Park Lake furor continues

By LAURIE KIPP
County News Writer

BATH - A crowd of approximately 80 persons crammed the township hall's meeting room Monday night, and presented supervisor Roy VanSickle and the township board with petitions calling for a public apology and withdrawal of VanSickle's recent statement that Park Lake is unfit for swimming. The petitions, recently circulated throughout the Bath Twp area, also accused VanSickle of showing "poor competence and judgement" in issuing his statement to the press, and requested the township board ask for his resignation if an apology is not made. Amid mumbling from the crowd, VanSickle reiterated his earlier statement that, "I believed what I said over a month ago to be true and necessary" and added that, "I regret that the State Journal handled the statement in a poor and tasteless manner."

VANSICKLE CITED the headline used for the story and the "brevity" as well as "partial quotes" in his accusation. When he asked the board what they wished to do with the petitions, Trustee Daniel Carleton moved, supported by treasurer Thomas Woodruff, that they be accepted as a matter of record. Motion carried.

Park Lake resident Melvin Fisk was the 1st to speak to the board, and demanded that VanSickle provide proof to back up his statement that the lake is polluted.

VanSickle said that he had read 1/2 page of a Department of Natural Resources report to the State Journal reporter and he (the reporter) "saw fit to pick out" certain portions of VanSickle's statements and use them.

DICK WHITED, another area resident, stated, "If the lake is polluted we should face up to the fact." He suggested that it be tested again. "Somewhere along the line we should be able to get some answers," he said. Other comments from residents ranged from, "Why weren't the people who were supposed to be polluting the lake notified at the last dye test?" to an assertion from Mike Baker that "We don't need a sewer. Park Lake isn't polluted."

Fisk compared the amount of pollution he felt the lake contains to a cup of coffee. "You can't hardly find a drop of milk in coffee after it's stirred," he said.

After much haggling among residents, treasurer Woodruff moved that the board ask the DNR to re-examine the lake to see if it is unfit for swimming and fishing, and advise the board of their results. The motion was supported by trustee Carleton and carried unanimously.

RESIDENT RICHARD HAWKINS suggested that everybody who signed a petition show up at Park Lake on Sunday morning and "jump in" so the State Journal could take a picture. He noted that a person cannot swim without getting water in his eyes, mouth, etc, and implied that this would be a good way to see what happens to swimmers in the lake.

Fisk said "we need sewers and we need them bad," but questioned why the township hasn't obtained federal aid for building them.

VanSickle said the township has already filled out a 1974 application, but noted that only the top 18 on a priority list have received help.

Motorcycle accident claims life of Elsie youth

ELSIE - A countywide search for 13 year-old John Arthur Kvalevog of Elsie was called off shortly after 9 o'clock Monday morning when troopers from the Owosso State Police post discovered his body next to the motorcycle he was riding on Maple Rapids Rd, approximately half a mile east of Hollister Rd.

The search for Kvalevog was begun Sunday, according to Clinton County Sheriff Deputies, when he was reported missing. State Police estimate the accident occurred at approximately 4 pm Sunday when the youth apparently lost control of the 175 cc Kawasaki and fell off when it left the roadway. Ward Holton, 4635 Vincent Rd, Elsie, is the registered owner of the motorcycle. Police reports were unclear as to how Kvalevog happened to be riding the motorcycle. The son of Mr and Mrs Henry T Kvalevog, 7206 N Meridian Rd, he was a 9th grade student at Ovid-Elsie High School.

St Johns School Board re-elects Parr, Meyer, Livingston

By Jim Edwards
County News Editor

ST JOHNS - All 3 officers of the St Johns Board of Education were re-elected to their positions Wednesday, July 11.

Re-elected president is Raymond Parr, 207 W Cass, St Johns. Continuing as secretary is Fred Meyer, 710 S Oakland, St Johns and re-elected as treasurer is Alden Livingston, 2224 Livingston Rd, St Johns.

Sworn in at the meeting was new member, Robert Baribeau, 307 S Traver. He was elected in the recent spring school election. A budget report presented to the board revealed the school is operating comfortably in the black. Previously projected budget figures were set at $3,556,938 with expenditures totaling $3,528,639.82. Reports were also presented concerning attendance figures and athletic costs and revenue.

ATTENDANCE FIGURES revealed the school system had an average attendance rate of 94.9% for the 1972-73 school year.

The figures show the average drop out rate is 3.6% down by 1.4% over the previous year. Last year, 60 students quit school with only 48 choosing not to continue this year. Of the 48 who dropped out, some continued on the adult night program.

Of the 299 students who started the 12th grade, 16 dropped out. The highest drop out rate was in the 11th grade with 18 dropping out. That grade is when most students become 16, the state minimum age not required to attend school. Ten students dropped out while in the 10th grade, 3 in the 9th and 1 in special education.

Grade totals for those who started in the fall are: 12th-299; 11th-304; 10th-347; 9th-362 and special education, 10. Discipline-wise, the attendance office handled 265 cases during the year. A total of 39 were suspended, 23 of those for smoking.

MANY OF THOSE suspensions, it was reported, consisted of telling a disciplined student to go home and return to school with his parents to discuss the problem.

Twenty-eight students were placed on probation, most of those due to excessive absences. A total of 379 eighth hours, after school between 3:30-4:30 were assigned.

The athletic report revealed Redwing athletes drew in more than a $1000 above the costs of the total athletic program, with most of the revenue coming from football and basketball ticket receipts.

The total athletic program cost was listed as $16,557.35 with receipts listed at $17,926.62.

FOOTBALL RECEIPTS totaled $9329.20, basketball receipts totaled $6016.45, wrestling provided revenue of $532.75, girls swimming accounted for $56.45, boys swimming attracted a revenue of $357 and girls volleyball took in $30. Additional revenue included $210 from Scouts, $800.91 from concessions and $288.75 from other programs. A complete athletic report is published elsewhere in this week's County News.

DeWitt Lions Club plans work session

DEWITT--The DeWitt Lions Club will meet July 17 for dinner at the DeWitt City Club and then will divide into 3 groups to work on elementary school and park playground equipment. Two groups will go to the Fuerstenau and Scott Schools to prime and paint playground equipment built by the DeWitt High School industrial arts class. Another group will go to the David Graves home to assemble playground equipment, obtained by 2 Lions Club members for the city park.

According to County Treasurer, Velma Beaufore. These monies were voted by the County Commissioners to be used as follows. The County Road Commission will use $150,000 for a 16 mile map program and for resurfacing primary roads. The Sheriff's Department receives $16,367.06 for 2 extra patrol cars, 2 pick-up trucks for County Animal Control, and $14,116.00 for remodeling the jail. The 1973 payments have been received by the County Treasurer for $119,302.00, of which $6,000.00 has been allocated for Mid-Michigan Health Department. A new heating and air conditioning plan is being studied at this time for the balance of the monies.

Clinton County Sheriff Tony Hufnagel (right) and Undersheriff Russell Doty inspect 1 of 2 radar units the department has obtained for use on a 90-day trial basis. The units cost about $2000 each, if purchased, and would be primarily used to locate speeders in subdivisions and roads where it is "almost impossible to obtain a clock," according to Hufnagel. Deputies are currently being certified to use the device, and Hufnagel expects them to be in full operation by the middle of next week.

St Johns School Board discusses blacktop, carpet

Also discussed at the Wednesday Board of Education meeting were several playground paving projects for elementary schools in the system. The board was told problems arose this spring when continuous rains made playground areas excessively muddy preventing children from playing outside and creating cleaning and maintenance problems in the school buildings. The paving was approved by board members, who also approved purchase of window shades and carpeting for Rodney B. Wilson Junior High where a large study hall was formerly located. It is estimated it will cost almost $5000 to replace and install worn window shades in many of the rooms in the district. THE PROPOSED carpeting is to recover a floor on which seats were, at 1 time, bolted to the cement floor and the remainder of the room covered with linoleum. The board was told carpeting is the most practical approach for covering the floor and a price of approximately $3415 would cover the price of preparing the floor and installing commercial carpeting. The board approved the expenditure. The board also accepted a low bid of $5253 from Lansing Office Equipment to replace 25 typewriters. Action on approving gasoline offer from Gulf and a bid from St Johns Oil Company was tabled until the next meeting when an offer in writing will be obtained from Gulf. St Johns Oil Company was the only firm to bid on the gasoline and said they would supply the gas at a rationed 11,000 gallons per month. GULF SAID they would also supply the system with gasoline, but could only do it on a month-to-month basis. In other business, the board set the date for their regular monthly meetings as the 2nd Wednesday of every month.

Charges Cederberg is abusing franking privilege

HARRISON -- Bill Congressional Action Brauker, chairman of the Committee has charged that 10th District Congressman Elford Cederberg is making political use of his congressional franking privilege. Brauker accuses Cederberg of sending out 179,000 questionnaires that could be used for "purely political purposes." If forced to pay the current postage rate of eight cents per letter, the cost of the mailing would be, $14,320, Brauker claims. "If the Congressman's intention is to take an accurate poll of his constituents," Brauker said, "for $14,320, he could hire a professional polling organization to take a much more accurate poll than the questionnaire could give. But I do not think that was the Congressman's intention. I believe the poll is for strictly political purposes." The franking privilege gives congressmen the right to send official mail through the postal system at no charge. According to Brauker, Cederberg's office reported that not all of the questionnaires had been tabulated, but that in a similar poll last year about 10% of the questionnaires mailed out were returned. BRAUKER CONTENDS that the poll is, "blatantly political because for one reason it calls for a return address by the constituent. These in turn can be categorized by the Congressman for future use."

Physical time in St Johns

ST JOHNS -- Gordon Vandemark, St Johns High School principal, has announced St Johns doctors will again donate their time to provide physicals for boys athletic participants. In a release provided the County News, Vandemark said: "I would like to announce that the doctors of St Johns will again donate their time to provide athletic physicals at the hospital to all boys who will take part in the following fall sports: 9th grade football Junior varsity football Varsity football Boys cross country Boys golf. "In the letter sent to parents earlier, we requested parents have the family doctor give the physical. We still believe that this is the best policy and strongly urge you to see your family physician before "MORE INFORMATION concerning the junior high physicals will be announced at a later date. "Please do not confuse these athletic physicals with the physicals required to enter school at the 7th and 9th grade. These must be done by your family physician and will be accepted as soon as your appointment is complete. We realize that it will not be possible for all the school physicals to be completed before school begins. "I want to thank the doctors again for this service."

Wickes Opens Newest Lumber Center in Alma

Lore is Manager At New Alma Center

James Lore, Manager of the new Alma center, has enjoyed a brief but very successful four-year association with Wickes. Earmarked as a "Wickes man in motion", he has, through proven managerial skills, served the people of Michigan with lumber and building supplies since 1969.

At the onset of his career with Wickes, Lore was a participant in the Manager-In-Training Program at the lumber center in Mason. After spending four months there, he made a move to the Saginaw center.

As a trainee, he was given a special opportunity to learn more of the workings of Wickes by managing the Warehouse Clearance Sale at the Wickes Marine Terminal in Bay City.

