Voters will decide on school issues

Selection of Board of Education members and millage renewals are questions facing voters in the six Clinton County school districts.

SEE PAGE THREE FOR STORIES ON ELECTIONS IN DEWITT AND BATH WHERE MAJOR BUILDING PROGRAMS WILL BE VOTED UPON.

At St. Johns, two incumbents and a 1972 graduate of the high school are running for two four-year terms on the board. Seeking reelection are Board President Ray Parr and secretary Fred Meyer. The third candidate, 18-year-old Martin Ernst, is exercising his right to hold public service gained under the newly adopted Michigan law.

St. Johns voters will also be asked to renew a 14.5 mill operating levy and a one mill levy for improved maintenance on school properties. The 14.5 mill levy was adopted for two years in June of 1969 and then continued for one year in August 1971.

Voters in the Ovid - Elsie area school district are also casting ballots on the renewal of 14 mills for operation plus an additional mill for construction of a bus garage at the high school.

In the race for Board of Education seats at O-E, two incumbents and a newcomer have entered the race for two four-year terms while another incumbent runs unopposed for one year remaining on an unexpired term.

Richard Depond's term expires and he seeks reelection to another four year stint against Charles Bracey and Kenneth Swanson.

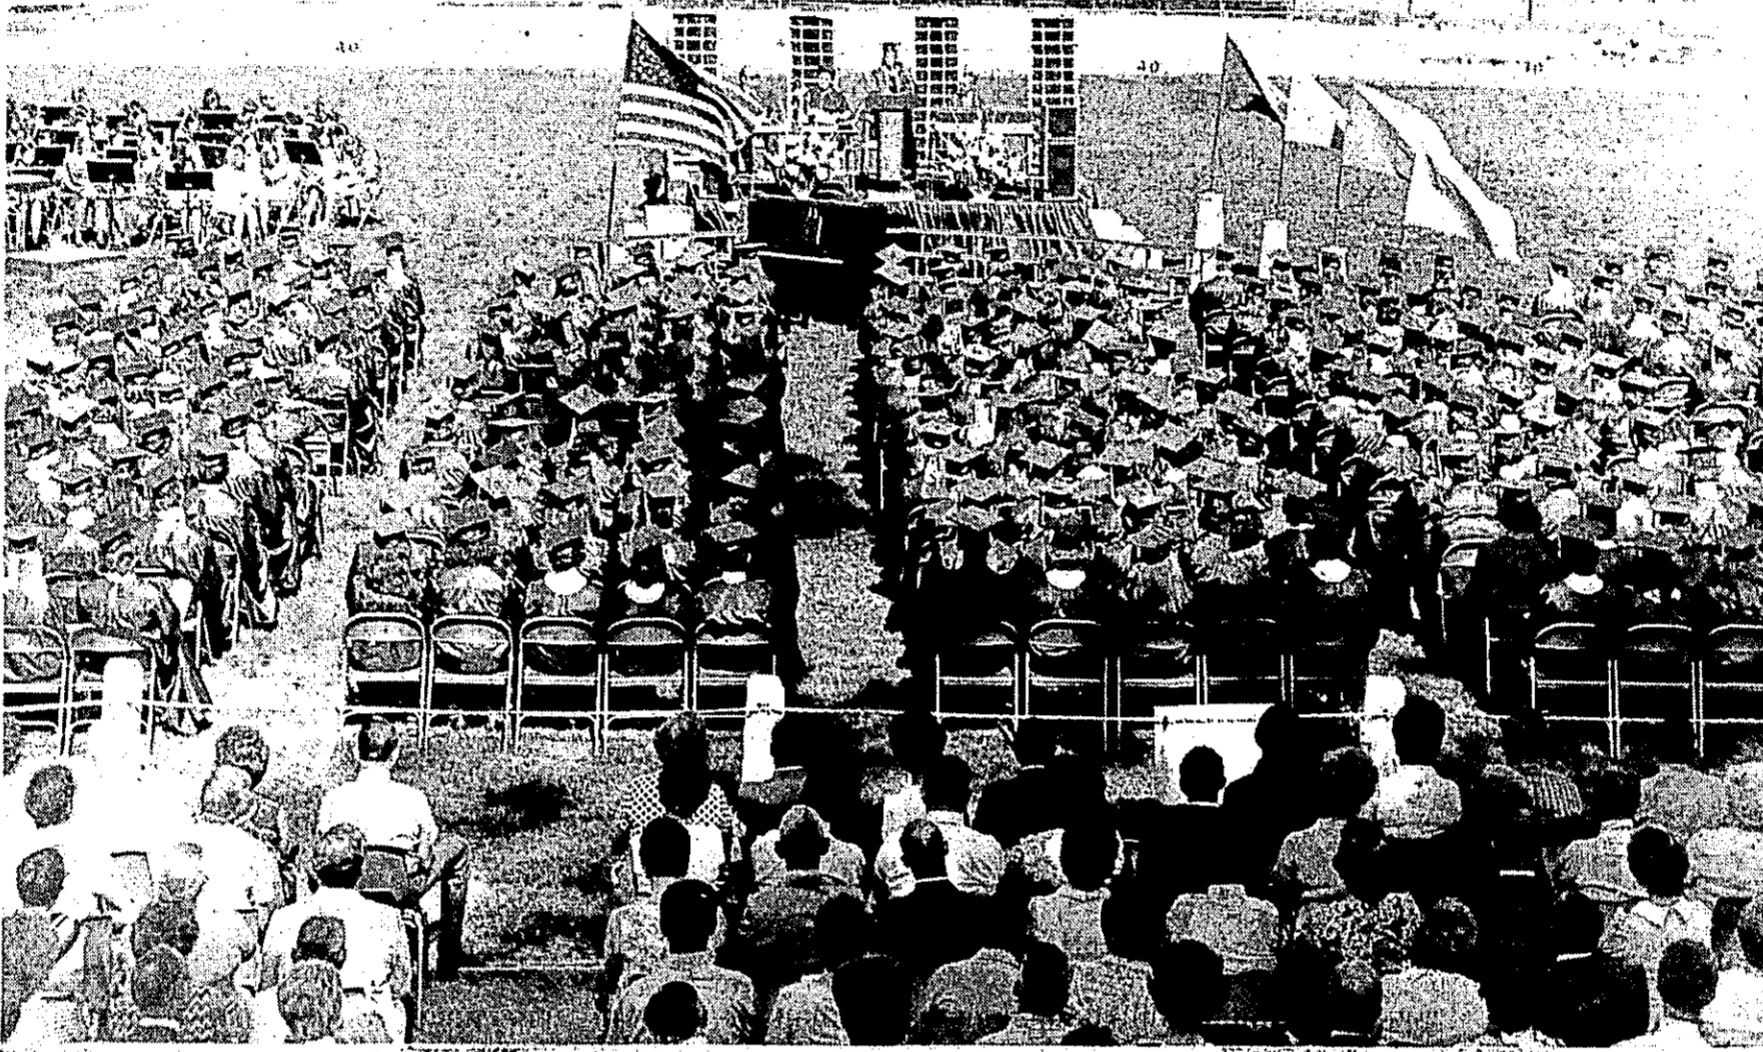

Bracey, an Ovid farmer, was appointed to the board two months ago to replace the late Joseph Michutka. Incumbent Raymond Stewart, a Banister area farmer, is running unopposed to the seat held by Michutka while Bracey seeks a full four-year term.

Depond is the owner of Ovid Roller Mills and has served on the board of education for the past several years. Swanson lives near Banister and is an engineer for Midland Ross Corporation in Owosso. School officials in Fowler are seeking a one-year renewal of 16 mills for operation and four men are running for two full terms on the board of education.

The four-year terms of Gerald Wieber and Andrew Luttig expire this year. Luttig has declined to bid for reelection while Wieber is opposed by newcomers Floyd Messer, Roger Cook and Dr. William Jordan.

In the Pewamo - Westphalia community school district, the question of a one year renewal of 14.5 mills for operating appears on the ballot. Two incumbents and Mrs. Sarah Lalner, a housewife, are vying for two four-year terms on the board of education. Francis Trierweiler and Thomas Droste are seeking reelection to another full term.

Graduates

Diplomas were presented to 288 St. Johns graduates Sunday at commencement exercises held at Frank P. Buck Athletic Field. Dr. Anne E. Hughes, supervisor of the Language Education Department, Detroit Public Schools addressed the seniors.

Exam continues on murder case

ST. JOHNS — Two suspects being held in the May 22 slaying of a Lansing store owner appeared before District Judge Roland Duguay, Friday for preliminary examination.

The two men, 39-year-old Richard David Collins of Lansing and 30-year-old William Franklin Graves of Eaton Rapids, are both being held in Clinton County Jail at St. Johns on four separate warrants stemming from the shooting death of 62-year-old Ivan Hempsted. The charges include two counts of armed robbery, first degree murder and attempted murder on each suspect.

Hempsted died in Lansing's Sparrow Hospital the afternoon of May 22 about three hours after he and his 53-year-old wife, Marjorie, were shot and robbed in their small gift shop at Round Lake. Approximately twenty dollars in small bills and Mrs. Hempsted's diamond ring were taken by the holdup men.

Mrs. Hempsted who is still recovering from a minor bullet wound in the head was in court Friday to testify. She was among six witnesses called to testify by Clinton County Prosecutor Jon Newman. She appeared weak from her injury and emotionally shaken by the tragic death of her husband. However, she was able to relate the chain of events regarding the shooting and appeared determined to present her testimony.

During opening argument at the examination, St. Johns attorney Fred Lewis who is court-appointed counsel for Richard Collins requested his client be given a separate examination. Judge Duguay granted the request and June 14 was set as the date for Collins' examination.

The preliminary examination then proceeded for Graves who is represented by attorney James Moore of St. Johns. Moore supported Lewis' contention that each suspect be given a separate examination and expressed concern that "prejudicial testimony" toward his client would enter the transcript. Prosecutor Newman opposed the necessity of calling his witnesses twice, each for separate examinations, but Judge Duguay ruled in favor of the defense.

