New emergency service at Clinton Memorial

Effective July 9, Clinton Memorial Hospital will begin contracting with a new group of doctors to provide emergency room coverage.

Paul McNamara, hospital administrator, explained that the board of directors authorized this as a means of improving emergency room coverage for the area.

In past years, McNamara explained, "The staff physicians provided on-call coverage and did an excellent job. In the last several years, we have had greater and greater demand for emergency services from both people who live within the community and others who are either vacationing in the area or traveling through. As a result of this, it has been increasingly difficult to handle the volume."

Beginning July 9, there will be physicians in the hospital from 8 p.m. on Friday through 9 p.m. on Sunday each weekend. This will continue until the new group of doctors can make arrangements for providing doctors physically present in the emergency room Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. until midnight, and all weekend. McNamara explained the medical staff and board were most interested in providing this improved service he said. "Their only hesitation has been the high cost of paying for a doctor sitting around waiting for somebody to come to the hospital in need of emergency care. As a result of this, we will be monitoring the service quite closely during the first year or so to insure this is truly a service the community wants and is willing to pay for."

Camping with young children

If you plan on going camping with young children, these tips from the Extension Newsletter from Minnesota may be helpful:

When camping with young children, consider how many days you'll be gone and how far you travel each day. It's best not to drive too many miles day after day. Weekend trips are good starters to help children feel at home away from home. A few days before leaving, have the children try out their sleeping bags to get used to sleeping in them. If getting new bags, it's a good idea to have each child's different color.

Food - Meals need to be planned before leaving on your camping trip. With modern campstoves and coolers, meals can be similar to those prepared at home. Plan foods the entire family enjoys eating: this is not the time to introduce new foods to children. Keep the preparation easy and simple, but be sure to include foods from each of the four food groups.

If camping in undeveloped areas for any length of time, dried or dehydrated foods are needed. A box of macaroni and cheese from your kitchen cupboard may be as good as the more expensive dried camping foods. Check the package to see if anything besides water needs to be added.

Many families' favorites include pancakes, dried fruit, peanut butter, instant puddings, fresh fish, pizza, popcorn and hotdogs. Bring carrot and celery sticks and fresh fruit to munch on while traveling.

Always plan food for one extra day in case something happens. If not used, what could be better when you get home and have tired, hungry children waiting?

Clothes - Plan for a daily change of clothes plus a spare outfit. Put in some cool weather clothes, too. Brightly-colored clothing helps you spot your children when they're off playing. Pack the clothes in outfits for each child and yourself. A large solid suitcase may be all you need, with the adult's clothing on one side and the children's on the other.

A clothes line and clothes pins are good camping supplies to dry swimsuits and towels, and air out sleeping bags.

Activities - Special activities or surprises are good for rainy days and travel time in the car. Bring along some special things for each child - a toy, a new book, crayons, and plain paper. Give them to the children if they're restless. It's one activity, and keep it a surprise.

Your group may need a temporary food license

The Mid-Michigan District Health Department provides inspection of Temporary Food Service Establishment Operations for residents of Clinton, Gratiot and Montcalm Counties.

A temporary Food Service Establishment is one which sells food for a period of less than two weeks. They are usually organized for specific occasions such as Spring Carnivals, Fall Festivals, or similar local social gatherings.

A temporary food license is required by state law before selling food. Temporary food license applications are available at any county branch office of the Mid-Michigan District Health Department located in St. Johns, Ithaca, and Stanton, Michigan. The completed applications become a license after acceptable inspection of the temporary food establishment's food storage and handling equipment.

The temporary food establishment must be properly equipped to keep all perishable food "hot" or "cold" for food protection and safety. The location of the establishment must be favorable for food handling and suitable to properly dispose of all waste generated by the food operation. License fees are $20 per application, however, non-profit organizations such as the Jaycees, Lions Club, Kiwanis Club, etc. are exempt of the license fees. Further, products which contain meat, milk, eggs and fish or combinations of these ingredients are restricted as "Potentially Hazardous Food".

SECOND Quality food must be properly stored and handled prior to sale. This includes clean, sanitary facilities capable of maintaining hot foods HOT and cold foods COLD.

For further information or assistance on food service sanitation feel free to contact the Environmental Health Section, Mid-Michigan District Health Department in your county at St. Johns, Ithaca and Stanton.

Please tell us — where's the bus

Please tell us: Where's the bus?

Utilizing public transportation is encouraged to conserve our nation's energy supplies.

Well, you can't say we didn't try.

After hearing reports of frustrations from persons attempting to leave the driving to North Star Bus Lines, which services this area, we decided to try it ourselves.

We learned that to take a bus from St. Johns to the northern Michigan destination of Ludington would require, first taking a bus from St. Johns to Lansing.