Following the completion of his MIT training in October of 1971, he was transferred to the center in Auburn, where he enriched his background while working as the Operations-Assistant Manager.

From June of 1972, until his March 1973 promotion to Manager at the new Alma center was announced, Lore was employed as the Consumer Sales-Assistant Manager at the Mason center.

Utilizing his valuable experience and his excellent awareness of the Michigan consumer's lumber and building supply needs, Lore will provide area residents with a wide variety of quality products and friendly service.

Wickes Today Is A Growing "Family of Companies"

Now a highly diversified retailing, manufacturing, and agricultural organization, The Wickes Corporation as late as 1950, was a manufacturer of machine tools, boilers and graphite products.

In that year, while diversifying into the grain business, the firm also acquired five lumber yards and thus, began its entry into the circle of major U.S. corporations.

The company has integrated its many divisions through a "unique and total shelter capabilities" concept.

Wickes can furnish lumber and materials to build conventional homes and for remodeling existing homes, and the furnishings to go in them. Wickes can also provide mobile homes, campers and travel trailers.

Wickes produces commercial and industrial buildings which range from auditoriums to airplane hangers. Wickes not only supplies housing for people but also provides shelter for farm animals as well as storage for grain and farm crops.

Listed among the principal divisions and subsidiaries that carry out the aforementioned activities are: Behlen Manufacturing Company, Behlen-Wickes Limited, Kux Machine, Lewis Lumber Company, Michigan Bean Company, Monitor Coach Company, Moriarty Corporations of Michigan, Ohio and Indiana, Ritz-Kraft Incorporated, Saginaw Grain Company, Saginaw Machine and Tool Company, Sequoia Forest Industries Incorporated, United States Graphite Company, Valiant Mobile Home, Wickes Lumber and Building Supplies, Wickes Machine Tools, Wickes Marine Terminal Company, Wickes Furniture, and Lee L. Woodard Sons Incorporated.

Wickes also has three subsidiaries in Canada—a mobile home plant in Stand Off, Alberta; a plant in Brandon, Manitoba, manufacturing outbuildings and shelters; and a travel trailer plant in Lethbridge, Alberta.

An Innovator in the Building Industry Adds Another "Supermarket"

The Wickes Corporation of Saginaw, in its continuing effort to serve this Michigan community and many other communities throughout the country, is opening its 251st lumber and building supply center, in Alma.

Careful consideration of the growth patterns and the expanding market conditions in this area confirmed the decision to add a new center to the chain of centers that Wickes operates. Long before Wickes entered the lumber business, it was a manufacturer of machine tools, boilers, and graphite.

In 1950, the company went into the grain business, and also acquired five retail lumber yards that became the nuclei of what has now developed into their chain of centers.

Along with these lumber yards, came Joseph S. McMullen and his idea to sell building supplies through cash-and-carry supermarkets, like A. & P. in groceries.

When the company conducted a thorough analysis of the way in which building materials were distributed, they found the method of distribution was archaic, so McMullen was given a chance to implement his idea.

In 1952, McMullen was given $15,000 and an used warehouse at an old World War II terminal in Bay City, Michigan where the first center started. Since the first center was a quick success, other similar centers were opened in the next few years, but it was not until 1957 that the company felt it had acquired enough know-how in the field to warrant aggressive expansion. Through internal growth and acquisitions, the number of Wickes Centers has been greatly increased, serving contractors, do-it-yourself homeowners and farmers in many states.

Other companies have since adopted similar distribution methods, but Wickes is by far the largest—both in number of Centers and in dollar volume—and the most successful. Building Supply News, a national publication, stated that Wickes... "has made an impact on building material distribution unprecedented in the history of the industry".

It is now agreed throughout the industry that modern distribution as pioneered by Wickes is here to stay in the building supply field. In time, it is expected to account for the vast majority of sales in shelter materials, the oldest business in America.

Aggressive Expansion Was Undertaken in 1957

From its successful beginning in Michigan, The Lumber Division, of the Wickes Corporation, has now extended its chain of centers considerably, with links in 35 states.

Since their inception in 1952, the number of centers has continually increased. In 1957, aggressive expansion was undertaken, and by 1960, 41 centers were in operation.

Within the following five years, another 76 lumber centers were added to the roster, which gave the company a total of 117 centers at the end of 1965. In the next five-year period, even more lumber centers were added than in the previous five years. So by the end of 1970, after an addition of 104 centers, the total number was 221.

The opening of the Alma center brings the number of Wickes "supermarkets" to 251 across the country.

The Wickes Lumber Division also has 6 centers in the Netherlands, and a center in Manchester, England.

Wickes Newest Retail Operation

The newest member of the Wickes family of companies is the Retail Furniture Division. The first Furniture Warehouse/Showroom which was opened in the Minneapolis suburb of Fridley, Minnesota, during July of 1971, has won wide customer acceptance.

Unlike the typical furniture store, customers enter the Wickes complexes through a 240-foot-long main aisle which leads them through the 100,000 square foot warehouse section to the showroom area.

Once inside the showroom, the customers can browse and select furniture from some 250 fully-decorated room settings. Every item on display is "for sale" and immediately available from stock.

As soon as the customer makes a decision, the order is relayed to the warehouse. Specially designed lift equipment removes the furniture from 30-foot high storage racks, and takes it to the dock for customer pick-up or delivery. These 150,000 square foot, single-level stores were designed and built for efficient movement of furnishings in unprecedented volume.

Since the first opening, 16 other complexes have been constructed. The most recent openings have been in Willowbrook, Illinois; West Covina and Woodland Hills, California; Rochester, New York; and a second store in the Minneapolis area. Because they have made a decided impact on the furniture industry, plans are underway for a continued nationwide expansion of the Wickes Furniture Warehouse/Showrooms.

Several Types of Credit Are Available

When a customer decides to make a credit purchase at a Wickes Lumber Center, there are several credit plans from which they can choose.

Besides being able to use nationally-accepted Master Charge and Bank Americard, the customer also has the option of using the "Wickes Time Payment Plan", which allows for deferred payment over a specified length of time.

Starting tomorrow the Public is cordially invited to stop in and visit our newest lumber center, located at 3680 West Monroe Street. Courteous and expertly trained personnel will be on hand to provide the assistance and information your building or remodeling plans may require.

Looking At a Center From The Inside

Many Wickes centers consist of a showroom of 8,000 to 10,000 square feet and an attached warehouse of about 24,000 square feet.

At Alma, the showroom covers a 5,000 square-foot area, while the warehouse covers 10,400 square feet.

Centers, such as Alma, stock from 5,000 to 10,000 items, many of which bear brand names such as, Owens/Corning, Black & Decker, Frigidaire, Briggs & Stratton, Borg-Warner, and others.

The list of items includes such products as wood and aluminum windows, doors, kitchen cabinets, lumber, plywood supplies, paneling and matching accessories, electrical and heating materials, bath vanities and fixtures, appliances, and floor coverings, plus many, many more.

Modern business techniques and computers are used for stock and inventory control, enabling branch managers to maintain adequate merchandise supplies.

Purchasing is centralized in the offices in Saginaw, Michigan, but once a manufacturer becomes an approved supplier, individual branch managers are free to order from him directly.

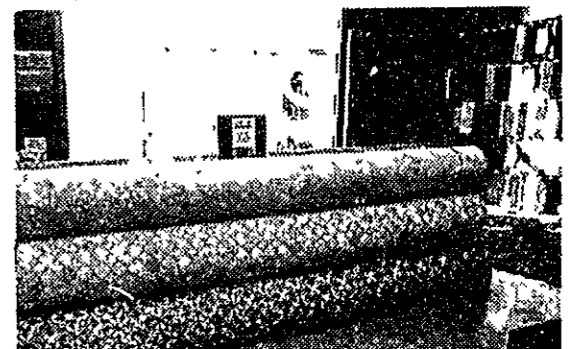

Customers can also visit the Bathroom Fixtures Department where there are model bathrooms set-up, and trained personnel to help them make a decision.

While inside the showroom, customers can browse through the Appliance Department where they will find many various models of brand-name appliances at Wickes low prices. Wickes will also install these appliances.

A Wickes Carpeting Department has a variety of floor coverings, such as Broadloom, Commercial weave, and Shag carpeting, plus, vinyl sheet goods. Installation service is available.

Trained personnel and model kitchens can be found in the Kitchen Cabinet Department, so the customer can receive design assistance, if they so desire. Also, Wickes will help with the installation.

Rositas - Lowe vows solemnized June 23

MR & MRS ROBERT LOWE

ST JOHNS -- Wedding vows uniting Anita M Rositas, daughter of Mrs Dioncia Rositas, 700 S Church St, and Antonio Rositas, Chandler Rd; and Robert James Lowe, son of Mr and Mrs James Lowe, Route 1, St Johns, were spoken June 23 at St Joseph Catholic Church.

The Rev Fr Raymond Goehring performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white mums, apple blossoms and multi-colored flowers. Jackle Schneider provided organ music.

The bride selected a white full length gown featuring a high waist and lace trimmed collar, cuffs and bodice. Her shoulder length veil was secured by a headpiece of lace matching her gown, and she carried a bouquet of white mums and carnations scattered with rose buds.

Wendy Ward of St Johns was maid of honor. The bride's other attendants were Tonnette Stewart, Margarita Rositas, Becky Paseka, and Lidia Bast, all of St Johns. They were all in high waisted full length gowns in mint green, yellow, pink, blue and violet respectively, and carried bouquets of long stemmed white mums with colored centers. Each wore a picture hat, and was escorted by groomsmen who were attired in matching colored shirts.

Lisa Burk was flower girl. Eric Medina, Lansing, served as ring bearer.

Mrs Lowe wore a full length coral dress and had a corsage of white mums with coral carnations. The mother of the bride chose a full length aqua gown. Her corsage was of white mums and aqua carnations.

Wayne Hyde, St Johns, was best man. Armando Rositas, Dennis Gillespie, Don Ward and Lawrence Pierce, all of St Johns, were groomsmen. Daniel Lowe and Rodolfo Rositas seated the couple's 150 guests.

A reception for 500 was held at the VFW Hall. Host and hostess for the event were Mr and Mrs Rollin Huard of St Johns. Aunts of the bride served the guests. Honored guests present included grandparents, Mr and Mrs Gerald Abbott and Mrs Nellie Wilson of Maple Rapids.

Following a wedding trip to the Upper Peninsula the newlyweds are residing at 302 W McConnell, St Johns.

The bride is a 1973 graduate of St Johns High School. Her husband graduated from Rodney B Wilson High School in 1965 and attended Lansing Community college.

MRS CARLTON ANDRUS

Announce engagement

SANDRA RADEMACHER

ST JOHNS -- Mr and Mrs Denis Rademacher, 2104 S Lowell Rd, announce the engagement of their daughter Sandra, to Ernest Steffen, son of Mr and Mrs Ernest Steffen, 2400 Green Rd, St Johns.

The bride-elect is a 1973 graduate of St Johns, High School and is employed with Burton Abstract and Title Company, St Johns. Her fiancé is a 1972 graduate of St Johns High School and is employed with Robert Worthington Construction. A spring wedding is being planned.

