SE site selected for school

St. Johns school board has taken option on property for a southeast elementary school site. This completes selection of all sites needed for the new building program.

Owned by Mr and Mrs Howard Blasen the 10-acre site is on the north side of Green Road 1/2 mile west of Krepps Road, Olive Township.

Earlier this month, the board took option on a 10-acre site at the corner of Lowell and Pratt Roads in Riley Township for the new 13-room elementary school to serve the southwest part of the school district.

That land is owned by Robert Law and Richard Rossow and is on the southwest corner of the intersection, a mile south of the Jason School.

Plans for the additions to the Eureka and East Essex schools have already been given tentative approval and submitted to the state board of education and the state fire marshal's office for approval.

It is hoped plans for all four rural elementary building projects can be ready for submission for bids by Oct. 1, said Supt. Earl Lancaster.

He added it is possible, but not very probable, some of the new buildings could be ready for occupancy by the start of school in the fall of 1967.

What's the Future for Elms?

"Topping" is the term used for cutting the top branches from a tree, and it's almost a lost art today. Performing the last rites for a dead Dutch Elm on Walker near Spring in St. Johns is David Kelly of 108 South Baker. Working for a Lansing tree service, he has been felling a number of diseased trees on private property in the area. Story on page 11A.—Photo by Styer

4 eye 2 commission seats, Mayor Smit may bow out

The list of candidates for St. Johns' city commission election this fall could be the longest in recent history.

And a change in the mayor and in seating at the five-man commission table is almost assured.

Petitions have been taken out for three challengers and one of two incumbents.

Indications are strong that Jack J. Smit, mayor for the past four years, will not run again. No petitions have yet been taken out in his name.

Intending to seek re-election is Ray E. Kentfield Jr., a commissioner for 14 years and a two-term mayor.

PETITIONS also are out for Lorenz A. Tiedt who, after 13 years on the commission, lost in 1962 to Gerald Irner.

Tiedt said he agreed to run when asked but "will wage no campaign, leaving it entirely up to the voters."

City Clerk Don Clark said petitions have been returned for John A. Furry of 103 South Whittemore, a school teacher who lost a sticker campaign in 1962, and Douglas S. Carpenter of 502 South Kibbee, an executive at Federal-Mogul Corp.

Deadline for submission of petitions is 5 p.m. Aug. 2. Election of two commissioners will be held Nov. 8.

Candidates for the six-year terms must be qualified voters residing in the city. Petitions require at least 50 and not more than 75 signatures of qualified registered voters. They must be returned to the office of the city clerk.

Smit, who lives at 500 1/2 North Clinton Avenue, could not be reached for comment at press time. He is president of a Lansing wrecking concern.

The mayor is chosen by the commissioners from their own ranks following each election.

Candidates do not declare for any specific seat at the commission table.

Kentfield, mayor from 1957-8 and 1961-2, said he is running because "I enjoy it and someone has to do it."

He added, "I hope we can create a much better feeling between government officials and the public. This has got to be done."

He said he "would like to see the Urban Renewal plan downtown completed and the construction of a new firehall away from the congestion" on Walker St.

A LIFE-LONG resident of St. Johns, Kentfield, age 52, is an independent painting contractor, a charter member of the Lions Club and has been a volunteer fireman for 20 years.

He first was elected to the commission in 1952 when he pushed for bonding for a sewer disposal plant. During his first term as mayor, he organized the plan commission. In his second mayoral term, he appointed the downtown development committee.

He has served as region president and as vice-president of the Michigan Municipal League.

He and his wife, Dorothy, have two children.

TIEDT was appointed to the commission in 1949, elected in 1954 and 1956.

A member of the Clinton County board of supervisors for 15 years, he served a partial term as trustee with the St. Johns board of education.

He is secretary-treasurer of the Wolverine Stockyard Co. and chairman of the Clinton National Bank and Trust Co.

A resident of St. Johns since 1931, he attended high school in Fowler and studied at Lansing Business University.

Tiedt, 59, and his wife, Lillian, have three children.

FURRY issued his first campaign statement this week: "I believe strongly there has to be more diplomacy and tact in running the affairs of our community."

"I am deploring this lack of responsibility; if the commissioners do care how people feel, they aren't approaching residents' complaints in a tactful manner. There doesn't have to be this petty bickering in handling the affairs of a community."

Saying he had been encouraged to run by numerous people,

Bishop Green is assigned to St. Mary's of Jackson

The Most Rev M. Joseph Green, auxiliary bishop of the Diocese of Lansing and pastor of St. Josephs Church in St. Johns for the past nine years has been named pastor of St. Mary, Star of the Sea, parish in Jackson, Michigan, effective August 10. He succeeds the Rt. Rev Msgr Frank J. Hardy, pastor of St. Marys for the past 22 years, who is retiring at the age of 78.

The appointment was made by the Most Rev Alexander Zaleski, bishop of the Lansing Diocese, who said the assignment is another effort to relate the highest pastoral role of the church, more closely to the members of the church.

Jackson, the tenth largest city in Michigan, is 30 miles from the See City of Lansing. Bishop Zaleski, noting that it is unusual for an auxiliary bishop to be assigned such distance from the See City, said Bishop Green's residency in one of the largest cities in the diocese fulfills an important injunction, and reflects the spirit of the recent Vatican Council's decree on bishops.

Bishop Green is the national episcopal advisor to the Cursillo Movement, a member of the National Bishops' Ecumenical Commission, chairman of the Diocesan Ecumenical Commission, and the president of the Greater Lansing Interfaith Council on Religion and Race.

Green has been pastor at St. Joseph's in St. Johns, the parish has grown in many aspects.

The number of families in the parish has doubled since he first came in 1957. At that time the parish numbered 400 families, and now counts over 800 families on its rolls.

THE SCHOOL has almost tripled in his stay. From 220 students in 1957 to an enrollment of 620 expected for the coming year. In 1957 the St.

FATHER YOUNG

The Rev John E. Young, assistant pastor at St. Joseph's parish in St. Johns for the past two years will begin his new duties as pastor of St. John's parish in Davison, Michigan as of August 10.

During his stay at St. Joseph's, Father Young has served as Deanery Director of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine.

In the parish he was the Spiritual Director of the Legion of Mary, moderator for the Altar Society and Advisor for the Home School Council.

Besides his duties as assistant pastor, Fr Young also taught religion in the parish school.

OUTSIDE THE PARISH, Fr Young was active in T.E.C. (Teen Encounters Christ) youth retreat movement and the Cursillo, an adult leadership program.

This past June he was elected Treasurer of the St. Johns Ministerial Association.

ON HIS LEAVING Fr Young said, "It has been a pleasure and a privilege to serve the people of St. Johns. This was my first experience in a smaller community with a rural flavor. The warmth and down-to-earth goodness of the people were striking qualities of the people. I am grateful to the spirit of cooperation that was shown to me by the people of St. Joseph's. On the ecumenical level, the spirit of friendship shown in the St. Johns Ministerial Association will always be a warm remembrance."

Fr Young graduated from St. Mary's High School in Jackson. At the time of his graduation Bishop Green was an assistant pastor at the Jackson church.

FOLLOWING HIGH school, Fr Young entered the seminary and was ordained into the priesthood in June of 1957.

His first two years were spent as assistant pastor of Holy Redeemer Church of Flint. From there he was at St. Augustine's Church in Kalamazoo for five years before coming to St. Johns in 1964.

A FAREWELL party will be held for Father Young and Bishop Green on Tuesday, August 9 at 8 p.m. in the Social Hall at St. Joseph's School. All friends and acquaintances of Fr Young are invited to attend.

Bishop Green re-assigned

Joseph's school had a teaching compliment of one lay teacher and 4 nuns. This fall it will have 11 lay teachers and 6 nuns. In the high school CCD courses Bishop Green and Fr Ramer had approximately 100 students in 1957. Today the CCD classes number over 250 students with 10 instructors.

ON THE PHYSICAL aspects of the parish, Bishop Green, shortly after his arrival in 1957 had the convent completely renovated and newly furnished. Additional offices and a waiting room were added to the rectory, and extensive repairs were made on the school.

Under his direction an expansion fund campaign was inaugurated in 1958 to build an addition to the school and to enlarge the seating capacity and to renovate the church. A six classroom addition was added to the school; it also included a social hall and completely equipped kitchen.

