

Time machine spins Ovid back to 1869 era

OVID — A community-effort time machine will spin its magic next week as Ovid area residents go back a hundred years in time to observe the centennial birthday of their village.

A week-long centennial celebration begins this Saturday, June 21, and continues through June 28. With hard work and a spirit of pioneer days creating the atmosphere of 1869, visitors to the celebration will find fun for all ages beginning each morning and continuing until the fireworks display is set off at night.

One of the events that has taken considerable time, effort, and work on the part of the citizenry is the mammoth historical pageant "The Ovid Story — People In Progress." The pageant will be presented on a 200 foot multi-level stage and has a cast of 250 local people. The theme has been written from local history and will employ colorful costumes, old autos, horses, cattle, wagons and professional lighting.

A summary of the high-lights for the centennial is listed below on a daily basis and Ovid residents are hoping for visitors from all over the state and nation.

SATURDAY, JUNE 21 OPENING OF CENTENNIAL

The festivities will begin at noon with a speech by the Ovid village president and a flag raising by Ovid Boy Scouts, and continue throughout the day with a Centennial Ball at the junior high building and a coronation of the queen in the evening.

SUNDAY, JUNE 22 RELIGIOUS HERITAGE DAY

Each church of the community will maintain regular worship services, inviting back all of the former members. A reunion picnic will be held from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. and each of the churches will be responsible for their own place and food. In the afternoon Dr Leroy Howe, professor of philosophy and religion at CMU will be the guest speaker at the high school field. Everyone will be dressed in their old fashioned clothing.

MONDAY, JUNE 23 GOVERNOR AND PIONEER DAY

Today will be the opening for all the displays and at 9 a.m., the flower contest will be held in the parlor of the Congregational Church. They will be judged at 10 a.m.

At 2 p.m. there will be a band concert at the high school field followed by an oratorical contest. At 5:30 p.m. a box dinner will be held at the park, and drinks and desserts may be purchased from old-fashioned covered wagons. Beginning at 7:30 p.m. there will be an awards ceremony at the junior high school field, followed by the premiere performance of the historical spectacular "The Ovid Story — People In Progress," at 8:30 p.m.

TUESDAY, JUNE 24 YOUTH DAY

During the morning, games, contests, races, etc., will be held with registration for the games at 10 a.m., and the contests for the 100-yard dash, ball throw, hula-hoop etc., will begin at 10:30 a.m. There will be a luncheon at noon and the opening of the midway, rides, and amusements will commence.

At 1:30 p.m. there will be ball-games for the little league and pony league, and at 4 p.m. there will be a youth parade, with floats, horses, costumes, etc. At 7:30 p.m. a pre-spectacular show and baton twirling exhibition will take place, at 8:30 p.m. the pageant

Supervisors threaten to quit health unit

Clinton County Supervisors, went after the Mid-Michigan Health Department in earnest Monday afternoon, when Duane Smith, Bath supervisor-assessor since January, complained to the board he had been unable to get action on "serious" health hazards in the Bath area.

Poorly installed and inadequate septic tank systems were his main concern. Smith stated raw sewage was a health hazard to residents and in one case had formed a 30 by 30 foot pond in back of a store and the Mid-Michigan Health Department wasn't forcing the owner to correct the situation. He continued saying the department finally cited the owner on May 1 and gave him 10 days to correct the condition, but since then the owner has only agreed to dump some fill dirt in the pond, and this was not an adequate solution to the problem.

Numerous other situations were cited where raw sewage collects on top of the ground. Smith accused the health department of being "too easy" on offenders and felt some of the inspections for permits were given without proper inspection.

Many of the land owners are refusing to accept responsibility for their sewer problems and are attempting to force a storm sewer installation, (which all property owners would be liable for), and Smith felt again would not solve the problem. Dale Chapman, county drain commissioner agreed with Smith's complaints, on all points.

The supervisor felt a sanitary sewer system with a treatment facility the best solution, and the system could be forced if the Mid-Michigan Health Department was doing its job.

Smith also accused the department of not returning his telephone calls and not attending meetings with drain and state officials.

"I need help," he said, urging the board to take some kind of positive action before the area, already threatened, has an outbreak of hepatitis or other health problems.

Supervisors then discussed the idea of "getting-out" of Mid-Michigan and spending the annual $40,000 fee on their own health department. The main problem with this is cost, and another suggested they might hire a good sanitarian and a doctor on a per diem basis to serve as part time director. The supervisors generally felt the state law requiring a doctor-director out of line, and noted, 14 Michigan Departments have been unable to get a doctor-director.

"We have had complaints about Mid-Michigan when we had a doctor-director and we've had complaints about Mid-Michigan since last September and we've been without one," Walter Nobis, board chairman said.

Supervisors decided to serve notice on Mid-Michigan they are considering dissolving relations with the three county group which also includes Montcalm and Gratiot. A 12 month notice is required to do this and the board felt by notifying the department now, that they are considering the aspects of leaving by Dec. 31, 1970, they would in effect be giving them 18 months notice.

Supervisors have heard so many complaints on the department they have actually considered the possibility of leaving for the past year. If no improvement in service is noted in the next six months they will give final notice and still have the required 12 months notice period remaining.

Supervisor Smith, also complained to the supervisors regarding house trailers around the Bath area and voiced the complaint that often trailer permits were issued by the county appeal board after the local board had refused permission for said trailers. Supervisors then suggested Smith attend the appeal board meetings, and find out why the local governing body was being overruled in these matters.

Several other items were brought before the board including a request for new furnishings for the sheriff turnkey apartment at the county jail. Supervisor Claude Underhill presented the request and stated the plaster repair, and painting, of the rooms had been completed, but the apartment had never been furnished except for odd and ends.

According to information received by City Clerk Thomas Hundley, the possible action is based on procedures stipulated in the syllabus of Attorney General opinions when an appeal is presented to and accepted by the State Tax Commission.

Councilman, Larry Martin and Bob Hubbard of Ovid presented Mrs. Jeanne Rand, vice-mayor, of St. Johns with a commemorative medal, special plate, and bow tie, as gifts when their caravan visited the city on Friday evening, June 13. A gala celebration of the Ovid area centennial begins Saturday, June 21.

Summer, winter tax bills together is possible

City tax freeze?

A new cloud slid into the financial horizon of St. Johns this week in the form of a possible tax roll freeze which, if it takes place, could result in city residents receiving both summer and winter tax bills at the same time later in the year.

According to information received by City Clerk Thomas Hundley, the possible action is based on procedures stipulated in the syllabus of Attorney General opinions when an appeal is presented to and accepted by the State Tax Commission.

Hundley explained that he has received word from the Department of the Treasury, State Tax Commission, that an appeal from the equalization of Clinton County for 1969 has been filed and accepted for examination by the State Tax Commission. The notice he received was sent to inform city officials that until State Tax Commission has made final disposition of the appeal, no taxes are to be spread for any purpose by an assessing officer in the county.

Hundley did not indicate the nature of the appeal or who entered the action.

According to the clerk, the directive outlines policy regarding pending appeals as follows:

"If appeals to the state tax commission from either county equalization of tax assessments or from county allocation of tax rates are pending at the time a tax is normally due from a taxing unit, a valid property tax levy cannot be made by such taxing unit until such appeals are finally determined."

Hundley states that the situation could be critical for the city of St. Johns when the general fund, normally operated from tax monies is exhausted. The city operation depends almost entirely on this fund, and normally by the last of June tax statements are in the mail, but until his department gets the go ahead from the treasury department things are at a standstill.

Hundley has no idea when this will happen, and it appears quite feasible that residents could be burdened with their summer and winter tax statements arriving at the same time.

Jesse Guernsey with the birthday cake that was baked to honor his 103rd birthday, reads the letter sent to him from Governor Milliken and President Nixon's letter lies on the table.

'If it wasn't for the Lord...'

Jesse Guernsey hears from President Nixon on birthday

"If it wasn't for the Lord, I wouldn't be here at all", that is how Jesse Guernsey feels about his 103 years on this earth.

Guernsey is a resident of the Rivard Nursing Home and has lived there since May of 1964. Although the oldest resident the home has ever had, he is at the same time one of the best patients. According to nurses at the home, Guernsey is on the least medication.

"An aspirin occasionally for a headache, but outside of that he uses nothing," the nurses say. He is also one of the most active residents. He attends the Church of God every Sunday and participates in diversional activities twice a week.

This week, June 18 to be exact, he will be 103 years old. In honor of this special occasion, he has planned special dinners out for celebration with friends. But he was also honored by the governor of Michigan and the President of the United States with personal letters.

On Friday, Guernsey received a note from Governor Milliken and Monday he received the presidential message. He said that he never expected such a response from the high officials.

Although when the letter arrived from the White House, the nurse who delivered it said he replied that he had hoped to hear from the President. Later, he said that he would like to talk to the President and meet him.

He says he has a money matter to discuss with the President. But claims that he would only give away any money he would get from the government. "Money isn't any good unless you spend it. I always carry money in my pocket so I might give it to someone who might need it more than me," he says.

With the aid of a staff member at the home, Guernsey plans to reply to the notes by the Governor and President.

Three years ago, when Guernsey was just 100, he rode in the soap box derby parade as king of Clinton County. This year he rode again in the parade as the oldest resident of Clinton County.

He plans to have dinner and party at the home of Mildred Brown in Matherton. Brown lives on a farm adjoining the one that Guernsey farmed for several years.

A very religious man, Guernsey spends much of his time reading the Bible. A Bible at the home is provided with large

Announcements

The St. Johns TACT Board will sponsor a "June Moon" dance for students in the freshman class through 20 years at the Masonic Temple Saturday evening, June 21, from 8 'til 12 p.m. Music will be provided by the "King's Ransom" and a new group called "The Reason Why" will provide music during intermission. Both groups are largely composed of youth from the St. Johns area. Refreshments will be served.

The Red Cross bloodmobile will visit St. Johns Friday, June 25, from noon until 6 p.m. at St. Joseph School. Present blood supplies are low and demands are being placed daily on present supplies. Give a little to save a lot.

On Friday evening June 20 "The Reason Why" and the "A. J. Bag," bands will sponsor a dance at Smith Hall from 8 'til 12 p.m. Both bands are from the St. Johns area.

As a general rule most any man is unreliable when talking about his side of the case.

At 1 p.m. the beard judging contest will be held on Main Street and the Grand finale parade will be held from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m.

OVID CENTENNIAL QUEEN CONTEST

Tracy Simpson and Diane Kusenda check over the regulations laid down for queen candidates of the Ovid area centennial. They weren't old enough, however. One of the rules says "you must be 17 years old or over to become a contestant." There are now 25 candidates in the final running for queen with Janet Austin leading the group and Pat Wilson and Amelia Tejkl in second and third place positions.

PROPER DRESS OF 1869 DISPLAYED AT OVID

Charles Clock, James Briggs and George Craig are sporting beards and top-hats from a century ago for the Ovid Centennial celebration. Ovid residents will sponsor a week long series of events beginning June 21 with the men above working on several areas of the festivities including the pageant, beard contest, and the queen crowning.

The Lester Lake Michigan Week Traveling Trophy was formally presented to the Clinton County Boys Club last Thursday noon at a meeting of the St. Johns Exchange Club. Robert Dittmer (left), one of the news media judges, gave the handsome trophy to Daniel Salazar, president of the Boys Club, while Ed Schmitt, the club's organizer, looks on. The trophy was given in recognition of the club as the outstanding local organization of the past year.

Lake Trophy formally given to Boys Club

In three years, the Clinton County Boys Club has grown from an idea to an organization that's won a Michigan Week trophy for being the outstanding club in St. Johns.

The history, the problems and the needs were outlined at the St. Johns Exchange Club last Thursday noon by Ed Schmitt, the founder of the club, and Daniel Salazar, current president.

Then they were finished, they were formally presented with the Lester H. Lake Michigan Week Traveling Trophy in recognition of the Boys Club as the outstanding local organization during the past year. The announcement of the award was made during Michigan Week, but since then the trophy has been engraved and the formal presentation delayed until Thursday.

The club was selected for the award by members of the various local news media. Robert Dittmer, president of Dittmer Broadcasting Co., made the presentation Thursday.

The Boys Club has grown from a few boys working out over the fire hall to an organization that now has facilities used by several hundred boys. While boxing and Golden Gloves competition continues to be a prime purpose of the club, Schmitt explained to the Exchanges that the club is expanding its horizons this year to include more boys.

but their budget just won't stand it at the present time. He also would like to see a set of weights available at the Boys Club gym.

The club was formed three years ago when Schmitt got the assistance of Walter Pierce, Edgar Conley, Mick Droste, Salazar and Wayne Beaufore. At that time the Golden Gloves team from St. Johns was working out in cramped quarters over the fire hall on Walker Street.

The club was first known as the Clinton County Athletic Club, and under their sponsorship, three boxing shows have been staged at St. Johns High School gym. Schmitt indicated that next year the club hopes to stage a boxing show outdoors in the summer.

EXPANSION OF the club will come hard, Schmitt said, but he believes it can be done. "Town-people have been terrific," he commented. "Our growth so far has all been through volunteer help. For instance we got help when we wanted to build a regulation ring, and we built a $2,700 ring for $500."

In an effort to keep the growth going, Schmitt said the Boys Club board will be expanded soon to include a 10-member board of directors.

"It's a going outfit," he said, "and for a three-year-old club I'm pretty proud of it."

Salazar pointed out that the Boys Club is now not just for Golden Gloves boxers but for all boys in the community. He echoed Schmitt's hopes of expanding the program to provide a good place for boys to come in off the street. It will take volunteer help and financing. Program chairman for the Exchange Club last Thursday was Bob Thompson.

Board tightens non-degree teacher requirements

The St. Johns school district board of directors last week moved to tighten requirements for all teachers currently in the system who do not have degrees. School Superintendent Earl Lancaster told board members there are 12 teachers in the system who do not now have degrees, but several are currently working toward them.

Lancaster explained the school annexation program of five years ago brought into the system 25 teachers who did not have degrees.

The tightening of requirements come in the form of adoption of a policy which will require all non-degree teachers to have degrees by the 1971 school year or relinquish their teaching positions.

In other action the board approved the release of four portable classrooms in the system with three others being retained for eventual ownership by the district. Lancaster advised the board present facilities are adequate to handle most needs and he recommended release of portable units at Swegles, Perrin-Palmer and the high school, all of which rent at $2,000 each.

He advised the board that only two years remain on three other rental units before they become property of the schools and it was agreed to retain the units.

In final action, the board approved athletic fees in keeping with recommendations of West Central Conference of Athletic Boards. Advance students tickets will be 75 cents; student and adult tickets at gate, $1.25 sixth grade and under student tickets at gate, 50 cents.

Mr and Mrs Romuald Lonier and Jeanette attended an open house June 8 at Grand Ledge honoring Gary Dean Vilminot on his graduation from Grand Ledge High School.

Miss Helen Lowell attended the dedication of Huron Towers (a project of MEA for retired teachers) at Ann Arbor on June 8.

Mr and Mrs Dewey Berryhill and Mrs Fannie Berryhill spent the weekend at Crystal Falls.

LITTLE LEAGUE boys and Soap Box Derby boys have used the Boys Club quarters on the northwest corner of Clinton Avenue and Railroad Street for a meeting place, and Schmitt said there has been interest expressed for using the club for physical conditioning, even for adults.

The Clinton County Boys Club building is presently equipped with two heavy punching bags, a coordination bag, speed bag and a boxing ring. Showers were put in during the past few months, and plans are progressing for a few lockers for the fellows who work out regularly.

Schmitt said the board of directors of the Boys Club would like to buy an exercise machine,

And said Southerly right-of-way line being described as: Beginning at a point on the North and South 1/4 line of said Section 15, which is South 00 deg. 08'08" West, 1218.59 feet from the center of Section 15; thence South 89 deg. 59'40" West, 1331.32 feet; thence South 83 deg. 23'21" West, 747.83 feet to a point of ending.

Comments and action taken: Martin Block Company stated their case and made a written statement agreeing to certain safeguards for surrounding land owners. He answered questions from the audience as to time of termination of operations on the North parcel and stated that the state will only allow crossing of their right-of-way until July 1, 1969.

Gerald Shepard read (to all present) the zoning restrictions and regulations pertaining to sand and gravel pits.

Motion by H. L. Brook to grant including attached agreements presented by Mr. Martin. Motion supported by Earl Barks. Motion carried 4 to 0.

Restrictions by Martin Block Company are as follows: I agree to the following conditions pertaining to the North 24 acres:

1. Leave a 150-foot buffer strip on the North line.
2. Complete a one on two slope.
3. Not to use any stationary equipment such as bins, crushers, etc.
4. Not to erect any buildings pertaining to the gravel business such as maintenance buildings, storage buildings, etc.
5. Not to stockpile any materials on this parcel.
6. To level all spoil piles.
7. To erect a fence on the North line.

Item II, Bingham Township -- 2 parcels (Moriarty Co.) to rezone from Agriculture D to Zone G.

Moved by Supervisor Hufnagel, supported by Supervisor Cobb to concur with the recommendation of the Zoning Commission and rezone from D Agriculture to G. Voted and carried.

Bingham Township
From Zone D, agriculture to Zone G, industrial;
Com. at a point on the S. sec. 1n. of Sec. 7, T7N-R2W, Bingham Township, Clinton County, Michigan, 693.0' W. of the SE corner of sd. Sec. 7, th. W. 627', th. N. 1087.1' to the G.T.W.R.R., th. E. along said r/w 742.5 ft., th. S. 569.35', th. W. 115.5', th. S. 528.0' to the pt. of beg. The above described parcel contains 17.17 acres of land more or less.

Comments and action taken: Harold Phillips stated he has not changed his plans about the use of this parcel from what was covered in the Special Use Permit now in effect. He believes the "C" classification would give more flexibility to the use of his property.

Motion by Max Loudonbeck to rezone. Motion seconded by H. L. Brook. Carried.

Item II, Bingham Township
From Zone D, agriculture to Zone G, industrial;
All that part of the SW 1/4 of the SE 1/4 of Sec. 7, T7N-R2W, Bingham Township, Clinton County, Mich. lying S. of the Grand Trunk Railroad r/w. The above described parcel contains 32.68 acres, more or less.

Comments and action taken: Motion by Earl Barks to rezone. Motion seconded by Gerald Shepard. Motion carried.

Supervisor Shepard, chairman of finance committee, presented a tentative budget for the year of 1970. After discussion it was moved by Supervisor Montgomery, supported by Supervisor Lankford, to adopt the tentative budget as presented. Voted and carried.

Supervisor Shepard moved, supported by Supervisor Gove, to meet again on April 22 to consider the equalization report and to instruct the clerk to invite the assessors of the cities, villages and townships to attend the meeting at 10:30 a.m. Voted and carried.

Supervisor Andrews then reported on a joint meeting held by committee members of the three counties; Ingham, Clinton and Eaton counties. He presented the following joint resolution:

JOINT RESOLUTION
BE IT RESOLVED that the Clinton County Board of Supervisors under the terms and provisions of Act 281, P.A. 1945, as amended, hereby joins with Ingham and Eaton counties in reorganizing the structure of the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission as follows:

1. The Commission shall be composed of two supervisors from each county and one member who is not an elected official from each county.
2. The term of office for supervisor members shall be for their elected term of office; the first appointment for the non-elected member shall be for one year and thereafter for a two-year term.
3. The chairman of each of the three boards of supervisors shall be an ex-officio member without vote.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this commission is charged with following closely Act 281, P.A. 1945, as amended, specifically Sections 5 and 6 as follows:

5.3008(5) COMMISSION TO ELECT CHAIRMAN, CREATE AND FILL OTHER OFFICES, ESTABLISH RULES OF PROCEDURE, KEEP RECORDS, Sec. 5. Each regional planning commission shall elect its own chairman and establish its own rules of procedure, and may create and fill such other offices as it may determine necessary. It shall keep a record of its resolutions, transactions, findings and determinations, which records shall be a public record.

