Fixed millage set for fall election

Clinton County voters can decide whether or not to end the annual suspense of millage allocation when they vote Nov. 3 on increasing allocated millage from 15 to 16.9 mills. The fixed allocation structure approved last week by the Clinton County Allocation Board would provide nine mills for schools; 6.5 mills for county; 1.15 for townships and .25 for the county intermediate school district.

This year's breakdown for 15 mills was eight mills for schools; 5.85 for the county; one mill for townships and .15 mills for intermediate schools.

Gerald Shepard, allocation board chairman, said the resolution that would eliminate annual hassles over which governmental unit gets what part of the total millage amount must be filed with the county clerk's office for 30 days. After that time period, Clinton commissioners will vote on it, although Shepard, also a commissioner, expects no action until at least August.

A meeting by the allocation board was set for early October, he said, to organize publicity for the proposal to be placed on the November ballot.

Parents carry fight to salvage project before school board

By RON KARLE
Editor

A barrage of petitions asking for continuation of a program for emotionally-disturbed children created the St. Johns Board of Education last week.

The pilot program, which has been funded for the last three years with federal money, faces a struggle for survival with the ending of government grant to support it.

Set up for children in the elementary grades, the program provided a visiting teacher, elementary counselor, nurse and a psychologist to work with both parents and children. Its purpose was to aid the children in adapting to classroom situations.

School officials told the group that they would make a decision at the board's year-end meeting set for Wednesday, June 24. They indicated the most important parts of the program could be salvaged and said the school had been investigating the possibility of government funds to help cover part of the costs. It was noted that the intermediate school district has a visiting teacher and psychologist available and the school district has its own nurse.

It was thought that perhaps government money might be obtained to finance half the salary of a counselor. The board is looking for money to finance the other half of a counselor's salary.

REV. HUGH BANNINGA

The group's spokesman, Rev. Hugh Banninga, pastor of the St. Johns Episcopal Church, said, "It's time in the educational process to consider programs at lower grades. Lots of problems arise at this level."

"Because we'd like to continue this counseling program also, we've been beating the bushes to see how to finance this," said Supt. Earl Lancaster.

"How much can we count on from the churches?" asked Board Member William Richards. "This is not just a school problem—it's a community problem. I'd think they'd be willing to pitch in."

Previously, the program was operated in three schools only and it was noted that if local funds were used to aid in its financing, it probably would have to be expanded to include all schools. This would be a difficult undertaking for a single counselor.

In other action, the board approved a contract with school bus drivers, approved working agreements with teachers' aides and secretaries and tabled consideration of a working agreement with cafeteria workers. Drivers also approved the one-year contract at a meeting the next night.

Roy Fedewa, winner of the Eighth Annual Clinton County Soap Box Derby, was given a police escort to Rodney B. Wilson School for an awards presentation. The truck carried the winner and his faithful vehicle.

Westphalia's Roy Fedewa is Soap Box Derby winner

By TIM YOUNKMAN

Roy Fedewa soared past the finish line Sunday to win the 65th heat and the eighth Annual Clinton County Soap Box Derby. The race, halted at the midway point due to a heavy downpour, was thoroughly dominated by Westphalians as they swept four of the first five spots and eight of the prize-winning 15.

Fedewa, who won the Derby by employing a supine position to lessen wind resistance, was mobbed by fans, friends and well-wishers before climbing out of his sleek blue racer at the end of the winning heat.

He was escorted in true hero style by St. Johns police up Clinton Street and on to Rodney B. Wilson Junior High School for an awards presentation.

Fedewa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Fedewa, Grange Road, Westphalia, received a $500 savings bond and several trophies plus a big kiss from Sandra Gillespie, Miss Michigan, for topping the other 54 determined drivers.

"I feel great, just great," beamed Mrs. Fedewa, after the race.

"He worked very hard for many months," her husband added. "You just wouldn't believe it. Then, all of a sudden—bingo!"

Fedewa received the John Lyman Memorial Plaque and a personal trophy, in memory of the boy who was struck and killed by a car while leaving the 1963 national races in Akron, Ohio. He was one of the finishers in the 1963 St. Johns Derby.

The 13-year-old winner from Pewamo-Westphalia Junior High School had never entered the Derby before this year.

Second place went to another Westphalian, Ken Droste, 14, entering his fifth Derby year. He came in third place in the 1968 classic.

Droste, who attends St. Mary's school in Westphalia, was awarded a $50 savings bond for his second place finish.

Robert Neveau, of Lansing, took third place in his first attempt at Derby racing and was awarded a Polaroid "330" color camera. Neveau, 13, attends

C. W. Otto Junior High School in Lansing.

Fourth place went to Gary Klein, another Westphalian, who won a Wyler wrist watch for his efforts. Klein, 11, attends St. Mary's school in Westphalia and was racing in the Derby for the first time.

Gilbert Weber, 12, won fifth spot and received a sting-ray bicycle. Weber, who won third place last year, is another Westphalia product and attends junior high school in the Pewamo-Westphalia district.

Mark Hufnagel, 14, St. Johns, came in sixth, winning a four-band portable radio. He is a student at Rodney B. Wilson Junior High School.

Seventh spot was won by Frank Schneider of Westphalia. Schneider, 14, who is a student at Pewamo-Westphalia Junior High School, also won a four-band radio.

Joseph Fernholz, 14, took the eighth position and received a prize of a cassette tape recorder. Fernholz, who was runner-up in last year's Derby, is a

Concerned neighbors continue battle for U.S. 27 traffic control

The fight to change traffic conditions along U.S. 27 in St. Johns intensified Thursday as citizens gathered for action.

The group, called People Who Care, discussed proposals from interested citizens concerning the safety of children crossing the busy highway.

The main proposal centered on the installation of a traffic light, possibly at the intersection of U.S. 27 and Sturgis Street.

Two weeks ago the intersection was the scene of a traffic fatality which claimed the life of a 12-year-old boy, Richard Springer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Springer, 405 Meadowview Dr.

Mrs. Carol Maples, 701 S. Kibbee, who acted as chairwoman, indicated that the group should contact Ralph Shoemaker, the state's representative on highways for this area.

Mrs. Maples said that a petition drive which started three days earlier had gained more than 900 signatures requesting traffic light control at the intersection.

"We have 70 petitions out right now," she said. "We are hoping to reach 2,000 signatures in this campaign."

"This is only the first step,"

County refuses to fund prosecutor's DeWitt office

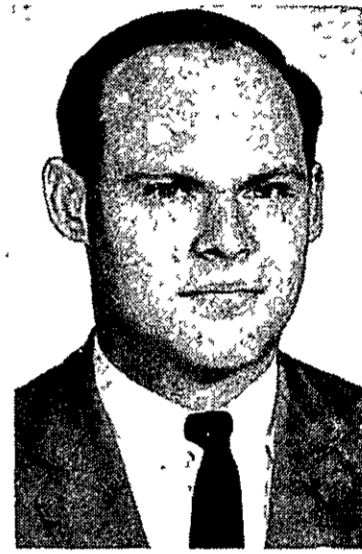

By TIM YOUNKMAN
News Staff Writer

The Clinton County Board of Commissioners refused to extend for 30 days the county supplement of $250 per month for the county prosecutor's "second office" in DeWitt.

By a vote of 7-4, commissioners turned down the extension until a report is made to them by Patrick Kelly, Clinton County prosecutor, concerning the extent of private use he is giving the office at 122 E. Washington.

The office was originally established last year and extended by the commission in January to lend service to people in the southern portions of the county, but commissioners claim that it is difficult to reach Kelly or his assistant, Dan Matson, at the DeWitt office.

"Much of it is private work," Commissioner Gerald Shepard said concerning the use of the office.

In January, Kelly said that "no cases which in any way involve the county prosecutor are taken on a private basis." He also stated at that time that the $250 per month constitutes only a fraction of the cost.

In other action the board:

Received a request from several state agencies to transfer Clinton County from the Traverse City district to the Kalamazoo district in treating mentally ill patients.

Commissioner Shepard indicated that a new resolution opposing the transfer would not be necessary.

"We've already gone on record opposing it," he said.

Probate Judge Timothy Green, in a letter to the commissioners, stated that "patients received superior care at Traverse City."

"Superior care far outweighs shorter traveling time and distance," he said.

Proposed dump-golf course riles Watertown residents

Zoning questions and legal problems dominated the Clinton County Board of Commissioners' courthouse meeting room Monday afternoon before a large group of spectators.

The main problem facing the board was presented by William Coffey, county zoning administrator, who explained a project in Watertown Township dealing with a new sanitary landfill plan. Coffey said that Vector Construction Co., Inc., of Lansing, asked the county zoning commission to rezone an 80-acre tract along U.S. 16 near Interstate 96 from residential to agricultural in order to secure a seven-year landfill permit.

He said that plans eventually call for a golf course on the landfill area after the permit expires. Coffey explained that the company could complete the landfill in five years but had asked for a seven-year permit to insure a complete job.

County Clerk Ernest E. Carter

read a letter to the board from the chairman of the Watertown Township planning commission, Leon P. Clark.

Clark indicated that the Watertown Township trustees had voted down a similar proposal several months ago with the reasoning that the project would be "too far south to benefit the Clinton County population centers." He said that the "county zoning board more or less used a steam roller effect" to pass the zoning change.

Richard Wells, a St. Johns attorney representing citizens in opposition to the landfill project, said that 322 residents have signed petitions against the plan and said that he would file them with the county clerk.

"Basically, we are talking about a dump," Wells told the commissioners. "This dump will greatly impede the value of the property and homes in that area."

"You are asked to go against the decisions of both the Watertown Township Board of Trustees and the Watertown Township planning board and the people in the area," Wells said.

Sanitary sewer system appears reality for Bath

By TIM YOUNKMAN
News Staff Writer

A new sanitary sewer system for Bath appeared to take a first step toward reality Wednesday (June 10) as several unhappy Bath residents discussed the problem with county and township officials.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Weeks, 13557 N. Main Street, told the officials that the septic drainage system has failed to operate effectively in their area, flooding many residences and causing a sanitation problem.

Present at the discussion were Dale Chapman, county drain commissioner; Bruce Thatcher, Consumers Power Co., claims investigator; Duane Smith, Bath Township supervisor; Darwin Root, Mid-Michigan Health Department representative and Gerald Shepard, representing the county commissioners.

The Weeks claim that they have been requesting action by the drain commissioner for 10 years. They said that they have an eight-inch tile running through their property and adjacent lots that is no longer serviceable and causes a back-up of water on the property.

They have claimed that most of the catch basins are completely covered with dirt, plugging the drains.

Chapman said that he took action on several occasions when complaints were issued and that with a new petition delivered by Weeks, further action would be possible in the near future.

Root indicated that he had inspected the areas in question several times and said that conditions of sanitation are in very poor shape.

"You are in dire need of a sanitary sewer system right now," Root said. "Our only recourse at the health department would be wholesale condemnation proceedings against these homes."

Chapman said that he would turn the case over to the probate judge or the county board of commissioners who will appoint a determinations board to settle the matter.

He said that they will rule on whether the Bath area storm sewer question is a necessity or not a necessity.

"It will be out of my hands," Chapman said.

Smith said that the township wants this problem cleared up and "the proper thing done at the least expense."

Allen seeking re-election to 88th District House seat

State Rep. Richard Allen, R-Ithaca, has announced he will seek re-election to the House of Representatives in the 88th District.

The district includes a portion of Clinton County, plus all of Grafton and parts of Eaton and Midland counties.

Allen, 36, had been mentioned earlier as a possible candidate for the 30th District State Senate seat now held by Sen. Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, who announced he will seek the Republican nomination for the office of secretary of state.

"I was flattered by the support I had received for my possible candidacy especially from the out-going Senator," Allen said, "but there is a great deal of work I have begun during the past two years that I want to see completed.

"I feel that to run for higher office before I achieve certain goals I have set for myself as a Legislator, would be unfair to those who have supported me," he added.