IN ADDITION TO the work on the school, the church was completely renovated and repaired. The renovations consisted in almost doubling the seating capacity of the church, as well as installing new altars, sanctuary, furnishings, new lighting, flooring, pews and painting and redecorating the interior of the church.

The entire expansion and renovating of the church and school cost approximately $315,000.

IN 1963, under Bishop Green's direction, the parish added another addition to the school at a cost of approximately $200,000. This was a two-story addition which included six classrooms, an audio-visual room, and a gymnasium with locker room facilities for both the boys and girls. Since 1960 Bishop Green has purchased three properties adjacent to the church property. These are to be used for future expansion.

THE ONE PROPERTY, formerly owned by Dr James Grosi, is now in the process of being renovated into a new 8 bedroom convent, which should be completed and ready for occupancy by September of this year.

Bishop Green was ordained into the priesthood by Bishop Albers on July 14, 1946. His first assignment was as an assistant to the same parish he will now head as pastor. During his nearly four years at St. Mary's in Jackson he assisted the pastor he now succeeds.

IN JULY OF 1950, he was assigned to St. Mary's parish in Charlotte as assistant and a year later was sent by the late Bishop Albers to the Lateran University in Rome, where he earned a doctorate in Canon Law in 1954.

He returned to St. Mary's in Charlotte for a year before being appointed secretary to Bishop Albers in October, 1955.

HE CONTINUED in that role until June, 1957, when he was appointed pastor of St. Joseph's parish in St. Johns. At the same time he was given additional duties as vice chancellor of the diocese.

Two years later the late Pope John XXIII appointed Father Green as a domestic prelate, with the title of monsignor. He was invested in December, 1959, and in less than three years again was singled out by Pope John for the appointment as bishop.

HE WAS consecrated as bishop on August 28, 1962 at which time he became the first priest of the Lansing diocese to be made a bishop. He was immediately appointed auxiliary bishop of the Lansing Diocese.

The parishioners of St. Joseph's in St. Johns will bid Bishop Green at a farewell party on Tuesday, August 9 at 8 p.m. It will be held in the St. Joseph School social hall and all friends and acquaintances are invited.

TOPS queen

The Hub Clubs Top Club weighed in at the senior Citizens Drop In Center last Thursday, then proceeded to the St. Johns Park for a picnic, furnished by the losers of the last three months contest.

Mrs Gladys Mayers was the queen for the week again. She has been the queen four weeks out of five.

Regular meeting will be Thursday at 8 p.m. Try to have some ideas for our next contest.

Trumpet vine—unique in 2 ways

A unique way to provide shade for an automobile showroom, this one-story high trumpet vine was planted 34 years ago by Herman Pohl of 511 South Oakland Street, now retired from Pohl Brothers Chevrolet and Oldsmobile, Brush and Higham Street. Even more unique is the fact that the more-recent sidewalk was constructed around the plant, which now hugs the building along two sides above the show windows.

School board OKs bus driver contract

St. Johns Board of Education has ratified its first master contract with the Bus Drivers Association, setting up a new salary schedule.

The one-year contract sets minimum pay at $1,400 to a maximum of $1,700. This is an increase from an across-the-board $1,200.

Starting at $1,400, drivers will receive a $100 increase after their first year and $50 for each of the succeeding four years.

Computing at the same number of drivers—22—as the just-completed school year, cost of salaries necessitate a $7,200 increase in the transportation budget for the coming year.

Total transportation budget for the entire school district is hiked from $83,000 to $105,000, which includes purchase of four new buses.

ANOTHER PROVISION of the new contract bases all bus and routing assignments on seniority. Drivers with the longest time in will have their choice from a list.

Drivers of van runs—shorter trips with only 12-18 children, mainly used for kindergarten—will receive $1,200 across the board or $600 for the noon-only run. This constitutes a raise, since pay for these runs was previously set on the type of run rather than on a salary schedule.

Payment for extra trips has been hiked from $1.50 to $2 per hour. Rates for substitute drivers have also been increased.

This is the first year the Bus Drivers Association has organized for collective bargaining. The Association ratified the contract two weeks ago.

Commission

Furry said he believes "more could be done to keep citizens informed of what's being done," and specifically referred to last year's water rate hike and the controversy surrounding it ever since.

Furry was a late entrant in the 1962 commission race and came in fourth on a sticker campaign.

A RESIDENT of St. Johns and a social science teacher at the high school for the last 11 years, Furry is now guidance counselor, and was co-op coordinator during the past school year. He was head of the social science department for two years and coached a number of sports.

Winner of the Jaycee distinguished service award in 1963, he has held every office in the local chapter except secretary. He was local director of the American Red Cross, once city chairman of Michigan Week and directed the summer program at Vets Memorial Pool for four years. He and his wife, Carroll, have four children.

CARPENTER has been with Federal-Mogul since 1953 and is now planning and scheduling department manager. At 37, he is a life-long resident of St. Johns.

He has not run for local office previously, is out of town this week and unavailable for comment.

He and his wife, Alice, have two boys.

Appliance store marks 1st year

Kurt's Appliance Center, St. Johns, is holding a first anniversary celebration.

Door prizes will be offered as the observance at 220 North Clinton Avenue continues through July 30.

The center, run by Kurt Becker of St. Johns, recently enlarged its appliance display area.

The store became a new addition to the central business district on July 1, 1965.

Ray Schomisch is head of the service department, assisted by Harold Crowley and Ted Rahl.

Study says traffic too heavy for many bridges in county

Many of Clinton County's 137 bridges, built around the turn of the century, aren't up to taking the heavy load of modern-day traffic.

This is the preliminary conclusion reached from an engineering study of area bridges, now one-third completed.

Begun last year by Elten Engineering Co. of Port Huron, studies have been finished on 30 bridges. A total of 92 are to be checked, said Les Drago, engineer-manager with the County Road Commission.

Those 45 bridges not included in the examination are "more modern or known to be acceptable," Drago said.

THE WEIGHT LIMIT for most bridges checked so far has been found to be "quite low, about 4 to 10 tons," mostly due to "under-designed stringers (lateral I-beams which carry the weight to the trusses)," Drago explained.

"Many of them can't carry modern-day trucks," he stated. Drago said two particular points in mind when the analysis was begun were protection of children riding school busses traveling over the spans and avoidance of eventual damages to the bridges themselves.

As a follow-up to the study, Drago hopes to "upgrade" some of the inadequate bridges in conjunction with the regular, continuing maintenance program.

For example, when a wooden deck on a bridge is replaced, or when a stringer found rusting or wearing out, he said, heavier stringers may be installed if warranted by the analysis of the bridge.

AS THE STUDY continues, bridges checked are being posted with new load limits, based on gross weight tonnage acceptable. A number of the spans had never before been posted; some of those that were used the out-dated basis of axial load limit, Drago said.

Signs are being placed at both entrances to each bridge and at the nearest road intersection on either side.

(Dragoo parenthetically noted that the cost per sign is $15. At four signs for each of 100 bridges, that's $6,000.)

THE STUDY, which was slowed by high water in the spring, will probably go faster now and is hoped to be completed by the end of 1966.

Many of the shorter spans, 40-50 feet, have already been analyzed, with the longer ones (about 100 feet) remaining.

Cost of the analysis averages out to $90-100 per bridge, with a minimum cost of $60 each.

With 92 spans, that comes to about $8,280 total for the study, plus cost of the signs and some subsequent reconstruction.

AUTHORIZED by the Road Commission, the study takes in bridges on all local and county roads; state highway bridges are maintained by the state.

The analysis for the first 30 bridges indicates that 22 are wide enough for only one lane of traffic; five others are designated as "narrow."

Only two of the first 30 are shown by the study as adequate for two-lane traffic: on Bauer Road over Stoney Creek in Riley Township and at Hollister and Woodworth Roads in Ovid Township.

Car, tanker collide in Ovid

Bridge damage unassessed

OVID—It will take weeks to assess damages to the Maple River bridge and roadside vegetation following last Thursday's spectacular accident involving two cars and an oil tanker truck, said Don Ewing, County Road Commission Clerk.

The truck crashed into the bridge abutment and spilled about 3,500 gallons of fuel oil over Highway M-21 and the river. The northwest corner of the 100-foot bridge was moved about four inches off its foundation.

TRAFFIC WAS detoured for about five hours while all available road commission trucks covered 200 feet of oil-slick road with sand, Ewing said.

He added that state engineers were studying bridge damage earlier this week. Conservation Department authorities were on the scene in an attempt to determine the extent of river pollution from the oil.