5.3008(6) COMMISSION EMPOWERED TO APPOINT DIRECTOR, EMPLOYEES, EXPERTS, AND CONSULTANTS. Sec. 6. The regional planning commission may appoint a director and such employees as it may deem necessary for its work and may hire such experts and consultants for part time and full time service as may be necessary for the prosecution of its responsibilities.

This resolution supersedes and voids all prior resolutions of this Board regarding the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission structure and the creation and establishment of the commission.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this resolution shall become effective May 1, 1969

COMMITTEE REPORT

RESOLVED, that this county's representatives upon the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission be, and are, hereby instructed to do all in their power to have said commission immediately engage the commission's auditors, Harris, Reames & Ambrose, to perform a professional audit and analysis of the commission's financial position and operations as soon as possible, and to report in writing thereon to the commission and this Board, including, but not limited to:

1. The financial position of the commission, and its several projects, contracts, funds and accounts as of the date of adoption of this resolution.
2. The amount of money available and firmly anticipated future income which may properly be used to pay present obligations;
3. The amount of money, if any, needed from outside sources to place the commission on a sound financial basis;
4. Specific recommendations for such changes in the commission's financial and accounting procedures as will prevent the recurrence of deficits and such other financial problems as may be found;
5. Specific recommendations for a uniform periodic reporting system which will clearly and intelligibly advise the Commission and this Board of all relevant facts regarding the commission's financial position and operation at least once each calendar quarter;
6. A recommendation as to whether or not it is desirable and possible for the commission and the County to have the same fiscal year.

RESOLVED FURTHER, that nothing in this resolution is intended to, or shall, operate to make the county legally liable for the payment of any obligations of the commission.

RESOLVED FURTHER, that the clerk immediately forward a copy of this resolution to the boards of supervisors of Eaton and Ingham counties, with the respectful request of this Board that they take the same action.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

It was moved by Supervisor Montgomery, supported by Supervisor Hufnagel to concur with the committee recommendations and adopt the resolution as presented. On a roll call vote those voting aye were all members of the Board. There were no nay votes. Motion declared carried, unanimously.

Duplain Methodist set for homecoming

The Duplain Methodist Church, believed to be Clinton County's oldest Protestant Church (132 years), will observe a homecoming on June 29.

Former members are invited to the morning worship at 11 a.m. and the potluck dinner at 12:30 p.m.

The Duplain Church was organized in November 1837, by the Revs Washington Jackson and Isaac Bennett.

MISS HOLLY DAVIS

Holly Davis awarded WMU grant

Holly Davis, daughter of Mr and Mrs Roy Davis of 5605 N. US-27, has been awarded a full-expense grant to a Counseling and Guidance Institute at Western Michigan University next year.

The grant, awarded under the National Educational Professions Development Act, is for experienced teachers.

She will attend the intensive study institute at WMU between September and next June and upon completing work will have earned her master of arts degree in guidance and counseling.

She is working this summer at the St. Johns swimming pool.

church indicates that the circuit covered 300 miles, so there could be preaching only once every four weeks.

The earliest record of the Duplain Church is contained in a small, green, leather-bound ledger entitled "Church Records For Mapleton Circuit."

From 1840-1848, there were 14 organized classes, and these were members of the Mapleton Circuit and consisted of 11 classes.

IN 1860 IT WAS agreed that the circuit be divided and that the St. Johns appointment be made a half-station.

The present building was built in 1855. In 1913 the old building was raised and a basement built.

Open house to honor Rev and Mrs Churchill

The Congregational Church of St. Johns will sponsor an open house Thursday evening, June 19 from 7 to 10 p.m.

After being in the St. Johns parish for five years the Churchills will return to Anchorage, Alaska, on August 1.

The Church of the Northern Light at Anchorage was founded by Rev Churchill, and prior to that time he served the Congregational Church in Redlands, Calif.

Announcements

The "Maple Twirlers Western Style Square Dance Club" will host a "black cat reunion" at the Municipal Building in St. Johns on Friday evening, June 13.

Olive Grange No. 358 will hold its next meeting at the grange hall on June 13.

Good judgment is founded on the true value of things—not on individual opinions of them.

In 1968 more remodeling was done. Paneling was installed on the front wall of the sanctuary and in one classroom, and the church was painted inside and out.

Today the church has a membership of 47, and the Women's Society of Christian Service has a membership of 20.

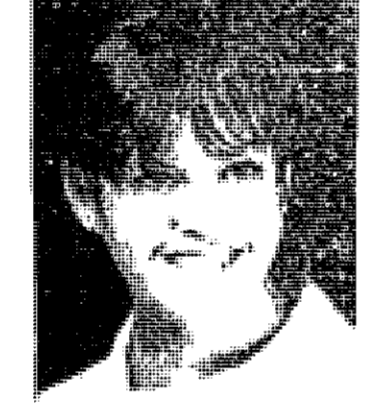

MARY SCHAFFER

NANCY CROSS

Engaged

Mr and Mrs Robert Cross of 7749 Island Road, Elsie, announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Jo Cross to Barry James Mead, son of Mr and Mrs Harold Mead of 220 West Front Street, Ovid.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Ovid-Elsie High School with the class of 1969 and the prospective groom is a 1965 graduate of Ovid High School.

An Oct. 4 wedding is planned by the couple.

Altar Society elects Mrs Pung

The St. Joseph Altar Society held their final meeting of the year on June 11, with new officers being installed.

Mrs Louis Eisler installed the following new officers: Mrs Mark Pung, president; Mrs Bernard Feldpausch, treasurer; Mrs Robert Zuker, vice-president; Mrs Robert Purtil, secretary; and Mrs Francis Pline, recording secretary.

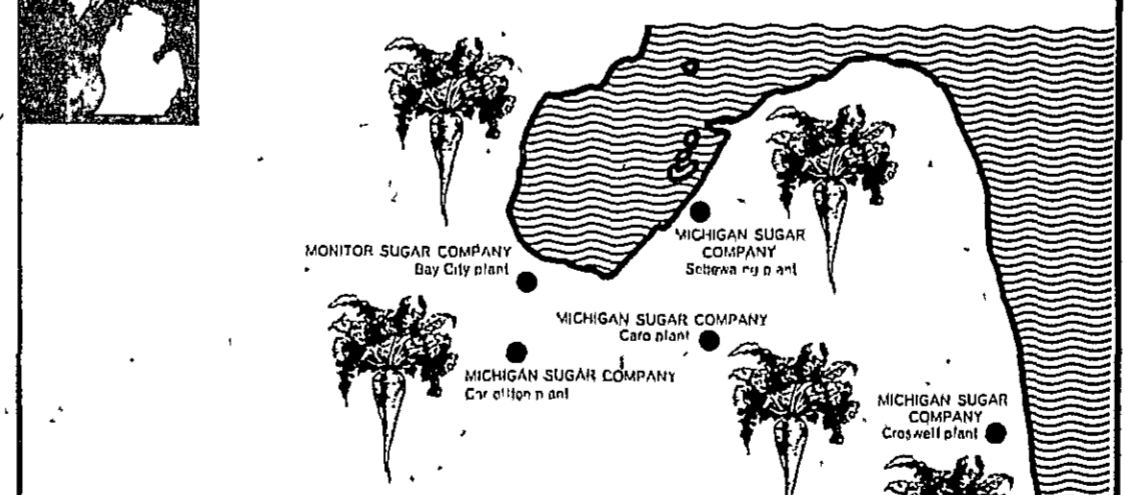

Mrs George French, outgoing president, held the business meeting and thanked all the ladies of the parish for their fine cooperation during the past year. She presented her officers with a gift of appreciation.

Retiring guild presidents introduced their new presidents for the coming year and gave a summary of their guilds activities.

The Altar Society spiritual director, Rev William G. Hankerd, was the guest speaker for the evening and a lunch was served by St. Cecilia's Guild.

BEEF SUGAR INDUSTRY OF MICHIGAN

AGRI-BUSINESS IN ACTION...

Sugarbeet growers in Michigan's Saginaw Valley have played a vital role in the agri-business economy of our state since the turn of the century.

If you live in the Saginaw Valley-Thumb area of Michigan, you no doubt know someone that helps fill Michigan's "sugar bowl" each year.

Sealed Power subsidiary plans Alma plant

Gordon E. Reynolds, president of Sealed Power Corp., announced today that its wholly-owned subsidiary, Consolidated Die Cast Corp., of Dowagiac, Michigan, would build a new facility devoted to the die casting of automotive parts in Alma.

Reynolds stated that Consolidated Die Cast Corporation had purchased eight acres of land in the Alma Industrial Park from the Alma Industrial Development Corp., as a site for the new plant. The plant will contain about 20,000 square feet of space, and when completed will represent an investment of approximately $1,000,000 in building and equipment. Initial employment in the Alma plant is expected to be about 50 people. Building completion is scheduled for Sept. 1, 1969, and production should begin Dec. 1, Reynolds said.

Consolidated Die Cast Corp. supplies a variety of functional die cast parts to the automotive and appliance markets. Consolidated announced a 30,000 square foot addition to their Dowagiac plant in March, representing an additional investment of $500,000. The Dowagiac plant employs approximately 400 people at the present time.

The parent company, Sealed Power Corp., is a leading manufacturer of engine parts with its corporate office and main plant located in Muskegon. It has branch plants in St. Johns and in Rochester and LaGrange, Ind.; Stratford, Ont.; Mexico City and Monterrey, Mexico.

Open Letter from VAN W. HOAG

Dear friends;

The American flag, which is such an impressive part of a military funeral, is supplied without cost by the U.S. government.

After the funeral ceremony, the flag is awarded to the next of kin. Your funeral director performs the duty of coordinating all aspects of a military funeral.

For the 11 straight year, Osgood Funeral Home in St. Johns has been selected for membership in the Order of the Golden Rule. The branch home in Ovid has also been accepted as a member for the first year.

The order is a non-profit, world-wide organization which investigates funeral directing firms and accepts those which are found to be worthy.

Membership is not automatically renewable, for a firm is re-evaluated each year to assure that it continues to merit the public trust.

In officially notifying the Osgood firm of its reacceptance, a spokesman for the order said: "It was the founding aim of our organization to seek out in every town and city one firm which could be relied upon for modern facilities, capable assistance, and prices within the reach of any family. Your organization has again proved that you meet every qualification, and it is therefore with tremendous pride that we continue our association for another year."

Sincerely,

Van W. Hoag

E. J. SCHMITT

Schmitt elected St. Johns K-C grand knight

E. J. (Ed) Schmitt has been elected grand knight of St. Johns Council 3281, Knights of Columbus.

He was named to the top post in the council June 3 at the council's annual election meeting. Other officers named included: Robert Purhill, deputy grand knight; Jim Moore, chancellor; John Babbitt, recording secretary; Paul Pung, treasurer; William Fox, warden; and Robert Langlois and Julius Thelen, guards.

The new officers will serve during the 1969-70 year, which Schmitt says will be an active year for the council. One of the highlights will again be the second annual festival, scheduled for early this fall. Preparations are being made for the event now, and it is hoped a pony pulling contest will be one of the many activities at the festival.

Mrs Bancroft hosts 8 et 40

The 8 et 40 met at the home of Elsie Bancroft on May 27th with Alice Brooke as co-hostess.

During the business meeting it was decided to send $15 to the Denver Cystic Fibrosis Hospital. This makes a total of $30 for the year. The child welfare chairman gave a report of birthday gifts and cards sent to the children at the Denver hospital.

The next meeting will be held on June 24, and will be the annual dinner meeting.

U of M library seeks historical information

The William L. Clements Library at The University of Michigan has a problem which some people in the State of Michigan may be able to solve.

There are no established dealers in Michigan for the type of historical documents which the Clements Library seeks, Director Howard H. Peckham believes there may be some valuable material tucked away in attics or personal libraries.

If so, he'd like to hear about them and discuss terms for the purchase of any of the material that would fit the library's specialized needs.

The library, established in 1923 as a gift from William L. Clements of Bay City, is interested in American history prior to 1860. What Peckham would like to acquire would be collections of letters (these are more valuable than single ones) or diaries dealing with the westward migration, crops, prosperity or hard times, Indians, the War of 1812 or the Mexican War, anti-slavery and other reform movements, lumbéring, new settlements and similar historical events. He emphasizes that the documents need not deal with just Michigan events or activities.

Persons interested in selling such historical documents should write to Howard H. Peckham, director, Clements Library, The University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich. 48104.

Bannister

Mrs Robert Valentine Phone 862-4342

The Bannister U.M.Y.F. group attended a Friday the 13th party, at the North Star United Methodist Church. Entrance was made by walking under a ladder. Games were played, records listened to and a film shown.

The annual "Campout" for the young people of the Bannister United Methodist Church was held this past weekend. Thirty young people and counselors set up camp on the banks of the Maple River Saturday afternoon. Sunday morning, a sunrise worship service was held at the camp site. A potluck dinner was held, with parents joining the campers. Counselors attending with the group were Mrs Ray Peck, Marcella Peck, Mrs Robert Valentine and Don Hinkley.

Vacation Bible School is underway at the Bannister United Methodist Church. Classes are available for 4 year olds thru the 8th grade. Teachers are Pat Dunay, Erna Santrucek, Mrs Raymond Stewart, Mrs Wayne Walters, Lori Miller, Debbie Hinkley, Mrs Mildred Bradley, Mrs King Terrell, Mrs Robert Valentine, Vicki Valentine, Mrs Walter Miller, and Diane Porubsky. Mrs John Schlarf and Mrs Ray Peck are the directors.

There will be a bake sale at Ferris Hardware on Saturday, June 21 from noon until 2 p.m. This is sponsored by the Bannister Babe Ruth Baseball League and proceeds will be used for equipment.

During 1968, colleges and universities participating in the ROTC program produced over 17,000 new second lieutenants for the Army.

Morrice man top kegler in 12th singles tourney

A Morrice man topped a field of 1,195 bowlers to walk off with first place, a trophy and $1,200 in cash from the 12th annual Singles Bowling Classic completed recently at Redwing Lanes in St. Johns.

George Talbot tallied a 724 handicap total to outdistance other keglers in the men's division and the effort qualified him for the cash and tournament trophy. Talbot scored an acual count of 695 pins.

The tournament, which had been underway for two months and ended May 31, listed 1,195 bowlers with prize money in excess of $7,000. In addition to Talbot's winnings, a total of 200 persons shared in cash awards.

Other winners were: Handicap division - Leslie Ross, Lansing, second, $600; Dean Taylor, Blanchard, third, $400; Russell Smith, Lansing, fourth, $200.

High actual winners - Wayne Barnes, Ashley, first, $200; Ben Kozlowski, Grand Rapids and Marty Austin (tie) second and third, $87.50; Pat Allen, Okemos, fourth, $50.

Highest scorer from St. Johns was Keith Shafley who rolled a 682 series and finished a prize of $60. Shafley finished twenty-third in tournament competition.

To qualify for prize money a handicap score of at least 630 was required.

PICNIC SET FOR JUNE 17
The president, Mrs Robert Mulder, opened the meeting of the Middlebury Women's Society of Christian Service and Mrs Lawrence Warren was at the piano when the group sang the hymn, "Like a Shepherd Lead Us".

Various reports were given and attention was directed to the change of date for the June picnic, it will be held Tuesday, June 17, directly following the dismissal of Vacation Bible School with a dinner at the Ovid Park, weather permitting. Mrs Donald Warren and Mrs A.B. Church will have charge of games.

Mrs Clarence Semans presented the program, entitled "What is a Missionary, Who is a Missionary" by E. Louise Campbell that concerned her life and the varied forms of missionary opportunities and service while she lived Jabalpur, India.

Officer installation was conducted by Rev Beatrice Townsend and the impressive service was opened with the "Purpose" read in unison, closing with the "Lord's Prayer" and the hymn, "Take My Life and Let It Be".

Dismissal prayer was given by Mrs Blanche Potter and preceded the serving of refreshments by the hostesses, Mrs Earl Tubbs, Mrs Charles Warren and Mrs Semans.

Mr and Mrs C.H. Green and Mr and Mrs Lawrence Warren were hosts to the Burton-Carlund Farm Bureau Group at the Middlebury Church, Thursday evening, June 12.

Mr and Mrs Charles Warren visited Mr and Mrs E.L. Rives and family of Schenectady, N.Y. and attended the Dotson-Rives wedding at Unionville, Conn., on June 14. The bridegroom, Ron Rives is a recent graduate of Yale University.

Mr and Mrs George Warren attended Michigan State University's School of Nursing Convocation Sunday, June 8, and saw the presentation of pins and ribbons to the 66 graduating seniors. Julie Warren was among those receiving their baccalaureate degree in Nursing at commencement ceremonies following the convocation of nurses.

Rhonda Schaar wins Powder Puff race

Steve Riley winner of 7th annual Derby race

The city of St. Johns was bulging at the seams Sunday when an estimated total of 6,000 persons crammed along Clinton Avenue to witness the seventh annual running of the Soap Box Derby. Fair but cool weather marked the day but the program of events, which began at 4:30 p.m., included sufficient activity to keep the entire crowd warm with attention.

Steve Riley, listed thirtieth among the 76 racers, sped to first place in the contest with Joseph Fernholz and Gilbert Weber finishing second and third respectively.

In preliminary activities, Rhonda Schaar captured top spot in the Powder Puff Race and Daniel Pline slid to victory in the oil can race in the sleekness of a Saylor-Beal car.

Other honors went to Earl Flegler, Jr. for the best constructed car and to Robert Slason for the most uniquely designed car.

The oil can race is competition reserved for past derby winners.

Aside from the race itself a total of 38 units participated in a pre-race parade and official crowning of Karen Schafer as derby Queen was conducted by Mrs Roger Hammontree.

For his first place prizes, Steve Riley will receive a $500 savings bond and a trip to Akron, Ohio where he will compete in national runoffs.

Joseph Fernholz received a portable television set for his second place effort and third spot winner Gilbert Weber was awarded a Polaroid camera.

Fourth through 15th place winners and their prizes:

Ken Droste, wrist watch; Ralph Wigen, sting-ray bicycle; Duane Schafer, wrist watch; Dave Cole, portable radio; Paul Wood, instamatic movie camera; Bruce Kieffer, Swinger Polaroid camera; Randy Sontler, rod and reel set; Douglas Roof, instamatic camera; Eric Rehmann, baseball glove; Mike Droste, transistor radio; Marc Hufnagel, basketball and Rick Pifer, football.

Bernard Feldpausch of Bee's Chevrolet-Oldsmobile, extends congratulations to Rhonda Schaar winner of the Soap Box Derby Powder Puff race. Along with the St. Johns Jaycees, General Motors is one of the principal sponsors of the Derby.

Earl's quite proud

If Earl Haas looks proud these days, he's got reason to be. Three members of his family are receiving master's degrees this month after years of study. He's quite proud.

First of all, there's his wife, Norma. She's getting her master of arts degree in English at Michigan State University at the June commencement.

Son Brian, 22, got his MA from Michigan State. It's in the field of finance. He'll leave shortly for Pittsburg, Pa., to work for Westinghouse Corp.

And son Richard, 31, who's been teaching at the Coast Guard Academy, will get his master of science degree in industrial engineering from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute at Troy, N. Y. He'll be moving to a new position at Elizabethtown, N. C.

Another son, Terry, 32, earned his doctorate degree six years ago from Massachusetts Institute of Technology and is now on a sabbatical leave from Tufts University (Mass.) for research and post-doctoral at the University of Edmonton at Edmonton, Alberta, Canada.

And you wonder why Earl is proud?

4-H Club Chatter

By JOHN AYLWORTH
Extension 4-H Youth Agent

The 4-H members interested in entomology projects are invited to attend an entomology training meeting on Tuesday, June 24, at Smith Hall in St. Johns from 7:00-10:00 p.m. The members will have the opportunity to try their experience in plastic embedment, learn new methods of teaching entomology, see and hear demonstrations on mounting and labeling of insects, scientific illustrations, insect identification contest, larva rearing projects as well as learning about the Woldumar Entomology Training July 28-August 1 at Lansing.

