Business vs more nite hours

A sampling of St. Johns merchants have voted down a suggestion that they remain open more than one night a week.

The 20-20 tally for continuing the general policy of staying open Friday evening only was the result of a post card survey taken by the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce.

It appeared that businessmen along Clinton Avenue generally were against any change, while those outside the central business district favored some new policy, said Tom Wilson, survey chairman.

THOUGH ABOUT 130 merchants were contacted, only 48 responded to the survey.

Discussion, beginning about two months ago, centered on the possibility of evening store hours on Monday or Wednesday, in addition to the present Friday opening to 9 p.m.

Wilson argues that this would make the merchants "more competitive" with shopping areas in Owosso and Lansing which are open Monday nights.

"After some study," Wilson said, "we found this would help create extra business for our town."

HE SAID TOTAL area sales increased one per cent in the last six years, based on sales tax receipts, but St. Johns' sales decreased six per cent in the same period.

"If the people want an additional night for shopping and show it," Wilson stated, "it would be incumbent upon the local businessman to do something about it."

Several rural school shuttle plans anticipated

Several changes in the student load at a couple of rural schools were announced by the St. Johns school administration this week. The changes will go into effect this fall.

The major difference will be for pupils of the Parker and Rowell schools, northeast of St. Johns, Rowell, located at Chandler and Hall roads, has only 16 students registered for next year; Parker School at Walker and Krepps Road has 42 signed up.

IN AN EFFORT to balance the load at the two schools, which are only 2 1/2 miles apart, kindergarten, first, second and third graders from both schools will be housed in the Rowell School, with Mrs. Judy Parker as teacher. Grades four through eight will use the Parker school, with Mrs. Betty Thompson as teacher.

The change will mean there will not be a need for a part-time teacher as was necessary at the two schools last year.

At Merrifield School, where there are 38 pupils enrolled for next year, the eighth grade will be transferred to Olive Center School.

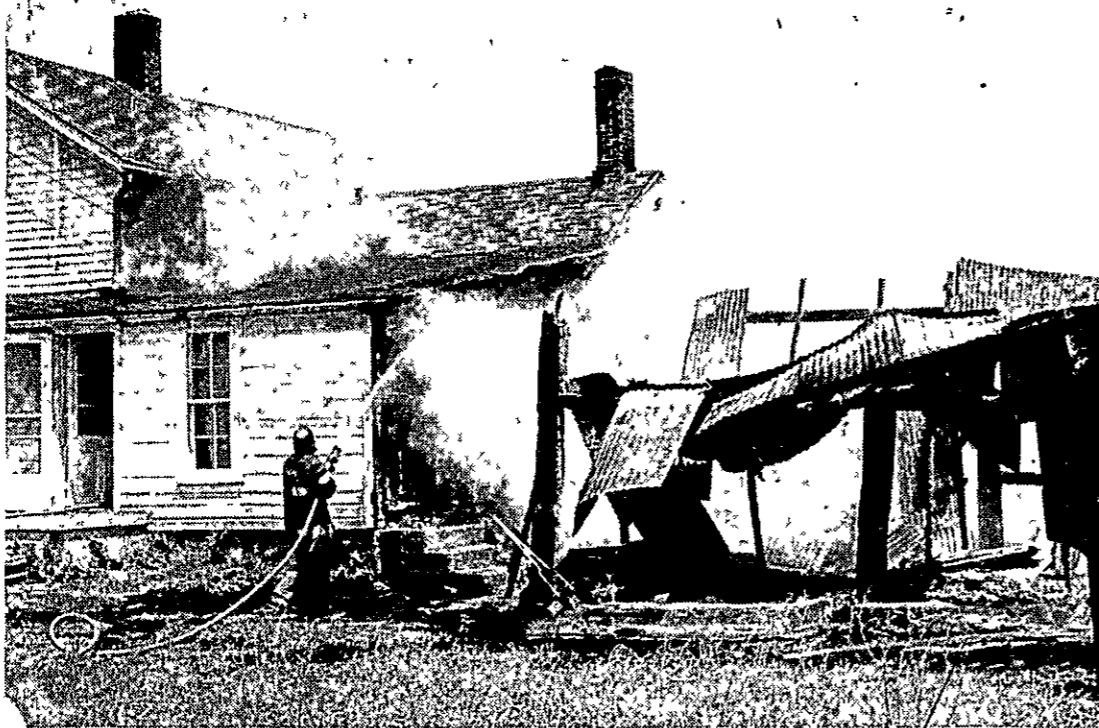

Kielen will head P-W school board

New officers of the Pewamo-Westphalia school board for the next year are Walter Kielen, president; Carl Kramer, Jr., vice-president; Louis Cook, secretary, and James Pung, treasurer.

Other trustees are Charles Hengesbach, Gerald J. Thelen and Allen Wood.

Regular meetings of the board will be held at 8 p.m. the second Monday of each month in the high school building.

Federal aid awarded for emergency unit

The Clinton County Board of Supervisors learned Monday that they have been awarded a Federal grant to help defray expenses of an Emergency Operating Center which has been under consideration as part of the new east wing.

The telegram received from Washington was read by County Clerk Paul Wakefield and stated: "Congressman Paul H. Todd and Senator Philip H. Hart today announced the award of a Federal grant from the Office of Civil Defense to the Clinton County OED center in St. John, Michigan.

THE GRANT, in the amount of $31,426, is designed to defray the cost of construction of an emergency operating center in the basement of the new wing of the Clinton County Court-house.

A decision on whether to incorporate an EOC into the new wing will be delayed until the supervisors have a chance to see just what the cost of the new wing will be, with EOC and without EOC.

ST. CLAIR PARDEE, St. Johns architect, appeared before the board with two sets of blueprints, one containing the EOC, the other without.

Pardee told the board the upper floor on both blueprints were the same, with an extension of the County Treasurer's office, plus room for eight more offices.

The kindergarten students from Sherwood will go to Eureka school.

WALTER NICKEL, administrative assistant in charge of rural schools, said full-time rural teachers are still needed (as of last Friday). There are vacancies for one teacher each at Eureka, Olive Center, Sage, Greenwood, Chapman and French Schools. Nickel is also looking for a part-time rural teacher.

Books and supplies for all the rural schools have been ordered. One change from last year's procedures is that all rural school workbooks are to be purchased in St. Johns at the high school bookstore. Parents will be notified next month as to bookstore hours. Last year the rural teachers handled the distribution of workbooks.

Pardee estimated the cost of the new wing as: General—$121,149 with EOC; $97,150 without EOC. Mechanical—$61,315 with EOC; $43,315 without EOC. Electrical—$36,500 with EOC; $20,000 without EOC. Misc.—$14,527 with EOC; $9,477 without EOC. Total cost—$233,491 with EOC; $166,942 without EOC.

THE ESTIMATED cost of the EOC unit is $66,549 with the Federal grant taking care of half of this amount.

The final decision on whether to have the EOC unit will probably be made when the board opens bids at their next meeting which is to be held on Wednesday, July 27. Bids will be opened at 2 p.m.

IN OTHER BUSINESS the supervisors approved the combining of the equalization and addressograph departments, effective August 1 and set the salary of the director at $7250; approved the Salary-Clerk hire committee's recommendation to set the salary of the driver license clerk at $3200. The addressograph clerk at $3400, and the additional man for the sheriff's department at $5000. Also increased was the cost of day care for children in boarding homes from $1.43 a day to $1.75, from $10 a week to $13.

The board discussed increased expenditures of $1,350,580, while higher than the budgeted amount last year, was lower than the receipts of $1,369,209.

Lancaster estimates direct state aid (based on 3,370 students) at $720,000, which would

$1 1/2 million budget proposed for schools

A nearly $1 1/2 million budget for school operation during 1966-67 was proposed to the St. Johns board of education last night (Wednesday).

That is slightly over $205,000 more than what was budgeted last year and about $130,000 more than was actually spent during the fiscal year which ended June 30.

Higher salaries for teachers and the addition of several teachers account for the bulk of the proposed increase, and in general higher costs of operation make up the rest.

The proposed budget, which calls for estimated expenditures of $1,474,855 during the next year, was scheduled to be acted on by the board of education Wednesday night following a public hearing on the budget.

IN PREPARING the proposed budget, Supt. Earl Lancaster sees a $1,195 deficit, with anticipated income from all sources of $1,463,700. This compares with a roughly $10,000 deficit in last year's budget. By figuring expenditures high and income low, however, the school was able to erase the deficit and end the year $1,576.12 in the black.

The expenditures of $1,350,580, while higher than the budgeted amount last year, was lower than the receipts of $1,369,209.

Lancaster estimates direct state aid (based on 3,370 students) at $720,000, which would account for practically half the proposed budget. All types of state and federal aid to the schools should pay approximately 55.4 per cent of the estimated costs next year. Two years ago the percentage was only 42.

THE BULK OF expenditures next year will be for instruction. Lancaster estimates about $620,310 will be needed for elementary instruction and $377,770 for secondary instruction. These figures compare to $550,109 and $318,647, respectively, actually spent during the last fiscal year.

Teacher salaries are the big items in the instruction budgets, and in both elementary and secondary areas the proposed budget calls for big increases. These have already been contracted for.

Elementary teachers will get a proposed $541,600 next year, compared to $475,461 during the last year; secondary teachers will get $282,500, compared to $229,879.

NEGOTIATIONS during the past year between teachers and the school administration resulted in a raise in the base pay for some 110 degree teach-

Trustees approve hospital annex

A $1,073,000 project for the construction of two new additions to Clinton Memorial Hospital in St. Johns and the updating of existing hospital facilities was approved by the hospital's board of trustees this week.

$12,400 donated to cancer unit

A record total of $12,423.88 has been given by Clinton County residents to the county unit of the American Cancer Society during the 1966 crusade.

Half of the contributions received will be used in Clinton County to help cancer patients and to maintain nine loan closets. A grant of $1,500 will again be given to the University of Michigan to support the Clinton County Research Project.

Any clubs or groups wishing cancer education programs may contact Mrs. Gaylord Doyle, 224-

Sanction of the project culminates five years of planning by the hospital's board of directors and medical staff, with the counsel of St. Clair and C. Douglas Pardee, local architects. Approval of the plans and financing arrangements was by unanimous vote of 28 trustees called into special session by Alan R. Dean, president, and Judge Leo W. Corbin, secretary, of the Clinton Memorial Hospital Assn.

