal government pays 90 per cent of the costs of roads in category. But on primary roads, with 50-50 state-federal participation, we are in a jam."

Projects being postponed are rated in the "must" category, Hill said.

Michigan has managed to "get along" with depression era passenger car license fees and a 1956 state gasoline tax that compared are the lowest per passenger car in the nation, Hill said.

UNDER EXISTING formulas for division of these funds to federal, state, county and local units of government, the net contribution per vehicle for construction and maintenance of state highways is about $28 per year, he said.

Under proposed increases of one cent per gallon in the gasoline tax and an increase in passenger car license fees from the depression era level of 35 cents per hundredweight to pre-depression levels of 55 cents per hundredweight, the total increase in cost per motorist would average between $15 and $20 per year, he said.

BUT MOST OF the increase would go to county and local units of government, with the net result that the cost per motorist for state highways would remain below $40 per year, Hill said.

Complicating the predicted shortage of funds has been an unanticipated increase in construction and right-of-way acquisition costs, further restricting the department's program, he said.

Ovid-Elsie fall plans announced

OVID—The students of Ovid-Elsie High School will begin the transition from two separate high schools into one high school next fall.

Since the new high school building will not be ready for occupancy at the beginning of the year the present high school buildings must be used until the big move can be made.

The high school student body, however, will be united this fall with two grades attending each of the present high school buildings for the first weeks of the year.

THE FRESHMEN and sophomore classes will occupy the Ovid building and the junior and senior classes will be in Elsie. These assignments were made after thorough consideration of the enrollment involved, room available, and the suitability of the facilities for the courses to be offered in these grades.

"This arrangement will enable us to expand our curriculum at the beginning of the school year by allowing the placement of more teachers in their major and minor fields," school officials said. "This will, at the same time, minimize the number of adjustments to be made when we move into our new facilities."

Put toothbrush dollars to work

Putting the profits from their annual toothbrush sale and pancake supper, the St. Johns Exchange Club voted last week to send a boy to the University of Michigan Fresh Air Camp for a month this summer. This is a camp for children who have very serious emotional problems. The boys receive instruction in school work and much counseling and guidance from professionally trained psychologists and psychiatrists.

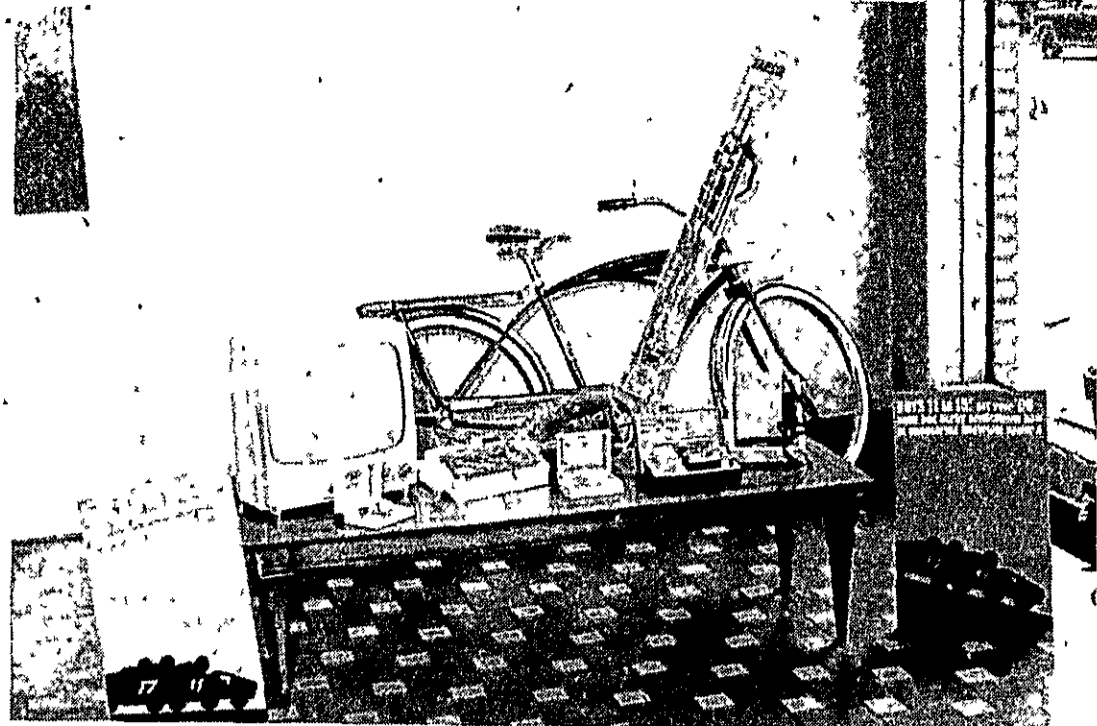

Local school teachers can visit the camp as observers and thus receive help in working with emotionally-disturbed children.

The club is also sending nine boys to the Mystic Lake Camp of the YMCA, working with local school principals, boys will be sent who could benefit from a camp experience, but who could not otherwise afford to go. Boys are encouraged to earn part of their expenses, but inability to do so will not keep the club from sending them.

Ashley-Fulton election today

Ashley and Fulton school district residents are voting today (Thursday) on a proposal of the Gratiot County School Reorganization Committee that the two districts be combined.

A simple majority of the votes cast in both districts will decide the issue. Ashley district voters are casting ballots at the Ashley school gym, and Fulton voters are marking their decisions in the Fulton High School student commons. Polls are open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

These prizes await the top 10 Soap Box Derby finalists. The winner will get a savings bond and a trip to Akron, Ohio, for the All-American Soap Box Derby.

refreshments going into the derby fund to help pay expenses. As many as 5,000 or more people are expected to be in town Sunday afternoon for the big race and parade.

One final inspection of Soap Box Derby cars will be held this Saturday morning at the railroad depot. Boys can have their cars checked out any evening the rest of this week by delivering them to the home of Jack Downing, 409 W. Cass Street. Twenty-eight boys had their cars inspected last Saturday.

AFTER INSPECTION, cars are being stored at the St. Johns Cooperative Co.'s bean storage building until Sunday.

The first Powder Puff Derby will be run by three girls just prior to the final race. The girl drivers will be Angela Sirrine, Loren Cook and Jean Feldpausch. Miss Sirrine built her own car; the other girls are racing cars used in previous Soap Box Derby races. Helicopter rides will be available race day.

Mary Jane Thelen, cooperative education student working at the Clinton National Bank, relates her feelings about the program last Tuesday night at a dinner for students and employers. She was one of three students who spoke. John Brickner of the Michigan Department of Education, second farthest man from the camera at the head table, was the main speaker.

Co-op education students, employers feted at dinner

Thirteen cooperative education students at Rodney B. Wilson High School received certificates last Tuesday evening at a dinner for them and their St. Johns employer-teachers.

About 35 persons attended the dinner at the L & L Restaurant. John Brickner, consultant for distributive and office education for the Michigan Department of Education, spoke briefly.

He noted there are about 15,000 students in cooperative education around the state and that co-op education has been a fixture in the state since 1937 and since 1940 in the business office phase.

ST. JOHNS REVIVED the cooperative program last year after a lapse of several years because of financial reasons. John Furry, guidance counselor at the high school, has been coordinator of the program and was instrumental in getting it going again.

Only business education students are presently involved in the cooperative program here. They spend part of the school day working in local offices where they receive both pay and school credit.

"We don't like to think of it that these students are 'out of school half a day,'" Brickner said in his remarks of the value of cooperative education. "We say it is where you move the laboratory downtown where experiences become meaningful."

HE SAID THE employers are often referred to as the "downtown faculty." The "downtown faculty" includes the St. Johns Municipal Court, Central Junior High School, Dr. Harold Shane, attorney Tim Green, the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce, St. Johns Public Schools, Lundy Motors, Clinton National Bank and Trust Co., Richards Dairy, Jim's Insurance Agency, Clinton Memorial Hospital, Federal-Mogul Corp., and F. C. Mason & Co.

Students taking part in the cooperative education program during the past year have been Patricia Burnham, Ruth Curtis, Maureen Fiegler, Jean Halsey, Jeanne Knupp, Karen Moinet, Marilyn Parks, Mary Jane Thelen, Francene VanAmburg, Agnes Vitek, Anna Voisinet, Kathy Weed and Pamela Woodbury. Miss Halsey and Miss Vitek were named the outstanding business education students at the high school this year.

B. Stanley Pocus, high school principal, presented some remarks on the program, commending the girls for their adult attitude toward the work they were involved in. "There's something peculiar about a human being that they usually live up to the responsibility charged to them," he said and commented that all the girls had lived up to that responsibility.

POCUS SAID the program is highly regarded at the school, and pointed out that "this laboratory just can't be duplicated up at our place (the school)."

