Clinton County Derby has colorful eight-year history

The "Gran Prix de Gravity," the title of this year's eighth annual Clinton County Soap Box Derby, will get underway Sunday with all of the pageantry of a world's championship Formula One race.

The festivities will include queens, parades and celebrities highlighted by the crowning of a new Clinton County champ for 1970, who will receive prizes, trophies and a shot at the big-time at the world finals in Akron, Ohio.

A gala parade through downtown St. Johns, preceding the race, will sport floats, marching bands, giant cartoon characters and such celebrities as Branch Lew, 1968 All-American champion, Mason Bell, director of the Derby for Chevrolet, and Miss Michigan.

Steve Roe Souter, 1969 All-American Soap Box Derby champ from Midland, Tex., will be unable to attend the June 14 event.

Traditions run deep in the eight-year history of the Clinton version of the Derby. In that first year, 1963, a pre-race event was staged to amuse the 5,000 persons gathered to watch the 53 home-made cars streak toward "victory lane."

Several area manufacturing firms decided to produce Derby-type cars to be raced by adults, calling the venture the Oil Can Race.

The stunt caught on and has been held each year except one. In 1963 the Sealed Power entry with Larry Sexton at the wheel out-distanced the entries from Saylor - Beall and Federal-Mogul to take the title.

In the Derby event that same year, Jon Tatroe, Jim Theuerkauf and Norman Love scored 1-2-3 to inaugurate Clinton County's entrance in the world competition.

The second running of the Derby in 1964 was the only time the race was postponed due to rain. 3.5 inches deluged the county in two hours that day to set the race back one week.

Undaunted by the week's delay, 55 Clinton County boys raced their machines as 6,000 eager, hand-clapping and cheering spectators watched Allan Smith of Westphalia take top prize. In fact, Westphalians had a field day with Smith, Robert Schaefer and Gary Roach taking the top three spots. All three boys were from the western county community.

1964 was the year Terry McDermott arrived as the Derby's guest celebrity, coupled with an exciting parachute-jump team from the "Aeronauts Show."

Federal-Mogul with Kermit Hart at the helm swept the Oil Can Race.

The 1965 Soap Box Derby was filled with surprises for Clinton residents. Heading the guest list were pitcher Dizzy Trout, a former Detroit Tiger great and Daryl Sanders, then football star with the Detroit Lions.

A tradition was started that year when officials crowned Miss Gloria Jean Muckle as queen of the Soap Box Derby.

More than 6,000 fans were on hand to watch Bill Jacobus take first spot with Gary Haynes second and Dave Feldpausch third. Russ Allman's Saylor-Beall special was tops in the Oil Can Derby.

A new feature was added to the festivities in 1966 in the form of a Powder Puff Derby with several Clinton young ladies sporting crash helmets with all the seriousness of their male counterparts.

Angela Sirrine was the winner of this first annual Powder Puff event.

Westphalians were again delighted as Danny Pline and John Bengals scored 1-2 with Dave Feldpausch third before 3,000 fans.

Julie Pung reigned over the event as queen while the other tradition of the Oil Can Race remained intact as Russ Allman repeated as winner with his Saylor-Beall special.

The 1967 Derby drew a record field of 76 entries topped by Lee Smith, first, followed by Bruce Keiffer and Kim Patterson.

Russ Allman made it three years in a row with his Saylor-Beall special in the Oil Can Race. Lynette (Pete) Pline topped the girls in the Powder Puff run.

Sue Feneis ruled the festivities as the 1967 Derby Queen.

Kris Patterson of St. Johns topped the record 85 car field in 1968, with Westphalians Ron Droste and brother Ken Droste coming in second and third.

Gail Fosmoe, queen of the Derby, watched the race with the other 5,000 cheering fans, as Becky Conley streaked past the finish line to take the Powder Puff Derby title.

Terry McDermott, Olympic gold and silver medal winner, was the guest of honor.

Last year's running of the Derby drew 76 drivers as Steve Riley of Westphalia topped all competition for first honors. Joseph Fernholz and Gilbert Weber scored second and third in the race.

In the preliminary events, Rhonda Schaar topped the girls in the Powder Puff Derby and Daniel Pline dropped the competition with the familiar Saylor-Beall special in the Oil Can Race.

Other awards went to Earl Flegler Jr. for the best constructed car and Robert Sisson for the most unique entry.

Karen Schafer was chosen queen of the Derby, and presided over the festivities.

Although the Soap Box Derby started in Clinton County in 1963, this will be the 33rd season of the national event dating back to 1934, which excludes the war years.

A total of 262 communities around the world—a record high in the three decades of competition—are preparing local races for this summer.

Champions will compete in the All-American finals at Akron, Saturday, Aug. 15, for a total of $30,000 in college scholarships to the top nine finishers.

Each local winner will receive a $500 U.S. Savings Bond from Chevrolet for a total of more than $150,000 in awards.

St. Johns boy killed in auto-bicycle crash

Services were held Saturday for a 12-year-old St. Johns boy who was fatally injured last week when the bicycle he was riding collided with an auto at the intersection of U.S. 72 and Sturgis St.

The boy was Richard Ray (Rickey) Springer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Springer, 405 Meadowview Dr.

Services were held at the Osgood Funeral Home. Burial was at the Homer Township Cemetery near Midland with the Rev Harold Homer of the United Methodist Church, presiding.

St. Johns police said the bicycle collided with an auto driven by William Earl Young, 23, 520 McNell Rd., St. Johns. He was not held.

Police said Young told them that he was traveling south on U.S. 27 last Wednesday night and as he approached the intersection of Sturgis, one of the boys rode into the side of his car.

Young's auto swerved in an attempt to avoid the boy but Richard collided with the right front fender and then was thrown against the windshield. The car, meanwhile, swerved onto the median.

The accident occurred about 8 p.m. and Richard died of head injuries about an hour later at Clinton Memorial Hospital.

Richard, who attended sixth grade at Swegles Street School, and his family have lived in St. Johns since 1959. He was born in Mt. Pleasant.

Survivors, in addition to his parents, are a brother, Dennis; a sister, Mrs. Karen Brya, of St. Johns, and a grandfather, Oscar Bielechles, of Ohio.

In St. Johns Trailer Court rejected

The St. Johns Planning and Zoning Commission last week denied a request by a Lansing realtor to develop a 20-acre site on U.S. 27 into a mobile home court.

Citing the nearness to the city sewage treatment plant as a primary reason, the commission unanimously turned down the bid by Les Murphy but indicated a willingness to work with him should he consider a different location.

Commission member Bill Morris also indicated potential dangers to school children who would reside in the court and who would have to cross U.S. 27 to attend classes.

In other action, the planning commission indicated a favorable attitude toward a proposal by Ben Simon and Al Fortino to construct apartment buildings on Swegles Street behind Burger Chef and Chicken Joy restaurants.

No official action on the request was taken pending action by the planning group to establish requirements for multiple family dwellings within the city.

Waggoner, Richards back to St. Johns School Board

By RON KARLE
 Editor

St. Johns voters Monday returned two incumbents—Wendell Waggoner and William Richards Jr.—to a pair of four-year terms on the district's Board of Education.

Running in a field of six candidates, the incumbents made their strongest showing in the First Precinct—St. Johns and Bingham Township.

Waggoner, who was seeking his second term, was the biggest vote-getter with 503, while Richards received 416.

Unofficial returns for the other candidates showed Bruce Irish 330, Shirley Hazel 284, Harvey French 235 and Don Haske 164.

"I appreciate the faith the people have shown in me," said Waggoner shortly after the returns were tallied. "I certainly plan to do the best job I can for the next four years."

"If anybody has any questions, just call me," he added.

Richards, elected to his third term on the board, was not available for comment.

Waggoner, manager of Randolph's Excavating in St. Johns, campaigned on what he termed "the three R's."

St. Johns Chamber of Commerce elects James Leon new president!

The board of directors of the St. Johns Area Chamber of Commerce welcomed four new members to its ranks last week along with selection of officers for the coming year.

Named to head the group during 1970-71 was James Leon, sales manager for Saylor Beall Mig. Co. Mel Warren, an insurance agent, was elected vice-president and auto dealer Stan Cowan was named treasurer.

Rollin Huard was voted to succeed himself as secretary. Taking new seats on the board after a vote by the general membership were William Patton, manager of Capitol Savings and Loan Assn.; Richard Anderson, manager of Andy's IGA Market; Gerald Dietrich, purchasing agent for Federal-Mogul Corp. and Douglas Carpenter, a supervisor at Federal-Mogul Corp.

The new board members have all been members of the chamber and are active in a number of community projects. Patton served as general chairman of last year's United Fund campaign and Carpenter is currently a member of the city planning and zoning commission.

As president, Leon takes over the chamber during a time when many projects are underway. White serving as vice president he has also held a similar position on the board of directors of the St. Johns Area Development Corp. and has been instrumental in the growth of that organization.

Leon has previously served in several capacities with the chamber and for the past two years has headed up the Christmas program for St. Johns.

His election as president fills the spot held for the past year by Brandon C. White, administrative vice-president of Clinton National Bank.

Under White's direction the chamber instituted a number of changes and for the first time in recent years ended the year in the black.

In a letter to members, White praised each for participation and recapped activities which took place.

"I extend appreciation to all who helped," White said, "and am sure our chamber is on its way to being a beneficial community force."

Traffic control sought at accident corner

More than two dozen residents from the general area of U.S. 27 and Sturgis Street voiced their desires for traffic control at the intersection Monday night resulting in the St. Johns city commission to approve a resolution for state action.

The intersection, scene of an accident which took the life of Richard Springer Wednesday evening (June 3) has for some time drawn local concern from officials and residents.

The group appearing at Monday night's commission meeting encouraged action which would bring about a lowering of speed limits along U.S. 27 through the city as well as considerations for a traffic signal at the crossing.

Mayor Robert Wood advised the group that complete traffic control at the intersection in question, as well as the M 21 U.S. 27 crossing is completely

DeWitt's Ritchie may seek court injunction to keep Herbison open

By TIM YOUNKMAN
 News Staff Writer

DeWitt School Supt. James Ritchie said Monday night that he will ask for a court injunction if the Clinton County Road Commission closes Herbison Road completely this summer to work on a sewer project.