The examination for Graves continued for several hours and witnesses were called to substantiate the prosecutor's indictments. More testimony was expected today as other witnesses were called in a session that began at 9:30 a.m. this morning.

Dream becomes reality

OID-ELSIE — A dream which began about six years ago at Ovid-Elsie High School is finally being realized this summer with construction of an observatory to house the science department's 10 inch reflector telescope.

Dr. Virginia Chamberlain, high school science teacher, says "the idea began several years ago by members of the Astronomy Club." She added that in the past "we had lofty dreams and wanted something as elegant as our school."

However, funds were not available for the observatory and the telescope was only used occasionally from the rear of a pickup truck. Dr. Chamberlain says "this was difficult and hard on the telescope."

Plans for construction of the observatory on a site north of the high school have gained board of education approval. The design was formulated by Astronomy Club members and students will perform the building task along with donated help from local adults. The project's estimated cost of $1,200 covers all necessary materials.

Astronomy Club President Tom Rivest and vice-president Grant Palen are the observatory's major architects. Their design includes a sliding roof for night viewing of the moon, stars and planets. Other club members include: Randy Pollard, Rex Ballantine, Dean Wilson, Kevin Torrey and Teresa Brichan.

Groundbreaking ceremonies were held at the observatory site last week and the group hopes to have the facility ready for use this summer.

ST. JOHNS — With the upcoming election near at hand a list of informative questions and answers have been prepared dealing with the St. Johns millage request at the June 12 election.

The questions and answers appear on page B-1 and are accompanied by photographs defining a few of the needed repair areas.

Police still investigate fire death

ST. JOHNS — Police are still investigating circumstances surrounding the death of a 33-year-old Carson City man whose charred body was found near his burned out car Thursday evening in a wooded area about nine miles northwest of Fowler.

The man was identified Friday following an autopsy as Harold Glenn Adams who became the object of a statewide police alert Wednesday morning for allegedly beating his wife and two daughters with a baseball bat. The wife, 31-year-old Joann, remains in critical condition at Butterworth Hospital in Grand Rapids. The daughters, 12-year-old Wendy and 11-year-old Cindy, are reported in fair condition at the same hospital.

The body of Adams was found lying near his 1972 bright red Ford Torino along a narrow trail at the end of Hinman Rd. by Richard George who was motorcycling in the area. A gasoline can at the scene indicated Adams had doused himself and his car before setting both on fire.

George called Clinton County Sheriff's Department about 7:15 p.m. Thursday and Deputy Dennis Warren rushed to the scene. Clinton County Undersheriff Tony Hufnagel and Detective Sgt. Dick May were then called in to assist in the investigation.

License plates and the car's description matched information contained in an attempted murder warrant against Adams and other law enforcement personnel from Montcalm County and the Michigan State Police crime lab at East Lansing were notified. Montcalm County Sheriff's Detective Larry Bogart, Carson City Police Chief Robert Clute and Michigan State Police Investigators, Fire Marshall Detective Sgt. Walter Wedbrauck, Detective Sgt. Wayne Clinton and Lt. Donald Bennett all joined the investigation. Also at the scene was Clinton County Coroner Van Hoag of St. Johns.

Material was gathered by the state police investigators and taken to their lab in East Lansing for further examination.

During the autopsy, Lansing pathologist Dr. Charles Black ruled Adams died from carbon monoxide poisoning, fifth degree burns and shock. Identification was obtained through a combination of fingerprints, x-rays and dental records of Adams.

The fire was cold when police arrived at the scene Thursday evening and the victim's watch had stopped at 5:20. The concern among investigators is in reaching a final determination as to whether the incident was accidental or a suicide.

Both May and Bogart state the possibility of foul play has not been ruled out. The two investigators are asking any persons who know anything concerning the whereabouts of Adams or his car on Wednesday or Thursday to call them. They said all information will be held in the strictest confidence. Also anyone observing smoke in the area on these days is asked to call police in an effort to pinpoint the time of death.

William Cox will hold an auction sale Saturday, June 17 located 12 mi. north of St. Johns then 2 mi. east to Crapo and 2 1/4 mi. north. The sale starts at 12:30 p.m. and includes such items as furniture and antique furniture and Al Galloway will be the auctioneer. See list next week.

Building project gains approval

ST. JOHNS — The Clinton County Intermediate School District has gained approval to issue general obligation bonds for construction of a new office building with a bid letting set for June 26.

The new single story facility will be constructed on a site on M 27 about three miles south of St. Johns. Presently the Intermediate School District offices are in a county building at 108 Maple St. in St. Johns.

Approval for the issuance of bonds with an aggregate principal of $126,000 was received by Supt. B. Stanley Pocus last week from Michigan Attorney General Frank J. Kelley, chairman of the Municipal Finance Commission. "The unlimited tax bonds will run until 1977 and the school district is authorized to levy whatever taxes are necessary to pay principal and interest," said Kelley.

Other members of the Municipal Finance Commission are Allison Green, State Treasurer; and John W. Porter, Superintendent of Public Instruction.

"We're real eager to get in the new building," said Pocus. "Our staff has expanded as a result of new millage passed last spring for special education and we need the room desperately."

Pocus estimated the new facility should be ready by early 1973.

Warren Holmes and Company of Lansing are architects of the 5,000 square foot building.

Sealed Power acquires Johnson Products, Inc.

MUSKEGON - Highlights during the annual meeting of Sealed Power Corporation stockholders were approved to acquire Johnson Products, Inc. and doubling of the firm's common stock shares.

The Johnson Products acquisition became effective May 31 and involved the issuance by Sealed Power of 239,520 shares of its common stock in exchange for all outstanding shares of Johnson.

Johnson Products, incorporated in Michigan during 1937, manufactures valve tappets for piston engines at a plant located in Muskegon. The firm is privately owned and employs about 300 people. In 1971, Johnson had sales of 9.1 million while Sealed Power had sales of 74 million and a net income of 4.3 million.

Gordon E. Reynolds, chairman and president of Sealed Power, said that Johnson Products will be operated as a wholly owned subsidiary of Sealed Power and that present management will be retained.

The stockholders also approved an amendment to Sealed Power's Certificate of Incorporation providing for an increase of the authorized common stock to six million from three million shares.

The purpose of this amendment is to make available sufficient shares of common stock to permit Sealed Power to effect a three for two split of the common stock approved by the board of directors on March 22. The additional shares resulting from the stock split will be distributed on June 30 to stockholders of record on June 9 at the rate of one additional share for each two shares then held. The present quarterly cash dividend rate of 25 cents per share would be equivalent to 16 2/3 cents per share on the shares outstanding following the effective date of the stock split. The stockholders also re-elected the entire seven member board of directors of Sealed Power.

Young braves go fly kites

ST. JOHNS - Saturday's warm, balmy weather prompted many area residents to head for the lake or go on a picnic but several St. Johns youngsters spent the afternoon flying kites.

It was the first annual "Go Fly A Kite" contest held by the St. Johns Indian Guides. Attending were young braves from the Sloux, Chippewa, Apache and Huron tribes. The event was staged in the St. Johns High School parking lot and all the kites were constructed by the youngsters.

Mike Homant took first place in the highest flying category as his kit went up about 650 feet. Ed Hallenbeck finished second and Matt Niemi's kite placed third. The smallest kit was constructed by Mike Homant and Justin Escher placed second. A paper kite built by Darin Rogers was declared the least Indian like while Ned Niemi earned the most Indian like award. Ed Hallenbeck and Kevin O'Connor finished second and third respectively in the most Indian like category. The best Tribal showing based on costume and kite was awarded to Ned and Matt Niemi.

I've heard that some women are compulsive cleaners. I know that whenever we lose a kid or dog Alice cleans the house. (And they usually turn up.)

But, Barb Minarik of Economy Shoes wins the prize. You know the alley behind Economy Shoes? That starts at State and goes to Walker? She cleaned it.

It was looking messy and so she swept it. The whole thing. With a push broom, by herself.

I hope two things. I know it's just an alley but maybe now . . . other store owners or even the city will help. And I hope Barb never goes to a beach.

DeWitt votes on expansion

DEWITT - Voters in the DeWitt Public School District cast ballots Monday on a new building package which requires a $2,605,000 bond issue and the levy of one additional mill for debt retirement.

James Ritchie, Supt. of Schools, says "this is an outstanding opportunity for people to get this program at an average property tax increase of about one dollar a mill monthly per taxpayer." He explains DeWitt's ability to obtain low interest state loans is much better than most school districts in Michigan.

What will the $2,605,000 or one additional mill buy for the school district?

Basically, the high school's square footage will be doubled and a new athletic field will be constructed on the present site. Ritchie reports the high school is expected to exceed capacity this fall and "our community is growing at a rapid pace."

Other ingredients of a comprehensive remodeling and expansion of the present high school call for a swimming pool, intramural gym, 750 seats added to present gym, a new library which will accommodate 1,000 students and a resource center for handicapped youngsters.

The new addition will also include five English rooms, four social science rooms, an art room, new 770-seat auditorium, wrestling room and double the Industrial Education workshop/classroom area. Plans further include expansion of the parking lot and more locker space in the athletics areas.

Remodeling of existing rooms will create two more science rooms, another math room, another foreign language room, a business education room, a store for the sale of student supplies, a counseling/guidance area, an instrumental band room and double the home economics area.

A study by faculty members, administrators and a citizens group began over one year ago. Following research into projected student enrollments in the future and growth potential of the community, Ritchie said "we could see something coming in the near future." He feels this fall is the "near future" as enrollment figures at the high school surpass the capacity mark.

In going over a list of new facilities being considered in the overall plan, the DeWitt School Supt. says "we look at the one wing as a community center that will be used in the evening and year around." He notes the potential is limitless for community use of such areas as the auditorium, library, swimming pool and intramural gym.

Over the past few years DeWitt's debt retirement levy has seesawed with changes in the building program and expansion of the local tax base. In 1967 and 1968, the debt retirement levy was 11 mills and in 1969 it was 10.6 mills. During 1970 and 1971, the levy was seven mills. The new proposal increases this last figure to eight mills, still much lower than the prior years.

