Junk cars: going, going...

Focusing of public attention on the junk car problem in Clinton County is proving effective in helping get rid of the blight, Asst. Zoning Administrator Bill Coffey reported this week.

Since the zoning department began to publicize and clamp down on junk cars about two months ago, both the number of new complaints and the number of old violators has dropped off appreciably.

"We were getting three to four complaints a week pertaining to junk cars," Coffey said.

"But now we've only had one in the last two weeks."

He attributed part of the success of his department's cleanup drive to local publicity which pointed out in word and picture what the problem really was.

"PEOPLE BECAME AWARE that we can't any longer let it exist, and I don't believe a lot of them considered how much of a problem there really was until they saw it pictured and then began to look around for themselves," Coffey said Friday. "To just drive around and see it in your own neighborhood you can never realize what is happening all over a county."

What was a growing problem two months ago has now become a diminishing problem—but a problem nevertheless. Complaints of junk cars are still received by the zoning office, and violators are still being summoned to court because of it.

"As a whole people have been real co-operative," Coffey said. "Some of the people I never thought would get the message have gotten it."

"I have had a lot of comments from people traveling up and down US-27 about how some of these bad spots were cleaning up. I had two people in the area I didn't have to say a thing to, except thanks. They took it on themselves to do it. After seeing one area cleaned up they found out how nice it looks."

"BUT WE'RE GOING TO HAVE to continue using some force," Coffey continued. "Enforcement will have to continue because there are those who will ignore it to the very end otherwise. The majority are going along with

P-W calls new vote on millage

PEWAMO-WESTPHALIA—Another attempt will be made for passage of a three-mill operating tax levy in the Pewamo - Westphalia Schools district on Aug. 28, according to Supt. William Steinke.

The school board set the same three-mills request as was rejected by the voters in the annual election June 12.

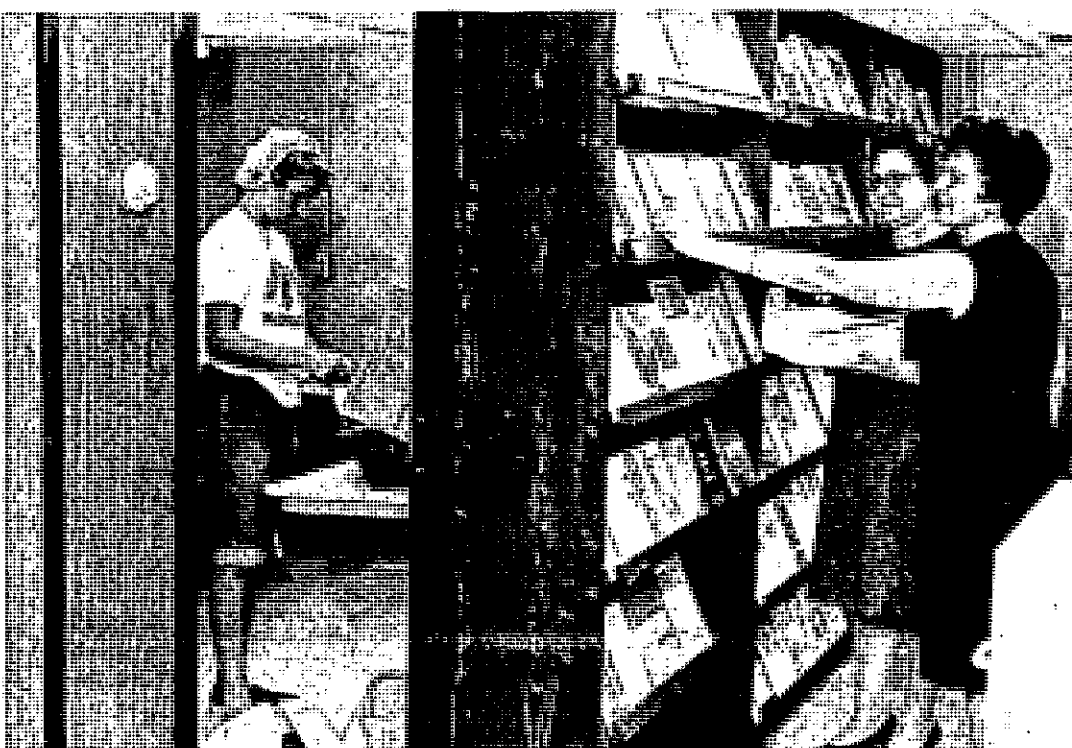

At the time the three-mills extra operating request lost 218 to 187.

It was the unanimous decision of the board to resubmit the millage issue at a special election, as a thorough study of the budget and the finances of the district for the 1967-68 school year show the need for the additional revenue to continue the current services and educational program.

Increases in teachers' salaries and all phases of school operational costs plus the addition of three new staff members will hike next year's total budget almost $40,000 over the 1966-67 fiscal year's budget.

The special millage election has been set for Aug. 28 in the high school building. The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. To be eligible to vote on the proposed millage increase, the voter must be registered with his township clerk by 5 p.m. Friday, July 28.

A public hearing of the Pewamo - Westphalia School district budget will be held Aug. 14.

EXTENSION OFFICE IN NEW QUARTERS

Mary Libey (closest to camera) and Julia Miller, clerks in the Clinton County Extension office, fill up new racks with brochures and pamphlets Monday as the Extension staff continued to straighten up after moving to new quarters in the remodeled basement of the welfare building on South Oakland Street. In the other room, 4-H member Ginger Simpson lends a helping hand by emptying boxes.

DeWitt man 4th fatality

Frank E. Burtraw, 87, of West Howe Road, R-1, DeWitt, became Clinton County's fourth accident fatality of 1967 Monday.

He was the driver of a car which was struck by a Greyhound bus at the intersection of Airport and West Grand River roads shortly after 10 a.m. He was dead on arrival at a Lansing hospital.

The bus driver, Lawrence J. McGinnity, 58, of Dearborn, and six of his passengers were injured and required hospitalization. According to the state police none was seriously hurt, although McGinnity suffered a broken leg.

THE BURTRAW vehicle was northbound on Airport Road and the Greyhound bus was westbound on Grand River at the time of the mishap, the state police report notes.

In a statement given to the state police, McGinnity said he noticed the Burtraw car stopped on Airport Road to let an east-bound car pass on Grand River.

Then Burtraw drove his auto onto the highway into the path of the oncoming bus, McGinnity stated in the report.

McGinnity said he blew the horn and applied the brakes, but to no avail.

State police mentioned there was one contributing factor in causing the mishap. The railroad overpass east of the accident location blocks the view of oncoming traffic.

WHERE ACCIDENT HAPPENED

NEWELL HUGUELET ON A PERFECT DAY FOR FARMING

Newell Huguelet of 3121 W. Pratt Road cultivates a field Friday afternoon on a weatherwise perfect day for being out-of-doors. Turning a gold bronze color in the background is a field of wheat almost ready for harvest, while nearer to the camera green leaves of prospering corn plants push upward promising, too, a bountiful harvest that farmers all over the county are expecting this year.

School, too, to borrow—up to $350,000

The St. Johns School Board joined the family of local money borrowers last week, joining the City of St. Johns in the County of Clinton as local governments in need of operating funds.

The school board passed a resolution to borrow up to $350,000 so the school district can operate until school aid money is received, the first installment of which won't come until late August.

Because of a money shortage at the state level, school districts aren't able to get advances on next year's state aid as they used to, so the school board had to turn elsewhere to get the needed money. School districts all over the state are doing the same thing.

THE DISADVANTAGE of it is the necessity of paying interest on the money. St. Johns will borrow its necessary funds from the Clinton National Bank and Trust Co. of St. Johns which offered the best bid of 3.85 per cent for up to $350,000.

The money will be borrowed only as needed, and interest will be paid only for the amount and period the money is used.

Henry Enoch, business manager for the school district, explained that schools have only two sources of income—tax money and state aid. Tax money isn't received until the school fiscal year is half over, and first state aid money doesn't come along for a couple of months. Now that school districts can't get an advance on their state aid, the only alternative is to borrow.

TACKLING ANOTHER knotty problem at its regular meeting last Wednesday, the school board began investigation into new water and septic field problems at the new school sites at Riley and East Olive.

At Riley, drillers reached water 147 feet below the surface, but it is coming out of red sandstone formation which promises a rust problem if that water is used. School officials said a water softener could be added to the plans and this would be able to handle the rust.

But, they decided first to check on wells on surrounding farms to see how deep farmers there are going and what quality of water they're getting. The board may consider drilling deeper in an effort to come up with a better quality of water.

The Riley Elementary Neighborhood School is being built at the corner of Pratt and Lowell roads in Riley Township.

RAYMOND PARR

All St. Johns school board officers were reelected last Wednesday to serve in those positions for another year. Raymond Parr will serve again as president of the board, while Fred Meyer will be secretary and Alden Livingston treasurer. Other members of the board are Don East, Bill Richards Jr., Leon Schumaker and Wendell Waggoner.

decided to build on Green Road. At that time, both tests showed the land suitable for a septic field.

Board members Leon Schumaker, Wendell Waggoner and Alden Livingston were named to a special committee to look into the problem along with architect C. Douglas Pardee, his engineering firm of Dean, Fairbrother and Gunther of Grand Rapids, and state and county health officials.

It is believed the wet spring of this year is adversely affecting the percolation tests, but the school board is awaiting the results of their committee's study before making any decision on how to handle the problem.

THE BOARD formally approved a new septic tank and field at the Eureka school. Previously they had planned on using the present septic system and building a new, smaller one for the new addition. Under the new plan they will abandon the old system and install a new septic tank and drain field to handle

Big Sickles Street project starts after city, school agree

Work will begin next week on a $67,489.85 project of installing storm sewer, sanitary sewer, curb and gutter, sidewalk and street pavement to a two-block area of Sickles Street near the city park.

The improvements will be of direct benefit to the new high school which is now under construction south of Sickles.

The St. Johns City Commission awarded the street improvements contract last Tuesday night, July 11, to Smith Engineers and Excavators, which was low bidder. The approval came at a joint meeting with the school board in which the school board agreed to share in the cost of the improvements.

THE FOLLOWING evening the school board met in their regular session and set a dollar figure of $33,041.39 which they will pay.

The Sickles Street project involves 3,314 lineal feet of curb and gutter, which is being figured at an approximate cost per foot of $7.94. The school owns 1,233 feet of frontage on Sickles and will pay $8,790.02. Private property along the street totals 1,361 feet and would be assessable for $11,907. The city owns about 720 feet and would pay $5,724.80 of the total cost.

A seven-foot-wide sidewalk will be constructed down the south side of the street from Lansing Street to the school's circle drive, with the school cost on that to be $1,463.70.

The school also figured in $1,233 as its share of the paving of Sickles Street should the city commission decide to adopt a new policy of assessing for street paving. (Action on that policy was to have been taken at the city commission meeting Tuesday night; no decision had been made at press time.)

TOTAL STORM DRAIN cost on Sickles Street will be $18,140.67, and the schools agreed to accept about 80 per cent of the cost of that because most of the water run-off in that area is from school property. The school's share would then be $15,419.67, while other private property would pay $1,814 and the city at-large would pay $1,814 also.

The total sanitary sewer bid was $16,905.40, with 41 units of benefit being assigned along the street. The school will get 15 units of benefit at $409 each for a total share of $6,135. Private property will pay $7,498 for 18 units of benefit, and the city at-large will pay $3,272.

The city at-large will pay

$1,842 for fire hydrants to be installed in the area.

Not involved in the construction contract are probable water tap fees for hooking into a 10-inch main already installed in the area.

Normal city procedure is to assign units of benefit charges in lieu of not having paid a special assessment; these charges are paid as additional tap fees equal to the number of units of benefit the property would normally have paid if it had been assessed when the water main was installed. The school land would be assigned seven units of benefit under that plan and would be charged a total of $2,198 in water tap fees. This would be over and above the $33,041.39 which they agreed last week to pay.

Junk cars . . .

it fine, but then you'll find one or two in every area that you'll have to go ahead and sign a complaint against."

Coffey said he had seven property owners in one block last week that he was afraid he would have to start legal proceedings against, and he was hoping he wouldn't have to. "People can accomplish an awful lot more if they work with each other rather than against each other."

So far since the crackdown on junk car violators began, 22 warrants have been issued. Most of the violators have been summoned to appear before Justice of the Peace Gordon Willoughby, and fines were necessary.

Sometimes the mere threat of a fine has worked wonders.

"I knew one gentleman who had truckloads and truckloads of junk," Coffey recalled, "and I had been onto him for quite a while and trying to work with him. He went to Florida and came back, and so I had to use a little bit of tactical force on him."

"WHEN HE GOT THROUGH WITH the guy, the judge asked if I'd go out and look the place over, which I do when he gets through, and if I feel satisfied then I report back to the judge."

"I was a little bit leary, because the gentleman had been quite hot under the collar, and it cost him quite a bit—not in the fine at the time but in having all this stuff taken care of. So I went out and stopped, because I thought it was the proper thing to personally thank him."

"At first he wasn't very talkative and a little red in the face, and I was a little hesitant myself."

"Then we got to talking and he was telling me how much it cost, and he was showing me around his yard and his barn area, and he appeared to be rather proud of his own yard. But he didn't want to tell me this."

"He had parked his boat where it had been two or three feet high in weeds and junk. But now he had it all dragged, disked and everything, and he had his boat and another boat and trailer sitting out there, and it all looked nice and neat."

Coffey said the cleanup cases are all working out fine, and most people have been real nice about it. In most people it has brought out a sort of inherent pride in their own area and seeing it cleaned up, he said.

JUNK CARS ARE LEAVING the county, and Coffey reported talking with a number of people who have seen junkers going by their homes on the way to Lansing. "So we know this drive is working," he said.

