Soap Box Derby Sunday evening

77 boys aim for $500 bond

The first of St. Johns' two big summer events — the Clinton County Soap Box Derby — is ready to roll this Sunday evening on Clinton Avenue in the business district. Seventy-seven boys are on the roster, making up 27 first-round heats toward the determination of St. Johns' 1967 Soap Box Derby champ. All boys will get to race at least twice in the running. For the first time this year the derby will be run in the evening in an effort to avoid the heat which has plagued the derby the first four years. A parade will start at 6:15, followed by crowning of a Soap Box Derby queen and the annual Oil Can Race. The actual derby race will start at 7 p.m.

FIFTEEN PRIZES will be awarded to the boys who finish highest in the standings, with the first-place finisher receiving a $500 savings bond from Chevrolet Co., a handsome trophy and a trip to Akron, Ohio, to participate in the All-American Soap Box Derby in August.

Other prizes include a portable TV set for second place, Polaroid camera for third, Sting Ray bicycle for fourth, wrist watch for fifth place, portable radio for sixth, Polaroid Swinger camera for seventh, wrist watch for eighth, rod and reel combination for ninth, baseball glove for 10th place, motorized model airplane for 11th, transistor radio for 12th, rod and reel set for 13th, slot car for 14th, and basketball for 15th place.

Seventy-six heats will be run before the derby champion is determined, but Derby Director William McCarthy looks for a smooth operation and a conclusion of the races and awards presentation by about 9:30.

THE AWARDS WILL be presented, for the public to see, on the lawn of the Grand Trunk depot a short distance from the finish line. All the boys will receive derby medals, with the top 15 finishers earning the other prizes.

In case of rain, all events will be postponed until Sunday, June 18, at the same time.

DERBY FESTIVITIES will get under way sharply at 6 p.m., with (See 5th ANNUAL, Page 3-A)

School elections Monday

have issues, competition

7 ballots face voters at Bath

BATH—Although five Clinton area school districts have competition for vacant school board seats, greatest interest likely lies in the Bath district where voters will be faced with no less than seven ballots.

Three persons are competing for two seats on the Bath Board of Education, and there are also races at DeWitt, St. Johns, Ovid-Elsie and Ashley.

The districts that don't have school board competition have millage proposals to heighten voter interest.

Bath has both. Candidates seeking two four-year terms on the board of education are Mrs. Virginia Zeeb and incumbents Darwin Clise and William Brook. But in addition, Bath voters will get these other ballots:

*One asking voters to approve 10 mills for operational purposes for three years (1967, 1968 and 1969) to replace a six-mill levy expiring this year.

*ONE ASKING VOTERS to approve a one-year extension of a two-mill levy for building and site improvement.

*Another ballot asking approval to levy the building and site improvement millage for 1967.

*A ballot asking approval to make the high school library a public district library, thus enabling the school to get additional state support for its library.

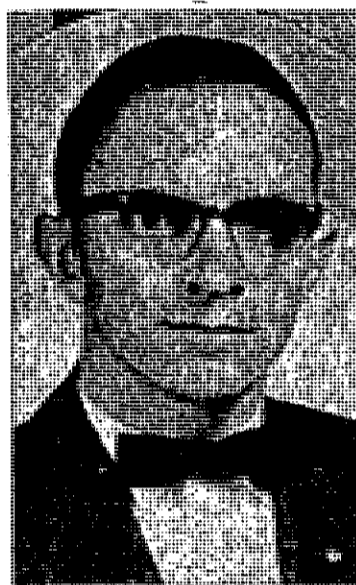

*A ballot asking for voter approval to transfer $2,514.90 from a 1955 debt retirement fund to the general fund.

*A ballot for the election of trustees for Lansing Community College. The Bath School District is a part of the Lansing Community College district.

So is the DeWitt School District, and voters in both Bath and DeWitt districts will be deciding on these candidates: Jack Davis, Gilbert M. Hill, Donald L. Horberger, Mildred E. Kallman, Robert D. LaMoreaux, Cecil E. MacDonald and Marilyn Morris Wanger for two 2-year terms; Kirk L. Curtis, David D. Diehl and Lee A. Trumble for two 4-year terms; and Albert C. Boyd, John H. Dart, David L. Froh, George L. Griffiths, Ted R. Jackson and James T. Sgouris for three six-year terms. (See ELECTION, Page 4-A)

3 campaign for 2 openings on St. Johns School Board

No special issues face St. Johns school voters Monday, but they will have a choice to make in picking two members of the board of education to serve for the next four years.

Three candidates are running for the two spots on the board that will be open come July 1. They are Richard L. Root, making his first bid for public office, and incumbents Alden Livingston and Leon Schumaker.

As in past school elections, the district voters will cast their ballots at one of five precincts, all of which will be open from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

POLLING PLACES will be Room 113 of Rodney B. Wilson High School for precinct 1; East Essex School for Precinct 2; Eureka School for Precinct 3; Olive Center School for Precinct 4; and Riley Town Hall for Pre-

Alden Livingston, 58 years old, lives at 2224 Livingston Road in Greenbush Township on the farm where he was born and raised.

He was elected to the St. Johns school board in June 1965 for a two-year term and is now treasurer of the board. Prior to 1965 he had served on the former Greenwood School District Board of Education for 25 years—all of that time as president.

HE IS CURRENTLY a member and chairman of the Clinton County Zoning Commission, a group he has served on for 17 years.

Livingston farms 685 acres and was in the farming business with his father and is now in business with his sons David and Eugene. Livingston and his wife Doris also have a daughter, Mrs. Suzanne Martis.

He is a member of the St. Johns Rotary Club, Vegetable Growers Assn., Farm Bureau, Artificial Breeders Assn., Dairy Herd Improvement Assn., Cattle Feeders Assn., and has been a delegate of the Mint Growers, Onion Growers and Michigan Muck Farmers associations to the Michigan Agricultural Conference.

He has served three times on the board of trustees of the Congregational Church, including two terms as chairman. He's been a member of the choir for 25 years.

RICHARD L. Root, 32, lives at 5219 S. DeWitt Road and is a sheet metal foreman at Dard, Inc., in Lansing. He is a 1952 graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School and served two years in the U.S. Army prior to four years of apprenticeship in sheet metal work in Lansing.

This is Root's first candidacy for public office. He is currently master of the Masonic Blue Lodge in St. Johns and has been a member of the Masons since 1960. He is also a member of the First Congregational Church.

Root and his wife, the former Ruth Plowman, have three children and all will be in school next year. Kathleen is 11 years old, Mark 9 and Debra 5.

LEON SCHUMAKER, 54, of 82-56 S. Francis Road, R-2, DeWitt, is seeking his third term on the St. Johns School Board, having been first elected in 1959. He farms 360 acres and lives in the home in which he was born and raised.

Schumaker is president of the Fowler Co-Op Elevator Board of Directors, vice chairman of the county ASCS Committee, president of the Riley Lutheran Church board, and a director of the Central National Bank of St. Johns. He is also a member of Farm Bureau.

Schumaker and his wife, Louise, have two daughters, Mrs. Linda Beyer of Phoenix, Ariz., and Mrs. Jane Coy of Denver, Colo.

Beetle infestation not serious - maybe

The late and cool spring may have been a blessing in disguise to Clinton County farmers who are growing crops susceptible to the cereal leaf beetle.

But the danger of a serious infestation here isn't over yet. George McQueen, Clinton County Extension agricultural agent, said the next few days to a week should tell how bad the infestation will be — particularly if the weather remains warm. The southwestern part of Michigan has a heavy infestation and a serious problem again this year, but a check of three fields in Clinton County last Friday turned up only three adult beetles and three eggs.

McQUEEN THINKS the cool temperatures of the early spring may have killed off many of the eggs laid by the adult during the warm spell of Mid-April. The end of this week or early next week should determine whether this supposition is correct.

"If this had been a normal spring, we would no doubt have had a heavy infestation," McQueen said, "but we got cold weather during the egg laying. They could recover yet and raise heck. There are enough (of the beetles) around that we should be able to tell by this week or next," he said.

Oats — the preferred host plant of the cereal leaf beetle — were planted late in Clinton County this year, and even if a fresh batch of eggs should be laid by the surviving beetles, it will be possible to attack the larvae and adults with ground sprayer if needed. Normally oats would be high enough now that only an aerial spray would be effective, McQueen said.

TREATMENT OF FIELDS

Farmers hope for rain

Farmers in Clinton County are looking to the skies again in search of rain.

Despite lots of rain earlier in the spring, recent sunny days and strong winds have dried out the top soils, turning soggy land to hard-baked ground or to dust.

In most cases, farmers are caught up in the planting of small grains and are getting ready for haying. Fields are too dry for white beans to be planted, but most farmers are getting their fields ready.

Crops which are already in seem to be doing well. Despite the dry conditions on the top, subsoil moisture is sufficient for good growing conditions, the Extension office reports.

against the cereal leaf beetle normally is best in late May or early June. Two products — Sevin and Malathion — seem to work well against the grain pest. Sevin kills adult beetles, larvae and eggs, McQueen says, but can't be applied closer than 30 days before harvest. Malathion kills the larvae and adults only, but can be applied closer to harvest time.

Specifications for application of the chemicals can be obtained from the Clinton County Extension office.

THE BEETLE has been primarily corralled in southwest Michigan since it first invaded the United States seven years ago. Since 1964 Clinton County has been in a cereal leaf beetle quarantine area, meaning that certain grains and farm items cannot be moved outside the quarantine area without inspection and certification that the items are free from the pest.

Wheat, barley and rye are damaged by the pest less than oats, but in the tender growing stages of these plants, injury can be considerable. Despite the quarantine and active control measures, the new pest is spreading.

OATS ARE THE preferred host for the cereal leaf beetle, and whole fields may be destroyed. Both the adults and larvae (often called grubs or slugs) chew long strips of plant tissue between the veins. The adult usually eats through all of the leaf tissue, while the larva leaves the lower epidermis or skin of the plant leaf intact. When enough feeding occurs, the leaves of the damaged plants turn white at the tips and upon drying turn rust-colored.

An MSU bulletin on the subject notes that the white-tipped condition is, for the most part, a blanching of the color in the leaves. As far as is known, only the cereal leaf beetle of the insect pests of cereals and grasses causes this white-tipped condition. The white tipping of grass leaves and the black - slime covered larvae are abundant proof that the insect problem is the cereal leaf beetle.

THE INSECT HAS four phases to its life cycle: eggs, larvae, pupa and adult. Only the adults pass through the winter, emerging in April to lay eggs. The eggs hatch in about 5 to 10 days. Larvae feed from mid-May until the latter part of June.

Couple injured as car overturns

William Forquer, 29, and his wife Shirley, 28, of 6959 N. DeWitt Road, St. Johns, were injured early last Friday morning when their auto overturned several times on the US-27 median five miles north of St. Johns.

Forquer was treated for cuts and bruises and released from Clinton Memorial Hospital following the accident. His wife was admitted with chest and back injuries but was allowed to go home over the weekend.

State police said Mrs Forquer was driving the car and that she may have fallen asleep at the wheel.

The county supervisors won't appeal the allocation board's recent division of the 15 allocated mills, even though they were mighty unhappy about it.

The board of supervisors spent nearly half their June session Monday talking about the situation, but in the end decided not to appeal the allocation to the State Tax Commission as a number of the supervisors wanted to do.

Instead, the board said, it would tighten up its belt a little more and back its expenses and services even farther to stay within the proceeds the 5.63 mills allowed by the allocation board will bring them.

ONE OF THE SERVICES which may be dropped, they agreed informally, may be in the realm of roads and bridges. For several years the county board has appropriated $75,000 to the road commission to be used for bridge building on primary roads — an appropriation they consider to be "good government" because it produces another $75,000 through federal matching funds.

It was pointed out that if necessary this $75,000 could be chopped out of the budget as not being essential to county "operations," even though the board felt it was money well spent.

The discussion revolved around the county allocation board's dividing of the 15 mills allocable, in which they gave the county 5.63 mills in the final analysis instead of 6.415 mills in their preliminary allocation.

THE SCHOOL DISTRICTS of the county received 8.20 mills in the final allocation, compared to 7.415 in the preliminary allocation.