Ritchie told the school board at a special meeting that he has received reports from several construction contractors that the sewer system project will force the county to close the road from Schavey Road to Turner Road.

"We have children in summer programs using the high school and we will need fire and ambulance service to the buildings," said Ritchie.

"I think that this is our responsibility," he said. Ritchie recommended that the DeWitt Board of Education write a letter to those in charge of the project "as a matter of public record," he said.

He suggested that it would be

Clinton voters approve all requests for millage

By RON KARLE
Editor

Requests for operational millage were approved—by margins ranging from 11 to 436 votes—in five of Clinton County's six school districts Monday.

The sixth district, St. Johns, was the only one which did not have a millage proposal on the ballot. That district is beginning the second year of a two-year proposal which was approved last year.

Voters in Bath approved a 12-mill levy for one year by 11 votes with 154 in favor and 143 opposed.

The proposal called for renewal of 10 mills plus an additional two mills, all for operations.

Bath voters also filled two openings on the Board of Education with a pair of newcomers while rejecting a bid for re-election by an incumbent.

Paul Stoll led the three-man field with 211 votes, while another newcomer, Bernard Black received 190 votes.

Turned down in his bid for a second term on the board was Cleo Friend, who received 172 votes.

Voters in the Ovid-Elsie District, meanwhile, approved a millage request by the largest margin in the county—436 votes.

Voters approved 14 mills for one year with 657 in favor and 221 opposed.

In addition, voters in the Ovid-Elsie District approved a one-year request for 1 1/4 mills for transportation, 490-386.

David J. Hill, 35, unopposed in a bid for a single seat on the Board of Education, received 757 votes to capture a spot on the board.

Voters in Fowler Monday approved 14 1/2 mills for school operations—an increase of one mill over last year—by 13 votes, 125-112.

A second proposition calling for one mill for the establishment of a textbook store was defeated with 157 opposed and 78 in favor.

"It would have been for all grades," said Supt. Don Smith. "The school would have purchased textbooks for the students—including used books," he said.

"It wouldn't have been a free store," he added. "It was more of a convenience. Right now the school sells only new books."

In other voting two unopposed candidates for the school board were elected to a pair of four-year terms.

Incumbent Marvin Simon received 208 votes and Mrs. Winifred McKean received 189 votes.

In DeWitt, voters approved 12 1/2 mills for operations for a one-year period.

By a vote of 315-181, voters approved renewal of 10 mills plus an additional 2 1/2.

Only two candidates ran for two seats on the Board of Education.

Incumbent President Willard J. Reed, 40, received 420 votes, while Gordon Brown, 33, a newcomer, received 398.

Voters in the Pewamo-Westphalia School District approved 14 1/2 mills for operations over a one-year period, 263-84.

Involved was the renewal of 13 mills plus an additional 1 1/2.

Seeking re-election to the Board of Education were incumbents Carl Ronald Schafer, 40, with 319 votes and Carl W. Kramer, 50, with 292 votes.

DeWitt School Board sets policy changes

Several policy additions were introduced and approved at the DeWitt Board of Education meeting Monday night.

The changes concern procedures during storm and tornado warnings during school hours.

The first change concerns the clerical employees of the school district, stating that in the event of a school closing because of inclement weather, clerical employees "are expected to report and work regular hours unless times are adjusted by the building principal."

Another change, governing the custodians, states that the custodians are expected to report and work regular hours under most conditions.

The policy for a tornado watch will now read that the school will be informed by the U.S. Weather Bureau of the approach of a storm, in which case the central office will notify radio stations in the area, WITL, WJIM and WJLS, to issue notice that the DeWitt schools will send children home and contact bus drivers to report immediately.

The individual schools will be notified and the children will prepare for departure.

Students will be bussed home on regular runs, elementary students first and then secondary pupils. The bad weather stops will be used.

Parents will be asked not to pick up students during the tornado watch or phone the schools. The rules were developed by the Clinton County Civil Defense office.

The procedure for a tornado warning is the ordering of students to take shelter within the building, via instructions from principals, in areas established by Civil Defense personnel.

Drills of this nature will be conducted prior to the tornado season each year at each building.

DeWitt School Supt. James Ritchie said that the reason for the dismissal of students from the school building was to avoid the chance of severe storms striking a highly populated center of young people.

He said that by dispersing the students across the district immediately, there was less likely a chance of danger to the majority of students.

He also pointed out that there was no good reason for the office personnel to leave work under the same circumstances, since they would probably be as safe in the office as at home.

The measures were passed unanimously.

DeWitt School Board

Board member James Decatur said that should outside groups use the school facilities, a custodian should be paid $6 per hour if he would not normally be on duty during the time of the activity.

Ritchie outlined the previous controversy that brought about changes in the former policy concerning the school buildings.

He said that a square dance group used the building free of charge, but the board had indicated at the time that this was an unfair practice, Ritchie said.

The board then asked Ritchie to study and formulate a rental procedure, but they were not satisfied with the recommendations, he said.

"It is not the fault of the administration that the policy did not prove to be satisfactory to some people," he said. "No matter what policy we adopt, some fellow will blame the others saying that this is wrong or that's wrong," he added.

School board president Willard J. Reed indicated that he was in favor of a time and one-half rate for overtime work required by janitors, with a double time clause for Sunday work.

Outgoing board member Roland Lewis sponsored a motion calling for the retention of the present rental policy with the addition of raising janitorial rates to time and one-half for any overtime required during the week-day evening hours, double time rates on Saturdays and Sundays and a minimum payment of two hours for each overtime call.

None of the members would second the motion, forcing Lewis to withdraw the plan. A vote was taken afterward to table the problem for further study.

In other action, the board:—Accepted the resignation of Susan Perkinson, a former Art teacher who is currently on a leave of absence. She wrote a letter to the board explaining that she felt that she could not guarantee the board a full one-year contract commitment.

—Noted the dates of the teacher contract negotiations, beginning June 22 in DeWitt and June 25 at the Michigan Education Association building in East Lansing.

Board member James Decatur said that should outside groups use the school facilities, a custodian should be paid $6 per hour if he would not normally be on duty during the time of the activity.

Ritchie outlined the previous controversy that brought about changes in the former policy concerning the school buildings.

He said that a square dance group used the building free of charge, but the board had indicated at the time that this was an unfair practice, Ritchie said.

The board then asked Ritchie to study and formulate a rental procedure, but they were not satisfied with the recommendations, he said.

"It is not the fault of the administration that the policy did not prove to be satisfactory to some people," he said. "No matter what policy we adopt, some fellow will blame the others saying that this is wrong or that's wrong," he added.

School board president Willard J. Reed indicated that he was in favor of a time and one-half rate for overtime work required by janitors, with a double time clause for Sunday work.

Outgoing board member Roland Lewis sponsored a motion calling for the retention of the present rental policy with the addition of raising janitorial rates to time and one-half for any overtime required during the week-day evening hours, double time rates on Saturdays and Sundays and a minimum payment of two hours for each overtime call.

None of the members would second the motion, forcing Lewis to withdraw the plan. A vote was taken afterward to table the problem for further study.

In other action, the board:

- Accepted the resignation of Susan Perkinson, a former Art teacher who is currently on a leave of absence. She wrote a letter to the board explaining that she felt that she could not guarantee the board a full one-year contract commitment.
- Noted the dates of the teacher contract negotiations, beginning June 22 in DeWitt and June 25 at the Michigan Education Association building in East Lansing.

Ritchie indicated that Walter Fry, a Mason teacher, would be the head negotiator for the DeWitt teachers.

"I can see a lot of difficulty ahead," he said. "I am sure that they are out to drive a hard bargain," Ritchie added.

Milliken signs bill

Leaders of campus disorders target of Ballenger measure

By RON KARLE Editor

A bill, co-sponsored by State Rep. William S. Ballenger, R-Ovid, has been signed into law by Gov. Milliken in hopes of cracking down on leaders of campus disorders.

Ballenger said the bill is designed to stop disturbances by imposing penalties of up to $500 and 30 days in jail for persons convicted of participations in campus outbreaks.

In addition, he said, "People can be prosecuted if they refuse to vacate a building when ordered to do so by campus officials. A maximum fine of $1,000 or 90 days in jail could be imposed on any person who enters a public college or university property to disrupt by force, threat of force, or occupation.

"I don't feel that this is an oppressive measure by any means," said Ballenger, noting that persons accused of such crimes will have to be convicted before any penalties can be imposed.

"I think there are adequate legal safeguards against any possible tyranny on the part of officials," he said.

"I don't think this bill is an index of over-reaction on the part of the legislature," he added. "It beefs up the tools of campus administrators to deal with the occupation of buildings.

"The basic thrust of this bill is to get students out of buildings if they are ordered out," he added.

"The whole idea of the bill was to get at the ringleaders of campus disorders," said Ballenger. "We recognize that in most cases many students are led, perhaps through the emotion of the moment, and are not really to blame for any insurrection.

He indicated that he felt this bill was not as strong a measure as one proposed by Sen. Robert Huber, R-Troy, which calls for revoking state scholarships of students convicted of participating in disorders.

But, he added, "How many of these people are on scholarships."

When asked why did the measure key in on campuses specifically while ignoring other places such as shopping centers, parks or other gathering places, Ballenger replied, "Practically speaking, there's not much of a problem in these other places. It's principally been the campus that's been the focal point."

"In all too many cases the leaders of these revolts, which usually cause damage to the buildings and to the reputations of our great universities, are highly skilled in their art," he said.

"These are the ones we are really out to stop—the ones who use other students for their own personal gain.

"I am among the first to agree that this measure is not a panacea for campus disorders," said Ballenger. "It is a gesture to campus administrators that we stand behind them.

"I don't believe this is the ultimate answer," he added. "Ultimately, we've really got to get to the source of the disturbances by having the students deal with it themselves.

