DeWitt recall goes to voters Tuesday

By Jim Edwards
County News Editor

DEWITT -- Voters in the city of DeWitt will go the polls Tuesday, June 26, to decide whether or not to recall 4 city officials.

Listed on the recall ballot are the mayor, Raymond DeWitt; 2-year councilmen Frederick (Bill) Shaver and Stanley Tenney; and 4-year councilman Robert Ballard.

DeWitt and Tenney were elected to their positions in the November election, Shaver was appointed by the mayor to fill the vacancy created by his election and Ballard is finishing out the final 2 years of a 4-year term.

The move to call for a re-call election was prompted by the approving of zoning by the City Council for a condominium complex in the Lake Geneva area of DeWitt.

The council voted 4-3 to approve the zoning for the project proposed by developer Don Ducharme.

Those officials listed on the recall ballot voted to approve the zoning change to make the project possible. At the time Lake Geneva residents objected strongly at a public hearing and later at the council meeting when the approval was given.

A motion later to rescind the action failed by the same 4-3 vote. The mayor's vote, in both cases, broke a 3-3 tie.

Citizens present at the council meeting when the zoning was approved indicated action would be taken to hold a recall election.

Shortly after, petitions were circulated and enough signatures were obtained to require the recall election.

Reasons stated in the petitions for the recall were the Lake Geneva condominium zoning and the fact the council had taken no action concerning an ordinance approved by the voters in November.

Although not stated in the petition, the ordinance approved by the voters allows liquor by the glass in the city.

Action at the most recent city council meeting, approved the request by the DeWitt Bar for the lone license allowable by law within the city limits.

In the event all officials on the ballot are recalled, it would be impossible for the council to have a quorum. With that in mind, Mayor Raymond DeWitt said Monday night action has been taken to insure vacancies are filled by the governor as soon as possible after the election.

If 1 or more of the officials are recalled, another election will be held to fill the vacancies.

Persons wishing to become candidates have 15 days after the election date has been set to file their nominating petitions with the city clerk. Petitions must contain 3% of the registered voters, a total of 30-35 signatures.

Any officials recalled from office are not allowed to run in the special election for the same office.

City attorney, Dan Matson, did say, however, it could be possible for a recalled councilman to run for mayor or a recalled mayor could seek election to a council post.

Park Lake story angers Bath Township residents

By Laurie Kipp
County News Writer

BATH -- It was business as usual for the 1st 20 minutes of Bath Township's meeting Monday evening, and then the accusations began.

Melvin Fisk, owner of Mel's Bait Shop on Park Lake Rd, questioned Supervisor Roy VanSickle about a recent article appearing in the State Journal which stated that VanSickle said Park Lake was unfit for swimming. Fisk said his business "dropped 100% since the article came out," and that he had to close up shop since he couldn't afford to stay open.

VanSickle was quoted in the story entitled "Park Lake-Pew!" as saying the lake was "so badly polluted you could almost float on top of the sewage." In defense of the story, VanSickle said he "can't tell the press how to write stories," and implied that, although the story may have been exaggerated, "it is only a matter of degree."

FISK SUGGESTED that, if the pollution is so bad, the board condemn any houses dumping sewage into the lake.

VanSickle replied that he didn't think the township board would want to close off all the houses in the area.

Fisk then asked VanSickle "If people heard there was sewage next to VanSickle's meat market, would they buy meat there?"

VanSickle said, "No, but if you had records that said so, wouldn't you make it known?"

FISK STATED that he thought the township should take care of the problem. He went on to say that VanSickle is at fault. "I blame him," he stated and demanded that VanSickle make a retraction.

"There won't be any retraction from the supervisor," VanSickle replied.

Trustee Richard Bragdon came to VanSickle's defense, and reiterated VanSickle's earlier statement that he could not speak for the board, and was only speaking for himself. Bragdon stated that he, too, considered Park Lake polluted.

Richard Whited, a Bath resident, said he came to the meeting for 2 reasons -- he had been accused of not attending meetings because of the no-smoking ordinance, and because he thought "it was pretty rotten politics to put a thing like that Park Lake story in the paper." He went on to say that it dropped the value of everyone's property.

"YOU HEAR SO much about pollution, pollution, pollution," he stated, "but I don't think anyone has ever seen it."

VanSickle noted that Health Dept records are on file for anyone to see. "But you didn't ask for it," he said.

Trustee Bragdon added that the State Health Dept said it is polluted. "The lots over there aren't big enough either," he said.

The board was then accused of "trying to blast residents out of the area."

TRUSTEE CARLETON noted that for 2 years in a row the Health Dept posted the area, "Swim at your own risk." "If it's that bad," he remarked, "they should post it again."

VanSickle said the area they were discussing is posted, "No trespassing" and shouldn't require Health Dept signs.

He also said, "Nobody is any prouder, who would fight for this township any more than me. I'll be the first one to put an article in the paper if it isn't true," VanSickle stated.

Park Lake residents then questioned a dye-testing project undertaken by the Michigan Water Resources Commission in the summer of 1970. The board replied that those guilty of having septic tanks emptying into the lake were supposed to correct the situation.

Trustee John Snider added the observation that the "county just won't enforce it."

Whited then demanded a roll call vote of the board to determine whether or not the board supports VanSickle's action.

TRUSTEE BRAGDON told Whited that this was "unnecessary" since VanSickle had spoken for himself. "He already told you that," he added.

VanSickle replied that the Water Resources Commission and the township board are already on record stating that Park Lake is polluted. "We need sewers," he stated.

"I called the State Journal," he said, "to make sure people at least have a chance to find out."

FISK VOWED TO have the Health Dept run tests again. "I'm not done," he stated.

In other action, the no smoking ordinance, which was largely ignored by a couple of residents at the meeting, was modified. An amended motion by Thomas Woodruff, supported by Carleton, carried. The new rule allows for a 10 minute cigarette break every time the meeting lasts more than 1 hour. Smokers will be required to leave the meeting room.

Van Sickle responds to Park Lake criticism

ED NOTE:

The following is a statement given to the County News by Bath Twp Supervisor Roy VanSickle in response to recent criticism of his remarks to the press that Park Lake is polluted.

I received considerable criticism at our most recent Township Board meeting from a few people because I informed the local press that they should not advertise Park Lake as a good place for people to go swimming.

In considering that there may be others who feel this way, I would like to explain my action.

I firmly believe I can best serve my township by recognizing its needs and working as hard as possible toward the goal of filling these needs. How much good has been accomplished in the past by negative thinking, which refuses to

Police Chief discusses bike problem in St Johns

ST. JOHNS -- As St Johns joins the rest of the country in a bicycle craze, many may be wheeling toward problems according to St Johns City Police.

Police Chief Lyle French explained that many are violating basic rules of bicycling. The most common violations are:

1. Not riding on the right hand side of roadway
2. Failure to obey traffic laws
3. Riding bicycles in the business district
4. Riding bicycles in the middle of the street
5. Lack of proper lighting for night riding
6. Riding with more persons than the bicycle is equipped to carry

French said he feels it is the duty of parents to teach their children the proper way to ride bicycles and obey the laws since many young riders are not aware of the way they should ride. Adults are guilty, too, he noted. "We see this many times," he said.

"If they were driving a car, they would stop for a stop sign," French said, "but when riding bicycles they fail to do so."

"Many times you will see a family out riding in a group," he said, "and this would be a good opportunity for parents to teach their children to obey the laws and the proper way to ride bicycles."

French noted that their office has received complaints about some riders intentionally antagonizing or daring motorists by dangerous practices, although he has never seen it happen personally.

French listed the most common errors committed by bike riders as the following:

1. Running stop signs
2. Riding on the wrong side of the street
3. Not having proper lights for night riding
4. Riding more than 2 abreast

Bicycles seem to be generally in good shape, he noted, partly because of the number of persons buying bicycles recently. However, he added that his office receives numerous complaints about improperly lighted bikes. "This is a very serious situation," he said,

"and also a very dangerous one."

In an attempt to correct the current situation, French said they first will attempt to make the people more aware of problems concerning bicycles and the laws regarding them.

"If we cannot get the cooperation of the people," he stated, "we will have to look at the possibility of issuing tickets to violators. They would have to appear in court the same as a motorist who receives a ticket."

French suggested that some civic organization could possibly conduct a program of some sort to help alleviate the problem.

Bicycles, according to city ordinance, must be licensed at a cost of 25¢.

The complete St Johns Bicycle Ordinance appears in this week's County News.

Two of the donations received last week at the Clinton Area Career Center are these 1972 engines. Displaying the 6 and 8 cylinder engines are (from left) Roger Enyart, auto instructor; Ion Keefer, auto instructor; John DeCarli, Ford representative; and Lou Kramer of Egan Ford.

Auto center receives training aids

ST. JOHNS -- The Clinton Area Career Center was given several automobile parts last week by Egan's Ford in St. Johns and the Ford Motor Company.

The center, located in downtown St. Johns, received the engine and front end of a 1973 Cougar to use as a training unit, a 1972 8 cylinder engine with automatic transmission, a 1972 6-cylinder engine, and two 1972 differential units.

The Cougar was on a train which was involved in an accident in Owosso recently. It includes the engine, air conditioning unit and transmission as well as front wheels and a portion of the body.

The Ford Training Center in Lansing has also donated parts to the center. They provided air conditioning test units and Ford service manuals.

Automotive instructor Roger Enyart said that so far the boys in auto classes have torn down the 6-cylinder engine, reassembled and started it.

He noted that both engines will be used for tune-ups, engine and transmission tests. The cars at the center are used for training in air conditioning, disc brakes and other tests.

Enyart said the donations provide a good opportunity for "students to get their feet wet before working on a live car."

Sheriff's Dept joins Operation Identification

CLINTON COUNTY -- The Clinton County Sheriff's Dept has recently been added to the growing list of law enforcement agencies who have joined together in an attempt to curb the number of robberies committed by engraving identifying data on valuable items.

Entitled Operation Identification, any person in the county may participate in the program by signing out 1 of 2 available engraving tools at the Sheriff's Dept office in St. Johns. These tools are loaned on a 48-hour basis for the purpose of engraving a person's driver license number and initials on anything of value. Stickers are also provided to identify a person as a participant in the program. Hopefully these stickers will discourage potential intruders.

Deputy Dennis Warren

said studies have shown that the program works, although he was unable to quote exact figures. "The number of B&E's (breaking and entering) and robberies has gone down," he said.

There is no charge for use of the engraver, but the Department asks that persons wishing to use it call in advance before picking up the tool. Area residents are encouraged to participate in the program.

Jack Plowman joins St Johns Police Dept

ST. JOHNS -- Jack Plowman, 37, 501 Giles, St. Johns, has recently joined the St. Johns Police Dept.

He began his patrol duties recently after completing a 7-week training course with the Michigan Law Enforcement Training Council School in Muskegon.

WHILE IN the Army, he served with the Military Police and is a graduate of the Military Police School at Ft. Gordon, Ga.

He and his wife, Sheryle are the parents of 3 sons, Jeff, 11; Mark, 8 and Brian, 5.

Plowman is the son of Mr and Mrs R.G. Plowman of 505 Giles, St. Johns.

He has 3 brothers and 2 sisters, all residents of Clinton County.