The other part of the 15 mills went to the townships (1 mill) and the Intermediate School District of Clinton County (17 mill) "I don't think we have a ghost of a chance (of getting a larger allocation on an appeal)," Riley Township Supervisor Norman Thelen commented. "The schools can point out that they have to have extra voted millage now to operate." And, he said, the county is getting more than it did last year (5.33 mills in 1966 for use in 1967), and the county compares favorably with millage allocated most of the surrounding seven counties.

AT THE REQUEST of the board, Roland J. Duguay, Clinton County's new special prosecutor who will replace Prosecutor Norman White who has resigned, appeared before the board to outline the courses of action the board could take.

He said the board could appeal the allocation board's action to the State Tax Commission — by June 9 — on the grounds of 1) material error of fact; 2) fraud; or 3) error in proceedings. The only one of the three the board felt might apply was in material error of fact.

Duguay said if an appeal was perfected by June 9, the State Tax Commission would call a hearing and then audit the budgets submitted. Would the county's budget stand the test? he asked.

Supervisor Derrill Shinabery said the items in the budget were kept at a minimum and most are "absolutely essential" for the operation of county government.

SUPERVISOR CHARLES Coletta of St. Johns, chairman of the board's finance and appropriations committee and a member of the allocation board, pointed out the county's proposed budget was clearly spelled out, especially so when compared to budget requests of the various school districts, which he said were vague in details. Duguay agreed that if an appeal was made this clearness of the budget should help the county.

But supervisors showed some concern that an appeal to the tax commission probably couldn't be on grounds strong enough to warrant the attempt.

Several of the supervisors sharply criticized citizen contentions that they were using allocated funds to build the additions to the county courthouse. Money for the construction, they said, comes from fees charged for various county services and which are placed in a special building fund; no allocated funds other than a minute amount permitted by law have been used, they said.

Supervisors unhappy but won't appeal allocation

County studying mental health program link-up with Shiawassee County

In space-age fashion, the Clinton County Board of Supervisors Monday made a mid-course maneuver Monday, slightly changing the direction of their local attack on mental health problems.

The board authorized its health committee to investigate the possibility of a joint operation with Shiawassee County of a mental health service.

Supervisor Gerald Shepard, chairman of the health, education and welfare committee, told the board of a recent meeting of the committee with officials of the Shiawassee County Mental Health Service.

HE SAID THE Shiawassee people showed interest in possibly uniting with Clinton for a two-county service or providing contractual service in mental health cases. Shiawassee has had a mental health board for about three years.

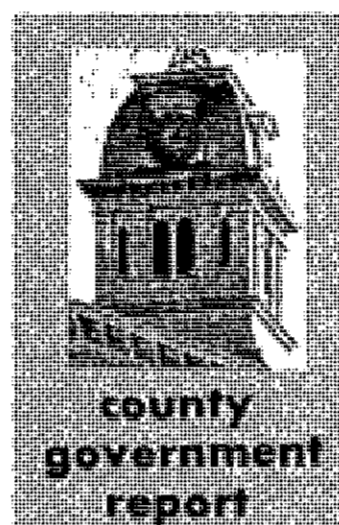

If the two counties were to join together, Shiawassee would first have to dissolve its own mental health board, Shepard said, and a new board representing both counties would replace it. The advantage of a two-county unit, he said, would be a single director over the two counties, with a clinic and a psychiatrist in each county.

Board Chairman Ernest Carter of Watertown Township said this sounded like a good approach, since the two counties have similar interest and a joint operation would be a savings to both counties. "And we would have the benefit of their three years of experience," he said.

DERRILL SHINABERY of Greenbush Township said he would want to know how much it would cost the county and how fast such a mental health department would grow.

Carter reminded supervisors the state will reimburse local mental health departments for 75 per cent of their costs. He said the approximately $9,000 which Clinton County appropriated last year for the now-defunct Lansing Child Guidance Center would be worth $6,000 in a mental health program.

Shepard added that Shiawassee officials point to a considerable savings of money over the years by operating their own mental health service on an out-patient basis rather than referring patients to state hospitals where the county bears the expense. Last month the board voted to seek the formation of a mental health board separate from the Lansing and Ingham County unit where mental health service is presently being received. The health committee got the OK Monday, however, to investigate a possible alliance with Shiawassee County.

IN OTHER BUSINESS Monday the board concurred with two zoning commission recommendations for rezoning in the county. One was to change a 40-acre plot along Airport Road north of Heribson from Class D agricultural to Class B residential, subject to single-family plat restrictions. Another rezoning approved was for a B1 residential zone in Section 29 of Bath Township where James Cronk is proposing a trailer coach subdivision.

A plea for "exemption" of residents in the Ann Drive area of Bath Township from provisions of the Clinton County Rural Zoning Ordinance pertaining to individual trailers was referred to the zoning committee for consideration. A representative of residents along Ann Drive said the residents desired to be able to sell their land and trailer or rent them if they desire, but this is contrary to the zoning ordinance as amended late last year.

The board voted to continue an appropriation of $750 quarterly to the Clinton County Soil Conservation District to aid in the payment of salary for secretarial help of the district. SCD Chairman Robert Moore and Director Stanley Baird appeared before the board Monday and explained the work the secretary does and her role in the enlarging program of the SCD in Clinton County.

THE BOARD accepted the resignation of Tony Pohl as dog warden, effective June 9. The agriculture and audit committee was to meet Wednesday (June 7) to discuss the appointment of a replacement.

The board approved the purchase of $897.60 in new office equipment for use by the Extension Service when it relocates in the basement of the welfare building on South Oakland Street.

Zoning Committee Chairman Walter Nobis said the committee had recommended to Marvin McGuire that he reapply to the zoning commission for a rezoning of land in Watertown Township which McGuire wants to establish a trailer park. McGuire appeared at the May board meeting to protest the fact the board did not act on the zoning commission's refusal of the rezoning request.

SUPERVISOR George Moore of Duplain Township was appointed to be one of the county's three representatives on the Grand River Watershed Council, replacing Raymond Mayers of Bengal Township. The other county representatives are William Hufnagel of Dallas and Walter Thelen of Westphalia.

Immunization clinic - June 21

The June session of the monthly free immunization clinics in Clinton County has been scheduled for Wednesday, June 21, the Mid-Michigan District Health Department reports.

It will be held from 1:30 to 4 p.m. in the basement of St. Joseph Catholic Church in St. Johns. In infants and adults are welcome. Children must be accompanied by an adult because signed permission for each child is mandatory. Records of any past immunizations should be brought to the clinic. Dr. Franklin W. Smith, MD, medical director of the department, will conduct the clinic with assistance by the public health nurses.

Clinton residents who can't make it June 21 are welcome to attend similar clinics June 19 in Gratiot County and June 20 in Moncalm County.

Aim for fall opening of new school additions at Eureka, East Essex

The Eureka and East Essex elementary school additions could conceivably be ready for use by this fall, and St. Johns school officials have made provisions for closing several one-room schools when that time comes.

Construction on the additions to the two northern neighborhood elementary schools is described as excellent so far, and if no problems crop up during the summer, the classrooms, at least, might be ready by the September opening of school.

IF SO, OR WHENEVER they are ready, the French and Greenwood school children will be transported to East Essex to complete the 1967-68 school year. Children in those districts living east of US-27, however, may go to Eureka School, Richmond, Sherwood, and Rowell school kids would go to the Eureka school.

School officials point out that rural school boundaries for the next few years will be flexible until a definite pattern can be established.

The move of students from the one-room schools to the new neighborhood schools will be made just as soon as possible. School officials have two possible target dates which they hope to make—the start of school or Christmas.

The most progress in construction has been made at the Eureka School, where work started first. Floors were being poured last week, walls are up and the roof is ready to go on.

At East Essex, the west wall is up and pouring of concrete was to start Monday.

IN THE SOUTHERN part of the district, walls are beginning to rise at the Riley Neighborhood Elementary School in the southwest area and work is just getting under way at the East Olive site where wet ground has delayed the beginning of construction.

NEW COURTHOUSE ADDITIONS

No births in the Clinton County Courthouse family have caused so much stir in recent years as those which occurred Friday morning when three little robins hatched out in a nest built snugly into branches next to the supervisors' room at the courthouse. Ever since Mom started sitting on the eggs, courthouse staffers have kept a close watch on the little family. The photographer managed to get this photo of the little ones at breakfast time Monday.

Swedish girl to come here

Another St. Johns family is making preparations for welcoming a foreign exchange student into their home next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Swagart and daughter Cheryl of 3252 N. DeWitt Road will be dad, mother and sister during the 1967-68 school year for Paula Kjelleras, 17, of Gotberg, Sweden.

Mrs. Swagart said last week Paula will arrive in St. Johns sometime in mid-August. She will probably be in the senior class, one year ahead of Cheryl.

GOTBERG, SWEDEN, is on the southern tip of that Scandinavian country. Her father is a harbor official at Gotberg and her mother a housewife. She has an older brother who has been to the United States on an exchange program, and a younger sister.

According to letters received by the Swagarts from Miss Kjelleras, she is taking 13 subjects in her gymnasium (high school) and is majoring in languages. She speaks English, German and French as well as her native language. She belongs to a jazz ballet group and has hobbies of painting, drawing, dancing and sewing.

The Swagarts farm 60 acres on North DeWitt Road. Besides their daughter Cheryl, Mr. and Mrs. Swagart have three boys and another daughter, all married.

Miss Kjelleras will be the second exchange student from Sweden in the St. Johns community in two years. Mikael Ask of Sweden is here this year with the Roy Davis family. The exchange student plan is a part of the Youth for Understanding program.

The annual congregational picnic and potluck supper of the St. Peter's Riley Lutheran Church will be this Sunday afternoon and evening on the church grounds. The day's activities will conclude with vespers . . .

4 drink, drive way to jail

Driving and drinking offenses were responsible for forced stays at the Clinton County Jail last week by several Clinton County and Lansing men.

Glen R. Guyer, 47, of R-1, Fowler, spend two days in the county jail and was fined $10 plus $19.30 costs by Municipal Judge Alba Wert after his arrest Memorial Day for driving on a suspended operator's license.

David J. Austin, 25, of 800 N. Clinton Avenue, drew a $75 fine and had to pay $100.15 in court costs after his conviction on a charge of furnishing beer to minors. Judge Wert also placed Austin on probation for one year.

James W. Sims, 18, of Lansing and Frank J. Burk, 18, also of Lansing, were fined $25 plus $22.40 costs each by Justice of the Peace Gordon Willyoung on separate charges of minor in possession. Sims, who was arrested June 1, was sentenced to five days in the county jail in addition to the fine; Burk got a three-day jail term following his arrest May 28.

Another jail resident last week was Forrest E. Parks, 17, of 221 E. Front Street, Ovid, who had been charged with simple larceny in Ovid following his arrest May 23. Justice Willyoung assessed Parks court costs of $19.90 and sentenced him to 10 days in jail and ordered him to make restitution of $10 involved in the larceny.

Checking in at the jail last week for a 15-day term was Donald L. Gordenhouse, 19, of Lansing, who was charged with malicious destruction in DeWitt Township June 1. Justice Willyoung also fined Gordenhouse $25 plus $22.40 costs and order him to make restitution of $55 in damages.

Hitching fee goes up

It is going to cost more to get hitched in Michigan.

Clinton County Clerk Paul Wakefield received notice Tuesday of the signing of a new law by Gov. Romney June 2 establishing a $5 fee for marriage licenses to replace a previous $3 fee. All the fee money stays in the county.

When both of the marriage license applicants are non-residents of Michigan, an additional $10 fee will be charged. The new law went into effect June 2 as Act 23 of Public Acts of 1967.

Seven couples who took out marriage licenses in Clinton County Monday got a break, because notification of the new rates wasn't received here until Tuesday.

DEWITT ALSO HAS competition within its own district for board of education seats, James Decatur and Roy Strait are both running for a single four-year seat on the board. There will be no millage issues on the June 12 ballot.

In the St. Johns School District, Richard Root and incumbents Alden Livingston and Leon Schumaker are candidates for two seats on the board of education for four-year terms. There are no millage issues facing voters Monday.

The Ovid-Elsie School Board has three vacancies this year, with six men after two four-year seats and two others seeking a single two-year term. Four-year candidates are Merle Green, Robert Bloomer, Howard Maltz, Charles Palen, Paul Jones and incumbent Robert Baese. Seeking the two-year term are Andrew Cobb and Wayne Flegel. There are no millage issues at Ovid-Elsie.