Ovid Police Chief Gaylord Weisenberg said the tanker, driven by Cecil Smith, 40, of Harrison, collided with a car driven by Mrs. Patsy Howard, 22, of 324 North Main Street, Ovid.

Another car, driven by James Cronkrite, 18, of St. Johns, crashed into the Howard car after the initial impact, Weisenberg said.

He estimated car and truck damage at about $15,000.

SMITH SUFFERED A cut over his right eye and was the only person injured. There were three passengers in the Howard car.

Weisenberg said Mrs. Howard had stopped her car at the Main Street and M-21 intersection and her wheels spun when she attempted to drive across the highway in front of the truck.

The truck-trailer jackknifed and struck the bridge abutment. Clinton and Shiawassee County sheriff's officers assisted Weisenberg at the scene.

The accident happened about 6:45 a.m.

Still looking for teachers

Superintendent Earl Lancaster is still looking for a math teacher, speech correctionist and stringed instrument instructor for Rodney B. Wilson High School.

These are all full-time positions.

The St. Johns school district is also still seven rural teachers short. There should be a total of 145 teachers in the district.

Lancaster said he is interviewing prospective math teachers, but that speech correctionists are "almost non-existent" and stringed instrument teachers are hard to come by, too.

53 at Senior Citizen picnic

Fifty-three were present at the second Senior Citizens picnic at the City Park July 12.

The Rhythm Band accepted an invitation to enter the parade and participate in the Maple Rapids Improvement Association activities Saturday, July 16.

Because of the coolness and pleasant surroundings the group voted to have the next meeting, a picnic also, in the pavilion at the City Park Tuesday, July 26.

Board meets Aug. 1 with HS architect

The St. Johns board of education has set Aug. 1 to go over preliminary plans for the new high school with Guido Binda and Associates of Battle Creek, architects.

The new school will be built on a site southeast of the city park. The architects began work in earnest May 10, after district voters gave the $5.4 million bond issue proposal a slim victory margin.

The proposed St. Johns High School would have 46 teaching stations designed to handle 1,000 students in grades 10-12. The existing high school serves the same number in grades 9-12.

Following his graduation with a bachelor of theology degree, he attended Taylor University in Upland, Indiana. This institution granted him a BA degree with a major in psychology in 1951.

He was granted a commission as an Army chaplain in 1951. His duty, ranging over a five-year period, included assignments in Europe as well as several posts in the United States. Two years were spent as a

He also organized an expedition that made the first contact with the Trio Indians near the Brazilian frontier.

As a result of these efforts, he received an award from the Surinam government for "his unusual contributions to the development of Surinam's interior."

Returning to the States in the latter part of 1960, he enrolled in Michigan State University. Concurrent with his graduate studies, he served as pastor of the Sunfield Methodist Church as well as the Center Park Evangelical United Brethren Church near Three Rivers.

He was awarded a PhD degree in guidance and counseling. The title of his dissertation was: "The nature and determinants of attitudes toward education and physical disability in Colombia, Peru and the United States."

IN ADDITION TO his duties at the Bingham and Bengal EUB Churches, Dr. Friesen is working as a psychologist at the VA hospital in Battle Creek, Michigan.

WHO DO YOU WANT TO SPEND YOUR TAX DOLLARS?

YOU HAVE A CHOICE — THERE'S A BIG DIFFERENCE

1. A man with no experience who lives in the southwestern part of the state and has moved into the district just to run for state representative.

2. A young man with no experience who has never held public office and who says his aim is to be a professional politician. Professionals are very easy to spot in the Legislature.

a. They are publicity seekers — working diligently every week to get their name or picture in the paper.

b. Every month they send out thousands of letters — at taxpayers expense — to convince the voter they should keep him in office.

c. Every vote or decision is made on the number of votes it will draw for him in the next election.

Road Commission Weekly Report

The seal-coating project for Clinton County blacktops came to a halt last week.

A shortage of peastone stopped the program.

Our storage piles are depleted and local processors are behind schedule in producing stone. We hope to build up stocks soon so that we can resume the program.

DUST-MASTER trucks from the Michigan Chemical Co. are spreading the second application on local roads.

The primary roads and the scattered areas of local roads are nearly done and they are now working in DeWitt and Watertown Townships.

Eagle, Riley and Victor Townships remain to be finished. We expect to spread more than a million gallons of 38% solution this year. Our previous high was 994,000 gallons spread last year.

THREE NEW pieces of equipment have been put into service lately.

Two new 6-man cab utility pickups are being used by labor crews and last week we received the new 25-ton Link-Belt crane that was ordered in January.

THE BOARD of Clinton County Road Commissioners held their regular meeting on Monday, July 18.

In addition to the many problems in drainage, construction and maintenance of roads, the Board discussed a labor meeting to adjust contract differences and a new subdivision was submitted from Bath Township.

Acceptance was delayed for several adjustments.

Disease hits hard

No future for elms?

Dutch Elm disease was first evident in this area about seven or eight years ago. And it's gotten progressively worse.

"There's almost an unbelievable amount of it in Clinton County," said George McQueen, Extension agent.

And the more extensive it becomes, the less helpful is the spray, though the County has had "a reasonable amount of success by spraying for the bark beetle," McQueen said.

The only answer in many cases is just cutting down the dying—or dead—tree.

A Lansing firm is now going through St. Johns, giving the last rites to deceased trees on private property, at the owner's request.

THE CITY AND county are trying their best to protect living elms and cut dead ones—but it's a "real slow process," according to St. Johns City Clerk Don Clark.

Last year, a city study of diseased and over-mature trees revealed more than 1,000 that should be removed from city property.

The City Commission, viewing the study, noted it would cost $30 to remove one tree—that's $30,000 total—and it's not in the budget, said Mayor Jack J. Smit.

Smit could only ask property owners to "cooperate" in taking down trees on city property at their own expense.

Overly-mature trees are also "hazardous," Clark said, adding, "City crews are trying to remove bad trees, but it's a real slow process."

He concluded, "I'd like to see the State Conservation Department, and possibly the local Chamber of Commerce or Jaycees, disseminate information on tree problems and on planting new trees, strong trees."

BUT STRONG ELMS are hard to come by now.

"There are very few resistant Elm trees," McQueen said. "The USDA is trying to develop trees resistant to Dutch Elm disease, but it's a long process."

He noted one reason the county can't hold present trees: "Many times, they're 70 to 80 feet tall and we can't get the spray up there; it's a real expensive proposition."

But, he said, the county is trying to cut down the dead trees as fast as it can.

The disease spreads. "It first came through the southeast part of the state," McQueen said. "You can now see entire woodlots naked."

What's the future for Clinton County Elms?

Attends hypnosis symposium

Dr Albert H. Nelson of St. Johns attended a state symposium on hypnosis held at Michigan State University July 17th and 18th, with over 100 Doctors of Optometry, Dental, and Osteopathic practitioners.

The Central Michigan Optometric Center sponsored the symposium on the practical aspects of clinical hypnosis. The program pointed out that indications by respected men in the field are that hypnosis will certainly play an important role in caring for patients in the future years.

FEATURED speakers at the symposium were Leslie M. LeCron, B.A., certified practicing psychologist from Los Angeles, recognized as one of the nation's leading authorities on hypnosis, Dr Joseph Reyher, Associate Professor of Clinical Psychology at Michigan State University, Dr Robert J. Morrison, Optometrist, who has done extensive work in the field of contact lenses and the use of hypnosis, and Dr Harold R. Myers, Osteopathic Physician, has assisted at special clinics on hypnosis for professional groups.

Manufacturers and distributors send out some 10 billion coupons each year, in efforts to gain new users for their products.

The Michigan Department of Health was the first state health agency to distribute blood plasma to hospitals and physicians for civilian use.

The Melvin Nobis family of Arnsville, Ill., were guests of honor at a picnic given by the families of Mr. and Mrs Carl Boak, Mr and Mrs Lorenz Zell and Mrs Lula Boak at Potter Park in Lansing. The afternoon and early evening was spent at Round Lake.

CRIME INCREASES

by HARMON CROSEY

Every report that you read about crime is that it is increasing and the brutality of the crimes is getting more savage. The knife murder of one of the citizens of the 88th District, a Grand Ledge mother, brings this problem to our own doorsteps.