Ritchie expresses real excitement over the prospects of fulfilling a critical need in the DeWitt school system, especially when the burden on taxpayers remains at a low level compared to what will be gained.

Monday voters make the final decision.

Bond issue tops ballot at Bath

BATH - A $2,500,000 bond issue for construction of a new high school tops the list of three proposals on Monday's ballot in the Bath Community School District.

The building proposal calls for remodeling the present high school for use as a middle school and constructing a new facility on a 40 acre site east of the nature trails.

Another proposal calls for a $335,000 swimming pool but appears on the ballot as a separate item. The third question is a request by school officials to gain voter approval for the renewal of 18 mills for operation.

According to Supt. Roger Carlson passage of both the new building and swimming pool proposals would require a 1.5 mill increase in the school district's debt retirement levy.

The present high school dates back to the late 1800s, although major portions were rebuilt in 1928 when an explosion rocked the building and killed about forty students.

In pointing out the critical need for new facilities, Carlson said "we're loaded right to the brim now and we need it badly." He added that a building program "will never be any cheaper than right now because bonds are selling well and bids in other districts have been low."

Two incumbents and four newcomers have entered the race for two seats on the board of education. Board President Richard Ross seeks reelection to his third four-year term and treasurer Robert Zeeb is vying for another full term. Ross works for the Michigan Civil Service Department in Lansing and Zeeb is a dairy farmer.

The four newcomers include Jay Kennedy, a Michigan State Police trooper; Gerald Feguer, an employee of the Michigan State Treasury Department; L.D. Pettit, who works at Dall Steel Products in Lansing; and Jack Thomas, an engineer for Michigan Millers Insurance Company.

Four candidates seek full terms at DeWitt

DEWITT - A $2,650,000 bond issue for construction of additions on the high school has overshadowed Monday's election in DeWitt where four candidates seek two four-year seats on the board of education.

Incumbents Dale Farhat and Mrs. Merry X. Sellhorn are running for reelection to another four-year term, while Kenneth J. Stevens and Wilder Weston make their first bid for public office. Farhat, part owner of Leon's Catering and Food Service in Lansing resides in the city of DeWitt and is completing a four year term on the board. Mrs. Sellhorn, a DeWitt Township housewife, has served on the board six years. Her husband, Carlton, operates a mobile home sales on US 27 north of DeWitt.

Stevens is a state government accountant and lives with his family in Watertown Township. Weston is a mechanic for the Michigan State Police at East Lansing and resides in DeWitt Township.

Another name on the ballot is Rev. Muri J. Eastman who is running unopposed for one year remaining on the term of Harry Wick who resigned from the board in December. Eastman lives in the city of DeWitt and is pastor of DeWitt Community Church. He was appointed to fill the vacancy created by Wick's resignation last December.

Teachers earn honor

DEWITT - Two DeWitt High School teachers have been selected as Leaders of American Secondary Education for 1972.

Earning the national recognition are Thomas Boutwell and Olivera Bukovinsky. Boutwell, a retired military career man, is a commercial education teacher and heads the school's cooperative work program. Mrs. Bukovinsky teaches foreign language at the high school. Both instructors have been in DeWitt three years.

Nominated earlier this year by the school's administrators, these educators were selected for this national honor on the basis of their professional and civic achievements.

P-W graduates wed last Saturday

WESTPHALIA—St. Mary's Catholic Church was the setting for the June 3 double ring ceremony which united in marriage Darlene M. Smith and Robert H. Harr. Rev. James Schmitt officiated at the 1:30 p.m. service before an altar decorated with white gladiolus and pink mums.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Smith of Tallman Rd., Portland and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Harr of Westphalia.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and chose a floor-length gown of rose point lace combined with white organza featuring a high ruffled neckline outlined with patterned lace. Small pleats of organza formed a V yoke on the all lace covered bodice and the long slim sleeves ended in a ruffle cuff. A deep border of lace trimmed the hemline of the A-line skirt and was repeated on the chapel-length train. Her illusion veil was attached to a faceframe of organza petals, trimmed with small pearls and she carried a colonial-style arrangement of pink and white roses and baby's breath.

Mary Ann Droste of Lansing was maid of honor and assisting as bridesmaids were Mrs. James Fedewa, Portland, Mary Lee Smith and Melanie Smith, both of Westphalia.

The attendants wore matching pink floor-length Victorian gowns of flopped organza accented with a darker pink and white floral design. Long modified Bishop sleeves, a sheer yoke and a ruffled hemline completed the Victorian fashion. They wore white picture hats and carried colonial bouquets of white carnations and baby's breath.

Volunteer program hopeful of expansion

ST. JOHNS—Through the efforts of four volunteer aids, 16 to 20 children in the St. Johns School District have received special attention in various learning areas.

Since last February the four volunteers, Mrs. Dorothy Souseley, Mrs. Dorothy Rood, Mrs. Jeanette Huard and Mrs. Pat Barbeau have been working a total of 18 hours a week with children in the four city elementary schools.

The idea was conceived when school counselor, Ralph Conline became aware that there were people in the community who were interested in involving themselves in volunteer work in the school system and especially desired working with children.

The volunteers, whose hours vary, have spent the last several months helping children who have a low academic achievement level, need special help in the areas of reading and math or those who have a perceptual problem and need special help acquiring skills to meet with success.

Under this volunteer program others who have an opposite problem and are superior achievers have received special help by being directed into additional projects of their choice. These children have been kept busy and interested when perhaps because of their talented abilities they may have become bored waiting for the rest of the class to move ahead.

"Having these children in smaller groups or on a one-to-one basis we have seen progress that perhaps we wouldn't have seen without this additional help and guidance," said Conline.

Conline said he is interested in expanding the volunteer program for next year and is hopeful that anyone interested in becoming involved in working as a volunteer will contact him or Mrs. Dorothy Souseley who has offered to head up the volunteer program.

from VAN W. HOAG

Dear friends,

It deserves emphasis that the time, the place, the character of the funeral service, the merchandise used, the cemetery selected — these are decisions of the family of the deceased. The funeral director acts only as a representative of the family.

The clergyman should be consulted in matters that concern him before any decisions are made.

Respectfully,

Van W. Hoag

RBW names fitness winners

ST. JOHNS — Thirty-six eighth grade students at Rodney B. Wilson Junior High School received the Presidential Physical Fitness award last week.

To qualify for the award students must score in the 85 percentile or above on every item on the test. The program is widely used in schools and assesses physical strength, stamina, speed, agility and coordination.

First champ set for Akron

DETROIT — First of the lineup of 259 local Soap Box Derby champions set to go in Chevrolet's 35th anniversary All-Americans coasting car race at Akron, Ohio, August 26 is 13-year-old Terry Pfaff of Westphalia.

Terry won the first local race to be held this year when he outran a field of 90 other contestants in his star-spangled racer at St. Johns. It was 11th consecutive Soap Box race for St. Johns and the most successful ever in the number of contestants registered, officials said.

The crowd that attended the May 21 race was estimated at 7,000 which is ample evidence of the Derby fever prevailing this year, according to Bernard Feldpausch, St. Johns Chevrolet dealer and Soap Box Derby sponsor.

Mason Bell, Chevrolet's Soap Box Derby general manager, who attended the initial race of the season, pointed out that the St. Johns race was an outstanding example of how goals set for the 35th anniversary Soap Box Derby program are being accomplished.

"The goal was to have a greater than ever registration of contestants at the local level," Bell said. "At St. Johns there were 115 registrations for the most ever in that community and the majority of the contestants stuck with it to finish cars and race on Derby Day."

Five girls who built cars and competed in the race also won free trips to Akron to view the All-American in August.

The St. Johns champ will join more than 250 others from all over the United States, Canada and overseas to compete for world acclaim and a share of $30,000 in college scholarships to be awarded the top nine finishers at Akron.

O-E second in league

OVID-ELSIE—Ovid-Elsie High School fell ten points short of retaining the Mid-Michigan "B" Conference All-Sports Trophy as final results show the Marauders with 46 points and St. Louis with 56.

Ovid-Elsie placed first in last year's tally.

Other results find Chesaning 44, Bullock Creek 43, Corunna 35 and Ithaca 28.

Two O-E boys earn honors

OVID-ELSIE — Senior second baseman Pete Garcia is a member of the all-league selections named by the Mid-Michigan "B" Conference while Marauder's hurler Gary Groom earned honorable mention.

Other all-league selections include: Pitchers—Bruce Lerner, a Chesaning junior and Brad Shaull, an Ithaca senior; first baseman Rob Ballard, a Chesaning junior; catcher Tom Brown, a St. Louis senior; third baseman Dave McClintic, a St. Louis senior; short-

The Sharks earned top spot with conference crowns in golf, basketball, cross country and baseball plus a second in track, a fourth in football and fifth place in wrestling.

The Marauders won the football and wrestling championships while finishing third in track, fourth in baseball and basketball and sixth in golf and cross country.

stop Kevin Smith, an Ithaca junior and outfielders Len Strait, Chesaning; Randy Murgittroyd, Ithaca; Greg Moon, St. Louis, all seniors.

Selected for honorable mention were: Pitchers—Gary Groom (Ovid-Elsie) and Dennis Coleman (St. Louis); Catcher—Rick Murgittroyd, Ithaca; Infielders—Gary Aker, St. Louis; Jim Past, St. Louis; Fred Valesak, Corunna; Brian Marquardt, Bullock Creek; Chuck McDonald, Bullock Creek; Outfielders—Ray Mowinski, Corunna.

O-E downs Alma, loses to Ithaca

OVID-ELSIE — The Marauders baseball season ended on an exciting note as Coach Jack Nutter's squad edged Alma 6-5 in ten innings and then were knocked from tournament play with a 2-1 loss to Ithaca after eight innings.

The entire 20-man squad saw action against Alma as O-E finished its regular season with a 9-5-1 record.

Marauder Norm Smith broke a 5-5 deadlock in O-E's half of the tenth on a sharp, two-out single to left. Teammate Ron Mead scored the winning run after reaching base on a walk and stealing second.