BIDS FOR THE construction work and equipment were opened last week and contracts will be awarded to low bidders as soon as federal authorities confirm financial arrangements, said Ink White, chairman of the hospital board of directors.

A new two-story addition extending west from the present structure will house the hospital's obstetrical department and nursery on its second floor. A section of this wing will also be available for medical and surgical patients, said William W. Barber, chairman of the hospital's building committee.

THE GROUND FLOOR of the new west addition will be occupied by a lobby and waiting room for visitors, administrative offices, central supply room and physicians' conference room. A second elevator is to be installed in this area to service upper floors. Plans also provide for new doors to shield the shaft of the three floor levels serviced by the present elevator.

A one-story addition to the east of the present building will provide room for a new kitchen, enlarged dining room and food service facilities. Medical service areas on the ground floor of the present structure will be expanded and modernized. An estimated $40,000 will be spent for new x-ray equipment.

Re-arrangement of space on the upper floors of the hospital will make possible the addition of 15 new patient beds. This would increase the hospital's normal capacity to 92 beds, said Harold B. Reed, administrator at Clinton Memorial.

THE APPROVED plans include an addition to the present boiler plant at the hospital and a third boiler to service the institution. New sterilizers will be installed and a new washing machine for the laundry is provided among the equipment purchases. Air conditioning will be installed in the remodeled surgical suite, new delivery suite, new patient rooms and corridors and in the lobby and administrative areas.

A major factor in financing of the current hospital project is a $560,000 grant from federal Hill-Burton funds. Clinton Memorial's $513,000 share will come from surplus funds available from previous years operations, from endowment income and unrestricted endowment funds, from private contributions and from loans negotiated with local banks.

BUILT IN 1926, Clinton Memorial was among the first rural community hospitals erected in Michigan. Original cost of the first 25-bed unit was $125,000 and was financed entirely by private contributions from an estimated 1,300 Clinton County people. Subsequent additions, financed from earnings and gifts

City buys lot for $500, postal box site discussed

The St. Johns City Commission whipped through an uneventful order of business last Tuesday night in which they bought some property, bought some chemicals for the water plant and discussed several items without taking any action.

The purchase of property was a 66-foot lot on the northeast side of the city's well field surrounding the new water plant. Jason Rhynard offered to sell the lot to the city for $500. Rhynard cannot build on the property without extra special precautions because of his proximity to the city's water well No. 6.

BIDS ON CHLORINE from Carrier Stevens Co. and on lime from the Marblehead Lime Co. were accepted. The material will be used in the treatment of water at the new plant.

The commission referred to the planning commission a plat for a new subdivision on the southeast side of town planned by Robert Sirrine of St. Johns.

They also approved a special sewer rate of 50 per cent of the water bill for Rehmann's, downtown clothing store, on the basis that the store's water-cooled air conditioner dumps its water into the storm sewer and not the sanitary sewer.

A letter from Postmaster J.D. Robinson was read in which he suggested that the postal drop box now in front of the post office be moved to the west side of the building. There, he suggested, the curb could be indented toward the sidewalk and the postal box placed on an "island" next to the power pole which now sits out in the street.

This would form a street-side "alley" in which drivers could pull up and deposit mail from the driver's side.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL. Homemade ice cream, barbecues, hot dogs and cake. July 17th, St. Peter Lutheran Hall, Riley. Serving 5:30. 11-2.

THE COMMISSION expressed some concern about such an approach, which would require the removal of about six parking spaces from the corner of State Street to the post office driveway onto Brush Street.

Mayor Jack Smit suggested building a new driveway alongside the alley on the east side of the post office, a drive that would dip straight down into the city parking lot near the A & P Store. The drive could be made one-way going north, he said, and the postal box could be put on post office property on the driver's side.

City Manager Ken Greer was asked to check out this possibility with the postmaster.

ing the salary of the Probate Judge from $8,500 to $11,500. In presenting this suggested increase Supervisor Tiedt, chairman of the salary-clerk hire committee, explained that with new legislation recently passed, the state will now pay 50 per cent up to $10,000 of the Probate Judge's salary. By increasing the salary to $11,500 the county would pay $6,500 with the state picking up the balance of $5,000. This was approved on a roll call vote by a 13-7 margin.

The board also approved the appointment of Mrs. Lawrence (Shirley) Keck of DeWitt to the vacancy on the County Library board.

They also authorized the creation of the office Civil Engineer-Surveyor who would be under the control of the board of supervisors. His duties would consist of; engineering on drains, consultations on plats, platting, zoning and building problems, mapping and other duties to this office.

The commission expressed approval of the idea if the bar and eating area were separated in some fashion, even if by a lattice work screen or something similar. The proposed change in the existing city ordinance governing operation of bars was scheduled for the agenda at the next meeting July 19.

The city commission also passed a resolution asking permission of the State Department of Highways to construct a crossover on US-27 at the intersection of US-27 and North Oakland Street, which will be opened this summer. The crossover would also provide a straight-in entrance and exit from the city garages and sewage treatment plant.

Flames damage area farm home

St. Johns and Fowler firemen battled a blaze last Thursday afternoon that severely damaged a home on West Colony Road occupied by the Gordon Easlick family. The fire destroyed a small, straw-filled shed near the house.

Firemen said burning trash in a can west of the shed was whipped by a breeze into the building and it was engulfed in flames almost immediately. The shed was only about four feet away from the house, and the fire spread to the south side of the house.

parts of the house, and St. Johns Chief Clare Maler said there was relatively little damage to the other parts and furniture.

The house is owned by Umbra Pierce and is located just west of Essex Center Road on Colony. Firemen had no estimate of the damage.

Before both trucks returned from the Easlick fire, the local siren sounded again. This time a log-pile fire near the railroad tracks four miles west of St. Johns had gotten out of hand, and firemen were called to help control it and prevent it spreading through grass.

FIREMEN FROM BOTH St. Johns and Fowler arrived simultaneously and found the south wall of the house a mass of flames. The fire had eaten into the inside and destroyed the roof on the south portion, and severely damaged the interior on that side of the house. But quick action by firemen prevented the spread of the fire to the other

State Fair sets battle of bands

The "Teen Scene," the area set aside for the younger set, will be a musical battleground during the 1966 State Fair which opens Aug. 28 and continues through Sept. 5.

Daily contests are scheduled to select the grand champion folk singing group and amateur band.

ANY ORGANIZED band, limited to six members, all of high school age, is eligible. Preliminary judging will be a week prior to the opening date of the Fair. Thirty-six finalists will be chosen for the championship competition during the Fair.

Folk singing groups also must be of high school age. Each band and singing group will be given a 20-minute spot in which to perform. All judging will be done by a panel of local disc jockeys.

Applications should be sent to Cleighton Melin, Michigan State Fair, Detroit, Michigan 48203. All entries must be received prior to Aug. 12.

Conley already took his physical

Seaman ROGER CONLEY of Fowler has already taken his military physical examination—quite a while ago.

He's now serving with the U.S. Navy on the USS Cook in the Halphong Gulf in Viet Nam.

The Clinton County Draft Board, as reported in last week's News, listed Conley among 33 men to be called this month to take pre-induction physicals.

Road Commission Weekly Report

The board of Clinton County road commissioners will hold their next regular meeting Monday.

The Board will discuss a new subdivision in Bath Township.

AT THE LAST regular commission meeting, bids were opened for the July and August requirements for gasoline. Standard Oil Co. was low bidder and was awarded the contract.

The seal coating crew is in the southwestern part of the county this week.

The Dust Master trucks are back spreading calcium chloride solution. The second application is being spread on primary roads this week.

More than one-half million gallons were used in the first application.

TWO TRAFFIC accidents brought trouble to the road commission last week.

Howard Jacobus was the driver of a gravel truck which overturned on Townsend Road east of Wright last Wednesday.

Early last week one of the labor crews was in a collision at the corner of Alward Rd. and Shepardsville.

Al Ernst, veteran grader operator, was a passenger in this six-man cab pickup and was injured. Al will be off for six weeks.

ROY HARGER, general chairman for the annual road commission picnic, to be held on July 25, announced the following committees:

Dr Deibert finds answers to mysteries

Chemical catalysts are a mystery, but Dr Max C. Deibert may be helping to clear up some of the unknowns.

Millions of dollars are spent yearly developing new and better catalysts to trigger reactions between chemicals.

Yet precisely how catalysts work remains a mystery and research to develop new catalysts is still based largely on observation and experience.

Recent studies financed by the National Science Foundation at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, however, may take some of the guesswork out of catalyst development.

DR MAX C. DEIBERT

DR DEIBERT and Raymond F. Baddour, according to the July 2 issue of "Business Week," appear to have proved that varying the electrical properties of a supporting material is one way of changing the activity of a catalyst.

Dr Deibert is the son of Mr and Mrs Basil A. Deibert of 204 Church, St. Johns.

The two MIT researchers were experimenting with a catalytic system involving nickel as the catalyst, deposited on crushed portions of germanium crystals, the supporting material.

The scientists found that tiny variations in the movement of electrons across the interface between the nickel and the germanium would change the system's catalytic activity.

Four win prizes for hobo garb

A hobo hike and convention got under way last Friday morning as the third combined playground special event day. The morning's events were held at the city park, and featured a hobo fashion show. Prizes were given for the most original costumes.

First prize went to Dawn Witt. Second place was awarded to Cathy Howell and there was a tie between Gina Mazzolini and Kevin Bargar for third place.

Following the costume contest, the "hobos" and their playground supervisors trekked through the park trails for an hour before moving on downtown to the business district.

After ambling down the west side of Clinton Avenue, the hobos stopped for a rest and a snack on the depot lawn, just in time to watch a freight train pull into town, giving even a more realistic setting to the morning's activities.

THEN, THE ROUTE took the group up the east side of Clinton Avenue and around the courthouse and high school, finally ending at the large pavilion in the city park, where the convention was dismissed for lunch.

The next special event day will feature a treasure hunt. All youngsters who will enter the fourth grade and up are invited.

Phone book deadline set for July 22

The new General Telephone directory for Fowler, Maple Rapids, M'lar, Pewamo and St. Johns will "go to press" July 22, General Telephone District Manager W. F. Graef said today.

Customers who wish to make corrections or additions to the directory are urged to call their General Telephone business office before July 22.

GRAEF POINTED out that, because of the emphasis on a firm cutoff date for entries, the General Telephone Directory Company in Des Plaines, Illinois, can assemble, print, bind and return the new St. Johns directory in a relatively short period of time.