Connie Lee Miller bride of Carlton Andrus

ST JOHNS -- Connie Lee Miller, 409 E Walker St, became the bride of Carlton Edward Andrus, 500 S Clinton, St Johns, July 14 at St Johns Lutheran Church. The Rev Robert D Koepfen performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Robert L Miller, 3411 S Scott Rd, St Johns, the groom's parents are Mr and Mrs Earl L Andrus, 1769 E M-21, St Johns.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs Thornton for the early evening ceremony.

The bride wore her mother's bridal gown of antique lace. She carried a bouquet of white orchids.

Cynthia Lous Bashore, Lansing, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Dianne Conrad, Lansing; Cheryl Anne Miller, St Johns; and Robin Kay Miller of St Johns.

The attendants wore orchid gowns and carried lavender orchid bouquets. Kimberly Andrus of St Johns was flower girl and Stanley Pollitt, Lansing, served as ring bearer.

Best man was Darrell Andrus, while Rodney Andrus, William Besko and Gary Bashore served as groomsmen. Richard Deschaine and George Salmer seated the couple's guests.

A reception for the newlyweds was held at Local 650 Union Hall, 1010 River St, Lansing following the ceremony; Debra Pollitt, Valerie Pollitt and Dawn Deschaine assisted with the serving.

Special guests present included Mr and Mrs John Pollitt, Sr, grandparents of the bride; Mr and Mrs T G Williams, Mrs Ethel Williams and Maggie Pollitt, from England.

The bride is a 1967 graduate of Everett High School Lansing. The groom graduated from Rodney B Wilson High School, St Johns, in 1964.

ORDINANCE NO. 62

Village of Ovid

An ordinance to amend Ordinance No. 59, Village of Ovid, Michigan, Known as the Zoning Ordinance of the Village of Ovid.

THE VILLAGE OF OVID ORDAINS:

That the zoning ordinance of the Village of Ovid, and the Zoning Map, of the Village of Ovid, forming a part thereof, shall be amended in the following respects:

Section 1. That the premises, hereinafter describe, shall be rezoned from B-2 General Business to RM-1 Residential Multiple Family.

That the description of said premises is as follows:

A parcel of land in the unplatted portion of the Village of Ovid, Clinton County, Michigan; described as follows: Beginning at a point 438.3 feet South and 768.5 feet West of the intersection of the South line of Michigan Highway M-21 and the North and South 1/4 line of Section 13, T7N, R1W, running thence West 551.5 feet to the West line of the Village of Ovid, thence North to the South line of said Highway M-21, thence East along said South line to a point directly North of the beginning, thence South to the point of beginning. Subject to the rights of the public and any governmental unit in any part thereof taken or deemed for street, road or highway purposes.

Section 2. That the premises hereinafter described shall be rezoned from RA-2 Residential One-Family in Medium Density to B-2 General Business.

That the description of said premises is as follows:

All that part of land of N 1/2 of NW 1/4 of NE 1/4 of Sec. 13, located South of Michigan Highway M-21, except a piece of land starting 280 feet South of the intersection of South Main St. and Highway M-21, running West 225 feet, thence South 200 feet, thence East 225 feet, thence North 200 feet to point of beginning. DeWitt school board names new principal

Fred Goers

DEWITT — Fred Goers, 30, has been named principal of DeWitt High School, replacing Don Mueller, who resigned to accept a position as superintendent in the Carsonville School System.

Goers previously served as assistant principal at Montrose High School. He served in that capacity for the past 4 years, after serving for 5 years as geometry, physics and driver education teacher.

Goers is a graduate of Michigan State University. He obtained a bachelor of science degree in mathematics in 1964 and later earned his master of arts in secondary education curriculum.

A native of Chicago, he moved with his family to Saugatuck in 1949 and is a graduate of Saugatuck High School.

HE AND HIS wife, Diane, have 2 children, Jeffery, 5, and Melissa, 3.

Three cited for violating cycle law

ST JOHNS — Three persons were assessed fines and costs in District Court in St. Johns after being cited for operating motorcycles in Sleepy Hollow State Park on a trail where wheeled vehicles are prohibited.

Randy F. Curtis, 20, 2658 N Meridian Rd, Ovid; Charles S. Wieger, 21, 224 N East Court and Richard M. Smith, 19, 119-Elm, Ovid, were issued citations by the Dept of Natural Resources July 1 for riding on prohibited trails in Sleepy Hollow State Park.

They were fined $10 apiece plus $11 costs and $4 judgement fees.

The Mid-Michigan Health Department is seeking the younger members of families receiving assistance from the Department of Social Services, so that they may become involved in a program to detect health problems.

Aurang stressed that eligibility will be determined and appointments for the clinic will be made by the Social Services Department in each county.

A TOTAL OF 4198 young people should be eligible in the 3 counties. However, Dr Aurang said that he expects about half of those eligible to be seen by the clinics. In explanations to the Gratiot County Board of Commissioners earlier this year, Dr Aurang said that the program will be somewhat experimental. Questions as to the number of people it will serve etc will be worked out with actual operation. Montcalm has the most eligible children with 1714, while 1483 are projected as eligible in Gratiot County and 1001 in Clinton

The clinics stem from an amendment to the Social Security Act of 1967 that requires "early and periodic screening diagnosis and treatment" (EPSDT) for children and adults under 21, whose families are receiving public assistance. Aurang said that through a contract with the Michigan State Department of Health, the Mid-Michigan Health Department will be responsible for screening only.

Staffed by a doctor, a nurse, a nurses aid, a technician and a clerk, the team will travel throughout the 3 counties in order to operate clinics on a regular schedule.

The tentative schedule calls for the clinic to be in Gratiot County on Wednesdays, Montcalm County on Mondays and Clinton County on every other Tuesday. Hours in each county will be from 9-12 and 1-4 with the clinics to be held in existing Health Department facilities.

The Health Department in Gratiot County is located at 204 S Main, Ithaca (875-3681); Clinton, 106 Maple St, St Johns (224-2195) and Montcalm, Courthouse, Stanton (831-3770).

Six things will be involved in the screening process, according to Dr Aurang, from a health history and physical inspection to explaining the findings to the child and accompanying adult.

Debbie Hurst (left) and Penny Krebhiel of the Victor 4-H Club display grass skirts they made for the Hawaiian Luau for 4-H members at Smith Hall in St. Johns last Wednesday evening.

Not really the main course at the 4-H Hawaiian Luau is the make believe pig roasting over make believe coals. Although the roasting fire was made of lights, the menu for the dinner offered a variety of genuine Hawaiian dishes.

Agriculture in Action No glory without beans

The old theory that writers must suffer in a drafty garret with inadequate nourishment to really produce great works has long ago been disproved. The unknown author of this ode to farmers was obviously digesting a satisfying meal when he penned his appreciation.

"The politician talks and talks, the actor plays his part, the soldier glitters on parade, the goldsmith piles his art. The scientist pursues his germ over this terrestrial ball, the sailor navigates his ship, but the farmer feeds them all.

"The preacher pounds his pulpit desk, brokers read their lengthy tape, the tailor cuts and sews his cloth to fit the human shape. The workman wields his shiny tools, the merchant shows his wares, the astronaut above the clouds a dizzy journey dares.

"But art and science soon would fade, and commerce dead would fall, if the farmer ceased to reap and sow, for the farmer feeds them all."

Poets aren't alone in their recognition of the farmer's importance to the scheme of things in our world. Economists indicate that agricultural products are fast becoming, or already are, the only thing which the United States can produce as cheaply as it is produced elsewhere in the world. They call our country's agricultural production a peace factor, too. More than our armaments -- our food, and the need for it -- are believed by some observers to have kept China and Russia out of the Vietnam War.

Farmers, well aware of the vital importance of foreign markets, have understandably reacted negatively to the recent export restrictions on some agricultural products. They believe that foreign markets cannot be treated as a "dumping ground" and that limitations on exports can seriously affect our country's position in world trade. An important factor, especially now, is that foreign exchange gained from soybean sales allows Americans to purchase needed products, such as petroleum, which is in short supply here.

Strong supporters of a tree and unshackled agriculture, farmers fear that economic controls, such as price freezes and export restrictions, will eventually destroy our free enterprise system.

As another poet put it: "Far and wide Old Glory floats, for farmers supply the means...there is no glory without his beans."

Ovid-Elsie School Board re-elects officers

The Ovid-Elsie School Board held an organizational meeting July 9, and selected officers for the coming school year. David J. Hill was re-elected president, as were Charles Bracey, secretary, and Merle Green, treasurer.

New board members Glen Webster and Frank Rivest had been administered the oath of office immediately after the June 11 election.

It was moved by Green, supported by Richard Semans, to have the board meeting schedule for the coming year remain the same as previously. Regular meetings will be held the 2d Monday of each month, with special meetings held on 4th Mondays. Both will begin at 8 pm.

IN OTHER ACTION a letter was read from Lawrence Sprague II, who wished to resign from his position as Vocational Agriculture teacher at Ovid-Elsie High School. The board accepted his resignation.

Trustee Semans moved that a contract be offered to Howard Malitz for the position of elementary principal at Ovid North Frank Rivest, and carried.

Tri-County Regional Planning re-structure set for August

The move to restructure the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission (TCRPC), to make it more responsive to regional needs through expanded membership, is expected to be completed in August, said Gerald Shepard By-laws Committee chairman. Current plans call for expanding the membership from 9 to 18 members.

Previously, two county commissioners and one at-large representative from Clinton, Eaton, and Ingham made up the TCRPC. At-large representatives were chosen by the county boards of commissioners. This representation will remain the same.

In the expansion, the Commission will gain nine members from cities, villages, and townships. One member will be elected to the commission by city and village representatives in each county. Townships will also select one representative in each county. Three representatives from the city of Lansing will bring the total up to 18 members.

It has also been suggested that the organization's name change to Tri-County Coordinating Council. A commission signifies a narrow topic area and structure, whereas, a council suggests a broader structural base and a wider range of topics, said Gordon Swix TCRPC chairman. Before TCRPC was primarily concerned with land use. It is no longer a single purpose organization, Swix added. Its programs now include human resources, housing, and criminal justice planning. TCRPC's responsibilities as a regional clearinghouse for grant reviews have also increased. Swix pointed out that all of these factors make it a necessity to have more input by other agencies.

Present TCRPC funding is apportioned from the three counties, Shepard explained. Twenty-five per cent of the yearly budget consists of equal contributions from the three counties. The remaining 75 per cent is apportioned among the counties on the basis of state equalized valuation. Under the restructured Commission, the city of Lansing will be asked to assume 16% of the total budget. The city of East Lansing, represented by Councilman George Griffiths, requested membership on the Commission at the June 27 board meeting. It was decided that the By-laws Committee would make recommendations on the East Lansing request, and present the proposed by-laws to board in a special meeting July 18. Work on restructuring began in April, 1972. Commission members jointly agreed that a need for better communication existed, and that restructuring could help solve the void in communications with villages, townships, and cities in the outlying areas.