Fowler has no contest for the one school board seat open—Gerald Pohl is the only candidate—but there will be a millage issue at stake. The school board is asking for 8 1/2 mills for one year for operations; that levy would replace a five-mill levy expiring this year.

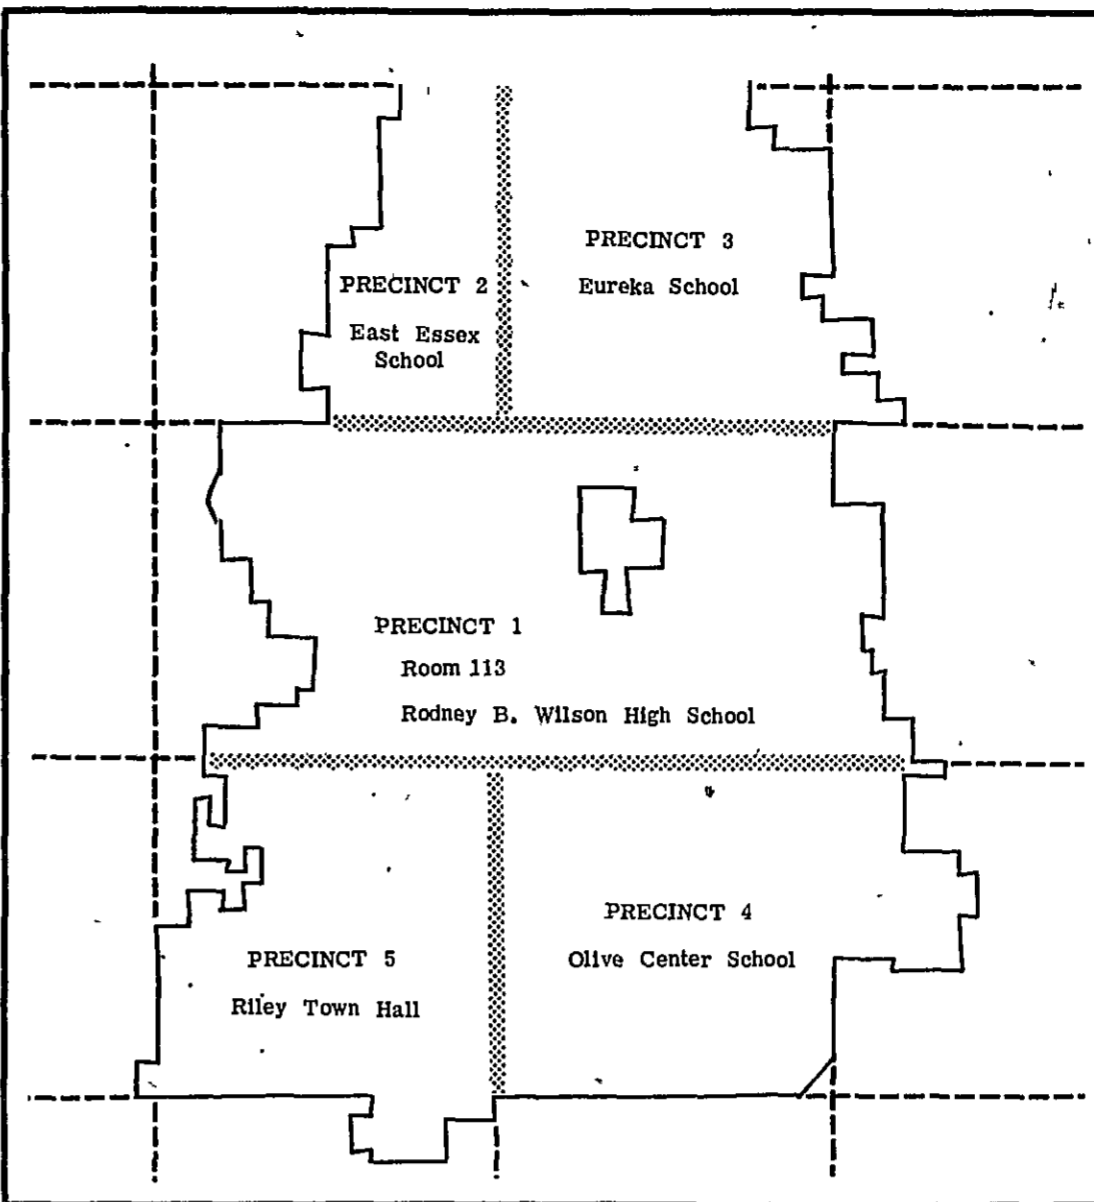

THE PEWAMO-WESTPHALIA School Board is asking voter approval Monday for a three-mill tax for school operations. The tax would be for one year only and would provide between $25,000 and $27,000 toward meeting a budget about $40,000 over last year. One member will be elected to the school board, but there appears to be no contest for that seat; the only candidate on the ballot is Eugene Cook, who has served on the board by appointment since April.

The Fulton School Board is urging approval of a four-mill tax levy for one year for operational purposes; it would replace a 3.75-mill levy expiring this year. Incumbents Henry Wiseman and Ronald Bellingher, both incumbents, are the only candidates for two four-year terms on the board of education.

Lansingburg will have the quietest election in the area. There is only one vacancy on the board and only one candidate for it—incumbent Elmer L. Smith. It's a four-year term. The school district also has one proposition that needs voter approval—a proposal to transfer funds from the 1950 and 1953 debt retirement funds to a building and site fund.

In the Ashley School District, Lloyd Burk and Stephen Davis are unopposed in seeking reelection for four-year terms, but incumbent Raymond Slavik is being opposed by William Porubsky in his bid for reelection for a two-year term. School district voters will also ballot on a six-mill operational tax levy again, a current six-mill levy expires this year.

Allen Bebow of 604 E. Baldwin Street told city police Sunday someone bent over the pipe on his front yard light.

PRECINCTS FOR ST. JOHNS SCHOOL ELECTION

Map shows the boundaries of the five voting precincts to be used in the June 12 school board election in the St. Johns School District. Precinct 1 includes parts of the district in Bengal, Bingham and Ovid townships; Precinct 2 includes Essex Township and Fulton of Gratiot County. Precinct 3 includes Greenbush, Duplain and parts of Washington and Elba townships in Gratiot. Precinct 4 takes in Olive and Victor townships; Precinct 5 includes Riley, Westphalia and Watertown townships.

2 automobiles collide, but no one injured

No injuries resulted from a two-car collision at 8:45 a.m. Monday at Forest Hill and Kinley roads on the Bengal-Essex township line. Sheriff's officers report a car driven by Onatee M. Kent, 27, of Tallman Road, Fowler, going west on Kinley, apparently ran the stop sign, striking the left front of a car driven by Kenneth Hafner, 24, of 217 N. Lansing Street.

Boy on bicycle struck by car

Ten-year-old Kevin L. Race, of 513 N. Lansing was treated at Clinton Memorial Hospital about 7:15 p.m. Friday after his bicycle was struck by a car at the intersection of Ottawa and Gibbs streets in St. Johns.

City police said the boy, going south on Ottawa, pulled in front of a car going west; it was driven by Clare E. Salters, 40, of 813 N. Lansing Street.

Youngsters toss stones, damage passing car

Youngsters camping out along US-27 north of Price Road were responsible for damage to his car, Ward R. Leonard, 35, of 508 W. Baldwin Street, St. Johns, told sheriff's officers over the weekend.

Leonard said the kids threw a handful of stones at the car, breaking the windshield in three places, and chipping the hood and chrome.

Lengthy jail terms given

Some lengthy jail sentences were handed out since the weekend by DeWitt Justice of the Peace Gordon Willyoung and St. Johns Municipal Judge Alba Wert.

Wayne Peplau, 17, of 16815 S. DeWitt Road, Lansing, was fined a total of $90 plus $44.90 costs and sentenced to 30 days in jail by Justice Willyoung on charges of drag racing, no operator's license and no registration plates.

Judge Wert gave Roy J. Wygant, 19, of R-1, Perry, a 30-day jail term on top of a $50 fine and $24.90 court costs assessment following his arrest in Bath on an assault and battery charge.

Other jail residents since the weekend were Charles H. Boots III, 17, of R-1, St. Johns, who was arrested Monday in Maple Rapids on a minor in possession charge. Wert fined Boots $15 plus $20.80 costs and sentenced him to two days in jail.

Herbert C. Burris, 51, of 16181 DeWitt Road, Lansing, was fined $50 plus $15 costs by Justice Willyoung on a drunk and disorderly charge.

City recreation program set to open on June 15

Douglas hired as director

St. Johns' on-again, off-again, on - again summer recreation program will be opened next week with registration on Thursday and the start of playground activity on Friday, June 16.

H. Blaine Douglas, teacher and football coach at Fowler High School, has been hired by the city to direct the summer program, which will run tentatively through Aug. 25.

On the schedule are four all-day playgrounds, softball, baseball and tennis for youngsters and hopefully—if enough interest is shown—an adult recreation program that could include horseshoes, slow-pitch softball, tennis, square dancing and other activities.

start Friday, June 16, from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. at Perrin-Palmer, Swegles, East Ward and the city park.

"We will start our playground program using the four sites," Douglas said. "If we find a larger number of children on one playground we will have to make adjustments in our program to meet the needs of that area."

The softball and baseball league games will be held in the morning. Schedules will be drawn up after it is known how many boys register. "We would like to set up leagues according to age and give all boys a chance to play regardless of ability," Douglas stated.

set up a slow-pitch softball league, horseshoe league, square dancing and other activities.

Douglas will be in his office at the city park concession building from 7 to 9 p.m. next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday to meet with any adults or groups who would like to look into the feasibility of setting up some type of adult recreation activity.

"We will make some mistakes and we will not be able to satisfy everyone," Douglas said, "but I hope the people of St. Johns will realize that we are trying to put forth a program which will benefit and service the community and a program which the community can be proud of."

Pool Director

REGISTRATION BEGINS next Thursday, June 15, and will be held from 9:30 a.m. to noon and 1 to 3:30 p.m. at the city park, Perrin Palmer School, Swegles School and East Ward School. Registration for softball, baseball and tennis will take place Friday, June 16, from 9 a.m. to noon at the city park ball diamond.

THE TENNIS PROGRAM will be one of instruction for those boys or girls wishing to learn to play tennis or improve their game.

Playground activities will include individual and group games, arts and crafts, hikes, pet shows, bicycle races and other such activities. Playground champions in individual and group games—such as checkers and horseshoes—will be determined and will be given a chance to compete against other playground champs to establish city playground champions.

"We hope to keep four playgrounds open all day instead of three on a one-half day schedule," Douglas said. "It will depend upon the number of children registering and the number of qualified personnel we can hire."

Playgrounds will be for use of those children from age 5 to 14 years old. Children 15 or older who want to take part in the recreation program should attend the city park playground, Douglas said.

"I'M SURE WE WILL have a full summer recreation program for the children," Douglas continued. "Another part of the recreation program will include adults in the area. We are planning a city-wide tennis and horseshoe tournament for interested adults. If enough people show interest we may possibly

Little League tryouts tonight

Little League and Pony League tryouts for places on teams in this summer's competition will be held tonight (Thursday) beginning at 6 p.m. at the city park in St. Johns.

Jack Downing, president of the St. Johns Little League, said numbers were assigned to about 50 youngsters who attended a Little League clinic at the high school gym last Wednesday night. The numbers will be used by team managers in helping to make selections for their teams.

All boys between the ages of 9 and 15 are eligible to try out for teams if they are not already on one, Downing said. They are welcome tonight regardless of whether they were at the clinic last week.

Park pool opens June 15, swim lessons start June 26

One sure sign of summer is the opening of the swimming pool, and Pool Director William L. Campbell has announced that date as next Thursday, June 15.

Beginning June 15 the pool will be open for public swimming from 1 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m. seven days a week and from 9:30 a.m. to noon on week days when there are no swimming classes. The daily public swimming fee is 25 cents for all students and 50 cents for adults.

Swimming lessons will begin June 26 for the first three-week session. There will be no classes the week of July 4. Registration for the first session will be held in the large pavilion at the city park June 22 and 23 for all students living in the city of St. Johns. Others will be registered June 23.

ALL APPLICANTS for swimming lessons should bring the proper fees: $5 for all students living in the St. Johns Public School District and $10 for those living outside the district.

"Everyone is encouraged to raise the level of his or her swimming skill," Pool Director Campbell said, "and a particular welcome is extended to those who have not as yet experienced the thrill of swimming. Every effort will be made to accommodate every student who desired to participate in the swimming program."