"Our directory company, which prints millions of telephone books each year, operates on a deadline basis much like a newspaper," Graef said.

"For this reason we cannot accept any changes July 22, the date the directory is 'locked-up' and sent immediately to the directory company for printing."

The distribution date for the new directory will be announced later, Graef said.

Draft Bd. increases call to 23

The Clinton County Selective Service Board has increased its call of men from 18 to 23 for July.

No married men are to be taken this month.

All Michigan local boards have been requested to deliver an additional 750 registrants for induction into the Army during July and August due to increased manpower requirements announced by the Department of Defense.

WITH ABOUT 9,000 men to be ordered for induction over the next three months, Michigan local boards will virtually exhaust the currently available pool of Class I-A manpower.

All local boards have been requested to tighten deferment requirements and screen additional manpower from among registrants previously deferred as students or for occupational and dependency reasons.

a very limited role in his private affairs.

This concept has made the American governmental system different from all others; it is the one which left our people so free and unencumbered by their own government that they converted the backward, American continent into the land of freedom, the most fruitful and powerful in history.

The trends in government today are away from this basic concept. The flood of new laws and regulations passed by our national and state legislative bodies the last few years do not make one optimistic about the future.

Has this American Dream of our founding fathers served its purpose? Yes, it has been a sound guideline for the first 150 years of our nation.

Is it still a practical guideline? Yes, it is needed now more than ever. My only purpose in running for the legislature is that this dream of individual freedom might be passed on to future generations.

Norman Cain has just added Buick's new Opel Kadett to his line.

Can you blame him?

Opel Kadett is General Motor's lowest-priced car. Yet it comes with features you normally don't expect to find in a car of this price. Take the sport coupe, pictured above. Bucket seats. Carpeting in front and back. Console-mounted sport gearshift. But wait. Come get the rest of the surprises—in person.

Service facilities? Plenty. Liberally sprinkled with good manners. Come in and leisurely inspect Opel Kadett. No arm-twisting or hard sell. Opel Kadett stands on its own four wheels. So why don't you enjoy a demonstration drive in Buick's new Opel Kadett. There's one thing for sure. You'll look good doing it.

Cross state by horse

Elsie veterinarians, Dr and Mrs Richard P. Lannen and their youngest daughter, Dana, were among the 60 riders in the Michigan coast-to-coast trail ride sponsored by the Michigan Trail Riders' Ass'n, recently.

The new riding trail, a distance of over 200 miles was built by the U.S. Forest Service and the State Dept of Conservation. It extends from Empire and Elberta on Lake Michigan to East Tawas on Lake Huron.

The Lannens, for a unique vacation have participated the past three years but this was Dana's first trip of cross country riding. Trail riding has been growing in popularity each year. There are now two trails arranged, one for early summer and the other in the autumn.

THE RIDERS move about four miles per hour covering an average of 20-25 miles per day. The Elsie riders joined the group near Frederic to complete the trail across to Empire and Elberta so they have now ridden the entire trail across the state.

Mrs Lannen remarked that this was by far the hottest trip in the three years they have been riding the trail. Ninety degree temperatures prevailed throughout the five days of travel with 87 degrees reached on their last day through Grayling.

The entire trip required ten days but due to fatigue and the heat, there were some dropouts. Other riders joined at intervals so there were always around 60 riders on the trail. The Lannens rode the last 125 miles in five days.

AGE IS NO drawback, they said, as this year's party ranged from 11 to 77 years with people from all walks of life—doctors, lawyers, mechanics, farmers and salesmen. One woman rider from West Chicago in her 60s had not missed a trip. Riders also came from all parts of Michigan and Ohio.

Most riders had their own horses as did the Lannens but there were some who rented them from outfitters along the way. Dr Lannen had converted a small house trailer into a horse trailer with storage at the front end while the three horses stood side by side at the rear.

Mrs Lannen said that every type of conveyance, trucks with tent equipment, campers, station wagons and various house and horse trailers in the convoy would be moved early in the morning to that night's camp site. A truck would then return all the drivers to their homes for the day's riding to the camp and their vehicles.

THEY CARRIED sack lunches and sometimes cooked other meals over charcoal at the campsite where they used their campers for overnight accommodations.

A chuck-wagon with a couple in charge was available for those who did not wish to prepare their own meals.

The Lannens said this was their most exciting trip they had taken as the intense heat downed many horses because of lameness and loss of salt through sweating. On their third day out, Dr Lannen treated 20 horses with salt tablets.

ONE OF THE riders also had a close call when he broke out with bites. He was treated by a doctor rider and rushed to the hospital where a bee sting was found on his neck. This was the first the patient knew that he was allergic to bee stings. In a couple of hours, it would have been too late to save him.

They camped two days on the Au Sable and often rode the river, crossing on horseback. Campfires at night with music and singing were an enjoyable part of the trail riding as well as swimming in the rivers.

AT THE CLOSE of the last day most of them rode their mounts—saddle, clothes, boots and all—into the water with much rejoicing.

Dana and other young riders stopped off at Animal Land and it was there that she saw signs of exhaustion in her 27-year-old horse so it was considered advisable to rent another for the remainder of the trip.

Dr Lannen, who is on the Board of Directors of the Michigan Trail Riders Ass'n, stated that plans are being made to improve trails and campsites. Other groups use the trails for hiking, such as Boy and Girl Scout organizations, riding clubs, dude ranches and 4-H clubs.

ELSIÉ—Mrs Ward Lewis was hostess for the Methodist WSCS picnic Wednesday afternoon. A potluck dinner was served at noon on the patio with husbands as guests. Mrs Woodrow Bashore assisted the hostess.

Mrs Emerson Dunham presided for the meeting when it was voted to give $25 to each of the three young people who will soon leave on the Christian Teens Abroad program. They are Pamela Loznak, Kathryn, Melvin and David Showers.

The program lesson was presented by Mrs Bashore, Mrs Dunham and Mrs Alton Pizzelli. It portrayed the story of a young mother with the many demands that are made upon her and the faith she must have to carry on. The regular monthly meetings will be resumed in September.

Pastime for the men was shuffleboard while the ladies held their meeting.

Mrs Duane Green is convalescing from major surgery at the Clinton Memorial Hospital in St. Johns.

The engagement of Miss Hazel J. Thomas to Glen Rogers of Brant is announced by her mother, Mrs Eva L. Thomas of rural St. Johns. The Thomas family were former residents of Elsie.

MRS PEARL HASKINS

With Peace Corps in India

HI, Hawaii 6-7-66

Dear friends:

It is beautiful here and the people are so very kind and generous. It was like late spring when we came in mid-March, now like mid-summer—not so hot at noon and cool nights.

We have come up to the last week of Peace Corps training. It has been inspiring and frustrating, in a wonderful group but on your own, comfortable housing but no frills, wonderful food and a tight schedule.

We are an experimental group, largely self-planning, motivating and scheduling. There are over 100 of us, when we go 400 are coming to train for Korea, Philippines, Thailand, Malaya and Micronesia.

We are planning a barbecue on the beach (using the chickens we have raised) for about 400 for June 16. Then we go to Honolulu for 7 days, leave at Waikiki. Then to New Delhi with 1 1/2 hour stops for shopping in the airports of Tokyo, Hong Kong and Bangkok.

AFTER THREE days orientation we will be assigned our posts. Then we will have permanent addresses and meet the folks with whom we are to work. I go to the state of Orissa in India. There we will have four more weeks of intensive language study and local orientation.

Two people are usually stationed together. I will most likely be working in a training school, teaching nutrition, gardening, poultry rearing, child care, sanitation, etc., to groups of women who will go out to the villages to do community development work. They say that I will go out with the women. We work with, not for the Indian officials and always under their supervision.

Sincerely, PEARL HASKINS

THIS LETTER was received by Ovid Correspondent Mrs Aphra Pixley.

Mrs Haskins is 71, grew up in Ovid, is a 1911 graduate of Ovid High School and is a retired school teacher.

David Bates' summer address is Borgardet, Svardsjo, Sweden. He and his Swedish brother Chris Wallfelt, have returned to Svardsjo after a 10-day trip to the Swedish mountains, (a 2 day train trip from Svardsjo), where they were guests of Chris' grandmother there. David writes that Mid-summer Day was celebrated last month in Sweden with interesting ceremonies to mark the longest day of the year. He and his family will visit Stockholm for four days later this month.

Mr and Mrs Juan Mindiola (Helen Nethaway) of Caracas are the parents of a son, Juan Carlos, born June 21.

Mr and Mrs Robert Hartwick and family of Church Falls, Va., are spending two weeks with Grover Nethaway and other relatives here.

Mrs Zeeb replaces former board President Herbert Hardtke, who left the board in June. Earl Coryell was elected secretary of the board for the sixth straight year. Elected as treasurer was Dr Maurice Becker, who replaces Mrs Zeeb in that position.

DELLA DAVIS

CAROLYN ROSIER

MARK SIMON

JAMES WESSLER

It's off to Washington, D.C. for four Clinton County 4-H members. The lucky winners are Della Davis, Carolyn Rosier, Mark Simon, and James Wessler.

The Clinton County delegation will be taking part in the annual 4-H Citizenship Shortcourse, conducted each year by the National 4-H Club Foundation in cooperation with the Michigan 4-H Club Department. The dates are July 16 to 23.

ACTIVE CITIZENSHIP will be the core of the course work. There will be other county 4-H delegations from Michigan as well as 4-H groups from other states in attendance. Adult chaperones as well as 4-H Extension agents will be on hand to help with the training.

Seeing the sights around Washington will be part of the 4-H Citizenship program. Lots of recreation is also provided at this time. The group will be housed at the National 4-H Club Center. The trip is sponsored by the Clinton County Council and the 4-H Club office in St. Johns.

The 4-H Horse Project is one of the many projects that Clinton County 4-H Club members carry. It provides, as do all of the 4-H projects, some work experiences as well as recreation. Horse club members are asked to keep records of food consumption of their horses and to train them for shows.

IN OUR 4-H livestock projects, boys and girls learn how to feed their animals and therefore learn many of the aspects of nutrition. When you put record keeping, work and recreation, along with pride of ownership you have a combination for citizenship that is hard to beat.

Our 4-H club softball leaders have been providing some excellent recreation activity this summer for 4-H members. The softball teams are under the direction of volunteer leaders.