Going with the junk cars is a lot of other rubbish and refuse.

The worst area in the county yet is around Park Lake, Coffey said, but it, too, is cleaning up its junk cars.

"This drive is not just a two or three-month thing," he said, "and it will need the cooperation of everybody all the time."

St. Johns has junk car, refuse cleanup problem, too

The junk car problem isn't unique to the rural Clinton County area alone. The City of St. Johns has the same sort of conditions to tend with, and not only is it no fun for the administrators of the city laws but it's costly too.

"Why should we have to go around and knock on doors and embarrass people in trying to get rid of junk cars, rubbish, this and that?" City Clerk Don Clark asked. Not only is it a time-consuming thing, but it's downright costly, he pointed out, especially with the city forced into an austerity budget for this year because of a 10-mill limitation.

The City of St. Johns has no junk car ordinance as such, but those old autos, as well as rubbish, weeds, etc., are legally referred to in the city law book as a public nuisance.

Clark appealed to residents of the city to help get rid of their own and neighborhood eyesores by picking up and cleaning up. Cooperation, too, from industries and other properties along highways and railroads can go a long way toward sharpening up the looks of a city.

Clark said he expects more emphasis will be placed on clean-up of the city with the recent formation of a beautification committee. He asked violators of the city's public nuisance law to clean up their properties, saying it would be much more pleasant for the violator than having to face the beautification committee or the municipal judge.

Junk cars themselves can be taken to the city sanitary landfill north of town, but they first must be cut into flat pieces that will pack down nicely. Intact car hulls will not be accepted.

Courtesy takes no more trouble than rudeness. Just more class.

New DDD equipment readied

Installation of additional Direct Distance Dialing equipment to provide a 50 per cent expansion in the St. Johns office of General Telephone has been announced by William Graef, district manager. The project will also include an additional operator position designed exclusively for number identification of direct distance callers.

Cost of the new equipment, scheduled to be in operation about July 20, is $43,900. In addition to St. Johns, it will improve long distance direct dialed service in Carson City, Ashley, Fowler, Hubbardston, Maple Rapids, Midleton, Muir, Palo, Pewamo, Pompei together with other companies' exchanges of Crystal and Westphalia.

Engineering of the new equipment was begun in 1965 when forecasts indicated a rapid increase in demand for direct distance dialing service. Before manufacture of equipment was begun, it was necessary to double the number of units. Direct distance dial calls through St. Johns are now averaging 2,970 per day in addition to the 1,600 calls handled by operators.

No apparent injuries occur

An auto driven by Fred Louis L'esperance, 27, of Grosse Pointe Park, was struck from behind by a car driven by Charles Say Main, 55, of 2916 S. Cambridge, Lansing, Sunday.

The mishap occurred on US-27 near the Webb Road intersection as the L'esperance vehicle slowed for a U-turn across the median.

There were two passengers in the L'esperance auto—Margaret Lobert, 32, of Highland Park and Rita L'esperance, 24, of the same address as the driver's.

MRS L'ESPERANCE complained of being injured but was not admitted to a hospital. The passenger of the second car, Robin June, 9, of Locust Lane, and the driver, Main, were not injured.

FRIENDS, NEIGHBORS CLEAN US-27 ROADSIDE

If the roadside along busy US-27 between Hyde and Maple Rapids roads looked any cleaner over the weekend, it's probably because members of the Friends and Neighbors 4-H Club made it that way. Eight boys and girls of the club spent last Thursday afternoon picking up paper, bottles, cans and exhaust pipes from the roadside. Lee Thelen and Jim McQueen in the truck deposit the refuse being handed in by (front to back from camera) LuAnne Thelen, Lori McQueen, Joe Thelen, Connie Burnham, Deanne Jorae and Cheryl Clark. Mrs George McQueen, leader of the club, drove the truck. Returnable bottles picked up helped out the club treasury.

NFO still fighting injunction

Clinton County NFO members were told July 8 the National Farmers Organization will continue to fight a government injunction brought last spring following an almost nationwide milk withholding action.

Eldene Jones, director from Charlotte, informed the county group on the progress of the federal injunction. He said government attorneys gave the NFO the choice of fighting the injunction or have the government drop charges and settle for a permanent injunction.

"A permanent injunction would destroy all rights for the NFO to bargain as a unit," he said. "So we are going to fight LBJ."

JONES CLAIMED there is no progress on the situation now because "the government is stalling the legal battle by claiming to be gathering evidence."

Charles Wadell, Clinton NFO grain chairman, reported NFO "in position" grain sales were gaining momentum. Through "in position" grain sales, wheat was sold for as high as $1.04 per bushel and a recent soybean sale brought the farmers in excess of $2.90 per bushel, he said.

Elmo Giffels, Clinton County farmer, reported getting that price last week on truckload of soybeans delivered to Toledo. Deducted was 13 cents a bushel for trucking, three-quarters of a cent for brokerage and 1 cent for the NFO.

Paul Love, dairy chairman, reported Phase II of the milk holding action is progressing well. Some very large processors are processing milk for NFO now and more are signing up, he said. Albin Rust, national dairy commodity director, was reported as saying he is sure Class II milk will get a 40 cents per hundredweight raise.

Pedestrian struck by auto

A pedestrian was struck by an auto on US-27 near the intersection of Clark Road in DeWitt Township Friday.

Harry Jenkins, 49, of R-4, Lansing, was hit by a car driven by Celia Catherine Drake, 18, of R-4, Clare, as he was attempting to cross the highway.

Although he complained of injury, Jenkins declined to be taken to a doctor for examination.

Dog causes minor accident

Carl Foust, 17, of 320 Union Street, Ionia, while driving his car on Price Road near the intersection of Williams Road in Olive Township, swerved to miss a dog on the road and crashed into the ditch Wednesday, July 12.

The lone passenger, John Clark, 16, of 119 Lafayette, Ionia, was not injured, nor was the driver.

In other business last Wednesday evening:

"The board accepted low net bids totaling $3,100 for 11 new Royal typewriters from Owosso Office Supply and four new IBM typewriters from IBM Corp in Lansing. All are electric typewriters."

"The board voted to switch from an iron flag pole to an aluminum flag pole for the new high school. The aluminum pole will cost $231 more, but the board made the decision to avoid every-other-year painting of an iron pole. High school architect Guido Blinda of Battle Creek suggested the change."

"THE SCHOOL calendar for the coming year was amended in order to comply with a new state law. Spring vacation, which was to have run from March 15-22 next year, has been eliminated. The only "vacation" next spring, as a result, will be Good Friday and the Monday immediately following Easter—a four-day weekend."

The board made the cut as an alternative to accepting less state financial aid or extending the school year. A full allotment of state aid used to be based on 180 "membership" days. Under the old calendar the board had scheduled 180 membership days but only 177 attendance days.

School classes will start Sept 11 for all students, and the last day of school next spring will be June 7, 1968.

"A request from the Greenbush Township Board to use the abandoned Union Home School at DeWitt and Maple Rapids roads for a township meeting place was tabled."

"The board approved a contract with the St. Johns Bus Drivers Assn. that included two basic changes from last year. The salary range increased from between $1,400 and $1,700 last year to between $1,400 and $1,800 this year. A sick leave clause was also added providing for five days of sick leave per year. The contract was still subject to approval by the bus drivers."

No '67-'68 budget for schools yet

The St. Johns School District will be operating for awhile this year without a budget.

The fiscal year began July 1. School officials pointed out that until last week there was no word from the Legislature concerning how much state aid to education there would be, and there were also a lot of up-in-the-air spending matters at the local level, including teacher salaries, Teacher negotiations are resuming.

"It's too difficult yet to get an accurate budget," the officials said. "There are too many aspects that must be cleared up."

DRIVER DRAWS TICKET

Burton K. Kramer, 49, of 1007 S. Swegles Street was ticketed for improper backing after he backed his auto out of a parking space in front of the L & L Restaurant in downtown St. Johns Saturday evening and hit a car driven by Gary L. Boettger, 23, of 406 W. Baldwin.

HUBCAPS STOLEN

Mrs J. M. Grost of 804 W. Park Street told city police Friday that someone stole hub caps off a car and damaged one of the tires in so doing while the car was parked in her driveway that evening.

Fowler soldier tells of rescue

'The bullet didn't really hurt at first'

A seriously wounded Pfc James L. Rademacher, 19, of Fowler was dramatically rescued by a helicopter while under Viet Cong gun fire in the Mekong Delta of South Vietnam June 19. He described the excitement in a letter home.

"I still remember everything that happened on the 19th of June just as if I was right there again. I think of it every day. I remember everything that was said and done during that time. Every night before I fall asleep, I think of it, of how scared I was and how the bullet and everything felt. I will never forget that as long as I live.

"The bullet didn't really hurt at first. In my hand, at the time, I couldn't even feel a thing. It felt like it had no feeling at all. And my chest gave me a funny feeling all over like I was going to die; it kind of knocked the wind out of me, and my body felt numb all over. Then finally it started to hurt and breathing was a little hard, but I was so scared.

"The blood was running all over the ground into a little puddle that was there and finally the water was all red and my head was laying in that. I couldn't move because it hurt and I was afraid the VC's would shoot at me again and really put an end to everything.

"I just had to lay there. No one could help me because the VC's were shooting right over my head and I was too much in the open. I just kept yelling for help and my buddies, behind cover, just watched me. There was nothing they could do at the time and then finally a helicopter gunship came in and started to shoot rockets and mine guns at the VC's.

"That was when my squad leader, a friend and a medic came out to me, but the VC's were still shooting at us. The medic and the squad leader pulled me to some cover about 30 yards away. There I waited a while. Then a helicopter landed right beside me. They put me on that and flew me to Saigon where I went into the operating room right away.

"A lot of guys laid out there for about 10 to 15 hours. The helicopter couldn't land because four of them were shot down. Why the helicopter landed for me I don't know. The pilot took a hell of a chance just for me. I was the first one to get out of there so I guess God was really with me that day and I am lucky to be alive today. The bullet would have killed me if it had went just one more inch to the left (it would have hit my heart), so I thank God every day.

"What the army is going to do with me now, I don't know. I imagine I will probably go back to Vietnam. But I keep praying that they will send me back to the States where it is safe."

Pfc Rademacher is the son of Mr and Mrs Leonard P. Rademacher of Tallman Road, R-2 Fowler. His address now is: Pfc James L. Rademacher / US 54962421 / U.S. Army Hospital / Camp Zama, Japan / APO, San Francisco, Calif. 96343.

4 persons hurt in city collision

Four persons were injured—and three of them were hospitalized—in a two-car collision Monday evening at Park Street and South Clinton Avenue in St. Johns.

Hospitalized but all in good condition Tuesday morning at Clinton Memorial Hospital were the three occupants of one of the cars—Mark Bennett, 16, of 210 S. Church Street, St. Johns, who was the driver; JoAnn Van-Elten, 15, of R-1, Elsie; and Kurt Knight, 17, of 207 S. Swegles Street, St. Johns. All suffered cuts and bruises.

Complaining of pains as a result of the crash was the other driver, Robert W. Fawcett, 38, of the Steel Hotel.

The accident occurred about 8:30 p.m. City police reported Fawcett was driving south on Clinton and his car was hit in the left side by Bennett's westbound auto. Yield right-of-way signs govern traffic on Clinton Avenue at the intersection.

Two injured, hospitalized

Two people were hospitalized and in fair condition after a collision involving a double-bottom tractor-trailer and pickup truck Monday.

Russell Lee Shively, 32, of 2075 Traver Street, St. Johns, and his son, Russell L. Shively Jr., 12, of 304 W. Williams Street, Ovid, were injured when the pickup in which they were riding struck the larger vehicle.

They were taken to Clinton Memorial Hospital where at last report, they were listed in fair condition.

The driver of the gravel truck, Leo Joseph Przeslawski, 48, of 435 Prairie Street, Charlotte, was not injured.

The accident, which is still under investigation, occurred at the intersection of US-27 and Livingston Road, Greenbush Township.

Injured taken to county hospital

A car driven by Raymond Herbert Lefton, 36, of R-2, DeWitt, was struck by another car driven by Muriel Donald Smith, 44, of 1889 S. Alger, Ithaca, last Thursday, July 13, on US-27 at the intersection of Stoll Road in DeWitt Township.

Lefton, driver of the first car, was going to make a left turn from the highway onto Stoll Road when the second car driven by Smith, ran into the stopped vehicle.

Smith said he did not see the auto ahead of him. Lefton was injured and taken to Clinton Memorial Hospital.

Ovid accident not harmful

Planners table 2 city topics

The St. Johns Planning Commission met last Thursday night, but did not make any recommendations that are to be forwarded to the city commission for action.

A request from Lyle Huntoon for rezoning of his service station property on West State Street was discussed, and the commission decided to set up an informal hearing with property owners in that area to determine whether it might be better to rezone the whole area rather than one parcel.

A request for a recommendation on whether the city should sell a chunk of its parking lot on West Walker Street to the Post Office Department was discussed and then tabled.

Open Letter from VAN W. HOAG

Dear Friends,

The soundest advice in funeral matters is to select a competent, trustworthy funeral director well in advance of need. When death occurs, the stress of emotions makes it difficult to think clearly and leaves little time for investigation and comparison. A funeral director performs a most intimate and personal service.

Hubbardston youth drowns in Maple River

HUBBARDSTON—Daniel Gerard Barrett, 17, of rural Hubbardston, drowned in the Maple River near the Tallman Road bridge in Lebanon Township, about 8 p.m. last Tuesday, July 11.

According to state police reports, Barrett was swimming with four companions, Donald E. Coleman, 16, and Marshall D. Coleman, 16, both of Warner Road, R-2 Carson City; Gregory D. Tiffany, 11, of Greenville; and Felix Franco, 11, of Lansing, at the time of the mishap.