Also on the dinner program last Tuesday were co-op student Agnes Vitek, Kathy Weed and Mary Jane Thelen, who gave some observations about the program from their point of view. Vacation for Mom ... a week at MSU

by HELEN MEACH
It is time for moms, young marrieds and grandmothers to be making plans for their own summer vacation. Yes, they need a vacation too, just as dad has his fishing trip and as the kids have summer camp.
How about a special vacation for mom? This could be four wonderful days for her on Michigan State University Campus while she attends College Week for Women. The date—July 26 through 29.
enable the visitors to see the beautiful campus and State Capitol. College week provides an opportunity to make new friends and renew old acquaintances.
Though a majority of women live at Shaw Hall for the four days, it is possible to commute daily. For those, a commuters registration fee is arranged and meals may be eaten at Shaw Hall or elsewhere on Campus or in East Lansing.
IF A HOMEMAKER can attend only one day, Thursday has been designated as visitor's day. Pre-registration allows for greater assurance to attend classes of first choice. Pre-registration cards and complete programs will be sent to those requesting them from the Cooperative Extension Office, Courthouse, St. Johns, Michigan.

SHE MAY CHOOSE from thirty eight classes ranging from "Keeping Control of the Budget" to "Psychology—an Interpersonal Approach." The program is sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service at Michigan State University.
Class instructors are on the staff of MSU, other Michigan Agencies and institutions. Assemblies and classes will round out the general theme "You and Your Government."
Featured speaker will be Mrs Martha Griffiths, Michigan's congresswoman. State legislators, lobbyists and news reporters will take part in a panel discussion of Legislators in Action in a special evening assembly.
Each woman attending may select three classes from the variety offered. Each class meets three times. They cover home and family life, leadership training, personal development and enrichment, community improvement and international understanding.

Hankey's golf action at MSU limited by injury

Doug Hankey, former St. Johns athlete, has seen limited action this year on the Michigan State golf squad because of a freak pre-season accident.
Hankey, a two-year letterman for the Spartans, was expected to be one of the team's topstrokers by Coach Bruce Fossum. However, the senior better broke two fingers on his right hand in an intramural basketball game just before spring practice.

AT MID-SEASON Hankey broke into tournament action against Wisconsin, Bowling Green and Western Michigan on a rain-swept East Lansing course. He fired a final round 76 to add the Spartan closing charge that overcame frontrunning Wisconsin.
Last year Hankey consistently shot in the mid-70's. He finished the season in third place among Spartan linksmen with a 79.1 average.

Hankey had an outstanding prep record at St. Johns. He won medalist honors in the 1961 Class B state tournament and finished second in 1962. Hankey also won the Michigan Amateur championship in 1964. He was the second youngest player ever to win the crown.
He is the son of St. Johns Country Club pro and owner Robert Hankey. At Michigan State he is majoring in history.

Road Commission Weekly Report

The dust control program is getting under way this week. The Michigan Chemical Co. expects to have four or more dust-master trucks, spreading 38 per cent solution of calcium chloride, in our county for the rest of this week and all of next.

It will take about 10 days to complete the first application. The second application will follow in four or five weeks. Additional mileage will be done later as more people want to join the cost sharing program.

THE BOARD of Clinton County road commissioners will hold their regular meeting this Friday, June 3. The commission hopes to catch up on many problems at this meeting, as several recent meetings have been entirely occupied by new subdivisions.

Your road commission clerk attended the accounting seminar for county road commissions last week. There were 147 persons representing 66 counties attending this meeting. Instruction and information was furnished by the Local Audit Division of the state treasurer's department, local government division of the State Highway Department, the County Road Assn. and the Scott Engineering Co.

EXAMPLES OF the latest electronic systems designed for County Road Commission book-keeping were shown. The Michigan Good Roads Federation put on a program of highway needs in state, counties and city systems.

Maple Rapids church remodeling completed

The Maple Rapids Congregational-Christian Church recently completed an extensive remodeling of the interior of the church building on the south side of the village. New pews were the most notable change, but the church now also has carpeted floors in the sanctuary, new lighting, new paneling, and a front platform that extends across the width of the church. A dedication service was held recently.

LCC changes called necessary to maintain 'open door' policy

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third in a series of articles on Lansing Community College, designed to stimulate interest in the June 13 ballot question concerning annexation of St. Johns and Pewaukee-Westphalia school districts to the LCC district.)

Early in 1963 it became apparent to the community college officials that drastic changes were necessary if an "open-door" policy for student enrollment was to continue. Close to half of the students attending the college were from outside the City of Lansing, and the board of education, which operated the college, did not feel obligated to expand the facilities to accommodate these students.

A 43-member citizens' study committee was appointed from Clinton, Eaton, and Ingham counties to study area community college needs as related to Lansing Community College. Their report, in part, recommended that the voters be asked to expand the district and approve a one-mill tax levy.

IT WAS ALSO recommended that the newly elected board of trustees approve the annexation of school districts within the entire service area of community college and that the college remain a two-year school to serve vocational-technical and pre-professional transfer students.

In December 1964, the college district was expanded to include all of the Ingham County Intermediate School District. A six-member interim board of trustees was elected to serve until June 1967, when a regular board will be elected: two members for two years, two members for four years, and two members for six years.

In June 1965, Bath and DeWitt school districts in Clinton County and Grand Ledge School District in Eaton and Clinton County voted to annex to the community college.

ON JULY 1, 1965, LOCAL control of the college was officially transferred to the new board of trustees from the Lansing School Board. Lee Trumble of Lansing was chosen Chairman; David Diehl of Dansville secretary; Albert Boyd of Waverly treasurer; Cecil McDonald of East Lansing trustee; John Dart of East Lansing trustee; and David Froh of East Lansing trustee.

One of their first official acts was to go on record approving the early annexation of school districts within the college service area.

The purpose was to maintain an "open-door" policy for all qualified students and at the same time establish the resident district.

IN APRIL OF 1965 a resolution was passed "that the board of trustees begin an immediate study of the needs in Clinton, Eaton, and Ingham counties to determine the placement of additional branch campus sites." Branch campus facilities would, of course, make the educational programs more accessible to students from the surrounding communities.

The trustees and administration have made extensive plans to expand the college facilities to provide space for the increased student enrollment. College officials anticipate the enrollment will exceed 8,000 students in the early 1970's. To keep pace with an expanding enrollment of 600 to 800 students each year, additional facilities are constantly being sought.

TO MEET THE physical requirements of the increased student enrollment, the original college building, "Old Central," was purchased by the college from the Lansing Board of Education. It is presently undergoing extensive remodeling. Surrounding the original college building new science laboratories, faculty offices, and a lecture hall are under construction. When these buildings are completed this fall, they will be the first complete unit college within the total campus plan.

The downtown campus is a part of the urban renewal program. The 55-acre site was chosen by the trustees after extensive study, and the Lansing City Council gave full endorsement to the project. The council agreed to make available to the college adequate campus light, power, water, and sewer services.

THE LANSING Community College was established as a two-year institution and is expected to continue to be a two-year college. It is designed to be controlled by residents within its district and to serve the entire tri-county community.

Technical training and in-service courses are flexible to meet the particular needs of business and industry. For the vocationally minded students such courses as drafting and design, accounting, real estate, dental office assisting, welding, truck driving, managerial training, marketing, and practical nursing are provided. For the academically minded students, pre-professional and liberal arts programs that lead to an associate degree and transfer to a four-year institution for a higher degree are available.

L.C.C. IS ACCREDITED by the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges. It has been recognized in national publications, such as Red Book magazine. It was the first school in the country to offer a manpower development training program in its retraining center.

Reading Club signup Friday

Children who have just finished the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades are eligible to join the Summer Reading Club at Bemont Public Library. Registration will begin Friday, June 3, in the main room of the library.

There is no cost to join, and each child who registers will receive a membership button, a special book mark, and a booklet in which to record the titles of the books he reads.

The reading program will start Monday, June 6, and will continue until Tuesday, July 5. Boys and girls are expected to read three books a week, or a total of 12 books. Those who read their full quota will receive a certificate of honor.

PRIZES WILL BE given for the best book report written by a club member, at each of the three grade levels. Last year's winners will not be eligible for prizes this year.

Bemont Public Library is open every day, except Sunday, from 12 noon until 5 p.m. There are also library hours on Tuesday and Friday nights from 7 until 9 p.m.

In New York City during 1964 there were 637 homicides. The knife (or other sharp weapon) was used in 286 or 48 per cent of the total, while physical force (hands or feet) was used in 131 homicides or 21 per cent. A rifle or shotgun was used in 42 homicides or 7 per cent of the total.

3,362 in county shared in '65 pension benefits

Some 3,362 people in Clinton County received a total of $242,710 in social security monthly benefits in 1965. Roger W. Seamon, social security district manager in Lansing, revealed today. That's an increase of $33,876 and 201 people over the year before.

In addition to the people who began getting benefits in 1965 because of social security changes, Seamon continued, "a good many older people applying for Medicare found they were eligible for regular social security benefits, too."

"All in all, the 1965 figures for Michigan include 447,396 retired workers, 37,524 disabled workers and their families, and 237,548 wives and children of retired, disabled, or deceased workers. The average monthly social security retirement benefit for Michigan beneficiaries amounted to $92.99 in 1965."

Local soldier tells of basic training

BY PVT. TRENT TAYLOR of St. Johns

This article could be on a soldier and what he has to go through before he is ready for combat.