Linda Johnson and Allen Sibley of DeWitt are the lucky winners of the annual State 4-H Conservation Camp trip to the Upper Peninsula. They will travel by bus with other 4-H trip winners to Camp Shaw, located at Chatham, Mich. The trip is sponsored each year by the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and the Federal Cart-ridge Co. The dates are July 18 to 23. The group will study the conservation aspects of land, water, fish, game, forests, and minerals.

City rec plans 1st teen dance

The first in a series of teen dances will be held from 8-10:30 p.m. Friday in the pavilion at the St. Johns city park. In case of rain, the dance will be cancelled.

Admission is free. These dances are sponsored by the St. Johns recreation department.

Chaperones are provided by playground personnel: John Salemi, Shirley Ashenfelter, George Spicer, Duane Downing, Tom Harper, Don Hungerford and Diane Evitts.

To hear an ancient anecdote told by an old man who insists on recalling precise names and places is agonizing.

BEER - A big boost to the economy!

The brewing industry each year contributes over 1.4 billion dollars in federal, state and local excise taxes. Wages and salaries in the brewing industry account for almost 500 million dollars, and the purchase of packaging materials from other industries runs over 550 million. So next time you enjoy a cool, refreshing brew after hard work or play, remember - BEER is good in more ways than one!

Union services for 2 churches start Sunday

Sunday, July 17, will mark the beginning of this year's series of summer union services involving members and friends of First Methodist Church and First Congregational Church of St. Johns. The first four services, July 17, 24, 31 and Aug. 7, will be held at the Methodist Church with the Rev. Gerald Churchill of the Congregational Church officiating. "Sustaining Power" will be the subject of Rev. Mr. Churchill's sermon this Sunday. Beginning Aug. 14 and continuing through Sept. 4, the two congregations will worship together at the Congregational Church. The Rev. Keith Bovee, minister of the Methodist Church, will conduct the last four services. These union services are a long-standing tradition in the community.

That's what my parents said when I asked if I could go to Eddie's Sunday School. You see, there are lots of churches in town. And my parents haven't decided which one we ought to attend. These are important decisions. They take time! But that doesn't make Sunday mornings much fun. With all my friends at church, there's nobody to play with except that bully up the street. And Dad and Mother say I shouldn't play with him. That's funny! How come parents can decide what kind of boys we should play with, but they can't decide what church we should attend? Seems to me that going to church next Sunday might help us all decide.

Summertime—and still the kids are in school

St. Johns' summer programs keep them busy

Sixty-four pre-kindergarten students are in their third week of Head Start at Swegles Street Elementary School. The Head Start program is the second for the St. Johns Schools. The program began June 27 and will close Aug. 5. The children attend classes half days for five days a week.

The activities are geared to getting children acquainted with school routine so the child will be ready to start school in September. Several field trips will be taken during the summer. The first long trip will be to Potter's Park in Lansing July 12. Mrs. Ethel Huot is the director for the entire Clinton County program. Teachers for Head Start are Mrs. Vera Bryant, Mrs. Henrietta Longenecker, Mrs. Claribel Meyers, and Miss Jane Schumaker. Teacher aides for the program are Miss Ann Stone, Miss Marsha Mizga, Miss Diana Waltz, Miss Bonnie Stockwell, Miss Elyse Krebel, Miss Lois Dodway, Mrs. Donald Harper, and Mrs. Donald Davis. Mrs. Kenneth Williams is the cook for the program.

Summer typing course

The six-week summer typing course is now in session. During this time the students learn the basic techniques and procedures to aid them in becoming skilled typists. They cover all the keys on the typewriter keyboard and learn some of the rules for typing themes and letters.

This year 26 students are enrolled in the course. They range from a student going into the seventh grade to a college-graduated grandmother.

THE STUDENTS GIVE various reasons for taking the course, but behind each personal reason the majority of younger students want to know how to type to improve grades and help in speed of doing school work. The adult students seem to be fulfilling a desire to master this skill and be able to use it in personal work.

The class this summer seems to have a great enthusiasm to learn to type, and is therefore moving along rapidly. The students have already learned the keyboard and are presently working on stroking to improve speed and accuracy. Mrs. Jerry Ann Beaufore is teaching the course.

Reading program

Ninety-six youngsters are attending Perrin-Palmer School this summer to improve their reading. The students attend one-hour sessions five days a week. The program began June 21 and will end July 29.

Mrs. Ella Mae Beck is the director of the program. The teachers are, Mrs. Beverly Baker, Mrs. Bernice Urie, Mrs. Pat Munger, and Mrs. Jane Knight. Miss Debbie Meyer is serving as teacher aide.

Mrs. Beck said students have attended exceptionally well, and interest has been very high. Many students have increased their reading comprehension and speed.

Elementary library opens its doors

Elementary students have the opportunity to check out school library books this summer. Miss Carolyn Nickel said the majority of students using the library to date are enrolled in the reading program. But she said more outside the program have taken advantage of the opportunity in the last few days. Some 541 books have been checked out as of Thursday, July 7.

Summer instrumental music program

Band Director Walter Cole has announced that the instrumental music students in the St. Johns school will begin meeting July 11. Classes will be in session Monday through Thursday. The program will end with a final meeting at Camp Hiawatha. All other classes will be held in the high school music room.

Summer driver Ed program

Some 285 students will be driving area streets and highways this summer in order to meet the requirement for a drivers license.

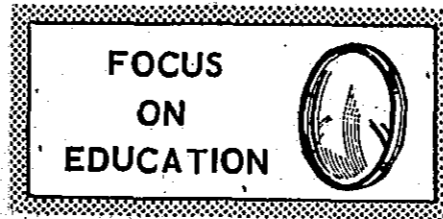

The program is divided into three sessions each of three weeks. Ninety-five students are enrolled in each session. The first session, which has completed, ran from June 13 to July 1. The second session started July 5 and will end July 23. The last session will run from July 25 to Aug. 12. Students enrolled in the last session are the younger students who are not yet 16.

Albert LeLever is director of the program. Instructors are: Gary Kingsley, Dale Knight, Bill Brown, Jim Barger, Bill Swears and Bill Smiley.

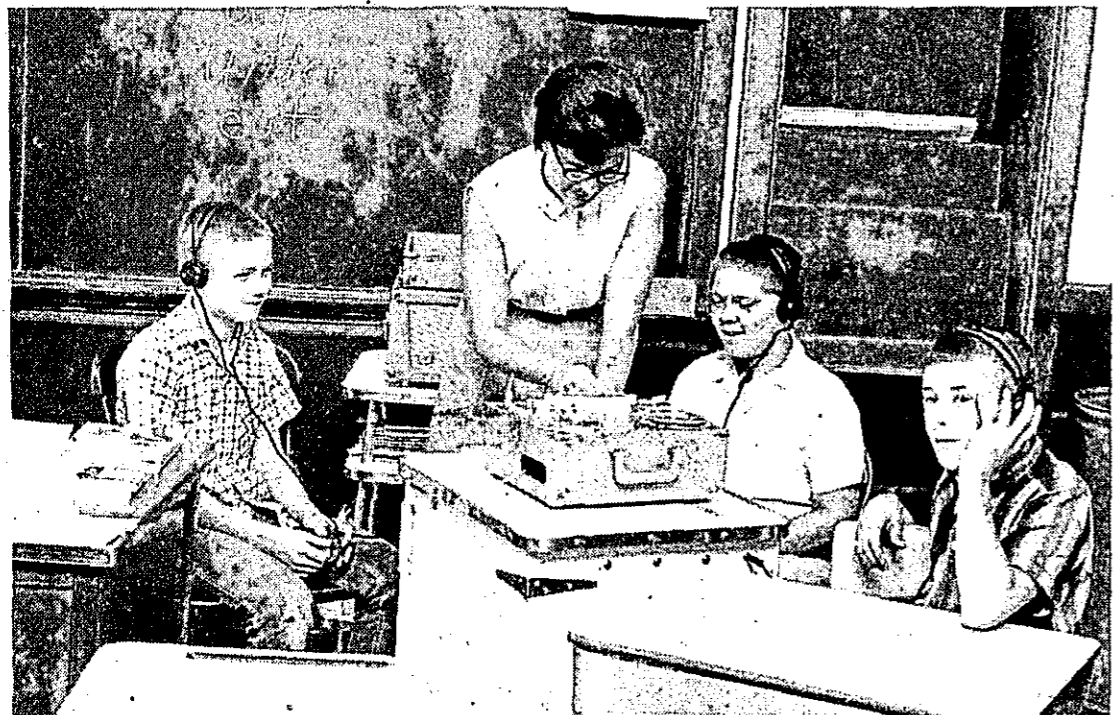

Minimum standards set for hospitals

The requirements for hospitals to qualify for benefits under the medicare health insurance for the aged program have been incorporated by reference into Michigan's "Rules and Minimum Standards For Hospitals."

State Health Director Albert E. Héustis announced today that the adoption of the "Conditions of Participation" into the Michigan code would help to insure a single standard for state hospitals in complying with federal and state regulations.

The Head Start classes give youngsters an opportunity to see what kindergarten will be like in the fall. The time of creative play is important in building up confidence and a good self-image of the young child, teachers say. Aide Bonnie Stockwell is helping Esther Alcaez here with developing manipulative activities.

Mrs. Jane Knight adjusts a tape recorder for these boys making use of electronics in the summer reading program. The boys are Walter Keiffer (left), Bob Wisner and Robert Ailles.

These children in the summer reading program are playing a game of "Consonant Lotto" to learn the initial consonants and blenders. The teacher is Mrs. Bernice Urie. The children are, clockwise around the table from Mrs. Urie; Mike Jorae, Dean Mueller, Linda Gilbert, Suanne Ritter, Debra Griffin and Rosemarie San Miguel.

Mrs. Jerry Beaufore, at back of room, instructs the summer typing course at the high school. Students range from junior high age to adults. This year 26 students are enrolled in the course.

Youngsters in the Head Start classes get a "head start" each morning with a breakfast of milk, toast and meat. This program is at Swegles Street School.

Miss Carolyn Nickel leafs through a book seeking information to help youngsters in the library at Perrin-Palmer School. Most of them are attending the reading program classes, but others in the school system also use the library.

Duplain

By Mrs. James Burnham

Mrs. Dennis Flegel honored at shower

DUPLAIN—Mrs. Dennis Flegel was guest of honor at a baby shower on Tuesday evening when the Women's Fellowship of the Duplain Church of Christ met with Mrs. Stanley Bunce on Lowe Road.