Three of the boys, Barrett and the two Coleman youths, were swimming from the north bank of the river to the south bank when young Barrett shouted he was tiring and could go no further, Donald Coleman said in a statement given to the Clinton County Sheriff's office.

THE COLEMAN youths then grabbed for Barrett and tried to buoy him across the water, according to the same report. Barrett kept going under and at least three times, Coleman stated in the report, he and his brother brought him back to the surface.

Barrett began to panic and fight with his rescuers, they said, and the Colemans, tiring under the ordeal, lost their grip on Barrett and he went down for the last time.

The two boys dived for Barrett, but were unable to locate him in the murky water, Coleman told the sheriff's office.

Deputy Richard May was dispatched to the scene, and then deputies Hilary Hafner and Fred Corson were called in. They, along with three state police scuba divers, were sent to recover the body.

Trooper David G. Townsend from the Ionia State Police post located the victim about 10 p.m. Clinton County Coroner Van Hoag said death was due to drowning. The body was taken to the Dodge Funeral Home at Midland.

Letter from exchange student Dottie Jenkins

She sees fireworks on the 4th-in Finland

DOTTIE JENKINS

(Editor's Note: Dottie Jenkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Lester Jenkins of South Baker Street, is spending two months this summer in Denmark under the auspices of the Youth for Understanding student exchange program. This is her first report on some of her experiences there.)

By DOTTIE JENKINS

Well, here I am (July 11) in Denmark, and I'm having a wonderful time! I, along with 165 other American students heading for both Denmark and Finland, left Detroit Metropolitan Airport at 7 p.m. of June 23, and we arrived in Copenhagen at 8 a.m. the next morning. Here the students going to Finland left us, and the 65 remaining students were taken through customs. This marked the beginning of our two-day orientation which consisted of a reception by the lord mayor of Copenhagen, a speech by a member of the Danish parliament about the structure of the Danish society, a tour of the city, and an evening spent in Tivoli Amusement Park, which is a beautiful place. It has more than just the rides that our amusement parks have; it also has gardens, restaurants and sidewalk cafes, dancing, and plays put on free of charge. We stayed to see the fireworks at 11:30, which signaled the closing of the park.

THAT NIGHT we stayed in a youth hostel in Lyngby, a suburb of Copenhagen. A youth hostel is a place for youth who are traveling either by foot or on bicycle through the country. It only cost 90 cents American money, and each meal is 60 cents.

The next day we met our families. There are five people in my family—mother and father; Merete, 18; Anne-Marie, 16; and Hanne, 14. They took me to their home, which would also be mine for the next two months. It is a fairly large house with a patio, a large back yard and rose gardens.

On Wednesday, June 28, my family, (except for father) and I left for a two-week trip through Denmark. We took tents and other camping equipment and camped at family camps along the way. These camps would compare with our own state parks. The condition they are in depends solely on the owner, though, and some of the camps we were in were not very nice, while others were excellent.

WE WENT TO Odense and saw the house Hans Christian Andersen lived in. On July 4 we went to the Rebtel Festival. Rebtel is a town in the middle of Jutland, and it is the only place in Denmark where American independence is celebrated. The flags of our 50 states were flying along with our own Stars and Stripes and Danish flag. There were two military bands, one American and one Danish, and more Americans than I will probably see during the rest of my visit. The Prime Minister of Denmark, the American ambassador and Walter Cronkite were the main speakers of the day. Everything was so exciting.

After that day, we drove north to "the branch." It is the northern most point of Denmark where the North Sea on the west meets the Kattegat on the east. It is called "the branch" because there is a small piece of land that extends out into the sea. Later that day I went swimming in the North Sea. It was very cold, but the waves were big and we had fun in them.

This part of Denmark—the northern part of Jutland—reminded me very much of Northern Michigan. The soil is very sandy, pine trees grow and it is cold and windy. We returned to Charlottenlund last Sunday after a very interesting trip through a country which has made me feel very much at home.

THE PEOPLE here are very friendly and very interested in America. My family speaks English almost as they speak Danish. I am learning some Danish, though, and I can put simple sentences together without too much difficulty. But I frequently use a wrong word which means something very different from what I mean, and this sends my sisters into laughter. But they make a few mistakes, too. I miss all my friends terribly, but I'm meeting so many new friends and being kept so busy my time just flies by. I hope you are all having a wonderful summer.

The House of Representatives

LESTER J. ALLEN
STATE REPRESENTATIVE
NORTH DISTRICT

Last week the Legislature gave final approval to the budget to cover state expenditures during the next fiscal year. The total state budget totals $1.1 billion. With revenue for the 1967-68 fiscal year expected to total about $1.2 billion, the newly approved budget is tight and leaves little room for miscalculation on expected costs. Republican legislators have exerted every effort to make sure this year's programs will not out-strip revenue.

Despite the budgetary restrictions imposed by the late passage of fiscal reform, improvement in some essential state services has been possible because of the newly revised state tax structure. The House-Senate compromise on education allocates $303.2 million for school aid, $5.5 million above last year. Higher education appropriations are $11.5 million higher than last year, at $244.6 million. The next highest appropriation figure approved is for mental health and social services; $131.2 million for mental health ($11.9 higher than last year), and $165 for social services ($28.1 more than 1966-67).

HOUSE AND SENATE conferees reached agreement on a medicaid bill (SB-110) which follows Governor Romney's requests for a slow-down in the medical assistance program, made when it became apparent that the costs of the plan were far outstripping money allocated for it by the 1966 Legislature. Implementation is delayed on certain provisions of the Medicaid program not required at this time for federal matching funds, and a provision added that is necessary for federal assistance. The federal government had indicated that Michigan might lose federal Medicaid funds unless physician services for medically indigent persons were added to the program.

The state Medicaid budget for next year is $65.7 million. Federal matching funds will put the total Michigan Medicaid budget at $131.5 million for fiscal 1967-68.

SALE OF LIQUOR on Sunday was apparently sent to final defeat for this session last week. The Senate had attached Sunday liquor to a House bill, but withdrew its amendments when the house refused to accept them.

Removal of the omnibus Senate liquor amendments returned the bill (HB-2869) to its original form, which prevents beer and wine wholesalers from selling directly to consumers and thus creating unfair competition with retailers.

Under the withdrawn proposal, county boards of supervisors would have been permitted to authorize Sunday sales in establishments doing over 50% of their business in the sale of food. The concept is seen as aimed primarily at enhancing convention business in Detroit.

GOVERNOR GEORGE Romney exercised his veto power for the first time this year on a measure which would have expanded the authority of county boards of road commissioners to include long-range transportation planning. The governor said the measure would have given county road boards too much autonomy and too little responsibility to other branches of county government.

After being vetoed, the bill was returned to the House and tabled. It is possible that an effort may be made to pass it again over the Governor's veto when the Legislature returns for final adjournment the first three days of August.

Scout Leader Robert Cartwright and Boy Scouts David Fitzpatrick and Ted Cartwright disembark from a bus Saturday afternoon after returning from Northwoods Scout Camp where all three received the honorary Order of the Arrow award as outstanding Scouts and campers.

2 Scouts, leader get O-A award

Two St. Johns Boy Scouts and one adult leader were tapped-out for the Order of the Arrow last week at the Northwoods Summer Camp for Scouts from St. Johns Troop 81.

Honored were Scouts Ted Cartwright and David Fitzpatrick and Scout Leader Robert Cartwright.

The Order of the Arrow is a national brotherhood of Scout campers. Its purpose is to recognize those campers who best use the Scout oath and law in their daily lives. The honor is not one which a Scout can set out to earn but is given by fellow campers when the person proves himself to be an outstanding Scout and good camper.

SEVERAL BOYS earned merit badge awards, while at camp. Randy Atkinson and Mark Munger earned badges in cooking and fishing, and Ted Cartwright got one in cooking. The awards were earned toward their next advancement of Star Scout.

The following boys from Troop 81 returned Saturday from a week of camp at Northwoods, located near West Branch:

Mark DeBoer, Lee Thurston, Lynn Thurston, Kim Brewbaker,

Martin Brewbaker, Greg Faught, Randy Atkinson, Mark Munger, Bill Bearndt, David Fitzpatrick, Bill Jolley, Barry Knight, Jack Neller, Lowell Boyce, Maynard Boyce, Tom Burk, Alan Henning, Mike Butler, Joe Elser, John LaChappelle, Terry McDermid and Ted Cartwright. Leaders attending were Gerry Atkinson and Robert Cartwright.

The boys survived the hardest storm at Northwoods since the camp has been open to Boy Scouts. On Tuesday afternoon, July 11, the wind began to blow about 5:30 and it was accompanied by hail and then a steady rain for about an hour. Many trees were uprooted in the camping area and the tops blown out of others, but there were no casualties.

Envision 4-diamond Little League park

Clustered fields to be started soon

A Little League baseball park that will eventually include four ball diamonds will be off the drawing boards and in the development stage within the next week.

The baseball diamonds will be located on property owned by Bernard Feldpausch near the intersection of US-27 and Townsend Road. Entrance to the park will be off Townsend Road west of the highway. Feldpausch is donating the use of the land for the diamonds.

The four playing fields will be clustered in a large circle, with the diamonds back-to-back forming wedges into the center of the circle. Three of the diamonds would be built to Little League specifications and the fourth would be of regulation size.

EACH DIAMOND WOULD have its own backstops and concrete block dugouts down both the first-base and third-base lines.

Bleachers for spectators would be located in a large square area about 60 feet by 60 feet behind the home plate backstops. Access to the bleacher area would be along a 10-foot corridor between all four diamonds.

Parking areas would be provided at both the northeast and southwest corners of the park and outside the outfield fences of the three Little League diamonds.

The Little League diamonds have 60-foot base paths, and the outfield fences will be 200 feet from home plate down both foul lines and to all fields.

The regulation diamond has 90-foot base paths, but no particular limits concerning distance to the outfield fence. Preliminary plans are for the fence to be perhaps 280 feet down the rightfield line, angling out to 340 feet in center field and back to 320 feet down the left field line.

JACK DOWNING, president of the board of directors of the St. Johns Little League and also head of the sponsoring St. Johns Jaycees, pointed out that development of the four diamonds will take time and will not all be done at once. At least one and maybe two diamonds will be prepared for possible use next summer. The third Little League diamond and the regulation size diamond would follow in the future.

However, poles for the backstops and dugouts for all four diamonds will be put in as soon as possible.

Members of the Jaycees expect to be out at the Little League park site this weekend to begin clearing the land—part of it is now planted in corn—and to stake out the fields. Then the fields will be plowed, disked, dragged, raked and planted to grass.

SATURDAYS WILL BE the biggest work days on the diamonds, and Downing said there will be a big need for volunteer help in getting the fields in shape. He urged fathers and all interested youth to turn out for the work bees when they are announced.

Little League officials and Jaycees will also be seeking contributions of material needed to build the diamonds.

Little League in St. Johns is now in its third full summer of play, and an average of two games a night for three nights a week are being played on a diamond near the intersection of Scott Road and East Walker Street. Use of the land was donated several years ago by Saylor Beall Corp.

SOME 170 BOYS ARE now involved in Little League and Pony League games in the city. Pony League games are being played at the city park diamond, with rainout games sometimes being played at the Little League diamond. Pony Leaguers use the regulation size diamond, so they will use the big field at the proposed new park when it is developed.

Boys of Little League age to fill out six teams were chosen this spring by the baseball "draft" method, so those teams are complete. Pony League games are played on Wednesday evenings at the city park, and boys age 13 to 15 who are interested in playing still have a chance to get on one of the teams.

The Little League board of directors in St. Johns consists of Jack Downing as president and Gene Downing, Rod Brown, Mart Livingston, Bob Yager, Ken Spicer, Bill Smiley and Sonny Estes.

Sewer grant hopes fade

The village council was advised at the Tuesday evening meeting that chances of obtaining a federal grant for a proposed sewerage treatment facility here were slim.

R. W. Petrie, planning consultant and engineer with R. W. Petrie Associates, said federal funds are not readily available and that a number of other communities are already on a long waiting list for such grants.

When the project was proposed initially several years ago, it was hoped that a grant of $120,000 could be obtained along with an FHA loan for $190,000 to finance the project.

Petrie suggested the village not go ahead with any design or specifications, which he estimated would cost about $10,000, until it was certain what type financing or grants would be available and when. Councilmen then tabled the matter for further study.

Louis Pung was taken to Clinton Memorial Hospital Thursday for tests and observation.

Thursday Rev Aloysius Miller left for a three week tour of Europe. Travelling with him are Rev Albert Schmitt, Rev William Koenigsnecht, and Rev Reynold Thelen.

DRIVER HURT AVOIDING ROLLING CAR

The driver of this sandwiched truck was hospitalized briefly as the result of injuries he sustained when he swerved the truck into a tree on US-27 in St. Johns. James F. Gallagher, 26, of Palo, told police he pulled the truck to the left to avoid an auto with a child in it which rolled out of a driveway. The boy was John Scott Furry, 3, son of Mr and Mrs John Furry of 106 S. Whittemore, who had climbed into the car and released the brake. He wasn't hurt, although the truck hit the rear of the car before breaking down a tree.

How to figure new state income tax

Michigan's new 2.6 per cent income tax formula, with its sliding scale credits and personal exemptions, double that allowed on federal taxes, seems highly complicated. It is extremely complex and will be even harder to administer and enforce.

Basically, a taxpayer should compute his tax something like this:

The state allows a $1,200 exemption for each taxpayer and each of his dependents. Any persons allowed as dependents under federal tax laws are dependents under the state income tax.

THE TAXPAYER would multiply his exemptions times $1,200 and subtract the exemption total from total family income. The resulting figure would be the taxable income which, multiplied by 2.6 per cent, yields the tax liability.