Then Thursday of last week the newspaper headlines read, "Eight Slain in Chicago Orgy." Eight young student nurses were killed singly over a period of 2 1/2 hours in their dormitory.

These tragedies make us realize how important our law enforcement officers are to our communities.

While crimes become more numerous and hideous, the power of the police to cope with the problem is being curtailed by court decisions and police review boards. The criminal has more protection today than ever before and our men hired to keep law and order have less. Due to the restrictions placed on our law enforcement officers, the morale in many police departments is at a low ebb and experienced men are resigning in disgust. Vacancies are difficult to fill and many departments are undermanned.

If elected to represent the 88th District, I will do EVERYTHING POSSIBLE in the way of legislation to support and strengthen our police and sheriff's departments.

★ IN MEMORIAM

In memory of son, William A. Bunge, killed four years ago today, July 21, 1962. When evening shadows have fallen, and we sit here all alone, To our heart there comes a longing if you could only come home. No one knows the silent heartache, only those who lost can tell.

Of grief that comes in silence, for the one we loved so well, So our family chain is broken, our hearts left sad and sore, Through God's promise we will join you, to meet again and part no more.—Mom and Dad, sisters and brothers. 13-1p

In loving memory of our mother, Maude Bilzard, who passed away July 20 one year ago.

A wonderful mother, woman and aid; One who was better God never made. A wonderful worker, loyal and true, One in a million, that mother was you.

Just in your judgment, always right, Honest and liberal, ever upright; Loved by your friends and all you knew; A wonderful mother, that mother, was you.

Mr and Mrs Arnold Bilzard and Mr and Mrs John Greenfield. 13-1p

In memory of our son and brother, Douglas H. Orweller, who passed away 2 years ago July 16, 1964.

In God's plans are many things We cannot understand. We must trust his judgment And be guided by his hand. Come to my Heavenly garden And see in perfect bloom The flower you loved so dear.

And thought that I plucked too soon. Then you will know my reason. Though you will not know it today.

Why in his promising manhood I took your son away. We find the time long and lonely.

Since you went away and we miss you so much Douglas.

And shed many tears, life is so lonely without you. But we will again be with you never to part anymore. We love you.

Sadly missed by his son Douglas and Mom and Dad, Sisters and their families. 13-1p

Newhart on Lowell Showboat

TV's favorite guest star, comedian Bob Newhart, is expected to draw unprecedented crowds as he leads a cast and chorus of top professional and local talent in an evening of fun and music each night of the week-long Lowell Showboat July 25 through 30 at Lowell. In addition to Emmy-award winner Newhart, the Showboat will be carrying top recording stars The Vogues; the Sheryletts professional dancers; a singing chorus of over 100 voices; and local talent such as the Creston Madrigals and talent-search winners from all parts of the state. And once again the famous end men and interlocutor will set the pace and introduce the acts.

Townships may not zone state land against trailers

LANSING—Townships in Michigan may not zone state lands against the use of trailers, according to a recent opinion handed down by Attorney General Frank J. Kelley.

The decision, which holds that townships "cannot prohibit that which the State permits," is tied to a test case in which a trailer user was ordered off state lands in Gerrish Township, Roscommon County.

The camper was told to vacate the premises by two sheriff deputies who alleged that he was in violation of a township zoning ordinance which prohibits trailer coaches in any area other than a trailer park.

IN TAKING issue with this provision of the local ordinance, Attorney General Kelley ruled that only the Department of Conservation has the authority to make rules and regulations governing use of state lands under its administration.

He stated: "If townships were permitted to regulate state lands it would amount to an interference with state authority. The State permits camping on state lands whether in a tent, sleeping bag or trailer. Therefore, the township cannot under guise of zoning limit camping on state lands contrary to the policy of the Department (Conservation)."

THE RECENT opinion carries broad impact because the Department has about 4.2 million acres of state lands under its jurisdiction in Michigan.

Problems in the field

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Pvt Trent Taylor, son of Mr and Mrs Landon Taylor of 6252 W. Walker Road, St. Johns, is now stationed with A Troop, 4th Squadron, 7th Cavalry near the Imjum River, next to the demilitarized zone separating North and South Korea. This is his fifth report to Clinton County News readers on his experiences as a soldier.)

Our man at war!

you advance troops forward to help put down the assault.

We had a one day field problem this week. It all took place next to the Imjum River. There were 14 vehicles in the problem. The purpose of this problem was to get our troops ready for a three day maneuver against an infantry unit.

We learned how to reconnoiter and delay forward troops as they try to advance into our lines. To delay, you try to keep contact with the enemy and delay them. This way you can keep the enemy away from your own lines as long as possible, while basically the same as the one just had.

ON THURSDAY there were four soldiers seriously hurt in the D.M.Z. (demilitarized zone). They were on a patrol when they walked into a un-marked mine field.

The first one to get hit was a Katusu (Korean Soldier). When they realized they were in a mine field everyone froze. Two sergeants tried to rescue the injured Katusu but they hit another mine injuring both of them. Then an officer tried and hit a third mine.

FINALLY, A sergeant did lead the 24 man patrol out of the mine field and rescued the four injured soldiers.

Where I am right now is only 3 1/2 miles from the scene. It shows that these patrols are as dangerous as walking through the jungles of Viet Nam.

Next week we have a three day maneuver which will be of night that can come at any time. Our electricity was cut off. When this happens it becomes a full alert. We have to draw our weapons and ammo. We mount a 50 cal. machine gun on each of our trucks (half tracks) and patrol the compound. It was a little more exciting last night. In all the confusion, someone tripped off a ground flare, which is set off by a trip wire. It lit up most of the compound. There were also two slicky boys (thiefs that come into the compound and steal things) spotted outside of the fence, but they took off running when they were spotted.

I WILL WRITE again after our field problem and give full details. I'll also send pictures if at all possible.

Every housekeeper, no matter how meticulous, probably has some short cuts and small economies which Chinese torture could not force her to reveal to her friends.

NEWS in Brief

The St. Joseph Mercy Hospital School of Nursing in Pontiac has received monies for the establishment of a Mary Simpson Cunningham Loan Fund.

Students currently enrolled in school and in need of financial aid are eligible for a Cunningham Loan.

Mary Simpson Cunningham was a granddaughter of Rev and Mrs G. Moore Morgan of St. Johns.

The State Board of Education was notified recently that Michigan will receive an estimated $2.2 million for special education programs for children of migratory agricultural workers. State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Ira Polley, said that Michigan's tentative allocation, the fourth largest in the nation, will be put to the best possible use when the funds become available.

Fire call comes in FIRE!

When a fire call comes in during the regular business hours at St. Johns City Hall it is taken by Mrs. Douglas (Louise) Boak of R-2, St. Johns.

Once the address of the fire is obtained, Mrs. Boak has to alert the firemen and get them to the right address.

THE FIREMEN had a Plectron unit either at their home or place of business. The units are activated by the Plectron unit in the Municipal building.

Next she pushes the button that starts the fire siren and then goes to the garage that houses the fire engines. There she writes the address of the fire on the chalk board.

IN A MATTER of a few seconds the volunteer firemen arrive at the garage and the driver of each truck is given a sheet of paper with the address on it.

Mrs. Boak has been working for the city for the past six months.

College Week for Women

Going back to college for a week has undoubted value for homemakers. But Mom's leaving can have value for the rest of the family, too. Youngsters and husbands left on their own for a week tend to find out just how much Mom does that they've taken for granted.

College Week for Women, July 26-29 at Michigan State University, gives Michigan homemakers such an opportunity. The conference is a unique type of adult education. It features a selection of 36 different classes. Several special session speakers have been selected to promote the general theme for 1966, "Target—You and Your Government."

HOMEMAKERS WHO attend will hear Mrs. Martha Griffiths, Michigan's congresswoman, speak on "Woman Power—A Force in the Government." Mrs. Griffiths is in her sixth term in Congress and was previously in the Michigan Legislature. She'll speak Thursday evening, July 28, in the MSU auditorium. The session is open to the public.

Current Michigan legislators who will take part in the program will be Raymond Dzendzel, Detroit majority leader of the Senate, and Robert E. Waldron, member of the Michigan House of Representatives. They will participate in a panel discussion with a legislative counselor and a news reporter.

Mrs. Mahlon Sharp, East Lansing councilwoman, will also speak at an afternoon session.

EACH HOMEMAKER attending College Week will choose three classes. Each class meets three times. Instructors for the special classes represent 11 state departments and service organizations and 20 MSU departments.