Allen is currently the Republican Chairman of the Public Health Committee, a post he was appointed to by House Minority Leader Robert E. Waldron. He is a strong proponent of local public health efforts and such programs as the Rubella vaccination program for German measles.

Allen also has a reputation as a physical fitness buff and has introduced a bill, which if approved, would establish hiking and trail roads in Michigan. During his first campaign, Allen walked the 110 miles from one end of his district to the other and may repeat the effort this year.

He serves on the Consumers and Agriculture Committee where he has supported farmers interests and introduced a consumers protection measure regulating the flammability of children's clothing.

Allen has also been a leading supporter of the Spencer School Aid Plan which shifts the financial burden from local property owners to the State Income Tax.

"Equity in the financing of education which will bring equity to the beleaguered property tax owner ranks, right along with pollution control as one of the major problems facing this Legislature now and in the future," Allen said.

In private life, Allen is a veterinarian and part owner of the family farm located in Ithaca. He formerly was a college biology professor at Alma College. Allen is a graduate of Ithaca High School and Michigan State University.

He and his wife JoAnn have two children, Lester James and Carri Jo. Mrs. Allen is a school teacher.

Treize files petitions for 87th District seat

R. Douglas Treize formally became a candidate for the 87th House District seat Friday when he filed nominating petitions with the secretary of state for the August 4 Republican primary.

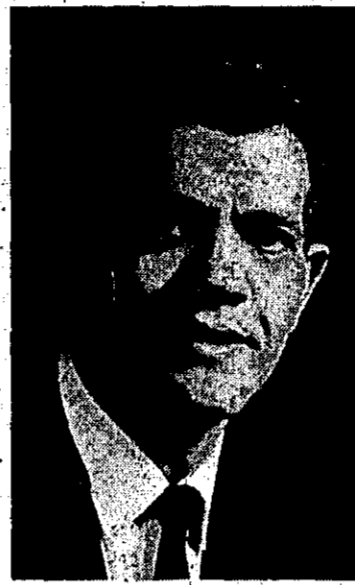

Treize turned in petitions bearing 494 signatures—maximum allowed.

"Actually," he said, "workers for the Committee for Doug Treize" turned in petitions bearing the signatures of well over three times the number of names I was permitted to file. I should say that this in no way decreases my appreciation to those who circulated the petitions or those who signed them."

Treize said that almost every precinct in the District was represented on the petitions. The 87th District includes all of Shiawassee County and six townships and the cities of St. Johns and DeWitt in Clinton County.

Members of the committee are William P. Hinburg, Owosso; John Francis, Rush Township; Dr. James M. Grost, St. Johns; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Love, Bancroft; Roger Overway, DeWitt; W. Phillip Rix and Paul Rearick, Durand; Wesley (Pete) Woodford, Woodhull Township.

Brown to run for 3rd term

U.S. Rep. Garry Brown, R-Schoolcraft (Kalamazoo County) has announced he will seek a third term in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Brown's Third Congressional District includes nearly all of Clinton County, plus Eaton, Barry, Calhoun and Kalamazoo Counties.

A former Constitutional Convention Delegate and state senator, Brown was first elected to Congress in 1966 and was reelected in 1968. He serves on the Banking and Currency Committee and the sub-committees on Housing, International Trade, Consumer Affairs and Urban Growth.

He has also been designated an official objector for the Republican membership in the House as a member of the Minority Committee on Private Bills.

In announcing his candidacy Brown said: "There has never been a time in this nation's history when the very framework of our democracy has been more seriously challenged. But, unique to this nation has been its ability to learn and profit from its challenges and adversities.

REP. GARRY BROWN

"Since I have served in the Congress, I have recognized that probably the greatest need in this country today is a need to make government and the private sector more responsible and responsive toward the people, their requirements and desires.

"To sense the dismay, the frustrations and the dissent which exist is not enough. We must pursue even more tenaciously our efforts to find solutions and to make our institutions more understood.

"Improvement of the ways in which our government discharges its responsibility to those it serves is an obligation which I fully recognize and readily accept.

"If reelected, I shall relentlessly pursue those policies and procedures which will assure to my constituents and the American people a government which more quickly recognizes and responds to their needs and concerns; a government which reflects itself with greater clarity of purpose; and a government which so conducts itself and its business as to instill total confidence in the mind of every American."

Mary Kurka to seek Democratic nomination for 88th District seat

Mary Kurka, Clinton County Democratic chairman, has announced she will seek her party's nomination for state representative from the 88th House District.

The seat is presently held by Rep Richard Allen, R-Ithaca, who has announced he will seek re-election for a second term.

The district includes the western portion of Clinton County (about two-thirds in area and one-third of the population), plus all of Grafton and portions of Eaton and Midland counties.

"Michigan has come to a total standstill under Republican leadership," said Mrs. Kurka. "We've heard proposal after proposal but the problems—education reform, unemployment, pollution, inequities to farmers and all the others—are still there.

"It's time we sent some people to Lansing who know what needs to be done and can do it," she added.

Professor studies spending

A Michigan State University advertising professor reports that MSU's 40,000 students spent more than $100 million, over and above tuition and fees, during the 1968-69 school year.

Basing his estimates on a two-year project involving 1,000 students, Dr. Gordon Miracle said that there may be sufficient similarity between MSU and other students.

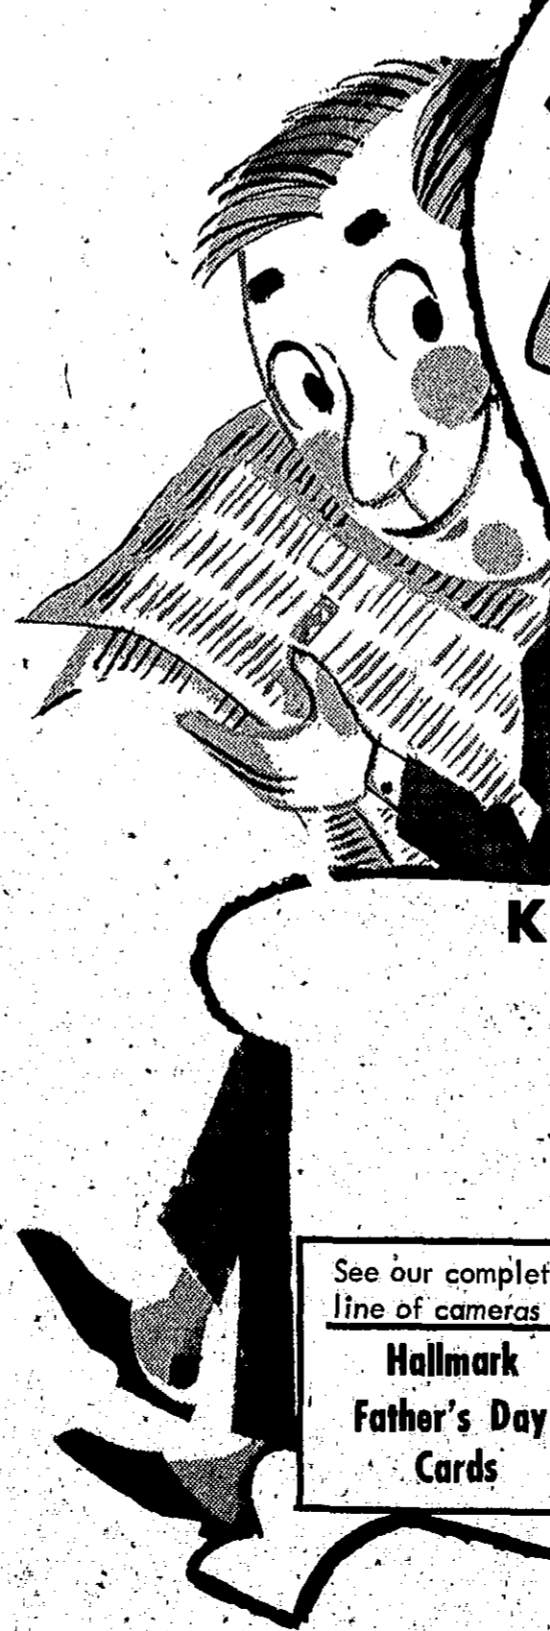

"Single students living off-campus," he said, "tend to be relatively affluent, either from earnings, entrepreneurship, or family sources. These off-campus students comprise less than half of the student body but accounted for nearly 75 per cent of total student expenditures."

Students living on campus in dormitories, he said, spent slightly less than $1,400 per year for goods and services; married students living in married housing spent nearly $3,200; off-campus students, some married with children, averaged more than $4,400 per student.

Proposed landfill rules

He indicated that the tax base would suffer since "people just won't be building homes in the area."

Another problem the people will have to contend with is rats. "We will have rats in the area, even when the garbage is covered up," Wells said.

Wells said that there were no provisions for traffic control in the landfill area and that the tract in question would be visible from Interstate 96.

Louis Smith, of Doyle and Smith, a Lansing law firm representing Vector Construction Co., said that more than 1,800,000 yards of dirt will be brought in to "bring the land to usable condition."

"The Legislature has passed laws governing this type of thing," he said. "Compacting is required by law, and should provide a good base" for the golf course, he said.

"This company has complied and will comply with all laws," he said.

The problem became more complex, when Commissioner Robert Montgomery reminded the board that the commissioners had previously passed a resolution limiting special permits to one year, but the Vector company was requesting seven.

He said that the board had further moved to avoid rezoning requests until plans were complete.

Montgomery, supported by Commissioner William Hufnagel, called for a resolution to disapprove the zoning commission's action in approving the landfill proposal and to deny the request.

Coffey stood once more to defend the zoning approval. "We have to go forward and not backward on this," he said.

"Your way?" Montgomery asked.

"Certainly not, Mr. Montgomery," Coffey replied.

On the roll call vote Commissioners Andrew Cobb, Maurice Gove, Rex Sirrine, Claude Underhill, William Hufnagel, Montgomery, Gerald L. Lankford and chairman Walter Nobis recorded yes votes.

Commissioners Duane Chamberlain, Roy Andrews and Gerald Shepard voted no.

"We are going to appeal this decision," Smith said.

In other zoning action, the commissioners became involved in a legal interpretation battle over a switch in zoning for Fedewa Builders, Inc.

The building firm desired to change 120 acres in the area of its present building on Wright Road south of Fowler at Price Road.

According to the proposal, 42 acres would be zoned industrial with the remaining land zoned residential. This plan was originally rejected by the county zoning commission.

A resolution was put before the commissioners as to whether they should concur with the zoning commission on the denial. The resolution lost 6-5.

Thus the legal question arose to determine whether overturning the zoning commission ruling of denial meant approving the Fedewa request.

Probate Judge Timothy Green was called in to issue an interpretation on the issue. He said that the Fedewa proposal must be referred back to the zoning commission for further action, since the county board of commissioners did not concur with the recommendation of that body.

"The board could have rezoned this as is," Green said. "The zoning commission is a recommendatory and advisory body to the board of commissioners."

Green said that the board always has the final say. "The board cannot delegate its powers," he said.

In further action the board:

—OK'd the zoning commission's issuing a special permit to Robert Fell of Farmington to remodel his house and rezone it from residential to multiple dwelling under a special use permit. The house is located in Bingham Township, one-quarter mile east of DeWitt Road on Townsend Road.

—Agreed to rezoning Grandview Farms in Eagle Township for sand and gravel operations. The owner agreed to save river frontage on the Grand River and to excavate only the interior lands. The land is bordered by Jones Road on the east, Heribson Road on the south, Patrick Road on the west and the river on the north.

—Granted Williams Brothers Construction company a special permit to operate an asphalt plant in Eagle Township. The company expects to terminate its project by mid-summer and must cease operation by Nov. 15, 1970.

HARD TO BELIEVE

No one was injured in this solo crash on M 21 near Chandler Road. Frances Schneideman, 66, of Bay City, told officers she didn't know what happened, but lost control of the car, veered across the roadway and overturned in the ditch. No citation was issued by sheriff's deputies.