From the tax liability, the taxpayer would then subtract his property tax credit, his rent credit and his city income tax credit if he is paying a city or non-resident tax.

The property tax credit is computed on the following formula (renters should figure 20 per cent of their rent as a hidden property tax):

Up to $100 property tax, deduct a straight 20 per cent credit. $100 to $150, 20 per cent plus 15 per cent of the sum over $100.

$150 to $200, $27.50 plus 10 per cent of the sum over $150. $200 to $10,000, $32.50 plus 5 per cent of the sum over $200.

Over $10,000 property tax, deduct a straight 4 per cent credit.

The city income tax credit is based on the same formula as the property tax credit. The exception here is that credit for $200 and above is $32.50 plus 5 per cent of the amount over $200 with a maximum credit of $10,000.

A blind person will receive a double personal exemption ($2,400) and anyone over 64 will also receive a double personal exemption. A blind person over 64 will receive a quadruple personal exemption ($4,800). There is no standard deduction, however, or deductions for medical expenses or charitable contributions.

TO PUT THIS COMPUTATION schedule into practice, consider a family of five with an annual income of $7,500 paying $300 property tax.

This family would have a total of $6,000 in basic exemptions for the husband, wife and three children. Thus, their total taxable income would be $1,500. Multiply this by 2.6 per cent (.026 x $1,500) and the family's state tax is $39.

From this $39 the taxpayer would then subtract his property tax credits. With a $300 property tax he would deduct $32.50 plus $5.00 (5 per cent of the amount over $200) for a total property tax credit of $37.50. Thus, his tax credits would total $37.50 and his net state tax would be $1.50.

A FAMILY of four with the same income and property tax mentioned above would end up paying $23.70 under the state income tax.

His exemptions would total $4,800, leaving a taxable income of $2,700. His total state income tax would be $70.20 and his credits would total $37.50. His total state tax would be $32.70, or about $1.36 per paycheck if he were paid twice monthly.

If these families were renting a home or apartment for $125 per month, their tax computation would be the same. Twenty per cent of a yearly rent of $1,500 comes to $300, the same level as the property tax being paid by the hypothetical taxpayers above. If the families were renting for less than $125 per month, their renter tax credit would be less and their state tax correspondingly higher. If they were renting for more than $125, their state tax would be lower.

THE LEGISLATURE, after passing the tax bills, voted to give them immediate effect. This means they will become law as soon as the governor signs them, but it does not mean Michigan taxpayers will start paying at that time.

(The enrolled bills were S.B. 89, S.B. 86, S.B. 712 and H.B. 2138.)

Because of the time and effort involved in administering the tax collections, the income tax will start on Oct. 1 of this year.

Michigan is the 36th state to enact a personal income tax.

should learn the characteristic leaf structure of both plants, if you are going to avoid them. Poison Ivy and poison oak leaves both grow in clusters of three on each twig.

Poison Ivy grows as a woody vine or shrub trailing along the ground, or an erect shrub. The stems look like fuzzy ropes and the leaves are either smooth or have notched edges. Poison oak grows in the form of low shrub, and its slender branches often have a downy look. The center leaflet has an "oak-leaf" appearance, although the plant is actually a variety of poison ivy.

BOTH PLANTS CAUSE a burning and itching sensation, followed by a rash and swelling, and sometimes blisters. If you suspect your hands or any part of your body has come in contact with either plant, wash the areas with strong soap. Leave the lather on for several minutes. If this does not prevent infection, a calamine lotion will help to ease the itching sensation. Do not use water, oily ointments or alcoholic solutions—they won't do a bit of good.

If you follow the foregoing tips, and take along a well stocked first-aid kit on your camping trip, the chances are you will spend a delightful time in the woods. And that's how it should be.

Understanding your

HEALTH

The lure of out-of-door living gets very strong this time of year for many Michigan folks. They are packing up right now, to head out into the woods to get some welcome relief from the daily grind of earning a living. They will return home after their vacation with a fresh outlook on life—that is if they have prepared for the pitfalls of "roughing it."

Now, it's no fun to be sick, and it's especially miserable if it occurs on your vacation. So I'm going to suggest a few tips that might come in handy when you and your family are out in those beautiful woods.

Nearly every camper suffers minor cuts and bruises at times during his outing. The most important thing for you to remember about treating these cuts is to TREAT them. Even a small skin break can be dangerous because it can allow the entrance of disease-producing organisms. You can treat ordinary cuts with a number of effective antiseptic ointments that are generally available; however, such treatment does not always prevent the ever-lurking danger of tetanus infections. So be sure your tetanus immunization is up to date at all times and especially when you leave for the woods.

ANOTHER COMMON ailment among vacationers is digestive upset, or just plain stomachache. This may be caused by excitement, eating too fast, eating different foods, the change in drinking water, and erratic meal schedules. If it is severe enough you may find yourself with stomach cramps and diarrhea. Several remedial drugs are available and you should be sure to take them along on your trip. If the pain persists, see a doctor as soon as possible, it may be a case of food-borne poisoning which can be extremely serious if not treated.

I would also like to caution you against two plants that can make a wonderful vacation into a time of sheer torture—namely, poison ivy and poison oak. You

Mormons getting new church in Bath area

BATH—The 142 members of the Church of the Reorganized Latter Day Saints (Mormon) are currently awaiting the completion of their new church building.

The structure is being built on the lot adjacent to the congregation's old and present place of worship on the corner of Stoll and Upton roads in Bath Township.

Work on the new building was begun in March and will be completed in September.

THE INNER WALL of the structure is of cement blocks and the outer wall was constructed of brick.

When completed, the modern one-story edifice will have a total area of 5,400 square feet—2,700 feet upstairs and 2,700 feet in the basement.

A complete kitchen will be installed in the basement. The building will have a steeple. Total cost of the completed church will be $60,000.

The structure being replaced has had a long and varied past.

THE 36-by 50-foot building was built in 1870 by the local members of the Free Baptist Church. By 1900 the membership had grown to 150 and already the small church was proving to be inadequate.

The steeple that adorned the roof of the structure was removed in 1924 and never replaced.

In 1926, the Stockman Grange, consisting of 96 individuals, bought the church building to be used as the grange hall.

The present occupants have been using the building for the past 16 years and only a year ago purchased it from the Stockman Grange.

Progress has doomed this old building. Rising beside it to the right is its replacement, the new center of worship for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. Located on the corner of Upton and Stoll roads, southeast of Bath, the aged structure has served at various times as a church and a grange hall.

The new Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints southeast of Bath now has walls and a roof, and construction work has progressed to the inside. The new building is immediately adjacent to the north of the old building.

Work on church near completion

Only some minor touchup work remains to complete remodeling and improvements to the Assembly of God Church at Baldwin Street and US-27 in St. Johns.

The church has added new vestibules at the east end of the building, one facing north toward Baldwin and the other facing south toward a parking lot which has just been blacktopped. The vestibules are about 16 by 10 feet in size.

Wall-to-wall carpeting has been put down in the sanctuary, and new cathedral glass now adorns the window. Furniture in the sanctuary has been refinished. A nursery overlooking the sanctuary is now complete and is carpeted.

Recreation Notes

Swegles (Supervisors Ginny Bertram and Sue Durner)—The safety program made a good impression on the kids from Swegles playground. The big thing of the week was taking a hike and then ending up at the park to listen to a policeman talk on safety. Posters were drawn on safety and many came up with good ideas.

Girls Softball (Supervisor George Spicer)—Still smarting from last Thursday's defeat, the St. Johns team rebounded with a flurry of hits last week to chalk up the team's first victory of the year and it doesn't look like it will be the last. Val Hufnagel shackled the Eureka teams by allowing only six hits. Supplying the power in the batting department were Linda Berkhausen, Jamie Bargar and Billie Jo Benson. All had three hits apiece with two of Jamie's hits being home runs. St. Johns had a total of 16 hits and displayed a strong performance in the field.

Park (Supervisor Jane Taylor)—Don't play in the street; never run between parked cars. These were only a few examples of what the children learned during Safety Week. Hikes were taken to show the children the proper way to cross the street, and use safety. Posters were also made showing the different safety slogans. The children played the usual games, and stories were read to them.

Perrin—Palmer (Supervisors Marilyn Motz and Jim McCausey)—Safety week at Perrin Palmer kept the children busy with hikes every day. In the morning safety posters, displaying safety rules, were made and the best posters were awarded ribbons. On each hike the children reviewed the rules of safety and all co-operated with enthusiasm. The usual games of tether ball, kickball, four horses, etc. were played.

East Ward (Supervisors Cheryl Weber and Linda Phinney)—The children took hikes all week. Most of them ended at the park where the kids played and rested before starting back. They learned to cross the street properly among other things. The usual games of red rover, kick ball, etc. were played.

Thursday night's softball game: St. Johns continued its winning streak last Thursday night by beating Elsie 23 to 20. It was a very loosely played game with both teams having trouble finding the handle and committing numerous errors. The highlight of the game was the St. John's hitting attack, which produced 19 hits. Linda Berkhausen lead in that department by getting six hits in six trips to the plate. Jamie Bargar contributed two home runs to the cause. Val Hufnagel got her second win on the mound.

Trees native to Clinton County are being studied.

SAFETY MESSAGE FROM ONE WHO KNOWS

Youngsters on St. Johns' four city playgrounds wound up a week of safety instruction and play last Thursday by hearing city police Officer Lyle French talk about various safety rules. In the background are safety posters which the children made and which were judged by French and Clinton County News Editor Lowell Rinker. Winners were: Thresa VanDusen first place, Marcia Allen second place, Nancy Rogers third place, and Randy Willett fourth place.

DeWitt seeks extension of time to get township sewer plant site

DEWITT—The DeWitt Township trustees, in what is considered only a formality, has asked that a federal grant that would pay half the cost of the proposed $500,000 township sewage treatment plant be extended because of an unavoidable delay in site selection.

Because the original intended location on Heribson Road near the Looking Glass River has been protested by DeWitt city officials, a search is on for a new site.

The DeWitt officials feared that the river, which flows past the city park and through the city, would be contaminated by waste from the treatment facility.

AT THE township board meeting Monday night, July 10, the township trustees took an option on an 80-acre gravel pit owned by Clinton County and located west of DeWitt on Heribson Road.

In the meantime, engineering plans have been thwarted by the lack of a definite site and as a result, a three-month extension is being sought for the $250,000 federal plant grant.

One advantage has come from the delay. The accessibility of sewer lines from DeWitt High School to the proposed sewer network has been greatly improved.

In other action at the meeting, $4,136 was appropriated by the board for blacktopping of a half mile of E. and W. River Drive in the River View Heights subdivision.

WAGES FOR THE township sexton, who maintains several parcels of township-owned property, was increased from $1.25 to $2 an hour.

The trustees gave tentative approval to realtor Vincent Gels' request that land at Round Lake and Williams Roads be reclassified from farm to a B zone.

Gels plans to construct cluster-type homes for older persons at that location. Since such construction would fall under the B-2 zoning bracket, it must receive final approval from the Clinton County zoning board.

ANOTHER ZONING change for three parcels of land at Airport and Heribson Roads and requested by Bruce Ely was denied by the board.

Ely had planned to construct duplex-type housing on the property, but because three subdivisions in the area are all restricted to one-family homes, Ely's plans were voided.

Handmade rug ready for use

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pease, former St. Johns residents, now living in Grayling will have a new look in their dining room soon because their grandmother, Mrs. Alta Pease of 310 W. Lincoln Street, St. Johns, has recently completed a room-sized rag rug. Mrs. Raymond Pease, the recipient of the room-sized crocheted rug is the daughter of Clinton County News correspondent Irene Fox of Pewamo.

THE NINE FOOT by eleven foot rug weighs well over 45 pounds and has just about every color in it with the exception of melon and orange. Nearly all of the fabric used in it is cotton. Mrs. Pease, who is almost 77, began crocheting the rug about the first of May and completed it about a week ago.

SHE BEGAN crocheting a few years ago, the exact age she learned she isn't quite sure but she was still playing with dolls at the time.

In addition to crocheting, Mrs. Pease embroiders, sews and does some tatting.

The evening of the same day she completed the rug (it was completed about 3 in the afternoon) the idleness had gotten to her and she began working on some other pieces.

Mrs. Pease has one son, three grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

1941 . . . when the gals went into the shop and the guys into the kitchen

By STANLEY WEBER

The school bell rang, announcing the next class. The girls went to the shop room while the boys proceeded to the home economics room.

A misinformed statement? No indeed! That's the way it was approximately 80 years ago at Rodney B. Wilson High School.

While the guys sweated over a hot stove, the gals slaved over a hot welding torch.

"THE PURPOSE was to give each one a taste of exposure to other types of work; other types of study," the then shop teacher, Russell L. Steffens, said.

The planned switch-about in classes occurred during a six-week period every year for several years during the late 30's and early 40's.

In the shop room, then located where the typing room is today, the girls were taught the fundamentals of household mechanics. Included in the instruction were the techniques of woodworking, metalworking and electrical wiring.

"BECAUSE OF what I learned in that course, I've been able to change a plug when I needed to," Mrs. Frances Heathman Thurston said.

"No, my husband doesn't bake," Mrs. Thurston answered when asked if her husband, Otto, was still handy in the kitchen.

Her husband was one of many fellows who completed a course in home economics. Thurston was a participant in the program in 1941. For their final project, the guys had to prepare an entire dinner.

"It (the program) had its merits," Steffens said. "A fellow learned how to prepare himself a lunch and gals could make repairs around the home."

The program was well-received by both the boys and the girls, Steffens mentioned. And all agreed it was good fun and very informative too.