O-E scored one run each in the first, second and fifth innings while coming up with two in the third frame. Alma scored twice in the fourth and three times in the sixth inning to account for its five runs. The Marauders had 12 hits and two errors while Alma collected ten hits and committed five miscues.

Smith paced the victor's hitting attack with a two for four performance including his key tenth inning single. Alma's Don Castanada was the game's top performer at the plate with a single, double and triple while collecting five runs batted in.

Robin Leslie (2-1) was credited with the win after coming on in relief during the seventh and hurling four innings of shutout ball. Gary Groom started for O-E, Rod Love came on in the third and Pat Terrill was called in during the fifth. Alma's Jeff Wilk suffered the loss.

O-E scored first against Ithaca in the second as Dan Egbert reached first base on an error and was later tripled home by Norm Smith. Ithaca deadlocked the game with an unearned run in the fourth frame.

The winning run in the eighth inning was also unearned as sophomore Rod Love, who came in to relieve starter Gary Groom, threw a wild pitch and Ithaca's Kevin Smith scored from third.

Robin Leslie paced O-E's hitting with two singles while teammates Pete Garcia and Norm Smith collected a double and triple respectively.

Randy Murgittroyd went all the way to earn the win while O-E's Groom suffered the loss.

Coach Nutter notes he loses only five players through graduation from his 20-man squad and hopes to have an improved season next year.

Notice

NOTICE: Many farmers in Michigan use the IM-PRUV-ALL to aid nature in silage fermentation during 1971. To their surprise it really did work. The complete IM-PRUV-ALL program will work and make you money. Progressive farmers in 1972 will prove it. 5-4-nc

MR. LIVESTOCK FARMER—Silage Research has revealed that they type of fermentation produced and the quality of silage produced can be modified by using IM-PRUV-ALL when making silage. This will prevent the undesirable fermentation and an offensive smelling silage. Direct cut your Alfalfa and use 202 legume and store in Pile or Bunker. Or wilt and use H44 Haylage and store in an upright silo. Inexpensive—“Try it, you'll like it!” Contact a local supplier or Lynn Houlden, Ithaca, Michigan 48847. 6-1

In Memoriam

In memory of Jeanne Edwards who passed away June 2, 1971. These are the things I prize, And hold of deepest worth, Light of the sapphire skies, Peace of the silent hills, Shelter of forest, comfort of the grass, Shadow of clouds that swiftly pass, And after showers, The smell of flowers, And of the good brown earth, And best of all, along the way, Friendship and Mirth. Class of '22 has reunion

By NEVA KEYS

The St. Johns High School Class of 1922 celebrated its 50th anniversary Saturday, June 3. Sixteen members of the class were able to be present along with husbands and wives totaling 25 guests.

A reception was held in the Community Room of Central National Bank in St. Johns, Saturday afternoon from four until six o'clock where guests were registered by Mrs. Lester Lake.

Pictures, souvenir programs and mementos of high school days were displayed which brought back many memories.

There were several copies of "Le Cid", the first annual publication of the SJHS class to enjoy. There were pictures of all graduates, the faculty, group pictures of other classes and school organizations, in addition to the class history, prophecy and will.

It was also noted that Frank P. Buck was superintendent with Hugh Francis as principal. The first issue of "Le Cid" was dedicated by the senior class to their parents "for their efforts, sacrifices and solicitude."

On display was a copy of "After-Glow", an autobiography of Elta Jay Martin, who was science instructor in the St. Johns High School from 1971 to 1932. Before his death in 1933, "Daddy" Martin, as he was frequently called, presented copies of "After-Glow" to many of his science students in appreciation of pleasant memory of pupil and teacher. A copy is in the local library.

Punch and crackers were served from an attractive refreshment table with Mrs. John Martin in charge, after which many pictures were taken.

Following the reception, a dinner was served at "Daley's Fine Foods". Invocation was given by Maxwell Smith of Crystal. When the dinner was over a lively sing-a-long of such old favorites as "Smiles" and "Jada" was led by Mr. Smith accompanied at the piano by his wife, the former Opal Creaser. For her classmates, a special request "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" was sung by Julia Louise Ross of Flint.

John Martin emceed the after dinner program by inviting each member to give a thumbnail sketch of the 50 years since graduation. Interspersed in these sketches were letters received from several who were unable to attend. These were read by Mr. Martin. Among them were letters from Leroy and Alice (Hathaway) Stinebower of Greenwich, Conn.; Stuart H. Ward DDS of Sarasota, Fla.; Mrs. Arlene Daggett Slonaker of Lakeland, Fla.; Russell D. Frank of Logan, Utah; George Woodbury of Moscow, Idaho; Lawrence Hostetter of Santa Monica, Calif.; Percy Fitzpatrick of Montague, Mich.; Mrs. Hugh (Alice Parr) Robinson of Eagle Harbor, Mich. There were also several pictures enclosed with the letters.

Those members who related their experiences in person were: Leonard Blakeslee of East Lansing; Maxwell and Opal (Creaser) Smith of Crystal; Herman Ellis and Julia Louise Ross of Flint; Orval Price of Portland; Mrs. Ray (Doris Rice) Nicoson of St. Petersburg, Fla.; Mrs. Marion (Lucille Valentine) Jones of Grand Ledge; Mrs. Arnold (Minnie Shonk) Martin of Ovid; Walter Gohn of Lake City; Mrs. Sidney (Neva Bryant) Keys of Elsie; and Irving Eaton, Hazel Halsey, Lester Lake, John Martin, Mrs. Paul (Cressie Matthews) Wakefield, and Evelyn Putnam, all of St. Johns.

There was a note of sadness in learning that Louise Miller had passed away in May while plans were being made for the reunion. Others from the class taken by death were: George Atkinson, Mrs. George (Ruby Ellis) Humphrey, John Halstead, Kenneth Jackson, Mrs. Harry (Isabel Kathe) Hulse, Merle Walker, Raymond Workman and John Zabelka.

Helen Johnson and Walter Moore were the only members of the class whose addresses could not be established. The committee would appreciate some leads to their whereabouts.

Mr. Martin repeated the class prophecy of 1922 and several others added special incidents and experiences to the enjoyment of the evening.

He also expressed appreciation to the members of the committee responsible for the pleasant occasion. Assisting him in the reunion arrangements were Maxwell P. Smith, Evelyn Putnam, Opal Creaser Smith and Cressie Matthews Wakefield.

Everyone agreed that the class should meet again in five years. The evening closed with the group singing of "Goodnight Classmates" and the benediction by Maxwell Smith.

Green Meadow Farm Milking Parlor

Home Of The Largest Herd Of Registered Holstein Cattle In The World

According to Merle Green things started happening in 1960. That was the year Green Meadow Farm's milk parlor was built and 500 Holsteins were the beginning of the world's largest registered Holstein herd. Today Green Meadow is milking 1,400 cows a day . . . milking 18 hours a day . . . and producing 45,000 pounds of milk a day.

Director Paul Nobis and bank president Harold Wellman admire a few of the many trophies won by Merle Green and Green Meadow Farms.

Judd Summers, who has been hauling milk over 35 years now makes two trips a day.

The milk is sold to the Michigan Milk Producers Association who then markets it.

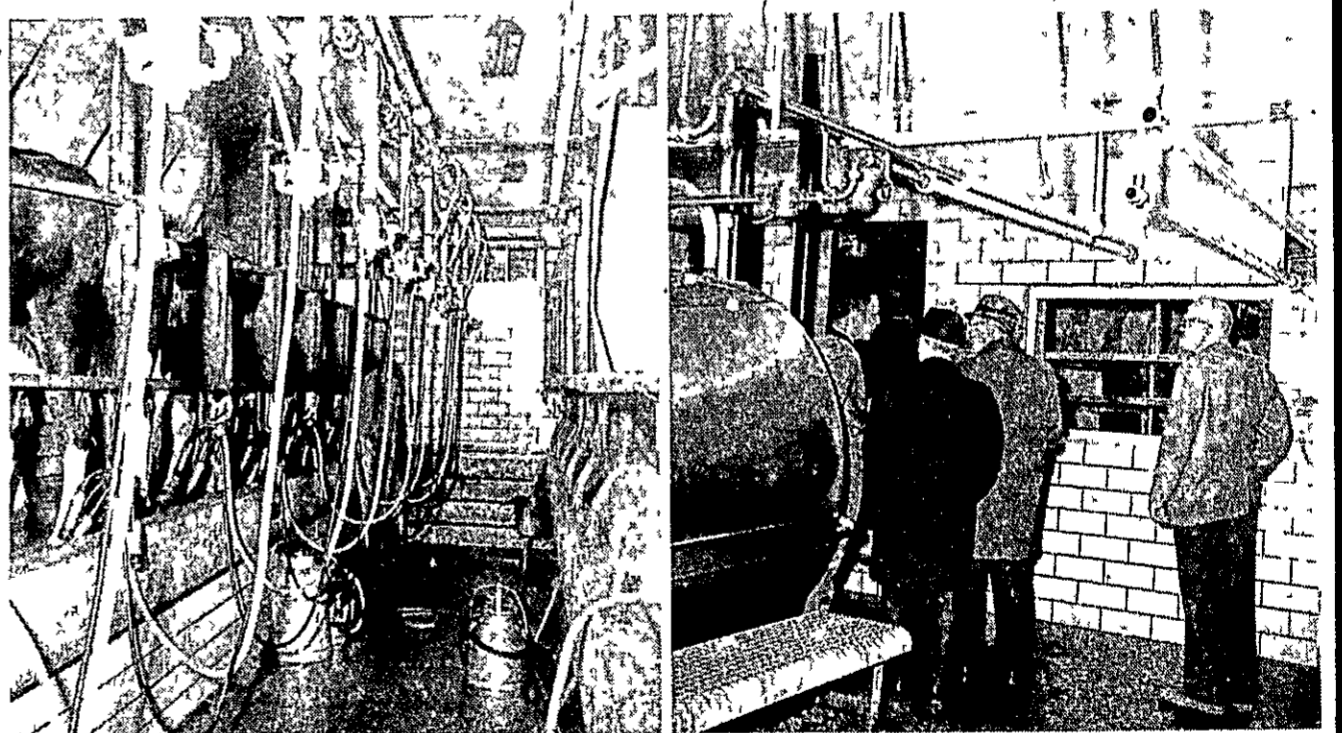

Breeding and cattle sales plays an equally important part in the success of Green Meadow Farms. The Greens have marketed cattle in over 23 states and many foreign countries.