MR & MRS EDWARD HEGLER

Ann Myers bride of Edward Hegler

OVID (C) -- Ann Elizabeth Myers, daughter of Mr and Mrs George Myers of rural Ovid and Edward Hegler, son of Mr and Mrs Gerald Hegler, Brant, were united in marriage June 2 at the Duplain Church of Christ. The Rev Justin Shepard performed the double ring ceremony before an altar graced with pyramid arrangements of white daisies and yellow roses. Mrs Earl Dunham provided organ music.

The bride made her gown, a white crepe a-line creation with lace inserts and white daisy and yellow rose trim, which she also designed. A petal top lace veil complimented the gown.

Matron of honor was Pat Myers, sister-in-law of the bride. Janet Palmer, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, and Sandra Myers, sister of the bride, served as junior bridesmaid. The matron of honor wore a yellow pastel gown of bonded lace, the bridesmaid's gown was of pastel green bonded lace, and the junior bridesmaid wore pastel blue bonded lace. Each carried a hand bouquet of daisies with matching ribbons, and wore a picture hat. The gowns were made by the matron of honor.

Ervin Witt attended the groom as best man, while Ken Hoyt and Fred Hughson served as groomsmen. Ushers were Frank Hurst, John Myers, James Richard and George Wilson.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs Myers selected a floor length gown of peach and white bonded lace. The groom's mother wore powder blue crepe and chiffon, also floor length. Each had a complimenting orchid corsage.

A reception and buffet supper for 300 guests was held at the CZBJ Hall in Bannister following the ceremony.

The bride is a 1970 graduate of Ovid-Elsie High School. The groom graduated from Chesaning High School in 1969.

Following a wedding trip to Colorado, the newlyweds will be making their home in Brant.

MR & MRS SCOTT CROISANT

Judith Ripple, Scott Croisant wed May 26

ST JOHNS -- Judith Ann Ripple, daughter of Mr and Mrs Gordon D. Ripple of St. Johns, and Scott Neil Croisant, son of Mr and Mrs John A. Croisant, Midland, were married May 26 at First Congregational Church. The Rev Averill Carson performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with bouquets of spring flowers.

Organist was Mrs H M Bross. William Acton, St. Johns, the bride's cousin, sang "For All We Know," "We've Only Just Begun," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanying himself on the guitar for the first two solos.

For her wedding, the bride selected a gown of silk organza over taffeta fashioned with an empire waist and high neckline. Her veil of illusion was held in place by appliques of lace, and she carried a bouquet of white roses, lilies of the valley, baby's breath and spring flowers.

Nancy Ann Leiner, Bay City, was matron of honor. Jane Richter, St. Louis; Geri Brudette and Karen Weidner, both of Lansing and cousins of the bride, served as bridesmaids. They wore orchid color silk organza gowns and carried colonial bouquets of spring flowers.

The bride's mother wore a mauve dress and corsage of red roses. Mrs Croisant was attired in a doubleknit jacket-dress of green and yellow, and had a yellow rose corsage.

Tonie Croisant, Midland, was his brother's best man, while Dennis Lefler, Midland; Franklin Price, Mt Pleasant; and Donald Maxwell of Birmingham served as groomsmen. James Salisbury, Chesaning; Martin Krieger, Ludington; and Michael Krieger, Bad Axe; seated the guests.

Basketball camp for St Johns boys

ST JOHNS — Basketball camp for St Johns boys ages 10-18 will begin its 2d season this summer. Boys do not have to participate on a team to be eligible for camp, but they must live in the school district.

Coach Japinga noted that the program is growing this year. Last year 30 students participated in the program. As of last week, 30 were already enrolled for this summer's session.

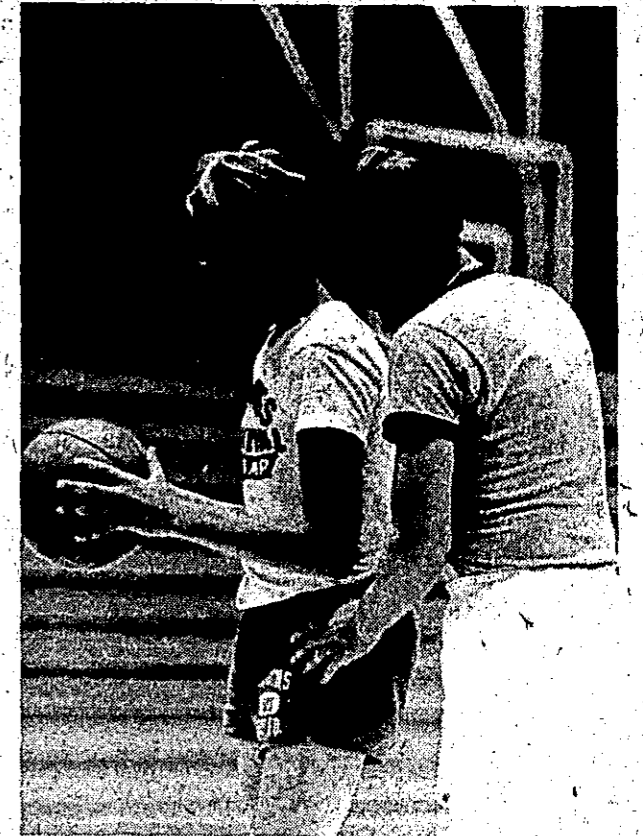

Japinga termed the response good, but said officials are encouraging more participation by the 10-12 year age group.

Tuition costs $15 for the 1st week of participation, and $5 for every week thereafter. The fee is charged to cover rental of the gym, T-shirts, trophies, and instructional costs.

A $5 registration fee is charged and should be included with the camp application. This $5 will be included as part of the total tuition cost. The remainder is due the 1st day of camp.

Four sessions are planned, and will run June 25-29, July 9-13, July 16-20 and July 23-27. Boys may participate in as many sessions as they wish, and may begin participation at the start of any session. Those beginning June 25 should have their applications in by the 24th of the 1st day of camp.

Coach Japinga, varsity basketball coach, and Joe Gonzales, freshman basketball coach will direct the camp's activities.

recognize our needs to make this township an even better place to live than it is now?

Rather than "tearing down" the Park Lake area as I have been accused, I believe I have been working toward the rebuilding of the whole area much more than the people who have their eyes closed to the facts and seemingly think this will make them go away. I have believed for years that such a beautiful lake and its surrounding area located where it is will very likely realize a doubling or tripling and even greater increases in its land values when sanitary sewers are installed and the lake is cleaned up. Property would not only sell easily at much higher prices but there would be a demand for more properties in the area. We will have the prettiest and most popular recreation and residential area in this part of the state someday.

If ignoring problems would make them go away I would shut my eyes too; but I know that problems can only be solved and progress can only be accomplished with hard work and honest forthright efforts.

With this phone, you can't call across the street.

But it can do something the most sophisticated satellite communications system can't do. Reach Charlie in the stockroom. Even if he's snoozing behind the stockpile. More and more businesses are awakening to the advantages of our intercom systems. For example, at the touch of a button a person at a master station can talk to up to 11 staff stations. Individually. Or all at once. So if Charlie doesn't happen to be behind the stockpile, he can be paged at the water cooler. And since anyone at a master or staff station can reply to a call from across the room, the curse of the unanswered phone is ended once and for all. Of course, a master station can come loaded with optional extras. Like a handset for strictly private conversations. Or a foot-switch for the man who has his hands full. Or even an extra 75 staff station buttons for especially powerful executives. Now for the nicest part of all. Instead of shelling out all kinds of money to buy this system, you can use ours. The same way you use our telephones. Which means we'll service it just like we service telephones. If all of this sounds enticing, contact one of our consultants. He'll show you how our intercom system can make life easier for just about everybody in your company. Except Charlie.

Elsie youth attends student trooper school

The fifth annual American Legion-State Police student trooper school for 34 Michigan boys 15 to 19 years old began Monday, June 18, at East Lansing headquarters.

Participating in the school is Mark Pontack of Elsie.

The youths are chosen by participating Legion posts in Michigan on the basis of interest in police work, physical condition, citizenship, scholastic and driving records.

Graduation for the one-week school will be held Friday afternoon, June 22, in Kellogg Center at Michigan State University where the youths will be presented certificates at the luncheon program. Principal speaker will be Supreme Court Justice John B. Swainson.

School subjects include State Police history, first aid, military drill, fingerprinting, tracking dogs, patrols and accident investigation, traffic and water safety, voiceprint identification, criminal investigation, polygraph examination, civil defense, juvenile delinquency, defensive tactics and calisthenics.

In addition to State Police headquarters, class members will tour the Ingham county sheriff department facilities at Mason, the Lansing police department, and the state capitol in Lansing.

The school is conducted by the staff of the State Police training division commanded by Capt Gene Roeker.

Elsie class of 1933 celebrates 40th reunion

By Neva Keys
Elsie Correspondent

ELSIE - The 40th reunion of the Elsie graduation class of 1933 was held June 9 with 40 guests present including 20 class members and their wives and husbands.

They assembled at the location of the old Elsie High School at noon where they were registered and welcomed by the reunion committee of Mr and Mrs Leonard (Louise Phillips) Tillotson, Mr and Mrs Raymond (Eleanor Emmons) Thornton and Mr and Mrs Myron Thethal.

Each woman was presented a red rose corsage (the class flower) tied with cream colored ribbon and all were given name tags.

With the temperatures in the high 80's, chairs were arranged under the large shade trees for a more comfortable place to renew friendships and make other acquaintances.

At 1:30 pm, they all went to the Village Inn and were served a family-style prime rib roast beef dinner. The invocation was given by Leonard Tillotson.

The floral centerpiece of red roses, snapdragons, cream mums and pink carnations was arranged on the table as the door prize, drawn by Mrs Louise Tillotson.

A cake decorated with red sugar roses and lettering "Congratulations on Your 40th Reunion" was made by Mrs Nancy Hehrer and served with the dessert.

A brief business meeting was held and it was decided to meet again in 1978 when the same committee will be in charge of arrangements. They also plan to attend the All-Elsie School Reunion in 1975.

All members were called upon to tell of their family and work and accounted for their experiences since they last met. Two members, Mrs Genevieve (Albaugh) Blunt and Mrs Martha (Crippen) DeLong boasted of being great grandmothers. Classmates here from out-of-state were Mrs Gail Van Burger (Hazel Bond) and her husband from Ft Pierce, Fla and Joe Clark and wife Eileen of Holmes Beach, Fla and Elsie.

There were several letters and notes from some who were unable to be present and family photographs, graduation composites, old class pictures and other mementos on display.

One letter of special interest was from one of their teachers, Mrs Murray (Wilma Green) Cole of Litchfield, who is enjoying her first year of retirement after 27 years in the teaching profession.

The nine years spent at Elsie High School brought back many memories of the classes during the depression of the '30's when she taught Latin verbs, rules of punctuation and Shakespeare.

In closing her letter she wrote: "Elsie is a brave and fine town because of the young men and women who learned in EHS a way of life which was honorable. That honor has shed honor on their home town so EHS graduates must be proud."