After arriving in Lansing, we would have a 2-hour wait before leaving on another northbound bus.

The bus would then go to Muskegon, where we would face another 2-hour layover.

When finally reaching our destination, it would have taken from 10 a.m. until 7:30 p.m. to make what is a 3-hour trip by automobile.

Assuming that we might not object too strenuously to the time involved, we asked where to board the bus in St. Johns.

The answer from the North Star office?

"I don't know, I've been trying to find out all day," Mr. North Star said 3 other persons had called requesting the same information and, at the time, the only way to find out was to ask the driver.

The fare? It was reasonable at $12.80 one-way and, at least, we learned the cost of the fare.

Another party was given a "ball park" figure and told that a definite price could not be provided at the time of the call.

We realize bus lines were faced many years ago with dwindling amount of customers in outlying areas such as St. Johns as improved highway systems made it easier and faster to get from one part of the state to the other.

If we are to return to large scale use of public transportation and the bus companies are to realize a profit, something is going to have to improve.

That is - if you want us to use the bus, at least tell us how much the ticket will cost and where to find the bus.

It would also be more enjoyable if a 3-hour trip could be made in less than 9 hours.

ALMANACK

Philadelphia evokes proper emotions

Bicentennialism is made to order for sentiment, and Philadelphia is the perfect place for both.

That's why Philadelphia is one of the most popular convention cities in the country during 1976 - and the National Newspaper Association is no exception to that order of the day.

Taking advantage of both patriotism and professionalism. I made my first visit to Philadelphia recently and found out first-hand that the sentimentalists and patriots are right, and the cynics are wrong.

The surge of pride is almost tangible as you stroll through Independence Hall. You can't help but try to relive the historic days in the historic rooms where the Continental Congress hammered out the immortal Declaration of Independence, and the ideals of its foundation.

When you've been exposed to the rigors of the world for many years, sentiment or even patriotism do not come easily to you; but in Independence Hall, they live today.

The same surge of emotion arises at the Liberty Bell pavilion, although for me it was not so deep because the Liberty Bell now rests in the pavilion which makes it easier for tourists to see and touch it, rather than in its original home at Independence Hall. A bit commercial perhaps, but emotion still is possible.

Ben Franklin comes out as quite a genius as you retrace his route through the early history of our nation, visiting a reconstructed print shop, seeing where his home stood, examining some of his inventions and experiments.

The house where Thomas Jefferson roomed while he wrote the Declaration of Independence - at least a reconstructed version of the house, but on the original site - adds a certain dimension to appreciation of the history of the times. So does the original Betsy Ross house, where the first flag was made.

The dip into revived patriotism would be incomplete without a trip to Valley Forge, inspecting the actual camp grounds, traipsing through Gen. Washington's headquarters, still standing and open to the public, trying to visualize what the troops endured for their cause 200 years ago. It was plenty.

All of this - and more, of course - makes you just a bit introspective, a bit thankful, and a bit more appreciative of what we have as a nation. Our nation is 200 years old, but it's only 200 years old, and I've personally been around for almost a quarter of that time, which is something with which to conjure all by itself.

Philadelphia is ready for the bicentennial rush of tourists. When we were there with the NNA convention, the streets were clean, the exhibits were well manned, the lines weren't too long. Most tourist attractions were without admission costs, which always adds a bit to their charm, as far as I'm concerned.

Yes, in this bicentennial season, Philadelphia virtually reeks of sentiment and of patriotism.

It reeks of commercialism, too. The blend perhaps is inevitable; although the sidewalk vendors of everything from pretzels to bicentennial holy water fonts border on the offensive, I did not find them especially obnoxious. I ignored them.

Closest to obscene, in my view, are the likes of the "Olde Glory Snack Shoppe," in gaudy dress, opposite the Betsy Ross house - complete with greasy barker on the sidewalk imploring the visitor to try their hoagies. Oh, well; even Ben Franklin was quick to turn a profit at slight provocation.

Philadelphia rather surprised me, because I thought such emotions were beneath me... or, as I learned, more properly above me.

I surprised myself. And I'm glad I did.

Back Through the Years

From the Clinton County News Files of 1936, 1946, 1956, & 1966

July 7, 1966 (10 years ago)

Larry W. Bader, Do., is now associated with the office of DeHarry J. DeVore, D.O., at 208 W. Walker Street. He began his practice here Wednesday. Dr. Bader, 28, completed his internship at Carson City Osteopathic Hospital last Thursday and has moved his family to their new home at 306 S. Baker Street. The doctor and his wife Carole have two children, Alyce, 5, and Eric, 3.