Today the farm covers 3,200 acres and most of the corn silage is raised on the farm. Fifty thousand gallons of water are purchased daily from the City of Elsie and grain is purchased from many local elevators.

Working closely with the Michigan State Water Resource Commission the Greens completed a large pollution control project in 1972.

Velman Green, Harold Wellman, President of Central National Bank, Merle Green, Duane Green, Mike Mulder, manager of Central National's Ovid branch, and bank directors Harold Beardslee and Paul Nobis are shown on the "home farm" of Green Meadow Farm. Harold Beardslee was the president of Ovid State Savings Bank (which was acquired by Central National) when Merle Green purchased the home farm in July, 1922.

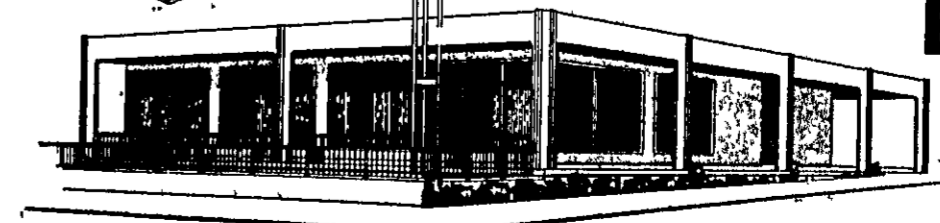

Milking 1,400 cows a day means an 18-hour day. Here Green Meadow Farm produces about 45,000 pounds of milk a day.

Verlan Green, Harold Beardslee, Harold Wellman and Paul Nobis watch the milking operation while the milk flows overhead into an 11,000 pound holding tank.

If St. Johns voters approve a 1 mill request for building maintenance needed repairs will be made in the various buildings. These pictures show a sampling of what is scheduled for correction. At Central School, brickwork is cracked, weatherchecked and missing caused from front leaking gutters.

At Rodney B. Wilson Junior High this classroom ceiling is damaged caused from roof leaks.

An interior view of a door at Rodney B. Wilson Junior High shows the need for repairs.

This wall at Central School requiring refinishing and broken window replaced.

Questions and answers on St. Johns millage

1. How does the request of 14.5 mills for school operation for 1972-73 compare with the millage in effect the past three years?

The 14.5 mills being requested is a continuation of the voted millage which has been in existence since 1969, a period of three years.

2. Does not the one-mill proposition for improved maintenance which will appear on a separate ballot represent an increase in school taxes?

No—because of increased valuations within the school district, the Board has been able to reduce the debt levy from 7 to 6 mills. Therefore, if the one-mill proposition is approved, the total millage will be the same as has been in effect for three years.

3. What will the one-mill levy for building maintenance accomplish if approved on June 12?

The Board of Education has been carrying a deficit for three years. Because of this, only emergency maintenance has been done. The buildings have deteriorated in many ways. If allowed to continue, repairs finally will be very expensive. Some of the items which will be done if the one-mill levy is approved are:

Central Elementary School - Replace badly rotted window frames and sills, face up loose exterior brick, renovate the boiler and heating system, replace badly worn floors and many smaller items.

Roney B. Wilson Junior High School - Replace rotted window frames and sills, replace original lights on second floor, replace ceiling tile, paint, and other items.

East Ward Elementary School - Paint exterior of building.

All Elementary Schools - Blacktop parking lots and playground areas for smaller children.

4. Can the one-mill for maintenance be used for salaries, textbooks or supplies?

No—the monies realized will be placed on the budget as a line-item account and used only for building and site maintenance.

5. Will the renewal of the 14.5 mills be adequate to continue the existing program?

Yes, if the State Aid Act enacted by the Legislature contains the normal increase of past years, the present program can be maintained with a balanced budget.

6. Will the renewal of the 14.5 mills allow the reinstatement of programs cut last year?

This depends on the amount of increase in State Aid for next year. If the normal increase in State Aid is forthcoming, the Building Trades Class (building of a house) will be reinstated and a High School Librarian hired. If additional State Aid is forthcoming, other cuts may be restored.

7. Why did the Board of Education decide on a two-year levy?

Primarily, so that planning for the 1973-74 year can be done earlier and more realistically.

8. What happens to the 14.5 mill levy if tax reform comes and the state is financing education by the 1973-74 year?

Only that millage which is necessary to operate the program will be levied.

9. How do the school tax rates for comparable school district compare with St. Johns?

The State average for operation is 26 mills as compared with the St. Johns rate of 22.5 mills. Of the six districts in Clinton County, only one (Ovid-Elste) had lower operating levies than St. Johns, and that by 1/2 mill.

10. How does the educational program in the St. Johns Public Schools compare with other districts?

The secondary schools offer a varied and comprehensive curriculum. The Vocational offerings are second only to Lansing in the Tri-County area. The Fine Arts offerings include complete programs in music, art, and drama. The Academic offerings are diversified, so that graduates qualify for entrance to any College or University in the Country.

The results of the State Assessment Tests of basic abilities for the 4th and 7th grades show the 4th grade scoring at the 85th percentile and the 7th grade at the 79th percentile. This rank was exceeded by only two schools in the Central Michigan area.

11. What will the total millage for the St. Johns Schools be in 1972-73 if both propositions are approved on June 12, and how does it compare to the present year?

Debt Retirement (1971-72) 7 mills, (1972-73) 6 mills; Allocated Millage (1971-72) 8 mills, (1972-73) 8 mills; Voted Operational (1971-72) 14.5 mills, (1972-73) 14.5 mills; Building Maintenance (1971-72) 0 mills, (1972-73) 1 mill; Total School Millage (1971-72) 29.5 mills, (1972-73) 29.5 mills.

There would be no change in millage levied.

12. What happens if the 14.5 mill request fails?

If the 14.5 mill request fails on June 12, the district will be left with only the 8 mills allocated by the County Allocation Board.

Since, under the State Aid Act, it is necessary to levy 12 mills locally to participate in State Aid, the district would not qualify for any State Funds, which amount to about 60% of total revenue.

The only source of revenue would be the 8 mills which would provide only 16% of a normal budget.

Since it would be impossible to operate schools under these conditions, the Board would have no alternative other than to return to the voters in August in another attempt to obtain approval to levy enough millage to operate the schools in 1972-73. Since each election costs approximately $1,000, it is hoped that this will not be necessary.

This is Dr. Herb Oatley Week

Dr. Oatley is another of the many citizens in St. Johns who work diligently behind the scenes to ensure the success of community projects. A number of these efforts have felt his influence but perhaps the most notable has been his concern for the swimming pool's operation. Dr. Oatley has spearheaded programs which have made that facility one of great benefit to young and old alike. His memberships include St. Johns Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce and professional organizations. He is a former city councilman. For his community concern and willingness to assist we honor Dr. Herb Oatley as our citizen of the week.

Lest we forget

If you have trouble remember what your country stands for and are concerned with its role for its people and the peoples of the world, read on:

I AM THE UNITED STATES

I was born on July 4, 1776, and the Declaration of Independence is my birth certificate. The bloodlines of the world run in my veins, because I offered freedom to the oppressed. I am many things, and many people. I AM THE UNITED STATES.

I am 165 million living souls—and the ghost of millions who have lived and died for me.

I am Nathan Hale and Paul Revere. I stood at Lexington and fired the shot heard around the world. I am Washington, Jefferson and Patrick Henry. I am John Paul Jones, the Green Mountain Boys, and Davy Crockett. I am Lee, Grant, and Abe Lincoln.

I remember the Alamo, the Maine and Pearl Harbor. When freedom called, I answered and stayed until it was over, over there. I left my heroic dead in Flanders Field, on the rock of Corregidor, and on the bleak slopes of Korea.

I am the Brooklyn Bridge, the wheat lands of Kansas, and the granite hills of Vermont. I am the coalfields of the Virginias and Pennsylvania, the fertile lands of the West, the Golden Gate and Grand Canyon. I am Independence Hall, the Monitor and the Merrimac.

I am big. I sprawl from the Atlantic to the Pacific, 3 million square miles throbbing with industry. I am more than 5 million farms. I am forest, field, mountain, and desert. I am quiet villages—and cities that never sleep.

You can look at me and see Ben Franklin walking down the streets of Philadelphia with his breadloaf under his arm. You can see Betsy Ross with her needle. You can see the lights of Christmas, and hear the strains of Auld Lang Syne as the calendar turns.

I am Babe Ruth and the World Series. I am 169,000 schools and colleges, and 250,000 churches where my people worship God as they think best. I am a ballot dropped in a box, the roar of a crowd in a stadium, and the voice of a choir in a cathedral. I am an editorial in a newspaper, and a letter to a Congressman.

I am Eli Whitney and Stephen Foster. I am Tom Edison, Albert Einstein and Bill Graham. I am Horace Greely, Will Rogers, and the Wright brothers. I am George Washington Carver, Daniel Webster.

I am Longfellow, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Walt Whitman, and Thomas Paine.

Yes, I am the nation, and these are the things that I am. I was conceived in freedom and, God willing, in freedom I will spend the rest of my days.

May I possess always the integrity, the courage and the strength to keep myself unshackled, to remain a citadel of freedom and a beacon of hope to the world.

I AM THE UNITED STATES

View from the Senate

By SEN. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

Visitors to Michigan (last year more than a million of them stopped at nine highway department travel information centers at border points to get information about Michigan) constantly praise the state's fine network of freeways.

