P-W school board seeks $950,000 for additions

The Pewamo-Westphalia Board of Education has set the date of August 18 for a special school election to ask the voters to approve a $950,000 bond issue to erect, furnish and equip additions to the P-W High School and Pewamo Elementary building.

The special election on August 18 will climax a three year study and evaluation of the public school facilities and curriculum. It was almost three years ago when the P-W Board of Education organized a Citizens Committee of approximately 50 people including interested citizens and teachers of the district to study and evaluate various phases of the P-W school program. A steering committee was appointed and sub-committees including Census and Population, School Buildings and Facilities, Finance, and Curriculum were organized.

THE COMMITTEES finalized their studies and presented their recommendations to the Board in May 1967. A building expansion program was recommended at that time.

Due to the defeat of a 3-mill extra operating issue in June and August of that year, the board tabled action on the committees' recommendations until operating millage was provided for.

In September of last year the Building and Steering Committees were again reactivated to review and update the original recommendations. At about the same time the architectural firm of Manson, Jackson and Kane was hired by the board to develop plans for expanding the present facilities.

Progress on the building program was further delayed when the St. Joseph's and the St. Mary's parochial schools began to consider dropping some of their grades. It was not until the first of this year that the St. Mary's school officially notified the P-W board that they would drop their 7th and 8th grades as of September this year, further increasing the public school enrollment by approximately 128 students.

TO PROVIDE FOR additional classroom space in the high school, a new instructional materials center is being planned to replace the present library which will be converted to a typing room. The present typing room will be used as a general classroom.

A new shoproom large enough to provide for two teaching stations for wood and metal shop will be an extension of the present band room and the present shop room will be converted to a band room which should provide sufficient space for practice rooms, storage and a larger area for the expanding music program.

The present band room will be used as a general purpose classroom primarily for vocational agriculture and drafting classes.

THE NEW INSTRUCTIONAL materials center will be located between the present high school building and a new junior high school wing and will serve all the grades from 7 through 12.

Fourteen classrooms in the new wing are planned to serve grades 7, 8 and 9. Included in the group will be two science rooms. Four of the classrooms will be so clustered that folding doors may be opened between them to provide for large group instruction.

By joining the junior high school addition to the present high school building, it will be possible for the junior high students to make use of other high school facilities such as the shop, home economics, band room, gymnasium and cafeteria.

TO PROVIDE FOR the increased enrollments in the lower grades, five additional classrooms are planned for the Pewamo Elementary School. One of the rooms will be used for a kindergarten room to serve the Pewamo area youngsters. An instructional materials center will also be provided in this building so that all instructional materials such as library materials and

OLIVER S. ANGELL      EDMUND J. THELEN

DeWitt Township voters ready to choose supervisor

Residents of DeWitt will be going to the polls next Wednesday to elect a new supervisor.

The position was vacated when voters recalled Reginald Nelson. Oliver S. Angell will seek the seat on the Republican ticket and his opposition is Edmund J. Thelen, running on the Democratic ticket.

Both men are DeWitt residents and have lived in Clinton County most of their lives.

Thelen has been constable and served on the police and fire boards. For the past 19 years, he has resided in DeWitt and has been regularly attending board meetings for the past 10 years.

He was a salesman for the Rosevale Packing Company and later with the Peet Company. He was promoted to route supervisor and later named as branch manager. He held the position for 13 years and retired in March of 1967.

Angell has been DeWitt supervisor and is presently DeWitt clerk. He has served as secretary of the Gunnisonville school board and DeWitt Township trustee. He also served on the DeWitt and Clinton Library boards.

He completed a high accounting course at Ferris State Institute and was employed as a cost accountant with a furniture manufacturing company in Jackson.

Qualified voters may cast their ballots from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m. on July 16 at any one of the five polling places. Precinct 1 at Hall 1 at 414 E. Main Street; Precinct 2 at Hall 2 at 780 E. Wieland Road; Precinct 3 at fire hall 780 E. Wieland Road; Precinct 4 at Hall 1, 414 E. Main Street, and Precinct 5 at Hall 2, 780 E. Wieland Road.

Absent voters ballots are available at DeWitt Township Clerks office at 780 E. Wieland Road by application until 2 p.m. on July 12.

Clinton to share in poverty grant

State Representative Richard J. Allen (R-Ithaca) has announced that he has been informed by Governor William G. Milliken that an anti-poverty grant of $55,000 to the Capitol Area Economic Opportunity Committee has been approved. The Capitol Area Economic Opportunity Committee is the community action agency serving Eaton, Ingham, Clinton, and Shiawassee counties. The money is scheduled to be used to conduct Special Summer Programs.

Here are some of the programs the grant will help finance, according to Representative Allen:

A youth program director will work cooperatively with the youth council in planning and implementing youth programs. Programming for projects and activities will grow out of the youth council and will give local youth an opportunity to become involved in the kinds of work and recreation they enjoy and which will be meaningful to them.

Major focus of the cultural enrichment project will be to stimulate in young people an awareness of life beyond their immediate neighborhood. Approximately 300 youth from the age of 15 years and older will be participating in trips and special events which will also involve their parents.

AND WHERE DID YOU GO THE FOURTH?

There are probably many Fourth of July travelers who will remember St. Johns only as a long line of cars as indicated by above picture. Snapped around 5:30 p.m. last Thursday the lineup extended from the traffic signal at State St. and U. S. 27 almost to the Wheel Inn drive-in. The tie-up was nearly as bad Sunday evening during the homeward rush hours.

Band sessions to start July 14

The St. Johns summer music program will get into full operation Monday, July 14. Students are requested to post the following schedule in a convenient place and underline their particular class. Orchestra students will be contacted by phone or mail as to their schedule.

All classes will be held in the music room at Rodney B. Wilson Junior High School. Beginning band: 9 a.m. 'til 10:30 a.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday; Eighth and ninth grade band switches: 10:45 a.m. 'til noon on Tuesday and Wednesday; Seventh grade band from 1 p.m. 'til 2:30 p.m. Monday and Thursday; Seventh grade band switches, 1 p.m. 'til 2:30 p.m. on Tuesday and Wednesday.

The high school band will practice from 7 'til 9 p.m. on Monday evenings and the drums at 9 p.m. Monday Nights.

The high school coronets will practice from 2:30 'til 3:30 p.m. on Mondays and the oboe and bassoons will practice the same day from 3:30 'til 5 p.m.

On Tuesday the high school flutes and clarinets will practice from 2:30 'til 3:30 p.m. and the French horns from 3:30 'til 5 p.m.

Each Wednesday the saxes and alto and bass clarinets will practice from 2:30 'til 3:30 p.m. and the trombones and baritone basses from 3:30 'til 5 p.m.

The beginning band got underway one week early on July 7, and the other band will begin their sessions this Monday, July 14.

The music room will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. the remainder of this week for the convenience of students who have obligations to meet such as school instruments, music or uniforms.

Rate raises told

The board of trustees of Lansing Community College last week voted an increase in tuition rates effective with the fall term.

In making the announcement board members indicated the action came to insure a responsible fiscal operating budget for the coming year.

Based on annual charges for 45 credit hours the increase would cost resident students an additional $27 for the academic year. Present rates are $279; and new rates are $306.

Non-resident students would see an increase of $36 from $396 to $432.

Out-of-state student charges increase $144 from $396 to $540.

All fees except readmission fee and late registration fee will remain the same. The readmission fee will be abolished and the late registration fee for up to seven credit hours is being increased from $2 to $5.

ACCIDENT CLAIMS LIFE OF CONNECTICUT WOMAN

What started out as a holiday visit to a daughter who had recently been hospitalized turned to tragedy shortly after noon Friday, July 4, when Mrs Lillian Perrino, 58, of Niantic, Conn., was killed on US-27 north of Cutler Road. Seven other passengers in the car were injured and taken to Sparrow Hospital including her daughter, Mary Ferrall, who sustained a broken vertebrae, her son-in-law, James Ferrall, 30, driver of the car, broken ribs and collar bone, their son Billy, 8, a broken arm and their daughter Wendy, 4, minor cuts and bruises. A brother of Mrs Ferrall, home on leave from Texas, with his wife and six month old baby were treated and released. The Ferrall car was hit as it traveled south on US-27 by a car driven by William T. Daniels. The Daniels car went out of control as it traveled south, crossed the median and hit the Ferrall car broad-side. The Ferrall car then careened into a tree. Mr Daniels, 78, of Wyandotte was uninjured. Mrs Perrino was seated in the car directly behind the driver. The Ferrall family resides at 401 Gibbs Street.

In St. Johns, a tax

Two elections in area next week

Voters in DeWitt and St. Johns will visit the polls next week to indicate their preference on non-related issues but in elections that have been brought about because of tax-related developments.

In DeWitt residents will be voting to fill the vacancy created earlier this spring when then supervisor Reginald Nelson was recalled from his post. The action came following a petition completed in April charging that Nelson "acting in his capacity as supervisor of DeWitt Township has arbitrarily and unfairly assessed properties within DeWitt Township beyond a reasonable rate and without the use of sound judgement."

VIENG FOR NELSON'S seat, currently held by temporary supervisor Theodore Powell, are Edmund J. Thelen and Oliver S. Angell. Both have been active in area politics in recent years.

Meanwhile, in St. Johns, voters will have a second shot at a city income tax. Such a proposal was soundly defeated nearly two years ago but because of continued financial difficulties in the city the issue was again brought up this spring.

Unlike the DeWitt vote, results of the St. Johns election will have no blinding effect on the city commission as it is being conducted as an advisory vote wherein the commission seeks public sentiment. Either way the election goes, the commission will be free to act as they wish.

CITY ATTORNEY Paul Maples, during the thick of discussion some weeks ago, made the foregoing point clear by explaining that the state statutes providing for a city income tax are "enabling" in nature and only the governing body has the power to enact and enforce the tax. Installation of such a proposal could not be accomplished by popular vote but an election can indicate public sentiment.

Commissioners' Comments on page 1B

And public sentiment, for the most part, seems to have undergone little change since the last vote.

IN AN ADVERTISEMENT appearing elsewhere in this issue, the manufacturers of St. Johns present results of an opinion poll, taken among workers which is in contrast to results of a questionnaire sent out by directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

After over one year of existing under an increasingly critical austerity budget, most interested persons agree that "something must be done" but something definite has yet to be accomplished.

The election at DeWitt and that in St. Johns have little in common outside of their tax-related beginnings. After next Tuesday DeWitt Township residents will, at least, have a new supervisor.