Stanley Pevoski, 45, drowned Sunday afternoon at Houghton Lake when he and a niece stepped into a deep hole while wading at the south end of the lake. Pevoski and his niece, Pamela McCoy, 12, of Lansing, yelled for help, which brought Pevoski's sons, Stanley Jr., 11, and Larry 17. Stanley pulled Pamela to safety, and Larry grabbed his father but was unable to hang on.

The St. Johns School Board has taken an option on a 10-acre site at the corner of Lowell and Pratt roads in Riley Township for the new 13 room elementary school to serve the southwest part of the school district.

July 5, 1956 (20 years ago)

About 95 percent of all Clinton county youngsters between the ages of 4 and 15 have been given two polio shots, according to Mrs. Luella Canfield, county nurse.

A DeWitt woman was hurt fatally and three Lansing residents were injured in a head-on auto accident on US-27 just south of Townsend road at 1 a.m. Monday. Dead is Miss Carol A. Gross, 17, of 11930 Franklin street, DeWitt. Injured were Chester Helms, 43; his daughter, Diane M. Helms, 15, and his niece, Dusty Lou Stubblerfield 8. All three reside at 3722 North Cedar Street, Lansing.

Florence K. LaBar, nine-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil LaBar of R. 5, drowned accidentally at 3:15 p.m. Wednesday while swimming with two sisters at Houghton Lake. State police said Florence stepped into a 20-foot hole while wading in two feet of water about 75 yards from the east shore of the lake near Iroquois Drive. Her body was recovered an hour later.

The Centennial bastille was placed on the courthouse lawn this morning under supervision of Darrell Pope, Chairman of the vigilante committee.

Lyle S. Rupright, 21, of 500 South Logan, Lansing, demanded an examination in justice court here Tuesday when arrested on a negligent homicide charge, arising out of an automobile crash near Park Lake, June 23, which resulted in the deaths of three Lansing youths.

Rupright was unable immediately to furnish a $2,500 bond and was remanded to the Clinton County jail. His hearing is set for July 19.

A freakish bolt of lightning hit the C.A. Kaser farm home during Monday morning's severe electrical storm and caused extensive damage to the roof and wiring. The family was in the house when the bolt hit but were only momentarily stunned and shaken up.

Funeral services for Dorothy Marie Cook, 17-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Cook of DeWitt, who drowned in Lake St. Clair Saturday while the family was visiting relatives near Windsor Ont., were held at the Vincent funeral home Tuesday at 10 a.m.

Campaign years are apt to be a bit warm, but who expected anything like this? Even the candidates are meeting to say nothing of the poor public. Jim Farley has left the cabinet to seek the wide open spaces and Alf Landon says his prairie state is on fire. Borne in on a westerly breeze (and very little breeze at that) a blistering heat wave from the parched plains beyond the Mississippi embraced Clinton county Tuesday in a hot hug that seems to be lasting longer than a movie "fade-out."

Driving toward his home in Owosso, Mitchell K. Reeder, 20, was instantly killed at 2 o'clock Friday morning when he drove his Buick car into a heavy truck on M-21 about midway between Shepardsville and Ovid. His skull was crushed and he also suffered bodily injuries. He was riding alone and it was believed he fell asleep at the wheel.

Judge Kelly S. Searl's recent ruling in a case involving the Peoples-Banking Company of Fowler, is affirmed by a decision just handed down by the Michigan Supreme Court. The Court denied the plaintiff's petition for an appeal.

A PERSONAL LOOK AT THE NEWS.

Between the lines

...JULY 4 REFLECTIONS It was more hectic than I imagined it would be, but the past weekend's Bicentennial Celebrations throughout the county were well worth traveling to witness. A lot of people have put in a lot of hard work during the Bicentennial year. Congratulations to all who were involved in the hours of planning to make this a memorable July 4, 1976.

...NOT LIKE THE OLD DAYS DEPT. - Sparklers sure aren't what they used to be. Instead of a box crammed with sparklers, now you get six in a box that last for 20 seconds at the most. For shame.

...ONE MORE WORD ABOUT THE BIRD - Yeah, I know you're probably sick of reading about Mark "Bird" Fidyrych by now. But, what Detroit Tiger fan could write this column without at least mentioning the fantastic affect he's had on, not only Detroit fans, but fans all over the country. Could you imagine if he could be joined on the Tigers by such past players as Jimmy Piersall, Yogi Berra, Dizzy Dean and managed by Casey Stengel?

...STILL GRIPING ABOUT THE PARKING - There certainly seems to be an abundance of free-style parking in St. Johns. Almost any time of day, one can walk down Clinton Ave. and find several vehicles taking up 2 spaces. One was parallel parked last week in an angle parking zone. Grrrrrrrrrr.

...WHAT THE HECK, IT'S ONLY MONEY - Now we learn the federal government is spending a couple hundred thousand bucks to see if drunk fish are more obnoxious than sober fish. What next?