Unlike Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania, New York, Kentucky and other popular tourist states, Michigan has no toll roads (the only tolls are at bridges and tunnels at Detroit, Port Huron, Mackinaw City and Sault Ste. Marie).

But its more than 965 miles of Interstate freeways and other excellent highways make it one of the finest travel states in the nation. The excellence of Michigan's highway system has been spotlighted by the State Highway Commission's recently-released annual report.

Did you know, for instance, that Michigan's Interstate freeway construction program has passed the 82 per cent mark toward its goal of 1,175 miles, which is its portion of the national system? This completed total is about six per cent ahead of the national average. This fine record has been made even though most of the current work is in the heavily populated urban areas where the pace is slow.

Last year the Highway Department contracted for $217 million in highway projects, second only to the record year of 1961.

If there is any doubt that the state's highways are being used, the total miles traveled on Michigan's highways, roads and streets was a record 55.6 billion last year. Deaths dropped to a new low of 3.9 for every 100 million miles traveled.

The cost of maintaining highways in good shape is no little item. It increased from $42 million to $45.8 million from 1970 to 1971.

In addition, the state spends about $15 million a year to resurface highways, complete safety projects such as center turning lanes, and improve highways being turned back to local jurisdiction.

Some important accomplishments last year included completion of Michigan's first two four-level freeway interchanges -- one at I-75 and I-696 just north of Detroit and the second at I-475 and M-21 in downtown Flint. A third is under construction in Detroit.

The department constructed an 8,600-foot seawall along the Lake Michigan shoreline at St. Joseph to stop erosion of an 100-foot high bluff that was endangering Lake Shore Drive. The job took about 70,000 tons of stone and rocks -- some weighing more than four tons -- which were transported by rail from an Illinois quarry. A study of highway needs for a 20-year period ending in 1990 shows that registered vehicles are expected to increase from slightly more than 4 million in 1970 to 7.2 million in 1990 and that miles traveled in that period will increase from 50 billion to 93.6 billion.

This study, compiled by the State Highway Department, County Road Association, and Michigan Municipal League, says $1.5 billion should be spent each year for the next 20 years for adequate and safe highways, roads and streets in Michigan.

The need—and the importance—of this latter procedural stipulation is dictated by a unique feature of this revenue sharing legislation; it combines in one bill an authorizing and an appropriating authority. House rules provide that authorizing and appropriating legislation shall be handled separately.

Thus, the rule preventing points of order being raised against matters forbidden by the House rules is essential if the legislation is to get through the House as presently drafted.

As a practical matter, the bill is more an appropriations bill than anything else. And, it is this fact, primarily, that has caused John Mahon of Texas, Chairman of the Appropriations Committee to become so embittered about the way the legislation will be handled.

In the Senate last week, approval was granted to the Higher Education Bill as reported from Conference. Included are three anti-busing amendments which would, among other things, stay pending appeals, federal district court desegregation orders requiring transfers as well as transportation of students to achieve racial balance until January 1, 1974.

Bits and Pieces "Fish Tails" By HAROLD SCHMALTZ

Now that June is here many of our interests turn to boating and fishing. Of course I realize many would prefer the golf greens but personally, give me a can of worms and a fishing pole and I disappear quite easily.

And it appears I'm not the only one that is enticed by the call of adventure in the deep. Oliver and Harvey Darling of Darlings, Inc. of Ovid and Elsie recently took a group of their employees on an outing to Upper Michigan. Accompanying their bosses were Jerry Abel, Al Becker, Dennis Schroeder, Alfred Heath, Jerry Cleveland and Ron Jorae. Headquartering at the Hiawatha Sportsman Club, the group spent from noon last Saturday to late Monday night.

Wow! What a way to spend a Memorial Day weekend!

Apparently this is one of those employee fringe benefits you often hear about as this little excursion is an annual "darling affair".

From all reports I guess the group had lots of fish to eat and only one fellow got wet. It seems that Ron Jorae took an unexpected dip while trying to tie up a boat. Oh well, a trip wouldn't be as memorable if it weren't for a few little incidents such as this. They probably will never let him forget it either.

I've been getting in a little fishing time myself but so far no records have been set for size or numbers. I guess it's a bit early for the old gills to come up on the spawning beds.

DID YOU EVER HEAR of a fish that had to keep swimming to stay alive? Sounds preposterous doesn't it? But nevertheless true. It was my impression that fish could just float in the water any time they tired of swimming but such is not the case with all fish.

According to an article I read some time ago in Michigan Conservation, the tuna is a fish that must keep his fins beating or perish.

As the tuna is a salt water inhabitant, it seems their body weight is heavier than salt water and in order to keep from sinking to the bottom of the ocean, they must keep swimming. If they were to sink to the bottom, the lack of oxygen at greater depths would cause instant death.

IN A STUDY MADE by Dr. John Magnuson of tuna in large tanks in Hawaii, he found tuna's forward fins provided a lift much like aircraft wings. Much like the supersonic aircraft we see today, tuna adjusts this lift by sweeping by their "variable wings" as they swim faster. According to studies they resemble rockets while swimming at top speed. They propel themselves forward with their tail fins.

The smaller skipjack tuna swim at a constant rate of two miles per hour, twice the speed of the larger yellowfin tuna, according to Dr. Magnuson's observations.

The studies showed the larger tuna to have gas bladders that somewhat decreased their negative buoyancy in water, while these bladders were found lacking in the smaller tuna. This would necessitate their swimming faster to keep afloat. Without the bladders, the smaller tuna can make vertical ascent to the surface while the larger tuna's bladders would burst if they were to try it.

And we think we have problems in the water.....

Washington reports

U.S. Rep. Garry Brown

WASHINGTON, D. C. — (May 26, 1972) News is sometimes made by what does not happen and last week such a non-event occurred in the House when consideration of revenue sharing legislation was unexpectedly delayed for at least two weeks.

It had been assumed that the revised revenue sharing legislation would be debated and brought to a vote late in the week, but Ways and Means Chairman Wilbur Mills, who is in charge of the legislation, ran into trouble in the House Rules Committee. The committee determines under what conditions a measure will be debated on the House floor.

Only after a long and strenuous fight did Mills emerge with a 8-7 vote and favorable debate conditions, but the House leadership decided to delay the floor showdown, some suspecting that with the outcome not certain, they would wait for President Nixon's return from Moscow in order to have the benefit of his active support.

The debate conditions agreed upon limit any floor amendments to those approved by the Ways and Means Committee and prohibit any points of order being raised against matters in the bill, even though such matters are forbidden by House rules.

The need—and the importance—of this latter procedural stipulation is dictated by a unique feature of this revenue sharing legislation; it combines in one bill an authorizing and an appropriating authority. House rules provide that authorizing and appropriating legislation shall be handled separately.

Thus, the rule preventing points of order being raised against matters forbidden by the House rules is essential if the legislation is to get through the House as presently drafted.

As a practical matter, the bill is more an appropriations bill than anything else. And, it is this fact, primarily, that has caused John Mahon of Texas, Chairman of the Appropriations Committee to become so embittered about the way the legislation will be handled.

"If it Fitz . . . Women talk that way"

Editor, Lapeer County Press

By Jim Fitzgerald

Hazel and Irene are walking on a busy downtown block and Hazel says: "Do you know what I am doing to stopperspiration?"

15 miles later, Hazel and Irene are walking on a deserted beach, "No," answers Irene, "what are you doing to stopperspiration?"

25 miles later, Hazel and Irene are in a airplane flying out of Lum International Airport. "I am plugging my pores with those new Feminine Acupuncture Sweatsticks," Hazel says.

1,578 miles later, Hazel and Irene are boarding a camel in Cairo. "Don't the Sweatsticks punch holes in your clothes?" Irene asks.

26 miles later, Hazel and Irene have stopped at a Standard pyramid to use the restroom. "No, silly," Hazel says, "I don't insert the Sweatsticks until after I'm dressed, mostly in fishnet fashions."

89 miles later, Hazel and Irene are riding a ferris wheel at the grand opening of the Sphinx Shopping Center. "But what about the underarm problem?" Irene asks. "Don't you get tired holding your arms out like airplane wings all the time?"

98 miles later, Hazel and Irene are boarding a barge on the Nile, watching carefully for asps. "It is only a problem when I have to turn corners fast," Hazel explains. "If a person is the right height, I chop off his head."

And so it goes, "round the world in a 60-second TV commercial with Hazel and Irene. You may find these commercials full of the pause that perplexes. You may think the advertiser is insulting your intelligence. You may think it is impossible and incredible that Hazel and Irene would take so long to say 7 simple sentences about feminine hygiene. You are obviously a bachelor.

The Sweatstick advertiser has simply done what was necessary to fit his message into a time slot he can afford. Rather than give you a phony pitch, he has shown you exactly how women talk. But he has edited out all conversation irrelevant to his purpose — the selling of Sweatsticks. Otherwise, it would have been a telethon.

You see, dear bachelor, it is entirely possible that it could take thousands of miles, from downtown Lum to the Nile, for Hazel and Irene to say those 7 sentences about Sweatsticks. But interspersed among those few commercial words would be several million sentences concerning why that fat woman would wear such a hideous bathing suit, the color of the paint in the coffee shop in Lum International, the dangers of picking roses in a fishnet blouse, the rudeness of the Arab who had the key to the pyramid restroom, the impossibility of getting home in time to fix dinner for Joe. . . and on and on.

To put it briefly (a male trait), women don't just interrupt each other. They interrupt themselves. And then they interrupt their interruptions. If Paul Revere had been a woman, Richard Nixon would still be telling the woman next door where to buy a good lantern.

If my wife reads this tonight, she will accuse me of putting down women. Probably, I won't know for sure for about 2 days, the normal span of time between the opening noun and the closing verb.

Onward and Upward.

From the state house

By DICK ALLEN 88th District Representative

Many people feel that the laws of the country have changed dramatically in the last 20 years.

To some extent there have been dramatic changes. But in many cases developments in private life and industry have changed much more rapidly than the laws ability to keep up.

Mobile homes are a case in point. I work closely with a couple of mobile home legislators for a couple of reasons. The construction of these homes is a major industry in my area employing a good many people. Anything that affects the health of the industry affects the livelihood of a good many people in our area.