According to the committee, no words could describe the enthusiasm shown at the reunion and the joy of remembering Round Lake, campouts, trips and social times at school. There was also an opportunity for much picture-taking on the grounds of old Elsie High with its many changes. Members of the class in addition to those already mentioned above who were present were: Leo Deming-Carlant; Arthur Miller, Mrs Thelma (Walker) Miller and Walter Woodard of Midland; Gordon Waggoner and Mrs Arlene (Deming) Irer of St Johns; Ivalette (McDonald) Southwell of Okemos; Larence Barton of Mason; Arnold Schrieber of Bannister; Bill Smith of Six Lakes; Frances (Robinette) Evans of Southgate; and Don Corp of Laingsburg.

Elsie

By MRS. NEVA KEYS, Correspondent

Twenty-one members were present with one guest visitor at the regular Senior Citizen meeting Wednesday at American Legion Hall in Elsie.

The members had a potluck dinner at 12:30 pm, followed by the business meeting. It was voted to vacation during July and August with the first Thursday of September as the next regular meeting unless otherwise notified.

It was also voted to send a donation to Jo's Operation for some service man's call home.

The refreshment committee for September will be Mrs. Esther Dorman and Mrs. Leila Wilson. For entertainment, each member is asked to bring something for entertainment or show. September will also be the election for new officers.

The meeting was adjourned and turned over to Mrs. Helen Wiltse, a member, who showed pictures of her trip and two friends when they went to Alaska in 1966.

Just a few of the highlights of the trip were: the Open Pit Copper Mine in Minnesota; wheat fields of Canada and their large storage bins; the beautiful wild flowers and roses along the highways; destruction by forest fires; salmon ladders on a river where there were waterfalls so salmon could go up the river to spawn; and a house where the Governor of the Yukon Territory lived.

Other highlights shown in the colored slides were: the tundra where trees do not grow tall; a log cabin used by travelers on dog sleds; and a sign "Welcome to Alaska"; Fairbanks where they saw a caribou coming down the road; huskies pulling a sled of tourists; glaciers very near the highway; and iceberg showing 1/8th above the water.

They took a trip by plane from Anchorage to Nome, Alaska. They could look down and see glaciers; top of the mountains which were very rugged; and visited a place where one could mine for gold which is tourist attraction "Nuggett Inn".

Back to Anchorage and on their way home, they saw Emerald Lake in Canada; Glacier Viewpoint at Southfield; Calgary Museum; and many unusual Totem Poles.

As one would say, you would have to be present to enjoy the pictures. Mrs. Wiltse has other interesting trips she has taken and at times will show them. If any member has taken a trip and has pictures, they are asked to share their trips at a Senior Citizens meeting. See you in September.

Two's company, three's a crowd and four's a rarity. That is what mama goat and Al Personious, the owner, thinks as the "kids" enjoy their mealtime.

Rash of burglaries hits Olive, Riley Townships

CLINTON COUNTY -- A rash of burglaries has plagued the Riley and Olive Township area since May 26, according to Detective Richard May of the Clinton County Sheriff Dept.

All occurred during the daytime and involved the theft of televisions, rifles, shotguns and cash. May noted that some of the residents had left their doors unlocked. However, many entries were made through windows.

Joseph DiBlase, 1551 W Price Rd, St Johns, was the 1st victim on May 26.

On June 6, George Smith, 4884 S County Farm Rd, was the 2d victim, with $460 worth of merchandise stolen.

Three B&E's were reported June 10. Entrance at the Marvin Schaefer residence, Dexter Trail, Fowler, was made by breaking a window out of a door at the home. A total of $1000 worth of property was taken.

Golf clubs valued at $450 were stolen from a car belonging to Robert Ortwein of East Lansing at Highland Hills Country Club.

Club Roma was also burglarized, with $185 cash stolen. May speculated that entrance may have been gained through a window. The cash had been hidden in the ceiling.

Two more B&E's occurred June 11. The Fred Terhorst home at 7851 S Williams Rd, DeWitt, was broken into, with a $350 loss reported.

Henry Tyszka, 2606 E Centerline Rd, St Johns, was also robbed of $500 worth of tools.

June 12 saw 3 more robberies. Highland Hills Country Club had $800 worth of cash and a microwave oven stolen, while Dennis Fellem, 6735 S Lowell Rd, reported a $700 loss.

The Donald Harper residence, 5803 W Parks Rd, St Johns, was robbed of $575 worth of goods. Harper's daughter was in an upstairs bedroom at the time, and said she assumed it was her father and brother downstairs talking so she didn't look to see who was in the house.

On June 13, Henry Bergin, 13145 S Wacousta Rd, reported a larceny of wheels and tires worth $160.

The Rose Masarik residence at 6132 S Chandler Rd, St Johns, was robbed of tools valued at $200 on June 17.

John Moore, who resides at the corner of Hinman and Howe Rds in Eagle, was the victim of an unusual loss. Two of his prize rams (sheep) were stolen on June 11.

Elsie Police Chief Russell Bouck and May are currently investigating a B&E at Elsie Jr High School, which occurred June 5. A rear window at the school was broken, and $75 was taken from the main office.

Is there really a gas shortage?

By Laurie Kipp
County News Writer

ST JOHNS -- A random sampling of 6 gas stations, last week, 3 major companies and 3 independents, exemplified the growing suspicion many Americans feel about the current fuel shortage. When asked if they felt there actually is a shortage of gasoline in this country, comments ranged from "I just don't know for sure" to "The big companies are trying to run the little ones out of business."

None of the dealers contacted were willing to say the shortage is entirely a natural one.

Hardest hit of the stations contacted was EJ's Standard. Owner EJ Thum reported that they have entirely run out of gas twice and have had to close early "a lot of nights."

"I WISH they didn't have it," he said, discussing the shortage. "I don't know if there is a shortage... there is to me," he added.

So far EJ's has had to eliminate their midnight shift and stop giving Top Value Stamps to cut down costs. Thum speculated that they may be forced to close on Sundays as well.

The Standard Oil Co is providing the station with the same amount of gas as they pumped last year, which simply isn't enough to meet the demand. "There's no chance for us to grow," Thum remarked.

ALTHOUGH STANDARD has suggested they limit

Paul Tomasek, Freeway Service Center

customers to 10 gallon purchases, Thum doesn't like the idea and won't do it. "Customers don't like that," he said, "And we don't either. It just means more work for us."

"We'll just pump gas until we're out," he stated.

Paul Tomasek, an employee of the Freeway station on US-27, believes the major oil companies are trying to force independents out of business.

THEY, TOO, have had to close because there was no gas left. Although Tomasek said they usually get what they order from Sunoco distributors, they were isn't really a natural shortage of gas. "The big companies are making prices a lot higher," she said. "The prices are just too high."

"Although they haven't run out of gas yet, they have had to shorten their operating hours by 28 per week. Ms Rennels reported no plans to ration gas to customers.

Gordie Harris at Masarik's Shell Service said, "I figure the big companies are creating the shortage themselves to knock out independents."

THIS STATION has not yet gone to shortened hours or gas rationing, but Harris believes it's coming. He said the Shell Oil Company is working on plans for the number of gallons each gas station will be allowed per month.

Harris reported that they are paying 1¢ more per gallon to buy gasoline from Shell.

Wesley Smith, owner of Wes' Gulf Service, termed the shortage a "political shortage". He is also paying 1¢ more per gallon for gas from the distributor.

WHEN ASKED WHY, if he is only paying a penny more per gallon, prices to consumers are so high, he replied that gas is now 1¢ above the normal price forced to close Tuesday and Wednesday of last week, and for a whole week earlier. "It ruins your business," he said. "All we can do is close till a truck gets here."

Many gas station employees are paid on an hourly basis, and Tomasek said he can feel the pinch here too.

MARILYN RENNELS, who works at Art's Refinery Station, agrees that there

E J Thum of EJ's Standard Service

Dave Rademacher, Rademacher's Service

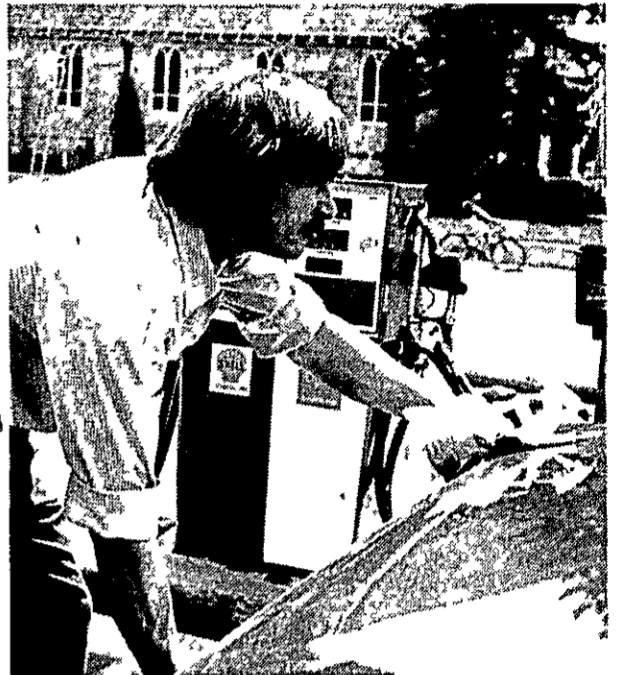

hasn't hurt his business. "If anything, it's helped it," he stated.

Dave Rademacher of Rademacher's Service said he thinks there is some natural shortage, but "not as bad as they think it is." He had to close up on Memorial Day because he ran out of gas, and anticipates having to close again at the end of the month. However, he does not plan to ration gas.

Rademacher receives his gasoline from the St Johns Oil Company, and noted that he has had to pay 3¢ more per gallon in the last 3 months, for his quota. If there is any more gas available, it costs even more per gallon, he said.

OBVIOUSLY, CUSTOMERS will absorb the additional cost. "When we have to pay more," he observed, "the public has to pay more."

County GOP to discuss vacant judgeship

ST JOHNS -- The Executive Committee of the Clinton County Republican Committee will have its next meeting on the 21st of June at 7:30 pm in the County Commissioners Room, County Court House, St. Johns.

The meeting is being called for two purposes. First, to update the Committee on the present status of the County Organization and, secondly, to meet with any lawyers in the county who are interested in the appointment to the vacant District Court Judgeship, the result of the unfortunate death of Judge Duguay.

All attorneys in Clinton County, interested in the judgeship, are invited to either appear before the Committee that evening or submit a resume to them by the 21st of June in care of P.O. Box 92, St. Johns in order that their names and qualifications may be presented to the Governor. This meeting is intended to serve as an information gathering and a service to interested candidates, not to ultimately recommend only one candidate to the Governor.

In this instance, the committee will furnish the Governor with a list of all of those interested, and he will use this information along with information supplied by the State Bar to make his choice.

before the gas wars.

Smith hasn't had to shorten his hours "yet," but expects he may have to in the future. His allotment from distributors is based on the amount of gas he pumped last year. Although he said he is getting enough regular and premium, he sometimes runs short of low lead gas.

He plans to keep pumping gas until they run out, rather than ration it to customers. That is, he'll keep selling as much as customers want unless he has to ration it. "You know," he remarked, "sometimes they (Gulf) can almost force you to do something."

DeWitt Twp request right to operate sewer

ST JOHNS -- DeWitt Township wants to operate their sewer and that subject was the highlight to Tuesday's Clinton County Board of Commissioners meeting at the courthouse in St Johns.