...BACK TO BASEBALL - The broadcast team for Monday Night Baseball should be allowed to play out their options or be traded. Let's get Norm Cash in there.

...PUNS ARE FUN - A St. Johns resident wants to wax his garage roof. That way, he can sit out in the yard at night and watch "Moon Over Bon-Ami."

...PUNS ARE FUN II - Did you hear about the Chinese Fireworks manufacturer who was so happy because his business was booming?

...YAWN ALONG WITH ME - I'll bet there are a lot of us who aren't even turning the television on this summer because the programming is a waste of time.

...IS NOTHING SACRED - That hero of the comic pages, Dick Tracy, took it on his jutting chin from a daily newspaper in Bangor, Maine. The paper announced it will no longer run the famous crime fighter because the comic strip is too violent. I wonder what B.O. Plenty would have to say about that.

St. Johns among 32 bands at MSU this summer

EAST LANSING - Thirty-two Michigan high school bands - some 3,000 bandsmen from 29 Michigan cities - will get a head start on playing, marching and twirling for fall's pigskin parade in four weeklong Marching Band Clinics at Michigan State University during August.

Eight bands a week will practice under supervision of their own directors and with counsel from MSU Band Director Kenneth Bloomquist and Assistant Director Thad Hegerberg. Drum majors, majorettes, flag-bearers, percussion section members and business managers will get assistance from experienced MSU band members and attaches.

The high school bandsmen and their hometown chaperones will live in MSU residence halls. The youths, practicing on MSU's semi-shaded fields, will doff their band colors and don cut-offs, tank tops and sneakers or sandals to beat the August heat. MSU pools and other recreational resources will get a workout.

Participating bands will present a public show each

Saturday morning on the MSU field on Wilson Road near the veterinary Clinic. During the show, MSU band directors will prepare a critique for each high school director to use in guiding home-field practice.

High school bands participating, by session, include:

Aug. 2-7 - Alma, New Buffalo, John Glenn (Bay City), L'Anse Creuse, North (Mount Clemens), Northview (Grand Rapids), Rogers (Wyoming), Swan Valley (Saginaw) and Waterford-Mott (Pontiac).

Aug. 9-14 - Battle Creek Central, Buchanan, East Jackson, Forest Hills Northern (Grand Rapids), Hastings, Hudsonville, Lakeview (St. Clair Shores), and St. Johns.

Aug. 16-21 - Grandville, Jenison, Lake Shore (St. Clair Shores), Lee (Wyoming), L.M. Powers (Flint), North Muskegon, Portland and River Valley (Three Oaks).

Aug. 23-28 - Berrien Springs, Dundee, Grosse Ile, Jackson Parkside, Riverside (Dearborn Heights), Summerfield (Petersburg), Trenton and Utica.

Recreation Round-up

With Dick Buggs

St. Johns City Recreation Director

Despite continued rainy weather and soggy softball diamonds, it was a good week for recreation activities. The following is a breakdown of the week's events:

CHILDREN'S RECREATION

Coloring books and charades quickly replaced our outside treasure hunt on cold and rainy Wednesday. The brave seven children who did stay during the thunderstorm participated in a few "inside" games and then we all swam home hoping for hot soup for lunch. On Thursday the sun finally shined again and we played "Jungle pom-pon pollaway," "spud," and kick-ball. We had approximately forty-five kids, our biggest crowd to date. Afterwards, we went into the pavilion and learned how to decorate the bikes for the Fourth of July parade. I think we all have the hang of weaving the crepe paper in and out of the spokes now, without tearing it or making it look square, though it's been a while since some of us decorated a bike.

This week we plan to finally have our treasure hunt in the park as well as begin some new arts and crafts projects. All children of elementary age are welcome. We meet on Wednesdays and Thursday at the park from 10:00 A.M. until noon.

TENNIS

We have now concluded our first session of tennis instruction. Approximately twenty-five people participated and according to Bob Halmo, instructor, there was much noticed improvement among the students. Having participated in the session myself, I can say that it was a lot of fun and really worth the time. Our next two week session will start July 12, so make plans now to attend. Just come up to the new tennis courts at 9:00 A.M. on the twelfth and Bob will orientate everyone as to times when the individual classes will meet. These lessons are open to persons of all ages and are offered without charge.