What to expect when you are called upon - You will be sent to Ft. Wayne, Mich., where you take tests and physicals. These tests run a full day.

Then about 7 p.m. you are sworn into the armed forces of the United States, which takes about 5 minutes. After completing this you board a chartered bus which takes you usually to Ft. Knox, Ky., for your first eight weeks of training.

YOU ARRIVE at the fort about 3 a.m. They will be waiting there to greet you with a big smile. They take you in a classroom where you'll sit for an hour and a half until someone comes down to talk to you.

Then you'll be in the service and will play to their rules. Then they tell you you will be searched for knives, guns, cards, dice and pictures. They will give you one chance to put any of these articles in the big box they have.

Then you are led to your barracks where you stay until they call you out and give you a number which will be your roster number for four to five days while you are being processed.

THE NEXT FOUR mornings you are awakened at 5 a.m. for chow. Then the day begins. The first day is completely taken up by testing. This will give the Army an idea in which field to put you.

The second will be a day every soldier will remember - you lose your hair. I can still recall a barber saying, "You want some hair left?" Then he'll hand it to you. This is also a day in which you are introduced to the air gun. This is how they give you your shots.

They are quick, but they hurt afterward.

The next day is when you really start feeling like a soldier; at least it seems that way. You get your government issue, you put them on and you feel like everyone else. The next couple of days are usually the same procedure.

Then on your fourth or fifth day six sergeants come over and you are taken to your new company. Then you will be put into barracks with a platoon sergeant in charge. The first words that come out of his mouth are "Welcome, men, to Ft. Knox. This barracks is going to be your home away from home for the next eight weeks."

Then he goes on talking how they will be kept clean and when you can sleep, shower, shine shoes, etc.

OUR BASIC COMBAT TRAINING

The first week of basic is mostly taken up by classrooms. We go to these classes and are talked to by company commander, executive officer, first sergeant and so on down the line. We learn the first week what our eight weeks of basic combat training (BCT) will be like.

The first two or three days was taken up by military justice and military courtesy. This is where they tell you how the courts of the armed services work, what rights you have and when are your best chances to beat a court.

MILITARY courtesy was taken up in one respect, that being the respect for the United States flag. Also it was where you learned about where you salute an officer and how to salute. It also consisted of how to report to an officer.

The week is made up of these small classrooms. But you'll have to remember this information, because at the end of your eight weeks you'll take a C-41, otherwise known as the G-3 test.

At the end of the week you draw your field equipment; this equipment will be kept clean at all times. They make you do this to learn to take care of your equipment, because the equipment you use in BCT is almost the same thing you use in combat.

SATURDAY YOU'LL get two more shots (it seems like everyone hates to see Saturday morning come around). Sunday is more or less your day - it's the day you can sleep until 9 in the morning. Then the rest of the time is spent on your equipment and personal gear, like cleaning your foot locker, wall locker and spit-shining boots.

Your second week starts off with drawing your M-14 rifle. This is a soldier's best friend. After drawing it the week begins. You learn the manual of arms, rifle salutes, etc. They teach you how to march and double time with it. Then you learn how to clean your weapon. You clean it at least once a day and sometimes up to six or seven. You learn how to take it apart and assemble it so it will work correctly. The M-14 is a simple weapon to operate, but you will have a hard time learning how to put and take apart; once you learn you'll never forget.

ALSO IN YOUR SECOND week you add a new phrase to your vocabulary - the daily dozen. This is your physical training you have every day besides all the running you do. There are 12 exercises to the daily dozen. They usually look like useless exercises, but they sure build a body. Then it comes Saturday again, for one shot this week.

Your third week is when you really get into the real training. You'll carry about two classes or two subjects for that week - hand to hand combat and bayonet. Hand to hand is taught to you for self defense against an aggressor. It is also taught to disarm and hold a person in just a few movements.

In this week you learn how to deflect punches and how to use the momentum of an aggressor in your favor. You learn seven different flips, three different kicks, other movements to deflect weapons and how to hit or kick a person to disable him so you can use a killing or damaging blow to his head, throat and body.

THIS NEW TYPE of hand-to-hand fighting is made up of judo, karate, street fighting and plain dirty fighting. You may think it is a dirty way to fight, but when it comes right down to it, it is your life or your enemy's.

Your bayonet is used for one thing, and that is to kill. You are drilling with the bayonet for your full eight weeks. You learn how to hold a bayonet and the proper movements with a bayonet on the end of your weapon. You learn how to use your whole weapon, not just the blade of a bayonet.

You use the stock of your weapon, too. It can be as deadly as a bayonet when used in two movements. One is a horizontal butt stroke and another is the vertical butt stroke. These are usually directed for the head.

THE BAYONET IS a very effective weapon. The main reason for a bayonet is for a psychological effect on your opponent, because no one would like a piece of cold steel run through him. Another important part in winning over an opponent is to use your voice in other words, every movement you make has a blood-curdling scream behind it. If this doesn't scare your opponent he is a brave man.

NEXT WEEK: Basic Training - The Last Four Weeks.

Our man at war

War is a sticky business. Luckily only a few look forward to it and enjoy it. But because a few do, many other youngsters who don't, find themselves going off to war in an effort to preserve peace and freedom.

Clinton County's comparatively high Selective Service draft calls in the last six months reflect the Viet Nam situation, and it means a lot of county boys involved.

One - James LaClear of Bath - became involved to the point he gave his life in battle. Two other county boys serving in Viet Nam have been wounded. And suddenly Viet Nam is much closer to home.

WHAT'S IT like for our boys entering the service? Not all will go to Viet Nam, but all will face a period of combat training that varies little from man to man.

Pvt. E-2 Trenton A. Taylor, son of Mr and Mrs Landon E. Taylor of 8252 W. Walker Road, St. Johns, is preparing for what he believes will be assignment to Viet Nam. He has agreed to provide for the readers of the Clinton County News a personal report of what the recruits do during their basic training.

This is the first of a series of articles which will be published from time to time as letters are received from him in his military travels. He points out that his writing on basic training is in general terms, because of the differences in teaching methods, devices and instructors.

"But when I get to Viet Nam it will be more or less a bird's eye view of the war."

PVT. TAYLOR, A 1965 graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School in St. Johns, entered the service Oct. 18, 1965, and took his basic training at Fort Knox, Ky. He graduated in the top three out of a company of 214 recruits.

After a two-week leave he returned to advanced individual training (AIT) at Fort Ord, Calif., where he graduated in the top 10 out of 197 AIT trainees. From California he was transferred to Ft. Benning, Ga., where he is stationed with the 48th Airborne Training Co.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

REP. LESTER J. ALLEN of Ithaca, 88th District

FOLLOWING IS A bill passed recently which is typical of the socialistic legislation pushed through by this Legislature and is one of the many programs designed to wipe out our surplus as quickly as possible:

A bill to create a state housing development authority; to define the powers and duties of the authority; to establish a housing development revolving fund; to authorize loans to qualified nonprofit sponsors and municipalities; to provide tax exemption in lieu of taxes by nonprofit housing corporations; and to provide rental assistance for eligible low income families and persons.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF MICHIGAN ENACT: Sec. 1. This act shall be known and may be cited as the "housing development authority act of 1966". CHAPTER 1. Sec. 11. As used in this act: (a) "Authority" means the state housing development authority created in this act. (b) "Development costs" means: (1) payments for options to purchase real property on the proposed housing project site, deposits on contracts of purchase, or, with the prior approval of the authority, payments for the purchases of such properties; (2) legal, organizational and marketing expenses, including payment of attorneys' fees, project manager and clerical staff salaries, office rent and other incidental expenses (3) payment of fees for preliminary feasibility studies, advances for planning, engineering and architectural work; (4) expenses for surveys as to need and market analyses; (5) necessary application and other fees to federal and other local government agencies; and (6) such other expenses incurred by the nonprofit housing corporation or consumer housing cooperative as the authority may deem appropriate to effectuate the purposes of this act.

AMONG THE MANY traffic safety measures passed over again this year were three periodic motor vehicle inspection bills; three "implied consent" bills to get drinking drivers off our roads; several proposals for stronger driver licensing examinations; and a number of other items for better traffic law enforcement and improved driver education.

Last year saw 2,129 persons killed and 155,258 injured on Michigan highways. Last Thursday, the House passed a watered-down, ineffective, voluntary vehicle safety inspection bill. To receive the majority party's oft-quoted phrase, "There's no substitute for votes," I personally believe, "election year notwithstanding, there is no excuse for disregarding public appeals for longer year, a year in which many Michigan citizens' lives will be lost needlessly."

No point in Michigan is more than 45 miles from one of the borders of the Great Lakes.

This bill provides for an increase of $63 million, of which $13 million is for new students in our schools.

I introduced an amendment to add $19.50 per pupil under Section A of the bill and $20 per pupil under Section B. My amendment would not add a single dollar to the tax burden of the people of Michigan; it would only provide for a better distribution.

Education must be paid for. Whatever amount does not come from the school aid bill must be made up from additional taxes on property. The only way we can ever provide for permanent property tax relief is for the state to pick up a much, much larger portion of the cost of education in Michigan. In fact, I would support legislation to provide that the state pick up all operational costs. I believe it is enough for the property tax to build our schools and support increasing costs of local government.