Dale Emerson, DeWitt Twp supervisor, said his unit of government had not received satisfactory bookkeeping reports from the County Dept of Public Works and that his board wished to have the township take over the operation of the sewer system, removing it from the operational control of the DPW.

The DeWitt Twp sewer system was financed with the full faith and credit of the county and is a product of the DPW, an office set up to make possible public works projects such as the township sewer system.

Emerson and F. Merrill Wyble, legal counsel for the township, told the commissioners the DPW had not supplied the township with enough facts and figures to allow township officials to determine if the sewer is operating on a deficit budget and, if so, what measures to take to correct the situation.

The township officials said they contacted the DPW but Mr Green (Probate Judge Timothy Green) had told them the DPW had not had the time to prepare the system reports desired by DeWitt Twp.

The matter came to a vote, but was tabled before a vote could be taken. Dyle Henning did move to establish a committee to insure that better communication is established between units of government, the county board and the DPW.

Shinaberry said a motion wasn't necessary because a public relations committee was already established. Henning, however, said he felt a motion should be made to get the intention on record of improving the communication.

His motion passed and the public relations committee of the board will work to improve communication between the governmental bodies.

It was also moved to require quarterly reports be furnished the county board and involved units by the DPW.

Chisholm elected president of probation officers

EAST LANSING -- Daniel J Chisholm of St Johns was elected president of the Michigan Association of Probation Officers at a 3-day conference held at the Hospitality Inn, June 6-8. Over a hundred probation officers representing 74 District Court systems attended the conference.

Chisholm has been employed as Chief Probation Officer with the 65th District Court in Clinton County since April of 1969. He, along with the late District Court Judge Rolland Duguay, were instrumental in setting up the state's 1st

District Court work release program. This program permitted youthful first-offenders to be released from jail to work in the community on various civic projects.

Chisholm, 30, presently resides in St Johns with his wife and daughter. He is a member of the Jaycees, Advisory Board of the Area Comprehensive Health Planning Commission, is on the executive board of the Clinton County Republican Party and the advisory board of the Clinton County Drug Information Group.

DeWitt Twp Police Chief injured attempting to arrest suspect

DEWITT TWP -- DeWitt Twp Police Chief Bruce Angell received a broken jaw and fractured skull shortly after midnight Saturday while attempting to arrest a man allegedly trying to steal Angell's motorcycle.

State Police reports indicate that Angell stepped outside the township hall and saw Danny Myrl Boughton, 26, 309 N Pennsylvania Ave, Lansing, trying to steal his motorcycle. Angell identified himself and told Boughton he was under arrest. The suspect then reportedly knocked Angell to the ground and began kicking him.

Just before losing consciousness, Angell fired his gun and shot Boughton in the arm. Both were taken to St Lawrence Hospital in Lansing, where each is listed in satisfactory condition. A warrant was issued Tuesday for Boughton's arrest on 2 separate counts. The exact charges were unavailable at presstime.

Six file for St Johns Commission

ST JOHNS -- Two incumbents and 4 challengers have filed to run for 2 St Johns City Commission positions up for elections.

They will be challenged at the Aug 7 primary election by Cecil L. Smith, 718 S Lansing; Raymond Kenfield, 103 S Traver; Gerald V Wilcox, 405 S Traver and John W. Arehart, 410 E Higham.

The 4 candidates with the most votes in the primary will then run for election at the Nov 6 city election.

Polls at the Aug 7 primary will open from 7 am to 8 pm.

Golf tournaments to highlight 50th Clinton County Country Club anniversary

Members of the 50th Anniversary Events Committee met at the Clinton County Country Club last week to lay plans for activities commemorating the club's golden year. The group completed plans for mens and womens golf tournaments slated to be held in July. Members of the committee from left to right are: Red Devereaux, Elsie Dickinson, Jolly Becker, Paul Schueller, Ken Munger (club manager), Frank Sipkovsky (president) and Lyle French.

ST JOHNS -- A pair of golf tournaments on four dates in July will highlight that month's activities commemorating the 50th anniversary year of Clinton County Country Club.

According to club president, Frank Sipkovsky, the medal play tournaments will be free to all club members who must establish handicaps by posting at least five scores in the clubhouse by deadlines set by tournament leaders.

Posting deadline for mens competition, which will be played on Saturday, July 7, and Saturday, July 21, has been set for Sunday, July 1. Women must have their scores posted by Saturday, July 7, to be eligible to compete on either date of womens play which is set for Wednesday, July 11, or Wednesday, July 25.

Club manager Ken Munger will oversee both mens and womens tournaments and he will be assisted by Elsie Dickinson and Jolly Becker in womens play and by Red Devereaux and Lyle French in mens action.

According to the respective chairmen, both tournaments will be conducted on a no assigned tee time basis. Members wishing to participate need only to post sufficient scores for eligibility then make arrangements with their own playing partners. Men may tee off at the time of their choice on either July 7 or 21 after registering as tournament participants in the club house.

SIMILAR RULES apply to ladies competition. Women may make arrangements for their own golfing partners and after posting scores select a tee off time of their choice on either July 11 or 25. In all competition at least two tournament participants are required to validate scores. Scores of persons playing alone will not be allowed in tournament competition.

All competition will be based on 18 holes. Special trophies for the 50th anniversary tournament have been ordered and will be placed on display

Landlord's side on rental story

TO THE EDITOR:
I just read your item in today's paper, "Looking for a place to rent, good luck."

I am one of those landlords that seem to charge too much for rentals. Yes, we did have 2 studio apartments for rent in a hotel for $90 a month. Fortunately we have rented both of ours. You may be interested in a few facts from our side of the fence.

First: I rented our studio apartments without a deposit because I checked references. Second the $90 included heat, lights, gas, water and trash removal, plus stove refrigerator, hide-a-bed and, of course, private bath. I also have 2 and 3 bedrooms apts for $150 which include the same, only air conditioning instead of hide-a-beds.

I wonder how many people would feel this way if they were landlords. Do they realize how much damage can be done in a short time: holes pounded into new paneling, dog spots on carpeting that has to be replaced, broken bathroom mirrors, windows and faucets that have been broken, not to mention fire and liability insurance, the yearly contribution to the IRS and even a bond to insure the tenants deposit plus an inventory of every thing in the apartment that belongs to the landlord.

It seems to me that, as a whole, some people are getting a heck of a lot more for their money than they might get on other purchases.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. William (Barbara) Mackinnon

Powell carries on hot dog war battle

LANSING -- State Representative Stanley M. Powell (R-Ionia) is a co-sponsor of a legislative resolution that asks the Michigan Department of Public Health to ignore the recent federal court ruling which would allow such things as lips and udders in meats sold in Michigan, and follow the much tougher Michigan Law.

Representative Powell said he feels that federal court ruling was definitely unconstitutional and just another example of the federal government dictating to the State of Michigan.

According to Powell, since the federal constitution states that any rights not given to the federal government are reserved for the states and since our present meat standard is not in violation of any section of the federal constitution, he clearly believes Michigan has the right to enforce its own law within the state.

"I think it is high time that we serve notice on the federal government that we intend to use our constitutional rights when the use of these rights are a definite benefit to the citizens of Michigan," Powell stated.

"We have seen a gradual draining of power from the states over the years which has been caused primarily because the states were ignoring a lot of problems. This is not now the case in Michigan. We are recognizing many of our mistakes and are facing them and taking positive steps to correct them. The higher meat standards represent one such example," Powell continued.

"I am hopeful that this legislation will gain sweeping support in the legislature in the very near future.

"In the meantime, I urge Michigan meat processors to continue to make and sell meats that meet our higher standards.

"I also urge every consumer to carefully read the label on all meats and buy only those that do not contain unacceptable meat by-products," Powell concluded.

Billboard renewal deadline

BAY CITY -- The East Michigan Tourist Association has issued a warning on the renewal of billboard permits.

The deadline for renewing currently legal signs with the 1973-74 permit is June 30. After that date the signs are declared illegal and will be required to be removed in 60 days.

The EMTA said, "Information and directional signs mean a great deal to the traveling public when they direct motorists to needed services and route them to their favorite destination."

James H. Hall, executive vice president of the EMTA commented on the deadline by saying "Travel-related businesses must protect their operation by being sure they have the required permits for highway signs. A number of resorts in East Michigan have already lost business. Some face extinction unless they maintain this very important information service to vacation travelers."

In obtaining new permits, owner should use the renewal application form sent to them when the original permit was issued.

That form, with $3 for each billboard, should be sent to the Highway Department's office which issued the original permit. Renewal forms also may be obtained from the district offices. They are:

Kill it quick

There are a lot of nutty ideas floating around the world these days. The question a lot of people ask, though, is why do so many of these nutty ideas have to surface in the Michigan state legislature?

A case in point is the legislation introduced by one Rep. Joseph Forbes, Oak Park Democrat, who has announced with great fanfare that he has a bill which will create public holidays in Michigan on all national and state general elections.

Great balls of fire! That's just what we need in this state and in this country--another holiday. We've got more holidays now in some sectors than we have working days. And what makes Rep. Forbes think that giving, a voter a holiday is going to make him a more intelligent or even a more concerned voter?

What assurance does Rep. Forbes have that an eligible voter, who now has 13 hours of opportunity to cast his vote and doesn't show up at the polls, is going to show up at the polls if a holiday is created?

Another question for Rep. Forbes might concern the discrimination in his proposal. Why single out state and national general elections. If an election holiday will cure voter apathy for national and state general elections then how about primaries? And school elections, and special elections.

Any voter who wants to vote can vote under present provisions. Coercing voters to participate in the election process with a holiday is ridiculous.

Here's hoping there are enough representatives and senators in Lansing with smarts enough to bury Rep. Forbes' brain storm deep and permanently. Kill it quick!

Bicycle problem

St Johns has a bicycle problem.

That problem could be attributed to several reasons: lack of respect by riders for the dangers inherent in passing motor vehicles; absence of training by parents and in some instances, pure disrespect for others by bicycle riders.

The St Johns Police Dept has said they are well aware of the growing problem in the community and are going to take measures to eliminate it.

They see several areas as particular problem areas.

One is the rider who seems to have little knowledge of the correct way to ride a bicycle. Riding through stop signs into traffic is an occurrence the police say is committed by both young people and their parents.

Insufficient lighting at night is also creating a hazard on the city streets. Bicycles are required to have lights and reflectors and we urge parents to inspect their children's and their own bikes to insure safe riding day and night.

Another problem appears to be purely bad manners. Several instances have been witnessed of bicycle riders seemingly "antagonizing" motorists. Swerving from one side of the street to another in front of moving vehicles and other dangerous practices are not only rude but effective ways to get killed.

In such cases, we would hope parents will become aware of their children's riding habits and lay down the law at home.

Yet another dangerous situation is the riding of bicycles on the sidewalks in front of downtown businesses. Although it is illegal, several are whizzing past the store front, endangering shopping pedestrians coming out onto the sidewalk from the business establishments.

For the most part we will accept the fact that many riders have not been trained in the proper manner to ride their bicycles and others have not been disciplined when it has been learned they have abused the bicycling privilege.

We hope that a local organization will find it possible to sponsor a safety clinic for bicycle riders and encourage parents to attend with their children.

Such a program may be the best way to prevent a tragic result of a bicycle ride for 1 or more this summer.