More than 30,000 individual establishments serve tourists in the state. They employ more than 100,000 persons.

Make safety a habit at your home

Safe at home! Who says so? The facts show that twice as many people need a physician's care from home accidents as from highway accidents.

Home accidents kill more children than do polio, typhoid fever and scarlet fever combined!

SAFETY is your child's heritage. Here are some timely safety tips for your young children:

1-Soap may float but baby won't. If the phone or door bell interrupts his bath—disregard the call or take baby with you.

2-Hot, scalding fluids should always be out of the reach of toddlers. Turn all handles of pots and pans to the back of the stove.

3-DEATH lurks under the kitchen sink and in low storage closets. Keep medicines, ant paste, lye and similar items out of reach.

4-Scissors, ice picks and nail files are highly dangerous. Keep them from toddlers. Teach older children to walk—not run—when carrying sharp pointed objects.

5-YOUR CAR does not have eyes—use yours when backing the car from the garage. Don't crush a child because of failure to look.

6-Electrical outlets and worn extension cords can be as deadly as the electric chair itself. Plug outlets and keep cords repaired. Disconnect appliances not in use.

7-Eyes and stuffings from toy animals and dolls can cause strangulation. Avoid nuts, carrot sticks, popcorn and similar foods with younger children.

8-Which is more important—your gun or your child? Keep firearms and ammunition locked up. Teach older children proper use of darts, BB guns and sling shots.

9-A fence around your yard will keep your child from wandering into a neighbor's pool or fish pond. Teach children to swim early and emphasize safety in the water.

10-Don't let useful machinery make useless children. Youngsters can be permanently crippled by ordinary home appliance, garden and farm machinery. Teach proper use.

11-Matches and cigarette lighters may start fires. Keep toddlers away from stoves, heaters and open fires. Teach older children safe use of flame and inflammables.

TALK ABOUT how to prevent accidents when you discuss accidents that have happened.

Homes should be the foundation of safeguarding human worth. People who learn safety at home show this attitude on the highway as well as on their jobs.

The Michigan Crippled Children Commission was the first state agency of its kind to conduct a therapy workshop for persons serving physically handicapped children at hospitals and schools, and these workshops have won national acclaim.

Linda Friesen in Netherlands

Linda Friesen, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Friesen, is staying in Rotterdam, Netherlands, for the summer.

Linda has accompanied her Dutch "family" on a three-week camping trip in various countries in Europe. Her last letter was postmarked Sarlat, France. She is scheduled to return to the States Aug. 22.

Linda, who will be a junior in St. Johns high school, is no stranger to overseas travel. She started Kindergarten in Munich, Germany, where her father was stationed as an Army Chaplain.

Later, she accompanied her family to Surinam, South America, where her parents served on a special two year missionary assignment.

She became the first American to attend the school in Paramaribo, Surinam. Dutch was the exclusive language.

Linda's father is the pastor of the Bingham and Bengal EUB Churches in rural St. Johns.

- Designed for the purpose it serves.
- Off street parking in our large parking lot.
- Out of the congested downtown area.
- Large chapel and privacy of a family room.

4 area teens in Europe

When Sharon Stewart, Kathryn Melvin, Pamela Loznak and David Showers return from Europe next month, they will have a better understanding of the people of the world and appreciation of their culture.

The four young people have several things in common. They will be seniors at Ovid-Elsie Area School this fall. They are all Methodists. They are all popular with the teenage set. And they left early Wednesday morning, July 20, from the Detroit Metropolitan Airport for Amsterdam, The Netherlands as a part of "Christian Teens Abroad" program.

They will visit eight countries for the pleasure of traveling in addition to a variety of personal confrontations with the Christian Church at work.

THE COUNTRIES include The Netherlands, Germany, Czechoslovakia, Austria, Liechtenstein (a principality near Switzerland), France, Switzerland and England.

"Christian Teens Abroad" is sponsored by the Michigan Conference Methodist Fellowship and has the backing of the Conference Youth Director, as well as the Conference Board of Education.

Arrangements for the trip were made by Emhage Tours of Grand Rapids. The Rev and Mrs Lynn DeMoss, First Methodist Church of Coleman, both former short-term missionaries in Africa, and with extensive traveling experiences in Africa and Europe will be the tour leaders.

The Michigan Conference group will also include six adult small group leaders and 34 young people, 42 in all.

UPON REACHING Amsterdam Wednesday night, the group will be assigned an European tour courier who will guide them for the entire trip all the way to London. Local guides will also be used from time to time where needed, such as in Czechoslovakia and Austria.

David Showers, son of Rev and Mrs Gordon Showers, is the only young man in the Elsie group. He moved here last fall with his parents from Beaverton.

DAVE PLANS TO attend Asbury College in Kentucky and study for the ministry after graduation. He was on the sub-district Methodist Youth Fellowship Council 1964-65, district president 1965-66 and is now the Conference MYF president for 1966-67.

He attended the regional seminar for MYF last summer at MacMurray College, Jacksonville, Ill., and will be a delegate to the National Convocation of MYF at St. Paul, Minn., when he returns from Europe. In the local MYF, he was assigned to the areas of witness and outreach and also treasurer. School activities included debating, forensics, drama (student director), band and choir (student director) and the National Honor Society which elected him president for 1966-67 school year.

DAVE SAYS the trip will be quite an experience in group living besides confronting both the traditional and contemporary Church of Europe. In England, he said, they will see the beginnings of Methodism. He is anxious to see the church in action in Europe, and also climb the Eiffel Tower.

Sharon Stewart, daughter of Mr and Mrs Raymond Stewart of rural Bannister, is a member of the Bannister Methodist Church where she has a record of 13 1/2 years perfect attendance. She has been an MYF officer and member of the senior church choir.

Eight years of 4-H Club work and also serving as a junior 4-H leader has kept Sharon busy aside from school and church. She is also active in the National Junior Horticulture Assn. Forensics, Future Homemakers' Assn., girls basketball, class officer, junior play cast, student council and Wolverine Girls State at Ann Arbor this summer were other activities.

Sharon is trying to arrange a meeting with Kirsten Rademacher and Karen Rumbaugh in Germany. Kirsten, a German exchange student spent a year with a neighboring family and Karen, formerly of Elsie, now living in St. Johns, is spending

Elsie By Mrs Neva Keys

Mrs Oberlin hosts West Elsie Club

Mrs Allen Oberlin was hostess at her home in Carland for the last meeting of this year's West Elsie Homemakers Club Wednesday. Thirteen ladies and two guests enjoyed a potluck dinner at noon.

After the dinner, the chairman, Mrs Charles Fizzle, conducted the routine business session, rounding out the club's activities for the year.

Mrs Ray Peck and Mrs Oberlin described the Tri-County's May 24 tour as seen from their respective busloads, adding to what Mrs Woodrow Bashore had reported at the June meeting. The general opinion was that this was the best tour in which the clubs had participated.

The group decided to recess through August, because of the 4-H Fair. They will begin their new year's programs Sept. 14 with Mrs Wayne Peck their hostess.

Miss Armbrustmacher feted at showers

A bridal shower for Janet Armbrustmacher, who will wed Howard Whitney of Lansing July 16, was held for her classmates by Mrs Roy Simon and Mrs Gwen Dershem of Lansing at the Simon home.

Another shower for Miss Armbrustmacher was held in Grand Rapids by the future groom's sister, Peg Whitney and Ruth Burgoski at the Consolidated Gas Co. where the guests were taken on a tour of model gas kitchens.

Miss Armbrustmacher is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Harold Armbrustmacher of E. Townsend Road.

Mr and Mrs Roy Nickel of Bay City spent Thursday with her parents, Mr and Mrs Frank Pung. Saturday guests were Mrs Ed Schafer, Mrs Robert Stump and Mrs Del Bohr. Sunday callers at the Pung home were Mr and Mrs Martin Pung of Flint and Mr and Mrs G. H. Mitchell of E. Lansing.

Mr and Mrs Charles Halfmann attended a family gathering Saturday evening in Carson City at the home of Mr and Mrs Ronald VanHeck.

Mr and Mrs Norman Brown and several couples from St. Johns comprising a card club, surprised Mr and Mrs Alex Vittek with a housewarming Sunday at their new home on Walker Road.

Mr and Mrs Richard Campell and family of Ypsilanti visited Mr and Mrs Vince George Wednesday. Mr and Mrs Louis George and family of Brighton spent Saturday there and Phyllis George was home for the weekend.