The Willing Workers 4-H members learned about freezing and canning of food from Bonnie and Roseanne Rossow who attended the county meeting on food preservation. The leaders told the members about the county 4-H Conservation Fun Day Wednesday, June 18, at the Fowler Conservation Park starting at 9:30 a.m. and will finish about 3:00 p.m. Members are to take a sack lunch. The club will have an entry in the litter barrel contest at the fair.

The Clinton County 4-H Fair Book is now completed and available for club leaders to pick up at the Extension Office. Enough copies have been mimeographed so that every family will have a copy. Entry slips have been mailed to each club organizational leader. All fair entry slips must be turned in by July 23 to the Extension Office. Each member is reminded to check with his leader to see if entries were made for both winter and summer club projects.

Clinton County 4-H Camp will be held June 23-27 at the Barry County Camp by Hastings. Reservations received so far have not filled the camp, so we will now open it up to any youth 10-13 years of age whether in 4-H or not. Anyone interested in attending should contact the Extension Office in St. Johns - 224-3288.

The 4-H softball league got underway this past week with eight games completed. In the green league, Prairie won over Kountry Cousins, Victor over French's Tigers and Oliver 4-H Projects played a game with Charlie's Gang which will be replayed in July. In the White League Bengal won over Olive 4-H Boys, Olive 4-H Girls over Victor Girls, Charlie's Gang over Prairie, Victor Boys over Green Clover Community Club and Kountry Cousins over Jolly Green Giants.

The Four Corners 4-H members will enter a litter barrel in the fair contest this summer. The food girls met Monday, June 9, at Gene's IGA Store in Elsie for a food marketing tour. The club will hold a party on July 7 at Pokorny's. Helen Blakely gave a health report and Terry Bancroft gave a safety talk. The club will make name tags for the leaders and teen leaders. A telephone tree was planned.

The Handy Andy's 4-H members learned about the responsibilities of the various officers, discussed their projects and their summer activities. The members planned their next meeting for June 19.

The 4-H delegates from Clinton county attending the National 4-H Citizenship Short Course in Washington June 28 - July 5 attended an orientation meeting Monday evening at Ithaca. These delegates are Kathy Davis, Debbie Locher, Mariena Gorman and Sue Sibley of DeWitt, Dortha Beauchau of Eagle and Ann Arens of Fowler.

Clinton's hopes dimmed for clinic

Clinton County's hopes for the establishment of a satellite mental health clinic by next September received a set-back last week during a meeting of the Community Mental Health Board. The board, which serves Ingham, Clinton and Eaton counties, heard Oscar Wade predict little likelihood for the beginning of such a facility in Clinton County before January 1970.

Wade presided over the meeting in the absence of Chairman Robert N. Runyon. Principal reason for the apparent delay is finances and board member Robert Bancroft said that if money were available the clinic could be considered in the board's 1970-71 budget.

A proposal by Richard Lord, board finance officer, called for an alternate solution which would utilize members of the existing staff of St. Lawrence Mental Health Center. Under Lord's proposal the facility would assign members of its staff to work in St. Johns on a regular basis until money for a permanent clinic was available.

It was pointed out by the finance officer that Clinton County had appropriated less money than Eaton County but no specific figures were offered. Lord did explain that funds from Clinton County had been used "in delivering outpatient services and school services."

Judge Corkin asks for courtroom changes Sue Sibley installed as honored queen at DeWitt

Cost of the furnishings were given at $1,059.79. After a short discussion the board passed the request unanimously.

Judge Leo Corkin appeared before the board to explain a request for partitions in the circuit courtroom. A plan, originally made some time ago, was submitted to the board. Corkin explained that most courtrooms today are much smaller in size and that in five years on the bench he had never seen the room filled to capacity. If the extra space were divided into two offices and a library, lawyers and clients would be provided with a more private area for conference purposes and it would make needed space available for the Friend of the Court and the probation department.

Judge Corkin suggested August being the slowest month for court cases this would be the ideal time for the remodeling to be done. The new partitions would be created in the same decorating theme and the estimated cost would be $15,782.

During the afternoon board members visited the circuit court and then passed the request by an unanimous vote. The buildings and grounds committee was authorized to get specifications from the architects, and advertise for bids.

The board then reappointed John Ames and Gerald Shepard to succeed themselves for four year terms on the zoning commission.

Supervisors also defined the role of the newly formed planning commission. Its duty will be to develop a comprehensive plan for orderly future development for Clinton County; to cooperate with other units of government; and to inform the zoning commission of plans and planned changes. Supervisors said the planning commission should not become involved directly in zoning matters, but serve as a planning agency for the county. Supervisor Nobis felt this would only be a duplication of effort on the part of the two commissions and was unnecessary.

Supervisors adopted by laws for the Clinton County Planning commission and appointed as ex-officio members a drain commissioner, a chairman of the board of supervisors, and road and zoning commission chairmen.

The supervisors voiced their approval of George Cox, 56, of DeWitt as assistant zoning administrator for Clinton County. He will be working with William Coffey at a salary of $7,200 per year effective July 18.

An air-conditioning unit for the welfare office was tabled until the next meeting scheduled for July 14.

All 11 district supervisors were present for the meeting.

8TH GRADE GRADUATION AT ST. JOSEPH

The graduation class of St. Joseph Catholic School was honored at a reception in the school gymnasium on Wednesday evening, June 11. The reception was sponsored by the Home School Council and hosts were the 7th grade parents. Picture taking, fresh flower corsages and new neckties on the students who proudly carried their diplomas created an atmosphere of gaiety for the parents and teachers as well as the graduates.

Miss Sue Sibley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sibley of 1240 W. Cutler Road, DeWitt, was installed as honored queen of DeWitt Bethel No. 46, International Order of Job's Daughters, in a public ceremony at the DeWitt Masonic Temple at 7:30 p.m. Saturday evening, June 7.

Out going queen Suzanne Phillips was the installing officer, assisted by Karen Holliday, guide; Shirley Steinhardt, marshal; Martha Jean Locher, chaplain; Nancy Kiebler, recorder; Sandra Rummell, junior custodian; Linda White, senior custodian; Wilma Reed, musician; and Tom Fowler, soloist.

Sue's sister, Carol Tatroe read the Twenty-Third Psalm as the following officers signed the record book which was attended by Sharon Smith; Debbie Locher, senior princess; Debbie Ohm, junior princess; Marlene Taylor, guide; Pat Sees, marshal; Stephanie Lewis, first messenger; Cheryl Smith, second messenger; Linda White, third messenger; Suzanne Phillips, fourth messenger; Louann Tignor, fifth messenger; Marie Harold, chaplain; Diane Tolson, treasurer; Debbie Taylor, musician; Brenda Pitts, librarian; Myrna Harold, recorder; Connie Thayer, senior custodian; Kathy Ferguson, junior custodian; Karen Deatur, inner guard; and Linda Tignor, outer guard. Choir members installed were Gina Every, Diane Sibley, Martha Jean Locher, and Kay Weston.

P-W junior high enrollment up

The transfer of 128 seventh and eighth graders from St. Mary's Catholic School to the public school system has brought about some problems for the Pewamo-Westphalia school board and members are currently studying plans to build an addition to the present high school.

The influx of students from the parochial school boosts the public school junior high enrollment from approximately 25 to 150.

According to Superintendent William Steinke, a stop-gap measure of renting classroom space from the parochial school has been proposed which calls for the public schools to lease five rooms for the 1969-70 school year.

The rental plan will involve a schedule of bussing students to the high school for gym classes and lunch periods.

Steinke explained that a special meeting of the board members will be held within the next two weeks to consider the addition and its presentation to the voters before fall. He pointed out that enlarging the present high school under the considered plan would not duplicate gym, cafeteria, home economics, shop and band facilities.

The superintendent also explained that some thought is being given to asking voter approval of an addition to the elementary school at Pewamo.

Bath Church has centennial

On Saturday, June 7, the Bath United Methodist Church held a fellowship hour from 6 to 7 p.m. in the church sanctuary. Pictures and articles were on display relating to the past history of the church. The exhibit was under the direction of Mrs. Abbot Nelson. A dinner was then held in the Fellowship Hall by the Women's Society of Christian Service and the United Methodist Men. Three former ministers and their families attended; they were Rev. and Mrs. A. F. Nieman of Harrison, Rev. and Mrs. Reginald Becker of Battle Creek, and Rev. Gerald Salsbury and daughter Mary Ann of Mulliken.

Each of the former ministers greeted friends and participated in the services. Other guests were present from the surrounding Michigan area and Austin, Tex. Dr. and Mrs. Harold Jaynes, district superintendent, were also guests.

The invocation and introductions were given by Dr. Hayne, and "Tales of the Past" was led by Mrs. Roscoe Wittchell. Rev. Phillip Glotfelty Jr. gave the benediction.

On Sunday morning a period of communication was held for the morning service, conducted by Rev. Alma Glotfelty, pastor of the church.

4th of July celebration being whipped into shape

The annual Fourth of July celebration in St. Johns is only two weeks off, and by the sound of the firemen's periodic aerial bomb blasts over the downtown area, everything is about ready for the observance.

The St. Johns Fire Department, St. Johns Jaycees and St. Johns Rotary Club are sponsoring the four-day celebration again this year, and a wide variety of activities and attractions will be offered. The Crown Amusement Co. carnival will be in town June 30 for set-up and may be open for business on Tuesday, July 1, although the formal celebration won't start until Wednesday, July 2.

That first day will be Kids Day from 1 to 6 p.m., with reduced prices in effect for children on all rides. The fire department will offer fire truck rides, and a boys and girl's bicycle will be given away at 6 p.m. There'll be games for the children during the afternoon.

July 3 has no special activity, but the carnival will be open all day and rides in full swing. At 1 p.m. July 4, the Mid-Michigan Pony Pullers Assn. will hold a big pony pulling contest on the 4-H fairgrounds near the park in what sounds like an event that will pull lots of entries from all over the central part of the state.

The big 4th of July fireworks show, which the firemen will put on, is scheduled for 10 p.m. at the city park. More money than ever before has been budgeted for fireworks this year.

THE JULY 5 PROGRAM, on the final day, is light in organized events, but the carnival will be in full swing all day. During the evening, a steer will be given away, with proceeds from the sale of tickets on the steer going to pay for the fireworks.

In addition to the midway stands provided by the Crown Amusement Co., there will be local games—a dunking booth, kiddie fish pond, game of skill and a concession stand.

Free health dept. clinics scheduled

The summer fluoride clinics will continue through today (June 18) at Fowler and then be held in DeWitt from June 20 to July 8. The clinic at Ovid is scheduled for July 10 to July 23 and in St. Johns from July 25 to Aug. 21. A total of 850 children were expected to receive the treatments against tooth decay. All clinics were filled in advance. For those not able to attend

Meet Rotary president

J. D. Robinson a busy man

When aman becomes president of the Rotary Club, serves as postmaster, and has a variety of hobbies and other organizations to serve, he is what one might call a "busy man."

J. D. Robinson has been a member of the Rotary Clubs since 1952 and served as vice-president last year and is president this year. The club was organized originally in 1926 and the members meet every Tuesday noon at Walker's Cafe. They have a present membership of 49.

Theme of the international organization is "Club, Community, Vocational and International Service." Twice a year the men honor their wives at special dinners and the local group has been especially helpful to the youth of Clinton County. They also aid crippled children, send students abroad to further their college education, and annually sponsor a "Youth Talent Show" where students enter projects in science, arts, and crafts.

This year they will help sponsor the 4th of July celebration at the city park and they recently served on the city street clean-up.

To join the club one must be sponsored by a club member, and if his classification can be cleared, the last requirement is approval of the club members. The club requires 90 per cent attendance at all meetings.

Other officers of the club this year are: Bruce Fowler, vice-president; Dwane Wirick, secretary; and Ken Munger, treasurer. The board of directors includes: Fowler, Jim McKenzie, and Paul Nobis for one-year terms and Roy Briggs, Don White, Stanley Cowan and John Rumbaugh for two-year terms.

ROBINSON HAS BEEN employed at the post office for 28 years, beginning as sub-clerk and carrier. He has served as postmaster for the past 10 years. He lives at R-3, St. Johns, and his family includes his wife, Erma, one daughter, Jean Martin of St. Johns, two step-daughters, Sharon Huggett of Marlette, and Barbara Waggoner, a senior at the University of Michigan, and six grandchildren.

Camping is their favorite hobby and they belong to the "Starcraft Campers Club." Photography and stamp collecting are other interests, but Robinson has little time to pursue either in depth.

He has lived in Clinton County since he was 4 years old, is a veteran of the Air Force (serving during World War II), is a member of the American Legion and serves on the executive board of the United Methodist Church in St. Johns. He is also a member of the National League of Postmasters, the National Association of Postmasters and is presently serving as area director of the seventh district.

Local students 1-2 in industrial arts contest

Two industrial arts students at Rodney B. Wilson High School in St. Johns were awarded first and second place respectively in this year's Lansing Area Industrial Executive's Club's Industrial Arts Project Contest.

Singled out for the first place award and a check for $25 was Alan Harris, who entered a series project consisting of a powdered metal tie clip which was pressed out using several machined metal parts which he made.

James Dickmann received a second place award and a check for $10 for his gear-blank pen and pencil set. This project was cast in aluminum and then machined.

Ken Moore from the F. C. Mason Co. will make the presentation to the students as a representative of the Industrial Executive Club.

The boys' instructor was John Theuerkauf. Students from other area schools competed in the contest.

Robinson says the outstanding memories he has on his career at the office is the big fire they had in July 1962 that caused extensive damage throughout the building. The post office now has 27 employees, three supervisors, six rural carriers, five city carriers and one city auxiliary carrier. They serve 1,927 deliveries on the rural routes and make 2,735 daily stops in the city, for a total service to approximately 15,000 residents per day.

Another interesting item about Robinson is his name. J.D. is all there is to it and people are constantly telling him they want his complete name and not just his initials.

Elsie Jr. High lists honor roll

The Elsie Junior High honor roll for the second semester listed four students in the eighth grade with all "A" records and they included, Kim Babcock, Sandra Hashley, Douglas Keck and Jenny Williams. In the seventh grade six students received all "A" records including, Charles Green, Jeffrey Keck, Christine Ladiski, Debbie Ordway, Kirk Schultz, and Steve Szilagyi. Other with a "B" average or better included, Joanne Archer, Dolores Baese, Paul Barrett, Renee Bashore, Nancy Batora, Jan Blunt, Theresa Cermak, Janet Chapko, Karen Fett, Kathy Foreit, Timm Glowney, Cynthia Gregor, Charles Grieve, David Hines, Debra Holton, Daniel Hoshield, Chris Jenson, Pamela Jewell, Denise Kristin, Robert Lassen, Susan Latz, Stephanie McHargue, Kathleen Moore, Todd Moore, Robert Pattison, Arnold Porubsky, Robin Reha, Tom Rivest, Ann Roof, Lella Saxton, Ruth Sipka, Rick Skriba, Janet Strachota, Patricia Tesarik, Paul Thornton, Tom Tomasek, Dan Washburn and Debbie Webster.

Catastrophic 1967

NEW YORK—The year 1967 may have set a new quantitative record for catastrophic events in the United States, according to the Insurance Information Institute. Thirty-four storms, fires or riots left in their wake insured damage of more than a million dollars each. The total cost to insurance companies was about $325 million.

Driving tips for summer vacation

Hundreds of thousands of Michigan drivers are totally unprepared for the high-speed, long-distance highway trips they now are planning to take during the summer vacation period.

Secretary of State James M. Hare warned that "unless these motorists realize and accept their own physical and emotional limits and the mechanical limitations of their automobiles, many of them and their families could be headed for trouble instead of happiness as they begin their summer travel."

The basic problem, Hare said, is that most motorists tend to greatly overrate their personal driving ability and their physical stamina.

"The driver who for perhaps 50 weeks in a year confines himself to daily trips of a few miles to and from work and for shopping and for weekend outings of a few dozen miles is completely unprepared for expressway and turnpike speeds and hazards, and distances of several hundred miles in a day.

"Yet, these are the very motorists who try to squeeze three and four thousand miles into a two-week vacation, fixing daily timetables for themselves that often would make a professional truck driver think twice."

In urging prospective vacationers to also "think twice," Hare pointed out that recent studies at the University of Michigan have revealed that after about 250 miles of driving, the average motorist develops definite symptoms of drowsiness and other forms of fatigue. His reflexes begin to slow down. And if he continues to drive without rest, he may begin to suffer from hallucinations.

"Interstate highway and toll road driving is not as easy as it seems," Hare warned. "The monotony of the landscape and the steady, smooth high speed of the car exert an almost hypnotic effect on a motorist. It's all too easy to lapse into a false sense of security that can impair alertness and lead to tragedy."

"Fortunately, Hare said, most mechanical failure of cars on expressways, such as engine overheating or breakdowns, is not likely to cause an accident. But, he continued, "expressway speeds, plus the heat of the pavement, can bring about unexpected tire failure. Old, worn tires that might last many more months in ordinary city driving, can often go to pieces within one or two hours of expressway travel."

"The running and steering gear systems of cars also can break down with tragic results in expressway driving," Hare emphasized.

"Another problem is glare. Expressways have no shady areas to help ease the effect of a brilliant sun in a driver's eyes for several hours. A smudged or a dirty windshield increases this problem to a point of actual danger."

Night driving, the Secretary of State said, creates other peculiar hazards, particularly with cars ahead. From even a modest distance, a number of different car taillights can become very confusing. Before he realizes it, a driver can find himself barging into the rear of a car, either parked beside the highway or in his own lane.

"Despite the trouble often caused by an array of taillights ahead," Hare emphasized, "it is far safer to have all taillights working than to have one or more burned out."

Hare had this advice for motorists, especially those who are planning vacations:

1. Schedule daily trips of no more than 250 miles, if possible. If you must drive farther, take frequent rest breaks after the first 150 or 200 miles.
  2. When you start traveling expressways, build up speed gradually, getting the feel of this different kind of driving, before you begin running steadily at the posted speed limit.
  3. Have all tires checked thoroughly before starting your trip and take no chances on a doubtful tire. Also have all running gear and steering mechanism parts tested.
  4. Keep your windshield clear, and wear sunglasses during daylight driving.
  5. Maintain a periodic check on all lights.
  6. And, wear seat belts or shoulder harnesses.
- On the subject of seat belts and harnesses, Hare pointed out that these safety devices serve a two-fold purpose. "They not only reduce the chance of injury or death in a crash, they also help ease the fatigue of driving. A properly fastened belt or harness holds the body firmly into the seat in the most comfortable position. It prevents slumping and other attitudes that bring on fatigue."

Ovid Jr. High honor roll

The Ovid Junior High School honor roll, for the second semester listed 34 members in the 8th grade. They were all students who maintained a "B" or better average and included, Suzanne Applebee, Mike Baker, LuAnn Bancroft, Stephanie Bashore, Mark Chamberlain, Dennis Cox, Susan DePond, Dan Duffield, Linda Erfourth, Connie Everts, Marc Flegel, Jayveda Fortier, Donna Goodrich, Marylin Groom, Bobette Hubbard, Robin Jones, James Kelley, Tom Kirinovic, Debbie LeMarble, Rita Lyon, Bill Mack, Cathy McDermid, LuAnn Michutka, Bill Millard, Linda Morgan, Ron Riskey, Mary Rodriguez, Elaine Saxton, Judy Schwark, Russell Shively, Donna Wieber, Fred Wilson, Holly Wiser and David Witt.

Three students in the seventh grade received all "A" records; they were, Mary Bates, Randy Pollard and Robin Shively. A total of 36 students received a "B" or better average and they included, Dawn Applebee, Randy Bowles, David Brandal, Debbie Carpenter, Joan Carr, Kay Chamberlain, Dan Copellin, Michael Criner, Rosemary Darling, Dennis Delaney, Mike Duffield, Mary Dunay, Karen Francis, Joanne Gruesbeck, Sue Gruesbeck, Robert Hayton, Dwight Hunt, James Johnson, Richard Johnson, Greg Kellogg, Robert Lawrence, David Mack, Devona Marriage, Chris Miller, Debra Miller, Grant Palen, Maurine Purves, James Rees, Rex Ruehle, Karen Sinicropi, Barbara Sovis, Valjene Waydak and Cindy Young.