Applicants for swim classes must be at least 7 years of age and not less than three feet six inches tall. They must have successfully passed previous courses prior to being admitted to the next more advanced level.

THE FIVE STANDARD classes to be taught, listed in the order of difficulty, are: beginners, intermediates, swimmers, junior life saving and senior life saving. If there should be sufficient interest on the part of high school students and adults, a class in survival swimming will be taught from 5 to 6 p.m. "This is an excellent course for the boating and water skiing enthusiasts who may at some time find themselves in the water when they least expect it," Campbell pointed out. "This is an opportunity for father and son, mother and daughter to learn some new skills together."

The second session of swimming lessons will begin July 31, with the registration in the pavilion July 26 and 27. All students living in St. Johns may register on either day and all others on Thursday, July 27.

County designated as tornado disaster area

Secretary Freeman has designated Barry, Clinton, and Ionia counties as disaster areas under Public Law 85-58 as a result of damage to farmland by tornadoes on April 21.

Farmers may apply at our office for cost-sharing for the removal of debris on cropland deposited by the tornado.

This assistance is limited to cleaning up debris on cropland. It includes the removal of fallen trees, and other tornado-deposited debris to return the land to its normal productive capacity.

The assistance is based on the cost to the farmer to remove the debris. This would not include any volunteer help which was donated or when the insurance company paid the farmer to remove the debris.

Anyone who wishes to receive cost-share under the program should come to our office and make application; we will assist you in making the application.

I want to remind wheat producers participating in the 1967 wheat program to certify to their wheat acreage before June 15. We have about 80 producers who have not certified as of this date.

Feed grain producers participating in the feed grain program should come to the county office and certify as soon as they have their corn planted, July 15 is the last day to certify for feed grain.

Our farmer reporters are checking acreages reported by producers participating in the wheat and feed grain programs. It will help our reporters if you will leave word at home where your diverted acreage is for the feed grain program; if you are gone from home during the day, this will save a return trip to the farm.

PRODUCERS participating in the ACP program should report performance for the practice as soon as it is completed. Be sure to send in the necessary papers with your performance report.

We still have funds available for cost-sharing conservation practices. This is a good time of year to get your soil tested for lime, and get the lime applied before fall.

Rev Green receives doctorate in theology

REV ROY F. GREEN

The Rev Roy F. Green, 70, pastor of the St. Johns Baptist Temple in St. Johns, Sunday was awarded a doctor of theology degree from Worth Baptist College in Ft. Worth, Tex.

That start came at the age of 48 for Rev Green, after care of his family forced him to remain in the plastering business for 27 years despite a desire to go into the ministry. Rev Loughheed encouraged Green for the ministry and on Dec. 27, 1944, ordained him for the gospel ministry.

REV GREEN ENTERED Bible Baptist Seminary at Fort Worth, Tex., a few days later and attended until the spring of 1946. At April that year he became pastor of the Victory Baptist Church of Levering, Mich. In December 1947 he and his wife returned to Fort Worth to further their schooling and to help in constructing a dormitory at the seminary.

In June 1948, Rev Mr Green became pastor of the First Baptist Church of Boyne City, and his son, Donald (now pastor of the Parker Memorial Baptist Church in Lansing), was assistant pastor. His son described the pastorate there by his father as "one of the greatest pastorates of his entire ministry." In the fall of 1953, after receiving his master of theology degree, Rev Green felt the call by God to go to Carlo, Ga., where he organized from scratch the Carlo Baptist Church. A few weeks after he was there, a revival meeting turned passive interest in the church to active interest. Rev Green and the men of the church obtained a cement block machine, mixed cement to make their own blocks and built their own church using the blocks and the lumber from the woods. The church still stands today.

He left Carlo in the winter of 1954 and started a new work in East Jordan, Mich. In the summer of 1955 with his son going to the Parker Memorial Baptist Church in Lansing, Rev Green resigned at East Jordan and supervised the building of the auditorium for his son's church. Rev Green then went to Nashville, Mich., where he supervised the building of a two-story Sunday school unit for the church there. In 1980 he accepted a call to the State Street Baptist Church in St. Johns — the church

Holiday crash hurts 2 from area

Two Clinton County men and a Lansing woman were seriously injured last Tuesday afternoon in the worst of few Memorial Day weekend crashes in the area.

Taken to Clinton Memorial Hospital with serious injuries were Robert J. Gladstone Jr., 26, of 8301 N. Welling Road, Eureka, and Richard Bancroft 29, of Pearl Street, Ovid. Gladstone was driver of one of the cars.

Also injured seriously and transferred from Clinton Memorial to a Lansing hospital was Mrs Joseph E. Wood of Lansing, who was a passenger in a car driven by her husband. Wood himself suffered bruises in the crash.

State police said Gladstone was going east on Hyde Road at US-27 and apparently pulled in front of the Wood car. They quoted Wood as saying he saw the Gladstone car cross the southbound lane of U-27 but thought it would stop on the median strip cross-over. When it didn't, it was too late to stop, troopers quoted Wood as saying.

Bancroft remained at Clinton Memorial Hospital yet Monday, described as in "fairly good" condition. Gladstone was released over the weekend.

DAVID WILLIAMS

Summer in Sweden for D. Williams

The Elsie area has been represented by its youth in European countries during the past eight years as a part of the Youth for Understanding teenage program.

David Williams, 16 year old son of Mr and Mrs Glenn R. Williams of 7471 Warren Road, Elsie, has received word from the YFU director, Mrs Rachel Andresen of Ann Arbor, that he will spend eight weeks with the Marten Lindquist family in Odensbacken, Sweden, just 12 miles south of Orebro and west of the capital city Stockholm.

The YFU program introduces American teenagers to the European way of life as they become part of family and community life there. As a result, they develop a greater appreciation of the cultural background and historic contributions which these countries share.

DAVID WILL leave June 19 from the Detroit Metropolitan Airport on a chartered jet. He will enjoy living with the Lindquist family and his "adopted" brother Per (pronounced pear) because they have many of the same interests.

Per collects coins for a hobby and David is looking forward to exchanging coins. Both are interested in music. Per plays tennis and David is anxious to learn. David has always lived on a farm, was active in 4-H work (electrical club) and his father's helper with the farm work. Per's father owns 1700 acres of forests about 90 miles from their home and checks on it twice a week. Per plans to be an exchange student next year but doesn't know where he will be staying.

David says he will also have three older "brothers" a 27 year old engineer, a 26 year old who plans to marry this summer (David will be a guest at the wedding) and another 22 year old who is still in school.

THIS SIZE family is not new to David as he has three younger sisters, Barbara 12, Pamela 9, and Kathy 7.

He has been busy with extra curricular activities in both school and church. He is a member of the National Honor Society, the French and Latin clubs, Student Council, editor-in-chief of school paper "The Maraudian," Marching and Symphonic Bands playing oboe and participating in ensembles at Music Festivals. He had three years of audiovisual aids and is a member of the lighting crew for stage in the new school.

HE WAS ACTIVE in the Boy Scout and Explorer programs and participated in a 23-day Philmont Expedition and Western Tour to New Mexico. He attends the Elsie Methodist Church and is vice president of the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

Upon his return from the summer in Europe, David will enter Ovid-Elsie High School as a senior.

The Michigan Council of Churches sponsors the Youth for Understanding and carries out the program with the Department of State.

SUDDEN DEATH

Whether high speed causes accidents may be debatable, but that it makes them worse, isn't.

City commissioners meet the public

This past week the St. Johns City Commission has held two meetings with local citizens in an effort to combat some of the opposition to the charter amendment vote.

The two meetings with citizens, one last Thursday with an invited group of approximately 50, and the other Monday evening open to the public at large, brought to light two developments, neither new.

FROM THE TWO meetings the commission found that the opposition to the charter amendment vote is more of a protest over urban renewal and the public relations of some city administrators rather than against the charter amendment.

The charter problem has stemmed from a study made last year which revealed that the tax limit for the City of St. Johns, was 10 mills, not the 20 mills which all commissions had assumed over the past number of years.

IN ASKING FOR the charter revision, the commissioners did so in hopes of having the present city charter conform with the Home Rule Act which sets the legal tax limit at 20 mills.

The commission, in asking for this charter amendment, has stated this is needed to maintain the services which the citizens of the City of St. Johns have come to expect.

THE CITY HAS been operating on a 16 mill budget, but with the present charter limiting the assessable millage to 10, the city cannot be expected to maintain all the previous service, the commission said. The addition of six more mills which the city can legally assess, three for bonded indebtedness on the water improvement program, two for garbage and rubbish collection and one for the library, can only be used for the purposes for which they are assessed.

But this would be only a stop-gap measure in meeting the immediate needs, the commission said, and would not be a satisfactory solution for any overall period of time.

THE COMMISSIONS main problem at the present, according to Mayor Charles Coletta, is the disassociation of the urban renewal and public relations aspects from the charter vote. This of course is easier said than done.

Although an unfavorable vote on the charter amendment will more than likely kill any urban renewal plans, a favorable vote will not mean that it will be instigated.

COLETTA STATED that, as far as the urban renewal question is concerned it has to be aired at a public meeting, and the commission's decision would be made at this meeting.

Asked if he thought the urban renewal program would be rejected if the majority at the public meeting were in disagreement, Coletta stated, "he believed it would."

Hettingers wed 25 years

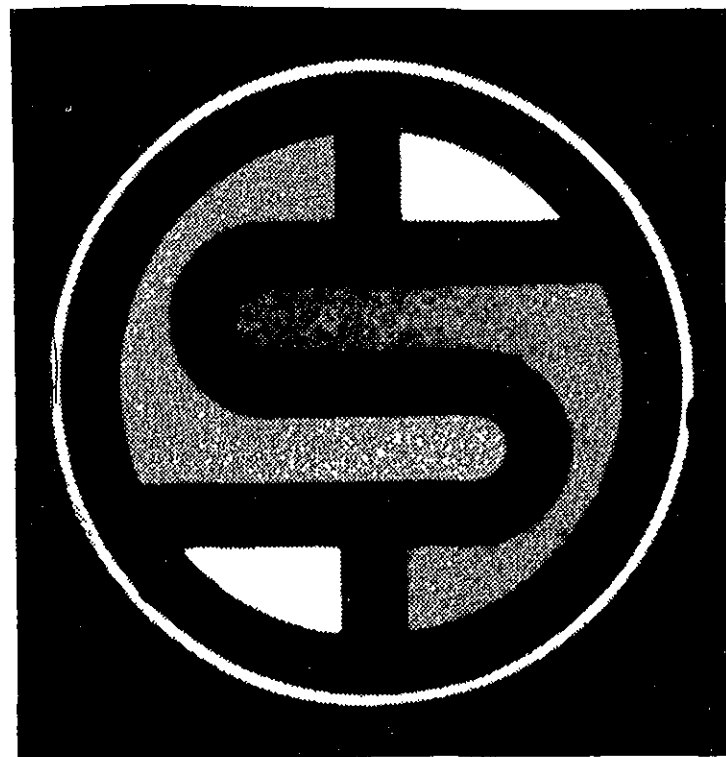

Mr and Mrs Paul Hettinger celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary June 7.

An open house hosted by their children, Michael Hettinger, Thomas Hettinger and Mrs Budd Sulliff, will be held at a later date when their son, Thomas, returns home after a three year tour of duty with the Air Force in England.

AS TO THE matter of public relations between city administrators and citizenry, Coletta said he thought that this should be discussed among the commissioners and any action should come from here.

The two meetings have been beneficial in some respects. It has given the city commission some ideas on how to promote the charter amendment and has also given the commission a chance to answer citizens questions concerning the issue.

THE GROUPS at the two meetings acted favorably and the outcome seemed to indicate a better understanding of the problems and a willingness to support the amendment.

4-H Club Chatter

By JOHN AYLSWORTH
Extension 4-H Youth Agent

Chris Cornell works in his green house as both a 4-H and money-making project.

Chris Cornell of the Stoney Creek 4-H Club is using his 4-H Club project to make some money while learning a lot about raising plants in his home made green house. He planted cabbage, tomatoes, peppers, and eggplants, and flower seeds in milk cartons and then transplanted them to flats for further growth. The plants are of excellent quality and ready to transplant to someone's garden. If anyone is interested in getting some plants, Chris lives at 1601 E. Centerline Road south of St. Johns.