Following the business meeting, devotions were given by Mrs. Duane Bunce and the program on "Salome, The Ambitious Mother," was given by Mrs. Keith Kimball. Mrs. James Burnham read a poem, "How Much Do Babies Cost?" by Edgar A. Guest. Each guest then received a sheet with a baby picture on it and wrote a poem about the picture and a book of original poems was thus prepared for Mrs. Flegel. This turned out to be very entertaining. Mrs. Flegel then opened her many gifts before refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. James Burnham and family attended an open house at Midland on Sunday honoring their niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Cormier, who were married April 16 at Fort Benning, Ga. Mr. and Mrs. Cormier will make their home in Billings, Mont., following their visit with her folks, Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Anderson, in Midland. Mr. Cormier was discharged from the United States Army on July 5, 1966.

The United States has the most roadway of any nation in the world—3,078,040 miles. Two thirds of the mileage is unpaved.

Last meeting of Rebekahs 'til fall

PARK LAKE — Sunbeam Rebekah Lodge held their regular and last meeting for the summer Thursday evening with Vice Grand Elaine Barnard acting for Noble Grand Maxine Wilkens who is on vacation in Northern Michigan. Business conducted: Memorial Proclamation; books audited for the first 6 months; per capita tax paid on 41 members; proclamation for home medical facility. The members voted to send a donation instead of planning a program for this purpose during summer vacation.

Members reported ill were, Ada Belle McGonigal; Doris Pettinger's husband, Pete; Myrtle Hart's mother, Mrs Maude Pope had been taken to hospital and had treatment on her back and returned home. Joan Olger is better after two weeks at home and is returning to work Monday.

Mrs William (Connie) Sedell of Webster road underwent surgery at Lansing General Hospital last week. Her room number is 100.

Catherine Fulmerhouser of Reed City, and Mr and Mrs Forrest Bass were callers at Mr and Mrs Otis Bass of Marywood Street, Lansing Friday evening to observe Mrs Otis (Ruby) Bass' birthday. Cards were played and pictures were shown from their 25th wedding anniversary celebration.

Mrs William (Connie) Sedell

'American Cousin' opens summer run

"Our American Cousin," the third play in the repertory collection of the American Drama Festival at Greenfield Village, opens its summer run Monday. Curtain time for this century-old classic is 8:30 p.m.

A favorite of Abraham Lincoln, it was while watching a performance of this eccentric comedy that he was assassinated by John Wilkes Booth. The play, by Tom Taylor, was first performed in New York in 1858.

Two other early American plays alternate with "Our American Cousin," Percy Mackaye's comic fantasy, "The Scarecrow," and Bronson Howard's colorful and exciting "Shenandoah."

The American Drama Festival is one of the regular educational programs sponsored by the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village. Tickets for the Drama Festival are $1. For information on the schedule of performances, write American Drama Festival, Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, Mich.

Pvt. Taylor guarding border between North, South Korea

(Editor's Note: Pvt Trent Taylor, son of Mr and Mrs Landon Taylor of 6252 W. Walker Road, St. Johns, has undergone basic combat training for what he has figured would be duty in Viet Nam. He is now in Korea, and indications are he'll be there for some time. This is his fourth report to Clinton County News readers on his experiences as a soldier.)

Our man at war!

By PVT TRENT TAYLOR Now in Korea

I left Fort Benning, Ga., at 1:30 p.m. for Fort Lewis, Wash. This is where myself and five other men got our port call. We got to Fort Lewis about 10 p.m. that night. The next three days were mostly taken up by processing out of the United States. We had to take three more shots and one blood test. Then we had to fill out forms to get our tickets to come over.

We left Fort Lewis on Friday, June 3, and arrived here on the 4th. We landed about 6:30 p.m. Korean time. The reason for the change of time was because we went over the international date line and lost a day.

Kempo is their national airport. This is where 75 per cent of our men arrive at and depart from. After arriving at Kempo we had to take all our money (greenbacks) and change into military payment certificates. This MPC looks like funny money you get when you're in a play.

THE ONLY TYPE of American money that you can have is the penny. Any other type of money these people will put on the black market. They can get between 500 to 600 yon for $1 U. S. money. Five hundred to 600 yon is about $2 to $2.50 in their money. It takes 271 yon to equal one of our dollars.

After leaving Kempo they put us on buses and took us to Ascom. It is where the 177 Rep. Company is located. We arrived there about 8:30 and drew our bedding.

After we finished we were free till 12. That is a nationwide curfew for everyone. The only people out after that are your armed guards and MPs. If you are caught out after that you are apt to be courtmarshaled.

The next day we all went over to the C. P. (commanding post) for an orientation on Korea. In this orientation we learned more about Korea than you could imagine — not quantity but the pure facts of the Korean people.

AFTER THIS we waited for a day to find out what unit we would be assigned to. I got my call for the 2nd Inf. Division. That afternoon we left for Camp Ross. It is a compound 20 miles south of the Imjun River and about 18 miles north of Seoul.

After arriving there we got all situated in our barracks. Then we had to process into Korea. Then the big shot came. It was for hepatitis (the liver disease). The shot was given to the buttocks because of the quantity and for soreness. It was enough to lay you up if you didn't keep walking around.

Then we found out what unit we were going into. I ended up in the 4th Squadron 7th Cavalry. This cavalry unit is a very famous unit. This was the cavalry that Col. Custer led in the Battle of the Little Big Horn where he lost his life. This unit also has a big background for the wars it has played a great part in. It was this unit that helped the settlers against the Indians back in the 1800's; it also fought in the Cuban war and World War I and II. It also played a major role here in the Korean conflict back in the early 1950's. Now it is one of the permanent units here in Korea.

I ARRIVED UP here to the 4/7 Cav. and was assigned to A Troop. It just is wonderful how everyone gets along in a unit. Sure you have your trouble once in awhile between troops, but it is no big thing. Everyone is trying to help everyone else. Also in our troop we have Katusas. They are soldiers from the Army of Republic of Korea. They are Koreans who pull their time in the service like we do. But everyone gets along just fine.

I have been assigned to the scouts section. This is your group of men who go out away from the main force to locate the enemy and their position. It is a dangerous job because you are enclosed in an armored truck, but it only weighs 7,500 pounds. The armor on the sides is only 3/4 to 1 inch thick and

.50 caliber can penetrate that pretty easy.

They have me driving one of these trucks. It has three people in it. It's the driver, the TC (track commander) and a rear gunner and observer.

WE ARE ARMED with one .50 caliber machine gun, one .30 caliber machine gun and one M-60 (7.62 mm) machine gun, plus 23 hand grenades and one M-79 grenade launcher with 48 40mm grenades. We also have 3 M-72 rocket launchers which can knock out another tank. Plus we have close to 4,000 rounds of ammo for our machine guns! We are armed very well.

Our compound is located 38 miles north of Seoul and 3 1/2 to four miles south of North Korea. Since there is no signed peace treaty from the Korean conflict we carry armed weapons on guard. We have to pull guard every night around our ammo dumps and around our barbed wire fences. In other words we have to be combat-ready all the time.

To make sure we are ready, we have inspections every week. But quarterly we have a C.M.I. inspection. This week it is where they check everything on our trucks to make sure we are ready.

ONE OF THE things you hear at night is the loud speakers in North Korea. They try to play music that makes you homesick. They also have a city you can see from the DMZ. They say this is where all the Americans live who have gone north to live. They keep saying this is how they treat all Americans who come north. But this is just a way to get you north.

Another very interesting thing about the D.M.Z. is that no one is allowed north of the Imjun River. What makes it so interesting is that it is a hunter's heaven. The game up there is out of this world. It is nothing to see between 50 to 200 deer a day. Also they have ducks, pheasants and wild boar.

I was told before the 4/7 Cav. moved down from the D.M.Z. two months ago they would carry rocket guns and the M-14 and when they were hungry they would just shoot a bird and cook it.

BUT IT STILL is a job to keep Joe from trying to get through the D.M.Z. to come south to try to get reports on our strength and power. There is also the problem of civilians trying to get south.

Next week we start cozy patrols where we go to the edge of the Imjun River to stop any type of personnel trying to get through. The reason for these patrols is the monsoon season starts this week. We already had a taste of it. Two nights we had 4 1/2 inches of water in six hours. And I was on guard that night.

You have to watch whom you talk to over here, because these people are so poor they sell information to the Reds on the size of our units and what we are doing, and so on. Really it is hard to trust anyone over here.

July 4 memories

By MRS AL RADEMACHER

ROCHESTER COLONY — As this correspondent watched the display of fireworks at the St. Johns Park July 4th, she was reminded of the 4th of July celebrations when home fireworks were legal.

Her father, the late John Vincent, built a "Shoot" (a piece of eaves-trough) mounted on a sturdy tripod, and from the back yard of their home in Muir, was in complete command of the shooting of roman candles, the fire-crackers and red devils that left a little girl awed by the spectacle.

MEMORIES NOT SO pleasant, were caused after home fireworks were outlawed and her older brother, with a tin can and press on lid, 10¢ worth of a powder with the odor of rotten eggs (was it carbide?) and a generous amount of saliva, could extend the 4th into several days of smell and noise.

We don't have to worry now about our young people losing an eye or finger in the handling of fireworks, but under proper management they make fond memories.

New milk law should streamline procedures

Michigan's new milk law, effective July 1, streamlines the farm-to-market procedure even though the average housewife won't notice a thing, according to Michigan Milk Producers Assn. General Manager Jack W. Barnes.

"A plentiful supply of highest quality milk has been available to Michigan consumers for so long that the new law probably won't change any buying habits," Barnes said. "But everybody ought to recognize that with supervision and enforcement of quality standards under one agency—the State Department of Agriculture—there is bound to be more efficiency from the farmer's standpoint."

MMPA, OTHER FARM groups and Michigan State University dairy experts helped get the new law passed by the 1965 Legislature.

Prior to July 1, there was a hodge-podge of standards and enforcement. Local health departments often took different approaches to quality even though the end result—fresh, wholesome milk for Michigan citizens—was the same.

"MMPA REPRESENTATIVES spent a great deal of time helping farmers make sure their milking equipment and procedures were right for the market where they sold their milk. With one set of state standards, there will be a lot less chance for confusion."