Army Pvt WILLIAM E. BALLARD is assigned to Company E, 15th Battalion, 4th Brigade, in the United States Army Training Center, Armor (USATCA), at Ft. Knox, Ky. He will spend the next two months learning the fundamental skills of the soldier in today's modern, action Army.

Following the completion of basic training, Pvt Ballard, who is the son of Mr and Mrs Robert E. Ballard of 409 Wilson Street, DeWitt, will receive at least an additional eight weeks of either advanced instruction or on-the-job training to qualify him in a specialized military skill.

DANIEL H. KETCHUM, son of Mr and Mrs Norman Ketchum of R-4, St. Johns, was seriously injured in an automobile accident on May 24. The accident occurred on Watson Road in Elsie and Ketchum will be hospitalized for approximately one year as a result of injuries he sustained. His new mailing address is: Pfc Daniel H. Ketchum, RA 68078252 Room 516, Bed 3, Erwin Army Hospital, Fort Riley, Kan. 66442.

Army S/4 WILLIAM L. BURNHAM JR., 18, son of Mr and Mrs Elton B. Burnham of R-1, McCrumb Road, Eagle, was assigned May 16 to the 597th Transportation Company in Viet Nam, as a heavy-truck driver.

Staff Sgt. Robert L. McNeal is a new Marine Corps recruiter in Lansing. A Marine since June 1955, the sergeant served with Marine Fighter Attack Squadron 323, Marine Aircraft Group 13, in Viet Nam.

S/SGT. ROBERT McNEAL

OVID—The centennial village of Ovid is going to start out the second hundred years with a new sewer system. Residents will soon be getting a listing of sewer hook-up regulations, now that work is going along smoothly on the system itself.

It will cost $27.50 to hook into the sewer; that's the fee for a permit available from the village clerk. In addition, there'll be the cost for the private contractor to install sewer service from the homes to the sewers. The clerk has a list of approved sewer contractors who are certified to install sewers in Ovid. According to the hook-up schedule, the village engineer will arrive at homes just ahead of street construction work beginning in each block. He'll ask residents where they want their sewers to connect to the street main. (Those who haven't given it any thought yet are urged to contact their plumber to figure out the route so they'll know when the time comes.)

The sewer contractor will run the sewer from the center of the street to within six feet of the resident's property. From that point, into the house, it's the resident's responsibility.

OTHER RULES concerning the sewer hook-up includes:

*Pipe from street to house must be six-inch premium joint sewer tile.

*All house and business places must apply and hook up to the sewer system within 60 days of completion of the system or pay a $125 charge.

*New rates for sewer and water here will be: $2 per month for 2,000 gallons of water plus $5 per month for sewer, with $7 per month minimum fee.

For amounts over 2,000 gallons per month, the rate will increase per 1,000 gallons on a decreasing rate basis dependent on use.

Non-village water users will pay a $7.50 per month flat rate for sewer alone.

*All waste water must go into the sewer system except from roof and foundation drains, or surface water, which will not be allowed to flow into the sewer.

*All septic tanks and catch basins will have to be pumped out and filled with dirt after owners are hooked to the sewer

THE NEW HOOVER CONVERTIBLE UPRIGHT

If all carpet was the same height, you wouldn't need this lever.

A good vacuum cleaner should have its ups and downs. A very good vacuum cleaner is the Hoover Convertible. For cleaning shag carpet, it lets you put the front up high. So it doesn't feel like you're pushing a ton. For indoor-outdoor carpet, it lets you put the front down low, so the cleaning brushes don't just beat thin air. Only Hoover gives you four height settings at the touch of a lever. That makes the world's favorite vacuum cleaner the most well-adjusted, too.

He loves her . . . he loves her not . . .
he loves her . . . or does he? If only daisy petals could give the answer!

Then there's that more introspective question: Does she really love him . . .
or does she not?

And that ultimate question—still a long way off—but getting closer every day: Can theirs be a happy, lasting marriage?

Is romance a colossal gamble—or are there basic elements which are predictable?

Millions of Christian parents are staking their children's future on the latter view. They believe that religious education in the Church and religious atmosphere in the home can foster moral and spiritual maturity. They believe that character as well as love is essential to marriage . . . a home . . . a family.

And they want their sons and daughters to meet others who are being brought up the same way!

Brown mails poll Dairy farms must to constituents meet well standards

U. S. Congressman Garry Brown (R-Michigan) has announced that his third annual legislative questionnaire has gone into the mails.

Public opinion survey forms are on the way to some 140,000 Barry, Calhoun, Eaton, Clinton and Kalamazoo County homes, which comprise the Third Congressional District.

The questionnaire this year touches on such vital issues as the 18-year-old vote, Safeguard Anti-Ballistic Missile System, welfare, the nation's economy, electoral reforms, international trade, Viet Nam, campus disorders and proposed social security amendments.

A new feature of this questionnaire is that the poll will be tabulated by a computer system in order to expedite the results to the constituents as rapidly as possible.

In releasing the questionnaire Brown said, "A survey of this nature does not permit me to submit to my constituents all the questions I would like to ask, but I have tried to select the issues... and answers... alternatives, which from my mail and legislative activity appear to be foremost in the minds of the citizens of the Third District."

Michigan Grade A dairy farm operators are being reminded this week that Nov. 1, 1969, is the completion date for the farm well improvement program.

The program to bring all such water systems up to standards was started in 1961, and almost 50 per cent are in compliance now. It is a legal requirement of the Grade A milk law of 1965. The Commission of Agriculture established Nov. 1, 1967, as the deadline to meet the compliance requirements; later a two-year extension was granted in 1967 by the Commission.

B. Dale Ball, director of the Department of Agriculture, emphasized that "no further extension is being considered."

Kenneth Van Patten, chief of the department's dairy division, said the program involves only Grade A dairy farms. Farms which sell only manufacturing milk do not have to meet the well construction requirements.

Van Patten explained that Michigan Grade A farms must meet standards if they are to compete economically with producers in neighboring states, such as Wisconsin, Ohio and Pennsylvania, since milk is shipped interstate.

Van Patten also pointed out that any Grade A dairy farmer who elects not to make changes in his well may sell his milk to a manufacturing market after Nov. 1.

"The program does not require construction of a new well, nor does it necessitate a four-inch casing as many people believe," Van Patten said. He urged Grade A dairy farmers to contact the area inspector of the dairy division, or the dairy plant fieldman, for additional information about the program.

New recreational areas available

In 1967 the United States Department of Agriculture provided grants to state and local entities for the acquisition of land for recreational purposes through a program known as Greenspan. Nicholas Smith, chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announces that there are 11 Greenspan Agreements in Michigan which provide approximately 1,000 acres for public use.

Smith further points out that these recreational uses include hunting, hiking, fishing, and camping as well as an historical village in Ithaca and an outdoor botanical garden at the Chelsea High School.

The outdoor recreational areas are lands acquired by Greenspan Grants to Michigan Department of Natural Resources and are located in Allegan, Arenac, Barry, Clinton, Livingston, Montcalm, and Sanilac counties.

In addition to monies for the acquisition of land, the Greenspan Grants provide for the development of natural resources such as shrubbery for wildlife, picnic areas and boat ramps where water provides access to the Great Lakes.

Anyone wishing to make use of these new areas may obtain additional information from their county ASCS office or the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

14-county mosquito hunt

A 14-county mosquito surveillance program has been set up in Michigan.

Each county has established a monitoring site in which mosquitoes will be trapped and identified, reports Dr. Michael Shinkle, Michigan State University extension specialist in entomology.

"Before we formulate our plan of attack," he says, "we need to know the strength and position of the enemy—the pesky mosquito." The surveillance program is conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service and Michigan State University's entomology department. It began May 1 in Ingham, Eaton, Clinton, Wayne, Macomb, Monroe, Jackson, Berrien, Muskegon, Grand Traverse, Dickinson, Baraga, Houghton and Keweenaw counties.

Linda Chapko in the freshman class received an all "A" record and 33 other students made the honor roll including, Ronald Applebee, Jan Beauchamp, Karen Brewbaker, Sandra Buchele, Sue Chamberlain, Linda Copelin, Garry Csapos, Larry Csapos, Debbie Dennis, Cathy Ensign, Bill Foran, Daniel Fruchey, John Glowney, Ardith Gruesbeck, Gerry Hittle, Richard Hood, Darlene Hoshield, Dennis Hunt, Joe Ladiski, Francie Marton, Ronald Mead, Gwyn Nethaway, John Patrick, Kathleen Saxton, Richard Saxton, Sherry Slocum, Brenda Smalec, Patty Sperl, Ronald Tomasek, Carolyn Woodard, Chris Wortman, David Wyrick and James Ziola.

TREE BLOWS OVER ON HOUSE

Areas in southern Gratiot County and south of St. Johns felt the effects of a strong windstorm late last Thursday evening and this was one of the results. Al personious of 6224 Taft Road, rural Ovid, lost three trees in his yard including this one which was uprooted and toppled against his home causing some damage to the roof.

4-H Club to sponsor leader workshop

The fourth annual flower arranging workshop for 4-H Club leaders will be held at Camp Kett, Tustin, Mich., on June 19, 20 and 21. The purpose of the three-day conference is to teach 4-H leaders how to make flower arrangements so that they may in turn teach their youth groups.

The five resource persons who will conduct the conference are trained and experienced judges and teachers. Lectures will be given on arrangements, plant materials, dried flowers and several other areas. The lectures will be followed by workshops in which the students will make arrangements with the help of the instructors.

On Friday night there will be a flower show, with all students participating. The exhibits will be judged and ribbons awarded, followed by a critique by a panel of judges.

4-H leaders are required to pay a small fee, but the major costs of housing, meals, etc., will be paid by the 4-H Foundation. Reservations must be made in advance through the county 4-H youth agent, John Aylsworth, at 1003 S. Oakland Street.

Train-riding mouse dies

Jim Shafley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Shafley of 310 E. Sturgis, has an electric train and used to have a little white mouse who loved to ride the train. But before a picture could be taken of the little critter, he caught a cold and died.

Pity the perfect man. He never makes any mistakes to profit from.

Hybrid spruce is developed

A new hybrid spruce has been developed at Michigan State University that combines the early growth characteristics of the white spruce with the ornamental qualities of the blue spruce.

The hybrid was developed from a new cross between blue spruce and white spruce, reports Dr. James Hanover, MSU forestry researcher.

The blue spruce is known for its ornamental qualities of form, appearance and drought resistance. Blue spruces are also used for Christmas trees and windbreaks but are slow growing in their juvenile stage (the first 10 years). The white spruce is primarily a timber tree, fast growing in both its early and late stages.

Dr. Hanover has grown some of the new hybrid spruces to a height of 24 inches in less than two years under greenhouse cover. This year he will produce enough seedlings for further testing and plantations.

The hybrid was produced from man-made crosses because white spruce and blue spruce do not grow together naturally due to their adaptation to different climates.

Two members added to health department staff

According to a report received this week from the Mid-Michigan Health Department, Arnold Minarik of Elsie will be working with the office on a part-time basis through the summer months.

On June 23 Darwin Root from the rural area of Lakeview (in Montcalm County) will join the staff on a permanent basis as sanitarian. Mr. and Mrs. Root will be making their home on Hollister Road in Elsie. He has been attending Ferris State College for the past five years and received his degree this month.

Absentee voter ballots ready

Absentee voters ballots for the July 15 St. Johns advisory vote on a city income tax are available from the office of the city clerk.

Director of Social Services, George Eberhard, presented the Annual Report of the activities of that office. After a question and answer period, it was moved by Supervisor Hufnagel, supported by Gove, to accept the report as presented and to place the same on file. Voted and carried.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Clinton County, Michigan

Gentlemen:
We take pleasure in presenting for your information and consideration our twenty-ninth annual report of the Clinton County Social Services Department covering the period January 1, 1968 through December 31, 1968.

We are in an era of change in the area of Public Assistance. Many people in our modern society are contending that our public welfare system is too restrictive while many others feel that it is too liberal and costly. We in the Department are faced with the responsibility of meeting the needs of our recipients, while still pleasing the people who foot the bill, and do this within the framework of State and Federal policy.

We wish to express our appreciation for the fine support and cooperation we have received from individual county officers as well as the Board of Supervisors as a whole. Without this cooperation, ours would be a most difficult job.

Respectfully submitted,
CLINTON COUNTY Social Services Board

DIRECT RELIEF PROGRAM

|                                       | 1968  | 1967  |
|---------------------------------------|-------|-------|
| Average Number of Cases Per Month     | 55    | 39    |
| Average Assistance Per Case Per Month | 70.37 | 56.09 |

We are somewhat disturbed at the increase in Direct Relief cases and cost per case.

Increased costs are primarily due to increase in shelter costs, nursing services, and food.

SURPLUS COMMODITY ACTIVITIES

The surplus commodity program moved quite well in 1968. Effective February, 1969, this program will be replaced by the Food Stamp Program.

FARM

The land has been leased on a share basis. A small flock of chickens is kept, as well as a good size garden. This is done to provide some activities for residents as well as to provide some of the food used at the Infirmary.

INFIRMARY

The average number of residents at the Infirmary during 1968 was 25.

We are quite pleased with our Infirmary operation. The residents are well cared for and for the most part appear to be contented.

The State inspection reports have been very good. We have had considerable expense in keeping the building in good repair. Early in 1968 we changed over from coal to gas heating. We are now getting better heat to all registers, and it also appears that heating costs will be a little less.

Different community groups continue to show interest in our Infirmary residents. This is very commendable and will be encouraged.

Supervisor Underhill, reporting for the Equipment Committee, submitted the following requests.

EQUIPMENT COMMITTEE

The committee approved three typewriters. One for Probate Court, one for the Prosecuting Attorney, and one for the Zoning Office.

The request for the District Court is for two adding machines, a black board, and five center drawers for the desks. Also a filing cabinet, a desk for the Court Reporter, and a typewriter for the magistrate, for a grand total of $1,564.40.

It was moved by Supervisor Underhill, supported by Cobb to approve the added equipment for the District Court. Voted and carried.

Supervisor Underhill, wishes to express the Board's thanks to R. G. Becher, for the making and placing of bulletin boards and chalk board in the room now being used by this Board.

Supervisor Gove, reports that the Health Committee is working with interested parties to insure continued Ambulance service for Clinton County.

The Board then recessed for lunch.
P. M. SESSION

The meeting was again called to order at 1:30 p.m. Zoning Administrator, William Coffey, spoke to the Board on rubbish and junk problems occurring in the County. Many violations of the Ordinance are occurring and violators are pleading inadequate disposal areas and facilities.

County Engineer, Gerald Wilcox, reported on a meeting held by the Tri-County Planning Commission March 13th. He states that Housing and Urban Development will not release at this time funds due the Tri-County Planning Commission because of a technical difference in bookkeeping procedures or specific amounts required by Housing and Urban Development for matching funds have not been complied with. The withholding of Housing and Urban Development funds has created a financial crisis for Tri-County Planning Commission at this time.

Gerald Shepard, Chairman of the Finance and Appropriation Committee, moved supported by Montgomery to adopt the following resolution.

RESOLVED: That Clinton County Board of Supervisors set up a Department of Public Works under Act 185, Public Acts of 1957 as last amended by Act 63, Public Acts of 1967. Also that it be a five member Board, consisting of three members from Road Commission, the Drain Commissioner and one Supervisor from the County Board of Supervisors.

The matter was then opened for questions. Considerable discussion followed.

Supervisor Gove, moved supported by Lankford, to amend the motion to read one member from the Road Commission, one member from the Board of Supervisors, two members at large and the County Drain Commissioner. The question was called for, on a roll call vote those voting were Supervisors Gove, Underhill and Lankford. Those voting were Supervisors, Cobb, Nobis, Sirrine, Chamberlain, Hufnagel, Montgomery, Andrews and Shepard, Ayes, 3, Nays, 8. Amendment declared lost.

Again the question was called for the original motion was then voted upon and upon a roll call vote those voting were all members of the Board. There were no nay votes, motion declared carried unanimously.

Paul Nobis, Road Commission Chairman, Robert Eldridge, Road Commission Clerk and Don Haske, Engineer-Manager, appeared and presented the Annual Report of the Clinton County Road Commission.

Mr Haske proceeded to explain the report and answered questions relating to it, it was moved by Supervisor Montgomery, supported by Sirrine, to accept the report and to place the same on file.

The Clinton County Board of Supervisors met at 9:00 a.m. Prayer was offered by Supervisor Gove, a pledge of Allegiance was given to the flag. Roll was called and a quorum reported. Minutes of the previous two meetings were corrected. It was moved by Supervisors Hufnagel, supported by Shepard, to approve the minutes as corrected. Voted and carried.

Communications were read. A letter from United States Representative Garry Brown, was read and placed on file.

A request from the Department of Agriculture for continued appropriation for Aply inspection was read and placed on file.

A request from the Agriculture Co-op. Extension Service for a supplementary appropriation of $2,333.34 for the Clinton County 4-H Youth agent, was presented. It was moved by Supervisor Cobb, supported by Hufnagel, to approve the request and pay the same. Voted and carried.

The Board then recessed for Committee meetings.

Upon again coming to order, Friend of the Court, Agnes Danley, appeared and presented the Annual Report of the activities of that office, and answered questions pertaining to the same. It was moved by Supervisor Montgomery, supported by Shepard to approve the report and place on file. Voted and carried.

1968 ANNUAL REPORT FRIEND OF THE COURT'S OFFICE

In compiling this annual report, I shall explain the duties of the Friend of the Court so that those of you who do not know, may better acquaint yourselves with our function.

1. Investigation and Report. In all actions in which application is made for alimony, for the support and maintenance of the wife or minor children, or for the custody of minor children, the Friend of the Court shall:

(1) Investigate the financial ability, occupation and earning capacity of the parties; and

(2) If there are minor children, investigate the home conditions, environment and surroundings of the parties and of any other person in whose home the children are being kept; and

(3) Include in a final report a finding as to home conditions and finances of the parties, and moral surroundings and care given children, together with a recommendation as to custody, visitation rights, amount of support and amount of alimony. A copy of the final report is filed and notice of filing given to counsel for each party.

II. Continuing Investigation. The Friend of the Court exercises general supervision over all children whose custody, control and support is fixed and determined by an order of judgment of the Court.

III. Enforcement. The Friend of the Court assumes responsibility for initiating and carrying on proceedings to enforce all support and custody orders and judgments.

At 3:30 p.m. the chairman then declared a short recess. Upon again coming to order Chairman Nobis, suggested to again insert an ad in the papers warning prospective buyers to exercise caution in purchasing property for residential or development purposes. Moved by Supervisor Huffnagel, supported by Montgomery to instruct the Clerk to insert ads in the State Journal and the Clinton County News. (3 insertions). Voted and carried.

It was moved by Lankford, supported by Huffnagel, to approve and pay as presented, supervisors' expense accounts. Voted and carried.

A motion by Lankford, supported by Chamberlain, to establish a county planning commission, was voted and carried. RESOLVED: That the Clinton County Board of Supervisors establish, under Public Act No. 282 as amended, a Clinton County Planning Commission consisting of seven regular members whose term of office shall be three years. To start the commission, three members shall be appointed by the board of supervisors for three years; two members for two years; and two members for one year. Ex officio members shall be: The chairman of the board of supervisors; chairman of the road commission; drain commissioner; and the director of the county health department, if one shall be established. Their terms of office shall correspond to their official tenures.

RE: To appointing a supervisor member to the department of public works. It was moved by Supervisor Lankford, supported by Huffnagel to appoint Gerald Shepard as supervisor member of that body. It was then moved by Supervisor Lankford, supported by Cobb, to close nominations and instruct the clerk to cast a unanimous vote for Gerald Shepard. Voted and carried.