The hot dog war

"If Michigan loses the Hot Dog War, will we have to settle for something less than the great hot dogs now served at Tiger Stadium?" inquired a fan in an action-type column of one of the state's metropolitan papers. Baseball fans aren't the only ones concerned. Michigan, home of the No 1 Hot Dog, has lots of consumers -- and producers -- who are worried about the outcome of the "Hot Dog War" currently being waged. Michigan has the highest comminuted meat standards in the nation, and both consumers and producers are joining in the battle against the federal government and the courts to keep it that way.

Consumers may be surprised that they have such a strong ally, inasmuch as the less stringent federal minimum requirements would the use of by-products in hot dogs, sausage and luncheon meats, Michigan's livestock industry, however, prefers the strong confidence consumers have in their high-quality comminuted meats, and they're willing to fight to maintain that confidence.

Michigan Farm Bureau President Elton R. Smith recently testified before a Senate subcommittee in Washington, D.C. in support of Senate Bill 991, which would allow states to determine whether their meat inspection, labeling, ingredient and other requirements may be more stringent than minimum federal standards.

The proceedings of the Maple River Drainage district board of condemnation came to a screeching halt before they hardly got started here Monday morning when the 9 members received temporary restraining orders, issued by Clinton-Greatist Circuit Judge Paul R. Maple River drain project. Vacation bonuses totaling $131,038.94 will be paid to 414 hourly-rated employees at Federal-Mogul this week, according to Kermit M. Hart, plant manager. This is an average of approximately $316 paid to each employee.

Last week voters in the DeWitt Public School District approved a $2,605,000 bond issue for major expansion and remodeling of the high school.

As $110,000 construction project will begin around the end of July which will add a third floor to a portion of Clinton Memorial known as the Fehling Wing. The addition is a continuation of a project started in 1968 when the first two floors were constructed. At that time funds were not available to complete the structure.

THOUGHTS THROUGH A TYPEWRITER

...With Dallas having the Dallas football Cowboys, with all the Howes on the Houston hockey team, shouldn't they be known as the Houston Howebos?

...Isn't it fortunate that Billy Martin's mother isn't an umpire?

...Marlon Brando may have compassion for the Indians, but he doesn't have much for photographers. While outside a studio with Dick Cavett, a photographer asked for "just 1 more shot." He got it all right -- Brando slugged him and broke his jaw.

...For someone who says he's not seeking further political plateaus, Attorney General Frank Kelley certainly seems to be successful in keeping his name in print and on the air.

...This should start the sports writers howling. A weekly newspaper editor near Detroit described the sports section of 1 of the city's dailies as the "Toy Dept."

...If Sunday night's traffic on US-27 is any indication; it'll be close to impossible for those asking the speed limit be lowered to conserve gasoline. Those going the speed limit Sunday evening were passed by car after car going 70, 75, and faster.

...Grass seem to grow faster than you can cut it? Time to get some paint on the garage, but you just don't have time? Is that your trouble, Bunky? Well give Job-O-Youth a call and they've got somebody just waiting to do the job for you. You'll get the job done and furnish an area youth with a job for awhile. Everybody wins.

...Notice anything different? As you drive through downtown St. Johns, look at some of the buildings and the work being done to improve the appearance of the downtown section.

...You can blame all the recent rain on me. The weed killer purchased last week said not to water the lawn for 24 hours after it was applied. So...it rains every 15-20 hours, the weed killer stays in the house and I tell visitors the weeds are a new variety of Oriental dwarf trees.

...ONE OF LIFE'S LITTLE GRIPES: I've said it before, but I still feel it would be nicer to hear a recording that says, "I'm sorry the line is busy," instead of that irritating and sometimes painful to ear busy signal now used by telephone companies.

Nixon loses the dogs

Editor, Lapeer County Press

By Jim Fitzgerald

President Nixon, who shaves in the dark, still has 2 friends he can trust, Bebe Rebozo and Robert Abplanalp. One of them should advise His Majesty that it is poor politics to describe women as dogs.

Abplanalp, who is not a typographical error, has obviously earned Nixon's favor. He's the millionaire who loaned Nixon $625,000 to buy a California home and, a few months later, bought the surrounding property -- but not the home -- from Nixon for $1.2 million. With friends like that, Nixon doesn't need the golden touch.

Everyone knows Rebozo is the Nixon buddy who took pity on a homeless sports-writer and his wife, an out-of-work school teacher. Rebozo bought a $127,000 home in Maryland and rented it to the young couple at a special rate simply because David Eisenhower is a Prince of a fellow (and his wife is a Princess and her father is King).

AS AN EX-SPORTS writer, I am delighted at David's overnight success. Newly discharged from the Navy, he was hired off the street, with no experience, and started right off writing a weekly column for the Philadelphia Bulletin. This is unusual. Most sports writers don't get a personal column until after they have done some straight reporting for a week or two. And it is almost always a year before they are able to move into $127,000 homes.

George R. Packard, managing editor of the Bulletin, explained how David advanced so swiftly. The explanation came in response to a complaint from 2 students at the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism. These guys, obviously Democrats, claimed the Bulletin had told them there were no job openings -- just a few days before David was hired. How come?

Packard's answer: "The first thing we teach new reporters is to get the name right. You flunked on mine. David did better."

In their letter to Packard, those stupid students got his middle initial wrong. David Eisenhower made no such mistake. His Pulitzer-prize will be announced next month.

OF COURSE, there are those skeptics who think guys like Packard, Rebozo and Abplanalp are simply buying better seats in the throne room. That is a foul charge, made by the same sort of nonbelievers who think Nixon was the outside lookout at the Watergate burglary. Our President has nothing to fear from such small men.

But he'd better watch out for the women. The other day, within hearing of newspaper reporters, Nixon advised a former prisoner of war to attend lots of Washington dinner parties. "But watch out for some of those dogs they have you sit by," he added.

Washington hostesses yelped in anger. A typical reaction came from a congressman's wife. "In some cases there are many more male dogs than female dogs," she snapped.

There goes the bitch vote. Leaving the sons?

It's personal

Sleep is a funny thing. I hate to go to bed at night and detest getting up in the morning. Under pet peeves in the high school yearbook mine reads, "Getting up on Monday mornings." Incorrect--that should have said ANY morning.

My poor mother -- all through elementary and high school she tried to persuade me to get up in time for class. She even resorted to stripping the sheets off the bed with me still in it. I have to give her a lot of credit for her ingenuity.

I've tried all kinds of elaborate trappings to get myself psyched up for the next morning. Some work, sort of, and others are total flops.

elaborate breakfast in the morning, which naturally requires getting up early. "OK, I'm going to fix sausage, eggs, toast, coffee and juice tomorrow, so I've got to get up." I then repeat this to myself 10 times, hoping the idea will sink in.

It doesn't. When I finally crawl out of bed the idea of smelling eggs frying makes me slightly nauseous.

Putting the alarm clock next to the bed is definitely a mistake. So, I moved it across the room. "By the time I get over there to shut the thing off I'll be awake, right?" Nope, I've discovered I can turn the alarm off in my sleep and be back in bed in 3 seconds.

all that noise just made me mad.

If the cost wasn't prohibitive I might try a suggestion I read in Ann Landers' column once. A guy designed a bed which worked like a pop-up toaster. When the timer went off, the bed popped up.

I've explained the problem to friends in hopes of getting some helpful suggestions. After they hear all the details, they just tell me, "You're hopeless."

BUT I REFUSE to believe that. There has to be a way to arise, smiling and cheerful to face the new day.

I guess I'll have to resort back to an old trick I used to use -- tape a sign next to the bed which reads, "Get out, you fool, or you're gonna get fired!" Maybe, if I tape it on the alarm clock itself.

View from the Senate

By SEN. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

Barring a last-minute foul-up, bingo lovers soon will be able to play their favorite game with a clear conscience.

The State Senate and House have passed and sent to the Governor a bill legalizing the "sport" of bingo, which everyone knows has been carried on in almost every city and hamlet of the state even though officially it was illegal because it was considered gambling.

Bingo has always been popular with churches, lodges, and other groups, and many people, especially the elderly, love to play it more as a pleasant leisure pastime rather than for any material reward.

But, because prizes usually are awarded, the game has been defined legally as a "lottery."

But the change voted in the State Constitution last year cleared the way for the Legislature to approve lotteries, including bingo. The first "lottery" approved, of course, was the state's own lottery which has been bringing an estimated one million dollars a week into the state treasury.

In the meantime, although not yet specifically approved by the Legislature, bingo activity continued in many places with the tacit approval of local law enforcement officers whose benevolent attitude seems to have been a sort of "What's the use of knocking off a Bingo game in a church or club? We would never get a conviction, anyway."

But, now, if the bingo legislation is signed by the Governor, it is expected that the game may become legal by June 30.

Licensing and operation of bingo will be under the jurisdiction of State Lottery Commissioner Gus Harrison.

Licenses costing from $5 to $100 will be available depending on the type of operation. The $100 license would provide an unlimited number of games at once-a-week sessions.

The $50 license would allow an operator to hold games for one week and the $5 license would be a one-shot deal.

A fourth type of license, costing $10, would be intended primarily for senior citizen groups which are not interested in making money or winning big prizes.

On the latter type license, games should be held once a month and prizes totaling up to $2,000 in any one day and any single prize being limited to not more than $500.

Licenses are generally intended for religious, charitable, educational, fraternal, service, veterans, and senior citizen groups.

The law provides that organizations operating bingo games must purchase their equipment from a dealer licensed by the state.

The state will get no proceeds from bingo games other than the license fees, which are not expected to cover even the administrative costs of issuing them and whatever policing operations may be necessary.

4-H Exploration Days at MSU June 21-23

EASTLANSING - "A New Day, A New Way" will be the theme of Michigan State University's annual 4-H Exploration Days, June 21-23.

Designed to provide learning opportunities in more than 100 different option areas, the event is expected to draw close to 5000 4-H'ers from around the state.

Teaching the "action-learning" options - ranging from dog care and training to family living - will be MSU extension specialists, 4-H youth agents, and professional resource persons. Participants in each option will later teach what they have learned to members of their local 4-H club.

Some of the more "unique" options this year include motorcycleing, TV production, family living - how to deal with problem parents, passport to understanding - getting to know your world, personal appearance - the mod man, and water survival.

In addition to the "action-learning" options, participants become involved in recreational and leisure learning activities, tours of the State Capitol and the MSU campus, and special entertainment programs. Seminars are held for 4-H leaders.

On Saturday, June 23, the young people will demonstrate to the public what they have learned in their option areas. Running continuously from 9 am - 2:30 pm, 4-H "Youth Action Day" will be held in the MSU Spartan Stadium concourse. Live drama and musical performances, action exhibits and demonstrations will be featured.

Food A series explaining "how much" and why

This week -- What about the red meat crisis?

ED NOTE: The following is the 2nd of a series of food industry articles furnished to the County News by MSU agricultural economists.

Increasing demand for red meats; the devaluation of the U.S. dollar and a limited supply of pork were the chief causes of meat price hikes in 1973, according to Michigan State University Agricultural Economist Marvin Hayenga.

During the past few years, rising incomes have boosted consumer willingness to pay more for high-protein, high-status red meats. And because they're competing for a somewhat limited supply, consumers have been bidding the price up.

But why the sudden price surge in January through March this year?