Stronger driver licensing examinations; and a number of other items for better traffic law enforcement and improved driver education.

Elsie
By Mrs. Neva Keys
Methodists favor new church

ELSIE—Members of the Elsie Methodist Church voted two to one in favor of building a new church at some future date, with plans and costs subject to approval by the Quarterly Conference. The vote was taken Sunday morning following the worship, service and a coffee hour.

The building committee composed of Robert Bloomer, Leslie Sturgis, Clifford Dunham, J. O. Schumacher, Dr. G. W. Bennett, Mrs. Alpha Grubaugh and Eugene Stouffer have met many times and given careful consideration to the future needs and improvement indicated by the congregation.

The major area of need is in the sanctuary facilities, they noted. A new heating system, better lighting, which necessitates a rewiring job, larger choir area, a "cry room" for mothers and their young children and most of all a larger seating capacity.

THE MEMBERSHIP has increased 21 per cent the past five years and there is every indication that it will continue.

The building committee weighed the pros and cons and came to the conclusion that in view of the needs, the increasing membership attendance and interest, they would recommend that with faith in the future of the church, plans for a new sanctuary should be made.

No definite date, plans or details were decided as this will be a long range program.

Further study on the needs, the potential, detailed church plans, means of financing, definite site and use of present facilities will be made before any further action may be taken.

MYF gives $50 to David Showers

ELSIE—Jennifer Keys presided for the last regular meeting of the Elsie Methodist Youth Fellowship in the MYF Chapel, Sunday evening. When activities resume in the fall, Sharon Dunham will head the youth group.

Jennifer's final duty as president was presentation of $50 check to David Showers on behalf of the MYF. She was assisted by Sharon.

David will leave July 22 for a tour of eight European countries and also attend the World Conference of Methodist Youth and World Conference on Methodism, both held in England and the Music Festival in Salzburg, Austria. He gave a brief preview of his summer plans.

He is district MYF president and came with his family, Rev and Mrs Gordon Showers from Beaverton when the family moved here last fall. He is a junior in Elsie High School.

SHARON DUNHAM led the devotional service and hymn singing.

Jennifer gave a brief resume of the past year's MYF program. There were farewell and welcome parties for the ministers' families; reactivation by kick-off meeting and hay rides; fund-raising projects, UNICEF drive for funds and candy booth at Church Bazaar; attendance at MYF rallies in Mt Pleasant and Greenville and Mid-Winter Institute at Grand Rapids; "Christmas in November" with gifts sent to the Methodist Community House and donations to several church projects; trimming the Christmas tree and aiding with baskets for the needy families; clean-up bee in Chapel; participation in Lenten services at Ovid and now plans are being made to attend Lake Louise summer camp.

At the close of the meeting, a social hour was held in Fellowship hall. Mrs. Lyle Dunham and Mrs. Sidney Keys served cookies and punch. Rev and Mrs Showers were also present.

The largest ballstone on record in the United States measured 17 inches around and weighed a pound and a half.

Bement Library

Book Shelf

By Hila Bross

Among the new books at Bement Public Library are several dealing with controversial sections of the world.

SOUTHEAST ASIA by Tillman Durdin is a New York Times "Byline Book," which means that its author is employed by the great metropolitan daily. Mr Durdin has represented the Times in the Far East for more than 25 years, so he is well qualified to express his opinions on the situation in Viet Nam. While this book is completely up-to-date, it also goes back in time to the events which brought about the present dilemma. In his closing paragraph Mr

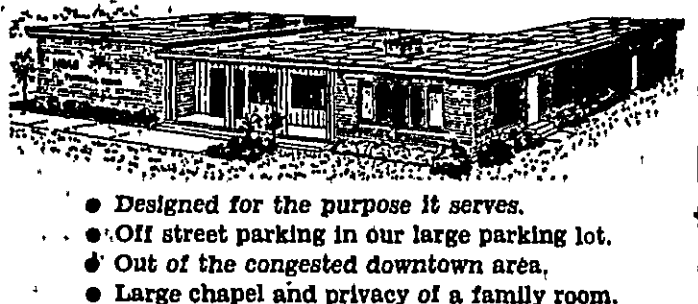

Durdin says: "About the only way the Southeast Asia could ever cease to be a battlefield for outside powers would be for the Southeast Asian countries to drop their quarrels with each other and come together in agreements for regional cooperation." The author does not attempt to predict when such an event might come to pass.

CHINA IN CRISIS by Sven Lindqvist is another journalist's first-hand account of life behind the bamboo curtain. Mr Lindqvist spent two years in Peking as cultural attache to the Swedish embassy and as a student at the university. He is currently teaching Chinese at the University of Stockholm. The fine photographs in the book were taken by his wife.

This author, one of the first foreign citizens ever admitted to the University of Peking, gives an authoritative inside story of the battle for the minds of youth being waged in Red China today. The book contains a number of fine character sketches and an appraisal of Nationalist China, otherwise known as Formosa. Red China is 260 times as large as Formosa. To read this book is to gain insight into one of the most controversial situations in the world today.

ALAN MOORE HEAD'S new book, THE FATAL IMPACT, also deals with far-away places, but with a more peaceful era. It is the account of the voyages and explorations of Captain James Cook, who toured the South Seas late in the 18th century. True, there is violence and death in this book, too, but it is of a more natural, even innocent variety. Alan Moorehead's previous books include THE WHITE Nile and THE BLUE Nile, and the fine writing in those books is equaled in this one.

Burial sites of Clinton's Civil War veterans listed

One hundred one years ago this year the Civil War ended. Many soldiers who fought in the war are buried in Clinton County's 35 cemeteries.

Mrs Alice Turner Miller of Ithaca, a member of the grave location committee of the Civil War Centennial Commission of Michigan, has compiled a list of the soldiers buried in the county.

"Errors are bound to occur," she noted, "and additions and corrections are welcome."

A note from history

JUNE 3, 1864—After a month in which Lee, although continuing to withdraw toward Richmond, had successfully prevented the Union army from outflanking his forces, Grant once again attacked the Confederates in strongly entrenched positions, this time at Cold Harbor, some 10 miles northwest of Richmond. The Union assault was hurled back in a terrible slaughter that shocked the north. Major William Ely Lewis of St. Johns was among the members of the 8th Michigan Infantry who were killed, and the 27th Michigan Infantry also suffered heavy losses but most of the Michigan regiments escaped with relatively slight losses. In the first month of Grant's offensive, his losses amounted to about sixty-thousand men, at least double the casualties suffered by the Confederates.

Haylage offers dairy feeding advantages

Haylage, a hay-crop dried to contain 40-60 per cent dry matter and processed through a silo, has become a popular dairy forage crop in Michigan.

F. Earl Haas, Clinton County extension agricultural agent, says Michigan State University research shows that dairy cattle fed haylage consume as much dry matter and produce as much milk as when fed barn-dried or field-cured hay harvested at the same time of maturity. Haylage can completely replace hay in the dairy ration.

The county agricultural agent says haylage offers dairymen an opportunity to:

- 1) IMPROVE FORAGE quality by harvesting at an earlier stage of maturity and reducing the risk of weather damage and loss of leaves in haymaking.
- 2) Mechanized hay harvesting by eliminating most of the "hard" labor of haymaking.
- 3) Reduce storage losses compared to direct cut, high-moisture silage.
- 4) Speed up forage harvesting by requiring less drying time in the field and a wider moisture range for harvesting the crop compared to field dried hay.

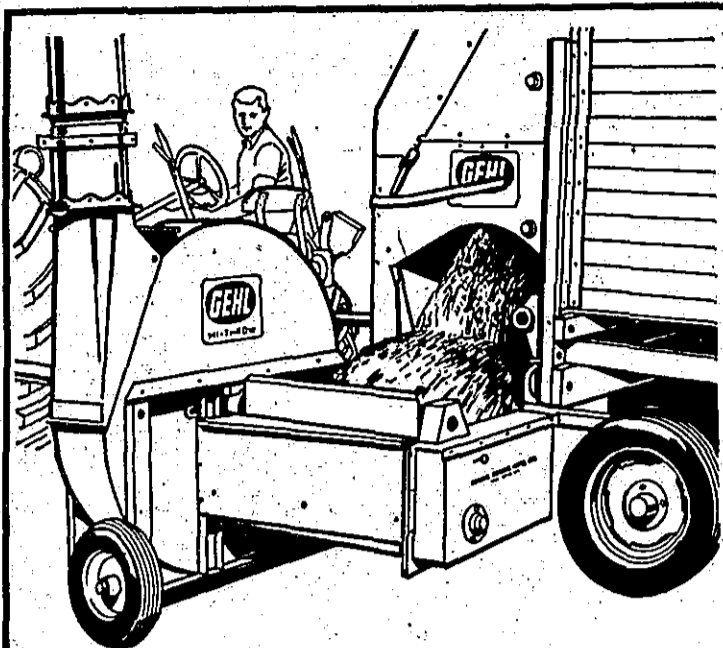

The agricultural authority says the forage must be harvested at the early stage of growth. Alfalfa in the bud or pre-bud stage, no later than 1/10 bloom, makes the best haylage.