While the boys were in the kitchen concocting all sorts of dishes, the girls were busy in the shop learning those little things that would later make them handy around the house. Here, shop teacher Russ Steffens gives some pointers to Lucille Ward Myers (left) and Virginia Vail-Teich.

Plentiful foods burden budgets less

By HELEN B. MEACH
Extension Home Economist

Alp for brides anxious to impress their new husbands with their shopping skills might be to consult the USDA's monthly list of plentiful foods before making meal plans and a shopping list. In fact, it's not a bad idea for experienced home makers either.

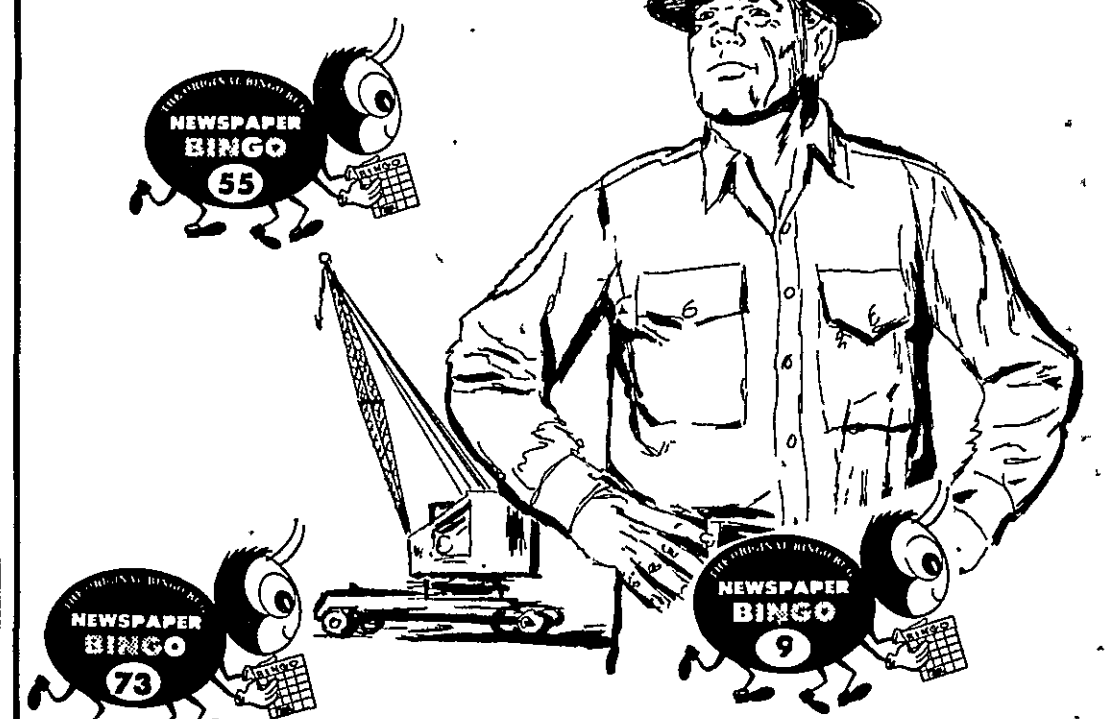

The list tells which foods are in good supply for the month and most likely to be good buys at neighborhood retail food stores. For July, featured items will be turkeys, lemons and limes, frozen fish fillets and steaks and dry beans.

MANY A COOKOUT menu has starred turkey in recent years. With the development of small broiler-size turkeys and the growing practice of selling individual turkey parts, such as legs and thighs, turkey has achieved a popular place on the list of grill-top favorites. May 1 cold storage stocks of turkeys were over 80 million pounds greater than a year ago and farm marketings of turkeys were running 24 per cent higher than a year earlier during the first week of

May. This generous supply will certainly carry over into July resulting in the prospect of very favorable consumer prices.

The same reason - liberal supply - is behind the inclusion of frozen fish fillets and steaks on the USDA list. Current inventories of frozen fish are extremely heavy and of course the summer months are periods of heavy catchings for commercial fishermen. Like turkeys, frozen

Blue Winning Cards Must be turned into this Newspaper by Monday 5:00 p.m.

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS:

PICK UP FREE BINGO CARDS: Each week (adults only, please) pick up your FREE Bingo cards from any of the sponsoring merchants listed below. Rules of the game allow the merchants to give you only one card on each store visit. However, you may make as many visits as you wish each day of the week. THE MORE CARDS YOU PLAY THE BETTER ARE YOUR CHANCES OF WINNING.

HOW TO PLAY: To play, check the ads in each week's issue of the CLINTON COUNTY NEWS. The ads of the merchants listed below will contain one or more "Newspaper Bingo" numbers in the "Bingo Bug" symbol (shown above). Occasionally numbers, in the "Bingo Bug" symbol, may be found elsewhere in the newspaper. IF YOU CAN MATCH (JUST CIRCLE OR "X" THE MATCHING NUMBERS) ALL 24 NUMBERS ON ANY ONE OF YOUR BINGO CARDS - YOU HAVE A "BINGO" - AND YOU ARE A WINNER!

AT LEAST $50 WEEKLY! Winners will share a weekly prize of $50 issued in "Bingo Bucks" that spend like cash at any of the sponsoring merchants. If there is only one winner, he or she wins all of the $50. If there is more than one winner, all winners will share the $50 in equal amounts. If there are no winners any week, the $50 weekly prize money will be added to the following week's prize fund.

CHECK EACH ISSUE OF THE CLINTON COUNTY NEWS: Each game is complete in each week's issue. A new game will start each Thursday and be completed the following Monday. A new set of Bingo numbers will be published each week in the sponsoring merchants' ads and possibly elsewhere in the paper and these new numbers only must be used. A new color of Bingo cards will be available at the participating stores. To be eligible to win, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week's game. The color of the cards for each week's game will be announced on this page.

IF YOU ARE A WINNER: If you have a winning Bingo card, ON WHICH ALL 24 NUMBERS HAVE BEEN MATCHED WITH THE NUMBERS APPEARING EACH WEEK IN THE CLINTON COUNTY NEWS, write your name, address, phone number, and the name of the store where you got your winning card on the back of your card and mail to The CLINTON COUNTY NEWS. The envelope containing your card must be received by 5 p.m. Monday of the following week; or bring your winning card to the office by 5 p.m. Monday of the following week.

FRIDAY WAS A GOOD DAY FOR HAYING

First cuttings of hay have been coming off Clinton County fields for several weeks, and last Friday afternoon Bill Flynn, 15 (on tractor) and brother Pat, 13, were putting the final touches on a field of hay for George McNamara whose house on South Chandler Road is visible in the background.

GENETICS AFFECTS LEARNING

Blame your parents for those blank spots in your ability to learn. A Northwestern University pilot study concludes that genetics sometimes plays a role in the occurrence of learning disabilities. The conclusion was based on a study of families in which a child was doing poorly in school because of "perceptual disorders" not related to mental retardation, emotional disturbance or brain damage. All of the parents were found to have various types of perceptual or memory defects.

Foods ...

fish products have a definite place in cookout menus. They respond well to charcoal. Dressed with a tangy lemon sauce or accompanied by a dish of cucumbers and sour cream, grilled fish sticks and fillets are sure to draw praise.

GOOD NEWS FOR everyone, young and old alike, as we move into the hot, "dog-days" of July and August is the presence of lemons and limes on the plentiful foods list. Fish and lemon are good companions . . . and then, there's lemon-ade. Supply figures include both fresh and processed fruit, so the choice between making your own or using frozen concentrated products for your supply of the all-American summertime favorite is all yours with no price strings attached. Production of lemons is measuring 18 per cent larger than the five-year average with lime production reaching 22 per cent above the five-year average for a crop second to the all-time record.

Finally, the USDA plentiful foods list features dry beans. Michigan, which produces 99 per cent of the nation's navy bean crop, brought in a giant harvest last fall resulting in heavy supplies of dry beans and attractive consumer prices during early summer. It's a temptation to just open a can when the temperatures soar, but dry bean prices will make doing your own a real temptation.

PRICES ON FRUITS and vegetables during summertime months are always dependent on supply which, in turn, is dependent on weather.

Meat prices are also subject to supply and demand meaning increased prices on popular cuts for outdoor cooking. It's risky to predict which way they'll go. In these two departments, comparison shopping is the best key to good value for the careful homemaker.

Outlook for federal grant not bright

WESTPHALIA—The hopes for a long awaited federal grant for this community's proposed sewage treatment plant have faded.

The Westphalia Village Council has been advised by R. W. Petrie, planning consultant and engineer with R. W. Petrie Associates, that federal funds are not readily available.

A number of other communities are already on a long waiting list for such grants, he said.

THE TREATMENT facility was planned several years ago and to finance the project, the council applied for a $120,000 federal grant and had intended to seek a $190,000 FHA loan. The councilmen tabled the $10,000 project planning and design work, at the suggestion of Petrie, until it was certain where and how the money for the plant was coming.

The council decreed that a "stop work order" be tagged to a site at the southeast corner of Pine and Chestnut streets, where construction on a home has begun without a building permit being approved.

IN OTHER ACTION, building permits were granted to Charles Schaefer for a home on N. Westphalia Street, Daniel Spitzley for a home on East Main Street and Edward Smith for a home in Sunny Haven subdivision.

The transfer of a SDD license from Dortha Pohl to Max and Virginia Mason of Lansing was approved by the councilmen.

The purchase of a line marker for use in the village road work was also granted.

PARTNERS IN GROWTH...

During 1963 Michigan farmers harvested and delivered over one million tons of beets to the state's five sugar factories for processing. This crop produced nearly 260,000,000 pounds of pure sparkling sugar for sale exclusively in Michigan during the current marketing year.

In an average year, the beet sugar industry of Michigan will derive from $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 from the sugarbeet crop. From this crop Michigan sugarbeet growers will receive approximately $15,000,000 in company and conditional payments.

These dollars which the sugarbeet growers and processors of this state receive for sugar produced in Michigan affect economic units all around their own horizons and far beyond Michigan's 17 county beet producing area. Remember, every time a sugar beet grows—so does Michigan.

Insurance firm, slices auto rates

One of the state's largest insurance companies has declared a major auto dividend effective immediately. Officials of Farm Bureau Mutual announced last week the company will be making refund payments to more than 55,000 auto insurance policyholders throughout Michigan.

The dividend payments, ranging up to 15 per cent of premiums for each family, are expected to total $315,000. Dividends will be paid on all policies in force as of Aug 22 and mailed beginning Sept 1.

A declining rate of accidents among insureds was cited as the prime reason for the move, according to N.L. Vermillion, executive vice president of the firm.

Seek 5 new teachers

OVID-ELSIE — With a $2.8 million gliding of new buildings, the three-year-old Ovid Elsie Area Schools District is finally ready to undertake its first full school year of "togetherness."

The building program is now all but complete, and the high school students will all be attending one high school. All the old one-room schools will be silent this year as elementary pupils attend classes in more modern buildings in Ovid, Elsie and Bannister.

With the housing problem now out of the way, school officials are settling down to the everyday problems of running a school—personnel and finances.

THE PERSONNEL turnover will be relatively minor. Five teachers have resigned and five new ones have been hired, but Supt. Robert Beauchamp is still looking for two elementary teachers, a high school counselor, a foreign language teacher and a music teacher.

The district will employ about 100 teachers this coming year, an increase of four. The increase is partially due to an expansion of educational program made possible by the new high school. An expanded industrial arts program now includes classes in electronics; the physical education program now has more room to develop the normal athletics, plus having a swimming pool available.

New teachers hired this year include Miss Patricia Benedict for girls physical education; Nicholas Lakari for junior high science; James Ryan and Mrs. Ellen Malick for elementary grades; and Dean McKay as pool director and physical education teacher.

TEACHERS who have resigned include Jack Kunkel, junior high principal who will become assistant director of housing at Northern Michigan University; his wife, Ed Kelly, social studies teacher who will become high school principal at Colon; his wife, who was an English teacher; and Joseph Susinko, junior high and elementary instrumental music teacher.

Beauchamp said the school's transportation system will operate about the same this year as it did at the tail end of last school year after high school students got moved into the new building.

When school recessed for the summer in June, not all of the new high school building was yet usable. When September rolls around, things will be different.

The gymnasium is complete and folding bleachers are in place. The swimming pool is in its fourth week of operation already. The new football field on the west side of the high school will be ready for the grid wars this fall, and the scoreboard from the old Elsie field was being installed this week. Final paving of the parking lot was scheduled this week.

LEVELING and seeding of the outdoor athletic areas north of the school was started last week. A final rubberized surface on the all-weather track around the football field was scheduled to be put down this week. Fencing around the football field will be put up about Aug. 1. A press box will be constructed yet this fall.

In Elsie, the addition to and remodeling in the E. E. Knight Elementary School is finished. That included seven new classrooms, a library and multipurpose room in the addition and enlargement of the kitchen in the original building.

Supt. Beauchamp said the district probably won't be in a position this year to tear down the old north part of the Elsie High School building, but it will probably be done next summer. In the meantime, it will be abandoned as far as use for classrooms is concerned.

AT OVID, the new East Elementary School, containing 14 classrooms, a library, multipurpose room and offices is complete and will be in full use next fall. A kitchen, multipurpose room and offices added to the North Elementary School are also in use.

The high school library, which has been using tables and chairs from the old buildings since students moved into the partially-completed high school in mid-March, now is equipped with new tables and chairs.

THE SCHOOL BOARD also proudly announced that Robert Martin of Ovid, former publisher of the Ovid Register-Union which ceased publication last month, has donated all the bound-volume issues from the 101-year history of the paper to the high school library.

The volumes will be available for reference at the library during school hours. Beauchamp said Central Michigan University has shown interest in microfilming the Register-Union files.

Formal dedication of the new high school has been scheduled for Sunday, Oct. 1.