Polls for both elections will open at 7 a.m. and remain in operation until 8 p.m. St. Johns City Clerk Tom Hundley stated that residents of both precincts in the city will cast their ballots in the city hall. At least two machines for each precinct will be available, Hundley said.

Larry Karber leads American Legion

LARRY KARBER

Very few men would say the St. Johns Volunteer Fire Department's my R and R, but so it goes with Larry Karber Commander of the American Legion Edwin T. Stiles Post 153.

His membership in the Legion dates back to 1955 and with the fire department to 1959. He served as vice-commander of the Legion last year.

The International American Legion Club has as its purpose "aid to veterans, their widows, and children." The local organization has a membership of 300 and Independence and Memorial days have a deep meaning for the group. All have served their country in some branch of the military service.

Persons are eligible for membership if they have had honorable active military service at any time during one or more of the following periods: World War I April 6, 1917 to Nov. 11, 1918; World War II, Dec. 7, 1941 to Sept. 2, 1945; or Vietnam, Aug.

5, 1964 to date of cessation of hostilities as determined by the government of all states, all dates inclusive.

The local organization meets the first Thursday of each month at 8 p.m. in the American Legion Hall, at 110 E. Walker Street. Donald Warstler is now serving as first vice-commander; Joe Barrett second vice-commander Keith Mishler adjutant; Dale Robinson finance officer; Bert Hiller sergeant at arms; and Lyle Knight chaplain.

One of their members, Rex Sirtine, belonged to the original Post No. 1, in Paris, France. Sirtine participated in local Legion activities and continued his membership in Paris until 1960, when they ruled him ineligible to continue in the Paris post.

During the past year the Legion celebrated their 50th anniversary with a dinner-dance. They also completely remodeled their building and sent four youths, to Boys State. In the near future they will have a barbecue for members and guests.

Karber has lived all his life in St. Johns and graduated from Rodney B. Wilson High School. He then served with the US Army and returned to work in the family owned business at 817 Church Street. He has one brother, William, also of St. Johns. His father, Francis, formerly of St. Johns, and stepmother, Rose, now reside in Austin, Tex.

Karber operates the 45 year old building supply, and concrete products manufacturing business, five and a half days per week. He and his wife Joyce have five children, Sharon 10, Dean 8, Janice 7, John 5, and Julia 2.

Besides his work with the volunteer fire department and American Legion Karber also belongs to the Fowler Conservation club.

NEW YORK—Among building fires whose origin can be traced, almost two out of five are attributed to smoking, matches or electrical causes, the Insurance Information Institute reports.

By ROBERT ELDRIDGE
Road Clerk

At the regular meeting of the Clinton County Road Commission held last Wednesday, bids were opened for the curb and gutter to be installed on the mile and a tenth of Clark Road east from US-27 to Wood Road. Low bidder on the project was the Ken Roberts Construction Company of East Lansing with a bid of $39,310.00 for installation of twelve thousand lineal feet of curb and gutter and the necessary catch basins, culverts and concrete pipe.

This bid was about twenty-five hundred dollars lower than the next lowest one. Spartan Asphalt Paving Company of Holt was previously awarded the contract for the bituminous materials to be used on this road with their low bid of $93,763.75. Work on this road is progressing rapidly and it is hoped that it will be completed not later than the middle of August.

The heavy July fourth rains took their usual toll on the county road system. Washouts were epidemic throughout the county and the maintenance crews spent all day Monday repairing them. New construction work washouts were especially bad, as they usually are, for the base material hasn't had an opportunity to settle into place or grow any cover on the shoulders to hold it stable.

All the work necessary prior to black-topping is finished on Maple Street north out of Maple Rapids and on Kinley Road between Hollister and Meridian Roads. Neither of these roads will be black topped this year, however, as they will be allowed to settle and compact till next season. Had not bad weather interfered, Tallman Road south of the county line would have been graded and ready for the sand and gravel base this week. Preliminary grading is being done on Herbison Road from Francis to Forrest Hill Road and most of the sand base has been hauled on Airport from Howe to Cutter Road.

The dangerous, vision blocking high banks at the west side of the intersection of Herbison and Francis Roads are being cut down and the material used to fill in the depression on the east side of the crossing. We have several such intersection improvements scheduled for this summer and there are a lot more that need to be done in the future.

INCOME TAX:

Since all St. Johns industrial employees will be taxed if a St. Johns income tax is adopted by the City Commission after the advisory vote by the residents of St. Johns next Tuesday, we thought you should be advised as to how they feel about an income tax which will be levied on them because they work in St. Johns.

All employees in our plants were permitted to record their feelings on this important issue and voted accordingly.

93 % opposed to a city income tax

7 % in favor of a city income tax

These are the feelings of 866 industrial employees who compose a substantial portion of St. Johns total employment. They also spend a substantial portion of their paychecks in St. Johns. We believe that their feelings in this regard should be given most serious consideration by the St. Johns electorate when they register their desire for or opposition to a city income tax on July 15th.

(Continued from page 1A) audio visual aids may be centralized in one location. The total construction if approved will adequately take care of increased enrollments for the next five years.

If the proposed bond issue is successful in August, it is hoped that construction may begin early enough in 1970 so that rooms will be ready in the fall.

THE TOTAL ENROLLMENT of the Pewamo-Westphalia school district has increased from 417 in grades K through 12 in 1961-62 to an estimated 800 this fall. Sixteen teachers and administrators were on the professional staff in 1961-62 compared with 31 teachers and three administrators when school opens this fall.

Temporary facilities are being leased from the St. Mary's parish to provide space for the seventh and eighth grades for the coming school year.

We're waiting for you to call

The Clinton County News staff finds it impossible to attend meetings of all clubs and organizations that take place in busy and active Clinton County. And there are insufficient hours to chase the president or secretary of each group to get the stories that arise out of their meetings.

Club secretaries are requested to drop us a card or give us a call at 224-2361 and fill us in on the highlights of their meetings and especially about special upcoming activities.

If we could financially afford it, we'd employ enough reporters to follow you around and report what you do...and take your picture, too. But our bankers insist on our remaining solvent, paying our interest on time and occasionally making a payment on the principal.

CARNIVAL HELD FOR MD

Five young ladies sponsored a carnival at 601 S. Kibbee Street, St. Johns for Muscular Dystrophy. This was their second carnival. The one they held last year netted them $10.18. Bound to achieve more this year, the ladies had six different games, a French book store, and a refreshment stand for neighborhood children. More than 25 children attended the carnival and composed the audience for an original play, written by the girls about MD. This year the girls will send more than $18 to the MD fund.

Grocery revolution is taking place

A revolution is about to take place in the world of food. When our children live to be our ages they'll say, "Remember when we were kids and the grocery stores sold meat, fruits and vegetables?"

The twenty-first century promises to be an era of synthetic food. "Fruit will not always grow on trees and ham and bacon synthetics will be sold in rolls like paper towels. When Mother makes dinner, she'll simply cut off the required number of servings and add her own version of spices and sauces to give it her individuality," predicts one authority.

Products will be uniform in character, processed and preserved for easy preparation and storage. A dozen of oranges will be condensed into a few ounces of citrus crystals. Bananas now are shipped under refrigeration. Fifty percent is waste in peelings and stem. The trend is to flakes, powders and semi-dry banana slices.

Why? We're told that unless our existing food production is protected and processed where possible, major famine will occur during the next decade or so.

Our population keeps increasing at a fantastic rate. There simply won't be enough food produced to go around. Costs keep increasing and food like we're accustomed to today we'll not be able to afford. Beef steak may soon cost $2.00 a pound. Remember how alarmed we were when it cost $1.00 per pound?

Strawberries could well become a luxury few of us could afford because they require special hand-picking, care and climate, making them too inefficient for future food production. Even today our strawberry producers have real trouble hiring competent labor to harvest their crops. Strawberries, twenty-first century style, may well come out of a laboratory like many other foods.

Of the foods necessary to a human, animal protein is the most costly. Yet animals are able to eat the plentiful protein found in plants and transform it into protein suitable for humans. Food scientists have tried for years to perform the same feat—and now they've done it.

They've learned the differences between the animal and plant proteins. They know about the composition and structure of the protein molecule that accounts for its nutritive value.

Recently a method has been developed for isolating proteins from cheap plant sources—soybeans, sunflower seeds, peanuts, even alfalfa. The proteins isolated are white crystalline amino acids. So the task becomes one of combining the necessary amino acids with flavors and colors (about which there is considerable known) into a product that would taste like meat, feel like meat in the mouth, cook like it and contribute all the nutritive value of real meat. The process is similar to that used in making synthetic fabrics.

Scientists have been able to duplicate almost any animal protein product so successfully that tasters couldn't tell the difference between the synthetic and the real product. The protein content can be greater than real meat and fat content can be tailored to none or very little. The only apparent difference is that the synthetic product has no bones.

These synthetic protein products are referred to as textured proteins and many of the additional four to six thousand items you'll see in your grocery store within the next 10 years will be made from them.

Would you believe that we may soon be eating protein produced by yeast fed with petroleum or methane gas? Here's why. In 24 hours a 1,000 pound steer produces less than one pound of protein. One thousand pounds of soybeans planted can produce 92 pounds of protein in 24 hours. But 1,000 pounds of yeast with sufficient food can produce 100,000 pounds of protein in 24 hours.

For one who has tremendously enjoyed food as we've known it in our generation it would be my hope that natural foods still remain on the scene. But, if by substituting or supplementing our diets with synthetics we can prevent mass starvation, I'm all for it.

4-H Club Chatter

By JOHN AYLWORTH
Extension 4-H Youth Agent

Six tired, but happy Clinton County 4-H Youths returned Saturday evening from Washington D.C. after participating in the National 4-H Citizenship Short Course. They were Kathy Davis, Debbie Locher, Sue Sibley, and Marlene Gorman of DeWitt, Dorthea Beachnau of Eagle and Ann Arens of Fowler.

While attending the short course they learned how our government operates, spoke with Senator Robert Griffin and Congressman Gary Brown from Michigan on various programs and problems, learned more about their responsibility as a citizen, visited many of our national monuments, heard outstanding speakers and learned much about their National heritage.

These six 4-H'ers took slides of their activities and would be glad to show them and discuss their experiences for any group that would like to hear them. The members commented the trip had many great learning experiences for them along with the other 281 delegates from Iowa, Illinois, New York, Missouri and Michigan who participated in the week's workshop.

The Teen leaders will be meeting Thursday evening, July 10, at 8 p.m. at Smith Hall in St. Johns. The program will be the game of Democracy conducted by the Short Course Delegates.

In the only 4-H Soft-ball game last week the Teen leaders won over Prairie 4-H Club in the Green League.