Commission Questions Kelly's DeWitt office

ers disapprove of the switch, the state will have the final say in the matter.

—Voted unanimously to accept a resolution signed Feb. 9 by the Watertown Township Board of Trustees to hook-up six southeastern sections of the township to the DeWitt Township sanitary sewer system.

—Tabled for further consideration a motion to have a flat fee of $125 for special meetings of the county zoning commission.

Shepard suggested that the party who requests a transcript of the hearings should hire a court stenographer and file a copy of the transcript with the county.

—Went on record as opposing a Hillsdale County resolution calling for defeat of a Senate Bill 1417 which would establish a school requirement and state examination for assessors.

Commissioner Gerald L. Lankford said he thinks "it's a good program." "It really amounts to about three hours of classes per week plus homework," he said.

Lankford indicated that it may not be necessary to take course work if a person could pass the examination without it.

The commission voted to file the Hillsdale resolution.

—Referred to the health committee a request for funds from the Tri-County Family Planning project through the Mid-Michigan Health Department.

"It's a good program for family services, to cover the whole family and the offices would be at Sparrow Hospital, but I'm not in favor of contributing to it," Shepard said. He said that his position resulted from the fact that large sums of money already reach the agency through the health department.

Commissioner Maurice Gove explained that the project could run over $200,000 and Clinton County's share would be about $20,000.

—Appointed by vote Alden Livingston and Robert Fedewa to the zoning commission, Livingston was re-appointed to office and Fedewa will replace Earl Barks.

—Appointed Edward Idzkowski to the county library board replacing Virginia Eisenger whose term expires this month.

—Moved to promote Anthony Hufnagel to deputy sergeant with the Clinton County Sheriff department.

—Appointed Leon Thelen as equalization director to succeed Lorenz Tiedt. His salary was set at $10,000.

—Went on record as opposing the impoundment for fishing purposes near Portland on the Looking Glass River.

WW II veterans face loan eligibility deadline

Time is running out for about 2,140,000 World War II veterans who have not used their G.I. loan guaranty benefits.

The final cutoff date for World War II loans is July 25, 1970, for those whose loan eligibility has not expired, Robert M. FitzGerald, manager of the Detroit Veterans Administration Regional Office reminded veterans today.

Loan Guaranty benefits are governed by individual expiration dates, based on dates of military service and length of service.

However, "under the law," FitzGerald pointed out, there also is an overall July 25 deadline for World War II veterans. However, this deadline does not affect eligibility for loans established by military service since 1955, he said.

The VA advised World War II veterans who do not know their expiration dates to get in touch with the nearest VA office if they are seeking a G.I. loan. It will be helpful to have discharge or separation papers handy at the time of contact, FitzGerald said.

Veterans who know their guaranty terminal dates, but whose applications cannot be submitted to the VA before the July 25 deadline, should have their lenders write or telephone their VA Offices to explain the problem, FitzGerald said.

Clinton area residents may be finding what they think are tank tracks in some very unlikely places in the coming months. The tracks aren't made by tanks but by a new all-terrain vehicle (ATV) from the Cushman Co. The ATV named the Trackerster climbs 100 percent grades, crosses bogs, pushes thru snow and slush and even swims across lakes and rivers on two one-piece tracks.

Designed for work as well as fun, the Trackerster is on display at Beck & Hyde Farm, north of St. Johns.

You'll be reading more about the Trackerster as Editor Ron Karle is going to test drive the ATV.

Next week a special Bride's Section will be coming your way with the County News. The section sponsored by Clinton area merchants will contain stories telling the "how to's" and "whens" leading up to the wedding and features on new products to make the bride's life easier.

As a special feature, a local couple, Brenda Jean Chadwell and Mike Flescher will tour local businesses to learn of the many services and products offered. They will be married June 28.

You may have noticed an extra funny looking tire in the Harris Oil ad last week. Lloyd Harris and Roger Moore did. The "tire" was a roll of border tape accidentally left on the ad. They didn't say whether or not they had any calls for it.

DeWitt Twp., Clinton, LCC turn to courts for rule on tax status of 4 firms

By TIM YOUNKMAN
News Staff Writer

DeWitt Township, Lansing Community College and Clinton County will go to court soon to determine the legal definition of a tax-exempt concession business, according to Oliver S. Angell, township supervisor.

Angell indicated that the county has hired Timothy Green, probate judge and representative of the Green and Maples law firm, as special counsel to determine the claim exempt status of four township firms who reportedly have not paid their taxes.

The firms, Francis Aviation, Bigelow Corp., Hughes Flying Service and Lansing Rod and Gun Club, have not done anything wrong, Angell said, but consider themselves exempt from certain taxes under a state statute governing concessions.

Green to represent them in the case.

The board discussed a request from the King Arthur's Court mobile home complex on State Road calling for an extension of the sanitary sewer system by Oct. 1, 1972.

The trustees noted that the state has required the park to hook-up with a sewer system before adding any new lots to the complex.

Angell said that he is positive that the request could be met, but extension could not be added to the sewer system, number one. He indicated that he would study the possibility of getting the program privately funded and set up under a second sewer system.

"The tap-in cost should cover the expenses of the sewer system extension," he said. Further discussion would take place at the next meeting, he added.

Johns will represent the township's planning commission and Mrs. Syverson will represent the township board.

—Accepted the resignation of Milton J. King from the Bank Committee. King has filed as a Democrat for the Township Supervisor spot currently held by Angell. Angell has filed for re-nomination and election on the Republican ticket.

—The police department reported that the cost of operations totaled $660.50 for the month of May.

—Heard a report by Johns concerning the township fire fighting facilities and projected building needs.

He noted that there is a $20,000 expansion program underway to gather all of the fire equipment under one roof. "There is no reason for delaying the expansion of the fire department," he said. "I can see no conflict here, and I am in full agreement that this program should be completed as soon as possible," he added.

The trustees indicated that the new building should be completed by the fall.

The companies are located on or near the Capitol City Airport facilities.

Angell said that Green would be representing all of the subdivisions that have not received the taxes, and Green would be paid if and when the taxes are collected. The township board unanimously resolved to allow township level," he said. "I have only one move and that is to get this done."

"With the information we now have, we'll have to have the priority of a sanitary sewer system," Smith said.

There was some questions earlier in the conference whether Consumers Power workmen accidentally filled the basins during several work projects.

"I am skeptical that Consumers Power did any damage to the drains," Thatcher said. "When we get a complaint, we get hold of it and fix it. This is company policy," he added.

Weeks indicated that he would retain a lawyer to bring the question to court.

Both Chapman and Root agreed that this could accelerate attempts at installing a complete sanitary sewer system in the Bath area. They said that the sanitation problem and danger of disease, similar to the hepatitis break-out several years ago, would be brought to the attention of the public and those in charge of correcting the situation.

Chapman said that the matter would be brought before the commissioners at their next meeting, and the determinations board could be set up in July.

Rehmann, Gaffney, Rademacher Redwing basketball stars look ahead to college ball

By RON KARLE
Editor

Three of St. Johns senior basketball standouts—Bob Rehmann, Dan Rademacher and Dave Gaffney—have hopes of continuing their basketball careers in college.

All three were starters for the Redwings and key figures in the team's drive to a co-championship in the West Central Conference, a district title and a spot in the regional finals.

Rehmann, voted a share of the team's Most Valuable Player Award, named to the Clinton County News All-County team, the West Central conference squad and recipient of the News Free Throw award with a 74.712 per cent average, was the team's second-leading scorer with 361 points for a 48 per cent average from the floor.

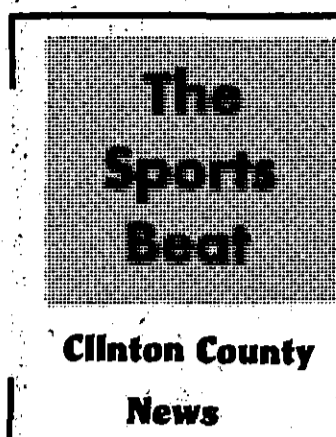

His coach, Doug Japinga, talks of Rehmann's dedication to the game: "He doesn't know what half-speed is—he's all-out."

Rademacher, a center, wasn't considered a high scorer (140 points for fifth on the team) his main value to the team was on defense where he picked off 91 rebounds, plus another 46 on offense to rank third.

For his efforts, he was named the Redwing's Defensive Player of the Year. He was also accorded All-Conference honors.

"He's quick for his size (6-foot-3). He's one of the quickest I've seen—an extraordinarily fine defensive ballplayer," says Japinga.

Gaffney, a guard, and team captain, was another All-Conference pick, first team All-County, voted a share of the MVP Award and was the club's third-highest scorer with 233 points for a 48 per cent shooting average. He missed out on winning the News Free Throw Award by a fraction of a percentage point, hitting on 59 of 79 attempts for a 74.683 average.

Japinga says he feels Gaffney will make the freshman squad and points to his ability, leadership and academic achievements—"all attributes any coach is looking for."

Despite these achievements, all three look for some tough going in college—Rehmann at Lansing Community College, Rademacher at Central Michigan University and Gaffney at Alma College.

Rehmann was lured to LCC by a basketball scholarship, but notes that the team last year was the seventh-highest scoring junior college club in the nation.

He also chose LCC because "I hope I'll play in more games there than anywhere else." He plans to stay at LCC until he takes the first two years of basic college courses and then "it's possible I may transfer to Adrian."

Rademacher was planning to attend CMU but hadn't given serious thought to playing basketball. But he reconsidered and says he'll give it a try.

"They're kind of tough," he says. "They took their conference last year. If I make it, I won't be able to play center like I'm used to."

He says he plans to work on his dribbling over the summer and then try for a guard or forward spot.

Gaffney, who was a conference medalist on the golf team, said he had been contacted by Moorehead State College (Kentucky) because they were interested in his golfing.

But he says, "I had to make it a good teachers college." He hopes to teach in high school and coach basketball and golf. "I wouldn't want to go to a school like Michigan State—it's too big," he adds.

They were asked if they thought playing before strange fans in college would have an effect on their game after playing before St. Johns fans, many of them friends, family, neighbors.

"It takes a lot of emotion to play," said Rademacher. "Personally, I like to have someone back of me."

"I don't think it makes any difference if you know people in the stands," said Gaffney. "Here everybody gets up all week for the game."

"You won't be criticized as much as when everybody knows you," added Rehmann. "That's (criticism) good, though. But you're not there to entertain—you're there to play basketball."

When asked what they expect to miss the most, Gaffney said, "I'll probably miss good cooking."

"That's definite," chimed Rademacher.

Rehmann just smiled. He gets to live at home.

Baseball camp opens next week in Midland

Charley "Paw Paw" Maxwell, former star outfielder with the Detroit Tigers, will be a guest instructor for a summer baseball camp at Northwood Institute in Midland.

The instruction includes baseball theory and fundamentals, practice drills and demonstrations. Boys will participate in fielding and throwing drills, batting practice, running and sliding drills, game strategy such as cutoff plays, relay throws and actual game situations.

Films provided by professional baseball organizations will be shown nightly.

A native of Michigan, Maxwell signed with the Boston Red Sox after his college career at Western Michigan College in 1947, but became a big star with the Tigers in 1956.

In 1959, Maxwell powered 31 round-trippers, with 95 RBIs and a .251 batting average for the Bengals.

The camp is staffed with former major and minor league players and coaches. Further information may be obtained from Ken Beardlee, 6340 Plainfield St., Kalamazoo.

Twin Oaks to open in May

Clinton will have a new golf course next year

By TIM YOUNKMAN
News Staff Writer

A new nine-hole golf course for Clinton County is under construction and should be ready for play by May, 1971.

The Twin Oaks golf course, located five miles north of St. Johns on U.S. 27, is owned by Gaylord Crowell and is being constructed by Warner Bowen Inc., golf course architect of Sheridan.

"The approximate total size of the course is 70 acres," Bowen said. "The course is designed with the area golfers in mind, and is flexible enough to play to championship lengths."