SOFTBALL

The league races are becoming more and more exciting, and everyone now knows who the teams to beat are. Rain cancelled half of the games scheduled for the week but here are the scores from the games played:

MEN'S LEAGUE:

Sillman's 9	Egans 7
Roadhouse 18	Central Bank 17
Oldtimers 3	Mckenzie's 17
Hub Tire 13	Moore Oil 4
Beck's 22	Midstate 9
KOF C 16	Wolverine 15
SJ Oil 16	Randolph's 8

WOMEN'S LEAGUE

Community Dodge 15	Buckeye 5
SJ Bay 11	EJ'S 10
Clinton National 11	Julie K 0

Next season standings will be printed next week after rain make-ups are completed. All managers will be contacted regarding rain make-ups.

GIRL'S SOFTBALL

We've had a number of people call regarding the organization of a girl's softball league. So far we have had many calls from women who have offered to manage these teams but we lack players. If you are between the ages of eight and eight-teen, please contact Connie Nunn at 224-6548. We will divide teams according to age and experience. Give us a call!

COMING EVENTS:

Children's hobo hike, Senior Citizens recreation day, tennis tournament, horseshoe tournament, and much more...

RANDY HUMPHREY, St. Johns city manager, inks his 2-year contract marking the first time a St. Johns city administrative officer has received a multi-year contract. Witnessing the signing are (from left) commissioners Donald Roesner and Gerald Wilcox and Roy Ebert Mayor. Ebert said "the contract was approved by the City Commission in recognition of the superior performance of Humphrey's duties and his dedication in serving the city."

A contest was held during the week and Shirley Porubsky was the Grand winner and other prize winners were Sandy Schlarf, Rhonda Porubsky, Wendy Green, Kara & Kris O'Dell, Tammy Bashore, Tracy Green, Jimmy Bearup and Danny Menurib. A program was held for the parents on Friday evening. The five daily song drill winners competed at the program with Kris O'Dell being the winner; also the daily Bible drill winners held a run off with Sandy Schlarf winning the honor.

The teachers and helpers were pre-schoolers and kindergarten, Cathy Schlarf, Anne Glowney and Carrie Miller; 1st & 2nd grade, Janet Swanson, Gertrude Hofferbert, Delores Minarik and Marjorie Glowney; 3rd & 4th grade, Gayle Green & Doris Valentine; 5th & 6th grade, Mary Kadwell and Phyllis Moore; teen class Emmett Kadwell; Song leader & coordinator, Mary Ann Schlarf; refreshments, Lillian Terrell, Twja Swanson, Rosi Sandbrueck, Phyllis Moore & Mildred Bradley.

4-H Chatter 4-Hers win state honors

BY JOHN AYLSWORTH

Clinton County 4-H members won honors at the State 4-H Horticulture Contest held June 25, during 4-H Exploration Days at Michigan State University in East Lansing. Rick Batora of Elsie placed 1st in the Senior Division in the contest by scoring 186 out of 200 points. Denise Cerny of St. Johns placed 2nd with a score of 176. The State 4-H Horticulture Contest consisted of identifying 40 specimens of fruits, vegetables, flowers, weeds, ornamentals and nuts, taking a written exam, judging several classes of horticulture items and identifying a speciality area. Rick and Denise will join two other Michigan 4-Hers who placed 3rd and 4th in the contest in making up the Michigan team at the National 4-H Junior Horticulture Contest, October 29-November 1, at King of Prussia, Pennsylvania. Rick is a member of the Elsie 4 Corners 4-H club and Denise is a member of the Nimble Fingers 4-H club.

In the Junior Division of the State Horticulture Contest, Darlene Cerny of St. Johns placed 1st in the contest and will receive a $10 gift certificate. She is a member of the Nimble Fingers 4-H club. Doug Thering of Elsie placed 2nd in the contest and will also receive a gift certificate. Doug is a member of the Elsie 4-Corners 4-H club.

Other Clinton County participants in the State Contest included Brian Batora, who placed 6th in the Junior Division, Theresa Batora, who placed 7th in the Junior Division and Joe Horak who placed 8th in the Senior Division. All are members of the Elsie 4-Corners 4-H club.

A SUCCESS
4-H Exploration Days and Salute '76 are now history, but evaluation shows the event was a tremendous success in its major objectives of making 4-H and Cooperative Extension more visible to the people of Michigan and to provide a focus for 4-Hers celebration of the Bi-centennial. An estimated 25,000 people participated on Saturday, June 26 for Salute '76. The 5,000 4-H members and leaders who participated in the training options on June 24 and 25 have indicated the training will prove very helpful to them and others back in their respective counties. The crowd for Doc Severinsen's performance was less than was expected, but was an excellent performance. Many thanks go to all people who participated in this outstanding State 4-H event.

leaders want to thank all business and individuals who sponsored different classes in the show. People came from as far away as Cass City in the thumb to Sheridan in the north to participate in the show.