Mrs Bertha Trierweiler, Mr and Mrs Alvin Trierweiler and Mrs Giles Trierweiler were Sunday callers at the Vince George home.

Mr and Mrs Tom Madison and family of Gladwin spent Sunday with Mr and Mrs Charles Halfmann and family. The Dud McKean were also guests at the chicken barbecue.

Mr and Mrs Albert Pung were guests of their son and family, Mr and Mrs Jerome Pung of Lansing, in honor of their granddaughter, Anita's 6 birthday.

Fowler Fedeaways met Thursday, July 7, with 13 members present; 2 TOPS, 3 KOPS, 2 turtles and 6 pigs. Hope Fox of Westphalia was queen of the week with Martha Fox as runner-up. Helen Armbrustmacher was queen for the month of June.

The personal pronoun 'she' seems to dominate the conversation of female twosomes.

Paula Brown studying in New York City

Miss Paula Brown, daughter of Mr and Mrs Paul Brown of rural Elsie, is attending Columbia University in New York City for a special course in teaching the blind.

Miss Brown, a graduate of Elsie High School and MSU, has been teaching blind children the past five years. Four years were spent at the Michigan School for the Blind at Lansing and one year in Germany at the US Armybase at Frankfurt.

She has also spent two summers at a northern Vermont camp where she served as counselor and teacher for blind children.

Following the six weeks at Columbia University, she will attend the Massachusetts Institute of Technology for another short course.

The Green School Extension Club and families met at Friendship Park in Duplain Sunday afternoon for a picnic dinner. There were 18 present. Mr and Mrs Raymond Thornton treated the group to homemade ice cream. The afternoon was spent in visiting.

Mrs Orlo Mead Sr., is recuperating from surgery last Monday at the Owosso Memorial Hospital.

Bid approved

The State Highway Department has received a low bid of $7,587 for 0.18 mile of roadside control on the west side of US-27 from Clinton Avenue to the north city limit of St. Johns.

Completion date of the project is Sept. 15.

Brian Campbell wins scholarship

The first students who won scholarships for their performance in the All-State program at the National Music Camp this summer were named Sunday. Choices were announced after the concert that concluded the first of four two-week periods of study and performance, each of which is bringing 225 or more young musicians from the home state to Interlochen.

Three winners of full tuition scholarships to the University of Michigan School of Music included, Brian Campbell of St. Johns, double bass player; Terry Whelan of Vicksburg, percussionist; and Miss Linda Frye of Jenison, alto saxophonist. Miss Frye, a senior, will enter the university in the fall; the two boys, both juniors, will enter in 1967. The scholarships are renewable.

Winners of the university awards were announced by Dr. Eugene Troth, director of the University of Michigan Division at the camp. Accidental farm deaths

Deaths reported from accidents occurring on farms totaled 2,309 in 1963, an increase from 2,246 in 1962. Included are some deaths of nonfarm residents; excluded are farm home deaths and deaths from accidents off the farm to farm residents.

Machinery was involved in two out of five deaths. It was the leading source of accidental death for each age group, except children under 15 years, where it was exceeded only by drownings.

Drownings caused one out of six deaths. More than three out of four drowning victims were under twenty-five years of age. Firearms caused one out of ten deaths. More than half of these victims were between five and twenty-four years of age.

Falls were the second leading cause of accidental death for all persons over forty-five years, but ranked fourth for all ages. Ninety-three per cent of all victims were males.

SMV emblem could save lives of many farmers

If you are a farmer and sometimes drive slow-moving farm machinery on the highways, you should know about and use the Slow-Moving Vehicle (SMV) emblem. It could save your life.

If you are a city or urban dweller and travel the rural highways, you too should know and recognize the SMV emblem. It could prevent you from being involved in a rear-end collision with slow moving equipment.

The emblem is a fluorescent yellow-orange colored triangle with a dark red reflective border about 14 inches high and 16 inches wide that is placed on the rear of a slow-moving vehicle so it can be easily seen by other drivers, day or night.

from a distance of 500 feet or more. It is not intended to replace other caution or warning devices such as flags, reflectors or lights.

THE EMBLEM was developed by Ohio State University research specialists in an attempt to reduce the number of rear-end collisions involving slow-moving vehicles designed to travel at speeds of less than 25 miles per hour. It was first introduced two years ago as a safety device and since then its use is mandatory by law in Ohio and will be required in Nebraska next year. Other states are considering similar legislation.

Traffic safety experts theorize that the average motorist does not realize how slowly the vehicle ahead of him is moving until it is too late to avoid a collision. Under normal conditions, recognition of the emblem would provide ample time for the motorist to safely reduce his speed.

DURING NATIONAL Farm Safety Week - July 24-30 - special emphasis is being placed on the SMV emblem to promote its use and to acquaint the motorist with its meaning. Leon Urban, director of farm safety activities for the National Safety Council, says, "even though there are more than 100,000 SMV emblems in use, we still have a big task ahead in educating the motoring public and the owners of the more than 11 million slow-moving vehicles estimated to be in use today."

Information on how to acquire SMV emblems can be obtained from farm equipment dealers, your county agent or the National Safety Council, 425 N. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill. 60611.

4H CLUB NEWS

By ALVIN ROOT, Extension 4-H Agent in Clinton County

It's everybody's job to help conserve the nation's natural resources, because destruction or preservation of soils, minerals, forests and wildlife will affect every man, woman and child.

Among organized groups working diligently to conserve natural resources are the 4-H Clubs and the Cooperative Extension Service. They are assisted by federal conservation agencies and private organizations as well.

THE NATIONAL 4-H Conservation program is supported by John Deere, of Moline, Ill. Among the benefits to the more than 260,000 boys and girls enrolled are awards provided by the sponsor.

To compete for county, state and national honors, the 4-H'er must complete a conservation project. These range from preserving wildlife to recording rainfall. Youngsters who live on farms or in rural areas are able to improve their homelives as they learn conservation practices.

FOR EXAMPLE, one of the top 4-H conservationists in the nation last year was 18-year old

Jerry Harke, who lives on a large farm near Hooker, Oklahoma. Among other things, he built a farm pond to conserve water run-off, and helped install a water pressure system for irrigating grass in his area.

Another champion of conservation who has just completed his freshman year at the University of Colorado with the aid of a $500 scholarship won last year, hopes to make wildlife management a career.

HE IS WAYNE KNAPP, 19, whose home is in Alamosa, Colo. He volunteered his services in a waterfowl study conducted by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service by sending in duck wings to be used in a waterfowl population study affecting both the U. S. and Canada.

These are but two examples of conservation projects completed by thousands of boys and girls. Through demonstrations, exhibits, record-keeping, patience and a lot of hard work, they will try for one of several 1966 awards.

2 local men join Holstein Association

Charles E. Bracey of Ovid and Louis Feldpausch of Fowler are new members of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America. Thirty-nine Michigan dairymen were among the 1,087 new members recently approved at the organization's annual meeting.

Holstein membership entitles dairyman breeders to register and transfer black and white cattle at reduced rates and participate in official breed improvement programs of production testing and type classification.

Local breed promotion activities are conducted by state and county-level clubs, assisted by a staff of fieldmen. Animal performance records are maintained at the Brattleboro, Vt., headquarters.

Young children should never be allowed to play with deflated balloons. A child who breathes in, instead of out, while blowing up a balloon can easily inhale the rubber and choke to death, warn Michigan State University safety specialists.

The state's 11,000 lakes and Great Lakes waters are "home" for more than half a million power boats.

EDITORIAL PAGEA week of safety carries throughout year

Day-to-day living seems to be a hazardous task these days. At least this would be a logical deduction from the accident death figures released by the National Safety Council indicating 107,000 persons lost their lives due to accidents during 1965. And during the same period, another 10,500,000 persons were victims of disabling injuries.

Accidents kill more than 8,000 farm residents each year, and an additional 700,000 or more are victims of disabling injuries.

This is an alarming situation, not only because of the grief to loved ones, the expense and the unnecessary suffering, but also because of the monetary loss to the nation.

It is for these reasons that President Lyndon B. Johnson has proclaimed July 24-30 as National Farm Safety Week. The proclamation draws attention to farm safety for a period of one week but is intended to emphasize the importance of safety throughout the year.

The word "safety" has become a part of everyone's vocabulary, but it is now imperative that we do more than use it in conversation. We must put it into everyday practice before results can be expected.