The Swinging Bingham's 4-H club members will enter a litter barrel in the fair contest in August. No slogan was selected yet. The club will hold a swimming party and wicker roast at their July meeting at the Sleepy Hollow Conservation Club. The club dues are 25 cents for each member.

The Pioneer Trail Riders 4-H members discussed the horse clinic held in June at St. Johns. The members commented they learned a lot and enjoyed it very much. The County 4-H horse show on June 29 was discussed. Carolyn Bennett gave a demonstration on how to clean the horses stall, and how to feed and water a horse.

The Scattered Southeast 4-H members learned about the National 4-H Citizenship Short Course in Washington D.C. from Dana Sue Hazle as she showed slides of her trip and experiences last year at Washington D.C. The members are planning a fair float for the County Fair.

The Victor Pathfinders 4-H members worked their horses on riding techniques and went through the different gaits used in shows. They discussed getting their horses ready to show, at the County 4-H horse show on June 29, and preparing a float for the fair.

The Handy Andys 4-H members heard demonstrations from Linda Fedewa, Sue Schmitz and Jan Schueller on their food projects. More demonstrations will be given on the next meeting July 9, at their leader's home.

The Maple Valley 4-H members will hold a family picnic at the Maple Rapids City Park. Lavonna and Karen Craig and Conni Tipton showed and told about the various characteristics of five different flowers each. Vegetable garden maps were explained by Reo Young and Brenda Koepfen. "Safety around the home is one of the best ways to stay happy" was the closing part on the program. The club has decided upon the slogan for their litter barrel project. The club took a tour to Lansing to the parks where they viewed different animals and had a hike. Their reporter stated that some members lost a few pounds on the hike.

The Stoney Creek 4-H Club members were well represented at the 4-H Conservation Fun Day at Fowler. The vegetable and flower project members will meet at Darlene Lawrence's home on July 10 and 26 at 7 p.m. The livestock project members will tour the members' projects under the direction of Dale Kuenzli. There is a committee appointed to paint the litter barrel for the county fair. The next general meeting will be on July 28 at the East Pilgrim Church from 7:30 'til 9 p.m.

The Lucky Riders 4-H Club members have been quite busy with activities, but are learning a lot about their projects. The members took their horse bridles apart and cleaned them, watched their leader demonstrate roll backs, and attended the 4-H horse clinic at St. Johns. They attended another clinic at their leader's home and learned how to put their horses in the right leads, walk, trot and canter. The club will enter a litter barrel in the fair contest as well as a fair float. The Saddle Mates 4-H club officers will attend the next meeting in July.

The Happy Hustlers 4-H members will initiate new members at their next meeting on July 21. Demonstrations were given by Beth and Lou Ann Henning, Marion Kurucz, David Makara, Peter Kurucz, Renee Makara, Eileen Feldpausch, Denise Makara and Diane Feldpausch. Gloria Kurucz described her 4-H TRIP TO Detroit, Diane Hennrich described her 4-H trip to Yankee Springs and Beth Henning described her stay at the State 4-H Show.

The Spring Valley Cooking Club members had a learning experience as they baked biscuits, cherry crisps and beans. Their next cooking experience will be with picnic foods.

Open Letter from VAN W. HOAG

Dear Friends,

The human body was divinely created to house a soul; they are so intertwined during life that the human mind required time to accept the fact of their separation in death.

Therefore, it is natural, proper and wholesome that the bereaved should respect the physical body which remains here on earth, and desire that its disposition be reverently accomplished.

Respectfully,

Van W. Hoag

She approached the altar, which was decked with arrangements of white gladioli and lavender pompons, wearing a Juliet styled gown trimmed with lace. Accenting the gown was a Victorian-collar and Bishop sleeves. The detachable train fastened below the shoulders.

Her tiered veil fell to elbow length and was held by a cluster of lilies-of-the-valley. Rosemary carried a colonial bouquet of daisies, lily-of-the-valley and ivy.

Packing is important for travel

Traveling, whether it's for a weekend visit, or a trip around the world is an exciting experience. The traveler who is care-free, fresh and unrumpled usually has a well perfected packing technique.

Luggage needs to be sturdy, lightweight and attractive. A variety of sizes, shapes and materials offers a wide choice of selection. The so-called soft-sided pieces don't give the ultimate in protection but they do hold up surprisingly well under considerable stress and strain. They too have an advantage in being light weight and allowing for some expansion when packed lightly.

Planning ahead contributes to good packing. A list of all clothing and accessories needed for the occasions you'll be meeting is a big help. Visualize every outfit from underthings to accessories. Listing necessary cosmetics and drugs will prevent your taking too many items as well as forgetting the important ones. Scrutinize every item you consider - don't take anything you'll not wear more than once. A good guide for lingerie and underwear is three sets - one to wear, one to wash and one to spare. Leave at home those heavy accessories - necklaces, bracelets and such.

Basic color schemes and garments that can serve more than one purpose cuts down on weight and bulk. Select those garments that stay fresh longest - those that can be suds out easily and quickly with no pressing needed.

Be sure your name and address is on the outside and the inside of all cases. An inventory, is important in the case of theft or other loss. The inventory along with other important documents such as passport, vaccination certificate, and credit cards should be carried with you - not packed in a suitcase. Happy traveling and have fun.

BEET SUGAR INDUSTRY OF MICHIGAN

AGRI-BUSINESS IN ACTION...

Sugarbeet growers in Michigan's Saginaw Valley have played a vital role in the agri-business economy of our state since the turn of the century. Their progressive efforts combined with those of the state's two processing companies have boosted the dollar value of the sugarbeet-crop to nearly $35 million dollars annually. In 1968 farmers in 17 Michigan counties harvested over 84,000 acres of beets. A crop that will produce nearly 350 million pounds of sugar for the Michigan market.

If you live in the Saginaw Valley-Thumb area of Michigan, you no doubt know someone that helps fill Michigan's "sugar bowl" each year. It makes good sense to buy a Michigan grown product. Help yourself to Michigan Made Pure Sugar the next time you shop. Ask for it by name—Pioneer or Big Chief. These brands in the red, white and blue bags represent the finest that Michigan agri-business has to offer.

News About Clinton County

Service Personnel

FT. RILEY, KAN (AHTNC)—Cadet THOMAS L. MCKENZIE, 21 son of Mr and Mrs Jim McKenzie, 607 West Higham, St. Johns, Mich., is currently receiving six weeks training and practical experience in military leadership at the Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps summer camp at Ft. Riley, Kan., from June 22 to August 1, 1969. A record number of ROTC students are expected to receive their commissions by completing the course offered at an increasing number of universities.

Seaman Apprentice Steven A. Gregory, USN, son of Mrs Betty L. Gregory of 505 S. Lansing St., St. Johns, Mich., is serving aboard USS New Jersey, participating in the Pacific Midshipmen Training Squadron '69 exercises off the coast of Southern California.

Technical Sergeant THOMAS L. SUPPA, son of Mr and Mrs Tony Suppa, Shilmon, W. Va., is on duty at Tuy Hoa AB, Vietnam.

Marine Lance Corporal WILLIAM D. ELY, son of Mr and Mrs Richard W. Ely of Route 1, Maple Rapids Road, St. Johns, Mich., was awarded the Combat Action Ribbon while serving with the First Marine Division Vietnam.

The newly created ribbon is awarded to a member of the armed forces who actively participated in combat action or is directly endangered by combat action.

Selected by a board of senior officers, his promotion was based on time in service and rank and performance of duties. A graduate of Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo, Lieutenant Henry entered the service in September 1967.

FT. RILEY, KAN. (AHTNC)—Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC) Cadet ROSS E. CARTER, 21, son of Mr and Mrs Kelley E. Carter, 213 East Main Street, Elsie, Mich., is attending ROTC Advance Summer Camp from June 14 to July 26 at Ft. Riley, Kan.

During the six week encampment the cadet will apply the classroom principles of military leadership he was taught in the academic phase of the ROTC program. Summer training also provides the basis for his future career as an officer after he completes the ROTC requirements and receives his commission.

Cadet Carter is a graduate of Michigan State University.

A step toward safety

You take the first step toward safety at the store when you buy a pesticide. That's when you take your time in buying to make sure you get the right product for your particular use. Check to see if you can use it safely in your home.

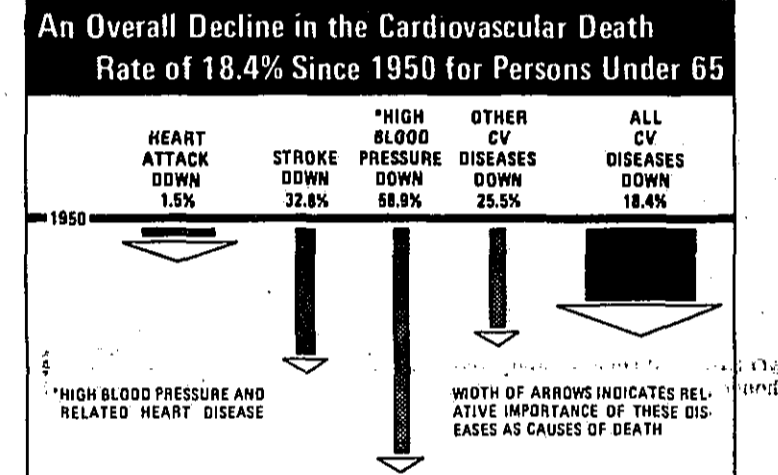

Read the label! It tells you whether it's a surface spray or a space spray. Surface spray may be dangerous if sprayed in the air while space sprays are for crawling insects. Usually the container label will say "residual" or in some other words make it clear that you apply the product to surfaces.

Whenever you plan to spray the air you need a space spray. The label usually describes the product as a space spray or as a mist. Space sprays are meant to knock down flying insects. Because they contain less hazardous pesticides than surface sprays, they can safely be sprayed in the air.

When you arrive home the first thing you do is to put the pesticide where children and pets can't get at it. Mothballs are especially attractive to children. Remember they are pesticide and dangerous if eaten.

Check labels for storage. If it's flammable don't store it near heat. No pesticide should be stored near food for the family or pets. No pesticide should be stored so it could be confused with cleaning supplies, or medicines. This rules out storing them under the kitchen sink, the pantry or medicine cabinet.

Always keep a pesticide in its original container. Keep it closed tightly and well labeled. Regule a label if it comes off. If the label is lost, take no chances, —destroy the container at once.