One reason may be that employment expanded and Social Security payments were increased by 20% in the first part of 1973. Each of these boosted demand.

The dollar devaluation in early February meant essentially that U.S. exports could be bought by foreign countries for 10% less, and that Americans would pay 10% more for imported items.

Immediately, Japanese pork purchases increased. Also, because retail pork prices in Japan have been 15% higher this year than last, the Japanese government removed its usual tariff on imported meat products. This even further motivated Japanese pork purchases.

Hayenga also points out that the risk of further dollar devaluation may have prompted Japanese firms with large holdings of dollars to exchange them for other currencies or to buy products — such as pork — which could be sold for other currencies.

Time will tell what the long-lasting impact of changing export patterns will be on U.S. pork prices, Hayenga says.

Beef was not as quickly affected by the devaluation. During the first post-devaluation weeks, normal import supplies continued at pre-devaluation prices. But with new orders for imports, beef exporting countries asked for the increased price in dollars.

Consumer red meat demand was nearly as great as before the devaluation, so retail prices had to reflect part of this import cost increase.

Another factor in the pork hike is less hog supplies. A year or two earlier, many producers had reduced their hog business or quit production entirely due to low hog prices and high corn costs. Even when they chose to increase production to meet demand, built-in delays in the hog production cycle leave us with small supplies and slightly higher prices for a time.

Beef supplies have been slightly larger than a year ago, but prices nevertheless increased. Severe weather caused some cattle deaths, but that impact is probably small and spread over time.

WHAT ABOUT THE BOYCOTT?

It's hard to determine if there was a large drop in meat consumption during the week of the consumer boycott in early April, Hayenga says.

One major impact of the red meat boycott was larger purchases of chicken and fish. The result: short-run higher prices for those two items. Consumers may still have paid a high grocery bill, but it was for food other than red meat, Hayenga points out. The boycott did cause market uncertainty. Cattle and hog prices fluctuated greatly each day, and reduced supplies were sent to market as a result.

Although many retail stores and meat packers reported substantially reduced red meat sales during the boycott, consumers may have been eating from freezers and refrigerators and restocked them sometime later.

It's consumers' actual behavior without meat during the boycott week, their stored meat supplies are probably lasting into later weeks and larger meat supplies are also left available on the market. This could mean a slight reduction in red meat prices, Hayenga says.

If the boycott forewarns a longer-run reduction in consumer demand, prices could be even lower. Hayenga cautions that careful study is needed before definite aftereffects of the boycott can be noticed.

When retail prices go up, prices paid by feedlot operators to calf producers may also increase. But for the most part, feedlot and calf producers' profits are low and fluctuating, Hayenga says.

IS THE GOVERNMENT TO BLAME?

The net impact of government action must be left to the judgment of the individual, Hayenga advises. He cites the following as considerations: The U.S. government has in the past limited imports, devalued the dollar, operated deficit budgets and supplemented incomes to expand demand. It has also kept feed grain prices high and grain acreage lower than it might have been. At the same time, it has imposed price ceilings and margin and profit controls on some firms. The government, then, has both helped and hindered the price situation.

WHAT ARE THE ALTERNATIVES?

Switching to other meats or nonmeat protein such as soybean products is one alternative, Hayenga says. But consumers are slow to change eating patterns. Expanded beef and pork production may also help. Increased pork supplies will hit the market during the last half of 1973. Expanding beef is more gradual. Substantial beef increases of 6 to 10 percent a year are not likely before 1975, Hayenga says.

Tax incentive, cost subsidies, and new technical and management efficiencies may reduce costs, but some proposals may not be politically or economically desirable.

Greater employment, more federal spending and food stamp and school lunch programs also bring about more red meat purchases. Red meats prices also include increased packaging, processing and other service costs. Wages are fast increasing while labor efficiency is improving slowly. This increased cost results in higher consumer prices.

During the past few decades, beef and pork production has increased by about 3% each year, with normal fluctuation due to natural production cycles. But in the late 1960s and early 1970s, this rate was inadequate to meet demand. Government policy has also assured that grain prices will not drop below certain levels. Consequently, feed costs may have held down livestock production, according to Hayenga.

Import controls on beef were removed this year to encourage imports primarily from Australia, New Zealand and Argentina. But since supplies in those countries are currently low and demand great in other importing countries, this quota lift probably won't change U.S. prices much this year.

ARE HOG AND CATTLE PRODUCERS PROFITEERING? A 5% return on investment by hog and cattle feeders is typical in Michigan, with occasional "gold mine" years and "bust" years, Hayenga reports.

When retail prices go up, prices paid by feedlot operators to calf producers may also increase. But for the most part, feedlot and calf producers' profits are low and fluctuating, Hayenga says.

WHAT ABOUT PRICE CEILINGS?

Does the price ceiling placed in March on retail and wholesale red meats have an effect? Larger beef supplies are anticipated during the next several months, so Hayenga feels prices will slacken on their own — unless consumer demand continues to increase at unusual rates. There may be limited periods in 1973 when retail or wholesale prices for beef and pork "bump the ceiling," the ag economist says. Pork production is seasonally low during the summer, but greater supplies shortly after should ease prices. Beef prices may reach the ceiling in late fall or early winter, if consumer demand increases at its usual rate. If ceilings are reached, black markets or rationing could occur.

Will price ceilings cause supply shortages in the future? Probably not, Hayenga projects. Ceilings prices are set high enough so meat producers won't stop expanding production, he feels. They may hesitate and thereby slow the rate of increase, however.

If you sew, or if you'd like to, sooner or later you'll probably be buying a home sewing machine.

For the skillful, experienced seamstress who knows what special features her sewing demands, shopping for just the right machine at the right price can be an exciting shopping adventure.

For the beginner who is unfamiliar with the basic features of various machines and unacquainted with the wide range of available options, the choice between straight-stitch, semi-automatic zigzag and fully automatic zigzag, portable and cabinet models, can be overwhelming.

You can make it easier on yourself by becoming familiar with how these machines differ because the various features they offer dictate the type of sewing for which each is most appropriate.

The straight-stitch machine, for example, does the everyday work that makes up the greatest part of your sewing. Without special attachments it does straight stitching both forward and backward, in varied stitch lengths and on heavy or light fabrics. With attachments it will also do ruffling, gathering, quilting, hemming, binding, cording, tucking, overcasting, buttonholes, zipper insertion, zigzag stitching, blind-stitch hemming, decorative stitching, darning and embroidery.

For patching, mending and routine dressmaking that does not require many fancy touches, the straight-stitch machine is more practical than the others. The beginner who does not want to make a large investment in a machine she might not use a great deal would probably find a straight-stitch machine her best buy.

The semi-automatic zigzag machines are usually more expensive than the straight-stitch models. They can do everything a straight-stitch machine can do plus make simple zigzag patterns for seams in stretchy fabrics, buttonholes, appliques, monograms and blind hems. Attachments are necessary for such operations as ruffling, gathering, quilting, zipper insertion, hemming, binding and darning, just as with the straight-stitch machines.

Fully automatic zigzag machines are the most expensive. In addition to straight and zigzag stitching, they also make a number of decorative stitches. Many models offer a stretch stitch consisting of 2 stitches forward and one back. This can be advantageous if you do a lot of sewing lingerie fabrics and stretchy knits.

These machines are called "fully automatic", but to use them to their greatest potential requires thorough knowledge of the machine and a high degree of skill that comes only through practice. The tendency is to over-invest in decorative features that are used so seldom that you do not develop the skill necessary to use them well.

The first step in choosing your machine, then, is to decide what type of sewing you want to do and let that determine the features you will seek in your machine. It is important not to sacrifice quality for features you will not use. If you are primarily interested in straight stitching, you are better off to invest a little more money in a straight-stitch machine at the lower end of the price range.

After you've decided what you want your machine to do for you, the next step is to choose between cabinet or portable model. For apartment dwellers or people who move around a lot, a portable is the natural choice. If you decide on a portable and you'll be carrying it often, be sure to lift it and see just how portable it really is!

If you have the room for it and you want the convenience of quick and easy setting up, a cabinet model may be the one for you. Most provide some storage space as well as work area. Cabinets are available in a wide range of styles - and prices. A basic rule of thumb is not to sacrifice quality in the machine for the sake of a fancy cabinet. All machines do not fit all cabinets, and if you trade in your machine later, your new one may not fit.

With these basic guidelines in mind, you are ready to do some comparison shopping.

One word of warning: restrict your shopping to reliable retail outlets and do not be influenced by special offers, contests or giveaways. That "free" sewing machine offer that comes in the mail may have innumerable strings attached. To get the machine you may, for instance, have to buy the table or desk to put it on, and this may cost more than you would pay for both a machine and a stand elsewhere. The contract you sign may also contain hidden costs that inflate the total cost of your "bargain" still more.

Keeping in mind what you're looking for in a machine, compare several brands. Watch the salesman demonstrate a machine and then try it out yourself. Remember that the salesman operates his machine several hours a day. A complicated operation he can whiz through in no time may look easy but take hours in inexperienced hands.

Sew on a demonstrator long enough to check the following:

-Stitch quality. Does the machine stitch evenly? Or are some stitches longer than others?

-Speed. Can you control it easily? Will the machine go as fast or as slowly as you want it to go?

-The reverse control. Is it easy for you to use?

-The light. Does it have one? Is it adequate? Can the bulb be replaced easily?

-The foot control. Would it be comfortable for long periods of sewing?

-The instruction book. Is it clear and easy to understand?

-Attachments. Can cams or attachments be inserted and removed easily? Do they stay securely attached? Where are they stored?

-Noise level. Is the machine quiet? Or does it vibrate noisily?

-Pressure foot pressure. Can it be regulated to accommodate fine or heavy fabrics?

-The bobbin. How is it wound? Does it have to be taken out or is it wound in the case? Is it easy to remove and replace?

-The tension control. Is it easy to set? Does it stay in the position set?

-Maintenance. Do you have to oil the machine? How often? Are the directions clear?

-The guarantee. Will it be honored in service centers in all parts of the country? How long are the various parts of the machine guaranteed? Is labor included in the guarantee?

-Repairs. Will parts be available even if the manufacturer decides later to discontinue the model you have chosen?

-Lessons. Are instructions in using the machine part of the deal?

After you've chosen your machine and brought it home, don't neglect the proper care that will keep it in good running order.

Keep your directions manual handy for care instructions.

ST. JOHNS -- Last year about 3.4 billion dollars of new construction were contracted in Michigan. Houses, shopping centers, roads, pipelines, and other new construction are literally changing the landscape of our state.

About 375 different kinds of soil occur on Michigan's landscape. Many of the soils have severe limitations for construction.

They are too wet, unstable, too steep, too clayey or are subject to flooding. To overcome these limitations construction becomes costly.

Are you planning new construction? Soil maps will help you select the most suitable soil to build on.

Soil maps with accompanying soil interpretations are provided by a soil survey. These surveys are made by the US Soil Conservation Service and cooperating agencies.

Last year 500,000 acres of new soil surveys were made according to Arthur H. Cratty, State Conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service. He adds: "We now have modern soil surveys for approximately 10,000,000 acres of Michigan's land. This year soil surveys will be completed for Clinton, Eaton, Washtenaw, and Wayne Counties."