Supervisor Lankford reports a meeting with Gratiot County and it is agreed that the two county boards should meet and reach an agreement in advance on salaries of persons whose salaries are shared by both counties.

It was moved by Supervisor Chamberlain, supported by Lankford, that the request for payment of Mid-Michigan Health Department appropriation be taken from the table for consideration at this time. Voted and carried. It was moved by Supervisor Chamberlain, supported by Gove, to authorize payment at this time of the first and second quarters of the county's 1969 appropriation. Voted and carried.

*SPECIAL MEETING, MONDAY, MARCH 31, 1969 9A

TUESDAY, APRIL 15, 1969

The Clinton County Board of Supervisors met at 9:00 a.m. Prayer was offered by Ernest Carter. A pledge of Allegiance was given to the flag. Role was called and all reported present. Minutes of the last regular meeting and intervening special were presented. On motion by Supervisor Huffnagel, supported by Supervisor Montgomery to approve the minutes as presented, it was voted and carried.

Supervisor Lankford, supported by Supervisor Montgomery it was tabled until the next meeting.

A resignation from Norman Thelen as a member of the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission effective April 15, 1969 was read. It was moved by Supervisor Huffnagel, supported by Supervisor Cobb to accept the resignation. It was voted and carried.

A Resolution from Menominee County on designating District Supervisors as County Commissioners was on motion by Supervisor Montgomery, supported by Supervisor Shepard, accepted and placed on file.

A Resolution from Alpena County pertaining to the State setting of salaries for secretaries to District Court was read. It was moved by Supervisor Lankford, supported by Supervisor Sirtine to table. Voted and carried.

A Resolution also from Alpena County requesting increased support from the State for County Health Departments was on motion by Supervisor Cobb, supported by Supervisor Huffnagel to accept and place on file, voted and carried.

A Resolution from Genesee County petitioning for assessment of Agricultural lands to be on an Agricultural basis and urging support for H. B. 2533 was on a motion by Supervisor Chamberlain, supported by Supervisor Gove to concur with the Resolution, voted and carried.

TO THE HONORABLE CHAIRMAN AND MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS, CLINTON COUNTY, MICHIGAN

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN;

WHEREAS, this Board of Supervisors of Clinton County, Michigan is concerned that good farm lands and farmers are being forced out of occupational farming because of the present assessment practices within the State of Michigan, and

WHEREAS, it is the opinion of this Board of Supervisors that modification in the procedures for assessing and reassessing lands devoted to agricultural use is necessary in order to assure a proper and equitable taxation of such land, and

WHEREAS, this said Board is of the opinion that in assessing or reassessing lands devoted to agricultural use, such land shall be assessed as agricultural land for so long as such use continues, and

WHEREAS, House Bill 2533 has been introduced in the Michigan State Legislature pertaining to agricultural land classification, and further provides for a roll back of taxes and the imposition of liens thereunder.

MONDAY, MARCH 31, 1969
SPECIAL MEETING

The Clinton County Board of Supervisors met at 10:00 a.m. Prayer was offered by Ernest Carter. A pledge of allegiance was given to the flag. Roll was called and a quorum reported.

This is a special meeting called by and paid for by the Action Realty Company of Lansing, who seek rezoning of a parcel of land in Eagle Township as follows:

Eagle Township (Action Realty Co.)

This item was tabled from the February 5, 1969 meeting. (See Page No. 150 of Commission Minutes Ledger)

From Zone D, agriculture to Zone C, commercial:

Part of the Northwest quarter of Section 25, Town 5 North, Range 4 west. Further described and bounded as follows:

Beginning at the intersection of the Southerly line of Interstate Highway 96 with the Easterly line of Highway M-100 (Wright Road) (said point also being the terminus of the limited access line of Interstate Highway 96); thence Southward along the said Easterly line of Highway M-100 a distance of 410 feet to a point on the Northerly line of Old US-16 (Grand River) Ave., thence Eastward along the Northerly line of Old US-16 a distance of 206 feet; thence Northward parallel with the Easterly line of Highway M-100 a distance of 475 feet to a point on the Southerly limited access line of Interstate Highway 96; thence Westward along the said Southerly limited access line of Interstate Highway 96 a distance of 200 feet to a point on the Easterly line of M-100; said point also being, a point of beginning, all in Eagle Twp., Clinton County, Mich., Sec. 25, T5N-R4W.

Comments and action taken: Motion by H. L. Brook to remove from table and take up for action; (Action Realty) (Described above) Supported by Max Loudenbeck. Motion carried.

New blueprints were submitted containing the changes we had recommended. They also have clearance from State Highway concerning the drives.

Motion by Max Loudenbeck to rezone from Zone "D" to "C". Supported by H. L. Brook. Motion carried 4 to 0.

It was moved by Supervisor Montgomery, supported by Supervisor Shepard, to approve the action of the County Zoning Commission and rezone the above described parcel of land as per their recommendation. Voted and carried unanimously.

Mr. Coffey then presented and recommended a Zoning proposal for the County owned farm which would enable the County Road Commission to re-locate their facilities on their previously selected site. On a show of hands a majority of the Board favor this action.

District Court Judge Roland Duguay appeared and reported on the first quarter operations of the District Court. It is his opinion that the Court will be self sustaining or the revenue derived from the Court will equal or exceed the costs of operation. A general discussion followed. Judge Duguay thanked the members for the opportunity to come before the Board.

The Board recessed at 11:30 a.m.

P. M. SESSION

Upon again being called to order by the Chairman, an interested group of Citizens from DeWitt Township appeared wishing to protest the assessments on certain properties in their Township.

They feel that certain agricultural lands are being assessed on a potential value and they contend that the real values do not presently exist.

George Baird, as spokesman for the group listed typical parcels giving the 1968 assessments and the 1969 assessments pointing out the comparative differences. Stanley Baird then explained the procedures by which the assessor has arrived at his valuations.

Richard Ross then expressed his views and related his experiences in attempting to secure an adjustment on his property.

Russel Baurele stressed that portion of the State Assessors Manual which requires uniform assessments comparative to actual value and pointed out conditions which determine value. He feels that these facts and conditions have not been followed.

Lloyd Wildt pointed to the fact that comparable properties in DeWitt Township are now being assessed higher than properties in adjoining cities and townships and he charges that some properties are receiving preferential treatment.

Attorney Tim Green, in reply to questions, points out that for the individual property owners to have to carry their complaints separately to the State Tax Commission is costly, time consuming and imposes an unfair burden on individual property owners. In reply to a direct question he suggests that in the event that the DeWitt Township Board of Review does certify the tax roll. That a resolution from the County Board of Supervisors to the State Tax Commission requesting a reappraisal of DeWitt Township, conducted by the State Tax Commission might be in order. On a show of hands the Board suggests that the two district supervisors, the equalization director, chairman of the equalization committee and the chairman of the board try to meet with the township board of review, to attempt to resolve the situation.

The Board then recessed at 3:00 p.m.

Upon again coming to order, Gerald Wilcox, county drain engineer appeared. He suggested and proceeded to explain a mapping procedure which can be used in drafting the new zoning ordinance. He can secure septas and copies of the township maps in the county at a reasonable cost. A numbering system will replace lengthy descriptions with district numbers. The committee will make a recommendation. He then presented a suggested organization plan for a Clinton County Planning Commission which would be as follows:

SUGGESTED ORGANIZATION OF THE CLINTON COUNTY PLANNING COMMISSION PURSUANT TO P. A. 282 OF 1945 AS AMENDED

Seven member Commission:

1. Agricultural member should act as Chairman of Committee.
  2. Recreation member should act as Chairman of Committee.
  3. Education member should act as Chairman of Committee.
  4. Industry member should act as Chairman of Committee.
  5. Government member & Commission Secretary should act as Chairman of Committee.
  6. Transportation member.
  7. Chairman of Planning Commission.
- Four ex-officio members:
1. Board of Supervisors Chairman.
  2. Drain Commissioner.
  3. Road Commission Chairman.
  4. Head of County Health Department.

Respectfully,
GERALD V. WILCOX

These people should be chosen at the next meeting.

Charles Frost, civil defense director, presented a film on civil defense portraying preparations for protection in case of attack. He requests direction in the distribution of shelter plans and maps for Clinton County. He asks direct mail delivery in lieu of newspaper notice. The Board concurs with the request.

It is unanimously agreed to authorize the finance committee to employ legal counsel to represent the county at the tax allocation meeting.

Gerald Wilcox reports upon further financial problems, involving the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission. Moved, by Montgomery, supported by Huffnagel, to adjourn. Voted and carried. Meeting adjourned at 5:20 p.m.

WALTER G. NOBIS
Chairman

ERNEST E. CARTER
Clerk

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that this Board of Supervisors recommends the consideration and passage of House Bill 2533 by the Michigan State Legislature.

A communication from Iron County Road Commission urging support for the appointment of Donald V. Johnson to the state highway commission was read. It was moved by Supervisor Montgomery, supported by Supervisor Huffnagel to refer the matter to the road commission. Voted and carried.

A communication from the League of Women Voters, Lansing Area, expressing their interest in cooperative regional planning for the area was read. It was moved by Supervisor Underhill, supported by Supervisor Cobb to accept and place on file. Voted and carried.

Supervisor Huffnagel presented an ordinance to establish a County Planning Commission. Supervisor Andrews moved, supported by Supervisor Huffnagel to adopt the ordinance to become effective at the earliest possible effective date. Voted and carried.

COUNTY OF CLINTON
AN ORDINANCE TO ESTABLISH A COUNTY PLANNING COMMISSION

Section 1. APPLICABILITY
This Ordinance is adopted in the interest of, and to promote, the general safety, health and welfare of Clinton County.

Section 2. ADOPTION
Pursuant to, and under the authority of, Act 22 of the Public Acts of Michigan, 1945, as amended, the County of Clinton hereby adopts and enacts the provisions of Act 282 of Public Acts of Michigan, 1945 as amended, and establishes a county planning commission with all of the authority and powers specified and granted by said Act.

Section 3. REPEAL
All ordinances, or parts of ordinances, in conflict with any of the provisions of this ordinance, are hereby repealed.

Section 4. PUBLICATION
This ordinance shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation within the County once each week of three consecutive weeks.

Section 5. EFFECTIVE DATE
This ordinance shall take effect sixty (60) days after adoption by the County Board of Supervisors.

Clinton County Board of Supervisors
By: WALTER G. NOBIS

The Board then recessed for committee meetings.

Upon again coming to order Supervisor Underhill presented a bid to replace 1440 sq. ft. of concrete for a complete cost of $964.00, submitted by Richard Cornwell. It was moved by Underhill, supported by Supervisor Huffnagel, to accept the bid. Voted and carried.

Supervisor Shepard reported on actions taken by the road commission in quantity purchase of road culverts and the adoption of a set of work rules by management and union representatives.

Herbert Maier from Tri-County Planning Commission appeared and presented a film of a regional comprehensive plan entitled "The House

Developing respected photo studio business takes work, study

By SHIRLEY KARBER
News Staff Writer

Professional photography is a field that requires constant study to keep abreast of latest developments, trends and methods, as well as knowledge of new equipment that progresses constantly.

Jeri Toben, St. Johns' professional photographer at 100 N. Emmons Street, keeps abreast of those trends and thus keeps busy in business that has earned him the respect of people all over the state.

"This is no field where a person can sit still," Toben says. "You have to keep up with the latest in every phase of the work."

He recently completed an airbrush seminar in Chicago and says, "The advances in photography over the past 10 years alone have been tremendous."

Toben uses an automatic 90mm Camerz portrait camera, a 5x7 B and J view camera, and an 8x10 Century camera in the studio. For weddings and commercial work he has a 4x5 Speed Graphic, two Mamiya press cameras, a Rolleiflex 1/2.8, and has just purchased a Nikon 35mm.

HE DOES ALL his own developing and printing of black and white film, but has been sending color elsewhere. Now, however, he is setting up a color printing area in one of his darkrooms and is waiting for some equipment to arrive. Then he'll do most of his own color processing.

The peak season for photographers is from about June 1 until the last of December. Toben's favorite work is pre-wedding bridal photography, large family portraits, and anything that presents a challenge to his ability. His bridal work is well-known throughout the state and brides from Flint, Saginaw, Grand Rapids, etc., travel to his studio because of his artistic ability and sensitive approach.

At present, the Tobens are finishing a lovely bridal portrait of Mrs. Terry Thurston, the former Barbara Anderson, which will be hung in Arbaugh's bridal salon. He also enjoys "photos for fun" with his family on vacations.

Mr and Mrs Toben and their daughter, Jerilyn, have lived in their beautiful, combination home-photographic studio on the corner of Emmons and State Street for the past eight years. Jeri, as he is known to everyone, designed and helped Harold Burk, the contractor, in its construction. He has incorporated the latest equipment, lighting facilities, props, and cameras in his studio, while the living quarters are modern, spacious, and a decorator's dream.

The front of the studio section has "built-in" picture type display windows and residents passing by enjoy viewing their colorful photographic achievements, high-lighted with the artistic ability of Mrs. Toben's oil painting.

MRS TOBEN graduated from Central Michigan University and taught school for 13 years. Her teaching ability came in handy when Jerilyn was ill and needed special tutoring. Mrs. Toben is originally from Saginaw. She has also taken courses at Winona Professional School in oil-coloring, but now that her husband is using more "natural color photography" Mrs. Toben does far less painting than she did 10 years ago, but enjoys doing large 16x20 or 20x24 heavy oil portraits.

The Toben family works closely with the St. Johns and Fowler schools on the yearbooks. This work includes senior portraits, class pictures, and other major "happenings" around the schools.

One of the new trends in photography is the pre-bridal portrait done approximately four weeks in advance of the wedding. An 11x14 oil portrait is then the gift of the bride to the groom and is displayed for the guests at the reception.

When asked what his favorite photo was, Toben stated that he had taken an awe-inspiring Rocky Mountain scene from Trail Ridge in Estes Park, Colo. To capture the beauty of the scene required his lying in a precarious position on a cliff edge while the rest of the family held their breaths. He titled the photo "Lost Horizon."

The Toben family works together in the studio with Mrs. Toben filling the positions of business manager, receptionist, and oil-colorist while Jerilyn fills in on a variety of assignments wherever necessary. They started in business in St. Johns in 1951 at a studio on Clinton Avenue and before that had a studio in Saginaw.

Toben served twice in the Air Force, once from 1941 to 1945 during World War II and again from 1948 to 1951 in the Korean conflict. He worked in communications and photography at that time and once was assigned to photograph former President Harry Truman.

The family loves to travel, usually by car, for vacations, and they have visited all of the states but five and have traveled to both coasts, Canada, and Mexico. They take their vacations during Lent and are usually gone from four to six weeks. They are now considering a trip to Italy or Spain.

THE FAMILY ALSO enjoys legitimate theater and has a common love for music. Toben built and installed his own music system. Mrs. Toben likes to cook, Jerilyn is a writer, and Jeri relaxes by riding his horse, Koko.

Toben is immediate past president of the Triangle Photographers Assn. and still serves on the board of directors. He and his wife are members of the Professional Photographers of Michigan Assn. the Professional Photographers of America, Winona Alumni Association and are locally affiliated with the First Nighters. Toben is a former Rotarian, but had to resign due to conflicting hours.

Mrs. Toben says, "Jeri enjoys helping young people in photography and always tries to encourage them in their efforts. He will often stop during a busy schedule to give them advice or instruction on their photographic problems."

The studio has a large variety of photographs and the public is welcome to drop in and view their work in one of the oldest, yet newest, forms of creative art. They are open daily from 12:30 to 5:30 p. m. except Wednesday.

Jeri Toben finds photography an interesting and exacting career. Here he is pictured with only a small part of the equipment necessary for his business. Cameras, lights and props are some of the important items, and a constant "learning process" is another vital part to his profession.

PLANS SALUTE to SERVICEMEN

Do you have a son, daughter or husband serving in the armed forces?

A special section saluting Clinton County men and women serving in any military branch of the armed forces will be published in The Clinton County News in the near future.

In order to ascertain who they are and secure correct information, you are asked to fill out the questionnaire below and submit it, with a picture, for inclusion without obligation in this special section.

The picture should be a black and white portrait type, in uniform if possible. If you do not have such a picture but have others, bring them to The Clinton County News and let us tell you whether the picture is suitable for publication.

Pictures will not be returned by mail but can be picked up at The Clinton County News after the section has been published. The name of the service person MUST be on the back of the picture with your name and address. This is vitally important in order that the picture will not be misplaced or mis-labeled.

The service persons MUST be a son, daughter or husband of a resident of the Clinton County area to be considered for inclusion in this special section.

3 here picked for camp in U. P.

Clinton County delegates to the State 4-H Conservation Camp at Chatham in the Upper Peninsula July 14-19 have been named.

They are: Dan Haviland and Lenore Wood of DeWitt and John Dunham of Elsie.

Over 150 4-H teens from all parts of Michigan are expected to attend the week-long conservation education session.

"The experience should be especially beneficial for youth from urban areas who have not previously had the opportunity for this type of exposure."

The Clinton County delegates to the camp will concentrate on four areas of natural resources — soil, forests, water and wildlife.

Each day at the camp will be action-packed from "first call" at 6:20 to "lights out" at 11 p.m. The week's activities will include a trip to the Upper Peninsula Experimental Forest, an electrofishing demonstration, a visit to the Marquette fish hatchery and a trip to the Au Train Lake area and the Lake Superior shore.

THERE WILL also be a boat trip to the Pictured Rocks and visits to the Cusino Wildlife Experiment Station and the Seney National Wildlife Refuge.

The conservation area of 4-H — Youth Programs offers an educational study of contemporary natural resources affairs such as pollution, natural beauty, land use adjustments, noise abatement, urban renewal, urban sprawl, ecosystem analysis and many other opportunities to relate "learn by doing" to man and his environment, according to Aylsworth.

Mrs. Toben applies the oil-paints to the large bridal pictures, so popular with today's brides. The creative work requires patience and training to accomplish and Mrs. Toben attended a special school to learn the art. She is also a former school teacher.

The newest member of the Toben family is their pet miniature schnauser, Tina, who has been with the family one year. Jerilyn does a variety of jobs around her father's studio, but Tina only has to pose occasionally for the shutter bugs.

Blood and birthdays

A new idea for relieving the serious blood shortages that plague many parts of the country, especially in the summer and after Christmas, is proposed in an article, "Why Is It Tough To Get Blood?," in the April issue of the American Legion Magazine.

Mr Tom Mahoney, author of the article, suggests that every eligible person celebrate his or her birthday by giving a pint of blood at their local blood bank or collection center.

"If only one or two additional persons out of 100 would give one pint of blood a year," says Dr Frank Coleman, president of the American Association of Blood Banks, "the shortage problem would be relieved at least for the near future."

The demand for blood has been rising steadily because of advances in surgery and therapy and has now passed 6.5 million pints a year, the article reports. Blood needs are increasing 10 per cent a year at many hospitals, and work of the blood clearing houses is rising at about 15 per cent a year. They shift blood about the country to meet shortages and enable blood given locally to be credited to distant patients.

But, our population is increasing only about one per cent a year and while nearly 105 million Americans are qualified by age and health to give blood only two to three per cent of them do so. If you are between 21 and 60, or even older if your doctor approves, you can help by donating at your local blood bank or collection center.

You don't need to wait your birthday.

Hail to summer!

Every season of the year has its special features—blossoms in spring, autumn colors in fall, the magic of Jack Frost in winter and the azure skies of summer. However, summer, which begins its tour of the Northern Hemisphere on June 21, also features the full blooming of our national curse—the litterbug. And this year, as on each succeeding year, there will be more evidence of this blight than ever before.

Those who value and respect natural beauty can but watch in helpless outrage as the veritable scum of the human race strikes swiftly and usually unseen—throwing beer cans and pop bottles from speeding cars or vanishing without a trace from ravaged campgrounds and picnic sites. Often this creature we have dubbed the litterbug passes unobserved in the night, leaving in his wake whole boxes of garbage, as well as cases of cans and bottles. Laws are becoming increasingly stringent but to little avail. What is threat of a $500 fine to these despoilers of the countryside that no law can catch, except in the rare instances when their brashness overcomes their natural cunning.