Under the new law, state inspectors will regularly visit farms to check on conditions. The state will issue all permits to sell milk; and only the state can revoke or suspend those permits.

The new law is based on the United States Public Health Service Milk Ordinance Code. Among other things, it eliminates duplicate inspections and enables farmers to sell their milk in any market in the state. Part of the state's cost of running the inspection-enforcement program is covered by a permit fee paid by the buyer of the farm milk.

ESTIMATES OF THE saving to local communities which can now eliminate inspection and enforcement programs are about half million dollars a year. The biggest inspection-enforcement program prior to the uniform law was operated by the City of Detroit.

"Probably the biggest single advantage of the new law from our standpoint is that when two members, no matter where they live in Michigan, have the same question about how to keep their milk quality high, they will get exactly the same answer," Barnes said.

"And the farmers won't have one inspector telling them one thing and another inspector saying something different."

Guernseys classified

The Registered Guernsey herd owned by Dale W. Anderson of St. Johns was recently classified for type by an official classifier for the American Guernsey Cattle Club. Of 31 cows classified, 14 were rated very good, 14 desirable and 3 acceptable. Seven daughters of Yellow Creek Noble Chief rated five very good, and two desirable; four daughters of Yellow Creek Jewel Supreme rated one very good, two desirable and one acceptable; three daughters of Langmeadow Master were rated very good.

State farm tour set for July 20 in Kent

Farmers from throughout Michigan will converge on Kent County July 20 to view one or more of four farms open to visitors during the State Farm Management Tour.

The four farms have widely different business enterprises and offer the progressive farmer opportunities to get new ideas, according to L. H. (Hi) Brown, Michigan State University agricultural economist. Brown is coordinating the tour along with Richard Reath, Kent County agricultural agent.

Several Michigan State University agricultural specialists and county extension agents will be at the different farms to help explain operations, says Brown. Farmers at each of the four farms will discuss their programs twice during the day: at 10 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. This will allow visitors to hear in detail about at least two of the farm operations.

AT NOON, ALL visitors will gather in Townsend Park, near Cannonsburg in east central Kent County, for a chicken barbecue and program. Dr. Sherwood O. Berg, dean of agriculture at the University of Minnesota, will speak on "Paradoxes of Agriculture."

The four farms open to visitors are:

--The beef and fruit production farm of George and Gerald Kober at 7816 Peach Ridge N.W., Sparta, with 300 acres of fruit and 150 head of Holstein steers on feed. Air and ground spraying of orchards will be demonstrated.

--The corn and egg producing unit of Kitson Farms, Inc., a family corporation, at 9547 Belding Road, Rockford. This farm has 1,000 acres in corn, but that's still not enough for the fully automated 60,000 capacity laying facility.

--THE SPECIALIZED potato farm of Wesley Hessler, 11 Mile Road near Young Avenue, Rockford. Irrigation will be demonstrated and costs will be detailed. Hessler's marketing program through a local supermarket group will also be discussed.

--The dairy farm of Irvin Rodgers, 10581 76th Street, Alto, which has expanded from 18 dairy calves and 107 acres in 1950 to 150 animals and 327 acres today. Balanced, steady expansion through good management has allowed improvements and building of a 72-cow milking herd.

County Agent Reath has issued a special invitation to city people to visit one or more of the farms to see what modern farmers are doing to bring quality food to consumers at a minimum cost.

This particular plant was given to the Langdons by Dr. and Mrs. O.P. Geib, when they moved to Gaylord. They divided the large specimen they had in their backyard, and took part to their new home.

Family gatherings were held Saturday and Sunday at the Dick and Beverly Langdon farmhome, the Keith Langdons of Grosse Ile were on hand for swimming, fishing and picnicking.

Dairy price support increased

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has announced an increase in dairy price support, according to Frank Light, chairman of the Michigan ASC State Committee.

The price supports for manufacturing milk were raised to $4 a hundredweight, an increase of 50 cents. The action also set minimum basic formula price for determining producer prices on drinking, or fluid milk at $4.35 per cent butterfat. Similar actions will be taken in markets where minimum fluid milk prices to producers are figured on a different basis. The price support increase will be effective through March 1967.

THE SECRETARY reported the action was being taken to insure consumers adequate supplies of milk and dairy products in the months ahead and to provide dairy farmers with an opportunity to share more equally in the general prosperity most Americans enjoy today.

Milk production in May was 4.1 per cent below a year ago. This was the 14th consecutive month that milk products fell below year-earlier levels.

THE HIGH RATE of culling in dairy herds prior to the first of this year has brought the number of milk cows to the lowest level since 1900. The increase price supports will encourage dairy farmers to continue in dairying, to slow up their culling of herds and to increase their feeding rate. It also will insure that the dairy farmer who has always been on the low end of the economic totem pole will receive a deserved increase in what he earns for his skill and labor.

'65 good year for hog farmers

Hog farmers in Michigan had the best year in 1965 they have had in nearly two decades. They enjoyed an average labor income of $10,405 based on records of 20 Michigan farmers in the Michigan State University Telfarm record program.

Al Tinsley, MSU agricultural economist, said the increase in hog prices accounted for most of the swine producer's increased income. This increase averaged $7,683.

TO MAKE THAT labor income, the average farmer invested $124,343 in land, buildings, equipment and other items. He earned 13 per cent on his investment, the records show.

Tel Farm swine producer co-operators sold an average of 625 hogs finished at a weight of 226 pounds for an average price of $22.13 a hundredweight. That compares with an average hundredweight price of $16.50 in 1964. Feed costs averaged $11.23 per hundredweight.

Livestock men in areas where weather cut crop yields did not fare as well as those along the southern border of the state where crops were near normal. These swine feeders needed to buy little corn to feed their pigs, like those in counties farther north in the state.

President endorses farm safety effort

The signing of a proclamation by President Lyndon B. Johnson designating July 24-30 as National Farm Safety Week lent emphasis to the 23rd annual rural safety campaign.

In signing the proclamation, President Johnson urged that all persons recognize and vigorously attack the hazards and unsafe practices that cause farm and rural accidents.

"I URGE ALL families who live on farms, and all persons and groups serving or allied with agriculture, to unite for safety, and apply full energy and determination to the vital task of reducing accidents at work, in homes, at recreation and on the roadways. Progress toward this goal should be the objective of National Farm Safety Week 1966," the President said.

National Farm Safety Week will focus attention on all farm hazards and place special emphasis on the prevention of highway accidents involving slow-moving farm vehicles. The campaign is co-sponsored annually by the National Safety Council and the United States Department of Agriculture.

RURAL communities throughout the United States are expected to participate in making the 1966 campaign the most effective to date.

"Today's increasing demand for farm products places worldwide attention and importance on America's farm population," said Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council. "Farm families and rural leaders must make a joint effort to eradicate hazards that could cause death, unnecessary suffering, and loss of time and money. We are proud to be a co-sponsor of this important campaign and assist in achieving the goals established by the President of the United States."

The 1964 breakdown of farm-resident accidents shows a total of 8,300 deaths and 760,000 disabling injuries. Of the deaths, 3,700 involved motor-vehicles, 1,900 were in the home, 2,500 were work accidents and 800 resulted from off-the-farm non-motor vehicle accidents, according to the National Safety Council. (The breakdown does not equal the total because some deaths included in other categories are also included in motor-vehicle.)

Demonstration Day July 27

Encouraging 4-H members to get up in front of groups and give a demonstration or illustrated talk is one of the objectives of the annual 4-H Demonstration Day scheduled in Clinton County for Wednesday, July 27.

The program will start at 9:30 a.m. in Smith Hall in St. Johns. Judges for the girls' demonstrations will be from Gratiot County. Alvin Root, area 4-H Club agent, will judge the agriculture presentations. Club member winners will have a chance to compete at the State 4-H Show as a result of the county competition.

For state show classifications, division I is for 4-H'ers aged 12-14 and division II for those aged 14-18. Younger members may give demonstrations at the county level, but will not be able to compete for state show.

Carbon dioxide can prevent mosquitoes from crashing your next patio party. Chunks of dry ice suspended around the patio give off heavier-than-air carbon dioxide gas which reportedly floats downward to form an invisible barrier containing less oxygen than the surrounding area. There's no danger to people, but the uninvited insects will have their party elsewhere.

FARM RESIDENT ACCIDENTS, 1964

	TOTAL	DEATHS	Deaths per 100,000 Farm Residents	DISABLING INJURIES
Motor-vehicle	3,700*	28.6	28.6	140,000
Home	1,900	14.7		290,000
Work	2,500*†	19.3		250,000
In farm work	2,300	17.8		220,000
In non-farm work off farm	200	1.5		30,000
Public non-motor-vehicle	800	6.2		100,000

*Motor-vehicle deaths and injuries in work activities are included in both the Motor-Vehicle and Work totals. The duplication amounted to about 600 deaths and 20,000 injuries in 1964.

†The total number of work deaths on farms was 2,500 of which 2,300 involved farm residents and 200 non-residents of farms. The respective injury totals were 270,000, 230,000 and 40,000.

Accidents which occur during the performance of ordinary household duties or light farm duties, commonly designated as chores, are classified as home accidents. Because of the impossibility of getting accurate exposure data for each classification, the rates are based on the total number of farm residents.

Death rates, farming vs other industries, 1964

The 8,200 accidental deaths in farm work are part of the total of 14,200 accidental deaths in all work.

ASC PROGRAM

July 15 is final date for feed grain certification

W. M. SMITH
County ASC Manager

I want to remind feed grain producers who are participating in the 1966 feed grain program and have not certified to their acreage, that this must be done by July 15. Producers must come to our office to report their acreage. Office hours are from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

There are about 200 producers in the county who have failed to certify to date. Producers who fail to certify by July 15 will automatically be cancelled out of the program unless failure to certify was beyond the producers control, such as being confined to the hospital. Any producer who is not sure about his certification can call our office and find out if his acreage has been reported. Our phone number is listed under United States Government.

A POSTCARD WAS mailed to all wheat growers who did not sign up in the 1966 wheat program asking for a report of their wheat acreage for 1966. Be sure to report your planted acreage; it will be used to establish your future wheat allotments. If you mislaid the card, you can send the information by letter of stop in at our office and make your report.

Now is the time to seed a winter cover crop in your corn and beans. The last cultivation makes a good seed bed and a seeding can be made at the same time. A postcard was mailed from our office recently listing the approved seeds and rate per acre. Producers interested in earning cost-share should contact our office and make request for cost-share before the seeding is made.