"The course will offer pleasure and enjoyment to the junior golfer and the lady golfer," he said.

Bowen indicated that there is not an excess of penalizing trapings, "although we have constructed a limited number of them," he added. "The reason for this is to expedite play."

There will be a water hazard for three holes and traps on five. "The trees will also figure in the strategy," Bowen said. "We don't have many of them but what we have will come into play," he said.

"There are no blind holes, no sun holes and none of the holes are unreasonably lengthy," Bowen added.

He said that the greens and tees are larger to insure mechanical maintenance. "This way the turf will always be in good shape for the people," he said.

Crowell noted that the course meets the requirements established by the United States Golf Association. He said the association approved the lengths proposed and rated them satisfactory.

"We hope eventually to have some local leagues and some fine tournaments," Crowell said. Longest of the nine holes is the 510-yard par-five ninth hole. The par-five 485-yard second hole is next with two others close behind. The fourth hole is 400-yards, with a large water hazard just before the green. The first hole is a slowly curving 395 yards. Both one and four are par fours.

Number six is 385 yards, five is 375 yards and eight is 355 yards, with a water hazard on both sides of the green.

The smallest hole on the course is number three, a par three 160-yard drive. Number seven is slightly larger at 200 yards and par three.

Included in the plans are a putting green, club house and parking lot.

Bowen is currently working on several other courses in Michigan, including Rogue River golf course at Sparta, Har-Lou golf course at Kalamazoo, Country Creek golf course at Alma, and has completed work at the Holland Lake golf course north of Sheridan.

Domestics decline

Private household employment decreased by 95,000 in 1969, continuing a downward trend which has persisted in this area for the last five years. This reflects the emergence of many new employment opportunities for Negro women in operative, clerical, and other types of service jobs.

Mental health board endorses mandatory special ed programs

The Community Mental Health Services Board has endorsed mandatory local special education programs partially funded by the state for all handicapped children.

Endorsement came with approval of a letter to state legislators from board chairman Oscar Wade. Wade supported community services with state funding as a way to cut state hospitalization costs.

Wade said that if the mentally retarded are not educated properly at the local level, they will probably become candidates for state institutions.

Lotus in Art

The lotus was the first plant form to be used in decorative design. It was introduced by the Egyptians into the mural painting of their tombs and temples, not by reason of its beauty but because, as a perennial, it represented to them the principle of immortality.

A satellite mental health clinic in St. Johns opened in October and is in a former nurses home at the Clinton Memorial Hospital on Sturgis Street.

According to staff social workers at the clinic, only consultation is provided initially with additional services available at the St. Lawrence Hospital Community Mental Health Center in Lansing.

Board members will visit the St. Johns clinic soon and evaluate local efforts to aid the mentally retarded.

In other action, the board approved hiring Richard Cooper as director of rehabilitation for retarded persons, starting Aug. 1 at a $14,000 annual salary.

The board also approved renting space at St. David Episcopal Church, 1519 Elmwood Rd. for 12 Eaton and Clinton county children where they will participate in a day training center. The church rents for $4,402 a year.

Tavener in Tech jazz band

James W. Tavener of St. Johns is a charter member of "The Other Side of Tech."

The musical ensemble, start of a new Program Bureau at Michigan Tech University, Houghton, was formed to provide an outlet for the hidden talents of students at the University and in the community.

The group's 30 active performers may entertain for single acts or entire variety shows. Their main audiences are area high schools, conventions, industrial programs, civic functions and church groups.

Tavener, a sophomore majoring in electrical engineering, plays trumpet with the Jazz Lab Band, one part of the group which is comprised of 16 men.

He is the son of Mrs. Dorothy Jean Leon of 1248 Wildcat Rd., St. Johns.

Bannister

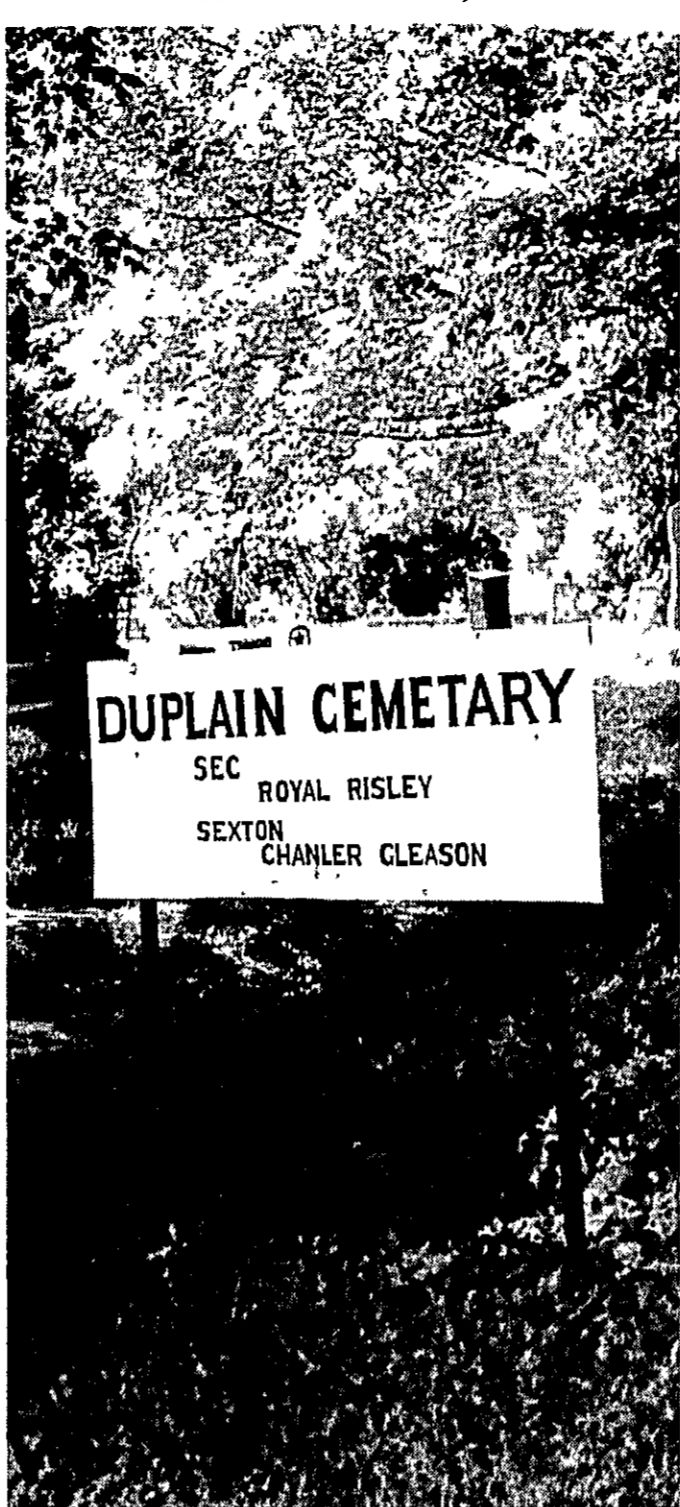

By Mrs Robert Valentine Phone 862-4342

The annual Bannister United Methodist youth campout was held this past weekend on the banks of the Maple River. Twenty-five teenagers and chaperones pitched tents and cooked in the outdoors. Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. David Showers joined the group and conducted the morning worship service. At noon, parents of the young people brought potluck dinner and enjoyed a picnic with the campers.

Mrs Robert Valentine accompanied Mrs. Irene Cravell, Mrs. Russell Pope and Mrs. William Rando as they attended graduation open house for Miss Linda Wyatt in Mt. Morris Sunday afternoon. Miss Vicki Valentine left Sunday to visit her cousin, Cathy Schmidman in Marquette.

Mr and Mrs Richard Moore, Marle and Todd spent last week visiting Mr and Mrs Rick Moore and daughter in Florida.

SIGN OF THE TIMES?

It's almost nice to know that printers and editors aren't the only people who make typographical errors once in a while. Sign painters apparently have their bad days, too. Case in point is this sign at the Duplain Cemetery. Can you pick out the misspelled word?

help John mark his golden anniversary

(by putting him and his staff to work!)

We keep almost 70 years of printing know-how busy in our shop from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. doing such things as printing letterheads, envelopes, brochures—even booklets. There are big jobs, little jobs and jobs that must be done "yesterday" but each one is as important as the other. Help our printing staff mark John's 50th anniversary by bringing in your "yesterday" job today. We just might have it for you tomorrow.

Hank White

Hank is the "printer's devil" on the staff and when he's not helping around the shop he's picking up or delivering orders. Quite frankly we'd like to see him on the road more often, so don't hesitate about giving us a call to pick up your print work.

Dr. Friesen terminates duties in St. Johns

Dr. Eugene W. Friesen, who for the past four years has served as the minister of the Pilgrim United Methodist Church, has announced that he will be terminating his pastoral duties in this community effective June 21.

During his tenure, two rural churches formerly known as the Bingham and Bengal Evangelical United Brethren Churches have merged into one congregation. Two years ago the Evangelical United Brethren and Methodist denominations merged to become the United Methodist Church. Dr. Friesen, who received his Ph.D. from the Department of Counseling, Personnel Services, and Educational Psychology at Michigan State University in 1966, has been a practicing psychologist concurrent with his pastoral duties in this community.

He was the administrator of a 100 bed psychiatric ward in the Battle Creek Veterans' Hospital prior to his appointment to the staff of the Ingham County Mental Health Center in 1968.

He was appointed the Director of this Center in January of this year. He reports a professional mental health staff of 20 at the Center including psychiatrist, psychologist, and social workers.

This Center also provides mental health services to Eaton County. Dr. Friesen and his family plan to reside in St. Johns during the next year. He has been active in the St. Johns-Stann Creek (British Honduras) sister city relationship. He is also a member of the St. Johns Lions Club.

Open Letter from VAN W. HOAG

Dear friends,

"There is a sentiment today to hold the body in disdain once the spirit has left it, and to frown upon viewing the body at funerals," says Rev. Vernon O. Elmore. "I cannot agree. Man's body is a supreme testimony to the creative genius of God. Should not the abiding place of the spirit be revered? The person has been identified with the body so intimately that to honor the body is to honor the person."

Respectfully,

3 autos damaged in freak accident

A freak accident in downtown St. Johns Monday damaged three autos, a store front and snapped off a parking meter.

No one was injured. Police said a car parked across the street from Economy Shoes shot backwards across Clinton Avenue, slammed into a parked station wagon which rammed another parked car, turned sideways and crashed into the store front breaking a large display window.

Police charged Carl H. Richards, 76, of Grand Rapids, with failure to have his car under control.

Richards' foot apparently hit the accelerator when he meant to apply the brakes.

No one was in either of the struck autos, police said.

The station wagon was owned by Mrs. Timothy Green, of 605 W. Higham St. and the absent driver of the other parked car was Roger Allen Leavitt, 22, of 2931 Townsend Rd., St. Johns.

School board

The seven-step pact calls for salaries ranging from $1,600 to $2,250 annually, an increase of $50 a year.

The written agreement for teachers' aides "is actually no different from what we have been doing, except that it's on paper," said Lancaster.

The agreement provides a $2 hourly wage for part-time aides, while aides working six hours a day for the school year will receive $2,400 to $3,425 on a 10-step scale, and aides working seven hours daily will receive from $2,800 to $4,015 in 10 steps.

"They're not organized," said Board President Raymond Parr in explaining the rationale for a written agreement. "We're trying to prevent them from organizing."

The 16 secretaries employed by the school system are also not organized but the policy to "put it in writing" was done for reasons of "clarification."

Department vehicles traveled 2,269,862 miles, of which 1,164,919 were on traffic patrol and 1,104,943 to investigate criminal and other complaints.

There were 1,384 ratings of intoxication, 214 of impairment to driving and 61 with little or no toxicant effect. Drivers refusing the test numbered 503.