The overall decline in the cardiovascular death rate, one of the great achievements of medical history, began shortly after the country started massive research programs, using both Heart Association and government money. The American Heart Association and its affiliates have spent more than $145 million on research; the Michigan Heart Association, more than $6.3 million. For more information phone or visit your nearest Michigan Heart office in: Detroit, Flint, Traverse City, Grand Rapids, Lansing, Jackson, Saginaw, Birmingham, Taylor, Ann Arbor, Battle Creek, and Benton Harbor. Individual Income Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q—A company I interviewed about a job has offered to pay my expenses if I will visit their headquarters. If I take the money will it be taxable for me?

A—Money received as a reimbursement for travel expenses incurred in being interviewed for possible employment is not taxable and does not have to be reported. However, if the reimbursement is more than your expenses the excess is taxable.

Q—I was just billed for taxes I've already paid. What should I do?

A—The bill you received was most probably issued before your payment had been credited to your account.

However, if your payment was made more than four weeks ago return the notice or a copy and indicate on it when the payment was made and where it was sent. If you paid by check and the check has been endorsed and returned to you, indicate the number stamped on the check by IRS and the date.

Q—My house has gone up in value in the 15 years I've owned it. Will I be taxed on this increase when I sell?

A — Profits on the sale of a home are taxable. There are situations, however, where the tax may be postponed or even eliminated.

A person who buys another house within a year of the sale of his old home may be able to postpone the tax depending on how much the new one costs. Under certain conditions the postponement provision may also apply if a new home is constructed.

Chamberlain seeks efforts against boating accidents

Congressman Charles E. Chamberlain (R.-Mich.), citing the 1,342 deaths from recreational boating accidents in 1968, called today for intensified safety efforts including serious study of the licensing of small boat operators.

In remarks prepared for the occasion of National Safe Boating Week (June 29-July 4), the Congressman stated that, according to Coast Guard statistics, "Last year there were a total of 4,195 boating accidents resulting in either a death, an injury, or property damage of at least $100. This is 82 more than in 1967. The total amount of property damage was over $6.6 million."

Chamberlain who, in 1967, authored the legislation establishing the annual observance of National Safe Boating Week by presidential proclamation, added, "Capsizings, as in past years, still remain responsible for the largest number of recorded deaths. In 1968, capsizings resulted in 45 per cent of the total number of lives lost in boating accidents. This figure is about the same as the 1967 percentage. Of the 1,342 fatalities, drowning accounted for 1,203 victims, and 828 of the drowned either did not have or did not use lifesaving devices."

The 7-term Michigan Republican in reintroducing his proposed "Small Boat Operators Licensing Act," which would provide for Federal licensing only where states have failed to act, observed, "I have sponsored similar legislation in the past to focus attention on the problem of safe boating. I do so again today for the same purpose. The great boom in pleasure boating is turning our waterways into something resembling rush-hour traffic. The Coast Guard, the States and volunteer organizations are making a concerted effort to promote boating safety but the question remains as to whether this effort is enough."

I am encouraged by a recent report by the House Committee on Government Operations urging operator certification. Before legislative action is taken, however, the matter should be more thoroughly studied."

"Let's talk dry cleaning"

by Dana Antes

Taste and style are two words that are banded about rather freely in the fashion world today. While styles change almost as often as the season, taste is more of an abiding quality. It is that attribute which enables those who have it to choose clothing which best suits their personalities without making them overly conspicuous or blurring them completely into the background.

But good taste in clothing doesn't end with their selection. It also includes clothes care. Your clothes tell a lot about you. When they are spotlessly clean and freshly pressed, they speak quietly and firmly about your poise, position and personality. They give you that wonderful "at ease" feeling at business and social occasions. Their condition is as important as their style in creating the impression of someone who knows how to dress.

You've carefully selected the garments in your wardrobe for quality, color, style and line. Clothing so carefully selected deserves the best in expert cleaning by the latest scientific methods. That's exactly what we give every article you send us. You can trust us with your finest fabrics. Remember... if your clothes aren't becoming to you, they should be coming to us!

Advisory vote next Tuesday

Commissioners comment on city income tax plan

Members of the St. Johns city commission commented on the upcoming advisory vote in the following manner:

MAYOR BOB WOOD—The vote to be held is simply a question of what the voters want. It is possible that they don't want anything, but let's hope not.

The city needs more money and the election is a chance for the people of the city to advise how they propose to get it. Either the money comes from this proposed city tax or the millage will have to be increased.

Actually, my opinion is not so important; how the voters feel is what counts. All I really have to say is that I would strongly urge every eligible voter to go to the polls. This is an advisory election. If only about 25 per cent of the voters turn out, as has been the occasion for some elections, it will be difficult to determine how the majority of the people feel.

MRS JEANNE RAND—I feel the issue must pass by a great majority if it is to be indicative. It is terribly important that the vote not be close if it is to be yardstick of opinion to the commission.

The city is in dreadful condition financially and I really don't know what will happen if the community does not accept the income tax.

As far as I can see the voters have no alternative. An increased millage, as necessitated by a bond issue would be unrealistic. People with fixed incomes and those receiving retirement pay could not handle 22 mills, even for three years.

It is only fair that the people who make the money should pay the money. To those with fixed incomes, $5 can be a great deal of money. The income tax would not hurt them.

Those who make more money would have to pay tax on it and that seems the only equitable situation.

I am concerned that the voters may not turn out. I hate to say it, but I feel many of them have lost interest. They are tired of elections, tired of hearing about the problems of the city and financial troubles. Many are away on vacation. All I can say is if citizens have any concern for their city, they will get out to vote.

DR JAMES GROST—My opinion of this election is that it is definitely a very important one. It is being held so that the commission can determine how the general public of the city feels about the tax issue.

I sincerely hope that the people of the community understand the importance of the vote and do not feel that it is simply an advisory election.

It is more important than that. I hope that the voters do register and cast a vote in this election. The commission will have to act as the people want them to and if the people do not express an opinion, it will be very difficult for the board to act successfully.

It is imperative that this community receive more funds to provide the services that the residents seem to be accustomed to and need. The vote will tell the commission if the people prefer the new city tax or if they would rather have the traditional, more conventional source of income for the city.

JOHN HANNAH—I have no idea what the voter reaction will be, but it will be necessary for there to be a decisive vote before it will actually aid the commission. This election is being held so that the commission will know what the voters want, and as far as I can see, it can only be accomplished by a large turnout.

It is a bad time for an election, many are on vacations. For that reason, I would urge St. Johns citizens to make use of the absentee ballots which can be had from the city clerk.

CHARLES COLETTA—It is apparent that the income of the city is not sufficient and the limited income can't go on much longer. The longer we are on the austerity program the more it will cost. We are unable to make necessary repairs and replacements now and as the cost rises we will lose money when it is time to force the replacement.

The voters have a choice, either the income tax or an increase of millage. Personally I would favor the income tax because it seems to be the most equitable. With the property tax the burden of city support is on the land owners. The income tax distributes the burden and each taxpayer has a proportionate share.

Last year the city had to borrow $68,000 and go on the extreme austerity budget. If no action is taken again the same procedure will follow. It is necessary to gain more income simply to continue the services the community is accustomed to. There is equipment in city departments, like the fire and police departments, which badly needs replacing or repairs but we are unable to do anything about it under the present budget.

Roger leaves island paradise to visit Clinton County

From an island "tropical paradise" Rajapakse Mudiyansele Dhamarawadhana Rajapakse, (Roger for short), has traveled to Clinton County to study farming.

Roger is 31 years old and this is his first trip from the island of Ceylon. Mr. and Mrs. Orvest Davis and family on Cutler Road have been his host family for the past three weeks.

In Ceylon Roger has a wife, Amara, and one daughter, six months old, Manoja. They live on a farm where he raises rice, coconut, and rubber. Roger has a degree in agriculture and is employed as an Agricultural Extension Officer, in the Department of Agriculture. They are members of the Buddhist Religion, and he collects stamps, enjoys volleyball, raising poultry, and playing the flute. His father is employed in private industry and he has one brother.

His trip has already taken him to India, Israel, Greece and Germany and he will travel around the world before his return to Ceylon. His next host family will be in Marshall and he will attend a mid-part conference in Iowa on Aug. 8. Other host families will be in Pennsylvania and he will spend ten days in Washington D.C. then on to San Francisco, Japan, and the Philippines (where he will attend the International Rice Institute), and Thailand will be his last stop before his return to Ceylon Nov. 28.

The trip was sponsored by the International Farm Exchange and the National 4-H Club Foundation.

Roger studied English five years and he has only experienced a language problem in New York City. He speaks three languages, Sinhalese, English and Tamil. He can read and write Pali and Sanskrit. He thinks the United States is a great country and he would like to return someday with his family for another visit. The cool weather has bothered him a little because in Ceylon the temperature only varies from 80 to 82 degrees, the year around, except in the mountain areas where it drops to 50 degrees. Tornadoes and hurricanes are unheard of in Ceylon, but the rainfall varies from 40 inches in the desert regions to 200 inches on the southern slopes.

Ceylon is located in the Indian Ocean and is separated from the Indian sub-continent by a narrow strip of shallow water called the Palk Strait. It is a treasure island of natural wealth and growing things. The island is 270 miles long and 140 miles wide. They have mountains, waterfalls and historic ruins that attract thousands of tourists. The shore line is ideal for swimming, and fishing is one of their prime industries.

The history of the island dates back to 543 BC when the island was known as Manka and the monuments built of stone and mortar by ancient kings are comparable in size to the Pyramids in Egypt.

The Portuguese occupied the island from 106 to 1640 and established the Catholic religion as the strongest Christian Church. The Dutch ruled from 1640 to 1796. The entire island came under British rule in 1802 and Ceylon received status as an independent country within the commonwealth on Feb. 4, 1948. It is presently a broad based democratic government established after the British pattern. Their position is that of an independent nation and a member of the British commonwealth.

The Ceylonese today are 64 per cent Buddhist, 20 per cent Hindu, 7 per cent Muslim and 9 per cent Christian. Their main food is rice and curry with an abundance of fruit such as mangoes, pineapple, papaw, bananas, apples and grapes. They are the second largest exporter of tea, and they also export rubber, co-

Roger proudly displays the national flag of Ceylon in his left hand and a religious flag in the other. The poster above is "Aukana Buddah," and is carved of stone. The statue stands 39 feet tall, and was completed in the fourth century. It is now considered to be the finest sculpture in all Asia. The other poster illustrates Kendyan dancers who perform at weddings, state celebrations and other special occasions. Their costumes are encrusted with valuable gems and brightly colored ornaments.

conut, graphite, mica and gems such as rubies, sapphires, zircons and moonstones. Divers bring up pearls off the coasts and they export every known spice, shoes and men's shirts.