Beyond the economic considerations, I am sympathetic to the people who live in them. For the most part they are the young marrieds and the older retirees. Neither group is in their peak earning years.

Most of the laws dealing with mobile homes were written before there was any such thing as a mobile home. There were only trailers. The trailers of yesterday were something different. People hauled them behind their cars and lived in them only for short periods of time in one place.

Mobile home owners do not pay property tax. They pay three dollars a month in lieu of them. The park owner pays on the lots, but the tax law treats the home itself more like a motor vehicle. When people moved their trailers around and did not actually live in them year around, it did not make sense to tax them as a home.

Now school administrators and other taxpayers make a strong point for an ad valorem tax on mobile homes. Why not?

On the other hand, mobile homes are not treated like regular homes in regard to sales tax. You do not pay sales tax on a home, but you do on a mobile home. Since mobile homes sell on the average every few years, some mobile homes pay more in sales tax than they should logically pay in property tax.

If we change one law, we should change both.

Michigan has a number of different acts under which various items are financed. Home mortgages in one act, household goods in another, and motor vehicles in another. Our Attorney General recently ruled that mobile homes did not fall within the definitions in many of these acts. This made all recent contracts to finance mobile homes of suspicious legality.

Banks have practically quit financing and the industry is in trouble. We need a change in the law!

Residents in mobile home parks do not have the same tenants rights afforded by law to apartment dwellers and others.

I could go on. But I am just saying this: Those who say the legislature "passes too many laws" ignore one of the facts of life. Almost all human conduct, industry, and enterprise has always fallen under the law in one form or another.

As human affairs and technology change, the laws need constant change to keep up.

Forgiveness of sin

By REV. HUGH BANNINGA

Today we look at the second thing that happened to the prophet Isaiah when God called him (Isaiah 6:1-8). Isaiah experienced God's forgiveness. One of the seraphim (angel) came to Isaiah with a burning coal and touched his mouth and said, "Behold, this has touched your lips; your guilt is taken away, and your sin forgiven."

If a person is to become a disciple of Christ, he must experience God's forgiveness of his sins. So, how does one do this? Well, let's talk about forgiveness for a minute.

Jesus, in his ministry, was continually trying to get across to the people what forgiveness was all about. But so often he was misunderstood. Even his disciples found it difficult to grasp the deep meaning of His teachings. So Jesus would illustrate a particular point with a parable or story.

One day Peter came up to Jesus and asked him, "Lord, how often shall my brother sin against me and I forgive him? As many as seven times?" Jesus answered Peter with this statement, "I do not say to you seven times, but seventy times seven."

After that remark, Jesus told the parable of the unmerciful servant. He compared the kingdom of heaven to a king who wished to settle accounts with his servants. It was discovered that one of the king's servants owed him ten thousand talents (a great deal of money), but the servant was unable to pay this debt.

So the king ordered him, his wife, his children and everything he had in his possession to be sold as payment for the debt.

When the servant heard the king's order, he went to the king and begged for a little more time to pay the debt. This moved the king and out of pity for the servant he released him and forgave him the debt.

Then this same servant went out and came upon one of his fellow servants who owed him only a little money. He took his fellow servant by the throat and demanded payment of the debt. The fellow servant asked for more time to pay his debt, but he was refused and put into prison.

The other servants who saw what had happened went to the king and reported this unjust action. The king was enraged when he heard this and he called the ungrateful servant to his quarters and told him what a wicked man he was. The king said, "I forgave you all that debt because you pleaded with me. Shouldn't you have had mercy on your fellow servant as I had mercy on you?" Then the king put the ungrateful servant into prison until he could pay his debt in full.

Jesus ended this parable with the statement, "So also my heavenly Father will do to every one of you if you do not forgive your brother from your heart."

Peter failed to grasp the meaning of forgiveness. He thought of it in terms of arithmetic. He thought maybe forgiving someone seven times would be enough. But forgiveness is not a matter of arithmetic. It is a matter of the heart. You are to forgive the one who wrongs you from the depths of your heart.

God is always ready to forgive, but he cannot enter an unforgiving heart. A man who is unforgiving closes his life to God and thereby forfeits God's forgiveness. God does not come crashing through the door like an unexpected guest. He waits at the door and knocks. If a man opens the door, He will come in.

God knocked at the door of Isaiah's heart and Isaiah let Him in. The result was that Isaiah received forgiveness of his sins. Anyone who would become a disciple of Christ must open his heart to God, confess his sins and then receive God's forgiveness.

Next week we'll talk about dedicating your life to a life of service.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,
The problem of attempting to meet the impact of ever-increasing costs of public education in Michigan by increasing property taxes has been progressively more difficult the past few years.
Two years ago it seemed evident that the Governor's School Reform Program was a good one, and that it would be enacted. However, politics and other obstacles intervened and as of yet no reform has been enacted.

The main hope for reform at the present time is that the Michigan Supreme Court will declare the property tax invalid for the support of schools. If this happens, some other method will need to be found for financing schools, which will hopefully be a more equitable form of taxation.

In the meantime, however, schools have no other alternative than going to the people to ask for additional property tax to operate the schools until such time as reform is forthcoming.

This is the situation which exists at present in the St. Johns district in the Spring of 1972. And, before voting for or against the proposed millage for the next two years, which does not represent an increase, each taxpayer should analyze what the school system is providing in the way of education for the young people of the community.

A good method of analyzing a school system is to compare the programs offered, and results obtained with other comparable school districts.

On the Secondary level, from the 7th through the 12th grades, St. Johns has developed and put into effect a diversified and complete program. Vocational education has been stressed since entering the new High School three years ago. In a tri-county study conducted last year, St. Johns was second only to Lansing in the number of Vocational courses offered.

one of the finest in Central Michigan, with many students participating in Vocal Bands, and Stringed Orchestras, Courses in Dramatics are offered, as well as performances. Several of these groups rated high in State competition in the past year. The Art program in the Junior and Senior High schools has grown so that four teachers are necessary to instruct those students who wish to participate in Art. A complete program of Interscholastic Athletics is offered including basketball, swimming, track and volleyball for girls.

The academic range of offerings is complete so that those students wishing to prepare for College entrance have the variety to prepare themselves to enter any College or University in the United States. 52% of St. Johns graduates go on to some type of higher education.

Michigan State Assessment tests of basic skills given each 4th and 7th grade student in Michigan further reflect the quality of education elementary students are receiving.

For the 1970-71 school year, St. Johns 4th graders achieved at the 85th percentile for the State. This means that only 15% of the 4th graders in Michigan scored higher. The 7th grade students scored at the 79th percentile. These scores were exceeded only by East Lansing and Okemos in the Central Michigan area.

The fact that the property tax rate is the next to the lowest in Clinton County, that the Secondary Schools have complete and diversified programs, and that the Elementary students achieve State Assessment scores higher than most Michigan schools are the facts that the school patron must ponder before he votes in the June 12th election.

EARL LANCASTER,

Still budget time

Rep. Douglas Trevis
87th District

It's budget time again... or should I say "still." After several months of preliminary skirmishes, it appears that the House of Representatives is finally going to get down to work and tackle its most important task—that's the perennial problem of raising the money and allocating it to state services.

There are two separate kinds of money involved in this process. The first is earmarked or dedicated funds. They come from such sources as the gasoline tax, the sales tax, federal funds for specific functions and similar places where either by constitution or by law the particular tax is designated for a certain purpose. For instance, federal money received for welfare or education purposes can only be spent on those functions. Similarly, gasoline taxes and 3 cents of the 4 levied in sales taxes are designated in the state constitution to be used for certain purposes. The Legislature has little control over these funds which now represent about one half of the total budget or $2 billion.

The remaining $2.2 billion or more in state revenue constitute the General Fund budget. The spending of these funds is within the discretion of the Legislature. This money is raised through general taxation, license fees and charges for services and is appropriated to the operation of general state government.

Some of the appropriation bills draw on funds from both sources of funds. In school aid, for instance, approximately $500 million comes from the sales tax—half of which is constitutionally assigned to schools—tobacco and alcohol taxes and some state-collected property taxes on railroads and utilities. Another $600 million this year is expected to be appropriated to local schools from the general fund, bringing the total school aid package to over $1.1 billion.

The situation is the same in the social services case and the figures are roughly the same. The difference is that the federal government subsidizes the welfare costs to the tune of 50% and the balance comes from the General Fund. The total cost of this service this year will probably exceed that of local education assistance, reaching almost $1.3 billion.

It doesn't take much to figure out that these two areas consume over half the state's budget. The remaining funds are allocated to the state's colleges, universities, community colleges, mental health and all other divisions of state government. A very controversial spending bill is one which would disperse a portion of the state collected taxes to local units of government. This also involves both earmarked funds, a portion of the sales tax and income tax money.

The big question, as always, is "How much revenue will we have to finance these programs?" Up until now we have been reluctant to even consider making appropriations until we settle the question of whether last year's 1.3 per cent increase in the income tax is to be extended. If it is not, it means a reduction of $300 million in available general fund revenue which equates to a 15 per cent reduction in all appropriations.

Ideally, all the budget bills should have passed both the House and Senate and been signed by the Governor by the start of the fiscal year, July 1. A few have been passed by the Senate and sent to the House Appropriations Committee and we have several House-originated bills on our calendar as of now.

For the past few years, we've overshot the July 1 mark, due to lack of deadlines imposed by the House leadership.

At this point, I hesitate to forecast what will happen. But I do know the next few weeks are going to be exciting as we try to get the whole job done in time for a pre-election recess.

And the place most successful farmers go for the long-term working capital they need to invest in their future is their nearby Land Bank. Because it is theirs. And because it is the only place to profit from these money-saving advantages: Longer terms, with lower annual payments, at the lowest interest rate around. Plus, the advantage of prepayment privileges, without penalty. There are other advantages. Like payments arranged to match peak earning periods. A future payment fund which earns interest and protects your credit rating in an emergency.