The north portion of the old Elsie High School building will not be used during the coming school year — at least for classrooms. The structure will be torn down next summer.

Finances biggest problem

OVID-ELSIE — Typical of districts all over the state, the Ovid-Elsie School Board's major problem facing them this year is finances.

But unlike most districts, Ovid-Elsie will feel the pinch a little harder where it concerns the exemption this year of farm personal property from the tax rolls.

For Ovid-Elsie, the loss in valuation will amount to $976,881, or about 3.88 per cent of the normal valuation. Valuation will drop from $25,166,445 last year to $24,189,564 this year, according to Supt. Robert Beauchamp.

"WE'RE TAKING A bigger loss than most districts," he said, "because of the ruralness of our district." The Ovid-Elsie district involves 175 square miles of mostly farmland in eastern Clinton and western Shiawassee counties and southern Gratiot and Saginaw counties.

Then, too, there is the tactical problem of running the school district this year until tax money and school aid funds come in. Ovid-Elsie can't get an advance on school aid, as in the past, because the shortage of funds at the state level. The district has already had to borrow $98,000 to provide the necessary operational money, and Supt. Beauchamp said, "we'll probably need more."

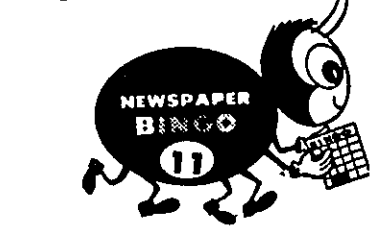

Ovid-Elsie was one of the few school districts in Clinton County which didn't vote last month on additional operating tax levies. An 8 1/2-mill levy was passed by voters in February but it runs only this year and thus will come up for renewal, at least, during the coming school year.

MEMBERS OF THE Ovid-Elsie Board of Education this year are Don Craig of Ovid as president; Raymond Stewart of Elsie as vice president; Kenneth Austin of Ovid as secretary; Francis Johnson of Ovid as treasurer; and as trustees Robert Baese of Ovid, Merle Green of Elsie and Andrew Cobb of Elsie.

It may be true that there is nothing new on the beach this year, but more of it is evident.

Elsie homecoming Chairman Earl Seybert reminds area folks about the three-day festival in Elsie this weekend. It starts today (Thursday).

Elsie homecoming carnival running through Saturday

ELSIE — Elsie's big annual homecoming festival and carnival will be held in the community this weekend, with activities getting under way today (Thursday).

Coupled with the carnival will be a sidewalk sale in which Elsie businessmen will display and sell their wares on the sidewalks in front of their stores. The sidewalk sale will run through Friday.

The carnival itself will be open Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The Sehl Carnival Co. will provide the rides and games. The co-sponsoring Elsie businessmen and Elsie Lions Club point to several special events. Tonight at 7 p.m. one of two divisions of a pony pulling contest is scheduled to be held at the old Elsie football field.

Another division contest is planned for Saturday at 1 p.m.

There will be no admission charge for the pony pulling contest.

Each evening during the carnival there will be periodic games of free bingo, with prizes being donated by Elsie merchants. No specific time is being planned for the games.

Several local groups will have booths or games at the carnival. The Lions Club will have a lunch stand, the conservation club will have a dunking booth, and the Ovid-Elsie Varsity Club will have a stand.

Earl Seybert is general chairman for the carnival, which will take place in on business district streets south, west and north of the stoplight.

The new swimming pool at Ovid-Elsie High School features a large pool-length spectator gallery high above the water and natural light from windows opening into an enclosed courtyard. While this group preferred to watch the swimming activities below from a standing position, there are plenty of bench-type seats in the gallery.

Instructor Mike Scott calls out swimming tips to youngsters crossing the new Ovid-Elsie High School swimming pool Friday morning during a period of swim lessons. The pool has been open nearly four weeks.

Pool at new high school has new hours

OVID-ELSIE — That cool, refreshing dip on a hot summer day isn't too far away anymore for residents of the Ovid-Elsie School District.

The swimming pool at the high school is open every afternoon and evening Monday through Saturday for swimming, and during the morning swimming lessons.

sons are being given by a staff of instructors under the direction of Pool Director Dean McKay. New hours for the pool are now in effect, Monday through Saturday the pool is open from 1 to 2 and 2 to 3 p.m., as well as 7 to 8 and 8 to 9 p.m. Thursday nights are reserved for adults only (high school graduates and older).

An admission charge of 30 cents per hour for students and 50 cents per hour for adults will be charged. Entrance to the pool for the summer is through the west door off the parking lot. The pool is now in its fourth week of operation. McKay, the pool director, is new in the Ovid-Elsie system this year, and will be wrestling coach as well as pool director. He has taught at Corunna and Livonia for two years each, has a bachelor's degree from Central Michigan University and a master's degree from MSU.

McKay said a life-saving and adult swimming program are being considered this year.

Ovid OKs funds for planning

OVID—The village council appropriated $2,010 last week for zoning plans and their preparation by the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission.

Robert Thompson, president of the village planning commission, was authorized by the council to sign a contract with Tri-County.

Outside-of-the village water users will begin paying 50 per cent more than the standard water rates, compared to the 25 per cent extra they have paid in the past.

The new rates will be effective beginning with the current third quarter and will affect about 13 users.

THE COUNCIL accepted the resignation of Russell Blakney as street commissioner, effective immediately.

New charges were adopted for water hookups, turn-ons and turn-offs, with charges to coincide with increased costs.

Lawrence Woodworth, Robert Shinabery and Joe Michutka, council members, were appointed to a committee to update the village's work rules for employees.

Elsie to seek bids for water treating process

ELSIE—Time to prepare alternative bids for an iron removal treatment process for Elsie's water system was approved by the village council members at their regular meeting Monday evening, July 10.

Representatives of Layne North, an engineering firm, and R.W. Petrie and Associates, Inc., a surveying firm, estimated a $60,000 price tag for implementation of the process.

Half of the money would be for the iron removal machinery, the representatives said, while site preparation and a 30 x 30 foot building would consume most of the other half.

A FEDERAL GRANT for such a project reportedly would be hard to come by, and if the village does adopt the process, an FHA loan, carrying a 4 to 4 1/2 per cent interest tag would be sought.

A forced draft aeration and filtration process, which would eliminate odor and remove iron from the community's water, was recommended.

THE COUNCIL also deliberated on the problem of throw-away pop bottles from local sidewalk vending machines. Deputy police officer Donald Brewster told of deliberate smashing of the bottles throughout the village.

No solution was agreed upon by the councilmen except to urge those businessmen owning the dispensing machines to switch to throw-away cans, making the situation less hazardous.

The park committee was given a playground equipment proposal to study. It was suggested that surplus school playground equipment be obtained for the park.

The board informed Leonard Burdick, police chief, that the homecoming carnival, scheduled for July 20-22, would be located at the Main Street intersection.

THE PROBLEM of riding bikes without lights on city streets after dark was discussed. It was recommended that parents of violators be notified.

JULY 4th TRAVEL RECORD
A record total of nearly 610.5 million vehicle miles was traveled by motorists on Michigan highways over the four-day 1967 Fourth of July "weekend," the State Highway Commission reported.

THEY'RE ALL PAVED
All 9,200 miles of state highways and freeways in Michigan are paved. The last mile of gravel road on the state highway system was paved in 1962.

TRAVEL EXPLOSION
Automobile travel in Michigan has nearly tripled from 16 to more than 44 billion vehicle miles per year since 1946.

The council advised Glen Capen that the permit for a bus parked on the George Holbrook property would not be renewed when it expires later this month.

ASC PROGRAM

1967-crop wheat marketing certificates value setW. M. SMITH
County ASO Manager

A value of $1.36 per bushel was just announced by the US Department of Agriculture for 1967-crop wheat marketing certificates. Certificate payments to farmers participating in the 1967 wheat program will begin soon from ASCS county offices.

Payments to approximately 822,000 farmers participating in the 1967 program will be slightly in excess of $700 million for the 1967 wheat crop. Over 84 per cent of the national allotment is represented on the participating farms.

THE CERTIFICATE value is based on the difference between July 1, 1967, wheat parity price of $2.61 per bushel and the 1967-crop national average loan rate of $1.25 per bushel. Certificate payments to farmers are based on the projected production on 35 per cent of the 1967 wheat acreage allotment on the farm.

Certificate payments add substantially to the income farmers receive from marketing their 1967 wheat crop. The $700 million in certificate payments when related to the total production on 57.4 million acres of allotment on the participating farms reflect income of at least 47 cents on each bushel produced by cooperators. The total average return per bushel will depend on the prices farmers receive in the market from their 1967 crop.

In determining the total return per bushel for wheat, cooperators divide certificate payment by the total production to get the average per bushel payment. By adding this to the price they receive in the market, participants in the program can determine the total return per bushel.

WHEAT MARKETING certificates are authorized by the two-price wheat provisions of the Food and Agriculture Act of 1955. Under this law, farmers participating in the wheat program are guaranteed 100 per cent of wheat parity price for their share of wheat used for domestic food.

This substantially bolsters farm income for wheat while permitting the support of market prices through loans at levels more competitive in world trade channels.

Millers and others purchase wheat marketing certificates at 75 cents per bushel to cover quantities of wheat processed for domestic food use. The remainder of the certificate payment is made up by the government.

Nitrogen vital to crop growth

Nitrogen in the soil is essential for high grain yields, for increased vegetative growth, and is credited with improving soil structure, too.

According to Curtis Overdahl, Extension soils specialist at University of Minnesota, plants need nitrogen in greater quantities than any other nutrient used from the soil.

In statements reviewed by National Plant Food Institute, he adds that under-estimating nitrogen fertilizer needs is more costly than over-estimating. Excess nitrogen usually is better than too little since any build-up in the stalk either goes back into the soil for use next year, or produces high protein feed if the crop is used as silage. Too little cuts potential yields and profits.

Efficient, profitable crop production demands that adequate levels of all plant nutrients be available in the soil.

Had no license

Wayne Wilson Kaufman of Detroit, was arrested Tuesday, July 11, in Eagle Township for driving with a suspended license.

Taken before DeWitt Township Justice Gordon W. Young, Kaufman pleaded guilty and was fined $100, court costs of $20.50 and sentenced to two days in jail.

Farm Safety Week
slated July 23-29

Although Michigan's record for farm deaths is the lowest of the 12 northcentral states, the annual cost of farm accidents is still too high, according to Richard Pfister, farm safety engineer for the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service.

The Michigan State University agricultural engineer says nationally 8,000 farm people die annually and 750,000 more are injured annually. With Farm Safety Week July 23-29, great effort is being made to alert rural people to the waste of human and economic resources by farm accidents.

MID-SUMMER is the time of great activity on Michigan's farms and long working hours by tired workers can increase the accident numbers.

Pfister points out that new protective frames or crush resistant cabs to guard tractor operators in "roll-over accidents" are being recommended to farmers buying new equipment. Several Michigan farmers have put this equipment on presently owned equipment.

Zinc fertilizer long-term aide-

Zinc sulfate applied on a zinc-deficient soil can have long-term benefits in boosting corn yields, according to results of a University of Minnesota study.

Four corn crops have been harvested from an experimental plot since the initial zinc application was made five years ago, says the report. Increases from the residual zinc have been consistent.

The study on various rates of zinc sulfate and different methods of application came about when symptoms of severe zinc deficiency were observed in corn on a farm in central Minnesota.

Various amounts of zinc were applied broadcast and plowed under in the spring of 1962 with no additional zinc applications since, notes the report, quoted by National Plant Food Institute. Compared to plots where no zinc was applied, corn yields have shown a 78-bushel-per-acre increase with five pounds of zinc per acre, and 95 bushel increase with 20 pounds of zinc.

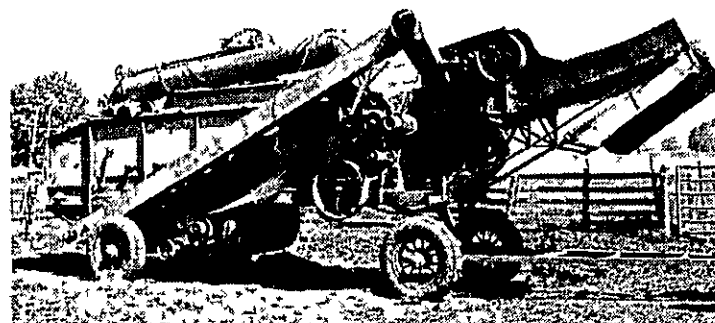

Pfister makes these simple recommendations regarding saving young lives:

Do not permit children to ride on the farm tractor or farm machinery.

Do not let a youth drive a tractor on a public highway until he is old enough to be licensed to drive an automobile.

PFISTER SAYS: "The modern American farmer employs management, horsepower, fertilizer, chemicals, best crop and livestock varieties, efficient drainage and irrigation systems. Little is left to chance or luck. But when it comes to safety, many farmers are still back in the Dark Ages. They trust to luck and don't plan ahead to prevent accidents. Farm accidents can be prevented by farmers themselves. Good planning, good practices and leaving as little as possible to luck will do the job.

This ancient threshing machine will be used in a demonstration of the olden days at the pewamo-Westphalia FFA ox roast. The machine is owned by Alvin Simon of R-1 Pewamo.

FFA plans ox roast,
threshing at P-W July 30

PEWAMO - WESTPHALIA - An ox roast, steer giveaway and old fashioned grain threshing demonstration is being planned for Sunday afternoon, July 30, by the Pewamo-Westphalia chapter of the Future Farmers of America.

The event, first of its kind for the FFA at P-W, will be from noon until 6 p.m. at the high school on Clintonia Road. It is being held to promote chapter activities and to lend the younger generation a real-life look at toll and fun of farming in days gone by.