Clinton County Supervisors Proceedings

MONDAY, MAY 26, 1969

The Clinton County Board of Supervisors met at 9:00 a.m. Prayer was offered by Ernest Carter. Roll was called and all reported present except Chairman Nobis. Vice-chairman Shepard presided as chairman of the meeting.

It was moved by Lankford, supported by Hufnagel, to approve the minutes of the May 5 meeting as presented. Voted and carried. Communications were read:

1. A resolution from Hillsdale County in opposition to H.B. 3248 (which would permit homestead tax exemption for policemen) was presented. A motion by Gove, supported by Andrews, to concur was voted and carried.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, it appears to be a general consensus that the public is overburdened by taxes and,

WHEREAS, it is our belief that tax exemptions on classes of citizens has already reached a reasonable point and,

WHEREAS, the different agencies of local government keep asking for more millage and,

WHEREAS, it seems to be inconsistent thinking to take a certain class of our citizens off the tax roll, and especially without state reimbursement and,

WHEREAS, it is our belief that good citizenship demands the responsibility of an equal share of taxation.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: we the Clinton County Board of Supervisors oppose any consideration of H.B. 3248 which permits homestead exemption for policemen.

RESOLUTIONS COMMITTEE

2. A companion resolution which would concur with Eaton County and oppose H.B. 3056 (to abolish County Road Commission) was on a motion by Andrews, supported by Cobb, to table. Voted and carried.

3. A proposed change to the bylaws of the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission was presented. It was moved by Cobb, supported by Andrews to table. Voted and carried.

4. A notice from the Michigan Department of State Highways of a public hearing on the proposed traffic corridors between I-96 and M-78 to be held June 4, 1969 at the new Bath High School was read. It was moved by Supervisor Cobb, supported by Andrews, to support the position taken by the Bath Charter Township Planning Commission and ask that the corridors be located south of the present Village of Bath and that the land use committee be appointed to attend the hearing and the clerk instructed to inform the proper persons of this action. Voted and carried.

5. A resolution from Allegan County in opposition to H.B. 2045 which would divert funds from the Department of State Highways was on motion by Lankford, supported by Hufnagel, to table. Voted and carried.

6. Another resolution from Allegan County in opposition to H.B. 2326 which would grant relief for personal property tax to processors of fruits and vegetables was on motion by Andrews, supported by Hufnagel, to table. Voted and carried.

7. A resolution from Grand Traverse County endorsing S.B. 228 which would require a training course and certification of assessing officers on a state level provided however that such training and certification be on a voluntary basis and not made mandatory. It was moved by Montgomery, supported by Underhill, to concur with the resolution as amended. Voted and carried.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, Senate Bill No. 228 has been introduced in the Legislature providing for the establishment of a school of assessment practices to provide training for and the certifying of the qualifications of local governmental assessing officers; and

WHEREAS, a formal course of instruction in assessment practices would be useful in providing uniformity in methods of assessment and in providing assistance and training to assessors; and

WHEREAS, Senate Bill No. 228 also provides that assessing officers failing to be so certified, either by taking the course or passing a test, shall be barred from making the assessment, despite the fact that many such officers are the elected representatives of their districts and are charged by law with the responsibility therefore;

RESOLVED, by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Clinton that the provisions of Senate Bill No. 228 establishing a school of assessment practices are hereby endorsed, BUT the provisions of said bill for the disqualifying of certain assessing officers not certified are hereby rejected and opposed; and be it further

RESOLVED, that this Board believes that the great majority of assessing officers are presently doing a skillful and conscientious job and would be receptive on a voluntary basis to participating in such a training program to develop uniform methods and practices, but it is the sense of this Board that with respect to elected assessing officials, their qualifications must ultimately be determined by the people and the disqualification of such officials by an administrative agency constitutes a dangerous precedent which could impair the sovereign right of the people to elect officials of their choosing which right is among the most precious rights of a democratic community; and be it further

RESOLVED, that the legislature is accordingly urged to delete the mandatory provisions for qualification from Senate Bill 228 and then to pass legislation establishing a course of instruction on assessing practices, available at the outset on a voluntary basis to all assessing officers, deferring to a later time, if necessary, the question of requiring attendance at such schools; and be it further

RESOLVED, that the Clerk is hereby directed to transmit copies of this resolution to State Senator Emil Lockwood and State Representative Richard Allen, to the sponsor of Senate Bill No. 228, Senator DeMasco, and to the Boards of Supervisors of the other counties of this State.

THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF CLINTON

Another resolution from Grand Traverse County in support of S.B. 12 and S.B. 58 changing the name of District Supervisor to Commissioner was presented. Supervisor Montgomery, supported by Andrews moved to concur. Voted and carried.

RESOLUTION - No. 69

WHEREAS, the present name of "District Supervisor" causes considerable confusion in the minds of the public with Township Supervisor;

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Clinton County Board of Supervisors support SB No. 12 and SB No. 58, changing the name of "District Supervisor" to "Commissioner" and County Board of Supervisors to Board of County Commissioners;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that this resolution be sent to all County Clerks of Michigan and the representative and senator from our district.

9. A resolution again from Grand Traverse County supporting H.B. 2593 which would assess lands used for agricultural purposes on an agricultural basis and upon sale for use other than that of agriculture, the difference in assessed values and the taxes due thereon be rolled back for a 5 year period and be payable thereon. It was moved by Montgomery, supported by Gove, to concur with the resolution except that the roll-back be 3 years instead of five. Voted and carried.

10. A resolution also from Grand Traverse County in opposition to the State setting salaries for district court secretaries, was on a motion by Cobb, supported by Montgomery, to table. Voted and carried.

11. A resolution from Grand Traverse County in opposition to the State setting salaries of county supervisors was on a motion by Hufnagel, supported by Andrews, to concur. Voted and carried.

RESOLUTION - No. 74

WHEREAS, a bill has been introduced in the State Legislature to have the state set salaries for county supervisors, and

WHEREAS, every county has a different situation and any minimum or maximum salaries or per diem set by the Legislature may only enlarge on the present confusion on salaries of Boards of Supervisors.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the Clinton County Board of Supervisors go on record as being opposed to any legislation setting salaries or per diem for county supervisors and a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Representative Richard Allen, Senator Emil Lockwood.

SALARY COMMITTEE

The Board recessed for Committee meetings at 10:30 a.m.

Upon again coming to order communications were continued.

12. A communication from John Kennaugh, executive secretary of the Grand River Watershed Council calling attention to a live TV broadcast on WJIM-TV beginning at 10:00 p.m. June 24, was read.

13. A letter to Chairman Nobis, from John Patriarche, president of the Capitol Area Comprehensive Health Planning Association, requesting financial assistance and an appointment to discuss their program.

14. A resolution from Oakland County in support of Governor Milliken's proposed 30-30-40 per cent split of recreation bond monies was presented. It was moved by Lankford, supported by Gove, to table the resolution. Voted and carried.

15. A communication from George Eberhard, director of Social Services calling attention to the need for air conditioning for their building was read. The chairman referred the matter to the Buildings and Grounds Committee.

Supervisors Cobb and Andrews reported on the conditions now prevailing at the present time at the Tri-County Planning Commission. The accounts are being audited and a report will be forthcoming.

Supervisor Lankford reported on the employees insurance program which will be in effect June 1, 1969, and an employee must work 30 days before he is covered. He also reports a meeting of the 6th District Association of Supervisors to be held at Smith Hall June 25. Chairman Shepard appointed the Board as a committee of the whole, to attend.

Supervisor Gove presented a resolution honoring H. Lyle

Brook, as a member of Clinton County's Zoning Commission and Appeal Board. Supervisor Gove moved, supported by Montgomery, to adopt the resolution. Voted and carried.

COMMENDATION

WHEREAS, H. Lyle Brook has faithfully and ably served the people of Clinton County for 12 years as a member of the zoning commission and of the appeal board for ten years and as appeal board chairman.

WHEREAS, H. Lyle Brook has found it necessary to resign from both the zoning commission and the appeal board.