FIELD DAY
4-H Dairy members are reminded of the 4-County field day on Monday, July 19, at Green Meadow farm near Elsie. 4-H members, leaders, members from Clinton, Gratiot, Shiawassee and Saginaw Counties are invited to participate in the days program. The program will consist of a contest of teams from each county in the Dairy bowl contest, demonstrations in feeding and animal for show, how to clip an animal for show, hoof trimming of a calf, dairy showmanship and judging several classes of dairy cattle.

FARM SAFETY WEEK
National Farm Safety Week is set for July 25-31, throughout the country in hopes of promoting farm safety. A state wide farm accident survey conducted in Michigan in 1968 found that 10,843 farm people are involved in farm accidents 52 percent occurred while people were doing farm work. Farm machinery was involved in 23 percent of all accidents and 49 percent of these were involved with the farm tractor. Medical expenses exceeded 2.7 million dollars alone.

What will Michigan's farm accident situation look like next year? Last year Clinton County had several deaths due to tractor accidents plus a number of serious injuries. Let's educate our people in tractor safety so next year we can say no accidents occurred in Clinton County. One way is to say "NO" to riders who want to ride on tractors while operating other than the driver. Don't trust your luck with farm machinery.

SOFTBALL Results
4-H Softball scores from the weekend of June 25, are as follows: White League: Green Acre Girls - 21, Elsie 4 Corners - 14; Olive Girls - 23, Prairie I - 12; Olive Boys - 17, Bengal Community - 1; Charlie's Gang - 17, Fowler Big D's - 6; Fowler Fireballs - 13, Stoney Creek - 8; Green League: Fowler Big D's - 7, Fowler Fireballs - 9; Bengal Community - 21, Stoney Creek - 13; Green Acres - 21, Eagle T's - 4; Charlie's Gang - 43, Elsie 4 Corners - 8.

200 RIDERS PARTICIPATE
The CMHA Horse Show on June 27, at St. Johns, sponsored by the Clinton County 4-H horse leaders was very successful with over 200 different riders participating. There were 32 classes for riders to participate in throughout the day. A number of the classes had between 40 and 50 entries. The quality of horses and riders in the show was excellent. The 4-H horse

Mrs. Idzkowski heads local Baker campaign

ST. JOHNS-Republican U.S. Senate Candidate Deane Baker this week named Mrs. Jane Idzkowski chairman of the Clinton County Baker for Senate Committee.

"Mrs. Idzkowski, of 1427 Wildcat Road, will be responsible for coordinating Baker's campaign activities in Clinton County," Baker said. Baker, a University of Michigan Regent, is running his statewide campaign as an "independent Republican."

Mrs. Idzkowski is the wife of Edward Idzkowski, who owns F.C. Mason. They have six daughters ranging in age from 22 to 11. A 22-year resident of St. Johns, Mrs. Idzkowski is a graduate of the Edward Sparrow Hospital School of Nursing, and is currently employed part-time as a nurse for the Mid-Michigan Health Department in St. Johns.

She has been associated with the Republican Party since 1972, and has served as secretary of the Clinton County Republican Executive Committee since 1973.

"Jane will play a key role in the grassroots level of my campaign," Baker said. "She will help bring my campaign to the people of Clinton County in a way that I couldn't do by myself."

Extension Agriculture Agent

Know your weeds

The first step in controlling weeds in lawn or garden is knowing what weeds you have.

Why? Because the treatment that eliminates one pesky weed may only spread and encourage another.

Though people often tend to lump all weeds together, they fall into three general classes, depending on how long they live. Annuals complete their life cycle in one year. Biennials live for two seasons, producing seed in the second year. And perennials live for more than two seasons and may live more or less indefinitely.

Perennial weeds can be further divided into two groups. Simple perennials reproduce mainly by seed; creeping perennials may reproduce by seed but also reproduce vegetatively.

The MSU weed experts note that the creeping perennials are the biggest headache for homeowners and commercial farmers because, to eliminate the plants completely, you must kill both the above-ground and the below-ground parts of the plants. If the subsurface parts survive, regrowth will occur.

Cultivation, or cutting or chopping off the tops of weeds, is a common way to control annual weeds, the experts point out; but this will not control the creeping perennials. Hacking up a weed like quackgrass with a rototiller, trowel or hoe will only give you more quackgrass. Each little section of underground stem will grow into a new plant.

One strategy for controlling creeping perennials is to starve them. They live from year to year on food reserves manufactured in the foliage and stored in their roots or tubers. Repeated mowing or spraying with contact herbicides to remove or kill the tops of the weeds will leave the plants to starve to death the following winter.

Soil sterilants - which are not usually recommended for use by homeowners - and herbicides that travel through the plant and kill both above - and below - ground parts will also give control.

Labels are not put on pesticide containers for decoration. Label on weedkillers, insecticides and other lawn and garden chemicals are full of important and sometimes vital information.