DeGroot named graphite account manager by Union Carbide

PITTSBURG, PA -- Hoyt D. Degroot has been named account manager in the graphite electrode marketing group of Union Carbide Corporation's Carbon Products Division. He is the son of Mr and Mrs Dick W. Degroot, 411 E. Cass, St Johns. He is married to the former Christine Lancaster, daughter of Mr and Mrs Earl R. Lancaster, 608 Circle Dr, St Johns.

Both are 1958 graduates of Rodney B. Wilson High School.

Degroot was graduated from Michigan State University with a BA in business in 1963 and upon graduation joined Union Carbide as a sales trainee in its Carbon Products Division.

In 1964 he was transferred to Chicago in metallurgical products sales and later that year served in the same capacity in Boston. He moved to Pittsburgh in 1966 in metallurgical sales and since 1968 has served as sales representative in the electrode products marketing organization.

Degroot is a member of the Association of Iron and Steel Engineers, the Eastern States Blast Furnace Association and the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers, serving as business manager of the Pittsburgh division of AIME.

Commissioners OK study of county-wide land appraisal

ST JOHNS -- The Clinton County Board of Commissioners authorized Leon Thelen, equalization director, Tuesday to get cost figures on a county-wide property appraisal. Although there was some discussion about whether or not such a move would take away duties from township assessors, it was said the basic duties would remain with the local assessors.

In the Tuesday morning meeting, the board also authorized the property management committee to act on repairing a civil defense emergency generator. The generator, supplied to provide emergency power to Radio Station WRBJ to broadcast messages during times when power is out is in the possession of the County Road Commission.

The Road Commission was to provide for repairs of the generator, but it was reported to the board that no action had been taken in 2 years to make the unit operable. The Commission also approved the hiring of a man and his wife to manage the county children's home. They authorized up to $20,000 to pay for the services of both persons, who possess masters degrees and have had experience in handling children through foster home programs.

It was reported that the type of child at the home has changed from the neglected child to the delinquent child. Because of that, the nature of the care at the home will now include extensive counseling.

Veterans urged to review records

Because many armed service records were recently destroyed by the massive fire at the National Records Center in St. Louis, veterans are urged to review the status of their personal military records, according to Greta deWolf, of the American Red Cross. Mrs deWolf is director of the Mid-Michigan Chapter of Service to Military Families.

"Separation and/or discharge papers should be recorded with the office of the county clerk," she stated, "because a recorded copy could be readily obtained when needed for a job, sudden hospitalization or other benefits."

She recommends that military records be retained in a permanent, fireproof place, such as a bank deposit box. Veterans who suffered a service connected injury and have not filed for compensation with the Veterans Administration are advised to place in safe keeping letters and other evidence relative to their case.

For information or assistance, veterans may contact Mrs deWolf at the Red Cross, 484-7461 or contact members of the Lansing Area Task Force. Members include: Ingham County Dept of Veterans Affairs, Lansing Community College, Lansing School District, Michigan Employment Security Commission, Michigan State University, United Auto Workers local 652, Michigan National Guard, Human Resources Development Institute, Office of Manpower and Development and New Way Inc.

Trains transported soil fertility testing

A Michigan State University agricultural economist feeds perforated data cards into a touch-tone telephone computer terminal and a computer miles away at the University of Michigan evaluates the information in seconds.

This is the way soil fertility is tested in Michigan today. But in 1926 there were no computers, no perforated cards, no touch-tone telephones, and no Michigan State University.

In April of that year Michigan State College, in cooperation with the New York Central railroad, ran the Soil Fertility Train through the farmlands of southeastern Michigan.

From April 5 to April 21, 1926, the train covered the area testing soil samples and making fertilizer recommendations to the farmers on the basis of the results.

New York Central donated three coaches to the project; one contained charts and exhibits and was used for lectures and discussions; another was a laboratory car for testing the soil samples, and the other housed the people involved in the project.

One of those that resided in the third car is James Porter, associate professor emeritus of the soil science department at MSU.

Porter, an undergraduate at MSC when he boarded the train in 1926, says of the project "The railroad was happy to oblige us because it meant increased revenue for them. Our primary message to the farmers was to use lime, and since the great bulk of the lime had to be shipped in by rail the company stood to, make money."

According to a report filed in the MSU Archives, the purpose of the train was to "...sound the alarm against further depletion of soil fertility."

The train reached 5,000 people directly in slightly more than two weeks, despite poor road conditions due to a wet spring, and thousands more indirectly through newspapers and leaflets, and by word of mouth.

According to the Archives report, "advice given by the men of MSC was worth hundreds of dollars to the individual farmers and was in every case practical, conservative, and founded on sound economic and scientific principles."

The majority of the soil samples tested were found to lack lime.

"It got to the point where we could just about advise the use of lime before performing the soil test," Porter recalled. "There was one town that had us puzzled though," he said. "The lime content in the soil was what it should have been, and the farmers claimed they had never added lime. As I gazed out the window, pondering the problem, I noticed a nearby cement factory smokestack belching a white substance. It seems the prevailing winds in the area distributed an even blanket of lime, which was a by-product of the cement-making process, on the nearby farms."

Many of the train's exhibits and posters, though simple and brief, contained important messages to the farmers.

Slogans like, "Crops will retreat if soil is mistreated," or "The four horsemen of soils are drainage, organic matter, lime, and fertilizers," and "lime this year--don't put it off, put it on," were easy to remember and were passed on readily, one farmer to another.

The communication between farmers was crucial to the project's success.

"The purpose of the University Extension Service has always been to demonstrate proven improvements--and--encourage adoption," Porter points out. "We found that if a few farmers in the community got favorable results from experimenting with something new, then this had a greater impact on the rest than anything we could say or do. Our philosophy was to interest a few and thus interest the rest.

The train was a great success, according to Porter, because it speeded up the use of lime by years.

A main reason for its success was the advance notices distributed by the railroad and MSC.

"When we pulled into a town it was like the circus had arrived," Porter said. "Everyone from curious farmers and their wives to jubilant high school students out of school on a spring field trip turned out to meet us. We were more than just a service, we were an event."

The computerized soil analysis of today is far more sophisticated and accurate than the rolling laboratory Porter worked on, but the way they did it back in 1926 must have been far more exciting and a lot more fun.

Farm visits to determine

1973 compliance for programs

The period for farmers to enroll in the 1973 Federal farm programs is past. The period in which farmers certify their land use is past. Dorn Diehl, State Executive Director of the Michigan Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Office, states that farms are now visited to determine compliance in relation to their intentions and requirements. Twenty percent of the farms enrolled in the State will be visited by a representative of the local county ASCS office to assure the government that program requirements have been met and that any payments have been fully earned.

Diehl further points out that these visits are to determine if an adequate acreage of land has been retired from production; that the land is cropland equal in production to the average for the farm; that the permitted acreage of corn and wheat has not been exceeded and that there is ample acreage of corn and wheat to protect crop to receive his full program payment. Diehl points out that last year, there were 960 discrepancies found which resulted in the reduction in payment of $160,000. Producers suffered this loss because they did not follow the rules of USDA programs.

Sealed Power acquires firm

Sealed Power Corporation has announced it has acquired F. P. Smith Corporation, Melrose Park, Ill. Gordon E. Reynolds, chairman and president of Sealed Power, said the acquisition was made for an undisclosed amount of cash and notes. F. P. Smith manufactures automotive transmission oil filters for distribution to original equipment makers and to the replacement market. The privately-owned company has annual sales of approximately $3-1/2 million. "This acquisition should be mutually beneficial to both companies," Reynolds said. "Sealed Power will acquire a new product line compatible with its present line of engine parts and F. P. Smith will benefit from Sealed Power's advanced research and development capability and its worldwide distribution channels."

Reynolds said F. P. Smith would be operated as a separate division of Sealed Power. He added that the present management of the company, including President Elmer E. Ward, would be retained. Sealed Power, headquartered in Muskegon, is a leading manufacturer of piston rings and precision parts for the automotive and other industries. It has manufacturing facilities in Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Texas and, with the new acquisition, Illinois, as well as in Canada and Mexico.

This Is Walt Cole Week

As band director and coordinator of musical activities for the high school, Walt has spent many personal hours to provide a broad program of events for our community. This summer's exchange of musical groups including the recent visit of the Ahrensburg, Germany Orchestra and the upcoming Epen Children's Choir - are indicative of the extra efforts he puts forth toward a greater appreciation of music. For his work with our community's young people and for his general community concern we are pleased to honor Walt Cole as our citizen of the week.

From 2 reporters to 90 lawyers

For those who claim they're sick of hearing about the Watergate mess, here's a note to make us all feel ill. Archibald Cox, special prosecutor appointed to head the Watergate case, has submitted a budget of around $3 million including the retaining of 90 attorneys. That boggles the mind when you consider the whole thing started through the work of only 2 reporters from the Washington Post. Instead of the 90 lawyers, it might save the nation a bundle of money to hire the 2 reporters and Martha Mitchell.

View from the Senate

By SEN. WILLIAM S. BALLENGER

Motorists hoping that their gas tax will be cut back the 2 cents it was increased early this year probably should be advised not to count on it.

While a citizens' petition drive to repeal the tax has passed one hurdle, it has been temporarily stymied by action of the State Court of Appeals — and the State Supreme Court looms as a final test no matter how the appellate court rules.

The Court of Appeals last week ordered the State Board of Canvassers to delay by 20 days the certification of the referendum petitions which would have automatically ended the collection of the two cent gas tax increase until the issue could be voted upon in November, 1974.

The court ordered the delay to give it time to determine whether the issue legally was subject to a referendum. At issue is whether the law passed last year is an appropriation measure since it was tied in with one appropriating money to communities for mass transportation. Under the State Constitution, an appropriation bill cannot be halted by a referendum even if the referendum is signed by every eligible voter in Michigan. Earlier, the Attorney General ruled that the law was not an appropriation and said the State Board of Canvassers could certify the petitions if about 133,000 valid signatures were found on the petitions.

WHILE THE BOARD of Canvassers didn't have to rule on the sufficiency of the petition signatures Monday as expected because of the stay ordered by the Court of Appeals, word around the Capitol was the backers of the petition drive had obtained sufficient signatures to make it valid.

Arrayed against the more than 150,000 persons fighting to get the tax increase removed are some pretty formidable opponents — notably the County Road Association of Michigan, six different county road commissions, and the Michigan State Highway Commission.

The road building groups have a big stake in the issue because if they were to lose the 2-cent gas tax increase, their income would be reduced by millions of dollars.

The gas tax increase was part of an over-all transportation package pushed by Governor Milliken that also included a bill to divert one-half cent in gas taxes for mass transit purposes. This one-half cent tax money was to have been taken out of the 2-cent increase, and the rest was to have been used for highway construction purposes.

THERE HAS BEEN speculation around the Capitol that, even if the court upholds the constitutionality of the referendum and the people vote to remove the 2-cent tax increase, the one-half cent per gallon tax would still have to be set aside for mass transit purposes.

If this happens, highway and road construction obviously would receive less funds, instead of more, than they had been receiving before the 2-cent per gallon hike was passed. The citizens of my 30th Senatorial District, clearly shortchanged under the new transportation package funding formula, ironically would come out worse than ever!