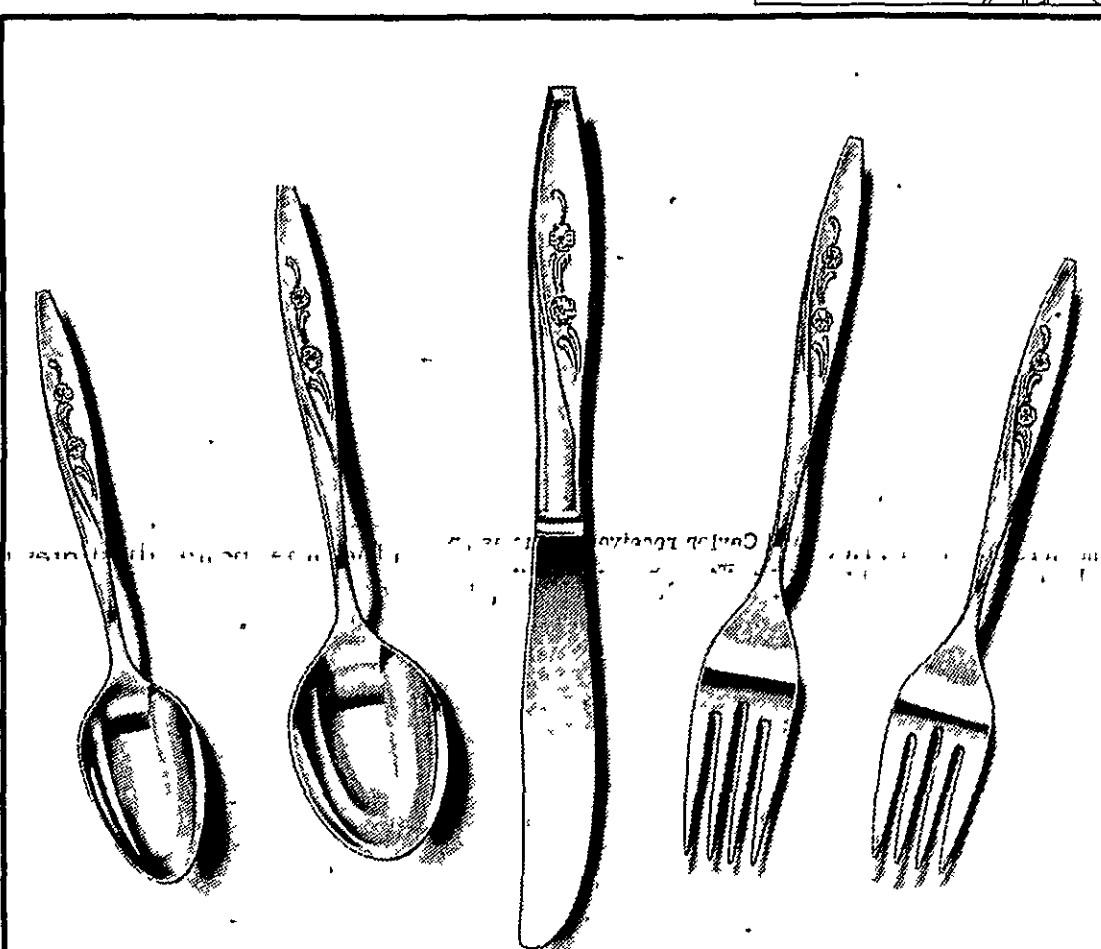

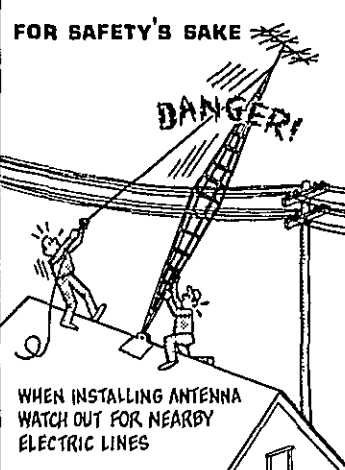

AND WHEREAS, the loss of his very able services is a matter of sincere regret to this board of supervisors.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the Board of Supervisors of Clinton County hereby express the high esteem they hold for H. Lyle Brook, and their regret that he has seen fit to resign, thus depriving the people of Clinton County of an unusually fine public servant.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: that this resolution be published in the official minutes of the Clinton County Board of Supervisors, as a token of appreciation of this Board. Adopted unanimously May 26, 1969.

Supervisor Lankford, reported on the meetings of the tax allocation boards. He commended Supervisor Shepard, on his

Landscape Lovers

As soon as we met, I knew Rosie was special. She has an air that says she knows who she is and where she is going. I like the way she paints, too—she's quiet and businesslike.

Everything about her appeals to me. She dances like a dream, plays tennis well enough to keep me on my toes and loves painting as I do. She's my kind of girl.

In a world that seems mad, her outlook is refreshing. Maybe it's because her church and her God are important to her! And she isn't afraid to say so.

We'll be married next month—on a shoestring, but, whatever the future holds, we know God and His Church are the source of all goodness.

Your church has the key to real happiness. It is eager to help you.

Keep your cleaning items handy

By LORRAINE SPRAGUE
Extension Home Economist

Continuing on household storage, let's think about cleaning equipment and supplies this week.

If we apply the principle of "storage at the point of use" which we mentioned last week, we see at once that some cleaning items should be kept in or near almost every room in the house. No single location or "sets" of locations will serve every home. Each house and each family must be considered alone. But some of the following suggestions may help you in your thinking.

Cleaning supplies that need water must logically be kept near the kitchen sink, or the bathroom. Duplicate sets can save a good many footsteps. Or storing and carrying such supplies in a basket or deep tray is a big help. Duplicate sets of larger equipment such as vacuum sweepers, or carpet sweepers dust mops etc. are step savers in large sprawling houses.

In very compact houses, a centrally located cleaning closet has advantages. A central cleaning closet is also advisable when your home equipment consists of several larger pieces such as a polisher-waxer, rug shampooer, upholstery shampooer etc. that would be impractical to duplicate.

A CENTRAL CLOSET needs to be large enough to store whatever equipment you have—or expect to have. Long handled appliances require at least 84 inches. A depth of 16 to 18 inches makes it easy to remove equipment. The number of appliances to be stored will influence the width but 24 to 72 inches is a good range to consider.

Storage of cleaning equipment includes not just keeping it out of sight, but having it convenient to get at and to use. When building a new home or remodeling an older one, storage areas need to be given consideration equal to other areas within the house. Sometimes a simple exchange of items within closets, or on shelves can improve storage facilities. Added shelves, open or enclosed, in bathrooms, hallways or other rooms can offer expanded storage too. As in any organizational problem, some sincere study on the needs and a look at what is available, often result in improved conditions.

Fair season is under way

Sights, sounds and smells to tantalize the senses are common features of the seventy-eight area and two state fairs scheduled for Michigan this summer.

Beginning with the Lake Odessa Fair on July 3-6 and ending October 9-11 with the Marquette County Fair, Michigan's eight million citizens will all be within easy reach of a fair, according to B. Dale Ball, Director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Michigan's two State Fairs will get under way with the Upper Peninsula State Fair at Escanaba from August 12 to 17 and the State Fair at the Detroit Fairgrounds will run from August 22 to September 1.

Clean, treat grain bins

Clean your grain bins thoroughly and treat them for insects at least two weeks before storing new grain, advises George McQueen, Clinton County extension agent.

Malathion and methoxychlor can be used for treating bins, he suggests. With premium grade malathion, a 57 per cent emulsifiable liquid concentrate works well in a knapsack sprayer. One pint in three gallons of water gives the right mixture. Two gallons of this solution will cover about 1,000 square feet.

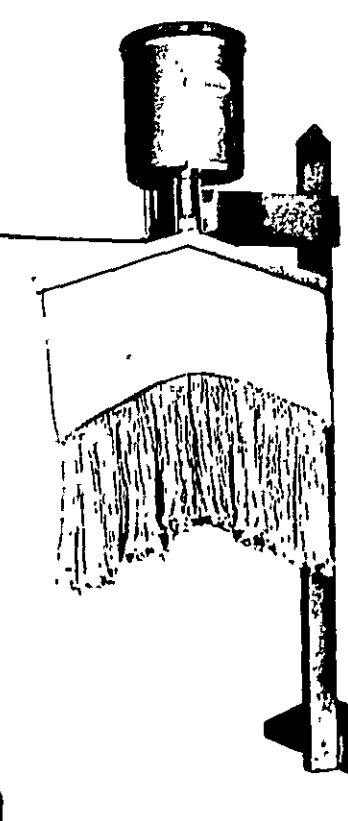

Fifty per cent wettable powder methoxychlor can also be used. A mixture of 1-1/4 pounds in three gallons of water, well agitated, will spray-kill all insects, including those in the cracks.

"Remove all old grain from the bins before cleaning and treating," McQueen advises, "because insects in old grain can severely damage the new grain. Also ventilate the bins before storing new grains."

Careless food handling can spoil summer plans

The fun of your summer picnic can easily turn into a tragedy caused by food poisoning, according to B. Dale Ball, director of Michigan's Department of Agriculture. Producers, processors, wholesalers and retailers are all inspected by the Agriculture Department to insure safe and sanitary handling of meat, produce and dairy products, but once the product has left the store, the consumer is responsible for the safety of his own food.

Common symptoms of food poisoning are nausea, vomiting and diarrhea. Fatalities are rare in most common forms of food poisoning but some types, such as botulism, can cause death. Effects of food poisoning are not always immediately apparent. In some types, effects may appear in as little as one-half hour while in other types, they may not be detected for more than 30 days. Most common summer illnesses show their effects in two to six hours.

Food most often leading to poisoning includes ham, poultry, salsas (salsa salad is notorious), many cream products such as cream pies, and food made with a mixture of milk and eggs. Picnickers need not avoid these foods if some simple rules are followed, states Dr. George Whitehead, Agriculture department Deputy Director for consumer protection.

Betty, a 36-year veteran with the General System and its predecessor companies, had requested early retirement. He will be retained as a consultant by the company for an indefinite period.

Betty joined General Telephone Company of Michigan as vice president-revenue requirements in 1962 and was named operating vice president the following year.

A native of Chicago, Betty launched his telephone career in 1934 when he joined Automatic Electric, telephone equipment manufacturing arm of the nationwide General System. Betty became chief accounting officer of the operating companies of this group in 1945 and ten years later was elected treasurer of all operating companies. He held this position and served as a director of several other Gary companies until the merger of Theodore Gary & Company into the General System.

In 1956 Betty joined the headquarters offices of the General System in New York as assistant to the vice president-finance. He subsequently served as assistant to the vice president-revenue requirements and was named assistant vice president-finance in 1960.

Maple watershed plans take shape

The Upper Maple River Inter-County Drain Board and the three Soil Conservation Districts which are sponsors of the Upper Maple River Watershed Project have been advised that the watershed work plan is near completion. The completion of the work plan involved additional studies requested by the sponsors regarding pipeline crossings, collection ditch modifications, and road crossings.

Verne M. Bahurst, State Conservationist for the US Soil Conservation Service, stated that development of the plans with the local sponsors has been very involved because of the size of the watershed, the involvement of villages and towns, the number of roads and bridges affected, the crossing of large pipelines throughout the project, and the complexity of the multiple-purpose measures needed to alleviate the problems of the watershed.

Coordination of the plan with all local, state, and Federal departments is extremely important to assure that the water management plan will be compatible with community development and fulfill the needs of all the people in the watershed.

A meeting to review the plans with the sponsors is being scheduled.

Social Security recipients reminded of reports

Residents of the Clinton County area who are receiving monthly social security checks are reminded by Roger W. Seamon, social security manager in Lansing, to report directly to the Lansing office any change of address or other events affecting continued receipt of their checks. Reports may be made by mail (you may use the back of your check envelope for this), phone, or in person. Appropriate report forms are available at the local office.

Seamon said this reporting method enables the district office to take advantage of the increased capacity of its high speed communications circuits to transmit information to record centers. Until recently, social security beneficiaries were encouraged to notify the Social Security Administration about the occurrence of these events by mailing pre-addressed postcard forms to a record center.

Events that affect receipt of monthly social security checks,

From the state house

By DICK ALLEN 88th District Representative

There is a group in the State that has been publicly supporting a unicameral or one-house legislature. The reasoning goes that with the one-man one-vote ruling there is no real difference between the House and Senate, therefore, one is useless and an unnecessary expense. Initially this seemed logical to me.

After having served six months, I've changed my mind. All bills passed by the House have been passed to the Senate and vice versa. As I look over both sets of bills, I am awfully glad they are getting a second look before becoming law.

I think a good deal of unnecessary and some downright dangerous legislation will be weeded out in this process. The second house lacks the pride of authorship, is less inclined to be carried away by respect for the sponsor, and is generally not motivated by "horse trading" of votes. Also, the time interval after passage by one house allows citizens to marshal evidence or outcry against proposed legislation.

The two house system obstructs the passage of legislation but in my opinion the burden of proof should rest with those who desire change. If they cannot convince both houses, we shall do without. Another proposal for change in the structure of Michigan's legislature has my support. This calls for replacing our present helter-skelter districts by a plan which subdivides Congressional districts into State Senate districts and these into House districts. Presently, the gerrymandered 88th District (ours) spreads across two different Congressional Districts and two Senate Districts.