Chairman of the event, Kevin Thelen, says the affair will also be a highlight of the very successful cooperative project carried on this year by the chapter—the fattening of 20 purebred Aberdeen Angus steers. One or two will be on display as examples of the animal that will be given away late in the afternoon. Complete beef dinners will be available to the public all afternoon during the real live demonstration of the old fashioned grain harvest using the grain binder and gigantic grain threshing machine.

Ox roast dinner Chairman Stan Wirth estimates the corn-fed beef dinner will be served to about 500 persons throughout the afternoon in the high school cafeteria.

Family farm will persist

Despite bigger investments and greater demands for efficiency, the family farm will persist as an efficient production unit in the future, according to John Doneth, Michigan State University agricultural economist.

Doneth says there will be an increase in farm partnerships, particularly family partnerships, to allow young farmers to get started and to expand their production units. The family is expected to provide the young farmer with the best potential source for capital, but other lending agencies will be more willing to lend, too.

NATIONAL
FARM SAFETY WEEK
JULY 23-29, 1967

THINK AND ACT SAFELY

Michigan's farm accident fatality rate is the lowest among 12 north-central states, but the Michigan Rural Safety Council believes there is more to be done. The group urges farm safety every week in the year. Gov. George Romney joined in endorsing Farm Safety Week, July 23-29 and urged continued efforts by farmers, agricultural leaders, agricultural engineers and others to work toward safer and more profitable farm operations.

Green Meadow Farm on management tour

State's largest dairy unit 1 of 4 stops in Clinton

ELSIE -- Michigan's largest dairy farm, where more than 1,000 cows are milked daily in an "around-the-clock" operation, will be the featured noon-day stop on the Michigan State Farm Management Tour Tuesday, Aug. 1, in Clinton County.

Green Meadow Farm at Elsie, is a father-son operation of Merle Green and sons Duane and Velmar and may be an example of the way expanding agriculture in Michigan is moving. This is a large, family-managed operation with more than 25 full-time employees.

The annual Farm Management Tour is sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service and Department of Agricultural Economics of Michigan State University in cooperation with the county Extension staff of Clinton County.

A COMMITTEE CHOSEN by local farmers will assist with the arrangements for the program, designed to show trends in modern farming with emphasis on management.

Merle Green was born and raised in the vicinity of the present 2,700-acre farm at the south limits of Elsie in the northeast corner of Clinton County. Merle bought his original 250 acres in 1922 and had a primary interest in breeding purebred Holstein dairy cattle.

Duane attended Cornell University and studied dairy management. Velmar was graduated from Michigan State University in dairy production. Throughout their youth, their father encouraged and trained his sons in selection of good dairy cattle and in farm management.

The big expansion began in 1960, two years after a partnership was formed between father and the two sons. At the time of the partnership foundation, the Greens had about 200 registered cows. They have since expanded the facilities to handle 1,200 milking cows. Housing consists of eight barns, five equipped with a total of 770 free stalls.

THE MODERN MILKING area, out of which comes an average of about 35,000 pounds of milk a day, has two double-eightherringbone milking stalls and milking goes on around the clock. Each shift milks five hours and spends two hours on "clean up."

The herd is a DHA testing and present indications are it will average 14,000 pounds of milk and 500 pounds of butterfat per cow this year.

The present herd was classified by official Holstein judges in May. Of the 1,077 cows of milking age, 38 made the highest possible class of excellent, 187 rated very good, 535 good plus and 317 good.

In addition to the loose housing facilities, a stanchion unit is operated on another farm where the farm headquarters is located.

The farm has a capacity to store 12,000 tons of corn silage, about 2,000 tons of hay and buys another 3,000 tons.

ABOUT 700 TO 800 ACRES is devoted to producing hay and 1,000 to 1,200 acres to producing corn silage.

Hay and silage is fed in fence-line bunks at loose housing and heifer units.

The farm has nine upright silos and one bunker silo which is 60 by 200 by 12 feet. The Greens say they have built their last upright silo, but they do like ones they have for winter silage. There is a tendency to feed more corn silage and less hay.

All grain for feeding is purchased through three elevators in which Merle Green has a half interest. They raise no corn for grain on the farm. Custom harvesters are employed to harvest some silage corn.

Development and marketing of purebred Holstein cattle is a prime interest at Green Meadow Farm near Elsie - the noon stop on the State Farm Management Tour in Clinton County Aug. 1. Merle Green (left) and sons Velmar and Duane show one of their championship cows, winner of the Michigan State Fair grand championship.

Corn value produced on the farm runs $80 to $90 an acre.

The farm hires an equivalent of about 25 men throughout the year.

Major management decisions are made by the entire family, but there is a division of responsibility for crop production. Velmar is responsible for operation of the loose housing unit. Duane is responsible for the stanchion barn, cattle, heifers, bulls and calves.

The 1,000 to 1,100 milking cows make up about half of the total cattle on the farm.

Dealing in purebred Holstein cattle is a prime interest at Green Meadow Farm. An equivalent of three men for three months of the year devotes time to showing cattle in many state and regional fairs where they have won top honors. Cattle were marketed in 28 states and three foreign countries from Green Meadow Farm in 1966.

Following the farm tour starting at 10:45 a.m., the noon-day meal and the speaking program will be held at Green Meadow with Lt. Gov. William Milliken the speaker.

Ionia Fair stage show set

IONIA, The complete cast is set for the Ionia Free Fair's "Sensations of 1967" grandstand variety show Aug. 7-12, according to C. L. Teachworth, secretary-manager.

Joining the show, which already includes England's New Vaudeville Band, singer Vaughn Monroe, Impressionist Wes Harrison and emcee Rany Brown, will be the Stebbings and Their Boxers; Rich, Gibson, and Rich; aerialist Ma-Ho-Pin; the Manhattan Rockets dance line; and the Keith Killinger Band.

The Stebbings and Their Boxers feature a sports spectacular, with the dogs attired in football gear, playing a game of American football with goal posts, running tackles, cheering section, and referees. Their credits include numerous European tours and two television appearances on Hollywood Palace.

RICH, GIBSON and Rich, a dance and novelty act, features Henry, Lucille, and son, Jimmy, Rich. The State Department selected the family to represent the United States on tour of Europe and Mediterranean countries.

Aerialist Ma-Ho-Pin first gained fame in Europe and the Orient, specializing in sliding down a high wire, at a rapid rate of speed hanging by her feet, with her head toward the ground.

The Manhattan Rockets from Broadway are long time Free Fair favorites, while the Keith Killinger Band from Chicago has traditionally provided the fair's show music.

Social security hours repeated

Roger W. Seamon, manager of the Lansing office of the Social Security Administration, states that a representative from his office will be at the courthouse in St. Johns every Tuesday from 9:30 a.m. to noon.

Anyone desiring information regarding old-age and survivors insurance benefits, social security account numbers, or other business concerning social security may contact him at those times.

The horseshoe tournament deadline is this Friday, July 21. The tournament is scheduled to be run from July 24-Aug. 5. Recreation Director Blaine Douglas said that it is set up for singles competition, but if there is enough interest for doubles, a doubles tournament also will be run.

The deadline for entering the tennis tournament is July 28, and competition will run from July 31 through Aug. 12. There will be two divisions - 16 and under, and 17 and over - with competition in singles and in doubles. Mixed doubles competition will be set up if there is enough interest.

THERE IS NO entry fee required for either tournament. A special senior citizens division will be set up in the horseshoe tournament if the number participating warrant it.

Horseshoe courts at the park will be the official courts, but by agreement of both contestants matches may be played at any court in the city at any time of the day. Equipment for use at city park courts will be available from 9 a.m. to noon, and 1-5 and 7-9 p.m. In tennis, matches will be played at a time agreed by both parties. Days will be announced when first-, second and third-round matches should be completed.

Economy is not — repeat,
not! — a bad word

All over the nation, states are struggling with the problem of bringing their budgets within their income. The alternative is more debt unless higher taxes are to be levied, and the people are emphatically opposing increasing taxes. During boom years, tax receipts have been high and public money has been spent like water. Now, as the boom has been "cooled", it becomes a case of debt, economy or higher taxes.

The federal government is in the same position, but according to official statement, there will be little or no easing of domestic social expenditures in the face of mounting war costs. So, get ready for more debt, higher taxes or both, and more inflation.

Nothing has been said about what will happen when the tax consumers outnumber the tax earners. With economy out the window one wonders if the countries we have aided will have a foreign aid program for us.

It's time we taught some
United Statesism to kids

According to a newspapers report from Portland, Ore., a U. S. Communist party organizer, in speaking to a group of college students on college property, said: "Americans eventually will adopt communism because the present system gives them no way to participate meaningfully in the decisions controlling their lives."

It was most noticeable that no college authority answered this challenge. No support was offered for our representative form of government under which every adult man and woman has the right to vote on a secret ballot.

What would happen to a U. S. citizen who dared to address a Russian college audience in like manner and criticize the Communist system? A U. S. Communist, under the protection of the U. S. Constitution, has the privilege of criticizing the U. S. political system which guarantees his right to free speech, which he wouldn't have in Russia.

We need a few "organizers" to teach United Statesism in our educational system to counteract the isms that have the privilege of trying to tear it down. Lack of such teaching leaves our young people at sea and open to the wiles of those who would destroy us under the cloak of academic freedom.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

TONASKET, WASH, TRIBUNE: "More than a few people . . . are proud of the fact that they 'worked their way through college'. They make no secret of the fact that they obtained a higher education by waiting on tables, tutoring, typing, etc. and then supplemented that income by working hard at summer jobs. In short, they got their education the hard way, without depending on federal aid and, in many cases, accepting little or no family aid. Those we know were not hurt by the extra effort. Indeed, it made them better qualified to compete when they left the ivy-covered walls."

This change was made to avoid conflict with the Ionia Free Fair, which is scheduled August 17 to 22, and which might affect somewhat the attendance at the local fair.

RAMBLIN' with Rink

By LOWELL G. RINKER

The arrival of Newspaper Bingo bugs at the Clinton County News last week drew my attention to some "bugs" which have been around the newspaper business probably as long as it has existed. I have periodically been plagued with them, but like anything you get used to it and finally forget it.

The bugs are alternately called "gremlins" and "type lice," but in either case they are pesky little yarmints and can cause a person no end of trouble unless he keeps an eye open and carries a big stick.

I have been associated with newspapers now for half my life, and I have been vividly aware of the strife they can spring on the unwary printer or even writer.

IN 14 YEARS of observing type lice I have been quick to recognize two which seem to have picked on me as being a patsy for walking into type lice booby traps. They followed me from Hart to Peoria to Farmington to St. Johns, and though I force them into hiding at times I always have the feeling that "Etaoin and Shrdlu are watching."

The little fellows got their names from the two verticle left hand row of keys on a Linotype keyboard, because it was on the Linotype that they caused me some of my first serious problems. I have had a lot of squirts of hot lead out of the Linotype that were directly attributable to the type lice, along with jammed keyboards, bent letters and constantly jamming distributor bars.

My first experience with Etaoin and Shrdlu was when I was working as a printer's devil at the Hart Journal. One day while I was cutting paper with the big cutter, the two mischievous type lice quietly nudged my line gauge (measuring stick) into the cutting area. It was made of metal. The result was a creased line gauge but worse yet the loss of a chunk of the cutting blade which I didn't notice and didn't know about until the boss told me in no happy tones.

BUT IT WAS at the Farmington Bugle in Illinois that Etaoin and Shrdlu had their field day. They unlocked pages on the press on me once, allowing two pages to scatter over the floor. They jammed the Linotype any number of times, as I have told you. They added extra heat to the casting box, causing mats to scorch beyond usefulness. They broke belts on the newspaper folder. They got into cameras and fogged film.

When I came to St. Johns, I figured Etaoin and Shrdlu were liking it so much at the Bugle they wouldn't budge, but I guess I kind of grew on them. They're around here somewhere this morning, watching and waiting. Some time when I'm least expecting it they'll jump into the typewriter to spell a name wrong or dangle a participle.

They'll sneak away at times and get out into the back shop to cool down the waxer or louse up the typesetting machines.

BUT ETAOIN and Shrdlu have always shown a streak of jealousy, and that's why I'm looking forward to the presence of Newspaper Bingo bugs around here for the next three months. Hopefully, the two type lice will find it too crowded to stay on. While some of you use the bingo bugs for profit and fun I'm planning on using them for pest control.

A constitutional question

By W. E. Dobson

Attorney Generals we find
In this our U.S.A.
Are 'bout the busiest of guys,
Reportin day by day;
'N Courts from highest down to low
Are inctin revolution,
By their interpretations
Of Our Noble Constitution.

It seems that all that's said or wrote
Since our great grand-dad's day,
Now somegaw fails to measure up
To what was once O.K.
So much our legislators do
Is rendered null 'n void,
It looks like our law makers
Are mostly dis-employed.

Our Constitution we are told Divided chores by three,
'N specified quite clearly
What each part was to be;
But powers has been so usurped
In our political tug-of-war,
Are we killin 'n bankruptin
In Unconstitutional War?

Editor:

Approximately one month ago my 19-year-old son was driving on US-27 near St. Johns. The hand-made canoe he had labored on all winter was attached to a carrier on the car roof. He drove into a severe storm with intense winds which tore his red-colored canoe from the car top.

He asked the help of your police department at St. Johns and the state police, but apparently no one has reported it or its remains.

Is it possible any of your readers could give us any information?

Roses . . . and some questions for commission?

Editor:

Under the compulsion of the negative vote, it appears our city commission finally is doing some thinking and acting. Big industrial users are to be asked to pay at least a part of the cost of production instead of being subsidized by the householder.

We need a thinking commission, one that can think for the public, not just for big business and not just be yesmen for the manager.