Farm Safety Week comes at a time of the year when farm people are actively involved in all phases of farm work, an ideal time to check the safety of the farm environment.

Practicing safety during National Farm Safety Week can create life saving habits throughout the year.

BASEBALL MAY BE the national pastime, but it certainly doesn't get much attention in St. Johns. The city is without a regulation baseball diamond, and there's only one regulation softball diamond. The development of the Little League fields is taking some of the pressure off the one diamond at the park. But there is certainly a need for two or three more diamonds to serve a community and area this size.

Litter is for dumps, not our streets

It has finally happened. Outer space is becoming so littered with debris that scientists are becoming very concerned.

It's not surprising though. All you have to do to convince yourself how easy it is to litter an area is to drive around our city or county.

Gum wrappers, candy wrappers, empty pop cans, beer bottles, you name it and the chances are you can find it in the streets or highways and bi-ways of our area.

Too many of us today consider the great outdoors as one huge dump. We must think this way, because of all the junk you see in the streets and along roads belong in a dump.

There have been many campaigns, local, state and nationally, to try and educate the people as to the cost of cleaning up the debris they throw to the four winds. But, as the years have passed, one would never know that anyone had read, heard or seen any of the campaign against littering.

We don't do this type of thing in our own homes, why on our streets? At home there is a mother or wife who wields the big stick to halt this type of thing. To accomplish the same thing on our streets would cost more than cleaning up the litter, which costs enough now.

It comes down to only one way it can be stopped. Only YOU can stop the litter on our streets. If you as an individual won't stop, it will never stop. We live in a prosperous country, a beautiful state and a very nice county. With a little help from every individual it would be a lot cleaner, prettier and prosperous.

BIT BY BIT, the number of blocks of unimproved streets within the city of St. Johns is diminishing. The city commission is forced by necessity (lack of funds) to improve only a few blocks per year. The city officials' selection of those streets has been good from a community-wide standpoint.

Don't Go To Strangersfrom the HOPPER

By STEVE HOPKO

The following article was taken from the "Smoke Signal" a publication of the U.S. Naval Air Station in Grosse Ile, Michigan. It was sent to me by Bob Sirrine, who is a "weekend warrior" with the Naval Reserve.

PATRIOTISM IS MORE DIFFICULT DURING PEACE

"I know your time is up shortly and you plan to get out of this outfit and move out to that civilian world where all that 'bread' is just waiting for your pockets."

"I know it is tough in peacetime to find any gung-ho spirit among civilians for that uniform you wear. No brass bands, no community enthusiasm for you and your shipmates."

"BUT LET ME tell you sailor, it's a helluva lot tougher to wear that uniform in peacetime than it is in wartime. In wartime everything is going for you and it makes being a patriot easy. In peacetime, you find most young people believe patriotism is corny. Not all, just too many."

"But it takes a man—a real man—to be a patriot in days like these. Not a lip-service patriot nor a checkbook patriot. But the real patriot, the man who has the guts to serve his country in these times. Underpaid, overworked and lonely."

"SO TELL ME sailor, where do you think you'll find that pride. That unspeakable pride that comes only in the pride of wearing the uniform of your country?"

"No amount of 'bread' can give you that same pride in civilian life."

THIS MIGHT sound like a pitch to reenlist, and it very well could be. But, it is also very true. Ask any serviceman or veteran, and if he's honest with you, he will agree that the pride in wearing the uniform of his country is very different from any other you might have.

With Rinker leaving for vacation, I decided to take Joan and head north and see a performance at one of the summer playhouses. We left Saturday afternoon and were having dinner Saturday evening when I noticed a little incident that reminded me that our young people are always thinking, not always the right way perhaps, but thinking.

The waitresses and busboys where we had dinner were, I presumed, college boys and girls, at their summer jobs.

THE PEOPLE, at the table next to us, finished shortly after we entered and the waitress and a busboy began busily to clear the table and reset it.

The boy returned with his hands full of dishes and utensils to reset the table. I mentioned to Joan that it looked like he was going to do the job in one trip.

AS HE FINISHED assembling the plates, cups and saucers etcetra, he began to put the silver around each setting. After setting two of the four settings I saw that he did not have enough silverware to go around. He didn't quite make it, was the thought that entered my mind. But, was I in for a surprise.

As he came around the table he used the last of the silver in his hand, but instead of heading back for more, he instead, reached into the rear pocket of his trousers and came forth with enough silver to finish the table.

WE THOUGHT it was quite humorous. Not quite the most sanitary way to do the job, but he did do it in one trip.

WE HAVE A couple of teenagers around our house and we realize that they always seem to be thinking on how to do something the easiest way. We don't always approve of their way, like the above, but it does show that they can get the job done.

STRICTLY FRESH

"There WAS something about you that I liked."

said the glamor girl, "but you went and spent it all."

A lot of people would be delighted to "pay as you go" if we could only catch up with paying as we've gone.

Humility: Looking ashamed while you tell people how wonderful you really are.

A good neighbor is one who can watch you take it easy without thinking you are lazy.

With some women the rule seems to be "If the shoe doesn't fit, wear it!"

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

(To call the attention of the Jaycee members)

SEVERAL OF us would like to inquire about the ribbons that we are entitled to from last year's 1965 swim meet. We have heard that you have had the ribbons for several months, and would like to know why you have not had some kind of a ceremony to present the ribbons to their rightful owners by this time. We have gone to the City Park several times to inquire about the ribbons and the pool workers did not know anything about them. We have also heard a rumor that you, the Jaycees, have misplaced the paper which told the events and the winners of each and all four categories. We know that if you went to the Clinton County News they would surely give or lend you a copy of the paper from the week of the swim meet last August which listed the names of the winners in each event.

We think that if you would like to encourage further participation in this year's swim meet 1966 that you would have distributed the ribbons by this time.

Sincerely yours,

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Hey fellows. If these girls are right about the list, they are also right about the News. We do have a complete list of winners. Anyone need a copy?)

RAMBLIN' with Rink

By LOWELL G. RINKER

How rich in enjoyment they were! Those long-ago Saturday afternoons at the Princess Theater in Farmington are only memories now, but they were pleasantly jostled into life recently when the Clinton Theater reopened here in St. Johns.

Seeing the lineup of youngsters at the box office prior to 1:30 on Saturday afternoons reminded me of the days when my brother and I used to spend the same afternoons at the theater.

The Princess Theater in Farmington was about the same size as the Clinton is, except it was in a separate building from those around it, and the Royal Order of Moose occupied the upper two floors of the building.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON at the movies was a regular affair, and most of the kids who were sent there by their parents were informed they should watch the show and not raise a lot of hob. The afternoon program was always the same in format.

Promptly at 2 o'clock the lights would dim, and the silent slide advertisements would be flashed on the screen. Some were professionally made and some rather hastily drawn up at the local level. The messages never changed, it seemed, and they were always in the same order. It didn't take long to memorize how many were left before the cartoon came on.

When the animated characters were flashed on the screen there was always a cheer from the crowd of youngsters. Slowly the noise of conversation died down, and the ebb and flow of boys and girls to the popcorn and candy counter diminished to an occasional late-comer.

SOMETIMES we even got to see two cartoons, but most of the time there was but one. Next came a selected short subject, and many of them were the Three Stooges or someone of their caliber. These were 15 to 20 minutes in length. Afterward came the continuing serial film. "Superman and the Mole Men," was one that kept us coming back to the Princess every week for half a year. Missing a segment of that was worse than missing the tail end of "Batman" on TV nowadays. Another serial of memory was "Frank and Jesse James," which portrayed the infamous brothers as good-guy, hero types.

As soon as each segment left us gasping and wondering about what would happen next, the theater would switch projectors and come on with "Previews of Coming Attractions," always with the splice interruption of sound.

ALWAYS CLOSING out the afternoon of fun was a cowboy movie, featuring such never-wounded heroes as Gene Autry, Roy Rogers, the Durango Kid, Hopalong Cassidy, Tim Holt and others of that era.

Movie programming practices have changed since 1946, but as the movie moguls point out, "Movies are better than ever" these days. They're probably right. And since the Clinton Theater has been reopened by Howard Kortes, there have been a lot of good movies for our kids to see on a Saturday afternoon.

Everybody in the family can enjoy a movie, more-so when it is done as a group. Talking with Howard a week or so ago; he reported attendance was pretty good, and he was pleased. But he said very few of the local merchants who have sought the opening of the theater have been in the crowds yet.