The identification section received 20,972 sets of fingerprints, of which 12,339 were criminal and 8,633 noncriminal. One wanted person was identified.

Of 2,555 applicants for permits to carry concealed weapons, 179 were identified with criminal records through their fingerprints.

Four unknown dead were identified by the same means.

Soap Box Derby

Ninth spot went to the only Ovid-Elsie area winner, Mike Phillips. The 14-year-old Phillips won a walkie talkie set for his finish.

Larry Hanses, 12, who attends Pewamo elementary school, won a high quality sleeping bag, for his 10th place finish.

Steve Jacobus, 13, of St. Johns received a Big Swinger Polaroid camera for finishing 11th. He is a student at Rodney B. Wilson Junior High School.

DeWitt's Randy Sonier, 13, finished 12th to receive a fishing rod. Sonier attends DeWitt Junior High School.

Finishing 13th, Rick Pifer, 13, St. Johns, won a baseball fielders glove. He attends Rodney B. Wilson school.

Duane Schafer, 12, won a basketball for his 14th spot finish. He is a student at St. Mary's school in Westphalia.

Winning the 15th position, Ralph Witgen, another St. Mary's of Westphalia product, won a football for his efforts. The 12-year-old was running in his second Soap Box Derby.

Setting off the pre-race festivities, several aerial bombs were exploded with a low flying set of Cessna airplanes buzzing the race course.

A parade up Clinton Street followed featuring Miss Michigan and Branch Lew, the 1968 All-American champion. Other attractions were Karon Lundy, St. Johns High School Valedictorian and Sally MacLuckie, salutatorian.

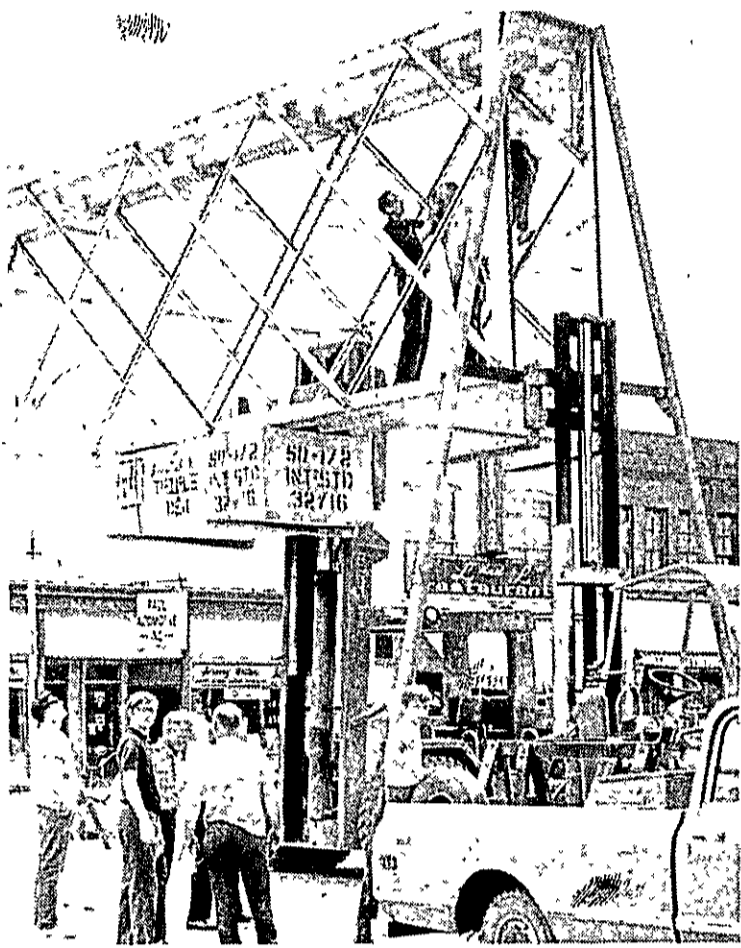

As the parade ended, Steve Riley, the 1969 Clinton County champion from Westphalia, made the symbolic solo run marking the end of his one-year reign and the start of a new Derby.

Midway through the race at heat 35, the skies opened up and deluged the huge crowd gathered along the course. About 30 minutes later the sun popped out, the rain stopped and the racers were off and running again.

Fedewa will attempt to duplicate the Clinton County win at Akron's Derby Downs on Saturday, Aug. 15, for a share of the $30,000 in college scholarships. The local Derby is sponsored by Bee's Chevrolet and Olds and the St. Johns Jaycees. Fedewa Builders, Inc. of Fowler donated a bridge built across the finish line for the officials, judges and photographers.

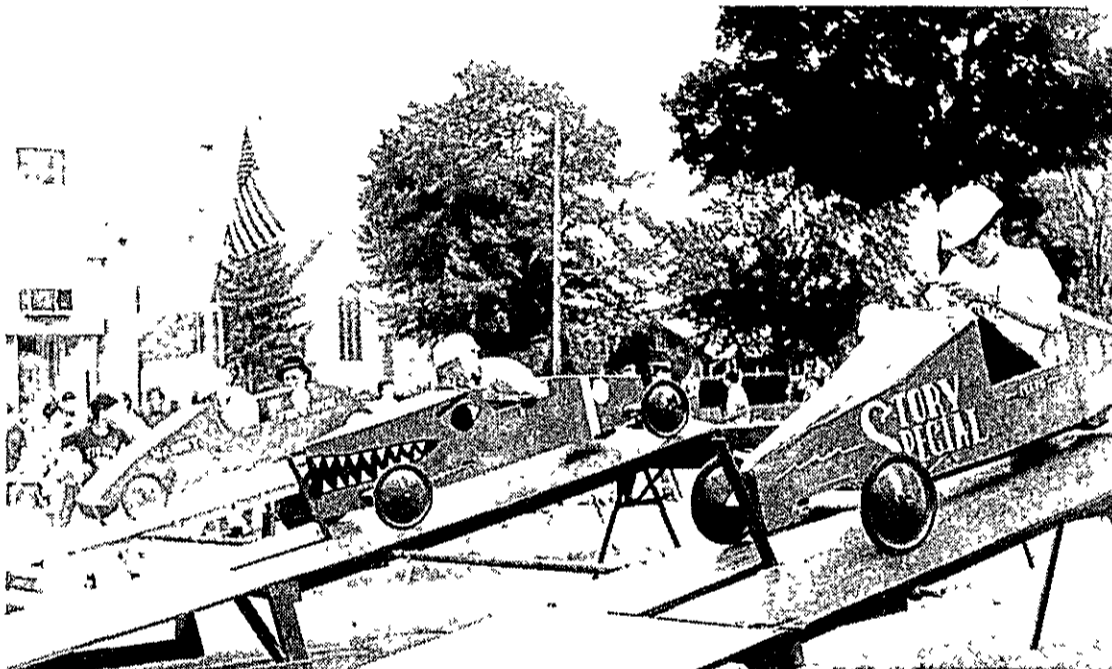

In the entertaining pre-race adult heat, the Saylor-Beall special cruised to a win beating entries from Federal-Mogul and Sealed Power.

Derby Day got off to an early start Sunday morning as workmen construct a judging stand across the finish line. The "bridge" was donated by Fedewa Builders, Inc.

Steve Riley, 1969 Clinton County Derby winner, holds on to his hat as he is about to leave the starting ramp on his final run down the course, ending his one-year reign and signaling the start of the 1970 Derby.

These three lads grip the steering wheels moments before they shoot down the course to glory or defeat.

New state law aimed at calls

A new state law which broadens the definition and increases the penalty for misuse of the telephone has gone into effect in Michigan, David C. Lee, security director for General Telephone, said today.

Nuisance and harassment calls, not previously covered by state law, are now prohibited as well as obscene and threatening calls, Lee said. The new law provides for a penalty of up to six months imprisonment and a $500 fine.

"This statute will help provide a more effective deterrent to offenses in the area of telephone misuse," Lee said. He added that General Telephone is willing to cooperate and assist law enforcement personnel in anyway that they can.

Lee said that the telephone company can assist law enforcement agencies in apprehending nuisance or obscene callers through the use of sophisticated equipment which can seize and hold the calling line even though the calling party may hang up.

"Until recently, the only legal prohibition regarding the various types of nuisance calls was the statute concerned with obscene or threatening telephone calls," the utility's security director said. "The Legislature has now added harassing, interfering and false reporting to the list."

4-H Horse Show is Sunday, June 21

By JOHN AYLWORTH

A 4-H horse show will be held Sunday, June 21 at the fair grounds in St. Johns for all 4-Hers from Clinton and surrounding counties. The show is sponsored by all of the Clinton County 4-H Horse Clubs. Registration begins at noon with the show beginning at 12:30 p.m. The classes include fitting and showmanship, Western and English Pleasure, Western Horsemanship, English Equitation, trail class, pole bending, clover leaf and suitcase race. Six rosettes will be given in each class and there will be three trophies for championship classes.

Gordon Johnson of Charlotte will be the judge. The public is invited to attend and there is no admission charge. Proceeds from the show will go toward the horse clubs members fair share toward the National 4-H Expansion Drive at Washington D.C.

4-H members who have horses of their own but are not horse club members are invited to participate in the show also. Why not plan on attending the 4-H horse show on June 21, at the fairgrounds in St. Johns for an afternoon of fun and excitement.

Clinton County will have nine older 4-H members attending the Camp Counseling Workshop on June 24-27 at the Algonquin 4-H Youth Center near Hastings. They are Marcia Tait, Patty Fox, Diane Henning, Debbie Williams, Lee Ann Jacobs, Lori McQueen, and Judy Butler of St. Johns, Debbie Horman of Dewitt and Elizabeth Curtis of Laingsburg. These members will join about 80 4-Hers from the 15 other counties with this training session on camp counseling, recreation and craft instruction, inspiration and evening program helps. Following the training the counselors will have an opportunity to be a camp counselor for one of the eight weeks of camp that is open to both 4-H and non 4-H youth. The first camp opens June 29 and the last one ends Aug. 21.

The 4-H camp at Hastings has announced that none of the eight weeks of camp - June 29 to Aug. 21 are filled yet so any youth who would like to attend camp may do so. Applications are available from the Extension Office, 1003 S. Oakland, in St. Johns. The cost of the five days of camp is $21 which includes food, lodging, insurance and crafts. The camp has a full time permanent staff that is highly qualified to conduct an excellent camp program. Youth do not have to be in 4-H to attend the camp. Anyone who would like more information should contact the Extension Office.

Last week we announced that Clinton county had nine district

4-H award winners. This past week Lois Miller of Fowler becomes the 10th district winner as she was selected in the area of dairy foods. Lois is a member of the Fowler Busy Bees and Fowler Busy Eagles 4-H clubs. In May she graduated from Fowler High School and plans to attend Michigan State University this fall majoring in Home Economics.

The 4-H organizational leaders have been notified that the county fair books completed and available for pick up at the Extension Office. We have enough copies for one per family so the members will know what class they will exhibit and the requirements for that class. The County Fair is Aug. 17-19 which is only two months away. Members are urged to have their projects well under way so they will have everything done in time for the fair.

The County Holstein Association Board of Directors worked out details for the calf that their group plans to give to some 4-H member enrolled in the dairy project and is interested in raising registered Holstein cattle. Any dairy member is eligible but preference will be given to members whose father does not have any or many registered Holstein cattle now. Applications will be sent to each dairy members later with all applications due by Aug. 1 at the Extension Office. The calf will be given to the youth at the County Fair. Also the directors voted to provide rosettes for the first three places in dairy showmanship at the fair for both the junior and senior division.

The 4-H teen leaders saw the file "Make Tomorrow Happen" showing the highlights of the 1969 National 4-H Congress held in Chicago last November. The teen leaders will go on a canoe trip weekend on Aug. 1 and 2 near Grayling. Any adults interested in going along and helping chaperone this canoe trip should contact the Extension Office. Approximately 30 members are interested in attending. A number of teen leaders volunteered to write news articles about their projects and experiences for the County News Fair Edition. Around 25 members signed up to play on the 4-H teen leaders softball team. Their first game was Tuesday, June 16 with Victor.