He said he believes that the great majority of students in college are there for education, but admitted that many of them are disturbed over the way many of their schools are run. He urged that peaceful means be taken to air their differences if they are to affect meaningful change. "We'll have to bring this under control," said Ballenger of recent campus uprisings. "Many feel it's taking a dangerous turn and it's time to come to grips with it. "We cannot penalize the good student for what a small minority of students are doing," he said, "but we must provide tools to our administrators to stop the minority from dominating the activities of the majority of students. "In addition," he said, "we must insure that these destructive acts that accompany college disturbances are stopped. The Taxpayer has the right to demand that buildings and equipment he pays for is not wantonly destroyed.

Road bids June 17 $30,000 Clinton project among 39 set for state

The State Highway Commission will open bids June 17 in Lansing on 39 highway projects including an estimated $30,000 Clinton County program.

The combined Clinton-Ingham project calls for bituminous patching at eight locations on westbound M 78 from Park Lake Road northeast to the Clinton-Shiawassee county line.

The commission estimates that completion of the project will be in September.

The total cost of the state's 39 project package is expected to run $29 million, making it the largest bid-taking since May, 1969, when low bids totaling $30.4 million were taken on 40 projects.

Included in the bidding are two projects for construction of a total of nine miles of Interstate 69 Freeway from the Eaton-Calhoun county line north to Five Point highway near Charlotte at an estimated $11 million. The projects will connect with eight miles of the freeway under construction from Interstate 94 north to near Olivet and with a bypass around Charlotte, also under construction.

The number of employed persons in the labor force in March 1970 was 77,957,000. This was an increase of 1,437,000 people over the same period a year ago.

Between 700 and 800 people Sunday visited the "open" open house built by students in building trades classes at St. Johns High School. The home is completed and up for sale. Funds from the sale will be used to purchase another lot for construction of another house beginning next fall.

'ARNIE' ALLEN

House Division 'Arnie' Allen wins Capitol Golf Tourney

State Rep. Richard "Arnie" Allen, R-Ithaca, recently won the House division of the Michigan Capitol Golf Tournament held during a morning off from recent day and night session of the legislature.

Those who may suspect that legislators spend most of their time in Lansing playing golf did not receive much support for their opinion by the scores of those who played.

Representative Allen, fondly called "the old lefthander" by his friends on the links, shot a whopping 44 for nine holes to tie for the lead with his colleagues, Reps. Roy Spencer and Jim Callahan. The tie was broken in the good old American way, by selecting a number between one and 10.

The Senate proved itself much superior on the links, Senator Dzendzel shooting a 37.

Whether this was a demonstration of the superior status of the Senate or the more leisurely pace of their sessions was the subject of some debate following the tourney.

Road Commission awards contracts on two projects

Contracts were awarded to two construction firms Thursday on three county road projects in a regular session of the Board of County Road Commissioners.

Williams Brothers Construc- tion Co. of Owosso bid lowest on asphalt surfacing work on portions of Wright Road, The Williams bid was $38,955.

He said that the six-inch gravel layer would be put on first, then they would build up the shoulders and remove the excess material. "This will provide a real good roadbed," he added.

After the year's wait, a one and one-half inch bituminous mat would be used, he said. The soil- cement cracks every 20 feet, he pointed out, and it contracts be- cause there are no joints in it, but no damage would result.

The board discussed the Maple Rapids sewer project, which has drawn a number of complaints from residents since the project calls for tearing up sections of highway to lay the sewers.

After the year's wait, a one and one-half inch bituminous mat would be used, he said. The soil- cement cracks every 20 feet, he pointed out, and it contracts be- cause there are no joints in it, but no damage would result.

Mrs. Clark retires from State Police

Mrs. Josephine V. Clark, of 13895 Center Road, Bath, who has worked 16 years at State Police headquarters in East Lansing, retired last Friday.

She has been employed as a seamstress in the tailor shop of the quartermaster section.

Before her State Police service, Mrs. Clark worked for several years at the Oldsmobile division in Lansing and in 1927-28 was employed in the advertising department of the Lansing State Journal.

She was born in Jackson, went to school at Perry and then attended Lansing Business University for a year and a half.

She and her husband, Earl, who just retired after 23 years with Telford and Doolen Equipment, Lansing, plan a summer vacation trip to Alaska.

St. Johns man dies in Lansing shooting

A St. Johns man charged with murder in the fatal shooting of another St. Johns man earlier this week in Lansing, demanded preliminary examination at his arraignment Monday in Lansing Municipal Court.

Killed was Jerome A. Geller, 42, of 207 S. Traver, following a wild chase after a screaming woman through the halls of a Lansing home for the aged Sunday morning.

Charged in the shooting was Jack E. Hackett, 59, who police said lives at the same address.

Following his arraignment, Hackett was ordered held at the Ingham County jail without bail. Preliminary examination was tentatively set for June 18 at 1:30 p.m. in Lansing Municipal Court.

Geller died of four bullet wounds about 10:13 a.m. at Lansing General Hospital, according to Lansing Coroner Jack B. Holmes.

According to Lansing police reports, Geller had driven Virginia Murray, 27, of Lansing to work at the Roselawn Convalescent Home about 8:30 a.m. When they arrived, Hackett was reportedly waiting behind a bush outside the home and chased Miss Murray into the building.

Witnesses said she ran in and out of several rooms screaming for help while elderly patients watched in horror. Police said Geller apparently ran into the building after Hackett and confronted him on the main floor near a nurses station.

Two shots were fired into the ceiling during a struggle between the two men and then four into Geller, police said.

Meanwhile, Miss Murray had run out of the building to the parking lot where another woman drove her away. She stopped a patrol car and reported the incident.

After the shooting, police said Hackett was driven away from the nursing home by his daughter, Lisa. They were stopped by a police cruiser on the street and Hackett was arrested.

Police said bullets were from a German Luger, recovered in the car Hackett was riding in when arrested.

Miss Murray told police she had worked for Hackett as a cleaning woman since January, 1963 but left his employ last month and moved to Lansing. While she worked for Hackett, she became acquainted with Geller, who lived in the same building.

Services for Geller, a tool maker at Federal-Mogul Corp., were set for today (Wednesday) at 11 a.m. at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in St. Johns. Burial will be in Mt. Rest Cemetery.

Born in Fowler, Geller attended Fowler schools and has been living in the St. Johns area for the last 20 years.

He is survived by his wife, Theresa, whose address is listed as 809 S. Clinton Ave; two sons, Bruce and Richard; three daughters, Patricia, Debra and Mrs. Susan Fineout; his mother, Mrs. Caroline Geller, of Fowler; a brother, Roman, of Fowler; six sisters, Mrs. Rosaline Theis, Mrs. Bernita Fedewa, Mrs. Lillian Kobel, Mrs. Marie Hufnagel, Mrs. Laurine Thelen and Mrs. Viola Minarik, all of Fowler; and two grandchildren.

He was a member of the Knights of Columbus, the American Legion and the St. Johns Fire Department.

A killer

Alcohol was a factor in at least half of the 56,400 traffic deaths that took place during 1969. The Department of Transportation's 1969 report to Congress on "Alcohol and Highway Safety" concluded that "alcohol has been the largest single factor leading to fatal crashes."

Open Letter from VAN W. HOAG

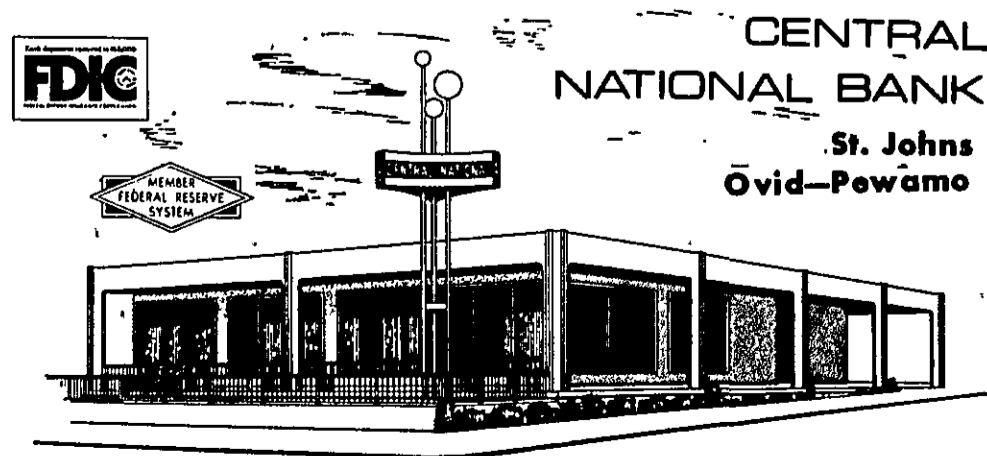

Dear friends,
"There is a sentiment today to hold the body in disdain once the spirit has left it, and to frown upon viewing the body at funerals," says Rev. Vernon O. Elmore. "I cannot agree. Man's body is a supreme testimony to the creative genius of God. Should not the abiding place of the spirit be revered? The person has been identified with the body so intimately that to honor the body is to honor the person."
Respectfully,
Van W. Hoag

checkmate

The Automatic Checking Account Loan Service

WHAT CHECKMATE IS

Check-Mate is not a credit card. It is a check guarantee—automatic loan program. It assists you in cashing checks where you are not known and it allows you to write checks for more than your balance with payment of the loan created by small monthly installments of a lump sum, if you desire. Only you and your bank know that you are creating a loan when you write the check.

HOW YOU CAN USE IT

Use Check-Mate to institute a loan at the time of purchase. No delay or red tape when buying items at a time when your account is low or the convenience of delayed payment is desired. The amount used can be repaid in total or in installments to fit your budget.

PLUS IT CAN BE A SAVINGS

Perhaps you have no intention of making a loan but by merely completing a Check-Mate contract you can assure yourself of a savings in the event of an accidental overdraft. The usual overdraft charge is $3 but with the protection of Check-Mate, a three-day checkmate loan of $100 would cost you only 10¢. Let us explain these and other advantages of a signed Check-Mate contract on file at Clinton National Bank.