The scourge of the litterbugs will get worse each summer, judging by recent estimates that put the production of 12-ounce containers by 1982 at a possible 900 million gross. Since a gross is 12 dozen, it is not hard to figure out what the landscape will look like in the summer of, say, 1985, if litterbugging continues uncurbed.

ISLE, MINN., MESSENGER: "... according to the U. S. Post Office, it's a 'No, No' for the newspapers to mention or advertise in any way a raffle, bingo or any other type of lottery—even though it's a fund raising event for a nonprofit organization or for a good cause. I'm sure that I don't need to mention that I have a hard time understanding the Post Office's reasoning in this matter, since I am of the belief that most editors are quite qualified to use sound judgment in determining whether a raffle is for a good cause or not—and whether the public will be hurt by advertising the same. . . . Such fund raising drives happen every day—and this doesn't seem to concern Uncle too much—but to let anyone know that they're happening is the 'No-No.' So—now you know why such events (important to a small community) do not receive any publicity in the paper."

The city park will get $867.51 worth of new playground equipment and St. Johns City Commission Tuesday night approved development of a new playground site at the park.

The money is a gift of the civic division of the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce and City Manager Kenneth Anderson was given permission to advertise for bids for new equipment.

50 YEARS AGO (June 19, 1919)

The late electric storms have killed much livestock for the farmers of Clinton County. The following are some of those who have lost stock from lightning, but luckily had some insured. Benedict Thelen of Bengal had a cow killed on June 11; the insurance was $100. Herbert Hurd of DeWitt lost five hogs by lightning and the insurance was $40. Varney Pierce of Olive lost three head of sheep June 12; insurance was $27.

Plans are underway at the plant of the Hayes Motor Truck Wheel Co., of St. Johns. They are looking toward a big expansion in the company's business, producing wheels in quantity and quality in competition with all competitors.

New equipment and machinery have been ordered, and standard national dry kilns and blower systems will be installed, which will enable the company to produce wheels by standard and up-to-date methods.

FINDLAY, Ohio, REPUBLICAN-COURIER: "A new study which has just been made with regard to whether older automobile drivers are involved in more accidents than younger drivers provides considerable comfort for those who are in their later years. Making the study was a group of University of Denver educators. . . Senator Williams of New Jersey introduced the details of the study into the Congressional Record at Washington, with this comment: 'These remarkable findings confirm that the older driver is certainly not the hazard some would portray him. Quite the contrary, drivers past 65 represent a rational, responsible and reliable segment of the motoring public.'"

FREDONIA, Kans., CITIZEN: "If the American people wish the government to cut expenses, they are going to have to stop expecting the services they presume taxes should furnish, from hot lunches for school children to reading the labels on breakfast cereal for them. No matter where the cuts come, someone is going to be screaming. If the American people truly want more financial stability, they will have to revise their standard approach to every problem which usually commences: 'The government ought to do something about. . .'"

PETALUMA, Calif., ARGUS-COURIER: "A considerable amount of talk is being heard in Washington circles these days about tax reforms. . . closing loopholes. . . But—as everyone who has sweated through Form 1040 can testify—there is another branch of taxation that needs a closer inspection and some reforming. This is the complicated, thoroughly confusing income tax form and the gobbledygook that is included in the instruction sheets."

Letters to the Editor

News, editorial corrected, clarified

Dear Editor:

Two errors in your issue of the 11th of June, 1969, should be corrected.

1. The school millage in for two years, not for one year as you reported.

2. Whether or not water meters are read or not read has no bearing on a city income tax. The cost of meter reading is charged to the water rates, which have already been raised.

3. We trust you will clarify your editorial of June 11th accordingly.

Very truly yours, St. Johns Taxpayers Committee.

(Editor's Note: We stand corrected on item 1. To clarify item 2, you are correct. The cost of meter reading is charged to the water rates when there is manpower enough to read the meters. Additional money is needed to provide an adequate work force for the city so that somebody doesn't have to be pulled off necessary general fund projects to read water meters. That's where the rub came in last quarter. The general fund projects were considered more important than reading the meters, and since there were not enough people around to do all the jobs, the meters didn't get read. You were right; our comments of the 11th did need some clarification.)

Trailer burns, county officials draw fire

Dear Editor:

The following is an open letter to the Clinton County Board of Supervisors:

"During the past three weeks I and some of my neighbors here in Victor Township have made repeated phone calls to the county zoning office and the county board of health in a fruitless attempt to motivate them into action.

About four weeks ago a young couple with three children under the age of six moved into a trailer that had been set up in a field near us not far from the intersection of Hollister and Price roads. At the time the family moved in they were without electricity, water, heat, sewage facilities, or a trailer permit.

Within a week, as one might expect under such inadequate living conditions, the children were suffering from diarrhea and colds. Every day for several days the mother and children made trips to our home and those around us in order to use bathroom facilities, clean the children, and get drinking water. At least one child had a dirty towel wrapped around him to serve as a diaper, and all the children were poorly clothed. We naturally became concerned about the spread of disease throughout our own families. After approximately 10 phone calls to St. Johns informing our politically appointed county officials of the situation that existed, it became increasingly evident that the county zoning office and the county health office were less than responsive to public concerns, and that the former office was vague about its responsibilities, its authority, and the appropriate procedure for action.

Mr Coffey, in the zoning office, informed me for nearly two weeks that he was going to "get right on this matter," and that the family in question was indeed occupying the trailer illegally. The county health office was simply "too busy" to come out and inspect the open ditch that was serving as a sewer for three children suffering from bowel disorders.

In spite of the lack of decisive action in St. Johns, however, things got better out here at the trailer. Consumers Power eventually hooked the trailer (still without a proper permit) to a power line, and the father of the family managed to get water from his well to the trailer. He even got the hot water heater hooked up some days ago. Unfortunately there was a problem with the hot water heater and the situation went uncorrected.

Yesterday, over three weeks after officials were first notified of the unsatisfactory conditions at the trailer, the water heater became overheated, the trailer filled with smoke, and the place burned down to the bare frame. Fortunately, the mother got her three children out in time, but the family lost everything except the clothes they were wearing and what was piled in the back seat of their car.

If our county officials had been doing their jobs for the past month instead of giving lame excuses about "how long it takes to get things done," last evening's tragedy might not have occurred.

I sincerely believe that the Clinton County Board of Commissioners should investigate the policies and actions of the two above-mentioned offices, and ensure that the officials appointed to such offices are aware of both their authority and their responsibilities to the residents of Clinton County.

Respectfully, DALE M. HERDER 6667 Westview Drive Laingsburg

By JIM FITZGERALD

You know those people who give their summer cottages cutesy-cutesy names, such as "Her-Nan-Do's Hideaway" (his name is HERbert, her name is NANcy, the dog's name is DO-odle and their guests sleep in lumpy hideaway beds). Every syllable has a double meaning and before you finish reading all the hilariously sweet signs in the front yard, your eyelids have sugared shut and you must be guided to the guest bathroom where a Bucolic Bazooms joke book hangs from the ceiling.

Well, I've discovered how these people make a living. They own restaurants built around one central idea, a charming theme which must be followed throughout every phase of operation, from curb to kitchen. If the name of the place is Hansel and Gretel's Cafeteria, the only way you can find an exit is by following bread crumbs.

Such a place recently opened in Detroit, across from the Fisher Theatre. Owned by a car-racing nut, it is called The Steering Wheel. The entire front is painted black and white to look like the starter's checkered flag. My hick wife thought it was a Purina feed store.

Waiting at the pit stop to park your car are two men dressed in racing togs and crash helmets. I screeched to a stop, gunned my motor and said, "You have 32 seconds to change all four tires and check the carburetor. I am still two laps behind Mario and Barbara Stanwyck is waiting to kiss the winner."

Inside, everything and everybody is checked or striped. The waitresses, so help me, are called superchargers. I got a super charge out of their fender skirts.

You've seen piano bars, where the drinkers sit around a piano and tell Sam to play it again. The Steering Wheel has a car bar. The drinkers sit around a huge racing car, one of those Grand Prix things, I guess. The car doesn't do anything, but even idle a little. It just sits there and the people sit there and look at it. I wonder who will be the first drunk to drive it home? The menu, of course, offers food by laps, not courses. First lap, soup; second lap, salad; and so on. I kept looking for something like: "Our chicken freshly run over by new Fords on paved roads."

Our supercharger confided that the Pope had done her out of a good thing. Before he put the whammy to all those saints, she used to sell St. Christopher wafers to nervous diners who needed courage before taking the far turn around the hotrolls and heading into the meat lap.

I heard the chef uses a hydraulic lift to frost upside down cake. Anyway, the food was splendid and the prices reasonable. All in all it was an interesting evening and I came away with a new ambition. Some day I want to own a restaurant with a newspaper theme.

For years, wise guys have been telling me newspapers are good for only 2 things—wrapping fish and training dogs. I will have a special dish and a special restroom for these jokers.

Onward and Upward.

TAKING FIVE

Down shady lane

By RON HUARD

For some time now I have found it very difficult to thoroughly trust the person who constantly wears dark glasses, unless, of course, the misfortune of affliction is obvious.

I cannot help but feel when seeing a shaded pair of eyes that even more shadier activity is churning in the mind and if light were allowed to train on the beads they would be more shifty than the Chicago Bears' Gayle Sayers.

Dark glasses, hushed voices and "deez-and-doze" are all in the same league, but I don't play the game.

Until I broke my glasses. And since then mine has been a shaded world which has evoked comments and expressions not unlike those I offer when meeting a dark glassed visage.

Samples: "Gee, Dad. How come you're wearing those things on a rainy day?" "Doesn't he look silly? Maybe it'll bring the sun out." "Hey, Huard. Have a bad night last night?"

"You can't fool me. I want your autograph!" "Whatsa matter? Sunburn your eyeballs?"

"Hey, Duke. Gotta job for ya tonight."

There were many others, to be sure, but none of the wise cracks even hinted at the correct cause of my wearing my shades. And I wasn't about to tell them. It's kinda fun being a shifty character.

It is times-like this that make me appreciate the loss of early life desires to follow the attraction of bachelorhood. With the rest of the family visiting relatives Iowa, I have been left to fend for myself and already the dishwasher is crammed, the laundry basket is overflowing and I find my supply of shirts dwindling quickly.

I may have to set a new style trend by wearing a clip-on tie with a t-shirt or some such thing.

Batching it during the occasions readily reveals my lack of domestic talent and I shudder to think of my predicament as a full-time single.

I'm quickly finding out that you don't pop a TV dinner out of the oven as readily as the processing people hint you do . . . unless you're accustomed to eating with ice-picks. And these crazy dried foods that just require the addition of water are not what they're cracked up to be either. I even took a page from the dog food book and added a bit of love but I still ended up with a glob of not too lovely mush. About the only thing I've met with any degree of success comes out of a can. But who can drink beer three times a day?

Drive carefully. Aside from all the youngsters running free from school you just might come upon a guy wearing dark glasses and hiccupping.

From the state house

By DICK ALLEN
88th District Representative

A worthy cause is the wedge by which much legislative damage is done.

Many people are currently aroused over the loopholes by which some wealthy individuals and other special interest groups escape federal income tax.

I am learning the process by which loopholes are born and grow. They begin with an extremely worthy cause. They get extended to the next most worthy cause, then the next. Finally, they get extended to the worthy cause of one representative or district in return for support of another's cause.

The damage is done not by any particular extension but by the initial wedge, always the worst of causes.

No Michigan tax has had broader support than the gas and weight taxes by which we support our roads. With practically no exceptions, if you operate a vehicle on our public roads, you have in the past had to pay the full amount of these taxes.

A bill passed by the House this week exempts everyone over 65 from over half of the automobile weight tax or license fee. There is no group in our society more worthy than the retired! They have had terrible treatment at the hands of our governments and our voters who have supported the inflationary policies that have robbed them of their life savings.

A COUPLE OF legitimate points could be made against the bill. Millionaires get this taxpayer subsidy while those over 65 too poor to own cars don't. Of course, the two to four million dollars it will cost will soon be spread across other taxpayers. These points are minor compared to the future damage that will result from this opening wedge.

No doubt this legislation will be extremely popular with those over-burdened elderly who will benefit. Still many legislators stood for the principal of no exceptions and the vote was initially very close. But as soon as the membership realized the exemption was going to pass many changed nay votes to ayes with an eye toward future elections.

So if the Senate concurs, the road taxes will have been opened to the onslaught. Our new income tax is constantly under pressure; the property tax has over 80 exemptions already. The sales tax, though breached, stands fairly firm.

I would like to introduce a bill to eliminate all exemptions from the proceeds to go to reducing present tax levels. But probably if I did this, I would decide to make an exemption and maintain the tax-free status of farm personal property. Probably I would have to make a deal and include jigs and dies (presently exempt). Church people would say, "We support this reform measure but certainly it was by oversight that churches were forgotten."

Only when people change will the legislative process change.

Urge peace more support

The St. Johns Jaycees have joined their state and national organizations in pledging support to a move to unite the American people behind President Nixon and a program toward peace in Viet Nam.

In response to the President's request for support in his Viet Nam peace proposal message, the United States Jaycees have pledged their support to spearhead a move to unite the American people.

"We firmly believe that a strong show of unified support for the President and his move toward world peace will definitely aid Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge in future peace negotiations," St. Johns Jaycee President Bob Frechen said.

"We feel that this is of such urgency to our nation that you as individual citizens will want to participate and become part of this national unity movement for world peace."

Windows

Now a window is a window,
Leastwise that's my idee,
'N it was first intended
So folks inside could see.

But there's another school of thought
That feels it is a sin
Should any one who is outside Desire to look within.

'N so with curtains, shades 'n drapes
If not Venetian blinds,
They close the openin's until
The windows hard to find.

*Supposin I were half undressed
'N someone should go by I'd not want folks a peekin' in
At me", I hear 'em cry.

But I submit there's naught to fret
Should I not don my frock,
If skimpy clothes is fatal—
We all will die of shock!

The cars that whiz by my street
Are bound for parts unknown,
'N peekin in my windows
Wouldn't thrill 'em to the bone!

A breath of air, a bit of breeze—
Feels good on a hot day.
But now its hardly worth a try.
It couldn't find the way!

Though I admit a bit of charm
Can be a source of pride,
I like to think things in this house
Are built for folks inside.

'N if there's any curious
Who linger round about,
I'm all fer lookin' once at them—
If I could just see out!

For That Bridal Glow Start with Soap, Water

What makes a "radiant" bride? Your rosy glow of happiness and excitement that surrounds the wedding surely contribute, but a vibrant, healthy complexion generates the compliments of wedding guests.

There isn't a girl who has said "I do" who doesn't want to maintain these great good looks. Too often, though, it's only a few weeks before you are sure to be enmeshed in your new routine as wife, homemaker, and perhaps working girl, with little time to give to your personal beauty program. Only the rarest complexion retains its smooth, lively loveliness attended only by the daily bath-with-face-washing and a little make-up.

With so much help at hand today, there is little reason for a dull, coarse, lifeless complexion. This is certainly an area in which it pays to think ahead. While today you can hardly imagine your first wedding anniversary, start now to spare yourself that rueful glance on your tenth, when you may begin to wonder how to salvage your face or your figure.

It is a great temptation to say, "but I'm only 18," or 22, or whatever your present age. Experts answer that with, "Now is the time to start your life-long skin care program." And they are unanimous in making cleanliness the first step. Start and end each day with soap, the antibacterial kind, such as Dial, and water. For the face characterized by enlarged pores, the addition of an astringent may enhance cleansing. Then cream. In the morning, use a moisturizer that comes between you and your make-up, in more ways than one. It goes on before cosmetics and protects the skin from drying effects of some beauty potions. Before bed, another dose of lotion, perhaps a creamier one, is called for.

Neck neglect, a common complexion detractor at almost any age, is easily remedied with twice daily inclusion in the moisturizing routine.

Moderate use of cosmetics is not only good fashion, but good complexion care. However, it isn't putting them on, but taking them off that becomes many a pretty face's Waterloo. Every trace of make-up should be gone before your head touches a pillow. In addition to soap and water, use a creamy cleanser to remove mascara, eye-liner, and anything else with water-proofing.

Problem skin should be presented to a cosmetologist (lay skin specialist) or a dermatologist (medical doctor specializing in skin care). Home treatment should be limited to cleanliness, good nutrition, and adequate rest. Regular use of mild antibacterial soap builds up an invisible film of germ-inhibiting protection — a real help for some skin problems. Sunshine and fresh air are still important for good skin health, too.

By starting now (even before the wedding), your complexion care routine will be second nature in just a few days and is sure to help you keep that "radiant" bride look for a long time.

Say It With Flowers At Wedding

FLOWERS. They do have a leading role in weddings of all sizes. Whatever type of wedding ceremony is decided upon, the right floral arrangements contribute beauty, color and fragrance.

The florist of the bride-elect's choice should be contacted as early as possible in the wedding planning, so price estimates can be made.

It's often a good idea to allow your floral designer the freedom of suggesting flowers for your wedding, as sometimes insisting upon a certain flower can become quite expensive.

It is especially important to keep in mind flowers that are becoming, practical and appropriate for the season.

Even if you're a bride-elect who has selected a tailored suit or street-length dress for the ceremony, a corsage should be worn. For a formal wedding ceremony, the bride should carry flowers on a prayer book or in some bouquet arrangement.

WHITE IS the traditional color of the bridal bouquet, but sometimes pastel flowers are added which blend with the bride's and attendant's gowns. A modern trend is to include greenery in the bride's and attendant's bouquets.

Popular cascade and colonial arrangements are available in various shapes and sizes.

It is helpful if the florist has an exact description of the wedding gown so appropriate bouquets can be designed.

MANY arrangements are styled with an orchid in the center, to be used as a going-away corsage. White roses are a popular choice of today's bride. Other flowers commonly used are white orchids, cymbidium orchids, Eucharis lilies, lilies of the valley, gladioli and fairly new petals which can be used in almost any part of the wedding is the pixie carnation, which is available in almost every imaginable color.

Mixing stephanotis with wedding bouquets creates a spring-time effect.

A swatch of fabric from the bridal attendants should be given to the florist so attendants' bouquets can be fashioned to blend with the color of their frocks.

Usually the bride's attendants carry similar bouquets, although it may be the bride's wish that the flowers of the honor attendant and the bridesmaids differ in color.

A colonial arrangement is one of the leading choices for an attendant's bouquet accented with ribbons to add a note of distinction. Carnations lend themselves very well in colonial arrangements and also may be obtained in a variety of colors.

IF THE bridal attendants wear any type of floral headpieces, they should be dainty arrangements of the same flower used in their bouquets.

When the flower girl is included in the wedding ceremony, her bouquet should be composed of small, dainty flowers.

Boutonnieres almost always are white carnations, except the bridegroom's, whose boutonniere should be the same flower as the bride carries in her bouquet.

Flowers which fashion excellently into corsages for mothers of the bride and bridegroom are cymbidium orchids, orchids, carnations, or sweetheart roses in shades which blend with the ensemble of each mother.

Quite often there are rules governing church decorations and it's best to remember flowers for the church should be kept simple and in key with the style of ceremony.

Sometimes in small churches, arrangements of flowers are placed in window sills. Banks of ferns or greenery with flowers are used in a large church.

Although, white flowers are traditional, sometimes blossoms matching the color of the bridesmaids gown are used in church decor, to add a harmonizing touch. A prevailing trend is two bouquets for the altar or standing vases. Arrangements used generally are composed of gladioli, pompons, carnations or chrysanthemums.

OLD RHYME

A wedding is the greatest place for folks to go and learn. He thought that she was his'n, But he found that he was her'n.

Air-Cooled, Sheer Pretty Packables

Travel figures into most honeymoon plans so it's a smart bride who selects clothes for her trousseau that retain their attractive appearance under travel conditions. But that doesn't mean she's stuck with fashions that shout wash and wear.