Rummaging is a characteristic of the American scene. It's the curiosity that gets to you, the hoped for treasure of yesterday, aged obsolescence, extra old stuff that transforms itself from what once was an everyday happening into a novelty in your hand, offering an ironic twist to browsers of our age of men walking on the moon, to back then, to the long forgotten.

Dug out from between the pages of an 1882 book "Science In The Kitchen" (when most food was a do it yourself project in your own garden), is this segment of browned with time newspaper clipping which may have been a forerunner of today's "advice to the troubled" social columns. Try it on for size and witness the change. . . "I do not know what your age, size and complexion has to do with parting your hair on the side, but if it is any satisfaction to you to know my opinion, I will tell you that it is perfectly permissible for you to part your hair any way you please. It is all a matter of taste or lack of taste. You should wear your skirts well down over your ankles. It is not proper for you to go boating with a young man without a chaperon."

Glenn Pung, 4-H Wonders Club, participated in the tractor operation test for exemption to work on other farms besides his own. Carrying the clip board is George McQueen, extension agricultural agent, who was one of the judges.

Tractor operation program trains young farm workers

Any youth 14-16 years of age who wishes to work on a farm other than his own must complete a training program if he plans to operate a tractor and other equipment. The youth must complete a minimum of 10 hours of supervised training on tractor safety, pass a written exam and pass a practical driving exam before he may receive an exemption to operate a tractor. If he wishes to operate machinery he must take additional training and examinations. Any farmer or person who hires any youth to operate a tractor who is under sixteen years of age and does not have an exemption is open to a $10,000 fine and lawsuit in case of injuries.

It is like playing with fire if they hire youth to operate machinery without an exemption or is of age. Both the farmer who employs youth and the youth should know

1. Drive a truck or car on the farm itself or operate a garden tractor under 20 HP.
2. Load or unload hay bales, repair fence.
3. Pick small fruit, pick tree fruit from ladders when working less than 20 feet off the ground, milking cows, feeding and cleaning operations in poultry enterprises.
4. General carpentry jobs but not using a power saw.
5. And numerous other jobs.

Pollution fight

Possible ways to help soil bacteria break down synthetic chemicals is an area of major concern to MSU soil scientists. The scientists are studying chemicals that might be added to the soil along with pesticides which would enable soil bacteria to degrade the toxic pesticides into nontoxic forms.

Weed control in soybeans

Evaluation of herbicides for use in soybeans shows that excellent control of broadleaf weeds and annual grasses can be obtained with a combination of Amiben and Lorox. The new herbicide, Lasso, also gave good control of annual grasses in MSU tests. Weed specialists say that best weed control is obtained when herbicides are applied almost immediately after planting of soybeans.

Three state summer events among top 20

Three Michigan community events have each been named among the nation's top 20 travel events for the summer months by the Discover America Travel Organizations (DATO), according to William T. McGraw, director of the Michigan Tourist Council. Selected as one of the top travel events for July is the National Cherry Festival, Traverse City, July 6 - 12. This traditional salute to the cherry began in 1923, recognizing the Traverse City area as the nation's cherry capital. The August listing proclaims the sixth annual Danish Festival, Greenville, Aug. 22, as one of the 20 best travel events. Authentic Danish food specialties, Danish costumes and customs and Danish movies are among the highlights of the 1970 festival. Sharing top honors for the month of September is the annual Old Car Festival, Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, September 12 - 13. The festival features more than 300 antique automobiles, vintage 1896 - 1925.

Michigan, national field crop report

MICHIGAN

The June 1 winter wheat forecast calls for a crop of 22,840,000 bushels according to the Michigan Crop Reporting Service, nine per cent less than the 25,120,000 bushels produced in 1969.

The 571,000 acres for harvest is nine per cent less than was devoted to wheat a year earlier. Much of the current crop was seeded under drier than normal conditions. However, adequate moisture late in the fall allowed the crop to get a good start. This fact coupled with better than normal conditions during winter allowed the crop to enter the spring in very good condition. Thus, the indicated yield of 40 bushels per acre equals the current record which was set in 1966 and equaled in 1969. Excellent conditions for field work existed throughout most of May. Generally, plantings of corn, soybeans, potatoes, and sugar beets made good progress until late in the month when rains slowed progress to near normal. At month's end, planting of dry field beans was just getting underway—a later than normal start.

A peach crop of 105 million pounds is expected for Michigan, which compares with the 1969 crop of 97 million pounds. The pear crop is estimated to be 25,000 tons, up nine per cent from the 1969 crop of 23,000 tons.

The forecast of sweet cherries, calls for a crop of 23,000 tons compared with the 1969 crop of 21,500 tons. UNITED STATES Winter wheat production, forecast at 1,076 million bushels, is two per cent (18 million bushels) below the May 1, 1970 forecast because of dryness in the Southern Plains. The forecast is six per cent (71 million bushels) below a year earlier, and 13 per cent less than the 1968 crop. Late spring potato production, at 20.2 million hundredweight, is five per cent below 1969. Supplies are available in all areas. Early summer potato production of 12.3 million hundredweight, is nine per cent (1.2 million cwt) below last year. Harvest is expected to start in most areas by mid-June. Peach production, forecast at 3,308 million pounds, is 10 per cent below last year and eight per cent below 1968. Pear production is expected to be 553 thousand tons, 22 per cent less than 1969 and 10 per cent less than the 1968 crop.

The Border 4-H club members enjoyed the special meeting they had on artificial respiration. The members received individual instructions and were able to practice it on the dummy. Their motto is "Be Prepared" but hope they never have to use it. The club will hold a bake sale in the near future.

The 4-H Bee Club of Ovid named the Keepers of Angels of Agriculture are quite busy with their projects at this time of the year as the bees are busy pollinating the fruit trees in the area. The members checked their demonstration branches on an apple tree with some branches wrapped and others not. They found the wrapped branches were not pollinated. They checked their bee hives and put supers on the ones that needed them. Penny Canfield and Eugene Montague have demonstrated they can raise comb honey. The members also made up comb honey sections.

A flock of 1,000 starlings will consume about 65 pounds of feed in one day.

Alfalfa weevil poses a serious threat in Clinton

By GEORGE McQUEEN
Extension Agricultural Agent

The alfalfa weevil is serious in Clinton County.

It appears now you should cut or spray your alfalfa. If you can cut by Monday or Tuesday do so then spray the stubble immediately after removing the crop.

If you cannot cut by about Tuesday you might consider spraying immediately to reduce leaf feeding. Then cut and watch the regrowth close and be prepared to spray again should feeding appear or no regrowth starts.

In nearly all fields inspected leaf feeding is well over the critical level. Last year's seedlings have less weevil feeding but most fields show excessive damage anyway.

The recommendation is to spray when 25 per cent of the alfalfa tips show feeding damage. Most fields are well past the 25 per cent damage level now and must be cut or sprayed very soon to save the leaves. The worms are young yet and appear to have at least three weeks of heavy feeding to do.

Under existing conditions we recommend spraying with Malathion at 1 1/4 pounds actual per acre if alfalfa is cut sooner than seven days.

If you know it will be seven days or longer before cutting and for stubble sprays use the Malathion - Methoxychlor combination at one pound of each per acre.

Other insecticides are available and are satisfactory but have limitations of various kinds under our present conditions.

More detailed recommendations and other materials are available in Extension Bulletin 672 "Insect Control in Forages, Corn and Small Grains."

LOSING BATTLE
Most folks who undertake to reduce by dieting turn out to be good sports, but poor losers.

Sheep offer potential profits for farmers

Among states east of the Mississippi River, Michigan ranks fourth in sheep numbers, has the largest lamb market, and claims the top wool producing county. Detroit is the lamb market and Washtenaw County leads the Eastern United States in wool production. Clinton County is third in Michigan.

Although Michigan sheep numbers have gradually declined since 1964, Michigan's potential for sheep production is much greater than present levels of lamb and wool production indicate, says F. Earl Haas, Clinton County Extension Director.

As reasons for Michigan's high sheep production potential Graydon Blank, Michigan State University sheep specialist, cites the following:
—Michigan lamb prices are usually the highest anywhere in the United States except for isolated specialty markets.

—Ewe flocks are especially suited for grazing non-tillable pastureland. There is a large acreage of this land in Michigan.

—Sheep excel in converting hay and pasture into marketable products. They salvage crop residues, glean corn fields and make efficient use of cover crops such as rye.

—Sheep are especially suited for farmers who want to reduce their labor cost yet market a large amount of roughage, for 4-H projects and for persons working off the farm.

—Sheep blend well with other farm enterprises such as poultry and small fruit operations.

—By following a recommended sheep production program, you can earn up to $1,500 gross income from 40 ewes and a ram," says Haas. "Well managed flocks of ewes can return $50 or more per head in gross sales of lamb and wool each year."

Another advantage to sheep production is that even during the winter, sheep can be fed out-of-doors. If a windbreak is available, no shelter is needed until just before shearing and lambing. Older barns can be easily converted into satisfactory sheep shelters.

For a supplemental farm enterprise, Haas recommends starting with a 40 ewe and one ram flock. Their yearly requirements will be about 10 tons of legume hay, 3,000 pounds of grain and 10 to 40 acres of pasture, depending on quality.

Probably, the largest investment will be in ewes. Western-type yearling ewes are available in large numbers and cost about $35 to $40 each. Ewes should be ordered through a livestock dealer or commission firm that understands the sheep business.

Good native-type ewes such as Corriedale and Columbia crosses, or Hampshire-Oxford, Suffolk-Oxford and Suffolk-Hampshire crosses, are satisfactory but not always available.

Haas recommends buying ewes no later than September. "A profitable sheep flock requires timely attention," he emphasizes. "Proper care at lambing and at critical periods in the parasite control schedule pays dividends."

For more information concerning sheep production, contact the Clinton County Cooperative Extension office at 1003 S. Oakland in St. Johns.

Lansing PCA ranked 18th

The Production Credit Association (PCA) of Lansing ranked 18th nationally in the number of farmers served during 1969, according to statistics released by the Farm Credit Administration in Washington, D.C.

More than 2,300 farmers transacted loans through the PCA last year. The association, managed by Arnold Musolf of Lansing, serves eight central Michigan counties and has offices in St. Johns, Lansing, Charlotte, Corunna, Hastings, Ionia, Mason and Howell.

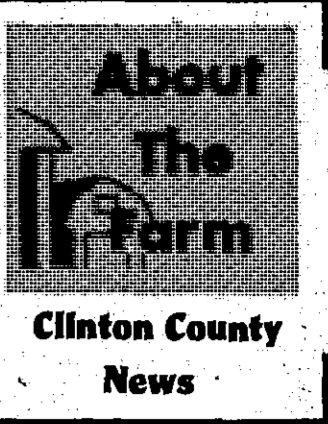

More than 450 associations serve about 500,000 farmer-members throughout the U.S. and Puerto Rico.

New market

The new onion varieties, Spartan Banner and Spartan Gem, will soon give Michigan growers a shot at their share of the french fried onion ring market. The new varieties, developed by Michigan State University horticulturists, produce enough onion rings of good thickness and size to be well suited for french fries. Seed will be available in 1971.

Taste a tree?

Foresters at Michigan State University have found that the leaves and stems of trees give off vapors that have some bearing on insect attraction, human allergy, atmospheric contamination and ecological regulation. Corresponding measurements are also being made of the "taste" and internal chemicals of tree tissues to see what effects these have on the tree and its environment.

State Crop Report

By MICHIGAN CROP REPORTING SERVICE

Heavy rains early in the week and resulting wet fields delayed field work. Small grains, hay and pasture made rapid growth. Tree fruits and vegetables are developing well.

Very heavy rains occurred in the central counties from the Grand Rapids area and east through Gratiot Counties. Soils were left in a saturated condition. Dry bean planting has been delayed on many farms in this area.