The 4-H Club program will be represented in the Jaycee Soap Box Derby parade on Sunday, June 11, with a 4-H float being constructed by the 4-H junior leadership club and service club, showing how 4-H provides many steps to world opportunities. Also, the county 4-H horse program will have representatives from the different clubs riding in the parade. The parade starts at 6 p.m. in St. Johns.

Conservation 4-H members are reminded not to forget the conservation fun day, Tuesday, June 13, starting at 10 a.m. at Smith Hall in St. Johns. This program is open to 4-H members, friends, parents and leaders.

The Double M Horse Club 4-H members held a work meeting recently showing their horses at halter and under saddle. The club will meet again on June 10.

The Stoney Creek Community 4-H Club held its monthly meeting with 45 members enrolled for the summer program. Steve Balderson was elected president for 1967. Other officers include Roger Davis as vice president; Cindy Davis as secretary; Linda Phinney as treasurer; and Chris Cornell as newsreporter. Tom Bullard and Robert Harte were selected for the softball team managers for the team in the Green League.

The Stoney Creek Garden and Flower members under the leadership of Helen Cornell are under way with 23 members. Mrs. Cornell told the members what and how many kinds of flowers they had to have. Kathy Randolph, the flower junior leader, talked on "How to make a garden most colorful." Also, Kathy will be attending the flower arrangement workshop at Camp Kett June 13-16. Chris Cornell, the vegetable garden junior leader, gave a talk on varieties of plants and how to plant their garden. Plans are being made for the members to visit Lansing market in the near future.

Riverside Riders 4-H Saddle Horse members have planned a trail ride Saturday, June 10, from 1-4 p.m. at the home of their leader, Nadine Tagg. The club held a workout on May 20 and 27, where the members received instruction in riding and caring for their horse. The members heard reports on feeding by Kathy and Linda Lowell; equipment and tack by Vickie Payne and Rhonda Dell; and "Hoof Care" by Carla and Shawn Bergan and Diane Chamberlin. The Riverside Riders is a project club in the Eagle Beavers 4-H club.

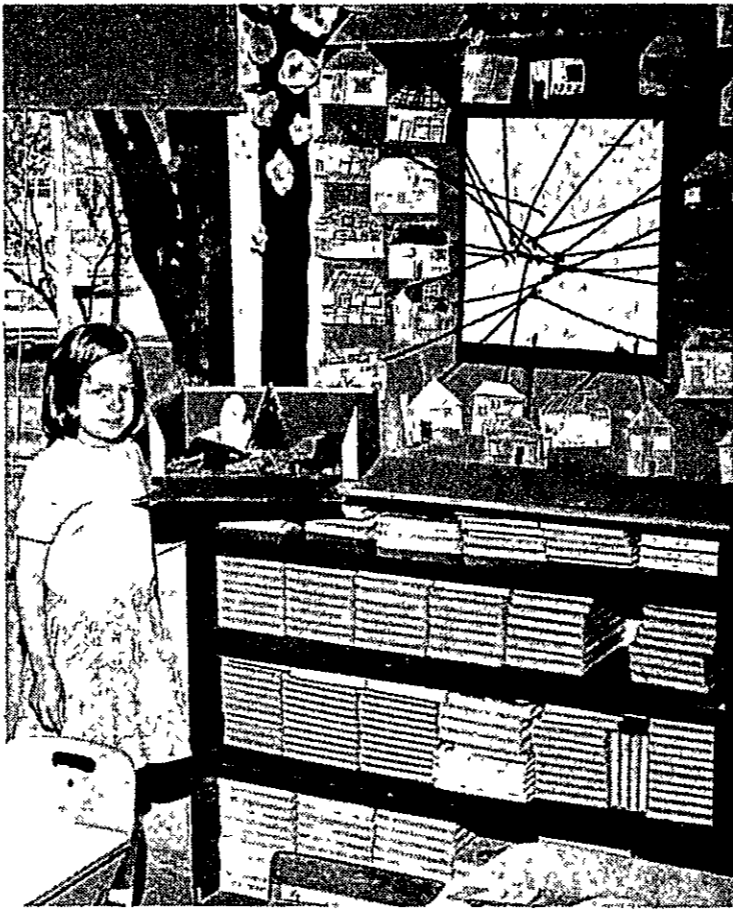

The Parker Workers 4-H Club elected officers for the year, discussed the summer activities and arranged a softball game with the Jolly Green Giants. A foods and nutrition meeting was held for the food members.

The Jolly 4-H Canning Cook's 4-H Club under the leadership of Esther Plowman and Helen Ward has 25 girls enrolled in food, eight in safety, three in photography, two in personal improvement and three in vegetable garden and flower garden. The club holds their monthly meeting on the second Tuesday of each month with special meetings on project areas. The girls are working on action exhibits and demonstrations in connection with their projects.

Clinton County 4-H summer enrollment reached a new high this year with 1,107 members participating in 43 local 4-H clubs. This enrollment increase is 104 members above the 1966 summer program.

The clubs range in size from seven to 74 members, with the Olive 4-H and the Victor 4-H Clubs both having 74 members. There were five new clubs organized to provide more youth with opportunities in 4-H club work. Adults serving as organizational or project leaders range from 1 to 13 leaders per club, with Fowler Busy Bees having the largest number of adult leaders.

Final plans for the county 4-H camp June 26-30 at Barry County 4-H Camp at Hastings are being completed this week. The counsellors met Wednesday afternoon to outline each day's program. Presently there are 54 members signed up for camp. This camp is for only the 10-11-year-old members. The deadline for reservations is June 12.

MICHIGAN WEEK DISPLAY

Julie Latimer from Mrs. Weismiller's second grade room at Central School holds her outdoor camping display she made for the Michigan Week exhibit. On the wall is an exhibit showing where the children in the room live.

The schedule will be sent to the leaders later this week.

4-H numbers increase 10%

Summer enrollment in Clinton County 4-H programs has shown a 10 per cent increase this year, with 1,107 members signed up as of Friday, Extension 4-H Youth agent John Aylsworth reports.

That's an increase of 104 youngsters over last year. Although tabulations on all the project areas aren't complete, it looks like one of the largest increases in project interest is in horses, with 166 youngsters taking that project this year, compared to 121 last year. Photography has shown one of the largest percentage jumps, going from 33 youths last year to 60 this year.

Optimism and cheerfulness are by far the world's best tonic.

WILL IT TAKE A RAIN to make nitrogen work?

Not if you use Smith-Douglass GRO-GREEN Anhydrous Ammonia to sidedress your corn. GRO-GREEN Anhydrous Ammonia is placed deep into the moisture zone where it can start feeding the roots immediately.

Any nitrogen placed on top of the ground must lie until rain moves it into the root zone. Even stirring the nitrogen into the topsoil with a cultivator won't make other nitrogen work without a good rain.

If you haven't applied nitrogen to your corn, why not sidedress with GRO-GREEN® Anhydrous Ammonia and be sure of results — even in a dry year.

More injured in home than highway

BY HELEN B. MEACH
Extension Home Economist

Every seven seconds someone is injured at home. Most of us feel safe at home, yet facts show that twice as many people need physicians care from home acidents as from highway accidents. You're just not facing facts when you say, "well we made it, once more we are home safe and sound."

How about a tour of correction and inspection at your home for all the family. Go from room to room - starting in the kitchen, the most dangerous room in the house. Principal danger points here in the kitchen are the stove, under the sink, and in low cabinets and closets.

A glance at the stove should always remind you that all utensil handles must be turned to the back of the stove at all times - out of reach of toddlers who stretch up to see what's boiling away in that pot on the stove.

UNDER THE KITCHEN sink you probably will find essential but highly dangerous items, such as bleach, lye, furniture polish, ammonia, mothballs, detergents and ant poison. These must be kept on a high shelf, or at least definitely locked away from exploratory youngsters. This is an inconvenience for you and the family for a while but is if the only sure way to protect your youngsters.

The smallest child can take knives, ice picks, and scissors out of a kitchen drawer. These should be kept out of reach of youngsters until they are older, when they can be taught their use. Electric appliances should be unplugged and covered when Another potential death trap is the bathroom. Only harmless bathroom needs should be kept in the medicine chest and low cabinets and drawers. Lethal items, such as manuring and shaving equipment and dangerous medicines, including aspirin, should be placed in a locked cabinet out of childish sight and reach.

IN OTHER ROOMS of the house may be electric outlets that should be plugged and extension cords that should be mended, cigarette lighters and matches that should be put away, guns and ammunition that should be placed under lock and key, broken toys that should be thrown away, and windows and screens that should be secured against falls.

And out in the family garage, which often doubles as a store-room and catchall, may be kerosene, antifreeze, saws and hammers, lawn mowers, and other miscellany that can burn, cut and poison inquisitive tots. Tools and sharp implements as well as flammable products should have a special storage place which can be padlocked.

AND IN THE YARD you may have a lily or fish pond which should be filled in with dirt until the children are older, or a swimming pool that should be surrounded by a fence with a locked gate, or sharp shears and trowels left by a garden hedge that was being trimmed, or poison placed where it can kill children as well as pesky insects.

Only you can look through your house and decide what is a danger point and what is not. As you find these dangerous spots you, likewise, will have to find your own remedy for them. Home safe? You can make it that way!

Larry is in seventh heaven. He got his baseball suit yesterday, and is finally a full-fledged member of the neighborhood team.

He is the youngest one in the lot, and certainly the smallest. But he packs a great deal of leadership ability in that half-pint frame. We had not lived in our neighborhood one month, before he was bat boy and unofficial mascot. In just a few short weeks, morale improved. Two of the boys nicknamed, "Loudmouth" and "Fats" became "Speed" and "Lefty." The boys began to cooperate and play better as a team. They moved steadily upward in the league.

You can imagine what this did to our spirits. How proud we were, and yet humble too, for we knew we could not take complete credit for his sense of fair play. You see, he has been brought up in the Church as well as in our home. It's a wonderful feeling to realize that in such a few short years our son has shown the influence of Christian training.

Twenty-five members of the Youth Fellowship of the Congregational Church and their advisors will leave Friday afternoon, June 9, for a Planning retreat at Elk Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smit and Mr. and Mrs. L. Russell Steffens will be their hosts. The Rev. Gerald Churchill and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Pope will serve as advisors.

Newly installed officers of the group are: Jack Guthrie, president; Kathy Pierson and Jill Guthrie, vice presidents; Mary Austin, secretary-treasurer.

While there will be ample time for recreation and fire-side meetings Friday and Saturday nights, much of Saturday will be devoted to planning the program for the year beginning Sept. 10. The principal feature of Sunday morning will be an out-door worship service on the shore of Elk Lake, conducted by Rev. Mr. Churchill and members of the group. The young people will return home Sunday afternoon.

Summer remedial program

The Ovid-Elste Area Schools have received word that the remedial program for this summer has been approved by the State Department of Education. The school district will operate two centers: one at the North Elementary School in Ovid and one at the E. E. Knight Elementary in Elsie, from June 19-28.

Four teachers will be employed to tutor each child enrolled. It is our hope that a parent will attend each scheduled session with their child so that they will better understand the child's individual problems and be prepared to assist them.

THE LIBRARY at each school will be kept open every day of the program. All children of the Elsie and Ovid communities are welcome to use the libraries at this time, besides the children enrolled in the summer program.

Parents who are interested in having their children attend the summer school should contact the office of the elementary schools. Parents of children who are recommended for the program by their teachers will be contacted by the school.

Mrs. Harold Beardslee returned home last Saturday from Cyosso Memorial hospital where she was under treatment three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hooker of Livonia were guests last weekend of Mrs. Aphra Pixley.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Haskins of Kalamazoo called on Ovid friends last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wiegman and family of Evanston, Ill., came last Saturday to return Mrs. Euna DeGurse to her home here after spending several months with the Wiegmans.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Bakke spent several days last week with their son, Robert in Connecticut.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Edgecomb and son Gary of Rockford and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Senft of Toledo, Ohio, spent last Monday night and Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Max Miller where Monday evening 20 of their Ovid friends gathered for a potluck supper.

Dan Tubbs of Ferris State College, Big Rapids and Norman Tubbs were last Tuesday guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Tubbs.

Francine Fowler is hooked to her home.

Weddings not always 'victory' celebrations

The modern bride sweeps down the aisle with all the self-satisfaction of a Diana returning from the hunt with a stag slung over her shoulder.