So when you need money to grow, consider all these advantages. Then go see the long-term credit specialists at your farmer-owned Land Bank Association office. One last thing. Once you take advantage of all these advantages, you become a part owner of the Land Bank, too. That's another advantage.

An ounce of prevention
 By Jose J. Lillias, M.D.
 Director of Community Mental Health for Clinton, Eaton and Ingham

Every year around this time the Michigan Department of Mental Health and the Society for Mental Health publish a short brochure with a summary of what is happening in mental health care throughout the state. It makes interesting reading for all of us, and if you want a copy of it, you can ask the Department in Lansing to send you one. They will gladly oblige.

HOW MANY PSYCHIATRISTS? One of the bits of information the pamphlet offers is that there are in Michigan about 600 psychiatrists or medical specialists in the field of mental illness.

Of those 600, about one third of them are involved in public service, manning the hospital, clinic and community programs of the state. Of the 400 who are in private practice, most of them are concentrated in the southeastern part of the state, and specifically, the Metropolitan Detroit area.

As anybody can see, this presents two immediate problems in the delivery of psychiatric services to our population. One is that there are not enough men in private practice in the southeastern part of the state, and specifically, the Metropolitan Detroit area. As anybody can see, this presents two immediate problems in the delivery of psychiatric services to our population. One is that there are not enough men in private practice in the southeastern part of the state, and specifically, the Metropolitan Detroit area.

(From May 24)

The Women's Literary Club closed its 70th year history of service to the community when the annual potluck supper was held at the Junior High School Cafeteria Tuesday evening. It was previously planned as a picnic at the Village Park Pavilion where the women had donated several picnic tables but inclement weather forced a change. Several new members were present.

Mrs. Mildred Whitaker and Mrs. Lella Wilson were hostesses and were assisted by Mrs. Lawrence Hess, Mrs. Asa Stewart, and Mrs. J. O. Schumacher. Mrs. Gerald Carroll presided for the business meeting which included reports on various projects and events. Among them were the recent Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs at East Lansing by delegates, Mrs. Hess and Mrs. Robert Bloomer, the Clinton County Convention with the WLC as hostesses, and the annual Mother's Day party for the older women of the local community.

Mrs. Hess, who served as president of the Clinton County Convention, expressed appreciation to all her committees for their cooperation. Mrs. Viva Scott, treasurer reported that the club had kept within the budget, which was set up at the beginning of the year.

Mrs. Norman Blakely announced that $775 had been collected by the club members from the village of Elsie for the American Cancer Society. For many years, the WLC has conducted the annual Cancer Crusade and in addition hundreds of cancer dressings were made by the members. Mrs. Scott noted by the records that during the past six years the club women have collected $3935.72 to date.

The past year's program was dedicated to the memory of beloved members

Rose Marie Sills and Donna Wooley. Three others passed away during the year - Agnes Lewis, Vina Smith and Mae Goodrich. During the year, the women contributed to other health drives, every-member collection for the benefit of the Children's Home in St. Johns, baskets for shut-ins, clothing and other articles remaining from the two Trading Posts given to the Salvation Army and O.E.O. at St. Johns. Profits from the Trading Post were used for many community projects.

Two scholarships were furnished for senior students at Ovid-Elsie High School toward continuing their education; sponsored a Junior girl to Wolverine Girl's State; and benefit card party with proceeds $125 given to the Elsie Public Library. This year the club women donated $400 toward improvement of Village Park, such as, playground equipment, which is now being installed.

Guest speakers were selected on such topics as drug use and abuse by Chris Marlam of Lansing, a trip to the Congo by L. C. Mack of Durand, and entertainment by students from "School of Dance," Linda Sturgis, teacher.

Members' presenting special programs were: Mrs. Lawrence Hess, book review of Jean Cummings' "That's Why They Call Him The Buffalo Doctor"; Mrs. Duane Green, showing slides and relating experiences of the trip to The Netherlands and England; and a dinner and program for their husbands.

One of the outstanding programs was the 70th anniversary of the Woman's Literary Club when Mrs. A. W. Cobb served as leader. To mark the observance, she was assisted by many members in presenting nostalgic humor and paths of the early years, some selected from actual club records. Mrs. Orpha Clement reviewed the history of the WLC in her own original verse. All were dressed in style of the olden years.

Mrs. George Blayney and the late Mrs. Mae Goodrich were given 50-year service awards and Mrs. Leon Williams, 48 years.

In summing up the achievements, it was noted that the club motto "Mutual Helpfulness Through Association" has been an inspiration through the years since its organization in 1902. All officers were re-elected for the 1972-1973 club year. They are: president, Mrs. Gerald Carroll; vice-president, Mrs. Lella Wilson; secretary, Mrs. Robert Baker; and treasurer, Mrs. Viva Scott. The program committee for the ensuing year will be Mrs. Lella Wilson, Mrs. Ruth Peltier, Mrs. Vera Litchfield, Mrs. Mildred Whitaker and Mrs. Elizabeth Hess.

The nation's hospitals employ nearly three million persons, including close to 100,000 persons in training in the medical and paramedical professions.

Population figures available

Detailed population figures on the age and sex composition of Clinton, Eaton and Ingham counties have been released by the U.S. Census Bureau, Herbert D. Maier, Executive Director of the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission announced recently.

The figures, compiled from the 1970 Census, are readily available to the public from the Commission offices at 535 N. Clippert St., Lansing, Maier said.

The data breaks down the population of the three counties into 18 different age groups ranging from 0-4 years of age to 85-100 plus. The number and percentage of males and females for each age group is listed and, in addition, the male/female ratio is given.

Besides the county itself, the same information is provided for every city, village, and township within the Tri-County area. The information is also available by census tract.

Data for villages, also available separately, is included in the figures of the township in which they are located. In addition, the percentage of males and females in each age group is presented graphically for every civil division and census tract in the Tri-County region.

vided for every city, village, and township within the Tri-County area. The information is also available by census tract.

Some exciting and helpful things are happening in the clothing industry. On July 3 the Federal Trade Commission's new rule on "Care Labeling" of garments goes into effect. This means that garments of every type produced after July 3 will contain a label with care instructions. The labels must also carry any warning about cleaning procedure which would "diminish ordinary use and enjoyment of such article." The wonderful thing about this new ruling is that these labels must be sewn or stamped into the garment so that they don't become lost.

Fabric sold in bolts will also come under this new ruling. A simple inexpensive tape is folded right in with the fabric. It is continuous and carries fabric care and sewing instructions every 18 inches. So even when sewing at home you can attach the "how to care for" label that will give instructions for the life of the garment. It is estimated that the cost of using tape, including labor, packaging and time, is less than a penny a yard. Some examples of the tags are:

1. Machine wash in sudsy water at medium temperature, rinse well, tumble dry thoroughly, hang immediately. Garment may be drip dried and steam pressed.
2. Machine wash warm.

Gentle cycle. Do not use chlorine bleach.

3. Dry clean only. Do not use petroleum solvents, or the coin operated method of dry cleaning.

Many of the manufacturers have been using care instructions for years. But with the new labeling act everyone will be guaranteed of knowing how to care for all of the new fabrics on the market and even the old ones!

AG in ACTION

Few people truly realize what agriculture means to the state of Michigan.

It provides the second largest source of income to our state, even though only one out of every hundred citizens operate a farm. Twenty-seven per cent of our state's population derives some part of their income from agriculture.

Our vast crop production is achieved on 13 million acres of land which produces more than two and one-half billion dollars worth of commodities when sold at retail outlets.

Michigan produces a variety of crops, but ranked fifth or higher among all the states in the production of nineteen foods in 1971. We ranked first in the nation's production of blueberries, red tart cherries, dried edible beans, Eastern white soft winter wheat and prune plums. We placed second in the production of pickling cucumbers and third with apples, carrots and celery.

Our state is often referred to as the bean capital of the United States. We produce almost all of the navy (pea) beans grown in the country and a large portion of cranberry beans, yelloweyes and red kidney beans. In 1971 Michigan ranked first in the nation with a total bean crop of almost 596 million pounds worth over sixty-eight and one-half million dollars. The state's eleven thousand growers harvested beans from 590,000 acres of land in the Saginaw-Thumb area.

Michigan is also the leading producer of plantation grown Christmas trees. In 1971 over five and a quarter million Michigan evergreens were sold. The Christmas tree growing and marketing business now exceeds $26 million annually.

We should be proud of the contribution Michigan's agriculture makes to our communities, state and nation.

Trees and shrubs invite more birds

Michigan has among its wildlife resources an abundant and colorful population of feathered friends, the songbirds.

Their songs, bright, flashing colors, and lively antics add much to the pleasures of rural or suburban living and the opportunity we have to observe their interesting habits is well worth the time and effort spent to encourage them.

the plant foods preferred by the common birds of the Midwest.

Single copies of this publication are available from the local Soil Conservation Service office.

By designing attractive, livable areas for songbird concerts and nest building you will also provide a welcome shade and ornamentation for the human householder.

PERHAPS YOU have had experiences with artificial or manmade structures such as birdhouses, feeders, birdbaths, perches and the like. There is also a natural way of attracting some feathered residents and some of these attractions consist of some bright-hued and decorative flowers, vines, shrubs and trees which can be grown in the yard. If we give some thought to the landscape planning and planting of our home grounds, we can greatly increase the chance that birds will find our yard an attractive place to set up housekeeping.

Landscape plantings function in several ways to make home grounds attractive to birds. They furnish year-round shelter and protection from predators. They furnish safe nesting sites and rearing places for the young. And they furnish safe nesting sites and rearing places for the young. And they furnish food in the form of fruit, seeds, and nectar. Birds also find these plantings convenient and attractive places to hunt for insects.

A NEW PUBLICATION of the United States Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service, "Invite Birds to Your Home—Conservation Plantings for the Midwest," is available to the public for their use in attracting birds to their homes.

This colorful brochure, especially adapted for the use of Midwestern homeowners, describes and illustrates various trees, shrubs and other plants useful in attracting many species of songbirds. It also suggests how to create a landscape design and in addition, lists