All pesticide labels contain three types of hazard warnings: human hazards, environmental hazards, and physical and chemical hazards.

To minimize danger to yourself and to others, read those warnings. Signal words, required by law tell you how poisonous the substance is. 'Danger' means the substance is highly toxic. A mere taste to a teaspoonful is all it takes to kill the average person. A compound labeled 'Warning' is moderately toxic - a teaspoonful will kill. 'Caution' on a label means the material has a low-order toxicity or is comparatively free from danger to humans. In this case, more than a pint would have to be consumed to cause death.

All highly toxic materials also carry labels bearing the skull and crossbones symbol.

The environmental hazard statement gives directions on how to protect the environment against possible damage from the pesticide. Warnings of hazards to fish, animals or bees are typical.

Physical and chemical dangers include flammability, explosiveness or special chemical hazards such as reactions between the pesticide and metal containers.

Most pesticides can be dangerous if you use them improperly. Your knowledge of the possible hazards of using a chemical is your best insurance against accidents. So before using any pesticide, READ THE LABEL.

LILLISTON HIGH CAPACITY EDIBLE BEAN COMBINES

THE GREATEST GO-GETTERS IN THE FIELD

When the Lilliston moves in, you can be sure you'll get the more, for the Lilliston was introduced three years ago, time to do it as it ever took before.

We can't say this is the new way to harvest beans anymore, for the Lilliston was introduced two years ago. However, farmers using Lillistons will tell you in no uncertain terms that it is by far the best way. The combination of efficiency, capacity, dependability and speed is incomparable. You build your returns to new highs and reduce harvesting costs to a minimum.

Nowadays especially, you have to bring out every harvest dollar you can. The Lilliston will get every last one of them.

The hands above hold a typical sample of beans harvested by the Lilliston Hi-Cap. They are cleaner and have fewer checked skins and splits. The airlift system is one big reason - conventional augering is eliminated and so is one of the leading causes of bean damage.

THE LILLISTON-MARSH CROP WINDROWER

The other half of the Lilliston harvesting team. This is a completely new kind of windrower - quiet, smooth, very gentle and fast - certainly the finest ever built, for windrowing edible beans. With the Lilliston Windrower working for you, you'll pick softly and gather a great crop.

Engineered especially for edible beans, the Lilliston-Windrower may be used for other crops as well.

Allen criticizes PBB compromise effort

"A nice gesture, but an ineffective and expensive one." So says State Senator Dick Allen of Governor Milliken's compromise effort to lower the tolerance level of PBB in meat and milk slightly.

We should use the recommended money to support the swine flu vaccination program he said. We could save some lives there. "There is in my opinion no valid scientific basis for the suggested compromise lowering to .1 parts per million." Allen continued, "I doubt the governor's Scientific Advisory Committee would support it. Certainly scientific testimony at the Agriculture Department hearings did not."

According to the Michigan Department of Agriculture approximately 700 pounds of the poisonous chemical was blended into animal feeds three years ago. Department calculations place about 200 lbs of this original amount in condemned animals buried at Kalkaska, about the same amount is confiscated feed and most of the rest dissipated in the environment. Somewhere in the neighborhood of 20 lbs is carried in the human population of the State, by far the highest level in certain farm families who consumed directly undiluted contaminated milk and meat.

The amount left in animals has been calculated to be about one tenth of one pound or two tablespoons. The Governor's committee recommended the permissible level be lowered to the lowest measurable level. This would reduce the contamination by about one half but would require the condemnation of hundreds of millions of dollars worth of livestock. The Governor's recommendation would only eliminate one tenth of the remaining PBB or about one one hundredth of a pound but would only cost five million dollars.

According to Allen the five million might better be used to support local public health implementation against the impending swine flu epidemic expected to strike humans this fall. The federal government will be supplying the vaccine but it will be up to local agencies to carry out the program.

The two tablespoons of PBB remaining in animals is insignificant compared to the 20 lbs. already in humans according to Allen. "PBB is a crisis that already occurred" says Allen. "Swine flu is one about to occur. We need to focus our attention on preventing future health problems."

MARGARET HORAK, Elsie; James Pohl, St. Johns; Noreen Marriot, DeWitt; Tom Wikle, St. Johns; Marcia York, Bath; and Roger Squires of Ovid were among 190 Michigan teenagers attending the 13th annual Young People's Citizenship Seminar, June 21-25, sponsored jointly by Michigan Farm Bureau of Lansing and its member county organizations. The week long seminar at Albion College emphasized the free enterprise system, the American political scene and democracy.

Cleaning up for the grain harvest

Jim Pelham
Clinton County Extension Director

The wheat harvest is not many days away in Clinton County and other grains and beans will follow in short order.