If you have a large or growing family, make sure the home you buy has enough space for everyone. Size up your family's needs for they may also have ideas about the sort of home they would like. A new house may provide the newest construction materials so that upkeep is less expensive, which is important when your family is just beginning. On the other hand, an older home is sometimes apt to be larger, somewhat less expensive to buy. Either way let our office assist you in making that important decision and purchase!

We, at FURMAN REALTY CO, 1515 North U.S. 27, 224-3236, will make every effort to give you the best possible advice in selecting the home to best fit your family needs, taste, and budget. We urge you to call us with your listing too; a member of MLS, we can expose your property to a wide market for a quicker sale at a better price. Open: 8:30-5, Mon-Fri; 9:30-3, Sat; & by app't.

HELPFUL HINT:

In a settled neighborhood property taxes are apt to be more stable.

A few years ago, when I lived in a neighboring county, I became frustrated with the telephone service and, taking advantage of the free enterprise system, organized my own telephone company.

A year later, I reported, because of the overwhelming request for service from my company, I was forced to shut down operations. It was simply too much to try to satisfy all the customers who wanted my service instead of the other company's.

Known as the Jim Edwards Ball 'O String and Tin Can Telephone Company, it has been out of operation for over 2 years. However, after moving to Clinton County and experiencing once again frustration, anger, despair, and a sprained finger sustained striking a telephone which refused to emit a dial tone or complete a long distance call to such faraway places as Fowler, Bath Township and Ovid, it is time to consider offering the public an alternative.

A public information meeting is being scheduled to explain the operation of Ball 'O String to prospective customers.

So that those interested may have a general idea of the operation of such a service, I will explain the simple, but just as effective utility system.

To put the system in operation, it is necessary to obtain large numbers of tin cans (empty, of course) and miles and miles of string. Because of the amount of string needed, full implementation of the company will not be possible until after the next spring kite season, when Ball 'O String SRs (string retrievers) capture wayward kites and string from trees and rooftops.

Then, installation of the service would get underway full steam.

Ball 'O String customers will be offered a full variety of transmitting-receiving cans. Borrowing a name from yet another company, a perfect choice for a bedside phone would be the Princess Can. These are painted small orange and tomato juice cans in a variety of attractive colors.

Regular transmitter-receivers are made of highly polished soup and vegetable cans. Because of the revolutionary concept of the Ball 'O String company, it will be unheard of to dial a call to, say Fowler or Bath. You simply pick up the can and yell (as you do now when you finally complete the call). When you pick up the can, it is simple to reach your party by merely shouting, "Hey, Harry pick up your can—I gotta talk to ya." Your voice will be rapidly transmitted to Harry through the string. Unlike the present system where you dial over and over or call the operator when the call doesn't go through, with the Ball 'O String Company, you just take a deep breath and yell louder.

Maintenance of the equipment is simple. Most of the time, the most complex repair is to simply tie the string back together again.

The cans sometimes are a problem when people forget and put things in them. One instance involved Farley Felphelp. His wife kept pencils in their wall can. Farley didn't know about it, picked up the can to make a call and got the eraser end of the pencil stuck in his ear. He wasn't injured, but evidently the eraser went to work because he couldn't remember who he was going to call.

We at Ball 'O String like to think our billing system is quite efficient compared to that of other companies. Instead of charging an installation fee, extra charges for more phones etc, we simply take payment in empty tomato juice and soup cans to keep up the supply with the demand. When the cans are sent to our company, we merely request a dime be put in the can for each call.

In those cases where customers fail to pay in cans or string with their dimes for calls the service must be discontinued. However, we do provide notice of the service being discontinued.

What we do is give the string a hard yank in the main office. This pulls the string through the wall of the house and disconnecting it from the can. The can falls on the floor, clatter-clatter-clatter, and that's your notice the service has been disconnected.

All in all, we feel we have "a better idea" and the other company "knows in their heart we're right."

More information about the Ball 'O String Company will be announced at a later date. Right now we're considering songs for our advertising campaign.

So far, we're selected "String Along with Me," "Pick Up Your Can and Make Someone Happy," and "Our Cans Are Your Cans."

Get Thee Behind Me

Editor, Lapeer County Press

By Jim Fitzgerald

It was somewhat ironic. Because of a crime, I had to quit watching the TV Watergate hearings long enough to go to the court house. I had to pay a speeding ticket. "You must come with me," I told my wife. "You have to sit behind me while I testify."

"You must be kidding," she said.

"Not a bit. You've seen John Dean and Jeb Magruder and the others on TV. Their wives always sit right behind them. Wear something sexy but dignified. Maybe a bare midriff but fold your arms in front of the bare. Nothing flashy. We don't want to appear ostentatious."

"That's funny. Everyone knows why I'm the first to volunteer to work at the rummage sales at 15 different churches. It's so I can get first pick. Besides, those wives are behind their husbands because the TV cameras are there. I really don't think NBC will be in Magistrate Ruth Knack's court today."

"That's not the point. The point is that behind every decent man there is a loving, faithful wife who smiles quietly at his quips and frowns politely when someone calls him a liar. And she always sits with her knees pressed tightly together. It is called the Dr Joyce Brothers sit."

"I don't think either of us have to worry about sitting in magistrate's court. There is only 1 chair and Ruth Knack is in it."

"I don't think you are taking this matter seriously enough," I said, getting slightly perturbed. "A wife is an important part of her husband's image. Smart politicians send Christmas cards with photos of their families posed in the Nativity scene. The voters are suspicious of bachelors. They like a man who is happily married to a solid woman with a dog in a cloth coat. And when that man goes to court, his wife must go with him. Otherwise, people will think she doesn't love him because he is a liar."

"I COULD BRING the cats to court," she said. "I could dress them as the 3 Wise Men. I could borrow our granddaughter to play the part of the holy infant. We can tell the magistrate there was no room in the Holiday Inn. And you could be the jackass whose breath keeps the baby warm."

"Listen, I'm serious about this. John Dean admitted he temporarily swiped $4,000 to finance his honeymoon. But who could blame him after seeing that blond dish behind him? Any American boy from Harvard would have done the same thing. I need the same kind of backing. I am going to tell the magistrate I was speeding because you were deathly sick and I had to get to the Blue Cross office quickly to pay overdue premiums. I need you there to nod your head and caress the back of my neck when the going gets tough."

"I'm sorry," she said, "but I cannot live a lie. If that is the type of wife you want, you'd better get a new one."

"At this point in time," I said, "I think I will go up to Camp David to prepare a report on my reaction to your tempting suggestion."

The economy gets unbalance
And lacks the proper "go".

Likewise if labor's prices soar
To throw costs out of line
We cannot disregard them
And claim the climate fine.

When costs are very clearly pegged
For products, labor too
Must exercise good judgment
And aim to follow through.

There's room in our economy
For progress all the way
If we but face reality
In what we do and say.

There's cycles and there's circles
In our dealings day by day
Let either side be selfish
The devil is to pay.

Let's try to work together
In the game of ups and downs,
And give to each an honest chance
For glory and renown.

Might be wise to wait before buying

Anyone thinking about purchasing sub-divided recreational property this year may want to wait until Michigan's new land sales act goes into effect Oct. 1, advises State Representative Stanley M. Powell (R-Lonia).

According to Representative Powell the new lands sales act gives the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulation the authority and responsibility to examine, register and regulate the promotion and sale of sub-divided recreational and resort property.

"If you wish to purchase property before the act goes into effect, however, I offer the following list of things to check on before committing yourself to the purchase of land," Representative Powell said.

Representative Powell recommends that you:

- always personally inspect the property before signing any document.

- request a copy of the federal property report, if one is required, by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).
- if the property is being offered as a homestead check with the county health department in the county where the land is located to see if water supply and septic system permits are available.
- check availability of utilities such as telephone, electricity, natural gas or propane fuel as well as accessibility to the site.
- check availability of an abstract of title insurance for the property to assure a clear and marketable title.
- in addition to the quoted selling price of the land, inquire about finance or service charges, taxes, closing costs, special assessments and association or maintenance fees.

Above all, Representative Powell said, read all forms presented to you before signing them.

Representative Powell pointed out that the Michigan Real Estate law already offers protection to buyers purchasing property from a licensed real estate broker or salesman.

If you have doubts about the person with whom you are dealing, always ask to see the salesman's real estate pocket card. Licensed real estate salesmen are required by law to carry pocket cards and are required to present it upon request of the buyer.

The new land sales act offers much protection to consumers against unscrupulous, high pressure, sales tactics, but "a person should always proceed with caution to make sure he gets what he pays for," Representative Powell concluded.

88th District Report by Stanley Powell State Representative

At the moment it seems relatively certain that the Legislature will remain in session through the last week of July—one month longer than originally scheduled. Present plans call for appropriation and conference committee members to meet during the week of the 16th to 20th to complete the necessary committee work on the budget bills. The full House will be called back in for the 23rd to 27th with final completion of the budget expected at that time.

As I write this, only three of the eighteen budget bills have been sent to the Governor for approval: Capital Outlay Planning, Community Colleges, and Drug Abuse and Alcoholism. Worth noting is the fact that all three were finalized at figures over the Governor's recommendation. Capital Outlay Planning was $1 million over, Community Colleges was $2.7 million over and Drugs and Alcoholism was $1.5 million over.

These figures do not however necessarily reflect increases in total appropriations which would jeopardize the total budget. The Capital Outlay Planning appropriations figure is flexible in that not all of that money will necessarily be released. Appropriations for community colleges are based on expected enrollment and, in the view of some people, this year's projected enrollment figures were high, meaning that some $2 to $3 million dollars might not actually be needed and would return to the general fund. The appropriations for Drug Abuse and Alcoholism reflect the transfer of some responsibilities to that office from other departments and consequently other department appropriations were reduced by those amounts.

It remains to be seen whether prudence or extravagance will prevail in the amounts of our remaining appropriations. Those who are not willing to exercise some restraint may find that they have forced us all back to the drawing board if carelessness spending evokes a gubernatorial veto.

Bill which would have allowed construction of a new Capital Building to begin was defeated in the House last week on a definite 37 to 69 vote.

This was the second time this appropriation has been deleted from Senate Bill 130. The $4 million was contained in the original Senate version of the bill but was amended out when it came up for consideration on the floor of the Senate last month.

The "new Capitol" funds, provide for foundation digging and installation of underground utilities, were put back into the bill by the House Appropriations Committee in the hope that "one more try" might make it. When the bill came up for consideration of the entire House last week members opposing the construction of a new Capitol at this time constituted a substantial majority, and after much debate, were successful in once again amending the money out of the bill.

We 69 Representatives voting against the funds for proceeding with a new statehouse contend that the present building, having already been extensively remodeled, is adequate for years to come and should also be maintained as a landmark in Michigan's History. Supporters of the new Capitol contend that the building is no longer adequate.

GOVERNOR SIGNS BILLS INTO LAW

Governor Milliken has signed several bills into law, one of which amends the Savings and Loan Association Act of 1964 to increase the ceiling on installment loans from $2,500 to $5,000.