Soil moisture supplies are also surplus in much of the Upper Peninsula and the Northeastern and North Central Lower Peninsula.

Wet soils have prevented the completion of corn planting in the Southern Counties. Days suitable for field work averaged only three for the entire State.

Corn planting is now about 90 per cent complete for the State as a whole, but only three-fourths finished in the Upper Peninsula.

About 65 per cent of the states' intended acreage of potatoes is planted, but little more than half of the Upper Peninsula acreage is planted. More than 60 per cent of the soybean acreage, but less than 10 per cent of the dry bean acreage is planted.

Winter wheat is mostly headed in the Southern counties and is heading in the Central counties.

Oats are developing well, but cereal leaf beetles are active in oats in Southern Michigan.

Alfalfa has made an excellent growth but because of wet weather less than 10 per cent of the first cutting has been harvested. Alfalfa weevils are common in the Southern Lower Peninsula. Pastures are furnishing above average amounts of feed in most areas.

The strawberry harvest is underway in the Southwest and strawberries are developing well in other areas.

The asparagus has passed its peak in the Southwest and is progressing slowly in the West Central counties.

Tomato transplanting is nearing completion in Berrien County.

Cabbage in Macomb County has been seriously damaged by cabbage maggots. In Monroe County, early cabbage has started to head and pods have formed on early peas.

The harvest of early radishes and green onions has started in Macomb County.

Tree fruits continue to develop well. Tart cherries have a heavy set in most areas.

Do you take your furniture polish with, or without?

You say you don't drink furniture polish? Well then, why do you include it when figuring your weekly "grocery" bills? Come on, admit it. We all do it. Checking out at the supermarket, we think: "Wow! I used to get 4 bags of groceries for half that!" Yes, you did. But, years ago, those bags held groceries. Today, you're buying more and more non-food items with your food. Things like pots and pans, charcoal; even fertilizer and encyclopedias are now sold in supermarkets. Sure, inflation has forced food prices up; but, not as much as other things. From 1958 to 1968, food went up 18% while clothing was up 20%, housing 27%, medical 45%. Since 1950, farm output per man has increased 6% annually compared to 2.5% for all other industries. Americans spend only about 16.5% of income on food; the lowest in history and about half of any other country in the world! It's all due to the amazing efficiency of the American Farmer, implementing the modern farming methods encouraged and practiced by members of the Michigan Milk Producers Association.

So, next time you check your food bill, please just count the food items. Then count your blessings.

BARBARA DAVIS
Clerk of said Township
Dated: June 17, 1970 7-2

The primary purpose of this column today is to correct the reporting of what occurred at the last regular meeting of the County Board of Road Commissioners held on June 4.

It was reported that the board discussed the $13.7 mile DeWitt Road project and decided to rebuild the road rather than repair it. It may be disappointing news to the residents along DeWitt Road, but the project discussed was the rebuilding of the roads torn up in the process of digging the DeWitt Township sewerage disposal system.

The commission is concerned about providing the residents of the area affected by the sewer project with passable roads as soon as is practicable after the sewer lines are laid. With this thought in mind, various solutions to the problem were discussed, including the possible use of 'soil cement'—a process whereby dry cement is incorporated in place into the surface material with a small amount of water. Under ideal conditions and skilled preparations procedures, this forms a pavement-like surface whose only drawback is that it does crack at roughly 20-foot intervals, there being no expansion joints in this type of construction. Mr. Haske, the commission's engineer, recommended use of deep-strength asphalt base instead of soil cement.

The commission has adopted the policy of insisting that where sewer lines are to follow roads they shall be placed in the center of the road rather than along side of it and that the material removed from the trench shall be replaced with sand.

This policy has many obvious advantages for the roads, the sewer system and for the adjoining property owners. It gives ample room for the digging of the sewer trench without any possibility of damage to the adjoining property. It makes for location of catch basins in the center of the road making it virtually impossible for adjoining residents to run storm water into the sewer line and thus overload the system. It practically eliminates future cutting into the road surface because tap-in lines are provided from the sewer trunk line to the adjoining property boundary of each lot, vacant or otherwise, thus saving the owners the expense and duplication of work in the future. The sand fill will readily compact and, with the traffic load that it will carry, it should be completely settled with a year. Experience shows that putting back the original material that was removed from the trench retains complete compaction for as much as three or four years making a good road replacement during this time almost impossible. The advantages of this method far outweigh the debatable increased cost and will, in fact, save money to the using public in the future.

One other comment, the surfacing project on State Road referred to in the article is to be done on the extension of State Road east to Chandler Road. The State Highway Department—in return for the privilege of using this extension as a haul road when the U.S. 27 overpass is constructed—is willing to contribute to the commission what it would have to spend building a temporary haul road. This would amount to about $6,000. The state road extension is to be a federal aid secondary project and so fifty per cent of its cost will come from a federal grant. This money, in addition to the State Highway Department's contribution, will make the overpass approach section of the state road project cost the commission about $9,000. The balance of the project will cost the commission considerably more for the total estimated cost of this new road is $156,700.

It is contemplated letting the sand back-fill in the sewer trench settle for a month or six weeks and then top it off with a six inch course of crushed gravel. Hot asphalt would then be worked into this material to make a traffic bearing surface that would act as a temporary road for a year. This would not necessarily remain a smooth road for the length of time for the trench material would continue to settle and compact, but it would be far superior to traveling on the raw sand and gravel. It would not be dusty nor would it develop pot holes and so forth. In addition to this, it would be considerably cheaper than using soil cement and will act as a very satisfactory base for the new road construction that is planned for a year later when compaction of the trench material is completed. At that time, the material that will have accumulated on the shoulders of this temporary road will be reworked, the excess material removed and a bituminous mat will be applied which will level the road surface and be the permanent road thereafter.

Cereal leaf beetle threatens oats, wheat

By GEORGE McQUEEN
Extension Agricultural Agent

Check your oat and wheat fields now—today—for cereal leaf beetles.

Severe damage is present already in most oats south of M21. North of M21 populations are more spotty but could increase greatly during one or two days of warm weather.

Many wheat fields south of M21 also show severe damage. Wheat should be sprayed if one immature larva or egg is found per leaf and the bottom leaves have not started to show ripening. Our wheat lacks two to three weeks of showing any ripening. Oats should be sprayed if one immature larva or egg is found per stem and oats are not fully headed. Many fields have two to four larvae per leaf now.

Most larvae are medium to small. Some eggs are present also. This indicates two to four weeks of heavy feeding yet.

Spray oats before heading with Sevin or Malathion.

After oats or wheat have headed spray with Malathion. Guthion also is very effective but must be used with extreme care by experienced operators to apply safely. Do not apply Guthion within 30 days of harvest or grazing.

Get additional information from your elevator, custom sprayer or chemical dealer. Extension Bulletin 672 "Insect Control on Farm Crops."

New wheat allotments may be established

A new farm wheat allotment may be established for the 1971 crop of wheat for farms that did not have a 1970 allotment if they meet eligibility requirements, according to L. J. Hart of the Clinton County ASC Committee.

A 1971 wheat allotment will be established automatically for all farms that had a wheat allotment in 1970.

To be eligible for a new farm allotment, the operator must expect to receive 50 per cent or more of his income from the production of agricultural commodities on the farm; neither the owner or the operator may have an interest in any other farm, which as a 1971 wheat allotment and the person making application must have had at least two years experience in the last five years in producing wheat.

Applications for a new farm allotment must be filed in the county office on or before June 30, 1970.

Farm Bureau cherry sale this month

The Farm Bureau Women of the Clinton County Farm Bureau are promoting the sale of the best quality of Michigan red tart cherries to its members.

Orders for these cherries in 30 pound containers, partially frozen, may be placed anytime during the month of June at the County Farm Bureau office, at 407 E. Gibbs Street, St. Johns.

The cherries will be partially frozen and ready to repack in smaller containers for freezing or canning. Delivery of cherries is expected at harvest time—probably the third week of July.

A tragic loss

The tragedy of a youngster's death has moved the entire community of St. Johns. Concerned parents throughout the county likewise have experienced a sense of loss and have shuddered at the possibility of a crushing recurrence.

Within the city parents have banded together in efforts to bring about changes in traffic along U.S. 27 which would provide greater assurance of safety for their children. They have been motivated by the loss of Rickey Springer but their efforts have reached beyond the question of safety.

In attempts to accomplish a local decision residents learned that only authorities at the state level can provide the ultimate answer. This seemingly minor revelation is but another example of the displacement of self-government to higher levels—levels wherein sadness such as we have known is viewed only as statistical entries in a book of cold facts.

We will join with parents groups in contacting our representatives to bring about new speed limits and early re-routing of U.S. 27, but we will also encourage action toward regaining the basic rights of determining what is best for our community. Be it state or federal highway, its path through a city should be under the direction of those who live with it each day and can see impending dangers.

Rickey's memory will linger long in the community mind.

Ours has been a tragic loss. We cannot regain Rickey, but perhaps in death he can inspire us to regain the basic rights we have thoughtlessly let slip away.

The school vote

Voters in Clinton County school districts last week went to the polls and voted one-hundred per cent. Five of the six districts were seeking approval of millage requests and all five were accepted.

A separate request for one mill to establish a book store in the Fowler district was disapproved, but the general impression given is that county residents support the efforts of their school officials.

One of the more encouraging aspects of the vote was the fact that, despite small turnouts, those who did visit the polls did indeed support the request. Warm and humid weather could well have distracted supporters, opening the way for opposition—which seems to make it to the polls in any kind of weather.

But this was not necessarily the case and Clinton school districts appear to be on their way to another successful academic year.

Taxpayers may well be watching their pennies but in Clinton County they have not lost sight of one of our most treasured values—education. Likewise, their acceptance is a tribute to the officials of the various school districts who must be running tight ships in these days of spiraling costs.

Deadlines

Because we haven't heard of a newspaper that suddenly materializes with all news, advertising copy and pictures in place and in A-1 condition, it becomes necessary for the Clinton County News to impose deadlines to insure a smooth flow of copy so that as much material as possible may be printed in proper form. Toward this end, these deadlines are now in effect:

- Display advertising.....Monday noon. Classified advertising.....Monday noon. Letters to the editor.....Thursday, 5 p.m. News for farm pages.....Thursday noon. Wedding stories, pictures.....Thursday noon. Other contributed pictures.....Monday noon. Church and fine arts items.....Thursday, 5 p.m. Regular columns.....Friday, 8 a.m. Sports page items.....Monday, 5 p.m. Teen activities page items.....Thursday, 5 p.m. Other contributed items.....Monday, 5 p.m.

Earlier submission of news items is greatly appreciated, with the result that more attention can be given to them. Items will be accepted after the deadline, but will be used ONLY if time and space are available. Requests for pictures to be taken by the County News staff should be made as soon as possible and never less than 24 hours before the picture time.

PAGE ONE—10 YEARS AGO, JUNE 16, 1960

Two stories dominated Page One of the Clinton County News 10 years ago—a school election in St. Johns and a fire in Fowler.

Shown in column six were the winning board candidates. At the top is Raymond Parr, then Fred Meyer, Owen C. Teeters and Leon Shumaker. Parr, the only incumbent, is president of the board today. Also on the board today are Meyer and Shumaker, who were newcomers then. The pictures in the upper left corner are of Huggett Hardware, scene of a fire to which six departments responded. Although damage was estimated at $40,000 efforts of the firemen averted what could have been total destruction. The photo at the bottom of the page in column three is of Arthur Mikesell, then 52 and expected to be elected VFW state junior vice commander at the group's 41st state convention in Saginaw.

Back thru the years

Ovid Centennial, school elections, WW II draft and graduation - - this was news way back then

One Year Ago

JUNE 18, 1969

Clinton County Supervisors went after the Mid-Michigan Health Department in earnest June 16 when Duane Smith, Bath Supervisor - assessor since January, complained to the board he had been unable to get action on "serious" health hazards in the Bath area. Poorly installed and inadequate septic tank systems were his main concern.