This will provide soil information for more than 1-1/2 million acres of land where housing and industry are rapidly expanding. The soil maps show the kind and distribution of various soils and provide information about their properties to a depth of 5 feet. The aerial photograph background makes the maps easy to use. The accompanying soil interpretations rate each soil as to the kind and degree of limitations for various uses.

SOILS ARE RATED as having slight, moderate, or severe limitations because of wetness, flooding, frost action, permeability, slope, stability, shrink-swell potential, depth to bedrock, and other features. Soils are rated for residential development with or without public sewers, small commercial development, local roads and streets, recreational development, and for other uses.

The suitability of a particular kind of soil as a source for roadfill, sand and gravel, and topsoil is also rated.

Other information, such as drainage, pond reservoirs, embankment material, and erodibility is given. Using a soil map and interpretations in planning new construction will help to avoid excessive cost that results from construction that requires drainage or other special engineering techniques to make the site suitable.

SOIL MAPS will not eliminate the need for sampling and testing at sites involving heavy loads or excavations deeper than 5 feet.

Even in these situations the soil map is useful. It indicates the kinds of problems that may be expected and provides a basis for planning detailed field investigations.

Soil maps and interpretative information are available for all townships of Clinton County," says Lloyd B. Campbell, District Conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service. He adds: "Builders, contractors, engineers, surveyors, and other persons involved in construction may obtain soils information at the Soil Conservation Service's office, located at 100 South Ottawa, St. Johns."

Bill Dalman (left) goes over the books with Dalman Hardware's new owner, Don McKinley. Dalman has agreed to stay on at the store for a while to help McKinley learn the hardware business.

Dalman Hardware changes hands after 35 years

DEWITT - After 35 years in the hardware business, Bill Dalman has decided it's time to "take life easier," and sold his business to Don McKinley of Chelsea. Dalman started his hardware business during the Depression years, and expanded the store in 1950 to more than triple its size.

McKinley reports that the name, Dalman Hardware, will remain the same, and he doesn't plan any changes in the near future. He said his goal is to provide the same "good service and name" that Dalman has established in his 35 years there.

McKinley is new to the hardware business, having run a bar in Chelsea for the past 9 years. He and his wife Betty and their children plan to move to DeWitt as soon as they sell their house in Chelsea and find a new home, hopefully by the time school starts in the fall.

Their 6 children include Jackie, a junior at Central Michigan University; Sheri, sophomore at Ferris State College; Greg, age 16; Scott, 13; Laurie, 7; and Kelli, age 5. Two of the kids will help out at the store this summer.

His plans for the future include traveling and taking care of the property he and his wife, Marguerite, own. Daughter Vicki, who attends DeWitt High School, is the only child left at home. Three of her sons, Bruce, Gary and Jim, all work at the store, and another daughter, Mary, teaches school in St. Johns. The 3 sons will continue to work at the hardware store under the new owner.

All right all you good and wonderful people of the Tri-County area, hear me out! As you are all probably aware, the Tri-County Shopping News is no more. What will become of that good ole hometown news? It will be appearing in the only qualified newspaper covering your area, the Clinton County News!

How many people can brag about their own spread in a newspaper? Not many! Now I am not bragging, just stating the facts as they stand. There is probably NO newspaper around that has a staff member with as many relatives in one area as the Clinton County News. I have more relatives (and they just all happen to be out-er-in-laws), and those relatives and all of you out there are the ones that must and will be taken care of.

Now, on to a different topic. How was everyone's Father's Day? We had a very enjoyable one. Since it was Sunday, I made my husband get up with our little one. I curled up in bed with my latest book when suddenly I heard a big "Hey!" My husband appeared in the doorway demanding "Do you know that today is Father's Day?" I sheepishly crawled out of bed and immediately started breakfast. (Which is an unheard of in our home).

We went to my parents for the afternoon and by the looks of things my mother was under the whip too. Homemade ice cream was on the agenda for the day and it had to be made in a manual maker only! So we all (we women that is) took turns cranking away. Oh, my poor arm!

I have come to the conclusion that I am glad Father's Day comes only once a year!

USDA asks farmers to report fuel shortages to ASCS office

To help assure that farmers don't run short of fuel this season, Walter Wittenbach, Chairman of the Michigan Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, stated the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) is asking farmers to: —Report any shortages to local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) Offices, and —Use fuel conserving methods with tractors, trucks and other machine-driven equipment. The Department, since February, has been monitoring the farm fuel supply situation through its more than 2,800 ASCS county offices. Any shortages are reported immediately through State ASCS office to

Washington. In addition, a regular farm fuel situation report is prepared for Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz every Wednesday. Any problems that arise are forwarded immediately to the Office of Oil and Gas (OOG), U. S. Department of the Interior, for solution under the voluntary allocation program. William E. Simon, Chairman of the President's Oil Policy Committee and Deputy Secretary of the Treasury, has pointed out that farmers and the food industry have priority in getting petroleum products. To assure continuous coordination with the OOG, ASCS has loaned it a professional employee. ASCS said some suppliers have not been able to meet farm customers' needs fully. Officials said this is partly because independent and cooperative fuel producers and marketers have not been able to obtain enough supplies. The current planting period is critical to farm production. Officials involved do follow ups on shortage reports to make certain that corrective action is being taken. USDA has been working with the Departments of Treasury and the Interior to encourage farm fuel conservation practices. Farmers can conserve fuel used by keeping tractors tuned and using minimum tillage practices, for example. USDA officials also urged farmers not to buy more fuel than they need in the near future. Officials stressed that equitable distribution is necessary if all farmers are to have enough fuel.

Under terms of the measure, 13 new field inspectors would be added to provide for additional surveillance and enforcement of drilling laws. At the same time, the Gas and Oil Advisory Board within the Department of Natural Resources would be increased by two members.
 Those new members would be public members and
 would join the board which is now composed of representatives of the oil and gas industries.

To pay for the increased
 enforcement, the drilling privilege fee would be increased from one-eighth of a
 cent a barrel to one percent of the total value of the gas
 and oil at the well head.

88th District Report by Stanley Powell State Representative

With less than two weeks remaining before the end of the State's fiscal year, there is a tremendous backlog of work yet to be accomplished in the Michigan Legislature.
 Each chamber must take final action on the half of the budget which originated in the other chamber. I am distressed that the levels at which these budget bills now stand indicate that we are sadly out of balance. The total of these bills shows that they exceed the recommendation of Governor Milliken by almost $130 million.

One of the biggest and most controversial appropriation bills still hanging fire is the state aid for public schools. On April 5, 1973 the Senate passed SB 110, the so-called Bursley State Aid Bill.
 The House Education Committee made some amendments to it and it was then sent to the House Committee on Appropriations. They finally reported it out at a meeting last week but in a completely revised version. Their recommendations include many of the features of the proposal of House Majority Floor Leader, Bobby Crim.

Many school districts would get more aid under the Crim plan. Certainly that should be the case since it would cost some $67 million more the first year and about $130 million more the following year than the Bursley proposal! There just isn't that much extra cash in sight. After having passed the Tax Reduction Bills earlier in the session which will reduce the state income tax and property tax paid by most Michigan citizens, we cannot embark on a program of reckless spending. Our State Constitution provides that we must have a balanced budget and that the appropriations must not exceed cash on hand and our anticipated revenues.

We are going to have to make some very difficult decisions in the next few days and I hope that they will be sound and sensible ones.

NEW OIL AND GAS DRILLING RULES AP-PROVED

The recent Williamsburg gas eruptions have brought about some new regulations in the Legislature dealing with the problems. A bill was approved in the Michigan Senate which provides for additional inspection and policing of oil and gas drilling operations and increases penalties for violation of the state's drilling laws.

Under terms of the measure, 13 new field inspectors would be added to provide for additional surveillance and enforcement of drilling laws. At the same time, the Gas and Oil Advisory Board within the Department of Natural Resources would be increased by two members.
 Those new members would
 be public members and
 would join the board which is now composed of
 representatives of the oil and
 gas industries.

To pay for the increased
 enforcement, the drilling
 privilege fee would be increased from one-eighth of a
 cent a barrel to one percent of the total value of the gas
 and oil at the well head.

In addition, the fine for leaving a well unplugged or improperly plugged is increased from the present $100 to $1,000, and the penalty for making a false report on drilling activities is increased from $1,000 to $3,000.

In view of the tragedy at Williamsburg, it is good to see this new and firm action taken. The bill was approved without dissent in the Senate, and I would predict that it will receive similar approval in the House.

RECORD NUMBER OF

Speaking of schools, the State Board estimates that about 150,000 young men and women graduated this year from Michigan's public and non-public high schools. The class of 1973 is the largest in the state's history with graduating classes in 1974 and 1975 expected to be even larger. The first drop in graduating seniors is expected in 1976.

Based on national statistics, nearly 90,000 of the 1973 high school graduates are expected to continue their education next fall by enrolling in a four-year or community college.

Figures don't lie

By Bill Douglas, Tribune
87th District

Figures don't lie. Proof that the old axiom still holds came home to me again last week when I put together a pile of information on school financing history.

The conclusions I reached were not at all what I expected to find.

I was working with the per-pupil expenditure figures for every school in the 87th District for the past 4 years to determine which tax source — local, property taxes or state funding — has picked up the major share of the increases in local school tax costs.

I know that each year, when faced with the school appropriations bill, I feel we are making larger state payments and taking over some of the local property tax burden.

I know, too, when I pay my property taxes, I complain that the local burden is rising out of proportion to total costs and that we are increasing the relative property tax burden rather than decreasing it.

Would you believe that for all the schools in the 87th District the ratio of state funding and local taxes supporting the schools has remained constant? In the 1969-70 school year our schools received 62 percent of their support from the state and raised 38 percent locally. By 1972-73, the figures had changed to a 60-40 relationship.

So, in spite of our efforts, we have not only failed to relieve property taxes for schools, we have, in fact, shifted a slightly higher share of the burden to local property taxes.

But, that is history. The coming year could be considerably different.

Under the "equalized yield" concept of the 1973-74 appropriation — either the original version or the new proposal offered last week by the House Appropriation Committee — the state portion of the total school costs will jump to above 70 percent. If we can maintain this ratio in coming years, this could well mean actual reduction in local property taxes levied for schools.

Coupled with the general tax reduction program passed earlier this year — which is really a tax refunding program rather than a reduction — there should be good news ahead for Michigan's property taxpayer.

Let me stress, though, the whole thing still depends on imposing some restraints on spending at both the local and state levels. As I have indicated before, the whole tax reduction program is in jeopardy because of excessive demands for state spending.

A recent example of this pressure is in that new school-aid bill mentioned above which was offered by our appropriations committee last week. It would increase the cost by $67 million, mostly in aid to local school districts in this year and by $130 million in the 1974-75 school year. Attractive as this might seem to some to have more state money available for local schools, the hard fact is that we can't afford it.

The next few weeks are going to be interesting, as we try to reconcile the different philosophies in education support. I only hope we can have the job done — and done well — in time for local districts to prepare properly for the coming year.