Wedding pictures are always the same: the groom looks noble, dedicated and stunned; the bride looks smug.

BUT THE JUNE ritual wasn't always the victory celebration of the predatory female. "In primitive times, the marriage relationship did not last long. Often the woman was simply a captured slave," World Book Encyclopedia says.

Many persons believe that the best man today dates back to the time when a strong-armed friend of the groom held off the woman's relatives while the groom made his escape — with his bride. The custom of carrying the bride over the threshold also probably dates back to the practice of capturing a wife.

"THE HONEYMOON tradition may also have started in the days of marriage by capture," World Book adds. "During the honeymoon, the groom waited hoping his wife's parents would stop being angry."

In some other primitive cultures, marriage by purchase was more common than marriage by capture. It left the bride with fewer bruises, but was harder on her pride, especially when her groom — to — be thought her value was about the same as one small ox.

THIRD FINGER—LEFT HAND

The wedding ring is usually worn on the third finger of the left hand, World Book Encyclopedia notes, because many people once thought a vein or nerve in this finger ran directly to the heart.

Be thankful for your troubles!

BY: ROBERT R. UPDEGRAFF
Executive Development
Press, Inc.
Littleton, N.H.

Has it ever occurred to you to be thankful for the troubles and problems of your job?

You ought to be, because they provide at least half your pay. If it were not for the things that go wrong, the trying people you have to deal with in your work, the worries and discouragements, and the headache situations—someone could be found to handle your job for about half as much as you are being paid.

As a matter of fact, it is difficulties and discouragements that create good jobs for thousands of us.

IF MACHINES ALWAYS behaved, if they turned out perfect products hour after hour, there would be no need for anybody to tend them, and no jobs for inspectors. Nor would there be any need for repair crews of machinists, electricians, steam fitters, etc.

If the people in an organization never made mistakes, never forgot or overlooked anything, See BE THANKFUL page 11-B

What is Farm Bureau's new Wheat Marketing Program?

WHAT IS THE WHEAT MARKETING PROGRAM?

It is a program to provide for more orderly marketing, for promotion and expanded export sales of soft wheat. The objective is to increase the dollar returns to Farm Bureau members from the sale of their soft winter wheat.

HOW CAN FARM BUREAU MEMBERS PARTICIPATE IN THE WHEAT PROGRAM?

1) Sign a marketing agreement before June 15. Indicate in the agreement the number of acres to be harvested, the estimated number of bushels to be marketed, and the name of the approved elevator where you wish to deliver wheat for the Wheat Marketing Program.

2) At harvest, deliver wheat to a designated country elevator. Upon delivery you will be given a certificate showing that a given amount of wheat was placed in the Wheat Marketing Program.

3) Upon delivery of the wheat an advance payment will be made.

4) The wheat in the program will be marketed in an orderly manner over the year. On or before May 31, of the year following harvest, final payments will be calculated and made to growers. Growers will receive the average price of wheat sold from the program less storage, handling and costs of promotion and administration.

WHY IS SUCH A WHEAT PROGRAM NEEDED?

1) Many Michigan farmers sell their wheat at harvest time. Usually, prices are lowest during this period. Orderly marketing over a period of several months will increase returns during most marketing seasons.

2) The program will give producers income at harvest time yet allow them to share in the normal seasonal rise in price. It is a program of farmers working on marketing without turning to government.

3) The key to higher soft wheat prices has been the amount that moves into export. In the past, the amount exported has been largely controlled by the amount the government programmed under PL-480, the Food for Peace Program. If exports are increased by even a few million bushels, it could have a significant effect on the market. A volume of wheat under one marketing firm's control plus some export promotion could increase soft wheat prices.

4) Bargaining for price is improved as more wheat comes under the control of a single marketing agency. The program could be tied in with other states where soft wheat is grown and provide the marketing agency with greater bargaining power.

THERE'S MONEY TO BE MADE?

Records show that in nine of the past 12 years, farmers would have received more income from the sale of wheat if they could have marketed their wheat in an orderly method rather than selling it at harvest time. The Farm Bureau Wheat Marketing Program gives farmers both cash at harvest time and participation in orderly marketing.

WHAT IS THE COST?

The marketing costs of a wheat program are not expected to be any higher than where a farmer regularly stores and sells later.

IS ANY GOVERNMENT MONEY USED IN THIS PROGRAM?

This is a non-government program handled entirely by the farmer's own organizations. The money used to make the advance payment on the wheat, at time of delivery, will be furnished by Agricultural Credit Cooperatives.

WHO WILL CONTROL THE PROGRAM?

Farmers participating in the program will be represented on a Producers' Soft Wheat Advisory Committee. This committee will advise on the operation of the program and help keep fellow cooperators informed on the progress of the program and the marketing operations.

WHAT ARE THE CHANCES FOR RECEIVING MORE MONEY FOR OUR WHEAT?

Since many farmers "dump" wheat on the market at harvest their chances for financial gain are improved because of the orderly marketing features of this program. They have much to gain and very little to lose by cooperating in this program.

WHAT IS THE OPPORTUNITY FOR EXPANDING EXPORTS?

Because of the economic development in foreign countries and the growing need for more food, the opportunities are good for additional exports. Since carryover of soft wheat is small, a little promotion and increase in exports can cause domestic buyers to bid competitively for the available supplies and thus strengthen prices. Farm Bureau already has marketing and exporting machinery to help do the job. The farmer's wheat can be taken all the way from the farm to Europe through existing marketing cooperatives.

WHAT ARE THE PROSPECTS OF A REGIONAL WHEAT MARKETING PROGRAM?

This idea has been discussed with Farm Bureau leadership in the other major soft wheat producing states. One state has already operated a program through one year. The successful operation of the Michigan program could spur other states into action.

REMEMBER SIGN-UP DEADLINE IS JUNE 15 - Contact the county Farm Bureau office for more information or drop in at the St. Johns Cooperative Co. or the Fowler Farmers Cooperative Elevator. Contracts are available at all of these locations.

Keep well behind the car ahead of you while driving in bad weather. Stopping distances are increased by three to 12 times on wet roads.

A fad is just too bad

BY: DON D. KINSEY
Information Division
Michigan Farm Bureau
Should a fellow "feel satisfied" when he approaches the end of his active service in life? Well, I don't. It disturbs me that I have not been able to be a more uncommon man.

Why should I be unhappy to be just a common man? Frankly, I do not like to get lost in the crowd—to do only what the "crowd" does, and nothing more! Doing only what the crowd does is to react under the drug of monotony—to lack originality and ingenuity. Moving only according to the passive push of the crowd prevents the launching of new and different plans and blocks any exploration of new frontiers. Life can lack lustre in that predicament.

IT IS FAR MORE fascinating to be different than to be regimented in the stiff goose-step march of the Main Street regiment, wearing a plume just because "most people do, you know!"

It is perfectly clear that "the uncommon men" of history did most to move mankind along the road to progress. They were the men who begged to differ with the world, who did not do things just because to do them was to fulfill the approved way. They could see the fraud in the fad. They recognized that even freedom held something of the art of being different—an individual!

The honor roll of human history bears the names of many uncommon men... Jesus Christ, Copernicus, Galileo, Magellan, James Watt, Abraham Lincoln, Billy Mitchell. Their greatness was not measured by the applause meters.

OFTEN THEY WERE unpopular or even persecuted for being different. But they would not sell mankind short simply because more people thought that they were wrong than thought they were right.

I would like to have been one of the more uncommon men.

Competitive nature of business is 'challenge' youth look for

The governmental system of the United States was originally dedicated to the proposition that the freedom of the individual was of paramount importance and that with due regard for the rights of others, he should be left free to manage his own affairs and profit from his abilities.

All we have to do is look around us to realize that this way of doing things has been an unparalleled success. Our whole system depends on maintaining opportunity for the individual, and it depends on individuals who wish to pursue that opportunity—to compete, to work, to build and to create the things that add up to the material wealth of our nation today.

Many people are concerned that our affluent society is not producing enough of the kind of individuals among our young people who will carry on in the challenging competitive atmosphere so essential to the productive accomplishment of our economic system.

A Harvard Business School survey has indicated that only 12 per cent of today's college students plan to go into business as a career—88 per cent were disinterested. Many of them seem to feel that business does not offer a challenge, that it is boring, one typical view being, "Business isn't where the action is."

Commenting on this, a well-known industrialist, F. Rockwell Jr., observes: "Youth says that it wants more than business can offer. It wants a challenge. At the same time youth says that it doesn't like the competitive nature of business life. Somebody needs to tell these young people that 'challenge' and 'competition' go together by definition of the words themselves. And perhaps we all need to do a better job of telling youth about the tremendous contributions to a healthy and dynamic society made by business every day of our lives."

In conclusion, he expresses the opinion that a more determined effort should be made . . .

Bull test pinpoints top gainers

A bull testing program just completed may mean money in the pockets of beef producers, according to Michigan State University beef specialists.

The fastest-gaining animal in the test put on weight twice as fast as the slowest gainer, Dr. Terrence Greathouse of MSU's Animal Husbandry Department reports.

Performance testing programs like the one just completed can help cattlemen pick the sires which can pass rapid growth characteristics on to their offspring, Greathouse said.

ALL THE BULLS were kept in the same environment and fed the same rations on the Fred Good farm near Charlotte. The champion gainer was a Hereford-Charolais cross which put on 598 pounds in the 140-day test period, for an average of 4.27 pounds a day.

Charolais cattle are relatively new in the U.S., but the big-boned, off-white animals have gained a lot of attention from beef producers, mostly because of their rapid growth.

The three Charolais bulls in the test placed first, second and fourth in the rate of gain. They are owned by A.C. Dowdy, Perry, a director of the Charolais Breeders of Michigan.

IT WAS CONDUCTED by the Michigan Livestock Improvement Assn., in cooperation with MSU.

The test was observed with interest by Michigan beef producers. Dr. William T. Magee of MSU says, "Cow-calf producers showed a strong interest in having bulls available whose records show they have superior genetic ability for growth rate."

While only one out of 80 Michigan citizens operates a farm, 27 per cent of Michigan citizens derive some part of their income from agriculture.

U.S. undermining the marketplace

It appears you can go too far in practically any cause, and "Consumer Protection" is no exception. Many of the measures proposed in the last session of Congress appeared to operate on the premise that the average consumer was a complete idiot and incapable of making any judgments as to price and quality of products available.

The fact is that most shoppers in the United States are the best informed and most selective of any world has ever known and are perfectly capable of taking advantage of the natural, built-in consumer protection of the free competitive marketplace, which quickly rejects shoddy or overpriced merchandise.

Nevertheless, the drive to give government increasing power to decide what should be manufactured, in what form and quality, and how it should be advertised, displayed and sold in retail stores will go on.

of serious concern. The addition of yet another hastily conceived department would only choke the consumer with red tape rather than cure his ills."

INDIVIDUALITY AND innovation have been the creative forces shaping the unparalleled production and mass-distribution systems of this nation. Nobody knows how much you can interfere with a competitive economy without damaging it. It is a matter of deep concern to find people of influence in the U.S. who would make free competition and free choice a little less free.

never got into each other's hair, there would be no need for managers, superintendents, department heads or foremen.

SENATOR JAMES B. Pearson (R-Kan.) observes that, "Many bills designed to protect the consumer are coming before Congress. More may be expected in the months ahead. Extreme proposals, doing more harm than good, are a constant threat. Nevertheless, the pressure to act is mounting."

Senator Pearson expressed concern over proposals which would move in the direction of severely restricting freedom of action for manufacturers, retailers and consumers. A Cabinet-level Department of Consumers has again been proposed. As Senator Pearson observes, "The federal government is already plagued with a bureaucracy whose rapid growth is a matter

Problems make jobs. The more problems connected with a position, the better it pays. The reason you are not holding down a bigger job may be because, without realizing it, you are trying to side-step the problems of your present job instead of looking upon them for what they really are—stepping stones to promotion and better pay.

IF YOU FACE the difficulties of your job squarely, and learn to handle them cheerfully and efficiently, you are likely to find yourself getting ahead surprisingly fast. For there are plenty of bigger jobs waiting for men and women who are not afraid of the troubles connected with them.

Own or custom hire?

More farmers are asking the question: "Should I own my own equipment and do this job or hire a custom operator?"

This is particularly true of harvesting machines, says George McQueen, Clinton County Extension agricultural agent, adding that the use of such equipment is very reasonable and the total hours used on one farm is quite small.