HE ALSO RECOMMENDS the use of a hay crusher or conditioner which speeds up the drying and saves the leaves for the animals to consume.

The forage put into the silo should be chopped to 1/4 of an inch in length to produce the most satisfactory material. The forage should be put in a tight silo and it will be necessary to seal the doors to insure a tight fit. Top off carefully with medium moisture material and seal with a plastic top, the agent advises.

Scientists at Michigan State University point out that the Michigan sod industry is currently valued at $50 million—and has grown from almost nothing to a business covering 20,000 acres since 1955.

Crop scientists at Michigan State University have tested 14,444 wheat lines for resistance to the cereal leaf beetle. After two years of testing, only 2.2 per cent, or 323 lines, have been found to be resistant. Almost all of these have bristly leaves, however no varieties of commercial value have been found yet.

Handle hay or silage non-stop with a Gehl Self-Loading Forage Box and Hi-Throw Blower . . . any crop, any size silo

New Gehl Box is 7-ft. wide and the toughest, safest built. Safety bar across the front, stops all unloading with the touch of a hand. Two rear-unloading options: low-cost bale unloader for lighter-weight materials, or silage unloader. Plus . . . a box size for every need, ruggedness for years of big-job crop hauling.

The new Hi-Throw Blower keeps pace with the Box. Blasts crop high as you need it at a ton-a-minute clip. New features: water hose intake; recessed wheels for easier positioning of forage box; and "quick-touch" leveling adjustment for fast, easy set-up on uneven ground.

New high school site planted to corn

The seventy-six members of the St. Johns chapter of Future Farmers of America plowed and planted the site of the new high school to corn last Wednesday during an implement demonstration day. Three tractors made short work of the plowing, as can be seen in the first picture, and the planting tractor did its work in short order, too. At left in the planter picture is Don Munger, vo-ag instructor at the high school.

Michigan history still lives for explorer-vacationer

More than three-and-a-half centuries of American history, beginning with the exploration and struggle for control of the new world, are preserved for public viewing in Michigan, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Michigan's written records go back to the early 1600's when French voyageurs, missionaries and soldiers were exploring the Great Lakes shores, mingling with Indian tribes whose ancient, largely unrecorded culture is now being uncovered by archaeologists.

FOR A CENTURY, Michigan was a stronghold in the vast French holdings in North America, a link between Canadian colonies and those in the Mississippi Valley.

Michigan was ruled by Great Britain in the late 1700's, exciting years of Indian uprisings, struggles between French and British forces, fur traders and the coming of the pioneers.

During the Revolutionary War and the War of 1812 Michigan was the site of repeated struggles between Colonial and British forces as they sought to control the frontier.

SINCE 1837, WHEN Michigan was granted statehood, the course of its history has been marked by developments in lumbering, mining, agriculture, education, religion, politics, water transportation and the automobile.

Michigan's role in development of the new world has been carefully charted and preserved by public and private interests, providing for many hours of interesting and educational exploration by today's travelers.

Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, Founded in 1929 by automotive pioneer Henry Ford, is one of the nation's foremost displays of Americana.

THE VILLAGE covering some 200 acres, includes nearly 100 famous homes and workshops, including those of Noah Webster, Thomas Edison, the Wright brothers, George Washington Carver and Luther Burbank. The original buildings were carefully taken apart, transported to Dearborn and reassembled as lasting monuments to the men who lived and worked in them.

A state historical marker in Negaunee tells of the discovery of iron ore in 1844 and tours of iron and copper mines are possible at Arcadian Copper Mine, Hancock; Iron Mountain Iron Mine, Vulcan; Wakefield Iron Mine, Wakefield; and the Crystal Falls.

MANY CHAPTERS of early Michigan history are preserved in the Straits of Mackinac area. Fort Michilimackinac, Mackinaw

City, and Fort Mackinac, Mackinac Island, focal points in the "Foil of North America," have been restored in authentic detail.

Collections covering other Michigan historical items of interest are:

Dossin Great Lakes Museum, Belle Isle, featuring Great Lakes maritime history.

Detroit Historical Museum, Detroit, Detroit history.

Great Lakes Indian Museum, Cross Village, Indian history.

Michigan Historical Commission Museum, Lansing, Michigan history.

Michigan State University Museum, East Lansing, history of rural life.

National Ski Hall of Fame, Ishpeming, history of skiing and other winter sports.

STATE CAPITAL Building, Lansing, historical exhibits in rotunda.

University of Michigan Exhibits Museum, Ann Arbor, includes Great Lakes Indian materials.

Scattered throughout the state are many local museums and private historical collections.

Michigan gained scenic peninsula in bloodless war

Michigan's beautiful upper peninsula, a popular four-season vacation area, became part of the Great Lake state in a bloodless war over the Michigan-Ohio border, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

The border dispute centered around a strip of land five to eight miles wide, but to qualify for statehood the Michigan Territory reluctantly relinquished its claim on the land in exchange for the 10.6 million-acre upper peninsula.

The heavily wooded peninsula was later found to contain some of the world's richest deposits of copper and iron ore, and millions of vacationers have since come to enjoy its wilderness beauty.

Some of its top travel attractions include Mackinac Island, the Soo Locks, 150 waterfalls, Isle Royale National Park, Pictured Rocks and Porcupine Mountains State Park.

For free Michigan vacation planning information, write the Michigan Tourist Council, Stevens T. Mason Building, Lansing, Michigan, 48926.

Michigan's inland waters exceed the size of Rhode Island. The average size of our 11,037 inland lakes is 67 acres, 400 are over 200 acres in size, and 15 cover over eight square miles.

'College Week' set for women at MSU in July

"Junior" may look to college as preparation for a career. "Sis" may dream of expanding both mental and social horizons. And come July, "Mom" can get a taste of college, too.

July 28-29 has been set aside at Michigan State University as College Week for Women. The annual conference puts emphasis on classes and assemblies aimed at the needs and interests of Michigan women.

THIS YEAR COLLEGE Week, sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service, will have the general theme, "You and Your Government." Topics covered in the three days of classes include home and family life, leadership training, personal development and enrichment, community improvement and international understanding.

Each woman attending College Week may choose three classes that she wishes to attend. Each class meets three times.

Besides attending classes, homemakers will hear outstanding speakers. Featured in one evening session will be Mrs. Martha Griffiths, Michigan's congresswoman. A panel of legislators, a lobbyist and a news reporter will headline the other evening assembly.

IF A HOMEMAKER can only attend one day, Thursday has been designated as visitor's day. Homemakers who wish to stay on campus for the entire week will be able to live in one of the campus dormitories. Meals will be served in the dormitory.

Read the attached labels when buying seed, Michigan State University Extension Specialists say. Labels give percentage of germination, purity, and other important facts. Don't let price be the only guide.

4H CLUB NEWS

By ALVIN ROOT, Extension 4-H Agent in Clinton County

Summer 4-H clubs are getting underway, and we find some of you are planning to lead "Home Design" and "The Family" projects. "The Family" is a new name for projects formerly called "Child Care" or "Child Development" and more recently called "Children, Youth and Adults in Family Living."

We have recently received some new literature that presents some exciting challenges for 4-H club girls in this project area. A complete "Home Design Leaders Kit" is available to leaders.

LORRAINE SPRAGUE, extension home economist, has made plans to meet leaders interested in this project area on Friday, June 3, at the Clinton County Extension office.

New bulletin for home gardeners

Home gardeners will find many helpful hints in the new Michigan State University Bulletin "Home Vegetable Garden." Garden procedures such as planting with recommended varieties, successive plantings with use of different varieties to extend the harvest season are discussed along with the proper planting and harvesting dates.

According to George McQueen, extension agricultural agent, gardeners not familiar with the large number of vegetable varieties will find the charts on recommended vegetable varieties and vegetable planting dates very useful.

OF SPECIAL interest to gardeners is the recommendation for control of diseases and insects harmful to garden plants. Proper use of chemical sprays and dusts make the control of these pests much easier. Precautions are listed to prevent possible injury to persons or animals.

The home gardener will find more helpful information in the MSU Bulletin 529, "Home Vegetable Garden," which can be obtained from the Clinton County Extension office at St. Johns.

Extension office in the courthouse in St. Johns. Leaders interested in the home design project are asked to come in from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. and those interested in "The Family" project should come from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m.

It's always a pleasure for me to announce the winners of the annual 4-H Club Week trip to MSU. This recognition program for older boys and girls has been going on for many years, and the young people who take part long remember their experiences. The big dates for the lucky winners are June 15, 16, 17 and 18. The young people are selected on the basis of their level of achievement in 4-H work.

THE THEME this year is "Destination—Understanding." Older 4-H Club members from Clinton County will take part in such programs as communication and understanding, understanding our values, 4-H ceremonies, recreation of all kinds, a sock hop, meet some state 4-H winners of scholarships, and meet people from other lands. It sure looks like an excellent four days.

There will be 4-H Club boys and girls from all over Michigan attending this big 4-H event. Club members attending will soon receive a detailed letter regarding final plans.