The bill (HB 4444) which was given immediate effect, also gives the state's Financial Institutions Bureau additional discretionary authority in approving or disapproving branch applications, and more jurisdiction over installment lending.

Also signed into law was:

- HB 4021, given immediate effect, which authorizes the Department of Social Services to contract with banks and Savings and Loan Associations for the handling of food stamps.
- HB 4628, also given immediate effect, which exempts from registration snowmobiles used only in a safety and education program conducted by certified snowmobile safety instructors.

- SB 187 which exempts from liability any person, firm, or corporation which provides a service of procuring, processing or distributing whole blood, plasma, blood products or their derivatives.
- HB 4790, given immediate effect, which exempts all prizes awarded by a licensee during a bingo game from state or local taxes.
- SB 224, given immediate effect, which amends the state act dealing with hunting seasons to exempt the Department of Natural Resources put-and-take pheasant hunting program from the normal regulations for hunting in the state.
- HB 4613, given immediate effect, which removes from the definition of gross proceeds, for sales tax purposes, any amount received from or billed to a customer as a gratuity or tip, provided it is separately identified and itemized on the guest check or bill.

GOVERNOR MILLIKEN EXPRESSES PRICE FREEZE CONCERN

Governor Milliken has sent a telegram to President Nixon saying he supports the President's efforts to accomplish economic stability, but pointing out that a situation is developing with potentially drastic consequences for Michigan workers and consumers.

"Pork, cherry, poultry, and other food production and processing industries, as well as those dependent on agricultural products, are threatened in this state," Milliken told Nixon.

"Indications are that farmers will cut back on hog raising, forcing a pork shortage leading to astronomically high prices, threat of black marketing or other results harmful to consumers," the Governor continued.

Milliken asked Nixon to "please direct the cost of living council and other appropriate agencies, to ascertain immediately the full facts and order actions to relieve the cost-price squeeze to prevent irreparable harm which could result in an enormous future economic and supply crisis."

A series explaining "how much" and why

Blame poor 1972 weather for high fruit prices - -
1973 outlook brightens

Higher consumer fruit prices since the summer of 1972 are due primarily to small crops last year in the major production areas, according to Michigan State University Agricultural Economist Donald J. Ricks.

The smaller crops, in turn, resulted mostly from adverse weather conditions, he says. In fact, total output of noncitrus fruit in 1972 was the lowest since 1945.

The agricultural economist feels the short supply situation is temporary, at least for most fruits. Given normal weather this season, national supplies should increase and cause prices to decline significantly, he predicts.

However, the spring weather to date has not been favorable for large crops in certain areas like Michigan.

Other factors have also contributed to the higher fruit prices in 1972 and early 1973, Ricks point out.

- Consumer demand for fruit juices and wine has been expanding in recent years. Short grape supplies California and the eastern US last year and reduced quantities of imported commodities, such as apple juice concentrate, have resulted in higher consumer prices.
- Short fruit crops in key foreign countries have resulted in stronger export demand for certain of US fruit crops in recent years. Ricks feels this is a temporary situation and expects world demand for US fruit to be less in 1973.

- Shortages of harvest labor in 1972 contributed to reduced market supplies of some crops, like apples. Some of the apple crop, which must be picked by hand, was not harvested because of lack of available labor at the critical harvest time. Labor shortages for handharvested crops are expected to continue in the future, providing a limiting factor on harvested supplies of certain crops.

- Available supplies of processed fruits are affected by the size of carryover stocks from the previous year's pack. Short production in the 1972 season will likely result in smaller carryover stocks of most processed fruit crops going into the 1973 season. And, these smaller carryover stocks will tend to have a holding effect on recent processed fruit prices, Ricks says.

Several other phenomena have contributed to recent higher fruit prices and are likely to continue to exert upward price pressures in future years, according to Ricks. There are: higher costs for food marketing services (especially labor) consumer demand for more convenience services; higher costs related to environmental protection regulations, and increased costs resulting from legislation to aid migrant farm workers.

Increased farm costs for labor, purchased inputs and antipollution regulations could, in the more distant future, force enough farmers out of production to significantly reduce supplies and raise prices, at all levels, Ricks concludes.

Draft registration still required

Young men must still register with Selective Service at the time of their 18th birthday even though induction authority ended July 1, Arthur A. Holmes, state director of Selective Service has announced.

He urged those men who have not registered to do so promptly. "Failure to register is a violation of the law," Holmes emphasized, "and could result in prosecution by the Department of Justice." It is expected that approximately 85,000 young men will be subject to draft registration this year in Michigan.

While the President's authority to induct men into military service expired July 1, all other provisions of the Selective Service Act remain in force. The annual lottery will be held. Young men must continue to register. Local boards will classify them as to their availability for possible military service in the event of a national emergency.

The law requires that all male persons, except certain non-immigrant aliens, must register with Selective Service within the 60 day period commencing 30 days prior to their 18th birthday. Under the law young men have 3 obligations: (1) they must register at age 18, (2) they must notify their draft boards when they change addresses, and (3) they must carry their draft cards with them until their liability expires, which for most men today is at age 26.

Michigan draft boards have been reorganized at 27 area offices to carry on the standby draft operation. Volunteer registrars are also available in most communities to accept draft registrations. Area offices are now located at Allen

Maxine Shore of Roscomon.

They have planned a wedding for Aug. 4.

Be wary of door-to-door salesmen

By: ELAINE CINCALA
County Extension Office

Ah, summer! Long, sunny days, the old swimming hole, campouts and cookouts — and the annual rash of door-to-door salesmen out to help you improve your home and grounds.

They'll seal your blacktop driveway, put storm windows on your home, sell you a vacuum cleaner or give you a deal on aluminum siding or a new roof.

The key word is caution. You should avoid buying goods or services from a door-to-door sales person until you have had time to find out that he is a bona fide representative or a legitimate, established business in the community.

Ask for the salesman's name and the address of his employer. Tell him you need some time to think about it, and suggest that he check back with you next week. If he refuses to identify himself or won't come back, you can be fairly sure you're better off not doing business with him.

A solid tipoff is a line such as: "We happened to be doing a job in the neighborhood and noticed you need the same work done. Since we're here anyway, we'll give you a special rate."

It's just a come-on. Beware!

Also be aware that even after you've signed a contract for some goods or services offered door to door you have 3 business days to change your mind.

According to the In-home Sales Act passed in 1971, all you have to do is mail a statement cancelling the contract to the address of the company you're dealing with by midnight of the third day after the contract was signed. (The address must be stated on the contract in bold type.)

If you change your mind about goods you've bought, put them aside without using them. The sales person must pick them up within 40 days or they're yours to do with as you want. Any money you've paid must be refunded. If it is not, you don't have to give the goods back.

All in-home sales are not covered by this law. Exceptions include insurance sales, sales connected with a pre-existing revolving charge account, sales made at your home after a previous negotiation at the fixed business location of the company or sales made when the sales person is in your home at your request. Requesting a salesman to bring carpet samples to your home for you to choose from is one example of the latter.

Some sales people have been getting around the 3-day option period by placing the signed contract into an envelope, sealing it and instructing the buyer to "put it in a safe place." Always read the contract carefully. Or you may find yourself forced by a legal contract to pay for goods or services you do not want or need.

Agriculture in Action

How Right They Were

On March 15, President Nixon said rigid price controls on meat would not work. He added that such a freeze would discourage supply and lead to black markets and rationing. A few days later, Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz said anyone who favored such a freeze on food would be a "damn fool." Then on March 29, reacting to consumer advocates and labor union leaders, the President did impose a freeze on meat. Then, in mid-June, another freeze was imposed on all items, and the two freezes together proved both Mr Nixon and the Secretary were right in their mid-March statements.

Instead of lowering food prices, the current freeze is resulting in a much lower supply now and in months to come, and will eventually result in much higher prices. This can be seen in the large number of sows and cows going to slaughter. These are breeding animals that would have produced thousands of baby pigs, and hundreds of baby calves that now will never see the light of day. The hundreds of thousands of baby chicks that are being killed, and the even larger amount of eggs not being hatched, will show up in greatly reduced broiler numbers this fall.

Both the consumer and the producer are losers in this game being carried out by officials in Washington. Producers can't afford to produce when it costs more to produce the product than what they can sell it for. They don't have the incentive to produce under such circumstances, and shortages and high prices to consumers are bound to happen.

The ultimate blame for the mess we're in must be at the feet of those consumer advocates and labor union officials who pressured the Administration into placing the freeze on meat and other foods. Somehow, somehow, the consumers of this country must be made aware of those factors that go together to encourage or discourage food production. It could be that the current situation, and subsequent lower supplies of pork, beef, poultry, and dairy products will help make them more aware.

But it's a tough way to learn... tough on both the producer and the consumer.

Bob Peterson and Jack Keys spent a 5-day vacation in southern Tennessee, where they visited the former's brother and sister-in-law, Mr and Mrs Mike Peterson and children, Anne and Michael at Sewanee, northwest of Chattanooga.

Mr and Mrs Peterson are attending classes at the University of the South, located on a 1000 acre campus, where many buildings were constructed of pink sandstone quarried nearby. The entire grounds of the University comprise 10,000 acres.

While in Sewanee, they enjoyed ping pong, basketball, bowling and swimming at the University's gymnasium. They also played golf, viewed the fireworks at night and went on sightseeing trips.

They played games against the University's computer and saw much of the "fantastic" scenery in the surrounding mountains and valleys of Sewanee.

One novel experience was a day spent exploring caves nearby with such points of interest as Horse Cave (non-commercial), Rebels' Rest and Big Mouth Cave.

I made arrangements for a $20,000 line of credit at PCA. I've still got over $5,000 of it waiting for my call.

4-H TALENT SHOW

Clinton County 4-H'ers made an excellent showing at the District 4-H Share the Fun Program July 10 at St. Johns. There were 16 acts from Clinton, Gratiot, Ingham and Eaton Counties. Denise and Darlene Cerny of the Nimble Fingers 4-H Club were selected as a "Blue Ribbon" Act with an excellent performance doing an acrobatic and pom pom routine to the music "You've Got to Be a Football Hero". Only three of the 16 acts received a "Blue Ribbon" rating.

There were four honorable mentions given and Clinton County received two of them. They were: Julie Lake-Sewing Baskets 4-H Club, doing a balanced beam act and a group of Olive 4-H Project members - Cheryl, Neil and Loren Conklin; Chris Fairchild; Mary and Danny Fedewa; Lisa, Leslie, Landon and Lora Foy; Darcie and Beth Ann Hunt doing Mother Goose Tales. The two other Clinton County 4-H talent winning acts of Leslie Ann Fongers of Bengal Community doing a tap dance and the Vining Sisters (Melody, Dawn and Lori) of the Happy Hustlers doing a tap dance routine did not place.

Congratulations are in order for members of the Tall Waggers 4-H Club as Cheryl Gintner's Dog - Star; Lori Webster's Dog - Sam, and Ann Graham's Dog - Prince were recently accepted by the Leader Dogs School for the Blind at Rochester for 12 weeks of further training. The girls have raised these dogs for one year and have spent a lot of loving care in preparing these dogs for leader dog work. Ann Graham's other dog - Charcoal recently graduated as the 3614th leader dog for the blind since the school in Rochester was started. Charcoal is with his new master someplace in Michigan.