A critical part of the harvest is thorough cleaning of on-farm storage facilities and the combine. It can save hundreds of dollars in docking fees during marketing.

This is the first step in good management of the crop from the field to the customer, say Michigan State University specialists Dr. Robert Ruppel (entomologist) and Bob Maddex (agricultural engineer).

About 35 species of insects are a potential threat to stored Michigan grains, and the greatest source of infestation is from the insects already in or near the storage bins. Growers should review their operations, facilities and equipment to be sure that grain quality is assured during storage.

If these are mixed with the new wheat that is harvested, producers run the risk of a market discount for foreign material or musty material when grain is marketed.

A more serious problem is possible rat or mouse droppings in the unit, especially if it hasn't been cleaned since last fall. If droppings are found in any grain sample, the entire load will be rejected and not permitted in normal marketing channels.

Follow these recommendations:

- Remove all inspection covers from the machine.
- Open the cleanout doors on the clean grain auger and tailings auger.
- Remove the cover from the drain hole in the grain tank.
- Clean the stone trap. On some machines the feeder assembly will have to be removed first.

Storage Bins

Avoid storing grains in buildings that house hay, straw, feed or animals. Such buildings constitute a constant source of pest feeding and reproduction. Carefully sweep and clean walls, ceiling and floor of existing storage facilities. Remove old grain and dust left from the previous year's crop. Clean up grain spill outside or under the bin. Check for accumulations in truck, wagon, or trailer beds, elevator boots and hidden areas (behind safety shields, for example; that can easily be overlooked.

If it is not convenient to remove old grains, use an insecticide treatment of Malathion-premium grade (Cythion) or "Pyreneone" (pyrethrin with piperonyl butoxide) or fumigate the old grains before new grains are added. Always follow label directions and precautions. Fumigation should be done only by trained, experienced operators working in pairs. Check the bin structure and make repairs when needed to rain, rat and bird proof the structure. This will reduce spoilage and prevent contamination. After cleaning and repair, spray bin ceiling, walls and floor at least two weeks ahead of storage with malathion or Pyreneone to the point of runoff. Where possible, clean up and treat the outside of the bin.

Strips of dieldrin impregnated on resin (Farm Strips) can be placed in empty bins where corn, small grains or soybeans (not dry beans) are stored. One strip per 1,000 cubic feet of bin should be used and the strip should be placed in the bin at least one week before the new grain is added. Storage details appear in Extension Bulletin 934, "Controlling Insects in Stored Grain."

Combines

Combines that have been idle and in storage since last fall may have grains remaining in various components of the machine.

-Use a high pressure water hose to dislodge and flush out all grains and debris from the combine. The water flushing method works well because the stream of water will dislodge material that may have become caked. Pay particular attention to cleaning the riddle or conveyor area under the cylinder.

-After the combine is clean and the water has had a chance to drain out, start the combine and let it run at half throttle for about 15 minutes. This will "air dry" the inside of the machine.

-Replace all inspection covers and cleanout doors.

-Lubricate all fittings with the recommended lubricant.

-Reclean the combine each time a different crop is harvested.

INTRODUCING THE EARLY BIRD LOAN

The earlier you pay, the less interest you pay.

The last time you borrowed money, chances are that all the interest was added on at the beginning of your loan. So, there was little advantage in making payments early or making extra payments.

But now there is.

With a Michigan National Bank Early Bird Loan you can save money on interest. Because only simple interest is computed daily on your unpaid balance. We do not charge interest on the part of your loan that is already paid off.

Save on early payments, save on extra payments.

So every time you make a monthly payment several days early, you save several days of interest. Every time you make extra payments, you save additional days of interest. Over the full period of your loan, Early Bird simple interest can mean significant savings over the cost of an ordinary add-on loan.

Let's say, for example, you take out an ordinary loan for $3,600 for 36 months. At the Annual Percentage Rate of 11.08%, the total finance charge on the loan would be $648.00. Let's say further that you make an early payment of $250 two months after you take out the loan. You save a mere $2.92 in interest.

Suppose on the other hand, you had taken out an Early Bird Loan for the same amount of money, for the same period of time, at the same interest rate. And you had made the same $250 early payment. With Early Bird simple interest, you would have saved the tidy sum of $88.72.

Pay off your full balance without penalty.

And if you pay off the full balance of your loan early, you save all remaining interest charges without paying any penalty. So, with an Early Bird Loan, our customers can actually control the amount of interest they pay.

Come to Michigan National Bank for an Early Bird Loan. You can use it to help buy a car, remodel your home, pay medical bills or dental bills, college tuition, meet emergency expenses and a wide variety of other worthwhile needs.

The Early Bird Loan from Michigan National Bank. The earlier you pay, the less interest you pay.