Warns against gypsy driveway paving racket

A warning to Michigan residents to "look out for a band of gypsies working an apparent driveway paving racket" was issued today by Walter Tervo, executive secretary of the Michigan Asphalt Paving Assoc. in Lansing.

The 26-member gypsy band, according to police investigation, has been touring several major Michigan cities saying they would "surface a driveway with a tar-based substance for a few dollars."

"The few amounts to whatever sum they can coerce the property owner into paying, and in some instances, it was reported that members of the band have threatened bodily harm when people refused to pay or threatened to call police," Tervo said.

THE GROUP HAS been using a paint compound similar in appearance to sealing compounds used by reputable paving firms, but lacking the proper chemical ingredients, according to reports.

"Actually, reputable paving firms would do a better job, just as quick, at a fraction of the cost extorted by the bunch working this racket," said the association secretary.

"The Michigan Asphalt Paving Assoc. urges people to deal only with reputable, established firms for this service. If they have any doubts, check first with their local police and their own Better Business Bureau or Chamber of Commerce," he stated.

High bid was $1.30; low bid accepted was $1.28. Anyone interested in bidding for corn must contact our office by 3:30 p.m. on Thursdays. We do not know how much longer we will be offering corn. Since the first of the year we have sold 119,300 bushels of corn from the binsites.

FARROW AND FEED 500 HOGS A YEAR

Hogs are a good business for Mr. Ralph Watts of rural Fowler, Michigan who feeds out 500 hogs a year on the Wayne Lifetime Hog Program. Sows are fed Wayne Erod Sow Supplement with oats and corn. Baby pigs are creep fed Wayne Tail Curler Rockets to get them off to a fast start, then changing them to Wayne Tail Curler Jr. Pellets. After weaning, the pigs are fed Wayne Medicated Pig Balancer 400 and grain for this stress period until pigs weigh 75 pounds, then changed over to Wayne Regular Pig Balancer and grain until 100 pounds, after which they are finished out on Wayne Hog Balancer and grain. Feeding out pigs farrowed on his farm eliminates many of the stresses caused by shipping in feeder pigs.

Welcome to St. Johns — the lost city

Welcome to St. Johns, the lost city before limited access.

This is how the travelers who drive north on US-27 are greeted by the billboard located 2 miles south of St. Johns.

This billboard was purchased and erected by the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce a few years ago.

This sign was erected originally to let the travelers heading north know that just ahead was the city of St. Johns, the last city before limited access.

They had to go through St. Johns, but from here on north they would be by-passing every town and city on the way.

From the report's we've heard lately, the responsibility of maintaining this sign has been shifted back and forth.

We checked it the other day with a local businessman and found that a couple of nails and a coat of paint would do wonders.

Its about time someone took the bull by the horns and did something about repairing this sign.

St. Johns may act like the lost city sometimes, but we do not think its something we should advertise.

CITY MANAGERS and school superintendents are often criticized for "leading" and "forcing" their councils and boards into certain decisions.

GUEST EDITORIAL ELECTED IN THEIR OWN RIGHT

The ability of five or seven elected officials, who previously had no direct contact with each other and who have differing views on many township problems, to meet together like intelligent human beings, resolve their differences and arrive at decisions of benefit to township development and progress is the real challenge of our democratic form of government.

WE HAVE LONG ADVOCATED an understanding by township officials of the direct responsibility which they have to the electors of the township.

What we are saying here is (in wholehearted agreement with Mr. Bauchkam's opinion) that the real challenge is the ability of persons elected independently to join together through intelligent understanding and honorable compromise to better serve the most important persons in their lives—the people who elected them, the electorate.

"Sometimes I Wish I Was a Beatnik"

RAMBLIN' with Rink

By LOWELL G. RINKER

The mower clattered to a stop at the end of a long sweep down the length of the back yard. I flicked a few drops of perspiration from my forehead toward the amber coloring on the bone-dry and -hard ground. I felt uneasy.

AS I TURNED to face the evening sun and begin another swath through the back yard grass I saw the culprit. Our dog, Button, was sitting rather dejectedly on the concrete patio next to the garage eyeing me rather disapprovingly.

I felt compelled to put the dog's mind at ease, so I set the mower aside, flopped on the ground and called the dog over. She seemed anxious to hear an explanation.

"YOU SEE, Button, Ann and I try to keep the grass trimmed and looking neat for a number of reasons," I began. "First of all, for yourself, the short stubs of grass make great back-scratchers when you feel like getting out here and rolling around. And if it was tall grass you couldn't have a good run around the yard without getting tangled up and getting lost in the high weeds.

The dog lowered herself gently into sitting position, still gazing intently into my eyes. I knew I had captured her attention.

"Besides," I continued, "keeping the grass trimmed has certain community values for us humans. If everyone let their grass get tall and go to weeds, they probably would let other aspects of their homes and lives go to weed, too. "The national morale would decline. Crime and corruption would become commonplace, and no one would care. The nation would go to pot. Businesses would not give a hang about their customers, and soon they would go out of business. And some of those businesses, Button, would be the dog food manufacturers."

I PAUSED to see if the dog was still with me. She was beginning to glance around, looking for something else to do. I decided to try the positive approach.

"If on the other hand I kept the yard mowed and looking halfway decent, others would do the same. And we would take some of the pride we created and use it in other phases of our lives.

"We'd work hard and be proud of our achievements. We would all work for quality in the things we do, and our family, community, state and nation would benefit from the effort. Business would flourish, not from the quantity of items sold but from the quality and the higher prices people were willing to pay. Even dog food would be better, because the manufacturers would care about their customer-eaters.

"AND BUTTON, this could be directly attributable to the fact that those people kept their lawns mowed; they CARED, cared to keep up with the Joneses, who kept up with the Smiths, who kept up with the Rinkers. So you see, this mowing tonight is not just time-wasting; it has national importance that could be keeping this nation together."

But I was talking to thin air. The dog was rapidly departing, her tail between her legs. It seems that some kinds of logic just goes over the heads of dogs.

By STEVE HOPKO

Last October when the U of M students had their sit-in protesting the Viet Nam war, ten were reclassified for their part in the demonstration.

Later in a campus rally to raise funds for their defense a Michigan Senator stated: "We must protest the stifling effect of reclassifications. The pressure on other students who now have deferments, to refrain from expressing their views BECAUSE OF FEAR of reclassification, is where the danger lies."

I GATHER FROM the senator's statement that to deter a wrong by instilling the fear of being punished is wrong. If this is true then maybe it is time we overhauled many of our present laws, both of our land and of our religious convictions.

As religious people we live within the laws of God (the Ten Commandments) for fear of eternal damnation. As citizens we live within the laws of the land for fear of the punishments the laws allow.

A MAN WHO might have an inclination to rob a bank because he is in financial trouble is usually deterred by the fact that if he does, the law says he will be sent to prison. He will usually resist this temptation because of fear.

Most of our laws are based on fear. We either do what is right by our laws or suffer the consequences; a fine, jail or the humiliation of doing wrong.

MOST OF US as children and our children today were and are being raised with some type of fear. Our children behave because they fear their parents authority, the authority to spank them or to take away some of their privileges.

As children we feared our parents authority to punish us if we wronged, but we respected their authority as much as we feared it, thus the fear was lessened.

MANY YEARS AGO as a civilian soldier I had to take a course in demolitions using the many types of explosives available. Our instructor began by telling us what would happen if we used it wrong. He told us to respect what we were using, not to fear it. As we progressed and learned to respect the explosives, our fears lessened.

I think that today too many of our people who have this fear for authority, fear it because they have no respect for it. This I feel is where so many people have missed the boat, they have lost their respect for authority.

WHEN WE RESPECT God, we do not fear him. When we respect the laws of our nation, we have no fear of them. Only those who have no respect have the right to be afraid, for they have nothing but fear.

Employees told buy U.S. bonds, or else

Rep. Ancher Nelsen (Minn.) "... I have been advised that the heads of many departments and agencies have denied that any pressure is being exerted on federal workers to get them to buy U. S. savings bonds. Last night's article in the Washington Star by Joseph Young may... enlighten them." (The condensed article follows):

Intense pressure on government employees to enroll in the government's 1966 savings bond campaign has brought protests to Postmaster Gen. Lawrence O'Brien from the major postal employee unions.

According to the unions, the National Association of Letter Carriers and the United Federation of Postal Clerks, here are some of the pressure tactics being used:

A TOP OFFICIAL of the Minneapolis postal region in a letter to postmasters ordering them to show a better record for their post offices said:

"Like the postmaster general, I am not interested in reasons why employees failed to sign up; I am interested only in results."

At Boise, Idaho, the postmaster in a notice to employees declared: "I expect results. If you have not returned your authorization card"—there the postmaster resorts to capital letters—"DO SO IMMEDIATELY."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Recalls courtesy, consideration in past

Congratulations on your fine editorial in the June 30 issue of the Clinton County News. APPARENTLY THE PERSONS IN CITY GOVERNMENT FORGET WHO PAYS THEIR SALARIES.

In the not too distant past and for as many years as I can remember the citizens of this community could go to the city offices for information, to register complaints, or to transact other business and were always treated with courtesy and consideration.

AT THIS TIME it might be well to consider the idea of amending the city charter to make the term of city commissioner TWO years instead of SIX. It seems too bad to have to put up with an unsatisfactory city commissioner for six years when we can get rid of the President of the United States in four. This is the age of electronics and computers, but there is still no substitute for kindness and courtesy.

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

The suggestion by one congressman that the position of postmaster be filled on the basis of civil service examinations, instead of being a political appointment, appears to have considerable merit.

The postmaster would then, very likely, know the difference between "selling" and "telling."

Pay hikes have affected most top state officials

BY ELMER E. WHITE
Michigan Press Assn.

Pay hikes for most state officials went almost unnoticed while the debate over a salary raise for legislators gathered attention.

From the governor on down to the thousands of state employees, nearly every level gained boosts either by action of the Legislature or the State Civil Service Commission.

Biggest hikes will go to the top officers. They begin next January. To the winners in the races for governor, secretary of state and attorney general will go $10,000 more than these officers now get annually. The new rates will set the governor's pay at $40,000 and the other two at $30,000.

JUDGES ON THE TWO highest courts, the supreme and appellate courts, will each get raises of $9,500. This sets the supreme court pay scale at $35,000 annually and the appeals court judges' salaries at $32,500.