Theresa Thelen of the Tall Waggers 4-H Club is donating a litter of 8 Golden Retriever puppies - 4 weeks of age to the Leader Dog Program. An article written by Theresa should be appearing in the Young World section of the State Journal, July 20th issue. Theresa will be telling how she got interested in raising leader dog puppies and about her experiences. We're proud of the accomplishments of these members and their contribution to the community and area.

Charles Green of Elsie and Steve Conklin of DeWitt participated in the Michigan Milk Producer's Association 4-H Dairy Tour last Thursday and Friday, July 12 and 13 in Detroit with about 50 other 4-H dairy members from throughout Michigan. They toured the MMPA facilities, toured the Kroger Dairy Milk Processing Plant and discussed milk marketing orders and how dairy cooperatives operate. As part of the tour they attended a Detroit Tiger - California Angels Baseball game and cheered Detroit on to win 7-6. We'll know later if Charles and Steve placed in the top 15 scores of the written exam covering the areas of the tour.

The dairy 4-H members and leaders had a very interesting and educational meeting July 10 at the Green Meadow Farm in Elsie. The participants learned how to correctly show their animal to the judge, what to look for in judging cattle, and they judged several classes of dairy cows. Also, they were given a demonstration on how to clip and prepare a dairy animal for the show. Eleven members indicated an interest in further judging sessions in preparation for the State 4-H Dairy Judging Contest.

The drawing for the County 4-H Softball playoffs were held with the games to begin the weekend of July 20. All games will be played at St. Johns and Fowler with games to begin at 6:00, 7:30 and 9:00 pm. In the white league the following teams will meet in the first games on July 20: Green Clover and Bengal Community B, Charles Gang and Fowler Busy Bees, Victor and Olive 4-H Boys, Green Acres and Bengal Community A. In the green league the first games will be Olive 4-H Projects and Father Farms Alone, Green Acres and Green Clover.

4-H members, parents and leaders working with the flower project are invited to attend a flower arranging workshop Thursday, July 26, 1:30-3:30 pm at Smith Hall in St. Johns. Mildred Loyster of Saginaw will conduct the program in pointing out how to properly select show specimens, how to condition the plants for travel and show and do some flower arranging. Mrs Loyster will be one of the fair judges so members and parents and leaders are encouraged to attend this meeting. Mrs Loyster is a member of the Michigan Branch of the National Farm and Garden Association.

The Green Acre 4-H Club members will hold a family picnic Sunday, July 22 1:00 pm at St. Johns City Park. Reports were given on 4-H Exploration Day by Steve VanVleet, Gerilyn Faivor and Leslie Veermeech. Jeff VanVleet and Bill Huguels will be attending 4-H Camp, July 29-August 2. Starting in September the club will hold their regular meetings at the Olive Center School on Pratt Road. A committee was appointed to work on the Club Fair Float. The club took over the July 7 glass collection project. Marilyn Rice, 4-H Program Assistant, attended the meeting and offered her assistance to any members or leader with their project or activity. Demonstrations were given by: Karen and Marie Miller on Making Paper Flowers" and a group demonstration by garden members.

The Elsie 4-Corners 4-H members visited the Ovid Nursing Home on July 13 doing several entertainment acts for the people. At their club meeting July 3rd Chris Horak gave a health report on camping. Joe Horak and Margaret Horak gave a demonstration on How To Bake a Cake as "Mr Do and Mrs Don't". Mrs Ray Peck read a letter from Mr Bemelm asking for pen pals with youth from South America. Mrs Marilyn Rice, 4-H Program Assistant attended the meeting and told about her work with the 4-H program.

Anyone interested in going to 4-H Camp at Algonquin Lake will have the choice of attending one of the three remaining weeks of camp this summer. They are July 22-26, July 29-August 2 and August 5-9. The cost of the 4-day camp from after supper Sunday evening to after supper Thursday, is $21.00. Youth do not have to be in 4-H to attend this camp so bring a friend. Additional information and brochures are available from the County Extension Office in St. Johns.

REP DOUGLAS TREZISE
87th District

Probably the most difficult job at this point in the legislative year is to appraise the status of the budget and summarize the state's financial position for the year ahead. As of this writing, I can only guess at what may be the final spending total - and pray that it does exceed revenue.

The sad truth is that the average legislator has very little opportunity to have any input into the budgeting process. His whole contribution is generally a "yes" or "no" vote on a spending bill which is placed before him by the appropriations committees.

The process is this: Early in the year the governor presents his budget message to the legislature. His recommendations are then put into the form of legislative bills. Usually, half of these bills are introduced in the Senate and half in the House of Representatives. They are immediately referred to the appropriations committee of the respective body.

In the Senate that committee consists of 10 members, 6 of whom are Republicans and 4 are Democrats. In the House we have a 17 member committee, consisting of 11 Democrats and only 6 Republicans. Each committee obviously is composed of a political majority favoring the party in which there is a majority of the body as a whole. Thus, the Democrats have a majority in the total House of Representatives and therefore, control the committee and the situation is similar in the Senate where the Republican party dominates except that in the House, the Democrats have stacked the appropriations committee far out of proportion to their majority, which is 60 - 50.

These committees are further broken down in each chamber into sub-committees, each specializing in some phase of the budget such as Public Health, Mental Health, Corrections, Social Services, Higher Education, etc.

On receipt of the various bills embodying the governor's proposals, each of these sub-committees - usually consisting of three members each - begins a series of hearings to evaluate the governor's requests and the needs of the department involved. For instance, while considering the appropriation for higher educational institutions in the state presidents of all of our universities and community colleges or their representatives, appeared before the sub-committee to explain their budget requests. From these interviews, information was put together totaling almost $450 million in state appropriations for higher education.

When this data was presented to the full House of Representatives, it came in the form of two bills, each from 40 to 50 pages long. Still, these bills only outlined the allocations to each institution. In no way was there enough information for me to judge whether the proposed expenditure was too little or too much.

The same general approach was taken to some 18 other appropriation bills. With very little detailed information about the need for the money, we were asked to appropriate operating funds for the 19 state departments, the executive office and for the legislature itself.

So, in facing this task, a legislator learns to use other criteria in reaching a decision. I personally try to evaluate each bill in terms of how much higher than last year's expenditure it is. When we see our state revenues increasing at an average rate of about 7 percent each year, I think we should try to keep increases in spending to that same level. If we don't, we will face increasing taxes within a short period of time.

We can't continue on the present basis of increased spending at a 12 percent clip each year while our revenues go up at 7 percent without heading for serious trouble.

We are coming down to the wire in this whole budget process. Within the next few days our actions will determine whether next year is the year we have to increase tax.s or if we have finally learned to put some restraint on spending to keep it in line with the available money.

Carland News

by Mrs. Pudge Deming

Carland's United Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service met at the home of Mrs Glen Parks this week with 17 members present.

Final plans were completed for the Sloppy-Joe supper that is being held Wednesday July 18 with serving beginning at 5 pm and continuing until all are fed. Other goodies will be on the menu such as ham, potato-salad, baked beans, pie, etc. with each one individually priced upon entrance to the Carland church house where the supper is being held. Baked good will be sold, also.

Mrs Donna Dumond wrote a poem, "What Will I Take With Me, When God Calls Me Home", and read it to the members. She also read another poem, "God's Hall of Fame". A reading from the "Decision" magazine, written by an Indian girl which was of interest to the group as their missionary adoption is of Indian descent; the article was entitled, "Crying Wind".

A family picnic will be held at the Ovid City Park Aug 1 with a potluck supper at 6 pm.

The Reverend Freeman and his wife attended the meeting and he offered the benediction.

Mrs Thelma Goodrich and Mrs Pat Chamberlain helped Mrs Parks serve refreshments before the meeting adjourned.

A baby shower for Mrs Kenneth Putnam and son,

Christopher, was held at the home of Mrs Everette Reneaud this week, given by Mrs Reneaud and her sister, Mrs Robert Krueger at the Reneaud home.

Baby bingo was played with the prizes being awarded to the guest of honor.

Decorations of blue were used in the cake, and other refreshments, as well as on the gifts that Mrs Putnam and son received.

Janet Glenton, a student of Canada and a native of Australia, who has visited many families of this area while visiting the Dale Dumond family, was in our midst again this week before she leaves on a tour of the coast of South America on her way home to Australia.

Mr and Mrs Richard Mead and son Brian of St Johns were entertained at Mrs Mead's parent's home in Carland Saturday evening (July 14) for both their birthdays.

Three-year old Brian sang "Happy Birthday" to his mother and father for the group who met at the Leo Deming home for a dinner party.

Cake decorations followed the color scheme of the fresh cut flowers that were used throughout the house.

Mrs Minnie Hurrell has been transferred from the Owosso Memorial Hospital to the Ovid Convalescent Manor in Ovid.

General Telephone approves contract

NORTON SHORES - General Telephone members of System Council T-3, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, have approved a new two-year contract with the company, General Telephone President Jack Reitze said today. The new contract provides for wage increases which will cost the company approximately $1.5 million during the first year in addition to added fringe benefits.

Retrospective to May 5, 1973, the expiration date of the previous contract, the new agreement includes wage increases ranging from 19 cents per hour to 35 cents per hour for craft employees at the top of their wage schedules. The bargaining units of System Council T-3, IBEW, includes approximately 2,700 employees.

In the area of "fringe benefits," the company boosted its contribution toward hospitalization insurance and liberalized the vacation policy by providing three weeks vacation after eight years of service, rather than the previous nine years in 1973 and four weeks after 18 years beginning in 1974. The new contract settlement is within the Economic Stabilization Act guidelines. Under the terms of the new pact, negotiations may be reopened next May for consideration of wages, pensions and optional items. Formal signing of the new contract by management and union representatives is scheduled to take place at a later date.

GENERAL TELEPHONE serves over 515,000 telephones in 538 Michigan communities in 61 of the state's 83 counties.

Cutting board may be source of food poisoning organisms

EAST LANSING -- Your kitchen cutting board is a potential source of the tiny organisms that cause food poisoning.

You can, however, reduce the danger of transferring bacteria from one food to another, says Ken Stevenson, assistant professor of food science and human nutrition at Michigan State University.

One way is to get rid of your porous wooden cutting board and buy one of the newer plastic cutting surfaces. The nonporous nature of the plastic provides no traps for microorganisms and washes clean easily.

If you use a wooden cutting board, be sure to scrub it thoroughly after every use. Use hot water, plenty of detergent and a stiff brush.

Such cleanliness is very important, Dr Stevenson explains, because microorganisms are present in almost all foods and may be transferred from one to another. Raw chicken, for example, may be con-laminated with the organism responsible for salmonella poisoning. These organisms are normally killed during cooking.

If you cut the chicken on the cutting board, you transfer some of the organisms to the board. If the board is not thoroughly scrubbed before you use it again, the organisms will be passed on to some other food. If transferred to foods which are not cooked, such as salad ingredients, they may cause food poisoning.