We need a suggestion box or better yet a news media with a column for "public pulse," wherein people may ask questions by telephone or letter and the editor calls the particular city or county department head and prints the question and answer immediately, thus answering many person's questions with one answer.

SOMEWHERE THE CITY found some leftover money from the library fund so our taxes are reduced this year. How much is left over, about $6,000? Each year? For how many years? Enough to buy some new books or possibly a new wing (like the court house)?

How much is left over from the garbage fund or the water bond funds? I heard it could amount to approximately $10,000 or $20,000 each year. For how many years? Or, is this just since the more than double increase in state equalization went into effect?

How about an accounting statement to the public and tax payers. We might be interested. Other questions need answering, too.

WHY DON'T WE GET water readings on our water bills?

Why should we pay without proper readings?

Why should our mayor be permitted to vote, or voice an opinion, on the water rate issue with big business users of water when he is an official of one of these companies?

Why was a 25 cent rate suggested at a recent meeting and

HOPPER

By STEVEN HOPKO

The hopper returns! So think what you may . . . just don't cancel your subscription. (We need you, you know).

It's been nye onto three months since the hopper sat down to his "Golden Touch" machine, (that's what is says on the front of this typewriter) to peck out something of value for all to read.

I have many reasons as to why this column was not written. And, as I sit back and think about them (all of them), it's hard to find even one that I could use as a reasonable excuse for not writing.

ONE NICE THING did happen because the hopper was missing. This was all the inquiries from friends, relatives, enemies and just interested people who called, wrote or asked, "When are you going to write your column again?" It was nice to be missed, even though it's hard to understand why.

In fact, one friend even flew from Arizona just to inquire as to why this column had been missing. Well, he didn't fly here just to ask me this, but he did fly back to St. Johns for a few days on business and dropped by to ask about the column. This was Jim Matthews who now resides in Scottsdale, Ariz. with his wife, Jeanne and their children.

Jim was one of the fine golfers who used to take a few of my spare shekels from me on the local golf course when he lived in St. Johns. Jim stated that I mentioned the local course and many of the fellows he played golf with in the past and that he kept track of many of them through my column. (So be on your best behavior fellows or I'll write something nasty about you . . . I wonder if I could use this to get a few strokes? Might be worth a try.)

SPEAKING OF people dropping in and at the same time switching from men to pretty girls, I had a very pleasant surprise a few weeks ago.

The former Mel Lou Foo, now Mel Lou Klein of London, dropped in. Mel Lou is the daughter of Dr. Foo, former St. Johnsite who now resides in Florida.

She was a few years behind me in school, but because Uncle Sam wanted me and for some reason I went, we both were in the same class over at MSC. (For you of the younger generation, it is now MSU).

I HADN'T SEEN Mel Lou since 1956, 11 short years ago, and the amazing thing was that she hadn't changed a bit. Still one of the prettiest girls to come out of St. Johns that I know of. (In those same 11 short years, I've gotten a little greyer, a little baldier and a little fatter . . . well not much fatter—I've lost three pounds in the last six or seven months, you know).

We had a very fine chat about the people and the changes in St. Johns. But, as all nice things, our chat was very short. She had other people to try to see and was leaving the following morning to see her father, but I'll be looking forward to seeing her again, and soon I hope.

Speaking of good things being short, I better shut the lid on the hopper and save something for next week.

Promotions, profits show tourism big business here

Over a billion dollars was spent by tourists in Michigan during 1966. Using the "tourism multiplier," which shows that each dollar spent is "respent" three and one-third times before leaving the community or state, the tourist industry was directly responsible for marketing about $3.5 billion in goods and services.

William T. McGraw, director of the Michigan Tourist Council, estimates that the 1967 season will easily top last year's figure. The tourist industry, second only to the state's manufacturing industry, expands by about 10 percent annually. In five years the industry has increased more than 50 percent from $650 million to the present level. Michigan ranked fifth among the states most visited in 1966. Indications this year, however, seem to assure Michigan's moving closer to the number one spot.

TOURISM AFFECTS everyone in one way or another. More than 40,000 establishments in Michigan are directly involved in serving the needs of tourists. Many Michigan companies engage in the manufacture of sporting goods, automobiles, travel trailers, food products and other commodities which result from tourist spending. Property taxes from cottage owners who live out-state bring in public monies with little or no accompanying demand for governmental services. Gasoline and sales taxes provide revenue for highways and schools. In 1966 tourists paid more than $70 million in direct state taxes.

Increases in tourism can be generally attributed to many factors; more leisure time, more spendable income, better transportation facilities, etc. Rapid growth in Michigan's tourist trade can be attributed to a unique method of promotion, maintains the Michigan Tourist Council.

Michigan links together the state efforts with those of regional, local and individual programs to exact the most from its promotional expenditures.

THE MICHIGAN TOURIST Council policy board is composed of five members appointed by the governor and the four secretaries-managers of Michigan's regional tourist associations. Entirely state supported, this organization promotes and advertises tourism generally throughout the state with a budget of $751,431.

The four regional associations, Upper Michigan, West Michigan, East Michigan and Southeastern Michigan, operate on a match-money basis from state and local funds. Each association assesses dues and promotes its individual areas to tourists. State funds can be used only for promotional purposes, not for administrative costs.

The 1966-67 budget called for $375,000 from individual business firms and $176,000 from the state for regional association operations.

Additionally, local businesses and chambers of commerce work locally to promote tourist business. About $3 million will be spent in 1967 for this purpose.

NEITHER THE STATE nor regional associations act as "policing agencies." Their sole function is to promote tourism. Complaints are referred directly to the establishment involved. No threat of expulsion from the association or punitive measures can be used, although letters accompany the complaint and point out the need for cooperation. There are comparatively few complaints, says the council.

Once a seasonal business, the tourist industry has grown into year-round activity. Skiing brought 270,000 persons to Michigan's ski slopes last winter in addition to several hundred thousand ice fishermen, snowmobile enthusiasts, sightseers, etc. Skiers alone spent more than $28 million, an increase of 30 percent over the 1965-66 season.

In the face of stiffer competition from other states, the tourist council has requested increased funds for the 1967-68 fiscal year. A goal of 1.5 billion recreation dollars by 1972 can be reached notes the council, by "advertising and publicizing Michigan's vacation advantages with imagination and efficiency."

INCREASED FUNDS are also requested for regional budgets and the transfer of highway information lodges from the highway department to the tourist council has been asked.

Other suggestions include: creation of a Michigan State Department of Travel, anti-litter messages be put on all one-way beverage containers, an expanded appropriation be granted to the Historical Commission, tax exemption be granted from certain items used in preparing lodging facilities, and permission be granted to townships to use tax funds for tourist advertising purposes.

COUNTRY FLAVOR

A bird, a song, a glad heart make living joyous

HAYDN PEARSON

Wherever one goes these summer days, he sees the miracle of flight. Birds are in the air searching for food for young ones in the nest; butterflies hover over blooms in the borders; honey bees and bumblebees flit from flower to flower. Long ago scientists proved that bumblebees could not fly, but each year the plump black insects collect pollen and nectar and travel unhurriedly back to their nests.

The countryman does not understand the principles of aerodynamics; he looks at the pictures of machines that carry men through outer space and marvels at the ingenuity of his peers. But he thinks that a barn swallow swooping gracefully over the fields, or a hawk circling high in the sky, learned the majesty of flight long before man decided to try his wings.

It is good to walk the meadows and hillside these warm, sunny summer days and watch the birds and insects. Meadow larks lift from the grasses to a tall tree and pour out their songs. Warblers and vireos flit in the hedges, and the phoebe flies from its nest in the old woodshed to the telephone wires across the yard and calls its name.

Birds that instinctively know the principles of aerodynamics demonstrate with ease the art of flying. But in addition to the wonder of their flight, they give us music. We hope that as man continues his conquest of the air, he also will find something from the achievement that will add melody to his life. It seems to a countryman that material conquests have their place, but with these achievements there should be a harvest that adds to the joy of living.

THE WONDERS OF SCIENCE

Temperature-sensitive materials moving through "Turbo-Film" evaporators are processed by distributing them as a thin uniform film on a thermal wall, reports Volator, Louisville. Rotor blades in the processor impart turbulence to the film, inducing a high rate of heat transfer and preventing localized overheating. The units are used to process organic and inorganic chemicals, pharmaceuticals and food products.

The "Low Down" From the Congressional Record

By Joe Crump

Arsenal diplomacy by U.S. criticized

Senator Frank Church (Idaho)

"... Since the end of World War II, the United States has doled out $322 million in military aid to the Arab nations which joined in the most recent attempt to obliterate Israel. Egypt and Sudan are the only Arab nations missing from our arms sales and giveaway list. Jordan has been the recipient of $55.6 million in military aid, not including a quantity of F-104 Starfighters sold only last year; Saudi Arabia has received $162 million; Iraq, $47 million; Morocco, $37.3 million; and Lebanon, Libya, Syria, and Yemen lesser amounts. ...

"We have also sold Israel $28 million in arms. ...

"In the eyes of much of the world, the United States seems more intent on furnishing swords than plowshares. During the past 17 years, we have bestowed on foreign governments ... a staggering total of $37 billion. ...

"THE ARMAMENTS which these sums represent are no less staggering: 4,385 F-84 fighters; 2,812 F-86 fighters; 3,292 aircraft trainers; 20,279 tanks, 75,995 trailers; 150,532 2 1/2-ton trucks, 1,362,000 carbines; 2, 106,000 rifles; 72,777 machine guns; 28,716 mortars; 30,340 missiles. ...

"As if to augment these massive gifts of arms, the Defense Department is now engaged in a mushrooming sales campaign. Direct sales to foreign governments already exceed $16 billion, while Pentagon officials anticipate orders worth another $15 billion in the next decade. ...

"Today, the federal government is the principal arms dispenser of the world, giving away, advancing credit, and promoting the sale of a volume of arms over six times that of our nearest rival, the Soviet Union. ...

"TODAY SOME 12,000 Americans are engaged abroad in training, advising, and supervising the armed services of no less than 35 foreign countries. ...

"Sales may be for cash or on easy terms, with financing available through a Defense Department revolving credit account, the government-owned Export-Import Bank, or private banking facilities. ...

"Early last year, we agreed to sell Argentina 50 subsonic A-4B combat aircraft for an air force which has never fired a shot in anger, except against its own government. ...

"Chile reacted by purchasing 21 British Hawker Hunter jet fighters, a superior plane, at a cost of $20 million. This came on the heels of the withdrawal of a U.S. offer to sell Chile A-4B's because of the Vietnam demands. The third act in the escalation saw Peru, determined to get its aerial nose ahead of Argentina and Chile, initiate negotiations with the United States, the British and later the French for even more advanced jet fighters. ...

"THE EXECUTIVE branch has shown no real indication that it is prepared to start turning off the weapons spigots. The military aid request presented to the Congress for the 1968 fiscal year, ignoring some budgetary sleight-of-hand, is greater than the amount Congress voted last year. Sales continue unchecked. ...

"Congress must put the program on a rational basis, and fortunately, the Senate has shown signs that it may start cutting down to size. ...

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

The Senate is getting into the act a little late, but some action denotes progress.

The House of Representatives might well get into the act also. Because of the many financing schemes available to the Defense Department to promote the dispensing of arms, it will take the combined efforts of both houses to slow the flow. —J.C.

UNDER THE EYE OF THE STORM is John Hersey's newest novel. Hersey, author of the Pulitzer prize winner, A BELL FOR ADANO, here shows himself to be a very much at home around sailing vessels.

His latest work deals with just what the title implies, a storm, a real one, not a symbolic one. Not since Nordoff and Hall's book THE HURRICANE has anyone described a tropical storm so vividly and in such detail. Unlike the Nordoff and Hall storm this one takes place in home waters and is experienced by American characters, with a young Dr Medlar as the protagonist.

It is amazing that Hersey finds time to turn out a new book every year and a half or so, since he is the master of Pier-son College at Yale University.

Incidentally, it is probably only a coincidence that the word "Medlar" has a special meaning in library jargon. It stands for "Medical Literature Retrieval System," one of the many new forms of automation invading the technical library world.

THE ANTHEM is not a treatise on a special form of sacred music. It is the title of Noel B. Gerson's latest historical novel. In his latest he leaves the life and times of Patrick Henry, John Hancock, Francis Marion, and Andrew Jackson (subjects of previous fictional works), and returns to the 18th century. In his usual well-documented fashion he depicts great historical characters such as Henry IV and Louis XIV of France. We meet Popes Clement VIII and Innocent XI. We journey briefly to American shores to witness the hanging of Quakers, and back in Europe we glimpse Napoleon, Voltaire, and Goethe.

THE ANTHEM is a broad-sweeping portrayal of the reformation of the Christian church, covering a period of three centuries. A clue to its title is found in a quotation from the sermons of Henry King, Bishop of Chichester (1591-1669): "The anthem of hate chanted by the godless makes inaudible even the sounds of angels, but the anthem of love shall prevail."

BEMENT PUBLIC LIBRARY has recently received three new books dealing with medical matters.

SO YOU WANT TO BE A SURGEON by Alan E. Nourse, M.D., is a vocational guidance book valuable to a young man considering a surgeon's career. Dr Nourse is the author of a previous book entitled SO YOU WANT TO BE A DOCTOR.

FAMOUS MODERN MEN OF MEDICINE is by a woman doctor, Caroline A. Chandler, M.D. Based on a series of interviews with a number of famous men of medicine, the book's chapter titles include The Men of Menninger, The Men of Mayo, Paul Dudley White, Benjamin Spock, Anna Freud, The Polio Story, and The Surgery Story, among others.

Dr Chandler's own career has been a brilliant one, and she is now chief of the Child Mental Health Section of the Community Research and Services Branch of the National Institution of Mental Health. She is also a professor of pediatrics at Johns Hopkins School of Medicine.