The agent says when hiring a custom operator, the harvesting cost is known and agreed upon in advance. But when the machine is owned, the farmer is never quite sure what it costs. Operating costs could include such items as fuel, lubricants, twine, or wire, and labor in addition to the annual fixed cost.

FIXED COSTS include the depreciation on investment, repairs and maintenance, insurance and taxes. In general, the agent says, farmers should consider this cost as from 15 to 20 per cent annually of the cost of a new machine.

Once the farmer figures the fixed costs, he can estimate the operating cost and arrive at a figure which may be close to the actual cost of owning his own machine and doing the job himself. This could then be compared with what the custom operator charges.

Some farmers have made the decision to buy the machine and help pay for it by becoming a custom operator. This is good business if the farmer is a good manager and does not have enough employment on his own farm to keep him busy, the agent believes. In most localities there is a good demand for efficient custom operators.

THE COUNTY AGENT points out the big problem is getting all of the jobs done in time. This is why custom operators own larger machines that will do more acres in one day.

The county Extension office has a recent Extension bulletin on the rates most commonly charged for custom operation. It is available without charge.

Mud closet good farm 'hideaway'

Build a mud closet inside your back door or beside the basement door. Besides adding storage, it helps keep the house clean. It is a good place to hang chore clothes and children's wraps too, says Lucile Ketchum, home management specialist with the Cooperative Extension Service at Michigan State University.

Make two rows of hooks, one for adults and one for the youngsters with the hooks 12 inches apart. Build two large shelves across the top back of the closet. Add two smaller, shorter shelves along one side for scarves, caps and mittens. Make a couple shelves low enough for your tiniest youngster to reach.

Don't forget the mud rack says Miss Ketchum. Make it slatted and preferably with a removable tray underneath. Muddy boots and shoes can be left here in winter and early spring. Also, dirty shoes can be left here in the summer, thus eliminating tracking mud and dirt through the house.

This kind of closet is useful all year around. It's a good place for work clothes. Also it's a good place to store swimming apparatus as well as bathing suits and towels in summer months.

Better farm livestock prices for rest of '67

A general business upturn in the last half of the year as consumers spend more for autos and durable goods may help Michigan farm prices recover, believes Dr. John Ferris, Michigan State University extension agricultural economist.

Livestock prices have been showing strength, and gains may hold or even improve. But little price improvement is seen immediately for grain or milk by the economist. Here is how Ferris sees the outlook by commodity:

MILK—Even though Michigan production continues about 6 per cent under a year ago, excess is being marketed at support prices, and government purchases have increased. Further increases in the June flush production period are anticipated.

CATTLE—Prices improved $1 a hundredweight from mid-April to mid-May. The high volume of slaughter should diminish some in June, and cattle producers could be in stronger position by lowering selling weights. Prices could reach the $27 level for choice steers on the Detroit market during summer.

HOGS—Prices jumped $5 a hundredweight to $24-$25 a hundredweight in the past month as slaughter levels dropped. There is little reason to expect much more than a $25 price if supplies continue heavy in summer months.

LAMBS—Expected to remain above $25 for summer and fall.

WHEAT—If crop is 1.5 billion bushels as forecast, prices could be depressed at harvest time. Contracting price in mid-May was about $1.40 a bushel for July or August delivery or about 15 cents a bushel over loan value.

DRY BEANS—A big carryover lends little encouragement to higher prices.

SOYBEANS—Steady prices will be dependent upon new crop conditions.

CORN—Carryover of feed grain was larger than earlier; estimates and prospects for better corn prices are fading unless poor growing conditions develop.

Tomorrow's population

If you've hunted for a picnic site on a Sunday afternoon, if your favorite fishing hole is crowded, if the supermarket aisles are more jammed, if you've waited in line at the movie house—then we don't have to tell you anything about population growth.

If you think there are a lot of people now, take a deep breath. We aren't going to decrease our numbers at all. The growth is relentless. There are 5,000 more of us in America today than there were yesterday. A year from today there'll be 2 million more of us. In 30 years, we'll have increased our population by more than a third. But we won't have a single bit more land for the food, fiber and shelter we need.

Each of us needs the annual production of food, clothing and shelter from 2 1/2 acres of productive farm and forest land. It's easy to write the front end of such an equation which begins—more people plus more needs to supply. It's the part after the equal sign that's tough: each year we lose more than a million acres of the land that produces the land that produces the vegetables, fruit, cotton, cereals and wood we need.

Some removal of land from food and fiber production is necessary. We need highways and airports, utility rights of way, new reservoirs, business construction, community growth. These are withdrawals from product producing acres and limited by their nature to single use. It's in the matter of recreation areas and wilderness lands that we feel the pinch.

The conservationists who grow trees—industrialists and private woodland owners farming the forestlands for a tree crop and who are called tree farmers—have a workable answer to the part of the equation that comes after the equal sign. They call it multiple use.

It's really very simple. We can't frolic in a corn field or a garden and expect to get a crop. We can in a forest. We can picnic, swim, hunt, camp—a whole host of outdoor recreational opportunities—without removing it from timber harvesting.

If we want the lumber, paper, furniture the forests yield, the only way we're going to get them is by multiple use of the forestlands. Some 50 million acres of forest industry land are open to one or more forms of outdoor recreation; these acres produce tree crops at the same time.

Why take land out of timber production and designate it only to recreation and wilderness? Let's keep it as much as possible in multiple use management and whenever possible leave it in private ownership which has the added benefit of paying taxes.

When we're still smarting from tax-paying time, that's an important consideration.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Crash victim asks witnesses

I know it has been 10 months since the accident, but there were witnesses who saw and drove away, saying they did not see what happened when they were only a few feet from the accident, which was Saturday, Aug. 6, 1966.

I started passing a long line of cars at Bee's Auto Sales. I was south of Taft Road when I saw there were only two cars, a truck and a car in front of the truck. I passed the two cars and started to pass the truck, which was a confectionery truck from Grand Rapids. I was not 10 feet from the truck when it cut across the road in front of me.

Thanks to the witnesses who drove away saying they saw nothing, I was blamed for the accident. I no doubt will be crippled the rest of my life; my insurance was canceled.

I cannot help but feel these witnesses were from or near Clinton County on their way to work, the same as I was. If the witnesses to this accident see this and should have a change of heart, they can call my pastor Rev. E. B. Wolre at Ithaca.

Getting the lawless off the highways is costly

BY ELMER E. WHITE Michigan Press Assn.

Michigan motorists will be hit again this year, physically, in the pocketbook, or both, because it seems impossible to get lawless drivers off the highways.

A study recently completed by Michigan Insurance Information Service shows that 65 per cent of those involved in accidents had poor driving records. This complements studies already done by American Automobile Assn. Both organizations feel that basic re-evaluations of Michigan's point system must be forthcoming or people will continue to pay the price in lives, injuries, property and insurance premiums.

Examination of 1,000 drivers' records, showing fault in accidents, disclosed:

37.8 per cent had been subject to driver improvement action, most of them repeatedly, yet were still driving and causing accidents.

26.8 per cent had serious records, but fewer points than required for corrective action.

20 per cent had minor records, and 15.4 per cent had no records at all.

Also discovered were 162 drivers whose records were not available because they were driving without licenses. Another 29 cases showed no police report of the accident.

Any driver with more than 12 points in any two-year period runs the risk of a fatal accident eight times that of the average driver.

Flagrant violation of highway laws and ensuing accidents have caused annual death rates to climb by 900 per year since 1959. Accidents increased from 178,000 to more than 300,000. Personal injuries jumped from 58,000 to 155,000. Claims paid by insurance companies have gone from $117 million to more than $220 million.

This increase in cost is reflected in amount of premiums paid by policyholders, almost double that of 1959.

SECRETARY OF STATE James Hare points out that the present point system works in about 95 per cent of the cases. But the remaining 100,000 to 200,000 drivers seem impossible to rehabilitate, Hare maintains. He notes that these offenders go unpunished primarily because law enforcement agencies are "understaffed and undermanned," causing a "lower priority on these kinds of violations."

Hare feels that improvements in the point system have been made through the years, but that more are needed.

Any major changes, such as re-examinations at the nine point level, would be extremely expensive and add further burden to law enforcement personnel, he says.

HARE FEELS A "tightening up" of the present system seems to be in order. Much depends on new legislation. But he reports that some of the bills introduced this year under the direction of his department "are either dead or stymied by lack of appropriations."

Traffic safety studies all point to the same general recommendations: Earlier and stronger steps must be taken to get the irresponsible motorist off the highways and keep him off. Operating a vehicle without a valid license must carry stiffer penalties.

Drunk drivers, especially repeaters, should lose their licenses with no provision for restricted driving.

Law enforcement agencies must have additional men to adequately police highways and arrest those who disregard traffic tickets.

Additional legislation must be passed to eliminate loopholes in the present point system.

Courts must be as concerned about the future safety of other motorists as they are about the man pleading his case at the moment.

PEOPLE MUST BE MADE aware of the growing need before any real improvements are made in highway safety. They must demand action and they must be willing to pay the price.

Enforcing meaningful legislation is costly. Increasing the Michigan State Police force by 400 by 1970 (recommended by AAA) carries a price tag of $5 million per year. City police and county sheriffs also need more manpower. These measures are also expensive.

Michigan people will pay either in a better legal system or in lives, injuries and dollars.

Unless the rising toll of highway accidents is turned, Michigan may soon record the highest traffic fatality count of any state.

Knocking the spots out of the measles

Nineteen Sixty-Seven can bring down the curtain on an old, pestiferous disease that has always caused more trouble than was generally realized. If plans of the U.S. Public Health Service go through on schedule, measles will be more or less a closed chapter in this country when midnight bells ring out the current year.

This medical triumph has been in the cards since an effective and safe vaccine was developed early in the decade. Until that time, between 400 and 500 children died each year because of measles and resulting complications. Aside from the death toll, these complications caused severe and widespread illness, including ear infections, deafness, blindness, or other disorders associated with encephalitis. Respiratory illnesses such as pneumonia and croup also can result from measles.

Measles can be wiped out if the vaccine is given to every child who needs it. To achieve this goal in 1967, the Public Health Service has advanced a four-point program. It calls for a) vaccination of all children at the age of one year; b) vaccination of all children in kindergarten or the first or second grade who are not yet protected; c) improvement of case reporting systems so that better control measures can be applied wherever measles is found; d) forestalling epidemics by general vaccination of children in places where too few have been immunized.

To expedite this program, Congress passed an act last year making free vaccine available to 80 per cent of preschool children. The National Tuberculosis Assn., which combats all respiratory diseases including TB and works for general health improvement, has registered its enthusiastic support of the PHS campaign to wipe out measles.

Road taxes . . . up

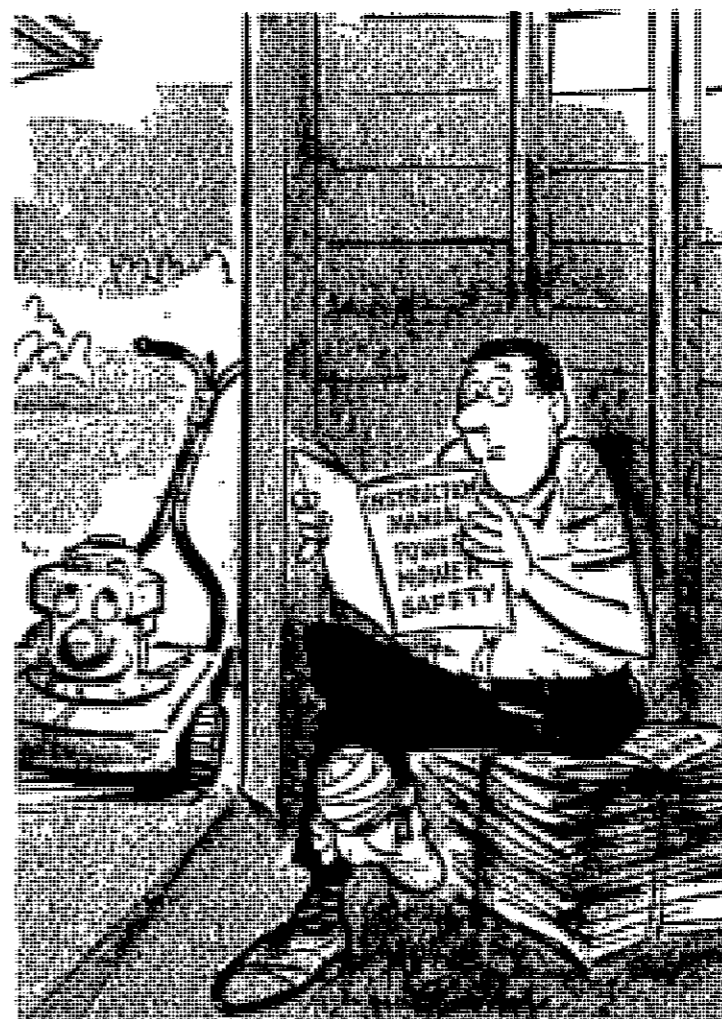

(From the Royal Oak Daily Tribune)

While attention is focused on state general fund problems and the consequent income tax controversy, it is evident that taxes of another sort are certain to go up.