The plan introduced by Senator Lockwood would divide each Congressional District into two Senate Districts and four House Districts. After the 1970 census this would probably mean 36 Senators and 72 Representatives. Whether we want to reduce the House from the present 110 members is a separate issue.

I believe it would increase the efficiency of passage of legislation and reduce expenses. On the other hand, it would increase the size of outstate districts putting many people even further from their representative. Our 88th District is already over 100 miles long. I know; I walked from end to end!

The present salary and expense allowance for a legislator amounts to about 25 cents per citizen. Perhaps the basic question is this. Are you getting your money's worth?

Why not now?

We encourage a yes vote on the city income tax proposal.

Like everyone else our thoughts are constantly running toward the elusive answer to the question of "when will it all end?" At present we see no end and whether we like it or not the realities of operating a city cannot be denied.

To turn our backs on the city's financial plight while hopefully telling ourselves the difficulties will eventually vanish will not only be foolish but costly as well. Even under an austerity budget we have seen an erosion of public services and an ever diminishing preparedness among the inventories of city equipment and supplies.

We have seen ourselves complain about the lack of returns from our tax investments in the city and yet we have also seen ourselves deny efforts to provide a sound base from which to build a community that could keep pace with expanding economic pressures.

Everything may not be perfect with the income tax plan. There are alternates, but every aspect of every alternate will not satisfy demands and wishes of everyone. At present, however, the proposal being offered is among the fairest and most equitable. If you are earning money you pay on your income; if you have no income you do not pay.

The income tax, or for that matter any other revenue producing plan pursued, will not be a panacea but such a plan will go far in providing the impetus to propel St. Johns toward stable growth.

The results of next Tuesday's vote will not be binding on members of the city commission but it's importance cannot be overemphasized. The commission is conducting the advisory vote as a means to aid them in moving toward community financial strength in a manner most acceptable to the people they represent.

We encourage a yes vote but just as importantly we encourage a vote. Ultimately something must be done . . . why not now?

What about the gals?

An unsigned letter came across our desk the other morning which was obviously written by a young girl who seems to be disturbed over the lack of activities for persons her age.

Generally we adhere to our policy of requiring a letter to be signed (we'll withhold names upon request) before publication but the sincerity of her comments ring throughout her remarks. We think you'll agree.

"Dear Editor:

"Year after year the young females of St. Johns have just stood by and watched young and eager boys play in teams sponsored by city groups and association; such as baseball, basketball and football.

"While the boys are enjoying themselves with these activities, have you ever wondered what the girls are doing? They are at home working. In the winter they are washing the muddy football uniforms and in the summer they are ironing the baseball outfits!

"There are plenty of public activities for boys only; such as the Soap Box Derby, which was just recently held here in St. Johns. Sure, a Powder Puff race is held after the Soap Box races, but I don't exactly call three cars a race!

"I hope that some understanding people will think about this and use my suggestion, which is: To have, for now, little league teams for girls in St. Johns and figure out something for fall and winter also.

"After all - what do boys have that girls haven't?"

Sincerely,

A member of the forgotten sex" Sounds to us as if there's at least one young lass tired of readying her brother's gear for the athletic crusades.

In favor of tax

Dear Editor:

The following letter was submitted to you and published January 4, 1968 but I respectfully forward it to you again for your consideration and possible publication.

My reason for doing this is to once again encourage a yes vote on the St. Johns city income tax question, but even more importantly to point out that in the period since January 1968 the city's financial condition has not changed to any favorable extent.

What are taxes? Why taxes? Local city taxes are really nothing more than purchasing power. You see, I couldn't afford a fire truck, much less the maintenance, the crew, the replacement of the truck; and neither could you. You couldn't afford a road grader, street sweeper, 24-hour police protection, street and city expansion.

But we—you and I together can each put some money in a pot and then we have purchasing power and then we can have these services. And that simply is the what and why of taxes.

Now one problem is the increase of taxes, and that is simply this. Our dollar purchasing power has decreased. For an example, after the last wage contract, the forecast is that for every hundred dollars spent it will take six more to buy the same thing next year. So according to forecasts we—you and I—need 6 per cent more in the pot to keep up our city purchasing power this year.

Now this trend will continue in my expenses, your expenses and any corporation and city expense. We don't like this, but it is a fact and we can't change it.

Now the challenge is who puts how much in the pot. Our present tax program is over aged and heavy with inequities. Because our present tax program started when people bought property with more cash than they do now, they didn't finance like we do today. So the people who owned property could best afford to put more in the pot.

Today, for an example, a young man returning from Viet Nam marries, buys a home with a little down payment he has saved while in the service and finances the balance for 20 years or more. Now our present tax program says you pay taxes based on valuation of the house, even though it is not paid for. We are asking him and other home buyers to pay tax on his future income. Do we think this is fair?

If he becomes unable to earn a wage we ask him to pay the same tax or lose his home. Do we think this is fair? Our older people are expected to pay tax on property even when their income is limited.

A real important factor is our change in population age. About half of our people are 25 years and younger, with a very small per cent owning property but needing our city service. They are willing and should help with their share in proportion to their earnings in city income tax, instead of older people with property and limited income pulling the load.

It is possible, with our present tax program for a man to be a millionaire with a large income, renting an apartment, receiving all the city services and paying nothing in tax. Certainly this isn't fair.

St. Johns, our city, is the county seat, sort of the capital of the community. We—you and I—don't want it financially sick. We want St. Johns to grow and improve and offer the kids, the young people a place to work,

'IF IT FITZ . . .'

A rich man

By JIM FITZGERALD

It's summer rerun time again. Jim Fitzgerald is vacationing. This column is repeated by popular request (from Mother and Aunt Madeline) from Aug. 25, 1966.

It is probably fitting that the Wall Street Journal should confirm what I've suspected for many years—I am never going to be rich.

In fact, right now I am well into my second 2-week vacation of the summer and such foolishness will certainly keep me sneezing lint from the bottom of a poverty pocket.

A Journal story said most high-powered executives get that way by saving minutes. You know. They dictate into recorders while flying. They shave and read stock reports while being chauffeured along freeways. They eat lunch at their desks—or with clients while scribbling $1 million figures on the tablecloth.

Time is money, don't waste it.

The Journal told about a Detroit physician who used to have a tank of tropical fish in his office. He got rid of the fish because he was wasting too much time talking about them with his patients. Joe Sick would come in and say, "What kind of fish is that red one?" Instead of immediately plopping his broken leg on the table. The doctor had to answer and there went 2 minutes or $200.

The Journal also described, so help me, a new standup desk which is popular with Big Business. It has a perch seat "so the executive will remain more alert and will be able to walk his visitors to the door without being trapped in a desk situation."

Oh me, I would not lie and tell you I wouldn't like to have a million bucks. I realize that money doesn't buy happiness but it certainly buys a lot of things that make me happy. I can be as ambitious and greedy as the next guy. Unless the next guy is one of these go-go minute counters described in the Journal. Poor as I am, I feel sorry for a millionaire who hasn't got time to share his goldfish with a customer.

There are times when I must leave work early and go home and rub my son's head and ask him what he did that day and then listen to a fantastic story about Batman being in the basement.

I have a daughter who stood in one spot 6 hours straight to make certain she could buy 2 tiny china dolls at a household auction. I wasn't there but people who were here interrupted my work several times to tell me how cute she looked and how everyone was rooting for her to make the buy, which she did. I have heard this story 8 times now and I got misty-eyed each time. I am ready to hear it again.

I have long been convinced that Saturday afternoons are good for watching baseball or football games. Nothing else. Don't tell anyone, but I often let the phone ring on weekends. I realize it might be someone offering me gold. But they should call back Monday.

I have a teenage daughter who drives me wild and I spend hours trying and failing to convince her I am smarter than she is. I might better shut up and buy her a book by Ann Landers. But once in a while she admits I was right 2 weeks ago and thanks me for the good advice. This does more for me than it could for Ann who, by the way, probably never wastes a minute.

I like to just sit and peek over my newspaper at my wife as she sews clothes for a Barbie doll, for gosh sakes, or plays some stupid game with 2 little kids, both lousy losers. I must fritter away several hours a week just observing and enjoying how much my kids love their mother, and vice versa.

As your read this I am vacationing and probably haven't made a constructive move in 6 days. I could be writing something for a couple of magazines that have solicited material but . . . there's a lake to look at and kids to listen to and a book to read and new golf clubs to swing. Or I might just sit and remember things about my dead father.

No, I'll never be rich by Wall Street standards. I don't have time. Life is a goldfish and I must watch closely how it glitters and splashes before it slips away.

TAKING FIVE

The longest day

By RON HUARD

The longest day is not a movie.

It isn't a book, either.

It's a day spent making airline connections between Lansing and Waterloo, Iowa under conditions which included a slowdown in operations by ground controllers; an airplane with mechanical difficulties; a second one without air conditioning and a severe thunderstorm that washed us from the plane to a chartered bus for the final lap of the journey.

On top of that, storms on the day preceding the longest day forced a closing of O'Hare Airport at Chicago and consequently there must have been four million persons at the terminal attempting to catch up on missed connections and tardy departures.

What started out as a five to six hour trip ended up as a fourteen hour endurance contest and if Job had been along he'd never have arrived with his reputation intact.

After leaving Lansing late because of ground control delays earlier in the flight, we spent years over Lake Michigan eyeballing the sparkling waters and watching ships disappear from vision. Even at this early point most of us aboard the plane were relieved that we had become part of the east of the longest day.

Then, just about the time the gas tanks echoed the coughs of the engines we slid to a stop at O'Hare. A three-hour layover had in the meantime been cut to about one and a half — just long enough for a sandwich and a scanning of the newspaper. I accomplished the latter, but trying to get into one of the several restaurants or snack areas at the airport made Michigan State-Notre Dame football games child's play.

Three times I tried to secure a seat before giving up in desperation and finally decided that a cold mug of beer would tide me over. This tide never came in because the strategically situated pubs in the terminal were so crowded that one lady waited fifty minutes before discovering there was no sale in progress.

A man emerged from the milling crowd with a half-filled mug and a grin on his face explaining, "I don't know where this came from. I snagged it just trying to escape." I was hoping he'd share it with me. He didn't.

At departure time we were advised there would be a little delay. Subsequent comments stretched this delay into exactly four hours and thirteen minutes, and what happened during this span of time ran the gamut from being critical to being hilarious.