A community - effort time machine was about to spin its magic as Ovid area residents planned to observe the Centennial birthday of their village. Eldon Smith, mayor of DeWitt, resigned his post to accept appointment as city administrative director. The position carried an annual salary of $13,000 and Smith's appointment was for a two year term. He was replaced as mayor by mayor - pro-tem Lawrence Keck.

A Morrice man topped a field of 1,195 bowlers to walk off with first place, a trophy and $1,200 in cash from the 12th Annual Singles Bowling Classic at Redwing Lanes in St. Johns. George Talbot tallied a 724 handicap total to gain the title.

The city of St. Johns was bulging at the seams when an estimated 6,000 spectators crammed the sidewalks to witness the Seventh Annual Soap Box Derby. Steve Riley took first place in a field of 76 drivers.

10 Years Ago

JUNE 16, 1960

Firemen from Fowler, Dallas Township, Westphalia, Maple Rapids, Lyons, Pawamo and St. Johns drowned a potentially disastrous fire before it could get out of its bed in Fowler June 12. Damage was estimated at $40,000 to the Huggett Hardware and Implement building housed in the old Sturgis block, a Fowler landmark.

St. Johns school officials began putting into effect the six curriculum improvements that electors approved Monday by authorizing a four - mill, three-year levy, 407 to 287.

Four members of the St. Johns board of education were elected in Monday's a new election, three of them newcomers. Incumbent Raymond Parr was named to another four - year term, as was Fred Meyer who succeeded John Martin, outgoing member. Leon W. Shumaker and Owen C. Teeters won three-year positions.

Clinton County school electors gave better than a three-to-one endorsement of special education at elections Monday. Only one proposition of the seven choices lost out. Arthur Mikesell, 52, Ovid, present judge advocate of the Michigan department of Veterans of Foreign War, was named state junior vice commander at the 41st state convention June 16-19 at Saginaw.

25 Years Ago

JUNE 21, 1945

Every interested person in Clinton County was invited to attend a public meeting in the auditorium of the Rodney B. Wilson school in St. Johns June 22, to discuss a proposal for a County Memorial Park as a "living monument" to the Clinton County servicemen and women of World War II.

Selective service registrants over 30 years of age still had a definite obligation to the draft board, officials announced. Inasmuch as the armed forces were not calling any more men than necessary in that age bracket, many of the deferred men were of the opinion they are "free to come and go as they saw fit."

Clinton County Republicans were to co-operate in the nationwide "Dollars for Freedom" drive sponsored by the Republican National Committee to finance expanding political activities of the party, according to an announcement from A. T. Allaby, of St. Johns, finance chairman for the Clinton County Republican Committee.

Clinton County Board of Supervisors approved unanimously June 20, a report of their committee on equalization setting the county's equalized valuation at a figure nearly $3 million over the equalization in 1944. The total of real and personal property in the 16 townships and city of St. Johns was equalized at $27,143,189. The 1944 figure was $24,287,976.

An address full of inspiration and high ideals was the Baocallaureate sermon delivered last Sunday evening at St. Johns Episcopal Church by the rector, Rev. Amos Watkins, to the graduating class of 1920 of the St. Johns High School. The class comprising 30 members gathered outside and marched into the church, which was beautifully decorated with flowers.

'IF IT FITZ . . .

Short-haired water pollution

By JIM FITZGERALD

"It isn't just their long hair and goofy clothes," said John Straight. "But they act so silly. Getting high on grass and strumming guitars, it's disgusting."

John was talking about "those damn kids." He is a member of what the kids call "the Establishment" and he's proud of it.

"The so-called Establishment is what makes this country great," John Straight is fond of saying.

I guess all my friends could be considered Establishment. I cannot deny membership myself. At my age, and with my paunch, I fit into no other category. I'm just not in shape for romping in the meadows with the Love Children. And I don't have time for protest marches. I must work or the milkman will be protesting non-payment of his bill.

But I've got a problem, doctor. Every time my friends start talking about what's wrong with this country, I begin to squirm.

Hair is a good example. I know men who turn purple at the sight of a boy with long hair. To guys like John Straight, there's nothing worse than some dumb kid who doesn't get a short haircut every two weeks. He sneers audibly every time he comes near a long-haired male.

"They are all communists," he explained to me. "Only communists would disgrace this country by looking so terrible."

I usually argue with the Straights, even if they're buying the lunch. I don't care how a kid wears his hair. It's his hair, I figure. And that seems like a pretty fair attitude for The Land of the Free, doesn't it? There's gotta be more important things to fret about.

John Straight says maybe I'm not a card-carrying communist but I'm certainly a pinko and I'd better watch what I say or I'll be buying my own lunches. The Establishment will disown me.

Well, I figure Ron Ziegler is a member of the Establishment. He's President Nixon's press secretary. The other day, at a Washington party, Ziegler was pushed into a swimming pool by a Democrat. He was wearing his best blue suit.

Ziegler didn't just glub-blub. The guy who pushed him was Len Bickwit, an employee of Senator Philip Hart. Ziegler enlisted the aid of three friends who promptly dunked Bickwit. Sly Bickwit slipped out of his suitcoat before he was tossed in the water. But Ziegler wasn't thwarted. He had the jacket thrown in, too. "We got it as wet as we could get it," he later told Bickwit. So there, your grandfather's moustache.

It wasn't reported whether Ziegler and Bickwit and friends were boozing. But I'd hate to think they'd act that way sober.

My point is simple: Ziegler and Bickwit have short haircuts. Their clothes are conservative, when dry. They are full-fledged members of the Establishment.

Now, I wouldn't say it is dangerous to approach a full pool in the company of ANY man with a short haircut. I'll even concede all short-hairs who push clothed people into pools are not communists.

But they are obviously communist-inspired. Everyone knows the communists want to poison our water.

Don't invite Spiro Agnew to your pool party.

TAKING FIVE

The dishwasher

By RON HUARD

I guess nobody has to tell you that this old world of ours is chock full of problems.

Nixon has his Cambodia; Lindsay has his hardhats; Nader has his consumer products and wifey has her dishwasher. The one that doesn't work.

Even when it's working the thing brings more trouble into our serene lives than a visiting relative but in despair there is nothing to match the fire-works.

There are few disasters which could befall our family that could cause greater disruption than having the dishwasher get sick. The quiet box of relays and switches can turn wife against husband, sister against sister and brother against the whole group.

And, as is the usual case for such appliances, they always get the fever with their bellies full. (This in itself is enough to make anybody cringe and serves as a good suggestion why servicemen are so hard to come by.)

But getting back to the problem at hand. Under normal conditions, that is when the thing is working, there is only an hour or so spent each day arguing about who is going to clear the table and load the machine. There is a system of "turns" among the young people in our family for performing this chore, but sometime during the hours between, each meal everybody forgets whose turn it was . . . or is.

This results in an after meal melee that makes Walter Cronkite's news of the world seem like a report from the good fairy. And all this just over the mere loading of the machine can do the real work. You can imagine what takes place when the machine gets sick.

"It's your turn so you have to wash all those dirty dishes." "But I did 'em the last time it broke down."

"You did not, mom did 'em."

"How do you know? You weren't even born then."

"Maybe not, but while I was waitin' in the wings of heaven I saw mom doing the dishes beside a dishwasher and I knew it must have been broken."

"Oh, cool, you're real cool." Generally these exchanges go on until one or the other breaks a glass but when the machine is dead it takes more than a broken dish to settle the dispute. And that's where I come in.

Usually, in my infinite wisdom I am able to settle the situation and everybody ends up with a smile and cheerful words. Wifey returns to her newspaper and after dinner coffee; brother heads for the evening ball game and the girls disappear into the twilight.

I wasn't able to fix the dishwasher, but the dishes are done.

Is the butter soft?

By TIM YOUNKMAN

Their long hair bounced and flew as they surged through the streets, retreated and surged again.

They all wore what amounted to uniforms—sloppy shirts, baggy and dirty pants and the unusually long overcoats, sometimes found in someone's rubbish pile.

They raced forward hurling fire-bombs through carefully selected corporation windows, as if they had been issued a directive of sorts, they overturned automobiles and set them ablaze. The young protesters chanted the names of old communist generals and verbally abused the newly elected leader of their country.

It was a common practice to burn the flag, and this they did with a vengeance, sometimes writing obscene notes about the government on the material.

The city officials sent out their best trained riot squads who advanced on the crowd, grim and determined, with rifles, gas, and clubs.

Nothing worked. Officials soon felt that the army, newly outfitted and highly disciplined, would have to be called in to do the job.

But by the time the army could mobilize, a new group entered the picture. Helmeted workers from various city construction and factory jobs abandoned their work and stormed into the crowd, swinging shovels, pipes, and hammers. In short, they were attacking their own children.

Like a wedge, they forced through a column splitting the students and isolating them from any possible help.

The soldiers, finally arrived, were ordered to stand-by—to do nothing since it was obvious that any attempt at

COOS BAY, Ore., EMPIRE BUILDER: "Smoking and its hazards is getting lots of attention these days, not the least from government. Last year the federal government, in addition to subsidies, spent $7.6 million to help tobacco farmers improve their product. Of that sum, $240,000 was spent to help sell American tobacco overseas. At the same time the government spent $4.2 million in advertising and research aimed at getting people to stop smoking."

BEDFORD, Ind., TIMES-MAIL: "If you're an average taxpayer, you're working a little longer each day for government than you did last year. Tax Foundation Incorporated, estimates the average taxpayer this year is working eight minutes longer each day to meet his federal, state and local taxes than he did in 1968. For the average taxpayer, two hours and 34 minutes of each working day is required to pay tax liabilities. In 1968, total daily time required to pay taxes was two hours and 26 minutes. In 1966, the time required was two hours and 19 minutes."

regaining peace would be futile, or so the official accounts read.

Right before my eyes, two of the workers cornered one of the young leftists, knocked him to the ground with a pipe, and stomped him to the point of death. And the scene was repeated several times during the night.

At dawn of the second day of rioting, the government closed all schools, dismissed the governing boards and assumed complete control.

From that point on, the schools—even high schools—produced only scientists and officers for the military industrial complex, the military machine, and fodder for enemy guns.

It sounds a bit like a third-rate playwright's attempt at surrealist foreshadowing. Not true.

Nor did it happen, exactly that way, on last night's network newscast.

The scene is from 1933 Berlin, in the grip of the Great Depression, at Hitler assumed power.

In that time of history, the working class was tricked, the workers were fooled into believing that the Nazi government could provide bread and butter and happiness. At the time of the scene described above, they did not want the young leftists, sons and daughters every one, to destroy that false hope.

Things are not as bad here. We have guns and butter, but the butter might be melting.

Legislative affliction

By REP. DICK ALLEN

I am beginning to suffer from a seasonal legislative disease. A rash in an area too delicate to mention in this family newspaper...

Blister Rust Control, $35,000.00; Meat Inspection, retirement program, $170,801.00; Fertilizer Inspection Fees, $155,000.00; Family Services, day care, $16,000,000.00; Old Age Assistance, $33,177,200.00; Nursing Home Service, $111,198,000.00; Block grant, Detroit, $5,000,000.00; Director, Indian Affairs, $10,500.00.

proprietion. And generally, the cause seems justified. Someone's child needs special education or their parent requires nursing home care. A local group is promoting a low income housing development or is expanding an excellent mental health program.

View from the 87th Apathy no answer to campus protesters

By REP. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

My mail, like the mail of practically all legislators, strongly reflects the fact that the great majority of Michigan citizens are outraged by the repeated disruption of education at our state-supported universities and the violent destruction of property on campuses and in university communities.

I have often been forced to point out, in response to demands that the Legislature "outlaw" campus disruption, that we already have laws against arson and vandalism and assault. If a majority of citizens wish us to pass special laws concerning the operations of universities stronger than the one I co-sponsored (HB 3800) which was signed into law last week, they will have to give us the authority through constitutional amendment.