District award winners - - -

By JOHN AYLWORTH

Nine Clinton County 4-H'ers have been selected as District 5 Award winners in competing for State and National 4-H Awards. They are: Jim McQueen, National 4-H Conference; Kathy Nichols, All Achievement; Dana Hazle, Dairy; Kathy Hazle, Bread; John Dunham, Commodity Marketing; Kathy Davis, Health; Randy Davis, Rabbits; Lori McQueen, Entomology; and Alan Cobb, Poultry. These members have been recommended for these awards by the County 4-H Award Committee based upon the results of the belated forms.

District 5 is composed of 17 counties in Southeast Michigan. Two members are selected in each project area from the five districts to compete for the State Award and a trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago. The district winners will now complete the National Report forms and will be interviewed during the State 4-H Youth Exploration Days at Michigan State University in August.

An Entomology 4-H Training meeting has been set up for Thursday, June 18, 8 p.m. at Smith Hall in St. Johns for youth and adults interested in learning more about the project. Items to be covered include different methods of trapping insects, identification contest, using a microscope, games to learn about insects, a film on bees, demonstrations, etc. Dr. Richard Sauer, the new Extension Entomology Specialist from MSU will be present to help answer any questions the group might have. Anyone interested in learning more about insects or bees is invited to attend.

4-H horticulture leaders may want to include a tour on Tuesday, July 21 at the MSU Campus for older horticulture members and other interested youth as part of their training programs. Present plans call for meeting at the horticulture building, Room 107 at 10 a.m. They will tour the horticulture gardens and greenhouses and the Beal Botanical Garden in the morning. After lunch they will tour the Horticultural Research Facility located south of the campus and perhaps a nursery or other place of interest. The tour will be over by 3 p.m. Members are urged to bring their lunch if possible and no advance reservations are needed.

National Farm Safety Week is scheduled for July 19 - 25. The theme of the week is "Protection - Make it Work for Safety." It is especially apt in this day of powerful machinery, chemicals and complex farm operations because fundamental to injury prevention in consistent use of equipment such as tractor roll protection, safety belts, machinery guards and shields and others. Farm Safety Week Posters and letters enclosures are available in limited quantities until supplies are exhausted. Please order early by writing to Farm Department, National Safety Council, 425 N. Michigan, Chicago, 60611. Allow 30 days for delivery.

4-H'ers from Clinton and surrounding counties are invited to participate in a 4-H horse show, Sunday, June 21, 12:30 p.m. at the fair grounds in St. Johns. Members will have the opportunity to enter different classes in fitting and showmanship and equitation for Western, English and ponies plus a number of speed and action events. The entry fee is $1.00 per class with rosettes given in each class to the top six places. There will be trophies given to the three championship classes. This show will give the boys and girls an opportunity to try their skill in competitive classes in preparation for other shows and the County Fair. The public is invited and there is no charge for admission.

The Sunshiners 4-H members visited the "Pung Acre Farm" owned by Jim Pung of Westphalia where they saw his hog feeding and production operation

Mr. Pung instructed the boys how he cared for his pigs and told them what costs are involved in raising pigs to market weight. It was an excellent educational experience for the boys. President David Thelen read an article called "Ideas Count." The members discussed the information covered.

The Green Clover Community 4-H Club members have decided on several methods of raising funds for their club such as a bake sale and handling the lunch concession at the Riverside Riders 4-H Club Horse Show in July. John Aylsworth, the Extension 4-H Youth Agent was the guest speaker and he showed slides about activities at 4-H Camp and a movie "Make Tomorrow Happen" on the 1969 National 4-H Congress at Chicago. The members voted to build a float for the fair contest as well as have another entry in the litter barrel contest. Project books were passed out and project meetings announced to the members.

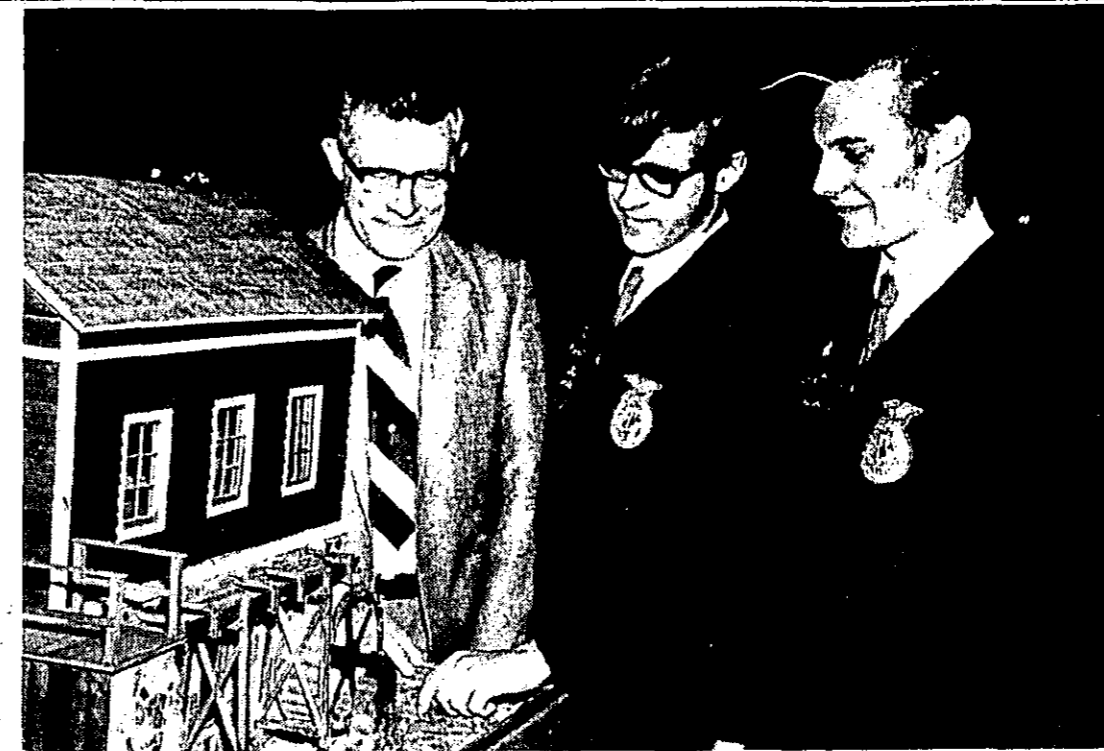

The Handy Andy's 4-H members have elected the following officers for the summer program. They are: President, Ruth Thelen; Vice-President, Connie Schmitz; Secretary, Marie Schmitz; Treasurer, Jan Marie Schueller and News reporter, Mary Therese Thelen. The next riding session will be on June 13 at 1:00 p.m. at Mr. Hanson's home.

A 4-H Food training meeting for members 12 years and older and leaders is scheduled for Tuesday, June 16, 1:30 p.m. at Smith Hall in St. Johns. Members will be able to receive help in poster making relating for color, design, printing plus help in giving demonstrations and action exhibits.

State Future Farmers of America President Robert Craig (center) of Ovid and Secretary Paul R. Grill (left) of Byron, were among state FFA officers who visited Detroit Edison's headquarters in Detroit (recently) as part of an Edison sponsored FFA recognition program. The youths are inspecting a model of an early grist mill with James P. McCormick, Edison's vice-president for educational affairs. Robert, who works on his family's 310 acre farm, is Honor Society President, president of the Methodist Youth Fellowship, and has been President of the Ovid Elsie Teenage Republican Club. Food is best buy Eat hearty folks because there's more good food coming your way at greater values for your buying dollar according to an optimistic report of the Economic Research Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Putting food costs into perspective and relating them to the consumer sometimes meets with skepticism from the food buyers who pay regularly to the tune of the chimes of the grocer's till, nevertheless food is today's best buy, and here's why.

If you're experiencing an increase in your grocery budget it may have resulted from a shift to greater consumption, more expensive type food, the addition of more services in packaging food, and then there's the budget buster of eating out, even though it's a great break from routine, it's costly.

Since 1957-59, over a decade ago, food costs have risen roughly 2.7 per cent each year. Looking at it collectively, this is a 34 per cent hike in 13 years of bartering with the neighborhood grocer.

Today, for each member of your family you can estimate a $511 total per year cost for sitting at the dining table. But wait a minute... American's buying power, greenback for greenback, is unmatched in food value anywhere in the world.

Although expenditures for food did increase during the '60's, the increase was less than the gains in personal income, the USDA reports. Now, more money is being made, which means less dollar output at the market.

In fact, disposable income, the money available after taxes, is on the increase. It's up a whopping 68 per cent! It sky-rocketed from $1,846 in 1957-59 to $3,099 in 1969.

But the clincher is that as a result of the increase in pay, the percentage of income paid to the grocer slid downward throughout the '60's.

There's more. In 1957-59 consumers spent only 20.6 per cent of their earned cash for the acquisition of foodstuffs. In relation-1969 evidenced a further reduction to 16.5 per cent, a 4.1 per cent dip despite a decade filled with rising incomes and rising costs for non-food products.

The food bill cut allows you to raise your family's standard of living by spending a larger piece of your income pie for other goods and services.

Cereal leaf beetle threatens oat, wheat crops in Michigan

The cereal leaf beetle is on the rampage again. It could wipe out all of the oat crop and a third of the wheat in some parts of Michigan.

Dr. Dean Haynes, Michigan State University entomologist who has been surveying the state for infestations recently gave this report:

A possibility of complete loss of the oat crop exists in the region of Shiawassee, Jackson, Allegan and Kalamazoo counties.

Populations in oats near Gull Lake were running six to seven eggs per plant when the crop was only two inches high.

Populations in Presque Isle, Grand Traverse, and Emmet counties were 12 times higher in 1969 than they were in 1968, and infestations probably will run higher this year.

Populations in the Thumb area are light, but Haynes predicted this will be the worst area of infestation within three to four years, because farmers in this part of the state produce such a big portion of the oat crop.

Haynes blamed the heavy infestations on dry weather that has given the insects plenty of time to lay eggs on plants that haven't grown much because of the drought. "Unless we get a rainy spell, we're in real trouble," said Haynes.

The larvae will start feeding at the end of May, and growers will have to start then to spray to control the pest.

MSU Entomologist Robert Ruppel recommended applying Sevin to oats that haven't headed out and Malathion to headed crops. Both insecticides should be applied at the rate of one pound of actual chemical per acre.