She'll be happy to know that some of Spring's most romantic embroidered dresses, blouses and sportswear also make the best travelers.

Did you know? All-over embroidery makes any fabric wrinkle-resistant, keeps ruffles unruffled, defies wilting in even tropical climates such as Jamaica.

Handy tips for the wedding day

At a wedding, everyone notices hands. Since the wedding guests are gazing at the new ring on the bride's finger, they are also gazing at other pretty hands which are yet to have rings slipped upon them. For this reason Pacquin hand care experts recommend that Bride and bridesmaids use lots of hand and body lotion to make arms, elbows and necks petal smooth. They also recommend a liberal application of hand cream for extra-dry skin every night for a week before the wedding — as well as a good application just before the ceremony starts. Smooth hands are not only essential for smooth looks, but there are constant introductions and hand-shaking at a wedding reception.

James W. Jenkins, director of research for Pacquin hand care products, says that women of all ages should use hand creams and lotions to help preserve moisture in their skin.

A Trip To The Bank Before Wedding Day Off to a Good Start with Cleaning Aids

For richer, for poorer — the bright bride-to-be schedules a trip to the bank before the wedding day.

This can do much to pave the way toward a smoother marriage. The girl who enters marriage with a modicum of financial knowledge often brings more to her husband than the one with a material dowry.

There are at least three bank services with which every newly married couple should be familiar — checking accounts, joint or separate; savings accounts; and safe deposit boxes.

Some couples find their financial life functions smoothest with a joint checking account; others are more comfortable with separate accounts.

A joint account involves putting all earnings into one account, held in both names. Both can write checks. But if one or both neglect to fill in the stubs, it can be financial murder.

THE WAY to keep track of a joint account: each has to tell the other everytime a check is written. In addition to encouraging a spirit of financial cooperation, it guarantees you'll talk to one another.

Now if you're marrying a money-bags, separate checking accounts may be more practical. With this system, each partner has his own account, with various expenditures assigned to each. The husband usually writes the big checks and the wife uses her account for the day-to-day spending.

A danger that bankers and marriage counselors alike warn against, the concept of "your" money and "my" money. Expenses from each account should be decided in advance.

For example, the wife's account should not be padded with a deposit from the husband's if she runs out of housekeeping money before the end of the month — but all earnings in both accounts should very positively be regarded as "our" money.

Savings should be the first "expense" that any young couple budgets. Many banks now make this a simple step by regularly transferring a set amount from checking account to savings account each month. Devotees of one-stop banking will be tempted by this method.

A nest egg in a savings account, a kind of cash emergency fund, is an absolute necessity for any young family.

Family financial advisors vary in their estimates of how much should be in the savings account before investments begin — the liberals say three months' income; the conservatives hold out for six.

Whatever the goal set, regular monthly deposits should be made into the account, there to earn interest while the money piles up. Many young couples start out with a joint savings account, in both their names, to which both may take deposits and from which each can draw.

Now for the safety deposit box. This is for the papers that would cost time, money, or inconvenience to replace.

The first papers to go into it include your marriage record, birth certificates, military records.

Later on you add real estate deeds, car titles, stocks and bonds.

For richer or poorer — lots of luck in your joint money management.

SAINT FAITH'S DAY

O good St. Faith, be kind tonight,
And bring to me my heart's delight;
Let my future husband view
And be my visions chaste and true.

With luck, a girl who chants this verse before retiring on Saint Faith's Day, Oct. 6, may see her "intended."

Brides may dream of breezing through household chores with the greatest of ease, but these dreams can't come true without the help of today's cleaning aids.

Back in the good old days, elbow grease and long hours of hard work were more important to good housekeeping than cleaning aids simply because there were very few aids available. Today the opposite is true, and the Bride who shops wisely for cleaning aids that will do her work for her will find herself hours-ahead.

Her husband, smiling praise at her effortless command of the dirt situation, need never know that half the job is being done by special ingredients, papers, cloths, and cleaning equipment.

Dusting becomes almost glamorous with the availability of colorful yellow dusters that carry a lemon scent and are treated to trap dust in the cloth. With Kleen-Ups disposable dusters, there is no need for special dusting sprays or washing out, drying and storing old dusting rags.

Similar window washers which are impregnated with high-powered detergents need only be dampened and wiped over dirty windows and mirrors to make the grass squeaky clean. Each disposable blue window washer, which cleans up to three standard windows, is also perfect for glass desk and table tops, lighting fixtures, and other glass pieces.

Gold, silver, brass, and copper pieces can all be kept at their glistening best with a third cleaning aid — a metal polisher. The disposable polishers, can be used for any of the four metals. As in the case of the dusters and window washers, there is no need to store jars or cans of extra cleaning agents.

Duties of Groom and Others of the Bridal Party Outlined

On the solid basis that "every wedding should have a bridegroom," and the equally logical conclusion that the man-in-the-case should have his own set of ground-rules, here are some pointers for him.

The groom's duties: if there is a Bachelor Dinner, usually the night before the wedding, the bridegroom is the host. At this time, he presents gifts to his best man and ushers, customarily something that can be engraved with initials of the recipients . . . He selects, and pays, for the wedding ring; purchases the marriage license; arranges for the bride's bouquet and for boutonnieres for the male members of the wedding party; purchases gloves and ties for the ushers (which are usually sent directly from the store to the ushers' homes); takes care of the contribution to the clergyman; arranges for the car in which he and the bride will leave, and makes full arrangements for the honeymoon trip.

Duties of others: The Best Man serves as general assistant to the bridegroom in preliminary arrangements; actively handles the Bachelor Dinner; helps bridegroom prepare his wardrobe for the wedding; keeps wedding ring until it's called for at ceremony; turns over the contribution (or fee) to clergyman after ceremony; and checks all travel arrangements . . . The Chief Usher has responsibility of supervising the seating of the families and guests at ceremony; also personally escorts the bride's and bridegroom's mothers to their respective seats; and is responsible for briefing the ushers.

Wise Shopping For Food Is A Real Art

Wise shopping for food is an art that requires intelligence, patience and stamina. The rules are few, the possibilities unlimited. The bride would be smart to:

1. Study nutrition. It's possible, even easy, to spend a great deal of money on groceries and still have an improperly fed family. The less expensive foods are some times the most valuable for nutrition.

2. Take advantage of week-end specials.

3. Buy in quantity, especially during sales or during the season when a particular food is cheapest. This, of course, would depend upon your storage facilities. And never buy more than you are sure you can use.

4. Avoid waste in handling, serving and storing. It's not a good buy if you end up throwing out part of it.

If you are married when the moon is waxing, your marriage will be a happy one.

DUAL PURPOSE dishwasher is a great help to the new bride. The portable '68 shown fits conveniently into small space or can be moved about as needed. Has 5 washing cycles, including new Mini-Wash, perfect for fine china. Soft food disposer liquifies soft food and washes it away. Cherry wood top has no drip grooved edges. New Mobile Maid top load dishwasher by General Electric.

DISHWASHER WITH CUTTING-BOARD TOP

New brides should learn to budget their time, as well as finances, in order to be happy and efficient homemakers. One of the greatest time-savers and work-savers is the automatic dishwasher.

A portable dishwasher, such as a 1968 model by General Electric, is fine for a first home or apartment since it fits conveniently in a small space and can be moved about as needed. Dishes can be stashed away as soon as they are used and a full day's load can be washed at one time. After dinner in the evening, the Bride can sit and hold hands with her groom instead of having them elbow-deep in soapsuds.

This new portable has five washing cycles to take care of everything from pots and pans to the most fragile china and crystal. New Mini-Wash cycle pampers her new wedding china since it washes gently with less detergent in less time. There's never any need for hand rinsing or scraping because the Mobile Maid unit's soft food disposer liquifies soft food and washes it away.

Use Pictures For Best Effects

Whether your first home as a bride is a little apartment, a small house in need of paint, or a dream home, the problems of decorating it move right in with you. The "big" items, such as furniture, frequently present the least difficulty. If new furnishings aren't possible on your newly-married budget, "early attic" or the latest in "rummage sale provincial" can make a charming home with a little paint and imagination.

One quick, easy, and relatively inexpensive decorating trick can be accomplished largely with things you're sure to have on hand. The Picture and Frame Institute suggests using wedding and family photos to decorate a secondary wall — that is, any bedroom, hall, or stairway wall where personal accessories are as appropriate as framed reproductions of paintings. Living and dining area walls should be reserved for more universally enjoyed art and decorating accessories, the Institute points out.

You can begin with one photo of the wedding party or several and add to your family wall as new photos are taken or new family members added. Frame your photos in wood or metal tone frames from any department, chain, or variety store, mixing the frame styles and sizes.

Your photos might be framed individually or as a montage (several small photos arranged in a somewhat random fashion in one large frame). For an unusual effect, line your frame with colored paper or cloth that shows between photos or use color around the edges of a single picture. For a color-photo, choose a liner to match or complement a color in the picture. Around black and white photos, almost any bright color creates interest.

Arrange your photos with one of the larger ones as the focal point. Center it where you wish the eye to fall first. Careful placement of the surrounding pictures will give a finished look to the arrangement and still leave room for additions.

Use and Enjoy Durable Fine China 'from this day forward'

There's probably no time in a girl's life when she has to make so many decisions as she does in the months before her wedding. All at once, she faces wedding arrangements, bridesmaids, honeymoon, and trousseau, to say nothing of furnishing and equipping a brand new home. The Bridal Register, of course, is a great help here but the big decision on china, flatware and crystal patterns has to come first. This is a very personal choice, influenced by such things as the type of home she will have, the kind of entertaining she plans to do, and what appeals to her in color and design.

In choosing her dinnerware, most brides hope to begin life in their new home with a set of bone china, the finest of all. Despite its fragile appearance, bone china is tougher and more resistant to chipping and breaking than other types of ceramics. Its beautiful translucency actually derives from the strength that is achieved by firing the clay at such intense heat. The discovery of the combination of strength with translucency was made in England by Josiah Spode over two hundred years ago when he added bone ash to the clay. This gave his English bone china a pure whiteness and uniformity that showed the patterns and colors with a clarity that had never been achieved before. The craftsman did not have the American bride in mind at the time, but his heirs have devised a plan to help her very difficult decision-making by letting her live with a variety of patterns over a period of time to see which is the one she really wants. She does this with a set of Spode's bone china patterns reproduced on heavy cardboard, faithful to color and pattern to the last detail except for the whiteness and translucency of the china itself. The bride-to-be can try them with her linen colors and her flatware and crystal choice, leave them out, look at them every day, discuss them with her family and friends, and have the pressure lightened.

So, the choice made, the Bridal Register can take over. Eight place settings should fill basic requirements, with four additional dinner plates for buffet suppers. Extra cups are always a good idea, too, since they are particularly vulnerable to accidents. Hollow ware pieces are a matter of individual needs and depend largely on what entertaining is planned.

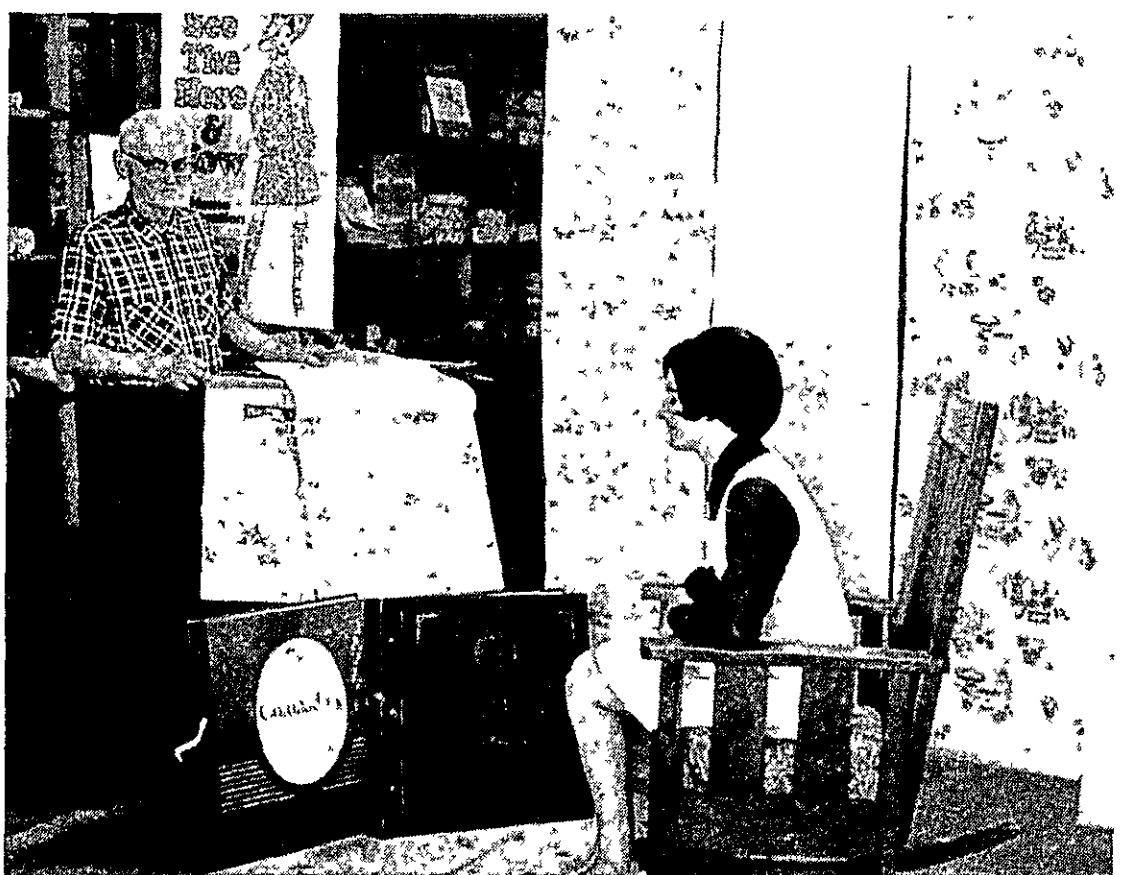

If the new pair are lucky enough to start out their housekeeping with a set of fine bone china, it is important to remember that it does not have to be kept for special occasions only. The best of bone china is made to be used day after day, because it will last many lifetimes with just ordinary care, including repeated dishwasher washings. As with most good things, it is meant to be enjoyed.

Never look directly at a full moon until you have first looked at it over your right shoulder if you wish to have good luck for the duration of the moon.

Make a wish over your left shoulder on the first star you see at night, and the wish will come true.

It is bad luck to point at a star.

A trim for a wedding gift could be interlocking rings of gold foil or braid, tied with a bow. Use trims that will travel if your gift is to be mailed. Flat, tailored bows are best. Wrap attendants' gifts with "your" colors.

Living In A Nutshell — Or A One-Room Home

One-room living is as much a product of modern American civilization as transistors and tranquilizers. Not since caves, igloos and teepees has so little space served so many purposes. In these days of high rents, more and more Americans have to start their careers or marriages, or both, while living in one-room apartments.

Fortunately, the situation has produced a category of furnishings designed to conserve space and prevent the claustrophobic feeling of living in an overcrowded closet. Dual purpose furniture such as the day bed and convertible sofa can be found in all styles and materials, from the elegant small-scale bed of the eighteenth century to the large, cushiony contemporary sofas that hide a double bed. They are slimmed down and styled up so that nobody is any the wiser that a bed lurks under the couch.

Wall storage systems can capsule a complete household including a dining table that is simple enough in appearance to double as a desk for now, or in the guest room of the home that will come later. Royal System designed in Denmark, for instance, steers one-room furnishings to highly maneuverable and personal groupings with its units that put into one neat package the chests, cabinets, drawers and shelves needed for everything from clothes and linens to stereo, bar and books. Using the tension poles to support back-to-back arrangements, this suspended furniture need not even take up a wall and provides a room divider into the bargain. It's a breeze to take down for moving, or just to shift the individual units from one spot to another.

When one room plays many parts, there has to be some slight but significant distinction between areas, at least to provide a change of pace when moving from one to the other. Screens, room dividers, chests, placed back-to-back with sofas, and area rugs, are a few of the decorative devices which will mark off invisible boundaries within one room.

Some of the smartest decorating plans have developed from efficiency living.

MARVELS OF TOMORROW

Marvelous as is this world we live in, even more spectacular marvels are in store for the Bride and Groom of tomorrow, to say nothing of us lesser mortals. Consider:

- Electronic shopping. The homemaker's console will be equipped with a wide screen that will put her in finger-tip control with the store of her choice. When she sees what she likes on her screen, she gives her order by push-button. The store's computer will total the bill and send it to the home computer and to the computer at the family bank.

- Computers in cars to help drivers travel at speeds not now possible safely.

- Vacuum cleaners running around the house on their own, cleaning without any human help.

After the Wedding . . . .

Their Thoughts Will Turn to a NEW HOME of Their Very Own!

Every couple dreams of their own home when they are making plans for their big day. So why pay rent when you can build a home of your very own, to your own specifications? ## Love May Be Blind But Cameras Are Not...

Will you look as beautiful through the lens of your honeymoon camera as you do through the loving eyes of that happy groom clicking the shutter?

To be sure that you do, here are a few hints on posing from the gals who earn their living in front of a camera.

Relax! But be aware of how you are holding yourself. Sitting helps you to relax, but don't relax so much that you slump. Keep your torso straight, chest and head high. If your knees are less than perfect — and whose aren't? — you might try clasping your hands over your knees . . . and get that precious ring in the picture, too.

You can add a touch of color and casualness to a picture, and keep your hair in place at the same time by propping your sunglasses up on your head. Other props will help you achieve a natural look, and make you a part of the action around you. Try on a hat in the Straw Bazaar, pick up a piece of coral from the beach, let yourself be caught looking up from the Guide Book.

If your husband wants to come in close for that picture, as he is sure to do, remember that open shade or back lighting is more flattering than harsh, shadow-making front lighting. Keep your smile gentle so as to minimize lines around your mouth.

Of course if your honeymoon camera happens to be one that makes "instant" pictures, you can see right away whether or not your pose was a beautiful one and correct any errors before it is too late. Your honeymoon is a once-in-a-lifetime occasion, and it would be a pity to wait until you get home to find that you had not captured it on film.

These days, even the most budget-minded honeymooners can afford instant color photographs. The all new Colorpack II, introduced in March by the Polaroid Corporation, makes instant color pictures, and costs less than thirty dollars. It incorporates many features that prior to this were found only in cameras costing many times more — an electric eye for perfect exposures, a transistorized electronic shutter, a precision-ground three-element glass lens for exceptionally sharp pictures.

It's so simple that you'll even be able to take great pictures of your husband.

Bob Ballard, owner of DeWitt Lumber Co., shows one of the new kitchens they now have on display, ideal for the bride's new home. DeWitt Lumber Co. also carries a colorful array of brand-name kitchen carpeting for added beauty and durability. ## Baking Soda a Bride's Party Helper

The bride with the mostest just naturally knows

About post-party clean-up and how to dispose

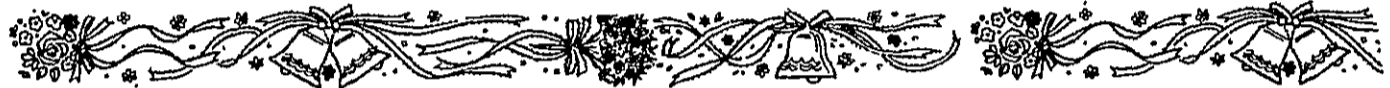

Of rings around glasses and stale ashtray o'da' . . .

She relies on the talents of BAKING soda.

The poetry may not win any prizes, but the soda will, in household arts.

Yes, with baking soda lies the clean-up solution to the most unpleasant parts of party aftermaths. Unless you can wash glasses as they're emptied, which just isn't good party protocol, you're stuck with sticky rings and lipstick smudges that call for persuasive scrubbing. Soaking them in a sinkful of soda solution . . . warm water and three tablespoons of soda . . . does your work for you and glasses emerge sparkling. And if you want to really dazzle your guests with your glassware and crystal, give them a quick pre-party dunk in the soda solution. Stage managers use this method on glass and crystal props before setting them on stage to bring out the sparkle.