Mid-way through the waiting period we all boarded a plane and proceeded to join the lineup of aircraft awaiting takeoff approval. After spending a few months in this craft the captain advised us we would be returning to the terminal to change planes. This we did — at least we were told it was a different plane. It looked the same to me except it was not parked in the same location as the one we previously boarded.

Once again we crept toward takeoff and after an hour or so had passed the heat in the plane must have been nearing moderate baking levels. The air conditioner, we were told, couldn't bear up under the combination of high outside temperatures and the loaded aircraft and consequently it collapsed.

Passengers had long since discarded outer garments in generous amounts and the stewardesses switched from their uniforms to lighter garb. Much of the early grumbling turned toward a light and jovial vein and after the hour and forty-five minute wait had passed and the wheels of the plane disappeared into the wings there was loud applause and cheering.

The cause for this lasted only about fifty minutes. Weather grounded us at Dubuque. One advantage was that the terminal there probably hadn't seen moving creatures in several days and even though there were twenty or so in our crowd we didn't cause any jamup. I made it to the coffee machine without the aid of elbows and when I did spill the stuff I did so in trying to switch hands while juggling a brief case and three newspapers. At O'Hare this incident would have been minor. At Dubuque, Iowa, it was a highlight of the day and I was almost tempted to hang around an extra day to see if my mishap made the papers.

But when the chartered bus arrived to shuttle us off to Waterloo, two hours into the night, I readily grabbed a seat and settled back.

Fourteen hours after leaving St. Johns, I met the party waiting for me at the Waterloo airport.

"Watcha been doin'?" he asked.

"Making the longest day," I replied.

He understood. He'd been waiting for half of the fourteen hours.

to earn a living and have a home. This is our job.

So it is crystal clear that if we want purchasing power for city service and growth, it has to come from us who earn in proportion to our ability to put in the pot.

Our city and community will be no bigger and no better than we make it. So you and I will make it bigger and better with the income tax according to our ability to pay.

BERNARD FELDPAUSCH
St. Johns.

Dear Editor:

For many years a person's wealth was measured by the amount of property owned and this became the basis for levying taxes by the various governmental agencies who needed finances.

Today a person's wealth is mainly measured by his income as recognized by the Federal and State income taxing procedures. If any taxing methods are justified, a tax on a person's ability to pay should be the most just way.

When a person's tax obligations are based on his ability to pay (income), these obligations can fluctuate if earning power is disrupted due to sickness or accident. The archaic method of property tax does not provide such relief for these events.

Battle lines have been drawn by those in favor of modern forms of taxation against those in favor of the outmoded and archaic method (property). Many statements have been and will be made by the opponents of tax reform relative to control of rate being at the State level. Incomes will become public knowledge in the hands of unscrupulous individuals, only one other town the size of St. Johns has an income tax, and many other claims.

The relevancy of the question is that a person should be taxed primarily on his ability to pay. Property taxes are already too high and are never decreased once established.

I urge all voters to consider a modern approach—ability to pay in earning power as opposed to the old fashioned property tax methods and to vote yes on the advisory vote on July 15th.

Sincerely yours,
FRED G. MEYER

Against income tax

To the Editor:

As a St. Johns citizen, I am concerned with the numerous unseen and misunderstood angles of the many provisions of the City Income Tax Enabling Act of the State of Michigan.

The proposed St. Johns City Income Tax, if passed would have to be enforced to the letter of the State laws that govern this tax.

Every non-resident who might have to pay the one half per cent city tax will have to reveal his whole income figures from his Federal and State income tax returns. There are many people, (non-residents) who may well say that we in St. Johns can get along without their services here in St. Johns. This could hurt the growth and progress of the city. We are not an island. We must depend on many outside services to operate this community.

One of the areas in which we use many outside services is our local hospital. Unlike the hospitals of large cities, such as Detroit and Lansing, our community hospital is dependent upon outside sources for certain essential and highly specialized personnel. Many of our nursing, laboratory, x-ray, and physiotherapy staff, as well as physicians specializing in anesthesiology, radiology, pathology and specialists, we rely on for emergency consultations, have already expressed a reluctance to continue these services to our hospital if the income tax is passed. We should be concerned with the damaging effect this would have on our local hospital services.

We might well become a "small island," unable to exist without these services and many others, essential to our community, if the Commission sees fit to pass the income tax measure.

The Chamber of Commerce leadership is attempting to convey the thought that the membership is for an income tax. The small "straw" or "chaff" vote taken does not reflect any thought except that which a few officers want to read into the inconclusive results. Some cities are now advertising that they have NO income tax as an inducement to get business to relocate in their towns.

A certain group of real estate owners in the down town are still hoping for urban renewal. This is mainly a selfish position, since they hope to sell their old run down property for more than the present open market price. Their only hope to rescue urban renewal is through a city income tax. The city would have some more money to do more planning in partnership with a Federal agency that promises a pipeline into Washington for additional funds that WE will pay for as taxpayers.

The farmer or agricultural service business groups that are located in St. Johns will have to fight a losing battle for their customers (the farmers) when the farmers have to file a city income tax and reveal their other income information from their Federal and State returns to the local income tax administrator. Remember the Enabling Act will have to be strictly enforced.

A few local accounting services seem to convey the thought that the city tax forms are simple. They hope to ultimately gain by being able to charge every citizen an addition of $5.00 or $10.00 to complete this local tax form. Every citizen, old or young, with any income will have to complete one of these forms each year and the great majority will have to pay for the tax work to be done on them. Look at the already complicated Federal and State tax forms. Just an additional tax on our Senior citizens, as well as the wage earning group.

Some of the St. Johns people have thought that the professional people of the community will pay the lion's share of the proposed city income tax. They may well pay more tax, but they can, if they choose, ultimately pass this along to their clients, patients or customers by increased fees, and we will in the end be paying the additional tax. Don't think you can get any lower professional fees or charges by going to another city for these services!

It is necessary for every citizen to get out and vote on July 15, 1969. Every member of this community has much to lose if the tax measure is passed. Let's be a city that can attract new business, new industries, and new people by being able to say "we have no city income tax." Make this an election with no minority deciding the future of St. Johns.

FLOYD L. PARMELEE

View from the 87th

By WILLIAM S. BALLENGER
State Representative

As a member of the House Civil Rights Committee, I am perhaps even more concerned than usual about certain questionable and alarming demands that have recently been made upon employers by the Michigan Civil Rights Commission.

A few weeks ago, for example, a contracting firm in the Lapeer area complained about Commission activities to Republican Rep. Roy Spencer of Attica. After making the low bid on a planned county convalescent home, this firm had been faced with an ultimatum from Civil Rights Commission officials that it hire a specified "quota" of minority racial-group employees.

Otherwise, the Commission threatened, its influence would be used to force the withholding of state and federal funds from the project.

It apparently made no difference, from the Commission's viewpoint, that this contracting firm had long maintained an equal-opportunity policy in hiring, and that no Negroes had applied for employment, since very few lived in the area.

It apparently made no difference, as well, that this contractor had unsuccessfully searched as far away as Flint for some 20 carpenters and brick masons, making it very clear that black workers would be welcomed.

Nor did the Commission seem concerned by the fact that its activities could have cost the taxpayers well over $100,000, had this contractor been denied the right to proceed and the next-lowest bid been accepted.

Fortunately, the Department of Public Health, not the Civil Rights Commission, has the authority to make the final decision in this instance. And the local contracting firm will evidently be allowed to go ahead with the project.

But the practice of forcing racial quotas upon employers under threat of the loss of their right to receive state contracts is evidently still going on. In a recent newsletter, the Commission named seven contractors as having been found "to apparently not be in compliance with State equal opportunity employment standards."

One of the seven, the Williams Brothers Asphalt Paving Company of Ionia, has offered a rather startling account of just what "to apparently not be in compliance" means. The Williams Company, ordered to appear before the Civil Rights Commission on June 27 and "show cause" as to why its right to bid on state contracts should not be terminated, has issued the following statement:

"The Michigan Civil Rights Commission is . . . attempting to force us to hire on the basis of race and color. The penalty for non-compliance with the Commission's edict is a forfeiture of our right to receive State contracts. . . . To the taxpayer it will mean fewer bidders and consequently higher prices.

"The Michigan Civil Rights Commission requires that we have at least three minority group members on our payroll—even if it means the exclusion of some of those who worked with us last year and want to return, or those who have filed new applications with us this year. As the Civil Rights Commission puts it, these applicants 'can find jobs other places.'

"But because there are extremely few minority persons in the Ionia area and other areas, where we work, such persons have simply not come to Williams to apply. . . ."

In response to this case, Republican State Rep. Stanley M. Powell of Ionia formally requested, on June 5, that Michigan Attorney General Frank J. Kelley issue rulings on two very basic and essential questions:

First, does the Civil Rights Commission have the legal authority to initiate complaints in cases where no citizen has claimed he was discriminated against?

Second, does the Commission have the legal authority to impose a quota system for the hiring of minority-race employees upon employers?

It might be noted here that according to the Michigan Constitution, the Commission's duty is simply "to investigate alleged discrimination against any person because of religion, race, color or national origin in the enjoyment of the civil rights guaranteed by law and by this Constitution, and to secure the equal protection of such civil rights without such discrimination." There is no mention of a responsibility on the part of the Commission to force the private sector to recruit and hire minority group employees.

Furthermore, Michigan law makes it an unfair employment practice to "establish, announce, or follow a policy of denying or limiting, through a quota system or otherwise, employment or membership opportunities of any group because of race, color, religion or national origin or ancestry of such group."

Of course, in a strictly sociological sense, strong arguments can be made for the one-sided workings of racial recruitment campaigns and perhaps even for the practice of forcing racial quotas upon employers. It could be asserted, for example, that since black unemployment is much higher than white, extreme measures are needed to relieve this imbalance. It could even be argued that hiring on a racial basis has been necessitated by past discrimination in employment and if majority-race applicants or employees really are being told to "find jobs other places," they are merely suffering for the wrongdoing of previous generations.

But such tenuous moral justifications, even if accepted, are not legal justifications. The entire principle of so-called "reverse discrimination," or racial favoritism to compensate for past racial injustice, simply does not and cannot exist in our lawbooks without violating the basic guarantees of the U.S. Constitution upon which the very concept of civil rights is founded.

No one can deny that the law has been twisted or ignored to permit the oppression of minority groups in the past. But we simply cannot compensate for past injustices with new injustices. Whatever the moral mood of the moment may be, we must never forget that we are a government of laws, and not of men.

Such short-sighted efforts as the forcing of racial quotas upon employers will be not only self-defeating but disastrous. Such efforts will breed resentment and antagonism that could readily destroy many of the civil rights gains that have been made in recent decades.