Haynes said parasites and resistant varieties promise control of the cereal leaf beetle in the future. Two, small wasp-like insects imported from Europe have been established in the state and their effectiveness is being evaluated at MSU's Gull Lake research station.

Several promising resistant wheat varieties are being tested by Drs. David Smith and James Webster, USDA entomologists working out of MSU's Agricultural Experiment Station. These varieties should be released in a few years.

No resistant oat varieties have been found as yet.

But usually harmless

June bugs back and bustin' out all over

Those clumsy June bugs are back.

A perennial sign of the season, June bugs are again banging themselves against screen doors, porches and people.

Emerging from the soil near dusk, adult beetles begin their search for food; they like oak and willow foliage.

Dean F. Lovitt, Michigan Department of Agriculture Plant Industry Division chief, says the adults do little damage in most cases.

"People often confuse the relatively harmless June bugs with the more harmful Japanese beetles," Lovitt said. "Japanese beetles have an iridescent green color compared to the brown to black larger June bugs."

Upon emerging, the female June bugs lay their eggs in soil near grass and other vegetation. During the first year, the larvae (white grubs) live underground and feed on roots; they can cause damage to lawns and pastures.

Once emerged, the adult beetles have a short life of only a few days.

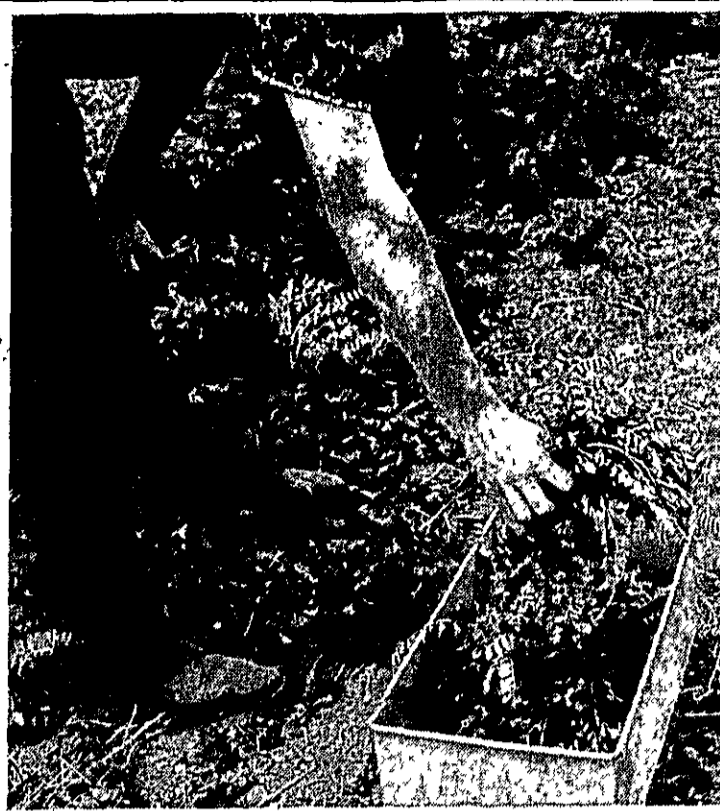

In a few cases, June bugs may feed on valuable ornamental or shade trees; homeowners who feel they have a severe problem should contact their local county extension agent who can make specific control recommendations.

Foundation crownvetch plant lifted to crate with sphagnum moss.

Crownvetch plants are taken from sphagnum moss crate to district tree planter box.

Soil erosion is stopped on 250,000 acres in state

Nearly a quarter of a million acres of Michigan's cropland resisted erosion by wind and water last year because farm operators left plant residues from the previous crop on the soil surface while planting and growing the 1969 grain and row crops. A possible doubling of the acreage thus protected may be expected this year.

This announcement by Arthur H. Cratty, State Conservationist of the USDA Soil Conservation Service in East Lansing, followed a county by county survey of planting methods used.

Only planting which did not involve the use of a moldboard plow in seedbed preparation was counted. Often called No-Till, such methods are also called zero tillage, slot planting, chisel planting, or till planting. They all have one aim—to keep as much crop residue as is possible on the surface, still permitting a good stand and high yields of the new-planted crop.

Cratty stresses the importance of these residues as an erosion control measure. When most farms had livestock, grass and hay crops made up a large part of the crop acreage. Erosion was slight under such crops. Fewer farms have livestock today.

Economics forces farmers to grow larger acreages of row crops. Under normal plowing and cultivation the soil is bare between the crop rows for a large part of the growing season. Bare soil moved by wind and water contributes to pollution problems such as sediment filled streams and lakes, impaired drainage channels, and even dust in homes.

Cornstalks or other crop residues on the soil surface can provide protection similar to that of grass and hay crops, says Cratty. On a field where corn planted year after year with conventional methods would lose 10 tons of soil per acre per year, No-Till leaving 90 per cent of the previous crop residue on the surface would cut soil loss to one ton per acre. Continuous corn under this system can be as soil conserving as a rotation of corn-corn and three years of hay.

No-Till planting methods still have some problems. Obtaining good crop stands and adequate weed control are just a couple of them. Farmers, researchers, and equipment companies are proving that these problems can be licked.

The rewards are great—less time, labor and money to fit the soil and plant and cultivate; equal or better yields, and protection from soil loss. These are the reasons nearly 83,000 acres of row crop and 163,000 acres of small grain were planted with crop residues on the soil surface last year.

State Crop Report

By MICHIGAN CROP REPORTING SERVICE

FOR WEEK ENDING MAY 30

Small grains, hay and pastures are developing well.

However, wet soils delayed field work early in the week and only three days were suitable for work in much of the State.

Soil moisture supplies varied from surplus in much of the south central and southeastern Lower Peninsula and eastern Upper Peninsula to mostly adequate elsewhere.

For the entire State, about 85 per cent of the intended acreage of corn is planted.

About three-fourths of the potato acreage and 45 per cent of the soybean acreage has been planted.

Farmers are plowing and fitting fields for dry beans as the weather permits. Dry bean planting has started on a few farms. Wet soils are hindering the application of herbicides and the cultivation of row crops.

Winter wheat has started to head in the southern counties. Rye has headed and winter barley has reached the early milk stage.

Oats are developing well. Green chopping of alfalfa is active and some alfalfa has been cut for dry hay. Cereal leaf beetles are numerous in some oat fields.

Heavy infestations of alfalfa weevils have been formed in some alfalfa fields. Pastures are furnishing either average or above average amounts of feed in most areas.

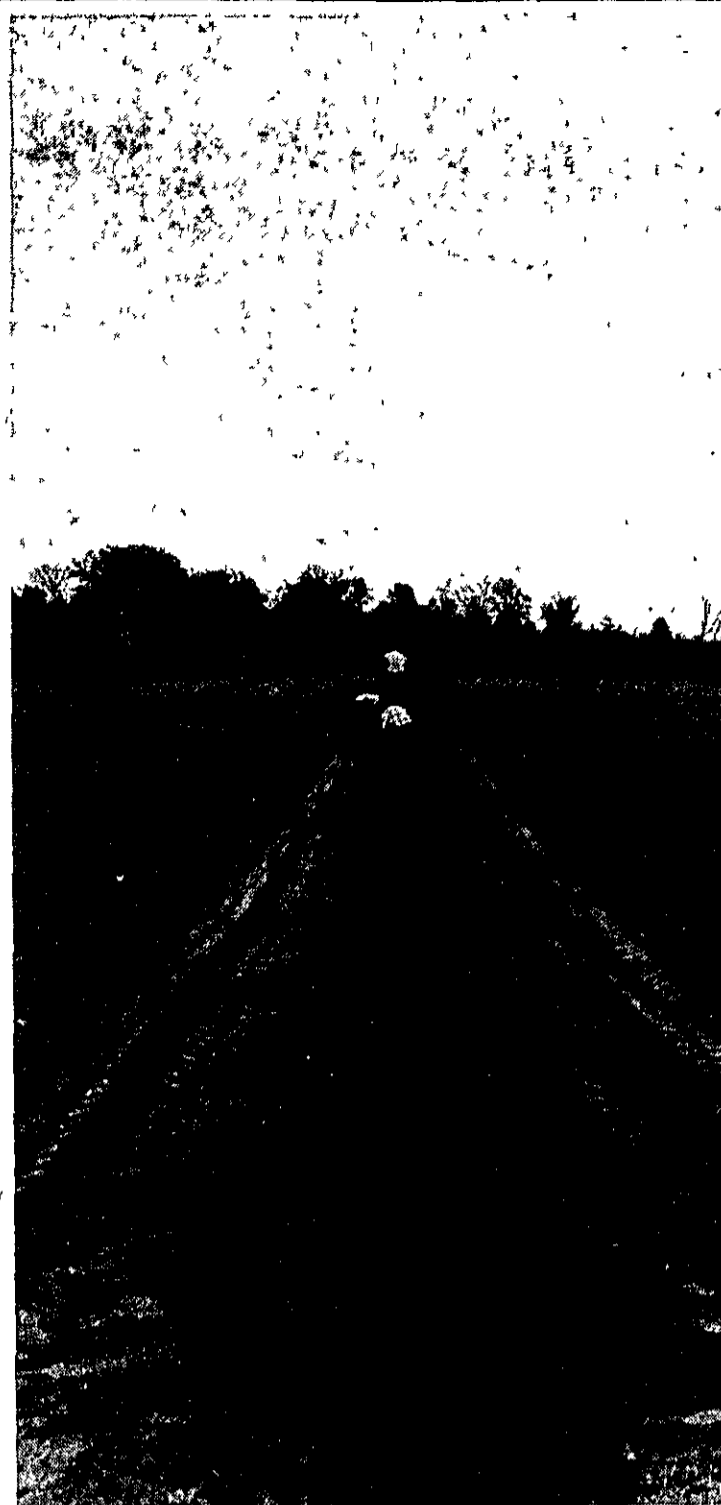

Vegetable planting is well along in most areas. Asparagus harvest slowed by cool weather in west central area but continuing at a good pace in Berrien County. Earliest strawberries in Berrien County were expected to be ready to pick by June 5 but main crop not expected to be ready until a week later.