'Wet' haylage is efficient

Silo filling with haylage wilted to only 30 per cent dry matter can reduce field exposure time and speed up haymaking, and cows will maintain both milk production and feed consumption as well as they do when drier haylage is fed.

Michigan State University dairy scientists explain that typical haylage contains 40 to 60 per cent dry matter. But by starting to fill the silo when it is wilted to only 30 per cent dry matter (70 per cent moisture), good quality haylage can be produced at a faster rate.

Michigan leads all the states in per capita support of higher education.

Farm management tour offers variety

Variety will be the byword for the 18th annual Michigan State Farm Management Tour scheduled for Kent County July 20.

Four widely different types of farms will be open for inspection, with Michigan State University farm management specialists assisting operators in explaining the operations. Fruit growers and beef feeders will be interested in the Kober Farm stop on "Peach Ridge." In a father-and-son partnership setup, George and Gerald Kober handle 100 acres of fruit and grow feed to finish 150 steers.

EAST OF ROCKFORD is the Wesley Hessler irrigated potato farm. Efficient production of a quality product has enabled Hessler to maintain a steady local retail chain marketing outlet for 80 acres of potatoes grown annually. Located near, east of Bostwick Lake, is an incorporated farm specializing in egg production with capacity for 60,000 laying hens. Charles Kitson manages the family corporation, Kitson Farms, which has fully mechanized egg production facilities. The 1,000 acres planted to corn does not provide all the grain needed for the giant egg production operation.

Michigan State University Extension specialists report that wind caused a lot of crop damage in 1965. One precaution is plowing fields in a north-south direction, against Michigan's prevailing west or southwest winds. The furrows act as miniature windbreaks, as does planting done in the same direction.

Farm problem is in Washington

It's probably no different than it has been for a long while, but it does seem farmers are becoming more and more irate with the federal government's handling of the farm problems of this nation.

Clinton County farmers are no different than others in their feelings about the situation. They've brought up the topic time and again and on occasion have offered published articles pointing out examples of just what gripes them.

In the last month or so, several have been shown to us. While we can't publish them all, we will take a little space this week to echo some columnists' feelings about the farm situation as it exists today.

Food and politics are making farmer mad . . .

By GLENN LAKE, MMPA President In Michigan Farmer May 21

Dairy farmers are mad and rightfully so! In recent weeks they got an uncalled for "thrashing" by the big city press and a real "low blow" from the National Administration.

Late in March, when the U. S. Department of Labor announced that the cost of living index had increased one-half of one per cent in February, the public press screamed that food costs had pushed living costs sharply upward.

ON MARCH 25, the Defense Department ordered a reduction of a million pounds per month in butter purchased for the military. "Because butter prices had gone up to 67 cents per pound and margarine could be purchased for 16 cents," the Pentagon said.

On March 31, President Johnson, obviously looking for a way to put the inflation monkey on somebody's back, said "food prices and three metals are responsible for 80 per cent of inflation."

The same day dairy farmers got another knock on the head when the secretary announced that federal order milk price increases announced earlier had been terminated and lower prices substituted.

IT IS TRUE THAT THE RETAIL price of food, after being stable for years, did increase 6 per cent during the past year, and the cost of living did increase more than in any recent year.

Now let's take a look at the real story for the 10 year period ending Feb. 28, 1966:

Farmers and inflation—a closer look . . .

In the LAPEER COUNTY PRESS

President Johnson deplors rising food prices and asks us not to buy expensive foods like bacon and butter. He says "food prices and certain metals" are responsible for 80 per cent of the inflation.

We have some questions for President Johnson and others who would blame the farmer for inflation: Do you think it's fair for the farmer to get as much for his products as he got 14 years ago?

WOULD YOU SAY it was fair for the price of farm products or retail food to increase by the same amount as the price of cars during the past 14 years?

After answering these questions, we would like to show these figures. They are taken from the files of The County Press:

Table with 3 columns: Item, 1952, 1966. Items include Slaughter value, Holstein dairy cows, Top hogs, Top steers, Veal calves, Fryer chickens, Wheat.

Agriculture—whipping boy for tax increase? . . .

By DAYTON MATLICK In Michigan Farmer May 7

Ever stop to wonder how much of its national influence agriculture has lost? For a mountain-sized clue, think back to President Johnson's recent television message about inflation.

In his talk, Johnson said that 80 per cent of the current rise in prices was due to increased farm food prices and increases in three metals.

THE PRESIDENT DECLARED that prices are moving up too fast for comfort. He used the one-half of 1 per cent increase in consumer prices in February as an example.

It looks rather strange to us that agriculture gets slapped down when the price index for food gets a few points above the price index for all products.

JOHNSON ALSO SET agriculture up as a scapegoat for a possible $5 billion tax increase.

All statistics are national and from the USDA, Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U. S. Department of Labor, and are based on the period 1957-59 equaling 100.

- Cost of Living Index up 11.6 per cent (All items below included in Cost of Living Index)
Cost of services and housing up 20 per cent.
Cost of medical and health up 25 per cent.

THE RECORD IS AVAILABLE for all, including the press and the President, who are fair enough and honest enough to look.

How can anyone expect the price of food will not go up when everything else goes up-up-up? Hasn't the standard of living gone up?

Recent actions should make it apparent to farmers that there is no longer a Department of Agriculture looking out for the interests of farmers as the Department of Labor looks out for labor.

WITH PRESIDENT Johnson, it is cool, calculated politics. The "inflation bug" was biting him hard. The bigger, more dangerous, "tax increase bug" was gnawing under his shirt.

The message should be loud and clear to us: We have collective and individual responsibilities in getting the facts to the public; we must fight back at the polling place, in legislative halls and in the market place, through aggressive and united effort.

Table with 4 columns: Item, 1952, 1966, 1966. Items include Corn, Milk, Milk, 2 quarts, Ground beef, Eggs, Bacon, Sausage, Bread, Butter, Sirloin steak, Idaho potatoes.

After a look at these figures, we'd like to show the wages paid by General Motors in the Flint area:

Table with 3 columns: Item, 1952, 1966. Items include Average annual earnings of hourly rated employees, GM Flint area.

It looks to us as if we owe much of our present prosperity to the farmer and cheap food. Our increased earnings, instead of being gobbled up by soaring food prices, have been available for new cars, better homes and vacations.

It's time we cut the farmer in on the good life. There should be room for him amongst us.

sible $5 billion tax increase. He said this increase might be needed if the dollar's value continues to go down. We wish he would stop to realize that of all the parts of our nation's economy, farmers have been hurt by this situation more than any other group.

It has been reported that the President plans to visit labor leaders across the country in an effort to get them to toe up to the line he has drawn in the dirt.

WHAT CAN WE DO about the situation? For one thing, all of agriculture and agribusiness can start getting together and working as a whole to develop a better national image for agriculture.

Another thing we can do is start being very careful about who we vote for at the polls. Pick candidates who are interested in your problems as farmers, starting at the township level, regardless of party affiliation.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Why farmers feel the way they do

THIS IS MY FIRST letter of any kind to an editor. I have been tempted several times but always thought I would say more than I should so have avoided it.

I am enclosing an article that appeared in our Saturday, May 14, 1966, issue of the Detroit Free Press. I wonder if you could publish it in the County News. I thought perhaps if some of our city friends and also our country friends who are not farmers would read it and, using a little common sense, just think about it for a few minutes, maybe it would help to explain to a lot of them why when some of these so-called controversial issues, such as, "trailer parks," "bond issues," etc, come up that cost a lot of tax dollars, a lot of farmers feel the way they do.

PERHAPS THEN THEY could understand how some of these issues that "won't cost anyone very much" can in reality create a financial hardship on a lot of farmers.

The facts and figures on the amount of increase in the cost of fertilizer and farm implements is not in this article, but I know it is considerable. Knowing that a lot of time and effort has been used to print real good editorials to promote costly issues that a lot of your country subscribers did not favor, perhaps someone connected with the paper could contact one or more of the many implement dealers or salesmen in the St. Johns area and give the people that information also.

I have been farming since 1933, so I have noticed the price changes by being in direct contact. The increase in government regulations in farming has effected our income so that it shows a decrease but has not affected the expense items to balance.

Thank you, MILES SCHOALS

10422 S. Krepps Rd. DeWitt, Michigan

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Mr Schoals' article appears in the adjoining column and is entitled "Farmers and Inflation.")

Asks for 'No' on Fulton-Ashley merger

NOW THAT WE have been stripped of our voting rights as individual school districts, and the people have been propagandized with the idea that school mergers are inevitable, I think it is high time the people take steps to have their rights returned to them.

One way to assure a return of our rights is to vote "No" on the Ashley-Fulton merger. Joining of these two fine schools has no merit whatsoever.

A two-hour bus ride each day does not improve education. Many Ashley boys and girls live as far as 25 miles from Fulton.

Sincerely yours, W. K. COLLINS Ashley, Mich.