The proposed highway tax increases, a cent a gallon for gasoline and 20 cents more per hundredweight for auto licenses and 10 per cent more for commercial plates, will cost the average car owner $15-$18 a year. A small sum, but like other tax increases, it is the cumulative effect that counts.

These are highway user taxes and specifically earmarked for highway use. One may wonder about the proportions of the tax increases, but one can hardly argue that additional highway money isn't needed. Building roads to keep up with more cars going more places, and then maintaining them, is a never-ending battle.

Better Late Than Never

There is nothing quite so disconcerting as the hiccups. They arrive at the most awkward times and for no apparent reason that to harass and embarrass.

Hiccups come in varying degrees of seriousness. Some produce only a silent jerk in the chest; others produce only a timid little "hic." On the other hand, there is the deep-seated "hiccough" which is noisy and strong. I have had some that pack so much power I swear they will bounce my stomach out of my body or bounce me out of my chair.

IT IS EMBARRASSING to make a telephone call and then discover you have the hiccups. They don't usually bother you when the other person is talking and you can cover the mouthpiece of the phone. You always "hic" when you're talking.

In the last several years I have gained much experience in hic-talking and I have about succeeded in cutting out the audio portion of the hiccup.

But I have not been able to avoid the sudden breaking off of words that is just as revealing as the sound of "hic."

While I haven't done any late research on the hiccup for the purposes of this column, I don't believe science has yet come up with an answer as to what causes them. My folks always used to tease us and tell us it was caused by bad beer. But since I don't drink, I discounted that reason early in life.

Do you know what a hiccup actually is? I hadn't really thought about it before, but today I looked it up in the dictionary.

"HICCUP, HICCOUGH . . . a sudden, involuntary contraction of the diaphragm that closes the glottis at the moment of breathing in." The diaphragm is the partition of muscles and tendons between the chest cavity and the abdominal cavity, the glottis is the opening between the vocal cords in the larynx.

That means if you don't breathe in, you won't have the hiccups.

While they apparently begin at random, there is a certain pattern in which series of hiccups occur — at least for me. If I have the hiccups early in the day, say before 10 a.m., I'm almost sure to have them again in the late morning, early afternoon and early evening. If the first case of hiccups comes later in the day, it may be the only one I have.

There seems to be only one sure cure for the hiccups, and that I mean mentioned earlier — don't breathe in. But since this is not conducive to longevity, there are a number of other "cures" that may or may not work.

FOR INSTANCE, take nine sips of water while holding your breath. Or take a drink of water while standing on your head in either case you risk drowning. Or you can hold your breath for a time. Or you could eat sugar. There are many other hic cures.

At times I have felt the best cure was taking deep breaths, but recent experience with this has not been satisfactory. Have you ever choked on a deep lungful of air?

Further scientific study may (hic) come up with some answers to (hic) lick the problem.

Witnessing first phase of World War III?

Rep. John G. Dow (N. Y.) . . . "U. Thant, secretary general of the United Nations, gave us serious warning that now we are witnessing the initial phase of World War III. In the New York Times there was a quotation of observations by Mr. Thant at a luncheon of United Nations correspondents. Mr. Thant's words follow:

"In my view, if the present trend continues," he said, "I am afraid direct confrontation first of all between Washington and Peking is inevitable. I hope I am wrong. I am afraid we are witnessing today the initial phase of World War III.

"If you recall the series of events leading to World War I and World War II, you will realize that the prologues were quite long; what I mean is, the psychological climate, the creation of political attitudes took some time and when conditions were ripe for some plausible excuse, then the global wars were triggered.

"IN MY VIEW WE are witnessing today similar conditions.

"During the six weeks which have elapsed since we last met, the war in South Vietnam has intensified with increased casualties on all sides. There has been a new escalation of the air war against North Vietnam, with a mounting number of victims. There is no need for me to emphasize that these last steps are fraught with very grave consequences.

"The fact that the Democratic Republic of Vietnam's developing nation, is continuing to withstand the pressure of an enormously superior power has been and still is the essential factor which has prevented an enlargement of the conflict beyond the frontiers of Vietnam.

"But in the meantime, further very heavy damage continues to be inflicted upon Vietnam both in the North and in the South, and there is greater risk that the possibilities of a just and lasting settlement in Southeast Asia will be definitely jeopardized.

"I AM CONVINCED that now, as before, the first obstacle to talks remains the continued air bombardment of North Vietnam. On the prerequisite to their cessation, I found myself in agreement with every one of the five Asian governments I consulted during my recent trip.

"I personally continue to believe that talks conducted in the spirit of the Geneva agreement could pave the way for a settlement.

"But first there must be a reversal of the trend of mounting escalation with its ever present risk of internationalization of the Vietnam war."

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

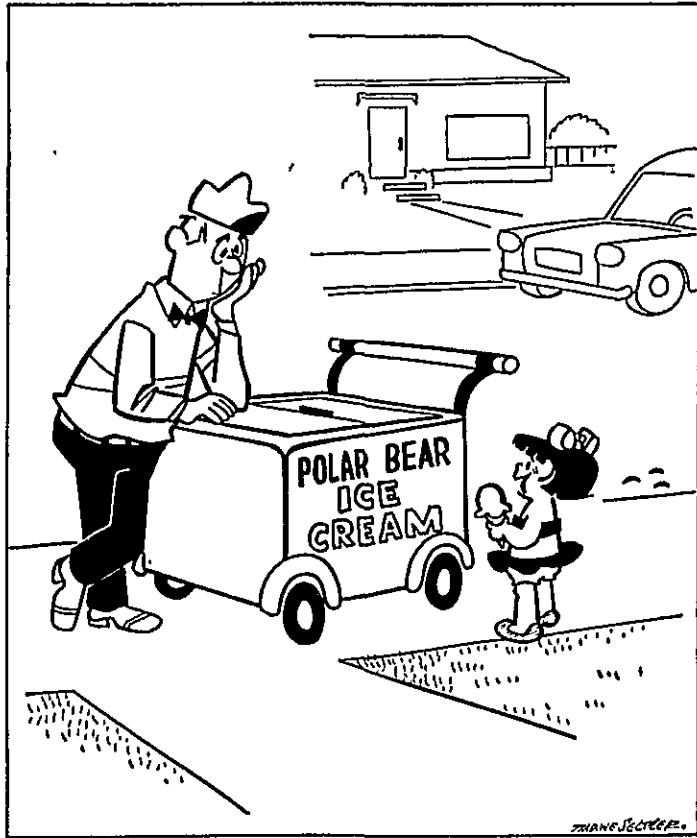

Any football coach knows that if his team can't score, he had better send in some new plays, or change the quarterbacks. U. Thant is of the opinion that we are using the wrong plays. A "physical barrier" south of the Demilitarized Zone might be the answer.

These headlines greet the readers: COAST GUARD SENDS MORE SHIPS TO WAR; NAVY TO RE-COMMISSION BATTLESHIP FOR USE OFF VIETNAM; AIR FORCE LOSES HALF OF F105's IN VIET WAR. With the North Vietnamese moving their supply trucks south, spaced a mile apart, they are frustrating for bombing efforts to choke off food and munitions.

North Vietnam is determined to win, and Red China and the Soviet Union won't let them lose. A different approach to ending the hostilities seems to be in order. To quote the late Winston Churchill, "Always remember, however sure you are that you can easily win, that there would not be a war if the other man did not think he also had a chance."

Michigan, largest pear producing state outside the Pacific coast, harvested 1.6 million bushels of pears in 1966, or 45 per cent more than during 1965.

Moving out stove annual spring task

HAYDN PEARSON

It was not a task we relished, but we knew it had to be. There came that Saturday morning when mother announced at breakfast she would like the parlor heater moved to its summer resting place in the back room. Through the long winter the tall, nickel-plated, urn-topped heater had set on its zinc mat in the living room.

A man and his son finished the barn chores and began the hefting. Mother and sisters laid papers all around the stove and father began the ticklish job of disengaging the tin stove pipe from the wall. Gentle taps did not move the pipe; father gave a more determined pull and out it came. Inevitably soot spread on the paper while mother and sisters made expected comments. A lad carefully carried the sections to the backyard where he tapped out the soot.

The stove, was lifted onto smooth maple rollers that had served through the years. Two rollers were kept under the stove, and the third was placed ahead onto which the stove rolled. Foot by foot and yard by yard the tall stove inched through the dining room, kitchen and out to its accustomed place. The women folks cleaned and polished. Then the heater was covered with old, tattered quilts. It was slow, puttery work but it was a traditional day of the year. Summer was ahead and on a September day one knew the stove would be moved back.

Parlor heaters are not pushed back and forth any more, but a man sometimes thinks of those days before the magic of oil and electricity changed life on the farm.

Understanding your

HEALTH

By ALBERT E. HEUSTIS, M.D., Director Michigan Dept. of Public Health

Perhaps you are old enough to remember the singing radio commercial about 10 years ago which loudly proclaimed "you should never keep bananas in the refrigerator." Well, now the latest thing they tell us that we should put them in the refrigerator (unless the bananas are green and we want them to ripen faster). The fruit experts have changed their minds, and we can now return to what we did before we ever heard the commercial.

Well, there have been such reversals in the health field, also. These have come when new knowledge has pointed to a once-discarded practice as being superior to the current method. So-called "rescue breathing" is such a case.

The latest mouth-to-mouth technique of rescue breathing is not really new. There are references in the Bible to one person helping another to breathe by this method. It is mentioned also in the historic account of President Lincoln's assassination, because one of the physicians in attendance at his death bed employed it in an effort to save the president's life. But for some reason the mouth-to-mouth method of helping another person breathe fell out of favor. Only recently has it again been recognized as more effective and much simpler than the rib-pushing, arm-lifting techniques previously recommended.

MANY CONDITIONS may cause a person's breathing to stop; suffocation — some heart attacks — stroke — electric shock — drowning — the physical and emotional shock brought on by injury in an automobile accident — and so forth. The important point to realize here is that the condition affecting the person may not be (and frequently is not) serious enough, by itself, to cause death . . . but that these people often die anyway from the sheer inability to breathe. They succumb to oxygen starvation. If they just could have gotten air into their lungs they might have survived.

The "used" air which you breathe out still has plenty of oxygen left in it and you should learn how to employ it to keep another person alive.

The main thing is to keep the victim's throat open (after removing any obstructions) by tilting the chin up. Put his head back into a "haughty" or "snooty" position. If he is lying on his back this means placing something under his neck so his head can be tilted back, with his chin forward. This prevents the tongue from blocking the throat. Try it yourself — tilt your head back into a "snooty" position and you will see how difficult it is to swallow.

USE ONE HAND to hold the victim's head and chin in position and use the other to pinch his nostrils gently closed. Place your mouth over the victim's mouth and gently breathe into his lungs at a normal rate. You can watch his chest rise and fall as a measure of your effectiveness. Your health department has available illustrated instructions on mouth-to-mouth rescue breathing which are free on request, and we also have films to loan, showing how it is done — and we have a life-size rescue-breathing mannikin on which the technique may be practiced. We call her Resusc-Anne.

Any or all of these helps are available for your use, and you are invited to get in touch with your local health department about them.

Here's how to remove '66 parks sticker

Having trouble getting that 1966 state park entrance sticker off your car's windshield? "Nothing to it," says Conservation Department parks man Harold B. Guillaume. "Just use an old razor blade or a similar scraper to work off the sticker itself. Then add a few dabs of fingernail polish remover to get rid of the gluey base. It wipes right off slick and clean."