Planting of snap beans for processing, cucumbers and table beets active in central and west-central counties. Radish, green onions and leaf lettuce harvest active in Macomb County. Tomatoes are developing well in Monroe County.

Wet humid weather has made the control of insects and disease in orchards difficult. Red mites and mildew have appeared on some trees.

Non-ag

In 1969, the five states with the highest number of employees on non-agricultural payrolls were New York, 7.1 million; California, 6.9 million; Illinois, 4.4 million; Pennsylvania, 4.3 million; and Ohio, 3.9 million.

Dept. asks voluntary withdrawal of DDT

Michigan retailers who still have supplies of products containing DDT on their shelves are being asked by B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, to cooperate in voluntarily removing such products from the market.

Registration of DDT was cancelled by the Michigan Commission of Agriculture a year ago, with the exception of certain limited emergency uses by governmental health agencies.

Under the Commission action, no new supplies of DDT products could be shipped into Michigan.

Since June 28, 1969, when the cancellation became effective, a total of 1.25 tons of DDT formulations illegally shipped into Michigan have been seized by the Department and returned to the out-of-state shippers, Ball reported.

"Retailers have had almost a year in which to dispose of inventories on hand at the time of the cancellation," Ball said. "Now we are asking that they voluntarily remove any remaining supplies from their shelves."

Because Michigan has thousands of retailers and because the inspection staff of the Department is limited, various retail associations and organizations are being asked to contact members and solicit their cooperation.

Director Ball said such voluntary action would be a public service "greatly appreciated by our department and by Michigan residents as well."

Computer speeds plant ID

The identification of weeds and flowers is now being done by computer at Michigan State University.

When linked with national institutions, the computer method could provide split-second plant identification, says Dr. John Beaman, MSU botanist who has received a sizable grant from the National Science Foundation for the two-year project.

Flag Day

Serious observers are questioning the durability of the American system. One of these is columnist Stewart Alsop who commented recently that "A good many normally sensible people are beginning to ask themselves whether the American system might not come apart one of these days, rather like Oliver Wendell Holmes' wonderful one-hoss shay. The one-hoss shay, you'll recall, 'was built in such a way it ran a hundred years to a day.' But it 'went to pieces all at once - all at once, and nothing first, just as bubbles do when they burst.'"

These reflections of a leading and highly competent viewer of the contemporary scene should make everyone pause and search for little ways in which to exhibit a reaffirmation of faith in the U.S. An obvious opportunity will present itself next Sunday, June 14, during the nation wide observance of Flag Day. It was on that date in 1777 that the United States' flag was adopted and for nearly 200 years it has been a symbol of freedom and justice.

Abused word

That much abused word "liberal" is in danger of becoming more of a liability than an asset to aspiring politicians. Candidates who have been quick to climb on the liberal bandwagon may change their minds when they read the results of a recent Gallup poll. According to that source, Americans, by a majority of 3 to 2, favor the "conservative label."

It's not surprising that "liberal" has become a misunderstood word. Politicians have reversed its traditional meaning for a long time. Under its banner they have advanced measured that are the antithesis of liberalism - more government control over our lives.

Chances are good that the much abused word "liberal" will be vanishing from the political scene.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

COMMENTS FROM OTHER PAPERS.

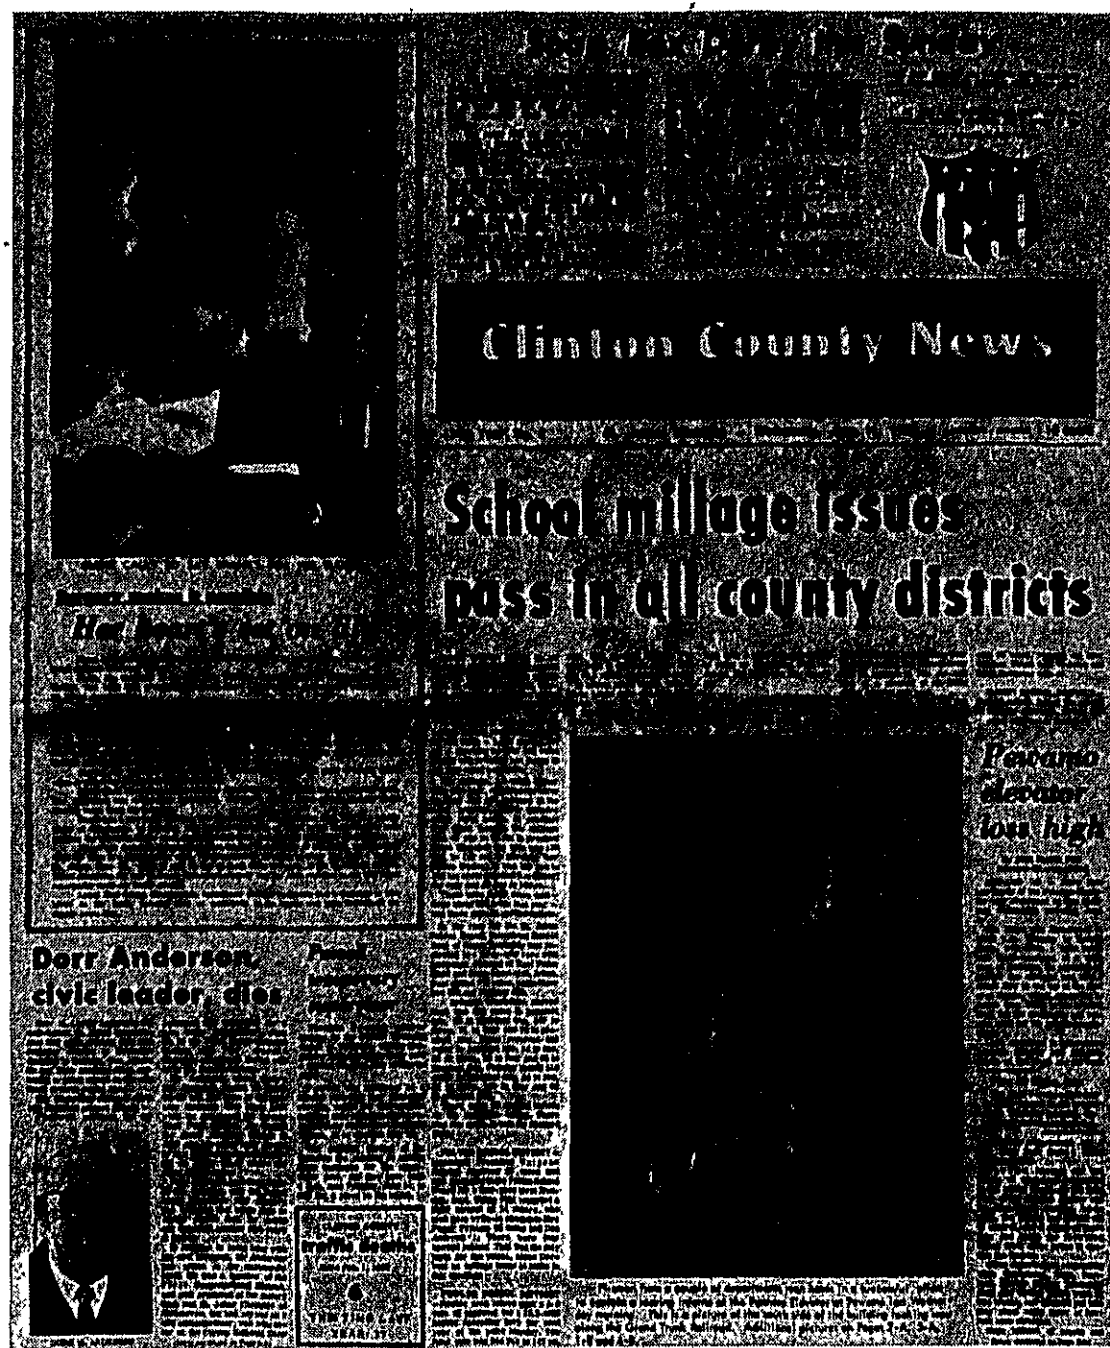

EL DORADO, Kan., TIMES: "Guess who committed an estimated 35,000 assaults, murders and thefts during 1969. That friendly-looking fellow 'waiting down the road with his thumb in the air, that's who! Hitchhikers are crowding America's highways in unprecedented numbers..."

MONTROSE, Calif., LEDGER: "...there was the usual annual Newspaper Week observance, with a lot of credit extended to those fine young men who deliver millions of newspapers a week as private enterprisers, the newspaper boys. There are no newspaper girls in California because the streets are not safe for little girls. It would seem that this would be a rallying point for someone - why not make the streets safe for all children, but very unsafe for criminals?"

MILWAUKEE, Wis., TIMES: "What's bothering you may be making you a dangerous man behind the wheel. Slammer down. You can't change the world for the moment, or the guy who's got your dander up. But you can save your own life!"

SABINA, Ohio, ADVERTISER: "When you look at the many kinds of faxes we all pay, it kind of makes you realize that the folks running this country haven't been fools. A bunch of fools couldn't have thought up the many, many ways to get money out of our pockets."

PORTLAND, Ore., JOURNAL: "One lesson to be learned from the economic ills that gnaw at the nation's stability and threaten the citizens' prosperity is that government authorities do not know as much about managing the economy as had been assumed."

PAGE ONE - ONE YEAR AGO, JUNE 11, 1969

These were the people and events making Page One news in Clinton County one year ago. The big item was passage of school millage issues in all county districts. Also that week, the Farmers Elevator at Pewamo became a roaring inferno and within 28 hours the Ovid Farmers Elevator at Elsie burned to the ground. There was good news, though. The little 21-month-old girl shown at the top of the page underwent successful open heart surgery. Her name was Diane Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tilford, of DeWitt. Meanwhile, Dorr M. (Andy) Anderson, well-known St. Johns business man and civic leader, was felled by a heart attack at the age of 60. And, as usual, it was Soap Box Derby Time.

Back thru the years

Elevator fires, antique car parade, huge barn dance and postal hikes - these were headlines of the past

Interesting items from the files of the Clinton County News.