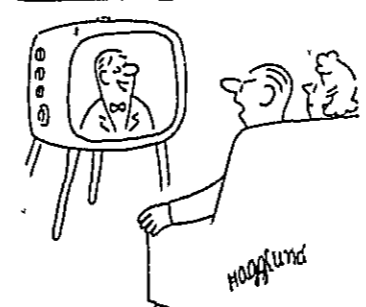

School board says thanks for help

The St. Johns Board of Education wishes to say thanks again for a job well done. The fine cooperation extended by you and your staff during the school bond issue campaign was immensely appreciated.

It certainly is satisfying to work with a staff like yours. They have demonstrated to us that they believe in good education.

Please extend our thanks to all your staff members.

Sincerely, ST. JOHNS BOARD OF EDUCATION

RAMBLIN' with Rink

By LOWELL G. RINKER

It was with dubious pleasure that I realized the other day I am generally recognized by "someone wherever I go in the county. Those who read this column regularly have to first see the rogue's gallery picture of me, which in time imbeds itself in a person's mind.

I DID NOT THINK much about this until the other day; my job is to make other people well known, and it hadn't really dawned on me that in doing so I'm making myself well known.

Anyways, as my wife and I were driving to work last Thursday afternoon, we slowed at a corner to let a couple of young boys cross the street. They kept their mischievous eyes on us as they sauntered slowly across, making a buzzing sound by blowing over blades of grass in their mouth.

AS I RECALL NOW, this has occurred many times; at least the face is familiar even if they can't place the name.

they can't place the name. "It seems like everybody knows who you are," my wife has said on several occasions.

Most of the time I can talk my way out of such a situation, kind of ad-libbing, but when the time comes to introduce them to someone else or to take down information for a story about them, I must give up my game and outright ask them what their name is.

IT IS DOUBLY embarrassing if I had actually been introduced at some time in the past and have forgotten their name. I hate this, because a person likes to have his or her name remembered just as much as they like to have it spelled correctly.

It is kind of nice to have a lot of people know who you are, but it's nicer to know a lot of people. I'm still working on that and hope to be for the rest of my life.

—Rink.

Back Thru the Years

Interesting Items from the Files of the Clinton County News

10 YEARS AGO

From the Files of May 31, 1956 One only traffic accident was reported to police in all of Clinton county on Memorial Day in what authorities describe as one of the safest May 30 holidays on record.

More than 250 persons gathered in Mt. Rest cemetery Wednesday morning for the annual Memorial Day services honoring deceased servicemen.

A $2,511,928.14 contract for 12 miles of dual highway construction on US-27 north from St. Johns was awarded by the Michigan State Highway department last week to the Denton Construction company of Grosse Pointe Woods.

25 YEARS AGO

From the Files of June 5, 1941 Tomorrow night, Friday, June 6, marks the annual alumni banquet. Plans are completed for a fine program and a goodly number of registrations for tickets are in.

Eighteen foreign born residents of Clinton county made application for United States citizenship Tuesday at a hearing conducted before Judge Kelly S. Searle in circuit court by Federal Examiner Justin McCormick of Detroit.

Members of Radiant Chapter No. 75, OES, of St. Johns, celebrated the 50th anniversary of their organization at a dinner and program Wednesday evening, June 4, at the Masonic Temple.

50 YEARS AGO

From the Files of June 1, 1916 Every man, woman and child is invited to be the guest of the business men of St. Johns on Wednesday, June 14, at the big Clinton county horse show. Besides the horse judging, contests and horse parades, there will be two bands here to furnish music during the day. A moving picture man will be here to take pictures of the entire show.

The city council took the first steps Monday night to make some much needed improvements in the city. As a preliminary they fixed the tax rate at 15 mills which will provide about $10,000 for the trunk line highways through the city north and south and east and west.

Cramer school group photographed at park

Byron Kissane of R-6, St. Johns said the picture of the Cramer School reunion published on the May 19 editorial page was taken at the St. Johns city park.

Although the faces weren't too clear, Kissane said he could identify quite a few of the people, though he couldn't pick himself out. Among those he recognized at various locations in the print were Carl Harris, Herm Schmidt, Harry Ballinger, Minnie Peck and William Kissane (his father).

Kissane attended Cramer School for a few years before his family moved from the district.

from the HOPPER

By STEVE HOPKO

In our May 19 issue we ran a story on the coming retirement of Mrs. Esther Graham from the teaching profession after 37 years, of which, 32 were spent in the St. Johns School District.

At the time the story ran I remembered reading it and having mixed emotions on her decision to retire from the profession in which she had dedicated her life.

IT WAS NICE to know that after all these years of teaching that she would now have the time to spend with her children and grandchildren, to travel or just putter around the house as the whims came to her.

For these things she has earned over and over again by instructing an unknown number of children during her 37 years. I know my four can be pretty hectic at times, but compared to the number that she has shepherded through her classes without complaint, mine would probably seem like angels.

OF ALL OF the children that ever attended her classes, many were not too easy to cope with, (take me for instance, no lets not). But, Mrs. Graham had the knack to make even the worse do their best.

This brings me to the other emotion I experienced in reading of her retirement. The fact that from now on there would be many, many children who would not have the benefit of her concern and wisdom.

I REMEMBER back when I entered high school, some of the upper classmen told of Mrs. Graham being a rough teacher. But in my own experience I found that being rough meant that you did all the work yourself.

To me, Mrs. Graham was the ideal teacher. She would make you do the work, but she was always around to encourage and to help when you needed it. She had this ability to lead, not by the hand, but by a word of encouragement and a little extra help when it was needed.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Effective steps being taken against traffic crashes

Put every driver in an armored tank and some will still find ways to kill themselves and others on the road, is the contention of some who criticize the congressional discussions of auto safety.

So many factors are involved in highway safety that it is impossible to place the blame entirely on any, whether it be the roads, the cars, the weather, or the drivers themselves.

The continually rising accident rate is constantly under study in Michigan by several governmental units, among them the State Highway Department.

ONE OF THE MOST recent steps undertaken by the highway unit in a never-ending effort to reduce accidents was the installation last year of "Do Not Enter, Wrong Way" signs on freeway exit ramps.

Unbelievable as it might sound to the safely conscious driver, 26 people were killed last year in accidents involving motorists who tried to enter freeways on the one-way exit ramps and found themselves on the wrong side of the road.

In the first three months of this year there were no accidents of this type, as compared with 12 crashes resulting in six deaths in the same period of 1965. The first wrong-way freeway fatality this year occurred in April, signalling a considerable cut in this type of crash for 1966.

SEVERAL OTHER safety-gear'd projects also involve the Highway Department. These include the road design itself, lighting, edge-marking, curve reflectors, and, of course, sign posting.

In all, safety expenditures by the department last year totaled $4 million and a greater cost figure is placed on 1966 work designed to keep motoring safe in Michigan.

THE PUBLIC OFFICE bug seems to bite more persistently than the various virus strains prevalent in Michigan. Once a man gets a public position, like a legislative seat, the desire to stay there usually lasts and lasts.

This year, for example, one survey turned up only a handful who did not plan to try again for election to the legislature. These six or seven had their sights set on other offices.

Fortunately or unfortunately, depending on the point of view, the voters are not always inclined to understand this incumbency bug.

VOTERS TWO YEARS ago, for example, decided in the primary that 25 House members and nine state senators should return to private life although they still had the bug. Then in the general election many more lost their seats to challenging newcomers.

Much of the high turnover in the general election was credited to the change in legislative districting and the heavy Democratic vote in the presidential balloting.

This year a relatively high turnover could again be seen, at least in the House, since Gov. George Romney is expected to draw a high vote. Straight ticket voting could restore several House seats to the Republicans on his strength.

IN OTHER AREAS, Republicans are counting on the pendulum swinging them back in this year, assuming several Democrats who barely made it in 1964 are more vulnerable despite the incumbency designation.

Several Republicans ousted in the 1964 Democratic sweep will be trying to regain their seats. A few Democrats, beaten in the unusually heavy primary turnover, will also be trying to once again nurture the bug which has bitten them.

CRITICAL manpower shortages in the mental health field are sometimes laid to the public sensitivity to mental problems.

Many people say they could not stand to work with the mentally ill because it would be depressing. Those in the field tend to discredit this idea and frequently describe it as just the opposite. Professionals are more likely to see their work as inspiring.

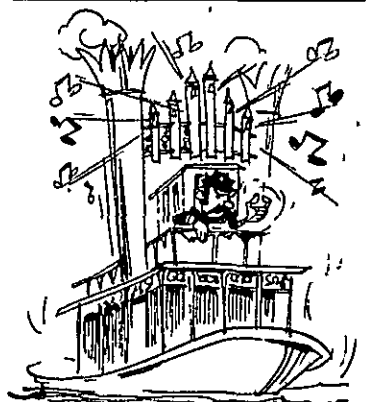

Take Mrs Doris Keller, a registered nurse who is supervisor of the Ann Arbor day care centers for severely retarded children, for example. The Ann Arbor unit recently sent its first "graduate" into the public school system.

Continued from page 14-B THIS MAY SOUND as if I think Mrs Graham is indispensable, but we all know that none of us will ever become indispensable, for no matter what we do in our lifetime, somewhere, sometime, someone, will come along to do it a little better.