KIDS ARE the big movie-going crowd, especially Saturday afternoons. They've apparently behaved themselves pretty well, which is encouraging. But then it is expected. After all, the theater was not intended as a baby-sitting service.

It is an entertainment medium which thankfully still has a high place in American life and—with most movies—a wholesome place. St. Johns was without a theater for two years, and we hope folks here will continue to give the theater the support they promised a few months ago.

Unrequited Love

By W. E. DOBSON

No one could ever closer cling,
Than you now do to me,
But I confess your antics bring
No answering ecstasy;
Your voice is solely for my ear,
I hear you whisper true,
But I shall hardly shed a tear,
For friends as base as you.

Your high soprano thrills me not,
Although you persevere,
I cannot say I'd care a lot
If you weren't quite so near;
Your constancy I do not buy—
Though you claim blood relation
I do not thrill when you are nigh,
So please take a vacation!

Your aims in life I'll not approve,
Although you make your mark,
When you approach I quickly move,
Be it daylight or dark;
I'll never give you grounds to hope,
Though you be inognito,
I'll smack your sassy face you dope—
Be gone big bold mosquito!

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Should the privilege to vote be lowered to 18?

Voters in November will have a chance to decide a question regarding teenagers. The teens themselves are apparently fairly evenly divided on the same issue.

The question is: Should the privilege to vote be extended to persons 18 years of age and older? Four states now permit voting by persons less than 21 years, the age of majority in Michigan today.

A PROPOSAL to put the question on the fall ballot passed in the State Senate last year and carried over for House approval this year.

Teens who wrote to legislators about the resolution primarily endorsed the theory that is they were old enough to fight for their country they should have a say about who runs the country.

BUT A STATEWIDE poll conducted by the Youth Advisory Council, an arm of the Michigan Youth Commission, indicated the letter-writing teenagers might be a minority among their peers. The Council's survey indicated more teen opposed lowering the voting age. Neither the pros nor cons got a clear majority, however.

THE COUNCIL STUDY showed 44.45 per cent of some 33,000 high school students polled were opposed to a reduction in the voting age. Almost 14 per cent were undecided or failed to vote. Backers of the proposal numbered slightly over 42 per cent. In the November tally, only those above 21 who record their opinion will be counted, so the issue will be decided by them.

DURING LEGISLATIVE consideration both major party organizations backed the proposal, as did Gov. George Romney. Opponents contended teens would be likely to depend on emotion rather than reason in voting decisions.

Home treatment

About 85 per cent of Michigan's population is now served by some kind of community mental health care program under a law commonly referred to as Act 54.

The law, enacted in 1963, was designed to provide mental health services to more people on a local basis. It aimed to reduce full-time hospitalization so often required for adequate psychiatric treatment previously.

IN ALL, 24 community mental health services boards are now functioning to provide Act 54 services to the residents of 29 counties. All but seven of the counties involved are in the lower half of the lower peninsula. The others are in the western half of the U.P.

Participation is based on county initiative. The Mental Health Department has three regional coordinators to assist in county planning to meet standards of operation.

STATE GRANTS are available, on a first-come, first-served basis, to speed the development of county programs. This year Act 54 was amended by the legislature to allow grants to range up to 75 per cent of the local budget for mental health services.

Six counties have been added to the growing list providing Act 54 services this year. Several of the boards represent more than one county. In the Upper Peninsula, for example, Baraga, Keweenaw, Houghton and Ontonagon Counties joined together to form the Copper Country Mental Health Board.

Governor's duties

What does the governor's job really involve?

If the governor's name happens to be George Romney, it means he is in demand to speak throughout the country. His background as American Motors Corporation president and because of rising national attention as a political candidate for President, Romney is invited more places than most governors.

EVEN WITHOUT these special demands on his time, a governor inherits a round-the-clock job the day he is inaugurated.

Ultimate responsibility for all functions of state government fall on the governor's shoulders.

THE GOVERNOR must advise the legislature on the condition of the state and its needs on almost a daily basis. All legislation must be submitted to him for approval or rejection.

He may call special sessions of the legislature as needed, although this power has been denied Romney and previous governors by year-round extension of the regular session.

THE GOVERNOR also has the power to call special elections in certain cases to fill vacancies; make appointments to state boards and commissions; or remove state and local officials if necessary.

Paroles, pardons, commutations of sentence, and reprieves of prisoners also come under his direct control.

FINALLY, THE governor is chairman of the State Administrative Board, which has general supervisory control over the functions and activities of all administrative departments, boards and commissions.

The governor is a busy, busy man.

The "Low Down"

From the Congressional Record
By Joe Crump

CONGRESS INSULTED BY CAPITOL REPAIR PROPOSAL

Senator William Proxmire (Wisc.) "... The $34 million proposal to extend the west front of the Capitol should have the most searching and critical scrutiny by the Appropriations Committee and Congress ...

"I listened last Friday for more than an hour to the attempt by Mr. Stewart and his staff to justify this enormous expenditure to extend the west front of the Capitol ...

"MR STEWART'S justification was a total failure. The Capitol Architect attempted to justify this immense investment on two grounds:

"FIRST. That the extension would provide 4 1/2 additional acres, about 200,000 square feet of additional space—an increase of about 25 per cent in the Capitol—primarily for two large new restaurants and a big new cafeteria, a couple of extra conference rooms for Members of Congress, some restrooms for tourists and some storage space.

"THE SECOND justification was that the extension is necessary as the most economical and feasible way of shoring up the Capitol's west wall, which otherwise is likely to crumble and collapse within a few years."

"NOW ... If there is anything the Nation does not need, it is additional restaurant facilities at the Capitol. The Senate and House restaurants are already notorious money losers. The taxpayer is paying several hundred thousand dollars in subsidies each year for these operations.

"The restaurants are losing money, in large part because the Capitol's present 600 capacity is not fully used. The additional proposed 1,100 capacity would bring the total to a fantastic increase of nearly 200 per cent at the Capitol itself. In addition, both the Senate and House Office Buildings presently have large and not fully used restaurant facilities.

"THE NEED FOR additional meeting rooms in the Capitol is nil, zero, nothing.

"The contention of the Architect that this $34 million extravaganza represents the most economical way to shore up the walls of the west front is an insult to the intelligence of Congress."

SENATOR S. M. Young (Ohio) "... It would be sheer folly to follow his most recent of Stewart's recommendations. One has only to look at the Rayburn House Office Building, in all probability the most stupendous architectural monstrosity of our time, to realize the ineptness of the so-called Architect of the Capitol. It is ugly. It is wasteful. It is quite possibly the worst building costing the most money in the history of the construction of public buildings anywhere in the world. It took more than 7 years to build, costing at least $22 million more to complete than originally estimated, largely as a result of expensive miscalculations. The building itself is a functional monstrosity."

Rep. James G. Fulton (Pa.) "... If the west front of the Capitol is unsafe, then immediate work should be undertaken to make it sound. But this is the

COUNTRY FLAVOR

Song of the whetstone echoed far in quiet air

HAYDN PEARSON

A century ago before horse-drawn mowing machines came to the nation's farms, men gathered at dawn with scythes and whetstone to cut the grasses of fields and meadows. Men commonly swapped work in haying and helped each other harvest the important crop. Offset, one behind the other, they laid low the moist grass, each man taking the width swath that he knew he could cut close and even.

Then at the end of the march across the field, they stood their snaths on end, pulled a whetstone from pocket and touched up the edges of the scythes. As the hard whetstone hit the steel, the monotone notes echoed far in the quiet air. It was hand labor in those days. Men took pride in razor sharp scythes and the level, close cut swaths they left as they inched slowly forward.

THE NAME OF Joseph Jenks is little known, but it was he in 1646 who was granted what is perhaps the first patent issued in America by the General Court of Massachusetts. His invention made possible a longer, thinner blade by welding a square bar on the back of the scythe. Today, when the country man trims out around the walls, fences and trees, he uses essentially the same scythe that Jenks invented. One can imagine the scene a century ago as men gathered for the mowing. There was soft, low-pitched music as scythes swung, and the grass fell to begin the process of turning into hay. There were jugs of switchel in the cool water of the brook. And there was the song of the whetstone as the men stood for a minute or two, sharpening their scythes and looked at the paths they had cut through the grasses that meant food for farm animals through the winter.