One Year Ago

JUNE 11, 1969
More than two-thirds of the Pewamo Elevator was destroyed by fire early Wednesday morning, June 4. Pewamo firemen responded to the initial alarm with two pieces of equipment, but by the time they arrived the fire was raging out of control. Firemen from other area departments were called, fighting the blaze for several hours. Damage was estimated as high as $75,000.

A second large fire within a 28-hour period brought a blazing end to the Ovid Farmers Elevator on the Maple River at Elsie Thursday, June 5. The landmark structure, 135-years - old, was destroyed by the fast-spreading fire that prevented Elsie firemen from doing anything other than containing the blaze to the building. Losses were estimated at $50,000.

School millage issues in all districts of Clinton County passed Monday, June 9, meaning classes will be held as expected next fall. Margins ranged from 20 votes at DeWitt to more than 200 in the Ovid-Elsie district. In St. Johns, a 14.5 - mill proposition for one year was approved by 112 votes, carrying by over 300 votes in the city precinct and losing in all four rural precincts.

Work around the new St. Johns High School on West Sicksle Street had reached a point where it seems like the finishing up details are going to take forever. In reality, it is progressing normally and the contractors are in the final stages of construction. Furniture for the building is arriving almost daily.

JUNE 9, 1960
One Clinton County speller, Dennis Dunkel, won a state crown and five of the six competing with other champ spellers won ribbons in a contest Tuesday at Charlotte. Dennis missed one word in his first 25 tries and only three in the second 25 words for the title.

Pontifical requiem Mass was sung by Most Rev Joseph A. Albers, bishop of Lansing, Saturday for Rt. Rev Msgr. George J. Esper, who was pastor of Holy Trinity Church at Fowler for 25 years. Monsignor Esper died June 4 in a Lansing hospital after an illness of more than a year.

The always impressive graduation exercises, spotlighted by a full moon and pleasant spring weather, were held for 180 St. Johns High School seniors Wednesday at Frank Buck field. It was the largest graduating class in the history of the school.

Throngs of Clinton area residents, who had waited patiently for almost two hours, inspected 118 antique cars that chugged into St. Johns en route to Lansing, Saturday. The event was the sixth annual WOODland antique car tour.

Raymond J. Smith, president of the Gunntsonville school board, presented the new eight - room school to Mrs. Lola Harmon, principal, at ceremonies last Sunday.

25 Years Ago

JUNE 14, 1945
One of the largest crowds ever assembled in the history of the Elsie community was in attendance on Thursday night at an old-fashioned barn dance at Green Meadow farms, two miles southeast of the village. The public was invited and it was estimated that more than 3,000 automobiles and 8,000 persons visited the farm.

Interested people throughout Clinton County were urged to attend a public meeting at Rodney B. Wilson High School to ratify a proposal for a County Memorial Park for the servicemen and women of World War II and to choose a board of 20 trustees and nine directors to proceed with plans for the "living" memorial.

Clinton County's tabulation of bond purchases during the Seventh War Loan Drive continued to be discouraging, according to reports issued by war-savings chairman, Edward W. Fehling. With 16 days to go before the drive ended, the county had only reached the half-way mark with $1,032,000.

The new 1945 auto use tax stamps went on sale at post offices throughout Clinton County Saturday. Purchase of the stamp was compulsory if drivers planned to use their cars after July 1.

The second in the summer series of concerts at the band shell at the St. Johns city park was to be held this Friday night with Robert Kerns conducting the St. Johns High School band.

50 Years Ago

JUNE 10, 1920
In keeping with a proclamation of Gov. Sleeper for the observance of Flag Day, a community service was held in the Congregational Church last Sunday where an eloquent and inspiring address was given by the pastor, Rev Robert Dalzell. Through efforts of Sen. Townsend, the pay of post office clerks and rural carriers was increased. Clerks would receive

'IF IT FITZ ...' And now, a word from our Fitz ...

By JIM FITZGERALD

"America, you have underarm wetness. But I don't care." That's what I'm going to tell America when I go on national television.

Avco Corp. will send a camera crew to my home to film me while I talk. Avco will pay the network bill. All I have to do is pay for redecorating the house. Our tattered drapes and flecking paint aren't going to be seen by millions of dust-checking housewives, my wife said.

You probably read the Avco offer. In page ads in hundreds of newspapers, Avco said: "If you have something important to tell America, we'll put you on national television to say it."

It's hard for the little guy to be heard, Avco said. But he should be heard. So Avco is turning over its TV commercial time to "Individual Americans like yourself."

Not all of you. In fact, just 50 the first year. I don't know who the other 49 will be. In truth, I must admit that Avco has not yet agreed I should be one of the persons to tell America something important. But the actual linking of the TV pact (that's show biz talk) is just a formality.

"If you have something to say and the guts to say it, write us a letter." Avco said. The Avco brass will decide what is important enough for America to hear. This column is my letter and it can't miss. But, in case I forget, would you please mail it to "An American Speaks, Box 878 New York, N. Y. 10017."

Like I said, America should be assured that underarm wetness does not mean the end of the world. TV commercials have scared America silly of all the wrong things. What could be more appropriate than to correct this through the use of Avco commercials?

It's really not so terrible, America, if you smell or burp or sweat. Girls may like you even if you don't drive a sporty car. You can insist that "Winston's taste good like a cigaret should" is poor grammar without fear of 12 howling men tap dancing on your head.

I even know a woman who had nerve enough to call a repairman to fix her Maytag. She still lives.

So phooey. What we need are commercials warning that Pentagon generals may be hazardous to the health of your 18-year-old son. Each body counted in our military body-counts was once a human being who loved and was loved. His family misses him.

You should not judge a man by the length of his hair or the color of his skin. No more "back of the bus." All of us bleeding liberals know that. But the same yardstick should be applied when your daughter picks a date, or a husband. Otherwise, the whole idea is phony and will never get off the ground.

White racism has caused countless problems and misery. But black racism, although more understandable, is just as stupid. The only real hope is that enough black men will forgive and forget. Which is more than many white men deserve.

And until these problems of war and race are solved, everything else is peanuts. Pollution hurts and there's glory on the moon. But first, people must learn how to get along with people.

See you on TV? Don't bet your spray deodorant on it.

2-4-6-8 ... We're going to participate

By RON KARLE, Editor

Oh, what a lovely roar went up.

What with all them durn college kids yelling and shouting, even burning and breaking windows.

And dying, by the way. But what a hubub. We ought to do this and they ought to do that.

Among the oughts they should be doing was get involved in politics. Get a haircut first, because most intelligent voters know that long hair is immoral, then get involved.

So some of the kids said, "Yeah, we'll get involved, it's relevant. And we'll even get haircuts."

Which, if it lasts, will be something.

Because they can work their tails off for some candidate but in most places can't vote for him.

Like here, for instance. Work but don't participate kid.

It makes for less rock throwing.

Us grownups, we'll participate.

We will? Sure, kid. Look.

Right here in Clinton County we got 14 Democrats who participate. They're going to be precinct delegates to the county convention. Forget about the fact that the Democrats could have 111 delegates to that convention.

But, you say, the one-party system is sort of the American Way up here in these heartlands. And we don't cotton to Democrats in these parts. That's true.

And we do have 38 Republican s participating out here. Which isn't bad compared to the Democrats because the Grand Old Party could have only 102 delegates to their county convention.

County convention? That doesn't sound like much.

They don't demonstrate or anything like that, do they, boy?

No, sir. All they do is send some fellows to the state convention. You know, in the big city.

Sounds dangerous. Is that where they throw the rocks?

No, that's where they pick delegates to the national convention.

Oh, but why?

That's so come a couple years from November you and me can sit around and complain because the conventions are fixed.

It's also a good time to give the kids hell for not doing anything constructive.

Why can't the kids be like us?

Uh-huh. Say, you don't think those kids really want to vote or anything like that?

Naw. Even if they could vote, there's nothing to worry about. If they've been brought up right, they'll just follow our example.

That's a thought.

Sure. You don't throw rocks or demonstrate or anything, do you?

Who me? Course not. Well, then . . .

TAKING FIVE Politics break

By RON HUARD

There used to be a time when the purpose of a college was clearly understood, but any more I can't always figure it out.

In some respects they've become as nurseries for infantile minds who use the campus as a playground for stacking their blockhead ideas.

There's no question that the campus should be the primary site for the freedom of expression but the image of sound reasoning, which has traditionally surrounded these schools, is fast dissipating in the smoke of burning buildings and the memories of lost authority.

By some measure the thirst for knowledge seems to have been replaced by an insatiable appetite for anything and everything foreign to the meaning of college.

And now comes the biggest joke of all.

Somebody has thrown out the idea that colleges should close their doors for two weeks before national elections to allow students to campaign for their favorite candidates. Hot dog! While we're at it let's close all business places too. There must be a heck of a lot of adults who would enjoy a two-week politics break. We could have a like-Mardi-Gras, Fourth of July and Fair Week all rolled into one. We could just stop the world for a few days until the leaders were elected.

But then there would always be the party-poopers. The guys who wouldn't want to play the game. The ones who would rather continue their studies, stay at their jobs and act as intelligent people trying to run a sensible college.

There's little question that man is a political animal, but but locking the doors of school to let him do his thing borders on stupidity.

If our political system has deteriorated to the point where we have to free the kids to support it it must be in bad shape. So bad that a mere two weeks wouldn't go very far in improving it.

Youngsters who are sincerely interested in political activities will find time to participate. They will need no incentive like a holiday from school. But they'd get a kick out of the idea.

Deadlines

Because we haven't heard of a newspaper that suddenly materializes with all news, advertising copy and pictures in place and in A-1 condition, it becomes necessary for the Clinton County News to impose deadlines to insure a smooth flow of copy so that as much material as possible may be printed in proper form. Toward this end, these deadlines are now in effect:

- Display advertising.....Monday noon.
- Classified advertising.....Monday noon.
- Letters to the editor.....Thursday 5 p.m.
- News for farm pages.....Thursday noon.
- Wedding stories, pictures.....Thursday noon.
- Other contributed pictures.....Monday noon.
- Church and fine arts items.....Thursday 5 p.m.
- Regular columns.....Friday 9 a.m.
- Sports page items.....Monday 5 p.m.
- Teen activities page items.....Thursday 5 p.m.
- Other contributed items.....Monday 5 p.m.