Mrs Graham may not be indispensable to St. Johns or to Rodney B. Wilson, but to all of us who had the good fortune of having her as a teacher she will never be replaced in our hearts and memory.

I HOPE HER coming days of leisure are all she expects them to be and that she remembers that all of her former students will cherish her in their thoughts, at least this one will. Good luck Mrs Graham, and may God bless you for your service to St. Johns and to Rodney B. Wilson High School.

The "Low Down" From the Congressional Record

By Joe Crump

Urges recognition of Red China — soon

Sen. S.M. Young (Ohio) "...The United States needs a listening post in China, and the best manner of securing one would be for our government to offer recognition to the government of Communist China."

"I know of no other domestic or political issue since the end of World War II which has been considered so politically explosive and which has encountered such a strict taboo."

"Senators will recall that at the time of the Cuban missile crisis in 1962, when Khrushchev was forced to turn tall and withdraw his offensive missiles from Cuba, had there not been direct diplomatic communication between the United States and the Soviet Union and between the United Nations and the Soviet Union there may well have been a nuclear holocaust."

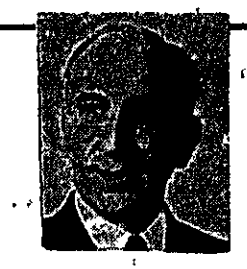

"HOW CAN WE obtain a ban on the proliferation of nuclear weapons if we exclude from such an agreement a nuclear power such as Red China, with one-fourth of the people of the entire world within that country?"

"There is probably no greater threat to world peace today than the threat posed by the arrogant, hostile Red Chinese dictators, who are violently Communist in the Stalin pattern. Time and time alone will lessen the bitterness they feel towards the nations of the Western World that oppressed China during the 18th and 19th centuries, and around the turn of the 20th century..."

"THERE IS NO assurance nor certainty that were we to offer to recognize Red China and permit a Chinese embassy, in our country representing that regime and to establish an embassy in Peking, the attitude of its leaders toward us would become any less intransigent or more cooperative than at present. However, it appears advisable that we face up to the problem of recognition if we hope to restrain the expansion of Red China without war, and if we are to have a direct assessment and judgement of Chinese interests and intentions."

COUNTRY FLAVOR

The full tide of green has swept the countryside

HAYDN PEARSON

It is high tide now. Green waves have swept over fields and meadows; they have rolled up hillsides and over the ridges. Woodland floors are deeply shaded beneath tall maples, ash, hickories and oaks, and mother partridges lead broods of beady-eyed chicks along the aisles.

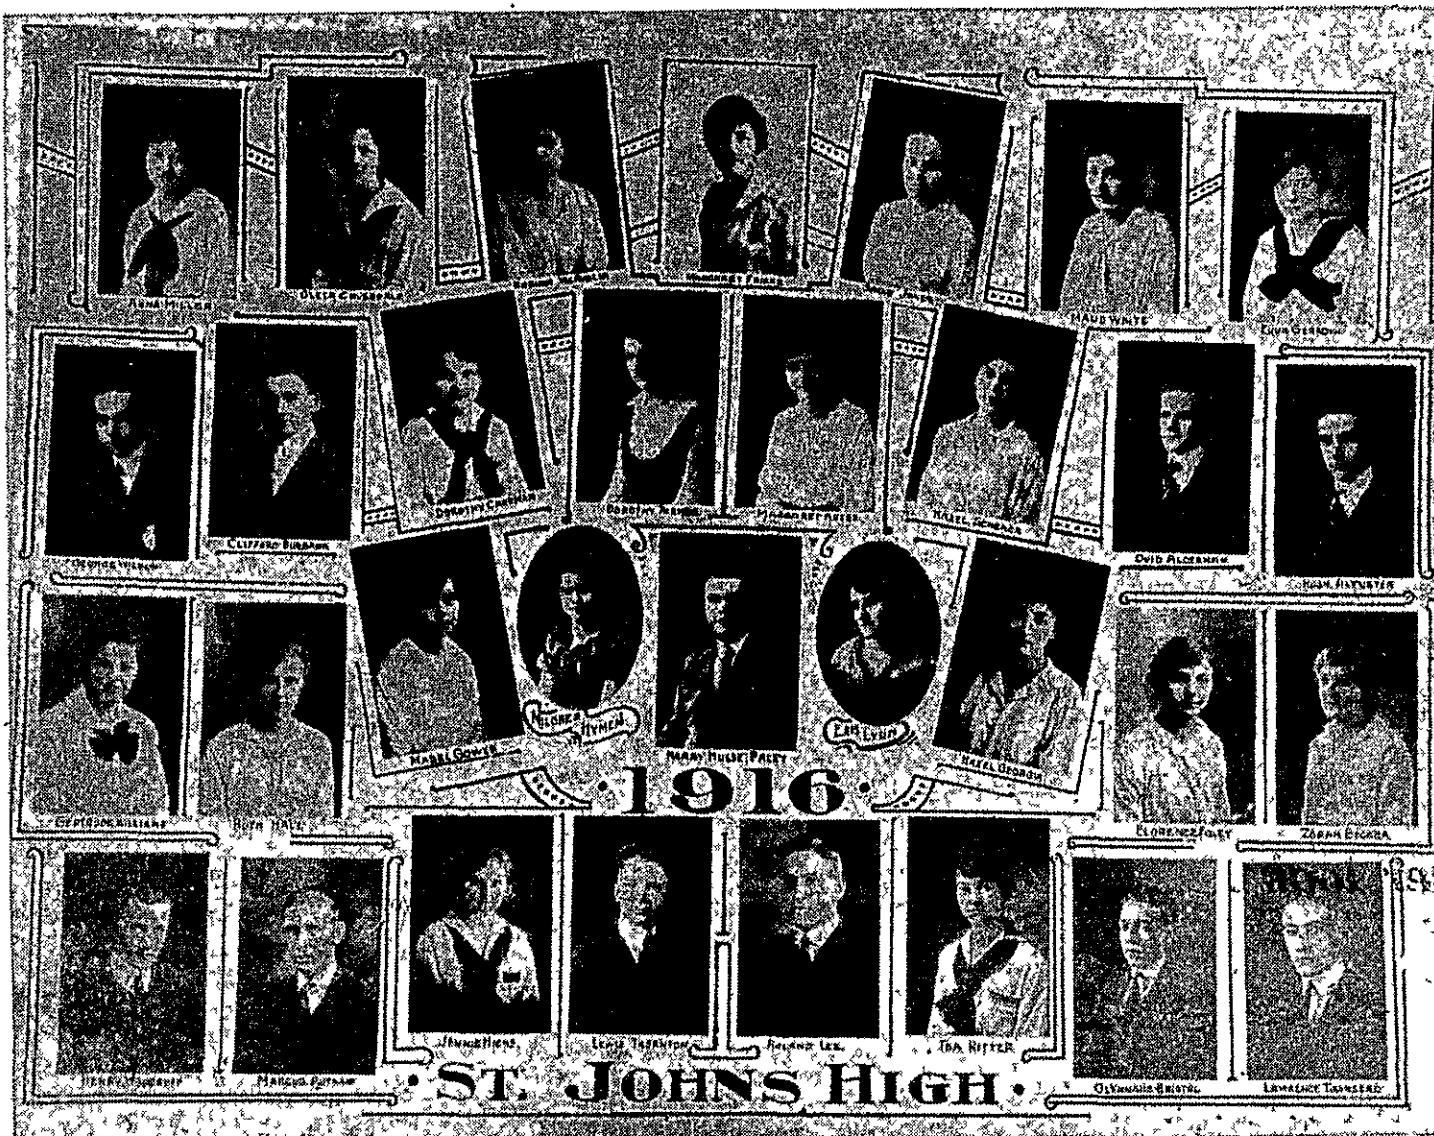

Misty dawns give way to beautiful blue-sky days as the sun climbs nearer Year's longest day when probably more flowers are open than on any other day. Daisies and buttercups paint a colorful picture in the fields; along the creeks the blue iris lifts royal pennants.

YOUNG ROBINS and their parents appear on the lawns and the fluffy youngsters tag along waiting for a worm. Shadblow berries are ripe and monarch butterflies begin to look for milkweed on which to lay their eggs. In early dusk a mother skunk may lead a single line of her young through the garden while a whippoorwill calls from the pasture lane. This is the Indians' Wave Pesin - the month of Long Day Beauty. Long lines of starting green crops make a pattern picture on brown soil while the monotone song of tractors echoes over the countryside.

IN THE OLD Farmer's Almanack of June 1849 it says, "Perhaps no month tends more to promote a cheerful temper than the present." It is indeed a month when the heart lifts to the loveliness of Nature and a man should lift his eyes to the hills and the beauty that surrounds him.

The Great Lakes as a whole form the largest body of fresh water in the world. The combined area is greater than that of the Black, the Baltic, the Red, the White or the Caspian Sea, and as great as the Adriatic and Ionian Seas combined

50th anniversary for St. Johns Class of 1916

Class members or friends knowing the whereabouts of class members are asked to contact Mrs Reynolds so a convenient time and place can be arranged for a reunion.