Bannister

MRS. ROBERT VALENTINE
Ph. 862-4342

The small village of Bannister had a good old fashioned 4th of July celebration this year. Thousands of people crowded the streets throughout the day. The event was sponsored by the Bannister Business Mens Association. There were game booths and food booths set up by the Ashley and Ovid Lions Clubs, the Bannister Babe Ruth Baseball team, the local 4-H club, the newly formed VFW and Auxiliary, the ZCJB Lodge, and the Ashley Sportsman Club.

The Ashley Volunteer Fire Department provided fire engine rides during the day. Street dancing was another event that took place. Providing the music were the bands of Bill Stripko, Ed Galko and Eddie Fornusik.

A bicycle parade with gayly decorated bicycles of all sizes and shapes was held. Other events took place during the day with the Ashley Marching Band providing music in the evening.

Mr and Mrs Robert Valentine and family held a family reunion at their farm home on the 4th of July. Attending were Mr and Mrs Dale Stone of Lakewood, California, Mr and Mrs Robert Horner and son of Lansing, Mr and Mrs Glen Valentine and family of Atlanta, Georgia, Mr and Mrs Dale Schmidtman and family of Marquette, Mr and Mrs Walter Miller and family of Elsie, Mr and Mrs Ernest Valentine of Brant, Mike Buck and Ron Mead. This was the first time in 20 years that all of the family were together.

Mr and Mrs Donald Hinkley and boys returned from their vacation Friday. They spent time in Canada and New York.

Mr and Mrs Wayne Peck are spending some time with their son Roger and family in New York at this writing.

Chevrolet donates 10 brake assemblies to Career Center

DETROIT - Cars, engines and other automotive equipment that never got a chance to run their first mile on the highway are being put to work by Chevrolet to help build mechanical careers for young men across the country.

The equipment used for testing and research activities are giving "mileage" in vocational schools and high school shops in a program devised by the Chevrolet service operation department. One such example is the donation of 10 disc brake assemblies to the Clinton Area Career Center at St. Johns, Mich.

Hundreds of cars, trucks, engines and other components already have been assigned to schools across the nation and more are being processed, according to Bruce G. Stevens, Chevrolet director of service operations.

"By using these materials to help educate thousands of young people, we are better able to keep students abreast of the state of art in our automobile design," Stevens said. "This training can help them in planning for a career in some automobile field."

Schools receiving the donations must sign an affidavit that the equipment will not be driven. Donation tags are fastened to the units and identification numbers are removed by Chevrolet. Institutions receiving the donations must be non-profit organizations.

The equipment becomes available to schools through Chevrolet's zone offices across the country when it is no longer needed by Chevrolet, Stevens said. Zones keep lists requests for such materials and, when any are available, notify schools.

Since the program began operation, Stevens said, cars, trucks, engines and other items have been assigned to schools in every section of the United States.

Power transmission parts source of many job injuries

A State Labor Department survey shows that approximately 1,200 lost time injuries are suffered by employees on the job each year in Michigan from mechanical power transmission apparatus.

These injuries include over 100 amputations, 80 lacerations and in excess of 50 fractures, according to the department.

Leading sources of injuries are belts, chains, gears, shafts, flywheels and screw augers. Failure to shut off and lock out machinery before making adjustments or repairs was found to be a major cause of being caught in or by transmission parts, the department said.

State safety consultants point out that in addition to locking out machinery to be repaired, transmission parts must be properly guarded in compliance with Michigan safety standards and that employees should remain alert around machines and not wear clothing, gloves or articles which may be caught up in moving parts.

Meeting held for "Meals on Wheels"

ST JOHNS - A group of 20 volunteer deliverers met with members of the board of directors of the "Meals on Wheels" program Friday morning to discuss methods and practices to be followed in dispensing meals.

The meeting, called by President Pauline Warren, was conducted by Maxine Parmalee who is the dietician for Clinton Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Parmalee instructed the volunteers on preparing the meals for transporting to patrons of the program.

The "Meals on Wheels" program began approximately six weeks ago as a service to persons who are unable to prepare their own meals. Patrons to whom service is extended are generally recuperating from a hospital stay, are non-ambulatory or elderly. The plan originated to ensure these persons received at least one hot meal each day.

Deliverers bring each patron's meals to the door of their home around mid-day. Patrons have a choice of ordering one or two meals with the warm meal for noon consumption and a snack for later in the day.

Persons interested in subscribing to the service or for volunteering to assist in the program may obtain further information by contacting Mrs. William (Carole) Chalmers, 224-7515.

Sealed Power has 240 people with one to twenty-seven years seniority who are eligible for vacation pay. These employees will receive $110,000 in vacation pay this year. Here, Sealed Power supervisor, Jack Birdsley, presents vacation pay to machine repair mechanic, John Ryan.

County Senior Citizens hold 3rd Annual Picnic

Clinton County Senior Citizens held their 3rd Annual Picnic at the farm home of Mrs. Erna Sperry.

A large barn was turned into a dining room. On the walls and around the room were many antique tools and implements.

After dinner the guests were invited to tour her house and view her antiques.

She also has a "little red schoolhouse" containing many antique desks and other furnishings reminiscent of the country schools many senior citizens attended.

At the next meeting, July 24, the Owsosso Golden Agers will be guests for a picnic at the City Park and will put on the program.

The Rhythm Band will rehearse July 20 at 9 am at the home of Mrs. Lyle French, 504 S. Swegles St.

Young Family Day set at MSU

August 13 is Young Family Day at Michigan State University, and your family is invited.

Every member of the family will find activities designed especially for him. And there are some activities the whole family joins in together.

involved in choosing among them. "Men's Views - Women's Issues" will be an opportunity to share thoughts and feelings on the changing role of women in today's family and the effects that this change will have on individual members and the family as a whole.

"Is There a Move In Your Future?" will concentrate on the psychological, economic, physical and sociological effects after moving.

Children and youth-only classes running concurrently with the parents-only classes include the preschool experience and for older children, a walking tour of the campus. Children ages 6-12 will explore the planetarium, museum, nature areas and other campus attractions.

The afternoon sessions, 1-2:30, will be a repeat of all the morning classes except "Quality Child Care".

The day's program is an experimental one set up by the family living and 4-H programs of the MSU Cooperative Extension Service. Its aim, says Gail Imig, family living program leader, is to enhance family interaction and strengthen family togetherness.

Children and youth only, "How to Deal with Problem Parents" will try to help children in those perplexing years over 12 to deal with their parents.

For a complete program and registration form, write to Young Family Day, 103 Human Ecology Building, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Michigan 48823.

The day's events are divided into 3 sections: Morning, afternoon and all day. These are broken down into parents-only, children-only and whole-family classes.

Morning activities for the family as a whole include "Family Fun with Sports," "A Family Look at Ecology," and a preschool in which parents are optional. All will run from 9:30 - 11:30 am.

Seven classes including the preschool program, will run all day, 9:30 to 2:30 pm. For the whole family there are "Parent-Child Communication," "Infant Enrichment," and "Toddler Enrichment."

The preschool program will offer children from 3 to 5 years of age a planned program that will include story time, free play, songs and art activities. Whether children come for just the morning, just the afternoon or all day, the charge is $3 for one child, $5 for 2, $7.50 for 3 and $11.50 for each additional child. For those who stay all day, this fee will also cover lunch.

"Parent-Child Communication" is designed for parents and children over 12 years. It will be a day of activities aimed at enriching communication and helping children and parents know each other better.

"Infant Enrichment" will deal with the importance of stimulation in the development of an infant and will show parents how they can provide stimulating experiences. Parents are expected to provide food and

XTRA LOW DISCOUNT

Can you really afford those 'great bargains' at some food stores?

Do you really save on two or three "great bargains" when you pay more than Kroger prices on the balance of your food order?

At Kroger, we have weekly specials, of course. We call them Bonus Bargains and we identify them with an "X". Kroger's Bonus Bargains are real specials made possible by special purchases or manufacturers' allowances or favorable market conditions.

But what about the balance of your food order at Kroger? We believe that our Xtra Low Everyday Discount Prices, which cover the bulk of your food order, are as low or lower than other local food or discount stores. That's why we ask: Can you really afford not to shop Kroger?

X What are Bonus Bargains?

When you see an "X" next to an item in Kroger's ads or stores, it means a Bonus Bargain, good for a limited time and made possible by a special purchase, a manufacturer's allowance or a favorable market condition.

Alive And Well

There's one number the American Cancer Society just loves — 1,500,000. That's the number of Americans alive today who are cured of cancer. And, their ranks could be even greater, says the Society, if everyone understood the importance of an annual physical checkup including cancer tests.

Shepardsville
By Lucille Spencer

There was a good turn out for the Family Day activities at the Shepardsville Church on July 4th. Several odd jobs were taken care of and games were played, even a ball game.

Mrs. Kenneth Fricke of the Price Church brought the report of the Annual Conference held recently at Albion College. She was the alternate delegate and represented both churches.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schultz observed their 65th wedding anniversary, recently. To honor them the church planted a red maple tree in the church yard and placed a red maple tree in their yard in St. Johns.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Squiers and Roger, have returned home after spending a week visiting our nation's capital. Mr. and Mrs. Reinhard Billing attended a family get-together at the park in Grand Ledge on July 4th.

Volunteers are still needed to help in the Vacation Church School to be held the week of July 16-20.

Card of Thanks 30

DEXTER — We would like to take this opportunity to thank all those who sent flowers, cards, food and memorial gifts at the time of the death of our beloved mother, Ethel Dexter. Memoriam 31

HAYNES — In memory of Edna Haynes who passed away 1 year ago July 14, 1972.

In His arms God bore our Mother,
To a land so far away,
No one knows how much we miss her,
Time may heal a heart that's broken,
But the scar is always there.

Export restrictions may lead to food shortage says Farm Bureau head

LANSING -- Export restrictions on soybeans, cottonseed and their by-products was called "an outright attempt to reduce farm production costs at the expense of other farmers" by Michigan Farm Bureau president Elton R. Smith.

According to the farm spokesman, this decision to increase restrictive controls will move the country closer to a critical food shortage. "The best agricultural food policy for the producer, the consumer, and the country, is no price controls at any level," he stated.

Smith said the 60-day price freeze on food prices at the processing, wholesale and retail levels is forcing a cutback on poultry, beef and pork production by producers who cannot recover production costs.

"THE IMPOSITION of a restriction on the export of livestock feeds represents another political action in an effort to correct earlier economic mistakes, and is just one more example of the ineffectiveness of wage and price controls as a solution to the inflation problems," Smith said. "Further imposition of economic controls will only lead to more restrictions, price freezes, wage freezes, and the destruction of the free enterprise system."

The Farm Bureau president stated that foreign exchange gained from soybean sales allows Americans to purchase needed products, such as petroleum, which is in short supply here.

"Limitations on exports will severely affect our position in world trade and may intensify our serious balance of payments problems. We are part of a world economy, and we must live in such an economy," he said.

To be sentenced on drug charge

ST. JOHNS -- Gary Coleman, 22, 2800 Northeast St, Lansing, will appear in Circuit Court July 23 to be sentenced for possession of drugs.

He was charged with possession of Phencyclidine (PCP).