Earlier submission of news items is greatly appreciated, with the result that more attention can be given to them. Items will be accepted after the deadline, but will be used ONLY if time and space are available. Requests for pictures to be taken by the County News staff should be made as soon as possible and never less than 24 hours before the picture time.

Treasury tales

By TIM YOUNKMAN

One of the more perplexing experiences in life is browsing through an annual financial report from the Michigan Department of the Treasury.

All those tables, graphs and charts specifically designed to clarify the garbled prose of a frustrated Hemingway never seem to do the job.

For example, I was determined to throw myself into this story and come up with a know it all ego trip, really informing the public on tax collection matters—a subject near and dear to all of us.

But then I hit a snag. The bright blue and gold cover of the report claims it is packed to the brim with information for "fiscal 1969."

The problem is how can I write a story when I don't even know what year I'm talking about? Was the fiscal they display from July 1, 1969 to June 30, 1970? Or was it July 1, 1968 to June 30, 1969? Or May 1, 1969 to May 2, 1969? Or ...

They never come out and say the answer in print which leads me to believe that it is quite possible the treasury people don't really know either but don't want to let on.

However, I am going ahead undaunted by such trivia and get down to the real meat of the matter.

I had never realized that the people of Clinton County are practically carbon copies of the pleasant people in Gogebic. Startling isn't it, but the treasury department wouldn't lie. For example, Clinton County's per capita sales tax collection for the fiscal year—whatever it was—amounted to $55.65. Gogebic residents spent a per capita sum of $55.33.

The Gogebicers were taxed to the tune of $245,907 on non-retail goods while Clintonites paid out $205,629. That's close enough, but under a column marked total use tax collected—fiscal again—they pair $89,944.57 and we paid $78,225.44.

BEDFORD, INC., TIMES-MAIL: "It's a small hole in the pipeline, as federal spending goes, but we note with satisfaction that the Nixon Administration has decided to get the government out of the business of insuring loans for golf courses. Publicity about a $265,000 loan to a Mississippi golf course ... brought public attention to this little known policy, which began during the Kennedy Administration. When the public yelled about such use of federal funds, the Agriculture Department decided to abolish the practice. Score up one more proof of need for constant scrutiny of our federal government's labyrinthine operations."

COLUMBIA, Tenn., HERALD: "If a Presidential study group on causes and prevention of violence had its way, millions of Americans would be forced to turn over to the government as many as 21 million handguns. . . . May we remind this gun study group that citizen ownership of firearms is both a right and tradition in the United States. It symbolizes independence, as well as individual responsibility—inescapable elements of freedom under a representative form of government. Firearm regulations that fail to take this into account have no place in the law of this land."

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., TRIBUNE: "The Federal Aviation Administration's chief psychologist, Dr. John D. Dalley, proounds an interesting . . . theory as to what motivates those who hijack aircraft. Most of the hijackers, he thinks, see this conspicuous act of piracy as giving them one great moment of power and glory in a life of failure. . . . The FFA psychologist suggests something else that might in the long run prove effective, however. He would spread the word that far from being considered 'a big shot in Cuba,' many of the hijackers get poor treatment and may even wind up in jail. This appears to be true. Perhaps intensively publicizing it would persuade some would-be hijackers that they'd better look elsewhere for their kicks."

But then a strange thing happened. Right before my eyes the good Gogebicers up and moved to Schoolcraft. On a map marked per cent of change in sales tax collections, there is Clinton County with 10.76 per cent, but, good heavens, what do we find in the U.P.? You guessed it—there's 'ole crafty Schoolcraft with 10.76.

Alas, my undying faith in the treasury department was crushed on page 54. "Sales tax collection figures released by the Department should be used with caution," page 54 said. "These figures do not necessarily represent all retail sales in Michigan." I was agghast.

Here, I had devoted a whole column to the accuracy and courage of the treasury to print the truth about where we spend our tax money.

Perhaps I should have been more cautious, but if the treasury boys turn the heat on I know where I'll be welcome. I hear Gogebic is beautiful this time of year—or is it Schoolcraft?

Off the track

By REP. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

The rather controversial off-track horse race betting bill (HB 3916) was passed by the House last week. Opinion was strongly divided among legislators on his measure, which had been defeated once earlier this year. On final passage, the 58 to 47 vote broke down as follows: 46 Democrats and 12 Republicans in favor of the bill, and 39 Republicans and eight Democrats opposed.

I personally voted against the measure.

Chances for the bill passing the Senate are uncertain. Gov. Milliken has stated that he is "unsympathetic" to extending gambling operations, but has not said whether he would veto the bill if it reaches his desk.

The main reason given for this bill is that it will produce revenue for government operations without necessitating increased taxes. Estimates of state revenues from the bill run between $10 and $18 million per year.

$1,800 per year as a minimum and carriers, rural and city, the same.

Eighth grade graduating exercises for rural pupils who wrote the examinations in St. Johns, were held in the court room here Wednesday afternoon. Of the 50 pupils who wrote the examinations 38 passed, a larger percentage than any other center in the county. In the entire county 267 wrote and 157 passed.

Both the federal prohibition amendment and the enforcement act passed by Congress were held constitutional by the U. S. Supreme Court.

A meeting to elect officers for a proposed cooperative elevator in St. Johns was called for June 10 with 300 attending. A committee was appointed to investigate existing elevator conditions in St. Johns and report at a future meeting.

Call for help at U.S. 27 and Sturgis

To the editor:
The corner of Sturgis Street and U.S. 27 has long been hazardous. The traffic using the highway is very heavy and often we local people, when we wish to cross it must gather our courage and use whatever open space we can find. As a result the accident rate at this corner is very high though fortunately most have been minor.

I have heard it said that nothing could be done about this corner because it is a state highway. This cannot be a valid argument since U.S. 27 also runs through Lansing and there are numerous traffic lights along it there.

Now this corner may claim credit for the most tragic of all accidents, the death of a child. I'm sure we all agree that this should never have happened and we must do all we can to prevent it from happening again.

We need all the help we can get please—If you care—please contact:

Bicycle riders scolded

To the Editor:
I think that the parents of St. Johns should teach their children that when they are riding a bicycle in a Memorial Parade especially, the real and true meaning of the parade. When they are told that they should be in one area that they should stay there in an orderly manner and not move ahead and run into other parties in the parade.

Also, the bikes should be left outside the gate and the children should walk inside the cemetery therefore causing less confusion. Running around and playing and causing trouble isn't showing respect for those who have died for our country. Please help make our parades better by using good manners and not trying to hurt other people and children by running into them in the future.

St. Johns Music Dept. praised

To the editor:
Last Tuesday night the St. Johns School's Music Department gave its final performance of the year, and a truly marvelous one it was!

Not only did the band members give grand testimony to their own musical talent and to their excellent instruction, but the instructors themselves proved that they were accomplished performers in their own right.

It was a very entertaining evening and I thank you.

Dobson surgery delayed

Last minute changes have altered plans for hospitalization of Clinton County News poet Warren Dobson. Dobson was to enter the hospital late last week for eye surgery but his visit has been delayed to July 8. He will be a patient at Sparrow Hospital in Lansing.

Final printing has been completed on Dobson's book of verse, "Rambling Rhymes" and at present copies are available at Clinton County News business office for $2.50. Other distribution points will be announced by Mr. Dobson within a few days.

During his absence, the News will reprint selections from Mr. Dobson's new collection.

From the State House

Throw off your, uh... chains

By REP. DICK ALLEN

Equal rights for women! Throw off your chains, ladies, and if you feel so inclined, your bras also. Allen has joined the militant feminists!

An "equal rights" bill that I introduced is rapidly approaching final vote in the House. Despite the introduction of a number of bills that I'm convinced would be of great benefit to the State, only this one "Allen" Bill has so far advanced to the head of the calendar.

Of all the bills I introduced, I would have picked this as among the most likely to be buried in committee. It was introduced primarily in response to the request of a constituent and friend who apparently had run into the problem in his law practice. I was convinced the idea had merit and I pursued it diligently, but admittedly not with the fervor I have given to a couple of my pet projects.

But an idea and a time occasionally coincide. Apparently women's rights is in and my bill hit at the right time as it slid through the usually tough Judiciary Committee without a hitch.

H.B. 4713 gives women equal rights in some new areas. Upon enactment women would have equal rights to pay alimony, contribute child support and confer cash or property settlements on their spouses following divorce.

These may not be the exact rights the ladies passing out literature on the Capitol steps have been looking for. But as we tell the young people, rights bring with them responsibilities.

I guess I'm a little old fashioned in this area. Besides the obvious and enjoyable differences in the sexes, I feel some differences in our roles in society have been appropriate. While the male has generally been the family provider, it has been appropriate that he had some educational and occupational advantages.

But times are changing and I am willing, if reluctant, to change with them. My wife works. A friend who is a college counselor says the average female graduate will spend about as many years in her career as the average male. The years she might take off for child bearing are nearly made up by the longer life expectancy.

So here you are ladies, H.B. 4713. If you want to thank me you might just write a note rather than rush to Lansing. Large groups of happy women make me a little nervous.

Cookie Jar Diplomacy

By W.E. Dobson

There's been a hull lot printed 'Bout the generation gap 'N some is documentee But a lot of it is pap. Somehow I keep observin' There's a fondness near and far For the tantalizin' content Of grandma's cookie jar.

There are changes in apparel Likewise in the "do" of hair, Plus a lot of supplementing For the locks no longer there; There's a major change in transport Since the day of "family" car But there still is quick acceptance Of a well-filled cookie jar.

Modern speeds are rather dizzy Modern ways are often slack Older folks oft wax nostalgic For the days that won't come back One thing most folks have in common There's no time to fuss and spar When the words is "come 'n get em". There are cookies in the jar.

No the millenium is not present There's no guide to what's to come Good and bad combine as mixtures 'Cause our ratings good and "bum" But lest over hasty Judgment Tends to leave an ugly scar. Try again the old time magic Of a well-filled cookie jar.