When it comes to ashtrays which always need scrubbing, give them the same treatment. Here, one of baking soda's most endearing talents comes into play . . . its sweetening powers, so with the soda soak they come fresh as well as clean.

Home Receptions Are 'In'

That old-fashioned custom of having wedding receptions at home is once again becoming the "in" thing.

Many brides-to-be feel it's much more gracious to celebrate the nuptials in their parents' homes than in large hotels or banquet halls. And now, thanks to the rapidly growing rental industry, the entertaining can be as elegant as anyone could wish.

No matter how many guests are invited, they can be served in the friendly atmosphere of the home with style and a minimum of work. Since the main job of arranging a reception falls to the mother of the bride, she's most interested in work-and worry-saving services. After all, she wants to be relaxed and able to enjoy the wedding, too, without fretting about a lot of last-minute details.

The best way to assure this relaxed attitude, according to officials of A to Z Rental, Inc., is to plan the reception early and consult experts in the field. If you're the mother of a bride-to-be planning a home reception, it's wise for you and your daughter to start by visiting the local rental center to look over the wide variety of items they have for even the most elaborate affair.

Essentially, all you really need to know beforehand is where the reception will be held (indoors or out), the time of day, the approximate number of guests to be invited and whether you'll serve a sit-down dinner or just cake and coffee. The center operator will then help you decide on the items you'll need.

You'll probably want to start with the basic items. In most rental centers you have a choice of round or banquet-type tables, fine damask linens, china or crystal table settings, silver serving dishes and flatware, and a wide variety of glassware.

To add a touch of glamour, you may wish to rent a silver punch bowl, silver candelabra, or even a silver champagne fountain.

Even Smallest Dining Area Can Have Charm

Sit-down dining has been making a welcome return. With all the world of difference between dining and just plain eating, it is important to create an atmosphere that aids the appetite and pleasant conversation at the same time. Whether your table finds its way into the living room or enjoys the luxury of a room of its own, it can restore social dignity to the family scene.

The dining room used to be the easiest room in the house to decorate. It was also often the dullest. Happily this is far from the case today; now the dining room can often be one of the most exciting, most individualized areas in the home. Even if your dining room is only an L-shaped extension of the living room or a windowless entrance foyer, it can be enlivened by imaginative backgrounds, cheerful color schemes and interesting accessories.

GOOD MORNING, good afternoon and happy week-end! Say it all with this tasty brunch for two, sizzling on a non-stick electric aluminum griddle. Enjoy such a grill as chicken supreme sandwiches, made with chopped celery, walnuts, nutmeg and other goodies . . . yum! Recipe in article accompanying this picture.

Newly-Weds' Delight: Brunch . . . It Can Be Very Special Yet Easy

The 20th century invention of brunch is most popular on weekends. It's usually served anytime between 11:30 a.m. 2:30 p.m., depending on how late you like to sleep.

You can call a late breakfast a brunch, but brunch can really be a meal for special occasions. For the bride who's a working wife, a fancy week-end brunch can offer a real chance to polish her culinary skills.

Brunch can be as fancy as eggs benedict, brioches, papaya slices and champagne, or as simple as tomato juice and scrambled egg sandwiches. But one of the easiest ways to prepare brunch is all-in-one on an electric griddle. The electric griddle, made of aluminum as is all electric cookware because of aluminum's talent for conducting heat fast and evenly, is thermostat controlled so that you can't overcook, even in a half-asleep condition. Get one with a non-stick surface that just sponges off and when hubby offers to help clean up he'll realize how smart you are.

If you don't have an electric griddle, a big skillet will do nicely, but make sure it's aluminum so that the pan heats evenly all over the bottom and won't scorch anything if you look away a moment. Aluminum cookware, in fact, is best to give the novice cook more confidence.

If the day is cold serve hot coffee or chocolate, if the weather is balmy, iced coffee with a cinnamon stick, and brownies, cookies, or chocolate pudding for dessert. Don't forget to set the brunch table with your best tableware and fresh flowers, of course.

Help! for the New Bride, in Many Ways

As she walks down the aisle that starry-eyed bride is the envy of her friends. But all too soon that same gal will be faced with problems. She will probably "keep house" along with a full-time job. She must be a companion to her husband and develop an interest in his hobbies . . . be a part of his working life and stay young and sparkling in looks, dress and thinking.

She needs help.

Why not help her before she gets married. For one of the showers for the bride-to-be give her a book full of helpful household work-savers collected from her friends and from women's pages of newspapers. Buy a spiral-bound book and ask each friend for one or more suggestions for saving work. Type them on pieces of paper a size that can be pasted in the book and then ask the friend to autograph her page or pages. The collection will be a nice memento as well as a great help.

Here are some suggestions as a start. A pad and a pencil are a girl's best friend. Keep them handy in the kitchen and as food or household supplies run low, jot it on the pad ready for the next trip to the grocery.

Use paper service for breakfast. Plastic-coated paper plates and cups for hot food and beverages are so pretty and china-like that a new husband will think the bride is very smart to latch on to these time savers. Cold drink cups are perfect for juice and the whole service goes into the wastebasket after breakfast.

Get a little basket to keep items like furniture polish, dust cloths, window cleaner, paper cleaning cloths, and any other cleaning favorites.

Home-Loving Gifts Have a Bright, Useful Future

Every bride loves to receive wedding gifts, especially if it's an item that will help her in her new tasks as homemaker, wife and hostess. Indeed, those who find the "perfect" wedding gift are sure to be remembered well.

For example, one thoughtful giver — recalling the days of her own inexperience — can provide an electric coffee maker made of bright, shining aluminum: no guessing about how to make a perfect brew each morning (and that's a game too many a bride has played!) The smart bride will soon find that this gift is also perfect for serving demi-tasse in the living room after dinner.

A high dome electric skillet is also a happy medium between the pretty and the practical gift. This piece of aluminum cookware, designed to cook anything from chicken to French toast, will especially be appreciated by a bride who hasn't had much cooking experience: automatic heat controls plus aluminum's excellent heat conductivity means recipes are almost foolproof. By setting the temperature and a time, the new homemaker can make a success of her first meal. In fact, for a personal touch, one can tuck a "tried and true" buffet skillet recipe in with the greeting card.

Still another gift idea is an aluminum griddle. Whether it's an electric plug-in or the kind that spreads over two range units, this item will quickly find its way into the breakfast routine. Bacon, sausages or ham slices can be warmed up, then pushed to one side while eggs or pancakes are made on the rest of the griddle. In fact, there's another bonus to this aluminum gift: it probably has one of the non-stick finishes that make clean-up so delightfully easy. Indeed, any homemaker will go for that, whether she's a bride of five days or 50 years!

By the way, if you think that these gift ideas are too usual and that the bride will probably receive duplications, chances are that everyone else thinks so too . . . and, of course, the bride ends up without them. So, go ahead, give practical and pretty — a gift that only you will be thanked for.

Want Sterling? Parents Are Bride's Best Friends, Setting High Standards

When today's bride-to-be dreams of acquiring that most treasured of wedding gifts — her set of sterling flatware — help is often close at hand.

In a recent survey of 900 brides, the girl's parents were found to be the principal sources of flatware wedding gifts. Friends were second in line and uncles and aunts were third, followed by the bride's sisters, brothers and grandparents.

Tradition has always played a part in the bride's parents' gift of sterling. As long ago as the days of ancient Greece, it was customary for a father to give his daughter one-tenth of his possessions often in the form of silver coins — when she married.

Today, solid silver is more than ever treasured as a precious metal, and sterling flatware is the most meaningful and appropriate gift the bride's parents can give. Next to her engagement and wedding rings, the bride's sterling is her most personal possession, and it is especially cherished when presented by her parents. And by giving their daughter her sterling at this time, her parents make sure that she has it when she needs it most — during those early years of marriage when the accessories of gracious living mean so much in setting standards and establishing traditions for the young family.

Even when the bride's parents follow tradition and give her sterling flatware, the bride is wise to select — and register — her pattern early. As the survey points out, a bride's friends are the second biggest donor of sterling flatware gifts. When they ask what she'd prefer to receive, they can be referred to the wedding gift register of the store where the bride has selected her pattern, where they'll learn which pieces of sterling she's already received, and those she still wants.

Quantity to Buy

The quantity of sterling which the bride needs depends, of course, on her entertainment plans, but most brides like to start out with enough flatware to serve eight persons. The standard place setting consists of six pieces — place fork, knife and spoon, salad fork, teaspoon and spreader. Each of these pieces is essential for everyday use and most are required for even informal entertaining.

Additions to Place Setting

Among the additions which can be made to each place setting, the most important is the second teaspoon. Two teaspoons are necessary, for instance, when fruit and coffee are served at breakfast, and when a dessert requiring a spoon is served with coffee or tea at luncheon.

The bride-to-be who dotes on oysters or shrimp or seafood cocktail will want to add the cocktail fork to her list of most-wanted pieces.

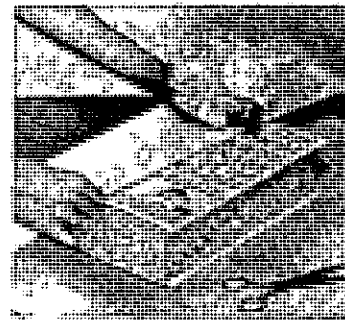

Steak knives are, of course, always welcome and useful additions.

If the bride owns, or expects to receive, demitasse cups, she'll want little sterling coffee spoons to go with them — and there's just no substitute for these charming miniatures.

Essential Serving Pieces

The serving pieces are often the most beautiful ones in a sterling silver service, and add much to the elegance of dining and buffet tables. Many of them do double duty, too. The pie or cake server, for instance, is a handsome piece which can also be used for serving fish and cutlets, or waffles. The cold meat or buffet fork is perfect for serving sliced meats, chops, souffles and some casserole dishes — and together with the tablespoon, it makes an all-purpose serving set.

Many other serving and place pieces are available in sterling to add greater beauty to the bride's table. Whether they're given to her by her parents, friends or other relatives, they're sure to be much-used and much-enjoyed in the years ahead.

Establish Short-Cuts In Laundering

Housework, once you add a husband to your life, takes on new dimensions. There's more of everything to do from cooking, dishwashing, and dusting to laundry. Start right off by establishing shortcuts. The time you can save in fifty-two weeks times say fifty years of marriage adds up to a great big beautiful chunk of time.

Now laundering is a good example of simplified technique saving time. First, see that your equipment is placed so that you can move in one direction from job to job. The logical progression is: sort clothes, remove stains, pre-treat clothes, wash, dry and iron them. If your equipment isn't placed so that it jives with this sequence, see if your new husband can't move things around so that it does.

Use as few products for as many different jobs as you can, for the movement required just to reach up or down, search, and pull out another package is a proven time and energy robber. Take laundering again: You can do beautifully with a detergent and washing soda. The latter, also known as sal soda concentrated, acts as a water softener, a pre-treating agent and soap or detergent extender. After sorting the white from the colored wash, that with the heavy soil from that with the light, check for stains and then for those hard-to-remove rings around collars and cuffs of blouses and shirts. Your washing results will be better if you pre-treat these rings by dampening them and then brushing with dry washing soda.

For more extensive pre-treating, such as that required to brighten and soften white wear that has greyed from leftover soap or detergent residue, run through the regular washing cycle without soap or detergent . . . just three tablespoons washing soda. Repeat the process until wash water's sudless and clear. Then launder in the usual way.

Choose Sink Wisely, Let It Mirror Conveniences, Ease of Upkeep

So you're getting married — how nice! But before you take the big plunge, get your head out of the clouds for a few minutes and consider the factors that will make your home a gracious, smooth - running place in which to live. Because many of you will be working for awhile, your household must be planned for optimum efficiency. You will be able to allot very little time for cleaning, preparing meals and general housework.

The well-planned home usually starts in the kitchen. In this room you will be spending about 60 percent of your time at home. Do you know where most of this time will be spent? In front of the sink, of course. Because the sink is the heart of the kitchen, make sure you choose wisely. In keeping with today's sleek, tailored, very "in" look, stainless steel sinks are the best thing going. Not only do they reflect all the colors of your kitchen (which eliminates changing the sink every time you change the decor) but they last a lifetime and will never chip or stain.

The world's largest manufacturer of stainless steel sinks, Elkay Manufacturing Company, suggests that you consider how easy life can be with a modern stainless steel sink. Stainless steel is non-absorbent, which means that food stains will remain on the surface until you wipe them away. Stainless steel does not chip or scratch. In fact, scrubbing with scouring powder only further enhances their lustre — just like the patina you acquire on your sterling silver after a few years. So scrub away! For those of you who have better things to do than scrub sinks (like a week-end skiing trip with your husband) you'll be happy to know that stainless steel need only be wiped out with a damp cloth after use. Occasional cleaning with your favorite cleanser is all that is needed.

Your husband will love you even more, if you place a sink in his bar area. The tall gooseneck faucets will enable him to fill the tallest pitcher, glass or even a punch bowl with ease. Many models are available, including a double bowl hospitality sink. Ice can be stored in one bowl, and a thick wooden board acts as a lid for the compartment and a cutting surface for slicing lemon, oranges and other items for drink garnishes.

Just think how smoothly parties will run when your favorite bartender has a hospitality center at his disposal. You won't have to stumble over each other in the kitchen, and with him out of the way, you have more space to create the most tempting appetizers on the newly-wed circuit.

On the beauty front, fashion begins at the top of the hairdo. Makeup authorities match complexions to hair tints.

Try These On for Thighs . . .

Just like the Bride, this year's lingerie trousseau has added the traditional something new.

Today, brides in step with the current fashion look can wear smartly short skirts with new comfort and confidence. When skirts first soared to new heights, women turned to panty hose to keep legs sleek and smooth without stocking tops and garters to mar the leggy look.

Now, in Panty Pair, a leading hosiery manufacturer combines the best of panty hose styling with a unique gentle-support panty. With Panty Pair styling, the lightweight two-way stretch panty overlaps the narrow welt of special thigh-high hosiery. The smooth cuff of the panty holds stockings comfortably and firmly in place without garters, snaps or hooks.

The starter set in Panty Pair includes the go-together panty and stockings. Then you can build a complete hosiery wardrobe by adding more stockings in either jet black or complexion tones.

For brides and everyone in tune with today's fashions, the new coordinated panty hosiery fashion supplies the right ending to a happily-ever-after story for high-riding hemlines.

FLOWERS SAY "FORGET-ME-NOT!", though the bride and groom may be long gone on their honeymoon. The proud new parents-in-law will be especially touched by their daughter's and son's thoughtfulness. Floral designers can send a special wedding thank-you to the folks. Photo, courtesy Florists' Transworld Delivery.

Loving Way to Express Your Thanks

After all her fears, she didn't trip on her train. Dad remembered his one line and the groom showed up! The bridal bouquet landed in happy hands and rose petal "confetti" accompanied the new Mr. and Mrs. to their honeymoon car.

The rules of etiquette claim the bride has six months to acknowledge her wedding gifts. The girl with foresight, however, can send special, personalized thank-yous well in advance — without cataloging her presents while sitting on the banks of Niagara Falls.

While the bride-to-be is discussing church and reception arrangements with her Florists' Transworld Delivery design expert, she can also order post-wedding bouquets. The thoughtful gesture is an unusual way to thank friends for throwing showers, buttoning gowns and calming nerves before the ceremony.

Only one girl catches the good-luck flowers tossed at the reception; imagine how thrilled other close friends will be to receive miniature bouquets the next day! Each of the nosegay remembrances carries a special wish for equal happiness.

Parents-in-law will be more impressed than ever with their son's choice if a "thank-you-for-the-help-you've-been" planter or centerpiece arrives before the bride can invite them for their first home cooked meal. Through the FTD inter-city network of florists, the order can easily be filled, whether or not the girl has married the boy next door.

And then to the biggest and best gift of all — a smashing bouquet of her parents' favorite posies for the couple who paid the bills. Of course, the newlyweds pick up the tab for this one! No fair telling the florists to add it to Dad's charge.

Get Raves From The Groom When You Make Coffee

To be able to turn out a good pot of coffee . . . that's a talent . . . or so thinks the new husband who expects the worst of his bride's brew. Actually good coffee-making is more of a science than a talent. All you have to do to draw raves for the first cup you cook up in your new home is stick to some basic rules.

Understanding the nature of coffee reveals the reasons for the rules. First, the flavor elements of the coffee bean are highly volatile. Once it's roasted and exposed to air, its aroma, body, strength and flavor quickly evaporate. And being highly absorbent, ground coffee is just as quick to pick up alien flavors as it is to part with its own. So, the first rule is: Don't expose coffee to air any longer than is absolutely necessary. This means keep the lid off the coffee only long enough to spoon the coffee into the pot and the faster you do it the better. In a percolator, except the electric model, have the water in the pot boiling before you spoon in the coffee. This eliminates the useless time lapse where the coffee just sits losing flavor while waiting for the water to boil. Don't buy more coffee than you can use up in a short time.

Another peculiarity of coffee is that it leaves a fine, invisible but almost indissoluble film of oil behind in the pot. This impairs the flavor of all subsequent brews, contrary to the opinion of our great-great grandmothers who believed cleaning the pot destroyed the aromas of a thousand makings. Because the film penetrates so deeply, it's impervious to soap

Honeymoon? Travel Light And Easy

Whether you are headed for an exotic honeymoon paradise, or for a weekend in a cozy, country cottage, a few packing reminders always come in handy.

Heavier articles such as shoes should be packed against the bottom end of your suitcase so when the porter clunks your bags down hard (and he will!) the heavies won't slide down and crush all in their path.

Since air travel puts every stop brief hours apart, pack your dresses last on top of everything else. The moment you arrive, the dresses come out first to go busily about shedding wrinkles and the rest of the bag need not be unpacked at all. And another quick tip — color coordinate sunglasses to each outfit as you pack, so there is no fumbling about for the right eye excitement when you are ready to go.

The really smart bride knows that a clutch of colorful sunglasses adds weightless chic to a travel trousseau. They also offer the important bonus of rested eyes while soaking up the sun and sights. The first pair to tuck into the light end of your bag could be a Cool-Ray Polaroid "Sunswept." It's dramatic, dashing and affords maximum eye protection in deep wrapped shape and shatter resistant lenses that eliminate reflected glare.

And how about a surprise for that all-important man of yours, a matching pair of "shades" so that he'll enjoy the sights as much as you.

and detergent. While there are special coffee pot cleaners available they're costly, and since they have but a single use, they're costly in space too. Most authorities therefore still favor inexpensive baking soda. Not only has it the ability to cut through the film it gets rid of those stale coffee odors. Moreover, being a pure food product baking soda's a perfectly safe cleaner.

So rule number two is to keep the pot clean. You can either scour the pot with dry soda as is done twice weekly at Chicago's Palmer House, famed for its fine brews, or you can run your coffee maker through its regular brewing cycle using two tablespoons of baking soda in place of coffee. Since the boiling soda water darkens aluminum, remove aluminum trappings from the pot before you start the treatment and use only the dry method on pots made entirely of aluminum.

FOR COFFEE YOU CAN SERVE with pride and confidence buy only the amount of coffee that can be used up in a short time, don't keep the coffee can open a second longer than necessary and at least twice weekly freshen the coffee pot with baking soda.

Happy Hours with Games

Whether it's a twosome or a crowd, fast action games are increasing in favor as a focal point for fun. A happy combination of strategy and fast action is the game of Nile, inspired by competitions of Cleopatra's day. Players compete with tiles which must be placed continuously to chart the course of the ancient river.

A very fast action game that appeals to everybody is Yahtzee, an ingenious twist on dice games. For those who like word building, Scribbage is a favorite, by E. S. Lowe. A popular party game based on simple math equations is Heads Up. Players throw dice in an effort to create basics in addition, subtraction, multiplication and division. It's harder than it sounds and full of laughs.

There's new enthusiasm for chess, too. Renaissance chess sets are a handsome focal point for party play or a romantic twosome.