Middlebury News

The Middlebury United Methodist Church located on West Hibbard Road, Ovid is observing its 100th anniversary, Sunday, June 24 with special services. The morning worship begins at 11:00 am with the new Flint District Superintendent, Rev Paul Blomquist as guest speaker. At 1:00 pm there will be a cooperative dinner with potatoes, rolls and beverage furnished. Those attending the dinner are asked to bring their own table service and a passing dish. The afternoon session will begin at 2:30 pm with a special program planned and former ministers participating. There will also be special music during both services. Anyone interested, especially former members, are cordially invited to attend all, or any part of the Centennial celebration. The Rev Brian Kundinger is the minister of the church.

Several from this area attended an open house in Lansing recently in honor of Tom Moorhead, who graduated from the Detroit College of Law.

Middlebury United Methodist Church Vacation Church School closed Sunday with a sharing program during the worship service. There were 48 registered with an average daily attendance of 45. Teachers were Rev Brian Kundinger, Junior-high; Helen Lundquist and Loreta Warren, Juniors; Primary, Caroline Pierce and Joan Warren; Nursery, Charlene Austin, Bunny Semans, Nancy Watkins. Other part time helpers were Madge Craig and Marjorie Moorhead.

Kathy Jordan was the honored guest at an open house in her home on West Hibbard Road in honor of her recent graduation from Owosso High School. The refreshment table featured a cake decorated in blue and gold flanked with blue candles. Helping with the serving were Leona Garber, Geraldine and Janet Stanton.

Mr and Mrs Elwin Howard of Ormand Beach, Florida are visiting friends and relatives in the area and attended the graduation of a grandson from high school and their son from MSU.

How schizophrenia is treated

By Jose J Llinas, MD
Director of Community Mental Health Clinton, Eaton and Ingham

Since, as we have explained in the last few weeks, schizophrenia is not a single condition, and is expressed differently in different individuals, with symptoms constantly changing, there is no one best treatment.

Instead, a number of treatments have been found to be helpful, and more are being developed.

The so-called major tranquilizers (such as chlorpromazine or thiorazine), available since the mid-1950's, have proved valuable to most schizophrenics and are a standard treatment for the disorder.

They greatly improve — directly and indirectly — the outlook for individual patients. They decrease the patient's fear and lessen acute symptoms; they enable him to think more clearly and function more appropriately. The choice of drug can be made only by a qualified physician.

The introduction of psychoactive drugs had had a powerful effect on the attitudes of professionals and laymen toward the possibility of successful treatment for schizophrenia.

Hospital nurses, attendants, and doctors feel more comfortable when a patient is calm and is behaving in a socially acceptable fashion. They feel more hopeful that the individual will soon be able to function normally. This feeling in turn enables the patient to feel more hopeful about himself and to begin to form meaningful contacts with other people. These contacts and this hope are of tremendous importance in helping the patient recover.

Almost every specialist agrees that tranquilizing drugs should be supplemented by other forms of treatment.

While the drugs have proved crucial to the positive outlook for schizophrenia, they are not in themselves curative. In any event, combining several forms of treatment, especially those which add human contact, seems to hasten and make more complete the recovery of the schizophrenic. It has been demonstrated repeatedly that continued involvement with people is essential to prevent a state of "chronic" illness.

In some particular situations, electroshock treatment may be useful. It can be of help, for instance, if a severe depression occurs in the course of a schizophrenic episode.

Individual psychotherapy, in which the patient sees a therapist on a regular basis, to share his experiences and talk about his world with somebody outside it, is usually productive, on at least two counts. First, the process may prevent the patient from being driven further in to a world of fear, confusion and isolation. Second, experience with such a helping relationship can enable him to trust others and to come out from his shell of withdrawal, into contact with the world at large.

Group therapy — seminars, usually involving up to 10 patients and one or two trained therapists, offers an opportunity to learn from one another's experiences, and tends to correct misperceptions by feedback from members of the group.

Family therapy is a related technique, which has only recently come into wide use. As usually practiced, it involves the patient and his parent or spouse, and a therapist. Brothers and sisters and other relatives may also be included.

Next week: How Schizophrenia is Treated.

can enable all concerned to understand better the point of view of others, can help with treatment planning, such as hospital discharge, and can modify a family's attitudes and behaviors which seem to be related to the development or maintenance of "illness" in the patient.

Finally, because it is obvious that a disease as devastating as schizophrenia must ultimately have some kind — of physical and biological turmoil at its base, many investigators feel that organic factors are important.

Unfortunately, no clear biological derangement has so far been identified, through a number of biochemical abnormalities have been reported. Some day the scientists now working on the problem may give us the answer.

Next week: How Schizophrenia is Treated.

Don't think of them as 50 store managers.
Think of them as 50 pairs of sympathetic ears.

They're terrific grocery men. We think they're the best. They're good listeners, too. It's their job to give you a voice in what Kroger should do to serve you better. Want a cleaner store? Want to see an item carried that isn't on our shelves? Tell our manager.

Do you find an employee a bit careless? Are you not getting all the help you expect? Tell our manager. Is there something you really like about Kroger? Our managers aren't adverse to hearing compliments either. We hire, and promote, Kroger store managers based on how well they use their ears. And what's between their ears.

X What are Bonus Bargains?
When you see an "X" next to an item in Kroger's ads or stores, it means a Bonus Bargain, good for a limited time and made possible by a special purchase or a manufacturer's allowance or a favorable market condition.

ATTEST R.F. Eldridge Bd. of County Road Commissioners
Clerk

DATE 3 April 1973 Clinton County Marvin Platte Chairman

Road Commission Chairman, Platte expressed appreciation to the Board of Commissioners and also to the township officials for the cooperation and support which they have received in attempting to meet the road problems.

Also present at 10:30 A.M. were Supervisors Roy VanSickle, Bath twp.; Marshall Hicks, Bengal twp.; Harold Benson, Bingham twp.; George Martin, Dallas twp.; Dale Emerson, DeWitt Twp. (also William Meir); George Moore, Duplain twp.; Russell Howe, Eagle twp.; Clayton Wright, Essex twp.; Edwin Cox, Greenbush twp.; Anthony George, Lebanon twp.; Earl Barks, Olive twp.; Carol Bashore, Ovid twp.; Norman Thelen, Riley twp.; Robert Remus, Victor twp.; Herman Openlander, Watertown twp.; Walter Thelen, Westphalia twp.; Thomas Hundley, City of St. Johns Assessor and Dan Elliot, City of DeWitt Assessor. Also present were Leon Thelen, Equalization Director and Bruce Wood, Assistant Equalization Director.

Commissioner Reed moved, supported by Gove, to take from the table the Equalization Report. Voted and carried.

Leon Thelen presented the Clinton County Equalization Report for 1973 as prepared by the Equalization Committee and the Equalization Department. Mr. Thelen then briefly explained the methods and procedures involved in arriving at the equalization figures which include physical inspection of properties involved, sales studies, etc.

Supervisor Emerson stated that the factor of 1.000 assigned to DeWitt Township is inequitable and DeWitt Township should be assigned no more than a factor of .95 to establish equity.

Commissioner Shepard stated that the County Equalization Committee have spot checked the several assessing units and in their opinion the report as presented represents a fair and equitable county equalization figure.

Tom Hundley stated that the City of St. Johns has put forth considerable effort (more than the average) to achieve assessment at 50% of value. He asked that this be given consideration.

Roy VanSickle raised the issue that perhaps the State Tax Commission has been in error in proposing a county wide factor and that the county is correct in their figures.

Dale Emerson stated that while he has no issue with the county equalization figure, DeWitt Township is at 1.000 and any increase put on by the State will put them above 50% of value and will create an inequity for DeWitt Township.

Several other townships voiced a similar position. Any factor assigned by the State will also place them in a position of inequity.

Leon Thelen then listed the increase total property valuations (real) 1969 to 1973. Increase in State Equalized Valuation:

1968 - 1969 - 15.4%
1969 - 1970 - 4.8%
1970 - 1971 - 19.4%
1971 - 1972 - 15.4%
1972 - 1973 - 9.0% plus STC 5% factor equals 14.4%

William Meier, assessor for DeWitt Township related an experience which he went through in St. Clair County in which the State Tax Commission acting on an appeal did conduct a study. Eleven units in the county were raised as a result.

Chairman Shinabery feels that the timing by the State Tax Commission in assigning a factor with no warning after the assessments were completed is entirely wrong.

Commissioner Zeeb urges all persons involved to contact their State Legislators to make them aware of the situation. The Board recessed for lunch at 11:45 A.M.

P.M. SESSION

Upon resuming session, with the assessors present, discussion on the Equalization Report continued. Shepard moved, supported by Henning, to adopt the Personal Property Equalization Report as presented which totals $25,410,047. Voted and carried unanimously. Supervisor Howe cited the transfer of the Animal Control Department (Dog Wardens) to the Sheriff Department of which they were not made aware.

Supervisor Openlander cited the need for better information on building permits and permits issued by the Health Department for septic and drain field permits. He mentioned the thirty day period before he receives such permits.

Supervisor Cox believes that the perc tests are not at present a satisfactory procedure for issuing building permits. Commissioner Henning suggested that when there are instances of unsatisfactory perc tests (in writing) and they will investigate the specific cases involved.

Supervisor Barks indicated that he will name some specific cases to check on. Supervisor Cox will also furnish some specific cases.

Supervisor Benson issued an invitation to the commissioners to make personal survey of some of their cases. The Health Committee will request that the Health Department send to the townships, the results of the perc tests.

Leon Thelen expressed his appreciation for the cooperation and help which he has received from the Board and also the different assessing units in the county in the equalization department efforts to effect equitable equalization. Chairman Shinabery expressed his appreciation to the persons present for the attendance and for their informative comments.

Chairman Shinabery reported on the parking situation at the Court House and he called on Arden Pierson, County Surveyor who presented two suggested plans for providing additional parking space in the vicinity of the jail.

The Chairman declared a recess at 2:50 P.M. On again being called to order, the discussion on additional parking continued. Commissioner Chamberlain does not favor removing the trees and suggests restricted parking may help the situation. Chairman referred the matter to the Property Management Committee to work with Arden Pierson, R G Becher and the Sheriff to continue the study and to present a plan and a recommendation to the Board at the next meeting.

Commissioner Gove presented the matter of a reply to Charlotte Williams on the appointment of a Director for Social Services Departments. Zeeb moved, supported by Gilson, to authorize Commissioner Gove to draft a suitable reply to Mrs. Williams. Voted and carried.

RESOLUTION

Whereas, this Board of Commissioners, and its predecessor the Clinton County Board of Supervisors, has always adhered to the theory and belief local control of local government is better than control from a higher state or federal level; and

Whereas, the cost of welfare to Clinton Taxpayers has been substantially reduced in the past two years by prudent administration from the Director and members of the Board of Social Services; and

Whereas, it is felt the appointment of a person to fill the administrative post of Director for the Department of Social Services could best serve local interests if such appointment is made by members of the county Board of Social Services; and

Whereas, it has come to the attention of this Board that our Governor of Michigan, the Honorable William G. Milliken, has recommended state appointment of directors for county social service departments; Now, Therefore, be it resolved this Board of Commissioners go on record as being opposed to the recommendation as made by Gov. Milliken, and we make this known further by sending a copy of this resolution to the Michigan Legislators representing this county in the State Legislature, asking them to reject the recommendation for state appointed directors when such request is presented that body for approval.

Copies of this resolution shall be forwarded to Sen. William Ballenger, Rep Dale Warner, Rep Douglas Trezise and Stanley Powell.