Legislature-approved boosts for various state department heads were designed to meet Gov. Romney's plea to pay administrators more than their highest level employees get under civil service rates.

Civil service commissioners came through on July 1 with what has become an annual boost in recent years, but the rate span covers a slightly higher range than previously. Classified employees this year got hikes ranging from 4 to 14 per cent.

TRAFFIC SAFETY field workers, if they can be called that, hoped for a full package of legislation to get through this year. They were disappointed on several counts.

One part of the safety package which did get through will affect every licensed driver of the present, and hopefully improve future generations of motorists. The legislature imposed a $1 fee hike for obtaining and renewing driver licenses, setting the initial fee at $5.50 and the renewal rate at $4 every three years.

Additional revenue will go back to schools providing driver training to teenagers. The increase is expected to raise about $1.7 million annually.

PROponents OF THE hike had to fight hard for the increase, although they contended it should have sailed through without argument. Hunting and fishing licenses, they noted as examples, usually cost more than the privilege to drive, although the former expires in a year or less. Driver licenses are good for three years.

Since driver training is now compulsory for teenagers to obtain a license, more schools are offering the course. The state had indicated it would pay schools $30 for each student enrolled in driver training, but the funds coming in from license sales did not enable the state to fulfill this obligation.

Supporters of the increased license fees say the new funds will allow for the full payment, although more and more teenagers will be taking the training course in the coming years.

ADDITION OF regulatory agencies in state government occurs every year, but it isn't quite as noticeable any more. Last year it was noted that Michigan was spending money for 84 agencies which were not in existence 10 years before.

Up to 1965 many of the new units were created independent of existing departments or councils, although their functions were often inter-related.

Under the 1963 Constitution, however, each of the new groups is categorized under one of the 19 principal departments created through a major reorganization of state government. The change was dictated by the Constitution but just enacted last year and put into full effect in 1966.

WHEN reorganization took effect there were in existence more than 140 administrative agencies. These are still in operation, but the administrative chart of state government was made a little more readable by grouping them all into the 19 major units.

Thus, this year and in the future as new functions are added the major departments will number the same, barring a Constitutional change to increase the number.

Iowa has a higher percentage of residents age 65 and over than any other state, says the U. S. Census Bureau. As of July 1, 1964, more than 12 per cent of Iowa's population was 65 or over. Alaska has the smallest percentage of the aging, slightly more than 2 per cent.

New Deal

By W. E. DOBSON

Sing a song of working days,
Chores 'n tasks to do—
Tasks to test our fortitude,
'N test us for true blue.

Drink a toast to good hard work,
Burdens ours to lift,
Teach us values of our own—
Plus a sense of thrift.

Let us earn our daily bread
Divorced from federal dole,
Grant more of self-reliance,
In progress toward a goal.

Let us know the satisfaction,
Of achievement on our own,
May self-help find new attraction,
In a way we have not known.

Sing a song of new reform
When we may buck the trend,
Of handing Washington our dough,
To 'spend, and spend, and spend!

Nightingale of evergreens tells of glory, wonder of life

HAYDN PEARSON

One of year's poignant experiences is to listen to the hermit thrush sing its requiem to day from among the evergreens on the lower slopes of a mountain-side. It is an appealing bird with brown tail and rump and olive head and shoulders. It has large, bright, beady eyes and distinctive stripes and dots on its breast. The wood thrush is often confused with the hermit; the former's breast is more distinctly marked than the breast of the hermit.

But when it comes to music, the hermit is the prima donna of all native birds. The charm and sweetness of the song has been the inspiration of poets and writers. F. Schuyler Mathews says its song is the "grand climax of all kinds of bird music." Burroughs penned a memorable tribute, "I pause reverently as the hush and stillness of twilight comes upon the woods. It is the sweetest, ripest hour of day. And as the hermit's evening hymn goes up from the deep solitude, I experience that serene exaltation of sentiment of which music, literature and religion are but the faint types and symbols."

or in low bushes with three to five greenish-brown eggs. Across the north from Quebec to northern Michigan and south to the mountains of Virginia, the birds pour forth their music. The male sings from time to time during the day, but it is the evening when dusk is deepening that the exquisite music strikes a chord in the human heart. On a mountainside among the spruces, hemlocks and firs is a favorite place. The hermit is the nightingale of the evergreens. Its song tells of the wonder and glory of life. As darkness thickens and peace rests like a benediction over the countryside, the requiem to day is a prayer of thanksgiving for the beauty and order of Nature.

NOW THE HERMITS are nesting. The nest is on the ground

THE DETECTIVE by Roger Thorp is a recent selection of the Literary Guild. Written by a man who gave up detective work to become a novelist, this book has an authentic flavor. It is a mystery, but it is much more than the ordinary, run-of-the-mill who-did-it.

The story deals with a man who is—yes, you've guessed it—a detective. He is also a war hero and a husband who is estranged from his wife. By helping to solve the problems of one of his clients, he is led to a way of re-establishing his marriage.

Thorp says the book "wrote itself," which is another way of saying that he is a very facile writer.

ANOTHER RECENT selection of the Literary Guild is a biography of Nikita Khrushchev. Its author, Edward Crankshaw, has an intimate knowledge of Russian affairs, dating back to 1941, when he arrived in Moscow as an officer with the British Military Mission. After the war he revisited Russia frequently over a period of many years, as a correspondent for the London Observer.

Orankshaw has been a prolific writer, having published three novels, several translations from the Russian into English and vice versa, as well as numerous magazine articles and several English works of non-fiction. Living at present in Kent, England, Crankshaw is working on a biography of the Austro-Hungarian queen, Maria Theresa.

HIS TREATMENT of the Russian Premier, Khrushchev, is a very human one, but none the less frank and revealing. KHRUSHCHEV is an important book about a man who was important, until he suddenly faded out of sight.

ON TARGET

with the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce
By BETTY MINSKY
Secretary-Manager

Two words that are frequently heard in the Chamber of Commerce field are "leadership" and "cities."

And, with good reason. For, the main concern of the Chamber of Commerce is to build a better "city." And, to do that requires "leadership."

Much can, and is, being said these days about "leadership" and "cities." But, every so often you hear or read something that stands out from everything else.

And this, I felt, was the case recently when Robert Gerholz, a past president of the United States C of C, spoke on "Effective Chamber of Commerce Leadership in Community Development."

Today I would like to pass on a few of the highlights of his speech because they so vividly detail the role of the Chamber of Commerce in the community.

"ONE OF AMERICA'S favorite pastimes is the discussion of the problems of cities . . . the problems of urban areas . . . social problems . . . under-education . . . under-employment . . . the frustrated aspirations of minority groups . . . problems of governmental organization . . . inadequate parking . . . traffic congestion . . . obsolete and vacant buildings . . . obsolete land use patterns."

"But, our purpose is to move quickly past the details which define the problems and to concentrate our energies on how to solve the problems."

"Who is to provide the leadership?"

"Certainly our political leaders at the local and state level must be responsible for governmental action which expedites community growth and change. They must truly provide framework for community development."

"BUT, THE MAJOR responsibility for community development is not the responsibility of political leaders. The majority of interests in almost all communities are private interests—mostly economic interests—because, even in this great nation, most people must earn a living by creative contribution to the welfare of others."

"BUSINESS MEN AND WOMEN MUST BE THE PRINCIPAL COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT PROBLEM SOLVERS. Most of the activities of any community are economic activities. Economic activities are largely stimulated and managed by businessmen."

"Certainly it is true that the men and women in business management in almost all communities have many fundamental and common interests. It also is true that the leaders of communities, in order to lead effectively, must have a perspective of all the problems and their interrelationships. It is true too, that the business community must provide the majority of the leadership for problem solving. I believe it logically follows that the business community must have a center for leadership. And, I propose that the local Chamber of Commerce be the center for that leadership. It should be. That's the theory of the whole Chamber of Commerce movement."

"A CHAMBER OF Commerce is the central organization for business community leadership."

"THERE IS A NEED THAT CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE SHOULD EXPAND THEIR PROGRAMS OF WORK TO ENCOMPASS ALL COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT PROBLEMS."

"Problem solving is a prerequisite to the healthy growth of almost all communities. The era in which Chambers of Commerce can ride on the natural economic advantages of their communities is ending. It is no longer adequate for a Chamber of Commerce to boast of the community's resources and amenities and wait for growing industries to discover it. It is no longer an appropriate role for a Chamber of Commerce to concentrate most of its energies on a single activity such as industrial development or retail promotions.

"The emphasis must be on problems of solving in all areas of community development—industrial, commercial, housing, transportation, community facilities and urban renewal activities. Therefore, overall community development—blended community development, total community development—must become the priority program of work of Chambers of Commerce."

"Business leaders must acknowledge the reality of this need—expand Chamber of Commerce action on all areas of community development."

"LOCAL CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE SHOULD COMMUNICATE WITH, AND SERVE AS A CATALYST TO ALL RESPONSIBLE VOLUNTARY COMMUNITY ORGANIZATIONS."

"What must be obvious to all of us is that no one organization, including the Chamber of Commerce and local government, has all the resources needed to resolve all high priority community development problems by itself. Some problems are so complicated, so inter-related with other problems, so controversial, that their solutions require the understanding and support of the people of many community organizations."

"CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE SHOULD HELP POLITICAL LEADERS MODERNIZE LOCAL AND STATE GOVERNMENTS."

"The forces of change probably first exert their pressures against economic mechanisms, because almost all people, as customers, make individual economic choices and business firms grow or shrivel according to the forces of the market."

"GOVERNMENTAL mechanisms are less flexible. Decisions establishing governmental structures last for decades or centuries. Increasingly, there is a need to modernize the structures of local and state governments so as to make local governments fully capable of dealing effectively with community development problems which require the action of government."

"NOW—WHO WILL BE THE COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT PROBLEM SOLVERS?"

"Businessmen have the choice of accepting the responsibility for leadership in the development of their communities, or of standing aside and becoming secondary participants in the decisions which will affect their communities and their businesses."

"I believe that businessmen must accept the alternative of a vigorous leadership role by the business community through effective Chambers of Commerce."

The U. S. Geological Survey says most of the world's stock of fresh water, 2 million cubic miles, is inside the earth. Half of this huge supply is believed to be within a half-mile of the surface and reasonably accessible.

The largest lake in the world, according to the National Geographic Society, is the Caspian Sea, which has an area of 143,550 square miles.
